Mahon Plans Probe Of Missile Program

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee arranged today to make a full-scale investigation of the missile and satellite programs with emphasis on charges of rivalry between the armed services.

The investigation will begin in California Nov. 4 and move to Washington for quizzing of top defense officials Nov. 20. It may continue the rest of the year.

The investigation will be directed by Rep. George Mahon (D-Tex.), chairman of a 13-member subcommittee handling defense appropriations. Most of the subcommittee members are expected to take part in the inquiry.

Mahon said interservice rivalries are the reason "why the Russians have beaten us so badly" and the subcommittee will try "to ascertain what the situation is and what has been done with the millions of dollars appropriated for these programs."

"We want to find out and let the American people find out why we are lagging in this field in view of the vast funds provided," Mahon told a reporter. "There has been a lot of talking. Now we are going to do some looking. It is apparent that friction between the armed services is one of the causes of our failure to make satisfactory progress. There has not been a free exchange of information between the services."

Mahon said he was convinced that "we can extricate ourselves from this dilemma if we put together a smooth-working organization. That is what must be done and that must be done quickly, even together. We have lost valuable if a few heads must be knocked together. We have lost valuable time as a result of lack of cooperation."

Texas Town Votes Heavily For Integration

PLEASANTON, Tex., Oct. 26 (AP)—This South Texas town voted 343 to 88 today to permit the integration of 36 Negroes into white schools.

School Supt. J. D. Klingman announced the school board would meet Monday night and integration would start in the schools Tuesday.

The election was the first ever held under a state law enacted last spring which requires a favorable vote before a school district can be integrated.

Kingman had predicted voters would approve integration. He explained earlier the election was called to protect the district's accreditation.

"Our Negro facilities are inadequate and have been declared so by the Texas Education Agency," he said.

Under the state law, state aid is denied school districts which integrate without a majority vote of the citizens. State accreditation also is taken away from school districts which desegregate without holding a local option election. The district's student population is 1,476.

Kingman estimated the school district has about 5,000 residents. Pleasanton is a farming and ranching center in Atascosa County, where the Texas Almanac shows the population is 49.9 per cent Anglo-American and 1.2 per cent Negro.

The district has separate elementary and high schools for white and Negro pupils plus a white junior high.

Zhukov Ousted As Defense Minister

No Indication Of Reason For Shift

LONDON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov was relieved of his job as Soviet defense minister today.

A Moscow radio announcement saying Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky had been tapped as his replacement gave no indication as to whether Zhukov was being knocked out of a possible fight for power in the Kremlin or might be in line for some job bigger than defense minister.

Students of Communist affairs have felt for months that Zhukov was one of the powerful figures in the Soviet Union, a real rival of Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev. But whether Khrushchev intended by relieving Zhukov to cut him down to size, or to give him even more power was a point not clarified immediately in Moscow broadcasts.

Zhukov was as great a war hero in the Soviet Union as President Eisenhower in the United States and the impact of this change in his status could be powerful upon the Russian people.

Zhukov and Eisenhower were personal acquaintances and last met at the summit conference in Geneva in 1955.

ONLY 33 WORDS

The official news agency, Tass, used only 32 words in its broadcast announcement of the switch. It said the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet, the body which acts for the Soviet, or Parliament, when the latter is not in session, decreed the change.

A later broadcast announced Zhukov's return from a trip to Yugoslavia and Albania, upon which he embarked Oct. 5. The broadcast did not say what kind of a reception he got on his arrival home.

The Tass announcement said simply:

"The U.S.S.R. Supreme Soviet Presidium has appointed Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky U.S.S.R. minister of defense.

"The U.S.S.R. Supreme Soviet Presidium has relieved Marshal G. K. Zhukov of the post of U.S.S.R. minister of defense."

The star of Zhukov, 61, a soldier with one of the most brilliant military records of World War II, had been on the rise since the death of Stalin and there even had been speculation that he might be

Missiles Run High—$12 Million For IRBM's In The Past Week

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—The military has fired more than 60 million dollars worth of intermediate range ballistic missiles (IRBM) in tests during the past week, about 12 million dollars within the past week.

That figure—only one type of weapons—gives only a hint of the cost of the huge test program for missiles of all kinds.

These unofficial estimates—based on an average cost of about six million dollars for each test firing of a ballistic missile—do not include scores of millions more in developmental firings of other missiles.

The latter range from huge intercontinental ballistic missiles (ICBM) through shorter range anti-aircraft and bombardment guided missiles to numerous tests of components for missile systems and of "research vehicles" for acquiring basic data in weapon design.

Also outside the estimate is the substantial cost of research done outside of Cape Canaveral, Fla., White Sands, N. M., and at other Navy and Air Force ranges.

The IRBM tests already held actually are a competitive shooting match to decide whether the Army's Jupiter or the Air Force's Thor is better—or whether the best features of both should be combined.

In addition to the Army and Air Force designs, now in the state of completed hardware, there is a third design, the Navy's Polaris missile. The Jupiter and the Thor are propelled by liquid fuels—dangerous to handle and requiring a vast amount of "plumbing" within a missile. The Polaris will use a solid fuel, which the Navy claims will produce the same results as liquid fuel but will be vastly safer to handle aboard a submarine or ship.

A defense spokesman said today tests had established solid propellant rockets as "suitable." Details are still secret.

Air Force scientists said that technical data so far evaluated on the firing of a rocket from a balloon 100,000 feet above Enewotok atoll in the mid-Pacific gave reasons to believe the rocket reached more than 4,000 miles into space.

The apparent high success of this "Project Far Side" raised questions, not immediately answered, of whether American scientists were now ready to try to beat Russia in a rocket race to or around the moon and back. The Air Force scientists said there was no technological reason why a rocket couldn't be fired to the moon.

U.S., British Jet Bombers Plan 'Assaults' On Nation

ORLANDO, Fla., Oct. 26 (AP)—The United States theoretically comes under a triple Pearl Harbor attack—and then some—starting next Wednesday.

Ninety high flying bombers, opening a week of simulated nuclear bombing raids, in theory will blast three target cities—Atlanta, St. Louis and Kansas City, Mo.—off the map.

Four of the "enemy" craft will be jet bombers of Britain's Royal Air Force.

Their participation will mean, says the U. S. Air Force, that the United States will be under air attack (simulated) by foreign jet bombers for the first time in its history.

By contrast the mock raids, based on the devastating power of hydrogen bombs, will involve more than 700,000 miles of mission flying, and 270 bomb drops on each of the three cities.

In actuality, however, no bombs will be dropped, and nobody hurt. The bombers, of six types, will be taking part in the annual bombing, navigation and reconnaissance competition of the U. S. Strategic Air Command.

NAACP Shifts Meet To Dallas

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 26 (AP)—The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People today shifted its state-wide meeting from Longview to Dallas after violent opposition to holding the meeting in the deep East Texas city developed.

This meeting is being moved from Longview to relieve the pressures of threats and ugliness and distrust to the peace and good order of Longview and surrounding communities," Dr. H. Boyd Hall, of Corpus Christi, state president of the NAACP said in a written statement.

Edwin C. Washington Jr., NAACP field secretary who released the statement here, declined to elaborate or comment on the association's action followed a controversy with Publisher Carl Estes of the Longview News and Journal this week.

Estes said he closed Washington's mouth "with a left hook . . . when he refused to leave my office" and "called me a liar."

The day after the incident the Longview City Council passed an ordinance requiring the NAACP and the Longview Citizen's Council, a pro-segregation group, to produce membership lists, and other information.

Mesley said the Longview Citizen's Council had filed the information requested under the new ordinance and that the Longview Chapter of the NAACP had advised its office it would comply.

At Longview Estes issued the following statement:

"I challenge anyone anywhere to name anyone who has been a better friend to the colored people of my section of Texas than myself. I started helping them build schools and churches many years ago—many years before the National Assn. for Agitation of Colored People had even thought about East Texas.

"Now, since Edwin C. Washington and company have taken my advice and moved their meeting away from Longview, I naturally am very pleased for I had feared that might have happened if they had not moved it."

The publisher concluded his statement by saying, "We here in Longview are going to find out the names of the members of the Longview chapter of the NAACP, and once we do I confidently predict some of them will be moving to Dallas, too, for this is not a healthy climate for the formation of race division, race strife, and violence as inevitably follows intensified NAACP activities."

Finds Family Dead

Voters To Have Say On Water Projects

AUSTIN, Oct. 26 (AP)—Texas voters get a chance Nov. 5 to say whether they want the state to help build 600 million dollars worth of dams, canals, treatment plants and other water projects.

The state aid won't be free. It will be a loan and could cost each voter more money.

Gov. Price Daniel has urged voters to approve the constitutional amendment which would set up the program. The Legislature passed the program with little opposition.

Whether the special session passes Daniel's bill calling for a statewide water plan will have no legal effect on the financial aid plan.

Here's how the program will work, if the amendment is approved:

1. A 6-member Texas Water Development Board to be appointed by the governor would have charge of the program. It could issue 100 million dollars in bonds at once, or as needed. A second 100 million dollars in bonds could be issued with two-thirds approval of the Legislature.
2. Cities, towns, water and irrigation districts, and other political subdivisions could apply to this board for loans to build water projects. If a project was approved, the board could advance one-third the cost of the project but not more than five million dollars. A project would have to be approved as to economic and engineering feasibility by the State Board of Water Engineers before being eligible for a loan. Only projects which could not be constructed without state aid would be considered.
3. The development board loan to subdivisions would be repaid at an interest rate higher than that which the state must pay on its bonds. A 4 per cent maximum interest rate is set on state bonds. The state's profit has been estimated at 64 million dollars over the next 40 years—if the program works as visualized.

BIG QUESTIONS

The big questions are:

"Will the program be beneficial? Will it cost taxpayers more money? Are enough safeguards provided to prevent such a scandal as that brought on by Texas' other major venture into bond selling, the veterans' land program?"

The answer to all is "yes."

The program will help answer Texas' water problems, but it is not a cure all—if it is used only for reservoir construction—could build enough dams to hold back eight million acre feet of water. That would be more than Texas now uses out of its present reservoirs each year.

No state tax is involved. A local

Getting Ready To Seize Power

getting ready to seize power from party boss Nikita Khrushchev.

It was the second military shift announced from Moscow this week. Only last Wednesday the Russians made it known that Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky, deputy minister of defense, had been appointed commander of a military area facing the frontiers of Turkey and Iran.

Zhukov, stocky and slab-faced, was one of the most decorated men in the world. He came out of the war as a glittering military hero with a fabulous record of victories in such battles as Stalingrad and Berlin.

But he was given no high political office until after Stalin's death in 1953—some said the old dictator was jealous of Zhukov's fame and popularity.

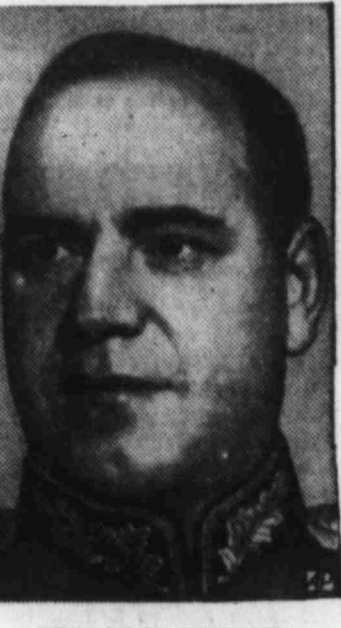

He became deputy defense minister when Georgi Malenkov succeeded Stalin as premier in 1953. When Nikolai Bulganin succeeded Malenkov in 1955, Zhukov became defense minister.

The following year he became a member of the Communist party Central Committee and an alternate member of the Presidium, or Politburo. Only last July, he was elevated to full membership in the Presidium and students of Communist affairs thought he was astride the Communist world practically on equal terms with Khrushchev.

There has been nothing recent in the news to indicate Malinovsky's star was on the rise.

As far as is known, the bemedaled hero of World War II held no official position beyond that of alternate member of the Soviet Communist party Central Committee.

Malinovsky first won fame on the southern battlefields of Russia in the Nazi invasion of 1943, when his armies rolled back the invaders from the Ukraine and the Crimea.

Georgi K. Zhukov is he up or out?

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

Overlooked in the debate about what rains of the past week do to the cotton harvest is the effect these soakers will have on next year's prospects. The slow, penetrating moisture which measured 2.86 inches here—and more elsewhere—may be more significant in helping break the drought than were those washing rains in the spring. Small grain crops were practically assured and pastures helped immeasurably.

What happens to our present cotton prospects will depend upon weather and temperature for the next three weeks. If we get by that long without severe frosts, we'll come in with a pretty fair crop. Our prediction: We'll make it.

The United Fund is getting within gunshot of its objective, but something like $20,000 plus must be brought in this week. One of the difficulties has been in getting donors to reach a decision promptly and avoid time-consuming call-backs. After all, workers are donating their time.

Mrs. Marshall L. Brown is certain that she saw Sputnik or its rocket Thursday evening. While most people were peering in vain to the northwest at 5:58 p.m., she and Mr. Brown were driving toward Cosden. To the southeast, well above haze and smoke, she spotted a geometrical object. It was bright and clearly visible, except for when it was obscured momentarily by a smoke belt. Mrs. Brown said that it gave the impression of not moving, yet passed out of her field of vision in a couple of minutes.

Our schools have been hard hit by the flu epidemic. Absentees were better than 20 per cent at one stage, and Friday's cold mist kept droves of sniffing children home. Had the total grown, officials might have given serious consideration to a suspension of classes, but the tide seems to have turned definitely.

Cage Bides Time In Cell As Aides Prepare Appeal

DALLAS, Oct. 26 (AP)—BenJack Cage, who got used to plush hotel suites while running a vast insurance-investment empire, bided his time in a jail cell today while his lawyers drafted pleas aimed at cancelling his reservation at the state penitentiary.

Cage, 40, promotion wizard who parlayed a flashing smile and an engaging manner into a multi-million dollar organization, was convicted yesterday of embezzling $100,000 from the ICT Corp., a subsidiary of the defunct ICT Insurance Co.

The conviction looked like the first of a long legal bout with authorities for the onetime "boy wonder" of Texas insurance.

M. R. Irion said a motion for a new trial probably would be ready Monday or Tuesday. Cage can be freed on bond if the motion is turned down and appealed.

Still pending against Cage are indictments accusing him of embezzling more than $500,000 and offering bribes to two former state insurance commissioners.

The financial house that BenJack built came crumbling down when the ICT Insurance Co. collapsed in February, auditors said. The collapse uncovered a three million dollar deficit.

The firm was the largest of Cage's vast organization which once numbered 74 insurance and investment companies in 22 states and Alaska. The state placed the firm in receivership and a long series of grand jury and legislative investigations began.

Cage bowed out of ICT operations in February 1956 when his management contract with Jack Cage & Co., which ran the whole outfit, ended.

Labor union leaders asserted they demanded his resignation. Union members were reported to have put up 7 million of the 15 million dollars pumped into ICT by 14,000 investors.

4 People Killed In 2-Car Collision

TAYLOR, Tex., Oct. 26 (AP)—Four persons were killed in a two-car collision today one mile east of here.

Killed were Eva Gomez, 24; her mother, Virginia Gomez, about 60; her sister-in-law, Citriana Gomez, 27; and Carlos Vasquez, 28, all of Thrall.

BenJack Cage (left), former head of the now defunct ICT Corporation, comforts his attractive wife Doreen after she was found guilty and given a 10-year prison sentence for embezzling $100,000 from the company. A jury in Dallas deliberated only ninety minutes to arrive at the verdict and sentence.

Another Quint Plans A Wedding

MONTREAL, Oct. 26 (AP)—Cecile Dionne, 23, one of the four surviving Dionne quintuplets, and Philippe Langlois, 26, television technician, are to be married Nov. 23 in Gallander, Ont.

Annette Dionne became the first of the quintuplets to wed. She was married here Oct. 11 to Germain Allard, 24, a junior executive of a finance company.

Nervous Stocks No Danger; Fluff's Just Off The Boom

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—Stock prices went for a wild ride this week. Consumers, wage earners and businessmen who had watched the market's roller coaster antics wondered what would happen next—not necessarily to their jobs, their incomes and their living standards.

There was no lack of expert opinion on this score, and most of it was reassuring.

President Eisenhower, announcing plans for a series of talks on the nation's economic and military strength, urged Americans to cast aside morbid pessimism.

Business and financial leaders were heard from, too. The consensus: about the market may have needed a shakeout, the economy as a whole is sound. Some of the fluff is off the boom. Things may slow down a little in the next few months but there's no real recession in sight. If the boom loses too much steam, Uncle Sam will fire up the boilers. More millions will be poured out for guided missiles and the like; more credit will be made available for business expansion.

Away from Wall Street, cross-currents and rip tides churned out the mainstream of the nation's economy this week.

Increased hiring of automobile and farm machinery workers was accompanied by further layoffs in the aircraft, oil refining and meat packing industries.

Steel production, scheduled at less than 80 per cent of capacity, was the lowest since August; auto output the highest in eight weeks.

New orders in the machine tool industry were down sharply from a year ago; freight car loadings trailed 1956 by 12 per cent; inventories of petroleum products grew as sales lagged badly.

But consumer spending in the nation's retail stores raced ahead of last year's record pace.

Gangland Clams Up As Police Seek Albert Anastasia's Killer

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—Gangland silence cloaked the killers of Albert Anastasia today as plans went forward for a modest, non-underworld type of funeral for the one-time Murder, Inc., executioner.

Police questioned more than 60 hoodlums and others—without result—about the slaying of the mobster by two gunmen yesterday in the Park Sheraton Hotel barbershop.

"I never saw so many blind people in my life," commented Chief of Detectives James B. Leggett. "Nobody knows anything."

Police wanted to question gambler Frank Costello, known as the prime minister of the underworld, but he was not in his usual plushy haunts.

The body of the underworld bigwig went on public display in a plain, steel, $900 casket in a Brooklyn funeral home that can seat 125 mourners. Anastasia's stocky body was clad in a neat business suit.

Funeral services were set tentatively for Tuesday.

Anastasia's family—a widow, a son, and brothers—apparently wished to avoid the ostentation that often marks gangland funerals.

The modest arrangements contrasted sharply with the funeral given last year for Anastasia's brother, Joseph, a pier hiring boss who died peacefully in a hospital, of illness.

The casket that carried Joseph to his grave was built of bronze and mahogany and reputedly cost $50,000. Thirty-three limousines were in the funeral cortege. Flower cars carried wreaths reportedly worth $15,000.

The shooting raised political overtones in the city, which will vote in a mayoralty election a week from next Tuesday.

Robert Christenberry, Republican candidate seeking to unseat Mayor Robert F. Wagner, Democrat, seized upon the slaying as a campaign issue.

He said the murder, combined with the wounding of Costello in an assassination attempt, earlier this year, and the acid blinding of labor writer Victor Riesel last year "demonstrated the underworld scorn for law and order as administered by the Wagner-Tammany administration."

A Touch Of Home

Mr. and Mrs. Dan McKnight of Rocksprings, enjoy a home-type soda away from home while attending the 78th annual convention of the Pharmaceutical Association in Dallas. The soda fountain in their store is the only one for 40 miles around.

Pharmacist Helps Ease Ranching Life

By LEDGERWOOD SLOAN
ROCKSPRINGS, Tex., Oct. 26 (P)—The newest appointee to the State Board of Pharmacy and his wife help make life easier for man and beast in this Southwest Texas ranch town.

Dan and Eleanor McKnight have opened their drug store at midnight to sell penicillin for a sick horse and at 2 a. m. to sell a 5-cent poppicle for an ill child. They have the only soda fountain within 40 miles and the only ice-making machine in Edwards County. Their place is a social center and general store in a region of rugged, scenic beauty.

Two-thirds of their trade is from out of town in this sparsely settled area where ranch folk think nothing of driving 30 or 40 miles for a cup of coffee and the latest gossip.

Ranchers in this county of 3,000 visit the drug store like the home of a relative to leave messages and drink gallons of coffee.

Once the doctor of a child who had drunk a bottle of cough syrup prescribed liquids but the child wouldn't drink any. The parents thought of a poppicle.

"They telephoned us at 2 a. m. and we opened the store," Dan recalled. "The child got well."

"We carry a big stock of veterinary supplies and the first penicillin sold in our store in 1945 was for a sick horse. We still sell more medicine for animals than for people," he said.

This isn't surprising in this "mohair capital of the world" with more of the shiny coated Angora goats than possibly any other county in the nation. Beef cattle and horses are its other leading products.

The McKnights, registered pharmacists in their 40s, met at the University of Texas. He is a native of Troup in East Texas and she of Brackettville, in Kinney County, adjoining Edwards. They bought their store in 1945.

They relieve each other and keep store hours of 7:30-7 p. m. week days and a half day Sundays. They have four children, 6 to 18.

"After the folks know where we are," Eleizer said.

Dan, whom Gov. Price Daniel named recently to the Board of Pharmacy, takes off in June.

15 Cases On Agenda For Jury Monday

At least 15 cases and probably three or more others not on the official list Saturday will be placed before the Howard County Grand Jury on Monday.

Gil Jones, district attorney, has announced that he will definitely lay 15 cases before the investigating body. These include seven cases identified as "county" and eight classified as "city" matters.

None of the matters on the list involve major offenses.

