Rains Soak Area, May Hurt Cotton

A slow, soaking rain, which began falling early Sunday morning and continued almost unbrokenly until mid-evening Sunday, dumped an average of 2.5 inches of rain over Howard County and the adjacent areas.

It was the "best" rain in many months from a saturation standpoint. The fall was slow and little runoff developed.

Farmers viewed it with both satisfaction and with some alarm. Its tremendous value in putting a season in the ground was readily admitted; its possible damage to cotton in the fields and now being harvested was being considered.

It seemed to be the general opinion that little damage to the crop would result provided the sun came out soon before the cotton started.

Here in Big Spring, the U. S. Experiment Station reported 2.54 inches. This brings the grand total for the year to 20.6 inches—well above the 18.7 yearly average rainfall for this county.

From all parts of the county came reports of rain equal or greater than the total reported at the U. S. Experiment Station. Even in town, there was sharp variation. The Texas Electric plant had 2.65 inches. Gauges around town showed from 2.2 to as much as 2.7 inches.

Lake Thomas reported 1.8 inches of rain and the lake level rose nearly a foot.

Mrs. J. D. Gilmore at Forsan said that 2.00 inches fell in that community. Lorin McDowell, at his ranch south and west of town in Glasscock County, had 2.4 inches rain and said the benefit to pasture land was great.

Vealmore community had around 2.7 inches as a general rule, according to Ralph Proctor. His place is 14 miles north of Big Spring. Sonnie Shroyer, who lives in the same area, reported a like amount.

The Fairview gin said that its gauge showed 2.7 inches. The gin has ginned 389 bales of cotton and said that the rains might prevent any additional cotton harvest for the remainder of this week.

A. J. Stallings, whose place is in the extreme southeast corner of the county has been notoriously arid throughout most of the year, had 2.5 inches.

Wade Choate said that there was

2.75 inches of rain at Moss Creek Lake. Hudson Landers said his place west of town had 2.6 and P. O. Hughes, who has a farm in Martin County, reported the same amount fell there. Here in town, Hughes said his gauge also showed 2.6 inches. Earl Hull, whose place is north and east of Coahoma, had 2.2 inches.

TESCO reported that its switch station had 2.40; Morgan Creek 7.5; Eskota 10; Odessa 1.48; McCamey 1.91, and Crane 1.20.

The rains made detours around bridges being rebuilt on the Snyder Highway dangerous and traffic was being re-routed on U.S. 80 east to the Coahoma road leading to State 350.

Temperatures here were definitely on the chill side Sunday. The high reading was 50 degrees—dropping to 47 for the low for the period.

Gray skies, occasional light mist sufficient to dim windshields, prevailed on Monday morning. Temperatures continued low.

According to the Associated Press, the rains which fell here Sunday were spreading to Central Texas today. All of the Panhandle area and most of West Texas shared in Sunday's moisture.

The precipitation began Sunday as a low pressure system pushed eastward. Two traffic deaths were blamed on the bad weather.

Official rainfall totals for the 24 hours ending at 6:30 a. m. included Lubbock 2.21, Alpine 1.32, Midland 1.05, Wink 1.03, Presidio 50, Childress 73, Dalhart 17, Amarillo 19, Salt Flat 18, with lesser amounts at El Paso, Laredo, San Angelo, Van Horn, Sherman, Del Rio, El Paso, Laredo, Abilene, Wichita Falls, Junction and Beeville.

The slow, soaking rains began Sunday over West Texas as a low pressure system pushed eastward. Two traffic deaths were blamed on the weather.

Rain was reported as far east as Mineral Wells early Monday. The rain belt spread in patches across to Amarillo, Lubbock and Dalhart in the Panhandle. Fog drizzle covered Midland.

Along the Rio Grande in extreme Southwest Texas, up to 2 inches of rain fell around Alpine and Presidio. Rex Ivey, Brewster County commissioner at Alpine, said the rains along the Rio Grande in the Big Bend National Park were the best since 1945.

Dawson Cotton Feared Damaged

LAMESA — Rains ranged from 2 to 3 inches across Dawson County during the weekend, inflicting what Farm Agent Leroy Colgan termed "considerable" damage on a near-record cotton crop.

At the official weather station at Radio Station KPET, the rainfall was gauged at 1.96. Texas Electric Service Company measured 3 inches downtown.

Only 22,000 bales of an estimated crop of 150,000 bales has been harvested.

Moisture General In Martin County

STANTON (SC)—Slow, penetrating rains brightened range and small grain prospects but brought Martin County's bumper cotton harvest to a halt during the weekend.

Stanton measured 1.7 inches, which was about as light a report as was made in the county. The Tarzan community in northwest Martin had 1.75 to 2 inches, while the government gauge at Springer Store at Lenora in central Martin had an even 2 inches.

Valley View community had 2.3 inches, and John Priddy, eight miles southwest of Stanton, had 2.3 inches. J. M. Yater, five miles west of town, reported 1.75 and Owen Kelly, southeast of Courtney, had 1.75. Reports in the Courtney area ranged from 1.75 to 2 inches. Edmund Morrow, five miles northeast of Stanton, reported 1.9 inches.

Rains Brighten Glasscock Ranges

GARDEN CITY—General rain during the weekend put the best picture on Glasscock County ranch prospects since spring.

The modest cotton acreage in the county was not harmed appreciably.

The 1.8 inches in Garden City and the 2 inches in the Currie ranch southeast of here fell slowly and a misty drizzle was still falling Monday morning. Virtually every drop went into the pastures which were in urgent need of moisture.

Lake J. B. Gains Foot Of Water

Lake J. B. Thomas had gained about a foot in level Monday on the strength of weekend showers.

At noon the elevation was 2,254.04, which gave the lake about 173,500 acre feet. This is about 7,000 more acre feet than Saturday, or roughly 2.3 billion gallons. Some additional water was coming in Monday but slowly.

Squeezin's

Farmer Earl Smith of Fairmont, Minn., jokingly wrings out an ear of corn to illustrate the plight of Minnesota farmers. Much of the corn in the area contains more than 30 per cent moisture, the result of lack of drying weather and a killing frost. Other farmers, who will probably doubt the amount of water Smith is squeezing out of the ear of corn, are delaying harvest in hopes the corn will dry in the field.

Local Woman Is Killed In Wreck Near Big Lake

Mrs. Frances Nagiller, 26, of 1606 Cardinal was killed instantly about 2:30 a. m. Sunday when she was crushed beneath an overturning automobile.

The mishap occurred on Ranch Road 33 about six miles north of Big Lake. Injured was Mrs. Thomas Pat Ray, 507 E. 7th.

The two women and their husbands, Bobby Nagiller and Thomas Ray, were en route to Del Rio. Their car struck an accumulation of water at a low place in the road and overturned several times. Mrs. Nagiller was thrown out of the machine, which rolled over her body.

Funeral arrangements are pending arrival of her father from Bermuda. River Funeral Home announced today. However, rites will be conducted in River Chapel by the Rev. H. W. Gaston, pastor of Park Methodist Church, officiating. Interment will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

Mrs. Ray was transferred to Big Spring Hospital from Big Lake Sunday, and X-rays failed to disclose any serious injuries. Hospital officials said this morning she "had a good night" and apparently was recovering satisfactorily.

Mrs. Nagiller was born Nov. 10, 1933, in Guthrie, Okla. She had lived here for the past five years and was a bookkeeper for a Corder Petroleum Corp. She was a member of Park Methodist Church.

Survivors include her husband, one son, Guy Owen, 18 months of age; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Mallow of San Angelo, and one sister, Mrs. Richard Hastings, San Angelo.

Fire Damage

NACOGDOCHES — An estimated $25,000 in damage was caused by fire in a dry goods store yesterday. Fire Marshal Reggie Reagen said the blaze was probably caused by faulty wiring.

Supreme Court Kills Racial Law

Virginia School Measure Ousted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today dealt a death blow to Virginia's Pupil Placement Act.

The tribunal did so by refusing to review a decision in two school segregation cases in which the state's 1956 placement law was declared unconstitutional.

The decision, dealing with tests in Norfolk and Newport News, was given by U. S. Dist. Judge Walter E. Hoffman of Norfolk and was affirmed by the U. S. Circuit Court in Richmond.

The refusal to review the decision lets it stand unchanged. The Supreme Court's refusal was announced in a brief order which gave no reason and made no comment.

School officials of both Norfolk and Newport News, joined by the state's attorney general, had appealed.

They contended the action of the lower courts "makes even more difficult of solution the most difficult social problem presented to the people of this country in eight decades."

The appeal said Judge Hoffman acted "with undue impetuosity" and said the cases gave the Supreme Court an opportunity "to lead a large section of our country out of the chaos into which the (1954) decision (against compulsory school segregation) has plunged it."

"SIGN OF TIMES" "The time has come for the Supreme Court to recognize and expound the practicalities of life in these areas and to establish a framework within which public education can continue," the appeal added.

The Virginia law removed power to assign pupils from local school boards and division superintendents, and conferred the authority on a placement board. The appeal said the board was authorized to act on stated cases "none in any way involving race or color."

The Circuit Court said the law provided no adequate remedy to Negroes because of the fixed policy of Virginia school officials on segregation, and because another act of the Legislature calls for closing of schools and withdrawal of state funds upon any departure from segregation.

The Circuit Court also noted that Hoffman's orders did not require mixing of races in any school — "they merely forbid school officials from refusing to admit Negroes to any school solely on account of race or color."

The appeal to the Supreme Court contended the Circuit Court should have acted when an other case testing the placement law was pending in the Virginia Court of Appeals; under federal rules the validity of a state law may be decided only by a special three-judge U. S. District Court, and Judge Hoffman should not have been upheld when he found the act unconstitutional "in its face and in the abstract in advance of any action or administration (sic) pursuant to the statute."

Virginia's school segregation controversy has figured prominently in the gubernatorial election campaign now in progress. The election will be held Nov. 5.

Ted Dalton, Republican candidate, has advocated a locally administered pupil assignment plan as the best method of averting public school integration.

J. Lindsay Almond, Democrat, candidate, has argued for massive resistance policies against integration. Almond has said Dalton's proposal would leave the localities to the mercy of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

Almond said the General Assembly of Virginia has endeavored to bring relief from pressure against the localities by putting student placement on a state-administered level.

Dalton said an assignment plan like that in North Carolina and administered by local school boards would avoid what he has described as a threat to widespread closing of state schools.

Demos Accuse Ike In Dixie Racial Strife

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats today accused President Eisenhower of being "substantially responsible for the trouble at Little Rock."

A civil rights statement approved yesterday by 16 of the 24 members of the National Committee's advisory council said the President's responsibility stemmed from his failure "to take an early and firm position for observance of the provisions of the Constitution and laws of the United States."

One council member, Mrs. Benjamin B. Everett of North Carolina, dissented from the accusation, which had the approval of former President Harry S. Truman and Adlai E. Stevenson, defeated 1952-56 candidate.

The civil rights statement was released through the Democratic National Committee. It was the council's first pronouncement on civil rights since the President sent troops to Little Rock to enforce a federal court school integration order.

The Democrats also chided the President for not having appointed the Civil Rights Commission in 1957 and urged him to move "without further delay" to implement that law.

"NOTHING DONE" Six weeks have elapsed since the law became effective, the council statement said, but the commission has not been appointed and an assistant attorney general has not been named to direct enforcement.

