Four Fishermen Burned As Gas Ignites Autos

A 68-year-old Big Spring man was critically burned with little hope held for his recovery and his three grandsons suffered serious burns in an unusual fishing trip mishap Saturday on the Phillips-Boschecker oil lease in Borden County.

G. W. Gilbert, 1011 W. 7th, the grandfather, suffered burns over his entire body. All of his clothing was burned away and doctors doubted that he can survive.

He and the other three victims are in the Medical Arts Hospital. They were brought to the hospital in two ambulances from Bell Funeral Home, Snyder.

The others burned are: Edgar Lee Jennings, 26, and his brother, Neal Jennings, 23, both of 302 Jones, and George Cecil Rackley, 20, Hobbs, N.M. They were expected to recover.

The accident occurred about 12 miles west and north of Vincent and 35 miles northeast of Big Spring. Time was around 7:40 p.m.

Details regarding the explosion which trapped the men and destroyed their two cars are confused.

The four left Big Spring at noon Saturday to go fishing. It is presumed they were fishing in an old tank or creek relatively near the scene of the fire.

They are believed to have left their two Oldsmobiles parked in a slight depression on the lease.

It is believed they returned to the cars and that the area was filled with gas thought to have seeped from a line which passes beneath the hollow.

Something ignited the gas — it was speculated that an attempt to start one of the cars may have precipitated the blaze. It was also possible that one of the group lighted a cigarette.

A blast occurred with such tremendous heat that it destroyed the two cars and burned most of the clothing from the four men.

The younger men managed to escape from the blazing area and removed their older companion about 100 yards from the inferno. They made their way afoot, despite their injuries, nearly two miles to the main road extending eastward from FM 1295 where they obtained help.

Two ambulances from Bell Funeral Home were called and the burned men were brought to the Medical Arts Hospital.

The blaze continued to flare and had burned out a crater some 15 feet deep at 9:30 p.m. The flames were flaring more than 50 feet in the air. The area was so hot that it was dangerous to approach nearer than the cars which were fifty feet or more from the huge torch.

The fire was so intense that the cars were completely consumed.

The fire attracted relatively few spectators and at 9:30 p.m. no crews had appeared to cut off the flames.

Rackley was in Big Spring for a Memorial Day weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Rackley.

Snyder firemen came to the scene but there was nothing they could do. Highway patrol officers from both Lamesa and Big Spring were on the scene.

The officers said they could obtain no definite information on the details of the accident.

Gilbert, who suffered a heart attack on May 19, had all of his clothing burned from his body, it was said. The younger men lost their shirts.

Where Disaster Struck Fishermen

Flaring in the background is the roaring gas inferno which trapped three Big Spring men and a visitor from Hobbs as they sat in their automobiles Saturday afternoon. G. W. Gilbert, 68, one of the four, was not expected to live. The car in the foreground, one of two the men had driven to the isolated Borden County oil lease Saturday afternoon, was completely consumed. The other automobile was also destroyed. The three other persons injured in the accident are painfully burned but are expected to survive.

Crashes Kill Many Texans

A rash of auto accidents involving holiday-bound Texans sent the state's violent death toll for the Memorial Day weekend spiraling Saturday.

By Saturday afternoon the Texas death toll stood at 36, including 23 killed in highway crashes.

There were at least nine children among the dead, including two burned to death at Houston. Gunfire killed two persons, a train trapped and killed a hiker on a trestle and a tractor accident, an electrocution and a drowning added to the grim total.

One car-truck crash on a U.S. 80 bridge 10 1/2 miles east of Ranger snuffed out seven lives early Saturday.

Those dying in the collision and flames which engulfed the wreckage were Charles Everett Alkins, 27, of Fort Worth; his wife Jimmie, 26, and four of the five children California-bound with them—Jimmy Charles, 10, Debra Ann, 7, Dora Lynn, 5, and Derrell, 2 1/2; and Viri V. Dawson, 48, of Dallas, driver of the truck colliding with the Alkins station wagon.

Another car-truck collision, attributed by officers to a high speed race between two young drivers, killed four Nixon, Tex., youths on the outskirts of Smiley, in South Texas. The dead were Jesse Leal, 16; Bonavicio Infante, 18; Manuel Sandoval, 18; and Miguel Fonseca, 21. Police said Sandoval was driving.

Two Negro children perished Saturday in flames which destroyed their home and a storage shack at Houston.

Near Monchaca, south of Austin, a passenger train roaring onto a trestle caught two youths in a group of hikers Friday night. David O'Daniel, 25, of Corsicana was killed and a companion was injured. The others escaped.

Lana Jean Sowell, 10, and her sister Susan Gayle, 4, were killed early Saturday when the car of their vacation-bound parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Lee Sowell of Round Rock, and another collided near Cometa.

Another flaming crash, involving two cars on Farm Road 149 about 15 miles southwest of Conroe, killed Gayle Hallmarke, 27, aircraft mechanic from Ellington Air Force Base, and Terry Gale Brown, 6-week-old son of a College Station couple. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Brown, were injured critically.

Airman Fred Robert Harper, 30, of Birmingham, Ala., died Saturday when his car sideswiped a gasoline transport near Hedley in the Panhandle.

A tractor upset and killed Clifford Neal McGarraugh, 35, Saturday on a farm 29 miles southwest of Perryton.

Maria Gonzales was shot and killed Friday night at Three Rivers, in South Texas. Felix Ortiz Jr., was charged with murder.

An auto accident 12 miles north of Anahuac Friday night killed Gayle Miller. Two companions were injured. Their car upset at a curve.

Roscoe Ira (Red) Hiatt, 63, died Friday night of injuries suffered the evening before in a traffic accident 11 miles north of Bonham. He was a former Bonham policeman.

Lois Lang, 20, Connally Air Force Base, WAF near Weotca, S.D., was killed Friday night in a traffic crash near Waco.

Fred Oshan, 32, was electrocuted at Mt. Pleasant while cutting tree limbs which were around a power line.

Harold Nelson, 34, of Seguin, drowned in Lake Dunlap when his boat overturned Friday.

James Overton, 19, of Plains, and Daniel Rose, 20, of Seward, Alaska, were killed Friday when their auto smashed into a culvert near Snyder.

James D. King, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth King of Dallas, drowned Saturday during an outing at Lake Cliff in Dallas.

Strike Curbs Philly Papers

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A drivers' strike Saturday stalled circulation of three metropolitan newspapers. Operations at one of them—the Philadelphia Inquirer—were practically at a standstill owing to a walkout of 750 American Newspaper Guild employees, officially set for midnight.

Struck by the drivers, besides the Inquirer, were the Philadelphia Bulletin, with the largest evening circulation in America, and the neighboring Camden (N. J.) Courier-Post, just across the Delaware River.

The Inquirer Guildsmen had honored the Teamster picket lines posted around the plant Friday night.

Algerians Now More Affable Toward U.S.

ALGIERS (AP)—Anti-Americanism—rampant in Algiers at the start of the army insurrection May 13—has declined with the evolution of events in Paris.

Two weeks ago reporters arriving in Algiers were greeted by a stern French major with the comment: "We don't like Americans here. You'd better watch your step."

Only a month ago an American correspondent was roughed up by toughs who tore up his notebook.

Now paratroopers salute, and French officers often smile at U.S. newsmen. Crowds, demonstrating wildly every day in the city, smugly make room for Americans to pass.

It's a far cry from the day three weeks ago when mobs attacked the U.S. Information Center in Algiers. Frenchmen seem to want to forget about that.

"It was a mistake, the whole thing got out of hand," some say. The Algeria press daily reports U.S. press reaction to the French-Algerian crisis.

National Toll Climbing At A Record Rate

Traffic Deaths . . . . . 235
Drowning . . . . . 81
Miscellaneous . . . . . 47
Total . . . . . 363

Holiday celebrators died in traffic smashups at a rate faster than one every 15 minutes Saturday.

The death toll, soaring at record speed, prompted safety officials to plead for more caution.

The Memorial Day observance opened the full panorama of sudden death on the highway—flaming single and multiple death car-crash, car-truck and train-car collisions.

The four biggest crackups snuffed out a total of 21 lives.

The death rate pushed well ahead of that set in 1955 when a record high traffic toll of 369 was counted for a three-day Memorial Day weekend. It outdistanced an advance estimate made by the National Safety Council.

"Unless somebody slams on the brakes good and hard, the nation is headed for an all-time high in highway slaughter over a Memorial Day holiday," said Ned H. Dearborn, safety council president.

"We appeal to the good sense of the drivers to slow down this needless death and destruction—if for no other reason than it's you and your family who are involved."

Accident fatalities spurted at the start of the holiday period, dropped off Friday night and then went into an ominous climb Saturday that safety officials called alarming.

Big Spring Week

Those who have been wondering what became of summer can cease their idle speculation. Monday touched a season's peak of 104, and Saturday (at this writing) was up to 101, which seems to indicate that the abnormally cool spring has departed.

Also apparently departed were those timely rains. This left pastures rapidly turning brown and gray as that verdant illusion, the weed crop, faded. Farmers, however, generally applauded the hot weather, for cotton was popping up as if by magic. A light shower across the northern county line fell slowly enough that it merely softened the crust and enhanced chances. It's too early yet for accurate estimates, but some 50,000 acres of cotton must be up to a reasonably good stand. The next two weeks will be crucial.

After two years, the county airport project appeared to have passed its last hurdle. The county formally accepted the $400,000 CAA grant and the CAA approved issuance of a work order to the contractor. Operations should be underway this week.

It's only a week and a half until rodeo time—June 12-13-14. The rodeo parade is shaping up with good support by riding groups (nine of them), but short on float entries. To the traditional events

DOT Maps Campaign Plan To Win Texas For The Liberals

AUSTIN (AP)—The one-year-old Democrats of Texas (DOT) sketched a battle plan Saturday that DOT leaders predicted would give the liberal-labor faction control of the State Democratic Party.

"You will become a walking, talking, door-bell ringing missionary of the party that's for the people, the Democratic Party," U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough told the statewide DOT meeting.

More than 1,000 delegates howled approval.

Yarborough predicted Democrats would move back into the White House in Washington, D.C., and the delegates howled again.

"We will carry the battle to the precinct, county and state conventions," pledged keynote speaker Walter G. Hall of Dickinson.

A long line of speakers and resolutions made control of the State Democratic Party—which the DOT claims was unfairly taken from them in 1956 by Gov. Price Daniel—the primary objective of the first annual DOT meeting.

Threats of dissension over endorsement of statewide candidates died down then flared up briefly late Saturday when state Sen. Henry B. Gonzalez appeared to make a campaign speech just before the convention closed.

He was hoisted to the shoulders of two members of the San Antonio delegation and circled the room in a demonstration that had about 90 participants.

"I am a no-handle Democrat," the San Antonio candidate for governor said. He added that he had not asked for the DOT endorsement which was reported as the reason that the steering committee decided Friday that the DOT should not officially endorse any candidate.

Yarborough's appearance drew the heaviest applause of the day. Good receptions also were given Dallas District Judge Sarah T. Hughes, candidate for the State Supreme Court; J. Edwin Smith of Houston, state supreme court candidate and Glenn Kothmann, candidate for Commissioner of Agriculture.

The convention unanimously rejected Mrs. R.D. (Frankie) Randolph of Houston, National Dem-

Neighbors Protest Charges That Housewife Is A Bandit

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—A poised and friendly suburban housewife with two children and another child expected in November was charged with being a bandit.

The FBI says she is Mrs. Kathryn Anderson, 28; her husband; and many friends and neighbors say that she is not, that she couldn't be.

Mrs. Anderson is accused of robbing two savings and loan association offices of $2,900 at pistol point in less than three months.

The woman who staged the robberies was bold. The offices are only three doors apart, and just across the street and in full view of police headquarters in Homewood, a Birmingham suburb.

The FBI swung into action after the Feb. 28 holdup because deposits of the savings and loan associations are federally insured. Agents must have redoubled their efforts after the second robbery May 22.

Mrs. Anderson was arrested six days later.

The tall blonde woman was taken in custody at her home in an attractive new suburb. She was charged with the robberies after being identified as the bandit by three employees of the two firms.

"It's been a nightmare. We're in a fog. We're numb," her husband, insurance man Charles H. Anderson Jr., said Saturday.

"But people have been wonderful. We've received telephone calls and offers of money from all over the Southeast. My company is wonderful, from the home office on down. They're behind me 100 per cent."

News of the robbery charges brought neighbors to the doors of the three-bedroom brick home of the Andersons. They volunteered their cars for the children, offered their equities in their homes as security for Mrs. Anderson's bond.

A composite view: Mrs. Anderson is one of the friendliest women in her neighborhood. She's always first to welcome and offer assistance to newcomers.

The FBI will not discuss the clues that led agents to the neat, comfortable home of the Andersons about 9 a.m. Thursday.

De Gaulle Takes Over As French Premier

PARIS (AP)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle, triumphant after weeks of powderkeg maneuverings in Algeria and France, agreed Saturday night to become premier and bring a soldier's discipline to the long-paralyzed government.

De Gaulle announced he will address the National Assembly in person Sunday to proclaim his program and his cabinet. The Parliament then will vote on whether to confirm him.

The balloting appeared to be only a formality. Political leaders assured De Gaulle Saturday of a majority in the 595 Assembly votes. The total approving his appointment is expected to be between 320 and 360.

De Gaulle formally notified President Rene Coty Saturday night of his agreement to form a new government.

Their meeting lasted half an hour. Then they emerged from Coty's office to pose for photographers for two minutes. Both were smiling broadly, a rarity for the usually stony-faced De Gaulle.

"CRISIS OVER"

"The crisis is over now," Coty told newsmen massed on the steps of Elysee Palace. "We now have a premier-designate."

De Gaulle said nothing. He toyed with his glasses and looked straight ahead. He talked in low tones with Coty for a moment, then drove away to his hotel.

The news spread swiftly through Paris but brought no repetition of the disorders that broke out in the heart of Paris Friday night when enemies of De Gaulle clashed with his supporters.

Outgoing Premier Pierre Pflimlin announced earlier the Assembly would be summoned to meet Sunday.

De Gaulle cleared the last political roadblock on this anxious day when a strong bloc of Socialist deputies swung behind him. The Socialists had been the keystone of the Assembly opposition to his takeover.

The expected Assembly vote of 320 to 360 votes supporting the lanky World War II hero would be more than enough for a simple majority in the Assembly.

One of his spokesmen told reporters massed around De Gaulle's hotel headquarters in Paris that the general would be satisfied with this figure. He originally asked for pledges of 400 votes.

Thus, after 12 years out of office and living in an atmosphere of enigmatic silence that he rarely broke, "Le Grand Charles" stood ready to take command again in France.

He was head of a provisional government, formed during World War II, and resigned in a disagreement over the present constitution in 1946.

De Gaulle told political leaders at the morning meeting he would bring the French insurgents in Algeria back into line and restore French unity. Paris newspapers said he would fly to Algeria.

To allay Socialist fears of a De Gaulle dictatorship, the general guaranteed he would make no move against civil liberties, political quarters reported.

De Gaulle Lists His Proposals

PARIS (AP)—Persons close to Gen. Charles de Gaulle said Saturday night he will detail to the National Assembly Sunday a program along these lines:

1. He will go to Algeria, Tunisia and Morocco and try to end almost four years of the Algerian nationalist rebellion by creating a French North African cooperative group.
2. He will call for more executive power and submit this and other governmental reforms to a popular referendum.
3. He will ask extraordinary powers, especially for the ministers of finance and economy.
4. He will ask the Assembly to declare itself in recess until October.
5. He will pledge liberty for labor unions, an end to censorship and abolition of the state of emergency.

There also are reports De Gaulle will pledge himself to remain in office for a limited period. Some say a year. Some say six months.

De Gaulle Lists His Proposals

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials watched Saturday with a mixture of hope and fear the relentless return of Gen. Charles de Gaulle toward supreme authority in France.

The fear is that while a De Gaulle regime may resolve the immediate crisis in France, it may lead to a new crisis between France and other countries within the North Atlantic alliance.

The hope is that De Gaulle will use his strongman position to reform France's unstable parliamentary system, solve the Algerian problem, and do all this without endangering the pattern of French-American-British cooperation within the framework of NATO.

The impact of the French crisis and De Gaulle policies on the future of the Atlantic alliance and Western relations with Russia probably will dominate talks scheduled here soon between American and West German leaders and then between President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Macmillan.

German President Theodor Heuss is due here Wednesday, accompanied by Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano.

BANKRUPTCY?

Next weekend Prime Minister Macmillan will come for a round of talks on questions which will be considered in the uncertain light of future French policies.

Evidence of how potentially dangerous the situation is was found in dispatches from Europe to the effect that France's economy is bordering on bankruptcy. These reports took State Department officials by surprise, and some felt

Elvis Completes Basic Training

FT. HOOD (AP)—Elvis Presley, eight weeks of basic training finished, checked out of Fort Hood shortly before 6 a.m. Saturday.

Minus his flowing locks and guitar, the rock 'n' roll kid had an airplane ticket for his home in Memphis, Tenn., and two weeks leave before his final state-side tour of duty.

Elvis, whom officers called a "fine soldier," is bound for service in Germany with the 3rd Armored Division after his training in the U.S. ends Sept. 20.

Dallas Host To Rotary Throngs

DALLAS (AP)—Thousands of Rotarians converged Saturday on Dallas for the opening Sunday of the annual Rotary International convention.

One of the larger groups to arrive were 43 persons from Brazil, Peru, Panama, Ecuador and Cuba.

As many as 14,000 delegates are expected.

'Y' Fund Near $270,000; Leaders Ask Card Returns

Gifts and pledges for the YMCA building fund totaled slightly under $270,000 Saturday as progress reports continued to dribble in.

Big holdup at present, said Bobo Hardy, YMCA executive secretary, is the fact that a large number of prospect cards still remain in the hands of workers who haven't reported.

Hardy said several workers who haven't had time or otherwise haven't had time to make contacts have returned their cards in the last few days.

"We'd like to appeal again for every worker to bring his prospect cards to the YMCA unless he is in the process of making a funds appeal," said Hardy. "If some workers have lost their cards, we'd like for them to report that fact. We can make duplicates and assign them to our cleanup committee."

Twenty-two volunteer clean-up workers are busily making contacts on previously unworked cards in the general canvass. In the big gifts section, all but 19 of the original 189 prospect cards have been worked, and the remainder are now being processed.

"We believe there is enough money represented in the unworked cards of the general division to assure our $300,000 goal," Hardy said Saturday night.

Succeeds Despite Polio

Partially paralyzed by polio when he was 1½ years old, Ray Weathers is busily building himself a future. He's shown here with his fiancée, Elreeta Crain, in a session of song. Ray graduated from Howard County Junior College Tuesday, and plans to continue his training at Hardin-Simmons University.

STRONG IN HEART

HCJC Grad Beats Handicap Of Polio

By BOBBY HORTON
Broad-shouldered Ray Weathers, a graduate of Big Spring high school, was one of 35 Howard County Junior College sophomores to receive diplomas Tuesday evening, but his accomplishment was one of special significance.

