

Fancy Price For Fancy Birds

THE HALE-AIKIN SURVEY Year-Round School Schedule Proposed

There have been suggestions that schools be operated on a year-round basis as a means of accommodating increasing enrollments without constructing as many new buildings as are required for the nine-month schedule.

Longer school days have been proposed, too, as a means of partially housing the growing student bodies.

In the longer periods, staggered schedules would enable a given number of classrooms to handle more pupils.

Construction of new facilities has been an almost continuous process in the Big Spring district in the last few years, and most other schools in the county have been required to enlarge and improve their plants as a result of higher enrollment.

Whether longer schedules are the answer to the problem, or whether the districts should look elsewhere for the solution to the school construction problem make up a part of the assignment for the housing subcommittee of the Howard County Hale-Aikin School Study Committee. Ed Carpenter of Coahoma and Vincent is chairman of the 14-member panel.

The subcommittee is asked to determine the present need for school buildings and also predict the future need in Howard County.

With the exception of federal aid granted the Big Spring district as a result of the large number of federally-connected school children here, school construction is financed out of local funds.

Consequently, Carpenter's group will be seeking to discover any means by which the number of new school buildings can be reduced. The state guide for the survey suggests that the committee consider such possibilities as better utilization of existing facilities, longer schedules, and the adjustment of teacher-pupil ratios in order to get the maximum number of pupils in each classroom.

The survey is to cover anticipated enrollment and construction requirements for the next five years. The committee also must estimate the cost of providing the new classrooms.

Practically all school districts finance school construction by issuing local tax bonds. The extent to which a district may go into debt is limited by state statutes. As a result, many districts, including most of those in Howard County, are now bonded to or near the statutory limit.

Alternatives to additional construction proposed by the various groups making simultaneous studies in all of Texas' 254 counties will help make up the state Hale-Aikin Committee's report and recommendations to the next session of the Legislature.

Texas Newspaper Publisher Dies

SHERMAN, Tex., March 1.—Ward C. Mayborn, who during his 60-year career in journalism helped establish and direct the operations of more than a dozen newspapers throughout the nation, died here today at the age of 78.

Mayborn was credited with being the originator of the mechanical merger plan in which competing daily newspapers effect production economies by using the same mechanical plant.

In 1941, Mayborn was called to Chicago, where he helped Marshall Field found the Chicago Sun. When his son, Frank, purchased the Sherman Democrat in 1945, the elder Mayborn became publisher of the paper.

One of his projects was the establishment of the Texas Daily Newspaper Assn. intern program, through which college journalism students hold regular newspaper jobs during the summer.

Jr. Historians To Step Up Book Drive In March

The Junior Historians Club of Big Spring High School plans to step up its telephone campaign for donated books on Texicana now that March has made its debut.

The club will devote the entire month of March to the drive to expand the shelves in the school library with books about Texas and the southwest.

Initial response has been most satisfactory, it was said. Twenty or twenty-five excellent additions have been made to the collection through the generosity of book-lovers of the town.

The campaign is based on the idea that most bookreaders have from one to perhaps as many as a dozen books about Texas and the southwest which they would be willing to give to the school library.

Carlton Carr, 1729 Yale, is a good example. Mr. Carr brought six books to the office of the Big Spring Daily Herald on Friday. These have been turned over to the club.

Bookplates are being placed in each gift book and the name of the person donating it is inscribed on the plate.

The club has divided itself into two groups for the month—the girls competing against the boys in a drive to see which group will collect the greater number of books. The losers are pledged to host the winners at a barbecue at the end of the month.

Books may be left at the Herald office or a call to AM 4-7304, AM 4-4314 or AM 4-6666 will bring a club member to pick up the books.

The club members have each been assigned a number of names from the phone book to call and ask if the subscriber will donate any books. If he agrees to do so, a pick-up team goes to his residence to receive the donation.

Jess Talkin by Jess Blair

The St. Lawrence community in Glasscock County is wicker than in a long time, says Doris Blissard, who farms west of the store. He said that the irrigation wells might get a rest for awhile, as farmers usually give the fields a complete watering before planting time.

Blissard says well drilling has almost come to a standstill in the community. Martin Holder finished a well, and another was drilled on the Wilde farm.

"We've got enough wells now to water the cotton acreage," he said.

Farmers do not irrigate feed land, Blissard said, because it doesn't pay. The cotton crop was cut short last year because of the early freeze and late planting. He said some of the cotton wasn't planted until the last of June.

The total yield was almost average, however. The gin turned out around 5,500 bales, while a small amount of the cotton was carried to Big Spring and other gins.

The cotton seed testing laboratory at Lubbock has found that planting seed for 1958 are even poorer than expected. Bus Roberts of Lamesa, who has been working in the laboratory operated by the State Department of Agriculture, says he checked several samples last week that tested as low as 15 per cent germination.

"It's all had everywhere," he said, "but the worst seed is found north and west of Lubbock. Perhaps the best has come from Dell City area, with several samples running from 66 per cent upward."

"There won't be enough cotton seed for everyone if there is any re-planting to do. A farmer better get his first planting in, or he will have to grow something besides cotton."

J. W. King, who owns a store west of Ackery, drove down for the rabbit hunt at Lomax yesterday. He said a similar drive would be held on the Slaughter Ranch south of Flower Grove within the next two or three weeks.

One was held last year, but a terrific sandstorm almost blew the hunters out of the pasture and the drive was not completed. Most of the farmers adjoining the ranch contribute to the hunt, in order to keep the rabbits from coming into the cropland.

King said on occasion the bunnies had damaged cotton and feed, and farmers had put out poison for them. He doubts if they will be cotton hungry this year, though, because the pastures will soon be green with grass and weeds.

The horse market has never been much better than right now, especially on registered stock. Plain saddle animals are also in good demand and bring prices $125 for a common pony up to twice this for a good saddle horse.

Clay Wells, 63, Dies Of Wreck Injuries

Clay Wells, 63, long-time resident of Glasscock County, died in a hospital here Friday at 4:15 p.m. from injuries suffered in a traffic mishap earlier in the week.

Funeral has been set for 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the First Methodist Church in Garden City with the Rev. C. T. Jackson, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in the Garden City Cemetery under the direction of River Funeral Home.

Mrs. Wells, injured in the crash which fatally hurt her husband, suffered severe cuts and a fractured right leg. She is under treatment at Cowper Hospital.

Officers are still trying to locate the owner of the second car, which Mr. and Mrs. Wells had struck from the rear a mile and a quarter south of Garden City on Monday night. The occupant of this car, thought to be a Latin American, apparently fled the scene.

Mr. Wells was born in Fayetteville, Tenn., on March 1, 1894. Prior to coming to Glasscock County in 1942 and ranching 18 miles south of Garden City, he had worked for 18 years in Venezuela with the Gulf Oil Company.

Surviving him are his wife, Mrs. Ona Wells; two sisters, Mrs. Leona Maurer, Chicago, Ill., and Mrs. E. F. Tagliabue, Victoria; two nephews, Bill Tagliabue and Emil Tagliabue, Victoria; and a niece, Carlene Wheeler, McAllen.

ers, especially those on dryland farms, have ordered the older 1517C which was once popular in Martin County. This seed tested even higher, but is also in short supply.

Dryland farmers are planning to plant it because it is not so susceptible to angular leaf spot unless irrigated. Irrigation farmers almost stopped using it because of disease losses.

Short Items—

Bud Shaw, Stanton trucker who makes a regular run to Houston, says that Southeast Texas is almost under water. It's corn planting time, but the fields are a sea of mud. He said that at Hamstead, Texas, the Brazos River had been running bank full for over a month.

Despite the rains, a bumper crop of thistles are posed along the fence rows, ready to take off at the first sound of a high wind and bounce across field and pasture.

The village of Welch in northwest Dawson County has organized itself like a big town, with mayor, fire department and city secretary. The population is about 100. It's part of a better community movement first started by a Texas farm magazine.

Lakes east of Stanton slowly filling again. Should be a few ducks on them, but I didn't see any.

Lot of weather predictions being tossed about. W. S. Barnhill telling between sips of coffee that we would have a cool, wet spell the last of April. Another man says July will be the wettest in 20 years. Still another farmer thinks the summer will be dry and hot. General consensus seems to be that we'll have some kind of weather every month of the year.

Kids are quite resourceful at times. Friday night our telephone rang six times in 30 minutes, and the boy sent out three more calls. It seems all the boys suddenly found themselves without transportation for the night and were desperately trying to locate a Good Samaritan, or even a 1950 Chevrolet. Finally one lad got the green light from his dad, and within 10 minutes he had enough passengers to fill the car and a trailer.

There is nothing that builds friendship as quickly among a group of boys as an available car and tankful of gasoline. I'm just now learning why automobiles are being built longer and wider. They have got to be to hold all the kids that pile in.

CARD OF THANKS

To our kind friends, neighbors and relatives we wish to express our sincere appreciation for sympathetic attention, beautiful floral tributes and other courtesies extended to us at the passing of our beloved husband and father.

Commemorative Stamps Issued

Big Spring philatelists are advised the local post office will stock two new U. S. postage stamps coming out in March.

Elmer Boatler, postmaster, said he had placed an order for 20,000 of the new 3-cent commemorative to go on sale on March 15, paying honor to horticulture. The stamps, featuring a classic goddess of the harvest, will be in green and are being issued on the 100th anniversary of the birth of Liberty Hyde Bailey, famous American horticulturist.

The other new stamp to make its debut in March will be a new issue of the current "liberty" 8 cent. This new issue will be in red and blue and to the layman will look like the current 8 cent stamps. However, to the professional collector, there are half a dozen slight variations. Boatler said he was stocking only 2,000 of these. They are to be put into service late this month.

Expert Points Up Weak, Strong Points Of Economy

DALLAS, March 1 (AP) — Dr. Charles Walker, economist and advisor to the Dallas Federal Reserve Bank, said yesterday the country's economy has four strong points and two weak ones.

He told a Lions Club, however, that barring unforeseeable developments the United States can expect to end the year on an economic upturn.

Walker said the recession results from a reduction in manufacturers inventories with consumer spending holding up well despite some increased unemployment.

"So long as final demand holds up, so long as we don't change that by talking ourselves into a deeper recession or depression, the inventory cutback should work itself out before long," he said.

He said weak points in the economy were expected lower business capital expenditures in 1958 and less foreign demand for our products.

He said strong points were: Lower interest rates and more money available; a continuing steady upturn in spending by state and local governments; steady retail sales in January, and increased federal spending.

Radio Station Closes, Awaits FCC Sale Okay

KTXC radio suspended operations at 10 p.m. Friday and will remain off the air for a period of 60 days or less.

