Dissenter

Red-haired, freckled, faced 10-year-old Claude Keenan of Cincinnati took a dim view of being put to sleep and having his tonsils removed so, in rapid succession, he got up from the operating table, returned to his room, fled bare-footed from the hospital, showed up at his grandmother's home, disappeared from a bedroom there and several hours later emerged from a closet at her home with: "I was sleepy. I took a nap." Claude still hasn't had the operation, but says he will if "I get real sick."

2 Air Force Planes Collide, 18 Killed

BRIDGEPORT, Tex. (AP)—Two Air Force planes rumbled together at dusk yesterday and the crippled craft fell like flakes of sheet iron. All 18 servicemen aboard died.

The Globemaster was en route from Kelly Air Force Base, San Antonio, to Tinker Air Force Base, Oklahoma City.

The C124 took off from Sheppard Air Force Base, Wichita Falls, Tex., for Carswell AFB.

In a strange turn of the cards, the planes apparently were seeking greater visibility and safety by dipping below an overcast.

The C124 burned fiercely. Pools of molten metal glistened around the wreckage. The C119 did not burn.

Debris from the C124 spread over an area a mile and a half in all directions.

They were so low the occupants had no chance to parachute.

One was a huge C124 Globemaster based at Hill Air Force Base, Salt Lake City, Utah.

The other was a C119 cargo plane based at Carswell Air Force Base, the great Strategic Air Command installation at Fort Worth, 45 miles southeast of here.

The Globemaster carried a crew of 10, and five passengers picked up at Kelly Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex.

Six Plead Guilty To Felony Charges

Six defendants, including two men charged with robbery by assault, pleaded guilty Thursday afternoon in 118th District Court.

These were part of a group of nine which had appeared in the court Thursday morning and informed the judge they desired to enter guilty pleas rather than face trial.

Robert John Tunstall, one of two men indicted for the unsuccessful attempt to rob the Hollis Service Station on Feb. 26, pleaded guilty to the indictment.

Manuel Barela, charged with burglary, already under a two-year sentence assessed in February for another offense, pleaded guilty to the new indictment. His punishment was fixed at five years in prison.

Earl Thomas Wise, who is accused of holding up a liquor store on West High 80 on Feb. 1 and who was arrested 20 minutes later in Martin County, drew five years in prison when he pleaded guilty. Wise has been in jail since his arrest.

Hector Dominguez, charged with burglary, was sentenced to five years but his sentence was suspended on good behavior.

A suspended sentence was also granted to Eugene Oscar Ramos Jr., charged with theft. He was assessed three years for his offense.

Troy L. Blackburn, charged with forgery, drew the heaviest penalty of the afternoon—seven years in prison.

Gov. Price Daniel gave new life to the commission recommending it give emphasis to attracting smaller industries to areas hardest hit by drought and unemployment.

Other commission members are A. G. McNeese Jr., Houston banker; Houston Hart, San Angelo publisher; George Hinson, Mineola farmer and teacher; and Chester Wine, Laredo utilities executive.

DA. Col. Clyde J. Johnson, above, assistant support services officer at Webb AFB for the past 20 months, and his family will leave this weekend for Davis-Monthan AFB Ariz., where he is to be assigned as a B-47 bomber squadron commander in the Strategic Air Command. A command pilot, Col. Johnson has been in the Air Force since 1941 and served in the South Pacific during World War II. He holds the Distinguished Flying Cross, Air Medal with five clusters and Bronze Star, with other decorations.

Teacher Beaten By Two Students

NEW YORK (AP)—A junior high school teacher was beaten and his arm broken yesterday by two students who had disrupted his class.

George Moore, 32, said two Negro boys were out in the hallway cutting up and flirting with girls in the room through a broken door pane in the James Fenimore Cooper Junior High in Harlem.

Moore, who is white, left the classroom and caught up with the fighting boys. He demanded an explanation for their behavior, he said, and the boys attacked him. They grappled and all three tumbled down the stairs to the first floor.

Two boys, Peter Thompson, 13, and Melvin Harris, 15, were booked as juvenile delinquents and on charges of felonious assault. They were released in custody of their parents.

In another incident, Peter Schwende, 16, a white student in Broome said three unidentified Negro youths forced him into a car at knifepoint and drove him two miles when he was unable to give them 25 cents. He said they released him unharmed after taking two of his textbooks and saying he would have to pay for them if he wanted them back.

Few Reduce Soil Bank Contracts

Friday was the final date for farmers to withdraw cotton, spring wheat and corn land from the 1958 version of the acreage reserve but it meant very little in Howard County.

Only four or five farmers have made any application for withdrawal, according to Gabe Hammock, ASC office manager.

Total involved in the withdrawal in this county will run less than $1,000, he said.

He explained that complete withdrawal is not possible and that those who took advantage of the opportunity did so by agreeing to reduced contracts.

The deadline applied solely to the cotton acreage reserve and not to the five-year plan.

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP)—The mutilated, nude body of a Pueblo waitress was found yesterday in a motel room. A young insurance salesman was arrested.

Police Chief Roy Harper identified the man as Randolph Montgomery, 29, of Englewood.

The nude body of Mrs. Beverly Bair, 25, was found Thursday morning in the Mecca Motel by the operator, Dominic Pighetti, Harper said Mrs. Bair, mother of daughters 2 and 4, had been strangled and stabbed in the heart.

Her hands were wired behind her back, her legs were spread-eagled between the bedposts and a towel was stuffed in her mouth, Harper said.

Wagon Wheel No. 2 Drive-In Opening

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Rainbolt are announcing the change in name of the former Masters Drive-In to Wagon Wheel Drive-In No. 2.

The change in name is following improvements at the drive-in cafe at 2011 Gregg and represents an expansion of the Wagon Wheel enterprises. The Rainbolts also own the Wagon Wheel Restaurant, 803 E. 3rd, and the Wagon Wheel Drive-In No. 1, E. 4th and Birdwell.

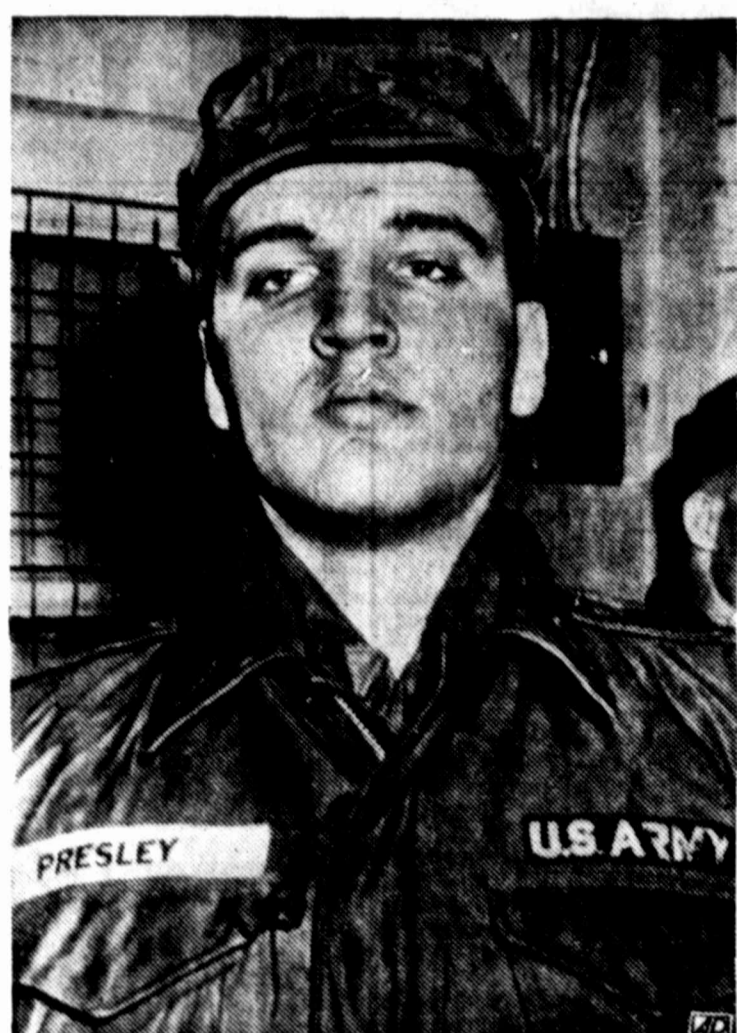

Al Bagwell is manager of both drive-in establishments. Rainbolt and Bagwell said the same good food and service for which the restaurant and No. 1 drive-in have become noted will be provided at the No. 2 drive-in.

"We are extending our Wagon Wheel service to this section of the city for the convenience of our customers who have been driving from this area to the eastern part of town," said Rainbolt.

Both drive-in cafes now feature telephone service, Bagwell reported. Patrons who are in a hurry or who do not wish to wait in their cars while their food is prepared may telephone orders in so that either food or beverages will be ready when they arrive.

Mr. and Mrs. Rainbolt established the Wagon Wheel Restaurant here 15 years ago. They have enlarged and improved that establishment several times since it was opened. Wagon Wheel Drive-In No. 1 was opened about three years ago.

Candidate Gained Success Hard Way

OTTAWA (AP)—Prime Minister John Diefenbaker got to the top the hard way. The rangy onetime country lawyer had to try three times before he won a seat in the House of Commons.

And it took him 16 years and three more tries to power after 22 years of Liberal party rule. In becoming Canada's 13th prime minister last June, Diefenbaker advanced a notch higher than his college classmates predicted 40 years ago.

The 1915 class book at the University of Saskatchewan forecast he would someday become leader of the opposition in the House. He fulfilled that prophecy in December 1956, and then astounded Canadian political experts by defeating the venerable Louis St. Laurent, one of the great vote-getters in Canadian history.

