Unknowns Come Home To Glory

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Unknowns of America's latest wars came home today in immortal glory.

The bodies of the nameless ones of World War II and Korea were borne in ceremony from the destroyer which brought them home to the Capitol where they will lie in state until the final honors of Memorial Day.

Vice President Nixon and other dignitaries stood at reverent attention as the flag-draped coffins were placed side by side in the vast rotunda of the Capitol.

The public was welcome to file by the bronze caskets and hundreds of spectators were on hand when they were carried up the steps in the morning sunshine.

A composite group of honor from the Army, Navy and Air Force escorted the black hearse in the slow funeral procession from the naval gun factory.

The caskets occupied the place of honor in the Capitol where World War I Gen. John J. Pershing and many another dignitary, as the Unknown Soldier of World War I, have lain in state.

The bodies were borne ashore from the destroyer Blandy to the booming of a 21-gun salute. Military officials headed by Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy stood right in silence.

In the rotunda, surrounded by statues of famous Americans of the past, both Nixon and Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn placed wreaths on the coffins.

President Eisenhower will take part in burial ceremonies Friday at Arlington National Cemetery. The Korean Unknowns was carried up the Capitol steps first.

As the last casket was carried inside, policeman atop the cupola above the steps lowered the flag to half staff.

Beneath the dome in the Capitol rotunda, they will lie in state in twin bronze caskets until Friday, when they will be transported to permanent tombs alongside that of the Unknown Soldier of World War I.

They reached Washington yesterday aboard the Blandy, which brought them from a seaborne rendezvous at which the two were selected to symbolize for all time the 8,494 fighting men still unidentified from World War II and the 853 from the Korean War.

They reposed last night side by side on the afterdeck of the destroyer, while sailor sentries stood an honor watch through the night.

At the Capitol, a full-scale, formal reception of the heroes' caskets was arranged before a distinguished company representing this and foreign governments.

Scores of organizations have notified the government of their wish to place wreaths at the caskets in the rotunda. They included veterans' organizations, war mothers' groups, veteran auxiliary societies and many others.

Officials of the Military District of Washington, responsible for the detailed planning of the entire unknowns funeral and burial program, have been compelled to compile a minute-by-minute timetable for floral presentations.

Pflimlin Quits As De Gaulle Gets Presidential Summons

STILL AGAINST TAX CUTS

President Believes Recession Is Passing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Eisenhower said today he believes the recession has largely spent itself.

Eisenhower said the current economic situation does not warrant any reductions that could create further deficit spending.

Though he said he thinks the recession has largely spent its force, the President declined to predict when there will be a business upturn and full employment again.

The President first replied he doesn't know what the government can do so long as it is committed to support of the free enterprise philosophy.

Eisenhower added that his goal is to maintain a sound dollar and a stable economy lest values of pensions and insurance policies be destroyed.

As for the economic outlook, Eisenhower said sales of automobiles and durable goods still are on the decline, but there are other indications that the recession is leveling off.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board today created three transcontinental super skyways in a move to lessen the danger of aircraft collisions.

The collisions, near Las Vegas, Nev., in April; and Brunswick, Md., in May, took 49 lives.

The controlled routes will cross the country roughly between Los Angeles - San Francisco on the west, and New York-Washington in the east.

Airliners flying any distance usually travel at altitudes near 20,000 feet. Military jets generally fly at higher levels.

The CAB announcement said no aircraft would be permitted to enter or cross the super skyways without clearance from Civil Aeronautics Administration traffic control centers.

Mindful of the imminent advent of commercial jet flights, the CAB said it hopes to expand the number, length and height of the super skyways as fast as the CAA control system can handle them.

Some planes now fly on instruments—getting directions from the ground—while others fly under visual flight rules. This, CAB noted, has created a continual risk of collisions. In the super skyways, it said, there will be no such mixture.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 2nd Basketball Satellite Ends Up In The Drink

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The second of the Navy's basketball-sized satellites wound up today like the first—at the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean.

Fired aloft shortly before midnight by the Vanguard rocket, the 20-inch ball flew 2,000 miles out into space, then plunged back to earth.

Five hours of baffling silence followed the launching before Dr. John P. Hagen, director of Project Vanguard, announced that the 21½-pound sphere did not go into orbit.

The engines of the three-stage Vanguard all fired as expected, Hagen said.

But the satellite was not boosted into a horizontal direction necessary to place it in orbit. Instead, it flew out in a wide arc, then fell back into the atmosphere.

It was the fourth failure in five tries since the Vanguard rocket first was fired as a complete three-stage vehicle.

he did say he happens to be one of those people who liked Gen. Charles de Gaulle when he knew him during and after World War II.

WAGES-PRICES — Eisenhower said he deplores any idea of the government attempting to control wages and prices in time of peace.

He renewed his appeal to business and labor leaders to keep wages and prices from spiraling dangerously.

His remarks came when a reporter said the cost of living has increased again and asked what can be done about it.

The President first replied he doesn't know what the government can do so long as it is committed to support of the free enterprise philosophy.

Eisenhower added that his goal is to maintain a sound dollar and a stable economy lest values of pensions and insurance policies be destroyed.

French Workers Out In Protest

PARIS (AP)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle sped to Paris today after being called by French President Rene Coty, reliable sources said.

At the same time 30,000 Frenchmen demonstrated in Paris against De Gaulle's return.

The word that De Gaulle was going to see the President normally would mean that he would be asked to form a new government.

The general, accompanied only by an aide, had driven out of the gates at his country home and headed toward Paris. There had been no announcement, however, of his destination or the purpose of the trip.

De Gaulle was expected at the President's palace at about 8:30 p.m. (2:30 p.m. EST).

The call from Coty to De Gaulle came only minutes after the conclusion of a meeting between the President and leaders of three big political parties.

Socialist Guy Mollet, right-wing independent Antoine Pinay and Pierre-Henri Teitgen of the Catholic Popular Republican Movement had been closeted with the President for an hour and quarter.

Many political quarters feel Coty is left with no choice but to call in De Gaulle to ask him to form a new government.

The three French speaking political bigwigs had been called in by Coty presumably to get agreement on a successor to Premier Pierre Pflimlin, who resigned in the early morning hours at the height of the rebellion-induced political confusion in France.

De Gaulle announced Tuesday he had already started work to form a government. But he appeared to face formidable opposition in the National Assembly, which must approve his appointment to the premiership.

The National Assembly Tuesday night gave Pflimlin a thumping vote of approval on a constitutional reform bill, indicating that the deputies had no stomach for De Gaulle. Pflimlin quit because he lost some of his moderate supporters in the assembly.

The demonstration, with the crowds massed four blocks along the route was orderly but noisy. Communists, Socialist and Christian Trade Unionists had called for the demonstrations.

No police were in sight. The police are controlled by Socialist Jules Moch, who gave tacit approval for the demonstration despite a government ban on all mass meetings.

Pflimlin said the defection of the independents had weakened the government at a crucial moment and he could not go on. The President refused to let him step aside until a new premier was ready to take over, seeking to avoid a power vacuum while France is threatened with civil strife.

Pflimlin accepted the compromise and Coty began talking with political leaders. The President said he hoped to be able to name a candidate to succeed Pflimlin by evening.

If Coty decided not to call De Gaulle, the best guess was that he would ask Socialist Guy Mollet to try to form a government. Mollet holds the postwar record for length of office as premier.

ALGIERS HOPEFUL The outcome was hopefully awaited in Algiers, where the crisis was touched off May 13 by a military-civilian seizure of power in defiance of Paris. The junta ruling Algeria and since last Saturday Corsica has vowed to remain defiant until De Gaulle takes over.

Some 50,000 persons, the largest crowd since the insurgent movement began, demonstrated Tuesday night in Algiers demanding De Gaulle as a strongman leader of France.

Paris remained quiet but was tense with rumors that the paratroopers who sparked the Algeria uprising might move to install De Gaulle by force. But the drama in the Assembly and Coty's Elysee Palace produced no visible effects on the capital's normal life.

Seven Request Passports Here Seven applications for passports have been processed and sent to the national passport office for approval this month by District Clerk Wade Choate.

This is a slightly heavier run of passport applications than normal for the office. However, Choate said that he is asked to submit such applications regularly each month.

The passport applications processed included: Mary L. Bradley, who plans to go to Azores; Genevieve Smith Strom, general tour of western Europe; Mary Theresa Rose, England; Kathleen Rouse, Ireland; Loris Lorenzo Hammond, destination not listed; Margaret June McGreevy, Germany; Samuel Triple Crews Jr., Iraq; Alvin Russell Holman, Vietnam.

Showers Fall After Mercury Hits 104

Ominous black clouds which rolled up from the west near sundown, coming on the heels of a scorching day which saw the temperature hit 104 degrees in Big Spring, brought scattered light rains to most of the county and provided a brilliant electrical display throughout most of Tuesday night.

Big Spring received only a shower. The U. S. Experiment Station reported its gauge showed .09 inch. This brought the total for May to 1.83 inch and the year to 8.13 inches. Elsewhere in town the rain ranged from just a sprinkle to perhaps a tenth of an inch. The rain fell around 3:30 a.m.

Forecast at noon promised a continuation of the partly cloudy skies and warm weather. There was a possibility, the Weather Bureau said, of scattered showers this afternoon and tonight.

Heaviest rains reported in the area seem to have been in the Vealmoor area. L. D. Smith, who lives in that part of the county, said that half an inch of rain fell early today. He said the rain did not cause any damage to crops but left the countryside saturated and muddy.

Only showers were reported from the Knott community. East of Big Spring, Westbrook had half an inch of rain with wind and a vicious electrical storm.

Bill McVain on the Wilkinson ranch 10 miles west had .25 inch rain. Texas Electric Service Co. switching plant had .06. Its stations reported little rain in the district it serves. Eskota had only .01; Chalk 05 and Snyder .22.

Arthur Stallings, who lives in the extreme southwest edge of the county, said the shower provided 10 inch moisture on his farm. Yesterday's 104 degree reading came within one degree of matching the all-time high for May 27. The record was 105 scored on May 27, 1912.

Youth Burned By Power Line

Robert Lee Harbin, about 6, had a close brush with death this morning when he came in contact with an electric power line at Coleman Courts.

The youngster was injured when he touched the wire while on top of a building. His left hand was burned and he was in a state of shock when he was rushed to Big Spring Hospital in a River ambulance about 10 a.m.

Examination showed no serious effects, however, and he was reported in satisfactory condition shortly before noon.

Robert Lee is the son of Mrs. Dorothy Harbin. His father, the late A. W. Harbin, was killed in a traffic accident near here last Feb. 10.

25 Students Still Needing Transfers

Approximately 25 children who should obtain transfers in order to clear their way for attendance at school next fall have not as yet made application, Walker Bailey, Howard County superintendent, said Wednesday.

The office has processed 312 transfers so far this month. Deadline for making application for transfers is Monday. All parents whose children should have such transfers are urged by the office to make their applications before the deadline.

HCJC Honor Graduates

Tommie Jo Hunt, left, and Clara Elizabeth Woods were valedictorian and salutatorian, respectively, of the Howard County Junior College class which graduated last night. The honors were announced during the college's annual commencement banquet.

Mrs. Hunt, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. T. J. Williamson, had a grade point average of 2.718. Miss Woods, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Woods, had an average of 2.684. Mrs. Hunt and her husband, Frank Hunt, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Hunt, left this morning for San Marcos where they will enroll in Southwest Texas State College. Miss Woods plans to attend HCJC another year and then enroll in McMurry College, Abilene.

DEAR ABBY

CHALK IT OFF

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I had a coffee table in my house and my sister-in-law admired it and admired it and I finally took the hint and gave it to her. Then she turned around and SOLD it to her sister. I don't care about the few dollars, but I think this was a cheap trick. I want to buy it back from her sister but my husband says to forget the whole thing. Should I? BOILING OVER

DEAR BOILING: Your sister-in-law used extremely poor judgment. If I were you I wouldn't forget it and charge it to experience.

DEAR ABBY: The man who thinks he gives his teen-aged son an allowance that is "MORE THAN PLENTY" sounds just like my father. Some fathers forget that times have changed since they were teen-agers. If a boy wants to take a girl to the movie and buy her a hamburger and a malt afterwards, he can't do it on 50 cents like his old man did. Will you please remind my father and the fathers of other teen-aged boys that the cost of living has gone up. LIVING MODERN

DEAR LIVING: The father who is paying the grocer, the butcher, the dentist, the doctor, the insurance man and the tax people does not need ME to remind him that the cost of living has gone up.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is a young woman who works for my husband. She is 26 years old and has already been through two husbands. She drives her own car to work all right, but my husband has to follow her home in his car after work to be sure she gets home safely. She invites him in for a cup of tea (he has ulcers so I don't have to worry about it being anything else) afterwards. Sometimes it is seven-thirty before he gets home for dinner. Do I have to put up with this? PATIENT WIFE

DEAR PATIENT: You don't have to. So why do you?

DEAR ABBY: I came across an old Japanese magazine and it says that you should take some salt (about one tablespoon) wet it a little and rub it where you want to reduce. Some people might think it is a joke, but my stomach was coming out for a long time and now it is getting smaller. K.F.J.

