30 POUNDS OF ILLEGAL ROLL-YOUR-OWN SMOKES ... A. N. Standard and C. L. Rogers inspect a bag of marijuana

NEGRO HELD

Huge Quantity Of Marijuana Seized In Raid On Train

Somebody had a hunch—a correct one. As a result, there's a Negro in the county jail charged with possession of marijuana, and there are 30 pounds of alleged marijuana worth over $25,000 in the police department safe.

At the time arrested, Whitmore had a suitcase containing the marijuana in five-pound bags. On the retail market in Big Spring, the dope would bring about $20,000 but officers said it would be worth more than that farther north and east, and Whitmore said he was going that way.

The story started when Whitmore got on the train at Sierra Blanca, 87 miles this side of El Paso, early today. Train officials offered to help him with the large suitcase but he refused. This caused them to suspect that he was carrying dope or something illegal.

They wired the sheriff at Sierra Blanca, who in turn called customs officials in El Paso. The customs men said they thought a large amount of dope had been slipped across the border recently and they called the police department here to alert them.

Angry Cops Seek Killers Of Deputies

COPPERHILL, Tenn. — "We haven't caught them yet. But we will. We won't quit until we do."

Later, the well dressed Negro said he purchased the dope in El Paso for "about $400" and that he planned to get rid of it in St. Louis—his train ticket was to St. Louis.

Local officers had no way of determining if the sacks actually contained marijuana, but Rogers said he and Standard planned to take it to Austin Tuesday to be tested. Both officers and Mitchell said it tasted, smelled, and looked like marijuana.

Officers reported that a pound of ground marijuana would make about 640 cigarettes, which would be about 19,200 "sticks" from the 30 pounds. A single marijuana cigarette will sell for $1 in Big Spring, policemen said, but naturally the price goes higher farther north and east.

Jury Forming For Trial In Slaying Of Gas Station Man

WACO — The trial of Allen Runo, 24, of Houston, charged with murder in the Feb. 3 kidnap-slaying of a filling station attendant, was called here today.

A venire of 300 was called. Dist. Atty. Tom Moore Jr. said jurors will be qualified for the death penalty.

Runo and Franklin Perkins, 28, of Oklahoma City, are named on a joint indictment accusing them of killing Ray Spencer, 51. Perkins' trial has not been set.

A change of venue was denied last week by Judge D. W. Bartlett.

Wright and Rogers, the father of 10 children, were the ones who stepped from their patrol car on a routine check of the tavern located on State Highway 68 about six miles north of here.

The probability that politics may have entered into the slaying was voiced by Copperhill Mayor Emil Greene.

Payne said he had several leads to the Saturday night shotgun killings of Louis Wright, 49, and R. A. (Bob) Rogers, 65, but not enough evidence to make any arrests.

Appeals Planned In Map Theft Case

PITTSBURGH — Defense lawyers say they will appeal the convictions of two men on charges of conspiring to transport stolen Gulf Oil Corp. maps across state lines.

Emanuel Lester of New York and Odie Seagraves, 73, of Houston were convicted Saturday. Lester's brother, Edward Liberman, also of New York, was acquitted. The jury recommended mercy for Seagraves.

Lester was given a three year federal prison term. Seagraves was fined $5,000. Lester was freed on $5,000 bond pending outcome of his appeal.

The government charged the men knowingly dealt in oil exploration maps stolen from Gulf's headquarters in Pittsburgh.

Suspects In Gay Mood

Allen Runo, left, and Franklin Perkins appear in gay spirits during their change in venue in hearing in Waco. Court appointed attorneys for the pair, who are charged with the Feb. 3 slaying of Ray Spencer, of Waco, claim the slaying has received so much publicity it would be impossible for them to receive a fair trial in McLennan County.

Navy Plans Another Try On Vanguard

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. — Frustrated by a faulty weather report, a crane operator's absence at a crucial moment of need, and a series of minor technical breakdowns, the Navy today prepared a new attempt to launch its Vanguard space rocket, possibly this week.

A new firing schedule was under discussion in conferences between officials of the Naval Research Laboratory in Washington, the Martin Co.—builder of the big rocket—in Baltimore, and the Air Force missile test center here.

It was conceivable that a new attempt to fire the three-stage rocket, and possibly to place a grapefruit size satellite in an orbit, might come within a day or two.

The Vanguard rocket came within 35 seconds of launching Saturday, shortly after 3 p.m.

Then, it was learned from informed sources, the so-called umbilical line—the missile's last link with the ground—failed to disconnect.

The crane operator who was to have been on hand for such an emergency was missing. As a result there was a costly delay.

Similarly, a "hold" or temporary delay in the approaches toward launching time was ordered on the basis of a weather report indicating high winds aloft.

Four-Lane Park Road Approved

Howard County Commissioners Court Monday gave official approval to plans drawn by Walter Parks to transform half a mile of the highway from FM 700 southward to the City Park into a four-lane highway.

Under the plan as submitted, two paved segments 24 feet wide would be provided with a 25-foot safety zone separating the traffic lanes. A traffic circle would be built at the point where the roads lead off from the main highway to the City Park, the Cowen Club and the Big Spring Country Club.

Bank Deposits Up From March Of '57

Table with 4 columns: Category, March 14, 1958, March 14, 1957, Gain (Loss). Rows include Loans and Discounts, DEPOSITS, Cash, and Total Resources.

Three Big Spring banks showed a half million dollar increase in deposits on March 4 over the comparable date last year, combined statements showed Monday.

The figures were revealed in statements in response to calls from the U. S. Comptroller of Currency and the State Banking Commissioner for condition as of close of business on March 4, 1958.

Loans were down by more than three quarters of a million, cash was up nearly a million and a half and total resources had gained over three-quarters of a million.

DEATH occurred from a 45 calibre bullet fired into his mouth at about 4:30 a.m. Dr. C. H. McCuller, coroner for Bossier Parish, ruled the death a suicide.

The Vanguard rocket came within 35 seconds of launching Saturday, shortly after 3 p.m.

Col. Robert D. Whittington Jr., for two years commander of the hospital unit and flight surgeon at Webb Air Force Base, died early Monday at his home in Bossier City, La., victim of a gunshot wound.

Col. Whittington came to Webb in 1955, remaining until last December when he was separated from the service. Recently he had been a medical administrator on the staff of the Veterans Administration Hospital in Shreveport.

Member of a prominent Bossier Parish family, Col. Whittington, 43, had been in failing health in recent weeks. The family residence is at 435 Watson St., Bossier City.

Senator Opens Testimony In Hearing Today

WASHINGTON — Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) testified today for an accelerated federal public works program and declared, "what we want is action—not credit, not an issue."

"We want to get rid of the issue by putting people on jobs," the Senate Democratic leader said.

Suicide Is Ruled In Gun Death Of Col. Whittington

Col. Robert D. Whittington Jr., for two years commander of the hospital unit and flight surgeon at Webb Air Force Base, died early Monday at his home in Bossier City, La., victim of a gunshot wound.

Johnson was the first witness at a public works committee hearing on a resolution he and 63 other senators are sponsoring to put the Senate on record as favoring a speedup of civil public works projects.

Death occurred from a 45 calibre bullet fired into his mouth at about 4:30 a.m. Dr. C. H. McCuller, coroner for Bossier Parish, ruled the death a suicide.

The Texan said the resolution covered about four billion dollars already appropriated for such projects as dams, river and harbor improvements, and public buildings.

Johnson noted that President Eisenhower on Saturday "announced some steps to pump new vigor into the economy."

"I believe most of us would endorse those steps—insofar as they have been explained up to this point," he said. "In return, I believe we should let him know that we endorse the fullest practicable use of his resources to battle unemployment."

Eisenhower announced that some already appropriated public works funds would be released. He also called for extension of the period during which workers are eligible for unemployment insurance benefits.

SPECIAL MESSAGE James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said a special message dealing with extension of unemployment insurance benefits probably will go to Congress about midweek.

Hagerty replied "I just don't know" when asked whether that program will require action by state legislatures, in addition to approval by Congress.

He added that no dates have been fixed for sending other phases of the Eisenhower anti-recession program to Congress.

North Korea To Free Pilot Shot Down Over Truce Line

PANMUNJOM, Korea — North Korea today agreed to return a U.S. Air Force pilot shot down over the demilitarized zone last Thursday by Communist gunfire.

Amarillo Snow Warning Lifted

The Amarillo Weather Bureau lifted a snow warning Monday a few flurries fell at Dalhart. The forecast earlier had predicted up to 5 inches of snow from a low pressure system from the Pacific Coast.

North Korea also agreed to return a U.S. Air Force pilot shot down over the demilitarized zone last Thursday by Communist gunfire.

Overnight temperatures ranged from 20 degrees at Dalhart to 60 at Brownsville. Amarillo had 27 and Lubbock 32.

The low pressure trough early in the day extended from around Sherman through the Dallas-Fort Worth area and southwestward across the state.

Scattered rain, clouds and cooler weather was forecast for all of Texas.

Downed Pilot And Wife

Capt. Leon Pfeiffer, left, was identified as the pilot of the U.S. Sabrejet, shot down by ground fire near the demilitarized zone in Korea. His wife, right, had been notified by the Air Force it had "no information on his physical status or location," but later the Communist North Koreans offered to release the files.

A Bible Thought For Today

And he began to teach them, that the Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders, and of the chief priests, and scribes, and be killed, and after three days rise again. (Mark 8:31)

Be Careful Of Those Sacred Stones

Whether the national Capitol needs a face-lift or should remain "as is" can be called a moot question, for sure. The plan, worked out by a five-man commission headed by Speaker Sam Rayburn, proposed that a 32.5 foot outward extension of the east front of the building be constructed at a cost of $10.1 million, and gave the order to invite bids on the project.

Touch a stone of yon grizzled facade—no, sir, never! Protests against profaning the sacred precincts of the ancient building, finished in part during the war of 1860s, brought loud cries from all quarters, and threats of injunction.

Almost Is Still Not Quite

Explorer II took off beautifully from the Cape Canaveral launching site, roared into the central blue, gave off a few radio signals—and vanished from sight, sound and human scientific ken. Scientists agree that the final stage failed to fire and the huge rocket burned out in its plunge back to earth.

If this had happened to a Russian Sputnik, nobody outside a few scientists and technicians would have known of it. Undoubtedly Soviet science has met with similar experience not once, not twice, but time after time, with the outside world and the Russian people none the wiser.

