Tornadoes Kill One In Texas.

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—Tornadoes poking three deadly funnels into this Northwest Texas city and its suburbs killed one man and caused damage estimated at $750,000 late yesterday.

Hospitals listed 13 injured in this vicinity, and at least one suffered serious injury near Stoneburg, where a separate twister struck about the same time. It is about 10 miles southeast of Wichita Falls.

Two men reported missing in Wichita Falls turned up unharmed. Wiley Taylor, 55, a dairy farmer, was killed in Deandale 8 miles east of here. His home collapsed, leaving only the walls.

The damage was estimated by George Clevenger, director of the Red Cross Chapter here. He said the twisters wrecked or damaged 175 homes and business places here.

Southeast at Stoneburg, 8 miles north of Bowie, there were unofficial estimates of $75,000 to $100,000 damage. At least 8 homes were unroofed, 15 farm buildings were destroyed and 15 to 20 were damaged.

Communications still were crippled in that area, where hail as large as baseballs in some places added to the loss. In Wichita Falls, sirens wailed a warning that was largely ignored.

HUNDREDS WATCHED

Hundreds stood in the streets amid torrential rain and hail to watch the writhing funnels approach. Many waited until the twisters almost were upon them before diving for shelter.

One funnel struck from the northwest, counter to the path generally taken by tornadoes, and narrowly missed the downtown area. A second hit a residential area west of the city and the third struck suburban Deandale, eight miles to the east.

At the same time, twisters dipped around north Texas and set off alarms at a number of towns. There was some damage, but no injuries. Much of Texas and Oklahoma was under a tornado alert during the day.

Bill Hunter, Wichita Falls Record-News reporter, said of the downtown funnel: "It looked like a curtain had been lowered to just below the horizon."

"Then the funnel poked through the clouds. It was dark, dusky colored, charcoal black," he said. A storm described as a tornado struck the southwestern Oklahoma community of Elgin, causing widespread damage. One man was bruised by the heavy hail.

Another tornado reportedly damaged a farm near Cement, Okla., and slightly injured a woman.

Damaged Carrier Picks Up Speed

NEW YORK (AP)—The damaged aircraft carrier Corregidor has picked up speed on her way to the Azores.

The 15-year-old carrier's hull was cracked by high seas Tuesday night when the ship was about 420 miles from the Azores. The carrier took on some water.

Train Derails

MEDINA, Ohio (AP)—A loaded coal truck the driver said he was unable to stop smashed into a diesel engine of the Baltimore & Ohio's Chicago-bound Capitol Limited near here early today, derailed 15 cars and injuring at least eight persons.

French Leave

Wayne Powers, 37-year-old Missouri soldier facing wartime desertion charges, is shown at a U.S. Army camp in Verdun, France, after his arrest in the French town of St. Quentin. Powers, from Chillicothe, Mo., disappeared from his unit in 1944 and has been sheltered by Yvette Belouse, the Frenchwoman who is the mother of the couple's five children. Thousands of Western Europeans have written letters asking clemency for Powers.

Victims Learn Meanings Of Civil Defense

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—"People used to scoff at you," mumbled a weary civil defense leader. Air raid shelters?

"We had a whole of a time just getting funds for our sirens," said James Gates, co-director of the Wichita Falls Civil Defense Unit. His sirens sounded the alarm at 5:31 p.m. yesterday. And 27 minutes later a tornado blazed a path of destruction across the northern part of this city of 102,000.

At least 175 buildings were damaged or destroyed. Only a concrete foundation remained where one house had been blown away. Two full wine glasses sat on a bookcase on what was left of the foundation.

Falling debris injured 13 badly enough to require medical treatment. The funnel bounced 10 miles northeast and killed a dairy farmer.

Authorities agree it could have been many times worse. Residents clustered on street corners and in front of office building windows gaping at the approaching funnel. Relatively few sought shelter in reinforced structures authorized by the civil defense, such as the post office.

What kept down the casualty list? PRICE STEEP "I like to think the sirens helped," Gates said. "We put them in more than a year ago. They cost around $3,000 each."

Gates indicated some thought that price was steep. At best, it bought 27 minutes of warning for thousands of persons. Still they could not be heard in some parts of town.

"Dead areas," Gates called them, where the wind's force and (See VICTIMS, Page 4-A, Col. 3)

Highway Bill Passes As Ike Asks Shakeup For Pentagon

Roads Measure Heads For Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House passed and sent to the Senate today a compromise $1,800,000,000 anti-recession highway construction bill.

The Senate seemed likely to approve the measure promptly and send it to the White House before Congress starts a 10-day Easter recess later today.

House passage was by roll call vote. The margin was 300-28.

Previously the House defeated 222-109 an attempt to send the bill back to a Senate-House conference committee for further consideration.

Voting to recommit the bill were 58 Democrats and 51 Republicans. Against were 121 Democrats and 101 Republicans.

Major difference between the original Senate and House versions was inclusion by the Senate of a provision intended to curb erection of billboards along interstate highways. This provision was retained in the compromise.

House rejection of the compromise would have precluded further action on the measure until April 14, when the congressional Easter recess starting later today ends.

Senate passage was considered certain, because the conferees on Tuesday largely accepted the Senate provisions.

Eisenhower signed the session's first anticession bill, a $1,850,000 housing measure, Tuesday. Highway bill opposition in the House appeared to center on the provision for regulation of billboards along the 41,000-mile network of expressways now being built — the interstate system.

One House member told a reporter, "I've never seen any lobbying like this since the Volstead Act. On one side you have the garden clubs, on the other the outdoor advertising industry."

The billboard provision would give incentives to the states to control advertising signs along the interstate system. For signing agreements to regulate billboards, they would be paid a bonus of one half of 1 per cent of the cost of the interstate segment covered by the agreement. This would be in addition to the 90 per cent of the cost already borne by the federal government.

Batista Issues 'Kill' Orders

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—President Fulgencio Batista's government today authorized workers to kill if necessary to stay on their jobs when rebel leader Fidel Castro issues his long-threatened call for a general strike.

The order—one of three of the harshest decrees in the history of the Cuban republic—was issued by Batista and his Cabinet after an all-night meeting.

A second decree barred any judge from issuing a ruling against a government official or agency or against any government or legal opposition leader. Judges who failed to obey would be immediately dismissed.

The third order said any employer who ordered a work stoppage of any kind could be jailed up to six months.

Two columns of Castro's rebels were reported moving toward Santiago, attacking communications as they advanced. Column of guerrillas was approaching Santiago, Cuba's second largest city and the capital of the easternmost province of Oriente, from Castro's mountain headquarters to the west in the Sierra Maestra.

Another force led by Castro's brother Raul destroyed communications around the sugar mill city of Sagua de Tanamo and apparently moved on toward Santiago, 50 miles to the southwest. In contrast to the small bands which previously had swept down from the mountains, the rebels claimed 1,000 persons were in this column.

Mailman Collects For Canine Bites

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP)—A mailman who says he has been bitten by 18 dogs in 17 years received a $9,000 out-of-court settlement yesterday for bites inflicted by a French poodle.

Charles E. Serven, 43, charged in State Supreme Court here that he was bitten four times by a poodle owned by Mrs. Simone Sampson of New York City, who is on Serven's route.

Serven, who lives in Great Neck, said he also suffered back injuries while fighting off the dog Sept. 24, 1956. He asked $100,000 damages.

Ike Requests Powers For Defense Aide

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower asked Congress today to give the secretary of defense full control over all military money, and power to forge truly unified fighting forces if war breaks out.

In a sweeping plan to reorganize the vast Pentagon setup, Eisenhower also proposed that the secretary of defense:

1. Have final say, short of a president, over which officers shall be picked for top ranks, and,
2. Be able to transfer officers between the services without regard to their basic uniform — so long as the officer himself consents.

Eisenhower said he had neither the intent nor the desire to merge or abolish the traditional services — the Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Air Force.

But, he said, separate ground, sea and air warfare is gone forever and operational commands must become truly unified, efficient military instruments.

Eisenhower set out six major points in a 7,000-word message keyed to the proposition that "We must remove all doubt as to the full authority of the secretary of defense."

He proposed that the Joint Chiefs of Staff be continued, but said that in the future they should serve as a staff assisting the secretary of defense in his exercise of direction over unified commands.

UNITY NEEDED

"Strategic and tactical planning must be completely unified, combat forces organized into unified commands, each equipped with the most efficient weapons system that science can develop, singly and prepared to fight as one, regardless of service," the message said.

Even before the message reached Congress, there had been doubts voiced by some influential legislators as to whether the secretary of defense should have greatly increased power.

Eisenhower's program would strip the civilian heads of the Army, Navy and Air Force of direct authority over military operations. In effect, they would be left as merely executive agents.

Eisenhower also proposed—despite opposition in Congress—that in the future all appropriations for the three services be earmarked for handling by the secretary of defense, instead of being channeled by Congress to the three services.

Eisenhower suggested that procedure go into effect July 1, 1959. The message set forth these main points:

1. "We must organize our fighting forces into operational commands that are truly unified, each assigned a mission in full accord (See DEFENSE, Page 4-A, Col. 4)

Widow Joked Too Often, Now Awaits The Hangman

LEEDS, England (AP)—A widow in a death cell probably wishes she had not joked about the deaths of her three husbands.

The condemned woman is stout Mrs. Mary Wilson, 66, known as the Merry Widow of Windy Nook, who was convicted of poisoning two of her mates. Windy Nook is the community near here where she used to live and where four male inmates of her house died in just over two years.

The woman's first husband lived with her 41 years before he expired, in August 1955. The other two survived the ceremony only two weeks. The fourth man was a lodger who came between husbands No. 1 and 2.

One of her gruesome jests which led ultimately to police inquiries was voiced at a reception following her marriage last October to Ernest Wilson, 76. A friend asked what she was going to do with

Now To 'Roller' Back Over

Ira Terrell, right, and Calvin Stutville puzzle over the problem of getting this big roller back on its rollers after the machine overturned on W. 4th St. Wednesday afternoon. Terrell, operator of the device, said it overturned when it hit the curb after he was forced to leave the street by a heavy truck that bore down on him from behind. Terrell managed to jump to safety as the roller tilted. By the time he re-oriented himself, the truck was gone. Damage wasn't extensive. The roller is owned by W. D. Caldwell.

Snyder Men Hurt In Wreck

Two Snyder men were hospitalized but were not believed seriously injured when the car in which they were riding crashed a bridge abutment 11.1 miles north on Snyder highway. The accident occurred at 5:50 p.m. Wednesday.

Highway patrol officers reported that the car was a 1954 Chevrolet driven by Salvador Soria. In the car as a passenger was Maximiliano Costella, 29.

The car was owned by Juan Tizaarria, Snyder. The owner was working and was not in the car. The patrol said the accident happened at the end of the construction section of the Snyder road. After hitting the abutment, the car travelled over the bridge to the opposite side. It swerved to the edge of the slab and plunged down the embankment. It began to roll over and made three or four complete turns before it came to a stop.

The two men were brought to the Big Spring hospital by River Funeral Home ambulance. The patrol planned to make further investigation into the accident on Thursday.

Counter Drive In Sumatra Called

SINGAPORE (AP)—The rebel Padang radio said today the revolutionary government has ordered a large scale counteroffensive against Jakarta forces.

An estimated force of 3,000 Jakarta troops is in Central Sumatra. The vanguard captured the American Caltex oil fields at Pakanbaru with parachutists March 12, and has pushed eastward to within 70 air miles of the revolutionary mountain capital of Bukittinggi.

In North Sumatra, Jakarta troops have advanced southwest from Medan to Parapat in the rebel province of Tapanuli.

Politicians Attempt To Put Muzzle On Critical Papers

UTICA, N.Y. (AP)—A spokesman for Utica's newspapers says a Common Council resolution asking for a federal probe of the papers is a retaliation for the strong stand the press has taken toward vice and crime in the city.

Utica's Common Council asked last night for a federal inquiry into the advertising practices of the local newspapers, all members of the Gannett group.

Mason Taylor, executive editor of the Utica newspapers, said the resolution was "an attack against all those who seek good government in a city free from the influence of men who put personal gain ahead of good citizenship."

This city of 103,000 has been the subject of several recent investigations into vice and gambling. Its police department also has been under inquiry.

The Common Council, made up of 14 Democrats and 3 Republicans, unanimously adopted a resolution calling on the Justice Department to investigate what was called the "monopolistic practices of our local newspapers."

The council referred to committee a second resolution calling for a five per cent tax on all printed advertising in the city.

McElroy Tells Of Space Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Non-military space projects can be transferred quickly to the new civilian agency proposed by President Eisenhower once the organization is set up, Secretary of Defense McElroy said today.

McElroy, testifying on the military's measures to meet problems of the missile-space age, told a watchdog Senate Defense subcommittee the services will go ahead with four or five scout-rocket shots to or near the moon which the White House has authorized. The job is being directed by the Advanced Research Projects Agency which McElroy set up in the Defense Department.

But the defense secretary quickly added that as soon as the new Aeronautics and Space Agency proposed to Congress yesterday by the President is in operation, it will take over non-military projects.

"If it is decided to handle space matters in a different organizational fashion the transfer of purely scientific projects can be accomplished expeditiously," he added.

Congressional spokesmen gave general approval today to the presidential proposal, but some wondered if the Atomic Energy Commission would get as prominent a place in the set-up as they would like to see.

There have been suggestions that space development work should be turned over to the AEC on the theory that nuclear engines are likely to power far-traveling rockets of the future.

Eisenhower made no direct mention of the AEC in proposing to Congress the establishment of a new National Aeronautics and Space Agency to develop "an imaginative and well-conceived space program."

