A Night On The Town

These youngsters were typical of the thousands of kids swarming over Big Spring residential districts in search of "Trick Or Treat" opportunities last night. Apparently, most of the young goblins, witches, spacemen, clowns and spooks were treated royally, for few tricks were performed and vandalism was virtually nonexistent. Making their calls in the top scene above are Linda Gayle Robertson and Johanne Jean Jorgensen. In the lower picture are Randy, Ricky and Danny Williams. (Keith McMillin Photos.)

Soviet Navy Charges 1-Man Command Try

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet navy newspaper Soviet Fleet charged today that attempts had been made to build up "one-man command in the army and navy."

It reported a "decisive condemnation" of attempts to de-emphasize the role of Communist party organizations in the armed forces, but did not say who had condemned them.

The paper's report was published after informed sources here said a final decision has been reached in the case of Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov and would be published shortly.

Marshal Zhukov, Russia's No. 1 soldier in World War II, was relieved as defense minister last Saturday. But there has been no announcement about his future or the reasons for his removal.

Reports in Belgrade, Yugoslavia, said Zhukov had been expelled from the Soviet Communist party's Central Committee and the Presidium. These reports hinted the marshal's resistance to accepting appointment to a lesser military post was delaying the official announcement.

"BONAPARTISM"
Correspondents for Communist newspapers have asserted Zhukov interfered with party indoctrination programs in order to build up military officers' control of the armed forces, and was accused of Bonapartism — political ambitions which made him a rival to the party boss, Nikita Khrushchev.

Both Soviet Fleet and Red Star, the army newspaper, continued to preach with forceful words the idea that absolute party control of the army and navy is necessary. Both papers are organs of the Defense Ministry, now under Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky.

Red Star said the party leadership was the "main source of strength and invincibility of the Soviet army and navy and declared the party has led the armed forces to victories and supplied them with first-class technique and arms.

Red Star also said commanders must take an active part in the political education of their men and in the work of political organizations in the services.

Ike Sets First 'Faith' Talk In Oklahoma City

Speech To Bolster U.S. Confidence

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will deliver his Oklahoma City Nov. 13 the first of his planned series of speeches intended to bolster the nation's confidence in American scientific achievements and a national defense.

The topic of the Oklahoma speech, a half an hour address at 10:30 p.m. EST, will be "Science and Security."

The White House released today an exchange of telegrams between the President and Gov. Raymond Gary in which Eisenhower accepted an invitation to make the speech in Oklahoma City in connection with the state's semicentennial celebration.

The occasion marks the 50th anniversary of the state's admission to the Union.

The theme of the semicentennial, which began in June and continues to Nov. 16, is "Arrows to Atoms."

The address will be carried live by the NBC television network at 9:30 p.m. CST and by ABC and CBS television networks on kinescope at 10:15. All national radio networks will carry the address live.

Eisenhower had turned down once an invitation to take part in the celebration of Oklahoma's admission to statehood. In his telegram to Eisenhower, Gov. Gary noted that Eisenhower had written him last May 31 that he was unable to attend the opening of the New Frontiers Exposition in Oklahoma City on June 16 but held out hope that he might come out in the fall for the 50th anniversary celebration of statehood.

After noting press reports that the President planned to address the people from various points around the nation, Gary renewed the invitation for Eisenhower to come to Oklahoma.

The President replied: "I warmly appreciate your renewed invitation on behalf of the State of Oklahoma to participate in its semicentennial celebration which ends Nov. 16. Upon review of my engagements during the next two weeks I find it possible to schedule the first of my forthcoming addresses to the nation on Nov. 13. I should be delighted to make that address from Oklahoma City, in that way doing what my title permits to do for Oklahoma in this celebration of its 50th birthday this year. I am grateful to you and the people of Oklahoma for reinviting me and look forward to being there on Nov. 13."

Reward Notice

Two unidentified Lone Star Steel employees look at a reward notice of $10,000 posted at the plant for information leading to arrest and conviction of anyone harming or threatening employees of the company; and $5,000 for information on property damage to employees. Rangers are investigating bombings, shootings and beatings that have spread across several Northeast Texas counties in connection with the wildcat strike.

Ranger Chief Vows To Keep Order In Strike-Torn Area

DAINGERFIELD, Tex. (AP) — Texas Rangers and other officers, headed by Ranger Capt. Jay Banks, began a search today for caches of explosives in a new drive to maintain order in this strike-torn area of East Texas.

Banks said, "The people in the neighborhood seem to be living in a state of terror. I think, however, the situation is improving. We have made some arrests and plan more."

More state officers were sent into the area during the night. The Ranger captain said "We're taking quite a few preventive measures which I can't reveal at the present time."

Rangers and State Patrolmen, were spread over a 10-county area surrounding the Lone Star Steel Co. plant, focal point of a bitter, six-week-old wildcat strike.

"This is an explosive situation," Banks said, standing outside his command post in a motel here, "but we plan to take any action necessary to keep order."

Sporadic bombings, brawls and gunfire have rocked the area since the walkout started Sept. 21. The dispute centers on company policies in filling job vacancies.

"We're pretty sure most of the violence stems from the strike," said Banks, soft-talking, 6-foot-3 police officer, with one notch on the huge pistol he carries.

Banks, 45, a riot buster seasoned by Texas' integration outbreaks, emphasized his forces were present only to help local authorities.

Five additional Rangers and 16 more State Patrolmen were dispatched to his command last night after an appeal to Gov. Price Daniel by Carl Estes, publisher of the Longview News-Journal. The reinforcements gave Banks a total of 10 Rangers.

UF Employe Group Exceeds Its Quota

Contributors in the employe bracket are the first to reach their quota in the 1957 United Fund campaign.

Reports from Clyde McMahon's Employe Gifts Division yesterday added another $4,361.45 to employe gifts, boosting the total to $26,419.74—105.86 per cent of the quota.

Additional gifts are expected from the employe group, McMahon said.

In all, $5,049.45 in new gifts were reported Thursday, boosting the UF total to $75,527.47 or about 85 per cent of the $89,100 goal.

Although no additional report meetings have been scheduled, the campaign will be continued until the goal is reached. K. H. McGibbon, general chairman, said today. McGibbon asked that division chairmen, team captains and individual workers continue to turn in their gifts at United Fund offices in the Settles.

Other than for the Employe Gift Division, only small reports were turned in at Thursday's report session. Advance Gifts added another $500, bringing that division's total to $39,267.73 or 85 per cent of its quota.

Special Gifts Division reported $20, inching its aggregate for the campaign up to $7,074.50, only 53 per cent of quota. General Gifts added $163, making a total of $2,732 or 61 per cent of the $4,500 goal. Another $100 has been reported from Area Gifts Division.

The campaign now needs $13,518 to reach its $89,100 goal. "We know the money is out there waiting for solicitors," McGibbon said. "I again want to urge all workers to complete their assignments and turn in reports."

More Developments Expected From Russian Science

WASHINGTON (AP) — American intelligence agents anticipated that Russia was about to launch its earth satellite—and are expecting "further revolutionary developments."

This was reported today by President Eisenhower's Committee on Scientists and Engineers. The committee made public portions of a talk given before it by Herbert Scoville Jr. of the Central Intelligence Agency on Oct. 4, several hours before Moscow announced the launching of Sputnik.

Dr. Scoville was quoted as saying, "There has been publicity about the Russian earth satellite. They won't announce anything until they have it up there. It wouldn't surprise us if such an announcement came at any time. We must be prepared for it. They are capable of doing these things."

As for Russia's earlier claimed successful firing of an intercontinental ballistic missile, the U. S. intelligence official said CIA cannot prove whether they did.

As for military technological advancement generally, Scoville said there is no question but that the Russians are "moving forward by leaps and bounds."

"Rumor has it that the Russian communications system in the antarctic is so superior that the U. S. expedition has used it on occasion to send messages," he said.

"In the atomic energy program nuclear tests are being conducted on a large scale. In the past month (September) they have been conducting two atomic test series simultaneously at great distances apart, which means they have enough people and equipment to handle two tests at once."

City Atty. O. D. Longstreth Jr., who also attended the session, suggested that a council vote be delayed until after the NAACP petition was heard in U.S. District Court.

Rob Longstreth withdrew the proposal under pressure of the Aldermen. He drafted the arrest order which took effect today.

Ex-Labor Chief Was Beck Aide

WASHINGTON (AP) —Merlyn Pitzele testified today he accepted $5,000 a year as an adviser to Teamsters Union President Dave Beck in 1953, 1954, 1955 while chairman of the New York State Labor Mediation Board.

He said he told neither Republican Gov. Thomas E. Dewey nor Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman about the arrangement. Nor, he said, did he tell his superiors on the magazine Business Week, a publication on which he serves as labor editor.

Pitzele acknowledged that during this period very likely if not certainly "there were some cases the staff was concerned with which involved the Teamsters."

In the 1952 presidential campaign, Pitzele was campaign labor adviser to President Eisenhower.

Pitzele had served as campaign labor adviser to Dewey in 1944 and 1948, when Dewey was defeated as the Republican presidential nominee.

Pitzele was interviewed by Special Agents of the FBI in New York City. He was interviewed by FBI agents in New York City on Oct. 29 and Oct. 30. He was interviewed by FBI agents in New York City on Oct. 31.

Little Rock Police Get Orders To Arrest All NAACP Officers

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The president of the Little Rock chapter of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People today surrendered to the police in order that all officers of the organization be arrested.

The NAACP official, the Rev. L. C. Crenshaw, was docketed on a charge of violating a new city ordinance which requires the association and certain other organizations to file membership and financial information.

Crenshaw, a Negro Baptist minister, went unaccompanied to the police station after being notified by telephone to appear. He immediately furnished bond of $300 and was released. Hearing was set tentatively for Monday.

UNANIMOUS VOTE
The City Council last night voted unanimously to instruct police to arrest all NAACP officers they could find in this integration-troubled city.

Acting Mayor Lee H. Evans and seven aldermen agreed on the action after the NAACP failed to obey a new ordinance which requires certain groups to bare their confidential files.

Strike Cause Of Economic Pinch

DAINGERFIELD, Tex. (AP) — The prolonged strike at Lone Star Steel Co. has caused an economic pinch in parts of this East Texas area, with the strikers and businessmen all beginning to suffer.

