No Break Seen In Weather Pattern

Rains To Continue Over Area

Big Spring received an additional .32 inch rain during Monday and Monday night, the U. S. Experiment Station reported.

The moisture was part of a state-wide pattern which was dumping vast quantities of water on nearly every part of Texas. In general, the picture was identical with that which prevailed here on Sunday — steady soaking rains which persisted for long hours.

The rainfall of Monday night brought the current total to 2.86 in the city. Elsewhere in the state, precipitation has ranged as high as 3.50 inches.

Only the extreme southern part of Texas was omitted from the soaking. Rains were scheduled to continue. The Weather Bureau saw no letup in the conditions which are triggering the wet weather.

Heaviest rain in this immediate area over Monday was at Lamesa where .70 inch fell. Elsewhere in the Howard County area, Monday's showers brought from .05 inch to as much as .45 inch.

Texas Electric Service Company stations reported the following rains for the past 24-hour period:

Big Spring switch station .30; TESCO plant .25; Otischalk .20; Eskota .10; Morgan Creek .22; Sweetwater .05; Lamesa .70; Colorado City .11; Snyder .45; Wildhorse Creek .42; Odessa .25; Crane and Wink .12; Midland .33; Spraberry .25.

Lake J. B. Thomas continued to swell as additional runoff water poured into the big reservoir. Lake elevation at 10 a. m. was 2,254.32 — an increase of 1.12 feet for the wet period.

Sunday's rains were so general that nearly every part of the county seems to have received at least 2 inches. Many parts gauged as much as 2.7 inches.

A report received from Mrs. Chain at Ackerly late Monday related that 2.12 inches of rain had fallen in that community to 3.30 p. m.

Both sides expressed confidence as the trial opened yesterday with questioning of a jury panel.

"If they stuck to the facts and don't make a circus out of it, I'll get a fair trial," Cage said. "This whole thing is a smear."

Cage, who returned from Brazil to face a mounting series of charges against him, smiled readily and held hands with his attractive wife, Dorcas, during the juror questioning yesterday.

The collapse of ICT, which Cage built with labor backing into a broad empire that once included 74 firms, rocked Texas early this year. It touched off grand jury and legislative inquiries that resulted in indictments against Cage and two former state insurance commissioners.

Dist. Atty. Henry Wade told prospective jurors he would seek the maximum penalty of 10 years. Prosecutors said they would call 16 witnesses, including former Insurance Commissioner Byron Saunders and also Wade.

The trial was postponed once earlier but got under way after defense attorney Ivan Irwin was assured records and witnesses subpoenaed by the defense were present.

The records may mean lengthy argument over many legal questions. Judge Frank Wilson told each juror he expected the trial to last several days.

The charge against Cage involves funds of a Missouri insurance firm, a subsidiary of the Jack Cage and Co., which Cage headed while managing ICT's vast holdings.

Irwin asked each juror one question: "Do you think it's a crime for a man to handle money for the benefit of his corporation?"

NEW YORK (AP)—Counsel for Soviet Col. Rudolf Abel, accused Russian spy, lost a move today to throw out the testimony of a U. S. Army master sergeant who said the Russians had paid him for information.

Defense counsel James B. Donovan contended in his motion, introduced yesterday, that the testimony of Sgt. Roy A. Rhodes, 40, bore no relation to the conspiracy attributed to Abel.

U. S. Dist. Judge Mortimer W. Byers issued his ruling at the opening of today's session of Abel's trial.

Rhodes, testifying for the prosecution in Brooklyn Federal Court said he was paid in 1952 for giving information to Soviet nationals.

Trial Opens

BenJack Cage, former head of the defunct ICT Insurance Company, sits in court with his wife, Dorcas, as his trial opened in Dallas. Cage is charged with embezzling $100,000 from the company and recently returned to the U.S. from South America to face the charge.

Cage Testimony May Start Today

DALLAS (AP)—Testimony in the BenJack Cage embezzlement trial was expected to start today if attorneys could agree early on a jury.

Cage, 40, promoter of the defunct ICT Insurance Co., is on trial on charges of embezzling $100,000 in funds of an ICT subsidiary.

Both sides expressed confidence as the trial opened yesterday with questioning of a jury panel.

"If they stuck to the facts and don't make a circus out of it, I'll get a fair trial," Cage said. "This whole thing is a smear."

Five Witnesses Heard In Trial Of Roy Barker

COLORADO CITY — Five state witnesses were heard by a jury in 32nd District Court at the morning session of the trial of Roy Barker, 29-year-old Colorado City police officer, charged with murder without malice in the death last June 29 of Jack Edward Kiser, 26, former Marine and filling station attendant.

Royce Moore, who had been on the Colorado City force up to June 25, was the witness on the stand when Judge A. S. Mauley recessed the trial for lunch.

Moore related that he was riding with Patrolman Jessie Bunch on the night of June 29. The car received a call from the other patrol car to come to Starr's Drive in where the officer on the scene needed assistance.

He said that he arrived with Bunch at the drive-in and saw Kiser brought out of the place. Kiser was placed in Bunch's car—the one in which the witness was riding. In the back seat with Kiser was Don Seale, who was a part-time policeman.

Other witnesses heard on Tuesday morning, all of whom told of the arrest, were Robert Holman, Marvin Holman, Clifton Frank and Wayne Carpenter.

Kiser had been arrested following a disturbance at Starr's Drive in about 11 o'clock on Saturday night. He was taken to police headquarters and as he was being booked, a scuffle began between Kiser and officers. Barker is alleged to have struck the ex-Marine about the head with a "slapper," a flat blackjack used by police.

Kiser fell to the floor and was pronounced dead. Autopsy reports indicated that Kiser's skull was not fractured and his scalp was not lacerated but that death was due to a discharge of blood at the base of the brain, possibly caused by a blow.

Jurors are Clu de Robinson, Herb Mearse, Lee Lavendera, Mrs. Fred E. Warner, Christian Visser, Mrs. Chester Hart, R. J. Lloyd, H. L. Gainey, A. D. Myers, W. L. Hamilton, Roy Bates and Wayne Shaven.

District Attorney Eldon Mahon is being assisted in his prosecution of the case by Davis Scarborough of Abilene, the latter retained by friends of the Kiser family. Barker is represented by Dell and Perry Barber of Colorado City.

Absences Still High In School

Colds, flu and bad weather maintained their grip on Big Spring schools today with absenteeism continuing high, particularly in the elementary grades.

Attendance was picking up slightly at the high school and junior high but scores were still absent. At the local high school, 140 were absent this morning, compared to 190 Monday.

Tom Ernest, junior high principal, reported 372 of his pupils stayed away from school today. Monday he checked 420 absences.

A check of some of the elementary schools showed absenteeism about on a par with Monday, however. W. C. Blankenship, College Heights principal, said 42 were absent there this morning. Yesterday the total was 39.

John B. Harty said 65 were out of Washington Place, where 58 were absent Monday.

Oma McGahey, at North Ward, said absentees there totaled 88 this morning, with Monday's corresponding total being 92.

R. M. Turner reported 94 absent at East Ward this morning. Monday he checked 87 absences.

All of the elementary principals said absenteeism is especially in the lower grades.

"There are 'some out' at Howard County Junior College, but no tabulation had been made this morning.

U. N. Sets Debate On Syrian Charge

No Point In Delay (AN EDITORIAL)

Considerable expense and a great deal of manpower can be saved if the United Fund of Big Spring and Howard County can close out its 1957 campaign this week.

That is its goal.

There never has been a failure on this coordinated welfare fund-raising effort in this city; there is no reason to expect one now.

But — the Fund is lagging, and simply because not enough people have responded yet. Many have good intentions, but have just delayed. Others have not had a personal solicitation.

If you are in either category, won't you please make your commitment to the Fund — right now? If you will participate, your gift should come now, not two weeks hence. If you haven't been contacted, all you have to do is call the United Fund — AM 4-4769 — and arrangements will be made to pick up your gift.

This is the job for every citizen in Big Spring. If you haven't done your fair share, please do it this week.

House Sidesteps Segregation Action

AUSTIN (AP)—The House slyly sidestepped taking a stand on segregation legislation today by marking time for 40 minutes, then abruptly adjourning until tomorrow at 10:30 a. m.

A record-vote demanded by Rep. Joe Pool of Dallas, who had pending a resolution which would call on Gov. Price Daniel to disclose at once his segregation plans, showed 89-38 in favor of adjournment.

"They're trying to slip out from under," Pool said shortly before the motion to adjourn. "They're scared to vote on my resolution to make Daniel say what he's trying to do."

Pool's resolution, approved by a narrow margin yesterday in the House State Affairs Committee, would demand that Daniel say if he would submit segregation legislation to this special session or a later one.

Pool said earlier today that Speaker Waggoner Carr had promised to lay the resolution out for debate. Numerous members of

Dynamite Shatters Cab Of Truck In Strike Violence

LONE STAR, Tex. (AP)—The cab of a truck hauling pipe out of the struck Lone Star Steel Co., was shattered by dynamite after its driver left it briefly early today, Ranger Sgt. Arthur Hill reported.

The driver of the truck belonging to R. G. Claer of Longview put out flames and left the truck to call help after its load shifted. Hill said the dynamite apparently put the charge inside the cab and closed the door.

Charles Brock was held in the Cass County jail at Linden after being charged with possessing a bomb. His bond was set at $2,000. He was arrested near Linden Saturday night by Rangers headed by Red Arnold of Mt. Pleasant.

Bobby Johnson and Lindsey Rodgers, both of Omaha, Tex., were charged with bomb possession but they had not been arrested.

Arab Mediation Effort Spurned

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. Assembly prepared to open debate today on the Turkish-Syrian crisis without waiting for the outcome of Saudi Arabian mediation efforts.

Turkey, who has denied Syrian charges that she is about to launch a war, accepted King Saud's offer to mediate the dispute. But the Syrian government made clear it does not intend to enter such negotiations at present.

Acting Foreign Minister Khalil Kallas said in a statement in Damascus that Syria "cannot accept any mediation and reaffirms her determination to follow up her protest at the United Nations until the end."

Informants said Syria pressed for an immediate U. N. debate on her charges. Russia, who has backed the Syrian charge with claims the United States is trying to engineer a Middle East war, was said to have added her voice to the demand.

Observers concluded that the Syrians and Russians wanted to get all the propaganda capital they can from their charges before getting down to bargaining.

This belief was strengthened by an announcement from Syrian Delegate Farid Zeineddine that his forces were not submitting a resolution to the Assembly "as things now stand." Zeineddine said talk of concrete proposals to deal with the Middle East crisis was premature.

Considerable confusion surrounded the progress of Saudi mediation moves.

The Saudi Arabian Embassy in Washington announced that both Turkey and Syria had accepted the mediation offer and that a Syrian delegation would meet the King within the next two days.

A spokesman at the Syrian Embassy in Washington said the em-

$10,000 Added To United Fund

The United Fund had 63 per cent of its goal following reports at noon today.

Gifts totaling $10,028 were reported, increasing the total pledged and given to $56,353. The goal is $89,100.

The campaign is scheduled to end Thursday. K. H. McGibbon, general chairman, called on all workers to turn in final reports at that time.

Today the Advance Gifts Division reported an additional $2,785 to give it 80 per cent of its quota. Special Gifts reported $384 to climb to 40 per cent of quota. Employee Gifts reported an additional $6,202 to climb to 47 per cent of its quota, and General Gifts turned in another $656 to reach 32 per cent of that division's quota.

