Senate Panel Okays Debt Ceiling Hike

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Finance Committee approved today the full five billion dollar boost in the debt ceiling asked by President Eisenhower effective until June 30, 1959.

It did so after rejecting, by a vote of 10-5, a proposal by Chairman Byrd (D-Va.) to limit the increase to three billion.

Beck Jr. Gets Chance To Pay Back Thefts

SEATTLE (AP)—Sentencing of Dave Beck Jr., for stealing $4,650 from the Teamster Union was deferred three years today on conditions he pay a $2,000 fine and make restitution of the money.

The senator said he expected the bill to come up on the floor early next week. The Treasury has been pressing for quick action because the current period is one in which its cash position is tight.

Byrd said "I am confident the Senate Finance Committee approved the increase in the debt limit only because of its belief that the administration had overestimated the income for the next year and underestimated the spending."

MOD Total To Reach $9,500

Contributions to the Howard-Glasscock Polio Chapter as a result of the March of Dimes campaign are expected to total $9,500.

Nearly a month ago the House voted 328-71 to give Eisenhower the increase from 275 to 280 billions until June 30, 1959, as he requested.

Denies Slaying Of Jap Woman

YOKOHAMA, Japan (AP)—GI Gregory J. Kupski of Detroit today denied slaying a Japanese girl after viewing the scene of the crime during his Japanese court trial for murder.

While still making field notes on route of the eastern segment of a proposed sewer line, the city is obtaining right of way for the west half.

City Obtaining Land Rights For New Sewer Line

Because of difficulties with conflicting routes of the city's sewer line and the state's extension of FM 700, the city has been held up on routing the sewer line east of U. S. 87, but H. W. Whitney said today that a majority of easements between the Webb housing area and the highway have been obtained.

Field parties were making field notes on the east segment, but the city hasn't started trying to get rights of way there. The line will go directly from the Webb housing center to the sewage disposal plant.

Nearly all of the extra revenue would come from boosting the rate on Saturday letters to five cents, instead of four cents on all letters as the House provided.

Aiken Urges Caution On Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) said today Congress should be cautious about making any drastic cuts in foreign aid "lest it add to the recession in this country."

But Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) said President Eisenhower's request for $3,942,100,000 in new foreign aid funds is "much too high and can be shaken down."

These were samples of congressional reaction to Eisenhower's message spelling out his foreign aid request for the fiscal year starting July 1. The reaction ranged from outright support to outright opposition, and indicated the program faces a tough fight.

Know Your Clothes

TV Actress Barbara Billingsley believes in having a knowledge of clothes. She also feels that attitude can reverse a whole situation. Barbara is star of the CBS-TV series, "Leave It To Beaver."

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Right Attitude Can Be Foundation Of Beauty

BY LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD—one of the surprises of the TV season is the success of the new "Leave It To Beaver" series. When I went to CBS to chat with Barbara Billingsley she seemed to feel the acceptance of her show was somewhat due to the positive attitude of everyone connected with it.

"Attitude is something one should wear very carefully," she proclaimed. "If it is hidden power for good or for bad. It is possible that an unhappy incident or big problem can be reversed by a change in attitude."

Barbara has been terribly moose after the death of her husband, producer Roy Kellino.

"But life must go on, and I had to develop a new attitude to solve my problem," Barbara confessed.

"State of mind affects one's regard for appearance and has a far reaching effect on one's complexion, hair, sleep and digestion of food. One might say it is the very foundation of beauty."

Barbara was a high-fashion model in New York, and a successful one before she became an actress.

"This taught me a great deal about clothes in general, how to walk and what styles suited me. In a way it is a kind of finishing school for whatever you want to do."

You make fewer mistakes when you know about clothes, what fabrics serve you best, how to look for details that will bring your clothes back from the cleaners like new and what is best for you.

It is extravagant to buy clothes that you don't need or that aren't becoming and don't wear well. If you do make a mistake, it's best to analyze what you did wrong and try not to repeat it.

It is much more economical to invest in one really good dress. You may tire of it the first season but it's a simple way to build a good wardrobe. A dress or suit that is simple and of fine fabric can be carried over from season to season.

It's best to leave high-fashion to the models. Choose your clothes to cover up your bad points and point out your good ones. I avoid strapless evening gowns because they are not becoming to me.

I've learned how to use accessories to give my clothes a new feeling. I adore wearing little scarves in my belts, at my neck or out of my pockets," Barbara said as we parted.

Lions Auxiliary Gets Hints On Gardening

Timely tips on gardening were given to members of the Downtown Lions Auxiliary Wednesday when they met at Gosden Country Club for lunch.

Mrs. Schley Riley told the group to start planting shrubs and trees now in order for the root systems to get settled before hot weather. She also suggested that it was still a little early for pruning roses as there was possibility of a freeze.

When removing the dead leaves from plants, the speaker warned, leave enough old leaves on the plants to shelter the new growth. She also said that lawns should be fertilized wherever green appeared.

Now is the time to prune fruit trees and evergreens, and also they should be sprayed with a protective spray to take care of any diseases or insects.

When planting gladioli, set out at intervals of three weeks thus assuring a longer blooming time. This is a good time to plant hardy ones such as petunias and candy-tuft.

The group joined in a round table discussion following Mrs. Riley's talk.

Three new members are Mrs. Earl Burnett, Mrs. J. S. Owens and Mrs. Mickey Casey.

Guests were Mrs. C. W. Deats, Mrs. J. A. Mann of Lamar, Mo., and Mrs. Jimmy Williamson of Midland.

Hostesses were Mrs. John L. Dibrell and Mrs. Carl Smith. Invocation was given by Mrs. Marshall Gauley.

Places were laid for 27 members and guests.

Girl Scouts See Movies Of Japan, Camp Boothe Oaks

Mrs. Luther Ingram showed movies of Japan for four troops of Brownies and Girl Scouts Wednesday afternoon at the Airport auditorium. They were pictures which the Ingram family had made while they lived in Japan.

Also shown to the girls and their leaders were movies of life at Camp Boothe Oaks, the Girl Scout camp near Sweetwater. This camp has been paid for and is being enlarged and improved with the proceeds from the annual cookie sale carried on by the troops.

A separate business meeting for each troop preceded the movies, and refreshments were served following the show. Fifty-three girls were present.

Slippery Meringue

To prevent meringue from slipping on a pie, never put it on a cold pie filling. The filling should be either warm or hot.

Girl Scouts of Troop 23 met at the home of the leader, Mrs. W. R. Lotis, Wednesday afternoon and went to the fire station on Main and 18th. They toured the station and returned to the home of Mrs. Lotis for refreshments.

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

Being a den mother for a Cub Scout den is a pretty big job and most rewarding for one that is as interested as MRS. M. L. FOSTER. She "mothers" Den 1 of Pack 138 and right now is working hard to make her den's table at their Blue and Gold banquet Monday night a really attractive one.

This year's theme is "Onward for God and Country" with the life of George Washington as the central idea. Mrs. Foster, along with members of her family, her neighbors and other friends have fixed the table decorations in the form of Washington on a white charger, with two American and two British soldiers, which they have made in triplicate.

Each soldier is composed of at least 28 pieces cut from construction paper and he is mounted on a rectangle of styrofoam. Each piece is a colorful work of art. Cubs will find their places with cards that bear altitudes of Washington in gold and a Cub in blue.

This pack dinner will be one of many being held here before the end of February.

MRS. JIMMY WILLIAMSON of Midland was here Wednesday to visit her sister, Mrs. Marshall Cauley, and no one had to be told they were related.

The JOE MASTERS have moved from their home at 1700 Harvard to another place down the street at 1709 Harvard. And speaking of moving, after 12 years of living on their farm north of Big Spring, MR. AND MRS. CLAUDE MILLER have moved in to town and are living at 213 Circle Drive.

MRS. ROXIE DOBBINS tells me that her family and the WARD HALLS were in Plainview the forepart of the month to attend the wedding of CAROL ANN YOUNG to A. C. John R. Perkins. Carol Ann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Young. Mrs. Young is the former Anita Davis. The newlyweds are making their home in Bossier City, La.

Pancake Eating Champ

Edens E. Edens, Liberal, Kan., grins as he holds upright a stack of 54 pancakes just after he had eaten that many to win—for the second straight time—the pancake eating contest held in Liberal as a prelude to the 9th annual International Pancake Race. Edens received a trophy and first prize money of $100. Edens' nearest competitor managed to down only 43 pancakes before pushing away from the table. Edens gulped down 37 pancakes to take the honors a year ago.

Foreign Policy For Space Is Texan's Worry

By TEX EASLEY
WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Omar Burleson (D-Tex.) is concerned about what American scientists and military men will do when they land on some distant planet, assuming they get there. Especially if a Russian is already on hand to welcome them.

The legislator from Abilene, high on the Foreign Affairs Committee, is chairman of a subcommittee dealing with the relationship of scientific developments to foreign policy.

"This matter of sovereignty or jurisdiction in outer space may have practical significance sooner than we think," said the quiet-speaking Texan. "Questions which seemed fantastic a short time ago now begin to make some sense."

A lawyer and a former FBI agent, Burleson, through his subcommittee, is directing a study on relations of earth men of different nationalities when they meet in outer space. As the opening witness for the subcommittee's study he called the state department's top scientific advisor, Dr. Wallace Brode, and Loftus Becker, the department's legal advisor.

Becker discussed such questions as the making of territorial claims on the moon and the ownership of a satellite that returns to earth in a country other than the one in which it was launched.

"That's the sort of thing we are looking into," Burleson said. "Once the subject arose regarding the oceans, and nations got together and agreed there should be freedom of the high seas. Outer space is different, however, because it goes on to infinity where oceans are fixed and of limited dimensions."

