Patricia Iden Wins District Queen Honors

Howard County's Farm Bureau Queen was chosen last night to represent this section of West Texas at the state Farm Bureau beauty pageant in Dallas Nov. 18. She is Patricia Iden, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Iden of Vealmoor. She won the district queen's crown in a contest with six other beauties at Howard County Junior College last night. Mitchell County's entry, Gaylene Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Taylor of Lorraine, was runner-up. She will serve as the district's alternate candidate for the state crown.

Defense In Confidential Trial Rests

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The defense criminal libel trial rested today without calling one of the host of stars it hoped would prove the scandal publication's stories true. Defense attorney Arthur Corlay had subpoenaed more than 100 celebrities. That more than 100 siderably by an early court ruling that only stars named in stories read in court could be called. The chief defense witnesses were attorneys for Confidential and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Meade, who gathered information in Hollywood for the magazine. The last witness this morning was Albert Destefano, legal adviser to Confidential, who said he thinks many of the magazine's stories which the state claims were obscene actually were humorous and harmless.

Questioning Destefano, prosecutor William Ritz asked: "Were the stories about Billy Daniels, Corinne Calvet, Frank Sinatra, Eddie Fisher, Anita Ekberg and Maureen O'Hara related to sex?" Ritz asked. "Yes." "Do you think these stories were funny?" "Some were amusing." "How about the O'Hara story?" "It was light with a humorous touch." "The Ekberg story?" "Very funny." "The Mae West story?" "Humorous and innocuous." Destefano testified earlier a story could not be obscene if it was funny and evoked a chuckle in the reader. Miss O'Hara was the subject of a Confidential story asserting that she "cuddled in row 35" of Grandman's Chinese Theater. She has denied the story, saying she was in Europe at the time. Confidential and its sister publication, Whisper magazine, and their Hollywood agents, Fred and Marjorie Meade, are being tried on charges of conspiracy to commit criminal libel and to print lewd and obscene matter. In the absence of Hollywood stars the trial has turned into a name-dropping affair, with more than 50 film people mentioned. One of them, actress Francesca de Scaffa, former wife of actor Bruce Cabot who figured prominently in trial testimony, is the subject of a two-country story. She disappeared from her Mexico City home Tuesday.

Daniel Praises Rebuilding Of Flooded City

LAMPASAS (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel said today Texas needs the type of teamwork shown by the people who rebuilt this city after a flash flood ravaged it May 12. "The story of Lampasas is one of the most courageous in the history of Texas," Daniel said at the appreciation celebration held by Lampasas for those who helped build back the city. The governor said disasters such as the Lampasas flood will be a thing of the past if Texas builds and puts into operation a master plan for water conservation and flood control. "Lampasas has come back because its people pulled together and refused to abandon hope. This is the sort of teamwork the entire state needs right now. Recent calamities are proof enough that if we continue to neglect our responsibility to build a statewide water conservation and development program, Texas faces more and even greater trouble in the future," Daniel said. Daniel spoke of the new State-wide Water Planning Committee which will meet in Austin Sept. 9 to prepare water planning legislation. "There is an urgent need for a master plan and I will resubmit this proposition to the special session of the Legislature which I plan to call," he said. Daniel said the state water problem can be met only by unified action at all three levels, local state and federal. He said a good example is the proposed flood prevention plan for the Sulphur Creek watershed here. "Federal and local governments will share the cost of this plan, and it will be in local hands after the five water retaining structures are completed. The State Soil Conservation Board informs me that a minimum of 75 per cent of the damage to Lampasas last May could have been avoided if the work plan had been in operation at the time," he said. The rush of water whipped out or damaged 86 stores and 310 homes. Six persons drowned. Merchants have a wry business slogan: "If you buy it in Lampasas, it's bound to be brand new."

Russians Set Off Four Long - Range Missiles

U.S. Intelligence Reveals Progress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia was reported today to have fired at least four long-range missiles since June and to have tested many more of shorter range over a longer time period. Apparently the Kremlin's announcement of its claimed successful test of an intercontinental missile. But bits and pieces of the information had been coming into Washington from intelligence sources since shortly after the test operations started. Apparently the Kremlin's announcement on Monday was timed to make it a contribution to the fierce new Soviet diplomatic offensive against the West. But only the timing was a real surprise here—and presumably in Allied capitals. Since the Russian announcement there have been solidly backed reports here that the U. S. Army believes it has ready for production a proven counterweapon—an American missile of shorter range which could hit key Soviet areas from advance bases. And there is every evidence of high-level doubt here that the Russians actually have a production model of a 5,000-mile missile ready for operational use. Officials stress the difference between an experimental prototype and an atomic warhead weapon ready for use. The big Soviet missiles involved in this summer's tests were reported to have been launched from points in the northernmost part of European Russia, aimed eastward into the wild and sparsely inhabited areas of Siberia. The information was pieced together laboriously and evaluated by American military and other intelligence agencies before going to the Technical Intelligence Review Committee for final study and valuation. This committee includes representatives of the military, the Central Intelligence Agency and the State Department, and has the benefit of advice from several scientific bodies.

Recovers From Flood

May 12th was the day the flood waters rushed through Lampasas, after rain swollen Sulphur Creek broke its levee. Top picture shows results of a wall of water that hit the business section. Bottom picture shows results of clean-up less than four months after the flood. The flood wiped out or damaged 86 stores, and drowned six persons. Lampasas will hold a "comeback Celebration" August 30-31.

Adjournment By Today Is Congress' Aim

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House notified President Eisenhower at noon today it had completed its business and was ready to adjourn. This is a required formality before the House ends a session. The Senate whipped rapidly along on last phases of its session's work. The House approved two of the "must" measures—a $3,435,810,000 foreign aid appropriation and a bill laying down ground rules for defense attorneys to get a partial look at FBI files if these are used in trials of their clients. House action sent them to President Eisenhower. The Senate had endorsed these bills in a late-into-the-night session at which the historic civil rights bill was cleared to the White House. Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas called that body back to work at 9 a.m. today—The House met at 10 a.m. Leaders predicted Congress—if it really tried—could complete its work in time to quit and go home by mid-afternoon, ending an eight-month session that began Jan. 3. The Senate passed the civil rights bill, designed to protect the voting rights of Negroes, on a 60-51 roll call vote. Passage came near the end of a marathon 30-hour session, in which Sen. Thurmond (D-SC) waged a record one-man filibuster against it. Thurmond spoke for 24 hours and 19 minutes, and said "I feel fine" when he quit. He smashed a four-year record of 22 hours and 26 minutes, held by Sen. Morse (D-Ore). The civil rights measure represented a victory for the Eisenhower administration, although it had been shorn of some features the President had requested. It remained to be seen whether Eisenhower now would soften his appraisal of the 1957 legislative record of the Democratic-controlled Congress. He told an Aug. 21 news conference he viewed that record as a disappointing one. Senate approval sent the compromise civil rights measure to Eisenhower. Then, with only minutes of debate on each, the Senate passed these bills: 1. A $3,435,810,000 money bill to finance the nation's global program of military and economic aid to friendly countries. The measure went then to the House. 2. A compromise bill to ease some restrictions in the immigration laws, but denying many liberalizing features Eisenhower had asked. It went to the White House. 3. A bill designed to protect FBI files from limitless scrutiny by defense lawyers, and to safeguard the right of defendants in federal courts to examine relevant material in those files. This bill also went back to the House.

Labor Day Fling To Mark End Of Vacation Season

Big Springers will take their last summer fling this weekend before settling down for the fall and winter routine of school and work. The three-day Labor Day holiday will mark the end of vacation season for most citizens. And they're expected to make the most of the long weekend before returning to the daily grind next Tuesday. Law enforcement and safety officials are urging caution on the highways, lakes and playgrounds. Another near-record holiday death toll is being predicted across the nation. For county, state and federal employees, the holiday starts at quitting time this afternoon. Except for emergency and law enforcement offices, the courthouse will shut down from this afternoon until next Tuesday morning. State and federal offices also will be closed. City employees get off from noon Saturday until Tuesday. Banks, customarily closed on Saturdays, also will be closed Monday. The post offices also will be inoperative on Labor Day. Big Spring and most other schools in the county will observe the holiday, with classes to start Tuesday morning. In most schools, teachers have received their assignments and pupils have been pre-registered during the past week. Webb Air Force Base will halt all training operations for the day and most civilian and military personnel will be off duty.

Mussolini's Body Given To Widow

ROME (AP)—The Italian government today turned the body of Benito Mussolini over to his widow at St. Cassiano cemetery in Predappio. The body was brought in a truck from its long-secret burial place for transfer to the Mussolini family vault at Predappio, the Mussolini birthplace.

Chessman Wins High Court Appeal

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Caryl Chessman, the convicted sex terrorist who has staved off execution for nine years and written three books, has won the right to take his case back to Los Angeles where it began in 1948.

Foster AFB To Close

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force said today Foster Air Force Base, Victoria, Tex., will be closed next spring despite earlier plans to improve and enlarge it.

Dyess Airmen Join Search For Youth

ABILENE (AP)—Fifty men from Dyess Air Force Base here joined airmen today in an intensified search for a boy who disappeared Aug. 18 from the Abilene State Hospital for epileptic patients. Authorities said at the time Michael Guest, 14, could live only a short time without special medical treatment. The search was centered near Lytle Lake, just east of town and near the hospital.

Civil Rights Bill Passes, Goes On Way To President

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first civil rights bill to pass Congress in more than 80 years was on its way to President Eisenhower today. The Senate completed congressional action on the compromise measure late last night after 30 hours of continuous session, passing it by an overwhelming 69-15 vote. The House had passed the bill last Tuesday. The end of the months-long battle over civil rights came two hours after Sen. Thurmond (D-SC) ended a record-setting filibuster against the bill. Thurmond held the floor for 24 hours and 19 minutes. The previous record was set in 1955 by Sen. Morse (D-Ore) in an equally futile effort to defeat the submerged old lands bill. Thurmond's filibuster was single-handed. Other Southerners refrained from joining in because they felt it was fruitless and might boomerang. Final passage of the civil rights measure cleared the way for adjournment of Congress, probably today. On the final roll call, 15 Southerners voted "no." Thirty-seven Republicans and 23 Democrats joined in support of the bill. There were many absentees. The bill provides broad new federal enforcement powers in the field of voting rights, although it does not contain some of the far-ranging provisions originally asked by Eisenhower. Nevertheless, its passage is an outstanding victory for Eisenhower and for members of both parties who have struggled for years to win action on civil rights. The political repercussions are certain to be felt for a long time. The key feature of the bill is a provision giving the Justice Department authority to seek federal court injunctions to enforce the right of every citizen to vote, regardless of race or color. In its final form, this provision was modified so that persons charged with criminal contempt for violating such injunctions would be granted a jury trial if they were tried first by a judge alone and sentenced to more than 45 days in jail or fined more than $300. But no jury trials would be authorized in civil contempt cases stemming from voting rights injunctions. Some legislators say the bulk of court orders in voting rights cases could be enforced through civil contempt action. Civil contempt actions are aimed at obtaining compliance with a court order. Criminal contempt is intended to punish for non-compliance. Other provisions in the bill would: Create a six-member bipartisan commission, named by the President but with Senate confirmation, to make a broad two-year study of all civil rights problems, with specific attention to complaints of denial of voting rights. The commission would have subpoena powers. Create a new civil rights division in the Justice Department, headed by an assistant attorney general. Repeal an old Reconstruction era law that authorized the president to employ troops to enforce court orders in civil rights cases. Eliminate from the federal jury law the requirement that federal court jurors be qualified under the laws of the states in which they serve. This is designed to make it certain Negroes can serve on federal juries, although there already is a law barring racial discrimination in selection of such jurors. Republicans generally were jubilant over the final victory in the long struggle over the measure.