The United Steelworkers Union says 2,300 men still are away from the jobs they left Sept. 21 in what both sides call a wildcat strike.

The payroll that spreads itself through Northeast Texas has not fallen in ratio to the number of workers on strike since, says the company, about 1,300 men either did not walk out or have returned. Some new employees have been hired.

Pleas for extension of credit are common in Daingerfield. One real estate operator whose rental units are occupied by Lone Star Steel workers took in a gross of $200 last month. His normal income prior to the strike was $1,500 a month.

"Business is way down and getting worse," said Van Glass, an auto agency operator. "Both new and used car sales have dropped tremendously and we have been forced to repossess several cars and expect to repossess more."

James Walker, cashier of the National Bank of Daingerfield, said business was down all over the area, with workers seeking extensions of credit.

"The bank will carry them as long as it can," he said. Walker said jobs vacated by the strikers are not being taken by other townspople. "The company is hiring new workers, many not from the immediate area," he said. "That means a payroll loss to the community."

BULLETIN

GILMER, Tex. (AP) — J. W. Duffy, charged with firing two charges of buckshot into the home of a Lone Star Steel Co. plant nonstriker, was placed today under a $50,000 peace bond.

Carl Estes, publisher of the Longview News and Journal, said it was the largest peace bond ever ordered in East Texas.

Other merchants reported a sharp falloff in business. The strikers have been killed through two paydays and time for a third is nearing.

Banks said officers would prosecute anyone on either side who are caught carrying arms. A number of non-strikers had been carrying weapons in their cars to and from work, especially on the night shift.

Views Vary
Talks with strikers show views vary considerably.

Some staunch unionists feel they must hold out no matter how long it takes, because, they feel, to return would kill the local union.

Others feel that the cause is lost. "Six weeks without work and without pay can make you feel that way," said one.

"If you could see my table, you would know what kind of groceries I'm buying," this particular striker said.

Luxury Features In 1958 Imperial

The 1958 Imperial line is longer, has new interiors and offers 20 exterior colors. This is the Imperial Crown four-door hardtop with the distinctive landau top roof section. It is available with new integrated electric door locks, Auto-Pilot automatic drive assist, and the biggest softest riding tires offered on any production automobile. Confidence, Caution Voiced By Admirals Of Pacific Fleet

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii (AP)—The Navy's confidence in its ability to crush any new aggression in Asia is tempered by the strong hunch that the manner and place of the next Communist move may rule out American military action. Both the confidence and the caution are found and voiced in this Pacific command headquarters, which is the nerve center of the American watch on the Asian seaboard.

Processes of Communist infiltration are encouraging neutralism that is beginning to look like it was thought out in Communist China. The American hope of saving Laos and Cambodia is seen to be tied directly to American success in increasing the strength, stability and resolution of Viet Nam. That southern end of the Indochinese peninsula leans heavily on direct American aid of all kinds.

Under terms of the Geneva truce agreement that ended the eight year war between the French and the Communist supported area in the north, Viet Nam is not permitted to join regional alliances specifically formed to deter the Communists. But Viet Nam has a close working agreement with the United States. With American help, Viet Nam has built an army that is now considered strong enough to hold its own against the Communists north of the 17th parallel. Neither side has enough air or naval power to be a threat, without outside assistance.

Daniel Looks Over Various Water Bills

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel looked at different water bills passed by the House and Senate as legislators took a weekend rest today. The governor won and lost on the differing versions of the administrator's million-dollar water planning bill. A maximum of eight working days are left in the special session. The House may face Monday a resolution by Rep. Joe Pool of Dallas asking Daniel for an immediate statement on his plans. If any, for submitting state rights and integration matters to this or another special session. The Senate water bill does not spell out that a statewide plan could be formulated. But it would open the door for preliminary negotiations toward getting storage space in federal reservoirs. The $600,000 Senate bill would provide basic data research and investigations. The House bill dropped the administrator's storage matter entirely and would create a separate planning division under the State Board of Water Engineers. The di-

Knight May Seek U.S. Senate Seat

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Renewed reports that Gov. Goodwin Knight would bid for a U. S. Senate seat instead of seeking re-election next year created fresh turmoil in California's hectic political campaign today. San Francisco and Los Angeles newspapers, quoting both Washington sources and "friends of the governor," said the ailing Republican chief executive sent that word from his out-of-state vacation hideaway.

Such a decision would, in effect, hand the Republican nomination for governor to Sen. William F. Knowland and spare the GOP a bitter intraparty battle in next June's primary. Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown is unopposed on the Democratic ticket. There was no direct confirmation from the 69-year-old governor. He left for a three-week rest Monday on doctor's orders after saying he still intended to seek re-election. Knight said then he had rejected overtures to run for the Senate.

Mother Protests Paddling Of Son

DALLAS (AP)—An elementary school principal yesterday told an irate Dallas mother who said her son was beaten by other pupils while a teacher held him that there would be no recurrence. The mother complained that 10 or 12 other youngsters beat her son "black and blue" on instructions from the teacher. She said her son had been accused of talking in the rest room.

Principal Charles O. Chowning said: "The teacher involved is a capable teacher and a very good one. We have taken action to prevent any recurrence." Dr. W. T. White, school superintendent, said school board policy is that corporal punishment, when deemed necessary, ordinarily is administered only by principals.

Klansman Gets 20 Years On Mutilation Of Negro

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—The first of six Ku Klux Klansmen has been convicted in the mutilation of a Negro man, and the trial of five others will begin next week. Joe E. Pritchett, 31-year-old construction worker, was convicted of mayhem yesterday by a circuit court jury which deliberated about 40 minutes.

Judge Alta King sentenced the Klansman to 20 years imprisonment—the maximum sentence. He was convicted as the "boss man" of a Klan detail assigned to test the courage of another Klansman, B. A. Floyd, who was to have been promoted to captain in the Klan lair. After the jury's verdict was read, Pritchett's attorney filed notice of appeal, and King set bond at $20,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Ferguson, Amarillo, shown left and right of Dr. Carl Bates, their pastor at Amarillo, have given their 60-acre farm near Hereford to Wayland Baptist College, Southwestern Baptist Seminary and First Baptist Church at Amarillo. Under a trust agreement they will receive a lifetime income from the transfer of the $200,000 piece of property. At their deaths three separate endowment funds will be established with $25,000 each to Wayland and the church and the remaining amount to the seminary.

with mayhem and assault with intent to murder, but the second charge against Pritchett was dropped at the request of the prosecution. Others to face trial besides Griffin, Miller and Floyd are Jesse Mabry and Grover McCullough. Mabry and McCullough worked for fabricating, aircraft and construction companies. Mabry was one of six men accused in an attack on singer Nat (King) Cole as the Negro entertainer sang on the stage of Municipal Auditorium last year. In that case, Mabry and three others were fined $50 on disorderly conduct charges. Two others pleaded guilty to assault and were fined $100.

Stubbornly neutralist after breaking all ties with the Netherlands, Indonesia rejected American offers of military aid. Because there is no alliance or even a mutual aid agreement with the United States, any direct American military intervention would be damned as imperialism and will be avoided scrupulously. Americans involved in holding the line against Communist expansions in southeast Asia are also concerned about Laos and Cambodia, two of the three originally non-Communist states that emerged from the breakup of the French colonial empire in Asia. Laos is a natural pressure point for the Communists, for it touches Communist Vietnam as well as the still free countries of Thailand and Viet Nam. A strong Laos could prove a buffer or a bulwark, but in Red hands it would provide an opening wedge between Thailand and Viet Nam, both friendly to the United States. The royal Laotian government, recognized by the United States, is even now dickering with a Communist Laotian faction whose leaders were trained for their task in Red China. In Cambodia, the government seems stable and the people friendly, but here again the slow

ICBA At C

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Intercontinental Bank Association (ICBA) has disclosed an interlocking relationship between the bank and the U.S. Navy. The bank is said to have provided the Navy with a $100 million loan to purchase the Jupiter-A missile. ICBM Test-Fired At Cape Canaveral

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon has disclosed the test firing of an intercontinental guided missile—the Snark—at the Cape Canaveral, Fla., range.

In an announcement last night, the Defense Department reported the firing but gave no details.

The Snark is an Air Force missile which is subsonic in flight but dives on its target at supersonic speeds. Last spring, a Snark refused to respond to controls and was last reported headed into the Brazilian jungles.

Last night's Snark announcement followed by several hours a Defense Department report that a Jupiter-A missile, fired Wednesday night at the Florida base, was destroyed by a safety officer because of a malfunction.

The Jupiter-A, an Army device, was described as a version of the Redstone missile. The original Redstone had a range of 200 miles but the Jupiter-A is said to have a considerably greater range.

The regular Jupiter is classified as an intermediate range ballistic missile, in the 1,500-mile category.

Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, said yesterday the intercontinental ballistic missile does not make other weapons obsolete.

"It's a good thing we have many ways of getting to them—the Russians—he said in an interview after returning from an inspection of the 7th Fleet in the Pacific.

Among the other ways, he listed long range Air Force bombers, "all kinds of missiles, including Navy missiles—and, of course, Navy Air."

In Baltimore last night, the Air Force's Air Research and Development Command said it has duplicated in a new wind tunnel the high temperatures, pressures and velocities encountered by missiles reentering the atmosphere.

The command said the tunnel, called "Hotshot," has generated temperatures in excess of 15,000 degrees Fahrenheit, pressures of more than 20,000 pounds per

Showers Dot South Plains

By The Associated Press

Showers dotted the South Plains as Friday brought continued warm and cloudy weather over Texas.

The Weather Bureau said the shower activity probably would spread eastward across the rest of the state but any heavy or prolonged rains appeared unlikely.

Warm air fanned by south and southeast winds further offset a cool front originally expected to move into Texas by Thursday. Forecasters looked for it to turn cooler in West Texas Saturday and to start cooling in North Central Texas.

Top temperatures Thursday varied from 72 at Childress to an almost summery 91 at Laredo, with a number of other readings in the 80s.

Friday started warmer than the day before. Before-dawn marks ranged from 58 at Salt Flat to 72 at Brownsville.

During the 24 hours ending at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, the only measurable rainfall was .10 inch at Salt Flat. Showers were sighted outside El Paso.

