Dave Beck Convicted On Larceny Charge

SEATTLE, Dec. 14 (AP) — Dave Beck, millionaire president of the Teamsters, was convicted today of stealing $1,900 from the sale of a union-owned Cadillac. He was charged with grand larceny. The Superior Court jury of seven men and five housewives rendered the verdict 20 hours and 29 minutes after receiving the case yesterday afternoon. They spent about nine hours in actual deliberations. The decision, reached after the jurors slept on the question overnight, upheld the state's contention of the 63-year-old retiring Teamsters' chief knowingly kept the proceeds from the sale of the high priced four-door sedan. The state based its case on the uncontroverted fact that the $1,900 had been deposited in the account of the Beck-owned B & B Investment Co., and bank records showed there had been no withdrawals from that amount. Beck himself acknowledged that the car had been for his personal use, that he authorized its sale and knew the money had gone into the B & B account. But he said the transaction was handled by his secretary during his absence from the city and he had nothing to do with it. His attorney, Charles S. Burdell, told the jury during his impassioned closing argument that Beck had donated the $1,900 for political campaign purposes on behalf of the Western Conference of Teamsters, the owner of the Cadillac. This was never brought out in direct testimony, however. Burdell explained he skirted this phase of the case to avoid putting Beck in the position of having to "finger" any political friend by naming names. Beck, who has been at liberty on $3,000 bail, brushed past newsmen as he left the courtroom. "Mr. Beck, do you think you received a fair trial?" one asked. "No comment—not a word," Beck retorted. "You could ask me a thousand questions and I wouldn't answer." Superior Court Judge George H. Revelle left the bench without saying when Beck would be sentenced. He could be given a prison term up to 15 years. Beck's conviction followed by 12 days that of his son, Dave Jr., on two counts of grand larceny. The younger Beck had been charged with pocketing $4,650 from the sale of two other union-owned Cadillacs. Notice already has been given that the younger Beck's conviction will be appealed. An appeal motion for a mistrial in Beck Sr.'s case was almost a foregone conclusion. The state ridiculed this explanation, saying the entire transaction over the car had been cloaked with intrigue and that "the money went into Beck's bank account and never came out."

Von Braun Urges U. S. Build Manned Satellite

Also Proposes A 'Space Agency'

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (AP) — Rocket expert Wernher von Braun today proposed that the United States embark on a 10-year project for a manned space station, in the race with Russia for a foothold in the firmament. He said it could be handled by a national space agency with a spending budget of about 1 1/2 billion dollars a year over at least 10 years. The German-born space scientist, who is now working for this country, agreed with Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris that Pentagon rocket tape has hampered and delayed America's missile-satellite program while the Russians aim for "control of outer space." Testifying before the Senate Preparedness subcommittee, Von Braun suggested that the 10-year program include a five-year project to "have a man orbiting the earth on a returnable basis." He said space stations could be used for reconnaissance, bombing, and for jamming radar fences thrown up against intercontinental ballistic missiles (ICBMs). Among their more peaceful uses he cited long-range weather forecasting and control and high speed mail delivery, handled through tape recording devices. Six satellites picking up and transmitting messages as they orbited the earth "could put all of the post offices in the world out of business," he said. Von Braun said there is no doubt the Russians have developed the ICBM to a point where they can send atomic or hydrogen warheads anywhere on earth. "This is not a question of argument but of figuring it out with a slide rule," he said. "That is correct, sir," the witness replied. At one point Von Braun said: "The termites got into the system." Medaris spoke of "profound psychological" handicaps imposed by Defense Department decision making. Medaris said a start on the Army's Jupiter, a 1,500-mile intermediate range ballistic missile (IRBM) was delayed at least a year by lack of funds in the Defense Department. Even after it got started, late in 1955, Medaris kept it going on schedule in the face of Pentagon impediments. Von Braun said the Jupiter program was "seriously impeded" by a system of advisory committees in the Pentagon, on which secretaries depend before making decisions. These advisory committees of scientists are a good thing while a project is being kicked around in the early stages, Von Braun said, but once a decision to go ahead has been reached "the interference should stop." Medaris supported a proposal of Lt. Gen. James Gavin for a reorganization of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, but he opposed the creation of any single new agency for controlling satellite, missile and related developments. Despite what he called the psychological handicaps imposed by the Defense Department, Medaris said development of the Army's entry in the Intermediate Range Ballistic Missile (IRBM) field, the Jupiter, is not only on schedule but ahead of schedule. He said the psychological handicap developed from uncertainty over whether the Jupiter would be replaced by the Air Force's Thor, also a 1,500-mile range missile. "We were sort of in the position of the patient who had been given a death sentence by the doctor and just refused to die," he said.

5 MILLION UNEMPLOYED Severe Business Recession Forecast By C-C Researcher

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (AP) — A business recession "at least as severe as in 1949 and 1954," with unemployment possibly topping five million, was forecast today by the research director of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. Dr. Emerson P. Schmidt, basing his appraisal partly on a survey of trade associations, suggested the recovery may come "before 1959 closes," but that demands for tax relief may come earlier. Spokesmen for 14 industries who participated with Schmidt in a business outlook symposium here were divided but in general reflected somewhat greater optimism. More than half believed their own industries would wind up next year with better sales showings than in prosperous 1957 — though with declining profits in many cases and tougher competition in all cases. Slight uptrends were foreseen for auto sales, homebuilding, electronics, chemicals, department store and food sales, commercial airlines and consumer credit. Downtrends, at least in the next six months, were predicted for most household appliances and consumer durables, furniture and home furnishings, railroads and foreign trade. The basic steel industry was seen as lagging in the first half of the year but ending 1958 just about even with 1957. Harry A. Bullis, board chairman of General Mills, Inc., and chairman of the U.S. Chamber's economic policy committee, suggested that if the decline becomes "really serious," a tax cut should be considered by Congress in the spring. Bullis suggested, however, that the government's missile, anti-missile, rocketry and space experimentation programs "may cost many more billions than anyone now imagines." Schmidt also predicted that if a serious business contraction continues, "a demand for a tax cut might be generated."

Decorated Maj. Gen. Chester E. Drew of the U.S. Air Force at Los Angeles after Drew established a new world air speed record. Maj. Drew's mark of 1,297.6 miles per hour broke the record of 1,132 m.p.h. held by a British research plane. Drew flew a Voodoo jet fighter.

Tech Asks Speedup In Graduate Science

LUBBOCK, Dec. 14 (AP) — Texas Tech directors asked the Texas Commissioner of Higher Education today for permission to step up graduate research beginning with science and engineering at Tech. The board also said that the proposed graduate program would be expanded in other educational areas. Today's presentation supplements a previous report which the board had asked on the role and scope of Tech. The board said the evaluation and approval of its plan rests with the commission. The board asks permission for Tech to secure funds "under approved conditions from any and all reputable outside sources—private, industrial and governmental." The funds would be used to hire new faculty members, for research and equipment, future buildings, for higher salaries to meet competition of industry, to form a cadre of research personnel, and to enable staff members to attend meetings of scholars and to hold such meetings at Tech. The directors said Tech would seek further to strengthen its relations with civic groups such as the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and other schools. The board said its "obligations will increase as the graduate program grows." "Athletically the college has received recognition and to the average Texan the college has a good reputation," it added.

Russians Could Crush Capitol Dome

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) the subcommittee chairman, said the Russians' success with Sputnik II indicated they could "put a hydrogen bomb on top of the capitol dome." Von Braun said there was a question of accuracy. Johnson said this country has consistently underestimated Russian capability and again asked Von Braun to speculate about Soviet ability to "put a hydrogen warhead on the city of Washington." Von Braun then conceded this was possible. He said the Russians now have rocket and missile engines "many times more powerful" than those of the United States and are at work on even more powerful designs. He said this is because the Soviets regard future control of outer space much the same as England, Spain and other maritime powers regarded control of the seas a few centuries back. Sen. Symington (D-Mo) asked Von Braun if it is correct that people have been told there has been a big speedup of missiles but actually there has been none because of lack of funds. "That is correct, sir," the witness replied. At one point Von Braun said: "The termites got into the system." Medaris spoke of "profound psychological" handicaps imposed by Defense Department decision making. Medaris said a start on the Army's Jupiter, a 1,500-mile intermediate range ballistic missile (IRBM) was delayed at least a year by lack of funds in the Defense Department. Even after it got started, late in 1955, Medaris kept it going on schedule in the face of Pentagon impediments. Probers Find AF Clampdown On 'Moon' Talk

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (AP) — House investigators have uncovered a pre-Sputnik Air Force order clamping down on talk about space flight projects, especially anything that might be considered an effort to "fly to the moon." The directive said news stories about space projects caused "unfavorable reaction" at the Pentagon and in Congress, which controls the purse string. Apparently the fear was that Congress might consider such ideas visionary if not crackpot. The order was issued July 29, a little over two months before Russia launched its first Sputnik Oct. 2. A spokesman for the Government Information subcommittee headed by Rep. Moss (D-Calif.) said today he knew of no cancellation of the order. In practice, it now seems lost in the rush to catch up with Russia in the satellite art and beat her to the moon. Only yesterday William M. Holdaway, the Defense Department's missile boss, suggested the Air Force had tried to "grab the limelight" by setting up an Astronautics Directorate for space weapons research ahead of the department's new agency in the same field. The Air Force rescinded its action. The committee, which has challenged what it calls excessive government secrecy, is expected to contend that no-talk orders on new developments actually retard needed congressional and public support for such projects.

4 Odessans Killed In Flash Fire

ODESSA, Tex., Dec. 14 (AP) — A flash fire raced through a stucco apartment here today, killing four persons and injuring six others. Eleven trapped residents were rescued by firemen and many others jumped from windows. Mrs. Edna Corder, 45, and Judy Seals, 4, died in the blaze. Danna Wells, 11-months, and Connie Keye Deason, 14, died later at a hospital. In critical condition was Loyce Corder, 16, daughter of the dead woman. In serious condition was Mrs. Mildred Seals, 42, believed to be the mother of the dead child. Susie Seals, 8, Joyce Corder Wells, mother of the dead infant, Betty Corder, 14, and an unidentified man were treated for burns and cuts and released. The two-story apartment, The Eastover, was gutted. The landlady, Holly Couch, said she was next door when a man told her she smelled smoke. Her apartment was an inferno when she opened the door. The alarm was turned in at 10:11 a.m. (CST). The fire started next to a stairway which soon was blocked by flames. Some of those who were trapped couldn't reach the only other exit.

C-C Banquet Speaker Named

Frank Streetman, humorist and Seminole, Okla., grocer known as "The Mayor of Sasakwa," will be the speaker for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet Jan. 21. Streetman's appearance here was arranged by a speaker committee made up of M. M. Miller and Bill Hensley. The banquet will be staged at the Cosden Country Club. Officers for 1958 will be formally installed, although new officers and directors will take over their duties Jan. 6, at the first board meeting of the new year. Plans for the annual membership gathering are to be completed at 10 a.m. Tuesday by a banquet committee which includes Miller, Hensley, Clark Zack, D. M. McKinney and Doug Orme. Officers for next year will be chosen at noon Monday when new and retiring directors meet jointly to consider nominations.

West Texas Skies Clear

By The Associated Press Skies were clear in West Texas and partly cloudy to cloudy elsewhere across the state Saturday. A light afternoon drizzle at Galveston was the only precipitation reported. Fog that blanketed large areas of North Central and South Central Texas in the morning cleared away. Maximum temperatures Saturday ranged from 81 degrees at Alice and Kingsville to 69 at Childress. Other highs included Corpus Christi 80, Brownsville 78, Amarillo, San Antonio and Waco 71, Lufkin 69, El Paso 66 and Abilene 61. Rainfall for the 24 hour period ending at 6:30 p.m. Saturday included Brownsville 40, Galveston 28 and Lufkin .02.

Bangle Day Pays Off For TB Fund

Bangle Day brought in $112.97 for the Howard County Tuberculosis Association Saturday, thanks to six young ladies and the people who bought the tiny red crosses. Conducting the sale downtown were Janie Griffin, Raellen Bilbert, Beth Ennis, Betty Meek, Linda Lewis and Maxine Roberts.

Bracero Bus Hits Culvert

Joel Stillman Jr. of Sebastian knocked the front wheels off from under his 1957 Ford bracero bus early Saturday when the vehicle struck a culvert on FM 33 9.9 miles south of Big Spring. Stillman told Highway Patrol officers he fell asleep while driving toward Big Spring from Edinburg. He was en route to this area to pick up a load of farm workers for their return to Mexico. The driver was the only person in the bus and he was not injured. The bus is owned by a transport firm in Edinburg. The mishap occurred about 6 a.m. Saturday.

Ike Arrives For NATO Conference

PARIS, Dec. 14 (AP) — President Eisenhower arrived today with a call to NATO nations to work together or lose their freedom to Red dictatorship in this perilous space age. Looking hale and hearty after his mild stroke, Eisenhower spoke words of encouragement and confidence at the airport, then drove through Paris to shouts of "Vive Ike" from many among massed thousands.

500 Children At Yule Party

Approximately 500 children, joined by their parents, jammed one of the big hangars at Webb AFB Saturday for their annual Christmas party. Santa Claus also was on hand with gifts for all the youngsters. He was brought to Webb in a helicopter by Lt. Richard J. Masnio, who picked St. Nick up while away on a training flight. In addition, a quartet of clowns showed up to help with the entertainment and distribution of the gifts that Santa brought. The presents were passed out to the youngsters as long lines drawn up according to age groups. Refreshments were served and T. Sgt. Dewey Magee was master of ceremonies.

Family Night, Treasure Hunt Are Slated Monday

Thousands of youngsters and adults are expected to jam downtown Big Spring Monday evening for the second big feature of the 1957 Christmas season. Occasion will be Family Night, scheduled in connection with the traditional Christmas Treasure Hunt this year. Stores will remain open until 8 p.m. for the Treasure Hunt and, of course, to accommodate persons who may wish to take advantage of the opportunity to do some of their Christmas shopping. Some $3,000 worth of gift certificates and other prizes will be given away by merchants who are participating in the Treasure Hunt. Many of the gifts were on display in store windows Saturday. Merchants have been preparing for the Hunt since the parade and Santa's visit formally opened the Christmas season Dec. 3. Treasure Hunt tickets have been distributed throughout the period, and the persons who can match their ticket numbers with the numbers on prizes Monday evening will pick up the gift certificates and other awards. Ninety-two merchants are posting prizes, some of them two or three gifts each.

HCJC Students Win Ratings At 'Speech Festival'

George Kozachuk of Howard County Junior College received ratings of excellent in poetry and discussion divisions of an invitational "Speech Festival" at Southwest Texas State College, San Marcos, Saturday. Barbara Danielle Green of HCJC was rated "very good" in the poetry division, and Alice Jane Murphy and Doyle Phillips received "good" ratings in the same category. The four HCJC students were accompanied to the speech tournament by Fred Short, speech instructor. Twelve colleges were represented at the meet. The local group plans to return home today.

San Angeloan Slain After Fending Off Waitress Molester

SAN ANGELO, Dec. 14 (AP) — A man trying to protect a waitress was shot to death and two of his brothers critically wounded in a tavern Saturday. Charged with murder and two counts of assault with intent to kill was Jack Allen, 39, a San Angelo restaurant owner. The dead man is Elijah Baker, 29. In critical conditions were Jerry Baker, 22, Kenneth Baker, 20. All are of San Angelo. Mildred Burleson, the waitress, was quoted by officers as saying Allen accused her and was asked to leave. When he failed to do so, she reached for a telephone to call police and Allen sought to tear the telephone from his wire. The three brothers intervened, and Allen left. She further said, police reported that Allen returned after midnight and the shootings followed.

Housing Help Is Sought By C-C

The Big Spring Chamber of Commerce has been asked to help locate housing for about 20 families expected to move here on Tuesday according to age groups. Refreshments were served and T. Sgt. Dewey Magee was master of ceremonies. The Chamber of Commerce asked that anyone knowing of housing to be available in January call AM-44641 and list the information.

Kefauver Drafts Proposal On U.S. Presidential Succession

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (AP)—Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said today he is drafting a proposed constitutional amendment that would permit a Congress-Cabinet commission to determine a President's inability to discharge the duties of his office.

Kefauver said the Senate Constitutional Amendments subcommittee heads will begin hearings shortly after Congress convenes on proposals to determine the conditions under which a vice president might take over for a disabled President.

"I think there must be a constitutional amendment to clear up this situation," Kefauver said.

"If we try to do it by an act of Congress, the courts might knock it out," Kefauver said he is working on a proposal under which a commission made up of members of Congress and the Cabinet could act to determine when a President is unable to carry on his duties.

President Eisenhower, who has had three illnesses in 26 months, has proposed a constitutional amendment under which a President who became unable to discharge his duties could declare in writing his inability and the vice president would become acting President. Whenever the President was able to act again, he could say so in writing and resume his duties.

If the President were unable to determine his ability to act, a majority of the Cabinet could install the vice president as acting President. The President could recover the office by declaring in writing his inability had terminated.

Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) has pending before Kefauver's subcommittee a proposed constitutional amendment by which Congress could raise the question of a President's inability to carry out his duties.

If both houses passed a resolution declaring the President was unable to perform his tasks, the Supreme Court would decide the issue by a majority vote.

If the vice president were thus ordered to assume the duties, the President could reclaim the office if Congress and the court determined he was able to do so.

Sen. Payne (R-Maine) has pending a bill under which the President could notify Congress he was unable to discharge his duties, and the vice president would take over. If the President were unable to make a certification of this type, the vice president could notify the Supreme Court. The chief justice would impel medical experts. If they found unanimously the President was disabled, the vice president would take over.

Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) has contended that as the Constitution stands, the vice president can take over the duties of the President any time the latter becomes disabled. O'Mahoney said there would be no fear that the vice president would not surrender the office to a recovered President if he only carried out the duties and did not take the Presidential oath.

Donald Louis Prager, 1012 Ridgeroad Drive, is among the 73 University of Texas law school graduates who have passed the Texas bar examination. This gives them the right to practice in the state.

Others in this area who qualified are Everett Foy Clement, 1909 Jeanette, Abilene; John Franklin Mamer, 2108 31st, Lubbock; Bill Campbell, 3006 29th, Snyder; and W. O. Schultz, 600 Oak, Sweetwater.

Winds, Frost Toughen Texas Crop Harvest

COLLEGE STATION, Dec. 14 (AP)—High winds and bitter cold have made the windup of the Texas crop harvest a touch-and-go proposition, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service said today.

Director John Hutchison said, however, clear skies and wind are drying the surface to allow completion of the harvest and plowing. Boggy small grain fields now will permit grazing in many sections.

Livestock is in generally good condition, although some are losing their "bloom" due to winter and a lack of old dry grass which rotted in too much moisture. Some stockmen are feeding hay.

In the cotton and grain sorghum area in the South Plains, Dist. Agent W. H. Jones said at Lubbock that sorghum is about 90 per cent harvested, cotton strippers are running at full speed, and cotton gins are operating round-the-clock. Submoisture conditions are the best in several years for this time of the year. Small grain is making good growth.

The Panhandle sorghum crop is about harvested except where pick-up reels are salvaging heads blown down by heavy wind. Cotton is overtaxing gins. The harvest of sugar beets, carrots and potatoes in the Hereford area is about finished.

Far West Texas cotton farmers are still harvesting but there is a labor shortage. Moisture conditions are good and small grain growth is furnishing grazing in some sections. Livestock is in good condition and lambs are being born in some areas.

North Texas small grain needs more sunshine and higher temperatures for added growth.

Central Texas dried out during the week to allow the final harvest of cotton and sorghum to get under way, but the growth of small grain has been retarded by low temperatures. Some lowland

Flying Gas Stations Key Defense Factor

By WEST COOK
AP Staff Writer

Flying gasoline stations and their attendants today hold the key to what military men have called the most crucial single element in our national defense.

Maj. Gen. Bernard A. Schriever, chief of the intercontinental ballistic missile program, has described this element as "the deterrent power of our Strategic Air Command."

And with SAC newly designated as the military division responsible for intercontinental and intermediate range ballistic missiles—Army as well as Air Force—SAC's striking ability has assumed new importance.

But why are flying gasoline stations so important to the nation's defense? Simply because, for all practical purposes, they make limitless the range which American bombers can fly. And this ability to go anywhere is the most positive deterrent to an enemy who might want to attack this country.

The gas stations are four-engine monsters of the air known as KC97 Stratotankers. More than 800 of them are in service at SAC bases around the world, providing a pipeline in the sky to supply B47 and B52 jet bombers. Since the first of this year, Boeing has been in production on jet Stratotankers.

The successful development of in-flight refueling gives the United States the ability to retaliate against an aggressor anywhere in the world.

Should foreign bases be knocked out, attacks still can be mounted from home. Without aerial refueling, the U.S. deterrent force would be limited to 3,000 miles or less.

Gen. Schriever says that "any transition from SAC wings to ballistic missiles will have to come about gradually, in an orderly step-by-step fashion, lest at a decisive moment we weaken our defense posture and invite disaster."

Military and civilian experts generally agree the transition may take at least two years.

Meanwhile, the deterrent power of SAC remains operational because of its proficiency at refueling while in flight. Once every five minutes around the clock a flight of B47s or B52s jockey into position behind flying gas stations while en route to complete a simulated attack or returning to a home base still several thousands of miles away.

Mitchell County Club Women Give Piano To Hospital

There will be Christmas music on at least one of the wards at the Big Spring State Hospital, thanks to the club women of Mitchell County.

Acting through the Mitchell County Federated Clubs, a delegation from Colorado City Friday announced the gift of a piano to the hospital.

Here to confer with Mrs. Ira Thurman, co-ordinator of volunteer services for the hospital, were Mrs. H. G. Steakley, president of the Mitchell County Federation, Mr. Curtis Baker of the Hesperian Club, and Mrs. Lawrence Rudd, Mrs. Willis Jones, Mrs. John Worrell and Mrs. Max Caddell of the 1949 Study Club.

The piano purchase was made possible by each club member in the federation giving $1. Various clubs made up the balance from their treasuries.

Mrs. Thurman said no decision had been reached, but the piano likely would go to 9-A, the largest male ward. It corresponds to the large women's ward where an electric organ, made possible by Midland friends of the hospital, is in use.

FFA Honors Adults

Two men have been honored by the Future Farmers of America in this area for outstanding and sustained service to Vocational Agriculture students. Pete Baker, Anson, state FFA vice president, is shown recognizing Lawrence Davis, Coahoma, and Jim O'Brien, right, as honorary Lone Star farmers. Davis, a rancher and longtime friend of the work, has a son, Wayne Davis, in the program. O'Brien, Lamesa Reporter managing editor, has been publicizing FFA activities for years and has made the last two national FFA meetings.

Giles' Son Seeks Parole For Father

By GARTH JONES
AUSTIN, Dec. 14 (AP)—A prominent Austin attorney will ask the state Monday to release one of Texas' most famous convicts—his father—on parole.
"We would like to have dad home for Christmas," Rogan Giles said, enthusiastically detailing his efforts to free former Land Commissioner Bascom Giles.
Giles is serving a series of 13 sentences involving bribery, consenting to accept a bribe and accomplice to theft in the veterans' land program scandals. He was given a three-year sentence by an Austin jury, then pleaded guilty to 12 other indictments and was given six years on each, to run concurrently with the initial conviction.
"Some of those against dad like to say that he got a total of 75 years," his son said. "Actually 84 years, or 9 of those pleas of guilty, were made just to get the cases off the books. They never could have convicted him. It was by agreement."
"We didn't want anything hanging over dad when he came out and indictments can't be dismissed without some sort of court action."
The public hearing at 2 p.m. Monday in the tiny chamber at the Pardons Board offices is the first granted, or asked by either Giles or his family.

"This hearing is definitely on dad's behalf and at his request," Rogan said. "We had hopes before that the parole matter would come up without us having to make a move."
If the board should favor leniency, the final decision would be up to Gov. Price Daniel. The board merely makes recommendations to him. Daniel has never commented directly on Giles' parole situation. He said in a speech last year he would never pardon or parole any public official who had been convicted of violating his public trust.
"We must restore in our state the theory and practice that a public office is a public trust and that there will be full and certain punishment for anyone who violates that trust," Daniel said.
Texas parole laws say that a prisoner must serve at least one-third of his sentence, including credit for good behavior, before being eligible. Giles had a "good time" credit of two years on his sentence in January of this year because of an authorized trusty.