His background stands out in sharp contrast to that of the wealthy St. Laurent, although not so much to that of the present Liberal leader, Lester B. Pearson, who also was born in modest circumstances.

Diefenbaker was born Sept. 18, 1895, in Neustadt, Ont., a farming center. As a child he moved westward with his family to a frontier homestead. He began to practice law eventually in a tiny village in Saskatchewan.

He took over the Conservative leadership under what appeared to be hopeless circumstances, but he never accepted the situation as hopeless. Victory came after 20,000 miles of travel and more than 100 speeches across the country. He is now waging a similar campaign for next Monday's national election.

Diefenbaker—pronounced Deef-n-baker—has the physique of an athlete. He is tall and carries no surplus weight. He has curly greying hair, deep-set pale blue eyes and a prominent nose.

He loves to tell stories and his speeches are punctuated with anecdotes. He also has a passion for reading and a tremendous capacity for retaining detail. He is an authority on the American Civil War.

The Prime Minister is a deeply religious man. Even during political campaigns, he refuses to make speeches on Sunday. A Baptist, he doesn't touch alcohol or tobacco.

He married Mrs. Olive E. Palmer in 1933, after the death of his first wife. He has no children.

One of the main policies of his administration has been an attempt to shift to Britain 15 per cent of the trade previously carried on with the United States. He vigorously denies that this policy has had anything to do with the present high unemployment in Canada.

7 People Die In N.Y. Fire

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Seven persons, three of them children, died of suffocation early today when a fire trapped them in an apartment house.

Fire Capt. Joseph J. Nalore said the fire apparently broke out on the front porch of the 2½-story building near downtown Rochester and swept upward, burning the front of the house and cutting off all exits.

Six of the dead were Puerto Ricans.

Three persons were hospitalized. Neighbors reported seeing occupants jumping from the second floor.

The Monroe County morgue tentatively identified the dead as: Mrs. Mercedes Pino Garcia, her daughter Wanda, 2, and her son Juan, 3; Juan Colon, 28; Mrs. Aide Orengo, 21, and her son Luis Feliciano, 5, and Harry Talford, 62.

The morgue said all died of suffocation. Firemen had not determined the cause of the fire.

Farm Income Said Recession Reason

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee said today lagging farm income is a major reason for the recession.

The committee voiced disappointment because, it said, no proposals are being made to bolster farm income at the market place.

It did so in sending to the House for debate next week a bill to provide $3,216,988,539 to finance Agriculture Department activities for the fiscal year starting next July 1.

In another action, the committee approved $750,000 for the new Civil Rights Commission in the 1959 fiscal year. The step was taken over opposition from Southern members of the appropriations group and is certain to provoke a battle.

The committee acted a day after the House voted 9 1/2 billion dollars in new funds to run two major departments and 17 federal agencies in the coming fiscal year.

In approving the agriculture money bill, the committee said reduced farm income "is one of the major reasons that there are an estimated five million unemployed workers walking the streets of our major cities today."

"Elimination of the small farmer" is no answer to the farm problem, the committee said. It accused the Agriculture Department of directing its principal efforts toward "urging farm families to obtain off-farm employment and to move off their small farms."

Such a program, the House group said, would only swell the unemployment rolls.

The committee cited statistics which it said prove that the economic status of farmers has been lowered substantially since the Eisenhower administration took office. "The take of the middleman between the farmer and the consumer has continued to increase and the consumer has received no cash benefit," it said.

Per capita farm income has declined from $702 in 1952 to $684 in 1957, it said.

"Every economic recession in this country has started on the farm," the committee said.

Financing recommended by the committee includes: 1. Direct appropriations of $1,456,588,653 for regular departmental activities. This is $103,900,000 less than Eisenhower requested, but 100 million dollars of the cut was in the soil bank conservation reserve program which the committee said would be restored if more farmers sign up.

2. An appropriation of $1,760,399,886 to reimburse the Commodity Credit Corp. for its price support and related activities. This was the amount the President requested.

3. Authorization for the Rural Electrification Administration and the Farmers Home Administration to make loans for farm improvements, including installation of electricity and telephones. These loans are repayable over 35 years with interest. The amount recommended is 188 1/2 million dollars more than the President requested, with 154 millions of the increase earmarked for the REA. In two separate bills whisked through by voice votes, the House voted new appropriations of $388,540,200 for the Labor Department, $2,565,080,581 for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and $6,549,229,900 for 17 independent government agencies.

It tossed in an additional 14 million dollars for several Labor Department boards and services in one of the biggest money voting days of this session. The funds are to run the two departments and 17 agencies in the fiscal year starting July 1.

Both bills were sent to the Senate as the House cleared the decks for consideration next week of measures in which President Eisenhower has requested $3,300,000,000 for the Agriculture Department and $750,000 for the Civil Rights Commission for fiscal 1959. Funds voted exceeded Eisenhower's requests by more than 600 million dollars.

Biggest scraps were over House action to terminate the lease-purchase program for constructing government buildings and to appropriate 589 million dollars for government payment to the civil service retirement and disability fund.

Union Blamed In TEC Tiff

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas Employment Commissioner Maurice Acers accused the Texas AFL-CIO yesterday of being responsible for a continuing controversy among the three TEC commissioners.

Acers' statement followed a charge from Jerry Holleman, AFL-CIO president, that Acers was "flagrantly wasting TEC funds" for propaganda purposes. Acers represents employers on the commission.

"The so-called row in the TEC now stands revealed as merely another attempt by the AFL-CIO to influence commission policies," Acers said. "This group, or any other, has a right to speak out on the important matter of unemployment benefits. It has no real right to vilify an agency which has done an outstanding job."

CIRCULATION MANAGER JACK KIMBLE HONORS TOP CARRIERS OF HERALD CONTEST
Monroe Forsythe, pace setter, watches as Tommy Rogers and Ronnie Darratt get awards

12 City Votes Cast Absentee

Only a late rush today will bring the absentee voting total for the City Commission election anywhere near the 1957 figure.

Through noon today, only 12 persons had cast absentee ballots for the Tuesday election. Last year, 51 citizens cast ballots before the election day.

Today is the last day for voting in absentia, and no ballots can be given out after 5 p.m. Any ballot taken out may be cast by mail, but to be valid it must be post-marked by midnight, C. R. McClenny, city secretary, said.

The 12 who have voted is one of the smallest absentee turnouts in several years, McClenny said.

Citizens who plan to vote out of town Tuesday may vote at the city hall by contacting the city secretary until 5 p.m. today. Six names will appear on the ballot, C. H. Wasson, O. W. Laws, Dr. Lee O. Rogers, John Taylor, L. D. (Doc) Wilkinson, and George Zachariah.

CHILI FOR WEST

E. Side Carriers Dine On Chicken

The East Side did it again in the Herald's newsboy Chicken or Chili contest, but not without a real tussle from the West Side. In fact, the total scores announced by Circulation Manager Jack Kimble were the closest ever.

During the contest period which covered several weeks the East amassed 159,500 points. The West came up fast to end up with 157,500.

Gl Jones, district attorney, challenged the two score carriers of the Herald to start early and to aim high for success in life.

"There isn't any right age to succeed," he said. "You can do whatever you want to do if you want to do it badly enough, and if you're willing to start now."

Jones cautioned the boys, whom he described as young capitalists because they buy and sell a paper for profit, give service and make their own collections, that they would meet with disappointment. However, he added, this is not the important thing, but that they would aim higher after each failure. Abraham Lincoln never really succeeded until he became a candidate for president, he said.

R. W. Whipkey, publisher of The Herald, expressed appreciation to the carriers for their fine work in getting the paper out promptly to subscribers. He also lauded the fathers for taking interest in the business venture of route carrying which their sons had embarked upon.

Kimble cited Monroe Forsythe as the outstanding individual and presented him with a $5 cash award. Monroe piled up 24,000 points on his own, nearly one-sixth of the entire total of the West Side. Tommy Rogers was the next high man on the West with 14,000 points, while Ronnie Darratt led the East with 12,000 points.

Approximately 75 persons attended the affair at the Settles, more than half of whom dined on chicken and cloated over their less fortunate brethren who made out on chili and crackers. Jackie Hitt, with his dummy friend, Jerry, entertained with a ventriloquist act.

Kiwanians Hear Irishman Tell Of Homeland, St. Pat

St. Patrick's Day came two weeks late for the Big Spring Kiwanis Club but it was duly celebrated regardless.

Thursday's program was presented by A. I. C. H. B. McCauley, Webb Air Force Base, an Irishman from the north of Ireland. He told the Kiwanians of his homeland—including a brief biographical sketch of the patron saint. The story of the long struggle of the Irish for independence, the migration of thousands of his fellows to America in the last century and the deep impression they have made on American life formed the basis for his dissertation.

He exhibited souvenirs of Ireland which he had brought from his home.

An additional feature of the program was the song by Ronnie Phillips, Howard County Junior College freshman. He sang "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" and "East-er Parade." He was warmly received by the club.

Sherman Smith, program chairman, presented the program for the day explaining that the belated observation of St. Patrick's Day was impelled by the fact that McCauley was ill in the hospital on the day itself.

Several Colorado City Kiwanians were special guests.

Legion Sponsors Magazine Sales As Service Project

Additional hospital beds and wheel chairs will be acquired by the American Legion Post as the result of a county-wide magazine sales campaign now being conducted.

Early results of the campaign assure funds to purchase several additional items, members were told by the sponsoring committee. The campaign was undertaken when M. C. Grigsby, post service officer, reported that present equipment was not meeting the demand. The post maintains the beds, wheel chairs and crutches for free use by persons needing them.

