Hula On The Hudson

Here's a geographical paradox—a tropical island complete with sarong-clad dancer and waving palms, within sight of the Lower Manhattan skyline of New York City.

Explanation: the tropical island is a dressed-up barge, the model is Susi Peterson, and the barge is being towed down the Hudson River to launch a brewery contest in which the grand prize is a small island in the Bahamas.

Cage Silent At House Hearing

AUSTIN (AP)—Ben Jack Cage refused today to answer a House investigating committee's questions about his connection with collapsed ICT Insurance Co. of Dallas.

Chairman Reagan Huffman of the committee said the reason was the committee's intention not to obstruct the wheels of justice by giving him immunity before grand juries or before any court.

After his refusal to answer one question about your connections with ICT and affiliated companies, which is the guts of this investigation, the committee has decided not to force you to answer, Rep. Huffman crisply told Cage.

This committee has no desire to stop the wheels of justice in any grand jury or court and since it is a close question on immunity, we will dismiss you temporarily. Cage sat in the witness chair during 13 minutes of legal wrangling before the 5-member committee broke up into a hastily-called recess.

Texas Greeted A Flurry Of Hard Storms

Thunderstorms rampaged across Texas Wednesday and Thursday. Torrential rains soaked the coast Wednesday. A squall line boomed ahead of a cold front and pounded parts of West Texas with damaging wind and hailstorms.

Dallas got a damaging storm Wednesday, as did Brownwood, Denver City, Seminole and Seagraves.

Nacogdoches and San Antonio received hard rain and lightning Thursday. Victoria had a pounding rain which dropped up to 1.60 inches in about an hour. Winds of up to 45 miles an hour whipped through the city.

Lufkin, Palacios, Junction and Beeville also had showers Thursday. The cold front lay roughly along a line from Ardmore, Okla., through Mineral Wells, Abilene, San Angelo and El Paso early Thursday.

A Weather Bureau spokesman said another squall line was possible later in the day as the front moved southeast. Scattered thundershowers and generally cooler weather were forecast for all of Texas.

Lightning smashed into a barn on the John Claffen ranch near San Antonio Thursday and set it afire. Claffen said the barn and its contents, which included feed and 28 goats, were a total loss. He estimated damage at $20,000.

San Antonio got .86 of an inch of rain in a half hour. A violent electrical storm erupted over Nacogdoches and dumped 1.45 inches in an hour.

The area near Rio Hondo in the Lower Rio Grande Valley got up to five inches of rain Wednesday. Andrews in West Texas, was battered by wind, rain and hail. Two trailer homes were demolished and a third damaged.

A service station was damaged and windows in downtown buildings shattered. Secredo Rosilde, 2 months old, was injured when thrown from his bed in one of the trailers.

At Dallas, gusty winds demolished a lumber shed and ripped down a driven theater screen. Lightning nicked McFarlin Auditorium at Southern Methodist University.

Showers skipped over the city again Wednesday night. Heavy hailstorms at Denver City and Seminole in the Andrews area damaged cotton and grain sorghum crops, battered autos and broke windows. Hailstones south of Denver City were 2 1/2 inches around.

More than an inch of rain fell at Seagraves. Brownwood was lashed by winds of up to 75 miles an hour. The electrical storm damaged a hangar, blew limbs from trees and shattered windows and television antennas.

Official rainfall reports for the 24 hours ending at midnight Wednesday included Beaumont 1.85, Sherman 1.90, Mineral Wells .91, Wichita Falls .05, Big Spring .02 and Alpine .01.

Predawn temperatures Thursday ranged from 82 degrees at Galveston to 48 at Dalhart. Highs Wednesday ran from 102 at Presidio to 64 at Amarillo.

At the same time Cage and his Dallas attorney, M. R. Irion, hinted Cage might be a reticent witness before the House committee.

Plugged Nag

Jim Morris, a farmer near Ponca City, Okla., has a nag that likes a plug of chewing tobacco as well as his owner. The big horse likes to join his master in an occasional chew during the noon rest.

Hail Smashes Lush Martin Farm Belt

STANTON—The elements hurled their last effective weapon against a bumper cotton crop Wednesday and inflicted a grievous wound. Hail severely damaged fields in the Courtney-Tarzan area of central-north Martin County. It was too early to accurately assess damage, but some estimates were that 25 per cent of the cotton in the northern part of the county had been knocked off.

Marion Vell, who farms in the Courtney area, said his fields appeared to have suffered a 50 per cent loss. Worst of the hail seemed to have started in northwest of Tarzan in northwest Martin County and swung southward toward Courtney through the lush irrigated section.

Then it veered eastward within about three miles of the Lenorah community and then swung southward again between Lenorah and Stanton. Several thousand acres are said damaged, some totally devastated.

There was one report from the Valley View community, a dryland area, of a field laid waste—and this after the farmer had planted seven times during the season. The hail was accompanied by approximately an inch of rain.

Lenorah, which has been hard hit by dry weather in recent years, picked up three-quarters of an inch of rain which ran the moisture total within the past fortnight to two inches, said Grover Springer. The fields there escaped hail and were in excellent condition.

In Stanton a light shower with strong winds came around 3:30 p.m. About three hours later winds estimated at a mile a minute plucked more rain but no hail. In all, Stanton got about .75 of an inch rain.

Other Events On Integration Scene

Police at Birmingham, Ala., removed 76 Negro high school pupils from a bus after rocks were thrown at white persons. All except five later were released. One was jailed on a charge of disorderly conduct; the other four were turned over the juvenile court on similar charges.

Two of six Negroes turned back from the white high school at North Little Rock enrolled at a Negro school there. A Negro minister who accompanied the six to the white school Monday said the other four also probably would go to the Negro school.

Governor Hasn't 'Thrown In Sponge'

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—President Eisenhower today denounced radio and television reports saying White House aides feel Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus has "thrown in the sponge" in the Little Rock school integration crisis.

James C. Hagerly, White House press secretary, said the President had ordered him to hit out at what Hagerly termed "radio and television comment" attributing such a view to Eisenhower aides.

The President and Faubus arranged today to confer here Saturday. Hagerly said that word of Faubus' decision to come here Saturday had been received from Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark.).

Faubus proposed yesterday that he and Eisenhower "counsel together." Eisenhower promptly agreed and suggested Faubus come here. Announcement of plans for the Saturday meeting came after the President had denounced radio and television reports saying White House aides feel Faubus had "thrown in the sponge" in the Little Rock impasse.

Hagerly said it was "completely untrue" that any one of three aides with the President in Newport feel that way about the situation. And in Little Rock a source close to Faubus said the governor is going to Newport "to confer, not capitulate."

The Arkansas governor proposed such a conference yesterday, suggesting he and Eisenhower "counsel together." Eisenhower swiftly accepted the Faubus proposal and suggested they confer tomorrow afternoon or Saturday morning.

Hagerly was in an obviously angry mood when he started today's news conference. He said he and the President had been "listening to some radio and television comment" on the Faubus proposal.

He said he and Eisenhower had heard "White House aides" being quoted on radio and television as saying Faubus was "throwing in the sponge."

Hagerly went on to say they also had heard "a great deal of other junk" on the air. He did not identify the TV and radio newscasters.

Hagerly said there are only three White House aides with the President at his vacation headquarters. He named them as Capt. E. P. Auran, Eisenhower's naval aide; Wayne Hawks, chief of White House records; and himself.

"I think all of you gentlemen know that none of us have made any such statements like that," Hagerly said, referring to the comment he said he had heard on the air.

"We have deliberately refrained from making any such remarks and any such reports are completely untrue. There is no one on the White House staff in Newport talking that way and I think you gentlemen and ladies know it."

"And I would appreciate it—and so would the President—if you would carry these remarks of mine in full."

Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) declined to comment on the situation in Little Rock, where Gov. Orval Faubus has ordered out the National Guard. Fulbright said he was "not sufficiently informed" to comment.

Arrested

Northern segregationist John Kasper reads a newspaper after his third arrest in Nashville, Tenn., in 12 hours. The latest arrest is on a charge of inciting a riot, based on a speech he made Sunday night. He is held in Davidson County jail without bond.

Police Keep Doors Open In Nashville

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—School officials, hoping for a permanent end to violence after a day of uneasy calm, kept doors open to racially mixed first grades today. They were backed up by tough police and prospects for a Clinton-type federal injunction.

Mayor Ben West and U.S. Dist. Atty. Fred Elledge Jr. prepared a petition for Federal Dist. Judge William E. Miller seeking the injunction to prevent interference with integration here.

It was under an injunction of this type that Northern segregationist John Kasper was twice convicted in U.S. District Court at Knoxville of stirring racial strife at Clinton, Tenn.

Kasper, also accused of fomenting violence here, was sent yesterday to the segregated, Davidson County workhouse after his third arrest within a 12-hour span.

The latest charge against him, based on speeches he made in a series of meetings here, is inciting to riot. He was sent to the workhouse after he failed to pay a $200 fine for disorderly conduct, vagrancy and loitering. If he pays the fine, he will be returned to county jail for disposition of the state charge of inciting to riot.

First grades were integrated here Monday, under orders from Judge Miller, in six schools. A total of 15 Negroes showed up for first-day classes, and racial flare-ups followed immediately.

Early the next morning an expertly set dynamite blast ripped open one of the integrated grammar schools. Six men have been picked up for questioning in the school dynamiting, and three of them were fined $50 each in City Court for possessing weapons. They were bound to grand jury on companion state charges and held in lieu of $25,000 bond. The other three were charged with vagrancy. All six have denied any part in the dynamiting.

In the other schools, attendance dropped sharply, running about 40 per cent of normal. Total attendance yesterday was 1,184 out of an enrollment of 2,912. Negroes were present at all but one school.

Eglin Bomber Explodes, 3 Die

BASTROP, La. (AP)—A jet bomber from Eglin Air Force Base, Fla., exploded in flight about five miles south of here today, and at least three persons perished. One airman, identified as Col. J. C. Briley, parachuted to safety. Briley, taken to a Bastrop hospital, declined to make a statement.

Mrs. Helen Martin, clerk and radio operator for the Bastrop police department, said the plane roared low over the city about 8:10 a.m., shattering windows and knocking plaster from buildings, and exploded shortly afterward.

At Barksdale Air Force Base, near Shreveport, the type of plane and its home base were verified by Capt. Charles Deere, public information officer. The explosion also jolted the town of Mer Rouge, a few miles east of Bastrop.

Mrs. Martin said there were no reports of civilian injuries. Plane parts were strewn over a wide area.

Death Claims C. E. Courson

C. E. Courson, 81, of 610 11th Pl., died this morning in a hospital. He had been in failing health for several months. Arrangements at the Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home are pending word from some of his eight children.

Mr. Courson operated a store at Forsan for many years, moving to Big Spring about 20 years ago. He had been a carpenter and when he went into semi-retirement, Mr. Courson set up a tool repair shop. He had been a member of the Baptist Church since childhood and was a member of the board of deacons at Forsan and in the First Baptist Church here.

Surviving him are his wife; four sons, Herman Courson, Jack Courson, Leslie Courson and Vance Courson; four daughters, Mrs. Bernice Love, Mrs. Bessie Jean Cayton, Mrs. Agnes Austin and Mrs. Mary Louise Merrweather, all of whom reside out of the city. One daughter, Mrs. Oddie Lucille Raney, was killed in a car mishap Oct. 7, 1951, on the Andrews highway.

Mrs. Cornelison's Condition Critical

Mrs. Roy Cornelison, who underwent brain surgery at the Methodist Hospital in Houston on Tuesday, was in a critical condition at noon Thursday.

During the night she apparently had lost some ground and hopes for her recovery dimmed. During the morning rumors got out to the effect she had died, but at noon she was still clinging to a thread of life.

Good Rains Fall At Elbow, Lomax

Rainclouds accompanied by high winds swept across the Elbow community Wednesday evening dumping an inch and better of moisture in spots. Lomax received half-inch or more.

Continuing southward, the clouds spilled a half inch on Garden City and more in some parts of Glasscock County.

West of Big Spring, .25 to 1.25 was reported on the Wilkinson Ranch. Walker Bailey said he got .75 of an inch at his place in the eastern edge of Martin County.

Elsewhere in this area, only light showers and sprinkles were reported as a squall line moved south-eastward about dusk. A sharp drop in temperatures accompanied the front. Low reading in Big Spring last night was 62 degrees.

