Smiles Of Relief Over SUB

Smiles of relief were apparent at the Howard County Junior College board meeting following opening of bids on the Dora Roberts student union building Wednesday. Trustees awarded contracts totalling $300,108 to (A) Jimmy Shipmen of Golden Coffee and Equipment Co. of Lubbock for kitchen equipment; (B) Arthur Wasch of A. P. Kasch & Sons, Big Spring, for general, plumbing and heating and

DORA ROBERTS STUDENT UNION

$300,000 In Contracts Let On Junior College Buildings

Contracts totalling $300,108 were awarded by Howard County Junior College board of trustees for the Dora Roberts Student Union Building here Wednesday. As much as $300,000 had been pledged by the Dora Roberts Foundation for the project. Board members voted to award the contracts after Dr. W. A. Hunt, HCJC president, estimated that budget savings and excess of revenues over estimates would provide a sufficient cushion for the fees. These were estimated at about $15,000. The purchase of furnishings—which would run around $17,000—was delayed until the next fiscal year.

Low bidder on a combination of the general and heating, plumbing and air conditioning bid was A. P. Kasch & Son of Big Spring on a proposal of $250,224. This was approximately a thousand dollars less than the combination of Kasch's low general bid of $185,224 and the low plumbing, heating, conditioning bid of Neill's Mechanical contractors in the amount of $65,961. Contract for electrical work went to Phillips Electric Co. of Midland on a bid of $20,885. Golden Light Coffee & Equipment Co. of Lubbock had the low bid on kitchen equipment of $28,999 and was awarded the contract. Fifteen firms submitted general bids, one of the largest number ever to bid a local public job. Competition also was the closest on this volume of bidders, for 12 out of the total were separated by no more than $11,000. The highest bid was for $212,212, which left a spread on only $27,000 from the lowest to the highest in the entire field. J. D. Jones Construction of Big Spring, with a proposal of $188,907, ranked third low, being slightly over the second place Allen & Wilson Construction proposal of $187,388. Second low on the electrical work was Boss Electric Company of Snyder with a proposal of $21,461, a difference of $576. The top of four bids for electrical work was $22,987. Second low on kitchen (there are two kitchens in the building) was West Texas Coffee & Equipment Co. of Abilene for $29,948, only $12 less than Fort Worth Fountain & Hotel Supply. Kasch, who was the builder on the last major construction program for the college, said that he likely would be ready to begin work by March 1. His contract specified 270 days, and on this basis it would be toward the end of the year before the plant would be ready for occupancy. Phillips Electric also was the electrical contractor on the last building program at the college. Upward of 100 contractors, suppliers, insurance men and others were on hand for the bid opening held at 4 p.m. Wednesday in the present SUB.

Faubus Strikes Out NAACP; Negro Girl Ousted From School

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval Faubus revoked the state franchise of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People yesterday. Two new reports of racial incidents came out of integrated Central High School. And Supt. Virgil Blossom recommended the expulsion of a Negro girl from the trouble-ridden school. He said she violated an agreement not to fight back against white students' harassment. Faubus signed a proclamation taking the NAACP and about 300 other corporations off the roll of chartered organizations because they failed to pay 1957 franchise taxes by a Feb. 1 deadline. His action had the effect of dissolving the NAACP in Arkansas. Under a 1953 state law, the NAACP could regain its franchise by paying delinquent taxes and applying for reinstatement. The Little Rock school board heard Blossom's recommendation for expulsion of 16-year-old Minnie Jean Brown in a closed session. Blossom also extended a three-day suspension that she got Friday to two weeks. Only the school board can expel a student but it usually follows a superintendent's recommendation. Minnie Jean got the suspension—her second—for her part in a scuffle with a white girl student. The white girl quit school. Last December, Minnie Jean was suspended for throwing chili on two white boys in a cafeteria incident. She has been involved in several other racial clashes at Central High. Minnie Jean is the only Negro who has been suspended since Negroes entered Central High Sept. 25 under the protection of federal troops. A white girl and a Negro boy reported they figured in separate incidents at Central High yesterday. Florence Callaway, 15, told newsmen that she was kicked in the knee by the heel of a Negro girl's shoe as they climbed a stair. The white girl said Thekla Mothershead, 16-year-old Negro, laughed and continued on her way. The Negro girl later offered to apologize, the white girl said, but she refused to accept the apology. Jefferson Thomas, 15, Negro, reported that an unidentified white boy seized him by the throat near the school gymnasium and threatened him. The Negro boy said the white student accused him of "bumping into me in the hall." Principal Jess Matthews said he had no details on either reported occurrence. Minnie Jean's enrollment at Central High has been interrupted by her account, because of two words: "White trash." The Negro girl said she hurried the invective at a white girl she contends was harassing her. For five months, Minnie Jean said, the situation for her has been almost unbearable. "I don't think people realize what goes on at Central," she said. "They throw rocks, they spill ink on your clothes, they call you 'nigger,' they just keep bothering you every five minutes." Minnie Jean said she and the eight other Negroes who still attend the 1,900-pupil school were ordered to be humble to white pupils. Minnie Jean has been the main target of segregationist students. Several white students have been suspended at different times for harassing her.

Angry Tunisian Chief Threatens Guerrilla War

TUNIS (AP)—President Habib Bourguiba said today that he would personally lead the Tunisian people in a guerrilla war if necessary to get French troops off Tunisian soil. In a speech recorded for later radio delivery, he warned French authorities that any armed effort to break out of their blocked bases in Tunisia would be met by force. Bourguiba added, however, that he did not despair of seeing wisdom gain control on the French side. He said he still wanted to negotiate with France, but only over the evacuation of the 5,000 French troops on his soil. Tension mounted throughout the country, and the French reported increasing minor incidents involving French troops, bases and civilians. France warned the Tunisians through diplomatic channels that further grave incidents might arise as a result of Tunisian refusal to allow French forces to supply their garrisons. The French also carried their case again to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. At a meeting of the Atlantic Council in Paris, French delegate Etienne Crouy-Chanel reported for the second day on the French-Tunisian frontier village of Sakiet Sidi Youssef. The French warning of further trouble was contained in a note delivered to Bourguiba's chief minister, Bahi Ladgham.

U.S. Envoy Confirms Casualties

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. ambassador at Tunis reportedly has confirmed Tunisian claims of heavy civilian casualties in Saturday's French bombing of the village of Sakiet Sidi Youssef. State Department officials were studying the official dispatch, received from Ambassador G. Lewis Jones to determine whether any new action should be taken by this government. United States policy has been to try to get the Tunisian and French governments to settle their differences quickly. Hope for the success of this approach is dimming. If the argument over the bombing incident develops in the North Atlantic Council in Paris and in the United Nations, as authorities here fear it may, the United States may be compelled to take sides. This could mean a split with France or loss of cordial relations with Tunisia and further anti-American hostilities in some sections of the Arab world. Privately top officials believe the French made a bad blunder in bombing the village even though they claim it was a base for Algerian rebels operating across the nearby border. The government at Tunis put the number of dead at 68 with 84 persons wounded and 10 missing. French officials have announced that all American-made planes used in the attack were owned by France and were not supplied as NATO equipment. However, the employment of American-made aircraft in the raid had given Communist and other anti-American propagandists in North Africa and the Middle East a profitable new theme to work.

Schwartz Claims 'Payoff' Admission

Ousted Counsel At FCC Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bernard Schwartz testified today that Federal Communications Commission member Richard A. Mack had personally received several thousand dollars from an attorney for a Miami television station. Schwartz, fired as counsel for a special House subcommittee, told the subcommittee under oath the money was paid to Mack after he became a member of the FCC in the summer of 1955. Mack was one of four commissioners who voted to grant the hotly contested Channel 10 in Miami to Public Service Television, Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of National Airlines. Schwartz said the money was paid to Mack in several checks by Thurman A. Whiteside, a Florida attorney who had been retained by Public Service for work in connection with its television application. Schwartz described Whiteside as an attorney who has a reputation in Florida as "a fixer."

he had better start over again and administer the oath afresh. Harris said the purpose of the hearing was to ask Schwartz to explain his statement of a payment which Schwartz had made to newspaper reporters Tuesday. Before the opening of the hearing, Harris told a reporter the committee may ask the Justice Department to prosecute Schwartz. He said the former counsel had violated federal law by removing certain papers from the committee's offices. Schwartz called them "personal working files" and took them after his dismissal as committee counsel. Schwartz said the files on the case were among the papers he removed from the committee office. He gave the papers to Sen. Morse (D-Ore.) who later returned them to the committee. Harris read from a statement which Schwartz acknowledged he had issued.

Demands Senate Probe

Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) at a press conference in Washington said he will demand a Senate investigation of Federal regulatory agencies on top of a House inquiry now bogged down in an internal row. Morse returned files given to him by an ousted House member, Bernard Schwartz, fired as counsel for a special House subcommittee investigating the Federal Communications Commission, called the papers his "personal working files" in disclosing they had been delivered to Morse.

PANEL ACCUSED

The statement by Schwartz said: "I accuse the majority of the subcommittee of firing me knowing that I have secured evidence of the payment of money to a Federal Communications Commission commissioner in a contested (contested) television case."

New Snow Threat Advances On Texas

A new fast-moving cold front was racing out of the Rocky Mountain area toward Texas Thursday, threatening more snow and rain for the winter-weary state. The new front follows in the wake of a sharp freeze early Thursday that sent the mercury to 3 degrees above zero at Vernon and nipped Lower Rio Grande Valley for light damage. While sub-freezing temperatures were reported at a number of Valley points, they were of short duration and did not last long enough to seriously damage young vegetable plants or citrus trees to any extent, State Agricultural Commissioner John White said. Snow fell intermittently at Amarillo Thursday morning as a 40-mile an hour wind whipped the area. Elsewhere over most of the state skies were clear following the sharp freeze and Wednesday's blanket of snow which reached to even Gulf Coast points. Increasing cloudiness was forecast for the state with snow and rain in West and North Texas and scattered rain elsewhere. Temperatures were expected to be warmer over the state Thursday night but colder weather was predicted for West Texas Friday.

WTCC Members Of Howard County To Meet Friday

A meeting of Howard County members of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be held here Friday morning. The session has been scheduled for 10 a.m. in the local Chamber's conference room. The program will last about 45 minutes. Ralph Duncan, manager of the community services department of the WTCC, will conduct the meeting. Features of the program are to be a report on activities of the past year and discussion of plans for 1958. Handling local arrangements are Champ Rainwater and G. H. Hayward. WTCC directors from Big Spring. They said anyone interested in the WTCC program is invited to the session. There are about 60 WTCC members here.

Ohio Fire Claims 8

Three children perished in this second floor bedroom as four of their sisters and brothers and 37-year-old father died in other rooms in an early morning fire in Alliance, Ohio. Fire Chief Milo Sights, sifting through ashes beside a charred crib, called it the worst family tragedy in his 32 years as a fireman. Only Mrs. Robert Lilly, 25, and one child survived.

Progressive' Cult In Education Gets Blast From Shivers

FORT WORTH (AP)—Former Gov. Allan Shivers blasted the "progressive cult" in education last night. He told the local chapter of the Texas Manufacturer's Assn. public opinion needs to be aroused, informed and inspired to demand an educational program fitting "our needs and worthy of our great country." The conception of public education, he continued, has become a hunt for "the lowest common denominator of individual capacity and inclination." Shivers said one of the blessings of the Russian Sputnik is that it caused "us to take a good, hard look at our public schools." He said the original meaning of progressive education was praiseworthy but that the train of educational thought jumped the track. "We wound up with a program less educational than sociological—which could better be described as 'childish,'" he said.

Explorers, America's first earth satellite, makes three passes over the southern United States today, the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory said. Only in the final minutes of the last passage will Explorer be visible. The earlier passages and most of the final passages will take place in daylight, the observatory said. Since Explorer is only 6 1/2 feet long and 6 inches wide and is orbiting about 1,000 miles up, Smithsonian said it is virtually impossible to sight it with the naked eye. Today's passages, roughly in the west-to-east direction with all times Central Standard include: 1:45 p.m., South Texas; 1:48 p.m., Delta Region of Louisiana; 3:24 p.m., southwest New Mexico; 3:27 p.m., Central Texas; 5:51 p.m., South Central Texas; and 5:54 p.m., southern Louisiana.

Tiny Paralysis Victim Bound For Texas

Three-year-old Barbara Johnson, left, lies snugly in an ambulance at El Monte, Calif., heading for Houston, as her mother, Mrs. Patricia Johnson and sister, Debby, 5, look on. She is suffering from a rare muscular disease. Her mother says California doctors have given up hope of curing her, but there's a chance Houston doctors may be able to help. A Houston ambulance firm volunteered to pick her up at El Monte and take her to Texas, without cost.

Radio Goes Dead In American Satellite After Two Weeks

By C. YATES MCDANIEL

WASHINGTON (AP)—One of the Explorer's two radio voices was silent today, less than two weeks after the American satellite began circling the earth.

The Naval Research Laboratory announced that tracking stations no longer were receiving any signals from one transmitter aboard the 30-pound metal tube coursing through space at about 18,000 miles an hour.

