about dimmitt and castro county

by b. m. n.

Occasionally we hear somebody say they purchased an item in a neighboring town cheaper than it could have been bought in Dimmitt. That might be so, but at the same time you might look around and find a merchant in the neighboring town who might be selling the item at even a higher price than the Dimmitt merchant visited in the first place. Then too, there's the matter of quality. All items, used for the same purpose, are not necessarily the same price. Quality can make a big difference. If your percent of saving is too great, regardless of where the merchandise is purchased, chances are you are getting an inferior product and are doing anything but affecting a saving in the long run. This writer's experience has been that he can best serve the interest of economy by buying the best grade, which is usually the highest priced merchandise available. Most merchants carry the cheaper grades of merchandise for competitive purposes but they are a little reluctant about selling them because of their merchandising reputation which suffers every time a product fails to give satisfactory service. Ninety-nine times out of a hundred you are just kidding yourself when you think you are saving money by trading with a strange merchant who doesn't have your interests at heart and who possibly doesn't ever expect to see you again. One day Dimmitt will be one of the largest shopping centers in this section of the country, and the trades people of the area, who have remained loyal to their home town merchants throughout the years, will have the satisfaction of knowing that it was their co-operation and loyalty that was chiefly responsible for the economic development of this fine area.

Occasionally there are real bargains offered by local merchants. Especially when they want to discontinue a line of merchandise. Then it is that they are in a position to pass along a real saving to their customers. An example can be found in Wilson & Sons Lumber Company's advertisement in this issue of the News. They are selling a nationally advertised brand of air conditioners at less than half of the regular price. Bet that's a deal you can't find in any other town. In fact, Wilson's air conditioners are comparable, as bargains go, with the cost of a subscription to the Castro County News.

This column is not usually at the disposal of individuals for personal use or private gain, and just for the information of the few Republican readers of the column you could conceivably consider us non-political in a strictly democratic sense. Be that as it may, we feel that we should come to the aid of Lior G. R. Cameron, who is suffering an overdose of embarrassment. Lion Cameron, as is the custom with new recruits to the Lions Club, was awarded the Goat Medal. Since receiving the medal, Lion Cameron has been called upon a number of times to produce the medal so that it can be passed on to other new members. Somehow or other, for some reason or other, said Cameron misplaced the medal. Hence the embarrassment of the rather timid dry cleaner. (In fact, he suspects that the medal is missing is an indication of somebody being taken to)

It's a Bug-Eat-Bug Proposition

A Castro County father and son team recently did some experimenting on their own hook. They are David Honea, 14-year-old 4-H club boy and his father, H. B. Honea who decided to rid a 70-acre cotton patch of lice on their farm eleven miles north of town.

On July 13 just before daylight, young Honea released about one-half gallon of ladybugs on 5 acres of cotton which he had entered in the Plains Co-op Oil Mills 4-H Cotton Contest. By July 16 (Monday), the small bugs had cleared, by eating, a light infestation of lice in the cotton and had moved on to lamb's quarters at the end of the rows. His father also released one and a half gallons on 65 acres the same day. By the 16th the ladybugs had migrated to turnrows and an adjoining patch of milo in search of more lice.

The two gallons of ladybugs used by Mr. Honea and David cost $10 and came packed in pine boxes. They were ordered from Mr. George C. Orvich, 367 East Virginia, Phoenix, Arizona, who had them flown to Amarillo where they were picked up.

Mr. Honea and David are enthusiastic about their experiment. They report the bugs not only rid their field of lice but are now feeding on the lice and other soft-bodied insects along the fence rows.

First Local Korean War Casualty To Be Returned Here For Burial

According to a telegram received at Olton by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Truelock from the Navy Department this week, the body of their son, Machinist Mate Robert Truelock arrived in San Francisco July 10. Through the efforts of Red Cross officials arrangements were made for Pfc. Loyd Truelock to fly from Japan to San Francisco to accompany his brother's body overland from California to Dimmitt.

Bob Truelock is the first battle casualty from Castro county in the Korean War. According to reports from his shipmates he was killed instantly when his ship, the Destroyer Wilke, was badly damaged by a floating mine or possibly torpedoes from submarines on June 12. Twenty-five members of the ship's crew were killed in action.

Funeral arrangements are pending further word from the Navy Department. Mr. and Mrs. Truelock have not been notified of the definite date of arrival of their sons from San Francisco. Last rites for MM 3/c Truelock will be held in the Dimmitt Baptist church. Other details concerning the arrangements will be made as soon as they are available.

