What was heralded as a mass prayer meeting at Little Rock is conducted at the Central Baptist Church, a group which believes the Bible teaches segregation of the races.

School Bus Rescued As Rain, Floods Hit State

Rising creeks trapped a school bus Monday as torrential rains swept parts of Texas, and state police and others rescued the five children and two adults in the vehicle by boat.

Rains Light In This Area, No Damages

Rains of Saturday night and early Sunday which caused devastating floods in many parts of the state, were restricted to relatively light showers in most of the Howard County area.

Corrupt Practices, Water On Agenda

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel called on the Legislature for a fast cooperative effort to protect state's rights with new water laws, and to guard Texas against "demagogic attacks" with tougher corrupt practices laws.

He said he called the Legislature's special session to meet these issues and not to "follow the easy course of delay."

55th Legislature Opens Special Called Session

Solons Primed For Big Problems

AUSTIN (AP)—The first called session of the 55th Legislature convened today to wrestle with water saving problems, lobbying and influence control, and crime study.

Speaker Waggoner Carr's gavel banged the House into session at 10:02 a.m.

The Senate elected Sen. Searcy Bracewell of Houston, an 11-year legislative veteran, president pro tem for the 30-day session.

The Senate started at 10:02 a.m. Carr in an opening speech told the House the people of Texas prefer "performance to politics."

Committees are appointed, holding over from the 53rd Legislature's regular session that left some business unfinished that is considered vital by Gov. Price Daniel.

Over-riding objections from such top leaders as Speaker Waggoner Carr, Daniel summoned the lawmakers to return today for the first special session since 1954.

His official call listed enactment of further water saving laws, stricter lobby control measures, tougher influence laws, and a commission to study the big, broad problem of crime prevention, as the major topics.

He did not list integration as a subject for discussion, but the touchy topic, freshly spotlighted by the Little Rock school crisis, may be an important background factor in the session.

A strong, militant bloc of East Texas legislators whose votes would be important in accomplishing the primary purposes of the session, first asked the governor to submit integration immediately.

He balked, but has left the door open for future action. If the session disposes quickly of the objectives he outlined, the governor has said he might submit other general topics. Also, he has under study, thus far without comment, another request by the anti-integration bloc that he call a second special session to take up bills to bolster segregation in the schools.

If the segregation bloc believes he would call a second session, it would be inclined to help speed up enactment of the bills urged on the session beginning today by the governor.

Daniel has said that he wants the water, lobby, influence and crime study matters disposed of before he will consider other topics, including local measures. More than 50 are already contemplated.

Oil Progress Program Opens

Oil Progress Week got rolling Monday with the Jaycees hearing a special program dealing with the oil industry.

No time was lost by the "mystery" driver who calls at various service stations during the week. Sunday this driver was handed a folder by George Martinez at Cosden No. 7 at 4th & Gregg, and George was handed a crisp $3 bill for this alertness.

Each day this week some "mystery" driver will give $5 to the service station attendant who may hand out a lucky folder. Next week, some person who filled out the folder will be chosen for an expense paid trip to Dallas for a weekend at the Statler Hilton Hotel, plus tickets to the SMU game.

Nine service clubs have been booked for Oil Progress programs during the week. On Wednesday, winners in the Oil Progress essay contest at Big Spring High School will be recognized. Local winners will have their essays considered in a West Texas contest.

United Fund Reports Set

About $17,000 additional contributions must be reported Tuesday if the United Fund campaign is to stay on schedule, K. H. McGibbon, general chairman, said today.

So far, $31,596 has been reported. Another $17,000 will boost the total to about $48,500 which McGibbon said will give the United Fund 55 per cent of its objective. If the money comes in, leaders believe the campaign can be completed in the next two weeks.

Workers in all divisions of the drive all scheduled to report at noon Tuesday at the Settles Hotel. "Let's try to make this the best report meeting of the campaign," McGibbon urged today. "With the cooperation of everyone, it can be the best."

Timetable For Sputnik

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—The Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory said today the Russian earth satellite will make three visible passages over the United States tomorrow.

The first will be across New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts and Connecticut at approximately 5:05 a.m. EST. The second passage will start at Westhope, N.D., at 6:38 a.m. EST, and become visible at New Albany, Miss., at 6:42 EST.

