Dynamiter Terrorizes Idaho Town

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho — Two Army demolition experts arrived Saturday to work with police while fear of a demented dynamiter spread in the little town of Rexburg, 25 miles north of here.
Sixteen lockers in the Madison County Junior High School in Rexburg were blasted with dynamite Friday night. The explosion in the empty building injured no one.
Seven dynamite blasts in Idaho Falls have injured a woman, wrecked three cars, and damaged other property.

Bomb Blasts Auto

A mystery dynamite blast, the seventh in a series at Idaho Falls, Idaho, blew the top off this auto, seriously injuring the driver, Mrs. Roene Gasser. Her 15-month-old son escaped injury. Nervous residents of the Southeastern Idaho town have posted rewards for clues to the mysterious explosions.

Sumatra Rebels Threaten To Destroy U.S. Oil Installation

BUKITTINGGI, Indonesia — A revolutionary leader said Saturday the rebels will blow up the American-owned Caltex oilfield installations in Eastern Sumatra if the Jakarta government launches its big offensive.
Revolutionary Foreign Minister Col. Maludin Simbolon said he had learned from secret sources in Jakarta that the central government was planning a major offensive, converging on this revolutionary headquarters from three sides.

Probe Continues In Crash Of Planes That Killed 18

FORT WORTH — Military authorities continued Saturday to probe the reason for the collision in the sky of two Air Force planes last Thursday. Eighteen service men died when the planes fell to earth near Bridgeport, 40 miles northwest of here.
The Air Force refused to comment on reports by the Civil Aeronautics Administration that one or both planes failed to keep their assigned altitudes.

Squall Line Loses Punch

By The Associated Press
A squall line that triggered damaging tornadic winds, hail and torrential rains in North Texas as lost much of its punch as it reached extreme East Texas Saturday.
The front earlier stirred up at least three tornadoes, none of which caused injuries, near Lubbock, in the South Plains.

Adlai Urges More Education Effort

NEW YORK — Adlai E. Stevenson today urged the American people to put children's needs — particularly in education — over all other civilian wants.
"Who," he asked in a prepared speech "have we put the no-shift automobile ahead of abolishing the two-shift school?"

'Personality Baby' Contest Still Open

Children can still be entered in the $500 "Personality Baby" photo contest.
Four additional days—Monday through Thursday of this week—are being set aside to handle pictures of additional entries in this appealing event, sponsored by The Herald and Barr Photocenter.
Hundreds of babies' pictures already have been made; but, because of illness and the run of bad weather, many mothers doubtless were prevented from taking their children to the photographer.

Consumer Joins Recession Battle

By WALTER BREEDE JR.
NEW YORK — The spring offensive against recession veered to the consumer front last week. The battle cry was "buy now."
Government and business joined in the attack.
Some businessmen struck telling blows with the weapon of price reduction. Its use was based on the concept that balking consumers, if they sent a good bargain, still can be enticed into parting with their cash.

Relays Week Is Proclaimed

Mayor G. W. Dabney has proclaimed this as Relays Week in Big Spring, taking cognizance of the annual American Business Club sports event set for Friday and Saturday.
Pre-sale of tickets has established an all-time record for the relays as fans contemplate seeing a historic meeting between Bobby Morrow and Dave Sims, the nation's two top sprinters.

The total registration figure March had obtained previously showed 18,248 motor vehicles in the county.

Soviets Protest Atomic Tests In 'Trust' Territory

U. S. Mandate Isles Center Of Russ Note

WASHINGTON — Russia protested Saturday against United plans to hold its next series of nuclear tests in the Marshall Islands area of the Pacific Ocean.
The State Department, brushing aside the protest, said the tests will go forward as scheduled.
The Soviet objection coincided with mounting interest here in a possible announcement in Moscow early next week that Russia is halting its own testing of nuclear weapons. Such an announcement could come in a speech by Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko to a session of the Supreme Soviet Monday.
The protest itself was regarded at the State Department as a propaganda move along the lines that the Russians have used in past years. Russia was believed trying to embarrass this country, particularly in its relation with countries like Japan, which are strongly opposed to atomic test explosions and particularly in areas anywhere near their home territory.

Parr Champions Win Fight Over Demo Chairmanship

AUSTIN — Political companions of George B. Parr won an argument Saturday over the chairmanship of the Duval County Democratic Committee.
Two separate Democratic primaries in the political turbulent South Texas county may result.
After hearing almost three hours of loud and vigorous argument Saturday three members of the legal committee of the State Democratic Executive Committee ruled that an anti-Parr faction illegally ousted J. C. King on Sept. 14, 1956.

Volcanic Island Just A Mirage

PALERMO, Sicily — The Italian navy reported the birth of a new island in the Mediterranean Saturday and then found out it was only a mirage.
The navy first reported that a volcanic island had jutted out of the water to a height of 450 feet in the Egadi Island group west of Trapani, Sicily. A patrol boat was sent to the fog shrouded scene to observe the phenomenon.
Then came the red faced announcement that the report was caused by a visual trick produced by warm air.

Walk For Peace

NEW HAVEN, Conn. — Nearly 100 persons set out from this city and Philadelphia Saturday on a six-day "Walk For Peace" to the United Nations in New York to protest continued testing of nuclear weapons.

Easter Business At Least 'Par,' Maybe Ahead Of '57

By SAM BLACKBURN
Despite an early Easter and in the face of a month definitely "unusual" for West Texas weather-wise, Big Spring dealers in clothing and accessories report Easter business generally satisfactory.
Most of the downtown stores which handle dresses, clothing and accessories, believe that the total volume for the holiday season will be at least on a parity and in some cases above the volume for last year.
And they point out Easter last year was a good two weeks deeper in the spring than this year and that weather in March last year was not so frequently marked by showers and drab days as this month.
No grand rush has developed for Easter finery as yet but most of the stores anticipate the short week which yet remains before the holiday arrives will see a marked step in store traffic.
Women, as might be expected, are buying more generously than men. The "new look" in women's wear, despite all of the ridicule and criticism which has been hurled at it, is having its sales peak here and they are, despite their often voiced dislike for the mode, turning to the new styles.

Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

The special facility under consideration for Webb AFB moved up a notch last week, according to word reaching here from Washington. It could be that some announcement on this four million dollar development would be made within a week or two.

If you want a bargain that will bring about another big bargain, don't forget Cecil Hamilton's offer today to carry air passengers for a penny a pound. All net proceeds will go to the Crippled Children's Society to bolster the Eastern Seal sale. Flights will start at noon at Hamilton Field just off the Snyder highway.

More moisture came along last week, further improving the outlook. In addition to about a quarter of an inch over the weekend, Friday showers added from .10 of an inch up. Lake J. B. Thomas had .9 of an inch at the lake but not so much on the shed. At any rate it increased the lake level by about .05 of a foot, putting the elevation at 2253.23. This means that the lake level is a cinch to remain above elevation 2253 for a couple of weeks. That would make (See THE WEEK, Pg. 4-A, Col. 3)

Cuban Rebel Arms Seized

U.S. officials at Port Isabel check over clothing, weapons, ammunition and other equipment seized when a small ship, the Orion, was seized offshore. The boat's crew and 36 men, who said they were on their way to Cuba to help rebel forces, were arrested.