Report Party Expels Zhukov

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Diplomatic reports reaching Belgrade from Moscow today said that Marshal Georgi Zhukov has been expelled from the Soviet Communist party's Central Committee and its ruling Presidium—the party politburo.

The reports said Zhukov, whose dismissal from the post of Soviet defense minister was announced last Saturday, would be given a lesser military post. It was indicated, however, that the World War II hero might not accept the humiliation.

An announcement from the party Presidium telling the Soviet people—and the world—of a new assignment for Zhukov has been expected almost hourly for several days.

The continuing delay in the announcement strengthened the impression that the marshal refused to step down quietly.

Moscow correspondents of Western Communist papers have reported, in dispatches cleared by the Soviet censors, that Zhukov hindered the work of Soviet Communist party political workers in the army. There also have been suggestions that he had ambitions to use his reputation as a military hero to spring to supreme power in the Soviet Union—challenging party chieftain Nikita Khrushchev.

Wilson Points Up Law-Abiding Trait

GILMER, Tex. (AP)—Atty. Gen. Will Wilson said yesterday one point favorable to industrial growth in Texas was that Texans were essentially a law abiding people who respect their neighbors.

Wilson made the indirect reference to violence at strike-ridden Lone Star in a speech opening the Gilmer Yamboree, a sweet potato festival. Gilmer is about 25 miles southwest of Lone Star.

Think you'd like to be a witch?

Members of the Civic Theatre can't promise you'll qualify as an actual witch, but they have several such openings in their forthcoming play, "Bell Book and Candle." Also, there are roles as more normal characters to be cast.

Readings for parts will take place Saturday and Sunday at 2 p.m. each day, in the offices of the Chamber of Commerce, located in the Permian Building. All residents are invited to participate (Knowledge of black magic is no criterion—just an interest in theatre work.)

Experimental Crop Duster Crashes

BROWNSVILLE (AP)—An experimental aircraft designed for crop dusting crashed yesterday during a test watched by a federal aviation inspector.

The pilot, Leland Snow, 27, of Harlingen, parachuted to safety. The plane was a Snow S-2, the second airplane designed and built by the pilot. It was a total loss.

H. O. Lipscomb, air safety inspector for the Civil Aeronautics Administration, said the left wing collapsed during a dive.

Better Vaccine

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—The U.S. surgeon general, Dr. Leroy E. Burney, said last night a more powerful vaccine against the Asian flu should be ready for release by the last of November.

Nixon May Be First Target Of Negro Resettlement Plan

ATLANTA (AP)—A member of a Georgia organization formed to resettle Negroes in exclusive Northern white neighborhoods says Vice President Richard Nixon may be the group's first target.

But the founder of the group, American Resettlement Foundation, Inc., said any such report was entirely without foundation.

State Welfare Director Alan Kemper, a charter member of the foundation, was asked about the Nixon report yesterday, and replied: "I would say Nixon is a pretty good candidate."

He declined, however, to be more specific.

State Rep. A. A. Fowler Jr. of Douglasville, founder of the organization, told The Associated Press there was nothing to the report.

"It is absolutely without foundation," Fowler declared.

Kemper said a Negro family, preferably a large one, will be moved into a swank Northern white residential area by Christmas and that Fowler had obtained an option on a house in the $75,000 class in what he described as one of the outstanding cities in the United States.

Reports had located the house in the Wesley Heights area of northwest Washington where the Nixons live and had identified the owner as Mrs. Mary H. Renshaw.

Fowler said the foundation has several transactions in various cities in the process of being completed, but he reiterated he could not be more specific at this time.

"We have many volunteers helping us all over the country," Fowler said. "They are helping locate and lease homes and to raise money. They feel, as I do, that it is time for the race question to stop being played with as a political football."

The foundation for moving Negroes into white sections of Northern cities was formed by Fowler, Kemper and Roy Harris of Augusta. Harris recently was elected president of the Georgia States Rights Council, a group of segregationists.

The foundation was granted a 35-year charter by Fulton County (Atlanta) Superior Court Judge Luther Alverson Oct. 11.

Four days later, Fowler said, the first group of 5,000 letters were mailed out asking for contributions. He said the letters went mostly to Southerners, but also were sent to persons in the North, East and West who previously had expressed interest in the plan.

Fowler said last night that "quite a bit of money has come in and more is coming in every day." But, he said, "I've been

1958 Chrysler Line Has New Windsor

The 1958 Chrysler Windsor four-door hardtop is all new in a lower price range. It features dual headlights as standard equipment, aircraft-type bubble windshields, new power steering, pushbutton TorqueFlite transmission and Torsion-Aire ride. Chrysler's new models also include the New Yorker, Saratoga and new station wagon designs. The 1958 offerings are currently being shown at Lone Star Motor, 606 E. 3rd.

NOW BEING DISPLAYED

Chrysler's '58 Automobiles Have Exclusive Innovations

The 1958 Chrysler line, introducing a new Windsor series and two new nine-passenger station wagons, is on display today, and the new models are to be seen at Lone Star Motor, 606 E. 3rd.

Combining such innovations as Auto-Pilot, a new pushbutton automatic driver assist, aircraft-type bubble windshields and improved full-time power steering, the 1958 Chrysler are offered in the New Yorker and Saratoga series, plus a new Windsor series in a lower price range.

Beautiful new grilles, plus side and rear styling detail refinements give the new Chrysler added glamour. Interiors are all new with luxurious fabrics and leathers color-keyed to a wide range of exterior colors. Improved V-8 engines give added performance and economy with new 10 to 1 compression ratios.

The new cars offer advanced sure-traction differential, captive air tires and dual headlights. They feature award-winning four-billion-mile-tested Torsion-Air Ride as standard equipment. There is also the new Chrysler 300-D with optional fuel injection.

For 1958 Chrysler has introduced Auto-Pilot, an unusual new safety, comfort and economy feature which differs from any speed control device previously marketed.

Auto-Pilot allows selection of any cruising speed by means of a dial on the instrument panel. When the car has attained this pre-selected speed a warning back-pressure develops on the accelerator pedal.

By pushing a button recessed in the speed selector, the driver arranges automatic throttle control. The driver can then remove his foot from the accelerator pedal. Automatic control is cancelled by a touch on the brake pedal.

A new dual air conditioning unit for extremely hot weather conditions more than doubles the flow of cold air. It uses two separate evaporator and blower units, one located in the engine compartment and the other on a shelf in the luggage compartment.

Fourteen models in three series are offered. The Chrysler Windsor is available in a four-door sedan, two-door hardtop, four-door hardtop, two-seat Town and Country station wagon and three-seat Town and Country station wagon.

They are available in a choice of 18 new colors and 45 color combinations. High swept fender fins shape out an aircraft-derived dart shape.

For 1958 Chrysler offers new three-seat, nine-passenger Town and Country station wagons as well as conventional two-seat wagons in its Windsor and New Yorker lines. Fitted with a full-width third seat facing rearward in the observation deck area, the new unrestricted vision for third-seat passengers.

All Chryslers for 1958 are powered by modified V-8 engines with new 10-to-one compression ratios for greater performance and increased fuel economy. The higher compression ratio makes possible new and more economical 2.93-to-one rear axle ratios, which require fewer engine revolutions for each mile of driving.

The Windsor series has a 190-horsepower engine. The Saratoga series has a 310-horsepower engine. Both engines have a bore diameter of 3.94 inches and displacement of 354 cubic inches. The First Power engine in the New Yorker series has a 345-horsepower engine, a bore diameter of 4.0 inches and displacements of 392 cubic inches.

DAV Sets Fund Drive Saturday

Disabled American Veterans of Big Spring will stage their annual fund-raising effort tomorrow.

Each year the group raises funds for assisting needy disabled veterans and their families by selling the miniature forget-me-not flowers. Saturday has been proclaimed "Forget-Me-Not Day" in Big Spring by Mayor G. W. Dabney.

Eldon Cook, commander of the local DAV post, said members of the organization and other volunteers will offer the flowers throughout the day on downtown streets.

All of the money secured will be expended locally, he said.

Dig At Graham

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A Methodist churchman has taken an obnoxious dig at evangelist Billy Graham. "We are not going to save this world with a few sporadic evangelistic campaigns in New York or anywhere else," Bishop Gerald Kennedy of Los Angeles said yesterday.

That Whatnik Was A Fakenik

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Now about that "whatnik" with the Russian lettering.

It's a fakenik, comrade—a good old American practical joke. The whatnik, three feet long with fins and a spinner, was found Monday alongside a mountain highway by a motorist. He turned the gadget over to authorities.

Lettering on the whatnik's side was translated as Russian words for "Russian government." However, the Air Force checked the object and reported yesterday that the whatnik's parts were as American as the corner war surplus store. In fact, that's where most of them probably came from, a spokesman said.

He added that the whatnik apparently was planted by a practical joker who had read too many space satellite stories.

Salesman Shot In Terror Ride

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Two detectives found a wounded Chicago salesman locked in the trunk of his blood-spattered car here last night.

The salesman, Robert H. Martin, 57, had been shot twice and savagely beaten in what police described as a terror ride that began in Camden some 70 miles away and lasted almost eight hours.

Martin, who had been robbed of $100, his shoes and overcoat, said he was forced into the trunk at gunpoint after his assailant threw out 10 pieces of luggage to make room for him.

He was taken to Martland Medical Center in serious condition with a possible skull fracture, bullet wounds in his right leg and neck and a broken jaw.

The dazed salesman was freed when narcotics officers Robert Ginrich and William Suckey Jr. heard him frantically beating against the metal trunk lid of his car as it stood parked here.

Police said Martin's false teeth—knocked from his mouth by one swipe of the assailant's gun—were scattered like kernels of corn across the floor boards of the car.

Martin said a Negro was his assailant.

Missing No Bets On Delinquent Taxes

BAYTOWN (AP)—City Atty. George Chandler isn't missing any bets to collect delinquent taxes on personal property.

He said yesterday the city will sue at least two individuals who owe only 25 cents as well as some owing several hundred dollars. The 25-cent levies are on their watches.

Network Cancels Bob Hope Show

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Bob Hope's television show scheduled for Thursday, Nov. 7, has been canceled, NBC announced.

Earlier, Timex Corp. had withdrawn sponsorship of the Hope program because he appeared as a guest on Frank Sinatra's ABC-TV show. The sponsor of the Sinatra show is another watch firm, Bulova.