The third passage should travel over Deep Bay, Ore., at approximately 8:15 EST, and pass in a southeasterly direction becoming difficult to view by the time it reaches Vicksburg, Ariz., at approximately 8:19 a.m. EST.

U.S., Russia Agree To Moonwatch Pact

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Russian and American scientists have arranged to exchange information resulting from moon watch observations of earth satellites.

Leon Campbell, director of the U.S. moon watch program, just back from a conference at Barcelona with his Russian counterpart, told newsmen: "We made arrangements for swapping moon watch observations between the Smithsonian and the Russian Academy of Science. Details are to be worked out."

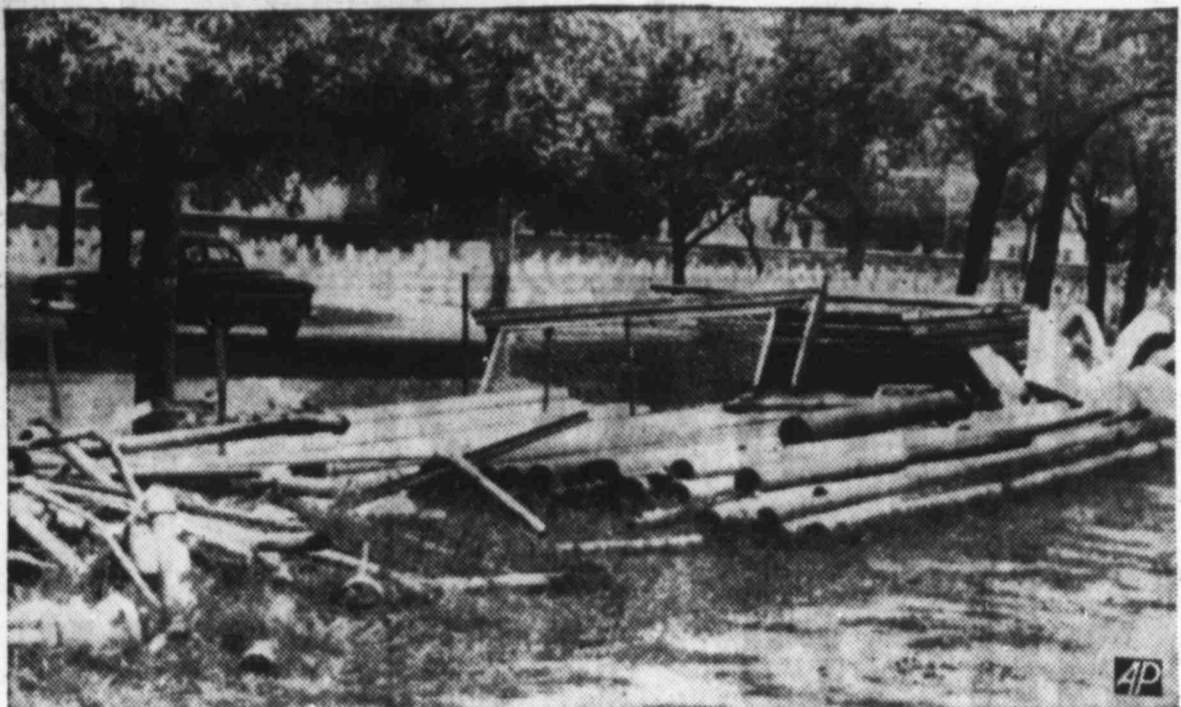

Campbell identified the Russian coordinator for visual observation of satellites as Mrs. A. G. Mashevich, described as one of Russia's outstanding astronomers.

He said Mrs. Mashevich was in the United States in June. The Russian moon watch program was organized since that time. This, Campbell said, "is very fast moving."

Campbell said Mrs. Mashevich told him there are 66 or 68 moon watch teams organized in Russia on a voluntary basis, as are the West's.

Dr. J. Allen Hynek, associate director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory, said the rocket, as it passed over New England shortly before dawn today, was at least of first magnitude if not brighter.

Joseph Ashbrook, an editor of the astronomical magazine Sky and Telescope, said it appeared to him to be yellow-orange in color with three maxima and two minima of brightness during a minute and a half.

Army To Take Over New U.S. Missile Tuesday

WHITE SANDS PROVING GROUND, N.M. (AP)—The Army formally takes possession tomorrow of one of the newest eggs in the United States missile basket.

The Navy was given the job of developing Talos for this purpose and RCA became the prime contractor.

