PROBLEMS LICKED

Day Of World-Spanning, Pinpoint Missile Nears

By BEM PRICE
WASHINGTON (AP)—The day of the ballistic missile which has both intercontinental range and near pinpoint accuracy is just about here.

To reach this development stage, scientists have duplicated the principles of the universe and created temperatures 1 1/2 times hotter than the sun.

They have developed guidance instruments which navigate without reference to any point on earth, instruments so sensitive that the weight of a lint speck from a polishing cloth will spin them off course by several degrees.

There apparently are well-founded reports that the Sperry Gyroscope Co. of Great Neck, N.Y., has produced a device known as the accelerometer which can detect—and correct—a deviation in the flight path of a missile of one hundredth of one degree.

This means that a missile fired at the moon some 238,000 miles away would hit a target no longer than a football field.

Further, these instruments are sturdy enough to be packed inside a missile which accelerates at nine times the force of gravity.

Major Problems

From the military standpoint two major problems have had to be mastered:

1. How to guide a missile from Point A to Point B 5,000 miles or more distant with near-pinpoint accuracy.

2. How to bring back an object ranging 600 to 1,000 miles in space without having it burned to a cinder by atmospheric friction.

To solve the first problem—at least theoretically—scientists have taken the gyroscope, which employs the principles of the universe, and incorporated it into the navigation system known as "inertial guidance."

With this system a missile, an airplane, a ship or submarine can be directed to its destination without compass, radio or radar and without a glimpse of earth, sun or stars.

The solution to the second problem involved an almost incredible search for a material—and how to shape that material once found—which had the ability:

To withstand the shock of firing. To enter the near perfect zero degree cold of space without cracking. To withstand temperatures of 15,000 degrees Fahrenheit—1 1/2 times hotter than the sun's surface—without burning up.

In arriving at a solution the scientists developed a highly secret ceramic and metallic dust compound and an equally secret shape.

Gyroscope Principle

In essence the principle of the gyroscope is as old as the world. Indeed, the world is a gyroscope. The world spins on its axis with an equatorial speed of 1,000 miles per hour plus. This centrifugal force keeps its axis pointed to within one degree of the North Star.

In brief, a gyroscope can be given enough spin to keep its axis in a fixed position. If you want to change the direction of an object, you simply change the axis of the gyroscope.

The new inertial guidance system employing the gyroscope was first announced last April 18 by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. It was largely the work of Dr. Charles S. Draper and Dr. Walker Wrigley.

They began work in 1939 on the problem under the sponsorship of Sperry and the U. S. Navy Bureau of Ordnance.

The heart of the system is a completely free-floating gyroscope sealed in a four-inch cylinder about the size of a tomato can. It spins in a fluid at 12,000 revolutions per minute supported by practically frictionless sapphire bearings.

By aligning the axis of the gyroscope to an imaginary star, an object which moves and can be controlled can be directed to a pre-determined target.

Further, no natural phenomena such as weather, sunspots or magnetic influences will cause it to deviate from its path.

Re-Entry Tackled

The problem of re-entry has been tackled by nearly 20 private concerns. One of the pioneers in the field is AVCO Manufacturing Corp. at Everett, Mass.

AVCO is under a 111-million-dollar contract to the Air Force to build the nose cone for the intercontinental ballistic missile Titan, now being made by the Martin Co. of Baltimore.

At the Massachusetts laboratories of AVCO a 55-year-old invention known as the shock tube was refined by Dr. Arthur Kantrowitz, one of the nation's top scientists in gas dynamics.

Kantrowitz's shock tube is a large, cannonlike assembly which, when fired, produces a shock wave so fast that its travel time is measured in millionths of a second.

The tube is fired by the high compression of a combination of gases or the explosion of oxygen and hydrogen tempered by helium and nitrogen.

As the gases flow over any object placed in the chamber of the tube conditions result which approximate that of a missile nose cone traveling at 18,000 miles per hour. The resistance of the object to the flow of gases produces temperatures of 15,000 degrees or more.

AVCO has announced that it finally does have a cone which will meet the military's requirements. While no details are available it is known that the cone is blunt and rounded with a needle projecting outward to break the sound barrier.

Two Killed, Three Hurt Near Lamesa

LAMESA—In critical condition in Lamesa General Hospital this morning was 5-year-old Joel Ellison Nash, victim of a two-car collision that took the lives of his 6-year-old sister and an 18-year-old Lamesa Negro Christmas afternoon.

Also in the hospital are Mrs. Donella Goodman, 26, mother of Joel, and Melvin Edwards, 22.

Both Mrs. Goodman and Edwards were said to be improving this morning, although Edwards is the only one off the serious list.

Mrs. Goodman's car and one thought to have been driven by Willis Gibson, 18, collided head-on 18 miles west of here in Gaines County about 3:15 p.m. Wednesday.

Theresa Dallas Nash, 6, daughter of Mrs. Goodman and sister of Joel Nash, was killed instantly. Gibson died about 4:45 p.m. in Lamesa General Hospital.

Mrs. Goodman and her children, of Lovington, N. M., were traveling east and Gibson and Edwards were going west, said Martin Exom of the Texas Highway Patrol's Seminole office. The vehicles ground to a halt on opposite sides of the road following the collision.

CHRISTMAS NOT MERRY FOR THE MICE

SALINA, Kan. (AP)—Mrs. Robert Cross says Christmas cookie dough makes good mice bait.

Three traps she and her husband set caught nine mice in four hours.

"I was making cookies and decided to try using dough for bait," she said. "It worked. One of the traps caught three mice at once."

Gein Sanity Hearing Set

WISCONSIN RAPIDS, Wis. (AP)—Circuit Judge Herbert A. Bunde set Jan. 6 for a formal sanity hearing at Wisconsin Rapids for admitted ghoulish slayer Edward Gein.

Judge Bunde will decide then whether to commit Gein to the Central State Hospital for the Criminal Insane or order him to stand trial on murder charges.

Gein, 51-year-old Plainfield handyman, had admitted slaying two women, looting the graves of a dozen other women and preserving parts of their bodies in his secluded Washburn County farmhouse. He has been under observation at Central State Hospital since his arraignment Nov. 21.

Allegists at the hospital reported that Gein was not competent to stand trial.

Psychiatrists hired by the defense also have held Gein to be insane, according to Defense counsel William Beiter.

Gein is charged with first-degree murder in the Nov. 16 death of Bernice Worden, 58, Plainfield hardware store operator. Her mutilated body was found hanging in Gein's woodshed.

Gein admitted killing both Mrs. Worden and Mary Hogan, 54, a tavern operator in Portage County who disappeared in 1944. He said both women resembled his deceased mother.

Fires Help Push Total To 272

Traffic 219
Fires 27
Miscellaneous 26
Total 272

By Associated Press
Christmas traffic deaths climbed to the second highest total for a one-day yuletide holiday since World War II.

The final tabulation, including late reports of casualties caused by accidents that occurred between 6 p.m. Tuesday and midnight Wednesday, included 219 traffic deaths, 27 in fires and 26 in the miscellaneous class for a total of 272.

The traffic toll more than doubled the toll for a nonholiday period of the same 30-hour duration, and exceeded the National Safety Council prediction of 180.

There have been two other one-day celebrations of the Christmas holiday since World War II, during one of them, 1947, the traffic toll was 178. During the other one, 1946, the toll was 253, a record for a one-day, 30-hour period.

"There must be a better way to celebrate Christmas on the highway than by piling up a death toll two and a half times as great as the toll for a nonholiday Wednesday at this time of the year," said Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council.

"We can only hope that the shock of this needless toll will bring about sober thinking that may hold the New Year toll to a new low."

An Associated Press survey made for comparative purposes on the nonholiday 30-hour period from Dec. 10 through Dec. 11 showed 84 traffic deaths, 15 in fires and 27 miscellaneous accidental deaths for an over-all total of 126.

This year's traffic toll compared to the record of 253 for a one-day Christmas holiday period, in 1946. The low mark in traffic fatalities for a one-day Christmas period since World War II was 179 in 1947.

Last year's four-day Christmas holiday period set a new record in traffic deaths for any holiday period, with 706. The over-all toll of 884 during the same four days also was a record for any holiday period.

Other types of violence took six lives in the Associated Press count ending at 6 p.m. Tuesday and started at midnight Wednesday.

The Christmas holiday death toll mounted to at least 18 Thursday with traffic accidents accounting for 13 fatalities.

Too Fragile To Touch

A boy so fragile he can't be touched. That's Mickey Chapman, 9, who breaks like a china doll if he ever laughs too hard. He is pictured here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Chapman of Lubbock. Mickey is the victim of a disease which makes his bones so brittle they break like glass. The disease was determined to be osteogenesis imperfecta, though deforming, it is not a quick killer or a brain retarder.

