

Animal Nurse Likes Job, Patients Don't Talk Back

By NITA HEDLESTON
Sylvia Horton has one advantage over her patients . . . they can't talk back to her. The reason for this is that most of her patients are dogs and cats.

A practical nurse now turned animal nurse, Miss Horton began this unusual career only eight months ago when she came to Big Spring from her home in California and joined the staff of Dr. Akin Simpson, a local veterinarian.

Her previous nursing experience was three months in a hospital in California. Her only training was a two-week training course at the hospital and subsequent on-the-job-training. In the meantime, her brother was already working for Dr. Simpson in Big Spring and after hearing him tell of his work, she decided that this might be for her too.

"One of the reasons I started this work was that I thought there would be lots of horses around," the nurse said. Although she had always loved horses, she confessed that she had never really been crazy about other animals until starting her present work. Now she likes dogs best.

"They sort of grow on you," she says.

PATIENT SEEMS TO LIKE NURSE
Sylvia Horton entertains hospitalized dog.

Her work at the animal hospital consists mostly of holding the animal on the table while the veterinarian does the rest of "carrying out the doctor's orders" in minor treatment. She explained that she is not allowed to actually treat the animal. Only a licensed veterinarian may do this.

Miss Horton sometimes assists in shearing dogs during the summer. Several times she has done the actual shearing but she added that she would rather hold the dog while someone else does the clipping.

This canine barber service is offered by both Dr. Simpson and by another Big Spring veterinarian, Dr. H. F. Schwarzenbach.

Usually the nurse finds that the animals are easy to handle. Every now and then, a dog or cat that likes to squirm comes in, and usually they are not too much trouble, she says. Dogs, especially the larger ones, are easier to handle than cats, according to Miss Horton. She has never been bitten by any of her patients.

Most of the patients are dogs or cats. Horses and cows are also treated, but they are usually treated at the farm home and she doesn't accompany the doctor on these trips.

A recent boarder at the hospital was a monkey. He was no trouble to keep except that his food had to be bought in town instead of feeding him the regular food eaten by other boarders.

Homesickness is a problem of the animals which are being boarded out. Sometimes, Sylvia says, they are kept by their owners at the hospital for as long as a year.

Only recently one of the dogs got out of its cage and caused a frantic search by doctor and assistants only to find when they returned to the hospital that the dog was on the front step trying to get in the door.

Wearing the regular nurses' uniform of white dress and stockings Miss Horton also does such things as sterilize instruments for surgery, serve as receptionist and keep books.

She plans to continue her work as animal nurse but as for becoming a full-fledged veterinarian she says doubtfully, "Well, that takes six long years."

Plane Falls In Yard, 3 Aboard Are Killed

CLARKSBURG, Md., June 22 (AP)—A twin-engine airliner fell out of the skies today, killing the three men aboard, splattering oil on a house 15 feet away and almost hitting a man who dodged and ran "in crazy circles."

It also terrified a 14-year-old girl next door, who ran home screaming: "Mother, a plane is after me."

The plane was a DC3 of Capital Airlines, which was about three-fourths through a training cruise it had started from Washington, D.C., 30 miles to the south.

Those killed, all pilots and all employees of the airline, were identified by Dr. Frank J. Brochart, Montgomery County coroner, as: Carl Ross Burke, 32, Fairfax, Va.; Robert Kenneth Thomas, 30, Berwyn, Ill.; Henry Andy Podgurski, 37, Manor, Pa.

Papers on the bodies identified Burke as a transport pilot, Thomas as a copilot and Podgurski as a commercial pilot. There was no indication of who was actually flying the ship.

Investigators for the Civil Aeronautics Board came here from Washington in an effort to learn what caused the crash. Eyewitnesses generally agreed the plane stalled and then crashed, almost straight down.

The man in whose back yard it fell, and who told of running in circles to avoid it, was John A. Anderson. He missed probably death by about three feet, but was perfectly calm in telling of his experience.

The girl who saw the plane coming down and ran home was June, the daughter of the Anderson's closest neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Norwood. She was hysterical for two hours afterwards.

DA, Glasscock Sheriff Ponder Prisoner Problem

Buster Cox, Glasscock County sheriff, and Gil Jones, district attorney, are beginning to wonder just what to do with two prisoners being held in the Glasscock County jail.

The two men were arrested by Cox several weeks ago as vagrants. They were given jail sentences. In the meantime it was learned that both are wanted in New Hampshire to answer robbery charges.

New Hampshire officials notified the officers they wanted custody of the men and indicated they would initiate extradition proceedings at once. A fugitive warrant was promised to the Glasscock sheriff to empower him to retain custody of the pair pending extradition hearings.

Jones received a telegram over a week ago advising him that the fugitive warrant was en route. Since then he has heard nothing.

The two men are still in Glasscock County jail but the jail terms they drew for the vagrancy charge are expiring. The officers are pondering what to do with the pair when their jail time ends if the warrant from New Hampshire is still lacking.

Darrell Mize, Joe Smith In Photo Finish In C-City Derby

COLORADO CITY, June 21 — Darrell Mize, wearing the silks of radio station KVMC, emerged as winner in Friday's Soap Box Derby warmup here, in a down to the wire final with Joe Smith, sponsored by the Corner Drug Co.

The two staged their races twice, since judges were unable to agree on the winner as the pair crossed the finish line the first time. The second race was almost as close as Judges Jeff Taylor, Ross Daniels and R. D. Bridgford saw the two derbyists cross the marker the width of a hand apart.

Nine of the 15 Colorado City boys who will compete in the Big Spring Soap Box Derby July 4 competed in the local races. The others still haven't completed their cars, but sponsors said they will be ready for the Big Spring Derby where the champion will receive an expenses-paid trip to Akron, O., and the All American Soap Box Derby.

Handsome trophies were presented to winners of the first three places in the Colorado City races. The third place finisher was Howard James, carrying Firestone Store colors.

Here are the complete results: In the first heat, Mize defeated Elton Lee Cooper, sponsored by City National Bank. Robert Boney, sponsored by Landau Men's Store, bested Carl Market, Root-Ezell Construction Company. James outraced John Johnson, Colorado Drug, and Dee Snider. Caddell Transit, drew a bye. Smith defeated Bobby Joe Phillip, Bridgford Clinic.

In the second round, Mize eliminated Boney, James defeated Snyder, and Smith drew a bye to the finals.

Mize then outdistanced James to go into the finals with Smith.

The local boys showed up with some sleek racers which observers from Big Spring said will win in the heat of competition for best-built, best-upholstered and other side prizes at the Big Spring Derby.

And all of the cars, of course, will be eligible for the grand prize — the trip to Akron — and other awards at Big Spring.

There will be about 35 cars from Big Spring and Coahoma and the 15 from Colorado City in the Fourth of July Derby.

Disarmament Panel Stays On

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP)—Machinery was set in motion today to extend the life of the Senate Disarmament subcommittee for continuous briefing and consultation on the progress of disarmament negotiations in London.

The 12-member subcommittee will serve as a liaison between the President and Secretary of State Dulles and the Senate until such time as progress might dictate a quick trip to London by six of its members.

As Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), the Senate majority leader, told the Senate Friday, no senators will proceed to London unless President Eisenhower indicates there is an "urgency" dictating their attendance.

The six-member standby group is expected to be made up of Sens. Humphrey (D-Minn.) chairman of the Disarmament subcommittee; Symington (D-Mo.), Pastore (D-R.I.), Wiley (R-Wis.), Eastman (R-Mass.) and Hickenlooper (R-Iowa).

HONOREE CHATS WITH HOUSE SPEAKER
Obie Bristow, right, and Waggoner Carr

Friends Honor Bristow For Record Of Service

Rep. J. Gordon (Obie) Bristow, who three times has represented this 101st legislative district in the Texas House of Representatives, Friday evening had opportunity to enjoy bouquets tossed his way. Approximately 300 friends flocked to a barbecue dinner in his honor at Cosden Country Club and gave him a standing ovation. Waggoner Carr, Lubbock, speaker of the House, led off a round of laudations which were reinforced by the Rev. William D. Boyd, master of ceremonies, Jimmie H. Greene, retired Chamber of Commerce manager, and Dr. P. D. O'Brien, First Baptist minister.

The bald-headed Bristow, sporting a tie with his short-sleeved shirt in deference to the occasion, grinned in a bashful manner as speakers topped a good measure of ribbing with sincere praise. Carr described Bristow as a "great and honorable man" who was filled with courage, wit, patriotism, optimism, and a devotion to duty. "Facetiously, Carr observed that 'if he stays with it he has a great future ahead.'"

He said he respected Bristow for "the ability he has to stand up for the people of West Texas and his district even when the cards are stacked against him. I have seen him stand for what he believed was right, honest, good and pure when it would have been far easier to take another course."

Dr. O'Brien said that no one ever had to guess which side of an issue Bristow was on, and that he was typical of the type of men which had made West Texas a great area. He said that the representative had responded to the call of duty with "olive tree" leadership. Moreover Bristow had helped many, many people quietly and modestly, he said.

"I've played with him," Dr. O'Brien declared. "I've prayed with him; I've stayed with him, and so far as I am concerned I'll keep on staying with him." Greene, paying tribute to Bristow's honesty, ability, stability and integrity, first gave him a gift which turned out to be "youth pills for relief from distress of milestones." Then he made the presentation of a golfmobile (an electric-powered cart) on behalf of Bristow's many friends. Earlier, the Rev. Boyd, rector of the St. Mary's Episcopal Church where Bristow is a member, had complimented him with a parody on Marc Antony's funeral oration for Caesar.

