Turncoat Back In U.S.

Former U.S. Army Sgt. Andrew Fortuna, 31, one of 21 American POWs who refused repatriation at the end of the Korean conflict and threw in his lot with the Chinese Communists, came back to the United States on the eve of Independence Day. He was a passenger aboard the American President liner President Wilson and is interviewed in San Francisco by newsmen. He is the eighth of the 21 to come home. Fortuna is en route to his Detroit, Mich., home.

U. S. Turncoat Spends Fourth Seeking Job

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Turncoat Andrew Fortuna, back in the America for which he grew homesick while in Communist China, spent Independence Day checking the classified ads for a job. Fortuna, 31, a Detroit Auto worker before entering the Army and an auto repair mechanic at Hankow during his stay in Communist China, said he doesn't expect getting a job will be easy. Fortuna, who sailed through Golden Gate yesterday aboard the liner President Wilson, told reporters, "I'd like to pay off the $390 I borrowed from the State Department as soon as I can."

The State Department advanced his tourist class fare from Hong Kong. He said he decided to return to the United States "because I got homesick." He said he originally decided to stay in China with 20 other American prisoners because he became "disgusted" with the Korean War. He was captured by Red troops in November 1950. He is the eighth turncoat to return. One died in China. "I didn't think anything was being gained through the war in Korea," he said. "It ended in the same place it started—minus thousands of lives."

Steeves, Family In Joyful Reunion

NEW YORK (AP)—Air Force Lt. David Steeves, who turned up alive three weeks after being listed officially as dead, arrived today for a joyful reunion with his wife, parents and relatives. Steeves, 23, still gaunt from his harrowing 54-day battle for survival in the California Sierras, rushed from a plane at LaGuardia Field into the arms of his happy wife Rita, 21. Overcome with emotion, Steeves shyly mumbled "Hello."

chin growth. "I plan to shave it off as soon as possible, although I'm pretty used to it by now," he said. He was soon exchanging hugs with his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Steeves of Trumbull, Conn., his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Steeves of Bridgeport, Conn., and some 10 other relatives and friends. Steeves lost 60 pounds from his 190-pound frame after his jet plane exploded and he parachuted to a mountain pass. The pilot told newsmen he'd gained back 10 pounds since then, adding simply: "I've been eating."

Candy Rents Kimono For Church Rites

KAGOHARA, Japan (AP)—William S. Girard's Japanese bride rented a flowered kimono and hat for $55 today to wear for her church marriage to the Ottawa, Ill., soldier. Haru (Candy) Sueyama also picked out a plain gold wedding band to put on Girard's finger tomorrow during the religious rites in the little chapel at Camp Whitington.

Houston Bus Driver Has 3 Wives, And He's In A Mess

HOUSTON (AP)—Handsome Johnny Weidner, 25, city bus driver, has three pretty wives. Perhaps he may have lived this triple life if he hadn't told wife No. 2 he was already married. Shortly after his admission, he married a third wife. When wife No. 2 called wife No. 1, his triple life ended in a trail of broken hearts. And Johnny Weidner was jailed on a bigamy charge. He was freed on $1,000 bond. Here is the case of the three women in the life of Johnny Weidner: Wife No. 1 is Jean, 26. Wife No. 2 is Jo Ann, 22. Wife No. 3 is Dorothy, 18. All live in Houston. "He's a con man," says Jean. "I hope he rots in jail."

"One thing, he has taste. He picked two real lookers." Jean says she married Johnny May 3, 1955. "I left him a couple of months ago," she says, "and I think he married the other two out of spite." Jean says, "All three of us knew about this for the past couple of weeks. After I left him, I guess he thought I got a divorce. But I didn't. I had no money." Jean says that wife No. 2, Jo Ann, told her: "He got money from me to make a down payment on a wedding ring for Dorothy" (wife No. 3). That's when he told Jo Ann that he had to make a trip to California. The trip turned out to be a honeymoon for Johnny and Dorothy, said Jean. Johnny summed up his situation when he told Jo Ann (wife No. 2): "I'm in a mess."

Americans Celebrate U.S. Independence Day

Traffic Deaths Begin Long Rise

By The Associated Press In a gala mood, Americans throughout the nation today marked the 181st anniversary of our independence with parades, picnics, sports events of all kinds, fireworks displays and just plain relaxing.

Texas Plunges Into Holiday Of Fun, Tragedy

By The Associated Press Texas plunged into a hot Fourth of July of fun, fireworks, sunburns and tragedy Thursday. Gov. Daniel called on Texans to "help make the 4th of July one of our safest days instead of one of our deadliest."

At least 10 persons were expected to die on the highways. Twelve died in Texas last year on the Fourth and more than 300 were injured. Traffic took four lives as the 4th of July celebration got under way. Starting at 6 p.m. Wednesday, these deaths were reported: John Vaughn, 23, of Leander, killed when his auto overruled near Austin. Jasper Mason, 56, a pedestrian, killed by an auto at Thalia. Archie Spinks, 40, killed when his car struck a tree just south of Crockett.

A sailor was killed and two were injured in a car-truck collision about a mile south of Alice Thursday. All were Negroes. The Navy withheld names. Homer Garrison Jr., director of public safety, mobilized state police to try to keep down accidents. Temperatures were high with few clouds and little or no rain. Texans thronged to lakes, parks, relatives' and just out. Sunburn, upset tummies and insect bites took their toll. Golf courses were jammed and boat rental places and bait salesmen had a banner day. Organized celebrations were planned. The pop and bang of fireworks punctuated the day, with towering displays from private and organized exhibitions to light the skies Thursday night. More than 130 units took part in a big independence day parade at Seguin. A water ski show, beauty contest and fireworks display lived their lives. Belton held its annual celebration.

Stanton Man Is Injured By Fall

L. B. Titus, employe of Cage Bros. Company at a gravel pit west of Big Spring slipped and fell down high embankment at 10 p.m. Wednesday night. He was brought to Malone and Hogan Hospital by Nalley-Pickle ambulance. The hospital reported that Titus, whose home is in Stanton, had undergone surgery only 11 days ago. It was because of this that his injuries from the fall placed him back in the hospital. According to reports, Titus was climbing the embankment. Near the top he lost his footing and fell to the bottom.

U.S. Debt Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—The national debt at the end of June stood at $270,527,171,896.43, but new government borrowing has added about three billion dollars to the total since then.

Senators Doubtful Over Ike Plan To Share 'Clean' Bomb

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said today he doubts Congress would readily agree to furnish Russia with information on how to make a "clean" hydrogen bomb. Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) said, "I would be careful about giving our formula away."

No More Curls

Shirley Temple, who gained fame as a child star wearing long curls, displays a new short hairstyle at a news conference in Hollywood announcing Shirley's appearance on 16 one-hour television programs starting in January. It won't be a full-time return to the entertainment world, however, for Shirley told newsmen she would take only a day or two a month and she will continue to live in San Francisco with her husband and three children.

Soap Box Derby Opens Big Fourth Of July Celebration

Final preparations were being made at noon today for the fourth annual running of the Big Spring Soap Box Derby at 2 p.m. The races were to open a big scheduled Fourth of July activities, including a beauty pageant and the traditional fireworks display in City Park this evening. Except for the crowd gathered "on-site" at the Derby track on Lancaster, Big Spring was a quiet city this morning. Few people were stirring, and the police department reported no accidents. The police radar equipment was set up on East Third and patrolmen said they issued 13 speeding tickets and about the same number of warnings by mid-morning. The state-wide effort to slow traffic and avert as many holiday deaths as possible. Local police said radar was in operation every where it is available. Forty-one Derby racers were assembled in the 1500 block of Lancaster this morning in preparation for the races this afternoon. Owners were giving the cars the final pre-race tuneup. All got trial runs down the three-block track Wednesday.

City workmen have smoothed out the pavement in an effort to assure every entrant of an even break in the races. City crews also have cleaned up the City Park amphitheatre for the beauty pageant tonight. Winner of the Derby this afternoon will win the expenses-paid trip to Akron, O., and the All American Soap Box Derby Aug. 11. He also will receive the E. N. Cole Trophy, to be presented during the program at the amphitheatre tonight. Prizes for place winners include a bicycle, watch, sporting goods and other items. Lions and representatives of Tidwell Chevrolet Company, Derby sponsors, will handle the work involved in staging the races. John Taylor again will be on hand to haul heat-winning cars from the finish line back to the starting ramp. Lions also will operate concessions, and were making preparations for a thirsty crowd of thousands. The beauty pageant is to start at 8 p.m. at the amphitheatre. Fireworks, to be staged by National Guardsmen and the Chamber of Commerce, are scheduled for 9 p.m. Fourth-nine girls are in the contest for the Miss Big Spring of 1957 title and 15 are seeking the Miss Howard County crown. A comedy skit, "Sergeant Magoo and the Queen," will be woven into the presentation of the beauties. More than $400 worth of fireworks will be discharged from the hillside across the draw from the amphitheatre. Best view of the pyrotechnics probably will be available from the amphitheatre.

Khrushchev Victorious In Major Purge Of Kremlin

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Russia followed up its Communist party purge of four top Kremlin leaders today by firing them from their government jobs. Moscow radio said these men were dismissed from government posts: Georgi Malenkov, V. M. Molotov, L. M. Kvgonich and Dmitri Shepilov. Moscow (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev and his policies of peaceful coexistence abroad and government decentralization at home emerged victorious today from the biggest Kremlin upheaval since the Stalinist 1930s. These policies and everything else the pudgy Communist party secretary stands for won the overwhelming approval of the Communist Party Central Committee that ousted his bitterest, diehard Stalinist opponents for opposing the softer line Khrushchev laid down at the 20th Party Congress in February 1956. The sweeping reshuffle of the party leadership, announced last night, also left Khrushchev surrounded by men—and one woman—identified as supporters of his policies. Five men were dropped from the party's ruling Presidium. Nine new faces, most of them previously of minor importance, were added, and the membership was expanded from 11 to 15. Specific charges against those ousted indicated a renewal of the Soviet drive for better relations with Yugoslavia and the West.