Ray was stricken with infantile paralysis at the age of one and a half years, and for the past 21 years has relied on crutches and braces for physical support. During those past 21 years, Ray has displayed a brilliant Christian attitude and unflinching understanding and acceptance of his physical limitations.

He is able to walk with his crutches, drive his own car (he worked and paid for it himself), and do almost anything not requiring the entire use of his legs. "The hardest things to do," he explains, "are climbing stairs and carrying books, and I don't mind asking for help when it comes to that."

SECOND HARDEST

The others, he says, are putting up with people who will judge a cripple by his crutches.

Ray was born in Marietta, Okla. on July 25, 1935, to Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Weathers, now in residence at 1102 North Nolan Street. His family was composed of his parents, brother Jimmy, and a sister who is now Mrs. Earl Cowley of Bobbs.

Stricken with infantile paralysis when he was one and a half, he spent the better part of the next three years in the Oklahoma University Medical Hospital.

The family moved to several towns in Texas, and by the time he was of freshman level, their home was in Ballinger.

Because of his handicap, Ray was obliged to take that year of schooling by correspondence. Reason: the Ballinger high school was a three-story building, and ironically, most of Ray's classes were on the second and third floors.

CATCHING UP

The Weathers came to Big Spring in 1952 and Ray entered school classified as a sophomore. He began his work in summer school and carried through the first fall semester, finishing his junior year of work a semester early. He then took up senior work for the last semester and by carrying it through summer school, graduated a year early in 1955.

An outstanding award given Ray during high school was a citizenship citation from the Elks Club. Scholastically, he averaged 89 for the four years.

Ray used three years in fulfill-

Traffic Heavy, But Motorists Careful

Sane and sensible driving on the major highways in the vicinity of Big Spring on Memorial Day was the general rule, according to highway patrol officers who worked the roads.

Traffic was tolerably heavy on both U. S. 80 and U. S. 87, the patrol reported, but the operators of the cars seemed to be bent on driving carefully and with due regard to the law.

It was one of the most peaceful holidays from a traffic law enforcement standpoint in a long time, the patrol reported.

ing the requirements to graduate from HCJC. This was due largely to part-time work he found as a radio announcer. Among other stations, he has worked for KTXC and KBST, having worked for the latter since the middle of January.

GETS ASSOCIATE DEGREE

His courses have been aimed toward a master's degree in religious education. Finishing the junior college work with a majority of A's and B's, Ray has completed English, government and history, speech, Bible, educational psychology, Spanish, education, algebra, chorus, freshman music theory, music appreciation — 61 hours of study.

Physical training requirements were waived, which would have amounted to four hours credit. Bible and music theory are his favorite subjects, and for hobbies, he likes leatherwork, reading, and assisting in vacation Bible school work during the summer.

His two college activities so numbered as to prevent "spreading too thin" are memberships in the Phi Theta Kappa and the Baptist Student Union. Phi Theta Kappa is the national honor society for junior colleges.

BSU ORGANIZER
Ray helped organize the BSU last year, and was the only charter member attending this year. He is publicity director of the organization.

Matrimony is in sight for the HCJC graduate. On May 31, 1958, he and Miss Elreeta Crain of Hamilton will be married. Miss Crain is a '57 graduate of Mary Hardin-Baylor College in Belton, and is the present youth director of the First Baptist Church here.

At the close of his collegiate study for his master's degree in Simmons University, Ray will study for his master's degree in religious education at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth, or at the Golden Gate BTS in Berkeley, California.

County Trying To Close Out FM 700 Work

With less than 11 acres of right of way needed for FM 700 yet to be signed, the county will step up its efforts to close out this project as quickly as possible.

Several of the property owners whose land is in the road area have been invited to appear before the commissioners on Monday in an effort to reach some sort of agreement on the price the county is to pay for the wanted acreage.

Some condemnation proceedings are deemed inevitable in connection with a few of the tracts as yet unsecured.

Prices asked for the land by the owners of these tracts are regarded as too high by the commissioners and there seems little possibility a suitable compromise can be reached.

This will leave no alternative than for the county to appoint appraisers to inspect the land and determine the value the county shall pay for the property.

Such action has already been taken on one piece of land.

Time is pushing for a settlement of the right of way problem and with so few acres as yet un-acquired, the county officials feel the matter should be completed quickly.

The county is acquiring a 200-foot strip of land beginning at the terminus of the present FM 700 west on U. S. 87 at the south edge of town and extending diagonally east and north to connect with U. S. 80 near Cosden Refinery west of the city.

The State Highway Commission has agreed to build a hard-surfaced highway on the route and to later add a parallel two-lane segment.

This would provide a four-lane loop line from U.S. 80 to connect with U.S. 87 around town and also give the city a badly needed feeder road to Webb Air Force base.

Order Issued Against Damage During Strike

AMARILLO (AP) — Judge Joseph Dooley issued a temporary injunction Saturday against the Operating Engineers Union aimed at preventing damage to equipment of Phillips Petroleum Co.

The engineers are on strike at seven Phillips plants in the Borger area.

The action was the second step toward a permanent injunction. A temporary restraining order, the first step, was granted May 26.

Phillips has charged that $831,418 in damages has resulted from sabotage to pipelines and gas wells since the union's walkout which began May 1 at one plant and spread to other installations May 14.

The union said the walkout stemmed from a dispute over working conditions.

Thirty-one witnesses were in court Saturday, but the union's attorney, Sam Houston Clinton Jr., waived questioning of them and said the union does not object to the findings of facts in the temporary restraining order hearing. The hearing on a permanent injunction probably will not come until the October term of court. The court's next term begins June 9, but the docket is set and filled.

Demo Committee To Set Date For Precinct Meets

June 2 is the last date on which an application for a place on the primary ballot, where there is no candidate for nomination, due either to death or to the fact that no one filed, can be accepted by the county Democratic committee.

Frank Hardesty, county chairman, said that no such vacancies exist on the Howard County ticket and that the date is merely of academic interest.

The next important date on the political calendar insofar as local interest is concerned is June 9. On that day, the County Executive Committee will meet to determine the hour and place at which precinct conventions shall be held, on primary election day and to decide the hour and place when the county convention shall be held on the first Saturday after the primary—Aug. 2.

On June 16, the county committee will meet to determine by lot the order in which the names of the candidates will be printed on the ballot. A week later, the committee will meet to prepare the election ballots.

Final political date of any importance in June 25. On that date, former non-residents and minors who have since become eligible to vote by reason of length of residence or age may obtain exemption certificates from the county tax collector. Such exemptions qualify these persons to vote in the primary election.

Walkers For Peace Head For Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Groups of self-styled "walkers for peace" converged on the national capital from two directions Saturday to protest the production and testing of nuclear weapons.

One group, which started from Wilmington, Del., joins Saturday afternoon at All Souls Unitarian Church with one which started out at Winchester, Va. They will climax their protest Sunday by walking in front of the White House for two hours.

Lawrence Scott, coordinator for the march, said he expects 350 to be on hand.

Congress Two-Thirds Along, Making Productive Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — As it reached the two-thirds point Saturday the second session of the 85th Congress showed promise of becoming one of the most productive in years.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) called Congress' 1958 program the greatest in history except for the famous first 100 days of Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal administration 25 years ago.

The actual count of major bills sent to President Eisenhower so far doesn't bear out what Rayburn said. It still may not when the Congressmen go home, probably late this summer, but the potential is there.

Aside from the yearly run of money bills finished or on the way the House and Senate have passed long-disputed legislation that will boost the price of first class letter mail to four cents and air mail to seven cents, starting Aug. 1.

Also sent to the White House was a military pay bill aimed at putting more money in the pockets of servicemen whose skills are needed by the armed forces.

These further out-of-the-ordinary bills seemed headed for passage: Statehood for Alaska, an issue debated for decades, provided the Senate goes along with the bill the House passed last week.

Reorganization of the Defense Department to make the vast military effort more unified.

Creation of a civilian Space Agency to direct America's non-military ventures in this new field.

QUESTION MARKS
Safeguarding of labor union welfare funds, an outgrowth of long exposures of misuse of union money.

Still very much a question mark is the fate of another major measure, the Eisenhower-backed bill to extend the Reciprocal Trade Act five more years and give the President more tariff-cutting authority.

Seemingly without chance of passage are measures for aid to education, general labor law changes, Hawaiian statehood, and setting of procedures for the vice president to take over in case of presidential disability.

Both House and Senate calendars for this week show the heavy pace of the 1958 session.

The House is expected to act on creation of a Space Agency, extension of reciprocal trade, defense appropriations, extension of corporate and excise taxes, a federal pay raise, and housing legislation by the week's end. The Senate takes up foreign aid and various money bills.

State's Business Outlook Improves

AUSTIN (AP)—The Bureau of Business Research said Saturday Texas business looks better now than at any time this year.

The University of Texas research agency warned that new peaks of activity could not be expected at once although the bottom of the recession may have been reached.

"If we look at the month-to-month changes in Texas business barometers for April, plus signs predominate over the minus," said bureau statistician Francis May.

"This is the first time since January that this has been true. If the column of year-to-year comparisons is used, minus signs predominate. This is proof enough, if any were needed, that we are still in the recession, although the bottom may be at hand. Only future data can reveal whether this is the bottom or not. In any event it is not to be expected that activity will start climbing to new peaks immediately. The nature and size of the fall pick-up in activity, whether it is vigorous or weak, will provide a better clue."

May said that since May, 1957, Texas business activity as a whole has declined about 6 per cent.

"This 6 per cent decline to date equals the total decline in business activity in Texas during the mild 1953-54 recession," he said. "It is slightly more than the total decline of 5 per cent in the rate of activity during the 1948-49 recession. If the bottom of the present decline has been reached, as some economists believe, it will have been of the same order of magnitude as its predecessors. The fact that the average rate of decline has been approximately one-half of one per cent a month during the eleven month period of the recession shows how moderate the downswing has been when the overall level of activity is considered. Of course, some sectors of the state's economy have suffered severely from the results of special supply programs aggravated by the decline in demand resulting from the recession."

In April, Texas crude production dropped to 97 per cent of the 1947-49 average, and was 3 per cent below March's low level and 30 per cent below the April, 1957 production.

Two Big Spring Churches Are Given New Ministers

New pastors were assigned to two Big Spring Methodist churches and a total of six new pastoral assignments were made for the Big Spring District at the annual meeting of the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference in Lubbock Friday.

New to Big Spring will be the Rev. D. Joe McCarthy, who was assigned to Park Methodist Church, and the Rev. Royce Womack, appointed to Wesley Memorial Methodist Church from Anton.

Present pastors of both churches—the Rev. H. W. Gaston at Park and the Rev. C. W. Parmenter at Wesley—are retiring. The Rev. Parmenter will continue to reside here, while the Rev. Gaston will move to Hereford.

Dr. H. Clyde Smith was reassigned as superintendent of the Big Spring District, and Dr. Jordan Grooms was returned to the First Methodist Church here.

Other changes in the district include the appointment of the Rev. Max Browning to Westbrook to succeed the Rev. McCarthy; the Rev. Merrill Abbott to Loraine from Wesley Church in Lubbock, replacing the Rev. Allen Adams who was assigned to Shallwater; the Rev. Joe Leatherwood to Clark Methodist at Lamesa from Vigo Park; and the Rev. W. H. Vanderpool to First Church in Snyder, in a switch with the Rev. Lenol Hester who was assigned to Vanderpool's former church in Littlefield.

Ministers assigned to the same churches they have pastored for the past year include the Rev. Albert Lindley, Ackerly; the Rev. Harold Morris, Coahoma; the Rev. Clarence Collins, First Church at Colorado City; the Rev. Lynward Harrison, St. Luke's at Colorado City; the Rev. James Futch, Forsan; the Rev. C. T. Jackson, Garden City-Pioneer; the Rev. Preston Florence, Patricia; the Rev. Roy Havens, Sparenberg; and the Rev. Wallace Kirby, Stanton.

A new associate pastor is to be assigned to the First Methodist Church here to succeed the Rev. Wesley Deats, resigned. That assignment is to be announced later by Bishop William C. Martin.

All reassigned pastors will preach "farewell sermons" today in the churches they have held for

City's Summer Recreation Program Opens Monday

Monday sees the beginning of the annual citywide summer recreation program, a joint venture made possible by the United Fund, the City of Big Spring, the Big Spring Independent School District, and the YMCA.

As in the former years the YMCA is the sponsoring agency, and Bobo Hardy, YMCA general secretary is the recreation program director. He has assembled a staff to handle the direction of swimming, fun clubs, special activities, day camps, etc.

The rule of pre-registration by parents has been relaxed for two fun clubs. Hardy said Saturday that children could register Monday morning at the West Side-ABC center and Wednesday morning at North Ward for those fun clubs.

The swimming program begins Monday morning for the beginners and approximately 200 are enrolled. Indian day camp also starts Monday and boys are to bring their swim suits as will all fun club members for their first session.

Last of the training sessions for swimming instructors were held Saturday and the volunteer staff selected. Hardy said the summer staff would meet for a 2 p.m. conference today.

Envoys Discuss Summit Parley

LONDON (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson met with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in Moscow Saturday to discuss the projected East-West summit conference. Moscow Radio reported the meeting in one brief paragraph.

"During the conversation questions connected with the calling of a summit conference were discussed," the broadcast said.

Thompson's call on Gromyko came three days after British Ambassador Sir Patrick Reilly reopened the diplomatic exchanges in Moscow after a three-week lull.

Surety Firms Face Hearings

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Insurance Commissioner issued show cause orders Saturday against the Insuromedic Life Insurance Co. and the Franklin American Insurance Co., both of Dallas.

The companies were notified that unless they could prove their firms should remain in business the licenses would be cancelled and receivership proceedings begun.

A hearing was set June 18 for Franklin, a stock fire and casualty firm, and Insuromedic, a capital stock life insurance company. Commissioner William Harrison said it appeared that Franklin had violated the Insurance Securities Act by failing to get a license to sell securities and as of Dec. 31, 1957 and was insolvent with a deficit of $738,917.

Harrison said it appeared Insuromedic was insolvent with a deficit of $883,857.

Girl Scout Council May Buy Home

ABILENE—The West Texas Girl Scout Council Friday authorized the purchase of a new office site in Abilene.

The council is negotiating for an Abilene home to be used as its new headquarters. For the past 12 years the Council has maintained offices in the Abilene YMCA which has been sold.

The council authorized the board to make all arrangements, including the borrowing of up to $10,000 for the building. The Taylor County Girl Scout District offered to pay about $4,800 of the $20,000 offer the scouts made for the nine-room brick structure.

In addition to the house proper, a two car garage with servants quarters can be converted into overnight quarters for travelling troops, according to Larson Lloyd of Big Spring, council president.

The home was built in 1923, but has been kept in good repair, said Mrs. Will D. Minter of Abilene. Seven of the rooms are carpeted and the others have tile floors.

The council laid plans to borrow about $5,200 from its general fund to complete the down payment.

In the future, the delegates voted, one-half of the proceeds from the council's share of the annual sale of Girl Scout Cookies will go to retire the indebtedness.

In addition to Mrs. Minter, members of the committee on employed personnel are Morgan Jones Jr., Mrs. Edward Hamilton, Ralph Krieger, all of Abilene; Rigdon Edwards, Sweetwater; Jay Craddock, Colorado City; Mrs. William Mason, Big Spring; Melvin Newton, Snyder; and J. D. McPhaul, Lamesa.

Elections In Three States Eyed Tuesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — California, Montana and South Dakota hold primaries Tuesday with no big upsets expected.

Politicians, however, will be watching with great interest the total vote for governor and senator piled up by California's cross-filing candidates.

Also on Tuesday is a runoff Democratic primary in Alabama to decide whether states' rights or party regulars control the state Democratic party machinery. Involved is the controversial party loyalty oath.

One fourth of the 48 states have held nominating primaries so far for U.S. Senate, House and governor. Only two incumbents, Reps. Thomas A. Jenkins (R-Ohio), who withdrew after the ballots were printed, and Noble J. Gregory (D-Ky.) have been defeated.

Candidates for two-Senate seats, 34 house memberships and two gov-ernorships will be chosen Tuesday. Here is a state-by-state rundown:

CALIFORNIA—Sen. William F. Knowland has no party opposition for the GOP nomination for governor. Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown has only a token opponent for the Democratic nomination to oppose Knowland in November.

Both have cross-filed under state law allowing candidates to vie for votes under both major party labels. Thus Brown and Knowland will be attempting to roll up the highest possible aggregate vote for whatever psychological advantage this might have in the November balloting.

MORE DEMOCRATS

Democrats outnumber Republicans in registration, 3,542,374 to 2,552,678. A vote of between 55 and 65 per cent of the total registration of 6,290,176, a primary record, is forecast.

Gov. Goodwin J. Knight is favored to win the Republican senatorial nomination from Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco. Knight's backers are predicting he will top Knowland's vote on both tickets.

MONTANA—The quietest campaign in years is expected to be climaxed Tuesday by renomination of Sen. Mike Mansfield and Reps. Lee Metcalf and Leroy H. Anderson, all Democrats.

The incumbents with opposition apparently were so confident of renomination that they refrained from any campaigning after the Easter recess and remained in Washington.

SOUTH DAKOTA — Nominates for governor and two House seats. The only statewide contest is that for the Republican gubernatorial nomination. It is a three-way fight among Atty. Gen. Phil Saunders, Lt. Gov. Roy Houck, and Charles Lacey, Sioux Falls attorney.

SAUNDERS HAS EDGE

Saunders and Houck are believed to be the front runners, and Saunders is considered to have a slight edge, Ralph Hersheth, Houghton farmer, is the unopposed Democratic candidate for governor.

ALABAMA—Runoff of May 6 primary which left undecided control of the 72-member State Democratic Executive Committee, now controlled by party regulars who favor the party loyalty oath.

The oath requires candidates to promise in advance to support presidential nominees of the national Democratic party.

States' rights oppose the loyalty oath, feeling the state party should be free to withhold its support of a presidential candidate in 1960 if he doesn't measure up to their standards. Such a course was followed in 1948.

States' rights candidates won 29 committee seats in the May 6 primary, and party loyalists or regulars won 23. Thirty-seven is a majority.

Two candidates will compete Tuesday for each of the 20 remaining places on the committee. All candidates seeking seven of the seats are party regulars, thus guaranteeing the loyalists winning at least that many more places.

Tech To Confer Honor Degrees

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—Texas Tech will confer two honorary doctorates and an estimated 800 other degrees at its 32nd annual spring commencement at 8 p.m. Monday.

The honorary doctorates will go to Houston Harte, publisher of the San Angelo Standard-Times, and Charles C. Thompson, Colorado City businessman. Both are former Tech board members and longtime supporters of the state school.

The commencement address Monday will be by Dr. Arthur S. Adams, president of the American Council on Education.

Johnson Cites Need To Build U.S. Prestige

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) said Saturday night the Eisenhower administration has "trafficked in expediency" by supporting dictators while world freedom is at stake.

Johnson, the Senate's Democratic leader, called in an address prepared for the University of Houston commencement for "a great national rebuilding of American spirit and prestige to restore U.S. leadership among the Western nations."

