New Farm Taxable Values Go From $12.50 To $18 An Acre

Estimated value of farm and ranch lands in Howard County, as determined by Pritchard & Abbott, tax engineers, ranges from $12.50 an acre in the area comprising most of the southeast quarter of the county to as much as $18 an acre in the northwest and southwest quarters. In the northeast, the average value per acre on ranch and farm land is $15.

There are exceptions to these arbitrary values however—there may be examples of exceptionally good farm land ranging to $30 an acre.

Delmer Smith, who has been in charge of the office here since the first of the year, said that the determination of valuations on land had to be largely by areas. Staff men checked the tracts, made their estimates. He pointed out that almost all of the northeast quarter of the county is rough ranch lands. It is here that the $12 value was set—a figure which was applied to all similar lands in any part of the county. The other values were fixed by a like method.

As to improvements on the land, the formula followed was to a considerable degree like that employed on city property with one major exception.

A residence on a farm or ranch, the tax engineers point out, has less saleable value as a tenable dwelling than urban property. In other words, it was said, the house in itself has little marketable value unless it is combined with the land.

To determine what the engineering experts termed a fair valuation, the cost of the improvements was estimated and then 75 per cent of that amount figured. In a general way, this was the method employed to ascertain the values for improvements on all ranch and farm property.

In the past, it was pointed out, tax values on ranch and farm lands have been generally fixed by a flat per acre figure and no consideration made of the value of any improvements. Ranch lands, for example, were valued at $5 per acre, as a general rule. There was no additional value added to the tax rolls for any houses, barns or other improvements on the land.

4 Conservation Tours Are Planned By Local District

Four conservation tours covering two days are in the making by the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District.

Dates for the tours have been set for Sept. 16 and 17.

Planning for the event are Jack Buchanan, chairman of the district board of supervisors, Larry Shaw, board member from Howard County, Harvey Adams, chairman of the Howard County ASC committee, and ASC committee members Clay Reid and Everett Lomax. The Soil Conservation Service work unit staff also is helping with preparations.

for the concluding swing through the Elbow-Lomax territory.

An announcement of the crops and practices to be observed will follow. The community tours are being arranged as a convenience for farmers and ranchers in those areas, but businessmen and all others are urged to take part.

Quimby Due At Hwy. 87 Meet

Representatives from the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce and its highway committee will be in Brady Monday afternoon for a meeting of the U. S. 87 Improvement Assn.

Heading the local delegation will be Bill Quimby, chamber manager.

The Brady session is for the southern section of the 87 Improvement Assn. and covers the territory from Raton, N. M., south through Texas. Prime objective of the organization is to stimulate physical improvements to the highway—part of the Internal 87 system which stretches from Alaska through Mexico.

Howard County will have one of the most glowing reports to make at the meeting. Construction of a second lane and conversion of the route into a divided highway from Big Spring north to the Martin County line is in the picture for next year. So is the widening of the route from Big Spring south to the Glasscock County line. Although this will be a single highway, it will be widened to 26 feet with eight feet paved shoulders on either side, an overall width of 42 feet. Combined cost of the two projects is pegged at approximately $1,500,000.

HCJC Choir To Sing At Fair

Howard County Junior College's choir has been invited to appear on the State Fair program in Dallas Oct. 15.

Theme of the fair this year is higher education in Texas, and HCJC has been selected as one of the institutions to share in the program. A concert by the college choir is to be given in the auditorium on the fair grounds.

Ira Schantz, director, is looking forward to a large enrollment in choir and indicated the first month of work would be intensive in order to be ready for the assignment.

Chairmen Named For Kiwanians' Kids Day Event

Floyd Parsons and Capt. Alan Robertson will be co-chairman of the planning committee for the annual Kid's Day celebration here on Sept. 27. The event is sponsored each fall by the Big Spring Kiwanis Club.

The format for the celebration will follow the outline of previous observations. All youngsters of the city will be invited to visit Webb

Air Force Base and be provided with an opportunity to inspect its many operations.

Each school will conduct a Kid's Day Queen contest and the queens will be duly announced and honored on the night of Sept. 27 the closing event of the celebration. A high school boy and a high school girl will be named as honorary base commanders and tendered special recognition at Webb.

Other events will be worked out. Parsons and Capt. Robertson have selected their coworkers and will announce their plans for the annual celebration in a few days.

The Big Spring Employment Commission is getting plenty of orders for cotton pickers...

Apparently the harvest will break loose in Howard County this coming week...

Bull pulling is starting in many communities. At Luther farmers say most fields will be ready by September 20...

Thus far there haven't been many local workers hunting farm work, according to Kinney...

However the farmers are not expecting much help from native workers because the flow of cotton pickers has divided in recent years...

Kinney says the reports are that Dawson County, particularly the Southern part, is further along with cotton picking than farmers in Howard County...

Charley Cravens, farming west of Lomax, says farmers are beginning to pick cotton in his community, but his is not ready yet...

His cotton on the farm southwest of Knott also is late, and is blooming since the rains. Some of it blew out, but he thinks there is enough left to fill the acreage allotment...

Cravens recently bought 17 young cows with calves and will run them on some feed crops that failed to make much grain...

Jack Buchanan of the Luther community has become one of the biggest sheep owners in this area. Buchanan has had over 500 sheep grazing his sorghum alnum fields...

Altogether he has over 180 acres of sorghum alnum, but doesn't intend to harvest any for seed. He said it dropped to as low as seven or eight cents a pound once, and is worth a lot more for grazing...

Buchanan sold most of his lambs after they reached a weight of 75 pounds. He is keeping all his ewes, and will feed the smaller lambs this winter on silage and maize...

He has a small irrigation well, but hopes to get another one or two. He says two or three waterings a year is enough to make a good sorghum alnum crop even on dry years...

Taylor said there are a few boll worms but they don't seem to be doing much damage. Some that hatched out recently stayed in the form and never crawled out looking for juicy bolls to puncture...

The grain sorghum crop will be average or better this year, Taylor said. Most of the maize is averaging from 900 to 1,400 pounds per acre. He thinks the late feed will probably make a heavier yield...

The boll worms have also eased up in Martin County, according to Gerald Hanson, former county agent. He checked some fields yesterday morning but found few worms...

"I don't believe the insects will both much from now on," he said. "There aren't many moths or boll worms, and it's getting late in the year for a new build-up."

Incidentally, Hanson says the dryland cotton didn't respond much to the late rains. Most of it was too far gone. He thinks the county's cotton yield will be under 50,000 bales.

Items in Brief: Summer passeth and fall is in the air. The weeds have died in the pastures but some new grass has come out since the rains...

Ranges in this county are not carrying many more cattle than in 1957, but there's been an increase on the sudan and sorghum alnum fields...

Any farmer or rancher who pays $150 or more to a laborer or hires a farm worker for 20 days or more must pay social security on the man...

Information on this may be obtained from the nearest Social Security office or from county agents.

Big-Foot, Greasy Thief Enters Home

Handbag Found A small leatherette handbag, obviously belonging to a young girl was picked up on the highway Friday and turned in at the sheriff's office by the Highway Patrol...

The boll worms have also eased up in Martin County, according to Gerald Hanson, former county agent. He checked some fields yesterday morning but found few worms...

Big Spring Schools Round Out Week With Gain Of 10.4%

Big Spring schools rounded out the first week of the 1958-59 term Friday with 587 more pupils than a year ago...

This posed some housing problems, particularly in the first and second grades at a trio of schools. Trustees, meeting in called session, adopted a plan calling for transfer of sixth grades from Washington Place to Goliad Junior High...

Of the increase, 131 were in the senior high school where the "war baby" crop was making itself felt for a 921 enrollment. Junior high, where the pressure has been greatest due to space, showed an aggregate in two schools (instead of one) of 1,224, a gain of 38 pupils...

Latest School Gain Not Greatest, Records Show

cludes the junior high grades (there) had 94 enrolled, a gain of 12. The remaining 3,983 pupils in elementary levels represented an aggregate gain of 400 over the comparable date last year.

In the elementary level, the big increases occurred in the second grade, with 140 more at this level and the sixth grade with 194 more enrolled. The first grade had 15 more, third had 37 more, the fourth a loss of 12, the fifth a gain of 45, and the exceptional education group a gain of 11.

Specifically, the enrollment by grades was first 753, second 742, third 645, fourth 573, fifth 597 and sixth 624, special education 49.

Officials said Saturday they felt the problem was solved for the moment, but that if normal increases hold good for this year over-crowding may be felt before a new building program, now on the boards, can mature.

Thurman Bratcher Dies Saturday

Thurman C. Bratcher, 81, father of H. T. Bratcher of 1505 Aylford, died in a hospital here Saturday at 5:45 a.m.

The body will be shipped by Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home at 9:20 a.m. Sunday to Leitchfield, Ky., where the Ellis Funeral Home will be in charge of services at the Mt. Vernon Cumberland Presbyterian Church at 10 a.m. Tuesday. Masonic graveside rites will be observed.

Mr. Bratcher was born Aug. 21, 1877, in Grayson County, Ky., and came to Texas originally in 1926. He had worked for Cosden, retiring in 1941 when he returned to Leitchfield. When his wife died in April of 1949, he returned to Big Spring to make his home with his son. He was a member of the Mt. Vernon Cumberland Presbyterian Church and of the Masonic lodge at Leitchfield. Survivors include his son, who is production superintendent for Cosden Petroleum Corp., and two granddaughters.

"TO MAKE A MOUNTAIN OUT OF A MOLE-HILL"

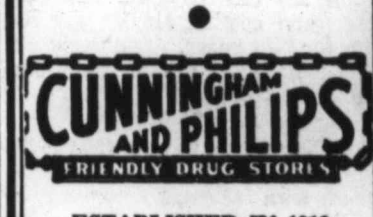

There once was a man who suffered from indigestion. Everytime he read an ad about how to relieve it, he bought a different patent medicine. He hated radio and television because the announcers reminded him of his stomach-aches. He tried their remedies too, but still suffered.

He worried, because he thought he might have ulcers. One day he said to himself, "I will consult a physician." The physician examined him, prescribed the particular medicine that could help him most, and he got better.