E. W. Anderson, Dallas, and V. T. Anderson, Big Spring, principal owners, said the fulltime Mutual affiliates in Big Spring halted operations pending approval by the Federal Communications Commission of sale of the property.

Purchaser of KTXC radio is Ron Litteral of Tyler, said the Andersons' announcement.

Litteral is owner-operator of radio station KGKB in Tyler.

During the period the station is awaiting transfer of title and approval of the sale by FCC, new equipment will be installed, a program of modernization and added building facilities will be undertaken.

"A new concept in radio programming is to be set up," said V. T. Anderson. "There will be a new sound on the radio front."

KTXC, which is the property of the Big State Broadcasting Company, of which the Andersons are the chief stockholders, went on the air Sept. 15, 1949.

Four Wichita Falls men, Jim Risner, Red Overby, Mel Waldorf and Bill Riches, had taken over the station Jan. 1 under a stockholder-operator arrangement, which is now superseded by the sale.

The Andersons will continue operation of their music company here, established in 1927, as well as their Dallas and Brownsville import, brokerage offices.

Sullivan Cited By Pythians

Frontier Lodge No. 43, Knights of Pythias, honored L. J. Sullivan, Big Spring druggist, last week by presenting him with his 50-year life membership jewel at ceremonies in the Knights of Pythias Hall, 1407 Lancaster.

Sullivan was enrolled in the Frontier Lodge in 1903 and has been a member continuously since that time. The jewel was presented to Sullivan by his son, Willard Sullivan.

Presentation of the award climaxed a celebration of Veterans and Founders day by the lodge. Dr. P. D. O'Brien was the principal speaker. Jack Needham, past chancellor commander, Brownwood, also spoke.

E. L. Terry, chancellor commander of the lodge, presided.

Thirty-five members were present. A chicken dinner was served at the close of the ceremonies.

Tuesday night, the lodge will confer work in the Knight Degree on a class of three candidates. The meeting opens at 7:30 p.m. All knights are invited to be present. There are 200 members on the Frontier Lodge rolls.

60 Jurors Report Monday For District Court Cases

Sixty jurors have been instructed to report to Judge Charlie Sullivan in 118th District Court on Monday at 10 a.m. A civil jury docket has been taken over and one criminal case also is scheduled for trial.

Orville J. Key, charged with being a habitual offender, is docketed to face trial. Exact day the case will be called will not be known until the docket is sounded Monday morning.

A number of civil cases have been set down for trial but it is probable, if the usual developments occur, that several of these will be continued or otherwise disposed of before they get to the jury.

Key was indicted by the grand jury in January. Under state law, if he is convicted on the indictment charging him with being a habitual offender, his punishment will be automatically set at life in prison.

It is possible one or two pleas of guilty by defendants indicted by the grand jury will be heard during the week. Gil Jones, district attorney, said he had been informed some of the defendants are considering such action.

Planning Panel Calls For Strong Economy Measures

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP) — Business sag can be prevented from developing into "depressions and mass unemployment" if the government is ready to take strong counter-measures, the National Planning Assn. said today.

Regardless of occasional economic fluctuations, NPA said, the United States can advance by 1965 to a 600-billion-dollar production rate, more than one third higher than today's.

"The privately supported research body warned, however, that the country cannot depend solely on such built-in 'cushions' as social security, jobless pay and deposit insurance. It added: 'The government must be prepared to act'—the word 'act' was emphasized—'in order to prevent a serious drop in economic activities from developing into a full-scale downswing.'"

Such action, it suggested, could take the form of "tax reduction, in order to increase purchasing power," as well as public works and the export of capital to strengthen foreign trade.

"The NPA is a voluntary organization of leaders in industry, labor, agriculture and the professions. Its 165-page report, titled 'The Economy of the American People,' was written by two staff members—Gerhard Colm, chief NPA economist and former senior economist of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, and Theodore Geiger, NPA's chief of international studies.

300 Believed Drowned When Storm Upsets Turkish Boat

ISTANBUL, Turkey, March 1 (AP) — A violent storm swept suddenly across the Sea of Marmara today and sank a ferry boat packed with teen-age students. From 200 to 300 persons were feared drowned.

The ferry Uskudar went down shortly after leaving the naval base city of Izmit, 50 miles east of Istanbul. Although a U. S. base is near Izmit, no Americans were believed to have been aboard.

Eyewitnesses said the storm sprang out of the south. The ferry dug her bow beneath the waves, then rolled over, and sank within minutes. She was only a mile off shore.

No accurate death toll was immediately available. Istanbul Radio reported about 200 persons were aboard the ship and only 16 survived, including two children.

Reports from Izmit, one of Turkey's main naval bases, listed the number of dead at between 200 and 300.

Spokesmen for the owners, the Turkish Maritime Bank, said no firm figures were known.

Jam-packed aboard the aged ferry were Turkish students heading to their homes for the weekend. The Uskudar was bound for the small ports of Golchuk and Yalova.

Just as the vessel was clearing the port, the storm struck, stirring the shallow gulf into a white capped fury.

Watchers ashore saw the boat in trouble and alerted rescuers. Turkish navy craft and dozens of private boats were dispatched into the tempest. Before they could get close the ferry turned over and sank.

A few survivors swam ashore. Others were picked up by rescue craft.

Two hours after the tragedy bodies began washing onto the beach. Many had on life jackets, indicating there was some warning, however brief, before the Uskudar capsized.

American officers in Istanbul said they had no reports of personnel being aboard from the large U. S. military base located in the Izmit area. Americans normally do not use the ferries on this run, they said.

As news of the tragedy spread, all music was banned from Turkish radio programs as a sign of mourning. Premier Adnan Menderes sped to the scene to investigate the disaster.

Services will be conducted at First Methodist Church here at 2 p.m. Monday. Burial is for Tuesday in Oakwood Cemetery near Walnut.

Three brothers, two sisters and several nephews survive.

Davis, a native of Falls County, went to Sterling County before 1900 and had been in ranching all his life. He owned and operated a 55-section ranch in Sterling County.

He was an organizer of the First National Bank in Sterling City and was vice president until 1950, when he became president.

Davis was a director of the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers Assn. for 38 years. He also was a director of Boys Ranch of West Texas. He attended Texas A&M three years.

In the 1930s, Davis was instrumental in the establishment of the Texas Production Credit Assn. It was the first of 36 such association in Texas to become solely membership-owned.

He was on the board of the regional Agricultural Credit Corp., which rescued many West Texas ranchmen during the 1930s. He was president of the Texas Production Credit Corp. for six years before retiring in 1941.

City Hall Work Ends

Upon the engineer's recommendation, the city has accepted the work done on the city hall and the building has been turned over to the city.

Pioneer Builders had contract for the work remodeling the building, and having completed the work, it has been turned over to the city. The Pioneer low bid on the job was $32,714. Work was designed and engineered by Puckett-French.

Money to finance the project came from a bond issue in August of 1955, but the city had to wait until the police building was completed and the department could move into it before the city hall could be remodeled.

After remodeling, the offices of the city manager, attorney, engineer, and the city manager's secretary, in addition to the drafting, are located on the second floor.

The south end of the first floor is given to the water department, with the offices of the tax department, the city inspectors, purchasing agent, timekeeper, and secretary are located north of the dividing hall.

Awards Distributed At Blue-Gold Banquet

Awards were presented to three boys in Cub Scout Pack No. 236 at the blue and gold banquet held Friday night in the Midway lunchroom.

Recipients and their awards were Robert Robinson, bobcat; Marcus Swann, wolf; and Jimmy Ernest, bear. Roy Lilly received a graduation certificate and Boy Scout scrapbook. Presentation was made by Pete Earnest, scoutmaster.

Table decorations were made by the boys. The 40th anniversary cake was in the form of a castle complete with flags and cannons.

Guests included the Cub's parents and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Beckham and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hooser.

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—President Eisenhower was pronounced completely recovered today from the mild stroke he suffered Nov. 25.

Hagerty said the President no longer suffers from the sore throat he contracted several weeks ago in Georgia. But that his voice still has a trace of huskiness.

Knowland Asks Aid Funds Use In U.S.

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) asked President Eisenhower today to consider shifting to home markets some of the foreign buying under the Mutual Security Program. Knowland, the Senate's Republican leader, told reporters he has asked the White House, the Defense Department, and the International Cooperation Administration to review the off-shore procurement program with the idea of channeling some of the funds into job-creating contracts in this country. Calling this an anti-recession proposal, Knowland said Congress needs to be armed with the facts about current and proposed expenditures abroad before it passes on the $3,900,000,000 foreign aid program. "There may be some procurement that was ordered done abroad when our factories were working to full capacity that could be transferred to this country, particularly to those areas that have been hit by an economic recession," Knowland said. The off-shore procurement program—which covers such items as the purchase of planes in Italy, planes and tanks in Britain, and coal in Australia—now is averaging about 20 per cent of total foreign aid outlays. These purchases have been designed to bolster the military production potential of allies. The cost of the items produced—generally less than in the United States—is paid by this country. The finished products then are turned over to NATO allies. Under a section of the Mutual Security Act, the President is empowered to scale down or shut off foreign purchases when he finds they will have adverse effect on the U.S. economy. Knowland said he was not suggesting that any foreign contracts nearly completed be canceled. He also said the effect on the economies of U.S. allies would have to be considered before any transfer decision is made. Secretary of Defense McElroy told a foreign aid conference here last week that 85 per cent of the 20 billion dollars spent by the United States for foreign military assistance since 1950 has been ploughed back into the American economy with purchases here. Knowland was the second senator to suggest more foreign aid purchases in U.S. markets. Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) called for such action Thursday.

