U. S. Missile Drive Again Under Probe

Line Of Duty

Baron, a 3-year-old German shepherd paralyzed by a robber's bullet as he protected the liquor store where he "worked" in La Mirada, Calif., lies beside Vickie Wallingford, a veterinarian assistant at the dog hospital where Baron is being treated. The dog leaped on command at a gunman robbing the store, but was felled by a bullet which lodged near his spine. Veterinarians hope to restore Baron's use of his legs, by an operation if necessary. He has been a guard dog at the store for three months.

Senators To Flatten Obstacles

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Preparedness subcommittee today reopened an inquiry aimed at flattening major obstacles some of them feel have put the nation behind Russia in missile and satellite development.

Sen. Stennis (D-Miss) said he believes the investigation will "point up the roadblocks" he said are slowing down missile production.

Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.), another subcommittee member, said in a separate interview one of these obstacles is continued rivalry between the armed services. He said lags are compounded by lack of central direction.

"I am particularly anxious to find out the extent to which procurement of the many component parts is holding up developments and production," he said.

He said he agrees with Flanders that "we'll never get the program going full-blast until the President appoints a top man with overriding authority."

The subcommittee, headed by Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, was expected to look into the failure last Friday of this country's first attempt to launch an earth satellite.

4 Persons Die In Chemical Plant Explosion

ELKTON, Md. (AP)—Four persons were killed and several injured today in an explosion at the Thiokol Chemical Corp. plant on U.S. 40 near here, state police reported.

Police said the explosion occurred at 10:25 a.m. Union Hospital in Elkton said it had three persons in its accident room.

One police report had two missing, but it was not clear immediately if they were included in the four reported dead.

Thiokol manufactures rocket propellant. Five of the 10 rockets used last Oct. 21 in Project Farside were propelled by fuel developed and manufactured at the plant. The Farside rocket soared to 4,000 miles after it was taken aloft 100,000 feet by a balloon.

Thiokol also designed and developed the complete ignition system for the Farside vehicle launched in the Pacific.

CLUBS HELP CHEER FUND

Clubs and various types of organizations are joining individuals in helping the CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND. This is the fund that will mean toys and food for needy children at Christmas, will continue to help destitute families with medicine and milk throughout the year.

Thanks to the generosity of so many, the fund is growing nicely, but the need is very great. You are asked to help bring Christmas cheer into poor homes by sending your Christmas CHEER FUND check to The Herald. As of today, the fund stands:

Ike Flies To Europe For NATO Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower—still under the watchful eye of doctors—flew to Paris today to lead this country's drive to revitalize the North Atlantic alliance.

An awesome burden rested on the shoulders of the 67-year-old Chief Executive, who suffered a mild stroke less than three weeks ago.

In the light of the Soviet Union's advances in missiles and space age science, Eisenhower's job was to:

1. Restore Allied confidence in American leadership and bring about greater scientific, military, economic and political cooperation among the 15 nations of the NATO alliance.
2. Sell this country's allies on letting their territory be used for rocket bases and stores of nuclear weapons. Some of these countries fear such bases would make them prime targets for Russian missiles if a new war should break out.
3. Counter the Soviets' propaganda offensive, which obviously is intended to scare Western countries away from further cooperation with the United States.
4. Quiet disputes among the NATO countries. One of the most urgent problems here seems to be one of soothing French indignation over U. S. and British shipment of arms to Tunisia.

In the past few days, the Russians have been stepping up their propaganda drive, which U. S. officials regard as designed to undercut the NATO summit meeting opening next Monday.

Soviet Premier Bulganin wrote Eisenhower generally restating previously rejected Russian proposals for ending nuclear weapons tests on terms unacceptable to the West. The Bulganin letter also called for new East-West talks on outlawing war.

OTHER LETTERS

Other Bulganin letters went to heads of America's European allies. The Soviet Premier told French Premier Felix Gaillard the NATO meeting was called "to accelerate war preparations." Bulganin said in his letter to British Prime Minister Macmillan that nations where American bombers are based were put in a "very dangerous situation."

In another move, Moscow radio announced that Russia is sending notes to all U. N. members warning that "the danger of nuclear war has greatly increased." And at the U. N. in New York, Russia proposed that the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain renounce the employing of nuclear weapons in East and West Germany.

Eisenhower got approval of his doctors earlier this week to make the Paris trip. But the White House said he still has not been discharged from medical care stemming from a blockage of a small brain artery Nov. 25. His personal physician Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder is accompanying him on the trip. He is expected to remain in Paris until Thursday.

Secretary of State Dulles, who left yesterday for Paris, stressed that Eisenhower will be the real head of the 22-member U. S. delegation.

Dulles declined to issue any farewell statement on boarding a plane for the NATO summit meeting. He described himself as "an agent of the President's assistants" at the 15-nation conference.

Dulles Seeks To Soothe Angry French

Final Plans For Meeting Being Laid

PARIS (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Dulles arrived in Paris today to join other foreign ministers of the Western alliance in final preparations for the NATO summit conference.

A major task awaited the American secretary—the soothing of French feelings hurt by what Paris regards as a British-American effort to dictate the use of nuclear weapons by the alliance.

French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau was not at the airport to meet Dulles, presumably because if he met all 14 visiting NATO foreign ministers, he'd have time for nothing else. Jacques Vimeot, head of the American section of the French Foreign Ministry, greeted Dulles for his government.

The secretary declined to make any statement before he was driven to the American Embassy. He said he would leave the talking "to the President tomorrow—his head of the delegation."

With Communist organs whipping up a bitter campaign against the NATO meeting, the French government ordered extraordinary security measures for Eisenhower's visit.

MEETINGS BANNED

Police banned all public political gatherings, parades, and petitions, and ordered heavy street guards. The measures even exceeded those during the state visit of Yugoslav President Tito, when troops were stationed on every downtown rooftop.

In addition to the Communists, many right-wingers are furious at what they consider U. S. opposition to French policy in North Africa.

The French are angry because the United States and Britain have agreed on plans for the stationing and use of nuclear weapons in Europe without consulting France.

French resentment finds fertile ground in the fears of smaller West European nations that acceptance of American missiles may cancel any chance—however slender—of a settlement with Russia.

The French, and to some extent other Continental members of NATO, also resent implications that they are being dictated by the United States and Britain, the only members of the alliance now producing nuclear weapons.

PACIFICATION NEEDED

Some diplomats feared that unless the French were pacified quickly, their anger would thwart the reweaving of the United NATO front which is the aim of the summit meeting of government chiefs.

If private conversations of the foreign ministers fail to clear up the trouble, President Eisenhower may be called upon to use his unrivaled influence with European statesmen for a solution.

Eisenhower is scheduled to arrive tomorrow.

Some informants said the French and Germans have been quietly swapping ideas for a common continental answer to some American proposals prepared for the meeting with British help.

The most immediately important of these proposals would spot intermediate range ballistic missiles in Western Europe to bring their 1,500-mile striking distance within range of European Russia.

The French-German reaction to stationing missiles on their soil may not be completely negative but may fall well short of what Washington and London want. Paris and Bonn are reportedly taking into account the views of Italy, Norway, Denmark and other nations.

BASIC MOTIVE

Some diplomats suggest that France really is motivated by bitterness over U. S.-British policies in North Africa.

To some extent U. S. and British officials claim to understand West Germany's special dilemma—a desire to remain friends with France, retain U. S. support and do nothing about armament which might seal the division of Germany.

But France seems to have gotten Washington and London in a ditch.

Some officials take the view that frustration is impelling the French these days—frustration over their economy, their North African troubles, their declining influence even with the British who only last year joined them in the Suez invasion.

Woman Rescued

Mrs. Leon Schiff, co-owner of the New Beckham Hotel in Greenville, clutches her case as she is assisted down a fire escape from the burning hotel. Mrs. Schiff's husband is in a hospital in serious condition. The couple owned and operated the hotel. An explosion, followed by fire, routed the guests into sub-freezing weather. One man was found dead in the ruins. Thirty-nine other guests were accounted for.

Plans For SUB Nearly Finished

AT HCJC

The time is nearing for what could prove another major expansion program for Howard County Junior College.

Trustees were told Thursday that plans and specifications for the new student union building would be ready for bidding by Jan. 10. Actually, they may be available sooner, said Olen L. Puckett of Puckett & French, architect-engineer, but the holidays are considered a poor time to ask for building proposals.

The building, an imposing structure with some 15,000 square feet of space, is being made possible through a grant up to $400,000 from the Dora Roberts Foundation. It will be named in honor of Mrs. Roberts, pioneer ranch woman who later developed considerable oil and other holdings before her death.

Preliminary plans for two dormitories, which might cost upward of $500,000 and which would be financed through revenue bonds, were presented. They represented refinements of new dormitories at Eastern New Mexico University which a committee from the HCJC board found to be the best it had seen, said Dr. P. W. Malone, board president.

To expedite the submission of a loan application, supported by revenue bonds, the board voted to talk with a bond house representative regarding legal work.

One of the proposed structures would house 108 boys and the other would accommodate 54 girls. Both would be two-story modern type structures and would have all built-in features, including the beds. The boys rooms would be grouped in units for four, and each unit would open to an outside corridor. The girls dormitory would have inside corridors. Tentative location for the girls dormitory would be north of the Student Union Building, which is to be east of the music building. The boys dormitory would be considerably east of the industrial arts and greenhouse buildings.

Rough estimates of cost are around $2,400 per unit for boys and $2,700 for girls, or $268,000 and $178,000. Financing would be done under long term federal dormitory loan.

The audit presented by Neil G. Hilliard, CPA, was accepted by the board. A more detailed report will be in Sunday's Herald.

Installation of a new engine in the college bus was approved. The old engine, used for three years, had a rod go through the block. Cost of the repair and installation of a meter to reflect RPMs will approximate $1,000, said Dr. W. A. Hunt, president.

A committee was named to review salary schedules to see if adjustments are possible. Mrs. Homer Ward was elected to be secretary of the college dean. Purchase of a practice piano and a secretary desk was approved. Dr. Hunt reported on the Southern Association of Colleges meeting in Richmond, Va., and he called attention to the fact that HCJC had won the Temple basketball tournament for the fourth consecutive time.

SMUGGERS DOWNTOWN

Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler said in a speech prepared for Sigma Delta Chi meeting in Indianapolis, Ind., that press criticism of the Vanguard failure "has had considerable effect toward reducing the inertia, indifference and smugness which have afflicted the White House, the Defense Department and other executive departments" in the missile program.

"Make no mistake about it," he said, "the one-party press fostered the complacency which permitted a do-nothing administration and a part-time president to appear to the public as a team of 10-foot tall supermen."

"I read in the press that Richard Nixon has matured in recent weeks and it is not surprising. A lot of Americans have aged overnight every time they read the latest box scores on the missile race."

However, Rep. Frelinghuysen (D-N.J.) suggested in a speech prepared for a Young Republican conference in Oberlin, Ohio, that Nixon be given "over-all responsibility for speeding up the United States missile program."

"What is required, in blunt language," he said, "is someone who has both the time and the authority to knock some heads together. The President has many duties and responsibilities. He might well ask his chief lieutenant to concentrate on this all-important task."

Little Rock Force To Be Cut In Half

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army said today more than half the federalized Arkansas National Guardsmen still on duty in the Little Rock school crisis will be released next Wednesday.

Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker said the force will be reduced from 950 to 432 because the situation remains stable and warrants further reduction.

When President Eisenhower ordered the Army on Sept. 24 to integrate order by the U. S. Court in Little Rock, 10,500 Arkansas National Guardsmen were ordered into federal service and about 1,000 paratroopers of the regular Army were sent into the city.

Instrument Panel Research May Bring 3-D TV

PORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—Rear Adm. Rawson Bennett, Navy research chief, said last night the Navy's quest for a simple instrument panel for planes may lead to three-dimensional television for civilians.

He predicted future astronomical observations will be made by a combined telescope and television camera lifted above the earth's dense atmosphere initially by a balloon but ultimately set into orbit in a satellite observatory.

Adm. Bennett told an institute of electrical engineers that a flat TV screen the Navy is developing may lead the way to television with perspective.

The screen is to replace the maze of dials and pointers a pilot has to watch. It will portray, in simple form, flight information figured by computers. Bennett said it may possibly reduce to reasonable bounds the complexities of space navigation.

Government Plans Own Observatory

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today announced signing of a contract providing for the first optical national astronomical observatory—a facility that will be available to all U. S. astronomers.

The National Science Foundation announced it has contracted with the Association of Universities for Research in Astronomy, Inc., "for the conduct of basic research in the field of astronomy and for the construction, operation and maintenance" of the observatory to be built in Arizona.

NSF is sponsoring construction of another national observatory, at Green Bank, W. Va. That is a nonoptical project, which will use radio receivers to study the stars.

The proposed optical installation will cost about $3,100,000 and will be located at one of three Arizona sites still under consideration. NSF announced plans some time ago to sponsor the project.

PATHOLOGISTS SAY Olivers Died Of Carbon Monoxide

Despite the lack of physical evidence to support the theory, it appeared today that A. J. Oliver, 60, pioneer Howard County school teacher, and Jewel Oliver, 54, his wife, died of carbon-monoxide poisoning on the night of Dec. 3.

Gil Jones, district attorney, reported that pathologists at the Department of Public Safety found excessive quantities of carbon-monoxide gas in the organs of the two victims and that the experts said death was caused from that poison.

Walter Grice, justice of the peace acting as coroner, said he would enter a verdict showing accidental death in the case.

The two Olivers were found in a bedroom at their home at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday by relatives. They had been dead for many hours when their bodies were discovered.

A pathologist from Midland, called to make an autopsy on the bodies, told Jones this morning that it was indisputable that Mrs. Oliver had been dead much longer than her husband. Her body was on the bed in the room; his was on the floor a few steps from the bed.

Jones said that Oliver was not in pajamas and that Mrs. Oliver was wearing a housecoat. There was no fire in the bedroom but there was a gas stove in the room. A gas fire was burning in a living room in the house. There was no evidence of gas fumes in the house, the officers said, and the structure was described as "anything but a light house."

Jones said that in view of the findings of the pathologists the only plausible theory to be drawn was that Mrs. Oliver had a fire burning in her bedroom. Oliver must have been elsewhere in the house and was aroused either by fumes or for some other reason to go to her bedroom. He may have turned off the gas stove before the concentration of carbon-monoxide overcame him.

4 Children Killed In Rockdale Fire

ROCKDALE, Tex. (AP)—Fire swept through a four room frame house here last night, burning to death four small Negro children who were left unattended.

They were Velma Collins, 4; Gwendolin Collins, 3; Hal Shepard, 18 months; and Douglas Sheppard, 7 months.

The mother, Mattie Robinson, was visiting her mother at Dimebox at the time. She had left the children in the care of Homer Ward, 50, police reported.

Ward told officers the mother left around 8 p.m. and that shortly before 9 p.m. he started a fire in a wood stove with part of a railroad tie, pouring on some kerosene. He said the fire was blazing when he left to go to a dance hall.

Helicopter To Bring Santa For Webb Visit Saturday

Santa Claus will arrive early at Webb AFB, and in an H-19 Helicopter.

A party for the dependent children of Air Force officers and enlisted men will be given at 10 a.m. Saturday in Hangar No. 25. There will be gifts for the youngsters as well as entertainment.

