To Market, To Market . . . In Big Crates

The Martin County cantaloupe harvest hit full stride this week and packing plant workers are shown here crating the fat melons for shipment to market. The harvest started at the rate of about 125 crates per day, with about 500 boxes packed by this morning. The Parkhill Produce Company is handling the marketing, with packing operations taking place in the county barn at Stanton.

Coastal Residents Warned To Flee Approaching Storm

The Weather Bureau told residents of low areas on the Texas and Louisiana coasts Friday to get out ahead of Hurricane Bertha. The 10 a.m. advisory called Bertha a hurricane for the first time. Earlier it had been called a storm. Tides 5 to 6 feet higher than normal were expected in the area of Galveston and Sabine, Tex. Tides 3 to 5 feet eastward to Vermilion Bay were expected in Louisiana, the Weather Bureau said. The high tides, said the bureau, may begin Friday afternoon. The center of the hurricane was expected to reach the coast before midnight. Winds at 10 a.m., said the bureau, were 75 miles per hour, up from 65 miles an hour at 7 a.m. At that time, the hurricane was 140 miles southeast of Lake Charles near latitude 28.6 north, longitude 91.9 west. Gales extended 100 miles from the center. The storm pattern was following closely that of Hurricane Audrey, which killed more than 530 persons June 27 in the region of Cameron, La. Survivors of the Cameron area fled during the night at the first word of the storm's approach. The Continental Oil Co. reported higher winds than those reported by the Weather Bureau. The company said winds reached 90 m.p.h. Friday morning and already were affecting Grand Isle, La.

Hurricane Audrey took 11 lives in Texas, and caused damage estimated by the Texas Department of Public Safety at six million dollars. Civil defense authorities and the Weather Bureau said they expected the center of Bertha to strike between Galveston and Vermilion Bay, La., which would include the area damaged by Audrey. Residents of Cameron, La., where Hurricane Audrey took more than 530 lives June 27, fled during the night. This contrasted with the Audrey situation, when many residents ignored warnings. Offshore drilling rig crews left their little steel islands in the Gulf

Thursday. More than 1,350 men were evacuated. Light aircraft at Ellington AFB at Houston were moved out of the storm area Friday morning. At Orange, over which the eye of Audrey passed, skies began clouding by 8:30 a.m. and winds began to rise. Civil Defense units were alerted from New Orleans westward. G. L. Allen, a New Orleans Weather Bureau forecaster, said Bertha's present movement would take it inland on the Texas coast, but was noncommittal to queries. He had spent last night in Manhattan's Federal House of Detention after being flown here from Houston, Tex. He was in a detention camp at McAllen, Tex., awaiting deportation as an illegal alien, when the grand jury indicted him as a kingpin of Russian spying.

Accused Red Spy Arraigned, Seems Resigned To His Fate

NEW YORK (AP)—With all the calmness of a man resigned to fate, accused master Russian spy Rudolph Ivanovich Abel was arraigned in U. S. District Court in Brooklyn today on charges which could bring his execution. A plea of innocent was entered for him by the court. Abel, looking somewhat haggard and disheveled in dress, was held without bail when arraigned before U. S. Dist. Judge Matthew T. Albruzzi. The judge inquired whether Abel had obtained a lawyer and Abel said he had not. Asked how long it would take him to get one, Abel replied: "I really don't know." Abel said he would like to be given time to secure an attorney before further proceedings and the judge complied. The judge then set a hearing in the case for Aug. 13. Abel, alleged to be a colonel of the Soviet secret police, was indicted by a Brooklyn grand jury on charges he headed a Russian spy ring sending U. S. military and atomic secrets to his homeland. The 55-year-old prisoner appeared in unpressed clothes for his arraignment and obviously was in need of a haircut. His face showed a slight shadow of a beard. He was baggy eyed and spoke in soft tones, with a rather deep voice and a trace of a foreign accent.

Some tension, he kept his hands clasped in front of him as he stood before the judge's bench and gave his answers to the judge's questions in a calm tone. Asst. U. S. Atty. William F. Tompkins, addressing the judge when the matter of possible bail was raised, described Abel as the head "of a most elaborate and intricate espionage" ring. He said that Abel was "skillfully trained in the practice of espionage, skillfully trained in the art of avoiding detection and skilled in the use of aliases." Tompkins pointed out Abel had employed at least four aliases. He opposed granting bail for the defendant, saying Abel was a national of the Soviet Union, had entered this country illegally, concealed his presence here and "illegally obtained" secret information relating to our national defense. He said there was nothing to insure that Abel would appear for trial if released on bond and he urged "the highest possible security" be given to assure the defendant's presence at the trial. Judge Albruzzi pointed out that if the charges against Abel are proven he can be punished by death or imprisonment for any number of years. He said he would hold Abel without bail until Tuesday but that he was going to "leave it open so the attorney (for Abel) can make any argument" he wishes regarding the matter. OFFICERS ON GUARD Five officers were near Abel in the court. No questions were permitted newsmen as Abel was led from a detention cell to the courtroom. At earlier times, he posed willingly for photographs, even to complying with photographers' requests to turn his head this way and that, but was noncommittal to queries. He had spent last night in Manhattan's Federal House of Detention after being flown here from Houston, Tex. He was in a detention camp at McAllen, Tex., awaiting deportation as an illegal alien, when the grand jury indicted him as a kingpin of Russian spying.

Albam, Mrs. Soble Given 5 Years On Spy Charges

NEW YORK (AP)—Jacob Albam, 64, a former Brooklyn tea and spice dealer, and Mrs. Myra Soble 52, were sentenced to 5 1/2 years in prison each today for spying for the Soviet Union. Her husband, Jack, 54, a third member of the espionage ring, was sentenced to 10 years. Albam and Mrs. Soble appeared shocked when Federal District Judge Richard H. Levett pronounced the sentences. Throughout the preliminaries, the blond Mrs. Soble wept softly. Albam bespectacled and balding, had stared nervously at the floor, walls and the ceiling. The reason for not sentencing Soble immediately was not disclosed.

Courtroom spectators were tense as Mrs. Soble and Albam entered the room. She was wearing a gray, herring-bone patterned cotton dress and nervously fingered a handkerchief. Pacing a corridor outside the courtroom was the Sobles' 17-year-old son, Lawrence, who reportedly has expressed faith in his parents. At the time of their arrest last January he said he was "more than 100 per cent certain" they were not spies. After they pleaded guilty last April, the youth said: "Whatever they did it was to protect the lives of my grandparents or other innocent persons." The Sobels and Albam all came to the United States as European refugees.

Confidential Trial To Resume Today LOS ANGELES (AP)—The criminal libel trial of Confidential and Whisper magazines and their alleged Hollywood agents resumes today, with actor Tab Hunter trying to avoid being called as a witness. Gilbert D. Seton, attorney for Hunter, contends that the article about Hunter is not among those on which the state is basing its charges of conspiracy to publish libelous and obscene matter. Therefore, Seton says, anything Hunter might testify would be immaterial.

Area Cooperatives To Hold Membership Meet Tonight

STANTON (SC)—Annual membership meeting of the Cap Rock Electric and two other cooperatives is set for 7 p.m. today in the American Legion Hall here. Highlights of the annual gathering will be election of directors, reports on the past year's activities, and a program of entertainment. Terms are expiring for three directors of the electric cooperative, and all board members of the Cap Rock Refrigeration Co-Op and the West-Tex Telephone Co-Op must be re-elected or replaced. Annual reports will show impressive gains during the past year, said O. B. Bryan, general manager.

Rayburn Favors Present Rights Bill

Urges Passage Of Senate Version

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Speaker Rayburn of Texas called today for House acceptance of the Senate civil rights bill. He said, however, that he would be agreeable "if necessary" to a compromise narrowing the controversial jury trial provision. At the same time, House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts again demanded defeat of the Senate jury trial bill. Martin made public a letter from Deputy Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers asserting it would cut in on the authority of all federal courts. Backstage House moves, meantime, were directed at a compromise solution which would limit jury trials only to criminal contempt cases involving voting rights. Rayburn's stated willingness to accept that language strengthened its prospects. The House originally passed a bill allowing the Justice Department to move in on court enforcement for civil rights generally. It made no provision for jury trials in contempt cases growing out of violations of judges' orders. The Senate cut the Justice Department authorization down to voting rights cases. It also wrote in a requirement for jury trials in criminal contempt cases. Government lawyers say the language is so broad it would require juries not only in civil rights cases but in contempt actions under a great variety of federal laws including antitrust and labor statutes. Criminal contempt generally covers cases in which a court undertakes to punish for failure to comply with an order, as distinguished from civil contempt in which a person may be jailed until he does comply.

Defiant Rancher John Prather, who owns a ranch near Alamogordo, N. M., has defied U. S. marshals and the Army who want to take his ranch for a missile range. The 32-year-old Prather told Army officials and U. S. marshals that he was not leaving the ranch alive.

Prather Wins Partial Victory In Army Fuss

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. (AP)—Pioneer rancher John Prather has received from a federal court the right to live out his life on a 15-acre tract from which the Army sought to evict him. Prather isn't happy about his partial victory over the Army yesterday. He wants all of his 27,000-acre ranch—now part of a missile range—and he wants title to it. "I have not gone back on my promise to keep this ranch for my children," the 32-year-old rancher said. "I want this land for them when I die. I shall continue my fight to keep it from military possession." Asst. U. S. Atty. Joseph R. McNeany said Prather still does not have title even to the 15 acres adjoining a missile range. It would be possible for the military to seek another eviction proceeding through the courts, but the Army has conceded it won't. Instead, it will harness its missiles so Prather won't be endangered. Edward A. Bacon, deputy assistant secretary of the Army, wrote Sen. Clinton Anderson (D-NM) the Prather ranch buildings and the 15 acres are still required to obtain maximum use of the McGregor missile range. Bacon said the Army "will have to reduce the width of the impact area about 1 1/2 miles" to allow Prather to live out his days in the ranch home he built more than 50 years ago. Bacon told Anderson he hoped "that this humanitarian action . . . will redound to the best interests of the government." Prather and other ranchers in the area lost title to their lands when a "declaration of taking" was filed by the Army March 15 in move to expand the McGregor missile training range. Prather said his battle is far from over. He offered to "give them any kind of lease they want for the use of my land, and I'll waive responsibility for any damage they might create." The federal court order, handed down by U. S. Dist. Judge Waldo Rogers, was an amended order of possession and a partial suspension of a writ of assistance issued earlier this week. The original writ ordered the U. S. marshal in Albuquerque to put Prather from the ranch, by force, if necessary. Three deputy U. S. marshals went to the Prather ranch Tuesday, talked with the armed and stubborn Prather and returned here empty handed. The aged cattleman offered to settle the dispute in the old Western way. He suggested to one of the three deputy marshals that they each take a gun-step back, draw and fire. None of the marshals accepted Prather's order. The new order grants Prather the right to live on the 15 acres which contain his ranch house and access to a road connecting the ranch home on the missile range to other ranch land outside the range.