DEAR K.F.J.: I don't see how this could possibly work. Unless, of course, you rub the salt on your stomach INSTEAD of eating deserts.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has had four children by his first wife and three by me. He is a good man and was fully divorced before I met him. I raised his children and they are as dear to me as our own. The problem is that I get along fine with his ex-wife. She comes here and we have meals together and visit like old friends. My neighbors say I am completely insane for allowing her in my home. They said if I were normal I would call her names and pitch her out my front door. Are they crazy or am I? FRIENDLY

DEAR FRIENDLY: You are certainly normal in my book. There should be more people like you and less like your neighbors.

CONFIDENTIAL TO CONCERNED GRANNY: A watched pot never boils... but a "watched relative does"... Your "little boy" is 36 and is no longer your problem.

Sen. Gonzales Holds Colorful Political Rally

By WHITEY SAWYER

State Sen. Henry Gonzales, a candidate for governor, threw a rally complete with flamenco dancers and guitarists Tuesday.

With the colorful San Antonio politician leading the way, candidates in the Democratic primary generally stepped up the speech-making.

Gov. Daniel, who seeks re-election, headed for Fort Worth Wednesday to speak at a luncheon sponsored by the Tarrant County Democratic Executive Committee.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough, who wants to go back to Washington, announced a four-day speaking schedule in Texas. He was to deliver the commencement address at Incarnate Word College, San Antonio, Wednesday night.

William Blakley, trying to unseat Yarborough, kept up his handshaking tour. He met informally with Victoria area citizens Tuesday night and walked around shaking hands.

Harold Kennedy, a member of the Texas House last year who seeks the Senate seat held by Sen. Carlos Ashley of Llano, said at Lampasas Tuesday a vote for annual legislative sessions is a vote for "bigger and fancier spending and taxes that go with it."

Gonzales pledged a fight to the finish, "not just a gesture." An announced $7,000 was raised at the $100-a-plate dinner at San Antonio.

He struck hard at Daniel and the legislative record during Daniel's first term.

"If you think you have a lobby control law now, you are grossly deceived," he said. "If you think you have water conservation laws now, you are grossly deceived. The so-called Insurance Department reorganization bill is a retreat and a compromise because some one was afraid to fight for a principle."

DEDICATE CHAPEL

Saturday, Daniel will go to Gainesville to dedicate a chapel at the Gainesville State School for Girls. Saturday night he will attend the Gridiron Dinner and show in Dallas. Sunday the governor will speak at the Central Baptist Church in Carthage and speak at the dedication of Lake Murvall.

Yarborough will give the commencement address at the Henderson County Junior College at Athens Thursday night.

Friday morning he will attend a breakfast in his honor at Athens. Later he will take part in Memorial Day ceremonies honoring Henderson County war dead. Friday afternoon he will speak at the Athens Old Fiddlers Reunion.

Friday night he will be initiated into the Fraternal Order of the Eagles at Houston. A speech to the State Convention of the Democrats of Texas at Austin Saturday afternoon is the only address billed as a political talk.

Blakley, campaigning informally through Southeast and South Texas, was to continue his handshaking tour Wednesday.

The Dallas Times Herald endorsed Blakley Tuesday.

Kennedy said the annual session amendment would increase the cost of the Legislature for the biennium by three million dollars.

High Energy Fuels To Bring Problems, Too

HOUSTON (AP)—High energy fuels—the new exotic chemical combinations expected to give airplanes of the future much greater range, speed and altitude possibilities—will introduce serious problems along with their benefits.

R. A. Wells of the Gulf Research Center, Harnarville, Pa., outlined some of the new problems for the Aviation Writers Assn. meeting today.

They include the hazards of fire, explosion and fumes.

Wells said some of the materials currently being tested are organo-metallic compounds called typhoric fuels.

They include TEA, TEB and TMA—triethyl aluminum, triethyl borane, and trimethyl aluminum.

These fuels enable airplanes to fly faster, at higher altitudes with better fuel economy and increased reliability.

Wells said the fuels virtually eliminate the problem of high altitude flameout.

He said TEA and TEB are extremely destructive to living tissue and produce immediate and deep skin burns with subsequent scarring.

Wells also mentioned a newly developed fuel of this type, TBB—tributyl borane—capable of burning at very high speeds.

Wells said the most widely publicized high energy fuel program, the Navy's so-called Zip Project started in 1952 and joined by the Air Force in 1955, resulted in a major fuel technology "breakthrough" in the form of a new series of boron-carbon-hydrogen compound returning much of the high energy of the earlier boranes but more stable, less toxic and of higher density.

He said a major problem with this fuel will be the vapors which are extremely toxic above certain pressures and are explosive in air and react with water.

Chased Out

American singer Jerry Lee Lewis and his 13-year-old bride, Myra, shown eating at Westbury Hotel in London, packed up and headed for the U.S. after British theaters cancelled the rock 'n' roll tour in the face of rising public resentment. They were married in Mississippi on December 12, and earlier this month Lewis obtained a divorce from his second wife. He says he'll marry Myra again if necessary.

FRB Sees Signs Of Jobless Leveling

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board said today it sees some signs of a leveling off in the unemployment situation.

The board said in its monthly Federal Reserve Bulletin that since February there has been a slight drop in the number of persons unemployed for four weeks or less. It said this may "indicate that layoffs have become less frequent and that seasonally adjusted unemployment may be leveling off."

April employment figures showed an increase for the ninth straight month in the seasonally adjusted rate of unemployment. The rate was 7 1/2 per cent of the labor force. May figures will be announced next week.

Although citing some grounds for optimism, the board observed that the number of persons vainly seeking work for 15 weeks or longer has more than doubled in the past 12 months. It said the April figure was sharply higher than for any month in the previous postwar recessions.

"This high level indicates the persistently lower hiring rates prevailing through industry," it said.

DOT Investigating High Primary Cost

AUSTIN (AP)—An 8-man Democrats of Texas Committee has been appointed to make a state-wide survey on the costs of holding Democratic primaries, DOT Chairman Mrs. E. D. Randolph of Houston said yesterday.

Filing fees charged candidates the past few years "have risen exorbitantly," said Mrs. Randolph, leader of the liberal-labor group.

"Combined with the high cost of modern techniques of political campaigning, these excessive fees last month was down almost 350,000 from its 1957 peak, the review added.

'Old Settlers' Of Dawson To Hold Reunion Saturday

LAMESA—The annual Dawson County Old Settlers Reunion has been set for Saturday at Lamar Forrest Community Center. Festivities will begin at 10 a.m. with registrations, according to Jess Merrick, president of the Old Settlers Association.

Indonesians Show Off Red Planes

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—The Indonesian air force today gave newsmen a preview of the first MIG and Ilyushin planes delivered to the Sukarno government by Iron Curtain countries.

Reporters watched two MIG jet trainers from Czechoslovakia take off.

An air force spokesman said the Ilyushins cost $250,000 each, payable over 10 years compared with the 3-year period demanded by Western nations.

Meanwhile, an American civilian pilot captured when he bailed out of a rebel bomber was reported undergoing medical treatment in Jakarta.

The pilot, identified as Allen Lawrence Pope, 30, of Miami, fractured a thigh when he bailed out near Ambon Island and landed in a coconut tree.

Lost 22 Pounds With Barcenate

The following is from a letter from Mrs. A. H. Williams, Jr., 5402 Alameda Ave., El Paso, Texas:

"I have lost 22 pounds taking Barcenate. I have taken four bottles and continue to take it for the feeling of physical fitness it gives."

Get Barcenate at any drug counter for just $1.69. Mix with citrus fruit juice to make a full pint. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the way to take off ugly fat, without starvation diet, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Carpets Keep New Look

With proper care wall to wall carpeting will retain the new look.

Correct cleaning methods have seemingly been a mystery and controversial even to carpet manufacturers. After much research a product is on the market that cleans and fluffs up beat down carpet paths plus removal of spots, thereby maintaining the new look. The textile engineer of a large carpet mill says—"It's the best we've found."

The product is Blue Lustre. It is easily applied with a long handle brush. One half gallon of Blue Lustre concentrate cleans three 8x10 rugs.

THE STATE NATIONAL BANK MYSTERY FARM FEATURE

Can You Identify The MYSTERY FARM

This aerial photo is Number 4 in a series taken in the Big Spring area for THE STATE NATIONAL BANK.

Nobody knows whose farms the aerial photographer snapped... so it's up to the readers of The Herald to identify the "Mystery Farm."

Call AM 4-4331—The Herald

The first person to correctly identify the "Mystery Farm" will receive two theatre tickets, compliments of The State National Bank... the name will be published next week... so if you know whose farm this is and where it's located, come by phone or write The Big Spring Herald.

If the owners can identify this farm, go to The Herald office, make your identification and give them the story of your place. Then come to The State National Bank for a beautiful mounted photograph of your farm absolutely FREE.

Give your future a "new look!"

Fixing up about the house to give it a bright new look? Why not also take steps to brighten your future? Such as... fixing up the family budget to allow for SAVING a certain amount out of every pay envelope. That's how dreams come true!

Last week's "Mystery Farm" is owned by Paul Adams. It is located southeast of Ackery about 6 miles.

Alaska Statehood Fighters Unite

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Advocates and opponents of Alaska statehood, who seldom see eye to eye, stood on common ground in the vast territory today.

With uncommon agreement, they viewed a preliminary vote on the Alaska statehood bill in Congress yesterday as another in a long series of legislative moves that over the years have continued territorial status.

"All this is window dressing," said John Manders, an Anchorage lawyer who is the most outspoken resident critic of statehood. "Congress isn't going to give us statehood. All this talk is for the benefit of the folks back home."

His comments followed a House vote, 144-106, to strike the enacting clause from the 1958 admission bill that would make Alaska the 49th state.

Deletion of the enacting clause would be fatal to the bill. A roll call vote on the motion was scheduled today, if the House rejects an anticipated move by statehood opponents to recommit the bill to committee. Even if the bill survives in the House, Senate action would have to come before adjournment if Alaska is to be a state this year.

"I hate to see a bill like this defeated by parliamentary chicanery," said Robert Ziegler of Ketchikan, a member of the Territorial Legislature and a supporter of the statehood movement. "We've been through such maneuvers many times before—this is nothing new."

The administration's strongest advocate of immediate statehood, Interior Secretary Fred A. Seaton, was near the end of a seven-day trip in Alaska when the House vote came.

"I most earnestly hope the action will be reversed on a roll call," Seaton said, "and that the House will get about the business of passing this bill."

Alaskans took a wait-and-see attitude. A majority have expressed themselves in favor of immediate statehood, but in some sections there is strong opposition.

Alaska's biggest push for statehood in its 90-year history as a U.S. possession has been made in the last 17 months.

Statehood opposition has centered on Alaska's slim population—estimated at 205,000; on the territory's economy, which is based largely on government and defense spending; and on its location.

Former Gov. Ernest Gruening, one of the two provisional senators, has charged the U.S. government with "colonialism" and says Alaskans are second-class citizens.

French Assembly Witnesses Dreary But Brave Little Drama

PARIS (AP)—The French National Assembly, which has more memories of defeat than victory, witnessed a dreary but somehow courageous little drama during the night.

With Gen. Charles de Gaulle and the army's paratrooper corps almost physically besieging its quaint building, the Assembly voted defiantly to keep Pierre Pflimlin's Cabinet in office—if it would stay.

All day yesterday there were reports of paratroopers moving in the direction of Paris.

Nobody accepted the rumors for certain. But everybody knew that only 20 miles away a paratroop unit is in training.

In Algeria, 800 miles to the south, paratroopers already had hurled defiance at the Paris government.

Then Corsica was seized and De Gaulle suggested in a midnight conference with Premier Pflimlin that he should be invited to the seat of power.

Almost unanimously, the military forces have indicated they are with their World War II leader and against the government of tired and timid Pflimlin.

To protect the Assembly during its overnight deliberations, thousands of police were flung around it.

They would protect it against any civilian mob—but would they defy the paratroopers if they moved in to force the issue? The answer almost certainly was no.

"If we don't vote to bring in De Gaulle, the paratroopers will be in on us," said one important deputy.

"If they don't accept De Gaulle, there'll be bloody fighting in Paris," a woman editor said.

Many a deputy thought so too.

A LITTLE GAY
Outside the building rain was pelting down on the ranks of police. Inside, all was light and, strangely, a little gay.

In marched Pflimlin and his Cabinet to take a front row bench. The Premier, who looks like a bank clerk, evidently wanted to quit. But the Socialists and center parties who voted him into office two weeks ago persuaded him it would be an act of weakness in the face of pressure.

Aged Socialist warrior Paul Ramadier, talking to Pflimlin and his ministers as if they were a class of college juniors, said, "The Assembly alone can relieve you of the burden of government."

To give in at this hour would be more terrifying for the destiny of the country. . . . You have no right to quit—even if you are in physical danger."

Even the Premier—tired to the edge of collapse by almost unending day and night meetings—seemed to stiffen.

Then came the attacks.

A deputy yelled at Pflimlin an insult so unprintable that the speaker would not repeat it in reprising the offer.

Jean Lipkowski, a Gaullist supporter, leaped from the rostrum to shout, "We do not believe you can master events! It is not you who is abandoning power. It is power which is abandoning you."

With clear reference to the defections among the armed forces, Lipkowski asked Pflimlin what power he had left to govern.

The Assembly was in an uproar. At times it was almost impossible to hear either the orator or the speaker.