Without specifically mentioning President Eisenhower or any other official, Johnson laid down an indictment of the administration's foreign and domestic policies.

In an obvious thrust at Secretary of State Dulles, Johnson said the United States "has lectured to our friends," scolded them and preached to them and talked down to them.

"We have preached freedom but patted the foes of freedom on the back. We have accorded our friendship to leaders of other governments who stood in those lands for what we oppose at home. We have trafficked in expediency and sold ourselves down the river for doing so."

At home, Johnson said the government has "grown fearful and cautious about building great dams to harness the power of our streams."

"We have derided public projects as pork barrels," he said.

"We have told ourselves—and the world—that the American economy was mature, that it required no more expansion, that its great threat was overexpansion."

To reverse the trend, Johnson said America must make itself a "campus of free men."

"Let's make America the meeting ground for free men and free men's ideas," he said.

Western Union Issue Settled

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Western Union Telegraph Co. and the Commercial Telegraphers Union agreed in principle late Saturday on a new contract, averting the threat of a nationwide strike.

A company spokesman said the agreement, still to be formally drawn and ratified by the union, calls for a 6-cents-an-hour, across-the-board wage increase effective June 1, and an additional 5 cents an hour, effective Sept. 1, 1958.

The union on Thursday had reduced its wage increase demands from 18 to 16 cents an hour. The workers involved now average $1.81 an hour.

Dallas Gets Clean Street—Hard Way

DALLAS (AP)—Dallas probably had the cleanest half block of street in the world Saturday but it certainly got it the hard way everyone agreed, including the cops.

The Citizen's Crusade to Beautify Greater Dallas innocently enough decided to scrub down one side of a block of Akard Street in the heart of Dallas to dramatize its anti-dirt campaign.

The crusade lined up models to help its members push the scrub brushes, the city donated the water, and a soap company gave a truckload of detergent.

At the 10 a.m. zero hour, the Crusade unfurled a 150-foot-long banner to precede the brush wielders. The wind promptly tore it to shreds.

A truck sprinkling detergent was followed by a fireman with a hose, who whipped the detergent

No Smears In His Campaign, Yarborough Tells Followers

By ED OVERHOLSER
Associated Press Writer

U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough pledged Saturday a re-election campaign of idealism and hope, "not a campaign of petty fears and big smears."

"I pledge you this," Yarborough told the Democrats of Texas organization in Austin. "Ralph Yarborough will not degrade the office of United States senator so generously bestowed upon me by the people of Texas. Those who want to hear a campaign of falsehood and hate and venom will have to listen to somebody else."

The speech apparently replied in part to the opening shots by former Sen. William Blakley at Abilene May 24 when he declared the issue in the race is majority rule.

"If the people of Texas want to hear irresponsible, political double-talk, then I am not the candidate they want to listen to... They may have an opportunity, but not from me," Blakley had said.

Yarborough told his supporters at the organization's second annual meeting that "it is my belief that public office is a public trust, not bought with a money bag."

Meanwhile, Blakley announced a busy 20-county campaign next week, principally in East Texas and including an all-day campaign in Austin Wednesday.

Elsewhere the political wars were relatively quiet with two months of hand shaking left before the Democratic Primary July 26.

At least three of the five candidates for governor said Saturday they still had no definite campaign plans for the first few weeks in June.

The wife of former Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel said in Dallas there was a flurry of activity around their home but O'Daniel had no plans to announce an itinerary.

"I'm kinda taking it easy on account of finances. I haven't got as much money as some of the others," said Don Booker, insurance underwriter, in Orange.

Dallas insurance man Joe Irwin said his next speaking engagement was June 21 in Bellaire.

Gov. Price Daniel spent the weekend making dedications. Sunday the governor was to make the dedication of a reservoir near Carthage.

Sen. Henry Gonzalez of San Antonio, has been quiet since opening his drive for the mansion early in the week.

Trailer Speed Limit Is 45

Warning was sounded to fishermen and boating enthusiasts by Texas Highway Patrol officers Saturday.

If you are enroute to the lake and are towing a boat and boat trailer, the law limits your speed on the road to not more than 45 miles an hour.

Patrol officers explain that this provision of the law is not well known and that no signs or other markers are posted advising such drivers of the speed limit for such equipment.

All vehicles drawing trailers, the patrol points out, are restricted to the 45 miles per hour rate.

Patrol officers have been issuing warnings to boat owners but they have reached the point, it was said Saturday, where the warnings will have to stop and tickets be issued for offenses.

Two such drivers were given summons Friday night. The patrol said they were both driving along the highways with boats in tow at 75 miles an hour.

There is a steadily increasing number of boats increasing being placed in use as the interest in boating grows in this area.

Temperature Of 101 Recorded Saturday

Saturday wasn't as hot as a lot of folk seemed to think—official high for the day was 101. This lacked three degrees of matching the 104 reading scored earlier in the week.

And Saturday lacked a lot of being as hot as it was May 31, 1916. On that day of no air conditions, few, if any electric fans and other artificial cooling devices, the mercury climbed up the tube to 109 degrees.

Furthermore, it was 109 on June 1. The hot spell at that time began on May 23 at a convincing 104 degrees and held unbroken sway through June 4 — winding up its torrid regime with 106 degrees.

Tommy Buckner Wins Area FFA Office, 'Star' Award

MIDLAND, May 31 (SC) — Jimmy's Tommy Buckner carried away his share of honors in the Area II Convention of the Future Farmers of America here Saturday. Buckner, a spring graduate of Big Spring High School, was elected area vice president as well as being named El Rancho District's Star Farmer.

As the Area II vice president, he will go to San Antonio in July to the state convention and compete for the state presidency. The Star Farmer title classes him as the top farmer of some 350 FFA boys in the district.

Each of the state's 10 areas will have a boy vying for the state presidency, said Ed Seay, co-sponsor with Truett Vines of the Big Spring FFA chapter.

Also during the convention, Buckner and Esco Hamlin of Big Spring, qualified for state competition for the Lone Star Farmer title to be selected later this summer. Records of the boys' work will be checked in the state competition.

At the two-day convention which ended Saturday afternoon, Buckner and Jimmy Whitefield were voting delegates from Big Spring.

Station Worker, Money Missing

A service station attendant helped himself to the cash register here Saturday and then evidently decided to terminate his employment.

The man had worked for the station for five days when he asked permission Saturday about noon to go to his room and get a radio. Two hours later he hadn't returned, and a check of his room disclosed he had moved.

A check of the station's cash register revealed it was $40 lighter than before he went for his radio.

He was still being sought Saturday night by the police.

Khrushy Ready To Talk Ban On Nuclear Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower received a letter from Soviet Premier Khrushchev today reportedly agreeing to a prompt start of scientific talks on ways to police any ban on nuclear tests.

Eisenhower had proposed to Khrushchev a week ago that the talks be opened in Geneva, Switzerland, by mid-June. He suggested that the Western side be represented by scientists from the United States, Britain and France.

Khrushchev's reply was considered by officials here to mean that the meeting of Soviet and Western experts will get under way within the next two weeks.

The letter was given to Undersecretary of State Christian Herter by Ambassador Mikhail A. Menshikov. The State Department said it was being translated and sent to the President.

Though the message was not made public it was considered to be a positive reply, from the point of view of American interest in trying to work out ways of enforcing a moratorium on testing.

Success in the technical talks could lead to an East-West agreement for test suspension. Eisenhower has received recommendations for such a decision from Secretary of State Dulles and his science advisor, Dr. James R. Killian, Jr. He probably will rule in favor of the recommendations in the next few weeks.

The Soviet government announced earlier this year that it would hold no more nuclear tests but reserved the right to reverse its position unless the United States and Britain followed the Russian example. The United States and Britain nevertheless went ahead with planned experiments and the U.S. tests now under way in the Pacific will not be completed until some time in the summer.

Old Timers At Lamesa Gather

LAMESA — Dawson County old settlers gathered for their annual reunion Saturday, paid tribute to those who have passed on during the past year, exchanged reminiscences, and partook of a noonday barbecue. Registration totaled 261 at the all-day affair held at Lamar Forrest community center.

Mrs. Ruby Davis of San Diego, Calif., was recognized as the visitor coming the greatest distance.

Mrs. J. L. Cypert, 86, Lamesa, was honored as the oldest woman present, and O. H. Preston, 89, was the oldest man on hand. Will McWhorter, who has been in Dawson County since 1890, was recognized as the resident who has lived here the longest.

Highlight of the program was a memorial service, during which a rose was placed in a wreath for each of the 40 settlers who have died in the past year.

New officers of the association were elected: Louis C. White, president; Herbert Green, vice president; Mrs. Fred Henderson, treasurer; and Mrs. Frank Pritchett, secretary.

Few Candidates At Friday Rally

Center Point's political rally on Friday night ran into difficulty due to the conflict with the Memorial Day holiday. As a result attendance was small and not all of the candidates were able to be present.

Next political get together will be on June 5 at Forsatt. The Forsan Service Club is sponsoring this event. A barbecue is to be served. Feature of the program will be a ball game in the newly completed Forsan ball park.

Picnic Turns Into Racial Explosion

C-C Board To Hear Reports

A program of reports and routine business is on tap for Chamber of Commerce directors when they meet in the Settles ballroom at noon Monday.

Bill Quimby, manager, said he or Dan Krause, chairman of the Chamber's Industrial Committee, will report on a conference they had with an industrial prospect in Fort Worth last week.

Other reports are scheduled from leaders in the city's clean-up campaign, last week's Summer Fun Days show, and the Chamber's Master Planning Committee, which staged functioning recently.

Quimby said planning, panel representatives are to go to Abilene, Odessa and Lubbock in the next few days to study steps those cities have taken in the field of orderly development.

Ford And Chrysler Contracts Run Out

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers, already working without a contract at General Motors, conceded Saturday there was little chance of reaching agreement with Ford and Chrysler before those contracts run out Sunday midnight.

UAW bargaining teams met with Ford and Chrysler and prepared for a final session Sunday in efforts to win new contracts or day-to-day extension of old ones.

Ford and Chrysler, as did General Motors, have stood firm on an offer to extend the expiring three-year contracts for two years with about 16 cents in wage increases spread over that time. Auto production workers now average $2.43 hourly.

GM's contract with the UAW ran out Thursday midnight, leaving 300,000 GM workers without a UAW contract for the first time in 21 years.

GM turned down a union request for extension of the old contract on a temporary basis until a new pact is worked out. It seemed likely Ford and Chrysler also would refuse an extension, but company spokesmen said a decision would not be made until the final hours of the contract.

UAW sources conceded it appeared likely 100,000 Ford production workers, who have been covered by UAW contracts since 1941, would lose that protection Sunday night. A similar situation faced 75,000 Chrysler workers who have been represented by the UAW since 1937.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther, who joined GM negotiations Thursday in an unsuccessful effort to work out an agreement, is due to join Ford negotiations Sunday.

Thousands Pay Stritch Honor

CHICAGO (AP) — Thousands laid solemn siege to the Holy Name Cathedral Saturday.

They stood in the hot noonday sun, four and five abreast in a line three blocks long.

They waited their turn to enter the church and walk past the bier of Samuel Cardinal Stritch.

A Fire Department ambulance stood at the curb to aid any who fell by the wayside.

Once inside the cathedral, the people split into a double file and took a last look at the man who was the spiritual leader of the Chicago Archdiocese's Roman Catholics—almost two million of them—for 18 years.

The body of the Cardinal, who died Tuesday in Rome, was clad in vestments, and lay in state near the altar rail. The open casket was tilted up at the head so that all could see.

They filed past hour after hour. Twenty hours after the body had been carried into the cathedral, an estimated 48,000 had moved past the casket. The viewing will continue until the funeral Tuesday.

22 Wrecks Investigated

Highway Patrol officers investigated 22 motor car wrecks on Howard County highways during the month of May. Nine persons were injured in these 22 wrecks—several painfully and one critically.

Property damage, the patrol said, ran to a high figure.

There were no fatalities in any of the wrecks and the county moved into June with only four deaths on the roads charged to it this year. Three of these occurred on county highways and one inside the city limits.

Kel Davis worked 15 of the accidents, he reported, and five were accidents in which persons were injured sufficiently to go to the hospital. Six persons were hurt.

Jimmy Parks, the other county patrol officer, worked six accidents during the month and in these three persons were hurt.

No Wrecks Occur In City On Holiday

While most of the state and nation was piling up accidents at a staggering rate, Big Spring and Howard County was experiencing a weekend practically free of mishaps.

Not a single accident was reported in the city or county during the Memorial Day holiday Friday, and only one mishap occurred in Big Spring through Saturday afternoon.

In that lone accident, cars driven by J. W. Patton, 308 W. 18th, and Reba Moss, 631 Caylor, were involved in a collision at 8th and Owens Saturday.

Northwestern Dawson and northeastern Borden counties shared in the oil spotlight. Midwest No. 1 Davis, northwest of Lamesa, prepared to complete with a flow of around 20 barrels per hour from the Pennsylvania assured. Dunigan & Curry No. 1 Weddell, northeast of Gal, looked like a dual producer from the Pennsylvania and the Ellenburger.

The annual citywide recreational program is to start Monday morning. While the sign-up has been good, there are still many openings for elementary age youngsters at the North Ward and the West Side centers. Children can still register there at the first sessions.

Two new Methodist ministers have been assigned to Big Spring pulpits—the Rev. D. J. McCarthy to Park and Royce McCormack to Wesley. This was expected for quite some time because both H. W. Gaston, Park, and C. W. Harmenter, Wesley, had announced plans to retire.

Volunteers in the mop-up brigade were swinging into action for the YMCA with the result that the building fund had edged up to about $270,000 at the end of the week. This is getting mighty close to the 90 per cent mark.

Commissioners court members are getting in the short rows on the FM-700 East Loop roadway. Less than 11 acres out of an original total of 90 remains to be obtained. But this is in pieces from 2 1/2 acres down and thus slower and harder to get.

To all intents, the Summer Fun Days project, which saw the courthouse lawn turned into a sort of outdoor mall, proved successful. There was certainly a lot of interested traffic past the more than a score of displays.

Foresees Compromise Vote On Defense Reorganization

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH) predicted Saturday that Congress will approve a compromise defense reorganization bill in a form acceptable to President Eisenhower.

Stock Market Pushes Up To New '58 High

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market nudged forward against heavy resistance this week to make another new high for 1958.

The market was in the midst of a "supply area" represented by stock bought well below the year's peak prices and now for sale.

But the New Hampshire senator made clear he would not yield to the secretary of defense authority to transfer functions among the separate armed services as Eisenhower originally proposed.

"I certainly believe that the integrity of the individual services should be preserved," Bridges said. "However, we shouldn't create any bottleneck for the dispatch of military orders in an atomic age."

The bill unanimously approved by the House Armed Services Committee provides for an operational Joint Staff through which there would be a clear line of command from the President and the secretary of defense to the field military forces made up of more than one service.

The House committee wrote into the bill provisions under which the head of any service could appeal to Congress from a decision of the secretary transferring any function of that service. Congress could veto such a change by a simple resolution of both Houses, not requiring presidential signature.

Eisenhower protested this would lead to "legalized insubordination," and the continuation of wasteful duplications and inter-service rivalry. Although he demanded changes, senior GOP members of the House committee were reported to have advised the White House to postpone any fight over the issue until the bill reaches the Senate.

But the commission will not schedule another hearing, said the vice-chairman, Rep. Frates Seelgson of San Antonio, unless there is extraordinary demand.

The fifth public session heard several requests Friday for tax relief, including a strong demand from Texas cities that they be permitted to share in any possible state sales or income tax.

The Texas League of Women Voters' spokesman, Mrs. Horton Smith of Austin, said she hoped the commission would recommend constitutional revision of financial matters.

Mrs. Smith, state president of the league, told the commission it is working for a complete revision of the state Constitution, about one-third of which deals with detailed specific state finance matters.

"With the multitude of detailed constitutional provisions specifying kinds of taxes, rates of taxation, purposes of taxation, innumerable uses of revenue, fiscal management and disbursement, the picture that emerges is greatly discouraging to the citizen who wishes to understand his government," Mrs. Smith said.

O. C. Crutchfield, spokesman for the Texas League of Municipalities, noted that 90 per cent of the revenue for cities comes from the property tax. It is no longer enough, he said.

"We do not seek a state dole. We do ask for sufficient powers to meet city needs," he said, urging that cities be allowed to share in any broad based tax that may be imposed.

Group To Make Report On State Tax Findings

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Tax Study Commission has finished its public hearings, now faces the job of writing a report for the next Legislature.

The commission will not schedule another hearing, said the vice-chairman, Rep. Frates Seelgson of San Antonio, unless there is extraordinary demand.

Findings For Air Safety Turn Out To Be Premature

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two weeks ago the Civil Aeronautics Board sent Congress a 30-page report, found in soothing green covers, entitled "The Advance in Air Safety."

Few reports have been so ill-timed.

Three days later, in sunny skies 8,000 feet above the picturesque Potomac Valley in Maryland, a military jet collided with a Chicago-to-Baltimore Capital Airlines passenger plane and sent both craft hurtling to the earth in flames.

The toll: 12 killed. The jet pilot, blown clear in his automatic ejection seat, was the lone survivor.

Tragically underscoring the growing hazard's in America's congested airways, it was the third major collision of the year and the 162nd in the last decade with a total of 511 fatalities. Significantly, military jets have figured in three of the last four aerial smashups.

On Capitol Hill, congressional alarms jangled harshly after the latest episode.

President Eisenhower promptly ordered a five-point program designed to keep military jets away from civilian airways.

The military services voluntarily agreed to reduce the number of jet flights made below 20,000 feet.

In addition, Senate and House committees launched brass-knuckled investigations into the whole subject of air safety, with Chairman Prince H. Preston (D-Ga.) of a House Appropriations subcommittee commenting grimly:

"Flying today is like playing Russian roulette."

Preston's gloom centered in part on the CAB's own statement that 971 near misses—some within less than 100 feet—were reported by pilots in 1957, or an average of more than 2½ a day. Experts say the CAB's figures fall short of reality. Many pilots, unwilling to criticize, never file complaints of near misses.

Counterbalancing the recent spate of tragedies, however, the record is full of reassuring statistics.

"Flying is safe. It is becoming safer," said the CAB's report to Congress.

"Every day 200,000 or more persons fly safely through the air-space over the United States. For the past six years in a row the fatality rate (on scheduled airlines) has been less than one per 100 million passenger miles.

"Put another way, this is a safety rate of more than 99.9974 per cent."

Session Slated At Printing School

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—The annual business and election meeting of the Southwest School of Printing, a division of Sam Houston State Teachers College, will be held here Monday at 10 a.m.

Robert Gleason, the school's general manager, said Saturday.

During the one-day meeting, Texas newspaper publishers and commercial printers will study plans for improving the school which is ending its first full year as a division of the college.