'Hour Is Near' As Castro's Followers Pass Out Arms

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Fidel Castro's rebels passed out arms among civilians in Havana and elsewhere in Cuba Saturday and said "the hour is near" for their big blow against the government. Cuba appeared to be facing its most critical hour.

President Fulgencio Batista — target of the rebels—asked Congress for extraordinary powers to crush any armed uprising or general strike. He was certain to get the powers.

It was the first time the Batista regime has showed alarm over the possibility of a general uprising. Castro has given him until April 5 to resign or face "total war," including a general strike. Batista, guarded by machine-guns in his sandbagged fortress-like palace, has ignored recent demands of the nation's leading civic, religious, cultural, and professional organizations that he resign to prevent anarchy and chaos.

The nation's army, navy, and air forces were alerted for immediate action in all six provinces.

A rebel band secretly invaded the newly opened 24-million-dollar Havana Hilton Hotel. From its top 30th story, they scattered leaflets to the winds warning of imminent action and calling on all workers to strike. They shouted "Long Live Castro," then fled.

Some stores in Havana were almost deserted. But food shops were busy as Cubans stocked up for an emergency.

The usual crowds of tourists vanished from most of the swank hotels. The Havana Hilton had only 44 guests in its 630 rooms.

Military intelligence agents rounded up rebel sympathizers in electric power plants, telephone exchanges, and transport and communications establishments.

'Oklahoma!' Looked Mighty Dismal Before Curtain Rose

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
NEW YORK (AP)—Fifteen years ago if you had the money, would you have invested in a show called "Away We Go?"

The producers, hard hit by a succession of flops, were begging for $70,000 to get the show to Broadway. They practically had to shanghai prospects into rehearsals.

The composer, who had never worked with anyone else, had just broken off a successful 25-year collaboration with his lyricist and taken on a new partner who hadn't had a solid hit in 10 years.

The choreographer had never done a Broadway show before. The director had only one musical to his credit, a box office dud.

The book for the musical was based on a play that closed after only 64 performances. The male and female leads were almost complete unknowns. But so was the rest of the cast.

All sorts of rumors, most of them correct, circulated about "Away We Go." The rumors didn't improve when the title was changed to "Oklahoma!" They said for a musical the whole thing sounded depressing.

The chorus didn't appear for nearly 50 minutes. The orchestra, shy on brass but heavy on violins, had a harp in place of the conventional piano. Two murders took place on stage, and one of the characters portrayed was a pervert and a sadist.

What's more, there were no sexy costumes, no gay production numbers, no leggy dance routines; only something called "folk ballet."

"You mean — one of them things?" shuddered movie mogul Harry Cohn when asked to invest. He finally put up $15,000, but millionaires William Zeckendorf and Tommy Manville weren't interested. Nor were MGM and Columbia Pictures.

"Oklahoma!" opened at the St. James Theater March 31, 1943, just 15 years ago this week.

It stayed for five years, lured for another five with two road companies, won a special Pulitzer Prize, sold 1,800,000 phonograph albums, placed three songs on the Hit Parade, toured overseas bases, was translated into half a dozen languages, was put on in Australian, Swedish, Danish and South African versions, was made into a lucrative movie in two widescreen processes, and repaid its backers a fabulous 2,500 per cent on the dollar.

San Antonio Cathedral Is Hub Of Activity

By HARVEY SCANDRETT
Written For The Associated Press
SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Two centuries and a quarter after its beginning as an outpost parish church, San Fernando Cathedral still stands as the official hub of this metropolis.

As an archbishop's seat, the cathedral is a spiritual center for 500,000 Roman Catholics in South Texas.

As a parish church, it ministers to a largely Spanish speaking congregation in the city's west central section. Multitudes flock to it on holy days and for Sunday masses. Migrant farm workers bring their trucks for blessing before leaving for Northern fields. Members of a men's society worship there throughout the night on most Saturdays.

As an outstanding historic spot and the proclaimed burial place of other Alamo heroes, it draws a steady procession of visitors of all denominations.

San Fernando was 100 years old when Bowie took the vows of marriage there with a San Antonio belle.

Today, 127 years later, through restoration and maintenance, it is as modern as air-conditioning and artisans' skill can make it.

A stone plaque on the cathedral front labels San Fernando the "first place of worship for Texans." This evidently is in distinction from the indisputably earlier missions, which ministered to Indians. San Fernando, which never was a mission, was established as the parish church for Spanish colonists from the Canary Islands who gave San Antonio de Bejar its municipal start.

The church and records burned in 1825 and it was not until 1841 that restoration was completed.

The facade and present main body of the cathedral were built much later. The cornerstone of the new addition was laid Sept. 27, 1868. A twin to the tower from which Col. Francis Johnson raised the flag of victory by the Texans in 1835 was built in this period. From the same old tower, Mexican Gen. Santa Anna floated the flag of "no quarter" in 1836 during the epic battle of the Alamo.

In 1936, while digging into the church floor, preparing to move back the main altar, workmen uncovered remains which the late archbishop asserted to be those of Alamo heroes.

Dissents came from some historians, who insist the remains of the Alamo victims were buried in a cemetery after cremation on a pyre.

and dated in revival, and almost everything after it, from "Carousel" to "West Side Story," is deeply in its debt. Despite the lapse of years, "Oklahoma!" remains as fresh and imaginative as the day it was born in the Barbary Room on 52nd St. and Madison Ave.

It was there that Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein II met at the urging of the Theater Guild to talk about another musical.

Rodgers at the time had just turned 40. Hammerstein was seven years older. They had known each other from boyhood — Hammerstein, in fact, wrote words for two songs Rodgers composed at the age of 15 — but they had never worked together professionally until "Away We Go," or rather "Oklahoma!" launched their famous partnership.

There has never been anything like it in the history of American theater.

"Oklahoma!" so transformed musical comedy by its sensitive plot and its skillful integration of story, song and dance that almost everything before it seems trite

Soviets Vote For Khrushchev

Communist boss Nikita S. Khrushchev sits with head bowed as members of the Supreme Soviet (Parliament) raise their hands to vote for him as premier. Flanking Khrushchev, now in a position comparable to that occupied by Stalin, are Deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan, left, and Soviet Premier Marshal Klementi Voroshilov. At right rear is Nikolai Bulganin, who resigned as premier, paving the way for Khrushchev's selection. Others were not identified.

Khrushchev Pointing Along Stalin's Path

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet boss Nikita Khrushchev apparently is beginning to build a "cult of personality" for himself — embarking on the very course for which he denounced the late dictator Joseph Stalin two years ago.

While his first steps in this direction may be tentative, and the process could be reversed, many U.S. experts lean to the view that Khrushchev will have to travel the Stalinist road, even perhaps to the ultimate point of using police terror to maintain himself in power.

The grim possibility is reported causing some apprehension in the Communist countries of Eastern Europe, where Red leaders are ultrasensitive to the straws in the wind of Moscow. There is some reason to believe that uncertainty and apprehension may be rising within the Soviet Union too, although authorities here profess no cross section information about public opinion in Russia.

