Sentencing Delayed in Parr Mail Fraud Case

Judge 'Sitting' With Conscience

HOUSTON (AP) — Federal Judge Joe Ingraham spent an hour and a half today hearing prosecution and defense statements in the fourth George Parr mail fraud trial and then postponed formal sentencing of the 11 defendants until 2:30 p.m. (CST). "I want additional time to sit with my conscience before pronouncing sentence," he said. The sentencing had been scheduled for 10 a.m. today. "I have given a great deal of thought to the sentencing of these defendants," Ingraham said. "I am sure a great number of people know exactly what should be done, but since I am the one charged with responsibility of sentencing I am going to take all the time I need." Defense lawyer Percy Foreman and U.S. Atty. Malcolm Wilkey took almost all the morning discussing before Ingraham their views on what his sentences should be. Parr, eight Duval County associates and two banks the South Texas political figure formerly headed were to be sentenced. Johnson was critical of Knowland's statement that he was willing to remain in Washington all winter to pass an effective civil rights bill. "I don't want any hobgoblins raised about staying here all winter and moving beds into the aisles," Johnson told reporters. "We can pass an effective bill in a reasonable period of time if we appeal to the best in men—if we don't try to put them in a straight jacket. "Some people around here may be more concerned with winning votes than in giving anyone the right to vote." Knowland has been regarded as a potential candidate for the 1960 GOP presidential nomination. The 11 were convicted July 17 under a 28-count indictment accusing them of diverting over $220,000 in school district tax funds to personal use. FREE ON BOND Parr is free on a $3,000 appeal bond posted after drawing a 5-year sentence in state court for theft of over $1,000 from the school district. He was convicted on all 20 counts. Each count carries a maximum 5-year sentence. Each of 19 mail fraud counts carries a maximum fine of $1,000. The indictment's single mail fraud conspiracy count also carries a maximum fine of $10,000. Convicted on all 20 counts with Parr were D. C. Chapa, former school district tax assessor-collector; Oscar Carrillo Sr., former

Rescuers Dig Into Ruins For Last Victims

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A crew of 500 men dug into the ruins of an apartment building today seeking the last victims of Sunday's earthquake. The five-story apartment house which crumbled into a pile of concrete and dust was the worst death trap of the 50 old buildings that collapsed in the capital. By early today 32 bodies had been pulled from the rubble and another victim had died in a hospital. This brought the number of known dead in Mexico City to 52 and the total for the country to 66. All were Mexicans. There were unconfirmed reports that a family on the lower floor of the apartment house had been having a large party at the time of the quake. Officials believed more bodies would be found. Eleven persons were removed alive from the building. One woman was pulled out yesterday after being pinned under a pile of wreckage for 28 hours. A mattress which fell on her had saved her. Other crews were busy demolishing dangerously damaged structures. Reports from other sections of the country showed the only major damage from the quake was in a narrow area running south from Mexico City to the Pacific coast resort of Acapulco. Most cities in the quake zone frequented by American tourists escaped without damage or casualties. These included Taxco, Guadalupe, Morelia, Toluca, Puebla, Oaxaca and Veracruz. Even in Acapulco, where three persons were killed, damage was relatively minor. Chilpancingo, capital of the state of Guerrero on the main highway to Acapulco, suffered the worst damage after Mexico City. Half the buildings in the town were ruined. Eight persons died there. In Mexico City, 20 damaged buildings were marked for demolition. Twenty-one movie houses and five theaters were closed for inspection. In general, major damage occurred in the downtown business area rather than in the suburban residential districts. Utility services generally were getting back to normal throughout the quake area, although there were interruptions.

COLORFUL DETROIT FIGURE OF PROHIBITION ERA DIES

DETROIT (AP) — Former Mayor Charles E. Bowles, whose recall at the climax of Detroit's bootlegging era was highlighted by the sensational gangland-style slaying of radio commentator Gerald E. Buckley, died today in a Detroit hospital. He had been ill two weeks with an undiagnosed ailment. Bowles, 73, a former recorder's (criminal) court judge, was mayor only seven months before he was recalled July 22, 1930, after a Buckley radio crusade against crime and corruption. Bowles was defeated in a special election in September of the same year by Frank Murphy, who later became governor and a U. S. Supreme Court justice. Two hours before Bowles' defeat was determined, Buckley, a harsh critic of the mayor's administration, was shot down in a blaze of gunfire. Buckley had just completed a broadcast from a radio studio in a downtown hotel. He was sitting in the lobby when three gunmen walked in. One emptied a gun at Buckley and the young radio personality slumped dead on the floor. His killer was never determined in the controversial investigation that followed his death. Bowles never was linked in any way to the shooting.

Girl Rescued From Well

ANDERSON, S.C. (AP) — "We oughta everyone give a big cheer for God right now!" shouted someone in the crowd. The crowd roared in agreement as a weary man climbed out of the 40-foot rescue shaft holding a grimy baby in his arms. "She's okay," yelled rescuer Red Roberts. But for four terrible hours last night, no one could be sure 17-month-old Yvonne Beasley would come out of the well. Her 8-year-old brother Richard David wept with his parents, begging for his sister to come out of the hole. "That's all he kept saying the whole time," Mrs. J. B. Beasley said today. "He just kept crying and saying, 'I want my sister out of the hole.'" Richard and his chubby, brown-haired, blue-eyed sister were playing in the yard yesterday evening while their mother fixed supper. "Richard came running in the house crying, 'Sister fell in the hole and got hurt,' the 28-year-old mother said. "I ran out, but I never thought of the old well pipe. It's away from the house and covered with a bucket held down by a 12-pound stone. I ran right past it. HEARD HER CRYING "I ran into the front yard and then back again and then I heard her crying and calling 'Mommy, mommy, mommy.'" "I ran out in the road and tried to stop a car. We don't have any phones and there aren't any playgrounds in the yard, yesterday evening they thought it was some family fight. "Finally, after about 20 minutes

Texas Union Groups To Unite Today

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas CIO Council and the Texas State Federation of Labor, which overrode a surprisingly strong minority yesterday, officially merged today as the State AFL-CIO. The merger was made possible after the CIO yesterday adopted a proposed constitution and agreed to the merger with only 4 votes disagreeing with the majority of some 300 delegates. The TSLF, which approved the merger last year, voted 6,919 for and 3,402 against. The opposition came over the unsettled question of jurisdiction between former AFL building unions and industrial unions. A unity plea was made by Joseph Keenan, vice president of the AFL-CIO which merged on the national level in December 1955. He asked the dissident AFL group not to "get into a hassle that will destroy our influence." The two organizations had been given until December to merge on the state level. The merger move in Texas started in February 1956. Leaders on the state level predict a more effectiveness in legislation, political activity and education. Jerry Holleman, executive secretary of the AFL, takes over as president of the Texas State AFL-CIO. Fred Schmidt, who holds the same job for the CIO, becomes secretary-treasurer. Sherman Miles of Corsicana, president of the CIO, was elected by his union to the directorship for legislative and political activities for the new combination. Holleman will be paid $12,000 a year and Schmidt $9,800. The merger had been delayed for a year by disagreement between former AFL building unions and industrial unions over a jurisdictional dispute.

2 Die, 5 Hurt In Road Crash

SPEARMAN, Tex. — Two persons were killed and five were injured in the flaming crash of a station wagon and a pickup truck today near Spearman in the Panhandle. The dead were Thomas Brown, 27, and his wife, Jo Ann Brown, 25, of Spearman. The injured are the Browns' year-old son, Douglas; Mrs. Billie Brown, 25, of Guyton, Okla.; and Kelley and David, and Glen Bennett, 50, of Spearman. Mrs. Billie Brown was reported in critical condition. The station wagon was driven by Mrs. Billie Brown's husband, Raymond Brown of Guyton, who was accompanied by his wife and children and the other Brown family. The station wagon burned after the collision. The truck was driven by Bennett.

Stricken Official Appears Improved

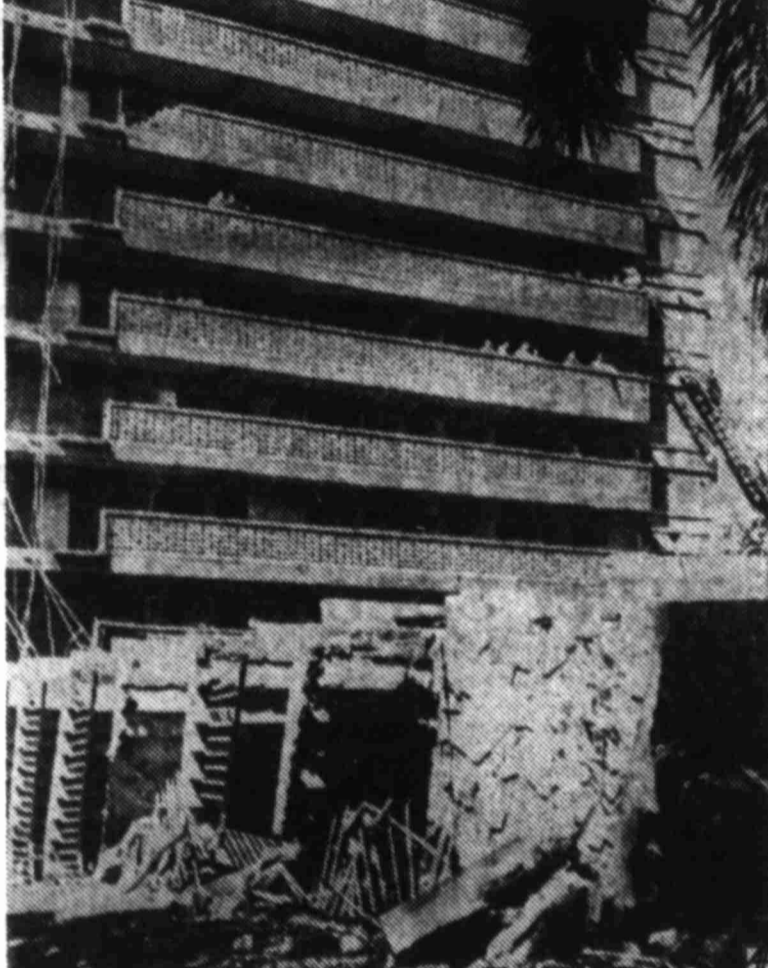

VIENNA, Ga. (AP) — Former Sen. Walter F. George, critically ill from a coronary occlusion, appeared somewhat improved today. His physician, Dr. J. L. Malloy said the 79-year-old George definitely had a better night after midnight. He required no sedation this morning and "looks better." George, President Eisenhower's special ambassador to NATO, was reported in grave condition yesterday and growing progressively weaker. He had difficulty breathing and was receiving oxygen continuously.

Ex-Webb Student Jumps To Safety From Disabled Jet

A former Webb AFB student parachuted to safety from his disabled F-86F jet fighter near here Monday afternoon. Lt. Dan E. Barrow, 25, ejected himself from the jet somewhere in the vicinity of Forsan and landed in the Hardy Morgan pasture some seven miles southeast of Big Spring. Not far away the plane slanted in, slid across an arroyo, piled up against a slope and burned. Lt. Barrow was unscathed. He was piloting one of two planes which had made a flight from their base at Luke AFB at Phoenix, Ariz., to Brookley AFB near Mobile, Ala. They were en route home when Lt. Barrow's radio went out somewhere north of San Antonio. After passing San Angelo his oil pressure eased off and he prepared to land at Webb. However, the pressure suddenly

Japan Seeks A Seat On U.N. Council

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Twelve years ago Japan was in the last bitter stages of a losing war with an alliance called the United Nations. Today she is a respected member of the international organization that grew out of that alliance. And she is campaigning actively for election to its Security Council. Many delegates think she has a good chance of election. The council has 11 members. Three of these seats are to be filled by secret-ballot elections when the 81-nation General Assembly meets in September. The council members leaving after two year terms, will be Australia, Cuba and the Philippines. Japan is running for the seat the Philippines holds. A "gentlemen's agreement" in 1946 allotted two of the six non-permanent seats on the council to Latin America and one each to the British Commonwealth, the Middle East, Western Europe and Eastern Europe. The seat the Philippines occupies was assigned in that agreement to Eastern Europe, in accordance with the principle of "equitable geographical distribution" laid down in the U.N. Charter. The agreement, however, is lottery. In 1955 Yugoslavia, backed by the Soviet Union, and the Philippines, backed by the United States, deadlocked for the place, neither getting the necessary two-thirds majority. The president of the Assembly that year, Jose Maza of Chile, got general agreement to a plan for getting around this deadlock: he held a drawing. The winner, Yugoslavia, served the first year of the disputed two-year term. The loser, the Philippines, is serving the second year. That weakened the gentlemen's agreement. The supposed Eastern European seat had drifted clear over to East Asia. Through all this, the United States contended that the agreement was not meant for all time but only for the 1946 elections. On the other hand, Britain opposed the Philippines with the argument that the agreement still held good. Britain now has dropped this contention and will vote for Japan. The Soviet bloc has not yet announced its candidate. Czechoslovakia is mentioned most often. Many delegates expect most of the British Commonwealth to follow Britain's lead while much of Latin America follows the U.S. lead in voting for Japan. But some countries in Scandinavia and the Arab world and perhaps in Latin America may feel the gentlemen's agreement is still in full effect.

Senate To Delay Civil Rights Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — Southern senators agreed today to go along with a move to lay aside the civil rights bill temporarily while the Senate works on a defense money bill and other legislation. Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) announced after a meeting of Southern Democrats who are fighting the civil rights bill that they will raise no objection to a two-day armistice in the Senate battle over the measure. Republican Senate Leader Knowland of California said earlier that backers of the bill are determined to keep the Senate in session all winter if necessary to pass what they regard as an effective bill. Knowland has said he would not object to a short break in the civil rights debate proposed by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader. Johnson had announced he would seek a unanimous agreement for the Senate to take up compromise versions of the defense and agricultural appropriations bills, as well as several other pieces of legislation. Russell said that if Knowland's remark about a session lasting all winter turns out to be a correct prediction, the Southerners will be aroused. Sen. Knowland will have company, Russell said. Russell said the Dixie Democrats feel that if the Senate doesn't complete other legislative work because of the civil rights

Leopold To Learn If He'll Be Freed

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Nathan Leopold, a prisoner of his kill-for-a-thrill experiment since 1924, learns today whether he may become a free man this year. The judge who ordered him put away for 99 years said he hoped that Leopold's sentence was one for life and that there would be "no parole." Leopold, now 52, with 33 years of experience as a model convict, is seeking his freedom on the ground that he has been rehabilitated. An educator and onetime guinea pig of prison malaria experiments Leopold says, "I ask not for justice, but for the mercy I did not show." His answer hinges upon the action of Gov. William G. Straton in response to Leopold's plea for a second reduction of his sentence. Leopold was 19 when he and Richard Loeb, also 19, entered the penitentiary at Joliet for the slaying of Bobby Franks, 14-year-old son of a wealthy Chicago neighbor. Loeb is dead, knifed by a fellow convict he outraged in 1936. Leopold, a model prisoner, was granted a cut in his sentence to 35 years in 1940 by former Gov. Adlai Stevenson for serving, with other convicts, as a guinea pig in wartime tests of experimental malaria drugs. He asked the parole board July 9 to recommend a further reduction of his term to 64 years — which would make him eligible for release Dec. 11 this year under the penal provision which sets one-half of the total term plus 15 months for prisoners with good records. Leopold, his health but little impaired by chronic diabetes, has carved an unusual career within the limitations of his prison environment. Classed as a brilliant student by analysts at his trial, he had won a bachelor's degree from the University of Chicago at 18. In prison, he has pursued his studies independently. With Loeb, a few years after they were imprisoned, he organized a prison correspondence school which is well rated academically. He organized and expanded the prison library. He has held most of the inmate jobs requiring brain work at Stateville, including operation of the hospital X-ray laboratory, and correspondence in the administrative office.