13 Plan To Step Out Of Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Five senators—all Republicans—and eight representatives are quitting their seats, running for other offices, or considering candidacies for different positions in 1958.
Senate and House campaign committees furnished this information today. They said indications are that, as primary dates approach, more House members may take advantage of retirement privileges and give up their seats.
Health and personal reasons are the principal explanations given by those voluntarily retiring—four from the Senate and three from the House. Committee officials say it is just a coincidence that all in this group are Republicans. Some, too, could change their minds.
It has been rumored for example that Sen. Frederick G. Payne (R-Maine), who announced last Nov. 11 that he would not seek re-election, might reconsider and offer as a candidate in the June 18, 1958 primary. He is 57 years old.
Other senators who are retiring are William E. Jenner (R-Ind.), 49; H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.), 77; and Edward Martin (R-Pa.), 78.
Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif.), 49, has announced he will run for governor. Although Knowland repeatedly has stated he will serve as governor if elected, the move is considered in some circles as a preliminary to his possibly seeking the presidential candidacy in 1960.

House committee officials say those who have announced they will retire from that branch are Reps. Hal Holmes (R-Wash.); Hubert B. Scudder (R-Calif.); and Donald W. Nicholson (R-Mass.).
In addition, they list the following as possible candidates for the Senate: Reps. Robert W. Kean (R-N.J.); Robert C. Byrd (D-W.Va.); and Clair Engle (D-Calif.).
Rep. Antoni N. Sadiak (R-Conn.) is mentioned as a possible candidate for governor in his state, while Martin Dies (D-Tex.), an at-large member, will be forced to quit the House under a Texas re-districting law. Dies may run for the Senate.
Next year's elections will fill 32 Senate seats now held by 20 Republicans and 12 Democrats; 435 House seats now divided among 234 Democrats and 201 Republicans, including vacancies, and 33 governorships now held by 20 Democrats and 13 Republicans.
Only four states—Illinois, Kentucky, Louisiana, and North Carolina—will not have statewide elections for senator or governor next year.

Big Spring's Lakeview School Band

Clyde Rowe, visiting teacher and a veteran of 25 years in band work, leads the band he has organized in the Lakeview schools. The musical organization is sponsored by the Bethel Baptist Church. Rowe organized the band after church representatives and parents appealed to him to do so. Practice sessions, held at 5 p.m. each Monday and Thursday, were started in September. Plans originally called for the group to present a pre-Christmas concert, but influenza curtailed preparations during the fall. However, performances will be scheduled later in the school year. Band members are buying their own instruments, many of them on the installment plan. There are now 22 youngsters in the band, and Rowe said there would be twice as many if instruments were available.

HORSE SENSE SAVES LIFE OF OWNER

PRINCETON, Mo. (AP)—Elmer L. Maxwell says it is a good thing his Dolly is a horse with sense or he would be dead.

He was cutting timber on his farm yesterday and dragging a log with a team when the log rolled on his right leg. The leg was broken in several places. Maxwell was nearly a mile from his house, the temperature was 20 and no one had reason to come looking for him for hours.

Maxwell grasped the reins. "I told Dolly to go slowly," he said.

The team dragged him to a gate, where he managed to climb onto Dolly's back. She carried him home.

DPS Seeks Recruits

Department of Public Safety for the state of Texas is seeking recruits to build up personnel in the highway patrol, drivers license examiners, license and weights department and motor vehicle inspection corps. Jack Johnson, local drivers license examiner has been informed.

A letter from the state office asked that he publicize the need for men and to announce that examinations for applicants will be held in Abilene on Jan. 13; in San Angelo on Jan. 14, and in Midland on Jan. 15.

Texas Employment Commission is to cooperate with the DPS in its efforts to secure applicants for opportunity to take the examinations.

Post Office Handles Volumes Of Mail

Big Spring Post Office handled 124,373 pieces of mail last Thursday for the biggest day's volume of the current holiday season and Friday the stamp window sold $2,473 worth of stamps.

Elmer Boatler, postmaster, said all indications point to a record breaking December for the office. He pointed out that while Thursday was a slightly heavier day in mail load, each day now sees thousands upon thousands of letters, parcels and cards being received and being dispatched. He added to the staff and still other help will be added in the next few days.

"It has been a most satisfactory holiday season so far in the matter of public cooperation," Boatler said.

"The people have been most helpful in mailing early and doing all in their power to help us handle the extra load," he said. "We have had no jams of any importance, due to a large degree to the fine attitude of the public."

Recruiting extra help this year is a little different from the normal situation at Christmas, Boatler observed. In the past, he explained, most of the extra workers around the post office have been college men home for the holidays who wanted an opportunity to pick up a little extra Christmas money. This year, it seems the colleges are remaining open nearer to the Christmas holiday and as a result the supply of extra help is not as abundant. However, Boatler said there has been no difficulty as yet in adding the necessary additional men.

He also pointed out that the $2,473 stamp sales Friday did not include meter cancellations nor any operation other than for the sale of postage stamps at the window. The volume of postal fees handled ran much more than that total. All parcels which are handled at the post office are marked with a meter and no stamps attached.

Liquor Charge Filed

Alphenus Wynne, charged with illegal transportation of liquor in a dry area, posted $300 bond and was freed from the county jail Saturday morning. Wynne was arrested by the highway patrol and officers of the liquor control board Friday night.

Family Makes Canoe Trip

BROWNSVILLE, Dec. 14 (AP)—A young couple and their daughter, 3, arrived here in their 17-foot canoe this week after a 700-mile trip along the coast from New Orleans.

George and D. J. (Dee) Nelson and their daughter, Kim, stopped here briefly after their journey. The Nelsons are members of the Explorers League.

Most of the month long trip was uneventful, Nelson said, but once he and his wife discussed giving up. The Nelsons weakened after they were battered about and swept out to sea as they were trying to cross the mouth of the Brazos River. Cold and wet, the couple fought the strong current all day before they made it to the other side, camped and celebrated.

The tiny craft carried about 300 pounds of cargo including three movie cameras and assorted movie equipment, a crossbow which Dee used to shoot fish, two double paddles, a removable mast and sideboards which could quickly convert the canoe to a sail boat, and three life preservers.

Kim wore a life preserver during the entire trip and fell out of the canoe three times.

Applications May Be Filed In Conservation Program

Applications may now be filed by farm operators under the Great Plains conservation program. These may be filed with any of the county agricultural offices and will encompass any of 21 practices.

Cost shares or payments range from 50 per cent to 80 per cent, depending upon the individual practice. Any landowner or operator who has control of land for a period anywhere from three to 10 years is eligible to file. He can participate by developing a conservation plan and schedule for his farm or ranch, and by signing a contract with the Secretary of Agriculture for carrying out the plan.

Participation is entirely optional and no contract will be made which is not acceptable to both parties.

Among practices announced by the Martin-Howard County Soil Conservation District, which will assist in the filing, are: Seeding of cultivated land to grass, field strip cropping, contour strip cropping, range reseeding, windbreak tree planting, sodded waterways, diversion terraces, range chiseling or pitting, erosion control dams, erosion control structures, water spreading dikes, reorganization of irrigation systems, land leveling, irrigation reservoirs, lining irrigation ditches, wells for livestock water, ponds for livestock water, pipelines for livestock water, brush control and fencing for grazing control.

AF Reserve Sets 'Airlift Buckskin'

AUSTIN—"Airlift Buckskin" got its reactivation papers last week, so the United States Air Force Reserve again will team up with Texas as public and civilian agencies to expedite tanning of donated deer hides needed for therapeutic treatment of tuberculosis patients.

Col. Walter B. Magness, commander of the Austin Air Reserve Center, announced that authority was received from Fourteenth Air Force Headquarters whereby training time will be utilized to fly the green hides from the state concentration point in Austin to a tanning factory on the West Coast.

The deer skins, donated by Texas hunters under an elaborate system set up by private agencies including Sportsmen's Clubs of Texas, are urgently needed to aid restoration of hundreds of patients to normal health. Last year the Alamo wing at San Antonio flew two tons of hides to San Francisco.

Q2

I am grateful

that I can help Texas Crippled Children.

"Grateful that I, myself, have escaped such tragedies as theirs.

"Grateful that fortune has favored me so that I can give these children a bigger gift this Christmas.

"Grateful to the Hospital which uses every penny of my gift for these children.

here is my check

"IN FACT, I am so grateful that I am, right now, having my lawyer set aside in my Will a very substantial bequest to the Hospital."

YOUR NAME MAY BE CARVED HERE

Carved in deathless stone. Each year the names of Texans leaving bequests to the Hospital are added to those already carved in the marble tablets on the sides of this Memorial Statue on the grounds of the Hospital. So would it be with yours. Now is a good time to reach a decision to have the proper provisions made in your will. Your name, then, would go marching on in the hearts of Texas children made whole and strong by your generous gift.

TO LIVE IN HEARTS WE LEAVE BEHIND IS NOT TO DIE

5,000 NEW CASES

More than 5,000 children, each year, appear upon the Texas scene, crippled! Some are born crippled. Some are crippled by accidents or fire. Others by diseases. Great numbers of them are from families which cannot pay for corrective treatments.

They come from every county in Texas, seeking admission here. This Hospital provides surgical and medical treatments of the highest standards for these helpless children, at no cost to their parents or guardians. This is possible because the Hospital is completely clear of debt.

Therefore, every penny of every gift is used for foods, medications, nursing, casts, bandages and braces... for the intimate and personal care of the children.

Your gifts make it possible for this Hospital to minister to the needs of these helpless Texas children.

- 5 WAYS TO GIVE
- 1. IN CASH. Right now. In any amount.
 - 2. IN MEMORY of a departed relative or friend. Many send such a gift instead of otherwise acknowledging a funeral.

3. IN LIFE INSURANCE. Name the Hospital in a new policy; or, name it instead of the present one in an old policy.

4. IN YOUR WILL. Set aside a definite bequest to the Hospital in your last will and testament. Memorializing your name.

5. IN A LIVING TRUST. Set up a living trust fund to be administered for the benefit of the Hospital.

TEXAS SCOTTISH RITE HOSPITAL FOR CRIPPLED CHILDREN

First 10 Amendments Put 'Rights' In Constitution

The average individual is as certain as life that he can say what he pleases because the founding fathers put that right in the United States Constitution.

Free speech, along with a lot of other basic rights, is there all right, but not in the original document. The right to speak, to worship as one pleases, to come and go, to assemble, to bar doors of your home to unwarranted search, to keep and bear arms, to demand speedy jury trial, etc. were put there as part of the first 10 amendments. We know them popularly as the "Bill of Rights."

It was 166 years ago today that they were certified as having been duly ratified and adopted. Hence this is "Bill of Rights Day."

The Constitution itself had been adopted on Sept. 17, 1787, although the process of ratification by the states went on until May 29, 1790. However enough had ratified by March 4, 1789, to make the Constitution operative.

Congress lost no time in getting down to a job that was tacitly understood by the original document. These amendments specify in some detail some of your most cherished rights which are jealously guarded and respected by the governing bodies and courts.

Perhaps the most familiar guarantees are those relating to freedom of religion, speech and press. The same article protects the rights of peaceable assembly and of the privilege to petition the government for redress of grievances.

Another amendment secures our persons, houses, papers and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures, and it specifies that no warrants shall issue but upon probable cause, and unless supported by oath or affirmation.

The due process of law amendment encompasses not one but several guarantees. Every United States citizen is secured against being placed twice in legal jeopardy for the same offense; against being compelled to be a witness against himself in a criminal case; against having his private property taken for public use without just compensation.

He is also secured against be-

DO YOU KNOW YOUR RIGHTS?

Can you answer these questions?

1. Can you always demand and get a jury trial?
2. Can you be barred from gathering together peacefully?
3. If you are accused of a crime, can authorities make you testify under oath against yourself?
4. Can authorities walk into your home without having obtained a search warrant?
5. Can you keep firearms?

The answers to these and many other questions about your basic rights may be found by reading the first 10 amendments to the United States Constitution.

being held for trial for a capital crime, unless upon a presentment or indictment of a grand jury. And, of course, no person may be deprived of life, liberty or property without orderly court procedures, on due process of law.

The right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury, in the locality where the crime was committed, the right to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation, and the rights to compel attendance of defense witnesses and to have the assistance of defense counsel in all criminal prosecutions are secured by another section of the "Bill of Rights."

Excessive bail and fines, and cruel and unusual punishments, are prohibited in Amendment VIII. Other articles insure the right to bear arms and ban quartering of soldiers in private homes during peace time.

Then, to make quite clear to our governing bodies the underlying intent of the preceding provisions, the Ninth Amendment states: "The enumeration in the Constitution, of certain rights, shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people."

The Tenth Amendment further emphasizes this basic theory by providing: "The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people."

Thus, that fundamental philosophy expressed in the Declaration of Independence, that men are endowed with certain unalienable rights, and that "to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed," has been carried forward into the highest law of our land.

Painting Due On City Hall

Part of the work on the first floor of the city hall will be ready for the painters the latter part of this week, city officials predicted Saturday.

The city hall is being remodeled a floor at a time, and the second floor has already been finished. At the present the contractor, Pioneer Builders, has crewmen working on the north end of the first story. All the new partitions have been installed, and painters should be able to start to work on parts of the building the last of this week.

No work has been done on the south end of the first floor, where the tax and water departments are situated. Because of the amount of customer business in these two offices, the city wished to complete the other parts of the building before moving in there.

Resident's Father Dies In Wisconsin

Mrs. Walter Ross, San Angelo highway, was notified Friday of the sudden death of her father, Louis Jacobs, 67, in Stevenspoint, Wis. Mr. Jacobs, who was retired, died of a heart attack. Mrs. Jacobs died 12 years ago.

Mrs. Ross left immediately for Stevenspoint where it was understood the funeral services would be conducted Monday under direction of the Boston Funeral Home.

Mrs. Ross and a sister, Mrs. Marjorie Rades are the only immediate survivors.

Queen Mother Takes Burden Off Elizabeth

LONDON, Dec. 14 (P)—In a large house down the road from Buckingham Palace, a courtly little woman with a weakness for ostrich feather hats lives amid the loneliness of riches.

Once she was Queen of England, a symbolic leader at the very center of national acclaim. But on a February day in 1952, her husband King George VI died, and the spotlight switched to their young daughter. The Queen Mother gracefully and willingly stepped aside.

When the new Queen flew back from her African tour—interrupted by her father's death—reports say that Queen Mother Elizabeth welcomed her with a curtsy and the politely traditional greeting: "How do you do, ma'am?"

Since then, the dowager Queen quietly has carried on a mission to relieve the heavy burdens of the monarchy.

She has twice flown to the central African Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland, she made an official visit to the United States and Canada in 1954 and is due to make a three-week tour of Australia next February.

At home, she has stumped around housing estates on her high heels, distributed nursing awards, opened factories and performed a thousand and one duties that might otherwise have fallen on the Queen.

At weekends she entertains old friends to tea or goes shopping in the London stores.

In off-duty periods, she patters around her home at Clarence House which she shares with unmarried daughter, Princess Margaret, arranging her collection of china and occasionally playing the piano, which she does competently. Sometimes she entertains old friends to tea or goes shopping in the London stores.

but prefers steeplechasing—over the fences—to racing on the flat. Newspapers often describe her as a keen gardener and an expert on roses. But palace informants say she has probably never lifted a spade.

She also is interested in antiques and reads a wide selection of books on cultural subjects that interest her. Occasionally she reads a whodunit.

Although she is not a great needlewoman, she is at present making a kneeler for Washington Cathedral where the British community in the U.S. capital attend divine service. Her husband gave the altar silver for the church.

Germans Think Russians Won Space Race Thru Own Efforts

FRANKFURT, Dec. 14 (AP)—When the Russians smashed into Germany in 1945, they captured a number of Nazi scientists and put them to work on rocket research. Among the most intriguing questions since the Soviets started shooting up Sputniks have been: How much help were these Germans? Was it their know-how which put Russia ahead of the United States in the missile race? Three German experts, back in their homeland, believe the Russians got where they are largely on their own.

They paint a picture of German scientists playing a kind of blind man's bluff because the Russians evidently didn't trust their unwilling collaborators too far. One individual research station staffed by Germans didn't know exactly what the others were doing, the scientists said. Then, in 1951, the Russians barred virtually all German scientists from work on secret rocket projects altogether.

Since 1952, when most of the Germans were released and sent home, the Russians obviously made major strides on their own, the three experts said.

NOT MUCH AHEAD
But none was willing to say that Russia could not be overtaken. And former Maj. Gen. Leo Zansser, who helped run the Nazi V-2 rocket establishment at Peenemunde but did not work in the USSR, asserted: "I do not believe the Russians are much ahead of the Americans, and all told are probably equal."

The scientists who served in Russia were Gerhard Siegmund, 42, a rocket fuel expert who worked on the V-2 and was in the Soviet Union from 1946 to 1952; Dr. Werner Schulz, 48, a rocket ballistics mathematician who came back about the same time; and Ferdinand Brandner, an aircraft engineer who worked on Soviet turbojet projects until 1956.

All thought the Russians may have shot their Sputniks into space with ordinary fuels. "I don't believe they have a super-fuel," Siegmund said. He figured the Russians probably used a mixture of kerosene and oxygen—the same fuels that powered the Nazi V-2's. The man who developed Germany's V-2 is Dr. Werner von Braun, now the U.S. Army's top missile man and most prominent in the group of German rocket scientists who are working in the United States.

U. S. CITIZENS
His team is established at the Army's Redstone Arsenal at Huntsville, Ala., where a number—including Von Braun himself—have become American citizens. Siegmund gave a full picture of the German scientists' life in the Soviet Union, one which sharply contrasts with the career of those who came to the United States. He was captured in 1945. In 1946, he was taken to Russia for work at a secret rocket station. The station was located on a lonely island in a lake near Ostashkov—about halfway between Moscow and Leningrad. The lake formed a natural moat—the Germans couldn't get away and snoopers couldn't get in.

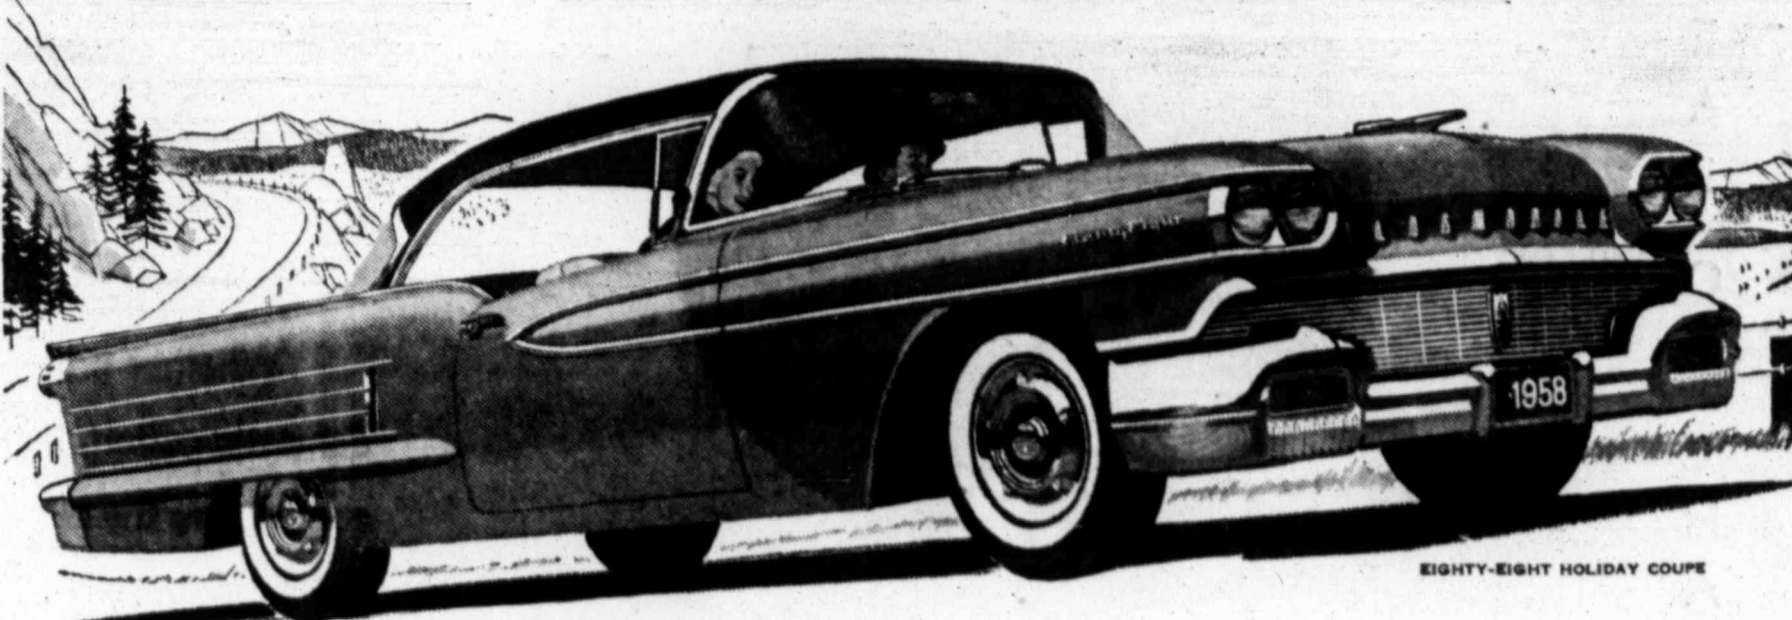

All told, the Russians had about 12 to 14 "pure" rocket scientists from Germany, Siegmund estimated. Most of the other Germans were either highly skilled technicians or aircraft engineers who were given captured V-2 models and told to go on from there. Late in 1951, Moscow issued an order which barred German scientists from doing any further work on secret rocket projects. But there was apparently one exception: A Moscow group that was working on guidance systems. In the middle of 1952, most of the rocket scientists were sent home. Research at Siegmund's island station was difficult for a variety of reasons. Vital metals, chemicals and manufactured parts were frequently in scarce supply. One of the Germans' major functions was to train Russian scientists and technicians in rocketry, and one of the toughest problems was teaching workmen to build what the scientists designed. The Germans brought along new ideas which they had been unable to try out before the collapse of Germany. But the Russians were frequently unable to exploit them for lack of proper materials. "However," says Siegmund, "maybe this was to their advantage. It forced them to develop some of their own techniques and perhaps some of these turned out to be quite good."

'Christmas Oratorio' Will Be Presented By Combined Choirs

The combined choirs of the First Methodist Church and Howard County Junior College—60 voices strong—will present Camille Saint-Saens magnificent "Christmas Oratorio" in its Big Spring premiere.

Concert time is 5:30 p.m. in the First Methodist Sanctuary, and the nursery will be open for parents who wish to bring their children. Directing the combined choirs will be Ira Schantz, choral director and voice teacher at the college and minister of music at the First Methodist Church.

Today's performance will be in keeping with the tremendously popular presentations of Handel's "Messiah" last Christmas and Easter by the combined choirs. Soloists in "Christmas Oratorio" will be Joyce Howard and Mrs. Don Newson, sopranos; Mrs. Paul Wagner, contralto; Ira Schantz, tenor; Vincent Brophy, baritone; Jim Hennigar, bass; Jack Hendrix, head of the HCJC department of music, will furnish piano accompaniment and Mrs. Champ Rainwater, the church accompanist will be at the organ. Invocation will be by Dr. W. A. Hunt, HCJC president, and the benediction by Dr. Jordan Grooms, First Methodist minister.

"Christmas Oratorio," replete with unusual music, is divided into 10 parts. The first two set forth the familiar Christ as story of the annunciation and birth of Christ and the "Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men" sung by hosts of heavenly choirs. The remaining eight sections are primarily exultations, meditations, and jubilation at this happy season.

Part No. 1 will be an organ and piano prelude. The second part will include tenor, contralto, soprano and baritone solos as well as the chorus in "Glory To God in the Highest." Part No. 3 is a contralto solo, No. 4 a tenor solo with the chorus; No. 5 asoprano and tenor duet; and No. 6 the chorus.

In No. 7 there will be a trio for soprano, tenor and baritone; No. 8 a contralto solo with the chorus; No. 9 a quintet for soprano, mezzo-soprano, contralto, tenor and baritone, backed by the chorus. The finale will be the chorus in "Praise Ye the Lord of Hosts!"

