Butchery, Grave - Robbing Suspect Is Given Lie Test

WAUTOMA, Wis. (AP)—A diffident little man who admitted in puzzled tones yesterday that he had opened fresh graves over a period of years to collect human heads and finally butchered a neighbor woman—"while in a daze-like"—faces a polygraph test of his story.

Edward Gein, a 51-year-old Plainfield bachelor handyman, is scheduled to go to Madison today for a lie detector test at the state crime laboratory.

He is being held under $10,000 bond for the armed robbery of Mrs. Bernice Worden last Saturday.

Dist. Atty. Earl Kileen said the filing of a murder charge in the death of the 50-year-old widow, whose dismembered corpse was found hanging like a deer carcass in Gein's wooded Saturday night, awaits only a complete sifting of the gruesome remnants found on his secluded farm, about 120 miles northwest of Milwaukee.

Here are some of the questions the lie detector test may answer: Did Gein mould hideous death masks from the faces of newly-buried dead?

Did he fabricate upholstery for furniture in his cluttered farm house from human skin?

Did he intend to eat the one victim he admits killing, the one of whom he said, almost apologetically, "I am not too sure that I killed her?"

"That is what I can't remember," Gein said in a question-and-answer session with Wausara County officers.

A "daze," he said, came on him when he did such things as dig up the graves from which he took at least 10 heads.

Once, he said, the daze left him while he was digging in a burial mound.

"I quit then," he said.

Farm Where Heads Were Found

The butchered body of Mrs. Bernice Worden, Plainfield, Wis., businesswoman, and 10 other cadavers and human heads were found on this Wausan, Wis., farm near Plainfield, Wausara County. The isolated farm is that of Edward Gein who is being held by authorities.

Investigators, who found Mrs. Worden's decapitated corpse, discovered the heads of four other persons in Gein's house Sunday and found six more there yesterday. Some were packaged neatly in plastic bags, others were tossed under furniture.

In a signed statement, Gein said he had not "collected any for two or three years."

Kileen said Gein took him to cemeteries he had visited.

At Madison last night, Charles Wilson, state crime laboratory director, said that when all the human segments had been collected from Gein's farm, technicians would study them in an effort to identify the victims of the grave robberies.

Gein said he had followed death notices published in the local newspaper and then opened the graves from 1944 to 1952. He indicated that on other occasions he snapped out of his "daze" and went home without violating a grave.

In his statement, Gein recalled visiting the Worden hardware store Saturday morning and paying 99 cents for some antifreeze.

He also remembered transporting Mrs. Worden's body to his farm home.

Asked whether he remembered killing her, he said, "No, that is what I can't remember; my memory is a little vague."

Gein said he did remember hanging the body from its heels in the shed and butchering it "because I thought I was dressing out a deer."

In his statement, he said, "That is as close as I can remember. I was in a regular daze-like and I can't swear to it."

Publicity Chief Denies Knowing Of Missile Lid

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon's information chief disclaimed today any knowledge of whether President Eisenhower had issued orders forbidding public discussion of satellites by the armed forces immediately after Russia launched its first Sputnik.

A House subcommittee investigating government information practices and policies asked Murray Snyder whether he knew of any instructions or advice from the White House, National Security Council or Operations Coordinating Board forbidding military personnel to comment on the satellite program of this or other countries.

"I have no knowledge of any such instruction," Snyder said.

Furthermore, the assistant secretary of defense for public information said he had proposed censure for an under-official of the Air Force who messaged another such official on Oct. 9 that: "The President desires that Air Force personnel refrain from making public comment on the satellite program of the United States and other countries."

Five days after Russia sent its first space satellite into the air, this message was dispatched by Harold M. Helfman, deputy director of the Office of Information Services at headquarters of the Air Research and Development Command in Baltimore. It was addressed to the Air Force Ballistic Missile Development at Ingelwood, Calif.

Eight days later, Helfman followed up with a protest that word of the previous message had leaked to an aviation magazine. He cautioned against releases or statements "which may prove embarrassing at all levels of command."

Snyder told the subcommittee he disapproved the directive and wrote the Air Force information chief about it, saying it was in violation of specific directives and voicing a hope for its removal.

"I certainly don't think," Snyder said, "the man exercised very good judgment in his responsibility as an information officer or in explanation of the command which he transmitted."

Rep. Fascell (D-Fla.) said the matter raised a question as to whether there was "a cover-up on information because it might be embarrassing."

All three military services issued instructions to their personnel on Oct. 9 not to discuss satellite programs at the time being, Snyder said, that these were not "gag orders" but were put out to be sure there would be no misunderstanding or misinterpretation of American views at home or abroad.

MATTER OF COMMAND

These orders were a matter of command operations and responsibility rather than a matter for jurisdiction as Pentagon information chief.

The subcommittee chairman, Rep. Moss (D-Calif.) praised Snyder's letter of protest and said that it "reflects a distinct improvement in attitude" in the Pentagon.

The subcommittee has had word from the Air Force that, along with a message by wire restricting public comment, verbal instructions were issued last Oct. 9 to each major command information services officer in the country. The Air Force said these emphasized that the Air Force "did not want any self-appointed ex-ender adding to the confusion and speculation on the satellite matter."

Each of the three military services had taken similar steps but Snyder, in response to a letter from Committee Chairman Moss (D-Calif.) in a Nov. letter, said "No verbal or written instructions to issue the communications, to whom you refer, were given by the secretary of defense or by myself in his behalf."

Snyder appeared briefly as a witness yesterday after a former Pentagon official testified that official regulations have been "hampering the progress of the ballistic missile program."

That comment came from Trevor Gardner, former chief of research and development for the Air Force. He quit in February 1956 in what he called a serious disagreement with the way the missile program was organized.

Snyder testified he felt he has been making good on his promise to try and get out the news at the Pentagon. He said that on a trail-blazing operation was the naming of a special director of declassification policy.

C Of C Counting Director Ballots

Votes are being counted this week in the Chamber of Commerce director election which closed last night.

Through this morning, 246 Chamber members had returned their ballots. A few others are expected, since several members reported that they received the ballots, mailed 12 days ago, only this morning.

Counting of the votes is to be completed by Friday when a certification committee will meet to canvass the results.

Fifteen directors are to be chosen, from a field of 45 nominees.

Way Cleared For Troops Bill Debate Committee Sends Bill To Senate

Challenge

A man identified by police as Richard Fischer, 34, of Springfield, Pa., stands in rear of a television studio after making an unscheduled appearance on "The $64,000 Challenge" TV quiz show in New York City. He started millions of viewers across the country by walking in front of the camera to read a prepared statement. "America, I have a challenge," it began. "The Russians are ahead of you. . . . He got no further. The camera swung away from him and he was hustled into the wings. After questioning, he was taken by police to a hospital for observation.

No Inquiry Into Brazos Bond Work

AUSTIN (AP)—House Interim Investigation Committee Chairman Rep. Reagan Huffman indicated today there will be no inquiry into the Brazos River Authority's bond and engineering work.

"If the House does not pass a resolution telling us to do it, it will be up to the committee to decide," the Marshall lawmaker said. "Of course, if the House says to look into it, I would consider it a mandate, but I feel we have plenty to do now."

The House committee has been authorized to investigate almost any phase of government brought to its attention. However, it specifically has said it would look into the collapse of ICT Insurance of Dallas.

Huffman said the committee would meet at a later date but did not know when.

The House Water Conservation and Reclamation Committee yesterday heard brief debate on a resolution asking for the inquiry. The resolution automatically went to a subcommittee for further study at the request of Rep. J. C. Day Jr. of Brookshire.

He authored the resolution which said "wide differences of opinion gives and causes serious question as to the validity, soundness, quality and standards" of the BRA's engineering and bond counsel.

The committee heard a letter from H. S. Hilborn of Plainview, president of the BRA. He said the authority was willing to present full information at anytime.

Day said he did not mean to discredit the BRA board and wanted to keep the board out of the controversy. He said he specifically questioned the work done by Dallas attorney John McCall, BRA counsel, and Ambrusen Engineering Corp. of New York and Houston.

"I just want a full report," Day said the board held unauthorized about it, who would object to a clean bill of health from the Texas Legislature?"

Rep. Oscar Laurel of Laredo said Day's proposal sounded like "a fishing expedition . . . looking for something improper."

Day said he wanted to know whether Ambrusen, other engineers and McCall performed services for the pay they received. He said the board held unauthorized meetings and wanted to know why.

AUSTIN (AP)—The Senate State Affairs Committee today cleared the way for floor debate tomorrow on proposed legislation to close Texas schools where military troops might be sent to end violence.

The committee was split about 2-1 in different votes on the compromise measure by Sen. Wardlow Lane of Center with some of those voting for the bill complaining that it was not strong enough. The bill made it permissible for a school board to close a school, not mandatory.

"I imagine it will be brought up tomorrow," Lane said when asked when the bill would get its first floor debate.

The House State Affairs Committee was expected to complete hearing of witnesses on a similar measure this afternoon but the bill probably will go to a subcommittee for further study.

The Senate committee also approved, by voice vote, a bill which would appropriate $50,000 for the attorney general to use in helping any school board defending itself against a federal court order.

The committee set for hearing tomorrow afternoon a bill which Sen. Henry Gonzalez of San Antonio calls his "School Opening Bill." It would provide fines up to $1,000 and two years imprisonment for any person starting or taking part in a riot to prevent enforcement of any state or federal law affecting operation of public schools.

CLOSE SCHOOLS

As recommended for passage by the Senate committee today the anti-troops bill would allow the governor to proclaim a state of violence at a school but only the school board could close the school. Two amendments which would have removed this provision were defeated 12-6 and 11-8.

"This is the greatest threat to Texas school education ever presented in this Legislature," argued Rep. Bill Fly of Victoria, who offered one of the amendments. "I don't know where the school people are but rather than fight over their personal benefits they ought to be down here fighting for their school system."

An amendment by Rep. Abe Kazen of Laredo to remove a provision that instruction could be continued in homes or other sites after a school was closed was defeated 13-6.

Sen. Otis Lock of Lufkin, who voted for the bill and against all the amendments, made a speech saying he did not think the bill was strong enough. He wanted it mandatory for the governor or the school board to close a school.

In the morning House session Gov. Price Daniel was invited to make an address to a joint session at 11:30 a. m. tomorrow. The governor's office said it would be.

"A report on the Texas tidesland situation." Rep. B. H. Dewey of Bryan introduced a bill to transfer $100,000 from the governor's emergency fund to the contingent expense fund to pay part of the cost of this special session.

The House then adjourned until 11 a. m. tomorrow.

"It's a tragic thing but the albatross of segregation is wrapped around the necks of our leaders," Otto Mullinax, Dallas labor attorney and spokesman for the Americans for Democratic Action told the House Committee. "If the state would discharge its duties and eliminate segregation as a political issue then you wouldn't have to vote on this bill."

Joseph Dawson, for 33 years pastor of a Waco Baptist church and executive secretary of the Baptist Joint Committee on Public Affairs, told the Senate committee that "this murky proposal" originates with elected officials "who want to go the votes of the violently minded."

"All this hullabaloo over integration is to get some scare headlines," said J. T. Morrow, representative of the San Antonio Council of Churches and a Presbyterian minister. "It doesn't solve a problem. It creates more."

CALLED HATE BILL

"This is basically a hate bill," said Mrs. Helena Harcastle, Austin public accountant.

"My bill simply says that the local board shall maintain peace and order in the operation of our public schools," said Rep. Jerry Sadler of Percilla. "In years to come we might have a governor who would close down all our schools or one who would not close down any."

"If it weren't for our present governor who saw fit to call a special session for us to pass such legislation as this we might have troops all over the state in the next 12 months."

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson held Sadler's bill, with a suggested amendment, would be conditional provided it was not used to close schools "simply to thwart the federal order" on integration.

Independents Urge New Pipeline

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—A new pipeline to move West Texas and New Mexico oil to the Pacific Coast was called for yesterday by New Mexico's independent oil producers and royalty owners at their first convention.

They also went on record as favoring extension and tightening of the federal administration's recent voluntary restrictions on oil imports.

Jerry O'Brien, president of Independent producers and royalty owners in Texas, reviewed problems of the independents and steps taken by his organization in Texas to solve them.

2 Die, 20 Injured In Train Accident

MEDFORD, Mass. (AP)—The Crack Boston & Maine express train Red Wing, was wrecked today in a derailment at a highway overpass in this suburb six miles north of Boston.