Back-Breaking Work

Although raising small pine trees — seedlings — is a tough job all the way, perhaps the toughest part is weeding. Doing the job here are Harry Jean, left, of Newton, and Robert Earl Love of Burkeville. When pine seeds are planted, firecrackers are set off to shoo away birds which are crazy about the seeds.

Oil State Congressmen Laud Import Curb, Others Unhappy

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new government effort to limit oil imports drew praise today from oil state congressmen but howls from New England senators.

A voluntary import curb which the White House said "could lead to mandatory controls" if it is violated was asked by President Eisenhower yesterday. He called for a 10 per cent cut in oil imports by companies east of the Rockies. It is designed to assure a high rate of domestic oil production which could be needed for national defense.

Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) said a reduction of South American oil shipments to New England "will surely result in a price rise in the near future," and added, "In fact, that is the purpose of the order."

Sen. Payne (R-Maine) called it "shocking favoritism for the oil industry which already enjoys preferential tax privileges denied other industries."

Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass.) expressed hope that oil users "are not penalized by price increases or restricted supplies" under the program, but said he would demand "immediate remedial action" if it is needed.

On the other hand, Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said, "This is a long overdue action which should strengthen the national security," as well as "provide some relief for our hard-pressed domestic producers."

Sen. Kerr (D-Okl.), himself an oil company official, said the action was "very wholesome and if complied with will go a long way toward getting the necessary job done."

Secretary of the Interior Seaton was asked what effect the action might have on the price of gasoline and other petroleum products.

"We hope that it will have none," he replied.

Seaton, with guidance from the Office of Defense Mobilization, will administer the program. Eisenhower ordered on the basis of a report from a six-member cabinet committee.

The report recommended that established importing companies other than in the Far West be requested to cut crude oil imports 10 per cent below their average for the years 1954, 1955 and 1956. The committee was established to study oil imports from a security standpoint.

New companies were asked to make varied reductions while some were not requested to make any.

Under the Trade Agreements Extension Act of 1955 the President has authority to fix quotas if he decides it is necessary.

The recommended reduction in imports would be effective for one year starting as of last July 1 and the cabinet committee would review the situation annually. Under the committee recommendations, total imports would be limited to 1,031,000 barrels daily.

Seaton said there would be a period of several months in which the Interior Department and Office of Defense Mobilization would determine whether individual companies expect to comply voluntarily with the request. He said he believed the industry would go along.

Eisenhower said increasing oil imports threatened to impair national security. Independent oil operators have contended that excessive imports would reduce exploration for oil in the United States and put too much dependence on imports which would be cut off in event of an emergency.

Opinions Differ In Texas Over Curbs

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas oilmen and state officials have sharply differing opinions on the effect of President Eisenhower's warning to certain oil companies to cut oil imports 10 per cent.

"The President's action is a step in the right direction, but the step is not firm enough and does not go as far as is necessary to meet the present emergency which faces the domestic oil industry," said Gov. Price Daniel.

Eisenhower yesterday told oil companies east of the Rockies to cut back imports or face the possibility of mandatory controls. He is authorized the power under the Trade Agreements Extension Act of 1955.

Ernest Thompson, member of the State Railroad Commission, praised the action as "a great help to our national security." He said it would bring reasonable limitations on imports, promote exploration and put idle drilling rigs back to work.

Chairman Olin Culberson disagreed.

"The action recommended will not result in much improvement of the situation as it pertains to Texas," Culberson said.

Daniel questioned why there should be a waiting period before controls on imports are established.

"Why shouldn't foreign imports bear a more realistic reduction than 10 per cent? The time has come for mandatory restrictions by the President without further delay."

Jerome O'Brien, president of the Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Assn., said the action would not bring immediate relief to Texas.

"Furthermore, there being no positive enforcement machinery put into immediate operation, we are perhaps justified in questioning whether loopholes and objections by individual importers will not cause an early breakdown in the program."

But he said his organization felt

Graham Cites Morality Need

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Graham said on a visit to the United Nations yesterday that a worldwide "moral and spiritual resurgence" is needed before the U.N. can become a complete success.

The evangelist called on U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld and later held a news conference with U.N. correspondents.

He said he and Hammarskjöld discussed "the need to supplement the work of the U.N. with a moral and spiritual resurgence throughout the world."

"Human nature needs revamping," he said, "and I believe Jesus Christ is the only one who can give a man a total revolution." He said the ultimate hope for enduring peace is a Second Coming of Christ.

"When . . . the people in this building are at the end of their rope, there will be a climactic moment when Christ will come back in person to set up his kingdom," he said.

Asked how long the world must wait for this, he replied: "I believe it may be a thousand years."

Graham will be back at Madison Square Garden tonight for another meeting in his New York crusade after a night off last night.

the announcement was "the most constructive move since the 1932 tariff."

Texas is currently on a 13-day production schedule, a new low. Excessive imports have been blamed.

Culberson and Daniel agreed with O'Brien that a voluntary program would not work.

O'Brien said the West Coast should be included in the cutback area. He said there was abundant domestic oil available to supply West Coast states.

Clergy Meet To Chart Faith In Nuclear Age

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Leading churchmen from around the world, including some from Iron Curtain countries, gathered here today to chart new tactics for their faith in a nuclear age. The occasion is the annual meeting of the Central Committee of the World Council of Churches, the interim policy-making body of the global Christian organization. It is the first church conference of such international scope in this country since the historic assembly of the World Council in Evanston, Ill., in 1954.

Renowned figures in Protestant, Orthodox and Anglican Christianity are among the delegates. Altogether, the council represents 165 denominations in 50 nations. High interest in the nine-day meeting focuses on a problem which is harassing diplomats as well as religious leaders—the shadow of the atomic and hydrogen bombs.

Numerous member churches of the council have recently issued strong statements calling for outlawing of bomb tests. Moves are expected to put the full weight of the world group behind such a stand. The approximately 160 delegates and staff members are being housed in Yale dormitories. Presiding over the sessions will be the Rev. Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, president of the United Lutheran Church of America and chairman of the council's Central Committee. Although Protestant churches in five Russian satellite countries are members of the council, delegates from only two Communist-ruled lands are to be present. They are Pastor Gyula Murakoz, Budapest, of the Reformed Church in Hungary; Dr. Laidslaus M. Pakozdy, of the Reformed seminary in Debrecen, Hungary; and Lutheran Bishop Gottfried Noth of Dresden, East Germany.

Odessa Couple Shot To Death

ODESSA (AP)—An Odessa couple were shot to death last night in their front yard. They were Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Stonewall Jackson.

Justice of Peace E. E. Nobles said today he would rule the case murder and suicide. Nobles said Jackson, 42, a car dealer here, fired three shots into the face and head of Mrs. La Veda Hobbs Jackson, 41, and then shot himself in the mouth at about 10 p.m. last night.

The justice of the peace said a neighbor woman heard Mrs. Jackson scream and the shots followed. Nobles said the Jacksons had separated earlier but had reunited, and he was still trying to determine what prompted the shooting. The justice of the peace said neighbors apparently heard no quarrel. A formal inquest was tentatively set for this afternoon.

Little Interest In Wisconsin Election

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Wisconsin voters today will pick the Democratic and Republican nominees for the Aug. 27 special election that will fill the unexpired term of the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis). Despite intense campaigns by some of the seven Republican and two Democratic candidates, the race has failed to generate much interest in the primary, called by Republican Gov. Vernon Thomson less than a month ago. The balloting also competes with vacations and the harvesting of agriculture crops in Wisconsin, a farm and vacation state. The candidates themselves have decried the apathy surrounding the primary. As a result, the primary will draw less than 500,000 voters, something between 20 and 30 percent of those eligible to cast ballots. The primary winners will meet Aug. 27 for the remainder of the term ending in January 1959. The Democratic primary is a two-man race between Rep. Clement Zablocki, 45, Milwaukee, and William Proxmire, 41, three-time nominee for governor. Proxmire, of Madison, is favored to win because his campaigning in the last three gubernatorial elections made him more widely known. Of the seven GOP candidates, only former Gov. Walter Kohler, 53, has campaigned on a program of avowed support for President Eisenhower. He and former Rep. Glenn Davis, 41, a veteran of five terms in the House, are rated as the favorites. Davis has been critical of the administration's foreign policy and foreign aid program. The record of the controversial McCarthy has not been a major issue in the campaigning, either by the Republicans or the Democrats, who have concentrated on criticizing the administration's foreign policy. Some of the late senator's support has gone to Davis, and some to Lt. Gov. Warren Knowles, 48, who with Rep. Alvin O'Konski, 52, is given a chance of taking the nomination. Knowles has cam-aigned on a middle of the road program, and O'Konski, frequently split from the administration in congressional voting, has bid for the support of independents. Another portion of the former McCarthy backing has also gone to State Sen. Gerald Lorge, the only candidate to stake his campaign to the late senator, who died May 2. Lorge, 34, is from McCarthy's home county and has used the slogan, "Elect another fighting Marine."

The Aerobee-Hi rocket's altitude was 20 miles short of the local record of 160 miles, set July 4 by the initial rocket fired in the IGY program.

Benefits Of Atom To Offset Cost Of Weapons Program

HAZELTON, Pa. (AP)—An atomic energy commissioner predicted today that savings from peaceful uses of radio isotopes will soon offset the cost of the nation's nuclear weapons program. Dr. Willard F. Libby said "within three to five years—probably more nearly three, sometime in 1960—isotopes probably will be paying the whole way for the atom." That means, he added, "the American people and the Western world will get their atomic armament and their atomic power development costs all free—in the sense that the benefits of five billion dollars annual savings in industrial processing and agricultural costs are pretty well distributed among the taxpayers." Libby's comments were contained in a speech prepared for the dedication of a new plant of the Beryllium Corp. "Already, with our present 500 million dollars' annual savings for a direct outlay of about three million annually, isotopes are giving a fair return on the total investment in the whole atomic energy project," he said.

The nuclear weapons stockpile and atom power developments, Libby continued, "are beginning to be borne by the largely unused but very benevolent isotopes." Isotopes are different forms of the same element, and they have different characteristics. Some radio isotopes are byproducts of atomic reactors. Libby listed several isotopes which he said would drop sharply in price with widespread use. Radioactive carbon, for example, now sells for $22,000 per curie, Libby said. He said a price of $110 per curie might become possible with volume production. The curie is a measure of radiation. Libby predicted vast new uses for radio isotopes in the years ahead.

Blank Audience

DENVER (AP)—Bowling to previous demands by spectators, the Denver City Council switched its seating arrangement to permit all members to face the audience. The experiment might have worked except for one detail—no outsiders attended the meeting.

A Bible Thought For Today

Notwithstanding the LORD stood with me, and strengthened me; that by me the preaching might be fully known, and that all the Gentiles might hear: and I was delivered out of the mouth of the lion. (2 Timothy 4:17)

Politics Instead Of Issues

There were some revealing votes in the jockeying leading up to final defeat of the federal school aid bill, which went down in the House the other day by a margin of five votes — 203 for, 208 against.

The bill's author, Rep. Kelley (D-Pa.), promptly blamed President Eisenhower for defeat of the bill. It is true more Republicans than Democrats voted nay, including the GOP whip, the assistant GOP whip, and the top Republican on the all-powerful Rules Committee. Had these three switched to support the President, who favored the bill, it would have carried 206 to 205.

Kelley insisted that if Ike had thrown his weight actively behind school aid, it would have carried easily. Instead, after the debacle, the President expressed his disappointment — not directly, but through one of his numerous press secretaries, a lady. She phrased it "great disappointment."

Actually, of course, the bill was killed when the House adopted an amendment, 136-105 prohibiting the use of federal funds in any local school district operating segregated schools. (Where were the other 190 members when this vote was tallied?) Last year this lethal provision was put in the bill in the form of a rider by Rep. Adam Powell (D-N.Y.). Last week there was a slight switch — Rep. Wainwright (R-N.Y.), performed this chore by successfully sponsoring an amendment to the same effect.

Both parties played politics with the federal aid bill. They were not so much interested in providing aid as in wringing the last bit of political advantage out of going through the motions. Again, where were the "strong advocates" of federal aid when the vote on the Wainwright amendment whose effect was to kill the bill was going on?

The same sort of politics is being played in the civil rights measure. Northern Republicans and Democrats are not so much interested in getting these drastic measures passed as in trying to protect and promote their personal political fences in their home states or districts. In many close areas the Negro vote is decisive.

There are many who regard federal aid to schools as a serious threat to state and local control of education. It would have been better had this been the pivotal consideration rather than political pulling and hauling.

Idle Minds Still Invite Trouble

A couple of youngsters were brought before juvenile authorities recently for shoplifting. They were members of what one might term substantial families. Money was no problem with the boys; the items they took were small and inconsequential. They were not kleptomaniacs, yet they seemingly took the goods just for the sake of taking.

A lot of this sort of thing goes on, and one merchant is of the opinion that it results from parents turning youngsters loose down town. He has noticed that often times parents would bring youngsters to the show long before time for the show to begin, and similarly come after them a long time after the show had completed its run.

Whether left idle downtown from this or any other cause, the youngsters have nothing better to do than to visit the various shops, and particularly those which might have playthings or trinkets on display. The temptation to handle goods is irresistible to a youngster, and after so long a time the desire to take something may also become irresistible.

Juveniles who take goods under such circumstances can't be entirely excused, but they also are not entirely to blame. Parents who steadfastly or selfishly refuse to realize that an idle mind is still the devil's workshop are asking for trouble.