"That is the explosive angle," said Sen. Mundt (R-S.D.), a member of the newly created Special Senate Committee on Space and Astronautics.

Airport Is Nearing Construction Stage

Howard County's long delayed airport project seemed very near to the "go" sign today, according to R. H. Weaver, county judge. Weaver said that Bob Allen, Civilian Aeronautics Authority official, Fort Worth, had phoned that a letter had been dispatched today to Louis Jean Thompson, local engineer in charge of plans and specifications for the airport.

Allen told Weaver that the letter suggested that Thompson make a few "minor" changes in the plans and that what changes proposed could be accomplished in one or two days by the engineer.

Allen indicated this is the final delay—that with these revisions completed all other obstacles will have been cleared.

Weaver and other officials were elated at the report and believe that by the middle of next week, the final green light on the long-awaited project can be expected. This will be the official final approval by the CAA of the three-quarter million dollar job. When this approval is at hand, the county can begin its advertising for bids and actual construction on the airport started within a month.

Howard County voted $500,000 in bonds 18 or 20 months ago for the airport. A site has been purchased by the county. The delay has developed since the CAA entered the picture with additional financing to bring the port to an $800,000 job.

Ole Swimmin' Hole Now City Dweller

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—The old swimming hole has come to town. Many a barefoot lad of yesterday, who trudged miles through dusty roads to paddle in a creek, now has a son who can dive into the family's private pool from his back porch.

For the swimming pool industry today is in the midst of an amazing boom, a boom comparable—but on a smaller scale—to the rapid postwar growth of television and air-conditioning.

Typical of the rising young businessmen in this rapidly expanding field is Jerry Rudolph, 27, of Springfield, N. J., an ex-Army private and law student.

Three years ago during a vacation he learned that one of his father-in-law's neighbors had spent $9,000 on a backyard swimming pool.

"Why, I could build one for a third that," he told his father-in-law.

"If you can, you and I are in business," replied the father-in-law.

Rudolph went to the public library and read everything he could find on swimming pools. He decided that if he made a swimming pool of molded glass wool he could produce it cheaply enough to appeal to a mass market.

He quit law school and 10 days later formed a corporation on $30,000 of borrowed capital.

"At that time there were only 20,000 privately owned swimming pools in the country, and 90 per cent of them were in California," he said.

There were only 250 pool builders in the nation. Today there are more than 2,000. They expect to install some 75,000 pools in 1958.

"Within another decade one out of every 10 families in America will have its own pool," predicted Rudolph, who feels sure the industry will hit the billion-dollar-a-year level by 1960.

He grossed $300,000 in 1956.

$400,000 in 1957. He has his own plant in Paterson, N. J., and is hopeful of hitting the million-dollar mark this season. He has 700 advance orders—with deposits—for the 1958 season, exactly 70 times the number he had at this time a year ago.

The new-type swimming pools can be made from anything from concrete blocks with a vinyl plastic covering to steel, aluminum or glass wool. Rudolph's models include one 12-by-27-foot do-it-yourself model which a homeowner can buy for $795 and put into the ground by himself. "If you move," said Rudolph, "you can dig it up, put it on a truck and cart it to your new home."

Police Hunt Extortionist

CHICAGO (AP)—Police hunted today for an extortionist who they said had demanded $5,000 from a Roosevelt University faculty member, who is a grandson of a New York multimillionaire. The writer threatened harm to his daughters if the money was not paid.

Police disclosed that Frank Untermeyer, 42, an assistant professor of political science, his wife and three children have been under police protection since Untermeyer received the extortion threat Monday.

Untermeyer is the son of Irwin Untermeyer, retired New York Supreme Court justice and grandson of Samuel Untermeyer, New York corporation lawyer and multimillionaire who died in 1940.

Lines For Free Food In Texas Grow Longer

AUSTIN (AP)—Free food lines in Texas gradually are getting longer with more than an eighth of a million people getting butter, cheese, flour and other foods.

The Department of Public Welfare, which supervises the federal surplus food program for the unemployed, said today 58 counties are passing out these foods.

"There has been no sharp trend upward," said W. E. Moore, assistant director of the Division of Commodity Distribution. He said 13 counties had been added to the list in 6 months and 139,271 persons now are getting this type aid.

"This is pretty normal for this time of year but there has been some deviation of late with increased participation," Moore said.

Most counties have been getting surplus food for distribution for several years because of the intense drought which affected thousands of farmers and ranchers. Recently the upswing in unemployment has added to the rolls.

Many get unemployment pay as well but are certified as eligible for the free food under standards set by the county judge and county commissioners or their selected representative. There are other broad requirements, such as an individual may not get more than $60 a month to be eligible.

A typical family of five with a jobless breadwinner would be given this food for one month: 10 pounds of butter, 12½ pounds of cheese, 22½ pounds of powdered milk, 15 pounds of rice, 25 pounds of cornmeal, 30 pounds of flour and when available, 20 pounds of dry beans.

"Some of these counties have been with us a long time. Most have been on since early in the 1950s," said Moore. "They are centered in two spots. In West Texas around the Lubbock area which was due to the drought conditions, and in South Texas."

He said "widespread unemployment" in the Houston, Laredo and Beaumont-Orange areas recently had increased the rolls.

Under the program, an unemployed worker may determine his eligibility by applying to the county judge or commissioners. They set the standards, receive the food, make the distribution and set up records, Moore said.

These counties have been added recently: Eastland, San Patricio, Webb, Harris, Foard, Hale, Hockley, Shelby, Camp, Red River, Upshur, LaSalle, Wilbarger and the town of Hughes Springs.

If a county is participating a city may not make application but otherwise a city may handle the program within its city limits.

In Houston this week food was distributed to eligible unemployed workers for the first time since the 1930s. The distribution was expected to continue at least through April. Welfare authorities applied for commodities for 1,500 and said they would have to make more applications.

Hunger Strike Ends By Cuban Rebel Friends

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Thirty-five Cuban rebel sympathizers have ended a seven-day hunger strike they said was a protest against the United States' shipment of arms to Batista forces in Cuba.

U.S. Marshal James McCarty said the men ended their strike last night after they were informed the U.S. had halted a recent shipment of arms to government forces in Cuba and four of their leaders were returned to Brownsville from Corpus Christi and Edinburg.

The State Department Monday said it had stopped a shipment of 1,950 rifles to the Cuban government forces.

Last night they took their first food since their arrest in a pre-dawn action by the Coast Guard last Thursday. The men, armed and uniformed, were arrested when their converted fishing boat was rammed off the coast from Brownsville. Authorities said about $20,000 worth of arms and ammunition were taken.

Arrested with them was their contact man, and four crew members.

The 35 were jailed, but immediately began a hunger strike. Their leader, Arnaldo Barron, said the fast was in protest of U.S. arms shipments to Cuba.

When the yended their fast last night, groups in New York and Miami, Fla., on a hunger strike in sympathy with them, also took food for the first time in two to five days.

In Mexico City, eight Cuban exiles were arrested for staging a hunger strike in front of the U.S. Embassy.

Only 17 of the original 35 were still in the Cameron County jail when the hunger strike ended. Eighteen others were in a hospital because of their weakened condition.

Barron and three others were transferred to Corpus Christi and Edinburg Tuesday night, but returned Wednesday. No reason was given for the transfer.

The 35 are charged with conspiracy to violate the U. S. Neutrality Act.

Baruch's Words Roll Time Back

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Bernard M. Baruch, tall and still well-built at 87, gave his advice this week on the recession.

He was talking to the Senate Finance Committee. Listening to him was like watching time roll back a quarter century. On Feb. 13, 1933, he gave his advice to this same committee on how to handle the depression.

What he said 25 years ago sounded strangely like what he was saying now. His advice was disregarded then. It may be disregarded now. Although he has been an adviser to every president since Wilson, his advice has often been ignored.

In 1933—with 12 million people jobless just a month before Franklin D. Roosevelt became president—Baruch was warning against the dangers of inflation and advising: "To get people back to work... we must balance the budget." His theme then: "Reduction in public expense is indispensable to recovery."

But when Roosevelt took office he did just the opposite from what Baruch suggested: he really unbalanced the budget with relief spending and ushered in a new concept of willingness to spend more money than the government takes in in revenue to get the economy back on its feet.

This week Baruch—ignoring any change in government philosophy—went back to his theme of 25 years ago.

He put his finger on inflation as the "biggest single peril to our economic health," rejected deficit spending as a solution to the present recession, opposed a tax cut, and even advocated a tax increase to keep the budget balanced if Congress votes big new spending programs.

D-O Program Started In '35

After 22 years, the "D-O" program in Big Spring is going strong.

Only it's not the D-O program anymore—it's the Industrial Co-operative Training program now. The term D-O, under which the program came into the Big Spring schools in 1935 is for Diversified Occupations. Today, however, co-operative vocational training (between the schools and businesses) involves three phases—the industrial training, distributive education and office work. Texas has the first two of the components but has not yet set up a formal program for the office work, although it sometimes fits into either of the existing programs.

Here are the students:

5,000 Persons Flee As Floods Hit California

By The Associated Press

Northern California and the mountain region felt today from heavy rains, snow and floods while sections of Texas and Oklahoma surveyed widespread damage from tornado winds.

California was declared a disaster area by Gov. Goodwin J. Knight as fresh storms hammered the coast, blizzards pounded the Sierra Nevada area and flood dangers appeared increasing. An estimated 5,000 persons have been evacuated from their homes by the floodwaters. Earth and snow slides added further damage and stranded two trains.

Tornado winds whipped across northern Texas and southwestern Oklahoma around sundown Wednesday. Three funnels hit the Wichita Falls area, demolishing or damaging 175 homes and business houses. One man was killed, two were missing and at least 13 injured.

In California, where four deaths were blamed on the stormy weather, the Southern Pacific Railroad's City of San Francisco with 97 persons aboard was stranded in a snowed near Donner Summit in the Sierra, 165 miles north-east of San Francisco.

A 22-car mail train on the track ahead had been buried by two avalanches of snow, stalling the westbound passenger train. The 25 on the mail train escaped. Two were injured.

Stranded in the mountain chain that runs along California's western boundary were some 200 persons, including 15 at Donner Summit Lodge. Many were skiers. Flood dangers threatened in Santa Clara County, south of San Francisco, and at Stockton in the Central Valley and National Guardsmen were alerted. However, the flood threat appeared lessening a little with only light rains indicated today.

The tornado funnels in Texas and Oklahoma were part of the storm pattern over most of the mid-continent as warm Gulf air collided with cool Pacific air.

One funnel struck near the downtown area of Wichita Falls, a city of 107,000 about 140 miles northwest of Dallas. A second hit a residential area west of the city and the third struck in suburban Deandale.

Heavy damage was reported in twisters which skipped across areas in southwestern Oklahoma, in the community of Elgin and near Cement. Two persons suffered minor injuries.

U.A.R. Obtains 3 More Red Subs

CAIRO (AP)—The newspaper Al Shaab reported today that the United Arab Republic has obtained three more submarines from the Soviet bloc.

Egypt received three Soviet-made submarines from the Soviet Union after the 1956 British-French-Israeli invasion.

Al Shaab said the new undersea flotilla arrived at Alexandria Tuesday after a trip from Poland made under radio silence and off the regular sea lanes. The vessels were reported built in Poland and were piloted to Alexandria by Egyptian crews.

Warrants Out For 7 Men In Houston Fraud

HOUSTON (AP)—Federal bench warrants have been issued for seven men, including a former vice president of a Houston bank, indicted for defrauding the bank and an Orange lumber company of about $419,000.

They were indicted by a federal grand jury yesterday on charges of defrauding the Texas National Bank in Houston and the Litcher and Moore Lumber Co., with duplicate automobile loans.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Donald McNeil

said the bank's loss was about $119,000 and the lumber company loss was about $300,000. He said the duplicate loans involved 276 automobiles.

Indicted were Harold Jones, 35, a former vice president of the bank; Carroll Bass, 45, Houston, and his brother, Milton Bass, 42, partners in operating a finance company and a transportation firm; Cleveland Thompson Jr., 38, a former employee of the Bass brothers; James Proctor Jr., 36, and Edward Harshberger, 33, operator of motor companies and auto detective agencies, and Willard Cheney, 33, operator of an auction company.

The indictments charge the schemes to defraud extended from June 1, 1955, to July 31, 1957. Jones was named individually in a two-count indictment and was named with the Bass brothers in an 11-count indictment that alleges misapplication of bank funds, conspiracy, and mail fraud.

The conspiracy count alleges Jones caused various loans to be made to the Basses without requiring collateral and that the brothers furnished the collateral to the lumber company for loans on the same cars.

Snyder Couple Shot To Death

SNYDER, Tex. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martin were found shot to death in their home yesterday and police said a pistol lay near the bodies.

Martin, 41, was in the kitchen and his wife, 36, in a doorway to the kitchen.

Bodies Of Four Victims Recovered

HORSHOEBEND, Idaho (AP)—The bodies of four persons were recovered yesterday from a car in which they plunged to death in the Payette River. Officers said they apparently drowned.

Sheriff Jack Williams identified two of the victims from personal papers as Randolph Lloyd, 54, Milpitas, Calif., and Clarence Jackson, 51, Spokane, Wash. He said the FBI joined officers today in trying to determine from fingerprints the identities of the other two, a middle-aged man and woman.

DEAR ABBY

TAKE IT EASY, GAL
By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl who plays sax in the high school band. A visiting band is coming here for a music contest and we have been asked to put the band up. I wrote their bandmaster and asked if I could have one of the boys stay at my house as we have the room. I described myself and sent a picture. Do you see anything wrong with that?

