Probers Eye Confusion On Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) said today the Senate Preparedness subcommittee is having extreme difficulty determining who is responsible for what in the lagging missile and satellite programs.

Johnson, majority leader of the Senate and chairman of the committee, told reporters: "I do not believe in shaking everything up and turning things upside down. But we will have to find out how to streamline the organization."

The committee recalled Allen Dulles, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, and Dr. Herbert Scoville, director of the CIA's Office of Scientific Intelligence, for further closed-door questioning.

The first phase of the hearings will wind up sometime tonight when the committee will recess until Dec. 13.

There is one clear pattern that has emerged from all of the testimony thus far, Johnson said. "It is the extreme difficulty of pinning down lines of authority in the missile and satellite program."

It is obvious that the committee will have to inquire very carefully into who is running what.

BOTH SERVICES Rep. Ford (R-Mich.), a member of the House Defense Appropriations subcommittee, told newsmen most members of that group favor production for both the Army and the Air Force intermediate range ballistic missiles.

If the Army's Jupiter is accepted for production, he said, it will be made at a Detroit plant of the Chrysler Corp.

The Senate subcommittee summarized the secret testimony of the CIA representatives in a formal statement issued by Johnson. It quoted them as saying the Soviet economy has been growing "relatively faster" than that of the United States.

Soviet production of military goods and services, the summary said, has been roughly equal to that of the United States even though the Soviet's gross national product has been only about 42 per cent of this country's.

Dulles attributed this to the high priority the Soviets place on the military program and to the smaller amount of production the Russians devote to consumer goods.

DIFFICULTIES GROW "It was pointed out, however," Johnson's statement said, "the U.S.S.R. was encountering growing difficulties in maintaining the high level of military expenditures and investment in heavy industry, and at the same time, improving living standards as a stimulation to high productivity."

"The CIA confirmed reports that the Soviet is now outstripping the United States in developing a scientific and technological manpower pool. Every Soviet student by the time he finishes high school has had five years of physics, five of biology, four of chemistry and ten years of mathematics.

Testifies

LL. Gen. James Doolittle (ret.) testified in Washington, D. C., that Russia "certainly is ahead of us" in all land-fired missiles. He told the Senate Armed Services Preparedness subcommittee the United States leads in air-to-air types. Doolittle heads the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics.

Legal Chief Talks Over Grave Checks

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Atty. Gen. Stewart Honick conferred today with District Attorneys Earl Kileen of Waushara County and John Haka of adjacent Portage County on the question of opening more graves which Ed Gein said he had plundered.

Any decision, Honick said, would be made by mutual agreement of his office and local authorities.

Honick also announced that another lie detector test would be given Gein, 51-year-old bachelor of rural Plainfield who has admitted killing two middle-aged women and robbing the graves of nine others.

Honick said the purpose of the additional tests was to determine whether Gein was involved in other killings. Gein is undergoing 30 days of mental observation.

Gein's attorney William Belter of Wautoma, said he had no objection to more lie tests for Gein but that he would doubt their reliability if Gein is judged insane.

"Gein is apparently trying to tell people honestly what happened," Belter said. "But perhaps he doesn't remember some things, and other facts may be perverted in his mind. If that is so, what value is a lie detector test?"

Two graves in Plainfield Cemetery were opened Monday and the caskets were found empty. Kileen said the opening of the graves verified Gein's story and added, "I won't open any more if I can help it."

Honick has been directed by Gov. Vernon Thomson to investigate all phases of Gein's case. Gein has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity to a charge of first-degree murder in the death of Mrs. Bernice Worden, 58-year-old Plainfield hardware store operator Nov. 16. He also admitted killing Mrs. Mary Hogan, 54, who disappeared from her rural tavern in Portage County in December 1954.

agreement is reached, it will be contingent upon the encampment coming to the district's main supply line.

An extension of the option on a lease of land adjacent to the concession here now operates was approved by Claude Hodnett at Lake J. B. Thomas. The option was extended for one year for a consideration of $500. The matter of a lease to Ottus L. Boyd of Odessa for a tract on the north side of Lake J. B. Thomas was referred to the recreation committee for a clarification of terms. Boyd proposed to lease seven lots for purpose of erecting concessions including cabins.

Spence told the board that the United States Geological Survey, now engaged in mapping parts of the watershed of a proposed new lake in western Mitchell County, would complete the actual mapping by May 15, 1958. First preliminary maps will be available by Dec. 30, 1958, he has been advised. In this connection, Spence said that the engineers would use the information to prepare an application to the State Board of Water Engineers for a permit to impound the proposed lake. He cautioned that some thought be projected to financing such an undertaking some three to four years hence.

Effort To Spot Sputnik Slated By Corps Here

Sputnik is scheduled to buzz over Big Spring again this afternoon—perhaps the last time this man-made satellite will be visible to West Texans. It is due to make its journey through the skies around 5:30 p.m.

Howard County Junior College members of the Howard County Satellite Observers Corps will be assembled on the campus of the college at 5:15 in an effort to spot the celestial wanderer as it passes.

Due to the hour that it is to pass, some doubt was expressed that the satellite will be visible. Officially, the sun does not go down until 5:42 p.m. Hence it will still be above the horizon at the time the satellite makes its pass.

J. T. Clements, vice chairman of the corps, said that it was possible a slight might be had of the moon despite the daylight if the little satellite is exactly in the right position to catch the sun's rays.

The moonwatch observation post is east of the college buildings and it is planned to have all of the equipment on hand. This will include the monoculars, the radio tuned to the U. S. Naval Observatory for timing, and the other devices used in checking passage of man-made moons.

The satellite cannot be seen except when it is in the exact position to reflect the sunlight. This means it can only be seen when its passage coincides with dawn or dusk.

Youth Rally To Begin Tonight

A meeting at 7:30 this evening will begin the youth rally at the First Assembly of God, where the local church serves as host to the district. The group is known as Christ's Ambassadors.

The speaker will be the Rev. George Brazzell, vice president of the Southwestern Bible Institute in Waxahachie. A choir, "The Harvesters," from the institute will sing at the Thursday evening service, slated for 7:30.

Other sessions will be held at the church at 10 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. Thursday.

Expected are representatives from about 120 churches in the Panhandle, South Plains and Permian Basin.

Jets Blast Off To Better Navy Record

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Six sleek Voodoo jets blasted off one by one into the gray dawn today and streaked superionically toward the east. Their goal: New York in less than three hours.

Four of the Air Force's 1,000 m.p.h.-plus sweeping McDonnell RF101 photo reconnaissance planes are out to win back from the Navy three transcontinental speed marks. The other two planes are alternates.

Kirtland Air Force Base at Albuquerque said the four jets streaked past Los Alamos about an hour after takeoff at slightly more than 1,000 m.p.h. after four had successfully refueled over western New Mexico.

Heading For A Chill

President Eisenhower sat hunched in the cold November air as he rode from the airport in Washington, D. C., with Morocco's King Mohammed. A few hours later the White House announced he was suffering from a chill, forcing cancellation of his talks with the visiting monarch. The White House said the President is "progressing satisfactorily."

Parking, Traffic Changes Approved

City Commissioners Tuesday night removed parking on both sides of Eleventh Place from Gollad to Settles and approved three requests from the Citizens' Traffic Commission.

The group had previously discussed removal of parking on Eleventh and approved three requests from the Citizens' Traffic Commission.

The group had previously discussed removal of parking on Eleventh and approved three requests from the Citizens' Traffic Commission.

Three requests from the CTC were passed also by the commission Tuesday night. The new regulations call for a yield right-of-way sign on 8th at Nolan only for west-bound traffic, widening 10th at the State intersection to make a straight entrance into Sycamore, and replacing the stop

House Action Due On NAACP Measure

AUSTIN (AP)—The House recessed until 2 p.m. today, temporarily at least ducking a showdown vote on a segregation bill that was the special Legislature's last remaining issue.

Pending was a measure that could require registration of names of NAACP members.

The House recessed when it became apparent the Senate would not act on its resolution calling for final adjournment of the session at noon.

House members said Senate leaders were insistent that NAACP bill be passed before the passage today would require a four-fifths vote. Sponsors of the bill in the House did not think they had that majority.

Indications at noon were that unless some procedure is worked out to resolve this impasse, the lawmakers might take a short Thanksgiving recess and come back to work Friday, or perhaps quit until Monday to pass the Senate bill.

In 'Fine Spirits' Following Stroke

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower eased back into the duties of his office today after suffering a blockage of a brain artery Monday.

The President conferred for 15 minutes with Vice President Nixon and chief presidential aide Sherman Adams. The White House said they talked about "everything under the sun."

Earlier Eisenhower spent a half hour with White House staff secretary Andrew J. Goodpaster, signing a dozen documents and initiating another.

Eisenhower's doctor announced earlier that the President had 10 hours of almost continuous sleep during the night and showered and shaved himself before eating a normal breakfast.

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said Nixon and Adams conferred with the President while he was working on a painting in the studio across from his bedroom.

Hagerty said that the three discussed official business including the 1958-59 budget, next month's NATO meeting and legislative matters which will be discussed at next week's White House conference of leaders from the Capitol.

It has not been indicated whether Eisenhower will be able to meet personally with the Congress leaders.

The chief executive's brother, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, was having lunch with the President today.

Hagerty told a news conference shortly after noon that the President has not discussed with anyone the possibility he might have to delegate his powers because of his illness.

Gettysburg Trip Now Indefinite Hagerty also said he does not expect to be able to say before tomorrow, at the earliest, whether the President and Mrs. Eisenhower will be going to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council of Ministers meets annually, and the Dec. 16 session is definitely will spend Thanksgiving in the White House.

Hagerty described the chief executive as being in fine spirits, and amused by a continuing slight difficulty in pronouncing hard words, a result of his illness.

Hagerty said Vice President Nixon was spending much of the day in the White House but had not seen the President. He said Secretary of State Dulles and Atty. Gen. Rogers also met together at the White House on White House business.

Eisenhower signed his name 12 times and initialed a 13th document, Hagerty said.

He said Eisenhower, at the time, was sitting in an easy chair in his bedroom on the second floor of the White House.

Hagerty laughed off, at his news conference, a reporter's request for comment on two London newspapers' suggestions that Eisenhower would resign.

"Just say I laughed and said I haven't any reaction," Hagerty replied.

Hagerty also was asked about a suggestion by Sen. Bridges (R-NH) that Nixon take over some presidential duties.

"I've heard no discussion of that by anyone and that includes the vice president," Hagerty said.

Hagerty emphasized that the President and only the President will decide who will represent the United States at the Dec. 16 summit conference of Atlantic Pact nations in Paris, if it is held as scheduled.

Short Medical Bulletin Issued Gen. Snyder issued a short medical bulletin soon after his return to the White House this morning.

Earlier, just as he came in and before he had seen his patient, Snyder had said "everything is all right" but the circumstances made it plain he aimed mainly to shut off any idea there was a new emergency. He had been away only about eight hours.

But Hagerty said Eisenhower still has slight difficulty in pronouncing long words. The doctors have reported that trouble as the only manifestation in Eisenhower's case in line with the usual effects of a stroke. The physicians have reported sharp improvement in that respect since Eisenhower was first stricken Monday.

Eisenhower knows of his difficulty in that respect and is amused by it Hagerty told newsmen in recounting a 10-minute visit with Eisenhower today.

Nixon was still making it pointed out that he is not undertaking to move in—that Eisenhower is still president and there is no idea of supplanting him on grounds of disability.

Nixon said after his White House stay yesterday that Eisenhower is fully capable of making any decisions needed and added: "I am fully confident that the President will return to his desk and resume his responsibilities."

Nixon said nothing can be decided at this time on whether he will go in place of the President to the NATO conference in Paris in mid-December. Eisenhower's own plans to go were canceled yesterday and reports from Paris today were that Nixon had been definitely assigned to sit in for him.

Nixon said the question of his going would arise only if the present plan to make the NATO session a meeting of heads of state remains in force. Nixon noted there has been talk of changing the Paris meeting into one for foreign ministers. In that case Secretary of State Dulles would represent the United States.

In his exchange with newsmen as he came back to the White House, Snyder said no one can tell "at this time" whether Eisenhower suffered more than a spasm in a brain artery.

"There is no doctor up to this time who can tell you it's a stroke," he said.

He added it will take more time to determine exactly what did happen to the President, who was stricken Monday after attending a welcoming ceremony for King Mohammed V of Morocco.

Snyder's comments followed the same careful line taken in formal medical bulletins yesterday which steered away from use of the word "stroke."