Judge Charles Sullivan, 118th District Court, has instructed 20 citizens to report to his court at 9 a. m. Monday for grand jury duty.

It is expected the grand jurors will be selected and will be ready to begin their work by 10 a. m. Judge Sullivan has also called 60 petit jurors to report at 10 a. m. He will open a civil jury docket in the court at that hour.

Jones said the following cases will be placed before the grand jury for action:

Albino Ortega and Abram Lopez, burglary; Everett Lee Cavet, forgery and passing; Morris Minter, forgery; George Rojo, forgery; James D. White, worthless check over $50; Donald L. States, indecent exposure; Wayne A. Davis, theft by bailee; Eddie W. Alvin, car theft; Steve Harper, burglary; James Earl Cain, burglary; Clifford Skinner, car burglary; Garland Henderson, DWI second offense; and J. C. Turnbow, DWI second offense.

Bobby West, investigator for the district attorney's office, said this was one of the smallest dockets in a number of terms to be placed before a grand jury.

It was said that the other cases not listed which may go before the grand jury will be presented if developments over the weekend make it possible for Jones to act on the matters.

AMENDMENTS

State Retirement Changes Proposed

The first of three constitutional amendments on the ballot Nov. 5 will deal with the state employees retirement system, or perhaps more accurately a revamping of it.

In College

Mrs. Sallie Darnell Denison, is looking forward to a new career and is studying for it at Austin College at Sherman. But there is a considerable age difference between Mrs. Darnell and other juniors on the campus—she's 73.

Mrs. Darnell returned to college this fall to resume preparation for home mission service. She last was in the school in 1952.

Woman, 73, Looks Forward To New Career

SHERMAN (P)—Mrs. Sallie Darnell of Denison is looking forward to a new career and is studying for it at Austin College. She 73 and a college junior.

She returned to Austin College this fall to resume preparation for home mission service. Mrs. Darnell last was in the school in 1952.

The would-be missionary first entered the college in the summer of 1946 at the age of 62.

"How in the world would you expect to go to college without even a high school education?" her eldest daughter asked her in 1946.

"If the Lord wants me to do it, he will provide a new way," Mrs. Darnell answered.

An active church worker, she has dreamed for years of becoming a missionary and felt that she must have a college education.

Married at 16, she moved to Denison in 1903 with her husband. Here she "worked awfully hard" rearing her six children and one foster child.

Once her children were on their own, Mrs. Darnell saw the way to realize a dream she had kept to herself for many years. She entered Austin College where she has never failed a course.

She hopes to attend Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth after graduation. She would prepare for home mission service among Latin Americans.

"I'm old, but I've got a young spirit. I feel inadequate to do God's work without an education," she said.

4 Small Children Perish In Blaze

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 26 (P)—Fire razed a small frame home on the west side last night, killing four small children.

The victims were Olga 8 months, Frances 5, Ralph 7, and Irene 9, children of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Villareal.

Mrs. Villareal had taken three other children to visit relatives and discovered the fire when she returned. She cut her wrists battering at a window in a vain attempt to rescue the children. Her husband was at work.

The fire was reported at about 11 p. m. Firemen from the city and county arrived within minutes but the home was completely destroyed.

The cause of the fire is under investigation. The children were found in the front room of the home.

The family had lived in the home for several years. It was a one-story structure with a chimney.

The father, Jesse Villareal, is unemployed and has a limited income. The family was struggling financially.

Neighbors said the fire was very fast and intense. It was completely extinguished within 15 minutes.

The bodies of the children were recovered from the remains of the home. They were identified by their parents.

The funeral services for the children will be held in a local church. The burial will take place in a cemetery.

Aid Pleas Up At Welfare Department

Appeals for help by hard-up folk in the county, made to the Howard County Welfare Department, have stepped up in number in the last six or eight weeks, according to Mary Cantrell, director.

"A great many families in the extreme low income bracket are having a hard time of it these days," she said. "Many are out of jobs. There seems to be a sharp reduction in the available work for those people who make their living by common labor, household work and similar employment."

Sickness, too, has aggravated the plight of a large number of the poorer families in the county.

Miss Cantrell, who has been on the job as welfare director of the county for many years, said that it is costing the county around $1,500 per month to help the needy.

The county program does not apply to any person other than indigents who have been residents of the county for a period of at least six months and for family groups where no member of the family can be termed employable.

The county has expended $5,357 from Jan. 1 through Sept. 30 for groceries for needy families, she said. In the same period, the county has absorbed $4,053.85 in hospital costs; $704 for rent; $1,250 for nursing care; $549.73 for transportation; $99 for clothing; $402.10 for burials and $706.19 for drugs.

The total spent through Sept. 30 is $13,129.39.

In view of the fact that the county budget for the department for the year is only $16,000 and this includes Miss Cantrell's salary, the situation is becoming critical.

Miss Cantrell explained many of the persons helped with grocery orders, hospitalization or medicine are old age assistance clients whose meager pension checks are not enough to cover their living expenses. Help also goes to women with small children who cannot obtain work or who cannot work because of their children.

She said that the item for transportation—$549.73—is money required to move indigent sick persons from their homes to state or charity hospitals. The burial expenses absorbed the funeral expenses for members of poverty stricken families who have died during the year.

Hospital bills for persons from this social bracket are those incurred when such persons become ill, have to be hospitalized and have no money of their own to pay the bills.

"It seems to me that the current epidemic or outbreak of influenza has greatly aggravated the plight of a number of the families with which this office has to deal," said Miss Cantrell.

"This, and the apparent lack of employment now prevailing is greatly increasing the demands against this office."

GARDEN CITY—Jack Asbill has been elected president of the Glasscock County 4-H senior boys club. Other officers named are Doug Parker, vice president; Gary McDaniell, secretary. The junior officers are Bud Saunders, president; Freddy Chaney, vice president; Baylor Pruett, secretary.

The girls and boys clubs had a joint party and recreation night recently and had Martin County members as guests. The annual 4-H achievement night has been set for Nov. 12, and there will be a pot luck supper. The traditional turkey shoot will be held in November, but no date has been set.

Members who are feeding lambs this year are David Harris, Hugh Schafer, Vernon Asbill, Tommy Grant, Gary McDaniell, Richard Robinson, Ritchie R. Reynolds, Doug Parker, Jack Asbill, Jimmy Flynn, Freddy Chaney, Sammy Chaney, Bud Saunders, Baylor Pruett, Ralph Tournade, Walter Lowe, David Grant, Sam Oakes, Pat Saunders, Barbara Cook, Brenda Clements and Danna Werst.

For the first time, Glasscock 4-H members have taken up pig feeding projects and those feeding out swine are Bud Saunders, Pat Saunders, James McNutt, Taylor Etchison, Ralph Hoelscher, Frank Cline, Betty Jo Schrader, and Caroline Schneider. A pig show is to be held in conjunction with the annual Glasscock County Livestock Show in January.

Melon Peddler Wanted Here On Check Count

Last August, an itinerant cantelope peddler appeared on the Big Spring scene.

He spent several days in town—calling on food stores. He sold several truck loads of melons to the stores.

After he had become a rather familiar figure, he made the rounds of his customers again—this time with a request that the grocer cash sizable checks for him. These checks appeared to have been paid the man for produce.

Some stores where he requested the favor granted it.

Then all of the checks bounced—they were forgeries.

The peddler was long gone, as was his wife and their two children. A search was launched for him.

Last week, the U. S. officials picked up Ancil W. Johnson in El Paso. He was arrested there for alleged violation of the interstate automobile act. The federal authorities think he bought the big Buick which was driving in another state and paid for it by check.

Miller Harris, sheriff, said that Johnson is charged here as the long-sought cantelope peddler.

So Harris and Deputy Tommy Cole are in El Paso today. They will make a request of the U. S. authorities to surrender Johnson to this county. If they are successful they will bring him back here to face charges of forgery. It was not known Saturday whether the U. S. officials would relinquish custody of the prisoner.

Officers here said that Mrs. Johnson was also arrested in El Paso but that she had been released by the federal authorities.

Abuse By Girl Gang Claimed

HOUSTON, Oct. 26 (P)—The parents of a Cullen Junior High school student complained to police today they were forced to remove their daughter from the school because of "harassment" by a gang of girls known as the "Hoods."

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Cheatham said the harassment has gone on for several weeks and was climaxed Thursday night when the "Hoods" accosted Mrs. Cheatham and her daughter, Carol, 13.

"THE TIMES ARE BIG WITH TIDINGS"

Hardly a day passes but we are informed of progress being made in our constant fight against disease. Research workers are always looking for new drugs, antibiotics and man-made chemicals.

Each one is clinically tested against every possible ailment with the hope that a better way of treatment will be found. Millions of dollars are often spent to perfect a single new drug.

As soon as a new drug is released for safe use, we stock it in our prescription department. It is a remarkable achievement that the average charge of all the prescriptions dispensed is less than three dollars.

under the proposed amendment "a far more equitable and realistic approach is taken than under the present retirement plan which has become antiquated. I believe it will create a greater incentive for promotion, and tenure of service." Opponents claim the "open end" feature which removes the $180 annual contribution limit would work a hardship on employes by requiring them to tie up too much of their needed pay in a retirement system. They argue that not every employe is at his best during his last 10 years of service.

Cotton Harvest Less Than Nine-Per-Cent Complete In Vicinity

Martin, Howard and Glasscock counties, with an estimated yield of 97,000 bales of cotton, had ginned slightly less than nine per cent of this amount at the end of the week.

Martin, whose bulk of the yield is anticipated, was leading the pace with 5,686 bales processed. Howard County had 1,897 bales of the gin platform and Glasscock County 1,250 bales.

The story was the same in the three areas—slow ginning due to weather, and crop conditions good but threatened by excess moisture for this late in the season.

Between the three, some 1,700 additional harvest hands were needed. The movement of crews was negligible last week, and only 140 were referred to producers. Of these, 110 were placed immediately in the fields.

Despite the size of the crop, mechanical harvesting was practically nil. Only in Glasscock County were there reports of mechanical pickers. Here two units were at work.

The Texas Employment Commission reported that the average pulling rate was $1.55 cwt and for picking was $2.05. Hauling and weighing prevailing rates were from 23-35 cents CWT.

By counties, the TEC report showed:

HOWARD—Prevailing rate for pulling $1.55; hauling and weighing $2-35; crop condition good; 35 per cent open; 7.2 per cent of 1,897 bales of an estimated 26,350-bale yield harvested; gins operating 8-hour schedules; 10 unfilled orders for 400 pullers; 300 hands needed; harvested only two days last week.

MARTIN—Prevailing rate for picking $2.05, pulling $1.55; hauling and weighing 25-35 cents; crop condition good; 40 per cent open; 9.9 per cent of 5,686 bales of an estimated 57,400-bale yield harvested; gins generally operating 8-hour schedules; 10 unfilled orders for 1,000 hands; 80 referred and placed last week; 1,000 hands needed; harvested two days last week.

GLASSCOCK—Prevailing rate for picking $2.05, pulling $1.55; hauling and weighing 25-35 cents; crop in good condition; 55 per cent

Construction In Texas Up

AUSTIN, Oct. 26 (AP)—The Bureau of Business Research said today construction authorized in Texas in September totaled $84,628,000, up 2 per cent from August.

The bureau said September authorizations of residential buildings "show a surprising improvement over August." It reported the index of residential authorizations gained 4 per cent from August compared with a big 22 per cent drop from August to September last year.

"The increase is especially significant in view of the fact that residential construction normally falls off sharply during the winter months," the report said.

New construction accounted for $76,393,000 of the $84,628,000. Of this new construction, 44 million was for residential and 32 million for nonresidential. Additions, alterations and repairs for September total $8,235,000 compared to $16,516,000 for August.

Building permits for the month showed Houston leading Texas with $17,145,000. Then came Dallas with $13,586,362, Austin $4,302,116, El Paso $3,373,366, Fort Worth $3,198,697 and San Antonio $2,880,190.

New Electronic Microscope Labs Opened At A&M

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 26—New areas of research and instruction in many branches of technical science have been opened by the installation of $200,000 electron microscopy laboratories at Texas A&M College.

According to Dr. U. Grant Whitehouse, technical director, the electron microscope makes visible objects and details that are 100 to 200 times smaller than the smallest that can be seen through the best ultra violet and ordinary light microscopes.

Medical applications of electron microscopy are becoming of increasing value to investigations of cancer, blood disorders and viral diseases, including Asiatic influenza, poliomyelitis, virus pneumonia and the common cold. Use of electron microscopy in soil science, veterinary science, oceanography and protein chemistry is also already extensive.

Only objects with a diameter at least as large as half the length of a light wave can be seen through a light microscope. Since the electron wave is much shorter than a light wave, smaller objects are visible through the electron microscope. The image produced by the electron microscope is reproduced on an electron sensitive film, from which enlarged images 50,000 to 1,000,000 times as large as the original object can be made by subsequent photographic projection.

East Ward Stages Program On Radio

Weekly Parent-Teacher Association program was presented over Radio Station KBST Thursday by the East Ward P-TA unit.

Mrs. Robert E. Lee, president, discussed work of the organization and also told of plans for the East Ward Halloween carnival to be held at 6:30 p.m. next Thursday.

Mrs. Ruth Burnam's sixth grade presented the remainder of the program. David Agee served as announcer and a short play, "Ready for Winter," was presented. Cast included Lynda McDonald, Harold Osburn, Sandy Perryman, Dusty Burnett, Tony Loftis, Richard Bethel, Norman Patterson, Sherry Napper and Dick Irons.

Jerry Peurifoy read a poem and the chorus sang four numbers. Two more programs are planned for the East Ward unit this year. The Junior High P-TA will present the program next Thursday.

Cub Pack Slates Reorganization

All boys 8-9-10 years of age, together with their parents, are invited to attend the meeting if interested in becoming a Cub. Wm. T. McRae, district Scout executive, will assist the pack committee in reactivating the unit after summer disruptions.

TOPS ON TV

Time Changes Noted On Most Programs Today

Channel 4 viewers will find what looks like a completely new face starting today... with the end of time-change in New York, all programming returns to its regularly scheduled time—in the daytime, one hour later; in the evening, many of the shows switch times, while a number do not.

Leading the program parade will be "pro football" at 1 p.m., with the Cleveland Indians playing the Chicago Cards on the Cards' home gridiron.

Charles Laughton, in his first straight dramatic role on television, makes his debut on "General Electric Theatre" this evening at 8. He plays Mister Kensington, a highly dignified British diplomat, who, when he arrives in Houston, is almost engulfed in the activities of Little League baseball, and in particular the problem of a small boy who fails to make the first team because he fears the ball.

The "Dupont Show of the Month" is Monday night at 8:30, when Christopher Plummer, Rosemary Harris, Rex Thompson, Cedric Hardwicke, Hurd Hatfield, John Carradine and Johnny Washbrook star in Mark Twain's classic, "The Prince and the Pauper."

Charles Boyer, Maurice Chevalier, Frank Sinatra, and James Mason are among the stars who appear on the much-discussed "Mike Todd Party From Madison Square Garden" Thursday night at 9:30. Thursday's presentation will be a film recording of the celebration October 17 which marked the first anniversary of Todd's "Around the World in 80 Days."

Bike Has Postmen Running In Cycles

The Big Spring post office is now the proud owner of a fancy Dan model bicycle but the staff is just a little vague on what the Post Office Department expects them to do with the thing.

They believe it is a beginning of a plan to partially motorize the postal delivery service here but this is largely sheer speculation.

Elmer Boatler, postmaster, has been informed that his office is due to get five of the widely publicized "mailesters" sometime between now and the first of the year. The "mailester" in case you have overlooked the publicity given it, is a three-wheeled motorscooter, rigged with a weather-proof cab. Its purpose is to permit your mail delivery man to chug speedily on his route, delivering your letters and bills.

Five of the city mail carriers, when these mailesters arrive, will stop flattening their feet on their customary long walks and start riding. Boatler said that he had been told the five machines would reach here before Christmas but that he was not too optimistic the delivery would be made that promptly.

The mailester enables the mailman to "tote" up to a hundred or more pounds of mail on his route, whereas now he can carry but 35 pounds.

But the device arrived some time ago, isn't a mailester. It is a specially built bike, rigged with a sturdy metal basket mounted above the front wheel. The front wheel is smaller than the rear wheel. The frame is exceptionally sturdy. Some of the more athletic postal employees have given it a trial. They report it "pedals real easy" but to date no carrier or other worker has manifested an irrespressible desire to make use of it on his rounds.

The bike is dully labeled "U. S. Mail" and is resplendent in bright red, white and blue enamel.

"We've got the bicycle alright," Boatler said. "We'll take good care of it. What we will use it for—well, I just don't know."

Retires

Goodbye to mail sack was said by Bert Scott, above, of High Tex., rural mail carrier after 39 years of faithful service. Scott made his last mail run on the 23-mile route this month. He is shown as he picked up mail for the last time at the High post-office.

Mailman Outlasts 7 Postmasters, Finally Retires

HIGH, Tex. (AP)—Bert Scott, rural mail carrier, finally has retired... after 7 postmasters, 15 cars and so many horses and mules he can't recall the number.

Scott, 64, retired recently after 39 years of service as rural carrier for the High postoffice.

Sadness prevailed as Bert picked up his last bundle of mail. Silently he slipped out the door, cranked up his jeep and drove off.

He never had a complaint registered against him. Bert took over the route in 1919 after being discharged from the Army. It is the same route from which he retired.

"The only difference in the route today is the roads," he said.

Red Satellite's Radio Goes Out

LONDON, Oct. 26 (AP)—The Moscow said tonight the Russian earth satellite's radio has used up its power and has stopped working.

In Washington, the Naval Research Laboratory said "No signals have been received by the minitrack stations from the U.S.S.R. satellite since 5:30 p.m." yesterday. And it said no other radio receiver sources had told the laboratory of getting such signals since 7:10 p. m. Friday.

Interest Lags In Absentee Voting

Although absentee voting got off to a belated start in Howard County, initial interest in this form of voting does not indicate that any widespread concern is being manifested by voters in the Nov. 5 state constitutional amendment.

Up to Saturday only one person had requested an absentee ballot. Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, said that absentee voting would be closed on Nov. 1.

In Howard County, due to a delay in getting the ballots printed, the absentee voting period did not get under way until Thursday of last week.

The three issues at stake include a plan by which old age pensioners and others on the OAB program could be paid a little more money per month from state funds; a proposal which would permit the state to issue $200 million in bonds for a water conservation program; and a method by which state employees would be provided with a pension.

T. E. Compton, district officer with the Public Welfare Department office here, said that if the old age benefit amendment gets a favorable vote on Nov. 5, that checks to old age assistance clients will be increased $2 per month in December. He said that the Legislature, in placing the proposed amendment before the public for a vote, had also approved activating laws to make the provisions immediately effective on approval by the voters.

The county has provided 5,000 ballots for the election.

All 16 regular voting places will be in operation for the day.

Observers are of the opinion that only a light vote will be cast. The absence from the election picture of any contests for office and the fact that the only issue is the three amendments to the constitution makes it highly probable very little enthusiasm will be generated among the voters at large.

School Taxes Are Received At Brisk Rate Near Deadline

Big Spring Independent School District has collected 32.5 per cent of its current roll, J. O. Hagood, assessor-collector, reported Saturday.

The volume of mail receipts is mounting daily and is expected to continue through Thursday, the 3 per cent discount deadline.

Collections for October have amounted to $219,950.71, of which $217,408.84 is on the current roll, $2,541.87 in delinquents and $35.50 in miscellaneous fees.

Local maintenance has received $173,353.24 from current collections and $37,533.94 has gone to interest and sinking fund. Discounts allowed during October have amounted to $6,521.66.

The rain almost stopped the cotton harvest, although some was pulled this week. Cecil Long, Lomax gin manager, ginned 32 bales Wednesday, 35 Thursday and five Friday, to make a total of 585 bales.

He said the rain was delaying things, and cotton bolls were so sappy that a freeze would do a lot of damage. Most of the cotton had graded strict middling, but some of the last bales were middling.

The maize fields are ready for combining as soon as the weather turns dry. Long combined part of a field and said the grain tested 17 per cent moisture. He thinks it would drop to 15 per cent with a few days dry weather. Grain testing 15 per cent moisture will meet the government 10-a specifications.

Too much wet weather has delayed cotton opening and perhaps set the grade back a few points, but none of the ranchers are complaining.

Grass on the Claude Collins ranch between Big Spring and Gail is the best in a long time, according to John Blackburn, foreman. He said they had received three inches of rain this month, and that grass was in good condition.

One bright spot is the winter weeds which have made good growth. Blackburn said this should furnish grazing in the months ahead, as Collins has stocked the ranch with lambs this year.

The Collins ranch near Sterling City has had plenty of rain also, but part of it fell too fast and caused some washing.

Leland Wallace says he is getting a fair cover of grass on his pasture land, but the main growth has been from winter weeds. His cattle are not grazing them now, but Wallace said they would get an early start next spring.

The cotton in his area is opening slowly, and is probably picking up a little stain. He said that none of the open cotton had been beaten out since most farmers in his area plant the storm proof varieties.

"The rain has damaged it some," he said, "but we get more damage from not having enough rain."

Some authorities are wondering how much longer crop surpluses can stay ahead of increasing population. Recently a USDA official, Martin Sorkin, said the country would have 200 million people within the next 10 years, and that by 1975 there would be a third more people than now.