Public Meeting For Sportsmen And Landowners 8 p.m. Friday

Continuing the policy that was inaugurated last year, the Texas Game and Fish Commission is once more holding a series of public meetings in the twenty-eight counties of the Panhandle over which it exercises regulatory jurisdiction. The purpose of the hearings is to permit landowners, sportsmen, and other interested persons to present their opinions on open seasons, bag limits, shooting hours, and other questions to representatives of the Texas Game and Fish Commission. The various opinions secured are then consolidated and presented to the Commission. To the extent compatible with the supplies of game or land, as determined by Game and Fish Commission Biologists and Wardens, the Commission will be guided by the requests of landowners and sportsmen in making the actual regulations.

The meeting for Parmer and Castro Counties will be held at the Castro County Courthouse in Dimmitt on the night of July 20 at 8:00 o'clock. All hunters, fishermen, and landowners are urged to attend and participate in the discussion.

Pfc. Don Loy Noble of Kelly Field, San Antonio, is here for a two-weeks furlough visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Noble, and other relatives and friends.

Remedies for Crabgrass Infestation Given by School Agricultural Instructor

Every year during July, home owners are annoyed with crabgrass. Most of these people feel that crabgrass is the most competitive of the lawn weeds.

The best way to control crabgrass is to have a good lawn. Early application of a good commercial lawn fertilizer and frequent watering should produce a lawn that will be thick enough to choke out the crabgrass when it starts later in the season. Short mowing, however, creates a situation favorable to crabgrass development. At least one and one-half inches of grass should be left on the lawn at all times. All bare spots should be reseeded in the fall in order to have the ground covered in the spring.

Mechanical control of crabgrass should not be overlooked. Small clumps may be picked out to prevent further spreading. Crabgrass is an annual menace to lawns, starting from seed each year. One method of this type of control is to rake the seed up each year with a garden rake and cut them with a lawn mower. This will go a long way towards ridding your lawn of new crabgrass.

Many people would like to eliminate the weeds by chemical action. The use of our present chemicals in selective weed killing is fascinating, perhaps more fascinating than practical, but for those who would like to try chemicals, I present the following:

Scott phenyl-mercury-acetate, is highly recommended by the Scott Chemical Company. The product may be applied by sprinkling from a box or from a Scott spreader. When applied in sufficient strength it will brown both the crabgrass and lawn grass, but the lawn grass should recover.

Cynate Crabgrass Killer is another product commonly used. The contents of one box can be put in three gallons of water and sprayed on the grass by the use of a hand pump type sprayer.

Sodium-chlorate, the original Johnson grass killer, may be applied as a spray when 2 pounds of the powder are dissolved in three gallons of water and applied to 1000 square feet of lawn.

Sodium Arsenate has been tried and produced fair results. This product is poisonous to man and animals and great care should be taken in its use. It should be dissolved in water and applied at the rate of 4 ounces to every 1000 square feet of lawn space.

Brown Swiss Cattle Breeders Plan July Tour

Sixteen Breeders and other people interested in Brown Swiss cattle met in the District Court Room Thursday night to plan a tour of Brown Swiss herds in Castro, Parmer, and Deaf Smith counties.

Monday, July 30 is the date set for the tour, starting at 8:30 a.m. in Hereford. The tour is to extend into Castro County, have lunch at the Martin Fulcher farm at Black and then tour several other herds in Parmer county.

In addition to seeing several outstanding herds of Brown Swiss cattle, the breeders will learn about classification and judging of this type of cattle. A judging contest has been planned at several farms for FFA and 4-H members as well as for adults.

A more detailed plan of the tour will be available in a few days at the county agent's office.

4-H Club Council Made Rally Day Plans Wednesday

Nineteen members of the Castro County 4-H Club Council met in the District Court room Wednesday night to make final plans for their Rally Day to be held at Dimmitt High School Auditorium on the afternoon of July 19.

A movie, "Safety: Our Number One Crop," will be shown to the entire 4-H representation and other parties with safety the keynote of the evening.

Governor Allan Shivers has designated the week of July 22 as Farm and Ranch Safety Week in Texas. President Truman has also designated the same period as National Farm Safety Week.

County Agent Edd C. McLeroy said Wednesday that farm safety should be stressed as much the year around as in this special week. Days lost from work due to farm and home accidents not only puts the family behind in work but also causes a heavy drain on the family bank or savings account.

"How many of you have friends or members of your families that are minus limbs, eyesight, or disfigured otherwise due to some accident that could have been prevented? Be careful while you are working or on vacation—the life you save may be your own," said Mr. McLeroy.

