

Newport Ball Held Recently Revived 1780 Era Of Elegance

By DOROTHY ROE Associated Press Women's Editor Ghosts of bygone belles and beaux have stirred and gone to rest once more in the once gilded halls of Newport, R. I., as hurried and heedless socialites of the eastern seaboard paused to remember past glories...

Newport, 1780-1957

Typical costume of the era of 1780 is this gown (extreme right) of striped yellow brocade and lace, worn by a young matron who proclaims her married state by her dainty mob cap, wedding band and diamond "keeper" ring. Her velvet throatband was designed to provide background for gold chain with its diamond heart. Here is a Newport belle of the Edwardian era (center). She is elegant in a pale green velvet, silver embroidery and Venetian lace. Around her throat are two strands, around her wrist eight, of diamonds. On the right is the Newport belle as she looked at the recent Tiffany Ball. This gown was designed for a member of the Tiffany Ball Committee in black silk organza printed with huge red roses, shorter in front with sweeping train. Worn with necklace, earrings and bracelet of diamonds and rubies.

Lone Scout From Iran Holds Court

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM
VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (AP) — A slender, black-haired boy from Linden, N.J., joined a gathering at a tent in one of the sections reserved for foreign guests at the Fourth National Boy Scout Jamboree. This tent flies the flag of Iran, and here George Podgorny, of Tehran, sole representative of scouting in Iran, sleeps, studies and holds court. The boy from New Jersey, 14-year-old Charles Robinson, said his hellos, then addressed himself to Podgorny: "Sir, do you have anything to trade?" "Only a left-handshake," he was told. "I am not permitted to trade anything else." "Okay," said Charles, "that's good enough for me." Hundreds of scouts and visitors call "round to see Podgorny, a tallish, handsome, meticulous young man with a deep love of scouting and warm humanitarian principles. He says he delights in the company of all who come his way and in that of his immediate neighbors — three Japanese scout leaders, Dr. H. Kurashima, Kazuya Tsukamoto and Kazuo Yagi; a band of Australians, a group from the Philippines, the lone figure from Peru, Juan Rodriguez; the two scouters from Brazil, and others from alien soil. Around the Iranian tent, trading went on at a rapid pace. Talk about United Nations, world councils, any ponderous adult assembly. The jamboree seems to have them all beaten by miles. Bruce Douglas, 18-year-old student of architecture from Melbourne, Australia, sums it up: "The hospitality everywhere has been amazing. I had no idea what scouting meant outside of my own country. There is only one word for the total impact of our welcome — tremendous. Here we are, scoters from 20 or more countries, with different languages, customs, outlooks and temperaments, but see how well we get along. No barriers among us at all. Young people such as ourselves meet in this way, form friendships, pull one another's leg, and it all happens before any false barriers can be set up. In that way you've got something that lasts a lifetime."

Mansfield Pinups Aid Scout Trading

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (AP) — Chubby Jack King, 13-year-old Boy Scout from Pasadena, Calif., really has jamboree trade bait — personal pinups of Jayne Mansfield. Jack went over to her Hollywood studio a while back, posed with her, got 50 autographed stills and was in business. Jack said "I've swapped them for troop patches and neckerchiefs because they're my favorites." Jack said he had a few pictures left and was ready for a last minute rush.

Archer Teaches 13,000 Scouters

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (AP) — One of the most popular sports at the Fourth National Boy Scout Jamboree is archery, and the man who has been instructing scouts in this art for over 25 years came up today with some staggering statistics. Clayton B. Shenk, of Lancaster, Pa., said that so far at this campment he has taught a total of 13,000 boys, and that in all 78,000 arrows have been sped to the target. "Best of all," he said, "we haven't had a single mishap."

Prather Spurns New Proposal

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. (AP) — John Prather, 82, who has spent the last 60 years on the ranch he built in southern New Mexico, has spurned the latest Army proposals to let him remain on his land. The Army wants the land for its McGregor Firing Range close to Ft. Bliss, Tex. The military has offered Prather a life-time lease on his Otero County ranch house and a few acres surrounding the buildings with the provision that the property reverts to the Army upon Prather's death. Prather told his attorney, J. Benson Newell of Las Cruces: "You send that paper back and you tell those colonels and generals down there at Ft. Bliss that John Prather isn't giving up his birthright. If they want me off that ranch, they'll have to carry me out in a box, and," the old rancher added, "I'll have company when I go." Prather and his neighbors have been given an extension until Aug. 1 before the government takes over their lands for the big missile range.

