Aid-To-Education Program Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed a broad federal aid to education bill designed to help meet the challenge flashed by Soviet scientific advances.

The bill was passed 62-26 last night after a session lasting 14 hours. While generally similar to a measure passed by the House last week, there are differences that remain to be compromised.

Cost of the Senate bill was estimated at about $1,300,000,000. The House measure would cost about 970 million dollars.

A feature of the Senate bill is provision for the award of about 25,000 college scholarships annually to outstanding students, particularly in the fields of science, mathematics and foreign languages.

The House eliminated competitive scholarships, voting instead to earmark the money for a student loan program.

The Senate, however, scaled down the amount of scholarship awards provided in its bill by adopting 46-42 an amendment sponsored by Sen. John S. Cooper (R-Ky).

The amendment would limit individual scholarship grants to $250 a year, or a total of $1,000 for four years of college. But it would permit needy scholarship winners to borrow up to $750 a year from the government.

The bill, as recommended by the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee, provided for scholarship grants of $500 a year, plus additional grants up to $500 a year based on need.

TO $0 MILLION

The effect of Cooper's amendment was to reduce the estimated cost of the scholarship program from 280 million dollars to $0 million.

His amendment provides that winners of national defense scholarships would have preference in obtaining loans from the 315-million-dollar student loan fund authorized by the bill.

Loans would be made at 2 percent interest, and borrower who entered the teaching profession would be forgiven his loan at the rate of one fifth for each year of teaching.

Besides providing for scholarships and student loans, the Senate measure would authorize graduate fellowships, as well as grants to the states for school laboratory equipment, for teacher training institutes, and for establishing aptitude testing and guidance programs. The House bill has similar provisions.

At the request of Sen. William E. Jenner (R-Ind.), the Senate adopted by voice vote an amendment to exclude Indiana from the bill's terms and benefits.

Balloon Test Canceled After Gondola Mishap

ASHLAND, Wis. (AP) — The crash of a training balloon gondola Wednesday night injured a balloon builder and an Air Force researcher who was preparing for a solo flight to test man's reaction to isolation in space. The test was postponed.

Capt. Grover Schock, 32, and Otto C. Winzen, 40, suffered extensive injuries when their open gondola plunged 100 or more feet to the earth after they cut loose from the balloon as it headed out over Lake Superior. They apparently released the ball-shaped gondola rather than be blown over the water in darkness. They smashed into a pasture half a mile inland when the gondola's parachute failed to open.

Their fall was witnessed by a police officer, a waiting ambulance crew and two men in a plane sent aloft to follow the balloon.

Schock, a space biology specialist, was cut under the chin from one side of his face to the other. He also suffered back and possible internal injuries. He was in critical condition but showing improvement, according to Capt. George Ruff, an Air Force physician treating him at St. Joseph's Hospital here.

Winzen, a physicist, was cut across the forehead and suffered a skull fracture. He was in critical condition but showing improvement, according to Capt. George Ruff, an Air Force physician treating him at St. Joseph's Hospital here.

People who told me that north Martin County was in a severe drought didn't look in the right places. From Three Leagues on 20 miles south of Grady the crops are looking well. Farmers are cutting maize that is making a normal yield or better, and cotton prospects are for a quarter to a half bale on dryland fields.

There is a dry area that extends all the way from Three Leagues eastward to Ackerly, but it is nothing to compare with some of the really dry years. Some feed will be harvested, and cotton would make a normal yield if farmers could get an inch rain.

Two of the driest spots seen lately are south of the Slaughter Ranch in Martin County and between Ackerly and Vealmoor. These crops will be below normal, and will make very little unless rain comes soon. Much of the feed is already too far gone to make much unless it takes the second growth.

At Three Leagues the gin manager G. H. Davenport is getting ready for a big season. He ginned over 3,200 bales last year and says this year's prospects are equally as promising.

Davenport built the gin back in the 1940's, and before that managed a gin in Stanton. He had some big years before cotton allotments were started, and ginned 9,014 bales in 1949.

"There is not so much money in a cotton gin anymore," he said. "Labor is higher, some machinery has increased 300 per cent, and we're not getting but a fraction more-for ginning than 10 years ago."

Another problem has been the trend for ginners to furnish farmers with trailers and bracers.

"The farmer seems to be getting something extra," Davenport said, "but eventually ginners will have to offset this expense by raising prices, so no one will actually benefit from it. The only result will be to put the small gins out of business, particularly those in areas where not much cotton is grown."

Most West Texas towns using wells for municipal water supplies came through the last 12 months without drilling many extra wells.

Kinsey Womack, who represents a pipe company in Lubbock, was in Stanton yesterday checking into the water situation there. He said the rain last year seemed to have recharged the water sands to a certain extent. However, 1958 has been comparatively dry, so they may start drilling again.

He said the only town he knew facing a critical condition was Pecos. It has acquired some land about 20 miles northeast of the town and will run a water line to it. Barstow will also tie onto the line.

Dan Brasher, manager of the gin at Brown, says the three weeks wind this summer blew out quite an acreage of cotton. However nearly everyone had overplanted, so they still have their allotted acres.

Brasher says some farmers got less than an inch of rain since planting time but the sands were wet enough to carry the cotton on through without it suffering much. He ginned slightly over 2,000 bales last year, and hopes to beat it this time. A larger crop is expected because not so many farmers put the cotton into the soil bank in 1958.

Brasher predicts the first bales will be ginned within two weeks, and says the gins should be going full blast early in September.

The agricultural courses offered in high school will possibly change gradually to fit in with agricultural trends, according to Clemon Montgomery, area supervisor of 42 West Texas counties. There is quite a lot of talk about agri-business courses, however, he says these won't be in the curricula this year.

The two main things being stressed for the 1958-59 term is an improvement of instruction and emphasis on the farm programs carried out by students. They will study how to get better gains from crops and livestock and also touch upon the marketing angle.

Montgomery says all agricultural teaching positions in this area are filled.

Martin County farmers still have a boll worm infestation, but are keeping them in check. It's taking a lot of poison, though. Most of the airplanes in the area are busy spraying.

The biggest part of the infestation has been confined to irrigated cotton.

Andy Brown, Ackerly cotton buyer, was predicting 40 cent cotton for the first few weeks of cotton picking, but now he has dropped the figure considerably.

"Congress didn't pass the farm bill," he said, "and now we don't have a chance to get a good price. Down at the Dallas exchange this week they were saying the only cotton that would sell is the cheap cotton. That's all that the mills want, so the better grades will go into the loan."

Brown said all the Rio Grande Valley cotton would go into the loan. Incidentally, he thinks the Aug. 8 cotton estimate is the highest we will have, because dry weather is cutting down on the yield. However, the Texas crop will be one of the largest in recent years, despite the dry areas.

A Bible Thought For Today

"Servants, obey in all things your masters according to the flesh; not with eyeservice, as menpleasers; but in singleness of heart, fearing God." (Colossians 3:22)

The World Still Goes On

It is refreshing, amidst all the hullabaloo over atomic fallout, subversion in the Middle East, and forty seven dozen squabbles of forty seven dozen different kinds on the home front—it is refreshing to think that men are still concerned with such old familiar pursuits as grouse shooting in Scotland and the prospects for good bird hunting in Texas this fall.

For instance there is this cheering bit of news for Texas bird-hunters, who in their devotion to doves, quail and ducks are as enthusiastic in their way as the Scots and English are about grouse shooting: So good is the dove crop this year that hunters will be allowed to keep twenty birds "in possession," which we take to mean they can bag ten doves on Friday, say, and put them in the deep freeze, and go out on Saturday and bag five more. Normally, ten is the limit for "possession," now happily doubled. Ten remains the limit for any one day's shooting.

In London this week Maj. Richard Waddington, who owns 60,000 acres of grouse moor in Scotland, asserted that the season should be set ahead from August 12 to Sept. 1 to give the birds a chance to replenish their ranks.

Now it turns out that "The Glorious 12th" in the British Isles has for decades been sacred to the opening of the season on grouse.

The major's proposal to lay profane hands on "The Glorious 12th" brought explosions of wrath from some of the most ardent grousesters in Britain, to coin a tagline. Yelled Philip Cunliffe-Lister, first earl of Swinton: "Change the Glorious Twelfth? That sir, would be most unwise. It would never do."

And George Victor Robert John Innes-Ker, duke of Roxburgh, premier baron of Scotland, agreed vehemently. The duke is called Britain's best grouse shot, and he insists that with such a late start "we'd never bag enough."

We thought you'd like to know about the big wind over Britain regarding the grouse situation, as a sort of comic relief from all the nagging little and big problems that confront the world today. Regardless of what happens, there will always be grouse shooting in Britain and bird hunting and fishing in this country.

Our world hasn't yet quite gone to the dogs.

Valuation Results Seem In Line

On the basis of a current table of values in line with today's conditions, the City Commission of Big Spring has voted a tax rate cut of 85 cents, or 41 per cent. At the same time, the assessed value of real and personal property will about double.

What it means is that on the average city tax bill will be up by about 8.5 per cent. Some will be lower, some will be substantially higher because the alterations represent an attempt to place a more realistic value on property in light of conditions today instead of 1941 when the last tax study was made.