The engineer and fireman were killed and about a score of passengers injured.

It was raining at the time.

Half of the two-section diesel locomotive plunged over the side of the bridge to the street 15 to 18 feet below.

Tracks and ties were torn up for a quarter of a mile from the bridge.

The nine-car train bound from Montreal to Boston was made up of Pullmans, coaches and milk, mail and baggage cars.

Only two of the cars remained on the roadbed, but they were astir and their sides smashed together.

The others were scattered along the embankment. Two of the cars punched through the wall of the Converse Rubber Co. warehouse at the side of the tracks, knocking out supports and dropping sections of the floors and roof of the four-story building.

Mail was strewn around.

William H. Kirley, director of the railway division of the State Public Utilities Department which investigated the wreck, said construction work was going on at the scene and a detour track was being used.

The engineer was pulled from the wreckage and was pronounced dead at the Lawrence Memorial Hospital. He was identified as Harold J. Danforth, 65, of Somerville.

The fireman, identified as George D. Murphy, about 39, of Manchester, N.H., was trapped in the wreckage of the locomotive. A wrecker was to raise the locomotive to remove Murphy's body.

Scarcely five minutes before the derailment, hundreds of pupils of St. Clement's elementary and high schools had walked under the railroad bridge on their way to school. The children report by 8:20 a. m. the train was wrecked about 8:25.

Two automobiles passing under the bridge were smashed by the plunging locomotive. The drivers were injured.

An eyewitness, the Rev. Jeremiah Doyle, said he saw the first car topple sideways "surprisingly slowly."

"At least the first three cars went over the bridge and the embankment almost simultaneously," he said.

French Civil Servants Hold Mass Walkout

PARIS (AP)—Several thousand striking civil servants marched on the French Finance Ministry today, shouting demands for higher pay.

First reports indicated that more than a million government workers had joined in the 24-hour warning walkout, third such in France in just over a month.

The strikers marched along the Rue de Rivoli to the Finance Ministry, housed in a wing of the Louvre Museum, and 15 minutes later moved on to the Place de la Concorde.

Police forces were on hand and a police helicopter hovered overhead. Apart from traffic tieups, there was no trouble.

Across the Seine, the National Assembly had already ended its debate on Premier Felix Gaillard's plea for special powers to fight the nation's mounting inflation.

The deputies were to meet this afternoon to vote on the measure. Gaillard called for a vote of confidence. He was expected to win by a small margin.

Gaillard is asking the National Assembly for special powers to issue financial and economic decrees without further approval by Parliament. Observers felt the 38-year-old Premier would get the vote of confidence—his first since being confirmed—but with a small margin.

Gaillard plans about 210 million dollars in new taxes and about an equal amount slashed from government spending.

Europe To Receive IRBM's From U.S.

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Secretary of Defense McElroy said after a conference with President Eisenhower today the United States will be able to supply intermediate-range missiles to its European allies "earlier than had been expected."

McElroy said at a news conference that for security reasons he could not pinpoint just when the Defense Department believes such shipments of 1,500-mile missiles can start. He indicated, however, that the time is not immediately imminent.

He did so in saying, in replying to a question, that such shipments will start "considerably earlier than several years" from now.

After the Eisenhower-McElroy conference at the Augusta National Golf Club, the White House announced that the President will make the third in a series of major addresses on national security in Cleveland the night of Nov. 26.

In a speech at Oklahoma City Wednesday night, Eisenhower said U.S. spending in those fields will have to be increased by a very considerable amount.

There have been some predictions that defense expenditures will run between one and two billion dollars in excess of outlay for this year.

McElroy has indicated the overall boost may not be that large if savings can be made in other military areas.

In a statement yesterday, the President said that in these times when the nation's strength is being tested at every point, America's economy "can ill afford to waste the talent and abilities of any individual because of discrimination against him on the basis of his race, his color or his creed."

Eisenhower made the statement in noting that today has been designated Equal Opportunity Day and also is the 94th anniversary of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address.

Appraisers Due For Interviews

Four and possibly more appraisal firms were to meet with a special city-county-school committee this afternoon. The committee is looking for a firm to make a revaluation survey of the county.

The committee was to personally meet representatives of the firms today starting at 2 p. m.

The firms were to submit proposals and furnish information also about surveys they have taken in other cities in the state lately.

Slated to submit proposals to the committee today are P. L. Marquess & Co. of Wharton, Erik Ehrenborg of Dallas, and Pritchard & Abbott of Fort Worth.

Representatives were in Big Spring also today from the Stoner Appraisal Co. of San Angelo. The Stoner Co. has been contacted in October, but no word had been received from them until today.

After the committee screened the firms today, the members of the committee were to return to their separate governing bodies and recommend one of the firms for the survey.

Dulles Reveals U.S. Considers Atom Stockpile

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today the United States is studying possible formation of several stockpiles of atomic weapons in Europe. These would complement a network of intermediate range missile bases.

Dulles told a news conference he thought the IRBMs would not be available in operational amounts until the end of next year.

Dulles also said the United States has nuclear warheads in Canada along with missiles bases to back up early warning radar systems.

These are among the proposals or basic military facts which Dulles and other State Department officials are discussing with Democrat Adlai Stevenson who began work yesterday as an advisor on NATO planning.

Dulles said he does not know whether Stevenson will go to Paris with President Eisenhower for an Allied summit conference next month. No decision has been made, he said.

In response to questions, Dulles said nobody is putting any censorship over Stevenson and that if the Democratic leader wants to criticize administration proposals publicly he is free to do so.

Dulles expressed confidence that Stevenson would act with due regard for the purpose of advancing the strength and unity of the free world.

Educator Cites Citizens Groups For 'Cure-Alls'

WASHINGTON (AP)—An educator contended today that certain citizens groups are promoting what he called educational cure-all schemes which "we believe are designed primarily to undermine adequate financial support of education."

Edgar Fuller, executive secretary of the Council of Chief State School Officers, identified the U.S. Chamber of Commerce as one group which he said is pushing the ideas of educational television, the all-year school and double sessions for high schools.

In a speech prepared for the National Assn. of Secretaries of State Teachers Assns., Fuller said:

"There appears to be an ill-conceived national drive among certain citizen organizations to separate boards of education from their executive officers, who are the local and state superintendents of schools.

"Professional administrators believe completely in appropriate citizen participation and in citizen determination of general educational aspects of education."

Regarding television, Fuller said: "For use as a tool to assist teachers, television has a large place, but as a panacea to save buildings, teachers and money by mass spectatoritis we cannot afford it."

Farm Bureau Chief Calls For System Of Flexible Supports

DALLAS (AP)—Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau, said today "A system of variable or flexible price supports would assist in keeping the supply of individual (farm) commodities in line with demand."

Hammond told delegates to the organization's annual convention farmers and ranchers must demand some form of economic protection as long as agriculture is practiced to "buy in the captive market of industry" and has to pay "any price collective bargaining can obtain."

In a prepared speech, he said federal payments to farmers making up the difference between what their crops bring and parity would give the government "very rigid control over agriculture."

He also said such a program would make "our incomes dependent upon the whims of Congress."

The soil bank, he said, has not been effective. "We still have surpluses." He said it was costly, dependent upon the wishes of Congress and "has created poor public relations for agriculture in some circles."

"A system of variable or flexible price supports would assist in keeping the supply of individual commodities in line with demand. Under such a system, a farmer would be foolish to keep planting a crop that was in oversupply when he could switch and be assured of higher price supports eventually, there would be no need for switching from one crop to another," Hammond said.

Loys Barbour of Iowa Park, secretary-treasurer, said the organization ended its fiscal year with a membership of 72,680, the largest in history. He said the figure represented a gain of 2,521 over 1956.

The John Gorham Award for the county with the largest membership in the state went to Hidalgo County for the third consecutive year. The South Texas county had a total of 1,839 members.

Culberson County won the Silver Loving Cup awarded to the county Farm Bureau with the biggest percentage increase in membership. The county was up 188 percent over last year.

Delegates to the Texas Farm Bureau Federation convention also voted on resolutions at the official opening today.

Joyce Gray, 17, of Chireno, Nacogdoches County, was named 1957 queen of the Texas Farm Bureau last night.

She will receive a trip to the American Farm Bureau Federation Convention in Chicago next month.

In the opening resolutions session yesterday, delegates said the little rural school house fills a need and should be preserved. The gradual disappearance of the small schools in favor of consolidation was discussed with concern.

H. S. Pearson of Concho County suggested the state hire an assistant commissioner of education for small schools.

J. H. West of Bishop said "A child that has to ride 100 miles to school and back cannot participate in a lot of activities that are generally considered important."

W. A. Jones suggested cotton farmers pay $2 a bale to finance research and promotion. He also suggested someone like Jayne Mansfield be hired to model cotton dresses in a gigantic sales campaign.

Mike Smith of Uvalde County urged more research to control screwworms in livestock.

H. H. Alp, farm bureau director of trade development, said the federation plans to set up a western European trade center for American farm products. He said the center, expected to be operative by next spring, probably would be located at Rotterdam.

Alp said groups who want to sell American produce would maintain space and samples.

Dr. D. D. Lewis of College Station, director of the Texas Agricultural experiment station, told delegates they may face a hostile Congress in seeking more research funds.

"Some people tend to charge surpluses to the application of research findings," he said.

"They seem to feel that research leads to increased production which in turn is self defeating for the policies designed to curtail production."

But Lewis maintained more research could reduce surpluses by finding more uses for farm products, especially in industry.

Thinks Girard Got Off Easy

WASHINGTON (AP)—"I think Pvt. Girard got off much easier than he would have with an Army court-martial."

That statement, by Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.), apparently sums up the general attitude expressed in the United States concerning the case of Army Specialist 3-C, William S. Girard of Ottawa, Ill.

Girard was given a three-year suspended sentence yesterday by a Japanese court for the death last January of a Japanese woman who was scavenging for shell cases.

The case attracted international attention last summer when the United States turned Girard over to Japanese authorities for civil trial under terms of a status-of-forces agreement between the two nations. Such agreements call for foreign civil trial under certain conditions.

Aiken and Sen. Flanders, also a Vermont Republican, both said the Girard case shows the worth of the status-of-forces agreements. And Flanders agreed with Aiken that Girard likely would have received a stiffer penalty from a U.S. court-martial.

Czech Reds Elect New President

VIENNA (AP)—The Communist-controlled Czechoslovak Parliament today elected Communist party chief Antonin Novotny Czechoslovakia's new president.

Novotny, 53, on Dec. 19, succeeds Antonin Zapotocky, who died last Wednesday and was buried yesterday.

Others who had been mentioned for the presidency were Premier Vilem Siroky and Deputy Premier Jaromir Dolansky. It was believed Siroky lost out because he is a member of the Slovak minority.

Novotny has been first secretary of the Czechoslovak party's Central Committee since Sept. 14, 1953.

Novotny will continue to hold the party reins. Siroky, in nominating him for the presidency, said the party "considers it necessary to combine the post of first party secretary with that of the nation's president."

Cordiality Reigns

Adlai Stevenson waves a hand during a cordial moment as he poses at the State Department in Washington, D. C., with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. Stevenson, Democratic presidential candidate in 1952 and 1956, met with Dulles to discuss the possibility of joining forces in a reshaping of U.S. alliances.

West Asks Okay Of Compromise Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Despite an advance Russian rejection, the West went ahead with plans to ask the U. N. Assembly today to approve a compromise plan enlarging the Disarmament Commission from 12 members to 25.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister V. V. Kuznetsov told newsmen the enlarged group proposed by the West would be stacked at least 16-9 against Russia. He demanded that at least half the members of any such group be Communist or neutralist.

Prospects were uncertain for the Western plan, conceived to keep the Russians from carrying out their threat to boycott the disarmament talks.

The Soviets let it be known they planned to seek a prior vote on their earlier demand to balloon out the arms negotiations to include all 82 U. N. members. The West has regarded this as a Soviet bluff for bargaining purposes.

Initial U. S. reaction to Kuznetsov's latest rejection was that it was a similar bluff.

Kuznetsov conceded that Russia would accept less than all 82 nations. But he said either the proposed 25-nation commission must be expanded to provide seven more Communists or neutralists, or some "Western bloc" countries must be subtracted to provide a balance.