$213,700 In Federal Airport Aid Okayed

Howard County is to have an airport which will cost not less than $713,700 and the green light has been given the project. R. H. Weaver, county judge, received a telegram from George Mahon, congressman from this district, today informing him the Civil Aeronautics Authority has officially approved the Howard County project for this year's program and allocated $213,700 to finance its part in the work. Howard County has provided $500,000 additional by a bond issue. The telegram asserted that the CAA funds are for "land acquisition, site preparation, taxi area, runways and aprons." Weaver said that the term "site preparation" was not understood locally and that he was endeavoring to ascertain from the CAA officials what it implied. Howard County has already acquired title to land for the airport — located about four miles north and east of Big Spring on the south side of the Snyder highway. Weaver said that the allocation of federal funds as reported in Mahon's telegram was a "little disappointing" in view of the previous indication that an additional $100,000 might have been expected. However, he added, the engineers and architects, who have been forced to hold their hands while action by the CAA was awaited, are now moving ahead at full speed preparing plans and specifications. "It's all settled," Weaver said. "We can go ahead and will go ahead as rapidly as we can." He was planning to confer with the CAA engineer as soon as he could to exact interpretation of the terms in the telegram. Originally, Howard County had been told there would be no CAA funds invested in the local airport. As a result, the $500,000 was all that was originally expected for expenditure on the project. This had limited the airport to a single hard-surfaced runway and a second earthen runway. Now both runways are to be hard-surfaced and are to be made longer than originally planned. The county officials were elated that the long delayed decision on the project has come through.

Quannah Parker's Remains Re-Buried

FT. SILL, Okla. (AP)—Accompanied by U. S. soldiers representing 15 Indian tribes the remains of Comanche Chief Quannah Parker and his white mother were brought here today for reburial in Post Cemetery. The all-Indian honor guard and firing squad were chosen from units stationed at this artillery and missile center in southwestern Oklahoma. The Army recently purchased land on which Parker and his mother, Cynthia Ann, were buried as part of a firing range expansion program, forcing removal of graves in the Post Oak Mission Cemetery at Cache, Okla.

Dr. Hunt Gets New Pact; Budget OK'd

Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of Howard County Junior College, was given a new five-year contract and a $1,200 annual pay raise Thursday. The new salary will be $14,400 per year — up from $13,200. "Fringe" benefits will be unchanged. The new contract is to include a provision for salary adjustments at the discretion of the college board. Trustees extended the new contract at a session also approving a proposed college budget of $733,600. They set Aug. 22 for public hearing on the 1957-58 budget after devoting most of the meeting to a study of the proposed schedule. Only one other salary adjustment was made. Paul Vaght, librarian, was raised from $5,540 to $6,740 per year after Dr. Hunt reported Vaght had been offered a job at Arlington State College. John J. Gentili, formerly of Frank Phillips College, Borger, was elected special science instructor for HCJC at an annual salary of $4,800. Gentili holds a master's degree and has completed 30 additional semester hours of graduate study in the field of history, Dr. Hunt said. Trustees stamped their approval on an additional outlay of $1,750 for alteration of the science building. Earlier they had approved $3,600 for the project. The new budget anticipates receipts will include $198,240 in local taxes, $83,475 in state subsidy, $54,512 in tuition and smaller sums from miscellaneous sources. Administrative costs are expected to reach $70,084 during the year, instructional salaries are set at $136,685, plant operation and maintenance is expected to cost $41,263, and capital expenditures are to total $38,632.

Hearing Set On Zoning Change

The zoning board will hear a request for changing half a block from a residential to business area at a public hearing Monday afternoon. The public hearing will be held in the classroom of the police building. This change was necessitated by work being done on the city hall. Time of the hearing is 5:15 p.m. Under consideration is the east half of the block bounded by Nolan, Johnson, Ninth and Tenth. The proposed change would make it an F zone for commercial use. It is now a B zone (two-party residence). The west half of the block is already zoned for business. Should the zoning board approve the request, it will be referred to the City Commission at its meeting Tuesday night for final action.

Plane Crash Fatal To Texas Family

NORTHFIELD, Minn. (AP)—All four members of a West Texas family were killed last night when their light plane crashed into a farm house near Dundas, five miles south of here. They were Arthur Ward, 30; his wife, Dolores, 23; and their daughters, Nannette, 2, and Kathy, 1, of Morton, in Cochran County. A coroner, Dr. A. W. Nuetzman, said the family apparently left Morton, where Ward operated a farm and feed lot for his father, yesterday morning to visit Mrs. Ward's ill mother at St. Paul. Witnesses said Ward apparently was trying to land in a field at the Fred Shrader farm but struck a tree at the edge of it and the plane skewed into the house.

Senate Panel Seeks More Data On Union Payment To Dio

Dio On Stand

Racketeer Johnny Dio takes the witness stand in Washington, D.C., before the Senate Rackets Committee but was excused later after a brief appearance when the hearing was recessed to allow members of the committee to vote in the Senate. Chairman John McClellan (D-Ark) ordered during the recess "no one is to make personal contact with the defendant" and then corrected himself to describe Dio as "the witness."

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Rackets Committee sought more information today on a labor union's $18,000 payment to mobster Johnny Dio. Dio refused to discuss the transaction, saying it might "incriminate me."

Robert F. Kennedy, the committee's counsel, called Earl Heaton, retiring president of the Allied Industrial Workers, formerly the AFL Auto Workers. This is the union that sent Dio the money.

Dio invoked the Fifth Amendment 140 times as a witness yesterday. He refused to answer questions about his labor union connections and alleged "close friendship" with Midwest Teamster boss James R. Hoffa, the man expected to succeed Dave Beck as Teamsters president.

Among matters that Dio refused to talk about was a $16,000 check given him by the UAW-AFL in September 1954 and signed by Anthony Doria, then the UAW-AFL's secretary-treasurer.

Doria, who was involved in a Senate investigation of labor union welfare fund scandals a few years ago, recently quit, as did the AFL's secretary-treasurer. Ken-ned said Doria was paid some $80,000 for stepping out.

—CALLED "INVESTMENT"
When Dio refused to acknowledge his signature on the $16,000 check, Kennedy said Doria had explained it as repayment of money Dio had "invested" in UAW-AFL Local 102.

That is the local, Kennedy said, in which Dio collected hoodlums, and later switched them into a batch of specially created Teamsters Union locals to rig the election of a Hoffa-picked man to the top Teamsters spot in the key New York area.

Kennedy said Dio told a secret Senate committee hearing last year he never helped finance UAW Local 102. This statement apparently conflicted with Doria's reported explanation. Dio offered no help in clearing this up.

In fact, the dapper-dressing Dio would give only his own name and that of his counsel beside him. He refused to say whether he is an American citizen, a Communist or engaged in espionage for the Soviets.

These last questions were asked by Sen. Mundt (R-SD), who said Dio's refusal to say whether he was an American citizen put the racketeer "clearly in contempt of the Senate."

LISTENED TO TAPES

Dio listened intently while the committee played tapes of wiretapped telephone conversations which Kennedy said were recorded by New York police under court order in 1955. The committee said the voices were those of Dio, fellow racketeer Tony (Ducks) Corallo, and two of Corallo's lieutenants, Carmine Tramunti and Dick Kaminsky.

In the recordings Dio was represented as telling Corallo of meetings with Hoffa.

Heaton succeeded Lester Washburn as president of the UAW-AFL, now the AIW, in mid-1954. Washburn has told the committee he was forced out when he expelled Dio and Dio-controlled local unions, only to have his decisions reversed and Dio reinstated. Heaton stepped out as AIW president only a few days ago.

In New York, Max Chester, a henchman of Dio, was indicted in Kings County Court on charges of extortion and coercion. Chester, already twice convicted of labor racketeering, pleaded innocent to the new charges. He was ordered held without bail. No date was set for trial.

Congress Gets Aid Bill With Long-Range Program Included

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress was presented today with a $3,365,000,000 foreign aid program embodying a first step toward a long-range program of economic help abroad.

President Eisenhower has urged such a program.

Senate and House conferees agreed last night on a compromise foreign aid bill, slashed $488,410,000 below the $3,853,410,000 Eisenhower asked for military, economic and technical assistance abroad. In doing so, the conferees just about split the 500-million difference between Senate and House totals.

The totals may be cut even deeper in a later appropriations bill to finance the spending for which the foreign aid bill sets ceilings. But the compromise measure represents a partial congressional acceptance of the long-range concept.

House conferees agreed to two-year authority for Eisenhower's proposed fund for making loans to underdeveloped countries for long-range economic development. The original House bill had limited the proposed fund to one year.

Senate conferees, in turn, agreed to drop their insistence on a three-year fund, and to accept the House version on how the fund should be operated.

Under the compromise bill, the President would be empowered to establish the fund within the International Cooperation Administration. The measure would authorize a 500-million-dollar appropriation for the fund this year, plus an additional 625 millions for the fiscal year starting next July 1. This would mean the administration would have to come back to Congress next year for actual money to run the fund in its second year.

The two-year authority would enable fund administrators to help finance longer range projects than now are possible under the year-to-year authority the ICA has.

Eisenhower had asked—and the Senate approved—a 500-million-dollar fund authorization for this fiscal year, plus authority to borrow another 1½ billions from the Treasury over the succeeding two years. The House had approved only 500 millions for a single year's operation.

Sen. Green (D-R), chairman of the Senate conferees, called it a "fair compromise" and one that he said "takes the first step" toward a long-range program.