Moscow radio said their removal "constitutes a further major victory in the cause of peace and cooperation between nations" because they had "impeded the stronger affirmation of a policy of peace and active co-existence." But Pravda in an editorial just before the announcement of the changes warned that no one would be permitted to go "against the majority in the party, against the Central Committee."

The most important victim of the reshuffle—and the one most bitterly condemned—was stonewalled V. M. Molotov, 67-year-old Bolshevik associate of Stalin, long-time premier and foreign minister and one of the West's most unyielding foes. Georgi M. Malenkov, Stalin's successor as premier, and First Deputy Premier Lazar M. Kaganovich also were expelled from the Presidium and the Central Committee. Former Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov lost his place as a candidate, or alternate, member of the Presidium and as one of the party secretaries. Economic expert Mikhail Perukhich was demoted to candidate membership and Maxim Saburov, Russia's top economic planner until last December, was dropped from the Presidium. Moscow radio today denounced the activities of Molotov, Malenkov, Kaganovich and Shepilov as "criminal" and "traitorous."

Stalin's time such charges would be prepared to turn over any

Train Now For Summer Sun, Fun

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

If you are waiting for that two weeks with pay to get your big sun tan, better condition yourself before hand. You don't want to spend your vacation in bed nursing a sore body — and you will, unless you have put a little cream over your epidermis in advance of your sojourn in the sun.

It may be difficult to get away or too expensive to take a week-end vacation. But find the sun wherever you are. A rooftop at lunch hour or a sun lamp in the evening will start you off on a rosy note, so that you may have a good foundation by the time you are en route to vacationland.

Your vacation budget should be used to include such essentials as sun props, including sunglasses, sun tan oil, sun hat or other appropriate head covering and a beach robe.

The sunglasses will protect your eyes from the glare of water, sand or highways. The best types are inexpensive these days, and the fussiest bathing beauty will find a chic pair of frames.

The most practical suntan preparations are the non-oily lotions and tanning cream. But even these must be applied frequently when you are in the sun, as perspiration, salt water, and wind will reduce their effectiveness. You can't put a sun preparation on in the morning and expect it to give you protection for the entire day. Also, if the product is applied freely and evenly, it will serve as a precaution against peeling.

A truly sun-allergic person cannot take ultraviolet rays without suffering unpleasant reactions. The experts say, unless the sun cream is labelled as a total sun block. Even easy-to-tan types must give special care to nose, ears, lips and tender shoulder bones. Freckles are a sure thing for perennial frecklers, no matter what product is used. If one is vacationing in the tropics, at high altitudes or traveling over large

Appointed

Jacqueline Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Y. Smith, 206 Washington, has received an appointment as grand representative of the Grand Assembly of Texas, Order of Rainbow for Girls. It was announced Wednesday, Miss Smith, with a group of 22 other Big Spring girls, attended the Grand Assembly held in Dallas Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The installation of officers was held in a formal candlelight ceremony Wednesday evening. Today the group spent the day at Seabold Guest Ranch in Mineral Wells and will return to Big Spring Friday.

bodies of water, extra sun protection may be needed. The girl who golfs or fishes should keep a garment at hand to protect her skin, once she begins to perspire. It is said that loosely woven clothing offers little protection from radiation, and less still when wet.

If you do overstay your time in the sun in your anxiety to whip up a healthy coat of tan, you'll find antiseptic spray lotions available that will help comfort your injured skin and help speed up healing processes at the same time.

'ROUND TOWN

—With Lucille Pickle

A cooling note: Local boys at camp near Durango, Colo., talked to their mother Tuesday night and were wearing their coats. During the night the temperature gets to about 33 degrees and is seldom above 75 degrees in the daytime.

CHARLES and HANDLEY DRIVER, BLAKE and RAY TOLLETT, KEITH BRISTOW and PAT HYER are all enjoying the cool, cool mountain air; one of the counselors is GLEN ROGERS.

When ELIZABETH DANIELS and her sister, Mrs. K. A. PITT visited their brother and sister-in-law, MR. AND MRS. NORFLEET G. BONE, in Austin recently, they helped the couple celebrate the 32nd anniversary of their marriage. Both sisters were bridesmaids at the wedding, and this was the first time the four had been together since then.

Bone is an inspector for the state parks, and the sisters and his wife joined him on an inspection tour of the Rio Grande Valley area and also into Galveston and Corpus Christi.

On the return trip here the sisters visited the Chandor Garden in Weatherford and enjoyed seeing the last portrait done by the noted artist which is of Queen Elizabeth II and is still on the easel.

MR. AND MRS. C. B. SULLIVAN and CORAL are in Cloudcroft, N. M., and plan to spend several days there.

While I haven't been able to run them down, I'm sure there are hundreds of Big Springers who are planning to "drop the hook" today and most likely a great number of them will be at Lake J. B. Thomas.

MR. AND MRS. NATHAN ALLEN and their granddaughter, Elaine Carlisle, are among those who plan to spend the day there. The Allens had their daughter and her family, MR. AND MRS. A. O. FURQUA, and three children whose home is in Lueders, here for the weekend.

In Coahoma Tuesday night we visited with BIL CRAMER who was just back from spending a month at his cabin on Lake Thomas. He really enjoys being out on the lake, not only to fish and boat, but to just putter around. While there he made his time count by putting in a garden, which was already up by the time he had to come home.

It was nice to see some of the Coahoma women whose names are familiar but whom I had not had the pleasure of meeting. Of course I had known MRS. RALPH WHITE for some time, but I had not met MRS. A. J. WIRTH, MRS. O. D. DANIEL, MRS. R. D. GARRETT, MRS. JOE NIXON, MRS. FRED ADAMS and MRS. SMITH COCHRAN. They are wives of Coahoma Lions members and it seemed to me they would be a fine bunch to start a Lions Auxiliary.

MR. AND MRS. ALFRED MOODY of Corpus Christi are expected today to spend the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Moody. Their two children, Sarah and Joe Vernon, have been here with their grandparents for the past two weeks.

When I talked with MRS. LOUIS N. BROOKS recently, she was telling about her trip to Chicago, Ill. She and Mr. Brooks visited her nephew, Bennie Pierson, who teaches at Illinois Tech, and he took them everywhere they wanted to go. Two of the places were to see the White Sox and the New York Yankees on the day they had a space ship.

Today's young mothers applaud this trend, since the small fry get the idea that putting clothes away or going to bed is a game. It follows that a child needs his own laundry hamper, such as a catchall clown, made of heavy gauge vinyl fabric with wide-awake features and trimmings of colored plastic tape. In gay colors, it makes a gay decoration for a child's room. Upkeep is a cinch, since it is easily washed with a swipe of a sponge.

Local sewing center experts give you directions for making the clown laundry bag, using your sewing machine. You will need 2-3 yard of 54-inch vinyl fabric in blue and 1/4 yard in yellow; plastic tape in red, black and yellow; cellophane tape and a shirt cardboard.

Draw pattern on brown paper about two feet square. Draw a pear-shaped design two feet wide at the base and two feet high. Fold paper lengthwise to find center line. Cut notch at bottom of center line, two inches from center fold and three and a half inches high, to form legs. Trim bottom of legs so they slant up slightly.

Fold blue vinyl and use cellophane tape to secure fabric to pattern. Do not use pins, as they will make holes in the fabric. Cut two body pieces. Lay two body pieces together, right sides facing. Fasten together with cellophane tape instead of basting. Now stitch two pieces together on your sewing machine, using a small needle, a long stitch, light tension and light pressure.

Make a horizontal slit in the clown's tummy (front piece only). Turn bag right side out through vinyl slit. Trim collar with yellow plastic tape. Bind slit with plastic tape. Use wide yellow tape to form hands at sides. A strip of red tape over the fingers will look like sleeves. Feet are cut from yellow vinyl, trimmed with red tape bows and taped to the back of the bag.

To make head, cut a circle eight inches in diameter from a shirt cardboard. Cover with yellow vinyl. To cover smoothly, trace circle on wrong side of vinyl. Cut out, allowing two inches extra all around. Fold over cardboard, cutting away excess fabric, and tape to back of cardboard.

Tape vinyl ears to sides of head and use colored plastic tape for features. To make features, lay plastic tape on waxed paper. Cut out eyes, nose, mouth, strips for hair and circles for cheeks, peel off paper and stick to face.

Cone-shaped hat is cut from blue vinyl. Attach head to front part of body above collar. Sew heavy loop to back part of body for hanging on wall hook.

As the catchall clown gets fatter from laundry, he becomes more appealing, and is set just before washday.

Miss Williamson Given Pre-Nuptial Luncheon

A luncheon at Morales Wednesday was the second in a series of pre-nuptial parties being planned for Tommie Jo Williamson, who is to be married to Frank Hunt on July 19.

Hostesses for the luncheon were Mrs. H. F. Schwarzenbach, Mrs. Kent Morgan and Mrs. Sunny Edwards.

The honoree is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. T. J. Williamson; the prospective bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Hunt.