The big build-up — the creation of an almost godlike position for Khrushchev inside Russia — seems to have started already. For example, after he became premier Thursday as successor to Marshal Nikolai Bulganin, he was photographed beside a statue of Lenin. Stalin built his power in part on claims of comradeship with Lenin, founder and prophet of the Russian Communist way of life.

It was also noted here that Moscow Radio poured forth voluminous praise of Khrushchev and his ideas, policies, accomplishments and qualities of leadership.

The assumption among American authorities is that although Khrushchev has gotten rid of many Soviet leaders, there are other men less known who are waiting for the chance to profit at his expense if they get a chance.

In becoming premier as well as party boss, Khrushchev has dropped the last pretense of working with somebody else, of collective leadership. There is no longer a Bulganin whom he can blame for mistakes. He has increased not only his direct hold on power but also his vulnerability to blame, and he has done this at a time of revolutionary new policies, which he initiated, in agriculture and industry.

The critical point in Khrushchev's uses of power probably will come, as the experts see it, when something goes seriously wrong with one of his controversial policies and some move develops against him within the Communist party, the army, or the government.

What means of defense will Khrushchev then use? Among the people whose purges so far have cleared his road to the summit only one, the Stalinist police chief Beria, has been liquidated by killing. So far as is known, Khrushchev has avoided reliance on the secret police methods with which Stalin buttressed his power.

The tentative judgment of many experts here is that Khrushchev, having initiated many revolutionary changes in post-Stalinist Russia and having tried to win a new prestige and position for the Soviet Union in world affairs, would prefer to avoid blood purges and police terror.

But they believe that in a system with no democratic restraints on personal ambition, the lures of absolutism and the dangers of any failure may well combine to force Khrushchev into the Stalinist pattern.

'Old Timers' To Be Featured At Salvation Army Meeting

Two old timers, one of them a retired commander of the local work and the other the Texas divisional commander, will be featured on the Salvation Army annual advisory board meeting Monday evening.

They are Maj. Levi W. Canning, Houston, who concluded his long career in the Salvation Army while at Big Spring, and Lt. Col. John A. Morrison, Dallas, Texas division commander.

The dinner is to be held at 7 p.m. Monday in the First Methodist Fellowship Hall.

Anticipating the visit of Col. Morrison and Maj. Canning, the Salvation Army today is observing homecoming at the Dora Roberts Citadel. There will be open house, and visitors will get a chance to see the virtually complete modern dormitory provided for transients, and to see the contemplated playground improvements. Both are being made possible by the Dora Roberts Foundation.

The dinner program will be presided over by Floyd W. Parsons, chairman of the advisory board, and Maj. Canning will word the invocation. Music will be furnished by Robert Stripling Jr., son

COL. JOHN A. MORRISON

Lloyd George, Odessa commanding officer, will pronounce the benediction.

Col. Morrison was born in Glasgow, Scotland, in 1893 where his father was a chaplain. In 1915 he came to the United States and attended Lewis Institute in Chicago from which he earned his bachelor of arts degree. He also attended Grozier seminary near Philadelphia and earned his M. A. from the University of Chicago in 1920. The following year he completed his naturalization as a United States Citizen.

While he was studying in Chicago, he lived with an older brother who was in Salvation Army work and thus became actively interested in the work. Later he became an officer and served at 10 different points as a corps officer and in other capacities. He also was division secretary for Texas, Southern territorial auditor, commander of the Dixie division before coming back to Texas in 1948.

Honor guests at the meeting will be Capt. and Mrs. Fred Overton, who are in charge of the work here. In addition to the 18 board members there will be a number of other friends.

State Labor Leader Says Taxation Is Biggest Issue

By WAYLAND YATES
Taxation is the dominant issue in Texas politics, and it's one of the principal reasons labor must expand its activities in the political field, Fred Schmidt of Austin, secretary of the Texas AFL-CIO, said here Friday night.

Schmidt, right, and Goodson in informal chat

Schmidt spoke to about 60 West Texas labor leaders at a fund-raising dinner sponsored by the Howard County AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education.

Faced with a huge deficit in the current $2 billion state budget and dwindling revenues from the oil industry, the 1959 Legislature probably will have to pass a new tax bill, Schmidt said.

"Who's going to pay?" he asked. Asserting that virtually all of Texas' tax revenue now comes from "selective sales taxes" and levies on the oil industry, Schmidt charged that the Texas Manufacturers Assn. and other business and professional organizations are attempting to "shoulder the additional tax burden" onto the same people in the form of a personal income or general sales tax.

"The Texas AFL-CIO doesn't believe it must be a choice between a sales or income tax," Schmidt said. "We propose a corporate profits tax as the only equitable source of revenue which takes into consideration the historic ability to pay premise of taxation."

The state labor leader said a corporate profits tax would reach into the pockets of out-of-state owners of corporations doing business in Texas, more than half of which are "foreign owned."

"These foreign owners will not be touched by sales or personal income taxes," he added.

HOLLEMAN ABSENT
Schmidt substituted for Jerry Holleman, state president of the AFL-CIO, at the political education rally here. Holleman decided Friday afternoon to attend the annual dinner of the Fort Worth Gridiron Club which had him on its program.

David A. Brazel of Big Spring, district representative of the International Union of Operating Engineers, spoke briefly at the COPE dinner in Cosden Country Club.

He told the group that the Eisenhower administration has taken away many of labor's rights "by appropriation, interpretation and appointment." He said the National Labor Relations Board is now made up entirely of Eisenhower appointees who, he charged, "have given us a new law, new meaning and new effect."

Tracing development of labor's right to organize and strike, Brazel said the labor movement progressed rapidly under the administrations of Roosevelt and Truman.

"The Taft-Hartley Act of 1947 took away many of labor's rights," he said. "Not one comma has been changed in that act, but in the last five years even the meaning of it has been changed by appointment and interpretation."

START WORK, BOYS!

Soap Box Derby Wheels On Hand

Attention, all Soap Box Derby contestants. The official wheels are here! Only especially - manufactured wheels may be used on the Derby racers, and they have arrived for distribution at the Tidwell Chevrolet Co. Boys who want to get to work immediately to build winning cars are urged to get their wheels at once.

Boys thus can build a car at actually no cost. More than 50 lads are entered in the local race, which this year will be held as an evening event, on Thursday, June 26. Boys who start to work earliest and devote careful attention to details are those who will have the best chance of winning.

The victory here means a trophy plus other merchandise awards; and of course the winner will get a free trip to Akron, Ohio, in August to compete in the All-American Soap Box Derby, biggest amateur racing event in the world. Scholarships are at stake.

Eneri Ruler Surrenders

HOUSTON — Nearly two weeks of hide-and-seek ended Saturday when Mrs. Irene Clett, "703-acre nation" Eneri, accepted injunction papers from a deputy U.S. marshal.

The Big Spring race—3th annual Derby—will again be run on Lancaster Street, from 15th northward. That strip of pavement Friday got a new set of markings, so that lanes will be easily distinguishable. The race is sponsored by The Downtown Lions Club, Tidwell Chevrolet Co. and The Herald.

The Waller County woman, 29, who has been fighting 24 years to keep 350-acres a federal court has ruled belong to the heirs of a friend, appeared voluntarily and accepted the papers from chief U.S. deputy Marshal Kathryn Matthews.