Boy's Too Fragile Even For Hugging

LUBBOCK (AP) — Mickey Chapman, 9, is so fragile his mother can't even give him a loving hug. Mickey is a victim of osteogenesis imperfecta, a rare disease that makes his bones so brittle they break like glass. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Chapman, dare not even touch him. A hydraulic lift slips under Mickey in his wheelchair and puts him to bed at night. During the first six years of his life he spent more than half his time in a cast from the waist down. He broke both legs just by laughing too hard and suffered fractures by getting tangled in the bed sheets. Doctors told his parents there was no hope for Mickey. Specialists in Dallas finally diagnosed his ailment. The disease, though deforming, is not a quick killer or a brain retarder. The Dallas physician said there's some hope that Mickey may be able to live a full life and even walk with braces some day. Since so little is known of the disease, no one is sure what causes it or what is the cure. Doctors say it appears to be hereditary although it may not

Thai Monarch Opens Parliament

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — King Phumiphon Aduldet today opened the Parliament which was elected Dec. 15. The King was expected to confirm within a few days the selection by strongman Marshal Sarit Thanarat of Lt. Gen. Thanom Kittikachon as premier. Thanom, who is now defense minister and commander of the key 1st army corps, supported Sarit in the coup Sept. 15 that ousted Premier P. Pibulsonggram. Thanom is one of an inner circle advising Sarit and as prime minister he is expected to continue to wield considerable influence in the ruling junta. Thanom has never held political office. The 46-year-old career infantry officer is a family man with six children. Unlike Sarit, Thanom's business interests are believed limited. He is widely respected within the army. In July, 1953, he served on the military armistice commission in Korea.

Oklahoma Writer, Professor Is Dead

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Walter Campbell, well known Oklahoma writer and longtime University of Oklahoma English professor, died in a hospital last night following a heart attack. Campbell, 70, had suffered from a heart ailment for some time and this fall announced he would retire from the university faculty at the end of the school year. He had been a member of the OU staff since 1915.

Reds Deny Devaluation

MOSCOW (AP) — With a strong attack on rumor mongers, the Communist party newspaper Pravda insisted today that the Soviet Union has no plans to devalue its currency. The paper said three women factory workers had come to its office with a tale that all paper money would be called in Jan. 1 and replaced with new currency at a rate of 1 new ruble to 4 1/2 old ones. The women were quoted by Pravda as saying that the new money would be more stable than the present paper currency. Pravda assured its readers that Soviet money is firm enough and stable

Contractors See New Record Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — A record 68 billion dollar construction year in 1958 was foreseen today by the Associated General Contractors of America (AGC). The AGC, representing 7,000 firms which do most of the country's contract building, predicted gains in highway, school and home construction. It also suggested that the missile race could reverse the decline in military building.

U. S. Weather Scene Blustery

Blustery weather pounded areas in the East, Midwest and Far West today. Strong winds lashed across the upper Mississippi Valley and Great Lakes region in the wake of one storm moving through the Lake area. Another heading eastward through southern Canada triggered rain and sleet in Eastern areas. A wet belt extended throughout the area and east of the low pressure system stretching from the Hudson Bay to the central Gulf Coast. Light snow continued in northern sections of Minnesota and the Great Lakes region after a Christmas Day snowstorm in parts of Minnesota, Iowa, Michigan and Wisconsin. Falls ranged from 1 to more than 5 inches. Rain was extensive from the Texas-Louisiana coast to the central and eastern Great Lakes area. Rain and freezing rain, creating hazardous conditions, pelted higher elevations of New York and Pennsylvania.

Longtime Texas Educator Dies

CLAUDE (AP) — Bruce B. Cobb, longtime Texas educator, died at a hospital in Amarillo, yesterday. He was 83. He was born at Whitewright in 1874 and earned bachelor and master degrees at the University of Texas, majoring in school administration. He was superintendent of schools at Marshall and at Waco from 1915 to 1933. Cobb then moved to Fort Worth and became secretary-treasurer of the Texas State Teachers Assn. and editor of the Texas Outlook, teachers' professional magazine. He retired in 1950. Survivors include his widow; a brother, J. D. Cobb, Tulsa, and a sister, Mrs. J. C. Eubank, Claude.

Skies Clear Over Texas

Skies began clearing over Texas Thursday after a Christmas present of almost general rains ranging up to 3 inches. Some rain fell during the night along the southern Texas coast, but skies cleared by dawn as a weak low pressure front moved into the Gulf. Another weak cold front was moving toward Texas and the Weather Bureau forecast colder weather and increasing cloudiness in the Panhandle and South Plains Friday. The rainfall was general from the Red River Valley to the Mexican border. Benavides, in South Texas, got 2 inches of rain Christmas Day. Generally fair weather with mild temperatures was forecast Thursday in South and North Central Texas. Elsewhere it was due to be cloudy to partly cloudy with mild temperatures. Some shower activity was forecast by Friday in South Texas and along the coast. High temperatures Wednesday ranged from 81 at Brownsville to 55 degrees at Salt Flat.

enough and does not need revaluation. This was the second denial in a week of revaluation rumors. An earlier one appeared in an Estonian newspaper. Pravda accused a ring of agents of spreading false rumors of currency revaluation, commodity shortages and the elimination of paid vacations because they don't have them in America. The Communist party organ said: "It is true they don't have paid vacations in America, but we are competing with America in meat and milk production and not in labor laws."

Learned From A Model

Andra Martin, Universal-International actress, passes on the good advice given her by her model-aunt to reader in today's Hollywood Beauty. The pretty miss will soon be seen in U-I's "A Game Called Love."

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Glamour Possible With Light Make-Up

By LYDIA LANE
 HOLLYWOOD — When Andra Martin was rewarded with a term contract at Universal-International, it was the completion of a dream she'd had ever since she was a little girl.
 "But I do believe in training, so that is why I went to New York first and studied with Lee Strasberg (head of the famous Actors Studio). When you know your field, regardless of what it is, you have a confidence no one can take from you," Andra wisely announced.

"And I had training in grooming from my aunt, who is one of Chicago's most successful models. She helped me a great deal with fashion, too. 'Men prefer sheaths,' she said, 'and if a girl doesn't have a figure for them she should exercise until she does.'"

"Even if you have a good figure, you can't take it for granted," Andra cautioned. "The smart thing to do is to exercise so you won't get flabby. I started dancing, and now that I'm used to it I feel stiff when I have to miss a class. And I firmly believe by getting the right amount of exercise you have no problem keeping weight under control."

"My aunt helped me with my make-up, too," she continued. "I think most young girls use too much. Using a foundation that is not the right shade—either too dark or too light—will make you look artificial faster than anything else. Another is to have obviously penciled eyebrows. If you want to make them thicker use delicate little broken strokes rather than one hard line."

I complimented Andra on her eyelashes and brows.
 "Every night I brush them with petroleum jelly. It keeps them soft and helps them grow."

We were chatting in Andra's dressing room when she was called back to the "A Game Called Love" set.

Some Ideas For Turkey Leftovers

If you are getting mighty tired of sliced turkey, or don't even have enough left by now to slice, try these delicious dishes:

- HOLIDAY PIE
 2 cups cubed cooked turkey
 ¼ cup butter or oleo
 ¼ cup flour
 2 cups milk
 1 tsp. salt
 1-3 cup sliced pimiento olives
 2 egg yolks
 Make a white sauce of butter, flour, milk and salt. Add turkey and olives. Heat thoroughly. Add a little of the hot mixture to the beaten egg yolks. Stir egg mixture into hot sauce. Mix thoroughly and heat. Turn into 1½ quart casserole.
 Top this with a drop biscuit mix made by cutting 2 tablespoons shortening into 1 cup sifted flour to which has been added 1½ teaspoons baking powder and ¼ teaspoon salt, until the mixture is the consistency of corn meal. Add ½ cup milk and stir to make very soft dough. Drop by tablespoons onto hot turkey mixture. Bake in a very hot oven (450 degrees), about 15 minutes or until biscuits are browned. Yields 6 servings.
- TURKEY A LA KING
 2 cups diced cooked turkey
 ¼ cup butter or oleo
 ¼ cup chopped green pepper
 1 cup sliced canned mushrooms
 ¼ cup flour
 1 tsp. salt
 2 cups milk
 2 eggs yolks, beaten
 Toast or waffles
 Melt butter in a large skillet. Brown green pepper and mushrooms in butter. Stir in flour and salt. Add milk gradually. Cook and stir constantly until mixture thickens. Add turkey and pimiento. Cook slowly about 5 minutes. Stir to prevent burning. Stir in beaten egg yolks. Serve hot on toast or waffles. Makes 6 servings.