H D Clubs Will Give Dress Revue Here Friday Night

Friday night at 8:30 o'clock the Dimmitt High School Auditorium will be the scene of a dress revue of the Home Demonstration Club women of Castro County. Dresses to be modeled were made by the various clubs women that attended the Tailored Dress Construction Course conducted by Mrs. Robin Vann during the past month. Approximately thirty women will participate in the event with music furnished by Carolyn Rothwell. Preceding the Dress Revue will be several numbers of local talent. The public is invited to attend the evening of entertainment and dress revue.

Mrs. Marvin Sanders of South-edge Club will be in charge of the program.

Dimmitt Rodeo Club To Rope Against Clovis Club Here Sunday

The Dimmitt Rodeo Club will take on the Clovis Club Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at the local rodeo arena for a matched roping contest. According to officials of the local club, a jackpot roping will be held.

Announce Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bagwell of Amistad, New Mexico, announce the marriage of their daughter, Grace Marie, of Oklahoma City to Dudley Howard Holland of Midland, Texas, in the Trinity Methodist Church of Clovis, New Mexico, July 13, 1951, by Rev. Jim F. Watson, pastor. Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Henderson of Pampa, Texas, attended them.

Captures Porcupine

Pictured above is Mr. Jesse Wooten holding a lively porcupine by the tail. The critter was found last week near their farm by his son, Rex. The porcupine was captured alive in a bucket and has been forced to take up residence in a small cage on the Wooten farm. After picture-taking was finished and the animal replaced, Mr. Wooten was faced with the task of removing some ten or fifteen quills from his heavy leather gloves. The porcupine is camera-shy, hiding his face whenever possible and seemingly is more concerned with escape than anything else. Mr. Wooten plans to turn him loose soon, unless someone especially wants a porcupine who won't eat or drink in captivity. This is the first reported such animal to be found in recent years in Castro County. Anyone finding another porcupine, racoon, lynx, deer, mountain goat or other northern animals scarce in this region are urged to contact the News office. For persons wanting to see the porcupine, the Wooten farm is eleven miles south and two miles west of Dimmitt.

Hospital Ass'n. Members To Meet In Called Session

According to an announcement this week by Owen Cox, secretary manager of the Plains Memorial Hospital association, members of that association are being notified of a called meeting to be held in the auditorium of Dimmitt High School building. The meeting will be held Friday, July 27, at 8:00 p.m. and all members are urged to attend. Cox declared that the called meeting was being held for the purpose of considering, and probably effecting, some changes in the by-laws of the organization which would permit some needed changes in the operating rules of the hospital.

Dimmitt Implement Co. Builds New Warehouse

A new 30X60 sheet-iron warehouse is being built by Dimmitt Implement Company behind their present building. R. E. Hendrix, owner of the company, said the building would be used to house farm machinery and other items. Dimmitt Implement Company employees are constructing the new building.

David Burkett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Swain Burkett, left from Lubbock Saturday with a bus load of thirty other boy scouts for a two weeks outing and camping trip to Philmont Ranch near Cimarron, New Mexico.

LOCAL SCOUT IS COMING OUT ON PHILMONT RANCH

Leonard Guggemos Is Ft. Bliss Cadet

FORT BLISS, TEXAS—Leonard A. Guggemos, son of Mrs. Loretta Guggemos of Nazareth, is attending the annual Fort Bliss ROTC Camp to complete field training requirements for a commission as Second Lieutenant in Artillery, Army Reserve Corps.

Cadet Guggemos is one of over 1300 ROTC cadets from 28 colleges and universities in the United States and Puerto Rico, the first time that all anti-aircraft college ROTC units have trained together.

During the encampment, which lasts six weeks, the cadets will receive instruction and practical training in the use of the 49-mm and 90-mm anti-aircraft guns, gunnery, small arms, and in troop leadership.

A student at the University of Minnesota, Leonard is majoring in Education.

After playing games and posing for several pictures, all the little guests were served refreshments of ice cream cones, cake, candies, and a little gift.

Many pretty presents were received and viewed by the guests. Sixteen guests and twelve parents were present for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Armstrong and Fred Allert of Terra Bella, California, left Thursday morning from a stop-over visit in the home of Mrs. Armstrong's sister, Mrs. B. M. Nelson, Mr. Nelson, and family.

Potatoes to Orphans Home

Federal Lobbying--Good or Bad?

Lobbyists in Washington are out in full force. The reason is self-sufficient. The Congressional calendar is jam-packed with controversial businesses, trade organizations, labor unions, professional societies and individual citizens. Lobbying with respect to Federal legislation is a multi-million dollar enterprise and seemingly increasing.

Public housing, labor legislation, government subsidies, public power development, universal military training, legislation pertaining to oil, railroads and airlines—whatever the decisions may be by Congress on these and other pending issues, they will vitally effect the lives and fortunes of many.