Death Claims C. E. Courson

In the Lomax area, Mrs. Arthur Stallings said 65 fell in a gauge at the Stallings farm. Average over the community was said to be about half an inch.

Measurements of .5 to .65 of an inch were reported in Garden City, but larger amounts fell in that area.

Mrs. J. D. Gilmore of Forsan said only .1 of an inch was gauged there. She said the rainfall was heavier south of Forsan.

Cosboma had a shower and sprinkles were reported at Luther and Vealmore. Officially, Big Spring received .02 of an inch, but a brief shower left a little more than that across the south part of town, starting gutters to flowing.

Syrian Military Chiefs In Cairo

CAIRO (AP)—An urgent, surprise visit to Cairo by Syria's two military strong men today underlined the deepening concern of the two Arab allies over the smoldering Syrian crisis.

Brig. Adh. Birry, leftist commander in chief of the Syrian army, and Lt. Col. Abdel Hamid Serraj, army intelligence chief, flew here yesterday. They went into immediate conferences with President Nasser and Egyptian military leaders.

As they met, Syria's Acting Defense Minister Khaled Azem said in Damascus he does not believe aggression against Syria is imminent. But he added that Syria has taken "all defensive measures to face every possibility."

Azem talked with reporters after a Cabinet session devoted to what an official statement called "development of the situation in the light of the Soviet and American foreign ministers' statements on Syria."

They referred to the warning to Turkey and the West by the Soviet Union's Andrei Gromyko against any military moves on Syria and to Secretary of State Dulles' view that the current crisis will be settled without war.

One Syrian official said both statements "have considerably pushed back the threat of anti-Syrian aggression."

Arab emphasis continued to shift to the line that Israel might seek to take advantage of the current Middle East crisis and attack Syria.

Uncle Ray:

Red Sea Water Is Too Hot To Enjoy

This diver has a method of lighting up the dark sea.

By RAMON COFFMAN

Last time I said that the water at the surface of the sea sometimes has a temperature of 60 or 70 degrees. That is true, but surface water often has a higher or lower temperature. Parts of the seas and oceans reach 80 or 90 degrees at the surface, or even more!

The Red Sea (that mass of hotness) sometimes has a temperature of from 95 to 100 degrees at the surface! The water is too hot for the comfort of a swimmer.

Q. Is all the water in the Red Sea hot?

A. Not exactly hot, but at a depth of a quarter of mile in the Red Sea you will find (if you can get down there!) a temperature of 72 to 75 degrees above zero! At the bottom, at a depth of three quarters of a mile, the water temperature is only a degree or two under 72 degrees.

Q. How have men learned the temperatures at great depths in the ocean?

A. They have lowered thermometers which would take temperatures at certain depths, and would keep the markings until they were drawn back to the surface.

Q. Has ice been found at the bottom in deep parts of the ocean?

A. The water is cold at, or near the bottom, sometimes only a degree or two above the freezing point of salt water. No samples of ice have been brought to the surface, however, after dredging the ocean bottom.

Q. If ice did form at the bottom, would it tend to rise?

A. Yes. Ice is lighter than water.

Wildcat To Seek Ellenburger In Southwest Howard County

Lamesa operators announced location of a 10,000-foot Ellenburger test in the southwest corner of Howard County today.

It is D. O. Huddleston of Lamesa No. 1, S. McDowell, about 17 miles southwest of Big Spring. The location will be two miles south of the Moore field and a mile north of two abandoned locations—one drilled to 3,300 feet and the other 6,300.

In Martin County, operator planned another drillstem test in the Devonian at the Pan American No. 1 Offcut 20 miles west of Ackerly.

Shell No. 1 Slaughter, 12 miles north of Gail, drilled through shale, lime and sand at 6,946 feet today. It is C NE NE, 16-30-8N, T&P Survey.

Tidewater No. 1-B Clayton-Johnson pulled rods today. The venture is perforated in the Canyon from 8,212-22 feet. Location of the wildcat is 660 from south and 2,019 from east lines, 9-32-4N, T&P Survey, 10 miles southwest of Gail.

Gulf No. 19 Canon is new Jo-Mill (Spraberry) field location. It is 12 miles southwest of Gail, 660 feet from south and east lines, 34-33-5N, T&P Survey. Drilling depth is 7,700 feet.

Texas No. 14-ANCT-2 Miller pumped 211.2 barrels of oil and 15 per cent water in 24 hours. The well is in the Jo-Mill field, 2,150 from south and east lines, 34-33-5N, T&P Survey. Drilling depth is 7,700 feet.

A Colorado City couple has filed suit in 118th District Court against Metzger's Dairies Inc., asking $120,575 damages as result of a highway traffic accident of last June 1.

The suit stems from the collision of a passenger car and a dairy truck 2.6 miles west of Big Spring. As a result of that collision, Minnie Louise Hill, 10, was fatally injured.

The petition asserts that on the date named Mr. and Mrs. Hill with three of their children, including Minnie Louise, were driving the Hill car along U. S. highway 80.

A milk truck, identified as belonging to the Metzger interests and driven by James Gregory Wells, crashed into the car from the rear, the plaintiffs claim.

The crash caused the death of Minnie Louise, the petition asserts, and the Hills seek $100,000 as compensation for her death. Hill was injured in the accident and seeks $20,000 damages. He also asks that he be awarded $75 for the loss of his car.

H. V. Hancock's Mother Dies

Wildcat To Seek Ellenburger In Southwest Howard County

Lamesa operators announced location of a 10,000-foot Ellenburger test in the southwest corner of Howard County today.

It is D. O. Huddleston of Lamesa No. 1, S. McDowell, about 17 miles southwest of Big Spring. The location will be two miles south of the Moore field and a mile north of two abandoned locations—one drilled to 3,300 feet and the other 6,300.

In Martin County, operator planned another drillstem test in the Devonian at the Pan American No. 1 Offcut 20 miles west of Ackerly.

Shell No. 1 Slaughter, 12 miles north of Gail, drilled through shale, lime and sand at 6,946 feet today. It is C NE NE, 16-30-8N, T&P Survey.

Tidewater No. 1-B Clayton-Johnson pulled rods today. The venture is perforated in the Canyon from 8,212-22 feet. Location of the wildcat is 660 from south and 2,019 from east lines, 9-32-4N, T&P Survey, 10 miles southwest of Gail.

Gulf No. 19 Canon is new Jo-Mill (Spraberry) field location. It is 12 miles southwest of Gail, 660 feet from south and east lines, 34-33-5N, T&P Survey. Drilling depth is 7,700 feet.

Texas No. 14-ANCT-2 Miller pumped 211.2 barrels of oil and 15 per cent water in 24 hours. The well is in the Jo-Mill field, 2,150 from south and east lines, 34-33-5N, T&P Survey. Drilling depth is 7,700 feet.

A Colorado City couple has filed suit in 118th District Court against Metzger's Dairies Inc., asking $120,575 damages as result of a highway traffic accident of last June 1.

The suit stems from the collision of a passenger car and a dairy truck 2.6 miles west of Big Spring. As a result of that collision, Minnie Louise Hill, 10, was fatally injured.

The petition asserts that on the date named Mr. and Mrs. Hill with three of their children, including Minnie Louise, were driving the Hill car along U. S. highway 80.

A milk truck, identified as belonging to the Metzger interests and driven by James Gregory Wells, crashed into the car from the rear, the plaintiffs claim.

The crash caused the death of Minnie Louise, the petition asserts, and the Hills seek $100,000 as compensation for her death. Hill was injured in the accident and seeks $20,000 damages. He also asks that he be awarded $75 for the loss of his car.

Training Session Planned For Scout Workers Of District

LAMESA — Mrs. Buster Reed, field representative for the West Texas Girl Scout Council, announced that the training for neighborhood teams in the Lamesa, Big Spring and Stanton Girl Scout District will be held at Pioneer Park Recreation Hall here from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Friday.

Neighborhood chairmen, organization chairmen and troop consultants are urged to attend the session. Instructors will include Margaret McAdams, West Texas Council executive director; Mrs. Reed and Mrs. John J. Taylor of Sweetwater and Mrs. Leo Tucker of Abilene, volunteer trainers who took special courses at Santa Fe, N. M., this summer.

Neighborhood team training is scheduled throughout West Texas this week, according to Mrs. Reed. Sweetwater will have the course Tuesday; Abilene Wednesday; and Colorado City, Thursday.

Planning to attend the meeting in Lamesa are Mrs. P. W. Malone, Mrs. P. D. Miller, Mrs. Ruby McNew and Mrs. J. D. Thomas.

until there is an increase in membership in the auxiliary. Malone-Hogan hospital was chosen for the service. At present, about 25 are enrolled.

Anyone interested in working with the group is asked to call Mrs. McLaughlin, AM 4-5139. An addition to the service in the hospital will be the supply cart to be rolled from room to room. This will carry tooth paste, cigarettes, stationery, post cards and other supplies. Proceeds from the sale of the articles will go into the welfare fund of the auxiliary.

Present at the meeting was Tom Chatham, who is advance agent for the Jerome Cargill Shows. He gave an explanation of the procedure of producing a follies type show, using local talent, and discussed the requirements.

Another meeting of the group will be held soon, with the date and time to be announced later.

Bible Quiz Is Given For Dorcas Class

Mrs. Ila Cain conducted a Bible quiz when the Dorcas Class of the Baptist Temple met Tuesday in the home of the teacher, Mrs. W. E. Carnrike.

Program was in charge of Mrs. R. N. Adams. Mrs. Cain led the opening prayer, and Mrs. Carnrike brought the devotion. A poem, "The Altar," was read by Mrs. M. S. Warren.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served to nine members and a guest, Mrs. Brooks. Mrs. H. C. Petty was announced as the next hostess. Her address is 419 Edwards.

She Keeps Cool

Lola Albright never worries about looking fresh during hot weather with the new wrinkle-proof fabrics from which her dresses are designed. In today's Hollywood Beauty she gives advice on how to keep skin smooth and lovely. Her forthcoming picture is "Monolith" for U-I.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Watch Skin Care After Being Out In The Sun

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — The Valley was sweltering when Lola Albright walked into the commissary at Universal-international in a lemon-yellow sheath, looking as cool and fresh as a spring morning. "The weatherman doesn't bother you," I exclaimed with admiration. "What's your secret?"

"It's a challenge, but you have to choose your clothes very carefully in hot weather," Lola explained. "But there are many wrinkle-proof fabrics that stand up well. And you can't use any old make-up. I like the liquid base that requires just a few drops, and I never use powder."

"You don't have to with that sun tan," I observed. It was smooth and even in tone. "You hear so much about what to wear in the sun, but if you're the type that blisters, you really should protect your skin with some sort of lotion," she pointed out. "But your skin really needs care after you've been in the sun."

"I have a special oil that I put in my bath water. It leaves a film on my body that makes it feel divine. It makes my skin so soft. I use this all the time, but after sunbathing I add an extra body lotion that keeps my skin soft and smooth. And on my face I use a moisture cream. "I think men should protect themselves from the sun, too, because bad things can happen to skin that is exposed to the elements without any care. "Sun can bleach one's hair, too," she went on. "I am a natural blonde, and every summer I turn a dozen different shades. When I started 'Monolith' for U-I, the poor hairdresser at the studio had to make my hair all the same shade. "I wash my hair every day when I am working and every three days the rest of the time," Lola confessed. "I hate to see anyone, especially a blonde, need a shampoo. I think every girl should study her hair and see that she has a shampoo BEFORE it is needed."

HAIR CARE
The quality and beauty of your hair can be influenced by the care you give it and by what you eat. Leaflet M-10, "Plan for Keeping Hair Healthy," lists foods which influence the growth and beauty of hair; how to shampoo, brush and care for it to enhance your beauty. For your copy of this important leaflet send only 5 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, in care of The Big Spring Herald. Be sure to ask for M-10.

Child Study Club Anniversary To Be Observed With Tea

Members of the Child Study Club made final plans Wednesday afternoon for the tea to be given in observance of the 20th anniversary of the club's founding. The group met in the home of Mrs. Raymond Moore with Mrs. Jim Scrimshire as cohostess.

The tea is scheduled from 4 to 6 p.m. Sept. 13, in the home of Mrs. Akin Simpson, 1600 Indian Hills. Developing the program around members' children, Mrs. Wayland Yates read a poem, "A Tribute to Childhood."