The Gallup Poll

Fewer Smokers After Cancer Report

PRINCETON, N. J. — In the wake of the latest American Cancer Society report linking cigarette smoking with lung cancer, a national survey of smoking habits reveals these pertinent facts: Forty-two per cent of the adult civilian population — or some 43,000,000 adults — smoke cigarettes today. This does not include servicemen abroad or persons under 21.

A 1954 Institute survey, completed just before the American Cancer Society made its interim report, showed 45 per cent of civilian adults smoking cigarettes — or some 46,000,000.

Whereas in 1954, 57 per cent of men smoked cigarettes, today's survey figure is 52 per cent.

The average number of cigarettes smoked a day is 18, or two less than the regular pack of 20. In 1954, the average was a pack a day.

Since the cancer report was made public on June 4, one per cent of cigarette smokers who said they were familiar with the report have quit smoking.

When those cigarette smokers who are disposed to believe that cigarette smoking is one of the causes of lung cancer are asked why they go on smoking, two reasons overshadow all others:

- "Lack of will power, I can't quit."
 - "I don't want to, I enjoy smoking."
- In today's survey, all adults were first asked:
- "Do you smoke?"
- | | | |
|-----------------|-----------------|----|
| Per Cent | Yes, cigarettes | 42 |
| Yes, pipe | 5 | |
| Yes, cigars | 5 | |
| No, don't smoke | 52 | |

The figures total more than 100 per cent because some people smoke tobacco in more than one form.

Here is the nationwide comparison of adult cigarette smokers today and in 1954, by men and women and by age groups:

CIGARETTE SMOKERS	Per Cent Today	Per Cent 1954
NATIONAL	42	45
Men	52	57
Women	34	32
21-29 yrs.	52	53
30-39 yrs.	50	53
40-49 yrs.	48	45
50 yrs. & over	31	32

Farms and small towns show the lowest proportion of cigarette smokers per thousand population, big cities the highest.

Each cigarette smoker was asked how many he smokes per day. The average of all replies was 18 cigarettes, or two less than the regular pack of 20. Men averaged a pack a day, while women averaged 14.

Eighty-two per cent of the cigarette smokers interviewed told Institute reporters they had heard or read about the recent American Cancer Society report.

This group was asked:

- "Have you quit smoking since this report?"
 - Yes 1
 - No 99
- Interviewers next asked all smokers who were familiar with the report:
- "Can you tell me why you have not quit smoking?"
- Here are the replies for all smokers:
- | | | |
|---|----------------------------------|----|
| Per Cent | Don't want to, enjoy it too much | 27 |
| Lack of will power, can't quit | 26 | |
| Reports not proved | 15 | |
| Don't smoke enough to make a difference | 8 | |
| Smoking good for nerves | 4 | |
| Have cut down, plan to stop | 4 | |
| Habit too much for me to stop | 4 | |
| Eat too much when I stop | 4 | |
| Other, but not cigarettes | 1 | |
| Other reasons | 7 | |
| Don't know | 2 | |

The table adds to more than 100 per cent because some smokers gave more than one reason.

When those cigarette smokers who said they are inclined to think there is a link between cigarettes and lung cancer were asked their reasons for going on smoking, 33 per cent said it was because of lack of will power and 33 per cent said it was because they enjoyed smoking and did not want to quit.

The last question asked of all cigarette smokers:

- "Have you changed your smoking habits in the last year, or not?"
- | | | |
|----------|-----|----|
| Per Cent | Yes | 24 |
| No | 76 | |

One-third of those who said they have changed their smoking habits, or 8 per cent, said they are smoking less, as compared with 5 per cent who said they are smoking more.

Among cigarette smokers 50 years of age and over, 10 per cent said they are smoking less, while 4 per cent said they are smoking more.

A Tribute To Mutual Suspicion

WASHINGTON — If there is a London explosion it will be the disarmament talks blowing up.

The United States and Russia — while their representatives in London have talked about disarmament five months — have been building up their armaments.

It is against this background of suspicion — and getting ready, just in case — that the talks have been held, along with Britain, France and Canada.

It hardly makes for optimism about the outcome of the talks. There isn't much.

New Secretary of State Dulles has gone to London for a personal look at Harold Stassen, the American representative, has been keeping this government informed. Dulles made the trip on orders from President Eisenhower.

Officials here said Dulles will decide whether to continue the talks or call them off.

If no other reason than world opinion. Dulles may want the talks to go on so long as the Russians are willing to talk or listen.

In the end, therefore, the talks may wind up in a whisper.

Stassen hasn't actually been talking about any major disarming of this country. In a speech last week Dulles made it plain this country would keep its nuclear weapons.

Stassen has been talking about early first steps to build up some mutual trust like a suspension of nuclear tests and aerial and ground inspections.

Dulles last week even talked about opening the entire continental United States to inspection if the Russians would do the same with Russia.

This is going pretty far. And it would be a long way off in the future. And when Dulles said that, he didn't know whether Congress would ever approve of a plan like that.

Any agreement with Russia — such as another Dulles proposal on starting off with inspection limited to the Arctic Circle — would be thoroughly examined by Congress.

We Missed Considerable

NEW YORK — There are two periods in our history about which Americans are incurably romantic: "the gay nineties" and the "roaring twenties."

Time has removed from the earthly scene most of those old enough to relish the tang of the gay nineties, but millions are still alive whose youth coincided with those years of the grasshopper between the end of the first World War and the beginning of the depression — the so-called jazz age. And at the first tinkling notes of an old Irving Berlin tune, many will drop nostalgic tears in their beer.

There has been a great revival of interest in the jazz age, and many of today's serious, security-minded young people are inclined to ask rather crossly, "Just what was so wonderful about it anyway?"

They feel like maybe they have missed something. And any man or woman over 50 is inclined to feel they missed considerable.

Just what they missed is movingly told in "The Lawless Decade," by Paul Sann, executive editor of the New York Post, and George Hornby, a big bountiful prose and pictorial saga of the era of prohibited booze and the unbridled flapper.

It was the heyday of a generation which sometimes liked to call itself lost — and finally did get lost — but really merely liked to burn the candle at both ends, and live always on the edge of ecstasy.

It was a time when people tried to cure their own self-doubts by numbing the message of Emile Coue a French peace-of-mind salesman: "Day by day in every way I'm getting better and better." That was the national, as well as the individual, credo: "Everything is getting better and better." And things did "keep getting better" — until they fell apart all at once.

It was a time that believed in free love and felt sure that money could buy anything, including happiness — and most politicians.

Stock just: "We've got the best judges money can buy."

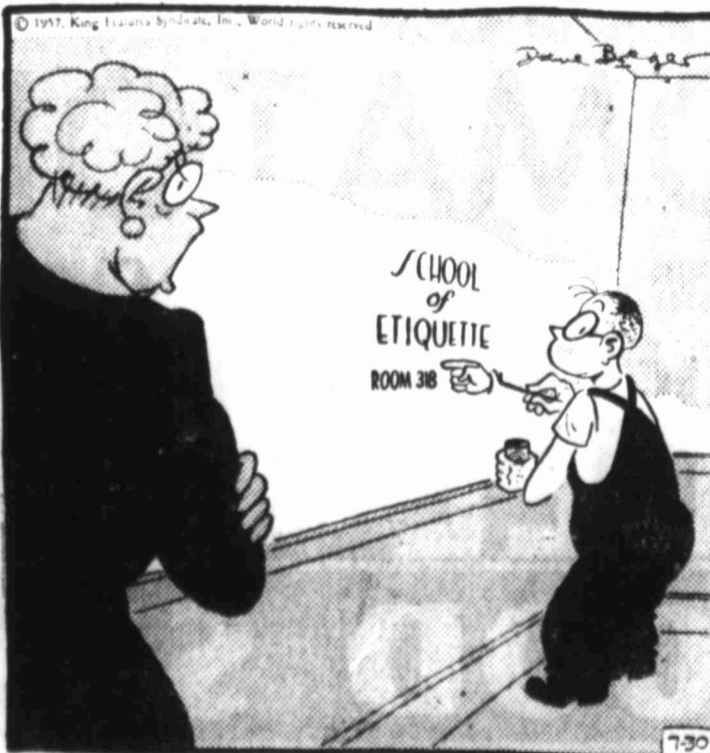

It was a time of great heroes — Gertrude Ederle, Charles Lindbergh, Jack Dempsey, Babe Ruth, Bobby Jones, Bill Tilden, Red Grange, Clarence Darrow, H. L. Mencken.

And it was a time of terrible bums, including such gangster gentry as Al (Scarface) Capone and Dutch Schultz.

There were more than 500 gangster murders during the prohibition period in Chicago alone, and Capone's beer-brothel-gambling empire reached an income of 105,000,000 in a single year. Capone told a woman reporter, "They talk about me not being on the legitime. Why, lady nobody's on the legit when it comes down to cases, you know that."

It was a time when anyone who didn't plunge in Wall Street was a sissy. And it all came to an end after the October panic of 1929 started selling waves that wiped out 30 billion dollars in paper value. The depression was the hangover that followed.

Around The Rim

Can't Hear? Simple, Get An Aid

Occasionally I hear someone proudly announce that he or she doesn't have to wear glasses.

Neither do I. I could leave 'em off and go stumbling around over chairs and things. I could do without reading or writing. Of course, I'd get pretty hungry since I eke out my bread and margarine by writing.

So everytime I wipe off the dust and grime from the lens and rehook the things over my shell-like ears, I mentally thank Roger Bacon. Then I add a second bit of appreciation for Ben Franklin.

Bacon, you see, is credited with having invented glasses. Back in the 13th century, relatively few people read anything because the bulk of the population was illiterate. The majority of folk worried at the most ordinary tasks with their hands and worked only in sunlight. If the eyesight of some ordinary citizen began to fail, he was just out of luck. When it got so he couldn't do his job, he was given his choice — either starve to death or mooch off his friends and relatives.

Bacon, who was not illiterate — indeed, he was probably the most literate man of his time — found the daylight too brief for the full pursuit of his reading and writing. His eyes began to fail by weak, flickering candlelight. He applied the knowledge he had of the science of optics and made himself a pair of glasses.

Five hundred years later, another voracious reader and diligent writer — one Benj. Franklin, Esq., journalist — dreamed up the idea of bi-focals. That fixed it where Ben could see satisfactorily at a distance, and read at close hand with equal facility without changing his specs.

Today, if you'll look around, about six out of every 10 persons who are 30 years of age or older wear spectacles. No one pays any attention to the presence or absence of the glasses. When I started wearing the things, I had them on a week before anyone in the office even noticed.

You have some eye problem; so you get yourself a pair of glasses. It's that simple.

How about if you have a little trouble hearing?

In its own field, deafness is just as annoying and troublesome as faulty vision. It is irritating to have to strain every faculty to follow a casual conversation or to miss half the dialogue in a play or a motion picture.

Devices have been invented which help overcome this handicap very much as spectacles correct defects in vision.

There are just about as many people, I believe, who hear poorly as there are those who have difficulty seeing.

But you notice only a few hearing aids in use — indeed, they are so rarely used that the person who wears one is made just a little conspicuous.

I remember when I was a boy, the kids in school who had weak eyes and were forced to wear glasses were subjected to ribbing by callous youngsters. "Four Eyes" was one of the nicknames hurled at them. Today, so many boys and girls wear glasses that no one pays the slightest attention.

I suppose that hearing aids are going through a comparative era. I am sure that within a few years — especially since the discovery of those marvelous little electronic devices called transistors — hearing aids will probably be about as common as horn-rims are today. Already the gadgets have shrunk in size until they are barely noticeable. They even fit into the earpieces of spectacles. Tomorrow, the entire piece of equipment — microphone, amplifier and all — may be no larger than a bean.

Then, I think, all of us who have faulty ears will provide ourselves with these gadgets and things which will be better all around.

Mexico's Fabulous University

MEXICO CITY. — A tourist from north of the border scarcely lets his flaps down in Mexico until some proud citizen is urging him to visit the University of Mexico.

Now there are travelers so allergic to another cathedral or university that the very thought brings on an advance case of aching arches. Buy my advice to the tourist: invited to inspect the University of Mexico is to run, not walk, to the fastest means of transportation to this extraordinary institution on the outskirts of the city.

Paradoxically, this university, the oldest on the continent, boasts a new physical plant that is a stunning tour de force of modern architecture, fine art and education. Mexico's Jose College gets his higher education in a university like none other in the world — a sweeping panorama of lawns, glass, colonnades, splendid mosaics and murals and color, color, color everywhere.

Founded by royal charter more than 400 years ago, the university was housed in a conglomeration of buildings (the School of Medicine carried on in the old headquarters of the Holy Inquisition) until Mexico in 1950 began a new home for the university on an ancient lava bed. Two years later, it was open for business in a group of buildings and on a campus that can only be described as magnificent.

The university is still building, but it already houses 16 professional schools and 20 institutions of research in the most modern of classrooms and laboratories, not to mention a "futbol" stadium that seats 100,000 aficionados with auto parking space to match.

The whole of Mexico joined to create an unrivaled campus, with the nation's foremost architects, artists and engineers giving their services without pay. Even the contractors returned 10 per cent of their take.

To date, the great concourse of buildings with their superb artistic embellishments, has cost only $30,000,000. I doubt if it could be duplicated back home for many times that sum.

The central library alone is worth a trip to the campus. All four sides of this building are emblazoned with native stone mosaic murals. The facade, a dazzling triumph of art and color, depicts the heavens as charted by Ptolemy and Copernicus.

Students attend classes in theatre-type classrooms and lectures in auditoriums equipped for simultaneous translation. They study in 37 branch libraries conveniently located about the campus, and lunch in 17 cafeterias into which classic and semi-classic music is piped. No rock 'n' roll!

On a 1,800-acre campus (less than a half has been developed to date), there are in addition to the university buildings and the stadium, two baseball diamonds, a dozen handball courts, 14 football fields, and a swimming pool more than two blocks long that includes an Olympic course. The campus also includes 4,500 teachers, or one to every 8½ students — a ratio unmatched in the Ivy League.

And what is the cost of this to Mexican students? Well, amigos, hold your sombrero! The tuition, according to the school in which the student is enrolled, varies from $14 to $16 per annum. The university's own endowment funds and the government take up the financial slack.

The foreign student pays approximately 10 to 11 times as much tuition as the Mexican student; it varies from $150 to $180 per year. This is at least a partial explanation for the 2,000 American students enrolled in the university.

Mexico looks to her great university, in which about 35,000 students are now enrolled, to supply her with the substantial middleclass she needs so badly to meet the problems of the 30.

Humphrey Leaves With Flags Flying

WASHINGTON. — With high prosperity and virtually full employment throughout the nation George M. Humphrey is retiring as Secretary of the Treasury to return to the steel business.

