Moderates Hold Long Lead In Argentine Vote

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Moderate parties scored a dramatic election victory yesterday for caretaker President Pedro Aramburu in his drive to reform Argentina's constitution.

With more than 7 1/2 million votes counted, pro-reform parties held a two to one lead in the popular vote and appeared headed for a combined working majority in a new 205-member constituent assembly.

Unofficial calculations thus far in the complicated proportional representation system gave the pro-reformists at least 75 seats to the anti-reformists 35. The faction with at least 103 seats will control election since Juan Peron's overthrow in September 1955.

Nationalist Arturo Frondizi's left-wing radicals trailed Balbin by almost 250,000 votes. Frondizi, the only announced candidate for president, pleaded for Peronists to vote for his party.

The Communists, who had their own ideas about reforming the government, received about 207,000 popular votes, far more than they received in previous elections.

Group Branded Pro-Communist

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Subversive Activities Control Board today branded the Civil Rights Congress as a front of the U. S. Communist party.

The board directed the CRC to register with the attorney general, list its officers and give a financial accounting annually.

Actual registration, however, is a long way off. The CRC has the right under the 1950 Subversive Activities Control Act to carry the case to the courts. The Supreme Court has never ruled on the constitutionality of the law.

The board said the CRC "is operated under the management, direction, and supervision of persons who are predominantly members and functionaries of the Communist Party."

In January, 1956, William L. Latterson, executive secretary of the CRC, filed an affidavit with the board contending the organization had been dissolved.

The board said, however, that "the purported dissolution of CRC is not such that the probability of continued activity in this field is to be discounted."

In another ruling today, the board likewise held the American Peace Crusade to be a Communist front organization, and directed it to register.

Stork For Gina

A dark-haired baby born to Gina Lollobrigida looks just like the famous film beauty's doctor husband, she says. The six-pound, 11-ounce boy was born yesterday four hours after Dr. Milko Skofic rushed his wife out of their Appian Way villa to a clinic.

BENDIX TROPHY WINNER

Jet Ace Nearly Runs Out Of Fuel

WASHINGTON (AP)—Jet ace Kenneth D. Chandler won the Bendix Air Race yesterday with a record speed performance—but he almost ran out of fuel at the end. Piloting a Convair F102 interceptor, Air Force Capt. Chandler averaged 679 miles an hour in flying the 620 miles from Chicago's O'Hare Field to Andrews Air Force Base in nearby Maryland. Elapsed time of the flight was 54 minutes 45.3 seconds.

Chandler bested five other Air Force pilots, all of whom flew delta-wing F102s. Chandler's record was 13 miles an hour faster than the former market set last year by Maj. Manuel (Pete) Fernandez.

Chandler, a 33-year-old Korean War veteran from Compton, Calif., and Duluth, Minn., took on a minimum fuel supply to hold down his plane's weight.

"My engine flamed out for lack of fuel as I taxied down the runway after the landing," he said. He estimated his plane flew faster than the speed of sound for "about half the way."

The Bendix race was one of the first events of a celebration marking the 50th anniversary of the U.S. Air Force. The celebration is sponsored by the Air Force Assn. and is scheduled to run for several days. The actual anniversary date is Aug. 1.

Another feature of the air show was the Ricks Memorial Race, won by Maj. Peter R. Phillip, 35, Pittsburgh, Phillip, a Pennsylvania Air National Guard pilot, flew a Republic F4F jet fighter the 2,500 miles from Fresno, Calif., to the Andrews base at an average speed of 638 miles an hour. The flight took 4 hours 13 minutes 40 seconds.

More than 75,000 persons who attended the air show saw the first public flight of the Ryan X13 vertijet, an experimental plane which takes off and lands vertically, and of the Republic F105 supersonic fighter-bomber.

Pioneer Texas Rancher Dies

MARFA, Tex. (AP)—Thomas Mitchell, a wealthy rancher who was said to have built the first barbed wire fence west of the Pecos River, died today. He was 91.

Mitchell had lived in this vicinity since moving to Presidio County with his family in 1885 to establish ranching and other interests. He also was credited with building the first stock tank to conserve water for cattle in the country.

For a number of years he was associated with his late brothers, Arthur and W. B. Mitchell, in far West Texas business enterprises. His widow and three of their six children survive. All live in Marfa.

Services will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow. Mitchell was one of the first stockman to encourage the breeding of graded cattle and was a former president of the Highland Hereford Assn.

3 Suspects Held In Connection With Burglaries

Police officers and sheriff's deputies rounded up three suspects in connection with a pair of burglaries here over the weekend.

The three were being questioned at noon today, and two of them signed statements confessing to one of the burglaries, Police Detective Leo Hull said. The third has just been picked up at noon.

Burglarized were the Bud Green Grocery, 1000 11th, and Staggs Auto Supply, 415 E. 3rd. Taken from the grocery was about $93 in change and a filing cabinet, and about $85 was taken from an open safe at the auto supply.

At both places, burglars entered a window at the rear. Local authorities picked up two of the suspects about 10 a.m., and then the third was arrested by the juvenile officer A. E. Long shortly before noon. Two of the three are juveniles, 14 and 16, and the third is an airman from Webb.

While police officers were investigating the two burglaries, they got a call that two persons were burning a desk out on the Moss Creek road. The person who called said he recognized one of the two. As a result, the juvenile was arrested and the airman was located downtown.

It turned out they were burning the filing cabinet which was taken from Green's.

The police recovered $66.50 in the 16-year-old. It was in rolled change, and $10 was taken from the other juvenile.

In the written statements, Hull said the two admitted burglarizing the grocery but denied any connection with the Staggs job.

Hull said that all the money taken from Staggs was in bills and no bills were recovered this morning.

STAGGS HAS BURGLAR JINX

Charlie Staggs is jinxed. Everywhere he goes, he is the victim of burglaries and thefts.

1. A few months ago while his new house was under construction, burglars stole a new air-conditioner and a lawn mower there.

2. When he moved into the new house, burglars broke into the old house and stole the water pumps out of two air-conditioners.

3. On several occasions, ice delivered to his business, Staggs Auto Parts, 415 E. 3rd, has been stolen.

And now, the store was burglarized over the weekend of about $85. The money was taken from an open safe.

Staggs has one comment. "Why don't you burglars pick on someone else for a change."

'Ready' For Vote On Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said today supporters of the administration's civil rights bill are gaining strength in their efforts to ward off a jury trial amendment.

Knowland, the Senate Republican Leader, said some additional Democrats and Republicans lined up over the weekend in opposition to any such amendment.

Predicting defeat of the amendment, he told newsmen the coalition of the bill's supporters he heads is ready for a vote any time.

Knowland disputed contentions that if the jury trial provision is defeated it will be more difficult to get final Senate action on the House-passed bill. He said that if there is to be a Southern filibuster against passage of the bill with strong enforcement provisions to protect voting rights, he is ready to meet it.

On the other side, Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.) came out for a jury trial amendment although he voted against Southern opponents of the bill on other phases of the battle. Jackson announced his stand in a prepared Senate speech in which he said he was unwilling to "endanger one civil right to guard another."

Sen. Javits (R-N.Y.), also in a prepared speech, made a "retreat no more" appeal for a firm stand against the jury trial amendment.

One of the arguments advanced for a jury trial amendment is that it would facilitate passage of the bill—that Southern foes of the bill might decide against waging any prolonged fight against it.

Knowland said he does not anticipate any further statement by President Eisenhower on the terms of the bill.

The jury trial issue springs from the authority the bill would confer on the attorney general to obtain federal court injunctions against violations or threatened violations of the right to vote.

Under present law, defendants in contempt of court cases growing out of injunctions obtained by the government are not entitled to a jury trial.

An amendment offered by Senators O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), Kefauver (D-Tenn.) and Church (D-Idaho) would provide for jury trials in all criminal contempt cases—whether they involve civil rights, labor disputes or anything else and regardless of whether the government is a party to the proceedings.

Criminal contempt proceedings are designed to punish a person for willful disobedience of an injunction or other court order. The maximum penalty under the amendment would be a $1,000 fine or six months in jail, or both.

In civil contempt cases, aimed only at obtaining compliance with a court order, no jury trial would be provided. If a person were sent to jail, he could purge himself of contempt and go free at any time by agreeing to comply with the court's order.

Search Causes Own Daughter's Death

KINCARDINE, Ont. (AP)—Burton Collins became worried when his daughter was late arriving home on her bicycle last night. He decided to go looking for her in his car. A short distance along the highway his car crashed into a bicycle which didn't have a light. He had killed his daughter, Mary Lou, 9.

Suspect Released In Hobbs Slayings

AMARILLO (AP)—Police today released an Idaho ex-convict after questioning him the past two days about the roadside slayings of a trucker and two women near Hobbs, N.M.

Detective Willis Walker said a check verified statements by the man, Lewis Tolman, 29, Pocatello, Idaho, that he was in Idaho at the time. The triple shooting occurred early last Tuesday.

Tolman had been held without charge after officers discovered a bloody shirt and some .22 rifle cartridges in his car.

Patrol Sgt. A. M. Stoneking said Tolman told officers he had been convicted of passing worthless checks in Idaho and was on probation.

Stoneking said the man was arrested Saturday by Sheriff Gibson, both 22, of Hobbs, were found alongside the highway near that New Mexico town last Tuesday.

car, two discharged .22 caliber cartridges and a number of undischarged .22 caliber bullets and some target sheets. He said several items of women's jewelry and some traffic tickets from Idaho and Colorado also were found in the man's possession.

Walker said the man told officers he used the shells in target practice, that the blood on the shirt was from a bloody nose he suffered and that the jewelry belonged to a girl friend.

Stoneking said some of the live and discharged .22 caliber bullets had been sent to Hobbs authorities at their request for ballistics tests. He said the only weapon found in the vehicle was a knife.

The bodies of J. D. Cantrell, 27, Carlsbad, N.M., and two unidentified, Mrs. Barbara Lemons and Mrs. Dorothy Gibson, both 22, of Hobbs, were found alongside the highway near that New Mexico town last Tuesday.