Brighten Holidays With Sweets

Menus wouldn't be complete without holiday cookies. Vienna may provide a new note in the cookie jar this year with the following continental recipe:
Sugar Pretzels
 6¼ cups flour
 1¼ cups butter
 1¼ cups confectioners sugar
 1-3 cup milk
 2 eggs, beaten
 1 pinch salt
 ¼ teaspoon vanilla for half of dough
 2 tablespoons cocoa for other half of dough
 ¼ cup confectioners' sugar
 A little very hot water
 Cream butter, add sugar and stir well, add eggs and milk alternately with flour. Make a smooth dough, flavoring half with vanilla, the other half with cocoa.
 Roll dough into a sausage and cut into even pieces. Roll these pieces, one at a time, into long "sausages" about ¼ inch in diameter, keeping the other pieces cool until used. Cut into seven inch lengths.
 Lay the two ends of a 7-inch strip across each other and twist once to make a pretzel. Place the pretzels on a cookie sheet greased with vegetable shortening. Bake in a medium hot oven (375 degrees) till done, about fifteen minutes. Makes about 10 dozen pretzels.
 Dip the pretzels in thin white icing. To prepare it, mix sugar with lemon juice and just enough very hot water to make a thick, cream-like paste.
 Whip the paste well and keep it liquid enough for dipping and coating the pretzels.
 Dip the pretzels while they are still very hot, as this is the secret of making the icing adhere.

Epicurean Peas Add Mushrooms, Onions

Add a bit of zip to peas with mushrooms, bacon and onion by trying this:
 1 lb. bacon
 ¼ cup chopped onions
 2 cans (8 oz.) sliced mushrooms
 ¼ cup flour
 3 qts. light cream
 2 No. 10 cans peas
 ½ tsp. paprika
 Salt, pepper as needed
 Cut bacon in small pieces. Cook, but do not brown. Add onion and drained mushrooms to bacon. Cook until lightly browned. Stir in flour. Add cream. Cook until thickened, stirring with a wire whip. Add peas and paprika; season to taste. Heat thoroughly and serve in patty shells, toast boxes or on toast triangles. Yield: 50 servings.

MR. AND MRS. J. D. PATTON

Sunday Open House To Mark 45th Wedding Anniversary Of Pattons

The first time John Denton Patton saw Eliza Mitchell, she was a little girl six years old, much too young for any attention from a young man of 14 years.
 The next time he saw Eliza was about 14 years later, and he decided right then and there that she was the one he would marry.
 It was more than 45 years ago that the Denton and Mitchell families came to be neighbors in a small community near Arlington.
 On Dec. 26, 1912, as Denton tells it, the couple "jumped the broomstick" as they sat in a horse and buggy at Arlington.
 The Patton family had come to Texas from Tennessee when John was 12 years old, and he still remembers the difficulty of getting their horses to draw the covered wagon onto the steamboat on which they crossed the Mississippi.
 The anniversary of their marriage 45 years ago is being observed with a belated open house Sunday afternoon at the home of one of their daughters, Mrs. Rufus Tuckness, 1313 Stadium. Friends are invited to call between the hours of 2 and 5 p.m.
 Blue candles in silver holders will be used in combination with a blue and silver floral decoration, all on a background of lace over blue. Napkins will bear the names of the honored couple and the dates, 1912-1957.

Expected for the open house are the Pattons' children Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Williams of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Holland of Lubbock; and a son of Mrs. Tuckness, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. O'Donnell of Austin. A daughter, who lives in Big Spring, Mrs. Claudia Holt, will assist with the open house.
 Following their wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Patton began farming at Fate, a town near Rockwall and Royce City. Patton recalled that his wife "seemed to keep busy constantly, making enough biscuits to feed all the boys hired to pick cotton."
 Mrs. Patton has been quite busy since the couple moved to Big Spring, at 204 Owens, in 1942; she has made 24 quilts during those 15 years, many of which she has presented to friends and relatives as gifts.
 Patton was an employee of Corden Petroleum Corporation for some years until he was forced by ill health to retire in 1935.
 They are members of the Church of the Nazarene and he has served as a member of the church board as long as health permitted, they never missed any of the church meetings, "far or near," according to one of their daughters.
 Besides the three daughters and their husbands, who are to be here for the celebration Sunday afternoon, there will be the couple's three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Indonesian Chief Plans Nehru Visit

NEW DELHI (AP)—President Sukarno of Indonesia will arrive here Jan. 7 for a four or five-day private visit at the invitation of Prime Minister Nehru, Foreign Ministry sources said today.

Indonesian Embassy sources said Sukarno will go to Cairo from India.

In a dispatch from Jakarta, capital of Indonesia, the Times of India said Sukarno will also visit Pakistan, Ceylon, Burma, Thailand and Japan during a six-week tour.

The newspaper said Sukarno might meet Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain, who is scheduled to visit New Delhi for five days beginning Jan. 8. Foreign Ministry sources said a meeting is likely but no plans have been made for talks between them.

Such a meeting would be part of "Anglo-American conciliatory moves to bring a resumption of Dutch-Indonesian talks on West Irian (West New Guinea) under appropriate international auspices," the paper said.

An announcement in Jakarta Dec. 13 said Sukarno would leave the country soon for what was officially termed a rest cure. The announcement came at the height of confusion over Indonesian efforts to oust Dutch citizens from the island republic because the Netherlands refused to give Indonesia the colony of West New Guinea. Sukarno denied that he was being forced out of power.

Congress Will Be Asked For Lower Supports

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Administration apparently is preparing to ask Congress to set lower minimum price support levels for all farm products now having a legal minimum of 75 per cent parity.

The new minimum would be 60 per cent of parity, which is the price goal of federal farm programs.

Products now having the 75 per cent minimum include the basic crops—wheat, corn, cotton, rice, tobacco and peanuts—as well as dairy products, honey and tung nuts.

Parity is a price standard declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson already has stated a 60 per cent minimum would be sought for the basic crops. So far, he has not publicly stated what the administration's position will be regarding the other commodities. His aide merely says the matter has been put up to the White House for a decision.

But leaders of some of the big farm organizations say they have been informed by department officials the administration will seek 60 per cent parity floors clear across the board, except in the case of those commodities which, under present law, may be supported between zero and 90 per cent.

In this latter class are oats, rye, barley, sorghum grain, soybeans, flaxseed, cottonseed, dry peas and the like.

U. S. Tobacco Consumption Up

NEW YORK (AP)—Americans smoked more cigarettes in 1957 than ever before.

They smoked fewer regular cigarettes in the past year than in the previous year, but enormously increased their consumption of filter-tip cigarettes, a survey by Business Week magazine showed yesterday.

The report said a record 410 billion cigarettes were consumed in the country during the year. This was 19 billion more than went up in smoke in 1956.

The gain was made despite publication in the past year of new reports by some medical study groups that there is a statistical connection between smoking and lung cancer. Other authorities have asserted there is no provable cause-and-effect relationship between the two.

Japs May Deport Some Americans

TOKYO (AP)—The U. S. Embassy said today it had learned officially that some Americans may face deportation. But the Japanese Foreign Office said that there are no American officials on any police blacklist.

Japanese police said Tuesday that they would seek deportation of 832 foreign civilians plus the recall of severals high-ranking American diplomats and military officers for what was described as misconduct or criminal activities. Sixty-six Americans were reported to be on the list.

Morse Says U.S. By-Passing U.N.

TOKYO (AP)—Sen. Morse (D-Ore) said today the United States is guilty of attempting to bypass the United Nations by settling world problems at summit meetings of big powers' leaders.

"I think the issue of peace and war can best be solved through the United Nations," Morse told a news conference.

Morse arrived in Tokyo yesterday on the way home from the Commonwealth Parliamentary Conference at New Delhi. He is chairman of the American delegation.

The senator and his wife will leave by plane Friday.

GUAR PLANTINGS PRODUCED GOOD RESULTS IN FIELDS HERE

Legume strips (indicated by shovel), alternated with cotton

New Variety Of Guar Proves Satisfactory For This Area

Results with the new Groehler variety of guar in this area have been satisfactory, said agronomist John A. Esser after studies here.

Esser, who is agronomist and plant manager for General Mills at Kennedy, checked plantings of the crop in the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District. He also studied results on other common varieties, notably Texsel.

He had a look at the Groehler on the farm of Glenn Cantrell, who operates in the Center Point community, and on the farm of Willard Smith north of town. Cantrell has a field which was strip-cropped with four rows of Groehler Guar and four rows of cotton. The strips are rotated from year to year to gain the full benefit of the soil improving qualities of the guar, which is a legume and restores nitrogen to the soil.

Smith's field was planted every row and got good results. James H. Fryar, who operates the H. L. Batton farm north of Knott, also planted Groehler during the past season and got good results despite drought conditions during part of the harvest season. Esser estimated that Groehler yields would equal or exceed that of conventional guar plantings in recent years. Its advantage may prove to be in its branching qualities which open up more seeding potential.