One of the objectives of his committee, Burleson added, is to make itself an official body to which scientists may come for discussions to impart their idea of what this government should do in regard to international relations and, on the other hand, to learn more about this government's diplomatic policies."

Around the Capital: Speaking of scientists, Texas Tech's dean of engineering, John Bradford, has been here for talks with the Atomic Energy Commission.

Tech proposes to get the AEC to put up at least half the cost of a $150,000 atomic reactor at the Lubbock school. The reactor is wanted for use in the training of nuclear science students.

Delivery of the $4,600,000 revenue bond issue of the Colorado River Municipal Water District is set for March 4 in New York. Eastman Dillon, Union Securities is purchaser.

J. H. Brooks of the First National Bank in Fort Worth, trustee of the CRMWD, is to authenticate the bonds. As this is done, the proceeds will be delivered to the account of the CRMWD at the Guaranty Trust Co. at New York.

F. V. Spence, general manager of the CRMWD, and Paul Horton of McCall, Parkhurst & Crowe, counsel for the district, will be on hand to serve as receiving agents.

Proceeds from the issue will be used to finance expansion of the district's production, pipe line, pumping and terminal storage facilities. Contracts for a quarter of a million dollars already have been authorized but can not be executed until the funds are in hand.

The current issue, first since the district sold $11,750,000 in revenue bonds to finance its original construction, represents a cost of money of 4.12 per cent, including the discount. The first $1,100,000 of the bonds are serial with maturities to Jan. 1, 1975. The remaining $3,500,000 will be due Jan. 1, 1988.

NEW YORK (AP) — Petroleum marketers say the cold wave will be of little lasting help to Texas oil producers although the icy blasts have made a substantial dent in inventories.

Refiners have been cutting back sharply on their purchases of crude due to rising stocks. Oil men here expect cuts to continue.

The views are good news to consumers but hard on producers. Chances remain small for a price hike with no possibility of an oil shortage.

Last week distillate stocks declined 9,135,000 barrels. Surpluses are shrinking to a degree with oil burners working overtime in millions of homes. In New York alone, suppliers estimate, consumers are burning 62½ million gallons of oil a day compared with a normal winter rate of 34 million a day.

Suppliers say stocks of home heating oil will drop by more than 10 million barrels nationally each week the cold wave lasts.

Stocks of other refined products such as gasoline and heavy industrial fuel oil are higher than what oil men consider the safety mark.

Temperatures Rise In Northeast Areas

By The Associated Press
Temperatures continued to moderate in most areas from the Rockies to the Atlantic Coast today but more snow in parts of the storm-stricken Northeast slowed cleanup operations.

Light snow fell on the white-blanketed areas of the northern and central Appalachians, the upper Ohio Valley and western New York.

There was a little relief from the severe cold which has hit most of the Eastern half of the country for nearly a week as the core of the arctic air mass moved eastward into the Atlantic. However, temperatures drops were reported in the upper Great Lakes region as skies cleared.

Rescue operations continued in the hardest hit storm sectors, including upstate New York and northern Indiana. Many rural families remained isolated.

Food and fuel have been brought to many of the marooned families. In northern Indiana Army helicopters have rescued about 60 persons from snowbound homes this week.

Gov. Harold Hanley of Indiana last night declared a state of emergency in the storm-stricken region as fresh snow threatened the South Bend and Michigan City areas.

In Albany, N.Y., a dairy farmer group appealed to Gov. Averell Harriman to call out troops if necessary to dig upstate New York out of the snow. Drifts ranged up to 25 feet in some areas.

The long spell of cold and storms since the weekend was blamed for at least 247 deaths in 25 states and the District of Columbia. Most of them resulted from accidents on snow and icy highways, overexertion in clearing snow and fires.

Ice choked the Mississippi River 30 miles above Cairo, Ill., virtually shutting off traffic from the upper Mississippi to the lower river and back.

A sudden drop in the Ohio River, which joins the Mississippi at Cairo, left several towboats and their barges which had put into shore for shelter, high and dry. The fall in the Ohio was caused by pileups of ice which created dams, preventing a free flow of water. The Ohio was blocked to traffic with heavy floating ice floes from Pittsburgh to the mouth of the big stream.

New Section Of Lake Lots May Be Opened This Year

Another section of lots at Lake J. B. Thomas may be opened this year to accommodate a growing demand for cabin sites.

Only about a dozen lots remain on the north side, including a few on the upper reaches of the Bull Creek draw. Only one remains on the south side. In all, the Colorado River Municipal Water District has something like 265 lots under lease.

This is by no means the extent of cabin sites, for there are large numbers on the Conrad, Murphy and Sterling tracts. R. S. Schooling, lake superintendent, estimated that there is something like a total of 450 cabins on the shores of Lake J. B. Thomas.

Construction continues at a steady pace, and district officials reminded that all buildings and installations are subject to inspection. Schooling is in the midst of his inspection of sanitary facilities, double checking to see that disposal arrangements meet with the district's and the state health department's minimum requirements.

Jimmy Cooper Wins Biggest Roping Pot

Jimmy Cooper, a part-time calf roper from Monument, N. M., outroped the traditionally tough Texas twisters in their own backyard last week to win the biggest calf roping payoff of the rodeo year so far.

Cooper won $3,357 roping at the San Antonio rodeo, topping even the $3,104 won two weeks ago at Fort Worth, where the purse won by Guy Weeks was fattened by added money paid for network TV rights.

The San Antonio contest was the largest of two major rodeos in the last fortnight, and paid off a total of nearly $45,000. The Southwestern Livestock Show Rodeo in El Paso, which ended a week ago, divided $14,605 among its winners.

The 31-year-old Cooper, unlike many of the top ropers he was competing against last week, does not rodeo full time. A rancher and owner of a service station in Monument, he usually takes turns with his older brother, Tuffy, at minding the business while the other brother goes off to try his skill in the arena.

Only other time he has taken top money at a major rodeo was at the Calgary Stampede in 1949.

It was a bad week for Texas ropers, for besides Cooper's hot streak, Beney Willis, Visalia, Calif., sacked up roping honors at El Paso with $1,126. Don McLaughlin, Smithfield, current champion roper, finally broke the ice after six winless weeks and placed second at San Antonio with $2,092.

J. T. Smith, Iona, Idaho, took the lead for bareback riding with a win at San Antonio. Jim Shouder, Henryetta, Okla., stayed in second place. George Menkenmaier, Burns, Ore., moved up in his bid for saddle bronc honors, trailing only Tom Tescher, Sentinel Butte, N. D. Willard Combs, Checotah, Okla., threatened in the steer wrestling, but Wilbur Plaugher, Prather, Calif., held to his lead. Still leading the bull riding event is Eddie Yaklich, Avondale, Colo., despite the San Antonio victory of Bob Wegner, Ponca City, Okla.

Guy Weeks, Abilene, is still out in front with 6,252 points gathered both from riding and roping.

City Digs Out

Volunteers dig snow away from a hydrant on Franklin St., the main street of Michigan City, Ind., as work started to free the city after it was paralyzed by four feet of snow. Dozens of big snowplows and heavy bulldozers bored slowly through the snow as sub-zero weather set in.

War Everybody's Business, As Shown In Brain Session

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY
CHICAGO — War — hot or cold — is everybody's business. That's one of the thoughts that stuck in the mind of a reporter who listened for three days to men from the armed forces, business, education, science and government.

Industry and business should take a hand now in shaping strategy. The enemy has to be met on the economic front, as well as in the military sphere. Money handed out by the government serves a purpose. But private capital should be invested to help build industry and job skills in the underdeveloped countries. Then the have-not peoples will have something going for them, and they will be less inclined to listen to the Communists. Some of our best brain power should be put to work for the common good to checkmate trained Soviet propagandists. Education has a basic role. The quality of teaching should be improved. Performance standards for students should be raised. That means, among other things, more homework. In science, we need a laboratory for handling new projects, and more accurate information on high-grade manpower available. We also need cooperation and common planning by all Western powers in the field of science.

IRBM Units May Get Thor In Exclusion Of Army's Jupiter

WASHINGTON — The four intermediate range ballistic missile squadrons to be sent to the United Kingdom may all be equipped with the Air Force Thor weapon. That would exclude the Army Jupiter in that area. The plan—certain to arouse new outcries in Army quarters—is under consideration, it was learned today. Officials had announced earlier that both types of missiles would be used by units to be deployed overseas by late this year, with one squadron Thor-equipped and the next one having Jupiters. Pentagon sources declined official comment today. Negotiations on missile bases have been under way with Britain for months. The Defense Department, after originally ordering the Army to drop its Jupiter program at the end of last year, later decided it should continue with development and production of the weapons for Air Force use. The Air Force is moving into general production of its own Thor weapon. A final decision to use only Air Force Thors in Britain does not mean that the Army's Jupiter has been dropped out of the picture. Jupiters presumably would be used in some other squadrons deployed elsewhere overseas. Both rival weapons have the same characteristics — 1,500 mile range, using the same design of rocket engines but different inertial guidance systems, each able to carry a megaton warhead. One reason for the proposal to use the Air Force Thor exclusively in Britain was understood to be based on logistics. It would be easier to operate with and supply equipment for a single design of missiles for one group of bases than to complicate the supply problem with two different designs in one area. In addition, Air Force officials have insisted that production facilities for the Thor are in existence whereas the Army Jupiter production line must still be created.

