That Wonderful Feeling Of Spring

You're bound to catch something besides spring fever if you fish around Thursday, as Ray Box happily demonstrates. Ray, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Box, whipped his willow pole out a few times, and in each instance landed a handsome size 7-plus straw. There's nothing that will help you to live up to that wonderful feeling of spring like landing a light, bright straw hat for yourself Thursday, Straw Hat Day. Get a couple and you can lean back and live it up like Ray. (Photo Keith McMillin).

Annexation Of McDonald Land Promised By City Commission

After trying for over six weeks, Cecil McDonald Tuesday night got an oral agreement from the City Commission that the Douglas Subdivision southwest of town will be annexed in the near future. McDonald had told the commission for several weeks he desired to develop the property and wanted it in the city so he could build a better-type house. And Tuesday night, the commission voted to start proceedings which would ultimately lead to annexation of the subdivision, in addition to the city park and other tracts in the area.

Dust Cuts Visibility To 2.5 Miles

Strong winds which the U. S. Weather Bureau forecast for Tuesday night ran about eight hours behind schedule and arrived in midmorning Wednesday. They made up for their belated arrival, however, by their violence and persistence. Raging in from the west-southwest, the winds whipped up dust and obscured the countryside. Webb Air Force Base said that visibility was cut to 2.5 miles at 11 a.m.

Ike Sees End To Recession In U. S.

Strip And Push A Button; Your Figure's As You Like It

By EDDY GILMORE BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Forty-two years from now a woman will be able to alter her measurements by stripping off her clothes and pushing a button. This exciting thought—eliminating dieting and reducing—is being put forward at the 1958 World's Fair as a sure thing for the year 2000.

million-dollar exhibit devoted to improving woman's face and figure. "Under the action of isotopes—whose formula is a close secret," said Susan, "milady can change her figure to fit her own requirements—or those of her husband." There are three stages to this beautifier of the future, and they look as weird as something from Mars.

Warns Against Hysteria Over The 'Slump'

Eisenhower told a news conference he is not attempting to be Pollyannish about the recession and contend that everything is lovely.

Improvements On U.S. 87 In Glasscock Set

None of the 27 major road projects announced on Tuesday by the Texas Highway Commission is allocated to Howard County and the nearest of the jobs to this county is a $18,500 improvement program on U. Cost Of Living Hits New High WASHINGTON (AP)—Soaring food prices sent the government living cost index up seven-tenths of one per cent in March to a new record high. It was the largest monthly advance since July, 1956, and was attributable principally to higher food costs, which also reached a new peak level.

per cent, and egg prices jumped 11.3 per cent. Fresh vegetables alone were higher by 12 per cent from February to March. Adverse growing conditions, since December continued to curtail supplies. Clague said he finds some comfort in price cuts in March for such things as coffee, carrots and bananas.

Maupin of Sweetwater, Tenn., in Hill County, Texas.

NOTHING LOST BUT A BIT OF COMPOSURE

Swirling winds posed a special problem for an unidentified office girl on the Permian Building corner this morning. She solved it—eventually—with the help of a policeman. The problem: How to retain possession of an armful of paperwork and at the same time keep a few layers of petticoats somewhat lower than the waistline.

As the young woman turned the corner with the load of papers, a gust of wind wrapped her skirt and petticoats around her face. They stayed there. Her first move was to assume a sitting position on the sidewalk, back to the Permian Building. Then she plopped the stack of papers on the sidewalk, holding them securely with one hand. With the other hand she attempted to retrieve the skirts, which extended like petals on a rose around the higher elevations.

Texas Enjoys Lowest Traffic Death Rate In Its History

AUSTIN (AP)—Final figures show Texas last year had its lowest traffic death rate in history, the Department of Public Safety said today. This was reported as Gov. Price Daniel went on the air and through the press to urge a "do-it-yourself" traffic safety crusade. His broadcast was beamed to meetings of local officials in each of Texas' 254 counties.

try to save one life through traffic safety efforts the rest of 1958. A saving of 254 lives would mean 10 per cent fewer deaths than the 1957 toll. The governor specifically asked: 1. Cooperation of all state officials having traffic safety and law enforcement responsibilities. 2. Organization of county and city traffic safety councils. 3. An educational campaign for greater public awareness and cooperation in safe driving and observance of traffic laws. 4. Engineering improvements on hazardous highways. 5. More rigid enforcement and certainty of punishment for violations of traffic laws, especially those which relate to speeding and driving while intoxicated.