After midnight the balloting began. The vote was 408-165 in favor of the government. The Assembly adjourned, its little act of courage finished.

Philanthropist Leaves Fortune In Cellar Cache

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The late James M. West, multimillionaire rancher-oilman who liked to give away silver dollars, left an estimated $290,000 in cash in a hidden cellar of his mansion here.

Atty. Robert H. Parsley said the existence of the hidden treasure, in silver dollars and smaller coins, had been kept secret for fear of prowlers in the West home.

An armored car was reported to have made seven trips in carrying the money to the Texas National Bank, where it was piled 5 feet high in an area of 8 by 10 feet in a counting room.

West, a diabetic, died Dec. 18, at the age of 54. An inventory of his estate has not been filed, but unofficial estimates of its value run as high as 100 million dollars.

His idiosyncrasies were many. In addition to handing out silver dollars, West frequently rode night patrol with Houston policemen. His home and his fleet of cars, which once included 41 Cadillacs, had elaborate radio equipment. His home also had disappearing doors and other trick devices.

Guards were reported to have crawled under the house to reach the hidden cellar where the money was found in cotton bags, paper sacks, barrels and gallon cans.

Although West inherited money he was said to have multiplied his estate many times through in-

A Bible Thought For Today

For other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ. (1 Corinthians 3:11)

Man Of Attractive Qualifications

Good citizens frequently bemoan the fact that it is a difficult thing to get the top calibre of man to stand for public office. This is true at all levels, from local to national.

It is refreshing when one of the solid, substantial leaders in business does answer the call of public service. Such a man this year is William Blakley, who has just made a formal opening of his campaign for the U. S. Senate seat from Texas, with a level-headed approach.

Several factors tend to make Blakley as a candidate attractive to Texans. He has achieved success in the civic and business fields, doing this on his own. He has followed the Texas pattern of plowing his own row, with sleeves rolled up, with the aim of making work pay off.

Blakley apparently has entered the state race free of fetters with various factions that have engaged in such bitter controversy in Texas during the past several years. True enough, he will be labeled as "conservative," but he has not been embroiled in the liberal-conservative warfare, and must be free of major obligations to any group.

Blakley's short span in the Senate, when he served an interim appointment term after Price Daniel's resignation, brought him almost unanimous praise. He made a good impression on Washington, and on the leaders in the Congress. His impact as a senator, on Texans, was brief, but well received.

Blakley is presenting his bid before the people with reasonableness and moderation. His first speeches and press conferences have been free of demagoguery, and have been limited to an open discussion of the rights of individuals and of the states. This is the kind of thinking that impresses Texans, and Blakley seems like a man in whom Texans could take pride.

How About Another Spot?

This is hardly of earth-shaking import, but we would suggest that a proper consideration be given to the end of next May would be the topic of where to hold commencement exercises.

The subject might be opened by eliminating the high school auditorium right off. Monday evening it didn't begin to accommodate the crowd, although it did manage to do a pretty fair job of stifling the throng that did manage to crowd into the enclosure. Naturally, under such conditions the acoustics are bad despite an attentive audience. If 154 graduates can attract such a following as that, what will the increasingly large classes draw? The recent junior high promotion is indicative of what will happen.

How about the gymnasium? It wasn't engineered for this sort of thing, but it can accommodate more than 2,000 if the floor is utilized.

Or how about moving out of doors? The stadium, the amphitheatre and other sites commend themselves for such a setting.

De Gaulle Expected To Take Over

PARIS—All over France committees for General Charles De Gaulle are being secretly formed, and while their existence is screened by the censorship applied by the government in Paris, they are preparing for the return to power of the hero.

They are made up of small businessmen, farmers, some upper civil servants and older people living on pensions. They share not so much a sense of hero worship as a deep disillusionment with things as they are and a conviction that De Gaulle may be able to do what has to be done for France.

They assume the general is coming to power. This is the widely accepted belief here in Paris despite the large majority given in the Assembly to the Pflimlin government. No one professes to know just when or how it will come about, but the fatalistic acceptance of the event is expressed in the shrug of the taxi driver who says, "Oh, well, we had better see what he can do."

The Rightist parties are preparing for it, and particularly the Peasant's Party of former Premier Antoine Pinay and Joseph Laniel. They might even pave the way for the general to take over legally by putting together a coalition of Rightist parties that would vote against higher taxes or the constitutional reforms that Premier Pflimlin has said are essential.

In that event the Communists would vote with the other Left parties and with some of the center, and the specter of a "popular front" would precipitate a new crisis and Pflimlin would fall.

The relationship of the Communists to De Gaulle and De Gaulleism is one of the mysterious unknowns in this weird political triangle. The line out of Moscow has become increasingly moderate, with stress on the fact that it was, after all, De Gaulle who as Premier after the war went to Moscow and reached an agreement with the Soviet Union. Plainly implied is the possibility that something like this could happen again.

Certainly, if De Gaulle came to power, the Communist-dominated Confederation of Trade Unions would demonstrate. There might be temporary work stoppages. But the belief of knowledgeable observers is that this would not seriously interfere with the general's assumption of broad and arbitrary powers.

And what of the general himself during this time when France is in a state of suspended animation, waiting for one system to expire and another to be born?

He is at his country retreat at Colombey-les-Deux Eglises, working with the calm view of destiny, which is the dominant element in his temperament, on the completion of the third volume of his memoirs. Those close to him say that he is adding a final chapter which will prophesy the future for France.

For De Gaulle, the history of the past

20 years is De Gaulle. This identification is both his strength and his weakness. It is his strength because it underwrites his unshakable confidence that he has the capacity to lead France out of the wilderness of confusion and conflict. But because it colors his judgment of contemporary events, it is a great weakness. Part of De Gaulle's distrust of the United States and American policy is based on his experience as leader of the Free French during World War II when he was often in conflict with Roosevelt and Churchill.

Living in the past so much, as he has done in his years of retreat, De Gaulle has a vivid memory of the dispute in North Africa after the American landings in 1942 when the American commander, General Eisenhower, denied authority to De Gaulle and his faction in Algiers.

De Gaulle and many others in France put the blame for Eisenhower's decision on the American diplomat, Robert Murphy. Therefore when this same Robert Murphy was sent by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on a good offices mission to try to reconcile the differences between France and Tunisia over the French bombing of a Tunisian border village, all of De Gaulle's suspicion was stirred anew.

While the two generals, Eisenhower and De Gaulle, are utterly unlike in temperament, what De Gaulle is saying to the French people today has some similarity to what Eisenhower was saying when he gave up the command of NATO to run for President in 1952.

He is saying that unity and national confidence are more important than the divisions of the parties. He is saying that he can be leader of all the people above the quarrels of the parties, that this is why the people look to him for salvation.

But whether De Gaulle understands the nature of the deep divisions in France and whether he has the political capacity to heal them and to weld the French people together is the greatest of all unknowns.

Midnight Savior In A Coalbin

WASHINGTON (AP)—Charles de Gaulle has been so vague, or just confused, about what he'd do as French premier that his bid for power is like asking the French to buy a savior at midnight in a coalbin.

The French crisis—over his efforts to get into a spot to straighten things out—is one that has truly left the experts guessing if not gasping. And no wonder.

News that the Assembly had temporarily brushed De Gaulle aside early today—by voting confidence in Premier Pierre Pflimlin—had hardly cleared the wires in this country when a startling bulletin came rattling through.

This one said that Pflimlin, despite his victory in the Assembly, was thinking of quitting anyway, that could open the door wider for De Gaulle to become premier. But although Pflimlin submitted his resignation, it was rejected for the moment, and he agreed to continue in office until a new government is ready to take over.

The most notable feature of all the interpretations of the past two weeks—written or verbal—has been the lack of positiveness not only on whether De Gaulle could take or be given power again but what he'd do if he got it.

De Gaulle has wrapped himself in such a fog—first by his silence in recent years, and more lately by his fuzzy statements—that no one not in his inner councils could claim to know what he had in mind.

He's opened up twice in the past week: first at a news conference and then in a written statement issued Tuesday. The words that came forth were so arrogant, pompous and vague that they looked mystical.

De Gaulle appears hypnotized—and so do his followers, or they pretend to be—by the memory that he was the rallying point for the demoralized French in World War II and could be again now.

In short, he's been asking the French to buy him on face value without any clearly stated program, policy or proposed solution for the multiple dilemmas of the French republic which has seen its army in effect revolt.

For the French to buy him on those terms is really asking for trouble since they don't, and can't, know whether he has any solutions, whether he could assert himself, or whether he'd be simply a front man and mousetrigger for the army.

And, since not all Frenchmen want to buy him at all, there's the prospect of civil war.

From the pomposity of his language it is clear De Gaulle has reached the point of considering himself a kind of historic monument; he talks of himself in the third person, as he might about the long-dead Joan of Arc.

To add to the confusion—not only in France but around the world—it is not known:

1. Whether he would try to take France out of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, an event which might wreck it for keeps.
2. What kind of agreement he might try to reach with the Soviet Union independently of France's Western allies.
3. What he'd do about suppressing the revolt of the Algerian Moslems, who want independence, or trying to work out some kind of settlement satisfactory to them.

Around The Rim

Guess What! Now, Why?

Little boys may be many things but they are never dull. They live in a wonderful world of fact and fancy, and what few inhibitions they have are naive and unpredictable. Big words hold no terror for them even if they mispronounce or misuse them; their logic is sometimes confusing but always profound.

Of course we could make a scrapbook of the doings and sayings of boys, for wherever we go there seems to be a neighborhood of them. Boys have many characteristics in common, among them an aversion to work per se. Lay out a job and you have to lash them to it like quarry slaves; let them find something that is fun but twice as hard and they will happily toil like coolies.

They also will come up with every creature that moves. Despite dire warnings of warts and all that sort of thing, Wiggle will pick up a toad frog, carry it affectionately or stuff it in his pocket, or more likely squeeze it and croak for mercy. The same goes for horned toads. Hughie Smith is eternally catching up with ground squirrels, rabbits, quail, etc. The other day we spotted a terrapin, which Wiggle had to have, and hardly had he got home before a great trade had taken place—a terrapin for a horned toad and two green lizards. Naturally, all these specimens have to be kept (until they can escape) in boxes, cans, jars, buckets.

The other day Wiggle and Junior Warren became intent on capturing a sparrow which had taken to nesting in one of the pipes of the clothes line standard. They tried poking sticks, attempted unsuccessfully to insert the water hose, and finally hit upon the ingenious method of musical lure. If they would but sing, eventually the bird would find this irresistible. Powerless to hold back, he would emerge and be captured. So they began singing, of all things, a commercial cigarette jingle. Presently Wiggle had to go into the house, but Junior continued the vocal barrage. He was weak on the jingle so he shifted to more familiar ground and took up "Jesus Loves Me." The bird was either irreligious or unimpressed.

Lately Wiggle has moved into the "guess what" phase. Every conversation begins with: "Guess what!" I reply that I don't know, don't have the slightest idea.

"Well take a guess," he says. You might as well guess—just guess about anything. Sometimes I just say "seven," hoping the issue at stake is numerical.

"What did you say seven for?" Wiggle asks. That's the way it goes. Words can be complex, but not to him. For instance, he said to me: "Daddy, why don't we get some mint?"

"We got a big patch under the hydrant in the back yard," I said. "What do we need with more mint?"

"Oh, I don't mean that kind. You know the kind you mix up and put in your rocks." Cement, naturally!

Not so long ago Master Kent Yates was out for a visit and he and Wiggle had come upon something that was beyond their immediate powers of comprehension. So Wiggle took the matter to his mother and she painstakingly explained it step by step, detail by detail.

"Do you understand?" she asked Kent.

"Yes I understand," he said, turned to his business at hand, and then added this casual bombshell: "But I don't know what you mean?"

Unique Woman In A Unique Field

Far be it from me to yak that the hand that once rocked the cradle now rock 'n' rolls the world. Still and all, there is no denying as time goes by that my sex continuously reaches out to her and latches onto more and more territory once marked "For Men Only."

I have just been talking with a woman engineer, Ruth Harlam, 33, who is up to her big, beautiful dark eyes in research and development of military weapons for Uncle Sam. For some time now she has been boss or supervisor of a group of masculine engineers working on the handling and launching systems for guided missiles.

At the Electro-Mechanical Laboratory of the American Machine and Foundry Company in Greenwich, Conn., Miss Harlam and her group are working to perfect the delicate and intricate machinery that first gets the missile onto the launching pad and then—whooooosh—gets it off. After that, the missile is on its own out in the wild blue.

"How in the world did you ever get mixed up in something so improbable for a woman?" I asked this petite and pretty young woman with a chic mop of short black curls above fine features and a rosy complexion.

"Well, I was doing my older brother's homework," she began. "He was taking a course in drafting at Hunter College, where I was specializing in languages. So I started doing his homework and I liked it better than languages."

"Oh, I went on and got my degree in languages at Hunter in 1945, but then I enrolled in mechanical engineering at the Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn."

First, Miss Harlam got her BME degree in 1949 and then her MME two years later. And, mind you, all the time she was in college, with the exception of her freshman year at Hunter, she worked during the day to earn a livelihood and went to school at night.