This Is Our Stand:

The Undersigned Baptist Pastors Believe:

1. That dancing in each of its many forms and steps is a detriment to the spiritual life of all people who participate in it.
2. That dancing is an instrument of the devil to unloose the passions of the human race and in so doing destroy the basic foundation of human loyalty to God, to fellowmen and to self.
3. That dancing, whether private or public, is a detriment to the community and nation and if the people do not rise up against it, the resulting immorality will destroy the community and nation.
4. That no consecrated Christian will be found participating in this form of evil, but to the contrary will sound his voice against it and do this to the glory of the God who saved his soul.
5. Believing all this to be true, we cannot and will not lend our support to any organization that sponsors or condones dancing.

Stock Due Next Weekend For '58 Rodeo, Cowboy Reunion

Big Spring is saddling up for its annual western extravaganza — the big rodeo and cowboy reunion June 12-13-14.

Everett Colborn, who again produces the local show, moves his string of stock into the area this week for the Midland production which begins Tuesday night. By the end of the week the stock will be in the corrals here, resting for the gala kick-off performance at 8 p.m. June 12.

There will be $2,800 added purses to be spread over five major events and two added attractions. Besides the traditional calf roping, steer wrestling, saddle bronc and bareback bronc busting and the bull riding events, there will be wild cow milking and the girls' races. Besides sharing in all entrance fees, participants in the major events will split $450 and in steer wrestling $300. Girls have $255 added to their entrance fees.

Colborn announced that Buck LeGrand, veteran rodeo performer, will again serve as the clown of the show, and that Pete Logan, last year's announcer, will be back. Colborn's daughter, Mrs. Rosemary Tompkins, will be the arena secretary.

Two new and bright specialty acts have been booked for this year's rodeo. One is the Beeswax and Moore Family, Beeswax being a recalcitrant jackass that takes out on Papa (Syd) Moore his resentment at Mama Moore's efforts to control him. The Moores, who hail from Tucson, Ariz., also have some sheep dogs (those shaggy creatures with hair down over their eyes) and some smaller dogs that get into the act. During the summer, their children, Sylvia, 13, Burr, 11, and Stacey, 4, sometimes take part.

The other act is Bud Carlell and Rose, which includes a demonstration of trick and fancy riding and exhibition of precision work with the Australian whips. They also give a demonstration of rope spinning that sees Bud twirling five loops at once while Rose gyrates one of the largest loops in rodeo history.

Work is under way at the rodeo arena west of the city to put the plant in tip-top condition for this year's production. Officials say that the big bowl already is in fine shape. Corrals are being painted and the premises given a general cleaning.

Tickets for the event will be on sale at several points, including Ward's Boot Shop, the Chamber of Commerce, Creighton Tire Co., Alexander's Jewelry, Coker's Restaurant, and Driver Insurance. Box seats are on sale at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Operator Seized In Station Holdup

GROOM, Tex. (AP)—Six or seven youths held up a filling station in this Panhandle town during the night and took its teen-age operator four miles into the country and left him. They got about $100.

The attendant, Bobby Gross, said Saturday the youths drove to the station about 4:30 a.m. One forced him against a wall while another threatened him with an object in his pocket that could have been a pistol.

They then forced Gross into their car, he said, and drove him into the country, where they shoved him from the car. He said either 6 or 7 boys were in the car.

Fort Worth Theft Suspect Held Here

Local authorities held a 16-year-old in jail Saturday after he had been arrested with a stolen car. Police Patrolman Sherrill Farmer arrested the youth here Friday with a car which had been stolen from a Fort Worth man Thursday night.

Fort Worth authorities were expected here this weekend to pick him up.

The contractors, advised of the action of the CAA, informed R. H.

Early Preparations

It's a long time yet before Christmas Seal time, but it isn't too early to start planning for the annual fund-raising project, officials of the Tuberculosis Assn. believe. That's just what Mrs. Evelyn Gray, right, executive secretary of the Howard County Tuberculosis Assn., and Mrs. Thelma Outlaw, field consultant for the Texas Tuberculosis Assn., are doing. Mrs. Outlaw was in Big Spring Friday to help local leaders set up machinery for seal sales.

YEAR'S TOTAL: 8.44

Rainfall Pattern Ideal, Farmers Say

Rainfall for May stood at 1.83 inches as the month came to an end.

The year's total is now 8.44. May saw the undisputed moisture leadership of 1958 over 1957 top-to-bottom. May was a period of floods and 7.97 inches of the entire year's 23.09 inches came in that month.

This May had no such deluges as were the rule a year ago. Up to May, this year was far ahead of 1957 in rain totals.

Through April, the rainfall for 1958 totaled 6.61 inches as compared to only 3.36 for the same four months in 1957. It was only when May moved in last year with its tremendously heavy downpours that the figure jumped to 11.43. Farmers, however, are much happier with the steady month-to-month average of around 1.50 inch of 1958 than they were over the gully-washers of last May.

They also point to the happier conditions which prevailed in September, October, November and December of 1957 — the months when the much needed deep winter moisture should be provided. The last four months of last year brought 6.73 inches. The same months in 1956 provided only 3.11 inches.

Most farmers are hopeful that the timely showers which have prevailed throughout the spring will not stop with the arrival of June. Last June saw 1.66 inches of rain. A similar precipitation for the current month, farmers say, would be just about what the doctor ordered.

CAA, Contractor, County To Confer On Airport Work

Representatives of the Civil Aeronautics Authority, contractors who have the job of building the Howard County Airport and the Howard County Commissioners Court will have a momentous conference on Monday.

Purpose of the meeting is to actually work out final details to permit the contractors to move on the job and begin work.

The CAA has said it will send a representative to discuss with the county officials the issue of how payments from the federal allocation of $400,000 for the airport are to be made.

Three contractors in Abilene, who submitted a joint bid of $617,418.38, have the contract to build the airport. They are T. B. Brown and Co., J. A. Pruitt and T. M. Brown and Sons. They will also have representatives on hand for the conference on Monday.

The CAA has officially notified the county that the last obstacle to starting work on the airport has been cleared and a work order issued. This was announced last Thursday.

The contractors, advised of the action of the CAA, informed R. H.

Weaver, county judge, they were ready to start work at once.

The airport will represent, when completed, an investment of nearly $900,000 of which $500,000 is being provided by the county.

1958 S'west Grid Race To Be Close

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

All the Southwest Conference football teams have finished spring training and there's no indication that the league will have a power house next fall. Right now it wouldn't appear the conference might boast a member of the top half-dozen.

But Coach Bill Meek of Southern Methodist, busy trying to get his team off the championship spot, says looks are deceiving. "Every school had a fine freshman team last fall," he points out. "There was general excellence among the first year teams. We're going to have some top football players that the fans don't know about. The teams are going to be a little more solid."

He thinks that while the conference won't have a team that might be rated with the leading five or six it will have balance and that the championship race will be a dilly.

Meek is frank to say that he thinks his team will be better than last season—that is the starting outfit. But he fears for the worst on the basis of his reserve material. He may not have enough depth.

But there's one thing about it: He'll find out mighty quick what he has—he plays Ohio State and Notre Dame to start the season. A fellow couldn't expect a tougher assignment than that.

SMU is going to be well rated because of its Don Meredith, the slickest passer the league has seen in years. Meredith should be one of the best football players in the country. And SMU will have a talented running attack and the best kicker in the nation in Dave Sherer. If the line can come up to the potentiality of the backfield SMU could win the title.

However, Texas Christian and Texas are going to be the favored teams. TCU looks like it will present a good passer for a change. That's all the Horned Frogs needed last season—they were tough defensively and had a great running attack. But nobody could pass a lick.

Hunter Enis showed some great throwing in spring training, however and TCU thinks it'll have enough ability in the air to keep the opposition loose.

Texas has to do some developing in the line but has a fine array of backs and good wingmen. Its Bobby Lackey should be one of the top quarterbacks of the country.

Rice will be fully as good as it was last season in winning the championship although losing its great quarterback one-two punch, King Hill and Frank Ryan. Rice, says Meek (Jess Neely will appreciate getting this for a home run that fashioned a 10-9 victory for the St. Louis Cardinals over the stumbling San Francisco Giants.

The defeat slipped the Westerners into second place, 11 percent age points behind Milwaukee, an 8-3 victor over Pittsburgh. It was the Giants third consecutive loss to St. Louis—their biggest losing streak of the year.

Miller entered the game in the eighth and hurled four perfect innings, retiring 12 men before Boyer reached him for the game-winning blow.

O'Connor To Be Buried Today

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)— The body of Pat O'Connor, 29-year-old driver killed in a 15-car pileup in the first lap of Friday's 500-mile auto race, will be buried Sunday not far from the grave of Willard Shaw, three-time winner of the Memorial Day classic.

O'Connor was a protege of Shaw, who was killed in 1954 in the crash of a private airplane. Funeral services for O'Connor will be conducted at 2 p.m. (CDT) Sunday in the First Baptist Church of North Vernon, Ind., his home town. Burial will be in the Vernon Cemetery.

The Hoosier racer is survived by his widow and a son, Jeffrey Scott, 1½.

Elisian Barred From Tracks

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Ed Elisian, a big and bitter man, was barred Saturday from competing in any auto races sanctioned by the United States Auto Club as a result of the 15-car pileup Friday in the 42nd 500-mile Memorial Day classic.

Jimmy Bryan of Phoenix, Ariz., driving the only car of the first seven that missed the wreck, won the race.

Pat O'Connor of North Vernon, Ind., one of the nation's outstanding drivers, died in the worst crash—a number of cars involved—in the Indianapolis Motor Speedway's 47-year history.

The 200-pound, 31-year-old Elisian, who holds the speedway one-lap qualifying record, was quoted after the accident as saying that he chattered into the turn too fast.

But Saturday Elisian told the Associated Press: "I don't know why I lost it (the car)."

"I had driven through that corner faster. I have had these hot dogs (race drivers) spin in front of me and run me through the wall on other tracks. It sure wasn't intentional. I liked O'Connor as well as anybody."

Also bitter was Dick Rathmann of Miami, whose car was cut almost in two by Elisian's in the collision that started the rightful chain of wrecks. Dick and Ed had been almost inseparable friends in the three-week practice period.

Rathmann explained the horrifying wreck (two photographers became ill) this way:

"Elisian had the lead in the second (southeast) corner, but I passed him on the backstretch. "I backed off at the second bush past the cross (a slow-down marker erected originally for the late Rex Mays) to go into the turn normally."

"Elisian went around me on the inside. He was going 50 miles an hour faster than he ever could go through that corner. He made no effort to back off. I tried to go outside to miss him, but Elisian's car knocked me into the wall. Then I blacked out."

"Elisian hasn't had a smooth lap this month. I told him he'd better keep it smooth during the race."

"I'll never forgive Elisian for what he did. Pat O'Connor was the most honorable guy in racing."

Duane Carter, a veteran race driver and now director of competition for USAC, announced: "I am suspending Elisian from all racing for the safety and well being of himself and his fellow competitors."

"I am suspending him because of a series of errors in judgment. He'll not race again until he can appeal to the USAC's board of directors."

Sports Car Races Lure 100 Entries

FORT WORTH — More than 100 entries are expected for the third annual Texas Championship Sports Car Races June 7-8.

Seventy-five entries from seven states have already filed and the field could surpass even last year's record number of 107.

The races will be held at Fort Worth's Eagle Mountain air strip which makes a 2.9-mile concrete raceway with nine tricky turns. The bigger cars will reach speeds of 140 down the straightaways.

Prominent Texas sports car racers thus far entered in the event are Houston's Ebb Rose, driving a 4.5 Maserati; Dallas' Jim Han, in either a Lister-Chevrolet or a 250s Maserati; Fort Worth's Dick McGuire in a Ferrari Monza; Houston's Bob Steele in an Ace Bristol and Jackboro's Roy Cherry-homes in a Ferrari Testa Rosa.

Sam Bell Quits Position Here

Sam Houston Bell, 34, a member of the Big Spring High School coaching staff for the past two years, has accepted a position as head basketball coach and assistant football mentor at Robert E. Lee High School in Tyler.

SAM BELL

He later enrolled at Kilgore Junior College, played on that school's state championship club and was named to the JC all-state team.

Bell served as one of the coaches of the B team in both football and basketball here. In two years, he guided the Steer B basketball team to 39 victories, compared only ten losses.

A native of Elysian Fields (Harrison County, located near Marshall), Texas, Bell lettered three years each in football, basketball and track in high school there. He was captain of his team in each sport in each of his final two years in school. He graduated in 1941.

While playing basketball for a Marine team in the Southwest Pacific, Sam helped his team win the South Zone championship in the South Pacific playoffs.

Bell was selected as captain of the North Texas basketball team for the 1948-49 season. He graduated from North Texas in 1949 and started his coaching career that September at Bellville, west of Houston. He remained there four years, serving as head basketball coach four years and head football mentor the final three years of his tenure.

His 1952 grid eleven won ten of 12 starts, earned the district title; and beat Bay City in bi-district, 7-0; before yielding to LaMarque in the Regional finals, 26-21.

He quit at Bellville to take a post at Overton, near Kilgore, and remained there three years before coming to Big Spring.

During that time (1953 through May of '56) Sam's football teams won 13 times while losing 15. His basketball clubs topped 33 decisions, compared to 31 losses.

His new school, Tyler Lee, has been placed in District 7-AAA, where it will compete against Kilgore, Nachodoches, Gladewater, Henderson, Jacksonville and Carthage.

He and his attractive wife, Sue, have two sons, Sam Jr., age 9; and Scotty, 6.

Midland Wins Without A Hit

MIDLAND (SC) — Troy Wessel held the Eagles Lodge hitless but the Midland team finished on the long end of a 3-1 score over the Cosden Oilers of Big Spring in a Midland Softball league game played here Thursday night.

Three Cosden errors paved the way for two Eagle runs in the third inning, Don and John White crossing the plate.

The Eagles picked up another tally in the fourth when Dave Hopkins walked and legged it home on another bobble.

Pete Cook scored Cosden's lone tally in the fifth when he walked and rode home on a triple by Gene Gross, the only hit of the game for either team.

Cosden was to have played two games but the second bout never came off, due to a mixup in the schedule.

Cosden plays again Monday night, meeting A&J Electric at 9 o'clock here.

Scoreboard for Midland vs Cosden Oilers. Midland 3, Cosden 1. Pitcher: Troy Wessel. Batter: Pete Cook.

Braves Hitless In Li'l League

BH Worley and Ricky Earle combined to set the Braves down without a hit as the Gold Sox won a 17-0 National Little League game here Friday night.

Four runners reached base against the Gold Sox pair, all as the result of walks.

Cliff Stewart paced the Sox's 13-hit offensive against three Brave hurlers, driving out a double and two singles.

Paschal Moves Up At Expense Of War Birds

ABILENE (SC) — Fort Worth Paschal won its way into the State baseball tournament by defeating the Abilene Eagles, 6-5, for the second straight time here Friday afternoon.

Eight Abilene errors didn't help matters. Relief hurler Bert Griffin picked up the win, his ninth against one defeat.

The loss was charged to Roger Mac Evans, whose record is now 6-3.

Paschal picked up four runs in the third inning and erupted for two tallies in the seventh.

Abilene got a run in the seventh but the game ended on a weird note for the Eagles after they had counted a tally and put a runner aboard.

Umpire Gus Steiner signified a strike on Evans, who was at the plate. Evans didn't hear the call.

Griffin, the alert Paschal hurler, wheeled and threw the ball to shortstop Jerry Carter, who made the tag on Conselman and the game was history.

Carter came up with two of Paschal's six hits while Bill Sides paced Abilene with three.

Abilene was seeking its fourth straight State championship.

JIMMY BRYAN ROARS TO SPEEDWAY WIN

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Steady-driving Jimmy Bryan, in last year's winning car, Friday captured the 42nd Indianapolis 500-mile auto race, led by a 12-car smashup which killed veteran Pat O'Connor at the start.

Bryan, national big car champion, won by 27 seconds over rookie George Amick, 33, tiny driver from Venice, Calif., in the event's second fastest time, 137.71 miles an hour.

O'Connor, 29, making his fifth speedway start, perished in flames after his car turned over in the awesome pileup as the 33-car field took the northeast corner for the first time.

Miraculously, only one other casualty—that a dislocated right shoulder suffered by Jerry Unser—resulted from the whiplashing of the dozen cars which kept the race from hitting top speed for 25 minutes.

Bryan, 31, from Phoenix, Ariz., won as expected in the yellow, flat-engined Belond Special which also gave now-retired Sam Hanks his first 500 triumph last year.

Bryan's winning time was not too far behind Hanks' record 135.601 m.p.h. last year.

However, Bryan got competition until his third, well-timed pit stop, from Amick, who finished strong; Johnny Boyd of Fresno, Calif., who finished third; Jim Rathmann of Miami, fourth and Hausen of Tinley Park, Ill., fifth.

Sixth was Jimmy Reece of Indianapolis; seventh, Don Freedland, also of Indianapolis; eighth was Jud Larson, another rookie, Hickman Mills, Mo.; ninth, Eddie Johnson, Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, and tenth, Bill Cheesbourg, Tucson, Ariz.

The spectacular crash came after the field got off to perhaps its poorest start in history. The confusion started when pole driver Dick Rathmann jumped onto the track ahead of the pace car. Two other cars in the first row, driven by Ed Elisian and Jimmy Reece, followed suit.

With the pace car leading the rest of the field and the first row playing hide-and-seek around the 2 1/2-mile track, it wasn't until the third time around that the leaders scored into their front places, but before the green flag was flashed. The field, staggered considerably by this time, instead of in the customary neat 11 rows of three cars each, negotiated the dangerous first southwest corner and the southeast corner.

Disaster struck at the northeast turn. Rathmann said Elisian's brakes "went out." Elisian spun, Rathmann tried to go around him, but also whirled. "It was just a mess," Rathmann said. "My car split in half."

Into the pileup sped O'Connor, in the second row. His car overturned and burst into flames. He was burned about the face and upper body and could not be extricated until the fire was put out. His death was due to a skull fracture.

Reid Jack Seeks Golf Title Again

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) — The British Amateur Golf Championship begins Monday after the famed St. Andrews Old Course.

For the first time since the tournament was inaugurated in 1886, a regional qualifying requirement was inaugurated this year and the number of foreign entries was limited.

The field includes players from nine nations. There are 14 Americans, two each from Australia, South Africa, Kenya and France and one each from Canada, Denmark, Italy and New Zealand.

Reid Jack, the slim, sandy-haired Scottish stockbroker who won the title at Stormy, England, will be on hand to defend his title as will runner-up, Harold Ridgley, the 42-year-old American Air Force sergeant from Haverford, Pa.

RUIDOSO, N. M. (SC)—A quarter race at 400 yards has drawn the featured spot on Sunday's racing card at Ruidoso Downs, as the meet moves into full swing.

This sprint, tenth race on the program, named in honor of Jim Derrick, Carlsbad, N. M., President of Ruidoso Racing Assn., has attracted a full field of 10 contestants.

Probable favorites will be Bobby Logan, owned by C. T. Guseman of Hereford, Texas. This horse is a steady, consistent performer and has turned in 10 wins.

Then there is Audie Murphy's Bond Issue, who is showing lots of speed in early morning workouts. Audie is expected to be on hand to watch his speedster perform.