"This thing you have done for me tonight would have been deserved more by thousands, but there is nothing I could do to tell you how much I appreciate it," said Bristow. "You have shared our sorrow and joys and let us share yours."

"Everything good I have come to me here. Why shouldn't I love Big Spring. You may find me short on brains and other things, but I think you'll find me long on affection and love for my people and all our children."

Throughout the affair, Mrs. Bristow, the former Estelle Hutto who was a Texas Tech beauty when she and Bristow were married, sat at the side of the honoree. In the audience, enjoying the tall tales on their Dad, were Gordon Bristow and Keith Bristow.

A number of fellow legislators were on hand, including Sen. and Mrs. David Ratliff, Stamford, Rep.

Plans On City Hall At Top Of Agenda

City commissioners could look forward this weekend to a short agenda for their regular bi-weekly meeting Tuesday night. One of the principal items on the program will be a look at plans for remodeling the city hall. This will be the last large portion of the $990,000 bond issue voted in August of 1955. The work had to be delayed until the police department could be moved out of the second floor of the building and into its own building.

Puckett & French, architects-engineers, have indicated the plans would be ready along with specifications for the Tuesday meeting of the commission. Should the plans be approved, the city will probably set a date for opening bids.

Children Killed In Highway Crash

LUFKIN, June 22 (P)—Two children were killed and six persons were critically injured last night in a collision of a station wagon and sedan nine miles north of here. Killed were Eddie Schillings, 10, of Center, and Jim Jordan, 7, of Texas City.

Critically injured were Mrs. Leon Schillings and Mrs. Jean Jordan, mothers of the other dead boys; Mrs. Leon Briney of Texas City; and her three children, Carolyn, 4; Allen, 6; and Gary, 10.

Still another new commemorative postage stamp is now available at the Big Spring Post Office. The newest in the many commemoratives issued this year by the Post Office Department is a three-cent special issue commemorating the great naval review recently held off the Atlantic coast. It depicts an aircraft carrier and also notes the Jamestown settlement festival.

Postal officials said that local collectors had been much interested in this issue and that sale of blocks and sheets has been brisk.

Another new issue — paying honor to American school teachers — will be released on July 1 and will probably be available here by July 2 or 3.

The next issue after that is a full-color job, in red, white and blue, depicting the American flag, and scheduled for sale on July 4. It is a four-cent stamp instead of being one of usual three-cent issues.

Thinks Southern Filibuster Will Doom Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP)—Sen. Ives (R-N.Y.), a supporter of the administration's civil rights bill, said today he thinks it is doomed by an expected Southern filibuster.

Although Southern foes of the legislation sometimes shy away from using the word filibuster, Sen. Ellender (D-La.) showed such delicacy in pledging an all-out fight against its passage.

He said that any motion to take up the measure, placed on the Senate's calendar two days by a parliamentary short cut, "will bring forth prolonged debate—to be blunt, a filibuster."

The bill, already passed by the House, was placed on the Senate calendar by a 45-30 vote in an unusual maneuver sparked by Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California. Thus the bill bypassed the Senate Judiciary Committee, where a companion measure has been bottled up since mid-March.

However, Senate leaders have entered into an agreement not to try to call the bill up for debate before July 8.

Ives' remarks were prepared for broadcast over 13 New York TV stations. It was an interview transcribed prior to the Senate vote placing the measure on the calendar.

However, he said "I don't believe we are going to be able to get it passed if we succeed in getting it on the calendar."

Under the free debate permitted in the Senate, he said, "our Southern friends could start a filibuster today and keep filibustering right on through Dec. 31st and prevent any action on anything here if they wanted to do it."

The only way a filibuster can be broken in the Senate, other than by sheer physical exhaustion, is to secure the votes of 64 senators, or two thirds of the entire membership.

Although Ives' statements clearly indicated he didn't think this could be done, Sen. Clifford Case (R-N.J.), another strong supporter of the legislation, said "I now believe we can get the 64 votes necessary to shut off the filibusters."

"I am confident this Congress will enact a meaningful civil rights bill, the first since the Civil War era," he said in a statement.

"We can see the end of the road even though the struggle for the right-to-vote bill will be long."

The legislation is designed to protect voting and other civil rights, primarily through empowering the attorney general to seek Federal Court injunctions against violations.

Maj. Clifford Harris New Webb Transportation Chief

Maj. Clifford F. Harris, a new personality at Webb AFB, has recently arrived from Ramstein, Germany, to assume command of the 350th Transportation Squadron.

Harris has led a colorful career in the service since his enlistment in the Army Air Force during June of 1939. That same year, he applied and was accepted as an aviation cadet for pilot training. Completing the program, he was graduated as a second lieutenant in November, 1940.

During the war years, as a first lieutenant and later a captain, Harris flew combat missions in troop carriers for the "Flying Gypsy Squadron"; dropping paratroopers and supplies over enemy territories in southern France, northern France, Normandy, Rhineland, Ardennes, and Central Europe.

The end of WW II brought not only an assignment to the states, but a promotion to major. The next few years were marked with many and varied assignments with duties as transportation officer, squadron commander, and assistant group commander.

September of 1950 yielded an assignment to Far East Air Force, where he acted in many capacities and flew a few more combat missions.

Maj. Harris is a senior pilot with over 4,300 flying hours, and he has attended USAF Schools for Combat Intelligence and Applied Tactics, as well as the University of Minnesota. He is entitled to wear the Air Medal, European-African-Mediterranean Campaign Medal, American Campaign Medal, American Defense Service Medal, WW II Victory Medal, Occupation Medal (Germany), Distinguished Unit Citation, Korean Service Medal, AF Reserve Medal, and the National Defense Service Ribbon.

The major, his wife Edna, daughters, Shirley and Diana, and son James are presently seeking a home in Big Spring.

Wins Vacation

Jasper Atkins, above, of Big Spring Hardware, left Saturday on the first leg of a vacation trip to Canada, won as a result of his firm's sale of Zenith television receivers during the past three months. Atkins was to fly into Chicago today, visit that city Monday, then fly to Minneapolis Tuesday and from there to International Falls and the Northern Lights Camp at St. Francis, Ontario, for a week of fishing and other activities. He will return to Big Spring July 2.

Carr Expects Additional Indictments For Bribery

LAMESA, June 22—Speaker of the House of Representatives Wagoner Carr of Lubbock told an audience at the Lamesa Lions Club Ladies Night here Thursday that he expects additional indictments by the Travis County Grand Jury of several more persons involved in bribery cases.

He predicted that several present and former members of both the State Senate and House would be indicted by the same grand jury that indicted Representative Cox of Hearne for accepting a bribe.

Carr said, however, that Texas should be proud of a law-making body that would clean up its own house.

"You can't send a crook to Austin or Washington and expect him to get religion. The people who sent the crook there are responsible. We are winning a good clean government in Texas," he said.

Retiring Boss Lion J. D. Dyer acted as master of ceremonies and introduced incoming officers Ray Renner, Boss Lion; Abe Holder, first vice president; David Aynes, second vice president; Ray Evans, third vice president; Forrest Meek, secretary; Gene Campbell, assistant secretary; Paul D. Crow, treasurer; "Spud" Stewart, tail-twister; Roy Speck, Lion tamer; Ed Wiltner, song leader; Rev. J. Lloyd Mayhew, sky pilot; directors Bobby Woodrum and L. C. Johnson; holdover directors L. C. Scott and Vic Middleton; and retiring directors C. W. Duke and Carroll Taylor and Lions Line Editor Tracey Campbell.

Water Use Is Soaring

Water consumption continued to mount this week with a high level of temperatures, and it should have topped the 100,000,000 gallon mark for the month today.

Through Saturday at 8 a. m., the total was 92,361,000 gallons used this month. The Friday usage was the highest of the month, when 6,875,000 gallons went through meters.

The consumption on Thursday was 6,495,000 gallons, and it increased the daily average for June to 4,392,300 gallons.

Veteran Referee In Bankruptcy Retires

D. M. Oldham, 73, familiar to many West Texans for his years of service as referee in bankruptcy, is retiring from this position at Dallas.

A practicing attorney in Abilene when he was named referee by the federal court on July 1, 1919, he continued in this position until the same day in 1947 when he transferred to the Dallas court. He presided over liquidations in this area during the economically rough depression period.

Oldham has handled $38 million for creditors of bankrupt firms during his tenure. Once he instituted suits which recovered $300,000 in one case, and on another occasion he paid creditors of an $800,000 trucking firm 100 cents on the dollar.

Engineers Worry Over Excess Water In Southwestern Lakes

DALLAS, June 22 (AP)—U.S. Engineers still are trying to drain out of Southwestern lakes that control a potentially dangerous excess of water caught during the April and May floods.

Slot Machines A Navigation Hazard?

GALVESTON, June 22 (AP)—The slot machines seized in Attorney General Wilson's crackdown on Galveston vice and dumped by Texas Rangers into Galveston Bay bobbed up today in an unexpected controversy—are they a navigation hazard?

Cost Guardsmen said they had reports of slot machines floating in the bay.

Maj. Charles Newshaw, the Galveston district executive officer of the U.S. Engineers, promptly said it could be proved the machines created a navigation hazard, the state could be required to fish them out of the water.