Nylons Called Part Of 'Military' Aid

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—Nylon stockings, musical instruments, executive-type swivel chairs, and water coolers were turned up today among items in a supposedly austere U.S. arms aid program. Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, did not deny these General Accounting Office findings in secret testimony before the House Foreign Affairs Committee made public today. But Twining, who testified Feb. 20, said "we are cleaning up" the big program which he figured may have to be continued for a generation. He warned against placing arms aid in a fiscal strait-jacket that might hamper cold war strategy. Mansfield D. Sprague, assistant secretary of defense for international security affairs, said the GAO findings were two to four years old. He declared arms aid is not sent out now except where properly used. But his aides reported one example of waste not even listed by the watchdog GAO. That was in the winter of 1952, a Pentagon witness said, when U.S. aircraft carriers deposited cocooned F84 jet fighters at Copenhagen. The planes had to stand in the open in severe winter

Rabbits Saved By Snow; Drive Is Called Off

The rabbit drive scheduled on the Robb Farms yesterday turned out bad for everyone except the rabbits. About 75 hunters were on hand, but found the weather and mud too much for them. They made one drive on about a section of grassland then called a halt. "The ground was too muddy for the trucks," said E. W. Lomax, who helped sponsor the drive. When the moisture continued through the noon hour, the sponsors decided not to go out again. The rabbits were in no mood to move about and almost had to be kicked out of the way. Lomax said about 100 rabbits were killed, but the hunters probably missed another 300 to 400 hiding in the grass. In addition to the working hunters, several others timed their arrival to coincide with the dinner, which consisted of barbecue, beans, potato salad and coffee. There were also plenty of pies and cakes donated by the ladies of the community. Due to the small crowd, quite a lot of the food was left. There are no definite plans for another drive. Lomax said that one required a lot of planning and time, as several farm people were up most of the night preparing the barbecue. He said there might be some smaller drives, however, requiring from a few hours to half a day. Several hunters expressed a desire to come back and finish the hunt.

Building Permits Total $136,000 During February

Building projects begun in February fell about $13,000 below that of January, leaving the city well below the comparable time of 1957. Fifty-four building permits were issued during February for work totaling $136,375, compared with the $235,450 for February of 1957. The building valuations for January were $149,800. Total for the two months of this year is $286,154, compared with $559,425 for January and February of last year. March should be much larger since the building permit for construction of the student union building at HCJC has not been issued. Contract was let last month, but the contractor, A. P. Kasch & Sons, has not taken out a building permit. Construction costs for all phases of work total over $300,000.

Brainwash Charged By Father In Suit Against Convent

HILLSBORO, Ore. (AP)—Does a father have a legal right to remove his 19-year-old daughter from a Roman Catholic convent against her will? That question is before Circuit Judge Glen Hieber. The judge took under advisement the case of Ivan R. Miller, seeking to remove his daughter Alice from St. Mary's Convent at Beaverton. "We are not dealing with religious concepts here," he said,

"only with points of law." It was religious views which prompted Miller, of nearby Milwaukie, to seek a writ of habeas corpus in an effort to get his daughter out of the convent. He testified Tuesday that "brainwashing" was responsible for his daughter's statements that she was happy at the convent and if forced to leave, would return later when free to do so. The Millers gave to Roman Catholic schools the task of educating Alice and her sister Lois, 20. Both girls left their parents' home a year ago over the question of religion, both were baptized in the Catholic faith and Lois now is a student at Maryhurst College, a Catholic institution.

School Bus Tragedy

Crowd swarms along Big Sandy River near Prestonsburg, Ky., where a school bus carrying an estimated 28 children struck a wrecker, sideswiped an automobile, then plunged down the river bank and sank in 30 feet of water. State Police said 23 children and the bus driver were trapped in the bus. Sixteen other children were known to have escaped through a rear door. Arrow shows approximate location of bus.

Burleson Farmer Wins Jaycee Award

AUSTIN, March 1 (AP)—Johnnie Stefa, 27, a cattle, cotton and grain farmer from Burleson County, has won the state's top agricultural award offered by the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce.

He was selected as the outstanding young farmer in Texas by the Jaycees at a farmer awards banquet last night.

Two dairymen, James Norris, 35, of Paris, and Weldon Mauney, 35, of New Waverly were runners-up. Stefa will receive an all-expense paid trip to the national awards program in Indianapolis April 14-16.

Other outstanding young farmers honored included William Faudree of Midland, Burnis Lockridge of Henderson and Jay Naman of Valley Mills.

The injuries were result of these mishaps. February provided two of the fatalities, 13 of the accidents and three of the injuries.

The number of vehicles damaged and the probable loss in dollars and cents as a result of the damage was not available. Majority of the accidents were two car collisions; 15 of the accidents were on U. S. Highway 80.

First of the fatalities occurred one mile east of Coahoma on Jan. 27. George W. Foy, 74, Coahoma, was the victim. Mrs. Gauthier Beams, 39, Stanton, was the second person in 1958 to die in a traffic accident. She was killed in a wreck Feb. 7, 7.1 miles west of Big Spring on U. S. 80. The third death was on Feb. 10. Almon W. Harbin, 39, Big Spring, was the victim. The accident occurred 2.5 miles west of the city on U. S. 80.

Final accident of the period occurred on the last day of February 12.2 miles north on U. S. 87. Two women were hospitalized.

Nixon Proves He Can Stand 'Kitchen' Heat

By ROGER GREENE

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—"If you can't stand the heat, you'd better get out of the kitchen."

Harry S. Truman used to give that tart advice to Cabinet officials and others who complained they had been pilloried unfairly in the rough and tumble of American politics.

Through most of his 12-year career in public life, Richard Milhouse Nixon has shown he can stand the heat.

And as frontrunner for the Republican presidential nomination in 1960, he is very much in the political kitchen. A hot kitchen it is, too.

Goaded and flayed by Democratic critics who themselves have felt the sting of his rhetoric, the 45-year-old vice president today reflects a philosophical attitude toward those who would cast him as the perennial "whipping boy" of the Eisenhower administration.

"I learned long ago not to be concerned about what people call me," he said in a rare interview. "I let the record stand."

To millions who saw him as the lone figure in an astonishing TV drama on Sept. 23, 1952, Nixon still lingers in memory as a young firebrand whose star was suddenly threatened by a storm of political scandal.

Not soon forgotten is the episode in the shot-and-shell election campaign when Democrats charged that Nixon, while serving in the U. S. Senat, had accepted an $18,125 private expense fund from well-heeled California friends.

Warned that he must come out of it "as clean as a hound's tooth," Nixon emerged from the ordeal, near tears, to receive Dwight D. Eisenhower's arm around his shoulder and accolade: "You're my boy."

Five years older now, grave and poised, the hotspur of '52 has matured and perhaps mellowed to a point where even his enemies grudgingly concede him certain qualifications for the highest office in the land.

Paul Butler, razor-tongued chairman of the Democratic National Committee, summed it up in an interview: "I think Nixon would make a stronger president than the present occupant of the White House—although that's not much of a compliment."

Entering his sixth year in the vice presidency, Nixon's role in the national as well as the international scene has been vastly magnified by three previous jolts to President Eisenhower's health—the heart attack in 1955, the ileitis operation a year later, and finally the mild stroke suffered last December.

Admirers say Nixon, systematically trained by Eisenhower to take over the White House in case of an emergency, has come a long way since he was sworn in as the nation's 36th vice president, Jan. 20, 1953.

Eisenhower has publicly labeled him "the most valuable member of my team... a great leader of men."

TESCO Ups Its Revenues

Texas Electric Service Company increased its revenues substantially during 1957, but expenses were up in virtually the same ratio.

Income for the year totalled $61,250,536, a gain of 8.5 per cent. Expenses of operation amounted to $46,288,205, up 8 per cent. Out of the net income of $14,962,331, the company paid its dividends on common and preferred stock as well as part of the cost of additions and extensions.

During 1957, the company installed $25,592,000 in additions and extensions in more than 100 cities, bringing total value of property to $267,800,000.

Among top items of expense during the past year were $3,647,286 for maintenance and repair to plants, lines, etc.; $7,081,822 in salaries and wages other than for maintenance and construction; $2,472,625 in interest on bonded debt and customer deposits; $5,226,000 for depreciation, property retirement, etc.; $17,709,660 for federal, state and local taxes; $4,575,672 for fuel and other energy expenses including power purchases.

Pentagon Due Big Shakeup As Result Of Streamlining

By BEM PRICE
WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—The great stone fortress of the Pentagon today is under a heavy siege of ideas. Before it's over, the Defense Department likely will undergo the biggest shakeup since the armed services were supposedly unified in 1947.

Even now Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy and six advisers—three civilian and three military—are working on proposals for streamlining and reducing the massive, top-heavy bureaucracy and establishing effective military command.

- 1. Creation of a general staff with the chairman acting as overall commander empowered to assign the roles and missions of each service.
- 2. Use of the present Joint Chiefs of Staff simply as an advisory group for the secretary of defense, and creation of a separate combat and supply command under the secretary.
- 3. Creation of a single service with a single commander.
- 4. Preservation of the status quo.
- 5. Reduction of the maze of 279 functioning committees and 28 secretaries in the Pentagon to some workable size in order to speed vital decisions and define responsibility.
- 6. Delegation of additional purse string control to the secretary of defense instead of having Congress set aside the money by services.

TWO FUNDS BILLS
In the Senate now are two measures, both by Republicans, which would give the secretary more control over funds for the services.
Sen. Sherman Cooper (R-Ky.) also would downgrade the secretaries of the three services to the role of undersecretaries to the secretary of defense.
Sen. Prescott Bush (R-Conn.) has introduced a bill to establish a unified command with the chairman of the joint chiefs serving as the chief strategic planner.
The whole furor was touched off by Russia's earth satellite launched Oct. 4. In the United States a great debate developed as to why the Soviets were ahead, and it led to an investigation of the whole missile program by the Senate Armed Services subcommittee headed by Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.)
Even while the subcommittee hearings were under way, President Eisenhower told Congress in his State of the Union address Jan. 9:

"The first need is to assure ourselves that military organizations facilitate rather than hinder the functioning of the military establishment in maintaining the security of the nation."
"I am not attempting today to pass judgment on the charge of harmful service rivalries. But one thing is sure. Whatever they are, America wants them stopped."
Just four days before the President's message, a study of the U.S. defense posture was released by the Rockefeller Brothers Fund. The study, conducted outside government, found defenses in an alarming state.
THREE VITAL POINTS
Among other things, the Rockefeller report asserted:
1. Roles and missions assigned to the services have become competitive because they are "out of accord with both weapons technology and the principal military threats to our national safety."
2. The present Joint Chiefs of Staff setup precludes "development of a comprehensive and coherent strategic doctrine."
3. The secretary of defense can't "play his full part in the initiation and development of high military policy" because he's too busy "trying to arbitrate and control inter-service disputes."
The report recommended that the Joint Chiefs be organized on a unified basis and placed under control of the chairman, who should be designated principal military advisor to the President and defense secretary. The military services should be removed from the channel of command, enabling the service chiefs to concentrate on management and logistics; the chiefs, the report proposed, would continue to serve on the Joint Chiefs but only as advisors. The secretary of defense should have direct authority over all research, development and procurement.
Two weeks before the Rockefeller report, Lt. Gen. James W. Gavin urged the breakup of the present Joint Chief system. Gavin, who has resigned as chief of the Army missile program, suggested to the Senate subcommittee that the secretary of defense was getting some bad military advice under the present system. He proposed, in essence, the creation of a general staff aloof from the three services and with a single boss.
The call for a single chief was echoed by Gen. Carl Spatz, Air Force chief of staff in 1947-48, and Army Gen. Lucius Clay, a close friend of Eisenhower.
In general, the Navy has preferred the status quo. Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, World War II hero and former chief of naval operations, said a single staff system would be "totally wrong."
The single-chief plan is opposed by powerful forces, including Senators Knowland (R-Calif.), Bridges (R-NH), Russell (D-Ga.) and Johnson. Russell is chairman of the full Senate Armed Forces Committee.
Rep. Carl Vinson (D-Ga.), chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, also is opposed.
The joint chiefs are charged by law, under the present setup, with formulating defense plans. The JCS is composed of the operating heads of the three services, plus the commandant of the Marine Corps, who votes whenever Marine matters are considered.
The staff has a non-voting chairman (except in cases of a tie) who is the principal military advisor to the secretary of defense.
Each of the services has been embroiled in an almost constant battle over roles and missions in this missile and hydrogen warhead age. Each is seeking the most important strategic role.