The conferees also agreed on authority for a $1,600,000,000 program of military assistance and 700 millions in economic supports to enable some allies to maintain defenses. This would be for the 1958 fiscal year which began July 1.

The Senate abandoned a provision of its bill to authorize 1½ billions in military aid and 710 millions in defense supports for the 1959 fiscal year.

But the conferees agreed to a change under which unspent balances which may be left over at the end of this fiscal year will continue to be available for spending next year. That, too, was a partial administration victory.

Final Tribute Set For Oliver Hardy

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Friends from Movieland pay a final tribute today to Oliver Hardy, 65, the fat funnyman of the slapstick era, who died Wednesday. Hardy's old partner and friend Stan Laurel won't be able to attend the funeral services. Laurel, 67, is too ill.

Masonic services at 1 p.m. will be followed by cremation and inurnment in the Garden of Hope at Valhalla Memorial Park, North Hollywood.

VA Hospital tests readiness to cope with community disaster

11 'CASUALTIES' TREATED

It Didn't Really Happen, But Hospital Ready For Disaster

By NITA HEDLESTON
Casualties came into the VA Hospital Thursday afternoon, some by ambulance, some in private cars. Some were placed on stretchers, others walked to the hospital elevator where they were whisked away for emergency treatment.

They weren't real casualties, however; they were all part of the mock disaster drill held Thursday at the hospital. They could have been real, though, and the VA staff was practicing to make sure they would be able to handle such a situation in the event a real disaster should hit Big Spring.

The "casualties," persons pretending to be injured and one playing dead on arrival, were brought to the hospital from the "scene of disaster" and taken into the hospital lobby. From here they were sent to their special sections for treatment. Total time for the drill from the time the victims entered the hospital

Red Subs Seen Off Scotland

LONDON (AP)—With the British Royal Navy watching curiously, two Polish submarines cruised slowly and mysteriously southward along the North Sea coast of Scotland today.

Wilson Leaves Behind Record Of Foot-In-Mouth Statements

WASHINGTON (AP)—Charles E. Wilson will be leaving Washington in a few weeks, having survived some turbulent times in his 4 1/2 years as secretary of defense.

The stocky, white-haired, 67-year-old former president of General Motors resigned Wednesday.

capable of handling all defense requirements. He also had to ally the temper of the White House, made this statement to reporters, who asked him what he had discussed with the President: "This is not my dunghill. Anything to be announced, somebody else ought to announce."

Lamesa Teacher, Paper Due Awards

LAMESA—The Texas Vocational Agriculture Teachers Assn. will present a distinguished service award to Andrew Essary, vocational agriculture instructor at Lamesa High School, at its annual convention in Houston Aug. 12-16.

Wilson will stay on a few weeks longer to help McElroy get acquainted with the complex job. Then he will take a vacation and what his outspoken wife Jessie terms a well-earned rest.

Perhaps the biggest uproar of criticism this year for what some have called his "foot-in-mouth" statements followed his January remark that the National Guard was a refuge for draft dodgers during the Korean War.

Legislators and labor leaders thundered a barrage of criticism at Wilson for this one. The Cabinet officer later said he intended no slur against the jobless and no "invidious comparisons, not insinuations likening people to dogs in any sense."

Some critics were saying last year that he had outlived his usefulness. But most will no doubt agree that his salty and outspoken though at times admittedly "in-apt," remarks will be missed and the capital will be the duller for it.

From Three Collections

Lush Is The Word For Fall

Though the fall silhouette is slender and simple, fabrics and furs hit a new high in luxury. Recent showings by New York designers highlight the most brilliant collection of rich fabrics and fur trimmings seen in many years. Daytime suits and costumes sport trimmings and accessories of almost every fur, from fox to mink and from raccoon to ermine. Cocktail and evening gowns glitter with all-over sequin or bead embroidery in some instances, use rich brocades and floating chiffons in others. It's a season of color, also, with red in all shades important, with many tones of purple, green, blue and gold close contenders. As always, the little black dress is with us, but this year it has competition from the full range of the spectrum.

Shower Is Honor For Bride-Elect

A red and white color scheme was used Thursday evening at a kitchen shower honoring Jolene Reynolds, bride-elect of Charles Dunnam. The serving table was laid with a white lace cloth and featured in the center a large red satin heart placed on a reflector. Across the center of the heart was inscribed in gold the wedding date of the couple, Aug. 27. Red satin streamers bore their names. This was surrounded by red verbenas. For the affair, Miss Reynolds was attired in a red sheath dress and she chose white accessories. Hostesses presented her with a novelty corsage made of kitchen utensils. Hostesses for the party, held in the J. B. Riddle home, were Mrs. Alvis Harry, Mrs. Bobby Phillips, Mrs. Ronald Young and Jane Hill. Miss Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Reynolds, will be married to Dunnam, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Dunnam, on Aug. 27 at the Baptist Temple Church.

Ship's Chef Famous For Medley Salad

Chef Otto Bismarck of the liner "United States" stresses the salad itself more than the dressing, but offers several suggestions on salad preparation. He advises several seasonings such as summer savory, thyme and marjoram. He also repeats the old saying, "A spendthrift with the oil, a miser with the vinegar and a diplomat with the salt." His most popular salad is Medley Salad United States. Ingredients: 2 cucumbers, 3 carrots, 2 bell peppers, 1 large bunch watercress, 1 small head romaine, 3 tomatoes, 2 bunches spring onions, 1/2 small head chionoy, 1/2 small head escarole, 1/4 small head red cabbage, 1 bunch radishes, 1 medium size can pimientos. Method: All vegetables should be very fresh and crisp. It is wise to wash them, dry them thoroughly and put them in the vegetable container for a few hours before using. Cut unpeeled tomatoes into eighths. Scrape and slice carrots very thin. Break up escarole, romaine and chicory by hand into bite-size pieces. Cut up one bunch of onions, tops and all, and add, reserving one bunch for decorations. Score one unpeeled cucumber and slice around. Slice other cucumber long way to use for decoration. Slice bell pepper and radishes very thin and cut up cabbage, cut pimiento into thin strips. Add watercress and toss vegetables together with dressing made of olive oil and lime juice and seasoned with herbs. 8 servings.

Membership Party Is Given By Jaycee-Ettes

A sunburst of agapathus blossoms was the decoration for the table at a membership party Thursday morning in the home of Mrs. Commodore Ryan, given by the Jaycee-Ettes. Arranged on a styrofoam base, soda straws in a sunburst were each topped with a tiny bloom and the centerpiece was flanked by gladioli and mums. On some of the blossoms, miniature birds were perched. In charge of preparation for the party were members of the social committee, Mrs. David Simms, Mrs. Max Alexander and Mrs. R. L. Heith. Composing the membership committee were Mrs. James Cape, Mrs. Doug Boren and Mrs. Ralph McLaughlin. Other members of the club served as the house party. Guests included Mrs. John Austin, Mrs. G. E. Creagh, Mrs. Wayne Basden, Mrs. James Eubanks, Mrs. Henry Roach and Mrs. Oliver Cofer.

Butter Crumbs To Top Asparagus

If you're really ambitious you can use fresh asparagus for this method of serving the vegetable, but canned or frozen will do just as well. ASPARAGUS WITH BROWN BUTTER CRUMBS. Ingredients: One pound fresh asparagus (16 medium-sized stalks), 1/4 cup boiling water, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons butter, 1/2 cup medium-fine cracker crumbs. Method: Cut off asparagus ends so stalks will fit into an 8-inch skillet. With a slotted swivel-blade vegetable peeler peel asparagus just up to tips. Wash in cold water; drain. Arrange in skillet; add boiling water and salt. Bring to a boil; cover; keep water boiling gently just until asparagus is tender—about 10 minutes. Lift cover a few times to keep asparagus green. Drain off any small amount of liquid in skillet. Melt butter just until it begins to brown; add cracker crumbs; stir over moderately low heat until crumbs are lightly browned. Sprinkle over asparagus.

Double Ring Vows Are Taken By Lamesans

LAMESA—A double ring ceremony read Thursday evening at eight o'clock in the parlor of the First Methodist Church united in marriage Anita Louise Fincannon and Terry Dixon Pipkin. The ceremony was read by the Rev. John L. Davis of Dallas as the couple stood before an archway entwined with greenery and white satin streamers. Baskets of white gladioli and white candelabra were used on each side of the archway. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Fincannon and Mr. and Mrs. J. Leslie Pipkin, both of Lamesa. Marion McDonald presented a prelude of wedding selections and at the close of the ceremony, Mrs. Noble H. Price sang "The Lord's Prayer." Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a two-piece dress of powder blue faille. The "vows" featured a tucked midriff with tiny bows in the back. She wore a matching beaded half hat; her other accessories were black, and white roses formed her cascade bouquet. Earlene Anderson, maid of honor wore a powder blue linen sheath

Miss Angier Honored In Hogan Home

A visitor from Venezuela, Jimmie Lou Angier, was the honoree at a morning party given Thursday in the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Hogan. Hostesses for the affair were Peggy and Janet Hogan. All three girls will be students in Baylor University this fall. Miss Angier is a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Angel. Twenty-seven guests called during the party, and they were served refreshments from a table on the Hogan veranda. Red roses in an oblong basket centered the table, in turquoise; in the floral arrangement were two golden horseshoes tied with a red bow and streamers.

Two Couples Entertain In Reeder Yard

An informal backyard supper, given Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Reeder, entertained a group of friends. Co-hosts for this party, one of a series, were Dr. and Mrs. P. W. Malone. Supper was served buffet style from a glass-topped table holding yellow candles in hurricane lamps. These were based in small arrangements of yellow garden flowers. Guests were seated at quartet tables covered with red and white checked cloths and bearing hurricane lamps. About 20 couples were included on the invitation list.