Reserve Board Ups Lending Capacity

WASHINGTON — In a new antirecession move, the Federal Reserve Board has acted to increase the lending capacity of its 6,400 member banks. The board did this yesterday in lowering the reserve requirements of the banks by one half of 1 percent. For some banks, the action is effective a week from today. For others, it takes effect March 1. The reduction will release about 500 million dollars from reserves which the banks are required to hold against demand deposits. This is expected to broaden their lending capacity by about three billion dollars under a banking theory that each dollar freed from reserve generally yields six dollars in lending capacity. According to this reasoning, money loaned by a bank usually is re-deposited eventually either in that bank or another institution. Much of the deposit can be loaned again, with the process being repeated.

Sputnik Models

TOKYO — The Soviet Embassy announced today that models of Sputniks I and II will be displayed at the Japan International Trade Fair in Osaka April 12-17.

Pythians Slate Program For 'Founders Day'

Knights of Pythias will commemorate the beginnings of their order Tuesday with the traditional Founders' Day Program at the Castle Hall, 1407 Lancaster. Preceding the formal ceremonies and an address by Jack Needham, Brownwood, past grand chancellor commander of Texas, there will be a chicken dinner spread at 6:30 p.m. Another highlight in the program, which honors the veteran members as well as the founders, will be presentation of service pins. L. J. Sullivan is due to receive his 50-year pin, said E. L. Terry, chancellor commander.

Although the Knights of Pythias look to Feb. 19 as the actual anniversary of the founding of the Lodge in Washington, D. C., in 1864, they claim the precepts of the Pythagorean Brotherhood as the source of basic tenets. The brotherhood was established by Pythagoras, who was born on the island of Samos in 582 B.C. and who studied with the Egyptians, Phoenicians, Arabians, Chaldeans, the Magi of Persia and Druids of Gaul before he settled in Crotona in southern Italy. There he founded a school of moral and religious thought. Among members were such men as Socrates and Plato, and later a soldier, Damon, and a senator, Pythias, about 412 B.C. In a play written in 1821 by John Banin, an Irish poet and dramatist, the roles of Damon and Pythias were switched but their exemplary friendship was extolled and perhaps immortalized. It was this play which struck Justice H. Rathbone, then a school teacher, as having food for a fraternal order. It was not until 1864, after he had been encouraged by Robert A. Champion, that he essayed to organize a lodge. Four friends came together on Feb. 15, 1864, and took the obligation which Rathbone had prepared. Four days later Washington Lodge No. 1 was formed. Since then many thousands of men have taken the obligations of friendship, charity and benevolence.

Egypt-Sudan Dispute Heads Toward U. N.

KHARTOUM, Sudan — Egypt's dispute with Sudan over two border areas was headed for the U.N. Security Council today after top-level talks in Cairo broke down. Foreign Minister Mohamed Mahgoub reported from Cairo that negotiations with Egyptian President Nasser had been fruitless. The Sudanese Cabinet decided to appeal to the Council. Egypt claims all territory north of the 22nd Parallel and would yield a small area south of the line. One portion of the disputed territory sought by Nasser is a 4,000-square-mile desert triangle along the Red Sea. It has been run by Sudan to unify administration over the 10,000 wandering tribesmen in the area who move back and forth across the parallel. The other is a finger extending north from the parallel along the Nile Valley for about 25 miles. The Egyptians claim that the people in the disputed areas have a right to vote in tomorrow's plebiscite to approve the new United Arab Republic of Egypt and Syria and to elect Nasser as its president. Sudan holds parliamentary elections a week later. For either nation to permit the territories to vote in the other's election might effect its claim to them. The dispute broke into the open Monday when troops were reported moving into the areas from both sides. Sudan and Egypt denied the troop movements.

Business Upturn In Political Split

WASHINGTON — Democrats and Republicans appeared to be retreating in opposite directions today on the politically potent issue of when a business upturn will occur. An administration spokesman described as a "mistaken impression" the general interpretation that President Eisenhower, in a statement last week, predicted a business upturn in March. Meanwhile, congressional Democrats got some private estimates that "real" unemployment may be considerably less than the government's 4 1/2 million figure—perhaps less than half that, with the remainder merely changing jobs or otherwise temporarily out of work. The advice was based on reports from Leon Keyserling, former Truman economic adviser. Some party leaders were cautioning colleagues not to get out on a political limb with too much talk about a slump that might be offset rather quickly by increased government spending. Dr. Gabriel Hauge, special

White House assistant for economic affairs, told a meeting of state broadcasting association presidents that Eisenhower's statement of last Wednesday had been "misread by some people." At that time, Eisenhower said: "Every indication is that March will commence to see the start of a pickup in job opportunities. That should mark the beginning of the end of the downturn in our economy." Hauge said the President's language "hardly seems to say that an upturn in the economy will come in March." He added that if improved employment for March was reported in April that "should constitute a good sign that the downturn was running out of steam." Adding that the economy is not likely to "turn around on a dime," Hauge said it was his personal opinion the downturn would "slow to a stop during the second quarter of this calendar year."

Seattle Residents Aid Troubled Kids

SEATTLE — Several hundred Seattleites invested 75 cents or more last night in a good meal and the future of nine young Negro boys. The meal was served by the boys, cooked by their mothers, sisters and friends and spawned in the burglary of a local grocery store last November. The boys all were among some 30 participants in a raid on the store; they were identified and turned over to Juvenile Court. Judge William G. Long sentenced them to the State Training School for Boys, then suspended the sentence for 30 days in which they could prove they wanted to be good citizens. Being good citizens meant paying the grocer $100 to cover the cost of goods lost, damaged or consumed in the raid. The boys, all members of a group called the King Cobras, investigated their lean club treasury and decided on a money-raising dinner. Tickets were sold for 75 cents and a dollar (for a plain or deluxe ham or fish dinner). Many persons who couldn't come just sent a donation — some as big as $10. Early yesterday afternoon, the boys and their helpers reported for work. From 1 p.m. until late last night they were peeling spuds, preparing pie, slicing fish, watching the kettles and the ovens and waiting tables. About 250 persons came for the dinner. They got deluxe service as well as meals. No head waiter could be more polite. Representatives of the Juvenile Court, the State Department of Institutions, social agencies came, ate and went away pleased. They all paid. There were no free tickets. The boys made much more than they needed, although the exact amount was not known. After it was all over, the tables cleared, dishes washed and the floor of the housing project gymnasium mopped, Richard Bailey, 16-year-old member of the group, wiped some soap suds from his arms and said: "Yes, I made my mistake, I'm not going to make it again." It looked as if the first returns on the investment were in.

Destroys Legend On Quail Eating

AUSTIN, Tex. — For 10 years Byron Lockhart and Dr. J. Gordon Bryson argued over the legend quail are so rich you'd kill yourself in 30 days if you ate one a day. Lockhart, 40-year-old Austin attorney, ate his 31st quail in 31 days yesterday. He had them broiled, for breakfast. Dr. Robert Morrison, medical adviser to the committee of cronies who sat on the sidelines of the demonstration, examined Lockhart and announced: "He's no worse shape than when he started." He'd gained six pounds, however.

Oil Prices Drop In North Texas

DALLAS — A reduction of 15 cents a barrel in the price paid for crude oil in 11 North Texas counties was made yesterday by American Petroleum Co. The price cut affects about 6,500 barrels per day gathered for processing in the company's refinery at Wichita Falls. Counties included are Archer, Baylor, Clay, Jack, Knox, Young, Montague, Stephens, Throckmorton, Wichita and Wilbarger.

Hearings Delayed In Cuban Arms Case

HOUSTON — A U.S. commissioner yesterday delayed hearings for two of eight persons arrested in the Cuban war arms seizure case until Feb. 28 despite objections from a Miami attorney. U.S. Commissioner Ralph Fowler granted a postponement motion by the government after a closed-door conference with government attorneys and a customs agent. Gino P. Negretti, Florida lawyer who flew here to represent those arrested, was excluded from the conference. "I've never before seen a referee go into a huddle with the prosecutors and investigators before a hearing," he told newsmen. Fowler declared the postponements for Abelardo Pujol and Francisco Obregon. Pujol was arrested aboard the Buddy Dee, a 104-foot converted Navy vessel being detained at Kermah on Galveston Bay. Pujol was charged with conspiring to bring the vessel to Kermah for the purpose of forming an expedition against a friendly nation. Obregon was accused with concealment of a material fact and with conspiring to aid an expedition against a friendly power. The Buddy Dee was detained simultaneously with a government raid on a house several miles away Tuesday in which an estimated four tons of firearms, ammunition and clothing were seized. The goods were reportedly being collected for shipment to rebel forces in Cuba. Meanwhile, the FBI declined to confirm a report that it was investigating a possible link between an Oklahoma City oil drilling company and Cuban revolutionists.

Plowing Through Snowslide

An eight-ton rotary plow spouts twin funnels of snow as it cuts through an avalanche that covered the highway to a depth of 15 to 18 feet on the east side of Berthoud Pass near Empire, Colo. A state highway department employee stands atop the slide to see that stumps or rocks do not foul the blades of the plow.

Former Movie Goddess Sets Camera Date

HOLLYWOOD — Blanche Sweet, once a movie goddess of the highest order and now a clerk in a department store, will make her first appearance before a Hollywood camera in nearly three decades tonight. The celebrated blonde heroine of the silent screen will return as a bit player in a nationally televised drama, "Secret Love of Johnny Spain," on the CBS Climax show. She says this first step away from self-imposed obscurity may lead to more appearances before the camera, a device that had not long been united with sound when she left Hollywood. "It's quite possible other things will come up," she confided with a trace of excitement. "We have tentative plans, but nothing definite yet."