"They were dumped in 35 feet of water next to that concrete ship which sticks up out of the water," replied Wilson at Austin. "They can't be a hazard. If they are a hazard, that ship is ever a bigger one."

Asked what he would do if ordered to remove the dumped machine, Wilson replied with a smile: "I can't swim that deep."

Later a Coast Guard spokesman conceded that slot machines just don't float. He said the telephone complaints must have come from pranksters.

Texas Rangers grabbed the gaming devices Wednesday night in a raid on the Hollywood Club shut down by court order two decades ago and idle since. They reported some of the equipment dated back to that period but other machines were modern and probably were hidden at the start of Wilson's two-week-old vice crackdown.

Since Wilson's crackdown started, his aides have seized an estimated 2,000 gambling devices valued at a million dollars. They burned some and dumped other machines in Galveston Bay alongside a concrete ship sunk as a bunker. They also obtained a series of temporary court orders to halt illegal operations of Galveston area night spots.

Two Rangers remained in the Galveston area over the weekend as 11 assistants of the attorney general.

Fatal Accident

Oklahoma, and parts of Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas and Louisiana—could have prevented 56 1/2 millions in damage but construction of works to do this has not been started.

His review showed 27 of 34 reservoirs operated by the division for flood control were pressed into service—some only part-finished—after spring downpours began in mid-April.

Three-fourths of the unprecedented 20 million acre-feet of impounded water must be turned loose downstream "as rapidly as practical so as to gain protection from further rains that may very well cause new floods over the presently soaked area," Seeman said.

"Added to the water already held in conservation storage when the rainstorms began, the brimfull reservoirs now contain some 27 million acre-feet."

"In releasing water now temporarily held in flood storage, the chief of Engineers will retain in conservation storage some 12 million acre-feet. This is an increase of 5 million acre-feet over the water in storage early in 1957, when the area was still suffering from drought which had persisted generally for the past five or six years."

Seeman's new survey gave this breakdown: Arkansas River, 38, 20 and 13 million; Brazos, 38, 26 and 20; Trinity, 17, 81 and 1; Red, 11, 2 and 4; Guadalupe-San Antonio, 10.2, none and 8.5; White, 6, 7 and 2; Colorado 2.7, none and none; Sabine, 2.2, none and none (no federal works in basin); Neusee, 0.2, none and none (no federal works in basin); Neches-Angelina, 0.1, none and none.

If there are any special matters to come before the Howard County Commissioners Court other than routine business at its Monday morning meeting, no one around the courthouse knew about it Saturday.

The commissioners will meet — they meet each Monday. There will possibly be some bills to review and approve.

R. H. Weaver, county judge, will probably tell the commissioners of the state highway commission on FM 700. This project is one which the commissioners are particularly eager to get under way and Weaver has been pressing the state officials for action.

Big Changes Proposed For Security Act

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP)—A bipartisan study group recommended to President Eisenhower and Congress today a sweeping revision of the government's loyalty-security program.

The 12-member commission on government security, set up in 1955, proposed these main steps, which it said would plug loopholes in the nation's defense against subversion while "substantially increasing" the rights of individuals:

1. Establishment of an independent central security office. This body would provide trained examiners to hear loyalty and security cases. It also would advise government agencies on security procedures, and would include a central review board to hear appeals from employees. All final decisions, however, would be up to agency heads as they are at present.

2. Separation of loyalty cases from those involving "suitability and security" only. "A man who talks too freely while in his cups," the 300-page report said, "and a pervert who is vulnerable to blackmail are both security risks, although both may be loyal Americans."

3. All persons subjected to loyalty investigations should have the privilege of cross-examining their accusers "whenever it can be done without endangering the national security." The report said this doesn't mean the government should be required to produce undercover informants.

4. The "confidential" classification for government documents should be done away with, leaving only "secret" and "top secret" categories. The commission said national security dangers arise from over-secrecy "which retards scientific and technological progress."

5. Screening of would-be immigrants should be transferred from the State to the Justice Department, and Congress should tighten regulations for admitting immigrants on "parole" as many Hungarian refugees have been admitted in the past nine months.

Grand Jury Panel Called For Monday

Driving while intoxicated, second offense, still holds top place in felonies placed before the district attorney's office and will take up most of the time of the Howard County Grand Jury when that body convenes Monday morning.

Of the 26 matters that Guilford Jones, district attorney, announced Saturday he would submit to the grand jury for consideration, nine are complaints alleging DWI second offense.

Forgeries are in second place. Six forgery complaints are to be submitted to the grand jury.

Five charges of burglary are to be investigated; two complaints of theft over $50; two charges of hot check writing and one each of attempted burglary and assault with intent to commit murder.

Jones said that the burden of cases awaiting grand jury attention is slightly under par for the season.

Judge Charlie Sullivan has instructed the prospective grand jurors to be in 118th District Court at 9 a.m. Twenty persons were summoned for grand jury duty but it was said that at least five of the 20 are not available for duty. From whatever number reports, if the total is sufficient, Judge Sullivan will choose 12.

A petit jury to hear several civil cases which are docketed for trial this week report at 10 a.m. in the same court room.

With reasonably good luck, Jones said, the grand jurors should be able to complete their work in a day or perhaps a day and a half.

Courthouse attaches described the matters to be submitted to the grand jury as more or less "mill run." No cases of spectacular nature are on the docket; the matters are the ordinary complaints which trickle into the courts in the intervals between grand jury sessions.

Trampoline, Dance Classes Slated At Y

Registration will begin Monday at the YMCA for boys and girls trampoline classes and girls tap dancing and fencing.

Classes which will be offered are girls' trampoline ages 7 to 10, meeting on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 2:30-3:30 p.m.; girls' trampoline ages 11 and above, meeting on Monday, Wednesday, Friday from 2:30-3:30 p.m.; boys' trampoline ages 7-10, meeting Monday, Wednesday, Friday from 5:30-6:30 p.m. and for boys ages 11 and over, the class will be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 5:30-6:30 p.m. All of these classes will be held in the Y gym and Gary Tidwell will be instructor.

Jo Ann Young will be the instructor for girls' tap dancing and fencing. The tap dancing class will meet in the Y gym for girls aged 7-10 on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 3:30 to 5 p.m. The fencing class for girls 11 and over will meet on Monday, Wednesday and Friday in the Y gym from 3:30 to 5 p.m.

Bobo Hardy, secretary of the Y, says that boys and girls who are presently enrolled in these classes must re-register for the new classes which will begin on July 1. They may register by either coming by the Y or telephoning. The registration will close Friday.

These classes will be concluded on Aug. 1 with Parents Night.

MEN IN SERVICE

Staff Sergeant Gabriel D. Yanez, son of Theissa Yanez of 601 N.W. Fourth St., Big Spring graduated with honors from the Non-Commissioned Officer's Leadership School at Altus, Okla., recently. Sergeant Yanez received the Director's Award presented to the student making the most progress during the school term. The Leadership School was organized to teach the qualities and techniques of leadership to personnel serving in a supervisory capacity.

He first entered the service in September of 1942 and among other assignments has served as Transportation Supervisor in Spang Dahlam, Germany. Before entering the service he attended Big Spring High School.

The local Navy Recruiting Station announced that two young men of Big Spring had enlisted in the U.S. Navy during the past week.

They are Merl Dean Harter, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Harter, 109 West 11th Street; and Charles Ray Cunningham, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cunningham, 1308 Sheppard Lane.

Harter and Cunningham were sworn into the Navy at Albuquerque, and were transferred to the San Diego Naval Training Center for 10 weeks of Basic Training.

Doctor Agrees To Skip Fee For Treating Benny Hooper

BAY SHORE, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—Young Benny Hooper's widely assailed $1,500 doctor bill was tossed away today by a medical committee.

DR. JOSEPH H. KRIS ... Passed Up The $15,000

The committee ruled, with Benny's physician agreeing, that the boy's parents didn't have to pay the bill because they are financially unable to do so.

Dr. Joseph H. Kris, veteran Long Island doctor and specialist in anesthesiology, had been bitterly attacked by private citizens, high medical officials and even U. S. senators for seeking the $1,500 fee.

But the storm of controversy ended with the physician and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hooper Sr. chatting happily following the committee ruling.

the Hoopers was half what he ordinarily would have received. He said he felt it a fair charge, inasmuch as he understood that the Hoopers had received large public contributions for medical expenses.

The parents said this was not the case. Benny's mother told newsmen today after the committee hearing she could not say what amount had been received for the purpose, but could remember one $50 check.

Both the parents and the medical committee praised the work of Dr. Kris but the committee said in a statement: "Dr. Joseph H. Kris determined the amount of his charge while he was under the mistaken impression that a considerable sum of money earmarked for medical purposes had been received by the Hooper family."

DALLAS, June 22 (AP)—Swarthy John Zibnick, young school teacher from Denver who never got past the third round of even a minor tournament before, scrambled to a 2 and 1 triumph over Walker Cup Captain Charley Coe to jar the Trans-Mississippi to its roots today.

University golfer who turned pro less than a year ago, shaved three strokes off par with a 68 to go with a pair of 69s in the first two days, faltered badly. His four stroke margin disappeared on the first six holes of the 6,825-yard Flint Golf Club layout and he was six strokes over par with a 42 on the first nine. He came home with a par 35 and used 77 strokes for the day.