Union Chiefs To Be Quizzed On Home Buying With Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two top officials of the United Textile Workers Union were summoned today to tell whether they used union money to buy expensive homes for themselves. President Anthony Valente and Secretary-Treasurer Lloyd Klenert, who have denied any irregularities, go before the special Senate Rackets Investigating Committee to testify that they used $37,000 from the union treasury to buy homes for themselves, and another $57,000 from the same source to "reimburse" the union. Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.), in a statement launching this new phase of the committee's search for evidence of racketeering, graft and other wrongdoing, said the public hearings would explore also allegations that Klenert dipped into the union's treasury for $40,000 more to buy things for himself, his family and friends. After plans for the hearings were announced, the two union officials said in a joint statement that "all expenditures of union funds have been made either with the authorization of the convention or the International Executive Council, the organization's highest governing body." MEANY CALLED McClellan announced AFL-CIO President George Meany will be called as a witness Monday. He said "it has been reported to the committee that Mr. Klenert and Mr. Valente took steps to return this money (for the 1952 home purchases) only after their misuse of these union funds has been discovered by George Meany, then secretary-treasurer of the AFL." The UTW is a former AFL union blanketed into the AFL-CIO in 1955. Martin J. Quigley, president of the Mutual Title Co. here, testified he personally closed the real estate deal in early May 1952. Quigley said that to finance it, Valente and Klenert "originally put up $95,000" in the form of a check drawn on their union's funds. He said this was what the two houses cost — $42,500 for Valente's and $52,500 for Klenert's. But they used only $57,000 of the $95,000, he said, because they agreed to take over and pay off mortgages totaling $38,000 outstanding against the two properties. IDENTIFIES CHECKS Quigley then identified a batch of bank drafts and cashier's checks he said he had received about May 15, 1952, from Valente and Klenert amounting to another $57,000. Counsel Kennedy told the committee later testimony would show that the union treasury was "the source" of this money, too. Quigley testified that he combined the $57,000 from the checks and drafts with the $38,000 balance, and turned this $95,000 total back to the union. With it, he sent a letter stating that he had received it to be held in escrow for "the closing of a deal to purchase a building for the union," but that the deal had fallen through. Quigley defended the writing of this letter, which he said was done at request of the two union officials. "It was none of my business," he said, how the money was handled. Quigley said he later wrote some insurance for the union and for Klenert, but does not recall how much he received in commissions. Quigley said he also had engineered a $15,000 second trust on Klenert's house, and a $10,000 note with Valente's house as security, although in neither case did the man actually borrow the money involved. Quigley agreed with Kennedy that the upshot was to make it appear that each man owed more money on his home than he actually did, but said both the note and second trust were negotiable in that they could be sold.

Business, Labor Ignore Ike's Plea

WASHINGTON (AP) — Statistics indicated today that both business and labor are substantially ignoring President Eisenhower's repeated pleas that they exercise self-restraint on wages and prices to curb inflation. Wages keep on going up and so do prices — and the data indicate they have been going up more since January than before. It was in January that Eisenhower told the nation in his annual economic report it was time for some labor-management self-denial. Data available from the government and reliable private sources show that wage rate settlements, although they have been few, have been somewhat higher so far in 1957 than in the comparable period in 1956. Prices as reflected by the government's Consumer Price Index — the most widely used measure of the nation's living costs — have never stopped going up in 1957. The living cost index has risen to new records for nine straight months in a climb that started 15 months ago. Government economists have forecast another new living cost record will be announced in a few days. On June 26 and again on July 3 the President said business and labor will have to help hold the line against inflation because the government cannot do it alone. Unless there is some statesmanlike action by business and labor in avoiding uncalculated price and wage boosts, Eisenhower said, the alternative will be government controls. He has made clear he doesn't want such controls in peacetime.