RCA has been reluctant to tell what it knows of Talos' capabilities until formal release of information.

This much is known—Talos is perhaps the nation's first completely automatic missile system.

Men are required only for monitoring purposes. The system latches on to the target—100 or more miles away—computes, corrects, loads and fires itself.

Hearts Frozen In Medical Advance

By FRANK CAREY AP Science Reporter ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—

"Refrigerated" hearts look like a good possibility in the attack on heart disease, two Mississippi surgeons said today.

The researchers did not say what would be the source of human hearts employed in any such future technique.

By "immunological" problems they meant the natural resistance of the tissue of one individual to the implantations of tissue from another person.

These experiments indicate, they said, "that the problems of technique and of physiology of cardiac (heart) transplantations can be solved."

'French Fortnight' To Begin Today At Neiman - Marcus

More than 500 fine paintings, tapestries and textiles—three of France's great cultural manifestations—have arrived in Dallas for the Neiman-Marcus "French Fortnight" Monday through Oct. 28. Included are 32 of the original works of Toulouse-Lautrec from the Museum D'Albi of Albi, France; an exhibition of paintings by France's most promising artists and sponsored by Realites, French magazine; a dramatic exhibition of textiles, including six world famous modern paintings recreated in textiles, and an extraordinary exhibition of tapestries, dating from the Middle Ages to the present. The Fortnight is the joint undertaking of the Neiman-Marcus Company of Texas and the French Comite Permanent des Foires et Manifestations Economiques a l'Etranger (an agency of the French government). It will be the largest and most remarkable presentation of French products and cultural manifestations in United States history and will help celebrate the specialty store's 50th anniversary. In addition to the exhibitions of art, tapestries and textiles, French fashions and foods will also be featured at Neiman-Marcus during the presentation. La Chambre Syndicale de la Couture Parisienne has organized a series of five fashion shows for the first week of the Fortnight. Eight Paris mannequins will fly to Dallas to model the fashions in the first such event in the history of the French haute couture. Food events will include a dinner for His Excellency, Herve Alphonse, Ambassador of France, on Monday night, sponsored by the Dallas Council on World Affairs; and a dinner for the Confrerie des Chevaliers du Tastevin, international gourmet society. Four colorful personalities in the food field will be present during the Fortnight: Maurice Carriere, host and general manager of Maxim's in Paris; Andre Fapion, chef de cuisine of the French liner, "Liberte"; Robert Gourdin, sommelier from the "21" Club in New York, and James Beard, internationally known gourmet and author of more than 20 books on French cooking. French automobiles, old medals and coins, periodicals, stamps, stage settings, glassware, linens, silver and china will also be on display at Neiman-Marcus during the presentation. In addition to the Dallas specialty store, the Fortnight will also encompass much of the city of Dallas. The Toulouse-Lautrec paintings will be on exhibit at the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts. The French tapestries will be exhibited at the Municipal Auditorium. A collection of French posters will be on display at the Dallas Public Library. French speakers will address Dallas luncheon clubs. French movies will be shown at the theatres, and French entertainers will be presented at the supper clubs. Many French celebrities will board a special flight of Air France from Paris to Dallas for the occasion. Dallas will be "twinning" with Dijon, France, in a ceremony at City Hall on Tuesday, the second day of the Fortnight. The mayors of both Dallas and Dijon will be present for the "twinning," whose purpose is to bring the people of like cities in different parts of the world closer together in understanding. The painting exhibit assembled by Realities includes the works of more than 30 young hopefuls who may well become the leading painters of France. The title "Young Hopefuls" was selected for

Volunteers Help Base Personnel With Problems

Volunteer workers who have spent much time in the Webb Dependents Assistance Center are Mrs. Cletus Piper, and Mrs. Thomas McGreevy. Working approximately six hours each Thursday, Mrs. Piper has given more than 123 hours of her time to the program. Mrs. McGreevy has worked a total of 98 hours at various DA duties. Some of the jobs which these two have undertaken include helping new Air Force arrivals find family housing in the Big Spring area, scheduling duties for other volunteer workers, checking out dishes and other articles for emergency use by AF personnel and giving general information to newcomers about the base and the community. The DA Center operates to provide assistance to Air Force wives and dependents in any way possible. Generally, this assistance is in giving information concerning various benefits available to Air Force dependents. A semi-formal course is given by the center in which various phases of dependents' benefits are explained by experts in the particular phase. In addition to the information program, the center maintains a list of available housing in the community, provides dishes and other household equipment for emergency loan, and produces a large group of trained volunteers to assist in the activities of the program.