'Feelies' Fail To Impress The Film Audience

By JAMES BACON
HOLLYWOOD — First the flickies, then the talkies and now the feelies.
Moviegoers got a preview look yesterday at a demonstration reel of the first feelie—or subliminal perception—movie.
It's an audience participation sort of thing, but it won't raise blood pressure until they perfect it so males smack their lips after a Marilyn Monroe kiss.
Feelies utilize subliminal perception, sometimes called secret pitch, a hard sell where symbols—or advertising messages—are flashed on the screen so fast that the eye can't see them. But the subconscious gets the message.
One theater owner has flashed a "buy popcorn" message over Kim Novak's face.
But the producers of "My World Dies Screaming" argue that they are using SP only for dramatic effect.
Here's how it works: Gerald Mohr, the heavy, gets a snake superimposed on his face. That means he's evil. The old gaslight theater used to put a greasy smudge on the villain for the same effect.
Cathy O'Donnell, the heroine, looks at Mohr and a heart is used as the SP symbol. That means she loves him.
It had to be explained to me later: I thought she was scared to death of him.
Then when the suspense mounts, the screen is one flash after another, a skull, the words "death" and "blood." These means that he is going to kill her.
I had gotten the message earlier because he had his hands around her throat pressing on the windpipe.
Perhaps it's unfair to judge a movie on one demonstration reel, shown first with SP hidden and repeated with the symbols showing.
But I felt that Alfred Hitchcock creates more suspense with conscious tricks than SP does with unconscious. The play's still the thing.

Declares Tests Must Continue
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. — Nuclear tests must continue regardless of the probability of radiation damage to a few individuals, says an official of the Atomic Energy Commission.
Dr. C. W. Schilling, deputy director of the commission's Division of Biology and Medicine, said such testing represents a calculated risk.
He told a meeting of the Industrial Medical Assn.: "We must gamble with the probability of radiation damage to a few individuals in order to secure the survival of the total society."
Dr. Schilling said tests of atomic weapons must continue "not only to study their characteristics, but also, and perhaps more importantly, to study ways and means of protecting populations from their effects, should they ever be used in warfare."

Damage Suit Filed In Stompanato Death

LOS ANGELES — A $750,000 damage suit, has been filed against Lana Turner, her daughter and her former husband over the slaying of her boy friend Johnny Stompanato.
The action was filed yesterday on behalf of Stompanato's 10-year-old son John III of Hammond, Ind. He lives with his mother Sarah Ibrahim, first of Stompanato's three wives.
Stompanato was stabbed in the abdomen in Lana's Beverly Hills home April 4. The actress' daughter Cheryl Crane, 14, told police she did it to protect her mother from Stompanato's threats of harm.
The damage suit alleges that because of Stompanato's death the son was "deprived of his (father's) financial help, services, assistance, society, comfort, companionship, protection and support."
The suit charged that Lana and Cheryl's father, Steve Crane "failed, neglected and refused to exercise adequate guidance, proper or sufficient control" over the girl.
Other allegations were that Stompanato was lying down when stabbed, not advancing as Lana and Cheryl told police; that Lana and Cheryl committed assault and battery on Stompanato; that Lana was negligent in that she did not attempt to dissuade Cheryl from stabbing him; and that she falsely advised Cheryl that Stompanato had threatened her.
A coroner's jury held that the slaying was justifiable homicide. A juvenile court hearing is to be held tomorrow to determine what is to be done with Cheryl, who has been in custody since the killing.

British Liberal Party Showing Signs Of Rebirth

By TOM OCHILTREE
LONDON — The old British Liberal party, apparently gasping to a lingering death for the past 30 years, suddenly seems to be alive and kicking—and growing too.
Around the party's Victorian-style London headquarters—where volunteer-workers have long sustained faith with endless cups of tea—Liberals feel sure they are on the revival road at last.
Admittedly, they have a long way to go.
The cause for crowing is an upset victory in a special election—the Liberals' first since 1929—to fill a House of Commons vacancy from Torrington constituency.
Mark Bonham Carter, once an elegant escort of Princess Margaret, swept the seat from the Conservatives. He's now the sixth member of the party's tiny band in the 630-member House.
A small crowing point, to be sure, and doubters are legion.
Many neutral observers believe they are witnessing, not the resurrection of a once powerful party, but a political mirage. However, they're not so sure as they were a month ago.
Even stiff upper lips fail to conceal mounting concern at the headquarters of Britain's political giants, the Conservative and Labor parties.
If the party of William Gladstone and David Lloyd George is indeed making a comeback, the implications seem clear.
Unless the Liberals and Conservatives make a deal to work together, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's Conservative government stands only a slim chance of winning a new five-year term of office in the general election expected 18 months from now.
A Labor victory is a distinct possibility even without Liberal resurrection. The Liberals have taken votes away from both the other parties but they have picked up three times more Conservative than Labor votes.

Oil Well Fire Under Control

DENISON — An oil well fire on the Oklahoma side of Lake

Texoma, 3 miles southeast of Willis, was brought under control yesterday after raging for 6 hours.
Bill Upchurch, Dowell Chemical official, estimated the damage at more than $600,000.
He said 3 equipment trucks that burned were valued at $112,000 each.
A high-pressure hose broke as workmen were attempting to fill the well—Shell's Quinton Little No. 1—and a spark set off the blaze.