Child Bride, 10, Separated Until Status Determined

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — A 10-year-old child-bride and her 19-year-old husband were separated today pending determination of the status of their marriage. The sixth-grade pupil, Donna Sue Nichols of Columbia, and Charles William Turner Jr., were married June 18 at Mexico, Mo. Disclosure here last week of their marriage led quickly to these developments. Scott O. Wright, prosecuting attorney, announced his intention of asking that Donna Sue be made a ward of juvenile authorities. At Mexico the husband was charged with wrongfully swearing his bride was 15 when they obtained the marriage license. And Turner, who had been living at the home of the bride's parents, moved to another residence on the advice of an attorney. Donna Sue, five feet, four inches tall, appears to be older than 10, but state birth records show she was born Aug. 7, 1946. Turner was released under a $300 bond yesterday at Mexico where he was arraigned on the false affidavit charge. His trial has been set for July 30. The Turners, rejoined briefly yesterday for a conference with an attorney, Lyman M. Cleek, said they wanted to stay married. The bride's mother, Mrs. Maybelle Nichols, said she thinks Donna is capable of assuming the responsibilities of marriage. Donna has been doing the house work for several summers while her mother worked at a hotel. Turner, who quit high school after three years, is working with his father as a mechanic.

Fighter Exceeds Air Speed Record WARTON, England (AP) — Britain's new fighter, the English Electric P1, has exceeded the existing world air speed record of 1,132 miles an hour, the manufacturers announced today. The company is unable for security reasons to state the precise speed reached," the announcement said. The P1 is a day and night all-weather interceptor which is now in production for the Royal Air Force. Because the flight was not clocked officially for record purposes, the speed title still belongs to another British aircraft, the Fairey Delta 2.

Trains Delayed

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — South-bound Broad Street subway trains were held up for half an hour by a stray dog prowling along the tracks during yesterday's morning rush hour. Thousands of impatient passengers left the trains stopped at stations and sought other transportation — or walked — to work.

High on the popularity list at the Officers' Club swimming pool at Webb Air Force Base is the "skin diving" program instituted recently by Lt. John S. Carroll. In the top photo, Carroll, right, helps A-1C George Kozachuk don the "aqua-lung" for an underwater excursion. The 60-pound tank is loaded with compressed air. A regulator adjusts pressure to equal that of the water, enabling the diver to breathe almost normally inside the mask. A-1C Norman Sant and A-3C R. B. Braibak watch the operation. Lower picture shows Lt. Edward Troxel swimming underwater with aid of the aqua-lung.

About once every two months I drive by Gall in coming home from Lamesa. It's a visit I always enjoy, because there is something about the tiny county seat that I like. Maybe because it's still like a bit of the Old West, being tucked so far away from other centers of population. Maybe it's because there are no sandy land fields around it. Another reason is the people are much friendlier than in some small towns.

Tuesday it was quiet as usual. A few courthouse workers strolled across the street for coffee; an occasional tourist stopped for gasoline and drinks. The Dorsey Drug Store, which has been here over 50 years, was getting an inside paint job.

Not much was stirring, except up at the schoolhouse where workers were finishing up another teacherage. There are a lot of ranch people in Borden County, but you don't see many at Gall. Most of them go to Lamesa, Snyder and Big Spring.

One thing about Gall is that hardly anyone lives near town. Most of the houses are scattered to a half mile away and can't be seen from town. Evidently the people don't like to be crowded.

The oil fields brought so much new wealth to Borden County that a county auditor's position was created about a year and a half ago. O. D. Jackson, county auditor, says property valuation is still rising. Estimated valuation for 1958 is $22,915,000.

This is not only reflected in more money for roads and other improvements, but the taxes have been lowered. Last year the tax rate was lowered from $1.25 to $1.20. Then recently the official board of equalization for the Borden Independent School District recommended the rate be lowered still further to $1.10.

"The increase in valuation hasn't brought many permanent residents into the county," Jackson said, "but the tax money has brought us many things we needed, such as the new school and good roads."

County Agent Byron Pierce of Gall says the county is getting dry. Borden County never got the heavy rains that fell in Howard and Dawson counties, he said, except in the extreme southern part. "Several times when floods were reported in Big Spring, the Colorado River had only a little water flowing down it," Pierce said.

There was enough rain, however, to bring forth a cover of vegetation. A lot of this was weeds, but there has also been an increase in the amount of grass. Pierce said very few ranchers had bought any more livestock, though. They want to get a little more grass back on the ranges, and another reason is because cattle are too high. Several ranchers had sold down to foundation stock only, but now they find it difficult to get back in the business.

