Lyndon Terms Amendment New Civil Right

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) said today a new addition to the jury trial amendment proposed as part of the civil rights bill would "confer an important new civil right" on American citizens.

The Senate Democratic leader told newsmen, however, that he has no idea whether it would influence the touch-and-go battle over the jury trial issue.

Senator Knowland of California, the Republican leader, said he is confident that supporters of the administration bill still have enough votes to defeat the amendment.

The amendment would require jury trials in criminal cases arising from federal court injunctions against interference with voting rights.

JURY STANDARDS

Johnson said a new civil right would be granted by a section added to the amendment last night. That new language would permit Negroes or others to serve as federal court jurors regardless of whether they were qualified under state laws. Federal jurors now must meet state jury standards.

Johnson read to the Senate a letter sent to all senators from the presidents of the 12 railroad brotherhoods urging adoption of a jury trial amendment.

"The right to trial by jury has been recognized as an essential safeguard of liberty since the birth of Western democracy," the letter said. "We therefore favor the enactment of an amendment to the civil rights bill that would preserve or extend the right to trial by jury."

Knowland promptly reread a statement issued earlier in the week by the AFL-CIO executive committee saying that any meaningful right-to-vote bill "must not be burdened with a crippling jury trial amendment."

MEMBERS OF UNION

Johnson said all except two of the railroad brotherhood presidents are members of the AFL-CIO. He listed the two as R. O. Hughes, president of the Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen, and W. P. Kennedy, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

The United Mine Workers president, John L. Lewis, had urged approval of a jury trial amendment at the same time the AFL-CIO executive committee opposed it.

In its present form the jury trial amendment to the civil rights bill would apply to contempt cases arising under all federal laws—including injunctions issued in labor disputes.

Johnson told the Senate a session would be held tonight if senators wished to speak and that a Saturday session also would be held. He said a vote on the jury trial issue could perhaps be reached in the next few days.

Knowland, however, told newsmen he couldn't say that agreement is any closer on a time for voting on the amendment. He said he thinks the amendment will be defeated despite the new language on juror qualifications.

Speaking emotionally of the Air Force dead, White said, "They were brothers in one of mankind's greatest adventures—the conquest of the air space."

At the National Guard Armory, Postmaster General Summerfield presented to Air Force Secretary James H. Douglas a specially designed six-cent air mail stamp which he said would remind people the world over for the next six months of "the vital contributions being made to our national advancement and security by the U. S. Air Force."

The President's message touched a similar theme. "In this 50th anniversary year, the United States Air Force is a key element in the nation's power for peace," Eisenhower said.

"With vigor, imagination and a keen sense of duty, the Air Force has achieved a splendid tradition of service in defense of the free world."

Eisenhower expressed himself in a message of greeting to Reserve Brig. Gen. John P. Henebery of Chicago, president of the Air Force Assn.

Many of the 6,000 men and women at the annual convention of the AFA planned to attend mid-morning golden anniversary memorial services at Arlington National Cemetery.

The celebration marks an Army order of Aug. 1, 1907, creating the Aeronautical Division of the Signal Corps. The Air Force traces its beginning to that order. It later grew to become, as the Air Corps, a major branch of the Army and, since World War II, a separate service under the Defense Department. The AFA opened a three-day exhibit of new missiles and aviation products, including the official unveiling of:

1. A new 30 mm. version of the 20 mm. Vulcan machine gun. Providing jet aircraft with three times the striking power of the earlier gun, it was developed by General Electric at Burlington, Vt.

2. A model of the Air Force's newest all-weather navigation system, the ASN-7, being produced by the Ford Instrument Division of Sperry Rand Corp. The system continuously and automatically tells a pilot where he is, the direction he should fly, and the distance to his destination.

3. The Lockheed X17 research rocket which blasts "nose-cone" shapes into space and brings them smashing down through the earth's atmosphere in a severe test of survival.

Senate Sets Civil Rights Aside For Money Bill

Armed Services Payroll Empty

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate passed by voice vote today a $33,759,850,000 compromise bill providing funds for the Defense Department for the 12 months that began July 1.

As the Defense money bill went to President Eisenhower it carried $7,357,800,000 of new funds for the Army; $10,021,855,000 for the Navy and Marines; $16,214,100,000 for the Air Force; with the balance for the office of the secretary and for interservice activities.

The Senate acted with only brief debate after temporarily laying aside the civil rights bill.

It did so shortly after the White House said the Defense Department and other agencies might not be able to meet their August payrolls unless the Senate acted on pending money bills stymied by the civil rights debate.

Approval of the motion to take up the defense appropriation bill temporarily displaced the civil rights bill. But it will automatically become the pending business again when the Senate completes action on the Defense money bill.

The plan was to adopt a similar procedure for the Agriculture Department money bill. Both are compromise versions already passed by the House and needing only a final Senate okay to send them to the White House.

Neither faced major opposition. A White House statement said President Eisenhower was hopeful that the Senate "will act as rapidly as it can."

Press secretary James C. Hagerty described the statement as one simply setting out the situation that exists.

PRACTICAL EFFECTS
But the practical effect appeared to be to put White House influence behind moves to the Senate to place the civil rights bill aside temporarily in order to act on money measures.

At the Capitol, Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said the supporters of the bill are willing to lay it aside to provide urgently needed cash for the Defense and Agriculture departments.

"I think we can pass both of them promptly," Knowland said. Action on these two compromise annual money bills would permit a prompt return to the civil rights dispute as soon as they are passed. However, there would be no limit upon debate on the money bills.

Democratic Leader Johnson of Texas said he would ask the Senate to act on the money bills during the day but was uncertain just when he would make that move.

"We have some speeches and other things to get out of the way first," he said.

While willing to act on the two compromise money bills, Knowland said civil rights supporters "probably must resist" efforts to consider other legislative matters.

These include stopgap authority to pay government workers in numerous other agencies that still lack funds for the new fiscal year that began July 1, or restoration of authority for the Small Business Administration, which expired last midnight.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT
"Consideration of these matters would push aside the civil rights bill unless we get a unanimous consent agreement," Knowland explained.

The White House statement took note that the Small Business Administration is officially out of business as a result of the Senate's failure to authorize its continuance after last midnight. It added: "The President has asked the 1,200 employees of the agency to stay on the job because he believes that the Senate will vote the necessary authorization to the Small Business Administration as soon as possible."

Meantime, the agency has no authority to grant any new loans. As to the Defense Department, the White House statement said: "There is no legal authority to meet services rendered by about 1,250,000 civilian employees (of the department) and about 2,800,000 military personnel. Military disbursing officers throughout the world will have no authority to pay servicemen being mustered out of service."

Hagerty was asked if this meant no funds would be available to meet August payrolls.

"That question is being looked into," Hagerty replied. He added it might be possible to shift funds within departments and agencies to provide payroll funds.

AEC CUT OFF
One of the agencies temporarily cut off from funds is the Atomic Energy Commission. Hagerty said he did not think the situation would cause a curtailment of AEC activities such as nuclear weapon tests.

Other agencies involved in the money cutoff include the Tennessee Valley Authority and the Export-Import Bank.

"As the President said yesterday at his press conference," the White House statement said, "he hopes that nothing disastrous comes out of the situation and that the Senate will act as rapidly as it can."

Sen. Morse (D-Ore.) blocked a proposal by Democratic Leader Johnson earlier this week to put aside the civil rights bill temporarily and consider money measures.

Hagerty was asked whether the White House had asked Morse to withdraw his objections to taking up the money question at this time. He replied that the Senate's action is up to the Senate.

The Defense and 3rd grad 78.7. But the compromise money bills rate as priority legislation, and under Senate rules can be taken up by majority vote without displacing the civil rights bill.

President Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday that a lack of funds and authority by key government agencies "is a very serious thing."

SBA Administrator Wendell Barnes ordered all activities of his agency curtailed immediately. Officials of SBA kept busy approving as many loans as they could before the midnight deadline. SBA said it had 700 loan applications left over on which no action could be taken until Congress provides new authority.

New Jersey Sets 'Grace' Act Change
TRENTON, N. J. (AP)—The attorney general's office said today it is preparing an amendment to New Jersey law that would permit children to say grace before meals in public elementary schools.

The legal division on the attorney general's office recently ruled grace is a religious exercise and is thus barred under state law.

Mann, Hensley To Bank Directorates

Gerald C. Mann, Dallas, and J. R. (Bill) Hensley were added to the directorate of the First National Bank at a stockholders meeting Wednesday.

Hensley, formerly of McAllen, assumed his duties as executive vice president of the bank Thursday morning.

Mann was picked for the board recently when the Clint Murchison interests bought a substantial block of First National Stock. At the time it was reported as the first venture into bank stocks for Murchison, who since then has acquired interests in banks at Harlingen and Snyder.

Hensley arrived here early this week to take up his new duties. Mrs. (Lillian) Hensley and their three children, Randy, 17, Bill, 15 and Kandy, 12, will join him here around the middle of August.

Mrs. H. D. Munnal Sr., Mrs. Hensley's mother, will make her home here with the Hensleys. The new executive vice president of First National is a native Texan, having been born in Bell County in 1910. His family moved to the Rio Grande Valley in 1913 and he has resided there since. Hensley has engaged in ranching in citrus growing, and has been an automobile dealer. He first became associated with the First National Bank in McAllen in 1949 and was senior vice president and a director at the time he resigned to come to Big Spring.

Outside of his business activities, he is a 32nd degree Mason, a Shriner, past master of the Blue Lodge, served as member of the board of the First Methodist Church and as chairman of its finance committee. He also is a past president of the Valley Bankers Association, director of the Valley Chamber of Commerce, chairman of the Salvation Army board, president of the Community Board, president of the Community Chest Association, and chairman of the large gifts division of the Community Chest.

Trapped In Wreckage

One of the six victims who died in an automobile-tractor-trailer accident on Route 47 at the edge of Vineland, N. J., is shown pinned in the wreckage of the car. The five adults and one child killed were members of a Vineland family. They were crushed to death when a tractor-trailer plowed into their car which had stopped or slowed down.

50TH BIRTHDAY

Air Force Saluted By Grateful Nation

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, air leaders and a grateful nation saluted the Air Force on its 50th birthday today.

Eisenhower paid his tribute in a message of congratulations to the Air Force Assn., which is sponsoring a nationwide observance of the golden anniversary of military aviation service.

Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, spoke and prayed at simple memorial services at Arlington National Cemetery as a formation of 11 supersonic F100 interceptors swept low overhead. There was a gap in their formation for a twelfth plane in memory of missing buddies.

Gen. White's remarks were punctuated by the staccato echo of firing squads at a series of services under way in the vast burial grounds.

Speaking emotionally of the Air Force dead, White said, "They were brothers in one of mankind's greatest adventures—the conquest of the air space."

At the National Guard Armory, Postmaster General Summerfield presented to Air Force Secretary James H. Douglas a specially designed six-cent air mail stamp which he said would remind people the world over for the next six months of "the vital contributions being made to our national advancement and security by the U. The Mail Pours In

Sen. Richard Russell (D-Ga.), leader of Southern forces fighting the civil rights bill in Washington, D. C., displays some of the mail he has received dealing with the controversial legislation. Russell announced after a meeting with Southern senators that they will raise no objection to a two-day halt in debate over the bill while the Senate considers other pending legislation.

State Unionists Hit Tech Ouster

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas State AFL-CIO convention unanimously adopted today a resolution demanding the reinstatement of three Texas Tech professors ousted recently by directors.

A strongly worded civil rights resolution dedicating the AFL-CIO "to bring about full and equal rights for all Americans in every field of line" will be the last order of business for the four-day merger convention today.

The delegates spent most of the morning passing without discussion reports of the various committees.

The civil rights committee, by a 133 vote, submitted its report to the convention yesterday. It followed generally the platform plank in last year's CIO convention which touched off dissent in East Texas.

But the committee added new sections, in which it called on a dedication of the AFL-CIO "to bring about full and equal rights for all Americans in every field of life."

It ripped into school segregation legislation passed by the recent Legislature as "highly immoral and undemocratic" and demanded the Legislature pass an "effective and enforceable fair employment practices act."

Also in the field of legislation, the committee asked the Legislature to submit a proposed constitutional amendment to do away with the poll tax as a voting prerequisite.

The general resolutions committee fired a resolution condemning the recent ouster at Texas Tech of Drs. Byron Abernethy, Herbert Greenberg and Per Stensland. The men had expressed liberal political and social views and their dismissals touched off a statewide political-educational battle.

The resolution denounced "as contrary to the wishes of the people of Texas any such star-chamber secret firings that are reminiscent of the thought control exercised in the universities of Nazi Germany and Soviet Russia... Resolved, that the Texas State AFL-CIO... finds obnoxious the politically motivated firings of Texas Tech professors who have expressed their personal thoughts."

It also demanded their reinstatement.

C. W. Nectox, of Port Arthur, member of the civil rights committee who opposed the report, said he would fight its adoption from the floor. Charles Poe of Houston said he opposed the report because "it was too lengthy and I wanted to rewrite it."

Nectox said his local opposed integration of schools.