In other business in the Thursday night meeting of the Howard County Post, Bill Bradford outlined the Boy Scout program and cited the need for additional troop sponsors. Commander J. V. Gregory appointed a committee to study the possibility of the organization assuming sponsorship of a new troop.

Foy Dunlap, membership chairman, reported membership now at 261. The goal of 300 should be reached, he said, by district convention time in April. In another report, Dunlap urged the Legion support of other youth programs with as much help as possible being given the coming baseball activities.

Russell Foster was a guest at the meeting.

Jaycees To Place Reflective Tape On Automobiles

Big Spring Jaycees will wage a one day "Scotch Light" safety campaign Saturday. Bill Gray, president, announced.

Jaycees will be on duty in front of the post office from 7:30 a.m. throughout the day to attach the fluorescent red Scotch tape to all motor cars as a part of the organization's drive for greater safety on the highways.

A charge of $1 per car is made for attaching the safety tape to the rear and front of the cars and the Jaycees ask for the full cooperation of all motorists.

Any profits derived from the operation are used to carry on the Jaycee safety program.

Local Firms Buy Tickets For 'Jack And Beanstalk'

More than one group of children will be guests at 4 p.m. today when the first performance of "Jack and the Beanstalk" begins at City Auditorium.

Because of a generous response from friendly folks all over town, first grade children (four rooms) at North Ward School and two first grade rooms at West Ward School are receiving tickets for the show.

The second graders (four rooms) at Kate Morrison have read the story of "Jack and the Beanstalk" and wanted to see the puppet show. Enough tickets were purchased for them, but according to the school principal, many would not be able to use their tickets because of the transportation problem. They needed a bus to pick them up at school and deliver them back from the auditorium. They got a bus plus a qualified driver.

Lions Get Report On Boys' Ranch

Downtown Lions were told about the work of Boys Ranch at their program Wednesday.

Paul Meek, member of the Local Foreman's Club, explained how 44 boys were being given good home environment, schooling, recreation and religious training through the generosity of West Texans. Efforts are being made to raise funds for another building in order to increase the capacity of the ranch west of San Angelo, he said.

Carl Smith, president, said that consideration was being given to replacing the traditional minstrel with a new fund-raising project for the club's charitable fund. Carl Hyde, Midland, district 2-T-2 governor, will visit the club officially on April 16, he said.

Police Break Up Burglary Attempt

Police caught two Latin Americans trying to break into a North Side grocery store during the night.

Reports $50 Lost

Bennie Matlock told police he lost $50 during the night. He said he lost it in the vicinity of the Rite-Way Cafe or Big Spring Courts.

Work Continues Today On City's Re-Paving Project

Paving work downtown continued today and work should be completed today on 1st St.

The downtown paving project got under way Thursday shortly before noon, and W. D. Caldwell's crews laid the first layer of hot-mix on 1st before quitting. The second and final layer was to be laid today.

And the street will be opened almost immediately for use after the crewmen complete their work. Unlike penetration-type paving work, a hot-mix is ready for use as soon as it is compacted.

The hot-mix is just as the title implies, city officials said, when the asphaltic mixture comes from the mixing "plant," it is heated to about 220 degrees. And it still holds most of its heat when laid. The hot-mix is a blend of asphalt, finely crushed rock, and sand and rock dust.

Bob Heine, assistant city engineer, is supervising the project.

Judges Ready For First Aid Contests

After scores are tallied, blue ribbons will be presented to teams in the top division; red ones to those in the second division; and yellow ribbons to all others who take part.

Over-seeing the contest will be Dr. Clyde Thomas Jr., chairman of the district's health and safety committee. Paul Soldan, Couden's safety engineer, will be the master of ceremonies, and Otto Peters Sr., veteran first aider, will be the official timer.

Individual judges will be assigned to each team, but after every problem the judges will change teams. Five from the Webb AFB hospital section will serve as doc-

Gromyko Delays Report To Parliament On H-Testing Ban

MOSCOW (AP)—Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko apparently will delay until next week his report to the Soviet Parliament on banning nuclear tests.

Premier Nikita Khrushchev is expected to announce his new government to Parliament at the same time.

Both events are expected at a joint session of the Council of Union and Council of Nationalities, probably Monday or Tuesday.

In his speech on banning nuclear tests Gromyko may announce that the Soviet Union, without waiting for the United States and Britain, is suspending its own H-bomb tests.

The move would be intended to overshadow President Eisenhower's invitation to foreign scientists to witness tests in the Pacific this summer to show how far the United States has advanced in reducing radioactive fallout.

The Council of Nationalities met for only four hours today and Khrushchev left an hour before the meeting ended. It will meet again Monday. Only parliamentary groups are scheduled to meet tomorrow and there are no sessions on Sunday. Thus it appeared the joint session would be pushed back to Monday or Tuesday.

The Council of Nationalities turned to discussion of Khrushchev's plans to reorganize Soviet machine and tractor stations and sell the machines to collective farms.

Khrushchev has labeled the plan part of his drive to surpass U.S. agriculture.

Speaker after speaker, each allowed about 20 minutes, praised the Khrushchev plan. Some complained that under the present system collective farms did not get the use of machines and tractors from the stations when they needed them.

Premier Nikolai E. Avkhimovich of White Russia said Khrushchev's reorganization plan was "as revolutionary as collectivization" which got under way in 1928.

Also awaited was an announcement of the new Council of Ministers, or Cabinet, which Khrushchev will name to replace the government which resigned along with former Premier Nikolai Bulganin. There was speculation that Bulganin would be named a deputy premier.

Khrushchev led other members of the Communist party's ruling Presidium into the Kremlin hall as the Council of Nationalities reopened the parliamentary session. Bulganin was with him.

Appearing more animated than at the opening meeting, Bulganin spoke frequently with Anastase Mikoyan. Occasionally he leaned across Mikoyan's desk to speak to Khrushchev.

The 640 delegates disposed of routine business and began a discussion of the farm program described by Khrushchev in a 24-hour speech. Its key point is the transfer of agricultural machinery from state centers to individual collective farms in an effort to increase food production.

Actor Oversleeps, Lamp Goes Up In Front Of House

BUSHEY HEATH, England's Veteran actor A. E. Matthews overslept today and some early rising men in overalls planted that offensive lamp post in front of his house.

For two weeks the 88-year-old actor has been feuding with workmen of the Bushey Heath Council who have been trying to erect what he called a gosh-awful, modern concrete monstrosity right outside the door of his 300-year-old cottage.

The workmen dug a hole. Matthews fixed them by putting a Chippendale chair over it and sitting down very firmly. Nothing could move him, not even the police because they didn't have the right sort of papers to become violent.

Mrs. Matthews brought out bread and milk, and the watch on the hole became a 24-hour mission—almost.

But even the most faithful sentinel has to sleep some time and Matthews did last night.

This morning Mrs. Matthews parried the curtains, and the dawn light showed that the workmen must have started at the crack of dawn.

"I have never known council workmen to start a job so early," said Mrs. Matthews.

"A gibbet, that's what it is, and I suppose they would like to suspend me from it," wailed Matthews.

What happens next was a little unclear. Matthews thought about an ax, but concrete is tough chopping. A village councilman said the incident is closed—it has planted its last post in its lighting program.

Khrushchev Gets Letter Writing Job

WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is expected to take up Russia's letter writing when Nikolai Bulganin left off. He may exert new pressures on President Eisenhower for a summit conference.

U. S. officials said today that Khrushchev may be willing to offer Eisenhower slightly more attractive terms for a summit meeting than Bulganin ever proposed. However, there is no way of knowing in advance what the Soviet Communist party boss, who took over the Soviet government post position from Bulganin yesterday, may do.

Some diplomatic experts have thought it might be a smart idea for Eisenhower to beat Khrushchev to the punch and get off a reply to the last letter he received from Bulganin. It came in early this month, dealt with summit conference issues, and is still unanswered.

At the moment, however, there is considerably more interest here in the possibility of an imminent announcement of change in the Soviet Union's policy on nuclear tests. Top U. S. officials have evidence to indicate that the Soviets are about to declare some kind of spectacular, single-handed test suspension policy.

Khrushchev has said on several occasions that he would like to visit the United States. He cannot do so without being invited. One way to invite him would be to have the summit conference in this country.

Some of Secretary of State Dulles' advisers, perhaps Dulles himself, have been reported to feel that a visit here would increase Khrushchev's prestige and give him an unparalleled opportunity to make Soviet propaganda since he normally handles himself on any foreign tour like a politician campaigning for office.

Eisenhower, who had said ear-

Fryers Are Best Buy In Meats This Week

By The Associated Press
Texas food shoppers will find fryers their best protein buy this week, the Agricultural Marketing Service reports.

Fryer prices are down from a week ago and supplies are increasing. Beef, veal and pork prices, however, have advanced. Budget-conscious homemakers will continue to plan main dishes around Boston butt and shoulder pork roasts, cooked picnics and ham, end-cut chops and ribs, beef chuck roast, stew and ground meats.

Egg prices have advanced 2 to 5 cents at retail the past week, with large grade A continuing the best buy on a per pound basis. Cheddar and cottage cheese are plentiful and economically priced. Homemakers will find prices of most fresh produce slightly higher. About unchanged from last week are bunched greens, green onions, spinach, carrots, Arizona lettuce, Florida potatoes and radishes.

Slightly higher, but in good supply, are russet potatoes, celery, cabbage, sweet potatoes, cauliflower, cucumbers, green wrap and vine-ripened tomatoes from Mexico.

New items in Texas markets are Florida blue Valencia beans, Brussels sprouts and broccoli. Broccoli and Brussels sprout are priced about the same as at this time last year. Green beans are higher.