Deputy Ellis Binford had tried unsuccessfully four times to serve the papers since March 17, when Mrs. Clett began a game of "find me if you can."

Mrs. Clett, neatly dressed and smiling happily, laughed when reminded of earlier photographs showing her protecting her farm with a shotgun.

"Of course, I wouldn't want to shoot anybody," she said. "I'm going to continue, however, to try to keep the land I believe belongs to me."

First National Folks
Who Always Have Time for You
H. H. HURT

Life has been filled with banking and baseball for Harry Hurt.

All the banking has been with the First National Bank, but the baseball has been with a host of teams as far away as Tennessee.

Harry got into the baseball business before he went to banking, but the banking has outlasted the sport; he has given continuous service at the First National Bank since 1921. The baseball, however, was started several years before that, but he gave it up actively about 1936.

After spending 27½ months in service as an officer during World War I, Harry went to work for Radford Grocery Co. here and stayed there two years. He joined the First National Bank July 19, 1921, and has been there since, always with time to serve his customers.

He started as a bookkeeper and became assistant cashier a short time later. He was a director of the bank at the time of the merger with the old West Texas National Bank and was made assistant cashier after the merger.

Since that time, he has been named assistant vice president, a director, and now vice president.

Although a Big Spring product, Harry took his high school education in Tennessee. He spent two years at Columbia (Tenn.) Military Academy before transferring to B&H Prep School at Spring Hill, Tenn. At B&H, he received the equivalent to a high school diploma.

He was married to Miss Vivien Hall of Abilene and they have one son, Harry Hurt Jr., head instructor for the flight safety course which the University of Southern California has for the Air Force and Navy. And the point of real pride, of course, is two grandchildren.

While in the military and prep schools, Harry developed a love for baseball — pitching in particular. That love almost got him into professional baseball before his banking days. In 1915 while attending Metropolitan Business College in Dallas, he bumped into his old B&H coach, Ray Morrison, who had moved to SMU. He invited Hurt to come to SMU and play baseball.

"If I had gone, I'd probably have ended up in the Texas or Pacific Coast League," Hurt said. He might have done better, for in 1921, his first year with the bank, he pitched 14 games against the best teams in West Texas and won all but one.

But love of banking and meeting with people prevailed and he concentrated on his business career. To many people who call on Harry at the First National Bank, it isn't banking, it's visiting with an old friend.

Batista Sits Tight In Face Of Rebellion

By LARRY ALLEN

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—A deter- mined man, surrounded by sharp- shooting body guards, sits in the presidential chair in a fortress- like palace in Havana.

Outside there is the rising tu- mult of revolution, highlighted by bombings, burnings, wrecking of communications, kidnappings, and killings.

But handsome, stocky, brown- eyed Fulgencio Batista, 57, pres- ident of Cuba, intends to remain in office until his four-year term ends next Feb. 24.

Nearly every Cuban in this sug- ar-rich, 800-mile long island refers to him as a dictator. The rebels have harsher words for him—murderer and tyrant.

Batista doesn't particularly care what people call him. He's in power and plans to hold it until the people of Cuba elect a new pres- ident Nov. 1.

Most of his countrymen don't think he'll last that long. Rebels, by sabotage and kill- ings, are trying to weaken or par-alyze the nation's economy. And while the general war of destruc- tion goes on, young rebel leader Fidel Castro, with 600 guerilla fighters, wages war against Ba- tista's troops in easternmost Ori- ente Province.

Castro has issued a manifesto setting next Tuesday as the date for "total war" against the government. Already he claims his forces dominate all but big towns and cities in Oriente, the province that produces most of Cuba's wealth. A general strike is threat- ened.

But Batista, onetime army ser- geant, has been far from idle. Tight gun-rule is being enforced in nearly every town. Thousands of troops and police, armed with machine guns, automatic rifles, grenades and pistols, tend to shoot first and ask questions afterward wherever there is budding vio- lence.

Batista has just enlisted 7,000 more soldiers, raising the repub- lic's armed forces to 34,000.

He has stripped Cubans—for the eighth time in the last 12 months—of basic civil liberties, suspending constitutional guarantees.

That means severe censorship of press, radio and television—and on outgoing dispatches by foreign correspondents.

Iowa State Honors Prairie View A&M College President

COLLEGE STATION—Dr. E. B. Evans, president of Prairie View A&M College, was one of 12 per- sons honored by Iowa State Col- lege at the 100th anniversary cel- ebration of that institution at Ames, Iowa, last week.

He received the honorary degree of Doctor of Science from Iowa State, in a citation that praised his work as an educational lead- er in the improvement of rural life in the Southwest, as organ- izer of the College of Veterinary Medicine of Tuskegee Institute, as a special consultant for the Point IV Program in Africa and the Middle East, and as president of Prairie View A&M College since 1947.

A 1918 graduate of Iowa State College, Dr. Evans graduated with the degree of Doctor of Veterinary Medicine, and has since done advanced work in bacteriology. He has been associated with Prairie View A&M College, a part of the Texas A&M College System, since shortly after graduation from Iowa State. He holds high professional awards as well as from the Boy Scouts and the YMCA.

Impact Of Changes In State Agriculture To Be Studied

FORT WORTH — The radical changes that have taken place in Texas agriculture during the past few years and their impact on business will be examined and explained in laymen's language as one of the highlights of the 40th annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

B. E. Godfrey, Fort Worth, president of the WTCC, said a "task force" from Texas A&M college will present a factual study of agriculture's new influence on modern Texas' economy at the WTCC meeting scheduled for Fort Worth on April 28 and 29.

Other factors affecting Texas' economy and growth will be discussed, Godfrey said, including such items as the shift in population from rural to urban and studies of the political strength of agriculture.

The 40th annual convention of the regional chamber marks a return by the organization to the city where it was created in 1918. It is also the second time for the WTCC to hold a convention in Fort Worth; the last time was in 1928.

Most Scouts In Top Rating On First Aid

Approximately 60 per cent of Scout first aiders rated in the top bracket Friday evening at what was termed the most successful district meet yet held.

Thirty teams had been indicated and 24 actually participated in the contest which attracted something like 250 boys and another 200 adults to Howard County Junior College gymnasium.

Competition was on a patrol team basis with some troops entering as many as three patrols. Troop and Explorer Post No. 9 from Wesley Methodist Church set the pace with five blue ribbons.

Troop and Post No. 146 also had both teams in the blue.

In all, 17 Boy Scout troops, including one from Lenora and one from Flower Grove, took part in the meet.

Those in the blue or top ranking division were Troop-1, T-9A, T-9B, T-9C, T-10, T-17, T-146, T-147, and T-300; Post-9A, P-9B, P-116, P-136, P-146.

In the red ribbon class (with most barely missing the blue rating) were T-3A, T-3B, T-7A, T-81, T-136, P-1, and P-5.