The report backs integration and also commends public school districts for integrating their facilities, but had this to say about the lawmakers:

"We deeply regret that no further progress has been made due to the highly immoral and undemocratic enactments of the 55th Texas Legislature designed solely to delay the end of segregation and even to perpetuate it indefinitely."

It also reaffirmed "the principle of no discrimination against any employee because of race, creed, color, national origin or sex" and recommended that each affiliate "take steps to provide equal job opportunities for all."

Gluck Will Be Primed If He Ever Goes To Another Hearing

By JOHN SCALI
WASHINGTON (AP)—If Maxwell H. Gluck ever appears again before a congressional committee, you can bet he'll prime himself in advance with all necessary answers.

Gluck is a self-made millionaire businessman newly named as the American ambassador to Ceylon.

He was shoved, suddenly and unwillingly, into the capital spotlight this week when it was disclosed that he couldn't name the Prime Minister (Solomon Bandaranaike) of the country in which he was to represent the United States.

Obviously upset, he sought to explain belatedly to reporters yesterday that he actually knew the Prime Minister's name all along when he was asked before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee July 2.

But, because he wasn't sure how to pronounce it, he told senators the name "is a bit unfamiliar" and that "I cannot call it off." He can pronounce it now, he said.

Gluck shook his head as he pondered the fireworks that have exploded since the Washington Post and Times Herald published some of the questions asked him and his answers.

By hard work he built it up into the Darling Stores, which now operate in 27 states. His shops gross some 40 million dollars a year. He has extensive real estate holdings in California, New York, West Virginia, Kentucky, Utah and Pennsylvania.

When he "semi-retired," as he puts it, early this year he began looking around for a government post because he wanted to be "of public service" as part of the Eisenhower administration.

Republican Senators John Sherman Cooper and Thurston Morton of Kentucky, where Gluck owns and operates the famed Elmendorf thoroughbred racing farm, recommended him to the White House.

So did Sen. Javits of New York. Gluck maintains an apartment in New York City.

Sen. Javits described him as a "first-rate chap" who was hit by the Washington political buzzsaw before he knew his way around the capital. Javits described Gluck as studious and serious, and expressed confidence he will make a first rate ambassador.

ROBBER STEALS $1,500 AS BLONDE STEALS THE SHOW

LOS ANGELES (AP)—It was a frustrating double holdup that befell market owner Paul Gertz. A robber stole $1,500 while a blonde stole the show.

The intruder pulled a gag on Gertz and told him: "I want all the bills. Hurry up, I'm nervous."

While Gertz was getting the money together, he tried desperately to attract the attention of several other customers in the store.

No luck. Their gaze was locked on a beautiful blonde customer. Gertz said the robber was tall, about 28, and had sandy hair. The only description the customers could furnish was: "Blonde... lovely eyes... beautiful figure."

West Texas stands in danger of again getting the hot end of the poker on cotton allotments.

This was the warning sounded by Loyal H. Walker, agricultural manager for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, at a meeting of cotton producer representatives here Thursday.

Having fattened their acreage totals on state reserves for the past two seasons, East and Central Texas producers will not easily give up this bonanza, he predicted.

Walker said the WTCC was seeking to ascertain if West Texas cotton farmers wanted to present a united front at a state wide hearing set for Aug. 15-16 in Harlingen. Results of that hearing will have a bearing on the state ASC committee recommendations to Washington by Sept. 12. Whatever action is taken by regional producers must be done now, he cautioned.

AREAS REPRESENTED
Two large cotton producing associations—the Plains Cotton Growers and the Trans-Pecos Cotton Growers—were represented in the meeting along with producers from Rotan, Roby, Lamesa, Stanton, Muleshoe and Coahoma. The session was to be resumed at the Chamber of Commerce conference room immediately after lunch.

"Everytime the state committee withholds acreage for a state reserve, West Texas loses," declared Fred Ramey, Lamesa.

Last year out of a total of 468,000 acres doled out of the state reserve, all of West Texas—with a lion's share of the state's total acreage—got only 74,000 acres, or 15.9 per cent. In contrast, one Central Texas district (No. 4) got 37 per cent of the state's total reserve distribution.

Despite this, West Texas had a slight acreage increase last year, said Walker, but it was based on history of production.

"We got it because we earned it on our history and not because we (See COTTON, Page 2-A, Col. 4)

Girard, Aide Visit Range

SOMAGHARA, Japan (AP)—GI William S. Girard was returned today to the firing range on which he killed a Japanese woman so that his Japanese attorney could get a clearer idea of what happened.

With his chief defense counsel Itsuro Hayashi and his Army legal adviser Maj. Stanley Levin, the specialist third class From Otawa, Ill., walked over the steep, bushy hill pointing out where he thought he and other key persons in the case had been standing at the time of the shooting.

Girard goes on trial Aug. 26 on a manslaughter charge before a Japanese court. He has admitted killing Mrs. Naka Sakai, a Japanese woman collecting scrap metal with a blank fired from a grenade launcher but says it was an accident. Two witnesses contend Girard lured the woman and other scrap scavengers onto the range, then fired at them.

At the time of the shooting Girard was guarding a machine gun and other equipment. The Army bowed to Japan's demand that he be tried in a Japanese court, setting off vociferous criticism. The Supreme Court upheld the Army's right to let Japan try Girard.

Although not under arrest, he has been confined to the base since the shooting and has been working as a clerk at the camp.

Quizzed by reporters, Girard described his four weeks of married life to Haru (Candy) Sueyama as "no worse than anyone else's."

Price War Hurts

DALLAS (AP)—Some service station operators, caught in a 25.9 cent a gallon gas war, predicted today they may have to close down.

Teamsters Due Cleanup To Avoid Ouster

WASHINGTON (AP)—AFL-CIO leaders plan to order the giant Teamsters Union to carry out specific reforms to avoid ouster from the federation.

This was learned today from top AFL-CIO officers who explained a third postponement by the federation's Ethical Practices Committee of hearings on charges the Teamsters are corruptly dominated. The charges are based on disclosures before the Senate Rackets Committee.

These officials denied any suggestion the new delay represented a move toward compromising AFL-CIO complaints against the 1½-million-member truck driver organization, the nation's largest labor union.

Rather, it was said, the Teamsters now have been given a new date, Aug. 28, as a final one to reply to the charges and tell what reforms are planned.

After that, the AFL-CIO leaders said privately, the federation plans to issue specific orders on what the Teamsters must do if they want to remain in the family of unions.

These requirements are to be made public by the AFL-CIO Executive Council ahead of the Teamsters convention Sept. 30. The corruption charges are based on Rackets Committee disclosures that Teamsters President Dave Beck and other leaders enriched themselves with union funds and otherwise misused union powers.

Al Hayes, chairman of the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee, said new charges against the Teamsters have been served on the union, based on latest Senate committee disclosures. He also said corruption domination charges have been filed against the United Textile Workers, and that these will be heard Aug. 27.

Churchill Urges Small Nations Power In U.N. Be Trimmed

LONDON (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill called last night for revision of the U.N. Charter to trim the power of small nations in the world organization.

Britain's elder statesman told the closing banquet of the American Bar Assn. convention: "It is anomalous that the vote or prejudice of any small country should affect events involving populations many times its own numbers and affect them as momentary self-advantage may direct."

Churchill said new members have swollen the General Assembly to 81 members at the same time great power disputes have thrown increasing responsibility on the Assembly.

"I do not want tonight to suggest an elaborate new charter for the U.N.," the former Prime Minister said. "But I think we can all agree that its present conception is imperfect and must be improved."

Churchill said the United Nations has failed in many cases, citing Hungary particularly. He agreed with Prime Minister Robert Menzies of Australia that justice is not being achieved in the United Nations.

"It is certain that if the Assembly continues to take its decisions on grounds of enmity, opportunism or mere jealousy and petulance, the whole structure may be brought to nothing," he declared.

With three U.S. Supreme Court justices present, Sir Winston said the "Supreme Court in America has often been the guardian and upholder of American liberty. Long may it continue to thrive."

Churchill's words had all the earmarks of a rebuke to the bar association's committee on communism, which on June 25 called for legislation to "overcome the effect of (recent) Supreme Court decisions" which the committee said constituted overzealous protection of "theoretical individual rights."

Sir Winston reminded the association that during its convention it had dedicated a monument to the Magna Carta and said: "It has often been pointed out the 5th

Guess Who's Having Fun?

DALLAS (AP)—A Dallas couple realized with horror while watching a drive-in movie last night that only three of their four children were in the back seat.

Their 18-month-old boy was missing.

"My little boy is gone," Mrs. R. E. Hammond phoned police. Squad cars, sirens blasting, rushed to the theater. The movie was stopped and patrons turned their auto lights into an adjoining field.

"Stevie, Stephen," shouted theater patrons as flashlights were produced and a human chain formed to walk through the field. An officer sent the distraught parents home, assuring them "we'll keep looking."

Patrolman M. G. Cook went with them to relay any messages radioed from the station.

At home they found someone had had fun breaking water glasses and littering the floor. And guess who they found playing happily on a bed?

War Bride Held On Bigamy Charges

EL PASO (AP)—An auburn-haired English war bride yesterday was being held under $2,500 bond on bigamy charges brought by her husband, Maj. Charles C. Stuart Jr.

A spokesman at Ft. Bliss, Tex., said Sgt. I. C. Allen Louis Willie, who allegedly married Mrs. Stuart at Anapra, N.M., July 20, will be given a hearing next Wednesday.

The El Paso Times said Willie had been charged with bigamy, adultery and assault. Police said Stuart reported his wife had urged Willie to shoot him but she denied it.

Stuart is stationed here at Biggs Air Force Base. He said he married his wife in 1949. They have five children.

Pool Integration Plea Declined

JEFFERSON (AP)—Federal Judge Lamar Cecil yesterday denied a temporary injunction which sought to prohibit segregation at the city swimming pool in Marshall.

"I feel sure that there can be no proper defense by Marshall officials in a trial on merits but that for the present the danger of violence outweighs the damage to the plaintiff and others of his race," he said.

Judge Cecil scheduled the case for trial Nov. 4.

The injunction petition was filed on behalf of Titus Edwards of Marshall. The plaintiff testified he was denied admittance to the pool because of his race on June 4.

Police Chief C. M. Ezell of Marshall told the judge he thought violence might result if Negroes were allowed to use the pool. Judge Cecil said Edwards' attorneys had failed to prove irreparable damage.

and 14th amendments of the American Constitution are an echo of the Magna Carta. "National governments may in need obtain sweeping emergency powers for the sake of protecting the community in times of war or other peril. These will temporarily curtail or suspend the freedom of ordinary men and women, but special powers must be granted by the elected representatives of those same people by Congress or by Parliament, as the case may be. "They do not belong to the state or government as a right. Their exercise needs vigilant scrutiny, and their grant may be swiftly withdrawn."

Uses The Brush

French beauty Etchika Choureau hopes to come back to Hollywood where she made "With You In My Arms" for Warner Bros., opposite Tab Hunter. Etchika contends that her biggest beauty aid is the brush for complexion, nails, lipstick and hair.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

'Brushes For Beauty' Favored By Actress

By LYDIA LANE
PARIS, France—When Etchika Choureau flew to Hollywood to play the French girl in "With You In My Arms" opposite Tab Hunter, our Paris tab unfortunately didn't cross. I was delighted to catch up with her here in Paris because Warner Bros. was so impressed with this young girl that they have optioned her for future pictures. "But I am working hard on my English," Etchika told me when I visited her in her apartment in the Passy section of Paris.

French women wear more perfume than Americans. Etchika is young and beautiful and I asked her what she considered indispensable to her good looks. "The brush," she said quickly. "I believe in brushing my hair, my teeth and my complexion. I have a brush with a long handle for my back, a little one for my nails. I like to use lipstick and mascara with a brush." Etchika shook her strawberry blonde head. "The brush is very necessary."

C-City Pair Has July Wedding

COLORADO CITY—The wedding of Sondra Lo DeLaney and Rodney Paul Oliver on July 29 has been announced here. The ceremony, solemnized by the Rev. J. F. Selraig, First Baptist minister, was held in the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Arlene Morris. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. R. H. DeLaney and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Oliver, all of Colorado City. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a street length, as of white cotton satin with fitted bodice and high neckline in front which tapered to a low V in back. She wore a white satin hat trimmed in rhinestones with a small veil, and she carried a white Bible topped with a pink orchid. Mrs. Randall Oliver, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, was maid of honor, and Randall Oliver, Snyder, was his brother's best man. A reception by candlelight followed in the Morris home. The couple will be at home at 856 E. 8th Street.