Deported Finn To Return To U.S., Faces Another Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials cleared the way today for William Heikkila to return home. They conceded they acted too hastily in deporting him to Finland but vowed they will continue their 11-year fight to deport him on charges he was once a member of the Communist party.

Immigration Commissioner Joseph M. Swing authorized Heikkila's return at U.S. expense yesterday on grounds of a technical error.

Abilene Gets New Hospital

ABILENE (AP)—A new six-story, 100-bed addition to Hendrick Memorial Hospital was announced last night by George S. Anderson. Anderson said he is giving the building, estimated to cost $300,000, in memory of his late wife. It will be called the Minnie L. Anderson building.

Anderson is president of Abilene Printing and Stationery Co. and chairman of the board of the Reporter Publishing Co., which publishes the Abilene Reporter-News. He also is chairman of the board of the First National Bank. Anderson and his wife were long-time benefactors of the hospital. He has been board chairman since the hospital opened in 1924 and was selected chairman again last night for the 35th time. Work on the addition is to start within a year.

Swing acted a few hours after Heikkila arrived in Helsinki in the midst of a sleet storm. The 52-year-old draftsman contended he had been kidnapped by U.S. immigration agents.

Heikkila was grabbed by agents as he emerged from his San Francisco office Friday and whisked off to Finland by way of Vancouver, B.C., and the Netherlands.

Informed of Swing's decision, Heikkila said he would return home at once. "I have only one desire in my heart—to return to my home and wife."

Heikkila was born in Finland while his parents, naturalized Americans of Finnish birth, were visiting their homeland. He was brought to this country when he was 2½ months old but he never was naturalized himself.

"For many years I have applied for American citizenship but it has not been granted," he told newspapermen in Helsinki. As for the Communist charge, he said: "Sure, I was a Communist in 1929 to 1939 in Minnesota. But from the time I left there for San Francisco I have had nothing to do with politics. I have not had the time. I have just been working. I am a Democrat."

In authorizing Heikkila's return, Princess Margaret was worried when told her Canadian tour this July will include a trip under Niagara Falls.

But then it was explained to her that going under the falls is quite safe, the princess told reporters yesterday. One of them recalled that her sister, Queen Elizabeth II, and her parents had made trips under the falls.

The 27-year-old princess wore a short blue and white afternoon dress in citrus paper taffeta at a meeting with some 200 reporters here for the inauguration of the new West Indies Federation Parliament. She formally opened the Parliament earlier yesterday.

Last night she attended a state dinner for representatives of the 10 Caribbean island colonies forming the new federation.

Swing said after studying the case "I have come to the conclusion that an error in judgment was made in not returning Heikkila from Vancouver, B.C., last Sunday."

At that time, a Federal District Court Judge in San Francisco had issued an order to block the deportation. Swing said Heikkila "although legally deported from the United States, was still in the custody of immigration officers."

He said he was confident "those concerned acted in good faith" but that he was directing Heikkila be permitted to return to guard against possible contempt of court action against San Francisco immigration agents.

In San Francisco, Heikkila's attorney, Lloyd McMurray, said Swing's decision "shows that immigration authorities realize they cannot take the law into their own hands." He said he would ask that Bruce Barber, immigration director there, be held in contempt of court.

Texas Infant Found Slain

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—An infant disappeared from her crib yesterday, was found unconscious a few doors away and died shortly after being rushed to a hospital. She was Sandra Carrick, daughter of Personnelman David Carrick of the Kingsville Auxiliary Naval Air Station and Mrs. Carrick.

Peace Justice Tom Simons said the baby's head was badly beaten. He said a full report was expected later.

Police Chief B. D. Condon quoted the mother as saying she checked the infant, five weeks old, then went into the back yard to get the washing. When she returned, she said, the baby was missing. She said she was gone about 15 minutes.

Mrs. Carrick called police and the Naval Air Station housing development was searched.

Diana Smith, 9, found the baby lying in shrubbery at the corner of another apartment building, about 100 yards from the Carrick home.

The infant was naked and its body bore scratches.

The Carricks have one other daughter, Jane, 3.

U.N. Tells Israel To Withdraw Troops

JERUSALEM (AP)—The U.N. Mixed Armistice Commission today told Israel to withdraw from Jerusalem 900 of the troops she had brought in for a parade celebrating the Jewish nation's 10th anniversary.

The Jordan-Israeli commission adopted a Jordanian resolution also calling on Israel to pull out 80 tanks and 36 artillery pieces assembled for the birthday celebration tomorrow.

There was no immediate indication whether Israel would comply. Jordan based her demands on the 1949 armistice agreement, which bars armored equipment from a zone six miles back from each side of the armistice line. It also limits Israeli and Jordanian troops in the entire sector to 1,600 each.

Israel had conceded that the size of the parade force was greater than the agreement allowed, but contended no violation was involved since the extras would be pulled out as soon as the march ended.