Ex-Con Victim Of Gangland Slaying

CHICAGO (AP)—An ex-convict tavern owner, who four months ago fatally shot one of three men who attempted to assassinate him, was slain in a burst of machine-gun and shotgun blasts early today.

Victim of the gangland slaying was Willard O. Bates, 56, who was riddled with shots as he drove his white 1957 station wagon into the driveway of his home in suburban Lyons.

Police said Bates' slayers, apparently armed with a machine-gun and repeating shotguns, fired several shots. Bates was hit in the legs, groin and body.

More than a dozen slugs pierced his car. At least 40 slugs shattered the picture window, living room and den on the front side of the seven room ranch style home.

Bates' body was found by his wife, Joan, 36, seconds after the assassins sped away in a car. "I thought they were after me too when those bullets began hitting the house," Mrs. Bates told a reporter. "I knew they got my husband. It sounded like there was

Dean Urges More Work On Geriatrics

CLEVELAND (AP) — A medical school dean said today that "a serious scandal" may soon develop if medical schools don't do more to meet the increasing health problems of older people. This was the view of Dr. Chauncey D. Leake, assistant medical school dean at Ohio State University, at the 10th annual meeting of the Gerontological Society. Gerontology is the scientific study of old age.

"Medical schools," he said, "have the prime responsibility in preparing their graduates for a tremendous jump in geriatric practice."

"Unless this responsibility is promptly met, there may come a serious scandal in medical affairs which could adversely affect the traditionally high esteem in which people hold the medical profession."

Leake said the challenge to meet the problem results from the success of modern medicine in lengthening life.

Old people, he said, "do not know how to take care of themselves and no one else is prepared to do so, either."

The training in medical schools for treating older people, Leake said, could become a major part of the effort of men who plan to go into general medical practice.

"The general practitioner may aid in direct preparation of his patients for old age, by regular physical examinations, judicious counseling, and by specific programs of training in diet, exercise, mental relaxation, economic planning and human relations."

"The general practitioner," he said, "might indeed become again the personification of the ideal physician as guide, counselor and friend. To accomplish this mission medical schools will need careful organization and skillful planning for specific training programs in geriatrics."

In another speech, a University of Minnesota professor said that an individual's physical effort doesn't affect his earning capacity except for a small minority of jobs.

"Consequently," Dr. Ernst Simonson, associate professor of physiology and hygiene, "there is no physical justification for the arbitrary compulsory retirement age of 65."

"It can and probably will be raised with increasing pressure from the aging population."

3 Airmen Held In Forgery Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government agents have disclosed the arrest of three Air Force enlisted men in connection with the forging and cashing of at least $100,000 in Air Force checks in 1955-56.

Secret Service chief U. E. Baughman yesterday listed two of the men as S. Sgt. Charles A. Evans, 27, of Dyersburg, Tenn., and T. Sgt. Theodore Barry, 28, of Louisville, Ky. Barry's real name was given as Theodore Goldberg.

The Secret Service office in San Francisco last night announced the arrest of a third man in the case, Airman 2C James R. Hoyle 21. Hoyle's address was not given.

Baughman said Evans and Barry were stationed at Parks Air Force Base near Livermore, Calif., when the alleged forgeries occurred. Presumably Hoyle also was stationed at Parks.

Barry was quoted as saying he opened a restaurant in Livermore in August, 1956 to make check cashing easier, and he said $10,000 was lost in the operation of the restaurant.

The Secret Service said Evans worked in the finance office at the base handling paychecks, and that he cashed a few checks with forged endorsements.

The Secret Service went into the case after authorities noticed evidence of irregularities at Parks. Barry was arrested at Denver Oct. 2 and is being held under $5,000 bond. Evans was brought back from Japanese duty and arraigned Oct. 21 in Denver. He is under $1,000 bond.

Saud's Mother Spikes Nuptials

CAIRO (AP) — The newspaper Al Akhbar said today that Saudi Arabian King Saud's mother put the 55-year old monarch's romance with a 19-year old Lebanese school girl into cold storage.

The paper's editor, Mustafa Amin, reported from Beirut that the King's mother said "No!" when he took home a picture of a pretty, dark-haired Ferial Solh, a niece of Lebanese Premier Sami Solh.

Saud's desire to marry Ferial was reported a week ago from Beirut, after he concluded a state visit to Lebanon.

Saud reportedly has four wives. Moslem law allows him, as well as 40 sons, an unstated number of daughters and between 50 and 100 concubines. However, under Moslem law he can shed a wife at any time by saying "I divorce thee" three times.

The King returned to Saudi Arabia Oct. 20 with the photo of Ferial.

He bowed to his mother's will and orders were issued to Saudi Arabian embassies abroad to deny the news of a planned marriage, Amin added.

Saud's father, King Ibn Saud, who died in 1953, married 155 times and fathered 40 sons and more than 100 daughters. In accordance with the Koran, however, he never took more than four wives at a time.

Student Union Building Site Is Pegged By HCJC Trustees

Location for the new student union building at Howard County Junior College was spotted by trustees Thursday evening.

It will be situated a short distance east of the music building but beyond a street which will be opened. This street will be a continuation of the drive back of the present student union building and will proceed in a northerly direction to intersect at right angles with Kentucky Way and will be parallel to Birdwell Lane.

Plans for the building are being rushed, President W. A. Hunt told trustees. Although no official action was taken at this time, trustees let it be known that they wanted the building named after Mrs. Dora Roberts, whose establishment of a foundation furnished the means by which the building will be constructed.

In other action taken by the board, the appointment of E. B. Pierson as assistant dean of the night school was approved. This would be a purely night time obligation, said Dr. Hunt, and would be at the rate of $150 per month. The evening school and adult education program, together with duties as assistant to the president which occupied his time all day as well as in the evenings, had made assistance for Dr. Marvin Baker, night school director, necessary, said Dr. Hunt.

Minor Changes In Weather Pattern

By The Associated Press

The nation's weather pattern showed only minor changes today, with scattered areas of precipitation in the West and cloudy and fairly mild in the Eastern half of the country.

A mass of cool air from the Pacific spread eastward across the Northwest section of the country the last 24 hours. It moved inland along the North Pacific Coast and spread through the Rockies and Northern Plains.

Rain and snow accompanied the cool air eastward, with precipitation continuing behind the cool front. Snow flurries fell in the northern Rockies and light rain sprinkled scattered areas of the Northern Plains. The rains headed into the Lake Superior region.

Rain, drizzle and showers also were reported in the Southwest and in the Central and Southern Rockies. Rainfall ranged from heavy to light over wide areas.

Acquisition of choir robes and supplies for the HCJC choir was authorized. So was the purchase of a floor maintenance machine in the approximate cost of $375.

Trustees also approved repayment of a note, made to cover current operating expenses during the first month of school before current taxes started coming in.

There was some talk about location of future buildings, as they might become necessary. However, this was purely in the discussion stage.

Lamesa High School Holds Homecoming

LAMESA (SC) — This is homecoming day at Lamesa High School.

Ex-students will gather at 6 p.m. in the high school cafeteria for a program preceding the Lamesa-Lakeview football game, which starts at 7:30 p.m. Graduating classes of 1951, 1952 and 1953 will be honored.

All former students of Lamesa High are invited to attend the program, said Sue Green of the Student Council.

Ike Visits With West Point Buddies

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower travels to West Point, N. Y., today for a reunion at the military academy with some of his 1916 classmates. He also will see Army's football team play Colgate tomorrow.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower arranged to take off in mid-afternoon aboard his private plane, Columbine III. After a scheduled 90-minute flight to Stewart Air Force Base, they go by automobile to the nearby academy and stay overnight at the Thayer Hotel.

This is Eisenhower's first trip back to his alma mater since June 1955 when he returned for the 40th reunion of his graduation class and also delivered that year's commencement address.

Tonight the Eisenhowers plan a quiet dinner in their hotel suite, probably with a small group of friends.

SAC Heavyweights Trail In Contest

FORT WORTH (AP) — Heavyweights of the Strategic Air Command trailed one or more medium bomber rivals going into the second round of their world series of practice bombing today.

Scores posted while crews of the smaller craft still were in the air showed the best of the B36 and B52 entries in the heavy bomber class was 31 points behind a B47 entry from the 22nd Bomb Wing at March AFB, Calif.

Twenty big bombers are striking mock air blows from Carswell AFB here while 66 B47 and RB47 stage simulated raids from Pinecastle AFB, Fla., on Kansas City, St. Louis and Atlanta.

Trappers Present Mamie With Coat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maine trappers have hung a new fur coat in Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower's closet at the White House.

The coat—made from 17 beaver pelts presented by the Maine Trappers Assn.—was exhibited at a special White House session for photographers yesterday.

Officials were careful to point out that Mrs. Eisenhower received only the 17 pelts as a gift. She paid $385 to have them sewn into a three-quarter model with rolled cuff sleeves, valued at about $1,800.

Oil Workers Eye Danger Of Layoffs

DENVER (AP) — O. A. Knight, president of the Oil Workers Union, said today his members should prepare now for a shorter work week "to be applied when needed."

Knight wrote union district directors to survey the prospects of a layoff of members soon, the "attitudes of members toward this danger and their ideas about meeting it."

"There is considerable evidence that sizable layoffs may be forthcoming in the near future," Knight said. "We need to take a close look at the situation now to see what the union must do to protect the jobs of our members."

"Layoffs in oil and chemical industries will be caused principally by the installation of new equipment and automation. Also contributing to the danger of unemployment is a general softening of business conditions."

"It's time to take a serious look at the matter of a shorter work week which would spread the work and prevent heavy layoffs."

Knight said he would not recommend that the union seek a shorter week through negotiations.

"This problem is too complicated to solve hastily," he said.

Baptist Temple To Open Drive For Building Finances Sunday

A finance campaign to provide facilities for a growing congregation will be launched Sunday at the Baptist Temple Church.

Rev. A. R. Posey, pastor, said an effort will be made to contact every church member with request for a pledge. Response to the Sunday appeal probably will determine the fate of the campaign.

The congregation is reserving final approval of expansion plans until results of Sunday's requests for pledges are known.

Goal of the effort is approximately $40,000 to provide a new educational building. The proposed structure will cover 6,000 square feet of floor space and will provide accommodations for about 210 persons.