The extent, methods and influence of lobbying activities in the nation's capitol are not easy to evaluate. Not all of the activity that exists is discernible on the surface—notwithstanding the lobbying registration provisions enacted in conjunction with the Legislative re-organization act of 1946. On the other hand, exaggerated opinions are easily conjured in the absence of more complete facts. This much is certain: lobbying with respect to Federal Legislation—and this does not necessarily mean attendance in Washington—is a major activity and has developed in recent years to the point where all the intricate and elaborate techniques know to the arts of advertising and public relations are frequently involved.

The fundamental aspects of lobbying are nothing new. In fact, the concept of trying to influence legislation by contacting legislators stems directly from a fundamental right in our democracy—the right of petition. The term itself, which is peculiar to the United States and not used generally elsewhere, apparently has its origins from the practice of seeking contact with legislators in the waiting rooms or lobbies, near the legislative chamber where the public is permitted. It is picturesque, just as the associated term to "buttonhole" a legislator, which is duly listed in Webster's dictionary with the definition: "to hold by the button or buttonhole, as for conversation." It is doubtful how effective the literal application of the term may be; but "buttonholing" in the more general sense is in fact lobbying in its simplest and most effective form.

Marc Anthony said in effect of Caesar, "... the good men do die with them, the evil lives on ... so let it be with Caesar ..." And this might well apply to the complicated art of the lobby. We hear of pressure groups and pay-offs in Washington until we think the practice should be outlawed. But in actual practice lobbying is different because it serves as a check-and-balance system of controlling legislators. The small groups cannot afford the lobbyists like large corporations but yet these so-called high-powered men have kept large and small companies from being taxed and burdened out of existence.

Lobbying indicates a healthy government.

Heavier Penalties for Dope Peddlers

At long last the Federal government is taking steps to prosecute heavily those people dealing illegally in narcotics. For the past many years peddlers were prosecuted under the more lenient tax evasion laws. Now we hope to have stiff laws dealing in this one trade.

If any person should be prosecuted it is the dope peddler. Human suffering and misery come more from marihuana, heroin and cocaine than ever came from drinking and other indulgences. Of course, these proposed laws before Congress now will not stop dope peddling, for there will always be those willing to take a chance to make money, no matter what the risk.

Heretofore only licensed people who were generally druggists or doctors, could legally sell narcotics. If an unlicensed person were caught selling a drug he was prosecuted for not having a license. This has been the government's method of controlling drug traffic as well as the sale of machine guns, liquors and other items. Penalties for violating the license laws were not as stiff as would be desired when dealing with dope peddlers.

Only a long range program such as this will eventually curb the ever-climbing number of dope users. It is impossible to appeal to common sense of the users for drug control. Only when the users can't obtain the drug will they begin the long, hard road back to normalcy. The government will also have to take other steps to stop the habits. It is possible for an addict in some cases to grow and process his own drugs. However, one big step remains to be taken which Congress overlooked. Addicts have been sentenced to jail before, but have succeeded in getting their dope inside the prison walls. Is it not plausible to believe they still might have access to the drug? Just sending a man to jail will not remove his blot on society as an addict. So long as he can still buy his dope he will continue to use it in true addict fashion. The state and federal penitentiary officials will have to plot some method of controlling the drugs within their walls, along with providing a method of medically treating the people subjected to the use of narcotics.

Federal Narcotics Commissioner Harry J. Anslinger has said passage of the House Bill would enable his agents to stamp out the drug traffic in the United States. This is a broad statement and could hardly be true, but we've taken a step in the right direction.

Narcotic addicts are a disgrace to the nation and to the world. We will have to use what we have to try and control this menace but we will never completely remove it. And the teen-age children we hear of in the north and east are hardly to be blamed. They are not educated in the evils of this habit and on the surface it doesn't appear moral-damaging to the first-time user.

If the addict and peddler aren't punished and removed from society it is not inconceivable that we might see evidences of the dope habit before long in our own high plains area.

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

By Congressman Walter Rogers

TIDELANDS: The Honorable Ed Gossett, of Wichita Falls District, appeared before the Rules Committee this morning to obtain a rule bringing to the House Floor the Tideland Bill. As I told you in previous letters, this bill has been progressing step by step and should be on the House Floor for a vote within the next three weeks. The chances for passage are excellent. The entire Texas Delegation has worked continuously on this bill and we look forward to success. Mr. Gossett is resigning from Congress effective July 31st and the passage of this bill would certainly be an outstanding final act to close his distinguished and brilliant career as a congressman.