Wide Open Spaces Throw Kink In Texas Roads, Formby Says

CHICAGO (AP)—Marshall Formby of Plainview, chairman of the Texas Highway Commission, said today the federal interstate highway system will help but will not solve all of Texas' traffic bottlenecks.

"We have a few cities of more than 100,000 population and several cities with more than 50,000 population which are not on interstate routes," he told a meeting of national turnpike officials.

"With our vast area . . . and the number of vehicles we have, we are faced with increasing problems of keeping adequate highways for the traveling public," he said.

ONE TURNPIKE
"We have only one turnpike in Texas and that is the 31-mile Dallas to Fort Worth Turnpike which is the only toll road in the world that we know of that goes from the heart of one city to another."

"This toll road was opened in August and the amount of traffic on it has been terrific."
"It was needed badly and it is fortunate that it could be constructed with toll road funds, rather than for the public to have to wait 10 or 12 years for adequate facilities between the two growing cities."
"We do not know whether there are other areas in Texas where turnpikes will pay or not. We have some areas where the traffic count is high and where at the present an interstate route is not designated. However . . . I am doubtful if Texans would be in the frame of mind to accept another toll road."

Formby said Texas had been allocated 2,905 miles of the 41,000 miles of federal superhighways.

"I can see where that at least 400 or 500 more miles and maybe a thousand miles more of interstate routes in Texas could be justified. We will need actually a 4,000-mile system to move the traffic across the state, to take care of the military needs and to solve the problems in most of our fast growing areas."

"However, with the state funds available we are building and plan to build hundreds of miles of super-duper highways in Texas on our primary system."

"The 2,905 miles of interstate route in Texas is going to be a great help. But our calculations are that only about 16 per cent of the people of Texas will ride on these roads when completed. About 65 per cent of the travelers, or two out of three cars, will travel on our primary routes which are constructed with 50 per cent state and 50 per cent federal money."

Formby said he hoped the federal interstate system could be completed within the proposed 12 or 13-year period. He said he feared it would take 15 or 16 years.

PEOPLE SATISFIED
"I believe the people are perfectly willing to pay for these interstate routes and that they are well satisfied in Texas with the way we are progressing in getting them started," Formby said.

"I get alarmed sometimes because I feel that the people are thinking this interstate system will solve their traffic problems. They have read so many articles and so many advertisements about all of the bottlenecks that the interstate system will solve that they think their problems are whipped."

"We classify about 20,000 miles as being in our primary system, exclusive of the interstate route. These are the roads that most of our people travel on and these are the roads that are giving us much concern at the present."

"With our increasing population and increasing number of vehicles and with automobiles traveling faster than ever, I believe that Texans are entitled to more four-lane divided highways than ever before."

"I hope that we can find the finances to give the traveling public the roads they deserve."

Joan Watkins Hurt Critically In Auto Wreck

Joan Watkins, clerk in the Big Spring-Howard County Health Unit, is in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock in a critical condition from injuries sustained early Monday in a car accident 10 miles south of Tahoka on U. S. 87.

Bo Bowen, city-county health nurse, was returned from Tahoka to Big Spring today and was placed in the Big Spring Hospital. Miss Bowen, who was a companion of Joan Watkins in the car, suffered a broken left ankle and numerous bruises. Her condition was described as satisfactory.

Miss Watkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Watkins, 1605 Owens, has been at the health unit only a short time. She formerly worked at the U. S. Experiment Station. Last year she was a student at Howard County Junior College where she took a prominent part in the theatrical activities of the drama department.

Relatives here reported at 10 a. m. Tuesday that Miss Watkins had a fair night at the Lubbock hospital but that her condition continued critical. She suffered extensive head injury. Relatives said that she lost a vast amount of blood. She was removed from Tahoka to Lubbock and was immediately given four pints of blood on arrival at that institution.

Her condition was so grave that surgeons elected to perform surgery in her hospital room rather than risk moving her to the operating room.

Her parents are at her bedside. Details are incomplete as to the accident itself.

Miss Bowen and Miss Watkins were en route to a public health meeting in Lubbock. The crash, which was said to involve three automobiles, occurred at 8:35 a. m.

No other persons were reported injured.

The two women were to attend a district meeting of the West Texas Section of the Texas Public Health Association which opened at 9 a. m. in Lubbock on Monday.

The Studebaker Scotsman On Display

Among the 1958 lines being shown by Studebaker is the Scotsman, being offered as a two-door sedan, four-door sedan and two-door station wagon. The latter, pictured above, is now on display at McDonald Motor Company, 206 Johnson. This is a refinement of the model which met with great popularity last year. The new line features a lower and flared silhouette. Economy of operation and maintenance is one of the keynotes of the Scotsman line. The engine is six-cylinder, 101-horsepower.

Aircraft Industry Reflects Effects Of Military Cutback

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Affairs Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP)—The aircraft industry, already feeling the pinch of the military program cutback, predicts that 100,000 more men may have to be laid off in its factories.

Here and there, local stresses are arising from the closing down of armed forces facilities and government-owned plants which employ civilians.

But an Associated Press survey also discloses that although the reduction in the defense program is the largest since the end of World War II, its impact on some basic industries—like steel and aluminum—is so diffused as to be relatively light.

In some defense quarters, there have been rough estimates that for all industries holding defense contracts, the cutback might eventually mean a reduction in working force of perhaps 200,000. This layoff period would extend over a year or more.

Out of the 38 billion dollars being spent in the current fiscal year by the military, about 12 billion dollars is for procurement—of planes, missiles, ships, guns, ammunition.

The cutback in the military program is not a reduction from either figure. It is a cutback in the amount of hardware which can be purchased for 12 billion dollars because the cost of weapons has gone up. If the number of items bought is reduced, there will be fewer workers needed to produce them.

Orval R. Cook, president of the Aircraft Industries Assn. and former Air Force general, says that some estimates indicate that 100,000 more layoffs are expected in the aircraft industry. That will be a drop from a present level of about 900,000.

A growing commercial aircraft production "will help in large degree to soften the losses in military aircraft," he says.

The impact is more direct in communities where the government owns and operates or has contractors operate plants like ammunition facilities and shipyards.

By next June, the Sunflower Ordnance plant in Kansas, which has employed 1,800 persons, will shut down completely. The Army's Ravenna arsenal in Ohio, has laid off 500 of its 850 employees, leaving only some maintenance personnel. Bag-loading unit of Army's Charleston, Ind., arsenal scheduled for shutdown by next summer; about 1,700 been laid off so far.

Some shipyards are being hit by the cutback. Others have ample backlogs of Navy contracts or hold private enterprise contracts.

The New York Naval Shipyard in Brooklyn laid off about 1,100 skilled and semiskilled workers during the past summer months. The civilian work staff has been reduced somewhat at the Philadelphia Navy Yard, but shipbuilding is "going strong" in private yards and employment has increased instead of decreased.

Business of private yards is expanding, including Bethlehem, which holds military contracts for conversion of a cruiser into a guided missile ship. The Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Co. in Virginia is at work on several military contracts, including an atomic aircraft carrier and an atomic submarine.

In some areas, the slowdown in military production is being reflected in the heavy machine and machine tool industry. In Connecticut, an increase in unemployment benefit claims is related to layoffs in Hartford and Bridgeport machine tool plants.

Leaders of some of the basic industries—steel, aluminum—oil—incline toward a calm view of the cutback program.

Effects Of Queen's U.S. Visit Studied

NEW YORK (AP)—Hard-headed American and British diplomats brushed away the confetti today and pondered how much the visit of Queen Elizabeth II helped their task of improving U.S.-British cooperation.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan arrives here from London tomorrow, little more than 24 hours after Elizabeth and Prince Philip ended a triumphant 10-day stay in the United States and Canada.

He will start three days of crucial talks with President Eisenhower, Secretary of State Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd in Washington.

Their job is to find some way of countering the Soviet Union's new Sputnik diplomacy. Primarily, they seek a freer exchange of technical scientific knowledge and manpower to keep from being outdistanced by Russia in the nuclear missile race for supremacy. But they also want, and want badly, a joint means of keeping the oil-rich Middle East from falling completely under the Communist spell.

Eisenhower's final message to Elizabeth repeated what he and Dulles told her in separate toasts at banquets in Washington last week.

In a message read at Elizabeth's final banquet last night, Eisenhower called for: "Increased free world unity and cooperation and, indeed, for greater pooling of human and material resources if we are successfully to champion on a global scale the cause of human freedom and peace based on justice."

The banquet in the plush grand ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel was staged by the Pilgrims of the United States and the English-Speaking Union.

It was followed by a gala ball at the 7th Regiment Armory. From there Elizabeth and Philip drove to Idlewild Airport, boarded the same Royal Air Force DC7C which brought them to Ottawa Oct. 12, and took off for London.

Their all-out New York reception was a climactic triumph to a whirlwind visit. Crowds estimated at 1½ million thronged the streets to catch a glimpse of them. Ticket-earners weighed out by street sweepers later at a total of 200 tons, showered down as they moved up lower Broadway to City Hall, and then to the Waldorf-Astoria.

They went to the 102nd floor of the Empire State Building to survey the city in misty twilight.

Elizabeth's reaction was a breathless, "It's beautiful... beautiful... the most beautiful thing I've ever seen."

For a few minutes during the day Philip found himself just one of the thousands out to see him and his Queen. Coming back from giving a speech at the American Institute of Physics, Philip got caught in the traffic jam he helped create. He stepped out of his car at 45th Street and Lexington Avenue, dashed through a building to Park Avenue, and walked four blocks to the 49th Street entrance of the Waldorf-Astoria. The payoff was that nobody apparently recognized him.

Bombs Shatter U.S. Posts In Vietnam Capital

SAIGON (AP)—Time bombs today shattered the United States Information Service library, a military bus and a hostel in a sudden outburst of anti-Americanism in Saigon. Eighteen persons, including 13 U.S. soldiers, were injured.

The other injured were Vietnamese or Chinese civilians. No one was killed.

Two of the soldiers were reported in serious condition. Eight of the American wounded were being evacuated immediately to the Clark Field military hospital in Manila, a U.S. spokesman said.

The soldiers belong to the U.S. Military Assistance Advisory Group here to train South Vietnam's army. Their names were withheld.

The injured persons were in or near the bus and hostel. The bombing in the Information Service Library exploded during the siesta hour when the building was empty.

It was the first case of anti-American attacks in Saigon in almost two years. There are some 2,000 Americans in the Viet Nam capital, including military and diplomatic personnel and construction company workers helping build two modern highways.

The bus and hostel bombings occurred within several minutes of each other this morning. A witness a few yards from the bus said about a dozen soldiers and officers, coming from the Metro Hotel, had just entered the vehicle when the blast occurred.

"They were seating themselves when the roar of an explosion tore past my face, blowing out the hotel windows," he said. "One man on the bus steps was blown across the sidewalk. The bomb was placed in the engine of the bus and blew the insides out."

The time bomb at the American military hostel was hidden in a flower pot at the front. The explosion shattered one wall and damaged a car parked nearby. The hostel is in Cholon, Saigon's twin Chinese city. Four soldiers in the building were hurt.

The library bomb was apparently hidden behind some books. The blast ripped a huge hole in the wall, destroying desks, chairs and bookshelves.

'Blue Monday' In Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market has just suffered its bluest "Blue Monday" since Sept. 26, 1955, the first trading session after President Eisenhower's heart attack.

