New Cold Front Brings More Snow To Panhandle, S. Plains

Light snow fell intermittently over the Panhandle and South Plains of Texas Friday as a new cold front moved into the state. A heavy snow was falling at Electra in the Wichita Falls area, on top of earlier snow and rain that had melted. Visibility was cut to city blocks. Snow ranged up to 8 inches at Clayton, N.M., and 8.5 inches at Fort Worth, Waco, and College Station. Austin had rain and drizzle. All the state was cloudy except the far West Texas section including Wink and El Paso. Temperatures, except in the Panhandle, were comparatively mild. It was 58 at Brownsville and 57 at Corpus Christi before dawn. Only at Amarillo, with 29 degrees, and Dalhart, with 30 degrees reported freezing temperatures. Maximum temperatures Thursday ranged from 39 at Childress to 67 at Presidio. San Antonio had 45 at dawn, Austin 42, Waco 40, Dallas and Fort Worth 39, Lubbock 41, Wichita Falls 37, Abilene 40, Childress 33, Lubbock 34 and El Paso 46. Weather observers said the Panhandle snow was touched off by a Pacific cold front carrying moist air. The bitter freeze that chilled the state early Thursday did only hit section in the snow-bladed area would be the central High Plains from west Nebraska into the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles. Winds were expected to blow the snow into deep drifts in many places with blasts up to 40 miles per hour. The snow at Amarillo began Friday at 4:47 a.m. and at Dalhart a few minutes earlier. Light rain was falling at the time in Dallas, Fort Worth, Waco, and College Station. Austin had rain and drizzle. All the state was cloudy except the far West Texas section including Wink and El Paso. Temperatures, except in the Panhandle, were comparatively mild. It was 58 at Brownsville and 57 at Corpus Christi before dawn. Only at Amarillo, with 29 degrees, and Dalhart, with 30 degrees reported freezing temperatures. Weather observers said the Panhandle snow was touched off by a Pacific cold front carrying moist air. The bitter freeze that chilled the state early Thursday did only

"spotted damage" to tomatoes, cotton, citrus trees and melons in Texas' Lower Rio Grande Valley. The damage was "near insignificant so far as the over-all crop was concerned," Agriculture Commissioner John White said. The coldest spot in Texas Thursday was Vernon with an official reading of 9. Forecasts called for clearing skies and colder temperatures in the Panhandle and South Plains Friday night after snow nearly all day. Occasional rain was forecast for East, North Central and South Central Texas Friday with clearing skies and colder temperatures Friday night. Dalhart, Childress and Amarillo reported an inch of new snow by 7 a.m. Vernon reported it started falling there at 7:20 a.m. The new snow at many places fell on an accumulation of ice and snow that still lay on the ground. Up to more than 6 inches fell at Panhandle areas earlier in the week. Overnight low temperatures ranged from 28 degrees at Amarillo and Dalhart to 36 at Brownsville. Small craft warnings were raised along the Gulf Coast from Brownsville to Morgan City, La., for southerly winds of 20 to 30 miles per hour, shifting to the north late Friday.

Panel Demands Token Cut In Interior Fund

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee recommended a token $1,339,000 cut today in the Interior Department's 1959 budget and told the department to stop buying tungsten for the defense stockpile. It sent to the House floor for debate next week a bill to give the department $413,145,600 in new operating funds for the fiscal year starting next July 1. It said this amount, $43,104,000 below current year appropriations, was adequate to carry out an effective program for the conservation and proper utilization of national resources. The committee noted that the department's operating revenues, which go into the Treasury, are expected to amount to $411,137,441 next year. Moneywise, no departmental activities were slashed deeply. Larger allotments in the bill went to the Indian Bureau, the National Park Service, the Fish and Wildlife Service, and the Forest Service. The Bureau of Indian Affairs was given $100,169,000, exclusive of three millions in tribal funds. This is $800,000 more than the bureau requested, the increase being for construction of schools for Indian children. The allotment for the Fish and Wildlife Service was $29,528,900, the amount it requested. It included $180,000 for a shellfish laboratory in the Chesapeake Bay area, $193,700 for equipment at the technological laboratory at Gloucester, Mass., and $75,000 to replace a warehouse at King Salmon base on Bristol Bay in Alaska. The National Park Service share of the bill was $61,480,000, a reduction of $882,000 from the amount requested. The Forest Service was allotted $115,980,000, a reduction of $851,000, but including $8,020,000 for construction of recreation facilities. The committee turned down a request of the National Capital Planning Commission for $1,120,000 for land acquisition for the park, parkway and playground system in the District of Columbia. Smaller allotments approved include $785,000 for saline water research work, $25,334,000 for the Bureau of Mines, four million dollars for Alaska public works, and $4,715,000 for grants for administrative costs to trust territories in the Pacific.

Crumbly Cliff Defeats Efforts To Rescue Boy

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP)—An expert mountain climber finally got down to a ledge where a boy lay by a waterfall, grotesquely twisted and still. "Negative," the climber yelled to the men 300 feet above. They knew then that the crumbly cliff had defeated them. Young Donald Burns was dead. A day earlier, the 13-year-old eighth-grader from nearby Colton was walking along the top of the cliff on towering Mt. San Geronimo. He and a schoolmate, part of a hiking party, had climbed from a snowy canyon to look from the top of a falls that tumbles 700 feet down in two steps. Donald slipped on a path, went over the side. He landed on a small ledge about 100 feet down, but the water pushed him off and he fell another 200 feet to the ledge that forms a step in the middle of the waterfall. The boy stayed there in falling snow that evening, crying out and waving interminably. Another wave told would-be rescuers he was still alive yesterday morning. But because of a lack of rope and a solid footing, nobody could get to him until John Matthews of the Sierra Madre search and rescue team made it down to the ledge on a rope. The boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Burns, had been at the scene since early morning. Sheriff Frank Bland of San Bernardino County walked over to the mother and told her the boy was dead. "Oh, no," she cried. "Oh God don't let it be true." She broke down and began striking the seat of the car in which she was sitting. Then, after a minute, she sat up, sobbing quietly. Her husband tried to comfort her. For the two dozen men involved in the rescue attempt, it had been 24 hours of frustration. Sheriff's officers and others tried to reach the boy Wednesday evening from the top of the cliff. They didn't have enough rope and could find nothing solid to drive stakes into. Nighttime fog also hampered them. A five-man rescue team arrived from Norton Air Force Base at 2 a.m. and dropped another rope. It wasn't long enough either. After several more attempts to reach the ledge from both the bottom and top failed, a helicopter was flown in. Turbulence kept it from getting close to the ledge.

SOME PARENTS DON'T LOVE THEIR CHILDREN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Not all parents love their children, says Leontine Young, an Ohio social worker. And she suggests that officials stop opposing parents who want to surrender their children for adoption. She told a regional conference of the Child Welfare League of America that most social workers and judges handling adoptions cling to the belief that all mothers love their children. She described that belief as "phony." If social workers realized it, she said, more children could be placed earlier in good adoptive homes instead of being forced to live with adults who don't want them. Too many social workers, she said, believe that "all parents love their children; and if they don't they ought to; and if they don't we are going to see to it that they do." She said no one can teach a parent to love.

More Showers, Snow Forecast

Scattered showers late today which will turn into snow late tonight are forecast for Big Spring and vicinity. A light shower at midnight last night provided .02 inch of moisture, the U. S. Experiment Station reported. The temperature today will continue on the cold side and the skies will be cloudy. There will be considerable wind. Tonight the temperature will drop to 25 degrees, the bureau predicted. Heavy clouds covered the skies in midmorning after what started out as a possibly fair day. A biting wind prevailed and the temperature at 11 a.m. was 37 degrees. Forecast had said that the high today would be in the mid-forties. The temperature never dropped below 37 degrees on Thursday night.