DEFENSE PRODUCTION ACT: The Congress has been working on the Defense Production Act for the past week and final action on the bill is not yet in sight. Perhaps it will be finished before this letter reaches many of you. Many amendments are being adopted to the bill. Most of these are aimed at a curtailment of bureaucratic control and are for the purpose of keeping the entire control program under the command of Congress, where it belongs. This congress is consistently refusing to delegate its powers to bureaus and board staffed by appointed individuals. There are very few members of Congress who are opposed to fair, honest and equitable controls in an emergency, but most of them feel that if controls are necessary, there should be no favoritism. It is not the controls for emergency needs that the members fear, but it is the administration of these controls. Based upon past experiences, this congress feels that the administration of controls should not be turned over to bureaus and boards with no strings attached. There is not a member of Congress who is not vitally interested in stopping inflationary trends, but most of us do not want to deliver the control of this government into the hands of a few appointed individuals with the powers to regiment the people of this country by dictatorial orders. Such a procedure could increase the danger of inflation rather than decrease it. It must be remembered that the creation of more board and bureaus with regulatory powers requires the employment of many, many people to enforce those powers. Our purpose has been to reduce the number of federal employees. It is only by this method that we can reduce domestic expenditures substantially. Domestic expenditures must be reduced substantially if we are going to meet the defense requirements without higher taxes and hope to have some reduction in taxes. The House yesterday refused to accept a conference report on an appropriations bill because it did not contain an amendment that would prohibit the filling of over 25 percent of the vacancies occurring in the departments during the next fiscal year. We sent the bill back to the Committee with instructions that this amendment reducing federal employees be attached to the bill.

DISPERSAL OF GOVERNMENT PLANTS: Congressman Albert Rains of Alabama and Brooks Hays of Arkansas offered an amendment to the Defense Production Act which would require that any government plants erected in the future or any plants erected through Government loans hereafter be dispersed over the country and not concentrated in such places as New England and the Middle West where much of our industry is vulnerable to enemy attack. It was amusing to note that a coalition of extreme right-wing Republicans and left-wing Democrats and Republicans developed to defeat this amendment. The amendment's strongest supporters were the Jeffersonian Democrats from the Atlantic Ocean across the Southern States through Texas. It looks like the folks in the New England and Middle Western states are afraid industry might find out what a great country we have and how well they can do in our section. We are continuing the work to bring industry to the South and Southwest and will finally be successful.

FEDERAL SALES TAX: Proponents of a federal sales tax are now presenting testimony to a Senate finance committee in an effort to get this congress to pass a federal sales tax. One organization, The Committee for Economic Development, represented by J. Cameron Thomson, Minneapolis banker, urged a five percent retail sales tax on all items not now taxed by federal excise tax. Food and housing would be exempt. Mr. Thomson suggested that no increase be made in corporation taxes. He said individual income taxes should be hiked by about 800 million dollars more than the $2,850,000,000 proposed in the House-passed $7,200,000,000 tax-raising bill, and said that he wanted the impact of that move shifted to the lower income groups. A retail sales tax of 5 percent as urged by Mr. Thomson would certainly put the impact on the smaller income groups. Such a tax would amount to a great deal more than the 12½ percent increase in the individuals income taxes for defense purposes. The 12½ percent increase in the House tax bill is 12½ percent of the individual income tax itself and not 12½ percent of an individual's entire income. The 12½ percent increase that was voted amounts to less on the individual than the original plan to increase the income tax by three percentage points; that is 12½ percent of your income tax is less than 3 percent of your income. By the same reasoning, if you are required to pay 5 percent retail sales tax on everything you buy, it would amount to an approximate increase in your taxes of 30 percent of your income rather than 12½ percent. I have asked for suggestion about a federal sales tax in previous letters and I would like to hear from you folks as to how you feel about a federal sales tax. I don't want a federal sales tax passed as an additional tax. If the people feel that the federal sales tax would be a more equitable tax and a more fair distribution of the tax burden, I would like to know it. In any event, I don't want to see a federal sales tax passed unless it is a substitute for the income tax or some other tax. We are paying more taxes now than we should, and they need to be reduced at the earliest possible moment, which will be when our defense requirements are met.

GOOD HEALTH

Answer to Question No. 1:

1. The greatest cause of chronic disability in the United States is arthritis and other rheumatic diseases. The total number of victims is as great as the combined population of Los Angeles and Chicago, 7,500,000. There are 147,000 persons completely disabled from these causes, 800,000 partially disabled and more than 6,000,000 who suffer from continuous or recurrent pain. New drugs and treatments are helping many and offer the hope that medical science will add yet another to its list of conquered diseases.