DEAR ABBY: My brother just lost his wife cancer. He is still young, 46, and has one married daughter. His wife's body wasn't even cold when all my friends started calling me to get my brother matched up with another woman. I've had calls from people who suggest divorcees, widows and old maids. I'm sure my brother wouldn't care to be seen with. He was a good husband, had plenty of money and is very good looking, but he's still mourning how do I answer these nerving people?

DEAR ABBY: I work in an office where there are 14 girls. One woman who has the same first initial as mine started looking for a hanky she said she lost in the office. She practically cried about losing it and said she had her initial on it. She made such a fuss asking everyone 15 times if they saw it that I finally got sick of it and went out and bought her one. It was cheap at $1.50 to shut her up. Now one of the girls said that proved I took it and replaced it to cover my guilty conscience. How low can people get?

DEAR ABBY: I am a newlywed. My husband is stationed in Germany. He wrote and asked me to send him all his civilian clothes. I sent them to him and he hasn't written to me since. What do you suppose has happened to him? He said he had a week's furlough coming and he wanted to go to a winter resort there. I hesitate to write his C.O. and hate to write to his chaplain for fear of embarrassing him. It has been over three months. Please tell me what to do?

Flood Hits California Town

Muddy waters of the Guadalupe River inundate Alviso, Calif., forcing along the northern coast of the state caused rivers in the area to overflow at least 900 persons to leave their homes. Almost ceaseless rains overflow their banks.

California Tagged A Disaster Area

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Gov. Goodwin J. Knight declared California a disaster area today as rains and snow stranded trains, marooned 200 in the Sierra Nevada and sent rivers flooding over their banks. Four persons died — two by drowning and two others in accidents attributed to the storm. The Southern Pacific Railroad's streamlined City of San Francisco with 97 persons aboard was stranded in a snowshed near Donner Summit in the Sierra 165 miles northeast of San Francisco. Two avalanches of snow buried a 22-car mail train on the track ahead, stalling the crack west-bound passenger train which followed. All 25 on the mail train got out but two trainmen were injured. The "City," en route from Chicago to San Francisco, was hung up just three miles from where it was stalled in snow for days in 1952. Some 200 persons were stranded in the mountain chain that runs along the state's western boundary — 150 of them at Donner Summit Lodge. Many of them were skiers. The governor alerted National Guardsmen in Santa Clara County, south of San Francisco, and at Stockton in the Central Valley, where flood dangers threatened. Only light rains were forecast for today, lessening the flood threat somewhat, although the ground over much of California remained perilously soggy. Rotary snowplows battled to keep open one lane of the only remaining east-west highway link across the Sierra, U.S. 40 State highway employees said that if they failed, it would take days to reopen the road. A three-foot wall of water washed through Pleasant Hill 20 miles east of Oakland, but receded a short time later. The water flooded nearby Gregory Gardens, Sherman Acres and Garthwick, all subdivisions. The overflow from Walnut Creek inundated homes and businesses near Oakland. Cemented sandbags along San Francisco Creek at Palo Alto, south of San Francisco, held up although battered by debris and log-laden waters. Some 150 persons were evacuated to a Red Cross shelter station near Gilroy, 65 miles southeast of San Francisco, when Carnadero Creek sent water two feet deep over a wide area.

'Lack Of Confidence' Given As Reason For TEC Ouster

AUSTIN (AP)—Lack of confidence in 20-year career man Lee Williams was the only reason the Texas Employment Commission gave yesterday in firing him as its legal counsel. Out-voted Commissioner Robert Newman charged "these ruthless tactics" were a "perfect demonstration of the stab-in-the-back techniques I spoke of a few days ago." Williams said he was fired after 30 minutes notice when he was given the opportunity to either resign or get ousted. Commission Chairman Perry

Brown made the motion and would not elaborate on its wording. He was supported by Maurice Acers. "Col. Brown said the relation between the counsel and the commissioners had to be one of confidence and respect," Williams said. "He told me, 'I have no confidence in you.' I said I was sorry. He said 'I am now offering you an opportunity to resign.' "I told him I've been in this work for 20 years and that I couldn't possibly resign," Williams told The Associated Press. "I asked him to give me a written statement regarding the reasons for firing me. I said I wanted to ask for a hearing before the Merit System Council. He said 'You won't be entitled to that sort of hearing. We have acted to exempt your position.' "Brown said he had nothing to say about the matter but read his motion from the Commission's minutes. It quoted Brown as saying the commission "has had a great lack of confidence" in Williams as its lawyer and that "after a period of observation I believe that the Texas Employment Commission definitely needs a general counsel in whom it can have complete confidence." Newman, who represents labor, called the action by Acers and Brown a "clever trick."

Coastal States Brace For New Tidal Damage

BOSTON, Mass. (AP) — Coastal New England counted its damage losses in the millions and kept a wary eye on the Atlantic which was expected to flood beachfronts and pound over sea walls again today. In a special bulletin, the Weather Bureau said tides would run from one to three feet above normal from Portland, Maine, to Nantucket, Mass. and that rough seas and pounding surf would continue. Winds, which yesterday reached more than 60 miles an hour onshore and up to hurricane force over 75 miles an hour offshore, diminished. The storm center moved seaward. The forecast was for intermittent rain in the south portions and some snow in the north and in the higher elevations. The northeast storm yesterday churned the Atlantic into a fury. Tides and crashing surf flooded coastal communities in Massachusetts and Maine, marooned hundreds of persons, undermined scores of cottages and business establishments, washed out roads and spewed debris, sand and boulders onto highways. There was rain in southern New England and wet snow, up to 12 inches deep, in Maine. The storm is the 18th to hit New England since December, and considered by many the worst spring storm in some 21 years. The storm buffeted the 85-foot fishing vessel Baby Rose. One of her crew of seven, John J. Oosterlund, 45, of Gloucester, suffered several broken ribs. The Coast Guard sent two vessels to assist the Baby Rose but the fishing vessel's skipper, Vincent Ciarametaro of Gloucester, said he could proceed. John J. Davin, 45, of Quincy, a cameraman for WHDH-TV, Boston, suffered a broken leg when blown off a seawall while photographing the storm at Revere. No deaths were reported.

Modern Living Leaves No Room For Huck Finn Life

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Huckleberry Finn has faded a little farther into the past. Floating down a river was just good, clean fun in the day of Mark Twain's hero. But in Municipal Court yesterday three teen-agers learned that, legally, it's "loitering and trespassing." Their lesson will cost them $75 each, payable within a year. The Los Angeles River, unlike Huck Finn's, is paved, sides and bottom. Except during heavy storms it carries a trickle that will just about float a dead leaf. Swollen with runoff Tuesday, the channel became a raging sluiceway temporarily endowed with some of the glamor of Twain's Mississippi — an adventurous challenge to George Hamlin, 19; Peter Van Duijwyk, 18; and Don Pullen, 19, all of suburban Reseda. They set sail on a rubber life raft, "just for fun." It wasn't so funny when they lost their paddles. Observers on shore reported their plight to police and fire departments. A helicopter used the windstream of its rotors to blow them to the bank. Police pulled them out, wet and disenchanted. Any remaining appeal the escapade may have had vanished when Judge Parks Stillwell told them: "The fines you must pay won't come close to the amount spent in the rescue." "I guess they wanted to re-enact a little of the Huckleberry Finn days," said the judge. "It's too bad they're in the wrong area — and the wrong era. They were about 30 years too late."

Oil Puts Panama Regime On Spot

PANAMA (AP)—A petition asking for rights to explore for oil and minerals in the Panama Canal Zone has put Panama's government on the spot. The petition, filed last Saturday at the Department of Mines by a member of the opposition Liberal party, apparently will force the Panamanian government to take some sort of stand on the touchy issue of sovereignty over the Canal Zone. The Canal Zone treaties between the United States and Panama say nothing about the subsoil rights in the 10-mile-wide strip across the narrow isthmus of Panama. Panama maintains that U.S. rights are restricted to those necessary for construction, operation, maintenance, defense and sanitation of the canal. A spokesman for the Liberals said that denial of the petition would mean Panama was abandoning this policy, while favorable action would certainly produce a diplomatic conflict with the United States.

Woman Candidate Hates Sack Dresses

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mrs. Vivienne L. Suarez, 38-year-old Columbus mother of five who seeks the Democratic nomination for governor, appeared on radio station KYW's Big Campaign program last night and answered telephone questions from listeners. For her feminine audience, Mrs. Suarez, dressed in a figure-flattering dress, had this comment: "I think sack dresses should be outlawed."

Jess Talkin' by Jess Blair

The fields south of Vealmoor have been wet most of the winter and spring, but are drying out now. T. A. Norman has listed one section, but says the home place got four-tenths inch of rain last Friday and is just now getting dry enough to plow. Weeds on the earlier plowed land are coming fast. He hopes to start planting about the last of April providing soil is not too wet. He says the tightland warms up sooner than sand and planting can be done a bit earlier. Norman, who is a certified cottonseed breeder, says that dealers who sell seed below the 80 per cent germination standard may still sell them as certified seed. But they must tag the sack with the label reading "Below Standard." This can mean anything below 80 per cent germination; or at least that is the way he interprets the new ruling.

table growing where irrigation water is available, according to Assistant County Agent Al Byrd. He said the main problems would be getting the needed capital and finding a market. The St. Lawrence community south of Garden City could make its biggest cotton crop this year, according to E. E. Brasher, area gin manager who supervises the gin at St. Lawrence. He said the gin turned out around 4,700 bales in 1957, and practically all this came from irrigated land. With plenty of moisture, at least at the present, farmers might make a good dryland crop to boost the ginning to 6,000 bales. The last dryland cotton that amounted to anything was grown in 1949. The fields have dried out every year since then. Caged layers will return the owner good wages if he manages the business closely, says D. S. Phillips who farms north of Coahoma. However, there is no big money to be made with chickens. Phillips built his house less than a year ago, started the hens last July and now has 1,000. Now he plans to add another 1,000 without constructing any more buildings. He will merely shove each hen over and put another in the cage with her. The small 10-inch cages are crowded, but this system is working for most poultrymen, and it saves on overhead. Phillips uses the lightweight DeKalb hens and has been getting 70 per cent production. This is higher than average. He had had a good market for the eggs and sells all the hens lay. "One reason I went into the poultry business," he said, "was so I could use the maize crop. The grain is ground and mixed with a laying supplement. It gives me a better price for the feed than if sold on the market." He estimates his time spent with the chickens at three and a half hours a day. It takes 40 minutes twice a day to feed and about two hours to gather eggs, process them and do the extra chores about the place. He figures that increasing the flock to 2,000 will require only an extra hour and a half or two hours a day.

Ralph White, Howard County Farm Bureau president, thinks cotton will bring a good price this year—particularly the good white cotton. Cotton of this quality is in short supply and the 15-16ths-inch staple should bring around 35 cents. White says that parity was 78 per cent in 1957, and is now 82 per cent. There is a fine chance that it will be raised to 85 per cent, or 7 per cent above last year.

County Agent Jimmy Taylor says farming prospects are the best in several years. And along with the extra moisture there may be a bumper yield of insects. Taylor recently attended a meeting of county agents and specialists at Lubbock and said the entomologists were expecting heavy insect infestations this year. Main reason for the outlook is the moisture which always causes more insects. More than a dozen farmers in eastern Mitchell County plan to try vegetables for commercial sale this year. At a recent meeting with Joe Cole, a vegetable specialist with the Extension Service, they made tentative plans to grow sweet potatoes, tomatoes, onions, cantaloupes, blackeyed peas and cucumbers. The area is well suited to vegeta-

Easter Chicks Available, But Only In Natural Hues

By BOBBY HORTON
It may be only an Easter fad, but it has its possibilities. That's what Orman Gregory says of the buying of small chicks and ducklings for the children on Easter. Gregory is manager of the local G. F. Wacker store.

Gregory relates a story of a few years back when an energetic young lady, and perhaps her husband, entered his store and browsed through the interior casually.

Coming across the grouping of young Easter ducks, she probably thought, as many did, "Now there is something the kiddies will enjoy," and, paying a modest fee for the fuzzy creatures, bought a couple.

Back at her residence, a makeshift place for the duck became its home for the many days to come.

A fall or two later, the duck was entered in a nearby county fair—and won a blue ribbon.

Gregory, along with several other merchants of the city, stocks up with the chicks, sometimes dyed assorted colors, about two weeks prior to the Easter holiday.

It's strictly an Easter-time fad, one that the younger set gets a good deal of enjoyment from. A child brings home one of the tiny fellows, and the rest of his play-time pals soon follow suit.

The merchants aren't looking for a great deal of profit in handling the chicks. It's mostly for bringing the customers into their store. The establishments give the chicks away with the purchase of certain merchandise, or sell them for a few cents to cover handling costs.

Gregory says that he ordered approximately 1,500, which he hopes to distribute by Easter. This year he is not even selling them; they go for free, with the purchase of a small amount of food.

Three years ago, several local businessmen began to display in their windows numbers of colorful rabbits, ducks, and chicks as part of their Easter motif.

The City Health Department, however, saw too much threat in keeping the little critters near candies and confectioneries. That almost eliminated the ducks and rabbits from the Easter scene, but the stores are still able to handle the small chicks when kept in a suitable place.

And this year, it appears that even the colors will be gone. A local hatchery decided against dyeing a special group for this holiday, and unless done personally, the Easter chicks will remain naturally tinted this season.