Signals from the second transmitter, a lower-powered set, continue sending back vital scientific information for its predicted life of from two to three months. After the Army's Explorer left into space Jan. 31, Army and Navy scientists estimated that its larger transmitter would last from two to three weeks.

Radio signals from the first Russian Sputnik, launched Oct. 4, faded out within three weeks. The Soviet satellite itself vanished in early December, probably disintegrating in the earth's atmosphere.

Sputnik II, launched Nov. 3, was not heard from after seven days. But it is still speeding around the earth carrying a lifeless dog.

The low-powered transmitter still sending signals from the American Explorer has the job principally of providing tracking stations with information on its whereabouts.

However, satellite scientists said the tiny battery was producing enough power to report data on temperatures within the satellite nose cone, information about the impact of meteorite dust and some effects of cosmic rays.

The transmitter that now is dead was solely concerned with automatic transmission of information on how the Explorer was faring.

Few amateur operators are likely to pick up signals from the remaining Explorer radio because of its low power. It is transmitting on the 108 megacycle band. In another development, a testimony given by the House Armed Services Committee disclosed the Air Force plans to use its 5,000-mile-range Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile to try to launch an unmanned reconnaissance satellite.

Secretary of the Air Force James H. Douglas said this in a statement.

Home Economist At North Texas Will Be Honored

HOUSTON (AP)—Dr. Florence Scouler, head of the Department of Home Economics at North Texas State College, will be honored here tomorrow night as the "Texas Home Economist of the Year."

A dinner will be held at the annual meeting of the Texas Home Economics Assn. Preliminary to the opening of the home economics convention, directors of the County Home Demonstration Agents Assn. of Texas held its annual meeting here yesterday.

Dr. Scouler, president of the home economics group in 1949-50, will receive a scroll and a cash award in recognition of her services. Her most recent research project has been a study of the diets of college women. She is a former president of the Texas Dietetic Assn.

The dinner program also will include a parade of fashions from 1948 to 1958, with Carolyn Reynolds of Texas Tech and Mrs. Al College as chairman.

with $130.45 for January of 1957. The monthly report from the tax department also revealed that current tax collections in January amounted to $19,336.37 as compared to $15,774.90 for the same time of 1957.

Total tax collections during January were $28,115.07, compared to $17,347.80 for January of '57. For 10 months of the fiscal year current taxes totaled $354,729.90 of the $485,370.81 revenue of the department. Other figures in the total include $18,780.04 from delinquent taxes, $4,065.46 from interest penalties, and costs on delinquent debts, $3,236.46 from occupation taxes, and $997.02 from the bus franchise. Current taxes for the prior year brought in $2,505.27, dog taxes during the past 10 months totaled $203.50.

The 10-month total from the tax department is $21,827.38, more than the same time of 1957.

Delinquent Taxes Start Coming In

The city's efforts to collect delinquent taxes is paying off, as revealed by the January financial report from the tax department.

During last month, delinquent tax collections amounted to $6,485.20, only $636.22 in delinquent taxes was paid during January of 1957. Most of the past month's collections were the result of work by the assistant city attorney, Wayne Basden.

Basden was instructed by the City Commission and commissioned by the school board to concentrate on collection of the back taxes for both agencies. Basden compiled a list of delinquent tax payers and mailed them letters notifying them that court proceedings could be filed for failure to pay the debts.

In addition to the $6,000 paid in delinquent taxes, penalties and interest on them amounted to $1,444.22 for the month as compared

Partial Recoup Possible In Surety Failure

AUSTIN (AP)—Creditors and depositors of one of Texas' biggest insurance failures may get part payment on their claims in March, 27 months after the state took over the company.

More than 2 1/2 million dollars will be poured out to about 9,000 claimants of the defunct U.S. Trust and Guaranty Co., put in receivership in December 1955.

State received J. D. Wheeler said yesterday. "We haven't calculated it right down to the penny but payments will be between 30 and 35 per cent."

Claims against the Waco firm total about seven million dollars. The State Supreme Court refused yesterday to review a case in which lower courts had thrown out claims by certain depositors of the firm for preference in distribution of liquidation funds.

The suit was styled S. B. Douglas et al vs. Wheeler. Douglas was one of about 500 depositors who brought the priority claim. If the courts had sided with Douglas, other creditors would have received nothing from the liquidated assets.

Douglas' attorney, Edward Fritz, said yesterday he had not decided what further steps he might take. He has 15 days to file for a rehearing. Such petitions usually are denied. The court normally would make a decision a week or so after receiving the petition.

BY MARCH 10 Wheeler said that if the application were made and rejected, "The possibilities are we could start sending out checks by March 10."

Our machinery here is so geared that I think we could have all the checks in the mail within 10 days after the Supreme Court's decision becomes finalized," Wheeler said. "That's going to be a lot of checks; 9,000 claimants."

He said there were 5,000 to 6,000 depositors, about 2,000 policy holders with premiums paid in advance that would be returned, 900 insurance loss claimants on property and fire losses insured by the company plus other trade creditors for the firm and its subsidiary, U.S. Automotive Service.

Real estate assets totaling several hundred thousand dollars have not been liquidated. Included in this is the $100,000 home of A. B. Shoemaker, president of the company, who shot himself through the head two years ago and still is hospitalized.

On a recent trip to San Angelo I visited with several feed dealers and others connected with farming and ranching. People are more optimistic than in several years. Grass is coming back but not as fast as some ranchers expected.

Most of them are re-stocking whenever they can. The high price and scarcity of cattle has not been conducive to rapid restocking, however.

The rains didn't help the broiler producers. Several hundred thousand broilers are grown around Angelo, but last year the profits were slim, and the outlook for 1958 is not much better.

Feed dealers said business was off. One manager, Johnny Brock of the Newman Feed Mill, said that more cattle and sheep would eventually increase business, though.

He and his partners, Frank and Gene Newman, have a big profit-maker in handling roping calves. Every year they ship in roping calves from Florida in double-decked trucks and then sell them to roping clubs in Colorado, New Mexico and West Texas. They buy Brahma calves weighing from 75 to 150 pounds, and they also make a special energy feed for the calves which keeps them strong and active but holds down the weight.

"A roping calf is no good if he's fat," said Brock. "You want one that will act like a rabbit when he comes out of the chute." Last year the partners bought and sold over 3,900 of these roping calves.

There has been a slight increase in farm and ranch jobs, according to Roscoe Gillean of the Texas Employment Commission. And as other joblessness increases, there are more takers for the jobs.

Not long ago most people shunned farm work, but now some are willing to take almost anything. This is particularly true of the transient people coming into Big Spring. Several single men have asked about rural work.

The average tractor driver gets about $6 a day, Gillean said, and is usually furnished a house and utilities. Many applicants know nothing about running a tractor, though, and farmers are particular when they hire.

Gillean told of one man who took a job driving a tractor, and his ignorance of machinery cost the farmer an expensive repair bill.

Ex-Mistress Loses Fight To Keep Gem Given By Baronet LONDON (AP)—The attractive former mistress of an 81-year-old baronet today lost her court battle to obtain $33,600 in jewels she says the baronet gave her, then took away.

The baronet, wealthy merchant banker Sir Starr Ralli, said he picked up 41-year-old Jacqueline Gray in a wartime blackout and kept her as his mistress for 15 years.

A jury returned a verdict in favor of the baronet. Miss Gray said he took the jewels away, but never returned them.

Ralli denied ever giving her the jewels. But he admitted spending over $140,000 on her during their 15-year association, including a $84,000 house in which she and her 84-year-old mother still live.

Lady Ralli, who told the court she had forgiven her husband after he confessed to his affair with Miss Gray, exchanged smiles with him when the verdict was announced.

Miss Gray, dark-haired and still shapely, was not in court.

Brownrigg has been busy with both coyotes and bob cats. Not much damage has been reported, though Nick Reed did lose two lambs on his ranch northeast of town. Brownrigg, visiting the scene, found signs of a big bob cat.

Brownrigg says there are now about 40 coyotes and cats hanging on that fence between here and Gail. There are also a few foxes. Ordinarily he doesn't hunt foxes, but they get in his traps once in awhile.

The Howard County 4-H and FFA Club members have made a good record with their lambs and calves this season. The champion middleweight steer which Jerry Iden showed at El Paso will be carried to the Houston show which opens February 22.

Along with this steer about a dozen others will be taken to Houston, according to County Agent Jimmy Taylor.

Ranges are on the verge of a rapid comeback, says Taylor. There is plenty of moisture, and the pastures have winter grass and weeds to furnish some grazing already. When the weather warms up, the regular grasses will start coming.

"The demand for cattle is brisk," he said, "but the supply of really good cattle is scarce. Ranchers are especially hunting for good female stock."

One of the biggest one-day farm meetings in several years will be the "Agri-Business Day" to be held in the junior college auditorium next Tuesday.

It is being sponsored by Big Spring business men, the Extension Service and other agricultural agencies. Everyone is invited to hear the talks and enjoy the barbecue.

Among the speakers will be C. B. Spencer, educational director of

The night a neighbor showed me the proper way to hitch onto a freight train. We made it to Cheyenne, Wyoming, and back without paying a dime for a fare. He was the most expert hobo I ever met. Later on he became mayor of a large South Texas town. I imagine that ought to prove something, but I don't know what.

No Pressure

Rep. Joe Martin (R-Mass.) talks by telephone with a reporter in Houston, Tex., while denying that Houston oil operators had attempted to pressure him into supporting the national gas bill. He also denied charges that a $100-a-plate Republican fund-raising dinner, with himself as speaker, was a "gas lobby dinner."

Liz Taylor's Ex Marries Divorcee

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — Actor Michael Wilding and Mrs. Susan Nell, a London divorcee and interior decorator, eloped here by plane from Los Angeles and were married in a wedding chapel last night.

The British film player, 45, former husband of actress Elizabeth Taylor, and Mrs. Nell, 42, obtained a marriage license shortly after 9 p.m. at the marriage license bureau in downtown Las Vegas.

Eluding newsmen, they went to the Little Wedding Chapel Around the Corner, also in downtown Las Vegas, where the Rev. James Herndon performed the simple, single-ring ceremony. He said both appeared calm.

They told reporters waiting outside they would honeymoon for two days at the Sahara Hotel, after which their plans are unsettled.

The bride wouldn't say who her former husband was.

"That's all history now," she replied.

On the marriage license application she gave her address as West Los Angeles and said she was divorced in London last July. Wilding said he and Mrs. Nell had known each other 14 years and first met at a social gathering in London. Their romance started, he added, only about three months ago.

Records in London indicated Wilding is the bride's fourth husband. She was reported in the British capital to have been married successively to Andre Simon, not otherwise identified; Roy Kellino, British movie director and cameraman and former husband of actor James Mason's wife; and Walter Nell, head of a large dairy company.

A deputy clerk said Wilding's hair was disheveled, as if by "a long drive in a convertible." Mrs. Nell wore a white trenchcoat with a scarf over her head.

Wilding and Miss Taylor were divorced in June 1956.

Bodies Of 5 Mine Victims Recovered

MAN, W.Va. — The bodies of five miners crushed by a huge piece of slate were removed today from the Amherst Coal Co.'s mine at nearby Lundale.

A sixth miner, Glenn Birtchette, was taken out alive after being buried under the 560-ton mass for 5½ hours. He was hospitalized here with a fractured pelvis.

The victims were working at a coal loading machine 2½ miles inside the southern West Virginia mine when the roof gave way. A seventh man at the scene, Estes Woods, walked out alive.

The dead were identified as Arthur Pennington, section foreman; Elmer Broady; Earl Johnson; James E. Rogers and William Collins.

They were trapped under a piece of slate 78 feet long, 22 feet wide and 2 to 4 feet thick.

British Developing Superior Rocket

LONDON — The British government announced today it is developing a ballistic rocket more advanced than the Americans now possess and is designing it for launching from underground sites.

A white paper published by the Defense Ministry said this weapon "is being developed on the highest priority in close cooperation" with the United States.

The white paper said the agreement under which American intermediate range ballistic missiles will be located in Britain "will be completed shortly."

Regarding the relative strength of the West and the Soviet Union, the document said: "Russia's successful launching of artificial satellites is evidence of her remarkable progress in rocket development. But it should not be thought that this has upset the balance of military power."

The government said balancing fears in East and West of mutual annihilation make a world war unlikely "for another generation or more."

The white paper said if the Soviet Union launched a major attack on the West, "even with conventional forces only," the West-

GOP To Accept Money Raised At Party Dinner AF Scientists Optimistic As Farrell Passes Halfway Mark

WASHINGTON — Two legislators quarterbacking Republican efforts to capture control of Congress say they'll accept $100,000 raised by a Texas party dinner—although they deplore methods used to drum up the contributions. However, there was a possibility the money might stay in Texas.

Sen. Schoepel (R-Kan) and Rep. Richard Simpson (R-Pa) said the party groups they head will not be governed by a refusal of the Republican National Committee to use any of the money raised at the $100-a-plate dinner in Houston. Schoepel and Simpson are chairmen of GOP campaign committees in their respective houses.