Red Propaganda And The Summit Talks

WASHINGTON—It takes genuine courage to issue a note such as the government of the United States has just sent to the Soviet Union in an attempt to brush aside the pretense of the Communists and get to the root of their demand for a "summit" conference.

any intention to make any concessions anywhere in the world. The only explanation that is regarded here as plausible is that the Communist rulers are trying to placate their own public opinion. It is important for Khrushchev to gain prestige with his own people, and there would seem to be no better way from his standpoint than to begin hobnobbing with the President of the United States and the Prime Minister of Great Britain.

Egg Throwing At The Summit

WASHINGTON (AP)—It looks like an egg-throwing contest — with old eggs. Both sides are splattered in the high-level American-Soviet discussions on how to hold a summit meeting.

Premier Bulganin has written President Eisenhower four letters since December. Eisenhower has replied with three. Both agree peace is wonderful. Each uses a lot of paper blaming the other side for the mess of the world's in.

Others heaved eggs of their own from the sidelines: Secretary of State Dulles, Communist party boss Khrushchev, the State Department, the Soviet Foreign Office.

So, while both sides talk of the summit, both are using the exchanges for propaganda. This may be the diplomats' idea of how to arrange a meeting. To a layman it may seem the best way to have none at all.

Tax Profanity, And Reduce The Debt

You'd almost have to have your head buried in the sand not to notice the way our money is being handled in Washington.

We could give the rabbits lessons in propagation when it comes to adding to the national debt.

More than one member of the hot stove league dedicated to the study of the state of affairs and affairs of state has advocated that the painless way to fill the money bag which could be used to flog the debt to death would be to have a national lottery.

The thinking there must be that everyone is so much in arrears of his financial obligations now that he wouldn't hesitate to put the touch on his banker for a few shillings for a lottery ticket, in the fond hope that Lady Luck might tap him on the shoulder.

Champions of the lottery idea insist that it would go over better than cereal box tops and bubble gum.

On the other hand, there are some gimlet-eyed citizens who would argue that the proposal is morally corrupt.

Some of the nimble thinkers talk against the 'something-for-nothing' lottery dodge for another reason. They say the plan might succeed beyond expectations, in that some members of the household not only would be prone to raid the sugar bowl for rations too often but would, in a pinch, yield to temptation and pawn the repository itself.

A few have suggested, instead, that a small assessment be levied against those individuals guilty of uttering profanity, though none has been so bold as to propose who would be commissioned to collect such fines nor under what circumstances the assessments would be made.

Enough blue comments are tossed about by the masses, advocates of the plan point out, that the income from such a levy would neutralize the federal debt in a short time.

They may have something, though I'm thinking it would be difficult to tax people who merely think dark thoughts after they hit their thumbs with a hammer or perhaps hit the 5:30 traffic on the way home.

Such a program might bring about radical changes in our American language. They say there is a system in vogue in Puerto Rico whereby an incensed man, when he reaches the plateau where he has to pop his cork, exclaims:

"Ten thousand cockroaches!" We might improve on it by shouting "five thousand beetles!" or "a hundred thousand mosquitoes!" though personally I think such substitutes would not suffice.

The poverty of language certainly restricts most of us. Supporters of the campaign to tax the profane words might be doing a service to mankind by expanding our vocabulary. A few, short words must now do the job, no matter the latitude of the rage nor the recurring urge to express one's self.

Or perhaps those who would extract fees from us for hurling the purple invective would also teach us how to express ourselves in the Spanish, Slavic and Portuguese tongues. —TOMMY HART

Middle Age Is Coming Too Soon!

There have been days when I have flirted with the heretical idea that if Johnny can't read, he may never need Miltons. The other day was such a one.

The local press quoted a physical fitness authority as saying that middle age begins at age 26, or just 14 years before life begins at 40.

Prof. Thomas K. Cureton Jr., a member of the physical education faculty of the University of Illinois, says we Americans grow old disgracefully young because we don't or won't take any physical exercise.

What the professor advocates for adults Americans is the strenuous life via a repulsive program of "walking, running, skating, skiing, dancing, canoeing, rowing, climbing and cross-country hiking."

Just reading such a list of hardy exercises is enough to make my tired blood boil, if it had the energy. A little dancing now and then is just dandy. But all that running, skiing, climbing and rowing!

Furthermore, if the professor is correct and middle age does begin at 26 in the U. S. A., it proves two points: (1) how really precious we Americans are and (2) that it is far, far too late for me to attempt to stem the premature onslaught.

But above and beyond these two items, it suggests that the experts on physical fitness and the medical authorities on geriatrics ought to get together. Every time I pick up a publication, one more doctor is warning adults to take it easy and go light on exercise, save for an occasional game of chess. During the recent nationwide snowstorms, medicos issued repeated warnings that a snow shovel in the hands of anyone over age 15 is a lethal weapon.

Well do I remember a caution issued several years ago to bridegrooms by the diligent Greater New York Safety Council, Inc. The council, a factual rather than a romantic organization, told bridegrooms that the simple act of heaving a bride over the threshold of a new home could result in permanent injury to the sacroiliac.

Adults have been urged to cuddle themselves into longevity. To this purpose the golfmobile was invented, and the automatic gear shift. Ladies of mature years have been repeatedly warned that if they persist in opening the window and throwing out their chests, they may be tossing the best part away.

It is on the finest medical advice in America that the roekin' chair has gotten us citizens at such an early age, or at least a contour chair to pamper the heart, liver and lights. We were advised to read the obituary notices and observe that muscle men and molls, splendid athletes in their youth, too oft fade and fold up in their prime, leaving us housebound plants to inherit the earth and the easy chairs.

Well, sir, I have always said that a woman who will admit she is middle-aged will admit anything. But since Professor Cureton has lowered the middle-age rate so drastically, I don't mind making that admission here and now. Fact is, by the professor's reckoning, I'm getting younger every day—too young to need exercise and too old to take it. —Inez Robb

The Gallup Poll

Demos Chosen As 'Prosperity Party'

PRINCETON, N. J. — Evidence that "recession talk" has political meaning is demonstrated today by the increasing number of voters who are leaning to the Democrats as the party of prosperity.

In the latest Institute survey the vote is more than 2-to-1 that the Democrats rather than the GOP can do the best job of keeping the country prosperous in the next few years.

The political irony is that five years of a Republican administration, during much of which the country experienced a record prosperity, have not improved the Republicans' position in respect to the prosperity issue.

Since last November, in fact, the GOP has lost ground on this score while the Democrats have been gaining.

Probably no idea has been more thoroughly sold to the American people as that which claims the Republicans were responsible for the 1930 depression. Excepting for one or two periods since then, the Democrats have enjoyed an advantage as the party of "good times" in the minds of Americans.

Since 1951, for example, there has been only one time that the Institute has recorded the GOP ahead of the Democrats on the question of which party can best keep the country prosperous. This occurred in January, 1956.

As recession talk continues to be one of the major topics of conversation in Washington circles, interviewers for the American Institute of Public Opinion asked this question of adults across the country:

"Looking ahead for the next few years, which political party—the Republican or Democratic—do you think will do the best job of keeping the country prosperous?"

Here is the trend of the vote on this question since 1951:

	Rep	Dem	Diff	Op
Nov., 1951	29	37	19	15
Nov., 1955	37	39	15	9
Jan., 1956	38	34	10	18
June, 1956	36	38	12	14

Oct., 1956 34 | 38 | 11 | 17 |

June, 1957 35 | 37 | 13 | 15 |

Nov., 1957 31 | 42 | 11 | 20 |

TODAY 22 | 47 | 11 | 16 |

Obviously, replies to the question vary sharply according to the political party preference of the individual.

But analysis does show that there are significantly more Democrats who believe their party leads on the prosperity issue than there are Republicans who are convinced the GOP will do the best job.

Also politically important is the fact that independent voters are swinging away from the Republican party on the prosperity issue.

Today is the second successive time that Independents have selected the Democrats over the Republicans as the party which will do the best job of keeping the country prosperous. Previous to this, the GOP had the independent vote on the issue in all surveys conducted during the Eisenhower administration.

Analysis of the vote also shows that Republicans have lost ground in the one area of the country where they enjoyed a lead in November—the heavily industrialized East.

The Democrats now run ahead of the Republicans in all four regions of the country.

Ike In-Law Involved In FCC Case Doesn't Like Publicity

By ED CREAGH
WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—George Gordon Moore Jr., is a man who makes friends easily. There are two reasons for this: He has a good deal of charm, in a gray-haired, man-of-distinction way. And his wife's sister is married to the President of the United States.

It is this second circumstance that has made Moore something of a headline figure in recent weeks. It seems likely also to take him next Monday to the witness stand of a House subcommittee which is investigating alleged influence on the Federal Communications Commission.

This publicity is not to the liking of Moore, a Texas-born businessman who was graduated from West Point, retired from the Army eight years ago as a lieutenant colonel, and who probably would rarely have seen his name in print but for one thing: His wife, Frances Doud Mike Moore, is the only sister of Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Moore came to public attention last month when Bernard Schwartz, fired chief counsel of the House subcommittee on Legislative Oversight, named him as a member of a "White House clique" said by Schwartz to be wielding big business influence on government regulatory agencies.

Then Miami businessman A. Frank Katzentine told the committee he had a third-hand report that Moore "engineered" the award of a TV license which the President got for her when he was commander of NATO forces in Europe.

Moore usually is described as a public relations man. He also is president of Air Transit Service, Inc., which handles business for firms doing transport work for the armed forces, and in addition to the Dominican Republic firm has been engaged in the sugar brokerage business.

For a time after coming here from Panama in 1950 Moore worked for Trans-Caribbean Airlines. He came naturally by his interest in transport. His father it hasn't been able to locate his service record.

It is certain, however, that Moore is close to the White House on a social basis at least.

The Moores are frequent guests of the President and Mrs. Eisenhower, who in turn have called on them at their 605-acre farm near Leesburg, Va.—where Moore like the President at Gettysburg, Pa., raises Angus cattle.

In Washington, the Moores live in a sizable red brick house in the fashionable Klingie Rd. neighborhood, with such mementoes as an oil painting signed "D. Eisenhower." Mrs. Moore has—or used to have—a Paris gown which the President got for her when he was commander of NATO forces in Europe.

Moore usually is described as a public relations man. He also is president of Air Transit Service, Inc., which handles business for firms doing transport work for the armed forces, and in addition to the Dominican Republic firm has been engaged in the sugar brokerage business.