The new ailment—the President's third major illness in a bit more than two years—raised big questions once more about his future health and role in government.

The doctors described the illness (See IKE, Page 6, Col. 2)

Union Service, Game To Highlight Holiday

Big Springs of most faiths will gather at the First Baptist Church Thursday morning for their traditional union Thanksgiving service.

Rev. Lawrence Ghoslon, Church of the Nazarene pastor, will deliver the Thanksgiving sermon in the service sponsored by the Big Spring Pastors Association. Several other ministers have parts on the program and special music will be provided by the First Baptist choir.

The Thanksgiving service and the bi-district football game between Wink and Baird are to be the two highlights of the holiday here.

Practically all businesses and public agencies will be closed, of course, and family gatherings will be the rule. Many residents are planning to take advantage of the first school holiday of the fall with "long weekend" trips to other points.

Fair and mild weather is in prospect for the holiday—a factor that may encourage travel. With that in mind, law enforcement officers are urging caution on the highways and plans were announced to increase the number of patrolmen on duty during the day.

The union Thanksgiving service will start at 10 a.m. Thursday and the program will last about an hour, ministers said.

Dr. Gage Lloyd, First Presbyterian pastor, is to serve as master of ceremonies. Others on the program will include Rev. Ernest Stewart, East Fourth St. Baptist, invoking; Rev. Jack Ware, St. Paul Presbyterian, responsive reading; Dr. P. D. O'Brien, First Baptist, pastoral prayer; Rev. C. W. Parmenter, Wesley Memorial Methodist, offertory prayer; and Dr. Jordan Groves, First Methodist, benediction.

The offering will go to support the Bible instruction provided in the Big Spring schools by the pastors association.

Early Paper Tomorrow Because of the Thanksgiving Day observance, The Herald will be issued early Thursday, and the office will close during the afternoon.

With the early edition, "deadline" on Want Ads must be moved up to 9 a.m. Please call your Want Ad needs by that hour Thursday.

CRMWD Studies Reservoir, Pump Bids Totaling $356,500

Low bids totalling $356,515 were tabulated by the directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District here Tuesday.

Actual award of the four contracts represented in the total will be delayed pending an analysis of the bids and approval by the engineers and attorneys. Actual letting also would be contingent upon completion of financing details.

Because there are numerous alternatives, they could affect the low bidders and the aggregate amount of the work.

Apparent low bidders were Austin Bridge Company of Dallas $237,320 for construction of an 80-million gallon earthen reservoir with asphaltic lining; Fairbanks Morse Co. $17,405 for three vertical transfer pumps capable of delivering up to 20 million gallons per day; Snyder Fence Co. $2,950 for approximately 2,000 feet of fence; and Clyde Yarborough of Odessa $74,840 for construction of a pump station and installation of some 1,500 feet of 30-inch pipe.

The board authorized an agreement with McCall, Parkhurst & Crowe of Dallas to perform the legal work in connection with a contemplated $4 1/2 million in new financing of the district. The firm served as attorneys when the district was created and the initial bonds of the district were floated.

In a routine action required under the indenture, the board approved the proposed budget which anticipates prime revenues of $1,773,625 for 1958. This was adopted at the October meeting subject to review of bond holders. There have been no objections, hence the budget was finally approved.

E. V. Spence, general manager, was authorized to deal with the Rapids District No. 8 Encampment, Inc., subject to prior approval of the member cities, for water to be used on encampment grounds in Martin County. If an

Sun Flare To Bring Radio Disturbance

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—The National Bureau of Standards says a major radio disturbance is likely in this country during a 36-hour period that ends tonight.

Dr. Frederick W. Brown, director of the NBS laboratory, said today there would be possible radio blackouts at some points.

Cause of the disturbance is a huge solar flare which occurred at 1 a.m. Sunday. The flare was reported observed in Russia, Czechoslovakia and Germany.

Yule Shoplifting Early Doesn't Pay

DALLAS (AP)—Police say it doesn't pay to do Christmas shoplifting early. They arrested three men and a woman, 28 to 33, yesterday and held them for investigation as known shoplifters.

Detective Walter Fannin said one of the men carried a Christmas list of 17 items, including such things as eight pullover knit shirts, sizes 6 to 8; and a girl's red and blue coat, size 5—but only one item had been checked, indicating the expedition was halted prematurely.

They Built A Better Wheelchair

Two VA Hospital employes Tuesday received $100 cash awards for their development of a device which makes wheelchairs almost foolproof. The hospital has been troubled by the tendency of standard wheelchairs to tip forward when patients try to enter them. So Carl V. Lambert, nursing assistant, and V. M. Kirby, steamfitter-plumber, worked out a spring-operated extension leg which props the front of the chair, keeping it from tipping over. Pictured with one of the leg-equipped chairs are Beale Love, chief nurse, Kirby, Lambert, and A. M. Afdahl, chief engineer at the hospital.

U.S. May Send Nixon To Meet With NATO Next Month

PARIS (AP) — The U.S. government has officially decided to send Vice President Nixon to next month's summit conference of NATO, it was disclosed today.

The Washington offer to substitute Nixon for ailing President Eisenhower will be communicated to the other NATO governments at a regular NATO Council session here tomorrow.

A spokesman for the U.S. delegation said that these instructions have been received by Frederic Nolting, deputy U.S. representative to NATO, who will take the American chair at tomorrow's meeting. The permanent American delegate, W. Randolph Burgess, now is in Washington.

There was no indication here as to just who in Washington drafted the instructions.

The American position is that it is up to the other 14 governments to decide if they wish to go ahead with Nixon heading the U.S. delegation.

First reported reactions from other governments was that they want to hold the meetings on this basis.

Spokesman in some Western European capitals had expressed dismay at the prospect of meeting without Eisenhower.

Paul-Henri Spaak, of Belgium, NATO secretary general, was reported polling NATO members.

French official sources said the French government sees no reason for postponing the session or for downgrading it to a ministerial meeting.

Normally the foreign, defense and finance ministers of the 15 nations meet here every December for their annual review session. This meeting, which would be held concurrently with the summit talks, fixes military pre-

Cold Weather Heads Back To State For Cool Holiday

By The Associated Press

Cold weather headed back into the Panhandle Wednesday and it looked like a chill Thanksgiving for Texas.

Lows well below freezing were forecast for the Panhandle and upper South Plains Wednesday night, with the cold air covering the state by Thursday.

Predawn temperatures ranged from 64 degrees at Galveston to 40 at Salt Flat. Southeast and East Texas was cloudy with the remainder clear.

Austin, San Antonio, Kenedy and Beeville had fog.

Highs Tuesday ran from 61 at El Paso to 73 at Childress.

Light snow blew across northern Colorado and Wyoming Wednesday as cooler weather set in.

Light snow fell at Denver, Eagle and Akron, Colo., and in Wyoming at Cheyenne, Laramie and Rawlins. Skies were clearing in Montana.

Mountain roads were snow-packed.

Freezing temperatures gripped New England Wednesday and the whole of the East Coast, down to northern Florida, remained chilly.

Another cool air mass brought temperatures tumbling in the Northwest. The cool front extended to Montana and Wyoming. There were some flurries in the northern and central Rockies and parts of Montana.

Southerly winds over the Mississippi Valley and the western Great Lakes accounted for a warming trend in the central portion of the country.

The cold weather along the Eastern Seaboard produced numbing temperatures in New England with a low of 1 above zero at Burlington, Vt., and 5 above at Lebanon, N. H. Temperatures along the seaboard from New England to northern Florida, were at the 40-degree mark.

Weather Control Seen As Possible

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP)—Dr. Edward Teller said Monday weather control is a field in which he expects great progress in the next decade or so. He said this country should make certain Russia does not get ahead in that area.

"What kind of world would it be if Russia could control the weather and we could not?" he asked at Senate hearings on the U.S. missile program.

In such a situation, he said, the Soviets could produce rainfall in their country and perhaps rob the United States of moisture in the process.

Sen. Johnson (D-Tex.) quipped: "I might say the way the weather's been acting lately in Texas, some people think they already control it."

Maj. Emil L. Urban, above, is the new assistant provost marshal at Webb AFB. He came to the local assignment from Gilsbladt, Germany, where he served as a squadron commander. He has been in the armed forces 17 years, including five years overseas. He holds the Distinguished Flying Cross with an oak leaf cluster and the Air Medal with three clusters. From Newport, Ark., Mr. and Mrs. Urban and family reside at 1602 E. 9th, Big Spring.

Americans Ready Thanks For Liberty In Shadow Of Illness

By The Associated Press

Americans prepared today to give thanks for still another year's harvest of freedom and abundance, but the shadow of President Eisenhower's illness darkened somewhat the usual joyful spirit of the time.

Prayers for the President's swift and complete recovery will be said tomorrow in many morning religious services which have been an integral part of Thanksgiving ever since the Pilgrims first celebrated it.

Otherwise, reports from across the country indicated that Americans will follow the patterns set in past years.

They will rush from city to country, from country to city, and from village to village, jamming trains, planes, buses and private cars to join friends and relatives for the day. Some will make it a four-day weekend. To accommodate all, railroads, airlines and bus companies are scheduling extra facilities.

One of the most unusual church services tomorrow will be held in the DeWitt Church, in an unheated, as yet unfinished building of the Bernard Baruch housing project in Manhattan's lower East Side. Nondenominational services will be held in English, Spanish and Russian at the church, the first built inside a public housing project in the city.

In Plymouth, Mass. the Mayflower II—replica of the original Pilgrim ship—will be turned over today to the Plymouth Plantation in colorful, costumed ceremonies.

Tomorrow, there will be a town-wide open house, with costumed attendants playing host at such spots as Pilgrim Hall, the first church, Sparrow House and the old fort. In the afternoon, there will be the traditional Pilgrim procession by costumed townspeople marching from Plymouth Rock to church.

Superintendent, Principal Disrupt Classes In Brawl

NORWOOD, Colo. (AP) — Town Marshal Clyde Blanton issued warrants for the arrest of the high school superintendent and principal today after a brawl disrupted classes.

Blanton, 44, and Principal Ransom English, 28, required hospital treatment for cuts received in two separate furies of fistfights yesterday.

The marshal said the first involved English and the superintendent, Lyle E. Cloepfil, 52. He said one or both of the men may have used a baseball bat during the five-minute battle in Cloepfil's office.

Blanton and English toppled through a class door into a classroom when the marshal arrived to investigate the affair. The marshal suffered cuts that required 26 stitches to close. English was taken to a hospital at nearby Montrose for treatment of cuts and shock.

The warrant for arrests charged English with assault and battery and resisting an officer. Cloepfil was charged with disturbance.

Meanwhile, the Norwood school board was called into special session by President Lloyd Davis to investigate the altercation. Davis ordered classes dismissed at the high school, which has 350 pupils and 17 teachers, and the grade school next door.

Neither English, who is 6 feet 4 and weighs 220 pounds, nor Cloepfil, as heavy but a foot shorter, would comment on the fight.

The school board president said he assumed it started with an argument over administrative problems.

Teachers and students alike had tried to separate the school officials during the first altercation. One teacher's glasses were broken and several students were roughed up, Blanton said, but none were injured.

'Night Must Fall' Roles Are Cast

Fred Short, head of the HCJC drama department, has cast the leading roles in "Night Must Fall," a three-act play about a psychopathic killer. George Kozachuk and Danne Green take the two top roles. They both appeared in the recent production of "See How They Run." Sandra Haven, a senior in high school, joins the cast as an apprentice from the high school drama department.