That the results of the valuation engineers work is in line is shown by city records. The city, assessing on the basis of 66 2/3 per cent of 1941 values, had figured that this actually represented about 27 per cent of the true current value of property within the city. Had the city itself pegged the value last year's total value would have been $72,900,000. Since then some $3,000,000 have been added in new construction, making $75,900,000. The total current value placed by engineers was $78,087,730.

Thus, those who have feared gross, indiscriminate hikes in values apparently were without basis for those fears. True, there will be many sharp increases, and in most cases where low grade areas of 1941 have been transformed into high grade areas of 1958 values ought to be increased. A precursory study of the valuations report indicates that it is realistic and fair. That is exactly what was intended at the outset.

The percentage of actual values on which the various bodies will assess (the city and school will use 50 per cent and the county 20 per cent) and the tax rates set by the agencies are separate matters for the governing boards. They are not the business of the equalization board and should not be confused with the establishment of current values.

However, in computing the tax charge to property owners the percentage of value and rate are interwoven into the picture. The City of Big Spring Commission has taken cognizance of this by cutting its rate to compensate for the increase in values. We do not feel that any agency will ignore the obligation to hold its tax yield to the demonstrated needs of that agency.

Differences Between Iraq, Red China

WASHINGTON—Did the United States, by according diplomatic recognition to the new government in Iraq, give its approval to the murder of the king and the installation of a successor regime by military force?

Nikita Khrushchev thinks it did. But the Department of State emphatically disagrees.

Khrushchev deliberately misconstrued America's action in recognizing the new government in Iraq. He wrote in his last letter to President Eisenhower.

"Now the United States and other Western Powers have recognized the Republic government of Iraq. Consequently, you and your allies have admitted that the Iraqi people had the right to change the existing regime. Thus, your assertions about some kind of an indirect aggression have no foundation."

to prove by its deeds and its broadcasts that it is not antagonistic to the West. Also, America asked for and obtained assurances that international obligations would be honored.

Recognition can, of course, be withdrawn at any moment that American lives and property should be jeopardized in Iraq. For the uniform action of the Western allies in extending recognition to the Baghdad regime was simply a decision based on the exigencies of the moment. It implies neither approval nor disapproval of the existing government. It's a policy of "wait and see." If, in time, the Iraq government proves to be a tool of Moscow and a disturber of the peace in the Middle East, the people of Iraq may be appealing for Western military assistance in their struggle against domination by Cairo and Moscow. In that event, the whole "recognition" picture would change overnight.

The case of Iraq differs entirely from that of Red China. In the latter instance, serious international aspects are involved—virtually a state of war in the Far East. There is an armistice in Korea which has been repeatedly violated by the Peiping government in moving additional planes into North Korea. American military forces are still stationed in Korea to carry out a United Nations directive. A U. N. resolution has denounced Red China's government as an "aggressor."

The State Department has just released a lengthy document explaining again its reasons for not recognizing the Red China regime. It says:

"The Korean conflict was the first and most important effort to halt aggression through collective action in the United Nations. For Communist China, one of the parties against which the effort of the United Nations was directed, to be seated in the United Nations while still unpurged of its aggression and defying the will of the United Nations in Korea, would amount to a confession of failure on the part of the United Nations and would greatly reduce the prospects for future successful action by the United Nations against aggression."

Recognition is, indeed, an instrument of national policy. Great Britain and some other governments recognized Peiping before the Korean War took place, but with the exception of pro-Communist regimes in Europe and Asia or those that have some political affinity for Moscow, none of the other governments has extended recognition to Red China's government since the United Nations intervened in Korea in 1950.

If a principle of moral force is swept aside—as would be the case if Red China were given American recognition—aggression would be rewarded, instead of being punished, and the cause of world peace would suffer a setback.

Trouble Ahead On Spending Money In Mid-East

WASHINGTON (AP) — This country has responded warmly to President Eisenhower's proposals in the United Nations for Mideast peace. But getting action on them by other countries — in or out of the U.N. — is something else.

This suggestion captured most attention: that an effort be made to see whether the Arab countries would agree to setting up a development organization to help their industry, farming, water supply, health and education.

Eisenhower did not say this should be part of a U.N. program. He suggested the money could be put up by the United States, other countries which wanted to take part, and private capital. The development organization would be run by the Arabs.

It's easy to see trouble ahead on this one.

President Nasser of the United Arab Republic, who seems bent on bringing all his Arab neighbors under this thumb, can do it easier if they're wracked with discontent than if they see a bright future ahead.

He can stall on this one in the belief that time is on his side, and given time he can capture his neighbors. Then he might talk about a development organization, with him as boss.

It's doubtful the Soviet Union would want in on this. Soviet infiltration in the Middle East is easier if the individual countries try to improve their lot with Soviet help in manpower, materials and loans.

Girls Need Love, She Says

NEW YORK (AP)—"Show me a girl who won't run away when a man says, 'I love you,'" remarked Rona Jaffe, "and I'll show you a man who's married to somebody else."

Miss Jaffe, pretty, dark-haired and only 26, is being groomed as the literary discovery of the 1958 fall season.

"My ambition is to be a famous novelist—to be No. 1 on the fiction list," she said.

She may make it this year with her first novel, "The Best of Everything," to be published next month. Some 30,000 advance copies already have been sold, and producer Jerry Wald has snapped up the movie rights for $100,000.

shock of their lives when they found out what their little Frankenstein had written.

"I set myself a goal of five pages every day. I wrote the book in exactly five months and five days plus," she smiled archly. "plus the suffering of 26 years."

Magazine editors read the novel in galley proof, gulped, and decided against serializing it. Their verdict: Too spicy. But producer Wald read only 150 pages, then plunked down his $100,000 gladly.

The paperback edition rights sold for twice the advance received by "Peyton Place."

Miss Jaffe, who has been used to the best of everything all her life, plans no big splurge with her money.

Rona, a bright and determined daughter of well-to-do parents, was graduated from Radcliffe at 19. She got a job in a publishing firm, wrote and sold eight short stories in the next few years.

Last summer, during a visit to Hollywood, she heard producer Wald say he was looking for "a modern Kitty Foyle."

"Kitty Foyle," by Christopher Morley, was one of the most successful novels ever written about the "pore working girl."

"I decided then and there I'd write it," Rona said. So she came back to Manhattan, quit her job and settled down to write the realistic story not of one, but of five working girls.

"I had been living with my parents," she said. "I moved into another apartment to be by myself. I wanted to be frank, and knew I couldn't write it under the roof of the sweet, well-meaning people who were going to get the

"I already have an apartment, a mink jacket and a sports car," she said, nonchalantly. "I'll buy stocks and bonds. I think I'll buy working girls today. I have two major problems—loneliness, and the fact their values change so much they find it difficult to find happiness."

"What they really want isn't a career but someone to love who loves them," she says.

"But they get more and more sophisticated, demanding, cynical, and harder to please. They make. They're looking for something more than the boy next door."

"What defeats a woman — if anything does — is not to be loved," she said. "You can make a lot of things happen to you in this life if you work hard."

"But one thing you can't do. You can't make another person love you."

MR. BREGER

PHOENIX (AP) — Mary Molina, 11, picked out a vacant lot and rented parking space to motorists attending graduation ceremonies in Montgomery Stadium.

A resident complained to police that the lot was not blacktopped as required by city ordinance—and the cars were kicking up dust.

The police arrived, and closed the parking lot operation. The $6 collected by Mary was held for "safekeeping of the owner" of the lot, unknown at the time.

Hep High School

NUTLEY, N. J. (AP)—Members of the graduating class at Nutley High School won't have to work hard to remember important occasions that involved their class.

Each student was given a 45 RPM record containing the sounds of the ninth grade prom, the opening of the senior play and other events.

The record slips into a special pouch in the class yearbook.

Around The Rim

Better Watch Those Pecans, Kids

It's tragic the number of things you learn after it's too late for the learning to do you any good.

Take teeth, for instance. By the time you learn all the do's and don't's of how to make them last, they're gone.

That's the way it has been in my case, anyhow. How I wish I'd listened to what Mama said.

"Stop cracking those pecans with your teeth," she used to warn. She was serious, but I just laughed at her and went on cracking nuts.

Now it's the dentist who says, "You've got to stop cracking those pecans with your teeth."

He's joking, of course, for he knows my molars won't stand up against a respectable crust of bread.

It's not funny anymore, as far as I'm concerned. Even this ball bearing chewing gum sends pieces of my teeth flying like a shattered light bulb. I've quit it, along with pecans, but still can't keep my dentures from falling apart.

My teeth were too healthy, I suppose, when I was growing up. Didn't learn how to appreciate them, or to try to take care of them properly. They were good for any number of chores in addition to cracking pecans.

I remember using them like pliers to clamp pieces of metal, such as key chains, etc. together. Never had a tooth-ache until I was old enough to vote, but I suspect that early abuse had a lot to do with the troubles later on.

Even in the Army my teeth were apparently as sound as could be. And, a few months after I got my discharge and when the old molars started falling apart, I couldn't claim a single service-connected cavity so the VA would help foot the repair bill.

About all I have left are some of the original shells, all tamped full of that lead-like stuff they use for fillings. Crack pecans? I just barely can chew up the meat after bashing the nut with a hammer.

Children, obey your parents . . . Especially in the matter of taking care of your teeth.

Inez Robb

There Wasn't Any Need For This Survey

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
 (Writing for Inez Robb, who is on vacation)

WASHINGTON—If Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson only had asked me, I could have saved him some money by telling him that most Americans like chocolate cake best.