"The President has made many other important interim appointments," the council said. "There is no good reason why he should await the next session of Congress before proceeding to organize the commission."

The appointments to the six-member commission are subject to confirmation by the Senate, which will not be in session until next January.

Gov. Averell Harriman of New York interpreted the statement as emphasizing that the Democrats don't intend to yield ground in their demand for an effective civil rights program.

Two other weekend statements from the council dealt with foreign affairs, national defense and economics.

The economic declaration played the Eisenhower administration's asserted "negative" attack on the "worse peacetime inflation" in history and called for a change in the "tight money" policy, tax aid for small business and price stabilization.

"COST OF LIVING" Asserting that the cost of living has increased in all but one of the last 19 months, the Democrats said the GOP has done nothing but raise interest rates and tighten the supply of money.

"There must be an increased supply of funds at reasonable rates for productive investment, home and school construction," the council said. "The first need now is to resume growth—to get production rising again... if living costs continue to rise or do so when expansion is resumed, we must have an active, firm and broadly based policy to insure price stability..."

"Firms with large powers to increase their prices must be told, in terms that admit of no uncertainty, that sound public policy requires price stability. Collective bargaining must proceed within the framework of present prices."

While the Eisenhower administration "has excelled all others in our history in the number and length of piety of its lectures on public morality," the Democrats said, "it has been remarkably indifferent to the immoral robbery worked by what historians will call the Eisenhower inflation."

Painting Of Prince

This painting of Prince Charles, done by President Eisenhower, was presented to Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip while the British royalty were guests in the White House.

N.Y. Gives Queen A Lusty Welcome

NEW YORK (AP)—The Queen of Britain got a king-sized welcome today from New York's millions.

And it was a thrill-a-second event for both monarch and plain citizen.

Busy New York, bursting with civic pride and hospitality, staged one of its historic great greetings to a celebrated visitor. It had all the earmarks of a big, gala picnic spread amid the towering skyscrapers of a city determined to outdo itself in cheery welcome.

For Elizabeth II, it was her first visit to the metropolis linked so closely by name and history to her own empire.

Cheering men, women and children lined the streets to bid her greeting. Boats and ships in the harbor tooted a welcome in a cacophony of sound. Hordes of people jamming skyscraper windows on lower Broadway sent tons of confetti hurtling down during a traditional ticker-tape parade to City Hall.

Elizabeth, followed by her husband, Prince Philip, stepped off a train from Washington at 10:10 a. m. onto a long red carpet at Stapleton, Staten Island, across the harbor to the south of Manhattan.

Her first view of the city was of drab, unpainted buildings of a freight terminal once the Army's busiest embarkation point.

But if the Queen noticed, she gave no sign. Instead, a radiant smile lit her face as Gov. Averell Harriman and other dignitaries advanced to greet her.

Everything else seemed perfect. A bright autumn sun beamed down on the festivities, and a crispness in the still air lent an invigorating touch.

From the first instant, the monarch's visit went at a breathtaking pace. First the Queen and her party were driven through streets lined by thousands of flag-waving Staten Island children to the island city of St. George. A crowd of more than 5,000 there watched her board a gaily bedecked ferry boat for a trip across the harbor.

It was the same eye-filling nickel ride that is a must for every visiting out-of-towner. The Queen, however, got it free of charge.

The ferry took her close by the Statue of Liberty.

She also received a 21-gun salute from cannon on Governor's Island at the other side of the harbor, where an Army installation is located.

The ferry docked at the lower tip of Manhattan and the Queen stepped ashore a short distance from the spot where her parents, King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, disembarked from a U.S. destroyer during a visit in 1939.

Other program participants will include J. William Arnett, Big Spring, district missions secretary; and the following district pastors: Milo Ar buckle, First Baptist Church, Lamesa; Reagan Carr, First Baptist, Frankfort; E. P. Gonzales, Temple Baptist, Snyder; A. J. Martin, Avenue D Baptist, Snyder; Jimmy Nelson, Colonial Hill Baptist, Snyder; R. H. Philpot, Second Baptist, Odessa; Bobby W. Rine, First Baptist, Lorraine; J. L. Cartrite, First Baptist, Goldsmith; and A. E. Hughes, Second Baptist, Lamesa.

Also, Mrs. A. B. Lightfoot, district WMU president, Odessa; G. G. Moorehead, district Brotherhood president, Big Spring; Carl E. Nance, district Sunday school superintendent, Denver City; Wayne Nance, minister of music and education at First Baptist, Big Spring; David Oglesby, music and education minister, First Baptist, Snyder; Owen C. Taylor, district music director, Lamesa; E. W. Wiman, district convention treasurer, Roscoe; and Edward L. Wittner, minister of music and education at First Baptist, Lamesa.

District 8 includes five associations and has nearly 52,000 members. Its 12-county area extends from Yoakum County on the north to Midland County on the south, and from Mitchell County on the east to the western borders of the state.

Cage Embezzlement Trial Begins Today

DALLAS (AP)—BenJack Cage, the fast talking promoter whose ICT Insurance Co. collapsed with a thud heard throughout the nation, went on trial today on charges of embezzling $100,000.

The hearing started only after defense attorney Ivan Irwin was assured that the long list of records and witnesses the defense wants were present.

Cage was his usual jaunty self as he walked into the courtroom accompanied by his wife and a cluster of friends. He smiled and talked as he introduced his wife to persons in the courtroom, including the prosecuting attorneys. The insurance company promoter was nattily dressed in a charcoal gray suit.

Selection of a jury was expected to require considerable time. "We want 10 years for Cage, the same as Hamman got," Wade said. He referred to G. B. Hamman, 52-year-old Dallas insurance executive convicted of embezzlement last Thursday in connection with stock deals of the Physicians Life and Accident Insurance Co. of America.

The charge against Cage involves funds of a Missouri insurance firm, a subsidiary of the Jack Cage & Co. which BenJack Cage headed while running a vast insurance and financial empire.

Graham Injured By Pet Goat

MONTREAT, N.C. (AP)—A pet ram butted Billy Graham three times yesterday, knocking the evangelist 50 feet down a rocky mountainside and sending him to bed with cuts, bruises and a possible fractured knee.

An X-ray examination of the knee was planned in Asheville today, but Graham said he would make his scheduled appearance at the Polo Grounds in New York City next Sunday "even if I have to be carried there on a stretcher." He is to leave his home here Wednesday for a series of meetings which will follow up his New York crusade of this summer.

Graham was in a pasture to feed apples to the three Suffolk sheep he recently purchased as pets for his children when the ram went into action. The first blow started Graham down the hillside. The animal followed and struck him twice more as Graham tumbled down the rocks.

Graham, who had an ax in his hand as he was examining the sheep, used the handle to hold the ram at bay while he crawled through the pasture fence to safety.

He was reported running a slight temperature last night, and the leg was badly swollen. He was treated at his home by his father-in-law, Dr. L. Nelson Bell.

Witnesses subpoenaed include Texas Asst. Atty. Gen. Joe Carroll, who led legislative and grand jury investigations into the affairs of the company. He has been called by the defense.

Other witnesses include James Brophy, Robert Hobby and Jim Rankin, all of Dallas; W. C. Bean and J. O. Toler, Fort Worth; and J. D. Wheeler of Austin. Wheeler is receiver for the defunct firm while Toler and Bean are connected with ICT Corp. offices in Fort Worth.

The state subpoenaed J. A. McFaddin, John Faughn, Don Buckholz and Bob Fly, all of whom prosecutors say were formerly connected with ICT.

Also called as a defense witness was J. H. Mairs, Fort Worth.

WAXAHACHIE (AP)—Lawyer William Duncan died of a heart attack aboard a train here yesterday while en route to a Houston convention. He was 35.

Absenteeism Hits Schools Hard Blow

Sickness—mostly colds and influenza—hit school attendance a devastating blow today.

Absenteeism was ranging from around 20 per cent to more than 30 per cent in most of the city's schools this morning.

The number of absentees was increasing regularly, too, as additional students were sent home with the sniffles and other symptoms.

The illness appeared to be taking the heaviest toll in the junior high school where Principal Tom Ernest reported 402 of his 1,200 pupils absent this morning.

At the high school, 169 absentees had been counted after first-period classes, and the total there was rising as the day advanced. Absent were about 25 per cent of the 700 high school students.

Absenteeism in most of the elementary schools was running nearly 20 per cent.

absent at Washington Place this morning—the lowest rate of absences reported.

At West Ward, 98 of about 320 pupils were absent, Mrs. Ruth Rutherford, principal, said.

Lev Spradling, principal at Airport School, said absences there totaled 64. Enrollment is 468.

Principal M. R. Turner reported 87 absent—17 per cent of the enrollment of 510.

Absences are considerably higher than they were last week in all schools. Authorities said some of the absenteeism probably was due to unpleasant weather and other illnesses, but that most pupils undoubtedly are out because of colds and influenza.

In the administrative offices, spokesmen said they aren't ready to call the outbreak of sickness an epidemic although it was rapidly approaching that stage. Absence of a third of the enrollment will constitute an epidemic, they said. Full reports were being assembled for Supt. Floyd Parsons and Asst. Supt. Sam Anderson. Both were in Austin today for a meeting of school administrators.

Wyatt Tangled In Red Tape

CORUNA, Spain (AP)—Texas flier William Wyatt's forced landing in the Atlantic ocean had him up to his ears in red tape today.

Trying to fly nonstop from Galveston to Rome in a light plane, Wyatt was forced down Saturday 40 miles northwest of Coruna by ice on his wings. A Spanish fishing vessel rescued him and towed his plane to port.

The former Marine pilot, 25, couldn't even get near his plane to get some clothes today. It was under heavy customs guard. Wyatt explained his woes this way: "The fishermen who picked him up have presented an $800 bill for towing the plane to port and for fishing losses during the operation. The fishermen also have demanded salvage rights, which means they want half the value of the plane."

Wyatt said all he wanted to do was repair the small Mooney Mark 20 plane and continue his flight to Rome or return to the United States. He has enlisted the aid of the American consulate in Vigo to free the craft. Wyatt was attempting to break the world distance record of 4,957 miles for light planes by his flight to Rome.

He was believed to have been about 200 miles short when forced to land.

He said that if he could not get the plane freed, he would request the local naval commandant to put the wreckage up for auction to pay off the fishermen. While waiting, Wyatt is staying with an American major.

Plane Crash Ends Intended Wedding

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP)—Four people flying to Las Vegas, Nev., where two were to be married, were killed late Saturday night when their plane plunged into China Grade Bluff.

The party buried wartime four-seater Cessna trainer was found yesterday with the bodies of Kathleen Moore, 19, the bride to be of La Crescenta; Hilding Andrew Linde, 22, her fiancé; and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Lawson Linde, 47 and 42, of Bakersfield. Deputy Sheriff Art Cross said the plane apparently broke up in the air.

Queen Elizabeth and President Eisenhower wear affable smiles and their decorations as they posed before the state dinner held at the White House. The Queen wears a fringe tiara dating back to 1888 and the Order of the Garter sash with a double bar brooch to hold it in place, plus diamond and pearl earrings and necklace. Eisenhower wears the British Order of Merit awarded him after World War II by the late King George VI, Queen Elizabeth's father.

New Mexico Hard Hit By Weather

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—A mass of wet air from the Gulf of Mexico collided with cool southwestern breezes over New Mexico mountains yesterday, bringing death and destruction to the northern half of the state.