The most rapid growth is expected in the Pacific, Mountain and Southwestern areas. Only two states, Arkansas and Oklahoma, are expected to lose population, and that by three per cent each.

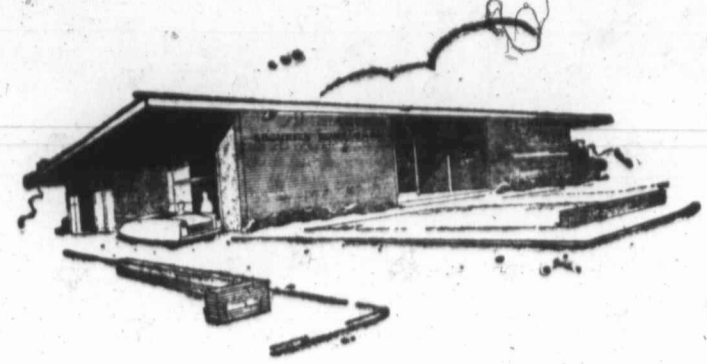

Texas is supposed to gain three million by 1970, while California will jump from 12 to 20 million during the same period.

The 4-H Clubs of Howard County are making plans for a Christmas party, according to Bill Sims, assistant county agent. Since several members have won livestock prizes already this fall, there will be numerous entries in the area shows.

Despite a gradual decline in rural population, there has been a slight increase in club membership this year, Sims said.

If the coyotes and bobcats of Howard County could select their number one public enemy, it would

New Buick Special For 1958

The bold lines of Buick's 1958 styling are exemplified in the luxury and beauty of the Buick Special, volume seller in the Buick line. Dual headlights and a dazzling new grille add breadth and lowness. The Special, mounted on a 123-inch wheelbase, boasts new and bigger brakes, fresh styling in interiors. The new miracle air ride and either variable pitch or the revolutionary flight pitch Dynaflex are optional equipment on the Special series, which comes in seven models. The 1958 Buicks will be unveiled here Tuesday at McEwen Motor Co., 403 Scurry.

ON DISPLAY HERE TUESDAY

New Styling And Engineering Features In Buick 1958 Line

New styling and a host of engineering changes will be noted in the Buick line for 1958, to go on display this week.

The new models will be shown beginning Tuesday at McEwen Motor Co., 403 Scurry.

Featured in the 1958 Buick line are such features as "miracle ride," a revolutionary new Dynaflex transmission, and improved brakes with thicker linings.

The new Buicks come in five series, topped by the new Limited, a distinctively-styled luxury model which is Buick's new entry in the prestige car market.

All models are equipped with dual headlights on each front fender.

The new styling features are apparent from every angle, with the most spectacular change in the grille which is unlike anything ever offered in the industry.

The fender line has been lowered and the hood line raised slightly to complement the new front end design.

The front fenders project out over the headlights and the leading edge is capped by a chrome strip which extends around the fender and becomes part of the side molding. This molding extends gracefully along the side of the car all the way back to the rear wheel cutout, which has been modified to reveal only the lower portion of the wheel.

A panel of ribbed aluminum, trimmed in chrome, extends along the side of the rear fender on all models except the Limited. On this series, the rear fenders, which are eight inches longer, are trimmed with three banks of chrome-capped louvers to make it more distinctive from the rest of the line.

Heading the list of exclusive engineering achievements on the 1958 Buicks is the new flight pitch Dynaflex transmission in which that stator vanes operate on the same "switch the pitch" principle as an airplane propeller.

The new transmission also has three turbines instead of two, which increases the torque output. The additional turbine, plus the new "switch the pitch" feature, provides such a great increase in performance from start to cruising speed that it eliminates entirely the need for low range.

Flight pitch Dynaflex is standard on the Limited and Roadmaster series and optional on all other models. Variable pitch Dynaflex is standard on the Super and Century series and optional on the Special.

With the new air-raise suspension, which gives a softer, more controlled ride, the car maintains the same level when it is loaded as when empty.

Each of the four air springs is composed of a bellows, or chamber, consisting of a metal container into which a rubber diaphragm is compressed by means of a special plunger connected to the suspension. When the car hits a bump, the air in the bellows is compressed.

Air suspension is optional equipment on all models.

All brakes on the 1958 Buicks have been improved for safer operation. All cars are equipped with 12-inch brakes. Total contact has been increased to 218 square inches.

Brake lining on all models has been increased in thickness, providing much longer brake life.

Interiors of all cars feature a new design in keeping with the exquisite new fabrics which will be used in 1958.

All cars are powered by a 364 cubic inch high compression V-8 engine with two-barrel carburetor on the Special and four-barrel on all other models.

The new models come in 20 body styles mounted on two wheelbases, 122 inches for the Special and Century, and 127.5 inches for the other four series.

THE WEEK

engineer, came over for a conference last week and didn't offer hope that the proposed FM-700 south-east loop could be shifted again to south of Big Spring Creek. It couldn't serve traffic needs nearly so well that far south, he said.

We got mighty, might close to a freeze Saturday. The temperature sagged to 36 degrees, and doubtless there may have been some patches of frost in low places to the north. Friday had produced a 41-degree reading.

Colorado River Municipal Water District directors reached an important decision here, declaring intent to seek new finances up to $4 1/2 million. This is on a future basis for expansion, and the decision may be firmed after the first of the year.

The Webb AFB base housing project may come off high center. Williams & Dunlap, accepted low bidders on the project, went on the market with a 5 1/2 per cent offer for money after FHA relaxed its previous 4 1/2 per cent limit. There just wasn't any 4 1/2 per cent housing money floating around.

Lamesans turned out 300 strong to climax their Chamber of Commerce year, one marked by an upturn of the cycle. They also installed Richard Crawley as president, succeeding Walter Buckel.

Highway tragedy in other counties reached all the way here. Mrs. Frances Naglier, Big Spring, was killed instantly a week ago this morning in a mishap north of Big Lake. On Monday Jo Ann Watkins was hurt critically near Tahoka. Dawson County registered its eighth fatality when Felix Hernandez-Hernandez, a Mexican national, was killed north of Ackerly.

Hard Freeze Due In State

A hard freeze was expected across upper Texas Sunday morning following an unseasonable one Saturday that dropped the mercury as low as 25 at Amarillo. The Weather Bureau forecast lows in the upper 20s as far south as Dallas where the 44-year low for that date was 32 degrees in 1943.

Lows of 27 were reported at Childress, Dalhart and Tulia as the winds blazed arrived. The Swisher County agent at Tulia, Bill Rodgers, said a check of unopened cotton bolls indicated they weren't injured but that it was too early to tell for sure. Cotton in the county, which produces about 30,000 bales was late because of the wet spring. Afternoon skies were generally fair in North Texas and clearing slowly in South Texas. Temperatures ranged from 43 in the Panhandle to 61 at Brownsville and mostly in the 40s elsewhere.

Retired Dawson Farmer Succumbs

LAMESA - Funeral for Leonard Frank McGee, 74, will be held at the North Side Baptist Church here at 3 p.m. today. Mr. McGee, retired farmer, died in a hospital here Saturday morning. He had lived in Dawson County for 21 years.

Rites will be conducted by the Rev. Giles Hankins, pastor, and Rev. Cecil Vest, Four Square Gospel minister, with burial in Lamesa Memorial under direction of Higginbotham Funeral Home. Surviving are his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Shirley Cline, Lamesa, and Mrs. Gladys Simpson, Snyder; and three sons, Floyd McGee, Victor McGee and Allen McGee, all of Lamesa.

New Wildlife Stamp Announced

Next commemorative stamp in the steady flow of such issues which have marked the current year, will be made available soon after Nov. 22, it was announced by Elmer Boatler, postmaster. The new commemorative promises to be most attractive. It will be a three-color job—blue, green and yellow—and will be one of the wildlife conservation stamps. The Post Office Department has been issuing a regular series in this group. The new three-color issue, which goes on sale first in Corpus Christi, will be in tribute to the almost extinct whooping crane and will depict four of the birds.

Bloodhounds No Help After Thieves Steal 2 Cars Here

Auto thieves made a successful getaway from law enforcement officers and bloodhounds here Saturday after stealing not one but two cars. The chase began about 2:50 p.m. when Mary Beth Stratton, 1710 E. 71st, called police and said her 1953 Chevrolet had been stolen from the Clover Bowl south of Big Spring. The keys were not left in it, she said. About 15 minutes later, she called back and said she had spotted the car near the Parkhill Elementary School. Police cars were immediately dispatched to the area and found the car parked on the northeast corner of the school ground. Realizing the thieves had escaped into the area north of the school, the police called for bloodhounds kept by Johnnie Griffin.

Behind Figures Of Stock Mart Upheaval Are Human Stories

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—A short middle aged man in a brown suit walked into a brokerage office, plopped into a chair a few feet from an electronic stock market register and dozed off into an afternoon nap. While he slept, the market put on its biggest rally in a generation. In another part of Manhattan, a broker answered the telephone with the greeting, "happy days are here again." These episodes reflected one phase of the past week in the nation's financial capital, the most hectic and dramatic five days the city has experienced since the crash in the market in 1929. There also was another side of the picture early in the week, when stocks made their biggest one-day gains in more than a month of steady decline. An elderly broker in a Wall Street office looked up as the Dow Jones industrials showed a sharp drop in late afternoon, and said "this is a sucker's game. There has been a lot of foolish selling by the public. People are panicky." "Lots of us would like to buy right now but we can't. We got those margin calls and we're short of cash."

Ex-Policeman Is Acquitted

COLORADO CITY—A 32nd district jury brought in a verdict of not guilty in the trial of Roy Barker Friday at 2:55 p.m. The case had gone to the jury three hours and 10 minutes earlier, after opposing counsel had argued the case during the morning. Barker, a former Colorado City patrolman, was charged with murder without malice in connection with the death of Jack Edward Kiser during an altercation in the Colorado City police station on June 29.

Local Druggists Silent On Claims For 'Flu' Mask

Press releases sent out by a diligent publicist for one of the major manufacturers of drug and drug supplies offers an enthusiastic description of a special mask. The press blurb alleges the mask may be the final answer to avoiding or lessening the chances of contracting the much advertised Asian flu. These masks, the press release relates, "are available at drug stores and department stores." The device, it said, contains a filter which is "100 per cent effective" in blocking germs. A spot check of the drug firms here on Saturday revealed:

Apple Team Wins ABC Club Contest

The team captained by J. B. Apple won the attendance contest staged within the American Business Club during the month of October and will be treated to a banquet by the three other competing teams at an early date. The results of the contest were announced at the Friday luncheon of the service club, held at the Settles Hotel. Short talks by Supt. of Schools Floyd R. Parsons and Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of ABCJC, highlighted the Friday program. Parsons confined his remarks to the football game between Big Spring and Abilene, which was held Friday night. Hunt expressed gratitude to the club for promoting several projects that he said stimulated the growth of the local junior college.

Saud Steps Out Of Syria Dispute

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 26 (AP)—Informed delegates agreed today that an end to King Saud's efforts to mediate the Syrian-Turkish dispute would speed a move to have U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold try to settle it. Damascus dispatches said a Syrian government spokesman announced the Saudi Arabian King had informed Syrian President Shukri Kuwatly through diplomatic channels that he had withdrawn his mediation offer. Turkey had begun talks with Saud, but Syria had held back. CARD OF THANKS To our friends, neighbors and relatives who our sincere thanks for spiritual tributes, expressions of sympathy, kindnesses, beautiful flowers and other courtesies extended during our recent bereavement.

Mao To Moscow; New Cominform?

LONDON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Red China announces today that Mao Tse-tung is going to Moscow next month, and Western diplomats took it as evidence that Russia is reviving the Cominform as a worldwide clearing house for Communist propaganda and agitation. Informed sources said rebirth of the Cominform—dissolved in 1956 after being weakened by the defection of President Tito at Yugoslavia and the wavering of other East European leaders—might be announced during Mao's visit.

Mrs. H. H. Haynes Is Convalescing

Mrs. H. H. Haynes is reported resting well at Cowper Hospital where she is confined with a fractured hip. Mrs. Haynes, a pioneer resident of Big Spring, slipped and fell a week ago this morning at the entrance of the First Methodist Church, where she has been a devoted worker.

Spunky Young Girl Fights Off Masked Rapist

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 26 (AP)—A spunky young girl fought off a masked rapist in her home last night and Detective Grady Padgett said Saturday by Walker Grice, justice of the peace. Grice said that evidence presented in an investigation indicated that Mrs. McMahan had prepared and swallowed a lethal dose of cyanide. She was pronounced dead on arrival at the Cowper Hospital at 9 p.m. Thursday. Officers said they did not hear of the incident until 9 a.m. Friday. Services for Mrs. McMahan were conducted at 10 a.m. Saturday at the Nalley-Pickle Funeral Chapel. The body was sent to Iowa Park for burial today.

Slain Gangland Chieftain

A doctor bends over the body of underworld boss Albert Anastasia alongside the New York City hotel barber shop chair where he was sitting when two masked men shot and killed him. ## Ike Seems Certain To Attend Meeting Of NATO Powers

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—President Eisenhower seemed certain today to attend an extraordinary meeting of the 15 nation North Atlantic Treaty Council in Paris Dec. 16-17. A final decision is expected to be made early next week. A summit conference of the Western Allies, if it develops as indicated, will give Eisenhower an opportunity to set the stage for a highly controversial proposal to Congress to let this country share its atomic weapons secrets with Britain and in some degree with other qualified friendly countries. It will also enable the President to discuss plans for a revolutionary revision of free world defense strategy by which the United States apparently aims at making atomic weapons and a variety of missiles more widely available throughout the Allied security system. A possible purpose of this would be to get ready to fight limited atomic war if this becomes necessary.

NATO Members Stirred By Meet

PARIS, Oct. 26 (AP)—President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Macmillan stirred NATO allies today with a proposal for a summit meeting of the organization's governing council. It would be the West's most glittering concentration of Western government leaders since the end of World War II. Reports poured into this headquarters city of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization that Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany, Prime Minister John Diefenbaker of Canada, and other government leaders of the 15 NATO allies will fly here for the session opening Dec. 15. Diplomatic quarters said it could be a whole new turning point in the alliance's history. It would reaffirm Western unity just when it was needed most—with the Soviet Union making startling scientific, military and diplomatic gains and adopting an ever more truculent attitude.

Italian Set Midland Hop

TUCSON, Ariz., Oct. 26 (AP)—Two Italian pilots on a goodwill tour of four continents hoped to take off for Midland, Tex., and Mexico City today. The pilots, Cmdr. Maner Luialdi, 44, and his co-pilot, Cmdr. Reggiero Ruggieri, both of Milan, are making a 32,000-mile flight in a single-engine Fiat monoplane with a 500-horsepower Pratt and Whitney engine. Engine trouble caused them to stop at Tucson Wednesday night. They were sight-seeing yesterday. Remo Fioroni, consular agent for Italy in Tucson, said their mechanic had arrived from Mexico City last night, and he planned to work on the plane and expected them to take off late this afternoon. The Italian government and the Fiat Aircraft Co. are sponsoring the tour, which started in Italy and will end at the tip of South America before their return to Italy.

Rites Set Today For Wayne Bearden

LAMESA - Last rites are scheduled for 2 p.m. today at the First Methodist Church for Wayne Bearden, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Bearden of Lamesa. Wayne Bearden, an oilfield worker at Silvertown, died Friday. Burial will be in the Lamesa Memorial Cemetery under the direction of Higginbotham Funeral Home. Survivors include his wife and one son, Bryan, Brownfield; his parents; two sisters, Mrs. Edna Dale Curley, Brownfield, and Mrs. Minnie Lois Bunch, Silvertown.

Two Men Do Favors; Now One's Dead, Other Jailed

FORT WORTH, Oct. 26 (AP)—Jimmy Garner, an easy-going oil salesman who once played the electric guitar, did a favor for a friend last night, and ended up dead today—leaving a widow who has three children but no insurance on her husband's life. Clifford McCarty, a man with a police record, did a favor for his brother last night, and ended up in jail today—left with the thought that he killed Garner and drew his brother's scorn for his trouble. The two strangers were thrown together about midnight at a tavern on the Jacksboro Highway. Garner, 29, told his wife, 26, yesterday he wanted to visit the boys in the band that he used to play in about a year ago. He worked as a distributor for Gulf Oil products. Before he left, Garner took his three small children to a grocery to get them balloons as rewards for "being good" during the week. Content with their balloons, Sandra, 5, Patricia, 3, and Larry, 2, said goodbye to their father. At the nightspot, the band leader persuaded Garner to sit in for the night in place of the regular guitar man who was sick. Garner agreed. It was good to be back playing again. Clifford McCarty, 24, a cement worker, had been drinking since 6:30 p.m. Later, Clifford's brother, Jack, 27, entered. They spoke, but not too warmly. Six months before Clifford had stabbed Jack in the stomach in a dispute over Jack's car. "I was drunk," Jack told detectives T. S. Walls and A. E. Jordan and a Star-Telegram reporter today. "I can't remember, but I think the guitar player said something to me as he left the stand. Anyway, I hit him first. He was getting the best of me. Then Clifford came over and started slashing away. He even cut me in the hand. I know the guitar player didn't have a knife." He was asked then if there was any love between him and his brother. He said: "Not much. Even though he was trying to help me. Knives are for cowards." Clifford was shaken when he heard Garner had died in the slaying, saying: "I almost had a heart attack when I learned. I wasn't trying to kill him—I was just trying to get him off my brother."

Two Men Do Favors; Now One's Dead, Other Jailed

The brothers were arrested at 1:15 a.m. by police who spotted their car. Mrs. Garner was en route then to the hospital—too late to see her husband alive. "I had to tell the oldest child this morning," she said today. "She cried."

Various Articles Reported Stolen

Mrs. Jane Blissard, 602 State, said a radio was taken from her 1950 Ford while it was parked at the residence Thursday night. A bike was reported stolen from Doyle Hale, 805 E. 6th. ## 2 DWI Charges Filed Saturday

Two complaints accusing two men of driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor were filed Saturday. Troy Meglone Whitfield, arrested by the Texas Highway Patrol, posted $500 bond. City police filed a complaint against Hack Force. He was still listed Saturday as being in the Howard County jail.

Adm. Quinn Says Missile Program Making Progress

Rear Admiral John Quinn took a "short cut" to spend the weekend in his home town. Now serving as deputy commander of the bureau of ordnance for the United States Navy in Washington, D. C., Adm. Quinn was assigned unexpectedly to Olathe, Kans. in a switch in speaking dates. After he addressed a Navy League gathering there, he made a hurried swing to Big Spring to visit with friends and to check on his holdings here. The orbiting of Sputnik held special interest for Adm. Quinn, as well as the entire missile program, for it was from his ship that the first guided missile was launched at sea shortly after the close of World War II. That rocket attained a height of 106 miles, a fabulous record in those days. He conceded that Russia made propaganda hay by being first to send a satellite aloft but discounted the contentions that the United States was lagging badly. "We are making very definite progress," he said. Adm. Quinn felt also that the three branches of service were making steady progress in coordinating their ordnance research. "It is beginning to mesh," he observed. "Things are being done cooperatively today that wouldn't have been possible a decade ago."

Too Much Rain Now Foremost Farm Problem

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 26 (AP)—Problems farmers and ranchers had almost forgotten—rising from too much moisture instead of drought—are rising to mar what had promised to be the best year for agriculture in about a decade, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service said today.

"Too much rain in the spring decreased small grain yields, delayed planting of crops and put the farm schedule several weeks behind," Director John Hutchison said.

"Now fall rains are interfering with the maturity and harvest of crops, especially grain sorghum, cotton and peanuts, and throwing behind scheduled preparation of land for next year, plus the increasing danger of frost on unharvested crops.

"However, the rains have their saving grace in setting ranges and pastures into the best conditions for winter in many years. Also moisture now will remain in the root zones for next year's crops."

The delay also is expected to cause some shortages of pickers as bracers in some sections, especially the Pecos area, are reported heading back to Mexico.

The rice harvest continues in muddy fields. Rain in other areas may mean sprouting of some unharvested grain and rotting of peanuts and possibly sweet potatoes. Small grain is making excellent growth.

The Panhandle has more grazing available than cattle to graze it as practically all the wheat acreage is seeded and off to a good start and ranges are greening. Cattle numbers are lower than normal due to drought forcing sales of so many cattle the last few years.

Far West Texas ranges are improved after a general rain, but the cotton harvest has been delayed in the Pecos and Stanton area.

The big South Plains cotton and sorghum crops are in serious conditions as rain delays the maturity and harvest where an estimated 25 to 30 per cent of the sorghum and possibly 100,000 bales of cotton, or about 7 per cent of the estimated crop, has been harvested.

Some livestock has been lost due to rain and floods in the Edwards Plateau, but the outlook for ranges and small grains is good. V. G. Young reported from San Angelo. It also meant further delay in the harvest.

See How She Falls

The village gossip got her nose a little too far into someone else's monkey business, and the scene above is the result. That's Billie Freeman (rear) who's just suffered the clipping penalty. She portrays the village gossip in the Howard County College Players' production, "See How They Run." Doyle Phillips, who portrays the airman seen sprawled on the rug, missed the haymaker which was intended for him, and Danne Green, who is seen as a vicar's wife, has just delivered a left hook to an ineligible receiver. Miss Freeman, incidentally, suffered a broken nose during an early rehearsal of this scene. She's hoping Miss Green's aim is better on opening night Monday. (Photo by Jack Alderton).