I also could have told him (at a further saving to the taxpayers) that down South practically everybody eats hot biscuits every day. Some of these are ambrosial; others are bitter from too much soda and likely to give a fellow who's not used to 'em a stomach ache.

The Secretary, however, did not confer, free, with me. He chose the hard way back in 1955 by starting a survey on American eating habits. This included the interviewing of 6,000 widely assorted women on what they cook and how. This cost $122,000.

Tabulating the results cost another $122,000 and the reports, numbering 13, have been coming out at intervals ever since. The final one, a 130-page book of charts, bound in buff and priced at 75 cents, concerns baking in the American home. This still is far from a lost art. Let us look at cakes.

Eleven and one-half per cent of housewives bake a chocolate cake at least once a week, but 61 per cent of these don't start from scratch; they use a mix. Ten and nine-tenths per cent of housewives make white cakes and 9.4 per cent bake yellow ones.

I could have told the Secretary (being a bachelor once myself) that one-person households bake very few cakes, even chocolate ones, but his surveyors discovered this by themselves. Two bachelor girls, his researchers learned, each baked a chocolate cake once a week, but both used mixes. They probably used ready-mixed icing, too, though the survey did not say.

Housewives under 30 years old, whose husbands earn between $4,000 and $6,000 a year, bake more chocolate cakes than any other group. As their ages and incomes go up, their chocolate-cake production comes down. This indicates to me that they are reducing by then and so's the old man.

Biscuits, as I would have told the Secretary, are a speciality of the South where 94 per cent of all families of five or more have 'em hot regularly. Rich and poor alike, Southerners like biscuits. Sixty per cent of them also go for cornbread at least once a week.

The specialists surveyed the national taste for gingerbread, too. But only 2.5 per cent of housewives make it weekly, and then mostly from ready-mixed boxes. This is a pity, because gingerbread is a noble dish, particularly with lemon sauce. New Englanders eat about one per cent more gingerbread than other people.

The ladies of the Household Economics Research Division of the Institute of Home Economics, D. A., reported that three out of four homemakers baked something of batters and doughs at least once a week. Few made bread, but those who did, baked it regularly.

Ninety-four per cent of Americans eat store-bought bread only, but only one half of one per cent buy their waffles ready-baked. This includes me, when Mrs. O. is out of town. Those quick-frozen waffles are good. Expensive, maybe, but a fellow doesn't get batter on the ceiling.

It developed that 22 per cent of farm wives bake cookies weekly; only nine per cent of city ladies take the trouble.

The management reported there was a brisk demand for the official survey of bread and cake. This is good. It'll take a lot of 75-cent purchases to earn back that $244,000.

Bigger Business Is A Certainty

A bigger America—that's for sure. A better America—that's for us to decide. But chances are it will be better. And it might even be fantastic — for business right here at home as well as on space platforms and in colonies on the moon.

Growth of America business in the space age can be charted from figures we have today. We know there will be more people and therefore more needs. We know that research going on today will be able to meet these needs—and doubtless a lot of desires which right now we don't even know we'll have.

The business of meeting these demands and of spawning and the cultivating new desires—that's what the industrialist, the worker, the salesman will be up to when the next generation takes over.

There will be more jobs, more income per family. There is sure to be more youngsters to feed and educate, more cars to crowd more highways, more oldsters for the travel, entertainment and health industries to cater to, and a still higher percentage of Americans owning their own homes.

If you think the world of the consumer is already going electronic, antibiotic, nuclear and jet propelled—you haven't seen anything yet.

A single meal in one pill could be on the market a generation hence.

TV screens that hang on walls seem sure soon to be a salesman's lien.

Stop worrying about leaving the windows open when you go out. Windows that close when it rains are nearing the drafting boards. You're barely used to blankets that heat as the temperature falls, before it's time to get ready for ones that cool you off on a hot night.

Radios powered by the sun are just around the corner, and maybe cars that steer themselves.

These are a few of the new things ahead for businessmen to make and sell.

Now for the reasons that America is going to get bigger and more crowded and therefore need so much more of the things you already use or know about:

You have only to project into time the millions of youngsters already born but still under marriage age to know that there will be a lot more families and a lot more middle-aged productive workers 10 and 20 years from now. True, marriages and birth rates rise and fall as times turn exceptionally good or exceptionally bad.

But remember, two million youths now turn 18 each year. Ten years hence there will be four million a year. And there's no reason to believe times will be bad in 1968.

There are 114 million persons now of driving age, and based on the known figures of present population there will be 132 million within 10 years. The auto industry confidently expects that the present 6 million families having two cars will have swelled to 12 million by then.

Industry leaders predict that just to take care of the great er population 15 years from now, with its added need plus the added desires they intend to create, there will have to be 22 million more jobs. That will call for more business firms to make and distribute the growing total of production.

At its average rate of over the last 15 years, the gross national product, the dollar value of the total output of goods and services will go from its present 432 billion dollars annually to more than 700 billion dollars in the next 15 years.

All that money kicking around sound exciting? Just stick around and maybe you'll have a bigger hunk than your present share of it.

He Strikes Again

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—The State Highway Patrol dressed up a dummy as a patrolman, put it in a patrol car by the side of a road and placed a false speed detector across the highway.

When two patrolmen returned to the car later they found a note on the windshield. It read: "All cops are dummies like this one." It was signed: "The phantom."

Aboriginal Menu

IDABEL, Okla. (AP)—When 200 Indians get together for a tribal festival, there were several real American dishes that aren't served in many restaurants.

They included tafaulla (Indian hominy), banana shuck bread, and tanchakahona (cracked corn with pork).

Down The Alley

LODI, Calif. (AP)—It was a real effort but Samantha made it.

Samantha is a hen owned by Kenneth Jackson of Lodi, Calif. Her claim for fame came recently when she laid an egg shaped like a small bowling pin.

Jackson said it was the hen's first bowling pin egg.

Bulldozed

MAYSVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Thomas Rudy was blown off his bulldozer while constructing a pond.

It wasn't the wind, but a gush of natural gas caused when Rudy's dozer broke a 6-inch, high pressure gas line.

The gas continued to roar for three hours before workmen shut it off.

Coffee Is Compliment For Bride

Wednesday morning, a coffee in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Ed Swift was a courtesy extended to Mrs. Jimmie Simmons, a recent bride. She is the former Linda Woodall, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Woodall, 701 West 17th. Simmons is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Simmons, 611 Johnson.

Hostesses for the party were Mrs. Swift and her daughter, Virginia, Mrs. Milton Talbot and her daughter, Ann. Gifts were made to the honoree from the four.

Mrs. Dan Krause assisted at the table, done in copper and green. A green cloth featured a skirt reaching to the floor, and Cokes were laid down in a large copper container. Opposing this was a tiered arrangement of various confections and tidbits. Coffee was served from a side table.

About 50 were included on the invitation list.

Interest Center Adds To Program

An open Bible, the picture of a church and a miniature Christian flag formed the interest center at the Tuesday meeting of the Northside Baptist WMS at the church.

Mrs. Billy Scott led the Royal Service program which emphasized the field of missions and the blessing of freedom to worship. General theme was Some Barred Doors, with scripture from Phil. 10:21.

Following the prayer by Mrs. Thomas Bowden, parts were given by Mrs. R. B. Murray, Mrs. Arnold Tom, Mrs. Bill Howell, Mrs. Mary Adams, Mrs. Bert Bradberry and Mrs. Earl Davis.

A poster bearing a barred door further emphasized the theme, and prominently displayed was the verse "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free."

Mrs. Arnold Tom dismissed the 12 with prayer. Included in the group was a guest, Mrs. Mary Beth Furry.

With a new system introduced by the Council of Big Spring Garden Clubs, the various units will be assigned shows on which they will cooperate.

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

From a hostess of the very young set comes one of the best descriptions of a morning coffee where all the guests are women. When Mrs. E. V. Swift and Mrs. Milton Talbot entertained in honor of Mrs. Jimmie Simmons, their six-year-old daughters were included as hostesses. One guest, telling VIRGINIA SWIFT that she was having a nice time at the party, asked if she was enjoying the affair. Virginia said, "Yes, I am, but isn't it jabby?"

Natural Effect For Eyes

Cathy Crosby likes the natural effect for her eyelashes. The lovely daughter of Singer-Bandleader Bob Crosby also feels that individuality is something that comes naturally.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

'Cathy Crosby Places Emphasis On Her Eyes

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — I was driving with Cathy Crosby, the beautiful daughter of Bob Crosby, to visit some hospitalized soldiers, and the subject of our conversation eventually turned to Cathy's recent break with her parents. They have now reconciled their differences. I am happy to say.

"When you are a member of a famous family," she confided, "it is so easy to become spoiled and not know it. And one good thing that has come from falling out with my parents is that I have learned how spoiled I really was." "Lots of teenagers leave home every year," I commented, "but their difficulties are not as widely publicized as yours."

"It takes two to have a fight," Cathy said, "and when I look back I realize there was lack of understanding on both sides. But I feel resentful when I am ordered to do something. And I'm sure most other girls my age feel the same way. Parents should have level-headed discussions with their children so that both sides can have complete freedom of expression."

Cathy spoke at length of her career. She wants to become a well-trained actress and plans to study hard to that end. "I think one of the worst things that can happen to anyone is to be pushed forward before he is ready," she said.