Successive selling waves yesterday slashed an estimated $6,350,000,000 from the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, based on the fall in the average.

The high-speed ticker tape ran behind the pace of transactions on no less than seven separate occasions when sellers rushed to unload.

The so-called blue chips took a beating along with stocks of lesser quality. Even American Telephone, regarded as an investment-type issue for cautious people, broke 3½ points. Du Pont fell 6¼.

When the ticker tape ran late, brokers and analysts looked for some recovery movement after prices were pounded down—buying by so-called "bargain hunters." This is the usual pattern. But there was little or none of it yesterday.

Instead, prices hovered around their low figures only to be hammered down again when the ticker tape was swamped with selling the next time.

Wall Streeters reported no single news event, rumor or other factor behind yesterday's shakeout but rather a combination of "more of the same." The market, they said, was still worried about tight money and uncertain business prospects. Production cuts or layoffs were reported by several more companies. The scaling-down of defense spending was emphasized by the Navy's cancellation of 21 million dollars in contracts with Lockheed Aircraft Co. The steel industry's operating rate slipped below 80 per cent of rated capacity.

Brokers reported that despite the 70 per cent margin requirement some stocks were sold because more margin was required. Other stocks were disposed of merely because their owners were nervous—they had seen their holdings fall far enough. Additional sales were reported for establishing tax losses on income tax returns.

Although this was the sharpest decline since the first Eisenhower "heart break," it was only about half as bad, judging by the fall in the average. Nevertheless, it was part of a three-month erosion of prices since the market reached its high for the year July 12, coming then within an ace of its all-time bull market high.

The market got an extra push to the downside last week on news of the Syrian-Turkish crisis. The week before that, the Russian space satellite was the main upsetting factor.

Flu Blamed For Deaths Of 150

By The Associated Press

Asiatic flu and its relatives have claimed the lives of 150 persons—and possibly many more—since the respiratory disease began sweeping across the country several months ago.

The disease seems to hit hard elderly persons and retarded children. Both groups have lower resistance to diseases than healthy adults.

Decisive Cold War Battle In Mid-East About To Be Joined

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

The decisive cold war battle over the Middle East seems about to be joined. For Western civilization, this is a moment for prayerful resolve.

The Democratic world faces a toe-to-toe struggle with communism over a vast sun-baked section of the globe which President Eisenhower calls the most strategic area on earth. The winner will be the side with the strongest nerves and greatest resoluteness.

Nikita S. Khrushchev and his Communist cohorts are toying with global peace. One serious mistake, one bad miscalculation in the Middle East now could bring the world to the edge of disaster. This would be no Korea. Much more is at stake, including the economic health of all Western Europe.

All the elements for a little war are in evidence today in the Arab world. A big war remains a possibility—though not a probability. But Soviet communism persists in courting catastrophe.

Men who can harness the atom and plan outer space travel are gambling that they can control much less manageable forces: the human emotions of a highly unstable people.

NO MYSTERY
There is no mystery about what Moscow is trying to accomplish in the Arab world.

The Russians do not want to start World War III. But they have gained great propaganda victories through their championing of the Arabs against Israel and through recent scientific advances. In their determination not to surrender this initiative, Soviet policy is using all measures short of war, approaching as close to the brink as Moscow dares.

It is becoming clear that one of Khrushchev's immediate goals is to force a big power meeting of heads of state giving him a permanent and authoritative voice in the Arab world's destinies.

The Russians hope to force such a meeting by beating a constant tattoo on the world's nerves and then building up pressure on London and Washington by offering hope of a way out of a highly explosive situation.

From a big power meeting, the Russians could work to emerge as the leading champions of Arab aspirations. Behind scenes they apparently hope to push forward relentlessly with economic, military and political penetration. They seek destruction of Western Allied influence in the Middle East, so that the northern tier of resistance to communism is broken and there is no hope left for an effective solid front.

ECONOMIC TRAP
Moscow already has a strong foothold in Syria, through military dependence. An economic trap, too, is being set for the Syrians.

The Russians probably are working hard even at this moment to bring about a situation in Syria's neighbor Iraq which will result in an anti-Western explosion there. Frustrated Arab nationalism, in a nation aligned militarily with the West, provides a convenient weapon.

If the explosion in Iraq comes, Soviet solicitude, for "independence and sovereignty" could offer a new Iraqi regime a shoulder to weep upon, as it did in Syria. That day would be a black one for the West. Fragile, faltering Jordan would be easy prey to the Cairo-Damascus-Moscow axis. A sudden deluge of American arms has temporarily shored up King Hussein's throne, but it has given the Middle East the look of engaging in an arms race, with the Russians supplying Syria and Egypt, if Hussein should fall, the arms will fall to his—and America's—enemies.

If the Soviet program goes according to plan, Turkey would be effectively encircled. The northern tier will have come apart. With Syria astride the oil pipelines to the Mediterranean, Iraq on the Persian Gulf and Egypt sitting on the Suez Canal, Western Europe's oil would be at the mercy of Arab nationalist demands.

HISTORICAL VIEW
Will the Russians risk total war to pursue such aims?

One must go back a decade to examine the chances.

Iran, 1946: Moscow refused to get out of Azerbaijan. But when the situation became really dangerous, the Russians retreated. They would not risk war.

Berlin, 1948: When the Soviet blockade became too dangerous, Moscow called it off.

Korea, 1953: The Soviet gamble fell short of its goals. An unsure post-Stalin regime saw the threat of a new war. The Russians pulled back, pressed for an armistice.

Indochina, 1954: French and Viet Nam forces were defeated in the North. Communists pushed for and brought about an armistice, then fell back to digest their gains.

Middle East, March 1956: Those in the area at the moment of feverish crisis felt the peace of the world was hanging in the balance. Suddenly a Moscow statement

CAP Calls Off Search For Texans
SWEETWATER (AP)—The Civil Air Patrol called off a search for two Texans missing on a flight to Colorado after they were discovered in Tucuman, N.M. pulled the rug from under Egypt's Nasser and other Arabs who might have anticipated total Soviet support.

Suez, November, 1956: The Russians talked of intervention, threatened war. But in the U.N. they labored to bring about a cease-fire.

The Russians need sustained Arab world tension if they are to push toward their goals. The Soviet policy aims at controlled turmoil. Indications are they will continue leading the world to the brink and suddenly pulling back to consolidate gains. The big question: Will the Russians be able indefinitely to pull back in the nick of time?

C Of C Board Endorses Plan For State Water Bond Fund

Chamber of Commerce directors Monday gave their endorsement to the proposed constitutional amendment for creating a state-wide water bond fund.

The amendment will be No. 3 on the ballot when voters are asked Nov. 5 to pass upon five proposed additions to the state charter.

The amendment, if approved, would provide for the immediate issuance of $100 million in general obligation bonds by the State of Texas. This could be supplemented by another $100 million if the proceeds from the first issue are loaned out and the Legislature gives a two-thirds approval.

In both cases, the funds provided by the bonds would be loaned to local political subdivisions of the state to help meet the cost of water conservation and distribution projects. The limit would be up to one-third of the cost of the project, but in no instance more than $5 million.

As cities and districts repaid these loans, the state would retire the water fund bonds.

Joe Pickle presented the matter to the board and said that he felt there was a possibility this area might be one of the direct beneficiaries of the fund, but that in any event it was a good thing for the state.

The Rev. William D. Boyd was named chairman of a committee composed of hold-over directors who will serve as a nominating committee for new directors. This group will meet Friday at 10 a.m. at the chamber offices to select 45 names, from which 15 directors will be elected by the membership.

Wayne B. Smith, manager, reported that $1,813 of a $3,100 Christmas activities fund had been gathered by mail invitations. The merchants committee will meet Nov. 7 to review the situation and take steps to solicit the remainder. Smith also reported that 50 firms had signed to participate in the Business-Education Day program in November. President R. L. Beale urged good attendance at the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce annual dinner Monday evening.

Hearing To Study Fire Ant Problem

WASHINGTON (AP)—A public hearing will be held Nov. 19 in Memphis on a proposal to set up quarantine regulations against fire ants in Texas and nine other Southern states.

The regulations would restrict or prohibit interstate movement of products and articles capable of spreading infestation. The Agriculture Department said fire ants infest more than 20 million acres in the South.

~~LIGHT OIL~~ ~~HEAVY OIL~~

Why use two when one will do?

You'll do better to protect your motor with this one all-weather oil than to change from heavy oil to light oil according to the season.

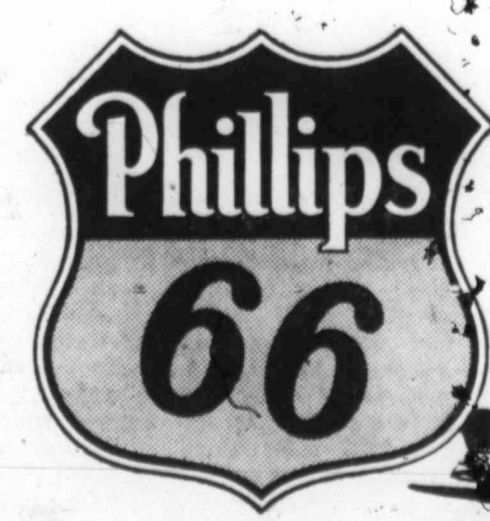

Users of TROP-ARTIC* All-Weather Motor Oil never have to worry about using different grades of oil at different seasons of the year. TROP-ARTIC is a light oil and heavy oil in one (grades 10W through 30). Furthermore, it lubricates and protects your motor far better than any of the old-fashioned "single grade" oils.

The reason is that TROP-ARTIC never gets too thick or too thin. In a cold engine it flows quickly for easy starting... fast protection. In a hot engine it retains the "body" necessary to prevent wear at high temperatures. It reduces friction to save you gasoline. It keeps your engine clean. Compared to old-fashioned oils it can even double engine life.

Guaranteed All-Weather Lubri-tection! Use a crankcase full of TROP-ARTIC for ten days or up to 1,000 miles. If you aren't completely satisfied that it lives up to all the claims made for it, your Phillips 66 Dealer will replace it with any other available oil you prefer at no additional expense to you. Could anything be fairer? Get TROP-ARTIC today!

A Bible Thought For Today

He heapeth up riches and knoweth not who shall gather them. (Psalms 39:6)

Those Vastly Beneficial Rains

Although they came at a time too late to have much effect on yields this year, the rains of the past few days have brought immeasurable good to our section.

To be sure, the moisture has further delayed an already late cotton crop. It also has increased the hazards which attend an early, severe frost, for bolts now will take on more moisture and if in a sappy condition when frozen would ruin. On the other hand, if the weather turns off fair and frost is light and late, the bolts will get a chance to mature and will come to market a great deal heavier. The immediate difficulty is in wet over-cast weather long enough to produce staining, which would lower grade and therefore prices.

But on the whole the rains' benefits will far outweigh any problems they might create. For one thing, the small grain which was up in most places or in fair condition to come up, will be assured of a good start. Actually, the moisture will carry it well into the winter when other light rains might be anticipated. This being the case, a great amount of winter grazing will be provided.

Pastures will be helped tremendously, not alone from giving strength to grass roots seeking to reestablish themselves but create favorable conditions for grass seed to get going next spring. Actually, some winter grasses are assured in sufficient abundance to provide some grazing in the flats and draws. Stock ponds, on the whole, are replenished enough to provide water until next spring. The soaking qualities of these rains help to continue the onslaught which may yet break the drought.