Over the past 10 years the bureaucracy within the office of the secretary of defense has grown steadily.
When James V. Forrestal became the first secretary in 1947 he proposed to operate with a total staff of about 100, including three special assistants.
Now there are 28 civilian secretaries, deputy secretaries and assistant secretaries and 2,300 employees.
This, of course, does not include the 135,000 people in and out of uniform who are concerned with "unified" operations and are responsible to the secretary.
On major defense matters—ones which involve national policy—all 28 secretaries have the power to say "no" to proposals from below. Only one man has the power to say "yes." That is the secretary of defense.
There are, additionally, 279 permanent advisory committees in the Pentagon, 140 of them headed by Defense Department personnel and 139 by military men from the three services.
There were many loud complaints to the Johnson committee that decisions were almost impossible to obtain from the Pentagon. In all the testimony, however, only one man touched on a point which has long been discussed privately in and out of Congress and the Pentagon.
Gen. James H. Doolittle pointed out that, in time, missiles will be able to carry hydrogen warheads, and, in event of attack, this nation must have a system of speedy decision.
"Some day," he said, "a rapid, proper decision will be the difference between surviving and not surviving... it may be that we are headed toward a single service and one uniform."

Vatican Banners Fly Monday On Pope's Birthday

VATICAN CITY, March 1 (AP)—Gold and white Vatican banners are flying in honor of Pope Pius' 82nd birthday tomorrow and the 19th anniversary of his election to the throne of St. Peter.
For the frail but still vigorous spiritual ruler of nearly half a billion Roman Catholics the birthday called for a schedule much like other days.
The year just ended for the Pope—the 19th of a pontificate that is considered here to be one of the most burdensome in the 2,000-year history of the Church—has been busy. As in past years, the pontiff received hundreds of thousands of people in audiences and spoke to them upon subjects that ranged from fashions to the morality of administering anesthetics.
Throughout the year, the pontiff had no serious ailment and he faces the 20th year of his administration with what his private physician, Prof. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi, describes as "good health, considering his now advanced years."
During the year, the Pope surprised many of his visitors with the sharpness of his mind and the firmness of his step.
Of many important events that studded the pontiff's calendar, two were historically outstanding. These were the visits of French President Rene Coty on May 13, and of President Theodor Heuss of West Germany on Nov. 27. Coty's visit was the first formal visit here of a French head of state since Pope Leo III crowned Charlemagne emperor of the Holy Roman Empire in the year 800.
Heuss' visit, underscoring tremendous improvement in Vatican-German relations since the days of Adolf Hitler's Nazis, No Protestant German head of state had formally visited a pontiff in years.
Of the Pope's many addresses during the year, the most important probably was his Christmas message to the world—the 19th in a series. As he has in all of them, the pontiff pleaded for peace. But, indicating keen awareness of the state of the world and of recent weapon developments, he asserted men's moral right for self-defense and called upon "true friends of peace" to tighten their ranks against the perils of the times.

Wife Kills Husband After Cook Battle

BARTOW, Fla., March 1 (AP)—A Bartow insurance salesman was shot to death by his wife in the aftermath of a dispute over the way she was fixing hamburgers, Sheriff Hagan Parrish said today.
Mrs. Rae Eloise Lankford said C. L. Lankford had been beating her and she, intending only to scare him with the shotgun, the sheriff added.
Parrish said their son, Charles, 15, confirmed that Lankford, 36, had been beating his wife but the boy was not present at the shooting.
Mrs. Lankford, a nurse, also 36, is in a hospital in a state of extreme shock. She has not been charged, and the sheriff said he plans to present the case to a county grand jury now in session. The sheriff said Charles told this story:
Lankford began fussing with his wife last evening while she was preparing hamburgers. Later he began beating her with a belt.
Charles got a 12-gauge shotgun, a Christmas present from his father, loaded it and threatened to shoot his father if he didn't stop beating his mother. Lankford stopped, and Mrs. Lankford made the boy put the gun away. Then Lankford ordered Charles out of the house, and Charles went to see some neighbors.
Mrs. Lankford gave a statement to this effect, Parrish said.
She confirmed what Charles had said, adding Lankford also hit her several blows with his fist and knocked her down while the boy was not present.
After Charles left, Lankford beat her again with the belt. She went to bed, and her husband threatened to beat her again. She got the shotgun, intending to scare him into leaving her alone. The gun went off, the charge hitting him in the ribs. Lankford died about midnight, two hours after the shooting.

Two other children, Robert, 12, and Jeannie, 5, were in the house at the time of the shooting but did not see it.

Sidewalk Supt. Gary Wales, 2, at rescue efforts to free this Collie dog found wedged between two buildings at Grand Rapids, Mich., summed up the situation in child-like clarity, "doggie caught." Experts from the Humane Society backed the dog 25 feet to free him when it was found that the building facing prevented his moving forward. Ownership of the dog or how he got into this predicament remains a mystery.

County Roads Await Paving

Seventy-five per cent of the Old San Angelo Highway west into the Western Hills Addition, has been brought up to standard and provided with caliche surfacing. Walter Parks, county engineer, said Saturday.

He said that work was progressing on the remaining quarter mile of the road. He estimated the one-mile road will be ready for final surfacing within a few days. Topping will have to wait, he explained, on warmer weather.

Also ready for final topping is three miles of the Salem Church road extending from that point southward. Other road jobs which need only final surfacing include four blocks in Coahoma and half a mile of road on Birdwell Lane's south end.

Road crews have been kept busy in the past few days with maintenance work brought on by the recent rains, Parks said.

A Cappella Choir will be presented in a concert under the auspices of the Junior High School student council.

GREAT TURNOVER

Patrons Down 4,000 Of Kiwanis' Famed Flapjacks

A thousand hungry Big Springers ate 4,000 pancakes, drank more than 50 gallons of milk absorbed all of the coffee that 11 pounds would make and nibbled at 180 pounds of bacon Friday night at the sixth annual Kiwanis Club Pancake Supper.

In addition to these items, the flapjacks were saturated in 200 pounds of "home made" syrup and lubricated with 30 pounds of butter.

Horace Reagan, chairman of the pancake supper committees, said that the event was the most successful in the history of the club. Service was efficient and there were no jams and the customers eldom had to wait more than a few seconds for a place to eat. The high school cafeteria was scene of the supper and nearly every member of the club was on hand to assist in the operation. Weather conditions were ideal.

The exact number of persons served was not available. Reagan said that the club's profit from the supper could not be ascertained until all receipts were in and all expenses deducted. It was pointed out that this year's supper was different in that all of the material used was purchased by the club. In the past, donations have been helpful in boosting the profits. All money derived from the suppers is used in the club's program for underprivileged boys and girls of the town.

Reagan said that a final report on the success of the supper would probably be made at the meeting of the club board of directors on Monday night and repeated at the club luncheon next Thursday.

Jasper Atkins, who has long been renowned for his pancake production, was chef for the evening and his own recipe for the pancakes was again employed.

He used 200 pounds of flour plus all of the other required ingredients in producing the 4,000 pancakes which were consumed.

Roby, Ropesville Girls To Play Here

Steer Gymnasium will be the site for what should be a slam-bang girls bi-district basketball battle between defending Class A champion, Ropesville, and one-time loser, Roby next Tuesday night at 8 p.m.

St. Louis also gave stronger support to the Cardinals after the Browns left following the 1953 season to take up their new role as the Baltimore Orioles.

Two Teams In Clean Sweep

Bowling action in the Industrial League last week saw Toby's Drive-In Grocery grab three games from Donald's Drive Inn.

Roby is winner of District 6-A, and Ropes is 5-A champion. Coached by Mrs. Lena Hughey, Roby has emerged victorious in all but one game this season—that one to powerhouse Abernathy.

While the Braves struck gold at Milwaukee after finishing in the red in Boston in 1952, the Red Sox didn't appear to pick up much of their following.

Davey Williams To Head Dallas Club

DALLAS, March 1 (AP)—Davey Williams, former second baseman of the New York Giants, was named manager today of the Dallas club of the Texas League.

All are seniors with the exception of Summerlin and Murf. Summerlin was an all-tourney pick in the Hardin-Simmons tournament recently, in which the Lionettes were runners-up to Abernathy.

Should Snider be unable to start, the famed Dodger slugger six of a few years ago would be reduced to two, Roy Campanella, the round catcher, lies paralyzed in a New York hospital after a traffic accident; infielder Jackie Robinson has retired; and PeeWee Reese, captain and shortstop, is ticketed for part-time service.

Open Champions On Roll For Colonial

FORT WORTH, March 1 (AP)—Three former U.S. Open golf champions are the latest entries in the Colonial Country Club's national invitational April 30-May 4.

Raymond "Pat" Patterson is in his last year at Ropesville. He guided his Eagles to the state crown last season, winning over Cooper, 64-51, in the finale.

Several factors, of course, are involved in baseball attendance including weather, television competition, attractiveness of the pennant race and so on.

Nice Start

Joe Dobson Jr., 6-year-old Enid, Okla., golfer, had several witnesses in addition to his parents when he made a 115-yard hole-in-one at Meadowlake Course, using a No. 4 iron.

The Dallas man, who had to quit playing because of a back injury but who has been three base coach of the Giants two years, said he now felt physically fit to not only play this season but to return to the major leagues.

His squad's kingpin is Emma Christopher, the only returned regular from last season, who is currently hanging the basket, at a 24-point clip. Christopher is a top-notch driver and can hit from out as well.