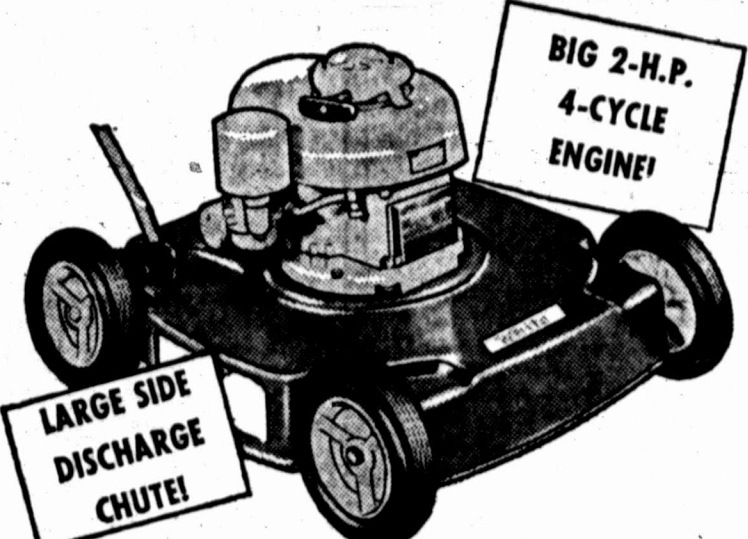

Gregory pointed out that the dyeing has to be done shortly after hatching, or there is considerable risk taken in the coloring of the yellow fellows later on.

One lady, standing by and taking note, said that a chick she bought one year grew up to be a healthy rooster—so healthy, in fact, that he was served at a Sunday's meal.

Need proof? She said that on the tip of one wing there was still tints of that Easter-time dye.

Weather Forecast For Next 30 Days
These maps, based on those supplied by the United States Weather Bureau, forecast the probable rainfall and temperatures for the next 30 days.

Temperature, Rainfall Due To Be Below 'Normal' Here

Big Spring, according to the 30-day weather map issued by the U. S. Weather Bureau, should have temperature below normal or, perhaps, near normal for April.

The average rainfall for April for the 58 years the records have been kept here is 1.69 inches. The line separating the area marked "normal" and a large segment of South and West Texas dubbed for below normal rains runs almost through Big Spring.

All of Texas but one small northeastern corner of the Panhandle is in the area marked below normal for temperatures in the next 30 days.

Body Of Pretty Divorcee Found

TULSA (AP)—The bullet riddled body of a pretty young divorcee was found here yesterday. Police said they still lack clues to the slaying.

Mrs. Betty Watkins, 22, was found covered with a blanket over her face, in her small home in the city's northside, by a brother who had stopped by for a visit.

Police Chief Joe McGuire said five pistol shells were found. He said the pattern of the pistol fire indicated the victim had fought for her life, and was not shot as she lay asleep as originally thought.

The divorcee, mother of two, had talked with a brother and her mother only hours before being killed, said police.

Officers have tried, in vain, to unearth leads which might lead to the discovery of a woman friend, 40, who was supposed to have spent the night with Mrs. Watkins.

They said a car belonging to the missing woman was found locked in her garage at home near the murder scene.

3 Texas Bases Still Must Close

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon said yesterday plans are still in effect for closing three Air Force bases in Texas this year, despite protests from congressmen representing the affected areas.

The bases are Goodfellow at San Angelo, where pilots are trained to fly the twin-engine World War II B25 bomber; Foster at Victoria, where two jet fighter squadrons now are based, and a flying training center at Hondo.

Protesting the action have been Reps. Fisher, Thompson and Kilgore, all Democrats of Texas.

Training Gives Young People Job Experience

One of the most frustrating experiences in life can occur when young people look for a job and are asked: "What experience do you have?"

In Big Spring the vocational Industrial Cooperative Training program helps to solve this problem. Young people enrolled in the program may not explore vocational possibilities while still in school; they may develop special skills in the field they choose so that graduation is simply the step from part-time to full time employment.

Under the program, explained Edward C. Shive, coordinator, the employer frequently counsels with the student about job requirements, employment opportunities, educational aids, etc. Thus the employer has a hand in selecting and training one of his future employees or associates.

Students (juniors and seniors) enrolled in the ITC class attend high school during the morning. They take regular subjects required for graduation from high school, and also spend part of the time in study of subject related to the job they have chosen. In the afternoons they go to a business house or professional office and work on the job they are learning. Of course the employer becomes their trainer.

The space age has dramatized the role of the scientist, but Shive pointed out that every scientist will be dependent upon his technicians.

"These craftsmen and technicians will need to be far more skilled and trained than ever before," said Shive, "and regardless of this, the growing population and expansion of the nation means that the vocational demand will be much greater than we can imagine."

Brown Says Thornton Will Jump 'Or Else' In Meet

Rules Group Will Listen To Coaches, Then Decide

By TOMMY HART
As ABC Relays time nears, all is not peace and serene among the university teams entered here.

McAdoo Keaton, coach at SMU, has protested the use of a built-up solo being used by Dub Thornton, Texas Tech's ace high jumper who won first place in that event in the Texas Relays at Austin last weekend, pointing out that track and field authorities looked with disfavor on a high jumper employing such equipment.

When told of the protest, Coach Delmer Brown of Texas Tech threatened to pull his entire team out of the eight-team meet.

Brown said the inner sole was an orthopedic measure, Thornton having sprained his ankle arch while in high school.

The relays rules committee, headed by Chairman R. H. Weaver, met last night to discuss the protest but reached no conclusion.

Weaver called Eric Pohl, regional head of the American Athletic Union, in San Antonio to ask his opinion on the matter. In substance, Pohl said the shoe should not be allowed.

Keaton said today he will cite an NCAA executive's ruling to officials of the Big Spring meet.

"I've talked with Fred Tootell of Rhode Island, chairman of the NCAA track committee, and he informed me that any shoe other than a regular track shoe will be illegal until our June meeting," Keaton said in Dallas.

The SMU coach is a member of the rules committee from this district.

The committee will meet with the eight college coaches tomorrow morning to discuss the problem, then retire to debate it and make a decision.

The NCAA will decide in June if built-up shoes can be used. Brown said the coaches can't do anything about it because there is nothing illegal about it. This meet is not sanctioned by the NCAA but by the AAU. They may change the rule for next year but right now it's legal.

"It's a funny thing that SMU jumpers and coaches didn't say a word about this in previous meets when they defeated our boy. But when they get beat they start the cry 'baby act'."

The rhubarb may be a tempest in a teapot but it, for the time being at least, has taken the play away from the Dave Sime-Bobby Morrow 100-yard dash duel.

The meet starts at 1 p. m. Friday with high school preliminaries. University teams are due to run on Saturday only. However, both Morrow and Sime, as well as many other university runners, are due to work out at the track Friday afternoon.

All reserve seats for the Saturday afternoon finals are gone. However, 5,000 general admission tickets—priced at $1 each—will go on sale at the gate the day of the meet.

Most of the university teams are due to arrive here this evening. Duke is scheduled to fly in, arriving here about 9 p. m. The Texas Tech and ACC teams may not arrive before tomorrow morning, however.

Track and field fans can get tickets at reduced prices for the preliminaries both tomorrow and Saturday morning. The adult fee is 75 cents for those two sessions.

Midland is picking up support among the high school entries and could win the team championship without causing too much surprise.

The Bulldogs are led by Bobby Barrett, who are almost sure to shatter Bobby Cunningham's mile record here. Edwin Nixon's team is also strong in the broad jump, discus throw, high hurdles and sprint medley relay.

Other favored teams among the 44 high schools entered are Andrews, which will be especially strong in the relays, El Paso Jefferson, Seminole and Snyder.

Cisco and HCC rule as favorites among the ten junior colleges entered. Other JC's which will send teams here are Lee of Baytown, Blinn, Mexico Prep, Arlington, Tarleton, Amarillo, Odessa and San Antonio.

Texas rules as an outstanding favorite in the university division, although it may be outclassed in the sprints by both Duke and ACC.

The Longhorns appear to have much too much all-around class for the other teams.

Here's a list of the athletes Coach Clyde Littlefield will pit against the field here:

UT Coach And Star Pupil

Coach Clyde Littlefield (left), coach of the favored University of Texas in the weekend ABC Relays here, is shown with one of his star pupils, Eddie Southern, a 440-yard specialist who is expected to set a world record in that event before the year is over. Southern, a Dallas product, will appear in relay races only here, however, since the ABC meet does not have a 440-yard race. Eddie was in the last Olympic Games.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Dave Sime, Duke's wonder boy, apparently is ready for his upcoming duel with Bobby Morrow in Saturday's ABC Relays here. Big Dave ran a 9.7 100 at Gainesville, Fla., last Saturday, but apparently wasn't pushed. The previous Monday, however, he was clocked in 9.4 in a dual meet at Raleigh, N. C.

The Andrews High School mile relay team which will run in the local meet has the fastest clocking in the nation this year, according to Tom Eastland of the Odessa paper.

The foursome traveled the four laps at Kermit last weekend in 3:21.7. The national interscholastic record is held by the Baytown, Texas, team, which was clocked in 3:17.9 on May 7.

The Andrews team is composed of Larry Shoemaker, R. E. Merritt, Ronnie Brice and Jerry (Jet) Jetton.

Brice is the quarterback on the Andrews football team, which beat Big Spring two years ago and then was upset by the Steers last fall.

The Hobbs, N. M., basketball team which broke even in two exhibition games with Big Spring the past season, won their third straight state championship several weeks ago, an unprecedented feat in that state.

Coach Ralph Tasker guided his team to a 20-11 won-lost record.

Larry Anthony, who played center on the Lamesa football team the past two years, recently signed a "letter-of-intent" to attend Rice Institute.

Big Spring's share of the gate in its bi-district basketball game with Pantpa several weeks ago was a robust $1,250—the biggest cut the Steers have gotten from a basketball game in a long, long while.

The Longhorns' expenses for the trip came to something less than $500.

John Pipes, who has lined up a stellar golf attraction of his own (the U. S. Public Links sectional tournament) here in June, is attending the Masters tournament at Augusta, Ga., this week.

Pipes, whose archives on golf are supposed to be the most complete in the world, will send back interesting items on the links classic to The Daily Herald.

When baseball's Giants shifted from New York to San Francisco, they had to pay their lease to the owners of the Polo Grounds in NYC through 1962, but shed no tears for them.

Apparently, the big ball orchard between Coogan's Bluff will produce a fabulous profit for the Giants until that time, perhaps $600,000 a year.

The lease costs the Giants a mere $131,680 per annum. Rentals for the year, already signed, will range a minimum of $400,000. This does not include profits from concessions and an adjoining parking lot which, if small, nonetheless is lucrative.

The Polo Grounds will be rented for rodeos, fights, Gaelic football and hurling, soccer, ice skating and theatrical ventures; for gatherings such as that of Jehovah's Witnesses and other things.

In short, anything is apt to be staged but a polo game.

ONE MILE RELAY: Wanting time 3:13 at Fort Worth best in the nation this year. Ralph Rosenberg, Drew Dunlap, Jimmy Holt and Eddie Southern made up the team with Southern's 45.8 anchor and Dunlap's 48 that the best boys' Wally Wilson, who ran on Texas 3:18 team last year (tops in the country), likely will sub for Rosenberg.

TEXAS: Southern's great anchor at Fort Worth enabled Texas to average 46-YARD RELAY: Texas has won only one of its three starts, winning at the Border Olympics in 41.9 seconds. Houston beat the Longhorns in the season inaugural, while ACC scored 18.7-second victory last week in Fort Worth. Wally Wilson, Hollie Gainer and Southern's lead quarter probably will be run by Drew Dunlap, Jimmy Holt or Eagle Rosenberg, in either Dunlap, Keith Pinner or Joe Villarreal, taking the anchor half.

100-YARD DASH: Hollie Gainer, junior from Colorado City, is Texas' chief threat in the sprint. He won the Border Olympic sprint, and ACC's Bill Woodhouse, but ran third in the 100 and fourth in the 200 at Fort

Busy Eagles Were To Run At Houston, Then Here

DENTON (SC) — After track outings in Houston and Big Spring this week, the North Texas State Eagles will have competed in five meets in 15 days.

Coach Winton E. (Pop) Noah was to take his versatile 11-man squad to the University of Houston Invitational Meet Wednesday, then to the American Business Club Relays in Big Spring Saturday.

Two North Texas relay teams produced outstanding times in the Texas Relays last Friday and Saturday, but had to be content with second-place finishes.

The 800-yard relay quartet came in second to Abilene Christian, but its official time of 1:24.5 broke an all-time NTS record of 1:25. At the 1940 Penn Relays.

The best time of the year, a 3:13.1, was turned in by the Eagle mile relay team, which ran second to Texas with a 46.7-second anchor lap by John Cotten.

The same group entered at Houston Wednesday. That included Jimmy Weaver, Freddie Stuart, Gilbert Gerdes, and Cotten in the 800, and Gerdes, Charlie Richers, Jim Blessingame, and Cotten in the mile. The Eagles' 440 relay entry will be Weaver, Cotten, Stuart, and Fred Reuter. This group had a third-place 41.5 timing at Austin.

Noah has also entered Stuart, Reuter, and Weaver in the 100; Cotten, Richers, and Gerdes in the 440; and Weaver in the 220; and Stuart in the low hurdles. The Eagles' st still out with injuries.

Others on the North Texas list are Denny Andrews, javelin; David Clark and Tommy Black, pole vault and broad jump; and Jerry Matthews, mile.

At the Big Spring competition, the Green and White will be represented in the 440, 880, mile, and sprint medley relays, plus the 100-yard dash, pole vault, broad jump, and javelin. The sprint medley combination is to be Gerdes, Weaver, Cotten, and Blessingame.