Mrs. Charles Sweeney discussed "Those Untidy Teens," and Mrs. Jimmy Ray Smith spoke on the topic, "When Love Grows Up." Mrs. Hayden Harrell's subject was "They Know What They Can Do."

Sixteen were present at the meeting.

Mrs. Shortes Elected Head Of Elbow Club

Mrs. Ray Shortes was elected president of the Elbow Home Demonstration Club Wednesday afternoon when the group met at the school. Mrs. B. J. Petty was chosen vice president; Mrs. Neal Bryant, secretary, and Mrs. Pearl Cagle, treasurer. Mrs. Floyd R. Jones will be delegate to the HD Council.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. Pete Sherman, who gave the thought for the day, "Never let an opportunity pass to say a good word to or about someone." Mrs. Ira Norrell, hostess, brought the devotion based on the sixth chapter of Matthew. Eleven members answered roll call with a description of their first day at school. A guest was Jerry Patterson.

Mrs. R. P. Morton gave the report of the recent council meeting. Mrs. Petty was announced as hostess for the meeting on Sept. 25.

District President Is Speaker At Music Study Club Wednesday

Because the United Nations believes that music is a thing of universal interest and understanding, the National Federation of Music Clubs is the only club federation that has a representative at the United Nations. This was brought to members of the Music Study Club when they met to hear their district president, Mrs. Lewis Rochester of Odessa, in the home of Mrs. H. M. Jarratt.

Mrs. Rochester who is president of 9th District, used a chart to illustrate her talk that concerned how local, district and national organizations coordinate their work. The president also outlined plans for the district convention which is to be held in Odessa on Nov. 15.

A trio composed of Joyce Howard, Mrs. C. A. Boyd and Mrs. Robert Mason sang the federation collect and also "The Green Cathedral." Elsie Willis chose Goossens' "The Rocking Horse" and "The Old Musical Box" and McDowell's "Polonaise" for piano numbers.

BPODoes To Entertain With Coffee Sept. 26

Another benefit coffee will be given on Sept. 26 by members of the BPODoes. This was announced at a meeting of the group Wednesday evening in the Elks Lodge. Mrs. Joe Clark, 206 Dixie, will be hostess to the affair, to which the public is invited. Proceeds from the series of coffees will go into the club's welfare fund.

Mrs. K. L. Brady reported on the recent coffee given in her home, at which $6.50 was turned in. Pro tem officers for Wednesday were Mrs. Clark, first counselor; Mrs. Glen Gale, senior counselor; Mrs. A. J. Prager, junior counselor. Mrs. H. L. Gist was inner guard and Mrs. S. V. Jordan served as chaplain.

Mrs. Jordan was appointed chairman of the committee to visit sick members. It was announced that a book review will be given Oct. 16 by Mrs. B. L. LeFever, who will discuss "Tall Houses in Winter" by Doris Betts. Tickets, priced at one dollar, will be on sale by any of the members and at the door of the lodge. Refreshments will be served.

The name of Mrs. M. T. Kuykendall was called for the attendance prize. This is the third time this has happened; the two previous times, she was absent. Mrs. Kuykendall claimed the award Wednesday. Twelve attended.

Mrs. Reid Bethel will host a reception Saturday evening at her home, and on Sunday morning at 7:30, the president's breakfast will be held at the Caprock Room. The convention will be held at Lamar Forrest Community center. Approximately 100 women are expected to attend.

Westbrook Baptists Have Prayer Week

WESTBROOK — Week of Prayer services are being held each evening at 7:30 this week by the Westbrook Baptist WMU. Mrs. Leslie McCorra, prayer chairman, is in charge of the series of programs, which the public is invited to attend.

Linda Kay Blakeney was honored with a wiener roast recently on her 11th birthday anniversary, when her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Blakeney entertained eight of her friends at their home.

Barbara Ann Parrish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charley Parrish, has received a gold ball and chain for her work playing on the Coahoma Girls' Softball Team. The team won the championship for the year.

"Laborers in the Vineyard" was the general topic of Mrs. Neal Bryant, who discussed "Meet Ann Wollerman, Missionary to Brazil."

Mrs. Rex Edwards brought a description of the work in the First Mexican Baptist Church, McAllen, as she spoke on the subject, "Towers in Our Vineyard."

The closing meditation was given by Mrs. Lucas, after which the missionary birthday list was read and prayers were offered by Mrs. W. L. Sadrigger, Mrs. Lucas and Mrs. Hill. Twelve were in attendance.

Bovines End Heavy Work For Andrews

The Big Spring Steers took an extended workout under the lights at Memorial Stadium in full battle dress Wednesday evening, as they ended their heavy work for their Friday night game with Andrews here. The local athletes were ready to pile into bed last night, after having staged an extended drill in Steer Stadium following school Wednesday. Today, the boys will limit their work to play rehearsals and kickoff formations, after they undergo another blackboard drill. The eyes of the state will be on Big Spring Friday night because Andrews is rated as the No. 1 Class AAA 11 in Texas, by many observers.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Coaches of many Class AAAA high schools came around to the conclusion, some time ago, that they could gain nothing by sending their teams against elevens of lower classification. The AAA and AA outfits, reasoning that they could gain greatly in prestige with favorable showings against the bigger schools, went all out in efforts to make the AAAA contingents eat humble pie. The AAAA coaches, likely as not, found they couldn't get their charges in the proper frame of mind for the practice games. If they won, they were fulfilling expectations and they did nothing to add to their lustre. If they lost, they found their reputations deteriorating in the eyes of their schools.

Many of the teams solved the problem by limiting their non-conference activity to games against other AAAA elevens. Deprived of the chance to cut the bigger schools down to size in regular games, the teams representing smaller schools are now soothing their wounded pride by putting the maximum effort into scrimmages against the Texas Interscholastic League's "big boys."

There was a time when coaches tipped their mitts on the kind of offenses and defenses they were to use in those scrimmages, with the thought in mind that it would not only help their boys but prove beneficial to the opposition, as well. That idea has about become obsolete. It's reached the point where the scrimmages between two schools are attracting huge turnouts and more and more pressure is being put on the coaches and their players to lead with their best. That's getting away from the original idea of the scrimmage, so much so that it may inspire corrective action on the part of the Texas Interscholastic League.

It's reached the point where the scrimmages are faithfully being reported in the newspapers, as if they were regular games. In addition, such action has been given the "play-by-play" treatments by radio stations — a downright silly approach to the endeavor. The scrimmages risk the life and limb of the players and the risk is going to be greater where one team reasons it can gain a reputation by making another team look bad. In doing so, it completely abandons the original idea of the scrimmage.

In the future, you're apt to see AAAA schools book scrimmages only among themselves. The coaches have about come around to the idea that the AAA teams can go elsewhere to court improved prestige. The health and the well-being of their athletes means more to them than any good they might realize from the scrimmages.

The Snyder Tigers were hit hard by graduation but won't lack for experienced help this fall. There are no fewer than 19 seniors on this year's Bengal roster.

Paul Thorp and Bobby Knight, who helped the Odessa Bronchos defeat the Big Spring Steers twice in basketball last season, are both headed for Texas Western College.

Craig Canon, another member of the 1956-57 Odessa cage team, will enroll at Colorado University, where he'll go out for basketball.

Joe Kerbel, who made inquiries about the local coaching job before Al Milch was hired, is being paid $5,800 per annum to coach the Amarillo High School Sandies. He'll probably get a substantial raise if he guides the Sandies to the state championship, as he is expected to do.

Knott Hill Billies Face Rugged Sterling Friday

KNOTT, (SC) — Coach Morris Molpus sends his Knott Hill Billies out against the powerful Sterling City Eagles in an 8 o'clock Friday night game here Friday night, first of the season for the Howard County team. Molpus is building his sextet around seven returning lettermen, including the 170-pound Thomas Day, a fullback who has won three varsity numerals. Other lettermen who have been undergoing drills include Buck McNew, 135-pound halfback, a junior; Leo Williams, 135, end and quarterback, a junior; Mike Shockley, 130, end and quarterback, a senior; Dots Ray, 150, junior end; Jimmy Peacock, 210, senior center; and Delbert Conway, 200, senior center. Peacock has won two letters with the Billies. The other are one-year lettermen. Others who have reported for workouts include Jerry Nichols, 128, an end; Roland Fryar, 135, end; Ronald Fryar, 135, end; Ray Peacock, 125, end; Dean Blake, 120, halfback; Lou Ditto, 125, center; Charles Leigh, 150, utility;

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Editor Texas schoolboys football hits full strength with 328 games this week with the spotlight on Abilene.

The Eagles make their start with 37 straight victories plus the consecutive Class AAAA championships.

There will be 110 games in the two classes, Dallas Stars goes to San Angelo to test the team that's rated stronger than Abilene in its own district.

In South Texas, Corpus Christi Ray of AAAA gets moving against Houston Austin.

In AAA Andrews steps up for a whack at AAAA competition when it tackles Big Spring. Vernon will try to dim AAAA Wichita Falls' high ranking.

Another AAAA toughie, San Antonio Edison, tackles AAAA Harlandale.

A purely AAA game sends Breckenridge against Sweetwater. Ranking with the Stamford-Balinger battle in AA is Terrell's step up to engage AAA Athens.

There are a smattering of games Thursday but the big push is Friday. There's even Class AA conference game, in Dist. 22 Konner and Bridge City start the battle for keeps.

Teams Two, Four, Caudle Cleaners and Truman Jones Motor registered victory in the Wednesday Bowling League a game this morning at Clover Bowl.

Team Two defeated Good Housekeeping, 2-1, the same margin by which Team 4 won over Zale's Jewelry Store.

Caudle Cleaners accepted a forfeit from Team Six while Team Seven forfeited to Truman Jones. Team Four and Caudle Cleaners shared scoring honors.

Gwen Fryar scored the best individual game, 173. Beverly Jones came through with a 155. Next week, Caudle plays Team Four, Good Housekeeping tries Truman Jones Motor, Team Seven squares off with Zale's Jewelry while Team Two meets Team Six.

DALLAS (AP)—Sally Parker, who piloted Dallas to 102 victories and the full season pennant, was picked today as manager of the year in the Texas League.

Rex Baxter Is A Factor In National Amateur

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP)—The golf experts who predicted that Harvie Ward's suspension from amateur competition would make the 57th National Amateur Championship the most evenly contested in years apparently were absolutely right. There wasn't a solid favorite in the field when the tournament began Monday and there still wasn't one today when 15 survivors moved into another double round of eliminations. That was quite a change from the past two years when the first question was "Who will be playing Harvie in the final?" Ward, the winner for the past two years, was put on probation early this summer for violation of the rules regarding expense payments.

BRAVES SKIDDING

Cards Close Gap In Nat'l Scrap

Is that a miracle or a miracle taking shape in the National League pennant race?

The second-place St. Louis Cardinals have won seven of their last eight while Milwaukee's first-place Braves, perhaps building pressure by insisting there isn't any, have lost five of their last eight.

The Cards stayed with it last night, battering Philadelphia 14-6 and climbing within 4 1/2 games of the Braves, who were dropped 2-1 by the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The New York Yankees split a day-night double-header against Cleveland. O' Sal Maglie tossed a three-hitter that beat his former Tribe mates 5-0 in the opener, but Ray Narleski then set down the Yankees on four hits in Cleveland's 4-1 nightcap victory.

That left the champs with a 5 1/2-game lead over Chicago's second-place White Sox, who scored three in the 11th and beat Boston 4-1.

Third-place Brooklyn, seven games behind Milwaukee, defeated the Chicago Cubs 9-1 in the only NL game scheduled.

In the other AL games, a pair of two-night double-headers, Detroit swept Washington 9-0 and 12-2, and Baltimore split with Kansas City, winning 6-2 after a 7-3 defeat.

The Cardinals, hitting their one-game scoring high of the season, rapped 15 hits off ex-mate Harvey Haddix and five relievers while collecting a pair of six-run innings.

Del Egnis drove in three runs with his 22nd and 23rd home runs. Herm Wehner won his fourth in a row.

Warren Spahn, who had been Milwaukee's stopper, had the goods on the Pirates except for Hank Foiles—No. 8 in the batting order. Foiles had a perfect day with three of the Buc's eight hits, swatting a home run that tied it 1-1 in the third and driving home the clincher with a two-out single in the ninth.

Right-hander Ron Kline won his sixth in a row with a six-hitter. Andy Pako, who homered in the second, and Del Rice had four of the Braves' hits.