Recently, at a Hollywood party, Cathy was a conversation piece because her make-up omitted lipstick, but placed dramatic accent on the eyes.

"The young men like it," she said. "At least they tell me they do. When I want to adopt a new style, I value the opinions of people who are honest and have good taste."

PATSIES TURN TABLES ON OLD ANTAGONISTS

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

A couple of patsies had themselves a ball last night in the American League. The Washington Senators, who hadn't beaten Whitey Ford in almost four years, rapped the New York Yankees' stubby southpaw ace but good in a five-run eighth for a 9-4 victory.

And the Baltimore Orioles, who had lost seven in a row to Frank Sullivan of Boston, beat the big right-hander for the first time since Sept. 9, 1956, with a 2-1 victory over the Red Sox.

These turn-about cut the Yankees lead to 14½ games over second-place Chicago and dumped Boston into a third-place tie with Detroit. The White Sox split a two-night pair with Kansas City, winning 6-5 after an 11-inning 2-1 defeat.

The Tigers swept two from Cleveland 6-2 and 3-2.

Ford, now 14-6, last lost to Washington Sept. 20, 1954. He had won 12 in a row since, three this year, Roy Sievers, the defending champ, tied Mickey Mantle for the AL lead with his 33rd home run, a two-run shot in the fourth.

Eddie Yost and Clint Courtney also homered for the Nats. Sievers' Courtney's also was a two-run blow, capping the big eighth that bagged it after Norm Siebern and Hank Bauer had hit successive homers for a 4-3 Yankee lead in the sixth. Truman Clevenger 7-8 won it in relief.

Gene Wooding drove in both Orioles runs, breaking up a 1-1 tie with a single in the fifth. Arnie Portocarrero (9-11) made it five straight over Boston with Billy O'Dell's relief help.

Harry Simpson's home run was the opener for the A's, ending Dick Donovan's winning string at six. Ned Garver won his 10th with a seven-hitter, although walking six.

The White Sox nailed the nightcap with two out in the ninth on Billy Goodman's bases-loaded single off losing reliever Bob Grim. Bob Shaw won it in relief after the A's chased Jim Wilson in a five-run fourth capped by Roger Maris' grand-slam home run.

Herb Moford allowed only three hits in the nightcap at Cleveland. He gave up a home run to Vic Power—and a double and RBI triple to Rocky Colavito, the Injun outfielder who worked three hitless, shutout innings of relief in his pitching debut.

Cooper's sacrifice fly tagged Hoyt Wilhelm with his sixth defeat in the seventh inning.

The Tigers took the opener with seven consecutive hits in a five-run fifth inning.

Most recent international league pitching records showed Vince Amor, another ex-Big Springer, with a 3-9 won-lost record. He's with the Havana Cubans.

Hillis Layne, who bossed the San Angelo Longhorn league entry one season, is still leading the Northwest league in hitting.

The Lewiston, Idaho, manager is busting the ball at a .365 clip.

Roy McMillan, who went from the Longhorn league (Ballinger) to stardom with the Cincinnati Reds, may eventually be replaced in the Cincy lineup by Elio Chacon, who is one of the brightest prospects in the Redleg chain.

Chacon, who is with Havana, can keep up with McMillan and may outlast him by several pegs.

Several local women golfers are planning on going to Jal, N.M., Aug. 26 for a one-day invitational golf tournament.

Redlegs Play Dead For Milwaukeeans

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Reds are keeping the Milwaukee Braves in the black in that National League pennant race.

After losing a two-game series at Pittsburgh, the Braves got well again at Cincinnati last night, sweeping the Redlegs 9-2 and 4-2 in a two-night double-header. That gave the world champs, who were 18-4 against the Reds last season, a 10-3 record against Cincinnati and a 5½-game lead over the pesky Pirates, who outlasted Philadelphia 10-9.

The Bucs now have won seven in a row — their longest success story since 1949, when they went eight straight.

Third-place San Francisco rapped St. Louis 11-2, and Los Angeles escaped the cellar (while Cincinnati tumbled in) by losing two to Milwaukee.

A pair of solo, sixth-inning home runs by Ed Mathews and Andy Pafo bagged the nightcap for the Braves as Lew Burdette won his 12th with a six-hitter. Starter Alex Kellner gave up both blows for the loss.

Joe Adcock's two-run 15th homer put the opener out of reach in a three-run first inning against Joe Nuxhall (9-9). The Braves then made it a rout with six in the eighth, with winning pitcher Juan Pizarro and Pafo each hitting two-run singles.

The Pirates rushed to a 6-0 lead in two innings on a pair of two-run homers by Bob Clemente and Bill Mazeroski's one-out shot, off loser Jack Meyer (1-6). Ted Kuszewski hit two doubles and a triple.

Bob Smith won his first, in relief, but Vern Law had to get the final out after the Phils, who closed the gap on a pair of pinch-hit, three-run homers by Rip Repulski and Bob Bowman, scored another three in the ninth, two on Willie Jones' homer.

Rookie Jim Davenport, Valmy Thomas and Willie Mays homered for seven San Francisco runs while Ruben Gomez won his seventh with an eight-hitter. Wilmer Mizell (8-8) lost it.

The Dodgers, blowing a 5-0 lead, finally made it with one out in the ninth when Don Zimmer singled and Elmer Valo followed with a pinch double off losing reliever Don Elston (7-7). Fred Kipp (5-4) won it in relief.

Cosden's Oilers returned to Midland tonight to see what can be done about eliminating Gulf Oil in the Shaughnessy playoffs for the Midland Softball league championship.

One more Cosden victory will do it. The Big Spring club defeated the Gulf team, 8-4, without making too much of an effort earlier this week.

Ted Gross, manager of the Cosden club, will probably nominate Spec Franklin for mound duties against Gulf. Troy Wetsel and Billy Paul Thomas teamed up to pitch the victory over Gulf on Tuesday.

The Eagles defeated A & J Electric, 3-0, in the other playoff game Tuesday night and will be favored to make it two in a row tonight.

The Oilers are also making plans to take part in a tournament at Brownwood later this month.

SAYS TY COBB

Players In Need Of More Daring

NEW YORK (AP) — Ty Cobb advocates greater use of the stolen base, thinks modern players don't show enough initiative and inventiveness, and blames the batters, not the pitchers, for the recent beanball epidemic.

Otherwise the game of baseball is being played not much differently from his day — with due allowances made for the lively ball. And he believes such stars as Mickey Vernon, Ted Williams, Stan Musial, Willie Mays, Whitey Ford, Alvin Dark, Hank Aaron and Eddie Mathews would have been stars in the 1910's, '20's and '30's.

The 71-year-old Hall of Famer thinks the modern era of athletes breeds a pretty good crop but he adds that the old timers were more aggressive, and had more initiative will to win and devotion to their work.

"I realize we are in a different era today," the remarkably erect, alert and rugged-looking Georgia native said in a recent visit to New York to attend an old timers' game at Yankee Stadium. "The home run now reigns supreme. The brainy, old-fashioned type of play has given way to the slugging, swing-from-the-heels craze."

"I still insist there is room for more inside baseball, such as the bunt, the hit-and-run and the stolen base. These tactics have been almost completely discarded. Today's players are just as fast as we were, but they don't make as much use of their speed."

"It was always ready to steal a base, even when we were ahead

Cardinals Open Play At 8 In State Meet

SAN ANGELO (SC)—Jay LeFevre, all 6-feet-5 of him, will probably get the starting mound call when the Big Spring KHEM Cardinals launch play against the Ace Builders of San Angelo in the first round of the State Senior Teen-Age baseball tournament at 8 o'clock here tonight.

Jay picked up both victories in the District 7 tournament in Big Spring last week. He went all the way against Stamford to win, 3-

5, and then came on in relief to stop Sweetwater as Big Spring won that one, 5-3.

In event Jay should falter, his twin brother, Zay, will be ready to take over the mound. Between them, the two formed 17 batters in that title game against Sweetwater.

Jimmy Roger will catch for Big Spring while Wilson Bell will be at first base, Rommie Suggs at second, Mike Zubiate at shortstop, Kenney Griffin at third, Bob Andrews in left field, Donnie Everett in center and Zay LeFevre or Beverly Bond in right.

In other action today and tonight, Irving clashes with Heights Funeral Home of Houston at 1:30 p.m., Baytown vies with Denton at 3:30 p.m. and Texas City tries Texarkana at 6 p.m.

Semi-final games are scheduled for Friday and finals for Saturday night. A third place game is set for 6 p.m. Saturday.

Radio station KBST Big Spring will broadcast a play-by-play account of the Big Spring-San Angelo engagement, direct from Guinn Field in San Angelo.

Texas City carries the best record into the tournament, having won 20 of its 23 starts.

A new champion is assured since all clubs competing this year are new to the tournament.

Most of the teams on hand are being quartered at Goodfellow Air Force Base. However, Big Spring planned to return home after the game tonight, whether it wins or loses.

Admission for the tournament games has been pegged at 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for tournament.

The Cardinals have worked out faithfully since the district tournament and have been pronounced in the peak of condition by Al Valdes, their manager.

Crawford Says He Won Bout

NEW YORK (AP) — For whatever it may be worth to world welterweight champion Virgil Akins, Mickey Crawford now regards himself as the No. 1 contender for the crown.