It's always a pleasure to hear from someone who is pleased with efforts guided in his or her direction and MRS. JOHN ANNEEN, who is in charge of the public school cafeteria, is no exception. She recently received a 'we like' letter printed by one of the elementary school students. The letter read as follows: "Dear Mrs. Anneen: We like the cafeteria so much better this year than we did last. The food is better. We like the trays. We like it because the milk is cheaper. We like the music. We like it also because the food is hotter and the milk is colder."

Local ALA Hosts For District 19

About 40 members of the American Legion Auxiliary attended the district meeting this weekend, it was reported. Registration began Saturday afternoon at the Crawford Hotel, with a Coke party honoring district officers. Mrs. Hilton Lambert of Snyder is president of the 19th District. A cocktail party entertained auxiliary members and Legion members preceding the dance which was given at the hotel Saturday evening. The presidents of the auxiliary gathered for breakfast Sunday morning, with a memorial service following, attended by both organizations. Mrs. Lambert presided Sunday afternoon for a business meeting, during which, the group heard John McMillum of Lubbock speak on House Legislation. The initiation service Saturday evening was in charge of the initiation team from Lubbock.

Missile Program

Sen. William F. Knowland, Senate Republican leader, talks with reporters as he leaves the White House after a 45-minute breakfast with President Eisenhower. Knowland said he discussed the U. S. missile program with the President.

Nasser Pushing Neutral Doctrine

CAIRO (AP)—President Nasser is sending Egyptian arms around the Arab compass in an apparent counter-offensive against the Eisenhower Doctrine.

There were reports of a dual shift in the Middle East: a swing toward stricter neutrality in Cairo and Damascus and a weakening of support in pro-Western Lebanon for the anti-Communist U. S. doctrine.

Nasser pushed Egyptian influence with these moves:

1. The surprise landing of an undisclosed number of Egyptian troops at the Syrian port of Latakia yesterday was followed by a formal display of Egyptian naval force there.

2. Egypt announced it was sending to Libya a symbolic gift of six armored cars and 100-200 rifles. Egypt offered arms to Tunisia in September and sent Vampire jet planes to the Saudi Arabian air force in August. Both Libya and Tunisia endorsed the Eisenhower policy and Saudi Arabian King Saud at least tacitly approved it.

3. Egypt moved to weld stronger military ties under the joint command which includes Egyptian, Syrian and Saudi Arabian forces. With the arrival of Egyptian troops in Syria, preceded by Egyptian technicians, the two governments declared their determination to stand together against any aggression from Turkey.

HEAL RIFTS

The campaign to rebuild Egyptian influence was accompanied by further maneuvering to heal the rifts in the Arab world.

Lebanon, previously under bitter attack from Egypt and Syria over its endorsement of the Eisenhower Doctrine, was reported asking the United States to let it renege on that endorsement. Lebanon might have little to lose, since she has received almost all her share of the 200 million dollars Congress appropriated for the American campaign against Communist aggression in the Middle East.

King Saud, who is visiting in Lebanon, was said to be urging a Lebanese reversal as a contribution to Arab unity.

A trend toward greater neutrality by Egypt and Syria seemed to be evidenced by these reports:

Beirut sources said Syria's President Shukri Kuwaty and Akram Hourani, leader of the dominant Baath (Arab Socialist Resurrection) party may be teaming up to try to curb pro-Soviet leaders in the government.

The reported targets were Maj. Gen. Afif Bizry, army chief of staff; Defense Minister Khaled el Azen, and Public Works Minister Fakher Kayali. All three are pro-Soviet and anti-West.

MORE NEUTRALISM

In Cairo, the government ordered a more genuine neutralism in its propaganda.

The arrival of Egyptian forces in Syria seemed to be more of a diplomatic move to draw the two countries closer together than a military move actually designed to defend Syria.

The armed forces of Syria are estimated at 50,000 men and of Egypt at 100,000 men. The combined armies would be no match for Turkey's well-trained army of about 500,000.

Washington had no immediate official comment on the troop landings.

Diplomatic sources in London and Beirut interpreted the movement as a political gesture.

