DERBY CHAMPION, MOM AND DAD AT THE FINISH LINE
David Spradling with big trophy and parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Spradling

EDGES LARRY SMEDLEY

David Spradling Wins Derby In Fourth Try For Crown

With some 4,000 spectators watching and cheering, 15-year-old David Spradling waded through all competitors to cap the 1958 Big Spring Soap Box Derby championship Thursday night and earn a trip to the All American at Akron, Ohio, in August.

David was making his fourth appearance in the local show and won in a race which he had used previously. In 1957, he finished third but was unranked the other two years. He reported he modfied last year's racer slightly in prepping for the Thursday program. The modifications paid off.

David, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Spradling, 1709 St. Shovel, his red and white racer past four opponents in gaining the finals. He then bested Larry Smedley to earn the title, which was won last year by Blake Talbot.

Former winners aren't eligible to compete, but Blake opened last night's program with an exhibition run down the Lancaster course.

David was wearing the colors of R&H Hardware, while Larry rode an Ideal & City Laundry racer to the runner-up spot.

Probably the largest crowd in the five-year history of the local Derby watched the night's activities. Prior to Thursday, the programs were staged during the day on July 4, but the time was changed to get away from the heat.

The only accident of the night's program occurred when a racer hit little Linda Shuffield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Shuffield, 1105 N. Scurry. She was taken to Medical Arts Hospital and held overnight for observation but was released this morning.

The winner started his string of successes by besting Jimmy Haley in the final race of the older division and then gained a bye in the second round. His next opponent was Ronnie Cox, and after Cox, David beat Charles Wilson in the quarterfinals.

A victory over Johnny Falkner put him in the championship race. Meanwhile, Larry Smedley, competing in the younger bracket, downed Bill Darrow, Randy Cahoon, William Bradford, and Ronnie Booth in gaining the championship round.

Third place in the competition went to Ronnie Booth who downed Johnny Falkner in their runoff. Fifth place went to Charles Wilson for his victory over Mike Stewart.

Vernon W. Hartman, sales promotion manager for Chevrolet in Dallas, presented the plaque to David, symbolizing the victory. Along with the trophy will go a trip for David and his parents to the Soap Box Derby at Akron, Ohio, to be held Aug. 17.

Larry picked a bicycle as his second-place finish prize, and Ronnie Booth got a watch. Johnny Falkner picked fishing tackle for his prize, and Charles Wilson got $15 this year.

Red Seaman Gains Liberty

LONDON (AP) — Estonian seaman Erich Teayn, whose freedom dash set off a Soviet "invasion" of Britain's Shetland Islands, arrived in the Orkney Islands today on his way to the Scottish mainland.

A Home Office spokesman said the Estonian was to be transferred to Edinburgh for questioning.

Teayn fled from one of three Soviet trawlers anchored in the Shetland Bay near the village of Walls.

Thirty Soviet seamen chased him over the wild island moor, but he hid in a shepherd's hut and later was taken to Lerwick by police. There he asked political asylum.

Home Secretary R. A. Butler said he would give every consideration to the seaman's request. Butler said the Soviet Russians chasing Teayn landed illegally. A protest to Moscow will depend on results of an investigation, he added.

Both were indicted Tuesday by the Howard County Grand Jury. They were given credit for time already spent in jail.

Witness Describes 'Favors' To Adams

Tanker Crashes On Takeoff, 15 Are Killed

WESTOVER AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP) — A jet tanker plane attempting a transatlantic speed record crashed and exploded seconds after takeoff early today, killing all 15 aboard.

Observers said the giant KC135 jet tanker hit high tension wires about a mile and a half from its takeoff runway.

The explosion disintegrated the plane into hundreds of pieces, the largest of which was described as no bigger than a chair.

Among the victims were six newsmen who were to cover the flight of four Air Force planes attempting to break records for aircraft speed in crossing the Atlantic in both directions.

Also on board was Brig. Gen. Donald W. Saunders, Athens, N.Y., airborne commander in charge of the operation.

The plane was the third of the four-plane flight to take off. The first two got off on schedule and headed directly for London.

The fourth plane was on the runway ready to take off at the time of the crash. That flight was canceled.

Kazimierz Machowski, 45, on whose property the plane crashed, said: "I heard the plane taking off as I was lying in bed. In a very little while, I heard a terrific explosion. I ran outside and it was brighter than daylight from the burning plane. The heat from the wreckage was so terrific it wasn't possible to get near it. Wreckage was all over the countryside. Nobody could have lived in that crash."

WESTOVER AIR FORCE officials said the plane had made a normal takeoff and was airborne. They added that it broke ground at the exact point of prediction on the runway and appeared to be flying normally.

It skidded across the Massachusetts Turnpike, one of the state's busiest highways—before blowing up with a roar on the Machowski property.

Wreckage was strewn for an estimated three quarters of a mile. Patrolman Richard Haslam, 34, Chicopee, was one of the first on the scene.

"I radioed headquarters," he said, "that there was no need for any ambulances. Nobody on board had a chance."

The civilians killed in the crash were: Daniel J. Coughlin, 31, Boston, Associated Press newsmen; Norman Montellier, 37, New York City, United Press International newsmen;

Glenn A. Williams, 41, Bethesda, Md., associate editor of U. S. News and World Report; Robert A. Ginsburgh, 63, also associate editor of U. S. News and World Report, who joined the magazine in Washington, D. C., after retiring as an Air Force brigadier general and aide to four secretaries of defense.