The early freeze caught some immature branches on most plants, and the seeds are dark and light in weight. Esser said that

Gas Scavengers Killed in Blast

RUNAWAY BAY, Jamaica (AP)—High-octane gasoline spilling from a wrecked tank truck exploded yesterday as villagers were scooping the fuel into cans for their homes and cars. Seven were killed and 43 hospitalized.

Police said the explosion was touched off by the scavengers burning cigarettes. The fuel burned for two hours.

The 1,500-gallon truck slammed into a stone wall on the highway through this fishing village 70 miles northwest of Jamaica's capital of Kingston.

Some of the injured slipped on the streaming gasoline as they attempted to flee and were trapped in the flames.

most of these lighter seed can be removed by using the maximum amount of air during combing.

In addition to commercial demand for the seed, which is firm, there will be a strong demand for planting seed next spring, particularly the Groehler, said Esser. He suggested that no seed be left unharvested.

Christmas 'Gift' Leads To Arrest

BOSTON (AP)—Julio Gomes, 52, was hurrying home last night with a package under his arm.

"What have you got there?" a policeman asked.

"A Christmas present for my wife," replied Gomes.

"Let's see," said the policeman as two detectives stood by. Gomes refused to let the policemen see his secret present but they were insistent and the man surrendered the package.

Police said the "present" actually was $700 stolen from a restaurant.

Gomes was booked on a charge of suspicion of breaking and entering in the nighttime and larceny.

Noted Physicist Found Hanged In His Garage

LIVERMORE, Calif. (AP) — Dr. Roy M. Goranson, prominent theoretical physicist, was found hanged yesterday in the garage of his home at nearby Danville. Deputy Sheriff Robert Barrett said Goranson told his wife early Christmas Day: "I'm going to take the easy way out but it will be hard for you."

Dr. John Blumer, family physician, reported Goranson had been under psychiatric treatment for extreme depression since he came to Livermore in 1953. Members of the family said his despondency deepened a month ago after he had a mild heart attack and temporary loss of the use of his limbs.

The 57-year-old scientist was a member of the staff at the University of California radiation laboratory in Livermore. He attracted national attention in 1940 when he invented a machine capable of developing three million pounds of pressure per square inch, highest pressure achieved up to that time.

Improvement Of Markets Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department is making new appeals for improvements in facilities for marketing fresh fruits and vegetables in the nation's urban centers.

Studies show, it says in a marketing report, that many of these markets are inefficient. As a consequence, the department says, retail prices are higher than they should be, with both the consumer and producer suffering.

The department says, for example, it now costs 27 million dollars a year to move fresh produce through the New York market. It estimates that nine million of this could be saved if more efficient facilities were established.

Texan Killed

GREELEY, Colo. (AP) — Robert Crenwelge, 21, of Overton, Tex., and Robert Mosher, 31, of Greeley, were killed when their cars collided 18 miles east of here yesterday. Crenwelge's car burst into flames after the collision.

Nothin' To It

Ogden, Utah, High School students Steve Mercer, left, John Stoddard and Bruce Herrick, right, all 17, fired this mangled rocket 3,600 feet up at 338 miles per hour. Then the security-minded trio "leaked" word of "successful" flight to the press. They kept time and location of the firing secret to avoid injury to curiosity seekers. They plan more flights with multi-stage rockets, different fuels, and instruments aboard.

National Death Rate Up Slightly

NEW YORK (AP) — Statistics compiled by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. disclosed today that the national death rate rose slightly in 1957.

The death rate figure was estimated at 9.6 per 1,000 population. The rate in 1956 was 9.4 per 1,000.

The insurance company said the death rise reflects largely the death rise reflects largely the National Health Survey reports that since September, about half the population has been laid up for at least one day by acute upper respiratory diseases, including Asian flu.

For hundreds of years we were always treated as outcasts and because this the homeless wanderers on almost all of the world's roads," she said. She expressed hope that now perhaps her people may be treated socially as equals.

Peter Kovacs of the Hungarian Ministry for Culture said the Communist regime wants to provide Gypsies with their own schools. If the association finds enough subscribers, a weekly newspaper is to be published in their own language, he added.

African-Asian Meet Opens In Cairo

CAIRO (AP) — Anti-Western slogans and banners opened today an African-Asian peoples' conference of some 400 delegates from about 40 countries and colonies. A banner reading "Down with Eisenhower Doctrine" was carried by students who cheered the delegates and 2,000 guests.

Officially, the delegations do not represent governments. Russia and Red China sent large groups. Some of the predominantly leftist delegations are composed of exiles.

Col. Anwar Sadat, the bitterly anti-Western editor of President Nasser's leading newspaper, was named conference president. He told the cheering crowd that Egypt believes in "neutrality and nonalignment . . . and Afro-Asian nations share this point of view."

"Thus we can prevent the shadow of war," Sadat said.

The conference has been billed as a follow-up to the meeting in 1955 at Bandung, Indonesia, by official government delegations. The nonofficial nature of delegations in Cairo was expected by Western observers to give Communists considerably more leeway in pushing their propaganda objectives.

Among topics expected to be discussed are standard Soviet bids for bans of nuclear tests and opposition to imperialism.

Hungary Gypsies Plan Restaurant With Red Help

By KURT HAMPE
BUDAPEST (AP) — On Budapest's Andrassy Street Gypsies will open a first-rate restaurant next spring. Gypsy girls will serve traditional dishes prepared by Gypsy cooks. A Gypsy band will play.

The restaurant is the first achievement of the recently formed Association of Hungarian Gypsies, believed to be the first organization this race of nomads ever had.

Officially, the purpose of this government-sponsored project is to foster the interests of 200,000 Hungarian Gypsies. But non-Communist Hungarians describe it as a Communist device to get better control of a people known for their freedom of movement.

Grey-haired Maria Laszlo, appointed secretary general of the association, views its prospects with enthusiasm.

A delegation from Palestine yelled: "Down with imperialism. We are against war."

Ambassadors of Soviet bloc countries and Arab nations were seated in the gallery. Also on hand were many of Egypt's Cabinet members.

Nasser was not there but sent a message of greeting. He said the conference is being held "for the sake of freedom, the welfare of our peoples, and the achieving of peace for the entire world."

Seated in the front rows of the large auditorium were delegates from India, Uganda, Ghana and Nigeria in colorful native dress. Behind them were seated Russian and North Korean delegates.

In the gallery schoolgirls shouted: "No bases, no parls, no H-bombs."

Yule Meal For Polar Party

LONDON (AP) — A Christmas dinner—two joints of meat—was delivered by plane to British explorer Dr. Vivian Fuchs and his party at or near South Pole, about 500 miles from the South Pole, headquarters of the transantarctic expedition, announced today.

The assumption was that Dr. Fuchs, caught in a bad weather trap for several weeks, would start a dash to the pole with his snow vehicles at any time.

Already approaching the pole from the other side of the antarctic land and ice mass was the New Zealand party of Sir Edmund Hillary. New Zealand dispatches said the Hillary party was about 325 miles from the pole.

Expedition headquarters here released a message, dated Dec. 23, from squadron leader John Lewis at the Shackleton base of Dr. Fuchs' group.

"After loading 10 drums fuel took off morning Dec. 22 for South Pole after hearing vehicles had arrived there. We found party in good spirits and eager to press on and avoid wasting time," the message said.

"Party showed signs of strain after last three weeks of hair-raising activities, but undaunted and in good heart."

"We cooked two joints of meat at Shackleton and took these to them for their Christmas dinner."

Scientists here said that Dr. Fuchs, while eager to make up lost time, would hardly regard a race to the pole as a sporting event. He has been delayed not only by the difficulties of travel, but by the task of making scientific observations as he goes.

Navy Gives Up Survivors Search

HONOLULU (AP) — The Navy gave up its search yesterday for more survivors of the "flying radar station" airplane that crashed into the Pacific Monday 23 miles north of Oahu Island.

The search was abandoned at sunset after Navy, Air Force and Coast Guard surface vessels and planes had combed the area for two nights and two days.

Officers said there was no hope of finding any others beyond the three officers and one enlisted man plucked from rough seas in darkness early Tuesday. They were found near the site of the crash.

The four-engine WV2 Navy radar plane, a radar-packed Super Constellation used for early warning picket duty, crashed at sea while on a training flight.

Survivors said most of the crew were trapped in the 7½-million-dollar craft. Two bodies were recovered early Tuesday and the 17 other crewmen were presumed to have perished.

Queen Praised For Yule Speech

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II, criticized by one of her lords last summer for what he called a "pain-in-the-neck" speaking style, won praise today for her first televised Christmas message.

"The Queen showed an easy, polished manner," said the British Press Assn. "She was queenly and responsible, but motherly, too."

Lord Altringham, who raised the original fuss on the Queen's speeches, remained silent.

The Queen fluffed only one word in a seven-minute reading. She never repeated herself and spoke with extremely clear diction.

She twisted her hands once and at another point she hesitated slightly in order to swallow. She also shot several fond glances off-camera at her husband, Prince Philip, who was sitting nearby.