More rains were forecast through today.

Three persons died in head-on collisions on highways in the rain belt. A small boy tumbled to his death in the swollen Pecos River. U.S. 64 between Santa Fe and Taos was blocked through much of last night by tons of rain-loosened boulders piled on the highway in the Rio Grande gorge. Several motorists plowed into rockslides before highway crews cleared the route.

Floodwaters flowed as much as two feet deep through downtown Estancia, central New Mexico farming community. Two hundred men battled the inundation with sandbags. An earth dam thrown across State Road 41 through the town finally averted the threat to the business section.

The flood came from a six-foot crest racing down an arroyo in northwest Estancia from the east slopes of the Sandia Mountains. Levees burst under the strain.

Dead in a head-on collision near northern Tierra Amarilla were a young mother and her infant daughter. State Police Sgt. I. E. Salazar said Mrs. Antonio J. Martinez, 24, died instantly. She apparently crushed the child to death in her arms in an attempt to shield the baby, he said. Five others, including a newlywed couple, were injured in the crash.

Mrs. Carlotta Winters, about 50, Las Vegas, N.M., died a mile south of that city in a blinding rainstorm. State police said she attempted to pass a car and collided head on with a heavy truck. A cable holding a bridge across the swollen Pecos River snapped, plunging four members of the Raymond Sandoval family into the stream near the mountain village of Pecos. The father, a son and daughter made it to shore, but 9-year-old Romolo Sandoval drowned.

High water also was reported in the Rio Grande at Albuquerque. Several times the river reached 6 1/2 feet — half a foot above flood stage — and then dropped back as runoff from short, heavy showers dwindled. There was no major flood danger to the city of 100,000 since the river runs between stout levees. Damage to crops was reported heavy in many areas of eastern and central New Mexico.

26,000 People See Texas Prison Rodeo

HUNTSVILLE (AP)—The Texas Prison Rodeo's Sunday performance was seen by 26,000 Col. Jukehai Supansken, chief of staff of the Cavalry Center in Thailand, said after the show: "This leaves me speechless."

The bulls gave a fitting climax to the third show of the 1957 series when a huge Brahman pulling a chariot took a flying leap over the arena stock gate.

Another bull gored Johnny McDonald, serving 12 years from Sherman, as he got trapped at the north end of the arena where two other bulls were waiting for the gate to swing open. Attendees said McDonald may have a back injury and several broken ribs.

U.S. Expert Sees More Danger In Mid-East Than In Sputnik

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—A top American scientist said today he believes the Russians could successfully launch an intercontinental ballistic missile. But he expressed the opinion the Middle East crisis presents a greater immediate peril to American security than Russia's advances in science.

Dr. H. G. Stever, former chief scientist for the Air Force and now associate dean of engineering at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, said in an interview that Russian scientific achievement must not be underrated.

He said launching of the earth satellite demonstrates they are capable of launching an intercontinental missile, but he added it would take a long time to make it a reliable weapon.

In the long run, he said, this country must worry more about Soviet technology than about Sputnik.

He suggested this country must step up its efforts in basic science, research and development, realizing "the Soviets are strong."

From the standpoint of immediate national security, however, he said concern must be directed toward the current tense situation in the Middle East.

He said in his opinion the significant military aspect of Sputnik is that "it shows that the Russians are capable of firing an ICBM."

"I think this is significant," he said, "because it is about as difficult to launch an earth satellite as to hit an earth target, as would be required of a ballistic missile."

Dr. Stever was chief Air Force scientist for 18 months in 1955 and 1956. He is now vice chairman of the Air Force Scientific Advisory Board.

Asked how this country can recoup from Russia's lead in the field of space travel, Dr. Stever made these points:

- "We are not technologically weak. We are capable of launching a satellite and we will soon. It is only a question of getting the work done."
- "We must make sound judgments as to what is important scientifically and militarily."
- "We must step up our efforts in basic science, research and development."
- "The Soviets are strong and we had better start thinking that way. It would not be sensible for us to base our policies on their supposed weakness."

Dr. Stever said he does not believe the Soviet Union has won all the technological races, however. "Russia has technological stature equal to ours. It is hard to say if theirs is better. I am confident that we will keep strong enough to deter Russia from attacking us."

26,000 People See Texas Prison Rodeo
HUNTSVILLE (AP)—The Texas Prison Rodeo's Sunday performance was seen by 26,000 Col. Jukehai Supansken, chief of staff of the Cavalry Center in Thailand, said after the show: "This leaves me speechless."
The bulls gave a fitting climax to the third show of the 1957 series when a huge Brahman pulling a chariot took a flying leap over the arena stock gate.
Another bull gored Johnny McDonald, serving 12 years from Sherman, as he got trapped at the north end of the arena where two other bulls were waiting for the gate to swing open. Attendees said McDonald may have a back injury and several broken ribs.

Uncle Ray:

Geese Were Domestic Birds In Old Egypt

By RAMON COFFMAN

We read about wild geese now and then, but articles about tame geese are somewhat rare. The geese of the barnyard are, perhaps, less "romantic." We never see them rising as a group and making a V-shaped flock which heads southward or northward, according to the season.

There are interesting facts, however, about the tame geese. Some of them have gained a little fame. Barnyard geese have been called "the most intelligent of domestic birds."

In one case a goose became a friend of a crane on the estate of Lord Lilford, a British nobleman. The birds fed together through the day, and seldom were seen more than a few yards apart.

Another goose was hailed as the mascot of a stable of polo ponies. In describing the case, Mr. Lewis Spence said that the goose made a warm friend of one pony, and that the pony and goose "would go with each other to the fields and would feed together as silent friends."

Q. How long have geese been kept as domestic birds?
A. For at least five thousand years. They were kept by the ancient Egyptians, later by the Ro-

Polo pony and his special friend. One old legend says that geese saved the city of Rome.

The Gauls were making a secret attack, and had started to climb the walls. The geese cackled so loudly that the Romans were awakened. The Gauls were driven away.

Q. Do geese have colored feathers?
A. To a smaller degree than most other fowls with webbed feet. The majority of geese have all feathers white, gray or a mixture of gray and white.

The Chinese goose, however, has brown feathers, and is ringed around the neck with yellow feathers.

Syria Denies Turk Peace Talk Under Auspices Of King Saud

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—The Foreign Ministry denied today that Syria is about to take part in mediation talks with Turkey under the auspices of King Saud.

An official statement said Syria will carry through its complaint to the U. N. that it is threatened by Turkish troop concentrations on the border.

Maj. Gen. Afif Bizry, army chief of staff, left today for a visit to Saudi Arabia. But the Foreign Ministry said his trip had no connection with reports that Syria and Turkey had accepted Saud's invitation to attend a conference to discuss the Middle East crisis.

A Syrian spokesman said Bizry's trip is in response to an invitation which Saud extended during the King's visit to Syria last month.

Turkey neither confirmed nor denied the report of an impending mediation conference, broadcast last night by the Saudi Arabian radio in Mecca. There were rumors, however, that Premier Adnan Menderes had received a message from Saud.

The Saudi Arabian broadcast said official delegations from Syria and Turkey would arrive today or tomorrow in Damman, Saudi Arabia.

King Saud returned home yesterday after a 10-day visit to Beirut, Lebanon.

Moscow continued repeating its charges that the United States is pushing Turkey to attack its southern neighbor, which has been under increasing Soviet influence for two months.

An editorial in Izvestia, the official Soviet government newspaper, implied strongly that Russia might use nuclear rocket weapons if Syria is attacked. Izvestia said Turkey has turned the Syrian border "into a hotbed of military provocations."

Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper, charged British Prime Minister Macmillan will try to work out a plan of aggression against the Arabs in his conferences in Washington this week. In Syria and Turkey there still were no signs of general alarm.

The U. N. Assembly prepared to begin debate tomorrow on the Turkish-Syrian crisis. One source at U. N. headquarters said the 62-nation body might hold morning, afternoon and night sessions in an effort to get speedy action.

Arms Research Cut Announced

WASHINGTON (AP)—A two-month old directive which the Defense Department made public only yesterday slashes military research and development spending by at least 170 million dollars.

Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.), protesting, urged President Eisenhower to cancel the Aug. 17 directive "right now, before we cut off some idea in mid-brain that might save the country from destruction."

The order, signed by Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson before his recent retirement, was not made public at the time. It was released yesterday after an account of it appeared in the Washington Post and Times Herald.

The paper said some holders of Air Force contracts for basic research have complained that the harm done to research will be out of proportion to the money saved. A Defense Department spokesman said yesterday that Wilson's intent was for a careful review by each service of its research test and evaluation programs in the light of the current government economy drive.

Monroney called the order an example of "meat ax economy," which he said is "10 times as dangerous as have been the reductions, cutbacks and stretch-outs in the procurement of weapons already in production."

WASHINGTON (AP)—Milk prices are showing an upward trend in most parts of the country.

Turkish Train Crash Kills 50

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—An Athens-bound express and a local train heading toward Istanbul collided in Turkish Thrace last night and railroad officials estimated 40 to 50 Turkish passengers were killed and 150 injured.

While ambulances from Istanbul screamed to the scene, rescue workers probed through the tangled metal for victims. Bodies were crushed in the cars of the local train and sprawled along the rain-dampened ground beside the tracks.

A rescue train reached the scene, about 30 miles northwest of Istanbul, and brought most of the severely injured back to the Turkish metropolis.

The express was called the Simplon Balkan—not to be confused with the famed Simplon Orient Express.

No bodies of foreigners were found. Authorities said most of the dead and injured were in the local train, although some Western-bound Turkish students were killed.

JACKIE DREAMS IN GOLD BRAID

—BUT WILL HIS DREAM COME TRUE?

Ever since he can remember, Jackie has had one dream—to be captain of a big, Navy carrier sailing the Seven Seas. Wonderful dream, but it doesn't look as though it will ever come true.

Jackie lives in a community where there's a serious shortage of classrooms, teachers and good schoolbooks. That means less schooling for Jackie than he needs. Let's see that this doesn't happen to the children in our schools. You can help by supporting our School Board, by attending PTA meetings and school conferences.

By LYDIA LANE HOLLYWOOD — Sandra Dee is one of the most talented teen-agers shared by two studios. I met her for the first time the other day at MGM where she has a featured role in "Until They Sail." She had come dressed for a dancing workout in a fresh blouse and shorts. "Looking neat is the first consideration of a teen-ager," she remarked when I complimented her on her appearance. "I have been modeling since I was 12 years old and I am glad that I learned how to take care of myself. When you form a habit of good grooming, you never feel you are doing anything extra when an important occasion arises. "I am careful about my appearance, and when I take off a dress, I look to see if it needs cleaning. I hate to see anyone wear something that is not clean. "I wash my hair three times a week," she continued. "I got into the habit when I was modeling. Another thing I learned from this type of work is to be conscious of my posture. I think you look so much better in your clothes when you stand up straight. "We chatted about how impatient all teen-agers are to grow up, and

Texas Editors Seek Open Door In Government

DALLAS (AP)—The Texas Associated Press Managing Editors Assn. has decided to try and pry open the doors of government meetings on all levels.

At the fall meeting of the association's Continuing Study Committee yesterday, the editors adopted a proposal to create a committee to develop a program to present to the Legislature. It would seek to give taxpayers full access to meetings and records of state and local governments and official boards.