Open Champions On Roll For Colonial

George Schepps, general manager of the Dallas club, which is under new ownership this year, said he picked Williams from 15 applicants.

They are Ed Furgol, Lloyd Mangrum and Cary Middlecott. These additions filled 28 places of the 48 open in the restricted field.

Familiar Devastation

The Millford, Conn., waterfront, battered over the years by successive hurricanes, received more of the same by near-gale winds and abnormal tides which forced evacuation of 30 persons from exposed areas.

Cutbacks, Retrenchment Outlook In March Business

NEW YORK, March 1 — More cutbacks, more retrenchment.

That seemed to be the watchword this week as business entered the crucial month of March. Over-all, the picture was anything but bright. An occasional ray of sunshine pierced the gloom: here and there a few hundred idle workers were called back to their jobs.

Discount Ceiling On GI Loans Hiked

WASHINGTON, March 1 — The Veterans Administration has raised the discount ceiling on GI home loans in an effort to stimulate the flow of private funds for the shrinking program.

Discounts up to 6 1/2 per cent will be permitted, depending on the locality and the amount of down payment. The former top was 5 1/2 per cent imposed in August under the Housing Act.

Yesterday's decision also increased the minimum discount, from 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 per cent. The discount is the premium which banks or other lenders demand on a mortgage loan to bring the yield up to prevailing levels.

But these instances were overshadowed by a new wave of industrial layoffs. It hit workers producing steel, home appliances, oil field equipment, auto parts and cars.

American Motors Corp., the only one of the nation's automakers that boosted its 1958 production over last year's pace, will close its Milwaukee and Kenosha, Wis., plants for one week starting Monday. Some 9,700 workers will be out.

The week brought new evidence that big business is putting a check rein on its bold expansion programs. Western Electric Co. postponed a start on a 20-million-dollar plant near Lee's Summit, Mo. A spokesman explained: "We want to wait for the economy to stabilize."

Martin S. Gainsburgh, chief economist of the National Industrial Conference Board, said industry investment in new plants and equipment may decline steadily through 1958. Building industry sources said contracts awarded for factory construction during January were down more than 50 per cent from year-ago levels.

A faint glimmer of hope was provided by Roger Blough, chairman of United States Steel Corp. Incoming orders, he said, have improved a bit in the past 30 days.

In Washington President Eisenhower used the word "depression" at his weekly news conference for the first time.

Prices made news. General Electric Co. triggered a price war in toasters, clocks, radios, irons and other small electric appliances by junking its long-established fair trade program.

Previously in states having fair trade laws, GE had set its own retail prices. Merchants who sold below GE's prices could be hauled into court and fined.

Lamesa Having Building Boom, More To Start

LAMESA, March 1—If construction continues throughout the year as it began, over six million dollars in building permits will be issued here this year. During the first two months of 1958, $533,020 in permits were issued by City Secretary Jack Goodloe. January permits totalled $390,070 and February, $143,950.

Three commercial permits, all for remodeling, were issued in February. Permits for 11 new homes were issued, with the total cost for home building under the permits issued, $131,200.

At the present time, work is progressing rapidly on the Lamesa National Bank building at South First and Houston Streets. The Girl Scout Hut on South Bryan Street is expected to be completed within the next 10 days. Work has begun on the new Furr's Supermarket at North Fourth and Austin Streets. Construction is expected to begin in a very short time on the new $639,000 hospital building at North 15th and Bryan Streets.

The Second Baptist Church plans to let the contract on their new building just across the street from the hospital within the next few weeks. The Presbyterian Church is also expected to begin construction within a month at North 12th and Avenue G. Construction of the city-county swimming pools could also conceivably begin in March. One is to be constructed in the Hollis-Carver Park and the other on North 22nd Street. The new Plainsman Grill, to be operated by Turner Morrisette in the 1000 block on South Dallas Street, is expected to open for business within ten days.

Several firms have remodeled either their present business homes or are moving to new ones. Tunnell Jewelry and The Kids Shop operated by Mr. and Mrs. Cullen Tunnell, have moved from their former locations on South First Street to the West Side of the Square. Lamesa Music Company will move from North Main to the building vacated by the jewelry store and Malcolm Harp Insurance will move to the former location of the children's clothing store. The new location of the music store is being extensively remodeled.

Juvenile Hearings On Monday Docket

A. E. Long, county juvenile officer, said Saturday that he had arranged with R. H. Weaver, juvenile judge, to hear the cases against 15 young lawbreakers at 2 p.m. Monday.

The 15 represent the accumulation of several weeks.

Included, Long said, will be one boy who has already served six months in Gatesville school for stealing money from the YMCA. Now he is back in trouble again for stealing $24 from the YMCA.

Also to be heard are the cases of eight boys of varying ages involved in a far-flung shop lifting activity which was carried on for a number of weeks. Portable radios, air rifles and archery sets seemed to be their favorite loot. According to Long, the chief operator of the group was a boy who celebrated his ninth birthday Saturday.

Several other youngsters are also to be present to explain, if they can, their misconduct to the court. Long said he was certain one boy would be sent to Gatesville.

He is a young Negro who shot and seriously wounded Ismael Rodriguez, employee of the El Rancho cafe, after the cafe man had caught him rifling the place.

The youth has also admitted burglarizing nine other places, Long said.

Fashion Show Preview

Here's a glimpse of beauty to be seen, and fashion trends to be noted for Spring, 1958. Models on this page are among those to be seen at the Webb AFB Officers' Wives' Club Club annual style show Thursday afternoon.

LOVELY AS SHE ENTERS OR LEAVES a room is the ball-gown worn by Mrs. William Evans. In aquamarine nylon net and tulle, the skirt boasts yards and yards of ruffles attached to a bodice of shirred tulle. Mrs. Evans should promenade backwards at the fashion show for the OWC, since the lovely bow at the back is the center of interest for the dress. A nosegay centers the bow, formed of aquamarine ribbon, which tops long streamers.

(Photos by Keith McMillin)

LIGHT-WEIGHT WOOL, just right for early spring days, makes the three-piece ensemble displayed by Mrs. Henry Arbeeny, as one of the costumes she will wear in the style show to be given for members of the Officers' Wives' Club and their friends Thursday. Club-checked in blue, green and white, the full loose coat tops a suit of harmonizing tones in a tweed weave.

FROSTED WITH WHITE ORGANZA, the black linen sheath worn by Mrs. William Boudreaux combines with a cartwheel hat of black straw to make as striking an ensemble as one would desire for the Easter parade and long after. Versatility is one of the strong points of such a frock, since there are no limits for changing its appearance, simply by the use of different accessories. Mrs. Boudreaux will show this dress, along with other attire, for the dessert-style revue Thursday at the Officers' Club.

GLAMOROUS AND PRACTICAL, TOO, is the swim suit which will be shown by Mrs. Julius C. Gutierrez at the fashion revue, slated for Thursday, when the Officers' Wives' Club presents the annual style show. Friends and members will gather at the Officers' Club at 1 p.m., and dessert will be served at 1:30 preceding the parade of models. The swim suit, by Alix of Florida, is fashioned of lame in electric blue and black.

SCALLOPED HEM AND NECKLINE follow the pattern in the elegantly simple black frock which sets off the dark hair and blue eyes of Mrs. Charles Pierce. A single spot of color is the brilliant red in the spray of roses at the waistline. Of black eyelet batiste, the after-dark dress is ideal for year-round wear to cocktail parties, dances or dinner parties. Members of the Officers' Wives' Club will present Mrs. Pierce and several other models in the fashion revue to be given Thursday at Webb AFB.

Sampling The Punch

Preceding the 30th anniversary tea given Friday afternoon by the Modern Woman's Forum, part of the receiving line tried the punch for taste. Shown serving is Mrs. Ira Driver, charter member of the club; Mrs. W. J. McAdams of Celina, who organized the group;

Mrs. Fred Whitaker, president; Mrs. A. C. Bass, in whose home the tea was given; Mrs. Harwood Keith, member of the district board, and Mrs. Cecil Collings of Eastland, former member.

Anniversary Tea Given By Forum

Former members and friends of the Modern Woman's Forum gathered with the group Friday afternoon to celebrate the 30th anniversary of the organization of the forum. The affair was a tea in the home of Mrs. A. C. Bass.

Guests were greeted by the president, Mrs. J. Fred Whitaker, who presented them to Mrs. Harwood Keith, Mrs. W. J. McAdams of Celina, who was instrumental in founding the club; Mrs. Ira Driver, Mrs. Cecil Collings of Eastland, Mrs. Bob Eubank, Mrs. A. B. Wade and Mrs. J. P. Dodge. All in the receiving line are past presidents; Mrs. Keith has been district president and a member of the district board as has Mrs. Eubank.

Members of the forum served in the houseparty and each wore a red rose corsage, the club flower. The table was covered with a lace cloth over white and centered with an arrangement of roses intermingled with white snapdragons held in a silver bowl. On either side were crystal holders with white tapers. Appointments were of silver.

Mrs. Whitaker read an original poem that told of the organization of the Modern Woman's Forum, its triumphs and its trials during the past 30 years.

About 70 called during the tea hours.

Forsan Service Clubmen Are Hosts To Wives

FORSAN—Thursday was Ladies Night for Forsan Service Club, and 40 couples attended the event in the school cafeteria.

Joe Holladay, superintendent of Forsan schools, headed a program on the Hale-Akin Committee, explaining the implications and possibilities of the findings of this study. He stressed the importance of this project which undoubtedly will result in legislation that will vitally affect all schools.

Music was provided by Zemina Lou Cooper who sang "With A Song In My Heart" and "Look for the Silver Lining." She was accompanied by Barbara Theil.

Table decorations followed a St. Patrick's Day theme, and centerpieces were of peach gladioli. Each woman was presented with a corsage of violet roses.

Mary Lou Overton, Lorita Overton, Sherrill Fletcher and Ellabeth Story assisted in serving.

School Cafeteria Has Menus With Variety

FORSAN—The school cafeteria at Forsan has plotted variety in the menus for next week.

Monday: Pigs in blankets, lima beans, greens, peaches, bread and butter, milk. Tuesday: Hamburgers, potato salad, onions, lettuce, pickles, chocolate pudding, milk. Wednesday: Macaroni and cheese, green beans, celery and apple salad, apple pie, bread and butter, milk. Thursday: Cornchip pie, English peas, pineapple and cheese on lettuce, bread and butter, and milk.

'ROUND TOWN With Lucille Pickle

The weather could become a monotonous subject in this section of the country if it were not so unpredictable. Some sections get snowed in; others flooded and some blown away, but our particular part of this land of opportunity seems to be determined to demonstrate its ability to turn out a portion of all three. Oh yes, there's a fourth. Did you ever see such a beautiful day as Friday? The sun just doing its best to get everyone out of doors to garden and visit or just plain take in the natural warmth. Just when we all get relaxed here comes the sleet.