All other entries in the ABC meet will remain the same as at Houston except for the mile relay, in which Weaver may replace Blessingame, Noah said.

Grave Skowron Belting Ball For Yankees

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press
It seems Bill Skowron always starts to worry whenever he's pushed into the cleanup spot in the New York Yankees' batting order during the regular season. So Manager Casey Stengel decided he'd put him there in the spring exhibitions and let him get his worryin' over early.

If Skowron still is worrying, this kind of worry could put the guys who make the tranquilizers out of business.

The Moose—not Mickey Mantle—leads the American League champs with a .415 batting average, seven home runs and 20 RBI. He rapped two homers again yesterday as the Yanks beat Washington 7-5.

Skowron helped push Yankee starter Johnny Kucks into a 6-0 lead with his slam off Camilo Pascual in the second. But the young righthander blew most of it and the score was 6-5 after the fifth when Neil Chrissy drove in three with a double. The Moose got a solo homer in the ninth off Bud Beyerly.

Best pitching was at Sarasota, Fla., where Boston beat Pittsburgh 2-0. Both runs were scored in the eighth on a pair of wild pitches by rookie southpaw Joe Gibbon. The Red Sox had just one hit. Don Buddin's first inning single, through seven off Ron Kline and Bob Smith, Ike DeLack and Leo Kieley combined for the shut-out for Boston.

Jim Bunning went all the way for Detroit and allowed Cincinnati only three base runners over the last six innings, but by then it was too late. Gus Bell homered in the eighth and Smoky Burgess slugged one with a man on in the second to beat the Tigers 3-2. Brooks Lawrence, Charley Rabe and Jay Hook shut off the Tigers with five hits.

The Tigers bought outfielder Stan Palys from the Redlegs for an undisclosed price. This may mean Cincinnati has decided to go with outfielder Vada Pinson, the rookie phenom up from Class C. But also it might mean the Reds are ready to swap Burgess for an established outfielder.

Philadelphia caught up late on Harry Anderson's eighth-inning homer, matched a Dodger run in the 12th and finally won 4-3 in 14 innings on a bases-loaded single by Willie Jones. Shortstop Andre Rodgers scored a two-run homer in the ninth that gave San Francisco a 9-8 win over Baltimore.

The Chicago Cubs whipped Cleveland 8-2, scoring three in the first two innings off Mike Garcia, and socking away four in the ninth off Hal Woodschick on Bob Speake's homer and Lee Walls' bases-loaded double.

A New Breed Of Dodgers Taking Over

By JACK HAND
JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — Leave us face it, Los Angeles. The old Dodgers you used to read about is dead. This is a new breed that will come tumbling onto the Coliseum turf two weeks from tomorrow—high in pitching, low in home runs.

Pitching is the high card in Manager Walter Alston's deck. The staff was the best in the National League last year although it worked in a handbox. Unless that 250-foot left field fence gives them the jitters, they should be the best again.

In days of old, the Dodgers won in spite of their pitching. Duke Snider, Roy Campanella, Gil Hodges and the others stroked home runs into the handy seats at Ebbets Field and three or four pitchers struggled to hold back the enemy.

The home run production dropped to 147 last year, the lowest in 10 years. The pitching staff led the league with 18 shutouts and a composite 3.35 earned run average.

If the Los Angeles club is going to challenge Milwaukee for the pennant, men like Don Drysdale and Johnny Podres must shoulder the big load.

Alston speaks frankly of his problems.

"The pitching is there, although it hasn't looked good lately."

"Our only concern is that we have dropped off in hitting average and I don't know where the home runs are going to come from but our hitting should be better."

Drysdale, only 21, has become the big man of the pitching staff, supplanting Don Newcombe (11-12). The willowy righthander turned in a 17.9 record last season, his second in the majors, and was second to Podres in the league earned run averages.

Podres (12-9) was first in earned run average and led the majors with six shutouts despite his chronic back trouble. The left-hander has been off the beam this spring, causing Alston some concern.

With Danny McDevitt (7-4), Sandy Koufax (5-4) and Podres, Alston has three potential south-paw starters.

Carl Erskine (5-3) has been a pleasing spring surprise. Alston counts on the 31-year-old right-hander to do spot work with an extra day's rest.

Clem Labine (5-7) was outstanding on relief until he ran out of gas in late season. Little Jackie Collum (1-1) Chicago and Brooklyn) looks like hefty help for the bullpen. Don Bessent (1-3) has been ineffective in the spring games. So has Roger Craig (6-9).

Larry Sherry, 24, the strikeout ace of the Texas League with a 10-10 record at Fort Worth, has impressed Alston.

The opening day infield is anybody's guess. Gil Hodges (299), is a fixture at first. Charley Neal, the shortstop last year, has been playing second and short. He batted .270 last season and did a fine job at short.

It may be that Alston will go back to 38-year-old Pee Wee Reese (224) at short for short spells. Neal can do a great job at short but he also can make the double play at second better than Junior Gilliam (250). Alston will find some way to get Gilliam into the lineup.

Randy Jackson (.198) and rookie Dick Gray (.297) at St. Paul) have been fighting for third. Jackson has the edge. Reese also is in the third base battle and little Don Zimmer (.219) probably will wind up as the general handyman.

Steers To Meet Plainview Nine

Coach Roy Baird and the Big Spring Steers left at 8:30 o'clock this morning, where at 4 p. m. they play their final warmup baseball game before launching District 2-AAAA play next week against San Angelo.

Plainview and Big Spring have been booked twice before this season but have yet to meet. The first game was weathered out and Plainview failed to show up for a second date here.

The Steers will be trying to snap back after blowing an 11-3 decision to Levelland earlier this week. In that one, the Steers reserves played through the first three innings and by the time the regulars were inserted into the lineup the Steers were behind, 10-0.

Coach Baird said he learned a lot in the game, however, and he had hopes the team would profit by the loss.

Billy Roger, veteran righthander who has two wins to his credit, will stroll to the hill for the Steers. Roger has been effective for the locals, both as a pitcher and a hitter this year.

Sal Sarmiento will do the catching for Big Spring while George Peacock will be at first, Bernard McMahon at second, Pidge Daniels at shortstop, Jackie Thomas at third and Terry Stanley, Preston Hollis and Wilson Bell in the outfield.

The Steers will carry a 7-3 won-lost record to Plainview.

Jesse McGuire, Plainview's football whiz, probably will pitch for the Bulldogs.

Cage Twin Bill Set At Forsan

FORSAN (SC) — The Forsan Service Club is sponsoring a baseball doubleheader, starting at 7 o'clock this evening in the high school gymnasium here.

Forsan's Independents will meet Sterling City's adult team in one game while the E. C. Smith Construction Company squad of Big Spring, champion of a recent tournament staged there, meets another Big Spring quintet, Nabors Paint Store, in the other game.

Nominal fees will be charged. Proceeds will go toward repairing the Little League baseball park.

Soft drinks, doughnuts, sandwiches and coffee will be on sale throughout the evening.

Small Fry Players Set To Register

LAMESA — Prospective Little League Baseball players will register Thursday, Friday and Saturday in the County Clerk's Office on the second floor of the Dawson County Courthouse, according to John Watson, League President.

Next Monday in Forrest Park, workouts will commence for all 8, 9, and 10 year-old youths who wish to try out for Little League.

Saucun Valley Best For Bill

John Pipes of Big Spring, the world's leading golf archival, is attending the Master Golf tournament at Augusta, Ga., which begins today and continues through Sunday. Pipes will report for The Daily Herald not the results of the meet itself but interesting sidelines on the golfers.

PIPES REPORTS

Dear Tommy:
"I went out to the course today just to find my way around. The grass looks good enough to eat, but to a West Texan any course with grass would look good. But it is a beautiful place and should play tuff especially if it should rain. I saw Billy and asked him just for comparison, which was the most beautiful conditioned course he had ever played. He named Saucun Valley where he won the Amateur, and not because he had success there.

"You probably got the story about Torakichi Nakamura making the hole-in-one on the fourth hole yesterday. He played 18 holes in 69 and played a third nine and made his ace shooting a 34. He is about 2 inches shorter than Billy.

He and his partner Koichi Nakamura had their share of the gallery today. I watched them play 4 holes with Billy Joe Patton and Charlie Coe. The Japs have a great touch on the greens and can pinpoint their woods but they will have to use the woods too often on this course.

They each hit 3-wood second shots to the 18th green dead to the pin, Nakamura having a gimme. Coe hit a 4-iron second. Patton was in the trees.

"Everyone is talking about Ventura but I think some old pro will win it. I watched Lloyd Mangrum play 7 holes and he is hitting it so pretty. If he is putting I think he would be a good bet. But he is always tuff here. I think he has placed in the top 10 scores 12 times in 15 tournaments here, and was runner-up twice.

"The Masters is taking on international look with the Japs, the field includes Belgium's Flory Van Dormek Roberto de Vicenzo, Peter Thomson, Frank Phillips, Australian Open champ and Gary Palyer, South African Open champ. Incidentally, Snead thinks Phillips may have a chance of winning here.

"They even had a parade to start this thing off. They crowned a "Miss Golf" and had quite a parade with all the reigning U. S. champs riding in it in addition to Nelson Horton Smith and some of the other players. Parris Island Marine Band played a concert before the parade and Navy blimps flew overhead."

Pin Heads Retain OWC Loop Lead

In the OWC League at the Cloer Bowl Monday night, the Pin Heads kept their first place lead by shutting out the Bowleros, 4-0.

The Jet-ettes edged into second place by turning back the Toppers, 4-0.

The Jet Streams bounced the Odd Balls, 3-1.

The high honors went to Joyce Ruhl of the Jet-ettes with a 202-512. In second place, Dorothy Halton of the Pin Heads rolled 186-480.

Team scoring honors went to the Jet-ettes with a 2382 total, plus handicap.

Splits were converted by:
Joyce Ruhl, 4-7-9; Lee Duncan, 6-7-10; Evie Malott, 4-3-7; Chips Baumann, 5-6-10; Fran Nixon, 5-7; and Bobbie Cobb, 3-10.

Next week, the Pin Heads try the Toppers, the Jet-ettes meet the Odd Balls, and the Bowleros oppose the Jet Streams.

Standings:

Moore Challenges Feather Champ

LOS ANGELES — Fight manager Willie Ketchum today challenged world featherweight champion Hogan "Kid" Bassey of Nigeria to battle his challenger, Davey Moore of Springfield, Ohio.

"We not only challenge Bassey, I'll say my guy will win the championship and he might even knock Bassey out," the veteran New York pilot declared.

Moore is ranked as the top contender for Bassey's title by Ring Magazine.

Oceans A Promising Source Of Food

EVERETT S. ALLEN
Written For The Associated Press
New Bedford Standard-Times
If the world's population—about 2 1/2 billion—triples during the next century, and it is expected to, humanity must turn to the oceans for new sources of food to maintain its living standards.
The land masses of the world are being rapidly depleted of basic resources. The sea is still a bulging storehouse, not only of minerals and metals—which improved techniques could pry from the ocean bottom—but of enormous quantities of foodstuffs.
In terms of food, the sea can actually outproduce the land. A New England harbor, properly cultivated, could produce nine tons of clam meat per acre annually—three times the amount of comparable food an Ohio farmer could produce on one acre.
Eventually, marine scientists say, the oceans may be stirred artificially to bring up nutrients from the bottom so sunlight can get at them, and so increase the sea's productivity of food stuffs.
Here's one way in which this process is envisaged:
In most areas, a vertical pipe shoved down into the sea would carry a stream of water either up or down, once it was started, and if uninterrupted would go on indefinitely.
This is because ocean surface water is saltier and, therefore, heavier, than deep water, when the two are at the same temperature. As surface water goes down the pipe, it tends to be cooled to the same temperature as the water outside the pipe—but being heavier because of its salinity, it keeps on flowing downward.

It works in the opposite direction. If bottom water is started up the pipe, it tends to get warmer. But because bottom water is slightly fresher, it also is lighter than the surface water surrounding it, so it tends to rise and flow out the top of the pipe.
The French government is experimenting with a system of such pipes. In this instance, it is trying to produce fresh water from the ocean by applying the salinity differences to a distilling process.
But the operation would serve very well to "stir" the sea for increased food production.
Presently, man is neglecting great areas of the oceans nutritional potential. Of some 16,000 species of marine life, only a dozen or so are used commercially to any significant extent. Thousands of others, including such unlikely sounding candidates as barnacles, could make valuable contributions.
Some steps toward more intense exploitation of the sea are already being taken. The British are seeking to utilize the nutritional properties of seaweed in commercial quantities. The South Africans have a fish meal project providing an inexpensive protein source for human consumption.
A vital step in making the most of the oceans food resources is finding way to make fish less expensive. Virtually all modern developments in fishing—packaging, filleting, freezing—are keeping fish from going where they're needed most, to hungry people without much cash.

It is possible, marine scientists say, to make money with a fish product selling for as little as 1 1/2 cents a pound; ways could doubtless be found to convert food fish into some form, perhaps like sausage meat, that could be stored and shipped without canning and freezing.

Further, in the ocean, the absence of fences or lines of ownership makes it difficult to introduce the element of systematic cultivation even though this is highly desirable from the standpoint of increased marine productivity.

But it is only a question of time before a marine-minded country in search of cheap foodstuffs will start a large-scale marine agricultural station.

All this leaves apart the possibilities of plankton, the microscopic marine animals and plants which make up the ocean's basic food form. The fish men eat are at some distance from plankton, which has passed through the digestive systems of half a dozen animals feeding on each other.