Need To Fill The Vacuum

The British have been dabbling in Middle East politics since the 1800s, and France (in Syria) since the Second World War. Neither is now physically engaged in masterminding Middle East politics, if you except Britain's toehold in Cyprus, but both are vitally concerned with the course of events there.

They were in a fair way to "settling" Middle East problems in the old familiar way just a year ago, and probably would have made a go of it if left alone.

But the U. S., which had never had a finger in that pie, and had no intention of getting involved up to its ears in that locality, wrecked the Anglo-French blueprint for stability there by slapping down its oldtime friends and allies with the United Nations intervention.

That intervention settled nothing, except the hash of Britain and France. It created a power vacuum, the sort of vacuum

Russia loves to move in on—and Russia has been moving in with increasing celerity and success.

We had no intention of assuming what used to be called the white man's burden in the Middle East—or anywhere else for that matter. About all we could do, after wrecking the Anglo-French program was to put forth something we called the Eisenhower Doctrine, a combination of words full of wind, signifying nothing. So, next week, President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Macmillan, like Churchill a half-American by breeding, will meet to talk things over regarding the Middle East crisis.

May God speed their deliberations, for as sure as you're a foot high, unless some way is found of filling the vacuum there by Western action, Russia will be firmly settled in that midst thereof before another six months are up.

Fund Cutback Hurt Missile Program

WASHINGTON—A full-scale Senate investigation into the lag in the American satellite and missile programs depends on two factors: 1. Whether the Soviet Union comes up with a second and even more spectacular demonstration of its technical-scientific capacity such as the launching of a new and larger moon on November 7, the anniversary of the Red Revolution; 2. whether public interest is sustained at the current pitch of intensity.

This reporter has talked with members of the Senate Armed Services Committee and they are agreed on at least one thing. That is that the public reaction to the Sputnik is something rarely seen in its universality and its widespread reflection of concern for the security of the nation. Add to this fascination the whole field of interplanetary travel and you have a subject with an irresistible political attraction.

man of the Armed Services Committee, is likely in the end to decide yes or no on an investigation. He is presently waiting for a preliminary report from the staff of the preparedness subcommittee of armed services. The Pentagon has been requested to furnish all information on the missile and satellite programs and this will be evaluated by staff specialists.

Russell is doubtful that a public investigation could avoid purely partisan politics in assessing the blame or credit and he currently, therefore, doubts the usefulness—in terms of national security—of a public investigation. On the other hand, Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, the Republican whip of the Senate, has called for an inquiry.

What seems likely after Congress meets in January is not a big televised public hearing but a private evaluation by the full Armed Services Committee. A report to the country based on such a sober evaluation might be a real contribution to national security and public understanding.

What Others Say

Has the Little Rock, Ark., school integration battle set off a chain reaction that will relegate the five most avid segregationist Southern states to an important role in national politics? Robert L. Riggs, Washington correspondent for the Louisville, Ky., Courier-Journal, concludes that it has.

"The national leadership of the two parties will have to forget about the South and fight their battles out in the area along the border and north of the Mason-Dixon Line," Riggs wrote. "Whether Southerners form a party of their own or stay as unhappy members of the Democratic party, the effect will be about the same. Certainly, the Lyndon Johnson-Leroy Collins talk about nominating a Southerner on the Democratic ticket can be forgotten entirely. But even more important than that, the Democratic National Convention won't dare offer in 1960 a presidential candidate who owes his strength to Southern delegations."

If Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who at the moment is the favorite of Negro leaders, wins the presidential nomination, the Democrats will be forced to turn to someone who thinks as do Michigan's G. Mennen Williams, New York's Averell Harriman and Illinois' Paul Douglas.

The potential eclipse of the traditional strong influence of the South in national politics is not a pleasant prospect to contemplate. For many years Democrats have tended to seek a Southern flavor in balancing their national ticket. The last Southerner to be elected president by Democrats was, of course, Woodrow Wilson. But they elected Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky to the vice presidency as late as 1948—while President Harry S. Truman, his running mate, incidentally was turning his back on the South. Thirteen of our 34 presidents and 9 of our 36 vice presidents have been born in the South, although all of them were not Democrats—witness Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The melancholy fact is, the South has no other place to go. It can be effective only if it remains within the Democratic party—at least within the foreseeable future. Southerners therefore face no other prospect than to accommodate their views to those of the majority of the people in the United States. This means that they must begin now, in good faith, to seek a peaceful and orderly solution to the problem of integration in the public schools. This is almost the sole issue that separates Southerners from other residents of the United States.

The alternative is clear: If the South will not accommodate itself to the integration issue it will be left to its own devices by both parties. It will then lose the powerful voice it has had for so many years in national and international fields. Then the almost-life-or-death legislative power held by Southern U. S. senators as committee chairmen will be something to cherish only in memory.

Just Born That Way

NEW YORK—America today is full of glamorous grandmothers, but Marlene Dietrich, one of the most beautiful, probably has the fewest beauty secrets.

"I wash my face with soap," she admitted cheerfully, "and I don't own a jar of skin cream. Perhaps I should, but I just can't be bothered. I keep only one bottle of perfume in my house—if I have that."

She can enter a room full of celebrities, and all heads will snap her way. Whatever she had, she still has.

Glamour is her trade mark, but never has impressed her very much.

"I was brought up to be useful," she said, "and to do something useful."

"The biggest misconception about glamour is that you cannot be glamorous and also clean house, wash dishes—and do everything anyone else does."

Marlene feels that any housewife can be glamorous but remarked: "I don't know why she would want to. With me it happens to be a profession."

"What defeats most women who seek to be glamorous? In America I would say it is insecurity in their own judgment," she said. "They become too regimented, which is strange, because we are told this is a nation of individuals."

"To feel they are well-dressed they must have the assurance of others—they must have the seal of approval to be sure they haven't made a mistake."

"But that is where they make their mistake. Their own individuality cannot come through if they follow a pattern, yet they must follow a pattern to feel secure."

Asked if she could sum up her philosophy in a sentence, Marlene shrugged wryly with her mouth, then said: "Do your duty—but do it every day."

That has been the actual glamour of her life-duty.

Our Three-Stage That Went Phf-f-t

Ed Creagh

Now Comes 'Mac The Bookie'

WASHINGTON—The Queen and her prince have departed, and in their royal wake comes "Mac the Bookie."

Somewhat it's hard to link a nickname like that with royalty. "Mac the Bookie" sounds closer to a dog track than to Buckingham Palace. It conjures up a picture of a flashily dressed type suggestively fingering a wad of greasy bills—and, like as not, chewing a toothpick.

Nothing could be farther from the fact.

"Mac the Bookie" is one of the nicknames wished by the British press and public on the Rt. Hon. Harold Macmillan, possibly in an effort to cut him down to size.

Macmillan is, of course, Britain's prime minister. He's due here tomorrow for talks with President Eisenhower and others.

That "Mac the Bookie" tag, incidentally, stems from his days as Sir Anthony Eden's chancellor of the exchequer. Macmillan thought up a lottery-type scheme for selling savings bonds. He prefers the nickname "Happy Homemaker," bestowed on him for chores as minister of housing.

It is no accident that Macmillan comes here hard on the heels of Her Majesty. The visit was planned that way—to take every advantage of the good will generated by the little Queen and her handsome consort. In other words: We've had the pageantry. Now let's get down to work.

For there is a hard job of work facing Macmillan, Eisenhower and their advisers. The job is nothing less than attempting to reconstruct the "Grand Alliance" of World War II days.

It is often said that the British-American partnership broke up (though it has been partly sealed again since then) at the time of the Suez crisis, when the British and French marched into the canal zone without letting this country know they were going to do it.

Actually, the "Grand Alliance" had been something less than that long before Suez. Macmillan himself said early in 1948: "In foreign affairs, we seem to have lost the old close cooperation with the United States which was the pivot of victory and the only guarantee of peace."

What, exactly, will Macmillan talk to the President and Secretary of State about? No agenda has been announced, but the word is out in diplomatic circles that the main topics will be: propaganda, diplomacy, economics and defense.

Engineer Urges

Data Gathering As Flood Guard

AUSTIN, Oct. 22—A more positive method to guard quickly before floods build up is needed with a flood-warning service, the State Board of Water Engineers said today.

The engineers said Texas needs more flood control reservoirs to more positively regulate streamflow and reduce the destructive effects of floods.

"However, completing an adequate system of reservoirs will require many years," the board said in its special report of the April, May and June 1957 floods.

"In the interim, a more positive means for determining time, place and quantity of rainfall preparatory to initiating a flood-warning service would keep the public advised relative to the location of flood-producing storms."

The report said more stream gauging stations would provide such data if placed at selected points on major tributaries. Accurate rainfall determinations and topographic maps also are needed in flood forecasting.

During the 3-month period, 38 million acre feet of water ran off Texas lands with 7 million caught by reservoirs. The rest went into the ground, later evaporated or ran into the Gulf of Mexico.

Texas Turkey Industry Must Step Sharply

AUSTIN, Oct. 22—The Bureau of Business Research said today Texas turkey industries, now prosperous and progressive, will have to step sharply to stay ahead.

Some Texas producers who have not adopted modern production and processing procedures are finding their birds penalized at the market place, said the University of Texas agency's report.

"In general, however, the Texas turkey industry is showing progressive and present trends indicate that the state will continue to be a leader in both turkey production and processing in the foreseeable future," the report issued today said.

The Department of Agriculture estimates that 4,724,000 turkeys will be sent to market in Texas in 1957, a 6 per cent increase over the previous year and an all time high since record keeping began in 1939.

Around The Rim

Twins Keep Lawyers Confused

You never knew, in those days, just who it was sitting on the bench in the district court.

Even veteran attorneys who were always before the bar with litigation could never say for certain.

"Was that Tom presiding today?" they asked as they walked down the stairs of the courthouse.

"I don't know," their companion would reply. "It may have been Joe Ben."

Tom and Joe Ben were attorneys at law who came to the southern part of what is now Oklahoma in the early days of the present century.

They were also identical twins.

Close personal friends in those days had a hard time being sure which was which; casual acquaintances were never certain.

Tom entered politics and eventually was elected district judge after statehood came to Oklahoma. Joe Ben continued to practice law and carry on the affairs of the law firm which the two had established when they first moved to the town.

Tom didn't enjoy sitting on the bench day after day. Civil cases bored him. He also liked to go on trips to other towns. Sometimes he had law business or oil business elsewhere and when these events arose, he didn't like to be bothered with the responsibility of presiding in court.

It posed no real problem, however. He would leave town quietly and when court convened, Brother Joe would be on the bench. Lawyers might suspect that an unorthodox substitution had been made but it did not pay to question the judge too closely.

Besides, there was a possibility that it was actually Tom presiding. If this happened to be true, the skeptical barrister would be in a most embarrassing position.

So the two brothers swapped judicial duties if it suited their convenience. Since both were very able attorneys and astute students of the law, it probably didn't matter. You were unable to tell from the rulings or the judgments whether it was Joe or whether it was Tom who had spoken.

The two brothers were inseparable. Their law firm prospered. They became renowned in their district as criminal case experts and scores of murder cases were defended by them. They played major roles in many spectacular criminal cases—their names were often in the public prints.

The law firm was one of the oldest partnerships in the community. Each brother married; each had one son. Each son, when he was old enough, studied law and was admitted to the bar. The sons returned and became members of the firm.