It was in 1930 or thereabouts when Blanche made her last picture, "Silver Horde," with Jean Arthur. This was only her third talkie. She had devoted almost her entire career to achieving dramatic effect without saying a word, and had done nicely without sound. "I guess my favorite role was in 'Anna Christie' with Bill Russell," she said. "We made pictures so fast in those days it's hard for me to pick them out. "I remember my first real successful picture was 'Judith of Bethulia.' That was the first big David Griffith production. About 1913, I think." "After I left Hollywood in the early '30s," she said, "I did several plays in New York." She returned to southern California 10 years ago and has spent most of her time since as a housewife. Her husband is actor Raymond Hackett.

'Backstage' FCC Manner Worries Prober

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House investigating committee returned to the disputed Miami TV case today with one member expressing concern over what he called the "backstage" manner that apparently appalled the FCC.

Rep. Wolverton (R-N.D.), senior Republican on the committee, said a person wouldn't have thought of appearing in a federal court in the "backstage, surreptitious manner" that apparently applies to the FCC.

Wolverton said he thought something must be done so that a quasi-judicial commission would be free from the implication that it could be approached along political lines.

A. Frank Katzentzine, a loser in the Miami case, was in the witness chair for the second day in the committee's inquiry into alleged pressures in the case.

Katzentzine's first day of testimony had brought the names of Vice President Nixon and Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) into the hearings in connection with maneuvers to win the Miami TV Channel 10.

Wolverton read into the record a July 15, 1951 letter he said was written by Jerry W. Carter, national Democratic committeeman from Florida, to the FCC.

He quoted the letter as saying it was "my pleasure" to recommend Katzentzine and that "Katzentzine has been a loyal Democrat all his life" and is "entitled to all the consideration a good citizen and good Democrat is entitled to" and recommending that Katzentzine be given every consideration.

Katzentzine, a stocky Miami Beach radio station owner, was a loser in an FCC contest for the Channel 10 license.

200 Attend C-City Agri-Business Meet

COLORADO CITY—Appeals for quality products were voiced at an agriculture-business conference here Wednesday. Approximately 200 participated in the sessions held at the Civic House.

Typical of the emphasis upon improved products was the cotton anhydrous of C. B. Spencer, Dallas, secretary of the Texas Cottonseed Crushers Association.

"The cotton surplus today is made up of cotton of poor quality," he told the gathering.

As for credit, Charles Thompson, Colorado City, declared that there was an ample supply for operators with prospects of repaying what they borrowed.

Charles Casebolt, Lubbock, head of the DeKalb Seed Association, contended that hybrid vigor is one of the best means for increasing grain sorghum production to profitable levels.

The Texas & Pacific Railway is one of six awarded distinguished service awards in connection with the annual 1957 Freedom Awards of Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, Pa.

The company, which has won the top award of the foundation in the past, was cited for its two service aids, "Let Us Give Thanks" and "Progress."

Among other Texas points producing winners were Austin, Commerce, Dallas, Edinburg, Fort Worth, Galveston, Houston, La Grange, Lampasas, Livingston, Moscow, San Antonio and Wash.

The top award went to Herbert Hoover, former president, for his patriotic leadership through example and by devotion, as a child of God, to noble ideals.

Freedom Foundations is composed of distinguished representatives across the country. It is designed to "create and build an understanding of the spirit and philosophy of the Constitution and Bill of Rights."

Practically all work on remodeling the city hall has been completed, and the city is waiting for the engineer's inspection before accepting it.

Painters worked at the building Wednesday on small touch-up jobs, but the big jobs of painting as well as other remodeling has been finished.

These arrived and were installed during the weekend, and following their installation, painters were able to complete the work in the hall.

Pioneer Builders had contract for the job, and city officials said they are ready to accept it when the engineer makes his final inspection.

Grand Jury May Be Recalled Soon Judge Charlie Sullivan, 118th District Court, said Thursday that it was probable the Howard County Grand Jury would be called back into special session sometime early in March.

Judge Sullivan said that he had conferred with Gil Jones, district attorney, and that it seemed advisable to reconvene the jury to deal with felonies which have been filed since the last session of the investigators late in January.

One grand jury if it is recalled. The one will be the murder with malice charges growing out of the gun death on Feb. 2 of Benicio Arispe, Armando Franco and Henry Marin, charged with the crime, are at liberty on bond in this case.

There are eight or nine other felonies now on the books which could be presented to the grand jury at this time. One defendant, indicted by the grand jury at its January session, will have to be re-indicted. A typographical error in the original indictment makes this action necessary, it was said.

Family and dealing with correspondence." He smoked two cigars, Brownie noted.

The diagnosis of pneumonia at the base of the lung and pleurisy was given by Lord Moran, Churchill's personal physician who flew down from London, and Dr. David M. Roberts, his doctor on the Riviera.

Churchill came to the Riviera Jan. 15 for his annual winter visit. Monday he visited the yacht of Greek millionaire Aristotle Onassis. Brownie said Sir Winston apparently suffered a chill during the visit. He was put to bed Tuesday and Moran was summoned.

Dr. Roberts said before Lord Moran arrived that Churchill was suffering from a chronic bronchial condition, "but there is no question of his dying."

Jack Hendrix, head of the music department at Howard County Junior College, has been selected again as judge of the annual concert of the South Plains Piano Teachers Association.

Festival competition opens Friday morning at Lubbock and will continue through Saturday evening. An aggregate of nine winners will be chosen from the junior, elementary and senior division, and top winners in each class will be invited to play with the Tech orchestra.

In the junior and senior division, entrants will compete in one of three movements of concertos. The elementary division has three separate selections.

A bottle of butane caught on fire at the Poesy Tractor Co. on the Lamesa highway this morning, but firemen were able to contain the blaze before any damage was caused.

Firemen from the North Side sub station made the call and reported no damage whatsoever.

Also today, firemen from the North Side sub station called to 6th and Douglas when a gas truck owned by Merrill Creighton lost a large volume of gasoline.

The firemen watered the street to remove the chance of the gasoline causing a fire.

Two Mishaps Occur In City Wednesday Two accidents occurred in Big Spring Wednesday, and both of them came on 5th St. intersections.

Wayne Tollett, 1111 E. 5th, and George Rogers, 1411 Sycamore, were driving cars which collided at 5th and State Wednesday morning. Later, Lee Herndon and Lee Van Leuvan of Cheyenne, Wyo., were involved in an accident at 5th and Gregg.

Robert Rodriguez and Albert Hernandez, under indictment for car theft, have pleaded guilty in 118th District Court. Each was given a three-year suspended sentence. Both are airmen from Webb Air Force Base.

Hendrix To Judge Concerto Festival

Churchill had pneumonia in February 1943 in London and again in December of that year after meeting in Cairo and Tehran with President Roosevelt.

He has suffered two strokes—in 1951 and 1953.

For Outstanding Work

Maj. Vincent Brophy receives from Mrs. Clyde Angel, president of the Big Spring Concert Association, a special plaque recognizing the major's outstanding work in behalf of the association. During the membership enrollment last autumn, he was by far the greatest single salesman. The presentation climaxed a session of the board Tuesday at the W. A. Hunt home when the board began considering possible programs for the next season. Mentioned as possibilities were symphonies, ballet companies, dramatic troupes, vocal and instrumental soloists. First choices will be made within about two weeks. Maj. Brophy's hirsute adornment is being grown for his roles in support of the San Antonio symphony-operaic season next month.

Texas' Most Hated Man Lies Alongside Confederate Heroes

By GARTH JONES
AUSTIN (AP)—Few men in Texas history have been hated as strongly as Edmund Jackson Davis.

And with good reason according to Confederate and Texas Democratic party thinking of his time. Yet his dark brooding portrait hangs with those of the state's other chief executives on the second floor of the Capitol building.

His grave marker in the state cemetery, reserved for high state officials and Confederate heroes, towers above every other monument—including the bronze statuette of Stephen F. Austin, the Father of Texas.

Apparently there has never been an organized attempt to preserve the memory of the man who was hated so fiercely by many during his four years as governor following the Civil War.

"His hobby was said to have been his unforgiveness of the Confederates," says Garland Adair, a historian and executive director of the Texas Heritage Foundation and curator of history at the Texas Memorial Museum.

Adair remembers only one recent instance of any feeling against the ardent Unionist and Republican. On May 5, 1957, Dr. Gibb Gilchrist, chancellor emeritus of Texas A&M, spoke at the reburial ceremony for the body of a prominent state official in the state cemetery. The 30-foot spire over Davis' grave stood nearby.

"It is regrettable but perhaps an example of Texas' greatness and fairness," Gilchrist remarked,

"that the highest spire in this cemetery was erected over the remains of a man who chose to remain with the Union and fought against the men who are buried here."

Gilchrist gestured toward the area where 2,047 Confederate veterans and their widows are buried, along with Gen. Albert Sidney Johnston who died at Shiloh while commanding Confederate forces.

The plaque under Davis' portrait in the Capitol reads: "Provisional governor, Jan. 8, 1870 to April 28, 1870. Governor, April 28, 1870 to Jan. 17, 1874."

The inscription on the grave marker says that Davis was "judge of the District Court of Texas, brigadier general U. S. volunteers, governor of the State of Texas from 1870-74." Another says "Erected to his memory by his brother."

State archives show that Davis was born in Florida in 1827, in 1838 moved with his widowed mother to Galveston. He studied law and later practiced in Laredo, Corpus Christi and Brownsville. He became federal district attorney and finally federal judge of the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

He left the state in 1861 and joined federal forces. He was commissioned a colonel of Texas volunteers and organized a regiment of cavalry near Matamoros, Mexico. He was captured once by Texas Rangers who staged a raid into Mexico but escaped hanging when Mexican authorities demanded his release.

He led an unsuccessful Union attack on Laredo in 1864 and was made a brigadier general in 1865 after the battle of Mansfield. At the close of the war he refused to accept an appointment from the Union military government as chief justice of the Texas Supreme Court and returned to Brownsville.