TECH OUSTER

Watkins At Ease On Probe Threat

ABILENE (AP)—The regents' chairman of Texas Tech said yesterday he wasn't worried about a proposed investigation into the firing of three professors.

W. D. Watkins said the proposed inquiry by the Southern Assn. of Colleges does not "alarm me a great deal." The college president, Dr. E. N. Jones, said earlier such an investigation could lead to loss of Tech's accreditation by the association.

"For four days I've worked on this thing trying to quiet it down," Watkins said. "We tried to find an amicable solution. We couldn't, so we issued a statement on the authority of the board saying, we considered the matter closed."

Watkins was on a vacation July 13 when the Tech regents in executive session voted not to renew the contracts of Drs. Byron Abernethy and Herbert Greenberg and voted to abolish the adult education program headed by Dr. Per Stensland.

Watkins met Saturday with Tech administration and faculty members at which a compromise was proposed. It would have set up a committee to conduct a hearing for the ousted professors.

The plan was abandoned after Watkins polled other board members.

Watkins said the action dismissing Stensland was a matter of economics not associated with the cases of the other two professors. He said a grant from the Ford Foundation was expiring and the college did not feel it could support the adult education program alone.

"There was never anything against Dr. Stensland character-wise or otherwise out of line," Watkins said.

He declined to comment when asked why the others were fired.

Anderson Takes Over Treasury Post As Humphrey Steps Down

WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert B. Anderson took on the post of secretary of the Treasury today, assured by President Eisenhower that "you'll find here a warm welcome."

Eisenhower's remark after the oath-taking ceremony in the Cabinet room of the White House seemed more a reference to the difficulties of managing the nation's finances in current times than a simple greeting.

To retiring Secretary George M. Humphrey, Eisenhower said: "George, now you're just an ex-bureaucrat."

Eisenhower held a Bible, on which Anderson placed his hand, as Judge Warren Burger of the U.S. Court of Appeals administered the oath to the new Cabinet officer.

Anderson, 47, has been meeting with Treasury officials to prep for the Cabinet post most of the time since Humphrey announced his resignation May 29, effective when his successor was ready to take over.

Humphrey, often called the "strong man" of the Eisenhower Cabinet, was understood to have recommended Anderson as his successor.

Humphrey, 67, is expected to become board chairman of National Steel Corp. He has said the government should not be run by "doddering old men" because "there's no future for the Republican party in that."

His successor has crammed high honors and great responsibilities into his shorter life. Eisenhower picked Anderson to be secretary of the Navy in 1953, then made him deputy secretary of defense.

Born in Burlington, Tex., Anderson was just 31 when he became general manager of a 300-million-dollar cattle, oil, farming and real estate empire, the W. T. Waggoner estate in Texas.

He was a Texas Democrat-for-Eisenhower in 1952, and left the Waggoner estate willingly when the President beckoned him to Washington to become boss of the Navy. Anderson had never been an ordinary seaman, because of a slight limp left over from a polo attack at age 3.

Eisenhower kept him at the Navy post less than a year, then made him deputy secretary of defense—reputedly because Anderson was a man who could avoid controversy.

He left the government in 1955 to become president of Ventures, Ltd., of Toronto, a mining properties holding company at a reported salary of $60,000 a year. Today his pay gets cut to the Cabinet level of $25,000.

Meantime, Anderson has become a registered Republican and a legal resident of Greenwich, Conn. He is said to be Humphrey's own choice to take over the No. 1 job at the Treasury.

For a number of years he was associated with his late brothers, Arthur and W. B. Mitchell, in far West Texas business enterprises. His widow and three of their six children survive. All live in Marfa.

Services will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow. Mitchell was one of the first stockman to encourage the breeding of graded cattle and was a former president of the Highland Hereford Assn.

Portable Acreage For The Colonel

Col. C. M. Young, who is departing for San Antonio to become inspector general of the Air Training Command, beams over 'Young's Acre,' a piece of portable real estate. The presentation was made to remind him and Mrs. Young, who were honored at a reception Saturday evening at the Officers' Club, of their 2 1/2 years in Big Spring. Enjoying the reading of the elaborate warranty deed by Maj. James J. Vogel, right, the legal officer, are Shime Phillips, the unofficial 'inspector' at Webb AFB; Col. Kyle L. Riddle, the executive officer who succeeds Col. Young as wing commander, and Maj. Edward Schliefer, wing adjutant.

Citrus Industry In Gigantic Upheaval

By DICK BIESER
LOS ANGELES, July 29 (AP)—California's fabulous citrus industry, dating back to the 18th century Spanish missions, is in the throes of a gigantic upheaval. Residential subdivisions are moving in on land once devoted solely to orange and lemon groves. Entire citrus districts are disappearing. While the effect of suburban expansion has been great, particularly in inland areas of southern California, a study of the situation shows the industry is countering with some effective alternatives. In recent months, tremendous new plantings have taken place in central California and southern coastal sections—a total of some 19,000 acres of non-bearing trees have been counted. Nursery stock is sold out for several years ahead in almost every county. In addition, new cultural techniques have increased production on a per-acre basis. Other plus factors: new methods for processing; new products and by-products; sustained domestic markets; and the fact export sales last year were the biggest ever. PROMISING OUTLOOK Not only is the outlook for citrus still promising one in this state—fastest growing of the 48—but there is evidence the transition is

Banker Fails In Coverup After Theft, FBI Says

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A banker stole at least $22,600 then shot himself and set fire to the bank records yesterday in a vain attempt to hide his deed, the FBI said. Authorities lodged embezzlement and arson charges against Norman Van Arsdalen, 41, of suburban Springfield, as he lay in St. Agnes Hospital being treated for a superficial gunshot wound of the shoulder. Van Arsdalen, manager of the Marconi Savings and Loan Assn. in South Philadelphia, was found crawling from the bank yesterday morning by a passer-by who saw smoke pouring from the institution. Van Arsdalen told investigators he went to the bank to work on some end-of-the-month statements. He was quoted as saying he was coming up basement stairs in the bank when he was slugged on the head and lost consciousness. When he awoke he saw fire in the vault, crawled to a window and dropped out onto the street. He said he didn't know he had been shot until doctors discovered it. Carl E. Hennrich, agent in charge of the FBI office here, said Van Arsdalen went to the bank Saturday night and removed the money from a vault. He then wrapped it in a package and brought it to the home of friends, Hennrich said, telling them it was a surprise for his wife and asking them to keep it over the weekend. Hennrich said $22,600 was missing and may have been burned in the vault fire. In the vault, investigators found a 22-caliber pistol, partly melted by fire, from which one shot had been fired.

No Trace Of Missing Jet

No trace of a U. S. Air Force F-100 jet, piloted by Lt. Samuel K. Bacon Jr., former Webb student, lost since last Thursday night, has been found as yet, Webb officials said Monday. First Lt. Robert D. Bales, assistant wing flying safety officer, has returned from George AFB at Victorville, Calif., and reported that the search for the missing pilot so far has been fruitless. Lt. Bales flew to George with papers which would be needed in connection with the investigation of the plane's disappearance. Lt. Bacon was one of six F-100 pilots who were at Webb on Thursday on a routine training flight. The planes took off for George late Thursday afternoon. A short time later the other pilots reported that Bacon had become separated from his companions and that they had lost contact with him. This was something between Tucson and Gila Bend, Ariz. Bacon was a graduate of Webb. While here his wife was an employe at the base.

Two Injured Sunday On Moss Creek Road

Two Big Spring women were hospitalized and a third bruised and cut in a car accident at 1:30 a. m. Sunday. In Big Spring hospital are Mrs. Macie McTier, Route 1, and Mrs. Ola Jacobs, 1103 East 4th. A companion was also brought to the hospital after the mishap but was released. Her name was not listed by the hospital. No details on the accident, other than it occurred on the Moss Creek Lake road, were available Monday.

Sheriff Reports A Busy Weekend

Another busy week-end was reported by Miller Harris, sheriff. He said that three persons were arrested for DWI, three for having drunk, three for vagrancy, two for prostitution and one for procuring over Saturday and Sunday. Another man was jailed on a charge of aggravated assault. Most of the defendants had either pleaded guilty to the charges against them or had been released on bond at noon Monday.

Burglars Have Liking For Ham

Sheriff's officers are looking for a burglar who must have been ham hungry. The Bug Packing Company on the Andrews highway reported that their establishment had been raided by burglars either Saturday night or Sunday night. Entrance was gained by forcing a rear door. The plant reported six cured hams, two cooked hams, one canned ham, four boxes of boneless ham, four boxes of sausage and two boxes of cheese missing. Value of the stolen food will run better than $150.

Car Stolen

Police officers are on the lookout for a 1951 Chevrolet stolen here Sunday night. The car was owned by James Davis of Webb. The car was at Webb at the time it was stolen.

Jury Commissioners Draw August Panels

Jury commissioners for the 118th District Court were busy Monday morning drawing names to fill the grand jury and petit jury lists for the August term of the court. Judge Charlie Sullivan has instructed the commissioners to draw 20 names for the grand jury and 240 for petit jury duty. The term opens on August 26. Louis Stallings, Bert Shive, Mrs. Mae Hayden, Manley Cook and Truman Jones are the jury commissioners.

Granted Bond On Check Charges

Nelson Everett Ford, arrested last Friday for writing a number of worthless checks, including one for more than $1,800, has been granted bond in the sum of $3,500. The defendant has not made bond. He is being held in the county jail.

Checking Experiment Station Building

Dr. R. D. Lewis, director of Texas Agricultural Experiment Stations, was at the U.S. Experiment Station here Monday for a general inspection. The photo above shows (left to right) Dr. Lewis, Judd Morrow, agronomist, and Dr. Earl Burnett, director of the local station. Also here for the week is J. W. Arnett of New Orleans, records and management analyst with the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Death Takes Early-Comer To Howard Co.