"Why shouldn't I?" scowled the Saginaw, Mich., boxer-artist today. "I know I won last night's fight with Gaspar Ortega. And even though they called it a draw, I still regard myself as No. 1 contender."

Well, what Crawford says may be true, but the chances are that his next battle will be with this same Ortega. They now have met twice. A month ago, Ortega won a split decision. Wednesday night in Madison Square Garden they fought a draw.

There's no doubt that the deadlock will work to Crawford's advantage. Ortega currently is No. 1 on the list for Virgil Akins' crown. He needed a victory over Crawford to cement his claims.

Actually, Crawford made him look bad through most of the fight and the Associated Press saw Mickey, the artist, as victor, 6-4. That card agreed with Judge Joe Eppes'.

However, Judge Bill Recht, saw Ortega the winner, 7-3. Referee Barney Felix called it all even, 4-4 in rounds, and 5-5 in points. The point system is used in New York state in case of a tie in rounds.

Moe Hedrick Hired By Midland Schools

MIDLAND (SC) — M. W. (Moe) Hedrick, former head football coach at Sul Ross College, has been hired to help combat truancy in the Midland public schools.

The 35-year-old man will serve as supervisor of pupil accounting, attendance and textbooks, a newly created job. Hedrick is a native of Houston and a graduate of Hardin-Simmons University.

San Antonio Wins Pony Tournament

LUBBOCK (AP)—San Antonio won the Region 7 Pony League Tournament here last night and qualified for the world tournament at Washington.

San Antonio, with Leonard Sanchez scattering three hits while striking out 14, beat Edinburg 6-1 for the title.

Edinburg made 10 errors and San Antonio had only one earned run.

Tebbetts Quits As Cincy Pilot

CINCINNATI (AP)—Birdie Tebbetts resigned today as manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs baseball club.

He announced his decision himself as Gabe Paul, the Redlegs' general manager, listened.

Tebbetts had been manager of the Redlegs since Sept. 29, 1953.

"This was not an easy decision to make, because I have always felt that a manager should never quit," Tebbetts said, adding:

"I had a meeting with Gabe Paul last night after the Milwaukee game and again this morning, at which time he told me that I was not to be fired."

Long Fight Could Favor Roy Harris

ARROWHEAD SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—The longer the fight lasts, the better chance challenger Roy Harris believes he has to whip champion Floyd Patterson in their 15-round title fight Monday in Los Angeles.

The amiable, 25-year-old Texan, referring to his years as a barefoot brawler on his father's farm at Cut and Shoot, said:

"I always have grown stronger as a fighter went along. I don't see where this 'un would be any different."

Webb Jet Flies Record Number Of Hours For Month

Aircraft mechanics of the 3561st Flight Line Maintenance Squadron set a new record for logged flying time for a T-33 jet during the month of July.

For this period, 13 base aircraft logged over 100 hours. Of these, No. 51-467 was high for the base with 136:20 hours in the air. A check of a year's record of flying time, from the Facts and Figures booklet published by the Standardization and Analysis Section of the 3560th Maintenance and Supply Group, show that the previous high for the base was 128:15 hours, which is 10 hours and five minutes under the new record.

DONALD PENDERGRAST

Webb Has New Staff Officer

Lt. Col. Donald W. Pendergrast, a native of Frankfort, Kan., who now calls Ottawa, Kan., his home, arrived here earlier this month to assume duties as wing operations officer.

The colonel, who came to Webb from the Pentagon, Washington, D. C., where he was training staff officer in the office of the Assistant Secretary of Defense (International Security Affairs), has 17 years of active military service. His overseas assignments have been to China, from December of 1944 to March of 1946, and to Portugal, from January of 1952 to January of 1955.

Col. Pendergrast, who has been awarded command pilot wings, entered primary flying school in September of 1941, receiving his wings and commission as a second lieutenant in the Army Air Corps in April, 1942, at Williams Field, Ariz.

Prior to his entrance into the service, Pendergrast attended Ottawa University, in his home town, where he majored in liberal arts and played three years of football. He has graduated from the Air TAC School at Tyndall AFB, Fla., the Army Language (Portuguese) School at Presidio of Monterey, Calif.

Col. Pendergrast, son of Thomas V. Pendergrast, Houston, is married to the former LaVerne S. Smith, of Ottawa, and they have two children, a girl, Donna Susann, 10, and a boy, Thomas Lee, 8. The colonel and his family reside at 424 Ryan, Big Spring.

Quartet Singing Program Planned

LAMESA — An old-fashioned Gospel quartet singing convention is scheduled at 8 p.m. Saturday for the Lamesa Church of God, 211 S. Main. At least two out of town quartets, the Stanton Quartet of Stanton and the Campbell Quartet of Lubbock, are to be in attendance. The public is invited to attend, according to the pastor of the church.

Cook Services Set For Today

Last rites for Sam Cook, 70, who operated a welding and blacksmith service at Coahoma for more than three decades, were to be held at 2:30 p.m. today.

Services were set for the Church of Christ in Coahoma with W. O. Batton, minister, officiating. Interment will be in the Coahoma Cemetery under the direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Mr. Cook was born Feb. 23, 1888, in Tennessee and moved to Coahoma 35 years ago. At the time of his death he was actively engaged in the operation of his shop. He passed away Tuesday at 11:20 a.m. in a hospital in Big Spring. Surviving him are his wife, Mrs. Ressie Cook, Coahoma; one daughter, Mrs. Juanita Courson, Borer; three brothers, Pete Cook and Buck Cook, Anson, and Jim Cook, Noodle; two sisters, Mrs. Sue Meeks, Slaton, Mrs. A. B. Rose, Merkel. He also leaves three grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Pallbearers were to be Carl Bates, Boone Cramer, Ted Fowler, Lloyd Hair, Fred Adams and Alvin Lay.

Schools Will Tax On 50% Of New Values

Big Spring City Schools will assess taxes for the ensuing year on the basis of 50 per cent of total valuation as established by the survey of the tax engineering firm of Pritchard & Abbott.

Floyd Parsons, school superintendent, said that the decision was released at an impromptu meeting of four of the seven school board members—the other three were out of the city—on Wednesday morning.

He explained that the valuation figures were turned over to this office by Pritchard & Abbott Wednesday that the schools were advised they must send out notices of the forthcoming equalization board meeting on Sept. 8-12 to some 6,000 property owners.

The notices must be in the mail by Aug. 27.

Parsons said that the shortness of time left no opportunity to wait until the next regular board meeting. He contacted the four members who were in town told them of the situation and they agreed to stand by the 50 per cent figure.

This will enable the school tax office to proceed without delay in sending out the notices of increases or decreases in property values for tax purposes.

Parsons said that the Pritchard & Abbott total for the school district fixes actual value at $111,000,000. Taxes based on 50 per cent value will be based on $55,000,000.

He said no "true percentage" was in existence for last year but that it was estimated in the neighborhood of 40 per cent based on the values carried on the books for the property in the district.

Martin Gins First '58 Bale

STANTON (SC)—Martin County's first bale of cotton was ginned Tuesday afternoon by the Farmers Gin in Stanton. The bale was brought in by F. C. Wheeler, who farms about three miles north of Stanton on the Lamesa Highway.

The bale weighed 501 pounds and was picked from about 30 acres of irrigated land. The variety is BR-1517 Acala.

Wheeler has not sold the cotton yet, pending the outcome of a Chamber of Commerce meeting tonight. The agricultural committee will decide by what means extra money may be raised.

"We expect to auction it off or maybe give awards in some other way," said Gerald Hanson, chairman of the committee.

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Movie actress Jane Russell flew into New Orleans yesterday and was promptly put to bed with flu.

Moon Rocket To Transmit Story Back To Earthlings

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—A rocket's own story of its trip toward the moon is scheduled to unfold in an auditorium here.

Informed sources say the Air Force will fire its first rocket at the moon next Sunday from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

Once the rocket flashes into space, its scientific devices will, the Air Force hopes, send back information about the historic journey.

Half a dozen stations around the world will start tracking it. They are in Manchester, England; Singapore; India; Hawaii; Florida; and California.

Their raw information will be flashed here by code to be fed into electronic computers and correlated.

The findings will be announced simultaneously in Washington, Cape Canaveral and here.

The tracking hub is in the heart of the Ramo-Woolridge Corp. complex, where the Air Force Ballistic Missile Division makes its headquarters.

As soon as progress reports and other data from the rocket are compiled in Ramo-Woolridge's space technological laboratories, they will be announced in a news headquarters set up in a Ramo-Woolridge building.

The news center—a big auditorium—will be dominated by a lined screen called a Prob-o-graph. On this giant chart, a moving line will disclose the rocket's expected 25,000-mile-an-hour approach to the vicinity of the moon. There will be at least four progress reports a day.

Stanton Negro Charged With Knife Assault

STANTON (SC)—Rollin Brown, a local Negro, has been charged with assault with intent to murder, and released on $1,500 bond.

He allegedly became engaged in a fight with Louis Warren, 22, a few nights ago and slashed him with a large pocket knife.

The wound starting at the left shoulder angled across Warren's chest and required 32 stitches to close. The cut was not deep, according to Sheriff Dan Saunders, and Warren is rapidly recovering.

Warren was charged with fighting and is now out on $200 bond. He will be tried in Justice of Peace Court, while Brown's case will be presented to the grand jury in September.