Israel's birthday eve was further clouded by an Israeli-Jordanian clash in the disputed Gulf of Aqaba.

One Israeli fisherman was found dead and another was missing after the shooting yesterday, which touched off an exchange of charges between the two governments.

An Israeli army spokesman said the fishermen were fired on by a vessel which came out of Jordan's Aqaba Harbor as they tried to retrieve another boat that had been swept from its mooring in the neighboring Israeli port of Eilat. An Israeli navy launch went to the aid of the fishermen, the spokesman added.

Jordan claimed the armed Israeli launch entered Jordanian waters and fired on one of her Coast Guard vessels. She said Jordanian guns drove off the launch and two other Israeli vessels that tried to get in the fray.

Cattleman Wants Economics Text With Cookbook

DENVER (AP)—An American Cattleman's Assn. official said yesterday "a course in basic economics should go along with every cookbook."

The organization's executive secretary, Radford Hall, said cattle men, struggling out of five years of drought and depressed prices, have been surprised at the home-maker's lack of knowledge of food price factors.

"Beef is as seasonal as cucumbers—you don't make it in a machine," Hall said. "The law of supply and demand works rapidly and effectively in the beef industry. Fluctuations of supply are quickly reflected to the consumer, who, through her demand, dictates the final prices."

Hall said live cattle and beef prices reached an unusual peak late in March and early in April when cattle dropped below the usual spring level. However, he said, increased supplies now are moving to market and both wholesale and retail prices have reflected the trend. Hall predicted generous supplies of beef through the summer.

Cat-Loving Widow Finds Profession As Kitty Sitter

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Mrs. F. X. Ritchie, a white-haired little widow, is a kitty sitter.

"Yes sir, I've raised and loved cats ever since I was a little girl, and that's been a long time ago," she said. "And cats love me. When I was a youngster, we lived in St. Louis and we had 17 cats at one time, most of them strays."

"Now I didn't ever plan to become a kitty sitter. One day I met my friend, Mrs. Jane Connard, on the street. She's a buyer for a department store and goes East to market four times a year. The day I met her she was all upset over having to leave her two black cats when she went to New York again."

"It always frightened the cats to be carried out of the house to a pet boarding house."

"Jane said, 'Now, why couldn't you come and stay with Cookie and Pidge in my apartment? That started my kitty sitting career.'"

Female Sitdown Strike Continues

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—Sixty women sitdown strikers, in evident high spirits, carried their protest work stoppage into a third day at M. & F. Worsted Co. today.

Some said they would hold if it takes till Mother's Day.

The women, ranging in age from 28 to 68, were fortified by food and coffee that moved into the mill in a steady stream last night.

Efforts by Edward P. McEntee, business agent for the Textile Workers Union, to get them to end their unauthorized strike were fruitless.

Other departments of the mill continued to operate but the sitdowners said if their strike went on it would bring operations to a halt Friday. The firm employs 300. Their objection was to increase work loads and possible layoffs.

Van Cliburn Stuck With Dream Of Concert Career

By WINSTON GARDNER
Editor, Kilgore News-Herald
Written for the Associated Press
KILGORE (AP)—When Van Cliburn, winner of the Tchaikovsky international piano competition at Moscow, was just a little fellow, tired from practice, his father often asked him if he didn't want to change his career.

His reply usually was: "Daddy, don't talk that way. I want to be a concert pianist."

That in a nutshell describes the determination and dedication to music that has brought the tall, slender Kilgore youth to the "top of the heap" in the concert piano field, with music managers of the United States and Europe clamoring for his services.

Looking back over his son's experiences, Harvey Cliburn said that Van's career would "make a wonderful story for young people—he set his course, stuck to it and never wavered."

Even before the showers of acclaim broke over the gangling youth's head for his Moscow feat, he was a nationally-recognized pianist of high reputation among those who know music best.

He had started banging the piano at the age of three, and in that year made his first public appearance — at Dodd College in Shreveport. When he was eight, he played 15 compositions at the national piano playing auditions in Fort Worth, receiving a "superior" rating on all numbers from the eminent pianist and teacher of New York, Dorothy Kendricks. Before that he had played with the Houston Symphony Orchestra.

He won a statewide contest at 12, studied in the summer at Juilliard at 13, and won another state contest in the same year. He went on to win other and more important contests — The G. B. Dealey Memorial Award in 1952, the Olga Samarov-Stowski Foundation grant in 1953. He has never lost a contest.

He became a full-time Juilliard student in 1951. "Before Moscow," he had appeared as soloist at 12 or 15 of the leading symphony orchestras in the nation, and had returned engagements with many.

It was considerable recognition in itself to be chosen for the Moscow competition, by a committee of leading American musicians. He was chosen unanimously to be the American representative.

Now widely sought, people are asking: "What kind of boy is this Van Cliburn?"

Almost anyone in Kilgore can tell you.