Clothespins Helpful To Make Dough Scrolls

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Want to have some fun? Make up a batch of our yeast dough and get yourself some clean non-spring clothespins. Wind strips of the rolled-out dough around the pins and bake. Pull the pins out and fill the "scrolls" with a savory cheese mixture, then reheat and serve with tomato juice or some other cold drink for an unusual party snack. We kept some of these scrolls in a tightly covered container for about a week, and although they hardened, we filled them with the cheese mixture and heated them. We liked them just as well then as we did when they were fresh because they were so crisp. CLOTHESPIN SCROLLS Ingredients: Three-fourths cup milk, 1/2 cup sugar, 2 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 teaspoon shortening, 3/4 cup warm (near 105 degrees) water, 1 package active dry yeast, 1 1/2 (about) cups sifted flour. Method: Scald milk. Stir in sugar, salt and shortening. Cool to lukewarm. Measure warm water into large mixing bowl; sprinkle in yeast; stir until dissolved. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture. Stir in about half the flour; with spoon, beat until smooth. Stir in remaining flour. Turn out on lightly floured board. Knead until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl; brush top of dough with shortening. Cover with clean towel; let rise in warm place (about 85 degrees) free from draft, until doubled in bulk—about 1 hour. Punch down and turn out on lightly floured board. Roll dough to 1/4-inch thickness. Cut in strips 1 1/2 inch by 6 inches. Wind each strip around a greased wooden non-spring clothespin (round or square). Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven about 12 minutes. Pull out clothespins gently. Makes about 60 scrolls. Note: These scrolls are more crisp than "breadies" due to the one rising.

Clothespins are a valuable tool for this treat. Just wind strips of dough (left) around pins and bake. Then fill "scrolls" with cheese mixture and reheat before serving.

Ingenuous Trick

Why Not Use Crabgrass Milkweed As Ground Cover In Yard, Garden? By ANNE LEFEVER
This is the time of year when I always begin to think that maybe we make a mistake in trying to use Bermuda grass as a ground cover. Why not be happy with crabgrass? If you can't beat it — and I can't — let it spread. With about half the summer gone I've decided the Bermuda and I have been waging a losing battle. In spite of digging, pulling and poisoning, the crabgrass is still with me, and the Bermuda is almost gone. Another good ground cover I might suggest is the little lacy milkweed plants which team so beautifully with the crabgrass in my yard and flower beds. The plant starts out as a flat cover, but given enough water and fertilizer (I have learned) it stands up and takes on the looks of a tiny fern. I'm beginning to get quite fond of these two outcasts since they seem to stay with me so faithfully — but I'd really rather have more loyalty from the Bermuda grass.

Dena Parker Honored On Eleventh Birthday

FORSAN—Dena Parker was honored by her mother, Mrs. Leo Parker, on her 11th birthday recently. Inside and outside games were played and gifts presented and opened. Refreshments were served by Dena Shaffer, Helen Jo Holladay, Joyce Bennett, Martha Cowley, Joyce Shoultz, Delores Parker, Tommy Seward, Dwayne Allison, Jimmy and Gary Grant, Pat Honeycutt, Hubert Bardwell and Kevin Calley. Visiting here with Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Fairchild were her brother and his family, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Hart from Midland. Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Bardwell and sons spent a few days in Sweetwater. Mrs. B. R. Wilson and Mrs. A. D. Barton and Van are in Lewisville for several days. Mrs. Wilson's mother, Mrs. M. H. Russell and her sister, Beulah. Capt. M. Russell Wilson of Ft. Shaw of Christoval. Mr. and Mrs. Leo Parker, Delores and Dena are vacationing in Colorado Springs and other places of interest in Colorado.

'ROUND TOWN With Lucille Pickle

There's little I know about other military bases around the country but I would be willing to say that Webb officers' wives must be among the prettiest women in the lot. At the informal affair Wednesday evening in the J. Y. ROBB yard to honor COL. and MRS. CHARLES YOUNG there was a real gathering of beauty. Mrs. Young was most attractive in a blue and white checkedingham trimmed at the neckline and at the edge of the full skirt with wide white rickrack. Her beautiful sun tan is perfect for her blondness. MRS. ROBERT WILCOX is another of the very charming wives as is MRS. DEAN FLING, who with her husband, was also honored with gifts from local friends. The Flings are leaving Sunday for a tour of duty in Japan. MRS. R. J. DOWNING wore a dress of pink and white checkedgingham with short puffed sleeves and a tiny collar. Her hair was most attractively arranged into a bun. MRS. KYLE RIDDLE, who will succeed Mrs. Young as the first lady of the base, is as pretty as she is charming. MR. and MRS. GEORGE O'BRIEN, Sr., of Midland were over for the affair at the home of her parents. An important newcomer to Big Spring who joined in the party like an old timer was J. R. HENSLEY who is vice president of the First National Bank. He is looking for a place to move his family into Garden clubbers will be happy to know that Mrs. Hensley is a national flower show judge and should fit right in with garden club activities here.

Backyard Supper Is First In Series Of Pre-Nuptial Fetes

Among the first of the pre-nuptial parties planned for Barbara Abbott was the backyard supper given Wednesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bradley. Miss Abbott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Abbott, 1207 Sycamore, will become the bride of Wade Forrester Jr. of Sweetwater on Sept. 7. The buffet supper was served from a burlap-covered table. In the center was a doll made of kitchen gadgets, dishcloths and cutpawls. This was presented to the honoree. Wooden accessories were used in serving. For the informal party, the bride-elect chose a peasant dress of red cotton print. Several other in-honor affairs have been planned for Miss Abbott; among them a bridal tea and to be given in Sweetwater, a gift tea and a dinner.

Shower Is Given For Mrs. Rogers At Lees

A baby shower was given Tuesday afternoon for Mrs. Roy Rogers at the Lees Clubhouse. Pink and white were used in the decorations which featured a stork combined with an arrangement of zinnias in a silver bowl on the tea table. Favors were tiny storks. Hostesses for the party were Mrs. James Overton, Mrs. Price Stroud, Mrs. A. W. White, Mrs. Loyd Jones, Mrs. Bud McHenry, Mrs. T. D. Crowder and Mrs. Doug Whetsel. I can't bring myself to impress upon Punkin that my guests are not always her guests, and she feels it her duty to entertain them — usually with very little restraint from me. As for exercise, I receive no help along lines of will power and consequently, don't take a daily dog. About the extent of that type activity is mowing the lawn — and that I like. Just the other day, though the triumph of will power came, I walked into a food store determined to buy two, and only two, articles instead of the basketful that I usually wind up with — and I did it.

Bridal Tea Compliments Mrs. Padgett

FORSAN—A miscellaneous wedding shower was given Tuesday afternoon in the music room of the school in honor of Mrs. Sherman Padgett, a recent bride. The honoree was presented with a corsage, which had been made by Mrs. Jim Craig, one of the hostesses. It was of miniature wedding bells and bridal wreath tied with white ribbon streamers. Another hostess, Mrs. J. W. Skeen, registered guests. At the tea table were hostesses, Mrs. E. E. Blankenship, Mrs. H. H. Storey and Mrs. Craig. Sprays of fern and tiny white blossoms encircled a reflector in the center of the table. The mirror held a small bride and groom standing behind a white heart and two wedding rings. Other hostesses were Mrs. C. L. Draper, Mrs. C. D. Fowler, Mrs. J. D. Martin and Mrs. L. T. Shoultz.

Churchmen Urge Halt To Atom Tests

NEW HAVEN, Conn. — An international church agency today suggested that Christians urge their governments — to halt nuclear bombs tests — for a trial period — without waiting for iron-clad treaties.

The step was endorsed by the Commission of the Churches on International Affairs in a report to a policy-making meeting of the World Council of Churches, which has not yet acted on the matter.

Vigorous debate on it was expected.

The Rev. Dr. O. Frederick Nolde, of Philadelphia, director of the C. C. I. A., presented the 900-word statement, along with a supplemental 3,000-word analysis of scientific findings on bomb testing.

The Commission's executive committee, which adopted the proposal, includes five Americans, two men from Great Britain, and one each from seven other countries.

None are from Iron-Curtain nations. In its statement, the Commission set forth five objectives, which it said should be pursued to "overcome the menace of atomic war" and "safeguard as fully as possible the security of all nations."

These aims, which the Commission termed "interrelated and interdependent," are:

1. "To stop, by international agreement, the testing of nuclear weapons."

2. "To bring to a halt the production of nuclear weapons, under such controls as will most fully ensure compliance."

3. "To develop measures which will reduce national armaments, provision for necessary safeguards."

4. "To accelerate international cooperation in the development of atomic power for peaceful purposes, under proper safeguards."

5. "To establish more effective mechanisms for peaceful settlement of international disputes."

The commission conceded that "simultaneous progress towards all of them seems improbable," and that even a first step seems hard to attain.

"Choices will have to be made, and they are hard choices. Any decision involves risk. But to make no decision may be even more dangerous," the statement said.

"It is man's disobedience which is the basic cause of his despair and frustration. Christians who share with all men in the guilt of the world, have nevertheless a hope which transcends the failures and successes of history, and a faith which overcomes fear."

New Yorkers Lead 'Decision' List

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Graham's staff reports that a survey has shown that the large majority of "decisions for Christ" during his New York crusade came from persons living in New York City and within a 25-mile radius.

The survey was based on "decision" cards filled out by 34,269 persons in the first 10 weeks of the crusade. The crusade is in its 12th week at Madison Square Garden.

At last night's meeting at Madison Square Garden, 334 persons responded to Graham's invitation to come forward and make decisions. This raised the total so far to 40,352. The audience of 16,900 raised the total attendance to 1,328,600.

Short-Lived Prison Riot

Shouting convicts hang a bedsheet bearing the words "We Want Rights" from prison bars during the riot at Montana State Prison, Deer Lodge, Mont., which ended after nine hours with the release of prison guard hostages, lower picture. The prisoners returned to their cells after promises that officials would investigate conditions in the 88-year-old penitentiary.

Cleanup Task Continues As Con Demands Considered

DEER LODGE, Mont. (AP)—The task of cleaning up continued today inside riot-torn Montana State Prison.

A sort of armed truce prevailed as prison inmates agreed to sit tight until prison commissioners have had a chance to study the demands made during their nine-hour uprising Tuesday.

Atty. Gen. Forrester H. Anderson, a member of the State Board of Prison Commissioners, said last night that with the exception of cleanup activities everything at the prison was "orderly." He said the cleanup job would be tremendous, but declined to estimate how long it would take.

The riot began Tuesday afternoon when a group of convicts apparently became angered over a guard's order to shell peas. They held eight guards as hostage, releasing them only after Anderson assured them that their demands would be given consideration by the prison board.

French Minister Enters Arms Talks

LONDON (AP)—French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau flew to London today for disarmament talks with Secretary of State Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd amid reports that the Allies are divided on the advisability and ways of making nuclear cutbacks.

The British government has expressed opposition to halting immediately the testing of its newly developed H-bombs. And France has made clear that so long as nuclear weapon production continues, it wants to get in the British-Soviet-U.S. nuclear inner circle by developing its own weapons.

Officials indicated that the detailed consideration of these problems would have to be kicked up to the three heads of government for possible solutions.

Dulles put in a busy day yesterday conferring both with Western officials and Soviet disarmament delegate Valerian Zorin. Representatives of the five U.N. Disarmament subcommittee nations—Britain, France, Russia, Canada and the United States—got together for a working luncheon which Dulles attended.

The five delegations approved a noncommittal report for the U.N. parent Disarmament Commission to meet the Aug. 1 deadline it had set the subcommittee. Informants said the report made no mention of a recess in the talks and there was general agreement that the negotiations should be continued.

The decision to continue the subcommittee sessions apparently represented something of a victory for Dulles, British and French officials for some weeks had been talking openly of an early adjournment because they felt the chance for real progress had vanished.

Dulles already had won the support of the British, French and Canadians for a new version of President Eisenhower's open skies inspection plan, aimed chiefly in the first phase at preventing a surprise attack.

Informants said the Allies had agreed to announce acceptance of Soviet Premier Bulganin's proposal for a system of ground inspection, including the posting of international check teams at key ports, airfields and railroad junctions.

Star Must Appear At Magazine Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Rory Calhoun has lost an attempt to keep Confidential magazine's attorneys from calling him to court tomorrow.

That's when criminal libel charges will be tried against a subsidiary of the scandal magazine and two officials of the firm.

The actor and a host of other Hollywood personalities have been subpoenaed to appear, even though they aren't mentioned in the state case against Confidential.

The state has submitted eight stories in Confidential that the prosecution claims are libelous and obscene. The stories involve Maureen O'Hara, Dick Powell, Robert Mitchum, Dorothy Dandridge, Corinne Calvet, Mae West, John Carroll and Mark Stevens.

Angelo Dam Bill Approved

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill authorizing a $2 million dollar dam and reservoir near San Angelo passed the House yesterday, 201 to 190.

The bill now goes to the Senate where minor differences in the bill the Senate voted will be ironed out.

Under the bill, water users in the San Angelo area would repay the government about 17 million dollars in 40 years. The rest of the construction costs would be met by the government.

Rep. Fisher (D-Tex) wrote the bill.

Water would irrigate 10,000 acres. About 10 million dollars of the cost of the reservoir would be repaid by irrigators. City water users at San Angelo would repay nearly 7 million dollars of the cost.

The government's part of the cost would be 10 1/2 million chargeable to flood control, 3 1/4 million to fish and wildlife and $60,000 to recreation.

As passed by the Senate, the measure authorized a total expenditure of 30 million. The House raised the figure to $32,200,000 and added a provision that no crops are in surplus supply and under price supports may be grown on the irrigated acreage until 10 years after the bill is enacted.