For a time after coming here from Panama in 1950 Moore worked for Trans-Caribbean Airlines. He came naturally by his interest in transport. His father rose from stenographer to president of the J.H.&H. railroad with offices in Galveston, Tex.

Mrs. Moore, some two years younger than her more famous sister, looks so much like the First Lady that she sometimes is mistaken for her. She and Mrs. Eisenhower spend much time together. They went out from Thomasville, Ga., to Elizabeth Arden's health-and-reducing farm in Arizona, in fact, on a much publicized trip of the President's plane, Columbine III.

Mrs. Moore has two sons, Richard Gill, 26, and Michael, 22, both by a previous marriage. She and the colonel have two teen-age daughters, Ellen and Mamie. Mamie has bangs in the style of the First Lady's. Michael recently was elected to the Young Republican's National Committee.

From all appearances Mrs. Moore thoroughly enjoys her connection with the White House and its social life—she was chairman of the Hospitality Committee at Eisenhower's first inaugural ball.

U.S. Gas Bill Sponsor Says Measure Dead For This Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. O'Hara (R-Minn.), co-sponsor of legislation to ease federal controls over natural gas producers, said today the gas bill is dead for this year.

It is almost certain, O'Hara said, that Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) will not even call it up for a House vote.

Proponents of the legislation were confident earlier this year they had the votes to assure passage by a narrow margin in the House and by a more comfortable spread in the Senate.

But, O'Hara said, a letter sent out in January by Jack Porter, Republican national committeeman for Texas, ended any chance of action on the bill this year.

Porter, soliciting guest contributions to a Houston fund-raising dinner at which Republican House Leader Martin (Mass) spoke, said the gas bill needed strong Republican support. A wave of protest arose after the letter was published, and the Republican National Committee, with White House support, said it would not accept any funds raised by the dinner.

O'Hara said he sponsored the gas bill along with Rep. Harris (D-Ark) because he believed in the principles of the legislation, even though he came from a gas-consuming rather than gas-producing state.

O'Hara said he believed the measure would assure more ample supplies of natural gas and, as a result, would tend in the long run to keep down the price to the consumer.

"It is obvious that under the present situation where gas wells are put under public utility statutes, many independent gas producers will sell gas locally, thus cutting the supply to distant points," he said.

Opponents of the bill contend its passage would result in increased costs to the consumer.

O'Hara said he believes that if the Porter letter had not been written the gas bill would have been passed by Congress this year and been signed by President Eisenhower.

Eisenhower vetoed the 1956 version because of what he said was arrogant lobbying but said he favored the principle of the measure.

O'Hara said there has been an increasing demand for gas in Minnesota and he believes his measure would give greater assurance of larger supplies in the future.

There was further testimony that Moore is associated with two directors of National's TV firm in operating a Dominican Republic shipyard, and also that he is a close friend of National's president, G. T. Baker. The Moores have weekended with the Bakers in Miami, for instance.

SILENCE BROKEN

Moore remained silent until last week, when two Democratic members of the House committee called for further study of his relations with the Public Service Television, Inc., directors.

Then he issued a statement denying unequivocally that he had anything to do with the TV case. He offered to repeat his statement under oath to the committee, and Chairman Harris (D-Ark) said yesterday he will get the chance to do so — thus submitting himself to questioning — on March 17.

Nothing further has been heard from the presidential in-law. He is well known in the capital's social set, but reporters find it hard to reach him. Very little has been printed about him. The Army says

Last Foreign Aid Cuts Didn't Hurt

WASHINGTON (AP)—A top State Department official says the extent of foreign aid this year has not been "particularly affected" by a billion-dollar cut in administration requests a year ago.

But C. Douglas Dillon, deputy undersecretary of state for economic affairs, said the full amount of this year's request of $3,940,000,000 "is necessary to enable us to continue the basic program." And he said it will not replenish depleted pipelines, or backlogs of funds, for military and defense-support aid.

Further, Dillon said, contingency funds are "dangerously depleted" and "we would have great difficulty meeting an emergency should one arise before the end of the current fiscal year," June 30.

Dillon said this in testimony Feb. 27 at a closed-door hearing of the House Foreign Affairs Committee. The testimony was made public today.

The Eisenhower administration last year asked for $4,400,000,000 in new foreign aid funds. Congress approved $3,400,000,000.

Dillon told the committee that "basically the services we are providing and the materials we are delivering this year are not particularly affected by the cuts."

He said expenditures this year are estimated at about $2,700,000,000 and flow largely from fiscal 1957 and earlier appropriations.

A cut below the $3,940,000,000 now requested, he said, would mean "a comparable reduction in the effectiveness of the program" in the years ahead.

He said the administration's new request for the fiscal year starting July 1, contemplates a further reduction of 400 million dollars in military aid pipelines.

By June 30, 1959, he said, this pipeline will total about three billion dollars which he said "appears to be the minimum required to successfully carry on a military assistance program of about two billion dollars a year."

The defense support pipeline also will be reduced to "the bare minimum" before this June 30, he said.

Artist Dying Of Tribal Curse

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Australia's famous aboriginal artist, Albert Namatjira, today was reported slowly dying from a tribal curse.

The Sydney Daily Mirror said that many people in Alice Springs, where the artist is hospitalized, believe that Arunta tribesmen "pointed the bone" at him — an ancient aboriginal method of doing away with offenders.

The bone is pointed in a special ceremony and the victim traditionally weakens and dies.

Namatjira was admitted to the Alice Springs Hospital about eight months ago after he had burned his left hand in his camp fire while sleeping. The hand became infected and doctors amputated the index finger. He was discharged at the end of the year but later came back. A hospital spokesman said doctors can find no medical explanation for his condition.

The Mirror said that Namatjira, once a husky, strapping man, has wasted away and seldom speaks now. It said it is believed the bone was pointed at the artist because he obtained full citizenship rights last year. The tribe of aborigines opposes such going over to the white "invaders."

Yellow Page advertising pays off no matter how well known your business is

HERE'S WHY:

There's really no mystery about why so many shoppers (96 out of 100, by actual survey) rely on Yellow Pages when they're in a buying mood.

Few people, even your regular customers, can remember every product you sell, every service you offer. And when they're looking for something and can't remember who has it, they turn to the handiest, most complete shopping guide in town... the Yellow Pages.

The same goes for families who move here from other cities. And for shoppers looking for "brands" they've seen advertised in the paper, on TV or radio.

If you don't now have the kind of Yellow Page advertising that attracts these shoppers, you're missing out on valuable new business.

A new phone book will go to press soon. When the telephone company's Yellow Page man calls on you, take advantage of his services. Make sure you're listed under all the classifications that can bring you customers. Make sure your Yellow Page advertising spells out all the products, services and special features you offer.

Red Birds Decision Yanks Again, 2 - 1

By ED CORRIGAN
The Associated Press

Could the proud New York Yankees be turning into a bunch of hitless wonders—and not so wonderful at that.
The Yanks wound up their 1957 business by going 11 scoreless innings against the Milwaukee Braves in the final two games of the World Series.
They opened their exhibition season Saturday by being shut out by the St. Louis Cardinals. Yesterday, they finally scored a run, but it wasn't enough, and the Cards won the ball game at St. Petersburg, Fla., 2-1.
Yank Manager Casey Stengel can take a measure of solace in the performance of 19-year-old rookie Daron Johnson. The Yanks managed only seven hits but two were long doubles by Johnson.

DiBiase Opposes Schmidt Tonight

By The Associated Press
Tony DiBiase, the fighting geology student who has been finding the boxing road rocky of late, returns to action tonight against Peter Schmidt in an all-New York welterweight 10-rounder at New York's St. Nicholas Arena.
The 22-year-old DiBiase has been out of action for five months by both studies at New York University and cuts suffered in a seventh round technical knockout loss to Tony DeCola.
Both DiBiase and the 24-year-old Schmidt are aggressive fighters who like to mix it up. Tony's record is 19-4-1. Schmidt's is 9-6-1. DiBiase is an 8-5 favorite.
The bout will be telecast to some parts of the country by DuMont, 10 p. m. EST.
Light heavyweight champion Archie Moore also is slated for action tonight. The 41-year-old 175 pound king goes after his tenth straight victory in a non-title 10-rounder with heavyweight Bob Albritton of Los Angeles at Vancouver, B.C.

Yvon Durrelle, the brawny Canadian fisherman-fighter who would like a crack at Moore's crown, will be in a good position to get it if he defeats New York's Tony Anthony in their return 10-rounder at New York's Madison Square Garden Friday night.
The bout will be broadcast and telecast over NBC, 10 p. m. EST., coast to coast.
Spider Webb, the classy middleweight contender from Chicago, goes after his fifth straight victory in the Wednesday night TV feature over ABC 10 p. m. EST. against veteran Hally Mims of Washington. The site is the Memorial Auditorium in Fort Wayne, Ind. Webb's record is 26-2. Mims' 42-16-6.