Jacob Hardy Scoggin, 84, who first came here more than half a century ago, died here at 2:10 a. m. in a hospital Monday. Mr. Scoggin, a retired farmer, had been ill for approximately a month. Funeral has been set for Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the River Chapel with Dr. P. D. O'Brien officiating. Burial will be in the City Cemetery. Mr. Scoggin was a native Texan and was born Sept. 6, 1872. He came to Big Spring first in 1905 and left in 1917 to go to Oklahoma. In 1925 he returned and had resided here continuously since that time. Mrs. Scoggin died in 1920. He was a member of the Seventh Day Adventist congregation. Surviving him are three daughters, Mrs. J. T. Warren, Goldsmith, Mrs. Walter Nichols, Lamesa, Mrs. C. S. Kelly, El Paso; three sons, Everett Scoggin, Big Spring, Jack Scoggin of Arizona, and Dale Scoggin, Odessa. He also leaves seven grand-children, eight great-grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Lula Pollet, Nashville, Ark.; one brother, W. H. Scoggin, Cordell, Okla.

MERCURY BACK TO 100 MARK

Summer in full force returned to Big Spring Sunday. The temperature hit 100 degrees for the first time since July 8. There was little or no breeze to break the heat. Bright blue skies, only the faintest of clouds, marked the sweltering day. A series of cloudy days, several light showers and a cool breeze contributed to keep the temperature below the century mark for the bulk of the week. Prior to July 8, however, the area had endured a long siege of successive days in which the maximum reading was 100 or above.

Humble Completes Spraberry Strike In Northwest Dawson

A new upper Spraberry area was opened northwest of Lamesa with completion of the Humble No. 1 R. E. Britt wildcat. The well is about five and a half miles northwest of Lamesa, and completed during the weekend for a pumping potential of 159 barrels of oil and 33 barrels of water. It was originally a Canyon test, but after finding the horizon barren, operator plugged back and found production in the Spraberry. The hole is bottomed at 10,584 feet but plugged back to 7,447. Perforations are from 7,396-410 feet. Gravity is 38 degrees.

Borden

Lario No. 1-C Collins, a wildcat six miles northeast of Luther, has been plugged and abandoned at a depth of 7,923 feet. It is 662 feet from south and 1,971 feet from east lines, 32-31-3n, T&P Survey.

Martin

Husky No. 1 Mabey, wildcat a mile and a half northwest of the Breedlove field, made hole today at 3,143 feet in anhydrite and salt. Location is 660 feet from south and west lines, Tract 92, League 258, Briscoe CSL Survey.

Dawson

Cosden-Caraway No. 1 Worthan progressed to 8,920 feet in lime. It is 660 feet from south and 4,112 feet from east lines, 2-3, D. L. Cunningham Survey, and about nine miles northwest of Lamesa. Humble No. 1 R. E. Britt pumped 159 barrels of oil and 33 barrels of water in 24 hours as an upper Spraberry discovery. The well is 660 feet from north and west lines, Labor 16, League 3, Taylor CSL Survey, and five and a half miles northwest of Lamesa.

Parked Car Victim Of Hit-And-Run

A total of six accidents occurred in Big Spring over the weekend, including a hit-and-run. Involved in a hit-and-run accident was a 1951 Ford owned by Mrs. Christine Schaefer, 113 Frazier. The car was hit while parked at Newsum's Grocery, 500 W. 3rd, Sunday. Karen Montgomery, 1406 E. 14th, and Hugh Merworth, 111 Main, were owners of cars in an accident at 708 Main Sunday. Police officers said the Merworth car was parked at the time. At Fourth St. and Broadway, Bobby Mackey, Webb AFB, and Manuel Sapata, Gothenburg, Neb., were in an accident. Saturday, Robert Kountz, 202 Washington, and George Simpson, 1713 Harvard, were drivers of cars colliding at the corner of Rosemont and Stadium. Billy Patterson, 503 Bell, and Edgar Patton, 1514 Stadium, collided in the 2100 block of Gregg also Saturday. Chester Nixon, Abilene, and Abren Martinez, 508 N. Douglas, were in collision in the 300 block of Northeast Third Saturday night.

Woman Claims Man Robbed Her Of $50

A young Negro is wanted for allegedly taking $50 from a Negro woman at gunpoint here Sunday. The woman, Willie Chatham, 306 NW 4th, told police officers the Negro man looked to be about 23. He was armed with a 22-caliber revolver, she said. The woman said the $50 included five silver dollars. A warrant for the man's arrest was issued, and police officers had word that he left Big Spring on an eastbound freight during the night.

Printers Leave On Ocean Voyage

HOUSTON (AP)—Two Austin men left today on the first leg of a motorboat trip they hope will take them to New York, Henry Barnhouse, 38, and W. L. Cloud, 50, both linotypers workers on the Austin American-Statesman, said they expect to reach New York Aug. 4. Their 17-foot fiberglass boat was equipped with radio and food stores.

CTC Recommends Street Widening

Recommendations for widening one street physically and expediting traffic on another by parallel parking will go from the Citizens Traffic Commission to the City Commission. The CTC, at its Friday evening session, proposed the addition of six feet on the west side of Gregg Street from 4th to 3rd. It also proposed that parallel parking be instituted on Scurry in the 600 block to lessen traffic congestion during times of funerals at the River Chapel. The CTC, through its enforcement committee, also suggested greater use of the radar equipment in curtailing excessively fast driving.

Old Spot's Home Takes A Powder

A doghouse minus the dog was stolen here over the weekend. Dr. T. M. Collins said a dog house with the word Spot painted on it was taken from the yard at 906 Scurry over the weekend. Police didn't know if there was a "Spot". Also reported missing was gasoline from a car at the 1008 Nolan residence of Mrs. W. F. Mason. Two wheel disk covers were stolen from the 1955 Ford belonging to E. T. Reynolds, 803 E. 12th. Reynolds said the car was parked at the Clover Bowl Sunday night at the time of the theft.

Presbyterians Map $175,000 Expansion

Members of the First Presbyterian congregation Sunday voted to undertake a $175,000 expansion program. The action followed extensive discussion at a special congregational meeting called at the close of the morning worship services. Result of the decision was to name a finance committee with authority to plan for an early in-stance campaign. No decision was reached as to construction details or location. This action will be taken at a time $87,500 has been raised in cash and an architect is employed. The finance committee, announced following a joint meeting of the elders and deacons Sunday afternoon, consists of Tom Guin, chairman; Dr. J. M. Woodall,

Cosden Names New Landman

Billy Joe Moore has been announced as head of the Cosden Petroleum Corporation land division and as manager of the Midland exploration office. Marvin M. Miller, senior vice president for Cosden, made the announcement. Moore, 31, is a veteran of 13 years with the Texas & Pacific Coal and Oil Company, having served in West Central Texas, the Rocky Mountain area, and the general office in Fort Worth. Since 1951, he has been division landman for Texas Pacific with headquarters at Midland. He is a native of Ranger, and a graduate of Eastland High School. He holds membership in the American Association of Petroleum Landmen, Permian Basin Landmen's Association, Abilene Petroleum Club, and the Midland Country Club.

'Bandit' Lacks Motherly Love

PASSAIC, N.J. (AP)—Police say the mild-mannered youth they have tabbed the "Kissing Bandit" might have been lacking in motherly love. Stephen Gregich, 19, was charged yesterday with entering homes in his neighborhood and stealing or trying to steal kisses from women. Detective Capt. Victor Jaffe said Gregich was sent to an orphanage in Albany, N.Y., when he was 3. In his early teens, he worked for his stepfather in a gas station. Dr. Lloyd Morrow, a psychiatrist here, in discussing the case with Jaffe, said a yearning for mother love might have sent the youth prowling in search of his strange fulfillment. Jaffe said Gregich has confessed to seven such acts after a day and night grilling since he was picked up Saturday. Gregich faces a hearing today on the seven charges of assault and of breaking and entering.

Weekend Sees Grim Story Of Wholesale Death Over Nation

By The Associated Press
A head-on collision on a sunny Texas highway... a fiery smash-up near a New York summer resort... a capsized boat on Puget Sound... a car in a muddy Virginia pond... plane crashes in Florida and Maine.

So went the grim story of wholesale death and multiple disaster across the nation over the weekend. Thirty-six men, women and children died. Whole families were wiped out.

The worst accident came on a straight stretch of highway near Kenedy, Tex., on a sunny Saturday afternoon. A head-on collision of two cars claimed nine lives. The dead included five members of a single family.

An outing on the wind-whipped waters of Puget Sound in Washington turned to tragedy for two Seattle families Saturday. Four adults and four children drowned when their small outboard motorboat capsized off Oak Harbor.

Six more persons drowned near Fredericksburg, Va., yesterday when their car veered off the highway and plunged into the muddy waters of a roadside millpond. One occupant of the car escaped.

Six young people perished in a flaming, two-car crash early yesterday near the summer resort of Sylvan Beach, N.Y. The dead included three members of one family. A 19-year-old girl was the only survivor.

Four persons died yesterday when their private plane plummeted into woods on the Eglin Air Force Base reservation about 40 miles east of Pensacola, Fla.

Another plane crash took three lives in the remote northern Maine community of Allagash. The private plane cracked up while landing at a small airstrip.

Dead in the six accidents were: Kenedy, Tex.—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Moas, 37 and 34, Ingleside, Tex.; Leslie Moas, 5; the Moas' 2-year-old daughter; and Mrs. Moas' son, James Lee Michale Acron, 15. Dead in the other car—all from San Antonio—were Marvin Hardy, 31; Beatrice Hardy, 41; Joe Barrientes, 66; and Jesus Jimenez, 57.

Oak Harbor, Wash.—Mrs. Adeline Johnson, 33; her son Wade Acron, 6; Mrs. Rosalyn Gudmundson, 40; V.A. Johnson, 45; Lawrence Gudmundson, 50; Kenneth Gudmundson, 16; Dennis Gudmundson, 12; and Linda Gudmundson, 4½.

Fredericksburg, Va.—Samuel Christian, 32; Helen Marie Christian, 7; Prince Purcell, 53; Mrs. Bobbie Purcell, about 50; Lonnie Purcell, 19; Arnold Junior Murray, 21, all of Fayetteville, N.C.