Apples, bananas, avocados, California small-size lemons, Texas film bag oranges, grapefruit, Washington and Oregon d'anjou pears continue to top the list of best fresh fruit buys. Shipments of strawberries from the Rio Grande Valley are increasing and prices are slightly lower.

At freezer counters, bargains are to be found in ocean perch and fish sticks, strawberries, corn and green peas. Many stores are also featuring turkey, chicken and meat pies.

Price cuts are still to be found in Florida blue Valencia beans, green peas, corn, spinach, tuna, chum salmon and canned peaches.

Ike Urges Keeping U.S. Trade Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower says letting the administration's international trade program lapse would jeopardize the jobs of many Americans and build up the "deadly peril" of communism abroad.

It also would mean a return "to the law of the jungle in trade relations between nations," the President said last night in addressing a bipartisan dinner here and a coast-to-coast television-radio audience.

Eisenhower plugged hard for his request that Congress extend the Reciprocal Trade Act for five years. He also wants authority to cut tariffs as much as 25 per cent. The program faces rough going at the Capitol and is under fire from some businessmen—100 of whom staged an opposition rally in Washington.

The 1,200 diners Eisenhower addressed gave him warm ovations at the start and conclusion of his talk and interrupted him seven times with applause.

The dinner, sponsored by 128 organizations backing the administration program, climaxed a day long conference at which Democratic and Republican leaders joined Eisenhower in calling trade extension vital to United States interests at home and abroad.

Adlai E. Stevenson, twice the Democratic nominee for president, led the list of Democrats providing a bipartisan touch.

House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.), in a speech read for him because he had a conflicting engagement out of town, sounded a note similar to Eisenhower's in saying the Soviet challenge to the free world in economic competition is "unrelenting and deadly." Rayburn added: "It will profit us nothing if we gain the moon and lose the earth to the Russians."

The President hit hard at both the global and the home front aspects of the trade program.

Alluding to the U.S. business slump, he said: "World trade makes jobs for at least 4½ million American workers. At a time of slack in the economy like the present, these jobs should not be placed in jeopardy by crippling our trade program."

Rejection of the program, he added, would "destroy far more jobs and job opportunities than it could possibly preserve."

Local Park 13th In Visitor Count

The Big Spring State Park—Scenic Mountain and the drive around its rim—ranks 13th among the 44 state parks in number of visitors, according to the Texas State Parks Board.

There were 3,207 visitors to the local park in January, latest month for which figures have been compiled. Busiest state park was Mackenzie at Lubbock with 63,818 guests. Next highest number of visitors was reported at the Huntsville State Park with 6,873. All the parks reported guests totaling 150,016 in January.

The Big Spring park ranked sixth in out-of-state visitors in January with 143. Most of those probably were Webb AFB personnel from other states.

36 Hungry But Fiery Rebels Fume In Jail

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. — Thirty-six hungry but fired-up Cuban rebels from New York fumed in jail today charged with conspiracy to violate the U.S. Neutrality Act. Four Ecuadorean also were accused.

A Coast Guard cutter rammed their 85-foot vessel about five miles off the lower Texas coast in the Gulf of Mexico. All the New Yorkers were uniformed and heavily armed.

The vessel halted only after U.S. agents pulled alongside and boarded her. The men surrendered without resistance.

Arnold G. Barron, who described himself as leader of the group, said the men purchased arms and ammunition from an undisclosed source in the United States with $20,000 which they had saved over a period of months.

He said he was a friend of Cuban rebel leader Fidel Castro and that the United States had no right to seize his men and weapons.

The arms were those "with which we were going to defend freedom—the freedom not only of Cuba but of the world," Barron said.

The group protested by going on a hunger strike. All refused food and coffee ordered to prisoners in Cameron County jail last night. Barron claimed the United States was shipping arms to Cuban President Batista and that the fast would last until such shipments were halted. He said none of the group had eaten since Wednesday night.

Tom Wagner, U.S. customs agent in charge of the Brownsville office, said authorities had been working on the case for several weeks.

Atom Smasher Built For $100

NEW YORK (AP)—Mel Steiner, 16, has built a two-million-volt atom smasher in the living room of his home. It cost less than $100.

A commercial atom-smasher retails for $63,800. The machine is 6½ feet high and weighs 300 pounds. Steiner says it is capable of flinging a 16-foot lightning bolt.

Used to make the complex device were such items as a discarded washing machine motor, tin cans, ball bearings from a roller skate, a borrowed oscilloscope and a donated stainless steel dome.

Mrs. Satterwhite's Services Set Today

Last rites for Mrs. Louise Lola (Lula) Satterwhite, 79, were to be said at 4 p.m. Friday at the First Methodist Church.

Mrs. Satterwhite, a pioneer woman who came from the Indian Territory to settle here nearly three score of years ago, died shortly before noon Thursday after a short illness. She suffered a fall and broken hip a week ago when she slipped in the yard after a thundershower.

Services were to be conducted by Dr. Jordan Grooms, First Methodist pastor, assisted by her pastor, the Rev. Ernest Stewart, East Fourth Baptist minister. Burial was to be in the Masonic Section of the City Cemetery under direction of the Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Mrs. Satterwhite was born Louise Campbell in Grandbury on July 27, 1878, and was married in Decatur on Oct. 6, 1896, to W. W. Satterwhite. After living in Wise County for a time, they homesteaded in Oklahoma when it was still the Indian Territory.

Mr. Satterwhite and P. C. Cantrell drove their teams pulling wagons laden with household goods and farming tools from the territory to Howard County in 1901. Mrs. Satterwhite and Mrs. Cantrell came on the train, and Mrs. Satterwhite recalled how she was frightened within an inch of her life by a hog which bolted from under the board walk which connected the depot with the hotel.

The family settled seven miles northeast of Big Spring with the Satterwhites on the north half of a section and the Cantrells on the south half. Later Mr. Satter-white sold the place and moved to a hay farm south of Coahoma, where they lived for about three years. From 1909-11 he operated a bakery north of the Big Spring Hardware Company. In January of 1912, anxious to get back to his first love of farming, Mr. Satterwhite moved his family to what is now the home place northeast of Big Spring in the Center Point community.

They lived there until he was elected sheriff of Howard County in 1922. He was re-elected in 1924 but on March 24, 1925, he and a Taylor County constable were ambushed by a Latin-American Sheriff Satterwhite had trailed into the rugged hill country. Both were killed.

Since 1926 Mrs. Satterwhite has made her home at 206 Goliad. Two years ago she suffered a stroke but apparently had recovered. She has been a long-time member of the East Fourth Baptist Church and of the W.M.U. She also was a member of the Order of the Eastern Star.

Nine children were born to her, three sons and a daughter preceding her in death. Survivors are three sons, W. S. (Bill) Satterwhite, Lamesa, Robert O. (Bob) Satterwhite and Royce E. Satterwhite, Big Spring; two daughters, Mrs. Mattie Crook, Snyder, and Mrs. Tommy Reeves, 1333 Cambridge, Corpus Christi. She also leaves 15 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Palbearers were to be L. L. Mooty, Snyder, Alvis Lovelace, Corpus Christi, L. T. King, Merrill Creighton, Melvin Choate, Cecil McDonald, E. C. Smith Jr. and James Edwards.

Meg Makes No Report To Queen

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret flew off to West Germany today without reporting to Queen Elizabeth II on her reunion with Peter Townsend.

The 27-year-old princess left on a scheduled visit to two British army regiments. Half an hour later her older sister arrived in Dover on the royal yacht Britannia. The Queen returned from a state visit to the Netherlands which kept her out of London while Margaret was having tea Wednesday with the divorced man she renounced nearly 2½ years ago.

Members of the Queen's party said she knew about Townsend's visit to Clarence House before it happened. But some advisers to the Queen were angry, calling it "sheer perversity" on the part of Margaret and the former Royal Air Force group captain for causing talk while the Queen was away.

The princess returns to London Sunday after visits to the Highland Light Infantry and the 3rd King's Own Hussars. She is colonel in chief of both.

Townsend, in an effort to get some peace from the newsmen, photographers and romantic-minded dogging his footsteps, issued a 29-word statement saying, "There are no grounds whatever for supposing that my seeing Princess Margaret in any way alters the situation declared specifically in the princess' statement in the autumn of 1955."

In that statement the princess said she wouldn't marry Townsend because of the Church of England's opposition to divorced persons remarrying. The 43-year-old World War II hero had divorced his wife three years before.

Townsend said no additional meetings with the princess had been arranged. He is going to the west of England to visit his mother and said he would return to the Continent Monday or Tuesday.

Report Indicates Employment Pickup

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Labor Department report indicates the possibility of a slight employment pickup between mid-March and mid-May.

But it says the increases are expected to be "considerably smaller" than those in the corresponding period last year and that they will be centered largely in seasonal nonmanufacturing activities.

This estimate was based on hiring plans of employers as reported to local public employment offices.

It was included in a report which said joblessness rose between mid-January and mid-February in four-fifths of the 149 major employment areas in the United States. The report said the rate of increase slowed after mid-January.

Seventy of the 149 major areas now are classed as having substantial labor surpluses. This means that in each of these 70 areas, more than 6 per cent of the total labor force is out of work.

Looking ahead until mid-May, the Labor Department report said seasonal increases may bolster factory employment in some areas "but durable goods employers in most centers look for few significant changes over the next two months."

It said some additional employment losses are expected in a number of important auto and aircraft manufacturing centers.

Former SMU Prexy Is Dead At Age 83

DALLAS (AP)—Dr. Charles Selecman, 83, retired Methodist bishop and former president of Southern Methodist University, died last night.