They noted that their side provided the bulk of the votes for a strong bill on all roll calls in both Senate and House. They argued that this could not fail to help the GOP in the future in areas where Negroes and other minorities are an important voting factor. Democrats, on the other hand, contended that their generalship in the Senate enabled the bill to pass without an all-out Southern filibuster. They argued, too, that it was a small band of Northern Democrats which kept the battle for civil rights going for many years during which they contended Republicans looked the other way. Sen. Talmadge (D-Ga) and other Southerners made it quite clear last night they opposed Thurmond's filibuster tactics. The Southerners said they had agreed unanimously not to filibuster because they feared that tactic might create a risk of getting a much stronger civil rights bill next year, they also said they were concerned that an all-out filibuster might build up pressure to change the Senate rules to make it easier to choke off debate. And they acknowledged they didn't have the numerical strength to make a filibuster effective.

Mrs. Thurmond Waits

Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-SC) set a new filibuster record of 24 hours, 19 minutes in his talk against the civil rights bill. Mrs. Thurmond, right, listened all night and was pictured above as she came out for a brief rest.

Downtown Paving Next City Project

Paving of the downtown area is the next project to be financed by bonds voted by citizens in 1955. Specifications for the work are being drawn up by the city engineer, and contract will probably be let the last part of September. The city has over $95,000 left from the $150,000 voted by citizens in August of 1955 for street improvements. All that has been spent was used to purchase equipment for the street department, with the exception of $5,000. This $5,000 paid for right-of-way to open a street between West 3rd and 4th. Reason for waiting on paving downtown was because of a local contractor. W. D. Caldwell has had an order for several months a hot-mix plant, and the city delayed to allow it to arrive. Since hot-mix would be used to surface the streets, the city felt that money might be saved by waiting until Caldwell received his equipment and could bid on the job. The last pieces of equipment for the plant arrived this week, and the contractor hoped to have it installed and working in about two weeks. Hot-mix can be laid in either summer or winter, so there will be no time lost for this reason. So when the contract is let, work can proceed. The city plans to remove the existing surface itself and repair the base. This work will be done a few blocks at a time so as not to close off the entire downtown area at once. Also the city plans to do this work at night so the contractor can lay the surface the following day. The hot-mix takes only a matter of hours from the time it is laid until it is ready for traffic, so blocked-off areas will be open inside of two days. Plans call for surfacing Scurry, Main, and Runnels from First to Fourth. Also First and Second Streets will be surfaced but not the highway segments. C. N. Bellamy, the city engineer, has been on vacation this week but he has the specifications practically completed. When the specifications are ready, the city will call for bids. The funds from the $150,000 bond issue were not definitely earmarked as were the rest of the $990,000 in bonds voted the same time. In addition to the downtown work, the money will be used to straighten intersections at 10th and State and at 17th and Ayford. At present the city is preparing to condemn property to straighten the turn at 17th, but nothing has been said lately about the 10th-State intersection. In addition, the city will probably pay its part of paving Birdwell Lane northward to 4th if and when property owners agree to pay their parts. The city plans a 50-foot street, and the property owners are asked to pay for only 40-feet—30 feet per property owner on each side. The additional 14 feet will be financed by the city from the bonds.

Vandals Barricade T&P Rails

Vandals stacked a mass of timber on the main line of the Texas and Pacific Railroad five miles west of Big Spring Thursday afternoon, Jack Shaffer, chief deputy sheriff, reported Friday. He said that the timber was not sufficient to derail a train under normal conditions but that it constituted a dangerous hazard. Officials of the line said that trainmen approaching the point where the timber was across the rails had sighted three boys racing from the scene. Shaffer and other officials searched the area but were unable to find the trio. Shaffer said that he understood the train knocked the barrier from the track with no difficulty.

Stassen Flies To Top Arms Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harold E. Stassen's hurry-up flight from London signaled the opening of today of urgent top level conferences on the developing crisis in disarmament negotiations between the Western powers and Russia. Stassen had planned to return this weekend for personal reasons and to consult with officials. He suddenly moved up his trip by 24 hours yesterday in order to reach Washington this morning for a quick meeting with Secretary of State Dulles. Stassen, who is chief disarmament negotiator for the United States, is also expected to meet with President Eisenhower and other officials. So far as Washington authorities know, Stassen plans to get back to London in time for a meeting of the United Nations disarmament subcommittee Tuesday.

Hat?

Miss Luise Squires models a mesh plastic hat which a traffic officer described as a "combination hand bag and shopping bag" when he gave her a ticket in Los Angeles. He said she was wearing it down over her eyes while driving, thus impeding her vision. What's more, he said, it was distracting to other drivers.

Showers Hit Texas Areas

By The Associated Press
Showers hit the coast and far West Texas Friday with more forecast for all of the state.

The Weather Bureau said showers had been reported on the coast from Brownsville to Beaumont and up into East Texas to Lufkin. Houston got .85 of an inch between 2 and 3 a.m. Galveston and Palacios had showers just before dawn, as did El Paso.

El Paso reported .08 of an inch of rain Thursday night.

The middle of the state was clear, however, with predawn temperatures ranging from 78 degrees at Galveston to 60 at Amarillo and Dalhart.

A weak cool front formed in New Mexico and the Weather Bureau said it would move into West Texas Friday night.

Southerly winds pushed moisture across Texas Thursday. An afternoon shower dumped up to an inch of rain in the Karnes City-Kenedy area of South Texas.

Amarillo was soaked with .43 of an inch. Other official totals for the 24 hours ending at 6:30 p.m. Thursday included: Beaumont .36, Galveston .34, Beeville .22, Lufkin .04 and Brownsville .02.

Showers in the Rio Grande Valley dumped .80 on Wednesday, .30 at Mercedes, .29 at McAllen and .30 at Alamo.

Winds near Kenedy blew debris on the highway and disrupted traffic.

Amarillo had the low maximum Thursday, 83. Presidio had the high of 104.

Old River Men Wouldn't Know Modern Barges

NEW YORK (AP)—Neither Abe Lincoln nor Mark Twain would recognize most of today's new river barges. New industrial materials—even new industries—are changing the boats those one-time river men knew.

Some are big thermos flasks now keeping chemicals amazingly hot. Some are big refrigerators keeping gases almost unbelievably cold—and liquid. Some do away with such conventional containers as paper bags for cement.

Some are floating transports for huge collapsible plastic bags. Some tote petroleum. Some are astash with wine.

New factories going up along the nation's waterways at a six billion dollar a year rate have specific material transportation problems.

A. M. Thompson of Chicago, president of the Inland Waterways Common Carriers Assn., says in an interview that river men are learning, to their profit, to meet the needs of the new industries.

Chemical and other customers have piled up along the banks of rivers and canals. The Ohio River Improvement Assn. says 11 billion dollars has been invested by industries in plants on river in the last seven years. New Orleans boosters say big corporate building along the lower Mississippi recently has been running at the rate of one million dollars a day.

The waterways carriers are estimated to be doing an annual business of 200 million dollars a year.

Some of the special barges Thompson cites are barges with specially treated balsa wood forming a one-foot thick inner lining to carry liquefied methane gas at minus 258 degrees Fahrenheit from the natural gas fields to Chicago. Boats towing the barges will be propelled by a small amount of the gas allowed to return to the gaseous state along the way.

At the other end of the thermometer, molten sulphur is carried from Texas to Pittsburgh in barges built like thermos flasks at temperatures of 300 to 350 degrees. California wine brought through the Panama Canal in a special tanker will be carried up the inland waterways as far as Chicago and Pittsburgh in special barges with stainless steel pipes painted with lithocote plastic.

Barges costing $260,000 each carry anhydrous ammonia under 250 pound pressure. Cement mixed with air is now pumped into and out of barges, eliminating the loading and unloading of cement bags.

Army Has Answer To Russ Missile

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army reportedly believes it has a proven answer to Russia's claimed intercontinental missile—an American missile, ready for production, that could hit key Soviet areas from advance bases.

The Army's proposed counter-weapon is the Jupiter, an intermediate range ballistic missile which soared 1,500 miles over the Atlantic Tuesday in a test flight from Cape Canaveral, Fla. Secretary of the Army Brucker lauded the Jupiter "a spectacular success."

It is understood that only the Pentagon's secrecy lid on missile developments prevents the Army from saying flatly that the Jupiter could be in production within 30 days. Brucker said in Florida yesterday that the Soviet announcement last Monday of a successful test of a 5,000-mile missile indicated the Russians were talking of a "research test vehicle." That is a long way, he said, from "an operational vehicle."

There have been no known successful U.S. tests of an intercontinental ballistic missile.

The United States has an advantage in land bases—its own plus those in friendly hands around the world. A missile launched from Communist territory would have to travel thousands of miles to reach the United States.

A darker view of America's place in the missile race was presented yesterday by Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.) after four hours of closed-door testimony by Acting Secretary of Defense Quarles and other officials before a Senate-Atomic Energy Weapons subcommittee which Jackson heads.

Jackson said all U.S. intermediate and long range ballistic missiles, except the Jupiter, are behind schedule because of technical problems. He also said the number of both types of missiles proposed for production has been cut back by Pentagon-imposed money limitations.

Jackson said there had been a delay in planned dates for research and testing stages, and a reduction in the quantities of missiles slated for future production below figures given to the Senate Armed Services Committee last April.

The senator declined on security grounds to name dates and numbers, but said the Army has protested a Defense Department

Mrs. Barkley Denies Rumors

ST. LOUIS (AP)—"For heaven's sake," Mrs. Alben Barkley said last night when she was asked about reports she might marry House Speaker Sam Rayburn.

NBC commentator David Brinkley in a television broadcast said Rayburn, a 75-year-old bachelor, had been squiring the widow of the former vice president "to parties around town and people are enjoying the gossip that we may soon have a wedding here."

"There is nothing at all to it," Mrs. Barkley said when contact-restriction on overtime pay in missiles work and that the Navy's funds for production of the Polaris medium-range missile have been cut.

ed by a Globe-Democrat reporter in Washington.

"Mr. Rayburn is an old, old friend. He was originally a friend of Sen. Barkley, and he has been very, very nice to me since Mr. Barkley died.

"I enjoy his company immensely. And that's that!"

Boston Dailies Publish Again As Strike Ends

BOSTON (AP)—Six Boston daily newspapers resumed publication today for the first time since a strike of 300 mailing room employees forced their suspension last Aug. 9.

The 5,000 employees of the newspapers were called back to work last night immediately following settlement of the dispute.

Agreement on the salary issue was reached at a State House meeting yesterday between the publishers and representatives of the Mailers' Union, an affiliate of the International Typographical Union.

The striking mailers ratified by a vote of 144-25 the agreement which will give them a $10.50 two-year package salary increase, plus arbitration of wage differences above that figure.

Max Milstein, president of the Mailers Local, said there is no ceiling on the amount to be arbitrated above the $10.50 figure — "whether it be $10 one cent or nothing."

Both sides agreed the arbitrators' decision would be final.

Originally the mailers, who handle newspapers from presses to loading platforms, sought a two-year package of $12.62. The publishers held firm for a two-year increase of $10.50.

The mailers' scale had been $94.13 a week.