Confession Enters Soldier Spy Trial

WASHINGTON (AP)—A confession in which Sgt. Roy A. Rhodes said he agreed to cooperate with Russians in the United States because "I was up to my neck in it" was introduced today at his court-martial trial on charges of espionage conspiracy. The statement was spiced with accounts of drunken vodka parties and two occasions on which Rhodes wound up in bed with Russian women. If convicted, the married 40-year-old Rhodes could go to prison for life. He could get as much as a year on a lesser charge of falsifying a loyalty certificate. Rhodes has pleaded innocent.

Navy Awards Contracts For Atom Missile Subs

First Deliveries Expected In 1960

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy today awarded contracts for three atomic-powered submarines to fire Polaris guided missiles. Two will be built by Electric Boat Division at Groton, Conn., and a third at the Mare Island, Calif., Naval Shipyard. The first of the three Polaris submarines probably will be completed by Electric Boat, a division of General Dynamics Corp. The first deliveries of the new missile firing submarines are expected in 1960, to coincide with the time when the ballistic missiles are expected to be ready for quantity production. It has been estimated the first boat will cost between 105 and 110 million dollars, with the cost of the next two dropping to between 85 and 90 million dollars. A supplemental appropriation bill passed by Congress this year carries 296 million dollars for starting the submarines. The Navy has asked that the initial program be expanded to a total of nine craft. The Navy announcement said: "These two yards were selected because, in the Navy's judgment, these assignments will permit the earliest possible completion dates." Rear Adm. W. F. Raborn, director of special projects in the Navy Bureau of Ordnance, said the submarines "are designed specifically for carrying and launching the Polaris missile."

Named

Richard A. Mack, federal communications commissioner, was named as recipient of cash in connection with the licensing of a Miami TV station during testimony at the FCC probe in Washington, D. C. Bernard Schwartz, fired counsel of a House investigating committee, said Mack has acknowledged receiving "several thousand dollars."

Harris Pledges Co-Operation In FBI Probe Of FCC 'Payoff'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Harris (D-Ark.) today promised full co-operation with an FBI probe of allegations that Communications Commissioner Richard A. Mack received "thousands of dollars" from an attorney in a Miami television case. Harris said that the investigating subcommittee he heads will call Mack to testify "very soon" on the charges made by the group's ousted counsel Bernard Schwartz. Testifying under oath, Schwartz said Mack has acknowledged accepting several thousand dollars from a lawyer Schwartz said was active in getting a television license for a firm rated by an FCC examiner as the least qualified of four applicants. He said Mack described the money as loans. Mack could not be reached for comment. A few hours after the hearing, Atty. Gen. Rogers ordered the FBI to make a "complete investigation." Schwartz was fired by the subcommittee Monday night in a dispute over the conduct of its probe of the regulatory agencies. Schwartz produced from subcommittee files cancelled checks totaling $2,650 which he said were given to Mack by Thurman A. Whiteside of Miami after Mack became an FCC commissioner. The former counsel said Mack claimed the checks represented loans and that the commissioner said a portion of the loans had been forgiven and some repaid in cash. The checks Schwartz said were subpoenaed from Whiteside, who he said had a reputation in Florida as a "fixer." Schwartz said Whiteside represented Public Service Television, Inc., which won the grant for Miami's TV Channel 10 in a hotly contested case. Public Service is a wholly owned subsidiary of National Airlines. Denial came quickly from Whiteside in Miami. "Schwartz is a g-d-d- liar," Whiteside said. He said he had never "fixed anything in my life" and that he was never employed as an attorney in the Channel 10 case. Whiteside also issued a statement saying Mack was an old friend and that he had loaned Mack money off and on for 29 years. Whiteside also said he had records of repayment of all but $250. As for the Channel 10 case, Whiteside said that in September 1955 he recommended to Mack that Public Service get the award. He said he did so at the request of Robert H. Anderson, then a lawyer and now a circuit judge. He said Anderson is a "friend of long standing." Schwartz said Anderson, at the time the TV case was pending, was a member of a law firm that Schwartz said handled the Channel 10 proceeding for Public Service. Schwartz quoted Anderson as telling subcommittee investigators earlier his law firm had hired Whiteside in the case. Whiteside said he recommended Public Service because of what he termed the "fine character, high integrity and general reputation in the community" of persons involved in the application.

Work Of WTCC Is Outlined Here

Work the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is doing "in the interest of all segments of the West Texas economy" was outlined here today by Ralph Duncan of Abilene, manager of the Community Services Department of the WTCC. Duncan substituted for Fred Husband, WTCC general manager, who had been scheduled to address Big Spring members of the regional agency. Husband was unable to attend. He called attention to the WTCC's work in regard to bracero labor contracts between the U. S. and Mexico, support of legislation providing a feed control law and egg grading program, and important factors in the local economy. Most West Texas cities, he said, have a predominant interest in only one or two principal fields. Duncan pointed out that the WTCC took the lead in encouraging the establishment of a West Texas agriculture and livestock research program at Texas Tech, along with the West Texas Bureau of Business Research at the same institution. He called attention to the WTCC's work in regard to bracero labor contracts between the U. S. and Mexico, support of legislation providing a feed control law and egg grading program, and

Big Spring has probably "the best average economy" of any community in the 132-county WTCC region. Duncan declared, pointing out that agriculture, industry, petroleum and water resources development all are im-

Candy Barr Draws 15-Year Sentence

DALLAS (AP)—Blonde stripteaser Candy Barr faced 15 years in prison today on a narcotics charge.

A jury here convicted the exotic dancer and assessed the penalty yesterday after deliberating two hours and 45 minutes.

The dancer, charged and tried under her true name, Mrs. Juanita Dale Phillips, showed little emotion at the verdict.

"It was an unfair verdict," the shapely Candy said to reporters, "but my spirit is not broken."

Attorneys said quickly they would appeal. Courtroom fans said the defense lawyers appeared more shocked than the dancer at the penalty.

The nightclub entertainer tried unsuccessfully to make a last-minute appeal in her own behalf. She had not previously taken the witness stand.

But as attorneys ended their arguments, she walked before the jury which included one woman and said: "I've made a few notes here and I want to tell you I didn't intend to violate any law."

Prosecuting attorney James Allen interrupted, saying she was going outside the evidence in the case.

"Please, may I continue?" the dancer asked Judge Joe Brown. She started sobbing. Defense attorney Lester May led her away from the jury as she clutched her notes nervously.

Defense attorney William Braecklein told the jury that police "trapped" Candy in her apartment Oct. 27 by illegally tapping her telephone line. He said a policeman, under an assumed name, rented an apartment near Candy's and tapped the wires.

Both defense lawyers told the jury their client was "stupid" to hold marijuana for a girl friend, Mary Smith, who had testified she gave the marijuana to Candy.

Prosecutor William Alexander said Candy willingly accepted the marijuana from Mary Smith.

"She may be cute, under the evidence she's soiled and dirty," Alexander said of Candy.

Allen closed the state's argument by saying there was no proof of wire tapping; that Candy could not explain the marijuana she said she had in her bosom; and ended: "They caught her with the goods."

HE WAS JUST AN AMATEUR

DETROIT (AP)—This amateur extortionist didn't do enough basic research before he taped notes to two separate doors in a Detroit apartment building.

One note said: "If you don't leave $50 taped to the wall leading to the roof by Thursday, I will tell your wife you are fooling around with another woman."

The second asked for $20 on the wall or "I'll tell your wife you are fooling around with Mary."

Police said the tenant of one apartment is an unmarried woman. The tenant in the other is a bachelor.

75 At Orientation Meet For Hospital Volunteer Workers

Exceptional response greeted the second volunteer workers orientation at Big Spring State Hospital on Tuesday, according to Mrs. Ira Thurman.

Mrs. Thurman, who is co-ordinator of volunteer activities, said that 75 women from Big Spring, Midland, Stanton and Lees were on hand for the day-long special training. They represented a total of 20 organizations.