George Neill, a retired railroad worker who made a profitable hobby with laying hens, has started collecting eggs from about 300 pullets. Now in his 80's, Mr. Neill has kept from 300 to 600 hens at his place in East Big Spring for several years. During that time he has tried many different breeds.

These pullets are a special kind of Austria-White. They are medium-sized and apparently high producers. From 300 pullets he has been gathering about 260 eggs this week.

In addition to the pullets, he still has between 150 and 200 older hens that are still laying well. He usually keeps them from one to two years, though he has kept hens as long as nearly three years. He is not sentimental about them. Once a hen stops laying, out she goes.

Mr. Neill never bought cages, but still uses the old-fashioned floor plan. All eggs are marketed in Big Spring. Many of them are sold to customers who come to his poultry house after them.

Several farmers say fleashoppers are getting plentiful in cotton fields and are knocking off a lot of squares. There won't be a widespread poisoning campaign until a rain comes though, according to most of these cotton growers. They say a lot of the squares will fall off, anyway, while the dry weather continues. When a rain comes, then poisoning will be done.

Elmer Jeffcoat, who lives several miles southwest of Ackerly says his cotton is not too much in need of rain. Most of it was planted late in June and is growing fast. The feed is suffering for water, particularly the old maize that is trying to head out.

Jeffcoat's last good crop was made in 1949. He had a short one in 1950, a fair crop in 1954. The other crops were starved by droughts.

What with dry years and high living costs, he says it's almost an impossibility for a farmer to get ahead. It's hard for him to even make a living. The only way it can be done, says Jeffcoat, is to shave the overhead to the thinnest margin, and for the family to buy only things it must have.

He also believes in raising part of the family's living. He has lived in the community since 1919 and never depended on cotton alone.

"We've always had a few cows, hogs and chickens," he said. "I can get more money for my feed crop that way, and have a little money coming in most of the year."

Jeffcoat says livestock and poultry require some work, and keeps a family at home more of the time. But by staying at home and having chores to do, there is not so much opportunity to chase around and spend money foolishly.

Housing To Be Ready For All Gail Teachers

GAIL (SC) — When a two-bedroom teacherage is completed in August, the Borden County High School will have enough housing to provide living quarters for all teachers.

The faculty will be composed of 22 teachers, and most of them are expected to occupy the houses located near the school.

These modern houses are an inducement in attracting teachers, according to Supt. Leroy Shannon. The houses are rented for $25 per month unfurnished or $35 per month furnished. The school board built the teacherages in self defense, Shannon says, because there are no living quarters available anywhere near Gall.

The salary schedule is another inducement in hiring good teachers. Beginning teachers get $3,805 per year, which is $600 above state schedule. There is also an extra amount added for each year's experience, and for a master's degree the salary eventually reaches $5,533 per year. This is for classroom teachers only, with administrative personnel getting more.

The only vacancy at present is for a social science teacher in high school, and it is expected to be filled within a week or two.

"The main handicap in teaching at Gall," said Shannon, "is the isolation. This doesn't bother the older teachers or some of the young married couples. Single girls will seldom stay with us more than a year, though. There just isn't enough social life for them."

The small enrollment has always been a problem at Gall. Not many people live in Borden County, and even though the district covers practically the whole county, the enrollment for 1957-58 is not expected to be more than 250.

There will be a nice increase in high school, because of a welcome boost from the Gay Hill and Vealmoor communities. They are transferring 18 pupils, which will increase the freshman class to about 30 members.

'Dr. K,' Once A Patient, Now On Medical Staff At Gonzales

Dr. Marjorie Kirkpatrick entered Gonzales Warm Springs Rehabilitation Foundation as a patient and remained to become a member of its medical staff.

Dr. Kirkpatrick, for several years was a physician associated with Medical Arts Hospital here. Then, returning from a weekend deer hunt with Mrs. Rozelle McKinney, she suffered a spine injury in a car mishap that claimed her companion's life. For a time she had no use of her legs and practically none of her arms and hands.

Ward Tire Service Store Now Located At 3rd And Gregg

Now open for business in a new location — at 3rd and Gregg Streets — is the tire service store of Montgomery Ward.