Getting gold ribbons for participation were T-4, T-5, and T-7B. Dr. Clyde Thomas Jr., health and safety chairman, was in charge, and arrangements were handled by Fred Beckham, who, with Paul Soldan, secured the Red Cross first aid judges from Cook, police and fire department, Webb AFB, Soil Conservation Service and Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home. Lt. Col. Richard J. Brightwell headed up five doctors from Webb AFB who served as consultants. Otto Peters Sr., dean of first aiders in this area, was in charge of timing and scorekeeping.

Scouts and Explorers got five problems which dealt with burns, near-drowning and artificial respiration, spinal injuries, open wounds, and fractures. W. T. McRee, Scout executive, said that on the whole quality of work on the problems was good to excellent.

Arlington Girl Is Sweetheart Of Texas U.

AUSTIN (AP)—A blonde statuesque beauty from Arlington was named sweetheart of the University of Texas Saturday to climax the annual Round-Up festivities.

She is Ann Huffendick, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shelley Owens. She is a liberal arts student and is 5 feet, 7 1/2 inches in height.

She was named from five nominees who included Gayla Graig and Sandra Esquivel of Austin, Diane Lander of San Antonio, and Dorothy Winston of Abilene. Sharon Henson of Austin was last year's sweetheart.

Students and faculty members were recognized for their achievements.

Dr. John Caldwell, University of Arkansas president, told the hundreds of students and faculty members:

"Quality parents and homes build a quality society. But it is no easy task to be a first-class parent. We need more of them in every city and hamlet of this broad land. Most of you will be quality parents and will win honors for your devotion and intelligence in that enterprise."

The top award went to an attractive senior whose special liberal arts program holds a concentration in English, French, German, Latin and Swedish.

She is Kerstin Ekfelt, 19, of College Station, who received a $300 cash award as the highest ranking Phi Beta Kappa in this year's class. She has nothing but A marks on her record.

CTC Puts Emphasis On Bicycle Safety

Emphasis on bicycle safety was one of the chief products of the regular meeting of the Citizens Traffic Commission at the police building classroom Friday evening.

Mrs. Arthur Pachall, in the school report, told about bike safety—or lack of it—around schools. Police Chief C. L. Rogers reported that films on bicycle safety were available from the National Safety Council and he suggested that they be shown in each school. Rogers and James Eubanks, executive secretary for CTC, will contact Fire Chief H. V. Crocker about setting up bike safety inspections. Boys who successfully pass the inspections will be given cards.

A large delegation appeared before the CTC relative to widening the intersection of 17th and Lexington Streets, and this course will be recommended to the city commission. A problem at 14th and Princeton was referred to the engineering committee.

Another CTC recommendation was that the circle in front of Senior High School be designated for one-way westbound traffic and that no parking be allowed.

Chief Rogers explained the proposal for part-time police women to be stationed at each school. This was referred for consideration by school and city officials.

He also announced a traffic school in April for all police officers and said that the public is welcome to attend these sessions.

The six most common traffic violations were outlined by Everett Taylor, chairman of the driver training committee. Don Atwood called for a motorcycle and scooter safety education program to parallel that of bike safety.

Eubanks reported on a state traffic safety meeting in Dallas, and Mrs. Bluford Turner, secretary, reported for the publicity committee. Roy Reeder, treasurer, reported on insurance for the CTC car. Ralph McLaughlin, chairman, presided over the meeting which was attended by 23 people.

Old Testament Project Work

THE THREE R'S—TODAY'S VERSION

Bible Course Financed By Ministers Of City

By DON HENRY

Without violating the division of church and state, the local school system is endeavoring to inject a spiritual outlook for its students.

Some of this training is voluntary, but the rest is provided for all students.

Throughout the 12 years of public school, only one year of religion—a course in Bible—is given, but school teachers constantly try to instill in youngsters the spirit of accepting right instead of wrong while teaching them arithmetic, spelling, and other subjects.

The lone Bible course is offered as an elective course in high school and is taught by Mrs. Johnny Johansen. Since the state doesn't allow the school to pay a religion teacher, the expense is handled by the Big Spring Pastor's Assn.

Being an elective course, students who desire to take it are free to do so and may take it rather than speech, journalism, math over and above the required amount, or any other course that is not required for graduation.

At the present, Mrs. Johansen has two classes each semester, a total of about 50 students each term.

The Old Testament is taught the first semester of each year, and the New Testament is given the last semester. Also, students are required to buy their own textbooks since the state cannot furnish them.

The students use their own Bibles in connection with the text. The local system uses a text which has been adopted and prepared for the Dallas schools.

Half a credit is given for each course, and the students are eligible to take either or both of them. Frequently, a student will take one year and wait until the next year for the other.

Students study strictly Bible history in the course, and Mrs. Johansen doesn't try to bring denominationalism into it at all.

In the work, Mrs. Johansen calls for projects, and a Bible Club is organized in connection with the course. It is not limited to the students taking the course, however, but most of the students in the club are in the current class, she said.

In addition to the Bible course, a Bible scripture is broadcast to the entire school over the PA system every morning. This devotional program is sponsored by the Student Council, and the Council furnishes a different student each day to read the scripture.

These scripture passages are selected by the Pastors' Assn.

The devotional period is held about 8:45 a.m. before the first class, and according to Roy Worley, principal, it is well received by students. There is more attention during this period than in any other time during the day.

This custom has been in effect since the high school was moved into its present building in 1952. (Twenty-first in a series.)

Election Interest Grows Suddenly

Twenty-five absentee votes have been polled in the office of Pauline Petty, county clerk, in the forthcoming school trustee elections of April 5.

After days of inactivity a sudden flurry of interest developed Thursday afternoon and more than 20 voters showed up with requests for ballots.

Some of the voters balloted on three different races. Absentee voting closes Tuesday.

NTSC Exes To Meet Monday

Former students of North Texas State College will hold their annual gathering Monday at 4:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

W. C. Blankenship, president of the local exes chapter, urged all former students of the school to attend the informal gathering.

There will be a brief business session, visiting, a broadcast and refreshments.

One of the highlights will be the broadcast of the NTSC program over KBST at 5 p.m. Included on this program will be Dr. J. C. Matthews, NTSC president; Bob McKay, Dallas, president of the ex-students association; the concert band, symphony orchestra and other features.

The program is being broadcast over 44 stations Monday afternoon, said Blankenship.

Mrs. Lowe Is Candidate For Glasscock Post

GARDEN CITY — Mrs. Martha Lowe announced Saturday that she would be a candidate for the Democratic nomination as county and district clerk of Glasscock County.

Mrs. Lowe is a long-time resident of the county, having been here for the past 16 years. She and her husband and their 9-year-old son have been living on their place south of town.

Mrs. Lowe has had about 2½ years experience working in the office she seeks, and prior to that time she had a number of years experience working for a telephone company. She attended Brownsville Junior College after her graduation from high school.

"I believe that my background and training, together with a familiarity with the requirements of the office, will help me serve the people of Glasscock County in a manner that will be pleasing to them. If they honor me with the office," she said, "they may be sure that I will devote my full time to it and will be available at all times to do my dead level best to give the kind of service they desire."