Hospital staff members including Dr. William V. Horbal, superintendent; L. K. Miller, business manager; Dr. Frankie Williams, staff physician; Charles Rich, psychologist; Madeline Trees, supervisor of nurses; C. K. Parnell, alcoholic patient counselor; and Mrs. Thurman.

The women were served lunch at the hospital and during the afternoon were divided into two groups for a tour through the hospital.

Iraq, Jordan Merge To Form Pro-Western Arab Federation

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—Iraq and Jordan joined today in the "Arab Federation"—Al Ittihad al Arabi—proclaimed shortly after sunrise on the Moslem holy day. Their merger created a pro-Western rival to the United Arab Republic Syria and Egypt proclaimed two weeks ago.

King Faisal II of Iraq and King Hussein of Jordan—22-year-old second cousin of the Hashemite dynasty—agreed to merge their countries' finances, economies, armies and foreign affairs. They will retain separate local governments and their individual thrones but Faisal was named chief of state.

The federation ostensibly differs sharply from the U.A.R., which on paper will reduce Egypt and Syria to provinces of one highly centralized government to be run by Egyptian President Nasser. The Iraqi-Jordanian merger also cements the geographical wedge between Syria and Egypt, posing Nasser the problem of controlling his new province from 20 miles away. Also in between is Israel.

Faisal and Hussein invited other Arab states to join their federation. Nasser and Syrian President Kuwailid also have invited the other Arab nations to join the U.A.R., either in a full union or a federation, but only Yemen has started negotiations.

Foreign Minister Burhanuddin Bashayan of Iraq told reporters, "This federation is a more natural union than Nasser's United Arab Republic."

Leaders of the U.A.R. look to the Communist world for military, political and economic aid. Iraq and Jordan look to the West, which buys Iraq's oil and bolsters impoverished Jordan with military and economic aid.

Although the new federation is expected to continue the pro-Western policy which both governments have followed individually, there has been speculation that Iraq would withdraw from the American-backed Baghdad Pact which many Arab nationalists oppose.

This was expected as the first step to clearing the way for Saudi Arabia to join the Iraq-Jordan federation, but Jordanian officials said King Saud now had decided not to join up. There still was the possibility, however, that pressure from the million Palestine Arabs living in Jordan—more than 15 per cent of the new federation's total population—would force Iraq out of the pact. The Palestinians generally agree with the Egyptian-Syrian contention that the Baghdad Pact is a threat to Arab unity.

The federation agreement itself said treaties and international agreements previously concluded would continue in force for the country which signed them but would not be binding on the other. This, presumably, applies specifically to the Baghdad Pact. Mob pressure from the Palestine Arabs kept Jordan from joining.

The new federation brings together about five million people in Iraq—a land of money-bringing oil and potentially fertile river valleys—with 1½ million Bedouin nomads and former Palestine residents in parched, poverty-stricken Jordan. Together the two countries total 210,000 square miles.

Saudi Arabia would bring to the federation more oil riches, about 600,000 square miles of mostly desert, an estimated six million people and King Saud's prestige in the Arab world. As the senior king, the 55-year-old Arabian monarch presumably would replace Faisal as chief of state.

In contrast to this array, the U.A.R. totals 29 million people, and Nasser's position as the leading apostle of Arab unity. Most of the people are destitute Egyptians in the fertile but overpopulated Nile Valley. The Arab republic's other chief resource is its control of the oil highway to Western Europe, the Suez Canal and the pipelines from Iraq and Saudi Arabia which cross Syria.

Principal provisions of the 12-point Iraq-Jordan agreement are:

1. The ministries of finance and economics will be combined. The two nations already use a similar currency and are joined in a customs union.
2. Iraq's 60,000-man army will be united with Jordan's 20,000 troops in an "Arab army." Military forces of both nations are British trained and already both receive U.S. arms.
3. The foreign ministries will be combined under one foreign minister. Diplomatic posts abroad will be combined but the monarchs hope to keep their separate seats in the United Nations.
4. The federal government will operate six months of the year in Baghdad, then trek 450 miles across desert wastes to Amman for the other six months.
5. When Faisal leaves the federation to travel abroad, Hussein will automatically take over as chief of state.
6. The nations will have a common flag.
7. The federation government will be composed of a legislative council and an executive authority, to carry out affairs within the federal jurisdiction. The parliaments of Jordan and Iraq will elect members on an equal basis.
8. Otherwise the present governments and parliaments will continue in operation, handling local affairs.
9. When another state joins the federation, the post of head of the federation will be reviewed.

Oklahoma Fire Kills Mother, 3 Children

HOLLIS, Okla. (AP)—Three children and their mother burned to death yesterday after a gallon can of kerosene exploded.

Sheriff D. D. Jackson said Nathaniel Sanders was pouring the kerosene into a pot-bellied stove in an effort to get the fire to burn hotter. The Sanders farmhouse was destroyed.

The victims were Mrs. Sanders, 28, a 5-year-old daughter, Billie Ann, and two sons, Carroll, 3, and Dwight Eugene, 14 months. Two other children were seriously burned. Sanders himself was burned on the hands. Two youngsters escaped injury.

Cotton Production Of Area Tabulated

LUBBOCK—The U. S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census, recently announced ginnings of the 1957 crop prior to Jan. 16, 1958. Ginnings on that date of Plains Cotton Growers 23-member counties totaled 1,534,094 bales. This compares to approximately 1,650,000 bales harvested on that date a year earlier.

Significant are the noticeable decreases from a year ago in Castro, Cochran, Crosby, Floyd, Hale, Lamb, Lubbock, Swisher, Terry and Yoakum counties. Biggest increases are in Dawson, Garza and Lynn counties, all southern counties with only one-third of the cotton acreage irrigated, as compared with 75 to 90 per cent irrigated in the central and northern sectors.

Also noticeable is the fact that even in a poor year such as 1957, the 23-member counties of the PCG produced more cotton than the entire states of California with 1,527,144 bales; Mississippi with 1,032,485; Arkansas with 920,179; Arizona with 718,854; Alabama with 526,182; Louisiana with 342,982; and Oklahoma with 256,100 bales.

Texas had ginned 3,540,304 bales as of Jan. 16. The PCG member counties harvested 42 per cent of the Texas crop in 1957.

Below are ginnings on the 1957 crop and the 1956 crop:

Local Boy Making Good

Billy Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Evans, 2410 Johnson St., works on a composition as part of his studies at Howard County Junior College. Already holder of top area musical awards, Evans plans to obtain a masters degree in music from North Texas State College. His piano teachers here have included his brother, Larry, also a musician; Mrs. Nell Frazier; and his present teacher, Jack Hendrix, head of the HCJC music department.

CRITIQUE

Future Looks Good For Evans As He Plans Concert Career

By BOB SMITH
Big Spring may some day produce a world-famous concert pianist, or even a composer to rank with the immortals.

Billy Evans, a quiet and friendly kind of guy, would probably be embarrassed if anyone said that of him. Yet, he shows signs at the early age of 20 that he has, at the least, a bright future in the field of music.

He has impressed his listeners in five concerts and recitals since May, 1956, and he came out on top in competitive auditions sponsored a few weeks ago by the Amarillo Symphony.

An indication of Evans' talent is given in a tally sheet recording his various awards since he entered Big Spring High School.

Honor high school student, graduated 1957; drum major both Junior and Senior High bands; first chair clarinet in BSHS band, made All-State Band in Dallas; piano soloist with BSHS Band in spring concert; invited in 1957 to audition with El Paso Youth Symphony (unable to attend due to prior commitments); total of 14 medals in high school, including Arion Award, national winner for six consecutive years in auditions sponsored by National Guild of Piano Teachers; 1957 winner of high school music diploma awarded by NGPT; cash prize winner in 1957 in biennial recording contest sponsored by NGPT; alternate winner in 1957 of young soloist competition sponsored by Amarillo Symphony.

Evans started out his musical training like most other American youngsters—the family had a piano available and it wasn't long before he was taking lessons. Evans was about 5 years old when he started picking at the piano, more or less playfully, and he was about ready to quit by the time he reached the eighth grade. He just didn't like piano practice.