There are critics who question the validity of this prosperity and others who take a jaundiced view of "tight money" and the rising spiral of prices. They believe that Humphrey's successor, Robert B. Anderson, is inheriting a task calculated to frighten the most stout-hearted champion of the Humphrey policies.

But the Secretary is leaving with all flags flying. For four and a half years he has been the most influential figure in President Eisenhower's inner circle. While he picked his own successor he intends to stay away from even the remotest suggestion of influence on Anderson. His last days in the Treasury have been spent saying no to literally hundreds of quests to write articles, make speeches and give interviews.

Humphrey felt he owed it to the National Steel Corporation to take over its direction, having overstayed his time in government, as he had originally fixed it, by two and a half years. What is more he has long been telling the President that the old man in his Cabinet should make way for younger men. Otherwise, as Humphrey has said again and again, the administration will end up looking worn out and tired, facing the past rather than the future.

As the retiring Secretary sees it, he has a big job to do and he will concentrate on it. His only public appearances in the coming year will be two or three speeches at Republican fund-raising dinners and they will be straight party line stuff. Nevertheless, for one who was reluctant to enter government, regarding it as alien and even enemy territory, Humphrey is leaving with real regret.

Many attempts have been made to pin him down in the political target area. For a variety of reasons these have largely failed. One reason is his warm, expansive personality. Another is the kindness of the press toward this business administration.

Humphrey has been more or less immune even as the fiscal policies of the administration have come under increasing fire. Economic analysts, out of the Roosevelt-Truman era, such as Leon Keyserling and Robert Nathan, are saying that the over-all figures on prosperity conceal what is really a selective prosperity and a selective deflation with the rate of growth of production falling far short of the growth in the working force.

They point to price rises in capital goods — 20 per cent for iron and steel before the latest $6 a ton increase — far in excess of wage increases and their charts show that capacity to produce is more and more outrunning the ability of the consumer to buy.

The most direct attack came in an investigation by the Senate Finance Committee with Senator Robert S. Kerr in his most flamboyant Oklahoma style firing away at the Secretary. Humphrey was not happy under that fire. In the middle of it came a report by a subcommittee, headed by Representative Wilbur Mills of Arkansas, of the Senate-house economic committee recognizing the "tight money" policy as a weapon against inflation. Much of the steam went out of the investigation, which had in any event lacked resources to pry behind the obvious.

Special Formula For Good Complexion

Michele Morgan, France's top actress, chats with Lydia Lane about Hollywood, which she knows well, and Paris. She gives the secret of her fabulously beautiful complexion. She is soon to be seen in MGM's "The Purple Harvest."

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Good Skin Reflection Of Your Good Health

By LYDIA LANE PARIS — Michele Morgan is the most popular actress in France and has been on the top of her annual poll for the last seven years. Many of her French pictures have been shown in the art houses in the United States, but MGM's "The Purple Harvest" is her first English-speaking picture in a long time. Michele knows California well for she was once married to Hollywood's Bill Marshall and lived in the U. S. for several years. But I did not have the pleasure of meeting her then so I was so delighted when she took time from her busy schedule to call on me at my hotel here.

I complained how rich everything was. "Our food is very simple," Michele protested. "It's only the famous chef who has the skill to make gourmet dishes. The average French woman does not have the time to cook so elaborately. We are becoming increasingly careful of our figures. Bread," she announced, "is going out of fashion."

It was a lovely day and even in the afternoon sun Miss Morgan's complexion was clear, pink and flawless. "How do you manage to have such a perfect skin when you constantly wear make-up?" I asked. "My plan is a simple one," she said, with her crisp English, almost devoid of accent. "I use three oils. I much prefer them to creams. For cleansing I use mineral oil. It removes my make-up more thoroughly than anything I have ever tried. When I am in the sun or skiing I use a suntan oil and the rest of the time for lubrication I buy oil of almond at the pharmacist. The water in Paris is soft," she explained, "and one does not have the battle with skin dryness that one has when the water is chlorinated."

But I think a good skin is a reflection of your good health," Michele commented. "It is also the reflection of your ability to breathe properly. I think you'll find anyone who knows how to breathe will have good coloring. Most people do not pay enough attention to how they breathe. With the bad air one finds in cities today a shallow intake creates a sad lack of oxygen. I have done a little yoga which has been very helpful to me," she explained. I asked her favorite exercise. "You stand erect and flop over putting your head against your knees and your hands on your feet. As you go down you exhale and hold your breath. You hold this position as long as you can. This pushes all the stale air from your lungs. If you do this when you are tired or have been in a crowded auditorium you can feel your body respond to this fresh supply of oxygen."

It was time for Michele to go. "Breath is a fascinating subject," she said. "Controlled breathing breaks tension—it is a way to health and beauty and more people should know about it."

EUROPEAN BEAUTY AIDS Many of Hollywood's most beautiful actresses are imports from foreign lands. And many attribute their beauty to secrets which have been in the family for generations. Two such stars are Vera Ralston and Ilona Massey, who want to share these secrets with American women. One of the following leaflets may interest you: M-42. Vera Ralston's Beauty Recipes from the Old World. Features a special treatment to remove discolored spots or freckles. M-59. Dior Designs In Bathtub

PARIS (AP) — Christian Dior does most of his dress designing in the bath and in bed. He considers that he missed his real vocation as an architect, and hates and fears each new season's opening show. Extremely superstitious, he largely credits luck with putting him on top of the fashion world. These are a few of the revelations in a new book, "Christian Dior and Me," by Christian Dior, to be published in the United States next September. In his "split-personality" autobiography, Dior treats his professional self, now ten years old, as a separate individual. The distinction is sometimes a coy one, and Dior does not always succeed in convincing the reader that he is the modest man he loves to personify. He subscribes to the old French critique that American women are so impeccable they tend to uniformity, but admits: "The constant care that American women take to be beautiful results in the fact that they really are beautiful."

The New Look dressmaker tells how timidly he embarked on his venture, with the backing of French textile king Marcel Boussac. Nothing, he declares, can be so happy as the happiness with which he heard the storm of applause which ended his first show. Dior says he has been told: "I have a terrible professional way of looking at women. Before my eyes, they feel undressed. But they are wrong. I content myself with dressing them differently." Some 25,000 people, mostly women, sit through collections in the Dior salons every season. Those who come to "rinse their eyes" and not to buy are called "swallows" by the designer and his staff, and Dior claims he instructs his sales women not to harass them.

Baby Has Choice Of Breakfast Menus

Baby's breakfast menu is fast becoming as varied as his dinner. Bacon 'n eggs, Dad's favorite for years, has been translated for the infant palate. Strained egg yolk and bacon is the latest in a new line of early morning treats for the youngster. For those little ones who like a heartier dish upon waking, there is a new strained breakfast of cereal, eggs and bacon. Just a month or so ago, a junior breakfast of similar combination was introduced on the national market; and its popularity among toddlers prompted this smoother, more delicately flavored version for those on their first solid foods.

Styles In Paris Show Emphasize Sex Appeal

By NADEANE WALKER PARIS (AP) — Short skirts just covered the knees, and the bustline was busy in the Jean Patou collection displayed at the Paris fall and winter fashion shows began. A certain emphasis was laid on sex appeal in the first fashion show. It was a collection that featured black lace, gold lame and tight sheaths for evening and cocktail wear. The favored daytime ensemble was a woolen dress with short jacket tapered to the hip, bundled over with a fur-lined matching coat. Tawny tans, dark plaids, charcoal gray, warm chestnut brown and clear bright red for informal wear gave way to black and gold for after-dark. Patou, whose designer is Marc Bohan, showed short skirts last season, and is sticking to his guns. The new collection has more bows than anyone could count — sometimes dozens on the same dress. Overcoats have a square line, with padded shoulders, and rimmed with fur from neck to hem. Buttons are stuck in odd places — inside the elbow bend on coat sleeves, just under the bustline on dresses. The waistline is slightly slack in suits and daytime dresses, but cinched for evening. An inset midriff section gives a loose corselet effect. Neat, flat panels sometimes

Young Mom Wows Greeting Card Market

GREENWICH, Conn. (AP) — Pert, blonde Lee Adorney runs a good-sized country home, takes care of four small children, pampers her New York adman husband—and in her spare time turns out a line of greeting cards which have caught on like wildfire among the modern-minded off-beat customers. A former fashion illustrator, Lee met her husband, Charles, while both were students at Pratt Institute in Brooklyn. She wanted a home and children, and acquired them with no delay. But was that any reason to sink into a rut of unrelieved domesticity? Not for Lee. When she was approached by the owners of a bookstore in nearby Darien to work up some sketches for a new line of greeting cards, Lee got out her sketch pad and went to work. The result was a gremlin-like little character who promptly was christened Ad-Lib, looks like nothing human, but seems to have a strange appeal for the more sophisticated sector of the general public. After an enthusiastic initial response from the public, Ad-Lib graduated to the sponsorship of a national greeting card manufacturer, and soon will be popping up all over the country. The first batch of 36 cards, done in black and white, covered every-day occasions such as birthdays, anniversaries, birth congratula-

Artist At Work Greeting card artist Lee Adorney has a built-in cheering section composed of Mark, 8, who holds Tommy, 1, Kathy, 5, and Johnny, 3, all ardent fans of Mom's sketches. Above is one of her characters lamenting a friend's illness.

Ex-Convict Held

Raymond F. Ohlson, left, a 20-year-old ex-convict, enters prison in Brockton, Mass., after being booked for the woodlands stabbing deaths of two brothers. The bodies of Edward P. Logan, 11, and his 12-year-old brother, John, nude and partially charred, were found hidden under a smoldering layer of twigs and branches in a public park. Unidentified police officer at right is carrying bathing trunks of the youngsters found a short distance from Ohlson's home.

Funeral Set For Woodland Victims

BROCKTON, Mass. — A grief-stricken father today prepared for the funeral of his two young sons, alleged victims of a convicted sex offender. In Brockton, Jean L. Logan said he is resigned to "letting the law take its course" against Raymond F. Ohlson, 20-year-old saw-factory worker, who pleaded innocent yesterday to the brutal stabbing of Logan's sons, Edward, 11, and John, 12, last Friday. The Logan boys were stabbed after being forced at knifepoint to leave a public pond and march into a wooded area. Twigs and brush were piled over their nude bodies and set afire. Searchers found the bodies Saturday, roped together at the wrists. Ohlson was released from Concord Reformatory last June 7 after serving six years of a 10-year sentence for sexually assaulting a 12-year-old boy in 1950. His case was continued to Aug. 8 and he was taken, heavily manacled, to Plymouth County Jail at nearby Plymouth.

Court Works On Easements

Howard County Commissioners were in special session Tuesday working on plans to close the current drive for easements on U.S. Highway 80 east. Several right-of-way contracts are yet to be signed before this major road improvement program can be cleared. The commissioners are to meet again on Wednesday to personally visit some of the property owners involved in a new effort to obtain easements as quickly as possible. Originally, the state has set July 20 as deadline for the county to clear all right-of-way for the road job. However, it was found that some of the property involved has changed hands and that easements from the new owners must be secured. This resulted in an extension of the deadline but the county and the state is eager to complete the task as quickly as possible. Ben Wilkinson, state highway department engineer, was in conference with the commissioners Tuesday. He will also be on hand on Wednesday to further assist in the work.

Laymen Urged To Evangelism

Baptist laymen of District No. 8 were urged to a dominant desire for soul-winning at their annual meeting here Monday. Approximately 300 attended from a score of churches. "The secret of any life is its dominant desire," Dr. Forrest C. Frazier, Dallas, executive secretary of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, told the men in the concluding message. "Christ's dominant desire was to save men, and that ought to be the dominant desire of every Christian." Fred McCaulley, Atlanta, Ga., representing the home mission board, sounded the rallying cry for more personal evangelism. "Christians take too much for granted," he declared. "We take for granted that the man next to us is also a Christian — and too often we are wrong."

Yarborough Scores Texas Tech Ouster

WASHINGTON — The firing of three professors at Texas Tech College was termed a departure from Democratic principles yesterday by Sen. Ralph Yarborough. Yarborough referred to the refusal to renew the contracts of Dr. Byron Abernethy, Dr. Herbert Greenberg and Dr. Per Stansland. "It is plain that these highly qualified and competent men were not fired for inefficiency," he said. "They were discharged for exercising their constitutional right of free speech. There are certain people and interests in Texas who want to deny all school teachers their right of free speech. These persons and interests are afraid of an informed electorate."

Todd said he was told his wife could leave the hospital in a few days.

The project has been approved by the commission and Jake Roberts, district engineer, has announced that the route will be surveyed in the immediate future. Lake Charges Due To Change On Saturday

Saturday should be the first day for payment of boating fees and increased fishing charges at Moss Creek Lake, city officials reported. It depends now on printers. The new fees for boating and increased fishing charges were authorized by the city commission last Tuesday night as parts of the new ordinance regulating conditions at Moss Creek. Passed as an emergency ordinance, it required only the one reading whereas a regular ordinance takes three readings on successive meetings. Effective date on any ordinance is dependent on its being published, and the second and final publishing of this ordinance will be Friday in the Herald. Thus, it should take effect Saturday. However, the fees will not be changed if the new permits are not printed. H. W. Whitney, city manager, said this morning that the printers had not returned the new permits, marked 50 cents per day for boating and a like amount for fishing.

Cards Pressurize Braves In Race

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell, who has been either very good or very bad so far, looks as though he has his "comeback" in the bag as the St. Louis Cardinals continue to put the pressure on Milwaukee in that National League pennant race.

He went 11 innings to beat Cincinnati 4-3 and pitched the Cardinals into the lead July 5. And it was he who gave up that grand slam home run to Gil Hodges in the wild ninth inning at Brooklyn July 18 as the Dodgers beat the Cards in 11 and dumped them out of first place.

Last night, the 26-year-old lefty did all he could to help regain the lead, pitching a two-hitter that beat Pittsburgh 4-0. It was the eighth victory—and third shutout—in 10 games for the Cards, who stayed second as Milwaukee staged a four-run ninth-inning rally and then pushed over a 10th-inning run to beat the New York Giants 9-8.

That left the Braves three percentage points ahead of the Cards and put them two games up on idle Brooklyn. The Dodgers' hold on third place was shaved to half a game as the Philadelphia Phillies, behind Robin Roberts' four-hitter, defeated the Chicago Cubs 6-0.

In the American, southpaw Billy Pierce won his 15th with a four-hitter as the second-place Chicago White Sox trimmed Baltimore 5-0. Boston beat Cleveland 6-2 in the only other game scheduled.

Only two men reached base against Mizell, who gave up a single to Dick Groat and a double to Frank Thomas with two out in the fourth, then counted Roman Mejias among his six strikeouts to end the frame. It was the third victory of the month for Mizell, who moped into July with a 1-6 record.