Prison Inmates Got Phony Tax Refunds

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—State and federal officers are investigating a scheme through which six Folsom Prison inmates are reported to have received tax refunds on nonexistent 1957 earnings.

Richard A. McGee, state director of corrections, said at least one of the convicts had been in prison since 1952. Tentative estimates are that the fraudulent refunds totaled $1,600.

The convicts' names were not released.

Warden Robert A. Heinze of Folsom said federal internal revenue agents will check all refunds made to prisoners this year.

The scheme involved filling in a W2 form, used by employers to report earnings and withholding tax, and reporting earnings up to $300.

The phony forms were attached to regular income tax returns and forwarded to the Internal Revenue Service. The refund claims were based on statements that income tax was deducted for the first few months of the year, and the income stopped when the man went to prison, thus entitling the convict to a refund of money taken out for taxes.

He Lived Like A Hollywood Star

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Fireman Curtis R. Clawson was no Hollywood star, police said, but he certainly lived like one.

Detectives accused him of: Drinking Lana Turner's liquor. Cooking with James Cagney's pots and pans. And sleeping on sheets belonging to Marjorie Main.

Clawson, 45, was booked on suspicion of stealing more than $1,700 worth of property from stars' dressing rooms at Universal-International Studio, where he was stationed.

Elvis Presley's Mother Dies

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Mrs. Vernon Presley, mother of rock 'n' roll singer Elvis Presley, died today. She had been hospitalized earlier this week with a liver ailment.

Attendants at Methodist Hospital said Mrs. Presley had been in a serious condition but she had been reported in improved spirits after visits Wednesday from her son.

Mrs. Presley's husband was at her bedside when she died, but Elvis was not in the hospital at the time.

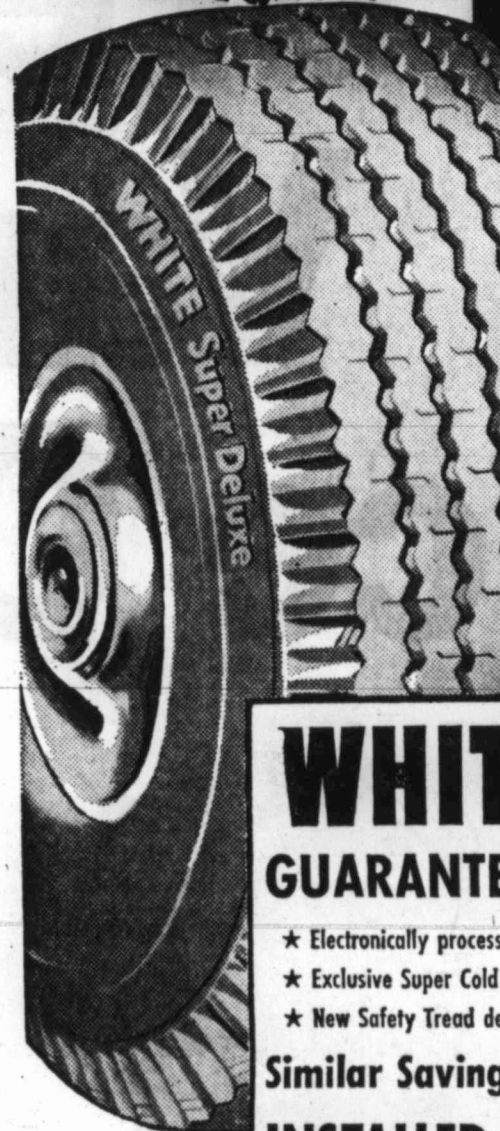

Elvis, now an Army private at Ft. Hood, Tex., was granted an emergency seven-day furlough to visit his mother, who entered the hospital Sunday. He flew here Tuesday night.

Here's Th at Recipe!

A quick look through her recipe file and Lt. Elizabeth L. Hines hands to The Herald's food editor the formula for her favorite salad, Bermuda Salad Bowl, which appears in the accompanying story. The lieutenant, Webb AFB's personal affairs officer, is the only distaff officer at the base with the exception of the nurses. Off-duty, she enjoys entertaining friends and collects recipes of tempting foods to serve at her dinner parties.

Cooking Dinner For Friends Is Fun For Effervescent Lt. Hines

It isn't much fun preparing meals for one, but cooking for friends is a delight. That about sums up Lt. Elizabeth L. Hines' attitude on the subject of food fixing.

Inviting friends in for dinner is not an infrequent occurrence at her place, an attractive apartment at 311 West Fourth, and those are the occasions when rich salads and desserts that can be concocted in advance are served to the guests. Salads like the Bermuda Salad Bowl whose ingredients she reveals here; desserts like Angel Pie, guaranteed to be calorie-loaded. She might also serve Barbecued Spareribs, a favorite of hers. An extra special treat would be her Crepes Hungarian.

Time is not something to be tossed away by Lt. Hines. As Personal Affairs Officer at Webb AFB, a position she has held since last August, the personal problems of military personnel at Webb draw her intense interest and many of her after-duty hours.

It is to her office that incoming families look for housing and for the answers to a numberless succession of questions and needs. She must see to concurrent travel for personnel headed overseas, must indoctrinate the women volunteers who assist in certain phases of newcomer activities, and is the base voting officer.

Home for the lieutenant is Alma, Ill., where she lives with her mother and two younger sisters whom she visited while on leave a couple of months ago. It was her brother, a 1954 graduate of Annapolis recently returned from France, that convinced her the U. S. Air Force was the field for her. "Betty", as all her friends know her, was executive secretary to the president of Topco Associates, Inc. in Chicago, a company owned by some 28 food chains including Furr's.

Her degree in business administration from the University of Illinois had prepared her for a career. No doubt her sparkling sense of humor and a lively interest in people, manifest in her conversational prowess, channeled her into personnel work after entering the Air Force in January, 1957. Three months at Lackland AFB were followed by three months at Personnel School at Scott AFB before the Webb assignment. Here she has been won by the mild winters of West Texas, enough to discount the sand, like a native.

Lt. Hines is secretary of the Tall Talkers Toastmistress Club and a member of the American Association of University Women. An honorary member of the Officers' Wives' Club, she bowled with them for a while before taking up the study of ceramics. She laughingly calls herself a dues-paying member of the Officers' Club.

Now for a look at some of her recipes. Incidentally, she is an inspiration to recipe-collectors; hers are all neatly arranged in an alphabetized box. And she is intent upon increasing her culinary know-how, to the point that she is studiously learning which herbs and spices are best with various foods.

Here are her specialties:

BERMUDA SALAD BOWL
1 small head cauliflower
1/2 large mild onion
1/2 cup sliced stuffed olives
2-3 cup French dressing
3/4 cup crumbled blue cheese
1 head lettuce

Separate cauliflower into florets; slice thinly crosswise. Slice onion; separate into rings. Marinate cauliflower, onion and olives in French dressing for 30 minutes (or longer, if possible). Just before serving, add cheese and lettuce broken into bite-sized pieces; toss lightly. Makes six servings.

BARBECUED SPARERIBS
3 to 4 lbs. ribs, cut in pieces
1 lemon
1 cup catsup
1 tsp. chili powder
2 cups water
1 large onion
1-3 cup Worcestershire sauce

Combine remaining ingredients. Bring to a boil and pour over ribs. Continue baking in moderate oven (350 degrees) until tender, about one hour. Baste the ribs with the sauce every 15 minutes. If the sauce gets too thick, add more water. Makes four servings.

NOTE:
This main dish may be prepared a day ahead of time (except for the last thirty minutes of baking) and refrigerated. Just prior to serving, place in oven and complete the cooking period. This does not detract from the flavor.

ANGEL PIE

Crust:
4 egg whites, beaten stiff
1/4 tsp. cream of tartar
1 cup sugar
Bake one hour in well buttered pie tin, 250 degrees for first 20 minutes, 300 degrees for the next 40 minutes. Cool thoroughly.

Filling:
4 egg yolks, beaten with
1/2 cup sugar and
1/4 cup water
Rind of 1 lemon (grated)
2 tsp. lemon juice.
Cook in a double boiler until thick. Cool thoroughly.

Whip 1/4 pt. whipping cream (no sugar). Spread half the whipped cream over the meringue, then add a layer of lemon custard. Last, spread on a layer of the remaining whipped cream. Top with shaved chocolate squares. Store in refrigerator for 24 hours before serving.

CREPES HUNGARIAN

Filling:
1 tsp. dried apricots
1 cup water
1/4 tsp. grated lemon rind
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup sherry wine
Rinse and drain apricots; chop fine and place in a saucepan with water. Cook until apricots are tender and water has evaporated (about 15 to 20 minutes). Add lemon rind and sugar; stir until sugar has dissolved. Remove from heat, cool to lukewarm and stir in sherry. Set aside.

Pancake batter:
3 eggs
1 1/2 cups cold water
3 tsp. melted butter
1/2 tsp. baking powder
3/4 cup sifted all-purpose flour
3/4 tsp. salt
1 tsp. sugar

Beat eggs with water and melted butter. Sift flour, salt, sugar and baking powder together. Add flour mixture to liquid ingredients; blend thoroughly.

Melt a small amount of butter in a six-inch skillet over medium heat. Pour in 3 tsp. of batter and tilt pan so that batter runs to edges. Cook until firm and slightly brown; turn, brown other side. (May use pancake mix and add more liquid than usually required for thin batter).