That was where his parents and his brother, Larry, came into the picture. With their encouragement, Evans had decided by the following year to go on with it. Since that time, his music is a matter of record.

Evans laid aside his clarinet after high school band days, and piano is his main concentration now. He also tries his hand at composing.

Like the brother who encouraged him, Evans plans to earn a master's degree in music. Plans now are for one or two more concerts, finishing work in HCJC, and on to North Texas State College next fall. Afterwards, Evans hopes to study in Europe, probably at either the Paris or Vienna Conservatories.

And after Europe come the concerts and tours. Eventually, Evans hopes to settle down to teaching, either privately or in college.

The young musician leans toward the classics, but it would be an error to call him a square. His interests range all the way from Bach to boogie, and he finds enjoyment in a wide selection of popular music.

Demos To Pick Election Judges

Frank Hardesty, Howard County Democratic chairman, has announced that a meeting of the county's executive committee will be called soon, to work out details for party primaries in July and August.

Among other items will be appointment of judges to handle the party voting.

The Herald Thursday, in announcing election judges named by the county commissioners court, erred in saying that these judges will handle "all" elections. Election officials named by the county actually are in charge of general elections, while the political parties direct their own primaries.

Hardesty said that in many cases judges would be the same, although in some precincts Democrats have elected their own precinct judges.

Women's Suffrage Leader, Dame Pankhurst, Dies

SANTA MONICA, Calif. — Dame Christabel Pankhurst, militant campaigner for Christ and women's suffrage, is dead.

Friends found her in her chair yesterday in the house she occupied alone. She was 77 but had been in good health. The precise cause of death has not been determined.

More than 50 years ago she began accompanying her mother Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst on speechmaking tours in England, where they fought vigorously in behalf of suffrage for women. Often they wound up in jail for creating disturbances.

Her father Dr. Richard Pankhurst also had been an ardent crusader for the women's vote. Emmeline Pankhurst worked as a suffragette from 1889 until victory was won in England in 1918. Christabel, for her work, received from King George V the honor of dame commander of the Order of the British Empire.

Dame Pankhurst came to the United States in the 1930s, lectured widely at Bible conferences and made many speeches favoring improved British-American relations. She was an active member of the Episcopal Church.

In her 20s she had been one of the first British women to pass the bar examination, but England did not then permit women to practice law.

About 1947 she came to Santa Monica but remained active. Even her last years she retained all her emotional fire and made occasional speeches, friends said. There are no known immediate survivors.

A Bible Thought For Today

Getting Up To Date And Looking Ahead

The city of Dallas is rightly concerned over an outbreak of fires there that have claimed 13 lives since January 1. The record is such that the fire chief of the city has come out strongly for improvements, notably a "fire code with teeth in it."

He is probably on sound ground, for it is likely that Dallas, with many other cities, has let such things as fire codes, general building codes and provisions for fast inspection lag behind the fast building development that has taken place in the last decade.

Mr. Porter's 'Unfortunate' Letter

There was a feeling among some observers that when President Eisenhower vetoed the natural gas bill on election eve in 1956 it was a political maneuver to attract the big city vote, there being extant among the denizens of our major cities the totally erroneous impression that federal control of gas prices at the wellhead would insure fair and equitable prices to the consumer living in states other than those producing the gas.

sent out letters, stressing Martin's friendship with the oil industry, and noting that "it was up to" Martin to deliver 65 per cent of the House GOP vote if the gas bill were to pass.

Plant Roses Now For Spring, Summer Blooms

By MARY COCHRAN
Roses, roses, that touch the heart and fire the imagination. What is so rare as a rose in all its glory, worthy of praise, and inspirational. "Can the 'Queen of all Flowers' flourish in West Texas? Yes, a good healthy rose bush that will withstand drought, sand storms and an invasion of pests can be grown and will proudly produce an abundance of blooms several times during the season. How can you expect such a miracle in this climate? Mrs. X with the reputed "green thumb" can do it. She doesn't buy a nondescript bush, push it in a small hole, cover it, water it and forget it. Mrs. X has earned her reputation by following a few good rules for rose growing. Try them.

grown and will proudly produce an abundance of blooms several times during the season. How can you expect such a miracle in this climate? Mrs. X with the reputed "green thumb" can do it. She doesn't buy a nondescript bush, push it in a small hole, cover it, water it and forget it. Mrs. X has earned her reputation by following a few good rules for rose growing. Try them.

GOOD LOCATION

Select the proper place to put a healthy plant, a site where there is at least one half day full sun and with good drainage. Beware of ground permeated with greedy roots of shrubs and trees. Avoid a depression that gets drainage from the surrounding terrain and will cause the bush to become water logged. Afternoon shade and protection from the west wind is beneficial as it protects plants from excessive heat and helps blooms retain their color. To prepare a proper bed, dig to a depth of two feet; discard the sub soil but save all the top soil. In half and half proportions mix this top soil with peat moss, compost or leaf mold. Peat moss is available at all nurseries at a reasonable cost. Select a number one plant with three or more canes, nine to 12 inches long and at least one half inch in diameter at the top. A number one bush has three or four strong canes all branched no higher than three inches above the bud union and a good compact root system. These roots will be covered and after being inspected for good healthy form should be recovered until time to set out. Do not prune these roots unless damaged or unhealthy. In placing the plant in the bed make a hole wide enough for the roots to be spread out in a natural position and gently fill with enriched topsoil alternately watering and adding soil till firmly packed up to the bud graft. This is to eliminate air pockets. In this climate it is not necessary to cover the canes with soil as is sometimes done in severely cold climates. Continue watering every three or four days for about two weeks.

BAREROOT

This bareroot planting is done from now until March 15. Potted root planting will be done up through April and can be done successfully all year with proper care. In pot planting, carefully remove the bush from the pot, being careful not to disturb the soil around the roots, and proceed in the same manner as for bareroot planting. About three weeks later, when the ground is firm, use a special fertilizer and a good dormant spray. In the spring when the leaves begin, replace the dormant type spray with a good spring and summer type.

LOCAL ROSARIANS

Mrs. Norman Read, 503 Washington, has been specializing in growing roses in this climate many years and has in her two rose gardens about 150 varieties. She believes more in severe pruning and feels that properly fed and watered rose will give a maximum of pleasure with a minimum of effort. Though Mrs. Read has no favorites, she does recommend the Peace rose, a hybrid tea, for beauty and hardiness. The Fashion rose, a floribunda, is an exceptionally nice plant with a lovely apricot color. Two new varieties she will introduce to her garden this year are winners of the All-America Awards for 1953. They are Aztec, a brilliant scarlet-orange, and the White Knight, a beautiful true white. Next Wednesday, Mrs. Read will instruct pupils in the high school homemaking class on roses.

Mrs. S. P. Jones, 1206 Sycamore, a long time lover and grower of roses, is particularly fond of the Peace rose because its blooms last so long and the buds are tight. The Valentine, a floribunda, is another rose Mrs. Jones recommends for our climate. A dwarf variety, China Doll, produces a profusion of tiny pink blooms on a 15" inch bush and gives lots of color in Mrs. Jones' varied and beautiful flower beds. Pruning twice in the season, Mrs. Jones cuts back her rose canes slightly in January and then does more severe pruning in March as the weather dictates. Much of her success in all flower growing, Mrs. Jones attributes to generous feeding with barnyard fertilizer. She also makes a special feeding solution she starts on her roses in June. It is made up of two parts 16-20-0, one part copperas, and one part wettable sulphur. One cupful of this powder she sprinkles in a trench three or four inches out from the bush. Covering with a very light layer of soil to prevent washing, she then gives the plant a good slow watering.