Four slap-happy clowns will act as Santa's helpers. Behind the great point of these funny men will be A.I.C. Norman Sant, A.I.C. Hugh McCauley, A.I.C. Jerry Fouts and A.I.C. Edward H. Kayser.

T.Sgt. Dewey Magee will act as master of ceremonies. T.Sgt. Delbert Dougherty will be hidden behind the red costume of that jolly man who will be the center of attraction.

After the entertainment, which will include a ventriloquist and a western singing group, plus numbers by the Webb band, Santa Claus will arrive by a helicopter.

The copter, already on a routine training mission, will be piloted by 1st Lt. Richard J. Mazzio.

Gifts will then be distributed to the children according to age groups and the Webb AFB Band and choral group will sing and play Christmas carols.

The Teen-age Club of Webb will be on hand throughout the program to assist the Wives' Club and the Chaplain's Office in making the party enjoyable for the children. In charge of decorations is T.Sgt. Robert Martinez.

Farm Bureau Ends Meeting, Decries Government Role

CHICAGO (AP)—The American Farm Bureau Federation ended its convention yesterday by adopting a platform featuring proposals on government-farmer relations, labor practices and the 40-hour week.

The convention reelected by acclamation Charles Shuman, a Sullivan, Ill., livestock farmer completing his third year as president.

With little opposition, Shuman led a Farm Bureau drive to get the organization on record for a diminishing role of government in agriculture. The platform, embodying such a recommendation, passed with a resounding unanimous vote after less than one hour's discussion.

The delegates renewed their demands of a year ago that labor unions be made subject to anti-trust laws. The convention also called for legislation to outlaw labor racketeering such as that uncovered recently by congressional investigations.

The federation urged an end to what it termed "monopolistic" practices by big business and big labor.

One resolution put the Farm Bureau on record as deploring what it said were efforts by organized labor and others to shorten the 40-hour work week and to obtain other benefits for workers at this time.

In urging agriculture to seek less dependence on government, the big farm group declared in a resolution that all elements of the economy should return to what it termed the "competitive enterprise system."

Blast Rips Hotel

Firemen play streams of water on the burning New Beckham Hotel in Greenville, after an explosion set off the blaze in the three-story structure. The 105-room hotel had 33 guests registered. One body was found in the ruins and the other 32 guests were accounted for. Five persons were in hospitals and others were treated for cuts, bruises and shock.

Fastest Airman Took First Ride In Old Ford Trimotor

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The world's fastest airman over a measured straightaway grew up on his father's cotton farm in Carroll County, Ga. Air Force Maj. Adrian E. Drew, 37, who flashed yesterday to a new record of 1,207.6 m.p.h.—75.5 m.p.h. better than the old, British-held mark, took his first airplane ride in Atlanta when he was 20. It was in a trimotored Ford and cost him and other passengers $2 apiece. "In the air," he recalls, "I noticed others were getting sick. But I wasn't." Flying, he decided, would "be adventurous."

He joined the Army Air Corps in 1942. During World War II he was an instructor of fighter pilots at the Venice, Fla., Army air field. In 1951 he flew 104 combat missions over Korea in an F80, earning the Distinguished Flying Cross. In 1952 he led a flight on the first jet crossing of the Pacific from the United States to Japan. In setting the record, Drew flew a McDonnell F101A Voodoo fighter-bomber at 39,000 feet over a 10.1-mile range near this desert base. The temperature was minus 39 degrees centigrade, idea for top speeds. Maj. Drew after the record flight flew to Los Angeles where he received congratulations and a Distinguished Flying Cross from Maj. Gen. Chester E. McCarty, commander of the 18th Air Force. He also won the Thompson trophy for his outfit, the 277th Fighter-bomber Wing stationed at Bergstrom AFB, Tex. He lives in Austin, Tex., with his wife and two daughters.

Yanks Hurt In Greek Bombing

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Bombs rocked American areas of Greece three times today, slightly injuring four U.S. Air Force men and a Greek employe and starting a fire that destroyed the U.S. Information Service library. Some sources blamed Communists for what official quarters described as acts of terrorism. Others speculated that the bombings might have been in reply to a U.N. speech Tuesday by U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge. He opposed a Greek resolution that in effect favored union with Greece for the British colony of Cyprus. The first two explosions were in the American section of the Athens airport. The airmen and the Greek employe of the Air Force were investigating the first blast when the second one caught them. The names of the injured were not announced immediately. The airport bombs destroyed a small building housing two wireless station electric generators. They were thought to be homemade. But police said the library blast by a bomb weighing at least 10 pounds appeared to be a professional job.

Ex-House Speaker Gets Water Post

AUSTIN (AP)—Durwood Manford, a 40-year-old rancher, farmer and attorney, has been named the next chairman of the State Board of Water Engineers. Gov. Price Daniel yesterday appointed the former Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives to the post, saying: "It is my sincere hope that this appointment will result in harmony and unity of action by the board which will be in charge of research and planning for better conservation and flood control in this state."

Manford, whose home is in Smith County, gave up another month old appointive job at the State Industrial Accident Board to succeed H. A. Beckwith of Eagle Pass, Beckwith, 72, a board member for 10 years, probably will remain on as an engineer. Smith County Judge Ned Price of Tyler was named to succeed Manford on the Accident Board. Manford will become a board member Monday, but his appointment as chairman does not become effective until Jan. 1. At that time, R. M. Dixon will become a board member. Daniel's hope for "harmony and unity" on the board apparently was prompted by past conflicts between the members. Dixon, an engineer, was usually backed in his actions by Beckwith, also an engineer. The other member, Otha Dent, a former county judge, has been at odds several times with Dixon.

Nation's Citrus Areas Chilled

By The Associated Press
Icy temperatures stung citrus groves and vegetable crops in the normally mild South again today, but there was a prospect of relief from the record-breaking freeze. Some light snow spread eastward from Minnesota across parts of the Great Lakes region during the night, and snow flurries persisted in some sections of the North Atlantic States southward into Pennsylvania.

Elsewhere in the country, dry weather was the rule. For the second straight night unseasonably low temperatures prevailed along the Atlantic Coast and readings in the teens reached through most of South Carolina and eastern Georgia. In Florida, where the freeze was termed one of the worst of the century, the mercury settled into the 20s in northern sections and the 30s in the south. The cold wave, which rolled out of the northern plains early in the week and across the Midwest bringing snows before hitting the South and East, had claimed at least 34 lives in one way or another. Damage from the Florida freeze was expected to soar into the millions. Temperatures ranged down to 18 degrees at Crestview, and ice was a common sight in central and northern sections of the citrus belt. The U. S. Weather Bureau forecast considerable warming today for the Mississippi Valley eastward through the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley as well as in the Southeast. However, the cold weather was expected to continue in the Northeast. The snow area generally received light amounts, but Syracuse, N. Y., accumulated 4 inches early today, and up to 2 inches fell in parts of northern Wisconsin.

Injured Vessel Limp Into Port

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. destroyer Manley, part of its superstructure smashed by heavy seas which killed one crew member and seriously injured three others, steamed toward Lisbon, Portugal, today. The Manley was one of four American destroyers caught in an Eastern Atlantic storm that churned up mountainous waves off Spain yesterday and made it impossible to refuel the vessels.

N.E. Texas Chilly Again

By The Associated Press
Freezing temperatures chilled Northwest Texas again Friday, but the rest of the state enjoyed warmer weather. A warming trend was due for the second consecutive day after the damaging freeze that enveloped Texas earlier this week. Fair weather prevailed except for some cloudiness along the upper coast and near Lufkin in East Texas. Temperatures skidded to 26 degrees at Dalhart and Wink. Other sub-freezing temperatures were recorded at Lubbock 27, Childress 28 and El Paso 31. The warmest spot early Friday was Galveston with 60 degrees. No rain was reported and none was forecast through Saturday. Rio Grande Valley farmers were weighing possible freeze damage. Cabbage and lettuce, the main crops still relatively free from damage by a freeze Dec. 1, were not expected to escape the latest chilling weather. The exact extent of the damage, however, could not be immediately determined. Associate County Agent W. H. Friend of Weslaco said citrus fruit may have frozen on trees in low spots. He said new growth on trees was nipped but how it may affect next year's crop could not be ascertained.

Sukarno At News Conference To Deny Rumors Of Ouster

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—President Sukarno appeared at a news conference today to deny Dutch rumors he has been ousted. The president was accompanied by former Foreign Minister Ruslan Abdulgani and other members of the National Council. He laughed and smiled but looked tired and drawn. Sukarno refused to answer and questions. Earlier he had issued a handwritten statement—in English, in pencil and on a sheet of notepaper—saying he was still in office. The President wrote that he was conducting business as usual. "I think Amsterdam is full of wishful thinking," he added. "This is the biggest laugh Sukarno has had in years," a presidential aide said. The reports that Sukarno was out, broadcast by Radio Hilversum in the Netherlands, stemmed from an announcement that the President was going abroad for a rest.

Premier Djuanda asked Parliament to swear in its moderate nationalist speaker, Sartono, as acting president beginning next Friday. An official announcement said Sartono, 56, is prepared to serve "during the period of President Sukarno's recuperation." A government spokesman indicated, however, that Sartono would only be figurehead. He said Premier Djuanda and Maj. Gen. Abdul Harris Nasution, the army chief of staff, "will be in charge during Sukarno's visit abroad." The Dutch broadcast said there were rumors in Jakarta that a triumvirate of Djuanda, former Vice President Mohammed Hatta and Gen. Nasution had put Sukarno under arrest. The President reportedly was invited by the government of "a friendly neighboring country to recuperate there" from the strain of the dispute with the Netherlands over West New Guinea.

which is causing Dutchmen to flee Indonesia. Sources said Sukarno might go to India or Egypt.

Gunman 'Robs' Driver Of Ride

NEW YORK (AP)—A well-dressed gunman who boarded a bus last night in Queens, flashed a pistol and growled at the driver: "Don't give me no lip. Just drive me where I say. I want to go home." He was the only passenger aboard the bus. Its driver, James Pardoles Jr., 23, offered him $5, but the gunman snarled: "I don't want no money. I just want to go home." He forced Pardoles to turn out the lights and drive nine miles in a maze of streets. Pardoles told police the man became frightened when a patrol car noticed the bus lights blinking on and off and jumped out.

Disability Insurance Deadline Approaches

Dec. 31, 1957, is an important deadline date for a number of disabled persons who have not yet inquired about their disability rights, according to Harold P. Thomas, manager of the Odessa Social Security Office. Former regularly employed workers, who are at least 50 years old, who have been disabled for at least six months, and have not been able to work because of their disabling condition may lose disability insurance if they do not file an application by Dec. 31, 1957. The loss of payments could run into hundreds of dollars depending upon the length of time the person has been disabled, his former social security income, and how long he delays filing his application.

Bad Word For Cotton Men

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Today's discouraging word for cotton farmers is that techniques developed to grow bigger crops also lend aid and comfort to an old enemy—the boll weevil. H. G. Johnston of the National Cotton Council told about it at the beltwide cotton production conference, which has drawn about 800 delegates from 18 states. Irrigation and heavy fertilization stimulate plant growth, rapid fruiting and extend the growing period into late season. That's one side of the coin. The other is not so bright. "In general, this also furnishes an abundant food supply for boll weevils going into hibernation," said Johnston in a prepared text. "It means they are well fed, fat, vigorous and in a better condition to survive the winter." Johnston said official records show a good many more weevils manage to reach the hibernation stage nowadays—and more of them live until spring.

Experts Keep Watch After Kidney Surgery

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—A team of medical experts kept constant watch today on Bill Merriman, 26-year-old Korean War veteran who received a healthy kidney from his twin brother, Sam. Dr. David Hume reported Bill's condition was still critical, though improved, last night. Shortly after completion of the 6½-hour operation in Richmond's Medical College of Virginia Hospital yesterday, Dr. Hume said the operation "went well technically. The transplanted kidney is functioning." Sam, who risked an Air National Guard career in donating one of his healthy kidneys in an attempt to save his brother's life, was reported in very good condition. Dr. Hume, the hospital's chief of surgery and head of the team of eight surgeons who performed the kidney transplant operation, said the operation was rushed because Bill's condition had steadily worsened. Bill, he said, was placed on an artificial kidney Tuesday and had a convulsion prior to the operation. "We almost didn't perform it because of the convulsion," Dr. Hume said. It was decided to go ahead with the operation—the seventh of its type performed—because the doctors believed Bill "was getting rapidly critical and I doubt if he would have survived another few days," Hume said. Another operation is scheduled for Bill—removal of his two diseased kidneys. The transplanted kidney was placed in the lower abdomen below his kidneys. On hand at the hospital at the time of the operation were the parents and wives of the brothers, natives of Shawnee, Okla.

Heart Attack Brings Fatal Plane Crash

VAN HORN, Tex. (AP)—Johnny Andrews, 50, was killed in the crash of his light plane about 8 miles east of here today. Sheriff Orvel Capehart said he believed the Fort Worth man suffered a heart attack. The operator of Johnny Andrews Tower Inc. of Fort Worth had been in Van Horn contracting to set up a television tower for Ross Mitchell and Elmer Benton on a nearby mountain. Mitchell took Andrews to the airport, watched him take off and believes he saw the plane crash about 6:05 a.m. A search party found the wreckage.

The Bard of Avon did not have Gordon's Vodka in mind when he wrote the above. However, the sentiments expressed are as accurate concerning Gordon's Vodka, as whatever Mr. Shakespeare did have in mind. For since Gordon's Vodka was introduced (a few short weeks ago) the response of our loving friends has been tremendous! The word has gotten around from vodka-lover to vodka-lover... Gordon's is the one for amiable mixability...for astonishing dryness...

for incomparable smoothness in every vodka drink. We like to think of Gordon's Vodka as liquid poetry. (A phrase we're sure Mr. Shakespeare would have approved.) God's On Our Side—So Far

We are in receipt of an unsigned letter from a mother, and because it is anonymous we won't publish it as such. However, there are some observations which bear repeating.

"Isn't there something the Police Department can do about teen-agers' pastime of 'dragging Main,' especially on Saturday afternoon?"

She went on to say that "I took my life in my hands as I went down town Saturday afternoon to shop. Regular traffic is bad enough at this time of year without having to dodge the kids."

This mother explained that she wasn't anti-social on the question, having a teenager of her own, but renewed her appeal by saying "please can't the Police do something about it before someone gets hurt... bad."

Dear Madam, we labored for many years at Ninth and Main, and your question is a good one. We raised it repeatedly and regularly, but outside of waiting unobtrusively under the shade of a mulberry tree to catch those who failed to completely halt at the four-way stop, we never noted much police activity on this most popular dragging street. That intersection was and still is the unofficial starting point for some of the most blistering car races in our area. In the merciful absence of any serious accidents, we have concluded that God is watching Main a lot more closely than the police.

A Lesson In In Dispersal Needs

The spectacle of the nation's largest city, the second largest city in the world, being hampered if not hamstrung by a strike of a few hundred subway motormen is enough to give one the shudders. If a few men, carrying on an outlaw strike, can come close to paralyzing a community of eight million people, just how much security do we have in this country against the whims of a mere handful bent on having their way?