Answer to Question No. 2:

2. Trained health personnel is of supreme importance in defense against the results of atomic bombardment. Hospitals may be bombed out but it would be difficult to wipe out the trained personnel of an entire metropolitan area. So long as there are doctors, nurses and first aid workers in sufficient numbers, the injured can be cared for. Some member of every family should have first aid training.

Answer to Question No. 3:

3. Before the days of anti-septic surgery, surgeons wore their oldest coats for operating and sometimes used the same coat for as long as 20 years. After Dr. Joseph Lister's discovery of the principle of antiseptics a radical change in dress occurred. Eventually the sterile hospital gown and mask as we know them today were adopted. Modern surgical cleanliness has saved countless lives.

THE LAW AND YOU

by Robt. (Bob) Kirk

DO YOU KNOW that the last session of the Legislature made additional requirements for signaling devices on certain motor vehicles?

In amending the section of the statutes concerning the giving of hand signals, the Legislature enacted into law a requirement "when the body of a vehicle or the body and load of any vehicle or any combination of vehicles projects twenty-four inches or more to the left of the center of the steering wheel, or under any condition when a hand and arm signal would not be visible both to the front and rear of such vehicle or vehicles, then such vehicle or vehicles must be equipped with, and such signals must be given by such turn indicating lamps or devices." The enactment further states that the signal lamp or mechanical signal device used when required by this section of the statute must be of such a type as has been approved by the Department of Public Safety.

Letters to the Editor

Snakeriver Ranger Station and Madison Rivers. Yellowstone Park, Wyo. July 6, 1951

Dear Mr. Nelson, I have delayed writing you because I have been changing locations and because I might be able to give you more information for any Dimmitt people who might visit Yellowstone this summer. I am enclosing several publications that give information on the park.

If convenient, send my paper to the above address for July and August. I will be at this location for the remainder of the summer. I am a seasonal national park ranger, and work at the South Gate or entrance to the park. I live in a bunkhouse close by.

Most Texas people seem to enter from the South or the East entrances. The South entrance has about 12 miles of road under construction right outside the entrance. All park roads are paved and in pretty fair shape.

Most of all lakes and rivers are now open for fishing and the fishing is good. We have the Yellowstone, Lewis, and Shoshone Lakes and the Yellowstone, Snake, Madison, Gibbon, Firehole and Lamar Rivers. Probably the best fishing is on the Yellowstone Lake and the Yellowstone Everyone should see the many geysers around Old Faithful Village, the falls and canyons between Canyon and Tower Falls, and the bears, elk, moose antelope, buffalo, etc., that can usually be seen from the road throughout the park, especially in early morning and late afternoon. It is nearly 200 miles around the Grand Loop Road around the Park. It takes about two days and nights to see the park and more days to fish. Nearly everyone takes pictures. There is entertainment every night at the Canyon, Old Faithful, Lake, and Mammoth Lodges, which is free to all guests.

Mrs. S. T. Newman works at Hamilton Store at Fishing Bridge, S. T. Newman drives a truck out of Fishing Bridge. They have Fridays off and S. T. works from 7-4. Jerry Suits works at Hamilton Store at West Thumb and has Tuesdays off. I work at the South Gate and have Fridays and Saturdays. I am sure any of us will be glad to be of any help to Dimmitt people that we can.

Respectfully yours, Owen Loyd

Public Eating Houses Find Level Public Is Willing To Accept . . .

The Texas State Department cannot maintain daily inspection of all eating places and the public is urged by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer to insist on the proper sanitation of the establishment where they eat. If the public is careless in this respect the incentive to maintain clean food service will be lessened and operators will only maintain the level the public is willing to accept. He urged that the public patronize "eating establishments which measure up to a high standard of cleanliness."

The State Health Department is making every effort to improve sanitation of eating places, Dr. Cox said, and there is "no excuse for cafe owners not taking advantage of the food handlers schools which are being offered all over the state." He added that there are laws, rules and regulations which require the use of approved equipment and methods in such establishments.

"The public should be aware of these sanitary rules and regulations and insist that restaurants observe them. Patrons should realize that tables and counters will be many times cleaner than the kitchen and other places out of sight," he warned.

He urged milk appraisal by the patrons also. Texas law requires that a milk bottle cap state the grade of milk, and whether it is raw or pasteurized. "Insist on having the milk served in its original container, with a covered cap and a legal label," Dr. Cox advised.

"Obviously," he said, "the best in sanitation can be had only by close co-operation between the public and the investigators of the State Health Department.

A&M Specialist Urges Proper Care of Shrubs During Summer Months

COLLEGE STATION, July 19 —Take care of your shrubs during the summer months. Water fertilizer and pruning are important to the life of your plants, Sadie Hatfield, Homestead Improvement Specialist for the Extension Service of Texas A.&M. College, says.