PRUNING

In pruning there are two schools of thought. Severe pruning to a height of six to 10 inches gives more vigorous growth and longer stems with fewer but larger, blossoms. Light pruning results in more blooms on shorter stems. Pruning is done to correct habits of growth, to remove dead broken or diseased wood; to control plant size; to stimulate new growth; and to make the plant more beautiful. Study the growth habits of the plant to prune properly. In pruning, remember hybrid tea roses flower on new growth. Paul's Scarlet, Belle of Portugal and the rambler roses produce their best blooms on old wood. Prune after they have flowered cutting old canes to the ground. Make pruning cut 1/4 inch above a bud that points away from the center of the plant. In landscaping with roses, mass floribundas in raised beds or use a hedge; set tiny plant three feet apart. Hybrid tea roses make larger plants and can be used for structural lines in the beds. Climbers are excellent on arbors, trellises and fences. Many bushes are suitable to be planted in containers and grouped on patios and paved areas. Have fun with them and plan so that you can see and enjoy them a maximum amount of the time. Many lovely rose bushes are available in Big Spring now. In the California floribunda class some of the many you can select from include: Circus, a two tone yellow; Embers, burning scarlet; Jimmy Cricket, red; Fashion, salmon pink; and Valentine, bright red. California hybrid tea roses are Peace, yellow into pink; Nocturne, dark deep red; and Miranda, dark red. In the new hybrid teas are Montezuma, beautiful pink; Aztec, brilliant scarlet-orange; and Isobel Harkness, clear yellow. Good Texas tea roses in red are Red Radiance, Etoile de Hollande, Better Times, Poinsettia, and Crimson Glory; in pink are Picture, Doctor, Editor McFarland, and Pink Radiance; in yellow are Golden Chair and P. S. DuPont; in multi-colors are Herbert Hoover, Talisman and Betty Upricha red. Texas climbers include Red Radiance, Talisman and Pink Radiance. Start out right, apply a little elbow grease and you can have as green a thumb as Mrs. X. Dig in today for your success tomorrow: beauty is only yard deep.

Mrs. Sawtelle Elected President Of Altrusa

Mrs. G. G. Sawtelle was elected president of the Altrusa Club at a luncheon meeting Thursday at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant. Elected to serve with her were Mrs. A. C. Bass, vice president; Mrs. Alfred Collins, recording secretary; Mrs. R. L. Penney, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Houston Cowden, treasurer. Mrs. Raymond River was chosen a director. Mrs. Obie Bristow, a member of the Big Spring Garden Club, told the group of the various activities to be carried on in the garden at this time. The speaker advised that rose bushes be planted during the rest of the month and the first part of March. She told the group that a cone should be made of a layer of copperas, one of fertilizer and one of soil in a hole large enough for the roots to spread over the cone. She recommended that about an inch of soil be left over the base of the stem when planted. Established rose bushes should be pruned later this month, she stated, and they should be fed. It is time to plant trees and time to prune evergreen shrubs, Mrs. Bristow said. Seed beds should be prepared by sprinkling with commercial fertilizer, copperas and barnyard fertilizer. This should be turned under and mixed well, the speaker stated, and watered thoroughly. Iris should be watered each week from now on unless there is rain or snow, members were told. Mrs. Norman Read announced that the rose bushes which the club helped purchase for the state hospital grounds have arrived and will be planted soon. Twenty-eight attended the luncheon. It was announced that the next meeting will be held at the Wesley Methodist Church.

Ambassador Views Tunis Bomb Damage

Lewis Jones (center, alongside woman), U.S. ambassador to Tunisia, joins other diplomats on a tour of Sakiet Sidi Youssef after last Saturday's French bombing raid on the Tunisian border city. Tunisia announced that France must withdraw her troops from the country before the diplomatic crisis brought on by the bombing can be resolved.

Officials Ignorant Of Bombing Plans

PARIS — Foreign Minister Christian Pineau today said neither Premier Gaillard nor the defense minister knew beforehand of the French air raid last Saturday on a Tunisian frontier village. Pineau made his statement to a committee of the National Assembly. Committee members emerging from the meeting reported the gist of his remarks. Pineau said that, after the raid, the government was morally committed to back the army in the action. He said, however, that the army acted under previous instructions allowing for retaliation in case of incidents. The minister's implication was that the raid simply exceeded in size anything the government had in mind previously. Pineau said that France's resident minister in Algeria, Robert Lacoste, was also ignorant beforehand of the raid. Pineau said the raid was planned and staged by tactical air force units who deduced that since the ground forces had the right of legitimate defense, the same right should apply to them. Rebel machine guns had been firing at French observation planes, the

Mourning Observed For Victims

TUNIS — Tunisia observed a day of mourning today for those killed by French bombing of a frontier village but pressure on French forces in the North African country eased. President Habib Bourguiba appealed to his people to remain calm to demonstrate their maturity as a nation. An all-day general strike was limited by the government to the four hours of lunch and Moslem sabbath prayer. "In order not to damage the national economy." In Paris a French Foreign Ministry spokesman announced plans for a complaint to the U.S. Security Council to counter Tunisia's charge that the French attack on Sakiet Sidi Youssef constituted aggression. The French said they would charge repeated violations of the Algerian frontier by rebel forces sheltered in Tunisia. A Council meeting on the Tunisian complaint is expected Monday or Tuesday. The Tunisians claimed most of the casualties in the French attack—84 killed, 10 missing and 84 wounded—were civilians. The French contend they were exercising "legitimate defense" against Algerian rebels headquartered in the village. Officially, the Tunisian order continuing 15,000 French troops to their bases still stood. It also prohibits shipping local supplies to them. But Tunisian authorities looked the other way as civilian trucks and other food supply trucks drove up to the French camps and unloaded their wares in the pre-dawn hours. French helicopters also made discreet flights during the night to supply isolated southern bases.

Agreement Made On Use Of Fire Equipment In Mitchell

COLORADO CITY — Mitchell County Commissioners voted to pay the City of Colorado City $60 an hour for use of the city's fire fighting equipment for fighting fires outside the limits of Colorado City. The agreement came at a joint meeting of the City Council and the Commissioner's Court Thursday afternoon. In the past, the volunteer fire department has fought fires both in and out of the city limits, without charge to the county. At Monday night's regular council meeting, the council voted to require payment of a fee on an hourly basis for the service. The agreement carries a ceiling of $900 this year, according to County Judge Sam Bullock. The commissioner's court voted for the contract three to one, with Moody Richardson of Lorraine voting "no." Richardson said he felt that the rate proffered by the city was "too high." Voting for the contract were Sam Thompson, W. N. Bacon and J. C. Northcutt. The council had voted unanimously in making the offer.

Player Injured In Basketball Game

James Skeen suffered a knee injury in a March of Dimes basketball game Thursday night. Skeen, who lives at 406 E. 9th, was rushed to Big Spring Hospital by a Nalley-Pickel ambulance but he was released today. Officials said he sustained a torn ligament in his knee. Skeen was playing for Elliott's Drug when injured. The Elliott team was playing a group from the First Methodist Church.

Dawson Political Activity Heightens

LAMESA—Political activity took a sudden spurt here Thursday with two more men filing for the Lamesa school board, three for the city council and two for the office of county judge. Filing for the school board were Perry Roberts, a businessman, and Robert Dunn, a farmer. Filing for places on the council were Clarence Parks, druggist; George Norman Jr., hotelman; and Tom Branon, mortician; for places 1, 2, and 3, respectively. Aspirants to the office of county judge are R. F. Sprabrey, former judge and now owner of an electrical company, and W. B. Burnett, Cox, a former implement man here. The new activity in the school board election brings the total of candidates in that race to five, with three to be elected. J. B. Claiborne, John Middleton and Bill Anderson, incumbents, had filed earlier this week. Members of the council whose terms expire this year are Mayor Bob Crowley, and Councilmen Fred Flanniken and Ray Evans. None of the trio of incumbents has filed. The two additional filings in the county judge's race brings the total of candidates in that field to

O. W. Laws Is City Candidate

The city had a third candidate for the coming City Commission election today. O. W. Laws, a former member of the fire department, entered the commission race Thursday afternoon. The election will be held April 1. Laws is the third to file. C. H. Wasson signed first, and Dr. Lee O. Rogers being the second. Dr. Rogers is now serving his first term on the commission. Three places on the commission will be filled at the April election. In addition to Dr. Rogers, terms of Roy Bruce and Curtis Driver end in March. Persons interested in running for the city offices can file with city secretary, C. R. McClenny, at the city hall. Any citizen of Big Spring who had lived here two years is eligible to run. Deadline for applying is March 1.