Most significant is this: at each step of this process in the biological chain, there is a 90 per cent loss in food value. As the world's need for food increases, oceanographers seek a way in which men can consume the basic food at first hand, without sustaining

these interim losses.
As Dr. Robert Menzies of Columbia University's Lamont Observatory put it: "The world population will outgrow its food supply unless something is changed a great deal; then it will have to turn to the nearest sea."
"We are harvesting the sea now at a great rate, but we are not eating the primary producer, phytoplankton (the plant variety of plankton); instead, we eat a product five times removed.

"The whale is the only vertebrate close to eating the primary producer, and we must study the whale to see how he does it."
Tomorrow: The ocean and radioactivity.

Hypnotist To Drive Car Blindfolded

A noted hypnotist will drive a car blindfolded down a Big Spring street next Tuesday as an attention-getter for his "Hypnotic Mar-vels" show that evening in City Auditorium.
Dr. Morton Greene, the mental expert, is sponsored by the Big Spring lodge, Loyal Order of Moose, as a Little League benefit.
Proceeds of the show scheduled at 8 p.m. will go into the Moose drive for two new Little League baseball parks.
The blind driving event, to be supervised by the Big Spring police department, will begin at 4:30 p.m. Dr. Greene will drive a car donated by Tidwell Chevrolet Co.
down Third Street from City Auditorium to the Courthouse.
The two-hour show deals with most phases of hypnosis, and reaches a climax in a phenomenon called catalepsy. In this stunt, two chairs are placed back to back, about five feet apart. A subject is put into the deep fourth stage of hypnosis, his body as rigid as steel, and is then placed on the tops of the chairs. Supported at the neck and heels in this horizontal position, he feels no strain when Dr. Greene stands on top of him.

Tickets are available from members of the Moose lodge, or may be bought at the door the evening of the performance.

Squirrelly Thief

DALLAS (AP)—Mrs. Roy Lowry, 50, was baffled by three thefts in eight weeks. Rare lace doilies on an overstuffed chair in her living room had been vanishing.
Police could not find a trace of the thief. Then Mrs. Lowry caught the culprit in the act. She spotted a squirrel snatching a fourth doily and scurrying up the chimney.

Likes The "Natural Look"

Actress Connie Stevens stresses the importance of a natural-looking hair-do rather than a tight set. She will soon appear in Paramount's "Rock-a-Bye Baby" with Jerry Lewis.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Important Tips On Skin And Hair Care

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD—Connie Stevens is very aware of the hand of fate. If one of the boys in her singing group had not married and left the act she might still be playing the night club circuit. But during the search for replacement she landed at Paramount and won a long term contract and a part in Jerry Lewis' new picture.

Connie came to my house for lunch right from the studio and I remarked that she was not wearing make-up.

"No. They tested me both ways," she explained, "and I looked better with just a little eye-liner and lipstick."

Connie has a complexion which any girl could envy. "In night clubs I needed make-up, but I was very careful to remove every bit of it with mineral oil. I like this because it spreads easily and wipes off quickly. Then I make a thick lather with soap and rub this all over my face, wash it off with very hot water and then splash with cold."

As a singer Connie traveled around so much she had to learn to be a do-it-yourself girl. "But as long as I can remember, I have enjoyed doing my hair. But I can't stand hair that is too curly or set looking."

"I notice a difference in my hair when it is towel-dried and brushed. If you can't get it much better than a hot-air dryer, it makes the curls softer. If I pin my hair when it's too wet it curls too tightly."

"After I have set my hair I brush it out completely. I don't worry about there not being any curl left. It's always soft and natural looking, with a flattering line."

"I had a hard time convincing my room mate on this point. She always set tight curls and then was afraid to brush very much. One day she didn't have time to set her hair and wore it straight, and she received so many compliments she finally asked me what to do to have a casual curl."

"I prefer long hair because you can do so many more things with it," Connie confessed. "But the main point in choosing a hair style is to have one that you can keep neat. It is a mistake to choose a style that will not stay neat except the day it is done."

Big Spring Garden Club Discusses Conservation

Conservation of natural resources was the topic of discussion at the meeting of the Big Spring Garden Club Wednesday morning. The group met in the home of Mrs. D. S. Riley, with Mrs. H. M. Compton as cohostess.

Dr. Earl Burnett, superintendent at the Experiment Station, was the guest speaker and he told of the government's plan for the conservation of soil and water in Texas.

Explaining the erosion of soil, he told of the two kinds—natural and man-made, and discussed ways of avoiding the loss of soil. He recommended grass or cover crops for cutting down the wind erosion.

Bermuda grass was named by the speaker as being the hardiest grass for this section of the country; he specified two pounds of actual nitrogen per 1000 square feet when a lawn is being started, with five to 10 pounds per year after the first year.

Dr. Burnett stressed the importance of watering the lawn thoroughly at the time of application of the nitrogen. He also recommended that the soil be soaked once a week rather than being given a sprinkle more frequently.

Mrs. Obie Bristow reported on the meeting of the southern zone which she attended recently in Lubbock. Announcement was made of the state meeting of garden clubs slated for Fort Worth on April 23 and 24. Elected as delegates were Mrs. Bristow and Mrs. A. C. Bass.

The club decided to sponsor the garden of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Miller, 502 Hillside, in the annual garden pilgrimage held by the Council of Big Spring Garden Clubs. This year the date is set for April 27.

Tickets are priced at one dollar. Tea will be served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Frazier, whose garden the Spaders Garden Club will show.

Schedules for the placement show, which the club will give on April 30, were distributed. Theme of the show, to be presented in the home of Mrs. J. R. Hensley, 518 Edwards Circle, will be Flower Fair in the Home.

The hostesses had arranged the refreshment table for judging in the division for coffee tables. Using a white cutwork cloth, they filled a bowl of amethyst glass with an arrangement of peach blossoms, purple and white iris hyacinths.

Wide Selection, Variety Mark Grocery Shelves

By The Associated Press.
 The Texas housewife will find a wider selection and a plentiful supply of fresh vegetables on her grocer's counters this week.

Texas cabbage, carrots, leaf lettuce, spinach, collard, mustard and turnip greens, green onions and radishes are in good supply and attractively priced, the Agriculture Marketing Service says.

Prices are slightly lower than last week for red and white potatoes, onions, tomatoes and Arizona lettuce. Celery, eggplant, best quality green peppers, squash and cucumbers are slightly higher, but in fair supply.

Best fresh fruit buys are apples, bananas, consumer-size bags of Texas grapefruit, California avocados and lemons. Texas Valley strawberries are priced a little lower, but California and Texas oranges wear higher price tags.

Pork continues to head the list of best buys in red meats, although good values are to be found by purchasing cheaper cuts, such as chuck and arm roasts, ground and boneless steaks, frankfurters and lunch loaves.

Whole chicken fryers are one of the best protein buys in the market; prices are down a little from last week. Cheddar and cottage cheese are plentiful and economically priced, and may be used in many ways to supplement protein in main dishes and help stretch your food dollar.

Don't pass your frozen food counter without making several purchases. Real values are to be found in frozen beef, chicken and turkey pies, ocean perch and fish sticks, green peas, cut corn, spinach, broccoli and strawberries.

Stocks of canned goods are large and good values are to be found in tuna, chum salmon, green beans and peas, peaches and pears.

New items appearing in many stores in Texas are asparagus from California and Valencia oranges from Arizona.

SANDWICH-STYLE EASTER EGGS

Dress Up Sandwiches Like Easter Eggs

Easter egg sandwiches will make a very appropriate and attractive addition to your Sunday buffet or family supper. From the children they will win double favor because of their flavor and their resemblance to the favored candy Easter egg.

As ham will grace many an Easter dinner menu, there might be enough left over for the filling of these sandwiches. If not, then make the filling of hard-boiled egg salad or a seafood mixture.

Here's how:

SANDWICH-STYLE EASTER EGGS

Ingredients:
 1 pkg. (8 oz.) cream cheese
 1-3 cup milk
 1½ cups firmly-packed finely-chopped cooked ham
 1-3 cup undrained sweet pickle relish
 ¼ cup mayonnaise salad dressing
 6 soft oval rolls (each about 4 inches long)
 Red food coloring
 Extra cream cheese and milk, if needed
 3 radishes
 18 thin strips green pepper

Method:
 Have the 8-ounce package of cream cheese at room temperature; mix with a spoon and gradually beat in the 1-3 cup milk until smooth. Refrigerate until firm enough to spread easily. Mix together the ham, pickle relish and mayonnaise.

Cut a thin slice from the top of each roll and scoop out the bottom halves. Fill rolls with ham salad, using about 1-3 cup for each. Replace tops on rolls, pressing down. Spread the tops and sides of the rolls with the softened cream cheese mixture using 2 tablespoons or more for each one.

If there is enough cream cheese remaining, add a few drops of red food coloring or enough to tint bright pink and mix well. If you have used all the cheese mixture, mix extra cream cheese with a tiny bit of milk and tint it pink with the red food coloring. With a decorating tube, pipe the colored cream cheese around each egg.

Cut each radish in half lengthwise; with small sharp knife peel back red skin in three places for the tulip effect. Place a radish tulip on each roll; add 3 green pepper strips to each for stem and leaves. Makes six servings.

MINIATURE HOT CROSS LOAVES

Try Hot Cross Loaves In Miniature

Hot Cross Buns, so traditional with the Easter season, find an appealing variation in these miniature hot cross loaves which will find favor the year round.

Invest in a set of the small pans, about 4 1/2 by 2 1/2 by 1 1/2 inches, and you will find them handy for baking miniature sponge cakes, fruit cakes, meat loaves and molded salads.

Because the dough is not overly sweet, the loaves are lavished with generous touches of Confectioners' Frosting. Here are the recipes:

MINIATURE HOT CROSS LOAVES

Ingredients:
 3/4 cup milk
 1 tsp. salt
 1-3 cup sugar
 1/4 cup shortening
 3/4 cup warm (near 105 degrees) water
 1 package active dry yeast
 2 eggs
 1 1/2 tps. cinnamon
 4 1/2 cups (about) sifted enriched flour
 Extra shortening (melted)
 1-3 cup currants rinsed in hot water and drained
 1-3 cup chopped candied fruit
 1 egg yolk
 Confectioners' Frosting
Method:
 Scald milk; stir in salt, sugar and shortening; cool to lukewarm. Measure warm water into large mixing bowl; sprinkle in yeast; stir until dissolved; stir in lukewarm milk mixture. Beat 2 eggs enough to combine yolks and whites; add to yeast mixture with cinnamon; stir well. Add half the flour; beat until smooth. Stir in additional flour.

Turn dough out on lightly floured board; knead. Place in greased bowl; brush top lightly with melted shortening. Cover with clean towel; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk—about 1 hour. Punch dough down and turn out on lightly floured board; knead currants and candied fruit into dough.

Divide dough into 8 equal pieces, shape into small loaves (elongated rolls). Press into greased miniature bread pans (each 4 1/2 by 2 1/2 by 1 1/2 inches). Beat together 1 egg yolk and 2 tablespoons cold water; brush tops of loaves with the mixture. Cover.

Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk—about 1 hour and 15 minutes. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven about 25 to 30 minutes. Remove from pans to racks; cool and decorate with Confectioners' Frosting.

CONFECTIONERS' FROSTING:
 Mix 3/4 cup sifted confectioners' sugar, 3 teaspoons milk and 1/4 teaspoon vanilla until smooth. If not thick enough for spreading consistency, add extra confectioners' sugar.

Drop from tip of small coffee spoon, making several crosses on tops of cold loaves.

Variety In Meats Sparks Savory Menus

As any housewife knows, once the meat is selected the rest of the meal falls into place. When menus are being planned, it would be monotonous always to have beef or to concentrate too heavily on pork.

Variety is the spice of menus, too, and there are given below recipes to lend variety to your meals.

MEAT LOAF

1 lb. chuck beef
 1 pork chop
 1 egg
 1/2 cup milk
 1 small onion finely grated (pulp and juice)
 1 tsp. salt
 1/4 tsp. pepper
 1/4 tsp. dry mustard
 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
 2 slices bread
 Paprika

Have meatman grind beef and pork chop or do it yourself. Beat egg enough to combine yolk and white; add milk, grated onion, salt, pepper, mustard and Worcestershire sauce. Cut bread into fine crumbs and stir into mixture. Add beef and pork and mix thoroughly. Pack into a small wet loaf pan (about 7 by 4 inches); turn out on ovenproof platter or shallow small baking pan. Sprinkle top of loaf with paprika. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 1 hour. Turn out and serve hot.

SKILLET FRANKS, KRAUT

3 tbsps. butter or margarine
 3/4 cup finely diced onion
 1 can (1 lb.) sauerkraut
 3 tbsps. dark brown sugar
 Salt
 Pepper
 1 pound frankfurters
 3 tbsps. minced parsley

Melt butter in a 10-inch skillet; add onions and cook gently, stirring often, until lightly browned.

Asparagus Salad Is Fit For A Gourmet

Are you accustomed to serving asparagus boiled and buttered, or topped with grated cheese? Then next time treat it as a gourmet salad. Here's how:

Ingredients:
 1 can (14 1/2 ounces) asparagus stalks
 1 small onion
 2 tbsps. wine vinegar
 2 tbsps. olive oil
 2 tps. sugar
 Salt, pepper

Method:
 Drain asparagus stalks well. Slice onion very thin and separate into rings. Mix vinegar, olive oil, sugar and salt and pepper to taste; pour over drained asparagus in shallow container. Cover tightly and refrigerate. Turn asparagus in marinade a few times. Store for at least a few hours before serving. Makes 4 servings.