At Park Methodist Church, a week's revival will be started Sunday morning. Preacher for the services will be Dr. H. Clyde Smith, Big Spring District Superintendent.

The West Texas District of Ministers of the Church of God will meet Thursday and Friday in San Angelo according to Rev. C. W. Hutchins of the First Church of God.

All services will be held at the Church of God in San Angelo. The first session will begin at 7:30 p. m. Thursday.

Baptist
"Hell As It Appears to God" is the sermon topic for Rev. A. R. Posey at the Baptist Temple Sunday morning. In the evening he will speak on "Excuses." The church will endeavor to reach each member to get pledges for the building fund that will be used in erecting an educational building.

Rev. H. L. Bingham will speak on "Who is God?" at the morning hour at the Hillcrest Baptist Church. "What Will Happen When Jesus Returns in the Air?" is the subject for the evening sermon at College Baptist Rev. H. W. Bartlett has chosen to discuss "Is Your Religion Adequate?" in the morning and in the evening he will talk on "What Makes a Church Grow?"

Rev. H. B. Murray at the North Side Baptist will have as his morning sermon topic "The Five Daring Sins Against the Holy Spirit." His evening topic will be "I Believe in God."

Dr. P. D. O'Brien will speak at the First Baptist Church in the morning on "Value of Personal Experience." I Thess. 3:21, and in the evening he will preach on "Not Your, But You, 2 Cor. 12:14."

Catholic
Mass will be said by the Rev. Fr. William J. Moore at 7 a. m. and 11 a. m. at St. Thomas Catholic Church. Confession will be heard from 5:30 to 6 p. m. and 8 p. m. on Saturday. Benediction will follow the last mass.

Christian
The Rev. Clyde Nichols has announced that he will preach on the topic, "The Galilean Chapter," Acts 1:6-11 Sunday morning at the First Christian Church. His sermon for the evening will be on "Unable To Receive" from the text, John 14:12. Don Jones will bring the special music at the morning service.

Christian Science
The way to overcome sin through spiritual understanding of God, Divine Love, will be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Everlasting Punishment" will include Christ Jesus' parable, Luke 15, of the prodigal son who "wasted his substance with riotous living."

Passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" include the following: (242:15). "In patient obedience to a patient God, let us labor to dissolve with the universal solvent of Love the adamant of error—self-will, self-justification, and self-love—which wars against spirituality and is the law of sin and death."

The Golden Text is from Ezekiel 18:30. "Repent, and turn yourselves from all your transgressions; so iniquity shall not be your ruin."
The congregation at the Main Street Church of Christ will hear E. C. Cudd deliver his sermon, "Remove Not The Ancient Landmarks," at the morning worship period. His evening subject has been announced as "Five Peaks of John 14."

Church Of God

PAUL EXPLAINS MEANING OF THE LORD'S SUPPER AND HOW IT SHOULD BE OBSERVED

Scripture—I Corinthians 11.
By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
IN THIS LESSON, which may not be too easy for the younger children, and possibly the older ones, Dr. Wilbur M. Smith suggests that it be introduced by being reminded "that no great leader of worldwide influence ever asked, or was expected, to be remembered regularly by some specific celebration, the rules for which he laid down." But the Christian church, every Lord's day, around the world, celebrates with millions partaking, what is called the Lord's Supper, in commemoration of Christ's holy death. It is the Lord's Supper which forms the principle subject of our lesson today.

In the first part of the chapter assigned to the lesson, Paul takes up the matter of women's place in the church, a subject that we will treat briefly.

Paul emphasizes that man is the head and the place of the woman is submission to him. But "they are both equal in the sight so-called partaking of the Lord's Supper is far from the example Christ set. Instead of the sacred nature of the sacrament being emphasized, it was made into a feast, where members of a certain "set" brought their food and shared it with one another, and the poor had no food and no part.

Paul reminds them of the evening of Christ's last day on earth, when, in the upper room, He and His disciples gathered and He knew Judas would betray Him. The occasion was to be a feast, and Jesus gave thanks for the bread, He broke it, and said, "Take it; this is My body, which is broken for you; and this do in remembrance of Me." In the same manner He offered the cup, saying "This is the new Testament in My blood; this do ye as often as ye drink it, in remembrance of Me. For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do show the Lord's death till He come."

MEMORY VERSE
"But let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup."—I Corinthians 11:28.

of God, but the man does have authority over the woman." The women of our time are likely to dispute Paul's assertion. Most modern women in America, England and Europe claim an equal partnership with their husbands, in all matters pertaining to home affairs, church participation, politics, etc.

However, when a man and woman attend church, the man always uncovers his head, while the woman remains covered. Paul says, "If a woman have long hair, it is a glory; but she should cover her hair if she prays to God or prophesies."

Paul is scandalized to learn that the congregations of the Corinthian church are broken up into divisions and factions, disagreeing with one another, and "When ye come together (it is) not for the better, but for the worse." He rebukes them sternly for this state of things.

He has also heard that their

Mormon Leader To Speak At Midland

Elder Henry D. Moyle, member of the Council of the Twelve Apostles of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, will be the speaker for special services at the Midland Branch Chapel of the church at 7:30 p. m. today.

William Sant, branch mission president, said everyone interested is invited to attend.

Elder Moyle, of Salt Lake City, will be accompanied on his visit to this area by Lincoln F. Hanks of Salt Lake City, world mission president for the church.

In addition to being a member of the Council of the Twelve Apostles, Elder Moyle is chairman of the General Committee of the Church Welfare Program. In the latter capacity since 1936, he has directed the voluntary production and preservation of vast quantities of food, clothing and other items by members of the church. Since World War II, thousands of tons of the materials have been shipped to Europe for relief of members there.

An attorney, he holds credits from the Universities of Utah, Chicago, Harvard and the University of Freiburg in Saxony. Formerly a practicing attorney, he also served for 25 years as a member of the Law School faculty at the University of Utah and has been president of three oil refining companies. During World War II, he was a member of the executive committee of the Petroleum Industry War Council and is now a member of the National Petroleum Council and is a director of the American Petroleum Institute.

During World War I, he was a captain in the infantry. He later served as assistant secretary of the U. S. Treasury under President Wilson and as U. S. Commissioner of Customs under President Roosevelt.

Give God A Chance—God Will Open Doors For You!

TIED!

Maybe no one has ever actually bound your wrists with a rope. But haven't you, at times, felt as if you were literally hand tied? You struggle and strain with your problems and anxieties, and you are completely unable to get free.

Such moments come to everyone, and they are not easy to face. It's simple to be serene when things are going well. But when your hands are tied—when you feel helpless, even hopeless—then you begin to realize life cannot be lived alone.

It's then that you know how important Faith is—how it is something you absolutely must have. With Faith to sustain you, you inevitably begin to see your way out. Without it, you flounder.

Turn to the Church—not just because you are troubled, but because it can give you spiritual freedom.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

A Bible Thought For Today

Blessed are they that hunger and thirst after righteousness, for they shall be filled. (Matt. 5:6)

We Mouth It Differently

In a state as big as Texas, whose population was originally Old South, later to be infused with various racial and linguistic stocks from the East and North, and even from Europe, a variety of speech patterns must be noticeable to tourists and visitors who get about a good deal over the state's 265,000 square miles.

The Southern influence is still strong in deep East Texas, much less apparent in West Texas. For want of a more accurate line of demarcation, it may be said that the Trinity River is the dividing line between the two speech patterns. East of that line, people still ignore the "r," and west of it, the "r" is reduplicated. In West Texas among the natives at least "war" is just plain war, instead of "wah," as the native East Texas is apt to pronounce it. The West Texas is also likely to refer to "the Civil War," while his East Texas brethren insist it should be "the Wah Between the States." Here is a double differentiation, one of accent and one of outlook.

We West Texans have a curious habit of accentuating the "g" in Big Spring and the "f" in Fort Worth. With us it is almost invariably "BIG Spring" and "FORT Stockton." With so many "Bigs" and "Forts" around Texas, you'd think we'd emphasize the last word instead of the first, but such is not the case.

There is an accent received the recognition that it is due. It can be called the Gulf-Influence and it is heard in West Texas, Western Oklahoma, New Mexico, Western Kansas and Eastern Colorado. It probably has its foundation in the old cattle drive days, for the old trail drivers spread their influence over the region named, and on into Wyoming and Montana, where it endures to this day.

Texasans seldom notice the differences in accent between East and West Texas; Panhandle and South Texas, but they must strike the stranger at once.

Not All Push Button—Just Yet

Advocates of the theory that we should put most of our defense eggs in the guided missile basket, on the ground that manned bombers are obsolete or obsolete, were given a jolt this week by Planes, an organ of the Aircraft Industries Association.

Granting that such an organization and publication would have a naturally selfish interest in defending manned bombers against guided missiles as an instrument of long-range warfare, Planes' argument still makes a lot of sense.

It starts off by saying that it may prove possible to destroy an incoming ICBM with an artificial sand cloud or with a nuclear fireball, argues that a guided missile may prove to be more devastating than the ICBM and less easy to defend against.

"The very nature of a ballistic missile—its adherence to a precommitted course—makes it possible to compute its course and effect an interception," Planes continues.

"An ICBM has a relatively small approach corridor to be defended. The particular target area in the U.S. from any launching site in Russia would be an elliptically-shaped, curving cone inclined toward Russia at an angle of 30 degrees. A defense system could keep this cone under constant watch and intercept missiles coming through it."

Russia, of course, could use the same system against ICBMs launched from the U.S. or other free world sites.

But a manned bomber, carrying the same or greater destructive force than an ICBM, could approach its target from any angle, aim its missile from a safe distance, and fire away, unimpeded by any previously determined "cone" of approach. Or it could change its target and its course as conditions dictated.

Those who seem disposed to write off the strategic bomber as outdated, likely to be dispensed with within three to five years, will find no comfort in Planes' argument.

Cutting back production on strategic bombers in the theory they have served their usefulness could be utter folly. At best it will be five years of longer before the ICBMs can be brought to a reasonable degree of dependability and effectiveness and adequate stockpiles laid down. Meanwhile our SAC will continue as the greatest deterrent to attack, and the most dependable instrument of retaliation. It would be tragic if wishful thinking and unproved theories should relegate it to a secondary place in our arsenal.