James L. McConaughy Jr., chief of the Washington bureau of Time and Life magazine; Robert Sibley, 57, Belmont, Mass., aviation editor of the Boston Traveler.

William Cochran, representing the National Aeronautics Assn.; William Enbart, also representing the National Aeronautics Assn.

MILITARY DEAD
The military men killed in addition to Gen. Saunders, were: Lt. Col. George Broutsas, Brattleboro, Vt., commander of the KC135.

Lt. Joseph C. Sweet, Chandler, Ariz.; Capt. James Shipman, Kansas City, Kan.; Capt. John B. Gordon, Raleigh, N. C.;

M. Sgt. Donald H. Gabbard, Los Gatos, Calif.; T. Sgt. Joseph G. Hutter, Miami, Fla.

The four planes were to have attempted record speed flights between New York, London and return.

The three existing jet aircraft world records were established Aug. 23, 1955, by a British Royal Air Force Canberra bomber piloted by Capt. J. W. Hackett.

Checks, House Said Among Gifts

WASHINGTON (AP) — John Fox today quoted Bernard Goldfine as saying that he had bought a house for Sherman Adams in Washington and had sent checks to Adams over a long period of years.

Adams, President Eisenhower's top aide, promptly denied the story about the house in a letter read at a stormy session of the House Investigating subcommittee headed by Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark.).

Fox did not specify the period when he said the checks may have gone from Joseph P. Kennedy, Boston industrialist, to Adams. But Fox indicated it was before Adams came to Washington with Eisenhower in 1953.

In the midst of the storm blown up by Fox's sensational charges, the subcommittee recessed until Monday.

Fox agreed to return Monday for further testimony.

Among other testimony before the recess, Fox told the Congress members that he got a $500,000 loan from Joseph P. Kennedy, Boston multimillionaire and former U.S. ambassador to Great Britain, after supporting Kennedy's son John in his successful 1952 Senate race.

Fox, former publisher of the Boston Post, said he got the loan for his now defunct newspaper and has repaid it.

The letter in which Adams denied Goldfine had bought him a house was produced by Rep. Joseph P. O'Hara of Minnesota, top Republican on the subcommittee, after Fox quoted Goldfine as saying he bought the house.

O'Hara disclosed he had written Adams Thursday, asking about this, after learning that Fox had made such a statement to committee investigators.

Adams' letter said nothing about the checks that Fox quoted Goldfine as saying had gone to Adams. O'Hara had not asked Adams about that.

Adams did dispute another statement that had come up in Fox's testimony Thursday. Adams said he had never held an interest in any Goldfine business.

Chairman Harris was asked by reporters whether the committee has any evidence tending to prove or disprove Fox's testimony about the house.

"This is absolutely false and no such thing ever occurred at any time..." he replied, "not to make any statement as to what we do or do not have."

The chairman declined also to characterize the testimony of Fox.

Thursday, Fox asserted that Goldfine had once told him that Adams had interests in Goldfine textile mills, and that Goldfine said he didn't have to worry about federal regulatory agencies so long as Adams held his White House post.

That brought angry denials from Adams and Goldfine.

Stickney Charges 'Double-Cross'

HOUSTON (AP)—Howard Stickney, charged in a double murder, said today the state has backed out on a promise to give him complete psychiatric examination and care.

Stickney's attorney, Jack Knight, withdrew from the case yesterday after the 20-year-old lab technician signed a statement admitting he had killed his best friend, Clifford Barnes, and Barnes' pretty wife, Shirley, both 26.

White House Takes Swipe At Probe Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House took another swipe today at the House Committee on Legislative Oversight for permitting John Fox to give the testimony he has about presidential aide Sherman Adams.

"It seems incredible that a committee of the Congress would permit such a witness to use the committee for such fantastic testimony," press secretary James C. Hagerty said in a statement dictated to newsmen.

Hagerty called reporters to his office as Fox, former publisher of the now defunct Boston Post, was completing another session of testimony.

Hagerty dictated a statement to reporters. It said in part: "It seems incredible that a committee of the Congress would permit such a witness to use the committee for such fantastic testimony."

"Falsehood No. 1: Mr. Fox quoted Mr. (Bernard) Goldfine as saying Mr. Goldfine had bought a house for Sherman Adams in Washington."

"Mr. Adams has rented two houses since he has been living in Washington..."

"Both of those houses were rented by Mr. Adams. A simple check by the members of the committee or by you gentlemen of the press at the office of the register of deeds in Washington will prove the ownership of those houses."

"Falsehood No. 2: Mr. Fox said Mr. Goldfine had sent checks to Mr. Adams over a long period of time."

"This is absolutely false and no such thing ever occurred at any time..."

BUDAPEST (AP)—Communist Hungary refused today to answer a U.N. request for information on the recent executions of former Premier Imre Nagy and three other leaders of the Hungarian revolt.

Assault Charge Is Filed After Shooting At Motel

A charge of assault with intent to murder was filed and warrant was issued for the arrest of Joe Torres, 307 W. Bell, today following a shooting at a westside motel.

Leon Benavides, about 35, of 901 NW 4th was shot in the stomach and left leg about 2 a.m. today in the Frontier Lodge Motel, 3600 West U. S. 80, Sheriff Miller Harris reported.

Harris and Bobby West, investigator for the district attorney, said Torres' wife, Trinidad (Trina) Torres, and Benavides both received hard blows on the head. Trigger guard from what apparently was a 22-caliber pistol was found in the motel room. The sheriff said the guard probably was broken off the weapon with which the two were hit.