Hilarious Comedy Scheduled 2 Days At HCJC Auditorium

The Howard County Junior College players will send the curtain up at 8:15 p.m. Monday and Tuesday on their latest production, "See How They Run," a hilarious comedy by Phillip King. Tickets may be had at the door at the HCJC Auditorium.

Wracked by the flu bug which bit just about every cast member, the college players came from behind during the last week to whip the difficult play into shape, and from all indications, "See How They Run" is going to be one of the funniest yet presented by their group.

The story of the play finds Mrs. Skillen, the local gossip monger (played by Billie Freeman) berating the local vicar, the Rev. Toop (Tommy Pickle) for allowing his wife to decorate the church pew, a job that customarily belongs to Mrs. Skillen.

But Mrs. Toop (Danne Green), being an American and a former actress, doesn't take Mrs. Skillen's assaults lying down. Hair flies within the first few scenes, but the fun is yet to come.

For example, in walks Clive (Doyle Phillips), also a former actor and an old friend of Mrs. Toop's, while Mrs. Toop is alone in the house. All is innocent, but Mrs. Toop finds them together, acting out a rough house scene they had done together on the stage many years before.

Other complications ensue: Ida, the maid (Londa Coker), makes eyes at Clive, the bishop (David Yater), a relative of Mrs. Toop's shows up unexpectedly; an escaped Russian agent (Nick Trepsas) throws a gun on Mrs. Toop; the Rev. Humphrey (Jack Wood) hobbles in for a visit; and a British sergeant (George Kozachuk) turns the house upside down looking for the Russian.

The sergeant can't find the spy, however, because by the time he arrives, there are several people claiming to be the Rev. Toop.

There's no question on the title of the play, for the principals are seen galloping in and out of the ever-more confused situations, and the final curtain falls on a hopelessly entangled and very humorous plot.

"See How They Run" is rollicking good humor, and the college players, to say nothing of the production staff, deserve a big audience for their efforts.

LIFE WITH MUSIC

Guitar Grows As Solo Instrument

By RICHARD D. SAUNDERS

The last few years have seen an ever-growing interest in the guitar, not merely as an accompanying instrument or as a rhythm-keeper in a dance band or combo, but as a solo instrument of musical versatility.

Today's guitar is descended from the ancient Arabian Al'ud, which retained a rounded back in the lute, but was made with a flat back in the Spanish guitar, or vihuela, which was developed in the 12th Century, after the conquering Moors had brought it from Africa.

The earliest guitars had only four strings, but a fifth was added in the 16th Century, supposedly by Vicente Espinel, who was a musician and a novelist, and a sixth string came into general use sometime in the 19th Century.

Most of the credit for the guitar's present popularity as a serious instrument can be given to its outstanding virtuoso, Andres Segovia, whose concerts over a period of more than four decades have shown the instrument to its best advantage. Yet the great violin virtuoso, Paganini, also was expert on the guitar, and composed several selections for it. Berlioz, too, was a guitarist, though he contributed nothing to its literature.

Guitar music has the surprising feature of being either very old or very new. There is plenty of classical music which is quite playable, including much originally written for the lute and even the harpsichord, which is more akin to the guitar in timbre than to the modern piano, and Segovia has stimulated a number of contemporary compositions. But the delicate restraint of the guitar's tone did not interest composers of the romantic era, who were more concerned with the much larger dynamic range of the piano.

Yet guitar performances and devotees are steadily increasing in number. Perhaps it is an indication that many music lovers find their emotions so often frayed by world conditions from spumatics to taxes that they welcome the complete relaxation from stress and turmoil that the guitar's quiet and contemplative tones can bring to them.

Composer-conductor Dr. Miklos Rozsa postcards from Vienna that he has begun another European tour, directing several of the outstanding orchestras of the Continent... Rise Stevens flew to San Antonio to sing Mahler's "Songs of a Wayfarer" at the season's opening concert of the symphony, led by Victor Alessandro... Librettist Clarence Keaney is looking over the land of the Aztecs... Mexican piano virtuoso Jose Kahn is featuring new works by Jose Rolon, of his native land, and Samuel Barber, of the U. S. A., on his concert programs this season... The Katsumi musical theme from the film, "Sayonara," has been recorded by Miyoshi Umeki, the Nipponese songstress who plays Red Buttons' Japanese wife... David Rose's tone poem, "Madrid," is due to be performed by an orchestra in the Spanish capital.

UT LONGHORNS SHADE RICE IN THRILLER

AUSTIN, Oct. 26 (AP)—Texas' Rene Ramirez churned 80 yards on a kickoff after Rice had pulled ahead to give upstart Texas a 19-14 Southwest Conference win over the Owls here tonight.

Ramirez, a whirling ramrod for the Steers, intercepted a pass to start Texas on its first scoring drive and then scored the next two personally.

14-12 SQUEAKER

Abilene B Team Defeats Locals

By BOBBY HORTON

Big Spring's "B" Shortorns played hard-nosed, head-up football before falling in the last four minutes to the unbeaten Abilene "B", 14-12, here Saturday afternoon.

In a penalty-ridden game plagued by fumbles, Abilene's vaunted offense fashioned a sustained drive only once all afternoon, that coming with less than four minutes left in the game. But it was enough to pull them from behind and overcome a fighting Big Spring eleven which completely controlled the ball all afternoon.

First quarter action saw Abilene take the initial kickoff on the 20, and move 80 yards in five plays to score. Andy Springer rolled around right end with a pitchout for 58 yards and a touchdown. He kicked the extra point to give his team a 7-0 lead.

Controlling the ball on three series of downs, the Steers pounded at Abilene relentlessly. Ronnie White, Scotty Ellison and Donnie Everett carried the ball doggedly for a total of 31 plays the first half. Abilene had control only for 18 plays.

A drive starting on the Abilene 45 was climaxed by White's plunge into the end zone. Dennis Holmes' kick was wide, and the Steers trailed 7-6 at halftime.

In the third period, with penalties dogging the Eagles, they were forced to punt from their three. It was a beauty by quarterback Charles McCook, traveling to the 44. With the wind to their backs, Big Spring drove to paydirt in five plays, taking the lead, 12-7.

The Eagles, soundly outplayed by the dogs, began to show a more impressive team, with time running out and the pressure on. The winning drive began on their own 39. Springer took the kickoff, following the second touchdown.

Duke Blue Devils Are Tied By North Carolina State

RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 26 (AP)—North Carolina State, crumpled by 14 points, refused to crumble before Duke's vaunted offense today and roared back behind clutch passing to tie the favored Blue Devils 14-14, in an Atlantic Coast Conference football game here today.

The tooth- and - nail last half struggle had the sellout crowd of 21,000 limp at the finish. Thousands more watched the battle over regional television network of 20 stations.

State's magnificent defense smashed down a Duke thrust late

A fired up Owl team, trailing 12-0 midway in the third period, scored two quick touchdowns with quarterback King Hill slamming over from the one and shifty Howard Hoelscher going 33 yards for the other.

The win kept Texas undefeated in the conference. It was the first loss for Rice in league play. Some 48,000 fans witnessed the wild game in low-40 degree weather.

Texas cranked its first scoring drive late in the second period when Ramirez wrestled a pass away from Rice end Buddy Dial on the 40.

Ramirez scampered 14 yards on the drive and alternate quarterback Bobby Lackey, using a tantalizing slow call, slipped around end untouched with two seconds left.

The other touchdowns came within 11 minutes in the frantic third period.

Ramirez, who gained 76 yards rushing in eight blasts, took the kickoff following Rice's second touchdown on the 20 after it had slipped through the hands of end Monte Lee. Ramirez went up the middle, cut to the sidelines and was away. He almost tripped on the 20 but recovered his balance and sped on in for the deciding score.

Illinois Loses To Michigan St.

EAST LANSING, Mich., Oct. 26 (AP)—Walt Kowalczyk, Michigan State's burly "springing blacksmith," barreled 36 yards for a fourth quarter touchdown run and pulled Michigan State out of a hole for a 19-14 Big Ten football decision over Illinois here today.

His running mate at left half, the fleet Blanche Martin, scored two first half touchdowns and gave MSU an intermission lead of 13-0. Martin scored one of his TDs on a 2-yard plunge and the other on an 86-yard sideline gallop.

But Illinois made the game a spine-tingler for the crowd of 64,353 that braved scattered snow flurries and 36-degree weather in Spartan Stadium by socking in two fast third period scores for a momentary 14-12 advantage.

Illinois, now with two Big Ten defeats, was almost eliminated from any title or Rose Bowl hopes. No team that has lost two conference games has ever won either honor.

An Illinois fumble on the Illinois 28 gave Michigan State its initial scoring chance in the first period. Eight straight running plays powered to the 3-yard-line and Martin just barely threw himself in from there.

OVER-ZEALOUS FAN JAILED

MORGANTON, N. C., Oct. 26 (AP)—Mount Airy ramed across a touchdown against Olive Hill early in the football game between the two Negro high schools here last night, and the crowd went wild.

Especially Walter Michaux of Morganton, who police said jumped from the stands and ran onto the field brandishing a shotgun, threatening to shoot the whole Mount Airy team if it scored again.

Michaux was hauled off to jail on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Final score: Olive Hill 19, Mount Airy 6.

Traffic Heavy Around Top Spots In Nat'l Pro Loop

The National Football league reaches the fifth week of the season today with five teams in a deadlock for first place in the Eastern and Western Conferences, and a strong possibility that it may take some time to unravel the pieces.

With six games on the schedule, five of them involve clubs battling to stay at the top of their divisions. Each has a 3-1 record—the New York Giants and Cleveland Browns in the Eastern Conference, and the Baltimore Colts, Detroit Lions and San Francisco 49ers in the West.

This is the way they square off this afternoon: Detroit at Los Angeles Rams, Green Bay Packers at Baltimore, Chicago Bears at San Francisco, Cleveland at Chicago Cardinals, Washington Redskins at New York, Philadelphia Eagles at Pittsburgh Steelers.

Four games call for re-matches of earlier meetings between the teams, all played just two weeks ago. On that occasion the 49ers edged the Bears 21-17, the Colts walloped the Packers 45-17, the Lions squeezed out a 10-8 decision over the Rams, and the Giants downed the Redskins 24-20.

The last two unbeaten teams were pushed off the lofty perch last week when Philadelphia won its first game, a 17-7 decision over Cleveland, and Detroit rallied with three touchdowns in the fourth period to down Baltimore 31-27. Rookie So-nny Jurgensen from Duke sparked the Eagles' upset, while costly Colt errors set up the Detroit victory. Bobby Layne pitched a 29-yard scoring pass to Hopalong Cassidy in the last 45 seconds, after John Unitas had thrown four TD aerials for Baltimore.

Filling in for the ailing Bobby Thomson, Jurgensen passed for one touchdown and scored the second himself.

ABILENE, Oct. 26 (SC) — Big Spring's ack-back couldn't find the range and the high-flying Abilene Eagles soared to a new record for consecutive victories in Texas schoolboy football by slamming the Steers, 32-0, on a cold, windswept field here Friday night.

The Longhorns, with big Jan Loudermilk playing his finest game ever, took the lead from the beginning, counted once in the opening period, twice in the second, once in the third and once in the fourth.

Chuck Colvin, District 2-A's leading scorer, powered five yards up the middle for the initial TD of the game 6:40 minutes deep in the first round after Stan Cozby, benefitting from some excellent blocking, had set up the score on a 40-yard run up the sidelines.

Loudermilk had derailed the Abilene Express at that point by

Garden City Bearcats Stage Rally To Defeat Christoval

By BOBBY HORTON
GARDEN CITY, Oct. 26 (SC)—Garden City defeated the Christoval Steers in the bitter weather here Friday night, 33-20, in a District 8 six-man conference clash.

The numbing cold of the night caused nine fumbles, and during the first half neither of the teams was able to mount a potential sustained drive.

Beginning action, Garden City's quarterback Don Plagens returned the kickoff against the wind to the 14. On a quick pitch, Loyd Jones burst for 18 yards to his own 31. Jimmy Davee carried for nine but on next play, Jones fumbled back on his 21. Harold Anthony recovered for Christoval.

For the Cougars, Curtis Vaughn was stopped cold twice, but on the third attempt he cut loose for 13 yards. This play was erased by a 15-yard penalty for illegal use of hands. Not to be denied, the 147-pound scabbard slipped through all the way down to the Bearcats' 27. Again he carried for 6 yards to the 21.

Quarterback Jack Skinner unleashed an aerial intended for Clyde Wilkinson, but Harold, one of the Jones brothers, intercepted the pass for a loss by the Cougar's Tony Reed. Don Plagens snapped a short pass, and Christoval took its turn for an interception. Wayne Solomon doing the trick on the 30.

Solomon, 180-pound end-back, slammed for two yards before Vaughn spurted down to the Kats four-yard marker. However, the ball was brought back because of a backfield-in-motion penalty. With the ball resting on the 22, Solomon powered to the 13.

Struggling to defend their goal, the 'Kats tightened up. Ben Cox

Buffaloes Lose To Merkel 11

STANTON, Oct. 26—The Merkel Badgers remained in the scrap for the District 6-A football honors by chilling the Stanton Buffaloes, 30-6, here Friday night.

Merkel had a wide edge in statistics, gaining 284 yards on the ground to only 49 for the game but outclassed Bisons.

In the first quarter, the Badgers came into possession of the ball following a Buff fumble on the Stanton ten. Buddy Tittle went over for the score. Merkel failed to convert but it didn't matter.

Merkel counted again when Joe Neil boomed across from the 15 while Stanton made it tally a short time later after recovering a Merkel fumble following a punt.

The ball bounced into the end zone where Rodney Myrick recovered it for the Buffaloes.

In the second period, Riley Seymour ran 60 yards to set up Merkel's third TD, going to the Stanton five. Niel made drive over for the count.

A short time before the half, Manley Denton threw a 25-yard scoring pass to Gary Reger.

After the teams resumed play following the half, Niel scored from 12 yards out for Merkel.

On defense, Corky Britton, Gilbert Casbeer, Wayne Parum and Virgil Miller glistered for Stanton.

LSU Tigers Upset By Gators, 24-14

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Oct. 26 (AP)—Florida stopped Billy Cannon, the Southeastern Conference rushing leader, cold today and handed Louisiana State its first conference football defeat 22-14.

Dan Pelham, a senior end, put Florida ahead in the opening minutes when he blocked a Cannon punt in the end zone for a safety and the Gators never trailed.

LSU waged an uphill battle the rest of the way on a 99-yard scoring run by J. W. Brodnax and Jimmy Taylor's bulllike rushes. The Tigers matched Florida touchdown for touchdown until the fourth quarter.

Then another short Cannon punt only 12 yards beyond the line of scrimmage opened the way for Florida to score the clincher on a 39-yard march.

New Records To Be Set In Drag Races Today

Good weather or bad, the Big Spring Timing Association stages its drag races at Webb Air Force this afternoon.

Time trials start at 12:30 p.m. The races themselves get under way shortly after 2 p.m. Admission for the show is $1 per person.

BSTA officials say racing programs will take place here once a month the remainder of the year. First in a series of programs called "NHRA Membership Drive Events" is on tap today. These programs are held annually across the country to boost membership in the National Hot Rod Association.

NHRA was organized to help racing organizations as the Big Spring Timing Association. Membership drives have never before been pushed in Texas.

Present plans call for the association here to pay part of the cost of a membership fee for each entry taking part in today's show. Howard DeShazo of Big Spring has been named an area advisor by the NHRA.

NHRA is a non-profit organization, as is the Big Spring Timing Association. All proceeds, including fees for membership, are used to help the sport of hot-rodding and drag racing all over the country.

Even spectators can help the cause, if they like the sport, by becoming members.

Attendance figures show that drag racing and timed events are more widely attended than base ball or football, because they are year-around events. Nowhere has interest in drag racing mushroomed more than it has in this area.

Entry fee is $1 per person. The insurance fee is an additional 50 cents. Contestants who are members of the NHRA are charged only 25 cents for insurance, however.

Today's meet will be the BSTA's first all-gas meet, although most all of the entries in last month's show refrained from using fuel

Japanese Love Horse Racing

TOKYO, Oct. 26 (AP)—The sports-loving Japanese have a yen for the horses, but the yen doesn't go far.

It takes about 700 yen to lay the equivalent of a $2 parimutuel bet in the United States, but the sons and daughters of Nippon part with it with the same fervor as do the two-buck Bennies at Laurel and Jamaica.

Some 40,000 fanciers of the breed poured out to the Nakayama race track Sunday in weather unfit for the devil himself to watch pint-sized Arab ponies and long-legged thoroughbreds vie in an 11-race program.

The feature was the Nakayama Grand Steeplechase, a 2 9/16 miles over 11 jumps and an undulating turf course which saw the horses drop from sight completely on five occasions.

Rain poured in buckets. Mud, ankle deep, stalled automobiles and made walking hazardous. Yet hardy Japanese bettors were not to be deterred.

Old men in high boots and with umbrellas trudged through the turnstiles. Women, wearing wooden shoes or "getas" and carrying wide-eyed infants on their backs fought their way into the giant, modern plant.

Horse players, it was proved, are the same everywhere. They go to unlimited hardship to be divorced from their hard-earned cash.

Outside the gates, hawkers sold weird-looking tip sheets printed in Japanese. Touts sidled up to prosperous-looking visitors with sure things marked in red pencil. Inside, the horse players not in the stands, huddled on the rain-soaked ground and swapped "hot tips."

Nakayama is a beautiful modern course which matches Hialeah and Santa Anita for beauty and charm. A one mile turf track encompasses an infield decorated with small bonzai trees and other shrubs.

The horses run clockwise — instead of a pair of starters with white flags — and no tote boards. Fans get their information from a huge blackboard hauled over the grandstand and visible to only a fraction of the spectators.

Betting is lively. The scene around the windows between races resembles the 5 o'clock subway rush hour at 52nd Street in New York City. It's possible to bet as little as 100 yen (30 cents) and popular gimmick is to wager a combination — that is, pick the 1 and 2 horses for greater odds.

As in America and England, it is possible to bet "win" or "place" with the "place" bet taking in the third finisher if more than seven are in the field.

Besides, lightning the pocket-book load, a visit to the race track has other compensations, such as learning more of the Japanese language. The word for win is "tancho" and for place is "fukusho," a more popular phrase is "shatsu nakusu." That means "lose shirt."

Lamesa Upset By Wolfpack

LAMESA, Oct. 26 (SC)—Colorado City's Wolves continued their up-and-coming victory strides here tonight, with a 13-0 win over Lamesa.

Following a hard-fought scoreless first half, the Wolves stopped a Tornado drive on their five by recovering a fumble. Don Black climaxed a 95-yard march, scoring from 39 yards out. Lamesa's Howard Westmoreland blocked the point-after-touchdown attempt.

With only 4:30 left in the game, quarterback Richard Compton slanted around left end for 14 yards to paydirt. Don Caffey kicked the extra point.

The Wolves nosed out the Tors in first downs, 12 to 11. They gained 209 yards rushing to Lamesa's 162. Passing only once for a completion, they gained 12 yards through the air. Lamesa completed one of six attempts for 20 yards.

RUGGED GROUND GAME SPARKS 'DOG WIN

By DON HENRY
COAHOMA, Oct. 26 (SC)—Using a powerful ground game, the Coahoma Bulldogs stormed over Roby here Friday night, 20-0 in a homecoming contest.

The Bulldogs had more trouble with a guy named Flag—first name Red—than they did with the Lions; a total of 110 yards were stepped off against them for penalties.

The win brought hopes of a district championship for the Coahomans and set up a clash with Merkel—which has won one and tied one in district play—next Friday at Merkel.

Dub Behrens' charges rolled for 362 yards on the ground but none through the air. Coahoma tried only two passes. This was while holding the Lions to 134 passing and rushing.

Roby was behind before getting its hands on the football. Harold (Frog) Harrington, a running demon all night, returned the opening kick-off to the Coahoma 20. From there, Harrington and Don White moved the ball goal ward in 15 plays. Actually, an additional five yards was added to the drive from a penalty.

White bulled over his right side from the one for the score, and Mac Robinson added the extra point on a second try. The first was wide, but a penalty gave him another chance.

Roby was forced to punt after three plays, and Coahoma went into business gain from its own 30. Only seven downs were needed on this drive to rack up six points. Longest gainer of the drive was a 22-yard scamper around his own right end by Harrington.

Robinson, who alternated at the tailback slot while not in the blocking back position, went the last 15 yards for the tally. He skirted his right end and actually slid across the goal, giving Coahoma a 13-0 lead at the half.

The Bulldogs had to call on its defensive aces to thwart a Lion drive early in the second quarter. Roby drove from its 28 to the Coahoma six before losing the ball on a fumble. Roby had mixed three passes—one good for 23 yards—to move the ball into scoring range.

Coahoma and Roby marched up and down the field without getting any nearer than the other's 30 throughout the half.

Opening the fourth however, the Lions mounted a potential scoring drive only to see it die on the Bulldog four. The Lions got a first on the 12, gained seven on one play but was able to move only one more yard in three tries. The drive was kept alive however by gift of 20 yards in penalties.

Taking over on the four, the Bulldogs launched their third and final scoring drive. White moved the ball out 13 more yards on the first play, and two more plays found the ball on the Roby 30.