Moral — Wasn't he the foolish one to wait so long before consulting his physician?

Far East

Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy, returning to Washington, D. C., from Chicago, talks with newsmen at National Airport during a discussion of Far East tensions. The secretary said that if the Red Chinese are wise, they will not open full-scale war in the Far East. "Our interest is not to wage war but to deter," he said. "It is my judgment that if the Chinese are wise they will be deterred."

Cotton Picker Shortage Hurts Martin Farms

STANTON—The biggest problem facing Martin County farmers at present is the shortage of cotton pickers. Cotton fields are white and farmers are ready for the harvest, yet there is no one to pull the cotton bolls.

"I could use 1,000 hands right now," said Oscar Fanning, manager of the Basin Growers Association. "We have around 8,000 acres of April-planted cotton on our irrigated farms and there is a half bale open on every acre. Dry-land farmers are also starting, or would if they had the workers."

Fanning says these workers are needed near Stanton and Courtney and in north Glasscock. That doesn't take into account the large irrigated area near Tarzan where other hundreds are needed.

READY TO HARVEST
Gin managers say they could be operating 24 hours a day right now if cotton pickers were available. Many farmers report from 80 to 100-acre fields ready to harvest and they don't have even one cotton-picker.

"It's a critical time," said Bernard Houston. "Not only is cotton going to waste, but the grade will drop every 10 to 15 days. Right now we could get middling prices of 37.75 cents a pound. In two weeks, though, if cotton is left in the field it will drop to strict low middling for a price of $2.99. This is a loss of around $25.00 a bale, and also the staple length shortens which will cause a further reduction in price."

Yesterday dozens of farmers were swarming into the Basin Growers Association asking for braceros, but none could be promised. A few are being brought in, but not nearly enough or fast enough.

Some farmers already giving up on getting bracer labor are going into Central Texas looking for workers. Only a half dozen local crews of native workers are in the area and they can hardly make a dark spot in the white fields.

REASONS GIVEN
The situation was unusual this year because of two things. Cotton was planted much earlier than in previous years and the warm, dry weather helped mature it. Also most irrigation farmers shut down their pumps between August 20 and 25, which caused the bolls to pop open much quicker than last year.

Several farmers say the loss to Martin County will amount to thousands of dollars unless workers can be found quickly. Their only hope is to get braceros, because they have never been able to find native workers.

Among the hundreds needed, about 90 per cent could be used for picking cotton, which pays $2.05 per hundred pounds, while the other 10 per cent are needed for boll pulling. This pays $1.55 per hundred.

Deputy Nabs Rum Runner

STANTON—Deputy Sheriff Albert Johnson had his hands full early Saturday morning when he tried to arrest two bootleggers in northwest Martin County. Johnson was cruising along Highway 349 between Midland and Lamesa about 3:30 a.m. when he noticed a car pulling up fast behind him. The driver then dropped back and followed slowly for a considerable distance.

Johnson suspected something and swung back to question the driver. He found two Negroes from Lubbock who had a car full of whiskey and wine. Johnson arrested them but one broke and ran into the darkness. The other was brought to Stanton where a full report was made to Sheriff Dan Saunders.

Saunders took another officer and went back to the scene but did not find the missing prisoner. "We hope to locate him yet," Saunders said, "providing the name and description given by the other prisoner is correct."

Mother Instinct In Dog Produces Milk For Kitten

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP)—The mother instinct was so strong in Lady, a 4-year-old mongrel bitch, that she surprisingly produced milk—without motherhood—to feed an abandoned day-old kitten.

Yes, that's possible, says William Nelson, superintendent of the humane society's animal shelter. It started after an alley cat deposited five kittens at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Lawrence. The mother cat, then disappeared. One by one, four kittens

At 1 a.m. mewling aroused Mrs. Lawrence, who fed the fifth kitten milk with a medicine dropper. Lady, the Lawrence pet, walked up and nudged the kitten in friendly style.

"Ok, if you think you can feed it, please do," said Mrs. Lawrence Friday. Lady lay down, Mrs. Lawrence placed the kitten beside the dog and the kitten actually began nursing. There was no question that Lady was producing milk.

Nelson and a veterinarian, who asked not to be named, said: "It is possible for a female animal, human included, to desire motherhood so intensely that she induces false pregnancy. A hormone reaction incites the mammary glands to secrete milk. A bitch's milk is rich and should be excellent food for the kitten."

Nelson assumed the supply would be insufficient, however, and that Mrs. Lawrence would have to supplement it with cow's milk.

He also said the unusual secretion would be harmful to Lady. Lady didn't recognize that. She is so jealous of her new status she snaps at Mrs. Lawrence if she tries to pet the kitten.

Duster Planes Lost In Blaze

WALL, Tex. (AP)—A hangar containing six crop-duster airplanes and 32 aircraft engines burned Friday night. Damage was estimated at about $40,000.

Only one of the six planes in the hangar was saved after the fire was discovered in the building by Southwest Trading Co. W. L. Bales, president of the firm, made the damage estimate.

Firemen from San Angelo and Goodfellow Air Force Base answered the fire alarm. Wall is about 10 miles southeast of San Angelo.

Airlift Used For German Refugees

BERLIN (AP)—An increased flow of refugees from Communist East Germany has overflowed West Berlin camps by about 30 per cent so an airlift has been started to speed up evacuation of refugees to West Germany.

British chartered airliners took 112 escapees toward new jobs in West Germany Friday.

Between 300 and 700 refugees are now coming into West Berlin daily. More than 15,000 arrived last month. There are about 26,000 refugees packed into some 40 camps in this city.

Sabotage Seen In Ship Blast

MARSEILLE, France (AP)—Investigators said today an explosion aboard a French Mediterranean liner Friday appeared to have been an act of sabotage.

Thirteen persons were hurt in the blast aboard the 5,227-ton "President de Cazalet." The ship returned to Marseille under tow.

The explosion occurred in a ventilator shaft a few hours after the Cazalet had left for Bone, Algeria, with 700 civilian and military passengers. Algerian terrorists in France have been waging a campaign since Aug. 25.

Drive-In Supermarket Opens For Business

LINDEN, N.J. (AP)—A drive-in supermarket opened today. Customers can phone their orders and then pick them up at a window. Small orders will be filled while the customer waits.

The operators of the store, Larry and Joseph Di Leo, say they got the idea from drive-in banks.

The brothers see their store as a great boon for mothers with young children, housewives who don't want to dress up to go shopping, and of husbands who can leave the grocery list on their way to work and pick it up going home.

Baptists Plan 50th Meeting In Big Spring

Baptists of the Big Spring association will hold their 50th annual meeting here Monday at the West Side Baptist Church.

In contrast to monthly workers conferences, the annual associational session summarizes the year's activities and projects the program for another year. Associational reports are then forwarded to the district No. 8 meeting.

Presiding over the session will be the Rev. H. L. Bingham, Hillcrest Baptist pastor. He is due to be succeeded by the Rev. Ernest Stewart Jr., East Fourth Baptist minister.

Delegates are expected from churches in Big Spring, Stanton, Coahoma, Garden City, Lenora, Carzan, Prairie View, Salem, Fossan, Elbow and Sand Springs.

Special speakers will be Walter Delamarter, Dallas, representing the Baptist General Convention of Texas, and Bill Pinson Jr., representing the convention's Christian Life Commission. The Rev. Pinson will speak at 8:40 p.m. as the climax to the convention.

In the morning session, starting at 9:30 o'clock, there will be reports on the Sunday School from the Rev. H. W. Bartlett, College Baptist; the Rev. Mack Alexander, Elbow, training union; Mrs. W. B. Younger, Big Spring, W.M.U.; Grover Springer, Lenora, Brotherhood; Wayne Nance, First Baptist, music; the Rev. Stewart, stewardship. The Rev. Bartlett then will bring the annual sermon.

With the Rev. W. C. Wright, Stanton, presiding, the afternoon session will include reports on Latin American work by the Rev. E. R. Hammock, associational Mexican missionary; an evangelism by the Rev. L. L. Garner, Forsan; on Baptist institutions; on district missions, by the Rev. J. W. Arnett, Big Spring, district No. 8 missions secretary.

The Rev. Stewart will preside over the evening meeting which begins at 7:30 p.m. at 7:50 there will be a report from committees, a digest of letters, budget report, resolutions, selection of the next annual meeting place, time and minister. Among others who have a part on the program are the Rev. Virgil Drewery, Vincent; Ernest Hock, First Church, Stanton; the Rev. Jack Webb, Garden City; Pascal Harris, East Fourth Baptist; Floyd Henderson, Hillcrest Baptist.

Pinson, who holds his academic degree from North Texas State College, has a year graduate study in the University of Edinburgh, Scotland, and took his Bachelor of Divinity degree at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. He held two pastorates before becoming an associate with the Christian life commission last year.

Woman Sues Mystic Group For Damages

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Miss Mary Margaret Ollinger, 24, is suing the Krewe of Columbus, a mystic society, for $25,000 for injuries she said she suffered while watching a Mardi Gras parade Feb. 14. She said a half-pound package of bubble gum tossed from a float by a masker hit her in the face, causing facial injuries.

Small Flag For Small State

With a grin, Bill Daniel, brother of Texas Gov. Price Daniel, hoists the flags of the United States, Texas and Alaska over the Alaska Office Bldg., at Juneau, Alaska. "It looks a mite tiny," Daniel said, "but I reckon that's the way it should be." The Lone Star State lost its place as the nation's largest when Alaskans voted to become the 49th state. Giving Daniel a hand in Alaska's acting governor Waino E. Hendrickson (right). Daniel is making an official visit to acknowledge that Alaska is twice as big as Texas.

RARE TREATMENT SUSPENDED, BOBBY TAWATER COMES HOME

Little Bobby Tawater is coming home this weekend, probably to spend the remainder of his days.

Bobby, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Tawater, 1210 E. 15th Street, is suffering from an apparently incurable malignancy. For the past five weeks he has been at Oschner Foundation Hospital in New Orleans, La., and underwent a new and dramatic method of treatment. Reports reaching here indicated that these had to be suspended because of a destructive effect on the bone marrow.