LLL Class Holds Barbecue Dinner At Grice Home

Truth Can Be Elusive In Moonlight

By VIVIAN BROWN AP News Service Beauty Editor Summer romance abounds in intrigue. The girl who passes the summer without at least one flirtation may feel she has been left out. But end-of-summer brings inevitable disappointment that some girls experience as the result of believing moonlight talk uttered by a new love. It doesn't always last, a girl may find out. A good rule of thumb to save yourself heartache is to take it easy when the moon is bright. One popular summer belle offers these pointers to glamour girls: 1. Date as many boys as possible. That way there will be less danger of your falling madly in love with one of them. (And you'll have more fun too. One steady boy is likely to get too dependent on your pocketbook.) 2. Steer clear of boys with the park-n-pet routine, especially new acquaintances. (He may prove to be a more serious problem than you can handle.) 3. If you have reservations about having him meet your family or your friends, ask yourself why. (You'll probably find you're afraid they will not approve of your choice.) 4. Bad reputation? If he has, avoid entertaining the challenge to reform him. (You probably are not the first one who has tried.) Beware of that boy, too, if... He wants to see you alone but not with a group, and just treats you as one of the girls when he runs into you and others.

Bride-Elect

Mr. and Mrs. Joe T. Holladay of Forsan are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Nan, to Wayne Glenn. He is the son of Mrs. Frances Glenn, 1100 Sycamore. Vows will be exchanged the evening of August 24 in the chapel of the First Baptist Church.

Ross Hills Serve Sport Clubs Supper

Members of the Indoor Sports and Good Sports Clubs were served a "farmer's supper" Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Hill in the Elbow Community. Supper was served buffet, and about 30 guests were seated at small tables placed in the yard of the Hill home. The next hostess to the group will be Mrs. C. L. Rowe, 1300 Johnson, who will entertain on Aug. 22.

College Friends Pay Honor To Miss Mann

College classmates of Marlene Mann, bride-elect of David Dibrell, were hostesses Thursday evening for a kitchen shower honoring Miss Mann. The affair was held at the home of Margaret Fryar. Other hostesses were Mary Sue Hale, Betty Anderson, Mrs. Frank Hunt, Mrs. Frank Long, Frances Reagan, and Kenda McGibbon. Miss Mann was attired in a dress of yellow cotton featuring lace trim. Her accessories were white. Yellow and white, the bride-elect's chosen colors, were carried out in floral arrangements used throughout the entertaining rooms. Silver and crystal appointments were used to serve the 25 guests who called during the evening. Guests were greeted by Mrs. J. H. Fryar, Miss Fryar, Mrs. Neil

T&P Council Hears Report From Scouts About Jamboree

Four local boys who attended the national Boy Scout Jamboree held in July were guest speakers Thursday afternoon at the meeting of the Ladies T&P Safety Council. Those who attended the camp at Valley Forge Park in Pennsylvania were Ray and Don Alexander, Curtis Beard Jr. and Rufus Davis. They told the group that over 52,000 scouts and leaders attended the jamboree from nearly every country in the world. The camp site was located on 2,000 acres. Besides the jamboree site the group also toured Washington, D.C. New York City, Detroit and Niagara Falls. During the business session Mrs. R. F. Fallon presided. Mrs. Drew Dyer was hostess for the 12 members and one guest, Mrs. Jack Alexander. Mrs. C. L. Richardson was the program chairman.

Homemakers Class Meets For Social

The Homemakers Sunday School Class of East Fourth Baptist Church held the regular monthly social meeting in the home of Mrs. T. B. Clifton. Cohostess was Mrs. Edna Malone. Mrs. Clifton gave the devotion for the group. It was on the topic, "Trees," from the book of Psalms. Mrs. Ina Monteth offered the opening prayer. Recreation was in charge of Mrs. Lucille Sample and Mrs. Clifton, who entertained seven members and two guests, Mrs. Lillian Patton and Mrs. A. J. Hillman. The group was dismissed with a prayer by Mrs. Joe Williams.

Victim Of Shooting

Traffic Patrolman Raymond Cooper, 36, is assisted to an ambulance after being wounded in a gun battle with a guest at the Sheraton-Lincoln Hotel in downtown Indianapolis. He was shot when he went to the aid of a detective who was wounded seven times. The guest was slain and a woman bystander injured.

U.S. Puzzled Over Russ Policy Brain

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top American officials are deeply puzzled about who is masterminding Soviet foreign policy now, and U.S. intelligence experts are trying to solve the mystery.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, whose brother Allen is head of the Central Intelligence Agency, requested the study. But what Moscow personality it may center upon as the brain behind such things as Russia's maneuvers in the current disarmament talks is at present unknown to high officials here.

The search is a matter of more than personal curiosity. The personality, prejudices, preferences and past record of a top foreign affairs official provides clues to his future actions.

The most obvious candidate for the position of mastermind is Soviet Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev. But some, at least, of the best informed officials here believe he is either traveling, re-

Pilot Brings Plane Into Hawaii Safely

By JIM BECKER and CHARLES TURNER HONOLULU (AP)—"I wasn't calling the shots — the good Lord was."

That's Maj. Samuel Tyson's explanation of how he kept his huge C-97 military air transport aloft 6 1/2 hours on two engines yesterday for 1,000 miles over the Pacific with 67 people aboard.

Tyson, a 37-year-old veteran of World War II, the Korean War and the Berlin airlift who comes from Council Bluffs, Iowa, piloted the plane into Hilo, Hawaii, at 11:25 a.m. yesterday. Two of its engines had quit just beyond the point of no return from Travis Air Force Base, Calif., to Hickam AFB, Oahu.

"It never occurred to me that we would ditch," said Tyson. "I'm a coward. I can't swim very far. The water's cold."

More seriously he said, "I'd determined to take things as they came. After the first shock of realizing we were in danger, and after the adrenalin shot into me, I thought clearer and acted better. I had confidence in myself. "After all, I wasn't calling the shots — the good Lord was."

"Did you know you have been recommended for the Distinguished Flying Cross?" asked a newsmen.

"Nope," said Tyson.

ALREADY HAS TWO

"He's already got two of them," said a crewman.

MATS headquarters recommended the DFC within minutes after Tyson landed.

Tyson landed his nine crewmen and 57 passengers safely at Hilo after a last-minute ordeal when the leading gear didn't lower. Two flight engineers worked the big wheel down by an emergency hand crank. The wheel housing had jammed because the No. 2 engine had been damaged when the No. 1 propeller flew off.

The big plane landed smoothly in spite of the yaw created by the two engines on only one side.

Passengers and crew emerged dripping with sweat. Not only had they been "sweating it out" for nearly seven hours. All vents had been closed, said Navy Capt. William M. Lowry, Coronado, Calif., one of the passengers. "There was no confusion," he added.

The ordeal began early yesterday.

Copilot Capt. George Holy, 35, of Warren, Ohio, told about it.

The No. 1 propeller started running away. Tyson and the flight engineer slowed it but couldn't feather it. The prop flew off and damaged the No. 2 propeller and engine. A piece dented the fuselage but did not penetrate. Tyson declared an emergency existed and began sending radio messages each 15 minutes.

FLW AT 50 FEET

He took her down to 50 feet and flew at that altitude or slightly above it most of the 1,000 miles.

Passengers were moved forward to help balance the sky giant, flying unevenly on her two engines.

"They were very cooperative. finest lot of passengers I've ever had," declared Tyson.

Baggage was jettisoned, including 1,500 pounds of Army and Fleet Post Office mail. No one complained.

But one woman did lament,

"I've lost my hat, the most beautiful hat in the world."

"We prayed all the way," said Mrs. Viki Grote.

"The pilot was simply wonderful, and the crew was fabulous," she added.

Holy said once the aircraft was under control and the baggage overboard "it was just a question of fuel remaining — whether we had enough."

"We had slightly favorable winds so that each hour we progressed we knew we had a little more chance on the fuel."

Navy Ends Era Of Battleship At Year's End

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the first time in its modern history, the U.S. Navy will have no battleships operating at the end of this year.

The Navy announced today that the battleship Wisconsin and 18 other vessels will be placed in mothballs by Oct. 23. This is in addition to 60 others, including the battleship Iowa, which it said Monday will be retired by the end of the year.

The Iowa and the Wisconsin are now the only active battleships surviving the trend toward aircraft carriers and other modern ship types.

The changes were ordered as part of an over-all economy drive designed to hold defense spending for the current fiscal year to $8 billion dollars.

As another part of the drive, the Navy announced yesterday a cutback of 10 to 15 per cent in the 254 million barrels of petroleum products it had planned to buy for all the armed services for the year. The saving was estimated at between 115 and 170 million dollars.

Mass Meeting To Wind Up Crusade

NEW YORK (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham plans to wind up his New York crusade with a mass meeting in Times Square Sunday night, Sept. 1.

The Times Square meeting will begin at 7 p.m., and Graham said it will be brief so as not to hold up traffic too long at "the Crossroads of the World." Times Square is almost never used as a meeting place.

Graham told his Madison Square Garden audience last night the city has given permission for the Times Square meeting. Detailed plans for the rally are still to be worked out. The square would have to be closed to traffic, and the side streets roped off.

Graham said: "One of the things about a Times Square meeting which appeals to us is that around the world the only picture that Times Square brings to mind is revelry on New Year's Eve. We think it would be a wonderful thing to hear the sounds of hymns and the preaching of the Gospel in Times Square."

The Times Square rally, Graham noted, will bring to a close the longest evangelical crusade in his career. The crusade started May 15 and it will be 15 1/2 weeks old as of Sept. 1. His 12-week crusade in London was his longest prior to this. Graham's last meeting at Madison Square Garden will be Saturday night, Aug. 31.

At last night's meeting, 300 persons stepped forward to make "decisions for Christ." This raised the total to 43,830. Total attendance at the 76 meetings stands at 1,446,500. Last night's drew 17,500 persons.

Taking Timothy 2:3-16 as his text, Graham preached on "how to study the Bible."

The evangelist gave tips on how to make the Bible a living reality in Christian life. One suggestion was to practice a verse each day. "Make it your rule of life for that day," he advised.

"The Bible has stood through the centuries," Graham said. "The Ten Commandments have not changed. The Sermon on the Mount has not changed. The way to heaven has not changed. "Man has changed his views on many things, but the Bible fore-

A Bible Thought For Today

Who can stand before his indignation? and who can abide in the fierceness of his anger? his fury is poured out like fire, and the rocks are thrown down by him. (Nahum 1:6)

Simple Rules Of Passing On Highway

Every motorist has had the experience of all but jumping out of his skin when a car, a truck or a bus slips up behind him and, without sounding the horn, suddenly shows up at his left elbow in effecting an overtake-and-pass.