Maglie, the 40-year-old right-hander Cleveland snubbed as "just another guy" after buying him from the Giants in 1955, gave up a single to Joe Caffie and Russ Nixon's ground rule double in the second, then no-hit the Tribe until Nixon singled with two out in the ninth. It was Sal's first American League victory.

Early Wynn lost his 7th. Narleski was touched for two hits by Hank Bauer, one an RBI triple in the fifth that cut the Indians' lead to 2-1. The Tribe rapped Bobby Shantz for eight hits in his seven frames.

Jim Rivera's third hit, a single, drove in the tie-breaking run for the White Sox. Fred Hatfield then added a two-run pinch single in the big frame that handed Willard Nixon an 11-1 record. Young Bill Fischer went all the way with a 10-hitter.

The Dodgers smacked 15 hits, 14 of them singles, and nailed it with six runs in the fourth that handed Bob Rush a 15th defeat. Johnny Podres hit his major league high with a 12th victory.

Texas Ex Placed On NFL Waivers

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The Baltimore Colts disposed of a tackle and acquired a defensive halfback yesterday as they continued practice here in preparation for Sunday's exhibition with the Chicago Cardinals.

Placed on waivers was Gerald (Big Heap) Peterson, 280-pound tackle from the University of Texas. He was on the reserve team last season and played in only one game.

Halfback Henry Moore was obtained from the New York Giants in exchange for a high draft choice in 1958. The deal will be called off if Moore fails to make the Colts.

Mexicans To Play Three Texas 11's

Martinez Is Winner

CHICAGO (AP)—Vince Martinez pounded Larry Baker's eye into a bloody mess in the eighth round, then survived a staggering flurry of blows to win their welterweight fight by a technical knockout last night. The ring doctor wouldn't let Baker out for the ninth round.

Maglie's Slow Stuff Kayoes Clevelanders

NEW YORK (AP)—After two years of waiting, O' Sal Maglie finally had his chance to prove himself to the Cleveland Indians. And he did — with the help of an orange, a nasal spray and slow stuff that got slower.

In 1955 the New York Giants put Maglie on the market. The Indians grabbed him, not to bolster an already strong pitching staff but to keep the New York Yankees from getting him.

To the Tribe, the menacing Barber who had helped the Giants to National League pennants in 1951 and 1954 (and who was to help win the 1956 flag for Brooklyn) was "just another guy."

They snubbed him. When he was peddled to Brooklyn in May 1955, he had an 0-2 record in the American League for 31 innings.

O' Sal made it 1-2 as a yankee yesterday, spinning a sweet three-hit shutout that shut up the Indians 5-0.

Ironically, it was Early Wynn, four times a 20-game winner, who was on the mound for Cleveland as the 40-year-old Maglie went to work despite a heavy cold.

"Old Folks" gave up two hits in the second — Joe Caffie's single and Russ Nixon's ground rule double — but didn't allow another until Nixon singled with two out in the ninth.

Given a lead when the Yankees grabbed a pair of unearned runs in the fourth, Maglie showed the effects of his cold when he gave up two of his three walks in the fifth.

"I was really feeling low," he said. "I could hardly breathe. But when I got back to the dugout they gave me an orange and sprayed my nose. It picked me up."

"Picked up." Maglie went back to setting down the Indians. About the only way to explain his low breaking stuff is that he was "taking something off his slow one."

Seek Clues To School Blast

Georgia Governor Proud Of His Role In School Dispute

ATLANTA (AP)—Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia, new frontline leader of the entrenched Southern states still strongly resisting public school integration, is proud of his unexpected role as a factor in the situation at Little Rock, Ark.

Griffin addressed a Capital Citizens Council fund-raising dinner in Little Rock Aug. 22. He was credited by Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas with thus contributing to developments which led Faubus to call out the National Guard to prevent the admission of Negroes to Little Rock Central High School.

"I think my visit did make a little contribution to the unity of the people on that side," Griffin said today.

Faubus, in a television interview Sunday, said Griffin had not created the situation in Little Rock, but added later: "I am willing to say that he contributed to the situation that developed, but when an explosion is imminent, it is of small consequence what it is that triggers it."

Griffin, who had warmly praised Faubus for his use of troops to halt integration in Little Rock, could not pick up the program in southeast Georgia where his plane was grounded by weather, but he read a transcript of it.

HELL OR HIGH WATER
The 50-year-old Bainbridge, Ga., weekly newspaper publisher, who took over active leadership of the South's segregation forces from former Gov. Herman Talmadge, now a U.S. senator, campaigned on a pledge to maintain public school segregation "come hell or high water."

His reaction to being unexpectedly thrust into a principal role in the Little Rock case was more or less as expected. "I am, as everybody knows," said the governor, "a strong advocate of segregation of the races in public schools because I am convinced the ultimate goal of the social reformers is racial amalgamation."

"I am also convinced that the future welfare of the United States is dependent upon adherence to the principles of constitutional government. I am wary and doubtful and suspicious of pressure groups and so-called 'do-gooders' and minorities seeking to change the government to suit the interest of the minorities."

"I was invited to make a banquet speech in Little Rock by the Capital Citizens Council of Little Rock. It was a fund-raising dinner. That was one of the reasons I accepted."

U. S. ENCROACHMENT
"I spoke on preservation of constitutional government and the encroachments which have been made upon the states by a centralized government which is becoming more highly centralized day by day."

"My Little Rock speech was no different from many I have made in Georgia on the same subject."

"If I have made any contribution to the preservation of constitutional government and sovereignty of the states, I am very pleased."

The Georgia governor said earlier, in commenting on Faubus' use of troops, that he would have done the same.

Nacogdoches Fire Burns Warehouse

NACOGDOCHES (AP)—Fire burned out of control today at a huge feed warehouse here.

The Quaker Oats Co. feed warehouse was burning out of control at 7 a. m., fire officials said. The building was beside the Southern Pacific freight depot and some box cars were afire.

Several buildings containing cottonseed oil are about 100 yards away, and firemen tried to keep the flames away.

Tighter Laws

DALLAS (AP)—James Economos, director of the American Bar Assn.'s traffic court program, said yesterday Texas' new Traffic Commission should tighten driver licensing laws. He said Texas had made better progress in teaching traffic safety and teaching policemen to enforce laws well.

Economists Aid U. S. Breakup Of Big Industry

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department's Antitrust Division has called in outside economists to help figure out how to divorce Du Pont and General Motors with the least impact upon the economy.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Victor R. Hansen, head of the Antitrust Division, disclosed today that the economists will help in preparation of recommendations for ending the long-time Du Pont-GM relationship in accordance with a Supreme Court decision last June.

But, Hansen stressed, "we definitely have not arrived at any recommendation."
While Hansen declined to speculate as to what the ultimate recommendations might be, informed sources generally agreed that Du Pont would not be required to dump its 23 per cent holding of GM stock onto the market all at once. Du Pont's 65 million shares of GM stock are valued at about $2,700,000,000—too much, everyone agrees, for the market to digest easily in a short time.

Likewise, there was general agreement that the Justice Department would insist not only that Du Pont yield its working control of GM, but that it also give up any influence in the affairs of the No. 1 auto maker.

Economists working with the Antitrust Division on the case are Dean Ewald T. Grether of the Graduate School of Business Administration, University of California, and Carl Kaysen, an associate professor of economics at Harvard.

The next step in the long litigation will take place this fall before Federal Dist. Judge Walter J. Labuy in Chicago.

One idea being discussed within the Justice Department would call for placing the stock in a voting trust, with Du Pont interests having no voice in voting it, and with a part of the stock to be sold off yearly. There is strong opposition to placing the stock in a permanent trusteeship.

Quake Bomb To Mark Step In Peaceful Uses Of The Atom

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter

NEW YORK (AP)—The earthquake A-bomb explodes next Wednesday in Nevada. Its shuddering, muffled blast will mark a new step in peaceful world cooperation for science.

This bomb will be set off 800 feet underground, in a tunnel inside a small mountain, at noon, Eastern Standard Time.

As such blasts go in the vast desert northwest of Las Vegas, this will not be a big one. But its shock waves will travel through and around the earth, probably reaching into the heart of the world.

Earthquake experts around the globe—Americans, Russians, Britons, Chinese, Australians, all nationalities—will be set to record the waves and share results, a striking scientific dividend in the International Geophysical Year.

Usual bars of secrecy were let down to inform the observers in advance.

How fast the shock waves travel can tell these seismologists new facts about what the earth is like inside from thin crust to hot heavy core. The knowledge could advance the day of sometime being able to predict natural earthquakes.

This earthquake meets the wish of many seismologists to use atomic power as a probe deep into the earth's interior.

Two years ago, requests were made of Washington, London and Moscow for one to four A-bombs just for earth studies. Dr. K. E. Bullen of Australia disclosed last week. He is president of the International Seismological Assn.

Shock waves from natural earthquakes are the scientists' main tool to learn the structure of our globe.

Waves sent into the earth from A-bombs and H-bombs exploded in the air have helped a bit too.

But the trouble is that quake specialists never knew just when the natural quake or bomb quake waves started, so they could measure the travel speeds precisely.

Now the Atomic Energy Commission is giving a helping hand by announcing these details in advance. The underground bomb is one in a current series of Nevada tests, and undoubtedly has scientific or military purposes as main objectives.

The quake studies are a dividend for purely peaceful knowledge open to all.

The AEC said the bomb will be exploded at the end of a multi-directional 2,000-foot tunnel cut into a small mountain. It pinpointed the exact location and hour, plus or minus two minutes.

It will be a baby bomb, equal to only 1,000 to 10,000 tons of TNT. The first or nominal A-bombs packed 20,000 tons force.

Some seismologists will study the waves to learn more about the earth's core. Others are interested in the makeup of upper layers. Some will use them to find out whether certain mountains rest on the earth's crust, or send down deep iceberg-like roots.

By the present picture, the earth has a thin crust varying from 20 to 35 miles thick. Then comes the mantle of heavy hot rock, in layers, reaching down 1,800 miles. Then a molten inner core for the next 1,400 miles, and an inner core 800 miles in radius. The inner core may be molten, or it may be solid nickel and iron.

Odessan Buys Ranch From San Angeloan

ROCKSPRINGS, Tex. (AP)—L. R. French Jr., of Odessa, owner of an oil field tool and supply company, has purchased an 8,415-acre ranch near here from Mrs. Velma Shurley of San Angelo. The property is 8 miles southeast of Rock Springs.

The price was reported at about $270,000.

The ranch is to be used by the French company for recreational purposes, including hunting. For the last five years a cedar cutting crew has been eradicating range brush on the land.

Negro Student A Target Of Rocks, Spittle

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Negro student Dorothy Counts, after a week of relative peace, again became the target of spittle and thrown objects from her white schoolmates at Harding High School.

Dorothy, the only Negro among 1,100 students at Harding, said that yesterday "was the roughest I have had since last Wednesday."

She reported that: "Twice while she stood before her book locker, objects struck her in the back. When she passed through the school's crowded corridor, students spat upon her."

Someone in a group of white teen-age youths hurled an object at her brother's car and broke the rear window. The brother had gone to the school to take her to lunch.

Dorothy is one of four Negroes who entered four white schools here last week. Then, a mob of jeering white youths spat on her and tossed pebbles and sticks as she left the school building.

Except for social isolation from her fellow students, 15-year-old Dorothy since had attended school unmolested.

"As usual, they had been calling me names," Dorothy said, "but that didn't matter to me."

"I really thought everything was going along smoothly."

Police, determined to forestall possible trouble, post a watch at the school each morning and afternoon. Dorothy's decision to go home for lunch, not relayed to officials, caught police with no guard on hand.

After the experience Dorothy said, "Police told my father they would be there any time I leave school if I let them know I am leaving."

School Bans 'Huckle Finn'

NEW YORK (AP)—Mark Twain's "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn" no longer is on the approved textbook list for city elementary and junior high schools.

Miss Ethel Huggard, associate school superintendent in charge of curriculum development, confirmed yesterday that three textbook contracts for the book had not been renewed in the past two years.

"Huckleberry Finn" has been criticized by some Negroes as racially offensive. A spokesman for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People said yesterday he was unaware of any organized protest against the book. However, he said, the NAACP strongly objected to "racial slurs" in Twain's works.

Miss Huggard denied that the book was dropped because it contained passages derogatory to Negroes. It was felt the story was really not a textbook, she said, adding that those pupils wanting to read it could obtain copies in the school libraries.