Arms Race Means More Expenditures

As this is written, there has been no news out of Moscow which explains the Zhukov affair. The action, which must have involved much planning and arranging, was carried out in perfect secrecy. Nobody got wind of it, not the foreign intelligence services, the diplomats, the newspapers, the Communist parties abroad. It is not probable that any of the satellite governments had any advance knowledge.

Since we do not know what has happened, or why it has happened, we can only guess, and not very confidently at that, about what it may mean. In the old days, a change in the top offices of the state usually meant a change in the policy of the Soviet government. Thus Molotov replaced Litvinov at the Foreign Office not long before World War II began with the signature of the Hitler-Stalin pact. After Stalin's death and the execution of Beria, there came a decided relaxation of the internal terror of the Soviet state. It is natural to wonder then whether this affair—which denies Zhukov of his administrative control of the army—means that Khrushchev intends to follow a policy which Zhukov opposes.

It is conceivable and even probable that this is true. But to say this does not take us very far. For we do not really know what are Zhukov's policies in Eastern Europe and in the Middle East, and what are Khrushchev's. If we think of Zhukov as the traditional Russian soldier and Khrushchev as the successful politician on his way up, it is probable that the old soldier is more interested in holding on to the Russian strategic position in Eastern Europe, and that he is not willing to risk much to extend the Russian position in the Middle East. Khrushchev, conceivably, has the political situation which tells him that Eastern Europe can be kept within the Russian military system only by accepting the national Communism of men like Tito and Gomulka.

The Zhukov affair has distracted from the Eisenhower-Macmillan meeting in Washington. I am afraid that this was not difficult to do in view of the fact that the only acknowledged news on the conference was a long communique, composed of all the old tired generalities strung together with a little bit more than the normal rhetorical elegance.

However, on Sunday, Mr. Reston of the New York Times had a dispatch which really does throw light on what lies beneath the generalities. It is that if the NATO alliance is to keep up with the race of armaments, there will have to be a major review of United States Military expenditures and overseas commitments.

Mr. Reston's report indicated, if I read it correctly, that what we have to decide at home and with our allies is this: If we are to keep ahead with the new weapons, we cannot also subsidize at their present level the military establishments of all our allies in the whole network of pacts with which we are involved.

A great deal has been said about pooling and cooperation, and it is hardly arguable that in the field of basic science and technology, the more pooling and cooperation there is the better for all concerned. But this general idea, when it is applied to the race of armaments, contains within it certain political and military implications which may be very far-reaching. For when the scientists and engineers pool their knowledge and cooperate in the designing of the new weapons, like the big missiles with nuclear warheads, the crucial fact is that all, or almost all, of the hideously expensive devices are going to have to be financed and produced in the United States.

This means that we cannot also be expected to maintain conventional forces, or forces with tactical nuclear weapons, of decisive importance, and at the same time to subsidize balanced military establishments from Korea and Japan and Taiwan to Pakistan and Turkey and Western Europe. The inescapable corollary of cooperation is a division of labor—an understanding, in short, as to what we are to attend to and what the other allies are to attend to.

It is impossible for the United States to recover the lead in the race of armaments without a very considerable increase of expenditures. This will necessitate not only more appropriations for the Defense Department but also a re-allocation of the military objectives of the Defense Department.

There will be much to talk about at the NATO meeting in December, and in the budget conferences here which are already under way. All this has been precipitated, one may say, by Sputnik, by the demonstration that, with our energies and resources dispersed all over the globe, we are losing the race of armaments.

Hard Time For U.S. Spies

WASHINGTON—The FBI has penetrated the American Communist Party, American spies overseas are having a tougher time behind the Iron Curtain.

As for the getting information on what goes on among the leaders of the Russian Communist Party, President Eisenhower has indicated the best we can do is guess.

It's not news that the Central Intelligence Agency—this country's super-secret overseas spy organization—has trouble in the Communist world.

Two years ago a task force of reason-able CIA men was included in a Mark W. Clark exam-who conferred yesterday with Eisenhower, although he frequently attends such meetings of the National Security Council.

Eisenhower was rounded at his news conference Wednesday some weeks ago he expressed the view Zhukov's position among the Russian leaders seemed greatly strengthened.

Then over last weekend Zhukov was suddenly—and it seemed almost brutally—yanked out of his job as Russia's defense minister. And the Kremlin hasn't yet explained why or what is going to happen to Zhukov's wartime hero.

What Happened To Feminism?

NEW YORK—Whether feminism is bogged down, stale-mated, or deflated, the ladies have been brought off by partial success, become smug with small victories, lost their flaming revolutionary zeal.

Where are the turbulent feminists of yore? Where are the ladies who grimly paraded the streets in demand for equal rights, grimly stepping out of line only to slap the faces of jeremiads made by standers. Where are the enflamed Amazons of moral justice who dared jail terms, who boldly picked the White House?

They won the right to vote, but where did they go on from there in the right to hold public office? A few won judiciously, a scattering of ambassadorial posts, a handful of seats in Congress, some governorships.

They now can outvote men, but what woman ever has been a major contender for the vice presidency or the presidency? Have the girls lost faith in themselves? Has a little small doubt crept into their minds that maybe, after all, women aren't really equal to men in the really top posts?

Women now hold 22 million jobs and make up about a third of the nation's work force. But they haven't yet been able to enforce their demand for a pay scale equal to that of men in the same jobs. They have moved into all the professions but in dismayingly small numbers and at a dismayingly slow pace.

Texas Amid Fanfare Of Queen's Visit

By TEX EASLEY
WASHINGTON—Two small Texas boys who made good were in the midst of the fanfare surrounding the visit here of Queen Elizabeth II.

Wiley Buchanan, 43, a native of Grand Saline, is the State Department's chief of protocol. He state—managed the Queen's round of calls, and was the official greeter of Her Majesty when she arrived in this country from Canada.

Julius Walker, 30, born and reared in Plainview, did most of the work in setting up press, radio and television facilities for covering the Queen's stay.

The job fell into his lap when a State Department Press Division superior was called away because of a death in the family.

Mrs. Walker, the former Savannah Turner of Lubbock, said she was beginning to feel almost like a widow as a result of the whole affair. Her husband, a former Waco newspaperman, had to go to Williamsburg, Va., days ahead of the Queen's arrival there from Canada to make sure that all was in readiness for the reporters, TV and radio people.

"Even after the Queen came to Washington," she added, "I hardly got to see him. He had to keep on the go continuously. But, I did get to see him, and the Queen, at the big press reception here."

That reception, attended by more than 1,000, drew much commendation. British reporters said they had seen nothing like it. Here was their Queen, in an unprecedented manner, shaking hands of all those who filed by, commoners all and some with hands stained by typewriter ribbon ink.

After graduation from Plainview, Walker attended the University of Texas. He studied law at Baylor while before quitting to work as a reporter. Later, interviewing a State Department official recruiting employees, he decided to try that for a career.

His wife is on the staff of Rep. George Mahon of Lubbock. The Walkers, married a little more than a year ago, are parents of a daughter born Sept. 11, Savannah Waring Walker.

Around The Rim

There'll Be No Conquest Of Stars

Just some musings about the satellite and the kind of world our children will be living in:

The Russian Sputnik was fired Oct. 4, 1957, and settled into its orbit at 18,000 m.p.h. Had it been fired, not from the Earth's surface, but from its present orbit, it would have been to the moon about Oct. 18, 1957.

It would reach Venus in October, 1960, give or take a few weeks.

Likewise, it would reach Mars on or about Nov. 12, 1960.

If it were fired away from the Earth at 25,000 m.p.h. (the so-called escape velocity),

It would have reached the moon Oct. 14 or 15, 1957.

Venus, on or about Dec. 13, 1959.

Mars, on or about Aug. 10, 1964 (Think you could stand to be cooped up that long in a tight space?)

These figures, of course, are just estimates. There are a thousand and one factors that would change the final figures drastically, but by this time you have some idea of the immensity of the solar system.

But what about the immensity of the galaxy itself? Well, just suppose you could leave the Earth at 25,000 miles per hour headed for the nearest star. That's a speed of 7 miles per second. But it's 4.5 light years to the nearest star, a light year being the distance a beam of light travels in one year's time. Light has a velocity of 186,300 miles per second.

That means the nearest star is 3,263,205,600,000 miles away. It also means a spaceship traveling toward that star at 25,000 m.p.h. would need slightly more than 14,801 years to get there.

Space flight, limited to the upkeep of manned satellites, plus an occasional flying leap at the moon, is within our present means. Addition of nuclear power will increase our range to include the planets. But as long as Einstein's law that nothing can exceed the speed of light remains in force, there will be no stars to conquer.

Supposing we had a nuclear rocket and a fuel with exhaust velocity of 7 m.p.s.—a really tremendous surge of power. If the fuel-to-weight ratio were 10:1, theoretically we could gain a velocity of 10,908 m.p.s., or roughly one-tenth the speed of light. But at those velocities, Einstein's law of increase of mass becomes noticeable—so that, no matter how much power we add to the rocket, we may approach but never equal or exceed the speed of light.

Where does that leave us? Still out in deep space somewhere between the Earth and the nearest star, and our heads are growing whiter as we grow older.

The next few generations will see the exploration, possibly the exploitation and even settlement of the solar system. But man's conquest of the stars themselves will have to wait till another Einstein comes along.

It's Not Gals Who Make All That Money

Male pessimists are always moaning low over statistics proving that American women control 60 to 85 per cent of this nation's wealth. And female pessimists are always crying piteously for their share, claiming they were behind the door when the pie was passed.

But some newly-minted statistics plainly indicate that men and money still go together like bees and honey. Fortune magazine's new list of the U.S.A.'s 75 richest citizens shows there are almost six times as many men as women in this truly resplendent category.

Only 11 women rise and shine in the super-duper, multi-million-dollar division, whereas 64 men are sitting pretty at the top of the golden heap. In this league the players range from 30 citizens who can each scrape up from $25,000,000 to $100,000,000 to a lonely man, Jean Paul Getty, oil man, at the billion-dollar pinnacle.

The list also proved that while any little boy can still wind up a multi-millionaire in our free-wheeling economy, it is the sister of John Hay (John) Whitney, American ambassador to the Court of St. James's, whose fortune matches his sister's.