The commission in the past has been made up of the 11 Security Council members and Canada, but the actual negotiations have been carried on by a five-nation subcommittee made up of the United States, Britain, France, Canada and the Soviet Union.

The Western proposal, in itself a diplomatic victory for the Rus-

Adlai To Keep Dems Informed On Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson apparently is going to keep Democratic congressional leaders fully informed of the progress of his NATO program discussions with Secretary of State Dulles.

Stevenson, the twice-defeated Democratic presidential nominee, was said to recognize that his party's members of Congress must assume the major responsibility for any bipartisan support for proposals to be laid before the North Atlantic Council next month.

But Stevenson himself emphasized that "I am here not as a Democrat only, but as one who has had some experience in the foreign policy field."

That was his reply to a reporter who asked whether he expected congressional Democrats to accept him as their spokesman.

Among other things, Stevenson worked on the founding of the United Nations in 1945 and served with the American delegation. In 1953 and again this year, he traveled extensively abroad.

He conferred yesterday with Dulles and received a number of tentative State Department working papers. After a day of studying them, he commented that they had incorporated some of the suggestions he made to Dulles about a week ago in a written memorandum.

He called his first day's work a good beginning. He said he will leave tonight for New York and Chicago, but will return next Monday to "work right through" to a Dec. 3 White House meeting of Republican and Democratic congressional leaders.

Stevenson is serving a department spokesman said, as "a private citizen who is making his views available." He will hold no title and will receive no salary or expenses, though he has been assigned an office across the hall from Dulles.

Stevenson took time out to talk over the NATO situation with Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.), his 1956 vice presidential running mate. And he expects to confer later with Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate's Democratic leader.

Johnson has not yet commented on Stevenson's acceptance of an adviser's role, but House Speaker Sam Rayburn said the action is a "fine thing."

He added in a news conference in Dodge City, Kan., that "we need all the brains and patriotism in both parties to work out this international situation which is bad."

Sen. Smathers (D-Fla.) said in an interview he thinks the fact Stevenson is participating in the conferences with Dulles and eventually will meet with President Eisenhower will increase Democratic confidence in the NATO program finally evolved.

Kefauver also said he is glad Stevenson accepted the assignment.

Returns To Murder Scene

Ed Gein, farmer, who is being held for questioning in connection with the death of ten persons, leaves Wautoma, Wis., county jail handcuffed and escorted by Sheriff Art Schley. He is taking the sheriff to his farm at Plainfield near Wautoma where he said "He had something to show him" at the house on the farm where he lives. The portions of ten bodies were found in his house, but he claimed he had dug them up from graves.

Abel Will Appeal Prison Sentence

NEW YORK (AP)—Russian Col. Rudolf I. Abel, 55, sentenced to 30 years in prison as a spy, has decided to appeal his conviction and sentence.

James B. Donovan, court-appointed chief defense counsel, visited Abel yesterday at the Federal House of Detention and then issued the following statement: "After due consideration he has instructed me to file notice of appeal. It accordingly will be my duty to take all appropriate steps in the immediate future."

Texan Freed In Beating Case

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP)—One Texas Marine was convicted and one acquitted by a U.S. Navy court-martial today on charges of roughing up American sailors in a brig at Sasebo naval base.

Cpl. James T. Ray, 21, Texas City, was sentenced to 15 days at hard labor without confinement, forfeiture of $30 pay, and reduction in rank to private first class for punching a prisoner in the stomach. He was found innocent of a second charge filed by another sailor.

Sgt. Bobby Phillips, 22, Tyler, was cleared of a similar charge of striking a sailor.

Ray's sentence is subject to review.

The Texas Leathernecks are among 16 Marines being court-martialed for alleged brutality at the south Japan base. So far three have been convicted and two acquitted.

Ray was convicted on testimony of Seaman Donald Cherry, 21, Chicago, Cherry, who was convicted for using marijuana and heroin aboard ship, told of being punched "a definite blow" in the stomach by Ray.

Phillips was cleared of a charge of punching Curtis Tisdell, 22, Houston, Tex. Another Marine, Sgt. Robert J. Irvin, Newark, N.J., told the court Phillips was not on duty at the time.

Garcia Sets Out Pro-U. S. Program

MANILA (AP)—President Carlos P. Garcia declared today that he will continue the strongly pro-American Philippine foreign policy stressed by the late President Ramon Magsaysay.

The 61-year-old political veteran was relaxed and confident in his first news conference since election to a full four-year term a week ago.

He made these major points: There will be no changes in Philippine support for the United States, active participation in the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization and the United Nations and backing for Nationalist China.

TOO LITTLE, TOO LATE is the way we Dodge dealers feel about competitors' efforts to match the Swept-Wing 58. They lowered the roof some, but left the sides high. Their windshields got smaller while ours got bigger. So much for styling. Then, for another important comparison, take ride. Here's Dodge with Torsion-Aire suspension that just about everybody admits is the greatest advance in sway-free, dip-free, silent going that any car offers. So what do these other cars do? They borrow an air suspension system that's been used in buses for two years! (Costing well over $100.00 extra.) And most of 'em still don't have push-button driving—much less Dodge TorqueLite—the proven automatic transmission. If you're a little disappointed in the '58 version of your car, come on in and see our Swept-Wing 58. The others are catching on—but they can't catch up.

'Rebels' Held For Beating of Negro Brothers

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The self-styled "Little Rock Rebels," a group of six young white men accused of beating two Negro brothers, were being held in $400 bail each today for the grand jury. In ordering the six held, Magistrate Nathan A. Beifel told them "you have little rocks in your heads." Police testified the six, ranging in age from 20 to 27, broke a front window of the brothers' home and then fought with them in a wild brawl when the two came out on the street. "We have enough trouble on an international scale," Magistrate Beifel said, "without going out of the way to cause racial trouble. . . . We are lucky to be Americans. We should work tirelessly to maintain the great country we have instead of being at each other's throats." Police said the six chased home one of the brothers, William Bines, 18, after making remarks about him as he passed a street corner Monday night. After the gang broke a window, Bines and his brother Haskin, 17, swung a long coal poker out the window to prevent the attackers from climbing through. Fighting started when the brothers went out on the street to retrieve the poker. The youths fled when a patrolman pulled up and fired twice into the air, but one, Joseph Stewart, 20, was collared. The others were picked up at a hospital where they had gone for treatment of cuts and bruises. They were Fred Roth, 23; Robert McKenna, 22; Michael Whitmore, 20; and Robert Howard, 27, all of Philadelphia, and Peter Ottaviano, 20, of Pennsauken, N. J. All six were charged with assault and battery and conspiracy.

State Dept. Takes Over Gifts To Personnel From King Saud

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department has collected and taken custody of all known gifts to its personnel from King Saud of Saudi Arabia. There is one exception, however. That is the $3,000 automobile given by Saud to the family of Victory R. Purse, former deputy chief of protocol at the State Department. The car is registered in his wife's name, and the Department made no effort to reclaim it. Disclosure of the gift to Purse's wife several weeks ago touched off a furor in the Department over the propriety of accepting gifts. After a hearing, the Department decided Purse could keep the car and his job. He was found to be within the law but to have exercised "bad judgment." The Department acted last week to clarify the regulations governing acceptance of gifts by State Department personnel at home and American foreign service officers abroad. A circular was sent around to all of them. In effect, the circular ruled out all gifts except those of insignificant value, such as autographed photographs. The order to turn in gifts from Saud went out nearly two weeks ago. It was done quietly. Wrist watches, Arab robes and ceremonial daggers—standard among gifts dispensed by Saud during his Washington visit last February—were turned in. They were taken over by the protocol division for storing until the department decides whether to give them back. This was a reversal of an earlier decision that it was all right to keep them. The Saud gifts had been turned in almost immediately. About the middle of the year they were made available to the recipients. The circular clarifying gift regulations noted that in some instances it might be impolite to refuse a gift, however expensive. It said that, to prevent snubbing a foreign dignitary, costly gifts might be accepted. But they would have to be turned in to protocol pending a department decision on whether they could be kept. Many items have been in storage for years, awaiting just such a decision. Purse has been transferred to another job, although the department insists this had nothing to do with the gift controversy. He now is chief of administration in the department's office of International Organization Affairs.

Santa Fe, Union End Long Dispute

CHICAGO (AP)—The Santa Fe Railroad today entered into a union shop agreement with 15 non-operating unions, ending a seven-year dispute and heading off a strike scheduled for Friday morning. The settlement, affecting some 42,000 Santa Fe employees, was reached about 2 a. m. It climaxed 16 hours of nearly continuous meetings among union representatives, company officials and federal mediators. The agreement, announced by Francis A. O'Neill, chairman of the National (railway) Mediation Board, was termed "a complete victory" by union spokesmen. O'Neill was assisted in the final negotiations by mediation board member Robert Boys. George E. Leighty, president of the Railroad Telegraphers Union and chairman of the 15 unions' joint negotiating committee, said the agreement is similar to pacts signed with the nation's Eastern railroads five years ago. The unions, representing the railway's off-train employees, announced a Nov. 22 strike date last Friday after meetings in Washington broke up without making any apparent headway. The only point at issue was the union shop, a point which makes union membership a condition of employment. The agreement provides that all present nonunion and new employees, who otherwise would be required to become members of the nonoperating unions, will not be required to become full members, but will be required to pay dues, fees and assessments. Fred G. Gurley, chief executive officer and chairman of the board of Santa Fe, said the agreement is therefore a modified union shop, since under many union shop clauses employees are required to become full members. He added in a statement: "Now that this controversy is behind us and the public has been spared a costly transportation strike, our entire organization will be able to devote their full energies to providing necessary services for our shippers and passengers." The Santa Fe system, which operates some 13,147 miles of trackage through the Southwest and West, thus became the last of the nation's major railroads to sign a union shop agreement. In February 1951, the 15 unions served notice on the railroads that they wanted a union shop. Many railroads, including the Santa Fe, held out, and in February 1952 after a presidential emergency board recommended the railroads enter into such pacts, many did.

Flier Begins Medic Tests

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Air Force Lt. Sam Merriman starts a series of tests today to determine if one of his kidneys can be transplanted to his critically ill twin, Bill. Merriman arrived yesterday on a 15-day emergency leave. He said he was given orders as he left Hondo AFB, Tex., assigning him to the Air Force Reserve on an inactive status. He had attempted to remain in flight school, but the Air Force ruled that if he voluntarily gives up one kidney, he would not be qualified for flying service. Merriman is a member of the Texas National Guard. Merriman will undergo skin graft tests to determine if his kidney can be transplanted. If so, the operation probably will be performed in Richmond, Va., he said. Merriman said he will lose his final month's paycheck and may owe the government money because he will have had 35 days emergency leave with the present 15-day period. However, Hondo officials said last night his pay status is still being checked in Washington.

U.S. To Increase Soil Bank Rates

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government plans to announce within a day or so that it will offer slightly higher acreage payment rates for retiring land next year from cotton, corn, tobacco and rice under the soil bank. Increases in the 1958 rates over those for this year will reflect increases in acre yields of these crops, officials said. Next year's program also will offer a premium of 10 per cent if farmers retire the same acres that were kept out of production this year.

Noted Galveston Chaplain Dies

GALVESTON (AP)—Messages of condolence from high ranking public figures streamed in today to the sole survivor of Galveston's "Father Chat"—the Rt. Rev. Marius Stephen Chataignou—who died yesterday. Father Chat, pastor of the Sacred Heart Church here for 33 years, died of a cancer and a heart condition. He is survived only by a sister, Miss Mary Louise Chataignou of Galveston. Services will be held tomorrow. Gen. Mark Clark wired from The Citadel, S.C.: "My deepest sympathy to you and your loved ones. . . we have lost a true friend and a gallant soldier." Father Chat served under Clark in Europe during World War II. He was dubbed "Chaplain York" in Sicily after 55 Italian soldiers surrendered to him. He also served in World War I. Maj. Gen. Patrick Ryan, chief of chaplains, wired, "The chaplains of the U.S. Army join me in expressing deepest sympathy and condolence on the occasion of the death of our fellow chaplain and wartime companion. We will remember him in our prayers." A message also was received from Maj. Gen. K. L. Berry, adjutant general of Texas, and many others.