But that is what happened to New York City, which has a law against walkouts of employees engaged in certain indispensable public services. This was ostensibly a jurisdictional strike, directed against the AFL-CIO Transport Workers by one of its components seeking independent bargaining status. And it was only partially successful, since about half of the 722 subway trains continued to operate on reduced schedules.

But it was giving New York a taste of what could happen if the strike had been all-inclusive among the city's transportation systems. A total cessation of all the public means of transportation could turn the vast community into a helpless, hopeless chaos.

It is a test, too, of Mayor Robert Wagner's governmental machinery, including the courts. He should turn back the pages of history and study what happened when Calvin Coolidge was governor of Massachusetts. "You cannot strike against the government," Coolidge declared, and made it stick.

The incident raises a question, What excuse for existence has a city as big as New York? Why should eight million people jam up together on an island no larger than a fair-sized West Texas cattle ranch? At what point in bigness does a community find it impossible to function efficiently? The State of New York has had to bail out the big city, financially, time after time, until the city can hardly take a deep breath without the permission of Albany.

New York is the world's worst example of a "suicide citizenry"—that is, people earn their living there and live in the suburbs and farther away. When anything happens to their transportation facilities, such as a strike or a snowstorm, it is just too bad. The time may come when dispersal will become an absolute must.

Critical Questions For NATO Parley

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower's decision to go to the conference of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization at Paris is of worldwide importance because the 15 free nations whose representatives are assembled there will mobilize moral force as well as military force in the hope of preventing a third world war.

This is not the first meeting of the NATO Council — there have been many meetings in the past. NATO's stock from time to time has risen and fallen in the eyes of the rest of the world. But there emerges now a clear picture of the necessity of strengthening the alliance. For while the United Nations, is a debating society, NATO is an action group with collective power to operate militarily under Article 51 of the UN charter.

Obviously, even though the United States is the most powerful member of the group, there isn't the slightest intention on the part of our government to act without the fullest understanding in advance with the other member governments—if there is time.

A practical situation, therefore, faces NATO today which has not been very widely discussed before. Who is going to pull the trigger to start the "massive retaliation" that must be ordered if the enemy attacks first?

In Britain people are nervous because American bombers stationed there take routine flights with H-bombs in readiness for instant action. Supposing, the British say, some American plane drops a bomb on Britain by mistake? What about a possible collision in a fog? The presence of atomic bombs and perhaps missiles, too, very soon will raise the issue in other NATO countries. The Communists are already quite aware of their chance to bring discord among the free nations by questioning the civilian governments will participate in any decision permitting overseas bases to be used for retaliatory purposes when attack comes. The influence of the Communists in various parliamentary bodies in Europe on the NATO side is well known.

Looking at the whole situation from a realistic point of view, it is important to determine what is going to be done in the following hypothetical cases:

1. The Communists may notify the NATO countries in Europe that they will not be attacked if they agree not to let the United States use overseas bases. Will some of the NATO members then agree to a sort of passive neutrality in the crisis?

2. If the United States is directly attacked and the other NATO countries are not attacked, will the European members of NATO agree to permit instant retaliation anyway from their bases by American bombers and missiles?

3. If the "first blow" is struck by the Communists and several big cities in America are destroyed simultaneously and our own bases in this country have been seriously crippled, then does the United States retaliate with what military strength it has left and, meanwhile, do the NATO countries debate the issue while the Soviet bombers are raining bombs on American cities?

It has been contended by American military men that the damage which the missiles and bombers of the United States can inflict from our overseas bases would be so extensive that the Soviets would not dare to risk an attack on America. But this presupposes a smooth-working retaliatory operation with the fullest cooperation instantly by the NATO countries. Can this be guaranteed?

The United States, by the NATO treaty—which was ratified in 1949 by an overwhelming vote of the Senate—established a precedent absolutely unparalleled in American history. For, despite the requirement of our Constitution that only Congress shall declare war, the President of the United States was given the authority by this treaty to start instantly a war against any country that attacks any member country of the North Atlantic Treaty organization, even if the United States is not directly attacked. There need be no debate in Congress—the action authorizing instant war in such circumstances has already been taken.

It is only fair to the American people that our allies in NATO should take the same precautions and avoid a lengthy parliamentary debate when minutes count and retaliatory action cannot be delayed. Unless the Moscow government is convinced that the retaliation is to be promptly put into operation, there could be a decision by the Kremlin to make war believing that America and her allies would be rendered helpless before any effective measures of retaliation can be initiated.

Soviet Russia should be put on notice that NATO might not wait for the "first blow" to arrive before authorizing interception of enemy bombers and missiles. Doesn't all this add up to the necessity of an agreement between the Soviet people and the people of the NATO countries to permit the kind of inspection, aerial and otherwise, which will assure both sides that the "first blow" must not be risked by either side?

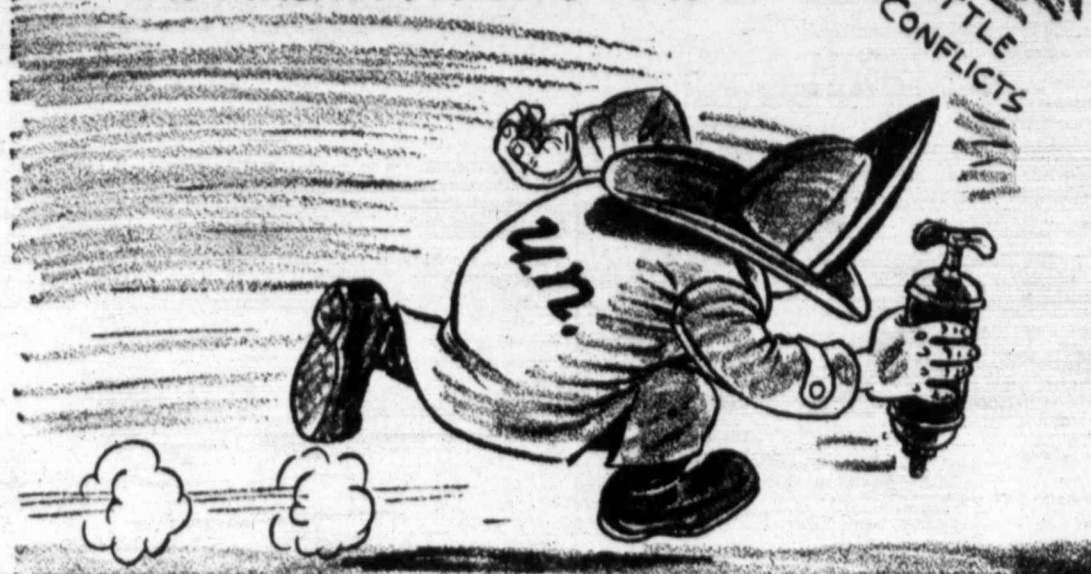

These are some of the knotty but critical questions that the NATO meeting must resolve, entirely apart from a proclamation of peaceful purposes. For people everywhere must be alerted to the dangers of letting any clique or impulsive ruler in a totalitarian government decide the fate of the world.

Lyndon Gets Foot In Mouth

WASHINGTON — The next time Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas talks of scrapping the 40-hour work week he'll probably be specific.

He talked of it this week and got a lot of attention but only because it wasn't clear he had been repeating what someone else said. Then he had to make it clear.

Johnson, besides being the Democrats' Senate leader, is chairman of the Senate Preparedness subcommittee investigating the missile and satellite programs.

In talks in Texas about the need for speed to catch up with the Russians, Johnson said the 40-hour week will not produce the intercontinental ballistic missile. And he said further: "We are justified in calling for an end to the 40-hour week, but not as a means of increasing profits for business."

This raised immediate questions: Was he talking of a 48-hour week without overtime pay? Was he talking of a 48-hour week for the whole country? Was there a need for a 48-hour week?

Johnson got a quick and unfavorable reaction from AFL-CIO leaders at their convention in Atlantic City. They opposed the idea of a longer work week and pointed to spreading unemployment and layoffs in the aircraft and missile fields because of economy cuts by the Defense Department.

(Their statements about unemployment were confirmed later by the Labor and Commerce departments, which said the volume of unemployment in this country last month was the largest for any November in the past eight years.)

Johnson did his talking Tuesday. On Wednesday he explained what he had had in mind about the 40-hour week.

He said he didn't mean it to apply to industry as a whole but only to missiles. And an aide later said Johnson wasn't talking for or against overtime pay.

Johnson said: "What I have done is repeat testimony before the Senate Preparedness subcommittee."

McElroy found, when he took office, there had been a government ban on overtime pay for making missiles. McElroy quickly lifted the ban and authorized overtime.

Experts On Girl-Watching

BUENOS AIRES — When the worldwide organization of Girl Watchers Inc. sets up formal operations, its headquarters should be here.

True, the pastime whose devotees are legion is practiced with verve in other more publicized centers—Rome, Paris, New York. However, the Argentine male takes a back seat to no one in open, frank, unbridled admiration of the female face and form with the accent on the latter.

In New York when a pretty model in a tight fitting dress swings down the avenue carrying her hat box, she has admirers. Men glance covertly at her as she passes. Some even take second glances. However for the most part the looking is done shyly and slyly. In European lands the visual approach is more direct.

But in Argentina — slang for baby, the cuddly ones of all ages — comes strolling down the street it is literally a traffic stopping occasion. The approaching Argentine starts looking at the limit of his vision. The usual spotting distance is 30 yards but a far-ranging young expert can foray as far as a city block.

When the feminine quarry is 25 feet away the Argentine starts the long look. It begins at the toes and sweeps slowly up to the head; then returns equally slowly with a last, penetrating, soulful glance into the lady's eyes.

To all this the chica pretends blissful ignorance. Her gaze remains fixed about two inches above the heads of the gaping crowd.

The inspection doesn't stop as the girl passes. The Argentine slows his walk, staring back over his shoulder for perhaps 20 paces. He then reluctantly swings his gaze forward to spot the next subject.

Why Not Form Science Club?

Several months ago, I had an idea for this column, but something happened and I laid it aside. Since then a number of important events have transpired—all having to do with the shooting off of rockets and satellites.

The latest to come to light reminded me of the item long forgotten—an Associated Press article describing the growth of science clubs all over the U. S., featuring the firing of rockets by teenagers.

What I had in mind is for everybody with an interest in science, youths and adults alike. Big Spring is an ideal place for a science club that could qualify as a chapter of the American Rocket Society. A local science club also could qualify for membership in similar organizations, such as the American Astronomical Society or the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

With the race for space supremacy being waged hot and heavy, one of the main items of a science club would be the firing of experimental rockets. Rockets cost money, but costs may be shaved in a number of ways, including work being done by members themselves and help from interested organizations. This city has both Webb and Cosden, and a rocket group, I feel sure, could expect co-operation from both. Webb, for example, might allow fabrication of rocket parts in his shops, and Cosden might provide the fuels.

As for membership, certain Webb and Cosden people would be naturals. And there are quite a few others in this community, young and old, with an interest in science.

Rocketry, however, would not be the only science in which Big Springers could participate, although it certainly would be the most spectacular. This part of the country is especially adapted, not only to rocket experimentation, but to several other avenues of research. Such as astronomy, this being our country; or astronomy and electronics, the sky being clear and unhampered both for telescopes and propagation of radio waves; or paleontology and archeology, the desert country abounding in artifacts of earlier peoples. It was just a few miles from here, you may recall, that the so-called Midland Man was discovered, the remains of a human being who lived in this country many thousands of years ago.

Some of the money to finance these various projects would have to come from members, and a lot of help could be expected from other local sources. But there is another avenue of financial aid in the form of research grants. Some chapters of the American Rocket Society, for example, were given projects of a non-secret nature and the money to carry out those projects.

Those interested in forming a science club may write to me in care of the Herald and if enough interest is shown we'll see what can be done.

Don't be bashful about those postcards. The world of the future is just around the corner, and it might be fun to feel it out a little.

Needed: Leadership In Washington

Once more my blood pressure is going through my chapeau every hour, on the hour, like Old Faithful.

This time the eruption can be traced to Vice President Richard M. Nixon and his fatuous advice to the nation following the failure of Kaptunik at Canaveral.

"Let's get away from our wailing walls and act like Americans," cried Nixon when he flushed a covey of reporters in a Capitol corridor. "We've got work to do. Let's get on with it like Americans."

Well, ain't that bully! I would surely love to get on with the work, too, if only the administration that Nixon represents would get up off its hunkers and give us, the American people, (1) leadership and (2) direction. The day the administration develops a sense of urgency and offers this country a program of action instead of inertia, I will guarantee that the American people will follow to the last ounce of its strength and the last measure of its resources and devotion.

Sure, there's a wailing wall in this country. But Nixon has misinterpreted its significance. Those walls the Vice President hears are not of despair over our military capacity to outproduce the Russians in scientific, military, educational or productive know-how.

In the 10 weeks since the first Sputnik was launched, what has Washington really done except make two or three glossy appointments and engineer the publicity fiasco that surrounded the Canaveral dud?

The heart of today's crisis is in education. For at least six years experts have repeatedly warned the government that Russia's schools were outproducing ours in the number of trained scientists. Nothing was done. And in the past 10 critical weeks, the administration has not made one move in the educational field except to file and forget one more official report urging an overhaul of our school system.

I'll wager I'm not the only American who is sick and tired of being lectured by self-serving politicians who have yet to formulate or offer John Q. Public one solid suggestion for improving the national situation. It is my experience in recent weeks that the individual citizen longs in this real crisis to make a genuine contribution to his country and that he is choked with frustration that his government asks nothing of him except taxes as usual.

There has never been a time when the American citizen wouldn't do anything asked of him in behalf of his country above and beyond the call of duty.

The Vice-President is right. There's a wailing wall from New York to San Francisco. But it is not crowded with cowards or sunshine patriots or quitters, but with honest citizens who are crying aloud for an administration alert to the present crisis, imbued with a sense of urgency and capable of formulating a program for action.

In the meantime, about the only thing the average citizen can do is pay his taxes and pray. And among the things he prays for is leadership from Washington and relief from political claptrap.

Missile Development And Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON — The outlines are already clear of what is likely to be the most important struggle in the coming session of Congress. Essentially it is whether the foreign economic aid program is to be junked so that the savings can go into speeding up the development of missiles and rockets.

When the new head of the International Cooperation Administration, James Hopkins Smith Jr., held forth to Congressional leaders at the White House the need for an expanded program, he was startled by the negative reaction he got.

"Soviet Russia is running around the end," Smith said at the Congressional briefing, "to carry out extensive economic and political subversion. It would be a fatal mistake to think that we could sit behind a Maginot Line of missiles, even if it were a perfect line, in view of widespread economic penetration by the Soviets."

In office only 60 days, Smith has made an intensive study of what this penetration means, particularly in the great uncommitted areas. He found that much of the information gathered by the Central Intelligence Agency is marked classified even though the facts are well known to practically everybody except the American people. The classified label is being taken off much of this material and a survey shortly will be made public showing the extraordinary extent of Russian aid and offers of aid.

The White House briefing was hardly over before conservative Senators—Stiles Bridges of New Hampshire, Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, Richard B. Russell of Georgia—were advocating that increased military costs be taken out of the aid program. This will be the line of the budget-balancers and the military-first group in Congress.