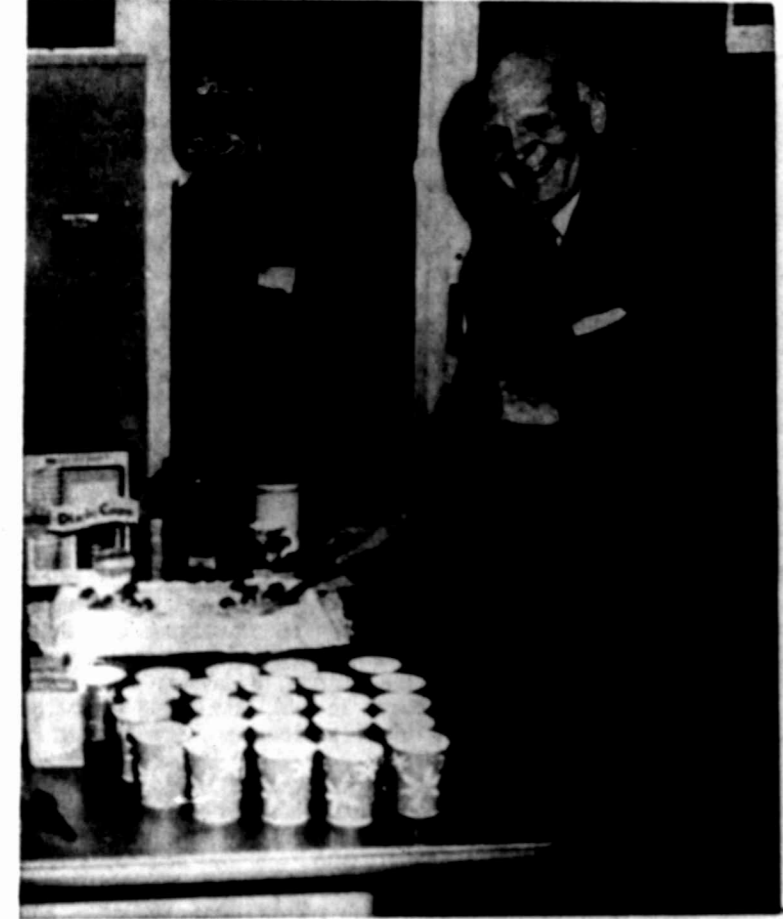

"Night Must Fall" will be staged early in February. Short, meanwhile, tells me of a couple of events that seem to illustrate the principle of mathematical cycles. These cycles may be noted in the weather, on the Hit Parade, or in a poker game. Phillip King's play, "See How They Run," was written in 1948, but Short says he hadn't even heard of it until a couple of years ago. Now, with the local production just finished, the drama department at Sul Ross has staged the play, and Short hears from a friend with the Nashville Community Theatre that the play is being taken on a tour of Tennessee. Another of King's plays, "Here They Come Gathering," was staged recently by the high school players.

Theatre May Get Museum Building

The Big Spring Civic Theatre may be far along its way toward getting its own building. Dewey Magee, president of the theatre group, yesterday talked over his problem with city commissioners, who in their turn seemed willing to help. Magee's idea was that the museum in City Park, which has been padlocked for several years, could be used as an auditorium and for storage of props. This idea of using public property for the theatre group has value in that the local organization is non-profit and dedicated to the bringing of some measure of culture to the community. City commissioners seemed willing to let the theatre group have the building, provided it is used for the stated purposes and that eventually it is turned back the way it was found. Also, it was understood that the city should not bear expenses of any improvements the theatre group might find necessary. The Big Spring Civic Theatre has been badly in need of its own building for some time. The city fathers are to be congratulated for their interest and kindness in this matter.

Jap Leftists Ask Girard Case Appeal

TOKYO (AP)—The Japanese left National Congress Against Military Bases Wednesday petitioned the Japanese supreme procurator's office to appeal the William S. Girard verdict. Girard, Ottawa, Ill., GI was sentenced Nov. 19 to three years imprisonment for manslaughter but the sentence was suspended by Maebashi District Court. Yoshiro Konawa, chief prosecutor in the Girard trial at Maebashi said today the prosecution has not yet decided whether to appeal the sentence. The appeal deadline is Dec. 3.

Happy Birthday

Bob Walker, who says with tongue in cheek that he's 108 years old, slices a birthday cake following last Thursday's meeting of the Big Spring Civic Theatre. The theatre group's honor was the third surprise party for the day. Calling San Antonio his hometown, Walker served in the Army from 1914 to 1920. From 1920 to 1929 he edited a chain of Army-Air Force newspapers out of San Antonio and, following five years of retirement, came to Webb AFB under civil service in 1935. A staunch supporter of the theatre group, Walker took the role of the senator in their first play, "Born Yesterday." His real age? Walker isn't talking, but he admits he's "over 30."

Airman's Buddies Plan Holiday Treat

FT. DIX, N.J. (AP)—A thousand squadron comrades of an injured airman are working to give his family something to celebrate on Thanksgiving Day. The airman, James Driscoll, 27, suffered critical burns Sunday while trying to save his 18-month-old son from the family's burning trailer home outside Wrightstown. The boy, Matthew, perished in the blaze. Driscoll's wife Roberta, 21, saved their other two children. Now Driscoll is in Ft. Dix Army hospital while his wife and two children are living with neighbors. The $6,000 trailer and all their belongings are gone. At this point, the men of the 29th Air Transport Squadron stepped in. One of the men said: "We're going to get them housing, clothing and take over whatever indebtedness Driscoll had. If we can get them a trailer, they're going to have it." And, he added, Driscoll's wife and two children are going to have a Thanksgiving Day dinner.

Stroke Might Go Unnoticed In Some Folks

By FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The type of illness President Eisenhower has might go unrecognized by many persons not under constant medical supervision, doctors of the National Heart Institute said today.

All present evidence as announced in White House bulletins indicates, they said, that Eisenhower had a "little" stroke—as distinguished from a "big" one. "A 'little' stroke," they said, "is of sufficiently mild and transitory nature that many persons having such an attack might not recognize it as an illness or would pass it off as a transient feeling of not feeling too well."

A "stroke"—little or big—is an impairment of nerve function resulting from impairment of blood flow to particular areas of the brain. The severity of nerve impairment depends upon the location and size of the blood vessel involved—and the nerve centers it feeds.

The NHI doctors said that the signs and symptoms reported in White House medical bulletins last night are "commonly called a 'little' stroke when doctors describe such a condition to a layman."

Formal White House bulletins have not used the word "stroke." Neurologists attending the President said last night Eisenhower suffered "an occlusion (blockage) of a small branch of a cerebral vessel which has produced a slight difficulty in speaking."

The NHI doctors said that a "stroke"—little or big—could directly result from the following mechanisms:

1. Thrombosis — that is, clot formation in an artery of the brain.
2. Embolism — Blocking of a brain blood vessel by a clot floating in the blood stream and originating from another part of the body.
3. Spasm — A tightening or closing down of the walls of an artery in the brain.
4. Hemorrhage due to rupture of a brain blood vessel.
5. Compression on a brain blood vessel due to a tumor, swollen brain tissue, or a large clot inside a blood vessel that presses against a nearby vessel.

Declaring that people affected by "little" strokes almost invariably recover from that particular stroke, they added that even in the case of "big" strokes, the outlook "is not necessarily as disastrous as it may first appear."

They said a "big" stroke is the type in which there may be partial or complete paralysis of one side of the body.

In contrast, in a "little" stroke, there is no paralysis, although a particular function of the body or of the thinking process may be temporarily impaired.

In President Eisenhower's case, they said, the blood vessel affected is one controlling a "thinking" part of the speech process.

Civic Theatre Unit Proposes Renovating Museum Building

The Big Spring Civic Theatre will have a permanent home, if the city can gain permission to move gear from the museum building.

A dozen members of the theatre group met with the City Commission Tuesday night and asked if it could repair and remodel the old museum building in the city park for a "little theatre." The commission unanimously agreed to turn the building to the group if articles of the museum can be moved.

H. W. Whitney, city manager, explained to the group, headed by Sgt. Dewey Magee of Webb, that the items in the museum do not belong to the city. Most of them are loaned by individuals and are under control of the West Texas Historical Museum Association, now inactive. Whitney could think of only two persons living in Big Spring now, S. P. Jones and Dr. P. W. Malone, who were directors of the association.

Magee said that at present the museum is not being used and many of the items in the building will soon be destroyed by dust and weather. The building had not been opened for use in about 1 1/2 years. Magee said he would like to see the items turned over to the HCJC where students could get the benefit of them, but at present he could think of no place at the college where they could be displayed.

Nixon Steps Into Chair, But With Ike Still Calling Signals

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Nixon stepped gingerly into the role of a part-time substitute for ailing President Eisenhower today with clear notice Eisenhower will continue to call the signals on government policies.

A proposal by Sen. Bridges (R-NH) that Nixon take over for the stricken President at two scheduled briefings of congressional leaders next week seemed likely to get Eisenhower's approval. Nixon said the meetings will be held but added he did not know whether he would preside.

Bridges, who heads the Senate Republican Policy Committee, said he thinks Nixon "should take over the leadership in routine matters for the President, carrying on the known general wishes and policy of the President." Sen. Saltonstall of Massachusetts, chairman of the Conference of All Republican Senators, indicated general agreement with this view. "Things have to go on," he said. "The government can't stop."

But Sen. Carroll (D-Colo.) commented that "it's one thing to carry out policy and another to make it."

Nixon scheduled further conferences with presidential staff members today at the White House—where he spent most of yesterday without seeing the ill President. He told newsmen when he emerged he might preside over Cabinet and National Security Council meetings.

But in response to what he called "a hypothetical question" about who in the government would make a decision on retaliation if Russia suddenly attacked Western Europe, the vice president replied: "Any decision requiring presidential action could be made by the President. Major problems that require presidential decision, where the President alone can act, will be put to the President." Nixon thus made it clear that while some thought had been given to the matter—he had no intention of attempting to assume any authority because of presidential disability. The Constitution is silent on who determines when a President is disabled, when a vice president takes over and when the disability ends. No vice president has ever taken over the duties except after the death of a president.

Nixon publicly disclaimed any thought of taking over as acting president during Eisenhower's illness.

He sought to explain that during the time he spent at the White House he was acting only as a member of the Cabinet team that rallied around the Chief Executive.

A Bible Thought For Today

Wherefore also it is contained in the Scripture, Behold, I lay in Sion a chief corner stone, elect, precious: and he that believeth on him shall not be confounded. (1 Peter 2:6)

Our Problem Is Not Simple

Dr. Fred L. Whipple is director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory in Cambridge, Mass. He also heads America's Moonwatch on the Sputniks. In New Orleans Saturday Dr. Whipple told the annual meeting of the Associated Press Managing Editors Association how, in his opinion, Russia took the lead away from us—if we ever had it—in the space race.

They did it with education, he said. "The important point about the satellites is the rate of progress by the Russians," he said. "Their rate of progress is greater than our rate of progress. You have no way in which you can blame spies and saboteurs for their advance." They turn out scientists and technicians at twice our rate, Dr. Whipple added. It's as simple as that.

Our own problem is neither simple nor possible of quick solution or amenable to any one-shot, short-range remedy. But we do face a crisis that challenges our best brain-power, and we'd better find the workable answers with greater celerity than we've ever displayed in this field before in all our history. That may call for a crash program of equal importance, in the long haul, as that for missiles.

Virtue Of Being Genuine

"Thanks" is a word of Anglo-Saxon origin that is easy to say and goes a long way in amiable human relations. You hold a door for someone and he says, "Thanks." You consider that sufficient recompense for a friendly act, but if he fails to so much as grunt at you, you feel like saying, "Okay, sourpuss. Then go to —"

Most parents teach their children, to say thanks for small favors. An older generation of parents taught them to hold doors for people, bow when introduced, and perform other socially acts not now considered necessary, judging from the growing absence from human contacts. They were taught that an older person should enter or leave a door first, that one should use "sir" in addressing an elder—or "ma'am" as the case might be—"Yes, sir," and "Yes, ma'am" were drilled into young skulls with unremitting diligence.

missed people even younger than themselves, as a matter of form. Perhaps it was unnecessary, a waste of time, stiff, stilted and totally old-fashioned, but in those days people took time to be polite and agreeable, and a few extra syllables in the form of address were considered well spent.

In the old days a good many husbands and wives teams mistreated and mistressed each other, but that always seemed unduly fussy. (Prize-fighters usually shake hands before starting a bout. No invidious comparison intended.)

There is a nice distinction between teaching a child to be just plain polite to others, and drilling him into being an insufferable little prig, with the fussy manners of a Fountleroy. Perhaps some mothers are afraid to attempt the former in fear of producing the latter, with the result that manners aren't taught very much any more. (Table manners, of course, are essayed; but the multitude of little gestures and attitudes that produce a genuinely polite youngster just don't seem to get taught any more, or at least they don't seem to register on the pupil.)

We never met a really great man or woman who wasn't polite and courteous to others—to all others of whatever degree or age. It has to be genuine to be believed.

Questions On New Civil Rights Board

WASHINGTON—The new Commission on Civil Rights is headed for considerable controversy even before it begins work. A question has arisen as to whether the appointment of Justice Stanley Reed violates the principle of the "separation of powers" in the Constitution. Although retired, an associate justice of the Supreme Court is still eligible under existing law to perform judicial duties. Justice Reed recently served on the bench in the U. S. Court of Appeals and could be assigned to sit in other lower court cases if he wishes.