She was Nellie, the Beautiful Sewing Machine Operator, in the garment district by day and a co-ed after dark. As a child, she fled Hitler's Germany with her refugee parents and brother. When she reached America, Miss Harlam knew a good country when she saw it, rolled up her sleeves, went to work and is today a unique woman in a unique field.

"I started as a tracer at the American Machine and Foundry Company in 1951," she said, "probably helped along by the fact that World War II made it easier for women engineers to get jobs. But today I believe qualified women engineers have the same opportunities as men."

Although she is an ardent advocate of peace and works constantly toward that goal, Miss Harlam in recent years has worked on such unpeacelike projects as howitzers, antiaircraft guns and missiles.

"Right now I am involved in the field of preparedness, but I hope that someday we will develop a peacetime application for many of these projects," she said. "At the moment I am working on equipment to handle, assemble, fuel, transport and then launch missiles."

The third and newest sputnik, weighing one and a half tons, may worry a civilian like myself, but not Miss Harlam. "I am not so certain that the United States is lagging technically she said with considerable steam. "Maybe we've got a thing or two up our sleeve!"

Dealing With Treason In A 'Cold War'

WASHINGTON—Does a nation wait till subversive individuals complete their conspiracy against their own country before trying them for treason?

Too many followers of the so-called "liberal" school of thought are arguing, in effect, that it is better to let the horse be stolen before trying to lock the barn and that, even if the nation's safety may be jeopardized, individual rights come ahead of the right of the state.

But a subcommittee of the United States Senate has come forth with a recommendation that something drastic be done before treasonable purposes are accomplished. Here is the latest proposal in a report from the Senate's Subcommittee on Internal Security:

"The Congress should enact legislation to provide for the proper punishment of acts performed during a time of 'cold war' which, if a state of declared war existed, would be treasonable."

The "cold war" currently is costing the taxpayers of the United States billions of dollars a year. America is trying to win friends throughout the world and to thwart the malicious purposes of Communist imperialism. Already one "hot war" has resulted from the tensions of the "cold war." This occurred in Korea from 1950 to 1953. More than 136,000 American boys were casualties in that war. Those killed numbered 33,629.

Today the Communists are stirring up trouble throughout the world. They are active in North Africa, the Middle East, Southeast Asia and Latin America. They are fighting against American policies and programs, and dangerous situations are being created that could bring on a "hot war."

Under such circumstances, should any American citizen be assisting the Communists—giving them "aid and comfort"? The exact wording of the Constitution on the subject is as follows:

"Treason against the United States shall consist only in levying war against them, or in adhering to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort."

This issue, it will be noted is presented in two forms. While treason consists of "levying war," equally important is the statement that separately is also may consist of "adhering to the enemies" of the United States by "giving them aid and comfort."

What does the word "enemy" mean in this connection? The word "enemy" is often used in official documents in referring to our adversaries in the "cold war." But if the word is to be literally or technically used, there is, for example, at the moment an armistice in Korea but not a treaty of peace between the Communist enemy—Red China—and the United Nations, of whose troops the United States is still the military agent. Our armed forces guard the armistice line 24 hours a day. The United Nations in a formal resolution, moreover, is on record as having denounced Communist China as an "aggressor." Red China is the ally of the Moscow government, which has publicly admitted that it has been supplying arms and ammunition to Red China's forces in Korea. In international law, this makes the Soviet government also an "enemy."

The question is rightly asked, therefore, whether American citizens should go unpunished if they act as counselors to any enemy government or if they deliberately commingle or fraternize with official representatives of any enemy government for the purpose of thwarting the policies of the United States.

What's behind this demand for new legislation against treasonable and subversive activities? Mostly the misbehavior of those Americans who are consorting with governments directed by the Communist governments in Moscow and Peking in order to defeat the American government's policies. This is not a question of "freedom of speech," or of the bill of rights, as is argued by some of the critics who unwittingly put up a smoke-screen for the Communists by crying "hysteria" whenever anything is proposed that would nip treason in the bud. It's simply a question of protecting the nation against acts of subversion which, though committed during a "cold war," can have consequences parallel to those that would be punished as treasonable in a "hot war."

Spoudazio Fora Names Outstanding Member

Announcement of the group's outstanding clubwoman of the year and a clever installation service in the form of a panel skit were the high points of a dinner meeting of Spoudazio Fora Tuesday evening at Carlos Restaurant.

Mrs. W. W. Lansing, named Outstanding Woman of the Study Club, was the first member so recognized. The selection of a candidate for the honor will become a tradition with the group. A silver bonbon dish, appropriately inscribed, was presented to Mrs. Lansing.

Secretary and assistant reporter for the year, she was chosen for her service beyond the call of duty.

Under the format of a panel show entitled "My Line Is My Secret" and written by Mrs. Ennis Cochran, incoming officers disguised with robes and masks were seated at a table where Mrs. Oliver Cofer Jr. acted as panel leader. Members were asked to guess their identity and, as each one was installed, she shed her disguise and received a corsage of snapdragons, the club flower.

Mrs. Cofer had fashioned the corsages.

Mrs. John King II assumed the presidency and Mrs. Richard Paterson the vice presidency. Mrs. James C. Jones is the new treasurer. Mrs. Jack Watkins the corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Boyd Gibson the recording secretary. A silver bonbon dish was also presented to Mrs. Cofer in appreciation of her leadership for the past year.

At the meeting, membership was voted to Mrs. Joe Kent. Preliminary plans were made for a picnic in June. Members' husbands will be guests on that occasion.

A Mexican buffet dinner was served to 17 at the close of the final meeting of the year. Secret pal gifts were exchanged and names revealed.

Dr. Deza Is Speaker For Las Artistas

The use of art in therapy for mental patients was discussed Tuesday evening for members of Las Artistas and their guests. Dr. Philip Deza, formerly of Buenos Aires, now on the medical staff at the state hospital, was the speaker.

The group met for dinner at the Howard House, with husbands or wives as guests. Additional guests were Mrs. Bill Rosser and Mrs. George Thornburn.

It was decided to continue the workshops during the summer, with no business sessions scheduled. Time for the workshops will be at 7:30 p.m. each fourth Tuesday in the education room at the police station.

Twenty attended the dinner.

Lamesa OES Has Dinner; Election

LAMESA—Fifty members of the Lamesa Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star attended the annual banquet honoring the worthy matron and worthy patron of the chapter, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Stanfield, given recently in the Mesa Room of the Green Hut Cafe.

Mrs. Charnell Jobe was mistress of ceremonies for the dinner. The invocation was by D. L. Adcock, and the welcome by Mrs. Arpie White. Musical selections were presented by Mrs. Bob Lindsey Jr. and Mrs. Lloyd Thompson accompanied by Mrs. Jake Lippard. Mrs. Fred Johnson Jr. gave a poem and the response was made by Mr. and Mrs. Stanfield.

Following the dinner, the group held a stated meeting in the Masonic Hall where new officers were elected. Mrs. Pat O'Neil was elected worthy matron; U. R. Middleton, worthy patron; Mrs. Al Griffin, associate matron; H. C. Bartlett, associate patron.

A reception was held in the lounge with Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Parker and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Moody hosting the affair.

Evan Holmes Circle

The Ada Vaughn Convalescent Home was visited by members of the Evan Holmes Circle, Tuesday morning. The program, slanted toward community missions, was opened with a devotion by Mrs. John Vagt. Her text was Gen. 50. The closing prayer was offered by Mrs. M. S. Warren. The Circle is a unit of the Baptist Temple WMS.

Series of Parties For Miss Angier Continues

In the garden at the Carl Strom home this morning, turquoise blue was used in one section, with pink featured in another, where guests gathered for brunch.

The affair, in honor of Jimmie Lou Angier, was given by Mrs. Strom, Mrs. Harry Hurt and Mrs. J. E. Hogan.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Angier of Maracabo, Venezuela, and Huntsville, Miss Angier will be married in Huntsville on June 15 to Robert Angel. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Angel, 706 Hillside.

Wrought iron furniture was placed among the shrubs and flowers, with colorful pillows adding to the seating capacity for the informal party.

Silver chafing dishes at each end of a pink table held tiny meat balls, which were accompanied by Chinese pancakes. A pink heart-shaped salad was served with angel food squares, in which a fresh blossom had been placed.

Mrs. Angel, Mrs. Bob Middleton, Mrs. Harry Hurt Jr. of West Covington, Calif., Mrs. Tom Good and Mrs. Hershel Ezell of Midland assisted at the table and presided at two holding coffee and tea.

Peggy Hogan was at the guest register. A hostess gift was presented to the honoree.

Miss Angier, who is to leave soon for Huntsville, was complimented with a gadget party Tuesday morning in the home of Mrs. Sherman Smith.

Calling cards of the 12 guests were kitchen accessories all wrapped in various unusual ways. These were presented to the honoree.

On a tea cart from which refreshments were served, was a set of copper measuring cups and rack holding pomegranate blossoms and roses in a harmonizing shade. A small card attached to one cup announced, "These are for Jimmie Lou."

Rosebud Club Tours Nat Shick Garden

A tour of the yard of Mr. and Mrs. Nat Shick followed the business meeting and officer installation for Rosebud Garden Club members Tuesday morning. The group met at the home of Mrs. Travis Carleton, who was assisted by Mrs. Odell Womack.

Preceding the business, Mrs. Jess Thornton, president, served coffee from a blue pottery service that matched the table cloth. The milk glass epergne held fresh fruit along with red, yellow and pink snapdragons and bells of Ireland.

Letters of appreciation from Supt. of Schools Floyd Parsons and Mrs. John Annen, cafeteria manager of the Big Spring schools, were read. The club had furnished arrangements for the Washington Place School cafeteria during the year.

The club voted to open the club year with the annual breakfast in September which the social committee will arrange. September is the month during which this club will furnish flowers for the Big Spring State Hospital. The members voted to have a permanent sign made for use in the spring yard pilgrimage. This club will assist in distributing material for the cleanup campaign.

Mrs. Tip Anderson was installation officer and instructed Mrs. W. B. Younger in her duties as president. Mrs. Charles Creighton as treasurer, and Mrs. Travis Carleton, who served as a proxy for Mrs. Omar Jones, the corresponding secretary.

Mrs. Younger made the following announcements as to committee members: Program, Mrs. C. M. Boles, Mrs. F. O. Gebert; yearbook, Mrs. Walter Ross, Mrs. J. W. Furquerson, Mrs. Jess Thornton; telephone, Mrs. Dick Lane, Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr.; historical, scrapbook, Mrs. J. G. Lewis, Mrs. J. E. Anderson, Mrs. G. G. Morehead; publicity, Mrs. Joe Pickle; social, Mrs. Travis Carleton, Mrs. Odell Womack, Mrs. Jack Cook.

Twelve members met at the Shick home and were conducted on a tour of the interesting yard and shown the result of his hobby in carving. Refreshments were served by the host couple.

Club Formed Tuesday For Junior Gardeners

Potential gardeners have organized under the direction of Mrs. Obie Bristow, and Tuesday morning, they met at her home for the election of officers. Mrs. Bristow will act as adviser.

The Big Spring Junior Garden Club is the name selected by the group of grade school age, and a petition will be presented to the senior club for their service as sponsoring unit. Mrs. Bristow is a member of that club.

Elected president was Gregg Gossett; vice president, Lois Tarbox, and secretary-treasurer is Ken Lawrence.

Membership has been set to 15, with the number complete at the present time. Meetings are scheduled for each Tuesday morning at 9:30 during the months of June, July and August. When the school term begins in the fall, meetings will be held the first Tuesday of the month.

Committees were named Tuesday morning. They include William Boyd and Ken Lawrence,

Peggy Hogan Complimented At Bridal Tea In Hensley Home

Tuesday afternoon brought another party in the series being given for the Miss Peggy Hogan was named honored guest for a tea in the J. R. Hensley home.

Miss Hogan, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Hogan, is to become the bride of Boone Powell Jr. of Dallas on June 7 at the First Baptist Church.

Guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Larson Lloyd and invited into the living room, where a receiving line was formed of Mrs. Hensley and her daughter, Kandy, the honoree and her mother, and Mrs. H. D. Munal, mother of Mrs. Hensley.

Joining as cohostesses were Mrs. Lloyd, Mrs. Clyde Angel, Mrs. Coy Nalley, Mrs. Robert Stripling, Mrs. Lee Rogers, Mrs. Joe Pond and Mrs. H. M. Jarrott. Tiny bags of net, tied with ribbon and holding rice, were house party corsages.

Hostesses alternated at serving punch and coffee with various confections. On the punch table, set up in the family room, was an arrangement of pink and white garden flowers in a pedestal bowl against a background of pink cloth. Milk glass was the service appointment.

In the dining room, a table for coffee was made up with white satin under a floor length net overlay. Plain net formed the full ruffle which was attached to all-over embroidered net. Crystal was used here; triple candelabra held white tapers on each side of a centerpiece made of pink carnations. The flowers were fashioned in epergne effect with crystal leaves and clusters of pink net. Pink net also formed the base.

Others assisting in the house party were Jimmie Lou Angier and Kenda McGibbon, who registered guests.

Attend Graduation At W. Texas State

Mrs. Aaron Damron and Mrs. Thomas E. Pickett, both of Big Spring, spent the last weekend in Canyon, where they attended commencement exercises at West Texas State College. Mrs. Damron's son, Bill, received the master of business administration degree.