When Dr. Selecman assumed the presidency of SMU in 1923, the school had only two buildings and an endowment of $85,000. When he was made a bishop in 1938, the campus had 11 buildings and $2,300,000 in endowments.

Dr. Selecman retired from active service in the Methodist Church in 1948.

The third president of SMU regularly preached sermons at Mungler Place Methodist Church after his retirement.

A&M Student Publications Chief Ousted

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Ross Strader, director of student publications at Texas A&M College, will not be recommended for the next school year because his "services have not been satisfactory," President M. T. Harrington said.

The action came yesterday after the Student Publications Board had recommended a salary raise for Strader and had complimented him for good work.

Two weeks ago, five of the six Aggie publications were awarded "medalist ratings"—the highest honors given by Columbia University.

Dr. Harrington made his statement after the story had been published by The Battalion, A&M College paper. A budget recommendation for next year did not include Strader. His post was retained.

"This sort of information is normally kept confidential until the recommendation has been made to the board of directors and action taken by the board," Harrington said.

"This information has been published in our student newspaper and I believe it to be in the best interest of the college to make a clear and final disposition of the matter."

Harrington said the "final responsibility for this recommendation is mine and is based on the fact that this individual's services have not been satisfactory."

Strader said he had been informed of the matter in a letter from Dr. Robert Kamm, dean of student personnel services. He said he had "never been given the reason, or reasons, for this action."

Home Builders Lose Flood Suit

FORT WORTH (AP)—A District Court jury ruled yesterday that a Fort Worth couple should receive $18,175 in damages resulting from the flooding of their home last spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Cranford won that amount in a suit they entered against McDonald-Perkins Builders.

The Cranfords demanded that the firm take back the house and refund the $11,990 purchase price or pay them $25,500 damages.

The jury ruled that the building firm had falsely represented to the couple that the property was not in a flood area and had never been flooded.

A Bible Thought For Today

"And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto him gifts; gold, and frankincense, and myrrh." (Matthew 2:11)

Where Do You Draw The Line?

A ruling by International Revenue Service Commissioner R. C. Harrington recently barred private power companies from including advertising, which would be included as an expense of doing business. The matter was propounded to a decision by the Federal Power Commission and at the urging of Sen. Estes Kefauver, a staunch defender of the TVA. The senator predicted that communication media would raise a hue and cry about the threatened abridgement of the freedom of the press.

This does not qualify him as a prophet, for it requires no gift of prophecy to predict that one will cry "Woe!" when he perceives that the wolves are among the sheep.

Of course the ruling does not bar the companies from expending funds to advertise their views, but it does penalize them to the extent of the cost for paying their way instead of trying to chisel free space or time.

Whether to spend money for advertising is a matter for management—and ultimately the stockholders—to determine. It should not be left as a matter of government whim for the very obvious reason there is no line of demarcation. Today's ban against quasi-political copy may cover tomorrow's congratulatory messages, 4-H Club boosting, the extolling of Boy Scouting, the private appeals for better education, or the earnest request to vote for bonds.

Some of the finest and most creative writing today is in the field of institutional advertising (remember the Texas & Pacific "Four Freedoms" series?). Is this type of message to become suspect? If any one type of message to become suspect? If any one type of institutional copy is subject to penalty, there is nothing to prevent any other type from eventually falling under the same cloud.

We're On Our Way

A start was made Friday on the installation of asphalt concrete surface for streets in the downtown area. We can hope that the weather remains stable enough that the work can be continued until completion of the project.

Because the original base for these streets is concrete, there has not been too much inconvenience except for the perpendicular edges of surfacing of Third and other streets. These jolting edges have been hard on patience and perhaps on tires.

But perhaps the problem is to be resolved now. Like a lot of other road improvements that we have noted in the past, we will tend to forget the tribulations connected with them and rejoice rather in the pleasantness and attractiveness of the improvement.

David Lawrence Communists Cash In On Defeatism

WASHINGTON—What the world wants more than anything else nowadays is a period of happiness and security. Instead, it is getting a heavy dose of gloom and insecurity.

The cures proposed are a symptom of the times. The mood toward the Communists is rapidly becoming in many western countries one of submissiveness and acceptance. A prominent newspaper publisher on the conservative side in England, for example, openly advocates "peace at almost any price."

This was the mood before World War II, and it gave Hitler his principal basis for encouragement. The Nazi dictator thought he would have a pushover and hence started a war on Poland that became a big war.

Today the Communists are making rapid strides throughout the world. They are benefiting by the disunity inside the western countries and the naive acceptance of the idea that a "summit" conference with the Kremlin dictatorship will bring peace with disarmament, lower budgets, and the ease and comforts of an enjoyable existence.

What really is lacking is the courage to face reality. There is little evidence of a spirit of sacrifice or even of faith in ideals among many of the leaders of political thought here and abroad.

Anyone who, like Secretary Dulles, sticks to his convictions is condemned as "inflexible" or "idealistic." The times, it is said, call for a "deal," even with gangsters.

Meanwhile, the Soviet Union is winning the "cold war." From the Far East to the Middle East and from the Arab countries clear across North Africa to Morocco, the Communist apparatus is gaining ground by penetration and political infiltration. Puppet governments everywhere proclaim their new "nationalism," but the inside facts show they are stooges of the Kremlin.

England and France have been weakened from within by Communist strategy, which capitalizes on the political ineptitude of leaders who put party interests above their country. West Germany's government is being undermined by political groups playing the Communists game.

In America, President Eisenhower's leadership in world policy is constantly assailed by his political opponents, thus affording the men in the Kremlin the encouragement they want as they continue their plotting and scheming in the Far East and Southeast Asia as well as in the Middle East. Communist agents and their pawns are active everywhere in propagandizing points of view that are, by coincidence, always taken up by various political groups in this country who seem unaware of or indifferent to the fact that what they do is giving the Communists their main hope of producing inaction by the United States in world affairs.

The truth is that the Soviets see American opinion swinging sooner or later either to isolationism or to "peace at any price." They feel that, by persistent pressure, European opinion will be frightened into refusing the use of missile bases to American forces. This would naturally mean a withdrawal also of American troops from Europe. Then the puppet governments directed by Moscow could take over the whole of Western Europe without firing a shot.

The naivete of many people in the West is amazing. Communist influences are permitted to flourish. In America the Communists have gone underground but they are as active as ever, and the Department of Justice knows it. People in America and England, moreover, are being scared, for instance, by a constant propaganda against nuclear tests, despite official information which shows the vital need for such tests and the scientific evidence which indicates that the slight damage done is far outweighed by military necessity. Now the drive is on to stop testing altogether irrespective of any real guarantees against violations by the Soviets.

In the midst of such dangerous international situation, the politicians not only are fighting each other on Capitol Hill about international issues but they seem eager to make the domestic situation worse by unsound schemes of tax reduction—involving a budget deficit of from 10 to 15 billion dollars—which could do more harm than good.

Unity and patriotism among the bickering legislators—in Washington, London, Paris, Rome and Bonn—and a spirit of sacrifice throughout the democracies could give the rulers of the Kremlin pause and frustrate their conquest of bigger and bigger areas. But a self-centered populace seems never to see until it is too late that a nation cannot be strong unless it is united and ready to face the enemy unflinchingly.

Appeasement means war, and internal divisions encourage the aggressors. Will history repeat and the experience of the 1930's be duplicated? The economic recession then was cured only by war and at what a price in human lives!

LETTER TO EDITOR

DEAR EDITOR:

This is a rebuttal to the article by Sam Blackman on desegregation. I see that Mr. Blackman is a strong exponent of social integration. He also claims to be opposed to communism, yet he is aware of the fact that almost 100 per cent of the communists have infiltrated to the ranks of desegregation. He also is aware of the fact that the dominating Supreme Court is a loyal friend to the Communist party.

So, why, I ask, is Mr. Blackman trying to delude the people into believing such blather he advocates?

It is my opinion that people can sin for violating and transgressing God's law of segregation as same as any other sin. Do we actually believe that God would have gone to the task of creating the many separate races of people just to have them merged into a mongrel race?

WILLIAM N. BLANSITT

The name is Blackburn. The article to which Reader Blansitt refers was, in our judgment, an objective report, and on the controversial question of segregation was neither pro, un-pro, ex-pro, pro-pro, nor quid pro quo.—ED

James Marlow Ike Has Lost A Pen Pal

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's lost a pen-pal, Nikita Khrushchev, last traveling companion, and Prime Minister Bulganin lost a job.

With another full-blown one-man dictatorship replacing the Soviet Union's vaunted collective leadership, the future is anyone's guess.

What happened yesterday—when Communist party boss Khrushchev bounced Bulganin and became prime minister too—was simply political realism. The party ran the Soviet Union. Khrushchev ran the party and the country. Bulganin was strictly a front man. So Khrushchev became boss of everything in name as well as in fact.

The question is: Why did he have to bounce Bulganin at all? Bulganin was only window dressing. He didn't have a shred of Khrushchev's power. He looked like an oversized Santa Claus who made a genial traveling companion for Khrushchev on his frequent trips abroad.

It's possible Khrushchev—playing the role of world peacemaker—wants to make some sudden and dramatic proposals that will have a greater appearance of newness and a break with the past if the new boss man is doing the talking instead of talking through his Charley McCarthy, Bulganin.

In the world's mind all Soviet policies and proposals so far have had to be identified with Bulganin and Khrushchev. Bulganin, meanwhile, may drop back into a deputy premier's spot, with nothing to do. There are, however, other possible courses Khrushchev can take.