Budget Makers Busy Working Up Next Outlay

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14 (AP)—This is the time of year when the poor taxpayer really needs a friend—a real penny-pinching champion of a friend.

In Washington, experts are whipping together their shopping list for next year.

Come January, President Eisenhower will take that shopping list to Capitol Hill and present his budget for 1959's fiscal year—the 12-month period beginning next July 1.

No one can say right now just how big that budget will be. The last one—on which the government is now operating—was for nearly 72 billion dollars, an all-time record for peacetime.

The President's advisers want to keep the 1959 budget at or below the fiscal 1958 figure. Right now that's more hope than firm expectation. Two factors alone could bring a swing of billions of dollars: the international situation and the wage-price spiral.

It's a near-miracle the budget makers even come close to guessing how much the government is going to take in and how much it's going to spend in a year.

The federal budget starts out as the germ of an idea, and winds up 16 months later as about 1,100 pages of facts, figures and estimates.

Last March the staff of the Budget Bureau, along with Treasury experts and members of the Council of Economic Advisers, began taking serious readings of the international and economic barometers.

In April the outlook was discussed with the President and his Cabinet. Then the biggest of the government agencies—and some of them are big indeed—submitted preliminary estimates of their financial needs. These estimates, in turn, were compared with estimates of revenue as developed by the Treasury Department.

Practically every year the bureaucrats say they are going to need more money than the tax people say is going to be available. Then the decision has to be made: cut the programs to fit the revenue, or raise taxes to fit the programs?

Basically, it's a problem faced by most families at one time or another. Should the purchase of a new car be put off until there's money in the bank to pay for it? Or should the car be bought on the installment plan, which means going into debt? Maybe we ought to forget the car and buy a bicycle.

This year the administration decided to hold spending as low as possible in fiscal 1959 so there would be leeway for a tax cut next year.

With that in mind, preliminary estimates submitted by the various departments—Commerce, Labor, Defense, Post Office, and so forth—were sent to Budget Bureau experts for close examination.

Eventually peace of sorts is reached, all the loose ends are tied together, and the President sends his budget to Congress. This he says, is what the government is going to take in during the fiscal year, and this is what has to be spent for the good of the nation.

Then the fun really starts. Congress whacks the budget here, and pads it there. It cuts out some of the President's programs, and adds some of its own.

NAACP Leader Is Named By White In Abortion Case

MONROE, N.C. (AP)—A Negro physician who is vice president of the Union County chapter of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People was charged yesterday with performing a criminal abortion on a white woman.

Dr. A. E. Perry was arrested and charged with performing an abortion on Mrs. Lille Mae Rape on Oct. 4. A prominent white citizen, J. Ray Shute, posted bond of $7,500 for Dr. Perry.

City Police Chief Al Mauney said the woman signed a statement.

Dr. Perry denied the charge, saying it was part of the "continuing efforts to break me down." He said that he meant efforts of white officials he said were opposing him in his work with the NAACP.

It was Dr. Perry who charged recently that a Ku Klux Klan motorcade and a group of Negroes exchanged gunfire near his house. Chief Mauney denied that any shots were fired.

Mauney said there was no connection between Perry's arrest and recent KKK activity in the county.

Shute said he signed the bond for the physician "to perform a service for the community." He was a vice president of the Monroe County Council on Human Relations, but resigned from the bilingual group last April.

A preliminary hearing for Dr. Perry is scheduled Friday.

Eat Roast Duck—Corned Beef and Cabbage—Welsh Rarebit—Without Distress!

It's great to be able to eat anything you like with never a worry of acid indigestion. Now smart folks who would otherwise suffer gas, heartburn, sour stomach and acid indigestion, enjoy their favorite dishes without fear of acid disturbances, by neutralizing excess stomach acids before stomach upsets start.

Why don't you profit by their simple secret? When you know you have eaten "not wisely but too well" or at the first sign of acid indigestion from any other cause, why not do as so many smart folks do—take safe, effective, pleasant NEUTRACID?

There's nothing better. NEUTRACID is not a laxative—neutralizes excess acids quickly—soothes irritated mucous membranes.

Get a bottle of NEUTRACID today and be prepared to get quick relief. You will be glad you did! On sale at all good druggists.

Brando's Bride Stirs Question

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The question of whether Marlon Brando's bride was Anna Kashfi, Indian actress, or Johanna O'Callaghan of Cardiff, Wales, still has Hollywood buzzing today.