Other activities included the president's reception honoring graduates on Saturday night, visiting with Jim Damron, a junior agriculture student, visiting in Amarillo, visiting the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum and other campus buildings, and a motor trip through Palo Duro Canyon.

Has New Operator

Roy Tackett has assumed management of the spic-and-span Cosden Service Station No. 8 (above) located at Fourth and State Streets. Tackett is offering new Mansfield tires and tubes at special rates.

They can be purchased without interest or carrying charges on Cosden credit cards. Liberal offers are made for trade-in casings.

Polishampoo Ups Car Value

Every year, says the Gaston Johnston Corp., thousands of automobiles are junked.

Not because they're worn out or won't run, but simply because the owners have neglected to look after the appearance of the vehicles. The paint fades and stains, and the finish takes on such a "beat up" look that the value of the vehicle dwindles to the vanishing point.

The loss isn't necessary, says the Gaston Johnston Corp., manufacturer of Polishampoo, a revolutionary liquid which polishes as well as cleans automotive finishes.

Whether your car is one of the gleaming new models or an old one you're trying to stretch out until you can trade it in on something more up to date, neglect of its finish is pure waste. It also shows a lack of pride and business-sense, for a well-kept paint job not only means extra trade-in value but tags the car's owners as a citizen worthy of respect and trust.

Ray Tackett Takes Over Operation Of Cosden Service Station No. 8 Here

Roy Tackett, who formerly lived here and then moved to California for a time, is now operating Cosden Service Station No. 8, located at Fourth and State Streets.

Tackett keeps the station open from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays. On Sunday, the establishment opens at 9 a.m. and closes at 7 p.m.

Roy has a tire deal he thinks you can't afford to turn down, if your automobile is in need of new casings.

Cosden Station No. 8, as do all other Cosden stations in this area, stocks the famous Mansfield tires and tubes and Tackett says the deal he extends to the motoring public can't be beat by any competitor.

Tackett's concern offers good prices on trade-ins and he figures he can save you up to $25 on a set of casings. If you're planning a vacation in the near future and a feeling that your present tires are a traveling risk, consult Tackett about a change.

You can purchase Mansfield tires and tubes on your Cosden credit card on three to six months' terms, without paying interest or carrying charges.

All sizes of tires are stocked by the establishment. Whether you are driving a small vehicle or one in the luxury class, you can be outfitted in casings at Cosden No. 8.

Tackett also makes other automotive accessories such as X-Cel batteries available to the public. X-Cel batteries carry anywhere from 24 to 36 months' guarantees.

Expert lubrication, washing and polishing is also done by employees of the station.

Driver Has Full Line Of IH Equipment

The prospects for good crops throughout the county are better than they have been in several years, and the farmers are looking forward to bringing in those crops this fall.

There is plenty of work, however, before the crops are laid by this winter, and to adequately handle that work, every farmer will need equipment. A good crop also calls for good equipment.

And good equipment always means International Harvester.

At Driver Truck and Implement Co., owned and operated by Curtis Driver, you can find a complete line of farm equipment, tractors, and trucks and pickups. Just name it in the way of farm gear, and Driver Truck and Implement—and International Harvester—has it.

Farmers have found from experience that they can get the job done faster, easier, and better with the famous IH brand on it. Needing a tractor? International has one which will fit your needs. Take a look at the Farmall 350 which can be adapted to fit your needs. Models come with four especially designed motors, for use with diesel, gasoline, distillate, or liquified petroleum gas.

Famed Lambretta Scooter Sold By Montgomery Ward

Montgomery Ward is now distributor in Big Spring of the remarkable and world-famous Lambretta Motor Scooter.

The story invites the public to inspect the stock of these unusual Italian-manufactured scooters.

Features of the Lambretta which will catch the eye of any person interested in motors is the possibility the Lambretta offers up to 115 miles per gallon of gasoline from its powerful, dependable 4.8 HP engine.

Lambretta has produced 1,500,000 of the fine machines and their renown has spread across the world. The Lambretta comes into two models—standard and deluxe.

The standard comes equipped with a spare tire and wheel. The deluxe has a rear seat for two-passenger use; a speedometer, spare tire and spare wheel.

Quick kick starters are a feature. All parts are made of the best in materials and each will render miles and miles of trouble free service.

The 4.8 HP engine is powerful, dependable and efficient. It is simply made to eliminate all unnecessary additional parts and to guarantee less trouble and mechanical breakdown.

The scooters have both front and rear brakes insuring quick and safe stops. A speed of 50 miles per hour on oil-gas mixture is possible for the Lambretta.

'MYSTERY' SERIES

Photographer Finds Farms Of Paul Adams Attractive

The aerial photographer who shot the air pictures of the "mystery farms" appearing in the Big Spring Herald apparently took a liking to the well-kept property of Paul Adams.

First of the "mystery farm" pictures three weeks ago was identified by Mrs. R. N. Adams, mother of the Ackerly man, and Adams received the reward-free movie tickets and a copy of the farm photo.

Now the third of the series has been printed in the paper—and identified.

Guess who owns it?

The owner identified the farm Monday from the photograph which appeared last Wednesday.

He said that his father, the late Reece N. Adams, bought the 320-acre tract from Joe Monroe, back in 1949. The farm had originally been a part of the famous Slaughter Ranch and has passed through several owners' hands before it was acquired by the elder Adams. The farm is five miles south and east of Ackerly and is occupied by Algie Nichols. Nichols has been on the place only a year.

When R. N. Adams died in 1950, the property came into the hands of its present owner, Paul said that immediately on its purchase by his father, a program of terracing was initiated which has been kept up for the past 11 years. Paul and Mr. Adams replaced the run down house which was on the farm with a modern residence now in use, the first year of their ownership.

A hundred acres of the land is in cotton, the balance in feed, Adams said.

The farm is medium tight land. Adams owns two other farms. One of these is near Fairview and the other in Dawson County.

Whether other of the aerial shots will turn out to be another Adams farm remains to be seen. So far, he has two glossy prints of the pictures and has been given movie passes on two of the three "mystery farm" pictures appearing in the Herald.

Senators Planning Jobless Pay Battle

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bipartisan Senate group planned a fight today to broaden legislation to extend unemployment benefits. But supporters of an emergency bill said they have the votes to pass it without change.

A final vote on the anti-recession measure was possible today, but there was some sentiment as debate began to wait until tomorrow for a vote.

The emergency bill, already passed by the House, follows closely Eisenhower administration recommendations in this field.

Fighting Renews In Lebanese City

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Intense fighting flared again yesterday in Tripoli, the Lebanese Mediterranean seaport where the little Middle East nation's crisis began 19 days ago.

Eyewitness reports said two members of the forces opposing pro-Western President Camille Chamoun were killed and 12 wounded. The opposition fighters reportedly tried to break out of the old Moslem quarter where they have been blockaded and the government's security forces forced them back.

Skirmishes also were reported in Halba, in northeast Lebanon, in central Lebanon security forces threw a cordon around Baalbek, held by rebellious Druze tribesmen.

Opposition leaders last night rejected the government's offer to solve the bitter crisis by pledging that Chamoun would not try to amend the constitution so he could serve a second six-year term. The President's known ambition to continue in office, which under the present constitution he must quit Sept. 23, has been a major issue in the recent violence in which more than 200 have been killed.

At U. N. headquarters in New York, the Security Council dodged an East-West debate on Lebanon's charges that the rebellion had been fostered by President Nasser's United Arab Republic. The Council agreed unanimously to take up the Lebanese complaint, then postponed discussion of it until after the Arab League Council considers the Lebanese charges at a meeting over the weekend.

Dionne Quints Are 24 Today

MONTREAL (AP)—The four surviving Dionne quintuplets are 24 today but any plans for birthday celebrations are their secret.

The girls—Annette, Cecile, Yvonne and Marie—all live in the Montreal area. But efforts to reach them or persons close to them for information about their birthday plans have met with no success.

This is the girls' fourth birthday without Emilie, fraternal of the five, who died Aug. 6, 1954, during an epileptic seizure.

Two of the sisters now are married, Annette to Germain Alard, a University of Montreal student, and Cecile to radio technician Philippe Langlois. Friends said several weeks ago that Cecile is pregnant.

Yvonne and Marie have been sharing an apartment in downtown Montreal, but reports circulated that they were no longer living together. Their whereabouts are not known to the local press, however.

Neighbors Thwart Enraged Husband

HOUSTON (AP)—An enraged husband was restrained by neighbors from killing a 22-year-old service station attendant he found in his home yesterday. The intruder is in jail charged with attempted criminal assault on the homeowner's invalid wife, 52.

The woman, a victim of Parkinson's Disease, is in a serious condition at a hospital. Doctors said she suffered a brutal beating.

Romance Wins Over Discipline

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Let romance temper discipline.

So decreed the Michigan Civil Service Commission yesterday in reinstating a state hospital attendant fired for courting a convalescent patient he later married.

Francis W. Lockwood, 54, a Caro State Hospital employee, was restored to his job effective June 2.

Dr. W. W. Dickerson, hospital chief, fired Lockwood March 1 after twice forbidding him to continue the courtship, which he said had a detrimental effect on medical treatment.

Lockwood and the former patient were married April 11—one day after her discharge from hospital care.

Wearing the military beret and camouflaged battle dress, Gen. Massu has been one of the key figures to put Gen. Charles De Gaulle into power in France.

2 Groups Of Texas Convicts Quickly End Sitdown Strikes

WELDON, Tex. (AP)—A second strike of prisoners at Eastham Prison Farm ended suddenly today when 242 convicts picked up their tools and returned to work.

The first strike, which erupted at 1:30 p.m. yesterday, broke up about dawn when the 232 strikers, after a sleepless night, returned to the fields.

The second strike was by white prisoners who were not of Latin-American descent. Yesterday's outbreak was by Latin-American convicts.

The original strikers, hungry, thirsty and virtually sleepless, sullenly returned to work about dawn.

Prison general manager O. B. Ellis lectured the first strikers for 10 minutes, saying: "You eat better than three-fourths of the people of Texas."

Ellis told the prisoners the only excuse he'd heard for the strike was some complaint about the food.

"You eat better than three-fourths of the people in Texas," he told them.

One convict spoke up. "Mr. Ellis," he said, "the food isn't very good. We only get one spoonful of syrup for five hot cakes, and we can't eat that way."

Ellis snapped back that the man was well fed.

The men were then lined up and returned to work. They had gone without food and water since yesterday noon.

Ellis sent the water truck around as soon as the men returned to work, but said they would get no food until the noon meal.

A few of the men sneered while Ellis spoke, but all listened attentively.

Ellis refused to allow newsmen to take notes and wouldn't let a photographer take pictures. He said he didn't want the convicts to know there was a newsman in the area.

Ellis said the menu for lunch yesterday, just before the strike, consisted of fried ham, cole slaw, brown gravy, pinto beans, corn bread dressing, buttered cabbage, vegetable soup, stewed fruit, mustard greens, sliced green onions, pickled beets, bread, lemons and cookies.

Four accidents occurred Tuesday. A one-car mishap, collision of another machine with a store, and two vehicle collisions were reported in the city Tuesday.

Police said a car operated by Anna Matlock, 908 Johnson, hit the Newsom Food Store at Bell and 3rd last night. Douglas Reuben Boren, 206 W. 18th, was driver of the car involved in a one-vehicle mishap at 17th and Douglas last night.

In collision at 3rd and Benton Tuesday were autos driven by Jackie Lynn Thomas, 1607 Virginia, and Glenn Howard Jackson, Odessa, officers said. A truck operated by Harry Durham, Dallas, and a car driven by James Allen Faige, Cortez, Colo., were in collision at 3rd and Scurry, policemen reported.

Marijuana Charges Filed Against Two. Charges of unlawful possession of marijuana were filed today against two Lamesa Latin-Americans in a complaint lodged in the court of Walter Grice, justice of the peace. The complaint was signed by Leo Hull, city detective, who said the two men would be transferred to the county jail sometime today.

He identified the pair as Pete Garcia and Elias Narvas. Both claimed Lamesa as their home.

The two were arrested as they walked along the 700 block on the Lamesa highway.

Motor Is Stolen. Theft of a 54-horsepower outboard motor last Friday night was reported today. Police said the motor was taken from the porch of the N. O. Decker residence, 1221 E. 17th.

Dallas on a charge of misappropriating $400,000 from ICT Insurance Co. He is under another indictment in Austin on charges of bribing Saunders and Garland Smith, another former state insurance commissioner, at the Dallas trial. Saunders refused to answer any questions about his dealings with Cage or the ICT group, saying it might incriminate him.

Defense lawyers protested the trial court's acceptance as exhibits of 16 checks given Saunders by Cage. They claimed Saunders' appearance and the checks alleged another criminal offense for which Cage was not charged.

"The issuance of the checks to Saunders under appellant's directions were similar transactions to that of the issuance of the $100,000 check in question, in that company funds were being disbursed at appellant's directions. Under the record the court did not err in admitting the checks in evidence on the issuance of appellant's intent in the $100,000 transaction in question."

Cage is still under indictment in

Ike Signs Bill, Letter Cost To Four Cents

WASHINGTON (AP)—It'll cost you four cents to mail a letter, starting Aug. 1.

Although voicing some objections, President Eisenhower yesterday signed a bill providing boosts in rates in letters, air mail, post cards, newspapers, magazines and advertising matter.