Within an hour after Gov. Foster Furcolo announced settlement of the strike, the Globe, Traveler and American summoned their employees to prepare for the first afternoon editions.

The morning Herald, Record and Globe will resume publication with Saturday editions.

Motorman Rescued

Motorman William Hochstein, 51, is hoisted by police emergency squad members from a wrecked elevated train car in which he was trapped for more than two hours after a two-train collision in the New York Bronx. His left foot amputated by doctors, Hochstein was taken out through a hole in the roof of the crumpled cab. Amputation was performed to free the motorman after efforts to cut away the metal with torches failed.

Thurmond Still Scents 3rd Party

WASHINGTON (AP)—Strom Thurmond's record word war against the Civil Rights Bill undoubtedly entrenches him strongly with the South—where he still scents the possibility of a third party.

And perhaps, under the right combination of conditions, the filibustering South Carolina senator envisions himself in 1960, as he was in 1948, the presidential nominee of a rebel Democratic faction.

If not that, Thurmond certainly won't have hurt himself with the folks back home if he tries for another Senate term in 1960. That could have been the prime motive behind his futile, marathon speech.

Thurmond held the floor for 24 hours and 19 minutes. This eclipsed the previous filibuster record of 22 hours and 26 minutes set by Sen. Morse (D-Ore) in 1953.

Shortly after Thurmond yielded the floor at 9:13 p.m. (EDT) last night, the Senate passed the Civil Rights Bill, 60-15, and sent it to President Eisenhower.

Reports have been getting around South Carolina that Gov. George Bell Timmerman Jr. is thinking of the senatorial race in 1960.

So a speech like Thurmond's, capable of arousing the affection of rank-and-file Dixie voters, could be a political insurance policy calculated to pay off in three years.

It was mostly Republicans and Northern Democrats who gave Thurmond his only moments of relief through the long hours of document reading and oratory. They interrupted occasionally with a question, or provided a break for a bit of business.

He got little help from Southern senators. Their coolness seemed to stem from a conviction that a filibuster couldn't succeed, and might antagonize civil rights supporters to the point of insisting on a tougher bill or changing in Senate rules to curb filibusters.

It was a strong civil rights plank that split the Democrats in 1948. And it was Strom Thurmond, chairman of the South Carolina delegation to the national convention and a member of the Democratic National Committee, who became the States Rights candidate for President.

Harry S. Truman scored his upset victory over Thomas E. Dewey while Thurmond was carrying Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and South Carolina and taking their 39 electoral votes, plus one from Tennessee.

Thurmond's walk out on the Democratic regulars didn't hurt him with his home state voters. He was governor at the time. They backed him for president. And in 1954 they made him the first U.S. senator ever elected by a write-in vote.

Less than three weeks ago, Thurmond said formation of a third party hinges on whom the Republicans and Democrats pick for presidential candidate in 1960.

If the nominees three years from now were strong civil rights advocates, Thurmond predicted, "there would be a probability of a third party for the election, if not for a longer period."

Consequently, some of Thurmond's Senate associates aren't discounting the possibility that his civil rights battle may signal a willingness, if the South wants a champion of white supremacy, to carry a third party banner in the 1960 election.

Water For Texas Conference Set

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—The annual Water for Texas Conference will be held at Texas A&M Sept. 16-18.

R. L. Whiting, head of the A&M department of petroleum engineering, and general chairman of the conference, said the meeting is important to the states welfare.

Included in the conference will be discussions on surface reservoirs, stream flow problems, losses by evaporation, re-use of municipal waste water, mechanics of rain-making, artificial recharge of underground reservoirs, legislation affecting water use and organization for forming water districts.

Magicians In Michigan Town Now Old Hat

NILES, Mich. (AP)—By now a blonde suspended in air or a brunette seemingly sliced in half on Main Street probably wouldn't cause a ripple of excitement in this southwestern Michigan city of 15,000.

This is magic week in Niles, the scene of Percy Abbott's 24th annual magic get-together.

Abbott, a hustling, gray-haired gentleman, runs the Abbott Magic Co. in Colon, Mich., 50 miles east of Niles. He says it is the only firm in the world devoted exclusively to the manufacture of paraphernalia for professional and top-flight amateur magicians. His firm is the host in Niles.

Almost 300 modern sorcerers have gathered for the week long show. Opening sessions were devoted strictly to the trade. The public got in the act yesterday when D'Letta, an escape artist, was shackled, placed in a sealed wooden box and lowered into the murky St. Joseph River. Naturally he escaped.

An old show business maxim says that more than one magician on a program is a crowd. But the entertainers here spend their time learning new tricks and entertaining the natives with off-the-cuff shows anywhere there is a gathering.

The artists of legerdemain include Neil Foster, world renowned manipulator who performed during Queen Elizabeth's coronation festivities, and Max Terhune, whose hands have performed most of the magic for stars in recent movies.

The ranks also include the "semi-pros," the experts who have other occupations but whose talents are in demand for special appearances.

"Among these are Dr. 'U-No-Me' Walters, a Lafayette, Ind., dentist who helps relieve the pain of drilling for cavities in young patients with sleight of hand. Another is Charles Topke of San Francisco, who traveled for 20 years as a beer salesman and credits a well-filled bag of tricks with much of his success.

At least a dozen magicians at the convention are ordained ministers. The Rev. Kenneth Turner of Joplin, Mo., says he uses a trick handkerchief in the pulpit to demonstrate the conversion from black sin to white salvation.

Killed In Crash

SWEETWATER, Tex. (AP)—Orval Procter, 35, and Mable Maryfield, 43, both of Sweetwater, were killed last night when a car collided with a gas truck.

Reuther Wants Ike Study Of Proposal

DETROIT (AP)—Walter Reuther's United Auto Workers union urges a White House study of its car price cut proposal—and Reuther wants an "immediate and sympathetic answer."

In Washington, White House press secretary James C. Hagerly yesterday made public a letter sent to Reuther Aug. 22, by Gabriel Hauge, economic advisor to the president, in behalf of Eisenhower thanking Reuther for his Aug. 16 letter, in which the price cut proposal first was made.

"It would be inappropriate," Hauge's letter said, "for the President to express a view on the specific proposals set forth in your letters to the three major automobile producers. He regards the sentiments expressed in your letter, however, as a hopeful augury that a sense of civic responsibility will prevail in the future negotiations between labor and management.

Reuther, UAW president, declared his desire at a press conference yesterday at which he called the Big Three auto companies "irresponsible" for their rejection of the proposal advanced by the union as an anti-inflation move.

Almost immediately the union chief was berated in return by management.

Henry Ford II, president of the Ford Motor Co., charged Reuther with trying to make inflation a "propaganda platform" and attempting to "smoke-screen" his 1958 contract demands.

Statements by General Motors and Chrysler, others of the Big Three, made clear they also remained adamant against the UAW proposal.

The union proposed that 1958 car prices be cut an average of $100 and in return for this it would consider adjusting its demands on the companies in next year's bargaining.

At his news conference last week Eisenhower said he had referred Reuther's proposal to the Labor Department and his economic advisors for study.

Reuther in his letter made public yesterday asked the President to direct the White House advisors to hear from both union and management and pressed for a quick answer.

Reuther, in a formal statement on the companies' unanimous rejection of the price cut proposal, accused the companies of "irresponsibility."

Houseful Of Prizes

Qualifying Play Begins In 26th Annual Tourney

Club officials continued to be optimistic that the field for the 26th annual Big Spring Invitational Golf tournament would exceed 150 players, as qualifying play got under way this morning. If that many enter, the meet—scheduled for the Country Club here—could be one of the most successful to be held in West Texas this year.

The nine-course course, for the next four days, will be clogged to the extent that a portion of the lower flights will have to be run off at the Munny course, which isn't far removed from the Country Club. Today's action will be highlighted by the annual Hall and Bennett trophy matches at 1 p.m., which pits an octet captained by Dick Johnson of Big Spring against one led by Odessa's Lloyd French.

All 16 of the players involved in the cup matches are due to qualify for the meet at the same time, assuring the tournament of an excellent field.

LIST OF CHAMPS

Bill Roden Seeks Fourth Win Here

Bill (Red) Roden, formerly of Big Spring and now of Odessa, is the only three-time winner in the Big Spring Invitational Golf tournament, 26th renewal of which gets under way today and continues through Monday.

Roden first won in 1942 and repeated in 1947 and '48. Two-time winners include Doug Jones of Abilene and formerly of Big Spring; Eddie Morgan, now a resident of Tulsa and Bobby Maxwell, Big Spring. Jones finished first in 1938 and again in 1945. Morgan emerged as titlist in 1935 and '38. Maxwell won in successive years—1952 and 1953.

Following is a list of the champions, final round results and medalists in each year's meet since the tournament was started in 1931:

1931—Charles Qualls, Post. Defeated Bob Scott, Colorado City, 1 up. Medalist—Frank Rose, Lamesa, with 70.
1932—Qualls, Defeated One Britton, Big Spring, 3 up. Medalist—John Northington, Big Spring, 68 (including a hole-in-one).
1933—Shirley Robbins, Big Spring, 71 and 2. Defeated E. C. Nix, Colorado City, 3 and 2. Medalist—J. C. Southworth, Sweetwater, and Nix, each with 73.
1934—J. N. Neal, Hobbs, N. M. Defeated Eddie Morgan, Big Spring, 1 up. Medalist—Ray Bryant, Lubbock, 71.
1935—Eddie Morgan, Defeated Southworth, 7 and 6. Medalist—Morgan, 71.
1936—Morgan, Defeated Doug Jones, Big Spring, 1 up. Medalist—Doug Jones, 68.
1937—Dr. Richard Souder, Dublin, Defeated Morgan Neal, Odessa, 1 up 19 holes. Medalist—Doug Jones, 67.

JACK JOHNSON NAMED BY QBC

Jack Johnson heads up the Big Spring Quarterback Club's barbecue ticket committee. Johnson was appointed to the post by the organization's co-captains, R. E. McKinney and Garner McAdams, earlier this week.

Ducats for the Sept. 5 party, which will honor members of the 1957 Big Spring High School football team and their coaches, are available at a bargain price—$1 each.

White Sox Written Off As Contenders

The go-go Chicago White Sox are gone. They put the heat on New York's slumping Yankees and the champs got hot, sweeping a three-game series and regaining a 6½-game American League lead with a 2-1 victory yesterday. Enos Slaughter's 11th-inning home run and five innings of one-hit shutout relief by Whitey Ford did it.

Just 72 hours earlier, the Sox surprisingly were still in the race. They had won six in a row and had their best, righthanders Jim Wilson and Dick Donovan, and southpaw Billy Pierce, rested and ready. The Yankees, their pitching pooped by injured, had lost five of seven.

Now the Sox are six games back on the last side and with 28 games remaining have only eight more left at home. The Yankees have 27 to go, all but nine at home.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Some of the greens have taken a beating from the recent dry weather and will suffer from the constant play for the next four days. In July and August, the expensive greens must be given constant care or they'll begin to die. And it doesn't take long to lose a green.

If anyone asks me, I'd say too much work is being piled on Shirley Robbins, general manager of the club. I think he should be given an assistant. I don't think some of the members realize how long an average day Shirley has.

Maybe the club needs a full-time greenskeeper. By hiring such a person, the club would probably save money in the long run.

The Munny course in Big Spring is a beautiful layout to the average passerby. Regrettably, it has too many rocks on it to be classified as an A-1 course. It could be made into a genuine beauty spot if the city government would add a complete irrigation system.