The work still is distributed as a textbook in the city high schools.

Shot Postponed

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP)—The 19th shot of the summer atomic test series has been postponed again because of unfavorable wind conditions. It is now scheduled to be fired tomorrow morning.

U.N. May Adopt Anti-Red Ruling

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Informed delegates predicted today the U.N. General Assembly will adopt a resolution condemning Soviet interference in Hungary late tomorrow.

They said that 50 or 55 of the 81 U.N. members would vote for the resolution, only the nine-nation Soviet bloc would vote against it and that 17 to 22 would abstain.

That would give it the approval of well over the necessary two-thirds of those voting—but less than the average of about 57 votes cast for the Assembly's 10 previous resolutions on Hungary.

Some delegates said there would be more abstentions this time because sponsors refused to eliminate a sentence saying the Assembly condemns the Soviet Union's acts in Hungary and its continued defiance of earlier resolutions calling on Russian troops to withdraw.

The pending resolution also would ask Prince Wan Waihayakon of Thailand, Assembly president, to serve as the Assembly's special representative on the Hungarian problem and "take such steps as he deems appropriate."

One aim is to force Soviet troops that crushed the popular uprising in Hungary last fall to go home. Another aim is the establishment of political independence in Hungary.

The resolution endorses a report from the Assembly's special committee on Hungary finding that massive Soviet armed intervention put down a spontaneous national uprising.

ONLY TWO BLAZES

Fire Losses Soar To Year's High Of $15,000 In August

Losses from two fires during August almost doubled the amount destroyed in the previous seven months of 1957.

The two fires cost $15,000 in damage, and it brought the year's loss column to $2,757.20. This compares with $1,923.76 for the same period of 1956. Only $2,805.99 went up in flames during August of last year.

Two of 18 fires during August caused all the damage. On Aug. 15, some $9,000 damage was sustained at the Seven-Up Bottling Co., 1602 Young. Of the total, $5,000 was damage to the building and $4,000 to equipment inside.

The other $6,000 lost during the month was at the Johnnie's Round Top, 2401 Scurry, owned by Johnnie Tibbets. The fire occurred Aug. 18, and $4,000 was damage to the building.

In all, 18 fires occurred in August, with four of them developing from faulty wiring. Three came from gasoline, while one each started with a gas heater, a pilot light, clothes dryer, lightning, smoking, defective brakes, and a slush pit. Four fires were started for which firemen could find no cause.

The $15,000 damages last month was the largest loss since $33,000 went up in smoke in May of 1955. Most of that loss was from the fire at the 18th and Gregg shopping center.

Average monthly loss for the year is $4,094.20. The low norm is maintained through having four months—January, February, June, July—where less than $1,000 loss per month was sustained in fires.

Program Set For WTCC's 'Short Course'

Mevin Sisk, executive vice president of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce, has been added to the program for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce executives' "short course" to be held here Saturday.

Sisk will speak at a luncheon Saturday at the Settles Hotel. He replaces James G. Roberts, U. S. Chamber official from Dallas who had been scheduled to speak at the gathering.

The San Antonio man will talk on "Professional Improvement." The theme of this year's short course, sixth annual sponsored by the WTCC, will be "Professional Dedication."

Another feature of the meeting will be the keynote address at 8:45 a.m. Saturday by Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the Big Spring First Baptist Church.

Sisk, a graduate of Texas Tech, served as manager of several West Texas Chambers of Commerce before taking the job in San Antonio.

Wayne Smith, local Chamber manager, said about 100 Chamber presidents, managers and office secretaries are due here for the short course.

Registration begins at 3 p.m. Friday in the lobby of the Settles Hotel. Following registration, those attending will be hosted at a buffet supper at the Cosden Country Club beginning at 6:45 p.m.

Registration resumes at 7:30 a.m. Saturday and will continue until the opening session at 8:45 a.m.

Following opening remarks, Dr. O'Brien will deliver the keynote address. At 10 a.m., the meeting will divide in four panel groups, one for the presidents, one for secretaries and two for chamber managers and staff.

At 12:15 p.m., the group will meet together for a luncheon and the address by Sisk.

Panels will be resumed at 2 p.m. At 3:30 p.m., a general assembly will be held to discuss the program for 1958, make resolutions and announcement and adjourn.

Minister Speaks At First Jr. High Student Assembly

T. E. Cudd, minister of the Church of Christ at 14th and Main, spoke at the first junior high school student assembly of the year Wednesday.

He urged pupils to utilize their time to the best of their abilities and called attention to the necessity for the proper mental, physical and spiritual balance.

Thomas Ernest, principal, introduced new teachers and welcomed seventh graders to the school. He also outlined curriculum changes and emphasized the value of teamwork throughout the school system.

Carey King, student council president, opened the assembly and introduced eighth and ninth grade council representatives. Forest Gambill led group singing, accompanied by Mrs. Velma Griese.

New teachers introduced by Ernest were William F. Williams, counselor; Mrs. Beverly Fern Alexander, science; Mrs. Minnie D. Averett, mathematics; Richard Bacon, literature; L. B. Brackeen, mathematics; Mrs. Joy Corbin, reading; Mrs. Rosa Belle Curtis, mathematics; Curtis Kelley, coach; Mrs. Dora Phillips, typing; LaFern Shook, mathematics; Pat Solomon, physical education; Mrs. Lynn Stormans, English; Mrs. Jean Warren, English; and Mrs. Joe Carlie, attendance clerk.

Get Ready To Blame Bad Luck Tomorrow On 'Friday The 13th'

By SAM BLACKBURN

Superstitious persons will look with apprehension and dread toward the approach of this weekend. This Friday happens to fall on the 13th day of the month. It is the first Friday the 13th of 1957. The second will come in December.

In 1958 there will be one Friday on the 13th. It is inevitable that each year must have from one to two such dates.

If the new reformed calendar which would include 13 months of equal number of days is ever adopted, there would be a Friday on the 13th each month. If this is ever done, then, undoubtedly, the old taint which has made this unfortunate date so disliked in the minds of so many people, would disappear.

ALWAYS "BAD LUCK"

Friday, naturally, has always been regarded as a "bad luck" day. Thousands of very ordinary folk would hesitate most pointedly before they will initiate any important enterprise on a Friday. Many will hesitate even longer should the day happen to be not only Friday but also the 13th of the month.

The books say that the dubbing of Friday as a bad luck day originated in all probability because Christ was crucified on that day. It was augmented and broadened through the middle centuries by the established custom of setting all executions on Friday. Thousands of criminals—and quite a lot of folk convicted but not guilty of any crime—have been hanged on Fridays. Since the use of the gallows was very common enterprise in the middle centuries, it was natural that the association of bad luck and the day would develop.

So commonplace was the designation of Friday as the date of executions that the sixth day of the week was widely called "Hanging Day" for several centuries.

Why 13 is a bad luck number is a little confusing. Perhaps originally the dislike for it stemmed from the simple fact that 13 is an "odd" number. No more so, it is true, than 15, 17 or a great many others but nevertheless it did not fit into the widely common practice of using "even" or readily divisible numbers in ceremonies and literature.

13 AT LAST SUPPER

According to the Scriptures, there were 13 persons at the Last Supper when Christ met for the final time with His disciples. It was from this dinner Judas left to make his deal to betray Christ.

From this incident stems the distaste of thousands of persons for groups in which 13 persons are present. Some hostesses will go to great extremes, when faced with the possibility that she is to have that number at dinner, to either add a guest or eliminate one.

If there are any sound logical reasons for the dislike that has engendered toward the day and the date, those reasons have long since become obscured in the dim recesses of the past. Like hundreds of other odd superstitions—fear of walking under a ladder; spilling salt; seeing the new moon over one's right shoulder; black cats; killing crickets and scores of others—something started them but the cause is no longer remembered.

Only one superstition which still prevails rather widely can be pinned down and its origin established. This is the belief that it is "bad luck" for three cigarettes to be lighted from a single match.

How this one started is known. A strange financial figure of some 40 years ago arose in Europe. His name was Krueger and he managed to acquire the monopolistic rights to manufacture and sell all of the matches which were used in a dozen European countries. He was a sly character and not averse to a bit of fast dealing if it would increase the sale of matches.

He dreamed up the idea that it was unlucky to light more than two cigarettes off one match. He spent a large amount of money spreading his idea—by word of mouth—by the creation of fairy tales of persons who had violated the tabu and had been subjected to disaster. He caused "news items" about it to be widely published; had songs written for vaudeville singers to popularize the belief.

Result: Acceptance by millions of persons and an increase in the sale of matches by perhaps 20 per cent.

STILL WIDELY BELIEVED

Krueger has been dead a long time and his match kingdom has fallen apart but this fantastic superstition that he created still prevails.

The upshot of it all is simply this: For many persons, Friday, Sept. 13 will be a most unlucky day—events and circumstances will happen to them on that date to make it a distasteful and unhappy memory. For millions and millions of other persons, it will be just another Friday.

What will be forgotten, naturally, was that Thursday, Sept. 12 or on Tuesday, Sept. 10, events and incidents occurred to millions of persons which were unpleasant and tragic. But, since these are not "bad luck days," tagged so by legend and folklore, no one marked their occurrence.

Indianola, Once Texas' Best Port, Killed By Hurricanes

By BERT C. WEST
Victoria Advocate Staff
Written for The Associated Press
INDIANOLA, Tex., Sept. 12 (AP)—The one-time pride of Texas can be called the city hurricanes killed.

Hundreds of vacationers pass the site as they walk along the Gulf of Mexico's sandy beaches. Near the shore they can see a few stones and fragments of concrete.
Few know that here was Indianola.
Fewer still know that it once was Texas' greatest seaport—greater than famous Galveston.

Indianola was a great, cosmopolitan city. By today's standards it was small. But it was a large city in Texas' early days.
Newly unearthed census figures show this sandy ground once held the hope, life, wealth and future for thousands of persons.
For something like 42 years, Indianola flourished. Then it disappeared.
It began as a tent colony of European immigrants. It grew into the major gateway to Texas and was hailed as the brightest metropolitan center in the state.

An official census taken in 1870 was discovered only recently in the Calhoun County courthouse at Port Lavaca.

PEAK POPULATION
The census was compiled at the apparent peak of the city's population—five years before the first devastating hurricane struck and 16 years before the one that delivered the death blow.

The population in 1870 was 2,121. The entire Calhoun County population was 3,500, including Indianola.

In 1880, after the first storm, the county population was 1,739, with 1,078 of these at Indianola.

The settlement began on land grants in the vicinity of what was known as Indian Point, 12 miles below the infant town of Lavaca—now known as Port Lavaca. This point was on the north end of a low, sandy strip along Lavaca and Matagorda Bays, virtually an island surrounded by bays, lakes, bayous and marshes.

Late in 1844, Price Carl Zu Solms-Braunfels, representing the Mainzer Adelsverein, otherwise known as the Society for the Protection of German Immigrants in Texas, established Carlshafen, a tent colony for thousands of Germans and other Europeans soon to arrive.

The first shipload of new citizens arrived in December, 1844, and in a short time 1,000 were on hand.

WHY THEY STAYED
Rainy weather and a temporary lack of funds kept the immigrants from going into the interior. Houses were built, stores opened, port facilities improved, and in spite of an epidemic, the place prospered.

It was renamed Indian Point, later changed to Indianola, then to Old Town and Old Indianola when another settlement started alongside. Then the whole area became known as Indianola.

It took the county seat title away from Lavaca in 1852 and kept it for 34 years with the exception of about a year during the War Between the States.

In the early 1870s, Indianola passed Galveston to become the leading Texas seaport. One steamship company, the Morgan Line, ran steamers from New Orleans three and four times a week in winter and twice weekly in summer.

Of Indianola one writer said: "Indianola was once Texas' dream city, her sea gate to the great Southwest. There was a time when it promised to become the world's greatest cattle port. Its Main Street and Bay Street were jammed with carts and horses."
"Rolling, square-rigged merchant brigs, rakish schooners and dark pirate-looking sloops made the wharfs. Sometimes a side-

Indianola Survivor

George E. Webb, 88-year-old Baptist pastor of Refugio County, lived through the two vicious storms and the fire that raked Indianola late in the last century, and almost lost his life during the earlier storm in 1875. Shown with his wife, he was a visitor to the Indianola pilgrimage. After the second storm and accompanying fire in 1886 Webb left Indianola, as did the other residents of the once thriving seaport. Webb vividly recalled his life in Indianola and the tragic end that came to the city.

wheeler, puffing and panting, tied up to take on a cargo of cattle. Cowboys from along the Colorado, Guadalupe, Nueces and San Antonio Rivers brought their herds and enjoined the pleasures of a gay city."