Benavides was taken to the VA Hospital, where he is employed, in a Nalley-Pickle ambulance. Doctors said one bullet struck his thigh bone and the other hit his liver and tore a big hole in his stomach. His condition is critical.

Harris and West said door of the motel room was broken open. Benavides was taken from the bed to the hospital. Mrs. Torres did not require hospitalization.

Deposits Show Big Increase In Year

Deposits dipped under the March peak but gained almost a million dollars over a year ago, combined statements of three Big Spring banks showed Friday.

The figures were in response to a call by the United States Comptroller of Currency and the State Banking Commissioner for condition as of close of business June 23, 1958. The corresponding call last year was June 6.

Deposits amounted to $27,495,135 which was $904,468 more than for the June call in 1957. The deposit total on the March 4 call was $28,367,754.

Loans and discounts declined slightly over a year ago. The total was $10,314,426, down $22,565, from $10,336,992.57 in March. March loans had amounted to $9,531,885.

Total resources stayed above the $30 million mark in aggregating $30,304,002, an increase of $1,244,311 over the comparable time last year. Total resources in March had been $31,003,572.

Loan figures did not include $1,466,223.31 in United States, producers notes and in cotton acceptances.

The banks held $5,330,999.94 in United States bonds and $3,508,

Fugitive Leaves Prison A Free Man

HUNTSVILLE (AP) — William Hutto, a fugitive for 33 years, walked out of the state prison today, free to return to his New Orleans home.

Dressed in prison-issue khaki but wearing no hat, Hutto went to a bus station for a trip to Lyford to visit his daughter, Mrs. Guy Batchlor. He plans to go to New Orleans after a one-day visit with Mrs. Batchlor.

Gov. Price Daniel granted Hutto to a full pardon yesterday because of his "exemplary life and good character."

He was sentenced to 15 years on a rape conviction in 1924. He was granted a furlough because of family affairs and never returned. He said he thought he was pardoned.

Hutto was picked up in a traffic case earlier this year while visiting Mrs. Batchlor and his grandchildren in Lyford and returned to prison.

The prison gave him the usual $50 for discharged prisoners. He drew $24.34 of his own money from the prison. But he gave away his two wrist watches to inmates who did not have timepieces.

Persons who saw him enter the prison and leave said his appearance was much improved—because the prison had given him new false teeth. He also wore eyeglasses given him by the prison system.

His only luggage was a small cotton sack containing extra shoes, underclothing and hundreds of letters from friends in New Orleans, where he was an auto salesman.

He told a reporter, "I'm sure happy. I didn't sleep too well last night, thinking about my son and all the things I can do for him." His son is 17.

He also said, "This experience has been really a blessing in disguise and had I known I was wanted, I would have cleared this matter up years ago." He praised the prison and its officials and employees.

He spent a total of 1 year, 4 months and 27 days in prison. He arrived July 8, 1924, on the Dallas County rape conviction. Hutto was granted a furlough Aug. 5, 1925, because of the death of his father. He was returned to prison March 15 this year.

Nation's First SAGE Center Is Activated Today In New Jersey

By VERN HAUGLAND
McGUIRE AIR FORCE BASE, N. J. (AP)—SAGE—the vast and complex electronic air warning network called Semi-Automatic Ground Environment—formally went into operation today.

Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, Air Force vice chief of staff, described the inauguration of SAGE as "the largest single step taken toward the improvement of air defense capabilities in the past 10 years."

Several hundred military dignitaries and representatives of many firms that helped in the four-year job building the huge system attended ceremonies dedicating this first operational SAGE center.

The various centers to be built will be controlled from North American Air Defense Command headquarters at Colorado Springs, Colo.

This first center of the series guards the most densely populated and highly industrialized section of the nation—the New York-Philadelphia metropolitan areas, all of New Jersey, and parts of Connecticut, Rhode Island and Delaware.

At the dedication ceremony, the Air Force gave for the first time the details of the high powered radar system and associated computer equipment that helps screen North America from air attack. They include:

1. Heavy, long-range radar units, with radomes 50 feet in diameter and weighing 2,300 pounds mounted on steel platforms more than 100 miles at sea and on strategically located ground sites, capable of detecting aircraft hundreds of miles away.

2. Medium powered gap-filler radar to plug the holes between the coverage of the long-range units. These sets automatically transmit information by telephone lines to the prime stations, where a special television converter displays the combined data.

3. At the center itself, the largest electronic computers in the world—each occupying about two acres—to receive the information from the radar installations and to monitor the positions of air-planes and defense weapons.

LeMay said SAGE cannot track ballistic weapons or control attacks against them. "As yet there is no defense against such weapons," he said.

But he said the greatest threat for the next few years comes from manned jet bombers and air breathing missiles.

A SAGE unit to help guard the southwestern flank of the U. S. is being planned for Webb Air Force Base.

The Air Force has requested authorization for $6,700,000 to construct buildings for the facility, and Col. John T. Fitzwater, commander of the 33rd Air Defense Division, said here Monday that more than $35,000,000 worth of equipment will be required for the center.

Also scheduled to move into Webb to operate as a part of the new air defense setup is the 33rd Fighter-Interceptor Squadron, now stationed at Stewart AFB, Newburgh, N. Y. Timetable for activating the SAGE center has not been announced, but the interceptor squadron already has started its move to Webb.

Caught In A Trap

Wounded, handcuffed would-be safecrackers sprawl on the floor after they were caught in a police trap in Miami, Fla. Four men were caught in the act of cracking a safe in a Miami warehouse when the trap snapped shut with a blaze of gunfire. Two of the men were wounded, neither one seriously. Rufus Argo, left, (wearing socks over his hands to prevent fingerprints) and William Scott, right, are being questioned by Detective Charles Sapp (kneeling, center).