About 20 guests were seated at places marked with small cards featuring a bridal couple. An arrangement of coral and white zinnias combined with snow mass gypsophila was held in a pedestal bowl of crystal.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Too Much Make-Up Kills Individuality

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — Dina Merrill, who recently came to Hollywood from New York, has just made her motion picture debut. This beautiful blonde socialite is dressed in a smart cotton, trimmed in lace when we lunched at 20th Century-Fox.

"I follow fashion closely only when it suits me," she told me after we had ordered our luncheon. "But this so-called 'flapper' period, with dropped waistlines and cloche hats is for the birds!"

I asked Miss Merrill if she had any rules for being well-dressed. "When I shop I avoid a dress that is so dramatic it wears ME. I like clothes that are feminine and not too fussy. And color is very important."

"I dislike any of the muddy tones like gold on me. And I can't wear dominant colors, like brilliant red, although some shades of red are becoming. But this is an individual problem which every girl must determine for herself."

Dina is enthusiastic about the skill of studio make-up men and praised those who made her up for "The Desk Set."

"I'm fascinated by how much time they spend on my face and still achieve a wonderful naturalness. I think too much make-up, badly applied, can destroy your individuality."

Dina seemed surprisingly relaxed. "I have two ways of releasing tension," she confided. "One is to yawn. Just drop your jaw until you yawn as a reflex. It relaxes your whole body."

"Another way is through the mind. With complete concentration, you channel your thoughts away from what is disturbing you. This takes practice but anyone can learn it."

Someone stopped at our table and Dina was apologetic that she didn't remember his name.

"I think it is so charming to remember names. I'm working on it," she explained.

We discussed other facets of charm. "Charm is a warm and out-going quality," Dina reflected. "A real interest in people. I don't think it can be taught in a school. That type of 'surface' charm is phony."

"An attractive voice is a charming quality," Dina added. "But most people don't pay enough attention to their speech. Lowering your register is just a matter of thinking down. Instead of speaking from your voice box, think down to the diaphragm. It's easier if you breathe properly," Dina concluded.

Navy Benefits Provided,
Although No Time Served

Mrs. R. H. Graham, mother of Charles Elgin Brown, 20, killed in a car wreck Feb. 3, has been recently paid a total of $1,350 by the U. S. Navy.
The payment, according to Chief R. E. LaFon, recruiter, represents the recognition that the navy accords an enlistee in its services—even though that enlistee never actually had an opportunity to serve a day in uniform nor to even officially take the formal oath of a seaman.
Brown, graduate of Howard County Junior College, this year's college annual "The Jayhawker" is dedicated to his memory—applied for enlistment in the U. S. Navy in January of this year. His application was tentatively accepted and he became what the navy terms a provisional recruit. His home was in Ackerly community.
He was instructed to report to Albuquerque on Feb. 3 for his final physical examination and for formal induction into the service.
Early on that morning, he and a friend set out to permit Brown to pay a farewell visit to his girl friend. A car wreck occurred; Brown was instantly killed. He was, at the time, on his way to board a bus which would have taken him to Albuquerque.
LaFon queried the Naval District: "Was Brown entitled to the regular death benefits under the serviceman's act?"
This question, apparently, had never been raised in the district before. It was forwarded to the Judge Advocate General for decision. Considerable correspondence piled up.
The final upshot was that the Judge Advocate General's office ruled that Brown did qualify under the terms of the act; that, as a result, he was entitled to certain death benefits. These include the equivalent of six month's pay and part, at least, of the costs of his funeral.
At the time Brown was killed, his pay as apprentice seaman would have been $78 per month and the check would have been six times that amount. However, the law was changed before the decision was handed down and made the death payment mini- mum $800.

Galbraith Ruled Innocent By Reason of Insanity

McALESTER, Okla. (AP) — Former McAlester physician Ben T. Galbraith was back in the state penitentiary here today after being found innocent by reason of insanity in the murder trial of his son Jere, 5.
A District Court jury here returned the verdict last night after deliberating five hours and eight minutes. The jury was qualified for the death penalty.
The 35-year-old former heart specialist was returned to prison where he is serving a life sentence for the slaying of his wife Klity, 30.
Galbraith has admitted killing his family of four two years ago. Charges are pending in the deaths of his other two children, Frank, 7, and Sarah Ann, 4.

Perils Mount
In Iran Quake

TERHAN, IRAN (AP) — Hunger, thirst and sickness today plagued the half million Iranians living in the earthquake-battered arc around the south end of the Caspian Sea.
Families who fled to the countryside after the violent shocks Tuesday faced the additional hazard of attacks by wild animals. Wolves were reported to have injured several persons who fled to the woods from the devastated villages of Rineh, Assack and Bijestan.
The known official death toll was 750, with prospects of rising to more than 1,000. More than 3,000 persons were missing from ruined villages, but many of these were believed to have found safety in the country.

Apparent Low Bidders

Bid-bond checks totaling $275,000 are held by Capt. Walter Bullock, Webb purchasing and contracting officer. With him (left to right) are Floyd Henderson, contracting office representative who will help supervise Webb's multi-million-dollar housing project, and the apparent low bidders, H. E. Williams Jr., and B. P. Dunlap, of Williams and Dunlap, Dallas. Their proposal for building the 400-unit residential development was $6,435,000.

Pre-Missile Stage Reached

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Development of automatic control systems so accurate they may be used as transitions between piloted bombers and intercontinental missiles was announced yesterday by Convair.

The control systems are virtually automatic and are the most compact and accurate of their type yet developed, the company statement said.
It said the systems are for use on Convair's B58 Hustler bomber, but have been tested on other planes.

The General Dynamics Corp. division said the systems are 10 times as accurate as any others presently in operation. Containing many small, specialized computers, these systems instantly compute aircraft position anywhere in the world, the company said.

CAPTIVE-AIR SAFETY TIRE
by GOOD YEAR

Proved by dramatic Boston to New York test!
231 miles on four blown-out tires without a mishap or tire change!

Now you don't have to change a tire along the road. Not you, your wife nor your children!

Only Goodyear has the Captive-Air because only Goodyear has a tire body made with triple-tempered 3-T Nylon Cord. The brawny nylon built-in "spare" carries you safely and comfortably until you can stop and have the tire repaired after a blowout or puncture. This means that the hazards of tire failure in heavy traffic, on super highways, on crowded bridges and in narrow tunnels as well as costly towing and road repairs have all but been eliminated by Goodyear's all Nylon Cord Captive-Air Safety Tire.

A few moments ago, we blew out all four tires with a knife. Now we're moving through Boston's busy Copley Square. This sudden stop-and-start city driving is no tea party for tires . . . and remember, all four of ours have been blown out! But the tough multiply nylon "inner tires" take the punishment in stride . . . make us feel certain we'll reach New York without a tire change.

Look at us go! We're driving on the Merritt Parkway now, and when traffic is clear, we step up to the posted speed of 55.

231 Miles Later! In New York's heavy traffic after five hours' driving—with no tire damage other than the knife cuts we made before we started!

Here's how Captive-Air works to save you time and trouble!

Only the air in the outer chamber escapes when the tire is cut, torn, punctured, or blown out.

Reserve air in the built-in "spare" lets you drive on for 100 miles or more!

Reds Beat Nemesis; Berra On Rampage

By DON WEISS
The Associated Press

If Cincinnati's Birdie Tebbetts is indulging in a little holiday crowing in his best New England tenor, the tubby little manager has three good reasons:

1. A full game lead in the National League.

2. A victory, after two years and nine defeats, over Milwaukee's Lew Burdette.

3. George Daniel Crowe, a heretofore nondescript first baseman who has been capably minimizing the absence of slugger Ted Kluszewski even if he isn't in Ford Frick's All-Star class.

Even eight runs batted in by Yogi (I'm a heck of an All-Star) Berra as the New York Yankees stretched their American League lead to three games, three shutouts by Al, pitchers, and a skip up the NL ladder by the St. Louis Cardinals couldn't overmatch what Tebbetts and his Redlegs accomplished last night.

In topping Milwaukee 7-5 and dumping the Braves down to third place, they not only extended their first-place standing in the league free-for-all but did it at the expense of Burdette, Birdie's "favorite" right-hander since the early-season spital episode and Cincinnati's whammy guy for more than two years.

Lew 9-0 with Cincinnati since May 26, 1955, trudded off in the sixth inning after having allowed 10 of the Redlegs' 11 hits and all seven runs. Crowe, with a .289 average and 16 homers, touched it off with a two-run homer.

Dipping to third, the Braves trail the Redlegs by 1 1/2 games and are half a game back of St. Louis, which moved into second place by edging Chicago 5-4. Berra's preholiday fireworks, produced by two singles, his 12th home run and a ground-out to snap a season-long slump, helped Bob Turley in a 10-0 Yankee rout of the Boston Red Sox. Second-place Chicago fell three games back when Virgil Trucks and Tom Morgan combined for a five-hitter in a 5-0 Kansas City victory.

Cleveland's Don Mossi pitched his first major league shutout, a nine-inning effort, and Baltimore thrashed Washington 8-3.

Burdette, with Hank Aaron hitting his 25th homer for both runs and are half a game back of St. Louis, which moved into second with his 16th home run in the fourth. It was 3-3 in the sixth when a walk to Crowe started a four-run clinching rally for Cincinnati, climaxed by a two-run triple by winning pitcher Hal Jeter.

Del Ennis' two-run single in the seventh broke a tie and won for the Cardinals and Larry Jackson. Al Dark went 4-for-5 in a 12-hit attack that cost Tom Poholsky his fourth loss.