Sylvan Beach, N.Y.—Lynden Vredenburg, 26, Oriskany; Danny Danielski, 20, McConnellsville; Barbara Jean Loomis, 17, Bloomsdale; and her brothers Wesley, 25, Oneida; and Lauren, 20, Blossvale; and Mrs. Dorris Damore, 24, Oneida.

Pensacola, Fla.—T. Frank Williams, Fort Walton Beach, Fla., the pilot, and three others not immediately identified.

Allagash, Maine—Clement Queltette, 37, the pilot; and Mr. and Mrs. Felix Morin, all of St. Francis, Maine.

Humid Weather Is U. S. Outlook

The Associated Press
Hot and humid weather, with showers and thunderstorms, was the outlook for broad sections of the country today.

No general rain was in sight for the drought-stricken sections in the Northeast, where damage to crops was estimated in the millions.

Showers and thunderstorms continued during the night in the middle Mississippi Valley with heavy rainfall in southeast Iowa and northeast Missouri. Falls measured nearly 2 inches in 2 hours in Knoxville, Iowa.

In the belt of showers yesterday along the Atlantic coastal plains, there was some clearing during the night. However, thundershowers sprinkled areas in Florida, the eastern Gulf Coast and parts of New England.

Nation's Traffic Deaths 2 Per-Cent Below Last Year

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's traffic deaths in the first six months of this year were 17,620, a decrease of 2 per cent compared with the first half of 1956, the National Safety Council said today.

The council said there were 18,020 deaths on the highways in the first six months of last year.

Ned H. Dearborn, council president, said the drop cannot be attributed to less travel.

"The latest available mileage figures," he said, "show highway travel was up 5 per cent over last year."

"We must conclude, therefore, that the improvement is due to better traffic behavior and to more vigorous and effective enforcement of traffic laws by public officials and traffic officers," Dearborn said.

He predicted a total 1,000 lives could be "saved" this year with the continued "all-out effort of every American in private or public capacity."

The council said 25 of the 47 states reporting had a decrease in fatalities for the first half-year. There were increases in 21 others and one state reported no change.

There were no traffic deaths reported during the six months in at least 205 of America's cities. The council identified the largest of these as Lynn, Mass.; Mount Vernon, N.Y.; and Racine, Wis.

Principal cities in a group of 434 reporting perfect records in June were Minneapolis, Oklahoma City and Norfolk, Va.

Thumb Caught

DETROIT (AP)—Roy E. DuBrul grabbed the taxicab door handle and jabbed his thumb to release the plunger and open the door.

But there was no latch button and DuBrul's thumb got stuck. Police and firemen required 45 minutes to take the door panel apart and work DuBrul's thumb free. He was treated at a hospital.

Reds Pass Rumors In Guatemala Crisis

GUATEMALA (AP)—The minister of defense has warned that Communists are spreading rumors in an effort to create unrest after the assassination of President Carlos Castillo Armas.

Col. Francisco Oliva, virtual ruler of the country during a 30-day state of siege declared after Castillo Armas was shot down Friday night, called yesterday for citizens to report any Red activity.

The army reported the country calm and warned it would "repress drastically any subversive outbreak."

A government spokesman said several "suspected accomplices" had been arrested for questioning about the assassination by a palace guard whom officials identified as a militant Communist.

Castillo's funeral will be held tomorrow. President Eisenhower sent his son John, an Army major, to represent him.

ernment reins. Col. Ramiro Gera-da Asturias, the army press chief, said the army "is united and will remain united behind the constitutional government" of Acting President Gonzalez.

The state of siege might delay national elections scheduled for November. Prominently mentioned as presidential candidates are Oliva and Col. Jose Luis Cruz-Salazar, ambassador to Washington.

Over the weekend thousands streamed by the pier to pay their respects to the fallen President who led a revolution three years ago to oust a Communist-tinged government. Officials estimated that more than 200,000 viewed the body.

The guard, Romero Sanchez, Vasquez, 24, was trapped shortly after the killing and shot himself to death. Officials showed reporters a diary in which Sanchez said he entered the presidential guard two months ago to kill Castillo and "martyr" himself.

Castillo's funeral will be held tomorrow. President Eisenhower sent his son John, an Army major, to represent him.

Egypt Plotters May Face Death

CAIRO (AP)—The 14 persons charged with plotting to assassinate President Nasser and seize the government face death by hanging or life imprisonment if convicted.

The Middle East News Agency yesterday published the indictment against the group and said a high military court would try them. The announcement did not fix a date, but press forecasts are for early August.

Arrests of the group were disclosed July 18. It includes former Foreign Minister Mohamed Salah el Din and former Defense and Social Affairs Minister Abdel Fattah Hassan.

Three other civilians and nine army officers were charged with conspiring with the two between April 1956 and last April to change Egypt's constitution and government system.

They planned to assassinate Nasser and his ministers, the indictment said, then set up a new government headed by Salah el Din. Last May was allegedly the time for the coup but the group was arrested in April.

Texas Violent Death Toll 21

By The Associated Press
One of the bloodiest highway accidents in Texas history killed nine persons over the weekend, grimly highlighting the weekend's violent death toll of 21 victims.

Traffic claimed 13 lives, 7 persons drowned and a shooting killed 1. The nine-fatality accident occurred Saturday near Kenedy. It wiped out the five members of the Henry Moas family of Ingleside. The victims were Moas, 37; his wife, 34; Mrs. Moas' son, James Acron, 15; a daughter, Leslie, and a daughter, 2. Dead in the other car were Marvin Hardy, 31; Beatrice Hardy, 41; Joe Barrientes, 66; and Jesus Jimenez, 57, all of San Antonio.

Deaths Sunday included: Terry Clap, 19 months, drowned at Lake Worth. Mrs. Essie McGuire, 20, of Houston, drowned in a lake between Houston and Conroe. Ernest Flores, 13, Wichita Falls, drowned Saturday night while swimming in a public pool.

Moas Car Out For Road Test

KENEDY, Tex. (AP)—The Henry Moas family, riding in their new car, were giving it a good road test en route to visit relatives and they became victims of one of Texas' worst auto accidents.

The entire family died after a grinding two-car collision near here Saturday that claimed nine lives.

Leslie Moas, 5, died yesterday, the ninth victim of the accident.

Killed at once were her father, 37, an oil worker at Ingleside; his wife, 34; Mrs. Moas' son, James Acron, 15; and Leslie's sister, 2.

The dead in the other car were Marvin Hardy, 31; Beatrice Hardy, 41; Joe Barrientes, 66; and Jesus Jimenez, 57, all of San Antonio.

Officers said skid marks indicated the cars collided at high speeds.

Fred Jones of Radio KAML said the Hardy car "looked like a huge pair of plier had just taken it in its jaws and crushed it."

Moas' brother-in-law, H. J. Werll of San Antonio, said the car had been bought the previous week and had been driven only 200 miles.

The Moas were en route to Kerrville where James was to take a bus for Ranger to visit his grandmother.

Jones said the family appeared to have been on an outing.

"They were having a lot of fun one minute and the next minute," he said.

A Bible Thought For Today

And I will restore to you the years that the locust hath eaten, the cankerworm, and the caterpillar, and the palmerworm, my great army which I sent among you. (Joel 2:25)

Encouraging The Best To Stay

For generations it has been axiomatic that war takes the flower of any country's youth. This situation is now being pointed up more than ever as the complex machinery of modern war calls for higher and higher skills and intelligence.

fense calls for a high order of intelligence. A man's patriotism may be high, but if the good Lord did not endow him with a reasonably high IQ he becomes a menace not only to himself but to his fellows, and therefore to the country.

Ona Mae McElreath Is Bride Of Steven Hall

Mid-afternoon wedding rites joined in marriage Ona Mae McElreath of Forsan and H. Steven Hall of Pomona, Calif., Sunday. Vows were repeated in Trinity Baptist Church before the pastor, the Rev. L. J. Power.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. H. D. McElreath of Forsan and Mrs. Olga Hall of Pomona.

Dixie Todd, pianist, played selections of traditional nuptial music; she accompanied Billy Ray McElreath, a cousin of the bride, as he sang "I Love You Truly" and "O, Love That Will Not Let Me Go."

Henry J. McElreath, a brother of the bride, gave her in marriage. She was gowned in white embroidered nylon over satin, fashioned with a long torso in princess style.

In the wedding tradition, the bride carried a handkerchief belonging to Mrs. G. W. Overton; she had borrowed the bridal veil; her wedding outfit was new and she wore a blue garter. In her shoe was a penny bearing the date of her birth year.

White carnations were carried on a white Bible in which a favorite verse of the bride was marked by one of the white streamers on the bouquet.

Mrs. Festus McElreath, a sister-in-law of the bride, attended her as matron of honor. Her dress of sky-blue faille was made with low neckline and princess lines over a circular skirt.

For the reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Festus McElreath, the bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of summer flowers and bells of Ireland.

A three-tiered cake, topped with a bridal couple, was served by the hostess, while Mrs. Henry McElreath of Ozona served punch. Mrs. Allon Ditto of Big Spring registered guests.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to Catfina Island, Mrs. Hall was wearing a princess style dress of turquoise. It was trimmed with touches of white, and her accessories were white.

At the end of the trip, the couple will be at home at 367 Lincoln Ave., Pomona, where the bridegroom is employed by Convair Missile Plant.

The bride, who is a graduate of Forsan High School, attended Howard County Junior College. Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. U. W. Wallace and son of Roby; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Roberson and daughters, and Floyd McMurray, all of Odessa, and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maxwell and daughter of Midland.

Joy Lane Mladenka Wed To Houston Man

Joy Lane Mladenka was married in New York City Sunday to Dr. Vernon John Kinross-Wright of Houston. Vows were read by Burton Coffman, Church of Christ minister.

The announcement was made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. John N. Lane, 1604 Nolan. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. John Edwin Wright of London, England.

The bride, who attended Big Spring High School, is a graduate of Forsan High School. She received her collegiate training in Abilene Christian College and TWC. For several years, she has had a woman's program on radio station KXYZ, Houston, and has been commentator for "Fashions In Motion" on a Houston television station.