Damages Suit Trial Put Off

Trial of a damage action brought by C. B. Lawrence and others against W. L. Goldsmith, in 118th District Court on Monday, came to an abrupt halt when a discussion arose over the plaintiff's proof in the cause. Upshot of the debate was a motion by the plaintiff to amend his petition and to seek more damages. Agreement was reached by which the case was continued for the term to permit the plaintiff to take the action he sought. The jury was excused from the courtroom while the attorneys conferred with Judge Charlie Sullivan. When the jurors were returned to their seats, the court advised them the case had been halted and that their services were no longer needed. He asked they report to the court on Wednesday morning. No trial case had been set for Tuesday—it being anticipated the one before the court would require all of Monday and Tuesday. On Wednesday morning, the case of C. H. McDaniel Jr. and others against the Magnolia Pipeline Company for damages is docketed to open. These are the only two cases announced ready for trial at this week's jury session. A jury was selected in the Lawrence trial shortly before lunch.

Canvass Explained To First Baptists

A congregation which has grown from a membership of eight to more than 1,300 in 71 years heard Monday evening of another major undertaking. Upward of 400 members of the First Baptist Church heard details of an every-member canvass outlined at a loyalty dinner held in the junior high gymnasium. While the church has under consideration the construction of an additional education wing and ultimately another sanctuary, no goals have been set.

"We want to meet our needs head on," said Leroy Hollingshead, Sunday school superintendent. "What we are asking is for each family in the church to make an equal sacrifice in their pledges. We want them not only to pledge, but to attend and participate."

Kick-off for the special campaign will be at 6:30 p.m. to day at the First Baptist Church with approximately two score canvassers ready to make personal calls on the church family. G. A. Morehead, Dr. P. W. Malone, and Merrill Creighton explained the needs and plans of the church, and T. H. McCann told of the mechanics of making pledges and announced several which represented the title or better.

Mrs. Clyde Angel told Monday evening how the church had been organized on Nov. 13, 1886, with eight members and a weekly budget of $12. Thrice the plant was destroyed, once by cyclone and twice by fire, but in 1929 the present building was erected.

Since then the church has purchased an additional 100 feet to the north and is in the process of acquiring the remaining 100 feet of the block for future expansion. Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor, summed up Monday's appeal.

Weatherman Misses Guess

The U. S. Weather Bureau's gloomy prediction of snow flurries and misty frosts for Big Spring on Monday and Monday night flurried rather badly.

The skies, for the most part, continued clear with only a few scattered clouds drifting aimlessly about. No threatening snow banks gathered and even the heavy dew which has been a rule for some weeks was lacking on Tuesday morning.

The temperature managed to get to 32 degrees—technically a freezing level—but not to the chilling 20 to 28 degree mark foreseen in Monday's official prediction.

Tuesday dawned bright and clear. The chill was still prevalent—the low of the night having struck shortly before dawn. Cotton farmers heaved sighs of relief at the absence of moisture and raceros moved back into the fields to resume the badly interrupted cotton harvest.

The coldest Nov. 19 on record in Big Spring was in 1921. On that date, the mercury dropped to 19 degrees. It was not likely that the record maximum for the day would be reached today. In 1950, the temperature was a summary 84 degrees on Nov. 19.

Firemen Call For More Toys

The toy business is still slow at the fire department, Fire Chief H. V. Crocker said today in urging citizens to bring in their old toys. Annually, the fire department, the Salvation Army and Shell service stations collect toys at Christmas time which they repair, paint, and prepare for needy children.

The drive for these repairable toys is now under way, but Crocker said very few toys have been turned in. Any type of toy will be welcomed, he said, and any amount. The toys can be left at any of the four fire stations, or at any Shell service station. The toys left at the service stations are regularly brought to fire station where firemen repair them.

The number of toys that we receive will determine how many repairable children are made happy and one or two toys makes a big difference between a happy and a sad Christmas, Crocker said.

The shirts and pants plus the suitcase have been found.

Laborer Backs Up Insurance Claim Of Slaying Plot

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A husky laborer backs up an insurance company's claim that a money lender named Max Shayne masterminded his own slaying so his family could collect $250,000 in insurance.

Matlock said he tried to back out of the plot, struggled with Shayne and killed the money lender "in self-defense."

Shayne, 48, was found dead Sept. 29 in his parked car, apparently the victim of a robbery and murder. Matlock was arrested three days later.

Beneficial Standard Life Insurance Co. yesterday filed a Superior Court complaint to rescind the policy. Shayne took out just 19 days before his death. The firm charged that Shayne staged his own death to escape the suicide exclusion clause of the policy.

In an interview at county jail, the 200-pound Matlock told reporters that Shayne offered him $1,000 and some jewelry to strangle him and make it look like murder and robbery. Matlock said he turned down the offer.

"I kept trying to get out of the parked car," Matlock said, "and he (Shayne) would keep pulling me back. My shirt got torn and he scratched my face when we were struggling."

Finally, Matlock told reporters, he broke a strap from the back seat and knotted it about Shayne's neck.

At the time of Shayne's death, he and his brother Irving, 39, were free on an appeal bond, but under five-year prison sentences resulting from convictions on charges of fraud in connection with FHA home improvement loans.

Scooter Rider Is Injured In Mishap

One man needed emergency treatment after an accident Monday, but injuries were not serious.

Royce Come, 1422 Tucson, who was riding a motor scooter, was taken to Malone-Hogan Hospital for first aid but was not admitted. One was in collision with a car driven by Francisco Vela, 617 W. 4th, in the 200 block of E. 10th.

This morning, Wanda Coleman, 120 Lexington, of Jere Sink, 602 E. 12th, was involved in an accident at 1600 Eleventh.

County Marking Time With Three Of Its Major Projects

Three major county projects continue inactive and there was no indication around the courthouse when they would get into action again.

These are the Howard County Airport, the new home for the Howard County Free Library, and the FM 700 loop road project.

Further development of the Howard County Airport continued to wait on the Civil Aeronautics Authority. Engineers who are to prepare specifications for the job are unable to push ahead because the FAA has not as yet sent back the master plan for the airport.

Wild Weather Hits Broad U.S. Areas

Tornadoes, snow, rain and windstorms pounded many areas. Floods menaced some Southern states, forcing hundreds of persons from their homes.

Deaths attributed to the violent weather numbered at least 19 and an over-all total of 30 since the weekend. Several persons were injured. Property damage, mostly from tornadoes and floods, mounted into the millions of dollars.

The season's heaviest snowstorm which hit the Midwest appeared tapering off today but strong northwesterly winds, with gusts up to 50 m.p.h. caused much drifting. Visibility was sharply reduced and highway travel was considered hazardous in many areas. Snow plows in some places were unable to make much headway because of the steady drifting.

Snow piled up to more than a foot in sections of Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin. While the heavy snow diminished in eastern parts of South Dakota and Nebraska, more snow fell from Iowa and southern Minnesota into northwestern Wisconsin and Upper Michigan. Depths of 8 to 12 inches were general.

The deaths attributed to the stormy weather since the weekend included Nebraska 6; Alabama 6, with 2 missing and presumed dead; Minnesota 5; Illinois 5; Kentucky 4; Mississippi 2.

Tornadoes ripped across areas in Alabama, Kentucky and Mississippi. More than 20 persons were injured in Alabama. The twisters hit the Birmingham area and several small Alabama communities.

Central and western sections of Kentucky were hammered by tornadoes and electrical storms, while Hopkinsville was hardest hit by floods as the Little River overflowed. Some 150 families were evacuated. Waters appeared receding and some roads into the city of 12,526 were passable.

Floodwaters covered about 60 per cent of seven counties in the Missouri "Bootheel," forcing the evacuation of more than 150 families from farms. The overflows extended over thousands of acres of cotton and soybeans.

In Tennessee, a flash flood near Portland halted service on the Louisville and Nashville Railroad between Franklin, Ky., and Nashville. Windstorms hit many areas. More than 100 families were forced to leave their homes in sections of southeastern Tennessee after storms overflowed.

Mississippi reported at least six persons injured in tornadoes.

Fire Evidence In Airliner

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Investigators say they have found evidence of fire in debris from the Pan American Stratoliner that went down in the Pacific 10 days ago with 44 persons aboard.

But they have not determined so far whether the fire occurred while the plane was still in the air or after it hit the water.

A Civil Aeronautics Board representative announced the discovery yesterday after the aircraft carrier Philippine Sea returned here with the remains of 19 of the victims and 14 cartons of wreckage.

The carefully packaged debris was loaded on trucks for removal to San Francisco, where an official examination will be conducted by the CAB.

The bodies of the victims also will be examined by pathologists, chemists, dentists and others in an effort to uncover anything possible about the nature of the crash. Each body will be X-rayed for the purpose of learning precise effects of the impact. The examiners also hope to get some idea of what angle the plane was traveling at when it hit the sea.

Girard Convicted, Is Given 3-Year Suspended Sentence

MAEBASHI, Japan (AP)—GI William S. Girard was convicted today of shooting down a woman scrap collector to satisfy a "momentary caprice." A three-judge Japanese court gave him a three-year suspended prison sentence and put him on probation for a fourth year.

Girard called the verdict after the three-month trial "kind of tough" but said he was glad the court "gave me another chance."

The 22-year-old soldier from Ottawa, Ill., and his Japanese bride are scheduled to leave for the United States quickly if neither prosecution nor defense appeals the verdict during the next 14 days.

The court said the probationary period would apply only if he remained in Japan. Girard also was ordered to pay the court costs of the Japanese witnesses, about $20.

Weather's Cold, Clear Over State

By The Associated Press

Clear, cold weather settled over Texas Tuesday.

Overcast skies, which spread a little drizzle over north, east and south Texas, cleared during the night.

Predawn temperatures ranged from 26 degrees at Dalhart to 56 at Brownsville. Amarillo had 28, and Childress, Lubbock and Junction 31.

Clear to partly cloudy skies and cool weather were forecast with a little warming in West Texas.

Rainfall for the 24 hours ending at 6:30 p.m. Monday included: Abilene 16, Amarillo .07, Austin 23, Beaumont .38, Dallas .13, Fort Worth .11, Galveston 10, Houston .48, Midland .02, San Antonio .09, Victoria .09, Waco .65, Wichita Falls .16, Lufkin 1.38, Palacios .18, College Station .33, Mineral Wells .10 and Dalhart .14.

Most of the precipitation, some of it snow mixed with rain in the Panhandle, fell Sunday night.

mally and we see no complications." Candy, meanwhile, was hiding from reporters.

Although the case at its outset had created a furor in Japan and America and a crisis in U. S.-Japanese relations, there was little immediate public reaction to its outcome. The newspaper Asahi said the friends and neighbors of Mrs. Naka Sakai, victim of Girard's shot last Jan. 30 on an Army firing range, were "almost heartlessly indifferent and said they could not understand why there was so much fuss about it."

The Girard case attracted world wide attention when veterans groups and some newspapers and congressmen in the United States protested the Army's turning the soldier over to a Japanese court. The State Department was particularly concerned about congressional attacks on the status-of-force agreements providing for foreign trials of servicemen for offenses committed off duty.

The fuss finally subsided after

Weather Forecast For Next 30 Days

These maps, based on those supplied by the United States Weather Bureau, forecast the probable precipitation and temperatures for the last half of November and the first half of December.

Weather Outlook Cooler And Drier

It will be colder than normal and the rainfall about as usual for the next 30 days, according to the 30-day forecast issued by the U. S. Weather Bureau. The period covered runs from mid-November through mid-December.

The forecast announced by the U. S. Bureau classifies the Big Spring area as slated for sub-normal temperatures and "near" normal precipitation.

The average rainfall for November for the past 56 years has been 96 inch. The average temperature for the month for 41 years—which is as long as the U. S. Experiment Station has records—has been 51 degrees.

December average rainfall for 56 years is 76 inch and the average temperature 44 degrees. If the averages hold we should get about the average rainfall for the period but the temperature should be lower than average.

Midland Paper Plans Building

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP)—Construction is scheduled to begin this week on a new building to house the Midland Reporter-Telegram and the R-T Printing Co.

The project is a major step in an expansion and improvement program planned by the Reporter-Telegram to cost more than $750,000.

James N. Allison is publisher of the Reporter-Telegram.

The one-story structure, with basement and penthouse, will be built one block east of the newspaper's present location in downtown Midland. It will be 120x160 feet and will be of reinforced concrete and brick construction, with granite and aluminum trim.

A multiunit 96-page Scott Printing Press, bought from the Dallas Times Herald, will be installed in the new building. Other equipment is on order.