Turley allowed only three singles and struck out 11. He had the game well in hand after Berra drove in seven of his eight runs while New York took a 9-0 lead against loser Tom Brewer in the first three innings.

Home runs by Billy Hunter and Lou Skizas pointed Trucks to his seventh win for the A's, although he pitched only 5 1/3 innings of the White Sox shutout. Morgan bailed him out of a bases-loaded jam in the sixth with Jim Rivera's double-play grounder then continued the blanks the rest of the way. Dick Donovan lost his third.

Mossie, relief ace working as a starter to fill in Cleveland's crippled pitching staff, scattered six Detroit hits for his sixth victory against two defeats. Chico Carasquel's homer and Russ Nixon's two-run single beat Duke Maas.

The Orioles made the most of six Washington errors, their first baseman Jim Lemon, a converted outfielder. Tom "Lemons" on one play during a five-run second inning cost the Senators three runs. Ray Moore (5-5) won his third straight although he injured his right elbow in the eighth.

SWINGING SAME WAY

Frank Malzone Is Surprised Over His Own Batting Power

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Frank Malzone, Boston's latest hot-shot, is no less surprised than anyone else over his new-found slugging power.

"I don't think I'm doing anything differently than I did last year when I failed to stick with the team," the stocky little Red Sox third baseman said. "I'm swinging the same way. I'm using the same bats and I think they're not hitting me any differently. It's just that the hits are falling in for me this year. I guess."

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Now hear this: One fellow says to the other fellow, he says: "He's a Civil War golfer."

"How's that?" "Out in 61 and back in 65."

Local football coaches make no secret of the fact that they regard the Steers' game with Andrews as about the most important outing of their 1957 schedule.

If the Longhorns win, they'll, no doubt, go on to better things. If they get beat in a close one, they could still jell into a fairly potent team. If they get walloped, the coaches may run for the bomb shelters.

Andrews has the ammo to give the Steers a bad time. The Mustangs walloped the locals, 79-13, last year and are supposed to be coming up with their greatest ball club.

Glenn Frazier, coach of the Andrews team, is a taciturn individual, not given to optimism. In a recent conversation with Odessa scribe Tom Eastland, he had this to say about his club's 1957 chances:

"If nothing happens to Tommy Jackson (All-District 2-AAA back last year), Robert Burke, Jerry McPherson or Ray Ham, we'll beat somebody."

Some observers would interpret that to mean the Ponies could win it all—district, regional and state.

Burke was an all-district guard last year but Frazier plans to move him to fullback. He's big but he's mobile. If the experiment doesn't work, Frazier may move Jackson over to fullback from half. That would call for other changes—like moving quarterback Ronnie Brice to halfback.

Frazier says he could field a line averaging 220 pounds but they're not his best boys.

Evidently, Glenn expects the football warfare to be more fluid than ever, and doesn't want any linemen in there who'll get in the way.

A lot of whacky things happen in baseball during the course of a season.

The other day in Milwaukee, Philadelphia second baseman Glenn Hamner was called safe in a play at second base and was thrown out of the game for arguing with the umpire.

Hamner, without really looking, thought the umpire Ken Burkhardt had called him out and beefed about it.

"I'm doing the umpiring here," said Burkhardt. "You've been doing it long enough."

Hamner continued in his tirade. Burkhardt said if he heard any more lip, he'd send Granny to the showers. Hamner wouldn't quit, so Burkhardt gave him the thumb.

Go Free, the two-year-old owned by Mr. and Mrs. Bud Tucker of Big Spring, failed to qualify for the Ruidoso Futurity last week. The animal ran a dead heat for third in the trials.

I opened this window with a golf story, so I'll close it the same way.

Ever hear about the green mountaineer who was playing his very first hole of golf? He asked a fellow player what the objective was.

"See that little green patch way up there?" he was asked. "Well, that's where you want to hit the ball."

The big guy took a mighty swing and the ball didn't stop until it bounced up and came to rest on the green, stopping within a foot of the cup.

When they reached the green, the neophyte picked up the ball and was told:

"No! No! No! You've still got to get it in that cup there."

"Well, why the devil didn't you tell me that before?" the big fellow fired back.

Berra Goes On Bat Rampage After Scoring Fans' Vote

NEW YORK (AP) — "I'm a heck of an All-Star player," said Yogi Berra, New York Yankee catcher.

That was before yesterday's 10-0 rout of the Boston Red Sox. A couple of hours later, Berra was thinking a little better of himself and Manager Casey Stengel, looking much the wiser owl, was expounding: "Looks like the fans know a ballplayer when they see one, doesn't it?"

All the squat veteran catcher did to justify his selection as the American League All-Star catcher for the ninth straight year was to drive in eight runs. It was his best batting burst of an otherwise disappointing year.

"Guess those pitchers will think twice before they pass me now that Yogi is hitting," said Mickey Mantle, who got on base three times by walks, twice intentionally. Twice he scored as Berra lashed out.

Mantle has walked 79 times this season, many times on purpose, as opposing pitchers considered Yogi, in the worst slump of his career, a sitting duck for their curves.

RUSSELL HOWLE
New Elbow Coach

Elbow Coach Is On Hand

ELBOW (SC)—Elbow school's new coach and principal, Russell Howle, has arrived on the scene.

Howle will coach both boys' and girls' basketball at Elbow, in addition to assuming duties as the principal.

Howle comes here from Yantis, where his girls' team won 36 of 40 starts and his boys' quintet finished with a 34-6 won-lost record last season.

The Woodhouse boys beat Yantis in bidistrict last year. Prior to going to Yantis three years ago, Howle was head coach at Golden for four seasons. Yantis is in Wood County, south of Sulphur Springs.

Howle is a native of Yantis and a graduate of East Texas State college at Commerce.

He and Mrs. Howle have an eight-year-old daughter, Cathey.

Pilots Select Lamesa Teams

LAMESA — Starters were announced Wednesday for the All-Star softball game scheduled here for tonight.

Dill Holland, manager of the Civic League, reported today that Edwin Kunkel will start on the mound. Other starters, previously announced, include Dub Mimix, catcher; G. C. Black, first base; Darrell Rodgers, second base; Gus White Jr., third base; Bottles White, shortstop; Dan Boone, left field; Charles DeVore, center field; and Carl Todd, right field.

Relief pitchers include Jack Everett and Bob Black. Utility men include Curtis Brandy, Guy Kinnison, Bennie Lybrand and Weldon Moore.

Triple Dead Heat Run At Hollywood Park

By JOHN CHANDLER
The Associated Press

The sixth triple dead heat for first place in American turf history gave racing fans something to talk about today as they headed into the country for a day of the thoroughbred sport topped by the $75,000 added Suburban Handicap at Belmont Park.

Joe's Pleasure, Challenger Tom and Leaflet hit the wire at the same time in the fourth race at Hollywood Park yesterday. The best known of the triple dead heats on a running track was in 1944 at Aqueduct in the Carter Handicap. Then Wait-A-Bit, Bossuet and Brownie finished all-square after furlongs.

There also were triple dead heats for the win at Agua Caliente, Wheeling Downs, Detroit and Victoria, B. C., and it has occurred at least once on harness racing tracks.

In the Suburban today, Leo P. Doherty's Traffic Judge tries to make it two in a row in New York's triple handi-cap series against 10 tough rivals.

Traffic Judge took a close one June 8 in the Metropolitan Mile, edging Dedicate by threeparts of a length. Dedicate, owned by Mrs. Jan Burgh, will be back for a second try at the Suburban. If successful in the Suburban, Traffic Judge can shoot for a grand slam in the $50,000 Brooklyn Handicap at Belmont Aug. 3. Only two horses ever have connected in the Metropolitan-Suburban - Brooklyn triple the same year - Whisk Broom II in 1913 and Tom Fool in 1953.

Major tracks have a variety of fourth of July headlines, with the $50,000 American Handicap at Hollywood Park, the $25,000 Stars and Stripes Handicap and the $15,000 Pollyanna Stakes at Chicago's Arlington Park, the $25,000 Sussex Turf Handicap at Delaware Park, the $20,000 Tyro Stakes at Monmouth Park, the $20,000 Independence Day Handicap at Narragansett Park, and the $10,000 Firecracker Handicap at Hazel Park.

Dedicate, who won the $100,000 Campbell Memorial at Bowie, packs 126 pounds, top weight, in the Suburban, and no handicapper in the country surpasses this mile and one quarter gallop in prestige.

Traffic Judge will carry 124 pounds, and is skippered by Eddie Arcaro. Bill Boland will be aboard Dedicate. Third Brother and Career Boy, each with 122 pounds, and Riley, 120, are next in the weights.

Australian champion Ashley Cooper smashes a return against Neale Fraser, his Davis Cup teammate, in semi-finals of the Wimbledon Tennis Championships at Wimbledon, England. Cooper gained the final round by winning the three-hour marathon match 1-6, 11-12, 6-3, 8-6. (AP Wirephoto).

Andrews Loses Putting Touch

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) — Gene Andrews, former U.S. public links champion from Pacific Palisades, Calif., shot a 76 in the second round of the British Open golf championship today for a 36-hole total of 154.

He had a 78 yesterday in his opening round over the 6,996-yard par 36-72 St. Andrews Old Course.

Andrews, an amateur, probably will not qualify for the final two rounds tomorrow when the low 50 players continue.

He was the first player off the tee in the second round today and he finished his round before the second American starter, former U.S. Open champion Cary Middlecoff, hit his first shot. Middlecoff led the four Americans through the first round with a 72.

"This is a putter's game and if you can't putt, you can't win," Andrews said.