The Texas Newspaper Publishers Assn., the Texas Press Assn., Delta Sigma Chi, journalism fraternity, and civic groups also would be represented on the committee.

Two rules changes were adopted for the news and photos contests to be held in connection with the group's annual meeting in San Antonio next January.

A category for sports features and columns was added to the news writing contests. The editorial writing contest will be an open division this year instead of two divisions based on the size of the competing newspapers.

The committee sent its wishes for a speedy recovery to Brad Carlisle, managing editor of the Odessa American, who was injured Friday night in an automobile collision near Carrizo Springs.

News executives from throughout the state attended the committee meeting. They heard reports on The Associated Press news and photo reports, prepared under the supervision of David W. Hoster, managing editor of the Victoria Advocate. The meeting was conducted by Bill Collins, editor of the Midland Reporter-Telegram, president of the association.

Robert E. Ford, state editor of the Dallas bureau of The Associated Press, told of his experiences in covering the Little Rock integration story in a question and answer period.

Ford said two of the biggest problems were getting information on what happened inside Central High School and the refusal of many persons to answer questions at critical points in the dispute.

In reply to a question, Ford said he was never under pressure from either side not to be objective in his reporting.

"We wrote the story as we saw it," he said.

Military Cutbacks Now Based On Desire For Budget Cutting

Editor's Note — This is the first of a two-part series discussing the scope and impact of the U.S. military cutback program.

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Affairs Reporter
WASHINGTON (AP) — By next summer there will be a million fewer men in the armed forces than at the end of the Korean War. There also will be fewer military bases and less military buying of hardware and other goods.

Over-all, it is the biggest defense cutback since the wholesale curtailment after World War II. And the tempo is stepping up sharply.

When the Eisenhower administration set out on its "new look" military program in 1953, that objective was based primarily on the idea of nuclear and jet age weapons to provide more firepower for fewer men.

Today there are strong overtones of economy, reflecting the administration's determination to keep the budget balanced and hold national spending within the 275-billion-dollar debt limit.

A series of Pentagon orders, previously issued or now coming out, calls for:

1. Trimming total military manpower from a 1953 level of 3,600,000 to a mid-1958 level of 2,600,000. Still further trimming may be in prospect.

2. Reducing civilian employees of the defense establishment by at least 350,000 from a force of 1 1/2 million.

3. Closing down or curtailing operations at more than 100 bases, government-operated plants or plants run for the government by private firms.

4. Reducing the Air Force unit structure by not less than nine wings—and possibly more. The Air Force had 137 wings last spring. Orders now call for a cut to 128 wings. There have been hints the ultimate level might be lower. A wing ranges from 45 bombers to 75 fighter planes.

5. Cutting the Army to 15 divisions. The Army had 20 in 1953, the same number in 1955. It now has 17. There also are reductions in smaller units.

6. Shrinking the Navy's active fleet to 901 ships by next June 30. Last June, the fleet had 967 ships. There now are about 940.

7. Delaying delivery (termed the stretchout method) or terminating outright contracts for a wide variety of equipment and supplies, ranging from jet bombers to petroleum.

Virtually all the recent, sharper cutback orders are aimed at keeping the Pentagon's spending during this fiscal year under a 38-billion-dollar ceiling.

But the spending hold-down may be applied to future developments and requirements as well.

Pressures created by Russia's claimed success in the long-range ballistic missile field and by the Soviets' satellite launching are bringing increased demands for a stepup in the U.S. missile development effort.

If these pressures result in a decision that more money is needed, there is a good chance President Eisenhower will insist the military find the money for more missile work in its existing funds, through further cutbacks and economies.

The most direct impact of these cutbacks is, of course, on the plans and operations of the military. But there is also an effect upon industry and labor which works on government contracts, and upon communities depending in part on money spent by bases and personnel in their area.

ORDERS ISSUED
Within about two months, the Defense Department issued two cutback orders to drop a total of about 200,000 men from the Army, Navy and Air Force. The first order, posted by Wilson July 16, directed a cut of 100,000 men by next Dec. 31. The second, issued Aug. 19, ordered a further cut of about 100,000 by next June 30, the end of the 1958 fiscal year.

By next June 30, the Army will be down to 900,000 men. In 1953 it had an average of about 1,530,000 men. It was down to a little over a million men last year and had reached a level of 997,000 by last June 30.

The Army is closing down nine ordnance production plants and curtailing operations at five others. It is closing out eight storage and depot facilities, a terminal and a general hospital. Several thousand civilian employees of the Army are thus affected.

The Navy, in mothballing ships, also is reducing the number of its sailors. By next June 30, its manpower will be down to 645,000. This compares with a strength of 677,108 last June 30 and 794,446 in mid-1953.

About 70 smaller Navy installations are affected by plans to shut them down or drastically cut work there.

The Air Force has been ordered to drop down to 875,000 men by next June 30. Its strength last June 30 was 919,835. In June 1953, it had 977,593.

The Air Force is reducing by 10 the number of reserve squadrons and dropping three Air National Guard squadrons.

The Air Force also is closing down about a score of its smaller installations, employing several thousand civilians.

The biggest impact of Air Force cutbacks on civilians, however, is

Fire Kills Mother, 7 Of Her Children

BELPRE, Ohio (AP)—A fire blamed on defective wiring yesterday killed a mother and seven of her children and left three other members of the family homeless.

The fire swept the tiny second-story apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Snider. The father and two sons were not in the building.

Killed were Snider's wife Vivian, 36; four daughters, Linda, 14, Sheila, 11; Mona, 7, and Reta Jo, 5 months; and three sons, Mickey, 9, David, 3, and Danny, 2. Firemen said they were suffocated.

The father and his oldest child, Ronnie, 16, were visiting Mrs. Snider's mother in Vienna, W. Va., not far from this small Washington County community. Another son, Darrell, 13, was in Camden-Clark Hospital in Parkersburg, W. Va., across the Ohio River.

showing in the stretchout or termination of contracts.

The aircraft industry has expressed deep concern about the effect of the reduction of military procurement on plants and on their skilled employees.

A Bible Thought For Today

Watch and pray lest ye enter into temptation: (Mark 14:38)

Locking The Stable Door

Marshal Tito's decision to extend Yugoslavia's diplomatic recognition to the Communist East German government threw a surprise into Western chancelleries, including our own State Department.

But it need not have Tito and Tito's government are and always have been totally Communist. He has made a point of insisting that as between Belgrade and Moscow, Belgrade had the purer and more potent brand of communism.

Since 1949 the U. S. has supplied Tito with $1.4 billion worth of food for his people, machinery for his agriculture, tools for his industry—and planes, guns, tanks and other military goods for his armies.

We did this not for Tito's sake, or to encourage communism, but to encourage Tito to keep up his feud with the Stalinists. It seemed to make sense at the time, for if we stood by and let Russia crush Yugoslavia as it later crushed the fires of revolt in Hungary, it would seem a singular piece of poor business judgment, for Tito had been the first to defy Stalin and assert his independence of the Kremlin.

Then Stalin died or was executed, and his assigns, heirs and successors began courting Tito immediately. The firm of B. and K. humbled themselves before the Yugoslav dictator and he played hard to get, but of recent months Tito has done a number of things indicating his reorientation on Moscow.

Recognition of Communist East Germany is the latest and most significant Tito step toward the Kremlin. None of the Western nations have recognized the bayonet-backed Russian puppets in East Germany, and Tito's action is interpreted as a direct slap at West Germany, to undermine Konrad Adenauer's and the West's plan for reunification of the two Germans.

In other words, Tito is cooperating fully with Russia in the grim business of keeping a Communist foot firmly wedged in the door leading into Western Europe.

So, we are again preparing to lock the stable door after the canines have departed. We are thinking of shutting off Tito's water.

We are also in the beginning stages of aiding another Communist government, that of Poland. Tito's latest hand-biting move should cause Uncle Sam to revise his notions about extending any sort of aid to any sort of Communist country.

Think Of God, Not Satellite

It is difficult for the average unscientific person to imagine an earth satellite becoming a military menace to peaceful nations, but then it is impossible for the average person to realize that science can throw such an object into the sky and keep it there for an indefinite period of time.

They tell him it's been done. He accepts that as a fact. But still it is dream-stuff to him. He accepts the fact without grasping the full significance of the incident.

For his peace of mind, we recommend that he refrain from trying to puzzle it all out. He can not imagine it, any more than he can, by sheer brain-power, evoke infinity in understandable terms. What is there where there is nothing? What is there in a vacuum?

Lay off, it brother, and keep on doing your job; keep up your appointed rounds. Don't bother your noggin about something even the men of science know only a little about, after 6,000 years.

We will tell you what infinity is, what exists where nothing is, what is present in a vacuum.

It is God. God is everywhere at once and simultaneously, now and forever, throughout eternity. God always was, God always is, God always will be.

"Such knowledge is too wonderful for me; it is high, I cannot attain unto it."

"Whither shall I go from thy spirit; or whither shall I flee from thy presence?"

"If I ascend up into heaven, thou art there; if I make my bed in hell, behold, thou art there."

"If I take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea; even there shall thy hand lead me, and thy right hand shall hold me." (Psalm 139:6-10.)

Realism May Help Cement Relations

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21—The boast of heraldry, the pomp of power . . . awaits alike the inevitable hour"—these lines of Thomas Gray in his famous elegy came to mind as the nation's capital welcomes the Queen of the British Commonwealth. For, however much the ceremonies and celebrations here are a dramatic tribute to the steadfastness of Anglo-American relations, the fact remains that these are symbols of yesterday's world.

It is the world of today and tomorrow that gives concern to an anxious America and an anxious Britain.

Even as the Queen was saluting the colonial heritage of our country at Jamestown, Virginia, the secretary of state of the United States was issuing a warning to the rulers of the Soviet Union that, if Turkey is attacked, there will be retaliation by American military forces.

Mr. Dulles likened the situation to the period just before the Korean War broke out in 1950. But just before that event there were no such warnings. Instead, there was an ill-advised declaration that America considered Korea as outside the "defense perimeter" of the United States.

Maybe the stern words of Secretary Dulles are necessary to prevent a local war into which the rest of the world subsequently might be drawn.

Maybe the cynical attitude of some observers here that Mr. Dulles is bluffing and is engaging in a game of what they call "brinkmanship" can encourage miscalculation by Moscow, just as the Nazis miscalculated when they assumed in 1939 that America would never enter the war. Maybe also the Soviet Union is still bold enough to follow up the recent dispatch of Egyptian troops to Syria with a maneuver which will turn the Arab world against Israel and start a fresh blaze in the Middle East.

This is the real situation that confronts the world as the Queen's visit affords a good opportunity to cement America's relations with Britain, which were impaired during the Suez crisis of a year ago.

But in the background is another psychological force of tremendous proportions. It is the force of Russia's spectacular stunt in releasing a "satellite" that goes spinning around the earth. The reaction in America has been one of hurt pride at being beaten and also of grave fear of the portent of the Russian feat.

The hurt pride may be assuaged in the coming months as American scientists launch a satellite of their own. But the fear of the Soviet rulers and what they may capriciously do to disturb world peace will remain. Secretary Dulles showed himself to be very courageous when he lashed out at the Soviet rulers in his press conference Wednesday. Declaring that they quibble and equivocate and do not keep their agreements, he doubted that anything might be accomplished by more meetings "at the summit" or between Marshal Zhukov and President Eisenhower. He seemed to discourage any idea that, something constructive now could come out of disarmament talks or from such four-hour conferences as he had with Foreign Minister Gromyko last Saturday.