Car Makers, UAW Widen Rift In Contract Efforts

DETROIT (AP)—The Big Three car makers and the United Auto Workers appeared today to be farther apart in their efforts to reach a new agreement on wages than they were at the start of negotiations three months ago.

The 1955 contracts expired Memorial Day weekend and for the past month members of the union have been working without contracts at General Motors, Ford and Chrysler plants.

The union held bargaining sessions with all three companies yesterday but no progress was reported. Company negotiators gave no indication they were ready to make a new offer.

The UAW rejected the companies' original proposals to extend the wage formula of the 1955 contracts for two years. These proposals were withdrawn on expiration of the old contracts.

The union is preparing for a showdown later this summer when the companies start production of 1959 models.

New Governor Carries Career With Great Ease

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP)—Youthful, mellow-voiced Ernest F. Hollings, South Carolina's next governor, carries his undefeated political career as easily as he does his husky 6-foot-2 frame.

The genial lawyer with the square-jawed face has been a winner almost all his 36 years. He's making a full career of public service, a campaign point that helped him win.

"It has always been my idea that a man should make friends, not enemies," the Charleston lawyer says of his political philosophy. It has carried him far in a hurry.

Hollings, though a strong defender of the state's laws guarding traditional segregation, is a champion of equal rights for Negroes. He has voted to have Negroes on boards of control in his home county.

He was the State House of Representatives floor leader in 1951 in enacting the state's multimillion-dollar program to equalize Negro schools with those of whites.

It has been a frequent habit of South Carolinians to send their governors—self-succession is not allowed—to the U. S. Senate.

Fritz, a nickname indicative of his German ancestry, is definitely a young man on the go, with no ceiling in sight.

POISED SPEAKER

A poised and eloquent platform speaker, he prefers to go it at ad lib, but can deliver a prepared speech as though he is making it up as he speaks. He has mastered the television art of speaking to each viewer rather than to an unseen audience.

Both men and women find him attractive. He knows how to listen as well as to talk. When he shakes hands, he gives the impression that shaking your hand is a great honor—for him.

Hollings won national recognition in 1954 as one of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Young Men of the Year. That was the year he was elected lieutenant governor after a sparkling six-year career in the State Legislature.

Hollings was graduated with honors at The Citadel, the state military college. He went from college into 33 months of North African and European Army service starting in 1942. It is characteristic that he never has stressed his military record in his political campaigns.

He studied law at the University of South Carolina after the war, practiced with an uncle for a time, then set up his own office.

In 1946 he married Pat Salley of Columbia. The two met at a college dance at The Citadel years before.

Their early marriage was marred by tragedy when their third child strangled to death in a crib. At the time they had a son, Michael, now 7, and a daughter, Helen Hayne, now 5. Since then they have had another daughter, Patricia Salley, 1.

Kilgore Hero Cited For Medal

KILGORE, Tex. (AP)—The Kilgore News Herald is seeking a Carnegie Hero Medal for a man who rescued two children from drowning in a well Saturday.

Claude Wheat, 35, Negro maintenance man at Kilgore College, saved two sisters—Cheila Moore, 4, and Dianne Moore, 3—after they fell into water 6 to 8 feet deep.

Wheat, hearing the cries of their mother—Mrs. Leon Moore—jumped into the well and clung to a pipe until other rescuers arrived with a rope. The children were unharmed.

"I am very grateful to him. I never can repay him for saving our babies," the father said.

The News Herald said Wednesday Wheat's deed will be submitted to the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission at Pittsburgh, Pa.

Optometry Board Ordered To Halt Dallas Actions

DALLAS (AP)—The Texas Board of Examiners in Optometry was ordered yesterday to stop harassing a Dallas optometrist, Dr. Ellis Carp, and his nine optical firms.

Dist. Judge W. L. Thornton also dismissed a board suit against Dr. Carp.

The board had alleged that two of Dr. Carp's technicians had examined and fitted patients for contact lenses Joe Moss, the board's attorney, said this amounted to an illegal practice of optometry.

Dr. Carp filed a cross-action against the board, claiming it had harassed his staff with letters threatening to bring charges to cancel optometry licenses.

Thornton also ordered the board members not to file any law suits against Dr. Carp and his employees, "calculated to disturb his employees pending final determination" of the suit for a permanent court injunction.

"The real purpose of this injunction is to maintain a status quo until the trial (for a permanent injunction) and will operate only temporarily," he added.

In denying the board its request for an injunction, the judge ruled that it had failed to prove its case. Six private detectives, all women, had testified that the two technicians fitted them with contact lenses. The technicians and Dr. Carp denied the charge.

Cameron Overcame A Great Loneliness

Editor's Note—Kenneth L. Dixon, managing editor of the Lake Charles, La. American Press, worked tirelessly in the Cameron area when Hurricane Audrey struck against the Louisiana coast June 27, 1957, and took more than 500 lives. Dixon, a former Associated Press columnist and war correspondent, describes the little fishing community on a visit one year after the storm.

By KENNETH L. DIXON

CAMERON, La. (AP)—"Finally they found that they were not alone—that neighbors still are neighbors all over America. It was then, I think, they changed their minds and came back to Cameron."

The speaker was white-haired Sheriff O. B. Carter of Cameron Parish (County).