Heat Wave Greets August

By The Associated Press

A blistering summer heat wave ushered August in Thursday after parts of Texas scattered welcome, but widely scattered rain.

The biggest rains Wednesday were in parched Alpine in the Big Bend Country, which got downpours totaling 1.50 inches, and at Snyder 1.52 inches.

Rains of more than 2 inches were reported in the area around Snyder.

Temperatures, however, continued to hover at or above 100. Scores of persons have been stricken by heat exhaustion and at least one death was blamed on the weather.

George Terry, 87, of Duncanville, died in a Dallas hospital after his body temperature reached 110 degrees. Two of the other 10 persons hospitalized in Dallas were in critical condition.

Some 73 trainees were stricken by heat exhaustion Tuesday at Lackland AFB in San Antonio. The hot spots in the state Wednesday were Laredo and Presidio with 107 degrees.

Skies Thursday were clear to partly cloudy over the state. The Weather Bureau forecast widely scattered showers for the entire state.

No rainfall was reported during the night.

Wednesday rain included showers at Beaumont, Wink, Salt Flat, Austin, Waco, Lufkin, El Paso, Waco, Galveston and Junction. Predawn temperatures Thursday ranged from 83 at Cotulla and Galveston to 66 at Salt Flat.

Nazi Documents Reveal Plots Against British Throne, FDR

WASHINGTON (AP)—A grandiose Nazi plot in 1940 to put the Duke of Windsor back on the British throne—at a price—has been revealed in top-secret German documents captured by the Allies and made public. The papers are among 415 German messages and reports unveiled last night simultaneously by the U.S. State Department and the British Foreign Office. They also report a $250,000 payment by an American oilman to Democratic groups with the aim of blocking then President Franklin D. Roosevelt's renomination. Of this, $160,000 allegedly went for "buying" Pennsylvania's convention votes. The British government labeled the documents as "necessarily a much tainted source." It said Windsor "never wavered in his loyalty to the British cause." The duke called the part about him "complete fabrication and gross distortions of truth." The Democratic National Committee said it had no record of any such contributions as were mentioned in the Nazi papers. And it noted Pennsylvania cast all of its 72 votes for Roosevelt "on the first and only presidential ballot" that year. FRANCE HAD FALLEN The German documents cover the period June 22-Aug. 31, 1940. France had fallen in a six-week blitzkrieg. Britain braced for invasion. They stopped off in Lisbon, staying at the home of a friend, Portuguese banker Ricardo de Espirito Santo Silva. A go-between made the first major contact. He was Spain's interior minister, Ramon Serrano Suner, a close friend of the duke and brother-in-law of Spanish dictator Francisco Franco. The documents indicate Franco approved the whole idea. An emissary from Serrano Suner invited the duke and duchess to a visit. He tempted them with a promise of "important information affecting the person of the duke." Elaborate plans were made to get the couple across the border. Portuguese border guards were to be "won over" and guarded automatically. In exchange, the duke and duchess were to be waiting on the Spanish side. In the end, the duke and duchess caught their boat, the American steamer Excalibur. It sailed with them from Lisbon the evening of Aug. 1, 1940—exactly 17 years ago today. Disgustedly, the Nazis reported: "The Spanish plan collapsed completely." The British Foreign Office commented: "His Royal Highness never wavered in his loyalty to the British cause or in his determination to take up his official post as governor of the Bahamas on the date agreed." TAINTED SOURCE "The German records are necessarily a much-tainted source." "The only firm evidence which they provide is of what the Germans were trying to do in this matter, and of how completely they failed to do it." Windsor himself, in a statement from London, said persons he found to be "pro-Nazi sympathizers" tried to persuade him to go to Spain instead of the Bahamas. He added: "At no time did I ever entertain any thought of complying with such suggestions, which I treated with the contempt they deserved." Hans Thomsen was in charge of the German Embassy in Washington in 1940, Ambassador Hans Dieckhoff having been recalled to Berlin. Thomsen's messages are filled with reports on propaganda mobile cause or in his determination to try to keep America neutral. He regularly wrote home for money and then asked for and got permission to destroy the records of how he used it. Thus there was no way for the Nazis or historians to doublecheck his accounts. The documents said the late W. R. Davis, then handling oil matters for the Mexican government, paid $250,000 to the Democrats in a vain bid to beat Roosevelt. Of this, the papers said, $150,000 went "through Walter A. Jones" to the representative of the Pennsylvania state Democratic organization. The Democratic National Committee said it had no record of any contribution in 1940 from either Davis or Jones.

Runaway Truck Is Handled With Skill

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A truck driver who skillfully drove his brakeless vehicle at 85 miles an hour down a curving mountain road without denting a fender said today he's mighty lucky to be alive. State Trooper Reu Silbaugh, a man with nerves to match those of Glenn Switzer of Fairmont, Neb., agreed with Switzer. So did nearly a score of motorists who scattered out of the path of the truck, carrying 40,000 pounds of sugar from Baltimore to Chicago, last night. Switzer, 28, had just started to descend the three-mile Summit Mountain hill on Route 40 when his clutch failed. Then his brakes failed. By this time, he said, he was "heavily rolling." Just then, Trooper Silbaugh came along on routine patrol—in the opposite lane of traffic. He quickly swung his car around, sped past Switzer's rolling truck and kept his siren roaring. Motorists scattered. "I was thinking about jumping a couple of times, but then I looked at the speedometer," Switzer related. "The last time I looked I was rocking along about 85 miles an hour and I just said to myself: 'Man, you're crazy if you jump.' So I decided to ride her out." Trooper Silbaugh breezed into the little community of Hopwood at the bottom of the hill and had everyone out of the way when the tractor-trailer roared into town. "I had brushed my truck against the hillside a couple of times and slowed her down to about 70 miles an hour," Switzer said. "When I got into Hopwood there was a little grade and that slowed me up. Then I saw a muddy path alongside of the road and I just pulled over and stopped." Switzer, father of five children, collapsed and was treated for shock. "Hell, I was scared, but I'll be driving my truck again," he said. "Nothing like this ever happened before. The trooper told me I was damn lucky and I agree. That guy did a wonderful job in clearing the path for me."

Hoffa Says Beck Deserves Top Post

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—James R. Hoffa, acting and talking in his assurance of succeeding Dave Beck as Teamsters Union president, says the union's chief executive should be an administrative officer under the executive board. Hoffa joined members of a special constitution committee today in reshaping the union, charter under which Beck held virtually dictatorial power. Hoffa, a vice president, flew here from his Detroit headquarters. The constitution changes drafted in the committee's two-day session will be offered to the international's Miami convention Sept. 30. Hoffa's election there is regarded by the union hierarchy as about clinched. Hungary Reds Strike Out At Catholic Foes

BUDAPEST (AP)—Hungary's Communist government struck out today at opponents in the Roman Catholic Church, announcing the arrest of what it called a "major group of counterrevolutionary priests." The Interior Ministry in a statement also accused Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, a refugee in the U.S. legation in Budapest since last November, of instructing those arrested to loot the government's religious affairs office during the anti-Russian revolt last fall. The statement charged the cardinal's secretary, the Rev. Albert Egon Turcsanyi, "took part in the looting at the head of an armed group." "They shipped the secret documents to Mindszenty," the ministry said. The Budapest press reported previously that Father Turcsanyi is in jail. The statement said the group of "looters" also included Istvan Tabodi, a fourth-year theological student; Pal Lieszkovsky, identified as a lieutenant colonel under the dictatorship of pro-Nazi Adm. Nicholas Horthy; Fathers Imbre Vargu, Antal Kukla and "several other priests." The total number arrested was not announced. The statement said they would go on trial "shortly" in Budapest Municipal Court. Cardinal Mindszenty, convicted of treason by the Communist regime and sentenced to life imprisonment, was released last Oct. 31 by the anti-Soviet rebels and received a tumultuous welcome back to Budapest. He took refuge in the American legation Nov. 4 when Soviet troops and tanks opened up on the rebels to crush the revolt.

Dio's Ex-Bodyguard To Talk Before Senate Rackets Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Racketeer Johnny Dio's former bodyguard, 240-pound, barrel-chested Teddy Rij, goes before the Senate Rackets Committee today as perhaps a key witness. The committee is hearing evidence which Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) said will show that Teamsters Union boss James R. Hoffa, in a corrupt deal with Dio, sought and may have achieved "stranglehold" power over the Port of New York and "the entire Eastern Seaboard." In San Francisco, Hoffa said he is "ready, willing and able" to answer committee questions. Rij, who pronounces and usually spells his last name as "Ray," is under indictment with Dio on conspiracy charges linked with the acid blinding of labor columnist Victor Riesel. He is listed now as an officer of the Acme Dress Co. of Midvale, N.J. Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said that before calling Rij, he may take testimony from Lester Washburn, the onetime head of the old United Auto Workers and a bitter foe of Dio. Kennedy told the committee yesterday that Washburn's efforts to push Dio and underworld henchmen out of the UAW-AFL cost Washburn his job as the union's president. Kennedy said Rij will be asked for the inside story of the formation of UAW-AFL Local 102 in New York. Sam Zakman, former president of that local, swore yesterday that he had been squeezed out by Dio and his hoodlums. In one hilarious interlude, Zakman, a self-styled former Communist, told the story of Benny (The Bug) Ross, an organizer he said Dio hired for Local 102 of UAW-AFL. Benny, said Zakman, "was unethical, but it worked." What's more, he said, Benny "didn't believe in elections" to decide who should be the collective bargaining agent for any plant. Benny's approach was much more fundamental, as Zakman told it. "He'd just walk into a plant, pull the switch, and say 'Everybody out. The place is on strike.'" Zakman said it was "fantastic but true" that the workers usually would walk out, sign up with the union, and that was that. "He was a hard worker," Zakman said. "He just ran from shop to shop." Zakman said Dio put up the money that installed Zakman as president of Local 102 when it was organized, with Ray as one of the organizers of it. Then, he said, with an apparent lift from one Anthony Doria in the international

Thorough Address SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—It was a long shot but 10-year-old Jill Land got her purse back, after losing it while on a recent trip through the Eastern states. Acting on a hunch that the purse was left in a Woodsville, N.H. restaurant, Mrs. G. D. Land, Jill's mother, decided to write the proprietor. She did not know the name of the restaurant so she addressed the envelope: "To a restaurant on Highway 112 that sells swirl ice cream and which is across the street from a motel that has a painting of the Great Stone Face on the side of the building, Woodsville, N.H."

LOOKING 'EM OVER

It's just as well, perhaps, the Big Spring Junior Chamber of Commerce didn't book the Harlem Magicians into the local gym next season.

Marques Haynes, part owner of the basketball wizards, recently announced Goose Tatum would not travel with the team this year.

Midland fans practically abandoned the professional baseball club there before directors decided to return the team to the Southwestern League.

Attendance has averaged only 340 a game or thereabouts and in recent weeks the average turnout was between 150 and 160.

Last year, the Indians led the Southwestern League in attendance with an aggregate turnout of 77,601.

The Saturday Evening Post gives an ex-Longhorn Leaguer, Roy McMillan, a nice sendoff in its edition this week.

The publication refers to McMillan and Johnny Temple as the "miraculous twins" of Cincinnati and says that if the Redlegs finish on top in the National League race (which isn't likely), a large share of the credit should be due the two.

Last year, McMillan was declared the most valuable player on the Cincinnati ball club, even though he hit only three of the team's record-breaking 211 home runs.

In 1947, when Roy was with Ballinger of the Longhorn circuit, he hit .375 but he was the boy who put the Bearcats in the playoffs (which they won by beating Big Spring, 4 games to 2, in the finals of the Shaughnessy playoffs).

McMillan clubbed only three home runs in Longhorn League play that year but he handled everything that came his way like a vacuum cleaner.

Buddy Hancken, his manager that year, predicted he'd reach the big leagues almost from the time he first saw him play.

Hugh Jackson of Borger, who has three horses running at Ruidoso Downs this summer, is the father of Mrs. Bill Gibson of Big Spring.

J. B. Hollis, who guided the Aces to the Little League farm club championship here this year, says the team cost him between $300 and $400 but he's already looking forward toward the 1958 season.

Olympic Day Winners

Children and adults participated in the event, which was held at the old football stadium, with 123 points to take the top spot. The Junior High Club was second with 92 points, Lakeview was third with 67 and West Side Park and Washington Place tied for third with 38 points.

HERE WEDNESDAY Morrison Winner In Y Olympics

Kate Morrison Fun Club finished first in the YMCA Olympic Day held Wednesday morning at the old football stadium, with 123 points to take the top spot.

Approximately 150 youngsters participated in the events, which were directed by Johnny Johnson. Bill Dawes was announcer and judges were Jimmy McCrary and Tommy Pickle. Official starter was Curtis Kelley.

First, second and third place winners in each event were presented awards by Truman Jones, president of the YMCA. Awards were also presented to an outstanding member of each Fun Club.

Outstanding girl Fun Clubbers named were Janice Sparks, West Side; Vicki Parkhill, Junior High; Martha Glickman, Washington Place; Jenny Johnson, Lakewood; and Rosario Paredes, Kate Morrison.