Back from a three weeks automobile trip to Mexico are MR. AND MRS. W. H. SMITH. They returned Thursday after spending some time in Mexico City, Vera Cruz, Oaxaca, San Christobal, Tejuatepec and San Luis Potosi. She said they encountered some bad weather, but generally, their trip was most pleasant.

Little John Howard, their son, stayed with his grandmother, Mrs. Felton Smith, who, in a remote way, enjoyed the couple's trip as much as they did. She was pleased with the beautiful onyx chest they brought to her from Mexico.

MRS. TODD CRANE has returned to her home in San Angelo after spending a week with her mother, Mrs. J. B. Nall.

FELTON SMITH of Lubbock planned to join his brother, Laid Smith, and Rosie Dobbins and others at Possum Kingdom for fishing over the weekend.

So many people come to visit here and we don't find out they have been here until weeks afterwards. One person, here several weeks ago, that many would have enjoyed seeing was MRS. BOB HOWARD who is the former MARTHA HOARD. She and her husband live in Los Angeles now. While they were in Texas they visited her father, J. O. Hoard, who is living in Decatur. Mrs. Howard was reared here and attended the local high school. Their home was at 407 Gregg St. and was one of the really big houses of the town.

The Howards were traveling while he was recuperating from a severe illness and have been out for nine months. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Warren.

It is always pleasant to see friends who have been away a long time, such as MRS. W. J. McADAMS who came back 'home' to be part of the Modern Woman's Forum party Friday. Most of her former high school students have grown up, married and become parents, all eyes, in many instances, grandparents, and she is younger looking than ever. She and Mr. McAdams live at Celina. While here, Mrs. McAdams is the houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Driver and Mr. and Mrs. Garner McAdams.

Another former member of the Forum here for the festivities, was MRS. CECIL COLLINGS of Eastland, Judge Collings, who is associate justice of the 11th District Court of Civil Appeals, joined her Friday night and they returned home Saturday night.

Have you read Coronet's article "Power of Positive Shrinkin'"? The writer declares that it is possible for a person to lose five pounds in seven days if he or she will cast a blind eye on 22 certain foods. They are bread, butter, candy, cereals, chocolate, crackers, cream, custard, cake, gravy, ice cream, jellies and jams, noodles, nuts, oil, pastry, potatoes, pudding, rice, soup (thick), spaghetti and sugar.

This article says that some buttered vegetables are permissible, just cut down on something else. Also the one big thing you should shun like a plague is fat. To keep trim, trim the rim of fat on that good lean steak. Sounds likely, doesn't it?

Guests attended from Lubbock, Morton, Abilene and Lamesa. The hostess gift was an electric skillet.

One Of A Collection

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Martyn are doubtless recalling the history of this cup's addition to her collection of china. They are standing in front of one of the numerous built-in features of their new home at 1725 Yale.

Martyns' Home, Custom-Built, Houses Their Family Heirlooms

A charming home, custom-built to their needs and furnished with family treasures, is the proud possession of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Martyn, 1725 Yale. Much thought went into the planning and Mrs. Martyn herself drew the house plans.

As a result, they have built-in facilities tailored to their own convenience, all the closet space that they could possibly use, and an enormous livingroom that will double as a den. A utility room stands ready at the rear of the home.

The Martyns were transferred here last year from Lubbock, which had been home to the native North Dakotans for 16 years. The move was occasioned by Cosden's purchase of Coltex, which has been Martyn's employer for 20 years. As manager of the roof and asphalt division, he travels much of the state, from Fort Worth to Albuquerque, N. M., and on to El Paso.

When they came to Big Spring, they started the machinery for construction of their home and finally moved into it on December 19. Beige and palest pink have been used for most of the walls which make perfect background for the family heirlooms. For example, part of Mrs. Martyn's china collection is housed in the built-in open cabinet in the dining area off the kitchen.

Among the items displayed are a lovely old cake plate in pale blue with gold trim, which belonged to her mother, and an old-fashioned bone dish in pastels that came from his family. A set of Royal Copenhagen is also exhibited here.

Mrs. Martyn's collection continues in the living room where there are porcelain figurines, various pieces of antique glass, and other treasures. Here, too, is a table from his family.

Significant accents in the decor can also be found on the walls. For instance, off the entrance hall there is a pair of handsome petit point pictures, which were done by one of their two sons. This one, a graduate of Texas Tech who played professional baseball with the Lubbock team for a season, lives in Tulsa. The other son, who went in for track, resides in Midland. It is there that the Martyns' only granddaughter, 3, lives. There are three grandchildren in all.

The dining area is the setting, too, for a choice watercolor by Martyn's sister, who lives in San Angelo. It depicts an authentic country scene.

Sports fans are both the Martyns, whose preference is football. He is an angler too, with a keen bent for trout-fishing; his wife likes it but disclaims any prowess. They have indulged this sport on a number of trips, one of them as far as British Columbia. He is also a huntsman.

Mrs. Martyn is adept at sewing and makes some of her own clothes and a large number for her granddaughter. Churchwise, the couple belongs to St. Paul Presbyterian.

Their next big project is to get the yard started. Martyn already has visions of mowing a lush growth of grass next summer. And Mrs. Martyn, with her love of flowers, envisions bouquets of their own throughout the expansive livingroom.

Farmer-Hill Vows Are Said In Church Rites

In a double ring ceremony Saturday evening, Beverly Jane Hill became the bride of Sherrill Ray Farmer at the First Methodist Church.

Dr. Clyde Smith, district superintendent, read the vows before an altar background of seven-branched candelabra and white stock which flanked the golden cross of the church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Hill, 804 Lancaster, the parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Farmer of Coleman.

Mrs. H. M. Jarratt, organist, accompanied Patti and Peggy Francis of Coahoma as they sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride wore a gray tweed cotton two-piece frock with blouse on top and slim skirt with white accessories. She carried a nosegay of white carnations on a white Bible.

In the wedding tradition, she wore a ring, which is the property of her mother; something new was her wedding suit; she had borrowed a hat from Evalyn Melton, and she wore a blue garter belonging to Mrs. Charles Dunnam. There was a penny in the bridal slipper.

Mrs. Bobby Duncan of Abilene attended her sister as matron of honor; her frock was of pink jersey and her flowers, a nosegay of blue iris.

Carroll Clark of Waco, a cousin of the bridegroom, was his best man.

At a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Hill, the bride's brother, guests were registered by Mrs. Charles Duncan. Members of the house party were Donna Belew, Miss Melton, and Mrs. Hill, the hostess.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Clark, Mrs. Marion Graves and Mrs. Ed Graves, the parents of the bridegroom, and Joyce, Eddie and Burl Farmer of Coleman.

The couple will make a home in Big Spring, where the bridegroom is an employe of the city. He is a graduate of Coleman High School.

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School, where she was a member of the choir and the Shorthand Club. She is employed by the State Comptroller of Public Accounts.

JANE WATSON

Betrothal Of Jane Watson Is Revealed

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Watson of Austin, formerly of Big Spring, are announcing the betrothal of their daughter Jane to Charles Emory Long III. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Long Jr., Midland, who are also former residents of Big Spring.

The couple will exchange wedding vows June 7 in University Methodist Church at Austin.

A graduate of McCallum High School, Austin, Miss Watson is a sophomore at the University of Texas, where she is a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority.

Long, a graduate of Midland High School, is also a sophomore at the University, where he is majoring in law. He is affiliated with Kappa Sigma fraternity.

Alamo Had Its Own Freedom Fighters

By FRANK H. KING
By The Associated Press

In a new book, "13 Days to Glory," the heroes of the Alamo come to life as tough freedom fighters who knew no apron strings. The author is Loh Tinkle.

Written with new light and meaning, it is a swift story of the siege of the old mission-fortress of San Antonio. Day by day the drama moves inexorably to the climax of Santa Anna's slaughter and carnage at dawn on the Sunday morning of March 6, 1836.

To the last man, the 182 defenders were butchered and their bodies burned, like Homer's heroes at Troy. Nobody knows for sure what happened to the ashes but their spirit lived in the battle cry "Remember the Alamo!"

"The most perfect drama in American history," Walter Prescott Webb, the historian, calls it. "A story that will stand many tellings, but it has never been told better than here."

The author spent three years in research and from his penetrating study the men of the Alamo emerge with new stature. They are more human for all their frailties.

Goliad Junior High Growing

Work is approximately 40 per cent complete on the new Goliad Junior High School, under construction just south of the College Heights elementary campus. The section at right is a portion of the central part of the classroom building, which will house administrative offices. Stretching out to the right is one of the classroom wings. Construction schedule calls for completion of the plant before school opens next September.

THE THREE R'S — TODAY'S VERSION

Remedial Training Part Of Junior High Program

By DON HENRY

Does Big Spring have a remedial school program? Is it effective? Is it adequate?

The answers are yes, yes, and no, respectively.

School officials have summed up the situation of the remedial program in this manner: There is a program; but it is not as strong as they desire.

Although teachers on all grade levels help students who need extra instruction, there are only three special classes in the entire system—all in junior high.

Work of teachers in these three classes has been very successful, and officials are looking for places to insert more classes in the curriculum. Lack of funds has hampered them, though.

One of the problems of the special instructional classes is with parents, school officials reported. When parents hear that their child is enrolled in a remedial class, the immediate reaction is that the student must be mentally retarded.

But just as quickly, school officials counter that the students are not mentally retarded but have fallen back in certain categories, because of illness, moving about, or some other reason. In a great many cases, schoolmen report that inadequate instruction in lower grades slowly creates a deficiency.

ABILITY THERE

As one teacher put it, "The ability is there, but something has caused a deficiency in some phase of work. This leads to discouragement and sometimes to quitting school. Then it becomes our job to help them regain their confidence."

One remedial course is taught each year in junior high, but only two were on schedules until this semester. Remedial reading was added in January in the seventh grade. Remedial math is taught in the eighth and English in the ninth.

Mrs. Joy Corvin, teaching the reading course, said that already she can see a difference in her students' attitudes although she has had them only a few weeks. She said the first major obstacle is creating a love for reading, and with her first class, she has already achieved that.

Students who came in the class in January hating to read are now asking for additional work on top of regular assignments.

Reading, feels Mrs. Corvin—as well as school officials—is the key to all subjects. If a student cannot read, he cannot get assignments in any course and thus falls behind.