This branch of the business has been located for many years at First and Runnels Streets, but now is across the street from the main Ward store for easier accessibility of patrons. The new location has been renovated and presents all the modern facilities for servicing of tires, batteries and miscellaneous items for cars, trucks and other vehicles.

Ward is announcing the new location with a special tire sale.

No Survivors At AF Crash Scene

TAIPEI, Formosa (U-A) — Chinese rescue team today reached the wreckage of a U.S. Air Force plane with 16 aboard and found no survivors, police reported.

The team could identify only 10 bodies in the wreckage on a mountain slope. Seven crewmen and nine passengers were aboard the two-engine C-47 transport when it vanished Tuesday night near the end of a trip from Clark field in the Philippines to its base at Taipei.

The search team came across the wreckage in the jagged mountains between Taipei and the Formosa Strait. It was spread along the forested slopes of Mt. Chai Lien near Hsinchu.

A spokesman at U.S. Air Force headquarters said American search parties are en route to the scene.

Some Cities Have Cut Smoke Nuisance

By RAMON COFFMAN
If we could burn up every bit of the wood or coal in a stove or furnace, we should rid ourselves of a nuisance. Smoke (including soot) would be gone.
As usually defined, smoke is dark material which rises from a fire. Possibly we should include heated air, as well as the dark parts. The heated air makes smoke rise. Later, when all heat is gone, the smoke settles toward the ground and adds to the dust in the atmosphere.

Indian smoke signals.

Some people of early times used smoke to send signals to their friends. This was true, in particular, of American Indians. In a large area a single column of smoke meant: HERE IS THE CAMP.
Two columns of smoke meant: I AM LOST (or WE ARE LOST).
Three columns meant: GOOD NEWS!
Four columns meant: COME TO THE MEETING HERE HERE.
Fuels differ in the amount of smoke which they produce. Soft coal (unless it is under special control) gives off the worst smoke among all common fuels. Hard coal, on the other hand, burns with little smoke. Coke is another smokeless, or almost smokeless, fuel.

Soft coal is more plentiful and less costly than hard coal. For that reason cities have had extreme trouble in "keeping clean." Pittsburgh, 35 years ago, deserved the name of "smoky city." Soft coal fires belched black smoke from iron and steel mills, and little was done at that time to keep the air from being blackened.

Then came a period of change. New laws were put into force, and the smoke in the air was reduced to a minimum. Today Pittsburgh continues to produce millions of tons of steel each year, but its air is more pure than that of many other large cities. St. Louis is another large city which has purified its air.

Old Custom Leaves Frat Chiefs All Wet

By ANN RUDD
AUSTIN (AP)—A car roared around the corner, pulled up beside Littlefield Fountain in front of the University of Texas campus and halted abruptly.
The four doors flew open simultaneously, and several burly young men jumped out, dragging a bound body.
A small group began to gather. As the men untied their victim, a struggle began. One of the on-lookers broke from the crowd and ran for help.
But it was too late. He was lifted high above the heads of his tormentors and pitched into the fountain.
People began to laugh. The boy climbed out. His persecutors gathered around, slapping him on the back and all trying to shake hands at once.
No one had been mad at the boy.
He had offended no one.
But he had been elected president of his fraternity, and according to University custom, into Littlefield Fountain he must go.
This fountain was a gift to the University from Maj. George Littlefield, leader in Texas industry, and consists of Columbia, a winged bronze figure, standing on a ship's prow, which bears the dates of the United States' entrance to World War I and the close of the war.

Lions Committee Heads Announced By Carl Smith
Committees were announced by Carl Smith, president of the Downtown Lions Club, at the meeting of the board of directors Tuesday evening.
Committee chairmen working under B. M. Keese, first vice president, are Boone Horne, attendance; Fred Stitzell, finance; John Quigley, membership; Dr. R. Gage Lloyd and Dan Conley, co-chairmen, program; L. T. King, constitution and by-laws.
Those under Pete Cook, second vice president, are Joe Pond, Lions information; Jack Smith, convention; Dr. P. W. Malone, sight conservation; George Melear, boys and girls work; Marvin Miller, citizenship; Jess Thornton, agriculture; Choc Jones, greeters.
Under Louis Carothers, third vice president are John King, public relations; Joe Pickle, civic improvement; Guilford Jones, community betterment; Dr. Anthony Hunt, education; Carl Marcum, health and welfare; Larson Lloyd, safety; Clyde Thomas Sr., United Nations.