From the First Methodist Choir sopranos will be Beverly Alexander, Lyn Anderson, Kaye Chadd, Dorothy Furlong, Mrs. L. W. Harris, Martha Haynes, Mrs. J. Randall Hensley, Delores Howard, Joyce Howard, Mrs. Frank Hunt, Kay McGibbon, Mrs. Don Newson, Carolyn Thompson, Mrs. E. A. White, Sue Willbanks. Contraltos will be Mrs. Joe Bell, Malinda Crocker, Mrs. James Gatts, Mrs. John S. Hackley, Gwen Hanson, Mrs. Gordon R. Links, Mrs. Fred McGowan, June Vaughn, Mrs. Paul Wagner; ten-ors, Hays Bacus, Keith Hanson, Felix Jarrett, H. G. Keaton, Luster Vickrey; bases, Vincent Brophy, Leon Curtis, Bill Dawes, Jim Hennigar, Billy Hensley, Randy Hensley, Gordon Links, Arnold Marshall, Paul Shaffer, Paul Wagner and Donald A. Walbrecht. HCJC sopranos are Jimmie Bennett, Mary Breckenridge, Frances Bueno, Roberta Hines; contraltos, Ester Bueno, Jennie MoEvers, Glendene Phillely, Julie Rainwater, Frances Reynolds, Danya Ward; tenors, Larry Greenfield, Ronnie Phillips, Gary Steagold; bases, Bill Evans, Charlie McCarty, Hubert Murphy, Harlan Thornton, Jimmy Weathers, Ray Weathers.

Uncle Ray:

European Countries
Differ In Fine Points

By RAMON COFFMAN
People often ask me which country I like best in Europe, and it is difficult to answer that question. There are interesting things about every country, and one land stands out in one way, another in a different way.

In the light of my recent travels, also in the light of my previous visits to Europe, I shall make a few comments today.

Nowhere on any continent have I observed scenery which impressed me more than the fiords (also spelled fjords) of Norway. I felt something magnificent, even awesome, when I rode up and down those rivers with steep mountains on either side.

I found Ireland a charming land, with scenery differing completely from that of Norway. After I walked through Irish woodlands, and observed the many gnarled trees with moss growing thickly about the trunks, I remarked, "I can understand now why the Irish believe in fairies!"

Switzerland has been one of my favorite lands ever since my first visit there while I was a young man in my twenties. The Swiss mountains truly are beautiful, but my favorite sight in Switzerland is Lake Lemman, often called Lake Geneva because the city of Geneva borders one end.

Italy is a treasure house of historical lore. I have enjoyed visits to the ancient forums of Rome, to the Coliseum and other remains of the capital city, but the historical sight in Italy which seems the greatest to me is the city of Pompeii. The ruins made by chariot wheels at corners in Pompeii, linger in my memory; they were worn there before a terrific explosion of Vesuvius buried the city in ashes almost 19 centuries ago.

Holland is one of the story book countries. It seems that almost everyone in Holland knows, or wants to learn the English language. The Dutch are among my favorites.

Then, to be sure, there is dear old England with her outdated money system of pounds, pence and shillings, but with people who are rich in good nature, courtesy and strength of character.

Steers Pop Odessa In Andrews Finals

ANDREWS, Dec. 14 (SC) — Big Spring turned back Odessa, 77-65, here Saturday night to succeed El Paso Jefferson as the champion in the Andrews Invitational Basketball tournament.

Abilene Ousted From Playoffs

DALLAS, Dec. 14 (SP) — Bobby Reed pitched a 50-yard pass to Jack Collins and tied the score 20-20 today as Dallas Highland Park brought Abilene's all-time schoolboy record of 49 straight victories to a halt.

The Highland Park Scots won 5-3 on penetrations. A clean cut victory was missed when Collins kicked the extra point but lost it on a penalty. He missed the next try.

Sweetwater Surges Into AAA Finals

CLEBURNE, Tex., Dec. 14 (SP) — The Sweetwater Mustangs, led by 195-pound fullback James Parker, scored twice in the third and fourth quarters for a 29-0 semi-final Class AAA high school football victory today over Cleburne.

Rebels Defeat Cerrito, 21-12

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 14 (SP) — Arlington State College of Texas recovered seven fumbles and turned three of them into touchdowns today in defeating Cerritos of California 21-12 in the 12th annual Junior Rose Bowl football game.

A crowd of 38,000 saw Arlington, the only visiting team to play on successive years here, win its second game.

Webb Turns Back Elliott, 88-54

Webb's Dusters clobbered the Elliott Drugists, 88-54, in an exhibition basketball game here Saturday night.

High Coach Named To Porker Staff

Tommy McMorris paced Odessa against the Steers with a 22-point output.

Bill Thompson counted 14 points and Joe Bob Clendenin and Preston Hollis 11 each for Big Spring. Jimmy Evans was outstanding on defense. Hollis counted 14 points as the Steer leader in Big Spring's winning semi-final game against Andrews. The final tally in that one was 61-46.

Johnny Florer, stubborn, powerful Highland Park fullback, hammered over for the other 2 Scottie touchdowns, one for 6 yards and one for 2. Collins' brilliant running was a threat all afternoon while quarterback Reed's passing and poise kept the Scotties rolling.

Abilene outshined Highland Park 165-154 and led in passing 139 yards to 105. Highland Park led in first downs 14-16. Each team completed 4 of 11 passes.

After the tying Scott touchdown, Abilene came rolling back with Martinez pitching to Cosby for a 29-yard gainer to the Scot 24. Then four straight passes went incomplete, three of them hitting receivers squarely.

Earlier, Martinez had pitched to Bill Sides for a good gainer. Sides and Chuck Colvin had already been great gainers for Abilene which struck with startling quickness for its touchdowns. Highland Park had generally ground out yardage on long drives. Colvin scored once for Abilene, going 2 yards and Sides got the other on for the first touchdown. Quarterback Ardis Gailther climaxed the drive by bucking over from the one. Parker picked up most of the yards in the drive and also converted.

In the third quarter, halfback Eddie Scott went over from the 3 to climax a 50 yard drive for the Mustangs. The drive took nine plays. The extra point try was blocked.

In the fourth, with Parker again carrying the load, the Mustangs drove 69 yards. John Bryant plunged over from the one to cap the drive. The Mustangs failed to run over the extra point.

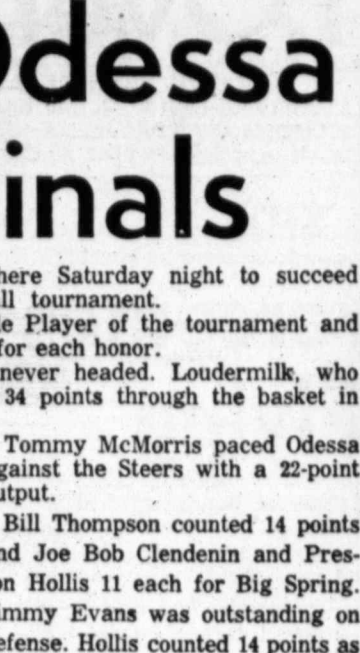

Sweetwater Must Go To Nederland

CLEBURNE, Tex., Dec. 14 (SP) — Nederland and Sweetwater will meet at Nederland Saturday for the Class AAA schoolboy football championship.

Nederland Routs Edison, 39-0, In Playoff Decision

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Dec. 14 (SP) — Mighty Nederland reached the finals of Class AAA schoolboy football for the second time in a row today as it walloped San Antonio Edison 39-0.

Undefeated and untied and winner of 13 straight games, Nederland will meet Sweetwater for the championship next week. Last year Nederland gained the finals but lost to Garland 3-0. Today's defeat was the first for Edison this year. The San Antonio team had been tied, however.

Burkemo Takes Sanford Lead

SANFORD, Fla., Dec. 14 (SP) — Former national PGA golf champion Walter Burkemo, a self-styled dark horse, shot a 66 today and vaulted into a two-stroke lead after three rounds of the $15,000 Sanford Open.

The 39-year-old Franklin Hills, Mich., veteran started the round in third place, two strokes behind pace-setting Dow Finsterwald. In head-to-head battle with the midpoint leader, Burkemo who prefers match play to medal, bested Finsterwald by four shots. That made his 54-hole total 201, two strokes under Finsterwald, who slipped to second place.

Jay Hebert of Sanford carried a two-under-par 68 and moved up into third place at 204. Marty Furgal of Lemont, Ill., who started out in second place, slipped to a 71 and wound up fourth at 205. Ed "Porky" Oliver of Canton, Mass., climbed into fifth place with a 67 and 206.

Gay Hill Champ In Tournament

VEALMOOR, Dec. 14 (SC) — Gay Hill defeated Courtney, 50-29, in the finals of the boys' division of the Vealmoor basketball tournament here Saturday night.

The Gay Hill girls and the Vealmoor boys were declared winners of the sportsmanship award.

Members of the boys' all-tournament team were Mike Black, Courtney; Neal Beam, Klondike; Paul Wasson, Ackerly; Glenn Banks, Vealmoor; and McEachern, Gay Hill.

Sundown Loses To White Oak In S-Finals

BRECKENRIDGE, Tex., Dec. 14 (SP) — White Oak won its way into the finals of Class A schoolboy football today by the margin of six inches, beating Sundown on penetrations in a 6-6 tie.

White Oak, advancing to the finals against Mart, scored in the second quarter on a 35-yard pass play from quarterback Jerry Davis to halfback Bob Wayt. Jerry Ferguson, Sundown tackle, blocked the try for extra point.

Sundown came back in the third period to drive 80 yards in 14 plays for the tying touchdown. Halfback Mike Leonard, the top star of the game, went over tackle nine yards for the counter. He tried to run over the extra point but was downed by the vicious White Oak line.

Sundown neared a penetration in the second quarter. It was fourth down with six inches to go on the White Oak 22 but the East Texans rose up to stop the ball carrier in his tracks. That six inches kept Sundown away from what would undoubtedly be a penetration.

Had the teams tied on penetrations, Sundown also would have tied White Oak on first downs and would have won the game on a yardage basis, having rolled up 256 on the ground and three in the air to 128 rushing and 33 passing for White Oak.

A crowd of 4,000 watched the game. Leonard gained 113 yards in 13 carries. Wayt was the top man for White Oak with 79 yards. White Oak ... 0 6 0 0 6 Sundown ... 0 6 0 0 6

HCJ WINS SAN ANTONIO CAGE TOURNNEY, 77-70

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 14 (SC) — Howard County Junior College shaded Victoria JC, 77-70, in a battle of undefeated teams here Saturday that determined the championship of the first annual San Antonio JC basketball tournament.

The Jayhawks from Big Spring have now won ten straight games. The success earned HCJC a giant, 20-inch trophy.

Benny Carver, HC freshman from Bowie, was named the tournament's outstanding player. He was named to the all-tournament team along with Delbert Shirey of the Hawks.

Others on the elite team included Harold Gerhold, Victoria; Tommy Thompson, Victoria; Johnny West, Del Mar; Larry LaTouf, Del Mar; Arnold Montemayor, Navarro; Roland Lopez, San Antonio; Gerald Robinson, Schreiner; and Milton Hudspeth, Panola. Each of the all-stars was given a miniature gold basketball.

Coach Harold Davis of the Jayhawks said he attributed the win to "a team effort and my bench strength." Tommy Zinn and Delbert Shirey, neither of whom started the game, had big roles in the victory. Zinn scored 15 points and Shirey 14.

Davis added the Hawks' effort in the title game was far and away their best of the season. Carver tossed in 19 points for HCJC. In addition to Zinn and Shirey, Mike Musgrove also hit in double figures for the Big Spring club. He got 11.

WESTBROOK, Dec. 15 (SC) — Jimmy Madry hit four points in an overtime to give the Big Spring 8th grade cagers a 35-33 win over Westbrook for the consolation championship of the junior tournament here Saturday night.

Sweetwater downed Snyder for the title of the meet. Big Spring's Pate netted two free throws to tie the score at 31-31 to bring on the overtime, and then Madry provided the winning margin. Tucker was high point for the night with 20.

Madry was named to the all-tournament team and was also high scorer in the meet with 32 points.

Big Spring advanced to the consolation finals with a 63-16 win over Sweetwater 7th grade in that one, Madry hit 20 points.

The Yearlings lost out in the first round to Snyder, 29-23. Big Spring was very much in contention for a half but failed to score a point in the third quarter.

In that one, Jerry Tucker led Big Spring with nine points. The Yearlings then turned around and bounced Colorado City out of the tournament in the first round of consolation play, 49-28. Jimmy Madry experienced a hot streak in leading the Big Springers to victory, scoring 17 points.

VETERAN VIC SEIXAS SAVES U. S. TEAM

By WILL GRIMSLEY
BRISBANE, Australia Dec. 14 (AP)—The fighting heart of reliable Vic Seixas carried the United States into the Davis Cup challenge round today with a brilliant back-to-the-wall victory over Belgium's Jackie Brichant in the fifth and decisive match on the interzone final.

Taking the court against his old nemesis after Philippe Washer had tied the score at 2-2 with a triumph over jittery Herbie Flam, the 34-year-old Philadelphia Cup veteran cut down Brichant, 10-8, 6-0, 6-1.

The victory gave the Americans a slender 3-2 edge in the five-match series and qualified them to play Australia again for the intercontinental tennis trophy in Melbourne Dec. 26-28.

Double pressure was put on Seixas, playing his 57th Davis Cup match, when the highstrung and moody Flam, of Beverly Hills, Calif., went down before the spasmodically brilliant Washer, a Brussels socialite, 6-2, 6-3, 6-6, 6-3.

Bill Talbert, U.S. captain and other members of the American Davis Cup squad, were overjoyed at the last gasp victory, but Talbert sobered in discussing the prospect of facing the talent-loaded Australians two weeks hence.

Talbert must find a second singles player to team with Seixas since Flam, in his present mental state, seems wholly inadequate. He must take measures to improve the doubles combination which lost to Washer and Brichant yesterday.

One member of the American contingent has suggested an SOS be sent for Budge Patty now in America. Patty, who teamed with Gardnar Mulloy to win the Wimbledon doubles crown, is also a capable singles player and could be of inestimable value to a team which lacks full strength because several top players, including Patty, stayed home and Flam developed depression in worrying over the matches since he has been in Australia.

The task of recovering the Cup has been left to three old men, Seixas 34, Mulloy 44 and Flam 29, and a group of youngsters still unseasoned enough for Davis Cup play. They are Ron Holmberg, 18, Barry Mackay, 22 and Mike Green 20.

Mackay, 6-4 giant from Dayton, Ohio, with a tremendous serve, appears the best bet to play the singles if there is any replacement.

The task of putting America in- to the challenge round was left to Seixas.

Brichant gave Seixas a tremendous struggle in the long first set and came within inches of taking the lead when he held six advantage points for the break of Seixas' service in the eleventh game.

But each time the scrappy Seixas, serving with sting and power and going into the net for sharply angled volleys, hit his way out of trouble and carried the set to 18th game when he broke Brichant with a spectacular backhand angle shot. The 27-year-old Brichant seemed to lose his strength and resistance after that and Seixas turned the match into a rout.

QBC Will Install Captains Monday

The Big Spring Quarterback Club will reorganize for the basketball season at a meeting Monday evening in the high school cafeteria.

Squeaky Thompson and C. A. Town will be installed as co-captains of the organization. The session will start at 7:30 p.m.

The new leaders appealed for all local sports fans to turn out for the meeting.

Bearcats Slam Cougar Quint

GARDEN CITY, Dec. 14 (SC)—Despite a cold second quarter, the Garden City Bearcats battered the Klondike Cougars, 66-42, in a basketball exhibition here Friday night.

The Cats now have won five of eight starts.

The Jones boys, Harold and Lloyd, had a big hand in the win, along with Frank Murphy. Harold Jones had 14 points while Lloyd and Murphy each scored ten.

Dwayne Harris led Klondike with ten.

The Garden City girls also won, 50-41. They led at the end of the first quarter, 11-0; at half time, 23-21; and after three periods, 34-27.

Wanda Williams scored 22 points for Garden City, Jo Calverley 13 and Pat Carr 15.

Mary Asbill, Joan Maxwell, Darlene Hanson and Pat Saunders were outstanding on defense for the winners.

For Klondike, Beeman tallied 14, Myers 20, Robinson six and Adams two.

The Garden City teams play in Ackerly Tuesday night.

GARDEN CITY (66)—Calverley 4-9; Mow 6-13; Bob Fisher 3-2-4; Harold Jones 7-14; Lloyd Jones 4-2-10; Childress 1-2; Murphy 5-0-10. Totals 30-44.

KLONDIKE (42)—Schneider 4-9; Ketter 4-9; Turner 2-4; Harris 4-2-10; Brown 1-2; Ahrhart 0-3-3; Smith 2-1-5. Totals 17-40.

Wade Walker Says Won't Leave Mississippi State

FORT WORTH, Dec. 14 (AP)—Wade Walker, one of the prospects for the Texas A&M coaching job, told the Star-Telegram by telephone today he is not interested in leaving Mississippi State and feels obligated to fulfill his contract there.

Walker said he had been contacted by officials of A&M, but said he promised not to say who had called him or give any details.

"I'm very happy here," said Walker, one-time Texas Tech assistant who succeeded Darrell Royal as head coach at Mississippi State two years ago.

"I feel like I'm obligated to stay here. These people gave me a big break in giving me a head coaching job, and I think I owe it to them to fill my contract. People may say I'm being a martyr or something, but that's just the way I feel."

Walker makes $15,000 a year.

Queens Play H-SU Again On Tuesday

Losers to HSU in the first game Thursday night, 48-37, the HCJC girls' basketball team visits Abilene for a return game Tuesday night.

Peggy Francis led HCJC in the game here, scoring 14 points. HSU was paced by Mona Mabery, who had 28.

HCJC led at the end of the first period, 16-14, but HSU was in command at half time, 27-25.

HSU outshot the locals from the field only by a margin of 30-28 but made good on 18 of 28 free tosses, compared to 11 of 25 for the Jayhawk Queens.

The Queens won the B game, 37-25, as Joyce Hill tossed in 20 points for HCJC. Robena Lewis had 16 for HSU.

The Jayhawk Queens have drawn Cisco as a first round foe in the four-team Cisco tournament, which starts Dec. 20 and continues through the following day.

The two teams clash at 9 p.m. Henderson County and Weatherford open the meet at 6:30 p.m. Dec. 20.

Consolation finals are down for 6:30 p.m. Dec. 21. Finals start at 9 p.m. the same night.

A&M In Workout To Derail Vols

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Dec. 14 (AP)—Texas A&M held an hour and 40-minute workout today as it continued to work against the single wingback formation of Tennessee, the Aggies' Dec. 23 opponents in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla.

Although the emphasis was on defense, the squad worked some on offense with Jimmy Wright operating as quarterback in the absence of Roddy Osborne who missed the workout with a minor ailment.

Also missing was right tackle Ken Beck, out with a cold. Al Simmons, senior, replaced Beck. Operating on the first unit with Wright and Simmons were Bobby Marks and John Tracey at ends; Charley Krueger, tackle; Dick Gay at fullback and John Cook and Loyd Taylor at halfbacks.

McHan Passes Cards To Win Over Eagles

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 14 (AP)—Quarterback Lamar McHan tossed touchdown passes of 42, 53 and 34 yards to fleet Woodley Lewis as the Chicago Cardinals won a wild-scoring nationally televised National Football League game from the Philadelphia Eagles 31-27 at Connie Mack Stadium today.

HYPNOTIST AT SIDE

Newk Overcomes Fear Of Flying

DETROIT, Dec. 14 (AP)—Big Don Newcombe, Los Angeles Dodger pitcher who underwent hypnotic treatment to overcome a fear of flying, stepped off a plane from New York today and happily announced, "It was a success."

Smiling and relaxed, Newcombe said he had felt no tension on the 7 1/2-hour trip, accompanied by his personal hypnotist, Joseph Edelman of New York. They immediately booked seats to return on a 5 p.m. flight.

Newcombe had said he felt his baseball career was at stake because of his fear. The National League franchise switch of Brooklyn to Los Angeles and the New York Giants to San Francisco makes flying necessary to maintain schedules.

Five weeks ago Newcombe began treatments with Edelman, paid for by the Dodgers. He met with the hypnotist three times a week and practiced self-hypnosis for five minute periods three times a day.

Edelman said, "Don reached the stage where we decided to try the experiment today. 'I'll work with him for awhile further but by spring training he should be able to be on his own.'"

Stewardess Eleanor Panetta said the 31-year-old Newcombe flew "just like a veteran. He ate a very good meal—steak—but no sweets."

The 235-pound Newcombe got off the plane at Detroit's snowy Willow Run Airport and said, "How about going on to Los Angeles?"

"I'm not at all afraid of flying any more and I'll be happy to go anywhere with the Dodgers by plane."

Today's flight was his first since 1956, when he flew to Japan on a team tour. On that trip Newcombe had said he was "under tremendous tension—I couldn't stand it."

The victory gives the Aggies a 2-3 record. It was the Buckeye's third loss without a victory.

Aggies Swarm Past Bucks

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Dec. 14 (AP)—Texas A&M, a heavy underdog, outstripped Ohio State in the second half to hand the Buckeyes their third straight loss, 72-69, in a regionally televised basketball game here tonight.

The Aggies were down 60-55 with 7:48 remaining when they scored nine straight points to take a 64-60 lead. After an exchange of baskets, the Aggies stalled until Bob Johnson got a layup shot with 2:54 remaining. After that, the game turned into a foul shooting contest.

Ohio State gave the ball away 19 times on intercepted wild passes and traveling infractions, A&M lost the ball on turnovers three times.

The victory gives the Aggies a 2-3 record. It was the Buckeye's third loss without a victory.

White Sox Slate 34 Exhibitions

CHICAGO, Dec. 14 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox today announced a 34-game spring exhibition schedule, including 23 against teams from the rival National League.

During the Florida phase of the Grapefruit season, the Sox will play 14 games with National loop teams and 9 with American League clubs.

After breaking their Tampa, Fla., training camp April 2, the Pale Hose will travel north and west with their traveling companions of the past four seasons, the St. Louis Cardinals.

Woody Hayes Award Winner

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (AP)—Wayne Woodrow "Woody" Hayes, who led Ohio State to the Western Conference title and its second trip to the Rose Bowl in four years, today was named 1957 football Coach of the Year.

In the 23rd annual Scripps-Howard poll of 597 members of the American Football Coaches Assn., Hayes received 149 votes to 111 for Ralph "Shug" Jordan, coach of unbeaten Auburn the national champions in The Associated Press poll.

Jesse Neely of Rice was third with 46 votes and Terry Brennan whose Notre Dame team made a comeback after a sad season in 1956 was fourth with 41 votes.

Following the first four came Paul "Bear" Bryant who recently moved from Texas A&M to Alabama, Len Casanova of Oregon, Earle Edwards of North Carolina State, Darrell Royal of Texas, Forrest Evashevski of Iowa, Milton Bruhn of Wisconsin and Henry "Red" Sanders of UCLA.

Maroons, Greenies Pick Up Victories

Kate Morrison and East Ward chalked up their second straight victories in Elementary School basketball league play here Saturday morning.

Morrison walloped Park Hill, 38-6, while East Ward turned back Airport, 53-10.

Manny Pineda and Jesse Flores had ten points each for the Maroons. Mike Peters and Norman Patterson led East Ward with nine each.

North Ward turned back West Ward, 20-12, in another contest. Manny Martinez scored all but two of the winners' points.

College Heights won its first game at the expense of Washington Place, 17-8.

Robert Goddett scored five points to lead the Heights team. Following are the lineups. Listing the points each player scored:

COLLEGE HEIGHTS (17)—Goddett (5); Amos (2); Storms (4); Nipp (2); Smith (2); Clinton (2); Allen (2); Hughes (1); Moore (1).

WASHINGTON PLACE (8)—Ehrhart (2); Clinton (2); Pineda (2); Marquis (4); Hernandez (2); Saracho (2); PARK HILL (6)—Don Hall (2); Baird (2); Greenwood (2).

NORTH WARD (38)—Mannul Martines (10); Dale Hamilton (3); WEST WARD (12)—E. J. Self (6); Joe Positano (4); Bob Conpton (2).

SWC To Defy Texas Interscholastic Loop

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS, Dec. 14 (AP)—The Southwest Conference decided today to defy the Texas Interscholastic League on its rigid amateur rule involving the letter of intent.

Schoolboy athletes now may be signed to those so-called applications for financial aid while they still have high school eligibility left.

The conference tried to soften the blow by passing a rule that would suspend the letter of intent from becoming binding until the athlete's transcript of high school credits was accepted for college entrance.

It was hoped, said Secretary Howard Grubbs, that the league would consider that the boy had not accepted an athletic scholarship and would agree to the conference schools' signing the boys before they got out of high school without endangering their amateur standing.