Calhoun Draws With Giambra

SYRACUSE, N. Y. June 22 (AP)—A return bout was in the making today between middleweight contenders Joey Giambra and Rory Calhoun following their bruising battle to draw at War Memorial Auditorium Friday night.

Both fighters were stunned but not floored in the televised 10-rounder.

A rally in the last round enabled the 25-year-old Giambra to protect both his unbeaten streak—he had won nine straight—and his fourth ranking spot among the contenders.

The three officials were split as many ways, Judge Nick Gamboli had Giambra, the 6-5 favorite ahead, 5-4-1. Referee Ruby Goldstein voted for Calhoun, 5-4-1. Judge Frank Forbes had it even, 4-4-2 in rounds and five points for each. The AP card had Calhoun in front, 6-4.

Immediately after the bout matchmaker Billy Brown of the International Boxing Club wanted to rematch them within a month for either here or New York. Both fighters were agreeable.

"Boy, he's sure rough and tough," said Giambra, a native of Buffalo who has shifted to San Francisco. "I think he's the strongest middleweight around."

Calhoun, who fights out of White Plains and New York, thought he won it by a big margin. "It was a rough decision," said the 22-year-old, sixth ranking contender.

Calhoun, who outweighed his rival 159 to 157 1/2, was the aggressor throughout. He got off fast while Giambra made his bid the third through sixth rounds. Calhoun came on strong again in the seventh through ninth rounds.

White Crappie A Favorite Of Fisherman, Makes Good Meal

By GORDON C. CREEL

Call him what you may—white perch, Sac-a-lait, ringed crappie, Campbellite, tin-mouth, speckled perch or just crappie—this fish is considered by many anglers to be the king of the panfish. Their good flavor and texture indeed makes them a desirable game fish.

There are two species of crappies in Texas, white and black. The black generally confines itself to the acid waters of the eastern half of the state and the white to the western half where the water is alkaline. The principal difference in these two fish is found by counting the number of spikes on the dorsal fin. The white crappie usually has 5 or 6 spikes while his black cousin has 7 or 8.

Some whoppers

The white crappie, Pomoxis annularis, averages in size from 7 to 18 inches in length. A weight of 6 pounds has been verified but usually they weigh from 1 to 2 pounds.

This fish is silvery in color mottled with light green. The markings are found chiefly on the upper portion of the body and tend to form vertical lines.

They like to live in muddy, warm water that is distinctly alkaline. They are carnivorous. Texas Game Commission biologists analyzed the stomachs of crappies and found they had eaten minnows, mayflies, worms and grass shrimp.

Their spawning habits seem to indicate a preference for four to six feet deep water in which to make their nest. Usually they select a gravel bed near a stump or some brush. A mud bottom may be used if there is nothing better available. The season for spawning varies from March to May when the water has reached a temperature of around 65 degrees Fahrenheit.

PAPA IS HOME-MAKER
The male hollows out the nest

and brings in the female who deposits her eggs in the nest. The mother, who isn't much of a homemaker, then leaves the care of the eggs to the male. After fertilization he guards the nest until the eggs are hatched, a period of 7 to 15 days. He also baby-sits with the young for 3 or 4 days after hatching. Then they are supposedly independent.

Counts of ripe ovaries taken from female crappies have shown that a female of approximately two pounds will be carrying about 150,000 eggs in the ovaries. This reproductive potential is considered by most aquatic biologists as a fault of the species. The thousands of fry produced in each spawn must have food to grow and many small lakes and stock tanks cannot supply this food. Consequently the growth of all the crappies that survive is retarded.

DELICATE FISH
They have been propagated with varying success for many years. Little is available on the methods employed. Early attempts were generally failures because of overcrowding.

Davis and Wiebe conducted propagation experiments but were able to offer little help on numbers of each sex used. "The sexes are very difficult to distinguish even at spawning time. Therefore there was no means of our determining the relative numbers of the two sexes among the adults used for spawning." (Davis and Wiebe)

Crappie are very sensitive to handling due to a particular susceptibility to a bacterial gill infection. Usually this is overcome by dipping the fish in a solution of copper sulfate each time they are handled.

SCHOOLS ARE JACKPOTS
Crappie travel in schools and a fisherman who happens upon a school can have a field day. Mostly they are found around submerged trees, brush and stumps. They may be caught with artificial or natural lures. Every fisherman reader probably has his own pet bait and method. The most preferable artificial baits are flies, small spinners or small strips of pork rind.

The books with the know-how suggest that people who would fish with natural bait use a pole and line, a No. 3 or 4 shank hook, and a minnow 2 or 3 inches long hooked under the back of the top fin. "TIGHT-LINERS"

However, the sportsmen that seem to have the most fun and often the best luck are those who are the "tight-liners." They simply pitch in their line weighted with a small sinker and hooked with a minnow. The minnow is lifted about a foot off the bottom and the line wrapped around the fisherman's finger. The sport is a battle of wits with the fish through direct feel contact.

Many people "bait out" a shelter for crappies. They submerge a clump of willow trees about 12 to 15 feet in diameter with a sack of cottonseed meal in the middle, about 10 feet deep under the water. It has been established that an arrangement such as this attracts the fish.

The crappie hits like a kitten playing with a ball on a string. He slaps at the ball several times before catching it in his mouth. The fish likewise seems to play around with the bait a while before swallowing it.

Programs Booked By Concert Group

Four bookings for the 1957-58 season of the Big Spring Concert Association have been announced by Mrs. Clyde Angel, president. Leading off will be Paul Gregory's presentation of "The Rivalry," starring Raymond Massey, Agnes Moorehead and Brian Donlevy. The Drama written by Norman Corwin is set for Oct. 12.

On Nov. 14, the Pamplona Choir is to be presented in concert, followed by the incomparable Anna Russell, celebrated comedienne, on Feb. 6, 1958 at the auditorium and Theodor Uppman on March 21, 1958.

In the "Rivalry," Donlevy is cast as Stephen A. Douglas, the arrogant, eloquent senator, while Massey is cast in the role for which he has become peculiarly famous, that of Abraham Lincoln. Miss Moorehead is to play the part of Adele Douglas the woman who stood between the two great rivals.

The Pamplona choir, composed of 16 mixed voices under the direction of maestro Luis Morondo, will be making its first North American tour this autumn. Founded in Spain 10 years ago by Morondo, the beautifully integrated voices have been widely acclaimed throughout Europe. The choir won the grand prize of honor at the International Contest for Music in Lille over 186 choruses from 17 different countries. Het Handelblad, Amsterdam critic, said that "I have never heard another vocal group so impeccable."

think the platform manner of a lady singer is too coy: If she does, she doesn't say so; she takes a short-cut and is so. Does she think the love ballad is becoming too utterly sticky? . . . She plunges into the heart of the matter by writing and singing the world's stickiest love ballad."

Theodor Uppman may be remembered by many for his work on the Telephone Hour during the past season and for his April 29 appearance on the Voice of Firestone TV program. He will be seen again on the Firestone hour July 29 and Oct. 7. The Houston Chronicle spoke highly of his voice as well as his appearance and platform manner, observing that "he seems, in a flash, the golden boy opera has needed." The Shreveport Times said that "Mr. Uppman possesses the somewhat rare combination of a superb sense of showmanship and an equally superb voice."

Club Director
Mrs. Mildred Shev, above, is new director of the John H. Lees Service Club at Webb AFB. Mrs. Shev worked with the American Red Cross in Chicago before coming here. She has been service club director at Traux AFB, Madison, Wis., and at Fort Sheridan, Ill., and served with the Red Cross overseas during World War II.

Flower Grove Gymnasium Due Completion By Fall

FLOWER GROVE (SO) — The gymnasium which was started a few weeks ago will be ready for use when the term opens in September, according to Marvin Kilgore, superintendent of the Flower Grove School.

The building will cost approximately $86,000, Kilgore said, and came out of the $115,000 bond issue voted by the school district. The rest of the money is being used to install a central heating plant, renovating the old gymnasium and auditorium and making other improvements. These include brick facing along the corridors and painting the rooms. Kilgore will be starting his second year as head of the Flower Grove School. Last year he succeeded in getting lights installed

Famous Lawsuit "Library"

Jackie Cloud, deputy district court clerk, holds the newest petition just filed in the prolonged and often alred lawsuit of Garlington et al versus Wasson et al. The big fat folders to the right represent the accumulation of legal papers in the litigation which has been before local, state, federal and supreme courts off and on for the past 17 years. The files absorb almost all of one of the filing cabinet drawers in the office of Wade Choate, district clerk.

Historic Lawsuit Makes New Beginning In District Court

Garlington et al versus Wasson et al is back in the courts again. A petition filed this week in 118th District Court by J. S. Garlington and J. D. Garlington against A. L. Wasson, Mrs. Wasson and N. H. Reed reviews memories of one of the county's most historic lawsuits.

It marks resumption of a legal battle over title to land which has been fought in local, state and federal courts almost continuously for the past 17 years.

One of the hearings developing from this litigation, tried before Judge Charlie Sullivan and a jury in 118th District Court in 1954, is recorded as the "longest" trial ever conducted in Howard County.

TWO WEEK OYRIND
That trial lasted continuously for two weeks. The records in the office of Wade Choate, district clerk, of the many legal battles involving these principals fill six huge folders and take up most of one file cabinet in the clerk's office.

The case has been three times to the U. S. Supreme Court in its career, according to local attorneys. It has had its innings before the civil appeals courts, the Texas Supreme Court, and it has been heard in U. S. District Court.