There, Harrington cut loose on the longest gain of the night, a 58-yard scamper through the entire Roby team. He cut up the middle and was through the secondary before the surprised Lions could gain their feet. He was finally hauled down on the Roby 22.

White got five, then Harrington carried on the next three plays, the last going for two yards and six points. Robinson kicked goal for the final point of the night.

Time ran out with the Bulldogs on the move again. They had reached the seven when the final second ticked away.

Coach Behrens got outstanding offensive work out of tackle Bobby Null and guard Malcolm Roberts.

on the right side of the line, while the entire center of the defensive line, including David Stoker and C. R. Wright, made going rough for the backs.

Null and Roberts, however, and center Max Kenner were in on practically every tackle in the line. The win (sixth of the year) left the Bulldogs unscathed on district play through two games. It also set up the game at Merkel next Friday, with the winner of that one in line for the district crown. Merkel is defending district champ.

Half-time activities saw Jeannie Bobo crowned football sweetheart and Ramona Greenfield being presented as band sweetheart.

Tennessee's Vols Outlast Terrapins

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Oct. 26 (AP)—Tennessee poured through Maryland's worn down guards for two last quarter touchdowns today and a 16-0 football victory.

The trim, hard-hitting Volunteers nursed a first quarter safety scored on a blocked kick until constant banging paid off for their fourth straight triumph. Tennessee's only defeat this season was a 7-0 loss to Auburn.

Fullback Tommy Bronson scored Tennessee's first touchdown on a yard plunge to cap a 54-yard drive led by Bobby Gordon.

Bronson set up the next touchdown by tearing 51 yards to the Maryland 29. Coach Bowden Wyatt let his fresh second stringers take it the rest of the way, with Carl Smith skirting Maryland's right end for the last nine yards.

GAIL WINS, 55-12 Last Half Surge Torpedoes Knott

SWAN LAKE, Oct. 26 (SC)—Gail slammed Knott 55-12 here Friday night, to take a District 7 six-man conference win. The Coyotes are now unbeaten in four conference starts.

Gail led in first downs gained—six, to four for Knott. The Coyotes compiled 388 yards rushing, while Knott could muster only 218.

The two teams fought evenly the entire first half, matching touchdowns until 15 seconds before the gun. Gail shot in front for a 20-12 bulge at intermission.

Loyd Ramsey led Gail for a 35 point outburst in the third period, to give his team complete domination with a 55-12 advantage at the end of the third quarter. He wound up with a total of three touchdowns: Ronnie Poe, Travis Walker, and Charlie Dodson each scored for Gail.

Neither team was able to score in the fourth period. The high

Broncs Throw Angelo, 27-6

ODESSA, Oct. 26 (SC)—Odessa took a District 2-AAA opener from the San Angelo Bobcats here Friday night 27-6, scoring all its points in the last half.

San Angelo had an edge in all the statistics, leading 12 to 12 in first downs gained. They rolled for 293 yards rushing, while Odessa gained 285. They connected for a sharp 180 yards passing on 10 of 21 attempts. Odessa passed for 25 yards, completing 3 of 10.

Odessa half Ronnie Goodwin took a lateral from Buddy White and went 53 yards for their first counter.

With a bad punt by San Angelo going only to its 28, Odessa's Broncs took advantage, and quarterback Gerald Erwin tossed to Terry Pratt who made a sparkling catch on the one. Erwin sneaked over for a 13-0 lead.

Buddy White scored twice in the fourth quarter, one coming on a pass interception of 50 yards. It was his second pass interception. San Angelo's Alexander passed to Charles Pratt for their TD.

Mustangs Romp On Lake View

SWAN LAKE, Oct. 26 (SC)—Sweetwater's Mustangs handed Lakeview its seventh straight loss this year, pounding the Chiefs for a 34-20 victory. It was the District 3-AAA opener for both teams. Sweetwater had a 4-1-1 record.

A reserve-sprinkled lineup ran up a halftime score of 27-0. Fullback James Parker and quarterback Ardis Gaither had first-half scoring honors, each with two touchdowns.

Little over a minute was gone after the half when Eddie Scott went 23 yards for a final marker for the Mustangs. Lakeview trailed 34 until a few seconds before the end of the third. Gene Woods dived over from the two, Philip Irby cashed in from the three for another TD, and Charles Preas intercepted his second pass of the night and went 55 yards to score.

Sweetwater had 21 first downs to Lakeview's 15. The Ponies gained 270 yards rushing, as compared to the Chief's 181. Sweetwater tossed 23 passes, completing eight of them for 89 yards. Lakeview connected with three of 12 attempts, for 29 yards.

Midshipmen Batter Quakers, 35 To 7

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26 (AP)—Tom Forrestal pitched four touchdown passes for Navy and the Midshipmen marked up a decisive 35-7 victory over outclassed Pennsylvania today.

It was Navy's fifth victory in six games and Penn's fifth straight defeat. The Navy used substitutions freely.

Keydets Triumph

ROANOKE, Va., Oct. 26 (AP)—Virginia Military Institute's never-say-die Keydets came from behind in the final minutes for the second week in a row and maintained their undefeated status with a 26-20 Southern Conference football victory over George Washington here today.

Quarterback Duke Johnston, something of a goat a few minutes before when he had a pass intercepted that set up the Colonials' go-ahead touchdown, streaked 47 yards on a brilliant run to the GW 7, then sneaked the last yard two plays later with the touchdown that gave VMI its triumph.

Tarheels Eke Out Win Over Deacons

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., Oct. 26 (AP)—Jack Cummins, a little used reserve sophomore quarterback came into his own today to spark North Carolina's football team to a 14-7 Atlantic Coast Conference victory over winless Wake Forest.

Cummins drew the starting assignment after Co-Capt. Dave Reed and two other players were dropped from the team yesterday for what Coach Jim Tatum called infractions of training rules. The 19-year-old Lower Merion, Pa., product filled the breach well, passing for one touchdown and setting up the other with his passes.

Each team had scored a second period touchdown before the Tarheels put over the clincher early in the third quarter. The winning touchdown came on a 90-yard 11-play drive that ended when fullback Giles Gaca plunged over from the 2.

Mountaineers Win 24th Loop Verdict

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Oct. 26 (AP)—West Virginia, led by quarterback Dick Longfellow, battered William and Mary 19-0 in a penalty-ridden Southern Conference football game today.

It marked the 24th consecutive conference victory for the Mountaineers as they closed out their league campaign. It also was the fifth straight year West Virginia had marched through league competition without a loss.

An estimated 20,000 watched WVU overcome a ragged first half to strike for two touchdowns in the third period to add to a 7-0 first quarter lead.

He Doesn't Like Cats

J. M. L. Brown's dog suspiciously eyes the big catfish Brown displays here. The big fish caused other eyes to bug, too, when Brown brought the catch home to Big Spring Thursday. He snagged the 23-pound cat on a trolling at Lake Colorado City. It was the 12th big fish he has hooked in the lake this year.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Even when Odessa gets its third high school (in about 1959), Ector County will still have one fewer high school than Howard County, although its population is considerably larger than that of this county.

The Duke of Edinburgh, husband of Queen Elizabeth, declined an invitation to kick out the first ball at the North Carolina-Maryland tussle last week. When Duke's films of the Blue Devil-Rice football games were developed, Wray Carlton's 68-yard touchdown sprint didn't show, although the extra point does. Duke coach Bill Murray telephoned Jess Neely for a peek at the Rice movies. "You don't have it, huh?" asked Neely. "By golly, we won the game, 6-1!"

Whether the average fan realizes it or not, Wayne Fields has become one of the truly great ball carriers in Big Spring High School football history — and he still has a year of eligibility remaining. Observers who have watched the two say Wayne runs harder than Abilene's Bill Sides (although he doesn't block as well). University of Kentucky birds are supposed to have turned in the complaint to the NCAA that resulted in Coach Phil Dickens' one-year suspension at Indiana University. Judging from Indiana's record this fall, I'd say it was the luckiest thing that ever happened to Dickens.

There never was a baseball city like Milwaukee. Connie Ryan, the former Texas manager, now a coach of the Braves, was given an air-conditioner for his car by a Milwaukee concern. In addition, free milk is delivered to the Ryan home every day during the diamond season, along with free beer.

When the Ryans send out their dry cleaning, it doesn't cost them a cent. And Mrs. Ryan was given $1,000 the past season for making guest appearances at various functions.

Sweetwater claims that Big Spring outweighed the Mustangs an average of 18 pounds per man in their game earlier in the season were laughed off here. If the truth were known, the Ponies probably had a decided edge in the avordupois department.

Watts Still At OU, Reader States

An incensed Breckenridge football fan writes this window to state it isn't true that Bennett Watts, the former Coahoma resident, has quit the University of Oklahoma grid squad.

The writer says Bennett, who starred at quarterback for Breckenridge a couple of years ago, is very happy at OU and has no intention of quitting.

Watts, according to my informant, made the 42-man OU traveling squad as a sophomore. Is quarterbacking the third team and playing some in every game. Only 2,271 paying customers turned out for the Kermit-Big Spring football game here last weekend.

The cash take amounted to $2,669.40.

Big Spring is going to have to recoup in its conference games or play to a smaller aggregate turnout than it did last year.

Delbert Shirey, the Lovington, N.M., freshman cager at HCJC, re-injured a knee he suffered in a broad jumping event in high school in a Jayhawk practice session recently and is having

Army Hangs On To Win, 20-12

CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va., Oct. 26 (AP)—Ninth-ranked Army hitched its offense to the flying feet of Bob Anderson and the passing arm of Dave Bourland in a supercharged fourth period here today and came from behind to edge astonishing Virginia, 20-12.

Virginia, a two-touchdown underdog in this battle before 25,000, led 12-6 and seemed well on its way toward one of the season's biggest upsets when the Black Knights finally got moving and put the Cavaliers to flight.

Anderson's irresistible rushes paced the assault as Army marched 94 yards for the tying touchdown just after the half chapter opened. Anderson took a 16-yard pass from Bourland for the score that tied the count and fullback Harry Walker kicked promptly untied it, giving Army a 13-12 lead.

After that the Knights still had to hold Virginia on their 9 before finally wrapping up the decision. An intercepted pass gave Army the ball on the Virginia 44 and seconds later, Bourland found Pete Dawkins with a 35-yard touchdown pass that put the game out of reach for the fiercely resisting Cavaliers.

Anderson's last-period touchdown was his second of the crisp autumn afternoon. The barreling Cadet halfback, a 200-pounder from Cocoa, Fla., went 15 yards for Army's first score in the second period.

Watts Still At OU, Reader States

An incensed Breckenridge football fan writes this window to state it isn't true that Bennett Watts, the former Coahoma resident, has quit the University of Oklahoma grid squad.

The writer says Bennett, who starred at quarterback for Breckenridge a couple of years ago, is very happy at OU and has no intention of quitting.

Watts, according to my informant, made the 42-man OU traveling squad as a sophomore. Is quarterbacking the third team and playing some in every game. Only 2,271 paying customers turned out for the Kermit-Big Spring football game here last weekend.

The cash take amounted to $2,669.40.

IPAA Meeting To Hear Discussion On Imports

DALLAS, Oct. 26 (AP)—About 1,500 independent oil operators from 36 states will be here Monday to open a two-day discussion of their industry's ailments. The Independent Petroleum Assn. of America was founded 28 years ago in a battle against foreign oil.

Capt. M. V. Carson Jr., administrator of President Eisenhower's program for voluntary oil import cutbacks, will share the speakers' platform this week with M. J. Rathbone, president of Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), one of the nation's largest oil importers.

While IPAA is the leader in the fight for lower oil imports, other problems facing the convention include declining domestic production, Department of Defense purchases of oil abroad and several industry matters that will be before Congress.

Natural gas legislation and renewal of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act are issues of particular interest to the independents.

IPAA has endorsed the Harris-O'Hara Gas Bill that would remove producers from utility-type controls administered by the Federal Power Commission. The bill received House committee approval this year but floor action was postponed. Russell Brown,

IPAA general counsel, said last week the bill "is an absolute must."

The fight against foreign oil ties directly with the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, which expires next June. In ordering the current voluntary cutback program July 27, President Eisenhower acted under a 1955 Trade Agreements Extension Act amendment which authorizes the President to take the necessary action to adjust the imports of any article when that importation threatens to impair the national security.

The defense amendment of 1955 was adopted as a substitute for a proposal that would have restricted oil imports to 10 per cent of domestic demand.

IPAA supported the 10 per cent quota proposal, contending that voluntary programs had been attempted in the past without success.

Nortex To Potential North Howard Well

The Nortex No. 1 Shafer, wildcat, 20 miles northeast of Big Spring, will probably take potential next week.

The well will produce from the Canyon and Clear Fork sections, and at the end of the week, operator tested without gauges on production.

Location of the well is 660 from south and east lines, 30-25, HATC Survey, and a mile west of the North Vincent field.

A new well in the Varel (San Andres) field is Russel Maguire the process, reports that tests show it to be effective if the well is hampered by productive water stringers, a water cone, water fingering to the well bore, or has been fractured or acidized into water, or has communication with a water table.

The new method is carried out by injection of a stable petroleum fluid into the bore hole. The selected fluid is treated with an unusual surfactant composition which creates a barrier to water entry. When fluid begins to migrate toward the well.

If water tries to displace the treating fluid when fluid begins to migrate toward the well, a water-in-oil emulsion is formed, thereby blocking the flow of water permanently. Engineers claim that by stopping the entry of water into a bore hole, production of oil is increased in a heavy majority of cases. It even cuts down separation and salt water disposal problems.

New Process Said To Shut Off Water Outside Of Pay

In arid West Texas not very many people will go on record as trying to stop water production, but many citizens may be paying for that unearned privilege in the future.

The Western Company, with headquarters in Midland, has introduced a new service to the oil industry, which involves the stopping of water production (It will be rendered under the trade name, Selective Water-Seal, said H. E. Chiles Jr., president.)

The service is designed to selectively seal off water production in a well, without interfering with the oil production, according to Western research engineers.

The company claims its to be highly effective in reservoirs with intergranular and intercrystalline porosities when water is produced separately from the oil. It will not work when water and oil are coming from the same zone.

Dr. W. E. Brown, company research director, and inventor of No. 2-A Martin. On 24-hour potential, it pumped 147.04 barrels of 28-degree oil, free of water. The well is 330 from north and west lines, 43-33-2n, T&P Survey.

Total depth is 3,187 feet, and 5 1/2-inch string is set two feet off the bottom. Production is reached at 3,150, and perforation interval is 3,160-70 feet.

In the Howard-Glasscock field, Dorland No. 13-A W. R. Settles completed for a daily potential of 133 barrels of 31-degree oil. It is 11 miles southeast of Big Spring, 1,650 from south and 940 from west lines, 135-29, W&N Survey.

The hole extends to 2,550 feet, and oil string is set on the bottom of the hole. Top of the pay section is 2,422 feet, and perforations extend from 2,462-78 and 2,504-34 feet.

Turner No. 4 Edwards drilled at 2,282 feet at the end of the week. It is in the Snyder field, 320 feet from north and 2,310 from east lines, 32-30-1s, T&P Survey, and seven miles southeast of Coahoma.

Firemen Answer 2 Calls Saturday

Firemen answered two calls Saturday, their first fires in 11 days.

Until Saturday, the department had not received a call since Oct. 15.

Saturday, firemen from the 18th and Main sub station went to Toby's Drive-In at 18th and Gregg where an electric motor caused a small fire. The building was not hurt, but the motor received a small amount of damage.

Northside sub station firemen went to a residence behind Hull & Phillips Grocery, 611 Lamesa, owned by Jim Mitchell. A chair had been set too close to a stove and it caught fire. The living room suite was heavily damaged, and the walls are scorched, firemen reported.

Operator drilled below 1,361 feet in lime and shale at the WWH No. 1 Foster in Sterling County. The wildcat will test to 1,800 feet. Location is 1,650 feet from north and 330 from west lines, 8-11, SPRR Survey, seven miles southeast of Sterling City, and three miles north of the Crandall field.

Willis Armstrong of Washington, State Department international resources officer, will speak

Tests Underway In Dawson Co. Wildcat Pair

Two wildcats in Dawson County were taking drillstem tests at the end of the week at different levels.

Eight and a half miles northwest of Lamesa, Reagan-Lanphere No. 1 Barrett was bottomed at 12,365 feet in the Ellenburger and taking a drillstem test. It is contracted for a 12,600-foot bottom. Location of the wildcat is 660 from south and west lines, 44-M, EL&RR Survey, on a 744-acre tract.

The other drillstem test was under way at the Texas Co. No. 1 B. E. Miller, four miles southwest of Lamesa. It was testing the Pennsylvanian at a depth of 10,328 feet.

It is staked 1,979 feet from south and 660 from east lines, 17-36-5n, T&P Survey. A drillstem test in the Pennsylvanian earlier this week at 10,900 feet failed to reveal any oil.

Operator started to spud the Texas Crude & B. L. McFarland No. 1-24 M. G. Riggan at the end of the week. The new wildcat is slated for a 9,000-foot bottom. It is on a 1,000-acre spread, 660 feet from north and 220 from west lines, 24-34-5n, T&P Survey, and about 12 miles southeast of Lamesa.

Cosden Cores Prospector

Cosden Petroleum Corp. took a core at 9,295 feet at a wildcat in Wyoming at the end of the week.

It is Cosden-T&P No. 1 University, in Corbin County, Wyo. Operator is looking for Devonian production to 10,000 feet.

In Andrews County, Cosden No. 2-R University completed from the San Andres formation for a daily potential of 150 barrels of oil and 15 barrels of oil through a half-inch choke. Total depth is 4,415 feet.

Cosden No. 1-AA Cowden, a 6,000-foot wildcat in Odessa, deepened to 4,067 feet in lime Saturday. It is 14 miles northeast of Goldsmith, 860 from north and 550 from east lines, 9-45-2n, T&P Survey.

In Gaines County, Col-Tex No. 1 Jones Ranch drilled at 10,995 feet in lime. Cosden No. 1-B Stoker, a Garza project, pumped back load oil. It is in the Rocker A field, in the south part of the county.

Oil Conference

AUSTIN, Oct. 26 (AP)—International implications of oil will be analyzed here Monday at a University of Texas Conference.

Willis Armstrong of Washington, State Department international resources officer, will speak

WILDCATS STAKED IN THREE COUNTIES OF WEST TEXAS

Wildcats have been staked in three counties for immediate drilling.

Gulf Oil Corp. staked the No. 1 Jack Frost in Reeves County as a 5,700-foot test. It is 24 miles southeast of Pecos, 660 feet from south and east lines, 15-C3, PSL Survey.

A new test in Cochran County is Herman Brown No. 1 George E. Benson. It is 660 feet from south and west lines, Labor 88, League 136, Armstrong CSL Survey, and 12 miles southwest of Morton. Drilling depth is 5,000 feet.

In Gaines County, Grover, MacCurdy & Knox No. 1 Bayless is located 10 miles east of Seminole. Location is 660 feet from south and west lines, 48-G, GST Survey. Operator will drill to 4,500 feet.

Gas Control Exemption Bill Due To Touch Off Old Fight

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Another round in the old fight over federal regulation of natural gas producers appears in prospect for early next year.

Indications are that an exempting bill — which supports those not to bring to a House vote this year — will be called up early in the next session. When that happens, the bitter struggle will be touched off all over again.

Legislation to exclude natural gas producers from utility-type regulation by the government twice has met with presidential vetoes after getting through Congress by narrow votes. President Truman vetoed one such bill; President Eisenhower vetoed the second. This time supporters hope they can get a bill through Congress in a form acceptable to Eisenhower.

One House leader said this week he is certain the legislation will come before the House for a vote in the next session.

Rep. Albert (D-Okla.), Democrat, also said he thought the bill will be passed by the House and sent to the Senate.

Similar views have been voiced by other oil-state congressmen.

House members opposed to the legislation don't agree. Several have predicted the bill's defeat in the House, at least in its present form.

Import Topic May Be Added

AUSTIN, Oct. 26 (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel is studying the possibility of asking the special Legislature to consider some type of expression on "excessive" oil imports.

The governor said the subject is becoming increasingly important to the economy of Texas.

"Some areas of the state have been 'hit badly,'" Daniel said. "Our economy has been damaged by excessive oil imports."

He said he has not decided precisely what he might recommend. He told a news conference he will say at the end of the coming week what he will do about submitting additional topics for legislation when he sees what progress has been made on the subjects already submitted.

Several proposals aimed at excessive oil imports are ready for introduction. Resolutions on the subject have been introduced.

Glasscock Test Is Making Hole

Fair & Williamson deepened the No. 1 S. C. Currie in Glasscock County to 8,578 feet in lime and shale at the end of the week.

The venture is seeking production in the Wolfcamp in the Carter field. Drillsite is 660 from north and east lines, 26-34-3s, T&P Survey. It is five miles north of Garden City and a mile southwest of the Shell No. 1 Currie, Wolfcamp discovery in the field.

Operators Ponder Over Martin Test

Operator waited on orders this weekend to decide whether to deepen or set casing at the Husky-Panotech No.-1 Breedlove, wildcat in Martin County.

The venture, 10 miles southwest of Patricia, has found large quantities of oil in the Devonian and is currently bottomed at 12,948 feet. On the last drillstem test in the section, operator tested from 12,018-48 feet, with top open three hours, employing a 2,100-foot water blanket. It recovered water blanket heavily oil cut and then reversed out 8,885 feet of free oil, which tested 41.4 degrees.