He's a tall Texan—6-4—genial, with an extroverted, warm type of personality and a sense of humor. His personality is like that of thousands of Texas boys but he is different from most in one major respect — he has a great gift for playing the piano and he has spent practically all of his life doing just that.

When he strides out on a concert stage his poised, friendly and relaxed demeanor nearly always has the audience going his way.

Several years ago while performing with a symphony orchestra at an important concert, one of the foot pedals of the piano fell off. The conductor was horrified and members of the orchestra were ready to flee. While everyone was wondering what to do about the crisis, Van calmly reached down, put the pedal back on and continued playing.

His mother, a teacher of piano, was a pupil of Arthur Friedheim of New York, who was a pupil of Franz Liszt, the composer. She wanted to go on the concert stage and had many offers to do so, but her mother preferred that she enter the teaching field.

His father is a 32-year veteran of Magnolia Petroleum Co. He is crude oil purchaser and sales representative for the company in the Eastern Division, which includes part of Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama.

Van Cliburn, in addition to his own dedication to his career, has had careful planning and direction from his parents.

The three have always been very close. While he was growing up his greatest reward for continued hard practice was "eating out" with his parents and going to movies with them.

These were his principal hobbies, his father said. Cliburn recalled that he once bought Van skates and a bicycle, but when they were given away at a later date, they were practically unused.

Van went through high school at Kilgore and was a good student, always planning his educational program to fit in with his musical career.

Following the example set by his parents, he is a devout church member and a tither. He has given his own church — the Calvary Baptist Church in New York — a Steinway grand piano.

All of his life he has given freely of his talent, performing anywhere, anytime.

As his father says, "he has a great faith in the One who has given him his talent." In April, 1948, after he had presented a concert for the Kilgore Music Club, at the age of 13, his mother said: "The source of his talent is God."

Blustery Weather Hits Western Areas

Blustery weather, with snow, rain and strong winds hit Western sections of the country today. It looked and felt like winter in parts of the Rockies, with snow and freezing temperatures. The storm, which developed over the Rockies, dumped 2½ feet of snow on Red Lodge, in southern Montana. Freezing weather, with rain and snow, was reported in wide parts of the state.

The storm belt extended over the Rockies and from Texas to the Canadian border.

Rain and thunderstorms developed in the Central Plains and eastward into Missouri. Strong winds lashed much of the Plains and the southern Plateau and southern Rockies.

Carpets Keep New Look

With proper care wall to wall carpeting will retain the new look. Correct cleaning methods have seemingly been a mystery and controversial even to carpet manufacturers. After much research a product is on the market that cleans and fluffs up beat down carpet paths plus removal of spots thereby maintaining the new look. The textile engineer of a large carpet mill says—"It's the best we've found."

The product is Blue Lustré. It is easily applied with a long handle brush. One half gallon of Blue Lustré concentrate cleans three 9 x 12 rugs.

NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary of Dulles, addressing a dinner of the Military Chaplains' Assn. last night, said: "We must not seek that scientific education and scientific applications monopolize the minds of our youth, as though other values did not matter."

"We must not accept the quantity of consumers' goods — automobiles, washing machines, refrigerators, radios and the like — to be the decisive measure of our society, as though its spiritual content were unimportant."

Dulles said Americans would have to embrace "the very thing we hate" if they sought to compete with the Soviet Union "under the rules the challenger lays down."

Water Problems Are Likened To Family Finances

DALLAS (AP)—Much of Texas, especially the High Plains, has water problems similar to family finance, the chairman of the Texas Water Development Board said yesterday.

"They have an underground water bank, and withdrawals are going along much too fast for the deposits," Marvin Nichols of Fort Worth added. He addressed the American Water Works Assn. convention.

"There are 25,000 water wells in the High Plains, removing 5 million acre feet each year. By the year 2000, if the rainfall there stays light as normal, there'll be very big problems," Nichols continued.

For Texas generally, Nichols said "I don't see any great difficulty with sufficient planning."

"Water will be scarce, but if the water bank deposits in dry areas are conserved, the problem won't be overwhelming."

Nichols said the need for closer governmental control of projects on the state level will increase with area water problems.

New Birth Control Method Has Approval Of Theologians

By RENNIE TAYLOR
Associated Press Science Reporter

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A new birth control method, said by its sponsor to have the approval of leading Catholic Church officials, was described here today in a medical movie.

The procedure does not interfere directly with the reproductive process. It simply warns a couple when to abstain from sex relations if they do not want a child and when to indulge if they do want a baby.

It is based on a simple color test which shows the woman's ovulation time — the period during which an egg comes into position for fertilization. But behind it is a graphic piece of research showing how the egg escapes from the ovary and how it may stay near the womb until picked up by an ovarian tube to await fertilization by the male sperm to start a human life.

The odyssey of the egg was shown in a color film by Dr. Joseph Bernard Doyle, of Tufts University, Boston, before the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists. It was the film's premiere.