There's a move on out west to have Joe DiMaggio named manager of the New York Giants, who will soon be the San Francisco Giants. Joe is a native of the California city.

The University of Texas football team is hard up for football ends. Only two of the eight terminals who played for UT last fall are back and one of those (Bobby Bryant, of Plainview) looked only so-so in spring practice.

The other one is Bill Germany. C. A. DeWees, who served the Big Spring Country Club as its golf pro for four years (and did a very good job), departed here with his family earlier this week for Arlington, where he'll make his home.

For the time being, at least, C. A. is getting out of the golf pro business. He'll resume his career as a stereotypist for one of Fort Worth's newspapers. He spent 17 years in that business before he turned to golf.

DeWees was dismissed as golf pro here when club directors decided to combine the jobs of golf pro and club manager and hire Shirley Robbins away from the Ranchland Hills Country Club in Midland.

DeWees doesn't intend to give up golf. He'll live next door to a new course in Arlington and intends to play regularly. There's a chance he may land a job with one of the new courses in West Texas.

You meet all kinds of people. DeWees applied for the job at a city-owned course in Seminole and was interviewed by the city commissioner.

One of the commissioners went on record as saying he didn't think the club should have a golf pro. He wanted some one named to tend the greens.

"Fact is," said he, "once we get the course open, I don't care whether anyone plays the course or not."

He was reminded by another commissioner that it would mean much added revenue to the city if golfers flocked to the course in numbers.

Incidentally, the Country Club people here are taking a chance staging this year's Invitational, which gets under way today and continues through Monday.

SEASON AT HAND

44 Check Out Grid Gear In BS Camp

Forty-four strong, the Big Spring Steers fell out for their first football practice this morning and the sun popped its head above the eastern horizon and started its trek across the heavens.

Chances are the boys will still be at it by the time Old Sol rears its head on a day's work and disappears in the west. Of course, the gridders will get a rest. They were to sign off about 9 o'clock this morning and then return for a chalk drill about 3 p.m. Shortly after 4 o'clock, they'll be back on the turf at the old Steer Stadium.

The Steers have a long way to go in a short time. Their first game arrives Sept. 13, at which time they host Andrews. Andrews is the only favorite in Class AAA.

Coach Al Milch and his aides will stage two-day workouts through next Tuesday. They've booked scrimmages with Ector High of Odessa, Lake View of San Angelo and Pecos for next week, in hopes contact with a strange lineup will hurry their boys along faster.

Shortly after arriving on the field this morning, the squad was divided into little groups, with a coach assigned to each group.

All the mentors were on hand. Working with the team were Mitchell Malouf, Curtis Kelley, John Yates, Sam Bell, Roy Baird and Harold Bentley, in addition to Milch.

The field itself, given loving care by attendants all summer, was in good shape. There was lots of turf all over the playing area. Milch has problems in the lineup, what with the decision of regular Jerry White not to show up. Chances are Gerald Davidson will be moved over from the center spot to handle White's guard position.

A promising turnout of sophomores bolstered the lineup. Some of those boys promise to register quite a bit of playing time this fall.

160-Pound Title Bout Again On

NEW YORK (AP)—"Now I've got to concentrate on beating Carmen Basilio," said middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson today after scoring a decisive victory in his nine-day battle over theater-television.

The crafty, veteran fighter said his winning holdout for a money guarantee for the closed circuit telecast "has been a great strain on me. I've lost weight and I've had to take sleeping pills. Now I've got to build up my strength. I don't want to disappoint Carmen on Sept. 23."

As the Harlem dandy returned to his Greenwood Lake, N.Y., training camp he found himself an 8-5 underdog to the welterweight king from Chittenango, N.Y., Basilio, who has maintained all along that Robinson will fight "because he won't pass up this kind of dough," has been training steadily at Alexandria, N.Y.

Robinson won decisively over both the International Boxing Club and Theater Network Television, Inc., at Thursday's five-hour meeting at the State Athletic Commission offices.

He agreed again to defend his crown against Basilio at Yankee Stadium, Sept. 23, after TNT President Nat Halpern met Robinson's terms on theater-TV and the IBC spelled out the details for radio and movies.

Under the new theater-TV pact, Robinson will collect a minimum guarantee of $250,000 and Teleprompter Corp., favored by Sugar Ray, will be included. Basilio gains, too. Halpern said Carmen will be guaranteed a minimum of $110,000 against his 20 per cent. Robinson gets 45 per cent.

If the fight draws at least $750,000, as $600,000 and Basilio more than $260,000 with the gate, theater-TV, radio, and movies all included.

Ford, who has been sidelined by a persistent shoulder pain, came on in the seventh after Tom Sturdivant was lifted for a pinch-hitter. The only hit of Whitey was Larry Doby's leadoff single in the seventh.

Mickey Mantle was 2-for-5, both doubles, for the Yankees and kept his bat mark at .373. The leader, Boston's Ted Williams, was 0-for-1, losing a point for a .379 average with four walks after a first-inning ground out.

Tom Brewer won his 15th on the third try for the Red Sox, six-hitting the Tigers. Frank Malone drove in three runs and Jackie Jensen doubled home two.

The Indians rapped four home runs—including two-run shots by Jim Hegan and Rocky Colavito—while Mike Garcia nine-hit the Birds.

'56 Champs Clash In Cotton Bowl

DALLAS (AP)—A repeat of the National Football League championship game last December comes up in the Cotton Bowl tonight when the New York Giants clash with the Chicago Bears.

Coach Paddy Driscoll of the Bears hopes it will be somewhat different—the Giants whipped the Bears 47-7 on that occasion. However, the Bears had won here in an exhibition and during the season tied the Giants.

A crowd of 35,000 or more is expected to watch a covey of Southwesterners in action, including Kyle Rote, the fabulous SMU back who has been with the Giants since 1951.

RAIDERS SHORT ON EXPERIENCE

LUBBOCK (SC)—Probably the smallest group of returning lettermen among the nation's major colleges will report to Texas Tech Coach DeWitt Weaver Sunday.

Only nine lettermen from last fall plus one from 1955 and another from 1954 are scheduled to report. More than half the squad will be sophomores, 27 of 55 candidates.

Five of Tech's positions have no returning lettermen from last season—left end, right guard, right tackle, and both halfbacks.

Weaver, in his seventh season as the Red Raiders' head coach and athletic director, must guide the young team through a rugged schedule involving teams from five conferences.

Tech doesn't compete for the Southwest Conference title until 1960, but the Raiders face three teams most prominently mentioned for championship honors in the SWC this fall—Texas A&M, Baylor and Arkansas. Other games are with West Texas, Texas Western, Arizona, and Hardin-Simmons of the Border Conference, Tulsa of the Missouri Valley, and Louisiana State of the Southeastern, and Oklahoma State University of the Big Eight.

Convict Gets Fast Start On Prison Term

Bobby Doshier, indicted this week by the Howard County Grand Jury for writing worthless checks, pleaded guilty to the charge against him in 118th District Court this morning.

Two hours later he was on his way to Huntsville to begin serving a two-year sentence in the State Penitentiary.

Claude Bohannon, also under worthless check indictment, likewise pleaded guilty today. His punishment was fixed at five years in the state prison. Bohannon was returned to his jail cell here since he must be surrendered to Midland for charges pending against him in that county.

N. Elliott Ford, who pleaded guilty on Thursday to an indictment charging worthless check writing and was sentenced to five years in the state penitentiary, also was taken to Huntsville Friday morning.

Jurors Earn $204 For Hospital Fund

Pete Cook, Wayne Smith, Cliff Fisher, J. V. Gregory, J. H. Greene and B. M. Keese, Big Spring citizens, put in a busy couple of hours Thursday afternoon.

By agreement, these six men served with the understanding that their compensation would be used to provide badly needed air conditioning equipment for the hospital wards.

R. H. Weaver, county judge, said that arrangements have been made with a dealer by which evaporative coolers will be sold to the committee at cost. This will mean, he feels, that two such pieces of equipment can be installed in the institution as a result of the benevolent efforts of these six citizens.

The plan is to continue throughout the year, it was said. Next month, those chosen for jury duty at the lunacy hearing will make the same contribution. Generally, the number of cases is greater than 34—hence the checks turned over to the hospital fund will probably be larger.

Dr. Preston Harrison, acting superintendent, said that the need for this type of equipment at the hospital is serious and that no funds are available from state sources to provide for air conditioning.

Recently four units were installed at the hospital—two being installed from money provided by the Kiwanis Club and two local women's clubs. Two were bought by the state.

Many more are needed, Harrison said, to properly care for the mentally ill persons in the wards.

Regional DAV Meeting Set Here Disabled American Veterans of Big Spring will be hosts for a bi-district meeting to be held at the Settles Hotel tonight.

Eldon Cook, president of the Big Spring DAV chapter, said veterans from Abilene, San Angelo, Midland and Lamesa are expected. R. L. Price, Lamesa, the regional commander, will preside.

Price will stress the importance of getting acquainted with fellow disabled veterans and also will urge the group to push their continuous membership campaigns. All local DAV members are urged to attend, said Cook. Coffee and pie will be served.

Three Juveniles Admit Burglary Three juveniles were apprehended by police officers in connection with the Salvage and Supply Store burglary Thursday.

They later admitted the burglary and took policemen to the lot. Any of it was recovered with the Salvage and Supply Store, 1006 Lamesa, was burglarized Wednesday night and knives, a set of binoculars, a cigarette lighter, and other items were taken.

The three, after arrest today, confessed to the crime and were turned over to the juvenile officer, A. E. Long.

Dental Society Slates Three-Day Meeting In Angelo Several local dentists are expected to attend the annual meeting of the West Texas Dental Society in San Angelo this weekend.

Dr. H. M. Jarratt of Big Spring, president of the society, will preside over the sessions Saturday through Monday. Dentists are due from all of the society's area which extends from Port Worth to El Paso and from Amarillo to the Rio Grande.

Clinician for the technical portions of the program will be Dr. Alfred Lopez of Albuquerque, N. M. He will lecture on "Amalgam. Its Uses and Abuses."

Also on hand will be Dr. Roscoe Tipton of Fort Worth, president of the Texas Dental Society.

Election of officers for the next year will be another highlight of the program. A round of social activities is planned for dentists and their wives.

Police Checking Robbery Report Investigation continues after two Snyder men reported being robbed here Thursday night.

Clinton Cranfill of Snyder told police he was robbed of $350, and Travis Sawyer, also of Snyder, said he lost $10. The money was taken while the two were on the Northside, they told police officers.

Cranfill told police the money consisted of two $100 bills and three $50s. Later, three men were arrested in connection with the case, but no charges have been filed.

3,000 See Opener Of C-City's Rodeo COLORADO CITY — Colorado City's 21st annual Championship Rodeo opened Thursday night before a crowd of about 3,000. Two more performances will close the Jaycee sponsored show.

In the Brahma bull riding event, Dave Hopper of Lubbock placed first with a great ride on one of the tougher bulls brought to Colorado City by Bob Estes and Buster Davis, rodeo producers. Roy Wallace of Midland placed second and Bud Jackson of Pecos third.

Melinda Bartlett of Anson won the first ground in the cowgirls' barrel race with an 18.8. Peggy Sue Jackson of Colorado City was second with 19.4, and Maxine Rogers of Colorado City third with 20.0.

Best times in the steer wrestling contest were 7.1 seconds by Roy Wallace of Midland, 12.4 by Buck McDougal of Big Spring, and 13.0 by Travis Burney of Odesa.