Members of the Senate are planning to raise the issue when the name of the former associate justice comes up for confirmation next January as a member of the Civil Rights Commission. There have been several justices of the Supreme Court who have from time to time served in an advisory capacity to the executive branch, especially in international affairs, such as on arbitration tribunals. But there never has been an instance in which a former justice—who in retirement still "retains his office," as the statute describes his position in the judiciary—has been appointed by the President to a post in the executive branch that requires confirmation by the Senate.

assistant attorney general—from his present duties on civil rights to function as general counsel for the new commission without even submitting his name to the Senate as required for a new appointee. This was planned presumably because the Commission is considered a virtual adjunct of the Department of Justice. The proposed transfer, however, aroused some Southern senators. But now the White House has just announced that Mr. White's nomination will be formally submitted at the next session of Congress.

It seems likely that the Senate Judiciary Committee will wish to inquire into Mr. White's qualifications for the new job. For it is reported that he master-minded the legal moves in the Little Rock case and hence, it is argued, he approaches the task with a preconceived position as to the alleged obligation of the federal government to use military power to enforce court orders.

For the new commission is to be a sort of "super FBI." It is commanded by law to "investigate allegations in writing under oath or affirmation that certain citizens have been deprived of their right to vote and to have that vote counted by reason of their color, race, religion, or national origin."

Presumably such testimony as is turned up will lead to prosecutions under companion provisions of the same new law passed last September. The new law also orders the Commission to "study and collect information concerning legal developments constituting a denial of equal protection of the laws under the Constitution." The Commission is also required to "appraise the laws and policies of the federal government with respect to equal protection of the laws under the Constitution."

Here is an investigation into "legal developments" which is to be conducted by an executive commission, with subpoena powers analogous to those of an investigating committee of Congress. Is it within the bounds of legal propriety for a former justice of the Supreme Court to sit in retrospective judgment on the wisdom of the ruling of the Supreme Court itself of which he was a member when it declared that separate educational facilities are for psychological reasons "inherently unequal"?

Certainly this issue becomes a pertinent subject for study by the new Commission, for it is just possible that an impartial board or commission in its appraisal of "the laws and policies of the federal government with respect to equal protection of the laws under the Constitution" might be confronted with evidence or testimony leading to the conclusion that separate facilities in public schools could be equal and that only state laws and not federal laws were involved in the segregation controversy.

What Happens With Nixon?

WASHINGTON (AP)—What happens if President Eisenhower should become too disabled to carry out his duties? Would Vice President Nixon become acting president or president? If so, how? There's no agreed-on answer.

The Constitution itself is foggy on this point.

But it's the third time the question has arisen in a little over two years. After Eisenhower's heart attack; after his ileitis operation; and now again after his mild stroke. He himself asked Congress to clear up the fog. But it didn't.

If a president dies, the vice president becomes president. Seven vice presidents have become president that way. If a president is removed from office by Congress, the Constitution says the vice president succeeds him. That hasn't happened yet.

But this is where the Constitution is vague. It says in case of the "inability of a president to discharge the powers and duties of his office, they shall devolve on the vice president."

But that raises these questions: 1. What is the position of a vice president who acts as president? Does he thus become president, ousting the man who was elected to the job? What if the elected President recovers? 2. Just what is inability to discharge the duties of the presidency? Is there a time limit on how long a disabled president can remain in office before being succeeded by the vice president? 3. Who decides when the President is too disabled to do his job? And who decides when the disability ends and he can resume his office? The President? He couldn't if he were unconscious. The vice president? That might put him in the position of a usurper.

From what Eisenhower has said in public—in 1956 after his heart attack and again the same year after his operation—it might be concluded he would resign if he felt physically unfit for the job. But that's not positive.

He said: "There is going to be no neglect of the duties of the President of the United States; and when I feel I can't carry them on, I won't be there. . . ."

"If at any time I have any reason to believe that I am not fit, as I believe myself to be now, I will come before the American public and tell them. . . ."

It might be Eisenhower's intention to quit if he felt unfit. But suppose he was only temporarily unfit, although the unfit lasted for months in which the whole direction of the government suffered. Suppose he felt sure he would recover and therefore did not step aside for the vice president?

What happens to the presidency and its duties then?

LONDON (AP)—The Kremlin's "Send your holiday this year in Russia" campaign has flopped in Britain.

Britons still prefer a week or two at a south coast resort, Majorca or the south of France. But business in Russian vacations may pick up next year.

Travel agents here agree the Russians timed their campaign badly and that the distances involved in getting to the Soviet Union plus the unfavorable Russian exchange rate made a holiday in Moscow or a Black Sea resort just too expensive.

The Russians lifted some travel restrictions for foreigners, advertised tours in the British newspapers, and even offered guides to accompany British motorists around some parts of the Soviet Union in their own automobiles.

But fewer than 500 British tourists visited the Soviet Union — only 25 per cent more than last year. Only about a dozen British motorists took up the drive-yourself-around-Russia idea. Some of these were newspapermen whose employers financed the trip.

A spokesman for the Automobile Assn., which helped Intourist, official Soviet travel agency, work out the holiday plans, said he thought the response would be better next year.

"We are already dealing with correspondence from our members who want to take their cars around next summer." The AA and the Royal Automobile Club, however, reported the vast majority of their members found it would be too costly to drive around Russia—a minimum of 500 pounds ($1,400) for a husband and wife to go to Russia by car.

Afraid Of The Future

NEW YORK (AP)—There seems to be a new national anthem titled, "Be kind to your scientist week."

Sub-title: "Behind your basic research you'll sneak out of the lab and go into the dry goods business."

Now, I realize this new evangelism was born out of pure reverence for knowledge and absolute truth and, of course, has no connection with national panic. Still, I must confess, there are times when a heathen superstition keeps me from being swept off my feet, stops me from kneeling in prayer over the New Testament of the Test Tube.

Almost every time the new faith begins to seize me, something happens. A bunch of scientists get together and paint a futuristic picture of the paradise to come on earth.

They did it again just the other day. Now, just how much connection there was between the prophecies and the products being celebrated, I cannot say and I don't think it would be fair of you to draw any inferences.

Eight top-rank scientists at a distiller's party came up with this picture of man (or woman) 100 years from now:

He'll be able to control the size, shape and function of his own body; talk through his mind instead of his mouth; remove all mental illness and control his emotions and impulses with drops or pills; select the sex of his unborn baby and determine whether he'll have singlets, twins or triplets; if he doesn't want his own baby, he'll be able to shop for and then hatch the sperm and eggs of long-dead people of proven virtue and talent; dine on vegetable dishes and synthetics, since the rest of the animal kingdom will have been consumed by them; vacation at lavish hotels hung in outer space and receive his mail through satellite radio signals.

WOW!

Except for the fact that they're convinced man in the year 2057 will work only four or eight hours a week, I find the scientists' dream of the future a screaming nightmare.

Double Challenge For Education

"The Russian atheistic, scientifically trained brain being turned out in huge quantities by the 10-year schools today is by far the greatest threat of any weapon she has up to now produced," declared John A. Kennedy in testimony before a state House committee.

Mr. Kennedy is publisher of the Souix Falls, S. D., newspaper, and he was appearing before South Dakota legislators. What makes his testimony worth noting is that he has made three recent trips to Russia, paying particular attention to the educational system. Here are some highlights:

The 10-year primary high school educational system has become perhaps the toughest secondary scholastic system in the world today. Russians claim they graduated 80,000 scientists and engineers in 1957, three times the American output.

Whereas our system is voluntary and largely unsubsidized, state control in Russia extends to education. College graduates must go (on pain of jail) wherever the government dictates. College students are paid salaries, even bonuses for exceptional work. If Russian students flunk, they go to labor schools, labor reserve forces, etc. Russia takes only the cream, and only one of four applying for college gets in. Higher levels admit only one of 12.

McGraw-Hill publications, in an editorial, said that Russians have become the "shrewd capitalists in the vital field of education." A Soviet professor today earns about eight times the income of the average worker, while most U. S. (college) faculty members command a little more than the average salary of factory help. Our college instructors average $4,580 per annum, the Russians the equivalent of $7,200. Our full professors average $7,200, the talented Russian science teachers up to $18,000.

In the secondary system, classes run six days a week, nearly 10 months a year. Russian youngsters have to have to study from 2 1/2 to 6 hours a day at home to succeed. The high school graduate must have had six years of biology, five years of physics, four years of chemistry, mathematics through trigonometry, and one year of astronomy. They also must have at least one foreign language.

In contrast 24 per cent of American high schools do not even offer geometry; 23 per cent offer no physics or chemistry. The percentage of those taking algebra has dropped from 56 per cent in 1900 to 25 per cent today; those carrying geometry from 27 per cent in 1900 to 11 per cent today; physics from 19 per cent in 1900 to 4 per cent now.

Fifty per cent of all Russian university graduates in the humanities and 29 per cent of those in science are assigned to teach in the upper grades of the 10-year schools. In contrast, we turned out only 228 new physics teachers in 1956 to staff our 28,000 high schools. We did have 2,212 general science teachers, some with physics majors, but a lot of those were lured into higher paying industrial and governmental jobs. We turned out 57 per cent less high school science teachers and 51 per cent less math teachers in 1956 than in 1950.

Whereas our system is voluntary and largely unsubsidized, state control in Russia extends to education. College graduates must go (on pain of jail) wherever the government dictates. College students are paid salaries, even bonuses for exceptional work. If Russian students flunk, they go to labor schools, labor reserve forces, etc. Russia takes only the cream, and only one of four applying for college gets in. Higher levels admit only one of 12.

McGraw-Hill publications, in an editorial, said that Russians have become the "shrewd capitalists in the vital field of education." A Soviet professor today earns about eight times the income of the average worker, while most U. S. (college) faculty members command a little more than the average salary of factory help. Our college instructors average $4,580 per annum, the Russians the equivalent of $7,200. Our full professors average $7,200, the talented Russian science teachers up to $18,000.

In this business of education and turning out scientists and engineers, many believe our system has been confronted by Russia with a classic challenge. The McGraw-Hill editorial urged business to help colleges and universities to the tune of at least $400 million a year for the next 10 years.

Actually, we have a double challenge. Hugo E. Hellman of Marquette University observed that "it really won't make much difference in the end whether or not we succeed in educating the scientific genius who will show us how to build the weapons which will annihilate the Russians as quickly and as completely as they annihilate us if we do not succeed in educating the humanist and statesmen who will show us and the Russians how to avoid using it."

Inez Robb

Something To Go With The Sad Sack

Christmas catalogues from all the Fifth Avenue shops and from some as far afield as Texas have been pouring into Inez Robb for a fortnight. And not a really original idea in the whole dreary lot!

This is an amazing howdy-do for, in one woman's opinion, the elevation of the knee-length sock to a female uniform affords endless opportunity to the accessories division of the fashion racket. But it is pretty obvious that the accessories group was caught off base when fashion took the sack off potatoes and put it on people.

Oh, sure, the catalogues and newspaper advertisements are conning the Christmas shopper with visions of ropes of pearls, yards of fake jewels and glittering bibs and outdoor necklaces to "dress up"—as we say in the trade—the simple little sack.

"Never before has a new mode lent itself to—nay, demanded—such masses of jewelry, real or fake," bubbles one advertisement, illustrated with a picture of a woman in a sack and enough junk jewelry to cause a slipped disk.

"It kind of reminds me of the times when I try to disguise the plain gelatine under a mass of whipped cream. Or the mug of orange juice that, in my childhood, was supposed to disguise the slug of castor oil."

Anyway, it is pretty obvious that with no more than $200 worth of manmade pearls and other jewels, a really chic woman can make a $50 sad sack quite palatable. And a woman with real ingenuity, a set of tie chains and a can of radiator gilt can do it for a good bit less.

However, necklaces are obvious and the accessories crowd deserves no kudos for making them simply bigger and brighter with the advent of the sack. Dressing up the north terminal of this garment is no chore at all.

But the other day as I was sliding out of a taxi—and how else does a sacker woman exit from a car?—it came to me in a blinding flash of inspiration that the southern terminus has been sadly neglected.

Would God there were more to the sack than meets the eye, but there ain't. Its visibility is, let us say, 20-20. The sights can even be raised to 25-25 when the woman in the knee-length sack tries to negotiate a curb, much less a car, or coax the thing over her knees when she sits down.

It should be obvious to Rudolph, the Red-Nosed Reindeer, and the accessories people that no Christmas gift in this year of grace could be more acceptable to the woman of fashion than jeweled garters. In 1958, they would not be born to blush unseen, as were Lillian Russell's.