A political hubbub has resulted from a letter written by H. J. Porter, Texas Republican national committeeman, linking the dinner Monday night to efforts to pass the controversial natural gas bill.

The affair was advertised as an appreciation dinner for House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts. In soliciting potential ticket-buyers, oilman Porter said Martin had helped pass a natural gas bill in 1955 and that Martin's aid would be needed to push through a similar measure this year.

The bill would exempt gas producers from direct federal regulation, but would continue Federal Power Commission control of interstate pipelines. The 1955 bill, which followed generally similar lines, was vetoed by President Eisenhower on grounds certain segments of the oil-gas industry were "arrogant" in lobbying for it.

The White House, Martin and GOP National Chairman Meade ALCORN all have disavowed Porter's appeal. Simpson called Porter's letter "crude and inexcusable" and said "everybody knows that Joe Martin's influence is not for sale." But Simpson added that "I see no reason why the contributions should not be accepted" by his House campaign committee.

Schoepel said Porter's letter was "unfortunate and does not bespeak the attitude of the Republicans of Texas who contributed honestly to help elect Republican senators and congressmen."

"We are certainly not going to take the position, however, that any money forwarded to us by the Republican State Finance Committee of Texas will not be accepted."

In Houston, Porter said the $100,000—less expenses—will be used by the state GOP organization if the national committee doesn't want it. He declined to comment on whether he is considering giving any of the money to the congressional campaign groups.

Services Slated For Educator

DALLAS — Services will be held tomorrow for Dr. George Clough, 80, long-time Texas educator.

Dr. Clough, who died yesterday after a long illness, was the first director of Dallas College, the SMU downtown extension division. He was head of the school from its opening in 1934 until his retirement in 1948.

He founded Tyler Junior College in 1926, serving as its first president. He was past president of the Texas State Teachers Assn. and the Texas Society of College Teachers of Education.

Dr. Clough was a native of Ben Wheeler in Van Zandt County. He graduated from Tyler High School. The educator taught in Ellis County, Fort Worth, Corsicana and Tyler.

Probe Resumes

DALLAS — Dist. Atty. Henry Wade said last night his staff will continue to probe charges that convicted drunk drivers have kept their licenses to drive in some cases until either "regularities or irregularities" are proved.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — Air Force scientists showed optimism today as Airman Donald Farrell passed the halfway mark on his simulated moon flight.

The blond, six-foot airman from the Bronx, after theoretically flying over lunar wastes, was speeding earthward again in his make-believe flight in a compact space cabin.

The airman, still bright and chipper, completed the halfway mark at 9:35 p.m. last night. His seven-day flight is scheduled to end Sunday.

"We are constantly surprised," said Lt. Col. George R. Steinkamp, "at Farrell's continual alertness, lack of fatigue, and especially his lack of boredom." Steinkamp is head of the department of space medicine, School of Aviation Medicine, at Randolph Air Force Base here.

Steinkamp and other scientists show a guarded optimism over man's ability to withstand the strains and stress of air travel. But he said, "We've got to run other tests." He let it be known that Farrell is just the first Air Force guinea pig for space flight tests.

It was announced at Austin, Tex., that the Air Force had contracted with the University of Texas to set up biochemical tests

Warning Issued On Securities Offers

Be on your guard against salesmen who may invade this area with telephoned offers of bargains in securities, Bill Quimby, Chamber of Commerce manager, advised today.

Citing a warning issued by the National Better Business Bureau, Quimby stated that many inexperienced investors are receiving high-pressure telephone calls from self-styled brokerage firms in New York and Canada urging the purchase of shares in obscure or highly speculative companies.

Because of this increased "boiler room" activity, Quimby stated, the U. S. Securities and Exchange Commission has warned investors to investigate thoroughly before making any purchases.

for preselecting space pilots. The preselections will be made at Lackland Air Force Base here, Dr. Roy B. Mefferd Jr., University of Texas biochemist, said the Air Force had granted $24,903 for the tests.

Farrell, living in air pressure usually encountered at 18,000 feet, was subjected to three emergency summons. He has no way of knowing whether or not there is a real emergency.

But he continued high-efficiency performance. He made extra quick time in responding to all of them, Steinkamp said. Once he had his emergency gas mask in place in 19.5 seconds.

Air Force scientists said the many instruments attached to electrodes taped over Farrell's body show no significant changes whatever. They measure respiration, heart action, blood pressure and other physical conditions.

Only once has the 23-year-old son of a Wall Street accountant shown signs of irritation. He can have either radio music or taped music channeled into his space cabin. He signaled for radio music.

Taped music was turned on. He snapped his signal switch but was ignored. Displaying aggravation, he snapped it on and off several times. Finally, said Steinkamp, raucous hillbilly music was turned on. Farrell flipped it off and shrugged his shoulders.

Hoffa Ally Regains Post

NEW YORK — An ally of James R. Hoffa has been re-elected chief of the New York metropolitan area's 125,000 Teamsters Union members. U. S. Senate racketeers probes subpoenaed the ballots and other election records.

Robert F. Kennedy, chief counsel of the Senate Rackets Committee, said the committee's aim is to "see to it that they have an honest election."

"We are subpoenaing these things to make sure they are preserved, because we had heard there might be a destruction of the records," he said.

The records are being delivered to the committee in Washington. John J. O'Rourke, a supporter of Hoffa, international president of the Teamsters Union, won a five-year term as president of the Teamsters Joint Council 16. The council is composed of 58 locals in New York City, Long Island and seven New York counties north of the city. O'Rourke first won the post last year after a court fight.

He amazes his watchers with his lack of boredom. Cozy and warm, he ate a turkey dinner with evident relish. He takes copious notes on his feelings and thoughts as part of the experiment.

His watchers say he stays busy and call him "a great chow hound."

A Bible Thought For Today

Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are naked and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do. (Hebrews 4:13)

Where Do Exemptions End?

How to give school teachers federal aid without subsidizing them has long been under discussion. Various proposals have revolved around the income tax. These suggestions have ranged from exempting teachers from the income tax—which would be to single them out for special treatment—setting them apart from ordinary taxpayers, making them the object of envy and spite—to a proposal in Congress to grant them a $600 exemption for travel and study.

While this arrangement might not answer the teacher's need for a more substantial income, it could help some and it has the virtue of being businesslike, easy to administer, and free of the "federal subsidy" charge. It might encourage travel and study in the direction of greater efficiency, which is the chief demand of teachers when their teachers are able to afford it or not.

Signatures Missing On A Contract

The survey for revaluation of taxable properties in Howard County is now under way, with formalities having been completed with the county joining in executing a contract with Fritchard & Abbott. Previously the City of Big Spring, the Big Spring Independent School District had signed.

The County Court had representation in all this work, and when a final recommendation was made, it would appear that the spirit of democracy might prevail, and the program at least be given a routine signature by all concerned.

Commissioner P. O. Hughes has been opposed to the revaluation program all along, although there is no public record of what his objections might be. Commissioner G. E. Gilliam has announced himself in favor of revaluation in principle, but opposed to the firm which was awarded the job.

Despite a refusal to sign, the contract is a legal document since a majority of the court has approved as well as the City Commission and the School Board in unanimous action. Signing of the contract would not have involved the two commissioners in their stand on the matter, for it is on the record; it would simply have been an act of grace, graciously bestowing those who acknowledge the will of the majority.

Confidence That The 'Pickup' Will Come

WASHINGTON — The most fascinating game among businessmen — and it's a game with high stakes—is guessing just when the "pickup" will come in the economic situation of the country.

There's a distinct difference between "recovery" and "pickup." It is conceded that, when the "upturn" comes, it could be slow and might precede by a good many months an actual state of "recovery."

What is meant, of course, is that the generalities which have been heard for the last several weeks are being challenged as the first month and a half of 1958 have already passed. The idea that business will recover in the second six months—a widely held view — presupposes a certain regularity about economic timetables. Business trends don't behave that way, as one factor after another has to arise in an unpredictable sequence until the whole picture has changed.

The biggest fallacy of all is the widely spread argument—mostly by the politicians—that government itself can give business "a shot in the arm" or that a tax cut will be a panacea.

prevail today in the capital-goods or heavy-goods industries.

The fatal error of the 1930's was "pump priming" on the consumer side. It didn't result in the building of more plant or equipment. The existing capacity was enough at the time to take care of demand. Hence the money poured into "pump priming" didn't have much velocity or turnover. It didn't bring re-employment to the millions in the bread lines from 1933 through 1939. The war in 1940 really brought the upward swing.

Naturally the Democrats are having a field day talking about how bad things are in business, while the Republicans keep saying things will be better in the second six months of this year. Few analysts take into account the psychological effects of the slow-moving factors that are behind the business recession. Certain bad situations must run their course, and they take time—but when the "pickup" is delayed, some businessmen foolishly start curtailing their own business purchases or deferring them. This, in turn, puts a needless strain on the whole situation.

Trougths To Vanish

MONTREAL (U.P.)—Frank Dowd, city waterworks superintendent, says Montreal's remaining water trougths for horses will be removed as they fall into disrepair. "They serve no useful purpose now and are a nuisance to pedestrians, motorists and snow removal crews," he said.

Ride To Jail

CLIFTON FORGE, Va. (U.P.)—Marion D. Shaw was successful when he hitchhiked a ride—but it turned out to be a one-way ride back to jail. Shaw slipped out of the jail while it was being cleaned. The next day he was hitchhiking a ride when Game Warden Forest Hanks drove by. Hanks recognized Shaw, picked him up and drove him back to jail.

Tight Spot

James Marlow Ike, Hoover Using Same Words

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—President Eisenhower and Hoover — 28 years apart but with each facing a sliding economy and growing unemployment — were not only equally optimistic but talked in almost identical language.

On March 7, 1950, knee-deep in a mushrooming depression which was to become catastrophic before it got better, issued a statement which said: "All the evidence indicates that the worst effect of the (stock market) crash on employment will have been passed during the next 60 days."

Yesterday Eisenhower, confronted with a deepening recession and government statistics which showed at least 4½ million unemployed, issued a statement which said: "Every indication is that March will commence to see the start of a pickup in job opportunities. That should mark the beginning of the end of the downturn in our economy."

Hoover had economic advisers when he made his statement. Eisenhower, too, has economic advisers. He said he based his hopes for the future on the "best advice I can get, and on my own study of the facts."

Hal Boyle Downfall Of The Matador

MEXICO CITY (U.P.)—Bullfighting is at a low ebb in Mexico. Tourists are about the only ones who get very excited about what's going on in the bullrings nowadays.

Experts blame the situation mainly on lack of real talent among the matadors, and the poor quality of the bulls themselves. But there are other factors: Mexico has some top-notch prizefighters now who receive the adulation once reserved for matadors. It has baseball, soccer, American football, jai alai, and other sports.

Back in the 1920's bullfighting was the major sport. It got so bad the government banned bullfight talk by employees while on the job.

But the great Rodolfo Gaona retired, and interest sagged. With the matador gone, bullfighting wasn't the same. A youngster named Armillita came along and fans caught fire again. But during his period of popularity prizefighting gained in favor, football became a major sport, and there were more and more movies to lure the scarce pesos away from the bullring.

The great Manolete, a Spaniard, brought bullfighting back to its almost fanatic enthusiasm in the 1940's. He fought often in Mexico, where he was paid as much as $12,000 pesos — $12,000 — for a few hours of work. But he was gored and died in Spain.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Dear Sir: I have before me two letters concerning the drastic reduction of the Army National Guard. One letter bears the signature of K. L. Berry, major general, adjutant general State of Texas and the other letter bears the signature of William H. Harrison, major general, president of the National Guard Association of the United States. Both letters point out that the President's budget calls for appropriations to cover expenditures for a membership of only 360,000 in the Army National Guard.

It is my firm belief that a membership of less than 400,000 is detrimental to our national security. From the very beginning our country has depended upon the citizen soldier for its defense, both in time of war and time of peace.

Very truly yours,

What Others Say

One wonders sometimes how these fellows get "reverend" in front of their names. Like, for example, the Rev. James Cole, who is the Ku Kluxer whose meeting was broken up by Lumbee Indians in Robeson County, N. C. Mr. Cole, who signs himself as a man of God, is re-ous, but the rest of his record in his home county of Lenoir involving drunkenness and assault. What his record is elsewhere is not yet available.

That Mr. Cole should be a reverend somehow seems preposterous, but the rest of his record makes him a perfect KKK leader. He fits into that pattern with complete precision, but the "Rev." part of it gags us.

One of his aides, identified as James Martin, has been charged with drunkenness and carrying concealed weapons. Officers found him, they say, drunk in a ditch where he had fallen trying to sprint from the Indians.

This is the type which gets the front pages. This is the sort of leadership which has agitated the race question. This is the wicked and evil influence which meets by night and talks "supremacy."

That a "reverend" should be mixed up in it indicates how loosely the word may be used and also how the Christian religion is debased and exploited by such men.

Around The Rim Where's Education To Lead Us?

A.I.C. Robert W. Paul, editor of The Springboard, Webb AFB newspaper, has penned an editorial which the Air Training Command has "picked up" and is now circulating among all the base newspapers and public information offices within its jurisdiction.