Well, it seems truck drivers are sometimes startled when a car does the same thing to them. The American Automobile Association explains why. Big truck-trailer combinations, it says, have both a blind and a deaf spot. The blind spot is "caused by the high placement of many rear-view mirrors."

Also, "The deaf spot on the larger trucks is directly to the rear. It is created by the partial vacuum which exists for a length of fifty or sixty feet behind a moving truck. An automobile horn blown within that area is not likely to be heard by the truck driver above other noises."

AAA suggests that car drivers give extra toots on their horns as they overtake the huge freighters of the highway, just to be safe. As a matter of fact most drivers never do toot their horns when preparing to pass another vehicle — automobile, bus or truck. Unless a driver keeps close watch on his rearview mirror, one of these silent, ghostly apparitions will suddenly show up within six inches of his left elbow and scare the daylight out of him. A startled driver might lose control of his car.

AAA also recommends that when pulling out to pass another vehicle, a driver should signal a left-turn and check the rear-view mirror to see no one else has the same idea regarding him. Once the passing is completed, flash a right turn on your signal light before pulling in ahead of the vehicle you have just passed. The most dangerous maneuver in flying is the landing. The most dangerous maneuver in motoring is passing other vehicles. One should let the drivers behind him, as well as those ahead, know what his intentions are.

How many drivers observe these simple rules? Judging from the number of deaths caused by head-on collisions or side-swings, not a great many.

The South Corrects An Error In Script

Loudoun County, in Northern Virginia, is to throw a community whirling at Leesburg Aug. 19-24 to celebrate the county's bicentennial.

The big feature was to be a pageant, and somebody wrote a sensational script for it. The climax was to show Abraham Lincoln delivering the closing sentences of his Gettysburg Address, while the band crashed into "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Well, that tore it. To quote an AP dispatch, the good people of Loudoun County learned of this "to their Confederate horror," and letters of protest were drawn up and a petition circulated, suggesting that if any speech was to be made, it should be Robert E. Lee's farewell to his soldiers at Appomattox.

Motion moved and seconded, carried unanimously — the Loudounites will hear Lee's farewell and for good measure the band will break into a fervent rendition of "Dixie."

We wouldn't say the good people of Loudoun were charismatic, but it seems obvious the writer of the original script must have been lacking in a sense of the eternal fitness of things. Either his sense of humor was unsubtle, or he must have pecked out his script on a Yankee typewriter.

In Defense Of Foreign Aid Program

WASHINGTON—In remote and uncomfortable parts of the earth the actual job of foreign economic assistance is being carried on from day to day. Americans on the economic front in the struggle with communism feel pretty isolated, lonely, cut off from the familiar life back home.

More often than not they get the blame for any real or imagined wrong in the direction of the aid program and rarely are they given credit for a job well done. Now one of them has told his own story.

William E. Warne, director of technical assistance—Point 4—in Iran from 1961 to '65 has been, along with the program he directed, one of the principal targets for those who want to discredit foreign aid. In his just published book, "Mission For Peace," he reports without reference to his critics the week by week and month by month effort to raise the standard of life in a country that came close to being overwhelmed by communism.

There is a strong current of idealism, of conviction and hope, such as seldom finds its way into Congressional debates about foreign appropriations and authorizations in Warne's book. He went out to Iran at some personal sacrifice to himself and his family because he believed in the program and what it could achieve.

Slowly with American help Iran's economy was stabilized. While Warne does not say so, under the chaotic conditions he describes, waste undoubtedly occurred. It could hardly have been avoided given an almost-total breakdown and the completely differing standards of government and administration. But every citizen of Iran can see what the program actually accomplished:

"It has helped to build or equip hundreds of village schools. It has distributed hundreds of thousands of chickens and many hundreds of tons of improved wheat, barley and cottonseed. It has opened health centers, drilled wells, treated millions of animals, sprayed 16,000 villages in every province, built bathhouses, located safe water supplies, trained thousands of rural teachers. It has finished roads, dams, power plants, a cement mill and a sugar factory."

One of Warne's most persistent critics has been Rep. Porter Hardy (D., Va.), head of a subcommittee that investigated American aid in Iran. The Hardy report was the basis for a Reader's Digest article attacking the aid program as wasteful and even corrupt.

Several members of Congress, one of them Rep. B. Carroll Reece (R., Tenn.), until recently a member of the Hardy subcommittee, have publicly dissented. In a statement put in the Congressional record Reece said:

"The report taken as a whole tends to cast reflections upon the intentions, character and good faith of those who were responsible for the aid program during this most trying and difficult period of Iranian history. I do not believe that it is worthy of our committee to resort to indirection in order to convey impressions which cannot be factually supported by such evidence as has been adduced."

The refutations, however, rarely catch up with the original charges and particularly when the charges have been circulated by a magazine with a circulation of 11,000,000. The International Cooperation Administration entered a defense of Warne and the Iranian program. But ICA has been far from vigorous in championing its own cause.

In 1965 Warne went as country director for ICA to another tough assignment. In South Korea he is trying to cope with the demands of President Syngman Rhee who would like to see his war-ravaged country rebuilt overnight with American aid. There are rumors that Congressman Hardy will go to Seoul for an investigation. He says he is going to investigate. He says he is going to see for himself what is going on in a country that came close to being overwhelmed by communism.

When Point 4 was first projected, it drew a warm response in the generosity and idealism that are an important part of the American character. But the concept has become blurred. Cliches such as "You can't buy friendship" tend to write it off. Warne has helped to restore the vision of American know-how. American well-being shared with other peoples.

What Others Say

As to the acquittal of Teamster Vice President James Hoffa, we are willing, with Senator John McClellan, to "leave that to the court and those who tried the case."

However, one clue to the verdict might be found in the defense's motion several days ago for a directed acquittal on grounds of "entrapment." The FBI's arrangement to have its undercover representative, whom Mr. Hoffa says he thought he was employing as a lawyer, turn over papers to the latter in the presence of other waiting G-men may have been an actual, not a mere, trap for the jury. It is an American trait to be squeamish about efficiently contrived police evidence—sympathies flip over toward the accused.

Mr. Hoffa has headed back to his headquarters in Detroit bent, according to some observers, on declaring himself a candidate to succeed Dave Beck as president of the Teamsters Union—and, according to some, as a prospectively successful one. Other experienced observers of the labor scene doubt this. Mr. Hoffa says they, it is still under indictment on a federal wire-tapping charge. And, in any event, he has become too controversial a figure for the Teamsters to choose as their president if for none other than purely "realistic" reasons. They see him as a "king-maker."

In either role, Mr. Hoffa's continuing strength within his union would be disturbing. Within the Teamsters he stood for forming alliances with the AFL-discredited Longshoremans Association and the CIO-discredited Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers. Along with Dave Beck he opposed the AFL-CIO on setting up an ethical practices code and a committee to carry it out.

To his undisputed ability he appears to bring a personal ambition and a ruthlessness that bodes no good for the kind of self-disciplined and responsible labor movement which has made some progress under the Meany-Reuther leadership.

Deeper You Dig, The More You Find

WASHINGTON (AP)—The civil rights bill is like the umbrella of an eccentric old lady who stuffed it with all kinds of things, like ribbons, bottlecaps, broken combs and banana peels. The deeper you dig, the more you find.

The lengthy debate developed several provisions which brought surprise to legislators and others who hadn't realized they were in the bill.

Now there is concern about a section in the bill which was almost completely overlooked. It gave a passing mention to the House debate, which lasted from June 5 to 18, and a brief mention in the Senate, which debated from July 8 to Aug. 7.

Under Section 1 of the bill, now passed by the House and Senate, a commission would be created to examine all kinds of civil rights problems for two years. It could hold hearings in the open or behind closed doors.

Subsection G of Section 1 says: Anyone who "released or used" such information as was intended at the commission behind closed doors, in executive session, could be fined up to $1,000 or jailed for a year.

to mean that a newspaperman who got such information — and used it — could be fined or jailed. A court might, and perhaps would, so interpret it. This raises a question of censorship of the press.

How did Subsection G get into the bill and what was the purpose behind it? The Justice Department, which wrote the bill, didn't put it in. It was put in by the House Judiciary Committee before it approved the bill and sent it to the full House for a vote.

Anyone who "released or used" such information as was intended at the commission behind closed doors, in executive session, could be fined up to $1,000 or jailed for a year.

The word "used" would seem to mean that a newspaperman who got such information — and used it — could be fined or jailed.

and Keating, the top-ranking Republican. Both said the committee was not aiming at newspapermen when it wrote the penalty.

Both said that if this bill becomes law, they would back an amendment to exclude newspapermen from this penalty. Keating said he would propose such an amendment himself. Why not take it out now before it becomes law?

Keating and Celler said they doubt if it could be removed from the bill now because, while both houses differed on other parts of the bill, both agreed on Subsection G.

Hungary Reds Lift Ban On American Films

BUDAPEST (AP)—Hungary soon will see its first new American movies in a decade.

"Trapeze," with Gina Lollobrigida, will run at the Corvin movie house. This theater served as a rebel stronghold in the fight against the Russians last fall. It has been rebuilt with Hungary's first permanent wide screen and will probably reopen in August — with a Russian picture "Don Quixote."

Istvan Dosai, who manages foreign film exchanges for Hungary, has concluded an agreement to bring in 13 American movies.

"There is no reason why we should not screen American pictures now," he said.

Besides "Trapeze," the Hungarians have bought "Marty" and a Mexican picture called "The United Front of the Hanged" from Rev. Artista. From Mexico, the export agency which handles the product of other major American studios, Hungary will choose 10 pictures from a list of 180.

Hungary's last contact with big American pictures was in 1948, though stray special items have appeared here from time to time.

"Marty" must be dubbed into Hungarian because the dialogue makes sub-titles impractical.

"Well sub-titled 'Trapeze,'" though, said Dosai. "The talk is so important in that one."

Dosai was cautiously optimistic about the success to be expected for the American pictures.

"It takes a very good foreign picture to gross as well as even a poor Hungarian one," he explained. "Of course, in Budapest, where people are more critical, a poor Hungarian picture won't be popular. But in the country people like to hear their own language."

After Deadline

ROANOKE, Va. (AP)—The World-News here reported to its readers why stories sometime failed to get in the paper on time.

A World-News reporter called an Air Force major. He was out playing volleyball and not near a phone, but would call later.