Davis was elected president of the constitutional convention in 1868-69 at which he advocated disfranchisement of former Confederates, unrestricted Negro suffrage and the division of Texas into three states. With the outspoken support of the U. S. Grant administration and the Union military leaders, Davis was elected governor in 1869.

Adair says history shows Davis was a virtual dictator of the state for four years. He was empowered to appoint more than 8,000 state, county and local officials. He had a special state police force in addition to state guards and military reserves—many of them freed Negro slaves.

In the election of 1873 Richard Coke polled about 40,000 more votes than Davis but Davis declared the election laws unconstitutional and refused to give up the office. For several days an armed clash threatened to break out in the state Capitol building.

While Coke and new legislators organized on the second floor of the Capitol, Davis and the old Legislature continued to hold forth on the first floor—closely guarded by Negro troops. Davis gave up the office when President Grant refused to support him.

Davis practiced law in Austin and was the Republican leader of the state until his death in 1893. He made one more race for governor in 1890 but was defeated by Oran Roberts by more than 100,000 votes.

Good Buys In Meat Despite Higher Prices

By The Associated Press
Texas food shoppers will find good buys in pork and beef this week though price tags on meat are slightly higher over a week ago.

Fresh and cured picnic hams, loin end pork roasts and chops are the best pork buys. The most economical buys in beef will be chuck and short rib cuts, ground meat and variety meats.

Fryer prices are up, reflecting west commercial producing areas the past two weeks. Whole birds are still good values in the poultry line. Many stores are featuring turkeys weighing over 16 pounds which are excellent choices for large families.

Egg prices are about unchanged from last week, with large A Grade eggs still your best selections price-wise when considered on a per pound basis.

Southwest frozen counters are featuring beef, chicken and turkey pies, green peas, cut corn, leaf spinach, strawberries, fish sticks and whiting. Green peas, corn and spinach are being offered at reduced prices in lots of two to six packages.

Prices of canned corn, green peas, green beans, spinach, peaches, pears and pineapple are still large and continue to be offered at bargain prices.

Grave Of Reconstruction Governor

Garland Adair, right, Texas history expert and executive director of the Texas Heritage Foundation, points to the tall cathedral spire over the grave of Edmund J. Davis, Texas governor during the critical Reconstruction years of 1870-74. The grave is located in the State Cemetery in Austin which is reserved for high state officials and Confederate heroes.

ART OF GROWING OLD Cleric Finds Answer Through Continuing Hobby Full Time

By THE VERY REV. RAIMUNDO DE OVIES
ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Eleven years ago I retired, voluntarily, as dean of the Cathedral of St. Philip in Atlanta, Ga. I was in good health, acceptable to my parish, and loving my work most heartily.

However, the work had grown too much for a man of 70. I had published three successful books and had done a column daily on the editorial page of the Atlanta Journal for a number of years and a few magazine articles. My association with the Atlanta Journal was terminated shortly after my retirement.

What to do now? Literary work? That was not enough after a very active career in the church. I concentrated on what had been a hobby, that of assisting in sociological projects. This assuaged a restless energy for a while, but it was sporadic, without official relationship with any of the organizations involved; so I undertook a column on the editorial page of the Metropolitan Herald of Atlanta, a weekly. This paper has been publishing my series "Dear Drunks" and will put it into book form when completed. I was still restless, wanting a closer relationship with people,

EASTER PLAY CASTING SET

Casting for pantomime and reading roles for the Easter Pageant will be held at the meeting of the Big Spring Civic Theatre tonight at 8 p.m. The meeting will be held in the old museum building in City Park.

All theatre members, and all other residents who would like to take part in the pageant, are urged to attend.

personally, to which I had been accustomed for 30 years; my particular, and best-loved, labors being in the field of pastoral counseling. I had always had a tremendous interest in people, but as individuals. To this I owe my being named the first member of the staff of the Georgian Clinic, for alcoholics, set up by the State of Georgia, which had acquired the beautiful 41-acre Candler estate and the huge mansion on the property.

Jan. 8, 1957, was my 80th birthday, and while consulting with the last of a group of alcoholics, I suffered a coronary occlusion and was rushed to a hospital where I remained only two weeks and returned to work. The most annoying aspect of this recovery is that other members of the staff now constantly caution me to "take it easy," as though I were an old man!

I do not feel old, at any time. "Experienced" would be the more accurate word, because one must live to learn; or to be able to modify one's "beliefs" appropriately to new evidence and knowledge. If we aged folk cannot do so, it is not surprising when youth takes over in our stead.

Besides, accurate knowledge and skills are always at a premium whatever our age. It is my conviction that "age" has no other legitimate authority than knowledge, ability and good judgment, and that age in itself is not worthy of veneration. It should, however, have filial devotion.

The aged owe something to youth, also: selfless interest, sharing wisdom, faith in them, encouragement, ambition for them, absence of any feeling of competition but rather the spirit of co-operation.

When the aged meet their obligations to youth they never grow "old," even to young people. They remain "young," since "old" is a comparative term, after all.

The preceding does not take into account invalidism in the aged. Although experiencing serious illnesses, such as typhoid fever, pneumonia three times, broken bones (even to a fractured skull), there were complete recoveries and no prolonged invalidism. The question arises, Is not a large percentage of "invalidism" in old people mostly a state of mind?

Personally, I have never feared growing old. It seems more of a triumphant achievement. Obeying hygienic principles is likely to curtail or shorten physical discomforts and an adequate philosophy of life can minimize anxiety in most situations and instances.

In my own case, the greatest compensation for and comfort about growing old is being made to feel that I am needed, as much now as at any other period of life; for this is a greater satisfaction than awards, recognition, reputation or power. It keeps one "current" instead of being regarded as a "has been." However, my own retirement was voluntary and not forced.

Success—in family life, in society, in business and industry, in professions and callings — means that in a real sense we have been made to feel that we—BELONG. (Tomorrow: Dr. Gilbreth on growing old).

The Very Rev. Raimundo de Ovies retired in 1947 as dean of St. Philip's Protestant Episcopal Cathedral in Atlanta. But he didn't retire from life.

Dean de Ovies was born 81 years ago in Liverpool, England. His father was Spanish-born Julian Segundo de Ovies. His mother was a Dublin Irishwoman, Eleanor Cassidy. His full name is Raimundo George Cassidy, Sualuis de Coreno, Muniz de Ovies.

He was ordained for the Episcopal priesthood in 1903.

During the next quarter of a century he served as rector at St. Andrew's Church, Birmingham, Ala.; Trinity Church, Clarksville, Tenn.; Trinity Church, Galveston, Tex.; and as chaplain at the University of the South.

He was named Dean of St. Philip's Cathedral, Atlanta, in 1929.

200 Feared Dead After Mine Blast
NEW DELHI (AP)—Two hundred Indians were feared dead today after an explosion in the Chimakur coal mine near Calcutta.

Labor Minister Gulzarilal Nanda told Parliament 180 persons were missing since the explosion last night. He said a neighboring mine was flooded and 20 other miners were drowned.

Nanda said he was flying to the scene.

Press reports said rescuers pulled 17 miners to safety before a fierce fire drove them back.

Foy Dunlap To File As School Board Candidate

R. F. (Foy) Dunlap today announced that he will be a candidate for a place on the board of trustees for the Big Spring Independent School District.

A service station operator for the past 10 years, Dunlap grew up in the Elbow community and graduated from Forsan High School. Except for nearly four years in military service during World War II, he has resided in Big Spring since 1940.

"If elected, I will take all issues to fair counsel," Dunlap said. "I believe in a good, progressive building program and whatever else is necessary for the betterment of education. I promise to give all the time and effort necessary to handle the job."

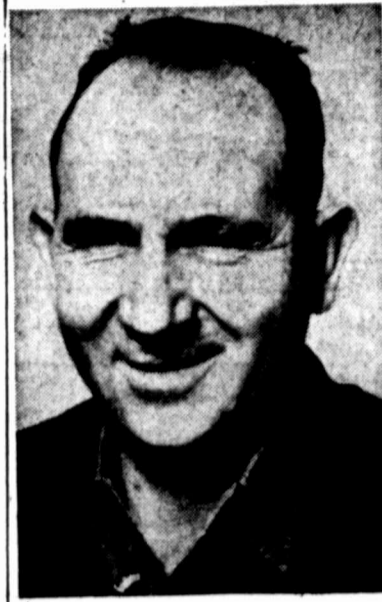

Dunlap, 37, is married to the former Lenodine Pike of Forsan and they have two children, Jerry, a ninth grade junior high student, and Judy, a fifth grader at Washington Place.

Dunlap started work in the Troy Gifford Tire Store when he moved here in 1940. He entered the Army Air Force in 1942 and served as flight engineer and gunner on B24, B17 and B29 bombers. He also served as engineer-gunner instructor two years at Alamogordo (New Mexico) Army Air Field.

After his discharge in December, 1945, he returned to Big Spring and entered the laundry business. He acquired the Couden No. 2 Service Station, now located at 500 E. 3rd, about 10 years ago. He also was a partner in the Brock & Dunlap Drilling Co. in 1952-53.

Dunlap has been active in several organizations here. He has been on the executive committee of the American Legion post for eight years and served as vice commander of the post in 1951. He was chairman of the building committee for the present Legion building.

He has served as vice president of the Teen-Age Baseball Program here and has been 19th district president of the Texas Service Station Assn. He is now secretary of the Big Spring Service Station Assn. He has been on the Chamber of Commerce Finance Committee for six years, is a lifetime member of the Western Sportsmen's Club and a member of the Big Spring Hunting & Fishing Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunlap own their home at 1417 Tucson.