The expansion program is the second for the Reporter-Telegram in 10 years. The new structure will contain more than 30,000 square feet of floor space, three times the size of present quarters. Completion is scheduled within a year.

Murder, Suicide

ALAMO, Tex. (AP)—Peace Justice R. L. Savage said a former mental patient shot his mother to death, then killed himself yesterday. Murder and suicide were ruled. Savage said Mrs. Phillip Van Drogen Sr., 57, was shot once in the head and her son, Phillip Jr., 23, was shot in the heart.

Pair Slain In Custody Fight

HUGO, Okla. (AP)—Choctaw County Sheriff Ed Thornton said Mrs. Rachel Warren, about 65, admitted she shot and killed a mother and daughter from Texas late yesterday when the women attempted to enter her home near here. "It was the first time I fired a gun in my life," Thornton quoted Mrs. Warren as saying.

The sheriff said no charges have been filed, but Mrs. Warren was reported to the county attorney's office today to make a formal statement.

Dead were the woman's former daughter-in-law, Mrs. Joann Warren, 24, San Antonio, and Mrs. Ethel Kappelman, about 50, of Blanco, Tex. Mrs. Warren was struck by three bullets and Mrs. Kappelman was hit twice.

The elder Mrs. Warren, a widow, said she received a telephone call yesterday afternoon from Dallas and the person calling said the mother and daughter were en route to Hugo for the younger Mrs. Warren's son.

The child, Charles Warren Jr., 4, was awarded to the custody of his father when the couple were divorced several weeks ago, the sheriff said.

Sheriff's deputies watched the Warren home for a time after the call was received, Thornton said, but left when no one appeared.

Thornton said Mrs. Rachel Warren told him she fired the gun when the women attempted to enter her home by cutting a screen with a knife.

The sheriff said newspaper clippings telling of the couple's divorce was found in the younger woman's purse. Her former husband, Charles Warren, lives in Dallas, Thornton said.

Frenchmen Find Wine Prices Up

PARIS (AP)—Wine, the Frenchman's favorite drink, went up in price today for the fourth time since September and for the seventh time since the beginning of 1957.

Ordinary table wines, which averaged about 17 cents a quart early this year, now cost nearly 25 cents. Increased production costs and a bad harvest this year are blamed.

Annual Meet Committees Named By Chamber Prexy

Committees for the annual banquet were announced at the Chamber of Commerce directors meeting Monday noon.

R. L. Beale, president, announced that Marvin Miller, Bill Hensley and Red Smith would serve as the program and speaker committee. Mrs. Clara Zack and D. M. McKinney will be on the place and foods committee, while a committee composed of Douglas Orme, Champ Rainwater, R. W. Whipkey, Truman Jones and K. H. McGibbon, all past presidents, will return nominations for next year's officers. The banquet may be held in January.

Certification of director election results will be handled by a committee composed of Joe Pickle, Jack Cook, and George Oldham.

Mrs. Zack reported that local businesses had responded so well to a mail solicitation that $2,793 or a $3,000 Christmas budget had been raised. So far $1,343 of the amount has been disbursed, including $800 to participating churches through the $50 expense allowance for floats.

Rad Ware has an excellent chance of becoming the first person to be awarded a life membership to the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, according to Wayne Smith, chamber manager. So far Ware has enlisted 33 new members, he said, and could reach the goal of 50 members by the end of the year.

A total of 24 invitations to prospective playoff teams have been sent to schools in the western part of Texas, said Smith. In these the chamber agreed to underwrite the stadium, tickets and some other miscellaneous expense, he explained. Last year Big Spring landed one playoff game.

Terming it the best BE day yet, Dr. W. A. Hunt, chairman of the education committee, said that 52 firms entertained 310 teachers last Friday.

"I want to thank the business interests of Big Spring for the very fine cooperation which made this day the success that it was," he said.

Postal Workers Prepare For Record Breaking Volume

Plans for handling this year's Christmas mail — which Elmer Boatler, postmaster, said he expects to exceed even the record breaking volume of 1956—are being shaped up at the Big Spring Post Office.

"Last Dec. 19," Boatler said, "we handled 204,386 pieces of mail in this post office. That was an all time record high. From the way things look now, I expect a new record to be set this Christmas season."

Theme of the plans, naturally enough is "Mail early for Christmas." Boatler pointed out that Christmas is only a little more than one month off. And he pointed out that too many folk are prone to wait until December rolls around before they give their Christmas mailing plans a thought.

He had a number of suggestions that he feels will be helpful. Right off the bat, he urges every one to check their Christmas card list with great care and make certain that each address includes the full name, the street and number, the city, the zone and the state.

He also thinks it would be a very good idea for everyone to stock up now on heavy wrapping paper, sturdy corrugated cartons, strong cord and paper adhesive tape for use in properly preparing Christmas parcels for shipment.

If you intend to include your Christmas card or a letter in the package, he warns that you should add a 3-cent postage stamp to the cost of shipment. This will insure simultaneous arrival of the package and the message.

Boatler also points out that the post office has a supply of booklets titled "Pamphlet No. 2, which tells all about wrapping and packaging parcels for mailing, and Pamphlet No. 3 which tells all about domestic postal rates and fees.

LABELS WILL HELP
Also available to help the Christmas shipper are supplies of labels which read "All for local delivery" and "all for out of town delivery." By attaching these to your parcels, the postmaster said, you can materially speed up arrival of your Christmas cards by sorting and tying them in two separate bundles with addresses all facing one way.

It is also worthwhile, Boatler thinks, to bear in mind that a Christmas card which has some personal message must have a 3-cent stamp. Nothing more than a signature is authorized on cards which are mailed at the second class 2-cent rate.

He also urges that everyone be certain return address of the sender is on each Christmas card. This is socially proper and is also of much help in keeping your own and your friends' mailing lists up to date.

Arrangements for extra help to assist in handling the big rush are being worked out.

The time is ripe to get busy with your Christmas mailing plans, the post office workers believe.

A Thanksgiving dinner dance for Shriners and their ladies is announced for Friday evening, at the Big Spring Country Club. The affair will start at 7:30 p.m.

Boy, Teacher Hurt In Storm

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A 12-year-old boy and his fifth-grade teacher were injured yesterday when high winds ripped a section of roof off a Nashville school and toppled a brick chimney into a classroom.

The boy, Ronnie Graves, suffered a compound leg fracture and head injuries when he was buried waist-deep in debris from the shattered ceiling. He was listed in poor condition at a hospital due to loss of blood.

The teacher, Mrs. Charles Eckstein, suffered minor injuries. Witnesses said she collapsed after leading her 23 other pupils to safety outside the damaged room. Damage to the school was estimated at $30,000 to $40,000.

A Bible Thought For Today

Service Versus Frills

The American motorist demands all sorts of conveniences and luxuries in his private automobile, but as a commuter he isn't so choosy.

A Chicago bus company has found that out, at considerable pain to its exchequer. Last May it started a de luxe bus service between downtown Chicago and Park Forest, 31 miles and 75 minutes away. This was something special in buses. It had wide reclining seats, television, carpeting, card tables, draw drapes and electric razors.

It had everything, in fact, but passengers. At $1.35 one way, or two round trips for $4.50 (against 83c on ordinary buses, or 58c with a commutation ticket), the commuters' dream bus lost $5.462 through September and probably another $1,000 in October. The most passengers it carried was twelve, and occasionally it had only one or two.

The bus company knew when it was licked, so it has applied to the Illinois Commerce Commission for permission to discontinue the de luxe service.

That may take some weeks to decide, so the bus company isn't through paying through the nose for its misjudgment of public taste. Perhaps the quickest and easiest way out would be to head the fancy chariot for the nearest abandoned gravel pit and give her a shove.

The public's verdict seems to be, "Cut out the frills and the furlongs, and just get us there on time."

A Commendable Course

The other day city fathers of Midland officially named the North Boulevard Scharbauer Boulevard in honor of the late Clarence Scharbauer Sr.

Clarence Scharbauer, who was recognized as Midland's No. 1 citizen prior to his death in 1942, led the way in practically every progressive movement in this city and section," commented the Midland Reporter-Telegram. "He was the type of gentleman, however, who never sought and who even shunned publicity and public recognition. He remarked often that he was 'just a cownpuncher trying to do my part.'" Yet he saw to it that his part was the first and the largest.

This strikes us as a proper course for the Midland city council to have taken and one which might well be commended to the consideration of other city governments in our area.

Every city, Big Spring included, has had many who in days past labored faithfully and unselfishly in the vineyard. Some of them were men of means and they gave unstintingly; some made up in hard and consistent devotion for progressive development what they lacked in material substance. But each in his own way gave what he had, and of them we can say as did the Midland newspaper of Mr. Scharbauer: "Midland perhaps would not be the fine city it is today had it not been for Clarence Scharbauer, and other far-sighted men and women."

Kefauver, Kennedy, Johnson On Demo List

PRINCETON, N. J. — Sen Estes Kefauver of Tennessee continues to lead the field as the 1960 choice for President among the rank and file Democratic voters questioned from coast to coast by the Institute. Sen John Kennedy of Massachusetts runs a close second.

Among Independent voters, however, Kefauver has lost ground to Kennedy, who today holds a sizable advantage over Kefauver among the Independents.

The American Institute of Public Opinion, through its nationwide staff of interviewers, conducted this "primary" by submitting the names of Democratic leaders who have been mentioned as 1960 possibilities to a cross-section of the party rank and file.

Results of a Republican "primary" will be reported next week.

The third most popular choice today among Democratic voters is Sen Lyndon Johnson of Texas. Then come Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee and Sen Stuart W. Symington of Missouri.

While Kefauver leads the field, his percentage is down from 29 per cent in an August survey to 26 per cent today among Democrats. Kennedy's vote among Democrats also is down from 23 per cent to 19 per cent.

Johnson is up from 8 per cent in August to 11 per cent today, while the vote for Clement and Symington remains unchanged.

All voters classifying themselves as Democrats were asked:

"Here is a list of men who have been mentioned as possible candidates for the Democratic party in 1960. Which one would you like to see nominated as the Democratic candidate in 1960?"

eratic voters throughout the nation remains to be seen.

One important factor that must be considered in interpreting today's survey results is the extent to which the potential candidates are known to the public at this time—with the election three years away.

Other things being equal, widely known man has a considerable advantage over a less well known man in a bid for the public's preference.

Democrats were asked:

"Which of these men have you heard or read about?"

Per Cent Heard or Read About (Democratic Voters Only)	Per Cent
Kefauver	89
Kennedy	68
Humphrey	60
Symington	51
Johnson	50
Clement	49
Chandler	43
Kerr	39
Meyner	30

Kennedy commands more solid support among Independent voters than he does among those who classify themselves as Democrats.

In political circles this would be considered a distinct asset since the balance of power in elections in this country is held by the Independent voters.

Here is the way the Independent voters line up on the Democratic candidate possibilities today, compared with last August.

Democrats were next asked:

"Is there any other person not on the list whom you would like to see as the Democratic candidate in 1960?"

The following received frequent mention: Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia, Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, Sen. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio, Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas, Gov. Averell Harriman of New York and former President Harry S. Truman.

Others were Gov. Price Daniel of Texas, Sen. Herman Talmadge of Georgia, Sen. Albert Gore of Tennessee, Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

WASHINGTON — You never would have guessed during the 1956 presidential campaign that it could happen.

But yesterday Adlai Stevenson became a guide for the man he called "an unguided missile" in 1956, Secretary of State Dulles.

That was quite a campaign last year. Dulles himself kept quiet while Stevenson blasted President Eisenhower and secretary on foreign policy and Eisenhower replied in kind.

Actually the Eisenhower-Dulles and Stevenson differences were more of degree than of kind. The campaign oratory magnified them.

The three men have the same general view of foreign policy. They disagree more on details than on general needs.

Time passes. This country needs to find ways to strengthen its ties with its allies in NATO—the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

And the Eisenhower administration, wanting support from Democrats as well as Republicans, asked Stevenson to help out as a consultant.

Stevenson will work without pay. After talking with Dulles yesterday, and being assigned an office across the hall from him, Stevenson said of the meeting: "Very encouraging."

He added that Dulles was "extremely cordial and friendly."

This was quite a switch from 1956 when these were some of the things Stevenson was saying about the Eisenhower-Dulles handling of foreign affairs.

"Disastrous... appeasement... provocation... deceit... boasting... bluffing... failure... bankruptcy." He called the Republican campaign "phony."