The reporter called the superintendent of a vacation Bible school for some information. A child said "mama" taking a bath and would call later.

The reporter called a business man to check a date. The business man couldn't say because his secretary kept the records and she was then attending a weight-reducing class.

CHESTER, Conn. (AP)—News man Howard H. Peck, Chester correspondent for the Associated Press and several newspapers, made news himself by winning the 1967 Connecticut state checkers championship.

Around The Rim

It Will Pay To Remember . . .

A puff of smoke straddling Highway 80 west of Midland lit up weirdly by two dozen headlights; the burning red tail lights flashing on and off as drivers slowed, pulled off the road and stopped. Glass and twisted bits of chromium scattered for 200 yards along the highway and in the dividing strip; a suitcase sitting neatly in front of the car; papers scattered through the dividing strip, blowing over the eastbound lane and into the catch-all fence; the box the papers were stored in sitting upright with most of the papers still within; the smashed automobile; a piece of broken windshield lying in front of it; and behind, the two injured young men who had been in the car. Several dozen travelers crowded the gravel-filled divider, their cars parked off the highway on either side. Nearly every other car that came along stopped.

I had seen worse. I was a medical aid man with an infantry company. But still, it's something you never quite get used to.

It was a study in humanity. Some had stopped to help, others out of curiosity, but there were no loud, strident voices. Most who were not busy were hushed and awed. There were teenagers who grew a year or two that night; older people in whom growth was done, but feeling was not; weak-stomached people who had to leave, although there was no blood; helpful people who helped pick up the pieces and the scattered papers; helpless people who could do no more than stand and watch.

There was a young man still conscious but in pain. Well-meaning people questioned him until they sensed it was wrong, and they left him alone; a kimono-clad woman, a nearby resident, sat upon the sharp rocks and cradled the young man's head in her lap.

An early arrival at the scene knelt beside the other victim, his fingers on the young man's pulse, where they stayed until the ambulance arrived. The victim, twisted and lying on his side, unmoving, unbleeding, as though already dead. Some bystanders wanted to place a blanket under his head, to get his head off the rocks. But there were others who had not taken leave of their senses. No, his head must not be moved, for fear of a possible broken neck, and moving him might be fatal. It would have made little difference. He was pronounced dead at the hospital.

I felt once and could find no pulse. Those not knowing exactly how to feel for a pulse sometimes unknowingly feel their own. I didn't have the heart to tell the motorist who bent over the victim, hanging doggedly onto the pulse beat as if that somehow could save a life.

A car resembling the wrecked one had passed me only moments before; I could not be sure. But it didn't seem to be going too fast. The victim who survived had whispered something about a blowout as he passed another vehicle, the car going out of control.

The highway patrol arrived, and the ambulances. The cops gently urged the people to get across the road, to move on from the scene, "in case a drunk comes along. We don't need another accident." One teen-aged driver mumbled, "That's all we need, a drunk."

This was not the worst accident that had happened on Highway 80, but it was a sober bunch of drivers who left the scene. I only hope they remember.

Why I Am A Minister Felt 'Definite' Call To Preach
By Rev. W. A. JAMES
There have been some very definite things happen in my life. First of all, and above all, was the moment I saw myself a sinner condemned before a just and Holy God, and came to Him repenting of my sin, and trusting Him as my personal Savior.

Today, I can say with the Apostle Paul, I know in whom I believe, and am persuaded that he is able to keep that which I committed unto him against that day.

Second: My call to preach the Gospel is very definite, however, for 10 long years I was determined that I would not heed that call and those 10 years became the most miserable years of my life. Twenty-three years ago, I surrendered my life to God's will and the moment I made that surrender a joy came into my soul almost equal to the joy that I experienced when I accepted Christ as my Savior.

Some might say that they do not believe God calls men into the ministry, but let me say now that I know He does—and I know that I did everything I could to get out of it. I had my ideals for my family than for them to be preacher's family. The real reason was, that I myself just did not want to make the sacrifice that God wanted me to make. I have never regretted for one moment in answering His call, and praise Him over and over again for His untold blessings, which have paid me double for every moment of service rendered for Him, in precious souls that I have had a small part in bringing to Him. I still feel that I am one of the least in His service, but thank Him from the very depth of my heart that even in my unworthiness He has called me to this service, and for His marvelous Grace that sustains me from day to day.

I do not know what the future holds for me, but I know who holds the future and my Prayer is that I shall never stand in the sacred pulpit without a compassionate heart for lost souls.

Memorize Verse
"I will pay Thee my vows, which my lips have uttered, and my mouth hath spoken, when I was in trouble."—Psalm 66:13, 14.

Hannah went to the temple after the meal and threw herself on her knees "in bitterness of soul, and she wept sore." Then she prayed and vowed that if the Lord would give her a son she would dedicate him to serve the Lord all the days of his life. She did not pray aloud, and Eli, the priest, watching her from a seat by a post of the temple, seeing her lips moving but no sound coming from them, decided she was drunk. He said to her, "How long wilt thou be drunken? Hannah explained that she had drunk no wine, but that her heart was heavy because she had no son, and she was praying that God would give her one. Then the priest answered, "Go in peace; and the God of Israel grant thee thy petition."

After Elkanah and Hannah returned home, the Lord did grant her petition and she bore a son.

Hannah, Who Kept Her Promise

SHE GAVE HER SON TO SERVE THE LORD AS SHE HAD PLEDGED

Scripture—I Samuel 1: 22-1-11, 18-21.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
A MAN NAMED ELKANAH had two wives, which it seems was permissible for the Israelites at the time. One was named Peninnah, the other Hannah. Now Peninnah had children, but Hannah had none, which grieved her very much, especially as Peninnah taunted her with her childlessness. So sad was Hannah that she wept and could not eat. Each year Elkanah and Hannah went to the house of the Lord in Shiloh to offer sacrifices to God. Elkanah loved Hannah more than he did Peninnah, and when he saw her weeping and that she would not eat, he said to her, "Hannah, why weepst thou? and why eatest thou not? and why is thy heart grieved? am not I better to thee than 10 sons?"

When next Elkanah went to Shiloh to worship, Hannah refused to go with him, for she said she would not go until the baby was weaned, and then she would bring him "that he may appear before the Lord, and there abide forever."

So she had the joy of caring for her son until he was weaned, and then, true to her promise, she took the little boy to Shiloh with gifts to sacrifice to the Lord, and presented him to Eli.

There he remained and he became a Nazirite, whose vows were to abstain from strong drink and avoid all contact with the dead, and let his hair grow, which was a protest, we are told, that a consecrated man "had determined to refrain from intercourse with the world."

Each year Hannah went to Shiloh to see her son, and each year she made him a little coat which she took to him. "And the child Samuel grew before the Lord."

"Later Hannah had other children—three sons and two daughters—and was probably a very happy woman, rejoicing in her children and in the fact that she had fulfilled her promise to God, even though it had meant the sacrifice of giving up her beloved and longed-for firstborn."

This sacrifice of Hannah's in keeping her promise should be impressed upon both the younger and older pupils, so that all may realize the importance of following her example, even in much smaller and less important circumstances.

A Hymn Is Born BY CLINT BONNER

Faith of Our Fathers

A Catholic priest ponders religious-persecution in England

Father Frederick William Faber was reared a Protestant, but followed his Oxford classmate, John Henry Newman, to the Catholic faith. In his adopted church Faber missed the hymns of Wesley, Watts and Cowper. So he determined to write some of his own. He didn't know one note from another, and he began by memorizing 14 tunes and writing words to them. In all he was to write 150. In 1849, at age 35, Faber was sent to London to convert an old whisky shop into an oratory for a group of fellow priests. In his spare time he wrote hymns and reviewed the religious history of England.

It had been 300 years since slovenly Henry VIII had known no limit of debauchery. After 18 years of marriage to his dead brother's wife Catherine, the fat monarch fell for Anne Boleyn, the queen's maid of honor. But Anne told the king to hands off unless he meant to marry her. So he meant to marry her. But for a king to divorce his queen and marry her maid wasn't as easy as that. Among others, the Pope thought it wasn't proper.

Henry met the situation by denouncing the Roman Church and establishing the Church of England. Opponents were executed by the hundreds to the gallows, the stake and the chop block. Among the loyal Catholics sentenced to the gallows was Statesman and Author Sir Thomas More. But the king benevolently commuted the sentence to the ax and the chancellor walked to the block as lightly as if going to a picnic. Monarch of both state and church, Henry married Anne, tired of her and had her hanged. In all, he married six times before he rotted to death at 56.

It was the memory of the Catholic martyrs, especially Sir Thomas More, that was fresh in Father Faber's mind when he wrote for one of the tunes he had memorized:

Our fathers, chained in prisons dark,
Were still in heart and conscience free;
How sweet would be their children's fate,
If like, they them, could die for thee!

Faith of our fathers we will love
Both here and foe in all our strife;
And preach Thee, too, as love knows how
By kindly words and virtuous life.

Faith of our fathers! holy faith!
We will be true to Thee till death!

YOUR Credit Record IS AN OPEN BOOK

Preserving a good credit record is not only a matter of convenience, but of personal prestige.

The files of the Credit Bureau show how you pay your bills. This record is available not only to the members of the Credit Bureau in your own community, but to the members of more than 2,000 other Credit Bureaus throughout the United States and Canada.

The Credit Bureau does not make your credit record. It merely keeps the record. If you buy more than you can afford — and don't pay promptly — these facts will be available to those from whom you may want to obtain further credit.

Your Credit Record is an open book — written by yourself in the way you meet your obligations. The only way to maintain it is by paying every bill on the date it is due.

Sex Slayings Rare, But Public Suffers From Acute Anxiety

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP) — "There is nothing like a rape-murder, with a child or young girl involved, to induce a state of acute anxiety on the part of the public."

Even so, says sociologist Paul W. Tappan, "homicide associated with sex crimes is unusual." Unusual or not, in a nation of 170 million persons, sex slayings too often turn up in grim headlines.

There was the savage rape-slaying two weeks ago of 6-year-old Mary De Caussin of Detroit. There was 12-year-old Jeannette Mangan, attacked, shot and killed in a lonely west Dallas area last New Year's Eve. Two boys, 19 and 16, are being held for trial — with the younger one admitting killing the girl in a fit of temper.