And what woman would not welcome opera-length hose or tights of sheersert nylon, tasteful but spectacularly high-lighted with sequins and rhinestones? And why not kneeie muffs of mink when snow dolt blow? Or to keep the knees from interfering when the sack is really a hobble?

Furthermore, if fashion can revive the sack, why not long Johns? With lace and brilliants, it could be done! A woman who'll wear a modernized Mother Hubbard won't balk at up-dated Dr. Denton's.

In short, let the accessories people turn their attention from the neck to the knees. This year in jumping, and there's a billion dollars in it.

The Gallup Poll

Public Wants Look At Defense Policy

PRINCETON, N. J.—In the wake of the Soviet satellite and missile accomplishments, the typical American today is convinced that there is a need to take a new look at U. S. defense policies.

And while the public is evenly divided on the question of whether President Eisenhower should call a special session of Congress, one out of every two Americans thinks that the President should request the Armed Services Committees of Congress to meet at once to consider changes in our defense program.

Those are the highlights of a nationwide survey, just completed by the American Institute of Public Opinion, in which interviewers recorded such comments as: "If we don't wake up, Russia will blow us off the map."

"I think we are just about asleep—like we were at Pearl Harbor."

"Since the Russians have shown they are ahead, I think our defense policies need a complete overhauling."

"We are too much for 'good times'! The country needs to get serious."

In his recent Oklahoma City address, President Eisenhower sketched some of the dimensions of the news tasks for the U. S. and indicated that a new look at the whole range of U. S. programs was in order.

Trained opinion reporters for the Institute put this question to a carefully selected cross-section of adults across the country:

"Are you satisfied with the present defense policies of the United States—or do you think there is a need to take a new look at our defense policies?"

Here is how their replies added up:

Proportionately, considerably more Democrats than Republicans say that our defense policies should be reappraised.

The vote by party affiliation:

Rep. Dem. Ind.	Per cent
Satisfied	35 20 27
New look needed	42 59 53
No opinion	23 21 18

Persons questioned in the survey were next asked:

"Do you think Eisenhower should request the Armed Services Committees of Congress to meet at once to consider changes in our defense policies?"

MEETING OF ARMED SERVICES COMMITTEES BE CALLED?

Per cent
Yes	50
No	25
No opinion	25

"Do you think Eisenhower should call a special session of Congress beginning this December, rather than in January, to consider changes in our defense policies?"

SPECIAL SESSION OF CONGRESS BE CALLED?

Per cent
Yes	49
No	30
No opinion	21

The Democratic Policy Committee recently called for a greater sense of urgency in the U. S. response to Soviet advances and criticized the President's two speeches for offering "no suggestion for a program to win the battle for outer space." The Committee also called for a special session of Congress if that is necessary to break bottlenecks.

As might be expected, a sizable majority of those who said there is a need for a new look at U. S. defense policies think that President Eisenhower should request a meeting of the Armed Services Committees and that he also should call a special session of Congress.

Miss Sparks Is Bride Of Dick Fort Tuesday

Tuesday morning in a double ring ceremony Eileen Juanelle Sparks became the bride of Richard William Fort. Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, minister, read the service in the First Presbyterian Church. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sparks, 200 Mesquite, and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fort, 1202 Wood. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a soft tulle and white tulle gown with white and black, and accented at the neckline with a white chiffon scarf. Her hat and gloves were of winter white and her shoes of black patent. On a white Bible belonging to Ann Richbourg she carried an orchid surrounded by baby white carnations. Her something old was her mother's wedding ring, and her suit was new. Her blue garter was a gift of Miss. Richbourg. As maid of honor, Miss Richbourg wore a grey sheath dress, with which she wore black accessories and pink carnations. John E. Fort Jr. served his brother as best man. Following a wedding trip to Galveston and New Orleans, the couple will be at home in Odessa, where he is employed by Oilwell Supply.

The bride was a senior at Big Spring High School, where she was a treasurer of the FHA Club and a member of Tri-Hi-Y. The bridegroom is a 1954 graduate of Big Spring High School and attended Texas A&M College. Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fort were hosts for a breakfast at the Wagon Wheel. Guests were members of the wedding party. Yellow mums formed the centerpiece.

BSP Meets With Mrs. James Tidwell

Mrs. James Tidwell was hostess to the Xi Delta Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, Tuesday evening. Highlight of the program was a book review by Mrs. Clifton Cook. She chose "Our Miss Rosie" by Jessie Bennett Sams. A Thanksgiving basket of food was prepared and will be delivered today to a needy family. Mrs. Billie Casey and Mrs. Gerald Harris have charge of the project. Plans were completed for a Christmas party for members and their husbands. The affair will be December 14 in the home of Mrs. John Summers Jr. Seven members attended.

Hodnetts Are Parents

Mr. and Mrs. David Hodnett are the parents of a daughter born Tuesday at 5 a.m. at the Malone Hogan Hospital. The baby weighed 7 pounds at birth and has been named Angela Dawn. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ross H. Boykin, 101 Jefferson, and the paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hodnett, Vincent.

'ROUND TOWN With Lucille Pickle

There will be many tribes increased here over Thanksgiving weekend if residents have all the company that many of them are expecting. Of course some tribes in other towns are going to enlarge slightly if all who are planning to go get where they now have set their sights.

Spoudazio Fora Told Of Property Laws

Legal transactions in the transfer of property were explained by Harvey Hooser for the Spoudazio Fora Study Club, Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Jim Tyler. Sixteen members responded to roll call with problems of property owners. Stressing the importance of warranty deeds and abstracts, Hooser differentiated between the various types of legal papers. An open discussion climaxed the program. Mrs. Ennis Cochran announced that the Christmas party will be in the form of a buffet December 14 at the Elks Lodge. The group will also sponsor a Yuletide social for the crippled children, under the direction of Bo Bowen, and a report on these plans was given by Mrs. J. M. Hill. Announcement was made that Ronnie Phillips, club's entry in the Christmas contest, won third prize. Mrs. C. W. Forbus attended the meeting as a guest. The club will next convene December 10 in the home of Mrs. John King, 407 Pennsylvania. Co-hosts will be Mrs. James C. Jones.

Baptist Temple Circles Have Royal Service Tuesday

Members of the Baptist Temple heard a Royal Service presented by the Fisher Circle Tuesday morning at the church. Mrs. D. D. Johnston was leader for the study, which was on "Three Knocks in the Night." It dealt with the medical missionary work being done in various lands. Background for the program was an open Bible and a collection of surgical instruments and nurses' supplies. Mrs. Tom Buckner brought the devotion from the book of Luke. Mrs. A. R. Posey discussed the Welfare Center in Ire, Nigeria; and the Oghomoso Hospital. Mrs. Rex Edwards told of the work done in the Baptist Hospital of Southern Rhodesia. Paraguay work was explained by Mrs. B. F. Mabe, and Mrs. V. V. Ames told of a missionary, Dr. Mary L. King. Medical work in Indonesia was the topic of a discussion by Mrs. B. E. Neal Jr. and Mrs. Monroe Gafford described the hospital at Kyoto, Japan. The missionary birthday list was read; prayers were offered by Mrs. Raymond LaFon, Mrs. M. S. Warren and Mrs. C. G. Lovell. The resignation of Mrs. Everett Rayburn as first vice president was accepted. Mrs. Rayburn will be moving out of town soon. The Horace Reagan Circle was the hostess group, and Mrs. Robert Leeper served refreshments to 18, with a guest, Mrs. R. Y. Cloud.

Property Laws Discussed For Luther HD Club

Mrs. Guilford Jones was guest speaker for the Luther H. D. Club Tuesday morning when members gathered at the home of Mrs. Jim Zike, Reef Field. Her topic was "How Property Laws Affect the Modern Woman." Psalm 23 was read by the group as the meditation, with Mrs. E. R. Williamson as leader. Thought for the month is "Nothing is more simple than greatness; indeed, to be simple is to be great." The next meeting will be in the form of a Christmas dinner and all-day assembly, with members to meet at 10:30 a.m. Dec. 12, at the home of Mrs. Regis Fleckenstein. Each woman will bring a gift for exchange, and secret pals will be revealed. Sixteen answered roll call with Thanksgiving traditions in their homes. There were also five guests. Mrs. Jones, Elizabeth Face, Mrs. Cromwell Rhston, Mrs. Fred Carr and Juanita Hamlin.

Rosebud Garden Club Program Based On Flower Arrangement

A program on flower arranging was heard, and plans for the Christmas season were made by members of the Rosebud Garden Club Tuesday morning when they met at the home of Mrs. Walter Ross. Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr. was cohostess. Mrs. J. W. Dickens was the guest speaker and she criticized 15 arrangements brought by members of the club for that purpose. She used the standards set for flower shows and pointed out to the arrangers how their displays would be judged if entered in one. The six points, balance, dominance, contrast, proportion, rhythm and scale were the basis for the criticism. Two points of interest were that arrangements including candles with flowers should have the candle wicks charred before showing. She also pointed out that materials for arrangements should not be mixed unless specified by the show committee. Most original arrangement was a turkey, fashioned by Mrs. Charles Creighton, of a yellow summer squash with raisin eyes; the base was made of a large white squash. The tail feathers were made of corn tassels. Mrs. Creighton and Mrs. Odell Womack were in charge of showing a sound picture of "Flowers At Work" which dealt with the polination of various flowers. During the business session, an-

Junior High P-TA Sees Talent Acts

Talent acts from the three grades in Junior High School formed the program for the Tuesday evening meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of that school. Each grade presented two acts, which were announced by Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr. During the business session, announcement was made of the World Clothing Drive which will begin Monday and continue through Friday. All clothing should be brought to the school and will be received by the respective home room teachers. Clothing will be taken to the South Ward building and sorted for shipment overseas. Jim Lewis, president, announced a profit of $36 from the P-TA sponsored food booths at the carnival Monday night. Next meeting of the unit has been set for 7:30 on Feb. 25.

AirportWMU Plans Week Of Prayer

Plans for the Lottie Moon Week of Prayer were announced Tuesday at the all-day meeting of the Airport Baptist W.M.U. The organization met at the church for a day of mission study, with a covered dish luncheon served at noon. Next week the observance will be held each day, Monday through Friday. Sessions will meet at 9:30 a.m. at the church on Monday and Tuesday; on Wednesday through Friday, the group will meet at the church at 2:30 p.m., it was announced. Five chapters were reviewed in the book, "Continents in Commotion" at Tuesday's meeting. Mrs. W. H. Patterson, who is chairman of the study course, discussed one chapter. Others participating were Mrs. Dewey Brown, Mrs. Sam Wells, Mrs. James Findley and Mrs. A. E. Woods. Mrs. Patterson also gave the devotion on "Send the Light." Ten were present.

Baird's Secondary Aces

SOPH-STUDD TEXAS CHALLENGES AGGIES

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Texas A&M, which faltered under pressure of being the nation's No. 1 team and lost a game it was supposed to win, closes the season tomorrow with sophomore-studded Texas in the way of a major bowl bid.

The Aggies, who have won eight of nine games this campaign, are favored by a touchdown to whip their traditional foe but they know this may be the toughest job they have faced.

Texas, which lost three and tied one on the way to a possible high finish in the Southwest Conference race, can be expected to reach its zenith in this one.

IN SOUTHWEST Outcome Of Race To Be Delayed

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

While you're reducing that turkey to a carcass tomorrow, college football will be filling out the bowl game schedule with Texas A&M, Texas and Virginia Military taking shots at the New Year's Day gray.

There are more angles to the A&M-Lynchburg game than a Ruben Goldberg cartoon. It's strictly an "if" game—and the result won't be known 'til Saturday.

IF Baylor can knock off Rice Saturday, the Aggie-Texas winner will claim the Southwest Conference title and the Cotton Bowl berth that goes with it. IF Rice wins, the Aggie-Texas winner likely will wind up in one of those "other" bowls, probably the Sugar.

In short, it's just a usual Southwest race. Texas A&M, beaten only by Rice, and Rice, beaten only by Texas, are tied for the lead at 4-1-0. Texas, beaten only by Southern Methodist but tied by Baylor, is third at 3-1-1.

IF Texas A&M and Rice wind up in a tie for the title, Rice gets the Cotton Bowl bid because of the 7-6 victory over the Aggies.

Things are much more simple for VMI. If the Keydets win, they go to the Tangerine Bowl. If they lose, they spend the year-end holidays with the folks.