MELTING POT
The Indianola census of 1870 showed the population a true melting pot. Its citizens came from 25 states and 39 other nations or political subdivisions. They came from Germany, Saxony, Spain, New Zealand, Prussia, Ireland, England, Denmark, France, Slavonia, Bohemia, Norway, Greece, Belgium, Italy, Hesse Darmstadt, Bavaria, Mexico, Austria and even little Switzerland.

In 1870, Indianola real estate was valued at $792,641, a considerable sum for that period.

On Sept. 16-17, 1875, Indianola was all but destroyed and all the Matagorda Bay region severely damaged in one of the most destructive hurricanes ever to hit Texas. Nearly 200 Indianola residents went down amid raging waves and the howling winds.

But the town was rebuilt. Many survivors moved away, but many stayed.

Then, on Aug. 22, 1886, another hurricane struck, accompanied by a huge tidal-type wave, and followed by fire.

Indianola had weathered at least three epidemics of fever, numerous storms, a severe freeze and a major fire, but this last disaster left too little to build upon. The place was abandoned.

Nazi Admiral Dreams Of Sailing Again

By JOHN FIEHN
HAMBURG, Germany, Sept. 12 (AP)—Karl Doenitz, the Nazi grand admiral whose U-boats sank thousands of Allied ships during World War II, today dreams of sailing the Atlantic again.

He told a recent visitor: "I would like to sail the Atlantic in a yacht. The sea has got me. After all, I'm a navy man."

Perhaps this in itself sums up the man who commanded Nazi naval fortunes, served a term as a war criminal and retired from the public view on his release. His declaration is supported by a picture that hangs on the wall of his study. It shows two sailors standing on the bridge of a U-boat, searching for prey.

Released last October from an Allied war crimes prison in West Berlin, Doenitz now spends hours in his study, staring at the picture and working on a history of naval warfare.

He tells his friends the book will review naval history "as seen through the eyes of a German navy man."

At his side, as he works, is a wartime book called "Hitler and the Fighting Navy."

A friend recently asked Doenitz what impressed him most in post-war Germany.
"I dislike hypocrisy and sanctimony," Doenitz replied and indicated he thinks there has been a lot of it in postwar Germany.
"That's what impressed me most in a negative way," Doenitz added. He declined to say whether he has noticed anything that pleased him.

But it was typical of Doenitz. At 66, he is still the proud, haughty mariner who briefly held the reins of Germany's collapsing government after Hitler committed suicide April 30, 1945.

The Russians had completely surrounded Berlin, the Allies were on the Elbe and there wasn't much Doenitz could do except surrender. He so ordered—on May 7, 1945 to the Western Allies in Reims, France, and to the Russians in East Berlin the next day.

It was an unconditional surrender, and Doenitz was packed off to an Allied jail to await trial on war crimes charges.

He was convicted Oct. 1, 1946 by the war crimes tribunal in Nuerenberg and sentenced to 10 years in prison. He served the entire sentence in West Berlin's bleak Spandau Prison, which still houses such one-time Nazi greats as Dep. Fuehrer Rudolf Hess and munitions boss Albert Speer.

Walter Praises Immigration Laws

When Doenitz stepped from the prison he told newsmen: "I don't want to talk. I prefer to remain silent."

He hasn't broken his vow publicly. His friends say he takes a keen interest in politics and, at times argues with them for hours. They decline to reveal his political viewpoints.

there can no longer be any justification for pressure by those minority leaders who would jeopardize our established immigration procedures in an effort to enrich themselves politically," Walter said in a statement.

Walter is chairman of the House Immigration subcommittee which drafted the bill signed by Eisenhower today. He also is a co-author of the nation's basic immigration law, the McCarran-Walter Act, and has opposed most of Eisenhower's recommendations for changing it.

Walter, also chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, said he had been amazed at Eisenhower's recommendation to grant permanent residence status to some 30,000 Hungarian refugees "without any security precautions."

"We know now that four-fifths of the many thousands in the first wave of so-called refugees were persons who, in fact, were fleeing the vengeance of the freedom fighters," Walter said.

Kim Crosses Rubicon, Gets Cheers, Boos

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Kim Novak has crossed her rubicon, and she's getting cheers and boos for it in Hollywood.
There comes the point in the lives of almost all top stars when they declare their independence. Having been nurtured to stardom by a studio, they reach a position where they feel the studio is not doing right by them.

It happened two years ago with Marilyn Monroe. Kim Novak now has made the same move. She informed Columbia she wouldn't report for an Alfred Hitchcock loan-out until she got a salary adjustment. Her current wage: $1,250 a week.

Local viewpoints of her action are generally at two extremes: 1. That she is a brave girl who seeks what she rightly deserves; 2. That she is biting the hand that made her a star.

The first view was expressed to me by another young actress of first magnitude. Said she: "I take my hat off to Kim. What is she making—$1,250 a week? Why it's ridiculous. After she pays her agents, taxes and so forth, she probably keeps $400. She's got to live on that. She can't save any money that way."

The converse view is offered by W. R. Wilkerson, veteran publisher of the Hollywood Reporter. He puts the blame on Kim's new agents and argues that tough old Harry Cohn, Columbia's blustery boss, will not be pushed around. He argued that the same agents had tried to wangle a new deal for Rita Hayworth, "resulting in Miss Hayworth's being out of work for practically five years and on returning, hardly resembling the star that Cohn and his studio made over a period of years."

The publisher predicted that Kim "will wait around as long as Rita Hayworth did and suffer the same drop in prestige."
So who's right?

All Male Kitchen Staff

It's meal time at the Birdwell Lane Fire Station and Lt. Alvie Harrison is being served his ration of fish by Lloyd Claxton as John Minick prepares to serve the coffee. This is one of the two crews who serve the station. The firemen here, as at the other stations, prepare their food and with a liberal amount of experimenting, they produce some very tasty dishes. Today the crew gives recipes for baked steak and cracker pie.

Cooking For Themselves Teaches Firemen Plenty

If every man would serve a year on the fire department he would be able to take care of himself in the kitchen, according to Fred Wynn, fireman at the Eleventh and Birdwell Lane station.

If a man doesn't know how to cook when he joins the department, it isn't long before he learns because each man must take his turn in the kitchen, and some of the dishes served are tasty ones.

O. L. Stewart, who works the shift with Lt. Edson Taylor and Wynn, didn't know anything about cooking until Jeff Jenkins took him under his wing and taught him the finer points of cooking at the main station.

BAKED STEAK
One day Stewart and Taylor were working on their noon meal and when time came to cook the steak, which they all prefer, Taylor suggested they put the meat in the oven instead of on top of the stove. All the crew says it's the best. To prepare it, use T-Bone steaks cut 3/4 inch thick. Salt and pepper to taste.

3/4 pound butter or margarine. Melt the butter in heavy roasting pan. Salt and pepper the steak and roll in flour. Dip one side in butter and turn over in pan. Bake covered, at 450 degrees for 45 minutes. If gravy is desired, remove meat and add flour and water.

Wynn got this recipe from his sister while visiting recently in Los Angeles and all the boys agree that it tastes very much like apple pie although there is no fruit in it.

1 1/2 cups sugar
2 cups water
2 tsp. cream of tartar
1/4 tsp. each cinnamon and nutmeg
3/4 lb. margarine
22 salad crackers
Bring to boil the sugar, water, cream of tartar, margarine; add the crackers. Boil for two minutes without stirring. This makes enough filling for two pies baked in the aluminum foil type pans. Sprinkle the cinnamon and nutmeg over the top and bake at 350 degrees until golden brown. The crusts should be baked before adding the filling.

The firemen on duty on Lt. Taylor's crew readily admit Lt. Alvie Harrison can cook anything anybody wants. Working with him are Lloyd Claxton and John Minick. All the men are proud of their new station and the pretty kitchen where they prepare their meals.

With the small number to prepare for, meals can be prepared in less than an hour, and cleaning up is easy. The metal cabinets are white and are covered with gray formica top. The floor is covered with a bright golden yellow covering which they find easy to keep. In fact, these men seem to be very happy with their kitchen duty.

These Dishes Will Cut Down On Kitchen Time

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
The Associated Press Food Editor

Cooks who yearn to stay out of the kitchen might note these two recipes for main dishes that can be put together quickly. We're not saying these will do for a big dinner but they're fine for supper or lunchtime use.

Here, for instance, is a spanking new way to serve corned beef hash (out of a can) that our family enjoyed. The inspiration for it came from the Russian way of mixing chilled beets with a cold creamy sauce.

Originally the sauce was made with sour cream, but because that product is not always available, we're offering what we believe is an excellent substitute using evaporated milk and vinegar.

We were egged on to try these beets with corned-beef hash because we remembered that in New England the two foods are sometimes combined.

Any leftover cooked corn around the house? Cut the kernels from the cobs and use them along with green lima beans and a couple of cans of Vienna sausage for this other quick main dish.

PATTIES WITH BEET RELISH

Ingredients:
1 can (1 pound) beets (drained)
2 tps. sugar
1/4 tsp. salt
1 to 2 tps. bottled horseradish
1-3 cup undiluted evaporated milk
2 1/2 tps. cider vinegar
2 cans (1 pound each) corned beef hash.

Method:
Chop beets very fine; stir in sugar, salt and horseradish. Stir together undiluted evaporated milk and vinegar so milk thickens; stir into beet mixture. Cover and refrigerate to chill and blend flavors.

When ready to serve, open cans of corned beef hash at both ends and slide out hash in one piece. Carefully cut each hash loaf into four slices; place on baking sheet or broiler tray without rack. Broil 3 inches from heat, turning once, about 10 minutes, or until browned and heated through. Serve at once with beet relish. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

SAUSAGE SKILLET DINNER

Ingredients:
3 tps. butter or margarine
1/4 tsp. tabasco sauce
2 cups cooked whole kernel corn cut off the cob
1 1/2 cups cooked green lima beans
1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. sugar
1-1 1/2 tsp. dried crushed thyme
2 cans (4 ounces each) Vienna sausage
1/2 cup light cream

Method:
Melt butter in skillet; stir in tabasco. Add corn and lima beans; sprinkle with salt, sugar and thyme; mix well. Arrange Vienna sausage over vegetables. Cover and cook over low heat 10 minutes, or until meat is heated through. Stir in cream; heat to serving temperature. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Maple Apples

Baking apples? Put a dollop of butter in each cavity and fill with maple syrup.

Saucy Advice

Add minced parsley to that mushroom sauce for steak or hamburgers.

Modern Eves Eat Apple Dishes For Low Calories

Modern Eves—and Adams, too—value the apple not only for its taste appeal but for its wealth of nutrients that boost both health and good looks. Apples contain the 11 nutrients referred to in standard health charts, plus many others besides, and they are rich in pectin.

No fruit is more versatile than the appetizing apple. It can lend flavor fillip to any course of any meal—from a tangy baked apple as a breakfast pick-up to rich, soul-satisfying apple pie for dinner's dessert. In between are endless variations that can be custom-tailored to suit the family's state of calorie consciousness.

Here are two suggestions for using apple desserts as an antidote to avoidpoids. Fresh Apple Chiffon Pudding gives the illusion of satisfying sweetness and flavor richness at only 148 calories per serving.

A helping of fresh apple snow, (the pulp of stewed apples, beaten with egg whites) in a tall sherbet glass garnished with a sprinkling of nutmeg, is a pretty and palate-pleasing bargain at a mere 72 calorie cost.

Try these two boons to dieters:

APPLE CHIFFON PUDDING

Ingredients:
1 pound sliced, peeled, tart apples
2 tps. water
2 tps. fresh lemon juice
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup sugar
2 eggs, separated
1/4 tsp. grated lemon rind
Grated nutmeg for garnish

Method:
Place apples, water and lemon juice in a saucepan. Cover and cook until apples fall apart. Push through a sieve into the top part of a double boiler. Add butter or margarine, 1-3 cup of sugar and egg yolks. Mix well. Stir and cook over hot water until mixture has thickened.