FOUR POST-SEASON TOURNEYS GET UNDER WAY THIS WEEK

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Seventy-two college basketball teams swing into action this week in quest of four major postseason titles.
The NCAA tourney for major schools starts tomorrow with 24 entries. The NCAA Small College Division Tournament, its ranks reduced from 32 to 8, settles the issue at Evansville, Ind., starting Wednesday. The National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics Tournament (NAIA) gets under way today at Kansas City with 32 entries. Thursday the National Invitation Tournament, with 12 teams, opens at Madison Square Garden.
Actually 26 schools still are running for the big NCAA affair since two conferences ended in a tie. Oregon State and California, who ended Pacific Coast Conference play with 12-4 records, play it off at Eugene, Ore., tonight. Arkansas and Southern Methodist determine the Southwest Conference representative at Shreveport, La., tomorrow.
Here is the tournament picture at a glance: NCAA University—Field will be reduced to 16 by Wednesday for regional tournaments this weekend at Charlotte, Lexington, Ky., Lawrence, Kan., and San Francisco. Tomorrow in New York, Maryland plays Boston College. West Virginia meets Manhattan and Dartmouth takes on Connecticut with the three winners joining Temple at Charlotte.
On the same night at Evanston, Ill., Miami of Ohio takes on Pitt and Tennessee Tech meets Notre Dame for the right to join Kentucky and Indiana in the Lexington regional.
Oklahoma State and Loyola of New Orleans tangle at Stillwater, Okla., tomorrow with the winner going into the regionals at Lawrence with Kansas State. Cincinnati and the Southwest Conference play victor. Wednesday the West Coast picks two of its representatives to join the Pacific Coast Conference winner and San Francisco in the regionals, with Wyoming meeting Seattle and Idaho State tackling Arizona State of Tempe.
NCAA Small College—Wheaton opens defense of its title against Chapman of California. Other first round games: St. Michaels (Vt.) vs. Grambling (Iowa); Southwest Missouri vs. South Dakota; Evansville vs. American University.
NAIA—Unbeaten Western Illinois, winner of 23, is seeded No. 1 and defending champion Tennessee State (25-3) No. 3. Portland (Ore.) 19-10 is No. 2. Tennessee State meets Northern Michigan tonight. Western Illinois swings into action tomorrow against Georgia Teachers.
NIT—Dayton and Bradley, seeded No. 1 and 2, do not play until next Tuesday. First-round games Thursday are: St. John's (N.Y.) vs. Butler and St. Joseph's (Pa.) vs. St. Peter's (N.J.). Four games are scheduled Saturday with play continuing March 18, March 20 and finals March 22.
Second-ranked West Virginia, Maryland, Indiana and Wyoming earned their big tournament brackets Saturday. West Virginia, perennial winner of the Southern Conference title, did it by beating William and Mary 74-58 in the final of the tournament at Richmond. Maryland succeeded by upsetting the 1957 NCAA titleholding North Carolina Tar Heels 86-76 in the Atlantic Coast Conference final at Raleigh.
Indiana's well-balanced Hoosiers whipped Michigan State 75-72 in a showdown game for the Big Ten title. Wyoming was beaten 75-55 by Montana State but qualified when Utah, headed for the NIT, dethroned Colorado State University 105-79.
Oregon State could have wrapped up the PCC title without a playoff but bowed to Idaho 62-55.
Kansas downed top-ranked Kansas State 61-44. All America Wilt Chamberlain scored 23 points.
Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson, who goes against Kansas State Friday night at Lawrence, all but wrapped up the individual scoring honors although he tallied only 29 points in the third-ranked Bearcats' 80-68 decision over Xavier of Ohio.
Elgin Baylor of Seattle, who meets Bradley tonight before going into tournament play, has a 33.96-percent average compared with 34.58 for the Cincinnati ace.

ACC Wildcats Will Field Mighty Team In BS Meet

Trackdon's mighty mile, Abilene Christian College, with a quintet of swift sprinters headed by Olympic Champion Bobby Morrow, will challenge some of the nation's best in the ABC relays here April 5.
Morrow and the sprint relay team of Waymond Griggs, James Segrest and Bill Woodhouse are back. Sophomore George Peterson is the fifth member of the quintet of sprinters.
Coach Oliver Jackson's 16-meet schedule opened last weekend at the Border Olympics in Laredo, and will include the Penn Relays at Philadelphia, Pa., and the California Relays at Modesto, Calif.
Seniors Morrow, Griggs, Segrest and hurdler Ken Fannon did not compete at the Border Olympics and will not run in the Texas Relays. These meets are conducted by NCAA rules which prohibit a performer from competing in university or college divisions of a meet for four years.
Nine returning lettermen, including the sprint relay team which clocked a 39.9 last year to tie the world record for the 440-yard relay, form the core of the 16-man varsity squad. Six performers from the 1957 freshman team and one junior college transfer round out the team.
Tomorrow, who now holds 12 national sprint titles, three Olympic gold medals and a share of the world 100-yard dash record, is expected to race to new honors. With Griggs, Segrest, Woodhouse and Peterson to team with Morrow,

ACC Wildcats Will Field Mighty Team In BS Meet

Coach Jackson can modestly comment, "We'll be exceptionally strong in the sprints."
Peterson who raced the 100 in 9.8 and the 220 in 21.5 as a freshman, is a strong contender for spots on both the 440 and 880-yard relays. The availability of an alternate will prevent the relay team from having to drop out of competition in case of injury to a member as happened last year.
Segrest, who clocked a 47.8 last year for the 440-yard dash, Jack Shropshire (48.4), Terry McKee (49.4) and powerful sophomore Jarrell Edwards form a rapid foursome of quartermilers.
At the 880, mile and two-mile distances Jimmy Reeves, who finished a 4:14.7 last year as a freshman, will be the top entry. He could develop into the best miler in this section of the country this year. Laddie Nethercutt, a junior, will be another strong entry in these events. Edwards will also run the 800.
Hurdler Fannon who holds school records for both hurdles events will be topping the barriers for the last time at ACC. He had wind-aided times of 14.0 and 22.9 last year. Shropshire who also has a wind-aided 22.9 for the 220-yard low hurdles and James Gandy who runs both events will round out the hurdle entries.
Junior college transfer R. E. Gibson could be the top shot put and discus man in the history of ACC. However, Gibson will not compete until the third or fourth meet of the season as he is recovering from an operation which repaired a torn tendon in his foot. He hurled the discus 165 feet in junior college.
Junior Don Stafford and sophomore Bill Todd gave Coach Jackson top-flight entries in the broad jump. Stafford leaped 24 feet 1 1/2 inches last year and Todd 23 feet 3 inches.
R. A. Wade, a sophomore high jumper, has cleared the bar at 6 feet 2 inches.

Powell-Fisher Team Winner

Son Powell combined with Mrs. Cliff (Ellen) Fisher to win first place in the Scotch foursome held at the Big Spring Country Club Sunday afternoon, first such meet of the year.
Present plans call for a Scotch foursome the second Sunday in each month through the year.
Dr. J. E. Hogan and Mrs. Bernice Caughlin teamed up to cop second place, just ahead of the two-somes of Dr. Carl Marcum and Mrs. Ed McCornb.
In all, nine couples participated.
A Ladies' Ringier tournament will be started Tuesday at the Country Club and will extend for three weeks. Wives of all members of the club are eligible to take part.

Texans Take Over In Bowling Meet

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—One new leader appeared in the fourth weekend of firing in the $26,000 Southwest Bowling Tournament yesterday.
V. J. Keeffe Inc. of San Antonio took over the Class A team lead with 2,898, four pins better than Capitol Laundry of Dallas. Jess Self, Oklahoma City, remained Class A all-events leader with 1,855, and Ken Brown, Wichita, Kan., kept his Class A singles lead with 690.
The regular-season race ended last week with the two tied for the top. The race was so tight the final night's results last Tuesday could have left it in a four-way tie.
SMU beat Arkansas by three points here during the regular-season and Arkansas won by two at Fayetteville.
So they'll play tomorrow on a neutral court at Shreveport, La., with the game rated a tossup.
"Your guess is as good as mine. Just look at the scores between the two teams and consider that we're playing on a neutral court," said Glen Rose, Arkansas coach.
SMU Coach Doc Hayes pointed out the narrow margins and said, "That's all I know about it."
Lee Boss, University of Arkansas reserve guard, was released from the infirmary yesterday after a light case of the measles. Rose said no other members of the team were affected.
Rose said he'd take his team to Shreveport today for a final workout there.
SMU will take its final full-fledged workout here before flying to Shreveport.
Neither team has ever played there.

Gonzales Cut Down Lew Hoad's Lead

HOUSTON (AP)—Tennis champion Pancho Gonzales defeated Lew 6-2, 6-1 yesterday in the most one-sided defeat since the pro tennis tour began two months ago.

HCJC IN THIRD PLACE FINISH AT LAREDO

Howard County Junior College of Big Spring finished a strong third in the junior college division of the Border Olympics at Laredo Saturday by scoring 48 1/2 points.
Cisco scored a mild upset by winning the division with 63 points. Second was favored Victoria, which had 61.
Delbert Shirey of HCJC finished in a tie for second place in the broad jump with Mauricio Leal of Del Mar (Corpus Christi). Each leaped 21 feet 4 inches.
First in that event was Don Lee of Cisco, who traveled 22 feet 3/4 inches.
Donnie Anderson, HCJC, finished second to Victoria's Bob Campbell in the 120-yard high hurdles. Campbell was clocked in 15.5. Millard Bennett of HCJC was fourth in that race.
Kirk Faulkner, HCJC, finished fourth in the 440-yard run, won by Tom Mendez of Victoria in the time of 50.3 seconds.
The Jayhawk sprint relay team was fourth, back of Cisco, Monterey Vocational and Mexico Prep, which wound up in that order. Cisco was clocked in 43.5.
Jim Martin of Victoria won the 880-yard run and was trailed across the finish line by Carlos Saucedo, Del Mar; Bobby Fuller, HCJC; and Charles Dadds, HCJC. Martin set a new division record for the event, running it in 1:59.9.
Darrall Froman, HCJC freshman, was a surprise second to Leslie Branham, Victoria, in the mile run. Fuller wound up fourth in that event. Branham was clocked in 4:37.1, also a new division record.
Victoria won the mile relay but HCJC beat out Cisco for second place. Victoria's foursome was clocked in 3:26.1.

Hazle Certain He Will Stay

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—Bob (Hurricane) Hazle, who had helped rocket the Milwaukee Braves to the pennant last year, is confident he can still hit big league pitching even if some of his employers complain about him.
"Flash in the pan?" drawled the 27-year-old outfielder today. "I don't think so. Sure, I was lucky last year and you can't expect anybody to hit 400 again. But, I know I can hit up here."
Hazle batted .500-plus for the first couple of weeks after the Braves called him up from their Wichita, Kan., farm team July 28. He finished up with a .403 average for 41 games, but then tailed off to .154 in four World Series games against the Yankees.
"I've got to hit up here," said Hazle. "If I hadn't made the grade last year, I was all set to quit. I feel the same way this spring. I've had my fill of the minors."
Leading members of the Braves' brain trust, including batting instructor Paul Waner and Wichita manager Ben Geraghty, have their doubts about Hazle.
"When Bob isn't hitting, he's too far out front with his bat—keeps lunging at the ball all the time," said Waner. "He's too jerky and can't hit a thing. That's how he was in the World Series. But, when he's right, he'll hit anything."
Geraghty described Hazle as "strictly a streak hitter."

Forsan, Ackeryly Win In Tourney

ACKERYLY (SC)—Forsan's boys and the Ackeryly girls ruled as the class of the Ackeryly post-season basketball tournament, which ended here Saturday night.
The Forsan boys' team won the first division in the finals, 43-34. Flower Grove copped third place in that division by turning back Coahoma, 56-37.
The Ackeryly girls' team won the first division in the finals, 43-33. Klondike earned third place by subduing Coahoma, 53-30.