The Keydets are 8-0-1 (tied 21-11 all by Holy Cross) and are paired with East Texas State by the Tangerine committee as the only two teams still under consideration as a foe for Mississippi Southern. The Texans already have completed their season, with an 8-1 record.

The Texas A&M-Texas game will be televised in the South, Southwest and Midwest. Eastern viewers will have a chance to look too, but only after the Brown-Colgate game is completed at Providence, R.I.

Not on TV, but worth viewing in the flesh are Cornell at Penn, Richmond at William & Mary, Miami (Ohio) at Cincinnati, Denver at Wyoming and Utah State at Utah.

Forsan Cagers Win Three Decisions Over Coahoma

FORSAN (SC) — Forsan high school basketball teams swept a triple header from Coahoma clubs here Tuesday night.

In the proper order, the Forsan boys' B team won, 44-23; the senior girls prevailed, 28-27; and the boys' A quintet finished on the long end of a 42-36 score.

Actually, Coahoma's A team scored only 24 points but two points were tipped into the Coahoma basket by Forsan in a scramble under the basket.

Tommy Willis led Forsan with 13 points while Smith had eight and Mac Robinson seven for Coahoma.

In the girls' game, Sherrie Fletcher paced Forsan with a 15-point effort while Gaye Huestis accounted for 10. Linda Camp played a standout defensive game for the winners.

Forsan led at the end of the first period, 10-9; but trailed at half time, 16-14; and after three rounds, 22-20.

In the B game, Raymond Martin and Muri Bailey each scored 14 points for Forsan while Fred Parks tallied six. For Coahoma, Richters scored 16 and Nichols seven.

Coahoma trailed at the end of

Gay Hill A Team Winner, 56-36

GAY HILL (SC)—Gay Hill defeated Elbow, 56-36, in an A boys' basketball game here Tuesday night.

Jimmy McEachern dominated his team's scoring with 31 points. A scheduled contest between the girls' teams of the two schools did not come off due to illness at Elbow.

Gay Hill's peewee boys (under 80 pounds) defeated their counterparts at Elbow, 14-10, but the Elbow peewee girls won, 12-8. Linda Painter scored all eight points for Gay Hill in that one.

Gay Hill's teams next see action against Knott here Dec. 5.

Bobcats Decision Ector High, 50-42

SAN ANGELO (SC)—The San Angelo Bobcats felled Ector High of Odessa, 50-42, in a basketball exhibition played here Tuesday night.

San Angelo's B team also won, 44-37.

Kenneth Gidson, 6-foot-7, led San Angelo with ten points. Al Dodson had nine and Walter Rodgers and Mike McCoulskey eight for the winners.

Ector failed to ring up a point in the second period.

The win equaled San Angelo's record at 1-1.

Blizzards Upset Abilene, 52-47

WINTERS (SC) — The Winter Blizzards scored their second straight basketball victory over a District 2-AAAA team by whacking Abilene here Tuesday night, 52-47.

The Blizzards had earlier thrashed San Angelo.

Abilene outscored the Blizzards from the field, 40-32, but the home club made good on 20 of 36 chances from the foul line.

Splits were converted by the following:
Angie Merrill, Pinkie's (5-8-10); Jeannette Long, Anthony's (3-10 and 2-3-7); Evelyn Wilson, Anthony's (3-10); Nell Campbell, Anthony's (3-10); Dot Kain, An-

Gridders Treated To Steak Supper

Members of the 1958 Big Spring high school football team, their coaches and pep squad leaders were treated to mammoth steaks at the Wagon Wheel restaurant last night.

The host was Dr. Donald C. Rockwell, who recently moved here from Midland.

Rockwell said he wanted to show his appreciation for a "job well done" and added he felt a dinner was the best way to do it.

No formal program was held.

Dallas Baseball Team Up For Sale

DALLAS (AP)—Officials of the Dallas Texas League baseball club said today the franchise is for sale or lease.

The club is owned by Mrs. R. W. Burnett and her two daughters, Mrs. Ralph Weiser and Mrs. Hughes Brown.

C. R. Anthony's Returns To Lead In Fem Circuit

It would be easy to throw a blanket over the first two teams in the Ladies' Classic bowling league.

C. R. Anthony's moved back into first place by half a game over Cosden by beating Pinkie's, 3-0, in action at Clover Bowl last night. Cosden, meanwhile, was getting by Good Housekeeping, 2-1.

In other matches, Texaco Stars won over Neel's Transfer and Hodges Hobby House turned back Riteway Motors, both by 2-1 counts.

Cosden paced team scoring with 763-2204. Anthony's and Good Housekeeping had a 737 single game while Anthony's finished with a 2167 total.

Sugar Brown of Cosden and Vera Dozier of Anthony's divided individual scoring laurels. Sugar posted 187-502 while Mrs. Dozier came in with 183-516.

Splits were converted by the following:
Angie Merrill, Pinkie's (5-8-10); Jeannette Long, Anthony's (3-10 and 2-3-7); Evelyn Wilson, Anthony's (3-10); Nell Campbell, Anthony's (3-10); Dot Kain, An-

Navy Is Given 3-Point Bulge Over Soldiers

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The football experts rate Navy a three-point favorite over Army in the 58th renewal of the service classic here Saturday, but fans trying to pick the winner have to decide how that slim margin stacks up against such unforeseeable factors as team spirit and the breaks.

Spirit alone has won for both sides in the past, and breaks have decided other meetings.

The weather, too, could be a factor. The gridiron prophets base their calculations on the expectation that the Midwest aerial game will prove superior to Army's ground attack. Rain or windy weather could alter that picture.

The experts are unanimous on one point — anyone who goes by the record in picking the winner in this game is sticking his neck out.

Navy Coach Eddie Erdelatz promised "something new" for the clash. He wasn't saying what it was.

Coach Earl Blaik of Army let it be known his squad was working on special defensive plans, but likewise wasn't giving any details.

Both Blaik and Erdelatz had high opinions of their opponents' abilities.

Erdelatz said the Cadet backfield of Dave Bourland, Pete Dawkins, Bob Anderson and Vin Barta is the best he's seen since coming to Annapolis seven years ago.

"Army can get you coming and going," he declared. "If you lay back for passes, they run over you. If you try to stop Anderson, Dawkins runs wild. If you watch Anderson takes off. If you watch both, Barta will beat you to death."

Erdelatz rates the Army "twice as good" as the squad which held Navy to a 7-7 tie in last year's encounter. And he says the West Point backfield is "about 10 times better than it was when we played them last November."

Blaik, while singling out Bourland for special praise, said he doubted if any team could contain Navy.

"Ned Oldham and Harry Hurst are good runners. Tom Forrestal is a fine quarterback and passer," Blaik commented. He said he figured Army would score on Navy, but questioned: "Can we deny Navy a higher score?"

HC Wins Second Tilt By Thrashing Sayre

HCJC's Jayhawks clearly outclassed the Sayre, Oklahoma, Yellow Jackets here Tuesday night, 80-56, to pick up their second basketball victory of the young season.

The Sooner State team tried and tried but couldn't keep up with the local collegians, who had a 20-point bulge at half time. Coach Harold Davis saw fit to employ 14 players.

Benny Carver again led the Hawks. The ball-hawk from Bowie tossed in 22 points and excelled as a play-maker. He was missing his shots early in the game or he might have had to have a couple of sut-outs to hug the aggregate home with him.

Tommy Zinn and Larry Gore were close, with 17 and 16, respectively.

The teams went two minutes, 15 seconds before getting a field goal. HCJC hit the first one, however, and was never behind.

Dudley Freeman, a boy who has three fingers missing from his left hand, didn't let the handicap bother him. He and Jerry Williams led Sayre, each with 14 points.

The Jackets, who were making their first start, lost two players on fouls, the Big Springs one, Freeman and Flip Cozy of the guests were exiled to the penalty box while Dale Woodruff of the Hawks left after committing five fouls.

The Hawks will break up for the holidays. They return to action here next Tuesday, at which time they face a double-tough Decatur Baptist team.

HCJC's B team didn't fare so well in a scrimmage with the Big Spring High School Stars.

The Longhorns buoyed Coach Johnny Johnson's hopes by belting the HC reserves, 79-68.

In that one, Jan Loudermilk—the Steers' candidate for all-state honors—tossed in 33 points. Bill Thompson had 14 and Benny McCarty 13 for the high school team.

Doug Burrage accounted for 23 of the Hawks' points while Donald Lovelady found the range for 18.

LOOKING 'EM OVER With Tommy Hart

On a recent TV program, seen locally, Matty Bell said he thought seriously of becoming a lawyer before turning to football as a profession.

Henry Derrick of Our Town, an uncle to the SMU athletic director, reveals that Matty would have become a cowboy with a little urging on his part.

Matty spent a couple of summers on Derrick's ranch near Toyah and liked the life of a cowboy so much he sought encouragement from Henry to take up the profession, whom he regarded as one of the best at his trade.

Derrick told him to get the idea out of his head as quickly as possible.

For the information of the two hunting enthusiasts who sought out this writer the other day and asked when quail season began, the appointed day is Dec. 1.

Freddy Braselton, the Texan who went to Georgia Tech and became a football star, has averaged playing 57 minutes a game for the Engineers in his first varsity season.

Braselton is regarded as one of the finest sophomores ever to perform at Tech.

Braselton, who resides in Corpus Christi, jumped at the chance to attend Tech upon being offered a scholarship by Tonto Coleman after no Southwest Conference school expressed an interest in him.

He was regarded as a better basketball prospect than a football player upon leaving high school.

Judge R. H. Weaver, director of the 1958 American Business Club Relays, reveals he has extended an invitation to the University of Mexico to compete in the university division.

Asked recently to pick the three best football players he had ever coached, Col. Biff Jones named Abe Mickal of LSU, Chris Cagle of Army and Butch Luther of Nebraska.

Jones was at LSU during the time Huey Long ran Louisiana and also had coach tenures at West Point and Nebraska.

By 1958, area television viewers may be able to witness Sunday big league baseball, as well as on Saturdays.

Pro football has been an influence on the major league magnates, who reason that the Sunday screenings won't hurt attendance.

The minor leagues will put up a beef, of course, but it's obvious many of the minor leagues are being written off by the majors.

George McAllister, dean of men at HCJC, returned from a hunting trip near Red Rio not long ago on which he felled one of the finest looking bucks ever seen here — a beautiful animal with 11-point antlers.

Speaking of McAllister, when he was track coach at HCJC, he came close to registering a native of India to run track for the local college.

Bobby Dodd, the Georgia Tech coach, says the best high school football in the South is being played in Mississippi.

For those Texans who would leap to the defense of our brand of ball, he doesn't include this state as a Southern state but rather in the Southwest.

Hawk Club Of 1952 Holds Most School Cage Records

By BOBBY HORTON

Outstanding basketball marks and records set up by individuals and teams of Howard County Junior College dating from 1947 were recently compiled and released by Coach Harold Davis, now in his tenth year in the Jayhawk nest.

The Jayhawk ball club of 1952-53, paced by one of the all-time greats of the college, Robert (Dallas) Williams of Sunset High of Dallas, finished out with the best seasonal won-lost record. The team of that tenure won 34, lost six, and ranked sixth in the National Tournament.

Williams holds the season individual scoring record with 719 points; also a mark for the season average, 18 per game. He netted more points in one game than any other cager for HCJC—41 against the AC Freshmen.

Davis' outstanding team of the 1952 season, following his return from the Marine Reserves for the Korean conflict, also rang up the top offensive total of 3,154 points. Each member of that club ended the season with double-figured averages, ranging from 10.6 to 18 points.

The '52 powerhouse scored the most points in contest—twice they cracked the 100 mark on each occasion, they hit 112-against McMurry freshmen and Sayre Oklahoma Junior College. The scoring record for a half came against the Abilene Christian College frosh—87 during the 20 minute period was netted.

The '52 Hawks do not dominate the record book, for they yielded to a more recent team for the top offensive average per game. The 1954-55 quintet netted on the average of 80 points each game.

That club's leader was Jim Knotts, tying Williams' 18 point average but falling short on the season total. His team played four games less than the '52 Flock, and he wound up with 569 points for the entire season. That particular season saw six boys wind up averaging ten points or more.

One of HC's earlier teams holds the best defensive average. In

Mahon Group Sees Missile Test Fizzle

MISSILE TEST CENTER, CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Six congressmen watched last night as the Army fired a big Jupiter 1,500-mile-range rocket that failed to complete its planned flight.

Moments after the 70-foot intermediate range ballistic missile blazed into the tropic sky, the Army issued a statement saying it failed to complete its programmed flight because of technical difficulties.