The scales, which had been more nearly balanced during recent weeks, tipped again against Bobby, who celebrated his fourth birthday in April. Efforts to aid Bobby have been frightfully expensive, and many friends have indicated a desire to help. Any others may send their gifts of love and concern to Box 471, Big Spring, and mark them for Bobby Tawater.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Appeals For Special Funds, Mother Says 'Thanks'

Dear Editor:

As chairman of the Howard County Chapter of the Heart Association, I want to express our thanks to the many people who have sent contributions to the fund in memory of some of our finest citizens who have recently passed away from heart attacks. In due time each of you will receive a personal card of thanks, and the gift will be reported to the families of those who lost loved ones. We hope to announce soon the use of some or all of this money in the search for causes and cures for this dreadful killer. Incidentally, Mrs. C. L. Rowe, Box 470, is secretary-treasurer of the association, and donations may be mailed directly to her. If sent to me, I will pass them on to her.

Now, as president of the Big Spring Pastor's Association, I want to call attention to several projects which we have in the mill. The Bible teaching in the high school has become so popular that we find it necessary to maintain three full classes instead of the one class with which we started a few years ago. This means we need more generous support for the program, and we believe all that is needed is for you to realize the need and the opportunity to invest in such a worthy cause. Personal, club or church contributions should be sent to Rev. Jack Ware, 643 Manor Drive. Jack is pastor of the Saint Paul Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Johnny Johansen is our teacher, and a better one could not be found. Ask any member of her classes and you will always get an enthusiastic response on the value of Bible study while still in high school. The association expects to bring one of the nation's greatest preachers here for a community service early in December. Also we plan to back the combined choirs presentation of the Messiah sometime in December.

The last thing I would mention as chairman of the churches information committee for the United Fund drive) is that by far the greater amount of these UF gifts will come from charity minded church people. We have been taught in the Bible and have confirmed by experience that "it is more blessed to give than to receive." Solomon says "he that giveth to the poor leletheth to the Lord." The Master said, "Give and it shall be given unto you, good measure, pressed down and running over." Did you know a man died of starvation in our city recently? If you could sit in the minister's study for one week you would probably be amazed at the poverty and suffering that is going on all around us. Jesus said we "would always have the poor with us. And when we will we can do them good." He also said "inasmuch as ye did it unto one of these, even the least in the kingdom of heaven, ye have done it unto me." Let's be ready morally, mentally and emotionally when the campaign opens.

DICK O'BRIEN

DEAR SIR:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the teachers of the first grade students who so thoughtfully sent out notices to parents informing them — a few days before school started — of the teacher's name, room number and also a list of the supplies the child would need. It saved me and I'm sure a lot of other mothers a lot of trouble and confusion.

I would also like to suggest that other teachers of elementary school children to do likewise if it would not be too much trouble. I believe that the task of getting the children distributed in their respective rooms would be simpler and it would benefit both mothers and teachers.

sincerely,
Mrs. J. C. TONN

Safety, Livestock On City's Agenda

The safety outlook and livestock problems will be placed before the City Commission Tuesday night when it meets for a regular session.

A report will be given to the commission from the National Safety Council on its findings in Big Spring during 1957. The comprehensive report will cover all phases of traffic control, accidents, and accident prevention methods.

Members of the Citizens' Traffic Commission are expected to be present for the report also.

The Chamber of Commerce will probably petition the city to adopt an anti-livestock ordinance also. The C-C had planned to present the request at the last commission meeting, but some of the chamber members concerned could not attend and it was postponed two weeks.

At the present, the city has an ordinance prohibiting swine in the city limits, but other types of livestock are permitted.

The commission has sent a proposal for fire protection to the county governing body, and any action from the county Monday will be discussed by the city at its Tuesday meeting. The city has proposed to cut off all fire protection outside the city limits on Jan. 15, if no agreement can be reached.

Latest proposal from the city is for the county to pay $12,000 per plus $6,000 per year toward purchase of a fire truck.

Discussion will also be given to the Air Force's water bill which hasn't been paid in full since March. The city raised water rates for big consumers in April, and the Air Force (Webb AFB) has refused to pay the increase. No payment was made at all for the period since April until about two weeks ago when the government paid the bill using the old rate.

With its acceptance, the city reserved the right to continue claims on the new rate.

Lamesa Chamber Elects Directors

LAMESA (SC)—Four new directors were elected to the Board of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce this week. They are Dr. Jack Alexander, C. V. Ball, Jack Broyles and Howard Garner. They will replace John Agee, Walter Buckel, Tim Cook and George Norman Jr.

Thursday morning the Lamesa City Council named four directors to the Board of City Development, which operates in conjunction with the Chamber. Named were Carroll Tune, Don Nutt, Jake Lippard and J. B. Claiborne. They succeed Howard Allen, Rupert Austin, Karl Cayton and Dr. John Paul Pickett.

Directors of both the Chamber and the BCD will be installed at the annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet to be held early this fall.

DO Enrollment Total Reaches 39

Enrollment in the trades and industry (Diversified Occupations) vocational course at Big Spring High School has reached 39. Louis Maneely, co-ordinator, said Saturday.

Of this number, 25 have been placed on the job at training stations in Big Spring business houses and institutions. Another 11 have been placed tentatively. Students will organize their Vocational Industrial Club on Tuesday evening.

Daisies Do Tell; And Foul Up Data

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter

Daisies sometimes get so blooming noisy they foul up the progress of science.

A field of daisies rippled by wind makes quite a racket. And that's bad if you're trying to detect faint shock waves coming through the earth in seismic explorations. The daisy chorus is picked up by sensitive geophones, complicating reception of the earth waves.

The mining tread of a grazing cow is no help either. Not is a clap of thunder, says Robert P. Meyer, University of Wisconsin geologist.

Wisconsin's section of geophysics in the department of geology is one of the International Geophysical Year centers carrying on gravity and seismic measurements aimed at learning the exact size and shape of the earth, and more about the structure of its insides.

The program has scientists shipping out on trips and adventures from the arctic to the antarctic, and continents and islands east and west. Meyer, for example, is recently back in Madison, Wis., from field work in Mexico, where daisies reared their interfering heads as one minor complication.

For thousands of years men have roamed and sailed and — more recently — flown over the earth. But no one knows exactly how big it is, and its exact shape with all its mountains and valleys, or precisely how far it is from Chicago to Rome or to Moscow.

Such distances may well be off 100 to 150 feet or more, due to difficulties of measuring distances between continents. In World War II, some Pacific islands were found to be misplaced by several miles or more on the best available maps.

All this is scientifically untidy and unacceptable. Precision knowledge can have practical advantage in map making, and improved navigation for planes and ships.

Militarily, it would be most important in guiding a warhead rocket unerringly to an exact target. Scientists haven't been able to get outside the earth to take a careful look, and haven't got callers big enough to put around our globe.

Artificial satellites will be a great aid.

County Continues Dealing With CAA

County officials are continuing their efforts to persuade the CAA to modify restrictions in easements needed on 98 acres of land adjoining the new Howard County Airport.

The land involved is in path of the approaches to the runways on the airport and the CAA has required that control of all structures to be erected on the land be set up. This has meant that the county has had to ask owners to grant easements which comply with the restrictions. The owners have been most reluctant to sign any such easements.

R. H. Weaver, county judge, and County Commissioner H. J. D. Sorenson in a conference with CAA officials last week on another matter relating to the airport, discussed the problem but did not receive any definite commitment from the CAA.

It is evident, officials said, that if the CAA does not modify the restrictions in the easement contracts that the property owners will not sign them. If they refuse to sign, the county will have to condemn the land and buy it. The county commissioners are hopeful that this can be averted because the county will need all the money it will have from the original $500,000 bond issue to provide an administration building at the airport.

The CAA cannot participate with the county in building the terminal because it does not have the funds. It is participating in the actual construction of the airport. Its participation will result in the county having a margin of its own funds left after the airport has been built which will have to be used to build the terminal.

Girls, Believed Runaways, Held

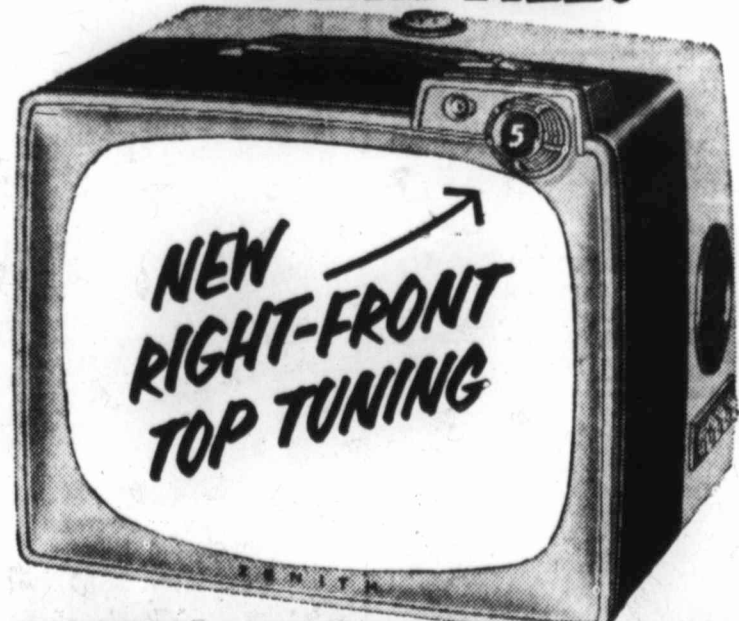

Two girls, believed to be runaways from Fort Smith, Ark., are being detained at the county jail by A. E. Long, juvenile officer. The two are believed to be companions of another 16-year-old girl picked up Friday and identified as being a runaway from the Arkansas city.

One of the girls arrested yesterday claims to be 19 and also says she is married. The other is 16 years old. Long is detaining the trio pending further word from Fort Smith.

Men's Wear Of Character

Ella Breaks Date But Nobody's Sad

VICTORIA (AP) — Tropical storm Ella broke a date with a lot of jittery Texans early Saturday. There were no wails of disappointment.

Ella turned out—as predicted—to be a lady with no malice in her eye.

State climatologist Richard Blood commented in Austin:

"She was disorganized from the start. The storm didn't have enough time—or force—to get organized when she came past Cuba."