Add sauerkraut, undrained; sprinkle with brown sugar and salt and pepper to taste; mix well. Bury frankfurters in kraut, cover and cook slowly about 20 minutes. Sprinkle with minced parsley.

ROAST PORK BUTT

2 1/2 pounds smoked boneless pork shoulder butt
 1 1/2 tps. kitchen bouquet
 3 tps. honey
 1/2 tsp. dry mustard
 1/2 tsp. ginger
 1/2 tsp. grated onion
 1 lb. snap beans
 1/2 lb. carrots

Remove stockinet wrapping from pork butt and wipe thoroughly with a damp cloth. Place on rack in shallow baking pan. Blend together kitchen bouquet, honey, mustard, ginger and grated onion. Brush mixture over entire surface of butt.

Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven until pork is cooked through—about 1 hour and 15 minutes. When pork is nearly done, cut tips from green beans and slice into diagonal 2-inch lengths. Scrub carrots and cut into thin 2-inch sticks.

Cook beans and carrots in a small amount of boiling salted water until just tender-crisp. Remove pork butt and rack from baking pan. Drain vegetables and place in baking pan, stirring lightly until they take up the drippings from the pork.

Cover pan and return to oven

Make Easter Baskets For The Youngsters

For homemade Easter baskets to mark the places for the youngsters at dinner, try a puffed wheat base.

Here is the recipe: PUFFED WHEAT EASTER BASKETS

Ingredients:
 6 cups puffed wheat
 1/4 cup butter or margarine
 1/2 pound (about 32) large fresh marshmallows
 1/2 tsp. vanilla
 8 colored pipe cleaners for handles
 Nuts and candy for filling baskets.

Method:
 Heat puffed wheat in shallow pan in moderate (350 degrees) oven 10 minutes. Pour into buttered bowl. Melt 1/4 cup butter and marshmallows in top of double boiler over hot water; stir until smooth. Stir in vanilla. Pour over puffed wheat, stirring until evenly coated.

With buttered hands, form baskets by packing into 8 buttered custard cups, leaving centers hollow. Allow to stand about 1 hour. Remove puffed wheat baskets from custard cups. Use pipe cleaners to form handles, pushing each end of pipe cleaner firmly into basket. Fill with nuts and candy.

for 5 minutes. Cut pork in 1/4-inch thick slices and serve with vegetables. Makes 6 servings.

CHICKEN PIE
 2 13 1/2-oz. (or 3 10 1/2-oz.) cans chicken a la king
 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
 1 tsp. parsley flakes
 24 crackers, finely crushed
 6 tbsps. melted butter or margarine
 1/2 tsp. thyme
 Pimiento strips
 Heat oven to 375 degrees. Combine chicken a la king, Worcestershire sauce and parsley in 9-inch deep dish pie pan. In small bowl blend crackers, melted butter and thyme. Sprinkle crumb mixture over chicken, spreading gently into the shape of a top crust. Cut crust into pie-shaped wedges before baking. Bake 20 to 25 minutes or until chicken mixture is bubbling hot and crust lightly browned. Remove from oven and decorate with strips of pimiento.

Getting Ready For Easter

Dyeing Easter eggs is a tradition with the Charles W. Sweeney family. Dee Ann stands ready with a tray of eggs while Chip and Patsy do the coloring in the improvised dye pots. Mrs. Sweeney lends a word of advice. Little Mark delightfully approves of the whole idea.

Mrs. Sweeney Plans Her Meals With The Deep Freeze In Mind

At the Charles W. Sweeney home, 1209 Douglas, the deep freeze ranks equally as important as the cooking range and the refrigerator. When they lived in Louisiana, with easy access to generous supplies of fresh fruits and vegetables, Mrs. Sweeney discovered the value of a freezer. Now she does a large share of cooking with it in mind.

For example, she seldom makes a single casserole. Most of her casserole recipes are large, she explains, so she whips together the ingredients, then divides them into two containers. One forms the nucleus of dinner for the day, the other pops into the freezer for future use.

Homemade biscuits are a sure-fire hit with every family. Mrs. Sweeney has a recipe for buttermilk biscuits which she can freeze successfully. You'll find the recipe below. So whenever she makes a batch for dinner she sets aside the few that would be too many, combines them with the surplus biscuits stored in the freezer, and with no extra effort at all soon has a sufficient number to bake for still another meal.

Her husband is pleased with another freezer trick Mrs. Sweeney has. Sometimes there's too much food for the family of six to eat at a sitting. So she saves that extra slice of ham, the whipped potatoes, the spare cup of peas, and stores them in a partitioned freezer plate.

The next noon when she must attend a club luncheon and the children are at school, Sweeney can come into the kitchen, select the frozen meal he desires, zip it into the oven and have a home-cooked meal in no time. The system has now reached the point that Mrs. Sweeney even labels the leftover meals.

There's never a dull moment around their house, says Mrs. Sweeney; the children and their special interests would see to that even if their parents did not have hobbies of their own.

For instance, Dee Ann, a fifteen-year-old sophomore, is a Rainbow Girl and reporter for the Kappa Xi Tri-Hi-Y. Charles, who is better known as Chip, is 11, a sixth grader at Park Hill, and a sports fan. Patricia, 6, whom the family calls Patsy, is a first grader and collects Jenny dolls. Mark, who will be three in May, resembles the well-known Dennis, judging by the tales his folks tell on him.

Mrs. Sweeney is vice president of the Woman's Forum, a member of the Child Study Club and the Rosebud Garden Club, and is program chairman for the Christmas Coffee Circle at First Baptist Church. Cooking is as much a hobby as anything, says the recipe-collector, but she also has long been a collector of hand-painted china, plates in particular. Among her beauties are three rose plates which were given to her mother at wedding showers.

Sweeney, who is manager of Reef Fields Gasoline Corp., claims golf as his recreational activity. He is a director in the Rotary Club and is a commissioner in the Boy Scouts.

If you are looking for an Easter dessert, try the Orange Velvet Ice Box Cake, below, which Mrs. Sweeney has shared with other friends. When she lived in Haynesville, La., and was a member of the Order of Eastern Star, she contributed this recipe to a cook book which the group published as a money-making project. She recommends it as being as delicious as it is uncomplicated to make.

BUTTERMILK BISCUITS
2 cups flour
3 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. soda
1/2 tsp. salt
5 Tbsp. shortening
1 cup buttermilk
Sift flour, baking powder, salt and soda; cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add buttermilk all at once. Stir until dough follows fork around the bowl.

Turn out and knead for 1/2 minute. Roll out 3/4 inches thick. Cut out biscuits, stack them two-deep, with butter brushed in between the layers and on top. Bake for 12 to 15 minutes at 425 degrees.

ORANGE VELVET ICE BOX CAKE
1 Tbsp. gelatin
3 Tbsp. cold water
1 cup condensed milk
Diluted with 1 cup water
2 Tbsp. cornstarch
1/4 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 tsp. grated orange rind
1/4 cup orange juice
2 dozen lady fingers or 1 pound cake
1/2 pint whipping cream
Juice of 1 lemon
Segments of 1 orange
Soften gelatin in cold water, scald 1/4 cup diluted milk in double boiler, mix cornstarch and sugar, add to hot milk; cook ten minutes, stirring constantly. Add slightly beaten eggs combined with remaining milk, cook few minutes longer. Remove from heat, add gelatin, orange juice, lemon juice and orange rind.

Line round mold or cake pan with lady fingers or strips of pound cake. Fill with alternate layers of cooked mixture and cake. Chill overnight. Top with whipped cream and garnish with orange segments.

RED CHERRY PIE
1 No. 2 can red pitted cherries
2 cups water
1 1/2 cups sugar
5 Tbsp. flour
1 box cherry gelatin
PASTRY
Vanilla wafers
6 Tbsp. butter melted
Place cherries, water, sugar and flour in sauce pan, cook, stirring constantly until thick. Remove from fire and add gelatin. Pour into pie pans which have been lined with crushed vanilla wafer mixture. When cool, place in refrigerator until firm enough to cut. Best to make the day before serving.

Makes two pies.
GROUND BEEF SPAGHETTI DISH
2 lb. ground beef
1 med. onion, chopped
1 can tomato sauce
4 oz. spaghetti
1 No. 2 can English peas
1 med. green pepper, chopped
Salt and pepper to taste
1/2 cup celery (optional)
Brown ground beef in large skillet. Add onion and green pepper. Brown. Cook spaghetti in separate pan. Add tomato sauce and celery to meat mixture. Cook about 20 minutes or until beef is done. Drain spaghetti and add to meat-tomato mixture. Add English peas and simmer until peas are hot. Salt and pepper to taste. Serves 6 to 8.

Note: This dish may be varied by substituting boneless beef for the ground beef and using noodles instead of spaghetti. In this case, use a can of mushroom sauce rather than the tomato sauce. Top mixture with a generous sprinkling of Parmesan cheese.

LASAGNE
1 lb. ground beef
2 Tbsp. olive oil
2 cloves garlic, crushed
8 oz. can tomato sauce
1 No. 2 can tomatoes
1 1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. oregano
1/4 tsp. pepper
1/2 lb. lasagne noodles
1/2 lb. Mozzarella cheese
3/4 lb. ricotta cheese
Parmesan cheese

Brown the ground beef in a skillet with the olive oil and garlic. Add the tomatoes and tomato sauce, salt, oregano and pepper; cover and simmer for 15 to 20 minutes. In the meantime, cook the noodles in boiling salted water, about 15 minutes until tender; drain and rinse.

Fill a casserole with alternate layers of the noodles, sliced cheeses, tomato-meat sauce, grated Parmesan, ending with a layer of sauce and Parmesan. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 375 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes.

Sift together 3 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 4 teaspoons Clabber Girl Baking Powder, 1 teaspoon salt, and 1/2 cup sugar. Cut in 1/4 cup butter or margarine until mixture is fine. Stir in 1 cup (6 ounces) finely diced dried apricots. Beat 2 eggs, 1 cup milk, and 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind until just blended; add to dry ingredients; stir until well mixed. Pour into a greased 9 1/2 x 5 1/4 x 2 1/4 -inch loaf pan. Bake in a 350° F. (moderate) oven about 1 hour. Loaf is best when baked and served one day after baking. Yield: 1 loaf, 9 1/2 x 5 1/4 x 2 1/4 inches.

Make Fragrant Apples Into Brunch Delicacies

Remember the wonderful aroma of apples that greeted you on a cold morning when you were young... and the delightful memories that accompany this apple-barrel fragrance when you come upon it today? It seems to represent home, hearth and hospitality — warmth and friendliness, though the apple barrel has been replaced long since by modern storage methods which keep harvest-picked apples tree-fresh in winter.

The family breakfast in the big kitchen has succumbed to our heavy daily schedules, but its cheerful replacement is the leisurely Sunday brunch. You'll capture that old-fashioned hearth feeling by surprising your family and guests with a special brunch using recipes filled with wholesome apple flavors.

Apples picked last fall in the famous valleys of Washington State are in your market now in fine condition for eating and cooking, ready to bring last summer's sunshine to winter's meals. The crackling crisp big Delicious, best for juicy eating, are excellent 'flu' insurance, and the tart, fragrant Winesaps are versatile cooking apples, good for all types of recipes as well as for today's special Sunday Brunch suggestions.

Here are the recipes:

APPLE COFFEE CAKE
Coffee Cake Mixture:
2 cups all-purpose flour, sifted and measured
4 Tbsp. baking powder
1 tsp. salt

Filling:
3 1/2 cups chopped apples
2-3 cup sugar
1 tsp. cinnamon
1/4 tsp. cloves
1 tsp. nutmeg
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1/4 cup corn syrup

To make the cake, sift together dry ingredients; cut in shortening with pastry chopper; add 6

milk slowly to make soft dough. Roll 1/4 inch thick on floured board. Spread cake dough with filling which has been well blended. Roll in jelly roll fashion; place in buttered heavy skillet, curled into a ring.

Make small slashes in top of roll as this is a fruit filling and has a tendency to bubble up. Brush top with melted butter and dust lightly with cinnamon. Bake 45 minutes in 350 degrees oven. Serves 6.

FRIED APPLE RINGS
3 medium Winesap apples
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/4 cup brown sugar
1 1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1/4 tsp. cloves
1/4 tsp. ground ginger

Wash apples thoroughly. Core and slice in 1/2 inch slices crosswise. Melt butter in a skillet. Place apples in skillet and sprinkle with brown sugar and spice mixture. Cook over low heat, turning occasionally, until apples are tender. Makes about 12 apple rings.

Serve with scrambled eggs with diced bacon.

APPLES WITH SAUSAGE
6 Rome Beauty apples, washed and cored
1/2 pound ground pork sausage
Salt to taste
2 Tbsp. lemon juice
1 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 cup honey
1 cup water

Place apples in a shallow pan. Sprinkle each with cinnamon. Pour over the apples a mixture of 1/2 cup of honey and 1 cup water. Bake at 375 degrees for 45 minutes, basting occasionally. Serves 6.

EASTER BONNET CENTERPIECE

Center Your Dinner Table With A Fetching Easter Bonnet - Cake

If you have ever had the ambition to go all-out in decorating a cake, Easter offers a particularly bright occasion for trying your luck. Imagine doling up a cake to resemble an Easter bonnet. It isn't impossible!

As a matter of fact, here's how to do it. You can save a little of the time and effort by using a regular cake mix, which you will need to bake in a set of tier cake pans.