He said he three-putted four greens and missed three putts of a couple of feet.

Andrews went out in 37, one over par, and came back in 39 with a double bogey 6 on the 16th.

He said he plans to play in the French Open at St. Cloud next week before returning home.

Peter Thomson of Australia, who is trying to win his fourth straight British Open title, came in with a 69 after a shaky 73 yesterday. This made him the leader among the early finishers. He had a 33 on the front 9 after punching his first drive into Swilcan Burn, the creek which crosses the fairway.

Black And Stuart Will Attend NTS

DENTON (SC)—Two track performers from Howard County Junior College in Big Spring have announced plans to enroll at North Texas State College this fall.

Coach Winton E. (Pop) Noah said today.

They are Freddie Stuart and Tommy Black.

Stuart has been timed in 9.7 seconds in the 100-yard dash and also runs the low hurdles and the 440. Black is capable of topping 13 feet in the pole vault and 6 feet in the high jump. He began running the hurdles this spring, achieving a 15.0 time in the high and a 24.0 in the lows.

KHRUSHCHEV

The six holdovers on the Presidential Committee, Premier Nikoiz Bulganin, Ukrainian party boss A. I. Kirichenko, trade expert A. I. Mikoyan, M. A. Suslov, leading Communist propagandist and ideologist, and Klementi Voroshilov, the figurehead president of the Soviet Union.

The aircraft carrier Ranger, the Navy's third 60,000-ton supercarrier, nears completion at the naval shipyard, Norfolk, Va. The Ranger, built to handle the Navy's newest supercarrier planes, is scheduled for sea trials later this summer. Material sheds extend along the flight deck and the vessel's "island" at left is surrounded by scaffolding. A big tanker is at right.

Some of the best dryland crops in Martin County can be found in the Old Flower Grove community west of Ackerly. The heaviest rains missed the area, but enough fell to get about half the land planted early. Some crops washed out, but most of the fields are covered now.

C. J. King said all his cotton was up. Some planted June 17 and 18 already has four and five leaves on it. He said a lot of the early cotton was weedy, and some farmers were having to pay

Morehead Named District Leader Of Baptist Project

G. G. Morehead of Big Spring has been named District 8 Baptist Brotherhood chairman to coordinate details for the first national conference of Southern Baptist men in Oklahoma City, September 18-20.

As district chairman, Morehead will be responsible for promoting attendance and directing pre-registration for the conference. Eight thousand Baptist men from Robstown, averaging from 1,500 to 4,000 pounds per acre, is being combined now. On the King Ranch there are no barbed-wire fences. Instead they have heavy net wire, with prickly pear planted along the bottom to keep cattle from leaning against the wire. South Texas has flies the year around, and ranchers try to prevent cuts and scratches.

Farmer: "I love Mr. Benson. He gave me $30 an acre for land that hasn't made a crop in years. I'd like to make a deal like this for the next 30 years."

Irrigation equipment salesman: "Since April the farmers wouldn't even say 'Howdy' to us. Now the rains are forgotten, and these guys are ready to do business again."

Several kinds of insects are nibbling on the young cotton. In addition to grasshoppers, there are a few spots where careless worms, cut worms and beetles are working.

Virgin Little of the Gay Hill community has grasshoppers and beetles, but says the black beetles are doing more damage than the 'hoppers. They ate down two or three gardens the family had planted.

LEFTOVER ITEMS:
Nearly every implement dealer in Big Spring rents land to farm. Some of them cultivate large acreages. This summer I saw my first spotted Poland China hogs. A bunch was brought to the local auction sale. They were supposed to have been developed in Iowa and are faster-maturing than the standard Poland Chinas.

Tractor Mechanic: "If a good crop is made, we'll really sell the new tractors. Half the machines in use are about worn out." The big lake on Steve Currie's place east of Garden City has backed water under the highway bridge. It never holds water long, but looks like Lake Thomas' little brother for several weeks after floods.

West Texas should make one of the biggest grain sorghum crops of all time. The maize around

Angelwing Pie Proves It's Heavenly Eating

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

This angelwing pie was designed for mere mortals, but it's heavenly eating.

Prepare a pie shell of thin rich pastry for the crust. Then follow our directions for making the light-as-air Bavarian-type filling. Top the pie with fresh strawberries and finish with a light glaze. Add a fluff of whipped cream and some whole berries and serve for dessert at a supper party when you want to put your best foot forward.

This dessert should really be called All-Summer-Long Pie because you can substitute other seasonal fruits for the strawberries. Fresh raspberries make a delicious topping for it; so do sliced fresh peaches.

ANGELWING PIE

Ingredients:
Two teaspoons unflavored gelatin, 2 tablespoons cold water, 2 1/2 cups sugar, 1/2 cup water, 2 teaspoons lemon juice, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 2 egg whites, 1 cup heavy cream, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 9-inch baked pie shell, 3 cups sliced fresh strawberries, 1-3 cup sugar, 2 teaspoons cornstarch, 6 whole unpeeled strawberries.

Method:
Sprinkle gelatin over the 2 tablespoons cold water in a custard cup to soften. Place cup in pan of very hot (but not boiling) water until melted. Put the 2 1/2 cups sugar, 1/2 cup water and lemon juice in a small saucepan. Beat 3-cup size is fine. Stir over low heat until sugar is dissolved; cook without stirring to soft ball stage (236 degrees on candy thermometer). Remove from heat. Add salt to egg whites and beat with rotary beater (hand or electric) until they form stiff peaks. Drop over slightly when beater is slowly withdrawn. Gradually beat in hot cooked syrup and dissolved gelatin. (If gelatin has thickened place custard cup in a small container of simmering water and stir until fairly thin again.) Beat 1 cup of the cream and fold into egg white mixture with the vanilla. Turn into pie shell. Chill until firm. About 2 hours before serving, mix sliced strawberries with 1-3 cup sugar; let stand at room temperature for half an hour. Drain off juice and reserve. Spread berries over top of pie.

Strawberry Crush Is New Delight

A new spectacular idea fresh from the Foremost Dairy Kitchens... Strawberry Crush... It's not sherbet! It's not ice cream! It's strawberries — and nothing but strawberries! The big, bright, blushing kind... gently crushed, sweetened and frozen into something new and very special. We call it Strawberry Crush. And some hot day soon — like today, maybe — you're going to call it wonderful!

Too, this product is packed in 1/2 gallon and pint tough styrene, transparent, reusable containers. These light-weight containers may be used for storing of foods or for many, many other uses around the home. There is no danger of shattered glass from breakage.

Here are two summertime recipes that you can be proud to serve:

STRAWBERRY-ORANGE CRUSH
Into mixing can place 2 oz. very fine crushed ice; add 6 ounces Foremost Orange Drink; add 4 rounded tablespoons or 3 scoops fresh Strawberry Crush. Place on mixer to blend until smooth and pour in tall 14-oz. glass.
Float with 1 rounded tablespoon or scoop Fresh Strawberry Crush and garnish with whole strawberry.

STRAWBERRY COOLER
Into a shaker cup place 3 or 4 ounces of Foremost Milk and 4 rounded tablespoons or 3 scoops Fresh Foremost Strawberry Crush. Blend on mixer until mixture will barely pour. Serve in a tall, thin shell glass or paper cup. Or, it is so delicious that you will want to serve it in your favorite dessert dishes with cookies.

Mrs. Ringener Gives Two Delicious Recipes

Probably the most cherished recipes of all homemakers are ones that have been handed down from mother to daughter, as are the two given today by Mrs. J. M. Ringener.

For entertaining at card and game parties, Mrs. Ringener likes both of these recipes.

CONGEALED SALAD

Ingredients:
1 No. 2 can pineapple
2 cups of sugar
2 — 3 ounce packages of cream cheese
2 packages of unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup warm water
2 cups whipped cream
1 cup chopped pecans

Method:
Boil pineapple and sugar for two minutes; remove from heat and add cream cheese; set aside to cool. Dissolve gelatin in warm water. Add to other mixture, stirring thoroughly. Add whipped cream and pecans and mix well. Pour in flat pan to chill in refrigerator. When set, cut in squares and serve on lettuce.
Also nice to serve for luncheon or at dessert parties is this banana

BANANA NUT LOAF

Ingredients:
1/2 cup butter or shortening
1/2 cups sugar
2 eggs
3 mashed bananas
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
4 tablespoons buttermilk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup chopped pecans

Method:
Cream butter and sugar and add eggs slightly beaten. Add mashed bananas, pecans, buttermilk and vanilla. Sift flour and add soda. Gradually mix flour mixture into other ingredients; beat well. Pour into greased and floured loaf pan. Bake at 325 degrees until brown.

BANANA NUT ICING

Ingredients:
1/2 pound butter
1/2 box powdered sugar
1 mashed banana
1 cup chopped pecans

Method:
Mix mashed banana with pecans, add to creamed butter and sugar mixture and spread on cake while still warm.

It's Story Telling Time

The happiest time of the day for Becky Ringener, 5, is when her mother, Mrs. J. M. Ringener, reads her a story from her favorite book. For other recreations, Mrs. Ringener likes gardening and handwork, especially crocheting.

Hi-Top Sandwiches Will Rate You As Fine Hostess

Sandwiches are growing up! And if you want to be known as the hostess with the high-top rating, you'll want to make the new Hi-Top sandwiches — a watch your pride climb as high as the food you serve.

Quick and easy steps make a Hi-Top Sandwich. Start with a slice of white bread toasted on one side, buttered on the other. Add a slice of ham, cheese, tomato and onion and watch a sandwich grow when finally topped with Hi-Top Souffle Sauce. Before your guests arrive, slip the Hi-Tops into the broiler for two minutes, serve and watch your pride zoom when the compliments come your way.