To hundreds of spectators watching along the beach on this island midway along the Florida east coast, the Jupiter was a spectacular sight as it rose from a pillow of smoke and flame on the launching pad.

It appeared to travel straight up, trailing a yellow flame. Then it became a purplish light high in the sky. It was visible for about four minutes and was brighter than any star.

The statement by the Defense Department said only that the missile failed in its programmed flight because of technical difficulties and added: "This test of the Jupiter, under development by the Army, is one of a series of intermediate range and intercontinental ballistic missile flight tests conducted at the Cape Canaveral range."

There was no official explanation of what technical difficulties were involved.

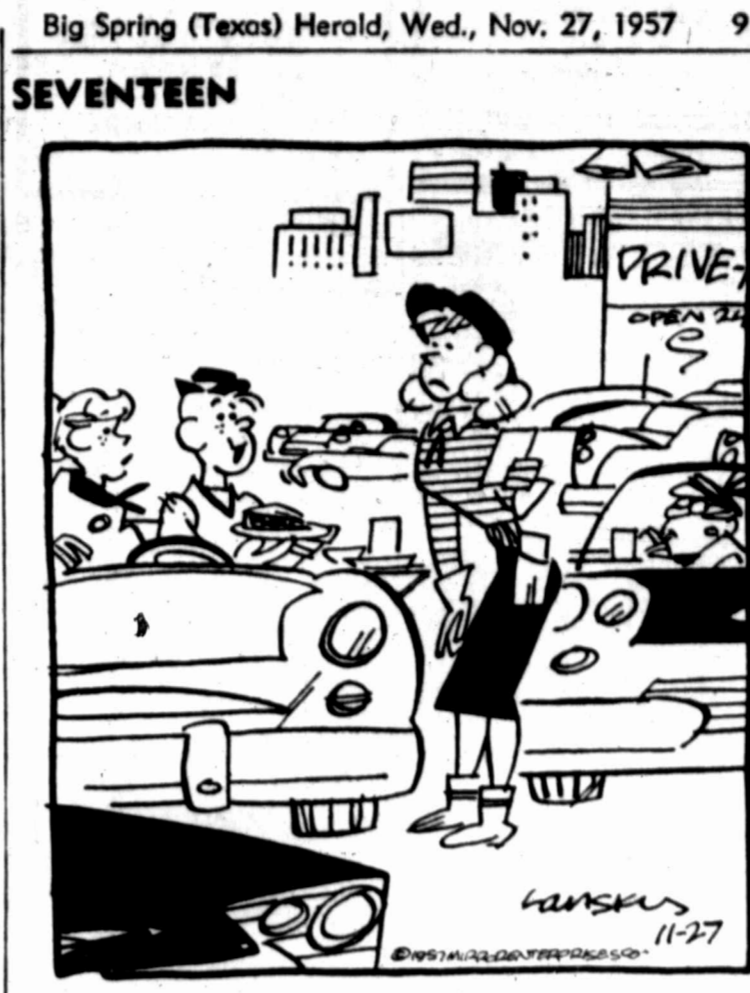

Congressmen who witnessed the firing were members of a military subcommittee of the House Committee on Appropriations, headed by Rep. Mahon (D-Tex.).

Earlier in the day Dr. von Werner von Braun, developer of the Jupiter, arrived in a private plane but was not available to newsmen.

There were reports that the big Atlas, an intercontinental ballistic missile, might be fired next week. The Navy's Vanguard, a three-stage rocket designed to put an American satellite in the sky, also has been seen on the launching ramps.

Two previous attempts have been made to fire the Atlas. Each time on June 11 and Sept. 23, the 100-foot missile climbed slowly, wobbled and then was blasted apart because of some failure of one or more of its intricate parts.

The Jupiter has been fired several times and is considered to be the most effective rocket of its type in the U.S. arsenal.

Victory Dinner Slated Tonight

Formal conclusion of the combined funds campaign of the First Baptist Church will be observed at 6:30 p. m. today in the church with a victory dinner.

Roy B. Reeder, general chairman, said that all campaign workers and their wives, and all hostesses and others who served in any capacity in the special effort, were urged to participate. Approximately 500 families have been contacted during an intensive one-week effort to subscribe the church budget and expansion funds.

The meeting also will be occasion for the regular monthly Sunday School workers pot luck dinner, said Leroy Hollingshead, Sunday School superintendent.

Delegates Named For Farmers Union State Convention

N. E. Heaton, L. E. Norris and Ed Carpenter will represent the Howard County Farmers Union at the state Farmers Union convention in Abilene Dec. 6-7, Frank S. Goodman, county president, announced today.

The convention program will include talks by Texas Sens. Lyndon Johnson and Ralph Yarborough and Reps. Walter Rogers and Omar Burleson. Yarborough will speak at a banquet at 6:30 p. m. Dec. 6 and Johnson will talk at 11 a. m. Dec. 7, Goodman said.

The state meeting will be held at the Windsor Hotel in Abilene and Goodman said that all sessions will be open to any farmer or other person interested in the welfare of farm people.

Newsman Fraternity Organized At Tech

LUBBOCK — Final approval of by-laws to establish the West Texas chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity, was given by a group of area newspaper, radio and television newsmen here Monday night. Chartering is due in February.

Harry McKee, Lubbock, president, pointed out that Lubbock area men professionally engaged in news reporting and public information activities are eligible to join the charter group. Officers of the local group are McKee, Marshall Formby of Plainview, vice president; Dick Tatum, secretary; W. E. Garets, treasurer; and Adrian Vaughan, correspondent, all of Lubbock.

Farm Boy Slays 3 In Family

BENTONVILLE, Ark. (AP)—A 13-year-old farm boy, angered over his mother's order to round up the family milk cows, shot and killed the mother, a brother and sister today and then wounded himself, authorities reported.

Sheriff Joe Means said Gary Earl Bright killed Mrs. Jewell Irene Bright, 34; Bobby, 5; and Bobby, 3, with a single-shot .22 rifle.

The children apparently were asleep in their beds when the youth killed them, the sheriff said.

Means told reporters that Gary's father's hands were tangled in a corncracker machine. The hand had to be amputated. Yesterday the wound pained him severely and he went to a hospital.

She has taught hundreds in music at the school and for eight years was district clerk.

For 23 years, she taught music in the Breckenridge schools. She is remembered for her part in choosing the green and white school colors which have become famous throughout the state in football competition.

"In those days, we always decorated the schoolhouse for special things, and green foliage and white decorations were always available," she recalls. It was just a matter of being practical. She was elected district clerk in 1926—"The most thrilling day of my life," she said of her victory over two opponents. She opened her office on the second floor of the courthouse every day, making the tortuous trip on her crutches, always a cheerful, independent member of the community. Assessment Paving Program For Sixth, Birdwell Studied

A small assessment paving program was foreseen by the City Commission after receiving a petition to pave 6th Street Tuesday night.

Commissioner Curtis Driver mentioned that it looked as if an assessment program would be the answer and he was in favor of adding the section on Birdwell south from 4th to the existing side-to-side pavement.

Mrs. Turner headed a delegation which met with the commission Nov. 12 and at that time, the city manager, H. W. Whitney, told them that signatures would have to be obtained from all property owners before paving could be done unless the city went into an assessment program.

No action was taken to start proceedings toward the assessment program Tuesday night, however.

In another matter, the commission authorized Whitney to negotiate with Cecil Hamilton for operation of Hamilton Field, Hamilton taking complete charge of the airport Dec. 1 (Sunday), and he some way of spreading the cost over a period of time could be arranged.

Hamilton said that if the city felt it could bear part of the financial burden of the airport, he would appreciate it. He turned down the yearly rental on a monthly basis, and the city refused to accept his offer to operate the airport for $450 per month.

As a result, the commission authorized Whitney to negotiate with Hamilton for a partial subsidy if Hamilton would guarantee operation during daylight hours.

Daniel Signs Lobby Law

AUSTIN (AP)—One of the most controversial laws produced in recent years, a lobby control act, was signed into law yesterday by Gov. Daniel.

Texas lobbyists will not have to begin registering and reporting certain expenses before Jan. 1, 1959, however.

Lobby control legislation was a big issue in the regular session but died in the final few minutes.

In Daniel's call for the first special Legislature he predicted that such controls would only be voted in a special session dedicated to that purpose. Even with such recommendations it was not finally approved until the last 10 minutes of the 30-day meeting.

"While this bill does not include all of my recommendations concerning lobby control, it represents an important achievement for good government, and I am pleased to sign it," he said yesterday.

Daniel said one of the important provisions of the bill prohibits confidential fee lobbying contracts and false communications to legislators in efforts to influence legislation.

Briefly, the law requires anyone who tries to influence legislators by "direct communication" must register as lobbyists. Those who spend more than $50 on such influence during a legislative session must make a report.

Violators could be punished by fines up to $5,000 or imprisonment up to two years.

3 Men To Begin 7,000-Mile Horseback Ride To The Andes

By GENE HANDSAKER
SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP)—Three men will set out Sunday on a 7,000-mile horseback ride from the lowest point on the North American continent to the highest point in South America.

If they survive head hunters, man-eating pigs, boa constrictors, saddle sores and dysentery, it will take them from 282 feet below sea level to 23,053 above.

The low starting point is Bad Water, Death Valley, Calif., 160 miles northeast of here. They expect it will take 18 months to reach their destination: Mt. Aconcagua, Argentina.

Why should a carpenter, a boat dealer and an ex-cop set out on such a wearying and dangerous journey?

"It's been a lifelong dream of mine to take some long, adventurous ride," says Loren Lee Upton, 22-year-old carpenter.

On that trip he sent his mother 60-page letters. Now he'll be interpreter, guide and journalist. The travelers hope his daily logs, aired home, will send to magazines.

Kyle, a widower, has taken in a partner to run his boat business in nearby Luna Linda.

The six horses are trail-stepped pack steeds from California High Sierra country. The travelers say they'll probably sell them in Argentina. An airline has offered to fly the men home.

Hazards ahead include head-hunting tribes in lower Panama and Colombia. The horsemen will have to make a trail through the brush to fire 20-second flares and might scare off jungle night aggressors. "It may sound silly, but such things have saved people's lives," Loren says.

There will be herds of peccaries, piglike mammals that attack men. "30-foot Anaconda constrictors that hang from trees and can crush a man's head or back with a hammer blow of their heads." "We wouldn't think much of this trip if we didn't have a little hazard," Ed says. Each man carries a pistol and a rifle.

Equipment includes two pressure cookers to kill dysentery-causing amoebae... a canvas tent taken to shelter three beds side by side... snake, penicillin and other purifying pills... a direction-finding radio receiver.

Sights ahead include Mayan ruins and, Kyle says, "a canyon they claim you could put the Grand Canyon inside," in South Sonora, Mexico.

For 3rd Time, Mamie Has A Sick Husband

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the third time in 26 months, Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower is watching over a sick husband.

Vice President Nixon described as "courageous" her action Monday night in attending a state dinner for King Mohammed V of Morocco, after President Eisenhower had suffered a mild stroke.

"I sat by her and I know under what stress she was," Nixon said.

But last night, Mrs. Eisenhower joined the ailing President in dining from trays and watching television for a couple of hours in their White House living quarters.

In advance of the Monday night dinner, the White House had announced only that Eisenhower had suffered "a chill." But it was disclosed yesterday that tentative diagnosis already had been made of a blockage of a small brain artery—commonly called a little stroke.

Nixon, who escorted the First Lady to the dinner, commented: "I might say that Mrs. Eisenhower's performance last (Monday) night, . . . knowing what she knew, was as courageous as I have ever seen by anyone. It was perhaps the most difficult time she has ever had."