There is George J. Davis, 38, a paroled sex offender, who confessed, according to police of Bristol, Conn., to stabbing to death a 17-year-old girl May 9 and a 9-year-old girl May 13. He used a screwdriver as a weapon, he said, when they resisted his advances.

There is Ronald Paul Marrone, 18, a quiet, religious high school senior who confessed to the rape-killing of a classmate, in Fair Lawn, N.J., May 17. And there's Edgar H. Smith, 23, a married ex-Marine, recently convicted of the killing of another 14-year-old girl under similar circumstances 10 weeks earlier and 10 miles away.

ON INCREASE? Are sex crimes increasing? Are thousands of sex fiends at large? What makes a sex offender? How can he be cured or cured?

Courts, lawyers, police, psychiatrists, social workers, clergy and lawmakers have grappled with the problem for years. They have come up with the fact that the lurking human beast is a rare phenomenon. As sociologist Tappan puts it: "The vast majority of sex deviates are minor offenders, most of whom never come to official attention. A nd most of the 'sex fiends' who do occasionally appear are insane, not merely sexual deviates."

Doctors dealing with court-committed offenders have found not one type of person, but neurotics, psychotics, schizoids, feeble-minded, epileptics, alcoholics, senile men suffering from arteriosclerosis and some apparently normal individuals. Dr. David Abrahamson, after intensive study of 106 sex criminals in Sing Sing Prison, found that "there is no distinct dividing line between sex offenders and other-law violators."

A police chief reported: "A lot of these sex cases—the ones that involve children, exposure, even the rapes—start an upswing in the spring, in April, May and June. We can tell ahead of time. Then they drop down again in July and August, but don't ask me why."

NO PROOF Are sex crimes increasing? Dr. Manfred Guttmacher of Baltimore — like most other psychiatrists and sociologists — says that "all careful investigations made recently have failed to demonstrate" that sex offenses are rampant today. However, the FBI reported a 12.4 per cent increase in forcible rape cases in 1956 over 1955. This is the only category of sex offenses in which it makes a nationwide report.

Enforcement authorities themselves say that these statistics reflect only cases brought to the attention of police, and add that accurate figures on most sex offenses are unavailable because frequently the charge in such a case shows up as assault or disorderly conduct. In addition, victims and parents of victims frequently fail to lodge complaints, fearing the stigma of involvement.

A police lieutenant says one of the best cures for sex offenses is an alert police force—on the watch for men hanging around schools or playgrounds—and a public willing to come forward with complaints even if it means embarrassment.

Finally, what is the solution? Most authorities feel that the only real answer is part of a broad, expensive program for mental health.

STILL UNKNOWN Sociologist Tappan, a New York University professor who has served on state and national commissions concerned with sex offenders, says: "The nature of sexual psychopathy, its treatment, techniques and the form of legislation best designed to curtail its criminal expression, for the most part are realms still largely unexplored." So what can be done now? There can be expanded research, more mental hygiene clinics, more education on family and sex problems through schools and churches, better and larger facilities to treat those who already have broken the law.

There can be precautions. Parents can make certain that very young children have protection and supervision at play, particularly in secluded places. Older children should be instructed to play in groups, to avoid hitchhiking, avoid taking gifts from strangers, report to parents any attempt to accost or follow them. They should be trained to note license numbers of cars whose drivers act suspiciously.

Famed Carnegie Hall To Be Razed
NEW YORK (AP)—Venerable Carnegie Hall will come tumbling down in 1960 to make way for a red-paneled, 44-story office building.

Louis J. Gilckman paid five million dollars last year for Carnegie Hall, built by Andrew Carnegie in 1891 and since then a music mecca of world renown. Gilckman said the new building, costing 22 million dollars, would be set back 40 feet from the street and would feature a sunken landscaped plaza to be used for outdoor cultural exhibits.

The Philharmonic-Symphony Society, long a fixture at 57th Street and 7th Avenue, plans to move to a new concert hall in the projected Lincoln Square Center for the Performing Arts in the Central Park West area a few blocks north of Columbus Circle.

Lone Wolf Co-Op Names Directors, Selects Queen
COLORADO CITY — In the annual election of directors of the Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative, Inc., at Colorado City Tuesday night, the following were selected: Forrest Porter and Ed Roach, both of Colorado City; Guy W. Strange of Westbrook; W. H. Cooper of Roscoe; Martin Murphy of Hermleigh; Sam Williams of Snyder, and Lon Strain of Cuthbert. Gilbert Harback of Roscoe and A. K. McCarley Jr., of Colorado City were named as new directors.

Virginia Templeton, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Templeton of Loraine was selected as Co-op Queen and will represent the local co-op in state competition at San Antonio in the latter part of August.

Gaylene Taylor, 19, was selected as alternate. Other contestants were Robbie Nell Petty and Georgia Pilsmer, both of Roscoe. Fran Griffin, of Loraine and Joyce Geiger of Colorado City.

Bryan Bradbury, Abilene attorney, spoke to the gathering of several hundred on state legislation affecting co-ops.

Altrincham Turns On Aussie Chief
MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Lord Altrincham widened his field of fire today to include Australian Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies as well as Queen Elizabeth II.

"He is typical of the very worst approach toward the crown," the 33-year-old peer declared in a London interview published in the Melbourne Herald.

Menzies returned yesterday from a 10-week overseas tour and immediately labeled as "disgusting and shocking" Altrincham's editorial criticism last week of the Queen's speeches, personality and advisers.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

'Put Up Or Shut Up' On Clearing Blind Corners

To The Editor: Why the sudden cessation in the interest of "blind corners" and what does it take to induce our City to do something about same? In going down town I find the same corners blinded by the same mesquite thickets, the same sunflowers and the same careless weeds as before, and in driving down 6th Street yesterday it was only "by the grace of God" (or good brakes) that I avoided serious injury to myself or to my car.

I had come to a full stop at San Antonio Street, could see no car coming so eased into the intersection, when suddenly almost upon me came a car going north. Had an accident occurred, in all probability I should have been cited as a "Careless Driver."

officials as to whether they should employ secretaries and clerks in their offices. Mr. Gilliam is talking as though he wants to save the county some money by not having these secretaries and clerks on the county payroll.

I think Mr. Gilliam should have been thinking about the county payroll when he raised his own salary twice inside of six months, and Mr. Gilliam holds another job besides being county commissioner.

Nationals Face Waco Nine At 7:30 P.M.

The crowning moment in the Big Spring Nationals' baseball history awaits them when they take the field in Fort Worth this evening against Waco. It heralds the start of the State Little League Tournament, with four teams still in the running for the right to represent Texas in the Regional Tournament at Louisville, Ky.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Carlisle (Frosty) Robison, Big Spring's gift to the SMU football team, clocked only 62 minutes of playing time with the Ponies as a sophomore last fall but came along so fast at the end of the season he earned his varsity letter.

Robison went to SMU as a halfback and played fullback as a freshman and through most of his sophomore season but ultimately was moved to right end, where he proved to be a rugged defender.

When Texan Tobin Rote got the news he had been traded by Green Bay to Detroit recently, he said the Lions are the only club he would have played for this season.

Don Anderson, letterman forward for the Big Spring High School basketball team last fall, plans on pursuing an engineering course in college.

Free shots after the double foul have been eliminated in basketball starting next season. If such an infraction is called, a jump ball results in the center of the court.

Tabmoc One Of Two Highly Regarded Horses In Event

RUIDOSO, N. M., (SC)—The New Mexican, for thoroughbreds, is the stellar attraction of Saturday's 12-race program at Ruidoso Downs, as a field of nine match speed at the middle distance of six and one half furlongs.

Hart Is Favorite

CLEVELAND (V)—Although third-ranked Virgil Akins is six notches above Sugar Hart in the most recent Ring Magazine welterweight ratings, Hart has been established as a 7-5 favorite for their televised bout tonight in Cleveland's Public Hall.

The Nationals will be playing the hit-happy Waco Western Leaguers in Fort Worth. Western qualified for State by beating Beaumont's scrappy Spindletop team, 7-5, in its sectional final.

The Wacoans won seven games in nine of its surge toward State. A. O. Duckworth and Capt. Curtis Doan combine to coach the Waco team.

Spindletop outhit the Westerns, 7-4, and led Western until the fifth, when Waco scored three times.

Randy Behringer and Gary Statham accounted for all of Waco's runs with round-trippers. Behringer, the team's second baseman, hit Statham, who plays shortstop, belted one in two on the fifth.

Either Bob Maddin, George Ambrose or Ed Pugh will probably hurl for Waco.

Regardless of how they fare from here on out, the Big Springers are West Texas titlists. No one can take that distinction away from them. They've cleaned up on the Big Spring Americans, Hereford and Crane, in that order, to earn the designation.

Hereford had previously ousted the best Lubbock area had to offer while Crane cleaned up on the San Angelo teams before advancing to the sectional meet.

This year's Big Spring club is regarded as a team long on hitting power but with only mediocre pitching. However, the mound corps of the Nationals has shown much improvement in recent games.

Indications are Rickey Wisener will be called upon to throw against Waco tonight. Wisener has been a tower of strength, both at bat and on the mound for Big Spring. Gene Lamb, Tony Loftis and Red Schwarzenbach are others who could see mound action for the Nationals.

The other game tonight will pit the champions from the Corpus Christi and Austin areas against each other.

The Nationals and Waco start their game at 7:30 o'clock. It will be broadcast over Radio Station KBST Big Spring.

Scene of action is the Riverside Park at Fort Worth. Should the Nationals lose, they'll come back tomorrow morning. If they are victorious over Waco, they'll not return until Sunday.

If the Big Springers should qualify for the tournament in Louisville, they'll make the trip via an American Airlines plane.

Coahoma Girls Trim Snyder

SNYDER (SC)—Coahoma moved ahead in the Snyder Women's Invitational softball tournament here Thursday night with a 6-0 victory over the Snyder Negro team.

Mabel Bennett, recruited in Midland, pitched Coahoma to the victory, setting Snyder down with only two hits. Coahoma collected 16 off Snyder hurling and every player who made the trip got a chance to play.

Bennett struck out 15 of the Snyder players. Only one Coahoma went down on strikes.