This city and five others—Port Lavaca, Galveston, Port Arthur, Brownsville and Corpus Christi—were headquarters for disaster centers. They were ready here.

But Ella didn't show in full dress. She hit the coast in the early morning hours, spreading dark moisture-filled clouds across the state. The Weather Bureau's prediction that her chances were slim to become a full-fledged hurricane proved true.

"Most of the people were scared," said Maj. George Filly, a State Guard battalion commander. He and his staff helped Red Cross workers and volunteers at school buildings here house about 350 persons. They were evacuated from low ground areas in Port Lavaca, Bloomington, Seadrift and Port O'Connor.

The story was similar at the other headquarters.

Mrs. George Filley, who was in charge of the nurses, found an unexpected worry here — an expectant mother needed a doctor. He was found quickly.

Most evacuees were Latin Americans. The children romped up and down school halls by the light of the moon, sometimes blacked out by the fast moving dark clouds.

Victoria was prepared to take care of another 800 if necessary. The need dissolved with Ella's threat.

On the coast, more precautions were taken with residents boarding up homes and stores.

Woman's Attorney Asks Early Trial In Dognaping Case

FORT WORTH (AP) — Early jury trial of Mrs. Annie Mae Hunter, 65, charged with stealing a dog, was demanded by her attorney, Jack Mackin, Friday.

The prim landlady, who went to jail rather than reveal whereabouts of the dog she is charged with stealing, will plead innocent, Mackin said.

The lawyer, whose own household includes a mongrel named Tiger, is representing Mrs. Hunter without fee.

He and his partner, attorney Toby Goldsmith, posted $1,000 bond for the embattled animal lover minutes after she was remanded to jail by County Criminal Court Judge J. C. Duvall.

Mrs. Hunter was charged with stealing the dog of a roomer, Larry Blanchard.

She admitted giving the animal to friends, she did so only because Blanchard mistreated it.

Duvall, in an effort to spare her a trip to jail, offered to release Mrs. Hunter if she would only tell where she had taken the dog, a cocker spaniel.

Head held high, Mrs. Hunter chose jail, where she was photographed and fingerprinted before being released on bail.

Mrs. Hunter said Blanchard left the dog in the sun all day.

It Wasn't From Outer Space

APPALACHIA, Va. (AP)—Visions of an outer space convention in the southwest Virginia mountains evaporated Friday when power company workers said a giant bubble had been manufactured right on the spot.

Crewmen for the old Dominion Power Co. were called in late Thursday night when a bright glow from the top of Wise County's Stone Mountain lit the sky. They toiled up the mountain, and there it was—a ball about three feet in diameter and glowing brightly.

Calls went out for the Atomic Energy Commission to see if it was radioactive. Some residents were convinced it was a meteor, a flying saucer, a space ship.

The linemen gave support to the meteor theory. One leg of a 55-foot steel power line looked as though it had been smashed by a heavy blow.

But then came the dawn. What had seemed so mysterious in the dark turned out to be nothing but a bubble of molten glass-like silicate formed when a 34,500-volt power line shorted out and fell onto sandstone.

9-Month School Year Heading For Dump? Educators Hope So

By G. K. HODENFIELD
Associated Press Education Reporter

Is the nine-month school year as outmoded as the old nickelodeon and the horsehair sofa?

A growing number of Americans think so.

Teachers say they need more time to teach the facts and fancies of today's complex world. Space-age education, they say, can't be taught on a horse-and-buggy schedule.

The American Assn. of School Administrators says "There is now more to teach and learn than can be accomplished . . . in the present time allotment."

The idea of having American children spend more time in the classroom is not a new one. It has been kicked around for a number of years. But, like just about everything else in education it really became an issue last fall when Russia started the world with Sputnik I.

In Russia, where the schools operate six days a week, 10 months a year, Soviet students spend an average of from 210 to 230 days in the classroom. The traditional U. S. school year of five days a week, nine months a year, allows an average of from 175 to 180 classroom days.

The American system, widely adopted at the turn of the century, was designed largely for a rural society. Long summer vacations meant the kids would be home on the farm during most of the busy planting, growing and harvesting seasons.

The changing American scene has long since done away with the need for such an educational pattern. But it's traditional, and therein lies most of its staying power.

Three plans have been advanced to revise the school year: Saturday classes, 10-month school years and the controversial four-quarter plan. All of them have their advocates, but they have their enemies, too.

And all of them would cost money, meaning higher taxes at the local level.

When Gov. George M. Leader hinted last year that Saturday classes might be tried out in Pennsylvania, you could hear the outraged wails of anger in Timbuktu.

A valid objection was made on religious grounds. Thousands of Seventh Day Adventists and Jews observe Saturday as the Sabbath.

Apparently it's going to take more of a crisis than education has yet faced to bring about a six-day school week in this country.

The four-quarter plan is a tricky one. It looks good, if you don't look too hard.

That's a system whereby the school plant is kept open the year 'round, with each student attending three of the four quarters.

Its backers say that under the four-quarter plan, 60 classrooms can do the work of 80, a big capital investment isn't allowed to stand idle for three months, and jobs are easier to find when only one fourth of the student body is on vacation at a time.

But every school that has tried the four-quarter plan has dropped it. Many others have looked into it, and shied away.

First, it doesn't really lengthen the school year. In most cases, the average number of classroom days drops.

And second, the idea is full of hidden expenses such as air conditioning schools for hot summer months and the need in some cases of paying premium rates for maintenance to be done at night or weekends.

If anything is going to be done, it will probably be along the lines of a 10-month school year. There are arguments against that idea, too, but they aren't as numerous nor as strong.

Calvin Grieder, a professor of school administration at the University of Colorado, has come up with a plan for a 10-month, 200-day school year, with each school day stretched out a bit. He figures the increased cost shouldn't run more than about 10 per cent per year. Most of that would be in salary adjustments to the teachers.

SAN ANTONIO EDISON INVADES CITY FRIDAY IN GRID OPENER

By TOMMY HART Short on experience but long on desire, the Big Spring Steers are marking time for their 1958 football debut, which takes place here Friday night. The Longhorns stage "open house" with San Antonio Edison. Kickoff time is 8 o'clock. Big Spring scouts know little about the Edison gang, other than the fact that it won a conference championship last year, has been promoted from Class 3A to 4A (due to a consolidation of schools), is coached by the veteran and astute Red Forehand and return a flock of lettermen. Al Milch, the Big Spring coach, expects Forehand to bring a multiple offense here. That means defending the visitors will be much more difficult. Basically, the Longhorns will use a 5-4 defensive alignment against the invaders. The Steers have glistened on defense in workouts to date but their offense leaves much to be desired. That, perhaps, was to be expected, since the locals are a young and green club. Milch has an explosive backfield. Most of the boys who man secondary positions here can run like rabbits, which is most unusual for a Big Spring team. The team's overhead game must improve, if it is to go anywhere. Bill French is the best tosser on the club right now and his best target has been Benny McCrary, who could have a really great year, barring injury. Junior Donnie Everett and sophomore Tommy Whatley will back up French at the quarterback slot. Milch's Winged T attack will feature Wayne Fields, a bruising runner who has been moved over from the fullback slot. Fields didn't realize his full potential last year because he was hobbled by injuries but he still played good enough to rate second team All-District 2-AAA honors. He and Buddy Barnes changed positions. If Buddy is ready Friday night, and there is no assurance he will be, the Steers could mount a fair offensive punch. J. B. Davis, who appears to have come onto his own, will swap out with Barnes at the fullback spot. Running behind Fields will be a very dangerous Freddie Brown, who showed the Monahans club a thing or two in a scrimmage here last week, and a crippled R. L. Lassler. Lassler is the fastest man on the team but he's favoring a leg which he accidentally shot while hunting during the summer. Roger Flowers, a much improved and a very willing ball player, will be at the wingback spot, backed by Brown and Benny Edwards. Sophomore Jerry Dunlap figures to play well enough to argue with Barnes and Davis about the fullback job. Up front, the Steers look tough, especially in the interior line. Right now, it appears that on offense Ken Cobb or Robert Carr will be in at left end, Chubby Moser at left tackle, Bud Bridges at left guard, Bobby McAdams at center, Franklin Williamson at right guard, Don Payne at right tackle and McCrary at right end. Gene Salazar, a sophomore, Mackie Alexander, Gary Pickle, Kenny Johnson, Bill Copelin and Roy Deel are among those vying for regular positions. It's a ball club that will make its share of mistakes but is bound to prove popular with the spectators—if it shows one half the fight in a game it has in practice. One Edison boy who probably won't see action here is Nash Thompson, second string quarterback. He took out after a quarter at his home following practice one evening last week. The intruder vaulted the fence. Thompson tried it but broke his hand in the process. The doctors say he'll be incapacitated for three weeks. P.S.: The prowler got away. The Longhorns scrimmaged San Angelo Lakeview Saturday and didn't look as impressive as they did against Monahans. The experienced Lakeview team gave them all they could handle and outscored them by a margin of three touchdowns to one. Lakeview is an AAA school, in the same conference with Snyder, Colorado City, Sweetwater and Lamesa. Big Spring scored its lone TD against Lakeview's second team. To the locals' credit, every boy who made the trip got into action. Lakeview, not as deep as the Steers, went mainly with its first line crew. Whatley has improved so much he may have to fit in somewhere on the first unit, if not at quarterback, then at one of the other positions. He was a standout Saturday. French also showed to advantage. In the line, Moser, McAdams and Bridges starred for the Big Spring club. To put it simply, the Steer defense Saturday looked fair and the offense showed very little, if any, improvement over Thursday's performance.

Donated By Cosden

The Cosden Petroleum Corporation of Big Spring is donating the trophies shown above to winners in a big shoot scheduled at the Western Sportsmen Club range next Sunday. Dr. Cal Gullians, director of the meet, is holding one of the 21 awards. Everyone is eligible to participate in the meet, including rank beginners who have never fired a gun for record. The shoot gets started at 10 a.m. and gun enthusiasts are expected from as far away as Hobbs, N. M. (Photo by Jen Ferrell).