It's a bleak prospect for tomorrow's world—a continuance of the tension that has prevailed for several years and a virtual certainty now that tax reduction for the American taxpayer will be abandoned as more and more billions have to be spent for armaments.

For the United States has not been bluffed into submission and surrender, though, to be sure, since the "sputnik" episode, it is discouraging to note that the cries for "peaceful co-existence" seem to be finding more favor with certain sections of American opinion which have always wanted to do business with the Communists.

The cold truth is that the world has cause for anxiety and worry. The Queen's visit is helpful because it brings two friendly peoples closer together. But it is the alliance and combination of the technical, the scientific, the military and the moral forces of the entire free world which now must be consummated if an effective "balance of power" to keep the peace is to be achieved.

Statesmanship—which doesn't mean narrow partisanship in foreign affairs such as so many of the self-styled spokesmen on the democratic side are exhibiting—is an acute need. Maybe it is a time for a coalition conference of the sensible leaders of both parties to be summoned by the President to take the missile controversy out of politics and to forge inside America a new unity in international affairs. That's a pressing requirement for survival in tomorrow's world.

What Others Say

Man in a jam. That's Vice President Nixon as he walks the political tight wire, seeking to hold the White House support and at the same time pick up here, there and yonder to be the GOP choice for the presidency.

The vice president, with membership in NAACP, can kiss away the South's vote that previously has gone to Mr. Eisenhower. That much, for sure, is lost.

Yet to be faced is the growing attack on the Eisenhower administration, a low-gear political maneuver in the past because of the President's popularity but now in high gear as a result of the Little Rock troop occupation of Central High School.

Mr. Nixon faces the biggest political obstacles an heir-apparent vice president has known for a long, long time.

One Way To End The Cold War

WASHINGTON (AP)—A fable for the future:

As it turned out, the United States and Russia landed on the moon at the same time. One American. One Russian. Each jabbed a flagpole into the lava-like ground. The Stars and Stripes faced the Hammer and Sickle. Then the two pioneers grinned at each other.

"Sputnik," said the American, since that was the only Russian word he knew.

"Brooklyn," replied the Russian who had a sister there.

They set about their respective scientific chores, bouncing lightly about in the weak moon gravity. Each made a broadcast to the folks back home. By some unspoken agreement neither pioneer mentioned that another pioneer was present.

Then, exhausted, they sat down together.

"Brooklyn," said the American, tentatively.

"Sputnik," replied the Russian, politely.

Conversation lagged. It is hard to talk through a space helmet even if you know the language. But then the Russian produced a pocket chess set. The American's eyes lighted.

"Pawn to queen's four," he murmured, and made his opening move.

The chess match ended in a draw. Then, needing exercise, they traded dictionaries.

"Gradually," the American in Russian.

"It's wonderful," grinned the Russian in English.

They were at the point of embracing when their short-wave radios began crackling furiously.

"It's war!" cried the pioneers in simultaneous Russian and English.

They listened, appalled. Washington was in ruins. Moscow but in memory. New York was in rubble. Radioactive rats scurried through the scorched bricks that had been Leningrad.

Gradually the two pioneers drew apart.

"You . . . started . . . it," said the American reproachfully, spelling out the words from his borrowed dictionary.

"No . . . you . . . did," retorted the Russian, who could say "no" in any language.

Suddenly the American's radio began to crackle with a new note of urgency. From a secret underground command post buried deep in the Rockies came a crisp message from the President of the United States:

"Understand Russians also landed on moon. Essential to preservation of American way of life that they be wiped out to the last man."

Trained to obedience, the American raised his atomic rifle.

"Nyet!" cried the Russian, frantically leafing through the dictionary.

"Must," cried the American hoarsely. "Orders. Kill you to last man."

"Man? Man?" screamed the Russian, thumping books madly. "But . . . I . . . not . . . man . . . I . . . woman."

This, children, explains why there is peace on the moon today, even if there is a frightful shortage of child-size space helmets.

The Queen Takes Orders

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a coltunist might never know if he didn't see his mail:

That Queen Elizabeth II may be boss in Buckingham Palace, but when she goes fishing she takes her guidance from her husband, as do most wives. It was Prince Philip who converted her from trout to salmon fishing, now a favorite hobby with both.

That women buy one of every three beers sold at the Yankee Stadium.

That it was hopeful Charles Lamb who said, "no many sounds in life exceed in interest a knock at the door."

That you can't pull hair out by the roots. . . The tiny white bulb at the bottom of a length of hair, commonly thought to be the root, is no more than the base of the strand. . . and the root keeps right on growing.

That Russia's speedy Sputnik circles the earth nearly 450 times as quickly as the natural moon.

That the latest joke in East

Europe concerns a Moscow factory worker who was sentenced to 10 years for shouting "Khrushchev is a drunken idiot! . . . You must serve three years for offending the first secretary," the judge told the prisoner sternly, "and seven years for betraying a state secret."

That handieler Sammy Kaye offers this argument for bachelorhood: "Why should a man give a girl half his food just for cooking the other half?"

That you can make a handy shoe rack from an old discarded curtain rod. . . just tack it to the inside of a closet door and hang shoes on it by their heels, (and aren't we getting to be mother's little helper?)

That no one yet has improved on ex-Mayor Jimmy Walker's definition of a reformer: "A guy who rides through a sewer in a glass-bottom boat."

That except for Death Valley, Calif., the only area in the United States below sea level is New Orleans.

It's The Creditors Who Are Gaining

One thing and another: Did you ever, as I have, make up your mind that a person was ugly beyond all recall the first time you laid eyes on him or her only to give a grade upward in the looks department every time you laid eyes on the individual thereafter?

The same can work in reverse with a party physically attractive.

Personality, of course, will make a difference once you come to know a person. Far more homelier persons I have known have won me over with engaging personalities than have comely individuals.

The people short on looks seem to work harder at it, or perhaps they are not as self-conscious.

A business study at one of the Texas colleges this year insists the traditional average man now has a salary of $9,000 a year and gets dividends.

Do you fall above or under the average? John Doe—the average fellow had total assets of $17,630 and a net worth or capital of $11,950 after a gain in 1957 of $625.

A gain of $625 was made in my case but I'm afraid it was my creditors who did the gaining.

How many in the audience can carve a whistle out of a tree limb? I never see any anymore. When I was a kid, the whittlers used to turn out expert jobs on them, and did them on short order.

Here's something to put into your 'future book' for use next summer when you want a sun tan—without first getting a bad burn.

An expert who has studied the problem says to limit your sunbathing to a maximum of 10 minutes the first day and a maximum of 15 minutes each succeeding day. Try planting yourself near rippling water and sand because the many-faceted surfaces do the trick quickly.

Guard against an overdose of the sun's rays. Don't go to sleep in the sun—you're apt to stay out too long.

If you're a blond, you'll tan or burn much easier than a brunet and children burn more easily than adults.

If you're near the water, you can get a blister even on a cloudy day, if other conditions are right.

Many of the sun tan lotions are beneficial, so make use of them.

Sip a glass of milk or orange juice or a lemonade while sunbathing to compensate for the loss of body fluids and salt.

Some day I'm going to pass a filling station which advertises the price of its gasoline in extremely tiny numbers and blows the 9-10ths all out of proportion.

Loot Not Exactly Moot

What in the world can you give a young woman who has everything, including Prince Philip?

That has been the problem of committees of welcome both in Canada and the United States on Queen Elizabeth's present tour. But committees have really put their collective mind on the problem and have come up with an assortment of gifts that would amaze some of the best attics, either here or abroad.

So far on this journey into the New World, Her Majesty, who owns one of the finest private art collections in the world, has acquired two oil paintings—one a portrait of an American ancestor—a half dozen splendid line drawings by Elmo Jones, famous American artist; a five-volume history of 17th Century Virginia—a tidy trifle with which to curl up on an off evening at Buckingham—and a silver paten and chalice for one of her private chapels.

Nor is that all. While in Williamsburg, both the Queen and Prince Philip, both of whom are just crazy about horses, were presented with replicas of George Washington's silver riding crop and spurs. Just the ticket for Philip on the polo field and just the thing for Her Majesty when she and the Princess Margaret stage their little private races around the track at Ascot.

This loot may be moot, so to speak. But Elizabeth has received one gift here to warm mind and matter, whether one is Queen for a day or a lifetime. That is the magnificent $15,000 Lutetia mink coat presented to her by the Mutation Mink Breeders Association and made by New York furrier and designer Leo Ritter. Conceivably, a woman can acquire an overflow of oil paintings, books, silver spurs and even ancestors. But no woman ever had too many mink coats.

Her Majesty's first full-length de luxe mink coat was given to her in 1947, at the time of her marriage to Prince Philip, as a wedding present by the Canadian government. That was what she wanted and that was what she got, by grace of the late Canadian Prime Minister, Mackenzie King.

On the S. S. Queen Mary, en route to the wedding, the Prime Minister told me that he had been determined that the Canadian gift "wouldn't be another one of those dreary plaques that they always hang in the servants' halls of palaces."

So he wrote his friend, Princess Alice of Athlone, a member of the royal family. He asked her to eavesdrop around Buckingham and find out what the future Queen really wanted. And if she couldn't find out by eavesdropping, Mackenzie King suggested that the Princess ask outright.

Back came a note by return mail from Princess Alice. The royal bride-to-be, as any woman worth her salt, craved a full-length coat of mink.

"So," said the practical Premier, "we took all the money the government had set aside for a wedding present and bought the finest Canadian mink coat we could get. I just want the Princess to have something that'll make her happy."

Well, sir, she has something else to make her happy now—a $15,000 mink coat by one of the finest craftsmen in the country. Happy? She ought to be delicious! There's a splendid moral to this story: When in doubt about the woman who has everything, don't think—give mink.

Special Agents Dislodge Oil Field 'Rustlers'

NEW YORK (AP)—Special agents, organized along the line of the cattlemen's associations of the Old West, cut losses from oil field equipment rustlers, Petroleum Week reports.

The publication said that the agents, working closely with local officers, have reduced thefts of oil company equipment from hundreds of thousands of dollars a year to a fraction of that.

George Robey, chief investigator for the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Assn., estimated at least a million dollars worth of stolen equipment has been recovered in seven or eight years.

Thefts vary from a drilling rig to a radiator, or from casing to elevators, from mercury in pipeline meters to steel thread protectors.

The association's program involves pushing legislation to tighten loopholes and the appointment of special agents to handle reports of stolen property.

The program is basically a self cure. The condition under which thieves operate is mainly a result of carelessness and lack of organization of the oil industry.

Some regular preventive measures include:

Posting signs offering a reward of $100 for the arrest and conviction of any person committing theft of oil property. That belief has possible outlets, including companies that buy second-hand pipe, rental tool companies, junk yards and equipment firms.

The association encourages firms to brand equipment.

Don't Rise To Missile Bait

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—In the numerous interviews he grants, thereby making a great deal of propaganda hay for Soviet communism, Nikita S. Khrushchev hammers away at certain points. One he has stressed recently is that the piloted aircraft is finished and that the war of the future will be a war of missiles.