Support Squadron Wins Decorations Contest At Webb

First place in the Webb Air Force Base Christmas decoration contest went to the 356th Support Squadron. Its colorful display of a church model and reindeer caught the eye of the judges.

Headquarters Squadron Section, M&S Group, came in second with its Season's Greetings sign and colorful decorations.

Headquarters Squadron Section, Wing, took third prize with a version of Christmas in Texas. A very roly poly Santa Claus being pulled by a team of Texas jack rabbits formed the center of the display.

Among those receiving honorable mention were Headquarters, Air Base Group, with a space-age Santa Claus complete with Sputnik and a space-helmeted dog, the Base Hospital and the Base Chapel, 356th Field Maintenance Squadron, 356th Field Maintenance Squadron, 356th Field Maintenance Squadron, Air Police Squadron, and Installations Squadron.

Boats Blown Over

HONG KONG (AP) — A sudden typhoon with winds that hit the top of a Chinese wind scale overturned 900 fishing boats in the East China Sea Dec. 12, the Communist New China News Agency said today.

Solon Asks Union Anti-Red Drives

Slain

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Eastland (D-Miss) said today AFL-CIO leaders should be as tough on members and officers who plead the Fifth Amendment in investigations of communism as on those who refuse to testify about corruption.

In a statement released through his office here, Eastland protested that what he termed a double standard in this regard "tends to give an aura of respectability to those who use that means to avoid giving information on Red activity."

His remarks were in a statement accompanying the publication of testimony received last spring and summer at public hearings of the Internal Security subcommittee which he heads.

Eastland said the hearings showed that "several UAW (United Auto Workers Union) witnesses were defended by a local president for exercising the Fifth Amendment privilege, while another who testified freely about the communist conspiracy against his country was spoken of disparagingly."

The reference was to an article the subcommittee attributed to Carl Stellato as president of UAW Local 600 in Detroit. The article, placed in evidence at the time as having been published in a booklet known as "Ford Facts," defended some members and officials of the local who had refused to testify about past Communist activities by fellow union members.

Convicts Caught In Tunnel Try

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP) — A band of convicts attempting to tunnel their way to freedom from the Washington State Penitentiary were caught in the act by guards yesterday, touching off a brief but furious underground battle.

The prisoners, some of them brandishing knives, came out fighting when accosted in their 60-foot shaft, and one guard was beaten and kicked in the battle. No knife wounds were inflicted.

The convicts, wearing flour sacks over their heads to protect their identities, all broke away, throwing their knives to the ground as they ran to the tunnel entrance within the prison walls.

In a convict-by-convict search of the tunnel, guards later picked out seven prisoners accused of being in on the abortive escape plot. Dirt under the fingernails and in their hair gave them away.

Warden Bob Rhyas said three to five other prisoners were involved in the underground scrap with the guards, members of a routine security checking crew.

Rhyas declined to name the guard injured or the convicts known to have been involved in the escape attempt.

Indonesia Pledges Safety Of Non-Dutch Businesses

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The government said today it will guarantee the security of non-Dutch businesses in Indonesia.

In a nationwide radio broadcast, the Information Ministry said recent government moves to take control of Dutch-owned businesses would be restricted to the Dutch.

Many Western businessmen have been fearful the government might also seize their enterprises during a 3½-week-old campaign to force most Dutch citizens out of Indonesia. The campaign was touched off by the Netherlands' refusal to hand over Dutch New Guinea to this island republic.

The broadcast accused the Dutch of launching slanderous propaganda about conditions in Indonesia since the campaign began. The ministry said the security of foreign enterprises other than Dutch will continue to be guaranteed.

Reports from Makassar said that capital of South Celebes was quiet again after eight soldiers and one civilian were killed in clashes last Sunday between army units.

Yeast Rolls Popular Year 'Round Treat

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

When we were young, Parker House rolls from the bakery ordered for special occasions, were the height of culinary glamor. Recently we tried our hand at making the rolls and when we served them hot with butter and other spreads, they were much enjoyed. Good as these rolls are, however, their texture and appearance differs from the bakery product—so don't expect a facsimile of those bought.

PARKER HOUSE ROLLS

Ingredients:
 1/2 cup milk
 1/4 cup sugar
 2 1/2 tps. salt
 4 1/2 tps. shortening
 1/2 cup warm (105 to 115 degrees) water
 1 package active dry yeast
 4 1/2 cups sifted flour (about)
 Butter or margarine (melted)

Method:
 Scald milk; stir in sugar, salt and shortening; cool to lukewarm. Measure warm water into a large mixing bowl; sprinkle in yeast; stir until dissolved. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture. Add half the flour; beat until smooth; stir in remaining flour. Turn dough out on lightly floured board; knead until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl; brush top with melted butter; cover with clean towel. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk—about 1 hour. Punch dough down and turn out on lightly floured board; divide dough in half. Roll out each half into a 9-inch circle; cut with a round 2 1/2 inch cookie cutter. Crease each round a little off center with dull edge of knife; brush lightly with melted butter. Fold larger side over smaller so edges just meet; press to seal; place on greased baking sheet about 1 inch apart; cover. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk—about 1 hour. Brush lightly with melted butter. Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven about 15 minutes. Makes 2 1/2 dozen rolls.

Small Fry Will Like These Stars

Ginger stars are crisp but not rich or very sweet.

GINGER COOKIE STARS

Ingredients:
 2 1/2 cups sifted flour
 1/2 tsp. baking soda
 1/2 tsp. salt
 1/2 tsp. ground allspice
 1/2 tsp. ground ginger
 1/2 tsp. ground cinnamon
 1/2 cup butter or margarine
 1-3 cup sugar
 1-3 cup dark molasses
 1-3 cup water

Method:
 Sift together flour, baking soda, salt, allspice, ginger and cinnamon. Cream butter and sugar. Stir molasses and water together; stir into creamed mixture alternately with the flour; begin and end with flour and mix just until smooth. Chill.

Roll out small portion of dough at one time on prepared pastry cloth with floured stockinet covered rolling pin to 1/8-inch thickness. Cut with star cutter.

Place on greased cookie sheet and bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven just until lightly browned—10 to 12 minutes. Remove with spatula to cooling racks.

Store in tightly covered container when cold. Makes dozens of cookies, number depending on size of cutter.

Veal Chops, Cheese Blend In Tasty Dish

Here is a blending of flavors which your family will like after a round of rich sauces and dressings. Try this for a prepare-ahead meal.

BREADED VEAL CHOPS

Ingredients:
 4 loin veal chops (1/2 to 3/4 inch thick)
 1 large egg
 2 tps. milk
 1/2 tsp. salt
 White pepper
 2 tps. flour
 1-3 cup fine dry bread crumbs
 2 tps. Parmesan cheese
 1/2 tsp. paprika
 3 tps. butter or margarine

Method:
 Roll ends of chops pinwheel fashion and skewer with toothpicks to meaty part of chops. Beat egg enough to combine yolk and white; beat in milk to combine with salt and pepper to taste.

Dip chops in flour, then in egg, and last in bread crumbs mixed with Parmesan and paprika—one at a time. Melt butter in 10-inch skillet; add chops and brown slowly on both sides.

Place cover on skillet partly ajar and cook slowly until chops are tender. Entire cooking time will probably take 45 minutes. Remove toothpicks before serving. Makes 4 servings.

Baked Pear Halves

Peeled fresh pear halves will need to be baked in a moderate oven for about half an hour to be tender. Baste the pears with a sugar syrup flavored with lemon while they're baking. Serve with vanilla ice cream.

Beating Eggs

When a recipe calls for "well beaten egg yolks," it usually means the yolks to be beaten until they are thick and lemon-colored.

For New Year's Eve Party Make Beef, Mushroom Dish, Kiss-Ball

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor

How about a kiss-and-tell supper on New Year's Eve? You can make a Kissing Ball for your buffet table—and then tell your guests how you prepared the utterly delicious main dish by typing out the recipe as a New Year's gift.

Have copies for the men, too—some of them are bound to be amateur chefs and will be both flattered and interested.

The beef-and-mushroom main dish may be prepared ahead and reheated shortly before the midnight supper. To accompany it, cook converted-type rice ahead; when you are ready to serve, cover it with boiling water, allow it to stand about five minutes, then drain.

Add a salad of endive, other crisp greens and black olives. You can arrange these ingredients attractively in your salad bowl, cover tightly and refrigerate. Just before serving, toss the salad with a dressing of olive oil, white wine vinegar, prepared Bahama-type mustard, salt and freshly-ground pepper. Cheese sticks can accompany beef and salad. For dessert you need nothing more than holiday cookies and cake and lots of good strong coffee.

To make the Kissing Ball, you will need a package of 9-inch silver-finished service plates, a stapler, paste, a package of flame-proof confetti, narrow ribbon and artificial or real mistletoe.