Pauline Dodson had four hits for Coahoma. Dumery Lenderman had three. Gail Neil three, Barbara Parrish two and Gwen Rogers, Mabel Bennett, Johnnie Eubanks, Helen Neil, Helen Witt, Joyce Bryan and Betty Parrish one each.

Betty Parrish hit the only extra base safety, a double.

Competing for the championship as the tournament started were Hermleigh, Snyder and All Stars, Bronie, Snyderettes, the Snyder Negro team and Coahoma.

Coaching School Terminates Today DALLAS (M)—The gigantic Texas Coaching School ends today with an all-time record enrollment in the books—2,675. That belted by 674 the previous high.

Bums Edge Midland, 2-1, In Teen-age Tournament

ODESSA (SC)—Zay LeFevre and Bob Andrews combined to propel the Big Spring Bums past Midland, 2-1, in the semi-final round of the District 5 Junior Teen-Age baseball tournament here Thursday night.

LeFevre fashioned the mound win, setting the Midland club down with a solitary hit. Andrews belted a long home run over the left field wall in the sixth inning that put the Bums ahead to stay after Midland had caught up with a tally in the last half of the fifth.

LeFevre, who fanned 15 batters in the seven inning game, had trouble with his control in the fifth, walking the bases loaded before the Midland club scored.

TO 2 1/2 GAMES Milwaukee Opens Up Lead In NL

By ED WILKS The Associated Press What are those other National League contenders trying to do, lure the Milwaukee Braves into a false feeling of security? Any way you look at it, the scramble suddenly has opened up with the Milwaukee Braves into a "whopping" 2 1/2 game lead—their largest of the season. They made it as Cincinnati rolled over again, 5-3, yesterday and the seventh-place Chicago Cubs topped the second-place St. Louis Cardinals 4-3 for a three-game sweep.

Third-place Brooklyn is five games back, skidding with a 12-3 clobbering from the New York Giants. Cincinnati and Philadelphia now are tied for fourth, seven games behind, after the Phillies defeated Pittsburgh 6-3 while the Redlegs lost for the 11th time in 12 games with Milwaukee this season.

If this is the breakup in the NL log jam, the Braves should knock by Sunday night—after a three-game set at St. Louis. In the American League, Washington made it two in a row over New York 6-1 and trimmed the Yankees' lead to five games as Chicago's second-place White Sox defeated Kansas City 7-4.

Baltimore regained fifth place from Detroit by defeating Boston 3-1 while the Tigers lost to Cleveland 3-1. Red Schoendienst, the second baseman who was supposed to have brought the Braves the pennant along with his bat and glove when the Giants traded him to Milwaukee June 15, got the job done yesterday. He lined a two-run single in the eighth, breaking a 3-3 tie and bringing Lew Burdette his 10th victory.

Ex-Brave George Crowe hammered his 24th home run and Frank Robinson swatted his 18th in the eighth to junk a 3-1 Milwaukee lead. Reliever Russ Sanchez lost it, loading the bases with two walks and a hit batsman ahead of Schoendienst's hit. The Cubs won six in a row for the first time since 1955 with a two-run seventh against southpaw Wilmer Mizell that cracked a two-all tie. Singles by Moe Drabowsky, the young right-hander who won

FIELD CHASING SNEAD IN CHICAGO TOURNEY

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN CHICAGO (M)—The locker room banter at Tam O'Shanter golf club went this way today as the best 100 pros in the country prepared for the second round of the $10,200 "World" golf championship: "To have Sam Snead breathing down your back is bad enough. But to have the guy in front—oh, man!"

Snead, 45, is supposed to be the richest golfer pro. He swung into the second round of golf's biggest treasure hunt with a one-stroke lead.

Snead fired an opening 7-under-par 65 yesterday to gain the front-running spot which over the years he has been known to maintain through a tournament. This prize is golf's biggest payoff—$50,000 exhibition contract.

"Just tell the boys I have a tin can half full," said the White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., pro who came up through the caddy ranks. He referred to the kidding he has been taking that he has all his money hidden in tin cans under the floor of his home.

But Snead wasn't away and flying after the first round. One stroke away at 68 was Jerry Barber, always a contender in this jamboree. There also was a well-grouped following that included 32 who broke par 72.

At 67 was Canadian Al Balding. Bracketed at 68, were Shelly Mayfield, Mike Souchak and Dow Finsterwald, who has finished in the money in 58 consecutive tournaments.

Giants Pit Running Game Against College Stars

By TED SMITS CHICAGO (M)—Tonight's 24th annual All-Star Football Game pits the slashing running attack of the New York Giants against the untested passing offense of the collegians.

North Favored In Dallas Grid Tilt Tonight

DALLAS (M)—The All-Star football game—blue ribbon feature of the annual Texas Coaching School—goes on tonight with the North expected to triumph through the most terrific ground attack the series has known.

Unlike the All-Star basketball game, in which the North holds a 9-4 margin with its 43-42 victory last night, the South could pull even by thumping the North. In the all-time standings the North has won nine games, the South eight and there have been three ties.

But the North is a 12-point favorite to trim its rival, thus winning three times in the last four years. The other one was a tie, Coach Chuck Moser of Abilene has a set of backs that feature track stars like Mike McClellan of Stamford, Harry Moreland of Fort Worth Arlington Heights and Frank Jackson of Paris. And he also has George Johnson of Sonora, one of the great scorers of football history. Then he can call on his own Glynn Gregory, considered the finest back in all Texas.

Gregory, though, is slated for limited action on offense because of a pulled muscle. South Coach Bill Stages of Corpus Christi Ray appears due to depend on passing as an equalizer. And he has at his command such talented throwers as Bob Hanson of Beaumont and Alvin Hartman of Rio Hondo. Stages also thinks he has the better line. So the game is expected to be close.

With passes failing to get the job done, Stages can still call on some excellent runners on his squad. These include Bobby Gurtiz, streak of fire from Three Rivers, and Hartman.

Yates Lectures On Athletics

AUSTIN (SC)—Thirty men heard lectures on football coaching problems during a University of Texas work-conference on interscholastic athletics. Conference participants included: AUSTIN—Jack Allison, 4706 Finley Drive; R. Gordon Bennett, 1703 Mohle Drive; M. R. Davis, Travis High School; Nicholas Overton, 1815 Singleton Avenue, and James William Smith, 606 Elmwood.

BIG SPRING—John P. Yates, 827 Ridgelaan, BRECKENRIDGE—Russell McMurtry, 1300 East Walker, MASON—Jim Walker, MENARD—Alex Crowder, ODESSA—Ben M. Glass, PORTALES, N. M.—Carl Richardson, SNYDER—John Conley, SWEETWATER—Melvin Robertson.

Uncle Ray: Moslems Show Tomb Of Eve To Pilgrims

The Red Sea has been described as "a great crack in the solid rock that has been filled with water." The water is connected with the Indian Ocean.

Along one side of the Red Sea is Arabia, and at about the central point of the Arabian coast is the small seaport known as Jidda. This seaport is a gathering center for many of the pilgrims who go to Mecca, the birthplace of Mohammed.

During an average year, a hundred thousand Moslems pass through Jidda. Many of them pause there to visit the Tomb of Eve. According to the guides, Eve was buried in that tomb!

Moslem storytellers say that a strong west wind carried Eve to Arabia, and dropped her there. Her husband, Adam, also was lifted by the wind and was dropped on the island of Ceylon. Then (according to the tale) he spent 200 years looking for Eve and found her after moving from Ceylon to Arabia.

Among the large seas of the earth, the Red Sea stands out as the narrowest for its length. It has a total length of 1,450 miles. The average width is less than one-tenth of its length.

The water of the Red Sea is more salty than that of any ocean. This is explained by hot weather and hot winds which bring about quick evaporation. When the vapor rises, salt is left behind.

During a trip around the world, I traveled from end to end of the Red Sea. The month was November, but the temperature was more than 100 degrees above zero (Fahrenheit). Nowhere else in my travels have I felt more "oven-baked" than during the passage of that sea.

Our Ancestors Weren't So Healthy

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The popular conception of the American pioneer as a hardy specimen of near physical perfection is largely a myth, a Tampa history teacher maintains.

"A formidable number of the pioneers . . . were miserable, sickly creatures," Dr. J. Ryan Beiser of the University of Tampa said.

The vigorous, broad-chested men and movies give a far from accurate picture, Beiser said.

"Frequent accidents, the effects of exposure, decaying vegetables, swamps, poor food habits, lack of sanitation and hygiene, and inadequate knowledge for prevention and cure of disease" outweighed the natural health benefits of an active outdoor life, he added.

He expressed his views as a guest columnist for the Tampa Times.

Soldier Released In Child's Death

SEOUL (AP)—A U.S. Army court-martial today found Pvt. Ronald E. Fasset of Ulster, Pa., innocent of negligent homicide in the fatal shooting of a 3-year-old Korean boy.

The 19-year-old soldier was, however, fined two thirds of his pay for three months for careless discharge of his weapon. An American private in Korea receives $93.80 a month.

The Korean boy, Kim Young Ho, was struck in the head when Fasset's carbine discharged July 6 at the port city of Inchon. Both the Army and Fasset said the shooting was an accident. Fasset was guarding a pipeline at the time of the incident.

Trailer Explosion In Dallas Is Fatal

DALLAS (AP)—A gasoline trailer tank exploded here yesterday, shattering a sheet metal building. One man was killed and two other persons were injured.

Walter Fred Willis, 32, was fatally burned while he was inside the trailer coating it with a plastic material. Christine Alderson, 42, was burned about the legs and suffered a possible broken arm. James Robbins, 21, suffered bruises.

Bicyclist Killed

DALLAS (AP)—Luther Gilbert, 14, died under the wheels of a sports car while riding his bicycle on a busy northwest Dallas street last night.

Bill Jobe Honored By Lamesa Jaycees

LAMESA — At the meeting of the Lamesa Junior Chamber of Commerce Wednesday noon, Bill Jobe was given an award for "Outstanding Jaycee of the month of July."

The award was presented by Jaycee President Bill Clark, who commended Jobe on his work during the month. The Jaycees

Test Delayed

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP)—The explosion of an atomic device, code-named "Shasta," has been postponed for the 12th time. Unfavorable winds were blamed, the AEC said last night. The blast from a 500-foot tower was rescheduled for tomorrow morning.