For the time being he may continue his policy of sweet reasonableness and peaceful intentions, but switch it when he feels the Soviet Union has enough muscle not to be so peaceful. The Soviet Union still isn't in a position to outmatch this country thoroughly in a military way. It's trying hard. If it succeeds Khrushchev may drop his trying-to-get-along tactics for threats and intimidation. He doesn't have a lot of time to wait. He's 64. But the Soviet Union is moving fast. So is Khrushchev, and has been since the old dictator, Stalin, died in 1953.

What Others Say

The first step toward solving the problem of biculturalism in the schools is to recognize it openly. Nothing is ever accomplished by trying to minimize the facts...

Hal Boyle
There'd Be Some Changes Made

NEW YORK (AP)—Sidewalk scrawls of a Pavement Plato:

Some people say that, if they had the chance, they'd like to live their life all over again—repeating it step by step.

Such people do not impress me as being either happy or wise. They do not even impress me as being human. They impress me as being merely vocal phonograph records, too dizzy from their circular rut to make common sense.

A man who insists that, if he had it to do all over again, he'd do it in exactly the same way is either a perfect saint, a simpleton or an insufferable egotist.

The only real fun in contemplating a second life on earth lies in figuring how you would make it different. If I had this chance, believe me, there'd be some changes made.

For example: I'd inherit money. A man who has to fight for wealth is like a hen in a brook. He is always out of his element. He never feels entirely comfortable.

I would learn to play at least two instruments, so I could make music of my own, and not have to choose always between Beethoven and Elvis Presley.

I would read fewer fairy tales as a boy and read more poetry, history and biography. Many of a man's greatest mistakes in life come from believing fairy tales.

At five I would start brushing my teeth regularly three times a day and seeing my dentist at least twice a year. Then, if I still had to buy store molars before I was 50, I'd know whether to blame it on myself or heredity.

I would not quit the Boy Scouts at 13 just because a pretty red-haired girl moved into the house across the street. If you stay with the Scouts you will learn to find your way out of any forest. But once you get interested in red-haired girls you never get out of the woods.

I would learn to ride a horse, drive a car, fly an airplane.

I would never pursue romance with a girl who refused to lend me money first. Women are most aware of the value of money. If they won't invest their cash in you, they won't invest their heart either. It's a waste of your man's time to go with them.

Finally, I would build bigger daydreams while young. The greatest curse of middle age and old age is to be the prisoner of small, nonelastic daydreams.

If I did all these things, my second life might not be any better than my present one, but at least it would be different—and I'd know the difference. That's something.

And how would you re-live yours?

MR. BREGER

Around The Rim 'Hemingway' Makes Notes

Vignettes of Big Spring:
Two young boys out shooting Martians on a vacant lot get hungry, as young spacemen ever will—and as young cowboys used to. One suggests going to the other's house, since it is closer, to beg some peanut butter sandwiches.

"Now," quips the other, "let's go to your house. Your mother's a better spreader."

Angling enthusiast has an experience that surely heralds the advent of something-or-other (such as the old days, before DDT): Being a worm man myself, I asked him if he fished with flies.

He mumbled out his answer, "We fished, ate, slept, boated, camped, drank and swam with flies."

The young airman overheard quizzing his pretty young wife as he helps her up the steps of a local hospital: "Baby, are you sure you want to go through with this?"

A professor warns his students in science lab: "Never handle exposed wires with your bare hands." An innocent student wants to know why. The prof quips, "At least there's one student who'll get a charge out of this course."

Papa is kidding his teen-age daughter over the "beat" generation's well-advertised "lack" of some old-time virtues. "When I was a young man," says he, "girls knew how to blush."

The girl's eyes widen in mock horror, "Why, papa! Whatever did you say to them?"

Papa snorts, but has to admit the younger generation still has a sense of humor.

A waitress tells this one: A traveling man comes into her place of employment, sits down, and tells her, "Bring me two eggs fried so hard they are edged in black, two slices of burnt toast and a cup of cold coffee. Sit it down and nag like hell—I'm homesick."

Advice from a jet jockey: Don't get killed on Friday; it spoils your weekend. Get killed on Monday; then, you have nothing to look forward to but a whole week of work.

Scenes at some local bistros:
"Let's Go to the Hop" and "Raunchy" blaring over the juke box, few other tunes allowed.

Late in the evening (or early in the morning) tables and chairs are shoved aside to make room for wilder dancing.

There's one youngster with his soft-shoe dance; another with his pop jig; buddies cheer them on.

A couple of other raunchies dancing on a railing, staying upright by virtue of shoulders pressed against the ceiling.

Some of the female hangers-on are confused little girls who travel in pairs or packs—an instinctive, though unconscious, defense mechanism. Their sirs are seldom sexual—they're too fearful. They can't be good, but they try hard to be bad.

Then there's the cute redhead who takes off her rings when she shows up at the bistro. Husband's at work, three children at home with the baby sitter—maybe.

An especially rugged airplane driver is assaulted by a couple of civilians who object to his language, which bothers their wives. He whips both of them. Those involved soon forget it, but a trio of students who are still wet behind the ears makes a celebration of it. Because he whipped a couple of civilians. An older and wiser pilot observes that, since practically every adult male civilian is a veteran, it's all rather ridiculous. Everyone else is inclined to agree, and once again you can't tell the civilian from the military.

There's a party celebrating a special occasion of some sort. Party-crasher passes around a bottle of champagne, and he's in.

Soufflé-eyed girl sits alone. A young innocent makes his way over, gets acquainted, escorts her to her car. He's back in a few minutes, sadder but wiser. He didn't know she's one of the confused little girls.

A hopeful artist would like to be another Toulouse-Lautrec, sits in a far corner busily sketching.

And a would-be Hemingway sits in an opposite corner taking notes.

Inez Robb American Fashions For Americans

It is one woman's opinion that the untimely death of Claire McCardell, the American fashion designer's designer, has pinpointed the worm in America's fashion rose.

As was pointed out at the time of her death last week, Miss McCardell was to her own self and to America true. She won international fame as an American designer of American fashions for American women. Neither French, Italian nor Hotentot couture influenced her. She had not attended a Paris showing in more than 25 years.

In short, she had faith in herself and her gifts, and it paid off in fame and fortune. She did not attempt to cage women in 18-inch waists one season and in barrels the next. She knew anatomy and she neither insulted nor flouted it. Museums collected and exhibited her timeless creations.

She stood on her own feet, on her native soil and she was good. No tricks, no fads, no stunts. When Paris sneezed, Miss McCardell did not slap a mustard plaster on her customers! And I mourn her passing and salute her courage.

So now, let us focus on that worm in the national fashion pest. It is also one woman's opinion that most American fashion designers, with few exceptions, lack the courage of their own great talents. So they grasp at a crutch they do not need, a crutch variously marked "Made in Paris" or "Made in Italy."

Even when the mode is ugly and degenerate, as at the moment, they do not have the intestinal fortitude to say "No!"

And it is also my opinion that the chief reason that gifted American designers lack the character to stand alone can be directly traced to a small, powerful and snob section of the American fashion press that is more fascinated by its own novel than ever Buddha was with his.

This group wields power far beyond its numbers, merits or ability. And its heart, hand and purple prose are pledged completely to the French couture.

In its book, the French designers can do no wrong, and anything an American designer can do a Parisian couturier can do a thousand times better. This group of the fashion press has abdicated its responsibility as reporters, much less as critics, and simply become unpaid drum-beaters for French fashion. Recently they greeted the appearance of Yves St. Laurent, successor to the late Christian Dior, with panegyrics that would ordinarily be reserved for a combination of Gandhi, Churchill, Joe Di Maggio and Venus rising from the sea.

And while I am handing out my licks, let me include a clutch of newspaper editors. They will rubbish any picture or story about French fashions, but they are affronted at the very thought of publishing pictures or stories about American designs or designers. For some reason the French give in "news" and the American is "free publicity"! Good grief! American fashion is news, just as is the changing of design in American cars.

A few American designers, such as Miss McCardell, the great Mainbocher, Sophie of Saks Fifth Avenue and Pauline Tighe, have had the courage to be themselves and design American. Not a sack in a carload of their beautiful clothes.

Their example, for all are extremely successful, should encourage other American designers to get up on their own hind legs and be themselves. They have only their chains to lose.

The Gallup Poll West Germany Has High Prosperity

PRINCETON, N. J. — West Germany today is enjoying an unprecedented prosperity judging by the testimony of Germans themselves.

Nearly two out of three West Germans interviewed by the Gallup affiliate, EMNID, say that their standard of living today is as good as, if not better, than before World War II.

The headway that the German economy has made in the post-war years is dramatically demonstrated by the vote on this question over the last eight years.

In 1950, for example, nearly two out of three Germans said that their living standard was worse than it had been before World War II.

Here is the trend since 1950 as recorded by EMNID:

	LIVING STANDARD
	Bet. as before	No. Per Cent	Worse
1950	7	24	63
1952	15	24	53
1954	18	29	48
1955	23	34	38
1957	24	35	30
TODAY	31	33	27

The group in Germany doing the best today, from a prosperity standpoint, are the government workers. Nearly three out of four said their living standards today are better than they were before the war.

As is the case in the United States, Canadians are having unemployment headaches today. The problem of finding jobs for people is named the No. 1 problem facing Canada in a recent Gallup Poll.

A survey in the U. S. revealed unemployment uppermost in the public's mind for the first time since 1937.

There will be no more cries of "yoicks and away!" echoing across the British countryside if majority opinion in Great Britain has its say. Some 53 per cent of all Britons interviewed by the British Gallup Poll would like to see Parliament pass a law forbidding fox-hunting.

Opposition to the move, however, comes from one important group—those with above average incomes. This group—which does most of the fox-hunting—votes 59 per cent against Parliament forbidding "riding to the hounds."