Then something happened. No one ever knew what it was. The two brothers, closer than most brothers, had a quarrel. It was a bitter quarrel. One of the brothers packed up and moved out of the offices both had occupied for so many years. His son went with him. The other remained in the old location with his son.

The two offices were right across the street from one another. It was incapable that the two must meet from time to time. They did meet—on the street, in the courtroom, at the post office. And when they met they stared straight through one another. They never spoke to each other again.

Both were in advanced years when this breach developed.

After a number of years, one of the brothers died. His brother did not attend the funeral. Several years later, the second brother died.

The two sons carried on the two law offices. One morning, one of the sons was found sitting in his automobile. He had been dead for hours. Cause of his death was not determined.

Today the other son is still in law practice in the offices his father opened the day he quarrelled with his brother.

The momentum of the enormous practice built up by the two brothers in their heyday still brings in a lot of fat fees to that office. But the son, by any standard, falls short of measuring up to either his father or his uncle as an attorney.

Eventually, the doors will be closed and one of the most colorful professional partnerships in the town will fade from the picture.

But it will be a long time before old-timers forget the days when it was a daily speculation as to which of the brothers was presiding in the district court.

It's Time We Nourished The Eggheads

It is just possible that the egghead is coming into his own. The time is ahead when it may even be possible for one to be an intellectual without being an outcast and an object of suspicion to 150 per cent Americans and guardians of national mediocrity.

The urgent need of scientists at the very highest level of intellectual capacity to help us draw not only even but ahead of the Russians in the cold war for outer space may force Americans to treat esoteric brain power with the distinction it has always deserved and been accorded in other countries.

Maybe the absent-minded professor whose son don't match and who lives in a world of his own isn't so funny in these days as he is necessary to national survival. Wouldn't it be odd and even interesting, not to mention salutary, if Americans stopped throwing rocks at the oddballs with the gray matter and started tossing bouquets, instead?

And wouldn't it be an elevating change of pace if we, as taxpayers, suddenly decided to pay these eggheads, who are out of step with everything but progress, a living wage? Say, as much as a truck driver or a talented mechanic received? Perish the thought that even in this race for the very survival of freedom and life we should ever pay them per annum as much as a second-rate movie actor receives for one appearance on a teevee spectacular.

The pendulum, naturally, must not be allowed to swing too far. We must keep our perspective in this life-and-death emergency, with the nation frantically trying to organize its scientific and technological genius. No point in flipping our lid and paying some incipient, home-grown Einstein or Fermi or Bohr what they're really worth.

But with President Eisenhower and military leaders pleading, now that the horse has been stolen, for a great concatenation of scientific and egghead skill to shore up the barn door, we Americans may eventually come to realize men and women with superior minds are not necessarily misfits and only good for yaks.

We may come to realize that even though eggheads don't belong to the country club, play canasta, or fade into the charcoal gray brigade, they have their uses in the community and are not necessarily subversive because once—in added youth—they voted the Democratic ticket.

Sputnik and its awful implications are of the gravest concern to all Americans. But I never realized the gravity of the situation until two of New York's distinguished newspapers editorialized on the necessity of being kind and respectful to eggheads and deep thinkers. They even went so far off the deep end as to urge adequate financial reward to such non-organizational men and women. Likewise, decent living wages for the school teachers who are trusted with the training of such superior and gifted children as come their way.

Of course, this is a very radical program. Geniuses are not herd men. They do not conform in an age of conformity. They stick up like sore thumbs on the landscape. They are conspicuous by reason of their inherent individuality.

They confound all the mores of this age of the common man. And they have been so suspect by reason of these damning qualities that the United States has suffered, and suffered severely, from the harsh treatment accorded many. Now we are in dire need of these uncommon men.

What about leading off the new era with a Be Kind to Eggs Week?

The Cold War Involving Syria

There is no obvious reason why Khrushchev should be conducting such a big agitation about Turkey and Syria. He cannot really believe that the United States government is inciting the Turks to attack Syria and thus to precipitate a war which, once started, would involve the whole NATO alliance. Nor can we believe that the Soviet Union is looking for a pretext to attack Turkey, and thus to precipitate a world war. There must be something less world-shaking at stake.

It seems to be plausible guess to say that what is at stake is the control of the Syrian government, and more specifically whether the military dictatorship shall be composed of officers and bureaucrats who are dependent on Moscow. If this is correct, then the story began last summer when the former government became infiltrated and then dominated by a group of men who had the support of the Soviet Union and also of Nasser's Egypt.

To this successful intrigue Mr. Dulles reacted strongly. As the event has shown, in public at least he over-reacted, and deeply embarrassed the Arab governments of Saudi Arabia, Iraq and Lebanon, which are in fact anti-Soviet and anti-Nasser. But it is a reasonable guess that among the Syrians who were ousted by the intrigue of last summer, there has been going on a counter-intrigue in Turkey which would, of course, welcome the overthrow of the present pro-Soviet government in Damascus.

There is some reason for thinking that the intrigue has been making headway and that its agents may have been coming across the Turkish-Syrian border, that they may have begun to penetrate successfully the Syrian army on which the

Woman Runs Race Track

By EARL ARONSON

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. —The only woman superintendent of a major thoroughbred track in this country was answering the telephone, opening her mail and giving an interview, virtually at the same time.

Mrs. Ann Murphy Clare, who has loved horses since she was 5, looks more like the striking, determined matron you'd see presiding at a music or literary club meeting.

She supervises the efforts of 75 men and one other woman, her secretary, Mrs. Daisy Eaby, whose late first husband was jockey Buddy Eaby.

Mrs. Clare took over as superintendent when her husband, Tom, died in 1940. She gets up at about 6:30 most mornings. You're likely to find her near the barn at that hour, exchanging first-name greetings with owners, trainers and exercise riders, or watching a horse working out. But come 7 a. m., she goes to mass in the nearby Catholic church.

She grew up in a convent. "I love every minute of it and I wouldn't want to be doing anything else," says the attractive, graying woman. "We try to keep Saratoga a chummy track. I like people to be smiling around here even if they lose."

"Working with a lot of men does not bother me. I was brought up with five brothers."

One brother, Joseph, is with Saratoga's mutual department. Another, William, is a placing judge, and a nephew, Francis Murphy, is her foreman.

It wasn't difficult taking over the job her husband held for 16 years. Her husband kept a track diary, which she has continued. She had attended to much of the letter writing as his secretary.

"I go at top speed all day," she says, "and when I get home it generally is more of the same."

"Can I cook?" She seemed genuinely surprised by the question. "If you can read you can cook these days. And I can darn socks, too."

Presbyterian Women Elect Officers And Have Luncheon

The first Presbyterian Church was the scene of two meetings Monday, when the Elizabeth McDowell Sunday School Class met for luncheon and the Women of the Church held a business session.

Hostesses for the luncheon were Mrs. Lucian Jones and Mrs. W. C. Henley. Dr. Gage Lloyd, pastor of the church, gave the invocation. Seventeen members were present.

WOMEN OF CHURCH An election was held at the meeting of the Women of the Church, Monday afternoon, with six officers named.

Following a system of staggered elections, the group elected Mrs. Carl Peterson vice president; Mrs. Charles Lusk, secretary; Mrs. Roland Schwarzenbach, treasurer, and Mrs. J. L. Thomas, church extension chairman.

Mrs. M. C. Boyd was selected chairman of the committee for annuities and relief, and Mrs. Perry Jones, stewardship chairman.

Carry-overs for the year, 1957-58, include Mrs. Albert Davis, president; Mrs. George Neill, historian; Mrs. Arthur Pickle, chairman of spiritual growth, and Mrs. Cecil Wasson, chairman of missions.

Head of the committee on Christian education is Mrs. Glen Guthrie, and chairman of the general fund agency is Mrs. Dalton Mitchell.

Members made plans to go to the El Paso Presbytery to be held in El Paso, Oct. 31-Nov. 1.

The meeting was opened with a prayer and devotion by Mrs. Don Farley. Subject of the discussion was "Christ, the Church and the Race." The scripture passage was from the 17th chapter of John.

Seventeen attended this meeting also.

Bed Afghans Are Stylish Once More

A bedroom is a natural for a fall face-lifting. The old favorite, afghans, are back in style and so attractive on a bed with a crisp dust ruffle below. In next to no time, you can also knit matching curtains and highlight the motif through the room.

Besides being fashion news, knitted furnishings are easy to care for and always look their best. Even if a knitted bedspread is wrinkled from sitting or folding, the yarn will spring back into shape naturally. Sponge rubber cushions covered in knitted material may be entirely immersed in water for washing. When you knit with straw and other synthetic fibers, it isn't even necessary to launder. Just wipe off with a damp cloth, particularly wonderful for cafe curtains or table mats. Hand-knit place mats, incidentally, can be turned out on the Speed-O-Knit at the rate of four an hour.

Morale Builder

A pretty coat can be a real morale builder on a rainy day. A cotton poplin coat features a bulky knit yoke, push-up raglan sleeves, and contour belt. It is zelan-treated for water and spot repellency.

Men's Fashion

Prominent on the men's fashion scene this fall will be an all-purpose cotton coat. The coat, treated with zelan for rain protection, has a plaid cotton lining and continental stand-up collar. It is washable and sanforized.

Mrs. Henry Bailey of Alpine, president of the department of Texas, American Legion Auxiliary, will be here Thursday to make her official visit to the Veterans Hospital.

Mrs. R. D. Cramer of Coahoma, district department hospital assistant, will honor the state leader with a luncheon at Cokers at 11 a. m. Guests will include all 19th district officers and members.

For Snack Party

For that evening party, you might like to heat small-size frankfurters in a barbecue sauce and serve on toothpicks. If you have a chafing dish, use it on your table for keeping the franks and sauce warm.

Mad-Plaid Is Must For Classes

One really mad plaid skirt is a must for girls getting back to the classroom grind. A pet of this season is that old favorite, the Hudson Bay blanket, with its fleecy surface, strong colors and giant plaids.

For smart girls who sew their own, local sewing center experts suggest taking a look at some of the new fabrics in piece goods departments. Hudson Bay designs are now available in sanforized cotton, which can be washed with no fear of shrinkage. This new cotton has a fleecy surface which looks much like the warm and woolly blanket originals.

A bold plaid such as this is most effective in a full, gored skirt. For amateur seamstresses here are a few sewing tips: Remember that when sewing a nap-ped fabric, all the nap must run in the same direction. The nap on skirts should run down. Lay out pattern carefully, with all nap in the right direction, and match plaid carefully at seams.

On a full skirt such as this, a narrow hem is best. Hang skirt for a day or so before hemming, so any stretch resulting from the bias cut will hang out. Then mark and cut hem. Sew bias seam binding along edge of hem and turn up not more than an inch of fabric. Blind stitch in place.

Select a trim sweater picking up one of the colors of the plaid to complete the costume. If you wish, you may add a wide belt to emphasize the fullness of the skirt and the trimness of your waistline.

For that evening party, you might like to heat small-size frankfurters in a barbecue sauce and serve on toothpicks. If you have a chafing dish, use it on your table for keeping the franks and sauce warm.

Christmas Social At State Hospital Set

Plans for a Christmas social at the Big Spring State Hospital were made Monday afternoon by a May Martha Circle of the First Christian Church.

The group met in the home of Mrs. H. L. Bonhannon with Mrs. J. T. Allen, president, in charge. Mrs. Willard Read offered the opening prayer.