Outstanding boys were Eddie Nelson, Lakeview; Valen Garcia, Kate Morrison; Harry Sparks, West Side; Jerry Lewis, Washington Place; and Robert Ross, Junior High.

Ruidoso Faces Big Weekend

RUIDOSO, N.M. (SC) - The 12-race card fashioned for Friday highlights two features, "The Riverside Estates" for Thoroughbreds and "The Texan" for Quarter Horses.

Following Friday's races, Ruidoso Downs presents The Quarter Horse Maturity for Saturday and the New Mexico Breed Quarter Horse Futurity for Sunday.

This week promises to be the biggest and best of the season.

The "Riverside Estate Allowances" at 5 1/2 furlongs, attracted a band of eight of the top sprinters at the Downs. Lucky Williams, a newcomer to Ruidoso, will be making his debut over the local oval for owner G. R. White. Lucky Williams won the $7,500 Paul Revere Handicap May 14, 1956 at Suffolk Downs and if a repeat performance was made, could be victorious in this event.

Dream Mint, a four-time winner at this meeting, will be trying her fortunes against stiffer competition in this race.

Coupled in the wagering will be the entry of Feigned and Depth Rocket who will carry the colors of owner A. J. Lombardi. Both will carry 110 pounds. The balance of the field includes Peache's Fire Atomic Speed, Bull Lanty, and Valentine Boy.

The Co-feature for Friday will be "The Texan," a 400-yard dash featuring seven of the swiftest quarter bred on the ground. The field includes the Blain Lewis entry of Bit O' Trouble and Trouble Gal, C. T. Guseman's Mack Shade, J. R. Bassett's Tonta Lad, K. M. Chafin's Clabber Bar, R. S. Snedgar's H. J. Sandman, and M. L. Walls' King Lad.

Friday's races for the balance of the meet will feature larger purses for quarter horses and thoroughbreds.

Not to be outdone by his brother Jay, who has authored two no-hit games this season, Zay LeFevre set the Herald Reporters down without a run or a hit as the Optimists raced to a 9-0 Junior Teen-Age baseball league success here Wednesday night.

Salvato Decisions Snider Gulf In Silver Tourney

SILVER (SC) - Salvato Drug of San Angelo knocked Snider Gulf of Big Spring into the loser's bracket of the Silver Softball tournament here Wednesday night by winning a 5-1 verdict.

Snider returns to action at 6:30 o'clock Friday against a foe to be named sometime today by the tournament committee.

In other games last night, Silver won over Robert Lee, 13-8; while Corner Drug of San Angelo turned back Texas Natural Sales, 14-3.

No Favorite In Big Meet

CHICAGO (AP) - The first section of Chicago's greatest money-pressure tournament starts today at Tam O'Shanter and there is no definite premeat favorite.

The first step in the treasure hunt is the All-American, with a purse distribution of $25,000 for men pros, $7,500 for women pros, and trophies and merchandise for men amateurs and women amateurs.

In all, 237 players tee off in the dawn-to-dusk first round, including 162 men pro shooting for a $3,500 top prize to be awarded at Sunday's finish of the 72 holes.

Next week, however, comes the big one - the "World Championships." The winner of the men pro division collects $50,000 and a $50,000 exhibition contract. The total purse is $102,200. Champion of the women's pros will receive $6,000 out of a $15,000 purse.

There is a general feeling that the group of younger pros may teach the old-timers a lesson this time. They seldom have before. Bob Toski was the youngest ever to win the "World" when he hit the jackpot in 1954 at the age of 27.

But never before has there been such a fine crop of younger players. They include Arnold Palmer, Bill Casper, Dow Finsterwald, Peter Thomson of Australia, Ken Venturi, Don Whit and Paul Harvey.

Harney, 28, Worcester, Mass., won medalist honors among men pro qualifiers with a 6-under-par 66.

Gavilan put on one of the greatest exhibitions of his career before a nationwide television audience and 3,621 ringside spectators last night to gain a unanimous decision over Gaspard (Indian) Ortega, a game battler from Mexical, Mexico, in 10 bruising rounds.

Outfielder Inked By Milwaukee Club

MILWAUKEE (AP) - Lloyd Gwin, an outfielder from Irving, Tex., has been signed to a 1958 contract by the Milwaukee Braves.

He will be assigned to the Evansville club in the Class B Three-I League.

Gavilan Triumphs Over G. Ortega

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) - Ed Gavilan, king of the welterweights from 1951 to 1954, hankered today for another shot at the title now worn by Carmen Basilio - and apparently has earned it.

Gavilan put on one of the greatest exhibitions of his career before a nationwide television audience and 3,621 ringside spectators last night to gain a unanimous decision over Gaspard (Indian) Ortega, a game battler from Mexical, Mexico, in 10 bruising rounds.

Midland Bows Out Of Loop Tonight

By The Associated Press Midland bows out of the Southwestern League Thursday night to be replaced by Lamesa, but the Indians are leaving something to be remembered by.

Lazaro Rivera, a rookie Cuban right-hander, almost left something of lasting fame Wednesday night as he pitched a 1-hitter in sending Midland to a 2-1 victory over leading Ballinger.

Rivero had a no-hitter with only one Ballinger out needed in the ninth. Frank Cafone spoiled his bid with a sharp single.

Carlsbad whipped Hobbs 2-0 to pull into second place 4 1/2 games back of Ballinger. Hobbs is in third place three percentage points behind Carlsbad.

Not to be outdone by his brother Jay, who has authored two no-hit games this season, Zay LeFevre set the Herald Reporters down without a run or a hit as the Optimists raced to a 9-0 Junior Teen-Age baseball league success here Wednesday night.

In addition, Zay led his team's 14 hit attack with a double and three singles in four official trips. LeFevre struck out 12 and walked one in the six inning game. Preston Myrick, the losing hurler, fanned 11 and walked only one but the Optimists hit him freely.

Gregory Gets Cup

ARILENE (AP) - Arilene's Glenn Gregory was given a trophy yesterday as the outstanding Texas high school football player of the past season.

Colorado City shaded Rotan, 6-3, in the finals of its Area tournament last night.

Geese Trounce Coasters, 73-70, For Cage Crown

Playing 'catch-up' all the way, the Geese toppled the Coasters, 73-70, in an over-time period to win the YMCA Summer Basketball league crown here Wednesday night.

The champs-to-be trailed by two points (17-15) at the end of the first period; by 22-30 at half time and were in arrears, 46-44, after three periods of play.

After trying the tally, 66-66, at the end of the regulation game, the Geese won out on two field goals by Ray Crooks and three free shots by Ed Aciri.

Ken Harmon and Charles Clark kept the Coasters in contention with field goals in the overtime. Crooks paced all scorers with 30 points, all on field goals, while Clark had 29 and Harmon 24 for the losers.

MEN IN SERVICE

Army Pvt. Howard S. Robinson, 26, whose wife Annie, lives at 205 N. Fifth St., Lamesa, recently was graduated from Military Police Training Center at Fort Gordon, Ga. Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Robinson, 803 N. 19th St., entered the Army last February and completed basic training at Fort Carson, Colo.

Pvt. Johnnie White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland White, 911 N. Scurry, recently completed the second phase of a six-month tour of active duty under the Reserve Forces Act program at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

White received eight weeks of combat engineer training after completing basic combat training at Fort Bliss. He is a former employee of Wilson Brothers Contractors.

Felipe Molina, fireman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesus Molina, 100 NW 4th, departed from Alameda, Calif., on July 9 on a cruise of the Western Pacific aboard the aircraft carrier USS Bon Homme Richard.

In addition to operating with the Seventh Fleet, the carrier expects to visit ports at Japan as well as at Okinawa, Hong Kong and Subic Bay in the Philippines.

Pvt. Arlon F. Matthies, son of Mrs. Lola Irene Matthies, 111 Cary Street, left Sunday for Fort Carson, Colo. He has enlisted in the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers as a demotions man, said M-Sgt Robert L. Martin, Army recruiter.

Donald Shore, whose home is 2273 Ft. Wayne Street in Chica, Calif., has enlisted in the U.S. Marine Corps. Donald had part of his high schooling here. He is the son of Mrs. Marjorie Kuhn of Wichita, Kans., and Maurice Shore of Sacramento, Calif. Mrs. Kuhn's husband is Capt. Philip Kuhn, who has been going through B-47 transition school and will be stationed at Topeka, Kans.

Takes Business To Cooler Place

TILLSONBURG, Ont. — Mrs. Marian Harris, a visitor from England, was under the drier in the Vogue Beauty Shop when smoke started pouring in. Two hours later much of the block — including the beauty shop — was burned out and Mrs. Harris couldn't be found.

Finally located by police, she explained: "I didn't think it would be such a terrible fire, or that anyone would worry about me. I just walked out through the smoke and went to another shop."

"I keep him right here beside my bed," said the actress, pointing to a white metal cradle.

Murderers Make Model Prisoners

FORT WORTH, Tex. — Murderers often make model prisoners, says a Texas prison official. Jack Heard, assistant general manager of the Texas prison system, said in a speech that most men sent to prison on murder convictions have no previous record and give less trouble than inmates convicted of petty crimes. "We've had (some) boys sent up for something like stealing a cow and they're almost impossible to handle," he said.

Uncle Ray: Some Burrowing Owls Dig Their Own Holes

By RAMON COFFMAN
Most birds make nests in trees or bushes, but some lay their eggs on the ground, or on rock ledges. Certain members of the owl family have their own special custom — they nest under the ground or in holes in banks. I am thinking of burrowing owls.

Usually the tunnels of burrowing owls are from four to 10 feet in length. There is an enlarged chamber at the end of each one, and in this the eggs are laid. The eggs number from five to nine.

Q. Where are burrowing owls found, and how large are they?
A. There are burrowing owls in western Canada — in parts of Manitoba, British Columbia and Saskatchewan. They also live in various American states west of the Mississippi, and in a few places east of the great river. Mexico has them, and they are found in South America.

These owls are among the small members of the owl family. Many of them reach a length of only nine inches.

Burrowing owl at entrance to tunnel.

Q. Do burrowing owls dig in the soil?
A. Many of them live in burrows, or holes, made by furry animals including foxes, badgers and prairie dogs. Even the skunk provides a home of this kind now and then — a deserted home, I may add. Burrowing owls like to obtain ready-made homes, but they dig in the soil when necessary. An observer on the pampas of Argentina reported that nine tenths of the holes in use down there were made by the birds themselves.

Lyndon Backer Of Water Conservation

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON — Since coming to Congress in 1937 Sen. Lyndon Johnson has backed water conservation through harnessing of streams to control floods and store up water for use in times of drought.

In the House earlier, Johnson worked for flood control and power dams. Lake Buchanan and Marshall Ford dams were built with funds he helped obtain.

Some time ago he asked the Interior Department to make a long range study of water utilization possibilities in reclamation projects throughout Texas. About two-thirds finished, the report is due in about two years.

In recent months Johnson has repeatedly told the Senate more flood control-water storage projects are needed in Texas and elsewhere.

He said less than 17 billion dollars has been spent on such improvements by the government since 1776, while almost 4 times that much has been raised for foreign aid in 12 years.

"Our investments in water development projects have not been large enough," he says. "We are going to have to do more."

He sent a memorandum recently to Maj. Gen. E. C. Itschinger, chief of Army Engineers, and to Wilbur Dexheimer, Reclamation Bureau commissioner, on an integrated federal water program in Texas.

He told them Texas must have a "predefined, realistic federal water program" giving the state maximum benefits and assuring the federal government maximum return on its investment. He said Texas had sustained drought damage estimated at $2,700,000,000 in a decade; and that flood losses this year cost 106 million dollars.

"Water supply is the controlling key in the future of Texas," he continued. "Unless effective action is taken immediately, Texas will literally run out of water in 10 to 15 years. The water problem is the only limiting factor on the continued growth and economic expansion of Texas."

Old Documents At Experiment Farm Finally Being Destroyed

It takes an act of Congress to get the job started but it's being done at the U.S. Experiment Station north of Big Spring.

The law says that no records or files of a governmental agency can be destroyed unless such destruction is authorized by Congress.

Such authorization has been given, and as a result J. W. Arnett, records and management analyst of New Orleans for the Department of Agriculture, is in Big Spring supervising the stripping of ancient files and records at the station.

Keep It Or Throw It Away?

Dr. Earl Burnett, left, director of the U. S. Experiment Station, confers with J. W. Arnett, New Orleans, USDA management and records analyst, on whether old documents from the station files should be kept or thrown away. Files dating back to 1908 are being screened and hundreds of old reports are being destroyed. In the center, Fred Keating, for many years director of the station, watches the operation. Most of the old records being eliminated from the files were accumulated during his tenure as head of the establishment.

Weather Continues Hot Over Nation

By The Associated Press

Generally hot weather continued in most sections of the nation today with expected showers to afford temporary cooling.

Less humid weather was in prospect in the middle and north Atlantic Coast states but little change in temperatures from yesterday was forecast for the major part of the country.

Three Cooperatives Set Annual Meeting

Members of the Cap Rock Electric, the Cap Rock Refrigeration and the Wes - Tex Telephone Cooperatives will hear an account of the year's business on Aug. 9.