It recovered 30 feet of oil and gas-cut mud below the sub.

Earlier, operator found oil on all tests below 11,870 feet.

The well is in the northwest corner of the county, 660 feet from south and west lines, tract 92, League 258, Briscoe CSL Survey. It is about a mile north and slightly west of the Breedlove field. The project was listed as the Husky-Panotech No. 1 Maboe until last week.

Completion Pace Lagging

AUSTIN, Oct. 26 (AP)—Wildcat operators brought in seven oil wells this week but the year total still lags.

A total of 432 wells have been drilled on unproven land while 483 were completed at this date a year ago. Two wildcat gas wells brought the year total to 90 compared to 112.

The Railroad Commission said today 315 oil wells were completed during this period. The year total was 13,029 compared to 13,605.

Wells plugged totaled 183 for the week, 9,087 for the year and 9,691 for last year.

The commission reported the daily oil allowable increased from 2,955,567 barrels a week ago to 2,971,371 today, an increase of 15,804.

Road Cost Report Due

A report on the probable cost of right of way needed for the FM 700 east extension highway will probably be made at the meeting of the Howard County Commissioner's court Monday.

Last week, the state highway commission engineer told the commissioners the proposed road must follow the route recently staked out by survey crews. This route is along the north side of the ravine. The county had suggested an alternate route on the south side of the creek would greatly lessen the cost of acquiring right of way.

The county has pledged it will provide all needed right of way for the new road.

R. H. Weaver, county judge, was instructed by the commissioners to contact all landowners through whose property the proposed road would pass and report to the court on what the prospects were as to the total cost for the land needed.

3-Way Accident Near High School

Three cars were involved in an accident near the Senior High School Friday.

Cars driven by Julian Kelley, 805 E. 15th; Jacqueline Hines, 1602 Johnson, and Alvin Luce were involved. The car driven by Luce was stopped at the time of the accident, police officers reported.

The collision occurred in the 500 block of 11th Place.

Also Friday, Larry Greenfield, Coahoma, and Reuben Moore, 1505 W. 2nd, were involved in a collision at Purdue and Birdwell.

Saturday morning, Ray O'Brien, Sterling City Rt., and Richard Kullper, Webb AFB, were in an accident at 4th and Lancaster.

Born in 1909 at Atwell, he attended school at Dothan and Putnam, played football and basketball in high school and won several track medals. In 1928 at Breckenridge he was married to the former Maurine (Sally) Kile of Putnam and they now make their home at 205 Jefferson.

A sports lover, Mr. Ramsey played third base and pitcher for four years with a club at Cisco. He now spends his leisure hunting, fishing and playing golf.

Active Season Ahead For Theatre Groups

DO YOU LOOK LIKE HER? T-Sgt. Dewey Magee and Patsy Morton look over the script for "Overtones," a one-act play, which the Civic Theatre Group will place in production in the future. The thing that is holding up practice is that two pairs of "look-alikes" are needed—two to act as the subconscious minds of two other women who are carrying on a conversation. Since the director, John Austin, has been unable to find "matching pairs," he may change the set-up and use opposites for the two who tell the secret thoughts of the conversationalists. Sgt. Magee is president of the group.

WHAT'S GOING ON HERE? seems to be the question in the mind of Kay Chadd, at left in photo above; it might well be that the thought is uppermost in the thinking of Bill Hensley, too! Janette Heflin, cast as the feminine lead in "Here We Come Gathering," places Bill, an old acquaintance, in such a compromising pose to shock her mother-in-law, portrayed by Miss Chadd. She has evidently succeeded. The play is in practice now at the high school and will be presented on Nov. 21 and 22. The three-act comedy was written by Phillip King and Anthony Armstrong and tells the story of how a sensible wife dealt with a bossy mother-in-law.

EXTRA TRAINING is gained by speech students at Howard County Junior College, when they double as painters to prepare props and sets for plays which the department presents. This group was caught at work on the set for "See How They Run," a three-act comedy to be given at the college Monday and Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. Written by Phillip King, the play deals with the adventures of a U.S. Air Force sergeant stationed in England. In the photo above, wielders of brush and roller are, from left to right, Pat Morren, George Colvin, Charles Worley, Truman Tate and Larry Lockett.

IF MEN PLAYED CARDS LIKE WOMEN DO is a one-act play now in production by the members of the Civic Theatre Group. According to the cast, there might be nail-filing, as is being done by Lt. Jim Hennigar, (left, in photo at left); instead of nose powdering, there would be shaving, according to A-1C. Norman Sant, and S-Sgt. Robert Uffin thinks there would be spying on his cards by T-Sgt. Bob Martinez. The group is preparing several amusing one-act plays to be given with a minimum of props, which makes presentation for various organizations easy.

A FAMILY AFFAIR is the reading of lines for the play, "The Dear Departed," which is the next three-act production of the Civic Theatre Group. In photo at right, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rosene, 1309 Sycamore, practice their lines with their daughter, Dona Lou, who will portray Victoria Stater in the play. Mrs. Rosene will take the part of Mrs. Jordan and her husband is working on the role of Grandpa. No date has been set for presentation of the play.

MRS. LUTHER STARK
... and some of her handwork

Forsan Woman Gathers Seeds But They Are Not Seeds For Sowing

By LUCILLE PICKLE
If a West Texas wind ever hits the nucleus of the hobby pursued by Mrs. Luther Stark there will be a great conglomeration of vegetation somewhere.

In the various pictures completed and framed, Mrs. Stark has used a variety of seeds including cushaw, corn, maize, pepper, cedar, watermelon, sunflower, grape, cantaloupe, prairie grass, split peas, both yellow and green, sweet sudan, mimosa and tame meek.

Beverly Russell Is Complimented

ACKERLY — Beverly Russell whose marriage to Dee Phillips of Lamesa is to be Saturday evening, was honored with a miscellaneous shower in the home of Mrs. Lester Brown, recently.

Always on the lookout for something different to use, Mrs. Stark recently saw the lacy framework of a prickly pear leaf in a pasture. As she couldn't salvage it, she got a green one and boiled it until the substance was easily removed. She then dried the remains and has used it in making a most attractive dry arrangement.

Other hostesses were Mrs. W. M. Dossier, Mrs. Gaston Martin, Mrs. Buster Pitts, Mrs. Tommie Gregg, Mrs. George Rhea, Mrs. Alfred Herring, Mrs. Pat Gaskins, Mrs. Joe Lemon, Mrs. Leonard Coleman, Mrs. Carrie Williams, and Mrs. Darrell Smith.

Mrs. Stark says she learned the patience she displays in her new hobby when she trained for nursing in the hospitals there.

When she completes the work of arranging, a covering of nylon net is put over the seed to protect them. The frames are made of popsicle sticks graduated three deep. These she buys from a factory. She got the idea for the frames from teaching basketmaking with the sticks in vacation Bible school. She learned to weave the basket for her dry arrangement at the Forsan Home Demonstration Club.

Her oldest son is Capt. Wylie Imboden, who with his wife and two sons, lives in Tokyo, Japan. They are expected to return to the states in July. The Starks' son, Sp. 2 Billy Joe Stark, is with Army ordnance in Mainz, Germany. He and his wife have two daughters. The family expects to be home for Christmas. Both sons are career Army men.

SHAPELESS CASE

Seaming, Darts Make Pleasant Compromise

From all reports, the shapeless case is here to stay, but leave it to Harvey Berin to present the compromise that gives a woman's figure the feminine definition she prefers and still keep her at the top of the fashion ladder.

This is accomplished by using material on the bias for both the front and back, with clever front bodice darts and seaming to emphasize, rather than erase, contours.

A two-piece dress that is easy to make, it has a double collar and a grosgrain ribbon tie. Choose a dress weight wool, faille, worsteds, linen, cotton or any fabric with a certain amount of body. For the top collar, use a contrast such as linen, pique, faille, velvet or satin.

From this chart select the one size best for you:

Size	Waist	Neck of neck to waist
10	34	14 1/2
12	36	15
14	38	15 1/2
16	40	16
18	42	16 1/2
20	44	17
22	46	17 1/2
24	48	18
26	50	18 1/2
28	52	19
30	54	19 1/2

Size 12 requires 4 1/2 yards of 39-inch material for two-piece dress.

Here... at last! The most significant development in jewelry design since the introduction of the 58-facet diamond. We've taken our cue from the stars and created a diamond series as brilliant as the galaxies that inspired it! Secondary diamonds are mounted beneath larger diamonds to baptize them with brilliance through prismatic light reflection. So effective is the new process that the center diamond reflects almost twice the usual amount of light. A 30-day trial will convince you!

Claudia Nichols, Delano D. Shaw Take Vows In Baptist Church

In a ceremony performed Saturday evening at Phillips Memorial Baptist Church, Claudia Marie Nichols became the bride of Delano Dee Shaw of Knott. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Nichols, 1019 Nolan. Shaw is the son of Mrs. Angela Shaw and the late W. S. Shaw of Knott. The Rev. D. R. Philleary read the double ring service. The bridal party stood before a double column archway centered with white wedding bells. On either side were baskets of gladioli and fern. The arch was covered with greenery and flowers. White candles burned in the candelabra on each side of the arch and atop the columns. Jay W. Turney, soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Doyle Turney at the piano, sang "Because," and "I Love You Truly."

After repeating the wedding vows, the couple knelt on a white satin-covered prie dieu for the prayer. Before leaving the altar, the bride quoted from Ruth 1:16 and the bridegroom responded with Ruth 1:17 after which Mr. Turney sang, "Whither Thou Goest."

BRIDAL GOWN
The bride's father accompanied her to the altar and gave her in marriage. She was dressed in a gown of white silk Chantilly lace designed with a molded bodice. The tulle yoke and mandarin neckline were edged with tiny points of the lace. Small lace covered buttons extended down the back. The bouffant waist length skirt ended in points above a full flounce of tulle and was worn over an underskirt of tiers of tulle over satin. Seed pearls centered each point of lace.

The fingertip length veil of silk illusion was gathered onto a halo of gathered tulle and seed pearls. The bride's bouquet was made of three gardenias centered with an orchid and tied with streamers of ribbon and feathered chrysanthemums. Following tradition, the bride wore a blue garter made by her grandmother, Mrs. T. C. Duke of Fort Worth; a pearl brooch belonging to her aunt, Mrs. Bill Allen of Fort Worth was borrowed and old; her wedding ensemble was new, and the penny in her shoe bore the year of her birth.

Dresses of the feminine attendants were of blue silk taffeta featuring full skirts of ballerina length and boat necklines. Velvet cummerbunds held the waistline and each attendant carried a nosegay of pink carnations.

Mrs. Jimmie Lee Sundry was her sister's matron of honor and Patsy Bristow was the maid of honor. Mrs. Bill Allen and Mrs. James E. Rasco were other bridal attendants. Joyce Kennedy was the candle lighter and was dressed identically to the other attendants with a pink dress and blue flowers. Jerry Carl of Sanderson, the flower girl, wore pink taffeta with pink lace headband and carried blue carnations and blue rose petals. G. B. Sanderson was the best man. Groomsmen were triplet brothers of the bridegroom, Franklin Dee and Roosevelt Dee Shaw, and Charles Ray Blake. Ushers were Thomas Ellsworth Allen and Jimmy Lee Sundry. Johnny Peugh was the ringbearer.

The couple left, following the reception, for a wedding trip to Monterrey, Mexico. The bride wore a red wool suit with black fur collar and black accessories. Her flower was the orchid from her bridal bouquet. They will make their home in Big Spring.

For the wedding, Mrs. Nichols wore a blue velvet dress with white and blue accessories. Mrs. Shaw wore grey chiffon crepe and her accessories were black.

The home of the bride's parents was the scene of the reception following the wedding. In the receiving line with the bride couple were Mr. and Mrs. Nichols and Mrs. Shaw.

The maple table was covered with a cloth of handmade lace. The attendants' bouquets and white gladioli formed the centerpiece. Appointments were of silver and crystal.

The bride's cake was decorated with tiny white doves and topped with a miniature bridal couple. Mrs. Franklin Shaw registered the guests. Mrs. C. R. Blake and Beverly Shockley served. Other members of the houseparty were Mrs. Robert Kirby, Mrs. Jake Spalding, Mrs. Morris Molpus, Mrs. Arnold Lloyd and Ruth Allen.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Allen, Mrs. T. C. Duke and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Duke of Fort Worth and Mr. and Mrs. Tillman of Lubbock.

'ROUND TOWN With Lucille Pickle

RUTH ANN ABAT, who is a sophomore journalism major at Texas Woman's University in Denton recently won the Story of the Week contest sponsored by the university's chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalism fraternity. The university is the former Texas State College for Women. Miss Abat is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Abat.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES DICKENS have packed up their three little Dickenses, Jimmy, Sherry and Steve, and gone back home to Burnet. Mrs. Dickens and the children came here to stay with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hooper, while Mr. Dickens and some friends from Burnet went hunting in Colorado. While they were gone Steve took the flu, added a case of tonsillitis and landed in the hospital. The Colorado weather was so bad the hunters gave up the hunt after killing a large and a small deer. Now everyone is back home.

MR. AND MRS. CARROL JONES planned to attend the game in College Station Saturday and will later visit in Cleburne before going back to their home in Tulsa, Okla. They have been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Jones.

MR. AND MRS. BOONE HORNE will return from College Station today after spending the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Dickie Milam.

CHARLES EDDIE BROWN JR., 2113 W. Highway 80 is probably only one of hundreds having a battle with flu but he seems to be battling longer. He is beginning to show some improvement after being in bed for more than a week.

MRS. CLAUDE MILLER and ED FISHER are on a buying trip to Dallas.

Are you wondering what the JABBERWOCK let it can be a lot of fun and if it is successful the proceeds can do a lot of good. Here is what the plan is. The Junior Woman's Forum is sponsoring the program. It is a short variety show that would be composed of 15 acts, none of which would be longer than 10 minutes. MRS. C. W. SHOUSE, who is a member of the forum, saw a Jabberwock given in a Kansas town and thought it would be fun in Big Spring, Texas. The clubs invited to enter skits, etc., don't necessarily have to produce the skits themselves but may sponsor anyone whom they believe capable of putting on a reasonably good show. The forum has as one of its projects to aid needy children in elementary schools. The money they hope to make on this show is to be used for a good cause. If your club hasn't already made plans to enter the JABBERWOCK get an act going and be part of the fun on Nov. 23 at HCJC.

MRS. ROY MORAN comes up with an idea for presenting favors at a children's party. It has its disadvantages in the fact that the make believe cake can't be eaten, but it is a novel idea. It's called a favor cake and the idea is that more favors can be put into it than one that is baked.

Use a deep glass baking dish and put a band of gaily colored paper around it. Tie small amusing trinkets with pieces of string or ribbon. Fill the dish with flour and press the trinkets into it. Smooth off the top and sprinkle with nut meats. When the time for the favors come around have each little guest pull out his own slice of cake. Surprise! No cake, but a present!

Attending the FHA district meeting in Aspermont Saturday were JEAN FUQUA and NITA JONES, voting delegates, and PAT JOHNSON and JANIE PHILLIPS, both of whom ran for district and area offices. Taking part in a safety skit, "Haunted House" were Linda Hearn, Barbara Jo Moelling, Judy Reynolds, Andre Sledge, Sue the chairman of the forum's ways and means committee, saw the idea successfully worked out in Baxter Springs, Kan., and believes it can work successfully in Brown, Beverly Holden, Mary Ella Bain, Gloria Coker, Patsy Coe, Barbara Dunnam, Lana Wren, Sue Arrick, Joy Appleton, Sudie Hart, Judy Purdue, Christine Snow and Loretta Bennett.

Accompanying the group were their sponsors, Edna McGregor and Mrs. Angela Boren.

Former Abilene Family Is Making Home Here

He is a native of Fort Worth where he attended and was graduated from Texas Christian University, completing his service time in the Navy, he entered the university where he met his future wife.

Mrs. Brown was reared on a ranch near Wichita Falls and has a fondness for horseback riding but, unfortunately, has no horse. She has a degree from TCU with

After A Shopping Spree

Women are the same the world over, it seems. The first thing these pretty girls did when they arrived in Big Spring from Manila, was to go shopping. They found the shops a treasure house of enticing articles, with the prices lower than they had been accustomed to, they said. Here they are in their apartment and looking over their many purchases. At left is Romualde Aberilla; in the center is Esther Dagalea and at right is Romualde's sister, Rosemary. The girls are starting in this week as nurses at the Big Spring Hospital; they have been working in hospitals in the Philippines.

Coin Machines Are Fascination For Three Nurses From Manila

By ANNE LeFEVER
There are at least three reasons at the Big Spring Hospital why patients will probably enjoy being ill—they are Romualde and Rosemary Aberilla and Esther Dagalea.

The three vivacious Filipina girls arrived in Big Spring Wednesday after a trip from Manila and they will work as nurses in the local hospital.

The flight from Manila to Big Spring took four days, "but we lost a day at the international date line," Romualde reminded her companions.

There's a story connected to their adventure in coming to the States. Seems that one day, Esther was looking through a medical journal and noticed a want ad for nurses. She, being a venture some lass, answered the notice and prevailed upon her two friends to do the same.

The girls could have come over under the exchange of nurses, but they would have had a limited time to remain in this country. As it is, it took a little longer for them to get here, but they feel the delay is worth it.

Romualde, the oldest of the three, is the spokesman for the group, and a good one she is, too. All have studied English since they were in the first grade at school, and their speech, with a delightful accent, is a pleasure to listen to.

"People smile when they hear us talk because we sound odd," one of them said, and Romualde told of the occasion on the trip when she wanted to ask for information. "I had to say the words twice before I could start talking—I was so excited," she explained.

Among the wonders of their new home are the coin machines—"where you put in a coin and don't know what will come out"—according to the trio of lovely brunettes.

Again the pioneer, Esther decided to buy some stamps from a machine as she wanted to mail some cards "to the folks back home," after they had reached El Paso. That was one time her love of adventure left her, and "I had to bring the cards all the way to Big Spring," she said, "because I was afraid of the machine."

A question about any boy friends left in Manila brought gales of laughter from the girls and blushes to their lovely olive complexions.

Romualde is the only one who remembers about World War II, but she was old enough that she helped bring water when the family hid in the hills during the Jap invasion. She also helped her mother with the sick and wounded, and she feels that the experiences influenced her decision to make nursing her life's work.

She has had four years nursing experience in the Children's Hospital in Manila, and the other two have each had two years. Esther was in Zamboanga General Hospital, where all three received their training, and Rosemary served in St. Joseph's Hospital in Manila.

The newcomers have not had time to be homesick for their native land, as they have been busy every minute since their arrival, but, according to Rosemary, "some day there will be a terrible feeling of homesickness."

Indulging in one of the main pastimes of most women, the charming girls went shopping on their first morning in Big Spring. Much to their delight, they found the prices much lower than those in Manila; the dollar is equivalent to two pesos, they remarked.

As for food—they have met some new friends in our dishes—and one to which they are accustomed, corn on the cob. In answer to an inquiry about having black-eyed peas, the girls said they had eaten peas that day for lunch, but there were no spots on them.

Modern Forum Hears Discussion Of Banking

Banking was discussed for members of the Modern Woman's Forum Friday afternoon when the group met in the home of Mrs. A. B. Wade.

Mrs. T. G. Adams introduced Larson Lloyd, the guest speaker, and he told of the history of the profession, saying that there are about 14,000 banks in the United States.

The speaker told the group that the cost of handling a check is about eight cents, while to handle a deposit costs about 13 cents. He described the various steps taken in processing the checks and deposits.

A question and answer period followed the discussion.

The club members voted to assist the Junior Woman's Forum with the Jabberwock, which will be presented Nov. 23. Also discussed was the orientation course to be given at the Big Spring State Hospital Nov. 4-5. Volunteers who will attend include Mrs. Edd

Carpenter, Mrs. W. A. Laswell, Mrs. Adams, Mrs. J. P. Dodge, Mrs. J. D. Leonard, Mrs. M. A. Cook, Mrs. Fred Whitaker and Mrs. C. W. Farmer. Fourteen attended the meeting with four guests, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd, Mrs. C. E. Pruett and Mrs. Clint Jenkins. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Adams, when the study will be on mental health.

Library Group To Meet Here During This Week

Preparations are being made for the entertainment of 100 librarians and their assistants from scores of more West Texas cities on Nov. 2 when the Seventh Annual Meeting of the Texas Library Association, District 3, will convene in Big Spring.

J. P. Vagt, librarian at Howard County Junior College is chairman of the District 3 organization. The district includes all libraries in an area bounded on the north by Lubbock and Lamesa; on the east by Abilene; west by Midland and on the south by San Angelo.

Prime purpose of the meeting here is to hear a detailed report from Mrs. Bess Ann Motley, director of the Texas Rural Library Service, on the plans the state has for implementing the library service act.

Mrs. Motley will be the principal speaker at the business meeting of the group in the Settles Hotel.

All meeting activities at the morning session will be at the hotel. Registration opens at 9 a.m. The first general session will be at 10 a.m. in the ball room at the hotel.

Address of welcome will be delivered by G. W. Dabney, mayor, following the invocation by Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of the Howard County Junior College.

Vagt will preside at the business meeting. A special musical interlude will feature Ira Shantz and Jack Hendrix, music department of HCJC.