Devotion was given by Mrs. F. C. Robinson on "The Family of God." Mrs. W. B. Martin brought the lesson from Romans.

Refreshments were served to 10 members.

Mrs. George Hall will be the next hostess.

Following a system of staggered elections, the group elected Mrs. Carl Peterson vice president; Mrs. Charles Lusk, secretary; Mrs. Roland Schwarzenbach, treasurer, and Mrs. J. L. Thomas, church extension chairman.

Mrs. M. C. Boyd was selected chairman of the committee for annuities and relief, and Mrs. Perry Jones, stewardship chairman.

Carry-overs for the year, 1957-58, include Mrs. Albert Davis, president; Mrs. George Neill, historian; Mrs. Arthur Pickle, chairman of spiritual growth, and Mrs. Cecil Wasson, chairman of missions.

Head of the committee on Christian education is Mrs. Glen Guthrie, and chairman of the general fund agency is Mrs. Dalton Mitchell.

Members made plans to go to the El Paso Presbytery to be held in El Paso, Oct. 31-Nov. 1.

The meeting was opened with a prayer and devotion by Mrs. Don Farley. Subject of the discussion was "Christ, the Church and the Race." The scripture passage was from the 17th chapter of John.

Seventeen attended this meeting also.

Old Designs Made Easy

The home-furnishing trend this year is definitely toward hand-knits in home accessories. Exciting new yarns and fibers, and the tried-and-true plus new stitch patterns are providing the knitter with a sky's-the-limit range of designs. Many of these fashion-note patterns and designs are borrowed from familiar American Indian, Scandinavian and Mondrian motifs.

The popularity of attractive handknit fashions for the home are matched only by the ease with which they can now be created. Time and tedium have been eliminated from handknitting. The secret of this speed is a new appliance called Speed-O-Knit manufactured by Passap of Switzerland.

Long a favorite in Europe, today this ingenious device is helping American homemakers reduce to hours even the most complicated knitted project.

An heirloom bedspread, for instance, can be knitted in a week's time instead of a year. A lacey straw or cotton tablecloth doesn't take forever and a day, but can be completed in less than twenty-four hours. So perfect for autumn rejuvenation are handsome knit drapes, cafe curtains, slip covers and aprons.

For Comfort

Tailored for comfort, a deep-toned checked cotton robe has wide sleeves, a roll collar, and a looped sash. The robe is made up in cotton.

Cotton Sheath

A pin-striped cotton sheath and its matching Empire jacket were designed for both day and evening wear. Such dark cotton ensembles are sure to be young fashion favorites this fall.

Wise Choice

A wise choice for back-to-school wear is a dark cotton dress. The floral striped dress has a high bow neck and elbow length sleeves.

Cobbler Apron

Both of these popular styles are provided in pattern 1324. Why not make a couple of each and have on hand for shower gifts?

No. 1324 with PHOTO-GUIDE is in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48. Size 36, 28 bust, long apron 3 1/2 yards of 35-inch; cobbler, 2 1/2 yards.

Guaranteed Diamonds

A pair of the famous Starlite diamond engagement and wedding rings is shown on a customer's finger here by J. T. Grantham at the Grantham Watch & Jewelry Shop in the Edwards Heights Pharmacy. The Starlite rings are backed by a guarantee bond which assures their value at 100 per cent of cost.

Starlite Diamonds Backed By Bonds

Starlite diamonds backed by registered guarantee bonds are now available in Big Spring at the J. T. Grantham Watch & Jewelry Shop, located in the Edwards Heights Pharmacy, 1909 Gregg. Grantham issues one of the bonds with each Starlite diamond he sells, guaranteeing the gem fully, and agreeing to accept it at full value in trade towards the purchase of a higher priced diamond. The bond also entitles the holder to free inspection of the ring every six months for loose diamonds or faulty mountings. The Grantham Watch & Jewelry Shop also has a supply of the famous "Feature Lock" diamond rings. Currently being introduced and available for inspection at Grantham's is Feature Lock's new "Queen of Diamonds" series. There are eight beautiful diamond rings in this group, ranging from the popular "Queen Juliana" at $100 to the "Queen Elizabeth" at $300. The Feature Lock rings, famous for the interlocking engagement and wedding combination, also feature a "feature-glo" setting that

Fiveash Plumbing Ready To Winterize Water Lines

Before long, that first freeze is going to move in. That freeze and the ones that will quickly follow could cause plenty of damage to those uncovered water lines. You can't do anything about the freezes, but you can do something about those water lines so susceptible to freezes. That is to call Fiveash Plumbing Co. to winterize them. Fiveash plumbers will cover the lines or take the necessary corrections to make them freeze-proof in a short time. Then you can forget about any troubles. Now is the time to have that work done however, before cold weather hits and while plumbing business is not quite as rushed as in the winter. During winter months, plumbers are hard to locate because of the volume of work, and they have more orders than they can handle immediately. That naturally causes inconveniences for you and makes you wish you had called them earlier to prevent the trouble. You might want your heating unit checked and cleaned also before turning it on for the winter. Dirt and dust has probably sifted into the unit during the summer. This can be cleaned out and made ready for winter use in a short time by Fiveash. So call a plumber now and call Fiveash. The phone number is AM 4-6111, and the Fiveash office is located at 821 E. 3rd.

Aggies 2nd In AP Poll

By ED CORRIGAN

The Associated Press After a one-week absence, Oklahoma was back in its accustomed spot atop the Associated Press football poll today.

As if to lend emphasis to the change, Michigan State, which had displaced the Sooners at the top of the heap a week ago, tumbled all the way down to eighth.

Nor were the Spartans the only ones to nosedive. Minnesota, Oregon State and Arkansas, all of whom were high on the list before each absorbed a beating Saturday, dropped.

The votes by the nation's sports writers and sportscasters were tabulated on the usual 10 for first place, 9 for second, etc.

Oklahoma, which rung up its 44th consecutive victory Saturday — a 47-0 lacing of hapless Kansas — got 1,365 points compared to 1,108 for second-place Texas A&M. Oklahoma had 89 first-place votes and Texas A&M 5.

The Aggies advanced from third to second by virtue of their hard-earned 7-0 victory over Texas Christian.

Following them in the top 10, in order, were Iowa, Duke, Auburn, Mississippi, Notre Dame, Michigan State, Army and Louisiana State.

Michigan State was the only one of Saturday's losers that managed to stay in the top 10. Minnesota tumbled from fourth to 14th, while Oregon State and Arkansas, seventh and 10th, respectively a week ago, fell clear out of sight.

Minnesota was beaten by Illinois, the same club that licked Michigan State last year. Oregon State lost to UCLA 26-7, and Arkansas dropped a 17-0 decision to Texas.

Army, Louisiana State and Mississippi are the three newcomers to the top 10.

The top 10 with first-place votes in parentheses:

- Oklahoma (89) 1,365
- Texas A&M (5) 1,108
- Iowa (16) 908
- Duke (10) 902
- Wuburn (11) 792
- Mississippi (10) 691
- Notre Dame (4) 583
- Michigan State (1) 547
- Army 547

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue: BERNIE MOORE, commissioner of the Southeastern Athletic Conference.

"I doubt if anyone in our league goes undefeated. A great team must also be a lucky one. . . . Some people don't believe in luck on the football field. But I do. Take the Georgia-Texas game for example. Georgia had the ball 11 times. They scored once but the other ten times Texas failed to stop Georgia. Penalties, fumbles, injuries to key players—I didn't know there were that many ways to lose a ball game. But I found out that day."

DON CLARK, USC football coach: "We're going to be solid. . . . We are building. . . . The bye we drew last Saturday, giving us two weeks to recover from our setbacks, on the field and off, is the best thing that could have happened to us. . . . Despite six weeks of practice, most of our boys have actually drilled only two or three weeks. . . . Just before the Pittsburgh game, eight Trojans had been out with the flu and lost between ten and 15 pounds each. We should be at full strength before starting to play for keeps."

CURTIS KELLEY, Big Spring coaching aide: "Right after I moved in as coach at Alpine, I was downtown and asked a rancher how long it had been since Alpine beat Maria. He took off his hat and pointed to a bald head. 'The last time we beat Maria, I had a full head of hair,' he said. And he didn't crack a smile. I hurried back to school and went to work. I figured people around there took their football seriously, after that."

CARMEN BASILIO, the middleweight boxing champion, in a remark addressed to Sugar Ray Robinson: "Don't wait too long to decide on that rematch. You're not running the show anymore. I am."

DUFFY DAUGHTERY, Michigan State football coach: "If we can stay healthy, we should have a pretty good team by the end of the season."

BOBBY DODD, Georgia Tech coach, discussing the Engineers' loss to LSU: "LSU should have scored at least two more touchdowns—we were lucky, at that. Football is a funny game, things happen that you just can't explain. I thought we had a better line than LSU but they gave us a whipping up front and that was the difference. . . . LSU's line was the difference."

PHIL WOOLPERT, San Francisco basketball coach: "A few years from now, basketball will be the No. 1 team game the world over. Soccer is currently the favorite on all continents except North America. But basketball is catching up. I don't say this because I'm a basketball coach. It's amazing how other people take to a game that was invented in the United States. . . . The game is simple to understand. . . . Baseball, except in Mexico and Japan, throws them. Our football doesn't make sense."

EDDIE ERDELATZ, Navy football mentor: "Navy's loss to North Carolina was my fault. I was so anxious to beat Jim Tatum that I really keyed up those kids. I drove 'em too hard. I had 'em so tight that they even fumbled going through an open hole. Blame me."

STINNETT GETS ONE OF BIGGEST TESTS IN SUNRAY IMBROGLIO

By The Associated Press

Stinnett, which hasn't lost a game since 1955, gets what may be its stiffest test this week in the drive for another District 1 championship in Class A Texas schoolboy football.

The Rattlers meet unbeaten but once-tied Sunray. Both teams opened the conference race last week, Stinnett beating Panhandle 48-18 and Sunray downing Gruver 26-0.

Stinnett, favored to repeat with the state championship, has a 21-game winning streak going.

All the 32 districts will be at it hot and heavy trying to decide champions this week. Two conference struggles match teams undefeated and untied for the season.

Mart and Waco Connally, two of the 14 unbeaten, untied teams left, clash at Waco in a scrap for the District 20 lead. Garrison and Hemphill, also in the select circle, get together at Hemphill in a Conference 22 showdown.

Other undefeated, untied teams left in Class A are Bishop, East Chambers, Frenshup, Henrietta, Jourdanon, Sundown, Throckmorton, Wilmer-Hutchins and Warren. East Bernard, LaJoya and Mason join Sunray in the ranks of those that are unbeaten but have been tied.

Top Keglers Rewarded

Vic Alexander (left), owner of Alexander's Jewelry Store in Big Spring, is shown presenting watches to three of four prize-winning bowlers at Clover Bowl Monday evening. Mrs. Wendell (Neil) Campbell receives a timepiece from Alexander while Mrs. V. F. (Fay) Brophy and Lt. Angie Makris look on. Lt. Jeff Neely also qualified for a watch but could not be present for the ceremony. Mrs. Campbell and Neely won their awards for having bowled the most over their league average in one game. Lt. Makris's name was drawn for the premium from among men who had bowled 200 or more. Mrs. Brophy's name was similarly selected from among women who had bowled 150 or more.