This hope was quickly dashed. As soon as Dr. Rhea Williams, athletic director of the Interscholastic League at Austin, heard about it, he said:

"We can't see why we have to change our rules just because they (the conference) changed theirs. It's going to be up to the individual boy whether he wants to sign or he wants to wait. If he signs he will be ineligible and if he doesn't he can play."

The league has held that a letter of intent is "valuable consideration" and violates its amateur rule.

The fact that the conference won't make the letter of intent binding until the boy has entered college doesn't change the Interscholastic League's views in the least, Williams said.

"The league has never accepted the Southwest Conference's view that the letter of intent is not valid until the boy enters college," Williams declared. "Our opinion is that when a boy signs a letter of intent that is a contract. Today's action is not going to change our rule on that."

The action on the letter of intent, which included moving up the signing date in all except one sport, was co-featured with reprimands of four conference members — SMU, Rice, TCU and Texas — for technical violations of the recruiting rules. SMU got into the most hot water.

Grubbs was instructed to write these schools, outlining the violations and to ask that in the future coaching staffs be properly instructed on the rules.

Rice and SMU were both reprimanded for transporting boys to places other than the schools seeking their athletic ability. A Rice coach was criticized for taking one boy along with him to see another boy. So was SMU.

SMU was reprimanded for transporting friends of prospective athletes to Dallas when they came in different conveyances than the prospective athletes.

SMU was slapped on the wrist for excessive entertainment of those friends of athletes.

TCU was reprimanded because of the visit of an athlete to the campus in company of an alumnus on a day when his high school was in session. In this case TCU had prior knowledge of it and did not warn the alumnus.

Texas' reprimands involved a coach paying the expense of transportation from his own pocket then being reimbursed by the Alumni Assn. This was against the rules at the time it occurred. Since then the rule has been changed and it would be legal now.

None of the athletes or coaches involved were named.

Under the new format of the letter of intent the boy will submit an application for financial aid but it will not be formally acted upon until a period of not less than 10 days following submission of his high school transcript to the college. During the time his application is on file, however, other conference schools can accept an application from him.

The signing date for football was moved from April 1 back to March 15, basketball remains the same—April 1—but baseball and track will be June 1 instead of June 15. Twenty-two applications are allowed in football, 4 in basketball, 3 in track and 3 in baseball.

The reason for the changes is that the conference believes it best for the boy concerned, Grubbs explained. "Signing him earlier will relieve the pressure he is subjected to," Grubbs said. "When he is signed no other school in the conference can then contact him and disrupt his school life."

Twin Honorees At Cotton Bowl

Miss Penny Blackledge, left, the queen of the 1958 Cotton Bowl football game New Year's Day, will be joined by her twin sister, Miss Patii Blackledge, who has been invited to be Miss Navy, the academy's official representative at the Queen's Court. Both girls are seniors at Rice Institute, the host team in this year's Cotton Bowl game. The girls' father is a retired Naval officer and a 1922 graduate of the Naval Academy. (AP Wirephoto.)

WHACKY BASEBALL

Player Ordered To Change Pants

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (AP)—Baseball in 1957 had more than its share of surprises, disappointments, heroes and goats.

Did you know that an umpire ordered a pitcher to change his pants during a game? That a baseball got lost in a player's shirt? A runner was ruled "safe" and then was thrown out of the game for arguing about the call? A pitcher worked in two different cities on the same day?

These and lots more happened.

"Take your pants off," was the directive hurled at San Francisco Seals' pitcher Bob Chakales by the umpires of the Aug. 27 San Francisco-Sacramento game. They meant, of course, for Chakales to "change" his pants in the dressing room.

It started when Sacramento manager Tommy Heath complained that Chakales was "going to his pants" before pitching. Heath contended that the hurler had resin or some other foreign

The mystery of a lost ball was solved in the Aug. 15 Toronto-Havana International League game. Sam Jethroe of the Leafs was on first base. The next batter hit a grounder to the second baseman, who threw to the shortstop for a force play. The shortstop then relayed the ball to first but the ball never arrived. No one seemed to know what happened—until Jethroe reached inside his shirt where the ball had nestled and pulled it out.

Granny Hamner of the Philadelphia Phillies was the embarrassed runner who was called "safe" and then put out. June 21 was the date; the place—Milwaukee. Hamner beat out a bouncer to shortstop. He apparently thought he had been called "out" by umpire Ken Burkhardt. The two argued and Burkhardt thumbed the irate player out of the game.

Hersh Freeman of Cincinnati wasn't in two places at the same time. But he did pitch in two different cities on the same day. He worked the 16th inning of the May 1 night game in Philadelphia that ended at 12:36 a.m. and then pitched the last 2-1-3 innings against the Giants in New York that afternoon.

Rockettes Tounce Snyder Fems, 25-12

The Lakeview Rockettes of Big Spring, who are coached by Mrs. N. L. Graham, won their third straight basketball decision here Friday night by bowling over Snyder, 25-12.

Charles Johnson scored 18 points for Lakeview while Phyllis Gilbert had seven.

Lakeview's A and B boys' teams also won over Snyder but the scores were not made available to The Herald.

Lakeview A has won seven of nine starts and the Lakeview B team six of six.

Texas And SMU Place Trio Each On All-Fresh Team

WACO, Dec. 14 (AP)—Texas and SMU each placed three players on the All-Southwest Conference Freshman football team picked for the Waco Tribune-Herald by the coaches. Arkansas players were not considered.

SMU placed end John Glushing, tackle Jerry Mays and back

Frank Jackson on the first team, Texas landed back Ray Barton, end Armour McManus and center Bill Laughlin.

Rounding out the first team are: Robert Lilly, TCU, tackle; Rufus King, Rice, guard; Jerry Seay, Baylor, guard; Larry Terrell, TCU, back; and Jon Few, A&M, back.

Of the four individual awards, TCU got two, Larry Terrell, the 190-pound halfback from Fort Worth, was voted the best back and Fred Taylor was named coach of the year.

SMU's Jackson, the all-around athlete from Paris who is a younger brother of Charley Jackson of the SMU varsity, was named the most valuable player, and Laughlin, Texas bristling 215-pound center from Baytown, was named the top lineman.

Second team choices were: Ends—Ted Crenweiger, TCU, and Jerry Moore, Baylor; tackles—Max Christian, SMU, and Clarence Young, TCU; guards—Dan Petty, Texas, and Arlis James, Baylor; center—Roy Northrup, A&M; backs—Bendy Poole, Rice; Larry Dawson, TCU; Mike McClellan, Baylor; and R. E. Dodson, TCU.

Austin Team Wins

AUSTIN, Dec. 14 (AP)—Anderson of Austin is Class AAA state Negro schoolboy football champion. Anderson beat Washington of Dallas 22-14 last night for the title, scoring a safety on the kickoff and never relinquishing the lead.

DAY OF RECKONING IS AT HAND IN PRO LOOP

By The Associated Press

The day of reckoning arrives Sunday in the National Football League with three Western Conference clubs voting for the championship of their division and a much-ballyhooed battle in New York now just another game.

The first Western game is at Chicago where the Detroit Lions, tied for first place with the Baltimore Colts and San Francisco 49ers, take on the Chicago Bears.

Two hours later there will be a mighty quake on the West Coast when the Colts play the Rams in Los Angeles and the 49ers play host to the cellar-dwelling Green Bay Packers in Kezar Stadium.

Earlier in the afternoon 65,000 fans are expected in New York's Yankee Stadium to watch the New York Giants, the 1956 champs, take on the Cleveland Browns, who already have won the Eastern crown. This was supposed to be the battle to decide the conference winner but the Giants took care of that by losing to Pittsburgh last week in their must game.

Elsewhere in the league, Pittsburgh is at Washington.

The Chicago Cards and the Philadelphia Eagles played Saturday at Philadelphia.

Detroit, Baltimore and San Francisco all have 7-4 season records, and only San Francisco is favored to win. The 49ers are two touchdown favorites over the Packers, who will possibly be without the services of their leading ground-gainer, Paul Hornung.

The Colts, who have dominated the Western Conference for most of the season, are four-point underdogs against the Rams. The air may be full of footballs if the Rams stymie Baltimore's Lenny Moore and Alan Ameche on the ground. The Colts have John Unitas, the NFL's leader in tossing TD passes, while Los Angeles will counter with its own aerial demon, Norm Van Brocklin.

The Bears, last year's Western champs, are a three-point choice over the Lions. The Detroit team will not have ace Bobby Layne at quarterback, but Tobin Rote, a real pro in his own right, will take over. Layne is out with a broken right ankle suffered last week in Detroit's 20-7 victory over Cleveland.

Service Football Crown At Stake In Game Today

GALVESTON, Dec. 14 (AP)—Two undefeated, untied teams play here Sunday in what is billed as the national service championship. Each coach thinks the other team should be the favorite.

It's the Shrimp Bowl, matching Bolling Air Force Base of Washington and the San Diego Marines.

George Makris of Bolling and Bull Trometter of San Diego scouted each other by game films. Both were highly impressed.

Bolling ranks a one-touchdown favorite. A major reason is that Bolling boasts a raft of famous football names. The Marines have built up a powerful squad utilizing a crew of lesser lights.

Among the Bolling aces are Ralph Guglielmi, Joe Heap, Don Schaefer and Dan Shannon of Notre Dame, Doyle Nix of SMU and Veryl Switzer of Kansas State.

Both teams won all their 10 regular season games.

Minors To Seek Help In Fight Against TV

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Dec. 14 (AP)—Minor league baseball today officially notified Congress it is seeking legislative aid to combat the spread of major league broadcasts and telecasts.

George M. Trautman, president of the National Assn. of Professional Baseball Leagues, stated the case of the minors in a sternly worded resolution sent to Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.), chairman of the House of Representatives antitrust subcommittee.

Celler's committee has been studying alleged monopolistic practices in organized baseball.

The resolution, previously adopted unanimously by the minors at the Colorado Springs, Colo., convention, stated that:

"Destruction of National Assn. baseball cannot be averted unless professional baseball is permitted to adopt reasonable rules to prevent the unfair and ruinous competition from major league radio and television within National Assn. territory."

Trautman praised the work of two minor league committees which went into action soon after it became known a major TV network had been set up to telecast a Sunday afternoon game of the week. Five major league clubs were believed involved in the project.

"This is a time for action, and these committees were equal to the occasion," Trautman said. The original seven-member anti-TV committee was made up of

Dave Sherer, SMU, Top Grid Punter

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (AP)—Dave Sherer of Southern Methodist, who booted the season's longest punt—a 81-yarder—emerged today as the 1957 major college football punting leader.

Final official NCAA Service Bureau released today showed that Sherer, a junior, average 45.0 yards on 36 punts. He transferred to SMU from New Mexico Military Institute just before the start of the campaign.

Other honors were captured by Bobby Mulgado of Arizona State

Loraine Teams Win 3 From Coahomans

LORLAINE, Dec. 14, (SC)—Loraine won all three games from Coahoma in a basketball triple-header played here Friday night.

The Loraine senior boys turned back the Bulldogs, 54-50, despite a 16-point output by Hugh Covert.

Coahoma's girls fell before the Loraine fems, 54-47, after the Coahoma B team had lost, 36-25.

Imports Give Firm Prices, Jobbers Say

By CHARLES HASLET
WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (AP)—The National Oil Jobbers Council says a curb on imports won't result in an assured supply of oil at reasonable prices.

It contends exactly the opposite will result.

The council's views have been given by its general counsel, Otis Ellis, to a House Ways and Means subcommittee which is studying foreign trade policy. He added:

"It is our belief that restrictions on oil imports will vest the hands of the regulatory authorities of the various oil producing states the ability to limit production to demand and thus create artificial supports for the price of crude oil and the products made therefrom.

If the committee "favors or condones restrictions on crude oil or products, it is recommended that a new appraisal be made as to the equity of granting special tax privileges to producers of crude oil and gas."

Trade Agreements Act. In the belief that such actions were not in the best interest of the nation from the standpoint of either the peace-time economy or the national security.

Cecil Burrill, chief economist of Standard Oil Co. New Jersey said "We should try to maintain a reasonable balance between domestic production and imports."

Gulf Oil Corp. expressed approval for extension of the Trade Agreements Act but said Congress should establish criteria to determine the existence of injury to industry or of threat to national security.

Mitchell To Get Wildcat

Schleiner and Edwards, Midland operators, announced location for four ventures in the Turner-Gregory (Clear Fork) field of Mitchell County.

All are about four miles north west of Westbrook and will drill to 3,000 feet with rotary equipment.

The Schleiner-Edwards No. 1 Z. T. Lassiter is staked 2,310 feet from north and 1,650 from east lines, 24-29-In. T&P Survey, an 80-acre lease. Schleiner-Edwards No. 2 Lassiter is 1,650 from north and 2,310 from east lines, 24-29-In. T&P Survey.

The No. 3 Lassiter is located 900 from north and 1,650 from east lines, 24-29-In. T&P Survey. Schleiner-Edwards No. 4 Lassiter is located 330 from north and 2,310 from east lines, 24-29-In. T&P Survey.

IPAA DISAGREES
Statements also were submitted to the committee by spokesmen for the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America and by representatives of two large oil companies.

Russell Brown, counsel for the IPAA, said it has not opposed the basic trade agreements act but added:

"We have, however, on many occasions urged amendments to the act which in our opinion were necessary to rectify the administrative defects of the act as applied to petroleum, and have opposed extension of the law in the absence of such remedial amendments."

WANTS BALANCE
"We also on many occasions, have criticized and opposed administrative actions under the

Pays To Use Your Head
V. E. Best, stillman on the styrene unit at Cosden's refinery here, gets a timely present from the company because he used his head. Best made a suggestion for a simple alteration which is estimated to save Cosden $5,000 a year. As a result he got a tax-free $500 award, the highest the company has paid for an employee suggestion put into practice. On hand for this event were, left to right, Dan Krause, vice president, refining; Wes Shouse, engineer; L. D. Gilbert, styrene foreman; Best; Ernie Richardson, plant superintendent; George Grimes, refining superintendent.

Styrene Stillman Wins Award For A Shortcut On Recycling

A young stillman with a practical understanding of his job has solved a knotty problem which engineers estimate will save Cosden Petroleum Corporation $5,000 annually.

Because of his ingenuity, V. E. Best has been presented with a $500 tax free gift from Cosden. His is the largest cash payment Cosden has made for suggestions made by employees and adopted by the company. Previously the record was $200 and was shared by two men.

Best, who is 29 and a Cosden employe for the past five years, works on the styrene unit. His suggestion for changing a material and in a piping arrangement resulted in increasing capacity of the styrene unit.

"The suggestion eliminated an internal cycle in the styrene fractionating train," read the citation. "This increased the capacity, which in turn decreased the amount of styrene which had to be recycled to the reaction section. This was all accomplished by changing the material which was used to carry the styrene inhibitor as well as changing the addition point. Only a small revision in piping was necessary."

L. D. Gilbert, foreman, Ernie Richardson, plant superintendent, George Grimes, refining superintendent, and Wes Shouse, engineer, were on hand for the presentation of the check Friday.

This wasn't the first suggestion made by Best which was accepted by the awards committee, but it was easily his outstanding one.

Best lives at Coahoma and he and Mrs. Best have four children. After three years in the Air Force as a radio mechanic, he worked as a tractor mechanic at Abilene before joining Cosden.

COMPLETIONS ARE LAGGING
AUSTIN, Dec. 14 (AP)—Texas drillers brought in 236 oil and 45 gas wells this week, the Railroad Commission said today.

Wildcaters accounted for 14 oil and 9 gas wells.

Total oil well completions this year is 14,692 compared to 15,479 last year. Gas wells total 1,888 compared to 1,694.

Wells plugged included 154 dry holes, 78 oil wells and 7 gas wells, a total of 239 for the week. There have been 10,416 wells plugged for the year compared to 11,409.

An increase of 13,134 barrels daily was reported in the daily oil allowable of 2,986,701 barrels compared to 2,973,567 a week ago.

HE PAID OFF Sooner Oilman Honored For Exemplary Integrity

ODESSA, Dec. 14 (AP)—A group of Texans has honored an Oklahoman for what they call his high integrity in paying in full the debts of his bankrupt concern.

Bill Doenges, Bartlesville auto dealer, came to Odessa recently for a testimonial dinner given for him by West Texas oil men. Councilman Ed Costello gave him a key to the city and read a "Bill Doenges Day" proclamation by Mayor Harold Downs.

Doenges was one of three men who came to West Texas several years ago and raised capital locally to drill for oil. The firm's funds were exhausted after it drilled several dry holes.

Doenges returned to his native state, promising that one day he would repay every cent of the borrowed money.

He kept his word and paid off the last of 84 creditors several months ago.

"Doenges would never have had to pay us a cent and we never could have collected from the company," George Johnson, an Odessa oil man said. "I never met a man so fair."

Some other companies which the price cuts have the same effect on the domestic oil industry as non-compliance with the administration's current program to limit oil imports.

He said there were reports that some other companies would match Sohio's cut in Illinois, Kentucky and Indiana.

Operator Abandons West Howard Test

A Lamesa operator has plugged and abandoned a wildcat eight miles southwest of Big Spring. Meanwhile, two new locations have been staked in the Iatan East Howard field about six miles south of Coahoma.

The duster is Huddleston No. 1 Mabel Quinn, 530 feet from north and west lines of the southwest quarter, 30-34-1s, T&P Survey. Operator gave up on the wildcat at a depth of 3,392 feet.

In the Iatan field, Fleming, Fleming & Kimball No. 13-C Denman is staked 1,650 feet from south and 900 from west lines, 16-30-1s, T&P Survey, and about six miles south of Coahoma. Operator will drill to 3,300 feet.

LOCATIONS
Fleming, Fleming & Kimball No. 12-D Denman is in the same field, 2,310 from north and 1,650 from west lines, 16-30-1s, T&P Survey. It will also drill to 3,300 feet.

A mile and a half northwest of Vincent, Guthrie No. 1 Burreis, a Canyon wildcat, deepened to 6,000 feet at the end of the week. It is a 2,300-foot wildcat 330 feet from south and east lines of the northwest quarter, 30-25, H&C Survey. It is half a mile northwest of the Nortex No. 1 Shafter, recent Canyon and Clear Fork discovery.

In the Big Spring field, McBride No. 1 B. Dillard was drilling about 5,000 feet Saturday. It is a test 2,540 from west and 1,900 from south lines, 18-31-1s, T&P Survey, and seven miles northeast of Big Spring.

John Moore No. 2-C TXL, in the Snyder field, bottomed at 2,695 feet and set oil string at 2,546 feet. It is 900 feet from north and west lines, 33-30-1s, T&P Survey, and seven miles south of Coahoma.

C. D. Turner Drilling Co. has contract on the Moore venture.

WPRRA Slates Meeting

The Gulf Coast Regional technical-industrial relations meeting of the Western Petroleum Refiners Association will be held at the Ben Milam Hotel in Houston Feb. 5-6.

This two-day meeting is the first of five regional meetings which the WPRRA will conduct during 1958, and will be attended by refiners from Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Arkansas. Additional information concerning this meeting, and the dates for the remaining regional meetings, will be announced in later bulletins.

The 46th annual meeting of the Western Petroleum Refiners Association will be held at the Hilton Hotel in San Antonio, March 24-25-26.

Coltex Slates Test In Devonian Zone

Col-Tex Oil tried a second test in the Devonian at a Gaines County wildcat this weekend after a first test proved inconclusive.

The try is Col-Tex No. 1 Jones Ranch, in the northwest corner of the county. Operator was to drill stem test from 12,695-725 feet. The first drillstem test in the section was at a slightly higher depth.

Wants Price Cut Inquiry

AUSTIN, Dec. 14 (AP)—Jerome O'Brien, president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Assn., said today CIPRO wants an investigation of crude oil price cuts made Dec. 10 in three states by Standard Oil Co. (Ohio).

O'Brien sent a telegram to the oil imports administrator, Capt. Matthew Carson Jr., and a letter to "Sohio" officials calling the 15-cent per barrel cut an "extremely grave matter."

O'Brien charged that the price cuts have the same effect on the domestic oil industry as non-compliance with the administration's current program to limit oil imports.

Borden Explorer

Hunt Oil Co. deepened its Ellenburger venture in Borden County, No. 1 Jones, to 3,457 feet in lime and shale at the end of the week. The wildcat is 660 from north and east lines, 1-HB, J. D. Black Survey. It is eight miles north of Gall and five miles southeast of the discovery well in the Lazy S (Ellenburger) field.

Basin Drilling Holds Steady On Most Recent Tabulation

After showing a marked increase in drilling activity in the Permian Basin during the last half of November, a slight drop came during the early days of December.

The semi-monthly report taken by Reed Roller Bit Co., revealed 457 active rotary units last Tuesday, as against 461 on Nov. 25.

Despite the slight drop, the Tuesday count is still the largest—outside of Nov. 25—since Sept. 10.

Lea County, N. M., continued to lead the county tabulations with 76, a increase of four over the Nov. 25 tally. Ector was the leading West Texas county with 36—five more than was registered by Winkler County.

Howard County picked up four from the Nov. 25 report, registering 14 on the count last Tuesday. This is the highest total for the county since Aug. 10.

In addition to Lea, Ector, and Winkler other counties reporting 20 or more active rotary units include Andrews with 25, Gaines with 24, Pecos with 20, Upton with 24, and Crane with 27.

County-by-county, the overall picture (with Nov. 25 totals in parentheses) are Andrews 25 (34), Borden 5 (7), Bailey 1 (0), Cochran 2 (2), Coke 3 (2), Concho 0 (1), Crane 27 (28), Chaves 2 (0), and Crockett 4 (6).

Also Culberson 0 (0), Dawson 6 (7), Dickens 2 (2), Ector 38 (36), Eddy 6 (7), Fisher 6 (7), Gaines 24 (21), Garza 6 (6), Glasscock 3 (0), Hale 0 (1), Hockley 1 (3), HOWARD 14 (10), Irion 1 (1), and Jeff Davis 1 (1).

Others on the survey are Lamb 3 (2), Lea 76 (72), Lubbock 5 (3), Loving 10 (6), Lynn 2 (1), Martin 4 (4), Midland 11 (8), Mitchell 2 (1), Menard 0 (1), Nolan 8 (10), Pecos 20 (23), Reagan 5 (2), Reeves 1 (2), and Roosevelt 3 (3).

Also Runnels 12 (13), Scurry 13 (13), Schleicher 2 (4), Sterling 1 (2), Stonewall 6 (8), Sutton 2 (3), Tom Green 4 (4), Terry 4 (4), Terrell 3 (2), Upton 24 (29), Val Verde 0 (1), Ward 8 (7), Winkler 30 (31), Yoakum 7 (12), and Permian Basin totals 457 (461).

Glasscock County Venture Prepares To Get Underway

C. W. Guthrie prepared to spud a shallow wildcat in Glasscock County this weekend.

The new try is Guthrie No. 1 Joe Carter, about eight miles north of Garden City. Operator will explore to 2,800 feet. Drillsite is 330 feet from south and west lines, 5-33-3s, T&P Survey.

Meanwhile, Cosden No. 1-A Rape, about 23 miles south of Garden City, deepened to 4,858 feet in lime and shale. It is an 11,000-foot wildcat 660 feet from north and west lines, 46-34-3s, T&P Survey.

John August and Roy Derrick have staked a venture in the Spraberry Trend Area about 15 miles southwest of Garden City.

Drillsite is 660 from south and west lines, 13-35-5s, T&P Survey. It will drill to 7,500 feet.

Pipeline Units File For Permit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Power Commission was asked yesterday by the Texas Eastern Transmission Corp., Shreveport, La., and Wilcox Trend Gathering System, Inc., Dallas, for authority to build four million dollars worth of natural gas facilities during 1958.

Texas Eastern proposes projects not to exceed three million dollars and Wilcox proposes a maximum cost of one million for its program.

The companies said they plan a number of small projects to attach new sources of gas to their existing pipeline systems.

SUITS PREDICTED

Tidelands Legal Battle Only A New Chapter In Old Story

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON, Dec. 14 (AP)—Supreme Court litigation over boundaries of tidelands in the Gulf of Mexico is just another chapter in an old dispute.

Oilmen and congressmen as early as 1853 predicted the current litigation.

The Supreme Court, in effect, has been asked to interpret the Submerged Lands Act of 1953 by fixing boundaries. The act merely recognized traditional boundaries without drawing lines or stating specific distances.

Traditional boundaries, as defined in the act, are those boundaries existing in the Gulf at the time each state became a member of the Union. The Justice Department now has asked the Supreme Court to interpret the act by fixing the traditional boundaries of Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi, Alabama and Florida at three miles.