The occasion was the first anniversary of Hurricane Audrey which ravaged this parish and took hundreds of lives a year ago today.

He was explaining why an estimated 98 per cent of the survivors have returned although most had sworn, "I'll never go back there again."

"They meant it then," says Carter. "It was partly shock, partly bitterness, partly sorrow—but mostly a great loneliness. And then they finally found that they were not alone, that help had come from everywhere. It gave them heart. They came home and started over. You can see what they have done."

You can. Ninety per cent of the homes and other buildings in Cameron Parish are new.

But let's go back a year, to the hurricane itself.

One year ago yesterday the hurricane tortured the seas of the Gulf of Mexico due south of Cameron. It was aimed due north, but it only inched along.

IT'S A KILLER

A pilot of a passing plane radioed back to his base: "This one is a killer."

It was. But some (the estimates still vary) Cameron Parish people who were to die next day were not yet worried. Even if she held her course—which hurricanes seldom do—Audrey's timetable wouldn't get her to the coast until late this following night.

They forgot—or never knew—that a hurricane can suddenly coil and multiply its speed by many times, once it decides to strike. That's what happened.

Audrey swiftly picked up speed, jumping to 22 miles an hour.

Shortly after midnight, her twin fangs of wind and water struck the still sleeping people of Cameron, and neighboring communities. She was 12 to 18 hours ahead of schedule.

Winds of more than 100 miles an hour hurled huge, crushing waves inland, destroying almost everything in their path.

Mammoth trees were uprooted and tossed like toothpicks. Concrete burial vaults were flung along for miles. Buildings of brick and stone and lumber were smashed, the ground beneath them swept clear. Audrey swept the debris northward, out over the carpet of marshland, and left it there.

PEOPLE WERE DYING

All the while people were dying. They died in their homes as 90 per cent of the houses crumbled like cardboard. They died in the treepops, still clinging to their young. We buried some still locked together, for rigor mortis had continued in death the protecting embrace of life.

They died on floating beams and rooftops. They died in cars trying to escape—along roads which were mere causeways at first, and soon became nothing at all.

They continued dying after dawn. Weak from fatigue, exposure, shock, sunburn and hunger, one by one they slipped from the floating debris into the cluttered waters, miles and miles inland.

Finally Audrey passed by and the rescue work began.

You know the rest of that story.

How they brought in the dead by the hundreds, first to the ice house at Cameron, then to the docks at Lake Charles... how they brought out survivors by thousands, and fed them and sheltered and clothed them... How they started to plan immediately to rebuild Cameron Parish... It was then so many survivors said: "I'll never go back there again."

HERE'S WHY

But they did—and here's why: "Help started pouring in from all over the country, in money, in clothing, in food and in labor," says Carter. "It came from the American people through the Red Cross, the Salvation Army, the AFL-CIO labor unions, the Civil Defense, the schools, the civic organizations, the big companies and single individuals. You couldn't possibly list all the groups and individuals who helped."

Carter pauses, polishes his steaming glasses, reflects: "At first it didn't seem to change the survivors' minds," he says. "They still were in a state of shocked and stunned defeat. Of course, many of them came back right away. But the tide didn't turn for the big majority for two to four months."

"But when they did come back it was mostly for the same reason. They realized they weren't forgotten, they weren't alone. And so they sort of shook themselves, rolled up their sleeves and went at it..."

Now Cameron is rebuilt. It's newer and stronger than ever. It has a hurricane warning system that's as near foolproof as men can devise.

Would the people evacuate now if the warning came? "They would," says Sheriff Carter. "Once you've been shot, you're gunshy whenever you look down a barrel again."

But they'd come back again, and they wouldn't feel alone.

Recession Future Depends On Public

By SAM DAWSON
Associated Press News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—You could have it better in the next six months than in the last. It depends on the expected fall pickup and that depends to a large extent on you. There should be more jobs. There should be more spending money around if only because a host of government workers and military personnel are getting a raise. So are the steel and aluminum workers, and perhaps auto workers too. Public spending for defense.

AF Jet Tanker Makes Fastest Atlantic Run

BRIZE NOTON AIR BASE, England (AP)—A U. S. Air Force jet tanker set down at this Oxfordshire air base today after making the fastest-ever New York to London transatlantic flight.

Its time for the 3,337-mile flight: 5 hours 22 minutes 29.68 seconds. It was followed by a second huge KC135 Stratotanker which also flashed over London in faster time than any previous mark for the route.

The tankers had planned to take off on a London to New York record attempt after a brief stopover here. This plan was abandoned because a third tanker in the flight crashed early today as it was taking off from Westover Air Force Base in Massachusetts, killing 15 persons.

The Pentagon in Washington said the first tanker was clocked over New York at 12:29:37.8 EDT, and then over London at 5:52:7.48 EDT.

Average speed was about 644 miles per hour. The previous New York to London record of 6 hours 16 minutes was set by a Royal Air Force Canberra bomber in August 1955.

Total elapsed time of the first tanker from takeoff at Westover to its setdown at Brize Norton was 6 hours 34 minutes.

A U. S. Air Force spokesman said the flight was being made to demonstrate the Air Force's capability to send high-performance jet tanker aircraft to strategic points anywhere in the world.

The Stratotankers are the military version of the Boeing 707 jet airliner, which is scheduled to go into transatlantic commercial service next year. The commercial type will carry up to 147 passengers or 25 tons of cargo.