It appears possible that she was both; that is, that Joan O'Callaghan, actually born in India, took an Indian name and atmosphere for her theatrical career.

On the other hand, she told Hollywood friends that she was Indian and on her marriage license she listed her birthplace as Darjeeling, India, and her father as Devi Kashfi.

Nevertheless, William Patrick O'Callaghan of Cardiff, a Welsh factory worker and former railroad man in India, says that Anna Kashfi is his daughter, Joan, born in India while he was employed there. And MGM studio says her paychecks were issued in the name of Johanna O'Callaghan.

Whether she is Anna or Joan, the 23-year-old beauty is now Mrs. Marlon Brando and has been since she and the 33-year-old actor were married in nearby Eagle Rock Friday.

Elizabeth, As Canada's Queen, To Open Parliament Session

OTTAWA (AP)—Elizabeth II, as Queen of Canada and in her white satin coronation dress, today opens the 23rd session of the Canadian Parliament. She is the first reigning monarch to perform that function.

Weather permitting, the Queen and her husband, Prince Philip, were to drive from Government House in Parliament Hill in the horse-drawn open state carriage. Flags and bunting line the three-mile route of the ceremonial drive, and a brilliant display of military splendor was arranged—bright uniforms and medals, bands, flags and marching men.

The ceremonies in Parliament, being carried to Elizabeth's 16 1/2 million Canadian subjects by television and radio, were planned to maintain all the rich color and deep-seated tradition of Old World Britain and New World Canada. As in England, the Queen may not set foot in the elected House of Commons. The historic ceremonial was set in the smaller Senate chamber, a magnificent vaulted room of red and gold.

SPEECH FROM THRONE

Flanked by Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and Prince Philip, the Queen was to read—in English and French—the traditional "speech from the throne" outlining the new Conservative government's program. It was written for her by Diefenbaker's Cabinet. The schedule for the second full day of Elizabeth's Canadian visit also included a meeting with her Privy Council for Canada; a reception at Government House for the high commissioners of the Commonwealth countries, the heads of foreign missions and their wives, and, at night, a state dinner followed by a state reception for some 500 government officials, diplomats and others. Elizabeth and Philip drove in brilliant sunshine yesterday morning to the Canadian National War Memorial, where they left a wreath of oak and maple leaves and then talked with a lineup of war veterans. A crowd of 10,000 cheered the smiling couple.

Homecoming Is Set At H-SU

ABILENE — Hardin-Simmons University ex-students from all across Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Louisiana and from as far away as California are expected to arrive in Abilene for the big H-SU Homecoming Oct. 18-19.

Trustee Latimer, alumni director, is general chairman of the annual event. Ex-students will begin arriving on the campus Oct. 18 for a giant collegiate pep rally that night coupled with a coffee-donut session at Rose Field House. The famous Cowboy Band, directed by Marion B. McClure, will play for the coffee at 10 p.m.

Friday's activities will be climaxed by a bonfire at the H-SU rodeo grounds. Cowboy Coach Sammy Baugh will give a pep talk at the rally.

The Cowboys meet the University of Wichita, Kan., in the homecoming football game at 8 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 19.

Homecoming activities will get underway early Saturday with a breakfast at 7:30 a.m. for exes of Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatics fraternity, at Mack Epler's Restaurant.

Saturday activities include coffee for former H-SU queens at 10 a.m. in South Hall; ex-student association officers' meeting at Hotel Wooten at noon; lettermen's luncheon to be held simultaneously; all other exes invited to luncheon in the H-SU dining hall; former Cowgirls to have Coke party at 1:30 p.m. in the Student Center; homecoming parade at 3 p.m.; open house in all dormitories at 4 p.m.; tea for former Alpha Chi members at 1442 Lowden; class meetings at 5 p.m. in Abilene Hall; barbecue (50 cents a plate) at 5:30 p.m. in Rose Field House.

From the Memorial they drove to Old Christ Church Anglican Cathedral, where a crowd of 2,000 waited. There the prince, a lay reader, read the Second Lesson, the Parable of the Talents from the Book of Matthew.