Texas, historically, has claimed three marine leagues or 10.35 miles. Louisiana also claims three leagues and also claims an area that exceeds 27 miles in some areas.

Predictions of the current litigation were made shortly after President Eisenhower signed the Submerged Lands Act May 22, 1953.

At the 1953 convention of the American Petroleum Institute, Clayton Orn of the Ohio Oil Co. presented a paper on tidelands operations and said the act did not monument the line between the areas awarded the various states and the federal government.

"However, it laid down the essential elements for locating the line which can be applied by the officials of the federal and state governments and by the courts," he said. "The laws of the state at the time it joined the Union must be examined to determine whether the seaward boundary is three miles or three leagues."

President Eisenhower said last week it is regrettable that Congress did not follow the administration's recommendations for making the boundaries clear. He said it still is his considered view, however, that Texas should have the right to explore and exploit the tidelands for three marine leagues.

MEET THE 'seniors'
OF THE COSDEN FAMILY...

SAMUEL R. MORRIS

This is the 15th in a series of special Cosden presentations recognizing the men who have contributed their efforts through an entire year toward the success of the Company.

Samuel R. Morris was born at Campbell, Hunt County, Texas, in 1917 and attended school there and at Abilene. He was engaged in the dairy business with his father until Sept. 14, 1942, when he went to work for Cosden. He is now a special tester in the lab.

In 1939 Mr. Morris was married to the former Inez Smith, who was born in Broken Bow, Okla. They have two sons, Charles Stanley, 17, who recently joined the Navy and is awaiting a call to active duty, and William Richard (Dick), 15.

The Morrises own their home on NE 2nd and when the head of the house has spare time he prefers to spend it fishing. His church affiliation is Baptist.

1. Every weekday an average of 57,000,000 copies of newspapers are sold in the U. S. — more than packs of cigarettes, quarts of milk, or loaves of bread.

2. People in the U. S. spend for their newspapers $3,120,000 a day, $25,851,000 a week, $1,344,236,000 a year.

3.—According to a Market Research Corp. of America study, on a typical day 88 per cent of America's homes receive one or more daily newspapers.

4. There is no "summer replacement" for newspapers. Monthly variations in circulation show virtually no change in newspaper circulation from season to season.

5. People like to read newspaper advertising. According to the Continuing Study of Newspaper Reading, men rank advertising third (just ahead of sports news); women rank advertising first.

6. The Continuing Study of Newspaper Reading also reveals that the average newspaper page, with both news and advertising on it, enjoys a median readership of 64 per cent by men and 73 per cent by women.

7. More than one-third of all ad money spent is invested in newspapers. In 1956 newspapers got $3,305,000,000 — more than was received by radio, TV, magazines and outdoor combined — according to McCann-Erickson, Inc. Preliminary Estimate.

8. TV in the homes does not affect newspaper readership. Cunningham & Walsh's continuing study of "Videotown" reveals that newspapers alone of all major media remain unaffected by TV's arrival in the home.

9. Since 1940 newspapers have maintained a constant level of popularity. Newspaper circulation has virtually paralleled growth in U. S. households.

10. Newspapers are keeping modern. Over $700,000,000 has been invested by newspapers in recent years to improve plants, equipment and product.

11. One of the most exciting innovations is color. As of February, 1957, 819 newspapers offered advertisers Color. The combined circulation of these papers exceeds 41,000,000.

Some of the last maize crop was lost because of the recent high wind. A few farmers accepted the loss, while others put prongs in front of the combines to lift up the fallen grain heads so they could be threshed.

Ray Adams said nearly three-fourths of his remaining crop blew down, but he saved most of it by the pick-up attachment. Adams said he should have harvested all the cotton mechanically, as the hand-pulled cotton cost him from $30 to $40 a bale more than that which he stripped.

He says most cotton will be harvested mechanically within a few years. The machinery is available now, so the main job will be to develop a cotton variety that can handle.

The 1957 cotton crop is rapidly going through the gins. The big rush is on now, but a week of low weather will end it. After that the only cotton will be the "hickory nuts," or half-cracked bolls.

At Coahoma the ginning is probably over 80 per cent finished now. DeWitt Shive had ginned 2,810 bales yesterday morning, and says he won't get more than 300 to 400 more.

He said everyone is beginning to use strippers, which will get over the fields in a hurry. Many farmers were getting cotton out so fast it was being piled in the fields. Ed Martin got from 12 to 15 bales a day this last week.

Some of the best cotton around Coahoma was east of town. It started southeast of Coahoma and reached to the northeast. Some of it has been averaging well over half a bale.

Ralph White, who has slightly less than 400 acres, says he should make a half bale per acre.

James Murphrey, vocational agriculture teacher of Seminole, was judge of the livestock show at Coahoma yesterday. He said cotton was damaged by wet weather and wind in his area, but still will make a good average.

Murphrey has a set-up at Seminole, which proves that money is a nice thing for a school district to have. He is supervisor of a 960-acre farm owned by the school, and used by the FFA boys for crop and livestock projects.

The boys have a variety of projects, including beef cattle which graze on the school pasture, and 320 acres of land which is rented to the students.

The Seminole school district is one of the largest ones in Texas and covers an area almost as large as Howard County. Several oil fields are located inside the Airport Report Is Due Monday

R. H. Weaver, county judge, who attended a conference last week in Fort Worth with the Civil Aeronautics Authority on the status of the Howard County airport project, will probably report to the Howard County Commissioners Court Monday morning.

Weaver and Louis Jean Thompson, engineer, met with the CAA for consideration of the plans and specifications of the airport and Weaver also inquired into procedure for applying to the federal bureau for additional financial support in 1958-59.

Other than for this report, no one around the courthouse knew of any other major business to come before the commissioners at their meeting Monday.

It was possible, some sources indicated, that discussion of recent developments in the proposed revaluation program for tax purposes of county, school and city property may come up.

A special committee comprised of members chosen by the county, the city and the schools, has narrowed the choice of possible contractors to two and it has been suggested that the county judge, the city manager, the city school superintendent and the school directors of the three political subdivisions go to some of the nearby counties in which such revaluation programs have been carried out.

Such visits, the committee felt, would provide the groups they represent with firsthand information on just what benefits derived and what problems the enterprise generated.

Shopping is in full swing now, but so is shoplifting, the chief of police said Saturday, in urging citizens not to leave their cars unlocked when full of packages.

Police Chief C. L. Rogers said they have been picking up shoplifters daily and this should provide incentive for people not to leave their packages in unlocked cars.

"An open car is just an invitation to a shoplifter or someone looking for something to steal," the chief said.

"With all the hustle and bustle of the pre-Christmas rush, a person can walk to a car, pick up an armful of packages and walk away unnoticed," the chief went on.

In addition, Rogers urged people not to leave the keys in their cars. One auto was stolen here by that method last week. A man went down the street looking in cars until he found one with the keys in it, and he drove away.

"Luckily, he was picked up in Deming, N. M., but many times we are not as fortunate," Rogers said. "Help us keep the town free of package stealers and thieves by not leaving the downtown area full of invitations such as these."

HCJC Plant Equity Nears Half Million

Now in its 11th year of operation, Howard County Junior College has established almost a half million dollar equity in its facilities.

The annual audit, made by Neil G. Hilliard, CPA, shows a surplus invested in permanent assets in the amount of $474,763. During the past year the net increase in permanent surplus was $72,883.

Receipts for the fiscal year ended Aug. 31, 1957 stood at $377,348, which was $10,657 less than the budget. Expenditures were $390,990.97, or $6,962 more than budgeted. The $13,446 excess of expenditures over receipts was absorbed out of a $21,000 cash carry-over at the beginning of the year.

Of the total assets of $1,539,361, $16,871 was in cash, $81 in accounts receivable, $41,043 in delinquent taxes receivable, $15,098 in prepaid insurance and $1,466,265 in lands, buildings and equipment. Among outstanding items of liability were $9,064 in accounts payable, $13,143 in notes payable, and $991,500 in bonds payable.

Receipts for the year included $256,409 in taxes, $69,920 in state subsidy, $46,493 in tuition. Expenses included $72,400 for administrative and general, $136,675 for instructional $41,837 for plant operation and maintenance, $2,040 for the bus, $4,440 for fixed charges and $32,939 for auxiliary services. Bond redemption expenditures were $38,100 principal and $25,799 interest.

Capital outlay for the year amounted to $607,596 from the building fund ($534,723 in buildings $27,187 in equipment, $9,561 in streets, curbs and gutter, $2,670 in ground improvements, $22,936 in track, $6,973 in electric distribution facilities, $2,760 in other improvements.

Another $34,383 was added from the general fund, making a total of $641,969 in capital outlay. The general fund contributed $7,679 toward buildings, $22,828 toward equipment, $2 for ground improvements and $1,309 for track.

The bookstore, with receipts of $16,635, operated at a $541 deficit; the cafeteria with receipts of $7,390 at a deficit of only $799.

Bonded indebtedness included $164,000 owing from the original issue in 1947, $277,500 from the 1949 issue, $488,000 from the 1955 issue and $37,000 from the 1955 refunding issue.

The tax roll analysis showed a total valuation of $44,944,700 with a levy of $269,668 at a 60 cent rate. The current roll collection was $260,417, or $6.36 per cent, a gain of about one percentage point for the year. Delinquent collection stood at $4,949 and supplemental collections $2,603. Discounts allowed stood at $7,039 and commissions and assessment fees (to the county) $5,669.

Stamp Will Commemorate Religious Freedom Advent
Local stamp collectors are looking forward to the appearance of a new three-cent commemorative stamp soon after Dec. 27—the last commemorative issue of the year. The new issue is a special, celebrating the 300th anniversary of the signing of the Flushing Remonstrance—marking the introduction of religious freedom in America.
The stamp, to be printed in black, will be issued in sheets of 50. A hundred million copies are to be printed.
A central subject of the stamp is the Bible, with a hat symbolic of the people and the times and a quill as a symbol of man's determination to speak the truth through the written word. An ornamental ribbon bearing the wording "1657 The Flushing Remonstrance 1957" links the Bible, the hat and the quill. In the upper portion of the stamp is the legend "Religious Freedom in America" arranged in three lines. All lettering is a modification of early American type.
The stamps will go on sale first in Flushing, N. Y., on Dec. 27. Elmer Boalter, postmaster, said he has order 20,000 copies which would be on sale here around Dec. 30.

NEW STAMP

Claudia Self, Mac Robinson Win 4-H 'Gold Star' Honors

A Coahoma High School senior and a Big Spring Junior High student are the Gold Star 4-H boy and girl of Howard County for this year.

They were announced last night at the annual County 4-H Club Achievement program at Elbow school. The achievement program was combined this year with the Christmas party for club members.

Announced as the Gold Star boy of the year was Mac Robinson, 17, Coahoma, son of Mr. and Mrs. Woner Robinson.

The Gold Star girl is Claudia Self, 15, daughter of Mrs. C. A. Self, Gay Hill. Claudia is a former student of Gay Hill who enrolled in Big Spring Junior High this year.

Awards were made to 40 other boys and girls who have made outstanding records in various activities of the county 4-H organization.

Presentation of the awards was made by Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

The Gold Star award is the most coveted of special honors to be given to boys and girls who are outstanding in 4-H work.

In order to win the Gold Star citation, a member must have displayed a wide variety of abilities in club work and to have achieved an outstanding record in the work. Robinson, for example, has been a member of the 4-H organization for nine years. He is now president of the County 4-H Club organization and has held all offices in his local club. He was a member of the county livestock judging team for two years and of the grass judging team for the years 1952-53. He has carried out active demonstrations in beef cattle, sheep, poultry and cotton for the past six years.

Miss Self has held all of the offices in her local club in the six years she has been a 4-H Club member. She was a member of the dairy food team in 1956-57 and an entry in the 1955 Share-the-Fun competition. She has carried on an active program in clothing, food preparation, food freezing, canning, garden, yard improvement and leadership.

Other awards presented included: Achievement: Muri Bailey, Forsan; Johnny King, Forsan; Jean Stalcup, Vincent, and Judy Brooks, Coahoma.

Leadership: Rodney Brooks, Coahoma, and Neva Jackson, Knott.

Garden: Joyce Robinson, Knott, and Lannie Henderson, Lomax. Boys' Agriculture: Jerry Iden,

FESTIVE TABLES ADD TO HOLIDAYS

NOT TOO MANY COOKS FOR THE BROTH THIS TIME, because besides looking pretty, the food was delicious at the Christmas luncheon of the Ladies Golf Association at the Big Spring Country Club recently. The scalloped cloth was a Christmas red felt, and the decorations were all of gold. A golden angel stood in a nest of golden Christmas balls in a gold tray, which was between double candle holders with tapers of golden hue. Hostesses were Mrs. Robert Piner, at left, Mrs. Zollie Boykin, Mrs. Olen Puckett, Mrs. Robert Middleton and Mrs. J. F. Zike.

SNEAK PREVIEW OF THE COFFEE is given Mrs. Leroy Tidwell, at left above, by Mrs. D. S. Riley. The two were hostesses for a Christmas coffee given for the auxiliary of the Downtown Lions Club recently in the Tidwell home. The cloth, printed with snowflakes and pine cones in gold, was a deep green. Following through with the golden hue was the tree of golden net, trimmed with tiny Christmas balls in various colors. Miniature Christmas gifts formed a circle about the tree.

A GREEN AND GOLD COLOR SCHEME was used for the holiday table at the home of Mrs. Harold Talbot, when she was hostess to the Music Study Club and their guests following the Christmas musicale given recently by the club. A long cloth of deep green felt formed a pleasing background for a large gold candle with festooned top, which was placed in a setting of gilded pine cones and clusters. The coffee service in brass was an added touch of brightness. On the buffet was a similar arrangement with triple candles in graduated heights.

PINK CLOUDS AND ANGELS were prominent in the decorations for the Christmas coffee given during the week by Mrs. Jack Haptonstall, 601 Elgin. Pink bows outlined the edge of the table, covered in a floor length organdy cloth, while a choir of angel figurines sang from a pink cloud base. Golden candles and pale pink napkins added to the beauty of the table. The tiny stockings, which Mrs. Haptonstall shows her own "special angel," three-month-old Judson, was one of the many given as favors, all containing a Christmas wish. For the occasion, Judson was attired in quite a grown-up suit of red and white with red bow tie. Tiny bells on his red shoes made music with his every move.

CONTROVERSIAL

Pleats, Darts, Belt Combine In Chemise

Herbert Sondheim has a long and successful career in the fashion business because, for one thing, he doesn't merely keep abreast of the times, he always manages to be a step or two ahead of them.

Evidence of this fact is his wholehearted backing of the chemise, controversial in many circles, but already adopted and being worn by women who care about style.

Your eye may not be adjusted to this look as yet, but fear it out anyway and save it; it will surely come into your life sooner than you think.

This version has a fitted front with a pass-through belt running under side pleats and appearing again to tie in the center. The buttoned back has a fitted lining and an easy looseness coming out from the released darts on the low neckline.

For now, choose crepe, silk, rayon or wool jersey; for later, soft cottons and novelty rayons will work wonders.

From this chart select the one size best for you:

Size	Bust	Waist	Slips	Waist	Neckline	Waist
8	33	28	24	24	16 1/2	28 1/2
10	34	29	25	25	17 1/2	29 1/2
12	35	30	26	26	18 1/2	30 1/2
14	36 1/2	31 1/2	27 1/2	27 1/2	19 1/2	31 1/2
16	38	33	29	29	21 1/2	33 1/2
18	40	35	31	31	23 1/2	35 1/2

Size 12 requires 3 1/2 yards of 38-inch material for dress.

To order Pattern No. 1330, state size, send $1.00. For new Jumbo 96-page Pattern Booklet No. 14, send 50 cents—Herbert Sondheim label, send 25 cents.

For air mail service in U. S. A., add 25 cents per pattern, 50 cents per booklet. Sales tax extra.

Address SPADEA, Big Spring Herald, Box 535, G.P.O., Dept. B-5, New York 1, N. Y.

Choose Right Kind Of Gift Tobacco

Contemplating a "put this in your pipe and smoke it" gift for some man? Well, there are no set rules for selecting a proper blend as a gift.

Some people prefer a light smoke for everyday use and a heavier, richer smoke for after dinner. For outdoor men, though, the Pipe and Tobacco Council recommends a slow-burning, poignant smoke. Before buying tobacco for your mate, boy friend or father, check the aroma of his pipe smoke. If it is sweet-smelling, then ask for an "aromatic" tobacco.

Select a tobacco that is not crisp or flaky. Buying from a reliable tobacconist, supermarket or drug chain insures freshness as well as quality.

Accessories for the inveterate pipe smoker may range from pipe cleaners, lighters, stands and pouches to smoking jackets, slippers or even a chair and reading lamp for his comfortable enjoyment.

Shower Fetes Lamesa Girl

LAMESA—A bridal shower complimented Modell Ford, bride-elect of Bobby Warren, Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Bob Bradbury. Sharing hostess duties with Mrs. Bradbury were Mrs. Charles Darwin, Mrs. Bob Goolsby and Mrs. J. H. Harp.

In the receiving line were the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Eudell Ford; the mother of the prospective bridegroom, Mrs. R. C. Warren of Sand; and Mrs. A. E. Weeks, sister of the bridegroom.

Laid with white linen, the serving table featured an orange blossom tree flanked by a miniature bride and bridegroom, an archway tied with orange blossoms stood in the background. The arrangement was surrounded by pink angel hair.

Tape Stars Make A Design On Package

Stars make effective and simple package decorations. Red and green gift wrap tape may be used, or other bright colors.

Crisscross narrow strips of the tape and you have a star. This design is very effective against a wrapping of silver foil gift paper. Youngsters, especially, will find this an easy way to do their own gift-wrapping.

Jan Parks Is Bride Of Charles Marchant

Wedding vows of Jan Parks and Charles Marchant were pledged Saturday evening in the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Marchant, 205 Washington Blvd.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Parks, Port Arthur, formerly of Big Spring.

The Rev. Clyde Nichols, First Christian Church minister, read the double ring ceremony as the bridal party stood in front of the fireplace. The mantel was decked with sprays of greenery, with arrangements of white gladioli and satin ribbon.

Attired in a street-length dress of white wool jersey trimmed in satin, the bride wore a white satin hat and black accessories. Her bouquet was of white rosebuds with white satin ribbons. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dunnam attended the couple.

Methodist Pastors Of District Have Dinner

The three local Methodist ministers and their wives were hosts for the covered dish dinner given Friday evening at Park Methodist Church.

The affair was given for the pastors and their families of the Big Spring Methodist District and was planned along the lines of a Latin-American Christmas.

Following the theme of the strolling carolers, children of the group pretended to visit various homes. One of the stops was with Dr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith, who were presented with a gift from the district. The Rev. Smith is district superintendent.

During the posada, or celebration, the younger members of the guests broke the pinata and received gifts contained within. This was a container shaped like a miniature burro, and when broken revealed small favors.

A fellowship hour followed the dinner, which was attended by about 60, representing the towns of Big Spring, Snyder, Midland, Stanton, Andrews, Ackerly, Lorraine, Colorado City, Westbrook, Coahoma, Fluvanna, Forsan, Garden City, Hermleigh and Lamesa.

Typical Club Woman Is Far From Old-Time Model

Clubs of 47 states already have signed up for the contest. The final awards will be made at the federation convention in Detroit next June.

"The response has been fantastic," says Mrs. Cushman. "We are offering a prize for the best and most suitable costume for a clubwoman, made at home."

The General Federation of Women's Clubs has 11 million members throughout the world, and 5 1/2 million in the United States.

More and more young women are taking an active part in club work, says Mrs. Cushman, and they are interested in serious projects for the betterment of their communities, their states and their country.

Wintertime Woes

Snow and mud splatters can be removed from nylons and legs at the same time. Simply rub soiled spot of hosiery leg with a piece of tissue dipped in warm water. Pick up excess moisture with a clean dry tissue. Stocking will dry in a minute or two on your leg.

Warm Welcome

One way to wish Santa a warm welcome when he slides down the chimney is with a decorative "Merry Christmas" mat. One made of red or green cotton chenille with white letters, is as practical as pretty, since it can be washed by machine or hand in soap or detergent suds.

BRIDAL SHOWER

Mrs. Charles Marchant was honored with a bridal shower Friday night in the home of Mrs. Commodore Ryan, with Mrs. Ray E. Shaw as cohostess.

The honoree and Mrs. A. A. Marchant, were joined by the hostesses in the receiving line. Mrs. Harry Weeg presided at the guest register, and gifts were displayed by Mrs. Bob Simpson.

Silver, red and white were predominant in the table decorations. The ecru lace cloth was laid over red satin, and the central arrangement was formed of silver balls and reindeer with red candles in a bed of silver fern. Coffee and tea were poured from a silver service. On the white napkins were embroidered the names "Jan and Charles."

Mrs. Wayne Carpenter and Barbara Dunnam assisted in serving. Approximately 25 guests called.

Why should You trade your present bedroom suite now?

Because you spend a minimum of one-third of your life in your bedroom and nothing will add to your tranquility like a new bedroom suite.

Because at the Good Housekeeping Shop you will find the style and finish that you desire for your bedroom.

Because we will allow you the full market value for your present bedroom suite . . . we will NOT add a fictitious price on the bedroom furniture in our store in order to give you a ridiculous high price for your present bedroom suite . . . we will appraise your furniture and give you the full amount in trade on a new bedroom suite.

And if for any reason you feel that we are not allowing you the market value for your present furniture . . . we will endeavor to sell it for you at the price you think the furniture is worth and then we will take that amount and apply it toward the purchase of the furniture that you want at the Good Housekeeping Shop.

Now is the time to make your selection for Christmas.

Your satisfaction is our goal. Come in, or call us in the morning and let us help make your daily living more comfortable.

"'Twas The Night Before Christmas . ."

Dianne, 4, and Susie, 3, are wide-eyed with excitement as their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Tom Green, read the poem by the Rev. Clement A. Moore which has long been a Christmas classic. This will be the family's first yuletide in Big Spring.

Newcomer Family Looks Forward To Their First Christmas Here

Santa Claus has doubtless already received a change of address notification from the E. Tom Green family, 1301 Blackmon, Not that Dianne, 4, and Susie, 3, are really worried about it; but they did move here November 30 from Irving. The children are old enough this year to begin to know what Christmas is all about, and their parents are going to be well armed with a flash camera for the magic hour when Santa's remembrances are unwrapped. Their coming to Big Spring has been eagerly anticipated by Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Curley, 1717 Purdue. Mrs. Curley and Green are sister and brother. The little girls are full of admiration for their 11-year-old cousin, Lloyd Jr., and Mrs. Green says he entertains them royally. For the two and a half years that the family lived in Irving, Green was employed by Chance Vought Aircraft. He has come to Big Spring to manage the L. F. Curley Lumber Co., which had its opening here six months ago. A graduate of Stephen F. Austin College, he has had experience as a teacher also. Mr. and Mrs. Green are Methodist.

Stock Up On Tissues For Sneezin' Season
Now that we're in the midst of the "sneezin' season" again, it's an excellent idea to stock up on disposable tissues. They're handy to have at home, at work, at school or at play. A good way to make certain friend husband has his supply when he's at the office is to stuff one of those handy pocket packs into his coat pocket as he's about to race out the door for the office.

Gift Puppy Should Be Bought Early

Children and puppies are a favorite combination for Christmas. At this time a child's demand is hard to resist. Unfortunately, Nature can't comply with this seasonal requirement. Therefore, it's important to shop early to get the best possible selection. The excitement of Christmas Day is hardly the best time for introducing a puppy into his new home. A week or 10 days before Dec. 25 is preferable. It's also important to see that a puppy comes with needed and useful equipment and care products. These include a dog bed and mattress, a collar and leash, a waterless canine cleaner, vitamin powder or capsules, flea powder, a worming remedy, a disinfectant made for use around dogs and a stain preventive for use when the pup mistakes the broom for the paper in housebreaking training.

Most important is to make certain that the dog will be a welcome gift in the home. Then, match the dog with the surroundings of the home and the personality of the master-to-be. If size of the home is a consideration, find out how big the dog will be when he's full-grown. To try to cram a great Dane into a chihuahua-sized apartment could be cruel to the dog and disastrous to the apartment. Another cruelty is to get a very young and small puppy for a very young child. Also dogs have personalities and they should be compatible with those of the people who will surround them. For a sedate child or adult, a frisky terrier setter which requires plenty of exercise may be too taxing.