While the Communist party boss may believe this, it is a safe assumption that everything he says has a propaganda motive. He would, on this assumption, hope to encourage the United States to cut back its piloted aircraft program. This would mean eventual elimination of the Strategic Air Command.

Any suggestion from any source that piloted aircraft are finished sends a tremor through this region. The aircraft industry is the core of Southern California's prosperity. While those already laid off as a result of defense cutbacks have found jobs, and employment figures for the state are at a record high, there is no guarantee that this can go on as reductions continue for another year or year and a half.

Khrushchev is not alone in arguing that if the piloted aircraft is not finished, at least the end is in sight. That belief has been advanced by some American military men who have followed the swift development of missiles with all their varied uses.

But if the United States must go on spending for piloted aircraft at roughly current levels and at the same time go forward with mass production of fantastically costly missiles, there is the risk that Khrushchev will be proved right on another of the propaganda points he has been making to the interviewers. This is that Communism is bound, in the long run, to triumph over capitalism without a war.

The risk is, of course, that we shall so transform our society by continuing high taxes and high government spending, with the threat of national bankruptcy, that the free enterprise system will be destroyed. That has long been the warning of former Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey, who fought for government economy to restore private initiative and check the inflationary spiral.

Does national security, in fact, require the continuing production into the indefinite future of piloted bombers and other military aircraft? Donald Douglas Jr., in charge of military sales for the Douglas Aircraft Company, and other aviation executives insist that it does.

They contend that the Strategic Air

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

I can come closer telling you what a quarterback might say in a huddle than I can figure out what pep squad leaders say to visiting delegations, after inviting them to lead their own cheers and providing them with an escort back to their own sections. I've often wondered about it.

Whatever it is they say, they seem to get along famously. Fans from opposing towns could take note and profit from the relationship.

Lt. Ken Becker of Webb AFB bowled four lines at Clover Bowl recently and averaged 254 a game for the evening.

A party who identifies herself as a mother of one of the "bench warming athletes" at Big Spring High School addresses a missive to this window, in a sort of rebuttal to a letter written by the maternal parent of a boy who is no longer with the team, which was printed on these pages recently.

Though she doesn't sign her name, and it is against the policy of this paper to print such messages, she argues well for the other side of the case, so well that I think excerpts from it are worth repeating. Writes she:

"Can we, any of us, doubt the influence of our schools on our children — the hopes for tomorrow?"

"Who has our future in their hands more than anyone else — yes, the teacher. . . Not one among us would permit someone to come into our home and tell us how to correct our child."

"Why then, do we not let our child learn to adjust to discipline outside the home. If we have tried at home, we need not worry."

"If we don't pull together with those trusted with our 'hopes for tomorrow,' we will find more and more need for the psychiatrist in the future lives of our children."

"Stop and think, were it not for organized athletics in our present day haste, where would our young men be — with time on their hands?"

"Would we be able to always say 'no'?"

"It is at the age when we find them too young to work and too old for toys that the high school coach fills our needs."

"Our boys benefit from participation in organized athletics. It is on the field of football, baseball, track and basketball — to mention just a few of the time-consuming endeavors — wherein our boys learn fitness for the challenges of life, now and in the future. So, why not give credit where credit is due and co-operate."

"As for the current rift, I know and can appreciate the feelings of anyone, especially a mother, but why not 'clean up' and realize it all will materialize for the best."

"Perhaps those few athletes (who departed the squad) feel they were wronged, but give them time to think. The sooner they realize their mistake, the sooner they will become the upright citizens we know they are capable of being."

"I am grateful for my son having the privilege of learning about life and competition from the athletes' bench."

Biscayne Arena in Miami, Fla., which cost $283,000 to build a year ago and which is used to stage professional fights, is up for sale. "Fights just don't click there."

Los Angeles may not be ready for the Dodgers but on a recent weekend there they packed 155,959 paying customers into the stands for three games at Memorial Coliseum.

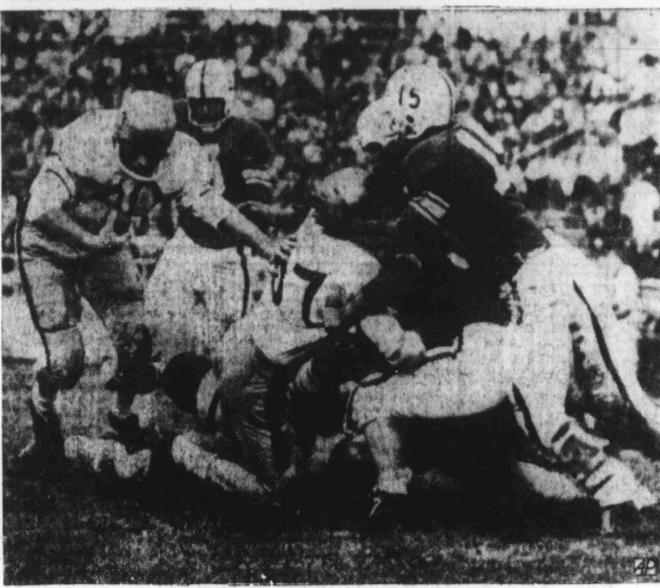

The bowl situation gets more complicated when you realize that Auburn and the University of Florida aren't eligible under NCAA rules to compete in any New Year's Day game next Jan. 1.

CHICAGO — Willie Galimore, give it to Willie Galimore, "shouted the veteran Chicago Bears yesterday after scoring their first victory of the National Football League season in a 34-26 triumph over Los Angeles. The shouts were for Galimore's presentation of the game ball. "It was supposed to go to a defensive player," said Coach Paddy Driscoll, "but, guess Willie really deserved it." The rookie from Florida A&M certainly did. Galimore, playing his first full game in league competition, raced for 153 yards in 24 carries and scored four touchdowns. His four touchdowns tied a Bear individual mark set by Harlon Hill and tied by Rick Casares. The victory was the first of the season for the Bears, defending Western Division champions, and

ABILENE SEEKS 43rd STRAIGHT THIS WEEK

How do you go about preparing a team to try and slow a club that hasn't been stopped in 42 straight football games?

That's the monumental task facing Coach Al Milch and his aides when they and the Big Spring Steers began practice this week for the mighty Abilene Eagles.

The two teams clash Friday night in Abilene. State champions three straight seasons and odds-on favorites to walk the path to the throne room again, the War Birds will be favored to handle the Steers about as they please.

There will be several things going for the Steers, however. For one thing, no one expects them to give the champions much trouble — least of all, perhaps, the Eagles. For another, they should be in far better physical shape than they were last week against Kermit, when flu made inroads on their health.

For still another, there will be absolutely no pressure on them. Whether they play the Eagles all over the field or get clobbered, no one around the state expects them to stay in the game very long.

Milch would rather beat Abilene than have his contract extended through 1970. He went from the San Angelo High School team to All-America greatness at Hardin-Simmons and is state players ever to represent any Abilene school on the football commons.

It's sort of a second home to Milch. The game opens the conference (2-AAAA) season for both teams. Big Spring will carry a 24 won-lost record into the field. Abilene's record, of course, is unscathed in five games.

Chief Abilene threat is Chuck Colvin, 161-pound right halfback. He gets a lot of help from Bill

Chuck Moser, coach of the Eagles, didn't think enough of the Steers to scout them in person last Saturday night. Instead, he dispatched a couple of his subordinates.

Baylor And A&M Meet Saturday

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Editor Baylor makes the supreme effort against high-flying Texas A&M and Texas clashes with Rice in a game that grew to vast importance in a day and night as headlines of the Southwest Conference football race this week.

Before the season started they said Baylor's battle with A&M would be the one that actually decided the championship. Then the Golden Bears were favorites to unseat the Aggies from the throne.

Baylor took a defeat from Arkansas and now the game with A&M will be mostly for survival. Texas gave the league a shock Saturday when it whipped Arkansas, the outfit that had been put in Baylor's place as the chief challenger for the title. The Longhorns licked Arkansas 17-0 in an afternoon game. That night Rice scored Southern Methodist 27-21 to move into a tie for the conference lead with Texas and Texas A&M.

So, the game at Austin Saturday night between Rice and Texas has become more important than the Baylor-Texas A&M struggle.

The Aggies are the only undefeated, untied team left in the league but they were far from impressive Saturday as they went through their fifteenth game without defeat. A&M beat Texas Christian 7-0 yet the fans went away from the park thinking TCU should have been on the big end of the score. The Horned Frogs did everything but win, parading up and down the field, once reaching the Aggies' 5-yard line and twice biting to the six.

It left the impression that the Aggies might be had whereas before they were considered virtually untouchable.

Baylor, a crippled outfit, was lucky it wasn't playing a conference game. It beat Texas Tech 15-12 without using some of its ailing regulars and will probably be in top shape for the bitter clash with the Aggies.

Two conference teams return to the intersectional wars. Arkansas meets powerful Mississippi at Memphis with small prospect of a victory. Texas Christian plays Marquette at Milwaukee and will be easy favorites to trim the winless Hilltoppers.

These are two of the last four intersectional games on the schedule. The conference has a record of 12 victories, 5 defeats and 2 ties in intersectional play but needs a triumph over a top-rated team to make it impressive.

Houston To Face Auburn Saturday

By The Associated Press Missouri Valley Conference football simmers down to non-league activity this week with the two strongest teams, Houston and Cincinnati, meeting especially rugged opposition.

Houston, which turned a blocked punt into a touchdown and a 6-6 tie with Oklahoma State Saturday, will meet undefeated and untied Auburn in a homecoming feature at Houston Saturday night.

Cincinnati, 14-0 winner over Marquette, will tangle with potent College of Pacific in a day game at Cincinnati Saturday.

While only one conference team will be involved, the North Texas State-San Jose State game at San Jose will count as a league tilt for North Texas State. North Texas won its first game of the season Saturday over Tulsa, 14-12. It was Tulsa's fifth straight loss of the campaign.

Wichita has a much needed open date. The Shockers lost their fifth game in a row to Hardin-Simmons, 27-14.

Drake and Bradley, both Valley members but not competing for the championship, will meet Saturday night if Drake is sufficiently recovered from the flu by that time.

AP Military Affairs Reporter. While the two leaders sat by and watched, West Texas State kept its foot in the Border Conference door and the other two teams in action split 50-50 with interconference opponents.

Texas Western and Arizona State College at Tempe, both undefeated, untied and sharing the conference lead, had open dates.

West Texas evened its conference standings at 500 with a 35-7 romp over lowly New Mexico A&M and reit a faint hope for a share of the conference title.

Leaders Take Lumps In Nat'l Pro Loop

By DON WEISS The Associated Press Philadelphia bounced Cleveland, Detroit stunned Baltimore — and just like that it's a jump today in the National Football League.

Five teams hold a share of first place. Everyone's been whipped at least once and what looked to be a possible pullaway for the Browns and Colts now has all the earmarks of another flip-flop donkeybrook.

Both the Eagles and Lions created the chaos yesterday by getting even with opponents they'd been quietly in earlier games. The Eagles beat Cleveland 17-7 and Detroit upset Baltimore 31-27. The Colts had led 27-3 midway of the third period.

Cleveland's loss dropped the Browns into a first-place tie in the Eastern Conference with New York's world champion Giants, who routed Pittsburgh 35-0 in their home opener. Detroit and Baltimore share the Western Conference leadership with San Francisco, which pulled even at 3-1 by cutting Green Bay 24-14.