Shrubs probably suffer more from mismanagement of moisture than anything else, the specialist comments. There are two ways of keeping the moisture in the soil around the shrub: first, make a depression around the plant to catch and hold as much rain water as possible. Then, once you have moisture in the soil—either from rainfall or irrigation—use some kind of mulch to keep it there.

Use layers 2 or 3 inches thick of well-rotted leaves and grass clippings or straw; rotted hay from hay stacks, or straw from wheat and oat stacks. If the soil is tight, use some sand for the leaves to work into, or use a layer of loose top soil to hold water later on. Miss Hatfield suggests using the hoe instead of the hose for the thin layer of top soil; you are likely to kill feeder roots near the surface of you dig more than 2 or 3 inches deep.

Shallow soils do not hold moisture through the summer, so it may be necessary to irrigate occasionally. The specialist says let the water run slowly until the soil is wet to a depth of 10 to 18 inches.

Check with your county home demonstration agent for specific instructions for taking care of shrubs in the area where you live.

FRIO NEWS

By MRS. OWEN ANDREWS

Quite a number of persons attended the funeral on Friday at Dimmitt Baptist Church for Mr. W. S. Dixon. The Dixons made their home in this community for nearly twenty years, during the 1920s and 1930s. They were charter members of the Frio Baptist Church, and were loyal to every cause for church, community and school. He earned the love and respect of all who knew him, and always in every sense of the word "a good neighbor". He was a staunch supporter of his church, often postponing trips until after "preaching Sunday", back in the days of the fourth and half time churches and always made a special effort to attend regularly. He was the first church clerk of the Frio Baptist Church, and served for several years. Their home always had out the "welcome mat" for new comers and visitors. The Dixons could always be counted on to visit when you were ill, and were so cheerful that you felt better for their having been there. Truly, it would be impossible to find words to evaluate the life of a person such as Mr. Dixon, only let it be said that such a life will live on to influence many generations to come.

The Vacation Bible School closed on Friday and exercises were held Sunday night. Rev. R. L. Shannon served as principal with Mesdames Lee Renfro and Owen Andrews having charge of intermediate girls. Mrs. E. H. Little and Mrs. Betty Robbins the Junior boys and girls, Miss Lavada Shannon, all Primary aged children, and Mesdames A. D. Johnson and Arthur Blackburn working with Beginner children. Miss Oma Ruth Thompson was secretary of the school. The enrollment number was 65 with an average of 64 present. About 35 were children of primary and beginner ages.

Baptismal services for the Frio Baptist Church were held at the First Baptist Church at Hereford Sunday afternoon. Mrs. J. B. Thompson, Miss Oma Ruth Thompson and Mr. Hill were those who were baptized.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Simpson entertained Mrs. Simpson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Austin, and their son and daughter, all from Longview, last week. The Simpsons had been to Abilene the previous week-end for a family reunion for Mrs. Simpson's relatives.

She emphasized that the recommended way of canning fruit to conserve vitamins and flavor is by the water bath method, rather than the open kettle or pressure canning method. She also mentioned that pure salt rather than table salt, to which other materials have been added, is better for seasoning canned vegetables as the table salt causes cloudiness in the canned product. Fresh, tender vegetables and ripe good quality fruits are necessary for the canned products to be good.

Those attending the meeting were Mesdames H. E. Lindley, T. L. Sparkman, Sr., Henry Dobbs, Glenn Gripp, Henry Andrews, Floyd Cole, Herbert Schmidt, E. F. Vogler, Spicer Gripp, W. A. Open Season Declared On Pronghorn Antelope

The Chief Clerk of the Game, Fish & Oyster Commission announced that a prong-horned antelope season for the seven-county area West of the Pecos has been authorized.

He suggested that hunters interested in the season write the Commission in Austin for a permit blank to make formal application.

A limited number of permits will be issued and the license distribution will be made by drawing since there always are more applications than licenses.

The dates will be October 1, 2, and 3 for the first hunt period; October 4, 5, and 6 for the second, and October 7, 8, and 9 for the last period.

The season is arranged in periods to permit supervision by game wardens.

Each licensee entitled to one male antelope. After he has shot his limit he is not permitted to hunt even though other members of his party have not been successful.

Last year 426 permits were issued, with a total kill of 375. In 1948, the last previous shoot before 1950, 702 permits were issued and the total kill was 629.

4400 FARMERS KILLED
300,000 INJURED

DON'T "CULTIVATE" ACCIDENTS ON YOUR FARM

A field half plowed—a furrow left unturned—work stopped by accident!

To the farmer, working against time and weather, delay can mean the difference between a crop and no crop, a good year or a lean one. So accidents have no place in his schedule; they cost money, delay production—and the growing season keeps rolling along.