But Smith is prepared to meet the attack with a conviction and a determination almost wholly lacking in his predecessor, John B. Hollister.

As Assistant Secretary of the Navy for three years from 1953 to 1956, Smith had a lot to do with pushing the development of the Polaris, the Navy missile to be fired from submarine, so he is thoroughly aware of the need for a nuclear missile deterrent. But, as he stressed to the Congressional leaders, this will not be the answer to the Soviet economic and political offensive.

Smith's very real sense of urgency coincides with the views of several Congressmen just returned from an inspection of foreign aid programs in Southeast Asia and the Middle East. While they agree with Smith on the need to meet the Soviet competition, they are also convinced that American aid must be put on a basis that touches the lives of ordinary people in each country.

Too often, according to Representative Henry Reuss of Wisconsin, a member of the International Operations Subcommittee of the House Government Operations Committee that made the inspection tour, the money goes into military projects—big highways that satisfy the nationalist ambitions of the few at the top but produce no benefits for the peasant in the village.

The projects are dressed up in military guise as "defense support" while the Soviets offer hospitals, market roads, street lights and other gifts that bring immediate gains to ordinary people. American aid money has gone into remote dams that take years to complete.

Reuss and others on the inspection trip believe the emphasis can be switched and that with the amount of money being spent now, far greater gains can be realized.

But the aid fight is bound to be a rugged one. In the spending of large sums of money in great haste in countries where Oriental standards prevail, graft and scandal are bound to have occurred. This will be exploited to the fullest by those who want to kill all aid.

Yet that analogy of a Maginot Line—sitting in Fortress America behind a supposedly impregnable defense—should be disturbing to all who recall the fearful course of events in 1940. It is not too late to show America's lead in human freedom, the rights of the individual and the privileges of a free society demonstrated through a reasonable aid program for the benefit of the people themselves and not a few rulers.

Two hours later they and the baby were back aboard the chartered airliner, which brought a group of Hungarian refugees to the United States.

Uranium Man Sees No Competition With Oil Industry

DALLAS (AP)—A uranium expert says the petroleum industry faces no immediate threat of competition from nuclear energy. "Even with the advent of nuclear power; the oil and gas industry will remain a strong industry," said T. M. Hipp, Bartlesville, Okla., manager of uranium mining and milling projects for Phillips Petroleum Corp. Hipp yesterday told the Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Assn. ad valorem tax forum that it will be many years before nuclear power will become competitive with oil and gas in the United States. He predicted it would have faster development in oil-short nations. "England is such a country," he said. "England is well along on development of nuclear power, source." The tax representatives of the oil industry were advised to keep a close watch on local taxing authorities. Presidential assistant Howard Pyle told the group some federal functions and the taxing areas which finance them should be returned to the states. "There are many activities in Washington which could easily be transferred to the states—along with the taxing processes which support the activities." He named three phases of work now being transferred back to states—sewage disposal, vocational education and slum clearance.

Smaller Union Sets Corruption Drive

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A smaller but determined AFL-CIO, its guns aimed at liberal wage increases during 1958, turned to redoubling its efforts today to rid itself of crime, racketeering and corruption.

It had shown during its week-long convention a firmness to deal decisively with corruption—even if it meant expulsion of its largest affiliate—the 1,400,000-member Teamsters Union.

Ouster from the federation of the Teamsters and two other smaller unions charged with corruption apparently had restored some of the prestige organized labor lost by disclosures of the Senate Rackets Committee.

In a final act of its second constitutional convention which ended yesterday, the federation pledged to redouble its efforts to eliminate "all forces of crime, racketeering and corruption within the trade union movement."

TOO ONE SIDED

It felt, however, that too much emphasis had been placed on labor corruption by the Senate committee and called for equal efforts to smoke out any management malpractice.

AFL-CIO President George Meany, re-elected to his second two-year term as head of the federation, summed up labor's position on union corruption in this way:

"The important thing... is that we have demonstrated that we are reluctant to throw people out of the house of labor; that we only do it when there is no other way, and that we do it in the full knowledge that it presents dangers to us, but with the complete conviction that in the long run labor will be better off for what we have done here this week."

Meany then told the federation it must stick to its purpose of securing for labor its "fair share" of the national wealth.

"We still think that organizing the unorganized is the first and fundamental purpose of the trade union movement, that it is a prerequisite to doing anything to improve their (workers') position," he declared.

The convention had earlier called for an intensified organizing campaign and fixed substantial wage increases, a shorter work week and improved fringe benefits as its 1958 collective bargaining demands.

Meany said a high standard of living can be maintained only by a high level of purchasing power.

In addition to the Teamsters, the box score of ousted unions included the 132,000-member Bakery Workers Union and the 72,000-member Laundry Workers Union.

Given a clean bill of health after promising a complete cleanup was the 44,000-member United Textile Workers. The Distillery Workers Union was spared expulsion by promising compliance with clean-up orders. It remained on probation.

With the authority of the AFL-CIO Executive Council, Meany chartered a new bakery union within the federation.

The federation also turned its attention during its meeting to legislation and adopted a broad policy declaration pledging opposition to any proposal it thinks would weaken the labor movement and support to any measures it deems "necessary and appropriate."

An Eisenhower administration program aimed at smothering labor corruption got a generally cool reception. Meany said he had misgivings about many parts of the program which was outlined at the convention's opening by Secretary of Labor Mitchell.

In addition to Meany, 25 vice presidents and Secretary-Treasurer William F. Schnitzler were re-elected. New vice presidents are Peter T. Schoemann, Plumbers Union president, and Paul L. Phillips, Paper Makers president.

Oklahomans Fight Range Expansion

HOBART, Okla. (AP)—Organizing for a promised battle against what they term "needless confiscation of private property," 100 persons from a dozen southwest Oklahoma communities formed the Southwest Oklahoma Survival Assn. yesterday.

The group met here to crystallize its opposition to announced Army plans for expanding Ft. Sill to the north and west for guided missile test ranges.

Although the Army has set no specific boundary on the project, Mayor W. A. Trawick says Ft. Sill officials have told him it will include about 321,000 acres of land in Caddo, Comanche and Kiowa counties.

The association estimated that some 31,000 persons would be displaced by the expansion.

Uncle Ray:
Visitors See 'Living' Color In Blue Grotto

By RAMON COFFMAN
ISLE OF CAPRI—I reached this island, near the outer edge of the Bay of Naples, by taking an excursion boat from Naples. Approaching the shore in the early evening, I was charmed by the village of Capri which is near the outer edge of the Bay of Naples, nestled between two mountains. Hundreds of lights gleamed through the darkness.

Charm might be called the "middle name" of the Isle of Capri, which has an area of only five square miles. There is a sense of beauty here which one feels in the night or in the day.

This morning I took part in the greatest adventure which the island offers—a trip to the Blue Grotto. First I boarded a launch with a dozen others, and traveled a mile or so before a stop was made 20 or 30 yards from the entrance to the cave. Then I transferred to a rowboat. There were only four persons in the rowboat, counting the boatman.

We crouched low in the boat just before we entered. The opening was hardly three feet above the water surface, and there was danger of striking one's head.

After passing safely through the entrance, we found ourselves in a cave (or grotto) with a length of 175 feet and a width of 98 feet. It is from 20 to 39 feet high in various parts.

I have seen many a blue sea, many a blue sky, but never elsewhere have I beheld a living blue such as I saw in the Blue Grotto. This blue was seen when I looked back at the entrance, from a distance of 40 to 50 feet. Instead of glinting from the surface, the sunshine penetrated the gently-moving water to a depth of 15 or 20 inches.

A boatman said that the effect was due to reflection of the sunshine from underwater rocks. Whatever the cause, the light-filled, living blue was there, a sight I never shall forget.

Missile Test Center Gets New Camera

NORWALK, Conn. (AP)—A Norwalk-manufactured camera designed to track and time missiles in the early stages of their flight has been installed at Melbourne Beach, Fla., about 15 miles south of the U. S. Air Force's Cape Canaveral missile launching site.

Called a Mark II Recording Optical Tracking Instrument, it enables the Air Force to record the track of a missile moving into space and time it with greater accuracy than has heretofore been possible.

Manufactured by the Perkin-Elmer Corp. of Norwalk, ROTI consists of a 24-inch aperture primary objective telescope, sighting telescopes, camera controls and assorted equipment. Mounted on a Navy 5-inch gun mount especially adapted for the purpose, the whole assembly weighs more than eight tons.

For Long Looking

This is the Mark II Recording Optical Tracking Instrument, a telescopic camera with a 500-inch focal length used to photograph missiles in flight. With the lens only partially run out, its crew shot the picture below of an airliner cruising 10 miles away.

PROBERS ANGRY

Mobsters Get Contempt Threat

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Legislative probers threatened to slap contempt proceedings on bally mobsters if they refused today to tell what happened last month at a gathering of gangland's elite and their friends.

Big John Ormento, one of the 60 men at the national gangland meeting at tiny Apalachin, took the Fifth Amendment 12 times yesterday as the first to testify among two dozen delegates subpoenaed. Ormento, of Lido Beach, Long Island, was under warning not to repeat the performance as he prepared to return to the witness chair today.

Other delegates slated to follow Big John in the watchdog committee's public hearing were Joe Profaci, the "Olive Oil King" from Brooklyn; Joseph Falcone, Ulicia liquor dealer; and 21-year-old Joseph Barbara Jr. It was young Barbara's father who played host to the hoodlums when surprised state police flushed them from his spacious stone mansion west of Binghamton Nov. 14. The raid touched off more than a dozen investigations in assorted states into the reasons for the meeting.

NATO SCORED

Red Army On 'Constant Alert'

MOSCOW (AP)—A Soviet military newspaper announced today at the height of a new propaganda barrage to Western Europe—that the armed forces of the Soviet Union have been placed on a "constant alert."

While Moscow radio kept up 'round-the-clock pounding at the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance meeting in Paris as a threat to world peace, the armed forces and the Soviet home audience were told defensive measures were being taken by all members of the Communist camp.

Hour after hour, Moscow radio drummed out the terms of the anti-NATO notes the Kremlin sent all United Nations members yesterday, while denouncing the Atlantic Alliance as incompatible with U.N. principles.

The propaganda drive was at an intensity rivaled in recent times only by the nervous days of the crisis over the Middle East fighting a year ago. Foreign observers here said the drive is aimed at stimulating a will for neutralism in the Western camp.

The newspaper Soviet Aviation said the Red military is on the alert throughout Eastern Europe because of "a growing threat that American aggressive circles will unleash a new war."

"The Communist camp will continue to struggle for peace and the easing of international ten-

Amendment indicated few, if any, will now.

Ormento's performance also angered Committee Chairman William Horan.

"If the boys refuse to talk," the Republican assemblyman declared, "we might wait some of them right over to a judge."

Barbara, 51, who has suffered four heart attacks this year, the latest the day after the raid, was one of two delegates who asked to be excused from testifying because of illness. The other was John C. Montana, onetime Republican city councilman in Buffalo.

Stanton Hospital Closes Saturday

STANTON—This was to be the last day of operations for the Martin County Memorial Hospital—at least for a while.

County Judge Jim McCoy announced that the institution will be closed down Saturday due to lack of funds.

The action came on a unanimous vote of the Martin County Commissioners Court. Judge McCoy said the hospital can be re-opened only when sufficient revenue becomes available for financing.

Mrs. Rogan's Father Dies

Services were to be conducted today at 2 p.m. in Roby for L. W. Dickson, 74, father of Mrs. Roy Rogan of Big Spring.

Mr. Dickson died at 4 a.m. Thursday in Roby. Born Sept. 24, 1903 in Mississippi, he was married to Grace Bullard in DeLeon in 1905 and they moved to Fisher County in 1923.

Rites were to be conducted by the Rev. Fred Blake, pastor, of the Roby Baptist Church and burial was to be in the Roby Cemetery. Survivors other than his wife include two sons, Maj. Joseph L. Dickson, stationed by the Air Force in Tuscon, and Travis Dickson, San Angelo; and one daughter, Mrs. Rogan. He also leaves a sister, Mrs. C. L. Ferrell, Fort Worth, and two grandchildren.

Prisoner Returned To North Carolina

Officers from Raleigh, N. C., took custody of Herbert Pace, an escapee from the North Carolina prison, here last night and he is on his way back to prison to resume serving his sentence.

Pace has been held in the county jail for some time while officers completed preparations to return him to North Carolina.

"It would be well for the ruling circles of Denmark and Norway to give serious consideration to possible unfavorable consequences of friendship with the defeated 'world rulers' who now are dreaming of revenge," Soviet Fleet said.

Cotton Expert Wins Honors

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Claude L. Welch, head of the National Cotton Council's production and marketing division, has been named 1957 "Man of the Year in Service to Southern Agriculture" by Progressive Farmer magazine.

Cited for "outstanding service in the field of cotton production and marketing," Welch, as the 21st annual award winner, joins a group of some of the South's most outstanding farm and political leaders and scientists.

In announcing the 1957 Man of the Year award, Progressive Farmer recognized Welch for Council activities aimed at eradicating the pink bollworm, its efforts in cotton quality improvement programs, and various production conferences.

The pink bollworm program of expanded research and strengthened quarantine and control is saving the cotton industry an estimated $2½ million annually.

"Already, largely through Mr. Welch's efforts," the magazine said, "great strides have been made in improving the quality of cotton." Examples include the elimination of tar-bottomed pick-sacks and asphalt covered bale ties.

Other quality improvement measures undertaken with the guidance of the Cotton Council's production and marketing division pointed to by the magazine include spinning-ginning tests to determine the effect of ginning practices on cotton quality, ginning engineering graduate courses and scholarships, studies in fertilizer placement, and the seed breeding shortcut made possible by the research station at Iguala, Mexico, where a second crop generation can be produced each year.

Bolton Found Not Guilty Of Tickets Theft

A federal district court jury Thursday afternoon returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of Thomas Jerrell Bolton, 43, charged with having stolen railroad tickets here on Feb. 19.

The verdict was returned after Judge Joe E. Estes sent the jurors back for further deliberations when they said they were unable to agree.

Bolton testified that he was hazy about events of the day that the tickets were taken from a T&P train here. He said he and a drilling contractor, who had been visiting rigs, began drinking about 9 a.m. He said he remembered nothing about boarding a train for Big Spring until the next morning when Wilrena Richborg, Big Spring, told him a package had been found in his coat pocket.

"She said it's railroad business and you'd better get it back down there. I got so ashamed of myself I decided to give them to one of my friends rather than a stranger," Bolton said.

Unable to locate two friends who worked for the T&P, he said he left the package of tickets on a table in the Settles lobby. James T. Randell, Big Spring, former employe of the Settles Hotel, testified he found a pouch of tickets in the washroom of the Settles Hotel on Feb. 27.

Mrs. Hobby Denies Salk Deadline Set

HOUSTON (AP)—Mrs. Ovetta Culp Hobby, former Welfare secretary, said yesterday she set no deadline for a decision on licensing of makers of Salk vaccine for an advisory group of scientists who met in 1955.

Dr. Howard Shaughnessy, director of the Illinois State Health Laboratory, testified in an Oakland, Calif., damage suit that the advisory committee was given only 75 minutes to reach a decision.