Wally Moon drove in two runs for the Cards, who managed just two runs, one unearned, off Charley (Whammy) Douglas despite seven walks in five innings from the young, one-eyed right-hander called up from Columbus of the American Assn. Sunday.

The Braves made it 11 out of 13 with a bases-loaded, two-out walk in the 10th after scoring four in the ninth to get a tie. Del Crandall's 13th homer triggered the rally, which brought the tying run home on an error. Two walks sandwiched Crandall's single in the 10th before Felix Mantilla, pinch-hitting in his first appearance since a July 11 injury, worked lineup reliever Al Worthington for the payoff pass on a 2-3 pitch.

Wes Covington's two-run homer had given starter Warren Spahn a 3-2 lead in the fourth, but home runs by Daryl Spencer and Ray Jablonski homered to chase the lefty and Willie Mays then homered for a 5-4 New York lead before the Giants added three more in the ninth. Bob Trumbarger won it for the Braves.

Roberts was at his best winning his second in a row—after seven straight defeats—for the Phils to gain an 8-13 record. He walked three and struck out six, while gaining his first shutout since July 14, 1956.

Rookie Harry Anderson, who had three singles, drove in two runs for the Phils, tagged Don Elston with the defeat with a first-

Jackson Is Hospitalized Following Ring Reversal

EAST MEADOW, N. Y. — Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, TKO'd by heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson last night, was rushed to a hospital early today, suffering from a urinary complaint.

His condition was described as fair at Meadowbrook hospital.

Whether the condition stemmed from blows suffered in his unsuccessful title quest was not known immediately.

His mother, Mrs. Georgia Jackson, took the boxer to the hospital by automobile at 4:30 a.m. Jackson told hospital attendants he "felt bad."

Jackson's temperature was 102 when admitted, but subsided later to near normal.

Asked whether the 25-year-old fighter was mentally alert, doctors said he was under medication.

They undertook a series of chemical, X-ray and microscopic tests to pin down the exact nature of his ailment and the possible cause.

Dr. George Erickson, assistant superintendent of the hospital, said the ailment was marked by blood in the urine.

"He had, of course, signs of being in the fight, but it wasn't any head injury that brought him here," the doctor said.

To a question whether the ailment might have been caused by punches to the kidneys, doctors said they did not know.

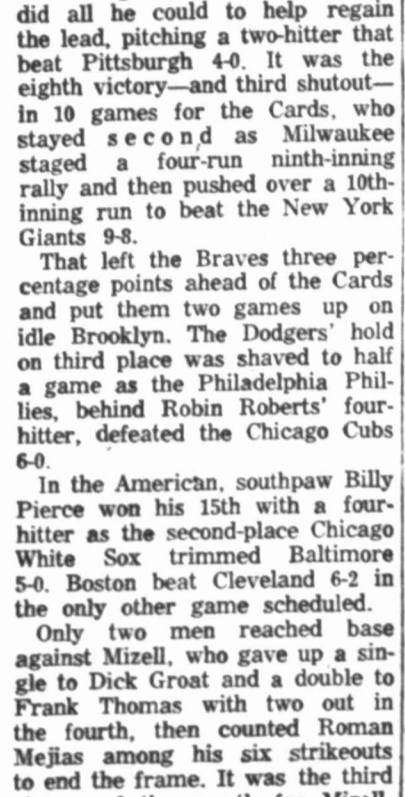

Neither would they say whether the ailment might have had its inception prior to the fight.

When examined at noon yesterday in preparation for the fight, Jackson's pulse was 74 at rest. It had been 66 at rest last week at his training camp.

The higher rate yesterday "shows a slight tension," Dr. Samuel Swetnick of the New York State Athletic Commission, said at the time.

Jackson reportedly walked with difficulty on arriving at the hospital. He had been wobbling on his feet when Referee Ruby Goldstein ended the fight in the 10th round on a technical knockout by Patterson.

Jackson lives in St. Albans, Queens, adjacent to Nassau County where the hospital is located.

IMPRESSIVE START Andrews AL Wins Tourney Opener

The Andrews American League team stamped themselves as the team to beat in the Area 3 Little League playoffs by beating the Andrews National League, 1-0, in an extra inning of play.

Skinner Frazier pitched two-hit ball in the victory. He gave the Nationals few scoring opportunities.

Almost as tough was the hurler of the Nationals, Bob Moore, who gave up seven hits but kept them well scattered until the seventh, when Emery Smith and Mike Compton doubled in succession.

The Nationals Leagueurs had a scoring opportunity in the last half of the inning when Joe Rhodes drove out a single after two men had been retired but Frazier struck out Jimmy Bailey to end the game.

The Americans had numerous scoring opportunities but couldn't crash through until the seventh. They put two runners aboard in the first, two in the third, one in the fourth, three in the fifth and three in the sixth.

Larry Hinton had the only other National Leagueurs' hit, a sixth-inning single.

Burl Greaves led the Americans' batting offensive with two singles.

In action tonight, all three Big Spring teams will take the field. The Big Spring Americans play the Big Spring Texans at 5:30 o'clock while at 7:30 p.m. the Big Spring Nationals take on the Andrews Americans.

More Than 100 Due To Attend 6-Man Clinic

ABILENE (SC) — More than 100 coaches from the state's smaller high schools are expected to arrive here at McMurry College Wednesday afternoon for the 1957 coaching clinic of the Six-Man Football Coaches Association of Texas. The clinic will run through Friday night.

Vanguard of the coaching school — 48 all-star football and basketball players from all over the state and four coaches — arrived here Sunday. Divided into East and West squads, they began two-day drills Monday morning in preparation for the all-star games to be played in basketball and football at 8 o'clock Thursday and Friday nights, respectively.

Coaches for the basketball all-stars are Doyle Jones of Harleton for the East, and Jiggs Jackson of Cotton Center for the West.

The East football squad is under the tutelage of T. L. Jones of China, and the Western gridlers are being coached by W. L. Young of Sterling City. Both of these coaches turned out regional six-man champions at their respective schools last season.

After registration Wednesday afternoon, the first scheduled activity for the coaches is a banquet at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the McMurry dining hall. Film highlights from Six-Man and Southwest Conference football will be shown.

Schedule for Thursday and Friday includes lectures on various phases of athletics, in addition to football workouts at McMurry Stadium and basketball drills in the college gymnasium. The practice sessions are open to the public.

Claude Morrison of Bula, president of the Six-Man Coaches Association, will preside. The clinic is under the general direction of E. A. Works of Afton, executive-secretary. P. E. Shottwell, McMurry athletic director, is in charge of arrangements at the host college.

In addition to the all-star squads, announced Monday, include Ray Pinion of Salina, Cotton Dismore of Norton, James Hill of Mount Calm, Louis McCorkle of Collinsville, and Darrell Leger of China, all joining the East football squad.

West football squad additions are Jerry Brown of Dawson, Jonie Lopez of Miami, and Pat Brunton of Forsan.

Additional cagers are Arvin Stroud of Cotton Center for the West, and Thomas Dunn of Splendor, James Johnson of Oakland, Billy Neu of China and Jackie DeFoor of North Side (Vernon) for the East.

49ers Ink Gene Babb Of Texas

MORAGA, Calif. (AP)—The San Francisco 49ers, always on the lookout for speedsters, found a rookie back yesterday.

Twenty-eight year-old Gene Babb of Dallas, Texas, was signed by the 49ers for one year and a $25,000 guarantee.

This adds up to $425,000 for the one-time wayward boy who is following in the footsteps of Joe Louis on boxing's golden trail.

Weighing the heaviest of his career at 184 pounds and punching with blinding speed, Patterson won his 19th straight victory and may have ended the fistic career of the fighter known as the "Animal" in boxing circles.

They call Jackson "Animal" because of his ability to absorb punishment and his tremendous stamina. But he took too much for any best before Referee Ruby Goldstein ended the bout at 1:52 of the 10th with the protesting Jackson wobbling but on his feet.

The 25-year-old, 192½-pound challenger from New York had been dropped three times previously, and had been rocked from head to toe in almost every round by Patterson's violent bursts. His face was battered and bleeding.

There was some confusion at the ringside over the counts of the knockdowns but Goldstein said afterwards Jackson was up at the count of one in the first round (the bell sounded to end the round), three in the second round and four in the ninth.

Goldstein and Judges Bill Recht and Joe Angelo all had Patterson ahead 9-0 scores until the rout was halted.

Randy Owens Quits

MELVIN (AP)—Randy Owen has resigned as coach of Melvin High School. Superintendent K. O. Ellington said he was looking for a man to coach both football and basketball.

It will be Brown's first fight since he successfully defended his title against Orlando Zuleta last month in Denver.

The bout is part of a boxing show being staged for the Babe Zaharias Cancer Fund.

World's Highest Dam

The Bhakra Dam, being built in a gorge of the Sutlej River 225 miles north of New Delhi, India, will be the world's highest — 740 feet — when it is completed in 1960. It will be 1,700 feet wide at the top. The $135,000,000 dam—entirely Indian financed—was started in 1948. U.S.-made equipment and American engineers are being employed along with hundreds of Indian engineers and 8,000 Indian laborers.

Soviet Cattle Uncooperative

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press Foreign News Analyst

Nikita Khrushchev vows to use milk, meat and butter as a battering ram to smash through capitalism. But he may be headed for serious trouble, because Soviet cattle don't seem to be cooperating.

After defeating his Kremlin foes the Communist party chief's big bid for public support is a promise that the U.S.S.R. by 1960 will catch up with the United States in per capita meat, butter and milk production.

If he means this and really tries it, he may destroy his own power in the effort. If he doesn't mean it, he will add one more to the long chain of broken promises made to an increasingly aware Soviet public.

The Kremlin's big butter and meat man won his purge victory by a slim margin. There is no reason to assume the struggle is over. Strong opposition remains to any threat of cutback in Soviet heavy industry, which builds military and world political power. But without a serious cutback, Khrushchev has little hope of achieving his consumer goals for decades to come.

Khrushchev began whooping up the meat-butter-milk theme in the spring in regional farm conferences. At one of these, he said milk and meat output would fashion "the battering ram with which we will smash through the capitalist system and consolidate the Socialist (Communist) camp."

At another meeting, with another metaphor, Khrushchev exclaimed: "We are not intending to destroy the capitalist world with bombs. If we overtake the U.S. level of per capita meat, butter and milk production, we will fire a mighty torpedo against capitalist rule."

But there are shoals ahead. Despite Moscow reports of huge economie gains, there is evidence this year's grain crop will be many millions of tons below last year's bumper output. This promises to aggravate the main Soviet agricultural problem — severe shortages of animal fodder.

What's the matter with Soviet food production? It's an old story. The farmer is at the bottom of the economic ladder. He has received little but promises of future rewards. Rapid industrialization of the U.S.S.R. has been at his expense. He pays now for the emphasis on heavy industry.

The peasant often has little interest in the collective farm into which he has been regimented. His attitude is likely to be: "It's not my cow and its not my equipment."

Collective farm deliveries of products to the state at virtually confiscatory prices in the past all but extinguished peasant enthusiasm for cooperative farming.

Oil Bill Passed

TEHRAN (AP)—The Senate approved today a new oil bill authorizing the government to negotiate with foreign firms to exploit new oil resources in all parts of the country other than those covered by the present consortium in southwest Iran.

Queen Entertains Americans With 'Yankee' Fare

LONDON (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II entertained 5,000 Americans today at a Buckingham Palace lawn party—with hot dogs and hamburgers.

The young Queen was clearly enjoying the surprised look on the faces of members of the American Bar Assn. and their families. The traditional American fare had most of the trimmings with plenty of mustard. The only thing missing was onions.

The traditional fare at palace garden parties is tea and cake. These were served, as usual, with the hot dogs and hamburgers added to the royal menu. Buckingham Palace had never seen quite such a garden party before. The waitresses smiled faintly as they moved among the guests carrying the beautiful royal silver trays stacked with hot dogs and hamburgers.

The Queen mingled easily with the guests. She wore a black corded silk coat with white trimmings, a white corded silk dress and a white hat with pale green flowers around the crown.

Uncle Ray:
Hopi Indians Grasp Snakes During Dance

By RAMON COFFMAN
Arizona, the famed Sunshine State of the Southwest, has far more sunny days than rainy days. Perhaps that is why priests of the Hopi Indians give special honor to the god of the sun.

Q. In what way is Walpi connected with the god of the sun?
A. It is the old custom for that Hopi village to hold a February ceremony in his honor. A priest dressed to represent the sun god leaves before sunrise. He is guided by another Hopi priest.

The masked sun-god is guided back to Walpi, and enters the village just as the sun starts to rise. He visits several houses, and in each one gives the oldest woman a few beans. He bows time and time again, marks the doorway with corn meal, then goes on his way.

The sun-god also visits the kivas (pronounced KEE-vuh) which are holy rooms in the minds of the Hopi Indians.

Q. What is the Hopi snake dance?

A. It is the best known Hopi dance, and is performed in several villages during the second half of each summer. According to the medicine men, the dance helps to bring rain for crops.

Sun-god visiting home in Walpi.

As a typical example, let me describe a snake dance at Oraibi, the leading Hopi village:

Scores of men and boys mounted a holy rock, and danced there. While some of them chanted, others made motions as though they were planting corn.

The dancers went away for a short time, then returned. Half of them now held rattlesnakes in their hands. Most of the others carried wands, and these were used to poke at the snakes, as if to keep them busy biting at the wands.

About 45 minutes after the dance started, the snakes were carried down a steep slope and were set free.

Clerk Renews Fee Request

Wade Choate, district court clerk made a second effort Monday morning to get official sanction from the Howard County Commissioners' Court to increase fees for filing documents in his office.

A new law enacted by the last Legislature, now operative, provides that fees for filing in the district court clerk's office can be increased provided that such increases are authorized by the commissioners court in the county.

Higher fees might net the county $2,000 or more per annum. Choate called the court's attention to the matter some weeks ago. It was tabled at the time for further consideration. He renewed the issue on Monday. This time, the court indicated it preferred to wait until some meeting when Judge R. H. Weaver, county court, would be present. Weaver is currently on vacation.

Heat Wave Grips Texas

By The Associated Press
A heat wave gripped Texas again Tuesday.

One man went to a hospital with a heat stroke in Dallas, where the mercury soared to a record 107 degrees.