Behind-The-Scenes Preparations For The Easter Pageant

THE HAND-WASHING SCENE is rehearsed by A. I.-C. Matt Bertolini, who has the role of Pilate, and Mrs. Myron Gowen, as the slave girl, while Pilate's wife, Beverlyn Jones, looks on. Costumes and props in the pageant, to be given Easter morning in the amphitheatre at the city park, will be as nearly authentic as research and work can make them. Colorful robes and armor will add to the visual beauty of the Easter Story, which will be presented by members of the Civic Theatre Group with musicians and singers assisting. (All photos by Keith McMillin.)

AN INGENUOUS DEVICE is the rock, which will be used in the pageant to be given Easter morning at the city amphitheatre. Designed for use as the tomb of Christ, it is fashioned in such a way that it can be turned around to form the throne of Pilate. At left in the photo above, Mrs. Dewey Magee prepares to add paper to make a rough surface, while Mrs. John Rudeseal gets ready to start the painting. Sgt. Magee makes like a mountain climber in order to examine the top of the structure. The group is also making another "rock", which will close the entrance to the tomb. Still more paper, chicken wire and cotton fabric went into a rock for the Garden of Gethsemane; this one will double as a fireplace.

THE HAND-HEWN EFFECT of the cross to be used in the pageant on Easter morning will be the result of pocket knives in the hands of the workers. Dick Bailey, at left in the photo above, and Lt. Jim Hood work at the task of sanding the rough spots and making the cuts to increase the realistic appearance of the wood. With a small crew to perform the duties, the Civic Theatre Group has had to change from acting to making props and then back to acting, all of which may be good training, but it's a little wearing.

COSTUME MISTRESS Mrs. Bob Bright makes a close inspection of the Roman soldier garb worn by A. I.-C. Hugh McCauley, as he is made up by Mrs. Herbert Johnson Jr. New costumes for the Easter Pageant have been added to the store of last year by the skillful fingers of Mrs. Bright and Mrs. John Austin. Mrs. Dewey Magee has also helped in the work of laundering and refurbishing the clothing carried over from the 1957 pageant.

SPEARS FOR ROMAN SOLDIERS are the results of combined efforts of Glen Gale, in photo above, Lt. Jim Hood and A. I.-C. Matt Bertolini. Lt. Hood did the research necessary to insure authentic details in the weapons and shields to be used in the Easter Pageant. To be presented Easter morning at the city amphitheatre, the event is a production of the Civic Theatre Group; members are not only taking parts in the pageant—they are making props and costumes, too.

Ancient Fiber Used For New Straw Hats

The newest straw hat this summer will be made out of one of the most ancient textile fibers known to man. The fiber is "ramie," and the hats are sold under that name. Ramie has not been used for men's hats in the past because of its high cost compared with the more familiar palms, reeds and grasses. Now new scientific processes of preparation have made its use possible in a fine hat in the medium-price class. Ramie resists moisture and atmospheric change better than any other vegetable fiber. It has eight times the tensile strength of silk or cotton. That's why the new ramie hats will stand up so well under the weather and rough handling. The tough fiber also permits them to be blocked lastingly in every variety of fashion shape. Unlike other men's hat materials, ramie can be adapted to many different weaves. One of the most promising is a broken-color tweed which is planned to go with the many odd jackets of nubbed silk, cotton, etc. that will be popular this summer.

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

'Dear Abby' Column In The Herald

"Abigail Van Buren" is the pen name for attractive Mrs. Pauline Phillips, who is known to her friends as "Po-Po." Although she is the wife of a highly successful San Francisco business man and the mother of two youngsters, Mrs. Phillips still finds time to read and answer sympathetically the problems of other people in her breezy column, "DEAR ABBY," which starts in the Herald Monday, and will appear daily.

"Abby" has a keen understanding of problems confronting discontented wives and husbands, teenagers, distressed parents, mistreating sweethearts, and, in general, people who are faced with crises in their lives and are seeking an outsider's viewpoint. Interspersed with her sage advice is a bright, humorous style of writing you are certain to enjoy.

Mrs. Phillips was born an identical twin on July 4th in Sioux City, Iowa, where she and her twin sister lived and attended Morningside College. They both majored in journalism but Pauline's career was interrupted when she married handsome Morton Phillips. After a short time in Eau Claire, Wisconsin, the Phillipses moved to San Francisco and it was in that city that she resumed her newspaper career. Mrs. Phillips is quite serious about her readers and considers every problem carefully before giving her advice.

Saturday Deadline Set For Sign-Up In Sewing Contest

Women with a hankering for an elegant fitted scissor set, a brand-new slant-matic cabinet sewing machine, a luxurious visit to New York City, or a substantial cash prize can still try for any or all of these awards by entering the third annual Singer Sewing Contest with its $125,000 worth of prizes in cash and merchandise.

April 5 is the deadline for entering the competition; contestants have until May 3 to complete their garments.

In order to become a finalist in the sew-off, which takes place June 3 through 11 in New York, a contestant must first make a garment for herself in the new streamlined course in home dressmaking conducted through local Singer Sewing Centers. As first prize winner on the local level, her dress will be judged on the regional level; the first place winner in each of the 35 Singer regions will go to New York to participate in the sew-off.

The sew-off finalists will compete for cash prizes by making a dress for a professional model. In addition to the $25,000 top prize, there will be four other major prizes: $10,000 for second place, $5,000 for third place, $2,500 for fourth place and $1,500 for fifth place. The remaining 30 runners-up will receive $250 each. Entry blanks and complete contest information are available at your local Singer Sewing Centers.

A few of the spectators who attended, despite the bad weather were Barbara Shields, Julie Rainwater, Cookie Sneed, Pat Sands, Richard Engle, Fred Thompson, Jerry Barron, Joyce Hill, JoAnn Ebling, Brick Johnson, Glen Jenkins, Ronnie King, Kathy McRee.

This weekend the track team traveled to San Antonio for the Invitational Track Meet. In a four-way meet Wednesday afternoon the HCJC golf team competed against Hardin-Simmons, Odessa and San Angelo. With Bobby Blum as lead scorer, the Hawks managed to capture third place, beating out San Angelo.

The girls' trio, consisting of Lovelle Fletcher, Patty and Peggy Francis, accompanied on the piano by Glendene Phillely, toured Flower Grove, Knott, and Ackery and gave a short singing program. Miss Arah Phillips, dean of women, went with them and talked to the students of the various high schools on the advantages of attending HCJC. This coming week, they plan to travel to Coahoma, Forsan, and several other towns.

Effie Stewart Ramsey made a short visit on the campus last week. Effie, a former student of HCJC, is making plans to join her husband in Germany in June. Joyce Hill, Denise Honey, Lovelle Nix, Bennie Compton, and Mr. Gene Powell left early Thursday morning to attend the TSEA convention at Corpus Christi. Joyce was chosen by TSEA as their candidate for the Miss Future Teacher contest. As one of the nominees, she was to give a three-minute speech on "Why Teach?" They planned to return home Sunday.

Dr. W. A. Hunt, Dr. Marvin Baker, and Mr. B. M. Keese were gone Friday and Saturday to Dallas. They attended a meeting of the Texas Association of Colleges. Dean Ben Johnson will be in St. Louis, Missouri, all this week at a conference of the American Personnel and Guidance Association. He plans to return home Thursday.

