Lebanon Feeling Economic Strain

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—The Lebanese public is feeling a severe economic strain as a result of 10 days of general strike enforced by daily bombing and terrorism.

Government security forces are daily gaining greater control over street mobs and opposition guerrilla bands. But the general shutdown of shops continues in Beirut and chief cities.

The strike has been enforced by such terrorism as the bombs which exploded in the Beirut vegetable bazaar yesterday. At least five persons were killed and many wounded.

Antigovernment gangs roam the city in automobiles, firing in the air to threaten shopkeepers who dare open.

The opposition demands the resignation of pro-Western President Camille Chamoun and a government policy oriented toward President Nasser's United Arab Republic. Opposition leader Saeb Salam says the strike will continue until Chamoun resigns.

Trade is at a standstill. The average Lebanese faces a food shortage and is plagued by rising prices. Workers, taxi drivers, shopkeepers and even night club entertainers are virtually unemployed. In Beirut Harbor seven ships were counted at anchor with no one to unload them.

Economists estimate the country is losing five million Lebanese pounds (more than 1 1/2 million dollars) daily from the reduction in tourism, air and sea traffic and transit trade. Conservative estimates say Lebanon's trade has been cut in half.

This is bound to have a severe effect on a nation which lives primarily on commerce and transit traffic.

The north Lebanon city of Tripoli, meanwhile, is reported quiet after bitter weekend fighting in which an estimated 60 persons were killed.

Members of the opposition Socialist Arab Resurrection party are reported occupying the citadel of the old town in Tripoli. Government security forces are trying to isolate the citadel and force the surrender of the fighters there.

'YOU CAN'T WIN'

Those Little Signs Between Partners

EDITOR'S NOTE: "You Can't Win at Bridge and Gin Rummy" is a newly published book written by a well-known author, and published by The Book of the Month Club. It is an expose of cheating in friendly card games. This is one of a series of articles about the book.

"There's a sucker born every minute," said the Yankee showman P. T. Barnum. In a biting expose, a veteran "sucker" discloses that the nation's richest sucker belt is the "gold dust trail" through Texas.

Bill Duvall bares his findings from a 14-month gambling tour through the country's swankiest gin-rummy jungles.

Duvall's findings are enough to make the biggest spending Texan think twice before sitting down to that "little" game. And they teach a lesson to those who gulp disappointment when a friend consistently gobbles up the chips like a hog in a corncrib.

In a game of bridge, a slight movement of the fingers informs the partner what cards are being held. Knowing the location of the premium cards is all that is necessary to defeat the contract or make a successful slam bid.

Partners "in the know" can signal what lead they want by touching the tops of certain cards: the top of the first card for spades, the top of the second card for hearts, and so on.

Or they can call for a certain lead by raising one card a little higher than the one next to it—card No. 1 for spades, card No. 2 for hearts, etc.

In many instances, Duvall says, a man may use his business or profession as a front when in reality gambling is his real business.

And where does it happen? asks Duvall. His answer: In private and semi-private clubs, in country clubs, in golf clubs, etc. In some parts of the country, he reports, friendly gambling games have advanced to the stage where the cheaters are hustling the losers to play now and pay later.

Coast to coast, Duvall says, 20 per cent of card games for money aren't on the up-and-up. Fast-eyed shysters use the double whammy, the box game, the silent code and an arsenal of other tricks to fleece the "mulletts"—those who try to play the game honestly.

Ever since the first Neanderthal man stashed his ace on the cave floor, Duvall says, men have been cheating at cards. And gambling in America is shooting up faster than a rocket over Cape Canaveral.

Duvall pulls no punches: Authoritative statistics show, he says, that gambling in all forms reached the astronomical figure of 20 billion dollars in 1957, up 20 per cent over 1956.

And so-called "private, friendly and social bridge and gin rummy games" provide a 400-million-dollar rakeoff to sharpies with quick hands and quicker eyes.

How much of that 400 million dollars was yours? he asks.

NEXT: Watch that shuffle.