In other games, the Chicago Cards routed Washington 44-14 to the Pittsburgh for third in the East both only a game off the coleaders pace, and Chicago's slumbering Bears finally got into the win column, calling on rookie Willie Galimore for four touchdowns in a 34-26 victory over the Los Angeles Rams.

Four touchdown passes by Johnny Unitas—giving him 12 for the brief season—fired Baltimore into a 27-3 lead when the reviving Lions got to work. Detroit still was down 27-10 with only nine minutes remaining but rallied behind a Bobby Layne-to-Hopalong Cassidy pass combination to pull it out with three quick touchdowns in the last 20 seconds. Layne's 29-yard toss to Cassidy did it with 45 seconds left.

Rookie quarterback Sonny Jurgens was the Eagles' big man as he passed for one touchdown against the previously unbeaten Browns and scored another on a sneak.

Veteran Chuck Conery passed for 153 yards and two touchdowns for the Giants against a Pittsburgh team that never got past New York's 25-yard-line.

Y. A. Title handled the brunt of the 49ers offense, throwing for two touchdowns and plunging for another.

Galimore, ran for four touchdowns from within the Rams' 20. The Bears led 34-13 before two late Los Angeles touchdowns.

If they win, they'll hold the all-time record. There are a lot of important games on the schedule of the four classes that play through to state titles. Of outstanding note in Class is the clash of undefeated AAAA untied Austin and Temple in a fight for the District 13 championship.

Other unbeaten, untied teams in this class are Amarillo, Corpus Christi Ray and Dallas Crozier Tech. Amarillo, generally regarded as the No. 1 team, plays Lubbock Monterey in a scrap between two of the leaders in District 3.

Class AAA has only three undefeated, untied teams—Nederland, Port Neches and Weatherford. Nederland is idle this week but Port Neches plays Vidor in a District 11 conference game and Weatherford meets Graham in a big one in the District 4 campaign.

Class AA has three outstanding tilts, all conference affairs. Gilmer and New London tangle for the probable championship of District 15 while Mercedes meets Rio Grande City in a vital District 32 conference game. Gilmer, New London, Mercedes and Rio Grande City are among the 13 undefeated, untied teams left in the class. The others are Belton, Coleman, Hamilton, LaGrange, Liberty, Lockney, McCamey, Marlin and Seymour. The latter plays Hamlin, undefeated but tied, in a District 4 headliner.

Class A sends Stinnett, the defending state champion, against undefeated, once tied Sunray with Stinnett seeking the lead in District 1 and also its 22nd straight victory.

Fourteen teams are undefeated and untied in Class A. They are Bishop, Waco, East Chambers, Frenship, Garrison, Henrietta, Hemphill, Jourdanton, Mart, Stinnett, Sunray, Throckmorton, Willmer-Hutchins and Warren. Connally and Mart meet in a fight for the lead in District 20 while Garrison and Hemphill try to decide the lead in District 12.

Texas Backers Talk In Terms Of SWC Title

AUSTIN, Tex. — For a team that last year lost 9 games out of 16 and had positively the worst defensive record extant, the University of Texas is enjoying a sensational football season.

Nine days ago Texas played Oklahoma down to the last gun before losing 21-7. One week later, the Longhorns whipped a fine Arkansas team that was undefeated and ranked 10th in the nation 17-0.

Now the folks are talking about a Southwest Conference championship and a great duel with ancient enemy, undefeated Texas A&M on Thanksgiving Day.

There are some mighty tough teams to be played before then. Rice next Saturday, for instance. But Texas already has had a great season, winning three out of five and commanding respect from everybody. How did it do it? A defense that is secret. Good old, "jaw to jaw" football, as Coach Darrell Royal puts it.

When the former Oklahoma quarterback took over the despairing Longhorns this year, he found that the basic weaknesses were lack of defense and an adequate kicking game.

He found which players wanted to play — that is, who would mix it up and continue to mix it regardless of what happened. So, few of last year's regular team are on this year's outfit. There are 11 sophomores among the top 22. Only Walter Fonden, the talented quarterback, is playing from last season's backfield.

The defense is 50 per cent improved.

Eagles One Of Six AAAA Teams Still Unbeaten

By The Associated Press Abilene makes its start toward another Class AAAA state championship Friday night and at the same time will be seeking a new record for consecutive victories in Texas schoolboy football.

The Eagles, who haven't been rated No. 1 because they profess to be much weaker than last year's powerhouse, whipped through their 43rd straight last week by wallowing Waco 27-7. Friday they open the District 32 conference race against Big Spring.

Middleweight Bobby Byrd of Chicago, winner of five straight this year, is favored over Frank Suzzina of Germany at Syracuse, N.Y. (ABC-TV, 8 pm, CST) Wednesday night. This is another return bout. Boyd beat the German at Miami Beach last March 26. Suzzina has won four straight.

Paolo Rosi and Johnny Busso, a couple of lightweight contenders from New York, meet in the 10-round feature at New York's Madison Square Garden Friday night (NBC radio-TV, 8 pm, CST).

Six First Sackers Are Used In Set

NEW YORK — Some sort of a record was set in the opening game of the 1957 World Series in Yankee Stadium. Six first basemen saw action, three for each team.

However, one of them, Milwaukee's Nippy Jones, was used only as a pinch hitter.

The Braves started Joe Adcock on first and when it appeared he had taken his last turn at bat against Whitey Ford, glove man Frank Torre took over at the bag. The Yankees started Bill Skowron but his sacriical popped out of place in the first inning and he left the game at the start of the third. Elston Howard then took over at first. When the Braves used a righthanded pitcher, Joe Collins became the Yankee first sacker.

Bauer Carries Over

NEW YORK — When Hank Bauer, Yankee right fielder, doubled in the fifth inning of the opening 1957 World Series game to drive in the first run it marked the eighth World Series game in which the ex-Marine hit safely. Bauer made a hit in each of the seven games of the 1956 series.

Rash Of Fires In U.S. Fatal To 21

By The Associated Press

Seventeen children and four adults died yesterday in six fires in Texas, Ohio, New Jersey and upstate New York.

In Belpre, Ohio, a 36-year-old mother and seven of her nine children perished in a fire apparently started by defective wiring.

Found huddled around the television set in the living room were Mrs. Vivian Snider; her daughters Linda, 14, Sheila, 11, Mona, 7, and Rita Jo, 5 months; and her sons Mickey, 9, David, 3, and Danny, 2.

Firemen said they died of suffocation. Mrs. Snider's husband, Lloyd, 40, a glass worker, and one child were visiting relatives in Vienna, W. Va., and the other child was in a hospital.

Four children were asphyxiated in their frame house in Amarillo, Tex., while their father, Airman 2.C. Aaron White, of Amarillo Air Force Base, was taking a babysitter home. His wife Lurine, 22, was ill with influenza at the time.

Neighbors said the youngsters were in the back bedroom of the house when fire swept through the living room and kitchen.

They were Kathy, 6, Aaron, 4, Sharon, 2, and Stanley, 18 months.

Four children in a Newark, N.J., family died when flames trapped them in the third floor of a tenement. Their parents and a fifth child suffered injuries when they jumped to the street.

As the three-alarm fire swept through the six-family frame tenement, Godfrey Taylor, 34, thinking his family was safe, jumped to a second floor window ledge and then to the street.

His wife, clutching her 8-year-old daughter Rita in her arms, leaped 45 feet to the sidewalk before a net could be stretched.

The girl was critically injured while the Taylors were in fair condition at Martland Medical Center with burns.

Found dead by firemen in the apartment were four of the children, Godfrey Jr., 9, Marilyn, 7, James, 5, and Ronnie, 1.

A family of three died in Beach Haven, N. J., when fire trapped them in their ranch-type home as they tried to escape through narrow windows.

Firemen found Howard Dalman, 48, his wife Catherine, 44, and their daughter Kay, 15, dead in the ashes of the home that Dalman, a carpenter, had built in Bloomfield, N. J. Harold Phillips, 31, a bridegroom of six weeks, was killed in a fire. Police said a lighted cigarette apparently set his attic apartment ablaze. Two other couples in the building fled to safety. Phillips' wife Rose was not home at the time.

A 14-month-old boy was burned fatally in a fire that destroyed his father's bowling alley and apartment in the Catskill mountain village of Hunter, N. Y. The boy, John Hadesky, died at Green County Memorial Hospital. His parents, Edward, 31, and Dorothy, 27, were in critical condition.

Regular board meeting of the YMCA is set for 5:15 p. m. Tuesday with several important matters on tap, according to Truman Jones, president.

Foremost is the acceptance of gifts from the Dora Roberts Foundation, Cosden Petroleum Corp., as well as a game table from Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Jones. The foundation had previously announced the provision of a $50,000 cash gift to the YMCA building fund and Cosden gave the home presently occupied by R. L. Tollett and which has been sold for approximately $22,000.

Other reports will be heard from the property appraisal committee, the youth activity and adult program committees, from the membership and buildings for Brotherhood conferences. The annual dinner committee also is due to make a report.

Mrs. Anderson leaves her husband, Sgt. Mack Anderson, USMC, and five children. The family had resided here for the past two and a half years.

Cosden Pugging Wildcat On McDowell Land S'West Of City

Cosden prepared to plug its wildcat southwest of Big Spring today, after word came that the second location staked in the Knott (Pennsylvanian) field had been plugged.

The venture southwest of Big Spring is Cosden No. 1-B McDowell. Operator tested the San Andres to 3,240 feet and prepared to abandon it today.

The Ashmun-Hillard No. 2 Grantham, 14 miles northwest of Big Spring, is a duster. Operator gave up at a depth of 9,125 feet.

Dawson
Reagan-Lanphere No. 1 Barrett made hole at 11,875 feet in lime and shale. Location of the wildcat is 8 1/2 miles northwest of Lamesa, C. SW SW, 4-4M, EL&RR Survey.

Cox No. 1 Graves waited on cement to set 5/8-inch string today at 9,303 feet. Operator will test the Strawn this week after perforating. Operator tried the Canyon from 9,200-50 feet with the tool open 30 minutes but recovered only 20 feet of drilling mud. Location is four miles northwest of Ackery, C. NE NE, 48-34-4N, T&P Survey.

Clouds Conceal Soviet 'Moon'
Jupiter Pluvius collaborated with the Reds on Sunday morning to frustrate the plans of the Big Spring Satellite Observing Corps to get a peep at the Russian man-made moon.

J. T. Clements, vice-chairman of the corps organization, who had received instructions from the national headquarters to post a watch for the satellite and its companion rocket fragment on Sunday morning, said that the rain and heavy clouds blocked any possibility of sighting the celestial vagabonds.

However, three of the observers reported at the chill, dark 5 a. m. hour. Others who had been asked to report were told Saturday night to look at the weather and if the skies were overcast heavily to forget the assignment. Apparently that was the rule followed.

Clements said that he and two of his associates who had done the satellite telephoning Saturday night to line up the crews were on hand but that they were present just in case some of the volunteers were hardy enough to report.

He said he had no further instructions for a second check of the satellite and its orders came through for a new rendezvous, the corps will remain idle.

Two Hurt In Dawson Mishap

LAMESA — Two women remained in serious condition after an accident on a rain-slick highway 14 miles south of here Sunday.

In critical condition in Lamesa General Hospital is Mrs. Elizabeth Everett, 44, of Tahoka. Nilda Floyd McDonald, 38, of Lubbock was listed in serious condition at the same hospital. The two were in a car which hit a truck.