Students' No. 1 problem is in pronunciation, Mrs. Corvin has found. Students comprehend the meaning of words but they cannot pronounce them. Also their conception of phonetics is weak.

MOVE RAPIDLY

Checking results of achievement tests given in elementary school revealed that some students in the seventh grade have reading abilities from 3.5 to 5.2 grade levels. Mrs. Corvin divided her class of 23 into two groups and gave them fourth and fifth grade readers, and already they are wanting to finish their books so they can get to the next one.

Tests at the end of the year will show results of the reading course, but on the other two, success has already been shown.

Mrs. Mayme Clanton, the remedial math instructor, said students who came into her classes have since made A's and B's in high school math courses, which indicates the value of the course. Students take only one semester, but it is offered in both the fall and spring. One class is held each semester and has been since it was started in 1955, but school officials see the need for more classes.

Mrs. Clanton takes her students back to fundamentals and slowly brings them up to their regular grade level. Each child works with his own difficulties, and each child charts his own progress. This creates a challenge to them, she said.

With this intensive review, students have advanced as much as four years, and 80 per cent come up to their current grade level.

BIG JUMPS

In the ninth, Mrs. Marie Carter reports the same type of advancement. The English remedial or refresher course was established also in 1955. After a semester in the course, most students jump at least two years and some as many as five.

This semester, Mrs. Carter has 21 students in her grammar class, with most of them having more trouble with grammar than spelling, although she takes up both phases. Most of her students are boys, she said; most of them don't think boys need English.

School officials reported that the three classes were definitely not cure-alls but they were helps. The remedial help does not end with the three classes, either. All teachers in the system constantly try to help students who need special help.

Sam Anderson, assistant superintendent-curriculum, said the true test of a teacher was how much she worked with students who needed help. And he felt that the greatest majority of the teachers in the system were working to that aim. Also he said that elementary school teachers are trying more this year than in the past to help youngsters who are weak in mathematics.

Counseling and achievement tests have shown that many students are inadequate in some phases of work, and a small amount of help in that phase will overcome it.

And that is the school's objective in emphasizing the remedial program. (Seventeenth in a series).

3 Fliers Quietly Await Space Trial

By JACK LEFLER

LOS ANGELES, March 1 (AP) — Three quietly confident men are moving step by step toward their great adventure—flight into space.

They are the first team, the real pioneers, in the United States' project to send a manned aircraft into the inky void beyond earth's atmosphere.

They are the pilots assigned to fly the secrecy-shrouded rocket plane X15.

The momentous first flight is tentatively set for March 1959.

Who are these pilots whose sights are set higher than man has ever ventured?

Scott Crossfield of North American Aviation Co. will take the X15 on its first flight. He's 37, has a wife and five children. He's an aeronautical engineer, designer and test pilot. He was the first man to fly twice the speed of sound.

The X15 is being built under the heaviest of wraps by North American at its Los Angeles plant.

Its performance is estimated at 3,600 miles an hour and 100 miles altitude. Sen. Barrett (R-Wyo.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee has said it "will eventually push to altitudes of 400 miles or more."

Air Force Secretary James H. Douglas calls the X15 "a step toward a manned satellite." Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Thomas D. White says "It will pave the way for a hypersonic craft that will circle the earth many times before returning into the atmosphere."

The little craft will be lifted to approximately 40,000 feet by a mother ship—a B52 bomber. Then it will blast off on its own mighty rocket.

Its course will be between Edwards AFB in southern California and Wendover AFB in north central Utah, a distance of 480 miles. The sun-baked bed of a dry lake will be used for landing.

Lamesa Charter Election Called

LAMESA — The Lamesa City Council Thursday passed an emergency ordinance calling a charter amendment election for April 1.

The amendment would allow the council to take property into the city without petition from property owners. The election was set to coincide with the regular city council election. The council also voted to lay a 12-inch water line to the new swimming pool site.

Visits, Special Programs To Mark 'School Week'

Quimby Asserts Facts Rebuke Recession Talk

In an introductory talk before the American Business Club at that organization's regular Friday luncheon at the Settles Hotel, Bill Quimby, new manager of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, lauded the club for focusing the attention of the nation on Big Spring during the annual ABC Relays.

He expressed the belief that the meet would give the city more publicity than any one thing in its history, likening it to the Texas City explosion "without the explosion."

Quimby also stated his organization was prepared to assist in staging the Relays to the point of selling tickets, supplying tenographic help in getting out correspondence, etc.

Quimby also said the economic boom within the 132-county area comprising the West Texas Chamber of Commerce belied the stories of a recession.

He pointed out that during the years of the drought, from 1949 through 1955, retail sales in West Texas increased 56.7 per cent, buying income was up 69.4 per cent, bank deposits advanced 53.3 per cent, the area's population boomed 24.6 per cent and its non-farm employment gained 27 per cent.

From 1947 to the present time, he added, Big Spring's motor vehicle registrations increased 77 per cent, school enrollment was up 60 per cent, retail sales grew by 94 per cent, electric meters within the city gained 93 per cent, the number of telephones advanced by 61 per cent, water meters gained 98 per cent and the number of gas meters increased 103 per cent.

Quimby also recited the need for supporting the aims and the ambitions of the Chamber of Commerce, which plays an important part in the development of any community.

Bill Bradford was introduced as a new member of the club and Ray Weir was greeted as a returning member. Bill Kuykendall was a guest.

Big Spring schools will observe Texas Public School Week, starting Monday, with a series of programs.

Main events of the week will be a school-wide exhibit, opening Tuesday, of instructional materials and equipment; talks and demonstrations by teachers and pupils at all of the service club luncheons during the week; a series of radio and television programs; and a special visitation day.

In addition, parents are being invited to dine in the school lunchroom at the regular adult price of 45 cents any day during the week.

Although Thursday has been designated as special visitation day in the schools, parents and others interested are invited to visit the classrooms any day they desire, said Supt. Floyd Parsons.

No activities are planned for Friday, since school will be suspended to permit teachers to participate in the District No. 4 meeting of the Texas State Teachers Association in Odessa.

The school-wide exhibit is planned for the former Ford Motor Co. building at 4th and Bell. It will open at 9 a.m. Tuesday. Although emphasis will be given to science and mathematics, displays also will feature the Distributive Education program, Industrial Vocational Training, art, agriculture, and regular courses.

Mrs. Rpth Rutherford, West Ward-Park Hill elementary principal, is chairman of the exhibit arrangements. She and other workers will devote Monday to preparation of the displays.

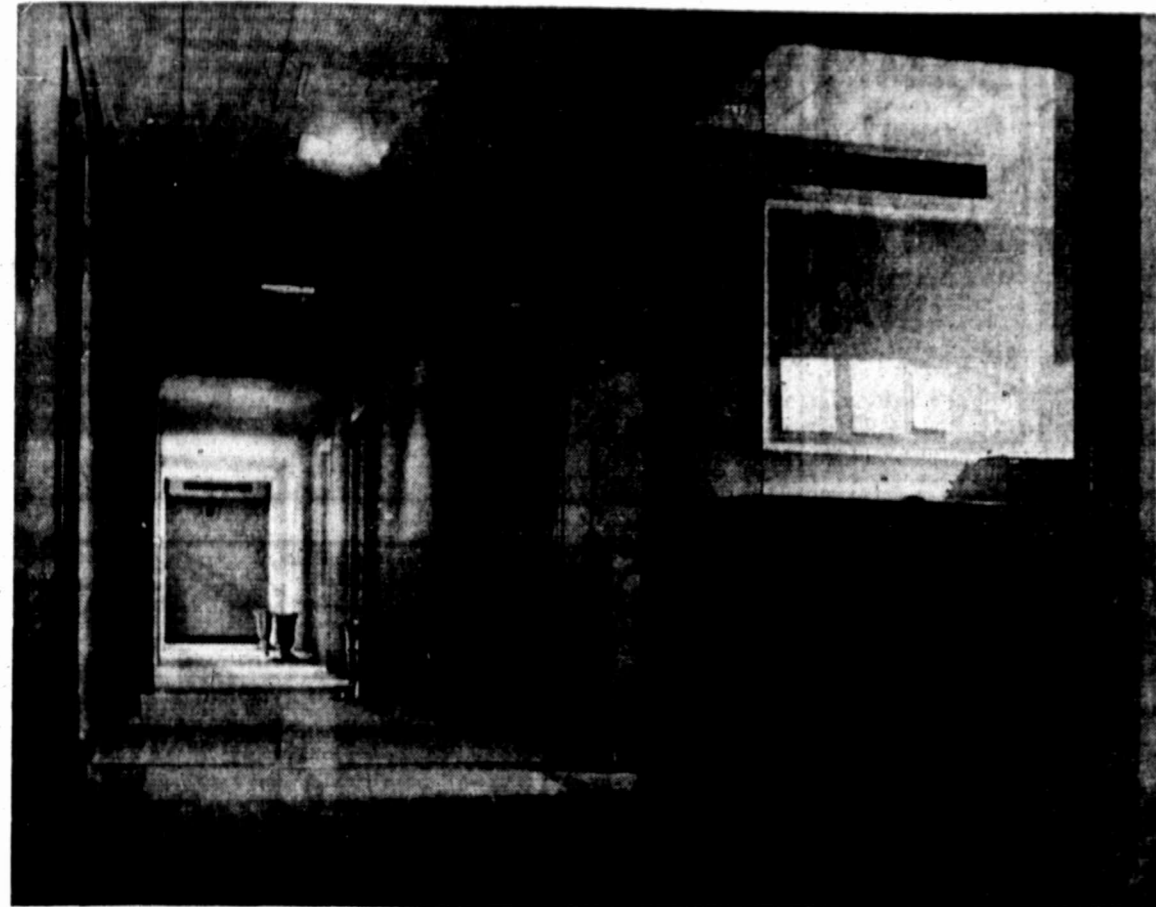

Schedule of service club programs will include a talk at the Rotary luncheon Tuesday by Hazel Lawrence, a talk by Gene Powell, HJC instructor, at the Downtown Lions Club meeting Wednesday, along with a panel discussion of the Hale-Alkin school survey; a talk by Mrs. Elfa Canfield at the Kiwanis meeting Thursday; and an address by Bob Dyer of the HJC science faculty at the American Business Club luncheon Friday.

Philip Wayne, high school speech instructor, is in charge of radio and television programs. M. R. Turner is chairman of the service club phase of the observance.

Two Plead Innocent

Regino Sanchez, charged with DWI, pleaded not guilty and his bond was fixed at $500 Thursday. Tom Samuels, charged with aggravated assault, also pleaded not guilty and his bond was also fixed at $500.