And he complained because Eisenhower wouldn't agree to some of his suggestions, such as stopping H-bomb tests.

"New ideas," he said, "are dismissed with epithets, abuse and distortion."

Besides the "unguided missile" crack, Stevenson derided Dulles as a man who talked "slogans" and "dangerous nonsense" and had been kept in the political ball game "just one brink too long."

Instead of himself asking Stevenson to help him out, Eisenhower let Dulles do the asking. But once Stevenson accepted, Eisenhower sent him a note which said: "Delighted you and Foster will be getting together."

That if you're a litterbug you might remember this: Between 750 and 1,000 Americans are killed each year as a result of cars hitting or swerving from objects thrown out on highways.

That a small Midwestern town boasts this sign: Population, 463 Atomic Target No. 4,376,284.

That comedian George De Witt tells of the preacher in whose household the towels are marked: "Hymn" and "Hers."

That the People's Trust Co. of Wyomissing, Pa., issues special check books with the stubs on the right side for left-handed customers.

That models at the Grace Downs School here have started a new fad—multicolored eyelashes.

That if you're having Emperor Haile Selassie to dinner soon don't forget to have fresh fruit, marmalade and maple syrup on the table. They are among his favorite foods.

That it was Moliere who observed: "Those whose conduct by exercise alone you'd have to give room for talk are always saw wood for 10½ hours, or bend the first to attack their neighbors, touch your toes and straighten up 5,714 times.

Around The Rim
It's Different In The Movies

The only gun fight I ever saw was a lot different from the way the movies and the television depict such events.

In the films and on the TV screen it seems basically essential the two principals get out in the middle of the street and start stalking toward one another, exchanging snappy dialogue as they advance.

When they have reached exactly the right place (as measured in advance by the cameraman and carefully marked) each makes a lightning-like gesture toward his holstered pistol and they start blazing away.

I don't say that such incidents were not often as the movies do them. I only know that if Owen Wister had never been born and had never written a book called "The Virginian" that it is probable western movies and TV shows would have never developed or, at any rate, would have followed a different stage business.

Wister's hero meets a villainous character name of Trampas in a down-the-street-at-sunset walk which has been repeated over and over again in movies ever since the flickers made their debut.

I'm not criticizing the drama of such scenes. They are just bubbling over with drama and suspense. It's just that the one real gun duel with pistol-packing participants I eye-witnessed wasn't that away a-tall.

If there was any preliminary drama and suspense in the real article, it all transpired with such suddenness that I missed it. It was all finished in a twinkling of an eye—there were a series of gunshots, a man fell on the sidewalk and the second man stood holding two pistols in his hands.

The dead man's pistol clanked loudly on the concrete as his dying fingers released their grip. I think the silence which followed was so intense that the noise of that falling weapon was magnified.

There was no conversation between the two principals. It was started and finished before I or any of the others who were nearby actually realized what was transpiring. I wonder if most of the real gunfights weren't much that way.

I recall it was late afternoon. The streets were fairly crowded with people. The scene was a corner on which was located one of the town's biggest buildings. A bank occupied the first of its seven floors.

A car pulled in to the curb to park. A man stepped out on the left side; a tiny little girl, his daughter, got out on the opposite side. Side by side, they stepped up on the sidewalk.

I remember there was a heavy shadow on the pair—the sun had declined until the awning over the bank left the area in deep shadow.

At the edge of the building, the bright sun's rays slashed a diagonal pattern of white on the cement. A man rounded the corner in this bright light. He and the man with the girl saw each other I think at the same instant.

I did not actually see either draw his gun—it was too sudden, too unexpected. The shots rang out and the man with the child fell forward on his face.

The little girl stood where she had stood when the two men first sighted one another. I remember she began to scream and tears streamed down her cheeks.

The man who done the killing stood staring at his victim. Then he slowly shifted one gun from one hand to the other so that he held both pistols in his right hand.

He moved his lips and spat on the sidewalk.

Then he turned on his heels and started walking back around the corner from the direction in which he had first appeared.

No one stirred for a little interval. Faces began to appear in the windows of the offices overhead. Someone asked what had happened. A flood of voices took up the query and the answer.

The killer walked to the office of the sheriff.

He slapped the two pistols down on the counter.

"Throw 'em away," he said. "I'm gonna get me some 45's. I want some guns that when I shoot a man he drops—not starts shootin' back at me."

Somewhat I remember the little girl's face, her mouth open in a scream and the tears trickling down her cheeks sharper than I do the dead man sprawled on the sidewalk or the futile gun laying just beyond his finger-tips.

Thomas L. Stokes
Willing To Sacrifice—On Equal Basis

(Mr. Stokes' column replaces that of Inez Robb, who is on vacation).

WASHINGTON—From President Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon on down, including some outsiders already noisy with gloomy advice, we are getting the familiar talk about bigger defense expenditures, no tax reduction, sacrifices, tightening our belts and so forth to catch up with Russia in the scientific conquest of outer space.

We are preached to about what "the people" must do.

Our people can be depended upon to sacrifice. They always have—and willingly. But, as we gird ourselves with much rhetoric, may a long-time observer of the Washington scene suggest quietly that sacrifice be equal, if possible. That is, that powerful industrial interests which produce the needed rockets, satellites, space ships and what-not do not reap the usual excessive profits and do not evade their proportionate share of the cost in taxes through special privileges, as has been the case up to now.

It was so in World War II. We here who were close to the war production problem as reporters can recall how our leading industries balked at cooperating and converting their plants until they got guarantees of tax concessions and—though we had not actually got into the war yet—favorable terms about renegotiation of contracts when the war was over.

Among other needs stressed in this crisis for American science is more money for education. Federal aid for such is opposed by powerful interests represented in the National Association of Manufacturers and the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, who demand it be done by states and loyal communities.

A very interesting case in point has come to hand that shows what we are up against. This is in the Falls Township School Board, at Fallingston, Pa., in Bucks County, where United States Steel has a big plant that has brought in new people and increased the cost of schools.

The solicitor of the school board, T. Sidney Cadwallader II has done a little exploring and figuring about what the plant is contributing in the way of taxes in this community. He has found that, while the assessment for home owners is on the basis of 20 per cent of valuation, the steel plant enjoys an assessment much below the figure it gave the Federal government when it asked and got a tax writeoff.

Cadwallader got so stirred up about it that he issued a public statement in which he started off by quoting a statement by Roger M. Blough, chairman of the board of U. S. Steel. Blough said the corporation reached a new peak in profit earnings for the third quarter of 1957 and paid $161 millions in dividends. To Cadwallader this indicates the company should and could pay its share for support of schools, which he contends it is not doing. Among other things, he said:

"We feel that the company should bear in mind that it has some very real financial obligations in the areas in which its plants are located... We certainly do not feel that it is unreasonable to expect more tax funds from the steel company when they have asked and secured from the Federal government a tax writeoff at better than four hundred million dollars. They are assessed for a little over twenty-two and a half million dollars in Falls Township and this seems like an unfair percentage against the taxes paid by individual homeowners."

Marquis Childs
Walking Tight-Rope On Algerian Issue

WASHINGTON—With disaster threatening on either side, American policy-makers are going to have to try again to walk the narrow, neutral line on the Algerian issue so as to give no offense either to France or to the Arab-Asian-African bloc.

This calls for tight-rope walking to test the nerves of the most experienced professional. And it comes when a whole series of events coincide to heighten the importance of the course the United States follows.

King Mohammed V of Morocco is here for a state visit. The symbol of freedom for the nationalist forces that brought him to power and won liberation for France, he will be the official guest of President Eisenhower at the very time the Algerian issue is expected before the United Nations General Assembly.

The King will certainly ask the President to take a stronger stand than his country took last year. Then it was possible to support an innocuously-worded resolution and thereby avoid giving offense to either France or the North African Arabs. But the issue this time is far more inflamed.

The French say they must have American support in their stand for granting Algeria limited autonomy in a confederation with France. The Algerian nationalists, who have waged a bloody, terrorist civil war for four years, reject this as a sham. Already the uncertain government of the new premier, Felix Gaillard, has been shaken by the determination of the United States to send arms in limited quantities to Tunisia. The French fear that such arms eventually will find their way to the Algerian rebels.

France is in a do-or-die mood over Algeria, ready to take offense at any suggestion of "outside interference." Even criticism from Frenchmen, such as Jean Jacques Servan-Schreiber whose book "Lieutenant in Algiers" is being widely discussed in this country, is regarded as little short of treason. Important oil discoveries have been made in the Sahara in Algeria's desert fringe and this is an added incentive to hold on to the last major piece of France's once great overseas empire.

Leaving out the intense emotions that amount to something like a national neurosis, the problem is a staggering one. Up to a million and a half Europeans live in Algeria, and their position in the country, already jeopardized, would be impossible with any sudden "independence." Those who know the situation are convinced this would result in a fearful blood bath.

President Eisenhower is going to France in mid-December to meet with the North Atlantic Treaty Council. This is a critical meeting which must in some fashion put new life into the Western alliance. Gaillard in a public statement said that unless the American position on arms for Tunisia was reversed the NATO meeting would fail.

But the North African nationalists—Moroccan, Tunisian and Algerian—will be watching just as eagerly to see what stand the United States takes. In Morocco are five American Air Force bases, four of them activated and of the first importance in the chain of defense vital until the West has an intercontinental ballistic missile in operation.

World Of Science Is Modern Aladdin's Lamp

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

NEW YORK (AP)—The Aladdin's lamp of our times is science. In a brief span have come jet planes, fine cars, fresh food from all lands on your table, wrinkle-proof clothes, beautiful bridges and highways, air-conditioned homes, TV, electricity and machines to save human muscle and toil, drugs and vaccines to save health and lives.

These are some gifts from science in a list just beginning, plus H-bombs and guided missiles for man's arsenal of defense or aggression born of his hate, greed or fear.

The real creator is not science—defined as systematized knowledge—but the individual scientists and engineers who won the knowledge through intelligence, curiosity, trained minds and observation.

Says Satellites Not Military Evidence

WASHINGTON (AP)—Donald A. Quarles, deputy secretary of defense, says Russia's two earth satellites "do not prove that the Russians are more advanced in military rocketry than we are."

Quarles said the Sputniks must be regarded as the "first and exciting probes into the mysteries of outer space . . . significant as an indication of the state of advancement of Russian military rocketry."

R&H Store Lays In Big Stock Of Gifts

It is not as long until Christmas as you may think. Take a look at the calendar—there are just 29 more shopping days until the holiday itself. Wise shoppers always buy their gifts ahead of time. They do this for two very good reasons—first of all, they have a wider selection of gifts to choose from, secondly, they have the job all finished and out of the way while their procrastinating brethren are fighting the mobs in the last few days before Christmas.

In Big Spring, wise shoppers have already found the place to buy those beautiful gifts they want for their very special friends and relatives.