Airman Paul's commentary on the American educational system is so timely and well worth widespread consideration that I happily yield my space in this corner to him today. Here is the editorial:

Our nation's educational system, long a target for the barbs of school administrators and far-thinking individuals, seems now to be in the critical spotlight for everyone to inspect.

Much has been written in recent months by way of comparison and contrast of the Russian and American educational programs. It takes no great genius to see, if we are to believe what we read, that the average Russian boy or girl is exposed to a far more difficult secondary school program than a youngster of similar age living in the United States. There seems to be limited statistics, however, on the product which the Russian schools are graduating. We assume, and are generally led to believe, that that country is certainly producing more scientists.

So now we are planning to scrap some of our ideas about education, and will concentrate on giving our youngsters more mathematics in the early grades, continuing it on through secondary school and into our colleges and universities. We need scientists in every field and we're going after them.

There is a danger, of course, that some of the other subjects may suffer. The humanities, history, the arts, language, communication, and government may feel the competition and lose out of the race entirely.

We hope that parents will realize and that teachers will consider the individual differences in children and in students and that just because you "lead a horse to water" doesn't mean he's going to drink. Most of our educators agree that although Russia may be turning out a lot of many scientists, many of these students will not make GOOD scientists. Many of them would have been more able leaders in the administrative or humanitarian or literary fields.

On the surface, it appears that if a parent advised and guided a child toward a career in almost any technological field, he or she would be assuring the economic future of the child. In cases where there is definite talent in scientific fields, this is probably true. On the other hand, which he will later abandon because of lack of talent or interest, it will have been a tragic mistake.

All this may appear too elementary, but our employment and business statistics will show that in this country there are thousands of adults who are literally "trapped" in a work or profession which they dislike or in which they are doing a mediocre job.

We have need for trained people in many fields. As this is not being written there is a critical shortage of scientists. There is a shortage of teachers, of lawyers, of personnel experts, office managers, and many other types of workers. There is a shortage of people trained in the arts and of people whose education has been diversified enough to enable them to live useful, fruitful lives for the betterment of others.

Let's not all study mathematics. A nation full of nothing but scientists might have a difficult time surviving. . . and if it did, it certainly wouldn't be fun. Imagine spending the whole evening with a beautiful blonde who could do nothing but speak in a monotone giving the precise geometric relationship of the stars in the galaxy.

Well put, Editor Paul. You make an incisive point. —WAYLAND YATES

GALVESTON, Tex.—The more things change, the more they are the same, but sometimes you have to get away from home to realize it.

During the past three or four years I have become increasingly conscious of the fact that all new homes, in no matter what price category or what part of the country, are being designed and built with both a "living room" and a "family room."

In that interim I have been trying to grasp the import of the term "family room." As far as I could make out, it was a place to stash the kids, the hi-fi, the ping-pong table, the teevee and other disturbing and/or noisy ingredients of everyday life.

Sturdy floor and wall coverings and shockproof furniture made it impervious to teenage rock 'n' roll sessions, or to adult bridge and beer or poker and pretzel parties. I short, the family room seemed designed for livin' it up at all ages, with the living room obviously reserved for stately occasions.

Yet the terms nagged at me, and the picture wasn't clear until I left New York to visit friends and relatives in localities ranging from Birmingham, Mich., on the North to Galveston on the South. Then, as I visited a whole series of new homes, everything came into focus.

Why, land sakes! The new-fangled family room is just the old-fashioned sitting room with woofers, tweeters, and a charcoal grill. And the modern living room is just the one-time parlor without antimacassars and chignons.

When I was a child we used the sitting room for family living and the parlor for company, and, no matter what the switch in nomenclature, these are exactly the functions served today by the family room.

and the living room in the ranch house or the split-level model.

Come to think of it, there was an intermediary stage in the development of the sitting room into the family room. During the final days of Prohibition, the sitting room developed naturally into the rumpled room. This was usually in the basement and equipped with a concrete floor, one of the few known substances impervious to the corrosive effects of bathtub gin, should a guest knock over a biennial glass.

When I was growing up there was often another room known as "the den." This was usually daddy's hideaway from the wear and tear of family life. No one knew about "togetherness" then, and papa was not regarded as antisocial if he wanted an hour or two away from it all. We never doubted that he loved us or that he deserved a few hours to himself to figure out how to support us.

As I now visit in one modern home after another, I have even encountered the old-fashioned den. Of course, it isn't called that any more. It is now the hobby room or the workshop where the power tools and the do-it-yourself stuff and the first-aid kits are kept. This is where dad stows his golf clubs or his fishing tackle, the kids their footballs, catcher's mitts and doll carriages, and mama, the electric sewing machine. It takes a tremendous load out of the old garage, which holds hardly anything now except the garden hose, etc., etc.

Easier or other, it makes me a lot easier of mind to discover that the American home is stable under the new names and that there isn't too much new under the sun after all.

J. A. Livingston Little Company's Idea On Big Firms

You have to admire George Romney, president of American Motors Corp., for his red-blooded defense of America's fair-play tradition. He wants to pick on somebody's size.

Here he is with $196,000,000 of assets playing bankroll with General Motors Corp. ($6,600,000,000), Ford Motor Co. ($2,300,000,000), and Chrysler Corp. ($1,300,000,000). Romney feels sorry for such mastodons. They're too big, too muscle-bound, too unmaneuverable. He wants to free them from their own power.

For the protection of its stockholders, its workers, and the public, Romney suggests that General Motors divide itself, much in the manner of an amoeba, which, when it grows too big, splits into two amoebae, and then, having grown big again, splits again. He told this to the Senate anti-monopoly subcommittee investigating pricing policies in automobiles.

An amoeba isn't stigmatized when it divides. Romney wouldn't stigmatize GM, either. Being split up would be a symbol of success, not law-breaking. So he'd remove penalties under the anti-trust laws for amoebic division of corporations. Such divisions, he says, would help shareholders. They'd have shares in aggressively competing companies instead of in one company filled with its own success.

A split-up of GM and, possibly, Ford would, thinks Romney, stimulate competition, of which Romney wants more, not less, in spite of AM's $47,000,000 tax-loss carry-forward. There'd be different ideas, different styles, and leeway for imagination.

The small companies, insists Romney, are the real innovators. They have to take chances to make an impression on the public. That's why American Motors went into compact cars—to offend the big fellow.

mum manufacturing rate is 62.5 cars per hour per assembly line. "A company that can build between 180,000 and 220,000 cars a year on a one-shift basis can make a very good profit and not take a back seat in production efficiency. . . It is possible to be the best without being the biggest."

So Romney is solicitous about GM shareholders and, to a lesser extent, shareholders in Ford and Chrysler. Those companies don't keep a "rendezvous with freedom from them." Instead, they try to mould public opinion with their advertising and sales promotion. When they're wrong, auto sales slump. Stockholders suffer, workers are laid off, the country has a recession.

If you have six, seven, or eight automobile companies, each smaller than GM or Ford, no one company will have sufficient financial power to imprint its errors on the nation. There'll be room for innovation and failure.

A good idea will catch on. Ford underpriced competitors in the early 'twenties, either. Being split up would be a symbol of success, not law-breaking. So he'd remove penalties under the anti-trust laws for amoebic division of corporations. Such divisions, he says, would help shareholders. They'd have shares in aggressively competing companies instead of in one company filled with its own success.

Romney raises philosophical as well as economic questions: Can sheer size hold back innovation and development? Do companies which control more than 25 per cent or 35 per cent of an industry have the power to force their mistakes on the nation, and, in the process, wear out the smaller companies fighting to be different? Does that slow up the nation's industrial expansion and development?

These are questions which aren't going to be settled at this session of Congress. They imply that success in competition can be too successful, which, in itself, seems like a contradiction. Here is an opinion worth reading, but an opinion—not proof.

Anything But Helpful

Mrs. David Mayrand, who will arrive in England Tuesday, has a method for a combining packing and watching her two daughters, Leslie, at left, and the baby, Karen. She places the bag and the two children on the bed—but the trouble is that as fast as he can place articles in the suitcase, Leslie can dislodge them. Probably by the time she is packing to come back, Karen will be able to help Leslie with the unpacking, since she will be eight months old. The three will leave Sunday for a three-month visit with Mrs. Mayrand's parents and other relatives and friends.

'Long Visit' In United States To End For Mrs. David Mayrand

By ANNE LEFEVER
A long visit will come to an end Tuesday, with the arrival of Mrs. David Mayrand in Liverpool, England, after three years in this country.
A native of England, she came to Big Spring three years ago to visit her sister, Mrs. Joseph Hornick, whose husband was stationed at Webb Air Force Base.
It was at the Officers' Club that a friend introduced David Mayrand and Kathleen McVeigh—and it must have been love at first sight for both of them.
The couple went back to Mayrand's home in Wisconsin for their wedding after a courtship of about three or four months.
At that time, Mayrand had completed his duty with the Air Force, but—music to a Texan's ear—he liked the town and decided to continue living here. They live at 1722 Purdue.
And now, for this first trip back to England, she is going "with her hands full"—which may be taken any way you like. She will show off to her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William McVeigh, 18-month-old Leslie and her little sister, Karen, who is five months old.

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

It is my personal opinion that when the weather gets cold and bad, most Big Spring women stay at home and have neighbors in for coffee or go to the neighbors and have coffee. They don't have out of town company or go out of town. At least if they do, I can't seem to find the ones that are going... and so far they haven't told me about it, which makes it hard on my business.
MR AND MRS CHARLIE E. BREDEMEYER have recently been transferred by his company to Brownfield and their address is 205 E. Cardwell.
From BILLY EARLEY comes word that he was a wov of a chorus girl when the senior assembly was held recently at Stephen F. Austin College in Nacodoches, where he is a forestry major. Billy, who is 6 feet 2 inches and tips the scales at 200 pounds, joined other boys at the school for a rendition of "We Are the Girls of the Chorus" with fluffy skirts and all.
He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Earley and visited here during the semester break. A friend, Mary Quarles of Alto, also a SFA student, accompanied him here. Other guests were the Earley's daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. John Birdwell, who are students at Hardin-Simmons in Abilene.

Card Players Invited To OWC Party

An invitation has been extended to all bridge and canasta players to gather at the Officers' Club Thursday, Feb. 20, for luncheon at 12 noon and an afternoon of games.
Hostesses are the members of the Officers' Wives' Club, who are planning the party as a get-acquainted affair.
A fee of 50 cents will be charged, and this must be paid by Tuesday. It was stressed in the announcement that no tickets will be sold at the door.
Arrangements have been made for delivery of tickets, which may be obtained by calling Mrs. Wilson Nixon, AM 4-4336. Players are requested to make up their own fourmes or canasta groups.
Prizes will be awarded at all tables, it was stated.

Sew, Chatter Club Marks Birthdays

Members of the Sew and Chatter Club observed the birthdays of two members Wednesday afternoon at a meeting in the home of Mrs. J. O. Chapman. Mrs. Jack Lightfoot was cohostess.
Mrs. A. C. Moore and Mrs. Lawrence Robinson were presented gifts, and a birthday cake was served to 14 members and Mrs. V. E. Jones, a guest.
Mrs. Moore will be the hostess on Feb. 26, it was announced.

Elaborate Decor Used For Sweetheart Banquet

A profusion of red hearts and miniature cupid's decorated the tables at Cosden Country Club for the Sweetheart Banquet of the Junior Woman's Forum, Wednesday night.
The display was keyed to a large double valentine. Comic valentines marked the places for the 16 couples, and at each plate was a tiny love boat occupied by sweethearts. In the ballroom, where the group danced after dinner, the refreshment table held a tree hung with Valentines.

Contemporary Composers Studied By Club; Mrs. Thurman Speaks

American composers and their music were studied by the Music Study Club Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Nell Frazier. Hostesses were Mrs. Norman Fruling and Mrs. Jim Line.
Following the theme of the study, "Music Is the Door to the Present," Elsie Willis presented members of the club, who played or sang selections by contemporary composers.
After the song of the month, "Jesus Still Leads On," Mrs. Frazier played "Tango Espanyole" by Griffis. "I Have a House," by Ernest Charles, was Mrs. C. B. Marcum's vocal selection.
Roberta Gay played "Humoresque Negro" by Grunn, and Mrs. C. A. Boyd played "Banjo Pickin'" by Powell.
Mrs. Ira Thurman, coordinator of volunteer services at the state hospital, spoke to the group on the needs at the hospital.
She told of the program of work and the therapy of various activities carried on for the patients. Telling of the ways in which the music club might assist, Mrs. Thurman spoke of group singing, for which a leader and an accompanist will be needed.
A rhythm band is another project which might be followed at the hospital, she said, and there is need for a choral group. Members might organize a music appreciation class, and some of the patients would welcome piano lessons.
Refreshments were served to 16 members and the guest speaker.