Houston Police Take To The Air

HOUSTON (AP)—Police Capt. Tom Sawyer is set to zoom up in a helicopter July 7 in an attempt to smooth out traffic congestion between 7 a.m. and 8:15 daily. Radio Station KXYZ will have an announcer in the helicopter. Six radio reports will be made to motorists hourly. They will be advised on traffic conditions and how to avoid congested areas.

highways and civic projects will be increasing, making more work for many industries and creating jobs.

This government spending, plus yours as you prepare for winter, should give the post-Labor Day economy a welcome boost. The upturn would be moderate, though.

The really big upsurge will come when business itself starts building up inventories instead of trimming them and steps up its spending for new plant and equipment instead of shelving such expansion programs—and again that largely depends on consumer attitudes.

It was the failure of an expected fall pickup in 1957 that led businessmen to cut back on spending and start living off inventories—the two things most blamed for the current recession.

A July and August lull in the heavy industries already is pretty well discounted. It's the time for vacation shutdowns, for model changeovers, for retooling for new products to be launched in the fall.

But the summer is also proving to be as good as ever or even better for seasonal outdoor jobs—construction, recreation, farming. You should find living a bit easier in dollar and cents terms. Food prices are expected to fall enough to offset the extra cost of services.

MONEY AVAILABLE
The money managers seem set on making enough money and credit available to keep things going as fast as possible now and to encourage any upturn that may be starting.

If you want a new home or an appliance or vacation on the installment plan it should be easier to arrange this summer and fall than last.

The tax news isn't as cheerful, with the recession showing signs of petering out and the federal debt starting to soar. And states and communities are eyeing you as they look around for ways to raise still more revenue.

If you're a businessman your chances of increasing net earnings aren't too hot, unless you can find new ways of cutting costs. For many, labor costs are going up automatically.

If you're a white collar man you may find the boss breathing down your neck. Blue collars were the first to be laid off when production was cut back. But then management began fretting at the mounting cost of paper work, started chipping away at white collar forces—in a growing number to cut salaries.

And unless an unlikely large-scale fall pickup changes this business thinking, that trend could continue for awhile.

So a lot of folk besides just the auto makers with their new cars will be wondering how much of a rebound the post-Labor Day weeks will bring—just a token one or a substantial one?

DEAR ABBY

KEEP THE DOLL

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We plan to take our eleven-year-old daughter on a trip this summer. She still sleeps with a very ragged, ugly and faded doll she's had since she was in the cradle. I've tried to break her of this habit, but she has rescued it from the trash can a hundred times. She insists on taking this ragged doll on the trip and I am afraid she will be laughed at by our relatives whom we are visiting. In the first place, she's too old for a doll and in the second place, this one is in disgraceful condition. What is your opinion?

EMBARASSED
DEAR ABBY: I used to like a boy and he likes me. I don't like him any more, I like my girlfriend's boyfriend better, and he likes me better than he likes his girlfriend. My girlfriend still likes her boyfriend. I don't want to hurt my old boyfriend and I don't want to lose my girlfriend, but how can I get my girlfriend's boyfriend without hurting anybody's feelings?

JULIE
DEAR ABBY: A girl can't help it if her girlfriend's boyfriend likes her better than he likes his girlfriend. Be sure to let HIM do all the chasing and you'll have no apologies to make.

DEAR ABBY: Tell the lady whose husband didn't like her pies, I'd be happy to change places with her. My husband LOVES my pies, but he doesn't care for ME. After 24 years of being a devoted wife and mother he tells me he doesn't care for the refined lady-like type. He likes the well-built cheap kind better. Is it my fault that my mother brought me up to be a lady? What have I got that I haven't got? TOO LADY-LIKE

DEAR ABBY: They haven't got anything you haven't got. Only it's distributed differently. YOUR kind is for marrying—the other kind is for looking.

DEAR ABBY: I feel so sorry for my husband that I could just die. He is wonderful in every way but his folks have never forgiven him for marrying me (he gave up his religion) and they treat us like dogs. He cries to me and it kills me to see a man cry. We have been married for two years and his folks have never come to see us. He wants to make up because he heard his mother is very sick. Can you advise me?

TREATED LIKE DOGS
DEAR T. L. D.: Encourage your husband to go to see his parents. If they still refuse to accept him—well, at least he tried.

DEAR ABBY: A lady wrote your column saying an elderly gentleman who plays cards at the ELKS CLUB takes her to a movie and buys HERSELF a ticket and tries to slip her through without paying. Well, I am that man and I want to set the facts straight. I buy HER a ticket and walk in without buying a ticket for myself because the manager of the theatre is a friend of mine. Thank you. NO CHEAPSKATE.

DEAR ABBY: Sure roared over that sappy lady who got mad because her husband called her "Babe" and "Doll." She should hear what MY husband calls me sometimes.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of The Big Spring Herald. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

SAMUEL MINISTERS TO THE LORD FROM CHILDHOOD TO MANHOOD

Scripture—1 Samuel 2:12-3:21.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
 WE STUDY today the life of a man who was dedicated from childhood to the work of the Lord, and became a leader of his people for the rest of his life.

Not included in our Bible assignment is the beautiful story of Hannah, wife of Elkanah, praying for a son, promising to dedicate him to the service of the Lord if her prayer was answered. A devoted priest, Eli, heard her prayer. When the child was born and named Samuel, the mother took him to Eli and left him under his care. "And the child Samuel grew on, and was in favor both with the Lord, and also with men."—1 Samuel 2:26.

The teacher might ask the class of what other child these same words were used. They were used of the Child Jesus. Much of Samuel's early life reminds us of Christ's childhood.