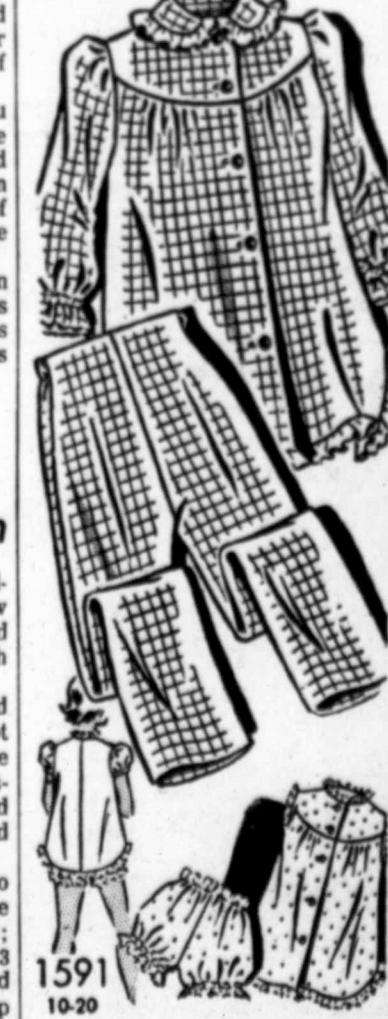

Now Is Time For Appliance Buying

With the increased interest in budgeting, Christmas has become one of the most important seasons for appliance buying. As a vital part of the annual pattern of purchasing it is then that the family gets together and decides to buy a present for "all of us." With appliances leading in this category of buying, home renovations such as added rooms or refurbishing follow closely. Manufacturers of appliances, both large and small, are aware of this trend. Never do the latest models look as glamorous or is there a wider selection to choose from. In many cases, yearly changes are made so that the latest merchandise reaches the market just before Christmas.

This concentration of interest in appliances and other large purchases makes the Christmas season a good time to buy. Customers are assured that they will see the very latest developments in the science of homemaking. The supplies are fresh. Appliance stores, hardware emporiums and the department stores are exciting centers for family shoppers in the Christmas season.

To Give A Bride

Add to a young bride's collection of milk glass accessories with a round fruit bowl. It also dubs as a flower container. Or small ash trays in milk glass may be used as candy dishes. Variety of patterns aids selection for modern or traditional home.

Something For The Home Is Welcome

AP Newsfeatures
What is an appropriate Christmas gift for the home?
If you know the homemaker well enough, anything from an ash tray to a weathervane should be suitable, depending on your budget.
An elegant knife set, a beautiful white dish designed by Russel Wright, a lace table cloth (ideal for the holidays) are all on the gift beam.
A small device that controls light, permitting the lamp or tree lights to be lowered or heightened at whim, merely by turning the dial, is available just in time for the holidays. Ideal, too, for the practical homemaker is a 16-piece set of unbreakable Melamine dinnerware.
The hostess who suffers a match shortage should enjoy a set of fine porcelain items for her table—cigarette urn and lighter on a rosewood base.
And lest we forget dad, a smart contribution to his home desk could be a desk set with perpetual calendar and no-dunk pen that guarantees against messiness. It is set in an onyx base.

HI--TALK

By Brenda Barr

Friday 13 was a night of much activity. Some of the couples seen at the Ivy League Dance were Sue Arrick and James Weaver; Susan Landers and Bruce Moore; Brenda Barr and Nolan Searcy; Karen Arness and Gerald Lackey; Virginia Johnson and Billy Wayne Cockrell.

Marilyn Bigham, Maxie Carey; Becky Gebert, Jimmy Tucker; Judy Gauble, Jimmy Whitefield; Mary Ann Nugent, Duane McCarty; Sue Helms, Marjane Dean Sewell were just a few seen at the mid-night show.

Judy Mikessell and Dickie Gregory; Sudie Hart and Billy Gate attended the semi-formal sponsored by the Teen-Age Club at Webb Friday night.

The VIC Club had a party Friday night, too. Lorene Mearns, Jim Strother; Gwyn McCollough, Don Davidson; Nancy Cunningham, Malorn Laxom; Jackie Tucker, Bobby Thurman, Sandra Murphy, and Melva Turner were just a few who attended.

Elections for favorites and best-around were held this week. These will be announced at the Christmas Formal, Saturday.

Kathleen Thomas, Toni Thomas, Johnny Roy Phillips, George Peacock, Lefty Morris, Peggy Isaacs, Jo Ann Ebling, Bill French, Budens, Gordon Dickenson, Carol Ann Phillips, Jane Cowper, Carolyn Sewell, Shirley Terry, and Danny Anderson were the delegates to Youth in Government. They left Thursday for four days in Austin.

The sportsman election is an annual occurrence of the Majors Club, an organization of future girls' physical education majors.

ADRIAN de GRAFFENREID

This year's sportsman is George Peacock. Congratulations, George! Dr. Willis Sutton made his annual visit to BSHS Thursday. He spent the day speaking to the various classes.

Our senior for this week may be small in physical appearance, but undoubtedly Adrian deGraffenreid is the inspiration for the phrase, "Dynamite comes in little packages."

Adrian was junior favorite last year and is a senior representative to the student council this year. He is a member of DeMolays and Hi-Y. In his sophomore and junior years, Adrian was on the basketball team and as a sophomore he played baseball. Oklahoma University is his destination next fall.

Etiquette Important For Dancers

By VIVIAN BROWN

It's the dance season, and the handwriting is in the mail. That first big dance poses many problems, especially when it is a holiday one, and an Oakland, Calif., mother has all the questions well in hand. She writes for answers so her 15-year-old daughter will be up on the dance etiquette:

Q. Where does your head belong—on your partner's shoulder or near him or should it be erect on your shoulders?

A. Only a couple who are engaged may be excused for using each other as cushions when dancing. The ideal stance is relaxed with the head held erect, but not stiffly.

Q. How should your partner hold you? Where should his hands be placed?

A. A very tall boy dancing with a small girl may be forced to hold her at the shoulder line. The usual spot is slightly above the waistline. (Some boys do take a death grip, and you can only get him to desist by asking him to take it easy. Don't hesitate.)

Q. Is it permissible for a girl to ask a boy to dance? Where there are more girls than boys?

A. Things can't be that tough for any girl. Think what would happen if he refused. Some boys would, too.

Q. Do you dance the first and last dance with the boy who took you to the dance?

A. You should certainly reserve these dances for him, and he should courteously ask you for them. But boys will be boys, so don't expect him to come through with perfect manners. (Also they like to get as much mileage out of a dance as possible, and it presents opportunities to meet other girls.)

Q. How do you accept or decline a request to dance?

A. If he asks—say "Yes, I'd like to dance." If you want to refuse, decline gracefully, saying something like "I'm sorry, I'm going to sit this out." (A smart boy will figure out you don't want to dance with him, unless you add: "Later perhaps," or some such encouraging remark. But it is good manners not to dance that dance with another, if you have turned one invitation down.)

Q. What do you say at the end of a dance number?

A. Be enthusiastic, not gushy if you enjoyed the dance. Say: "That was fun" or "I enjoyed that very much." If the dance was a bore, just smile and nod your head slightly when he thanks you (and he should. But who can tell.)

One point every girl should know is that if her dancing partner does anything distasteful, from clutching like an octopus to cavorting like a monkey, he should be left flat on the dance floor. You don't want to be a party to his exhibitionism.

Bethany Class Meets With Mrs. Harrell

Members of the Bethany Class, East Fourth Baptist Church, gathered Thursday night at the home of Mrs. C. M. Harrell for a Christmas social.

The hostess led in the opening prayer. Mrs. Ernest Stewart told the story of "The Fourth Wise Man" and closed the program with prayer.

Gifts were exchanged by the group, who also packed a box of food to be distributed by the Extension Department of the church. Refreshments were served to eight members and an associate member, Mrs. T. E. Cantrell.

Ready For Santa

All dressed up and waiting for Santa... she's a cunning sight in her "hustler" robe of quilted nylon tunic. She loves it for its grown-up look. Mother will love the small amount of care necessary to keep it looking brand spanking new. Just a fast rinsing, hang to drip dry, and this perky little robe will look as fresh as the day it was bought. Make sure your little daughter waits for Santa in style, too... in a wonderfully warm robe of nylon.

Jungle Rug

Off-beat gift is a Jungle Rug sleeping bag made of washable cotton corduroy. Kids play on, in and under it, watch TV, and cuddle inside for a nap with tiger's head as a pillow.

Checkerboard

Santa's helper has found that festive cotton terry towels make handsome presents for the whole family. Gay checked designs are among the season's new eye-catchers.

Mrs. LeFever Reviews Book For Alathean Party

The review of Van Dyke's "The Other Wise Man" was the highlight of the annual Christmas party for the Alathean Class, First Baptist Church, Friday night. Mrs. E. F. Henderson and Helen Hurt were hostesses for the affair at the latter's home.

Mrs. B. L. LeFever related the beautiful story of Artaban's pilgrimage to Bethlehem to worship the babe Jesus.

The story of the nativity was read from the scriptures by Mrs. Clyde Angel, class teacher, and was followed by group singing of carols.

Decorations followed the Christmas tree motif. There was a table of wrought iron and red candles, and another tree formed of gilded pine cones and dotted with colored balls.

Gifts were exchanged from a towering lighted tree, and Mrs. LeFever was presented with a gift by the hostesses.

Mrs. Henderson and Miss Hurt were assisted in serving refreshments by the latter's mother, Mrs. J. C. Hurt. Fourteen were present.

Knott Rebekahs Elect Officers

KNOTT — At a meeting of the Rebekah Lodge Thursday evening, Mrs. Dick Clay was elected noble grand; Mrs. W. M. Nichols, vice grand; and Mrs. O. B. Gaskins, treasurer. Mrs. Gerald Wilborn will serve as secretary. Six members were present.

W. T. Bolin was in Austin on business Saturday.

Mrs. Vivian McGuire of Colorado City is visiting her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Jones.

Mrs. Guy Ditto, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Ditto, Mrs. G. A. Foster and Edwin Ditto have returned from Waco, where they attended the funeral of a sister-in-law of the elder Mrs. Ditto.

You're Not Sissy To Pamper A Cold

It isn't being "sissy" to stay home from work a day or two at the onset of a head cold. Fact is, your employer may appreciate your good sense.

Colds cost American industry from 2 to 5 billion dollars a year in work lost. And much of this loss is due to people who have disregarded their colds until more serious illness sends them to bed for an extensive stay.

Best thing you can do when a head cold strikes you, according to health authorities, is simply keep comfortably warm in bed for a day, with a box of tissues handy, and drink and eat lightly.

A copy of grandmother's best cake pedestal enjoying such a warm welcome by today's busy fashionables. Admirable, the way it dresses up any plain-Jane dessert, serves for fruit, adds just the final touch of finesse when you entertain more than the family, at dinner. The glass plate is set into a footed silver-plate base, richly ornamented after Chippendale styling. Designed by Sacks, it has a 13 1/2" diameter and is almost 4" tall. 9.95

Miss Waddill, Mr. Alford Wed In Double Ring Rites Saturday

Marriage vows of Verneta Waddill, Big Spring, and Jim Pat Alford, Iraan, were solemnized Saturday evening in the Ellis Homes Church of Christ, T. E. Cudd, minister of Main Street Church of Christ, read the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Vern Orris Waddill, 307 NW 9th, and Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Alford, Iraan.

Baskets of white flowers were at either side of the altar, together with candelabra and palms.

The chorus from the Main Street Church of Christ, singing a cappella, sang "O Promise Me," "Because," the "Wedding Prayer" and, as the recessional, "May the Lord Bless and Keep You."

MRS. JIM PAT ALFORD

BRIDAL VOWS

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of imported Chantilly lace over white satin, cut with molded bodice. Scallop of the lace formed the V-neckline and the skirt ended in scallops. The long sleeves extended to a point over the hands and were caught with tiny satin-covered buttons identical to those at the back of the dress.

The bridal veil of tulle extended to finger-tip length and was fastened to a headpiece studded with iridescent sequins. A strand of pearls, the gift of her father, and pearl earrings, given to her by the bridegroom, were worn by the bride. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis.

Mrs. Neal Scooters, Lubbock, was the matron of honor, and Dolores Smith, Snyder, was bridesmaid. Both were college friends of the bride. Their identical street-length dresses of blue satin were styled in similar fashion as that of the bride. White gloves and headpieces of white net were worn, and each attendant carried a bouquet of white mums and feathered chrysanthemums.

Debbie Logan, Gatesville, cousin of the bride, was flower girl and wore a blue satin dress cut along lines of those of the attendants. On her head was a band of flowers.

Neal Scooters, a former classmate of the bridegroom, was best man. Bill Waddill and John Waddill, brothers of the bride, served as ushers as did Joe Weatherly, Crane. The former two lighted the altar tapers.

RECEPTION

The Colonial Room of the Howard House was the scene of the reception. Punch and cake were served from a table laid with a white organdy cloth and centered with the bride's bouquet. A miniature bride and groom was at the top of the three-tiered cake.

Mrs. Lloyd Logan, Gatesville, aunt of the bride, presided at the register. Others in the houseparty were Mrs. Doyle Tippitt, Sara Votow, Frances Meek, Jo Summerford, and Gay Bownds.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hale, all of Sheffield; Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Carney, Jean and Pat, Midland; Bob Ebeling, Ray Johnson, also of Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Holder, College Station.

WEDDING TRIP

Following a wedding trip to South Texas, the couple will make a home at 1110 W. 13th, Odessa.

For the trip, the bride selected a mauve dress of wool jersey, with which she wore a corsage of white gardenias. Her accessories were navy, and her feather hat matched the dress.

The new Mrs. Alford is a graduate of Gatesville High School and Abilene Christian College, where she was a member of Alpha Chi, "W" Club, Zeta Rho Social Club, and Kappa Delta Pi. She is employed by Humble Oil Co., Midland.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Iraan High School and attended Texas Western and Sul Ross Colleges. He was a member of the Kappa Psi Fraternity. Presently he is employed by F. M. Reeves and Son, Odessa.

Lamesans Hear Christmas Program

LAMESA — Members of the WSCS of the First Methodist Church held their Christmas program Thursday morning in the parlor of the church. The worship center featured a miniature country church with angels suspended over the arrangement.

Mrs. J. D. Jenkins was the speaker for the morning and was introduced by Mrs. J. L. Mayhew, program leader. In closing, the group formed a friendship circle and each then took a Christmas card with a shut-in's name on it to remember during the Christmas week.

Mrs. Davie Jones and Mrs. Guy Simpson were the hostesses for the meeting. The table featured a gold and white arrangement with angel ornaments. Thirty attended the program.

Five Generations

Mrs. Gene Crenshaw, seated at left, holds her great-granddaughter, Christi Kay McAdams, daughter of Tommy Gene McAdams, standing at right. His mother, Mrs. Tom McAdams, stands at the left, and Mrs. J. N. Cauble, mother of Mrs. Crenshaw is seated at the right. The group gathered recently in the home of Mrs. Cauble to honor her on her 86th birthday.

Stanton Rebekahs Set Party Monday

STANTON — The Stanton Rebekah Lodge met Monday night and made final plans for their annual Christmas party to be held at the IOOF hall. Families of the Rebekahs are to be special guests immediately following the business meeting of the lodge. Each person is asked to bring a gift.

Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Madison were honored with a miscellaneous shower Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. J. T. Mims.

Mrs. Madison is the former Ann Hanson of Sparenberg.

Mrs. Houston Woody was at the register with 30 guests registering.

Paper Towels Help Prevent Accidents

Getting the "spills" before they get you is the trick for kitchen floor safety. Water and grease drops splattered on linoleum are a contributor to accidents in the kitchen.

Here is a sensible way to avoid trouble. Tear off a piece of paper toweling and drop it over the "spill" as soon as it occurs. The new paper towels are substantially softer and more absorbent than some of the older ones with which you have had some experience. They soak up grease and other liquids rapidly.

Annual Family Party Given By HD Council

LAMESA — The annual Christmas party of the Home Demonstration Council for members and their families was held Thursday evening at Lamar Forrest Community Center. Forty-five attended the dinner with five clubs being represented.

Mrs. Claudia Ryan, one of the two charter members still active, gave the invocation. The other charter member, Mrs. J. H. Adkins, was introduced during the program.

Mrs. J. W. Richardson gave the welcome, with each member then introducing her family. Mrs. Ted Turner of Welch gave the Christmas story as recorded in the second chapter of Luke. A skit, "The Tater Family," was presented by five members of the council. Two gift presentations were made by Mrs. L. B. Jones to Mrs. Lynn Corbin, council chairman, and Mrs. Welton Blair, THDA chairman.

Reception Today Will Compliment Mrs. Lewis

Mrs. Inez Lewis, who has served 20 years as secretary of the First Baptist Church, will be honored at a reception today in the home of Dr. and Mrs. P. D. O'Brien, 101 Lincoln St.

Hours are from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m. and all members of the church and other friends of Mrs. Lewis are invited to call.

Mrs. Lewis, with four young children to support, came to Big Spring 25 years ago. Although this was at the depth of the depression, Mrs. Lewis still found time to serve the First Baptist Church.

In fact, it was her volunteer services during the summer of 1937 that led to her employment as the first secretary of the church. Ira Powell, then the director of music, education and finance, had his hands more than full so Mrs. Lewis pitched in to help clear up the back log of paper work.

When Powell resigned to accept a call to Borger, Mrs. Lewis became full time secretary. It was more than a decade before she even got part time help, and then she did not request it.

Meantime, the church budget has more than tripled and the proposed one will be four times what the figure was when she started. Sunday school attendance has almost doubled and several other activities have come into being and have made a proportionate demand in time on the office.

Mrs. Lewis is probably the most frugal person in the entire church when it comes to handling church finances.

Only one of her four children—Dan Lewis, a teacher and coach

AP Newsfeature Writer

The gay, unexpected gift is the one that delights the hearts of girls of all ages. And if it's a bit frivolous and definitely flattering, it's a sure-fire hit.

Little girls love to get festive packages of toiletries, which make them feel grown-up and glamorous. One new group has such things as toilet water, bubble bath and dusting powder in paper doll cutout packages. Both doll and wardrobe may be cut out from one package, while another turns into a dollhouse, and another makes a doll suitcase.

Big girls like decorative accessories, such as a wafer-thin, silver-dollar-size watch in colored enamel case, to hang on a belt by a king-size chain. The watch is budget-priced, made by a major company, and really keeps time.

Other gift ideas are jeweled wrist watch bands, long knitted scarfs in school colors, and anything with a monogram.

Mrs. Vandivere Is Reviewer For OES

LAMESA—A Christmas program was presented to members of the Order of Eastern Star at their regular meeting Thursday evening.

Mrs. Keith Vandivere told Henry Van Dyke's story, "How the Great Guest Came" with Mrs. Glen Cain giving the poem, "That Five Pointed Star."

During the business meeting, plans were made to adopt a family during the Christmas season. An initiation ceremony was conducted following the business meeting.

The refreshment table was laid with a white cloth and held greenery surrounding tall white tapers. Hostesses were Mrs. Charnell Jobe, Mrs. J. D. Kee and Mrs. Quinton Collins. Thirty-five were in attendance.

Candlelight Ceremony Read For Miss Williams, Warren Anderson

In a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening, Charlene Williams became the bride of Emell Warren Anderson in the First Methodist Church at Coahoma.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Williams of Coahoma; the parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. V. T. Anderson, Old San Angelo Highway.

For the rites, read by the Rev. Harold Morris, pastor of the church, the altar was covered with greenery and white carnations in combination with a row of white tapers.

The couple exchanged vows before a satin kneeling bench against an arch of greenery and carnations. Flanking this were two 18-branched candelabra; candles lighted the windows of the church, and pews were marked with white satin bows.

Mrs. Omar Pitman, organist, accompanied Lewis Loveless as he sang "Because." "The Lord's Prayer" and "You'll Never Walk Alone."

BRIDAL GOWN

The father of the bride gave her in marriage. She was attired in a gown of white satin and Chantilly lace and tulle, designed with portrait neckline with appliques of scalloped lace. A floor length skirt of alternating tulle and lace joined a fitted bodice on long torso lines. A veil of silk illusion was held in place by a half hat of the lace, trimmed with pearls. The bride carried a white orchid accented with pearls and tied with satin ribbon on a white Bible.

The Bible was something old; her bridal attire was new; she had borrowed the pearl earrings which she wore, and a garter was blue. In the bride's shoe was a penny.

Attending as matron of honor was a sister-in-law of the bride, Mrs. Skeet Williams of Hughes Springs. Bridesmaids were Mary Lee Glasgow of Longview and Ann Wanda Shive of Coahoma.

Nylon chifton over taffeta and net fashioned the frocks of the attendants. In a soft shade of blue, the fitted bodices joined full skirts of shirred chiffon over which floated center panels from drapery marking the portrait necklines.

Headresses were matching tiny hats, pearl-trimmed, with shoulder length veils.

On the bride's table was a white cutwork cloth with a center decoration of white carnations tied with pale blue ribbon. Blue candles completed the decor.

A three-tiered cake, decorated in blue and silver, was topped with a nosegay of pale blue; serving was by Nini Sawyer and Shirley Ann Erwin, both of Greenville and Mackie Brooks. Other members of the house party were Mrs. Vernon Hinsley, Mrs. Boone Cramer and Mrs. F. M. Holley.

CAMPUS CHATTER

By KATHY McREE

In the basketball game at the high school gym last Tuesday night, the Jayhawks won over Ranger by a score of 76-42. This was the seventh straight game which the Jayhawks have won. Coach Davis took the team to San Antonio to compete in the tournament this weekend.

HCJC is very proud of the Jayhawks. At the Temple Tournament last weekend, our team won the championship. This is the fourth consecutive time that HCJC has come out on top at this tournament.

Donald Lovelady had his appendix out last weekend and was just dismissed from the hospital Wednesday. Everyone was sorry to hear of his operation, but we are glad that he is back on his feet now.

The students of HCJC were honored Monday by a visit from Dr. Willis Sutton. Dr. Sutton spoke to the students at the assembly and held private conferences all day Monday and Tuesday. Dr. Sutton is an annual visitor to the campus and has helped many a student with his problems.

At the assembly Wednesday morning, Delbert Downing, manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, spoke to the students. We hope he can come back sometime soon.

San Marcos was the destination of several of the speech students this weekend. Entered in the speech tournament were Danne

Green, Janey Murphy, Doyle Phillips, and George Kozachuk. Mr. Fred Short, speech instructor, also attended. Discussion groups and poetry readings were the two main groups which the students planned to enter.

At the Christmas assembly Friday morning, the speech department will put on the play, "Dust of the Road," as a platform reading. Danne Greene, Doyle Phillips, Newlin James and Tommy Pickle will take part in this.

Speaking of assemblies, I have been asked to urge all students to attend these fine gatherings. The programs planned are usually very interesting, and you miss something when you don't attend.

The girls' basketball team, the HCJC Queens, played their first game Thursday night against the Hardin-Simmons Cowgirls. The "B" team won their game, but the "A" team had a little tough luck and lost. Let's all go out and support these girls. They have practiced hard and deserve a lot of backing.

School will be dismissed Friday noon for the Christmas holidays. We do not have to come back until Monday morning, Jan. 6, 1958.

Don't forget about the game next Tuesday night at Abilene when we will be playing McMurry College. The cheerleaders are trying to get as many students as possible to go, so if you have a chance, don't miss it.

COSDEN CHATTER

Guests From Japan Visit Refinery

Among visitors to the refinery the past week were Dr. Isaburo Watanabe and Mr. Shigeru Fujii from Japan.

Dot Hood will be on vacation beginning Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Williams are spending the weekend in San Saba visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Munselle. They plan to come home today.

Charles Hood and Joe Horton will begin a one week vacation, starting Monday.

Birt Allison was absent Friday due to illness.

Fayrene Davis and Betty Ford are spending the weekend in Pecos visiting a former Big Spring resident, Mary Walker. They will attend a Christmas party while there and return home today.

Girls from the sales and service departments entertained Miti Sprague with a luncheon at Cosden Country Club Friday. Mrs. Sprague is leaving the company to return to Illinois; later she will join her husband in Germany.

Demonstration Of Making Yule Decor Given FHA Groups

Girls in the Future Homemakers of America classes of high school saw a demonstration of making Christmas decorations Friday at the school.

Speakers were Mrs. John B. Knox and Mrs. D. S. Riley, who were presented by the Big Spring Garden Club as one of the club projects.