Chrysanthemum Culture Is Oasis Club Subject

"How to Grow Chrysanthemums" was discussed by Mrs. C. O. Cuttings at the meeting of the Oasis Garden Club which met Wednesday morning in the home of Mrs. Fred Lancaster. Mrs. H. T. Bratcher was cohostess.
The chrysanthemum is a native of Japan and first appeared in America in 1847, said Mrs. Hitt, who predicted that by 1970, growers in this country will have many varieties not now prevalent. The finest of these flowers to be found in the United States are grown in Heidelberg, Miss.
Cuttings make much stronger plants than root division, she admonished, and the best time for planting is from February to May, depending upon the type of plant desired. They should be moved after a year in order to keep down disease. However, if space is limited and they must be kept in the same bed, the bed can be sterilized by treating with Bapam.
Plant the chrysanthemums 14 to 18 inches apart. If disease develops, use a contact spray. Water the plants by soaking rather than sprinkling, and cultivate them lightly, not over one inch deep. The first bud, which is the crown bud, should be removed.
During the business session the group of 13 heard Mrs. Robert A. Bonnell Jr. in a report of the recent garden council meeting. They also elected two new members, Mrs. H. H. Tanner and Mrs. Herbert Whitney. Mrs. Hitt told of the meeting of the state hospital advisory council.

Knott HD'ers Will Sponsor Chili Supper

Plans to sponsor a chili supper for benefit of the club treasury were made by the Knott HD Club at their meeting Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. O. B. Gaskin.
The event is scheduled for 6 p. m. Feb. 28 in the Knott lunchroom. Tickets may be purchased from any member for 50 cents.
Mrs. Gaskin brought the devotion based on Psalms 68:14. Thought for the day was "We should be so busy counting our blessings that we have not time to be envious."
The group named Mrs. Joe Mack Gaskin a THDA delegate nominee. They also voted to accept the number one 4-H Club pledge. Mrs. A. H. Shroyer Jr. read the council report to the eight present.
The next meeting will be at 2 p. m. Feb. 25 in the home of Mrs. Robert Brown.

Coahoma FFA Plans Benefit Box Supper

COAHOMA—The Future Homemakers Club of Coahoma High School met for the regular monthly meeting Monday evening with 10 members present. Sharon Kay Finley and Rosalie Devaney were in charge of the program on "Christianity in the Home." Plans were made to sponsor a box supper on Feb. 25 at the high school auditorium. The profits from the box supper will be used to help with the expenses for a week's vacation at Bandera at the close of school.
The Mary Jane Club celebrated the seventh anniversary with a covered dish supper and 42 party Tuesday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Roberts. Eight members and their husbands attended.
Mrs. Fred Adams spent several days this week in Lubbock visiting with her son, Jerry, who is attending Texas Tech.
Bill Hutchins, who has been a patient in a Colorado City hospital for the past week, was able to return to his home here Tuesday.
Mrs. R. C. Hardin and Mrs. Charles Thompson of Levelland spent several days in Coahoma visiting with Mrs. Hardin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hutchins.
Mrs. Mary Adams and Mrs. Stella Jackson are visiting their brothers, Mr. and Mrs. Clare Hale in Midland and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hale in Stanton.

Altar Society Plans Mardi Gras Dance

Plans for the pre-Lenten dance were completed at a meeting Tuesday evening of the St. Thomas Altar Society, at the rectory. The Mardi Gras affair, open to friends of St. Thomas Church, will be at 8:30 p.m. Saturday at Cosden Country Club.
The group also discussed arrangements for the St. Patrick's dinner for the church, scheduled for March 17 at the church hall. Tickets will be placed on sale soon.

Senate Demos Draft 10-Point Program To Fight Recession

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democrats are drafting a 10-point antirecession program which party leaders plan to give a speedy start through Congress.

The program is being put together by individual committees under the guidance of the Democratic Policy Committee headed by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas. It will represent the party's answer to demands that Congress act before the business slump gets worse.

1. Action to start and speed up with extra shifts work on reclamation projects which have been authorized by Congress.
2. Repeal of the pay-as-you-go provision so the interstate highway program can be speeded up.
3. Authorization for additional hospitals to be built under the Hill-Burton Act.
4. Action to authorize the planning of new projects aimed at providing more business for basic industries.
5. Johnson, who had experience with the National Youth Administration and the Works Progress Administration during the depression of the 30s, has told his colleagues he wants no leaf-raking projects.
6. For that reason the democratic leader has contended that any WPA type of program ought to be held in reserve to be used only shows signs of deepening despite as a last resort if the recession other measures.
7. Johnson has avoided public comment on President Eisenhower's expression of confidence that the economic downturn has about run its course and that March should see a start toward increased employment.
8. But other senators made it clear they are not as optimistic as the President. One of these, Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.), said "The administration has got to do more than issue statements."
9. Aiken said the building of confidence is needed to help get business on the upgrade and that to do this "it is essential to convince the public by deed as well as by word."
10. Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) said in a separate interview he hopes Eisenhower is correct in his forecast "but I have grave doubts that he is."

Johnson is understood to have told his colleagues that while he is opposed to a "gloom and doom" attitude, he thinks immediate steps must be taken to combat unemployment, which now has reached 4 1/2 millions.

He has asked committees operating under Senators Fulbright (D-Ark.), Sparkman (D-Ala.), Anderson (D-NM), Hill (D-Ala.), Kerr (D-Okla.) and Gore (D-Tenn.) to come up speedily with legislative proposals to cover a wide field of government activity to bolster the economy.

As Johnson views the program, it would shape up like this:

Democrats Seeking Successor To Byrd

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Virginia organization Democrats, recovering from their surprise at the retirement announcement of U.S. Sen. Harry Flood Byrd, turned today to the practical political matter of who might be his successor.

Democratic political wars — former Gov. John S. Battle, a member of the federal Civil Rights Commission; former Gov. William M. Tucker, now congressman from the Southwest 3rd Dist.; and two younger party leaders, Atty. Gen. Albert S. Harrison and Rep. Watkins M. Abbott of the 4th Dist.

Francis Michael Medaille, 18, walks with a detective in New York after admitting he lured seven-year-old Kathleen Hegmann to the roof of a Bronx building and hurled her to death 12 floors below. Police quoted him: "I don't know why I did it."

Others mentioned as possible included the senator's son, State Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr.; Rep. Howard W. Smith of the 8th Dist.; dean of the Virginia delegation, Rep. Porter Hardy Jr. of the 2nd Dist.; former Gov. Colgate W. Darden Jr., now president of the University of Virginia; Speaker of the House E. Blackburn Moore; and Rep. Burr P. Harrison of Byrd's home 7th Dist.

In his retirement announcement, Byrd cited the fact that his wife "has suffered a crippling illness and is an invalid."

Shattering Election Defeats Shake British Conservatives

By HAL R. COOPER
LONDON (AP) — A shattering defeat in an election to fill a House of Commons vacancy cast gloom today over supporters of Britain's Conservative government.

The waning popularity of the Conservative rulers headed by Prime Minister Macmillan was pointed up dramatically in the north England textile city of Rochdale.

The Conservatives ran a poor third to both the opposition Labor party and the normally weak Liberals.

Final returns gave Laborite Jack McCann 22,133 votes, Liberal Ludovic Kennedy 17,603 and Conservative John Parkinson 9,827.

control of Commons — with 342 members against 280 Laborites and 5 Liberals — and the Tory strategy has been to hang on in expectancy of an improvement.

Although the Conservatives had suffered from diminishing popular support in most of the 31 other by-elections held since 1955, they previously had lost only one parliamentary seat, in north London a year ago.

Labor Party Leader Hugh Gaitskell claimed the Rochdale result is "yet another signal to the government to get out."

Police Chief James V. Hicks said the arrests were made after a 17-year-old boy told police he participated in sexual acts with several men.

Doctors who examined Kaufman at the Royale Theater diagnosed his case as a gastric upset.

Records Show Abe 'Demoted'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A little known facet of the military life of Abraham Lincoln: he entered the Black Hawk War a captain and left it a private.

Muster rolls preserved in the National Archives here disclose this. The Black Hawk War was the last major war with the Indians for the upper Mississippi Valley.

Records of the Illinois Militia, which later became a part of the National Guard, show that Lincoln was one of 68 volunteers enlisted from Richland, Sangamon County, April 21, 1832.

It was the custom at that time to allow the men to elect their own commanding officer by lining up behind the man of their choice. Lincoln's friends shoved him out in front, and three-fourths of the men lined up behind him.

Lincoln's company, a part of the 4th Regiment of the Illinois Mounted Infantry, was mustered out of service May 27, 1832.

But Chief Black Hawk and his followers still had not been defeated, the governor pleaded with the volunteers to sign up for 21 more days. Lincoln was among those who responded, and served as a private. And that was his rank when the fighting ended.

Writer Collapses At B'way Opening

NEW YORK (AP) — Pulitzer Prize-winning playwright George S. Kaufman collapsed last night while attending the opening of a Broadway play. An hour later a friend at Kaufman's Park Avenue apartment said the writer was feeling fine.

The 68-year-old Kaufman, also a producer, was stricken midway through the second act of "The Entertainer," starring Sir Laurence Olivier.

3 Held, Another Free On Vice Count

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Three men were in jail today and a fourth free on bail on lewd conduct charges after police began investigating an alleged sex perversion ring in California's capital.

Fred Beauchamp, 48, an instructor on leave from Sacramento Jdior College, was charged with lewd and lascivious conduct and released on $4,000 bail.

The other three arrested are Edwin Powell, 18, a student at the University of California at Davis; William Struve, 31; and Milton Sallardo, 19.

Police Chief James V. Hicks said the arrests were made after a 17-year-old boy told police he participated in sexual acts with several men.

The daring young lady in the flying juice box

She started something — this winsome chauffeurette of 50 years ago! She sometimes scorched down the road at 20 m.p.h. (except against a strong wind or when the batteries needed recharging).

But daredevil that she was, our fair heroine would pale to see her darling daughter as she pilots the family station wagon through 1958 traffic on her daily rounds to school, supermarket and train.

And her housewifely duties don't end there. Today's young mother is also cook, nursemaid, social secretary and purchasing agent. Sometimes she even helps earn the family income — always has a big say in spending it. And whether or not a family has a regular savings program usually depends on her.

Sime, Duke Team Will Enter Here

By TOMMY HART
Duke University's track and field team, which includes world record holder Dave Sime, has entered the 1958 American Business Club Relays, which will be held here April 4-5.

BOBBY MORROW

Morrow and the ACC Wildcats were previously entered in the local meet by their coach, Oliver Jackson.

The two great sprinters have met twice in history and each holds a victory over the other. Morrow won three medals in the last Olympic Games. Sime experienced leg troubles and did not qualify for the U.S. team.

Morrow beat Sime in the NCAA 100-yard dash in 1956 at Berkeley, Calif., after Sime had shaded the Texan in the Drake Relays earlier. Sime is also a world record holder in the 220-yard dash and the 220 yard hurdles. He's been clocked in 9:3 in the 100, 20 flat in the 220 and 22.2 in the 220-yard hurdles.

Morrow won his gold medals in Australia in 1956 in 100-meters, 200-meters and as a member of the 400 meter relay team.

Lane Debunks Story Of Feud With Woodling

The Associated Press

"The only trouble between me and Gene Woodling," Frank Lane said today, "is that Gene is a left fielder and not the second baseman I'm looking for."

No feud? No blasts from Woodling about Lane's contract? "We've feuded" all the way home from a father-and-son dinner we attended last night," said Lane, general manager of the Cleveland Indians. "Gene drove me home in his car."

Frogs Retain Hope For SW Cage Crown

Texas Christian kept its faint Southwest Conference basketball hopes alive Wednesday night and just snuffed out the last remaining spark of hope Texas had for a share of the crown.

The Frogs, connecting on 48 per cent of their shots in the first half, built up a 21-point lead and coasted in to jolt the Longhorns 88-58 at Fort Worth.

Some more big doings are scheduled Saturday night in the chase that sees the Arkansas Razorbacks in the lead by a half game over Rice, and two other teams, Texas Tech and Southern Methodist, close behind in third place, only a game and a half behind.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

Gus Lesnevich, former Lightweight boxing champion of the world, says big athletes who turn to pro football are missing the boat. "In five or six years, they can hit the boxing jackpot without getting hurt," Lesnevich says.

Queens Oppose OJC Tonight

HCJC's Jayhawk Queens, who opened their volleyball season with a win over McMurry here last Monday night, challenge Odessa JC in a 7:30 p.m. contest here this evening.

Coach Arrah Phillips has arranged a nine-game schedule for her lasses, in addition to a tournament appearance in Plainview and the McMurry outing.

Scientist Warns Against Rush On Space Rules

WASHINGTON (AP) — A State Department witness has told congressmen more should be learned about outer space before important rules on control of space can be laid down.

Loftus Becker, the department's legal adviser, raised a question as to whether a satellite still belongs to the country which launched it once the satellite shoots out of control into space.

"Usually ownership relates to capability to grab hold of it, and I don't know what they (the Soviets) could do about Sputnik or what their remedy would be if we they said fell on the West Coast," were to pick up this . . . piece he testified.

Becker said, however, that the United States would be at a disadvantage in staking out territorial claims on the moon if others get there and this country doesn't.

Becker, whose position makes him the top policymaker on these questions under Secretary of State Dulles and President Eisenhower, spoke out against various space control proposals during a closed session of a House Foreign Affairs subcommittee on national security.