Among the little Big Rich—the $75,000,000 to $100,000,000 category—are two aging heiresses, Mrs. Horace Dodge (automobiles) and Mrs. M. Merriweather Post (cereals).

And that's it. There are a lot of self-made multi-millionaires among the middle-class Big Rich, but none among the girls. There's a moral here about money en masse. It goes somewhat to the effect that if daddy doesn't have what it takes to make it, daughter has to have what it takes to marry it. Because—obviously—she doesn't have what it takes to make it, either.

In the second category of the Biggest

Rich, with fortunes ranging from $400,000,000 to $700,000,000 each, are seven persons, two of them Mellon heiresses. They are Mrs. Mellon Bruce, whose father was a former U.S. Secretary of the Treasury, and a cousin, Mrs. Sarah Mellon.

In the next category, with fortunes ranging from $200,000,000 to $400,000,000, there is only one woman, Mrs. Frederick Guest, the dowager of the Phillips clan whose father was a partner of Andrew Carnegie.

Not until we hit the Madding Big Rich (fortunes of $100,000,000 to $200,000,000) do we even come to the name of the "Richest Girl in the World," Doris Duke. She isn't exactly to be pitied, but she isn't the richest by any stretch of money or imagination.

There are five other women in this category, all heiresses: Mrs. Alfred I. du Pont, Mrs. Edvard Ford, Mrs. Jean Marbo (the former Abby Rockefeller and daughter of John D. Jr.), Mrs. Chaucery McCormack and Mrs. Charles Payson, the sister of John Hay (John) Whitney, American ambassador to the Court of St. James's, whose fortune matches his sister's.

It All Adds Up To More Money

WASHINGTON—Everything adds up to more money—more government spending. There will soon be calls for more money for our allies to maintain their defenses—calls for more money for nuclear research and for missile development.

It now looks as if, despite the best intentions here to keep the federal budget within $70 billion next year, the nation will be lucky to come out with a figure two or three billions higher than '56.

This new trend is the direct result of "Sputnik." Instead of burying the rivalries of the armed services, the episode has intensified them. Nobody knows what day the Russians may turn up with some new weapon—so the emphasis now is on every kind of weapon or offense or of interception that can help protect the nation against attack or deter an enemy from starting a war. All this costs lots of money.

Politically, there is confusion today. The Democrats, who were crying out for economy a few months ago and for tax reduction, now are denouncing the Eisenhower administration for having been caught napping in the art of spending "Sputnik" around the globe. Presumably public opinion wants something done—the only thing to do is to spend more money for research and intercontinental weapons generally, though there is as yet no department or bureau that can give birth overnight to more full-fledged geniuses in the missile game.

Basically the nation is paying a heavy penalty for divided government. With the Democrats in control of Congress and the President from the opposite party, disunity over public policy is the rule. One would think that, in this most serious stage of the "cold war," politics would subside, but the mimeograph machines in the party headquarters are working overtime as the senators and representatives get the headlines for their speeches attacking the failure of the United States to beat Russia on the "Sputnik" front.

Political demagoguery flourishes in a democracy largely because so many citizens are indifferent to what goes on in national and international affairs and are easily hoodwinked or misled. Today, for instance, President Eisenhower is being blamed for the fact that the Russians beat us on "Sputnik." Whether "Sputnik" serves a useful military purpose, whether America was right in specializing in bal-istic development and ignoring the spectacular launching of a satellite is being debated with more emotion than facts—as if someone here had deliberately neglected national security, and America had suddenly become helpless.

But now that most of the criticism has been digested, the net result is to demand that more money be spent by the government. The Macmillan-Eisenhower conference means more money to help Britain with her defenses—perhaps a new project to supply nuclear weapons. Also the NATO Council meeting in December means more money will have to come from the United States to help our allies stand up to Russian threats.

There are, of course, some dispassionate observers who think that, if national defense is to cost more, some other items in the budget might well be dispensed with. But, unhappily, at the last session of Congress the only real cuts made were on national defense and mutual aid abroad. As for the subsidies, many were increased. Domestic policies influenced the maintenance of those particular items, and the same thing will happen next time.

Now, with the prospect that personal income-tax receipts and revenues from corporate taxes may show a decrease next year due to the business situation, the federal government will be very fortunate indeed to end the current fiscal year in July 1958 without a deficit. It doesn't take much of an adverse turn in business to cause tax receipts to drop a billion dollars. The estimated surplus now is about $1.5 billion. An increase in a few items of expenditure could wipe out that margin.

All this means in the long run more and more inflation. Maybe the stock market, which has been jittery, will soon perceive the long-range point of view. For, as the value of the dollar descends, the prices of everything inevitably must rise. (Copyright, 1957, The NY Herald Tribune Inc.)

Staff At Odds, Insists Paper

CHICAGO (AP)—The Sun-Times said today there are reports that the Chicago Bears coaching staff is riddled with dissension, but owner George Halas promptly termed the story "absolutely ridiculous."

In competition at Steer Stadium here last night, the 8th Grade Yearlings yielded a 12-0 verdict to the Sweetwater 8th after the local 7th Grade club had lost 7-6.

The win was the seventh in eight starts for Sweetwater's 8th Graders and they make it look fairly easy. The Colts have lost only to Snyder and that by a 7-6 score. They have beaten Big Spring twice, Stamford and Colorado City, Stamford and Bronte.

Sweetwater scored in the first quarter when Mike Pulling went over from the five on fourth down. The Colts had gained possession when a low snapback from center on a fourth down play enabled them to gain possession of the ball on Big Spring's nine-yard line.

The Bears won the NFL Western Division title last year but have won only one of five league games this year. The Sun-Times report that the "observers point to Clark Shaughnessy, veteran of many a fan's displeasure, as the cause of the trouble got a quick response from Halas.

Why don't they name these silly observers? I'll be glad to answer them directly. Shaughnessy, who was with Halas, said: "There's no dissension. I can tell you that."

Forsan Seeks 6th Win In Sterling

FORSAN, (SC) — The Forsan Buffaloes seek a return to winning ways in a District 8 six-man football game with Sterling City in Sterling tonight. Kickoff time is 8 o'clock.

Each team boasts a 5-1 win-loss record. Sterling is 2-0 in conference play, however, while Forsan is 1-1. The Buffs lost to Mertzon last time out, however.

All Forsan players will be ready to play with the exception of Jimmy Anderson, an end, who has the flu.

160-Pounders Get Restless

By JACK HAND NEW YORK (AP)—While Carmen Basilio waits on Sugar Ray Robinson and the International Boxing Club to decide when he will defend his world middleweight title, the contenders are getting restless.

Spider Webb, Chicago, the No. 6 boy in the Ring ratings, will try to strengthen his claim tonight in a 10-round match with Willie Vaughn of Los Angeles at Madison Square Garden. Webb is the 13 to 5 favorite.

Gene Fullmer, the No. 2 contender, meets Neal Rivers at the Garden, Nov. 15 and Rory Calhoun, No. 3, takes on Bobby Boyd, No. 9, in the same ring Nov. 22. Calhoun recently whipped Rocky Castellani in a dreary bout.

By the time this series of matches has been completed, Robinson may have decided if he wants to defend this winter. Unless an exception is made, he can't fight nontitle matches because the championship must be on the line every time he weighs 160 pounds or less. He never has weighed close to 160.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Odessa's Bronchos, who pop up in Memorial Stadium here tonight, are supposed to be a team longer on desire than talent.
Most everyone has been writing the Red Hosses off as a title threat ever since Odessa opened its second high school. They reckoned without the ability of Coach Hayden Fry to sell the boys on themselves. Apparently, he has done a good job of it.
The Bronchos were ready to play football when it counted the most—in conference opposition.
Odessa has two fine linebackers. One of them, Buddy White, is supposed to be the finest out this way since Buddy Cosby.

Al Milch, the local mentor, is authority for the statement that Big Spring hasn't given up. Fact is, he thinks the Steers gave him their finest game against Abilene last week. They had to play to the hilt in order to keep from getting run out of the park. That's all one can ask of a bunch of boys—to play to the best of their ability.

The football spotlight within the state should be on Snyder tonight, where John Conley sends his Tigers against Sweetwater.
I thought Sweetwater looked better against Big Spring than did Snyder but I have a suspicion Snyder is going to win this one.

Sweetwater is possessed with both a good line and a quick backfield. Snyder has faster backs, plus a hard-charging line and better reserves, however. Too, the Bengals will have the advantage of playing at home.

Big Spring isn't knocking 'em dead with its football record but no one can argue about the company we're keeping.

Outside of Lamesa and Kermil, their foes have been rated among the state's first four or five teams in their respective divisions at one time or another during the season and Kermil just might get up there, on the strength of last week's upset win over Andrews.

Andrews was ranked the state's best AAA outfit at the time the Steers played the Ponies and Abilene only this week was elevated into a tie for the No. 1 spot (with Amarillo) in one poll following its win over the Steers.

As long as you get beat, it might as well be by the best. And no team, not even Abilene, disgraced the Steers.

At a Tallahassee Quarterback Club meeting following Florida State's sound spanking over ACC, one of the boosters asked Bones Taylor, Seminole assistant coach and scout, how the Floridians turned the trick so easily.

"I guess I just did one hell of a job scouting them," replied Taylor.

A south Alabama high school coach, who hid himself to the Auburn football field to watch Shug Jordan's team work out, was moved to remark to the Plainsmen's head mentor: "I sure would like to have your players, coach."
"And I sure would like to play your schedule," Jordan replied.

Ticket prices for the Thanksgiving night appearance of the Harlem Globetrotters here are being adjusted.

There'll be no reserve seat sold this time—the asking price last year was $2.25 for each reserved seat. General admission duets will go up to $1.50 and $2. Students can gain entry for 90 cents each, same as a year ago.

You'll be seeing the best show Abe Saperstein has to offer, so you had better pick up your duets when they go on sale next week at The Record Shop and Dibrell's Sporting Goods.

SOUTHWEST SPOTLIGHT ON ARKANSAS FIELD

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Bruised Texas A&M and flustered Arkansas battle it out in the Ozarks Saturday in one of the most meaningful games of the stretch-running Southwest Conference football race.