Wild SWC Cage Race Ends With Game At Shreveport

DALLAS (AP)—The wildest South-west Conference basketball race finally ends tomorrow night on a neutral court at Shreveport, La., as Southern Methodist and Arkansas play off a tie for the NCAA regional tournament berth.
The regular-season race ended last week with the two tied for the top. The race was so tight the final night's results last Tuesday could have left it in a four-way tie.

HOW TO CUT THE TOLL OF MENTAL ILLNESS

The difference between those who become mental patients and those who do not is often found in the words "understanding" and "early treatment."
Many tensions we experience are normal accompaniments of everyday life. But if severe upsets come too often or last too long, they may be warning signals of illness. Understanding our tensions and early attention to more serious disturbances can help prevent many from becoming sick.
For an approach to better mental health and advice on what to do when help is needed, send today for the new free booklet called "How To Deal With Your Tensions." This booklet, compiled by psychiatric experts, offers eleven simple, easy-to-follow suggestions that may help you lick excessive tensions and live a happier, fuller life. ## LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Reports from Duke University say Dave Sims has only a slight leg pull and should be ready to race here against Bobby Morrow and others April 5.
There had been rumors Sims would have to cease all activity this spring due to a gimpy leg. They are not true.
Sims' indoor activities have been curtailed because Coach Bob Chambers with him running on the boards. Dave, too, wants to see as much action in outdoor meets, as possible, which is one of the reasons he wanted to compete here.
Sims is regarded as a major league baseball prospect but he says he's given up all idea of turning pro.
He wants to run a 9.2 hundred (which many in the east think he can do). He wants to become a doctor of medicine. And he wants to get married—he recently announced his engagement to a Duke co-ed, Elizabeth Quillan, of Birmingham, Mich.
Sims says he shies away from baseball because only a small number of players who sign while in college remain in the game. He is lured from campuses by the big leagues ever return to complete their studies. He wants security and figures to find it in medicine.
There's no doubt but that Sims has a bright future. He's been hurt too often not to reason otherwise. But, when he's running at top form, he's as quick as the wind.
Two years ago, Dave had two pulls in his game leg, one of them caused while he playing baseball. A lesser man would have quit track permanently but Dave discouraged all talk of retiring, however.
Sims has now had leg troubles on four different occasions. In each instance, the pulls have occurred in different places on the leg. It would be foolish to try and tell the reader he is durable. A boy like that is apt to pull up lame at any time.
The best the ABC promoters here can hope for is that Sims won't put any unnecessary strain on the leg until he heads for Texas. They'll keep their fingers crossed.
Probably, Sims and Chambers are doing the same thing up in Durham.

WHEN HCJC'S JAYHAWKS WOUND UP THEIR SEASON

Amarillo is the battle for third place in the Region V basketball tournament at Amarillo last week. It left Coach Harold Davis two wins shy of the 200-win career mark.
In his ten seasons as Jayhawk manager, Davis has seen his teams win 196 decisions while losing 103.

He was also chosen on the second All-Missouri Valley Conference team that year and performed in the East-West game held in Kansas City that season. The one-time Oklahoma State University star averaged 14.6 points a game his senior year.
After leaving college, V. R. played one season with the Peoria Cats of the NIBL before entering the service.

Billy Maxwell, 2 Others In Tie For Links Lead

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Sizzling Ken Venturi faced threats from two unexpected contenders today as he entered the second round of the $20,000 Greater New Orleans Open Tournament tied with two golfers seeking their first titles of the winter tour.
Venturi, 26, of San Francisco, who has won three times this winter, knocked four strokes off par with his 34-34-68 over the soggy City Park course yesterday. But he could do no better than tie Billy Maxwell, Odessa, Tex., and Gene Littler, Singing Hills, Calif.
Play had been delayed three days by rains. The fairways were dotted with puddles, but the pros found the greens in good shape.
After today's 18 holes, the field will be cut to the low 60 for the final two rounds, both scheduled tomorrow.
In a tie for fourth with first-round 66s were Doug Ford, Ma-

Freed Pilots Welcomed

Willis F. Hobbs, of Vallejo, Calif., is kissed by his wife, Norma, at the Panmunjom, Korea, truce headquarters, after being freed by the Communists in North Korea. Hobbs was a civilian pilot of the South Korean airliner that was seized by Communist agents over Korea, Feb. 16. Watching is Air Force Lt. Col. Howard W. McClellan of Buchanan, Mich., who acted as co-pilot. There were 24 other persons also released by the Reds.

Newsman Who Sparked Revolt In National Hero Of Venezuela

By LARRY ALLEN
CARACAS, Venezuela, March 10 — A youthful-looking Caracas newspaperman, Fabricio Ojeda, is the darling of Venezuela crowds today for living a greater story than he ever wrote. His powerful, emotional voice will be heard every time Venezuela's provisional junta government makes a major move. The junta took over after the overthrow of dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez. Ojeda played a key part in the drama.

The new government will listen to Ojeda, because he has a firm grip on the patriotic passions of the Venezuelan people and it is tightening every day. Less than a year ago, Ojeda was virtually unknown outside the colony of Venezuelan newspapermen who knew him as a reporter for the Caracas daily newspaper El Nacional.

Today, his name is almost a household word throughout this oil-rich republic on the north coast of South America. For it was Ojeda whose excited words blew into flame the smoldering passions of Venezuelans who wanted to throw off the yoke of the tight military dictatorship headed by pudgy, 43-year-old President Perez Jimenez.

It was Ojeda's clandestine civilian movement, the "Junta Patriotica," that triggered the bloody revolt which toppled Perez Jimenez last Jan. 23 and sent him fleeing into exile in the Dominican Republic. How it happened, as Ojeda related it to newspaper associates and friends, reads like the scenario for a Hollywood thriller. Ojeda, a handsome, 29-year-old reporter, started thinking last June that the time had come to overthrow a government which denied its people every basic freedom. Secretly, he set to work to organize a patriotic junta, or council, to lead a civilian movement aimed at ousting Perez Jimenez. A new strike was planned for

Jan. 21 after a revolt by Venezuelan air force units was speedily crushed by Perez Jimenez forces.

To lay the groundwork for the general walkout, Ojeda and his junta called for a strike of Caracas newspapers on the evening of Jan. 20. At 5 p. m., practically all newspaper employees suddenly vanished. Technicians took with them parts of printing presses. By the morning of Tuesday, Jan. 21, the strike was fully effective, with the exception of some men forced to stay in radio or television stations and make government announcements.

The general strike started slowly at noon. Some stores and shops closed; some didn't. By 1 p. m., the city police were out in force smashing ruthlessly through demonstrating crowds. That was all the incentive the people of Caracas needed. Infuriated, they swarmed by the thousands into streets, battling the police and crying for "libertad"—liberty. By nightfall, 50 persons were dead and hundreds wounded. Young army and navy officers, who had already agreed to set up a junta government after contacting civilian movement leaders, decided to step in and avert further bloodshed.

They informed Perez Jimenez he was through. He fled in his personal plane, with his family and a group of ministers, to Ciudad Trujillo. The green-eyed queen is in West Germany, where her father is the Iranian ambassador. Educated in Europe, Soraya apparently would not accept the Shah's taking another wife, but it is not known what she suggested instead. The Shah divorced his first wife in 1948 after fathering one daughter, who is ineligible to ascend the throne.

Segregation In North Seen By Dixie Leader

JACKSON, Miss. — A Louisiana segregation leader predicts racial segregation in the North instead of integration in the South "if the South will just provide the leadership." State Sen. W. M. Rainach of Summerfield, La., said on the Mississippi Citizens Councils' weekly television program last night the North is ready to accept the South's social system. He called for joint efforts by state governments and private groups to "take our case" to the North and win public opinion there.

Rainach, a Citizens Councils leader, is chairman of the Louisiana Joint Legislative Committee on Segregation which placed a pro-segregation advertisement in the New York Herald Tribune Feb. 17. In Baton Rouge Saturday, Rainach said his mail response to the ad ran better than 4 to 1 favoring the South's position.

He said the ad was "the first reconnaissance" in putting the South's cause in the Northern realm of public opinion. He called for plans to devise a "full scale campaign" by Southern states with tax money and donations from private sources. Rainach said the newspaper ad cost $4,488 and the money did not come from Louisiana taxpayers. In part, the ad said the South was "the product of years of experience in adjustment to a bi-racial society." Rainach said response to the ad convinced him the South "has a product for which there is a demand in the North—a racially separate social system. All we need to do is conduct a reasonable sales campaign."

He quoted one letter from a Newark, N.J., resident saying "only one who lives in the New York area can have the slightest conception of the deadly atmosphere which has been spawned by the socialist champions of integration." A letter Rainach got from the Staten Island (New York) branch of the NAACP stated: "It really is heartening to note that the views of the Southerners have been stated so clearly. It gives us a long-awaited opportunity to explode some of their misconceptions."

Bullheaded Benson Stirs Up Wrath, But Keeps On Course

WASHINGTON, March 10 — A man who has known Ezra Taft Benson for years said recently, partly in admiration and partly in bewilderment: "Ezra has hung on as secretary of agriculture through plain stubbornness."

If this doesn't seem like much of an explanation, it still is about as close as anyone can get to solving one of the nation's most baffling political mysteries. From the day he took office five years ago, Benson has been the subject of numerous and continuing rumors about his political future. The rumors, echoes of a vociferous "Benson must go" campaign, hint that he is about to quit, already has quit, is about to be sacked, or already has been sacked.

Although many a politician has been killed off by rumors alone, here is Benson, very much alive, on the job, and once more in the middle of a fight with Congress over farm legislation. That Benson has survived so many previous legislative battles, plus embarrassing moments in his own department and being tabbed a liability by members of his own party, can be attributed to any number of things.

The farm vote, while still important, isn't the threat it once was. Many a farmer who once had his ear to the furrow now has it to the city curb, listening to what the consumer is saying. Farmers, traditionally indignant, are by no means agreed on what would make them happy. And overriding all this is Benson himself, a dedicated man to his friends, a stubborn man to his acquaintances, a bullheaded and sometimes devious man to his enemies.

STORMY EXAMPLE
An example of the type of storm Benson usually provokes happened on the day after President Eisenhower gave Congress his ideas on what should be done about the farm problem.