Among others, he opposed any immediate action on proposals for a special conference on space regulation, establishment of a U.N. convention for the purpose, and giving the task to the International Civil Aviation Organization.

Becker said that really to prevent conflict in space, a view of space in international rather than national terms may have to be developed.

He said rules must be drawn up to protect people underneath space vehicles, to channel radio frequencies for space vehicle use, to govern space navigation and eventually probably to cover marriages and other legal relationships when people move into space.

But he cautioned against "too precipitate" action to set up detailed rules without more word from scientists on "what are the possibilities of controlling or doing anything in the area."

Mansfield, Mick Stage New Routine

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Actress Jayne Mansfield opened a four-week night club engagement last night, shimmering, singing and whirling about in the air while clinging to the neck of her bridegroom Mickey Hargitay.

That routine got the most gasps from a $50-a-plate, March of Dimes benefit audience of 500 which rewarded her lush show with considerable applause.

In other aerial acrobatics, the muscular Mickey flipped his wife around in the air and walked up a ship's gangplank holding her over his head in one hand. This was to climax one of her songs—all special material—called "I Want Love."

Miss Mansfield wore a gown fashioned of tiny gold discs and links and weighing 12½ pounds. And costing a hotel publicist averred, $25,000.

Miss Mansfield will get $25,000 per week for the Tropicana engagement.

'Agri-Business' Conference To Attract Crowd Of 200 Here

"Better Agriculture for West Texas Tomorrow" will be the theme of the Agri-Business Conference scheduled here next Tuesday.

The conference, sponsored by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, the Texas and Pacific Railway Co., the Big Spring Chamber and several state and federal agricultural agencies, is expected to draw a crowd of some 200 farmers and businessmen to the day long meeting, said Ralph White, chairman of the Chamber's Agriculture Committee.

The conference will begin at 9:30 a. m. in the Howard County Junior College. Presiding will be J. C. Porter, Wichita Falls, chairman of the WTCC agriculture and livestock committee and agriculturalist and assistant vice president

No Apologies Needed, Texas GOP Chief Says Of Fund Drive

HOUSTON (AP) — No apologies are needed for the way campaign funds were solicited in connection with a Republican dinner here for Rep. Martin (D-Mass), state GOP Chairman Thad Hutcheson has said.

Jack Porter, Texas national Republican committeeman, said he had no intention of resigning because of the noise his letter soliciting the funds and ticket sales was reported to have caused.

Opponents of the Natural Gas Bill charged that the Jan. 30 letter written by Porter indicated pressure had been used in trying to obtain support of the bill from Martin, minority leader in the House. The letter went to many oil and gas producers.

The White House and the National Republican Committee quickly disavowed the dinner and rejected the $100,000, less expenses, raised by the Martin dinner.

Porter apparently had enough places for the money. Porter said the money will be used by the GOP State Committee if the national group does not want it.

"We can use the money," he said. "We still have a deficit from the 1956 campaign."

The Houston Chronicle said yesterday some political observers interpreted White House action in rejecting the money "as a renewed effort by the Sherman Adams faction of the GOP to get rid of Porter as national committeeman."

"It is known that Adams, Eisenhower's chief of staff, is anti-Porter, and has wanted him out as the Texas party leader for some time," the Chronicle said.

Both Porter and Martin denied that anybody was trying to bring pressure on Martin. Martin said he already was for the bill and didn't need any pressure brought on him. He did not mention it in his speech at the Monday night dinner.

Some Democrats, including Speaker Sam Rayburn, defended Martin and said he shouldn't be connected with anything that may have been wrong. Many congressmen, including opponents and supporters of the measure designed to get gas-producing oilmen out from under utility-type controls of the Federal Power Commission, said Porter's action killed the measure's chances.

SOME DELAY
Speaker Rayburn, who had said he would bring the bill up late in February, said it might encounter "some delay" now. He would not say that it was dead, however.

Hutcheson, after saying no apologies were needed, added: "The only mass solicitation was by printed invitation mailed to approximately 2,200 persons, giving basic details on the dinner arrangements and referring in no way to any legislation or platform."

"In their individual efforts to sell tickets and raise funds each committee member, in his own way, was free to express the view that Republican congressmen have a good record of support for the best interests of Texas and the American free enterprise system."

"This is a legitimate fund-raising approach, for which no apology need be offered, and is illustrated in the personal letter sent by Mr. Porter to a small group of acquaintances which was apparently obtained by a Washington paper for publication in aid of editorial opposition to the gas bill. The suggestion that there was any promise of support for particular measures given to those who bought tickets is fantastic."

Persian Bandit Is Executed
TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — A bandit, who confessed murdering an American wife after a desert ambush last March, was shot at dawn Wednesday.

The bandit, Ahmed Shah, confessed during a court-martial that he killed Anita Carroll of Issaquah, Wash. She had been kidnaped by a gang led by the bandit Dadshah after it ambushed two jeeps in the southeastern Iranian desert.

Mrs. Carroll's husband, Kevin Carroll, 37, a Point Four official in Iran; and Brewster A. Wilson, 35, of Portland, Ore., a Dear East Foundation official, were killed in the ambush along with two Iranian accomplices.

Army officials said Dadshah ordered Ahmed Shah to kill the pretty 35-year-old wife because she slowed down the gang's escape. A massive police and army search found her body six miles from the ambush scene.

Dadshah was killed by government forces last January.

130 Dogs Are Killed In January
The city destroyed the same number of dogs at the pound as were killed by motorists on streets here last month.

The report on the city pound for January revealed that 65 dogs were destroyed at the pound, and 65 were picked up by the city after being killed on streets.

There were only three dogs in the pound at the end of the month, and five were redeemed by their owners or sold. Pound fees amounted to $11 during the month, and license fees totaled $113.

subject of a discussion by Jack Bond of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Bushland.

"Agriculture Today and Tomorrow in West Texas" will be discussed by V. G. Young, state agent for the Agricultural Extension Service at College Station.

Final part of the conference program will be a panel discussion moderated by the WTCC's J. C. Porter.

Those attending the conference will not be charged any registration fees, local chamber officials stated. In addition, the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce will provide lunch for the conference.

The conference is expected to be concluded about 3 p. m., they said. Chamber officials added that the meeting is open to anyone interested in better agriculture.

Basketball, Western Music Show Set As MOD Benefit

T. J. Castle, Knott youth who has made his mark in the western music field, will be featured in a between-games show at the March of Dimes basketball benefit tonight.

Castle and his "Fire Fighters" will stage a 20-minute performance between the two games in the high school gymnasium.

The program starts at 8 p. m. with a basketball game pitting the Webb Dusters against the Cosden Coppers. The second contest will have Elliott's Drug, one of the top teams in the City Industrial League, facing the First Methodist five which won the YMCA Church League championship.

There will be no admission charge. However, barrels will be stationed in the gym's foyer to receive contributions. All proceeds will go to the March of Dimes.

Castle has recorded several songs on Starday records. He is best known for such songs as "Wonder Lust" and "We Had More Fun Accidently." His western band includes a half dozen instruments.

SEALED BONAFIDE BIDS WILL BE ACCEPTED ON A Diamond Phytosaur Pendant

This pendant will be the only one in the world of its kind. There is no way to set a definite value on this item other than, Lloyds of London offered to insure the egg for $2,500, which was supposed to be 50% of value. Lloyds set this amount themselves. The diamond, the gold and the work of making the pendant come to $800.00.

Dr. Walter Huang, head of the Geology Dept. at Sul Ross College identified the egg.

Minimum bid acceptance will be $1,200 and must be received not later than March 8th, 1958.

OBIE BRISTOW

Bristow To Be Candidate For Re-Election

J. Gordon (Obie) Bristow of Big Spring this week announced that he will submit his name for re-election to the Texas House of Representatives from the 101st Legislative District.

The district includes Glasscock, Howard, Irion, Martin, Reagan and Sterling counties.

Bristow currently is serving his third term in the Texas House, and, through his experience and seniority, has been named to some of the major committees in the Legislature in Austin makes me of more value to the people of the 101 District than ever before. I have made friends with members of the Senate and the House, am in position to work with them on matters that are for the best interest of West Texas and all the state. What I want to do is put this experience to work for the good of our state.

"I am grateful for the unflinching support that this district has given me, and to help express this gratitude, I want to be of further service."

New Band Director's Wife Ex-Big Springer

Mrs. Tommy Fry, wife of the new junior high school band director, is the former Thelma Lou Tucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Tucker of Big Spring.

Mrs. Fry was "Miss Big Spring" of 1951. Mr. and Mrs. Fry and their two children moved here last week from Rotan where he was high school band director. He assumed duties here Monday.

Parsons Will Enroll For Workshop At Columbia U.

Supt. Floyd W. Parsons of the Big Spring schools will be one of 35 superintendents in the United States to participate in a three-week "Work Conference of School Administrators" at Columbia University.

School trustees Tuesday voted to pay Parsons' expenses to the conference which will be held July 7-23. The cost, including $330 for tuition charges, will be approximately $650.

Parsons plans to go to New York for the Columbia workshop at the close of the National Education Association, which is to end July 4. The NEA meet is to be held in Cleveland, and expenses for the two gatherings isn't expected to exceed $750. Columbia University chooses superintendents for participation in the annual workshop, and local school authorities said they consider Parsons' invitation an honor for the Big Spring school system.

Some 30 leaders in the education field are to conduct the workshop. Classes will meet for six hours daily and credit will be given for completion of the course.

CRITIQUE Of The Local Entertainment Scene

By BOB SMITH

Top Attraction Of The Season

"Night Must Fall" is rapidly developing into one of the top attractions of the season for the College Players.

A sprinkling of locally well-known talent plus some fresh new talent is the main ingredient. Early rehearsals are showing this talent in abundance, and the play progresses in spite of the fact that, sometimes, some of the players don't show up.

Bad weather spiked attendance at Tuesday's rehearsal, but the players who were there went through some scenes in which they appeared. I was especially struck by the emoting of Sandra Havens, borrowed from this play from the high school drama department. Miss Havens portrays a brittle, self-pitying harpidian whose neuroses keep her confined to a wheelchair. This is a scene-stealing role, and Miss Havens does exceedingly well in her highly emotional scenes. She stays fully in character at all times during rehearsals.

Others who were present went through portions of the first act, for the first time without scripts, and did surprisingly well.

A word about the absences: In most cases, players don't show up because of unavoidable conflicts or other legitimate reasons such as the recent icy weather. More rarely, it is a matter of a tantrum. Fortunately, those with real talent are not immature, and most of the actors with lesser talents are equally faithful.

Those actors of stage and screen who are classified as great are the same ones, you will note, who are and always have been mature. The temperamental ones have been the biggest flashes in the pan. Will Rogers once said, "Temperamental is 90 per cent temper and 10 per cent mental."

Director Fred Short has a good crew for "Night Must Fall," with one or two minor exceptions. This play is bound to go over with a bang, and can do just as well without the exceptions.

DWI 'Payoff' Case Cleared

DALLAS (AP)—Dist. Atty. Henry Wade says a report that a case in which a convicted drunk driver paid a lawyer $150 to get back his driver's license has been "cleared up."

Wade said a check of court, police and sheriff's records revealed no driving while intoxicated charge against the man in the first place. He said the man's driver's license had been revoked once for repeated minor violations.

"The revocation was taken by the Texas Department of Public Safety and had nothing to do with drunk driving," Wade said.

Wade further explained the "man might have paid the attorney $150 in legitimate fees to represent him in a hearing in Corporation Court."

Art Exhibit At San Angelo

San Angelo College will sponsor an exhibition of paintings and sculptures by 26 contemporary artists Sunday afternoon. The exhibition will be held from 3 to 6 p.m. in the Art Building on the SAC campus.

The artists, nearly all of whom are from San Angelo, will include such well-known persons as Tincie Hughes Heddins and Mary Hornby Lea of San Angelo, and Nan Tandy West of Ozona.

Filling Up The Cookie Jar

Baking goodies is a pleasant task for Mrs. Ben F. Johnson, 707 West 16th. Whenever she plans to bake, she knows she can count on two helpers - Van (sitting on the cabinet) and Ben III, whose major contribution to the effort is to lick the pan. You will find the recipe for these Date Refrigerator Pinwheels in the accompanying story.

Planning Is The Key For Adept Homemaker

Mrs. Ben F. Johnson obviously believes that the key to efficiency is organization. And this explains how the busy housewife-mother-club member can accomplish so much.

In cooking, for example, she plans her menus in advance, drawing from a reservoir of recipes. Often she prepares the food the day before it is to be used, storing it in the freezer.

For instance, when she decides to make a chicken casserole, she can cook the chicken the day before or even make up the entire dish and store it in the freezing compartment. One of the family favorites, Date Refrigerator Pinwheels, recipe given below, can be rolled up in waxed paper and frozen until they are needed.

It is all a matter of management and planning. Her training to become the registered medical technologist that she is, has stood her in good stead as a homemaker as well.

An interesting culinary tip that Mrs. Johnson passes along is the substitution of corn chips or even potatoes for bread in meat loaf. The flavor is greatly enhanced by this variation.