Bend each of the six plates in half, silverside in; arrange plates back to back to form a ball with folded edges toward center; staple plate edges together at top and bottom close to folds. Brush edges of plates with paste and while still damp, sprinkle with confetti; press confetti down slightly and shake off excess.

The ribbon bows and sprigs of mistletoe at center edges of plates and hang a ribbon loop at the top for hanging.

BEEF MUSHROOM DISH

Here's the recipe for the main dish:

Ingredients:
 2 pounds beef round steak (cut in 1/2-inch thick slices)
 1 tsp. salt
 1 tsp. monosodium glutamate
 Fat for browning
 3 1/2 cups water
 1 bouillon cube
 1/4 tsp. tabasco
 1/4 tsp. dried crushed oregano
 1-16 tsp. nutmeg
 1/2 pound mushrooms
 1 tsp. finely chopped onion
 1 tsp. minced parsley
 1/4 cup butter or margarine

2 tps. flour
 4 cups cooked rice
 Brazil nuts
 Extra parsley

Method:
 Sprinkle beef with salt and monosodium glutamate; cut meat into 1/2-inch strips. Brown meat, a small number of the strips at a time, in a small amount of hot fat.

Add 2 1/2 cups of water, bouillon cube, tabasco, oregano and nutmeg. Cover and simmer until meat is tender. Chop mushroom stems; cut up any large mushrooms in quarters or eighths; leave smaller ones whole.

Cook mushrooms, onion and 1 tablespoon minced parsley in butter about 5 minutes; add to meat mixture. Blend flour with remaining 1 cup cold water; add to meat and cook, stirring constantly, until slightly thickened. Serve over rice.

Garnish rice with toasted Brazil nut slices and sprinkle with extra minced parsley. Makes 6 servings.

Oranges Among Your Yule Gifts? Use In Many Ways

If a basket of citrus fruit was among your gifts, you might like to put up some spiced oranges to serve after the holidays. They improve after standing in their jars for several weeks. Or bake a big orange loaf for snacking.

SPICED ORANGES

Ingredients:
 6 oranges
 1 1/2 quarts water
 3 cups sugar
 2 cups water
 1/4 cup cider vinegar
 1/2 tsp. whole cloves
 3 three-inch sticks cinnamon
 3 pieces whole ginger

Method:
 Put whole oranges in large saucepan; add 1 1/2 quarts water. Bring to a boil; boil 20 minutes. Drain and cut into eighths; remove any seeds.

Mix sugar, 2 cups water, vinegar, cloves, cinnamon and ginger; stir over low heat until sugar dissolves. Bring to a boil; add oranges and simmer about 20 minutes.

Spoon into hot sterilized jars and seal, or cover and store in refrigerator. Serve as a relish. Makes 7 cups—48 slices plus syrup.

ORANGE BREAD

Ingredients:
 1/4 cup slivered orange rind (about 4 oranges)
 1 1/2 cups sugar
 1-3 cup water
 3 tps. butter or margarine
 1 1/4 cups orange juice
 3 eggs (well beaten)
 4 cups sifted flour
 4 tps. double-acting baking powder
 1/2 tsp. baking soda
 2 tps. salt

Method:
 To prepare the slivered orange rind, wash the oranges and dry; remove the orange rind with a sharp knife, cutting around the orange and leaving most of the white membrane behind. Cut rind into very thin slivers with scissors or knife.

Mix sugar and water; add rind; stir constantly over low heat until sugar is dissolved; cook slowly about 5 minutes. The rind and syrup should measure 1 1/4 cups. Add butter; stir until melted; add orange juice and beaten eggs. Sift together into a large mixing bowl the flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt. Add orange mixture; stir just enough to moisten dry ingredients. Batter should be lumpy.

Bake in greased and paper-lined loaf pan (9 by 5 by 3 inches) in slow (325 degrees) oven 1 hour and 15 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Turn out on rack; remove paper; cool. Store in lightly covered container.

A Bible Thought For Today

Grace to you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. (Philemon 1:3)

Dangerous Relaxing Of Guard

Last week the country was told that the Strategic Air Command (SAC) had its planes grounded for the final five weeks of the last fiscal year which ended June 30 because the economy wave had resulted in exhaustion of funds for gasoline.

This was the burden of testimony by Gen. Curtis LeMay in response to a question by Sen. Stuart Symington, member of the Senate Investigating subcommittee. There was no elaboration on the point, but it is certain that the gasoline could have been had if funds had been available.

In our own corner, for example, Cosden Petroleum Corporation has cut back production of av-gas sharply because of summary cancellation of government gasoline contracts.

But that is hardly the point. As was disclosed recently, SAC planes in all parts of the world are aloft around the clock, those in strategic locations armed with nuclear weapons, so they can respond instantly in case of attack. Those on the ground are ready to take the air within minutes of an emergency signal.

To reach the high efficiency demanded of their air and ground crews, training and practice go on constantly in SAC, to maintain the razor-edge sharpness required of them. So, if the hiatus in gasoline funds did no more than interfere with this incessant training, the five weeks of grounding could have been of grievous consequences had the enemy chosen that moment to strike.

As LeMay told the committee, the U.S. would have to rely 100 per cent on SAC in the opening stages of a war. Others testified that it would be two years before we could possibly have our ballistic missile program in operational readiness. This lays a double stress on keeping SAC ready and rearing to go at a moment's notice.

Frugality can be a virtue, but it also can be a folly. Training and eternal vigilance of the SAC are too vital to be sacrificed or even relaxed for lack of gasoline which is in bountiful supply.

Windy Roll Call For 1958

There were tornadoes galore throughout 1957 some of them as late as the middle of December, but very few hurricanes. A tornado is defined as "a violent rotary storm of small diameter," and a hurricane is "a tropical cyclone" of much greater scope and duration. We have no figures on tornadoes later than 1955, but that year accounted for 670. The apparent rise in the number of these monstrous meemies is probably due to a better reporting system, rather than an actual increase in their number.

With regard to hurricanes, the Weather Bureau is all set for 1958. It has selected the list of feminine names to be given the storms as they come up in alphabetical order in the Atlantic Ocean and the Gulf of Mexico.

Some odd names appear on the new list, which is as follows: Alma, Becky, Cleo, Daisy, Ella, Fifi, Gerda, Helene, Ilsa, Janice, Katy, Lila, Milly, Nola, Orchid, Portia, Queeny, Rena, Sherry, Thora, Udele, Virgy, Wilna, Xrae, Yurith and Zorna.

As we recall, the 1957 hurricanes did not get past F or G, and with the notable exception of the one that wiped out Cameron, La., they were tolerably puny affairs.

Bad as they are, destructive as they can be, tornadoes and hurricanes probably do less property and crop damage, year in and year out, than hail. But nothing good can be said about tornadoes, hurricanes and hail, all of which may eventually be eliminated by scientific weather control.

25 Million Worked For Churches In '57

PRINCETON, N. J. — This Christmas season, some 25 million Americans may take comfort in the fact that at some time during 1957 they have heeded, at least in spirit, the plea of Isaiah: "Prepare ye the way of the Lord."

That is the number estimated in a special Institute survey to have called on a friend, neighbor or others during the last 12 months to ask them to join or attend church.

All told some 30 million U. S. homes—or about six out of every 10 American households—received a call from a member of some church during 1957.

As a special phase of its annual audit of religion in the U. S., the Institute this year assigned its interviewers to ask a true cross-section of the American people these questions:

"Did you, yourself, happen to call on anyone in the last 12 months to ask him or her to join or attend church?"

Per cent Total
Yes, called	24 24,900,000
No, did not	76 76,700,000

An analysis of the results reveals that members of the various Protestant denominations were most active—nearly three in 10 said they had called on someone.

About one Catholic in eight (12 per cent) said he had made one or more calls during 1957.

Proportionately more women than men assumed a "missionary" role during the last 12 months. Nearly three women in 10 said they had made a call compared to two men in 10 who had done so.

The second question asked:

"Has anyone from any church called on you during the last 12 months?"

Per cent Total
Yes, someone called	60 30,000,000
No, no one called	40 20,000,000

Nearly two out of three Protestant homes reported that a call had been made by a member of some church or denomination during the last year.

One Catholic home in two reported that someone from a church had called some time in the last 12 months.

Each person who reported a call was asked which church denomination the caller had been affiliated.

The results indicate that the Baptists would get the gold star for the most active missionary work during the year. They were mentioned more frequently than any other denomination or church.

Ranked by order of mention here are

Other pressure groups represent:

Labor and Welfare—more than $3.5 billion for '58

Natural Resources—$1.5 billion.

Commerce and Housing—$1.7 billion.