Directors accepted three resignations of members-at-large and one from the regular membership. Among those taking part were Smith, Horne, King, Keese, Carothers, Stitzell, C. W. Fisher, M. A. Cauley, Sam Burns, R. M. Dean, L. R. Adams, Jimmy Smith.

Three Firemen To Attend A&M Course

Three members of the fire department will leave here next Sunday for a week's training school at Texas A&M.
Making the trip will be Fire Chief H. V. Crocker and Lieutenants John Waddell and Alvie Harrison. All three have taken courses at the firemen's school there before.
Crocker will take the fire marshal's course, and Harrison will take a pumping course. Waddell meanwhile will be enrolled in a fire-fighting class.

Sun Kills Fish

LITTLE FERRY, N.J. (AP)—Fish in Willow Lake have been dying, says the State Division of Fish and Game, because the sun has been evaporating oxygen from the water, and there hasn't been enough rain to replace it.
Firemen have been giving the fish artificial respiration by circulating the lake water through pumps to aerate it.

State Tells Policy Holders They Won't Lose Insurance

AUSTIN (AP)—Policy holders of the Physicians Life and Accident Insurance Co. of America, which has been in temporary receivership since April 24, were told today that they would not lose their insurance.
State Liquidator J. D. Wheeler announced yesterday that the Estate Life Insurance Co. of Amarillo had taken over all policies of Physicians Life and Accident, effective immediately.
"Your insurance coverage will be uninterrupted and remains in full force and effect," Wheeler told policy holders of the reinsurance contract with Estate Life.
"I am extremely proud of the confidence shown in our company by the Texas Insurance Commission and am very proud to offer the protection and security to these policy holders," said John McCarty, president of Estate Life. He said he was putting up a legal reserve of $500,000 on all policies to make the capital and surplus of the firm total one million dollars.

Under the reinsurance contract the Amarillo firm will have a total of 30,000 policy holders and about 11 1/2 million dollars of insurance in force, including eight million industrial and 3 1/2 million in ordinary life policies.
McCarty said his firm would retain its present offices and personnel at Amarillo, McAllen, Longview, Mt. Pleasant, Fort Worth, Houston and Dallas.
In bringing action against Physicians Life and Accident the State Insurance Board charged that the firm was insolvent with 50 per cent of its stock impaired. Atty. Gen. Will Wilson also alleged that the firm, which was headed by former Gov. Coke Stevenson, had conducted illegal stock manipulations. Several witnesses testified at a show cause hearing here that directors of the company bought stock at one dollar a share and sold it to the public through brokers at much higher prices. An insurance commission examiner said the company issued policies with a face value of $1,044,000 but did not receive any premiums.

Attorneys for the firm denied the allegations. They claimed the firm would be solvent provided a contract was dissolved whereby Physicians Life reinsured policies issued by the now-defunct American Atlas Insurance Co. An attempt was made to delay state action on the receivership until a CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—Michel Golden of Los Angeles is persistent.

He floundered about 30 miles in four days as he tried to sail or drift a rubber raft from Galveston to Brownsville. But then he hitched a ride behind the tug Joyce and sped down the inter-coastal canal almost 100 miles.

He was turned loose near Port O'Connor Monday night, with a long way to go.
Crewmen aboard the tug said Golden had food and water and was in good condition. They said he apparently still intended to try for Brownsville in his six-man raft.

"Sure it's Big Spring's best-tasting milk!"

"I ought to know because together with other farm neighbors of yours... I produce it. We know that Borden's Milk is good because we have to measure up to standards even higher than the law demands. That's Borden's quality control. It assures a milk rich in cream, rich in flavor—a premium quality milk we're all mighty proud to produce. Try Borden's Milk yourself—see if you don't agree it's the best-tasting milk in town!"