H. W. Cross Is Candidate In Glasscock

H. W. Cross, Glasscock County farmer and stockman, has authorized The Herald to announce his candidacy for the post of county commissioner for Precinct No. 4 of Glasscock County.

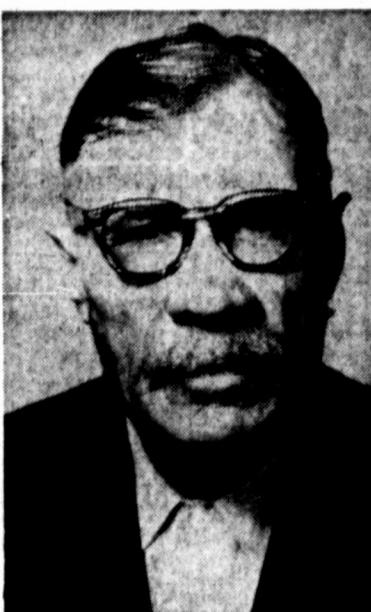

"If elected, I expect to build some roads in our precinct," he said. "I believe the best thing we can do for our country is to get some farm-to-market roads."

Mr. and Mrs. Cross reside in the northwest part of Glasscock County, some 13 miles southeast of Stanton. They have operated the same place for 25 years.

Cross served as commissioner for Precinct No. 4 from 1945 to 1950.

53 Seamen Die In Ship Blast

MANAMA, Bahrain (AP) — A British freighter that put into this Persian Gulf oil port on fire and with 150 tons of explosives aboard exploded at her anchorage last night.

The ship's agent said 53 persons were killed and 19 were injured. The fire and explosion caused no damage to oil tankers nearby and did not endanger harbor installations.

The 7,440-ton Seistan, one of the most modern ships in the British merchant fleet, was burning when she entered the Persian Gulf three days ago, en route from Liverpool with the explosives and other supplies for the Iraqi oil fields.

The Welsh skipper of the year-old motor ship, Capt. W. A. Chappell, dropped anchor at Manama to put out the fire. About 80 tons of explosive gelignite had been unloaded and the ship was being moved to shallow water for flooding when the explosion rocked the harbor.

The Seistan sank by the stern, but parts of her superstructure still smoldered above water.

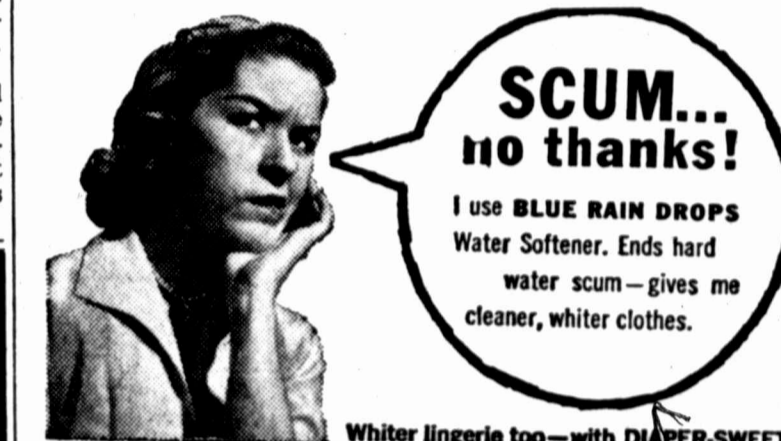

The ship's owners, the Strick Lines of London, said it carried a crew of 14 Britons, 50 Indians and a Chinese.

Blinding Rains Dampen Valley

By The Associated Press
Blinding downpours hit Lower Rio Grande Valley points Wednesday night with the rain measured up to more than 4 inches in places.

The rains came as a surge of moist Gulf air moved in along a stationary cold front that pushed into the area several days ago.

The Brownsville Weather Bureau station gauged 4.33 inches of rain by early Thursday. The bureau said most of the amount fell during an hour's time.

All but about an inch fell before midnight.

Elsewhere, fog, light rain and drizzle covered the west and eastern half of Texas early Thursday. The heavy, low clouds covered all points west of a line from Corpus Christi to San Antonio to Austin to Mineral Wells and Wichita Falls.

Dawn temperatures ranged from Amarillo's 34 to Brownsville's 64.

No immediate end to the murky weather was in sight.

The bureau forecast continued cloudiness and light rains for all of Texas through Friday with little change in temperature.

Maximum temperatures Wednesday afternoon ranged from 39 at Amarillo to 77 at Presidio.

Rainfall for the 24 hours ending at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday included Austin .01, Beaumont .06, Corpus Christi .01, Laredo .29, San Antonio .02, Waco .07, Lufkin .17, Cotulla .01, Wink, Dalhart and Big Spring .01.

Panel Slaps Filter Ads

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House committee reported today that the cigarette manufacturers have deceived the American public through their advertising of filter-tip cigarettes.

Although the giant industry has denied health hazards from smoking, the Government Operations Committee said, it has made these charges appear true by implying filter tips remove alleged causes of cancer and heart disease.

"Actually, most filter cigarettes produce as much or more nicotine and tar as cigarettes without filters," the committee added.

The committee rapped the Federal Trade Commission for what it said was a failure to police against deceptive advertising while the public became "brain-washed that filters would furnish health protection."

The committee spoke by adopting a report made by a subcommittee headed by Rep. Blatnik (D-Minn.) following hearings last year. The report had not previously been made public.

The committee quoted public statements from medical experts but advanced no conclusions itself on any relationship between smoking and cancer.

The report did say the tobacco industry apparently conspired to boycott subcommittee hearings through invited testimony. "It is reprehensible that the tobacco industry should so shirk its responsibilities to the consumer," the committee said.

Prepare A Cherry Dessert On George Washington's Birthday

The people of this nation will be observing George Washington's birthday Saturday. At home the special day might be marked with an appropriate dessert.

The cherry tree legend associated with the country's first president suggests a cherry dessert. Several recipes of this nature are given here. Most of them can be whipped up in less than 30 minutes.

CHERRY CRISP

- 1 can 1 lb and 1 oz. red tart pitted cherries (water-packed)
- 2 1/2 cup light brown sugar (firmly packed)
- 1/4 cup flour
- 1 tsp. grated orange rind
- 1/4 tsp. cinnamon
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 2 tbsps. butter or margarine

Drain cherries; reserve 1 1/2 cup juice. Place cherries and the 1-3 cup juice in 8-inch pie plate. Stir together thoroughly the brown sugar, flour, orange rind, cinnamon and salt. Cut in butter until fat particles are fine. Sprinkle over cherries.

Bake in hot 400 degrees oven 20 minutes. Serve warm with light or heavy cream. Makes 4 servings.

CHERRY FRENCH PUDDING
1 pkg vanilla pudding
1 1/2 cups milk
1/2 cup heavy cream
1 No. 2 can cherries
1 cup sugar
2 tbsps. cornstarch

Cook pudding with milk according to directions on package. Cool to room temperature, stirring occasionally. Whip cream and fold in. Pour directly into serving dishes.

Meanwhile, drain 1/4 cup juice from cherries and mix with cornstarch. Combine cherries and remaining juice with sugar and bring to boiling point, stirring to dissolve sugar.

Stir in cornstarch mixture gradually and boil until thickened, stirring occasionally. Pour over cooked pudding and chill. Yield: 6 servings.

CHERRY ANGEL TORTE

- 1 10-inch angel food cake
- 2 No. 2 cans red sour cherries
- 2 cups sugar
- 1/2 cup corn starch
- 1 cup heavy cream

Drain off 1/2 cup cherry juice and mix with corn starch. Heat cherries, remaining juice and sugar to boiling point, stirring to dissolve sugar. Stir in corn starch and mixture gradually and boil until thickened, at least three minutes, stirring constantly. Cook, stirring occasionally.

Cut angel cake horizontally into four slices. Spread cherry mixture between slices, sandwich fashion, and on top of cake. Serve with whipping cream, sweetened or not, as desired.

CHERRY COBLERS

- Fruit Base:
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 tbsps. cornstarch
- 1 No. 2 can cherries
- 1/4 tsp almond flavoring

Topping:

- 1 cup pancake ready-mix
- 1 1/3 cup sugar
- 1/4 cup shortening

Minimum Effort In Preparation Of Frozen Breads

The popularity of frozen breads stems from Admiral Richard Byrd's visits to the South Pole in the early thirties. Returning to the Antarctic after several years, the admiral and his men discovered a loaf of fresh bread frozen solid just as they'd left it years ago, and determined to thaw and eat the loaf.

The exceptional fresh taste of the bread after years in the polar deep freeze was noted by Byrd and led to new experiments among bakers in this country.

Frozen-Rite rolls, sold in Cloverleaf and Parkerhouse shapes, are similar to the refrigerator rolls that enjoyed tremendous popularity before the war. Using a recipe which has been greatly improved, Frozen-Rite's quick freezing process arrests the process at the moment the rolls are placed into the refrigerator and locks in all of the rich, yeasty goodness.

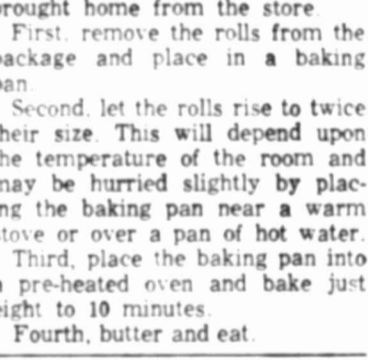

All mixing, kneading and shaping have been done at the Frozen-Rite plant in Dallas. For the housewife, there are only four simple steps, once the rolls have been brought home from the store.

First, remove the rolls from the package and place in a baking pan.

Second, let the rolls rise to twice their size. This will depend upon the temperature of the room and may be hurried slightly by placing the baking pan near a warm stove or over a pan of hot water.