Mrs. Hobby, president and editor of the Houston Post, said she "did not set any deadline, issue any directive or bring pressure of any kind to bear on the committee." The group met in Ann Arbor, Mich., April 12, 1955.

Shaughnessy testified in a $365,000 polo damage suit against the Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley. Melvin Belli, an attorney, contends two children, Ann Gottsdancker, 7, and James Phipps, 4, contracted polo after being vaccinated with Cutter vaccine.

Woman Dies After Husband's Illness

NEW YORK (AP)—A 60-year-old woman died of a heart attack last night, 10 minutes after she thought her husband had been fatally stricken.

Mrs. Morris Carlton Troper died at a dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel just after her husband collapsed from a stomach disorder.

"If he goes, we want to go together," she said. A few minutes later, she died.

Troper, 65, a retired U. S. Army brigadier general, was not immediately informed of his wife's death.

Paper Faces Boycott Threat

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—In a front-page editorial the Arkansas Gazette said today an anonymous segregationist group is threatening the newspaper's advertisers with a large-scale boycott.

Opponents of racial integration have attacked the Gazette often because of its editorial position in the Little Rock school integration controversy.

The newspaper, Arkansas' largest daily, also has been sharply criticized by Gov. Orval Faubus on numerous occasions. Faubus once charged that the Gazette had a plan to send a psychiatrist to his news conference because he said it questioned his sanity.

Negro Leader Dies In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—Emmett Scott, 84, Negro leader whose career covered many fields, died yesterday.

Following his graduation from Wiley College in his native Texas, he founded the Texas Freeman, a weekly newspaper which he edited for several years.

In 1898, he became secretary to Booker T. Washington, founder of Tuskegee Institute, and in 1913 became secretary of the institute. Scott was named assistant secretary of war during World War I, charged with looking after the welfare of Negro members of the armed forces.

Burglars Make Liquor Haul

Burglars carted away a large quantity of whisky and vodka and took $29.45 in half dollars and quarters in a raid sometime last night on a liquor store in the 1100 block on the Lamesa Highway. The store was owned by Simon Terrazas who discovered the break-in early today.

He reported it to the office of Miller Harris, sheriff, and deputy Jack Shaffer has been assigned to the case.

Two cases of vodka in half pint bottles was stolen. Forty pints of assorted whisky and a number of fifths of whisky were also taken.

Entrance was gained by breaking a glass in a door on the south side of the building. This provided admittance to the living quarters on the premises. A second door into the store proper was forced and the loot carried out by the same route.

Paving Plans Are Complete

Specifications for paving the downtown area have been completed and will be dispatched to bidders early next week.

City Engineer Clifton Bellamy said the plans were completed Thursday and were in the process of being published today. They will be bound and then sent to bidders the first part of next week.

The City Commission has already authorized sending out plans, so no time will be lost in getting it okay.

Plans call for the city to remove the existing surface and to repair the base. Then the contractor will have only to lay the hot mix. The area from Scurry to Johnson and from 1st to 4th will be topped.

Charges Of Car Theft Are Filed

Gerrit Vanlaar Jr., accused of the theft of a 1957 Dodge owned by F. D. Curry, 204 Wright, has been arrested in Deming, N. M.

Sheriff Miller Harris was advised today. It was understood that federal authorities are investigating the case and may file charges against Vanlaar.

Meantime, officers here are prepared to take custody of the man if he is obtainable.

Charges of car theft have been filed against him by Gil Jones, district attorney, in the court of Walter Grice, justice of the peace.

3 Accidents Occur In City Thursday

Police officers reported three accidents in Big Spring Thursday. At 3rd and Lancaster, Richard Dodson, 811 W. 3rd, and Artie Williams, 1112 N. Scurry were in collision.

The vehicle owned by Williams was parked, officers said. Floyd Brock, 1212 E. 19th, and Lillian Corder, 1306 Nolan, collided at 13th and Johnson.

A. E. McQuistan, 508 NW 11th, and Lois Blalack, 602 State, were involved in an accident at N. 12th and the Snyder highway.

Released On Bond

Richard M. Dodson, charged with DWI, has been released from the Howard County jail on $1,000 bond. He was placed in jail Thursday.

JUNIOR HIGH NEWS

Choir Working On Yule Music

The choir directed by Mrs. Forest Gambill, is at work every morning for the Christmas assembly. The choir regularly gives performances for such special assemblies.

Under the direction of Mrs. Bobby Robbins, the band won a second division rating in the G. BRIDEN marching contest in Andrews. Lillian Burnett, Kathleen Soldan and Dean Terrazas received first division in the twirling contest, while Cherie Sabato, Carolin Cross and Pam Forbes all won second division. On Saturday the band will attend the band clinic in Lubbock.

What will your next 65 years be like? Dr. Willis Sutton, superintendent emeritus of the Atlanta Ga. schools, challenged junior high students as assembly Wednesday.

He pointed out that students must study hard if America is to keep ahead of Russia. For the sake of our nation, students cannot afford the luxury of wasting time, he said.

Dr. Sutton said that by their 10th year in school, Russian young people are studying work of the same level as a sophomore in American colleges.

On Tuesday, Dr. R. A. Melville presented an assembly program on chemistry and on glass.

Our Freshman of the Week, Jerry Dunlap, served as representative on the Student Council while in the eighth grade. This year he serves as treasurer of the council. He was president of his seventh grade classroom, and in both the seventh and eighth grades he was parliamentarian in the H-Y, and he is also serving as treasurer. He has played football and he attends the First Baptist Church.

JERRY DUNLAP

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Whatley and children left Friday morning for Merkel to attend the services at 3:30 p.m. Friday for his grandmother, Mrs. Mattie Passmore Ash, 91.

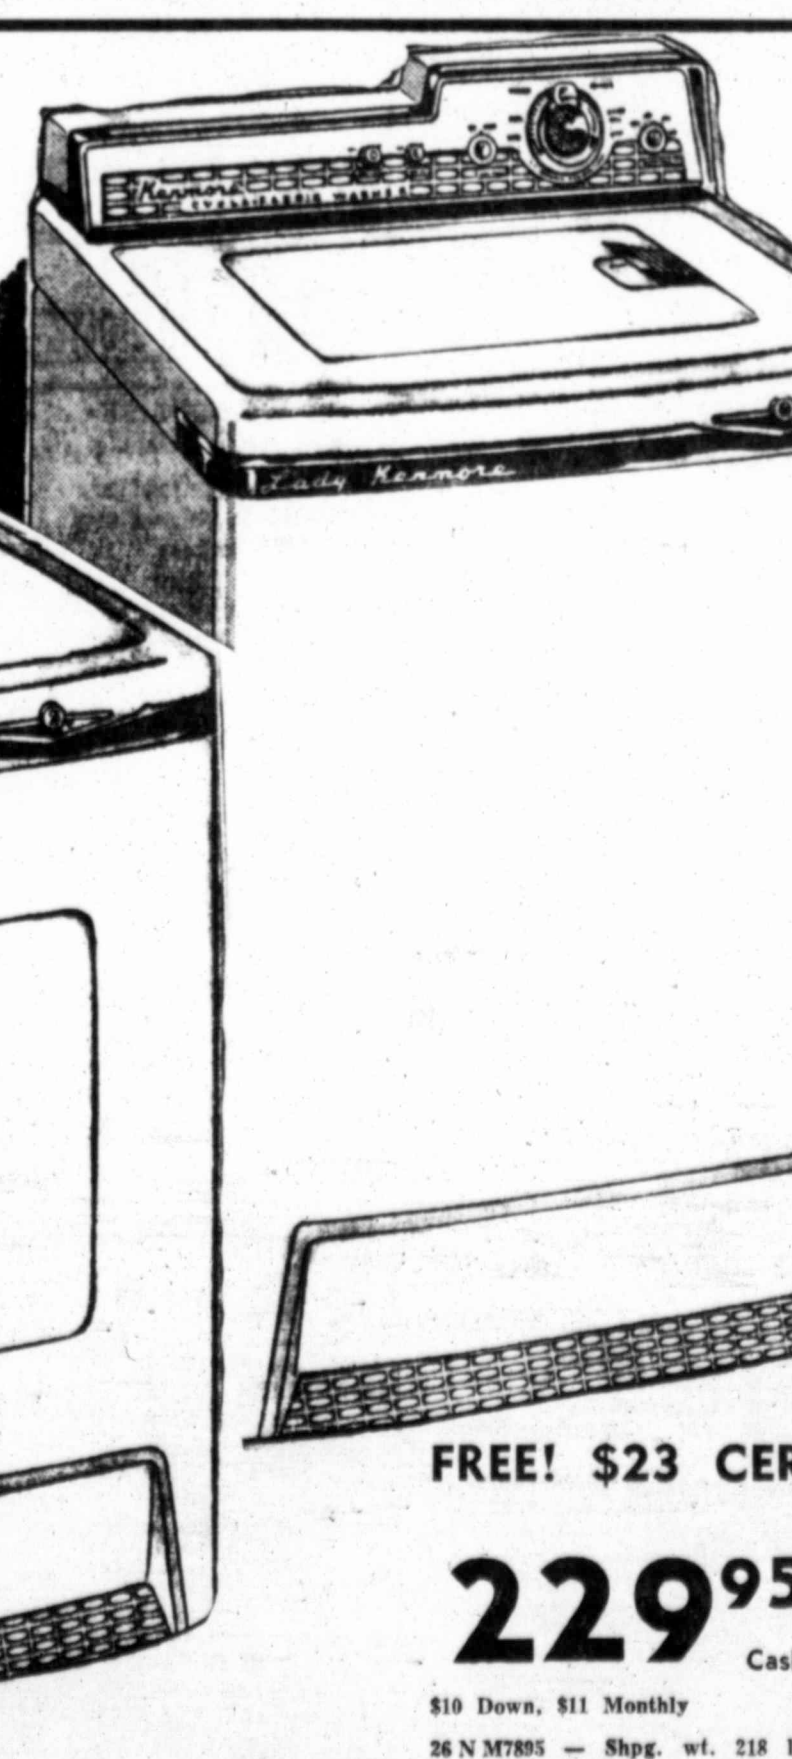

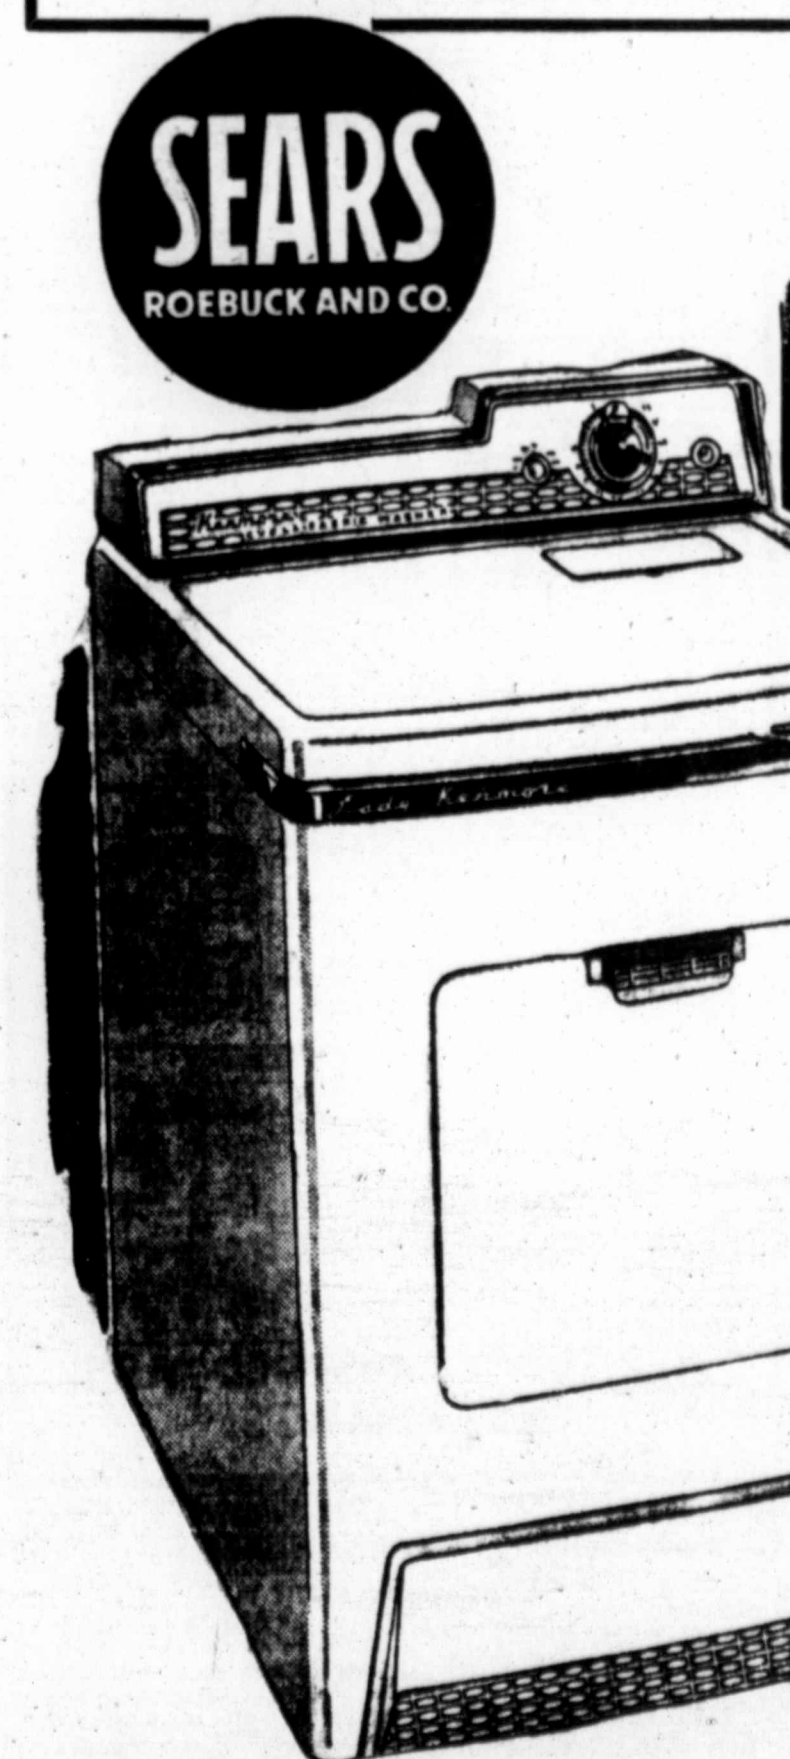

Mrs. Ash, a resident of Merkel since 1897, died Thursday. She was to be buried beside the grave of her husband who died in 1939. Rites were to be conducted by her minister, Bob Cross of the Church of Christ, assisted by the Rev. C. G. Drexell, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Grandmother Of Tom Whatley Dies

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Whatley and children left Friday morning for Merkel to attend the services at 3:30 p.m. Friday for his grandmother, Mrs. Mattie Passmore Ash, 91.