Ike's Old Friend, Zhukov, May Make Visit To Capital

WASHINGTON (AP)—A visit to Washington by President Eisenhower's old friend, Soviet Defense Minister Georgi Zhukov, appeared today to be a distinct possibility. Eisenhower, himself, said yesterday that talks with Zhukov might serve a useful purpose in improving Soviet-American relations and easing world tensions. The Soviet Embassy reflects in one comment, at least, a generally favorable attitude, and several U.S. Senators of both parties said they thought it would be a good idea. U.S. officials said, however, that so far no steps have been taken to make even preliminary arrangements for such a visit and they were not sure when it ever might be initiated. How the possibility of a meeting works out may well depend on the formal reaction in Moscow to what Eisenhower said at a news conference yesterday. If Zhukov or his associates in the ruling group of the Soviet Communist party indicate an interest in following up the President's friendly attitude toward a talk, then events could move fairly fast. If Moscow seems cool toward the idea in contacts with U.S. diplomats there—or perhaps contacts between the embassy and the State Department here—then the whole idea may die quietly. In Moscow, the Soviet agency Tass reported Eisenhower's statements in a brief dispatch notable for the lack of any trace of comment or criticism. A possible complication in the picture is the state of politics and personal relationships and motives within the Communist party Presidium. Party Boss Nikita Khrushchev said in a news conference at Helsinki a little more than a month ago that he would like to visit the United States but had never been invited. Khrushchev might want to be counted in on any mission involving Zhukov and that presumably could create complications. Eisenhower was asked several questions about Zhukov at his news conference yesterday. He recalled that he had known the Soviet marshal well when he and Zhukov were commanders of the victorious Allied and Soviet forces in Berlin at the end of World War II. He said that at one time "Marshal Zhukov and I operated together very closely." He characterized the Soviet military leader as a "confirmed Communist" and "an honest man."

Few Scattered Showers In Texas Forecast

By The Associated Press
The Weather Bureau said Thursday a few scattered showers were in store for Texas. The only rain reported Wednesday was .18 of an inch at Galveston. Temperatures ran from 83 degrees at Palacios to 71 at Salt Flat at dawn Thursday. Highs Wednesday ranged from 105 at Presidio to 85 at Kingsville. The Weather Bureau said hot weather with isolated thunder-showers would continue four days at least. Most of the Southwest remained hot and humid today and there was a warming trend in the Northeast but fairly cool weather prevailed in most Western sections of the country. Wide areas of precipitation were reported near and ahead of the cool air from western North Dakota south and southwestward through the Central and Southern Rockies. Locally severe storms lashed areas in North Dakota. Scattered showers and thunderstorms also hit the southeast quarter of the country during the night. Two sisters were killed by lightning in a storm which struck Knoxville, Tenn. A severe thunderstorm was reported at Clarksville, Tenn. one of the heaviest rainfalls was at Greensboro, N. C., measuring 1.64 inches. The cool air over the Northwest spread southeastward, cooling the Central Rockies and plateau region. Temperatures were mostly in the 60s in Western areas except in the desert region where they were in the 80s. Readings also were mostly in the 60s from the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley eastward to the Atlantic coast but warm and humid air headed into most of the Northeast. Clear skies also were indicated in the Far West. Widely scattered showers were the outlook in most other sections of the country. Showers brought a little cooling to some hot spots in the far South yesterday but 100-degree readings and higher were reported in many areas. Top mark was 112 at El Centro, Calif.

Major Can't Take All His 'Family'

LAWTON, Okla., July 18 (AP)—Major George R. Post says he simply can't take all of his "family" along when he transfers next month from nearby Ft. Sill to an Army base in Germany. For there are far more pets than people in the Post family. The couple, along with sons, George, 13, and Robert, 8, share their home with 71 birds and animals. Maj. Post said he hopes to take a South American honey bear called Kinky and a French poodle to Germany. But he's busy these days arranging to "board out" the other pets — two poodles, two rabbits, three cats, two Java temple birds and 60 canaries and parakeets.

Anti-Reds Nabbed
BUDAPEST (AP)—Police say three members of the anti-government underground who escaped from prison last Thursday have been recaptured. The three are under death sentences for slaying a police major.

Bomber Crashes Near Dyess AFB
ABILENE (AP)—A B47 Stratofortress bomber crashed into a creek, exploded and burned last night, killing its four crewmen. The fire was visible 15 miles away. The ship crashed into Little Elm Creek, south of the runway at Dyess Air Force Base. Air police blocked off roads near the crash scene and refused to allow reporters into the area. Names were withheld. Col. Harry Kellier said the plane was on a training mission.