Oscar Williams spent the weekend in Denton. He was looking over the campus of North Texas. At four o'clock this afternoon the HCJC Music Department's College Choir and the First Methodist Choir will combine to give their Easter oratorio, "Mount of Olives," by Beethoven. This program will be given in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church.

There will be only three and a half days of school next week. The Easter holidays will begin Thursday at noon and last through Monday. Classes will begin at eight o'clock Tuesday morning. If you can be sure to stay over Friday and Saturday for the ABC relay, Londa Coker, Relay Queen, and Carolyn Sneed and Glendene Phillely, Relay Duchesses, will present the awards of this nationally advertised event.

This is a reminder to all BSU members and to those who would like to become members. Londa Coker's house will be the scene of the BSU party Tuesday night. Everyone is sure to attend and join in on the fun and fellowship. Bring your own refreshments.

High School Debaters Chalk Up 34-5 Record

Big Spring High School's debate team, one of the most successful on record here, is moving toward the climax of the 1957-58 debate season.

On April 12, the debaters — Stephen Baird and Julius Glickman — go to Abilene to compete in the district contests of the Texas Interscholastic League.

The two have racked up 34 victories against only five losses in 39 matches so far this year. In compiling that record, they have won two debate tournaments, placed second in a third and reached the quarterfinals of three others.

Philip Wayne, high school speech teacher and debate and drama coach, classes Glickman and Baird as "exceptional students." Both are rated as "A" pupils in all their courses.

Wayne will have several other students in the district Interscholastic League contests at Abilene High School on April 11 and 12.

Included will be Kelsay Meek, with an original oration; Sandra Havens, poetry reading; Linda Nichols, senior girls' declamation; Robert Stripling, poetry reading; Bill Parsons, junior boys' declamation; and Bill Owen, extemporaneous speech.

The speech classes also will compete in the one-act play contest, presenting the "recognition scene" from the three-act "Anastasia." The plays are to be staged Friday evening. The other events are scheduled for Saturday.

Sandra and Linda reached the finals in individual competition in several speech tournaments during the winter. Meek placed first in original oration at Sonora. Glickman also has won a number of seconds in individual orations at the tournaments.

Glickman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Glickman and Baird is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Baird.

Special Venires Drawn For Two Murder Trials

Two special jury venires, each containing 75 names, have been drawn for the trials of Amando Franco and Henry Marin, charged with the gun death on Feb. 2 of Benacio Arispe, Big Spring resident.

The jurors are to be notified to report to the 118th District Court at 10 a.m. Monday, April 28.

The case involves the fatal shooting of Arispe as he sat in a booth at a north side restaurant early on the morning of Feb. 2.

Franco and Marin were arrested a few hours later and placed in jail. Later they were released on bond. Both were indicted at the session of the grand jury this past week.

The murder cases have been set for special trial the week of April 28. A special venire is required under Texas law in cases where murder with malice is alleged.

All of the panels drawn at the beginning of the term were combined and the 150 names drawn from the lot to fill the two venires.

Judge Charlie Sullivan supervised the drawing by Wade Choate, district court clerk.

First Manned Rocket Flight Was Accident

DETROIT (AP) — A 14-year-old Michigan youth has made what may well have been the world's first manned rocket flight.

The launching pad was the basement of a buddy's home. The flight was only three feet — "And it hurt like anything."

John Palmer Jr. was the surprised passenger. He and Edward Gardner, 15, were assembling the first stage of what was intended as a multistage rocket.

Palmer was pouring gun powder into a three-foot aluminum pipe. Palmer tilted the pipe so it would hold more powder. Suddenly this thing went off — and up. Palmer tilted police he grabbed it instinctively as it went.

It carried him to the ceiling. He got a badly burned left hand, and spent the night in a hospital.

Open Drive-Inn

Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Satterfield, former operators of a drive-inn here, have opened a Dairy King drive-inn at McCamey. Their introductory program was held Saturday.

Men's Store Sold To Gibbs & Weeks

Purchase of the Men's Store by a new business firm composed of "old timers" in men's furnishings was announced here Saturday.

Gilbert Gibbs, who will be president of the newly formed corporation of Gibbs & Weeks, said that the entire stock and fixtures of the Men's Store had been acquired from R. L. Tollett, who had owned the venture since its founding approximately a decade ago.

Other members of the new business are George Weeks, who will be secretary and J. D. (Jake) Hassell, Lubbock, vice president. W. B. Sherman, bench tailor, also will be with the new firm. All those connected with the business are formerly with Hemphill-Wells Co., and Gibbs will remain on for a couple of weeks pending replacement as manager of the men's department at Hemphill's. Weeks will take over operation of the store Tuesday.

"It is with extreme regret that we leave Hemphill-Wells Co.," said Gibbs. "I have nothing but the highest praise and warmest feeling for this fine institution and those who go to make it up. Nothing less than the opportunity of operating our own high quality business could induce us to change."

Gibbs came here in 1930 to join the staff of the Albert M. Fisher Co. and rose steadily to become manager of the men's department. When Hemphill-Wells bought out the Fisher Company in 1945, Gibbs (who had been out only for a hitch in the Armed Forces) continued in that capacity. Later he also became assistant store manager.

He has been active in civic affairs and is a past president of the Downtown Lions Club.

Weeks came here in 1946 as a member of the Hemphill men's department and for several years has been assistant manager of the men's department. He is a member of the American Business Club. Sherman is an experienced bench tailor who brought this special service to Hemphill some four years ago.

Add It Up
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Police were called to the scene of a minor auto accident. One of the cars, bearing Colorado license plates, was abandoned. Inside officers found a half case of canned tuna fish and another half case of packaged brassieres. The owner was not located.

The debaters, working together for the third season, won tourney championships at Brownwood and El Paso. They placed second in the recent Midland tournament, and reached the quarterfinals in meets at Waco, Denton and Abilene.

They started debating as sophomores students, and both are now seniors. This is their first year under the tutelage of Wayne, a native of Toronto, Ont.

Wayne graduated from the University of Texas last spring, receiving a bachelor of fine arts degree with major in drama. Stationed at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, during a hitch in the Army, he returned to Texas in 1955 to complete work on his bachelor degree.

LONE RANCH TANK HANDY FOR LIVESTOCK NEEDS
Together, Texas tanks hold million acre feet of water

Texas Farm Ponds Hold 3 Billion Gals.

Texas has about 342,000 farm ponds with an original storage capacity of little less than a million acre feet of water. That would be something like 300 billion gallons.

This information is contained in a farm pond survey in Texas, just completed and released by H. N. Smith, state conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service.

Among the interesting items developed in the survey, the first on a state-wide basis, was that an estimated 100,000 acre feet of the original storage capacity of 922,000 acre feet had been filled by sediment.

Smith said that the survey was made in response to questions raised during the recent drought concerning the effect of conservation measures on water supply. Municipal and industrial users of water were as interested as agriculturalists and conservationists in the outcome of the study, said Smith.

Farm ponds were singled out for the study because some experts felt that they might have more effect on water yield than any other single practice. At the outset, there was little definite information on the number of ponds, their location, their effect on water supply, etc.

Information gathered included the total number of farm and ranch ponds by major watersheds, surface area, drainage area, capacity, depth. The datum was obtained on a representative sampling basis.