A luncheon will follow Mrs. Motley's address.

The afternoon activities will include "open house" celebrations in all of the libraries in the city. These will include the Howard County Free Library; the HCJC Library; the VA Hospital Library; the junior and senior high school libraries and the Webb Air Force Base Library.

Big Spring librarians will be hosts to the visiting delegates and show them through the libraries. On this assignment are Mrs.

Opal McDaniel, Howard County Library; Ruth Beasley, Big Spring High School, and Janice Harris, junior high school librarians; J. P. Vagt, HCJC librarian; Helen Coffin, WAFB librarian and Clara McLean librarian at the VA Administration Hospital.

Libraries will be closed in the forenoon on Nov. 2 to enable the librarians and their aides to attend the business meeting at the Settles Hotel. They will reopen at 2 p.m. but will not be available to the public—the afternoon opening is solely for the convenience of the visiting librarians.

Monahans Dunes May Hold Secrets Of 15,000 Years

LUBBOCK, Oct. 26—Texas Tech today announced plans to gather data that should pave the way for long-range weather forecasts in the Southwest.

Dr. Fred Wendorf, Tech anthropologist, will head a team of 10 scientific specialists that will gather archaeological information on Southwestern climate for the past 15,000 years.

The National Science Foundation has provided $15,500 for the first year of the study.

"Our present weather records go back slightly more than 100 years," Wendorf explained. "That's not enough to give an accurate picture of the past Southwestern climate."

"Only when we can estimate what has happened weather-wise in this section through at least the past 150 centuries can we gain the proper perspective for long range forecasts," he continued.

"We don't really know yet what our climate is like or how it may have changed over the centuries. If we can estimate this accurately, weather experts will have something to go on in projecting climatic changes and trends."

Wendorf said he thinks important chapters to the story of Southwestern weather may lie in an unusual set of lake beds in the Monahans dunes—a strip of sands about 30 miles wide and 100 miles long—west of Odessa.

No rivers drain into the lake beds, only waters from the surrounding flat country. Consequently, Wendorf explained, waters of the centuries have drained into the lakes, carrying with them identiable pieces of the vegetation, fossils and soils of the area.

Because no rivers could have brought in foreign matter to cloud the archaeological picture of the section, the history of its climate should be awaiting the scientists, Wendorf declared.

In all, the researchers will collect information from five or six lake beds and 25 or 30 other archaeological "traps" in the dunes area, Wendorf said.

Wendorf said he hopes that initial field work will be done by January and that the initial report will be made by September.

It's Cold Inside

Charles A. Kennedy, left, gives Doyle Thomas of T&T Supply Co. some pointers on operation of T&T's new vacuum reservoir for liquid oxygen. The device, just put into operation, keeps oxygen in the liquid state under a temperature of 300 degrees below zero and a pressure of 65 pounds per square inch. The only other such reservoir in operation is at Sioux Falls, S. D.

Giant Thermos Has Super-Cold Liquid

A new vacuum storage plant, in which liquid oxygen is kept at a temperature of about 300 degrees below zero (Fahrenheit), has been put in service by T&T Supply, 1308 E. 3rd.

The plant is the second of its kind to be put in operation in the United States and the first in Texas. A similar installation is under construction at Wichita, Kan.

The equipment for the Big Spring plant was secured from Linde Air Products Co. which supplies the liquid oxygen from a plant situated at Odessa. Here to help T&T officials put the unit in operation was Charles A. Kennedy, superintendent of the Odessa plant.

Doyle Thomas, president of T&T, said the equipment will provide vast savings in transportation as well as simplify operations of the local firm which distributes welding supplies and oxygen for all purposes, including use in hospitals.

ENDS LONG HAULS

In the past, T&T has had to haul its heavy steel oxygen cylinders to Odessa to have them filled with oxygen.

With the new equipment, the liquid oxygen will be brought here by tank truck for storage in the vacuum storage tank. The unit will hold about 150,000 cubic feet of oxygen—enough to fill about 600 standard oxygen cylinders.

A vacuum storage unit works just like a huge thermos bottle, Kennedy explained. An interior tank which holds the liquid oxygen at the tremendously cold temperature is insulated from the outside by a vacuum space which separates it from an outside shell.

The low temperature plus pressure of about 65 pounds per square inch keeps the oxygen in a liquid state.

From the reservoir, the oxygen is piped to a nearby charging rack where it is placed in cylinders for distribution.

Although most of the oxygen leaves the local plant in gaseous form, T&T is equipped with thermos-type cylinders in which liquid oxygen can be distributed. T&T serves an area extending westward to Terminal, eastward to the edge of Abilene, north to Lubbock County and south and east to the Winters-Balling area.

MANY USES

Thomas said the oxygen is shipped out of here for industrial and medical uses as well as for use in smaller shops.

Transfer of oxygen from the storage tank to cylinders prior to distribution involves a large amount of complex equipment. Kennedy pointed out that a vacuum first must be created in each cylinder to avoid contamination of the pure oxygen.

Then, even the vacuum is flushed with a charge of oxygen. Only after every possibility of contamination has been eliminated is the cylinder charged with the proper amount of compressed oxygen.

Thomas said that one tank of the liquid oxygen will supply his operations for about a week.

At the Odessa plant of Linde Air Products, oxygen and other gases are taken from the natural atmosphere, Kennedy said. This is accomplished by compressing air under sufficiently low temperature to transform it into a liquid.

FRACTIONATION

The liquid air is then "fractionated" with oxygen and the other components being drawn off individually as pressure and temperature are adjusted to the point that each of the gases "boils off."

The same principle is used in the distillation of crude oil.

Each of the gases of the air, including even such rare elements as argon and neon, are distributed commercially, Kennedy said.

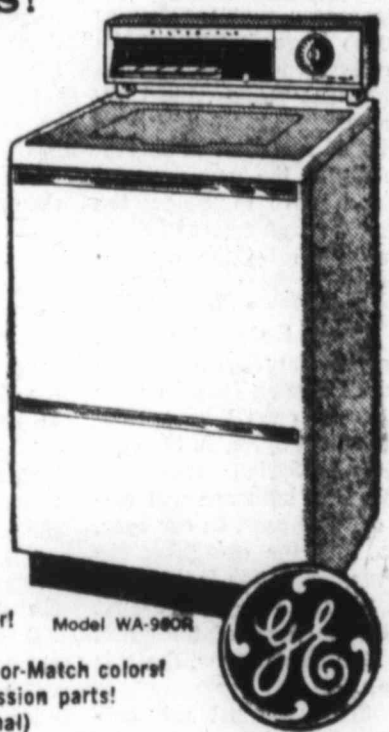

Oxygen storage capacity at the Odessa plant is 1.5 million cubic feet, according to the superintendent.

First of the vacuum storage tanks developed by Linde is in operation at Sioux Falls, S. D. The second was opened here and the third is now being installed at Wichita, Kan.

A Bible Thought For Today

The prayer of faith shall save the sick and the Lord shall raise him up. (James 5:15)

Something For People Who Care

There is a school of thought that holds that not many people read the editorials. Maybe so, maybe not (though there are more than most suspect) but we figure that the people who do read the editorials are the ones we want to talk to about our United Fund.

People who read editorials generally are people who care about what goes on around them. The fact that they are serious minded enough to read comment on local, state, national and international affairs is evidence of their concern about the common weal.

It is to these people that we address a special appeal to help put the United Fund over during this last week of October. Chances are most of them have given, but for those who haven't, we hope they will mail a generous check to the United Fund or simply call the office and ask that it be picked up.

The appeal even more is for conscientious people to offer their services—or to persevere if they already have—in order that all possible contacts will be made quickly and earnestly.

We simply cannot afford to fall short on the United Fund—too much depends upon it.

The job will have to be done by those who care—by people like you.

Don't Be A Blind Voter

Within little more than a week, voters of Texas will be called upon to register judgment on three proposed amendments to the state constitution.

There are nine others which will not be up for a referendum until the general election in 1958.

Because these represent proposals to alter the basic law of the state, voters would be well advised to go to the polls and register their opinions.

But this is not enough. Voting blindly can be even more dangerous than not voting at all. What every voter owes to himself and to his state is enough time and effort to acquaint himself or herself with the proposals up for a decision Nov. 5, and then to register his or her considered verdict.

The first of the proposed amendments would deal with the establishment of a retirement, disability and death pension fund for officers and employees of the state.

The second would raise the constitutional limitation for welfare purposes from $42 million to a new maximum of $47 million annually.

The third would provide for the issuance of general obligation bonds up to $200 million to establish a state loan fund for water conservation and distribution systems.

Starting today, the Herald will carry a series of articles, dealing with the three proposals in the hope that they may be of assistance to you. That is the most we can do; the rest will be up to you.

Walter Lippmann A Truly Independent Middle East

In his speech at the United Nations this week, the Syrian Foreign Minister, Salah Bitar, let it be known that his real complaint against Turkey and the United States. Though he talked about armies, his real complaint is not that an armed invasion of Syria is in fact being mounted in Turkey. His complaint is that "certain countries" are being used as "bases for activities of subversive elements that are still plotting in Turkey against the Syrian government. They dream of setting up a Syrian puppet government that would be transplanted into Syria with the help of Turkish armed forces."

This complaint is that from some of the countries which surround Syria—presumably Jordan and Iraq, and possibly Lebanon and Iraq—agents with arms and money are being infiltrated into Syria, and that the whole plot is being organized and directed from Turkish soil with the encouragement of the United States. This is a good deal less than the military aggression which the Syrians have been talking about. But it is quite enough to account for their indignation. For it stands to reason that the former Syrian rulers, who were ousted by the present Syrian rulers, would like to return to Damascus, and that Turkey, the United States, and all the other Western Powers, would be glad to see them succeed.

What we have then in the Turkish-Soviet demonstration is a move to protect the present revolutionary government of Syria from being overthrown by the counter-revolutionary Syrians.

This struggle among the great powers, with the control of the Syrian government as the stake, is being fought on the assumption that there cannot be a truly independent and neutral Syria. In the eyes of the Soviet Union, a Syrian government which is not under its influence will certainly be under our influence. In our eyes, it is vice versa. Yet the one thing the Syrians themselves insist upon is that they want above all things to be independent and neutral. Because none of the great powers believes that they can be, Syria is a world problem.

One question that we must ask ourselves is whether there is any way by which Syria could be enabled to break out of this vicious circle of great power rivalry and distrust. For while the present Syrian government is not likely to believe it, the fact is that a truly independent and neutral Syria, and with it a truly independent and neutral Middle East, would be the best and the most that the United States and its allies could desire.

For we know that there is no decent future in an everlasting struggle for control of the weak Arab governments. That is the way to disaster. On the other hand, there is no future in appeasement which would deprive Western Europe of assured access to the oil of the Middle East. What

J. A. Livingston Panic Purges Wall Street Of Inflationitis

Anybody who says he can predict the stock market is a fool or a liar. Yet, it isn't necessary to be a fool or a liar to explain the recent antics in Wall Street.

What made Du Pont worth only $161 a share on Tuesday, when, less than 24 hours later, on Wednesday there were avid bidders for it at $171 a share, a difference of $10, or 6 per cent?

Why were investors and speculators getting rid of National Lead at $88.25 a share on Tuesday while other investors and speculators were willing to pay 10 per cent more for it—$97—on Wednesday?

And how does it happen that National Gypsum was worth only $35.13 on Tuesday and the next day was up to $38.62 a share, a gain of 10 per cent?

Answer: Emotion—fear on Tuesday, hope on Wednesday. Wall Street has just gone through—and let's mince no words, let's call it a panic what it is—a panic.

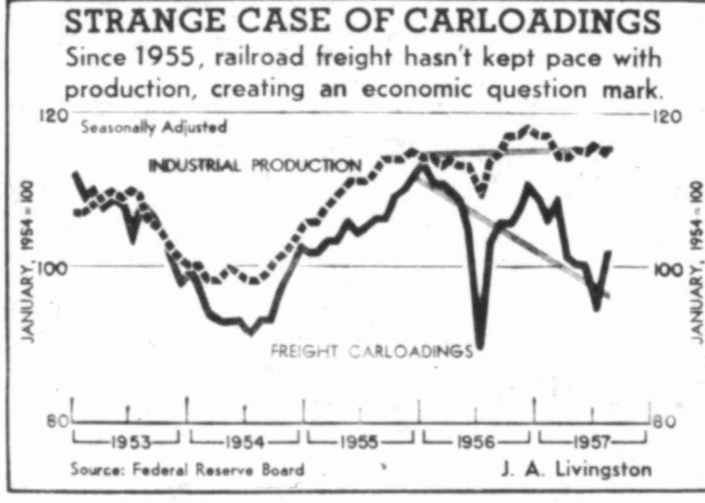

Neither Du Pont, nor National Lead, nor National Gypsum, as corporations, changed 6 per cent on Tuesday. The prices were run by the same officers, they had the same plants and the same customers and suppliers, on Wednesday as on Tuesday. Their capacity for making profits and satisfying customers doesn't change overnight, like weather.

This was fright rushing to market, the separation of men from common sense. It was what German economists call "die Konjunktur"—the coming together of critical events which change men's feelings or basic conditions. This particular conjuncture was mental. It was generated by:

1. Russia's Sputnik, which cast doubt on America's military strength and generated fear of Russia. Would America lose world leadership?
2. The threatened crisis on the Syrian-Turkish border. Would the Russian-inspired Syrians invade Turkey, cause a war?
3. The realization that the Federal Reserve Board meant what it said about controlling inflation. Prices mustn't go up and up!
4. The realization, also, that earnings of most corporations were not likely to increase in 1957. Short of the hope of higher earnings and continued inflation, people suddenly decided stocks were ahead of events, overpriced.

Looking back, it now becomes apparent that the country has been going through a mild business adjustment since the first of the year. A good indicator of this is railroad carloadings. Whereas industrial production has held steady since the start of 1956, carloadings have dropped about 10 per cent (see chart). Here, indeed, is a strange phenomenon. How is it possible for sales to rise, for production to be steady, yet for freight — for commodities and goods—to move in a contrary direction?

You can't kiss carloadings off by saying, "The rails are losing business to the trucks." That's true. But not 10 per cent in two years. The explanation goes deeper. Steel output is off 16 per cent—from 2,390,000 tons per week a year ago to 2,000,000 tons today. And steel moves largely by rail, not truck. Machinery production also has been off (again a rail product). And machine tool orders, down 45 per cent from the third quarter of 1956, hardly suggest an early upturn in shipments. The capital goods industries—industrial expansion—are having a breather. This hits the rails harder than trucks. While consumer activity generally has been high, the boom in heavy goods has been tapering off. That's what the raw statistics indicated. But we were all so moonstruck

Around The Rim

Portable Phonograph: Yesterday, Today

Well, fellows, get out your plus-fours. We're about to come full circle on various modes and usages.

Notices that new magazines have glamorous ads on portable hi-fi sets. Oh, these are streamlined to look like airplane luggage, of plastic in many hues, and equipped with various spindles to take records of any size and speed; with multiple speakers for faithful reproduction of the music. I suppose they have to be plugged in for turning power.

But for all the fancy gadgets and the new developments, these things hark back very closely to the little black box that another generation used to tote around for music in varying backgrounds, principally at picnics and other outdoor soirees indulged in by the youth of the time.

These boxes had a detachable crank, and a space in the lid for a dozen or so records (one speed) and one had to be sure that there were enough spare needles along. But let not the modern skeptic sneer at the portable of that day. It contributed no little to the romance and the gaiety of the time.

Musical? Of a certainty. There was no Elvis Presley and no Pat Boone, but believe you me, brother, there was very much a Gene Austin, and there was also Nick Lucas. And if there was no Ray Anthony and no Ralph Marterie, there was that wonderful pseudo-symphonic aggregation of Paul Whiteman. Remember Red Nichols and his Five Pennies?

My first year out of college, I spent the summer in a job of sorts in a remote Southwest Texas town, and there struck up friendship with a young fellow of my own age, with whom I had much in common. These things included an eye for the young ladies and an interest in the popular music of the day.

We'll call him Ralph, for the sake of anonymity. Well, wherever Ralph and I went, in our Model T, you may be sure the portable was along. If we could get dates for a picnic, so much the better, to use the little crank box for the popular music of the day. If we couldn't then the two of us would expertly criticize and analyze the orchestras and the singers, determining who was really tops, and who could be ignored.

Ralph was a sterling young man with a fine family background, a boy with a good brain who went on to become a promising lawyer with a bright future, only to be cut down in his prime as one of the human sacrifices tossed on the altar of World War II.

But before he had fulfilled this destiny, he had expressed himself in his devotion to the music of his time; popular music, yes, but music with spirit, and with sentiment, and with melody.

"Sweet Sue" was one of his, and a revival of this little song always takes me back to summer nights around a portable phonograph, with a trumpet threading thinly the theme while reeds and strings thrummed a rhythmic background.

Ah, well, this is nostalgia; and the hi-fi machines of today fill the same purpose with youth that has dreams so much like the dreams of another generation.

But it seems that the music, like the music box, was simpler. Maybe not so progressive, but perhaps with more lasting spirit. Could be that the very time itself was less complicated, and the music and the portable phonograph reflected this.

Norman Vincent Peale Get Guidance In Determining Career

Mrs. Peale and I were entertained recently by a wonderful young couple. They showed us their home, an old place they had fixed over and of which they were very proud.

The house was beautifully kept and we told the wife, "You certainly have become a marvelous housekeeper."

"That's a real compliment to me now," she said, "but there was a time when I wouldn't have considered it one. It used to make me so angry that when I stood in line to register to vote and the women ahead of me, when asked their occupations, would answer, 'Housewife,' 'How unutterably dull,' I thought. But now I can claim the title with a great deal of pride."

"As a girl," she went on, "I wanted a great career, like Helen Hayes or Clare Booth Luce. I went to college and studied hard. I made Phi Beta Kappa. And then I looked around for fields to conquer."

"I'll go into education," I decided; I thought I could make a great name for myself there. So I became a licensed school teacher in Florida. But, somehow, I wasn't too happy teaching school. Finally, I learned to pray about my life, not to try to force things according to my own wishes. I told the Lord I would try any career He would choose for me. And I got an answer to my prayers.

"A short time after that, I met a young, struggling doctor who didn't have two nickels to rub together. I thought he was wonderful and he must have thought the same about me because pretty soon we were married. And finally we found this charming old house, and had a lot of fun fixing it up. Would you like to see what I've done with my career?" she asked. "We certainly would," we told her.

She took us upstairs and into three bedrooms. In each lay a beautifully tumbled head on its pillow. "Aren't they sweet?" she asked, eyes alight.

We went through the rest of the house with her, ending up in an attractive modern kitchen. Over the latest model washing machine hung this wife's Phi Beta Kappa membership certificate; and the shining white refrigerator, her college diploma; and over an electric stove, her license to teach in the State of Florida. "This," she boasted, "is what I've made of my career."

Well, everybody has a plan for his or her life. And we need career women. We need them in politics; we need more women mayors, women congressmen, women senators. We need them in business. We need them in the arts. But, most of all, we need them in the home, raising children; bringing these children up to lead upright, useful and inspiring lives; and being successful wives and mothers.

This woman I was visiting had wanted one thing and God had given her another. She had successfully adjusted herself to the career God wanted for her.

All of us must learn to do this if we expect our lives to go right. We must learn to direct our sincere prayer to God, saying, "All right, Lord, what do You want me to do? What You want for me, I want."

I can promise you that anyone who will do this consistently and persistently will get the right answer to his or her career problems.

David Lawrence Rogers As The New Attorney General

WASHINGTON—The expected has happened—William P. Rogers, 44 years old, now deputy attorney general, has been selected by President Eisenhower to succeed Attorney General Brownell.

The President is desirous of elevating younger men to Cabinet posts, and there will be other changes in the next few months with the idea that the younger Republicans will occupy places in the Cabinet before the 1960 campaign begins.

Why did Mr. Brownell leave? His decision to withdraw from public office was made last spring. Whether or not the President's failure to give the attorney general a Supreme Court post — as has been the case with other attorney generals in the past—had anything to do with it will probably never be known. Certainly Mr. Brownell saw no future for himself in government here. He is an accomplished lawyer, and the financial success which Thomas E. Dewey—Mr. Brownell's close friend—has recently made in the private practice of law may have had a real bearing on the decision to leave the Department of Justice.

As for rumors that the "segregation-integration" dispute was related in some way to Mr. Brownell's resignation and that he now will avoid being questioned by Congress at his next session concerning the alleged illegality in the use of federal troops, it is asserted that the role of the Department of Justice in advising the President in the Arkansas situation has not been one of making decisions but primarily to set forth the scope of the President's powers.

So far as this correspondent has been able to piece together the story of what happened on the fateful Monday, September 23, when Mr. Eisenhower decided to send federal troops into Arkansas, it was strictly a presidential decision. The Department of Justice lawyers had prepared for several weeks in advance memoranda on what the President could do in the event of a crisis in the enforcement of court orders on "desegregation." Rumors are current that Warren Olney, chief of the criminal division of the department who recently resigned, favored more extreme measures than were taken, including the arrest of many of the persons at the scene of the disorder at Little Rock, involving possibly hundreds of citizens.

Bible Words for Today

GENESIS 32:24-26 — "And Jacob was left alone; and a man wrestled with him until the breaking of day. . . and he said unto him, What is thy name?" (RSV)

Jacob believed if you knew a man's name you could also know his power. He wrestled at midnight saying, "Tell me your name?"