Benson appeared before the Senate Agriculture Committee accompanied by his pretty daughter Beverly. He also brought along a 24-page statement, but before he could utter one of its 5,500 words, Committee Chairman Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) attacked the whole statement as full of errors and announced a "plan to more or less pin you down as you go along."

And so the hearing went from 10:05 a. m. until 5:34 p. m. with Benson subject to frequent interruptions. Through all this Benson kept his temper.

Benson, following the custom of his church, once was a missionary. From 1921 to 1923 he carried the message of the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter-Day Saints to Britain. When Eisenhower tapped him for government service, he had become one of the Mormons' 12 apostles.

Nearly everyone who has studied Benson has pointed out that he has carried this zeal over to his politics. He had scarcely sat down to be secretary of agriculture before his missionary zeal moved him to make statements like: "Too many Americans are calling on Washington to do for them what they should be willing to do for themselves."

"Inefficiency should not be subsidized in agriculture or any other segment of our economy." STILL GO BROKE
Many legislators thought — and still think — that in these uncertain times a farmer can work hard, sweat hard, pray hard, and go broke.

And many insisted then, and continue to insist, that under Benson's policies, he undoubtedly will. Yet it seems only fair to say that any secretary of agriculture, of whatever faith, would have his hands full.

For a revolution has been going on down on the farm, and a revolution is apt to have painful consequences. New methods, new seeds, new fertilizers have been introduced. "There has been more change in agriculture within the lifetime of men now living," Benson has said, "than in the previous 2,000 years."

A hundred years ago a farmer fed himself and three city dwellers. Today he feeds himself and 20 others, and has a large surplus left over. Farming has become a big, efficient business. The little fellow, and often the not so little fellow, frequently has felt the squeeze, painfully. Statistics show the strange happenings down on the farm: 2,100,000 commercial farms produce 91 per cent of the agricultural dollars. 2,700,000 farms struggle for the remaining 9 per cent. Working out satisfactory answers for both groups is no easy chore.

Congress has taken two broad approaches. It has built floors under prices to assure the farmer minimum guarantees for his basic crops. And it has tried to cut down the acreages, on the assumption that if less is planted, surpluses will melt away and prices will go up on their own. In Benson's opinion, this hasn't worked.

BENSON SOLUTION
His prescription for the ailing patient includes:

1. Giving the secretary of agriculture authority to lower price supports in certain areas, thereby discouraging production.
2. Permitting him to ease production controls on major crops.
3. Killing the "escalator clause" which now requires that supports be raised as soon as surpluses are reduced.
4. Embarking on a long-term program to retire land, including entire farms, from production.

Don't get the idea that nothing good ever is said of Benson. Anyone who dropped by the Senate on Jan. 30, 1956, would have heard Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen (R-Ill.) saying:

"I ask the senators: Have we ever had a secretary of agriculture who has displayed such patience, such forbearance, such determination, such moral stamina, and so strong a desire to find solutions for the farm problem? "A weakling, or a seeker for the expedient or a political solution, would have succumbed to the pressure long ago."

On a more worldly note, Benson must be pleased with reactions like these: (A) He was interrupted by applause 11 times during a speech to the American Farm Bureau Federation convention in December, and (B) A farm journal poll last month showed that 61 per cent of those who replied wanted

Shah Confers On Problem Of Heir

TEHRAN, Iran — The Shah of Iran conferred with his Royal Court today to see if it can help him find an heir to his throne without divorcing his childless queen.

The 38-year-old monarch also heard a report from his special envoy to Queen Soraya. She is reported to prefer a divorce rather than allowing her husband to take an additional wife as permitted by Moslem law.

The green-eyed queen is in West Germany, where her father is the Iranian ambassador. Educated in Europe, Soraya apparently would not accept the Shah's taking another wife, but it is not known what she suggested instead. The Shah divorced his first wife in 1948 after fathering one daughter, who is ineligible to ascend the throne.

All Geniuses Said Unstable

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Almost all the world's geniuses have been alcoholics, narcotic addicts, tuberculars or mentally unstable, says a former president of the British Royal Society of Medicine.

Dr. V. B. Green-Armytage said in an interview while here to address the International Congress of Surgeons that his four-year study of genius showed:

"Practically all geniuses were under 5 feet 3 inches in height.

"Nearly all were either impotent or had little sex instinct.

"Almost none produced offspring of genius stature.

"There have been no women geniuses.

"There is no doubt that defective parentage has something to do with the creation of genius."

He said short-statured geniuses included Lord Nelson, Shakespeare, Picasso and Einstein, and among tubercular geniuses were Voltaire, Chopin, Moliere, Euclid, Raphael, Schiller and Shelley.

As for his conclusion that there have been no classic examples of women geniuses, he said: "God or providence provides women with one factor of creative genius: to have babies."

Censorship Growing At All Government Levels

Editors Note: The Texas Daily Newspaper Assn. in convention here last week heard a talk on secrecy in government by Jon Ford, associate editor and Capitol correspondent of the San Antonio News and Express. The story summarizes this analysis:

By JON FORD
Written for The Associated Press
AUSTIN, March 10 (AP)—As state government grows, the number of secret or unreported activities of its agencies almost inevitably increases.

The same, of course, is true at all levels of government.

The attitude of the politician and the career government administrator is—with notable exceptions—being shaped—or warped—in a pattern which runs something like this:

"We know what's best for the people. We are experts. We can run this show better without interference of the press and public (except when we can use them for our own purposes). We will examine the facts, make the decisions—and then publicly announce them."

The latter part, ribbon-tied announcement is the modern politician's concession to the American public's historic right to know.

There is no accurate measure of the extent of secrecy in state government. There are 230 state agencies. Many are seldom, if ever, directly covered by the press partly because the number of reporters has not grown in proportion to the expansion of government.

SHADOWY LIVES

Some units of government here lead shadowy official lives, put out no press releases except for propaganda purposes and make only the vaguest reports of their activities.

The Capitol press tries diligently to cover the major agencies and officials with varying degrees of success.

Many instances could be cited. Here are a few.

The new chairman of one important state board told me the other day that I was butting into private business when I inquired about a group trying to get big state contracts. He later apologized and said he did not understand my original question.

Legislative joint conference committees are perhaps the most notorious and consistent offenders. They almost invariably meet behind closed doors, will break up their meetings and head for a hotel room hideaway if a reporter gets by their sentry and refuses to leave.

Much of the outrageous legislation on the books is the result of these unreported meetings. Nobody, for example, has yet learned the exact parentage of an appropriations bill rider which prevented the Texas Employment Commission for a time from using money it had on hand to build its own building.

The provision, in effect, kept the TEC paying $178,000 a year in rentals to 10 Austin office building owners. It has since been removed, and the new building is being planned.

In the last Legislature, appropriations conferees provided 1.5 million dollars for a new institution which no responsible state agency ever recommended. To construct the institution, the Hospital Board is going to have to spend $90,000 for a chunk of East Austin real estate. The thing turned out to be a good idea, but I personally have never been satisfied with the explanations.

Reporters were never allowed in on show-down deliberations on the lobby control bill. As a result, no newspapermen and only a handful of legislators had ever read the bill which was finally passed in the frenetic closing minutes of a special session.

The Legislative Budget Board and State Hospital Board, just before the last regular session, evicted a reporter. They wanted to talk in privacy about the state's multi-million dollar hospital building program and air their differences of opinion on it.

Just before the Legislative Council subcommittee studying major state business kicked out a reporter.

The committee chairman later explained: "The study committees and the council's research staff are convinced that the public interest will be best served by releasing complete reports instead of making information available in fragmentary, piecemeal fashion."

In other words, nobody is to hear the debate and exchange of ideas which precede the final report.

licity-seeking investigations, and stories to be developed to keep us more than busy. So perhaps we have not been as aggressive as we should be in trying to beat down doors.

We all know that this trend toward more secrecy in government is not going to reverse automatically. Some positive action is necessary. Texas is one of 31 states which do not have laws requiring open meetings and open records of governmental agencies.

But resolutions and sporadic editorial outbursts from the press won't get the job done. We have had a lot of resolutions, but few newspapermen from over the state were on deck in the last session of the Legislature to urge passage of freedom of information measures.

This is one battle which can be won only by all newspapermen sticking together and fighting for the same cause in behalf of the public's right to know. Every instance of news suppression of public affairs should be given prominent play.

And the burden of proof should always be on the government to prove why information should not be made public. We shouldn't be expected to prove we are entitled to it.

SNOWSTORMS Chill U.S.

By The Associated Press

Late season snowstorms chilled sections of mid-Atlantic states today and storms which hammered parts of the Rockies moved into the Plains region.

Near-record falls of snow for the date were reported in parts of north central and western sections of Virginia yesterday. Snow also fell in parts of West Delaware, Maryland, in the Washington, D.C., area and in Delaware.

The drifting snow forced the closing of half a dozen school systems in Virginia.

The weekend storm in the Rockies which dumped up to 8 inches of snow at Lander, Wyo., moved into Montana, the Dakotas, and southward through Kansas.

The wet belt extended into the southern Plains, mostly in the form of light rain, but heavy snow warnings were issued for the Texas Panhandle.

Nine inches of snow fell in a six-hour period in St. Louis. A bright, warm sun melted snow off streets, but blanketed yards and drifts remained.

In Virginia, 15 inches of snow was reported from the Mt. Crawford area near Harrisonburg and 14 inches fell in Bath County.

Striking Garment Workers Appear Headed For Pact

NEW YORK (AP)—Striking garment workers and dress manufacturers have reached agreement on money issues and appear headed for a full settlement today or tomorrow.

The ticklish problem of contract enforcement—the other major issue in the six-day-old strike—is still to be resolved.

An employer spokesman said last night both sides agreed on an 11 1/2 per cent package increase.

The spokesman said it includes an 11 per cent boost in base pay and a payroll deduction for severance pay of one half of 1 per cent.

Agreement also was reached on overtime for piece workers—81 per cent of the workers are employed on this basis—after 35 hours.

Union officials declined to confirm or deny the reported terms.

Animal Trainer Faces Down Cat That Injured Him

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Pat Anthony returned to his circus lion taming act yesterday and faced down the lioness who sent him to the hospital Friday.

It took more than 100 stitches to close the fang and claw wounds on his left arm. The arm still was in a sling and practically useless when he returned to the cage after missing three performances.

Tension mounted at the point in the act where the lioness went on her rampage. She was supposed to leave her perch and join five other big cats in a line lying on the floor.