Mrs. Ash, a resident of Merkel since 1897, died Thursday. She was to be buried beside the grave of her husband who died in 1939. Rites were to be conducted by her minister, Bob Cross of the Church of Christ, assisted by the Rev. C. G. Drexell, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Mansfield Urges Top-Level Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) proposed today that President Eisenhower consider exploratory negotiations with Russia at the ambassadorial level before rejecting Premier Bulganin's call for new East-West talks.
But Mansfield, assistant Democratic leader of the Senate and a member of its Foreign Relations Committee, said there should be no meeting of the two heads of state unless both the American ambassador to Moscow and the Soviet ambassador here agree it might be fruitful.
He said he had in mind preliminary negotiations by American Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson and Georgi N. Zarubin, the Soviet ambassador here.
ADLAI ASKS ANSWER
Mansfield outlined his views after Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic presidential candidate in 1952 and 1956, called on the President to give Bulganin's new letter a reply which is "affirmative in spirit."
The Bulganin letter, a 15-page document, was delivered here earlier in the week. Similar messages have gone to heads of America's allies in Europe.
In his letter to Eisenhower, Bulganin called anew for top level East-West talks to outlaw war and for ending nuclear bomb tests on terms which have not been acceptable to the West in the past.

While saying it still is under "most careful study," State Department press officer Lincoln White said "anyone reading the letter can see" it is intended to undermine the NATO summit conference opening next Monday in Paris.
Writing to French Premier Felix Gaillard, Bulganin urged France to try to influence other NATO members to consider the Russian proposals. He also said the NATO meeting was called to speed war preparations. In his message to British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, Bulganin said countries that allow American bombers to be based on their soil are running grave risks.
Mansfield said Moscow's announcement last night that it is sending notes to all members of the United Nations warning that "the danger of nuclear war has greatly increased" points up the undesirability of rushing into a summit conference.
Moscow said, "Action must be taken at once to prevent a war and improve relations between countries."
The Montana senator said, "the problem is to determine, on the ambassadorial level, whether there is any possibility that Russia would agree to any worthwhile action, or continue to talk peace while it threatens war."

Scientists Urge Trip To Moon

NEW YORK (AP) — A United States expedition to the moon is one of the objectives of an all-out national effort to pioneer in outer space proposed by 27 of the nation's top scientists in rocket and satellite research.
The scientists said human progress and national welfare made it imperative the United States carry out scientific exploration and eventual habitation of outer space.

They said the present state of rocket technology will inevitably lead to attempts to explore outer space by manned expeditions. They asked for an expenditure of 10 billion dollars over the next decade for the program.
The scientists, known as the Rocket and Satellite Research Panel, suggested the creation of a governmental body to be called "The National Space Establishment."
The proposal already has been discussed by Dr. James R. Killian Jr., special assistant on science and technology to President Eisenhower, one scientist indicated.

Scientists on the panel include Dr. Wernher von Braun, former German rocket expert, now director of development operations for the Army ballistic missile agency, Huntsville, Ala.; Dr. Joseph Kaplan, chairman of the U.S. Committee for the International Geophysical Year; and Dr. William H. Pickering, director of the jet propulsion laboratory of California Institute of Technology.

14 BSHS Musicians To Attend Tech Band Clinic

LUBBOCK, (SC)—Fourteen Big Spring High School musicians were among some 400 attending a band clinic at Texas Tech today and Saturday. Students from 36 high schools were expected to register.

The 15th annual clinic opened at 9 a. m., and during the day, bandsmen were to form four demonstration bands and play music to be used in the Interscholastic League contests next spring. Visiting band directors were to pick the musicians for the four bands.

Slated Saturday are tryouts-for regional representatives for the '57-58 All-State Band which will play at the Texas Music Educators Assn., convention at Galveston in February.

Big Spring Band Director Douglas Wiehe brought the following bandsmen to the clinic: Vincent Friedewald, Mary Jane Engstrom, and Mike Jarrett, clarinet; Allen Glasser, Don Cannon, Charles Dunagan, Larry Latson, and Jimmy Simmons, cornet.

Also Al Speary and Billy Roger, trombone; Sandra Tally, tenor saxophone; Bob Breckenridge, alto saxophone; Ronny Burnam, baritone, and Paul Petterson, sousaphone.

Science To Control Football Crush

DALLAS (AP)—Dallas police will call on high level techniques tomorrow to try to control the traffic problem at the Abilene-Highland Park football game in the Cotton Bowl.

Traffic Chief Charles Batchelor said a patrolman will be stationed with a walkie-talkie radio atop the Cotton Bowl pressbox. He will observe the flow of traffic into the Fair Grounds and radio instructions to other units assigned to parking areas.

TU Professor New President Of History Unit

AUSTIN — Dr. Walter Prescott Webb, noted University of Texas historian, will become president of the American Historical Association when the organization meets Dec. 29-30 in New York City.

Dr. Webb has served as AHA vice president this year. He was president of the Mississippi Valley Historical Association in 1955.

He has taught continuously in the University's history department since 1918, except for a year at the University of London as Harbison Lecturer (1938) and a year at Oxford University as Harmsworth Professor of American History (1942-43).

He received the Loubat Prize in 1932 for his best-known book, "The Great Plains," and the Carr P. Collins Award in 1953 for "The Great Frontier."

Dr. Webb received a conservation award from the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation, for his efforts toward providing more water for Texas, and a John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Foundation fellowship grant for studies in the history of the American West, 1865-1950.

Dr. Webb is known internationally for his "frontier" theory of modern world history. He explained it in Paris in 1950 before the International Congress of Historians. His books, in addition to the two mentioned above, include "The Texas Rangers." He was editor-in-chief of the mammoth "Handbook of Texas," published in 1952 by the Texas State Historical Assn. Dr. Webb served several years as director of the association and editor of its Southwest Historical Quarterly.

Openings On State Patrol Announced

Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, announced today that applications will be accepted until mid-January from young men interested in becoming state policemen.

Approximately 150 men between 21 and 35 years of age will be selected for training as patrolmen in examinations to be given Jan. 13, 14 and 15 in various cities throughout Texas. Those qualifying will begin their training April 1.

Garrison said the deadline for filing application is Jan. 10 and that classroom instructions will extend for more than 20 weeks, followed by on-the-job training in the field. All student patrolmen receive $300 per month during the first phase of the training period; their salaries are automatically increased during field training.

Young men interested in the positions must have been a resident of Texas one year prior to making application, have a high school education, be between 68 and 76 inches in height and weigh not less than two pounds or more than three pounds per inch of height. They also must be in good physical condition and of good moral character.

The patrolman positions to be filled are in four functions of the Texas DPS—Highway Patrol, License and Weight, Driver License and Motor Vehicle Inspection. Under the new organization plan recently installed by the department, all patrolmen will receive the same basic training to allow them greater promotional opportunities.

New Automatic Laundry

Here as some of the Maytag automatic washers in the new College Automatic Laundry, in east Big Spring. The 1958 machines are coin operated and will be available from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily. The Laundry also is equipped with Muzak, a music reproduction system that will be in constant operation.

College Automatic Laundry Is Going Into Operation Today

After a test run of a week, the College Automatic Laundry, located at Fourth and Birdwell, officially opens its doors today to the public at large.

The new establishment, said he had made a definite endeavor to provide Big Spring with the most modern automatic laundry possible.

Washers, each capable of handling a 9-pound washing load, have been installed. Four Huebsch gas heated driers—most modern of drying equipment—are in place. Each drier is competent to handle two washer loads of clothing.

Nabors said that he has had the plant under full operation for more than a week, testing out each machine and completing all minor installations and additions. The laundry is now ready for the public and Nabors cordially urges all residents of that part of town and the town at large to come to the plant and see it.

The laundry will be open daily from 6 to 10 p. m. It is a coin operated plant and needs little or no attendance. Change machines for the convenience of patrons are provided.

One unusual feature of the new Automatic Laundry is that it is wired for Muzak—the most modern and effective of automatic music reproduction. Soft music plays constantly while the patrons make use of the facilities.

The location has an extensive paved and lighted parking area for convenience of its customers. A central air conditioning-heating unit is installed to insure complete comfort at all times.

Nabors cordially urges residents of the city to visit this new establishment and inspect its many unusual features.

FOR KIDS, PATIENTS

Kiwanians Slate Two Yule Parties

Kiwanians reviewed plans for two Christmas parties in which they will play a part on Dec. 19 at their regular meeting on Thursday.

First of these parties will be the annual celebration for children living in the vicinity of West Side Park at noon next Thursday.

Each Kiwanis member is providing presents for two children and the boys and girls will be guests of the club at a luncheon to be served in the community building at the park.

Wives of Kiwanians are to prepare the sandwiches for the lunch. Santa Claus will be on hand to properly distribute the gifts. A list of the youngsters in the neighborhood who are to be remembered has been compiled and each Kiwanian has purchased gifts for two children.

The second Christmas party will be in the cafeteria at Big Spring State Hospital on Thursday night. The club has assumed responsibility of bringing Christmas to all patients in one ward of the hospital. All preparations for this party have been completed.

The club was entertained by Grade 3-B of the Coahoma schools at its luncheon yesterday. The youngsters presented a minstrel show under the direction of Mrs. Frankie Fortune, teacher.

8 Men Die In Jet Crash At Spokane

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Eight men, including the wing commander, died in the spectacular crash of a giant B52 bomber just at sunset yesterday. The tail gunner miraculously escaped.

The plane, loaded with jet fuel for its eight engines, was struggling for altitude on takeoff. Then the nose seemed to go straight up, the bomber tipped over on its right wing and crashed to earth.

Exploding jet fuel sent up a towering mushroom-shaped column of smoke.

The Strategic Air Command has said that some of its heavy bombers carry nuclear weapons on training missions but that there is no chance they could explode in a crash. The Air Force declined to say if an atom bomb was aboard the B52.

Col. Clarence A. Neely, 42, Sioux City, Iowa, and Rockford, Ill., commander of the 92nd Bomb Wing at Spokane's Fairchild Air Force Base, was one of the victims.

The sole survivor, Sgt. Gene I. Graye, Augusta, Kan., said he didn't know how he escaped but was "lucky to be alive."

"I was scared as hell and I'm still a little shaky," he said in a hospital room interview. He was treated for minor cuts and bruises.

A member of the crash crew said the plane appeared to be making a routine takeoff.

"Then the nose seemed to go straight up and the plane tipped over on the right wing and came straight down," he said. "It blew up."

Bandits Terrorize Tuscola Family

TUSCOLA, Tex. (AP)—Three bandits broke into a farm home near this West Central Texas town last night, taking about $700 from the owner and leaving the family and their guests locked in the basement.

A 1950 auto found abandoned and without gasoline a short time later was believed used in their getaway.

Eugene Graham told police the gunmen robbed him of cash, checks and securities. He said the cash represented the proceeds of a wheat seed sale.

The thugs herded all four persons into the Graham basement. Graham said they were armed with a sawed off shotgun and two revolvers.

Johnny Dio Found Guilty Of Extortion

NEW YORK (AP)—A General Sessions Court jury found racketeer John (Johnny Dio) Dioguardi guilty of extortion and conspiracy early today after deliberating 2 hours and 45 minutes.

Judge John A. Mullen set Jan. 8 for sentencing. The suave, 43-year-old Dio, considered a kingpin in the New York underworld, faces a maximum sentence of 31 years.

Johnny McNamara, president of Teamsters Local 295, also was found guilty of the same charge. He and Dio were accused of conspiring to commit extortion by shaking down two stationery firms for $4,700 in 1956.

Dio had escaped conviction last spring in the acid-blinding of labor columnist Victor Riesel. But he was sentenced to two years imprisonment in September for extorting money from an employer in return for labor peace.

The government had charged in the Dio-McNamara trial, which started Oct. 9, that the Tower-Crossman Corp. and the Atlas Stationery Corp. were forced to pay the defendants to avert unlawful picket lines and other obstructions to their business.

The long trial had gone to a jury of 10 men and two women last night after a day of summation by Asst. Dist. Atty. Alvin Goldstein. Neither McNamara nor Dio ever took the stand.

The government had charged Tower-Crossman and Atlas had signed an agreement with the Equitable Research Associates Corp., which Dio heads, in Janu-

Schoolman Doubts Court Will Uphold Integration Ruling

DALLAS (AP)—School Supt. W. T. White says he will be surprised if the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans sustains a lower court order for desegregation of Dallas schools.

White said desegregation would be a "disastrous educational procedure."

School attorneys have asked the New Orleans court to instruct Federal Judge William Atwell to withdraw his order setting integration for mid-term, Jan. 27.

A key point in their arguments is a contention that Judge Atwell went beyond the higher court's mandate by setting a definite time limit for beginning integration. In rejecting several appeals, the New Orleans court ordered integration to proceed "with all deliberate speed," but did not state a definite date.

Firemen Poke Into Ashes Of Hotel

GREENVILLE (AP)—Firemen today poked in the charred ruins of a small hotel gutted by fire following an explosion shortly before midnight Wednesday.

The fire claimed one life. Five persons were hospitalized and others were treated for minor injuries.

Dead was Joshua Carter, 72, Celeste, Tex.

Census To Drop Religious Question

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Census Bureau won't ask for your religious affiliation in the 1960 census.

A bureau spokesman said considerable pressure has come from individuals and groups with various arguments for dropping the controversial question. Some saw it as a threat to freedom of religion, the spokesman said.

Sew Christmas In A Pocket For Young Miss's Year-Round Frock

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor
Sewing skill pays off during the Christmas season, when fancy stitches and bright colors can add festive touches to practical gifts and garments.

A bright idea for the little girl in the family is a dress with interchangeable Christmas pockets. The dress itself is a beguiling classic made in white pique with red corded trim on yoke and collar. For Christmas, the bright red or green pique pockets, decorated with seasonal motifs, are simply strung on the belt. Later the dress is perfect for parties the year 'round.

Here's how to make the pockets, making full use of the decorative stitching talents of your sewing machine, whether it's the new automatic slant-needle type, or a standard machine using an automatic zigzag attachment.

To make two round pockets four inches in diameter, cut six circles of red or green fabric, leaving an inch seam allowance. Use two thicknesses for the back of each pocket; for the fronts cut off the top of the circle to make a piece slightly bigger than a half circle, and line this section with organdy.

Trace a design, such as holly transfer to a piece of white pique. Cut out design, leaving inch margin all around, position on pocket front section and stitch, using contrasting thread and satin stitch.

For holly berries, use red thread and ball stitch. Trim away excess fabric close to line of stitching. Lay pockets together and mark stitching line.

Using narrow satin stitch, work around outline of pocket. This will stitch the sections together. Trim away excess fabric close to stitching line, and attach loop to back of pocket to slide over belt of dress.

To make a round pocket that looks like a Christmas tree ornament, proceed in the same way. Make a band of white pique and decorate with bands of fancy stitching in contrasting colors. Finish the same way as the holly pockets.

A Christmas tree pocket is made with two Christmas tree sections

Pocketful Of Christmas

Interchangeable pockets to slip on a belt can make a seasonal dress of white pique party dress. The young model wears two pockets in the shape of Christmas tree ornaments and holds one fashioned like a tiny tree. Other motifs can change the dress for Easter, Fourth of July and other special occasions.

For the back of the pocket and a third tree backed with organdy for the pocket front—all cut out of green pique. Slice off the top of the front pocket section tree. Use narrow satin stitch to applique diamonds of white pique and trim each diamond with a contrasting diamond stitch in the center. Join and finish pocket sections in the same way.