From the tenor of the new petition which has just been filed, the entire proceedings are likely to begin all over again.

The suit concerns title to 2,560 acres of Howard County land. It is described as all of Sections 20, 21, 22 and 23, Block 25, H&TC Railway Survey.

The petition filed by the elder

Garlington, who makes his home in Montague County, and by his son, who says he is "heir at law" to the estate of his late mother, renews the basic issues raised in the earlier hearings.

The younger Garlington is now in Japan, the petition asserts, where he holds a position with the U. S. Army in a civilian capacity. The petition recites that Garlington and his wife acquired the land in question in September, 1937.

"Subsequent to 1937," the petition relates, the plaintiffs availed themselves of provisions of a federal law known as the farm debtor law and entered a petition of bankruptcy.

LAND IS SEIZED
Sometime in the period, it seems that Wasson loaned Garlington a sum of money on the land, secured by a deed of trust.

In June 1940, the petition states, Wasson took possession of the land and evicted Garlington and Mrs. Garlington. Later, Wasson sold the land to N. H. Reed, Sterling County.

The contention of the plaintiff is that the seizure of the land was void because of the prior action of the plaintiff in filing petition for bankruptcy under a special section of the law.

There was a time, when the litigation was at its hottest, when the sections involved were looked upon as a possible important new oil field. One well, it was said, had been drilled and was a producer although not as good as had been hoped. It was said other tests in that period were nonproductive.

At the present time, however, a new effort to find oil is being made on the land.

Thumbing through the mass of papers which have been accumulated in the prolonged and repeated airings of the case, the names of a great many attorneys appear—apparently counsel changed frequently.

Efforts of the Garlingtons to regain the land so far have been futile. Each court has turned down their plea that the land be restored to them—even, it is revealed, in the U. S. Supreme Court.

FAMILIAR SUIT
Residents of Big Spring are familiar with the long drawn out litigation. The elder Garlington, who served one term as county judge of Howard County, is a well-remembered individual.

At the last local airing of the dispute, trial opened before Judge Charlie Sullivan on Jan. 25, 1954. The jury returned its verdict—against the plaintiffs—on Feb. 8. Attorneys who were in the suit said that, with the exception of a few relatively brief recesses, the trial ground steadily through all of the nearly two weeks.

No hearing, criminal or civil, in the local courts has been so prolonged, attorneys assert. And no local litigation has been so repeatedly heard in the courts of the district, the state and the nation.

This Is The Season For Out-Of-Doors Dining

AN INGENIOUS BARBECUE PIT (photo at left) is the one made by Mrs. A. C. Bass of an old washpot, the inside of a clothes washer and the base of a water heater. The pot is one used for boiling the clothes on washday when Mrs. Bass lived on a ranch, "when the children were little," she said. The holes in the washer help make it draw when it is filled with charcoal, and the grills, taken from an old stove, regulate the heat when placed at different heights in the washpot. A coat of aluminum paint makes the assembly bright and attractive.

THERE'S NOTHING BETTER ON A HOT DAY than a shady patio where you and your friends can take it easy and have a late evening dinner. Mrs. W. J. Garrett, at left, and Mrs. H. F. Jarrett, who are "across-the-street neighbors" on Edwards, quite frequently entertain together in the back yard of the Jarretts' home; here, the patio was made by the Jarretts, themselves, of concrete blocks. A large elm tree, with vines and shrubs, provides shade and plenty of privacy for outdoor entertaining.

SHADES OF HER ANCESTORS! In the days when irons were heated in a coal bucket, such as the one Mrs. Robert Pondrom is using, who would ever have thought that she would be cooking fish with it! That's one of the favorite ways of cooking in the backyard at the Pondrom's home, though, and the nice thing about the bucket—the host can join the guests, wherever they may wander, and keep watch over his supper preparation at the same time. In the picture at left, Mrs. Pondrom demonstrates to her son, Joe, just how the bucket works.

READY FOR THE NEIGHBORS are Mrs. J. D. Leonard, at left, Mrs. E. R. Wood and Mrs. Tolford Durham, who have prepared the table for one of the many potluck suppers given in the Leonard yard. The table of concrete, based on an oil drum, has redwood seats for ten. The center arrangement is made up of bells of Ireland, grapes, squash, carrots, beans and tomatoes. Under the table is an electric outlet for keeping food or coffee hot, and plenty of light is furnished by the fixture in the center.

LEMONADE BEING SERVED AND HOT DOGS ABOUT READY is the outlook for the guests of Ann Gibbs, second from right, and Jim Gibbs, at left. On the new patio at the home of the Gilbert Gibbsses, the younger generation has its wiener roasts and parties just as the "older folks" do. Included in the group being served lemonade by Mrs. Gibbs are left to right, Leslie Garrett, Karen McGibbon and Cheri Garrett.

ON THE BIAS

Good Fit Assured In Dress Of Four Pieces

Charles LeMaire, noted motion picture dress designer, here presents one of the greatest time-saving devices ever known.

If you make up your mind to make this dress in the morning, you'll be wearing it in the afternoon, so simple is its cut with only four pieces in the precisely perforated pattern. Its simple making, however, is belied by its enormous chic and figure-flattering lines, for it is completely on the bias, which is once again the big news in fashion.

Fitting is practically eliminated, although it is suggested that you add a casing for narrow elastic at the waistline for comfort. Ribbon or cording ties are laced through tiny eyelets at the shoulders and back neckline.

Choose pique, novelty cottons, linen, shantung, crepes, rayons; for fall, faille or corduroy with velvet ribbon will give added mileage to the custom made pattern.

From this chart select the one size for you:

Size 8 bust 33, waist 23, hips 34 inches, length from nape of neck to waist 16 1/4 inches; size 10 bust 34, waist 24, hips 35 inches, length from nape of neck to waist 16 1/2 inches; size 12 bust 35, waist 25, hips 36 inches, length from nape of neck to waist 16 3/4 inches; size 14 bust 36 1/2, waist 26 1/2, hips 37 1/2 inches, length from nape of neck to waist

Barron - Ellyson Vows Repeated In Lamesa

LAMESA — Carriene Barron and William Vincent Ellyson were united in marriage Thursday evening in a double ring ceremony read in the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Barron and Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Ellyson, both of Lamesa.

The Rev. Milo B. Arbuckle, pastor of the church, read the ceremony before a background of palms, emerald foliage and mint green tapers in cathedral candelabra. Baskets of white gladioli and white asters decorated the altar of the church, while mint green bows were used down the aisle.

Wedding music was furnished by Jeannene Pieper, pianist, and Linda Peterson, organist. Mrs. Charles Warren of Andrews was the soloist. She sang "O, Promise Me" and "Wonderful One."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a wedding gown of white imported Chantilly type lace over net and satin designed with a Sabrina neckline outlined with scalloped lace enhanced with tiny seed pearls. The fitted lace bodice had long sleeves ending in points over the hands and terminated with a deep point at the center front waistline. A walk length skirt of lace was shirred with a scalloped edge outlining the bottom.

From a hat of pleated tulle and lace, embroidered with iridescent sequins and seed pearls, and accented with a single teardrop pearl at the center front, fell a veil of imported illusion. The bride wore a lavender which was her maternal grandfather's wedding gift to her grandmother, and a blue garter made by her great-grandmother, Mrs. W. R. Creighton. She carried a nosegay of pink and white sweetheart roses.

Jannita Carlton of Merced, Calif., cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Linda Hamilton, Linda Warren, Doty Echols and Charline Whitlow were bridesmaids. They wore identical dresses of mint green organdy fashioned with scooped necklines, tiny puff sleeves, and fitted bodices which were closed in the back with tiny self covered buttons; their full skirts were ballerina length.

They wore small hats of mint green organdy, outlined at the crown with white flowers, and carried white meline fans with mint green pom mums interspersed among the ruffles.

Balley Ellyson was his brother's best man. Ushers were Norman Phillips, Joe Low, L. A. Green and Ronnie Jayroe of Welch. The tapers were lighted by Kenneth Lee Barron, brother of the bride, Jan Marshall, and Donald Bethel.

P. P. Cokers Have Granddaughter From Aspermont

KNOTT — Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dalby have returned to their home in Aspermont after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Coker. Their daughter, Patricia, remained for a longer visit with her grandparents.

Hostesses for the Knott Rebekah Lodge recently were Mrs. Dick Clay, Mrs. P. P. Coker, Mrs. P. E. Little and Mrs. Gerald Willborn. Eleven members were present and Mrs. Willborn, vice grand, presided.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Gaskins visited his sister, Mrs. Jennie Cooper, who is a patient in a Lamesa hospital.

Joyce Robinson has returned from College Station, where she was a delegate to the 4-H Round-up. A group of the 4-H'ers recently enjoyed a swimming party at the home of Neva Jackson.

Mrs. Walter Long is a patient in a Big Spring hospital.

Lula Gaskins of Lamesa is visiting her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Gaskins.

Mother Of Bride-Elect Gets Gifts

An unusual angle was introduced at a luncheon given for Libby Jones Friday in the home of Mrs. R. R. McEwen Jr. Gifts were presented to the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Truman Jones, with the honoree receiving a gift from the hostesses.

Included in the hostess list were Mrs. McEwen, Mrs. Pete Harmonson, Mrs. Bill French and Mrs. Jack Irons.