Beat egg whites until they stand in soft peaks. Gradually beat in remaining sugar. Fold into apple mixture along with grated lemon rind. Serve warm or chilled, topped with a sprinkling of grated nutmeg. About eight servings.

FRESH APPLE SNOW

1/4 cup sugar
1/2 cup water
3 medium cooking apples
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
3/4 cup fresh orange juice
1 1/2 tps. pure vanilla extract
1/4 tsp. grated lemon rind
1/4 tsp. salt
2 egg whites, unbeaten
Ground nutmeg for garnish
Combine first 2 ingredients in a saucepan and bring to boiling point. Wash, peel and slice apples. Add to syrup and cook until tender. Soften gelatin in the 1/2 cup cold water and stir into the apple-

Cake Filling

Cook pitted dates in orange juice until they are soft and the orange juice is absorbed. Use as a filling for a white cake; cover with chocolate frosting.

Tapioca Helped

A little grated orange rind and lemon juice benefits vanilla-flavored tapioca mix. Stir in just before cooling.

Swelled-Up Food

A pound of noodles will make about nine cups after cooking.

Give Green Beans New Taste, Look

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
The Associated Press Food Editor
One fine way to dress up everyday green snap beans is to serve them with a scrumptiously smooth sauce. Egg yolks and milk produce the velvet texture of the sauce; dry mustard, pepper and lemon juice give it tang.

This sauce is one for would-be epicures (and well-established gourmets, too) to keep in their repertoire. It has many other uses—not only with such other vegetables as cauliflower, broccoli and spinach—but we've found it delicious with broiled chicken and fish.

SNAP BEANS WITH EPIQUEUR SAUCE

Ingredients:
1 tbs. butter or margarine
1 tsp. flour
1/4 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. white pepper
1/2 tsp. dry mustard
2 egg yolks
1/2 cup milk
1 tbs. lemon juice
1 pound whole green snap beans (freshly cooked and drained and hot)

Diced canned pimiento or fresh sweet red pepper (for garnish)

Method:
Melt butter in a heavy saucepan (about 1 quart) over low heat. Remove from heat.
Stir in flour, salt, white pepper and dry mustard thoroughly. Beat egg yolks slightly; add milk and beat enough to combine. Stir all at once into flour mixture.
Cook and stir constantly over very low heat until slightly thickened and mixture will coat a silver spoon (as in custard); do not allow to boil.

Stir in lemon juice off heat and pour over drained hot freshly cooked whole snap beans.

Garnish with pimiento. Serve at once. Makes 4 to 6 servings. (Sauce may be reheated over hot water but should not be put over boiling water or allowed to boil.)

Potato Cupcakes

Add a slightly beaten egg yolk to that cup of leftover mashed potatoes and spoon into tiny cupcake pans. Bake in a hot oven until hot through and browned.

A Bible Thought For Today

He went into the temple and began to cast out them that sold therein and them that bought. Luke 19:45. — Recent writers have characterized the Nazarine as a weakling subject to fits. They have called Him the Pale Galilean! Evidently they skipped the account of His one tidal wave cleaning up the graft of the crooks who robbed the pious.

Road Goal Is A Real Challenge

We are disturbed and disappointed by the degree of progress on the county's permanent road program this year.

The target, in keeping with a policy pronouncement by the commissioners court, was 20 miles of new permanent road to be built out of county funds this year. Two projects started in 1956 under that year's program had to be completed—three miles in the Forsan area and two miles in the Gay Hill school sector.

Since then there has been a five-mile section on the old Colorado Road made ready for topping. Crews are now scheduled to tackle a three-mile strip south from Salem church to U. S. 80.

This would leave something like 12 miles to go under the projected program. (Actually 22 miles had been lined up, not counting the carry-over.)

The reason given for this serious lag is that severe rains in May and early June necessitated use of all men and equipment in repair work. This most certainly was true, for our dirt road system suffered terrific damage which necessitated emergency repairs in many cases. But by July 1 the county was able to be back on the regular road program. Thus, at best 2½ months were cut off the time crews could devote work to permanent road building. This is about 20 per cent of the calendar year. But unless there is a rapid step-up, our current rate of completion would indicate only 40 to 50 per cent of the year's goal will be reached. The more of these permanent roads we have, the less susceptible to the caprice of the weather will be our system. The policy goal presents a real challenge.

Captive Of His Office

The business of guarding the person of a President of the United States devolves upon the Secret Service. By decree of Congress the President is subjected to constant and vigilant protection, whether he likes it or not—and this incessant watchful care has irked more than one Chief Executive.

All his downings, and uprisings, his goings and comings, are subject to close supervision of his bodyguards. Like it or not, history has shown that this close surveillance is inescapable. Three Presidents were shot down in cold blood. A former President, Theodore Roosevelt, was shot and wounded as the Bull Moose candidate in 1912. A would-be assassin fired at Franklin D. Roosevelt, but hit and killed Mayor Cermak of Chicago instead. While Harry Truman occupied Blair House during White House remodeling, Puerto Rican extremists fought a pitched battle with policemen and Secret Service men with fatalities on both sides in an unsuccessful attempt to assassinate the nation's Chief Executive, not for any specific grudge against him, but to create an incident for political purposes.

It is sad but true that the head of the most democratic nation on earth must be closely guarded at all times.

At Newport, R. I., the other day two women rushed up to Mr. Eisenhower and soundly bussed him, before anyone could intervene. As it turned out they were just being friendly, and the President took the incident with good grace.

But it is a safe bet the Secret Service men were startled and dismayed, and scared out of a year's growth. A casual approach to the person of the President is not to be taken lightly. There is the story of the Texan, conferring with Franklin D. Roosevelt in his private office, who reached into his hip pocket for a handkerchief to mop his brow. He was instantly pounced upon by the President's bodyguards, and his hands pinned behind his back before he could say Jack Robinson.

Because of the kissing incident, and the presence of the public on the course where Ike plays golf, and the general crowded conditions of his immediate environs, Mr. Eisenhower—or his guardians—may decide to cut short his vacation period there. There is talk about a fishing trip along Maine's remote coastal areas. The fish have not been behaving well at Newport, and like all fishermen, is said to be hankering for some action.

If and when the decision is made it probably will be made not by Ike but by the men held responsible by Congress for his safety. Their word goes.

Court Decision Not Within Constitution

WASHINGTON — Letters from readers of these dispatches in recent months have asked this correspondent whether, in view of his criticism of the Supreme Court's decision of 1954, he himself believes in "segregation" in the schools.

An objective analyst of public affairs learns to subordinate his personal views to a dispassionate and impartial examination of the constitutional issues themselves. This writer, for example, was born in Philadelphia and was educated in "integrated" public schools in Buffalo, N.Y., where one of the star athletes of the football and basketball teams was a Negro and was one of the most popular personalities in the school. This writer recalls his friendship with him in those years and doesn't remember any untoward incidents involving Negroes ever occurring at the high school in question.

As for "integration" today, this correspondent has no personal objection to it and would not hesitate, if he were a student again, to enroll in an "integrated" school.

Then why, it is asked, does the writer criticize the Supreme Court for declaring unconstitutional the state laws that deny Negro students entrance to public schools unless the races are separated?

The answer is that this correspondent firmly believes that the Supreme Court in its decision really violated the Constitution and actually accepted the doctrine that the Negro, despite his educational attainments in recent years, still feels "inferior" to the white man. The decision is to be deplored because it is a reflection on the Negroes and constitutes an insult to all those who take pride in their color.

Many people who talk glibly about the Supreme Court decision of 1954 have never taken the time to examine carefully what the Court really did say.

In the first place, the Court declared that all previous cases in history were decided by the highest tribunal on the theory that, if equal facilities in education were provided, then there was no violation of the 14th Amendment, which says that there must be "equal protection of the laws" to all citizens.

The Court, moreover, in its 1954 decision said: "We come then to the question presented: Does segregation of children in public schools solely on the basis of race, even though the physical facilities and other 'tangible' factors may be equal, deprive the children of the minority group of equal educational opportunities? We believe that it does."

But why should the Negro students be formally stigmatized as a "minority group"? In the city of Washington, for instance, the Negroes in public schools far outnumber the white children, and this is true of various other localities in the country. The Supreme Court, however, introduces an "intangible" factor as follows:

"To separate them (Negro pupils) from others of similar age and qualifications solely because of their race generates a feeling of inferiority as to their status in the community and may affect their hearts and minds in a way unlikely ever to be undone."

But will Negroes concede that mere separation from a certain school creates among them a feeling of "inferiority"? How can anyone with pride of color accept the idea? If such a concept is valid, isn't the "inferiority" intensified when a Negro student discovers that many private schools in the same community are increasing their enrollment of children by claiming a constitutional right to bar Negroes? And is "inferiority" erased if the attitude of the white students toward Negroes or that of the Negroes toward whites during attendance at the "integrated" public schools continues to be one of alleged disparagement?

How can the Supreme Court control the thoughts and attitudes of any individual on so abstract a subject as "inferiority" or "superiority"? How can it "equalize" the feeling of the poor boy toward the rich boy with better clothes and an auto of his own? Will it be necessary to get federal injunctions, with a threat of jail penalties, to compel white and Negro students in the South to alter their mental attitudes toward one another in the playgrounds of the school—also supported by public funds?

There's nothing in the Constitution which permits the federal government to exercise any control over the educational process such as is involved in the right of each school board to assign pupils to any school or classroom that may seem desirable from the standpoint of education or custom.

Private schools now get tax exemptions from the federal and state governments. If the Supreme Court carries its theories of federal power to a logical conclusion, it can also prohibit segregation in any private school. Will it next attack parochial schools on the ground that the Constitution permits no teaching of religion in the schools, and hence, theoretically the federal government has a right to say whether religion shall be taught in any schools that receive money benefits from the federal or state governments?

It is because the Supreme Court has abandoned long-standing precedents of constitutional law and sought to legislate in the fields of sociology and psychology that the 1954 decision has come under such vehement attack from lawyers and laymen. It has always seemed to this writer that questions of education and community life are matters for the states and local governments—not for the federal government in far-off Washington—to regulate.

James Marlow Faubus Surrounds Himself With Plots

WASHINGTON — Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas not only has surrounded his actions with mystery but has pictured himself as the target of plots and plans that range from tapping his wires to arresting and assassinating him.

He telegraphed President Eisenhower Sept. 4 that "I have strong reasons to believe" the FBI was tapping his telephones. This was after he used National Guardsmen to keep Negro children from a school ordered integrated by a federal judge.

U.S. Dist. Atty. Osro Cobb of Little Rock promptly said: "Such a belief is wholly unwarranted."

When newsmen asked Faubus a few days later the basis for his belief about the phone taps, it came down to this:

He said he had worked with the FBI in his Army days and "I know what FBI methods are; I do not have the least doubt that they tapped my telephone wires."

He has told newsmen he heard of a plot to assassinate him, a plot organized in a Northern city which he wouldn't name. He said he had heard a group was setting out to "bump" him off.

In his wire to Eisenhower he said he had been reliably informed that federal agents in Little Rock were discussing plans to arrest him. Eisenhower's press secretary James Hagerty denied this. Faubus hasn't been arrested yet.

Since calling out the guardsmen Sept. 2 to keep the Negro children out of Little Rock's Central High School, Faubus has pretty much secluded himself in his mansion, which he also surrounded with guardsmen.

Newsmen asked him: Why the seclusion and the guardsmen? He said: "For security reasons and others I couldn't discuss."

As his excuse for calling out the guardsmen Sept. 2, Faubus said he had evidence that violence was threatened and he spoke of caravans of people descending on Little Rock if the school was integrated.

The city's mayor, Woodrow Mann, a critic of Faubus' use of the troops, called this statement a hoax. After the troops had been keeping the Negro children from school two days, Mann said: "The Little Rock police have not had a single case of violence reported to them."

The GOP was betrayed by an amateur politician, but the Democrats received the unkindest cut of all from a professional.

It was an amateur, Maxwell H. Gluck, newly-appointed as ambassador to Ceylon, who snafued his party when he flunked his oral tests before a Senate committee. The Senate group was cruel enough to believe that Gluck should know of and be able to pronounce the names of the Prime Ministers of Ceylon (Solomon West Ridge Dias Bandaranaike) and India (Jawaharlal Nehru).

Both are jawbreakers, all right. But Gluck will have done his country a tremendous service if this incident serves to focus the attention of the electorate on the hard fact that it and its Congressional representatives have always been too stingy to support the foreign service and our ambassadors in the manner required by diplomatic procedure.