Goodlett Cited For Soil Survey

W. S. Goodlett, area conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service, has received a $75 cash award and a Certificate of Merit for exceptional leadership in accelerating the standard soil survey program in 1957.

He was cited by H. N. Smith, state conservationist, for the achievement and also was nominated for the Soil Conservation Service Department superior service award.

"Through your efforts in stimulating the soil survey program, 813,815 acres of standard soil surveys were made as of Nov. 20, 1957," noted Smith in his citation. "Since the soil conservation districts were converted in the Big Spring area in September 1955, a total of 1,494,850 acres has been mapped."

Recognizing that much of the work had to be done with a short staff and with trainees, Smith said that Goodlett had done more than to project his own enthusiasm. His system of depicting mapping progress and time distribution was circulated to other areas in Texas and is now being utilized as an effective management tool.

One of his certificates was for his outstanding progress in the survey itself. The other was for leadership in operations management and technical program improvement in a critical wind erosion area of the Southern Great Plains. The actual presentations were made by Homer S. Taff, assistant state conservationist.

Announce Way To Help Drain All 8 Sinus Cavities Without Discomfort

New decongestant tablet for sinus congestion sufferers acts both to drain clogged sinus cavities and relieve distressing head pain

New York, N. Y. (Special Announcement has been made of a new tablet development which has the remarkable ability to help drain clogged sinus cavities and thus relieve congestion and pressure. The head-ache, pressure pains, stuffed-up head, nasal drip, clogged breathing—all the unrelenting symptoms the sinus sufferer knows so well—are attacked directly by improving drainage of the sinus areas.

Most remarkable of all is the fact that this is accomplished with extraordinary speed and without discomfort of any kind. This new tablet does its remarkable work internally, through the blood stream. It deposits into every drop of blood plasma a new medication which is carried to the sinus area, where it shrinks the swollen doors to the sinus cavities and helps drain away the pain-causing pressure and congestion. The shrinking substance in this new tablet has been so successful typically in promoting drainage of the sinus cavities that it is now prescribed more widely by doctors than any material for this purpose. This new medication is now available at drug counters without the need for a prescription under the name, Dristan® Tablets. Dristan Tablets cost only 99¢ for a bottle of 24 tablets. Buy and use Dristan Tablets with the absolute guarantee that they will drain away pain-causing pressure and congestion of the sinus cavities, relieve the pain and distress, or purchase price will be refunded.

Workmen's Compensation For County Is Considered

Howard County Commissioners Court Monday afternoon agreed that it was to the benefit of the county that some sort of workmen's compensation program be adopted for the county.

The commissioners voted to look into the plan and to contact insurance firms which handle this sort of business.

Commissioners pointed out that employees of the county are not safeguarded by the provisions of compensation laws and that there is a need to provide such protection.

The discussion arose out of consideration of a bill for medical services submitted to the commission by Curtis Choate, courthouse custodian.

Some months ago, Choate told the court, he burned his hands and arms working with muriatic acid used in some of the equipment in the courthouse. After treatment for the burns, he developed what he termed an allergy to the acid resulting in a skin condition which prevailed for some months. Treatment for this ailment followed and it was the bill for this that he laid before court.

After discussion, the commission agreed to pay this one bill which was for $150. However, the commissioners made it clear, they did not propose to pay any future bills of a like nature submitted by any employee of the county.

It was from this point that the discussion shifted to the need for employe compensation protection for county workers.

Application Deadline For Social Security Benefits Is June 30

June 30 is an important date for many disabled people, H. P. Thomas, district manager of the Odessa social security office, said today.

Some people who are disabled have neglected to apply under the social security disability provisions, Thomas said. Workers, both men and women, who have been disabled for over a year have until June 30, 1958, to file application for the disability freeze or for disability benefits if they are 50 or older. Those who have been disabled for a prolonged period and wait until after June 30th may forfeit their rights to disability benefits at age 50, to maximum old-age benefits, and to benefits for their survivors.

Thomas pointed out that there is no deadline for those who file within a year from the time they become disabled. The June 30, 1958 deadline applies only to those who have been disabled for a prolonged period.