In Mitchell County calf roping, these times were recorded: Lloyd Smith of Colorado City, 16.1 seconds; Joe Neff of Colorado City, 16.5; Keith Neff of Colorado City, 20.7.

Placing in the saddle bronc riding were: First, Dave Hopper; second, Roy Wallace; third, Sam Armstrong of Coahoma.

Toots Mansfield of Big Spring took first in the professional calf roping with a time of 17.9; second was Ervin Owens of Crews, with 22.3; third, Johnny McMullen of Big Lake, 43.0.

In the bareback bronc event, Dave Hopper was first, Tony Gunn of Corpus Christi, second and Gary Garner of Lubbock, third.

In Thursday afternoon's parade, Jayceettes were first with a "This is your life" theme; the Secret Eight Club took second with a float urging caution in driving over the Labor Day weekend; and Brownie Troop 12 took third with a "Horn of Plenty" theme.

Prizes were $75, $50 and $25. Three trophies were given to mounted entries, with Lynn County's Sheriff's Posse taking first place; Fisher County Posse second and Callahan County Posse third.

Levittown, Scene Of Violence, Now Quiet

LEVITTOWN, Pa. (AP) — All is quiet in Dogwood Hollow.

A stranger passing the long rows of neat little ranch style homes wouldn't know this neighborhood from a dozen others clustered along Route 13 some 25 miles northeast of Philadelphia.

He could hardly be aware that this was the scene a fortnight ago of jeering crowds and police lines, vandalism and violence. For more than a week, emotions ran riot after word spread that the first Negro family had bought a home in the Dogwood Hollow section of Levittown.

Things are "back to normal" now. On the surface, at least, there has been a quiet return to normal living.

William and Daisy Myers have been in their new home on Deepgreen Lane for nearly two weeks. He drives to work every day in nearby Trenton, N.J., without incident and Mrs. Myers has been working in the garden, after staying indoors most of the first week. They have frequent callers, both white and Negro. Baby Lynda has been with them since they moved. Two older children, both boys, are still living with friends.

"We are approaching a normal

Uncle Ray: Our Growth Is Under Control Of Pituitary

By RAMON COFMAN

The pituitary gland is a small object of reddish gray color which may remind a person of an oval bean. It is located at the base of the brain, an inch or two behind the eyes.

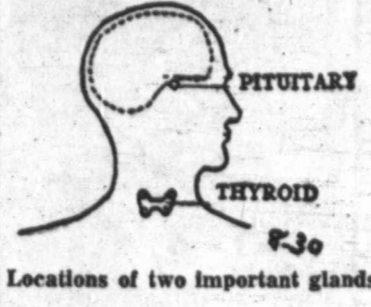

This gland has two main parts, the front and rear. Both are important. The rear part, or posterior lobe, has some control over blood pressure.

More interesting, perhaps, is the front part of the pituitary. This part decides whether a person will be of normal size, or will grow too large and become a "giant." If a child loses the gland, he will fail to reach normal size, unless he is given extracts which replace what he has lost.

Off the coast of Massachusetts is the island known as Martha's Vineyard. That is one of many places where midgets have grown, or failed to grow. Little Lucy Adams reached a height of 43 inches. Her sister Sarah, had a weight of 40 pounds and a height of 40 inches at about the time of her nineteenth birthday.

Both of these young women of Martha's Vineyard had a shortage of hormones from the front parts of their pituitary glands.

A different situation exists when the pituitary becomes too active. Then the growth goes far beyond the average.

Locations of two important glands.

In the case of an adult, one part of his face or another will grow. The jaw, in particular, is likely to become far too large.

If a child or youth has a pituitary gland which works too strongly, he will increase in height at a rapid rate. Recently I saw a photograph of a 14-year-old boy with his father standing beside him. The father appeared to be of normal height, but the top of his head was below the level of the son's shoulders.

Segregationists Urge Pupil Boycott

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Pro-segregationists staged a rally on the campus of a previously all-white school last night and called for a boycott by white students.

Speakers included the Rev. Fred Stroud, who has been associated with Northern segregationist John Kasper, and E. S. Dollar, head of the Davidson County chapter of the Ku Klux Klan.

They urged white parents to keep their children out of schools slated for mixed first-grade classes this fall under the school board's court-approved desegregation plan. Classes start Sept. 9.

The rally, attended by about 250 persons, was held on the grounds of Buena Vista school, where three Negro 6-year-olds were enrolled Tuesday.

Thirteen Negro first-graders registered without incident at five previously all-white schools, and a 6-year-old white girl enrolled at a previously all-Negro school.

The father of the white child, Charles W. Sanders, said he would ask the school board to transfer his daughter. The child was enrolled at the school, he said, in the belief that other white first-graders would register.

School Supt. W. A. Bass said he asked police to stop last night's rally on school property and that he was disappointed they had not done so.

Police Chief D. E. Hosse said he let the meeting continue because it was orderly and "they were not damaging school property."

Punching Bag

DETROIT (AP)—Mrs. Nadine Patch has asked for a divorce from her husband, Everett, saying he strikes her so often she feels like "a human punching bag."

Asthma and Hay Fever Relief Comes in Minutes ... and Lasts For Hours

Tiny Tablet Now Available Without Prescription!

New York, N. Y. (Special)—Medical Science has developed a new, tiny tablet that not only stops asthma spasms, but brings relief to those who suffer from hay fever attacks.

Authoritative tests proved this remarkable compound brings relief in minutes—and gives hours of freedom from recurrence of painful spasms.

This fast-acting formula is prescribed by doctors for their private patients who suffer from asthma or hay fever. And now sufferers can obtain this formula—without prescription—in tiny, easy-to-take tablets called Primatens.

Primatens opens bronchial tubes, loosens mucous congestion, relieves taut nervous tension, helps dry up nasal passages. All this without taking painful injections and without the inconvenience of nebulizers.

The secret is—Primatens combines 3 medicines (in full prescription strength) found most effective in combination for asthma and hay fever distress.

So look forward to sleep at night and freedom from asthma or hay fever spasms... get Primatens, at any drugstore. Only 98¢—money-back guarantee.

Witness Says Rape Victim Deliberately Exposed Herself

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP)—A German girl deliberately swam nude to a spot where U.S. airmen were drinking beer.

Four of the airmen, including a Texan, are charged with raping the girl.

Heinrich Heimrote, 18, of Offenbach said he and Mrs. Liselotte Burduss of Frankfurt were swimming in the nude in a water-filled pit across from more than a dozen airmen. He told a U.S. Air Force court-martial she deliberately swam to where the airmen were.

Charged in the case are Airman 2.C. Lee Burnes, 20, of Bedford, Tex.; Airman 3.C. Richard Kemple, 19, St. George, Utah; Airman 2.C. David Hearle, 20, Newark, N.Y.; and Airman Donald Harrington, 20, Farmington, Mo. All have denied the charges.

Vote Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—Texas Sens. Johnson and Yarborough joined 21 other Democrats in voting for final passage of the compromise civil rights bill. The measure was passed 60-15.

National Commendation

John Blystone, director of the Office of Special Investigation at Webb, presents a certificate of merit to Chief of Police C. L. Rogers, center, from the National Police Officers' Association. Looking on is H. W. Whitney, city manager. Blystone, who is also vice-chairman of the awards committee of the NPOA, presented Rogers' name for the recognition about a month ago. The certificate is for outstanding service in law enforcement and principally for his extensive police school program for the local police department. Rogers has been police chief here about a year and a half and was a shift captain prior to being named chief.

Ex-Big Springer Is Elected To Board Of Lamesa C Of C

LAMESA—LeRoy Olsak, formerly of Big Spring and now manager of the Texas Electric Service Company facilities here, is one of the new directors to be installed by the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce Oct. 1.

Others to take places on the Lamesa C-C board are Doyle Hankins, Tom Branon and Bill Beeson. In addition, four new directors will be named by the Lamesa City Council at its next meeting.

Election of the directors was announced at the board meeting Wednesday. Walter Buckel, Chamber president, appointed Henry Norris to serve as chairman of the office nominating committee. Others on the panel are Stansell

Clement, Clyde Branon and E. D. David.

The new officers will be chosen in time for installation at the annual Chamber banquet, to be held in Lamar Forrest Community Center Oct. 21.

Dr. Sterling L. Price, pastor of the University Baptist Church in Abilene, is to be the guest speaker for the banquet. A noted humorist, Dr. Price is one of the best known speakers in West Texas.

The directors also heard a report from the chairman of the retailers committee, Roy Speck, in regard to a study completed on solicitations here. The findings of the subcommittee studying the matter will be presented to the Retailers Committee. A policy is expected to develop at the meeting.

Howard Allen, chairman of the Civic Development Committee, reported that the Building Code subcommittee had recommended that the Chamber present a building code, patterned after the 1955 National Building Code, Abbreviated Form, to the Lamesa City Council for adoption.

The chairman of the Industrial Committee, LeRoy Olsak reported to the directors that the Texas Employment Commission had agreed to make a labor market survey here sometime in September.

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Oil completions totaled 114 this week in Oklahoma, a loss of 11 compared with last week's figures, according to Research Oil reports today.

Fred Overtons Assume Duties With SA Here

Lt. and Mrs. Fred Overton arrived in Big Spring Thursday to assume their new posts as head of the local Salvation Army organization.

They and their three sons moved here from Sherman where they have been assigned since 1954.

The Overtons succeed Capt. and Mrs. Dexter Breazeale, who have been transferred to Waco. The Breazeales left Big Spring Tuesday after about two years in the local post.

Lt. Overton has been in Salvation Army work since June of 1950. He is a member of the Lions Club and is a 32nd degree Mason.

In Big Spring, Overton is expected to serve also as Howard County parole officer, a position held by his predecessor.

Lt. and Mrs. Overton were busy today surveying their new responsibilities and making plans to get their work started. He said one of their first undertakings will be efforts to get the Salvation Army playground on West 6th in operating condition.

The couple and their sons, Tommy, 8, Freddie, 5, and Jimmy, 3 months, are establishing their home in the residence adjacent to the Dora Roberts Citadel, 600 W. 4th.

Salvation Army Leaders

Lt. and Mrs. Fred Overton, above, have arrived in Big Spring to take over leadership of the local Salvation Army citadel. The couple moved here from Sherman where they have been stationed for the past three years. They have been in Salvation Army work since 1950. The Overtons succeed Capt. and Mrs. Dexter Breazeale in the Big Spring post.

A Bible Thought For Today

For Ezra had prepared his heart to seek the law of the LORD, and to do it, and to teach in Israel statutes and judgments. (Ezra 7:10)

Law Observance In School Zones

It's that time of year to make a new resolve to be more alert than ever in city driving particularly in the school zones.

Your youngsters will be out in full force next week, a lot thicker on the major thoroughfares than they have been through the summer, and congregating in the areas around the classroom building.

And they're not always as thoughtful, when at play during recess, lunch and dismissal hours, as they might be. The burden for complete safety is upon the person behind the wheel of the cars.

It is gratifying to note that another traffic signal is being added in the Junior High area, and that some of the parking congestion is being removed there. We think the one-way traffic idea on 10th street might have been effective, too, but possibly this could create worse congestion at the extremes of this one-way zone.

At any rate, the Citizens Traffic Commission, the City Commission, school authorities and the police will be doing what they can to remove the traffic hazards near the schools.