Chickadoo, capably conditioned by Willie Kelley is a two-time winner. Dynamo Leo won two last year at Centennial, Bully Bob, owned by Lester Goodson, past president of the American Quarter Horse Assn., has come off a win at Alamitos.

Allie Whit, Jane's Boy, May High and Flicker's Bull are the remaining contenders.

The feature is followed by a Thoroughbred event at 5 1/2 furlongs, made up of a particularly strong, full field. The runners are all pretty evenly matched. However, the early favorites seem to be Dream Mint, owned and trained by P. H. Herndon, of Clovis, N. M.; and Raviilla, owned by Andy Carlgis.

Freddie Hernandez Leads Soph League In Hitting

By The Associated Press

Pitchers in the Sophomore League may be better off if they walk an Artesian youngster named Freddie Hernandez every time he comes up. Chances are better than ever he would get a hit anyway.

The Giants' slugger was pelting the ball at a fantastic .356 clip in games played through May 25 —that came with 37 safeties in 69 trips to the plate. His hits total also was the best in the young circuit.

To add luster to the pace, Hernandez poled out 58 total bases to also lead in that department.

Bolivar Hinojosa of Plainview showed the way in doubles with seven and Frankie Williams of Hobbs held the triples claim with five. Jim Turner of Plainview bested the home run polers with six.

Bob Jacobson of Plainview and Gary Krupsky of Artesia shared the runs batted in title with 28.

Backing up league-leading Artesia's hitting was Danilo Rivas, stylish hurler who led the league with five wins.

Ervin Moore of Plainview had the best earned run average—1.84—while Vince Di Giulio of Plainview had fanned 59 batsmen to top that bracket.

The Giants also had a firm grip on club batting and fielding averages with marks of .296 and .943 respectively.

Stars Score Late To Defeat Colts

The Stars came from behind with two runs in the final inning to nip the Colts, 11-10, in an American Little League baseball game played here Friday night.

David Lovelace crashed out a double to score Bill Homberg and Tindol Staggs to end the game. Not a batter had been retired.

Lovelace's blow was the only extra-base hit of the contest, which saw the losers collect nine safeties and the winners only five.

Victor Reid was the winning hurler. Joe Percy the loser. David Terry, Tommy Barrow and Mike Kraas each collected two safeties for the winners while Lovelace was the only member of the Stars' team to get as many as two bingles.

Drilling Sags To New Low As 300 Rigs Reported In Basin

No end could be sighted to the downward trend of rotary drilling in the Permian Basin this week. Friday in the count of active rigs for the third week in a row, Reed Roller Bit Co. counted the active rotaries over the Basin Friday and could find only 300. This is 10 less than were on action on the previous count, May 23, and it is also the lowest total of the year and in several years.

Well over 500 rotaries were turning in the Basin a year ago today.

Lea County, N. M., continued as the most active county in the Basin with Winkler topping the West Texas portion. Lea reported 38 active units—down eight from the previous report—and Winkler reported 37. The Winkler total is up five over May 23.

Andrews nose-dived from 21 rigs on May 23 to only 14 this time.

Throughout the Basin, the individual totals (with May 23 totals in parentheses) include Andrews 14 (21), Borden 3 (4), Cochran 2 (2), Coke 6 (3), Chaves 3 (2), Concho 1 (0), Crane 16 (15), Crockett 3 (2), and Culberson 6 (6).

Also Dawson 4 (4), Ector 28 (30), Eddy 12 (11), Fisher 4 (0), Gaines 11 (10), Garza 5 (8), Glasscock 1 (1), Hidalgo 1 (0), Hockley 3 (2), HOWARD 4 (4), Irion 1 (1), Kent 1 (0), Lea 38 (46), Loving 4 (3), and Lynn 2 (2).

Others listed in the survey are Martin 3 (3), Midland 8 (8), Nolan 6 (6), Pecos 16 (17), Reagan 4 (2), Roosevelt 4 (4), Reeves 2 (0), Runnels 8 (5), Scurry 7 (8), Schleicher 2 (2), Sterling 1 (1), Stonewall 4 (4), Sutton 1 (0), and Tom Green 2 (1).

Also Terry 2 (4), Terrell 3 (4), Upton 3 (7), Ward 5 (6), Winkler 37 (32), Yoakum 10 (12), and Permian Basin totals 300 (310).

STILL LOWEST COST

Petroleum Holds Inside Track For Special Fuels

HOUSTON (AP) — A research engineer said this week low costs still favor petroleum products in a vigorous search for new high-energy fuels for modern weapons and aircraft.

Robert Wells, Harnmarville, Pa., said petroleum chemicals will play an important part in the preparation of high-energy fuels.

"However, fuels from petroleum will continue to provide push for the largest tonnages of weapon systems, including the proposed atomic bombers, and all of the commercial energy requirements for many years to come," he said.

The Gulf Oil research center engineer told the Aviation Writers Assn. of America much progress has been made in finding chemical combinations that will give planes greater speed, range and altitude.

"These promising fuels are being manufactured for use in test vehicles and may prove to be the answer to many problems which the special weapon manufacturers are finding otherwise insurmountable," he said.

He added, however, that suitable high-energy fuels for turbine-engined planes will have to be compatible with present equipment in that next year's airplanes and engines already are being designed.

"And some are flying now," he said, adding that practically all of the commercial airlines have announced plans for the adoption of turbine-powered aircraft.

Most of these airliners, he said, are expected to operate on aviation grade kerosene—Turbine fuel JP-4, a mixture of gasoline and kerosene.

"Because they are to be operated by commercial enterprises, Wells said, such aircraft will be expected to make money by keeping operating costs as low as possible.

Latimer Protests Trust Accusation

Ired by anti-trust indictments returned by a Federal District Court grand jury in Alexandria, Va., L. L. Latimer, Dallas, has joined other company heads in a vigorous denial of the charge.

"It is astounding that Magnolia should have this false accusation placed against it," he said. "We deny it in whole and in part. The indictment charges that we were a party to a conspiracy in January of last year to raise crude oil prices. Actually we were among the last to raise prices and had to do so to meet the needs of our own customers and those of affiliated companies."

He said crude demand increased with closing of the Suez Canal, and thus prices went up.

"The accusations about product prices are just as unrealistic and untrue. Gasoline prices were brought out in so many places in the Southwest in recent months are evidence of the competition that exists in this industry."

"Anti-trust laws are intended to promote competition, not to penalize an industry whose competition is evident on street corners all over America."

Among others who issued strong statements ranging from "ridiculous" to "untrue" were Robert Dunlop, Sun Oil; L. F. McCollum, Conoco; K. S. Adams, Phillips; John E. Swearingen, Standard Oil; John C. Donnell, Ohio Oil.

OIC Employee Head Named

DALLAS — Oil public relations man John Sidney Smith of Dallas has been named to direct the employee program of the Texas Oil Information Committee statewide. He succeeds A. B. Macauley, who was transferred to Tulsa.

Southwest OIC Chairman James L. Sewall said Smith will head up this important phase of the three-part information and service program sponsored by the American Petroleum Institute.

Smith is charged with developing projects to help companies with their employees on matters and issues that affect the oil industry. He will work directly with 125 OIC coordinators in oil firms throughout the state.

Smith is currently public relations director for the Sun Oil Co. production department in Dallas although his responsibility covers company operations in all the United States and part of Canada.

A native of Bryan, he was a 1932 honor graduate from Baylor University, was editor of the Round Up and permanent president of his class. For 15 years he worked daily newspapers in Texas, including the Bryan Eagle, Houston Post and Dallas Morning News.

In 1947, Smith joined Sun Oil as editor of an employee magazine and won national and international honors for this publication. In 1954 he was promoted to the position he holds today.

He is one of the founders and a charter member of the Texas Sports Writers Association, chairman of the Publications Committee of the Baylor Ex-Students Association.

Smith is a member of the Public Relations Society of America, Sigma Delta Chi, and several other trades and professional societies.

Stonewall Test Is Due To Plug

Cosden Petroleum Corp. this weekend prepared to plug and abandon a wildcat in Stonewall County after finding several sections barren.

The Cosden No. 1-A Minor Alexander is about five miles north of Hamlin, 1,900 feet from north and east lines of Austin & Williams Survey No. 4.

Total depth is 6,635 feet. Last week, operator plugged back and tested the Strawn perforations from 5,362-70 feet but didn't find any commercial production. Light shows had been logged in the Straws.

MARTIN WILDCAT LOGS SHOWS IN STRAWN ZONE

Operator deepened the Hamon & Republic Natural Gas Co. No. 1 Helton Estate in Martin County past 11,708 feet in lime Saturday.

The venture, a wildcat six miles northwest of Tarzan, is headed for the Devonian after finding good shows of oil in the Strawn on a drillstem test. The Strawn section from 10,908-30 feet produced free oil without a trace of water.

Drillsite is 5,773 feet from south and 7,577 feet from east lines of League 246, Wheeler CSL Survey, and about 21 miles northwest of Stanton. The try is contracted to 12,000 feet to test the Devonian.

In the Breedlove (Devonian) field, Husky & Pano Tech No. 2 Breedlove drilled in lime and shale at the end of the week below 11,218 feet. It is staked 1,419 feet from north and 4,509 feet from east lines of League 258, Briscoe CSL Survey, and 10 miles southwest of Patricia.

Deep Wildcat Due In Eastern Dawson

An 8,000-foot wildcat exploration has been staked in the eastern part of Dawson County.

The new try is W. M. & A. P. Fuller, Cabot Carbon, and Southern Petroleum of Midland No. 1-A W. C. Orson and is less than a mile from the Borden County line.

Drillsite is 600 feet from south and west lines, 15-33-5n, T&P Survey, and about two miles northwest of production in the North Jo-Mill (Spraberry) field.

Also announced this weekend was location of a wildcat in Runnels County.

It is Anderson & Graham of San Angelo No. 1 Wheelless Estate. It is located 2,290 feet from south and 2,360 feet from east lines of the southwest quarter of Section 149, John Heil Survey, but in the J. P. Freeman Survey.

The 4,500-foot wildcat is about three miles southwest of the Clark-kirk field.

Drowning Victim's Body Recovered

The body of Terry Coleman, a brother-in-law to Police Capt. Lindy Oldfield, was found Saturday morning in Lake Dallas, and funeral services are to be held this afternoon.

Mr. Coleman drowned in the lake last Sunday while on a fishing trip and the body was not located until Saturday. He was a resident of Dallas.

When Oldfield and his family left here Saturday, they didn't know where in Dallas the funeral services were to be held.

Imports Fight To Be Carried To U.S. Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—A group of independent oil operators expressed Saturday determination to carry to the Senate their fight to restrict oil imports.

They said this action would be sought even should the House, in its consideration next week of a bill to extend beyond June 30 the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, approve a compromise.

The proposed compromise will be offered as an amendment to the result of an agreement reached by the House Ways and Means Committee.

The proposal provides that the President, in determining if imports are at a rate threatening the national security, must consider investment in a company as well as a normal level of exploration and development.

Rep. Frank Beard (D-Tex.), a member of the committee, said the compromise proposal is not completely satisfactory but that it represents an important step and probably is the best that can be done in the House this session.

The committee rejected an amendment by Beard and others to write into the trade extension bill a provision to limit oil imports to the 1954 ratio of imports to domestic production.

Roberts Pool Well

Frank B. Waters No. 1-3 Dora Roberts, has been completed in the Dora Roberts (Devonian) field in west Midland County. On a 24-hour potential test, it flowed 350 barrels of 32.8 gravity oil, through an 18-64-inch choke and perforations from 11,742 to 11,833 feet. It is in section 3-41-35 T&P.

Cosden Polystyrene Unit On Shakedown

Cosden's polystyrene unit is now in the shakedown phase.

The new facility has been completed by the contractor and charge stock from the styrene unit is being put into the reactors to check performance.

There will be a period of ironing out the inevitable bugs attendant upon the activation of any new refining or petro-chemical unit. Officials explained that the piping systems have to be checked out against leaks; valve operation, metering equipment, etc., all have to be brought into proper performance and adjustment.

When the new plant, which differs sharply from other processes now employed by Cosden Petroleum Corporation, goes on stream, it will produce a clear grade styrene plastic material.

The styrene unit, which went on stream a couple of years ago, utilizes super-fractionation in obtaining ethyl benzene from the paraxylene in the xylene off the BTX plant. It turns out a liquid monomer, so-called because the styrene is held in a single molecular arrangement. When it is polymerized (that is many molecules are joined), the styrene goes into a stable or solid state and is widely used in clear plastics.

Drill Bit Turns Spotlight Here

The May issue of Drill Bit, an oil periodical beamed at the Permian Basin, devoted a large portion of its news space to Big Spring and oil interests in Howard County.

The issue, published in Odessa, was mailed to subscribers last week.

Seven stories in the edition are devoted to Big Spring and Howard County's oil industry. Three are features on Big Springers, Fred Hyer, Mrs. Helen Green, and Mrs. Alma Gollnick.

Other stories are on the city, oil production in the county, Cosden and the Big Spring Desk & Derrick Club.

The magazine only last month started a series of stories spotlighting cities in the Permian Basin, and Big Spring is thus the second city honored. The series started with Andrews.

U. S. And Canada Totals Show Gain

The summer season with its attendant stepped up drilling operations in Western Canada (climate slows winter drilling there) edged the rotary drilling total in the United States and Canada upward slightly during the week ended May 26.

Hughes Tool Co., in its report to the American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors, showed 1,960 rigs turning, up 38 from the previous week. Of this number 190 were in Western Canada, a gain there of 32 for the week. Only substantial gain in the United States was in Kansas where 14 more rigs boosted the total to 128. Texas, with 640, lost six rigs due to the net decline of 15 rigs on the Texas Gulf coast (land). A month ago the U. S. and Canada totals stood at 1,879; a year ago at 2,587.

THE ONE TRUE NATIONAL ADVERTISING MEDIUM

IS

THE DAILY NEWSPAPER . . . because 88% of America's families get a newspaper every day. That's national coverage!

Over 100 million people read a newspaper on an average day. Every one of these readers has the opportunity to see every advertisement in the newspaper. Only a few of these people can be reached by any radio, television or magazine message.

Unlike television and radio, newspaper advertising is always ready and waiting to suit the time, place and convenience of the consumer. The newspaper is always selling — and always selling to more people than any other medium.

If you want to sell more products to more people, use the daily newspaper — the one true national advertising medium.

Many Types Of Surgery Can Be Used In Treatment Of Pets

By AKIN M. SIMPSON, D.V.M. We know that human surgery has made tremendous strides and advancements in recent years.

Among the common surgical operations that are performed on dogs are ear trimming, tooth care and extraction, spaying and castration, removal of tumor and abnormal growths, and others that might be necessary because of an accident.

Postmen Due Fatter Paychecks June 20

New pay schedules fixed for post office employees become effective with the paychecks to be received on June 20, Elmer Boatler, postmaster, has been informed.

ected by the number of years he has to his credit in the service. Boatler said that it was provided that for employees of Classes 8 to 14, the boost is 7.50 per cent. His individual salary is based on a Class 11 rating and this will be the rate of his pay check.

There is a very good reason for spaying older females. Female sex hormones tend, in some cases, to stimulate uterine and breast cancers in dogs.

They Like Strips In Constantinople

By WEBB MCKINLEY ISTANBUL (AP) — Governors may come and go, but the "strip-tiz" goes on forever. That is the conclusion some Turkish newspapers are drawing from the coming and going of Muntaz Tarhan, ex-governor of Istanbul and arch foe of striptease.

The ASC office in Stanton is looking for 12 or 15 young men who want summer jobs.

The applicant must be 18 or older, have a high school education and be able to furnish his own car for the work.

Glyn says his crews will use tape measurements this year instead of the counting wheel.

James T. Dunn, Dawson County seed breeder, can't understand why all farmers don't plant hybrid grain sorghums.

"It costs only about 13 cents an acre more to plant the hybrids," he said, "and you might make several dollars more profit."

The cotton classing office for Stanton will require the backing of most producers in Glasscock, Midland and Martin counties, according to Gerald Hanson, who heads the agricultural committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

About 800 cards were mailed out, but only 400 had answered at last report. Of these, however, only four opposed the classing station.

Back in North Carolina and other states where the cotton is spun, moisture conditions are about the same as in the humidifier. Out here the air is usually so dry that cotton loses a part of its natural staple length.

The Big Spring Rodeo which starts next week is bringing back an event missing last year. This is the girls' barrel race and one of the more popular parts of the show, according to E. P. Driver, secretary of the association.

In addition to several special numbers, the main five will be shown. The saddle bronc riding, bareback bronc riding, bull riding, steer wrestling and calf roping are regular events at all the larger rodeos.

Probably the most thrilling event, and the most dangerous is the bull riding. Cowboys seldom get hurt from the fall, Driver says, but you never know what a Brahma bull will do. Several riders have been hurt by being stepped on or gored.

Area Farm Notes—The new packing plant being built at Lubbock by Durward Law-ter will cost from one to two million dollars, opening date will be about January 1.

A&M College official is worried about the type of students studying agriculture. He says those taking agriculture at the college rank among the lower one-third of their class.

County Agent Leroy Colgan of Lamesa says that despite the loss of rural population their 4-H Club program is as big as ever.

The first recharge well in this area has been drilled on the Hazlewood farm north of Stanton. The owner will run water from a lake back into the underground water sands.

June, touted as the month of marriages, seldom shows any great activity in Big Spring, Mrs. Petty said. The 26 for May represents about an average monthly output of marriage licenses for her office the year around.

Dr. George Fallon of Cleveland will be conference preacher. Delegates will be asked to authorize Bishop Smith and his cabinet of district superintendents to appoint a full-time conference secretary of evangelism.

Denver Pair Built Their Own School For Retarded Children

By DAN TEDRICK DENVER (AP)—When Joseph and Elizabeth Calabrese couldn't find a school that would take their two mentally retarded sons, they decided there was only one thing to do.

Running a nonprofit school for mentally retarded children was far from the thoughts of the Calabreses when they were married. Three months after their wedding they were in an automobile accident. She was hurt internally.

The Elks, in fact, have adopted the nonprofit school for their major project and give approximately $30,000 annually. In addition, the Elks National Foundation has contributed more than $24,000 and currently is putting up more than $3,000 a year.

Both Larry and Donald still are enrolled. But Timmy Melick has graduated to special classes in public school at Loveland, Colo.—something not considered possible 10 years ago. Dozens of other youngsters considered subnormal by society's classification are finding their way to becoming good citizens.

Those who can't progress are put into a functional or self-help group where they are taught personal care and such things as table manners and bed making.

The last hurdle is learning a job, for which the teen-agers are prepared with field trips and internships. Using a $2,400 federal grant, counselors have placed 11 in jobs at which they can succeed.

Soldier Saves Three Others, Then Meets Death

APTON, Okla. (AP)—A young soldier, ignoring warnings for his safety by bystanders, rescued three men from a wrecked and burning car Friday. After he pulled the third man out of the car and up an embankment, the soldier touched a high-voltage line knocked down by the wrecked car and was electrocuted. He was William Britt, 21, of Cashmere, Wash., who stopped to aid the motorists while en route from Ft. Ord, Calif., to Ft. Monmouth, N.J. Britt's bride of less than three months, Joanne, 18, saw the tragedy. The wrecked car had gone out of control 250 feet and down a 10-foot embankment before catching fire.