It will find the Aggies, undefeated since 1955, risking their national No. 1 rating for the first time. It also marks Arkansas' last stand in the championship race. The Razorbacks have to win or give it up.

While A&M complains of crippling injuries—and the Aggies are pretty thin in manpower anyway—Arkansas fears the flu will have a dozen members of the varsity on the sidelines.

Arkansas, however, is deeper than A&M and there may be no advantage either way.

Of nearly equal importance will be another conference game at Dallas in which Texas, riding an unexpected crest toward a high place in the conference race, battles erratic Southern Methodist.

Texas, which shares the conference lead with arch enemy A&M, can put the coup de grace to Southern Methodist's chances of figuring in the championship. And the youthful but persistent Longhorns are expected to do just that. SMU already has one conference defeat. Another would pitch the Mustangs out of the running.

While this is all going on, Baylor and Texas Christian, a couple of also-rans, will be taking out their spleen on each other at Waco.

Both have already seen their championship chances bounced out of the window and there's nothing left except a salvaging finish.
Baylor feels worse about it than anybody. The Bears were supposed to be title contenders—many said they'd win the crown they have sought for 33 years. Texas Christian wasn't supposed to be up in the race and the Horned Frogs have more than lived up to expectations.

Football Races Reach Point Of No Return

By ED WILKS
AP Staff Writer

College football reaches the point of no return this weekend in the big races for conference titles and bowl spots. And only Oklahoma, among the unbeaten, untied giants, and three other clubs among the nation's top 10 figure to be breathing easy come tomorrow evening.

Oklahoma should have a ball making Kansas State No. 46 in its winning streak. It looks like the same sort of afternoon for Ohio State, Army and North Carolina State, rated eight, nine and 10 in the current Associated Press poll.

Ohio State, still shooting for the Rose Bowl and maybe the Big Ten crown as well, meets winless Northwestern Army, once-beaten as is Ohio State, plays Colgate. And NC State, undefeated but twice tied, and NCAA barred from a bowl bid, meets winless Wake Forest in an Atlantic Coast Conference game.

But for the rest—blood, sweat and maybe tears here and there. Texas A&M, carrying the No. 1 ranking for the first time this season, meets Arkansas, once-beaten but still breathing in the South-west conference fight for the Cotton Bowl, unbeaten Iowa and Auburn, ranked third and fourth, could have tough times against conference foes, too—the Hawkeys against improved Michigan and Auburn against Florida.

Undeclared Notre Dame, rated No. 5, has slipped past Army and Pittsburgh in its last two games and now meets once-beaten Navy. Michigan State, No. 6, still has a rope for the Rose Bowl going into tomorrow's game with Wisconsin's Badgers. And tied but unbeaten Duke, ranked No. 7 with the ACC's Orange Bowl okay apparently in hand, has a toughie in Georgia Tech, a poor 2-2-1, but still in line for a possible bowl berth.

That's what the top 10 face tomorrow. Now here's the picture in the conference races:
SOUTHWEST—While Texas A&M should have the edge over Arkansas, the Porkers are battling to stay in on the title tangle that pays off with a Cotton Bowl berth. Texas, tied with A&M for the conference lead, meets Southern Methodist.
BIG TEN—Iowa can't play in the Rose Bowl two years in a row, but the Hawkeys could repeat as conference champs by defeating Michigan—and then Minnesota and Ohio State.

SOUTHEASTERN—Auburn and Florida are both barred from bowls by NCAA probation. Auburn currently is tied for the lead with Mississippi, which meets non-league Houston tomorrow night. Auburn and Mississippi do not meet.

BIG EIGHT—If anyone but Oklahoma rules this roost it might be Missouri, if the Tigers can get past Colorado tomorrow. Then all Missouri has to do is knock off the Sooners next week.

PACIFIC COAST—Oregon, Washington State and Stanford lead the way in the battle to the Rose Bowl, and Oregon meets Stanford tomorrow. Washington State plays Oregon State.
ATLANTIC COAST—Duke, tied by NC State, has the nod because of the Wallpacks' bad boy ranking by the NCAA.

Ivy—Dartmouth, lone unbeaten, untied team in the East, meets Yale and the loser likely has had it. Princeton, tied with Dartmouth in the league, plays Brown.

IN MERKEL TONIGHT

6-A Grid Crown Is Up For Grabs

COAHOMA (SC)—The Coahoma Bulldogs have been waiting a year for tonight, and they hope no post-Halloween goblins raise their heads.

The Coahomans visit Merkel for a 7:30 o'clock joust with the Merkel Badgers. The game could decide the District 6-A champion.

Merkel is the defending titlist but has already been tied once with the conference. The Badgers looked very good in kayoing Stanton last week, however.

Coahoma has defeated Roscoe and Roby within the conference and owns a 6-1 won-lost record overall.

The Bulldogs would be in the driver's seat, if they can hurdle the Badgers. They would have only Rotan and Stanton still to play.

Merkel, coached by Carroll Benson, could be tough at home, however. Too, the Badgers boast a good aerial job, with Manley Denton the trigger man in the attack.

Coahoma boasts a hard-charging line, led by powerful Bobby Null, and a set of splendid backs.

Chief Bulldogs threat is Don White, Harold (Frog) Harrington, Mac Robinson and Shorty Barr will lend him a lot of assistance in the Coahoma secondary, however.

Al Balding Leads In San Diego Play
SAN DIEGO (AP)—The San Diego Open Golf Tournament goes into its third round today with Canadian Al Balding holding a two-stroke lead with a 13-under-par score of 131 for 36 holes.

His closest rivals were Fred Hawkins, El Paso, Texas, and Arnold Palmer, Latrobe, Pa., each with 133.

Moore Easily Wins
VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—Archie Moore, world light heavyweight champion, made it look easy last night with a technical knockout over Bobby Mitchell of Omaha, Neb., at 1:45 of the fifth round in a non-title bout.

Locals Yield To North 11

ABILENE (SC)—Quarterback David Winkles had a hand in three touchdowns as North Junior High of Abilene shaded the Big Spring 9th Graders, 25-6, here Thursday afternoon.

Winkles scored two touchdowns and passed to Jerry Mason for 20 yards and another tally.

Wylie Newman accounted for Abilene's first touchdown on a four-yard plunge in the second period.

Big Spring got back into the game briefly on a 60-yard pass play that went from Tommy Whalley to Carey King.

Winkles put Abilene ahead to stay on a one-yard plunge in the third period and Newman added the extra point. Winkles used the same play to score again just before the quarter was out.

Big Spring experienced little success in moving against the North line.

End Robert Carr and linebacker Gene Salazar showed to advantage on defense for Big Spring.

On offense, Johnny Freeman, Steve Blair, Emmett Kent Morgan and Tommy Rutledge looked good for the Yearlings.

All Abilene players, except those were reported out with the flu, showed up ready to play.

ON THE LONG RUNS

The mileage you get on a long run—that's a reliable test for quality gasoline.
And Cosden gives you extra miles in every tankful.
Cosden's new Premium Ethyl has a package of power in every drop. For those quick bursts of speed on the long, steady drive, it gives you power to spare when you need it there.
Perhaps your car doesn't require a premium fuel. Cosden Higher Octane Regular also offers new built-in power for peak performance and bonus mileage.
For 'round-town driving or the long run, Cosden gasoline is as true as any you've ever used. Fill up and find out.

Here is one of the Steers that will make some of those long runs tonight. He is Benny McCrary, an end.

Problems Of Space Travel Magnified

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE Associated Press Science Reporter

NEW YORK (AP)—Human space travel has already partially begun.

Our jet pilots are flying so high that much of the earth's air is beneath them. They are already meeting and conquering some major problems involved in trips to the Moon or Mars.

Human volunteers in special experiments are producing answers as to whether, and how, humans can stand greater and more severe challenges higher in the void of space.

But don't fall for the pitch of some promoter offering you bargain-price reserved tickets to the Moon by 1960 or 1965.

It just won't be that easy.

Indeed, there are some scientists and experts who say space travel is forever out of the question—men couldn't stand it, or be protected well enough.

There's a middle opinion that human journeys into space are a very long way off—perhaps no earlier than the end of this century.

But enthusiasts say the first space Columbus—John or Ivan—has already been born or now is even in school. They see initial space journeys within five to 10 years.

PILOTS FLY HIGH

Jet pilots are flying in such thin air that they must carry their own oxygen, use pressurized cabins and special suits, or else their blood would boil at these heights.

Their planes are overcoming problems of heat from friction at high speed in the air they meet. The pilots are experiencing sensations of no gravity—weightlessness—at times in their flights.

Space flight means more or most of the same problems, intensified. But with new problems added.

Can human life withstand the radiation men will meet in space from cosmic rays, and from intense ultraviolet light and X-rays from the sun? Our blanket of atmosphere blocks out most of these rays which might quickly kill or damage the unprotected body.

Our air also burns up most of the meteors whizzing in at us from space. How crowded is space with these cosmic dust, or with big meteor chunks traveling faster than any cannon shell, and just as lethal if they barreled through a pressurized space cruiser?

Baby moons—U. S. and Russian—equipped with sensitive instruments and radios, will report what these hazards are, or what unsuspected dangers may exist.

PLEDGE OF DATA

Under international Geophysical Year agreement, both nations are pledged to tell the world what their baby moons learn.

With that knowledge, scientists and engineers might devise materials and methods to safeguard human astronauts physically.

Monkeys have gone up 80 miles high inside U. S. rockets. Russians report sending dogs 130 miles high. Just in the last few days, a Soviet scientist said a next step could be to put dogs or other animals in baby moons, with instruments recording and reporting what happens to them.

Such animal trials could be arranged humanely to prevent suffering. But the real step would be human volunteers testing the practicality of space travel.

Could people psychologically withstand the peculiar challenges of space? Long trips mean a few persons cooped together in probably cramped quarters for days or months, in perhaps continuous peril, with sudden emergencies calling for quick, decisive, cooperative actions.

Picked men manning atomic submarines operate under similar conditions, and their answer is yes.

Women might be the first choice because, say male psychologists, they can tolerate boredom and monotonous tasks better. Another suggestion is to put space crews into suspended animation on long journeys with special drugs while automatic controls or signals from earth control the flight to Mars.

It seems certain that the first astronauts will be carefully hand-picked—maybe one in thousands—on considerations of health, psychology, training and skills.