We hope strict police surveillance will be initiated around the schools from the very start of the term, and will be continued. There's not much excuse for any driver to be flaunting the speed restrictions in school zones during school hours.

The congestion is bad around most of our schools, possibly will be worse this year than ever before. Some hard-headed law enforcement is called for, and even more, some sane law observance is a necessity.

Let's have a clean mark this school year with our traffic record. It's up to every individual who drives a car.

Go To The Voters To Get The Vote

There was this fellow—Bill Proxmire, his name—running for the Senate in Wisconsin, and he didn't have a chance. For one thing, he was a Democrat running in a state which hadn't elected a Democrat to the U. S. Senate in 25 years. For another, he was running against an Eisenhower Republican, ex-Governor Kohler, who had defeated him in two previous elections for the governorship.

But when the ballots were counted this week William Proxmire was the Senator-elect to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator McCarthy. And since then, the news wires have been heavy with opinion from the experts that this indicated the voters everywhere were repudiating President Eisenhower.

This is pretty hard to substantiate in full. An important point is that Bill Proxmire must have been the busiest, the hand-shaking candidate to cross Wisconsin in many a year. You have to admire the vigor of his campaign, and you must note that it is shown again that the one way to get the vote is to go straight to the voter.

Underdog Mr. Truman remembered that in 1948 and shoo-in Mr. Dewey forgot it and Mr. Truman registered his memorable upset. Underdog Proxmire remembered it and there was this upset. Perhaps it will be a reminder to a lot of candidates in 1958.

And there is another reminder in the Wisconsin returns. It is that voters sometimes defeat long-successful candidates and parties just because they feel political power should not remain overly long with any group or individual.

This "time for a change" mood of the voters is something that a party in power has a hard time doing anything about. The smartest politician of record has never yet come up with the answer, except that he knows that the voters remain constant in being inconstant.

Joint Action In Suspending Atom Tests

WASHINGTON —Memories are short—or at least some of the Democratic party's politicians in the Senate evidently think so. For three Democratic senators in the last few days have made public statements trying to tell the American people that President Eisenhower's current proposals at the London disarmament conference to suspend nuclear tests are the very ones Adlai Stevenson had suggested and for which the Democratic presidential nominee had been criticized in the 1956 campaign.

The official record shows nothing of the kind. It does show that Adlai Stevenson was willing, if elected President, to suspend nuclear tests without any agreement that Soviet Russia would do likewise. It shows also that the United States has consistently proposed that nuclear tests be suspended only if an agreement with Soviet Russia is reached on other phases of the reduction in armaments. The White House on October 23, 1956, gave out the complete record which said in part:

"On November 11, 1955, at the Geneva foreign ministers conference, Secretary Dulles stated that 'if agreement can be reached to eliminate or limit nuclear weapons under proper safeguards, the United States would be prepared to agree to corresponding restrictions on the testing of such weapons.'

"On December 24, 1955, Pope Pius XII, in a Christmas broadcast, declared that the three steps of 'renunciation of experimentation with atomic weapons, renunciation of the use of such, and general control of armaments' must be effected together."

"At the London meetings of the disarmament subcommittee, the U. S. delegation on April 3, 1956, put forward a working paper suggesting a step-by-step plan for a first phase of a comprehensive disarmament program including limitation on conventional armaments, provision against surprise attack, including President Eisenhower's proposals for control of the nuclear threat, and limitations on the testing of nuclear weapons as part of a safeguarded disarmament program. The paper included a proviso that 'the testing of nuclear weapons will be limited and monitored in an agreed manner' by an armaments-regulation council which the U. S. proposed should be established. This proposal was not accepted by the U.S.S.R."

Notwithstanding these facts, which had been widely published at the time each event occurred, Adlai Stevenson said in a speech on April 21, 1956, to the American Society of Newspaper Editors in Washington that the United States "should give prompt and earnest consideration to stopping further tests of the hydrogen bomb," and then added:

"Of course, I would call upon other nations to follow our lead, and if they don't, and persist in further tests, we will know about it and we can reconsider our policy."

Two days later Sen. Kefauver of Tennessee—who is one of those senators now lamenting the attacks on Mr. Stevenson—in a public statement:

"I think that anything we do along that line should be reciprocal. I wouldn't want this country to stop testing if they (the Russians) are going to keep on testing."

When the issue arose again in the campaign in the autumn of 1956, President Eisenhower on September 18 said:

"We cannot proceed wise and strong by any such simple device as suspending unilaterally our H-bomb tests."

There's a vast difference between a proposal for "unilateral" or one-sided suspension of nuclear tests and an agreement worked out between the major powers such as the United States has been seeking to obtain under Democratic as well as Republican administrations from 1946 on.

Even as late as Oct. 23, 1956, Mr. Stevenson, however, was saying:

"It is for these reasons that I proposed long before this campaign that we take the lead in curbing this ghastly killer. . . . 'Yet the hard scientific fact seems to be that we can safely stop hydrogen explosions without inspection, because, if Russia or anyone else should violate an agreement and explode a big bomb, we would immediately detect it.'"

There has been a palpable misrepresentation of the American position in Soviet Russia, which is to be expected. But the making of a partisan issue out of the difficult and delicate question of controlling atomic warfare is a regrettable development inside this country. Even Pope Pius—who has never proposed a "unilateral" suspension of tests but has taken a position in accord with that of the Western powers—has been continuously misrepresented as having once recommended the very plan which later was advocated by Mr. Stevenson.

It is a good thing the White House did make public the complete record of the American government's many proposals and that the negative response they received from the Soviets. For the record is unequivocal and convincing that the United States has sought throughout by every means—long before the 1958 campaign—to obtain a limitation of atomic tests and armament only under safeguarded agreements.

Stumbling Block For Civil Rights

WASHINGTON — First stumbling block for the Eisenhower administration—as soon as the civil rights bill becomes law—is in setting up the commission to study civil rights problems.

The bill calls for the President to appoint a six-man bipartisan commission to do that. Commission members are subject to approval by the Senate.

The commission also will need money to operate.

But Congress was expected to adjourn today. So it will have no time at this session to vote the money or approve the commission members, who won't be named until after President Eisenhower signs the bill. Congress won't be able to act on these matters until it returns in January.

That could mean a delay of months in getting the commission set up and working.

Eisenhower could appoint an interim commission—to get it started fast—and then hope his selection of the six men would get Senate approval. But he probably won't.

And no doubt he could provide money for its operations — until Congress gets around to voting money for it next year—out of special presidential funds. He probably won't.

For one thing, Eisenhower has to look around for prospective commission members who will draw a minimum of opposition when it comes time for Senate consideration of their nominations. Senate Southerners will certainly scrutinize Eisenhower's selections carefully.

Even then — since they're opposed to the civil rights bill anyway — the Southerners may do their best to block his nominees, no matter who they are, to delay as long as possible start of the commission's work.

If Eisenhower did set up an interim commission, it would certainly anger the Southerners. And it could antagonize other senators. They might feel he tried to take advantage of Congress' absence to get the commission into motion.

Ed Wynn's New Stardom

SCHROON LAKE, N.Y. — Nearing 71, Ed Wynn, a gentle titan of the show world for two generations, can still stand on the first step of a flight of stairs and bend down and touch the ground.

And his mind remains as flexible as his body and his marvelously mobile face.

Next month the American Theater Wing will pay tribute to "The Perfect Fool" in a 90-minute television show honoring his 55 years as an entertainer.

But Ed, a performer who has done everything in his fabulous career except be shot out of a cannon, is even more excited by his new rise to stardom (after many said he was through) as a dramatic actor. He plays Uncle Samson in "Marjorie Morningstar," a film now being shot here at Schroon Manor, an Adirondacks resort hotel.

Natalie Wood and Gene Kelly are also starred, but Ed, once called "one of the nine most charming people in the world," is the top favorite with the resort guests.

"People still come up and talk to me, even the kids, and I like that," he said. "I think that, along with a swelled head, as we used to call it—is one of the greatest dangers to youngsters who achieve a quick success."

"The actor, if he wants to stay successful, has to marry the public—and stay married. Getting to the top is one thing; staying at the pinnacle is the real difficulty."

"But many of the kids today feel they don't need help, and have nothing to learn."

"The great artists of the past often didn't have enough to eat. I've turned out a hundred songs, and I wrote the book, music and lyrics for three of my 18 Broadway shows. But the greatest performer of my lifetime was George M. Cohan. He had versatility. . . . He could do anything."

"I always felt it was my mission in this world to make people laugh. . . . I never pined to be Hamlet. Yet here I am at my age starting a whole new career—drama instead of comedy."

"Why do I go on? Because I do love the theater. I'd rather drop dead on a stage before a laughing audience than die in bed with my relatives around me crying."

"My son, Keenan, tells everybody I've got a million dollars. I wonder what he will say when he finds out all I'm leaving him is a lot of old jokes!"

Quit Reading Trashy Magazines

The trial of "Confidential" magazine on criminal libel and conspiracy charges seems to have raised the question in many people's minds about whether laws should be passed against the muckrakers of the press.

Most newsmen, including this one, do not hold a brief for Confidential or its imitators—these magazines indulge in matters of filth as their selling point to a public which has no moral or legal interest in what celebrities do with their private lives. That is none of our business.

But the problems raised by Confidential cannot be solved by passing laws prohibiting their publication or sale. They will be published as long as there is a market, and it is estimated there are some five million readers of such magazines in the U. S. today. Probably more, as a result of the trial. Scandal magazines will be stopped only when people stop buying them.

Passage of restrictive laws might well restrict freedom of the press for everyone, including honest and legitimate newspapers and magazines. For, after all, where do we draw the line between muckraking and permissible expose by the press. If judgment shown by censorship boards set up by various communities is to be any criterion, we are asking for trouble in trying to pass a law.

Confidential was tried on existing criminal libel laws, which have proved to be both just and constitutional. Let's not chuck these away for an untried and dangerous censorship.

There is also some discussion as to what to "do" about the so-called men's magazines. Police in some cities have raided newsstands, destroyed the magazines in question and fined the newsstand operators. This is dangerous, for, where do we draw the line between the merely risqué and the pornographic. There's hardly one respectable magazine of national circulation that hasn't been banned somewhere besides in Boston. These include Life and Reader's Digest.

Censors seem to operate on the theory of improving the public print when it's the human race that needs improving.

I recently made a thorough survey of men's magazines. Here are the results: At the top of the list are a few slick-paper publications that are like the old Esquire—risqué in places, but not dirty, and concentrating on other subjects of interest to men besides sex.

At the other end of the pole are several magazines overflowing with pictures of lightly-clad women. Some of the photos are downright pornographic. Most of the articles and fiction deal directly with sex. There was an article by an unidentified woman describing in detail the best ways to seduction, recounting the methods that had worked for her. Another article propounded the theory, supported by "scientific" evidence, that an occasional mutual adultery will keep a marriage from going on the rocks, and gave detailed instructions on how a married couple may "get the most" out of wife-swapping.

And there are men's magazines that are somewhere in between the risqué and the pornographic.

So what's to be done? We're playing with fire to pass laws restricting the freedom of the press. The only way to clean up our reading matter is to stop reading trashy magazines and novels.

It's Not Asiatic Flu, It's Germ Warfare

Have you heard the latest Charles Addams theory about Asiatic flu?

In the past few days I have been told in strictest confidence by three persons with self-confessed pipelines to the highest level (probably the Washington Monument) of the nation's capital that Asiatic flu just ain't.