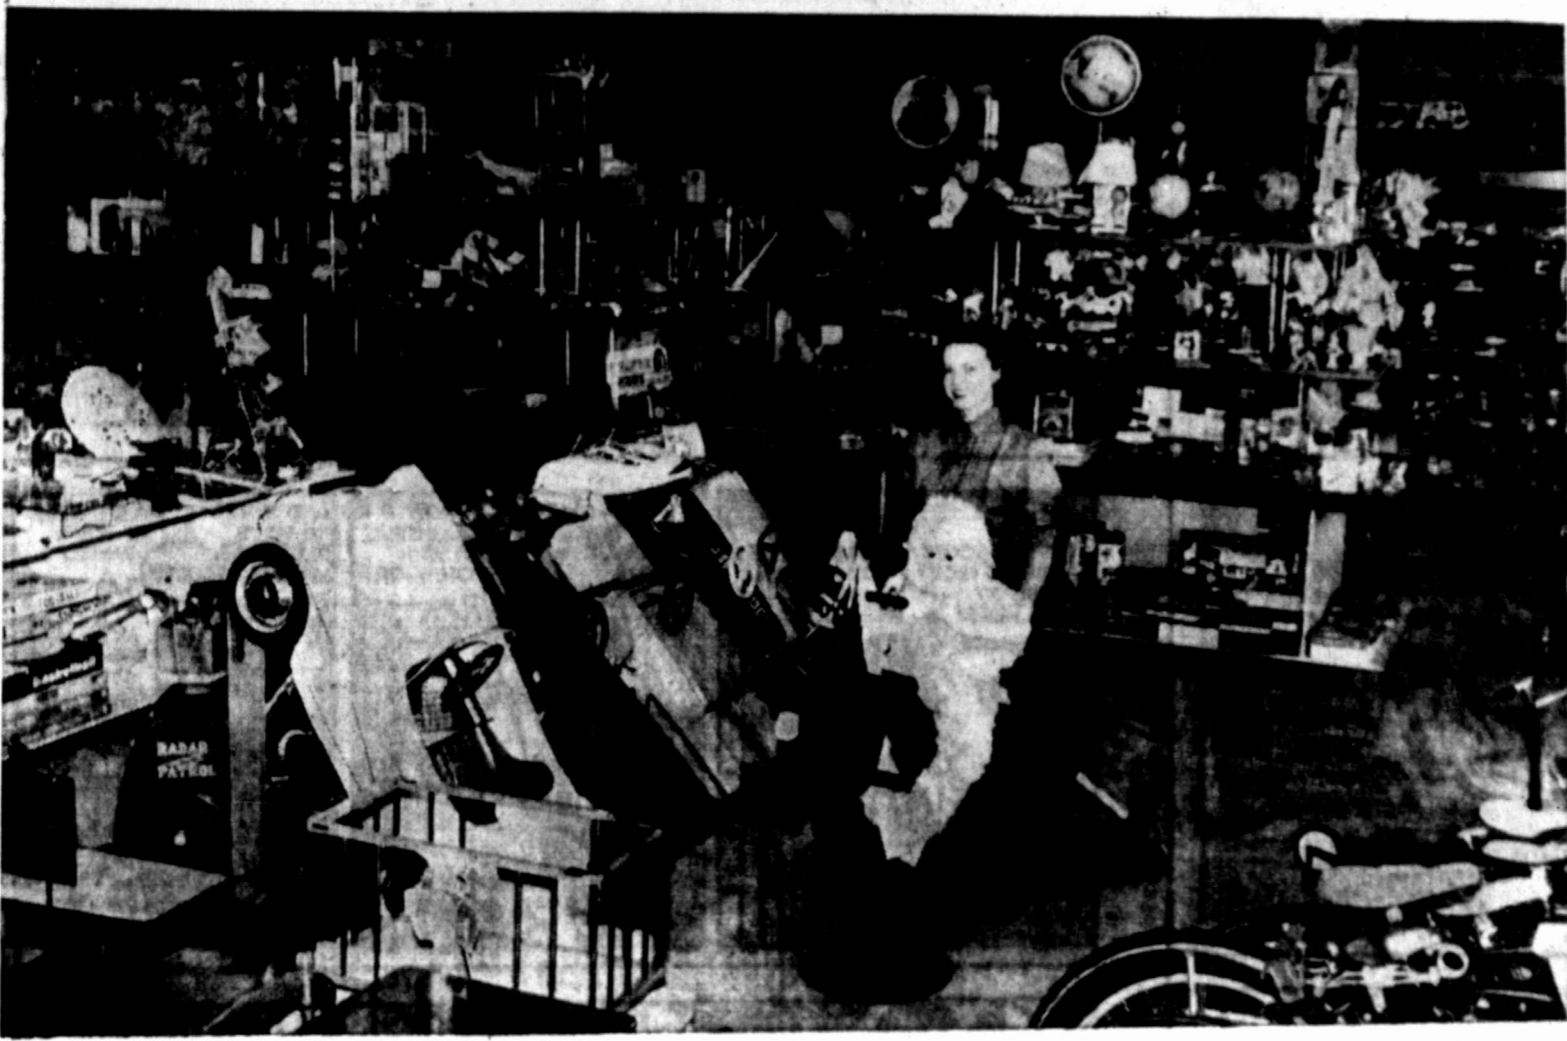

They go to R&H Hardware. R&H stocked their Christmas merchandise early and they put it on sale early. They were ready for the Christmas rush when most folk were still talking of summer picnics.

The stock they assembled is wide in its variety and interesting in its appeal. There are many unusual gifts—the kind of presents which are entitled to the classification "off-the-beaten-path."

The kind of presents which delight the person receiving them and which prove the high esteem in which the recipient is held by the donor.

You should not wait long to get about your Christmas shopping. Now is the time.

The place is definitely the R&H Hardware 504 Johnson. R&H is the place where parking is always available; where you do not need to dress to shop and where you always find the best possible selection of merchandise at the very best prices.

Santa Claus' Headquarters

Santa will be able to fill his sleigh to the top of the sideboards at the Sportsman-Toyland Center, 1608 Gregg, in Big Spring this Christmas season. Mrs. Joe Bunch, who with her husband and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Talbot, operates the store, here shows some of the playthings available. There's a wide selection of toys for every youngster in the family, as well as gifts for Mom and Dad. A Christmas lay-away plan also is available.

Travelall Combines Pickup, Auto In One Handy Vehicle

For vacation trips, for group sports, for field operations, car pool riding, for large amounts of luggage, and for every family use, the look is toward International's new Travelall.

These utility vehicles can be seen at Driver Truck & Implement Co., on the Lamesa Highway. Introducing the Travelall. International has rolled a pickup and a car into one. It is available in four series, and combines a handsome, roomy, comfortable body on a smooth-riding chassis. These models are designed for maximum utility as passenger and land carriers. An outstanding feature is the third side door, giving complete access to the rear seats on the curb side without disturbing front seat riders.

Standard seating accommodates eight riders, three in the front and back seats and two in the middle, while optional full-width seats for six leave plenty of room in the rear for storage.

The utility of Travelalls is unexcelled. The trend toward vehicles with the exaggerated "long, low look" has detracted from the load-carrying utility of most vehicles of the station wagon type. While six inches lower outside than previous models, their inside height, length, and width gives them up to twice the load space of late model station wagons. Yet they are shorter outside, easier to park and maneuver.

Most important, the in-built quality and moderate price of the Travelall mean that it costs least to own. Be sure to see and drive it—soon. Driver Truck & Implement, on the Lamesa Highway, is the place.

Thomas Office Supply Co. Is Operating In New Home

Thomas Typewriter and Office Supply is now at home in its new location at 101 Main Street, three doors north of its old quarters— which it occupied for 13 1/2 years since the building has been completely remodeled and offers the concern a modern, new look as well as more space.

The increased space, of course, means that Thomas Typewriter and Office Supply can display more of its merchandise, which includes everything from typewriters to office furniture.

Henceforth, the concern had to leave much of its stock in warehouses simply because it did not have enough room in which to display it.

Thomas Typewriter and Office Supply occupied its old quarters for 18 years. Mr. and Mrs. Gene Thomas, owners of the concern bearing their names, first opened for business there in 1932 and since that time has supplied and service a large percentage of the office equipment now being used in local business houses, stores and offices.

The Thomas concern stocks the famous Royal typewriters, popular the world over, and such equipment as adding machines, cash registers, calculators and etc.

Whether you desire to outfit your office with steel desk or posture chairs, steel filing cabinets or strong boxes, the place to do business is the Thomas Typewriter and Office Supply, long-time Big Spring business institution.

Wagon Wheel Restaurant Caters To Private Parties

If you're seeking a convenient, pleasing atmosphere for your private parties or club meetings—look no further than the Wagon Wheel Restaurant.

For the Wagon Wheel has all the facilities to make any such gathering a resounding success—comfortable and attractive quarters, privacy, good food and fast, courteous service.

E. L. Terry, manager, points out that the popular restaurant has two private dining rooms available for parties or other private gatherings.

One is the Western Room, which can accommodate up to 30 persons.

The other is the well-known Candlelight Room, with dining facilities for up to about 75 guests.

Of course, Terry pointed out, a club or party-giver shouldn't feel that he must fill either of the dining rooms to capacity. Smaller groups will be accommodated as willingly as the capacity gatherings, and the same fine food and top-notch service will be afforded.

Due to popularity of the facilities, it is necessary, however, for reservations to be made well in advance. Either of the private dining rooms can be reserved simply by telephoning Terry or others on the Wagon Wheel staff. The number is AM 4-8332.

FIRST YEAR MEN ARE UP FRONT IN NFL

By DON WEISS

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Football League came of age some time ago, so it's with another reason in mind everyone's calling it a "rookie league" for 1957.

Cleveland's challenge to New York in the Eastern Division, the erratic play of the Chicago Bears while Detroit, San Francisco and Baltimore unexpectedly contend for the Western title—all have been major surprises of the pro season. But none matches in importance the way a score or more first year men have muscled and finessed into the headlines of a league generally considered the showpiece of football perfection.

"Brown, Podoley, Galimore, Owens, Bossler, Sutton, Arnett, Barnes, Harris... gosh, you need a roster in front of you to remember them all, there are so many," Jim Lee Howell, coach of the Giants, said today.

"Sure, it's the best rookie crop I've seen since I've been in pro football," he said, "an unusually large group of unusually good players."

Trotline Haul

Alvin Byrd (left) and Charley Parrish, both of Westbrook, are shown with the 35-pound yellow catfish they caught while fishing with a trotline in Lake Colorado City recently. The catch was made near the Col-Tex cabin.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue:
FRANK LEAHY, former Notre Dame coach:
 "A football team's success merely spurs other departments into greater things. And big-time football teams bring in the money needed to improve academic standards... Our teams not only built a fine stadium, but enabled us to raise salaries to hire gifted professors and sponsor an intra-mural sports program in which from 85 to 88 per cent of our students participate."

A MICHIGAN STATE alumnus, in a wire to Coach Duffy Doughter, shortly before a recent game:
 "Don't worry, coach. We're with you, win or tie."

BILL VEECK, former owner of a big league franchise:
 "The American public is label conscious, and in baseball they like the major league label. The fellow who lives in Oklahoma City, or Phoenix, or Silver City, N. M., sees telecasts of major league games; he hears them broadcast. With modern air travel, he is only a few hours from a major league ball park. So he's no longer satisfied with minor league ball."

FRED HANEY, manager of the Milwaukee Braves:
 "Los Angeles can be bigger and greater than Milwaukee... Don't let anyone kid you about the 'old men' on the Dodger club. The Dodgers have kids saluted away in the farm system waiting for one of the so-called old men to quit... Let's face it. No matter who he is, any manager who doesn't win isn't long for world. That's his job. If he doesn't do it, he has no right to expect that he'll keep it."

BOBBY DODD, Georgia Tech football mentor:
 "At least once in every three or four times you punt, the opposition will clip one of your men. If you already have a 40-yard kick, that gives you 55 yards. Then you've got the other team in trouble."

SID GILLMAN, coach of the Los Angeles Rams, yelling to Bobby Layne of the Detroit Tigers after he was sure his Rams had the Lions safely whipped in a recent NFL game:
 "Hey, Bobby! It's almost martial time!"

CHUCK DRESSEN, on why he broke with the Washington Senators:
 "I couldn't do a job for the Washington club, and I didn't want to take their money. They're not willing to spend enough to build up their club and if they won't accept my recommendations it's silly to stay with them. I wanted to get with a team I can help."

MOOSE KRAUSE, athletic director at Notre Dame:
 "I'd like to see the return of two-division football and more national TV games. Two platoons will get more boys into the game and TV of the outstanding games every Saturday in the season will popularize football and create more fans for the sport."

FRED RUSSELL, Nashville sports scribe:
 "I'm positive that Man O'War could never have been the horse he was if his name had been Uncle Miltie or Bug Juice."

DR. EDWARD TELLER, 'father' of the H-Bomb:
 "We are so behaving that without any doubt we shall stay ahead of the Russians in football."

Johnson Greets 26 Boys In First Formal Drills

Twenty-six boys answered the first formal call to basketball practice at the local high school Monday afternoon.

The Steers have nine more days of practice before they launch play against Plainview here a week from Saturday night.

Indications are now both Jan Loudermilk and Jimmy Evans will miss the first week of practice, anyway. The two lettermen suffered injuries in football that will keep them on the shelf for a spell. Loudermilk has a bad knee and Evans an ailing foot. Both were regulars last season.

There's been an outbreak of turned ankles already and Coach Johnson doesn't want to aggravate the problem.

Another potential first stringer, Benny McCrary, is favoring a knee he injured in football and he may have to take it easy for a while.