Arrange in a shallow baking pan and refrigerate until 20 minutes before serving. Reheat in 325 degree oven for 20 minutes.

Topping:
1/2 pt. sour cream
1/2 cup finely chopped walnuts

Top each serving with a spoonful of sour cream and sprinkle with chopped walnuts. Yield: 12 to 14 crepes.

Note:
This is a dessert pancake, rich but not too sweet. Make the crepes ahead of time, fill them and store until time to serve.

Imagination Brings Lift To Tomatoes, Beans

Shy from the pedestrian approach to snap beans and canned tomatoes by adapting some variations. For instance, stew the tomatoes with zucchini; make a cream sauce for the beans and top the dish with onion rings.

Here are the recipes:

CREAMED SNAP BEANS

Ingredients:
1 lb. snap beans
1 cup boiling water
Milk
2 tbsps. butter or margarine
2 tbsps. flour
1/4 tsp. (about) soy sauce
1 can (3 1/2 ounces) French-fried onion rings.

Method:
Cut ends from snap beans and scrub in cold water; drain. Cut in slanted 1-inch pieces. Cook rapidly in boiling water, covered, just until tender—10 to 15 minutes; lift cover a few times to help keep green. Drain; reserving about 1/2 cup cooking liquid.

Add enough milk to the cooking liquid to make 1 cup. Melt butter in saucepan over low heat; stir in flour; add milk mixture. Cook and stir over moderately low heat until thickened. Add soy sauce to taste. Mix with snap beans; reheat.

Turn into deep pie dish or other baking dish; top with onion rings. Place in hot oven or under broiler for a few minutes to heat and crisp onion rings. Makes 6 servings.

STEWED TOMATOES PLUS

Ingredients:
2 loaves (5 ounces each) brown-and-serve French bread
12 slices roast beef or pork or lamb or turkey (each 4 by 3 by 1/4 inches)
1 cup ready-prepared barbecue sauce

Method:
Cut each loaf of bread into 12 equal-sized slices. Fold the edges of each meat slice over toward the center so that the meat fits the slice of bread. Spear folded meat slices, one at a time, with a fork and dip into the barbecue sauce; sandwich each meat slice between two slices of bread. String sandwiches on long sharp-pointed skewers. Heat sandwiches over hot coals (outdoors) or under range broiler (indoors) turning to toast bread on all sides.

JIFFY BARBECUED SANDWICHES

Ingredients:
2 leaves (5 ounces each) brown-and-serve French bread
12 slices roast beef or pork or lamb or turkey (each 4 by 3 by 1/4 inches)
1 cup ready-prepared barbecue sauce

Method:
Cut each loaf of bread into 12 equal-sized slices. Fold the edges of each meat slice over toward the center so that the meat fits the slice of bread. Spear folded meat slices, one at a time, with a fork and dip into the barbecue sauce; sandwich each meat slice between two slices of bread. String sandwiches on long sharp-pointed skewers. Heat sandwiches over hot coals (outdoors) or under range broiler (indoors) turning to toast bread on all sides.

Easy Picnic Fixin's

On your next family outing, try jiffy barbecues on brown-and-serve French bread. Sliced roast beef or pork, or turkey may be used for these outdoor delights.

Frankfurters 'Represent' America At World Fair

Summer is the time for hot dogs, and 1958 is the year for the Brussels World's Fair. These circumstances combine to make this the year the American all-beef frankfurter goes international, the Texas Beef Council has found.

Selection of the all-beef, skinless frankfurter as the representative American food to be served at the American Pavilion was only "doin' what comes naturally" for the Fair officials, but finding a European supplier of frankfurters proved impossible. Fair visitors are being supplied via a daily "air lift" from the U. S.

Some of the beef frankfurters "went thataway," but some of them stayed home, and the Beef

Council suggests that Texas homemakers buy several packages at a time. Franks store well in the refrigerator and their uses are many: Picnic fare, quick lunches, snacks after swimming or other summer sports, backyard parties, or light summer suppers.

Boiled or broiled, franks become "hot dogs" when served on a bun with mustard, and "Coney Islands" with the addition of chili and diced onions. Sliced lengthwise and panfried, franks and catsup make a quick, filling sandwich.

Score and stuff them with wedges of cheddar cheese, run them under the broiler, and five minutes later lunch is ready. For a summer supper top a casserole of baked beans with cheese-stuffed franks and broil until the franks are brown and the cheese is melted, or use two boiled franks as a "nest" for a mound of hot potato salad.

"Coney Dogs" almost like those served at the State Fair can be made at home. Roll the franks in hush-puppy or cornbread mix batter, deep-fry at 375 degrees for 2 to 3 minutes, and serve on wooden skewers.

HE LOVES MISS WISCONSIN!
He will certainly be pleased with "Miss Wisconsin" Cheddar Cheese.

Plastic Building Blocks

Plastic Blocks Used In Hospital Design

FT. SAM HOUSTON (AP)—Plastic building blocks—similar but more scientific than those in Junior's playbox—are being used by Army medical experts to help design more efficient military hospitals. Hospital administration students at Brooke Army Medical Center here use the plastic blocks, each labeled as to the unit it represents, to study both vertical and horizontal arrangements of hospitals. The use of the blocks enables the students to visualize the finished hospital. They also eliminate much of the preliminary paper work and blueprints. The assembled blocks show the entire multi-story plan with all wings properly numbered and labeled to be viewed from any angle. Dismantled, each floor can be studied for the most efficient arrangement. To eliminate waste motions and to utilize space properly, it is important that operating rooms, examination rooms, X-ray centers, kitchens and supply rooms be conveniently located. Once constructed, changes in a hospital are prohibitively expensive if not impossible. The building blocks permit designers to make the needed changes before the architects draw the final plans.

Crops Through Most Of The State Are Needing Moisture

AUSTIN (AP)—Late feeds, cotton, peanuts and pastures need rain from the low Rolling Plains eastward, the U.S. Department of Agriculture said today. Spotty showers fell last week but were generally ineffective, the department said. Crop yields were reported headed for new highs almost across the board. The harvest of sorghum and cotton spread northward and westward as hot weather sapped moisture and speeded maturity. On the High Plains volunteer wheat was coming up while sorghum grain combining moved along very fast in the southern Blacklands and gained momentum westward into the Rolling Plains. The cotton harvest is in full swing in the upper coast while in the Panhandle, cotton is blooming and fruiting heavily. Dryland cotton needs rain to check shedding while irrigated acreage is doing well throughout the state. Ample dry grass was available in all areas except the Trans-Pecos area for livestock. All classes of livestock were holding up well. The department said a record-yielding wheat crop is in the bin and record-yielding cotton, sorghum grain, corn, peanut, hay and rice crops are shaping up. The cotton crop is forecast at 4,150,000 bales, 14 per cent above last year and the largest crop since 1953 with a yield of 373 pounds an acre. The former yield record was 325 pounds. The wheat harvest was 77,441,000 bushels and prospective production for rice was forecast at 12,540,000,000, but average despite only three-fourths the acreage. The USDA said a big-bulging 254 million bushel sorghum grain crop is in prospect. Conditions point to a record high per acre yield of 35 bushels.

Advocate Of Gambling Wins

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—State Sen. A. M. Derr, who wants to legalize gambling in Idaho but says he's not a gambler himself, holds a slim margin for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. Unofficial returns from all but 8 of the 898 precincts reporting in Tuesday's primary election give Derr 25,598 votes and his nearest contender, State Sen. Max Hanson of Fairfield, 25,434. Neither concedes and the winner will not be determined until the official canvass Aug. 23. Even then there may be a recount because it's so close. The Republican candidate is Gov. Robert E. Smylie. He was unopposed. But he opposes gambling. Derr said during the campaign that he had been told he was favored to win in betting circles by odds of 6-1. Did he take any of that money? "No," Derr replied. "I'm not a gambling man—not even poker."

'Miss Wool' Event Slated In Angelo August 18-25

SAN ANGELO (AP)—The "Miss Wool" contest—expanded this year to include all wool growing states, will climax the week-long pageant here Aug. 25-29. Finalists will model the wool fashions to be awarded the new Miss Wool. The 13 beauties in the competition are between the ages of 18 and 25 and all have modeling experience. Miss Miriam La Cour of Raywood is the Texas entry. Events during the week include the Wool Fiesta Parade followed by a street dance Aug. 27. An indoors ball also is planned. Singer Dennis Day will be master of ceremonies.

Quit Listening

DETROIT (AP)—Radio-equipped tow trucks have been warned to stop listening in on police-radio broadcasts. In some cases the trucks have reached accident scenes and removed damaged cars before police arrived. Asst. U.S. Atty. George Woods says a violation carries a maximum penalty of a year in prison and $1,000 fine.

Woman Of Year Named By HDA

AUSTIN (AP)—State Sen. Neville H. Colson of Navasota was presented the 1958 Woman of the Year Award yesterday at the 32nd annual meeting of the Texas Home Demonstration Assn. Election of new officers highlights today's session. Miss Sallie Davis, vice president and editor of the home department of the Progressive Farmer magazine, made the presentation to Mrs. Colson. Mrs. Colson is the tenth Texas woman to receive the award since the first certificate was presented in 1939. Miss Davis said that the Navasota senator was one of the leaders in Texas farm legislation. "Possibly her greatest service was authorship of the only farm to market road laws ever passed in Texas," Miss Davis said. Mrs. Colson, a former school teacher and principal, has been a member of the State Legislature since 1938.