According to my informants, what we poor dupes have been taught to label Asiatic flu is, in reality, a dry run on germ warfare. Someone out there is conducting a test to see how effective biological warfare is in laying out whole populations in windrows.

If everybody is in bed for days with a thermometer in his mouth, maybe the enemy won't have to use hydrogen bombs. He'll just walk in and take over while the rest of us are taking our pulse. It wouldn't be so messy, either, and there be less decontamination and rebuilding to do.

The first time I heard this rumor, my hair started to uncurl, my stomach to knot and my backbone to congeal.

"Who's doing this?" I cried. "The United States, Russia, China or Fu Manchuria?"

In each instant, my informant merely looked more and more mysterious and insisted that his unimpeachable source refused to say.

"But it's on the level," each has insisted, pointing out, as proof positive, President Eisenhower's statement that he would be vaccinated against the flu's ravages as soon as vaccine was available. This already has been done.

"He's never before mentioned vaccination in public," these whisperers cite as their clincher.

So now you know. But my hair, stomach and backbone are back to normal. Because I KNOW who's responsible. It's those nasty little men from Mars who keep debombing us in flying saucers.

Another important development in national affairs is the new trend in office mottoes. My favorite until recently has been the sterling admonition to "THINK," (cq), which so many of us seem to be doing.

But a far-reaching development above and beyond "THINK" has just been called to my attention. An efficiency engineer of my acquaintance was recently called in to straighten out some kinks in a factory. When he entered his new office, he found above his desk a motto on which the pound was not yet dry. It read "Men with vast plans for the future should not start out with half vast ideas."

And finally, the latest word on "My Fair Lady." At a recent matinee of this Broadway show, two middle-aged women were seated on either side of, surprisingly enough, a vacant seat. During the intermission, Mrs. A turned to Mrs. B and said that just 10 months ago to the day she had written in for tickets to the musical.

Mrs. B replied that she and her husband had written in at least that long ago for their tickets. But she added, her husband had died in the interim and hence the vacant seat.

"But couldn't you have gotten a friend to come with you?" asked Mrs. A, sympathetically.

Mrs. B shook her head in the negative and said, "No, they're all at the funeral." (Copyright, 1957, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Mr. Dulles Would Control The News

It may be that Mr. Dulles is, as he says, now willing to let a limited group of American correspondents go to Red China for a trial period of six months. Yet, it is fair to say that he would not be inconsolable if they did not go. For in making his offer he attached to it the one condition most likely to provoke Red China into refusing to admit the American correspondents.

He will allow 24 American correspondents representing leading newspapers, news magazines, and broadcasting companies to go to Red China. But no Chinese newspapermen are to come to the United States. So, unless Red China swallows her pride and acknowledges to the world that the United States is entitled to preferential treatment, the American correspondents will not be able to go to Red China. But then, as Mr. Dulles may conceivably have foreseen, he can argue that it is the Red Chinese and not he who prevent the American press from gathering news on the Chinese mainland. He can even be disappointed and indignant at these totalitarianists who do not believe in freedom of the press.

Whether or not the Dulles proposal is actually put into effect, or was meant to be, the statement issued by the Department of State last Thursday must be challenged. The terms of this proposal affirm, and if acquiesced in, would establish a precedent a new and hitherto entirely un-American conception of the right and duty of the press. Mr. Dulles is making the claim that outside the three-mile limit he may treat the press as an instrument of foreign policy, and that the American press in foreign countries is subject to the paramount control of the Secretary of State.

This claim to power is contained in the text of the statement. Having reminded us that it has been the policy of the Secretary of State not to authorize—in fact, not to permit—American newspapermen to go, even at their own risk, to the Chinese mainland, Mr. Dulles goes on to say that he has changed his mind. He now finds it "desirable that additional information be made available to the American people respecting current conditions in China."

Now, by what right, and on what principle, does he claim to have the power to decide how much information it is "desirable" for the American people to have? We have here the unprecedented and impertinent assertion that the right to turn off and the right to turn on the tap of news is one of the prerogatives of the Secretary of State.

This is followed by a truly remarkable declaration, one which will have to be examined thoroughly by all who are concerned with the security and the integrity of the American press. "The Secretary of the State has accordingly determined that it may prove consistent with the foreign policy of the United States that there be travel by a limited number of American news reporters to the mainland of China." This, I submit, is a usurpation of power which has never before been vested in the Secretary of State—the power to determine whether, when, where and under what conditions, the American press may gather and report news in foreign countries.

Surely, in the American way of life it is for the editors to determine whether, when and where news is available that should be reported, and it is entirely impossible to accept the principle that Mr. Dulles, Mr. Walter Robertson, and Mr. Berding have any right or power to regulate the reporting of news. They can warn news men that it may be dangerous to go to a place like Red China, and that the Department of State cannot help them if they get into trouble. But if the editor and the reporter accept the risk, it is not for the Department of State to decide whether it likes or it does not like to have them go.

The essential difference between a free press and a totalitarian press lies exactly here: That in a free country the press is not an instrument of the government's policy. It is an independent instrument to enable the people to understand and to judge policy, to help them make or to help them unmake policy. (Copyright, 1957, New York Herald Tribune, Inc.)

Syria Pro-Red Moves Spike Refugee Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Syria's pro-Soviet moves have virtually killed the West's faint hopes of developing a new plan this year for permanent settlement of the nine-year-old Arab refugee problem.

Western diplomats have concluded that consideration of any such plan now would be useless because Syria's leftist leaders, in their present mood, would almost certainly refuse to cooperate.

The plight of some 900,000 refugees, a product of the 1948 Palestine war, is to be discussed at the United Nations General Assembly session in New York next month. The refugees are being cared for in makeshift emergency camps, mainly in Egypt, Jordan and Syria.

A serious shortage of money already is complicating the problem. Unless more U.N. countries contribute, present funds to operate the camps will run out by January, these officials said.

The decision to postpone a permanent solution to the refugee problem is a disappointment for many State Department officials who view that problem as a major roadblock to Mid-East peace.

Earlier in the year, some officials were fairly optimistic that some new international plan could be worked out to find permanent homes for the refugees. This view was based on a feeling that Jordan, Iraq, Lebanon and Saudi Arabia might adopt a more reasonable attitude.

Informal soundings during the past few months showed, however, that Egypt's President Nasser gave no sign of wanting to solve the problem. Israeli authorities, who have consistently refused to allow the refugees to return, also stood firm in their attitude.

Scientists Set Off Atomic Device In Nevada Desert

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP)—Scientists detonated an atomic device 750 feet above the Nevada desert today in what was termed a "pure test for scientific purposes."

It flashed across the sky at 5:40 a. m. with an orange-pink fireball which lasted for only half a dozen seconds.

The shot was scheduled when unfavorable winds forced postponement of a bigger blast. "Smoky, which is to include elaborate military maneuvers. No maneuvers were conducted in connection with today's shot—which was the 14th in the Atomic Energy Commission's current test series. There were 19 experiments connected with it.

It was detonated from a balloon anchored above the AEC's Yucca Flat test center. The AEC said that it was subnominal in power. Nominal is the equivalent to 20,000 tons of TNT—or 20 kilotons. The flash from the device was clearly seen at Las Vegas, more than 70 miles to the southeast. Newsmen were not allowed to witness the shot from the test site. They watched from an off-site mountain peak.

The contrasting weather pattern of the past several days showed little change today—cool along the northern tier of states and warm and humid across the Southern states.

Harriman Interested In Negro Writer's 'Slave' Testimony

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A spokesman for Gov. Averell Harriman declared today that state agencies would welcome testimony by a Georgia writer who charged that he and other Negroes were mistreated at a camp for migrant farm labor in upstate New York.

But Charles Van Devander, Harriman's press secretary, said he had no idea how funds could be obtained to bring James H. Brunson to New York State. Van Devander promised that all of Brunson's accusations would be investigated.

Brunson asserted in Augusta, Ga., Wednesday that itinerant workers were beaten, cheated and held in virtual peonage by white bosses at a camp near Hannibal, Oswego County. Yesterday, he offered to testify under oath before Harriman's investigative groups or appear before a grand jury in New York State.

Brunson said he would have to be subpoenaed because he lacked funds for the trip. Van Devander said he did not believe the agencies conducting the governor's inquiry had the power of subpoena.

The State Labor Department began an investigation of Brunson's charges yesterday but ran into trouble in its first efforts to locate the camp. It said that a name and address he gave for it did not establish immediate, positive identification.

Brunson told the Augusta Chronicle that unmarried Negro women were forced to submit sexually to other Negro workers, that living quarters were rooms 3 by 10 feet shared by four persons regardless of sex and that some Negroes were paid as little as $5.49 for a 72-hour week.

Daniel A. Daley, chief labor department investigator, ordered members of his staff to check camps in Oswego County. Daley said, however, that there was no law setting minimum pay for farm workers.

Daley said slow workers paid on a piecework basis might earn very little. Brunson, who identified himself as a writer and a college graduate, said he was lured north by the promises of a Negro work contractor.

Originally, Brunson had said he was an independent member of the National Assn., for the Advancement of Colored People. But last night he told the Augusta newspaper he meant by that that he was not a card-carrying member of the NAACP and "even opposed most of its policies."

However, Brunson made complaints similar to those raised by the NAACP. He said that none of the workers was paid for at least a month and that their pay was reduced considerably by having to pay what he termed exorbitant prices for credit purchases at the camp commissary.

Herbert C. Hill, NAACP labor secretary, had asserted earlier that workers in some camps were forced to pay as much as 50 cents a pack for cigarettes and 40 cents for a loaf of bread.

Harriman Wednesday ordered two state committees to conduct the inquiry and report directly to him.

When your child's eyes are examined at Texas State Optical...

"If You Are Interested in Your Child's Eyes — READ THIS!"

by Dr. N. Jay Rogers, Optometrist and Director of TSO

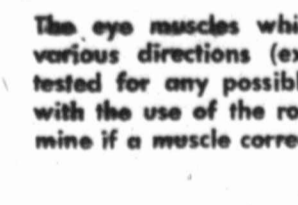

1 The nerves, blood vessels and interior of the eyes are examined with the ophthalmoscope for any disease or defects. If any disease or defect exists, it will be diagnosed by the experienced Doctor of Optometry.

2 The cornea or front of the eye is measured with the ophthalmometer to determine if any astigmatism is present.

3 The retinoscope is used to determine the amount of myopia (nearsightedness) or hyperopia (farsightedness) that is present; and also to determine the tonicity of the intrinsic muscles (ciliary muscles) of the eyes.

4 The eye muscles which turn the eyes in various directions (extrinsic muscles) are tested for any possible muscle imbalance with the use of the rotary prism, to determine if a muscle correction is needed.

If glasses are NOT NEEDED, you pay only a nominal charge for the examination.

Church Of God Youth To Begin Three-Day Convention Saturday

Saturday at 4 p.m. will begin activities for the Texas State Youth Convention of the Churches of God. The program will be held at the local First Church of God. Over 100 young people from all over Texas are expected for the three-day meeting.

The special speaker for the convention will be the Rev. Bill Ellis, Anderson, Ind. Rev. Ellis, a youth evangelist, is also the vice president of the International Youth Fellowship. For the past year he was a missionary to Panama.

Theme for the convention is "Total Commitment to Christlikeness."

To be on hand as president of the Youth Convention is Eddie Hickson, a former resident of Big Spring, now of Arlington.

Registration will be held at 4 p.m. Saturday followed by a supper at 5 p.m. At 7:30 p.m. the first general meeting will be held with a message from Rev. Ellis.