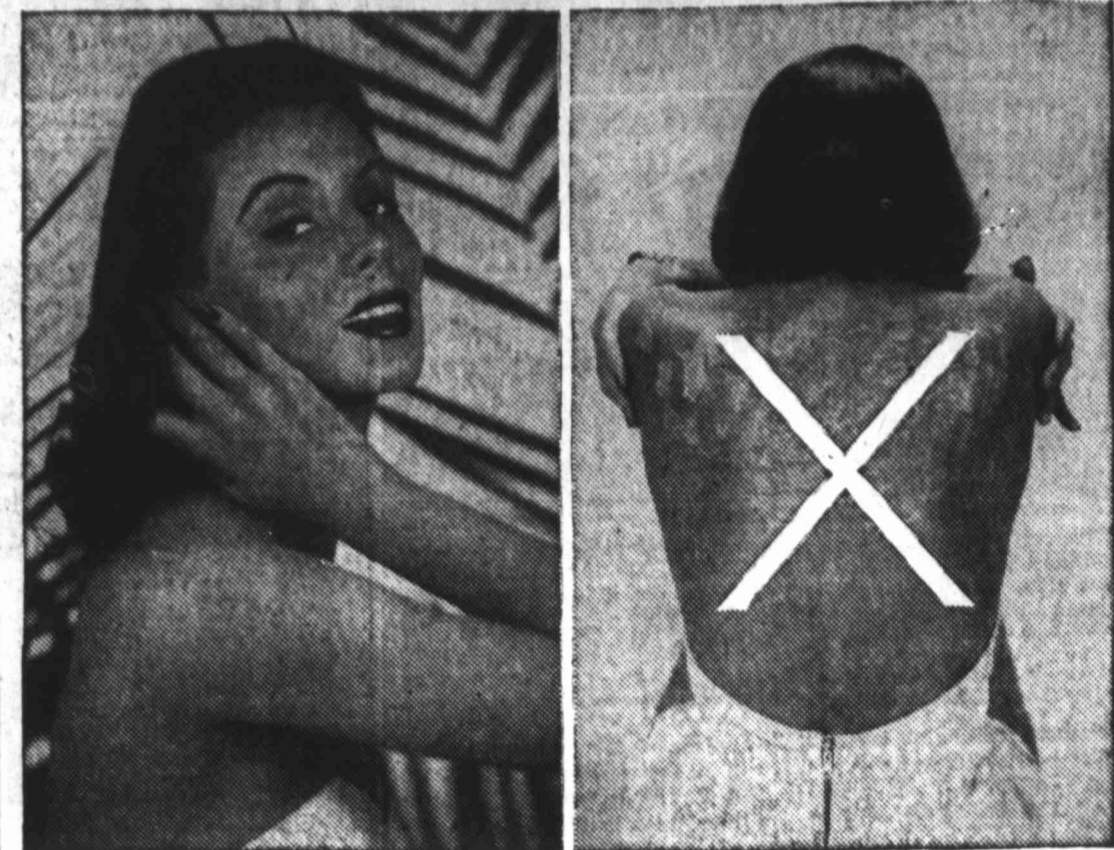

Ben Belderman, 55, was found prostrate in his clothing store. His body temperature reached 110 before he was placed in a tub of ice. His condition remained critical Tuesday.

The highest temperature Monday was 109 degrees at Presidio. The mercury soared above 100 in numerous other areas, including 106 at Childress, Mineral Wells and Wichita Falls. Waco and Cotulla had 105.

The Weather Bureau said the outlook was for more hot, dry weather. There was a chance for some isolated thundershowers. Amarillo had a late evening thundershower Monday, but the Weather Bureau said no rain was reported in the state during the night.

Dawn temperatures Tuesday ranged from 82 at Dallas, Abilene and Waco to 69 at Salt Flat.

Penney Store Opens With 'New Look'

A program of improvement and change actually under way for two years but accelerated to high speed in recent weeks will be completed today at the Big Spring J. C. Penney Company department store.

On Wednesday, the store will open to present its completed "new look" to the shoppers of Big Spring. Tuesday, the store is closed down to permit final finishing and arrangement. On Wednesday, Clift Epps, manager, and his staff cordially invite their friends to inspect the store.

Renovation of the establishment has brought it right up-to-the-minute as a merchandising center. Throughout some months, the store furniture has been in the process of replacement and now all of the old equipment which had served for many years is gone. In its place are counters, display tables, storage closets for the most modern and efficient merchandising design — all new. Shopping will be much simpler and more pleasant in the new store, Epps pointed out. Merchandise is more adequately displayed and an improved system of labelling makes it a simple task to find sizes, colors and brands.

Everything is at eye level and efficient combination of stocks in areas which take up little room but are entirely adequate will greatly facilitate the purchase of any item in the store's expanded stock.

Workmen were busy today putting the final touches. Stock is in place on most of the counters in all of the departments. Improved lighting facilities illuminate all parts of the store brilliantly. Augmented air conditioning facilities makes the establishment wonderfully pleasant on these hot summer days.

More clerks are on hand to serve the buyer. The tasteful and refined decor which has been adopted for the entire store lends a restful and hospitable air.

Rearrangement and reclassification of the departments makes it a much easier job to find the particular section wanted and the new and effective method of displaying goods provides for quick decision on the item wanted.

The mezzanine floor has been extended to provide 1,000 square feet of additional floor space. Here, too, the same attractive decorative scheme and the same highly efficient merchandising system has been added.

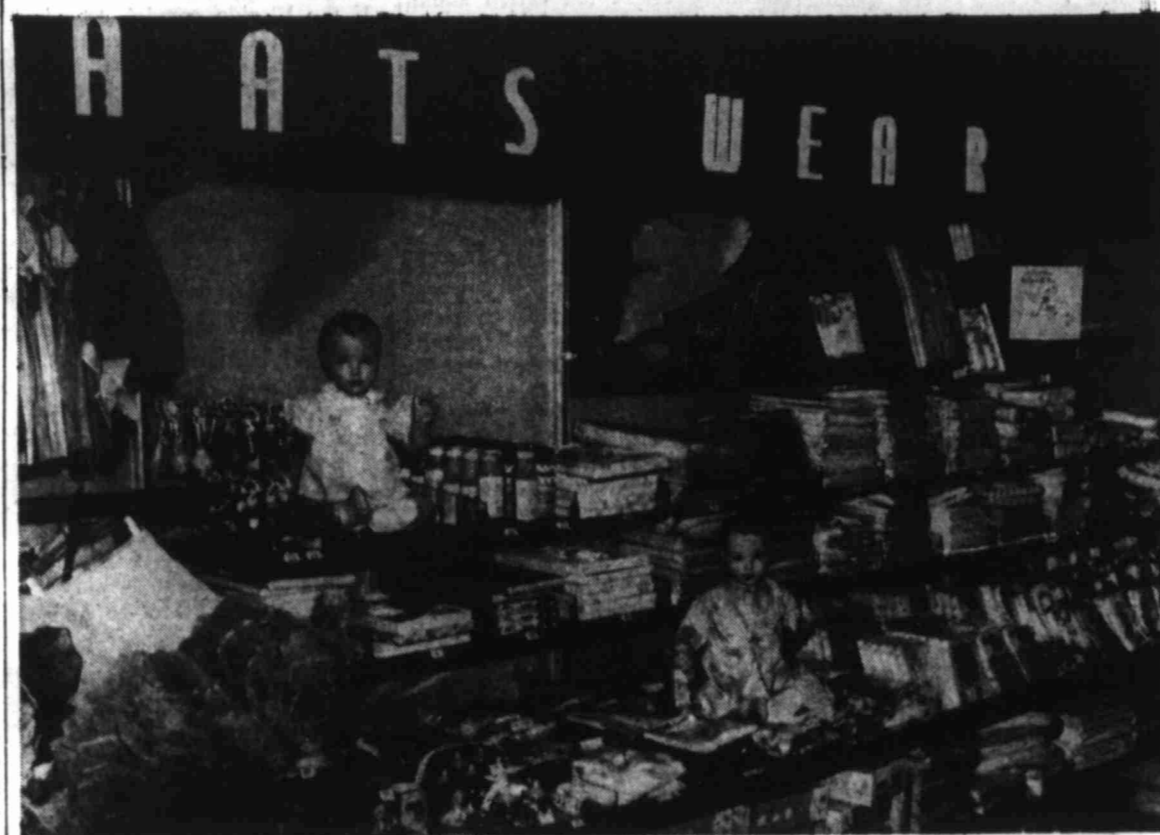

Epps believes that with the final touches today, that Big Spring J. C. Penney Company store will provide its patrons with exactly the kind of department store they have long wanted.

He and the personnel of the establishment are elated at the results achieved by their over-all program of remodeling, refurbishing and redesigning.

It's the same store, Epps points out, but, effective on Wednesday, it will have an entirely new and more modern look.

Offices Have Been Revamped

Modern stores need modern offices and the J. C. Penney Company department store in Big Spring is no exception.

Clift Epps, manager, said that as a part of the store-wide remodeling program made in the store, the offices on the mezzanine have also been revamped.

No particularly important physical changes were required. The task was more one of proper organization of the functions in the several departments, he said.

Housed on the mezzanine in a way designed to allow the greatest possible efficiency in function are the offices of the cashier, the buying department, the advertising department, and the business office.

A ladies lounge for the comfort and convenience of shoppers is also provided on this floor.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

More Floor Space Added For Women's, Infant Departments

One of the major changes wrought in the extensive remodeling program of J.C. Penney Company is in the women's ready to wear and infants' department.

This space has been increased by more than 1,000 square feet, permitting not only an easier more systematic display of goods, but also, for a greater variety of merchandise.

Against a backdrop of pleasant colors and departmental signs, there is a new layout of fixtures to facilitate the trend to semi-self service.

The infants' department has been about trebled in size, said Manager Clift Epps. All basic items will be displayed in easily accessible tables, and each stack will bear signs identifying size and price.

There will also be a line of tiny-tot furniture along with nursery accessories.

CLIFT EPPS

NEIL HATCH
Assistant Manager

Arrangement of the department is such that it would be possible — so far as clothes needs are concerned — to take a baby girl from the cradle days to grandmotherhood without leaving the floor.

This is because the girls' ready-to-wear division takes up right where the infant's wear department leaves off. Then there is a transition into the junior misses division with a sufficient overlap to exactly fit young ladies at what otherwise might be an awkward age. For example, if the girls' department doesn't have quite the type of fit desired, the different styles and cuts in the junior misses area will turn the trick.

There are displays for younger ladies and finally racks of dresses for the more elderly ladies.

Four additional dressing rooms have been provided on the balcony floor to permit ample accommodations for shoppers, said Epps.

The illumination, in keeping with a store pattern, has been more than doubled so that merchandise as well as size and price markers may be seen easily.

Background for the department is done in gray with white departmental lettering. Walls are rose and a pleasant blue-green, and the carpet is brown.

New Fixture Installation Completed Through Store

Re-design of the floor plan for the main floor of J.C. Penney Company store has been made possible through its extensive remodeling program just completed.

Multiple units of new fixtures have been added, completing an undertaking launched nearly two years ago. Now all of the store fixtures are of the low, more open type with blond finish. One, for casual selections, is on the waist high level, while others start at even lower levels. This is particularly true in such areas as those for blankets, sheets, etc. Where five counters formerly were required, two now suffice and actually do a much better job in attractive, open display of the goods.

An accessories department has been added near the front entrance, and the piece goods department has been rearranged for more functional operation.

The transfer of the infants' department to the balcony has enabled the management to establish an entirely new grouping for household furnishings—such items as draperies, curtains, pillows, upholstering materials, etc. Here new fixtures permit a much wider range of display to materials for curtains and draperies.

The general loosening of display has given more space to the shoe department and accentuated the special cases for highlighting items.

New types of display tables enable a shopper who is looking for a specific item, shirts for example, to pick out the size within a desired price range and then note the sleeve number. He doesn't have to wait for a clerk to be free to wait on him.

Rain Drenches Arid Northwest

NEW YORK (AP)—Crop-reviving rain drenched parts of the parched Northeast yesterday. But farmlands remained dry and dusty in many other areas.

Farmers hopefully read U.S. Weather Bureau predictions of more rain in the Northeastern states later this week.

A million-dollar downpour dumped more than an inch of rain on eastern Long Island. Farmers said the storm saved crops there. Heavy rain and hail also fell in Westchester and Rockland counties near New York City.

Elsewhere in New York state, heavy rains eased the drought in the northern Hudson Valley. Streams went on a rampage. Some crops were even damaged by too much water.

In Massachusetts, the State Agriculture Department reported "a lot of rain" in the central section of the state. Severe drought conditions continued in the southeastern areas, however.

Showers in New Hampshire led Gov. Lane Dwinell to lift a five-day-old ban on smoking and open fires in woodlands of five southern counties.

Light rains in parts of New Jersey did little to relieve that state's worst drought in a century.

To Star In TV Series

Richard Kiley, right, television and motion picture star, arrived in Dallas to star in a dramatic TV series to be filmed in the studios of Dallas Film Industries Inc. The TV series, titled "Indemnity," in which Kiley portrays an insurance lawyer investigating cases of insurance fraud, marks the beginning of major film production in Dallas. Giving a "Texas Flit" to the hat being worn by Kiley on his arrival are Braniff Airline stewardesses Nancy Moore, left, and Joann Johannes.

2-B Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Tues., July 30, 1957

Farmers in Dawson are busy irrigating, hoeing, plowing and poisoning. As I drove through there Saturday I never saw so much work going on. Cotton has grown a lot the last two weeks and is big enough now that it needs a watering every 12 or 14 days.

Two or three farmers I talked to in the Punkin Center and Welch communities said they had the makings of a wonderful crop. Some of it is late, but is a little ahead of the cotton in Martin and Howard. Worms are bothering quite a lot. I saw a few tractor rigs poisoning, and one airplane.

The poultry farmers are beginning to wipe those long frowns off their faces. Eggs are going up slowly but surely, and indications are the higher prices should last until Christmas at least. At Seagraves the farmers are getting about 40 cents per dozen now for large good grade eggs. A month ago they were getting only 30 to 32 cents for the same size egg.

Most of the owners of those 130 laying houses refilled them with DeKalb pullets and say they are laying more eggs than the leghorns they formerly used. The farmers are supposed to turn over most of the profits toward paying off the notes for the houses, cages and birds. Some I know are keeping up with payments or stay within a month or two them, but they also hold out enough to pay the grocery bills.

There are more farm laborers now than there are jobs, according to Roscoe Gillian of the Texas Employment Commission. They Frank Lovelace from Coahoma said he shook 23 worms off one stalk of cotton.

The country between Lee's Store and Garden City still needs water, as the recent clouds left only showers. John Schaffer got about half an inch last week, but farther west there was none.

Nate Allen says a grass fire could be started on his pasture.

The Howard County 12th Annual World's Champion Junior Rodeo will be held August 15, 16, and 17, in much the same manner as former rodeos. Two of the special events being billed are wild cow milking and goat sacking. Other events will be calf roping, bareback bronc riding, flag race, boot scramble, barrel race, bull riding and ribbon roping.