For more information, pamphlets on the disabled benefits available under social security, contact the social security office, Thomas advised.

Voting Machine Is Suggested

Howard County Democratic Executive Committee has suggested to the commissioners court the idea of renting or buying a voting machine for handling of absentee votes.

A letter from Frank Herdesty, county chairman, was presented to the commissioners Monday in which this proposal is advanced. The commissioners indicated they would look into the matter and ascertain the rental fee or cost of such a machine.

It was indicated that the commissioners did not feel the machine, even if it was decided to provide one, would be put in service for the elections of this year.

State Jobless Pay Decreases

AUSTIN — A drop of more than 4,000 was reported last week in unemployment insurance claims, the Texas Employment Commission said yesterday.

It was the first sizeable statewide drop for the year.

Total individuals filing claims for unemployment compensation for the week ending May 15 were 86,525, down from the 90,913 total the previous week. It compares to 37,949 for the week ending May 13, 1957.

Of the total claims filed, the TEC paid $8,350 compared to $2,797 the previous week and $8,961 the same week in 1957.

A TEC spokesman said the drop was statewide, covering 11 of the major labor market areas. Officials declined to comment further on the basis of a single week's figures.

Filing claims for the first time last week were 6,906 persons covered by unemployment insurance. This does not include farm workers and some white collar workers. There were 8,090 filing for the first time the previous week and 3,406 a year ago.

Total payments continued to run almost three times that of a year ago, when the TEC paid out $661,312 in claims. Last week's total was $1,714,245 as compared to $1,857,315 on May 8.

TRANSPORT IS URGENT NEED

The YMCA-citywide recreational program is in desperate need of transportation for youngsters in the fun club and other programs.

Anyone who knows of a truck or bus which could be made available for a two-month period is urged to notify Bobo Hardy at the YMCA or Joe Pickle, summer recreational committee chairman. The program will take care of operation, maintenance and indemnity owners against liability.

Largest Local Freshman Class Set For Promotion Exercises

The last—and by far the largest—promotion exercises of Big Spring Junior High will see 400 pupils march across the City Auditorium stage this evening.

Because of the press of numbers and because henceforth there will be two junior high schools, the 8 p.m. ceremonies today will be the final formal promotion program for Big Spring pupils entering senior high.

In sheer weight of numbers, the class highlights the instructional problem facing senior high school in the 1958-59 and succeeding terms. While 400 will be entering high school, only 160 will be emerging. Thus, a net increase of 240 in senior high enrollment is projected for next autumn.

Dr. Wallace Morris, head of the department of education at Texas Tech, is to encourage the ninth graders "On to Greater Achievements."

Unsightly Property Hinders City Development, C-C Told

Lack of civic pride is creating some serious problems — not the least of them financing — in community development. Dr. J. E. Hogan, Chamber of Commerce president, touched on the matter at the directors meeting Monday noon in the Settles, and Roy Black turned out to be witness for the case in point.

Black told directors that he gained tentative approval of a quarter-million dollar apartment building project for a client. The proposal of 30 units with swimming pool, landscaping, etc. was considered sound by the lending company.

The appraiser took one look at the site location and turned down the application. The reason, said Black, was that adjacent property was rated as bordering on slum conditions.

Teacher's In A Dream

Annelle Hardt, pert young Austin school teacher who calls Alice her home, does some day dreaming while preparing for a five-week trip to Russia to see how the Soviets teach their children. Miss Hardt, a second grade teacher, will be one of a 40-member band sailing June 30 from Quebec as the first contingent of U.S. students to take part in a new cultural exchange agreement with the U.S.S.R. A 20-member Russian delegation will visit the United States at the same time.

Memorial, 47 Graves Recall Deadly Tornado

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A simple memorial is the only structural reminder that a year ago today a tornado whirled through suburban Ruskin Heights at more than 500 miles an hour.

Forty-seven graves are an eternal reminder. The flattened homes, the unbelievable rubble, the upturned cars are no longer there. Ruskin Heights has been rebuilt.