Dr. Doyle, a Catholic, is director of the fertility clinic at St. Elizabeth's Hospital and a research associate at St. Margaret's Maternity Center, both in Boston.

Dr. Doyle told reporters the new color test method has the approval of Archbishop Richard J. Cushing of Boston; The Rev. John C. Ford, professor of moral theology at Boston College; and the Rev. Gerald Kelly of St. Mary's College, St. Mary's, Kan.

The scientific facts behind the test are not new. Researchers previously determined that when an egg is released from an ovary it is a free agent having no connection with a blood vessel to obtain food. It has to get its nourishment in its surroundings, which are the secretions in the area of the womb.

Dr. Charles Birnberg, a Brooklyn researcher, found that the secretions contain sugar to feed the egg, and that the sugar is there only when the egg is present.

Dr. Doyle's film shows the action of a woman's reproductive organs. It was taken while she was undergoing surgery. It shows the ovarian tubes extending their ends downward to the area of the cervix or mouth of the womb. They function like suction hoses. They pick up the live egg and hold it until it either dies or becomes fertilized by a male sperm moving upward through the womb, then out into the tube through the tube's connection with the back portion of the womb.

The egg can live only 24 hours or so after it leaves the ovary, and only about 12 hours in the tube, Dr. Doyle said. If it dies, the sugar in the secretions disappears.

To test for the presence of sugar a small piece of commercially prepared tape on a stick or tampon is held against the mouth of the womb for five minutes, then withdrawn. If sugar is present, the tape turns green; if not, the tape remains a pale yellow or turns only very slightly green.

Stop Laughing; You're Just In A State Of Mind

DETROIT (AP) — Ticklishness largely is a state of mind. What tickles today might not tomorrow.

So runs the conclusion of two experts on the subject—Dr. John S. Meyer, chairman of neurology at Wayne State University's Medical School, and Dr. Clyde B. Simpson, chief of child psychiatry at Lafayette Clinic.

They delved into the mechanics of tickling and came up with some interesting answers.

"We think ticklishness is a composite of several emotional feelings," Dr. Simpson told interviewers. "There's a good bit of affection and hostility in it."

The skin is important in expressing a gamut of emotions, Dr. Meyer said, explaining thus: "The tickling sensation requires an intact nerve system. It is an individual reaction to repetitive light stimulation of areas where usually the nerve endings are close together, as the soles of the feet, also in areas usually protected against injury, such as the ribs."

The stimulus is transferred to the brain, where it is interpreted as a tickle or a blow, he added.

Some stolid or older persons are not ticklish at all, and Dr. Meyer said seriousness reduces ticklishness.

The doctors said it remains to be proved whether women are more ticklish than men. Women are more likely to giggle when tickled, they said, but this probably comes about because men are stronger physically.

The doctors also agreed that the general subject of men versus women is — ticklish.

Doesn't Dislike Colleagues; Just Wants Them To Resign

BELTON Mo. (AP) — Mrs. Tillie Quick said today she hates to take issue with her friends but duty demands it.

Mrs. Quick, a 49-year-old housewife, is the first woman member of Belton's City Council. At her first Council meeting, she demanded that Mayor William V. Powell, Alderman Fred Folk, and J. Maurice Robe, superintendent of public works, resign.

She said the three officials had been doing business with the city (pop. 1,233). In Missouri, that's illegal.

"I don't have a thing against the mayor and the others," Mrs. Quick said today. "They've been my friends and I would like for them to remain my friends. I hope they will be—when this is all over."

"But I just had to set a few things straight. It seems to me that there's some skeletons which need to be dragged out of the Belton closet... and there's no better time than the present."

Mrs. Quick said she has written to Missouri Atty. Gen. John M. Dalton to find out how to get a state investigation of her three friends.

Mayor Powell, Alderman Polk and Robe said they have no intention of resigning. Powell admitted Mrs. Quick's charges, but said he acted in the city's interest.

Powell, a contractor, said he collected $1,889.81 for repairing City Hall but only after the city failed to get any bids on the work.

Folk, an implement dealer, was accused of selling machinery parts to the city. He has remained silent. But Powell said the Council bought the parts from Folk because his prices were lower than those of other dealers.

Robe flatly denied Mrs. Quick's charge that he wrote a $70,000 insurance policy on City Hall and the city sewage disposal plant. In the first place, said Robe, the policy is for $144,000. In the second place his brother J. T. Robe wrote it.

Mrs. Quick, a native of Belton, won the Council seat in her first political race. She defeated Jack C. Dryden by 32 votes April 1.

What moved her to seek public office?

She said Police Chief John Blum gave her a ticket for illegal parking. Furthermore, he was discourteous, she said.

"I was peeved partly because I got that ticket (cost: $1.50) and partly because some friends of mine had got fined $1.50 for not getting their city stickers on their windshields right away," she explained.