Officials of the three organizations announced the annual membership meeting for that date at the American Legion Hall one block north of U.S. 80 in the eastern part of Stanton. Starting time is 7 p.m., and there will be entertainment and special gift awards.

Substantial gains in all three co-ops are reflected in the annual reports, and the electric unit — by far the oldest and biggest of the three — grossed approximately three-quarters of a million dollars.

"We want every member to attend and tell us about any idea he may have concerning operations of the cooperatives," said O. B. Bryan, manager. "This is the time of year when wishes can be known and acted upon."

Three directors will be named to the nine-member electric cooperative board. Terms expiring are those of Glenn Cantrell, Arah Phillips and Douglas Cauble.

Terms of all directors on the telephone and refrigeration cooperatives run on a yearly basis. Present telephone directors are Mrs. H. S. Hanson, Mrs. Glenn Cox, Lawrence Adkins, Mrs. L. C. Hazelwood, Dick Simpson, M. L. Blocker, D. O. Lawson, A. A. McKinney, Harlan L. Barber. The refrigeration directors are J. D. McCreless, Mrs. Lee Castle, D. W. McDonald and Glenn Cantrell.

Ben Hall and his Circle 4 Ramblers of Big Spring will present musical entertainment during the meeting. Some 75 prizes will be awarded.

The past year was the best in the history of the electric cooperative with consumption of power reaching 30,025,173 KWH as compared with 26,298,029 the previous year. Gross revenue hit a peak of $398,459.29 and taxes to $8,105.29. Average cost of power to members was lower than the previous year. Improvements carried lines to 169 additional irrigation wells, and to 174 new members. A total of 92 miles of new lines was reported, and transmission lines were "healed" up in many places.

The refrigeration cooperative did equally well in 1956. Reports show 827 head of beef cattle, 661 head of hogs, 76 head of sheep and goats, 3,200 chickens and turkeys slaughtered, processed and quick frozen. In addition the plant serviced 60 head of deer, 50 pheasants, an elk and several hundred fish. In all nearly a half million pounds of meat from 4,330 animals and fowls were handled through the plant. A new service inaugurated — with success — was that of custom barbecuing.

Its second full year of operation found 176 new members and 104 miles of line added to the telephone cooperative. Value of the telephone systems increased by $94,000 to reach $500,000. Principal interest and tax payments aggregated $21,000.

During the year the system acquired the SCVAK Telephone Company properties serving Ackerly and Knott.

Slower Aircraft Production Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Air Force James H. Douglas said today the service will get better aircraft by slowing production rates.

Douglas told the Air Force Assn., in a prepared talk, about recent moves to reduce aircraft production rates.

"Although with respect to some of the aircraft affected this may tend to postpone modernization we will certainly get a better product into the inventory and the companies concerned can expect greater stability than under the previous schedules," he said.

The association is made up of Air Force veterans and members, and others interested in airpower.

Falls To Death

NEW YORK (AP)—James Boone, 13, was showing a friend how he could jump across a five-foot gap between the roof of his five-story tenement and an adjoining roof. He missed his footing and fell to death in the courtyard below.

Exploration Firm Reports Net Income Of $46,654

The Big Spring Exploration, Inc., has completed its third fiscal year on the black side of the ledger. Statement of earnings reported to the stockholders at their annual meeting over the weekend show net income of $46,654.

Authority was granted for increasing the board membership to 11, and four new directors were named.

At the same time the corporation was authorized to issue up to an additional 1,000,000 shares of capital stock. This would be issued as needed for acquiring additional properties or providing working capital.

J. R. Hatch was re-elected president of the company which he took the lead in founding.

Other officers named were Dr. P. W. Malone, first vice president; John B. Roden, of Casper, Wyo., second vice president; Dr. M. W. Talbot, treasurer; and Neil G. Hilliard, secretary.

Named to the board, presided over by Dr. Malone, were these men: Dr. G. Frank Dillon, Kent Morgan, Marvin R. Saunders, Roy Reeder and Dr. J. M. Woodall, all of Big Spring; plus H. R. Cope, Lamesa, Carl Pfluger, Eden, and G. H. Stoddard, Midland. Roden, Cope, Pfluger, and Reeder are new members of the board.

Annual meeting date was changed from the fourth Thursday in July to the third Thursday in September, starting in 1958.

Operating income for the company was $78,371 during the fiscal year ended May 31, 1957. Operating was $41,626, leaving a net operating income of $36,745. After capital extinguishments and after considering other income from sales and partnership sources, the net was $46,654.

Assets of the Big Spring Exploration were listed at $192,875 and the Roden Drilling Company, in which the exploration company has a one-third equity, was put at $608,745. However, appraisals by independent consultants place the value of producing and non-producing properties of Big Spring Exploration at $626,479 and the drilling company at $876,731. Hence, there is $512,622 additional surplus based on appraisals for the exploration company and $153,845 additional for the equity in the drilling company.

Approximately 40 stockholders were at the annual meeting representing some 300,000 of the 400,000 outstanding shares. Roden who is among the new directors and is head of the Roden Drilling Company, is a former Big Spring man.

Barrel Of Cookies

Mrs. Conny Wade holds the "cookie barrel" full of the favorite oatmeal cookies of her three daughters. Marilyn, 6, reaches into the barrel while Cindy, 1 1/2, sits on her hobby horse and Polly, 3, anxiously awaits her turn.

Wade Family Likes Mom To Keep Big 'Cookie Barrel' Filled

The search for a cookie jar big enough to hold all the cookies she bakes came to an end last Christmas for Mrs. Conny Wade when her mother, Mrs. W. D. Esch of Cherryvale, Kan., gave her a big "cookie barrel."

Mrs. Wade's other activities include membership in the Jubilee Hyperion Club and St. Cecilia's Guild of St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

Fresh Fruits, Vegetables Essential To The Diet

Fruits and vegetables annually account for more than 90 per cent of the total U.S. supply of ascorbic acid (vitamin C). In addition, these foods give us 59 per cent of our supply of vitamin A; 21 per cent of the iron; 12 per cent of the calcium; 46 per cent of the folic acid (one of the B vitamins); 18 per cent of the carbohydrates and even 7 per cent of the protein.

Spices Used To Flavor Chicken Dish

A variety of spices is used in this different method of preparing fried chicken with a country sauce.

East Indian Cookery No Longer Mystery

Eastern cookery is not a mystery. This recipe for Sesame Chicken with piquant curry sauce will prove that culinary point.

Rice Tidbits

Next time you serve fried chicken (without gravy) and rice, try adding some tidbits to the rice.

Tall Frosty Glasses Of Drinks Will Help Summer Nourishment

Let's think of super summer drinks — cool, smooth, sweet as a waft by Lombardo — that are not only thirst-quenching but also offer the lift of easily assimilated nourishment — so important during the dog days.

Nothing fills the bill so blissfully as milk drinks glamorized by taste-titillating flavors. Pure vanilla is the flavor foundation of such delicious potables as Black and White Milk Shake (rich chocolate is the "black").

DE LUXE FROSTY MOCHA
Ingredients: 2 teaspoons instant coffee, 1/4 cup boiling water, 2 teaspoons sugar, 1-16 teaspoon salt, 2 1/2 cups milk, 2 teaspoons pure vanilla extract, 1/2 pint chocolate ice cream.

BLACK AND WHITE MILK SHAKE
Ingredients: 1 to 3 tablespoons chocolate syrup, 1/4 cup milk, 1/2 teaspoon pure vanilla extract, 1 scoop vanilla ice cream.

Whipped cream for garnish. Marachino cherry for garnish.
Method: Combine chocolate syrup with 1/2 of the milk and pure vanilla extract in a tall glass. Mix well. Drop in vanilla ice cream. Finish filling glass with milk. Garnish with whipped cream and a marachino cherry. Yield: 1 serving.

DE LUXE FROSTY MOCHA
Ingredients: 2 teaspoons instant coffee, 1/4 cup boiling water, 2 teaspoons sugar, 1-16 teaspoon salt, 2 1/2 cups milk, 2 teaspoons pure vanilla extract, 1/2 pint chocolate ice cream.

VANILLA COCOA SYRUP
Ingredients: 2 cups instant cocoa mix, 1/4 cup hot water, 1-16 teaspoon salt, 1 1/2 teaspoons pure vanilla extract.

MOCHA FROSTY
Combine 1/2 cup hot water with 1/4 teaspoon instant coffee. Blend 1/4 cup Vanilla Cocoa Syrup and 1 cup milk. Stir well. Pour into tall glasses, half filled with crushed ice. Top with whipped cream. Yield: 3 to 4 servings.

COCOA BANANA SHAKE
Mash 1 very ripe banana to a puree. Add 1/4 cup Vanilla Cocoa Syrup and 2 tablespoons sugar and mix well. Stir in 2 cups milk and 1/4 teaspoon pure vanilla extract. Chill and serve in tall glasses. Yield: 2 servings.

VANILLA COCOA-MILK
Add 1/4 cup Vanilla Cocoa Syrup to 2 cups milk. Stir well and serve chilled. Yield: 2 servings.

MALTED MILK SHAKE
Ingredients: 2 cups cold milk, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 tablespoons malted milk, 1/4 teaspoon pure vanilla extract, 1/4 cup cracked ice.

Method: Place all ingredients in a quart jar, shaker or blender. Shake or blend thoroughly. Serve in tall glasses. Yield: 2 servings.

Method: Dissolve coffee in boiling water. Chill. Stir in sugar, salt, milk and pure vanilla extract. Add ice cream. Mix well. Serve in tall glasses. Yield: 3 to 4 servings.

Method: Combine all ingredients. Mix well and chill. Serve over ice cream or cake or use for making frosty drinks.

Method: Sprinkle spareribs with salt and pepper and brown on grill over moderate fire, turning them once or twice. Prepare pan from double thickness of heavy duty aluminum foil to fit spareribs, by turning up edges of the foil 1 1/2 inches all around. Melt corners so pan will be secure. As soon as spareribs have browned, transfer them to the foil pan and spoon over about 1/2 cupful of barbecue sauce. Place the pan on the center of the grill and continue cooking for about 1 1/2 hours longer. Baste with the sauce occasionally. To serve, transfer foil pan with spareribs to platter. Ribs separate easily when cut with sharp knife. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Gotta A Bone To Pick? Try Delicious Spareribs

By CECILY BROWNSTONE, Associated Press Food Editor. Barbecued spareribs coming up! Taste that tangy sauce while you pick a rib up in your fingers and eat the good meat right away from the bone.

These spareribs are cooked outdoors by a special method that keeps them from overbrowning and drying out. First the ribs are browned on both sides on the grill over a moderate fire, and then cooked in a pan made from two thicknesses of heavy duty aluminum foil.

Method: Cream shortening with a sugar thoroughly. Add the eggs and beat until smooth. Dissolve the soda in the sour milk or buttermilk and add alternately with the sifted dry ingredients. Add the raisins and nuts. Then stir in the oatmeal. Drop by spoonfuls onto aluminum cookie sheets. Bake at 375 F. for 10-15 minutes. Yield: 6 1/2 dozen.

Another favorite recipe of the Wades is Cheese Gelatin Salad which they like especially because of the tart sauce which goes on top.

CHEESE GELATIN SALAD
Ingredients: 1 pkg. lemon flavored gelatin, 1/4 pound grated longhorn cheddar, 1 small flat (9 oz.) crushed pineapple (drained).
Method: Dissolve gelatin in pint of water. Cool and add grated cheese and drained pineapple. Put this mixture in a flat baking dish to set in the refrigerator. Chill until firm. Now you're ready to make the tart sauce.

TART SAUCE FOR CHEESE GELATIN SALAD
Ingredients: Pineapple juice and water enough for 1 cup liquid, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon vinegar.
Method: Beat the egg. Add the cup of liquid and the vinegar. Mix the tablespoon of flour with the sugar and add to the mixture. Cook until thick; cool, and spread on top of the gelatin mould above.

Method: Wash eggplant and cut in half lengthwise. Scoop out centers, leaving a 1/4-inch wall. (Save center for later use). Cook onions slowly in 2 tablespoons of the butter until softened. Dice eggplant centers and add to butter along with 1/4 cup of the diced bread, ham, celery, green pepper, tomatoes, and salt and pepper to taste. Fill eggplant shells with mixture. Melt remaining butter and mix with remaining diced bread. Sprinkle over eggplant. Bake halves uncovered in a moderate (375 degrees) oven 30 minutes; cover and bake 15 to 20 minutes longer. Makes 6 servings.

coal briquets one-inch apart. Some briquets come in a foil package and they can be shaken out, then lifted and spaced with tongs. If the breeze are brisk while the spareribs are roasting in their improvised pan, place a sheet of foil over the top of the pan to hold in the heat.