Miss Jones is to be married Saturday evening to Lt. George H. Jacobus, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Jacobus of Caldwell, N. J.

Following the chosen colors of the honoree, yellow placecards marked covers for 16. Daisies and yellow snapdragons made up the central arrangement on a large table and two quartet tables.

Miss Jones wore a black empire sheath with black and white checked cummerbund and used white accessories.

Bride-Elect Honored At Luncheon

A luncheon given Saturday at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant, was a compliment to Jane Reynolds, bride-elect of Dean Porter. Hostesses were Carolyn Miller and Glenna Coffey.

Parents of the couple who will be married Friday, are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Reynolds and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Porter.

Guests were seated according to placecards bearing wedding bands and tiny nosegays of flowers. The center decoration was an arrangement of blue carnations and caspia in pink tones.

Miss Reynolds was presented with a set of frosted glassware from the hostesses. For the luncheon, she was attired in a frock of cocoa and eggshell polished cotton; her accessories were white.

Attending the affair were Mrs. J. C. Armistead Jr., Mrs. Jimmie Bounds, Mrs. Wayne Tollett, Peggy Hogan, Iris Jones, Julie Rainwater, the honoree and the hostesses.

CAMPUS CHATTER

By Mary Sue Hale

Come Tuesday, Bruce Frazier will be calling "All Aboard" for his regular geology field trip.

Twenty persons, more or less, will be on the five-day excursion. Composing this number will be members of his summer geology class, plus other rock hounds around this area.

As was the case in past trips captained by Mr. Frazier, more than a generous dose of action and excitement will be prevalent the entire time. Instead of a caravan of cars, as was the case in past years, the group will travel entirely by school bus, which will be supplied by the college.

A tentative schedule has been set as follows: The group, after leaving Big Spring early (hat Tuesday morning, will camp in the Palo Duro Canyon that night. Wednesday night will be spent at Red River, N. M., and Thursday will be occupied, in part, at Springer and Alpine, Ariz. The group plans to visit a museum in Santa Fe, N. M., on Thursday.

Friday will see the group at Silver City, N. M., which is near the Arizona border. Also included in the tour will be visiting the Bottomless Lakes, at Roswell, N. M., and Sunday will see them in Cloudercroft on their way home.

A problem perplexing Frazier is that of packing away food, luggage, bedding, etc., etc., for twenty people on one bus. More experienced campers would tell him that it isn't getting all the paraphernalia there; the problem is getting it all packed for home. It seems to expand two fold. Magie!

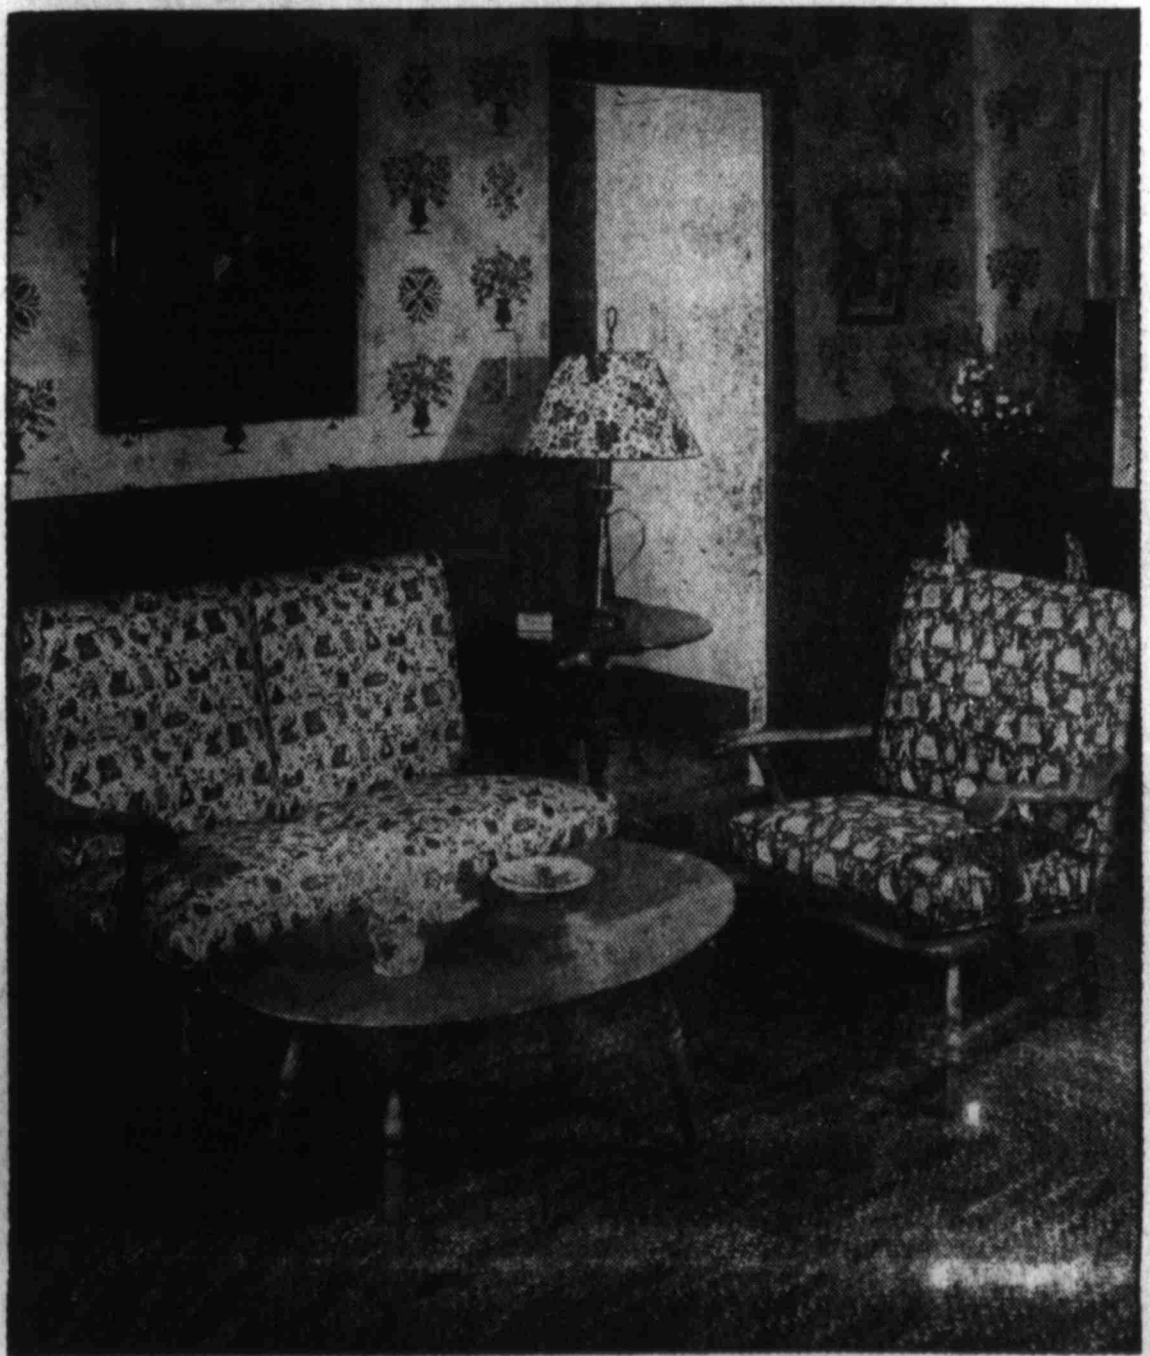

Included in the soon-to-be seasoned campers are Cecilia McDonald, Betty Cain, Kenda and Karen McGibbon, Jimmy and Gay Nell Harper, Charles Caraway, Doris and Clinton Gambill, Mac and Penny Frazier, Billie Freeman, Edwin Elmore, John Pool, Patsy Grant, and Mrs. Zan Ryan. Ira Schantz will serve as voice instructor on the HCJC faculty this coming September. Mr. Schantz is known around this area for his work in tenor solo work, as he was included in both the Christmas Cantata presentation of the HCJC Choir, and the Palm Sunday program, "Seven Last Words." For the past five years, he has been voice instructor at Texas Tech.

If you are interested in becoming a voluntary member of the Satellite Observation Corps, meet with a group at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in Room 8 of the Science Building. The college has recently purchased special equipment for this movement.

Dr. W. A. Hunt and Dean Ben Johnson plan to attend the Junior College Administrators Workshop on the University of Texas campus Wednesday through Friday. Leaving Wednesday afternoon, both will appear on the program. Dr. Hunt is to outline the duties of the president on Thursday, and Dean Johnson to speak Friday concerning guidance service.

Members of the business department, Mr. and Mrs. Angie Vail, Mrs. Marshall Box and Miss Reva Shelton were in Dallas this week, attending a three-day session for business teachers of the state.

Patricia Anne Rudd - David Rhoton Say Nuptial Vows Friday Evening

Double ring wedding vows were repeated Friday evening in the East Fourth Baptist Church by Patricia Anne Rudd and David A. Rhoton.

The Rev. and Mrs. Billy Rudd, Casper, Wyo., are parents of the bride and former residents of Big Spring. Rev. Rudd was former educational director at the East Fourth Church. David A. Rhoton, 112 Lincoln Blvd., is the father of the bridegroom.

The 8 o'clock ceremony was read by the Rev. Maple Avery, former pastor of the East Fourth Church.