Area Road Conditions

More snow and wind is predicted and this may cause snow drifts across highways in areas of the district. Lubbock—A light snow in the north and northwest. Travel conditions are satisfactory at this time. Childress—Ice in only a few isolated places but a blowing snow began west of Childress this morning. The storm is moving east and south and could create hazardous driving conditions later.

Memorial Stadium Field House Will Get New Showers

Expenditures of up to $1,000 has been authorized by Big Spring Independent School District trustees for installation of shower facilities in the track and football field house at Howard County Junior College. The improvements are to be a joint venture with HCGJ for the college and public school stadium. Trustees suggested that as much regular staff labor as possible be counted against the public school's share of the cost. Supt. Floyd Parsons and Business Manager Pat Murphy were authorized to work out details of the project with HCGJ representatives. Trustees proposed that they and college officials postpone action on improvement of the stadium parking area until HCGJ plans are worked out for paving a street near the stadium.

Garlington Suit On Land Title Back In Court

Garlington et al versus Wasson et al, a lawsuit which has been almost constantly in and out of the District Court here for nearly 20 years, is once more being heard before Judge Charlie Sullivan in 118th District Court. Originally filed in 1939, the case has been to the Texas Supreme Court several times, in the U. S. District Court on more than one occasion and has been at least one time before the U. S. Supreme Court. The litigation concerns four sections of land in Howard County and the title to that land. The newest action, according to court attaches, would completely re-open the matter to a new hearing if the petition of the plaintiff is granted. The case holds the record, it is said, for the longest continuous hearing ever tried in the local courts. The hearings it is revealed ran through 13 days. J. S. Garlington, who formerly served as county judge of Howard County, is suing A. L. Wasson and N. A. Reed and others. In 1937, the petitioners relate, Garlington obtained the land from a firm on agreement to pay $17,920. In order to buy he had to pay $5,000 down which he borrowed from Wasson. He never, it is said, paid any of the notes against the land. In 1939, he filed an action in federal court under the Farm Debt- or Act. In the meantime, Wasson had brought the notes for the balance of the $17,920 and initiated litigation to get title to the land. This initiated the endless series of court battles which have followed at irregular intervals over the title. Dozens of attorneys have been involved in the lawsuits which have followed.

4,600 BONDS ALL SIGNED

The task of signing 4,600 one thousand dollar bonds had been completed today by officers of the Colorado River Municipal Water District. The bonds, representing the district's new $4,600,000 revenue bond issue, arrived here Tuesday for signing by the president, Robert T. Piner, and secretary, Joe Pickle. Bonds must have the coupons attached and be approved by the state attorney general, then authenticated by the trustee, the First National Bank in Fort Worth. Eastman Dillon & Union Securities Co. of New York headed a syndicate including a score of Texas bond houses which bought the bonds for a total cost of money of 4.12. Proceeds will finance expansion of the district's system.

intervention in support of West Texas cotton producers in the struggle for their share of the state's cotton acreage allotments. In the field of government, Duncan said the WTCC feels its principal responsibility is to serve as a "watch dog." Legislative activities which he said are under the scrutiny of the WTCC include those involving secondary boycotts (by labor unions), right to work laws, workmen's compensation and unemployment laws, and others. Declaring that the oil and gas industry has been the "greatest sustaining force" in the life of much of West Texas in recent years, Duncan said the WTCC has been concerned with attacks on the oil depletion allowance, the over-production and import situation, imposition of federal controls on natural gas pricing, and high taxes. "We think that oil and gas pay too much tax for a healthy state government," he said. The WTCC also has opposed consistently federal aid to education and last December emphasized that position by adopting a resolution opposing "any federal aid to education for increased teaching of science or mathematics." This was done with "the firm belief that our people, our local school systems and our state aid program will provide very adequately, given the opportunity and whatever added funds with the proper support from the citizenship." Duncan said: "We are a states' rights organization in every respect," he added. "We support vigorously those moves to return to the states those functions and areas of taxation which have been usurped by the federal government under the doctrine of pre-emption of paramount rights or any other pretext used by Congress or the federal courts." Copies of an extensive WTCC "Action Program" for 1958 were distributed to some 30 local WTCC members who attended the meeting here. The program lists 75 projects in the fields of agriculture, community services, industrial development, member relations, public information, state and national affairs and water resources. The session was arranged by Champ Rainwater and G. H. Hayward. Big Spring members on the WTCC board, Rainwater presided.

Airman Seeks To Recover Funds Given To 'Fiancee'

John S. Harrold, an airman at Webb Air Force Base, is a patient man but he has reached the end of his patience and has turned to the courts to recover $3,500 which he claims he has coming to him. His story came out when he filed a lawsuit in 118th District court naming Jewell L. Cottman, El Paso, as defendant. The petition recites the following: In 1948, Harrold, then a resident of El Paso, met the defendant. He believed she was a single woman. They began going together, he alleges, and ultimately became engaged to marry. He still was unaware that the defendant was a married woman, he stated. This continued for four years. By 1952, Harrold alleges he had given Mrs. Cottman various sums of money aggregating $3,500 which he claims he has coming to him. They appealed to Long and the juvenile officer is holding the youth pending hearing in juvenile court.

Boy Changes Mind, Goes To Reformatory

A 16-year-old Latin-American who had been ordered to Gatesville Reformatory and then had that order cancelled when his attorney successfully sought a new trial for him by jury in Howard County juvenile court, appeared before H. W. Weaver, judge of the court today, and requested that the new trial motion be cancelled. The youth indicated he had no desire to wait in jail until his case could be heard by a jury in the juvenile court and said that he preferred to go on to Gatesville. The court agreed to his request and he probably will be taken to the reformatory on Monday.

Preaching Ministry of the Church

JESUS WENT ABOUT IN ALL GALILEE, PREACHING THE GOSPEL

Scripture—Luke 4:42-43; 5:1-3; Romans 10:14-17; Corinthians 1:18-31; Ephesians 3:17-19.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
PREACHING is the topic of today's lesson. It is very long, so we must confine ourselves to what we consider the most important parts of the gospel references assigned us.

Jesus had spent an exhausting night healing those brought to Him who were ill or possessed of evil spirits.

"And when it was day, he departed and went into a desert place" to meditate, something we all should take time to do, no matter how busy we are with worldly affairs. Let us take time to be alone with our God, to refresh ourselves with His presence.

The people, however, followed Jesus and stayed with Him "that He should not depart from them."

But He told them, "I must preach the kingdom of God to other cities also: for therefore am I sent." He was the Great Preacher of all time, and multitudes followed to hear Him.

As He stood by a lake, the people pressed upon Him to hear the word of God. Jesus saw two ships standing in the lake, but they were empty, as the fishermen were washing their nets.

One of the ships was Simon's and the Lord asked Simon to push the ship a short distance from the shore. When that was done, He taught the people out of the ship. Although He had preached in many synagogues, Jesus needed no church to bring His message to the people.

It is suggested by Dr. Wilbur M. Smith that the children be asked what part of the service they enjoy most. It is a wise thing to have the young people of the middle and upper grades of the Sunday school attend the service in the chapel now and then, so they may hear their preacher give his sermon. They might discuss it later.

Some of the older class pupils might "hear the call" to the ministry.

How "beautiful" indeed are those who can bring us the gospel of peace through understanding and goodwill, which we can practice in our daily lives. Thus we can help to bring, through faith in Christ Jesus and His Father, God, a better world out of this one of fear and despair. We sadly need such messages from our modern ministers of the gospel.