A lot of work in getting ready for the rodeo is going on now. One problem is where to get the roping

Sheppard Slaying Confession Sought

DELAND, Fla. (AP)—Dr. Samuel Sheppard's attorney prepared a statement today for Donald Wedler to sign claiming he killed Marilyn Sheppard.

If the Florida convict, 23, signs it, William Corrigan says he will file murder charges in Ohio and seek Sheppard's release from a life sentence for his wife's death.

Cleveland authorities already have discounted a confession Wedler made two weeks ago. They say his confession was just one of 26 to the slaying on July 4, 1954.

calves. Jimmy Taylor thinks the cheapest and surest method is to buy them, and says they can buy about 45 at San Angelo. The calves will cost from $35.00 to $40.00 each, but can be resold after the rodeo with practically no loss. All entries for rodeo contestants will close at 5:00 p.m. on August 14. Contestants must be 19 years of age or under and can live in any part of the country.

Crops in the Knott community look much better than they did two weeks ago. Showers have come to various parts of the community and put down enough moisture to carry crops well into August. One peculiarity of the season had been the development of a hard pan, says Edgar Airhart. He

Young Punks Hold Kangaroo Court, Execute Victim

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP)—Three young jail prisoners today were ordered arraigned on murder charges in the kangaroo court trial and execution of an older inmate for being "inhospitable."

Six prisoners were present during the trial and execution of Robert Young, 38-year-old transient from Belleville, Ill., Saturday night. Murder charges were brought against only three including the "judge" and "prosecutor." "These punks considered Young unsociable," said sheriff's Capt. Jack O'Brien. "They said they were in for 'high class' crimes and he was only a vagrant, yet he thought he was better than they were."

Young was tried Friday night. Then, after an abortive attempt at hanging him with a blanket, he was strangled by the bare hands of two of his county jail cellmates. Sheriff Earl Whitmore said.

Accused of murder were: Dan Lee Howard, 18, Los Angeles burglar and car thief who has "Born to Hate Cops" tattooed across his stomach. The sheriff said Howard was the judge and first of the executioners.

Jose Delbert Veitenheimer, 19, San Jose, Santa Clara County jail escapee. The sheriff said he was the prosecutor and the man who finished the execution.

Vernon Clark Williams, 20-year-old San Francisco messenger jailed for non-support of his divorced wife. Whitmore said Williams pinioned Young's arms during the execution.

If your lights dim when your refrigerator comes on, if heating appliances operate slug-

LINGERIE DISPLAY IN WOMEN'S DEPARTMENT
Layout typical of Penney's complete ladies' offerings

Store Designed To Fit The Community

From a series of articles about J. C. Penney Company in WOMEN'S WEAR DAILY, retailers' newspaper.

J. C. Penney fits its stores to the community they serve. This has always been Penney company thinking, but it has now been extended to the design and decor, as well as to the size and merchandise contents.

As a result, Penney stores built or renovated since the war have acquired a new individuality. The stylized facade design with the Penney name written in black against a yellow background has been abandoned. The company has also done renovation work in hundreds of its stores since 1945. Some of these underwent extensive changes.

Also true of the postwar building is a trend toward larger stores. However, Penney company stores have always varied considerably in this respect. At present, the largest store is 100 times the size of the smallest.

Penney company designs its own stores. While it strives for an attractive, colorful decor and an interesting facade, it also likes a substantial and serviceable building without frills.

What the company seeks is a clean-cut plant. This usually includes plaster walls, asphalt tile floors and open lights which are not dust collectors. The idea is to have as few corners and crevices as possible to make maintenance easy.

Company policy is to rent rather than to own store properties. However, it does have to buy on occasion in order to protect itself or to get the kind of store it wants.

In such cases, Penney usually tries to sell the property later and take back a lease. At the moment, however, Penney owns less than 80 of the 1,533 stores in the chain.

Naturally, since Penney's has stores in so many different kinds of communities, ranging in size from a few thousand population to a number of millions, it has a wide variety of lease arrangements. And company policy on lease is not standardized either. It would not make the same kind of a deal in a small country town that it would make in a big metropolitan area.

Having so many stores, Penney naturally is in every kind of location. If there is a trend, it is towards the suburbs. Most of the stores Penney has opened since World War II are in suburban areas.

However, Penney also thinks that downtown locations are still good and will continue to be good.

Penney designs its own fixtures, but has them made in various locations throughout the country. As with Penney merchandise, managers may choose their own fixtures. Merchandise arrangements in Penney company have always stressed the use of tables. This is but a short step to the type of tiered fixtures which is now becoming prominent in department stores.

Penney, too, has developed its own version of these fixtures.

In line with Penney company thinking, non-selling areas are small. The idea is to keep it about 25 per cent of total area. However, each location has its own problems and this is not always possible.

Penney officials indicated at their recent meeting that they intend to keep building. Furthermore, future expansion will stress the East.

This follows logically from the fact that Penney company started in the West 53 years ago and it has relatively more stores in that part of the country than on the East Coast.

However, Penney company is now so big and so well known that wherever it goes, it finds a reservoir of goodwill among people who at some time in their lives traded in a Penney store.

Founder

Founder and board chairman of the department chain bearing his name is James Cash Penney, who personifies a success story in the best American tradition. Son of a farmer and part-time preacher, Penney, a native of Missouri, invested $500 savings and $1,500 borrowed capital to open his first dry goods store in Kemmerer, Wyoming, in 1902. Today there are nearly 1,700 Penney stores.

Local Contractors On Penney Work

Local firms handled virtually all construction work and materials supply in the remodeling of the J. C. Penney store at 307 Main, which opens its new layout to the public Wednesday.

J. D. Jones Construction Company had the general building renovation contract. D. D. Johnson was painting contractor; Jeter Sheet Metal handled mechanical work, and R Electric Company was electrical contractor.

Cash-And-Carry Features Retained In Lay-Away Plan

One of J. C. Penney's cardinal principles of successful business operation when he opened his first store was "sell for cash and you can sell for less." Fifty-two years later his principle is still fundamental to Penney's store operation.

Show Windows Modernized In Penney Project

Next time you're down town, take time to stop and inspect the show windows of the J. C. Penney Company store on Main Street. As a part of a general expansion and remodeling program which has been carried out by the store, the show windows have been brought up to date. New facilities "back stage" make it possible now for the store to have the most unusual and attractive window displays of any establishment in the city.

Clift Epps, manager, pointed out that installation of the most modern of equipment makes it possible for the store to arrange and light displays in its shop windows in a much more attractive and eye-catching manner than ever before. Full utilization of the show windows will be made by the store and an initial look at them will be afforded shoppers who visit the place on Wednesday.

Penney's is closed today to permit the final touches to the store-wide improvement program. Wednesday, however, the doors will swing wide to reveal what has been accomplished.

Designing an attractive show window is an art. It needs machinery and "props" just as a stage needs the same equipment to provide a convincing and breath-taking set for a play. There is an amazing similarity between the kind of equipment Penney has installed for its show windows and that which is found back stage in a well equipped theater.

Proper utilization of "drops," drapes, furniture, lighting, color — all of these contribute to the successful window display.

"We will be able to provide the most attractive show windows of any store in Big Spring," said Epps, "and we intend to make full use of our opportunity."

No fundamental changes have been made in the lobby of the store building. The work here has been restricted to a pleasing new paint and finish job.

The big achievement which will bring the show windows to the forefront of public attention is "back stage." It won't be visible to the passerby — yet without it, the eye-catching effect of the displays themselves could not be achieved.

Bookkeeping, collection losses and expenses thus are eliminated to the customer's ultimate benefit.

At the same time the company appreciated the advantages of spreading payments over a period of time, and evolved its lay-away plan. Under this plan a customer can select merchandise and have it set aside for use later. A small payment, at the time of selection, when stocks are new and complete, holds the merchandise until time of actual need. Meanwhile, the balance of the purchase price

Lay-Away Division Is In Basement

One department which the casual shoppers may not see when inspecting the renovation at J. C. Penney Company store here Wednesday is the lay-away division. This is housed in the basement with one person devoting her time to this exclusively. Clift Epps, manager, moved it to the basement area in order to provide more space and permit easy and systematic storage of goods put back to a more propitious time.

is paid in easy partial payments, arranged for customer convenience. Then when the customer is ready for the item or items purchased they are paid for, and are turned over to the buyer as fresh and new as on the day selected.

There are no interest or carrying charges, and the customer receives all the benefits of Penney's cash-and-carry policy. Penney customers all over America favor this method of selection, especially of pre-season merchandise or items that it is known in advance will be needed later. Blankets in July, children's apparel for back-to-school days, Christmas gifts, layettes and infant furniture in anticipation of a new arrival are examples of items especially suitable for purchase on the lay-away plan.

Dulles Enters Arms Parley

LONDON (AP)—John Foster Dulles and U. S. disarmament experts locked themselves in the American Embassy today to work out detailed plans for a limited "open skies" disarmament accord with Russia. "They plan to spend the entire morning in talks," a spokesman said as the U. S. secretary of state closed himself with Harold Stassen and other American officials. Stassen heads the American delegation to the five-power U. N. Disarmament subcommittee which has bogged down here after five months of negotiations. Dulles arranged to sit in later on a strategy meeting of the four Western delegations to the talks, representing the United States, Britain, France and Canada.

Also on tap for Dulles was a meeting with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd to discuss a wide range of diplomatic issues, including the tribal uprising in Muscat and Oman. The immediate issue in the disarmament negotiations is the forthcoming presentation of a U. S. plan for aerial inspection between Russia and the West. LESS HOPEFUL

Some Western observers interpreted Dulles' first statements here as an indication the West is less hopeful than before of obtaining a broader disarmament treaty at this time, and that he will attempt to salvage some sort of agreement on aerial inspection which would reduce the danger of surprise attack. Speaking to reporters, the secretary particularly cited the open skies plan for aerial inspection in certain areas on both sides of the Iron Curtain to prevent massing of men and armaments for an attack.

"If it be demonstrated that the danger of surprise attack can and will be reduced," he said, "it should be more possible to make progress in reducing the burden of armaments and solving the grave political problems which endanger peace." Dulles recalled that Eisenhower had proposed the open skies inspection procedure at the Geneva Big Four summit conference two years ago. "Every month that passes without agreement magnifies the problem of disarmament," he said. "Now we are engaged in negotiations toward a first-step agreement which will include measures to reduce the danger of surprise attack. The United States is hopeful, as is all the world, that some practical beginning can soon be made."

WESTERN VIEW
Dulles' emphasis on measures to prevent surprise attacks seemed to bear out the view of Western diplomats in London that

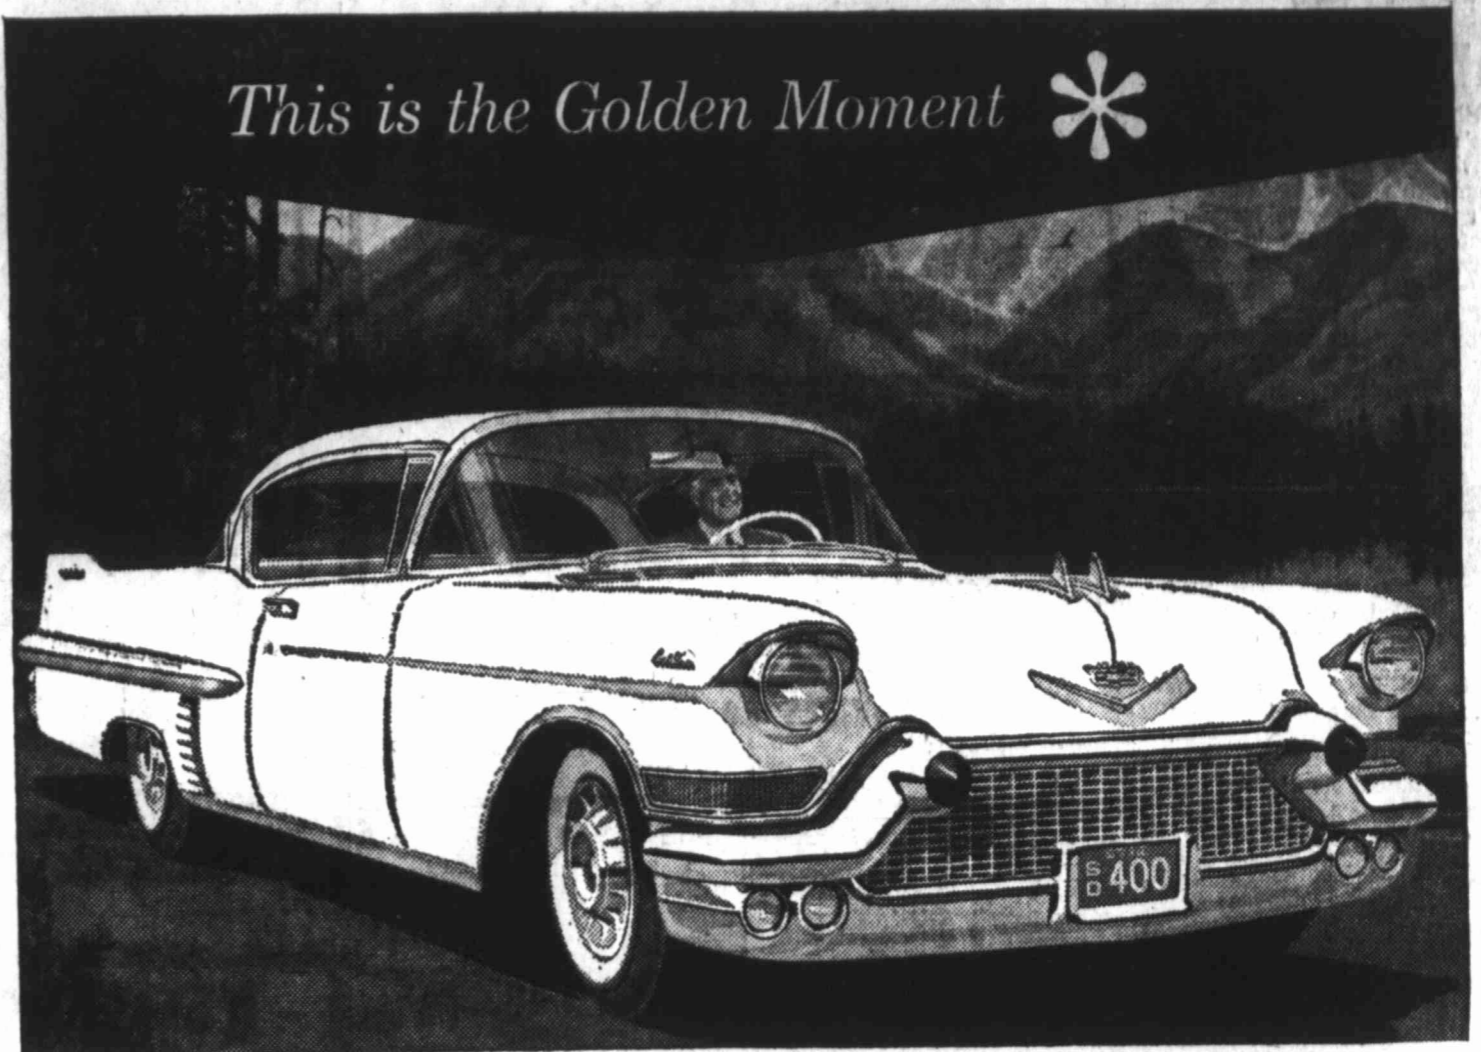

Police Patrol Race Riot Area

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago's police Task Force moved into the race-troubled far South Side last night as threats of fresh disorders arose. The Task Force—a special unit designed to move into any trouble spot and quell disorder—broke up a milling crowd of more than 1,000. Four parked cars reportedly owned by Negroes had been stoned and stones were thrown at others driven by Negroes. No injuries were reported. Police seized 35 persons, including several white teenagers, for questioning. Four Negroes were arrested for carrying concealed weapons. About 200 policemen were assigned to the mixed, predominantly white district after a day of no disorders following Sunday's rioting which brought some 300 policemen to the scene.