Here's an example of the type of garbage disposal facilities health officials wish everyone had. Cans are kept upright in a simple rack and tight-fitting lids are protected by chains which keep them from falling under vehicles or blowing away. Emphasis is being placed on the need for such sanitary facilities to help prevent the spread of diseases by flies which breed in battered garbage cans and open boxes and barrels.

Texas Demos Sing Songs Of Harmony

By DAVE CHEAVENS
AP Staff Writer

Texas Democratic leaders have issued a new series of convention harmony statements, with and without "ifs."

Mrs. R. D. Randolph of Houston, Democratic National Committeewoman, endorsed House Speaker Sam Rayburn's plea for unity, especially his call for a state executive committee selected by the senatorial district caucuses.

Gov. Price Daniel said Wednesday that the SDEC has already advocated acceptance by the state convention of members nominated by district caucuses. He added this "if":

"It has cautioned that the district caucuses should select committee members who will subscribe to the 3-point program of the Democratic party in Texas. That means not only support of the Democratic nominees, but also support of the platform of the state convention and the duly elected officers of the party."

Mrs. Randolph called for outright acceptance of district caucus nominees "as provided by law without any screening by anyone."

Thus it appears now that if a fight should break out at the Sept. 9 state convention at San Antonio, it may develop over the point of any screening of SDEC nominations. Daniel was asked at his most recent press conference what he would do if a district caucus nominated someone obnoxious to him, and he replied he hoped he would not have to face that issue.

The new statements were touched off by Rayburn's announcement in Washington that he may attend the Sept. 9 convention in the interests of harmony.

"I shall advocate allowing each senatorial district to name its two representatives on the State Democratic Executive Committee if they will pledge themselves to support the Democratic nominees of the party—state and national," Rayburn said.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough commented:

"I think that Speaker Rayburn issued a fine statement and that any good Democrat will approve of it. This is a great step toward unity in the Democratic party in Texas."

Jobless Aid Is Extended For Veterans, Federal Workers

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Employment Commission said today that Texas war veterans and federal workers who have exhausted unemployment insurance benefits since June 30, 1957, will be eligible for more federal unemployment aid.

The TEC will act as an agent for the U. S. government in paying the benefits authorized by the temporary Unemployment Compensation Act passed by Congress

Coastal Lands Brief Is Filed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Will Wilson of Texas today was to file briefs with the U.S. Supreme Court which he hopes will end the government's bid for oil-rich submerged coastal lands. The lands presently are claimed by Texas and four other states.

The five states face a suit filed by the U.S. Attorney General and a hearing starts Oct. 13 on a federal claim to ownership of all submerged lands beyond the 3-mile limit. Texas and the other states involved say their title extends to three leagues—10½ miles.

Wilson brought with him when he arrived yesterday a 400-page Texas brief plus a joint brief on behalf of Texas, Alabama, Florida, Louisiana and Mississippi.

Wilson brought the documents in a large saddle bag and received the expected amount of kidding from fellow plane passengers. "They wanted to know why I didn't ride a horse," he said wryly.

Wilson borrowed the saddle bag from Texas Ranger Owen White, whose father used it when he was a Ranger.

Mobeetie School Destroyed By Fire

MOBEETIE, Tex. (AP)—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the Mobeetie High School last night and Supt. L. R. Reeves said the loss would amount to $150,000.

Wheeler and Shamrock fire departments assisted Mobeetie fire fighters in attempting to combat the blaze but were handicapped by the fact that Mobeetie has no fire hydrants. Water was hauled in by tank trucks in a futile effort to halt the fire.

The Silver Lining

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Patty Collier believes in the cloud with a silver lining. Patty, 7, became car sick, got out of the family car and saw a wallet on the roadside. The owner later showed his gratitude with a $20 reward.

EASY TO FIX exciting shish-kebab menu idea; Patio Spectacular... quick and easy to fix in the cool outdoors.
Just marinate two-inch lamb squares in your favorite barbecue sauce. (Or use other meats if you prefer.) Thread skewers with meat squares, small parboiled onions, green peppers, tomatoes and mushrooms and broil over live charcoal. (Hint: you can use straightened-out wire coat hangers to thread meat on!)

Shock Is Fatal

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. John Hippert, a 33-year-old housewife in nearby Cuyahoga Falls, was electrocuted last night when she picked up a floor lamp while watering her back lawn. She was found on the cement floor of her back porch, clutching the lamp in one hand and the hose in the other.

HOME OF MR. AND MRS. CLUCK NEAR ACKERLY
Quarter section of deep soil in tight land area

MYSTERY FARM

J. W. Cluck Place Fertile, Fields 'Level As A Floor'

The aerial photographer who made the pictures for the Herald's mystery farm series seemed to have a preference for the Ackery community. Once again the farm is located near Ackery. This time it was about three miles east and belongs to J. W. Cluck. He bought the place back in 1924 while living near Rule in Haskell County but didn't move to it until 1942, and has lived there continuously since. The farm is a quarter section, which is considered small for an economic unit these days, but he also owns another 160 acres a few miles north in Dawson County which is in cultivation. He manages both farms and does much of the work except during harvest time. However at times he uses part-time help for driving a tractor and other duties. Cluck's farm is in the tighter land belt of the county, and is level as a floor with deep fertile soil. However, it is also a bit droughty and needs average rainfall or better to make a large yield. His biggest crop was back in 1949. The 1952-53 period is one that some farmers would like to forget and Cluck is no exception. He also had two more years below average in 1955 and 1956. Last year he made a good crop and had even better prospects this year until a hail hit in July and then dry weather the last few weeks. His feed would make a fair yield if rain fell within the next few days and cotton is not suffering to much for moisture. He also had two years below average in 1955 and 1956. Last year he made a good crop, but the cotton didn't show as much profit as it had some other years. He had to plant over several times and was out quite a lot on poisoning. Then the early freeze reduced the grade as well as yield. This year he had even better prospects until a hail in July and the dry weather of the last few weeks combined to cut down on battered part of his cotton, but expected production. The hail battered part of his cotton, but he decided not to replant. Feed is burning, but would make a fair grain crop if rain fell within the next two or three days. Mr. and Mrs. Cluck reared three children. Their son Norman became a farmer and lives a few miles north of them in Dawson County. The daughter, Mrs. W. R. Graves, lives in Fort Worth. The other son, Alfred, decided he didn't want to be a farmer and went on through school. Then he became a school teacher and is slowly but surely seeing the world. He taught Air Force personnel a year in Casa Blanca, then signed up for another year in Germany. Now home between terms, he is getting ready to sail to Japan where he will teach the coming year at Tokyo. Farming is going through a state of change, the elder Cluck said. Since allotments were put back on, a farmer has seen his cash crops reduced. Once he could plant the whole place in cotton; now's it only about 60 acres on each 160. The rest must go into maize or sudan, and neither brings in much cash, even when they make a high yield. The Clucks are live-at-home farm people. They try to cut down on living costs by raising part of their living. They keep a few cows and chickens and they have a good small orchard. "It's getting a little harder on the small farmer all the time," he said, "so you have to manage a lot closer. But too many bad years in a row can hurt anyone, and sometimes we have them that way out here."

Beautiful Hole

ANDERSON, S. C. (AP) — A class of Duke Power Co. trainee linemen and repairmen were practicing how to dig potholes. One trainee carved out a beautiful hole — but he cut through a cable leading to a company substation and knocked out 26 pairs of telephone circuits.

Goldfine To Fight Contempt Charge

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bernard Goldfine intends to fight a contempt of Congress citation tendered against him for refusing to answer 22 House subcommittee questions about his financing dealings with a Boston company he owns. Attorneys for the millionaire Boston industrialist promised the fight last night after the House voted the citation 369-8. Goldfine, friend of presidential assistant Sherman Adams, refused to answer the questions on grounds they were not pertinent to the subcommittee's investigation of federal regulatory agencies. Samuel M. Sears, Goldfine's chief attorney, said in Boston the contempt citation will be fought on the same grounds. Although Goldfine balked at several subcommittee questions, he emphatically denied that his friendship with Adams got him preferred treatment from the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Federal Trade Commission. Adams made similar denials. If prosecuted and convicted Goldfine could receive up to one year in prison and a $1,000 fine. The decision whether to prosecute is up to the Justice Department. If it decides to do so, the case will be presented to federal grand jury.

Atomic Sub May Be After A New Underwater Mark

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. atomic submarine Seawolf apparently is striving for a new underwater endurance record while on a cruise in the North Atlantic. The USS Skate, another nuclear sub now on an exploratory trip in the North Pole region, holds the record for longest time undersea — 31 days, 5½ hours. A Navy spokesman said the Seawolf, which left Groton, Conn., Aug. 5, is undergoing tests to determine how long the sub and its crew can function away from the earth's atmosphere. The Seawolf, one of the nation's three atomic submarines now in service, was commissioned in March 1957. Her skipper is Cmdr. Richard Laning of Amherst, Va.

4-H Officers Named
New officers have been elected by the Lomax 4-H Club. They are Tommy Newman, president; Larry Henderson, vice president; Roger Long, secretary-treasurer; and Hazel Coates, reporter. The club made arrangements to participate in the rodeo parade Thursday. Some 36 attended the last meeting of the club, and the next regular meeting is scheduled for Sept. 4.