The Hi-Top Souffle Sauce takes no time at all — separate one egg and beat white barely stiff. Beat the yolk with one tablespoon of mayonnaise, add one-half teaspoon of prepared mustard, salt and pepper to taste. Fold egg white into yolk mixture and dust with paprika.

For the sophisticated hostess, there is a filling of chopped black olives; sliced turkey or chicken topped with the Hi-Top Souffle. Another version and suitable for a Friday night get-together, is drained flaked tuna or salmon filling.

Don't stop with the use of just one bread but substitute peasant-style pumpernickel or cinnamon raisin as a base for any one of the many Hi-Top fillings suggested.

What to serve with Hi-Top sandwiches? An afternoon or late evening snack for the crowd is easily completed with chilled bouillon or home-made milk shakes. For the real luncheon or formal supper party, try serving Hi-Top Sandwiches with a tossed green salad. Hi-Tops wake with the dawn when served with slices of crisp fried bacon for ravenous breakfast guests.

The Fred Harvey Restaurants, a nationally known chain, recognizes the Hi-Top Sandwich as a real find for the teen-age hostess who likes to dine out. If you want to serve the Fred Harvey's Hi-Top version, try placing two slices of crisp bacon on buttered side of each slice of toast. Top each with thin slices of Cheddar cheese. Heat under broiler until cheese starts to melt. Top with souffle sauce. Broil 2 to 4 minutes until puffy and brown.

Summer Footnote

If you like to go stockinged in summer, cut waxed paper the size of the inner soles of your shoes and insert in shoes. The paper keeps feet from sticking to inner sole lining and protects shoes as well as feet.

Farm Accidents

The largest number of accidental deaths on the farm occurred among 15 to 19-year-olds; next largest number among children from 10 to 14 years old.

Tough To Tender

A meat tenderizer, containing a papaya enzyme, does wonders for tough cuts of meat.

Homemade Ice Cream Adds Final Touch To Outdoor Barbecue

The ice cream freezer is moving outdoors alongside the barbecue pit as another embellishment to the American fad of outdoor dining. Along with recipes for barbecue sauces and how to turn out a perfect steak, personal experiences in ice cream making are being exchanged over back yard fences, and even at men's luncheon tables.

GRAPEFRUIT RING MOLD

Ingredients:
1 No. 2 can grapefruit sections
1 No. 2 can grapefruit juice
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
8 stuffed olives, sliced
Shrimp or chicken salad
Salad greens

Method:
Drain grapefruit well. Add drained syrup to grapefruit juice; measure. Add water to make 3 1/2 cups. Soften gelatin in 1/2 cup of the cold liquid. Heat remaining liquid. Add softened gelatin; stir until dissolved. Chill until consistency of unbeaten egg white. Arrange some of grapefruit sections and sliced olives in bottom of 5-cup ring mold. Spoon over enough of the chilled mixture to cover sections and olive slices. Chill until almost firm. Repeat procedure. Chill until firm. Unmold on serving platter. Fill center with shrimp or chicken salad. Roll servings.

CHOCOLATE ICE CREAM EIGHT

Ingredients:
4 eggs, separated
6 tablespoons sifted cake flour
6 tablespoons sifted cocoa
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
Granulated sugar
1/2 cup sugar
2 tablespoons water
2 pints prepackaged vanilla ice cream

Method:
Grease a 10x15x1 1/4-inch pan. Line with waxed paper. Grease lightly. Beat egg whites until stiff; add half of the sugar, about 1 tablespoon at a time, and continue beating until stiff. Sift together flour, cocoa, baking powder and salt. Add water to egg yolk and beat until light; gradually beat in remaining sugar; fold in sifted dry ingredients. Fold into beaten egg whites. Turn batter into pan and spread evenly. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) 12 to 15 minutes. While cake is baking sprinkle granulated sugar lightly over top or brown paper. Loosen cake from pan with point of paring knife. Invert pan onto towel. Remove pan; quickly remove waxed paper. With both hands roll up cake from narrow side. In rolling, first fold all the way across roll; continue rolling by lifting towel with left hand and guiding roll with right hand. Wrap towel tightly to hold in shape. Cool on cake rack.

Quick Dish

Shred celery cabbage thin and cook quickly in a little butter or margarine in the four to one proportion. Add a few tablespoons of water, as necessary.

Philadelphia Ice Cream

Ingredients:
1 quart light cream
1 cup granulated sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 teaspoons flavoring extract

Method:
Mix the ingredients, stir until the sugar is melted and freeze.

COOKED ICE CREAM

Ingredients:
1 cup granulated sugar
1 tablespoon flour
1 teaspoon salt
2 egg yolks, beaten
2 cups milk, scalded
1 1/2 teaspoons flavoring extract
4 cups thin cream

Green Peas Use Tasty Scallions

Peas taste extra delicious prepared this way.

SPECIAL GREEN PEAS

Ingredients:
One package (10 ounces) frozen green peas, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 5 or 6 small scallions (green onions), sliced, 1/2 of a large green pepper, salt, pepper.

Easy Way to Kill Ants and Roaches

JOHNSTON'S NO-ROACH: Simply brush Johnston's No-Roach on baseboards and cabinets to control cockroaches. Brush the colorless, odorless liquid on window and door sills to stop ants. Stays effective for months. No need to move dishes, or breathe harmful sprays. Johnston's No-Roach is preferred by good housekeepers. 8 oz. 89c; pint 1.69; quart 2.98.

Grapefruit Mold For Luncheon

For a cool luncheon on the Fourth or another day try serving out-of-doors. With all the new lawn furniture and handy help there's all the more reason for enjoying outdoor entertaining.

For an easy, prepared-the-day-before kind, try this grapefruit ring mold with an ice cream roll for a delicious dessert.

Steak A La Russe Is Delicious Fare

All ingredients for beefsteak a la russe blend together for the secret of that delicious flavor. Don't forget any of them, or you'll be disappointed in the final taste.

BEEFSTEAK A LA RUSSE

Ingredients:
Two tablespoons butter or margarine, 1/2 cup (1 small) finely diced onion, 1/2 pound mushrooms (sliced thin lengthwise so caps and stems are attached), 1/2 of a small green pepper (cut into thin strips), 2 tablespoons flour, 1 1/4 cups milk, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 1 1/2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce, pepper, 1 1/2 cups thinly sliced leftover beefsteak (about 1 by 2 inches).

Method:
Melt butter in a 9-or 10-inch skillet. Add onion, mushrooms and green pepper. Cook and stir over moderate heat for several minutes; reduce heat to low and, stirring often cook until mushrooms are wilted—5 minutes or so. Sprinkle with flour; cook and stir for a few minutes. Add milk; stir constantly until thickened. Stir in salt, lemon juice, Worcestershire sauce and pepper to taste. Add meat and reheat quickly. Makes 3 servings.

Fried Eggplant

Dip eggplant slices in slightly beaten egg, then in seasoned fine dry bread crumbs; fry in deep fat.

'Corny' Combination

"Corny" pants with a bib cut like a farmer's in floral-printed sailcloth are combined with a "work" shirt in grassy green cotton broadcloth.

Spices Add Zest To Summer Salad

A cool and savory salad. COTTAGE CHEESE SPECIAL

Ingredients:
One carton (8 ounces) cream-style cottage cheese, 1 medium-sized tomato, minced green onion, minced fresh basil, salt, freshly-ground pepper, salad greens.

Method:
Turn cottage cheese into a bowl. Peel tomato and slice; dice fine, discarding seeds. Add to cottage cheese with green onion, basil, salt and pepper to taste. Shape into a mound on a bed of salad greens.

A Bible Thought For Today

Grace be with you, mercy, and peace, from God the Father, and from the LORD Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father, in truth and love. (2 John 1:3).

Flare Of The Cigarette Scare

The current issue of Reader's Digest opens with a feature on filter-tipped cigarettes, listing the tar and nicotine contents of various brands with and without filter tips as established by tests.

Most interesting assertion in the Digest piece, was the claim that some of the filter-tips were too efficient, in that they took out so much of the tar and nicotine they destroyed the tobacco flavor, so the manufacturer subsequently eased up on the tar-and-nicotine-removing filter material.

The drive against cigarette-smoking as contributory to lung cancer is old hit in this country, but it is just now bursting on Great Britain in all its fury.

There, the other day, a medical report on the cancer-potential of cigarettes was even more startling and damning than any similar report in this country, and it touched off a great hullabaloo in the form of public comment.

The British government really set the tongues-a-wagging by taking official notice that the medical report on the effect of cigarettes on lung cancer was affirmative. It promised a nationwide campaign to warn against the dangers of a habit that was started in England when Sir Walter Raleigh brought in the first tobacco from America.

Tobacco stocks fluctuated up and down, but wound up about where they were. National newspapers splashed the cigarette story on their front pages, and many gave editorial support to the campaign against the habit. An AP dispatch said the editors seemed to be more excited about it than the general run of smokers, who were reacting pretty much as they did in this country.

British lawmakers moved to restrict smoking in public places. Smokers were given thousands of words of advice on how to quit, including a reversed form of the old American slogan—reach for a sweet instead of a smoke.

There has been no noticeable diminution in cigarette smoking in this country in spite of the lung-cancer scare.

A Remarkable Document

Marking the fruition of a commission authorized on June 10, 1776, a committee composed of Thomas Jefferson, John Adams, Benjamin Franklin, Roger Sherman and Robert R. Livingston reported in the form of a remarkable document which was adopted the evening of July 4.