NUMBER ONE ON THE BALLOT

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 5, 1957.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 21 proposing an amendment to Subsection (a) of Section 42, Article XVI of the Constitution of Texas, relating to establishment of a retirement, disability and death compensation fund for officers and employees of the State. BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Subsection (a) of Section 42, Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to read hereafter as follows: "Section 42. (a) The Legislature shall have the authority to levy taxes to provide a State Retirement, Disability and Death Compensation Fund for the officers and employees of the State, and may make such reasonable inclusions, exclusions, or classifications of officers and employees of this State as it deems advisable. The Legislature may also include officers and employees of judicial districts of the State who are or have been compensated in whole or in part directly or indirectly by the State, and may make such other reasonable inclusions, exclusions, or classifications of officers and employees of judicial districts of this State as it deems advisable. Persons participating in a retirement system created pursuant to Section 15a of Article V of this Constitution shall not be eligible to participate in the Fund authorized in this Subsection and persons participating in a retirement system created pursuant to Section 45a of Article III of this Constitution shall not be eligible to participate in the Fund authorized in this Subsection except as hereafter provided herein. "All funds provided from the compensation of such person or by the State of Texas for such Retirement, Disability and Death Compensation Fund, as are received by the Treasury of the State of Texas, shall be invested in bonds of the United States, or in bonds issued by any agency of the United States Government, the payment of the principal of and interest on which is guaranteed by the United States; or in such other securities as are now or hereafter may be permitted by law as investments for the Permanent University Fund or for the Permanent School Fund of this State, under the same limitations and restrictions imposed by the Constitution for investment of those funds and subject to such regulations as the Legislature may provide. However, a sufficient amount of said Fund shall be kept on hand to meet the immediate payment of the amount likely to become due each year out of said Fund, such amount of funds to be kept on hand to be determined by the agency which may be provided by law to administer said Fund.

"Should the Legislature enact enabling laws in anticipation of the adoption of this Amendment, such legislation shall not be invalid by reason of its anticipatory character.

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at a special election to be held throughout the State on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1957, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following: FOR the Constitutional Amendment amending Subsection (a) of Section 42, Article XVI of the State Constitution, relating to establishment of a retirement, disability and death compensation fund for officers and employees of the State.

"AGAINST the Constitutional Amendment amending Subsection (a) of Section 42, Article XVI of the State Constitution, relating to establishment of a retirement, disability and death compensation fund for officers and employees of the State.

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said special election and this Amendment shall be published and the election held as required by the Constitution and laws of this State.

NUMBER TWO ON THE BALLOT

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 5, 1957.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 22 proposing an amendment to Article III of the Constitution of Texas, so as to increase the limit on the maximum monthly payment to needy aged persons from state funds and on the total yearly expenditure out of state funds for assistance to needy aged, needy blind, and needy children; and allocating and appropriating additional sums, supplementing current legislative appropriations, for payment of assistance grants. BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 51a of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended to read as follows: "Section 51a. The Legislature shall have the power, by General Laws, to provide, subject to limitations and restrictions herein contained, and such other limitations, restrictions and regulations as may be provided by the Legislature deemed expedient for assistance to, and for the payment of assistance grants to: (1) Needy aged persons who are actual bona fide citizens of Texas and who are over the age of sixty-five (65) years; provided that no such assistance shall be paid to any inmate of any state-supported institution, while such inmate, or to any person who shall not have actually resided in Texas for at least five (5) years during the nine (9) years immediately preceding the application for such assistance and continuously for one (1) year immediately preceding such application, provided that the maximum payment per month from state funds shall not be more than Twenty-five Dollars ($25) per person; and provided further that no payment in excess of Twenty-one Dollars ($21) shall be paid out of state funds to an individual until and unless such additional amounts are matched by the Federal Government.

(2) Needy blind persons who are actual bona fide citizens of Texas and are over the age of twenty-one (21) years; provided that no such assistance shall be paid to any inmate of any state-supported institution, while such inmate, or to any person who shall not have actually resided in Texas for at least five (5) years during the nine (9) years immediately preceding the application for such assistance and continuously for one (1) year immediately preceding such application.

(3) Needy children who are actual bona fide citizens of Texas and are under the age of sixteen (16) years; provided that no such assistance shall be paid on account of any child over one (1) year old who has not continuously resided in Texas for one (1) year immediately preceding the application for such assistance, or on account of any child under the age of one (1) year whose mother has not continuously resided in Texas for one (1) year immediately preceding such application. "The Legislature shall have the authority to accept from the Federal Government of the United States such financial aid for the assistance of the needy aged, needy blind, and needy children as such Government may offer not inconsistent with restrictions herein set forth; provided however, that the amount of such assistance out of state funds to each person assisted shall never exceed the amount so expended out of federal funds; and provided further, that the total amount of money to be expended from state funds for such assistance to the needy aged, needy blind, and needy children shall not exceed the sum of Forty-seven Million Dollars ($47,000,000) per year. "The Legislature shall enact appropriate laws to make lists of the recipients of aid hereunder available for inspection.

"Supplementing legislative appropriations for assistance payments authorized by this section, the following sums are allocated out of the Omnibus Tax Clearance Fund and are appropriated to the State Department of Public Welfare for the period beginning December 1, 1957 and ending August 31, 1959: Four Million, Nine Hundred Thousand Dollars ($4,900,000) for Old Age Assistance, One Hundred, Seventy-Five Thousand Dollars ($175,000) for Aid to Dependent Children. Such allocations and appropriations shall be made available on the basis of equal monthly installments and other wise shall be subject to the provisions of currently existing laws making allocations and appropriations for these purposes."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors of Texas at an election to be held throughout the State of Texas on the 5th day of November, 1957, at which election there shall be printed on such ballot the following clauses: "FOR the Constitutional Amendment increasing the limit on the maximum monthly payment to needy aged persons from state funds from Twenty Dollars ($20) per month to Twenty-five Dollars ($25) per month subject to certain conditions for payment in excess of Twenty-one Dollars ($21) per month and on the total yearly expenditure out of state funds for assistance to needy aged, needy blind, and needy children from Forty-two Million Dollars ($42,000,000) per year to Forty-seven Million Dollars ($47,000,000) per year, and allocating and appropriating additional sums, supplementing current legislative appropriations, for payment of assistance grants."

Moderates In Argentina Win

BUENOS AIRES — Argentina's moderate forces backing Provisional President Pedro Aramburu's drive for constitutional reforms were sure today of a comfortable majority in the constituent assembly. But political leaders still argued the meaning of the election results.

The arguments ranged from victory claims by antireform forces and shouts of triumph by Peronist diehards to assurances from Aramburu that the balloting Sunday proved Argentina's will to live democratically.

Tallying of 8,231,688 votes—more than 80 per cent of the total registered voters—showed that 2,088,140, or just under 25 per cent, had heeded ex-dictator Juan Peron's command to cast blank ballots.

This fell far short of Peron's boast from Caracas that 75 per cent of the Argentines would answer his call. But those who did still constituted the country's largest single faction, still faithful to the outlawed Peronist party and its exiled leader.

Close behind in second place was the middle-of-the-road Radical Wing led by Ricardo Balbin. It had polled 2,067,289 votes on a pledge to amend the 1953 constitution as Aramburu has demanded, to cut the executive power so that no dictator can take over again.

Councilman's Bank Data Eyed

HOUSTON — Attorneys checked bank statements of city councilman George Kessler yesterday after a witness said he used his bank account as a deposit for city funds.

The city council is hearing charges that could lead to Kessler's impeachment.

His main accuser, Miss Mildred Minshall, printing plant owner, alleged that he had monetary interests in the awarding of contracts for the printing of city official codes.

City Atty. George Neal offered into evidence three deposit slips on the Reagan State Bank account which Kessler said he set up as a trustee to handle funds paid Miss Minshall for the printing work.

Charles Bell, attorney for Kessler, objected and asked Mayor Oscar Holcombe to refuse to admit the deposit slips into evidence.

"It is an unwarranted invasion of Mr. Kessler's private life," Bell protested.

Mayor Holcombe first overruled the objection, then reversed his ruling.

Miss Minshall was dismissed after two and a half days on the stand.

Hot, Humid In Most Of U.S.

By The Associated Press

The nation's midsummer weather showed only minor changes today, hot and humid in many areas and forecasts of showers and thunderstorms over most sections.

The Great Lakes region and the Pacific Coast states appeared the only areas which were expected to have dry weather.

Welcome, beneficial rains soaked sections of the drought-stricken Northeast yesterday but many areas got only sprinkles. The more than one inch of rain which fell in eastern Long Island saved crops and was described as a million-dollar downpour.

Heavy rain also fell in New York's northern Hudson Valley, in central Massachusetts and in sections of Connecticut and New Hampshire.

Many other areas across the country got heavy rain yesterday, last night and early this morning. Severe thunderstorms hit the Western Plains from North Dakota to Nebraska and northeast Colorado and in scattered areas in the Midwest and East.

More than 4 inches of rain drenched Bald Nob, Ark., northeast of Little Rock, in 2 1/2 hours.

Works For Water Conservation

Senator Lyndon Johnson, center, of Texas, shakes hands with Wilbur A. Dexheimer, left, Commissioner, Reclamation Bureau and Brig. Gen. John L. Person, Assistant Chief, Corps of Army Engineers in Washington, D. C. Sen. Johnson met with the men in an effort to get an integrated federal water program in Texas. Johnson has pushed for water conservation through harnessing of streams to control floods and store up water for use in times of drought.

Confidential Trial Slated

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Despite a warning from the defense that "reputations of many persons will suffer if the case goes to trial," the court has turned down a proposed compromise agreement in the criminal libel case against Confidential magazine.

Trial is slated to begin Friday. The proposed settlement was worked out yesterday during a long meeting of the prosecution and the defense in the district attorney's office. It would have provided:

1. Confidential and its sister publication Whisper would stop printing smear articles against celebrities.

2. Charges against defendants Fred and Marjorie Meade, accused of supplying information about Hollywood figures to Confidential, would be dropped.

Several of the more than 40 Hollywood personalities subpoenaed by the defense were in attendance yesterday. They included Walter Pidgeon, Corinne Calvet, Buddy Baer and Josephine Dillon, Clark Gable's first wife.

Cement Strike Nears An End; Construction To Move Again

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Construction engineers across the nation moved today to get major building projects rolling again as a crippling strike in the cement industry neared an end.

The 2 1/2-month strike has halted or slowed work on military projects, roads, factories and housing worth more than a billion dollars. Tens of thousands of idled construction workers now can hope to start working again.

The log jam was broken yesterday with ratification of an agreement between one of the nation's largest cement producers and the United Cement, Lime and Gypsum Workers.

Workers at the nearby Northampton plant of Universal Atlas Cement Co. accepted the union-company pact and the first shift reported at noon. Other plants are falling in line.

Regional Director Robert W. Donahoo of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service said he feels production in the Lehigh Valley, this major cement-producing area, will resume almost fully by tomorrow.

A spokesman for the industry said supplies of cement "can be in the hands of contractors and builders by Monday at the latest."

A SLOW PACE

Other contractors said it will be two to four weeks before construction can resume its normal summertime pace.

Observers said most of the remaining 9,500 strikers in the nation's idled cement plants should be back to work by the end of the week. A total of 71 plants were strikebound.

"Technically, the strike is over," said Donahoo. "It is just a question of getting around to drawing up the agreements between the striking union members and the firms involved."

The populous Northeast probably felt the effects of the strike most of all, although nearly all construction was hampered.

Work on half a billion dollars worth of projects was held up in New York State alone, including New York's new toll road, the thruway.

In Pennsylvania, a quarter billion dollars worth of building was delayed.

The strike began on a small scale May 15, then slowly spread until 16,000 cement workers had left their jobs.

AGREEMENT PATTERN

This, basically, is the Universal Atlas agreement that is setting the pattern for the industry: a 13.6-cent hourly increase, of which 11 cents is across-the-board and the remaining 2.6 goes into premium pay for various job categories. Ten cents of the boost is retroactive to May 1, when the contract expired.

The average wage before settlement was $1.74 to $2.37 per hour.

The retroactive section is what opened the floodgates to a general agreement. Companies have balked at retroactivity, but Universal Atlas gave in.

But to get it, the union had to surrender on another demand. The company still is permitted, against the union's original wishes, to subcontract work where it feels the labor can be done more efficiently and economically outside the plant.

Besides Northampton, other unionized Universal plants are at Hudson, N.Y.; Leeds, Ala.; Independence, Kan.; and Hannibal, Mo.

Universal's plant at Waco, Tex., also organized by the Cement Workers, is operating under a contract extension that expires Aug. 1.

Other leading companies where union and management personnel met throughout the country with optimistic outlooks today are Penn-Dixie, Lehigh Portland, Lone Star, Alpha Portland, General Portland and Ideal Cement.

Negro Group Raided Again

TUSKEGEE, Ala. (AP)—An investigation into the Negro boycott of white Tuskegee merchants continued today after another surprise raid on offices of the Tuskegee Civic Assn.

MacDonald Gallion, chief assistant state attorney general, said investigators last night confiscated ledgers with a current membership list of the TCA, which has been closely identified with the boycott.

In a search of TCA headquarters Thursday, the staff of Atty. Gen. John Patterson seized documentary evidence which Gallion said possibly would be used in legal proceedings.