Dr. Kinross-Wright is associate professor of psychiatry at the Baylor University College of Medicine; chief of the psychiatric service at Jeff Davis Hospital, and associate director of the psychiatric research laboratories at Baylor. He has degrees in medicine from Oxford University and from the University of London.

The couple left immediately after the wedding ceremony for England, where they will spend about three weeks. From there, they will visit several European countries, including Switzerland, where the bridegroom will present three papers at the International Congress of Psychiatry in Zurich.

Continuing a round-the-world trip, the couple will visit Durban, South Africa, where the doctor will present papers at the South African Medical Congress.

The expect to return to Houston in mid-October.

Back From Institute

Mrs. Harold Bentley, Mrs. Bill Bell and Hulan Medley have returned from Norman, Okla., where they attended the cosmology institute, given at the University of Oklahoma during the past week. They received information on the highlights of the national convention and saw previews of fall styles in hairdos and fashions. Lee Self of El Paso was in charge of the institute.

The French Viewpoint

Liliane Montevecchi was born in Paris but came to Hollywood with Roland Petit's ballet and received a contract with a major studio. Recently, on a return to Paris, Liliane and Lydia met for the first time. In today's Hollywood Beauty they discuss extremes in all phases of life. Liliane's next picture is "Sad Sack," with Jerry Lewis, for Paramount.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

The French Gals Like To Be Individualists

By LYDIA LANE
PARIS, France — "The French women give more thought to individuality than the American," Liliane Montevecchi told me, as we sipped an aperitif in the Paris sunshine. "When I first came to Hollywood the men at the studio did not like that I used no lipstick or the way I wore my hair. But I knew what would become of me if I was standardized."

"Where did you learn to speak English so beautifully?" I asked. "When I came to America with Roland Petit's ballet group I knew no English. But after I got my contract I worked hours with a wonderful coach," she explained.

I admired the simple, black dress that Liliane was wearing. "It's a Dior," she said. "He has great talent."

"And a great sense of publicity," I commented. "Yes, but some of his designs are extreme though and shouldn't be bought. But," she added, "the simple dresses are made so beautifully that you can wear them a long time and make them look different."

Liliane spoke of how much she enjoyed doing a picture with Jerry Lewis. "I hated to see 'Sad Sack' finish because I had such a good time," Liliane admitted.

"Life to me is one extreme or another," she went on. "I just don't know how to have more balance. When I'm unhappy I eat too much. I really stuff myself."

"For example the picture I made in Mexico was so boring I didn't have enough to do. It was not a musical and I just sat around with no dancing. When I came home I had gained 25 pounds!" Her big black eyes widened as she said, "I was so ashamed of myself."

"How did you get back to normal?" I asked. "It was hard—very hard," she moaned. "My doctor gave me a diet of six eggs a day, half a grapefruit and a quart of skim milk. And I had vitamins on the side. In three weeks I lost it."

"That's a lot of weight to lose so fast," I remarked. "But you have to choose a diet that goes with your type. I told you I am an extremist and a slow diet would not agree with me."

As we rose to go, a group of men made no effort to conceal their admiration for Liliane's charms. She took this in her stride. "What really counts on a man is sincerity and respect," she told me.

Keep Furnace Pilot On If You Want To

A burning question in millions of U. S. homes every springtime is, "Should the pilot light in our gas furnace or other heating equipment be kept on during the summer?"

The answer, says the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, is, "By all means, yes!" It will pay dividends in comfort and savings.

The comfort pay-off comes in the fall at the first sign of cold weather. That's the time when so many people want their pilots relighted that it's almost impossible to pay prompt attention to all service calls.

On the other hand, if your pilot has been burning year round, all you do is turn up your thermostat and the quick comfort of heat is yours.

The cost of keeping the pilot on all the time is hardly noticeable in your bill, a fact that's appreciated in many communities where, more than 70 per cent of all heating customers on the gas companies' lines keep their heater pilots lighted throughout the summer months.

Girls Make Like Pilots To Study Air Traffic

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Administration employs an unusual group of 20 or more imitation airplane pilots as its Technical Development Center here.

The "pilots" operate blips upon a radar screen, which represent airplanes flying in the area of a congested airport.

All the make-believe pilots are women. And they work at the modest rate of $1.64 an hour.

The CAA recruits for this work the wives, sweethearts and acquaintances of the men employed at the center. With their help, the CAA is able to simulate air traffic conditions at any airport, adjust procedures, move airway aids and try out new methods to improve safety.

The women have charge of 18 projectors which throw blips of light on a screen. The moving dots of light represent airplanes approaching or leaving.

Also on that screen is a map of the airport area being studied.

Both the map and the moving light symbols are televised onto radar screens in an adjoining room which represents an airport "control tower" with its air traffic control experts.

CAA technicians have developed the projectors so that they can simulate the performance of any kind of airplane, from a Cub to a jet fighter. The system has built-in "wind drift," The climbing and descending rates, turning radius, speed and other performance characteristics of any plane can be pre-set.

The women pilots talk through headsets and microphones with the controllers in the make-believe control tower, exactly as though they were real pilots in airplanes approaching the control point.

"It would be tremendously expensive to study actual conditions around an operating airport, so the CAA does it in Indianapolis without ever flying a real plane," a CAA spokesman explained.

"It would also be expensive to have full time employees sitting around waiting to 'make like pilots' while the engineers cut and try new ideas in traffic control."

"So the CAA recruited the women. They spend a few or many hours at the center, as circumstances may require, and go home when their flying is done.

Like real-life pilots, the CAA airwomen have a ready room. There they catch up on their sock-darning, knitting and reading when they are not "in the air."

New Soap Said To Add Life To Hosiery

Ask any man and he'll tell you that among the scenic wonders of the world there's no prettier sight than a well-rounded pair of legs encased in sheer stockings. But delicate, sheer hosiery can raise havoc in the budget department, particularly when its longevity is threatened by any number of dangers.

Washing presents one of the major problems especially when there's elastic in your stockings. Hot water is a deadly enemy of elastic and once resiliency is lost it is virtually impossible to preserve a proper fit.

A new cold water soap provides just the answer to this problem. It was designed primarily for elasticized garments and works wonders with any kind of hosiery.

Here are its simple washing instructions:

1. Add one capful of the soap to a sink full of water.
2. Gently squeeze suds through stockings.
3. Rinse thoroughly in cold water.
4. Roll stockings in an absorbent towel to remove all excess water.
5. Never dry in sunlight or with direct heat.

Grappling To Save A Life

Rescuers struggle with Julie Ramos, in plaid shirt, 20-year-old lovesick youth from Camden, N. J., to keep him from jumping from the Brooklyn end of Manhattan Bridge in New York City. At right is Dominick Patella, and in background is Edward Elazat, head showing, two bridge ironworkers who kept Ramos in a wandering conversation for 40 minutes before they were able to distract his attention and pull him to safety with the aid of a policeman. According to police, Ramos said his girl has left him and he didn't want to live. He was taken to a Brooklyn hospital for observation.

Stabilization Pays Off On City Streets

Stabilization — the city's method of saving unpaved streets from extensive washing — is paying off in maintenance costs and better streets, city officials reported. The process was initiated about two years ago, and streets initially stabilized are still in comparatively good shape. H. W. Whitney, city manager, said. Stabilization is mixing asphalt with street soil, principally. First the city will level a street and then add a layer of asphalt. A disk machine will follow and cut the asphalt into the dirt. Later, the street is again leveled with a maintainer which is added help in mixing the asphalt with the soil. Finally, the street is rolled into final shape to remove any rough spots and also to pack the covering. This dirt-asphalt surface then is about three or four inches thick and is hard enough to withstand traffic wear and still not absorb water. When the city started the experiment here about two years ago, the first streets worked were ones which carried the largest amounts of water during heavy, hard rains. These were principally north-south streets on the Northside and on Goodland south of 13th. Although no hard rains fell in the

Allies Pledge No Arms Pact To Hurt Reich

BERLIN (AP)—The United States, Britain and France pledged today they will not sign any disarmament agreement that would "prejudice the reunification of Germany."

A declaration signed by the ambassadors of the Western Big Three and West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano stated that Germany can be reunified only after free elections are held in both parts of the country split by the Iron Curtain.

The declaration was made just seven weeks before the crucial West German parliamentary elections Sept. 15. In the campaign the opposition Socialists have charged that Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is ruining any chance of Soviet agreement to reunification by keeping West Germany in the North Atlantic Alliance.

The declaration rejected any idea of imposed neutrality or demilitarization for a reunified Germany. It promised that the reunited country would be free to decide its own military policy. It said it would be up to the German people, "through their freely elected government," to decide whether their reborn nation should join the North Atlantic Alliance.

The Western Powers promised that if a reunified Germany should plump for the Western alliance, they would offer the Soviet Union a European security pact "of significant and far-reaching character." The West has rejected previous Soviet proposals for an all-European security pact, contending that this would be unrealistic and unworkable unless preceded by settlements of such major East-West issues as the division of Germany.

One of the key questions in the West German election campaign is whether the Allies are planning a disarmament agreement with Russia that might leave Germany divided for years to come. The declaration said flatly: "The Western Powers do not intend to enter into any agreement on disarmament which would prejudice the reunification of Germany."

It said German reunification, accompanied by conclusion of European security arrangements, would facilitate the achievement of a comprehensive disarmament agreement.

"Conversely," it went on, "if a beginning could be made toward effective measures of partial disarmament, this would contribute to the settlement of outstanding major political problems such as the reunification of Germany."

The declaration again rejected the Soviet contention that Germany should be reunified through discussions between the West German and the Communist East German governments. The latter regime is not recognized by the Allies.

Allied sources in Berlin said the declaration was designed to take the edge off any propaganda campaign which Soviet party chief Nikita Khrushchev and Premier Bulganin might set off during their visit to East Germany next month.

Ex-Convict Denies Woodland Stabbing

BROCKTON, Mass. (AP)—Raymond F. Ohlson, a sallow-faced, 20-year-old convicted sex offender, pleaded innocent today to two charges of murder in the woodlands stabbing of two young brothers last Friday.