When it comes time for apples or plums or other fresh fruits, you can find her working overtime in the kitchen, canning and preserving. Another kitchen "extra" is baking cookies in fancy shapes for the little Johnsons, Ben III who is 4½, and Van, 2. They are always ready to lick the pan.

At the time of the interview, they were found helping their mother bake delicious cookies which turned out to be for the delighted Herald folk.

The Johnsons have made their home in Big Spring for more than four years. He is dean of Howard County Junior College and is active in many community endeavors.

Mrs. Johnson is a member of the Mary Hatch Circle and the Barbara Reagan Class at First Baptist Church, belongs to the 1905 Hyperion Club, and this week turned over the president's gavel to the new head of the Faculty Maams.

Knitting and Swedish weaving are two of her needlework accomplishments, and she is joined by her husband in gardening; they are particularly successful with roses.

Here are Mrs. Johnson's recipes. If you are planning a pre-game party, you will have fun trying the Bun-Steads, an old standby which proved popular with their many football guests when they lived in Austin. If you plan a bridge social, the angel food cake icing will evoke cheers.

DATE PINWHEELS
2½ cup pitted dates (1 lb.), cut up
1 cup sugar

1 cup water
1 cup chopped nuts
1 cup shortening
2 cups brown sugar
3 eggs, well beaten
4 cups flour
½ tsp. baking soda
½ tsp. salt

Combine dates, sugar and water in a pan and cook over low heat until thick. Add nuts and cool. Meanwhile cream shortening with the brown sugar; add well-beaten eggs and mix well. Add remaining ingredients sifted together, and mix well.

Cover and chill thoroughly. (Process may be speeded by putting dough in freezing section.) Divide mixture into three parts and roll each out separately into a rectangle a little less than ¼ inch thick. Spread each with some of the date filling and roll up as for a jelly roll.

Wrap in waxed paper and chill thoroughly (overnight in freezer section is best). It may be stored in the freezer and used when needed.

Slice with sharp knife into slices about ¼ inch thick. Arrange on greased cookie sheets. Bake in 400 degrees F. oven for 10 to 12 minutes. Makes about 5 dozen cookies.

BUN-STEADS
¾ lb. American cheese, cubed
3 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
1 7 oz. can tuna, flaked
2 tsp. chopped green pepper
2 tsp. chopped onion
2 tsp. chopped stuffed olives
2 tsp. chopped sweet pickle
½ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
6 Coney buns

Combine ingredients. Split buns and fill. Place buns in oblong pan and cover with foil, or wrap buns in foil and place in 300 degrees F. oven for about 25 minutes, until filling is heated and cheese melts. Serve hot. Fills six large buns generously.

ANGEL FOOD CAKE ICING
½ lb. butter
1 cup sugar
4 eggs
6 squares semi-sweet chocolate
1 tsp. vanilla

Cream butter with sugar (medium speed on electric beater). Add eggs, one at a time, mixing well after each addition. Add melted chocolate and vanilla. Cut an angel food cake into three layers. Spread filling between layers and on top and sides of cake. Chill in refrigerator overnight. You may cover the entire cake with whipped cream just prior to serving. This cake may be frozen.

CHICKEN CASSEROLE
1 chicken (2-2½ lbs.)
1 can cream of mushroom soup
1 can cream of chicken soup
1 can (No. 303) tomatoes, drained
1 package of tortillas
American cheese

Simmer chicken in water until tender. Remove meat from bones and combine with cream of mushroom and cream of chicken soups, and tomatoes. Add 1 cup of the chicken broth and heat, mixing thoroughly.

Grease casserole. Line bottom with tortillas. Add part of the chicken mixture and another layer of tortillas, followed by more chicken mixture. Cover top with grated cheese. Cook in 350 degree oven for 30 minutes. This dish may be frozen.

HURRY-UP APPLE CAKE
Sliced tart apples
Sugar, cinnamon, butter
1 cup flour
1 tsp. baking powder
½ cup sugar
1 tsp. butter
¼ cup milk
1 egg

Line buttered cake pan with apples. Sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon and dot with butter. Make a batter of flour, baking powder, sugar, butter, milk and egg. Pour mixture over the apples.

Bake ½ hour. Turn it over and serve with whipped cream or sweet sauce.

Gravy Thickener
Save any seasoned flour leftover after dredging meat or poultry and use for thickening gravy.

Seafood Sauce
Some cooks like to add chili sauce or catchup to mayonnaise to serve with seafood.

Cake Filling
Puree dried cooked apricots and fold into whipped cream to use for a cake filling.

Meat Loaf Ring
You can bake meat loaf in a ring mold; when you unmold it the center may be filled with creamed green peas and carrots. Nice for guests!

For Yeast Breads
Use all-purpose flour for yeast breads so there will be enough gluten to make the framework loaves or rolls.

For Soft Coconut
If shredded coconut has become hard, heat it over hot water.

Frozen Peach Dessert
Thaw and drain frozen sliced peaches. Mix with sour cream and sugar to taste. Refreshing dessert!

Broiled Fish Pick-Up
Cream butter or margarine with grated lemon rind and use when broiling chicken or fish.

To Cook Venison
When that hunter in your family comes home with some venison, remember that this meat may be cooked as you would lean beef.

'Hearts And Flowers' Season Suggests Parties, Gala Dishes

Red hearts framed in lace, crimson satin boxes filled with candy, roses and carnations in the florists' windows—all mean that Valentine's Day is almost here.

The season of Cupid is always a favorite time for parties. A Valentine punch recipe is suggested here, just in case there's to be a gala for party-loving teen-agers at your house.

The man of the house might appreciate an extra special dessert on Feb. 14. So, here are a few recipes to please him.

VALENTINE PUNCH
2 cups frozen strawberries, cut in fourths
½ pint strawberry sherbet or ice cream
¼ tsp. almond flavoring
2 cups milk
1 25-ounce bottle cream soda

Combine first 4 ingredients in large punch bowl. Fill bowl with ice cold cream soda. If desired, whip 1 cup heavy cream and drop by tablespoons in mounds over top of bowl.

Top each mound with a candy Valentine heart. Makes 16 punch cup servings.

COEUR A LA CREME
2 tps. gelatin
3 tps. cold water
1 pound (2 cups) cottage cheese
2 packages (3 ounces each) cream cheese
1 cup heavy cream
1 tsp. confectioners sugar
3 packages quick-frozen sliced strawberries, thawed

Soften gelatin in cold water. Heat over hot water until dissolved. Put cottage cheese through fine sieve. Soften cream cheese; add cream gradually, blending well.

Add sugar and cottage cheese. Stir in dissolved gelatin. Spoon into 1-quart mold (heart-shaped if desired) or 8 to 10 individual molds.

Chill until firm. Unmold. Makes 8 cups or 10 servings.

combine ¼ cup sugar and 1 tablespoon cornstarch

Gradually stir in 1 cup cherry juice. Cook until clear and thickened, about 10 minutes, stirring constantly.

CHERRY CHIFFON PIE
1 tsp. gelatin
¼ cup cold water
2½ cups canned sour cherries
½ cup sugar
1 tsp. lemon juice
½ tsp. salt
½ cup whipping cream
1 crumb pie shell

Soften gelatin in water. Heat cherries with juice and sugar to boiling point. Remove from heat; stir in softened gelatin, lemon juice and salt; cool. When mixture begins to thicken, fold in whipped cream.

Pour into crumb pie shell; chill until firm. Yield: 1 9-inch pie.

CHERRY SKILLET CAKE
½ cup sugar
1 tsp. cornstarch
¼ tsp. salt
1 can (1 pound) red sour pitted cherries, drained (water pack)
¼ tsp. almond flavoring
¼ tsp. red food coloring
1 packaged sponge cake layer (2 to a package)

Blend sugar, cornstarch and salt in frying pan the same size or slightly larger than sponge cake layer. Add cherries with liquid. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture boils. Stir in almond flavoring and coloring.

Place cake on top of cherry mixture (Reserve second layer for another dessert.) Cover pan; continue cooking over low heat about 3 minutes. Invert on serving plate.

Serve warm, plain or with whipped cream or ice cream. Yield: 6 servings.

Pickled Beets
A jar of pickled beets makes a good salad, chill and drain the beets and team with hard-cooked egg and lettuce.

CHEESE PUFFS
½ cups drained red sour cherries
¼ tsp. almond flavoring
1 tsp. lemon juice
1.3 cup butter
2.3 cup sugar
½ tsp. almond flavoring
1 egg
1 cup sifted flour
½ tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. salt
1.3 cup milk
1 quart vanilla ice cream

Mix together cherries, almond flavoring and lemon juice; place in bottom of 8 buttered custard cups. Cream butter; gradually add sugar and beat until light. Add remaining almond flavoring and egg. Beat well.

Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk. Mix well. Spoon batter over cherries, filling cups about 2/3 full. Bake at 375 degrees for 20 minutes or until lightly browned on top.

Cool puffs slightly and carefully remove from cups. Serve with scoops of ice cream and top with cherry sauce. For cherry sauce,

Cheese On Broccoli
Grated cheddar cheese is delicious sprinkled over very hot cooked drained buttered broccoli. The green and yellow colors look pretty together, too!

Add To Yeast Rolls
Caraway seeds and raisins are good added to yeast rolls made with both white and rye flour.

Store Citrus Fruit
Citrus fruit that is not refrigerated should be kept in some other cool place; spread out the fruit so that the air can circulate around it.

Grapes - Cabbage
Seedless green grapes are good added to a cabbage salad.

For Winter Menus

The steaming goodness of full-bodied soup shares star billing with nutritional sandwiches for wintertime lunches or for that more leisurely evening meal. Carrot and celery sticks may round out the menu, as will a fruit dessert and hot beverage.

That All-American Favorite, The Sandwich, Teams With Soup

Perhaps in no other menu item as in sandwiches can a cook so let her imagination run rampant. The most unlikely combinations sometimes emerge as savory triumphs, and a housewife may find that the flavorful blend which she accomplishes after "emptying out the refrigerator" is just what she has been seeking.

Substantial sandwiches, companioned with hearty soup, are excellent for lunch or for that lighter meal which is good on winter evenings. The meal may be completed with a serving of fruit, cookies and a hot beverage.

EGG-BACON SANDWICH

Ingredients:
4 hard cooked eggs, chopped
4 slices bacon, cooked and crumbled
1/2 cup chopped sweet mixed pickles
2 tablespoons chopped chives
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
Salt and pepper
Buttered bread slices

Method:
Combine eggs, bacon, pickles, chives, mayonnaise, salt and pepper; mix well. Spread on bread to make sandwiches.

DENVER SANDWICH

Ingredients:
8 slices bread
Butter or margarine
2 teaspoons butter or margarine
1 teaspoon chopped onion
1 tablespoon mayonnaise
2 eggs, beaten
1 tablespoon chopped green pepper
1/4 cup cubed canned luncheon meat

Method:
Spread bread with butter or margarine. Melt the 2 tablespoons butter or margarine in skillet. Add onion and cook until golden. Blend mayonnaise with eggs. Stir in green pepper and meat.

Add egg mixture to onion mixture in skillet. Cook gently as for scrambled eggs until set. Spoon mixture on four slices bread. Cover with remaining slices. Makes 4 sandwiches.

SARDINE SANDWICH

Ingredients:
One can (3 1/2 ounces) sardines, 1 tablespoon mayonnaise, 1 tablespoon chili sauce, 1/4 teaspoon onion powder, 4 slices toast, 1/4 cup minced parsley.

Method:
Mash sardines with oil in can; mix in well with the mayonnaise, chili sauce and onion powder. Spread sardine mixture on toast and sprinkle with minced parsley. Makes 2 open-sandwich servings, 2 slices for each portion.

TOASTED CHEESE

Thin slices of baked ham, bread, sandwich-size slices of cheddar cheese, chutney, butter.

Method:
Fry the very thin slices of baked ham in a heavy skillet until browned on both sides. Make sandwiches of the bread with fried ham and cheese; add a layer of chutney—chopping chutney if it is in big pieces.

Spread outside of sandwiches soft butter and toast under broiler. Cut into halves and serve at once.

SALMON SANDWICH

Ingredients:
One can (8 ounces) salmon, 1/4 cup finely diced celery, 1 tablespoon minced green pepper, 1 teaspoon minced drained capers, 1/4 cup mayonnaise, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1/4 teaspoon prepared mustard, 1 teaspoon minced onion, bread, butter

Method:
Drain salmon, remove any bones or skin and flake. Sprinkle celery, green pepper and capers over salmon. Mix together thoroughly the mayonnaise, lemon juice, Worcestershire sauce, prepared mustard and onion. Mix with salmon and other ingredients.

Use as sandwich filling between slices of buttered bread.

VEGETABLE FILLING

Ingredients:
1/4 cup finely diced, cooked asparagus
1/4 cup finely diced, cooked carrots
1/4 cup cooked peas
1/4 cup finely chopped celery
1 tablespoon chopped green onion
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon prepared mustard
1/4 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing

Method:
Drain the cooked vegetables

CHICKEN AND TONGUE

Ingredients:
One-half cup ground cooked chicken, 1/2 cup ground cooked smoked tongue, 1 tablespoon prepared mustard, 2 teaspoons finely-grated onion (pulp and juice), 2 tablespoons minced green pepper, mayonnaise or mayonnaise-type salad dressing, salt, pepper.