The legislation also carries pay increases for some 520,000 postal workers and freshdoughs probable pay hikes for another million workers in the government's civil service.

Eisenhower had asked a bigger rate increase and a smaller postal pay boost. He voiced disappointment that the new rate adjustments allowed by Congress "fall by several hundred million dollars to bringing the postal account into balance."

But the President said he signed the bill "because it is clear that those provisions which are in the public interest outweigh the objectionable provisions of the bill."

The rate boosts will bring in an estimated 550 million dollars a year in additional revenue. The 10 per cent pay increase for most postal workers retroactive to Jan. 1, will cost an estimated 265 million. Both the postal rate and pay increases are the biggest ever voted by Congress.

Effective Aug. 1, the price of a letter stamp will rise 1 cent from the 3 cents in effect since 1932. On that date, the rate will go up from 6 cents to 7 and post cards from 2 to 3 cents.

Higher rates for newspapers, magazines and advertising matter will become effective next Jan. 1.

Mr. Downes is survived by his wife, one son, Willis Daniel Downes Jr., Lamesa; three sisters, Mrs. Mattie Blakely of Livingston, Mrs. Mertie Weiser of Rosebud and Mrs. Hattie White of Lott; and one brother, Archie Downes of Lott.

A meeting of delegations from several West Texas Lutheran churches was held in Odessa Monday night to plan the area friendship and open house week to be held in October.

Pastors, elders, board members and other workers elected officers and committees.

The Rev. Paul Heckman of Odessa introduced as speaker the Rev. O. A. Waack, secretary of evangelism, St. Louis.

Attending the meeting from Big Spring were the Rev. Wayne Dittloff, Chap. Marvin Berkeland, Jim Crawford, Moran Oppesgaard, Ted Pachall, Mrs. H. H. Smith, and Mrs. Bill Unger.

American Cheered. MOSCOW (AP)—An overflow crowd cheered the Philadelphia orchestra Tuesday night at its Moscow debut. The orchestra is touring western Russia as part of the new U.S.-Soviet cultural exchange program. All five concerts in Moscow are sold out.

Two Held For Theft. Two men are being held in jail at Rankin in connection with theft of a quantity of clothing from the car of Edgar Phillips here last Saturday night, police said today.

EXPERT TELLS GIRLS NOT TO RUIN FIGURES

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Here's a warning, gals, straight from Paris: "Don't try to look like Jayne Mansfield, Marilyn Monroe or Mamie Van Doren—you'll ruin your figures."

And to show he really likes to live dangerously, French swim suit designer Fernand Lafitte fired off another bomb Tuesday:

"Most of your movie stars have terrible figures."

Europeans don't admire the big-bosomed look, he said. "It's worship is largely concentrated in America."

Lafitte—a bachelor—said American girls, seeking the movie star look, try to build themselves up or bleach their hair or both.

"Instead," he advised, "use your own natural beauty and taste to make yourself more alluring. Don't imagine you're something you're not."

The handsome designer, who built booty traps in the French underground during World War II, was in town en route home from designing a line of swim suits.

Willis D. Downes Dies At Lamesa

LAMESA—Willis Daniel Downes, 58, died at his home here at 4:45 a.m. today.

Funeral services are scheduled for 3 p.m. Thursday in the Higginbotham Chapel with Rev. J. Roy Haynes and the Rev. Cecil Vest to officiate. Interment will be in Lamesa Memorial Park.

Mr. Downes is survived by his wife, one son, Willis Daniel Downes Jr., Lamesa; three sisters, Mrs. Mattie Blakely of Livingston, Mrs. Mertie Weiser of Rosebud and Mrs. Hattie White of Lott; and one brother, Archie Downes of Lott.

Operator Preparing To Final Northwest Dawson Discovery

Midwest No. 1 Davis, prospective discovery in northwestern Dawson County, flows substantially on a series of tests today and prepared to complete.

There were shows of oil and gas on the Harper & Huffman No. 1 Miller, eight miles northwest of Gall, but operator was deepening.

Slight gas shows were reported on Huskey No. 2 Breedlove in northwest Martin, but nothing really significant.

In Garza County Shell No. 1 C, D Slaughter flowed at 19 barrels oil per hour on a test in the Pennsylvania.

Harper & Huffman No. 1 Miller, 660 from the north and west lines of section 1-30-50, T&P, made a straddle drillstem test from 8,193-8,233 with the tool open six hours. Gas surfaced in 31 minutes and recovery was 2,368 feet of heavy oil and gas-cut drilling mud, plus 2 feet of oil-cut salt water, and 70 feet of clean oil. The flowing pressure was 55-595, the 15 minutes shut-in pressure was 3,270. Operator drilled to 8,388 feet in lime and chert.

Sinclair No. 1 Waddell, 1,908 from the south and 660 from the west lines of section 23-30-61, T&P, eight miles southwest of Justiceburg, was at 5,000 in lime and shale.

Shell No. 1 Miller, 1,980 from the north and 660 from the west lines of section 52-97, H&TC, was bottomed at 4,865 in lime. Operator took a drillstem test from 4,735-55 in the Clear Fork for 25 minutes and recovered 4,315 feet of drilling mud. The packer failed, however, and another test was being taken from 4,690-4,755.

Brown, Liedtke & Butler-Richardson No. 1 York, 1,980 from the south and west lines of 323-97, H&TC, 14 miles east of Gall, was at 8,145 in lime and chert. It took a drillstem test from 8,114-23 with the tool open 12 minutes. The tool failed, but another test was being taken from 8,114-23 with the tool open 12 minutes. The tool failed, but another test was being taken from 8,114-23 with the tool open 12 minutes.

J. E. Jones No. 1-A-26 Canon, 350 from the north and west lines of section 26-35-50, T&P, made a 169.37 barrels of 39 gravity oil and eight per cent water per day. Gas oil ratio was 790-1. Total depth was 7,280, top of pay 7,080, the 5 1/2-inch string set at 7,278 perforations set 7,080-7,219.

In the Fluvanna (Strawn) field, John J. Eisner No. 2 Jones, 660 from the east and 1,980 from the H&TC, elevation 2,569, flowed 201-99 barrels of 40 gravity oil through 3 1/2-inch choke. Gas-oil ratio was 32-1, and tubing pressure 40. The venture bottomed at 7,856 after topping pay at 7,805 and setting 5 1/2-inch string at 7,856 and perforating at 7,805-09. It treated with 500 gallons of acid.

Midwest No. 1 Davis, 2,310 from the south and 330 from the west lines of section 60-M, EL&RR, was bottomed at 8,521 in Pennsylvania limestone for a series of tests. Operator set a 5 1/2-inch string at bottom and drilled to 8,519 and perforated 8,491-97 and swabbed dry naturally. The perforations were washed with 500 gallons of acid. Operator pulled the swab seven times and the well kicked off. In the first hour through 4 inch choke it made 40.75 barrels of oil. In the second through 3 1/2 inch choke it made 10.9 barrels. Other results all through 3 1/2 inch choke were third hour 20.41 barrels, fourth hour 21 barrels, fifth hour 18.58, sixth hour 19.7 barrels. The tubing pressure was 235 and the operator shut in to build tank batteries and then take potential test and complete.

Garza. Shell No. 1-C-D Slaughter, 660 from the north and 1,980 from the east lines of section 43-2, T&N, 13 miles southwest of Post and half a mile southwest of production, took a straddle drillstem test from 8,033-8,040 with the tool open 90 minutes. Gas surfaced in 5 minutes, oil in 13. Operator cleaned to pits for five minutes and then in 70 minutes flowed 19.2 barrels of 37.5 gravity oil plus 2 per cent basic sediment. Recovery was 270 feet of very heavily gas and oil-cut mud. Flowing pressure was 2,683-3,200 and the 30-minute shut-in pressure was 3,265. Operator drilled ahead to 8,187 in lime and chert. The formation tested was Pennsylvania.

Shell No. 1-C-D Slaughter, 1,980 from the north and 660 from the west lines of 21-1, Hays, 13 miles southwest of Post, was at 5,364 in lime, taking a straddle drillstem test from 5,287-98.

Shell No. 1 D Slaughter, in the southeast corner of section 17-1, Hays, was at 1,780 in redbeds.

Standard No. 1 Currie, 660 from the north and west lines of section 220-29, W&NW, was at 8,800 in shale.

Humble No. 1-E Douthitt, 660 from the north and west lines of section 144-29, W&NW, flowed 10 barrels of oil and 79.1 barrels of basic sediment and water. Unofficial reports said gas-oil ratio was 7,910-1. The show was through perforations 1,392-96. The casing was set at 1,485.

Standard No. 2 Guffee, 3,096 from the south and 330 from the west lines of section 58-20, La-Vaca Nav, 2 miles north of Vincent, was at 5,361 feet in lime and shale.

Humble No. 2 Edwards, 330 from the north and 1,650 from the west lines of section 32-30-15, T&P, pumped 65.32 barrels of 29.2 gravity oil, plus 20 per cent water, per hour on test. Pay was topped at 2,610 on an elevation of 2,263 feet. The pipe was set at 2,749 and perforated from 2,610-36. Total depth is 2,760. The well was traced with 15,000 gallons.

Hamon & Republic No. 1 Holton, 7,577 from the east, League 246, Wheeler CSL, drilled to 11,487 in lime and shale.

Pan-American No. 8 Breedlove, 1,073 from the south and 25 feet from the west lines of labor 11, league 258, Briscoe CSL, was at 8,847 in lime.

Huskey & Pano-Tech No. 2 Breedlove, 1,419 from the north and 4,509 from the east, lines of league 258-Briscoe CSL, took a drillstem test from 10,570-748 with the tool open 1 1/2 hours. Recovery was the 950 foot waterblanket, of which 180 was mud cut; 180 feet of slightly gas cut drilling mud was also recovered but there were no shows of oil or gas in the drill-pipe. Flowing pressure was 525-965, and the 30-minute shut-in pressure 4,480. Operator drilled to 1,025 and prepared for a third drillstem test.

Frank Waters No. 12 Strain, 330 from the south and east lines of labor 14, O'Keefe Subdivision, Reiger survey, elevation 2,220, bottomed at 1,726 after topping pay at 1,587. It set the 5-inch string at 1,722 and perforated 1,587-1,700 and treated with 20,000 gallons. It had an initial production of 36.6 barrels of 23 gravity oil per day, plus 20 per cent water. Gas-oil ratio was 300-1.

Humble No. 1-B Reed, C SW SW 151-29, W&NW, was at 1,180 in shale.

Duncan Drilling Company of Big Spring staked No. 3 TXL, 1,650 from the north and 990 from the east lines of section 1-31-58, T&P, 18 miles east of Garden City. It will go to 2,500 feet.

Cosden Petroleum No. 1-A Alesander, plugged back to 5,670, was swabbing load oil.

CERV HELPS INFLICT DEFEAT UPON TURLEY

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Bob Cerv, who became a hefty hitter by shedding some weight, seems to have made Bob Turley his favorite target as the Kansas City Athletics make their bid to flip the scale against the New York Yankees this season.

The slugger, outfielder, down to a trim 204 or so after sweating off about 10 pounds, crashed his second home run off the no-windup right-hander and drove in four runs as the band of ex-Yankees cracked the varsity 7-3.

Turley, whose season-opening string of shutout innings was junked at 19 by Cerv's home run as the A's lost 8-1 in New York May 2, had given up only six earned runs while completing each of his starts. He had a 7-0 record going into last night's game at Kansas City.

This time, he lasted only five innings, giving up six runs—three on Cerv's first-inning homer.

The victory hoisted the A's past Boston into second place behind the American League-leading Yankees. The Red Sox lost 3-2 at Detroit. Cleveland defeated Baltimore 7-6 in 10 innings and the Chicago White Sox beat Washington 7-3.

Jack Urban, a onetime Yankee farm hand, won his third. He walked none and struck out eight, three times fanning Mickey Mantle, whose hitting streak was ended at 14. The Yankees scored on Elston Howard's fourth-inning homer and got two in the seventh.

A pair of unearned runs, on Frank Malzone's error, gave the Tigers the edge in the sixth. But Vito Valentini, recalled from the minors Saturday, had to strike out pinch hitter Gene Stephens after Bill Renna's RBI double in the ninth to save Paul Foytack's fourth victory. Ted Williams homered in the fourth, Tom Brewer was the loser.

A bases-loaded walk by relief pitcher Billy O'Dell handed the Orioles their sixth straight defeat after J. W. Porter's first homer of the year had given the Indians a 6-6 tie in the ninth. Hoyt Wilhelm won his first in relief.

Early Wynn (5-2) won his fourth in a row for the White Sox, but gave 10 hits and needed relief in the ninth. Four runs in the fourth, two scoring on an error and the other pair on Wynn's single, Griggs.

Tabbed the best lightweight prospect on the scene, Scanlon is undefeated in 25 bouts. He risks the record in his national TV debut (8 p.m. CST, ABC in Chicago) Stadium against the home town's Bob-by Rogers.

Commercial League Champions

Giardello Is Singled Out

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Giardello, Philadelphia middleweight contender who is unbeaten in his last 16 fights, has been named "Fighter of the Month" for May by Ring magazine. Giardello is ex-champ Carmen Basilio.