Ohlson was held without bond by Associate Justice Maurice J. Murphy in Brockton District Court. Murphy ordered a continuance to Aug. 8.

The slightly built Ohlson was charged with the deaths of John Logan, 12, and his brother, Edward, 11, by stabbing them repeatedly after marching them at knife point into the woods from a public pond.

Ohlson, wearing gray trousers and an open-collared light shirt, was handcuffed between two police officers during the 10-minute arraignment. He was taken back to Brockton jail after the proceedings to await transfer to the Plymouth County jail at nearby Plymouth.

Ohlson was released from Concord Reformatory only seven weeks ago after serving six years for an attack on another boy. Ohlson's criminal record shows he was arrested for sexual assault on a 3-year-old boy in 1949 and was released to his parents' custody. In 1950 he was arrested for a brutal sexual attack on a 12-year-old boy and was sentenced to the reformatory in 1951. He was released June 7 after four years were deducted from his 10-year sentence for good behavior.

Police Sgt. John Flynn said Ohlson reenacted the crime after admitting the double slaying. The bodies of the brothers, who lived in nearby Stoughton, were found Saturday—nude and partially charred—under a smoldering blanket of twigs and branches.

Police Chief Joseph C. Wright said Ohlson was taken to the reformatory in 1951. He was released June 7 after four years were deducted from his 10-year sentence for good behavior.

Young People Want 'Master'

NEW YORK (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham says young people seek security and "want a master." He says they can find both in Christ.

Graham spoke to a near-capacity crowd of 19,000 at Madison Square Garden last night. Young people predominated in the audience.

The evangelist will take tonight off to get some rest. He will resume his New York crusade in the Garden tomorrow night.

Taking up the sex problems of youth, Graham said he feels sorry for today's young people because sex is thrown at them on all sides and they are confronted by newsstands filled with what he called obscene literature. This, he said, makes the problem more difficult for them than it was for young people of earlier generations.

At the end of Graham's message, 656 persons, a majority of them youthful, came forward to make "decisions for Christ." That brought the total for the New York crusade to 39,584.

Tax Society Plans Part-Time Course

The National Society of Tax Consultants, through its education committee is offering a special course in the field of taxes for bookkeepers and accountants.

Surveys have shown that the need for qualified tax consultants, is in great demand throughout the United States, said the association.

The course of study will be conducted by home study and will be reviewed and graded by a national group of tax consultants. The course should take approximately eight weeks of study, work hours on assignments. The National Society of Tax Consultants may be contacted at P. O. Box 5995, Dallas.

British Say Oman Rebels Bottled Up

MANAMA, Bahrain (AP)—The chief British political officer for the Persian Gulf area says the Oman rebels have lost their momentum and are now bottled up in a small area centered on Nirwa.

Sir Bernard Burrows said yesterday the rebels are down to about 200 men plus one large tribe in the most inaccessible part of the rugged Oman mountains. Burrows warned, however, against optimism that the rebellion against the Sultan of Muscat and Oman is about over.

The religious leader so far considered the leader of the revolt. Imam Ghaleb bin Ali, said victory for his forces "will come first from God and second from Arab aid."

The imam answered questions of The Associated Press by cable from an undisclosed location. His representative in Cairo, Mohamed el Harsy, said the imam is reported in Nirwa, ancient capital of Oman, at the southeast end of the Arabian Peninsula.

Burrows said the real leader of the rebels is the imam's brother, Taleb bin Ghali, and the imam only a figurehead. Taleb returned from exile in Saudi Arabia about a month ago with about 200 followers and a stock of machine guns, land mines and other weapons, Burrows said.

A third rebel leader is the Sheikh Suleiman bin Hamyar, head of the rebellious tribe and long considered the strongest man in the area. He threw in with the rebellion after Taleb turned back one of the Sultan's four 200-man private armies, Burrows said.

Burrows said after talking to Sultan Said bin Taimur in Muscat for three days that the rebels hold an area roughly 25 by 15 miles. He called dropping of warning leaflets and later jet fighter attacks against rebel forts "political warfare coupled with a demonstration of force aimed at tightening the ring physically and reducing the area held by these people."

Pleads Guilty

Dr. John Rodkin Adams, 58-year-old English society physician acquitted last April of a charge that he drugged a wealthy patient to death, arrives at court in Lewes, England, for appearance on 16 other counts. He pleaded guilty to 14 charges covering larceny, embezzlement, forgery and dangerous drugs and was fined $6,500. He pleaded innocent to the other two charges against him and they were dismissed.

Hot Now, But Get Ready For Winter

If you are one who wants to be without water as a result of a broken pipe for several days during the coldest days of winter, this is not the time to think about a plumber.

water throughout the winter, this is not the time to call concerning a new hot water heater. But if you are one who wants to be comfortable and free of plumbing worries during the cold season, this is the time to call Fiveash Plumbing Company and have the firm check and winterize your water pipes and install a new hot water heater.

Don't Gamble On Weak Tires During Summer

You gamble with your life and property, if you don't practice safety when you're behind the wheel of your automobile.

Summer is the best time to have water pipes checked and prepared for winter. Because when cold weather hits, plumbers will be hard to find, and it will take them days to handle their appointments—especially after the hard freezes start.

One way to practice safety is to have your vehicle outfitted with famous Safety Age US Royal Master tires, sold locally by the Phillips Tire Company, located at Fourth and Johnson Streets.

Fiveash Plumbing can be reached by dialing AM 4-6111. Employees will take your call and it will be turned to one of the plumbers immediately. The workman will arrive in a short time to inspect your water lines, and winterize them to withstand the hardest freezes.

With this matter out of the way, a new water heater from Fiveash will solve another problem—that of having the old water heater going out on a cold morning.

The size needed will pose no problem for the firm, because Western Ice has it in all amounts, from large blocks on down to an amount of crushed ice just big enough to fill a thermos jug.

The Safety Age US Royal Master cuts the heat build-up by 20 per cent. The safety crown built into the tire distributes the heat away to cooler areas.

The thermos jug special is one of Western Ice's best bargains. When starting a trip, stop by and fill the thermos. It eliminates having to purchase a large chunk or sack of ice which is more than you need and one which will be wasteful.

In the Safety Age US Royal Master white sidewall tire, the new design prevents sidewall scuff. It wards off curb harmlessly away without weakening any part of the tire.

There is no having to throw away a chunk or having it melt on the floor of your car when you take the thermos special at Western Ice.

On wet pavement, the Royal Master can be stopped from one to three car lengths faster than the ordinary tire because it possesses twice the strength of the ordinary casing.

Make your call to Fiveash Plumbing Company, at 821 E. 3rd.

New Stock Secured By Furniture Unit

If you are in the market for house furnishings and want to see the very newest and most attractive in the furniture line, visit the newly established furniture department of the Big Spring Hardware.

Jasper Atkins, owner of the Big Spring Hardware, has just returned from Dallas where he attended the annual furniture department of the Big Spring Hardware. He was much impressed with the wide variety of furniture offered and at the many new items which are being placed on the market at this season.

He said that he shopped with great care and has been able to arrange for a wide selection of quality merchandise for the Big Spring Hardware Store's new department.

He added that he gathered a lot of valuable information while at the furniture market and that from this knowledge he will be able to expand and improve the new department materially.

Shoppers who need household goods will be doing themselves a disservice if they neglect to include the new Big Spring Hardware furniture store at 115 Main in their itinerary.

There they will find a wide selection of fine merchandise and the prices are right. The very latest and best in furniture will be featured by this new business establishment and Atkins urged all of the friends of the Big Spring

Hardware to make a special trip to inspect the new department.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Some one close to the trade once said "you can't beat the hours" but baseball as the mercenaries play it isn't the easiest and most gentle way to make one's way through life.

It is not a recommended vocation for the complacent nor the faint-hearted. If the big leaguers appear grim, forbidding and pre-occupied at times, it's probably because they have learned through bitter experience there can be no sentiment in this most demanding and exacting of all games.

They need not look any farther than their own bench to cast their lamps on some eager young man spilling to replace them.

It's a long, treacherous, heart-breaking road to the big leagues where even well-meaning, friendly can lure the travelers out detours. It is a short, swift highway back down.

Tommy Hart was a friend of no man when in a baseball uniform. The things he learned along the way burned an acid imprint into his memory.

Time, the robber, slowed his step by pillaging the spring in his legs, yet years after he had played his last game he had to be restrained from fighting a former opponent who confessed he had taken up to ten runs away from him by faking a tag at him which caused the umpires to rule him out.

It was said—and only partly in jest—that he would have spiked his own grandmother, had she tried to tag him on an attempted steal.

Occasionally, you'll hear of an athlete who professes to live by the Golden Rule. His talents must be tremendous if he survives.

One such was Robin Roberts, the Philadelphia artist, who, as long as he was able to fog the ball past the batter, could afford to be charitable.

Ever so often, a ghost writer will forge an article for some muscle man in the big leagues, decrying the fact that the "bean ball" is going to ruin the game of baseball, that steps should be taken to outlaw the pitch.

By leveling an accusing finger at the pitchers, the slugger—no doubt—increases the size of his poke but, in his heart, he knows that baseball will never change in that respect.

The artist who doesn't approach the plate "loose," prepared to hit the dirt on every pitch, knows he is a sitting duck—a man who is teasing the fates. If he listens closely, he can hear his own manager instructing his pitchers on occasions to "crush" back the opposing batters. And, in tedious situations, he will likely intercept the order transmitted to the mound to "stick it in his ear."

One of the most successful of the Longhorn League pitchers of the late '40's, in the days when the Cuban imports on the Big Spring club were humiliating other clubs with their bats and their speed on the bases, insisted he owed his success in facing them to the fact that he always tried to knock each of them down with his first delivery.

As long as he had the hop on his No. 1 pitch, Roberts could say in all sincerity that he was above that sort of thing. He felt supremely confident that he could usually throw the ball past the batter. Even when rocked by a home run, which he often gave up even in his heyday, Roberts showed amazing powers to bounce back.