BARBECUED SPARERIBS
Ingredients: Two racks (4 to 5 pounds) fresh pork spareribs, salt pepper, Barbecue Sauce.
Method: Sprinkle spareribs with salt and pepper and brown on grill over moderate fire, turning them once or twice. A Bible Thought For Today

After these things the word of the LORD came unto Abram in a vision, saying, Fear not, Abram: I am thy shield, and thy exceeding great reward. (Genesis 15:1)

Marking Magna Carta's Birth Spot

With proper ceremony and appropriate speeches, a $30,000 shrine to the Magna Carta donated by the American Bar Association was dedicated to freedom and justice last Sunday in joint Anglo-American fanfare. The British, it seems, after 742 years, never had quite got round to marking the spot.

Chief Justice Warren of the U.S., flanked by Associates Tom Clark and John M. Harlan, did the dedication. Sir Hartley Swarcross, chairman of the General Council of the British Bar, attired in a light suit and Texas cowboy hat, did the response.

This hands-across-the-sea, pip-pip, occasion had an element of uncertainty in it which may account for Britain's failure to mark-the-spot where the barons forced King John Lackland to sign the great charter in June of 1215. Most Americans, probably from association with Caesar's "The die is cast" remark at the Rubicon, persist in thinking of Runnymede as a river or small stream.

From what we gather nobody knows for sure just where King John put his John Henry on the Magna Carta. One school of thought says at Runnymede, a long meadow on the bank of the Thames, twenty miles from London. Another says on a small island in the middle of the Thames itself. Our dispatch telling of the ceremony there Sunday left us completely in the dark as to whether the memorial stands in the meadow or on the island. The Encyclopaedia Britannica says that a tradition that the paper was signed on Carta, or Charter, island higher up the river probably arose about 1834 when G. S. Harcourt erected a cottage at that spot and placed a stone saying the charter was signed there. Two other encyclopedias, both American, note the controversy between the meadow and the island, but leave the issue in doubt.

There is almost as much misunderstanding about the charter itself as the place of its signing, but the patina of age has given it a place in the warm affections of English-speaking peoples. This feeling was put into words at the dedication by a former ABA president, E. Smythe Gambrell, of Atlanta, Ga.: "Today the 250,000 lawyers of America, represented by the American Bar Association, have returned in devout pilgrimage to the ancestral home, to the wellspring of our profession, to the fountainhead of our faith. Here, with pride and gladness, we have raised up a shrine. In this temple of timeless design for ageless principles, all mankind may worship."

More Words Against The Flood

Were excessive imports of cheap foreign oil impairing the national security? For the third time a committee made up of the President's Cabinet made a study of the subject and reported: Yes, imports were sufficiently in excess of requirements as to impair the national security.

So the committee recommended a 10 per cent cutback in imports—not across the board, not including the Pacific Northwest, but applying to long-established importers, and based on their average imports for the years 1954, 1955 and 1956. Newcomers would be asked to make some reductions; some others were not asked to make any at all.

Finally, at long last, President Eisenhower acted—with a simple request to the importers to ease up. They had been asked, more or less informally, to ease up before; but imports kept climbing just the same.

Under the plan, the government will take six months to see how well the importers are acceding to the presidential request. Failure to comply with the request, the White House said, "could lead to mandatory controls." Since 1953 the President has had full authority to compel compliance.

Texas Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson thought the presidential request "would be of great help to our national security." He said it would bring "reasonable limitations" on imports, provide greater exploration and "put idle drilling rigs back to work."

Commissioner Olin Culbertson was not impressed. "It is my considered opinion that the action recommended will not result in much improvement of the situation as it pertains to Texas"—where oil production is now limited to 13 days a month, a new law, attributed to the effect of excessive imports.

Texas oilmen seem to be divided similarly on the effect, or lack of effect, on the domestic oil situation. Governor Price Daniel called the request a step in the right direction, but insisted "the step is not firm enough and does not go as far as necessary to meet the present emergency."

The requested cutbacks on imports date back to July 1 and will run for one year.

Not encouraging was Secretary of Interior Seaton's comment that there would be a period of "several months" during which the Interior Department and the Office of Defense Mobilization would check up to determine whether individual companies intend to comply.

A lot of cheap foreign oil could find its way into this country in the meantime. And a lot more independent producers could hit the wall in the period of waiting. Question: Having been warned that no mandatory order can be expected for six months, won't the importers open 'em up wide to make a killing meantime?

Walter Lippmann American Principle Of Trial By Jury

The central issue in the Civil Rights debate now is whether the federal government shall have more or shall have less power to secure and protect the constitutional rights of Negroes to vote. The Eisenhower administration, having put forward the Brownell Bill, is asking Congress to authorize the Department of Justice to ask for injunctions in the Federal Court, with no trial by jury in case the injunctions are disobeyed. The theory of the bill is that in those regions of the South where the Negroes are a large proportion of the citizens, white juries—the only juries there—are will not convict a white man who prevents a qualified Negro from voting. Therefore, if jury trials are required, the federal power to protect Negro voting in the deep South will be nullified.

The President is deeply involved in the substance of the question. The question is not merely whether he really favors the bill, but whether he really favors the bill as administered. He has proposed, favors it practically, that is to say, in the sense that he will exert his influence with the Republicans in Congress to get it passed. He is more deeply involved than that. And he cannot fairly take refuge in the theory he often, though not always, invokes—namely, that it is the business of Congress alone to legislate. This bill does not add to or subtract from the existing law of the land on the right of citizens. It is primarily, and essentially, a grant of power to the President and his Attorney General, and therefore, Congress is entitled to a full and reasoned statement by the President as to how he proposed to use this new power. Congress is entitled to a statement of policy. Such a statement would constitute what is known in politics as "leadership."

There is no use pretending that the passage of the bill as it now stands will be followed by a general and automatic action in all the federal courts of the South which will secure the right to vote. What we must expect is that there will be a gradual enfranchisement of the Negroes in more and more election districts, but with a hard core of implacable resistance.

Where the resistance is implacable to Negro voters, there is almost certain to be implacable resistance, by one device or another, to federal injunctions. This will mean that the President and his Attorney General will be faced not with the simple task of enforcing the law but with problems of policy as to where, when and how, to use the power to enforce the law.

Though I am very much in favor of the bill as it now stands, it seems to me self-evident that whether the bill turns out to be a good one, a bad one, or just a deception, will depend on whether the President has a policy for administering the bill which he has persuaded the liberal South to accept. That is why the President cannot sit back, cannot deal with the issues at arm's length and with his fingertips, and leave policy to be worked out later on by lawyers of the Department of Justice under the pressure of politicians.

The problem of Civil Rights is the problem of guiding with wisdom and magnanimity a great change in the human and social order of many parts of the Union. The change is already well under way. It is gaining momentum. Federal laws will not make or break the change. Sen. Eastland cannot really stop the change and Sen. Douglas cannot very much hasten it. What the federal government can do is, in some measure, to channel the change and to control its pace.

The great task of the federal government—and particularly of the President and of the Senate—is among contending factions to be the mediator and the conciliator, seeking always to insure the greatest possible progress toward civil equality which can be combined with the greatest possible amount of consent. That ought to be a congenial task for President Eisenhower. It is one which suits his temperament and fits his conception of the presidency. But to perform such a task, it would be necessary to spend much time and energy on the problem, and to care about it seriously.

James Marlow Ike's Anger Was Understandable

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower angrily told his news conference yesterday he would never consider appointing anyone recommended on the basis of a political contribution.

Of the 36 ambassadors he has named since the 1956 elections, seven contributed cash to the Republican campaign and one gave money to the Democrats. This writer can find no record of where the other 28 made a contribution to either that year.

The presidential anger was the last link in a chain of events that came to a climax after he had given an ambassadorial appointment to Maxwell H. Gluck, a public campaign and one gave money to the Democrats. This writer can find no record of where the other 28 made a contribution to either that year.

The presidential anger was the last link in a chain of events that came to a climax after he had given an ambassadorial appointment to Maxwell H. Gluck, a public campaign and one gave money to the Democrats. This writer can find no record of where the other 28 made a contribution to either that year.

Question: Having been warned that no mandatory order can be expected for six months, won't the importers open 'em up wide to make a killing meantime?

But the trouble with Gluck, as it turned out, was that he failed to do his homework.

He said he may have given as much as $30,000 to the Republican campaign, but he couldn't pronounce the names of the prime ministers of India and Ceylon. This got so much publicity that Eisenhower was asked at his news conference yesterday: "Were you aware when you nominated Mr. Gluck to be ambassador to Ceylon of either the extent of his contribution to the Republican party or his now recorded ignorance of affairs in that part of the world?"

That's when Eisenhower blew up, decried political contributions had any connection with appointments, and said a "number of people I respect" had highly recommended Gluck.

P. S. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee approved Gluck and so did the full Senate. He's now ambassador to Ceylon.

In July Gluck had to appear before Green's committee, which was surprised, he said yesterday, that Eisenhower appointed him ambassador to Ceylon.

But the events began four months ago when the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which had never heard of Gluck at that time, wanted to strengthen Secretary of State Dulles' hand in resisting the appointment of unequalled men for key posts in the Foreign Service. The committee wrote a letter to Dulles.

"It is generally known that presidents and secretaries of state of both political parties have been under pressure from those who feel that an ambassadorship is a reward for past services or help."

The committee chairman, Sen. Green (D-R.I.), said, "We should have first-rate ambassadors in every post." Nothing more was heard of this as the months passed. In June Eisenhower named Gluck to the ambassador's job in Ceylon.

He before Green's committee, which was surprised, he said yesterday,

Hal Boyle Royal Sales Team Is Great

LONDON (AP) — Britain's royal family is one of the greatest sales teams in the world.

Its garden party this week for 5,000 Americans—3,000 members of the American Bar Assn. and their relatives—was a demonstration of compelling advertising for Britain.

Two hours' exposure to Queen Elizabeth II, the Queen Mother, Prince Philip, the princess royal and the Duchess of Kent made some of the Americans ecstatic.

Cecil E. Burney, of Corpus Christi, Tex., called the Queen "a honey."

Said Charles N. Rhyne, District of Columbia, new president of the Bar Assn.: "She's just like a Dresden doll. The Queen Mother is the most regal person I've ever seen in my life."

"And the prince," broke in Mrs. Rhyne. "He's just so handsome."

Said Mrs. Herbert Brownell, wife of the U.S. attorney general: "She's (the Queen) magnificent. She's heavenly. And he—he's so handsome."

John Rank, of Lancaster, Pa., smiled broadly.

"She's a real doll," he said, "and the prince is a charmer."

Mrs. Nora Snyder, of Kansas City, took a deep breath.

"I was just thrilled, absolutely thrilled to meet the prince."

The Americans who spilled out over the Buckingham Palace lawn made no secret of the fact that they came to see, meet and if possible, talk to members of the royal family.

Mrs. Benjamin Roth, of Youngstown, Ohio, told the Queen: "We have a daughter who is just like you. People are always saying she could be your twin sister."

"A wonderful, wonderful family," nodded Judge Thornton G. Berry, of Welch, W.Va.

Palace officials selected in advance a number of Americans to be presented to the royal family. Others just introduced themselves.

Wave after wave of admiring Americans ignored the palace officials, broke ranks, surrounded the Queen, the prince and the Queen Mother.

There was only one disappointing feature—the absence of Princess Margaret.

A friend said she stayed away for fear the Americans, in their frank friendliness, might have asked Margaret too many questions.

Scientists Near Discovery Of Insanity Cause

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Scientists investigating "experimental insanity" are on the verge of finding the basic reason for mental disorder, an expert in narcotics addiction asserts.

Dr. Harris Isbell, director of the Addiction Research Center at the U.S. Public Health Service hospital here, said research with new and old drugs has led to the re-birth of the "toxic" theory of psychiatry.

The research suggests there is a material in the blood of schizophrenics that will induce a psychotic state in normal persons, Dr. Isbell told a civic club yesterday.

If this is true, he added, scientists are near discovery of the basic reason for mental disorder.

Even if the discovery is not made, he said, much will have been learned because the drug permit safe study of an induced psychotic state, he said.

The theory holds that psychoses such as schizophrenia are a result of chemical disorder or imbalance in the body, possibly an inherited condition.

Firecrackers Help Grow Pine Tree Seedlings

BON WEIR, Tex. (AP)—Firecrackers help grow pine tree seedlings. That was demonstrated the past two years at one of the state's newest nurseries—owned by the Southwestern Settlement and Development Co. It is called the Stillman Nursery.

Birds love pine seed. So nurserymen try to get the seed to sprout quickly before the birds can do much damage.

Seeds are soaked for at least a month to make them sprout faster.

During the first few days after planting birds flock in Men don't scare them much.

So crews of this particular nursery walked back and forth over the area setting off firecrackers. That sends the birds screaming and fluttering away in fright.

Around The Rim Those Whiskers Come Home To Roost

One of the best things about a vacation out of town is the privilege of not having to shave. Of course there are plenty of men here who act as if they don't have to shave to look sharp, but for the main, looking clean-shaven is a part of the game.

However when gone on a trip, a man can usually relax and leave off the sharpness (looking, feeling, being) for a day or so at least. Even shaving every other day instead every 24 hours is a help.

This idea of having to run the hook every day may be okay for some, but it gets under my skin (no pun). It half-way ruins the day to have to face that face (and razor) before going to work.