Third, place the baking pan into a pre-heated oven and bake just eight to 10 minutes.

Fourth, butter and eat.

For A Gourmet Dish, Bake Those Fresh Pears

The fresh pear is an adaptable fruit. Its juicy goodness is delectable whether eaten alone or with cheese. And it also lends itself to the gourmet fancy kind of dishes that show off the creative cook's skill.

Put fresh pears in a casserole with figs as an accompanying dish with curried shrimp or chicken for a buffet supper. Or for Sunday brunch, bake them with maple syrup and pass them along with Canadian bacon.

BAKED CURRIED PEARS

- Ingredients:
- 3 pears
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup light brown sugar
- 2 tbsps. curry powder
- 1 can (No. 2) whole Kadota figs
- 1/2 cup seedless raisins

Method:
Wash, halve and core pears; pare if you wish. Melt butter; add brown sugar and curry powder. Drain figs, place in 1 1/2-quart casserole with pear halves; add butter-sugar mixture and raisins.

Bake in slow (325 degrees) oven — 30 to 40 minutes, or until pears are tender. Cool and refrigerate several hours or over night. Reheat before serving. Makes 6 servings.

MAPLE BAKED PEARS WITH CANADIAN BACON

- Ingredients:
- 3 pears
- 1 tsp. lemon juice
- 3 tbsps. maple-flavored syrup
- 2 tbsps. butter or margarine
- 6 to 12 slices Canadian Bacon (1/4 inch thick)

Parsley
Method:
Wash, halve and core pears; pare if you wish. Place pear halves, cut side down in baking pan containing lemon juice and water.

Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven for 10 minutes; turn pears and spoon 1 tablespoon syrup in center of each. Dot with butter and bake for 10 to 15 minutes, basting occasionally.

Broil Canadian Bacon slices 3 inches from heat source, turning to brown evenly—for 3 to 5 minutes on each side. Arrange pear halves in center of heated platter. Circle with bacon slices and garnish with parsley. Makes 6 servings.

Bake Vanilla Wafers Of Your Own

The vanilla wafer is often thought of as a means to an end. For example, as the basis of a banana pudding, or a refrigerator cake or a pie shell. But the wafers make delightful refreshments on their own, served either with a beverage or a bowl of fruit.

You can make them in your own kitchen. Here's the recipe:

- Ingredients:
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine,
- 1/2 cup sugar,
- 1 egg,
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1/4 cup sifted flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

Method:
Cream butter and sugar in electric mixer; add egg and vanilla; beat thoroughly for several minutes. Blend in flour gradually and salt with spoon.

Drop dough by rounded teaspoons, several inches apart to allow for spreading, on lightly buttered baking sheet. Flatten slightly. Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven until edges are lightly browned—about 7 minutes; but watch carefully because cookies brown quickly. Remove at once with spatula to cooling rack.

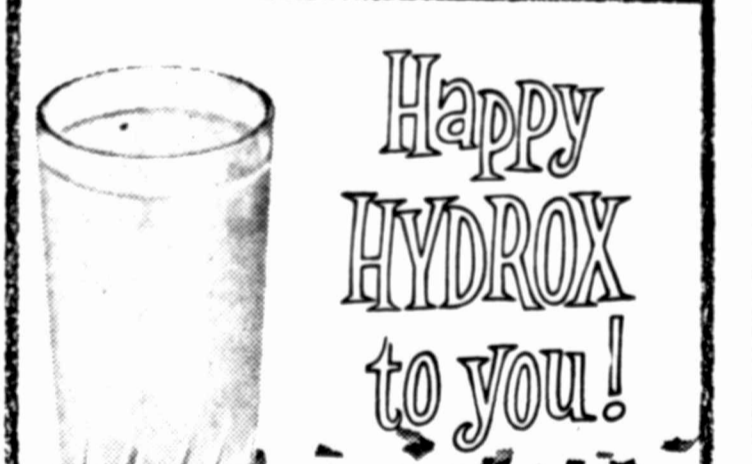

Cookies will be crisp when cold. Store in tightly covered container. Makes about 5 dozen thin crisp cookies.

Guests Will Like Two-Cheese Spread

Are you planning to entertain your bridge club? Here is a delectable Two-Cheese Spread which your guests will enjoy.

- Ingredients:
- One pound sharp cheddar cheese (grated fine), 1 package (2 ounces) pimiento cream cheese, 1/4 cup cooking sherry, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, 2 tablespoons minced parsley, 1/2 teaspoon garlic powder.

Method:
Allow cheese to stand at room temperature to soften; mix well. Mix in cooking sherry gradually, then mayonnaise, minced parsley and garlic powder. Pile into serving dish and refrigerate several hours, covered tightly, or overnight.

Fifty years ago, this beloved blending of richest chocolate wafers and velvety vanilla cream filling was born. Folks are still celebrating, and you're invited to be delighted, too!

Time To Practice

Diane McEwen takes a deep breath before beginning practice on her flute. Russ is accommodating by holding up the music for her, and Mrs. McEwen stands by with a word of encouragement. That's Scott holding his ball, which he has, upon occasion, stored in the kitchen oven. Be it a practice session, time for study or play, this kitchen is the hub of activity for the R. R. McEwens.

The Kitchen Is The Activity Center For The McEwen Family

"Most anyone can serve baked rubber ball, that is if there happens to be a sadder in the family. Or so believes R. R. McEwen Jr.

You see, Mrs. McEwen was out of town recently and her spouse decided to heat a sweet roll for breakfast. He popped it into the oven and went on about his business. Soon the most peculiar aroma filled the house, clearly it was not the delicious fragrance of a connection, but the nauseating odor of burning rubber.

Waldorf Is A Salad That Is Versatile

Probably there's no recipe yet concocted which cannot be varied in at least half a dozen ways. Waldorf salad is a good example.

Apples are ordinarily the basis for this favorite, but fresh pears may be happily substituted. In like manner, walnut meats can replace pecans.

Mix ingredients with any kind of dressing you like. But if you have some cream on hand, whip it and use that for the dressing with just a touch of mayonnaise added.

Here is one recipe for tossed Waldorf salad you might like to try.

Ingredients:

Two cups bite-size pieces torn salad greens packed down 2-3 cup diced celery, 2 tablespoons broken walnut meats, 2 medium-sized red apples, cored and cut into small fan-shaped pieces, 2 tablespoons French dressing, 1 tablespoon mayonnaise, salt.

Method:

Put salad greens into a medium-sized salad bowl with celery, walnuts and apples. Mix French dressing and mayonnaise. Toss with salad mixture, adding salt and more French dressing, if desired, to taste.

Makes 4 small servings.

Make Swiss Hamburgers For Snacks

Nothing tastes better on these cold evenings than a hot hamburger. To add more nutritional value, simply place a square of Swiss cheese on top of the meat.

Here's a recipe:

1 lb. ground beef chuck
2 tps. prepared mustard
4 squares, each about 2 1/2 x 1 in., Swiss cheese
Butter or margarine
Salt
Pepper

Shape 8 thin patties from the beef. Spread 4 of the patties with mustard and put a square of the cheese over the center of each. Top with remaining patties; seal by working edges together well with fingers.

Brown patties rapidly on both sides in a little butter in heavy skillet; reduce heat and cook to desired doneness. Sprinkle with salt and pepper while browning. Serve at once.

Curry Surprise

If you're having guests, surprise them with this new treatment of chicken curry. Cut the fruit out of halves of small pineapples, dice and add some of it to curry sauce. Refill pineapple shells with sauce and chicken. Sprinkle with shredded coconut and bake for about 10 minutes.

Yum, Yum Good

A quick and easy uncooked frosting for a party can be made with cream cheese and confectioner's sugar; beat well; flavor and tint with food coloring to harmonize with the cake and the party theme.

A quick glance in the oven revealed that Scott, the McEwens' two-year-old, had deposited his rubber ball in its confines for safe keeping. Papa should have known better.

The house at 809 West 14th is designed for family living and for the informal entertaining which the McEwens enjoy.

Besides Scott, there are Diane, 11, in the sixth grade, and Russ, 8, who is a third grader. Family center is no doubt the kitchen, commodious and attractive. Here at a large table the children can prepare their lessons, sit around and play, or Diane can practice on her flute.

Also at this table the whole family can gather around to eat, or it can be an auxiliary working area for Mrs. McEwen, who collects recipes and is a good cook who loves to cook.

Her interests center in her family and home, but she is this year president of the 1948 Hypertion Club and will next month begin another series of bridge lessons for couples at the YMCA. She is an enthusiastic seamstress and is not deterred when it comes to making formal and ballet costumes for Diane.

Many a little time-saving kitchen trick has been picked up during the couple's 17 years of marriage. Mrs. McEwen is a great believer in the dish that can be prepared in advance. Just before the guests arrive it can be whipped out of the freezer and whisked into the oven.

Such an aid is the Cheese Potatoes dish for which the recipe is given below. Another party dish that can be ready for the guests is Italian Spaghetti; the longer it simmers the more flavorful it becomes, as the seasonings meld together. She tells how to make this, too.

Next time your bridge club meets, try the Chocolate Angel Delight which is one of Mrs. McEwen's favorites. It is easily made. Here are the recipes.

CHEESE POTATOES

1 medium-size onion, chopped
4 tbsps. (1/2 stick) melted butter

or margarine
4 tbsps. flour
2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. dry mustard
1/2 tsp. paprika
1/4 tsp. pepper
2 cups milk
8 medium-size potatoes (about 3 pounds), pared and diced
2 pintos, diced
2 pkcs. (8 oz. each) process American cheese
Saute onion in butter or oleo in large saucepan for 5 minutes or just until tender; remove from heat, blend in flour, salt, mustard, paprika and pepper; slowly stir in milk. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens and boils one minute.