The day came, however, when time began to take its toll. The opposing batters became openly contemptuous of Roberts' fast ball and, reassured by the fact that he still possessed his pinpoint control, began to wade into his pitches with great enthusiasm.

Sal Maglie has lived on far behind his time in the big leagues, simply because he refuses to let the enemy get a toe-hold at the plate. He isn't called The Barber because he used to practice the trade. Long ago, he came to the conclusion that a pitcher is outnumbered out there on the hill and must exist by his wits and his nerve.

Roberts' decline started last year, when he failed to notch 20 wins for the first time in seven seasons, and has reached alarming proportions since.

Robinson may not elect to change. He may want to be regarded by future generations as the man who refused to throw at the opposition. But the price he pays may be an abbreviated big league career.

The Philadelphia management and the Philadelphia fans sympathize with such a philosophy but a man who knows his bounds. And his employers are not paying him to serve as a shining example to American youth.

When you live in the jungle, you live by the laws of the jungle.

Phil Dickens Gets A Rugged Start

CHICAGO (AP)—Phil Dickens, Indiana University's new football coach, who has yet to make a Big Ten appearance, was suspended for one year by the Western Conference yesterday for financial assistance irregularities. K. L. "Tug" Wilson, Big Ten commissioner who led the investigation of Dickens, said reports that Dickens had made offers of financial assistance to various prospective athletes in excess of aid permissible under league rules forced the investigation.

Patterson's Pals

Visiting youngsters from nearby boys' camp get in the act as heavyweight boxing champion Floyd Patterson shadowboxes for photographer at his training camp at Greenwood Lake, N. Y. Patterson will make his first defense in a bout with Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson at New York's Polo Grounds. Patterson holds a split decision over Jackson in a previous non-title fight. CHAMP FAVORED, THOUGH

Jackson Says He's A Cinch To Beat Patterson Tonight

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson is a solid 5-1 favorite to whip tireless Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson in their 15-round title fight at the Polo Grounds tonight but the eccentric challenger thinks he's a cinch to win.

"I'm gonna chop him up," says Jackson, 25. "I only wish the fight could be to a finish with the man standing at the end being the winner."

If it was an alley brawl without any officials Jackson certainly would rate a better chance. But over the 15-round distance, Tommy's chances appear as slim as the odds against him. The odds are 5-1 that Patterson, 22, making the first defense of the crown he won by flattening Archie Moore last Nov. 20 in five rounds, will stop Jackson in their return bout.

Patterson won his way to the Moore shot and the title by gaining a split decision in 12 rounds at Madison Square Garden June 8, 1956. He broke a bone in his right hand in the fifth round but rocked Jackson repeatedly with volleys of lefts and rights to the head.

The pick here is Patterson on a technical knockout within 10 rounds.

Always a fast puncher, Floyd has been concentrating on power in his workouts for Jackson. Instead of jumping around the ring, the champion has been setting his feet and concentrating on thumping wallops to the body and head.

At first Floyd expressed doubt that the 6-2½, 194 pound Jackson could be knocked out. Later, he said he thought he might be able to do the job.

"I'm going to fight him more," said Patterson, who fought in spurts the first time because of his injured mitt. "If the opportunity comes for a knockout I'm going to go for it. If it goes the limit, I'm confident I'll win anyway. I know he has plenty of endurance but no matter what pace he sets I know I can more than match it."

There has been hardly any wagering on the bout and the odds haven't been any great rush to the box office for dress manufacturer Emil Lence's first promotion of a heavyweight title fight—the first such by an independent promoter since the International Boxing Club stepped into the fight picture in 1949.

Just the same Lence is confident that with a break in the weather he can gross $350,000. This plus the $175,000 for the radio-television rights could assure the tiny promoter of a smash success. The prospects, however, indicate a crowd of 25,000 and a gate of $250,000. That could put Lence in the black too.

Patterson has been guaranteed $175,000 against 40 per cent of the gate and radio-TV money. Jackson collects 20 per cent.

The only time the durable Jackson ever was stopped was by Nino Valdes on three knockdowns in one round on July 14, 1954.

A pro since 1952, Jackson has a 29-5-1 record, including 13 knockouts.

Patterson's record is 31-1 including 22 knockouts. His only decision was a disputed eight-round loss to Joey Maxim, the former light heavyweight king, in June 1954. He broke into the pro ranks in 1952 after winning the Olympic 165-pound title at Helsinki, Finland.

Gene Conley's Gem Buoy's Club's Hopes

By Don WEISS

The good burghers of Milwaukee likely will concede the Cardinals have a beauty in Von McDaniel. But if they're beckoning to their own Gene Conley today with their widest grins of the year, who can say they aren't buried beneath 18-year-old Von's brilliant one-hitter yesterday that touched off St. Louis' double-header sweep of Pittsburgh was another big game from Conley that kept the Braves in first place in that territorial National League scramble.

In a month, the 6-3 right-hander, a native Oklahoman like McDaniel, has worked back to the form that made him one of the league's toughest a few seasons ago. His six-hitter enabled the Braves to defeat New York 5-3 and split a double-header with the Giants. It was his fifth victory in his last six decisions—all since he found the combination back on June 26.

With McDaniel's one-hit masterpiece winning the first game 4-0 and Joe Cunningham's 11th-inning homer the second 9-8, the Cardinals chopped Milwaukee's lead to half a game. The Braves had lost the opener to ex-mate Johnny Antonelli's six-hitter 2-0.

Brooklyn, with Johnny Podres winning his ninth, beat Cincinnati 7-2 to move within 1½ games of the top and drop the Redlegs 2½ games behind Milwaukee in a fourth-place tie with Philadelphia. The Phils had a happy day in Chicago, topping the Cubs 3-1 for Curt Simmons' 10th and 7-1 for rookie ace Jack Sanford won his 14th against three losses with a six-hitter.

The Braves broke out with four runs on four hits in the fourth inning to win for Conley. Willie Mays hammered six hits in eight trips, four in the first game. Gene Baker's double with two out in the second inning was the only hit off McDaniel, who didn't permit another base runner in running his record to 5-2. Hoyt Wilhelm won his first in relief as the Cards scored three in the nightcap 11-2 to tie the score and set the stage for Cunningham's winning homer off Nelson King.

Carl Furillo's grand-slam homer, eighth of his career, cost Cincinnati's Brooks Lawrence his seventh loss in 18 decisions and was more than enough for Podres to win his ninth.

The Phils got two RBIs from Gran Hamner in each game and a decisive three-run homer from Ed Bouchee in the second against the Cubs.

Paul Foytack won his 12th in the opener from the Tigers at New York, thanks to 2 1-3 hitless innings of relief from Lester. Hoft went all 14 1-3 innings of the nightcap, losing when Skowron's triple followed a walk to Mickey Manzie with one out in the 18th. Bob Grim won in relief.

Bill Fischer's tidy relief pitching and Larry Doby's two RBIs featured the White Sox victory.

With Williams blasting away to win for George Seaver over Don Moss, Cleveland's Vic Wertz and Rocky Colavito slammed a big day at the plate. Each wasted two home runs, Wertz driving in five runs and Colavito three.

Hal Smith's single scored Hee Lopez with the A's deciding run in the nightcap at Washington after Alex Kellner had pitched a five-hitter and helped himself with a home run in the first game Kansas City victory.

ON 2ND EXTRA HOLE

Robison, Barber Win At Odessa

By TOMMY HART

ODESSA (SC)—The duos of Dr. Cary Middlecoff and Billy Joe Denton, Ernie Vossler and Rex Baxter attracted the crowds but first place in the $10,000 Odessa here Sunday went to the combination of Jerry Robison and Miller Barber.

Robison, who resides in Houston; and Barber, of Texarkana and Sherman, had to go two extra holes in a "sudden death" playoff to defeat the defending champions, Vossler and Baxter, after the two teams had finished all even at the end of 72 holes with scores of 263.

Robison and Barber fired a 64 on the final round to catch Vossler and Baxter, who had a 65.

Middlecoff, in the midst of a real slump in the game he took up rather than continue as a dentist, and Denton tied for third place with a 264.

Bo Wingers, a pro who registers out of Odessa, and Bobby Goetz also came in at that figure.

Robison won the championship for his team on the second extra hole when he ran down a birdie putt of less than two feet. Both Vossler and Baxter were on the green in two but failed to can-their putts.

The first place win was worth $2,000 to Robison and Barber. Vossler and Baxter were awarded $1,500 for their second place finish while the third-place teams each earned $975.

Billy Maxwell and Bill (Red) Roden, both of whom are former Big Springers, tied for 12th place and earned $150 with a last round 66. Roden sank a downhill putt on the last green to enable the pair to finish with a 269 aggregate.

The Big Spring team, W. E. Hatmeyer and Bobby Blumh, benefiting from four birdies fired by young Blumh, had a last round 68 to finish with 273.

Blumh was playing sensationally and the biggest galleries in the history of the pro-am didn't bother him a whit.

Another Big Spring team, Bobby Maxwell and Bobby Wright, had a final 69 for a total of 276.

Don January and Dick Jennings' 64 equalled Robison and Barber on the final 18 but they finished far back—with a 267 for $200.

Arlyn Scott of Odessa, medalist in the 1956 Big Spring Invitational tournament, teamed with Lamesa's Frank Freer to score a 269, good for $150.

Brave Pitcher Comes Up With A Secret Delivery

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Keeping a secret in baseball is nigh on the impossible, especially if the secret is a so-called new pitch that is served up to the plate regularly.

The latest pitcher to try to keep a "new" pitch to himself is Gene Conley, Milwaukee's 6-8 right-hander whose improved showing has been a boom to the National League-leading Braves.

"I have a new pitch," Conley admitted after turning back the

New York Giants 5-3 to earn the Braves a split in a twin bill and keep them in first place. "But what it is I'm not saying. These guys up here are smart enough to find out for themselves what it is."

A sinker? Maybe. A slider? Probably, say three of the Giants who faced him, ex-Brave Bobby Thomson, Ray Jablonski and Wes Westrum.