"When, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another..." began the Declaration of Independence.

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness..." We therefore, the representatives of the United States of America, in General Congress assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the World for rectitude of our intentions, do, in the name and by the authority of the good people of these colonies solemnly publish and declare, that these United States are, and of right ought to be, Free and Independent States...

For the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor.

By these tokens, the delegates had set up five fundamental theories—the doctrine of equality; the doctrine of inalienable rights; the doctrine that powers of government rest on the consent of the governed; and the doctrine of the right to change or throw off government.

The Declaration of Independence is no less remarkable than the Constitution of the United States, which followed years later. Today would be a good time to get a copy and refresh our minds as to its contents.

David Lawrence

The Removal Of Supreme Court Justices

WASHINGTON—What can be done about a Supreme Court that ignores the rights of Congress and the executive and, in effect, nullifies various provisions of the Constitution?

This question has arisen lately because of the extreme nature of some of the decisions of the high court which substantially impair the investigative operations of Congress and the prosecution of criminals and traitors.

It may come as a surprise to many people to find that justices of the Supreme Court of the United States are not assured of life tenure and that nowhere in the Constitution are the words "life tenure" used. Actually the Constitution simply says that justices of the high court shall hold office only "during good behavior."

The Constitution provides for "impeachment" of judges, but solely for "treason, bribery and other high crimes and misdemeanors." In the event, however, that the justices do not commit any such crimes but go beyond their proper judicial functions and actually destroy the right of the nation to protect itself against subversion, can anything be done about it?

Strangely enough, in the entire history of the Supreme Court, there never has been a case involving a definition of the words "good behavior" in connection with any Supreme Court justice. Nor has there been any case in which the power of removal of high court justices has been ruled upon.

This correspondent the other day recalled the stir made by the famous Myers case in October, 1926, and took occasion to reread the decision because in its 50,000 words is given the most exhaustive discussion of the removal powers of Congress ever presented by the Supreme Court.

But this case and the decision in the Humphrey case in 1935—repealing the President's removal of a member of the Federal Trade Commission—are confined largely to the question of how far Congress may by law restrict the removal powers of the chief executive with respect to executive and quasi-judicial posts. It is clear that the President can remove an official for the causes specified by Congress when fixing the term of office and also for other causes not mentioned by Congress when the post is purely administrative. The decisions are vague and contradictory where no term is specified by Congress—as, for instance, in the case of lower court judges.

It is plain from a reading of the Myers case that most of the discussions in the early days of the republic and since then have related primarily to whether the Senate has to be consulted about removals. It seems to be an established fact that for many years the Congress asserted its right to participate in the removal power. Describing this early history, the Supreme Court in an opinion in 1839 said:

"No one denied the power of the President and the Senate, jointly to remove, where the tenure of the office was not fixed by the Constitution, which was a full recognition of the principle that the power of removal was incident to the power of appointment."

Often quoted in these decisions and rebutted is an argument made in "The Federalist" by Alexander Hamilton on, who wrote: "It has been mentioned as one of the advantages to be expected from the cooperation of the Senate in the business of appointments, that it would contribute to the stability of the administration. The consent of that body would be necessary to displace as well as to appoint."

It seems logical to conclude—as Justices Brandeis, Holmes and Reynolds plainly asserted in their dissent in the Myers case—that the power resides in Congress to control removals by stipulating in a law the basis for such removal.

Hence, if Congress chose to define "good behavior" and provided by law that the President and the Senate could jointly decide on the removal of any or all of the Supreme Court justices and then other justices were nominated and confirmed to replace them, there is enough legislative power vested in Congress to make the action stick despite any attempt by the courts to interfere. For Congress also has the right, specifically given by the Constitution, to determine the "appellate jurisdiction" of the Supreme Court. Through a law of this kind, Congress could prevent any review of its own statutory definition of the phrase "good behavior."

So justices of the Supreme Court can be ousted whenever Congress and a President jointly decide to take that action to protect the country from erratic or irresponsible decisions by a majority of the high court. "Life tenure" is a custom—not an absolute assurance of tenure for Supreme Court justices. And "custom" has been overturned in decisions in more instances in the 20 years since the so-called "liberals" took over the Supreme Court than in all the 148 prior years of judicial history.

All Wet

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The fire department said Paul Protzman turned up the heat in his apartment to dry some clothes. The heat touched off an automatic fire sprinkler. Protzman's clothes got all wet again and the water leaked down through another apartment into a photography studio and a beauty shop.

Purge Victory For Khrushchev

LONDON (AP)—West European observers agreed today that the big purge in the Kremlin was a victory for Nikita Khrushchev. Yugoslavians' Communist regime saw it as a move toward peace, but others adopted a wait-and-see attitude about the effect on Russia's relations with the West.

The shakeup was hailed by the Communist parties in Western Europe, the Old Guard Stalinist regime in East Germany and the Poles, straining to loosen their ties with the Kremlin.

London morning papers agreed the purge put Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev in the driver's seat. But they said the West must be tougher than the smiling Khrushchev who appeared on American TV screens a few weeks ago.

"In the Soviet Union and in the East European countries," commented the independent Times of London, "the upheaval will be taken as meaning that the stubborn old brakes on the 'liberalizing' policy have gone and Khrushchev will at last have his head.

Mama To A Gorilla

BERLIN (AP)—"Living alone with a gorilla can be fun."

So says Rosemarie Hoehler, a petite 24-year-old German nurse with gentle brown eyes.

She knows. She has just spent three months in a hospital isolation room caring night and day for Knorke, an ailing baby gorilla.

Knorke, aged 20 months and worth $5,000, is a hairy 23-pound bundle of mischief with a toothy flashing grin. The Berlin Zoo flew him in from the French Camerouns to replace Pongo, a giant gorilla who was bayoneted to death in World War II by Russian soldiers.

When Rosemarie first entered Knorke's life last March, he was a sad-eyed homelick little ape stricken with infectious paratyphoid, a fever fatal to many gorillas.

Rosemarie, a nurse at West Berlin's City Hospital, volunteered to go into quarantine with Knorke to save his life. Zoo experts said Knorke would have a better chance to pull through if he were cared for by a woman he could come to love as his foster mother.

But doctors warned Rosemarie that she could never return to her nursing profession if she contracted the lingering paratyphoid fever.

"It was a big risk," Rosemarie concedes.

Rosemarie set up housekeeping for herself and the gorilla in a small barely furnished sealed-off room at City Hospital.

Rosemarie has gone along to take care of him. She works days at the zoo. When she leaves, Knorke cries for her like a child.

Laugh At The Proper Time

I guess Joseph did it when he was working for the Pharaoh, but it is still humorous the way people laugh at the boss's jokes.

This idea was brought to mind in a short story concerning the President. The story came off the AP wire Saturday, dealing with some corny joke about one of Eisenhower's golf-playing partners' abilities. Written on paper, it fell flat in my estimation, but to the secret service men playing alongside and reporters within hearing distance (all trying to get ahead) I imagine it was hysterically funny.

Not that the joke probably wasn't funny. But I would say that it would have received much less applause had it been uttered by someone else. Nothing against its originator, but the fact is repeated every day everywhere when underlings listen to the boss and try to "make points" by laughing at his jokes.

The military service is one of the major areas where this is true. Whether he be a sergeant or a colonel, the subordinates will burst their sides if they think it will help them up the ladder. I'm not necessarily casting fun at others, but myself, dummy and watched the superior's eyes light up as he—as he supposed—witnessed drew guffaws.

Athletic coaches get the same sort of attention from aspiring youngsters. In fact, laughter got me in one of three basketball games in which I played in high school. As we built up a 20-point lead in the second quarter, the coach started scanning the bench after the half for substitutes. He was the type of coach who was always jovial when he was winning.

After a long season, the blisters on the lower part of my frame were growing larger as a result of that bench, and I wanted to play. So I decided to resort to laughter as a means of getting in the game. As he cracked jokes—and mighty dry ones I must admit—burst my sides laughing. Evidently it pleased him, for as the third quarter ended, he called my name—although I was on the extreme end of the bench—and sent me in. The technique was soon picked up by others wanting to play also, and they laughed even harder.

As a result, I was benched after two minutes, and the big laughers got to play the lion's share of the last quarter.

If you are going to laugh, however, laugh at the superior's jokes—not at him. It will make a difference. When in the Army, I had a sergeant as a section chief who stuttered. We didn't get along too well anyway, and a freezing rain one day didn't add to the friendship as the section worked on a generator.

After working with it for about half an hour in the cold, the sergeant made some remark about needing a certain tool. I said I would go to the shop for it, but he came back with the remark, "I-I-I'll g-g-g-get it m-m-m-myself."

I laughed.

I fixed the generator by myself that evening after duty hours.

Sometimes it pays off to laugh at the boss; sometimes it doesn't.

Hamlet Just Simply Wasn't A Dame

Are men necessary?

Think twice before you answer this, in an age in which babies come in test tubes as well as cabbages.

As one who is just crazy about men, it saddens me to see my sex moving in and taking over preserves once sacred to man. As men retreat further and further into the twilight zone, abandoning without a struggle the fields they once monopolized, it alarms me to read that less girls are putting their brand on one of the greatest stage roles in Thesplan history, that of Hamlet.

No wonder the Dane is melancholy! Now it is Judith Anderson, probably the greatest dramatic actress of our day, who has announced her intention to climb into doublet and hose and play Hamlet during the coming theatrical season. Modern psychiatry is agreed, after much posthumous analyzing, that Hamlet was a crazy, mixed-up kid. But surely not THAT mixed up!