Mrs. H. M. Jarratt, organist, presented wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Bob Craig as she sang, "O, Promise Me." The bride's father sang "The Lord's Prayer" and the benediction.

ALTAR DECORATIONS
An arch, entwined with flowers and greenery, and backed and bordered with fern, was used on the altar. The arch was centered with large wedding bells. Flanking the arch were arrangements of white and yellow majestic daisies and gladioli. At the far side of the altar four graduated candelabra held burning white tapers.

Laura Rhoton, sister of the bridegroom, attended as maid of honor. She wore a street length dress of light blue chiffon over blue crystalline. The fitted bodice featured a modified scoop neckline terminating in a deep V in the back. To the bouffant skirt a criss - cross panel of crystalline formed a cummerbund that extended to a fly-away panel in the back.

OWC Schedules Aquacade, Revue

A buffet supper at the Officers' Club will precede a bathing revue and aquacade Friday evening. Members of the Officers' Wives' Club are making arrangements for the entertainment at which their husbands will be guests.

In charge of general plans are Mrs. Robert Wilcox, Mrs. James Gilliland and Mrs. Clyde Johnson. Styles in swim suits will be shown by Swartz's with about 18 models participating.

Betrothal Announced

Mrs. and Mrs. William T. McRee, 1905 Morrison Drive, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Sharon, to Bill Cregar of Tucuman, N. M. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Cregar of that city. The wedding will be celebrated Aug. 18 at 4 p.m. in the First Baptist Church with Dr. C. E. Johnson as officiant.

Hakata Doll Collection

Pictured are the 11 figurines in the collection of Hakata dolls belonging to Mrs. Russ Kingdom. As Mrs. Kingdom says, "We always think of the Oriental peoples as looking just alike, but this realistic collection shows the individuality and personality of each type of person in Japan." Pictured from left to right are the following figurines: rope maker; "honey bucket" carrier; saki drinker; sword maker; gate maker; rice inspector; washer woman; seed sower; net maker; plasterer, and opium smoker. The dolls are hand painted and decorated in a profusion of vivid colors. Notice on some, the rice man and the plasterer, the Japanese characters denote they are union men. The collection is valued at about $300.

Realistic Collection Of Hakata Dolls Owned By Mrs. Russ Kingdom

The culmination of art and culture developed through centuries by master craftsmen is evident in the collection of Hakata figurines owned by Mrs. Russ Kingdom, 1800 West Fourth.

gown of white nylon lace over nylon net and taffeta. The bouffant skirt was tiered with the edges scalloped. Over the tightly fitted bodice the bride wore a matching lace jacket. She wore short mitts of nylon tulle. A seed pearl crown, outlined in rhinestones, held a fingertip veil of silk illusion.

The bridal bouquet was of white gladioli and daisies carried atop a white Bible.

For something old, the bride wore a tear - drop necklace belonging to Mrs. Fred Polack; her wedding dress was new; the hand mitts were borrowed from Mrs. Deane Simpson and she wore a blue garter with a penny in her shoe.

The church parlor was the scene of the reception following the ceremony. Greeting guests were the bride couple, Mr. and Mrs. Rudd and the feminine attendants.

Yellow and white daisies and gladioli centered the bride's table, which was covered with a white linen cloth. The three tiered wedding cake was decorated in blue and topped with a miniature bride and groom. Serving was done by Mrs. Polack and Mrs. Joe Hinson, aunt of the bride. Carolyn Sue Haggard was in charge of the register. Out-of-town wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Rudd, Hico; Mr. and Mrs. Joe C. Hinson, Lamesa; Mrs. Alma Hensley, Hico; Mr. and Mrs. Garland H. Rudd and children, San Angelo, all relatives of the bride, and Mrs. Jim Tucker and Rickey Dale, Burras, La.

For a wedding trip to Colorado and Wyoming, Mrs. Rhoton wore a sheath dress of yellow dacron with a matching jacket and white accessories.

The bride attended Big Spring High School for three years and is a graduate of Natrona County High School, Casper, Wyo. Rhoton is a graduate of Big Spring High School and has been employed by Pioneer Builders.

The couple will make a home in Casper, Wyo.

Bridesmaid This Time, Next Time, The Bride

By VIVIAN BROWN AP Newsfeatures Writer
Many a bridesmaid has parlayed the big event into a wedding ring for herself.

That's the attitude that every budding bridesmaid should take. What could make for better man pickin' than a wedding? Or put the ushers and male guests in more of an orange-blossom frame of mind?

It's perfect time not only to snare a new man but to rekindle romantic fires in your steady flame.

The idea is to look as pretty as the bride. You won't detract from her. She'll have her own special radiance and audience. But you'll want to choose your makeup and coiffure with the same special consideration as the bride.

If there are many bridal attendants, they will all be dressed alike, wearing the same design in hats, dresses and shoes. Makeup and hairdo will be your only edge, unless of course your figure is a prize winner.

Ruel, chief hair stylist for Coiffures Americana, trend setters, suggests a hairdo with a "feathered look" for this season's

J. M. Craig Family Entertains Guests From Out Of Town

FORSAN — Recent guests with Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Craig have been Mr. and Mrs. Harry Craig and sons, Springhill, La., Mr. and Mrs. Jim Kelley and Carolyn, Odessa, and Mr. and Mrs. James Craig, Sterling City. The James Craig family also visited her mother, Mrs. Vera Harris.

The Rev. and Mrs. John Ferguson, Suzanne and John David, of Kress are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Alston.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Griffith and Sandra were in DeLeon this week to visit relatives.

Hostess for the Pioneer Sewing Club this week was Mrs. D. W. Roberson. Secret pals were revealed by the eight attending. Mrs. C. V. Wash will be hostess July 2.

Freddie Park is in San Angelo visiting his grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Baker of Snyder were here this week visiting friends.

Larry Middleton is a patient in Malone Hogan Hospital. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Middleton.

Eagles Auxiliary

Three candidates were initiated into the auxiliary of the Eagles Thursday evening at a regular meeting of the group. Plans were also made for a picnic to be given Tuesday evening. Preparations were discussed for the meeting of the Western District to be held here June 30. Eleven were present at the meeting.

MRS. JAMES HAROLD SANDERS

Candlelight Ceremony Unites Couple Friday

LAMESA — A candlelight ceremony read Friday evening united in marriage Patsy Audean Clark and James Harold Sanders. The Rev. Ernest Stewart of Big Spring read the double ring ceremony in the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church in O'Donnell.

Mrs. L. H. Clark of Route C, Lamesa, is the mother of the bride. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sanders of O'Donnell.

The setting for the ceremony was formed by a background of cathedral tapers in a lighted archway joined by ropes of white satin ribbon. Baskets of white gladioli and an archway entwined with greenery and baby's breath were before a background of woodwardia and emerald palm. The sides of the church were lighted by tall white tapers tied with white satin.

BRIDAL MUSIC
Mrs. C. A. Doss of O'Donnell, organist, presented a prelude of traditional wedding selections and the wedding march. Donna Vestal sang "Because", and Mrs. Jerry Stewart of Big Spring, with an ensemble of 11 voices, was the soloist for "The Lord Is My Shepherd" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Glen Clark of O'Donnell. She wore an original model wedding gown of imported French lace and pleated tulle ruffles over net and satin. It was fashioned with a wide front panel of alternating ruffles of scalloped lace and pleated tulle. Scalloped lace applique outlined the skirts' hem. The lace, tulle and satin formed a cathedral train at the back. Hoops were worn underneath.

Joe Holladays On Trip To Mexico
FORSAN — Vacationing in Mexico City are Mr. and Mrs. Joe T. Holladay and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Williams of Midland. They plan to be gone about 10 days.

Gary Garner, son of the Rev. and Mrs. L. L. Garner is in Henderson with his grandparents, the Rev. and Mrs. L. R. Garner. Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Bassinger and Vicky are on vacation at Mesa Verde Park in Colorado and plan to visit in New Mexico and Sweetwater.

The J. D. Golden family is in Arkadelphia, Ark., for a visit. The three children, Charlotte, Betty and Jim will remain for several weeks.

Before the Golden left on vacation the Forsan FHA honored her at a picnic. Mrs. Golden is sponsor of the group.

In-Honor Affairs Make Forsan News
FORSAN — Mrs. Frank Thieme and Mrs. Roy Walraven were hostesses for a swimming party Friday afternoon at the Forsan swimming pool. Honorees at the party were Betty and Jim Golden, who will move soon to Odessa.

Guests were members of last year's first grade and their mothers. About 25 attended. Refreshments were served in the park after the swim.

Mrs. Charles Wash was honored Thursday afternoon at a surprise shower in the home of Mrs. R. D. Anderson. Cohostess was Mrs. Dan Hayhurst. Fifteen guests called during the party hours.

Gay Colors
Carnival colors show up in a blossomed shirtwaist beach top of cotton chiffon. It goes over an evening-stripped cotton salta swim-suit.

Bride-Elect Of Local Man

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Oliver of Houston have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Frances Head, to Robert Morehead, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Morehead, 900 Birdwell Lane. The couple will exchange vows in Houston on Aug. 17, with Dr. James Parker, pastor of the Garden Oaks Baptist Church, officiating.

'ROUND TOWN With Lucille Pickle

Only those who have put in a yard from the rock bottom through the top soil can properly join in rejoicing with us over our first tender grass. It can now be seen without getting on hands and knees, and to us, it is nothing but beautiful. Our only fear is that it won't survive the rough treatment from the children and the dogs.