Yet, farming ranks third most hazardous in eight major industries. Think of it, while the death rate for all industry is 29 per 100,000 workers, in agriculture it is 55 per 100,000! One farmer in every 15 is injured on the job! Total—4400 killed, 300,000 disabled by injury every year.

The wise farmer knows where his hazards are—and avoids them. Falls, machinery and animals account for most accidents down on the farm. Their annual cost—$75,000,000. Yet, they're so easy to prevent. Just a little caution is all it takes.

Don't "cultivate" accidents and losses! Instead, "cultivate" safety and success!

Health Talks . . .

Since roast beef has attained the status of "company meal", however healthy or unhealthy that company may be, suppose you take that as the basis for a dinner and consider the way a basic menu would be changed for such ailments as diabetes, epilepsy, gout, and liver disease. While you're supposing, take it for granted that the guest who is coming to your house is not in the active state of any of those diseases but is on a somewhat restricted diet to help keep his disease under control.

Here's the menu:
Broth, roast beef, mashed potatoes, green beans, sliced tomato, mayonnaise, ice cream, whole wheat bread, butter and jelly, and milk.

That is a rather regular meal that is often served. If a guest with diabetes is to partake of the meal, sliced orange or sliced banana with cream would be substituted for the ice cream dessert, and the diabetic guest would not add jelly to his bread and butter. The problem of weighing and measuring the amounts of food need not concern the occasional hostess for a diabetic guest since the guest himself is versed in that more detailed activity and has sooner learned rather automatically to estimate the different amounts of different foods.

Therefore that standard meal, minus the sugar foods, would normally be quite fitting for a guest with diabetes.

The diet for epilepsy is also limited in sugar and, like the diabetic diet, is carefully weighed. Just as the diet for each diabetic person must be set for the individual by his doctor, so the diet for epilepsy is a very personal thing based upon the activity and needs of each special patient.

Taking the basic roast beef menu, an epileptic child who is a dinner guest would probably require that the broth and potatoes be omitted, and dessert would consist of the special canned fruit such as water-packed peaches, served with heavy cream, and with no milk to drink. Just to be on the safe side, though whole wheat bread is often allowed, it would be best to serve the aerated gluten bread with butter.

If your dinner guest who suffers from gout is completely off meat—and he would surely tell you if he is—you could substitute cottage cheese or egg for the roast beef in his menu, otherwise serve roast beef. Instead of broth which he isn't supposed to have, his soup could be cream of potato with crackers. The only other change in the basic meal for a gouty guest would be to omit the mayonnaise, serving the sliced tomatoes plain.

The food which a guest with gout is never supposed to eat, includes anchovies, broth and bouillon, gravy, kidney, liver, meat extracts, roe, sardines, sweet breads and yeast.

That basic meal should be good eating for a guest with liver disease, an ailment which frequently robs you of an appetite. The main stipulation in the diet for any "liver trouble" is to cut down on fats, but not to omit them entirely because food is usually even less appetizing to the liver patient when fat is completely excluded. So even though the roast beef served such a guest would have to be lean meat, he is permitted usually the addition of gravy.

These, of course, are just one meal suggestions, trying to hold the line of diet which has been outlined for such patients by their doctors. They couldn't eat the same dinner every day and get all the necessary materials for their body and there may be some guest who cannot eat some of the foods listed; but generally, good old roast beef and mashed potatoes will make the guest welcome.

New Water Conservation District?

Water Users To Meet In Plainview Aug. 9

Water users will have an opportunity August 9 to say whether they think the State Board of Engineers should create an underground water conservation district in the Panhandle-South Plains.

The Board of Water Engineers has called a public hearing for 10 a. m., Thursday, August 9, in the Municipal Auditorium at Plainview. Underground water users from the 21-county area designed by the Board as the proposed High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 may testify at the hearing.

On evidence presented, the Board will decide whether to create the water conservation district, which would be the first and largest of its kind in the state. Creation of the district will then have to be approved by the voters.

The proposed water district embraces about 13,000,000 acres of farm land which lies over a huge underground water reservoir. It covers all of Lubbock, Hale, Farmer and Swisher Counties, and parts of Armstrong, Bailey, Briscoe, Castro, Crosby, Deaf Smith, Dickens, Floyd, Garza, Hockley, Lamb, Lynn, Oldham, Potter, Randall, Terry and Cochran Counties.

If created, the district would act through an elective five-man board of directors to promote conservation of the area's underground water resources. This would be done through regulation of the spacing of irrigation wells, preventing pollution, conducting educational programs on water conservation and conducting experiments on the recharging of the reservoir.