Meeting with the morning and afternoon classes of Mrs. Douglas Boren and Edna McGregor, the two demonstrated the way to make wreaths of greenery, of candy, door decorations, net Christmas trees, centerpieces of candles and greenery, also sprayed arrangements and gumdrop trees.

Club members join the classes each month for a discussion of some subject pertaining to gardening or a related activity.

Reagan Class Has Christmas Social

The annual Christmas party of the Barbara Reagan Class, First Baptist Church, was held Thursday night in the home of Mrs. Riley Foster. Mrs. W. F. Taylor, class teacher, was cohostess.

As the devotion, Mrs. Ben Johnson related "The Virgin's Story," taken from Cynthia Pearl Maus's book "Christ and the Fine Arts." Mrs. Taylor told the origin of the carol "Silent Night," and spoke briefly about Christmas customs in other countries.

Mrs. Marshall Cauley presided for a short business session, during which Mrs. C. L. Brooks was elected vice president. In lieu of the customary exchange of gifts, the group brought money. Part of it will be placed in the Lottie Moon Offering and the remainder will be used to buy food for a needy family.

Refreshments were served.

REHEARSAL DINNER

Small bags of rice marked places for 26 at the rehearsal dinner given by the parents of the bridegroom Friday evening at Coker's Restaurant. Candles and blue chrysanthemums decorated the tables. The bridal couple presented gifts to their attendants at the affair.

Golden Rule Class Meets Friday For Yule Observance

Members of the Golden Circle Sunday School Class of Phillips Memorial Baptist Church met Friday afternoon for a Christmas party in the home of Mrs. C. F. Whittington. Mrs. W. P. Mims was cohostess.

Mrs. Truman Dennis brought the devotion on the Christmas Story and this was followed by group singing of carols. Cheryl Whittington accompanied them at the piano.

Miss Whittington, accompanied by Judy Engle at the piano, sang "Silent Night." "Result of Christ" was read by Mrs. R. J. Barton, teacher of the class. She was presented with a gift from the group by Mrs. W. C. Turner.

A basket of food was assembled to be taken to a needy family, and refreshments were served to 15 members and a guest, Mrs. G. P. Tumbleton.

Connecticut People Are Ackerly Visitors

ACKERLY — Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rogers of Plainville, Conn., are here for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Dozier.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck Baker and family visited in Seminole and Seagraves Sunday.

A guest of Mr. and Mrs. Smittle Smith has been her aunt, Mrs. W. R. Carter of Dawson.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rudeseal, Mrs. Tommie Miles and son and Mrs. Ira Myles were recent guests of the John Rudeseal Jr. family in Big Spring.

A family gathering was held in the home of Mr. Curtis White, with Freida White home from Midland. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Billy Hambrick and children and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gillespie.

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Balch of Sparenberg were Sunday visitors in the home of their son, J. D. Mabry and family.

MR. AND MRS. T. E. SANDERS

Open House Today To Mark 50th Anniversary

An open house this afternoon will be a compliment for Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Sanders, who will be observing their Golden Wedding anniversary.

Friends are invited to call between the hours of 2 to 5 p.m. at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Jeff Chapman, 909 West 5th. Hostesses for the tea will be three of the couple's daughters, Mrs. Chapman, Mrs. Miller Russell and Mrs. L. C. Yater, all of Big Spring.

There are four more children living, out of the 10 born to Mr. and Mrs. Sanders. They are Mrs. Lige McCormick of San Francisco, Calif.; Mrs. James Sanders and moved to a spot north of Big Spring in 1923.

In 1932, the honorees moved to Big Spring and now live at 810 West 5th.

Decorations for the tea this afternoon include a wedding cake with frosting in a bridal motif. Napkins will bear the names, "Sallie and Ed, 1907-1957."

The couple was married on Dec. 15, 1907 at the home of the bride's parents in Garden City. The two had met at prayer meeting, but Sallie Bogard was "too young to be dating" in the opinion of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Bogard.

After the wedding, they moved to Midland County, where Sanders became a farmer; he had been a mail carrier before they married. He continued to farm when they

Modern Woman's Forum Has Christmas Luncheon

Mrs. Fred Whitaker, president of Modern Woman's Forum, was hostess to the group for a Christmas luncheon Friday at the Wag-on Wheel.

Tiny Christmas trees marked the places for 17 members and a guest, Mrs. Edith K. Fisher of St. Louis, Mo., who is a former member. Runners of ivy and red berries decorated the table, which held a central arrangement of red candles and ornaments.

Mrs. W. A. Laswell gave the invocation. The devotion was offered by Mrs. C. W. Parmenter, who read the nativity story from Luke, and "Twelfth Night," Nancy Bird Turner.

Members will help with a Christmas party for one of the wards at the state hospital on Dec. 19. They brought cans of food and gifts of money for a needy family during the holidays.

After the program, gifts were exchanged from a pink tree trimmed with blue balls.

The next meeting will be at 3 p.m. Jan. 10 in the home of Mrs. R. L. Warren. This is a change in meeting places previously announced.

Musical Program Is Given At Dinner For Delphian Club

LAMESA — A gold candle Christmas tree formed the central point for the serving table at the annual Christmas dinner of the '48 Delphian Club Tuesday evening at the Delphian Clubhouse.

The clubhouse was decorated throughout with gold and white Christmas arrangements with gold magnolia leaves and pine cones surrounding white tapers and bells on the banquet tables.

A musical program was presented by Mrs. W. J. Beckham and Wright Boyd, organists, and Richard Crawley, cornetist. Joe Hansard led in singing carols.

Hostesses for the dinner were Mrs. Dudley Boldin, Mrs. Marshall Middleton, Mrs. J. D. Borland, Mrs. Wright Boyd, Mrs. Norman Staker, Mrs. C. T. Beckham, Mrs. Raymond Orson, Mrs. Ray Renner, Mrs. L. C. White Jr. and Mrs. Ken Kummer. Approximately 100 attended.

The Finis Buggs Host Buffet for BTU Class

Mr. and Mrs. Finis Bugg were hosts for a Christmas buffet supper at their home Friday evening. Guests were members of the "Be First" Training Union class of Hillcrest Baptist Church.

Quartet tables were festive with candles and Christmas baubles amid sprays of cedar. Appointments carried out the holiday motif and coffee was served in Santa Claus mugs.

Floyd Henderson, president, presented the devotion, after which the group sang carols.

In addition to the ten members present, there were two guests, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Dyer.

Ackerly Girl On Tour With Choir

BROWNWOOD—Dolores Mabrey of Ackerly is a member of the 35-voice Howard Payne College a cappella choir that started a four-day tour Friday.

A junior student, Miss Mabrey is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Mabrey of Ackerly, and is a graduate of Ackerly High School.

Scheduled for the tour are six appearances in Comanche, Beeville and San Antonio. The choir presented Handel's "The Messiah" Friday in the First Baptist Church of Comanche; will sing at the morning service today in the First Baptist Church of Beeville; and will join the choir of the San Antonio First Baptist Church to present "The Messiah" this evening.

The HPC choir will sing for the young people's fellowship of the San Antonio First Baptist Church today and will give a full concert in the church Monday. At noon Monday, the choir will sing for the San Antonio Pastors Conference.

Twin Girls Born To Reaveses In England

Lt. and Mrs. Don R. Reaves are announcing the arrival of twin daughters on Dec. 6 at Rutlip AFB Hospital, London, England. Katherine weighed 5 pounds, 5 ounces at birth, and Karoline weighed 6 pounds, 9 ounces. The Reaveses have another child, Bonnie, who will be three on Dec. 19.

Lt. Reaves, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Reaves, 601 E. 12th, was born and reared in Big Spring. He has been stationed at Rutlip for the past 18 months and is scheduled to remain there for another year and a half.

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

Plans for a very merry Christmas are being made at the home of MR. AND MRS. LAWRENCE ROBINSON who are looking forward to the arrival of the youngest daughter and her family who have been stationed in Chipose, Japan. LT. AND MRS. EDWARD HART and young son, Nathan, are expected to arrive sometime next week to spend Christmas here. Lt. Hart will be stationed at Greenville, Miss., after his leave is terminated.

DEANNA O'BRIEN will return today after spending the weekend in Fort Worth as the guest of Pamela Thomas. Miss O'Brien was a guest at a dinner party Saturday night at the Western Hills Hotel which was a celebration in honor of Miss Thomas' birthday anniversary. The honoree is a niece of Mrs. Dewey Mark.

MR. AND MRS. R. L. REED of Sayre, Okla., are expected this week for a two weeks visit in the home of their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Anderson.

Returning to Mexia Friday after spending several days here were MRS. F. B. SUTHERLAN and her sister, Mrs. Louise Scriber who is visiting her from Coral Gables, Fla. They were guests of Mrs. Sutherland's daughter, MRS. VELMA ANDERSON.

GROVER GOOD of Fort Worth has been busy getting about town seeing all of his many Big Spring friends before continuing his trip to El Paso, where he will spend Christmas with his daughter, MRS. CECIL BEAN, and her family. Mr. Good was, for many years, the YMCA general secretary here and spent a lifetime in Y work.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE BROOKS are looking forward to having their children and the three little grandchildren here for Christmas. LT. AND MRS. RALPH BROOKS and their children, Laura Lynn and Ralph Gregory of Victorville, Calif., are in Lubbock at present and will visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Blum, this week. They plan to come here for Christmas week. MRS. C. A. WYRICK and her little Lynda Kaye, who are staying with her parents until February when she will join her husband in Dreux, France, will also be there.

Members of the local Appleton family will join with out-of-town members probably next Sunday at the cabin of Mrs. J. H. Appleton at Lake J. B. Thomas. From Big Spring will be MR. AND MRS. J. L. APPLETON and their two daughters, and MR. AND MRS. ELDON APPLETON and their

Junior Historians Get State Charter

Big Spring High School history students go further with their studies than merely perusing textbooks. A large number of the students in Texas History, taught by John Perry Yates, are members of the Big Spring Junior High Historian Club, affiliated with the state organization. Shown above examining the recently received charter are Lynn McMahan and John Curtis, two members of the club.

THE THREE R'S—TODAY'S VERSION

History Is Offered As Guidepost To Future

By SAM BLACKBURN
Task of teaching history to students in the Big Spring city schools is a problem in that the dividing line between this subject, geography and what is generally called "government" is hard to define.

The three go together and yet they are kept separate. To overcome this difficulty insofar as possible, the student is provided opportunity to combine his studies of the subjects in an effort to better achieve the result desired from the effort.

NOT TOO POPULAR
Most students in Big Spring schools do not like history.

"Why bother with this stuff—it's already happened," they argue. "What we are interested in is what is happening now and what will happen tomorrow."

It is not enough to quote the widely known summation: "No man is fit to be entrusted with the control of the PRESENT who is ignorant of the PAST, and no people who are indifferent to their PAST need hope to make their FUTURE great."

Realization of the truth of this statement can only come with experience and age. Yet all leaders agree that the better knowledge a person may have of the history of his state, his nation and the world, the better citizen he will be.

It is not easy, always, to explain that studying what has happened in the past is highly essential to an understanding of what may be transpiring today and an equally important guidepost to what may be coming up in the future.

However, not all students, it must be understood, are in the group which finds history a bore and a nuisance. There are many boys and girls who revel in the work.

TEXAS HISTORY
Contrary to a very widely held belief, Texas history is not a "required" subject in the schools. There is ample Texas history offered but it is not a requisite subject for a senior to receive his diploma.

In the seventh grade only, Texas history and Texas geography are required subjects. It is when the student has advanced to high school that Texas history becomes an "elective" subject and can either be pursued by the student or shunted aside.

History begins for the student in the fifth grade. Here he studies United States history and the work is correlated with U. S. geography. When he reaches the sixth grade, there is no definite history study required but he does encounter world geography.

In the eighth grade, he meets a new and broader field—American history. This again is combined with American geography. Here the title is indicative of the study—not only is the United States involved in the subject but all of the other countries which comprise that vast area categorically classed as America are also included.

CHANGE IN PROSPECT

Georgia Tech Men Described 'Ideal'

ATLANTA (AP)—Georgia Tech men report their ideal date doesn't drink or smoke, is serious, sweet, conservatively dressed, broadminded and kissable on the first date.
She's also a little over 5 feet 2, has eyes of blue and brown hair. The attributes and statistics were revealed in a poll conducted by Technique, student newspaper. The editors said 441 of the school's 8,400 students answered the questions.

Leather Bags Grow Larger

The lean and hungry look of leather handbags has given way to a plump and prosperous one. Many bags now resemble baggage in shapes close to the old Gladstone and the new attache case. Some have luggage hardware and lock-and-key closings.

Interesting new daytime bags to give included combinations of soft-grained dull-finished black leather with maroon suede, grape-colored smooth leather with silver frame and closing and taupe-colored Scotch grain trimmed with smooth leather in a lighter gray. The beloved black suede bag looks new this year combined with textured leathers.

Use Mirrors To Dramatize Holiday Scenes, Decorations

Gleaming surfaces of polished plate glass which lend distinction to your rooms throughout the year can be drafted at Christmas to create their own special brand of enchantment.

Mirrors can be used to dramatize an arrangement of Christmas greens or flowers or can themselves be used for Christmas scenes.

June Cabot, home arts consultant for Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass, suggests a housewife take an informal census of the mirrors and study ways of using them to advantage. Decide on which ones to "build" Christmas scenes with and which ones you will use to reflect and enhance a decorative arrangement of greens.

There are many ways to create a holiday scene on a mirror. For instance, you might use small Christmas angels which are usually available in the stationery stores for package decorations in groups as a heavenly choir. A glass fiber material, Decra-Brite, which is safe to handle and cuts easily, may be used for clouds to create a realistic scene.

Small fry in the home will be intrigued by a scene of Santa Claus with his eight reindeer and a sled piled high with toys. You can probably find the Santa and reindeer in paper cut-outs. For the toys, watch the magazines for colored advertisements before the holidays, cut them out and paste them on the sled.

For more artistic arrangements you might create a woodland scene with bits of spruce and evergreens for trees attached to the mirror with florists' clay and sprayed with gold when reflected in the gleaming surface of a polished plate glass mirror.

Small artificial fruit can be combined with greenery for a garland around an unframed mirror.

DOLLS COME FOR all tastes and growing stages. Youngsters with (left) a Hummel goose girl and night watcher of rubber may turn collectors after play days pass. Do's And Don't's For Puzzled Shopper Seeking Yule Presents

With Christmas coming, the problem of what to get as gift surprises for family members rears its head. However, to save time and disappointment, expert gift shoppers compiled a list of do's and don't's for holiday shopping.

1. Do shop early.
2. Do ask the shopping aides in stores for advice. Five minutes with a shopping aide can produce dozens of usable ideas, for he or she knows plenty about gift items available.
3. Do get added attractions — if they aren't too expensive — that the person who gets the gift can talk about to his friends. For example, if Dad wants an outboard motor, consider getting him one

Keep Yule Hazardless

Christmas is more fun when it's a happy, hazardless family project. Enlist dad's and youngsters' help in making Christmas 1957 the brightest, happiest and safest holiday ever.

The Pfaff Sewing Institute suggests safe Christmas trimmings for house and tree that are fun and easy for everyone in the family to make.

Colorful angel-shaped Christmas tree ornaments made of felt, plastic or leather won't break, cut fingers or scatter glass fragments over the floor. Embroider a Christmas tree skirt to catch dried pine needles which might become a fire hazard. A one-piece Santa Claus window and door trimmings and a giant family-sized felt stocking for the fireplace are easy to sew and unbreakable, too.

With extra helping hands working about the house, be doubly safety conscious. Remember to keep scissors, pins, needles and other tools off chairs and floors. Corner wires. Don't place them across or under rugs where they are a fire hazard and endanger baby. Keep ladders out of the way and don't let small children climb them.

Look Around For The Right Mirrors For Arrangement

Gift shopping for decorative mirrors takes some pre-buying scout work. New tall and thin, small and square ones to use as multiples don't just fall into a beautiful arrangement.

First measure the horizontal and vertical wall space to be used. Select mirrors with room decor in mind. Tall and slim mirrors add to room height while squares add width.

To determine wall space a grouping will cover, divide width of mirror into width of wall space and add two or three inches for space between each mirror.

In using single small mirrors with pictures, again hang so the entire cluster forms a unified appearance.

Growing Lazy?

Recent studies show consumers look for time and energy saving appliances. They buy automatic washing machines and toasters more often than the nonautomatic types, for example.

Adults Prefer Durable Toys

Old St. Nick will be a weary man Dec. 26. He will deliver more than 245 million toys to America's homes alone.

And these, say his helpers — the American toy-makers — will be intriguing playthings designed with a purpose for the 60 million youngsters under 17.

Surveys by the Toy Manufacturers Assn. reveal that durability and good value sell toys to parents, aunts and uncles. Coupled with these factors, however, is the desire for toys to hold a child's interest and offer hours of play value.

For this reason major items will be improved. Bicycles, sleds, trains and dolls — will be more versatile and realistic. New types of runners on sleds permit children to ride on thin, unpacked snow, for example.

Television not only has revived the Old West, but stirred up a new crop of Annie Oakleys. About seven million guns and holsters are purchased for girls in the 2-to-6 year old group.

For Santa's Helper

For fun afoot during the evening, give her a pair of slippers. Conventional heavyweight socks with reinforced soles, they give barefoot comfort combined with provability for trips to the refrigerator.

Steel Safety

Persons who receive stainless steel gifts should never use ordinary scouring pads to remove caked spots. Usually extra soaking loosens the material. If scouring is necessary, use stainless steel wool pads.

A Bible Thought For Today

Now them that are such we command and exhort by our Lord Jesus Christ, that with quietness they work, and eat their own bread. (2nd Thessalonians 3:12)

It Looks Like A Good Christmas

From where we sit, it looks like a good Christmas. Of course we don't know the figures on Christmas buying, especially in relation to merchandise stocks, but we do see evidences of something else that goes for making a good Christmas.

For instance, more than 200 people will go to the Big Spring State Hospital on Thursday evening to put on a huge party for the 800 or more patients there. They will be representing probably a thousand or two other people in clubs and various organizations here and in this area as they distribute gifts and refreshments valued considerably beyond $3,000. Not a single patient will be forgotten; every one will receive a nice substantial present in addition to sharing in the joy of the party and of the season.

Other groups have been at work at the Veterans Administration Hospital, and giftshops have been opened there to help the patients send remembrances home. Volunteers, and particularly those from service auxiliaries and the Red Cross Gray Ladies, have been busy, too, writing letters and Christmas cards.

Our city firemen, as usual, have been putting in heroic work to repair toys and get them ready for Christmas distribution. Scores of others have had a part by contributing to the Christmas Cheer Fund (which still needs your help, by the way).

The Salvation Army has taken scores and scores of family applications for Christmas aid, and many Sunday School classes, departments and other groups "adopted" families from this list. So it looks like we are remembering "the least of these," and that makes it a mighty good Christmas.

Memorials And Challenges

Not until people have the opportunity to actually see for themselves will they realize what the recent bequests from the Dora Roberts Foundation will mean for our community.

Already work is under way on one project, in the final planning stages for two others, and in the mill for the third. The old transient lodge at the Dora Roberts Salvation Army Citadel has been demolished and by the end of the year foundations for a new, more adequate plant will rise from the ground. Plans have been approved for remodeling the Roberts home and converting it into a library for Howard County. Trustees of Howard County Junior College have been told that bids may be asked by Jan. 10 for the new student union building made wholly possible by the foundation. The YMCA is quietly laying the groundwork for a major capital funds campaign which has been given special emphasis by a Foundation grant.

Of all these investments, none will so dramatize the generosity of the late Mrs. Roberts, as administered through her trustees on the Foundation, as will the student union building. This indeed is a wonderful plant, simple yet striking; a relatively big unit encompassing some 15,000 square feet and include a dining room of 3,800 square feet and a recreation room of 1,400 square feet. Its use of quarry tile, and glass will provide some unique and beautiful effects around a patio. It will, like these other objects of the gifts, be around to do good a long, long time after the oilwells which made them possible have ceased to yield their treasures. They will stand not only as fitting memorials but we hope also as challenging examples.

President's Devotion To Duty

WASHINGTON—There is something so immeasurably heroic about President Eisenhower's decision to go to Paris for the NATO meeting that it stands out as an inspiring example of self-sacrifice in marked contrast to the passion of self-interest which dominates the mood of the national capital nowadays.

From the moment it became known that Mr. Eisenhower was sick, there were ill-considered demands for his resignation not only here but abroad. Some critics went so far as to suggest that, even if he recovered, he should retire. Little thought was given to the picture that could present itself later of a man, who, having been given signal honors by his country, suddenly abandoned his office and, after a brief period of rest, emerged as an ex-president in full possession of his faculties but yet as a deserter from his job—and this notwithstanding the fact that he had publicly accepted a four-year contract of service.

Only those who don't know the kind of man Dwight Eisenhower really is could have suggested that he resign merely because he has had three illnesses and might possibly have another. It isn't Mr. Eisenhower's nature to consider what might happen to him in the future—he is concerned only with the facts of the present. He gave his word to the American people that, if he really became incapacitated, he would step aside. But by this he envisaged a physical disability of such proportions as to render him actually incapable of performing the duties of his office.

Much of the discussion about the handling of public business at the White House since President Eisenhower suffered a mild ailment last month has been motivated by political factionalism and personal animosities. Thus, some of those individuals on Capitol Hill who don't like Sherman Adams, chief presidential assistant, haven't hesitated to say so and to demand that the vice president preside at legislative conferences.

There was coincidentally a lot of favorable mention of Vice President Nixon by sources usually unfriendly to him. This, too, was transparent. The partisans know that the President's personality is still a strong asset of the Republican party and that, once Ike were to remove himself from the scene, the assault troops in the Democratic party could launch their publicity barrages against Mr. Nixon.

It isn't love of Mr. Nixon but desire to see the Republican position dismantled which causes much of the nice talk about how desirable it would be to have the vice president step in and take charge. Mr. Nixon is under no illusions and has handled himself well in a delicate situation not of his making.

The theory that there could be a "temporary president" or an "acting president" has been argued, but this cannot be done lawfully except by constitutional amendment. All the other schemes for delegation of powers to the vice president during an indefinite period of convalescence of the President run up against the danger that they would merely accumulate lawsuits and cast doubt on the legitimacy of many an important action taken. The Constitution can be amended quickly if there is unanimity of thought on what is proposed. On a question of this kind, if two-thirds of Congress approved the proposal, it would go through the state legislatures within a few months, as has happened before with amendments that had popular support.

Amid these curious conflicts and currents in Washington, there stands the majestic figure of the President. He has struggled for five years now with the problems of state at a time in world history that is nerve-racking and exhausting to leaders everywhere. But he stands patiently and calmly today, with the hopes of the world focussed on him. He is dedicated to peace and reconciliation. He symbolizes, in world affairs, restraint and detachment from the hysterical mood whipped up by "Sputniks" and by those who seek to play politics with human misery.

Long before the historians have taken up their task of appraising contemporary American Presidents, there will be recognition of the usefulness of Dwight Eisenhower and his devotion to duty. Here is a modest man, with human fallibility, to be sure—a man who has made mistakes of judgment, as have other Presidents—but a man who has never lost the instincts of fidelity and service that were bred in him through the years he wore the uniform of his country. He goes to Paris because he has the courage to give his life, if necessary, to the cause of his countrymen. He goes because he has the confidence of the American people and is conscious of the potentiality of American leadership. He goes because he has faith that a divine Providence will give him the strength to help bring some light soon to a gloomy and discouraged world.

Courtly Problem

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP)—A courthouse still is a court house to Assistant County Supervisor Frank B. Peers.

He raised the question of spelling before a meeting of 34 other supervisors who could not offer help.

The dictionary, he said, calls it the "courthouse"—one word.

But there are many people who insist it is the "court house"—two words.

And then, he added, you look outside and at the east door of the building a huge sign says it is the "County Building."

No Rest For Weary

COLUMBUS, Miss. (AP)—Arthur Hicks made two mistakes when he crawled into an automobile to sleep off a little too much Saturday night merry making.

Police said the automobile he chose was parked on the police department parking lot and belonged to the department's janitor, Mike Hill.

Hill found Hicks in his car and police charged him with public drunkenness.