Billy O'Dell Handcuffs Boston Red Sox, 4-2

BALTIMORE (AP)—Fast-balling Billy O'Dell pitched Baltimore to a 4-2 victory over the Boston Red Sox Saturday night, striking out 10 en route to his 14th triumph and sixth straight. Gene Woodling's 14th home run into the right field bleachers scoring Bob Boyd ahead of him gave the Orioles a 2-0 lead in the third inning. Baltimore added another pair in the sixth when Bob Nieman and Jim Busby singled and Billy Gardner doubled them home.

FOR AMERICANS Robbins, Patton Save The Day

By HUGH FULLERTON JR. Associated Press Sports Writer SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A 19-year-old Canadian, Gary Cowan, Saturday upset a second U.S. golf champion in as many days. But experience prevailed and the United States won the Americas Cup for the fourth straight time. Cowan, who tumbled two-time champion Harvie Ward Friday, scored a decisive 5 and 3 victory over Hillman Robbins, the current U.S. champion. But the youth's fine performance came too late. Piling up 5 1/2 points in the morning sixholes to gain an insurmountable lead, the U.S. team coasted in. The final score was 30 for the United States, 17 for Canada and 7 for Mexico. The cup defenders, who never have been beaten in this three-way international competition, did not reach the finish without a few scares. Billy Joe Patton, the U.S. team captain, just squeezed out a pair of victories. Robbins and Patton had to win the last two holes in their morning sixhole match over the hilly 6,680-yard Olympic Club Lake Course to beat Mexico's Fernando Mendez and Enrique Farias Jr., 2 up. Robbins of Memphis and Patton of Morgantown, N. C., picked up a second point with a 6 and 5 victory over Canadians Bruce Castor and Gordon Ball. Rex Baxter of Amarillo, Tex., and Bill Hyndman, Philadelphia, also turned in a two-point victory in the morning alternate stroke sixhole, and former champions Charley Coe of Oklahoma City and Harvey Ward of San Francisco split the point with Canada in the other match. The result was about enough to assure the United States two more years' possession of the trophy they have never lost since the amateur trophy competition started in 1852. At the end of the morning matches, with six singles still to be played, the point score stood at 20 1/2 for the United States, 10 for Canada and 5 1/2 for Mexico. After the first day's play it had been 15-8-4. In each of the best-ball sixholes, three matches take place simultaneously—the U.S. vs Canada, U.S. vs Mexico and Canada vs Mexico. Canada and Mexico each won the match from the other and tied the third.

Redlegs Tighten Hold On Fourth

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Cincinnati's Redlegs tightened their own hold on fourth place in the National League today with a 10-2 win over the Philadelphia Phillies. Number 5 Both Lucky And Unlucky For Tech Gridder

LUBBOCK (SC)—Five is both a lucky and unlucky number for Gerald Seemann, Texas Tech's senior end from Fort Worth. That's how many passes he caught against Hardin-Simmons last year to set a one-game Tech receiving record. Also, it's the number of grades below B he's made in three years of studying mechanical engineering at Texas Tech. Seemann's grades of 21 A's, 16 B's and 5 C's were good enough to place him on the All-American Academic Squad announced today by Lester Jordan, Southern Methodist sports information director, for the second successive year. Some of his A's have been in courses like "Differential Equations," "Calculus," "Engineering Physics," and "Applied Mechanical Statics," some hefty assignments for a man who's beginning his third year of varsity football play. Seemann, valuable as a defensive player and blocker on Tech's split-T offense, ranked second among the Raiders on pass catching last year, with 13 receptions for 162 yards. He stands 6-1, weighs 195. At Fort Worth's Polytechnic High School Seemann was a guard and tackle. But learning a new football position as a Tech freshman was a breeze for a fellow who at the same time made all A's in chemistry.

Tom Nieporte Leads By 2 At Salt Lake

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Tom Nieporte, a pro only four years, grabbed a two-stroke lead Saturday in the $17,000 Utah Open Golf Tournament. His 7-under-par 65 in the second round gave him a 36-hole total of 132, two strokes ahead of top money winner Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa.; Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla.; Bill Collins of Baltimore and veteran Bo Wininger of Odessa, Tex., all at 134. The 28-year-old Nieporte, of Bronxville, N. Y., had a first-round 67. He is seeking his first major victory.

FEW TEAMS SET Quarterback Post Big NFL Problem

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The big question mark for most of the National Football League teams in 1958 is quarterback. Coach George Wilson of the champion Detroit Lions pins his hopes on the aging arms of Bobby Layne and Tobin Rotie. Layne is 31 and Rotie is 30 years old, not exactly old age, but across the dividing line in this roughest of football. On the other hand, Paul Brown's Cleveland Browns are banking on youth. Sophomore Milt Plum, who showed signs of developing into a first rate passer as the Browns won the Eastern title last year, and rookie Jim Ninowski from Michigan State will try to replace the retired Tommy O'Connell. Philadelphia's Eagles are going to fall or fly for new Coach Buck Shaw on the time tested arm of 23-year-old Norman Van Brocklin. Coach Sid Gillman at Los Angeles counts on Billy Wade, the one time Vanderbilt wonder, to bail him out. Scooter McLean in his first year as Green Bay coach must get consistent quarterbacking from Babe Parilli, Bert Starr, or perhaps the ex-Notre Dame ace, Paul Hornung, if he's to win. At San Francisco, Y. A. Tittle, now 31, will have to show advancing age hasn't dulled his effectiveness. The New York Giants will count on Charley Connerly, now 34. Pop Ivy looks to King Hill, late of Rice, to get his Chicago Cardinals off winging in Ivy's debut in the NFL. Washington still counts on the biggest little man in football, Eddie LeBaron, while Buddy Parker at Pittsburgh figures Earl Morrall should improve the Steelers. Baltimore has accurate John Unitas and equally talented George Shaw. George Halas, returning to coach the Chicago Bears, seems to have an ideal setup. He can choose from three pretty fair passers—Ed Brown, Zeke Bratkowski and George Blanda.

Rodin And Dunham In Bid For Texas Batting Crown

By The Associated Press Eric Rodin of Corpus Christi is second place with .356; Jesse Gonder of San Antonio, third with .330; Harry Fisher of Tulsa, fourth with .322, and Don Miles of Victoria, next with .321, can't qualify for the title. There also seems no possibility of a pitcher winning 20 games this season although Joe Kotrany of Dallas has reached 10. On the best record is 10-0 posted by Carroll Beringer of Victoria. In strikeouts Jim Tugerson of Dallas is well ahead with 198. Mike Lutz of Corpus Christi leads in runs with 113, hits with 169, home runs with 38, and runs batted in with 109. He is the only player with more than 100 tallies driven in. Leading in doubles is Ellis Burton of Houston with 41, while the top man in triples is Bill Parsons of Victoria with 13. In club batting Corpus Christi sets the pace with .272 while San Antonio is second with .262.

Conrad Has Hand In Cardinal Win

SEATTLE (AP)—Fleet Ole Matson and Bobby Joe Conrad, a rookie from Texas A&M, combined running, pass catching and kicking talents Saturday to earn the Chicago Cardinals an upset 27-26 National Football League exhibition football victory over the Los Angeles Rams. An intentional safety by the winners in the dying moments saved the Cardinal victory, their first in four pre-season games. The Rams lost two and won two.

Bell Leads Way Musial Swings Tide

CLEVELAND (AP)—Rookie right-hander Gary Bell put the brakes to Cleveland's three-game losing streak Saturday night with a six-hitter that beat the Chicago White Sox 7-1. Vic Power and Woody Held each drove in two runs. Al Smith homered for the losers' only run.

He copped the 1957 Big Spring Invitational tournament crown, which entitled him to a year's membership (free of charge) in the club.

Loyd Has Great Record At Merkel

Don Loyd, the Merkel coach who was interviewed about the local high school basketball job, has guided his Badger teams to 69 victories in 80 starts in three years there. Two of his quintets won District 6-A titles. Checking Violations Cause One-Third Of Indictments

By SAM BLACKBURN
Forgery is the most prevalent crime committed in Howard County.

Since Sept. 1, 1956, forgeries have constituted nearly 32 per cent of indictments returned by all of the grand juries which have convened in the county.

Combined with swindling complaints, which Guilford Jones, district attorney, said were nearly 100 per cent check cases, these two offenses account for more than one-third of all the indictments returned in the two years period. Likewise they account an equal percentage of all persons convicted in the 118th District Court in the same interval.

Jones, in association with Wade Choate, district court clerk, spent most of last week compiling an elaborate study of crime and conviction in this county. The report was made at the request of Will Wilson, attorney general, in accordance with requirement of Article 47, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1955.

218 INDICTMENTS

Statistics (figures do not always balance because some indictments were already on the docket at the start of the period) show 218 indictments between Sept. 1, 1956 and Aug. 31, 1958. Of these 196 led to convictions, 24 were dismissed before trial, and three resulted in acquittals.

One hundred and thirty two defendants drew prison sentences for an aggregate total of 444 years. Not including four defendants who were sentenced to life. Ordinarily officers calculate life terms at 45 years. This method would make the prison terms total 524 years. Forty-two defendants were granted suspended sentences and 20 were given probation sentences. Fines were assessed against some of the defendants to the amount of $6,100.

THREE MURDER CASES

Only three murder indictments were returned in the period under study. These defendants, all convicted, drew 29 years in prison. There were two indictments alleging assault with intent to murder; one defendant was given a suspended sentence; the other a probation sentence.

Felony driving while intoxicated — or DWI second offense — comprised 37 of the indictments returned. Twenty-eight of defendants were tried and convicted. One was acquitted and there were 8 dismissals. The convictions resulted in 10 probation sentences. It was this group of offenders who drew the entire $6,100 in fines assessed by the court.

Thirty-two burglary indictments were returned. Thirty-one of the defendants named in the indictment

Work Begins On FM 700

Barnes and Lester, awarded the contract for FM 700 east, have moved on the job and have begun clearing right of way.

The contractors set up operations last week. They have moved in machinery and started work on the west end of the route at the point where it intersects U. S. 87.

The contractors are W. L. Barnes, Austin, and John Lester, Bailey. They were awarded the job of building the 3.4 miles of road forming a loop connection around the south and east edges of the city with U. S. 80, the route begins just north of the Jet Drive on the south edge of the city. It extends eastward and north to connect with U. S. 80 near Cosden refinery.