The work that has been done is not so much reconstruction as it is resurrection. If you didn't go through those frenzied minutes yourself, you have to look at pictures to see the change.

From the air today the streets form the same gentle S curves they did after the tornado. But then they looked mushy, like a wheatfield after harvest. Today you are struck by the sharply defined lines of the light rooftops.

The tornado was spawned at 5:30 p.m. from black rain clouds at Emporia, Kan., some 100 miles away. It moved northeastward, killing at Ottawa and Hill City in Kansas, destroyed Martin City, Mo., and did its worst at Ruskin Heights.

Thirty-nine persons were killed and 483 homes destroyed or damaged there. The memorial, a brick structure about 15 feet high, is located at the center of the devastated Ruskin Heights area. It was dedicated yesterday while 2,000 persons watched.

It has three windows at the top. "They symbolize faith, hope and love," said N. M. Roach, president of the Ruskin Heights Homes Assn. "They are the things that rebuilt Ruskin Heights."

House Panel Asks Peace For Space

WASHINGTON (AP)—A special House committee, choosing civilian over military efforts to make America the world's space leader, called today for agreement among nations for peaceful exploration of outer space.

The House Space Committee approved a bill to create a new civilian agency, headed by a single director, to work on broad civilian projects. Purely military aspects would remain in the Defense Department, but the civilian agency would push exploration.

With committee approval, Chairman John W. McCormack (D-Mass.) and Rep. Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY) asked a House Foreign Affairs subcommittee to approve a resolution calling for international agreement for peaceful space exploration.

McCormack told newsmen that what the proposed new agency actually can accomplish will depend on the man whom President Eisenhower names to head it. The House measure would create a National Aeronautics and Space Administration headed by a $22,500-a-year civilian director. He would be advised—but not controlled—by a 17-member committee of nine government officials and eight private citizens.

Three of the nine government advisers would be from the Defense Department.

The new agency would take over functions of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, which has done air flight research since 1915. But the committee, emphasizing the need for civilian control, noted that 90 per cent of NACA's work has been done for the military services.

It said also that the size and possible indecision within the Defense Department's Advanced Research Projects Agency would create "potentially a grave menace to our national effort" if control were centered there.

Disputes over whether space projects should be handled by the civilians or the military would be settled through a liaison committee. Unresolved arguments would go to the President.

The present separate House and Senate space committees would be abolished in favor of a single House-Senate joint committee on space, similar to the joint committee on atomic energy.

The committee recommended civilian development of atomic rocket power, pioneering beyond the moon and building of weather and communications satellites.

Indicted DJ Gets Radio Station Job

NEW YORK (AP)—Alan Freed, rock 'n' roll disc jockey indicted in Boston for allegedly inciting a riot, will begin spinning his records over another radio station here next month.

The American Broadcasting Co. announced yesterday that Freed had signed a long-term contract to a radio program over local station WABC. Beginning June 2, he will be disc jockey on the station Monday through Friday from 7:15 p.m. ABC gave no further details.

Freed quit local radio station WINS recently, complaining that the station failed to back him up in the Boston controversy. He was indicted after gangs of teenagers beat up several persons and destroyed property following his May 3 music session at Boston Arena.

Apathy, Confusion Mark Italian Vote

ROME (AP)—Apathy and confusion. Those two words provide a thumbnail description of the Italian election campaign.

The posters on the signboards, the banners stretched across the streets, all testify to the fact that Italy will elect a new Parliament Sunday.

But among Italians there is a noticeable lack of excitement. None of the parties seems to have hit on a theme or an issue to inspire or inflame the voters. They are trying hard, though. And the results of their efforts are all a bit confusing.

The governing Christian Democrats are the chief targets of a dozen or so opposition parties. In their attacks on the Christian Democrats, the rightist and leftist parties sometimes seem to speak with one voice.

The Radical and Republican parties, staunchly non-Communist, have been as quick as the Communists to denounce "clerical interference," as they call it.

Such charges seem to be the chief opposition weapon against the Christian Democrats.

The implication is that the Christian Democrats are an instrument of the Catholic Church.