Anthony cracked his whip and shouted. The lioness lunged off the perch toward him. He dropped his whip, flipped a white barrel on its side and rolled it toward her. She took up his whip again, snapped it at her and shouted some more.

The lioness wheeled and ran to her place, still snarling.

Trooper Kills Self After Wounding His Secret Bride

OTTAWA, Kan. (AP)—Trooper Roland Johnson of the Kansas highway patrol shot and killed himself in his cruiser last night a few minutes after wounding his secret bride superficially.

County Atty. Don White said the 27-year-old trooper and 18-year-old Judy Blair were married Feb. 2 at Excelsior Springs, Mo., but had kept it secret because his divorce from a former wife was not yet final.

Mrs. L. W. Magers Jr., the girl's mother, said Judy wanted the marriage annulled because Johnson was insanely jealous.

White said the couple argued on Main Street and a few minutes later Johnson pulled the patrol car alongside his private car, in which Judy was driving with a girl friend, Connie Reed, 19.

The prosecutor quoted Miss Reed as saying the Johnsons argued again and he fired his service revolver into the car. The bullet grazed Judy's shoulder, inflicting a flesh wound.

Recession Battle Gaining Headway

WASHINGTON — A deluge of proposals and some direct administration moves gave promise today of heavier federal spending to provide jobs and help business.

While Democrats and some Republicans clamored for more, President Eisenhower ordered a speedup of government construction projects for which money is available, and announced immediate release of 200 million dollars to help make more private loans available for home construction.

Eisenhower also proposed that the federal government, for the first time, provide funds to extend the period of jobless benefits to unemployed workers. Many of these already have exhausted their rights under payment schedules fixed by the various states.

Eisenhower also asked Congress to raise the ceiling on highway spending for the next three years, and said he will ask an additional 186 million dollars for water resources projects within a few days.

Other moves

With Senate Democrats already pushing a broader antirecession program, the weekend brought these other developments:

1. Thirteen of the 16 Democratic members of the House Banking Committee, led by Rep. Rains (D-Ala.), proposed a 2½-billion-dollar government loan program to permit construction of sewage treatment plants, libraries, transportation, public buildings and other works projects in labor surplus areas.

2. Eight Republican senators, without criticizing Eisenhower's program, suggested heavier spending than Eisenhower proposed and called among other things for federal aid to school construction. Many other Republi-

LT. COL. C. B. MCCOY
Col. McCoy New Personnel Officer For Webb AFB

Lt. Col. Carey B. McCoy has been assigned duty as wing personnel officer at Webb Air Force Base.

Col. McCoy, whose home is in Columbus, Miss., came to Webb directly from an assignment at Osan Air Base, Korea, where he was executive officer of the Osan Air Base Group.

The colonel has more than 12 years of Air Force service and has seen foreign duty in the South Pacific during World War II in addition to his service in the Far East.

He holds the commendation ribbon plus various theatre and campaign ribbons awarded during his career.

A graduate of Louisiana State University, Col. McCoy holds a degree in the field of education, and is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity. He is married to the former Edith Wadlington of Hopkinsville, Ky., and they have one son, William, 14. The family makes its home at 1100 Eleventh Place.

cans issued statements praising Eisenhower's actions.

3. Some House members professed to see the need for a second increase this year in the national debt limit — boosted only last month from 275 to 280 billion dollars — if bad news continues on the economic front and makes heavy federal spending necessary.

4. Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) and Rep. Simpson (R-Pa.) repeated their demands for income and other tax cuts to make more spending money available.

5. Chairman Blatnik (D-Minn) of the House Public Works Committee said he will introduce legislation to push public works projects for which money is available. The bill is similar, he said, to one being pushed in the Senate by Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

It was in this field that Eisenhower directed a speedup of projects where that can be done.

Johnson said he has been informed that the unexpended balances of money Congress has provided for military and civilian construction stood at $7,100,000,000 Jan. 1, the last date for which figures are available.

Johnson gave no sign that presidential criticism would deflect him from a determination to set up a Public Works Administration to plan job-giving projects for development if employment fails to pick up later in the year.

Eisenhower expressed concern over what he called the "sudden upsurge of a program of priming schemes, such as the setting up of huge federal bureaucracies of the PWA and WPA type."

"That kind of talk," he said in his letter to Republican congressional leaders, "evidences lack of faith in the inherent vitality of our free economy and in the American as an individual."

Johnson replied that Eisenhower had showed only "partial reaction" to congressional calls for action to end the recession, adding that "the details of his (Eisenhower's) pump-priming are not clear."

Eisenhower said Secretary of Labor Mitchell will submit this week a proposal for a federal extension of state unemployment payments.

Youths Hear How To Know 'The Right One'

CHICAGO — How will you know when you meet the right one?

That's one of the questions that figure in discussions of love, dating and marriage that drew hundreds of teen-agers to 14 Roman Catholic churches in the Chicago area last night.

The talks, a series of six running through Lent and getting down to such facts of life as sex, dishes and garbage, are conducted by the Cana Conference of Chicago.

The Rev. Walter Imborski, assistant director of the organization, said you will know that you have met the right one, boys and girls, if you can say "yes" to the following queries:

"1. Can I find happiness making the other person happy?"

"2. Will he — or she — see my faults and weaknesses and still love me?"

"3. Can I reveal my fears, ambitions and dreams and still be desired?"

"4. Can I see myself washing 50,000 dishes for him, or carrying out the garbage for her 365 days a year for 50 years?"

"5. Will I love her when she's 30 pounds heavier, or love him when he's bald?"

"6. Am I a better person since we met — more thoughtful, less selfish?"

"7. Am I proud of the partner I have chosen? Do I enjoy introducing her — or him — to my friends?"

Father Imborski said the answers should come from the heart, not the head.

Cana conferences — the name is derived from the Biblical marriage feast — are aimed generally at making good marriages and protecting them.

Funeral services for Mrs. Mally Blackwell, mother of Mrs. W. O. McClendon, 305 Lincoln, were to be conducted today at Octavia, Okla. Mrs. Blackwell died Sunday in a hospital at Mena, Ark. She had been in ill health for many years.

Mrs. McClendon has been at her bedside for the past two weeks.

Mrs. Blackwell formerly made her home with Mrs. McClendon in Big Spring. In recent years she had made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Lawson Boling, Cherry Hill, Ark.

Survivors include two sons, Jim and Ambrose Blackwell, Octavia, Okla., three daughters, Mrs. McClendon, Mrs. Boling and Mrs. John Nichols, Pratt, Kan. There are 14 grandchildren and a number of great-grandchildren.

She was a member of the Baptist Church for many years. Burial in Octavia will be beside her husband.

Snow Slides Kill Skier, His Rescuer

SNOW BASIN, Utah — A snow slide swept a skier to his death down a steep mountainside yesterday. Hours later, a second slide killed a member of his rescue party.

Ironically, the second slide may have been touched off by a rescue unit farther up the slope.

The bodies were found about 200 yards apart, on the east face of Mt. Ogden. They were left overnight.

The victims were Dr. Lincoln Ellison, 49, Ogden, a U.S. Forest Service official, and John Anthony (Tony) Deane, 23, Salt Lake City, a former Denver University and Colorado State University skier. Deane, formerly of Aspen, Colo., had been married just a month.

Ellison was research director for the Intermountain Forest and Range Experiment Station at Ogden, 18 miles west of this northern Utah ski resort.

He was part of a group of four experienced skiers touring through expert-class country high above the top of the Snow Basin ski lift. The others, following his tracks, emerged from a clump of trees to find his trail disappeared under snow left by an avalanche.

Two began probing for Ellison while Fred Montmorency, 58, Ogden, started back for help. A second slide tumbled him 100 yards down a nearby slope but he got up and kept going.

He met some members of the Snow basin ski patrol, who quickly organized a rescue party — Deane among them — and started off.

Some, but not all, were roped together. The going was treacherous.

Suddenly, a second avalanche swept six of the party away. One grabbed a tree and successfully hung on. Four others were able to pull themselves out. Deane had disappeared.

Patrol head Ray Nye said the avalanche that claimed Deane probably was inadvertently touched off by part of the patrol party working farther up the slope.

Teacher Likeable But Not 'Smart'

WASHINGTON — The first-grader who sent in his letter to the Washington Post's "Favorite Teacher" essay contest readily admitted liking "Miss Davis."

In fact, he scrawled: "I wish she was smart enough to teach second grade too next year."

All Kinds Of Toys Go On Display

NEW YORK — All manner of toys and other playthings — from inexpensive plastic gimmicks to a $3,000 mink doll carriage — go on display today at the 55th American Toy Fair.

Every room on 44 floors of two hotels will display toys. In addition, they will be shown in hundreds of rooms of two buildings where many toy makers maintain permanent showrooms.

About 16,000 U.S. and foreign toy buyers are expected to visit the show, which is not open to the public. It is sponsored by the Toy Manufacturers of the U.S.A., Inc.

Girl Scouts in Junior High School Troop serve as models for each other as they try out the principles of good grooming which are being taught them. Kay Foster holds the mirror so that Carol Hughes can see what is being done to her hair as Gretchen Cardin prepares to roll pin curls described in the chart held by Joyce Davidson. Care of the skin, hair and hands, the right diet and correct posture are some of the instructions included in the study on good grooming pursued by the troop, which is joining other troops this week in observing Girl Scout Week.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

'Beauty An Illusion To Create' - - Marlene

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — Although Marlene Dietrich made her professional debut shortly after the first world war, she has never relinquished the title of Hollywood's most glamorous star. And as a tribute to her ability to ignore birthdays she has signed a new seven-year contract with a Las Vegas night club.

When I visited her, she had just finished preparing lunch for Charles Laughton and Elsa Lanchester, with whom she appears in "Witness for the Prosecution." "You are a fabulous cook," Laughton was exclaiming when I joined them. Miss Dietrich has been told this many times before, but she was still pleased. "But what I don't understand," he continued, "is that I gain weight on your lunches and you don't."

When we were alone I asked Miss Dietrich about this. "This is a great mystery," she replied in her deep, beautiful voice. "I don't know why it is that some people eat all they want and never gain. I think a lot depends on the digestive system you are born with. It's like ordering two new cars from the same factory—one may be in the shop all the time for repairs and other will give you no trouble."

"I suppose you know that we consider you simply fabulous the way you just go on being beautiful," I remarked.