AFTER A CLUB MEETING a refreshing dip in the pool at the Obie Bristow home is part of the fun of belonging to the Big Spring Junior Garden Club, which was organized this past week. Mrs. Bristow, a member of the Big Spring Garden Club, and Merry Lee Dibrell perch in a cool spot to discuss the work of the membership committee, of which Merry Lee is a member. The roster, which was set at 15, is complete at the present time.

Gardeners Grow From Sprouts

There's an old saying that early training is often a stronger influence in a person's character than that acquired during later years.

Following that precept, Mrs. Obie Bristow is forming a group of prospective gardeners in the 15 members of the Big Spring Junior Garden Club, which was organized at her home during the past week.

A member of the Big Spring Garden Club, Mrs. Bristow will serve as adviser to the junior club. The senior group has been petitioned to act as sponsoring body for the "budding gardeners."

Officers of the newly-organized club are Gregg Gossett, president; Lois Tarbox, vice president, and Ken Lawrence, secretary-treasurer. Membership has been limited to 15, and at the present time, the roll is complete.

A candidate for membership must pass an inspection test of his garden or flower beds, according to Mrs. Bristow, and rules are somewhat rigid.

Meetings will be held at the Bristow home each Tuesday morning during the summer. Probably one drawing card is the swim in the Bristow pool which follows each session.

When school begins in the fall, meetings will be limited to one meeting a month—on the first Tuesday.

Committees were named at the last meeting of the group and include Miss Tarbox and Beth Frazier as social committee; Max Tarbox will serve as telephone chairman.

On the plant and seed exchange committee are Penny Frazier, Dickie Hatch and Robin Gossett; the program chairman is William Boyd. Serving on the civic committee will be Jim Bruce Frazier, Mack Frazier and Janet Jones. The membership committee is composed of Miss Tarbox, Ken Lawrence and Merry Lee Dibrell.

NO CLUB IS COMPLETE without a civic committee, and the Junior Garden Club believes in starting right. At an organizational meeting held during the week in the home of Mrs. Obie Bristow, this group was named to keep alert for ways in which the club might be able to help in matters of civic interest. Janet Jones, Mack Frazier, seated, and Jim Bruce Frazier, in picture above right, inspect the seedlings from a hotbed at the Bristow home.

ONE SHOULD BE ABLE TO IDENTIFY PLANTS if he or she is a member of the plant and seed exchange committee, as are the youngsters shown in the picture at right. Penny Frazier, who has an excellent background for gardening, discusses a plant with Dickie Hatch, center, and Robin Gossett. The 15 members, who gathered recently to form the Big Spring Junior Garden Club, have their own ideas about who will be admitted to the club roster. They go around and inspect the garden or flower beds of the would-be joiner, and the property must meet their standards or there is no invitation to membership.

TWO OFFICERS OF THE JUNIOR CLUB are Ken Lawrence, secretary-treasurer, at left in picture above, and Gregg Gossett, president. They are shown after the organizational meeting held recently in the home of the club's adviser, Mrs. Obie Bristow. Two other officers were out of town when the pictures were snapped. ## Newcomers' First Days Here Are Introduction To Housing Shortage

If you think there is no acute housing shortage in Big Spring, talk to 1st Lt. and Mrs. H. E. Coulter, 1511 Princeton. They are typical of the newcomers who wearily search for days and days before locating a roof to call their own.

They arrived here at the end of April, following six months of primary flight training for the lieutenant at Malden, Mo. There was just time enough between assignments to visit his folks in Anaheim, Calif., which is a mere mile or so from that terrific drawing card, Disneyland. The Coulters will have to plan another trip there later, because their own child, Bonnie Eilyn, at six months is too young to appreciate the "fairytale come to life."

 Although born in Lincoln, Ill., Mrs. Coulter was reared and educated in a tiny town in central Canada, Elora. She grew up with a liking for cribbage, which she has taught her husband to play, and for ice skating, which he took up in Denver, Colo.

He was an air training officer for the first group of cadets that entered the new Air Force Academy there. She was living with her brother and sister-in-law when she met the lieutenant, and they were married in the cadet chapel in September, 1955.

An outdoorsman, Lt. Coulter takes to swimming, golf and tennis. In all of these sports his wife hopes to become skilled. Meanwhile, the couple shares a liking for bridge and television, and a very keen appreciation of music. The foundation of their collection of records is classical music. Mrs. Coulter, a soprano, has had choral experience in church choirs and school glee clubs.

Big Spring will be their home for about six months, while Lt. Coulter is receiving secondary flight instruction in jet trainers. He plans to make his career in the Air Force.

Lunch-Exhibits Given For Forsan HD

FORSAN—A covered dish luncheon on the lawn of Mrs. W. F. Shannon's home was followed by craft demonstrations for the Forsan HD Club this week. Mrs. Moran Oppgard, a member of the Lees Club, showed how to make picture frames and decorations of wire, also pillow tops.

From Big Spring, Mrs. J. F. Skalicky demonstrated the fashioning of ribbon bows. Mrs. Shannon distributed leaflets telling how to care for carpets and rugs.

The group decided not to have meetings during June and July but will plan a picnic for June. Among the 14 present were four guests, Mrs. Oppgard and Mrs. Skalicky, and Mrs. Frank Wilson and Mrs. T. J. Harris of Big Spring.

Roast Pig Served At Luau Friday

Quite a departure from the usual run of refreshments was served for the couples of Section Four at their Hawaiian luau Friday evening at Webb AFB pavilion. It was roast pig, cooked in true Hawaiian style by being placed in the ground with heated rocks.

Directing the preparation were two men from Hawaii, Lt. Robert Kahn and Lt. Ah Nu. Others assisting with the arrangements were Lt. Dean Eggen and Lt. Porter Medley.

Entertainment was made up of hula dances and music, with some of the numbers played by Mrs. Ah Nu on her ukelele.

Decorations followed a native theme, with baby orchids, imported from Hawaii for the party, and birds of paradise forming the floral decor.

Special guests were Col. and Mrs. Philip Cardin, Maj. and Mrs. Russell Gradel, M. and Mrs. Joseph Burke of Wisconsin, and Mrs. Charles E. Smith. About 75 attended the luau.

Day Camp Will Begin On Monday

Monday at 3 p.m. about 130 Girl Scouts and Brownies will meet at the Boy Scout Encampment to begin the week of day camps. The girls have been formed into eight units, with about 30 adult workers trained to assist in the camping.

A highlight of the week will be the weather station to be set up each afternoon under the supervision of Lt. Charles Weaver, who will give the girls training in weather observation.

Other work will include hiking, trail blazing, cooking, nature study, first aid and craft work including wood, leather and tin craft.

Mrs. Weaver is director of the camp; Mrs. Rube McNew is business manager and Mrs. Y. C. Gray, purchasing agent. First aid will be under the direction of Bo Bowen, county health nurse and Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr. Troops are expected from Snyder, Lamesa, Gall, Stanton, Big Spring and Forsan.

NECKLINE FLATTERY

Variation Of Frock Is Year-Round Style

Mr. Mort cuts this neckline high and wide in front with a gentle scoop in back to play up and show up the firm smooth skin of the junior set.

For further interest, he inserts a bias pleated bosom which starts just under the bust and which has a separation straight-cut buttoned jacket.

The skirt is fully gathered and gored, another look adored by juniors.

Consider plaid cottons or gingham checks, shantung, plain or printed silks. In lightweight wools such as plaids or flannels, it becomes a wonderful back-to-school dress for fall.

Wedding Date Disclosed At Tea Given In Stanton

The announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of Janelle Jones was made at a tea given Saturday afternoon in Stanton. Miss Jones is to be married to Ellis Wayne Britton in the First Methodist Church of Stanton on June 23.

The tea was given in the home of the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Jones, with Mrs. Dean Forrest of Big Spring, her sister, as cohostess with Mrs. Jones.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Hoyt Britton of Stanton and the late Mr. Britton. Guests were registered in a bride's book of white satin with a cluster of bells quilted on the cover. Frontispiece pages of each division of the book had been hand-painted by a friend of the Jones family, Miss Lela Hamilton, who fashioned the complete book.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Jones and her two daughters with Mrs. Britton. Miss Jones was attired in a teal blue frock of silk organza, featuring a surplice neckline extending from a back stand-up collar. The skirt was full and she wore pumps dyed to match her trousseau costume.

On the tea table was a floor length covering of white net over orchid taffeta with a miniature white picket fence. Opening to disclose a bridal pair was a gate under an arch marked "Gateway to Happiness". A background for the arrangement was formed of pink and orchid garden flowers.

Napkins in orchid were embossed with the names, "Janelle and Ellis", in silver. Favors were small brides holding in pipestem arms a scroll with the names of the couple and the date of the wedding.

Completing the floral theme of orchid and pink were the minute cupcakes, frosted in pink and topped with an orchid blossom of icing.

Assisting Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Forrest by alternating at the guest register and at the serving table were these members of the house party: Judy Britton, sister of the bridegroom, Barbara Smith, Betty Berry, Sarah Mott, Lucy Graves, Carolyn Stone, Linda Nichols, Betty Smith, Rowena Williams of Lubbock; Edith and Doris Nichols and Shirley Bickley, all of Midland; Mrs. Tom Ed Angel, Mrs. Jimmy Henson, Mrs. Burly Polk and Mrs. Harold Smith of Andrews.

Calling during the hours from 4:30 to 6 p.m. were guests from Big Spring, Stanton, Midland, Franklin, Lubbock, Abilene, Snyder, Lorraine, Odessa and San Angelo.

Parents Of Brides-To-Be Take Spotlight At Party

The round of seasonal gaiety continues, with an al fresco supper having been given Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Larson Lloyd. They were joined in entertaining by Mr. and Mrs. R. R. McEwen Jr.

In a departure from the trend of festivities, the host couples named the parents of three prospective June brides as honorees. They are Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Angel, Mr. and Mrs. K. H. McGibbon and Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Hogan.

Miss McGibbon and Miss Hogan, were unable to attend.

The party scene was lighted by copper lamps on wrought iron standards. Quartet tables, at which the 36 guests were seated, held bouquets of white garden flowers. Unique decorations, pointing to the professions of the male honorees, played up cans of motor oil, checkbooks and hospital bill-heads.

During the evening the hosts presented to each honored couple a gift box containing such essenals as foot balm, aspirin, indigestion remedies and confederate money.

Miss Angier, Peggy Hogan Share Honors

Bridal parties continue as friends gather to dine and chat with the betrothed girls. Peggy Hogan was complimented at a luncheon Friday and shared honors with Jimmie Lou Angier at a patio supper that evening.

PRE-NUPTIAL LUNCHEON
 Four hostesses entertained at luncheon Friday in the home of Mrs. Ed Swift to fete Miss Hogan, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Hogan, 509 Westover.

Miss Hogan and Boone Powell Jr. of Dallas are to be married in the First Baptist Church, June 7.

Yellow and white predominated in the decor for the luncheon, during which a gift was presented to the bride-elect by the hostesses. The bride's table was arranged with a white linen and lace cloth and held yellow and white daisies in a golden bowl. Smaller tables at which guests were seated were decorated in reverse fashion—yellow cloths with white arrangements. Place cards were in white and gold.

The guest list included 26.

PATIO SUPPER
 At an informal gathering Friday evening, two engaged couples shared the attention, when Dr. and Mrs. Lee Rogers entertained with a patio supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurman, Wed In California, Will Visit Here

In a double ring service read Saturday evening at the Congregational Church in La Mesa, Calif., Carl Wayne Thurman took as his bride Sharon Elaine Timm. The Rev. James R. Baurbour officiated at the wedding, where daisies and carnations decorated the altar.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Thurman, 2101 Runnels, and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Timm, La Mesa.

In recognition of Thurman's career in the Navy, the bride wore a white dacron dress of cocktail length, styled with sailor collar and fitted bodice. Her shoulder-length veil was caught to a sailor beret. Daisies, carnations and phlox made up her bouquet. She was given in marriage by her father.

Karen Kreinberg of La Mesa was maid of honor. Her dress of navy dacron was of similar design as that of the bride, and she wore a sailor beret. White daisies with yellow centers were her flowers.

Neil H. Timm, brother of the bride, served as best man. During the ceremony, "Always" was played by Eugene Bauer, organist.

Crystal appointments graced the refreshment table at the reception, which was held at the home of the bride's parents. Beside the four-tiered wedding cake was an arrangement of daisies and fern. Mr. and Mrs. A. Caldwell of La Mesa assisted the couple and the bride's parents in receiving the 75 guests.

Miss Kee Is Honoree At Three Parties

LAMESA—A breakfast complimented Shirley Kee Thursday morning at the home of Mrs. Thelma Cox. Mrs. Olin York was cohostess. She became the bride of Cecil Royce Elam Friday evening.

The serving table was centered with pink larkspur surrounding pink tapers. The hostess gift was a silver salad fork. Places were laid for 10, with one out of town guest, Mrs. Jerry Howell of Amrillo.

Mrs. Abe Holder was hostess for the bridesmaids luncheon held Friday for Miss Kee. Laid with white linen, the buffet table featured an arrangement of white daisies.

Feminine members of the wedding party attended the luncheon.

Thursday evening the Matt McCall home was the scene for the rehearsal dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd M. Elam, of Wichita Falls, as hosts.

Decorations of blue and white were featured with places being laid for 35.

For a trip to Big Spring, the bride selected a blue chemise with white accessories. After a visit here, the newlyweds will return to San Diego to make a home at 3090 Whalton Place.

The new Mrs. Thurman will continue her studies at Helix High School. The bridegroom, 3rd class petty officer in the Navy, has served three years overseas in Hawaii and other places in the Pacific.

Terry Lewis Leaves Tuesday On Long Canada, Arctic Tour

The banquet hall and Alaska may not have a lot in common, but the combination furnished the key which this week opens up a great adventure for Terry Lewis.

Terry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Lewis, who were intrigued by a Knife & Fork address here recently by S. R. Montague, former Royal Canadian Northwest Mountie. After Montague's talk here, Lewis got to asking questions. Among other things he learned about a trip which Montague had been organizing for the past 13 years.

It was an idle dream, of course, but Jim Lewis told Terry how Montague took eight boys under his wing and struck off for the great and unspoiled territory. Terry applied, thinking he had little chance, but out of the several hundred putting in bids, he was one of eight selected. The choice comes from a board of former tour members who screen all letters and their attached recommendations.

Tuesday morning Terry boards the train here and goes to Vancouver, B. C., where the party will meet Montague on June 7.

ZIG-ZAG ROUTE
In 42 succeeding days they will zig-zag across the Canadian Northwest and a good part of Alaska. Travel will be in two station wagons, and lodging and meals will be taken at fixed points in order that the party may not be burdened with heavy baggage and supplies. In fact, Terry is trying to hold his baggage to 35 pounds.

First on the itinerary is a four-day freighter trip along the British Columbia coast. The group sets off June 14 to Vancouver Island, getting in some flying and some fishing before going to Victoria and starting on the highway to Dawson Creek, southern terminus of the Alaskan highway. They go to Fairbanks, then fly over the Arctic Circle. Going by car again, they will cross to Black Falls and Gulkana to fish and try their hands at gold mining. Seward and Anchorage also are in the itinerary. There will be various other points to visit before the party leaves June 29 down the Alaska highway with stops at Lake Klunane, Whitehorse, and Miles Canyon.

INTO CANADA

A 1,523-mile swing completed by July 3, they leave the southern terminus of the Alaskan highway and go into Alberta through Keg River into the Northwest Territory. There will be stops at Great Slave Lake, the great Yellowknife Goldfield, the Peace River, Edmonton and Calgary, where they will attend the traditional Stampede.

Then they go to picturesque Banff for four days in the Canadian Rockies before moving on to Lake Louise and the Columbia ice fields. They take in Jasper National Park, then go to Blue River on the Western Slope of the Rockies and fish, swim and do some more gold panning at Kamloops. From there they go to Kelowna and thence to Vancouver.

While most time will be spent in traveling and sight-seeing, members of the party will have at least one hour a day of speech training and an hour on current events and related subjects, history and humanities.

Montague studied to be an engineer and was educated in Montreal. However, the spirit of adventure took him into the Mountains and he thus came to know the country which he now guides the boys on tour.

GARRETT PATTON
... wins Scouter's Key

Scoutmaster Honored For Long Service To Scouting

A veteran Scouter is in charge of Scout Troop No. 4 which left this weekend for a summer camp.

Leading the troop is E. G. (Garrett) Patton who less than two weeks ago was awarded the Scouter's Key, a coveted award which is given to very few Scouters.

At the present time, there are only five persons in the local Scout district who can boast the Scouter's Key.

The award comes through a program of advanced training and study, service to Scouting, and merit. The service in Patton's case is 15 years—five as a Scout and 10 as a leader.

Patton started out in the troop he now leads, Troop No. 4, sponsored by East Fourth Baptist Church. He was a charter member when the troop was organized in 1929.

After spending five years in the troop, Patton dropped out of Scouting until 1940 when took the job as scoutmaster of Troop No. 3, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club.

He served there until 1944. In 1953, Patton jumped back into Scouting as scoutmaster of Troop No. 4, and he still holds that spot.

His assistants now are Bill Mims, Richard Cauble, and Tom Schott. At the present, the men direct the activities of 24 boys, but the troop has been as large as 48.

Patton is a veteran in his vocation as well as his avocation. He has recorded 22 years with Cosden.

City Expecting Bigger Trash Removal Task

The city will be divided into five sectors for the hauloff service which the city handles as its part of the annual Clean-up, Fix-up Paint-up Week.

This is caused by the continuing expansion of the program. Last year, although hampered by rain and bad weather, the city hauled off more refuse than it had handled in any previous year, and the city expects even more this year.

About five city trucks will be assigned to hauling away the trash, and Webb AFB is expected to furnish some two trucks.

As has been the policy in the past, the city will haul away any type of trash which is placed where garbage is usually deposited.

The city announced the following schedules:
Monday and Tuesday—southward from 1st to Eleventh Place and from Goliad to the east city limits.

Wednesday and Thursday—from Eleventh Place south to 25th and from Goliad eastward to the city limits.

Friday and Saturday—from Eleventh to 25th and from Goliad west to the city limits.

June 9 and 10—from 1st southward to Eleventh and from Goliad west to the city limits.

June 11 and 12—north of the railroad and west of Benton.

A Bible Thought For Today

For what glory is it, if, when ye be buffeted for your faults, ye shall take it patiently? but if, when ye do well, and suffer for it, ye take it patiently, this is acceptable with God. (1 Peter 2:20)

Investment That Secures Another

In this time of so-called "recession" (although most of our business admit- tedly are doing about as well as usual if not better than a year ago), talk of providing new jobs meets with a natural resistance.

Yet it is a time when places should be provided if at all possible for our young graduates, both from high school and colleges.