If Communists and anti-Communists appear united against the Christian Democrats, they remain strongly opposed to one another. The Radicals, Republicans and Social Democrats continue to support Italy's general foreign policy of alliance with the West.

On the left, the Communists and Pietro Nenni's Socialists are fighting everyone else—and each other. Both claim to be the true representative of the working class.

On the right, the parties are just as sharply divided. They jab at the Christian Democrats, and their banners say a vote for the rightists is a vote against "clericalism and communism."

The Italian Social Movement (MSI) is trying to keep fresh the memories of fascism and of Benito Mussolini.

Rival monarchist parties—the Popular Monarchists and the National Monarchists—are fighting each other in some areas, each claiming to be the true representative of ex-King Umberto II. But in some places the two Monarchist groups are united.

The Liberals, the rightist party closest to the center, are trying to make a key issue of what they call too much government interference in business activity.

With more than a dozen parties on the ballot, it is obvious the Italian voter is going to have a hard time remembering who is arguing what when he casts his ballot.

That's why some Italian politicians figure Italy—which has more than 90 per cent turnout in 1953—might have an unusually high number of nonvoters this year.

Nalley-Pickle Invites Visitors

No one likes to think about funerals. The actual responsibility comes so infrequently that few people know how to choose a funeral service firm wisely. Just as the prudent householder locates a family doctor who can be called in an emergency, so should you select a funeral director in whom you have confidence. This is easily done. Today modern funeral establishments, particularly members of National Selected Morticians, welcome visitors. One such concern is the Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home, located at 906 Gregg Street in Big Spring.

Personnel of the Nalley-Pickle concern stand ready to give the public explanatory tours of the establishment, giving in detail what things are expected of the individual and what the individual can expect of them, once tragedy strikes in a family. Such an experience is always a revelation to those who are not aware of the myriad details involved or the services rendered. Nalley-Pickle has a concern equipped with the most modern equipment, employees of which have been trained to cater to the public.

Have Auto Tuned Up For Spring At Jones Motor Co.

To restore that old pep, power, and performance to your car after a hard winter, take it to Jones Motor Co., at the corner of 1st and Gregg, for a spring inspection. There are several important parts of your car which need inspection and perhaps some service to repair the damage done by winter driving and to put the vehicle in top shape for a long life and trouble-free summer driving. Starting with the cooling system, the anti-freeze should be drained out, the radiator flushed out and refilled with water. The servicemen at Jones Motor won't forget to add rust inhibitor either. Now is also a good time to check the thermostat, hose connections, and to adjust the tension on the fan belt. The battery and generator have worked overtime all winter keeping the lights, heater and defroster fans and radio working, so they need extra careful attention. Jones Motor will also check the steering and brakes. Steering linkage, front suspension, and wheel alignment encounter many highway shocks in winter, and a spring checkup is necessary for safety and also to prevent unnecessary tire wear. Inspection of brake linings and a brake adjustment will also add to driving safety.

2 States Select Candidates Today

By The Associated Press
Pennsylvania and Maryland voters select candidates for senator and governor today, with Harold Stassen pinning his hopes for a political comeback on a big primary turnout in Pennsylvania.
Stassen, three-time governor of Minnesota, is battling Pennsylvania's Republican state organization for the GOP nomination for governor. Official party support is behind Arthur T. McGonigle, wealthy pretzel manufacturer. Two other aspirants also are in the race.
Stassen, until recently President Eisenhower's disarmament adviser, concedes he will need a large turnout to win. He optimistically forecast a big vote.
But political observers expect fewer than 40 per cent of the Keystone State's 5,134,133 registered voters to go to the polls.
In Maryland, chief interest centers on the Democratic race for the U. S. Senate nomination.