DR. AND MRS. J. M. WOODALL and Linda left Saturday morning for Denver, Colo., where Dr. Woodall will attend a pediatric clinic at the Denver Children's Hospital. They plan to be there a week.

MUNSON COMPTON is here to spend the weekend with his mother, Mrs. Hugh Compton and his son, Chip. The Comptons make their home in Dallas but Chip is thoroughly West Texan and prefers to spend the summer here with his grandmother.

MRS. J. H. TAYLOR is in Waco, where she will visit her husband who is a patient in the Veterans Hospital there. He will accompany her to Rockport for a visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis. Mr. Davis is Mrs. Taylor's brother.

Spending the weekend here with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Jones, is MRS. RUBY PEMBERTON of El Paso.

MR. AND MRS. M. R. TURNER and their daughter, Elizabeth, who is a teacher in the Odessa schools, left this morning for a leisurely tour of the western states. They plan to be in Los Angeles on June 30 to attend the wedding of a nephew, whose bride-elect is a sorority sister of Elizabeth.

After visiting in California the party will travel into Washington, Oregon (they will visit relatives in Roseburg), Nevada, Utah, Wyoming and Colorado. They will be away approximately four weeks.

MR. AND MRS. PAUL CATO and their daughter, Sue Ellen, of Fort Worth are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Tidwell. Sue Ellen has been several days to visit with Martha Tidwell. Her parents came Friday.

MR. AND MRS. J. M. HATLER of Grapeland are visiting in the home of their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Hatler.

MAJ. FRANK DULEY left here Saturday after visiting in the home of his sister, Mrs. Leslie Green, and her family. Maj. Duley has been assigned to Mannheim, Germany, for the next three years.

MRS. H. C. PETTY and MR. AND MRS. TOMMY HUBBARD have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Tinker and their children, Carolyn and Sue Ellen, of Arlington. The Tinkers plan to leave Monday for Ruidoso, where they will spend the week and return here to spend next weekend.

The closest I'll get to the Lions convention will be to read about it in the Lions Magazine, but MR. AND MRS. CARL SMITH, and MR. AND MRS. WAYNE BARTLETT are in San Francisco ready for the festivities to begin Wednesday morning.

MR. AND MRS. DAN CONLEY joined her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lanford, in Roswell, N. M., and are now touring the Northwestern States. One of the highlights of their trip will be seeing Yellowstone National Park.

Plans July Wedding

Dr. and Mrs. T. J. Williamson, Silver Heels Addition, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Tommie Jo, to Frank Hunt, son of Dr. and Mrs. Anthony Hunt, 1601 Stadium. Dr. Jordan Grooms will officiate for the wedding, which will take place July 19 at First Methodist Church.

the jar if necessary; yarn and needles for knitting; a tiny pair of granny spectacles; and a piggy bank for saving for the wedding expenses.

COL. AND MRS. E. L. (MIKE) MASSAD and their children, Michael and Elaine, friends of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Blackburn, who formerly lived in Ardmore, Okla., visited here briefly Friday with the Blackburns. They were en route to Fort Bliss, where Col. Massad will be stationed.

Another friend of long standing with whom Col. Massad talked for a short time was OBIE BRISTOW, who encouraged the young Mike Massad to play football in high school in Ardmore and later helped him to enter the University of Oklahoma, where he made a great name in football. The Massads were unable to remain here for the barbecue given to honor Obie Friday night.

MRS. JEROME LUSK has returned from an eight weeks vacation trip to Calgary, Alberta, Canada. She was the guest of her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Mitchell and their two children. The Mitchells had left their children here in April with Mrs. Lusk while they attended a convention in San Antonio. When they returned home, Mrs. Lusk accompanied them to Canada, where the group took a sightseeing trip to Banff, Lake Louise and as far north as Jasper.

W. C. BLANKENSHIP left Saturday morning for Ann Arbor, Mich., where he will visit LT. AND MRS. BILL CLARK and daughter, Lt. Clark is in the University of Michigan graduate school doing work in aeronautics. Mrs. Clark is the former Ann Blankenship.

The latter part of the month, Mrs. Blankenship will go to Philadelphia where he will attend the National Education Association meeting.

When hostesses for the party at the R. R. McEwen home entertained to honor LIBBY JONES they had part of their minds on the honoree's mother, Mrs. Truman Jones. To help ease the stress and strain the festivities of a formal wedding bring on, the mother of the prospective bride was presented with powder for sore, tired feet; a jar of tranquilizers with hatchet for breaking

Lose Weight Without Losing Your Friends

There are more than 40 million people in this country who are... or should be trying to lose weight. They've been given center stage in magazines, newspapers, advertising slogans and the dining room table. It's about time someone gave them some advice on how to accept the diet spotlight gracefully.

Weight-watchers, as a select and separate breed, have acquired some unpleasant habits which they would do well to curb. One of the most annoying is the need to talk incessantly about dieting. As a topic of conversation, the slimming down process is pretty dull, particularly to those who can indulge in gastronomical feasts with

Forsan Bible School Has Final Program

FORSAN — The Vacation Bible School closed with exercises at the Methodist Church recently, with the Rev. James Futch presenting certificates.

Mrs. R. Z. Cozart, Mrs. Futch, Mrs. Gene Huestis and Mrs. Herman Stokes were in charge of the primary department and presented work done by the pupils.

Two songs were sung and a book, "Meet Your Neighbors," was shown by the members of the junior and intermediates groups. Mrs. D. M. Bardwell, Mrs. H. G. Huestis and Ella Beth Story were in charge of the department. A barbecue pit, made by the pupils, was used to toast marshmallows, and refreshments were served.

Dieters need to learn that the results of dieting should be seen and not heard. CALORIE COUNTERS Perhaps the most unpopular type of diet enthusiast is the calorie counter. Many a well-meaning hostess has found her dinner party hopelessly dampened by these math experts who insist on adding up the calories in every dish on the table. This has an immediate effect on appetites and morale. Unless the hostess is made of super-human stock, she feels as though she plotted deliberately to fatten up her guests. The happy slimmers would be far more popular if they kept their calorie counting to themselves and let the others enjoy the meal.

Pet peeve of any husband is the wife who inflicts her diet on him. Without warning, all substantial foods disappear from the table and he is expected to subsist on a limited variety of non-fattening foods. This kind of dieting may do wonders for both their figures but does not do much for family harmony.

MAKE IT PAINLESS The best way for dieters to avoid social stresses and strains is to diet sensibly. The process of losing weight may be painful for them, but it should be painless for their well-wishers and friends. Overweights can lose excess pounds only by revising their eating habits permanently. This means conditioning the appetite to be satisfied with healthy, nutritious, non-fattening foods. By establishing a daily weigh-in session and adjusting food intake accordingly, most heavyweights can reconquer their appetites and lose an average of two pounds a week. It's medically sound, easy on the nerves of dieters and friends alike and will keep those extra pounds off permanently, which is more than any fad diet can ever do.

BSHS 'ers are still finding time between work and vacations to stop in at Chub's for a slice of watermelon or a charcoal burger. Some of those dancing out there last week were Jo Ann Ebling, Bobby Fuller, Barbara Shields, Charles Johnson, Kathleen Thomas, Michael Musgrove, Juanel Sparks, Donnie Bryant, Janet Hogan, Frosty Forrester, Lou Ann White, Gerald Lackey, Sue Boykin, and Jerry Graves.
 We were certainly sorry to see Johnny Janak move back to Amarillo. During the past few years that Johnny has been here, he has made many friends and quite a name for himself around school.
 Another Big Springer was lost last week when Kay Kirby moved to Odessa. Some of her friends gave her a going away party. Those attending included Judy Reagan, Sharon Creighton, Karen Montgomery, Sandy Hale, Jo Ann Ebling, Edith Freeman, and Judith Shields. The party was held at the home of June Ann Johnston.
 A lot of fun is in store for the kids attending the National Hi Y Congress in Dayton, Ohio, next week. The six Big Spring delegates, Buddy Barnes, Kathleen Thomas, Tomi Thomas, Bill French, Peggy Isaacks, and James Howard Stephens, will leave Big Spring Monday and return five days later.
 Judging from present plans, the 1957 Beauty Pageant, held on the Fourth of July will be the best one ever. Contestants, if you have neglected to have your measurements, taken or your picture made, do so Monday. Measurements are taken by Wilrena Richardson at Swartz's or by Ruth Dyer at Ruth Dyer's Beauty Shop. Call Barr Photocenter for an appointment to have your photograph made, too.
 Teen age fun night will be held at the Y next Friday night. A lot of fun is in store for you, so come on out!
 Luan Lawson was surprised with a party in honor of her birthday Tuesday night. Those attending the affair in the home of Pat Johnson were Gloria Coker, Malinda Crocker, Mary Bang, Judy Perdue, Betty Jones, Lana Wren, Pat, and Luan. Afterwards, the girls went out to Chub's.
 Golf strokes are improving for many Big Springers as they have been practicing regularly. Some of those totaling up good scores at the miniature golf course were Opal Hancock, Billy Johnson, Carlene Coleman, Edward Slate, Jerry Lynn Record, Tommy Buckner, Susan Landers, Bruce Moore, Lane Edwards, Lefty Reynolds, Karen Montgomery, and Roy Hughes.