"It's not easy," Miss Dietrich replied. "And much depends on whether the effort is worth it. Most women want to be different, but if they have a big family to look after, they can't give the time and energy to improving themselves. It's more difficult to diet when you have to cook for growing children and sit down at a table full of food, than for an actress who has her lettuce and lemon juice served on a tray."

But Miss Dietrich believes that much of beauty is an illusion which can be created, and she has promised that one of these days she is going to write a whole book on this subject.

As I sat facing Miss Dietrich I thought I had never seen such beautiful legs and I said so asking, "Do you give them any special care?"

Marlene laughed. "Well, I run around on them. And that gives them plenty of exercise."

This is important to any part of your body. You have to use it to keep it in good condition.

"She knows more about make-up and lighting than any actress in the business," a crew member of her last movie told me recently. "Her theory is that the eye can be fooled with highlights and shading, but this type of corrective make-up is effective only when it is so skillfully applied as to be imperceptible."

"But," Marlene said, referring to the illusion of beauty, "charm is more important than anything."

"What does charm mean to you?" I asked.

Miss Dietrich asked her secretary for a dictionary. "Mr. Webster calls it an indefinable quality of delight," she read aloud. She looked at me with laughing eyes as though to say, "even Webster calls it indefinable."

"But you must know some of its ingredients," I persisted.

"It's inconceivable with a sense of humor," she volunteered. "With egotisms it's impossible. And you can't have charm with over-emphasis or exaggeration."

"Exaggeration of the human figure is one example," she went on. "Today the beauty of line has been lost to the tape measure. In other times you couldn't reach your goal with mere measurements. And almost everything in this country is leading women away from elegance."

"The standard seems to be how fast can something be outmoded?" This constant buying and not liking what you have? Women end up with a closet full of clothes and a feeling they have nothing to wear. And all this talk about separates! Wearing this with that. The main purpose has been side tracked. They will tell you they can't afford a good dress when actually it's more economical."

HOW TO STAY YOUNG

You may not be as lucky as Marlene Dietrich in keeping that youthful look, but you can correct bad habits with exercise and corrective cosmetics. In Leaflet M-40, "How to Stay Young," are exercises to correct a double chin, directions for use of corrective cosmetics, ways to keep your hands young and many other fitfully important suggestions. For your copy of Leaflet M-40, send only 10 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, The Big Spring Herald.

Home Lighting Standards Measure Illumination Of Room

A new set of home lighting standards recommends lighting according to the size of the room. The figures released by the American Home Lighting Institute are these:

Very small rooms, up to 125 square feet, need a 12-to-15 inch ceiling fixture equipped with a 100-watt or three 40-watt bulbs.

If the user likes wall lighting, he can use a 6-foot valance or cornice.

Average rooms between 125 and 225 square feet need a 15 to 17-inch ceiling fixture with one 150 watt or five 40-watt bulbs. The alternative is 8 to 12 feet of wall lighting.

Larger rooms over 225 square feet call for 16 to 20 feet of wall lighting. These may be supplemented by low-hanging ceiling fixtures in corners and activity centers.

Back From California

Mr. and Mrs. O D. Young, 610 Edwards, have returned from Capistrano Beach, Calif., where they were guests of their son and his wife, Pfc. and Mrs. David Young; he is stationed at Camp Pendleton with the Marines. Mrs. Jack Robison of Odessa, mother of the hostess, accompanied the Big Spring couple.

Miss Cowper Honored

Sally Cowper has recently been elected pledge trainer of the Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority at the University of Texas. It has been announced by the sorority. Miss Cowper is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Roscoe Cowper, 902 Mountain Park.

Enjoy Your Bath With Collection Of Gadgets

Let the men in the family have their fishing tackle and hunting gear. You can out-do them any day with your indoor sports collection. With your bath pillow, your "curtain caddy," your sponges, brushes, bath trays, terrycloth sarongs, fragrant soaps, and over-sized bath towels. Making yourself prettier, healthier, and more relaxed is about as fine a sport as a woman can go in for.

And there's so much enticing equipment these days to make a bath a special treat. A little bit of a vacation can be enjoyed every day of the year—right in your own bathtub.

One of the best beauty investments a woman can make is a bath tray that serves as a vanity table. It rests across the rims of the tub, holding all your little beauty paraphernalia. The ones made of lucite, with a full size mirror, encourage meticulous grooming. They also let you relax in a tub full of warm soapsuds while you give yourself a facial, do your nails, criticize your hair. This nice long soak eases tired muscles, and smooths away those lines in your face.

Of course, a little exercise isn't going to do you any harm either. A body brush or sponge—wielded vigorously—is a sure cure for muddy, roughened skin. There are so many different types of brushes and sponges to choose from. An especially good one is the vinyl plastic back sponge that has broad straps. Hold the ends of the straps

Equal Pay For Women Is Gaining

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The world's women, under the banner "equal work, equal pay," are making steady progress in the long battle for wage equality with men.

A report by the International Labor Organization (I.O.), prepared annually to provide information on the results of efforts by U.N. members to eliminate wage discrimination against women, shows wage discrimination against women still exists but is being slowly reduced.

In the United States, congressional hearings are expected this year on some of the many federal equal pay bills introduced by women lawmakers.

On the state level, the State Federations of Business and Professional Women's Clubs are playing a big role. In Wisconsin and Ohio, equal pay bills have been introduced by federation members.

In New York and Pennsylvania the state federations have been working to revise existing equal pay legislation to enforce the extension of coverage to all employees.

California passed a strengthening amendment to equal pay legislation last year and Nebraska adopted a resolution favoring it.

In Florida, Indiana, Iowa, Minnesota, Ohio, Utah and Wisconsin, equal pay bills were introduced. In Illinois, New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania, amendments were introduced with a view to improving existing legislation on equal pay.

New Jersey Guests

Reunion Is Held By Holland Family

A family reunion was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Holland, 510 NE 6th, during the weekend with all their children at home.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Holland and family of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Donnell and baby of Houston, and Donnell's brother, Edwin; joining the group were Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Holland and children and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Hood, all of Big Spring.

'Pioneers In Progress' Discussed By AAUW

A new perspective on Social Issues for Pioneers in Progress was approached by members of the American Association of University Women, Saturday at a luncheon session in the Wagon Wheel. Ina Mae McCollom, vice president, introduced the program.

Mrs. William D. Boyd personalized her topic, "Individual Liberties and Conformity," with a written poll among the members. Results revealed that 11 of the 19 present consider themselves non-conformists.

She quoted an authority who describes the current period as one of reaction against individualism.

A child from three to five years of age is truly himself, Mrs. Boyd said; under the influence of his environment, however, he becomes self-conscious and anxious to conform to the prevailing trend. Authorities claim that we are trying to adapt the individual to the environment rather than the environment to the individual.

In defining "Automation," Mrs. Robert A. Bonnell Jr. chose the connotation "the operation of machines by machines rather than by human hands." That automation has become a social issue is borne out by the fact that man fears he may be replaced by a robot in the working world.

Automation promises even greater contributions to society than have yet been delivered, such as expansion of old industries and the creation of new ones, improved products at lower-per-unit cost. But it also poses problems, among these being the replacement of certain personnel.

"Segregation and Discrimination" were explored by Mrs. S. G. Sommers, who traced the history of slavery across the seas and in this country. She confined her subject to the Negro minority and the segregation problems which have developed in more recent times.

During the business session, for which Elizabeth Daniel presided, announcement was made of the state meeting to be held April 11 and 12 in Dallas. Theme for the two-day event will be Program Development and Research.

Mrs. Bonnell announced the fund-raising campaign which is being conducted by AAUW chapters throughout the nation in behalf of the new headquarters building being erected in Washington, D. C. Local efforts will be discussed in a meeting of the committee, to which Miss Daniel appointed Mrs. S. M. Anderson and Mrs. A. Locke, with Mrs. Bonnell as chairman.

MOTHER OF YEAR

Action on a possible club nomination for the Mother of the Year contest will be suggested by a committee to be composed of Mrs. Maurice Koger, Mrs. M. R. Turner and Mrs. Boyd, chairman.

The group elected Mrs. B. M. Keese as vice president and Mrs. Bonnell, treasurer. They will serve for two years.

Mrs. C. L. Beach announced that the next club-sponsored dance at the state hospital will be Thursday evening. She reported that the February dance attracted 167 patients.

Mrs. Bernice Slater, Mrs. Turner, Mrs. Wesley Deats, Mrs. J. T. Draper and Mrs. Franklin McDonald were hostesses Saturday. They decorated the head table with a bouquet of yellow snapdragons and jonquills. Bud vases holding single jonquills were placed at intervals along the tables.

'Financial Outlook' Conference Stated In Dallas Mar. 20

A close look at the factors shaping the nation's financial "facts-of-life" during this period of business uncertainty will be offered by a panel of speakers on March 20 when the National Industrial Conference Board holds its first Dallas meeting.

Entitled "The Financial Outlook," the session will be led by Fred F. Florence, chairman of the executive committee of the National Industrial Conference Board of Dallas, and will be one of two panels meeting during the afternoon. Speakers and their topics will be: L. B. McKeight, vice president, Savings Bank Trust Company; "Federal Reserve Policy for 1958"; James J. O'Leary, director of economic research, Life Insurance Association of America; "Business Demand for Funds in 1958"; Aubrey G. Lanston, president, Aubrey G. Lanston & Co., Inc.; "Federal Financing and the Debt Limit"; and Ragnar D. Næss, senior partner, Næss & Thomas, "The Stock Market in 1958."

The other afternoon session will cover long-range company planning, with company programs to be outlined by C. A. Butcher, vice president—planning, Worthington Corporation; L. B. McKeight, president, Chain Belt Company; and L. M. Keating, vice president, A. O. Smith Corporation; J. B. Thomas, president and general manager of the Texas Electric Service Company, will be chairman of this panel.

R. L. Tollett, president of Cosden Petroleum Corporation in Big Spring is on the conference board and among its sponsors.

Neighbors Give Blood For Child

ONSTED, MICH. 9—Blood offered by 24 neighbors may course through the body of Susan Kurtz for five hours tomorrow when the 11-year-old girl undergoes a heart operation.

The 24 offered their blood within a few hours after it became known that Susan must undergo the operation in a Cleveland hospital.

Starting today the neighbors in this southern Michigan village are to go by car caravan to Cleveland to give their aid. Lloyd Kurtz, the girl's father, said surgeons told him Susan would not live six months unless she was operated on and that the odds were 5-1 against its being successful.