The total surface area of the ponds was about 248,000 acres, and the total drainage area 12,737,000 acres. The average pond capacity when full was 2.72 acre-feet, the average surface area 0.72 acre-feet, the average maximum depth 10.57 feet, and the average drainage area per pond 37.25 acres.

The total area draining through ponds comprises only 7.55 per cent of the land area of Texas. This varied from a low of 0.44 per cent in the Coast Prairie Resource Area to a high of 28.28 per cent in the Reddish Prairie Resource Area of Northern Central Texas.

Smith stated that in many areas of the state, farm ponds are the major source of usable livestock water available to the farmer or rancher, and they play a vital role in the management of livestock grazing resources.

Pond Statistics By Watersheds

For three of the major river watersheds in the state, the survey revealed the following:

Watershed	Number of Ponds	Average Capacity	Average Surface Area	Average Drainage Area
Brazos	93,000	2.61 Ac. Ft.	1.72 Acres	36.06 Acres
Trinity	61,800	1.97 Ac. Ft.	0.52 Acres	19.36 Acres
Colorado	34,300	3.12 Ac. Ft.	0.83 Acres	50.77 Acres

Church Leaders On Assembly Program

HOUSTON—The president of the International Convention of Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ) will be among eight national leaders of the Disciples who will address the 71st annual assembly of the Texas Convention of Christian Churches, April 9-13, in Houston. More than 600 are expected.

Dr. Granville T. Walker, minister of Fort Worth's university church, who holds the highest elective office among Christian Churches in the United States and Canada, will speak on "Our Unity."

Other Christian Church leaders who will address the convention include two missionaries, the executive secretary of the communion's principal money-raising agency, the future editor of the Disciples' national weekly, an executive of a church-owned publishing house, an authority on Christian family life and a woman's worker.

Mission speakers for the five-day meeting will be Ralph T. Palmer, executive secretary of missionary selection and training for the United Christian Missionary Society, and his wife. They were missionaries in Japan from 1952 until 1956.

Dr. Spencer P. Austin, executive secretary of Unified Promotion of the Disciples of Christ, will address a general session of the convention and a men's meeting.

Bible lecturer will be Dr. Howard E. Short, professor of church history in the College of the Bible in Lexington, Ky., who will become editor of The Christian-Evangelist, national weekly of the Disciples of Christ, in July.

Darrell K. Wolfe, director of The Bethany Press, book publishing division of the Christian Board of Publication in St. Louis, Mo., will speak on Christian literature.

Richard E. Lentz, director of Christian family life for the United Christian Missionary Society, will deliver three lectures on family life and will speak on "The Christian Dimension of Sex for Youth" in a session of Texas Christian Youth Fellowship.

Principal speaker for women's sessions during the assembly will be Mrs. Arthur E. Landolt of Moberly, Mo., a vice president of International Christian Women's Fellowship. She also will speak in a general session of the convention.

New Egg Law Misunderstood, White Claims

AUSTIN — A misunderstanding apparently has arisen between some producers and buyers of eggs on certain points of the new Texas Egg Law, according to Agriculture Commissioner John White.

Reports have reached the Texas Department of Agriculture that certain retailers and buyers have refused to handle eggs from the small producers with limited flocks. These buyers have blamed the Texas Egg Law and used it as an excuse for not doing business with the farmer who wants to sell only two or three dozen eggs at a time.

"There is absolutely nothing in the law that interferes with or prohibits this long-standing business relationship between producers and buyers," White emphasized. "A retailer, dealer or other egg handler can purchase any quantity of eggs from a producer at any time."

Although the law prohibits the sale of inedible eggs, this factor should not jeopardize normal egg transactions with either large or small producers, White said.

Another misunderstanding involves the grading of eggs. "Eggs do not have to be graded," White pointed out. "Ungraded eggs may be sold in the channels of trade but they must be plainly marked 'ungraded' on the carton or container."

He added that it is more advantageous to all concerned if the producers and handlers do participate in the egg grading program. Otherwise, high quality eggs may be sold on an ungraded basis.

Jesse James Up For Re-Election

AUSTIN (AP)—Jesse James, state treasurer since 1941, announced his candidacy for re-election Saturday.

He is a native of Milam County. James was a merchant at Cameron before being elected to the Legislature. He sponsored the state's first omnibus tax bill. Later he was for four years assistant state treasurer. In October, 1941, was appointed to fill out an unexpired term as state treasurer.

Combined Choirs To Present 'The Mount Of Olives' Today

The premiere performance in Big Spring of Beethoven's "The Mount of Olives" will be presented at 4 p.m. today in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church.

Taking part will be the combined choirs of the First Methodist Church and Howard County Junior College under the direction of Ira Schantz, vocal music head at HCJC. The 53 singers will be accompanied by piano and organ.

"The Mount of Olives" was written about 1802. The entire oratorio was written, as Beethoven later explained, "in 14 days, amid all sorts of turmoil and other disagreeable and frightening circumstances." Its "birthpangs" were not entirely unlike those of Handel while composing his great masterpiece, "The Messiah."

Its first performance took place in Vienna on April 5, 1803 and was an immediate success. It was still "selling out the house" in the same city a full 25 years later.

The characters and situations in "The Mount of Olives" are conceived primarily in dramatic terms and the oratorio could even be performed like an opera. The work opens with a short instrumental prelude, followed by the entrance of Christ, sung by the tenor soloist. Christ is on the Mount of Olives and undergoes his lone, agonizing period of prayer and introspection, knowing that He is soon to die.

A heavenly seraph, sung by a soprano soloist, then appears and observes that, because Christ is willing to put Himself on the cross in place of man, the ransomed in Him may triumph and be joyful, "but woe to those despising the blood for them poured out; a curse from God awaits them and judgment is their lot!"

These last passages are also sung by full chorus, which represents the heavenly hosts.

The second part of "The Mount of Olives" finds Christ resigned to His fate and He sings a magnificent duet, "On Me Then Fall Thy Heavy Judgment," with the seraph. Then the chorus of conspirators enters and in cowardly, dark tones whisper that "We surely here shall find Him." And when they find Him they mock Him with "Behold Him, the deceiver, who dares to say that He is King instead of Caesar."

These two choruses are sung entirely by the male sections of the choir. At intervals, the tenor section also acts as the Chorus of Disciples, who are frightened and confused when they see what is happening to their beloved Lord. A trio, sung by Peter, Jesus and the Seraph is a contrast in emotions. Impetuous Peter, angered at what the conspirators have done to his Lord, sings a song of vengeance while at the same time Jesus, in smooth melody, entreats him to "love his enemies" and fulfill the "Holy law of Love." These sentiments are also echoed by the Seraph.

The oratorio comes to a triumphant close as the heavenly hosts, knowing that Christ's forthcoming death will save the world, exclaim in jubilant tones, "Hallelujah!" This is probably the most famous passage from this oratorio and is similar in some respects to the even more famous "Hallelujah Chorus" from "The Messiah" by Handel.

Soloists for this afternoon's performance will be Joyce Howard, soprano, who will sing the role of the Seraph; Ira Schantz, tenor, who will sing the role of Jesus; and Lt. Jim Hennigar, baritone, who will sing the role of Peter.