Both the Texas Employment Commission and the Chamber of Commerce have circled businesses locally to urge employers to consider these young people in their employment plans. A lot of this will naturally be considered in the light of part-time and summer-time employment, which is important because it not only occupies young people gainfully but also because it enables many of them to create nest eggs of savings for further education.

The more urgent appeal, however, is for places for those who are through with their college training or who, having completed high school, plan to enter the work market permanently.

We've spent a lot of money as a community and as individual families in educating these young people. Having done that, it doesn't make sense to tell them that there is nothing for them to do, which, in effect, is saying: "Go somewhere else."

Investing in the education is wise and necessary, but an equally important investment necessary to realize our first investment is to provide job or professional opportunity. This is the investment in new and participating citizens.

Crazy Patchwork Of Numbers

There has been a great deal of talk about planning and master planning—and even about the subject of this piece, house numbers.

Now any system of planning and master planning certainly needs to take into account some orderly system of numbering so that numbers would at least approximate a general location. For instance, some developers put on new additions with streets named, well defined and even curbed and paved, but when it comes to lot numbers, they have no idea what should apply.

But that is something for the planners to take into consideration. What we have in mind is the old and still frustrating problem of what to do about our present system of numbers.

It makes no sense to be using 100 numbers on one side of the street and 200 directly across the street; or to go in descending order rather than ascending as you move north or south from the median line; or to find a 400 block suddenly stuck in the midst of surrounding ones which are in the 2,000-block tier.

All sorts of crazy things have grown up in our street numbering system. Because of curves and meandering streets, dead-ends, skips, etc., we realize no perfect system can be evolved.

However, rolling up our sleeves and tackling the problem in earnest couldn't do anything but help. To be sure, it is a frightening task, but each month or year of delay merely will add to the confusion.

Problems Posed By Wage-Price Spiral

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower has pointed up again the serious situation that the American economy faces in the uncontrolled wage-price spiral. He is against wage and price controls in "times of peace," but the real question is whether what is happening today is exactly "peacetime."

The President said in his last press conference that he had been told by economic analysts that, in many things the nation buys, the price reflects about 80 per cent in labor costs. He added:

"I don't know what the government can do as long as it insists upon the freedom of an economy to establish its own price and wage levels."

But Mr. Eisenhower went on to picture some of the dangers that lie ahead and declared that it is important to keep a "sound dollar," because, as he put it, "if we don't, we are going to destroy the value of everybody's pension, everybody's insurance policy, and today through a modern industrialized nation more than ever, the older people, people that have gone past the retirement age, are living on pensions, and if they (the pensions) are going to deteriorate through the constant rise—apparently inevitable rise—in the cost of living we are going to be in very, very serious trouble."

The President's attention was called to the possibility of wage and price controls in connection with the rapidly rising defense expenditures. He said that even the present plans and blueprints will in a couple years mean rapidly rising costs in the field of procurement of the very expensive weapons. This has been the story right along—federal budgets rise annually because of higher and higher costs for the same articles that were previously bought for less money.

"I would deplore," said the President, "any attempt to fix—in times of peace—wages and prices. I believe we are, to that extent, deserting some very long-term principles that are good for this country. But when you get up against people like this, they begin to believe it as an emergency, then something might have to be done, but I am certainly not ready to predict it now."

Mr. Eisenhower had some tough questions flung at him about the rises in the pay of postal workers and in military pay and was asked if these don't represent a contradiction of his advice to labor and business to "hold the line." But the President said there had been "inequities" and that, when other economic groups in recent years had gone forward in wages, the postal workers and military had lagged behind.

Obviously any system of governmental control of wages and prices would always take into account such inequities. The debate over how the economy can keep the wage-price spiral from producing unemployment is getting nowhere largely because of the customary assumption that is isn't the function of government to intervene. The logic of this argument is that the nation can only wait till the economy has run into the ditch, and unemployment has become severe, before any kind of correction can be applied.

Another opportunity presented itself to the President at his press conference to tackle the wage-price question when he was asked if he would invite the leaders of the steel unions and companies to the White House so as to avert another wage increase which could result in a further increase in steel prices next July. But Mr. Eisenhower commented that the wage increase is covered by a contract that operates automatically for this year and that he couldn't see how much could be done unless "an incident of an emergency character" should arise.

There is little doubt that, while officials talk hopefully about self-restraint in wage and price matters as a duty of labor and management, neither side feels able to resist the pressures that keep the wage-price spiral going upward.

Inside the labor unions the political aspirations of rival leaders make it seem necessary to demand higher wages every year. Likewise, companies are faced with higher costs that cannot possibly be absorbed without going into the red or without seeing profits go down to the point where investors will hesitate to invest and supply the money for expansion.

Nobody has come forth yet with any effective device to stabilize wages and prices even during a recession period. Nor has it dawned on enough people yet that, when the nation is paying out 40 billion dollars or more a year for armament and the world is in a disturbed condition in which anything might happen any day to require military action, a strong economy is as essential as any new weapons of war. And a strong economy in an emergency era can never be achieved without some governmental controls such as were imposed in World War II and during the Korean war.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

From a current advertisement in the metropolitan papers we sense (1) that our British brethren think we're kidding about this recession and (2) that the ostentatious consumption of wealth on the highways is becoming at least mildly unpopular.

The ad offers a British made Rolls Royce "auto for a mere $13,550, free on board principal port of entry, and says with admirable British self-restraint that this is an excellent piece of merchandise.

Then it makes provisions for those who might feel a bit self-conscious in these hard times driving $13,550 worth of auto around town.

For exactly $300 less, one may buy a Bentley, which is identical to a Rolls Royce except that it has a different radiator, hence is not so readily identifiable as a luxury item.

"People who feel different about driving a Rolls Royce," remarks the ad with splendid candor, "can buy a Bentley."

If we can spare the $13,550 or even the $13,250 we'd take our chances on feeling diffident but meanwhile conclude: (1) maybe things aren't as bad as they seem and (2) there'll always be an England.

West Coast Not Accepting Idea Of A Recession

SAN FRANCISCO—To say that there is no recession here would be exaggeration. But it's no exaggeration to say that San Francisco bankers and brokers were surprised when eastern financial analysts hit town by way of their convention in Los Angeles and spouting bearishness. To most persons on the West Coast, this is a "rolling readjustment," a passing economic unpleasantness, no more.

Admittedly, unemployment is up and department store sales are down. But only slightly. San Franciscans are quite willing to blame much of the 1958 letdown on bad weather—rain, rain, and more rain throughout the spring, which delayed construction activity and kept people out of retail shops. Now the sun is shining. So are faces.

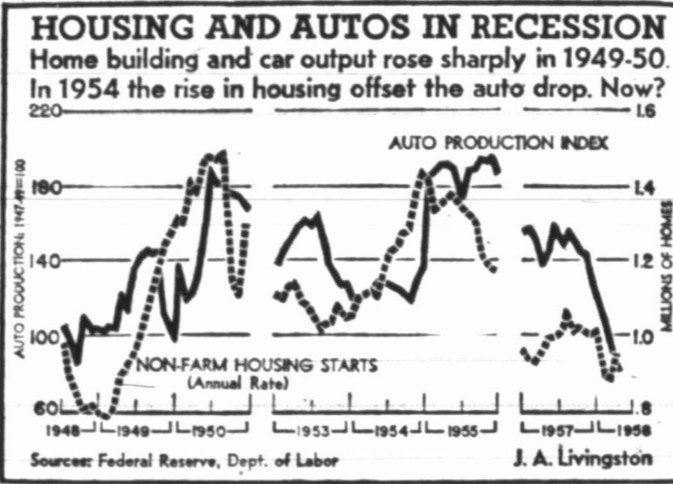

San Francisco department stores have been reporting plusses over 1957 and there was nothing wrong with last year's sales. Sales for the entire 12th Federal Reserve District have shown a consistent rise this year. The index reads: 132 for January; 135 February; 137 March and 142 for April.

John S. Piper, financial editor of the San Francisco News, took a poll prior to the opening of the California Bankers Association convention and reported: "California bank presidents are optimistic. They don't think a tax cut or a big federal public works program will be necessary to pull us out of the recession. Very few expect a lower stock market."

Forty-eight per cent of the more than 60 bank presidents who answered the Piper questionnaire felt that business would hold at its present level—would get no worse. Forty-three per cent forecast a recovery. Only nine per cent said the recession had further to go.

The West Coast region doesn't bear the automobile cross (see chart). Though passenger car assembly plants here are down, the components—the bodies, fenders, motors, and numerous parts—are shipped in from the East. Therefore, automobile unemployment isn't deep seated or widespread. It's not nearly so significant as unemployment in aircraft around Los Angeles or in lumbering and saw mill operations in Oregon and Washington.

Aircraft orders are still sliding relative to shipments. No quick revival is expected. But housing starts show signs of perking up (see chart). Lumber's slump came in 1956. It has had its recession, according to officers of the Georgia-Pacific Corp. They are optimistic for 1958, 1959, and blatantly bullish for the 1960s.

West Coasters don't understand the pessimism that creeps in from the auto-ridden East. Steel operations here have held around 65 per cent of capacity—down, of course, from the 100 per cent rates of a year or so ago, but still not off as much as Eastern steel centers where production of ingots slipped below 50 per cent-of capacity.

At one time, the West Coast steel industry preened itself as recession-proof. It imports steel from the East. If business slumped, local mills would still operate at full blast. Eastern shipments would be slashed. But prosperity—expansion of capacity to meet Far West demand—blasted that thesis. Which proves that no section of the economy is ever insulated against adversity. In economics, we're all one another's relatives.

In this decline, the nation's better-off relatives are on the West Coast. Employment in the 12th Federal Reserve District was off only 1.6 per cent in March as compared with 3.5 per cent for the United States as a whole. The agricultural sector is in especially good shape. The Florida frost was a "good ill wind" for this region.

Fruit and vegetable prices have advanced. Idaho potato farmers received only $1.05 per hundred weight in December. By April, the price was $2.25. California and Washington potato growers likewise are doing well. Beef raisers are enjoying high prices. So are hog raisers. Farm cash receipts

Attitude Change Since 'Oscar'

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—What has happened to Red Buttons A.O.—After Oscar?

"Many wonderful things," said Red. "It's not just the offers that make you feel good, though they are nice too."

"The real thrill is the change in attitude that people have toward you. I don't just mean getting ringside seats from head waiters; I always got them anyway, because I knew all the head waiters."

"It's a new respect that you feel from people, especially in your own profession. You know that they believe you have worked hard to achieve some success. The big thing is not the Oscar itself, but the fact that so many people were pulling for you to be a winner."

Red was a winner for his supporting role in "Sayonara." The achievement has sobered the one-time madcap comic of TV.

"I feel the responsibility to the people who had faith in me," he said. "I want to improve as an actor and I'm working hard in that direction."

When he is in New York he attends classes twice weekly with other aspiring actors.

"It's really inspiring," he said. "Sitting next to me might be an actor whose total earnings last year were $900. Another might have earned $3,500. We're all working toward a common goal—improving ourselves as actors."

What next?
He said he has been reading movie scripts, but has found nothing to intrigue him yet. This summer he'll play a number of night club dates. I asked about chances he would do a TV series again, in view of his new success and the fact that another TV retreat, Uncle Millie Berle, is returning to the home screens.

"No series next season," Red declared. "I'll just do some guest shots."

Around The Rim

Nobody Goofed Off A Century Ago

One heavy thinker, in submitting his own analysis of the current reputed recession in business, has called this the era of the Goof-Off.

By that he meant that too few of us have been concerned about giving honest services and goods for the dollars we ask. Manufacturers have been lax in quality, sellers have been indifferent toward customers, service people can't be depended on, either to show up, or to do a competent job. In other words, says this guy, the attitude of letting things slide has caught up with us. People were willing to pay top prices if they got value received; when they pay top prices and good hookwinked, the rebel.

Maybe not everybody has joined the goof-off parade, but a great many employers moan over lack of real work discipline among employees. Everybody seems to remember the good old days when the boss was boss.

This must have been true at one time. Comes to hand a report about a copy of rules that obtained in 1854—that's more than 100 years ago, mind you—pertaining to the operation of a drug store. Here are some of the rules:

"Store will be opened promptly at 6 a.m. and remain open until 9 p.m. the year round. Store must not be opened on Sabbath Day unless absolutely necessary and then only for a few minutes.

"Any employee who is in the habit of smoking Spanish cigars, getting shaved at a barber shop, going to dances and other places of amusement will surely give his employer reason to suspect his integrity and all round honesty.

"Each employee must attend Sunday School every Sunday. Men employees are given one evening a week for courting purposes and two if they go to prayer meeting regularly. After 14 hours of work in the store, the remaining time must be spent in reading good literature."

Well, this may be going a little far ahead in supervising employees' private affairs, but on the other hand, the boss of the day could really put his finger on those who were above suspicion in honor and integrity. He could tell, no doubt, when a male employee fell in love, for certainly this fellow would be in regular attendance at prayer meeting so he could have that second night for courting. In much more recent times there has been this bulletin in general circulation among some types of business establishments:

"TO ALL EMPLOYEES:
"Due to increased competition and a keen desire to remain in business, we find it necessary to institute a new policy.

"Effective immediately, we are asking that somewhere between starting and quitting time, and without infringing too much on the time usually devoted to lunch period, coffee breaks, rest period, story telling, ticket selling, vacation planning and the re-hashing of last night's TV programs, that each employee endeavor to find some time that can be set aside and known as the 'Work Break.'
"To some, this may seem a radical innovation, but we honestly believe the idea has great possibilities. It can conceivably be an aid to steady employment and it might also be a means of assuring regular pay checks.

"While the adoption of the 'work break' plan is not compulsory, it is hoped that each employee will find enough time to give the plan a fair trial.—The Management."

You can see what's happened in 100 years. In 1854, the workers were being told, in 1958, they're being asked, on bended knee, Of course, it takes time to effectuate radical changes in business policy. Tomorrow will do. There's a golf game this afternoon. —BOB WHIPKEY

Spiritual Method Of Meeting Problems

The newspapers these past months have been filled with news which someone has called "gloom and doom." To read some commentaries and editorials, you would think things have never been worse and are never going to get better.

I don't happen to share those beliefs. The whole long history of man is filled with periods that were truly "dark ages," but things have never failed to get better. It is on the basis of this historical fact and an unflinching faith in Divine Providence, that I believe in our keeping our chin up. Keep your chin up and presently things will look up.

It is encouraging that this philosophy is shared by the President of the United States. Some time ago I had an opportunity to talk with the President and he spoke with me in a heart-to-heart fashion that I will never forget. Ours was not a discussion about politics or world affairs but about his philosophy of life, his faith and his attitudes toward difficulties. It was a most inspiring experience for me.

As we talked, I found myself forgetting that this man is the head of the greatest nation in the world. Instead, I was completely absorbed by the personality of a humble, simple human being who is, at the same time, one of the most dynamic and personally lovable individuals I have ever met.

I asked Mr. Eisenhower what secret enables him to carry such a heavy load of gigantic problems and still stay so vital and filled with enthusiasm. He told me that if he did not have such a deep faith in God the job of being President would long since have landed him in the insane asylum. (Later he said the same thing publicly.) He remarked that if I could see the problems that come over his desk in the course of a day, if I could see the gloomy fear-ridden people who come to him telling him everything is going to pieces, it would be obvious that he would have to have faith in God.

The President gives the impression of a man who really believes in prayer. His philosophy of living is daily to ask the Lord to guide him and help him do his best. Then he proceeds to do the best he knows how in whatever arises. Of course, he makes mistakes (and who doesn't?), but he does his best. At the end of his day, he goes home and "empties out his mind." For a little while he lays problems aside to find rest and renewal. Relaxation is needed to face the next day with confidence and strength. When he is ready to retire, he prays and puts his actions of that day into the hands of God and then goes to sleep.

Usually, Mr. Eisenhower sleeps—and sleeps well. He awakens early and of course there are a new day's problems waiting for him. But, he told me, he asks God to help him with that one day. Rested and revitalized, he feels thrilled that he has that new day in which to tackle his many problems and deal with great events.

I came away from my meeting with the President with the impression of a thoroughly vital person who has a deep sense of excitement about life and who, at the same time, has mastered the technique for keeping the inflow of renewal greater than the outflow of energy. This vital spiritual method of meeting and mastering problems is what is meant by "keeping your chin up."

The simple secret is this: Put your trust in God. Do your best. Then leave the results to God.

Tunisian Issue Puts U.S. On Spot

PARIS—If any one element of danger can be singled out in the fearful period that is an ever-darkening shadow behind the handsome facade of Paris in the spring, it is Tunisia. For American policy, it is there that the threat to the future of the Atlantic alliance and the whole Western position is concentrated.

The nightmare for American policymakers has long been the necessity to choose between France and Tunisia. With the decision of Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba to take the charge of French aggression to the United Nations Security Council, this nightmare would seem to be at hand.

Bourguiba, who has been steadfastly loyal to the West, has an uncertain hold on a country that won its independence from France less than four years ago. His poorly equipped troops—five or six thousand at the most—are outnumbered by the army of the Moslem rebels based in Tunisia near the Algerian border. They are also far outnumbered by the French who, under the treaty of independence, continue to have the right of bases in Tunisia.

Trying of necessity, therefore, to walk a narrow line, Bourguiba is constantly being pushed by his own radicals who demand that the French be expelled from their bases. If he were to fall as the result of intervention by the French military clique in Algiers, the West would lose one of its few real Arab friends and all of North Africa could be written off.

Anti-American feeling here is rarely visible on the surface. The American, as this reporter can testify, is treated with courtesy and consideration as he moves about the city, even though his bad French plainly advertises him as an American.

The subterranean fire has its origin in the long ordeal of the French with their colonies after World War II. It goes back to the collapse of the French forces in Indo-China and the refusal of the United States to intervene to save the stronghold of Dienbienphu.

The failure of the Anglo-French attack on Suez and the American action in the United Nations in voting to censure

France and Britain fed the hostility. When Bourguiba appealed to Washington for arms, which were granted in limited amounts, the French reaction was fierce. Similarly, the American-British good offices mission following the French bombing of the Tunisian border village of Saker Sid Youssef stirred dark suspicion even though that mission was requested by the government of Premier Felix Gaillard.

A recurring theme has been the whispered rumor of a plot by the big American oil companies to back the Moslem rebels and take France's newly discovered oil deposits in the Sahara. It is amazing how widely this is accepted despite repeated American denials.

All this has fed the anti-American complex which is part of France's neurosis of fear. For the United States to side with Tunisia at this point would mean that the flames would burst into the open with an explosion that might well sever the ties between Paris and Washington.

But that is not the immediate danger. Even before this can happen there is a likelihood—even perhaps a probability—of direct intervention in Tunisia sparked by the fanatical colonels in Algiers who are the force behind the military insurrection.

What they would like to do, as American observers know full well, is to march in and join up with French forces in Tunisia. Once in control, they would establish a French puppet in office and clap Bourguiba in jail. They have the power to do this and they are presently being restrained only by more sober-minded commanders in both Tunisia and Algiers.

How long these restraints will prevail as the tensions grow greater is the haunting fear of those who are trying to follow from hour to hour the shattering events now taking place. Nor is it possible to see at this late hour and from this distance what could be done by Washington, since so much has already slipped away behind the front of normality that Washington seems determined to maintain.