There are four major candidates: Thomas D'Alesandro, 54, mayor of Baltimore; James Bruce, 64, wealthy financier and former ambassador to Argentina; Clarence D. Long, 49, economics professor; and George P. Mahoney, 56, Baltimore paving contractor who has run unsuccessfully in past years for both governor and U. S. senator.
The winner probably will face incumbent Sen. J. Glenn Beall, who has only token opposition in the GOP primary.
State Comptroller J. Millard Taws is regarded as a sure bet to defeat two little known opponents for Maryland's Democratic gubernatorial nomination. The winner's November opponent will be Rep. James P. Devereux, World War II Wake Island hero, who is unopposed in the Republican primary.
In Pennsylvania, advance samplings indicated Stassen's opponent, McGonigle, 51, would win if the vote is light.
Also seeking the GOP gubernatorial nomination are William S. Livengood Jr., former state secretary of internal affairs, and Harold J. Vaughan, a sales executive.

On the Democratic side, Pittsburgh's Mayor David L. Lawrence regarded as "Mr. Democrat" of Pennsylvania, is backed by the party organization for the nomination for governor.
Lawrence, 68, has based his entire campaign in support of the administration of Democratic Gov. George M. Leader, 40, who is running on the organization ticket for the U. S. Senate nomination.
Lawrence is opposed by Edward Paul Lavelle and Roy E. Furman. Rep. Hugh Scott, former Republican national chairman, is the GOP organization candidate for the Senate seat being vacated by Republican Edward Martin.

DEAR ABBY
JUST ANOTHER GI
By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I want to ask you to please ask your readers what they think about Elvis Presley going into the Army and not expecting any special privileges just because he is Elvis Presley? You will notice that when they cut all his beautiful hair off he didn't say a word. That ought to prove to those people who said he looked like a "hood" that they were wrong. I hope the other boys in the Army don't make it tough for him just because he is so famous. Thank you.

ELVIS PRESLEY FAN CLUB
DEAR CLUB: Don't worry about Elvis. He'll get a fair "shake."

DEAR ABBY: After having six boys, we had a baby girl. She was born on St. Patrick's Day and my husband got drunk and carried on for six days. Our little red-haired, blue-eyed girl is almost four years old now, and she is so spoiled she acts like she is the only child in the house. My husband lets her sleep with us (in the middle) and there's no getting her to sleep in her own little bed. She throws herself around in bed and I get up and sleep on the couch. She absolutely refuses to sleep anywhere else and I can't do a thing with her. Can you please tell me what to do?
A. O'B.

DEAR MRS. O'B.: Stop using the couch at night or you'll be needing one during the daytime, too. Make it plain that this child MUST sleep in her own bed—alone—and no nonsense. As long as she knows she can win out, she will not budge.

DEAR ABBY: I could have kissed the words on the paper when you said the adopted child was "wanted twice." First by the real mother, and again by the adopted mother. I was an unwed mother and I gave up my child because I knew she would have a better chance in life if I did. The lawyer told me when I signed my

Virginia Eyes New Tactics In Integration Fight

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Virginia studied possible new delaying tactics today to offset Supreme Court action pushing the state nearer the choice between school integration or closure.

The high court yesterday turned down the state's appeal of a federal court order directing the admission of seven Negro children to three white schools in Arlington County, adjacent to Washington.

But whether Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. and Atty. Gen. A. S. Harrison will take such a course was highly uncertain.
Even if such a request were made on the last possible day, June 14, the court most probably would hand down a decision before adjourning late in June, leaving the state even less time to come up with new legal expedients.

Unofficial sources suggested Virginia might well use its revamped Pupil Placement Act — effective June 27—as a jumping-off point for a new round of appeals.

The state might insist that the Negro children seeking admission to the white schools of Arlington submit to the provisions of the new placement act in September. Thus, an entirely new series of appeals in higher and lower courts might be born, while the schools remained segregated.

Gov. Almond said in Miami, where he is attending the annual governor's conference, that yesterday's Supreme Court action brought "no change in the situation in Virginia."
The ruling which Virginia had appealed to the Supreme Court was handed down last September by U.S. Dist. Judge Albert V. Bryan of Alexandria.
The schools are Washington-Lee

High School, Swanson Junior High, and Fillmore Elementary School, over the function of the local school board before the board had an opportunity to make pupil assignments.