Rice Owls Back At Full Strength For Texas Go

By The Associated Press

Rain hampered Southwest Conference football drills Monday except for the energetic Texas Longhorns, surprise team of the conference.

Coach Darrell Royal ran the Longhorns through a wet drill. Royal said the Steers were behind in their training-schedule and needed the workout. Varsity reserves outscored freshmen three touchdowns to one in a scrimmage conducted during a cold, steady rain.

PREPPING FOR ABILENE All Gridders Back As Bovines Toil

Indications are both teams will be at full strength when Big Spring and Abilene clash in their District 2-AAA football opener Friday night in Abilene.

Big Spring took a full drill Monday, with all hands present. Coach Al Miller said the boys showed their best enthusiasm since he has been here and added he was confident "the boys would be after them."

From the Abilene camp came reports that fullback Bill Sides might miss the game due to an injured thigh. The belief here, however, is that Sides can play 48 minutes, if needed.

He suffered his injury in the first half of the Waco game last weekend but was back in action in the third quarter.

Milch, who scouted the Eagles in person last week, said the War Birds are as fine a high school team as he's ever seen. They have speed, depth and durability and most of all, "they hustle," is the way Milch puts it.

"A team which goes undefeated in that long a string has to have a desire," Milch commented. Monday's workout extended about one hour and 15 minutes and the Steers spent most of the time butting heads.

Today, they'll take 'skull practice' from 3 to 4 p.m., before hitting the practice field.

They'll work principally on defense and run through three or four new plays before calling it quits.

Abilene Nearing No. 1 Position

DALLAS (AP) — Abilene climbed within a shade of first-place Amarillo today in the weekly Class AAAA football ratings of the Dallas Morning News.

Abilene notched its 43rd consecutive victory last week by whipping Waco 27-7. The win gave Abilene the all-time schoolboy victory record and gained them enough support to pull within 5 points of Amarillo.

The third through seventh places remained intact. Wichita Falls and Odessa, however, moved into the top 10 after Austin McCallum and Amarillo Palo Duro suffered upset losses.

The top 10 teams (won-lost records in parentheses):
1. Amarillo	(5-0) 125
2. Abilene	(6-0) 120
3. Corpus Christi Ray	(5-0) 95
4. Austin Maroons	(6-0) 85

Senator Board Votes To Stay In Washington

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The capital is sure of keeping its American League baseball team for 1958. But the question bouncing around again today was whether the Senators will soon look for gold for future years in some other city.

Immediate hopes of Minneapolis and St. Paul were dashed yesterday when the Senators' Board of Directors voted to remain in Washington next year.

The club said feelers also had been received from two other unidentified cities. These likewise were brushed off for the time being.

But it became clear that owners of the Senators will still listen to offers from Minneapolis, St. Paul and others.

Club President Calvin Griffith last year weighed a proposition from Los Angeles, but he and the other board members finally voted it down. The Brooklyn Dodgers have since moved into that territory.

While insisting he does not want to leave Washington, and has no plans to do so, Griffith has said he feels obliged to "lay any sound offer before the directors."

C. Leo De Orsey, one of the five other directors, said today he "will look at every proposition that is made."

De Orsey said the short time remaining before the deadline for league approval of a franchise shift made it impossible to examine all facets of the existing offers. Major league transfers must be okayed by Oct. 31.

He called Minneapolis a territory "in which a good deal of money could be made with a big league club." But he added Minneapolis and St. Paul would have to get together on one team.

Colvin Now Has 12 Touchdowns

No threat has emerged to Chuck Colvin of Abilene, leading scorer in District 2-AAA football this fall.

Colvin now has 72 points for the season, exactly twice as many as for other players in the circuit, all tied for second place.

Baylor Bears To Get Acid Test Saturday

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Baylor's disillusioned Bears will jam their football season into one afternoon Saturday. It's the showdown, the last chance at the Southwest Conference championship Baylor has sought for 33 years.

High, mighty and undefeated Texas A&M, rated No. 2 in the nation, awaits the shock of the last Bear charge.

The team that finished last season like a whirlwind, then beat Tennessee in the Sugar Bowl, was supposed to be top dog in the Southwest Conference this year. But injuries, illness and a sharp Arkansas team virtually ruined the season.

AT QUARTERBACK Three Contending For Packer Post

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—The Green Bay Packers don't have the ideal pro football quarterback, but they have the ingredients — Bart Starr's pass accuracy, Babe Parilli's snappy throwing and rookie Paul Hornung's running.

The trio of signal callers are doing their best to take the place of veteran Tobin Rote, whom the Packers traded this year to the Detroit Lions to gain defensive talent.

The Packers now have a fine defense, but their offense lacked the touchdown touch in three straight National Football League losses to Detroit, Baltimore and San Francisco. Green Bay had won its opener against the Chicago Bears.

Starr played the first 18 minutes against the 49ers in Milwaukee Sunday. He gained 36 yards in completing four of his five passes. However, he lost 29 yards trying to pass on other plays.

Parilli completed 5 of 11 passes, accounting for the rest of the Packers' aerial gain of 104 yards. He also plunged one yard for Green Bay's first touchdown in the 24-14 loss to San Francisco.

Hornung entered the game in the final period and ran 62 yards on just four carries, one of them a touchdown run of nine yards.

Commenting on Hornung's performance, Blackburn said, "The boy is the best running quarterback we have. But he also is our poorest passer. If he could pass close to Starr or Parilli, there would be no question who our quarterback would be."

The coach said Starr continues as the starting quarterback because he throws the best pass.

Phillips 66 Is Still Leader

Phillips 66 bowled over R. M. Minton, 3-1; Fireball Muffler turned back Sinclair, 4-0; and Dr. Pepper played a 2-2 tie with Bell Telephone in Big Spring Commercial bowling league matches at Clover Bowl last weekend.

Phillips 66 led in team scoring with 883-2552.

In individual play L. Modrejewski of Dr. Pepper and G. Lowery of Fireball Muffler each posted a 210 while Modrejewski went on to register the best aggregate, 588.

Standings:

Team	W	L
Phillips 66	10	2
R. M. Minton	9	7
Fireball Muffler	8	7
Dr. Pepper	6	10
Bell Telephone	6	10

Snyder Minister is Elected District Baptist President

G. M. Cole, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Snyder, was elected president of Baptist District No. 8 convention in the opening session of the annual gathering here today.

Approximately 200 messengers were on hand at the West Side Baptist Church, host for this year's sessions.

From Bill Pinson, Dallas, associate secretary of the Texas Christian Life Commission, came an appeal for application of Christian principles to the everyday problems and tensions as the only means of real solution.

Camping, a district activity for Texas Baptists, is most important to its ability to stir up within Baptist young people a vision for special service as well as to develop a worldwide mission outlook.

A. R. Posey, Big Spring, Baptist Temple pastor, told the convention. The camp at Big Spring is to be replaced by one north of Stanton. Last year the camp operated on a $14,000 budget.

The convention sermon was to be delivered by Carl J. Grissom, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Andrews, and during the afternoon there were to be more reports as well as a business meeting of the camp corporation.

Hooper Dillard, state Training Union secretary, and Dr. J. Howard Williams, president of the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, were to speak during the evening sessions. Dr. Williams' message at 8:30 p. m. will be the concluding part of the program.

Among officers elected were: Herbert D. Christian, vice president; Glenn H. Parrott, secretary; George Thomas, treasurer; Owen C. Taylor, music director; David Oglesby, Sunday school superintendent; Giles Hankins, Lamesa, Training Union director; G. G. Moorehead, Brotherhood president; Travis LaDuke, evangelism chairman; Fred D. McDowell, vacation Bible school promoter; M. Oliver Nelson, Christian literature; A. R. Posey, Christian life commission.

Reports included these highlights: From J. William Arnett, missions secretary, an estimate of approximately 3,100 baptisms in the churches in the five associations which make up the district; total attendance of 2,330 in the camp at Big Spring with 155 professions of faith resulting along with 28 dedications to special service; special mission offerings totaling $75,500 as reported by the Women's Missionary Union.

About the same number of applications for admittance are considered each month at the state hospital.

The fund to provide additional comforts and facilities for patients at the Big Spring State Hospital was due to be boosted by at least $246 today.

Six Big Spring citizens are serving as jurors in 41 lunacy hearings being conducted at the hospital Tuesday morning. They have pledged to donate their compensation for jury duty to the fund.

The law provides that each of the jurors be paid $1 for each case in which he serves.

The jurors serving at the hospital were B. M. Keese, Wayne B. Smith, J. V. Gregory, Jack Y. Smith, Mrs. J. B. Apple and J. H. Greene.

R. H. Weaver, county judge, presides at the hearings. The state is represented by the county attorney, John Richard Coffee.

The 41 cases involve mentally ill persons from most of the counties in Southwest Texas.

But the same number of applications for admittance are considered each month at the state hospital.

Operator cannot reach the Huber-Wagoner No. 1 Clayton-Johnson location because of the weather, so operation is shut down. The wildcat is five miles south of Gal, C SW SW, 13-31-4N, T&P Survey.

El Paso No. 1 Lamb drilled below 6,558 feet in lime and shale after taking three drillstem tests in the Spraberry. On the first from 6,253-578 feet, tool open 1 1/2 hours, gas surfaced in 34 minutes.

Recovery was 3,760 feet of oil and gas-cut mud, and flowing pressure was 330-1.140 pounds. On the second, tool was open from 6,374-430 feet for two hours and five minutes. Gas came in nine minutes, and recovery was 3,000 feet of oil and 55 feet of oil and gas-cut mud.

Operator tested from 6,437-558 feet with tool open 1 1/2 hours. Recovery was 60 feet of drilling mud. The wildcat is 16 miles northwest of Gal, C NW SW, 25-32, EL&RR Survey.

Wildcats in Borden and Martin County reported good shows of oil in the Spraberry and Devonian sections, respectively, on drillstem tests.

In Borden, El Paso Natural No. 1 Lamb took three drillstem tests in the Spraberry, and on the second below 6,300 feet, operator recovered 3,000 feet of free oil. The venture is 16 miles northwest of Gal between the Borden and abandoned North Gall fields.

The Martin County wildcat, Husky-Panotek No. 1 Mabee, brought out 1,869 feet of free oil, after a test from 11,870-12,000 feet in the Devonian. The wildcat is a mile north and west of the Breed-love field.

A new Devonian wildcat has been staked in Martin County about eight miles north of Stanton. It is the Jo-Mill (Spraberry) field as a re-entry. Drill-site is 2,320 from south and 760 from east lines, 43-33-N, T&P Survey.

Reagan-Lanphere No. 1 Barrett, C SW SW, 44-85, EL&RR Survey, deepened to 11,985 feet in lime. It is 8 1/2 miles northwest of Lamesa.

Texas No. 1 Miller made hole at 10,003 feet in lime, shale and sand. It is a wildcat C NE SW, 17-36-5N, T&P Survey, four miles southwest Lamesa.

Davison & Penrose No. 3 Key Estate produced 58 barrels of oil and 63 per cent water in 24 hours on potential. Gravity is 34 degrees. The well is in the Welch field, 1,980 from north and 660 from west of Gal, C SW, 26-34-3S, T&P Survey.

The well bottom is 4,945 feet, and production is reached at 4,855 feet. Perforations stand from 4,855-93. Davison & Pembroke No. 2 Stokes, also in the Welch pool, yielded 63 barrels of 34-degree oil and 63 per cent water on 24-hour potential, after fracturing with 10,000 gallons and acidizing with 3,500 gallons.