As Paul writes to the church at Ephesus: "It was made a minister, according to the gift of the grace of God unto me by the effectual working of His power. Unto me, who am less than the least of the saints, is this grace given, that I should preach among the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ; and to make all men see what is the fellowship of the mystery, which from the beginning of the world hath been hid in God, who created all things by Jesus Christ."

WOULD A FENCE HELP?

If we could build a fence around the world, what would it mean?

Would we live happily with one another? Would we respect our limitations and still feel free within our confines? Would we stop wars, and know eternal peace?

Probably not. Because, while you can fence in physical objects, the minds, the hearts, and the souls of man cannot be harnessed. Nor could we be forced to live in peace. Blessed peace can come only to us through practicing the love, the faith, the tolerance and the understanding that God, through His Church on earth, tries again and again to teach us.

With that in mind, remember World Day of Prayer this year. Determine not to build a fence around yourself, or around anyone else—but to pledge, instead, to enlarge your horizons and the horizons of the entire world through the common voice of prayer.

And what better place in which to make such a pledge than the Church itself?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

STEERS SEEK TO NAIL DOWN FLAG TONIGHT

All the blue chips will be showing when the Big Spring Steers come to grips with Odessa in the Odessa gym at 8 o'clock this evening.

Amarillo Team Wins 5 Bouts In State Meet

FORT WORTH (AP)—Teams from the Amarillo and Tyler regions were off to an early lead today in the 22nd annual Texas Golden Gloves Tournament.

HC On Two-Game Trip This Weekend

Howard County Junior College's Jayhawks leave on a two-game road trip today, a series that will make or break them as far as post-season tournament play is concerned.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

Coach Dub Behrens of Coahoma, who always goes in strong for track and field — reasoning that is the way to build good football teams — will be working under a terrific handicap this spring.

Coach Dub Behrens of Coahoma, who always goes in strong for track and field — reasoning that is the way to build good football teams — will be working under a terrific handicap this spring.

Five of his best athletes failed to clear some scholastic hurdles at mid-term and won't be eligible this spring.

Malcolm Lawler, an outstanding cage prospect at Texas A&M, failed to make his grades and withdrew from school.

Abilene's Glynn Gregory, who suffered an injury recently that will keep him out of the remainder of spring football drills at SMU, was running on the Pioneers' third team when he had to quit.

Howard Jones, the former Big Spring High School and HCJC cage standout, has been active in the Snyder Independent basketball league this season.

Wrestling is said to be the fastest growing high school sport in the nation today, and baseball is experiencing a big comeback among the pros.

James Blake, Forsan's athletic mentor who has done a fine job with his material this school year, says the Buffaloes are looking forward to playing eight-man football next fall.

It would be all right with ABC Relays officials if Mike McClellan, the Stamford great who quit Baylor and tried without success to enroll at Oklahoma, enrolls at Arlington State.

Elgin Baylor looks as though he has major college basketball's scoring title in the bag, but even with his dominating 34.4 points-a-game average he's a long way from setting records.

Robertson has scored 633 points in the same number of starts for 33.3 average. It looks close, but Oscar would need 54 points in his next game (against stingy Oklahoma State tomorrow) just to tie.

At his current average, Baylor is well back of the all-time one-season average record of 41.7 set by All-American Frank Selvy at Furman in 29 games in the 1953-54 season.

Only one of the top 10 clubs played last night, and Maryland, ranked No. 9, breezed past Clemson for a 7-54 decision in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

North Carolina, rated 11th, needed a pair of field goals from Bob Cunningham and Tommy Kearns to come from behind in the last 24 seconds and defeat Wake Forest 60-57 in another ACC game.

Maryland's hawking man-to-man defense held the Tigers scoreless from the field for the first 11 minutes of the second half.

The Terps, moving behind sophomore Charlie McNeil, who scored 21 points, ran off 19 points in that span for a 57-36 lead that lagged a 14-3 record and averaged a month old 72-66 upset by the Tigers.

North Carolina trailed by two at the half, but held its own until big scorer Pete Brennan fouled out with 6 minutes left.

The Deacons took the lead at 57-36 on Hank Bowers' jump shot.

Weaver' Pact May Be Added To Tonight

LUBBOCK (AP) — Texas Tech's DeWitt Weaver had an unfurled answer today to anonymous student fire directed at possible extension of his contract as head football coach and athletic director.

"There are no geniuses in the coaching profession," Weaver said. "We did as good a job last season as any coaching staff could have done with the kids we had on hand."

Campus complaints presumably were based on the Tech Red Raiders' 2-8-0 gridiron record last fall.

Weaver holds a contract expiring in 1959, and the Tech board of directors is said to be thinking about adding two years to it.

The board's athletic committee will meet tonight, and all the directors are due in for a session tomorrow.

Signs protesting the prospective move by the board appeared on the campus yesterday. One student, refusing to be quoted by name, said a stepped-up campaign of effigy hangings, more signs and circulars had been plotted.

Dr. E. N. Jones, Tech president, and Weaver both deplored the protests. Jim Lindsey, Midland, Tex., newspaper editor who is chairman of the directors' athletic committee, declined comment.

"In the minds of responsible thinking people," Dr. Jones said yesterday, "anonymous signs, circulars and letters hurt the cause they represent."

Weaver, who was in San Angelo for a speaking date last night, said he was concerned over the possible effect on recruiting athletes. He reported good response from the 500 high school boys with whom he and his aides had talked this year.

"Texas Tech had just about given up when I came here seven years ago," Weaver said. "Since that time Tech football teams have won four out of five Border Conference championships, a Gator Bowl victory and have beaten Southwest Conference members."

Tech now is a member of the Southwest Conference but not yet eligible to play for the football championship.

Marr Is Ahead By 6 Strokes

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Texan Dave Marr, one of the brightest youngsters coming up in golf, led the $15,000 Texas Open by a whopping six strokes going into the second round today.

He showed they had been playing in the wrong place for the best bad weather player. He had an 8-under-par 63 yesterday over the 5,045.5 6,490-yard Brackenridge Park course.

It was another recommendation for the Claude Harmon School of Golf at Mamaroneck, N.Y. This school produced such stars as Dick Mayer, Jack Burke, Mike Souchak and Shelley Mayfield.

Marr, a native of Houston but now playing out of Cedarhurst, N.Y., credits Harmon with making him what he is today. He was an assistant to Harmon during his five years of pro experience. He's a cousin of Burke.

Many faltered under some of the worst conditions ever faced during the winter tour. Marr appeared to thrive on it. He was close to the pin on practically every hole and he was banging in putts from all distances.

Only 15 of a field of 150 players were able to better par.

Only four players could better 70. They were Tom Holguin, Midlothian, Ill., former Texas Open champion; Dave Ragan, of Orlando, Fla.; Bill Johnston, Vancouver, B.C.; and Stan Leonard, Vancouver. Each shot a 69.

Jay Hebert, Sanford, Fla., the defending champion, had a 74.

The leaders: Dave Marr, 31-30-63; Tom Holguin, 32-34-66; Dave Ragan, 33-34-69; Bill Johnston, 34-35-69; Stan Leonard, 34-35-69; Jay Hebert, 35-37-72; Tommy Bond, 35-38-73; Paul Harvey, 36-39-75; Marjorie de la Torre, 35-38-73; John McMillin, 35-38-73; Sam Strickland, 35-38-73; Bob Wheeler, 36-39-75; Ray Maxwell, 36-39-75; Horie Johnson, 36-39-75; Otto Gorman, 36-39-75; Walter Burkman, 36-39-75; Sam Strickland, 36-39-75; Stan Mond, 36-39-75; Walter Burkman Jr., 36-39-75; Bill Parker, 36-39-75.

The 10-round match will be carried on NBC network radio and television starting at 10 p.m. EST. Two judges and a referee will score by rounds under the New York system, using a supplementary point system in case of even rounds.