In every administration, these ambassadorial plums have too often gone, not to qualified career diplomats, but to rich men who have made substantial contributions to the party treasury and who are able to pay the necessary freight that Uncle Sam should have assumed decades ago.

Johnny Can't Write, Either

Something really ought to be done about people's handwriting. Before it gets any more costly.

Already, according to the Sheaffer Pen Co., poor handwriting is costing the nation's business owners millions of dollars a year. Not to mention the headaches and frayed nerves.

Americans simply can't write. Seems like in recent years it has been fashionable to scrawl off your signature in some unintelligible hodge-podge of straight and curved lines. That practice quickly spread to other writing, with writers quickly losing the ability to take pen in hand and turn out any sort of legible script.

Sheaffer says department stores are particularly heavy losers because of clerks' inability to produce readable sales slips. Many concerns also have complained that the writing pinch has crippled their employment programs. Personnel managers often are unable to read the writing of job applicants. Often, they let good men get away because they have no way of finding out who they are.

The Herald probably suffers as much as anyone in Big Spring from poor handwriting. I'll bet we lose six or seven man-hours a day because the typesetters and others can't read what someone had to say.

School people also are becoming concerned about writing. An article in Texas School Business recently pointed out that most schools aren't doing the job they used to with penmanship. There's a number of reasons for the breakdown, the school magazine said.

For one thing, there's no such thing as a standard writing instrument. The old pen staff and nib has been thrown out in favor of about 20 types of pens that write under water and everywhere except on paper.

Both Texas School Business and the Sheaffer Company offered some suggestions for improved writing.

The five fundamentals for good script are proper slant, size, alignment, spacing and letter formation. If you get all those right, your writing is guaranteed to be readable.

Letter formation probably is the most important. Do it properly and your "a" won't look like an "o," the "n" won't resemble a "u," and you won't get the "p" and "q" mixed up.

So if you really want to learn how to write, get a good pen and practice. —WAYLAND YATES

Getting The Best Man For The Job

Both the Republicans and the Democrats have recently had their separate crosses to bear via public humiliation. But it is one woman's opinion that the chagrin cuts deepest with the Democrats. The GOP was betrayed by an amateur politician, but the Democrats received the unkindest cut of all from a professional.

It was an amateur, Maxwell H. Gluck, newly-appointed as ambassador to Ceylon, who snafued his party when he flunked his oral tests before a Senate committee. The Senate group was cruel enough to believe that Gluck should know of and be able to pronounce the names of the Prime Ministers of Ceylon (Solomon West Ridge Dias Bandaranaike) and India (Jawaharlal Nehru).

Both are jawbreakers, all right. But Gluck will have done his country a tremendous service if this incident serves to focus the attention of the electorate on the hard fact that it and its Congressional representatives have always been too stingy to support the foreign service and our ambassadors in the manner required by diplomatic procedure.

In every administration, these ambassadorial plums have too often gone, not to qualified career diplomats, but to rich men who have made substantial contributions to the party treasury and who are able to pay the necessary freight that Uncle Sam should have assumed decades ago.

Much can and is forgiven on an Amateur Hour. But when the professionals throw a spanner in the works, it is something else again. The Democrats are red of face and snorting fire because an experienced professional politician of the true faith had the unmitigated gall to bestow a splendid political plum, not on a deserving Democrat, but on a non-qualified to do the best job under the circumstances.

This terrible betrayal of all party political principles is laid at the door of Joseph P. McMurray, State Housing Commissioner of New York (who didn't get that job because he's a political novice).

When McMurray needed a person to become director of the State Housing Division's Management Bureau at a fat salary of $11,320 annually, he broke every political rule and precept. He—hesitate to describe the depths to which he sank—ran an advertisement in the papers in an attempt to find a qualified man for the job when qualified men—at least politically, and that's all that counts—were a dime a dozen in every Tammany clubhouse.

To compound his political felony, McMurray then hired the man from among all the applicants who seemed best qualified—and never even asked his political affiliations.

Well, any sensible person will see that this sort of thing just won't do. The deserving Democrats and the party faithful saw it quicker than anyone else. If this type of cavalier job placement were allowed to continue, what would become of patronage, the very base on which future victories is built? It would be necessary to scratch the maxim dearest to the political heart: "To the victor belongs the spoils."

The Democrats at once set about righting this great wrong, the qualified man simply melted out of the picture and McMurray humbly admitted his gross error in handling the matter, whose only possible benefit would have accrued to the public.

Joseph T. Sharkey, Democratic boss of Brooklyn, spoke for all right-thinking politicians of both parties when he called the situation to the attention of Governor Averell (Honest Abe) Harriman, with the sentiment, "What kind of a way is this to run a railroad?"

Metaphors, if I may rearrange an adage, that politics is the art of the possible by the impossible.

Crisis Planned For Arkansas Test

It is reasonably plain that Gov. Faubus put on his show at the Central High School in Little Rock, not in order to prevent disorder, but in order to nullify the decision of the Supreme Court. He has himself admitted that he was persuaded to act during a visit to Arkansas on Aug. 22 by the governor of Georgia. And although it has been denied from Georgia that the two governors reached an understanding, Gov. Faubus has in fact done precisely what he was told that Gov. Griffin was prepared to do in his state.

The circumstances of the whole affair indicate, indeed prove, that the governor's decision to use the National Guard to keep the Negro children out of the school was taken some time before there could have been any manifestation by the mob. We know on the highest local authority in Little Rock, that of the mayor and of the school board, that the mob disorder did not precede but has followed the intervention of the National Guard troops.

The mayor is insisting that the local police were quite adequate to cope with any trouble that might have arisen if there had been no provocation by the governor's "unwarranted interference . . . to create tension where none existed." If the governor had really been concerned, as he pretends to be, with the danger of mob disorder, he would not have sent in the National Guard until there was some evidence that the local police were inadequate. What, in fact, he did was to supersede the local police before there was any disorder at all.

The governor's conduct in the affair makes it seem very likely that the crisis has been engineered, and that Arkansas was picked for an experiment, and that Gov. Faubus was hornswoggled into providing a test case for an adventure in nullification. It was a smart idea to pick Gov. Faubus and Arkansas. For the governor has not in the past been known as an absolute segregationist. Nor has the state of Arkansas been, like the states of the Deep South, irreconcilable, and there has been some integration in some of the Arkansas schools. If a precedent for outright nullification could be established in a state like Arkansas, there would be little to argue about if Georgia followed suit.

There is very strong internal evidence for believing that the Little Rock crisis was engineered in order to establish a pattern and a precedent for nullification. The evidence is in the fact that the actual situation in Little Rock was, before the governor intervened, the very opposite of the situation on which rests the case of the South. During the summer in the debate in the Senate on the civil rights bill, there came to be a national understanding by all sections of the country that integration is not to be imposed on Southern communities where the white citizens are predominantly opposed.

But in Little Rock the plan of integration was drawn up by the local school board, and it was explained for months to the civic organizations of Little Rock. It was, moreover, an extremely moderate plan—to admit nine Negro children among 1,900 white children, and to proceed gradually over a period of six years to admit a few more handfuls. The Little Rock plan called in fact for a token integration, just enough to establish symbolically the principle, not remotely enough to have any appreciable effect on the social order of the city.

Gov. Faubus, and those with whom he has thrown in his lot, are acting exactly as they would have acted if they intended to precipitate an irreconcilable conflict in the hope that the federal government will accept defeat. They have acted in a manner which, if they intended it, could not have been calculated more shrewdly to spoil the progress towards an understanding and an accommodation which the country owes to Sen. Russell of Georgia, to Sen. Lyndon Johnson and to Speaker Rayburn.

The President cannot, it need hardly be said, retreat and surrender. Gov. Faubus has raised a critical issue which is whether the National Guard of a state may be used to prevent local communities within that state from obeying the law of the land. Is it the right of a state to employ military force to nullify the Constitution?

The President is bound, so it seems to me, not to consider that this affair is settled until a clear precedent has been established which rules out the use of the National Guard as an instrument of nullification. (Copyright, 1957, The NY Herald Tribune Inc.)

Negotiations May Avert Phone Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—A spokesman for the Western Electric Co. says he sees a strong possibility that negotiations today with telephone equipment installers will lead to agreement and avert a nationwide strike set for Monday.

In Washington yesterday, Joseph A. Beirne, president of the Communications Workers of America, announced that 54,000 CWA members would walk off their jobs at 6 a.m. (local time) Monday in all states except Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire. Also affected would be the District of Columbia.

In New York last night a spokesman for WE, manufacturing arm of the Bell Telephone System, said at the end of a negotiations session:

"The union indicated a strong possibility of a break in the deadlock tomorrow, at the resumption of bargaining."

If this should happen, the spokesman said, "we have every reason to believe that a settlement can be reached well before Monday."

Beirne, in setting a date for the strike, expressed hope the contract dispute could be settled before the deadline.

Beirne said that, in event of a strike, picketing of exchanges in major cities would keep about 146,000 other telephone workers, including operators, from their jobs.

NO CONTRACT
The union has been working without a contract since Aug. 26. CWA workers make and install telephone office equipment. A strike would have little immediate effect on local telephone service in communities with dial systems, except in event of equipment breakdown. A walkout probably could cripple long-distance phoning.

The dispute centers mainly over wages and length of a new contract.

Beirne said management has offered wage increases averaging about 9 cents an hour. He said the union wants an average boost of 11 1/2 cents. The company has been demanding a three-year contract, while the CWA seeks a one-year pact.

The union president said telephone workers, according to government wage statistics, average

Increase In Wool Incentive Price Asked

WASHINGTON (AP)—A boost in the wool incentive price from 62 to 65 cents a pound was urged yesterday.

Wool men told the government the increase on next year's wool is needed to help producers meet higher cost and to encourage larger production so imports can be cut.

Asst. Secretary of Agriculture Marvin McLain said a decision possibly will be made early in October.

The department now pays growers an average difference between the incentive rate and the market price. Payments come from customs receipts on imported wool.

Don Clyde, president of the National Wool Growers Assn., said production costs have risen 7 per cent in two years. He said the wool act seeks an annual production of up to 300 million pounds. He said output has been nearly 75 million pounds short of this.

"Now to accomplish the full intent for which the act was instituted—that of substantially moving toward the goal of increased wool production—we as producers feel that an incentive level of not less than 65 cents is necessary for the 1958 marketing year," Clyde said.

"Cost increases are continuing in freight rates, marketing costs, labor, interest rates, land costs, prices of trucks, gasoline, groceries and practically all other items the sheep producer has to purchase."

Confidential Trial Called Witch Hunt

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The State of California is trying to put Confidential out of business in a "witch hunt," the defense has contended at the magazine's criminal libel trial.

"The indictments were returned not to punish someone but to put a magazine out of business," Atty. Arthur J. Crowley said yesterday in his final argument to the jury.

"Confidential has the biggest newsstand sale in the nation. A very large segment of the public reads it. It has a circulation of four million copies with at least 20 million readers."

Crowley told the jury that the issue of freedom of the press is at stake.

"When you start encroaching on freedom of the press, where do you end?" he asked.

"When you start out censoring you end up with book-burning. You may not like Confidential, but that doesn't mean you have the right to tell others that they can't read it. If all the books that are not for teen-agers and adolescents are taken away, you will end up with suppression of thought."

Confidential and its sister magazine Whisper, and Marjorie and Fred Meade and the Hollywood Research, Inc., which they set up, are charged with conspiracy to commit criminal libel and to publish lewd and obscene matter.

Crowley said the motion picture industry protects an element within its own ranks which has "brought disgrace upon Hollywood."

"It is unfortunate," he said, "that a segment of movie people have brought disgrace upon Hollywood. But unlike the federal government that weeds out homosexuals and other undesirable elements, the motion picture industry goes to great lengths to protect them."

Crowley asserted prosecution witnesses who testified about movie stars were brought to the witness stand "under coercion and fear."

He charged, as he had earlier in the trial, that movie executives persuaded a starlet to perjure herself by giving Confidential a false affidavit so a libel suit could be filed.

Crowley accused producer Paul Gregory of perjuring himself when he testified for the prosecution that Mrs. Meade tried to blackmail him. Gregory had said that Mrs. Meade told him he could keep a scandal story about himself. Charles Laughton, Elsa Lanchester and Robert Mitchum out of Confidential by paying $900 to $1,000.