"So I made up my mind I was going to run for alderman and if I got elected I was going to put a stop to this thing of having our good citizens pushed around."

Fourth Victim In Gunfight Dies

DANA POINT, Calif. (AP) — Fourteen-year-old Charles Allyn Seyfert died last night in a hospital, the fourth victim of a gunfight in which his father, younger brother and a deputy sheriff were killed.

Charles was wounded when he joined his brother Tommy, 10, and his father Charles Seyfert, 39, of Tucson, Ariz., in the battle with two sheriff's deputies Monday night.

Police said Charles fired the shots that killed Deputy Robert L. Schultz, 37, Deputy Edward Gene Johnson, also wounded, was reported improving today after surgery.

Charles was shot by Schultz as he fell wounded.

An autopsy disclosed that the father and Tommy died of .22-caliber bullet wounds. The deputies' guns were .38 caliber.

Sheriff's Lt. Clarence A. Double said: "It looks like Seyfert killed the boy, then turned the gun on himself."

The gunfire broke out when deputies stopped a ramshackle bus driven by Seyfert. A relative of Mrs. Seyfert had relayed to officers her warning that Seyfert was "all mixed up."

They'll Fly, Too

A.I.C. Arthur J. Galleg holds one of the gas-powered flying models he'll display during the Armed Forces Day program May 17. Galleg owns several of the flying models. Mrs. Galleg and the couple's son, David, also enjoy the hobby of model flying.

Model Plane Show Planned For Armed Forces Program

One of the features of Armed Forces Day May 17 will be a model airplane exhibition and display. Although there is no authorized American Model Airplane Club in Big Spring, it is hoped that a flying model contest can be arranged.

There are many model aircraft enthusiasts in Big Spring, both young and old, and anyone interested in displaying or flying one or more of his models is urged to call AM 4-2511, Ext. 317.

Areas will be roped off on the concrete parking apron at Webb and junior birdmen and dads will be given a chance to show their stuff with line controlled models, free flight (powered), hand launched gliders and radio controlled models. Whether or not the radio controlled models will be flown depends on the interference from electronic equipment in constant operation at Webb, such as the control tower and other radio aids to aircraft flight.

Airman Arthur J. Gallob, of the 3561st Flight Line Maintenance Squadron, himself an enthusiastic model builder, has agreed to check the possibilities of radio interference. According to Airman Gallob, such interference could cause the model pilot to lose control of his aircraft with possible loss or danger to the expensive equipment.

In the event that the contest planned cannot be put on a competitive basis, Airman Gallob will fly and display many of his 25 model airplanes. Others will be given a chance to demonstrate their flying skill and craftsmanship.

Webb Air Force Base always draws a huge crowd from the surrounding areas on Armed Forces Day and the flying model exhibition is expected to be an outstanding event.

New Traffic Rules Okayed

AUSTIN —The Highway Commission adopted new rules yesterday for the safe movement of Texas traffic.

New statewide policy was set by Commission Chairman Marshall Formby and members Herbert Pety Jr. and Charles Hawn on traffic channelization and on public parking on highway right of way.

"Stopping and turning on highways at side roads and entrances causes many accidents," Formby said.

"By channelizing traffic, we add to the safety of our highways. Now, when we build a new road, or reconstruct a new one, we are going to incorporate this proven safety feature—channelization."

"Driveways will be for the bona fide purpose of access to property and will be for parking or serving vehicles on highway right of way. Location of the driveways will be selected so as to provide maximum safety for highway traffic and for users of the driveway."

FBI Chief Reports Upswing In Crime By Young Toughs

WASHINGTON — A sharp rise in lawbreaking among young toughs was reported by the FBI today with the release of figures showing youths accounted for 47.2 per cent of major crime arrests last year.

The report, bearing out fears voiced by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover against an upsurge in juvenile-committed crime, said the crime rate among persons under 18 has increased 55 per cent since 1952.

Hoover long has advocated a "get tough" policy toward youthful criminals, whom he distinguishes from simple juvenile delinquents.

The increase in youthful crime over 1956 was 9.3 per cent. This corresponded closely with the over-all 9.1 per cent rise in major crime among all age groups. The FBI said its reports from the nation's local law enforcement agencies indicated a 1957 total of 2,796,400 major crimes. This represented a 23.9 per cent rise over the average for the past five years.

The report showed a major crime was committed in the United States once every 11.3 seconds in 1957. A murder, manslaughter, rape or assault to kill was committed every 3.9 minutes.

And, pointing up the growth of criminal activities, the FBI said there was one major crime for every 61 persons living in the United States last year.

A total of 12,660 persons died by violent means. There were 121,190 rapes and assaults; 61,140 robberies and 590,020 burglaries. Nearly half a billion dollars was lost in robberies.

The report's statistics-cramped 127 pages gave detailed evidence of juvenile crime, which the FBI said had increased during the past five years at a rate 2 1/2 times greater than the population rise among persons under 18.