The British are even more eager than the Americans to be the first person to go up in an earth satellite. In this country, five out of every 100 said they'd like to make the trip—in Great Britain, eight in every 100 said they'd go.

Norwegians are also thinking about a space trip—8 per cent told interviewers for the affiliated Norsk Gallup Institute that they would accept an invitation to go to the moon in a space-ship.

In at least two republics in Europe—Italy and Germany—there appears to be little sentiment for a restoration of a monarchy.

Open House, Reunion To Mark The Eugene Long's Fifty Years

All eight of their children are expected to be here Sunday when Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Long, Route 1, observe their Golden Wedding Anniversary. The milestone will be marked with open house, from 2 to 5 p.m., at Cosden Country Club. Friends of the family are cordially invited to attend.

The event, originally planned for March 2, was postponed because of a death in the family. March fourth, 50 years ago, was not only Lula Hodnett's 20th birthday—it was her wedding day. Her family had moved from Big Spring to a ranch in Crane County, two years before. But during the three years of residence in Big Spring she had met Eugene Long at a party.

On their wedding day, the sweethearts left the Hodnett home at 9 a.m. to drive in a bus to the 18 miles to Grand Falls and the justice of the peace. They were attended by the bride's sister, Mattie, who is now Mrs. Wiley Puckett of Lubbock.

After the noon ceremony, they drove back to the house for a dinner party to which all the neighbors and friends were invited. They danced to the music of an old gramophone—the model with the outsize horn. Mrs. Long recalls, a day or so later, they began the trek to Howard County and their new home.

Long is a native of Collin County, as is his wife. He moved to Scurry County with his family at the age of 10 and on to Howard County in 1902. The couple has resided in this county since their marriage, with the exception of a five-year period in Midland. He engaged in farming and ranching until his retirement a few years ago.

There are two sets of twins among the Longs' children. They are Mrs. Henry Fehler and Mrs. Cecel Long, Big Spring; Mrs. Cecil Miller, Deming, N. M.; Mrs. D. P. Samanie, Fort Worth. Another child, a son, is deceased. The family circle includes 20 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Eitzen, president of the local club, Pauline Sullivan and Dorothy Winterbauer. Jo Wyatt, a club member who lives in Colorado City, will accompany the local group.

Fashion Show Given St. Lawrence Club

Members of the St. Lawrence Home Demonstration Club were given a fashion show at their meeting Tuesday when the 4-H Club girls showed dresses they had made.

The garments will be entered in the county dress revue, scheduled April 3 in the school auditorium. The club met in the home of Mrs. Eugene Hirt, where roll call was answered with gardening tips. Mrs. James Johnson led a discussion of gardening rules.

Has Birthday Party

An Easter theme was used in the first birthday party for Wesley Thixton, Tuesday afternoon at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Garner Thixton. Favors of miniature chickens atop cookies were given to the 16 guests.

Pastel-colored Easter eggs nestled on the green coconut cake, which held a single candle in the shape of a rabbit.

Mrs. Waymon Phillips was chosen vice president; Mrs. Doyle Dean, recording secretary; Frances Bartlett, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Don Crockett, treasurer.

Bunco games followed the business meeting; a surprise kitchen shower was given, in connection with the social hour, for Mrs. Sherrill Farmer, a recent bride. She is the former Jane Hill. Mrs. Farmer also received the traditional silver tray with the ESA monogram.

Rushes present were Mrs. Joe Taylor and Mrs. Chester A. Cluck. The next rush activity was announced for April 10, when a tea will be given in the home of Mrs. B. E. Reagan.

Pre-Organizational Meeting Is Held By Cosden Women

Machinery was put in motion for the organization of a woman's club from among the membership of Cosden Country Club when a group of 45 met Thursday afternoon. Mrs. C. C. Ryan Jr., acted as chairman for the session. Suggestions for club activities were solicited from the assembly, and out of the meeting came the decision to have monthly luncheons and to offer bridge lessons weekly. A wide interest in regular sessions of canasta and "42" as well as bridge was expressed.

Mrs. Ryan was named to head the nominating committee, which is composed of Mrs. Bill Davis, Mrs. Jack Gulley, Mrs. Waymon Phillips, Mrs. Harry Weeg, Mrs. Lloyd Nalls and Mrs. Robert Satterwhite. They will present a slate of officers for election at the next meeting, which will be at noon, April 10, at the Club.

District Nurses Will Convene In Lamesa

The regular monthly meeting of Texas Graduate Nurses Assn., District 21, has been set for 7 p.m. April 1 in Lamesa. The dinner session will be held at the Community Center Clubhouse at Lamar Forest Park, south of the city on Houston Avenue.

A film on cancer will be shown by Susie Flaming, chairman. Big Springers who plan to attend may contact Bessie Love at the VA Hospital.

Kate Morrison P-TA Elects New Officers

New officers were elected by the Kate Morrison P-TA at a meeting Thursday afternoon. Mrs. David Gomez, will serve as president. Other officers are Mary Sue Vasquez, vice president, and Mrs. Richard Macias, treasurer.

Brownies Entertained

Mrs. Harry Jordan and her daughter Martha entertained members of the Brownie Troop No. 3-22 Thursday with an Easter egg hunt and a chicken supper. Thirteen girls attended with the troop leader, Mrs. Mary Bryant. Carla Sue Watkins found the prize egg, and Sandy Bryant was awarded a prize for finding the most eggs.

Knows How To Breathe

Maria Schell, who is well known in Europe, has come to Hollywood for the famed role of Gruschenka in "The Brothers Karamazov." She attributes her sparkling eyes and radiant skin to proper breathing.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Inward Relaxation Important To Beauty

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD—All eyes in Hollywood were turned to Maria Schell when she was chosen for Gruschenka, the role Marilyn Monroe had expressed a desire to play, in Dostoyevsky's "The Brothers Karamazov."

"Gruschenka demands that I be as physically attractive as possible, and I try to fill this demand. But," Maria told me in her dressing room at MGM, "make-up has nothing to do with my sex appeal. And I'm very grateful that they left me as I am and that no one asked me to be different."

Maria is Austrian and speaks four languages well enough to have made pictures in Munich, Paris, Rome and London. She feels that understanding other people is an important part of self-development.

New officers were elected by the Kate Morrison P-TA at a meeting Thursday afternoon. Mrs. David Gomez, will serve as president. Other officers are Mary Sue Vasquez, vice president, and Mrs. Richard Macias, treasurer.

Twenty-five attended the meeting, and voted to sponsor a club pack. Dan Bustamante offered to serve as a cubmaster.

breathing. He feels it is the secret of health, vitality and youth. His theory is to re-educate your body to natural breathing until there is nothing forced about it—but rather your breathing becomes free and an involuntary action.

"I have seen people come into his classes looking old and sick, with their complexions grey from lack of oxygen. After he has worked with them they take on a vitality that is extraordinary."

"I feel," Maria said in parting, "that there are no factors more important to health and beauty than learning to relax and to breathe properly."

BREATHING EXERCISES

There are many contributing factors to maintaining a healthy body. Foremost on the list are eating nutritional foods, exercising, getting plenty of rest and knowing how to breathe properly. In Leaflet M-67, "Energy Secrets for Health and Beauty," are exercises for developing lung capacity; pep cocktails, energy soup, salad and many others. For your copy of this important leaflet, send only 10 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, in care of The Big Spring Herald.

As a dedicated actress and perfectionist, Maria has made a study of relaxation. "It is necessary for a happy life," she declared. "Outward relaxation is usually a contrast to the pattern of your life. A mother who stays at home caring for the house and family will find Las Vegas with its exciting life, the perfect holiday is the luxury of solitude. I love days at home with no obligations to see people or do anything."

"But there is a deeper kind of relaxation that we must cultivate for our well-being. This is an ability to check tensions before they get the upper hand. It is vitally essential to everyone to find a way to do this, and with me it comes through breathing."

"There is a wonderful doctor in Munich who has made a study of

Gardeners' Busy Time Comes With The Season

By MARY COCHRAN

April showers that bring May flowers should also rout out the gardeners and set them a-digging. Your calendar for the month of April will be a full one if you do these tasks.

Lawns: Most grass areas of your garden started growing last month and need a helping hand. This is a good time to replant and add extra top soil to those thin weak places. Also remember you need to give your lawn a good spring feeding.

If you are planting a new yard, remember the golden rule of gardening. Prepare first. The ideal soil will have sufficient clay particles to give body, enough sand to provide for drainage, and enough humus to bind together and aid in food properties. If planting Bermuda grass seed get the hulled type for best results.

Roses: Disbud this month and give that extra food. Be ready to spray or dust to control the fungus disease, black spot. This causes the leaves to drop and should be controlled at the onset. Application of the fermet compounds at 10-day intervals will do the job. Aphids will start haunting you, too. Either wash them off with a hard stream of water or use a contact insecticide.

PLANT ANNUALS: Annuals: This is the month for planting this versatile class of flowers. Perhaps you have already planted the very hardy varieties which include California poppies, cornflower, larkspur, annual phlox and Shirley poppies. Also early planters are sweet alyssum, calendula, wallflower, sweet peas, portulaca, nicotiana, cleome, sweet William, clarkia and statice.

You may now also start the less hardy type, those whose foliage cannot stand cold and freezing. As these come up thin them if they grow too thickly. They include ageratum, chandydaff, zinnias, gailardia, salvia, nasturtium, marigold, and love-in-a-mist.

der annuals may be planted if the freezes are about over. Most of these, however, do best if started in a protected place, such as seed flats inside or cold frames. They can be purchased in plants from the greenhouse and planted after frost. They include verbena, petunias, snapdragons, asters, scabiosa, annual carnations, lobelia, begonias Canterbury bells, and coleus.