Some Forces Counteract The Decline In Business

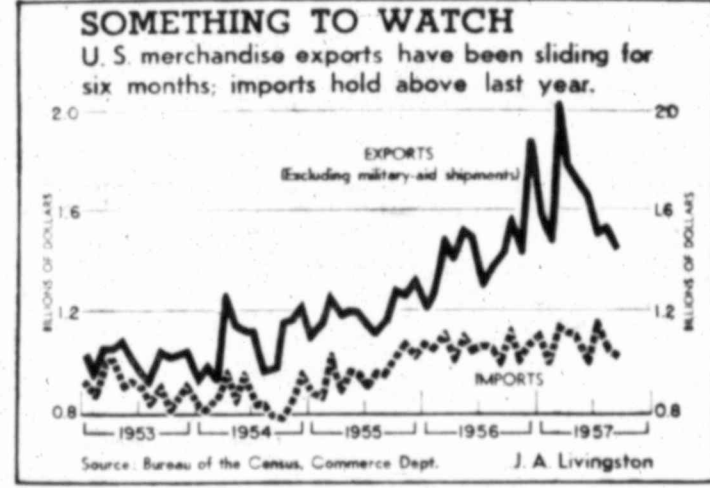

Pretty soon we're going to have an argument going in this country, which will give the members of the American Economic Association who meet in Philadelphia after Christmas a question to wax wroth about: Is this thing that's going on in Detroit, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Kansas City, Cleveland, New York, and other places a readjustment or a recession? Some people can get pretty warm debating what to call a business decline.

This can be agreed upon. The decline is gathering statistical momentum. It's hard to tell where the bigger grumble passes are—in Pittsburgh or Detroit. Steel operations have fallen below 70 per cent of capacity. Merchants of America's "volume metal" no longer conceal disappointment under a 1958 smile. They weren't dismayed when production dropped during the summer. But the fourth quarter hasn't brought the hoped-for upturn.

As for the automobile companies, well... Ford Motor Co. announced layoffs in the Detroit area of 3,300 employees, and another 1,500 have been laid off around the country. Production schedules for the industry, which ought to be rising at this time of year—load dealers up for Christmas and post-Christmas sales—are tapering off. Dealers are already loaded—and not with holiday spirits. Only General Motors, which restyled violently, and American Motors, with its "big, car inside small car outside" Rambler, have set production schedules higher than a year ago.

Layoffs are not confined to steel and autos. Smith-Corona announced a two-week suspension for 1,600 workers at Syracuse to reduce inventories. The low estate of carloadings has aggravated curtailment of outside operations—maintenance—by railroads. And from time to time this fall, producers of consumers durable goods—refrigerators, TV sets, washing machines, etc.—have laid off workers.

Unemployment hit an eight-year high for November. The combined report of the Departments of Commerce and Labor showed 3,188,000 workers without jobs, an increase of 680,000 over October. True, unemployment usually bounces in November. But not this much. Last year's October-November rise was 569,000. Joblessness is 30 per cent above November, 1956.

The loose labor market manifests itself on college campuses. The University of Michigan reports demand for student loans "at a record-breaking rate." Higher college costs and job scarcity are the two principal causes.

Nonferrous metals point up the "slump." London spot copper has dropped to a seven-year low, at 22 cents a pound, introducing a grave question: How long can the American price hold at 27 cents? Lead also is down in London—to 10 cents a pound, versus 13 cents here.

A perplexing divergence this. Mineral and agricultural prices have tended downward, but finished steel, automobiles, and manufactured foods have gone up. This leads union leaders, such as George Meany and Walter Reuther, to demand higher wages to offset higher living costs, which they blame on inflationary profits.

This is America's economic whodunit: Who pushed what up? Proper answer: Both. Each side blames the other for what they are jointly responsible. To add to domestic difficulties, a slowing down in business in western Europe has reduced demand for U. S. goods. Exports are down (see chart). And European countries watch the American downturn nervously. If American imports decline, the dollar problems of foreign countries will be aggravated. This is the traditional vicious spiral. One decline accentuates another.

Around The Rim

Oh, Well, It's Just Once A Year

'Twas 10 days before Christmas,
And the town was a-flurry;
As all through the shops
The people did scurry.

The windows were packed,
And so were the shelves
And clerks in serving you
Were outdoing themselves.

And Mama with her gift list
And I tearing my hair,
Knew that eventually,
We must join crowds there.

For though a long winter's nap
I would have preferred,
Filling the gift list
Can no more be deferred.

For there's Janie and Willie
And Mary and Lou
And Lordy, we cannot forget
Dearest Aunt Sue.

And the Hatfields, McCoys
And Kalikaks, too,
They have everything!
Oh, what'll we do?

After the stocks
Have been given a look,
There's always the matter
Of a thin pocketbook.

First get a tree—
And that costs some more;
Then that light cord
Won't reach 'cross the floor.

And last year's ornaments
Are always gone bust.
Fancier get-gaws
Are definitely a must.

Then the wife goes around
With a meaningful "B-r-r-r"
Nothing will do her
But a coat of fine fur.

And little Henry
Who has a staunch tricycle

Has now reached the age
To have a big bicycle.
And Judy's new doll
Must be the best yet,
With eyes that will close
And dildies that wet.

It looks like to me,
To fill every stocking,
I'll take money
Of a sum simply shocking.

To the loan office we go
To beg a bit more
Although a note's been due
Since nineteen fifty-four.

Who, by the way,
Is this fellow Saint Nick?
Can he tell how to swing
The financing trick?

He says he stays busy
Twelve months in the year;
But our money is gone
When Christmas draws near.

Oh, his eyes twinkle,
And he's a jolly soul,
But they must not count costs
Up at the North Pole.

But he's been making
Folks happy for years,
And without fail
Has always drawn cheers.

So let's get busy
And make like a Santy,
Even if some gifts
Must be a bit scanty.

Keep telling yourself
The Spirit comes first;
What if credit is strained
Or even gone burst?

For isn't Christmas
The time of good cheer?
Thank goodness it comes
Just once every year!

The Need For Dedicated People

Back during the late spring and early summer, when Billy Graham's New York Crusade was filling Madison Square Garden night after night, my family and I attended as often as we could.

On one such occasion I was searching the faces of the huge fifteen-hundred-voice choir, which filled one end of the Garden, for my daughter Margaret, who had been singing in it regularly. Suddenly, my eyes fell upon a familiar face, but I couldn't immediately recall just who this was.

Then, I remembered. It was Ethel Waters, one of the great singers of our time on the musical stage, whose most recent triumph was her straight dramatic role in the stage and screen version of "Member of the Wedding." And now here she was, humbly anonymous in the role of a church member and working Christian, her famous voice submerged in hundreds of others, all singing together in the Crusade to bring people to God. Moreover, judging from her facial expression, she was enjoying her participation hugely.

Her career has been a spectacular one, and just a few years ago, when she published her autobiography, she told the story of the troubled life she had led and how, as she grew older and wiser, her religion had come to be more and more meaningful. Today she feels that her faith has saved her physical and mental health, besides adding real significance to her talent.

The humble way Ethel Waters gave her great gifts to help in the Billy Graham Crusade, without publicity, is evidence of her sincerity.

In the crisis of our time people of outstanding ability have a special responsibility to render creative service. Ability is a gift. When it is given to anyone it is evidence that the Creator believes especially in the person so favored. To take the gift of special ability and use it selfishly or for unworthy ends actually is a demonstration of ingratitude to God. The solemn fact is that the misuse of ability has often resulted in its withdrawal. The gift may vanish.

The ability to sing, to speak, to act, to write, is a rare benefit which the Creator in His wisdom has seen fit to bestow on some people. When any person so blessed has the depth of character to dedicate his talents to the service of God and mankind, his talents are immeasurably magnified.

Not only on the great stage of human affairs are people of ability to be found, but in every community in the land there are natural born leaders, people of charm, individuals with power to lift life to new levels. In every schoolroom in America are boys and girls with the spark of genius in their minds and hearts. They have it in them to be somebody in a big way. And the biggest way of being somebody is not to attain money or fame, but to be a lifter of human beings.

The great struggle for higher level living which characterizes our day and age is going on today in every town where people live. The nation, the world, and God Himself call for service by dedicated people to whom talent has been given. The old poem which prayed, "God give us men" was never more important than at the present time.

If all the capable leadership people of America will at this time humbly ask God how they may best serve unselfishly, the great and critical problems of our time can be solved.

Heavy Doubt Hangs Over NATO Meeting

PARIS — It would be impossible to exaggerate the suspicion and doubt that hang heavy in the atmosphere on the eve of the North Atlantic Conference of heads of government.

The announcement that President Eisenhower will attend the conference, which had been more or less taken for granted for several days, has done little to resolve the doubt.

The widespread impression here is that while the President is making a courageous gesture by coming to Paris so soon after his latest illness, he is a semi-invalid who cannot provide the vigorous leadership necessary to reinvigorate the Western alliance. It is felt that the drama of his recovery and his flight to Paris is being enacted for an American audience with a host of American reporters concentrating on his looks and his words rather than on the vital questions relating to the future of NATO.

The crisis of confidence that is apparently widespread in Europe has to do not so much with the recent highly-advertised failure of the American leadership, or the lack of it, in view of the third repetition of the Eisenhower cycle of seizure, recovery and gradual return to a widely-heralded state of full recovery. Europeans no longer believe that he can carry the burden of responsibility which inevitably goes with American leadership.

All this is counterbalanced by American doubts as to whether the French can pull themselves together and give sufficient support to a government that can begin to resolve the grave problems this country confronts.

First and foremost of these problems is the Algerian war. The fact that the United Nations has just passed another innocuous resolution on the Algerian issue means merely that France has another year in which to try to end the war that is costing a billion dollars annually and pinning down upwards of half a million French troops. Repeatedly, as in the long tragedy of Indo-China, French politicians have promised that the war was about to end.

Related to the Algerian war is the bankruptcy of the French treasury. Premier Felix Gaillard is trying to carry some of the essential economic reforms, but he is being resisted every step of the way, and if it were not for the forthcoming NATO meeting, his uncertain government might already have fallen.

Thus far France has made no direct approach to Washington for financial help. Perhaps this can come in sufficient quantity through the International Bank, although that is doubtful.

Mr. Eisenhower, who will be the only head of state as well as head of government to attend the NATO meeting, will be received with all due honors.

The American proposal to step up the science training in NATO is said to suggest the need for 500 science scholarships in the United States for the other NATO powers. This is felt to be in itself far too small a program, and there is a strong belief that science training should be increased in the European countries.

The Eisenhower presence may bring a miraculous alteration in the present atmosphere. But Europeans, in their present mood, are not counting on it, and a merely polite meeting of men who head the governments of the Western Powers will not fill the need of this moment of urgency.

Bible Words for Today

I COR. 13:12—"For now we see in a mirror dimly, but then face to face, Now I know in part; then I shall understand fully, even as I have been fully understood." (RSV)

Life begins with the question "why?" Children beseege their parents with numerous questions, most of which are prefaced with "why?" Maturity only intensifies our questions: "Why should my loved one have died?" "Why do some evil people prosper?" "Why should I behave myself on a date?" In a moment of reflection upon these ever-present questions Paul suggested the above advice to the Corinthians. Satisfactory answers never come easy and there always seem to be too few, but then with the sharpness of a flash of lightning we get a new insight into our questions. Our Christian faith gives us such an insight in the person of Jesus Christ who revealed God as Love. If we have captured this glimpse of truth most of our questions about life will be temporarily satisfied until the future life where we shall grow into a fuller understanding.

Old Cards Bring New Cheer

M. C. Grigsby, manager of the C. R. Anthony Co. store here, sorts his 38,000 Christmas cards — which he purchased from Big Spring High School students for a penny apiece. Pictures and designs on the cards will be clipped out for use on gift wrappings. High school students collected the 38,000 cards in a week after a story about the drive appeared in The Herald. The $380 they received for the cards will help fill the Christmas cheer baskets they're preparing for needy Big Spring families.

Candies Can Be Frozen For Later Use

Christmas is the time of year when reducing diets are barred and even the youngsters are permitted to eat almost their fill of candy. So as not to get caught with your candy dishes empty, package candy in approved home-freezing containers like Vapocans early and freeze for later enjoyment. Homemade candy is a nice Christmas gift, too.

Some candies that freeze especially well are fudge, fondant kisses, coconut covered nut and spice balls, peanut and raisin clusters, and caramel candy canes. If you want to know whether a particular candy recipe will freeze, address inquiries to your county or state extension agent.

To home freeze candy, follow the recipe as you would for immediate serving. Allow candy to cool thoroughly on wax paper or sheets of aluminum foil. Then place the candy in square, waxed-board home freezing containers, separating the layers with sheets of wax paper. Crumple more paper and fill in the empty spaces to prevent breakage. Next, press down the rigid plastic lids to seal and place the containers in the freezer immediately. Candy takes around two hours to thaw.

Peanut and Raisin Clusters
Makes 10 candy wreaths
One-half pound semi-sweet chocolate; 1 cup unsalted shelled peanuts; 1/2 cup seedless raisins or currants.

Grate chocolate coarsely. Place chocolate in top of double boiler over hot water. Stir until chocolate is melted. Add peanuts and raisins or currants. Blend thoroughly. Spoon onto wax paper, shaping into small rings to resemble holly wreaths. Decorate with gumdrops shaped into bows, bells and canes. Cool. Place wreaths in layers, separated by

Things To Check In Purchasing Toys

Doting parents and relatives sometimes let their whimsies run rampant in a toy store. Then they wonder why the ungrateful youngster ignores an intriguing gadget. To save money, time and disappointment, the Toy Guidance Council says to think of the child and: Don't trust to the mental picture you have of junior and his sister.

Do check on the current age and interests of each child. Youngsters develop rapidly and their play needs change from month to month.

Don't, with a mistaken sense of economy, try to give the children toys to grow up to.

Do pick playthings that fit their stage of development now. The toy that's too old will be frustrating this year and will be forgotten by the time it's suitable for profitable use.

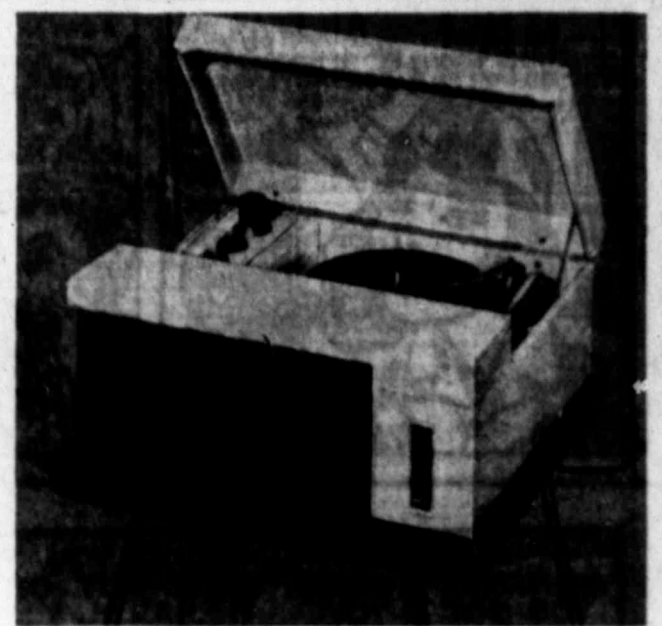

Do ask about the size of wheel toys suitable for different ages, the age span interest of games and construction toys.

Box tops and labels give much essential information. Toy Guidance Council and others have informative leaflets on children's play interests at different age levels. Sales persons in good toy-department stores can help check gift ideas for age suitability.

Don't load up gift lists with gimmicks that fascinate your eye. Do resist the impulse to buy children toys you really want. Do give careful attention to the safety requirements of toys for young children. They must be safe for sucking, lightweight, free from sharp edges or small parts which might be swallowed. Do remember children need a balanced variety of playthings just as much as they need a balanced variety of foods for healthy growth.

Teach Children Christmas Meaning

What does Christmas mean to your child? What should it mean? How can you give direction and meaning to Christmas for your child?

These are serious questions that

Hobby, Sports Accessories Ideal Gifts

A man in the throes of hi-fi may not know Christmas is here. Surprise him with an inexpensive and thoughtful gift for his hobby. It could be a record-cleaning kit with needle brushes and antistatic cloth.

Gentlemen favoring slim, tailored suits have an ally. A wallet by Rolis is designed so there will be no bulge in said suit pocket.

If the bread-and-butter winner is a traveling man, fine leather cases are in order. One has a removable brief case in the lid, a top compartment for toilet articles or clothes, and a larger compartment at the bottom that can hold a typewriter.

The man who gads about in a trim sports car, or just likes to dream about it, can have the car of his dreams in jewelry. These include miniatures of the classic MG, Thunderbird, Jaguar or Porsche.

The small, extra touch makes a gift distinctive. Like a supple leather belt with a buckle personalized with the appropriate initial. Another concealed, but appreciated, comfort feature in belts is the Stretchway by Pioneer. It expands during the course of the day with the wearer.

Slip a merry song dedicated to par shooters, bogey shooters and just plain horrible shooters under the tree. It is "Golf's Lament." A 45 r.p.m. recording, it features John Charles Thomas. Best hunt in golf shops for this item.

Hot heads or swell heads on the fairway can have something in common — a thermo golf cap. It comes in one size for all heads. The sponge-like material retains coolness for long periods of time. Just dip into cool water and wring dry.

End his grumpy search in mornings for cuff links or tie bars. A jewel box for men is an obvious gift these days as more and more men collect handsome accessories. Many jewel boxes come with slots for cuff links, straps for tie bars and special sections for tie pins or collar buttons. Grained leathers and corduroys are used for masculine appeal.

So the camera bug bit him somewhere between the office and home. Since it looks as though he won't recover, give him an authoritative guide book for amateur picture taking. "How to Make Good Pictures" uses more than 400 pictures in black-and-white and color to make a point on pictures.

parents should consider now and throughout the entire year, says Vera Barnett, Ohio State University extension family life specialist.

Mrs. Barnett points out that the child cannot be taught the true meaning of Christmas in just one day. He is taught what Christmas stands for by the examples set for him by older people every-day of the year. Parents must lead children toward the day when they will understand who Christ is and what He stands for — a day when they are able to accept Christ for their own, believes Mrs. Barnett.

The family life specialist notes that a good definition of the Joy of Christmas is found in the following saying:

J is for Jesus;
O is for you, for whom Christ came; and
C is for others for whom Christ came that you might serve others. Together, they spell JOY. And

"RELIGION IS THE TRIUMPH OF THE INTELLECT, THE FAITH OF THE HEART"

LIFE WITH MUSIC

Where Three Is Not A Crowd

By RICHARD D. SAUNDERS

It requires three persons to make music—one to conceive it, another to perform it and a third to listen to it. A composer who also is a performing artist may, of course, play his own work but in that case he functions separately in each instance, since he must reproduce the music in presentation in the same manner as he would offer that of another composer.

The composer begins with a mental concept. He hears the music in his own mind—sometimes almost fully worked out, more often as a theme which he then proceeds to treat and develop according to his own style and ingenuity. A resourceful composer can and does make music out of a relatively simple theme; a less competent composer may lose the value of an excellent theme by inefficiency in the technique of working it out.

IT'S UP TO PERFORMERS
The performer should be inspired by the music, after sufficient study to fully comprehend every detail and nuance, and have the skill to pass that inspiration on to the listener. Even the greatest of music may lose its savor in incompetent hands, while a truly great performer can make even shallow music sound well.

TEAMWORK
How well any performance comes off depends in large measure on how well the three parties concerned are attuned. The best of composers have written weak works, and the best of performers and listeners have their off days. If one or all are out of kilter, the results will be under par, but if all are concordant the satisfaction is great.

Some interesting Christmas music programs will be on the air at Yuletide. Televised on the West Coast, Christmas Eve, is the Burbank Symphony Orchestra, with Leo Damiani conducting and Soprano Lucille Norman as soloist, while from Gotham is the Christmas Eve service at New York's Cathedral of St. John the Divine, with music by the boys choir, and radioed from Rome is the huge Vatican Choir. Meredith Willson's operetta, "The Music Man," is due to make its Broadway debut soon. John Smith, starring in "Island of Lost Women," got his show business start by singing in the Mitchell Boys Choir. New he's resuming his vocal lessons, hoping for a Broadway hearing.

Yule Program Is Shaping Up

The College Players' Christmas program seems to be shaping up. Three one-act plays, all with a Christmas theme, will be presented Dec. 18 at 8:15 p.m. in the HCJC Auditorium.

Fred Short, drama director, gives this breakdown on the plays: "Minor Miracle." A story of four men on a raft, originally with a general religious theme, but with a Christmas theme inserted for this presentation. Stars Bobby Horton, Doyle Phillips, George Colvin and George Kozachuk.

"Dust of the Road." A drama of farm people at Yuletide. Stars Danne Green, Tommy Pickle, Doyle Phillips and Newlin James.

"Star Song." A radio dramatization of the Nativity story with lighting effects. Stars Doyle Phillips, George Kozachuk, Jack Wood, Tommy Pickle, Kay Chadd, Linda Nichols, Beverly Alexander and Dolores Lovelady.

The girls in the cast of "Star Song" are high school apprentices loaned by Phillip Wayne, high school drama instructor.

Tex Beneke To Play Here

Tex Beneke, with one of the greatest dance bands of the nation, is scheduled to bring his orchestra to the Webb Officers' Club to play for a Tea Dance Dec. 22 from 5 to 9 p.m.

It will be almost like coming home for Tex, who was born in Ft. Worth.

Beneke, who took over the Glenn Miller orchestra, could have organized a band of his own years ago, with the aid and blessing of Miller himself, but Tex preferred to remain with the famed Miller ensemble.

About this, he says, "I wanted the kind of band that Glenn Miller had, and I realized it would be virtually impossible to duplicate the magnificent musical machine that Glenn had built. Therefore, I decided to remain with him for my active lifetime.

The tragedy of war brought about changes which could not have been anticipated.

Tex first joined the Miller band early in '38.

Beneke's orchestra has played in all the top dance spots, hotels, and theaters across the nation. He has made movie short subjects for MGM, Universal International, and RKO. His records bear labels from Coral, RCA Victor, and MGM.

Today, Beneke and his orchestra have been accepted by the public, not only in lieu of Glenn Miller's band, but also as one of the nation's foremost orchestras, wherever the band plays it is greeted by former Miller fans who are appreciative of Tex's efforts to keep his music alive, but more important are the new fans who recognize Tex as a fresh personality in the music business with a style and personality of his own.

TEX BENEKE

Is Everybody Happy?

Vera-Allen behaves intensely and without so much as a wary look as Tony Martin makes a romantic approach in this scene from "Let's Be Happy," musical comedy showing Sunday through Tuesday at the Jet.

CINEMA COMMENT

By BOB SMITH

"The Hunchback of Notre Dame." First, it was Lon Chaney. Then, Charles Laughton. It is doubtful if Anthony Quinn, as the latest Quasimodo, could ever equal Laughton's performance of Victor Hugo's immortal character, but Quinn nevertheless is good enough as an actor to have won the Academy Award in times past and to have come close many times.

Times generally have presented laurels to Quinn for his characterization of the hunchback who was dreamed up by Hugo many years ago in protest to the callous cruelty of the so-called Christian world of medieval times. This tale of the sufferings of a creature upon whom nature did not smile would be a challenge to any actor's ability.

Gina Lollobrigida, who can act surprisingly well when she's not too busy showing off her other features, co-stars as the gypsy dancer around whom the tragic events revolve.

"God Is My Partner." Walter Brennan, it is generally agreed, has never been guilty of a bad performance. In spite of the danger inherent in his avocation of gypsy type cast, he has always managed to make his characterizations stand out realistically. In this film, he has done another good job.

This little yarn is actually another way of telling you what you should have learned in Sunday school. The story unfolds in a courtroom during a trial in which Brennan's kin attempt to have him declared incompetent because of the money Brennan has given away.

Child Actors Grow Up

NEW YORK (AP)—Two actors who began their careers as tots have been advanced to stellar billing because of the high critical praise given them in the current dramatic hit "Compulsion."

One, Roddy McDowell began as a youngster in films and during the past five years has distinguished himself on Broadway in mature roles. The other, Dean Stockwell, started his stage career at the age of six.

In "Compulsion" McDowell and Stockwell are the protagonists in a play based upon the Leopold-Loeb murder case.

Actors Plan Stock Productions

NEW YORK (AP)—E. G. Marshall and Kevin McCarthy, two busy Broadway and television actors, are going into the summer theater business.

The partners have taken over operation of the 77-year-old Casino Theater in Newport, R. I., for next season. They plan a series of stock productions, plus new plays.

Anxious At 18

This young couple poses prettily for a studio publicity shot. They are Mary Webster and William Campbell, who star in "Eighteen and Anxious," Friday and Saturday at the Ritz. Caption on the picture said the story is a controversial and provocative drama of today's young people.