International affairs and finance—$2.4 billion.

the top 10 religious organizations in terms of members reported having called in 1957:

1. Baptists
2. Roman Catholics
3. Methodists
4. Lutherans
5. Jehovah's Witnesses
6. Presbyterians
7. Disciples of Christ
8. Latter Day Saints
9. Episcopalians
10. Congregationalists

Many other religious organizations were mentioned. Some of those cited often included the United Brethren, Reformed, 7th Day Adventists, Assemblies of God, Pentecostal, Jewish, Pilgrim Holiness, Christian Science and Church of God.

Also the Evangelical, Evangelical and Reform, Mennonite, Eastern Orthodox, Church of the Gospel, Bible Protestant, Unitarian, and Society of Friends.

A great many churches in this country regard the matter of personal "evangelism" as part of the religious responsibility of their church members.

In the New Testament, it is recorded in the Gospel of St. Matthew that Jesus told his Disciples, after His Resurrection, "Go ye therefore and make Disciples of all Nations."

What Others Say

The opening gun of the 1958 Battle of the Potomac was fired by President Eisenhower in Oklahoma City.

Already pressure groups are running for defensive positions.

In his second address on science and national security, the President said that increased defense expenditures would require offsetting economies.

He added: "But savings of the kind we need can come about only through cutting or deferring entire categories of activities. This will be one of the hardest and most distasteful tasks that the coming session of Congress must face."

Pressure groups will cry in anguish the President said. Along with the wailing, they no doubt will threaten political death at the polls. There will be a congressional election in 1958.

What are these pressure groups?

There is the farm bloc—representing beneficiaries of $5 billion to be spent in the next fiscal year.

There are the organized veterans of World Wars One and Two—a major factor in boosting federal spending for veterans' services and benefits above the $5 billion mark.

Other pressure groups represent:

Labor and Welfare—more than $3.5 billion for '58

Natural Resources—$1.5 billion.

Commerce and Housing—$1.7 billion.

International affairs and finance—$2.4 billion.

In casting about for places to cut funds, Congress will run up against one untouchable—the interest charged against the national debt. This year it will amount to more than $7.3 billion.

The President also holds as untouchable the cost of aid—military and economic—to our allies.

If, then, entire categories of activities are to be killed, they must be found in areas of agriculture, labor, welfare, veterans services and benefits, commerce and housing.

This will be hard—if not impossible.

In 27 fiscal years since 1930, the government has spent more than its tax take and borrowed the rest.

That is what has shrunk the U. S. dollar to about half its old-time purchasing power.

Now He Tells Me!

James Marlow Gloomy Month For Hagerty

WASHINGTON (AP)—This was the gloomiest month for the James C. Hagerty school of public relations.

Hagerty jumped from a needle that exposed one of the thinnest skins in town. His star pupil, Murray Snyder, got caught in a gaudy snafu.

Hagerty is one of the best White House press secretaries ever. For years Snyder served under him as the No. 2 White House press secretary.

No one ever did more to make President Eisenhower look good than these two.

Last February Eisenhower promoted Snyder to one of the most important and touchy public relations jobs in the world. He made him assistant secretary of defense for public affairs.

Hagerty isn't Mary's little lamb by a long sight. He has a quick temper.

So sometimes when he is asked a silly question at his news conferences, his patience in answering is a tribute to his self-control.

Last week, Art Buchwald, a columnist for the New York Herald Tribune, tried a spoof on one of these conferences by writing of an imaginary one with a character named Jim. He didn't use the name Hagerty.

It was full of silly questions and deadpan answers. But it annoyed Hagerty, who's been singularly free of jokes, jibes, needles and pokes.

"Unadulterated rot," he called it in a Paris news conference where he brought up the subject himself. Thus, Hagerty not only showed he gets black and blue if you touch him but broke the public relations man's No. 1 rule.

This is the rule: If you don't like something, don't get it more publicity. Buchwald's column might have been a one-day wonder, soon forgotten. But Hagerty got it worldwide attention by attacking it.

Snyder had his bad day when the Navy Vanguard satellite rocket fell on its face Dec. 6 at Cape Canaveral, Fla., after an enormous publicity buildup from the Defense Department.

One of the reasons newsmen were given so much information about the attempted Vanguard launching was perhaps to offset Russia's publicity with the Sputniks. But after the Vanguard fiasco, two schools of orators sprang up.

One denounced the Defense Department for permitting such publicity before the satellite was actually sent skyward; the other praised the department for being so open with the public.

Some high Navy brass put the responsibility squarely on Snyder. They said they had wanted a secret launching but were overruled. Snyder said he wanted to let the public know all he could within the limits of security.

He said his job was "not to exploit the successes and hide the failures."

But the next day the Air Force—which runs the Cape Canaveral test center for the Defense Department—really wrapped the missile range in secrecy, trying to make news getting there as tough as possible.

Finding Life By Running Away

EVERGLADES, Fla. (AP)—Some men find life by trying to run away from it.

That is the word of a big brawny commercial fisherman who goes around without shoes and has feet so tough he can strike a match on them or walk across broken glass without injury.

"I like the feel of the ground," said Bud Kirk, 46. "I bought a new pair of shoes when I got married, and when I gave them away 10 years later they were still as good as new."

He doesn't mind that strangers consider it a big odd for a man his age to go around shoeless. All his life he was worried little about the opinions of others.

But went only to the eighth grade in school. In 1930, when he was 19, he wanted of trying to find factory work. He left his native Rochester, N.Y., and came here to one of America's last wildernesses.

"I was a little sour on things," said Bud. "I was tired of conformity, and wanted a breath of fresh air in my life."

Like Thoreau, he wanted to get away from civilization. But he did a far better job of it.

Bud plunged alone into the heart of the Everglades, and lived there alone for more than four years.

"I learned to live off the land—a thing any man can do if he is put to it," he said.

Bud emerged from time to time only to sell the skins of coon and alligators he trapped. As the months and years passed, Bud's anger against civilization ebbed, but his fascination with the world of nature around him grew stronger.

In time Kirk became a self-taught authority on all the varied life of the Everglades. He knew where to find the hidden bird, the rare flower, the places where the elder Indians had buried their dead long ago. University scientists often came to him for help.

In 1940 Bud met and married Kappy Stephens, a schoolteacher. Six years ago at 40 he decided he could do with a bit more schooling, so he spent a year as a special student at the University of Miami. He supported his wife and two children by the sale of wild orchids he gathered from the swamps.

In his years spent plumbing the secrets of the Everglades Bud had a lot of time to brood about life.

"I decided that the philosophy that the meek shall inherit the earth, while it seems thin and weak at times, is true in the long run," he said.

When I asked him what was the greatest thing he had learned from his solitary sojourn in this watery wilderness, he said without hesitating, "a degree of tolerance."

Around The Rim Shopping In The Wild West

Like everyone else, I have shopped for gifts when in utter dismay, in complete bewilderment, sometimes with a sudden spurt of sheer inspiration, often with genuine pleasure. But only once, praise be, when in a state of stark terror.

It was my first trip to Santa Fe, N. M., and the neighboring area. Pulsing with adventuresome spirit, I was eager to see this enchanting region about which I had heard and read so much. As it turned out, Santa Fe lived up to all my expectations, even exceeded them, and made me another in the multitude of her fans.

Indians are as much woven into the fabric of that country as are the missions and the arroyos. And I wanted to see them in their own surroundings; especially did I want to visit a certain village where a noted artisan was said to live.

We were two women, traveling by car, and we wound our way miles into the expanses until we turned down into a sandy trail curled behind a gentle mountain. As we entered the parched village, which was a circle of dwellings around a plaza, the only sign of life was a trio of children playing together. Suddenly, as if from nowhere, there came running into the path of the car a creature with wildly waving arms and disheveled long black hair. His eyes peering into the side window were crafty and bloodshot. Incoherently, he demanded money.

There was no escape. His hand was on the door handle. I scrambled for a coin in my purse and, just as he snatched it and ran, an old Indian man rushed toward the car on the other side, screaming for us not to give him money. When we told him it was too late he moaned in despair and said "Get going." The latter he emphasized with fierce gestures.

By this time goosebumps were stacked upon goosebumps and I put the accelerator to the floorboard. My imagination was working overtime and I could feel pairs of hostile eyes surveying us from every window and perhaps a tomanawk or two in easy reach. But it had been a long journey to the village and, even though there was but one path to and from this forlorn place, we saw the crafts shop and determined to stop. Mustering all our courage, as casually as we could we sidled into the front door.

Needless to say, we early left that little scene in a cloud of dust and set something of a speed record in the doing.

But it was the gift purchased in that village that will long linger in my memory; not so much the gift, though, as the circumstances with which it is associated.

Which Is Better—Work Or Idleness?

Well, sir, today I ain't mad at nobody. But I have a "Constant Reader" who is. To be specific, he's mad at me. He says the newspapers confuse him, beginning with me. And I sympathize. Darned if I'm not confused from time to time.

"I read your column tonight about work killing people," he says, working up a head of steam. And it isn't going to be of any use to tell Constant Reader that, honestly, I was just kidding. In my opinion work, short of slavery, is the salvation of mankind.