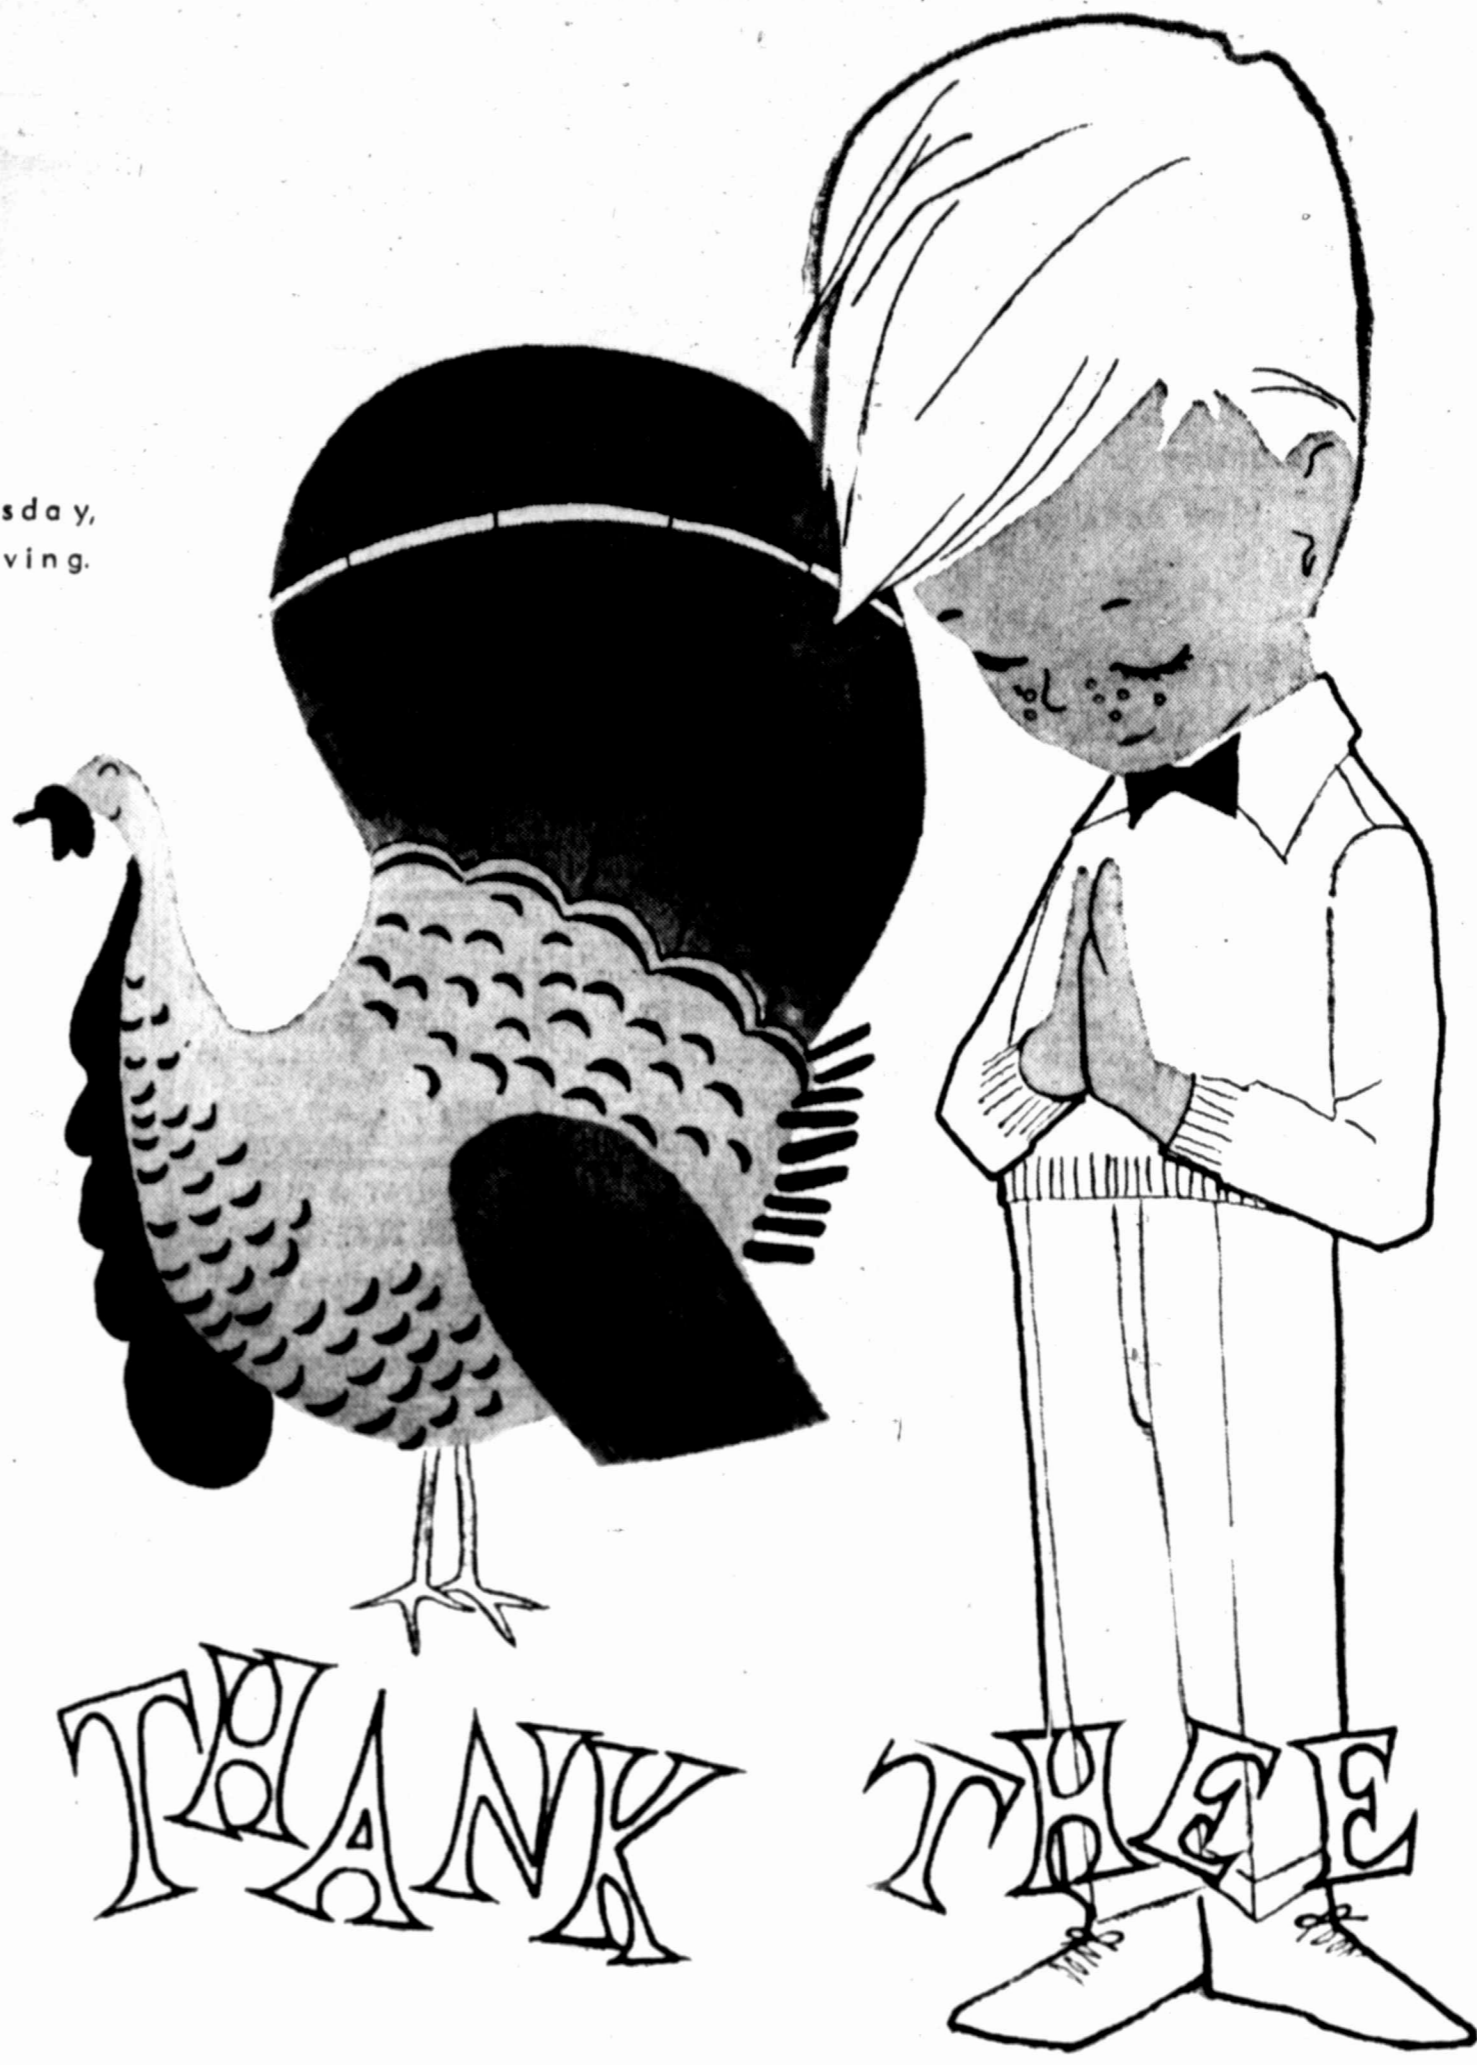

No state functions interfered during Eisenhower's previous illnesses—a heart attack in Denver in September 1955 and an ileitis operation in June 1956. In each case, Mrs. Eisenhower took a room in the hospital to be near the President, and remained with him through convalescence.

She herself underwent an operation last August, remaining in Walter Reed Army Hospital here for 25 days.

How closely she will stay with the President in the White House apparently depends on how rapidly he recovers.

We'll be closed all day Thursday, November 28, for Thanksgiving.

U.N. Tackles Algeria Issue Amid New Talk Of Mediation

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—U. N. diplomats tackle the festering Algerian situation today amid new talk of mediation between France and its North African rebels.

The heated question was before the U. N. Assembly Political Committee for renewed debate.

Arab delegates expressed hope that the United States and Britain would support mediation of the three-year-old rebellion. The delegates attached considerable importance to current talks in Washington of King Mohammed V of Morocco.

The King and President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia offered their good offices last week for negotiations in which France would accept Algerian sovereignty as a starting point. The French, who contend Algeria is part of metropolitan France, rejected the offer.

French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau said Morocco and Tunia are not neutral in the struggle of their Arab neighbors. Pineau was scheduled to present the French position in the 62-nation committee's debate.

The New York Times said Pineau had told Latin-American, British Commonwealth and Western European delegates that France would be willing to admit up to 10,000 observers for proposed Algerian elections.

The French are insisting the observers come from nations with free elections, the Times said, thus barring Communist and some Arab nations.

Arab leaders reportedly want to form a North African federation seen to include Algeria, Morocco and Tunisia.

Moroccan and Tunisian delegates, who were to present Algeria's position, were reported working on a resolution calling for a cease-fire. It also would invite Algeria and France to enter negotiations aimed at self-determination for the French North African province.

This goes a good deal farther than the resolution approved by last year's Assembly which merely called for a just and peaceful solution of the dispute. Arab diplomats said they were determined to put in a stronger proposal this year on grounds that no attempt was made to implement last year's call and that the fighting is more bitter than ever.

France has in the past refused to recognize U. N. recommendations on Algeria, claiming the rebellion is an internal matter over which the international organization has no jurisdiction.

No Mention
MOSCOW (AP)—Moscow newspapers did not mention today the illness of President Eisenhower.

Services Plan Early Releases

WASHINGTON (AP)—The armed forces today announced the early release of enlisted men whose service tours are scheduled to expire during the Christmas-New Year holiday season.

The Army said men whose enlistments would otherwise end between Dec. 21 and Jan. 5 will be separated prior to Dec. 21. The Navy set the same early release date for men whose tours would otherwise terminate between Dec. 20 and Jan. 12.

The Marine Corps will release during the period Dec. 18-21 men whose enlistments would expire between Dec. 22 and Jan. 19. The Air Force said early releases will be given men whose duty tours expire between Dec. 1 and Jan. 10, but set no specific date for the early separations.

The Defense Department said the early release schedules will not apply to reservists who are taking six months active duty training.

5,884 Pupils In City Schools

Enrollment in Big Spring schools had climbed to 5,884 students at the beginning of this week, officials reported today.

Included are 745 in high school, 1,265 in junior high, 109 in College Heights, 448 in North Ward, 326 in Kate Morrison, 326 in West Ward, 237 in Lakeview, 207 in Park Hill and 28 in Special Education.

Mrs. Oscar True Dies

DALLAS (SC)—Funeral services were held here Tuesday morning for Mrs. Oscar True, who died Sunday. Mrs. True is the aunt of A. E. True of Big Spring.

Let us be thankful . . . for home and family, for good friends, for life in a land of freedom, and for all our many blessings. And, as our forefathers did, let us give thanks in the church of our choice.