The afternoon was spent quietly at Government House, walking in the spacious grounds and rehearsing for the Queen's television speech last night. It was the Queen's live television debut, but she carried it off like a veteran. She spoke slowly, appearing relaxed and composed. Her voice was high pitched but not piping—as Lord Altrincham, a recent severe British critic of her platform manner, contended. Seated at a desk, with photographs of her two children, Prince Charles and Princess Anne, visible at one side of the TV screen, Elizabeth wore a dress of silver embroidered, powder blue lame, a four-strand pearl necklace and a Tudor rose brooch.

"I hope that one day we shall be able to bring our children here to see it," she said. Elizabeth said she had "vivid memories of my journey across the country in 1951" and noted that "great things had happened here in the last six years." She praised the "adventurous undertakings" in the industrial and economic field.

MECHANICAL AID

For the 8-minute, 900-word speech she used a teleprompter and also referred to a script. Occasionally she switched into French for the benefit of the French-speaking provinces.

Elizabeth said she hoped to return to Canada in 1959 for the St. Lawrence Seaway and "then I hope to take that chance to travel more widely across the country."

She told the children of Canada that theirs "is a wonderful and exhilarating country worthy of your very best service when you grow up." "I feel proud and happy to be queen of such a nation."

Negro Mob Beats Officer
NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A belligerent mob of Negroes forced an off-duty white policeman to re-leave a Negro policeman yesterday by attacking the officer. They also turned on more than a dozen other officers called to the scene. Patrolman Alphonse Guichard, in civilian clothes, said he arrested George Martin, 28, after chasing him at 70 m.p.h. Guichard said he was searching Martin when the mob formed. He said the Negroes started punching him and knocked him to the ground. The disturbance developed into a free-swinging fight when other policemen, called by an observer, arrived. The officers arrested nine. Martin, who escaped during the fight, was sought on charges of driving while under the influence of intoxicants, assault, resisting arrest and escape.

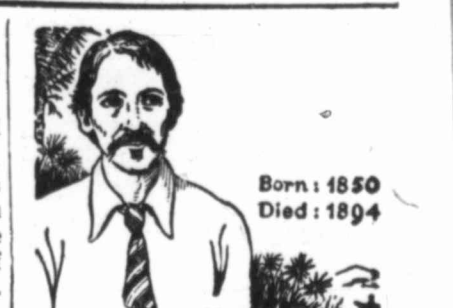

NO BAND REHEARSAL

Music Assn. To Organize Tuesday
There will be no rehearsal period for the Community Band Tuesday night. Instead, members will attend the membership meeting of the Big Spring Civic Music Assn. which the band is sponsoring. Also sponsoring organization of the CMA are the Music Study Club and the local chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America. The meeting is to be held beginning at 7:00 p.m. Tuesday in the basement of the Presbyterian Church. Members and representatives from civic organizations have been invited, along with members of the Pastors' Assn. and those of their congregations who classify themselves as music lovers. All residents who are interested in organization of a civic music society also are invited. The CMA will have as its purpose the sponsorship of music groups covering fields from folk music to classical works. Included in the plans are an orchestra, a choral group, various ensembles and the community band, with other groups to be organized later.

Uncle Ray: Boy's Jingles Later Became Part Of Book

By RAMON COFFMAN
One hundred years ago there lived in Scotland a frail seven-year-old boy. His father, a civil engineer, designed lighthouses, and wanted his son to follow his footsteps. He remarked that when the lad became old enough, he would go to the University of Edinburgh to study engineering.

Born: 1850
Died: 1894
Portrait of Stevenson during his middle age.

Robert, nevertheless, loved the outdoors. Sometimes he would go forth and dig a hole in a bank. This he would describe as a cave. He would make a bonfire, and would use it to cook apples. In his mind he was "being like Robinson Crusoe."

At home the lad was a bit "spoiled," in the opinion of some persons. A nurse—and a good one—took care of him. She heard jingles which he composed while he was in the garden beside his home. The words seemed clever to her, and she wrote them down. After a long, quiet day inside the house or in the garden, Robert found enjoyment in watching the lamplighter who lit up the street after sunset. Having to stay home, he dreamed of long voyages. His bed (in imagination) was his boat. Thanks to the thoughtful nurse, the boy's jingles were saved through the years. Many of them, along with other verses, were published later in book form under the title of "A Child's Garden of Verse." After reaching the age of eight, Robert started to attend school. His health improved and for nine years he carried on a regular course of study. For BIOGRAPHY section of your scrapbook.