Fireball Leads By 12 Points

Fireball Muffler smacked down Dr. Pepper, 4-0, in Commercial bowling league competition this week and now leads the standing by 12 points.

In other matches, Bell Telephone won over R. M. Minton, 4-0, while Sinclair turned back Phillips 66 by a 3-1 count.

Bell Telephone posted high individual game of 953 and Fireball Muffler the top series, 27-67.

Alexander's Pads Lead In League

Alexander's Jewelry, presently top-ranked in the Big Spring Industrial Bowling League, won three games from Wilson Brothers this week.

In other games, Toby's won three games from Snider's Gulf; Prager's won two of three from B and H Well Service; and Donald's took two of three from Tom Conway.

The high team series of the week was posted by Alexander's, a score of 2372.

Prager's turned in the high team game, an 823.

Individual performances: Virgil Long had a high individual score of 555; Dickie Cloud's 222 was good for high game of the week.

Standings: Alexander's Jewelry, 5 W, 1 L, 2372; Toby's Drive, 4 W, 2 L, 2348; Wilson Bros. Const., 3 W, 3 L, 2348; Prager's Men Store, 3 W, 3 L, 2324; Donald's Drive Inc., 2 W, 3 L, 2308; Snider's Service Station, 2 W, 3 L, 2308; Conway's Service Station, 2 W, 3 L, 2301.

Playoff To Start In Forsan Gym

The playoff for the District 19-B boys' basketball championship will get under way Tuesday night in the Forsan gymnasium, it was determined at a meeting of Coaches James Blake and Delnor Poss Thursday.

The second game of the best-of-three series will be unreeled in Garden City Friday.

If a third is needed, it will be played in the HCJC Gym in Big Spring at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

The two teams finished conference play this week with identical 5-1 records.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—West Texas and New Mexico cities banding into a new "sophomore" baseball league will put the finishing touches on their Class C organization next week.

Representatives of the six member clubs—Midland, Plainview and San Angelo, Tex., and Artesia, Carlsbad and Hobbs, N.M.—will meet Tuesday at Midland, Tex., along with their big league sponsors.

They got a go-ahead here yesterday in a session with Phil Terton, first assistant to minor league boss George Trautman, and representatives of major league teams agreeing to adopt the loop members as new farms.

Instead of taking the name of the old West Texas-New Mexico League as tentatively agreed earlier, the sophomore circuit will pick a new one at Tuesday's huddle.

League President Grady Terry, Midland, and his members now have the jobs also of completing financial arrangements, starting pre-season ticket sales and drawing up a schedule for 120 games to be played between April 28 and Sept. 1.

Elgin Baylor Appears 'In' As Cage Scoring Champion

By ED WILKES

Elgin Baylor looks as though he has major college basketball's scoring title in the bag, but even with his dominating 34.4 points-a-game average he's a long way from setting records.

The 6-6 junior, who played for Idaho as a freshman, was at it again last night, swishing 47 points for Seattle in a breezy, 99-69 victory over Regis of Denver. It was the 11th straight for the Chiefs, now 13-4 and ranked 16th in The Associated Press poll, while Baylor upped his edge over idle Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati.

Baylor, who scored 27 in the first half after Regis junked a zone defense, now has scored 654 points in 19 games. He had a 37.7 average going into the Regis game.

Robertson has scored 633 points in the same number of starts for 33.3 average. It looks close, but Oscar would need 54 points in his next game (against stingy Oklahoma State tomorrow) just to tie.

Baylor doesn't play again until next Thursday, at Montana State.

At his current average, Baylor is well back of the all-time one-season average record of 41.7 set by All-American Frank Selvy at Furman in 29 games in the 1953-54 season.

Only one of the top 10 clubs played last night, and Maryland, ranked No. 9, breezed past Clemson for a 7-54 decision in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

North Carolina, rated 11th, needed a pair of field goals from Bob Cunningham and Tommy Kearns to come from behind in the last 24 seconds and defeat Wake Forest 60-57 in another ACC game.

The Deacons took the lead at 57-36 on Hank Bowers' jump shot.

'Religion In Life' Week Is Scheduled At Texas University

AUSTIN. — Four hundred University of Texas students have volunteered to help make plans for Religion in Life Week Feb. 23-March 2.

The large number of volunteers was about twice as many as expected. Cyrena Jo Norman, R.I.L. student co-chairman from Fort Worth, said, Thurston Barnett of Austin is also co-chairman.

Selection of speakers and program plans are aimed at making University students and faculty more aware of the day-by-day, year-around influence of religion in three phases of each individual's life—in his personal life, in his vocation, and in the drama, literature and art he enjoys.

Some 60 laymen and ministers from Austin churches and seminaries will participate in the unified Protestant-Catholic-Jewish R.I.L. Week.

Five featured theological speakers will be Rabbi Newton J. Friedman, Congregation Temple Emanuel, Beaumont; the Rev. Gaston Foote, First Methodist Church, Fort Worth; the Rev. William J. Kenealy, Loyola University, New Orleans, La.; the Rev. Harry Smith, University of North Carolina, Westminister; Student Fellowship director, and the Rev. William Baird, College of the Bible ('Disciples'), Lexington, Ky.

Spectacular Erie Fire Razes Warehouse, Damage $8 Million

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — A spectacular fire, fed by drums of gasoline and chemicals and punctuated by explosions, destroyed a block-long warehouse last night. Damage was tentatively estimated by the owner of the building at eight million dollars.

All available fire equipment was summoned to the fire in the one-story brick and concrete structure 20 blocks from midtown. Fire fighters were hampered by 14-degree temperatures. The entire area became a mass of ice. Two firemen were injured. One was sent reeling by concussion but was not seriously hurt. Another slipped on the ice and was admitted to Erie Veterans Hospital.

Deputy Fire Chief John North said, "It was the worst fire as far as property loss is concerned that I have seen in my 31 years on the fire department."

North said he estimated damage at "about two million dollars but that is strictly a guess."

Millard Irwin, owner of the M. V. Irwin Co. warehouse, valued the building itself at a million dollars. He said an inventory taken Wednesday showed the contents—an assortment of goods ranging from television sets to drums of gasoline and chemicals — to be worth seven million dollars.

Irwin said the fire appeared to have started in an area with a considerable amount of electrical wiring.

Drums of gasoline and chemicals exploded like small bombs, sending up tongues of flames more than 100 feet.

Firemen succeeded in preventing the flames from spreading to a housing project only 300 yards east of the warehouse.

Spaceman On Last Lap Of 'Journey'

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Space man Donald Farrell was in the home stretch of his make-believe moon voyage today as Air Force scientists claimed the real thing could be done "very soon."

Farrell, six-foot, 23-year-old airman from the Bronx, N.Y., spent more time sleeping, but the head of the Space Medicine School at Randolph Air Force Base said the young man was only "simmering down" from nervousness of his first few days in the space cabin.

Farrell passes the 120-hour mark in the compact cabinet today. He'll emerge from the "trip," a simulated space voyage in nearly every way, Sunday at 9:35 a.m., exactly seven days after he entered the chamber.

Lt. Col. George Steinkamp, head of the department on space medicine, School of Aviation Medicine, Randolph Air Force Base, said he believed Farrell would gain weight during the make-believe journey.

"He's a great eater, a real chow hound," said the Colonel.

Steinkamp's briefing disclosed that a manned space flight is "practical very soon." Regenerating equipment modification and solution of problems connected with recovering a satellite remain as barriers.

Dr. Hubertus Strughold, a member of the Space Medicine School's staff and reputed father of space medicine, agree that modification would have to include weight as a main factor.

The chief duty of a man in a satellite will be to monitor electronic equipment, Steinkamp said. Man's reactions, he told newsmen aren't fast enough to pilot a space craft in the sense that a man pilots a supersonic plane.

Asked what he had learned up to date on the space cabin experiment, Steinkamp said, "We have learned that Airman Farrell on his fourth day in the cabin is in perfect shape and that the crews are a heck of a lot more tired than he is."