The contract calls for 120 working days. Barnes and Lester bid $242,923 on the job.

Their assignment is to do all grade, drainage and construct all structures along the 200-foot right of way acquired by the county. They are not contracted to surface the road when the base has been completed. A second contract will be awarded by the state at a later date for this work.

ments were convicted for an aggregate of 45 years in prison. Sixteen were granted probation. One of the indictments was dismissed.

Ten indictments alleging robbery were returned and there were nine convictions. One indictment was dismissed. The defendants were sentenced to a total of 65 years in prison.

THOSE FORGERIES

In the forgery category—most common of law violations to be considered by local grand juries—of the 69 indictments voted, three were 62 convictions. These convictions piled up 157 years in prison for the defendants; 6 drew suspended sentences and five probation sentences. One indictment was dismissed. Of the 14 indictments returned for swindling (almost 100 per cent offenses involving writing worthless checks) 13 convictions were achieved with prison sentences aggregating 32 years. Only one defendant was given a suspended sentence and two drew probation sentences. Three of the indictments were dismissed.

Felony theft (cases in which the loot value exceeded $50) provided 32 indictments and 29 convictions. One defendant won an acquittal. Three cases were dismissed. Total years in prison assessed was 34 and 17 of the sentences were suspended. One was probationed.

MISCELLANEOUS

One indictment for disposing of mortgaged property was returned and the defendant was convicted. He drew a suspended sentence. A five year sentence was assessed against the lone defendant indicted for failure to stop and render aid.

No rape, perjury, arson, embezzlement, or wife and child desertion indictments were voted by the grand juries in the two year interval.

In the report to the attorney general, all other indictments voted by the grand juries were lumped into a single category labelled "other felonies." These total 17 and 13 of the defendants drew convictions. There was one acquittal for defendant and three were dismissed.

Included in this group are narcotic law violations as well as all other felony offenses. The 13 convictions provided 64 years in prison for the defendants. One drew a probation sentence.

In the two years, there were seven petitions for writs of habeas corpus before the court. None of the petitioners was discharged.

10 Criminal Cases Docketed

Ten criminal cases have been tentatively docketed for trial this week in 118th District Court.

Gil Jones, district attorney, said that he did not know how many of the cases would be tried. Several of the defendants may elect to plead guilty before the week ends it was indicated.

Trial of Jessie Gutierrez, charged with rape, will most likely be first case called. A special venire—which could have been required since the defendant is indicted for a capital crime—has been waived. He will be tried by a jury from the regular venire of 60 which has been notified to be in the court at 10 a.m. Monday.

Other cases docketed for trial include: Paule Deane Morris, DWI second; Clarence Oldham, forgery; William C. Ping, forgery (two counts); Willie C. Harry, forgery; Jose G. Chavez, burglary; J. L. Spears, worthless check; Barney Milton Prince, DWI second; and Fred Olivas, child desertion.

Transient Nearly Frozen To Death

TRACY, Calif. (AP)—It was 96 in Tracy, but Bobby Bates, 41-year-old transient, nearly froze to death. He was asleep in an empty refrigerator car when the Tracy Ice and Development Co. dumped five tons of ice around Bobby through a chute. It took men with shovels an hour to dig Bates out.

Work Steps Up On Capehart Housing Job

Capehart Housing Project southwest of town is making rapid progress at this time, according to Don Everett, superintendent on the job. The project is to provide housing accommodations for military personnel at the Webb Air Force Base. It represents an investment of more than $6.5 million by the Federal government.

Everett said that workmen are laying foundations for units at the rate of six a day and on some days as many as eight are being laid.

All underground plumbing for the units will be in place by Sept. 15. This relates to tie in lines for sewer, water and gas from mains into the unit foundations.

Everett said that 300 foundations are now in place. This means that all foundations for Area I — designated as the first to be completed — are in place and that Area II units are now shaping up.

Framing and roof decks are in place on 225 of the units and brick work is progressing rapidly.

Workmen have begun sheet rock work on a score of the units. Everett said that all main water lines into the area have now been checked out and that the lines are full of water. This diminished the potentiality of possible fire danger—a worry which caused Everett and his associates a lot of sleepless nights. Material, he said, is arriving daily. Dirt work in Area II is well forward and pads for scores of unit foundations have already been completed.

Resident Accepts $800 Judgment In Food Poison Case

B. A. Madry, Big Spring carpenter, Friday accepted a settlement of $800 as total compensation for the illness which he alleged in a damage suit developed from eating a chocolate cream pie with a chiffon topping.

D. C. Blair, doing business as Mary Lou Pies, and others, defendants in the case, paid Madry, his wife and their son, Randy, that amount in an agreed judgment of officially entered in the 118th District Court.

Madry's petition, filed early Friday, alleged he had purchased the pie at Jack's Drive-in Grocery about 1:30 p.m. on July 26. The pie was eaten half an hour later, he stated, by himself, his wife and Randy. All became seriously ill, the petition relates, and all were taken to a hospital where they spent three days recuperating from what was diagnosed, the petition alleges, as food poisoning.

He sued for $1,000 for himself, the same amount for his wife and $1,500 for his son, whom he said was the more seriously ill of the three.

In speedy fashion, the case was moved to court, the agreed judgment entered and approved by Judge Charlie Sullivan.

Counterfeit Plates No Good Any More

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A construction crew uncovered a set of plates for counterfeit $5 bills—30 years too old to do counterfeiters any good. The plates, turned up by a bulldozer, were for bills of the old "horseblanket" type, out of use since 1928. Bills then were about twice as big as they are now.

SWEET MUSIC is enjoyed by almost everyone, and these three presidents are no exception. At the piano is Mrs. Harrol Jones, president of the Music Study Club. Listening to the strains of her selection are Mrs. F. D. Williams, who heads the Child Study Club, and Miss Elizabeth Daniel, president of the American Association of University Women. All three clubs, along with the other study groups, will hold their initial meetings some time this month.

ADMIRING THE GROUNDS OF COSDEN CLUB are these gardeners, who are officers of the Big Spring Council of Garden Clubs. Mrs. Robert A. Bonnell Jr., at left in picture above, is secretary of the organization; Mrs. Dale Smith is president and Mrs. J. D. Elliott is treasurer. Making up the council are the Big Spring Garden Club, oldest of the units, Spaders, Planters, Oasis, Rosebud and Four O'Clock clubs. Activities of the groups include flower shows, flower show schools, sponsoring of the city-wide Christmas decorations contest and garden pilgrimages. (Photos by Keith McMillin.)

SORORITIES ARE STUDY CLUBS, TOO, and they include women with various interests. Meeting at night, the groups give an opportunity to employed girls and women to join in the activities of an organization. Mrs. Fred Stitzell, at left, is president of the Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority, while Mrs. James Tidwell heads the Council of Beta Sigma Phi. Included in the council are four chapters, Beta Omicron, Xi Delta, Xi Mu and Mu Zeta.

Study Clubs In New Season

From the time that women's study clubs were organized, they have been held up to ridicule in cartoons and stories, but it seems that they're here to stay. And even the most ardent scoffer must admit that the organizations are agencies for benefits to mankind.

On the local scene, the women's clubs were instrumental in carrying on a library at the time when there was no county library. Members supported it and served periods of time in keeping it open for the public.

The present Concert Association is an outgrowth of the efforts of club women to bring a "bit of culture" to the town.

Club women were partially responsible for the start of the Westside Recreation Center, which is an outgrowth of a nursery begun as assistance for working mothers in the west section of the city.

Through the years, various women's groups have redecorated the building, secured caretakers, provided entertainments and parties and built up a reading room. At one time, story hours were held at regular intervals for the children of the neighborhood.

Now, through federations and councils, the groups work with various welfare agencies and serve as volunteers at the state hospital. All this in addition to the activities and studies carried on in the individual clubs.

With September, comes the opening of the club season, and most of the groups plan special meetings of some kind for the initial gatherings.

The Modern Woman's Forum has announced a patio supper to be held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Leonard, 1500 Pennsylvania. Theme of the year's study will be Ideals — Our Greatest Strength.

The first club organized by the Modern Forum is the Woman's Forum, whose members will follow a yearbook based on the theme, Abundant Living Through Knowledge. This unit will be entertained with a Coke party at their first meeting.

Members of the Junior Woman's Forum have not announced special plans for their first gathering; during the year, they will make an intensive study of the local school system. Their second meeting will be a guest tea on Sept. 23, at which time the speaker will be Floyd Parsons, superintendent of Big Spring Schools.

Youngest member of the forum is the Spoudazio Fora, which name means "study club". Also planning a patio supper for their first session, members will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cherry. Their study will be based on the topic, Beauty In Everyday Living.

On September 25, the annual luncheon of the Hyperion Council is scheduled to be held at the Settles Hotel. Following the luncheon, the six clubs included in the council will hold individual meetings for study in the homes of members each month.

Included in the group are the 1905 Hyperion, parent of all other units, which are named according to the year in which each was organized. They are the 1930, 1946, 1948, 1953 and the Jubilee Hyperion Clubs. The latter unit was so named because it was organized during the year, 1955, the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the first group.

Another council of clubs is that formed by the six garden clubs, which include about 125 members. Parent organization of these units is the Big Spring Garden Club, which was begun in 1947.

Making up the council are the Spaders, Planters, Rosebud, Four O'Clock and Oasis Clubs; all collaborate on flower shows and garden pilgrimages and participate in various flower show schools.

PLANS FOR THE FIRST LUNCHEON are in the making as Mrs. H. M. Jarratt, center, talks with two officers of the Hyperion Council. Mrs. Jarratt is president of the council, Mrs. Eil McComb, at left, is secretary, and Mrs. Lloyd Wasson is treasurer. Presidents of the six clubs included in the council are vice presidents of the organization. The fall season is always given a send-off with a luncheon in September when all members meet. This year's affair has been set for Sept. 26.

Bluhm-Landwermeyer Rites Read In Midland

MIDLAND — In a candlelight ceremony, read at 7 p.m. Saturday in the chapel of the First Baptist Church, Carol Ann Landwermeyer of Midland became the bride of Robert Frank Bluhm Jr., of Big Spring.