(1958, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

PSALM 8:5: Yet Thou hast made him (man) little less than God, and dost crown him with glory and honor. (RSV)

We emphasize, and rightly so, the importance of man's faith in God. Man's faith is very important. But we might well be struck also with the wonder of God's faith in man. The Psalmist is overwhelmed with this knowledge. What is man asks. Then the realization of the confidence God has shown in man sweeps over him. Man has been made a little less than God, has been crowned with glory and honor, and has been given dominion over the work of God's hands.

Jesus, the great revelation of God, showed this divine trust in man. He could believe in Mary Magdalene and she could become a virtuous woman. He could believe in Simon and he could become Peter the rock. He could believe in Zacchaeus and he could become an honest man.

God looks deeply into each human life, sees something of himself that he has planted there, and God has faith in man. If God believes in people like we know ourselves to be, how earnestly and humbly we ought to try to justify that faith.

Monahans Dunes May Hold Clues On Weather Cycles

LUBBOCK — First results in a West Texas archaeological project to aid long-range weather forecasting will be announced by the end of September, according to Dr. Fred Wendorf of Texas Tech.

Wendorf heads a research team that is analyzing archaeological finds in the Monahans dunes west of Odessa.

The researchers are seeking information of southwestern weather cycles for the past 15,000 years. Since modern weather records go back only 100 years or so, data on weather over the centuries are needed to help determine past meteorological patterns.

Fossils of living organisms, particularly pollen, are expected to yield clues as to what sort of weather existed in a given period of time. If the weather was wetter, more fossils of trees, shrubs and plants should exist in a given strata, Dr. Wendorf explained.

Dr. and Mrs. Ulf Hafsten of the Botanical Museum in Bergen, Norway, have joined the research effort. The couple has been awarded a Fulbright grant to gather information for pollen analyses in the research.

They have completed two weeks of first-hand study in the Monahans area and have returned to Bergen to carry out their tests.

Cooperating with them in the Sullivan To Hold Court In Stanton

Judge Charlie Sullivan, 118th District Court, is to be in Stanton for two weeks beginning Monday.

Both civil and criminal cases are scheduled for trial in the Martin County session.

A new term of court opens in Howard County on June 23. A grand jury will be summoned to report on that date and a petit jury will be on hand to handle civil cases to be docketed.

West Texas investigations is Dr. Barton Warnock, who is in charge of the Sul Ross State College herbarium. He has helped the Norwegian scientists prepare a library of modern pollen from the area.

The primary effort since the research began last June has been field work by Dr. Earl Green.

This work is now almost complete, Green said. The major dune area has been closely studied, several major fossil outcrops have been excavated, and all known localities where "early man" artifacts occur have been examined.

DEAR ABBY NO STRINGS

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: This married man where I work has given me some very expensive presents. I feel bad about it because I know his wife and children could use the money. Every card he enclosed said, "For you, Honey, with no strings attached," but he seems to be getting closer and closer to me, and I feel very uncomfortable around him. I hate to hurt his feelings (he is my supervisor) and wonder if I should keep the gifts or not.

FEELING GUILTY
DEAR FEELING: Return the gifts and tell this wolf to go fly a kite—with no strings attached!

DEAR ABBY: I had a big neighborhood party at my house last Sunday and there must have been 50 people going in and out. One of my neighbors told me she lost her wallet with $25.00 in it. When I found the wallet there was only $6.00 in it. I felt very bad about this. I have no idea who could have taken the money. She made me feel like I should make it good. I don't have too much myself, and I don't think I should pay for her carelessness. Please help me decide what to do.

UNDECIDED
DEAR UNDECIDED: There is a great possibility that your neighbor was mistaken about the amount of money she had in her wallet. It seems to me a person as dishonest as to steal from a neighbor's wallet would not have left $6.00. Give her your regrets.

DEAR ABBY: I live in a town where people like to gossip. Right now I am the talk of the town. You see, lately I am getting very fat in the stomach even though I am a very thin person. Now everybody is saying that I am going to have a baby. I am not. I wish you would tell me how I can reduce my stomach so people will stop talking.

THIN BUT FAT
DEAR THIN: This sudden change in your figure could be something that requires immediate medical attention. You should see your doctor without delay.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married for three years and he still brings up the girl he went with before me. He has some proofs of some pictures of her and him and he keeps saying he wants to have them made up. I have 3 engagement rings in my drawer. Now if he goes ahead and has those pictures made up, don't you think I should start wearing one of those engagement rings from somebody else? HURT
DEAR HURT: He has no business hanging onto those proofs—and you have no business wearing an engagement ring that was given to you by another. Both of you ought to grow up and quit trying to make each other jealous. Bury the proofs—and the rings, and the hatchet.

CONFIDENTIAL TO GERALDINE: This is surely not the only block in town! Three ex-wives living on the same block is too close for comfort! If you let him move you into that block you are off yours.

Water Usage Declines, But Revenues Gain

Revenues for the Colorado River Municipal Water District are running slightly ahead of last year, but water consumption has declined, the April report of the district shows.

Revenues for sale of water amounted to $348,177, up from the $310,757 for the first four months of the year in 1957. New rate schedules this year account for the gain.

At the same time water consumption (through March) amounted to 1,508,984,000 gallons, or 177,000,000 gallons less than for the corresponding period a year ago.

Despite more moisture to dampen the municipal demands, the decline in consumption resulted altogether from curtailed use for oil-field repressuring. Cut to eight day production patterns, the repressuring units used 186,000,000 gallons less.

Recreational revenues showed $24,521 for the four-month period, or about $6,000 more than for the same period a year ago. Recreational expense for the period was $18,490, or nearly $10,000 more than for the same time a year ago. All recreational proceeds are plowed back into services and improvements for recreation.

Total expenses for the year through April stood at $125,134. Of this net excess of revenue over operating expenses in the amount of $247,563, a total of $150,422 was transferred to the net revenue fund for bond and interest requirements, etc. This left $97,141 for future transfer to the net revenue fund.

Divorces Lead Court Activity

As usual, suits for divorce dominated the activity picture of the 118th District Court for the month of May, Wade Choate, district clerk, said Saturday.

Twenty divorce suits were filed during the month. Nineteen decrees of divorce were issued by the court. Thirty-seven divorce cases, some of which had been on the docket for longer than 12 months, were dismissed.

Twenty-seven civil suits other than petitions for divorce were filed in the court in May. Twenty such suits were either granted or dismissed. One criminal case was tried with a jury during the month and one was tried before the court.

One adoption matter was handled by the court. Choate's office received seven applications for passports during the month.

Summer School Registration Set At Junior College

Registration for the first six weeks period of summer school starts Monday at Howard County Junior College.

No time will be lost in getting the "show on the road," for classes begin at 7 a.m. on Tuesday. The registration schedule Monday is 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and from 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

Offerings include the usual solid subjects, commercial courses etc. Where there is sufficient demand for courses not in the summer catalogue, an effort will be made to offer such courses.

Following the practice of the last two summers, summer school is set up on a pair of six-week periods. Work is very intensive, but courses can be completed within the period.

New HD Agent May Be Chosen

Howard County Commissioners Court will probably interview a possible successor to Elizabeth Pace, county home demonstration agent, at their Monday morning session.

Miss Pace resigned from her post effective May 28. The Texas Extension Department advised the county it would check its list of available women and that a successor will be recommended.

It was understood that a representative of the department and the woman they consider best suited to fill Miss Pace's office will be on hand on Monday.

Young Film Players Will Be Guests At Press Luncheon

Two young aspirants in the Hollywood firmament will be in Big Spring in person this week, just as their new pictures are being shown on local screens.

The visitors will be June Kenney, a petite blonde, and James Fillmore, a 6-foot Texan. They are to be at a special press luncheon Friday, June 6, when they will be guests of J. Y. and Ike Robb, to meet representatives of news media. The affair will be at the Setles Hotel at noon.

Opening at the State Theatre Thursday for a three-day run is a combination bill which includes "Hot Rod Girl," starring Miss Kenney, and "Cry Baby Killer," with Fillmore in the stellar role.

Fillmore is a Wichita Falls native, and the pictures are having a world premiere there this week. After the young players visit there, they will be in Sweetwater and Big Spring.

Fillmore is the son of H. W. Fillmore, a Texas attorney, and has attended the University of California at Los Angeles. He was spotted on the campus there by Director Jus Addis, and signed to the role in "Cry Baby Killer." Prior to his UCLA stint, Fillmore attended the University of Texas. He's a six-foot, 160-pounder who likes tennis, water skiing and golf.

June Kenney has been an entertainer since the age of 4, starting as a singer-dancer on a Manchester, N. H., radio station. She also was a child performer on Boston radio stations.

She got Hollywood attention via the contest route as a youngster, and was taken to the film capital by her parents when she was 11. She has had considerable professional training on the West Coast, and has toured with a ballet company.

She has been in a half-dozen films, and in several television shows, and her work there won her top billing in "Hot Rod Girl." June is a blue-eyed blonde, is only 5-2, and weighs 100 pounds.

Package Deal

NEW YORK (AP)—An innovation in selling tickets to Broadway shows has been introduced by Producer David Merrick.

Merrick, who has four shows running currently, is putting tickets for all four on sale at all box offices, instead of just offering duets for the play in a particular theatre.

The Merrick productions include "Jamaica," "Romanoff and Juliet," "Look Back in Anger" and "The Entertainer."

CINEMA COMMENT

Nature's Children, History Topics Of Week's Film Fare

PERRI, a true-life adventure. Produced by Walt Disney. Wednesday and Thursday at the Ritz.

"Perri," the lovable female squirrel, is not the only character in this latest of Disney's truly magnificent True-Life Adventure series. There are deer, bobcats, foxes, beaver, porcupines, weasels, racoons, skunks and many other birds and animals.

Nine years in the making, "Perri" was filmed by top-notch nature photographers in the green Utah-Wyoming country. The result is a fascinatingly wonderful story of nature in the raw. It is a picture you can't afford to miss; especially animal lovers.

Although a documentary, the story of Perri is not textbook boring—there are elements of tragedy, disaster, misery, fear and sorrow as well as scenes of gay humor. It is a true picture of the joyfulness and bounty of Mother Nature against a backdrop of her cruelty.

Disney has never yet produced an artless film; his True-Life series has been especially captivating and "Perri" is no exception. Primarily, the film's story is that of the life and loves of a female pine squirrel, with all the actors in nature's drama taking roles. Little Perri becomes almost as real and as dear as your own children.

TEACHER'S PET, starring Clark Gable, Doris Day and Gig Young. Produced by William Perleberg. Directed by George Seaton. Sunday through Tuesday at the Ritz.

Newspapermen of late have been the favorite whipping boys of Hollywood scriptwriters. "Teacher's Pet" is a welcome reversal of our falling film fortunes.

In fact, this diverting movie has been hailed by some critics as the best newspaper story since "The Front Page." The fact that these critics are newspapermen is, of course, beside the point.

Truth to tell, "Teacher's Pet" is good movie fare for everybody, not just newsmen. Gable is an editor of the old school, the kind with a chronic spleen and a contempt for journalism school grads. He is ordered by his boss, much against his will, to make a talk before a class in journalism, but decides it is worth the effort when he sees the teacher, played with a minimum of chirping by Doris Day.

Gable likes his teacher so much, in fact, that he pretends to be a student and stays on for further lectures. Young is a catalyst for the romance between Gable and Day, a losing rival to Gable. He is outrageously funny in a scene involving a gentlemanly hangover.

What helps to make the movie properly hard-boiled is the fact that it was filmed in a real newsroom and used a bevy of real newspaper people as extras. Also, the arguments pro and con for a scholarly background in the profession are presented truthfully and pointedly.

THE LEFT HANDED GUN, with Paul Newman, Lita Milan and John Dehner. Produced by Fred Coe. Directed by Arthur Penn. Friday and Saturday at the Ritz.

This is the umpteenth yarn centered around Billy the Kid, none of which have been particularly conscientious about historical fact. The latest is no exception, although its background is more true to life than most.

Whatever the faults a history lover might find, however, "The Left Handed Gun" is pretty good in the western class. Incidentally, it's Paul Newman's first shoot-'em-up, and, as one might expect, he acts his way through this meaty role with gusto.

I ACCUSE!, starring Jose Ferrer. Produced by Sam Zimbalist. Directed by Jose Ferrer. Sunday and Monday at the Ritz.

"I Accuse!" is a story of a man who is accused of a crime he didn't commit. It's a courtroom drama with a twist.

A NEW LEADING LADY Perri's out on a limb

JOSE FERRER AN ironic character

JOANNE WOODWARD A fourth face, yet

er. Screenplay by Gore Vidal, from the book by Nicholas Halasz. Tuesday and Wednesday at the State.

One of the most famous editorial ever written was one titled "J Accuse!" by the vitriolic Emile Zola. It was published some 55 years ago in a newspaper owned by Georges Clemenceau, later to become Premier of France.

In the editorial, Zola indicted the French military system in a case that was to make history in the everlasting battle against stupidity and cupidity by professional soldiers.

"I Accuse!" is the story of the celebrated Alfred Dreyfus case, in which an innocent officer of the French Army is convicted of treason on trumped-up charges, and is kept in prison for five years on Devil's Island. He gains a new trial, only to be convicted a second time with more faked evidence furnished by the Army and a stacked jury.

It is, perhaps, the apex of irony that Dreyfus himself was most representative of the system that betrayed and persecuted him.

Ferrer, as Dreyfus, accomplishes his usual expert portrayal in a film charged with emotional drama and cries against injustice. Some of Britain's best film talent is employed.

Short reviews: "The Three Faces of Eve." The strange case of a triple split personality made stranger still by the fact that, since the film was made, the subject has added still a fourth personality, Joanne Woodward won an Oscar for her role.

"The Sad Sack." Back in Big Spring for the nth time, but as funny as ever. Jerry Lewis as the funnyman.

"The Missouri Traveler." All about the life and times of several people in old-time Missouri—a lot of people who remind you of some you know today.

"Mister Roberts." Henry Fonda, James Cagney and Jack Lemmon in the film version of the pungent Navy play, still highly amusing even without the dirty words.

"Blowing Wild." An unlikely yarn about oilfield wildcaters on the loose in Mexico, but the title song, the laudable acting and the wonderful direction give it a haunting quality.

Beauty Pageant Sponsors Needed

There are some 60 girls entered in the July 4 beauty pageant who need a sponsor.

The B&PW, sponsor of the pageant, is contacting merchants, but some are bound to be overlooked. Edith Gay, pageant director, urges those merchants who are interested to contact her at the Chamber of Commerce, or Mrs. Elzie Bennett, who heads the contact team.

The beauty pageant is an annual affair, Miss Gay stated, and is the B&PW's way of making a little money for their civic projects. Co-operation of the merchants is always welcome.

The decor for this year's pageant will be patriotic, with flags, shields and bunting to be arranged around the stage and building at the City Park Amphitheatre. Las Artistas will paint the shields.

Something new is being added this year, in that entrants may use their steed as escorts. For other girls, there will be the traditional escort team from Webb.

The fireworks demonstration, Miss Gay reported, will be at least as spectacular as last year's, and may even be better. The fireworks follow the beauty pageant, and are sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

Theatre Workshop Off To A Start

The workshop of the Civic Theatre got off to a start last week. Director John Austin lectured members on such subjects as voice control, techniques of stage work, character analysis, theatre styles and the historical development of theatre.

Lectures are necessary but Austin plans to use student participation as well. At the next general meeting of the Civic Theatre, workshop members will give a demonstration of makeup techniques learned in the workshop.

Small plays and play excerpts will be staged in future workshops. All phases of the theatre arts will be included from direction to lighting.

Austin announced Walt Wilson of the Hi Fi House has donated a portable record player to be used in character interpretation of music, an important method of drama instruction.

The next workshop session will

Comic Impediment

NEW YORK (AP)—A speech impediment started Broadway singer-comic Iggy Wolfington on the path to show business.

"When I was about 10," recalls the featured player in "The Music Man," a current hit, "I got the performing bug when schoolmates and grownups laughed at stories I would recite.

"It was the way I talked. Finally a doctor told my mother the reason was that I could think faster than I spoke, and the words got all mixed up."

Actor's Complaint

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert Preston says motion picture actors rarely have a chance to perform at their top level because of the economics of film production.

"Mostly, you have to work on one set until it's through and they tear it down and build the next," Preston asserts.

"So you're jumping from spot to spot. I don't care how good the actor is, you can't ask him to do his opening scene and then his closing scene on the same day."

$32 Million Road Program Is Slated

No Howard County road jobs are docketed in the list of 93 major road projects on which the Texas Highway Commission is scheduled to receive bids on June 10 and 11.

Scurry County, with two projects scheduled, is the nearest point to Big Spring where jobs are slated.

The state terms this the biggest road-building program on record. The cost is estimated at $32 million.

Included will be 1,184 miles of construction, with 209 miles coming from the federal government. Farm road work will cover 483 miles and 486 miles will be on state and federal highways. Included will be 245 miles of seal coating for farm roads.

Included in the jobs will be 1.8 miles on State 350 in Scurry County, extending from Cogdell Hospital to Deep Creek. The job calls for widening of grading, structures

Floats Needed For Parade To Launch Rodeo

"More floats" is the plea from the Chamber of Commerce this weekend as plans were being made for the parade to open the 25th annual Big Spring Rodeo and Reunion June 12.

Malcolm Patterson, parade committee chairman, said more commercial and non-commercial floats were needed to make the parade as large as they wanted.

He reminded organizations that prizes of $50, $30, and $20 would be awarded to the winning non-commercial entries.

"This is a fine way for a club to make money, and you don't have to go to a lot of expense either; ingenuity is the main thing," said Patterson.

Patterson said any commercial and non-commercial float could be entered by calling AM 4-4641. Sheriff's possees from Martin, Lynn, Dawson, Sterling, Lubbock, Borden, Ector, Scurry, and Howard counties will also participate in the gigantic parade, Patterson said, and a trophy will be awarded to the outstanding riding group.

BAND SCHOOL, TOO Summer Classes To Open Monday

School begins again Monday for some high school students.

Opening sessions of summer school begin at 8 a.m. Monday with students allowed to take two half-credit courses during the summer. Work ends July 18.

Courses are offered this summer in English, typing, government and algebra, according to school officials.

For summer school, students pay $15 per half-credit course.

Summer band school opens with registration of pupils Monday, Douglas Wiebe and Tommy Fry, high school and junior high band directors, announced Saturday.

The school will be conducted for four weeks. Tuition charge will be $8. Classes will meet five days a week.

There will be four divisions of the school — beginners, intermediates (with one year of experience) advanced junior high, and high school students.

Wiebe said students who still haven't made arrangements for instruments will be able to rent them during registration Monday.

Registration for all classes will be held at the high school band hall. Here is the registration schedule, and Wiebe said classes probably will be conducted on the same schedule:

Beginners, 8:30 a.m.
Intermediates, 10:15 a.m.
Advanced junior high, 1 p.m.
High school, 2:30 p.m.