When I was a teen-ager, this was an achievement. At the age of 15 or thereabouts a guy had arrived when he made the statement to the gang that he had shaved. Of course the gang had to take his word; they couldn't look at his face and note any difference — unless he cut himself. It is bad now, but then a cut was as good as a medal.

This shaving a smooth surface occurred about every six months while I was in the last two years of high school. I did break the monotony and shave before graduation; I really wanted to look sharp, feel sharp, etc.

I was in my own element in high school, but upon entering college, I felt like a babe among bluebeards. I didn't have the guts — or the whiskers — to shave in the shower room with all those older men around. I took an electric shaver with me to use in my room, but this was superfluous.

Finally, I solved the problem by returning to my room with a wet washrag, soaping my face, and shaving there. This, now that I was in college, occurred more regularly — about once every eight weeks.

This bi-monthly occurrence dwindled to every two weeks by the time my second year in college rolled around. By this time, I as a sophomore had a reputation to uphold. Being older than one class, I forced myself to shave in the shower. Besides by this time, I could actually see a few whiskers among all the lather.

It was a joy then.

How times change. Whether I needed it or not, I was forced to shave every day while in service. Those characters in charge had a way of knowing when a guy didn't shave. The stubble didn't look too bad to me occasionally when I thought I could get away with not shaving, but those sergeants had eyes, like razor salesmen.

The plan is the same now, except that I feel it my duty to appear every morning clean shaven, feeling sharp, looking sharp, etc. But most of the mornings when I crawl out of bed, I don't feel too devious.

However, while on vacation away from home where no one knows you — that is the time to lay off the whiskers-cutting. This is also a good time to grow a mustache if you haven't the nerve to grow one at home. But best of all it is time to get away from that razor.

Just another reason for vacations more than once a year.

Inez Robb A Drought Is Hard On A Gardener

As I write this, I am a split-level gardener, with a split-level backache from carrying water on both shoulders. Throughout this long drought period, I have been the sole support of two gardens to which I plighted my troth several years ago and to which I have been faithful in my fashion.

Throughout this extended dry spell in the East, I have been frantically trying to keep alive a city garden on terraces 18 stories up in New York's soot and dirt-laden atmosphere and another at ground level in the parched area of Flemington, N. J.

At the moment, the struggle has settled down to an endurance contest between the drought and Mme. Gunga Din Robb. So far the contest is about even. At first we prayed that the country well, under duress, would hold out; now the prayers have been shifted to me for the duration.

From the first we ruled out any attempt to water the lawn at Wild Out, and as of now it is an expanse of beige or café au lait. At executive level we made a decision to keep alive the annual and perennial flower beds and the roses. This was not a difficult decision to make, since all are within relatively easy access of the garden hose.

As a result, the zinnias, Shasta daisies, petunias, phlox, cosmos, snapdragons, bachelor buttons and marigolds never had it so good. The pampered things don't even know there's been a drought. The summer asters are in bud and the autumn asters and the chrysanthemums live in a fool's paradise, with never a thought of the nitwit who spends the week ends pouring on water, as if Scotland were burning.

If only I had stuck to the high-level decision to maintain the above, my achin' back would not now be throbbing like a wind harp in a gale.

But about three weeks ago the dogwoods began to droop and the French lilacs developed an alarming list. Next, the young willow trees looked too spirited to live and seemed about to give up the ghost.

Now all of these are definitely outside the range of the garden hose, even with two extra 50-foot lengths added. So a bucket brigade was organized and I am here to testify that the first nefarious bucket of water is bound to lead to countless others.

As of now, everything seems to be holding its own, except me. And come to think of it, I am holding my back. But if the drought continues, something will have to give, and the betting's on me.

As for the town garden, within reach of a hose in all directions, it looks green and healthy. And why shouldn't it? I'm the one who looks parched and pinched. The ivy is rampant, the morning glories are twice as high as an elephant's eye, the shrubs and trees are verdant and the petunias, jantanas, geraniums and azaleas full of bloom.

Of course, I don't get any reading done or the correspondence attended to, as every waking moment away from the typewriter must be spent irrigating the roof crops which dry out almost as fast as water is applied.

By the time this appears in print, the skies may have opened up and drowned the gardens both in and out of town. After all, I had just filed my last column from Mexico and caught a plane home when that lovely land was rocked by an earthquake.

However, as regards a good, soaking rain, I would rejoice if I could feel sure that "apres moi, le deluge." My sacro-litic would love it.

David Lawrence President Involved In Civil Rights

WASHINGTON—Many members of the House and Senate face defeat at the polls if they record themselves as opposed to trial by jury.

It's an easy issue on which the public can be swayed. It is broader than the question of only enforcing voting rights. It affects the whole American system of justice.

The opposing candidates can say to the people: "Do you want a man to represent you in Congress who doesn't trust you?"

The basic principles of justice do not change with the passage of time. Thomas Jefferson made the issue very plain. He wrote prophetically of the very problem that is rocking the Senate today in considering the so-called "civil rights" bill. It was he who championed ardently the principle of trial by jury. He labored successfully to have the safeguards of jury trial inserted in the Bill of Rights. What Jefferson wrote in 1789 was this:

"We think, in America, that it is necessary to introduce the people into every department of government, as far as they are capable of exercising it; and that this is the only way to insure a long-continued and honest administration of its powers."

"They (the people) are not qualified to judge questions of law, but they are very capable of judging questions of fact. In the form of juries, therefore, they determine all matters of fact, leaving to the permanent judges, to decide the law resulting from those facts."

"But we all know that permanent judges acquire an esprit de corps; that being known, they are liable to be tempted by bribery; that they are misled by favor, by relationship, by a spirit of party, by a devotion to the executive or legislative power; that it is better to leave a cause to the decision of cross and pile (heads or tails), than to that of a judge biased to one side; and that the opinion of 12 honest jurymen gives still a better hope of right than cross and pile does."

"It is in the power, therefore, of the jurist, if they think permanent judges are under any bias whatever, in any cause, as well as the fact: They never exercise this power but when they suspect partiality in the judges; and by the exercise of this power, they have been the firmest bulwarks of English liberty."

The Democrats still claim to be the party of Jefferson. Yet only Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming, Democrat, together with three other Democrats outside the Southern bloc—Senators Keafauer of Tennessee, Church of Idaho and Jackson of the state of Washington—have announced that they are supporting the Jeffersonian principle which is embodied in the proposed amendment to require jury trials in criminal contempt cases. Most of the other Democrats from the North, who have hitherto represented themselves as disciples of Jefferson, now are joining with the advocates of "government by injunction" and would deny jury trials.

It is a favorite argument advanced by some legalists that jury trials have never been granted in civil contempt cases, and hence there is no harm in denying such trials in criminal contempt cases as well. Actually it is not so simple. The jury in the Clinton, Tennessee, case, for instance, followed the prescription of the judge on what they were told was "the law." This is only another way of saying that the broad phrases of the judge's own injunction were "the law." The jurymen were instructed to decide solely whether the acts of alleged interference complained of really did take place.

What happens in the courtroom—disrespect for the judge or acts of violence there—has always been regarded as within the power of the judge to punish. But in the Clinton case many acts occurred outside the courtroom and the jury was required merely to verify the doing of those acts and to disregard the constitutionality of the injunction itself. Taking, however, into account recent Supreme Court decisions, the defendants were apparently denied the First Amendment guarantees of free speech and free assembly.

Anything as fundamental as this issue should have been exhaustively studied by the Senate Judiciary Committee prior to debate in the Senate. It has been contended that the committee would have botched up the measure anyhow because a Southerner at present heads the committee. The Senate, on the other hand, could easily have set up a special committee of inquiry if necessary to hold hearings and make recommendations to the Senate.

One of the gun crews of the local National Guard units, B Battery, 132nd Field Artillery Battalion, assembles behind the 105 mm howitzer before participating in a drill. From left to right, the crewmen are Sp. 3-C Edwin Elmore, Pfc. Doyle Hooper, Sgt. Joe Clark, Pfc. Billy Roger, Sp. 3-C Jim Wood, Pvt. James Raseo, and Sp. 3-C Lenney Tyler. The picture was taken while the unit was at Fort Hood recently for two weeks of active duty.

More Jolts Due As Communist Areas Warned Of U.S. 'Spies'

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press Foreign News Analyst

Throughout the Communist orbit, people are being told to beware of American spies.

Such concerted campaigns often have foreshadowed internal convulsions. This one may mean the loose ends of the latest Kremlin purge have not been tucked into place, and more jolts are due.

The Soviet press and radio lead the chorus. Soviet propaganda organs have been telling the public regularly that American agents are trying to get political, economic and military information from "talkative people."

In Indochina, the Communists in North Viet Nam gave big publicity to the arrest of a group of alleged saboteurs in the American service.

In Czechoslovakia several groups accused of being spies for the Americans have been arrested with attendant publicity. The Czechoslovak Communists have a mobile exhibit supposedly illustrating the activities and equipment of foreign spies.

East Germany has announced the arrest and trials of persons plotting sabotage against the Communist regime and of students accused of spying for U. S. intelligence.

Hungary, with a wave of arrests linked to last fall's revolution, claims to have uncovered 40 groups working as agents for Western Powers.

Poland has arrested a German on charges of being an agent seeking information on Poland's defenses.

Bulgaria has lodged spy charges coincident with a purge in its armed forces, and Albania frequently announces the discovery of spy nests.

In Red China, a Shantung court imprisoned a group accused of seeking economic, political and military information for the United States. The Red Chinese made a display of pistols, signal apparatus and forged documents.

The Soviet campaign warns of "agents in the guise of diplomats."

Moscow radio's home service, like many organs of the Soviet press, said American intelligence seeks the services of "unstable and decadent elements," particularly among young people and intellectuals. These agents, it added, put out provocative rumors against political leaders.

Statements like these are significant. The major ferment inside the U.S.S.R. is among young people and intellectuals. No doubt the Soviet Union is alive with rumors of what will happen next in the wake of Khrushchev's purge in the Kremlin and in view of growing unrest in Communist countries.

Similar spy scares preceded purges in Stalin's day. After Stalin, a massive vigilance campaign foreshadowed the purge of police boss Beria. In November, 1954, a campaign began against "loudmouths," extending through January, 1955, a week or two before Georgi Malenkov was toppled as premier. Another such drive preceded the 20th Party Congress at which Khrushchev denounced Stalin's record.

Sexy Blonde Makes Liar Out Of Mathias

By JAMES BACON
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A sexy blonde made an awful liar out of Bob Mathias the other day. Mathias is the handsome ex-Olympic decathlon champ who recently was signed to an acting career by John Wayne.

Bob, a six-foot-four hunk of a man, was discussing with a reporter about women athletes. Said he:

"Women, if they are smart, will keep out of athletics. First, they're no good at it compared with European women and, secondly, it tends to make them muscular and ugly."

About this time, an executive with Batjac Productions brought blonde Jeanne Carmen to the table and introduced her to Mathias and the reporter.

Jeanne, soft and curvy and a cross between Marilyn Monroe and Anita Ekberg, listened intently while Mathias continued his discussion on women athletes. She said nothing.

Then the reporter started questioning her, asking her what she had done before she tried for a movie career. All at the table expected her to give the usual answer—model or beauty contest winner or little theater. Instead she replied demurely:

"I was a golf pro."

"We had an act where we would get some volunteer from the audience to lie down and hold a teed-off golf ball in his mouth. Then the pro would ask me to hit the ball off the volunteer's mouth."

"I used to take an amateurish swing and then the pro would ask: 'Have you ever swung a golf club before?' Then, if the volunteer hadn't fainted by this time, I answered 'no' and smacked the ball right out of his mouth."

Did she ever miss? No, but she admitted that she had scared a lot of volunteers in her time.

What did she think about Mathias' comments on women athletes?

"I think he's been around too many women shot putters," she answered.

Mathias allowed as how he might have been.

for All Bug Problems

The Only Complete Line of Fumerators — A Model for Every Need

To overcome bug-pests, use Science's newest, deadliest method — a Thermolized gas permeates the unoccupied room, killing the bug-insects it reaches, even scorpions and spiders. "The mechanical operation of a device is the most important factor in its effectiveness..." Bureau of Chemistry, State of California. Let us explain the difference, so you can choose the Bug-a-roo model that solves your problem, at the very lowest cost.

With powerful new heating units

LITTLE GIANT

NEEDS NO ELECTRICITY

You can use it at home — and take it with you on trips. Works fast, within one hour, spreading full charge of gas into a room, cabin, motel, tent, trailer and out-building. Best possible protection against annoying insects, such as mosquitoes, flies, gnats, etc... A blessing for vacationers.

MIRAKIL

The Most Efficient, Effective Bug-Killing Device Ever Perfected

A ceramic device created to circulate Thermolized gas produced with MiraKil crystals... a gas that rides the circulated air to the very lair of all bug-insects, causing them to come out of hiding to be destroyed, for wherever they are, they must have air and MiraKil gas reaches them within the area. So effective is the Thermolized gas from MiraKil that it need not be used again for a long time. No means whatsoever can compare with MiraKil in bug-killing effectiveness. MiraKil also makes an attractive TV light or nursery light when not in use. Lasts indefinitely — additional MiraKil crystals for only 30c per package.