If Miss Anderson's plans come to fruition, hers will be the second all-girl Hamlet to tread the boards within a twelve-month period, in the unsolicited opinion of this curmudgeon, is two too many.

Earlier this year, the Irish actress, Sioban McKenna, essayed "Hamlet" in an off-Broadway production. The general consensus was that it was not sufficient far off.

A spectator at the McKenna assault on the Dane reports that when the Irish mavourning cried to poor, addled Ophelia, "Get thee to a nunnery!" a disgruntled customer muttered, "And keep her company!"

And I remember Uncle Horace's

renchant comment years after he had seen Sarah Bernhardt as "L'Aiglon." "In tights and as Napoleon's heir," he said, "Snarack packed considerably more in her snarack than a marshal's bastion."

Well, sir, I would dearly love to see Sir Laurence Olivier in "Romeo and Juliet," but not as Juliet. And when I go to see him in "Macbeth," I want my money back if he appears as Wras.

I am crazy about Clark Gable, but the moment he plays Camille, I quit. Ray Bolger as "Charley's Aunt" is just dandy. And for my money, Bert Lahr is a greater Queen Victoria than Helen Hayes. But fun is fun, and my idea of it doesn't include Burt Lancaster as Desdemona. T. C. Jones is sensational as Talu. But spare me from Frankie Sinatra as Cleopatra!

If the girls insist on getting their mitts and their teeth into the fattest theatrical roles ever written for men, it will serve them jolly well right if Rex Harrison turns up one day as Rosalind or Candida. Or if Tom Ewell decides to appear as Lear's three daughters.

In opera, which is truly the art of the impossible wedded to the improbable, mezzo-sopranos are always masquerading as gay blades in hot water, where I would leave them.

People expect that sort of impersonation in opera. But in the theatre, NO. Granted there is nothing like a dame. But not as Hamlet.

If I were permitted one short phrase of advice to great ladies of the theatre determined to get into doublet and hose, it would be: Lay off, Mrs. MacDuff!

President Unprepared And Undecided

There is a remarkable resemblance between Gen. Eisenhower's handling of the disarmament negotiations and his handling of the budget. In both cases, that is to say, he has launched a proposal and embarked on a course, not having made up his mind about just where he wished to go. The deliberation, the weighing of alternatives, the hard work of making a firm decision, would in an orderly and rational conduct of government have preceded the presentation of the budget and the sending of Mr. Stassen to London to negotiate with Mr. Zorin.

In the case of the budget, it took nearly two months before it was reasonably clear whether the Chief Executive was for or against the executive budget. Only after much confusion and controversy did the President begin to make clear where he stood. In the case of disarmament, it has now transpired that he started the diplomatic exchanges with no real agreement within his own official family, with no adequate understanding with our allies, and with his own mind still fluid. During the past few weeks, with Mr. Stassen abroad in London to speak for him, the President has acted the part, not of a statesman who has a policy but of a puzzled man who is thinking out loud.

No doubt the problems of disarmament are extraordinarily complicated. They are fraught with uncertainty and with risk, and there is an awful responsibility on one who, like the President, must make the final decisions. But there is no reason why he had to enter into the negotiations; why he had to send Mr. Stassen to face Mr. Zorin, until he knew for certain whether he was in favor of reaching the kind of agreement that might conceivably be possible. He should have waited until he was ready. There was no use talking with the Russians if the President himself had not yet thought through his policy, no use if high officials in Washington were convinced that they must nullify what Mr. Stassen was supposed to do.

In the field of diplomacy, this has been like committing unprepared troops to a great battle, while the generals have not yet arranged for their supplies or ceased to argue with one another about the objectives of the war. This is the way to demoralize an army, and during the past week there has been a very considerable demoralization in Washington. The greatest doubt has been raised as to whether the President wants an agreement, or whether he could now persuade the Senate to ratify an agreement.

Mr. Gromyko is wrong in saying, as he did last week, that the United States is using the disarmament talks as a "screen concealing its striving to continue and intensify the arms race." The truth is that the United States is not really using the disarmament talks at all because the President and his administration have a policy to which some are opposed, and about which the rest are not convinced.

Unless the President can find some way to clarify and then to make firm the American position, we shall find ourselves either with a treaty that the President does not really want, or with one that the Senate will reject. In either event, we shall bring down upon ourselves the onus of blocking the path to a limitation of armaments.

I have heard it said that this will not happen because if and when Mr. Stassen really starts to negotiate about the details with Mr. Zorin, he will find the Soviet Union is quite unwilling to reach a good agreement about inspection and control. They may well be true if the negotiations are genuine. But if we remain in our present position, where the probabilities are against the ratification of a disarmament agreement, the Soviet Union can go very far in its efforts without running the risk of having to make good on them.

We had better assume that the Russians do want an agreement, and that they are prepared to pay a considerable, though not an enormous, price for it. We had better assume, too, that we shall have ourselves to clear up the confusion in our own position, and that we must not count upon the unreasonableness of the Russians to save us from the consequences of our uncertainty and indecision.

Hearing Not Probe Of Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—One member of a House subcommittee set up to study recent Supreme Court decisions said today it is important to emphasize that "this is not an investigation of the court."

Rep. Rogers (D-Colo.) said it seems to him "rather silly" for anyone to suggest summoning the justices or their law clerks for questioning.

U.S. Insists On Foolproof Inspection For Nuclear Ban

LONDON (AP)—The United States has told Russia an absolutely foolproof inspection system must be agreed upon before it will agree to a suspension of nuclear weapon tests.

American disarmament Delegate Harold E. Stassen added, however, that the United States is confident an inspection system can be worked out that will prohibit any cheating of consequence, provided all nations cooperate.

Stassen elaborated at yesterday's meeting of the U.N. Disarmament subcommittee on the U.S. offer to halt bomb tests for 10 months as part of a limited arms reduction treaty. He promised to complete his proposals Friday.

The U.S. plan coupled the suspension of nuclear tests with agreement between Russia and the West to stop assigning nuclear materials for arms beginning in 1959. In the past the Western nations had insisted that nuclear arms production must be stopped at the same time any ban on tests went into effect.

Russian Delegate Valerian A. Zorin declined comment on Stassen's latest remarks. When the American first made the proposal for a 10-month test ban, however, he said he was happy the West was making an effort to achieve a solution to the test issue. Top-level Soviet reaction was awaited from Moscow.

Detailing the U.S. plan, Stassen proposed that the big powers should begin transferring their stocks of fissionable material to civilian uses within a month after the controlled ban on nuclear weapon tests goes into effect.

He said atomic and hydrogen bomb tests should be suspended one day after the ratification of a limited disarmament treaty. International squads of inspectors, with scientific equipment to detect nuclear blasts, would be stationed at strategic points in the United States, Britain, Russia and the Pacific to make sure the test ban was not violated.

Fair, Hot For Most Of U. S.

The Associated Press

Fair and hot weather was the outlook for most of the country today but showers were expected to dampen some Fourth of July holiday activities.

It was sizzling hot in the Southwest and southern Plains as an early July heat wave continued. Warm and humid weather prevailed in many other parts of the country.

The northern tier of states from the northern Great Lakes region to the Pacific Northwest was out of the swelter belt, with fairly cool temperatures reported.

Temperatures in the desert regions of Arizona and California were above the 100 degree mark in several places during the night after another day of blistering heat. The 100-plus readings were reported yesterday from California's interior valleys eastward to Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

Jones Wins Friona Job

J. D. Jones Construction Co. of Big Spring was successful bidder on the Friona school addition.

The Big Spring general contractor was one of eight submitting bids on the work Tuesday night. Jones was $140 lower than Abbott Construction Co. of Lubbock, with a bid of $284,830. The job will be under the direction of Butler-Kimmel Co., Lubbock architects.

Bids were for complete general construction, including the mechanical as well as electrical work. The school board accepted the Big Spring firm's bid and ordered a work contract issued immediately. The work order calls for construction beginning within 20 days. A total of 325 days will be allowed to complete the work.

Work involved includes an addition to the Friona high school and the erection of a new junior high school. The building will be a 1 1/2 masonry with face brick exterior.

Attending the bid letting was J. D. Jones and Ray Dunlap, the firm's chief estimator.

Building Shows Gain In Lamesa

LAMESA — Building in Lamesa shows promise of setting a new record this year, as the pace is more than 25 per cent ahead of the same period last year.

Building permits for the first six months of 1957 total $556,392, compared with $414,896 for the same period in 1956.

Permits issued by City Secretary Jack Goodloe in June totaled $94,304. During May, $169,438 in permits were issued. Included in the June permits were two service stations, totaling $44,554; five new homes, totaling $44,450, and five home remodeling permits totaling $5,300.

The contract is expected to be let for the new hospital at a figure expected to exceed a half million dollars. There is also the possibility that a new building contract will be let by the Lamesa National Bank prior to Jan. 1, 1958.

More Injuries In Mishaps At Lamesa

LAMESA — Although six more persons have been injured in accidents in Lamesa during the first six months of 1957 than in the comparable period in 1956, there have been two less accidents involving injuries than last year, according to the police department.

Meanwhile, the increase in the total number of accidents continuing. There were 101 accidents during the first six months of 1957, and 84 during the comparable period of 1956. While 22 persons were treated for injuries received this year, and 16 during the like period of 1956, only nine accidents causing injuries were reported to the police department in 1957 and 11 in the first six months of 1956.

Chief of Police Bill Morgan said that 13 persons were injured in two accidents, seven in one and six in another.