Dr. L. L. Morris, officiated for the double ring ceremony before an altar arrangement of cathedral tapers in candelabra entwined with huckleberry. Flanking the candelabra were matching baskets of white chrysanthemums, mixed with white gladiolus and green foliage.

The bridal aisle was marked with white satin bows. Parents of the bride are Mrs. Emma Dean Odom, 500 West Storey Street, and John Edward Landwermeyer of Fort Worth. She is a graduate of Midland High School and, prior to her marriage, was employed with Delhi-Taylor Oil Corporation in Midland.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Robert Frank Bluhm of Big Spring and the late Mr. Bluhm. He was graduated from Big Spring High School and attended Texas A&M College and Howard County Junior College in Big Spring. He plans to enter Lamar State College of Technology in Beaumont this fall.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white Chantilly lace. The figurine bodice was designed with a bateau neckline accented by a satin cord which was repeated on the bracelet length sleeves. The bouffant lace skirt was waist-length and styled with a harem hemline.

The bride's triple illusion veil fell from a shell cap of matching lace trimmed in pearlized orange blossoms. She carried a stylized bouquet of white Elfe Starlight roses and a Cateleya orchid atop a white prayer book accented with a shower of picoté white satin, tied with loveknits, and a strand of pearls.

Dorothy Landwermeyer of Midland, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a gown of blue taffeta and matching lace. The lace bodice was designed with a low neckline and brief sleeves. The bouffant taffeta waist-length skirt was encircled with a crushed cummerbund terminating in back with a butterfly bustle bow. She carried a crescent styled bouquet of white roses with cascading blue French carnations.

Billy Bluhm of Big Spring served his brother as best man. Ray Bluhm of Big Spring, also the brother of the bridegroom, was the candlelighter, and Eddie Don Harris and Richard Pachall, both of Big Spring, were the ushers.

Mrs. Joseph H. Mims, organist, played a selection of pre-nuptial selections including "If With All Your Heart" (Mendelssohn), "I Waited For The Lord" (Mendelssohn), "Oh, Tender Moon" (Gounod), "Nazareth" (Gounod) and "I Love Thee (Grieg), in addition to the traditional marches. Mrs. Maynard Russell accompanied Phil H. Hayes of Midland, uncle of the bride, and Phyllis Newby, who sang "Oh Perfect Love" and "Think On Me," and Hayes who sang a solo, "The Lord's Prayer."

A reception was held in the banquet hall of the church. Assisting the couple in receiving guests were the parents of the bride, the bridegroom's mother and the honor attendants.

Serving in the houseparty were Mrs. Forrest Vaughan, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Lillian Lichnovsky, Mrs. Eddie Don Harris and Margaret Arledge.

Centering the bride's table, which was laid with a floor-length white net over blue cloth accented with blue satin bows, was an arrangement of blue Frenched carnations and white rose buds, featuring the bride's chosen colors. The three-tiered white cake was presented for the assistance of members. "World of Music" will be the theme for the Music Study Club, which meets in the homes of members for the presentation of programs of biography and music of various composers. A protégée group of the club is the Junior Music Club, made up of young musicians of the city, who work under the direction of members of the senior organization.

A membership reception is being planned by the American Association of University Women for Sept. 20, which will begin the regular meetings. Study for the women will be concerned with the subject of Building for the Future.

At the tea, slated for 4 p.m. at the Music Building of Howard County Junior College, Joyce Howard and Ira Schantz will be guest artists. They will tell of their European tour with the All-America Chorus and will sing selections from the programs presented during their travels.

The subject nearest to the hearts of mothers—their children—will make up the studies for the members in the Child Study Club, which will begin regular meetings this month. Planned for the first gathering of the group is a discussion of safety in the home, with the speaker to be Otto Peters.

Also included in study groups are the sororities, Epsilon Sigma Alpha and Beta Sigma Phi. Besides a prescribed course of study, recommended by the national office of each of the organizations, members pursue timely activities and present programs on themes of local importance.

Welfare work is also carried on by the women, some of whom are employed in various businesses and offices. One of the outstanding projects is a charm school, which is conducted for patients at the state hospital, in which they are taught beauty routines and supplied with cosmetics necessary for improving their appearance.

Other units work with various civic projects, such as the Society for Crippled Children and Adults, the entertainments at the state hospital and furnishings for the recreation center on the West Side. Here, a chapter donated a television set for the use of the guests at the center.

Chapters making the Beta Sigma Phi Council are Beta Omicron, Mu Zeta, Xi Mu and Xi Delta.

Officers Elected By Ackerly Seniors
At a recent meeting of the Ackerly Senior Class, Joe Dean Hall was elected president; vice president is Buster Grigg. Winnie Taylor is to serve as secretary-treasurer, and Dorothy Williams is reporter. Joyce Franks is student council representative and Jerry Wayne Batson, a senior, was chosen president of the student council. Sponsor for the class is Garland Freeman.

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

Not that it makes any difference to most happily married couples, and probably to those that aren't still sitting close to each other as they drive down the streets, but what is all this about artificial wives? Hal Boyles must have run out of anything whatsoever to put on the hood when he wrote a column about a robot wife. He must have had a bad weekend without his Frances. And another thing—I read in a magazine that the reason editors should run "sexy" pictures of gorgeous girls is that it does so much for the morale of husbands who have drab wives. Well, NOW!

Among the first group of college freshmen leaving today are AVERY FALKNER JR., MELVIN FRYAR AND DAN McPHERSON. They will enter Abilene Christian College. They were taken to Abilene today by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Avery Falkner, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Fryar and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. McPheron. Avery Jr. and Dan will be roommates.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN RUDESEAL, LEE AND MIKE left Saturday morning for a three weeks vacation trip which will terminate in Arlington, Va., where they will be the guests of Maj. and Mrs. J. G. Rose and their children, Connie and Paddy. Mrs. Rudesal and Mrs. Rose are sisters. The Roses have lived in Virginia since January when the major completed his assignment at St. Johns, Newfoundland, with the Air Force. He is now assigned to the Pentagon in Washington, D. C.

Enroute to Virginia, the Rudesals plan to stop in Mansfield, O., and tour the Mansfield Tire and Rubber Co. plant.

Expected to arrive today from Carbon is MRS. JOHN REED, who will visit her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Harper.

MR. AND MRS. O. H. IVIE had guests briefly during the week when her aunt and niece, Mrs. D. H. Nelson and Pat stopped enroute from Brownwood to their home in Maywood, Calif. Mrs. Nelson

Hearty Salad

A good, hearty salad to serve at this time of year consists of shredded raw carrots stirred into cream-style cottage cheese. Place a scoop of the cheese mixture on crisp lettuce and add a dab of French dressing.

Quick Cocoa

Dropping a marshmallow or a stick of cinnamon into a cup of hot chocolate is about the only fussing the homemaker need do when preparing this favorite breakfast treat today. The chocolate milk, and chocolate dairy drink which milk companies put out now, have taken all the measuring and mixing from its preparation. They need only be heated before serving hot.

To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. House of Stanton are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Frances, to R. Darrell Barbee. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barbee, Big Spring. The couple will be married Oct. 9 in the Courtney Baptist Church. The prospective bridegroom is employed in Midland.

People will say:

Margaret Myrick Becomes Bride Of Robert L. McDonald

MRS. ROBERT LUKE McDONALD

Of wide interest in Big Spring is the wedding which took place Friday evening in Lubbock, when Robert Luke McDonald, 1603 Eleventh Place, took Margaret Hunt Myrick as his bride.

The bridegroom is the nephew of Mrs. W. D. McDonald of the Eleventh Place address. Mother of the bride is Mrs. Bernice Wolffarth Myrick, 1906 28th Street, Lubbock. Double ring vows were exchanged in the First Methodist Church before the pastor, Dr. Chess Lovern, as the bridal party stood amid arrangements of white asters and gladioli. These decked the altar, chancel rail and choir loft while vigil lights and cathedral tapers were used as a background.

Evelyn McCarty, organist, presented the nuptial music and accompanied Charles Signor, soloist, as he sang O, Promise Me, Walk Hand in Hand and The Lord's Prayer.

Horace S. Myrick gave his sister in marriage. The wedding gown, of cloud white peau de soie, featured a bateau neckline of scalloped Alencon lace and brief sleeves which were complemented with long kid gloves.

The high rising waistline was accented at the hips with puffs of re-embroidered lace which flowed into a flower design over the wide sweep of skirt which culminated in a chapel train. A full-length veil, mantilla style, was of hand-appliqued Brussels lace.

For something old, the bride chose the engagement ring of her grandmother; she wore a necklace, the gift of the bridegroom, as something new. Borrowed and blue was the garter, which is worn by her sorority sisters in Alpha Chi Omega Sorority as they are married.

Garlands of miniature ivy combined with butterfly roses and Stephanotis to form the bride's bouquet.

Attending as matron of honor was Mrs. William M. Randels of Warrenville, Ill., a sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Carolyn Abbott, Sylvia Telford, both cousins of the bride, and Cecilia McDonald of Big Spring, a cousin of the bridegroom.

Shading from deep pink to a pale hue were the frocks of the attendants, who were identically attired. Fashioned of chiffon, the dresses were bell-shaped with harem hemlines; folds of chiffon marked the V-necklines. Crescent bouquets matched the colors of the attendants' gowns.

Cecil McDonald of Big Spring was best man for his cousin. Ushers were James Day of Big Spring; Charles Terrell of Goldsmith, and Donal Myrick of Lubbock, brother of the bride.

Tapers were lighted by George Hunt of Lubbock, a cousin of the bride, and Bill McDonald, Big Spring, cousin of the bridegroom. Following the ceremony, Dr. and Mrs. Lovern assisted Mrs. Myrick and Mrs. McDonald, along with the wedding party, in receiving guests.

White satin covered the table which held two silver candelabra.

with an arrangement of white asters, miniature ivy and button chrysanthemums. A double wedding ring cake was served with punch from a cutglass bowl and ladle which had belonged to the great-great-grandmother of the bride.