What's in a name? Let us think of the name Jesus. Other men had worn this name but there came a man called Jesus of Nazareth who so honored the name Jesus that it would be called, "The saving name given among men." Living at the same time was a man called Judas and he so dishonored his name as to practically wipe it out of the vocabulary. Later two men would also live as contemporaries — Paul and Nero — and each would so honor or dishonor his name as to cause us to this day to name our sons Paul and our dogs Nero. In our time a man named Quilzing could bring such infamy upon his name as to turn it in to a common noun denoting one who is a traitor.

Indeed, there is much in a name.

A HIGH KICK ON THE ICE
Ice Capades stars lots of youthful talent

Ice Capades Show To Play At Odessa

The all-new 17th edition of Ice Capades will play Nov. 5-11 at Ector County Coliseum in Odessa, under sponsorship of the Odessa Chuck Wagon Gang.

The skating extravaganza which last year entertained people in 50 cities presents glamour, glitter, speed and grace on skates, comedy, international flavor and an array of skating talent.

The show will take skating audiences from Bagdad to Disneyland (Hollywood), Holland, Paris and South America. Producer John H. Harris presents the romance, mystery and splendor of the Orient in the opening number "Bagdad" in which Sandy Culbertson with her effortless ease skates the starring role.

The audience will see the skating classic feature, an original musical version of the fascinating "Hans Brinker and the Silver Skates," and the setting is at the old champion's home on the frozen dyke.

Package Deal

NEW YORK (AP)—A new kind of financing deal has given a TV-radio network the movie screen rights to a stage show.

Under the arrangement, the National Broadcasting Co. has put up $100,000 for the Broadway production of "A Soft Touch," and also has guaranteed a minimum of $150,000 for the film rights.

In "Hans Brinker and the Silver Skates," Ice Capades for the first time in ice show business presents an original story and a complete book and libretto which have been written for the ice, and ice alone.

Not only the story but the music for this number—including five songs—have been written especially for the production.

Starred in the Dutch production is Alan Konrad, veteran ice skating star teamed for the first time with Sandy Culbertson, who will be making her debut in the starring role. Konrad will play the part of Peter Van Gleeck and Miss Culbertson will be Gretel. Hans Brinker the Younger will be portrayed by Don Bearson, and the older Hans Brinker by Doug Austin.

The show will also present Aja Zanova, Johnny Lettingarver, Olympic team member; The Henry's, unique father-and-son act; and The Bruises, hilarious comedy trio.

Evening performances will be at 8:15 p.m. with matinees on Saturday and Sunday at 2:30. No evening performances are scheduled for Sunday night. Tickets are available on order by mail, by writing to Ice Capades, c/o Chuck Wagon Gang, 211 West 3rd, Odessa, stating number of seats, price and performance desired. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope with check or money order for quick return.

LOOKS At BOOKS

By Sam Blackburn

THE ROAD TO TYBURN by Christopher Hibbert. World Publishing Company.

Here's a book that I he really enjoyed.

It's basically a biography of Jack Sheppard, notorious English burglar - and jailbreaker of the early 18th Century London. Yet, in reality, the whole story of slippery Jack could be told in half of the volume.

Jack's story is interesting and engrossing enough to hold your interest. He has been the theme of a countless number of books and pamphlets, not to mention plays and ballads, for two hundred years. But it was more for the color—the side facts about the seamy side of life in the biggest English city of its time that appealed to me.

It tells the story of a day when every felony was punishable by death: of a day when the gallows creaked constantly with new victims; when the fires around the stakes seldom were allowed to go out.

It is a tale peopled with the most ruthless and vicious characters you'd find anywhere at any time. There are dandies who commit murder as casually as they might dash off a glass of ale. There are corrupt judges; venial jailers.

Here we have the origin of the organized gang—the crime syndicate. Yes, in London soon after the turn of the 17th Century, organized crime was much in the picture. Gangs functioned on exactly the same rules as do the criminal syndicates of today.

The squalor, the poverty, the brutality of life are blended into an unforgettable picture of an England that I rather imagine the present day Brits would like to forget ever existed.

The book is well illustrated. There are portraits of its hero Jack; of other notorious and vicious leaders of the underworld. There is a maze of interesting detail about the laws of the time and the harshness of justice. The story of how Jack, on the day of his hanging, planned to frustrate justice is told—and also recited is how well meaning friends of the outlaw foiled his one hope to live after he had been in the hands of the hangman.

It's a great tale and a fine reference book at the same time. If you like your books to be both entertaining, informative and colorful—try "The Road to Tyburn."

I am very happy that a copy of it reached me and I hope it has the popularity that it deserves.

'Bells' Cast Set

NEW YORK (AP)—Janet Blair, George Gaynes and Allyn McLerie are appearing in the London production of "Bells Are Ringing." The musical opens in mid-November.

CRITIQUE Of The Local Entertainment Scene

By BOB SMITH

Putting The Art Before The Horse

A civic theatre generally has two main purposes: To provide an outlet for local people who have an absorbing interest in the theatre, and to bring entertainment to the community. Contrary to the belief held by many amateur thespians, the latter purpose is the more important.

The latter purpose is usually phrased, to further the fine arts (namely, the theatre) in the community, and as a result some of the players fly off into outer space. They'll give you a long spiel about "art for art's sake," and demand that the theatre group stage Shakespearean works, and even some of the old Greek tragedies.

They forget a civic theatre must have money, and lots of it, with which to operate. They forget that art for art's sake is fine for an ivy-covered university town, but that anything more complicated than "Solid Gold Cadillac" is over the heads of many people in a town like Big Spring.

And that brings us to our local organization, the Big Spring Civic Theatre, Inc., a group which under the circumstances, has done a tremendous job. But the local players need more stage property, they need a building of their own and they need a few productions aimed at the common folk, something to build up the financial

Negroes Move Into Broadway Jobs

NEW YORK (AP)—The new musical comedy "Jamaica" is providing the first employment for Negro stagehands on Broadway.

Producer David Merrick requested that at least five be hired for the show starring Lena Horne and Ricardo Montalban. The stagehands union adopted a non-discrimination policy when AFL and CIO units were merged several years ago, but Negro groups have worked only on non-Broadway productions.

Sugar To Murder

NEW YORK (AP)—Playwright John van Druten is turning to murder and melodrama for his next Broadway outing.

Van Druten, previously an expert in such sugared amenities as "The Voice of the Turtle" and "I Remember Mama," is adapting "Anatomy of Murder," a novel that won't be published until January.

The book, written by a Michigan supreme court justice, is assured of the best-seed lists already as a book-club selection, and as a drama it is expected to be ready for showing by early spring.

backlog they'll have if the more intellectual works are to be presented to the inevitably small local audiences.

Big Spring is about ready for a dose of culture. But culture for a community in the last stages of growth out of pioneer times cannot be given in big doses, no more than one can feed a whole bottle of castor oil at once to a youngster. Small doses are better to start with, to get people accustomed to the strangeness of the arts. People must be tempted, not shoved, across the line that separates the mediocre from the artistic in the entertainment world.

There are people in the local theatre group who lean too much to the artistic and decry the fact that Big Spring audiences still like a touch of the Old West in their melodramas. They solidly oppose any production that might smell of horses.

They are putting the art before the horse.

The theatre group needs a money-making production and judging from the experience of the Midland theatre, there's nothing better for this purpose than a good, old-fashioned roustabout of a mellerdrummer, with plenty of corn and lots of hill billyish music thrown in. I'm not speaking of "Dirty Work at the Crossroads," summer mummies sort of thing—rather, a locally written, loose-jointed plot into which comedy and music may be liberally inserted. Such a production would be well attended.

High Schoolers Work On Play

I dropped out to watch the high school players last week as they began work on a play scheduled for Nov. 21 and 22, but I had more fun watching Phillip Wayne, faculty member who's directing.

Wayne pays proper attention to his players and stays in there with them, not taking time out to chatter with visitors, and he keeps discipline as on the professional stage.

Choir To Present 'Messiah' Program

Music lovers in Big Spring will soon find musical groups available for their entertainment, under auspices of the Civic Music Assn. Programs will be available for civic organizations, and radio and TV appearances also are planned.

The CMA board of directors, at a meeting this weekend, will lay out organization of these music groups, and will push a membership drive into high gear.

In the meantime, the CMA is cooperating with Mrs. Jack Ware in the production of "The Messiah" by the choir at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Ware, wife of the pastor and leader of the choir, said Big Spring residents who would like to sing with the choir in this performance are welcome. Rehearsals are held on Wednesdays from 7:30 to 8:00 p.m. at the church.

"The Messiah" will be presented at 4 p.m. Dec. 15 at the church. The String Symphonette of Odessa, under direction of James Gambino, will provide accompaniment. Gambino also is conductor for the CMA.

detail how to speak and move—he's a good actor himself. "You must motivate your movements," he told one young girl, a statement that doesn't make much sense until you think about it awhile.

Wayne finds it necessary to train his players in detail, since at their age they have an overwhelming lack of experience. They are almost, but not quite, matured—and an acting talent must mature the same as any other talent. All kids have a tendency to chest-strutting histrionics, and there is a vestige of it in the high school players which Wayne is busily removing.

Name of the play is "Here We Come Gathering," by Phillip King and Anthony Armstrong. King also wrote the play, "See How They Run," which the HCJC players are presenting Monday and Tuesday. Both plays are unusually similar in plot, and they both are farcical comedies, with plenty of slapstick.

The high school players include: Janette Heflin, Tony Starr, Kay Chadd, Bill Hensley, Jerry Hutchins, Lyn Anderson, Robi Ann Robinson and Bill Parsons, with one important role remaining to be cast.

Barber Shoppers Ready For Show

The local barber shoppers were really sparkling last Tuesday night. They're getting ready for the big annual show, co-sponsored by the Kiwanians, that will feature quartet and choral music by West Texas chapters, all members of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America.

Local residents who like good quartet and male choral music should plan to attend this annual event. The local chapter of the SPEBSQSA will begin a publicity campaign this week.

Left to right are Eddie Albert, Errol Flynn, Mel Ferrer, Tyrone Power and Ava Gardner. They are gathering in front of their hotel to watch the colorful goings-on during the Pamplona, Spain, bullfight fiesta. This scene is from Hemmingway's story, "The Sun Also Rises," the film version of which plays Sunday through Tuesday at the Ritz Theatre. The story was filmed in the actual European locales of the famous novel.

Tiger Of The Seas

Peter Finch is shown in the role of Capt. Hans Langsdorff, commander of the German pocket battleship Graf Spee, in this scene from "Pursuit of the Graf Spee." Langsdorff, a brave and cagey commander, was a humanitarian in spite of the cause he served, and allowed survivors of Allied ships he sank to live.

'Omar Khayyam' To Show At Ritz

In Persia, in the 11th Century, there lived an extraordinary man named Ghiyas ud-Din Abul Fath Omar ibn Ibrahim Al-Khayyami. He is better known as Omar Khayyam, author of "The Rubaiyat." A soldier, mathematician and astronomer, he was also a poet whose lyrics and pungent commentaries on love and life in general rank second only to the Bible in number of copies in existence. He was one of history's great lovers and a superb military strategist. Now Hollywood has told the story of this amazing man in "Omar Khayyam," playing Wednesday and Thursday at the Ritz Theatre.

A Loaf Of Bread Etc.

Cornel Wilde plays Omar Khayyam and Debra Paget is seen as the harem girl whose love was forbidden to him in "Omar Khayyam," film based on the life of the noted poet, soldier and scientist.

CINEMA COMMENT

By BOB SMITH

Many years ago, as a young boy of 11, I followed the development of World War II with great excitement. I kept a scrapbook of clippings, prominent among which was a story of how tiny Uruguay defied mighty Germany and chased the pocket battleship Graf Spee out of Montevideo harbor.

A couple of weeks ago, a TV show, "You Are There," brought up that very same incident. Now, a British film comes to Big Spring this week, one which I have been wanting to see for some time. It is called "Pursuit of the Graf Spee," and is one of the most exciting sea chases ever filmed.

Ten days before Hitler opened his blitzkrieg against Poland, a new and powerful pocket battleship slipped away from Germany and headed for the North Sea. Came Sept. 3, 1939, and Capt. Hans Langsdorff opened his secret orders, and the tiger of the sea sped toward a rendezvous with destiny. The orders: to wipe out all Allied shipping in the South Atlantic. The British Admiralty had no clue as to the nature of ship disappearances until a radio operator aboard a stricken ship managed to get off a message.

Meanwhile, the Graf Spee continued to blast Allied merchantmen out of the South Atlantic, then disappear like a will-of-the-wisp, while the British tried desperately to locate the "tiger of the seas." Langsdorff was a humane enemy. Crews of the vessels he sank were allowed to go free, while the officers were imprisoned aboard the Graf Spee and her supply ship, the "Altmark."

Within a few weeks, the Graf Spee sank the Doric Star, but not before her heroic radioman, though severely wounded, managed to telegraph the position. Three light cruisers were in the vicinity, and the commander, Commodore Harwood, decided to close with the enemy, even though outgunned.

There followed a sea battle such as was rarely seen since the days of the sailing ships, a kind that will never again be seen with carriers having become queens of the seas. The film dramatically portrays this battle, after which the badly damaged Graf Spee speeds to the harbor at Montevideo, Uruguay.

Then began days of intrigue, with the Germans demanding refuge and the stout Uruguayans, a people who once had fought off both Argentinians and Brazilians, defying Hitler's might. Meanwhile, British intelligence was at work cooking up a feint that would end with the historic scuttling of the Graf Spee, an incident that made headlines the world over and which is one of the highlights of "Pursuit of the Graf Spee."

great engagement between warships. The British attacked with their usual doggedness and the Germans fought back with their usual stubbornness, until the Graf Spee was forced to make for the safety of Montevideo harbor. It was there that the British pulled off an end-run around German intelligence and tricked the Graf Spee's humanitarian captain into scuttling the pride of the German fleet rather than sacrifice the lives of his own and the British crews in a futile battle.

"Pursuit of the Graf Spee" is one of the most exciting yarns ever to come out of World War II, and is presented exactly as it happened. Don't miss it.

A loaf of bread, a jug of wine, A book of verse, and thou Singing beside me in the wilderness, And wilderness were Paradise enow.

I sent my soul into the invisible Some letter of that afterlife to spell. Bye and bye it returned as "I myself and Heaven and Hell."

Who, except the uneducated, has not read these two famous quatrains? They are two among hundreds jotted down many years ago by a man who lived 900 years before his time. His name was Omar Khayyam, the tent-maker— a Persian poet, scientist and soldier.

Omar is known to the Western world mainly because of "The Rubaiyat," what is less well known is the fact that Omar was one of the world's great universal minds, ranking with Aristotle and Leonardo da Vinci. He wrote treatises on algebra and geometry that were good enough to be published 800 years later; he created a calendar, without the aid of a telescope or any electronic devices, that was only six seconds off the one we use today; and he wrote books on the causes of climatic changes, on metallurgy and gemology.

"Omar Khayyam," a motion picture based on his amazing career, sticks amazingly close to history— for Hollywood. Which means the screenwriter still managed to insert an overload of the old Arabian Nights plot, plus an unhistorical happy ending. But "Omar Khayyam" is a good film, for all that.

Cornel Wilde is seen as Omar, and his supporting cast includes some big names like Michael Rennie, Debra Paget, John Derek, Raymond Massey and Yma Sumac.

"Conquest of Space" and "When Worlds Collide" are two of the better science fiction films of recent years. Just one thing wrong. The screenwriter changed Phillip Wylie's "When Worlds Collide" so nothing original remained but the title, but the special effects depart-

'Graf Spee' Classic Film Of Sea Chase

"Pursuit of the Graf Spee," a film dealing with one of the most exciting incidents of the early days of World War II, shows Friday and Saturday at the Ritz Theatre. The British film was based entirely on official Admiralty records.

It is the story of the Graf Spee, a pocket battleship that was the pride of the German navy. The ship was assigned by Hitler to the South Atlantic where the commander, Capt. Hans Langsdorff, chased and destroyed a fantastic number of Allied merchant ships. The British Admiralty had no clue as to the nature of ship disappearances until a radio operator aboard a stricken ship managed to get off a message.

Meanwhile, the Graf Spee continued to blast Allied merchantmen out of the South Atlantic, then disappear like a will-of-the-wisp, while the British tried desperately to locate the "tiger of the seas."

Langsdorff was a humane enemy. Crews of the vessels he sank were allowed to go free, while the officers were imprisoned aboard the Graf Spee and her supply ship, the "Altmark."

Within a few weeks, the Graf Spee sank the Doric Star, but not before her heroic radioman, though severely wounded, managed to telegraph the position. Three light cruisers were in the vicinity, and the commander, Commodore Harwood, decided to close with the enemy, even though outgunned.

Takes Money To Make Money

NEW YORK (AP)—Money posted to guarantee actors' salaries on Broadway is now going to work to make more money. The guarantee funds, covering two weeks' wages for all performers, must be posted by every producer when he launches a show. The stipulation is insisted on by Actors' Equity, the performing union, and at the peak of the season the amount deposited averages a half million dollars.

Now, with Equity's okay, the bank holds all the deposits, will keep part of them in a checking account and part in an investment account. The interest will be turned over to the League of New York Theatres, producers' organization.

The league hasn't decided yet what it will do with the new revenue.

Bracero Lives Year On Earnings Here

By DON HENRY

Francisco Jauregui came a long way to work on the J. H. Fryar place for six weeks.

But if he saves his money, he will have enough at the end of that time to support his family for an entire year.

Francisco, a bracero here for the cotton season, is one of thousands who work in this country every fall. These workers do not just come from the vicinity of the border; they come from all parts of Mexico.

Francisco Jauregui came with a group of men from the town of San Jeronimo, Cuahutemoc County, Colima, which is about 700 miles on a line south and slightly west of Eagle Pass. He said it took them three days and nights to come the distance from San Jeronimo. This was on paved highways, too, he said.

The 34-year-old worker reported he could support his wife and four children on the money he made in this country if he didn't spend too much of it here. However, part of this money will be spent before he leaves here for clothes for himself and wife, and children, aged 6, 5, 3 and 2.

MAY TAKE RAZOR

Clothes and possibly small items like a razor are the only things he plans to take back. Jack Buchanan, manager of the Howard County Farm Assn., which carries contract on Jauregui and his fellow workers, said some of the braceros take home washing machines and other large appliances purchased with their earnings.

Francisco is a farmer the year around. He works on a 12-acre farm while at home and will start harvesting as soon as he returns. Crops on the farm there are cotton, maize, corn and vegetables, he said. The farm on which he works is considered about average in size; some are as big as 30 acres. Although he does not own the farm, he uses his own horse on the job. The farm is on the edge of his town of 5,000 people. He does not have a car, but he jokingly said he had a burro. The state of Colima, on the coast, is rolling and very rocky, he said, but it never gets very cold.

Francisco, here for his fourth season, worked at Pecos in 1956 but did not have a very good year, he said. Arriving Oct. 8, he plans to remain until about Nov. 19. With a good crop, he said he could make about $300.

Working in Mexico, he can make 12 pesos per day—$1 in American money—but here he can make 50 cents per hour for general farm work, or $1.55 per 100 pounds pulling or $2.05 picking. This can go higher, according to the prevailing wage.

EXPENSES LOW

Out of earnings, all Francisco has to furnish is his food and clothing; the farmers furnish all other needs—lodging, cooking and eating utensils, bedding, etc.

Francisco, having worked in the U. S. before and having proved a good worker, had an easier time getting a job than did many prospective workers. He was signed before leaving San Jeronimo, and upon reaching Eagle Pass, he had only to identify himself, and he and his group were brought here. The association contacted them during the year.

Workers who have not previously worked in the country must wait at a large bracero placement center in Monterrey until they are needed. At the present time, there are 20,000 workers there waiting for jobs, he said. They are taken on a first come, first served basis when jobs arise.

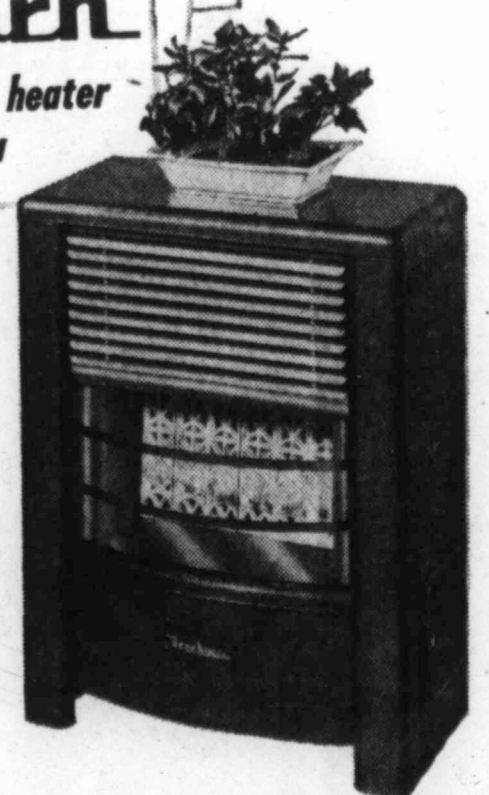

Francisco's only brother also works on the Fryar place north of town but has been in this country all summer. They will return together at the end of the season.