Total production is 4,875 feet. Perforations run from 4,822-912 feet. Location of the well is 1,980 from north and east lines, 3-C39, PS Survey.

Fair-Williamson No. 1 Currie deepened to 8,258 feet in lime and sand. C NE NE, 26-34-3S, T&P Survey.

Limpia Royalties No. 1 D. L. Hunter, in the North Vincent (Pennsylvanian) field, drilled through shale at 6,831 feet. It is a mile north of Vincent, 660 from south and east lines, 57-20, Lavaca Navigation Survey.

Cosden No. 1 B. McDowell, 10 miles southwest of Big Spring, has been plugged and abandoned at 3,240 feet. Drillsite is 1,980 from south and 2,310 from east lines, 46-34-1S, T&P Survey.

Schlake Brothers No. 2-A Dou-

thitt is located in the Howard-Glasscock field 12 miles southeast of Coahoma. Drillsite is 2,300 from north and east lines, 116-29, W&NW Survey. Contract depth is 1,800 feet.

Schlake No. 3-A Douthitt is staked in the same field 330 feet from north and 990 from east lines, 116-29, W&NW Survey, and 12 miles southeast of Coahoma. It will project to 1,600 feet with cable equipment.

Standard of Texas No. 4 Hechler is a new location in the East Vealmore field five miles west of Vincent. It is 467 feet from south and 1,838 from west lines of the north half, 15-27, H&TC Survey. Rotary drilling depth is 7,500 feet.

Turner No. 4 Edwards is staked in the Snyder field, seven miles southeast of Coahoma. Drillsite is 320 from north and 2,310 from east lines, 32-30-1S, T&P Survey. It will drill to 2,700 feet.

Zapata No. 1 Strain is a new Devonian wildcat eight miles north of Stanton. It is 660 from north and west lines, 14-36-N, T&P Survey, and will drill to 12,000 feet.

Husky-Panotek No. 1 Mabee cored today at 12,000 feet, after operator drilled from 11,870-12,000 feet. Tool was open two hours, and recovery was 180 feet of free gas in drill pipe, 1,060 feet of free oil, 120 feet of heavily gas-cut mud, and 2,000 feet of oil and gas-cut water blanket. The oil tested 41.4 degrees.

Flowing pressure was 1,075-375, and 30-minute shutin pressure is 3,250 pounds. The wildcat is 660 from north and west lines, Tract 92, League 258, Briscoe CSL Survey, 10 miles southwest of Patricia.

Turner No. 4 Edwards is staked in the Snyder field, seven miles southeast of Coahoma. Drillsite is 320 from north and 2,310 from east lines, 32-30-1S, T&P Survey. It will drill to 2,700 feet.

Zapata No. 1 Strain is a new Devonian wildcat eight miles north of Stanton. It is 660 from north and west lines, 14-36-N, T&P Survey, and will drill to 12,000 feet.

Husky-Panotek No. 1 Mabee cored today at 12,000 feet, after operator drilled from 11,870-12,000 feet. Tool was open two hours, and recovery was 180 feet of free gas in drill pipe, 1,060 feet of free oil, 120 feet of heavily gas-cut mud, and 2,000 feet of oil and gas-cut water blanket. The oil tested 41.4 degrees.

Flowing pressure was 1,075-375, and 30-minute shutin pressure is 3,250 pounds. The wildcat is 660 from north and west lines, Tract 92, League 258, Briscoe CSL Survey, 10 miles southwest of Patricia.

Borden, Martin Wildcats Report Good Shows Of Oil

Wildcats in Borden and Martin County reported good shows of oil in the Spraberry and Devonian sections, respectively, on drillstem tests.

In Borden, El Paso Natural No. 1 Lamb took three drillstem tests in the Spraberry, and on the second below 6,300 feet, operator recovered 3,000 feet of free oil. The venture is 16 miles northwest of Gal between the Borden and abandoned North Gall fields.

The Martin County wildcat, Husky-Panotek No. 1 Mabee, brought out 1,869 feet of free oil, after a test from 11,870-12,000 feet in the Devonian. The wildcat is a mile north and west of the Breed-love field.

A new Devonian wildcat has been staked in Martin County about eight miles north of Stanton. It is the Jo-Mill (Spraberry) field as a re-entry. Drill-site is 2,320 from south and 760 from east lines, 43-33-N, T&P Survey.

Reagan-Lanphere No. 1 Barrett, C SW SW, 44-85, EL&RR Survey, deepened to 11,985 feet in lime. It is 8 1/2 miles northwest of Lamesa.

Texas No. 1 Miller made hole at 10,003 feet in lime, shale and sand. It is a wildcat C NE SW, 17-36-5N, T&P Survey, four miles southwest Lamesa.

Davison & Penrose No. 3 Key Estate produced 58 barrels of oil and 63 per cent water in 24 hours on potential. Gravity is 34 degrees. The well is in the Welch field, 1,980 from north and 660 from west of Gal, C SW, 26-34-3S, T&P Survey.

The well bottom is 4,945 feet, and production is reached at 4,855 feet. Perforations stand from 4,855-93. Davison & Pembroke No. 2 Stokes, also in the Welch pool, yielded 63 barrels of 34-degree oil and 63 per cent water on 24-hour potential, after fracturing with 10,000 gallons and acidizing with 3,500 gallons.

Total production is 4,875 feet. Perforations run from 4,822-912 feet. Location of the well is 1,980 from north and east lines, 3-C39, PS Survey.

Fair-Williamson No. 1 Currie deepened to 8,258 feet in lime and sand. C NE NE, 26-34-3S, T&P Survey.

Nortex No. 1 Winters, C NE NE, 9-25, H&TC Survey, reset surface casing at 2,916 feet. It is 20 miles northwest of Big Spring.

Limpia Royalties No. 1 D. L. Hunter, in the North Vincent (Pennsylvanian) field, drilled through shale at 6,831 feet. It is a mile north of Vincent, 660 from south and east lines, 57-20, Lavaca Navigation Survey.

Cosden No. 1 B. McDowell, 10 miles southwest of Big Spring, has been plugged and abandoned at 3,240 feet. Drillsite is 1,980 from south and 2,310 from east lines, 46-34-1S, T&P Survey.

Schlake Brothers No. 2-A Dou-

thitt is located in the Howard-Glasscock field 12 miles southeast of Coahoma. Drillsite is 2,300 from north and east lines, 116-29, W&NW Survey. Contract depth is 1,800 feet.

To Honor Oil Men

LAMESA—Members of the Oil Industry in the Lamesa area will be honored at a banquet slated for the High School Cafeteria on Nov. 8. The affair is hosted by the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce Oil Committee. W. C. McCarty is banquet chairman, while Jeff Shipp is chairman of the committee.

Band Rehearsal Scheduled Tonight

The community band will meet tonight for what may be its last rehearsal for some time. The band was recently integrated into the newly-formed Civic Music Assn., and will eventually be re-organized under the sponsorship of the CMA. Whether the band rehearsals will continue in the interim depends on the interest shown at tonight's rehearsal, CMA officials said. Tonight's rehearsal will probably concentrate on ensemble work, as organization of ensembles for entertainment at the hospitals and at meetings of civic groups will come before work with a full scale band. The rehearsal will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Music Building at Howard County Junior College.

Joe Dunn To Head Singing Convention

Weather cut the attendance sharply for the regular meeting of the Howard County Quarterly Singing Convention at Elbow Sunday. Officers for 1958 were elected, including Joe Dunn, president, Bill Norwood, vice president, and Faye Johnson, secretary-treasurer. The next meeting of the convention is to be held the third Sunday afternoon of January at the Birdwell Lane Baptist Church.

Uncle Ray: Grebes And Loons Are Expert Divers

By RAMON COFFMAN

Birds can do many things which men can do, and at least one thing which men have failed to accomplish. To this date, men have made themselves fly by working their muscles. Birds, on the other hand, fly by their own power. That is true of almost all kinds of birds, but the ostrich, penguin and a few others have lost the ability to rise in the air. Certain members of the bird family are able to dive, as well as fly.

A great northern diver.

Q. Which are the leading diving birds?

A. Grebes, loons, puffsins, murres, penguins and cormorants. The grebes are rather small birds, usually reaching a length of only 14 or 15 inches. They go under water, and are out of sight for a long time. A legend has grown that they "commit suicide" to keep out of the reach of hunters. Actually they come back to the surface, but expose only their beaks and eyes for a time. When possible, they hide in the midst of water plants.

Loons are larger than grebes and can make even deeper dives. The loon which is known as the great northern diver grows to be as much as three feet long. It has a sharp beak which is useful in capturing fish.

Not content to employ only its webbed feet, this large bird flaps its wings while under water and gains speed by doing so. A few kinds of birds give rides to their young and the great northern diver is one of them. The little ones get on the back of the mother and enjoy their first views of the water world.

Q. How far down can the great northern diver go?

A. It has been estimated that, in deep lakes, they reach depths of more than 50 feet!

Local Florist On Design Program

Bill Draper, Big Spring, was one of three designers chosen to present demonstrations at the unit No. 9 meeting of the Florists Telegraph Delivery organization held in Lubbock.

Other designers on the program were Bob Chessley, Littlefield, and Kenneth Parker, Pampa. About 150 florists from West Texas attended the meeting held in the Caprock Hotel.

Attending from here were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Draper of Faye's Flowers, and Mrs. Roy Townsend and John Austin from Estah's Flowers.

Enlists In Navy

James Franklin Francis Jr., son of Mrs. Elizabeth Winnie Petty, 906 N. Goliad, has enlisted in the Navy and has been assigned to the Naval Training Center at San Diego, Calif., for recruit training.

Meteor Society Sees New Comet

PORT ARTHUR (AP)—The Herculid Meteor Watching Society today announced it has discovered what it believes to be a new comet.

James Walsh, president of the society, said according to calculations by the group, the comet should be visible with telescopic aid in November. It should be visible in the southeastern heavens without telescopic aid by Dec. 14, he said.

Walsh said since the occurrence of the comet is in holiday season, the society hopes to name it the "Christmas Comet."

He said all observations and calculations were being turned over to the proper authorities for possible recognition as a new comet.

Missing Small Craft Sighted

MOREHEAD CITY, N.C. (AP)—A never-say-die adventurer once believed lost in the Atlantic on an outboard motorboat voyage hoped to reach his goal of Bermuda today after being sighted by a merchant ship and given fuel and food.

Melvin West, a radio disc jockey making the 500-mile trip in the 17-foot, 30-horsepower craft he calls the Impossible, was sighted yesterday afternoon by the merchant ship Alderman 240 miles east of Cape Lookout, N.C. That was 31 hours after his three-day supply of fuel and food was to have run out.

West, father of two children, put out from here Thursday on the projected 40-hour trip intended to prove the seaworthiness of outboard motors and small boats. His wife said she couldn't dissuade him, "so I just shut up."

Coast Guard ships and planes from the Atlantic Coast and from Bermuda had scoured the ocean for the resident of Morehead City who draws 10 per cent disability pay for a stomach ailment incurred while in service during the Korean War.

Divorce At 75

OGAKI, Japan (AP)—An indignant 75-year-old woman won a divorce from her mate of 47 years. Ayano Shihuya charged her husband Ichiro with infidelity. He is 73. The judge ordered Ichiro to pay Ayano one million yen ($2,777) as compensation.