While youths represented only 10.3 per cent of arrests for murder, manslaughter, rape and assault, they figure in 53.1 per cent of arrests for robbery, burglary, breaking and entering, larceny and auto theft. Among those nabbed for auto stealing, youths represented 67.6 of the total arrested.

The report, contrary perhaps to popular belief, showed a greater rise in youthful crime in the small town than the big city. Teen-age arrests in cities and towns under 25,000 population rose 16 per cent, while the increase was 8.1 per cent in larger cities.

Over-all, rural crimes also outstripped city felonies last year, 11.1 to 8.9 per cent. Burglaries showed the biggest increase, 12.2 per cent. Murder and non-negligent manslaughter declined slightly, by seven-tenths of 1 per cent.

Other categories showed these increases: auto thefts, 9.9 per cent; larcenies, 8.4; robbery, 8.2; rape and aggravated assault, 3.8; and negligent manslaughter, 1.6 per cent.

Of more than two million arrests for major and minor offenses, white persons accounted for 1,405,967 and Negroes 616,028. Of these, approximately one of every 10 was a woman.

The report shows 116,899 major offenses in Texas cities and towns in 1957, compared with 104,451 in 1956.

Based on data from authorities in 102 Texas communities, there were 392 murders in the state last year, compared with 388 in 1956.

Other major offenses in Texas, with the 1956 figure in parentheses:

Manslaughter by negligence 204 (164); rape 442 (416); robbery 1,840 (1,624); aggravated assault 4,341 (4,063); burglary 28,831 (25,979); larceny-theft 68,646 (61,803); auto theft 12,203 (10,014).

The crime rate per 100,000 population in Texas' urban areas was murder 10.6, robbery 49, aggravated assault 116.4, burglary-breaking or entering 769, larceny-theft 1,830.5 and auto theft 324.4.

Random Notes On Various Subjects

Here are a few random notes: Watching rehearsal sometimes is almost as interesting as seeing the finished product on the stage. This week, I dropped by the HCJC Auditorium where "The Mikado" is being rehearsed. Sponsored by the Rotary Club, this classic Gilbert and Sullivan musical is being presented May 12 and 13.

It's pretty early for the production to be shaping up as well as it is. The way these things usually go, it's confusion and no progress right up to the last moment, then a rush down the track to beat the clock.

Progress is especially notable in the interlacing of voices in sections where more than one singer vocalizes at once. But there is a need for more work on individual solos, to say nothing of the dramatics.

The greatest weakness so far is in enunciation of words—in Big Spring, entertainers don't have the advantages of sound stages and recording equipment.

Action is just now beginning to be worked out. Heretofore, practice sessions have been mainly in getting the music right. Name of one of the Japanese characters is being mispronounced: CAT-i-sha, instead of the correct form of KAH-ti-sha. But only the purists would notice—or care, for that matter.

All the singers have good voices, but there is still too great a difference in volume. A better balance is, naturally, one of the prime goals of the director.

"The Mikado" rehearsals provide an excellent example of difficulties attending any major production. There is hardly a line of dialogue, an action, or a note of music that does not require an interpretation and subsequent integration into the whole.

were going on at the same hour. Such a coordination is already being attempted by Edith Gay at the Chamber of Commerce, certainly a proper place for such an activity. What is needed is for each organization in town to notify Miss Gay of all planned activities, plus a periodic report from her to all participating organizations listing the dates.

It takes a certain artistry to handle a choral group and make it sound good. There are only a few people in Big Spring that have the capability to elicit the best from a group of singers.

One such person is Betty Ware. As wife of the Rev. Jack Ware of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, she is responsible for the way the church's choir sounds of a Sunday morn.

I was impressed by the control she exercised over the combined St. Paul's and First Presbyterian choirs during an Easter rendition of a portion of Handel's "Messiah."

The high tenor in the background, during a portion that reminds one of Russian choral music, was kept at just the right pitch and volume. In the massed arias, the voices weaved in and out without noticeable quaver or hesitation. Minor errors had a sometimes weird effect, as in some foreign Christmas carols.

With this type of chorus, words don't count—only the music created by massed human voices.

Airline Pilots Charge Jet Stunts

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two commercial pilots complain that stunting Air Force jets endangered their airlines over Nevada less than eight hours after Monday's aerial collision that killed 49 persons.

The report was made yesterday to the Civil Aeronautics Board by Capt. Al Shelly of Continental Airlines and Capt. Robert Chase of American Airlines.

Six F100 jet fighters began aerobatics near the airlines, which were carrying a total of 93 passengers, the pilots said.

"I reported the incident because the F100s were much too close for comfort," Chase told reporters. "These jets fly so fast that it is almost impossible to avoid them at close range."

The skies were clear Monday when the United Airlines DC7, carrying 47 persons, and the jet fighter with two aboard slammed together at about 20,000 feet.