The only vacant title is in the welterweight division and that will be filled June 6 with the winner of the Virgil Akins-Vince Martinez match at St. Louis. The Ring lists Akins as No. 1 and Martinez No. 2.

Spahn Picks Up Win No. 7 At Cards' Expense

Warren The Wonder Spahn, working his usual magic over the St. Louis Cardinals, is a third of the way home today in his run for a record 20-victory season. And the National League schedule is less than a quarter over.

After being sidetracked by home runs in his last two starts, the 37-year-old southpaw gained his seventh victory of the season last night on a pinch-hit, two-out, ninth inning homer by Joe Adcock as the Milwaukee Braves junked Sam Jones' two-hit shutout for a 3-2 decision over the Cards.

Spahn, now 7-1, can set a major league record for left-handers by bagging his ninth 20-victory season. He now shares the record with former American League Bob Lefty Grove.

The Braves closed within a game of first-place San Francisco, beaten 5-1 at Philadelphia, while third-place Pittsburgh, moved within four games of the top with a 5-3 victory over Los Angeles. Cincinnati defeated the Chicago Cubs 4-3 in 10 innings.

If Sad Sam's said these days, it's no wonder after what's happened to the Cardinal right-hander in his last two starts. He is beaten 1-0 by Philadelphia and Robin Roberts last week. And last night, he gave up only a pair of harmless singles until the ninth.

Then Ed Mathews singled and Jones hit Wes Covington with a pitch. A couple of forceouts carried Mathews home, and Sad Sam then gave up his fourth hit. Adcock's lowering two-run shot over the center field fence.

Rip Repulski slammed a three-run homer in the first for the St. Louis Cardinals, and Jack Sanford home while allowing 10 hits for a 4-4 record.

A bases-loaded single by Don Hoak gave the Redlegs an unearned, tie-breaking run in the 10th against reliever Don Elston, now 5-2. Hal Jeffcoat won it in relief of Brooks Lawrence, who failed to finish for the seventh time in 10 starts. Home runs by Jerry Lynch and Frank Robinson gave the Redlegs a tie after the Cubs counted three in the fourth, two on Walt Moryn's homer.

The Pirates counted 10 hits—the first six for extra bases—while handing Don Drysdale his eighth defeat against two victories. Ron Kline won his sixth, but needed Ron Blackburn's relief help in the ninth.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Harold Davis, the HCJC basketball coach, says the 1959 Howard College tournament will go with eight teams again.

Ark City, Kansas, won't be back. Neither will Temple. And San Antonio may be substituted for one of the clubs which has been coming here.

The tournament, one of the best in the state every year, will be held Jan. 1-2-3, according to present planning.

Davis, by the way, departs Friday for two weeks of reserve training with the U. S. Marines. He'll be stationed at Oceanside, Calif. He's a major in the Marine Corps Reserve.

Jimmy Russell, Odessa Junior College's new golf coach, is one of the finest amateur linksters around. The former Idahoan has won over 30 invitational tournament championships in his time.

The one-time strikeline ace of the Big Spring baseball mercenaries, Fernando (Trompolec) Rodriguez, recently was shipped to Portland of the Pacific Coast league by the Chicago Cubs.

Rodriguez, who was here in the late '40's, has been up with two big league clubs but was never given a starting assignment. He enjoyed fair success with the Minneapolis Millers last year. Portland will probably use him as a relief hurler.

Cabot Kayoes Colts, 9-5

Cabot bombed the Colts 9-5, last night in American Little League action and propelled themselves into a first place tie with the Jets.

The Pigs, who had been the league leaders, fell behind because of fewer games played. Cabot and the Jets have a 5-2 record each.

Dickie Spiers slugged out three hits, one of them a two-bagger, for the winning Cabot team.

Mitchell Kraas hit a double and a single for the Colts, and Larry Broughton and Tommy Barrow got two hits each.

Teague Is Named

FORT WORTH (AP)—J. W. Teague has been named athletic director of Lanier High School. He succeeds Pete Campbell, who resigned last week. Teague was assistant basketball coach of Texas Wesleyan College.

Ruidoso Downs Opens 12th Season On Memorial Day

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N.M. (SC)—Memorial Day, May 30th, officially rings up the curtain for the 12th successive season at Ruidoso Downs. A vast improvement in purses, stabling facilities and racing dates has drawn many well-known Quarter Horse and Thoroughbred stables.

High-lighted Thoroughbred event for their Premier Day is the "Inaugural Handicap" for 3-year-olds and up going a distance of 5 1/2 furlongs.

Bob Arnett's Abha's Bull seems to be shaping up as an early favorite. This campaigner won the feature thoroughbred event of the season at Rillito Park, Tucson, Ariz., and will be ridden by Bruce Brinkley. Bill Peden's Frijole Roile was a surprise winner his last out at Turf Paradise, Phoenix Ariz., and is in good form.

Fleet Sis is a newcomer from Oklawaha Park, Fort Springs, Ark.—has high early speed and may be hard to catch. The remaining challengers are: P. H. Herndon's entry of Dream Mint and Miss Hi Note, General George and Artic Rose, with Say Go one of the day's best longshots.

Featured for the "Short" horses is the 350-yard Quarter Horse Invitational Handicap for 3-year-olds and up. A field of six accepted the nod with J. B. Ferguson's Go Man Go, the universal bettors champion being favored. Clarence Scharbauer Jr.'s Double Bid is expected to run improved races here as he has always liked this track and defeated Go Man Go at the recently concluded Alamito meet in California.

Echo Stables Vannevar is always a contender and has Kenny Chapman leading quarter horse rider of the nation for the last two years, in the saddle.

R. C. Gardner's Rocket Bar is in good form. Palmirino Joe has come off of three wins at Alamitos, but seems to be an outsider in this race.

ed the nod with J. B. Ferguson's Go Man Go, the universal bettors champion being favored. Clarence Scharbauer Jr.'s Double Bid is expected to run improved races here as he has always liked this track and defeated Go Man Go at the recently concluded Alamito meet in California.

Echo Stables Vannevar is always a contender and has Kenny Chapman leading quarter horse rider of the nation for the last two years, in the saddle.

R. C. Gardner's Rocket Bar is in good form. Palmirino Joe has come off of three wins at Alamitos, but seems to be an outsider in this race.

Wilt The Stilt Wants No Truck With Bill Russell

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP)—Beano Pease, Chamberlain says Big Bill Russell is the pro basketball player who "I want the least truck with."

"If I had to make a list of the pro players I fear most I would put Russell on the bottom of the list," the two-time All America from the University of Kansas added. Then he caught himself.

"At the bottom, I mean, because he's one man I don't want any part of."

The 7-foot basketball marvel, who announced last week he was quitting college to launch a 160-game barnstorming tour, told a press conference of his distaste for college basketball, his disgust with efforts to penalize him and his plans for entering the National Basketball Assn in 1959 as a member of the Philadelphia Warriors.

"I don't mean I think pro basketball is going to be easier but I just don't believe the pros will concentrate on one man as they do in college," Wilt said. "I am sure I will be much happier."

Chamberlain said he feared Russell, the 1956 Olympic star from the University of San Francisco who led the Boston Celtics to the NBA Eastern title last winter, because of Russell's defensive ability.

"He is an awfully good man at rebounding and at defending," Wilt added. "I am looking forward to playing him although I know he is going to make it rough."

"No, I never enjoyed college basketball," the Stilt said. "I was miserable. I never felt it was basketball. There were two, three and sometimes four men on me and players would do things—like zig-zagging down the floor in front of me—to get me to foul or to

WALLACE IS FINED BY LEAGUE PREXY

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP)—Wayne Wallace, manager of Hobbs, owed the Sophomore League $25 today because the league president decided his conduct in a game May 22 with Artesia wasn't exactly desirable.

League President W. G. Terry of Midland fined Wallace for "profanity, ejection from the game and managing from the clubhouse after the ejection." The noise came after an Artesia runner was called safe at home.

Terry said he also fined Umpire Porter for his language during the argument.

Round Table Close To All-Time Mark

Long before the summer has reached its dog days you can look for a new money winning champion horse to replace Nashua. He is Round Table, a truly remarkable 4-year-old bay colt owned by Oklahoma oil man Travis M. Kerr and running in the interests of his wife, daughter Nancy and himself.

When Round Table, a son of Princequillo—Knight's Daughter, won the Caliente Handicap at Tijuana his earnings in less than three seasons of racing rocketed to $1,005,784, putting him right behind Citation and Nashua who heads the list with $1,288,565.

Had last year been other than a remarkable one for 3-year-olds, Round Table might not be the under-rated horse that he was in 1957. He had to contend with such as Bold Ruler and Gallant Man. In fact, he lost to them in the Trenton Handicap at Garden State last November. And before that he ran third in the Kentucky Derby to Iron Liege and Gallant Man.

There was talk that Willie Moler, three-time leading trainer in races won, had been ducking Bold Ruler and Gallant Man but such actually was not the case. Round Table was picking up rich purses in Chicago where he had been staked. The Ruler and the gallant one were winning in the East.

The Caliente victory marked the 19th stake won by Round Table and it kept intact Willie Shoemaker's perfect record aboard the colt bred at Arthur (Bull) Hancock's Claiborne Farm in Lexington, Ky. In 14 rides, Willie the Shoe won each time out.

Five other jockeys had been aboard Round Table. Willie Harman had him on top three times in four starts. George Taniguchi won his only time. Ralph Neves scored three out of five. Johnny Longden lost in his only two rides and Steve Brooks was 6 for 13. Brooks rode the colt in his 10 races as a 2-year-old in 1956, winning five.

SAYS BILL RIGNEY

New Background A Help To Players

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Among the wonderful things that have happened to the San Francisco Giants this season was not having to play in the Polo Grounds, their former home in New York.

That is what Manager Billy Rigney said today as he tried to explain why the surprising Giants were leading the National League.

"Two of our biggest surprises," he said, "have been Orlando Cepeda and Jim Davenport, our rookie first and third basemen. Another revelation has been the hitting of Daryl Spencer, our shortstop. Cepeda and Spencer each has hit 12 home runs so far."

"I'm sure neither would have done nearly as well had the Giants still been in the Polo Grounds. Those short fences proved a handicap to Spencer and I feel they would have been just as much of a handicap to Cepeda. Orlando has tremendous power—as much as anybody on the club—but he is not a pull hitter. His power is to left center and right center. He's hit several long 400-foot homers in San Francisco but they would only have been long outs in the Polo Grounds. Such things tend to discourage young ballplayers."

Gil Ramirez Wins For Locals, 11-1

Pitcher Gilbert Ramirez guided Local 826 to an 11-1 victory over the Clover Bowlers here last night in Texas Little League play.

Ramirez hit the Bowlers to three hits in the six-inning fray. Sammy Gonzales was the losing pitcher.

The win places Local 826 in the league lead by a half-game margin.

Milwaukee Series Flag Is Pilfered

MILWAUKEE (AP)—While the Milwaukee Braves were concentrating on beating the St. Louis Cardinals 3-2 Tuesday night, someone stole the club's World Series championship pennant from the flag pole.

The 37 x 15 foot blue and white banner was flying from a 50-foot temporary flag pole just behind the left field fence. Someone got to the pole, ran the flag down to the ground and quietly walked off with it.

"Any young player, unless he's a dead pull hitter, faces a handicap at the Polo Grounds. He takes one look at the short fences and tries to take dead aim with every swing. All he gets for his efforts, however, are long fly ball outs. Look at Willie Mays. How many homers did he hit at the Polo Grounds? Most of his homers were hit on the road."

Easement Clearances Expected For New Sewer Outfall Line

All easements should be cleared in the next week for the new sewer outfall line to serve the Webb AFB housing project and other developments across the south edge of the city, H. W. Whitney, city manager, told commissioners last night. Bids for construction of the line have been requested for June 10. City officials hope to have the route cleared by that time.

Commissioners discussed with the Robb last night some of the problems involved in routing the line across Robb property adjacent to the Jet Drive-In Theatre. Minor changes were approved to assure future service for a larger area of the Robb land, but commissioners and City Engineer Clinton Bellamy explained that nature of the terrain would make it prohibitively costly to move the line from a proposed diagonal path across a portion of the property.

Negotiations will continue with the Robb Estate and other property owners who haven't signed easement agreements, the city manager said. Robb said he must confer with others in his group before an agreement can be executed.

COOK RE-APPOINTED
Commissioners last night also re-appointed R. L. Cook to serve on the board of directors for the Colorado River Municipal Water District. They named Robert Currie as a new member of the board, succeeding Willard Sullivan who asked that he not be re-appointed. Terms are for two years, starting June 1.

Authority was granted to reimburse Howard County for purchase of 17.443 acres of FM 700 right of way inside the city limits, according to an agreement made with the county earlier. Reimbursement will be at the rate of $200 per acre, a total of $3,488.60.

Agreement was reached with Mrs. D. W. Jones for purchase of a small tract of her land to complete the intersection of Lexington and E. 17th St. The city will pay $650 for the land and will relocate a fence. Mrs. Jones was assured that a tree on the new property line will not be disturbed.

Commissioners told R. H. Weaver, attorney for James Duncan, that they will consider closing an alley behind Duncan's property in Indian Hills Addition after Duncan acquires land across the alley from his holdings. Weaver said closing of the alley was requested in order to permit enlargement of Duncan's yard.