Investigators said that Barbara Jane Coats of Brownfield tried to pass a truck driven by Thomas E. Trout, 20, also of Brownfield. Seeing the car driven by Miss McDonald approaching, Miss Coats cut back too quickly and hit the truck.

Trout then hit his brakes, the truck jackknifed into the opposite lane, and the McDonald car smashed into the truck.

The two women in the McDonald car were the only ones injured.

Woman Slightly Injured In Crash
Two cars were damaged and one woman was slightly injured in a collision on U. S. Highway 80 two miles west of Big Spring at 10 a. m. today.

Highway patrol officers said that one of the cars was driven by Earle May Perry, Phoenix, Ariz. She was proceeding along the highway when her car was rammed from the rear by a second car driven by Manuel Diaz of Big Spring.

The patrol said that a woman passenger in the Perry car was taken to the Cowper Hospital. The hospital reported that the woman was not seriously hurt and was dismissed after being given first aid. Her name was not available.

The Perry car was damaged approximately $75 and that of Diaz about $10 in the crash, it was said.

Heaters Ordered For Maintainers
Walter Parks, county engineer, was instructed by the Howard County Commissioners Court Monday to contact dealers and buy eight heaters to be installed on the county owned road maintainers.

Parks told the court that a check had shown the heating units for the eight machines would cost $643. He said that all of the maintainers are pre-ripped for the installation of such equipment.

Earl H. Hughes seconded the motion and it was adopted by a unanimous vote.

A new maintainer to be bought by the county later this week also will be provided with a heater, it was indicated.

Garbage Trucks Bugged In Alleys
The rains fell on the alleys as well as the yards here over the weekend, and as a result, many of the alleys are too wet for garbage trucks.

R. V. Foresyth, street superintendent, said three garbage trucks got stuck this morning trying to make their rounds, so collection of garbage where the alleys are too muddy will be discontinued until they are better.

Service has been discontinued on Purdue, Yale, Harvard, Cornell, Auburn, Kentucky Way, and parts of Monticello, the city said this morning.

Two Accidents Occur In City This Morning
After only one accident came in Big Spring Sunday, two occurred this morning before 10 a. m.

Today at 17th and Johnson, Philip Olliphant, 429 Westover, and Norman Christianson, Webb AFB, were drivers of cars in collision. Patrick Martinez, 623 NW 4th, and Susanto Padron, Coahoma, were in an accident at NW 6th and Lancaster.

Sunday the lone accident occurred at the north end of the Gregg viaduct. Involved were two cars driven by Jewel Oliver, 806 Johnson, and Guadalupe Hernandez, 706 N. Gollad.

Man Tries To Lure Two Girls Into Car
Officers are still investigating a case involving a man who tried to get two girls into his car here.

Two girls, 14, told police the man tried to get them into his car in the Birdwell Park Friday. Although the girls could not give a description of the man, they described the car and gave its license number.

The car, a 1957 Mercury station wagon, was registered to a Midland resident, and officers there were alerted. He has not been arrested, however.

More Accessories Stolen From Cars
A set of hub caps and a wheel cover were taken from cars parked at the football field Saturday night during the game.

Clinton Hull, 806 W. 8th, told police that hub-caps were taken from his car, a 1956 Mercury. The wheel cover was stolen from a 1957 Ford owned by R. E. Stark, 604 Dallas.

Sunday, Don Davidson, 1600 Settles, reported theft of two hub caps from a 1957 Plymouth. Davidson said the car was parked in the 100 block of E. 4th from 3-5:45 p. m. Sunday, and the items were taken then.

Judging will start Tuesday in the Jaycees' Voice of Democracy speech contest.

Speeches of sophomore students will be judged at 4 p. m. at the school. Junior speeches will be judged Wednesday and senior talks Thursday. Finals are set for next Monday.

Officers are still investigating a case involving a man who tried to get two girls into his car here.

Two girls, 14, told police the man tried to get them into his car in the Birdwell Park Friday. Although the girls could not give a description of the man, they described the car and gave its license number.

The car, a 1957 Mercury station wagon, was registered to a Midland resident, and officers there were alerted. He has not been arrested, however.

Wave Of Accidents Sends Death Toll Up

By The Associated Press

A wave of tragic accidents sent the weekend violent death toll in Texas soaring to its highest non-holiday total in months. At least 32 persons were killed violently, including 24 in traffic accidents.

Four young Negro children were asphyxiated by smoke when fire damaged their home in Amarillo Sunday night. The tragedy took the lives of all the children of Airman I.C. Aaron White, 27, a native of Oakwood, Tex., now stationed at Amarillo AFB.

The victims, Kathy, 6; Aaron Jr., 4; Sharon, 2, and Stanley, 18 months, were found huddled together in a back bedroom of the six-room frame house. Doctors tried in vain to revive them for more than an hour.

Two separate traffic accidents claimed the lives of seven persons Sunday.

Four died in a grinding head-on collision near the West Texas town of Bronte. Dead were Airman 2.C. George Stevens, Brooklyn, N.Y.; Airman 2.C. Michael Clements, Mansfield, Ohio; Charles Crayton, 28, Wingate, Tex., and his father, J. R. Crayton, also of Wingate. The airman were stationed at Dyess AFB in Abilene.

A train and an automobile collided at a crossing north of Arlington Sunday, killing two young children and their aunt.

The victims were Mrs. Charles Tigert, 26, Arlington; her niece, Terri Smith, 8, and her nephew, Stephen Smith, 2. They were the children of Mrs. Tigert's sister, Mrs. Mike Smith of Waco.

Harry Russell, 20, Anna, was fatally injured Sunday when his car hit a horse near Dallas.

Wanda Eppler, 10, Madill, Okla., died at Memphis Sunday when the car in which she was riding collided with another vehicle.

Paul Franks, 44, was killed Sunday night when his car struck a car at Texas City.

Mrs. Francis Nagiller, 23, Big Spring, was killed Sunday when the car in which she was riding hit high water in a draw crossing ranch road 33 miles north of Big Lake.

Mrs. Morris Burger, 62, San Angelo, died in a head-on collision north of San Angelo Sunday.

Ferry Vandever, 73, Alamo, died Saturday of injuries suffered in a fall.

Thurman Packard, 28, Corpus Christi, was killed Saturday in a traffic accident 20 miles north of Raymondville.

Mary Callico, 17, was killed when an auto overturned near Houston Saturday.

T. A. Thompson, 53, was killed at Houston Saturday night when his auto and a train collided.

Patrick Kern, 18 months, of Houston drowned in a lake at Houston Saturday.

James Butts, 23, of Whitesboro, Tex., his wife and their young daughter were killed Saturday night near Gainesville in a traffic collision.

Gerald Crooks, 31, was killed in traffic south of Seymour Friday night.

Mrs. Eleanor McNutt, 49, of Hobart, Okla., was killed in a traffic crash near San Antonio Saturday.

Charles Strawn of Clayton, Okla., and Jackie Cripe, 19, of Camp Wolters, Tex., were killed in a traffic accident near Weatherford Friday night.

Mrs. Ida Dickenson, 73, of Lorraine, Tex., was killed Friday night when hit by a car near Gainesville.

Manuel Guerrero of Alice was killed when an auto overturned near Laredo Saturday.

Wylie Foster, 21, was stabbed to death at Houston Friday night.

An unidentified man was shot to death at Houston Friday night by a watchman who said he caught him breaking into a cafe cash register.

Girard Declines To Testify

MAEBASHI, Japan (AP)—GI William S. Girard today declined to testify on conflicting pretrial statements which he made about the firing range death of a Japanese brass collector.

Judge Yuzo Kawachi, presiding at Girard's manslaughter trial, called the Ottawa, Ill., soldier to the stand and asked him about three statements he gave Japanese prosecutors in February.

Girard said he recalled making the statements but answered "No, sir" when asked if he wanted to say anything about them.

In one statement Girard said he fired a single shot over the heads of Japanese collecting shells on a U. S. firing range here last Jan. 30. Girard said he shot "to chase them away."

In another statement the soldier said he fired two shots, "one into the air and one over the head of Japanese shell pickers."

Girard admits firing the empty brass casing from his rifle grenade-launcher which killed Mrs. Naka Sakai. But he says it was an accident that occurred while he was carrying out guard duty.

Trouble Finds Errol Flynn Again, This Time At Party

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actor Errol Flynn says "If there's trouble any place it always finds me."

His latest encounter with trouble came Saturday night when he was hauled out of a bouncing movie-land party and booked as a drunk.

A policeman accused him of taking his badge.

It was all in fun and he wasn't drunk, Flynn contends. And he says he's going to sue for false arrest.

The scene was the annual Ballyhoo Ball of the Publicists' Assn. Hundreds of guests were on hand, including scantily costumed starlets. Among the main eye-catchers were Greta Thyssen, escorting a cheetah on a leash; Joan Bradshaw with a lion; and Vikki (Lady Godiva) Dougan on an artificial horse.

The place was jumping when Flynn, 48, his friend Cedric Keoh and Irish actress Maura FitzGibbon arrived.

This is the way the principals described the subsequent happenings:

Flynn—"I didn't even get to the bar. My friend Keoh brought me a drink or two and that's all. Here I am at a party at which there were three or four bars serving drinks when an officer, who was drinking himself, introduced himself to me and asks me to meet his wife. And I wind up in jail, fingerprinted for the first time in my life."

Keoh—"I left Errol talking to

Maura while I went over to the bar to fetch some drinks. As I returned a man was introducing his wife to Errol and asking for an autograph. After Errol gave the autograph he asked the man what he did, and the man answered, 'I'm a police officer.'

"Errol then replied, 'If you're a police officer, let me see your badge.' As the officer showed the badge, Errol playfully grabbed it and gave it to Miss FitzGibbon.

Errol was just kidding—and the officer took it seriously and wrestled us all into a police car."

Miss FitzGibbon—"The officer gave Errol the badge and he gave it to me. I wrapped the badge in my glove and I guess I must have lost it."

Policeman William Friedman—"Flynn saw my gun sticking out of its holster and said, 'So you're a copper, huh?' and got belligerent and used profanity. I tried to warn him to take it easy but he kept it up. So I took him to jail."

Friedman said he works in an off-duty capacity Saturday nights at the Riviera Country Club, where the party was held.

Mrs. Simone Friedman, 34, who was working as a hat check girl—"He (Flynn) was very sweet and friendly and kissed me on the cheek. Some of the people with him were acting nasty but I thought Mr. Flynn was charming."

Flynn and Miss FitzGibbon were booked at a police station

East, West Trade Weather

By The Associated Press

Generally fair and cool weather prevailed in the Eastern half of the nation today but it was wet and cloudy in broad areas in most of the Western sections.

Stormy weather lashed the northern half of New Mexico yesterday, with heavy rain and some flooding. One drowning and three highway deaths were attributed to the storm and high water.

The wet belt during the night extended from southern California to the upper Mississippi Valley. Showers, with some hail, pelted the Los Angeles area, with amounts ranging up to about half an inch.

Scattered showers, with snow at higher elevations, sprinkled the Central Plateau region.

Heavy rain hit Albuquerque, N. M., with hail also reported. Although high water was reported in the Rio Grande at Albuquerque, no major flood danger appeared to the city as the river runs between sturdy levees.