He being returned to the offerer to be consumed by his own family" and some Levites. Certain portions were allowed to the priest "which had been dedicated first to the Lord, while the fat had to be burned upon the altar."

These sons of Eli insisted upon seizing great portions of the sacrifice, before it was offered to the Lord. If they were rebuked they threatened to use force to have their way.

Eli told his sons that he heard of their evil deeds from all the people and begged them to mend their ways, but they did not heed his words or warnings. The Lord appeared to Eli, threatening the destruction of his sons, Hophni and Phinehas, and Eli's whole line because of their actions.

Eli grew old and feeble and his sight was dim. One night, as Samuel lay in bed, the Lord called "Samuel, Samuel." Samuel

MEMORY VERSE

"And Samuel grew, and the Lord was with him, and did let none of his words fall to the ground."—1 Samuel 3:19.

Although Samuel lived with Eli, his mother visited him each year. She brought him a little coat and "Samuel ministered before the Lord . . . girded with a linen ephod." This ephod consisted of two pieces of white cloth or linen, hanging from the neck in front and behind, joined together by shoulder straps and confined around the waist by a band.—William J. Deane, from Parables of Christ's Kingdom.

Eli was a devout and upright man, a descendant of Aaron, but his two sons were evil men, immoral in their private lives and disgusting in their greediness. We turn again to the words of William J. Deane, who explains that when the sacrifice was offered to the Lord, "a certain portion of the offerings brought for sacrifice belonged to the priest as a fee, the remainder of the sacrifice up the wrong way.

Next morning Samuel did not know how to tell Eli what he had heard, but Eli told him to tell him exactly what the Lord had said to him. So Samuel did and Eli's answer was, "It is the Lord; let Him do what seemeth Him good."

Why did the sons of so good a man become so evil? We may see the same thing happen in today's world, where God-fearing parents sometimes have the torture of seeing their children grow up the wrong way.

thought Eli was calling him and went to him thrice. Eli said he had not called, and told Samuel it was the Lord calling him.

So Samuel lay down again, and when the voice came again he said: "Speak; for Thy servant heareth." Then he was told by God that He would punish Eli and all his family for the sins of the sons.

Next morning Samuel did not know how to tell Eli what he had heard, but Eli told him to tell him exactly what the Lord had said to him. So Samuel did and Eli's answer was, "It is the Lord; let Him do what seemeth Him good."

Church Profiting From Investments

By TOM HENSHAW
 NEW YORK (AP)—For the past four years, the United Lutheran Church in America has been employing big business methods — with big business success — to raise money for its member churches and affiliates.

The ULC's offbeat adventure in modern church finance is the Common Investing Fund, which, since Jan. 1, 1954, has distributed nearly $600,000 in dividends to almost 100 shareholders.

The CIF is similar to a mutual investment fund in that it has no share limit and it reinvests shareholders' money in the stock and bonds of private business.

The big difference is that only institutions affiliated with the ULC — its boards, synods, colleges and congregations — are eligible to become shareholders.

The fund was started in 1954 with 10 shareholders and a net asset value of 24 million dollars. In the first quarter of 1958 there were 92 shareholders and net assets totaled more than five million dollars.

Since its inception, the CIF has been headed by Edmund F. Wagner, president of the General Realty and Utilities Corp. of New York. It has a board of directors that reads like a who's who of investment banking.

Wagner is also treasurer of the ULC, the highest church office open to a layman, and president of the Interchurch Center, Inc., a headquarters for various Protestant churches in upper Manhattan.

"The chief benefit of our service," says Wagner, "is that it gives the shareholders a protec-

RODEO OPENS

LAMESA—Top money winner in the first night of the 10th annual Lamesa Rodeo was a Muleshoe rider, Ed Workman, who placed in all three riding events.

He took first in both saddle bronc and bull riding and second in the bareback riding. Another Muleshoe rider, Red Berry, placed in both events in which he rode. He took third in the bareback bronc event and tied for second with Grant Speed of San Angelo in the saddle bronc riding.

House Passes Tax Bill, Sends It To Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House today passed and sent to President Eisenhower a compromise tax bill repealing half a billion dollars a year in tax surcharges on freight transportation costs.

The roll call vote was 365-9. The bill averts a drop of $2-115,000,000 in federal revenues due July 1 by extending for another year Korean War increases in the corporate income tax rate and other excises on new automobiles, car accessories, liquor and cigarettes.

The House completed congressional action on the tax compromise bill of renewed grumbling over the fact Congress has not cut other excises, particularly the 10 per cent federal tax on rail, bus and airline tickets.

The Senate quickly approved the compromise and whipped the bill back to the House to complete congressional action today.

Takes Training On Service Methods

Austin Aulds will open the new Mobile Service Station at 4th and Johnson in about 10 days. Prior to his taking over the operation of this station, which includes the latest in modern facilities, he is receiving special training in methods of service station operation.

For the past two weeks, specialists at Magnolia Petroleum Company's Sales Development Center have discussed with Aulds and other dealers ways to offer better service for motorists.

Located at 10721 Preston Road, Dallas, the sales development center also provides Aulds with current information on design changes and requirements for late model cars, products, all car services, and service station management.

The Martin County venture is Humble No. 1 M. McKaskle and is situated about 15 miles west of Big Spring. Operator will explore to 11,175 feet looking for Devonian production.

Also in Martin, operator was taking potential test today at the Pan American No. 8 Bredlove in the Bredlove (Devonian) field.