PLANS FOR LAND

Worth Peeler showed commissioners a plat of land he owns south of Monticello Addition and adjacent to the proposed FM 700 route. He asked that the property be brought into the city when annexation of other land in that area is started, and explains plans for a community business district fronting on the highway.

Whitney outlined proposed recreational improvements at Moss Creek Lake and said some work probably can be started the latter part of June. Improvement of parking areas, a possible boat launching ramp and picnic units are being contemplated.

Second reading of an ordinance annexing the Cecil McDonald subdivision southwest of the city was approved. A new automobile for the police department and a pickup for the maintenance department were purchased. The auto, a Plymouth, was accepted from Lone Star Motor Co. on low bid, $1,938. At the same time, offer of Westex Wrecking Co. to purchase an old police car for $675 was accepted. The pickup, a Studebaker, was purchased from McDonald Motor Co., also on low bid, for $1,490, and trade-in.

Gigante Freed In Costello Assault

NEW YORK (AP)—Vincent (The Chin) Gigante goes back to his job as a trucker's helper today, acquitted of the attempted assassination of racketeer Frank Costello.

After deliberating more than six hours, an all-male jury freed Gigante late last night.

A gunman fired a single shot at Costello last May in the lobby of his Central Park West apartment building. The bullet only created the 68-year-old gambler's skull. Gigante, 30, was charged with attempted murder.

Haskell Raked By Hurricane Winds

The Associated Press
Thunderstorms rumbled across hot North Texas skies Wednesday in the wake of damaging, hurricane-velocity winds which struck around Haskell in Northwest Texas.

Winds estimated at 75 to 80 m.p.h. and heavy rains lashed Haskell for 30 minutes late Tuesday, wreaking damage on crops and warehouses.

Andy Wilfong, who farms about 100 acres east of Haskell, told County Agent Frank Martin that his wheat crop was wiped out by the storm.

John Robison, who lives east of Weinert in Haskell County, said he lost 75 or 80 per cent of his wheat.

Manager Mart Clifton estimated damage to a cotton warehouse owned by the Central West Texas Warehouse Co. of Fort Worth at $35,000. It was scattered over several blocks.

Roof and walls of another warehouse collapsed. About 3,700 bales of government cotton stored at Haskell were heavily damaged by water.

A warehouse belonging to the Kennedy Lumber Co. was unroofed and the walls partly blown away. Stocks of building materials also were damaged.

The storm brought minor damage all over Haskell, which has a population of about 4,000. Three unoccupied cabins were unroofed at a tourist court on the north edge of town.

A 66,000-volt electric line between Haskell and Munday was blown down, disrupting power between 6:05 p.m. and 6:30 p.m.

A bumper grain crop of wheat and oats around Haskell was feared to have suffered extensive damage. There was no estimate of loss.

At the height of the Haskell storm, the rain fell in sheets. One witness said he could not see halfway across the street. The city hall rain gauge caught 2.46 inches of rain in 45 minutes. No tornadoes were actually reported at Haskell, but the Highway Patrol reported funnels west of Haskell and east of Stamford. There was no evidence they hit the ground.

Tuesday's thunderstorms from West Texas to the Texarkana area came on the hottest day of the year. The Carl Phillips home, 2 miles west of Monahan in far West Texas, recorded 111 degrees. Presidio had 108, Wink and Seymour 104 and Vernon 102.

Thunderheads towered over the Panhandle, South Plains and North Texas early Wednesday. They hit at Wichita Falls, in the Sherman area, and at San Angelo, Lubbock and Amarillo.

More partly cloudy and warm weather with scattered thunderstorms was forecast.

Tuesday's thunderstorms were triggered by a cool air mass moving southward from northern Oklahoma.

Rains up to two inches and some hail fell in rural areas around Lamesa, in West Texas. Dalhart, in the upper Texas Panhandle, reported .87 inch.

Other rainfall reports for the 24 hours ending at 6 a.m. Wednesday included Amarillo .14, Abilene .16, Lubbock .18, Texarkana .03, Sherman .02 and Big Spring .01.

INCREASE ASKED

Eisenhower asked a big increase in funds for the office of the secretary of defense, with the bulk of the request earmarked for the new Advanced Research Projects Agency.

The committee voted to authorize the Army to use 425 million dollars of its stock fund money for regular activities, and the Navy to use 160 million from a similar fund. Stock funds are revolving accounts built up from sales of uniforms and miscellaneous supplies and equipment.

The new cash, if finally approved by Congress, will give the Defense Department $47,905,000,000 to obligate during the coming year, counting an estimated carryover of about 7 1/2 billion dollars from current year appropriations. The department plans to spend about 40 1/2 billions during the 12 months.

In a report written by Rep. George Mahon (D-Tex.), the committee said its action would maintain Marine Corps strength at 200,000 men at the year's end, National Guard strength at 400,000 and reserve strength at 300,000. This is 25,000 more Marines, 40,000 more Guardsmen, and 30,000 more reservists than Eisenhower had proposed.

GETTING STRONGER
"We are still strong and are getting stronger," the committee said, "especially in the area of our massive retaliation capacity. The Soviet success in rocketry have demonstrated that there is a definite relationship between preparation for a possible hot war and progress in the current cold war."

"Not only are the Soviets making rapid technological progress," the committee said, "but testimony of intelligence officials shows that they are also continuing to improve the equipment of existing present day military forces capable of threatening our sea lanes and control over the seas generally."

the committee said, military manpower will total 2,550,000—consisting of 870,000 Army, 430,000 Navy, 200,000 Marines, and 850,000 Air Force.

The committee also approved operation of an active fleet of 864 ships next year.

Backing up this fleet will be 10,300 Navy aircraft and an unspecified number of Marine planes.

MORE PEOPLE DO

It takes a GIANT to quench a 36-billion-gallon thirst

The man who asks, "Fill 'er up, sir?", is one of thousands of friendly operators and attendants of the more than 182,000 service stations across the country. Together, they pumped over 36 billion gallons of gasoline and poured almost a half billion gallons of motor oil into passenger cars in 1957.

Processing, distributing and retailing petroleum products is a gigantic job requiring the services of men, machines and media. Highest on the list of advertising media are newspapers—a giant that keeps the public informed of the quality of these products.

Over 58,000,000 newspapers are bought daily by people who thirst for news and buy from newspaper advertising. That's one of the reasons why dealers, jobbers and manufacturers of petroleum, like so many other sellers of goods, place more money in newspapers than in any other medium.

If you have a thirst for sales, you can quench it quicker and with much more satisfaction in the action medium—the action-packed daily newspaper.

All business is local...and so are all newspapers.

Rationing Scrapped

BERLIN (AP) — Communist East Germany today scrapped food rationing cards introduced by Hitler in 1939 and boosted the wages of over three million workers to help them pay higher food prices. West Germany scrapped the ration cards 10 years ago.

Presbyterians Cure An Historical Fuss

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer
PITTSBURGH (AP) — Those historically scrappy Presbyterians patch up an old fuss today—and mold two churches into one. They're forming "the United Presbyterian Church of the U.S.A.," which becomes the fourth largest body in American Protestantism.

Twin processions of robed delegates marching to a common rendezvous point will symbolize the emerging of the two strands of their tradition.

The ceremonies will be climaxed by sharing of the Lord's Supper.

Joining forces are the United Presbyterian Church and the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., with a combined membership of more than three million.

"A happy and historic occasion," says the Rev. Dr. Robert N. Montgomery, president of Muskingum College, New Concord, Ohio, and moderator of the U.P. church.

It marks the end of a breakup that started more than 200 years ago in Scotland, and has erupted in various cleavages since then.

The union also is the latest in a series which has brought several once-separated Protestant groups back together.

Dr. Montgomery, in a sermon prepared for the worship service consummating the merger, said: "The quest for unity among the people of God is one of those really wide horizons and great tasks and many disciplines of life to which we must continue to be dedicated in the united church."

"It is the quest that has led us to become one."

The Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., popularly referred to as Northern Presbyterians, also includes some Southern churches, as well as congregations throughout the rest of the nation—a total of 8,489.

The United Presbyterians, strongest in Ohio and Pennsylvania, have 973 congregations.

Common Subject Wins Art Prize

Winnie (Mrs. Bill) Unger illustrates the fact that you don't have to choose an odd-ball subject to win the top prize in an art exhibit. She copped the blue ribbon at the Las Artistas show with a still life, the most common subject she could have chosen.

What won the ribbon for Winnie was technique, involving texture, color and design. She chose her subjects (fruit, a raffia-covered wine jar and a bowl against a brick wall) for their contrasting color and texture and concentrated on bringing out these aspects in her painting.

Second place went to Madsen (Mrs. Jess) Blair for her portrait of a colored girl, done by imagination only, without a posed model. What won the ribbon here was balance of color.

Mrs. Blair saw the skin hue as a challenge, and flecked the colors of the spectrum against a background of dark brown. The background repeated the colors used in the subject to balance the overall picture.

Clearing Out The Bottom Drawer

How about a music festival in the park this summer?.. plenty of bands of all kinds in West Texas.. combos, western bands, high school bands, and Midland has a symphony orchestra..

Might give us an excuse to build a permanent bandstand in City Park.

The Army has learned public relations.. the recruiter from Abilene was on hand in the lobby during presentation of Odessa's "At War with the Army".. some local artist must be psychic..

there's a painting of a black cat at midnight at the Las Artistas exhibit.. my idea exactly, except that I'm no artist, so I never painted it..

Kids don't learn tap dancing any more.. now it's all modern dance and ballet.. and, extracurricularly, rock-n-roll..

The Civic Theatre's main gain from acquisition of their building was psychological.. gives them a home base.. might strengthen the psychological effect to institute a tradition of drinking a toast to the building before leaving..

I have never yet written a review that made everybody happy.. I never intend to.. I have never yet written an unfair review.. I never intend to..

The Civic Theatre will begin its long-heralded workshop Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, in the museum building in City Park. The workshop, it is hoped, will provide the training and organization needed to put Big Spring's theatre on a par with, say, that of Des Moines.

Director John Austin says any-

Newest Fad In Hi Fi Organ Music

Newest fad in classical and semi-classical music is hi fi organ music.. since the advent of Van Cliburn, classic piano is a big seller.. the big one is Tschalkovsky's No. 1.. Rubenstein and Horowitz win the honors..

Schererzade is one of the better sellers.. Toscanini's conducting is highly popular.. Mantovani is still top seller in the orchestral field.. "La Boheme" and "Aida" are coming up among operas, while "The Mikado" takes a sharp drop..

Something for heavy thinkers: Wagner excerpts in orchestral arrangements.. Toscanini's recordings the search for Bride Murphy..

Spirituals are selling well.. Tennessee Ernie Ford leads the combined opposition..

Bawdy but hi-brow: "The Restoration Sophisticate".. Strauss waltzes are popular, as always.. "Spotlight on Percussion" with jazz and classical thumping, with narration.. interesting..

And speaking of interesting recordings, you should listen to some of the stereo demonstration tapes.. not the ones specifically manufactured for demonstrating, but the ones recorded by hi fi company employes after working hours, with completely original and unrestrained hi-jinx.. some of these recordings get downright weird.

'Show Boat' To Open Opera Season

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—The opera season will open June 5 with Jerome Kern's "Show Boat."

The repertory—June 5-15, "Show Boat"; June 16-22, "Roberta"; June 23-29, "Silk Stockings"; June 30-July 6, "Rose Marie"; July 7-13, "Lady in the Dark"; July 14-20, "On the Town"; July 21-27, "Rosalinda"; July 28-August 3, "Happy Hunting"; August 4-10, "Finnian's Rainbow"; August 11-17, "Hansel and Gretel"; and "The Nutcracker"; and August 18-31, "Oklahoma!"

Low Bids Made In Air Base Projects

TULSA (AP) — Apparent low bidders have been announced for two Texas AFB projects.

Army Engineers said yesterday the T. L. James Co., Ruston, La., entered the apparent low bid of $1,900,322 for rebuilding an existing apron 3,000 feet long and 350 feet wide at Perrin AFB, Sherman-Denison, Tex.

Stanford Construction Co., Fort Worth, entered the apparent low bid of $269,438 for building a 48-man officers quarters at Sheppard AFB, Wichita Falls.

Automobile Production Is Falling Behind Last Year

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Auto Editor
DETROIT (AP) — Passenger car production and sales are falling farther behind last year's volume.

So far this year the auto industry has built about 1,867,000 cars. It has sold approximately 1,900,000. At the comparable point in 1957 factory output had reached 2,800,000 units and sales about 2,500,000.

This year's lowered output has cut into dealer inventories. Assemblies have been kept below retail sales to achieve this result. High point of inventories so far this year was the March 1 total of 865,566 cars. Stocks now are well below 800,000 units.

Industry authorities are predicting dealer stocks will be under 300,000 at the start of the year's fourth quarter. Most sales chiefs look for no major upturn in demand and, consequently, no increase in the current production level through the year's third quarter.

Cautious predictions are heard of a sharp production increase in the final three months of the year. That will mark the start of the 1959 model year.

The traditional spring upturn in

Christian Demos Take Italy Votes

ROME (AP)—Final election returns made plain today the pro-Western Christian Democrats will continue to govern Italy, either in coalition with the minor center parties or with their support.