This same technique may be used for other season pockets, to keep the party dress up to date, such as a red firecracker pocket for the Fourth of July, and Easter Egg pocket for Easter, and a birthday cake pocket for the birthday party.

Santa Visits Party For Sports Clubs

Santa Claus distributed gifts at the party of the Indoor and Good Sports Thursday evening at the Girl Scout Hut.

The group gathered at the party bringing gifts for the patients at the state hospital and clothing to be donated to the fashion shop at the hospital.

Mike Jarratt played a piano solo, "The Holy City." Valjean LaCroix, accompanied by Mrs. Nell Frazier, sang "Sweet Little Jesus Boy" and "O, Holy Night."

Claudia Arrick read the story of "A Texas Santa Claus." Christmas carols were sung by the group with Mrs. Charlie Boland at the piano.

Eighteen were present for the party.

Bill Golmons Host Party at Center Point

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Golmon entertained member of the Center Point school board and school personnel and their families Wednesday night with a smorgasbord at the school. Afterward the 32 guests retired to the Golmon home for visiting. A Christmas tree and candles were the decorations.

FHA Girls Give Cards To Patients

About 200 Christmas cards were delivered to patients at the state hospital Thursday morning. Girls in the high school chapters of Future Homemakers of America furnished the cards and the stamps for mailing them to the friends and families of the patients.

Working under the supervision of the two homemaking instructors, Edna McGregor and Mrs. Douglas Boren, the girls carry this activity as an annual state project.

An additional service the girls are participating in is the mending of used clothing, which is to be distributed to needy families.

XYZ Auxiliary Feted With Dinner Party

Mrs. J. D. Jones and Mrs. Merrill Creighton entertained the XYZ Auxiliary to the ABC Club with a Christmas dinner party Thursday night at the Wagon Wheel.

Places were marked with holly leaves and berries. Gold foliage and reindeer combined with red Christmas balls and candles for the centerpiece.

Mrs. W. B. Younger gave the devotion. Gifts were exchanged, and Mrs. Ray Shaw was presented with the door prize.

TEL Class, Baptist Temple, Has Social

Mrs. Garland Sanders was hostess to the TEL Class of Baptist Temple Thursday night for a Christmas social. Following the devotion by Mrs. Madeline Wyatt, gifts were exchanged from a tree of white net.

The nine members present were joined by three guests, Mrs. Monroe Gafford, Mrs. Charles Peay and Mrs. Bea Riddle.

Mrs. Dick Bigsby and Mrs. Joe Eudy will be cohostesses for the Jan. 16 social at 7:30 p.m. in the Eudy home, 1315 Mulberry.

Elaborate Decorations Used For DOEs' Party

The home of Mrs. S. V. Jordan, lavishly decorated in the Christmas theme, was the setting for the annual Yule party of the BPO Does Thursday evening. Mrs. Jordan was assisted by Mrs. L. D. Jenkins, Mrs. W. R. Rogers, and Mrs. Elton Gilliland.

At the entrance, a miniature manger scene was arranged. Containers of floating candles were placed throughout the entertainment rooms.

A floor-length cloth of red linen covered the table in the dining area. An arrangement of gold and red dried materials in a gold basket was flanked with tapers in gold candelabra. Here, coffee was served, poured from a silver service and served with dainties.

In the breakfast nook, egg nog was served from a bowl that centered the white table. Central arrangement here was a snowman and snow-banked mistletoe. Overhead a large cluster of the mistletoe was fastened with a huge red bow.

Mrs. Forrester Elected Head Of Safety Council

Mrs. J. W. Forrester was elected president of the Ladies Safety Council at a meeting in the Settles Hotel Thursday afternoon.

Chosen to serve with her was Mrs. J. A. Wright as vice president. Mrs. L. A. Webb was made secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Robert Fallon, advisor. Mrs. H. M. Doan was elected corresponding secretary.

The group will donate $15 to the Christmas Cheer Fund, it was announced. An attendance count showed that the reds are leading the greens. At the end of the contest, the winners will be entertained by the losing side.

The 44 attending sang Christmas carols, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. R. D. Ulrey and led by Mrs. F. W. Bettle.

Gifts were exchanged, and guests were presented Christmas corsages as favors. Hostesses were Mrs. J. P. Meador, Mrs. Albert Smith and Mrs. E. O. Hicks. Mrs. Fallon was awarded the special prize.

On a red cloth, a base of angel hair, holly and Christmas balls held a container of green water. In the bottom of the large glass bowl stood Santa Claus, while magic moth balls danced around him.

Serving on the hospitality committee were Mrs. J. D. Hestes, Mrs. C. Percy, Mrs. B. E. Neal, Mrs. J. E. Shipp, Mrs. C. L. Richardson, Mrs. Doan, Mrs. Fallon, Mrs. Webb and Mrs. Forrester.

Altrusans Presented With Gifts

An apron marked each place at the Christmas luncheon of the Altrusa Club Thursday at the Howard House; it was a gift for each member from the president, Mrs. J. B. Apple.

Members were seated at tables decorated with a small Christmas tree with vari-colored balls.

Arah Phillips was initiated into the club with a ceremony read by Mrs. W. U. O'Neal, who lighted white candles in an arrangement of white carnations in a blue container. Mrs. O'Neal was assisted by Mrs. M. J. Stratton and Mrs. Loyd Wooten, who presented the new member with a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. R. L. Penny read a meditation for Christmas. The group will supply bags of goodies for the party to be given for the Cheerio Circle for the Blind, it was decided.

Members were reminded of the party at the home of Mrs. A. C. Bass, 106 Washington, this evening at 7:30.

Luncheon, Dinner Are Given For Baptist Classes

Dr. P. D. O'Brien presented the devotion for the Berta Beckett Class at the First Baptist Church when the group met Monday for a covered dish luncheon.

Dr. O'Brien's subject was "The Deep Meaning of Christmas," and his reference was Luke 2: Central theme of the devotion was that children should be taught early the real Christmas story.

For the brief business session which followed, Mrs. G. J. Couch presided. In addition to the eight members present, Dr. and Mrs. O'Brien and Mrs. Theo Andrews attended as guests.

B&PW Club Party

LAMESA—Mrs. Irene McDaniel was the hostess for a Christmas party for members of the Business and Professional Women's Club, Tuesday evening. An exchange of gifts was conducted with decorations carrying out the seasonal theme. Coffee and cake were served to 12 members.

Young Ventriloquist Entertains For Desk, Derrick Club Thursday

A young ventriloquist from Midland was the highlight of the Desk and Derrick Christmas party Thursday evening at Cosden Country Club.

Joining with his "friend," Albert, Bob Pool entertained the group with a line of chatter. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bob Pool of Midland. Mrs. Pool is the former Elouise Kuykendall, daughter of Mrs. Jewel Kuykendall, 306 East 5th. Mrs. B. L. LeFever reviewed Van Dyke's "Story of the Other Wise Man." Gifts were presented to both entertainers.

Election of officers was held with Mrs. A. G. Eitzen being chosen president; Mrs. Ed Black, vice president, and Mrs. Leon Kinney, recording secretary. Selected as corresponding secretary was Mrs. Marguerite Smith; Mrs. Earl Wilson was elected treasurer.

Installation was announced for Jan. 6; it will be a dinner meeting, and tentative plans call for the director of Region Five, Jo Landusky of Hobbs, N. M., to be installing officer.

Food and clothing were brought to make baskets for two underprivileged families; following the program, movies of the 1956 Christmas party were shown.

Gifts were exchanged from a Christmas "tree" formed of a derrick with lights, Christmas balls, plastic snowflakes and silvered maize heads.

In charge of arrangements for the party were Mrs. Eitzen, Mrs. Eugene Deaver, Mrs. Dee Thomson.

Refreshments were served with Mrs. Eitzen presiding.

Dr. P. D. O'Brien, First Baptist pastor, spoke on "The First Christmas." Group singing of carols was led by Mrs. B. P. Huchton. The group heard Mrs. W. A. Cobb and W. C. Blankenship report on the state convention recently held in Galveston.

Mrs. M. D. Whitley won the room count. Refreshments were served to 75.

Mrs. Hill Hostess For SS Yule Party

Mrs. Reuben Hill was hostess for the social of the Gleaners Sunday School Class of East Fourth Baptist Church Thursday evening. She also gave the devotion and read a story, "A String of Blue Beads."

Mrs. Jess Blair reviewed "Let's Keep Christmas" by Peter Marshall. Refreshments were served to eight.

Mrs. Shaw Has Her Children As Guests

KNOTT—Sgt. and Mrs. Robert Kirby will spend the holidays with her mother, Mrs. W. S. Shaw and other relatives here. Sgt. Kirby has been stationed in Greenland and his family lived in Big Spring during his absence. When he leaves to assume his duties in the state of Washington, Mrs. Kirby and their family will accompany him.

Mrs. J. W. Marsh of Floydada is a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Ditto. Other guests have been Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Autry of Hobbs, N. M.

Party Given For Class At Lakeview

The special class at Lakeview School was entertained with a Christmas party Thursday afternoon at the school by the members of the Belle Dement Circle and Arts Club.

On display were articles made by the children and showing the remarkable progress made under the instruction of Mrs. Gladys Penny.

Mrs. Penny showed a movie of "The Christmas Story," for which she served as commentator. Refreshments were served from a table covered in a Santa-printed cloth and holding an arrangement of poinsettias, holly and pine cones. In the center of the flowers stood Rudolph, the red-nosed reindeer.

Games were played by the group and a guest, Richard Hurst.

Five Local Churches To Present Special Christmas Music Sunday

Five Big Spring churches will present special programs of Christmas music Sunday.

Saint-Saens' famed "Christmas Oratorio" will be presented at 5:30 p.m. by the combined choirs of First Methodist Church and Howard County Junior College.

The presentation will be in the First Methodist sanctuary with Ira Schantz conducting the combined choir.

Schantz, choral director at HCJC, also will participate in a program of Christmas music at the First Presbyterian Church at the evening worship hour. Other vocalists to be featured there are Mrs. Don Newsom, Mrs. Norman Furlong and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wagner.

St. Paul Presbyterian Church will present Handel's "Messiah" at 3:30 p.m. Sunday in the HCJC auditorium. The String Symphonette from Odessa, directed by James Gambino, will accompany the church choir, which is directed by Mrs. Jack Ware.

A program of Christmas music will be given at 8 p.m. by Baptist Temple Church under direction of Joe Dunn. Vocalists to be featured are Mrs. Bennie Porter, Mrs. Curtis Reynolds and Jimmie Bennett.

At First Baptist Church, Cheryl, Carol and Church Choirs will give a program of Scripture and song entitled, "Presenting: The Story of Christ, Our Saviour, Our Hope." Wayne Nance will be director and he and Mrs. Pat Hiney will be the featured vocalists.

Baptist

Dr. W. A. Hunt will be guest speaker at the morning service of the Phillips Memorial Church when he appears in the interest of the Gideons. In the evening, the pastor of the church, the Rev. D. R. Philleary, will preach on the subject, "The Hope of the Christian." The Rev. H. L. Bingham will deliver a sermon on "No Time to Sleep" Sunday morning at Hillcrest Baptist Church. His subject for the evening service will be "What Will Happen When the World Is No More?"

The Rev. A. R. Posey will deliver the sermon "Deception" at the morning service of Baptist Temple. At 8 p.m. the choirs of the church will present a program of Christmas music under the direction of Joe Dunn. Mrs. H. M. Jarrett, pianist, and Virginia Cain, organist, will be accompanists. Mrs. Bennie Porter, Mrs. Curtis Reynolds, and Jimmie Bennett will be soloists.

Dr. P. D. O'Brien's message to the First Baptist congregation at morning worship will be "Three Things Which Make Life Complete," with text from Gen. 26:25. A duet, "I Surrender All," will be sung by Wayne Nance and Mrs. Pat Hiney. At the evening service Wayne Nance will direct the church, Cheryl and Cheryl Choirs in a program of scripture and music entitled "Presenting: The Story of Christ, Our Saviour, Our Hope."

At morning worship, the Rev. H. W. Bartlett will preach to the College Baptist congregation on "Helping the Word Travel," based on Matt. 28:18-20. In the evening, his sermon topic will be "The Holy Spirit Enlightens," Acts 10:34-43.

Catholic

God's Way of Salvation," based on Micah 6:6-8 will be the Rev. W. A. James' message to Airport Baptist Church at the morning service. His sermon title for the evening will be "How to Know Christ Better," Phil. 3:10.

Sermon title announced by the Rev. R. B. Murray for the morning service at Northside Baptist Church is "Why the Son of God Became Man." His subject for the evening worship has not been announced.

Methodist

Dr. Jordan Grooms has announced his morning sermon topic as "God's Mysterious Ways." Special music will be a solo, "Good Will to Men" by Mrs. Norman Furlong, soprano. There will be no evening worship service, but at 5:30 p.m. at the church the First Methodist Choir will be joined by Howard County Junior College Choir for the presentation of Saint-Saens' "Christmas Oratorio." Ira Schantz will direct the choir, with Mrs. Champ Rainwater at the organ and Jack Hendrix at the piano.

The Rev. Wayne Parmenter will preach on "They Went Home Another Way" at the morning service at Wesley Methodist Church. In the evening, Richard Shields will direct the choir in the cantata, "The Music of Christmas" by Ira B. Wilson, Frank Arner will be pianist and Mike Jarratt, organist.

Presbyterian

For the morning worship service at First Presbyterian Church, Dr. R. Gage Lloyd's sermon topic will be "Beholding the Glory," from John 1:14. Mrs. James Hill will present a solo. In the evening there will be a program of Christmas music. Ira Schantz will offer the tenor solo, "Gesu Bambino," and will join Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wagner and Mrs. Don Newsom for "The Cradle Song of the Shepherds" and "Shepherds Awake." Mrs. Norman Furlong will sing "Shepherds Awake." Mrs. Norlong will sing "The Angel Song."

The Rev. Jack Ware will speak to the St. Paul Presbyterian Church on "The Miracle of Christmas" at the morning worship hour. The choir will sing a selection from Handel's "Messiah." There will be no evening service, but at 3:30 p.m. at the HCJC Auditorium, the choir from St. Paul Church will sing the Christmas portion of Handel's "Messiah" under the direction of Mrs. Jack Ware. The String Symphonette of Odessa, directed by James Gambino, will accompany.

U. N. Approves U. S. Aid Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. General Assembly's Economic Committee last night approved a U. S. plan for expanding U. N. technical assistance to lay the groundwork for economic growth of underdeveloped nations.

The committee voted 63-0 with eight abstentions for the 100-million dollar plan after the United States opposed a broader proposal to create a "SUNFED" agency—the Special U. N. Fund for Economic developments. Various groups in the United States had assailed the SUNFED proposal.

Poorer nations have long urged creation of SUNFED to provide 150-250 million dollars a year for loans and grants for such nonpaying projects as roads and schools. The United States considered the idea unrealistic.

The resources that countries are now prepared to make available would be totally inadequate to establish a fund of sufficient size to do the job intended for it," Rep. Walter J. Judd (R-Minn.), a member of this year's U. S. delegation to the U. N. Assembly, told the committee.

The United States proposed instead that 100 million dollars be spent annually to finance industrial and agricultural training institutes, surveys of resources and other special projects that would foster further economic development of recipient countries.