Operator repaired rig today at the Shell No. 1-DA Slaughter after taking a drillstem test. Operator tested from 7,915-32 feet with tool open one hour and recovery was 100 feet of mud. The venture is in the Lazy JI field 660 from north and 760 from east lines, 17-1, Hays Survey.

Tidewater No. 1 Couey was shut in today after flowing new distillate and gas on tests Thursday. During a 17 1/2-hour test, the venture flowed 24.32 barrels of fluid through a 4-inch choke cut 75 per cent distillate. Gas volume measured 1,025,000 cubic feet per day. The re-entered wildcat is C SW SW, 13-36-5n, T&P Survey, and 17 miles southwest of Garden City. Operator is testing opposite the Devonian.

Stanotex No. 2-2-A Winters deepened to 4,736 feet in dolomite and lime. The North Vincent field project is 467 from north and 1,400 from west lines, 6-25, H&TC Survey.

Blakley Plugs States Rights At Dallas Rally

By WHITEY SAWYER
Associated Press Writer

William Blakley, candidate for the U.S. Senate, defended state sovereignty Thursday and claimed he was free from out-of-state influence.

His opponent, Sen. Ralph Yarborough, remained at work in Washington.

W. Lee O'Daniel, candidate for governor, planned a radio-televast Friday from Waco.

Gov. Price Daniel travelled from his Liberty home to Beaumont Thursday with a wagon train in the annual big thicket trek which publicizes a charity rodeo.

State Sen. Henry Gonzalez, also running for governor, demanded that Daniel "do something for the Texas unemployed."

Blakley said at a Dallas Rally Texas has long been "the number one target of those who do not believe in individual freedom, in state sovereignty, in the rule of Constitutional law."

"You will decide whether this state is to be represented by a majority senator free from obligations to any out-of-state influence," he said.

His speech to an estimated 4,800 followed a barbecue.

He was frequently interrupted by yells and applause.

Blakley spoke out against Supreme Court mandates for public school integration and chided his opponent, Yarborough, about contributions to Yarborough's campaign fund in last year's special election.

He named out-of-state labor groups he said sent $36,000 to Texas during the 1957 campaign in which Yarborough was elected.

Blakley drew the loudest applause when he said "let us hope that we will never again witness the unconstitutional use of military might for the enforcement of an unconstitutional judicial decree."

He obviously referred to President Eisenhower's use of troops to back integration in Little Rock, Ark.

Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey made his first re-election speech. He said at San Antonio "We should have no additional nor new taxes until the need is absolutely proven."

He said a two-thirds majority of legislative votes should be required on any tax measure.

George Nokes, Ramsey's opponent, said in Laredo the state needs "some good old-fashioned thinking and hard working for a change."

CRITIQUE 'Rainmaker' To Continue Its 3-Night Run At HCJC

A small but appreciative audience Thursday evening viewed the first of three productions of "The Rainmaker," summer production of the College Players.

Curtain time for the remaining productions will be 8:15 p.m. tonight and Saturday.

The overall view of "The Rainmaker" discloses a play that some observers believed would never make it, plenty of first night troubles, and miscasting of one important role.

The play was put together in the last few days of rehearsal after a long series of practice nights in which it seemed lines and cues would never be learned. But the actors apparently overcame difficulties brought about by conflict with jobs and classes, and Thursday evening's staging of the famous Broadway play was enjoyable.

The small audience consisted mainly of visitors from the state hospital, who were treated to a special night out. The Soap Box Derby cut heavily into first night attendance, and larger crowds are expected tonight and tomorrow.

"The Rainmaker" is a yarn about a Western ranching family with a problem daughter, homely Lizzie, whom they are convinced will never catch a man. But into their lives steps Starbuck, the traveling con man who calls himself a rainmaker, and his unsettling influence brings a solution to the problems.

Taking acting honors was Janet James as Lizzie. Only once did she fail to project her character to the audience, and that was during a highly emotional scene.

Chuck Worley, Jack Culpepper and Doyle Phillips, as the rest of the family, were hilarious and rambunctious in most of their scenes, fair in more violent sequences. They got hung up a few times on lines and cues, but extricated themselves admirably.

Tommy Pickle and Carol Jones as the sheriff and his deputy were quite believable as a couple of slow-talking cowpokes, and Bobby Horton as Starbuck got better as the play progressed. Horton's role was especially difficult, as the mad, poetic charlatan, and Director Fred Short might have done better to have traded roles a bit.

The impressionistic set and background music, by Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Conway, and Bob Martinez, respectively, helped with the play's Western atmosphere. Also helping in this were The Dusters, an aggregation of musicians playing some old-time numbers between acts.

The play's setting in time was somewhat in question; there was an old-fashioned wall telephone, a crystal radio set, a modern short skirt, and a sack dress all in the same play. It would indicate either an error in planning or a symbol of the timeless quality of the characters and story portrayed.

Plans Complete For Big Targets

AUSTIN (AP)—Complex survival plans against enemy attack have been completed for three major Texas cities, but 13 other primary target areas are still in the preparation stages, Civil Defense Workers heard yesterday.

Mattie Treadwell, coordinator of the Texas survival project for the Federal Civil Defense Administration, spoke to the annual civil defense advisory conference here.

Plans have been completed for Fort Worth, Dallas and Houston, she said. A state plan is still on the drawing board but must be ready by Jan. 1. Texas was given $320,000 from the federal government to prepare the plan.

Target cities in Texas where plans are not complete, she said, were: Austin, San Antonio, Galveston, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Amarillo, Corpus Christi, El Paso, Laredo, Lubbock, San Angelo, Waco and Wichita Falls.