Conley himself has referred to it as a "nickel curve that breaks the other way" or "a pitch I use in double play situations and for ground balls."

Whatever it is, Conley credits it with giving him a new lease on Manager Fred Haney's starting rotation, a position he surrendered earlier this season after losing his first four decisions.

Since then he has won five of six decisions, including three victories over the Giants in 10 days. His control, heretofore a somewhat thing, has improved to the point where he has surrendered only three walks in the last 29 innings he has pitched. His worst record now is 5-5.

Starnes Wins Muny Medal

Jack Starnes won medalist honors in the annual City Golf tournament with a seven-under par 66, scored Sunday afternoon.

Starnes squares off with Son Powell in his first match this week. Powell qualified with a 76.

One 80, achieved by Sunny Edwards, rated the championship flight.

Bobby Wright, the defending champion, is matched with John Pipes in his first match. Wright was not required to qualify. Pipes

Hopi Indians Still Hold Buffalo Dance

Buffalo Youth dancing with Buffalo Maiden.

By RAM V COFFMAN
This summer, as during other seasons, thousands of tourists will visit the villages of the Hopi (pronounced HOPE-ee) Indians. These Indians belong to the large Pueblo group, which likewise includes the Zuni and other tribes.

Q. What was the original meaning of Hopi?
A. It is a shorter form of the word "Hoputis," and means "Peaceful Ones" or "Peaceful People."

Q. Where are the Hopi villages located?
A. In northeastern Arizona. These Indians are farmers, and they cultivate thousands of acres. Thanks to the summer rains in their valleys, they are able to raise good crops of corn, beans and pumpkins. They also raise cantaloupes, melons, cotton and wheat.

Q. Is there a Hopi buffalo dance?
A. Yes. This seems strange because our records indicate that buffaloes have not ranged over Arizona during historic times.

Q. How did the Hopi buffalo dance come about?
A. Hopi buffalo dance lasts through the day. A young man, the Buffalo Youth, and a young woman, the Buffalo Maiden, are the chief performers.

The Buffalo Maiden carries a circular feathered object on her back. This object represents the sun. The Buffalo Youth holds a crooked stick in one hand, a symbol of lightning, and wears a pair of buffalo horns on his head. In his other hand he holds a rattle.

The symbols of lightning and the sun appear to have the same purpose — to honor the sun-god, the lord of the sky.

The ancestors of these tribesmen used to live farther to the north, where they came in contact with buffaloes and hunted them for food. After moving hundreds of miles to the south, they kept up the old custom of holding a buffalo dance at least once a year.

Budapest Is Duller Without Marines

BUDAPEST (AP) — Communist Budapest is a duller town today. The U.S. Marines have gone.

There were only nine of them, but they did a lot to make this capital a gay place. They were guards at the U.S. legation. Working in a Communist country, they never wore uniform except at diplomatic parties.

Last summer and early fall the Marines had a good time in Budapest. That was a period of thaw, when Hungary seemed to be moving toward greater freedom. The natural gaiety of the citizens of Budapest, plus their interest in things American, suited the Marines just fine.

They became major importers of American sheet music and records. They gave a lot of both to jazz-starved Hungarian orchestras.

And of course they taught the "Marine Hymn" to anyone who would learn it. Their favorite spot was the Pappas in Aranykeze-utca, the Pappas in Golden Hand Street. It's a smoky little place with an unusually noisy orchestra and no room to dance. There the Marines could practice their meager Hungarian on sympathetic hostesses and pretend to like the apricot brandy.

During last fall's fighting the Marines got a sniff of powder, but they were in no spot to fight back. Two of them were standing on the balcony of their apartment one day, watching some Russian tanks maneuver. The machine-gunner fired a burst that cost Uncle Sam a new decorating job on the apartment, but did no other damage. The Marines dropped to their bellies and made for the cellar.

After the revolution came a rule against more than three dates with any one Hungarian girl. Then such dates were banned altogether. The idea was to protect the girls from the attentions of the Hungarian secret police. To make up for this rule, the Marines got more frequent leaves in Vienna, only a four-hour drive from Budapest.

When relations deteriorated between Premier Janos Kadar's government and the U.S. legation, two U.S. military attaches were expelled for "spying." Three of the legation's Hungarian employees were arrested. Finally the Hungarian government ordered the number of Americans and Hungarian employees cut by a third. After some discussion in Washington, it was decided that the Marines would have to go.

Youth Festival Parleys Begin

MOSCOW (AP) — After a flag-waving sendoff before Communist leaders of Russia and more than a dozen other countries, the World Youth Festival today split up into discussion groups.

Everything from atomic physics to hobbies are on the study programs fitted in between sports events and other entertainment for 30,000 attending the Communist-sponsored event. It ends Aug. 11.

About 10,000 of those present for the opening parade and assembly yesterday came from outside the Soviet Union. Half were from non-Communist nations, and many of these youths looked like very mature "youths and students."

Political speeches and placards were evident at the opening. President Voroshilov said the Soviet Union never has tried to impose its way of life on other nations. About 400 Hungarians listened.

Less than 100 Americans appeared in an unorganized group that didn't try to put on a performance during the four hours of marching and subsequent speeches in Lenin Stadium. The State Department and governments of several other countries had cautioned against attending on the ground that the festival would be a Communist propaganda performance.

Many of the slogans and speeches followed familiar Communist propaganda themes. The atmosphere was typical of Communist mass meetings—flower girls, athletic demonstrations, flags everywhere, honing pigeons, shouts of "peace and friendship" and national groups folk dancing and singing about the stadium.

The Americans confined themselves to marching in a body and waving to the crowd.

Dulles On Way To London Arms Talk

U. S. 'Insulted'

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — Foreign Minister Richard G. Casey today described as a gratuitous insult a Labor party deputy's assault on U.S. Ambassador William Sebald for urging Australia not to recognize Red China.

Casey was commenting on a telegram which Leslie Haylen sent Sebald protesting against a speech which he said "resembled a lecture on what the United States expected Australia to do in its relations with Asia."

LONDON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles was flying to London today to take a personal hand in the stalled five-power disarmament talks at President Eisenhower's request.

One prime purpose of the trip reportedly was to work out a precise "open skies" plan for Europe which the European allies would support.

Dulles will confer with Harold E. Stassen, chief U.S. delegate to the U.N. Disarmament subcommittee, and with Britain's Prime Minister Macmillan and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd.

British newspapers described the secretary's visit as a "major event in international affairs" and expressed hope it would provide a turning point in the long efforts to end the East-West arms race.

Officials in Washington said what Dulles learns in his consultations may decide whether the disarmament talks should continue or recess.

The U.S. diplomat and his aides came here from talks with Prime Minister John Diefenbaker of Canada, one of the participating nations in the subcommittee talks.

Dulles was reported to have received Canada's support for the U.S. proposal for mutual aerial inspection of arctic zones in Canada and Soviet Russia as one phase of a first-stage disarmament agreement.

Dulles' arrival coincided with presentation at the five-power talks of U.S. proposals for implementing Eisenhower's plan for aerial inspection zones on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

The open skies plan calls for a check on whether any arms reduction or control agreement is being faithfully carried out.

One report said Dulles may make a flying trip to Paris to confer with the North Atlantic Treaty Council on the open skies issues.

Stassen would present whatever detailed plan emerges from the Dulles talks to the Russian delegation. The Soviets then are expected either to request a recess to study the idea or respond at once with a counterproposal.

Scientists Hold Pole-To-Pole Chat

NEW YORK (AP) — Two U.S. scientists encamped at opposite ends of the earth recently had a 11,200-mile radio chat.

One, Dr. Charles R. Bentley, is in the antarctic. The other, Maurice J. Davidson, is in the arctic. Both are working on research projects for the International Geophysical Year.

They reported that reception on their ham radios was as clear as a bell.

Bentley and Davidson, both 26, are on the staff of Columbia University's Lamont Geological Observatory. Columbia told of the radio chat yesterday.

Race Riots Follow Battle In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — A series of riots broke out on Chicago's far South Side last night after an afternoon battle between whites and Negroes in which more than a score of persons were injured.

The first disturbance occurred at Calumet Park, where some 100 Negroes were holding a picnic. Police said a group of between 50 and 60 white persons began throwing stones at the Negroes.

About 25 persons, most of them Negroes, were injured, none seriously. Some 100 policemen answered the riot call and quelled the fighting.

Police estimated that some 3,000 persons witnessed the brawl but there were several other thousands in the big park seeking relief from the 90-degree temperatures.

Some 300 policemen, both white and Negro, were on duty in the south Chicago and East Side districts last night as fresh rioting erupted. The districts, in the city's far southeast industrial section, are predominantly white.

Most of last night's police calls came after white persons stoned and burned cars driven by Negroes. Police said about a dozen cars were burned. Stones were thrown at two Chicago Transportation Authority buses, driven by Negroes, but later police rode the buses with Negro drivers.

Police officers said all days off for policemen had been canceled temporarily.

Police described the disturbances as one of the worst racial outbreaks in several years. Major rioting occurred in nearby Trumbull Park housing project when Negroes moved into the white district. A special police detail, which at times numbered several hundred, was moved into the district and the rioting ended.

A 15-year-old white girl was shot in the left ankle. A Negro motorcycle policeman, seeking to arrest a youth who had stoned him, said his gun discharged accidentally when someone jostled him.

Congress Far Behind In Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — The civil rights debate has put the Senate far behind in its work and Congress may have to stay in session well beyond Labor Day.

Current estimates on congressional adjournment range from Aug. 17 to far into September. The timetable depends in large part on how much longer the Senate will be involved in the civil rights battle.

Five appropriations bills — including the $33,759,850,000 defense money measure — are among matters awaiting action.

The House has been moving ahead with legislation while the Senate has been pinned down in the civil rights fight. In all, 179 bills now are backed up on the Senate calendar, although most of them are minor.

Republican and Democratic leaders say they believe it will take about two weeks to complete essential business after the civil rights struggle is over. But they stress there would have to be late sessions to finish work in that time.