Here are the directions:

EASTER BONNET CAKE
Ingredients:
One regular-size package white or yellow cake mix, 1 package (6 ounces) semi-sweet chocolate pieces (1 cup), 6 tablespoons condensed milk, 1 tablespoon light corn syrup, 1 tablespoon water, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, 1/2 recipe for seven-minute frosting or 1 package (6 1/2 ounces) seven-minute frosting mix.

Have ready greased and floured 7 by 2 1/2 inch round layer cake pan and a 9 by 1 1/2 inch layer cake pan. Prepare cake mix according to package directions. Fill each pan two-thirds full.

Bake according to package directions, baking the 7-inch layer 5 to 10 minutes longer, or until sides of cake pull away from pan and cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Cool; remove cake layers from pans.

Reserve 1 tablespoon of the semi-sweet chocolate pieces. Melt remaining chocolate over hot (not boiling) water; remove from heat. Add condensed milk, corn syrup, water, salt and vanilla. Beat until smooth. Cool to spreading consistency.

Place 9-inch cake layer on cake stand or serving plate. Spread three-quarters of the filling on cake to 1/2 inches from cake edge. Top with second layer. Frost cake with seven-minute frosting. Place reserved pieces of chocolate on top of cake, point side down, in polka dot fashion.

Force remaining chocolate filling through cake decorator around bottom of 7-inch layer to make hat band and bow.

History Proves Pasta's Appeal, Italian Says

Spaghetti is now chic again, according to Giovanni Buitoni, head of the famous Italian macaroni firm. "And it's about time," he says, "because, though few people know it, pasta dishes (or as most people in America say—spaghetti) have historically always been closely associated with elegance, style and good living."

Buitoni passed on some interesting historical tidbits from the book "Spaghetti Dinner" by Professor Giuseppe Prezzolini. For instance, in the 13th century, a monk-historian wrote of ravioli as an extravagant treat, and one of the world's first cookbooks—written in Latin—had special pasta recipes of the Pope.

After the Restoration in 1660, there was a craze in England for everything Italian. The Royal Family and the privileged classes ate macaroni as the latest delicacy, while the average citizen looked upon it with as much suspicion as many people have today for exotic dishes like snails.

Eighteenth century London had a group of bon-vivants much like our present Cafe Society, who were known for luxury in food and dress. They were called the Macaroni Club, and eventually anyone of great elegance was called a Macaroni.

The word travelled across the Atlantic to the U. S., bringing to us some of the most famous lines in American history. "Yankee Doodle went to town, riding on a pony; stuck a feather in his cap and called it macaroni." In case you always thought it was just nonsense, now you know that "macaroni" in revolutionary times meant gaily dressed or elegant.

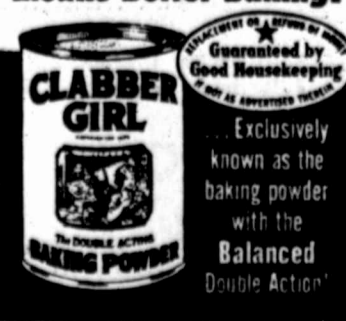

Thomas Jefferson, quite a gourmet, was very fond of macaroni and went to great lengths to have a machine for making it brought to this country. President Franklin Roosevelt included a spaghetti and meat dish among his favorite recipes. And the Waldorf-Astoria served spaghetti to the glittering group who attended the Duchess of Windsor Ball just a few years ago.

You should know this about baking

It's the balance of ingredients in baking powder that governs its leavening action. Only when these are scientifically balanced can you be sure of uniform action in the mixing bowl plus that final, balanced rise to light and fluffy texture in the oven.

No Confetti

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — It appears Mobile's traditional showers of confetti at Mardi Gras parades will become a thing of the past. The City Commission directed that the city attorney draw up an ordinance making it illegal to sell or throw confetti on Mobile streets. It creates a health hazard, they said.

Pageant Workers Racing Deadline

With a coffee urn loaned by the DeCoty Coffee Co. to help keep awake, and firewood gathered from the city dump to keep them warm, production workers for the Big Spring Civic Theatre are meeting their deadlines on the thousand and one items that must be ready by Sunday morning. And if some disaster should strike and destroy the old museum building in City Park, now headquarters for the theatre, this year's Easter Pageant would never come off. The costumes and other property are stored there and without them, there could be no pageant. Given to the theatre by the city, the old building has now been mostly cleared of the artifacts that once were housed there. Now, the back rooms are filling up with Roman uniforms and weapons, and Galilean robes, for use in the pageant, and furniture for use in future productions.

Representative of work being done by production crews are Lt. Arthur Hood and Bob Martinez. Hood, who is something of an expert on military lore, was assigned the task of producing mock-ups of Roman weapons, and he spent many long hours poring over Webb's military encyclopedia. Then, with data in hand, Hood went over to Webb's wood hobby shop.

One of the first simulated weapons was the Roman gladius, the short, heavy sword that made Rome's legions invincible in close combat. These swords are authentic reproductions, but the Roman spear, called the pilum, didn't quite make it this year through lack of time, facilities and materials. Nevertheless, the spears are very close to authenticity. The pilum, especially when hurled by Roman legionnaires, was a terrible weapon. Its nose was fluted, barbed and four-bladed. This four-flanged design was invented by the Romans as an armor piercing device, and modern peacetime applications include bits used on drills and punch presses. Another application of the pilum, now in disuse, was in the deflector, near the head of the weapon, as adapted by medieval knights.

Martinez found his main job, as in last year's pageant, in creation of the rock that covers the tomb of Christ. A real stone would be too much to handle, so Martinez produced an artificial creation that, if you'll pardon the pun, can kill two birds with one stone. The artificial rock, when turned around, becomes the throne of Pontius Pilate. Martinez explained the process

'Polio Victory' Is TV Feature

"Victory Over Polio" is the title of the Easter Sunday production in CBS-TV's "The Twentieth Century" documentary series. Narrated by Walter Cronkite and using film footage provided by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, "Victory Over Polio" will trace the history of polio and polio research down through the ages to the present, crediting the dedicated men and women of science whose contributions led to one of the great triumphs in medical history. This show, touching also on the need for polio vaccination, is part of the NFIP's continuing program to keep the public aware of polio problems.

Produced by the Public Affairs Department of CBS News in cooperation with the NFIP, "Victory Over Polio" will be broadcast on the coast-to-coast CBS Television Network.

of rock making as that of a frame over which is strung wire mesh, which in turn soaks up an abundance of papier-mache. Last comes the paint. The basic frame is a simple box of girders. To these girders are attached sticks of various lengths, all pointing outward, to form the general shape of the rock. The wire mesh covers the end points of these sticks, and in turn may be molded closer to the planned design. The papier-mache may be laid on thin or thick to bring the rock's convolutions within a hair's breadth of the blueprint. Paint is of varied shades designed to bring out the shadows as well as the rock's natural coloring.

Work on the cross that is carried by Christ during the Way of Tears was first done by a Burton Lingo Co. employe who cut the pieces with an amazing dexterity. Hood, Airman Lou Strickland, and pageant director Dewey Magee are now busily carving the surface of the cross to give it the hand-hewn look. The cross, incidentally, is of redwood, which closely resembles the wood of the cedars of Lebanon.

Sidelights: Hugh MacCauley, who portrays Peter, is becoming famous in his home town. The "Northern Constitution" newspaper published in Coleraine, County Londonderry, Northern Ireland, has asked for a story and pictures of the hometown boy who is making good in Big Spring (Texas) theatre work. The Evening Lions Club, which has worked on many occasions with the Civic Theatre, will usher and direct parking at the Amphitheatre, while city police are directing traffic into City Park for the Easter Pageant. Spectators who enter the park through the east gate will park in the east side area near the Amphitheatre; those who enter through the west gate will park in the west side parking lot.

How many people will the Amphitheatre hold? Estimates range from 6,500 to 10,000. But a little investigation shows that only 6,500 to 8,500 may be seated comfortably, whereas upwards of 10,000 may be seated if the spectators don't mind the crowding. Keeping the Amphitheatre clean until Sunday morning is quite a job, and it will be necessary to post a guard all Saturday night, to guard theatre property as well as keep vandals from littering the area with broken bottles and beer cans.

Ikard A Strong Proponent Of Small Business

By TEX FASLEY
WASHINGTON (AP)—During his college days Rep. Frank Ikard (D-Tex) drove an ambulance for the combination furniture store-funer- al parlor his uncle owned in Hen- rietta. That experience, along with other jobs before getting his law degree at the University of Texas in 1937, convinced him that small business enterprises are the backbone of American economy. As Texas' representative on the powerful House Ways and Means Committee, he is an ardent champion of small businesses during consideration of tax legislation. The committee has heard many witnesses on tax cutting proposals. And Ikard has gone on the House floor to tell colleagues that small businesses are at a disadvantage in relation to the big industrial and manufacturing concerns. When the small businessman gets hardpressed or needs capital to expand and meet competition, the Texan declared, he has to go to the bank and hope he can meet the collateral requirements for a loan. The giant business concerns, on the other hand, can sell stock. "In my opinion," Ikard told the House, "the hearings demonstrated beyond the shadow of a doubt, small and medium sized businesses need tax adjustment—not in their interests alone, but in the interest of the general public as well."

Replacing wornout equipment, construction improvements and increase in working capital seem to be the basic need. "Business in this category cannot generally acquire additional equity capital on the open market through the issuance of stock," he proposes some changes in the tax laws which would be especially to the benefit of smaller enterprises.

Rock-n-Roll Diet Harms Teen-Agers

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A rock 'n' roll diet is making an under-nourished race out of millions of teen-agers, says the president of the New Jersey Farm Bureau. Herbert W. Voorhees told a Rotary Club meeting that soda pop, "hot dogs and soggy potato chips continue to be the favorite lunch-eon among millions of high school crowd."

Voorhees, a member of President Eisenhower's Citizens Advisory Committee on the Fitness of American Youth, added: "It's no wonder we find our boys making poor showings in physical exams for Army service and scores of our teen-age mothers seriously affected with childbirth complications because of malnutrition."

Oil Industry Trouble Means Many Workers Out Of Jobs

By ED OVERHOLSER
Associated Press Staff

The trouble in which the oil industry in Texas finds itself means many workers out of jobs, an Associated Press survey showed Thursday. Employment in crude oil production, refining and pipelines Feb. 28 was down 2,900 from a year ago and by more than 10,000 from the peak summer months. The February total of employed was 1,200 higher than two years ago, bolstered by increases in refining.

The biggest job decline between 1957 and 1958 was in production, which includes drilling. The total employed this year was 120,200, while a year ago it was 123,800. Refinery employment increased from 48,000 a year ago to 48,900 this year. Pipeline employment was relatively stable at 9,200.

"There certainly is no incentive to drilling new wells when you can't sell the oil from the ones you've already produced," said J. U. Teague of Houston, president of the American Assn. of Oilwell Drilling Contractors. The decline in oil production has lessened the amount of money in circulation, and as one member of Gov. Price Daniel's staff put it: "We can't say for sure that low oil production in Texas has caused a grocery store clerk in West Texas to lose his job but it sure hasn't helped."

A&M Prof Takes Post At SMU

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Dr. Walter DeLaplaine, dean of arts and sciences at Texas A&M, has resigned to assume a similar position at SMU, the president of Texas A&M said today. Dr. DeLaplaine will take up his new duties July 1. "It is with sincere regret that I accept Dean DeLaplaine's resignation," M. T. Harrington, A&M president, said. "He has filled the position of dean of arts and sciences here in a most acceptable manner. We will miss him as a member of our faculty. I wish Dean DeLaplaine every success in his new position and am glad to know that he will remain in a Texas institution." DeLaplaine became a member of the A&M faculty in 1948, when he was named head of the department of economics. He was named dean of arts and sciences in 1953.

ly bringing their payrolls down by not hiring new men when present employes quit. He said one of the largest oil companies had recently dropped its retirement age from 65 to 55. Acers also said he found an "air of extreme caution" when making inquiries on employment plans in the industry. Daniel recently told a congressional committee he was certain "that continually increasing foreign oil imports throughout the last five years have contributed toward unemployment, decreased buying power, loss of tax resources and general decline of business more than any other factor in the oil producing states."

"The present situation," Daniel said, "discourages exploration for new reserves. Who wants to take the risk to find a well which can be produced only nine days per month? No one can afford to risk a million dollars wildcatting for new oil fields if he cannot expect to produce at a rate necessary to return the cost of his investment."

Wildcat drilling last year dropped 9.8 per cent while the total of new wells was 8.7 per cent below 1956. The nation used more oil than it found last year for the first time since the 1943 war year. "It can safely be assumed that the reserves which are not found because of reduced production and exploration are greater in quantity than the oil that is saved by not producing it," said Olin Culberson, Railroad Commission chairman. Referring to the increase in refinery workers and the decrease in production employes, Acers said "This evidence is conclusive to me—that oil imports are the cause."

Carl Mattern, director of the Oil Workers Union, said "The manufacturing and transportation end of the oil industry is holding it was, if not proof, at least an indication a "revolution" in campus housing had taken effect. This is the first year at Rice in which the college system of housing students has been in effect. It's a system that goes back to the University of Paris and is best illustrated today at Oxford and Cambridge Universities in England. Under the housing system at Rice 200 to 250 students live in a dormitory to which a professor and his family and two other teachers have been assigned. The professor lives in a house adjacent to the dormitory and, as far as possible, makes himself a part of each student's college life. The two other faculty members live in the dormitory with the students and make themselves available for tutoring on an informal basis and for chats with the students.

fairly stable, although there have been some layoffs. "Some of the majors are whacking to the bone and some others are trying to hold their working force, awaiting for an upturn," he said.