Stir in potatoes, pimientos and cheese; cut into small chunks; spoon into buttered shallow 8-cup baking dish.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for 40 minutes or until bubbly-brown. Makes eight servings.

ITALIAN SPAGHETTI

1 lb. pkg. spaghetti
1 lb. round steak, ground
1 large (No. 2 1/2) can tomatoes
1 can tomato paste
2 large onions, chopped fine
1 small bunch celery, chopped
2 bell peppers, chopped
1 tbsps. Worcestershire sauce
1 tbsps. horseradish
6 oz. Parmesan cheese
1 pod garlic
1 bay leaf
1 cup dried mushrooms.

Soak dried mushrooms for several hours in water to cover; take out; chop fine. Save water for future use. Make a Creole sauce by cooking onions, celery and pepper in butter until tender; add tomatoes and tomato paste; simmer. Add mushrooms and water they were soaked in, which will look dark.

Cook steak until brown, in butter; add to the Creole; season. Boil spaghetti in salt water until tender; blanch in cold water; drain. Add to Creole sauce; let heat and serve with grated Parmesan cheese.

The dried mushrooms make this especially delicious. Serves 10.

Freedom Taste

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP)—Prisoners at the Cumberland County jail got a frigid taste of freedom when they were called out to help clear this borough's streets of snow. "It's a relief for them; even in this weather to get out into the open," said one official.

New Sound For Age Of Space

At last, someone has come up with a new brand of music designed for the coming Age of Space.

The imaginative (and exceedingly uninhibited) team of Arthur Ferrante and Louis Teicher, otherwise known simply as Ferrante and Teicher, has invented "Soundblast," a new dual piano technique that sounds like anything but two pianos.

Most attempts at unearthly music have made use of various pieces of sound effects equipment and electronic instruments, but the result has generally been too unearthy for human ears to stand. But Ferrante and Teicher have a new sound that is weird, alien and a challenge to anyone who likes the adventurous in music; yet the technique is still music. It's on LP, if anyone is interested.

Writers Club Is Organized

A writers club was finally organized last Tuesday evening. Present were some of the members of the old Writers Workshop that broke up several years ago, plus many new faces.

The present writers club will be a loosely organized social group whose existence is justified entirely in that aspiring writers have a chance for constructive criticism from people with a similar interest.

There will be no dues, there is only one officer (a chairman-moderator), and there will be no tight little clique to close off all newcomers. Anyone with an interest in writing may become a member.

Just contact any of the present members.

Members will meet probably twice a month in each others' living rooms for informal critique sessions. Those with manuscripts they're not quite sure of may bring them in; all efforts will be read and criticized anonymously. If the author is identified, other guests tend to be too polite, the manuscript is not ripped to shreds, and no good is accomplished.

Present were: Mrs. Jessie G. Thomas, who has been successful in many writing endeavours; Samuel Adjer, mystery writer stationed at Webb who has already sold to the Saturday Evening Post; Mr. and Mrs. George Bauman, at whose home the meeting was held; Norman Sant, a hopeful; John Austin, floral designer with a varied writing background; Ed and Lorena Burns (Lorena is the writer of the family); and this reporter.

Bauman was named chairman-moderator.

Next meeting will be at 7:00 p.m. Tuesday at Mrs. Thomas' home in the Alta Vista Apartments.

Furniture Plea Gains Response

"Operation Sidewalk" is doing anything but sitting down, thanks to the efforts of Mrs. Jo Bright and some generous and civic-minded merchants.

The Big Spring Civic Theatre, having cleaned out the old museum building in City Park, has been hurting for furniture. With a meeting scheduled for Thursday evening, President Dewey Magee was fearful that most of the members might have to sit on the cold concrete floor.

But not now. Mrs. Bright reports local furniture dealers have responded to an appeal for old furniture, and have given enough to fill up the theatre's front room—mostly with divans.

Mrs. Bright says those pieces of furniture that are still in good condition will be used as they are, and theatre people will refurbish at a later date those that are in bad condition.

Those firms which have donated furniture include: Thompson's, Elrod's, Brook's Town and Country, Carter's, Big Spring Hardware and Wheat's.

In addition, Mrs. Jessie Thomas, owner of an apartment house, has pledged some of her old furniture, and Mrs. Bright is planning to contact other landlords. Anyone who wishes to help a struggling young thespian group may call Mrs. Bright at AM 4-7792, or Magee at Webb AFB, Ext. 317.

Additional equipment comes in the form of an air conditioner contributed by Mary Archer and repair of the building's plumbing by a city worker.

If the divans and other living room type furniture keep coming in, the theatre group may decide to use them in the auditorium rather than theatre seats. This layout would be in keeping with the rustic atmosphere of the old building, and would add to the intimacy of theatre in the round.

The Midland theatre's plan might also be used; smaller chairs might be bought by the local thespians, and each chair would have the name of a business firm or individual across the back, by way of reward for paying for the chair.

Yet, it will be a long time before the museum building has been fully converted into a theatre; there is too much work to be done yet on the building itself. It will be a long and costly job. But the theatre's possession of the building will present definite advantages.

Members, for one thing, will feel for the first time that they have a "home" where theatre activities may be centered. For presentation of plays, the city's available auditoriums will probably still be used, but rehearsing can be done at "home." Magee suggests that small civic groups for which the theatre plans one-act play entertainment might meet at the theatre building so the plays can be presented to better advantage.

The building will provide for office space, membership meetings and social affairs, and for a casting office.

Highway Dept. Sets Out Safety Project

By FRANK N. MANITZAS

AUSTIN (AP)—Brakes screamed as the driver tried to stay on Highway 8. He died in a crash. The tragedy was repeated a few months later on the same 5-mile stretch.

This road section between San Antonio and Devine is used by 5,200 cars a day. Two people died and five were injured in 11 accidents there in a year.

Is it a death strip? "No," says the Highway Department.

"Was it the road's fault?" Four years of research have provided the Highway Department some "yes" or "maybe" answers. To get more "noes," the department started a 25 million dollar traffic safety program to improve more roads in 1958.

"This is a concerted and accelerated program," State Highway Engineer Dewitt Greer said. "We've always tried to improve roads as needed. But this year we decided to concentrate a chunk of money on nothing but that—making roads more safe, engineering-wise."

The 918 miles of improvements to be made under the safety program are among the highway system's 57,407 miles. Road sections with high accident ratings include:

State Highway 31 outside Killeen. Less than a mile is involved, but 2,700 vehicles move in the area each day. The solution the department hopes will provide the answer: Improvement of channel roads to move the traffic more effectively between State 31 and other roads.

State Highway 329 has a bad 14-mile stretch east of Crane. It carries 907 vehicles a day and engineers hope reconditioning of shoulders will cut down the accidents.

Greer said certain improvements are made continuously and are not included in this program. They include elimination of blind spots—clipping bushes or trees, or moving signs, more readable signs for curves and speed, and the painting of center lines.

Widening and resurfacing roads and strengthening shoulders are the major items on the road-betterment list. Another improvement will be the curbing of some roads leading into narrow bridges to keep the driver from banging into the abutments," Greer said. "This is one of the most common single car accidents," he said. "The curb will guide the driver onto the bridge, should he be too far to the right."

The largest project is a 15.7-mile stretch between Belton and Killeen on U.S. 190. The highway carries 5,915 cars daily.

A million dollars will be spent to rejuvenate highway surfaces and shoulders where 5 people died in 84 accidents one year.

Traffic Engineer W. R. Welly said the department doesn't wait for a road to reach or pass a danger rating before its accident count is placed under close scrutiny.

ON LOOKOUT
"Our reports are made available to the 25 district engineers in the state," he said. "They know their sections and they keep on the lookout for areas which may be developing into potential traffic hazards."

Such an area is near the million dollar Killeen-Belton project. It is Farm Road 440 which intersects U.S. 190 at Killeen. The farm road had three traffic deaths in 1956. Heavy traffic came in part from Ft. Hood.

Welly said the multilane highways have proven "three times safer than the roads they replaced."

There are exceptions. Welly says the Houston-Galveston Freeway, U.S. 75, has a higher accident rating than the normal freeway.

"The name 'freeway' probably is the cause for a number of the accidents," Welly said. "The multilane highway is not yet an actual freeway, because there are still numerous cross roads. When money becomes available, they eventually will be eliminated. Many drivers seem to forget the cross roads are still there."

"We're doing everything we can to make the roads safer," Greer said. "But even after we do this work, a dumb fool shows he can kill himself on the road even if it's as smooth as a board."

Capt. and Mrs. Black reside in Spokane, Wash.

Good Reason

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mrs. Lucille Mann divorced Henry S. Mann. She testified he smokes cigars and operates a smelter but that what she tired of was his telling her: "Put down that dirty cigarette." She charged cruelty.

Educator Urges Stiffer Work For Gifted Students

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—It's better to give a gifted student a stiffer work schedule than to let him race through school in less than normal time, a District of Columbia educator said today.

S. Harry Baker, director of education in the District of Columbia secondary schools, said the question is still a "hot potato" in junior and senior high school circles. But, he said, more and more speed-up plan is being abandoned in favor of an enriched type of study program.

Baker told a study group of the annual convention of secondary school principals that the first problem is to spot the academically talented pupil as early as possible. Wherever possible, he said, special programs designed to challenge abilities of these gifted youngsters should be adopted.

A. Reed Walker, principal of the Alfred Plant Junior High in West Hartford, Conn., told the group educators must emphasize that motivation is not built into the gifted child. It is up to the teachers to spur gifted students into the best efforts.

Walker said that wherever possible, the academically talented should be grouped together.