Method:
Mix chicken, tongue, mustard, onion, and green pepper with enough mayonnaise to moisten. Add salt and pepper to taste. Makes about 1 cup filling for sandwiches.

SPECIAL CHICKEN

One cup ground cooked chicken giblets and neck meat, 3 large eggs, hard-cooked, 4 slices bacon (crisply cooked) 1/2 pound chicken livers (cooked in a little butter), mayonnaise, salad vinegar, salt, pepper.

Method:
Mash ground chicken giblets and neck meat with hard-cooked eggs. Crumble in bacon. Mash chicken livers thoroughly and add. Stir in mayonnaise, a little vinegar, salt and pepper to taste. Makes about 2 cups spread to use for sandwiches.

NOTE:

Chicken giblets and necks (and bony back pieces if desired) may be saved from broiler fryers and frozen. The chicken parts may be simmered in water to cover with salt, pepper, bay leaf, whole cloves or allspice, an onion and a carrot. Stock should be drained for use, then meat taken from bony pieces and ground through fine blade of food chopper with giblets.

FANCY BREADS PERK UP MEALS, 'COFFEE BREAK'

Fancy breads may be served in a variety of ways. When neighbors drop in for a chat, thinly sliced bread buttered and spread with jam is delicious when paired with coffee or hot tea.

For a breakfast treat, slice freshly baked banana bread, toast it in the oven, and cover it with butter. A chorus of approval will greet you.

Brown bread is a traditional partner with baked beans. A creamed cheese spread, perhaps with canned pineapple blended in, might dress it up.

BANANA BREAD

Ingredients:
1 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 1/2 tps. double-action baking powder
1/2 tsp salt
1-3 cup shortening
2-3 cup sugar
2 slightly beaten eggs
1 cup mashed fully ripe bananas (3 to 4)

Method:
Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Place shortening in mixing bowl and beat until creamy and glossy, 300 strokes by hand or 2 minutes at medium speed on electric mixer. Gradually add sugar to shortening, beating until light and fluffy after each addition. Add eggs and beat until thick and pale lemon in color.

Add flour mixture and bananas alternately, blending thoroughly after each addition.

Grease bottom only (not sides) of a loaf pan (approximately 4 1/2" x 8 1/2" x 3"). Turn batter into pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 60 to 70 minutes or until bread is done.

Let bread partially cool in pan (20-30 minutes) before pouring on to rack. Cool thoroughly before wrapping for storage. Makes 1 loaf.

NUT BROWN BREAD

Ingredients:
3 cups sifted flour
1 tsp double-acting baking powder
1 tsp baking soda
1 tsp salt
1/2 cup firmly packed dark brown sugar
1/4 cup undiluted evaporated milk
2 tbsps. grated orange rind
1/4 cup orange juice
1/2 cup dark molasses
1 cup coarsely broken walnuts

Method:
Sift together the flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt and brown sugar. (If sugar is lumpy, push through strainer or roll to make smooth before sifting.) Stir together the undiluted evaporated milk, orange rind, orange juice and molasses in a large mixing bowl. Add the sifted dry ingredients; stir just enough to blend. Fold in walnuts.

Turn into well greased loaf pan (9 by 5 by 3 inches). Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven about 1 hour. Loosen loaf from sides of pan with spatula or knife; turn out on rack to cool.

ICE CREAM TOPPING

Need a topping for ice cream? Boil maple syrup to thicken it slightly — about 5 minutes — then pour over the ice cream; garnish with salted almonds.

Spicy Banana Salad Teams With Soup

This salad goes nicely with a cream soup, buttered toast and beverage for a winter lunch menu.

Ingredients:
1/4 cup mayonnaise
1/4 teaspoon curry powder
1 teaspoon sugar
4 teaspoons prepared Dijon mustard
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Romaine
4 bananas
1 rib celery
Parsley, (minced)

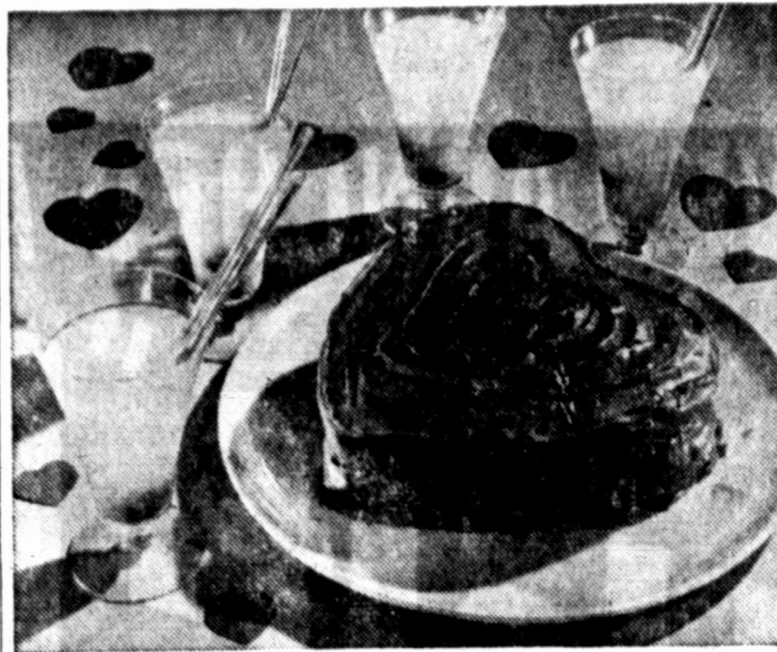

Method:
Stir the mayonnaise, curry powder, sugar, mustard and lemon juice together well. Arrange romaine leaves on 4 salad plates; peel bananas, slice in half lengthwise and place on romaine. Cut celery diagonally in paper-thin crescents and add to salad plates. Drizzle dressing over bananas and sprinkle with minced parsley. Makes 4 servings.

Stuffed Eggs Are All-Time Favorites

A perennial favorite with young and old alike is stuffed eggs. Here is a reliable recipe:

Ingredients:
6 hard-cooked eggs
3 to 4 tablespoons mayonnaise
1/4 teaspoon dry mustard, salt and pepper

Method:
Hard-cook eggs, shell; cut in half lengthwise; scoop out yolks and while still warm mash fine with mayonnaise, dry mustard, salt and pepper to taste. Pile yolks back into cavities of whites.

SWEETHEART CAKE

Sweet Slaw Is Good Paired With Fish

The perfect accompaniment for fish is slaw. Try mixing these ingredients:

Ingredients:
2 cups finely-cut green cabbage (use knife for shredding and pack down in measuring)
1 medium-sized carrot (grated medium fine)
1/2 of a medium-sized eating apple
1/4 cup (about) French dressing
Salt
Pepper

Method:
Toss cabbage and carrot together in a bowl. Do not peel apple; grate coarsely and add. Toss with French dressing, adding salt and pepper to taste. Makes 3 servings.

Green Pepper Rings

Remove the stem end, seeds and white membrane from a green pepper; cut into thin rings. Chill in ice water, then drain and arrange over the top of a bowl of greens to be used for a tossed salad.

For Sponge Cake

Finely granulated sugar usually improves the texture of a sponge cake.

Valentine's Day Calls For Heart-Shaped Cake

A luscious frosting is surely the crowning touch for any cake. A failure proof triumph, that is rich and smooth every time you make it, contains just two ingredients, peanut butter and sweetened condensed milk. They are cooked and stirred together in the top of a double boiler, and that's all there is to it.

A heart-shaped cake for a Valentine's Day dessert is a sweet tribute to the February 14 tradition. It is equally good for bobby-soxers or teen-agers at a party. And if nobody is having a party, it serves as a pleasant conversation piece for the family at dinner.

Heart-shaped pans are easy to buy. A cake mix or your regular layer cake recipe fills two. The crowning touch, of course, is the swirling frosting.

PEANUT BUTTER FROSTING
1 1/2 cups sweetened condensed milk
3 tablespoons cream style peanut butter
Gradually stir sweetened condensed milk into peanut butter in top of double boiler. Mix well. Cook over rapidly boiling water, stirring constantly until thick, about 15 minutes. Cool. Spread on cooled cake.

Serve A Pie Warm

A fruit pie should be covered and kept at room temperature; before serving the pie may be heated in the oven.

Shaver Once Planned Escape

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Convicted rape-slayer Jimmy N. Shaver, 31, who still faces probable death in the electric chair, planned an escape attempt while at Bexar County jail a few months ago.

This was disclosed Tuesday by Sheriff Owen Kilday, who obtained details of the escape plan from a 20-year-old jail inmate.

Kilday said Shaver and Donald Martin Summers, 32, plotted the escape attempt while they were cellmates. It never came off, the sheriff said, because the pair had planned on the help of a man who was to be released from the jail.

Inmates can't visit other prisoners within 60 days of their release, he added, and Shaver and Summers apparently didn't know this.

Summers, facing a 20-year prison term for armed robbery, saved Shaver from death in the electric chair a week ago by "confessing" it was he, not Shaver, who killed and raped 2-year-old Chere Jo Horton here in 1954.

The Bexar County grand jury is investigating the "confession," Kilday and Dist. Atty. Hubert Green have said they don't believe Summers' statement.

Smog Experts Put Heat On Auto Men

By JACK LEFFLER

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Thirteen experts, convinced that smog has become a nationwide menace to health and happiness, will meet in Washington tomorrow to put the heat on the auto industry.

The group is the Advisory Council to the U.S. Surgeon General on Air Pollution Problems, made up of scientists, medical men and air pollution specialists. Its contentions are these:

1. The automobile is the last, and so far uncontrollable, major source of the noxious fumes that regularly besmirch the atmosphere of American cities, bringing discomfort to millions.

2. Unless cut off, the fumes will certainly worsen smog in cities already affected and will ultimately create smog problems where air is now pure.

The experts intend to ask auto industry executives to go all out in developing a device to reduce or eliminate the automobile's contribution to air pollution.

They say privately that auto men have dragged their feet on working up an antismog device, apparently under the impression that the smog-car problem is peculiar to the Los Angeles region where the loudest outcries have been heard.

The facts are, say the experts, that half a dozen major cities—including auto headquarters itself, Detroit—already consider auto exhaust a serious smog problem, and more than 200 cities deem it a factor in their air pollution picture.

The group's goal: a cheap — $25 to $50—device to be built into all new cars that will effectively filter, or burn, uncombusted gasoline vapors. It is these vapors, belched from auto exhausts, that change chemically in the air to form smog's irritants.

Sparkplug of the advisory council and perhaps the nation's leading antismog crusader is S. Smith Griswold. Calling the automakers in and trying to persuade them to launch a crash program for an exhaust control device is his idea. Such a device, Griswold is convinced, is the key to any further technical progress against smog.

Griswold, 49, is boss of the Los Angeles County Air Pollution Control District. Since taking over in 1955 he has guided completion of a program he says has brought under control 90 per cent of the nonautomotive sources of smog.

He calls this a "substantial victory." But, he warns, the battle could easily be lost unless auto exhaust is cleaned.

Texas Turns Out Charming Secretaries

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Texas turns out some charming congressional secretaries.

Two recent issues of Roll Call, the newspaper of Capitol Hill, featured the "Hill Pinup" girl. Here's what it had to say about those two Texas beauties:

"Dazzling, demure and delightful are only three adjectives of a possible dozen that may be chosen to describe today's pinup, 24-year-old Jean Magouirk.

"Jean was born Jan. 4 in Childress, Tex. She has been with Rep. Rogers for three years, enjoys the Hill and Washington tremendously."

In the other issue, Roll Call had this to say under a picture showing a pretty two-gun totin', cowboy-hatted girl:

"Regardless of what impression might be created by the picture above, brown-haired, blue-eyed Texan Sally Davis is really quite mild-mannered and wouldn't even shoot a thief walking off with her coveted golf clubs.

"Sally's 24 and is on the staff of Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex), her first job on Capitol Hill.

"The five foot four and one-half inch bundle of vivacity is a native of Austin."

Around the Capitol: Frank Moore of Plainview, testifying before the House Agriculture committee for the National Grain Sorghum Producers Ass., caught close attention of congressmen when he told them of one of the uses Texans make of corn—processing it into starch for use with drillers mud in oil well operations.

The tall, sandy-haired Texan was introduced to the committee by Rep. George Mahon of Lubbock, who left his own Appropriations Committee hearing to sit in on the farm problem hearing.

Mrs. Moore accompanied her husband to Washington and sat with spectators as he discussed grain feed price supports with the legislators.

Thomas Sheppard, formerly of Tyler, recently was presented the Navy Meritorious Public Service Citation for his outstanding contributions in the guided missile field.

Rep. Lindley Beckworth of Gladewater, placing a copy of the citation in the Congressional Record, noted that Sheppard's kin live in Smith County.

"Mr. Sheppard has been closely associated from the beginning with the development by the Terrier guided missile from the experimental test vehicle to a tactical weapon now in service use on board fully operational units of the fleet," said Beckworth.