CORRIDOR SCENE IN REMODELED HOSPITAL WING
Renovation provided eight new patient rooms

NEW PATIENT ROOMS FULLY EQUIPPED
Each has oxygen, telephone jack, speaker system

Hospital Remodeling Nearing Completion, New Rooms In Use

A major remodeling project at the Howard County Hospital Foundation is nearing completion, and new rooms for patients already are finished and in use.

The hospital gained a net of eight new rooms through remodeling of the second floor of the east (clinic) wing of the institution. This floor formerly was used as nurses' quarters.

Remodeling of the floor brought about the complete renovation, redecorating and re-furnishing of 14 rooms.

Work is continuing on the ground floor of the building wing, to provide additional space for doctors' offices, as well as more waiting-room space.

The Foundation is spending a total of around $75,000 on the renovation project.

Modern facilities mark the rooms in the remodeled wing. Bathroom facilities are connected with several of these rooms.

Utility system has included the piping of oxygen into each room, also suction lines. Each room has a telephone jack, and each has a loud speaker system whereby patients can converse with the nurses' station in the corridor, and in turn provide conversational outlet from nurses' station to the rooms.

Central heating and air conditioning, with individual thermo-static controls, are installed in the wing.

Burglars Empty Vending Machine

Burglars were only half successful in their attempts at places on the North Side Thursday night.

An unknown amount of change was taken from a soft drink vending machine at the Planter's Gin during the night. Police said entry was made through a door on the south of the building.

An attempted break-in at Kate Morrison Elementary School didn't materialize. Police officers found evidence of a try, but that was all.

UF Membership Meeting Scheduled For March 20

Annual membership meeting of the United Fund of Big Spring and Howard County will be held on March 20.

The date was set by the UF executive committee in a session Thursday. The meeting will be at 5 p.m. on the 20th, in the Chamber of Commerce offices, and is open to everyone who has contributed to the United Fund.

New officers will be elected, as well as a third of the board of trustees—those whose three-year terms expire under a rotation system.

R. V. Middleton currently is president of the United Fund, Horace Garrett and G. H. Hayward are vice presidents, and John Currie is treasurer.

Middleton named a nominating committee, which will submit a report at the March 20 session. On this group are Raymond River, Roy Reeder and Truman Jones.

Ball Park Drive Still $9,000 Short

The drive for two new Little League baseball parks in Big Spring is still more than $9,000 short of the goal.

Sam Burns, Moose Lodge governor, reports his organization has hiked the total to $73,500 in a week's work. The Moose Lodge took over the campaign recently to raise $10,000 for the ball parks.

The Little League fields are needed to replace two others which will be razed to make way for re-routing of Highway 80.

Members of the Moose are at the midpoint of a two-week drive aimed at contacting all business houses and professional men in Big Spring. A house-to-house canvass may be made later. There was $518 donated to the Little League cause at the time the Moose took over the drive.

Burns reported a similar drive will be started today at Webb AFB, with M. Sgt. Clarence G. Lovell at the helm. Col. Kyle Riddle, commandant, has pledged his full support to the drive.

Individuals and business firms who have contributed in the past week include:

- Hiburn and McClam Appliances, Co-Op City and Supply, Empire Southern Gas, $25 each.
- Hall Compton Auto Parts, $20.
- Quality Body Shop, 14th Wheel Alignment, LAM Cafe, Fraser and Oliver Garage, Wayne B. (Red) Smith, Dr. W. B. Berg, A. E. Turner Jr., $10 each.

Want Success? Get Attention Of Hal Wallis

By JAMES BACON HOLLYWOOD, March 1 (AP)—The so-called wise ones in the movie capital say that a sure path to success is to get Hal B. Wallis interested in you.

Wallis, an independent producer on the Paramount lot, has an enviable talent for discovering potential stars. He also has a way with a dollar.

No Wallis picture has lost money — and at 59 he has made 400 movies. Some have become blockbusters, especially the Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis series.

The producer's sharp business sense extends far beyond movies. With his wife, silent screen comedienne Louise Fazenda, Wallis owns a healthy chunk of San Fernando Valley real estate. He bought heavily before the war when the valley was fields and orchards. By 1960, a million people are expected to call the San Fernando Valley their home.

Elvis Presley, Shirley MacLaine, Anthony Franciosa and Johnny Mathis became stars under Wallis' guidance.

Burt Lancaster, Kirk Douglas, Charlton Heston, Corinne Calvet, and Wendell Corey are others discovered by Wallis when they were unknowns.

How does he do it?

"I'm my own talent scout," he says, "also my own boss. When I see someone who excites me, I don't have to wait for the discovery to filter through five department heads before it gets to the boss for final decision. More talent is lost that way. If I like someone I buy him on the spot before anyone else knows about it."

Wallis confuses rival moviemakers by making money from offbeat personalities and stories.

CINEMA COMMENT

'Hatful Of Rain' A Screen Shocker

By BOB SMITH "A Hatful of Rain." There have been several good movies in recent years on the subject of dope addiction. This latest is also the best. It was taken bodily from the Broadway play that shocked even jaded big town appetites.

The film and its stars have been among the front runners for the annual Academy Awards. It is the morbid and fascinating tale of a young addict, penetratingly played by Don Murray, who can't give up the habit. The conflicts with his family resulting from his addiction provide a springboard for unusual drama.

Eva Marie Saint is a standout as the young wife whose love, she thought, was not enough to bring her husband in out of the rain. (The "rain" will be explained in the film.)

Anthony Franciosa gives a top performance as the brother who loved both his kinsman and his wife. Veteran actor Lloyd Nolan is up to more than his usual snuff as the father whose undeserved cruelty toward his sons caused all the trouble in the first place. Maybe some people who think the subject of narcotics should be thoroughly censored won't like "A Hatful of Rain." But most people who see it will be glad they did.

"Doctor at Large." Those who saw the previous two films in this series, "Doctor in the House" and "Doctor at Sea," found themselves going into spasms. This third spoof on medicine in general is only slightly less funny.

Medicine is normally a somber subject, but this little gem of an import from Britain gently and humorously bares the foibles of that profession. Many of the situations and characters are uniquely British, and thus are especially tickling to the American funnybone. The foibles and peccadillos of many different kinds of Englishmen are treated with fond impudence and amicable derision.

There are some facts of life twisted to the plot but, being of the British viewpoint, they are new and refreshing to Americans.

"A Farewell to Arms." This is the second film version of Hemingway's classic. Rock Hudson is starred as the ambulance driver who gives up his military arms for the arms of nurse Jennifer Jones, while an officer high in the ranks of the Italian Army, Vittorio de Sica, looks on worriedly.

There are some good battle scenes and a few breathtaking vistas of the Italian mountains, but most of the film's time is devoted to the romantic plot, in accordance with Hollywood's post-war formula. Some critics have labeled this movie a distortion of the Hemingway spirit, others have praised it. In this light, it might be pointed out that Ben Hecht, a personal friend of Hemingway's, wrote the screenplay.

The Mob

Police sleuth Broderick Crawford runs up against gun-toting Ernest Borgnine, in this scene from "The Mob," Friday and Saturday at the State.

CRITIQUE

Evans' Amarillo Concert Success

By BOB SMITH Big Spring's Billy Evans, it is reported, gave a superb performance of professional calibre last week at the Amarillo Symphony concert.

Evans had won first place in piano division in the Symphony's annual competitions. Last week's concert featured winners of the contest.

Evans' playing was so good, the audience demanded an encore, for which he presented a Chopin waltz. The audience also applauded lustily for a second encore.

Evans had been practicing here with his teacher, Jack Hendrix, who doubled up on a second piano. But, at the concert, presence of an orchestra plus a big and lively audience apparently brought out the best in Evans.

There was no criticism of Evans' technique, finesse or interpretation, and the Amarillo audience approved whole heartedly. Hendrix, HCJC music department head, accompanied Evans to Amarillo.

The mid-semester show of the adult art class at HCJC began Friday. The exhibit is being staged in the college library where the paintings will hang for one month. Subjects of the paintings range from abstractions, portraits, to landscapes and still life, with many different approaches. The class has increased in size considerably with the new semester registrations. The exhibit is open to the public and should provide interest for those interested in art and its many diversified facets.

Elvis Spills The Beans About His Peculiar Hip Movements

By JAMES BACON HOLLYWOOD, March 1 (AP)—Maybe it's because he's Army bound but Elvis Presley is revealing trade secrets — especially about his wriggles.

The other day at Paramount Elvis joined a reporter and Sophia Loren at lunch. The talk got around to the screaming bobby-soxers who often drown out Elvis' singing.

"I bet you wish they would stop screaming," said the beauteous Italian actress.

"Never," answered Elvis. "And I'll tell you why. They cover up my mistakes. Lots of times when I start reaching for a high note, I know I'm not going to make it so I just make some crazy movement and the kids scream and no one knows the difference."

He also makes the movements when the music moves him. "You know," he mused, "the hardest thing in the world is to be yourself. Everytime I'm myself, I get criticized for it."

At this Sophia comforted him: "Elvis, I think you are a very nice boy."

"Thanks a lot," answered Elvis. "You know that's the worst thing you can say about me."

Mike Curtiz, who is directing Elvis in "King Creole," his last preinduction movie, believes the singer has a great future as a dramatic actor.

"Always," says Mike. "I am having trouble getting actors to underplay their parts. They all want to chew the scenery. No so Elvis. He underplays naturally—just like John Wayne and Gary Cooper."

"Wayne and Cooper underplay in an awkward way, which is part of their charm," Elvis has the same quality but much smoother."

Curtiz said: "I had never met Elvis until this picture. I had only read of him. I expected the worst but instead got a hard-working, cooperative and truly humble actor."

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—If you want to become a movie star, write a fraternity brother. That's what John Ashley did.

You may never have heard about John Ashley, but the teenagers have. He's starred in the only three movies he's appeared in. The titles? "Dragstrip Girl," "Motorcycle Gang," and "Hell Raiders."

All are low-budget films geared to the teen-age trade. All have been moneymakers.

Two years ago John was living at the Sigma Chi house at Oklahoma A&M. He learned that John Wayne press agent also was a Sigma Chi from Oklahoma A&M.

Bev. Barnett, the press agent, got his start in Hollywood by looking up Wayne, a fraternity brother from the University of Southern California. After college, Ashley came on here and looked up Barnett.

Barnett took him around to an Although, 32 Ashley looks 17, which makes him a natural for the teen-age pictures.

"The pictures won't win any Academy Awards," says Barnett, "but at least John is starred in them. When I first knew Wayne he'd was a star in Westerns that cost about $20,000 to make."