Others who asked for suits include Billy Bob Satterwhite, Bill Thompson, Preston Hollis, Eddie Kenney, Bobby Evans, Joe Bob Clendenin, Goose Russell, Jerry Brooks, Chuck Wolk, Easton Hol-

Ten Class 4A Champs Have Been Decided

By The Associated Press

With Amarillo and Nederland as the favorites despite the fact that both defending champions are in the field, the upper divisions of Texas schoolboy football finish out the state playoff brackets this week.

Amarillo's mighty Sandies are undefeated and untied through nine games and look like the machines of the mid-twenties.

They have rolled up 338 points for an average of 44.2 per game. They have been more impressive than Abilene, the defending Class AAAA champion, which had some fairly close games.

Abilene and Amarillo head up the 10 district champions that have been determined in the division. Others are El Paso Austin, Fort Worth Paschal, Dallas Highland Park, Texarkana, Houston Bellaire, Galena Park, Austin and San Antonio Jefferson.

Nederland is the only undefeated, untied team left in Class AAA and the South Texas power has a gaudy record against some tough foes, playing four Class AAAA teams.

Garland, the defending champion, is in the field, however, and of late has looked very good after a very poor start. Garland is in the upper bracket, which has such top outfits as Sweetwater and Breckenridge. The latter two clash in the first round next week for a replay of their September 14-14 tie.

Garland appears capable of reaching the semifinals where it probably would meet the Sweetwater-Breckenridge winner.

Nederland is in the lower bracket and appears to have a clear field to the finals. There's no other team in the bottom half of the division that would seem capable of slowing down Nederland.

Eight district champions have been determined in AAA meaning eight more will be decided this week.

Already in the playoffs are Sweetwater, Breckenridge, Garland, Killeen, Brenham, Nederland, Curo and San Benito.

SWC Leaders Duel Saturday

DALLAS (AP)—The fellow who's best on the ground goes up against the guy who can do most in the air when Rice clashes with TCU at Fort Worth Saturday in the Southwest Conference football ball headliner.

Jimmy Shofner of TCU leads the ball carriers with 578 yards on 109 runs. King Hill of Rice tops the passers with 740 yards on 39 completions out of 68 throws.

The game will send the leading offensive team—Rice with 354.5 yards per game—against the top defensive outfit—TCU, which has held eight foes to an average of 153.3 yards per game.

Shofner held his lead in ball carrying last week when he managed 49 yards against Texas. Gerald Nesbitt of Arkansas gained slightly when he made 56 yards against SMU and now is only 43 yards back. But Shofner has two more games to play and Nesbitt only one.

Hill picked up only nine yards passing against Texas A&M, trying just three throws, but he still is 274 yards ahead of Don Meredith, the SMU passing ace who flung for a tremendous 230 yards against Arkansas.

Hill also still is the leader in total offense. He has rolled up 1,020 yards on 149 plays for an average of 6.8 each time he handled the ball. Shofner is second with 676 yards on 118 plays.

Only Two Matches Played In Loop

Team 1 shaded Hester's Office Supply, 3-0; and Nutt Drive in turned back Team 7 in the only matches played in the Clover Mixed Bowling circuit last weekend.

Matches between Mitchell Van and Storage and Dibrell's Sporting Goods, Team 5 and Park Inn were postponed.

Team 1 registered 972-2735 to grab scoring laurels while Nutt Drive in had a 2561 total and Team 7 and 891 single game.

Among the men, Tom McGreevy of Team 1 recorded a 592 total. George Steakley of Team 7 fashed a 232-577 while Jack Starnos of Team 1 came in with a 228.

The ladies were led by Margo McGreevy of Team 1, who had a 206-557. Vona Negro of Nutt's ended with a 524 aggregate while Audrey Piper of Team 1 posted a 198 single game.

Splits were converted by Jack Voight (45) and Don Vogelsang (39-10), both of Hester's.

Next week, Hester's challenges Mitchell Van and Storage, Dibrell's takes on Team 1, Team 5 tackles Team 7 and Park in squares off with Nutt Drive in.

Cats To Oppose Wall In Sterling

The Sterling City gymnasium will be the scene of a practice basketball game tonight between the Garden City Bears and Wall. Tipoff time is 8 o'clock.

The coaches of the two teams chose the neutral site rather than make one team travel so far.

Probable starters for Garden City are Lloyd Jones, 5-10; Denis Calverley, 6-2½; Milton Mow, 6-3; Glenn Riley, 6-0; and Harold Jones, 5-8; or Frank Murphy, 5-10.

Riley was an all-district performer last season.

Others who will probably play for Coach Delnor Posa are Don Plagens, 5-11; Doug Parker, 5-7; Jack Asbill, 5-5; and Ralph Schaffer, 5-8.

Jay and Zay LeFevre, Charles Greene, Bobby McAdams, Roger Flowers, Wayne Vaughn, J. B. Davis, Donnie Everett, Wesley Phillips, Danny Birdwell, Red Appleton and Gordon Dietson.

Wolk has been troubled with a turned ankle while McAdams has an ailing ankle and Flowers a bad leg.

Michigan State New Leader In Grid Poll

By ED CORRIGAN
 The Associated Press

Michigan State leaped from fourth place into the No. 1 spot today in the weekly Associated Press football poll—with a margin of just nine points over second place Auburn.

The Spartans, who led the poll at the start of the season but then dropped to the also-rans when they fell before Purdue, spurred past Texas A&M and Oklahoma, who had run 1-2 the previous week.

Auburn, one of the two remaining undefeated major schools in the country—got 1,842 points to Michigan State's 1,851. Yet Auburn had more first-place votes—88-87.

Michigan State has one more game to play, against Kansas State, while Auburn still must clash with Florida State and Alabama. Performances in the re-remaining games will go a long way toward determining the national champion.

Knott Teams Host Klondike Tonight

KNOTT (SC)—Knott and Klondike teams play a basketball doubleheader here this evening, starting with the girls' engagement at 7 o'clock.

The Knott girls will be seeking their fourth straight win but will be playing without the services of Jean Sample, high-scoring forward, who is out for three weeks with a broken finger.

Jean had averaged 21 points a game in the Billies' three games to date and in 31 contests last season averaged an amazing 24.5 points per outing.

Coach Bill Bolin has indicated he will use either Virgie Graham or Brenda Woods in place of Miss Sample.

Ackerly, recent victim of the Billies, beat Klondike twice in earlier starts.

The Knott boys will be making their first start of the 1957-58 season.

Coach Morris Molpus has four lettermen back from last season. They are Thomas Day, Leo Williams, Buck McNew and Lois Ray.

The Billies are tentatively scheduled to play Dawson Nov. 25. On Dec. 5, the Billies visit Klondike.

Cowboys, Oklahoma State Play In Odessa Saturday

ABILENE (SC)—Hardin-Simmons University's Cowboys, a team noted mostly for its passing attack behind the arm of quarterback Ken Ford, has done justly well with their running game in eight games this season.

Coach Sammy Baugh's Cowboys have amassed a total net offense of 2,561 yards this season and over half of that is one ground.

Fullback Pete Hart, a second-team All-Border Conference selection last season and a likely candidate this year, has led the Pokes ground game for 1,432 yards while Ford, the southwest's leading aerialist, has guided the Cowboys to 1,135 more yards via the air.

Through eight games the Cowboys lead their eight opponents in all departments except rushing. The Pokes have allowed, 1,714 yards to be gained on their rushing while the H-SU defense has allowed only 675 yards passing.

Hart made his bid for all-conference honors Saturday in gaining 97 yards on 15 tries against Texas Tech. Although the Cowboys lost to the Raiders 26-21, the 185-pound Asperment star was the game's leading ground gainer. This season he has carried the ball 99 times for a net gain of 510 yards of 5.2 yards per carry.

Ford continued his passing wizardry by connecting on 12 of 22 passes for 163 yards and two touchdowns. In eight games Ford has completed 89 of 146 passes for 946 yards and 11 touchdowns. He ranks among the top five passers in the nation.

The Cowboys have two more backs who have gone over the 300

Rice Owls Are Given A Rest

By The Associated Press

Rice Institute, the Southwest Conference's latest giant killer, rested Monday while coaches figured ways and means to whip off-beaten TCU, the next hurdle on the rugged path to the Cotton Bowl.

The Owls, assuming Texas A&M beats Texas, must win their next two games with TCU and Baylor to tie for the championship and take the host spot in the Cotton Bowl New Year's Day. The Owls upset mighty A&M last week.

Rice didn't work out Monday but heard a scouting report. Frank Ryan, quarterback, and center Don Kramer were the only casualties.

TCU ran through a brief nonpad drill in preparation for Rice. Coach Abe Martin planned rough workouts Tuesday. Center Jim Oze had a sprained ankle and a cold.

A&M, which doesn't play until it meets Texas Thanksgiving Day, rested but planned hard workouts Tuesday.

Texas rested Monday. The Longhorns have an outside chance at a share of the title if they beat A&M.

SMU stressed running Monday. Ken Lowe, No. 2 quarterback, was expected to miss the Baylor game because of a bruised hip. Dan Bowden, No. 2 halfback, will be out the rest of the season with a dislocated shoulder.

Lakeview Rockets To Host Crane

The Lakeview Rockets of Big Spring seek their second straight basketball victory in a game with Crane in the Lakeview Gym tonight.

13 teams of the two schools clash at 7:30 p.m. The feature contest goes on at 8:30 p.m. or thereafter.

Probable starters for the Rockets are Willie Myles, 6-4; B. F. Newton, 5-11; Robert Allen, 6-1; H. T. Baker, 6-0; and Luther Brown, 5-10.

In their only start, the Rockets drubbed Lamesa, 66-37.

Admission prices for tonight's game have been set at 40, 25 and 15 cents.

Famed Church Stands On Island In Seine

BY RAMON COFFMAN
If someone speaks of Notre Dame, we are likely to think of a university which is known for its football teams. There is, however, a Notre Dame which is far older and far better known in Europe, if not on this side of the Atlantic. The Notre Dame of which I speak is a cathedral in Paris. Sometimes called "Notre Dame de Paris," the building stands on an island in the Seine River.

A view of the cathedral of Notre Dame.

The little island on which the cathedral stands is called the Isle de la Cite, meaning Isle of the City. On this island there once stood a Roman temple.

After the Christian faith spread through France, a Christian church took the place of the Roman temple. Later this church was torn down, and two other churches were built.

In the year 1162, the two churches on the island were in poor condition. They were torn down, and the next year the cornerstone was laid for the cathedral to be known as Notre Dame.

The cornerstone was laid by Pope Alexander III. This pope was living in France at the time, as an exile from Rome.

In 20 years a section of the building was finished, and in the section was the high altar. Services were held in this part of the cathedral but 141 years passed before the work was finished.

Some changes were made in Notre Dame de Paris 112 years ago, but for the most part it is the same building as was set up during the Middle Ages.

Each time I have visited Notre Dame I have been impressed by the colored glass windows. The men who built churches in the Middle Ages were experts in making and cutting colored glass, and in putting the pieces together to form figures of saints and other designs.

Notre Dame de Paris is a fine example of the Gothic style. Its windows and arches come to points at the top. There is a great central nave, or long, narrow hall. This nave rises to a height of 110 feet.

Cook Named In Arson Charges

Charges of arson have been filed against David Wright Stafford Jr., cafe cook, in connection with a fire at the Dairy King drive-in on the night of Nov. 13, according to Bobby West, investigator for the office of the district attorney.

West said that 13 separate small fires were ignited in the Dairy King. The fires were fueled with napkins, breadwrappers, miscellaneous scrap paper. The damage was small as the blaze was discovered and extinguished.

West said that Stafford has been admitted to the Big Spring State Hospital for observation.

The charge was filed in the court of Walter Grice, justice of the peace.

Charles Hart, charged with the theft of a vibrator blanket, has also been named in a complaint filed in the same court.

This Little Pig Not Going To Market

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A little pig named Freddie is not going to market, and it's all because he walks on his front legs.

Freddie, owned by Dr. A. N. Boyd of Houston, was born about 4½ months ago with no hind legs.

The predicament failed to bother Freddie. In just a few days he learned the art of hiking his hind quarters toward the sky and walking on his front legs. He even feeds in this position.

Dr. Boyd said that while Freddie's six brothers and sisters are market bound, Freddie will stay home.

Strong Medicine

DALLAS (AP)—Dwaine Young Jr., 1, was treated at Parkland Hospital after he found a tube of rat paste at his home and practiced brushing his teeth.