But Constant Reader has the floor. "I wish you people would make up your mind," he writes. "Here for the last few years I have been reading that retirement or idleness was killing people. On all sides you hear, 'Whatever you do, don't retire. You will die if you do. Remember old Bill who retired last year? Well, he is dead.' That is what you hear on all sides.

"Well, I am terribly concerned about this since I am trying out retirement. And I got no hobbies like they say you should have if you retire. I cannot get up any interest in a hobby. All I can think about is that I must work or die."

"I will say for loafing: It is a lot harder job than working. There is 24 hours in every day. I now stay in bed until 9 a.m. and it may kill me if nothing else does. I imagine people are noticing me prowling the streets."

"And how about the word 'loitering'?" At my age, I don't want to be picked up by a policeman. So the question is: Which is going to kill you quicker—utter boredom or work?

"Also, I have talked to retired men who said that they had a guilty feeling because they were not working, not producing and not being useful."

"So, please, make up your mind whether it is work or idleness that is best for us!" Signed, "Bewildered Constant Reader."

Golly, I wish I could. But here I am, more or less emulating the beaver, and completely inexperienced with retirement.

But I think I know what confuses Constant Reader—it is the pernicious habit of American newspapers in printing all sides of a question.

I guess I've read about as much on the problems of retirement as Constant Reader, and no two experts ever quite agree. But the press, out of dedication to free speech, print every expert's well-considered views. The newspapers don't recommend one or t'other. Just leave it to Constant Readers to make up their own minds and select the advice each deems best for himself. This can be maddening.

I can't imagine anything more blissful than staying in bed till 9 a.m. every morning, yet it's killing Constant Reader—and I can't afford to lose him. My hobby is reading. If I retired tomorrow, I probably would take up legal residence in the Public Library and live happily ever after.

But Constant Reader hasn't got a hobby, as some geriatrics experts insist he must have. And he hasn't got work, as others recommend. He's in a real fix. And the newspapers, with their confusing habit of printing every side of the argument, are only worsening the situation.

I don't blame him for being cross, especially since I haven't any solution for his problem. And he can do without my sympathy, he writes. Lor' love him, and may he forgive me, but the best I can do this day is to wish him a Merry Christmas and a Happier New Year.

Debunking The 'Summit' Conference

WASHINGTON — The biggest hoax in history is the "summit conference" idea sponsored in a world-wide propaganda by the Communist regime in Moscow.

Many gullible persons are being taken in by it—persons who do not know that any time the Soviet government wants to say anything confidentially or otherwise to any other government all it has to do is to call in an ambassador and he will quickly transmit the message to his own government.

Not only does the United States government maintain in Moscow an ambassador with a large staff of experienced aides and translators but the Soviet government maintains in Washington an ambassador also with a large staff. Diplomacy has certain rules—if either government wants to keep the conversation on a secret basis it is respected by both parties.

Furthermore, every other government of the free world also has an ambassador at Washington and the Soviet Union has an ambassador in each of the free countries.

There is, therefore, no lack of a means of communication by written message or personal contact.

But it is argued that a meeting "at the summit" is desirable because heads of state can "talk things over." Presidents and prime ministers, however, must have at their elbows their foreign secretaries and experts who know more than the chiefs of government do about the tricks of negotiation. So the result is not an intimate consultation after all. The President of the United States, moreover, cannot in a conference with the head of a foreign government make an important commitment unless it has been carefully worked out in advance by the secretary of state and his advisers.

What's more, no president can make a commitment for any new policy abroad unless, on the main principles at least, he has consulted with the leaders of both parties in Congress. Only dictators can ignore their parliaments.

All this is well known in Moscow. When the Soviet government really wants to talk things over, its own ambassador at Washington is instructed to see the secretary of state in person which he can do almost at any time on short notice. Just a few weeks ago Foreign Secretary Gromyko, who was in this country for the United Nations meetings, came to Washington and spent several hours with Secretary Dulles at his home. For all practical purposes this was a kind of "summit conference." It covered a good deal of ground. Nothing that was said by either official was subsequently made public. If the Soviet government wanted to reach some kind of agreement, this was the opportunity. If it still has something it wishes to sponsor and negotiate, it can always send its foreign minister to continue the conversations with Secretary Dulles. The Soviet ambassador, moreover, can have a personal conference with the President if he desires it.

What is more, the free nations are today willing to have a conference of foreign ministers. Indeed, at Paris, last week they voted for that very proposal. But the Moscow government promptly rejected it and called for a United Nations special conference on disarmament to be attended by the representatives of 58 nations—as if anything can be done in such a mass meeting. A conference of the major nations on disarmament was held in London earlier this year to negotiate privately but got nowhere because of the stubbornness of the Soviets.

Then why do the Communists keep on proposing a "summit conference?" It is one of their trump cards. They keep saying over and over again on the radio and in the press that it is the Soviet government that wants peace and that the West wants war. They think the world—especially the "neutralist" countries—will come eventually to believe these accusations.

What can be done about it? The free governments can't let the issue rest with mere refusal to talk. Adlai Stevenson says "affirmative" attitudes must be taken toward the Bulgarian letters, for instance. He is right if by this is meant that no document or statement issued by the Soviets should go unanswered. It is time for the free governments to be blunt and outspoken in their comments about what is going on inside Russia and in the captive countries. Until peoples are free, the totalitarian governments represent the biggest threat of war.

There is no peace in the world today because the men in the Kremlin are irresponsible. They refuse to permit even their own people to be freed from the vigilant eyes of the police. The cold war in the outside world will end only when the cold war inside Soviet Russia is at end. Then only can there be freedom for all the people. It's that kind of statement which the West should not miss a single opportunity to disseminate throughout the world even as the "summit conference" idea is debunked for what it really is—a propaganda trick without the slightest sincerity behind it.

Everest Conqueror Heads For S. Pole

AUCKLAND, N. Z. (AP)—Sir Edmund Hillary was reported racing toward the South Pole today. If he reaches the bottom of the world, he will be the first explorer to make it overland since 1911. Hillary radioed today that he is "hell bent for the South Pole—God willing and crevasses permitting." The conqueror of Mt. Everest and his small party have about 325 miles to go.

A message received here indicated Hillary had abandoned earlier plans to link up with Dr. Vivian Fuchs at Depot 700, but is leaving supplies there for him. Fuchs is leading a British party from the South American side of the continent in the first attempt to trek across the antarctic. Fuchs and Hillary are expected to return together to Hillary's base camp near McMurdo Sound on the New Zealand side of Antarctica.

Fuchs is depending on the supplies to help him complete his transantarctic trek, but his party apparently has been slowed down 700 miles from the pole by crevasses and mechanical trouble with his tractor.

There had been speculation earlier that the two teams were engaged in a race to the South Pole, but Hillary's supporters have denied this. Fuchs is commanding both his own British team and Hillary's New Zealand crew.

Hillary reported that his tractor party has covered 100 miles in the last two treks and is now crossing a large, featureless snow plain. He added that the weather is good with only occasional breezes and no heavy winds.

"The march two nights ago was the first for some time we had not seen or fallen into any crevasses," Hillary reported.

Fuchs and Hillary exchanged Christmas greetings by radio and left their plans for the New Year for a discussion at the South Pole, where the United States has a scientific station.

Daily Worker On Last Legs

NEW YORK (AP)—The Daily Worker, for 34 years the best-known voice of communism in the United States, appears destined to go out of existence next week.

The National Executive Committee of the Communist party reportedly voted in a secret meeting last weekend to discontinue the paper as of next Tuesday. This move would leave only the Sunday paper, The Worker, as the party newspaper in New York and the Eastern area.

But the paper's editor, John Gates, said he did not regard the vote as binding and would try to continue publishing indefinitely.

A continuing drop in circulation and increasing financial losses have kept the Daily Worker pleading for funds from supporters for years.

In October, the paper reported its average paid circulation in the preceding 12 months was 5,574. A year before, an official statement put it at 7,395.

Gates said at the time that the Daily Worker's peak circulation was in 1938, when it hit around 20,000. The Sunday Worker, he said, once had a circulation of 80,000, but was down to about 12,000 by October this year.

Legion Post To Plan Big Dance For New Year's

Howard County Post No. 355 of the American Legion will hold its regular meeting at 8 p.m. today at the Legion Hut on the San Angelo highway.

Commander J. V. Gregory stated principal business will be to make final plans for the Legion sponsored New Year's Eve Dance. The dance has been designated as the official New Year celebration for the posts and Auxiliary Units in the 19th district and members are expected from many of the cities of West Texas.

According to general chairman O. W. Sparks, music will be furnished by Alexander's Hi-Fi orchestra and members of the American Legion from throughout the district and their guests will be admitted. The dance is to be held in the ballroom of the Settles Hotel.