Judd promised to urge the U. S. Congress to supply 40 million of the total.

Other U. N. members would be asked to contribute the rest.

The committee adopted a resolution saying it "looks forward to the establishment" of the fund Judd suggested by Jan. 1, 1959.

PAUL ENTREATS THE PHILIPPIANS TO REJOICE IN THE LORD

Scripture—Philippians 4.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

IN OUR troubled modern world, the fourth chapter of Paul's epistle to the Philippians, which is our lesson today, teaches us how to win strength of mind and peace through faith in God and Jesus Christ.

In Jesus' time the then-known world was troubled too. The Romans ruled the Hebrews with an iron hand and with the utmost cruelty under Herod. There was no political freedom, and the people were afraid and filled with hatred and desire for revenge.

Yet Jesus speaks of rejoicing in John 14:28; 15:11; 16:20-22; 17:13, when the darkest hours of His life on earth are upon Him.

Paul, in a Roman prison, could also speak of joy and contentment. He writes, "Rejoice in the Lord alway; and again I say, Rejoice."

Then he urges the church at Philippi to "Be careful for nothing; but in every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be known unto God. And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Jesus Christ."—Philippians 4:6-7.

In verse three he entreats the Philippians to help the women which labored with me in the Gospel." These two sisters in the Lord, named Euodia and Syntyche, were the two referred to, according to C. H. Welch, who says that "women were held in higher esteem in this part of the world than elsewhere, not only in Philippi, but at Thessalonica and Berea. Women of rank were numbered among those that believed."

Paul then asks his Philippian friends to consider these things: " whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure; whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things."

strengthened by Christ to gain that same tranquility of spirit.

Dr. Wilbur M. Smith suggests that the younger classes might begin this lesson on joy by being asked what is the difference in the appearance of people who stand outside of church after Sunday school or church service, and those seen after a sports event, like baseball or football. The latter may be full of joy if the side they favor wins, and they would be excited, but after a church service they might exhibit that joy and serenity that Paul writes about.

There are homes of the rich in which there is no real happiness and harmony; and homes of those who have little of this world's goods, but are often full of joy, peace and happiness. Let us so live, no matter what our circumstances, that we may be full of joy and create happiness in our homes and in a world that needs it so much.

THE WINDOW

There is a store that is displaying this scene of Christ's birth in all its beautiful simplicity. People walk by the window and stop and look—and when they go on again the tired lines seem to be erased from their faces. For the moment, they have forgotten the "hustle and bustle" of holiday preparations. Instead, the peace of Christmas drifts over them like the softly falling snow.

Look at those beautifully carved figures and at that tiny babe. Makes you realize, doesn't it, that Christmas after all, is the birthday of our Lord, and should be celebrated first of all where most birthdays are celebrated—at home. In this case, that means the Church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

SW Group In Conclave

DALLAS (AP)—The faculty committee of the Southwest Conference opens its winter meeting this afternoon with little on the agenda. However, this doesn't necessarily indicate there will be little business.

Athletic directors and football coaches met yesterday and passed recommendations of small note on to the faculty committee. All coaches, business managers of athletics and the athletic directors meet today to try to figure out a few more.

Probably the only item that could produce fireworks and some news of interest is that which deals with "rumors of rules violations." No member of the conference is in hot water over recruiting at this time but returns from the investigation of last spring's recruiting have not yet come in.

Every athlete of any prominence is given an A, especially those about whom there are rumors of possible rules infractions.

No indications are seen that the question of expansion will be considered. This had been taken up at virtually every meeting of the past five years until last spring. Last winter the conference decided no new members would be considered until Texas Tech, which was voted into the league in 1956, had gone through a period of adjustment.

The football coaches and athletic directors recommended these things: That coaches be permitted to contact boys at all-star games when those boys had signed letters of intent to the coach's school, that freshman football continue to start training the first day of classes instead of before school opens and that five games per season be maintained (some had thought it should be cut to three) at the discretion of the individual schools (there was some sentiment for placing a limit on the number in order to cut expenses).

The letter of intent also was dis-

Borger Bombs Ranger, 90-53

ABILENE (SC)—Frank Phillips Junior College of Borger bombed Ranger, 90-53, in the first round of the junior college division of the McMurry Invitational basketball tournament here Thursday evening.

Frank Phillips meets Decatur in the second round at 8 o'clock this evening.

David Bennetfield and Carroll Willingham each scored 15 points in Phillips' round of Ranger. Three other Plainsmen hit in double figures.

Decatur Baptist College moved into the second round by tipping Odessa JC, 63-57.

Heisman Award Winner

John Crow, Texas A&M halfback, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crow of Springhill, La., hold Heisman Memorial Trophy awarded to Crow as the outstanding college football player of 1957 at a dinner in the Downtown Athletic Club in New York. Crow was the No. 1 regular draft choice of the Chicago Cardinals.

8 All-Americans Named To Senior Bowl Squads

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Eight members of the Associated Press All America squad—headed by line-men Alex Karras of Iowa and Dan Currie of Michigan State were named today to the North team for the ninth annual Senior Bowl football game Jan. 11.

First team All Americans on the North squad are 233-pound tackle Karras, chosen for a defensive guard position; and Currie, a 225-pounder named top center in the Big Ten.

Backs Walt Kowalczyk of Michigan State and Bob Stransky of Colorado and ends Fred Dugan of Dayton and Les Walters of Penn State are from the All America second team. End Jim Gibbons of Iowa and tackle Jim McCusker of Pittsburgh are from the third team.

Coach Joe Kuharich of the Washington Redskins, who will direct the North for the second time, will have his No. 1 draft pick, back Mike Sommer of George Washington.

The roster of the South team, which will be directed by Coach Paul Brown of the Cleveland Browns, will be announced in a few days.

The North squad: Ends — Fred Dugan, Dayton; Jim Gibbons, Iowa; Rod Hanson, Illinois; Dick Lasse, Syracuse; and Les Walters, Penn State.

Tackles—Don Luzzie, Villanova; Jim McCusker, Pittsburgh; James Orwig, Michigan; and Frank Youso, Minnesota.

Guards — Charles Howley and Joe Niecey, both of West Virginia; Alex Karras, Iowa; and Jerry Kraemer, Idaho.

Centers — Charles Brueckman, Pittsburgh; Bobby Cox, Minnesota; Jim Ninowski, Michigan State; and Jim Van Pelt, Michigan.

Quarterbacks—Bobby Cox, Minnesota; and Jim Van Pelt, Michigan.

Halfbacks — Walt Kowalczyk, Michigan State; Mike Sommer, George Washington; Bob Stransky, Colorado; and Jim Shanley, Oregon.

Fullbacks — Ray Nitschke, Illinois; and Larry Krutko, West Virginia.

Dr. Pepper Gains Point On Fireball

Dr. Pepper gained a point on Fireball Muller in Commercial bowling league competition last weekend but the pace-setting Fireball team still leads by 11 points.

Dr. Pepper shut out Phillips 66, 4-0; while Fireball was getting by Bell Telephone, 3-1. In the evening's other match, Sinclair won over R. M. Minton, 3-1.

Sinclair achieved the high individual game with a 934 and Dr. Pepper the high series with 2733.

L. Modrejewski was the outstanding individual scorer, with 238-666.

Pimlico Race Track Closes Early, Perhaps For Good

BALTIMORE (AP)—Faced with a frozen track, reluctant trainers and balky jockeys, Pimlico closed out its 1957 racing season yesterday five days early. It is within the realm of possibility that Old Hilltop closed its gates for good.

About 1,000 fans, including a hardy 89 from New York were in the stands when Executive Director Lou Pondfield announced an hour before post time that the day's card was canceled. He was forced to the decision by the jockeys, who voted in a jockey room meeting not to ride.

Pondfield got in touch with D. Eldred Rinehart, chairman of the Maryland Racing Commission, and asked that the remaining five days of the 29-day meeting be dropped for this year. The commission approved.

The tour agency which hauled the 80 New York fans to Baltimore agreed to refund their money.

While the track appeared to be in excellent condition, the top layer—or cushion—consisted of frozen mud clods while the bottom, because of its frozen condition, had no resiliency.

The mud clods frightened the jockeys and the unyielding bottom upset the horses. By 11:10 a.m. the field for the feature race had been scratched to three or four horses, Steward Wilmer Brinton said.

It is possible that Pimlico will not be operating at its present stand in 1958. A bill will be considered by the 1958 Legislature which would permit Pimlico to hold its 40 days of racing at Laurel, after closing down Old Hilltop.

HARTACK WINS THE BIG ONES

By FRANK ECK
Associated Press Sports Editor

The athlete of the year probably will come from the ranks of baseball or boxing, with names like Lew Burdette, who won three World Series games for Milwaukee, or Carmen Basilio, who lifted the middleweight title from Ray Robinson, figuring prominently.

But somewhere along the line some mention should be made of a 107-pound dynamo named Willie Hartack, a lad who was too small for high school athletics.

Hartack, who has led the nation's jockeys the past three years, proved he had the stuff of champions on a recent day at Jamaica.

It was cold and snowing outside, but in the jockeys' room it was 85 degrees. On a bench in the corner, Hartack awaited his race in misery, alternately beset by stomach cramps and fits of coughing.

The 25-year-old rider (he was born Dec. 9, 1932) had flown up from his Miami Springs, Fla., home just to ride two races. One of them was in the featured Idlewild Handicap with the 3-year-old colt Promised Land who had never beaten older horses.

"I've got to win this race," Hartack said at the end of a coughing spell. "If I win it will be my last race of the year."

The devil with the horses. A win will put me over three million dollars for the year. Will second do it? It won't! Then I've got to win before I catch pneumonia. It's no fun out there riding in nothing but silks."

Hartack reached his goal the hard way. And in the running of the race he had to put to work all the maneuvering he had learned in five years of racing. Coming into the stretch he was fourth, then fifth when Ismael (Milo) Valenzuela passed him.

Valenzuela looked like the winner aboard Eddie Schmidt. But as the latter pair passed Hartack, Bill shot Promised Land toward the inside and passed between the second and third horses from the rail. He won the race and a $40,000 gross purse for Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs. It was a five-horse blanket finish decided by the camera even though Promised Land won going away by a neck. Eddie Schmidt finished fifth.

In the jockey's room after the race, Valenzuela spoke up.

"I have the best horse," said the popular rider born of Mexican parents in Texas. "I had him (Hartack) blocked and he win the race. I move too fast."

Hartack dressed and had left before the next race.

In some respects Hartack is

Bobcats Shelled By Tiger Quint

SNYDER (SC)—Snyder mowed down the San Angelo Bobcats in basketball here Thursday night, 52-40.

Snyder now has won three while losing only one. The Tigers' lone loss was to San Angelo. The Cats are 3-3 for the season.

Bill Phillips led Snyder in scoring with 16 points while Leon Reed had 15. Al Dodson was high for San Angelo with 12.

Snyder led at half time, 26-12.

Rebels Favorites In Li'l Rose Bowl

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—The 12th annual Junior Rose Bowl football game comes off tomorrow and Arlington College of Texas is expected to make it two victories in succession in Pasadena's famed bowl.

The Rebels, unbeaten in 11 games this season, take on little Cerritos College of nearby Norwalk. Last year Arlington came west a distinct underdog to Compton, Calif., Junior College and bumped off the Californians, 20-13.

Merger Of Leagues Unlikely: Mexicans

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexican League officials take a dim view of the possibility that some of their teams may join the Texas League.

Restrictions and regulations, particularly those relating to Negro players, were said to be "too stringent." One official said the league decided a merger appeared "almost impossible" at this time.

reminiscent of the barnstorming baseball days of Babe Ruth. He would just about make it to the park, many times with a pickup team of semi-pros. He'd hit a few balls in practice and say "let's get the game started." Satchel Paige was another. In exhibitions he would get to the park late, toss about six pitches on the sideline and say "I'm ready."

Storm Strikes School, Kills 11

PALERMO, Sicily (AP) — A terrific windstorm smashed a two-story schoolhouse today in nearby Altofonte, trapping 30 children of kindergarten age.

Soldiers, firemen and volunteers dug out 11 dead, including Sister Giuseppina Giordano, 42, headmistress of the convent school. Eleven children were injured, four seriously. The children ranged from 3 to 8 years of age.

Five other teaching sisters and the remainder of the children escaped unhurt.

The storm struck with 75-mile winds at 9:30 a.m., the tile and wood roof broke through to the first story of the building and crashed on children at play. Residents for blocks around heard the crash. Some thought it was an earthquake. Others reported it was a landslide.

The school is part of the convent of the Salesian Sisters and joins the convent on one side. Soldiers of an artillery regiment stationed nearby were the first to the scene and took charge of rescue work.

Striking N.Y. Motormen Offer Formula For Ending Walkout

NEW YORK (AP)—Striking subway motormen, amid indications that their walkout was beginning to crumble, have offered a formula for ending a work stoppage now in its fifth day.

Some 1,000 members of the independent Motormen's Benevolent Assn. decided at a Brooklyn meeting last night to submit a six-point proposal to Mayor Robert F. Wagner designed to bring about a conference and a strike settlement.

The mayor's office said Wagner would have a statement sometime today on the formula, sent to him by telegram.

The motormen, while showing solidarity and cheering their leaders at the membership session, were confronted with the fact that subway service was the best since the strike started last Monday.

The Transit Authority reported that 203 more motormen were at work than on Tuesday and that over-all service on the subways was back to 81 1/2 per cent of normal. The evening rush hour went off without a hitch, with the hectic congestion missing.

In enumerating the proposals to end the walkout, MBA Atty. Louis Waldman said the union "is not presenting this formula on a take-it-or-leave-it basis. However, we are available to sit down and discuss the terms with the mayor."

Later, Waldman told newsmen the formula would provide a springboard from which "to negotiate for less than we originally struck for."

The strike stemmed from a dispute between the MBA and the AFL-CIO Transport Workers Union, which represents subway workers in collective bargaining. The MBA and TWU long have been at swords point over union representation.

The City Transit Authority, an independent agency which runs the subways, has said it would under no circumstances negotiate with the MBA over its demands for bargaining powers.

NO REPRISAL

The MBA proposals call for all strikers to go back to work without reprisals; for both MBA and TA officials to join to get four jailed leaders freed; for all major and minor unions to be represented on a bargaining committee; for individual processing of union membership grievances; a new determination of union membership strength; and cancellation of a meeting, reserved formal comment pending action by Mayor Wagner.

The authority claims more and more union motormen are returning to work. Other sources have said the increased subway service stems from employment of

Conant Studies School Program

HOUSTON (AP)—Dr. James Bryant Conant, former U.S. ambassador to West Germany, visited Austin High School today to study its classroom "self-contained" program.

The program mixes college preparatory courses with vocational courses for students planning not to attend college. Conant made the inspection for the Carnegie Foundation.

Trustees Named To Retirement Board

AUSTIN (AP)—Three trustees have been appointed for the teacher retirement system.

Selections yesterday by Gov. Price Daniel were Lois Gray, Fort Worth school teacher; Supt. Knox Kinard of Pampa, and James Wheat of Houston.

Daniel also selected Judge Jack Langdon of the 17th District Court in Fort Worth to succeed Judge Floyd Jones of Breckenridge, resigned, for the 8th Administrative District.