Sunday morning at 9 o'clock a communion service will be held and at 9:45 a.m. a conference period will be held.

Speakers during the conference period will be Juanita Hager, the Rev. Frank Couvrisier and Ruth Kirs, associated with Gulf Coast Bible College in Houston.

Another mass meeting will be held Sunday at 10:45 a.m. with the Rev. W. R. Hutchings, pastor of the local First Church of God, as chairman. Rev. Ellis will speak on "Christianity In Action."

Dinner will be served at 12:15 p.m. with a profit sharing meeting at 1:45 p.m.

The general meeting Sunday at 7:30 p.m. will hear Rev. Ellis speaking on "My Commitment."

Activities Monday will be held at 8 a.m., 8:15 a.m., 9 a.m., 9:30 a.m. and at the 10:45 a.m. meeting new state officers will be elected. The convention will close with the dinner planned at noon Monday.

Baptist

At the Phillips Memorial Baptist Church Sunday morning the Rev. D. R. Philleary will be speaking on "A Condescending God."

Revival services will begin Sunday evening with Larry Taylor, San Antonio, as the evangelist. Leading the singing during the revival will be Charles Altimore, a graduate of Baylor University.

The revival will run for one week with services daily at 10:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. The nursery will be open for all services.

Sand Springs Woman Praises Sleeping Formula

I have been troubled for years with being unable to sleep. I was afraid to take anything as I thought it might make a dope addict of me. I have spent night after night that I could not sleep. Of course I was nervous, because of ill health and needed an operation.

Tranq-Wal was recommended to me as being safe, not habit forming, and not a barbiturate or narcotic. I bought a box, asked a doctor about it, if it would be harmful to me. After he advised me that it would not, I took a bottle of them. I will say that I have not had anything to help me as they did. I take one thirty minutes before bedtime and sleep all night. I have to set the alarm now. When I wake up I am fresh and feel good during my work all day and maybe I won't have to have an operation. I give this letter with my own free will and was not paid to write it.

Josiah, Statesman-Reformer

HE WALKED IN THE WAY OF THE LORD

Scripture—II Kings 22:1-23:30; II Chronicles 34-35.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL FROM Amos' stern warnings of disasters to come to his people, we turn to a different type of man, but one who, like Amos, was a noble character who "did that which was right in the sight of the Lord."

To understand the condition of Israel when a small boy named Josiah came to the throne we should recall the reign of Manasseh, who ruled for over 50 years and left the country in the lowest depths of immorality. He was succeeded by his son Amon, who followed in his father's footsteps and was slain by his servants in the second year of his regime. The lesson opens with the words, "Josiah was eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned thirty and one years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Jedidah. Josiah must have been a fine mother who believed in the Lord, worshipped Him

A Hymn Is Born

BY CLINT BONNER

The Angels Are Singing Unto Me

Stephen Foster turns hymn-writer

The grocery man knew the frail man in shabby clothes and old glazed cap was sick and didn't have money to buy fuel to heat his room on Elizabeth Street, so he didn't mind when the lonely man came over to sit in the back of his store and write songs on wrapping paper. Such was the plight of Stephen Foster, the self-taught composer whose folk songs have tugged at the heartstrings of three generations.

Stephen Foster, whose father was mayor of Allegheny, Pa., whose father-in-law was a Pittsburgh physician, whose brothers were merchant, lawyer and vice president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and whose sister married a brother of President James Buchanan.

Starting with the sale of "O, Susanna" for $100 at the age of 22, in 1848, Foster turned out an unbroken chain of hits. He hit his stride at 25 with "Old Folks at Home" and at 26 came out with "Massa in the Cold, Cold Ground." At 27 he almost died from smoking black cigars on a river trip to New Orleans but was nursed back to health in Pittsburgh where he wrote "My Old Kentucky Home." At 28 he was drinking as freely as he spent his royalties and his Methodist wife left him. Alone in New York he wrote "I Dream of Jeannie with the Light Brown Hair." And, remembering a promise to an old Negro handy man who had helped raise Jeannie, Foster wrote another masterpiece and called it "Old Black Joe." Jeannie followed her wandering husband to the big city and tried to live with him but in 1860 she gave up, took their small daughter back to Pittsburgh and a little Scotchman named Andrew Carnegie gave her a job as telegraph operator for the Pennsylvania Railroad.

At 35 Stephen Foster sold rights to all his songs, was in debt $1,500 to his publishers, and living alone in flop houses. In an effort to come back, he teamed up with George Cooper of theater and "Sweet Genevieve" fame and wrote and drank harder than ever. At 37 he passed the 200 mark, was drinking his income and dodging relatives and Pious Publisher Horace Waters who tried to help and encourage him to write hymns for his "Golden Harp for Sunday Schools."

On Jan. 12, 1864, George Cooper found Foster burning with fever and bleeding on a floor at 14 Bowery. Apparently the composer had tried to drink water from a glass pitcher on which he had fallen. Receiving Cooper's telegram, Morrison Foster and Jeannie with the light brown hair caught the next train. When they arrived at New York's Bellevue Hospital Stephen Foster was dead. In his pocket was 38 cents and a little piece of wrapping paper like you find in a grocery store on which were written five words: They didn't know whether he had tried to leave a dying note or had scribbled the title for a new song. Through blurred eyes the brother and wife read, "Dear friends and gentle hearts." Of 28 church hymns Stephen Foster wrote, one of them reads:

Two Scholarships To HCJC Will Be Given By Members Of AAUW

Members of the AAUW will give two scholarships to Howard County Junior College, it has been announced. The decision was made at a meeting Thursday evening in the home of Elizabeth Daniel.

Recipients of the scholarships will be Frankie Bedell, who was an honor graduate of Forsan High School this year, and Ann Porterfield of Post, a sophomore student at HCJC.

Neil Brown volunteered to serve as chairman of the party to be given by the group at the State Hospital in September. The affair will be a dance, and she will be assisted in the arrangements by Mrs. Franklin McDonald and Mrs. J. W. Fulks.

Miss Underwood Is Bride Of Jerry Dwayne Overman

COLORADO CITY—Double ring vows, read Sunday in the Oak Street Baptist Church here by the Rev. James O. Smith, pastor of the China Grove Baptist Church, united Sandra Sue Underwood and Jerry Dwayne Overman in marriage.

The bride is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. C. B. Underwood of Colorado City, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Overman of Snyder.

Rites were read before an altar banked with emerald foliage and decorated with three tall baskets of white gladioli. Pews were marked with white satin bows. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white ballerina lined dress. The Chantilly lace bodice was fashioned with low rounded neckline, cap sleeves and lace-covered buttons on front to the sheer chiffon cummerbund. She wore a crystal necklace and ear clips, a wedding gift from the groom, and carried a bouquet of Cymbidium orchids with white satin streamers atop a white Bible.

Sherlon Tipton of Colorado City was her maid of honor. Eldon Fowler of Snyder was best man. Ushers were Milton Stephens, Snyder and Jimmy Underwood, twin brother of the bride. Joann Merket of Hermleigh played traditional wedding marches and accompanied Joe Ed Underwood, brother of the bride, who sang, "Whither Thou Goest," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Judy and Jan Shotwell, nieces of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Crocker of Big Spring, returned to their home in Fort Worth today, ending a week's visit with the Crockers.

Immediate members of the families attended the wedding ceremony.

French Designer Will Receive N - M Award At Fashion Show

Chanel—a legend in her own time—will receive the 1957 Neiman-Marcus Fashion Award. She is this year's only recipient—something which has happened only once before in the history of the awards.

She will fly from Paris to Dallas—her first trip to Texas and her first to America in six years—to receive her gold plaque during the 20th annual Neiman-Marcus Fashion Exposition, September 9th and 10th, at the Statler-Hilton Hotel.

Gabrielle (Coco) Chanel becomes the second person to receive a solitary award in a given year. Adrian received one in 1943. The award underlines the lifelong influence she has had on fashion and dramatizes her return to the design world in 1954 after a 15-year lapse.

Chanel practically invented jersey. She brought to the world the triangular scarf, the pleated skirt, the sweater line, colored gloves for night parties, shawls, cloches, and a famous scent in a famous bottle, Chanel No. 5. In a way, she emancipated womanhood, for she eased the silhouette, suppressed corsets and made hair and skirts shorter.

Chanel—ageless—is small, dark and her eyes remind one of a gypsy. She was born in the country at Augvergne, France. She first started as a milliner in Deauville in 1914. Later she moved to Paris and fame.

Chanel looks and dresses today as she did before the war. Her white house is still formal and baroque, lined with white satin and filled with heavily scented flowers. The first-floor salons have walls paneled with mirrors and are decorated with Coromandel screens and Venetian negroes, unchanged from the 20's. A long, winding, circular staircase descends to the first floor. On this staircase she sits, chin in hand,

Solidarity House Is Symbol For Union

By DWIGHT PITKIN

DETROIT (AP) - "And this house, which is high, shall be an astonishment to everyone that passeth by it."

The United Auto Workers Union proudly quotes this verse from Chronicles II to describe Solidarity House, its international headquarters on the Detroit River.

Built six years ago at a cost of 1 1/2 million dollars, Solidarity House is an ultra-modern structure of glass, aluminum, steel, brick and stone. An addition, costing 1 1/2 million is nearing completion.

Solidarity House symbolizes the growth of the 1 1/2 million-member union.

It is only a beginning. UAW President Walter P. Reuther is planning to develop Solidarity House into the "labor university of the future."

The UAW is big business. The union has a net worth of about 25 million dollars and liquid assets of more than 25 million. It meets a $500,000 monthly payroll. The building houses more than 50 departments and councils. There are departments for education, research, political action, citizenship, retired workers.

From a radio studio broadcasts are made twice a day, timed to reach workers going to and returning from work. The UAW broadcasts from 44 stations in cities where the union has a sizable membership.

A research department and a library provide union leaders information needed for speeches or contract negotiations. On the UAW staff are economists and lawyers.

Solidarity House is expanding too. The union has acquired the old Edsel Ford stone mansion, birthplace of Henry Ford II. It is now used as an annex for the UAW's social security department.

The UAW also has acquired next door a three-story brick mansion for its educational department. It was bought from Chrysler Corp.

In developing a labor university, the UAW plans to convert the old Ford mansion into a residential hall for full-time students. The mansion next door will be made into an education center.

Reuther says: "In labor educational circles, for a long time, there has been felt a need for a 'labor university.' It should be possible at this institution to help UAW staff members and local union officers broaden their understanding of the history, philosophy and morality of the union movement and to offer training which can be put to use in the administration of the union, and in collective bargaining.

"At almost every institution of higher learning in the United States of America, management groups have available to them schools of business administration, in which are being trained future

Abortion Is Termed Answer To World's Population Growth

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) - Dr. J. Murray Luck, Stanford University biologist, says abortion should be legalized as one means of heading off the world's boom in population.

He made his proposal yesterday at the annual meeting of the Pacific division of the American Assn. for Advancement of Science. Dr. Luck is retiring president of the organization.

"Abortion, at the request of the prospective mother, should not only be permitted but in some instances encouraged," he declared.

Dr. Luck also suggested increasing education on contraceptives and research designed to develop a pill to prevent pregnancy.

"From the trends of the past 25 years," he said, "a world population of nine billion and a United States population of 600 million by the year 2059 are almost inevitable."

The present world population is estimated at about 2,400,000,000 and the U. S. population at 170 million.