Normal soil will support these annuals but take care to cultivate till the soil is very fine and pulverized. Careful shallow planting and frequent watering are both necessary for success.

Perennials: Most of these have already been divided and replanted. If not, do it now. Delphinium and Shasta daisies should be divided and reset. Use only the vigorous new shoots and discard the older parts of the plant, usually the center portion. You may also take cuttings from those tender shoots and root the new plants to be planted later in their permanent bed.

There are two different schools of thought on mums, the dividers and the cutting enthusiasts. As a rule, mums grown from divisions, due to an earlier start, are taller and need some type of stake, whereas the plants grown from cuttings are more uniform in size. There is a danger from disease being transmitted from the old plant in the division method.

PRUNING: Prune: Hedges, santolina, nemebergia and similar plants need pruning. Crepe myrtle should also be pruned at this time. Jonquils and daffodils: Feed those that have finished blooming. Remove faded heads but leave stems.

Pansies and violets: Keep picked for a longer blooming period. Vegetables: Start planting in mild weather.

Iris: Wash aphids off plants and use chemical dusting if necessary. Cut away bloomed-out stalks. Use a balanced fertilizer to encourage blooming.

Gladiolus and dahlia: Begin planting now. Azaleas and camellias: Give a light application of aluminum or magnesium sulfate to raise the acidity of the soil. Water this material into the soil thoroughly.

Feeding: all shrubs need a light feeding now to stimulate their growth. The berry-bearing varieties will not bear proper fruit without good food and water at this time.

Espaliering: The art of training plants and vines into geometric patterns is fast becoming popular. This is the time of the year to check the trellises and supports on which you will support these plants. Start training and tying such things as roses and fruit trees in this fashion as well as morning glories, sweet peas, and beans.

The Sacraments of the Church

BY TAKING PART IN THE ORDINANCES WE OBEY CHRIST'S COMMAND IN REMEMBRANCE OF HIM

Scripture—Matthew 26:17-29; John 6:35-59; Acts 2:42-47; Romans 6:3-11; 1 Corinthians 10:14-22; 11:23-26.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

ON THE first day of the Passover the disciples asked Jesus when they should prepare the feast. Jesus said: "Go into the city to such a man, and say unto him, The Master saith, My time is at hand; I will keep the Passover at thy house with My disciples."

The disciples obeyed Jesus and prepared the Passover. That evening He sat with them at table and as they ate He said, "Verily I say unto you, that one of you shall betray Me."

The disciples became very sorrowful, each asking, "Lord, is it I?" When Judas asked, "Lord, is it I?" Jesus replied, "Thou hast said." Did the other disciples suspect Judas then? We do not know.

Jesus then took bread, blessed and broke it, and gave it to His disciples, saying, "Take, eat; this is My body. And He took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it; for this is My blood . . . which is shed for many . . ."—Matt. 26:17-29.

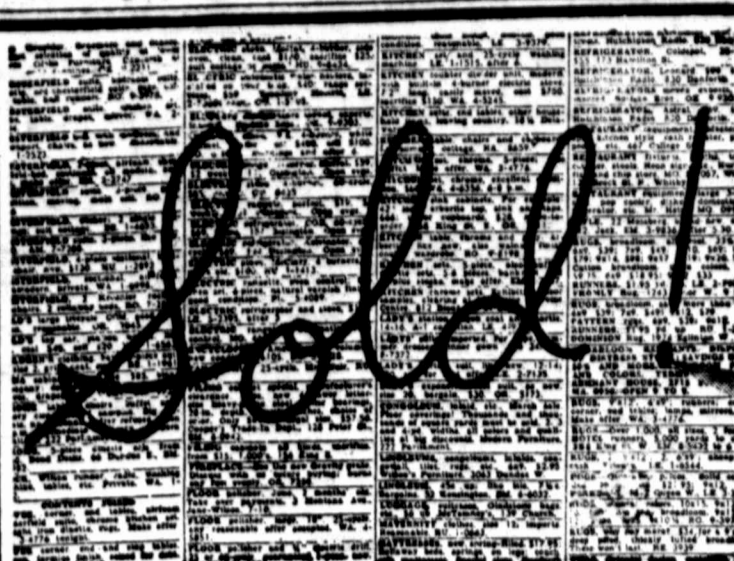

The Passover, which is observed for a week in every Jewish home, is so called because on the night before the Jewish exodus from Egypt, an angel of God had commanded that the blood of slaughtered lambs be smeared on the "two side posts and on the upper door post" of Jewish homes, and the angel would pass over these homes, but every firstborn of all Egypt would be slain. On that night only unleavened bread should be eaten, so the Passover is called "the feast of unleavened bread."—Exodus 12.

In his first epistle to the Corinthians, Paul writes: "I have received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, that the Lord Jesus the same night in which He was betrayed took bread; and when He had given thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat; this is My body, which is broken for you; this do in remembrance of Me."

I sat on the sands, watching the palm trees, the city silhouetted against the sky. And as I did, suddenly the city wasn't there any more. I saw only the palms.

It was like being transported to another time and place. I felt as if I were in old Jerusalem. It was the day when He was entering the city, and His devoted followers had strewn palm leaves in His path. In church, that morning, our minister had told us the story of Palm Sunday. Now I realized how much this message meant to me.

Watching the palms, I realized that all of us need help in understanding life's basic truths. We find that help in the Church. Then we can dwell upon what we have learned until it has full meaning for us . . . as Palm Sunday, now, has for me.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Kremlin's Up To Something In Space

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
 AP Foreign News Analyst
 A mammoth Sputnik? . . . A moon-high satellite? . . . What's next in the heavenly cold war . . .

What does the Kremlin have up its sleeve in the Soviet space program?

Vague hints suggest Soviet scientists are working on something spectacular. There also are hints that Soviet politicians would like to tie the next venture to something new in the cold war: an offensive.

It's been almost five months since the Soviets launched their second artificial earth satellite, Sputnik II.

Perhaps the Soviets have been trying and failing with new launching attempts. Or perhaps they plan to time their new shoot for a propitious moment. Just in advance of a summit meeting, their next space venture would have enormous propaganda impact.

Speculation on Soviet plans runs all the way from manned devices or space platforms to "just another Sputnik."

It is even possible, say some Western scientists, that the Soviets might try to throw a Sputnik on a huge elliptical course which would take it more than 250,000 miles — beyond the moon — before it returned to settle into its orbit.

In Washington, guesses based on intelligence information lean to the possibility of a mammoth Sputnik, perhaps five or six tons, carrying a successor to the martyred dog Laika of Sputnik II. There is an outside possibility the Soviets may try to send up a space platform — a sort of intermediate station for moon flights. There is no serious speculation about space ships in the sense of craft capable of carrying human beings to the moon, but an attempt to send up a manned rocket cannot be ruled out.

On the political side, the Soviets seem to be preparing for a heavenly cold war. There are indications they plan spectacular proposals such as international control of outer space and even of the moon.

States Get Time Limit On Argument

WASHINGTON (AP) — Attorneys general for five states facing suit over control of submerged coastal lands will have an hour each to argue their cases before the Supreme Court.

Details of the legal battle were worked out yesterday between the attorneys general of Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Florida, and U.S. Solicitor General Lee Rankin.

The case is expected to go before the Supreme Court the week of Oct. 13 and is expected to take three days.

Federal authorities filed the suit, contending all the submerged lands beyond the three-mile limit belong to the United States. The suit originally was filed against Louisiana, then enlarged to include the other states.

Texas, Louisiana and Florida claim land within three leagues of their coast lines, about 10 1/4 miles, belongs to the state.

'St. Louis Blues' Composer Is Dead

NEW YORK (AP)—W. C. Handy, 84-year-old composer of "The St. Louis Blues" and other jazz classics, died today at Sydenham Hospital.

The blind Negro song writer was taken to the hospital Sunday night from his Yonkers, N.Y., home. He had been under treatment for pneumonia and complications.

At his bedside when he died were his wife, two sons, William Jr. and Wyr, a brother, Charles; a daughter, Mrs. Catherine Lewis; and a grandson, William Handy III. The children are by Handy's late first wife. He married Mrs. Irma Louise Logan when he was 81.

Handy suffered a stroke about three years ago and had been confined, with rare exceptions, to his suburban home since. He had hoped to fly to St. Louis April 7 for the premiere of the movie "St. Louis Blues," the story of his life.

The son and grandson of Methodist preachers, Handy became a professional musician against parental objections. His father denounced such people as sinners. He wanted his son to be a minister.

Young W. C. compromised. He would be a teacher. And so he reluctantly traded his first musical instrument, a guitar, for a dictionary.

But he was not long without an instrument. He got his hands on an old cornet and mastered it.

He passed a teacher's examination and set out from his home in Florence, Ala., where he was born Nov. 16, 1873.

He became voice and music instructor at a Negro college in Alabama. He remained there two years before he resigned to devote his time to composing. Thus the "blues" were born.

'Tale Of 2 Cities' A Vivid TV Story

By CHARLES MERCER
 NEW YORK (AP)—The days of the French Revolution were vividly brought to life on television last night when Show of the Month presented "A Tale of Two Cities" by Charles Dickens on CBS-TV.

Director Robert Mulligan displayed remarkable constructive art in bringing a novel of such large scope to the small home screen. It was one of the memorable shows of this TV season.

In "A Tale of Two Cities" Dickens deliberately departed from his customary emphasis on character to tell a story of historical background with numerous incidents and big scenes. But an excellent television adaptation by Michael Dyne enabled a large cast to develop some fine characterizations. There were outstanding performances by James Donald as Sydney Carton, Eric Portman as Dr. Manette, Rosemary Harris as Lucie