Mrs. Horace S. Myrick was at the guest register. Big Spring women, who were included in the house party of 51, were Mrs. Cecil McDonald, Mrs. Jewel Kuykendall and Mrs. N. W. McCleskey. Also in the house party was Miss Alice Tingle of Atlanta, Ga., aunt of the bridegroom.

For a trip to Colorado, the new Mrs. McDonald chose a costume suit of brown wool, with which she used brown and beige accessories. Her corsage was an orchid of brown and green.

The bride is a graduate of Lubbock High School and Texas Tech. A graduate of Big Spring High School, the bridegroom attended Howard County Junior College. He is now a student in Tech; following his graduation in January, 1959, he will become personnel manager at S&M Lumber Co., Big Spring. Until that time, the couple will be at home at 2410 23rd St., Lubbock.

REHEARSAL DINNER Mr. and Mrs. Cecil McDonald were hosts Thursday evening for the rehearsal dinner, which was given at the Plainsman Hotel, Lubbock.

White wedding bells decorated the handmade pink place cards which were inscribed in silver, and the pink and white theme was furthered by the arrangement of tiny chrysanthemums, tinted in varying shades of pink. Candles burned in silver candelabra, each tied with pink maline and a nosegay.

Thirty-six guests were included in the party. BRIDESMAIDS LUNCHEON Mrs. W. D. McDonald, Mrs. Cecil McDonald and her daughter, Cecilia, attended the bridesmaid luncheon Thursday at noon, given by Mrs. Hub Jones, for the bride-elect and her attendants.

Recent Bride Is Honored

LAMESA — Mrs. Walter Curtis Perkins, a recent bride from Houston, was honored with a tea in the parlor of the First Methodist Church recently. The tea table was laid with a white Madeira linen cloth with a center arrangement of pink asters.

Music during the afternoon was furnished by Mrs. Carl Roundtree, Mrs. Weldon Lindsey, Mrs. Doyle Kelley and Mrs. Buddie White.

Included in the houseparty were Mrs. Marshall Middleton, Mrs. Norris Barron, Mrs. Rodney Williams, Mrs. Ray Braswell and Mrs. Doyle Kelley.

Hostesses for the tea were Mrs. J. R. Bizzell, Mrs. Leslie Pratt, Mrs. W. O. Moore, Mrs. R. W. Kelley, Mrs. H. L. Crouch, Mrs. Arthur Hull, Mrs. O. E. Dunlop, Mrs. Lulu Holloway and Willie Belle Cleveland.

Mrs. McClung Has Trip To Tennessee

Joyce McClung returned to work Wednesday after two weeks vacation in Tennessee. She also attended her brother's wedding in Denton.

Juanice Carter will be on vacation next week. She and her husband plan to do some fishing at Lake Thomas.

Betty Ford went home Thursday afternoon after spending six days in the hospital because of a virus.

Mr. and Mrs. Ike McKinney of Plano have been visiting the home of the Don McKinneys.

For all you skeptics, there are fish in Lake Thomas. Hank Brooks caught a 14 1/2 lb. channel catfish Thursday using spinning rod with 6 lb. test line and artificial lure. Mr. Grimes has been in Waggoner, Okla., attending a WPGA Seminar this past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Farris are in Dallas for the Walter H. Allen stockholder meeting. They will return to Big Spring Wednesday.

Bogans Have Guests

Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Bogan Jr. and family have as weekend guests Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Bogan Sr. of Quitaque.

Newlyweds Will Make Their Home Here Soon

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence A. (Larry) Fisher Jr. are at home at 110 Goliad following their wedding Saturday evening.

The bride, the former Kaye Bryant, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Carter, 800 Nolan. She was educated in the schools at Silkeston, Mo. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence A. Fisher, 810 West 8th. He attended high school in Carbondale, Ill., and is employed by Montgomery Ward.

The Rev. Noah Tuttle, minister of the Gospel Tabernacle, read the double ring service at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Nabors, 306 E. 6th.

Given in marriage by Mr. Carter, the bride was attired in a blue dress styled with full skirt of street length. At her shoulder was pinned an orchid. Her shoes were white. The new frock, a blue garter, a white Bible borrowed from Marilyn Newsom, and an old handkerchief belonging to a friend fulfilled bridal tradition.

Mr. and Mrs. John Long attended the couple.

Following the recital of vows, the wedding guests were served from a table laid with a white imported cloth designed with drawwork. White gladioli graced the center. At one end was the two-tiered cake topped with bridal couple. Guests were registered by Mrs. Dick Carson, and Mrs. Cecil Drake assisted in serving.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brazel, San Angelo.

CAMPUS CHATTER

By Kathy McRee

To be added to the curriculum of HCJC this fall is a Licensed Vocational Nurse course. This non-credit course will include five months training at the junior college from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday. At the conclusion of this training period, the next seven months will be spent in training at a hospital with four hours a week instruction. Those who wish to take part in this course may contact Dr. Marvin Baker at the college. To be qualified to take the course, you must be eighteen years old or older and must have had two years of high school. Mrs. George Amos will be the instructor for this course, which seems to be attracting much interest.

The faculty of HCJC for the new school year will remain much the same as last year. The only new instructor to be added is Mr. R. A. Brewster, who taught during both sessions of summer school here. Coming to Big Spring from Kerrville where he was an instructor at Schreiner Institute, Mr. Brewster will teach both freshman composition and sophomore literature.

We were glad to welcome Richard Engle home Wednesday after his absence for the entire summer. He left the last of May for Colorado, where he worked as a horse wrangler at Estes Park. Richard will attend Texas Wesleyan at Fort Worth this fall.

Best wishes are in order for Joyce Hill because of her recent engagement. She received her ring Wednesday from Lt. Don Smith, who was recently stationed at Webb and is now at Williams Air Force Base in Phoenix, Ariz. Don's home is in El Paso. The date has been tentatively set in the early part of January.

The Labor Day weekend brought Sue and Jerry Graves back to Big Spring for a short visit. They are living in Houston now, where Jerry will attend Rice and Sue, the University of Houston.

Rush Week at the various colleges is calling many of the local college students. Helen Gray, a soph at Tech, left Tuesday to aid in preparations for that busy frantic period. Lou Ann White also left Tuesday, but she was headed in the direction of Austin where she will attend the University of Texas. She also went early to help out in preparing for Rush Week. Rodney Sheppard, a graduate of HCJC, leaves Sunday afternoon for Texas U. where he plans to go through Rush.

Peach Jam Is Breakfast Dividend

If you plan to do any canning with fresh peaches, you'd better hurry or they'll be gone from the markets.

To add to those Sunday brunches, why not make up a couple of glasses of peach jam. Eat one now, put the other away for later. PEACH JAM

Ingredients: Three cups diced peeled peaches, 1/4 cup lemon juice, 1 1/2 cups sugar.

Method: Add peaches to lemon juice in 3-quart kettle. Simmer until peaches are soft and juicy, stirring occasionally. Add sugar; stir gently until sugar dissolves.

Boil gently until mixture reaches jelly stage—two thick drops should run together off side of spoon. Skim off foam during cooking period and at end.

Store in covered jars or glasses in refrigerator for immediate use; or turn into hot sterilized jars and seal with regular home canning caps (or use glasses and paraffin) for storing. Makes a little over one pint.

MRS. SAMMY DEE MEADOR

Denise Honey And Sammy Meador Repeat Vows In Wesley Church

Fern trees, gladioli and asters decorated the sanctuary of Wesley Methodist Church Saturday evening for the wedding of Denise Honey and Sammy Meador. The Rev. Royce Womack, pastor of the church, performed the double ring ceremony before the couple's relatives and intimate friends.

The bride is the daughter of A. H. Honey, 1009 Scurry, and Mrs. Ida Lee Barnett, Dallas. Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Meador, 1102 Wood, are the parents of the bridegroom.

Vows were exchanged before a background of fern trees punctuated with twin sunburst arrangements of snowmass gladioli and white asters. White flowers were massed atop the piano.

Following the ceremony, Mrs. Frank Arner sang "The Lord's Prayer, Because and Always. She was accompanied at the piano by her husband, who included "Intermezzo" and "O, Promise Me" in the nuptial music.

The traditional wedding marches were played for the entrance of the bride and for the recessional.

EMBROIDERED GOWN Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in a waltz length model of white embroidered nylon over polished cotton. Scallop of the embroidery outlined the bateau neckline which extended to a V at the back.

Scallops also edged the short sleeves. The molded lines of the bodice were relieved by the bouffant skirt.

With the dress as something new, she wore a two-layered veil of illusion borrowed from Mrs. Charles Johnson. It descended to waist level from a satin tiara encrusted with pearls and glass beads.

Her colonial bouquet combined French white carnations with a single gardenia at the center. A blue garter, the gift of Mrs. Wayne Blackwell, and an old penny in her shoe completed the bridal tradition.

Patricia Bradford, as maid of honor, was attired in a street length dress of pale blue glazed cotton which was tied with a sash of silk organza in contrasting blue. Scoop neckline, short sleeves and full skirt were featured. On her head was a band of the organza, and her colonial bouquet held Frenched carnations in blue and white.

James Howard Stephens served his cousin as best man. James Tibbs and Gene Smith, brothers-in-law of the bridegroom, were ushers.

Janice Sue Honey, sister of the bride, scattered rose petals from a white basket. Her frock of pale blue cotton was cut with high neckline and full skirt, and was caught at the waist with a royal blue sash of organza. Her headband was of matching organza.

Following the ceremony the guests gathered in the church parlor where the couple's mothers and Miss Bradford joined in the receiving line. Mrs. Carl Bartlett presided at the register.

White organza over bridal satin bordered with a ruffle of nylon embroidery and trimmed with tiny blue bows, enveloped the refreshment table. Blue candles glowed in a silver candelabrum and the floral accent was the bouquet of the maid of honor.

The three-tiered cake was crowned with a bridal figurine and decorated with blue roses. It was served by Mrs. Tibbs and Mrs. Smith, sisters of the bridegroom.

HOUSEPARTY Members of the houseparty were Mrs. H. H. Stephens, Mrs. H. V. Crocker, Mrs. C. R. McClenny, Mrs. G. H. Briden, Mrs. Lawrence Robinson, Mrs. Lois Smith, Mrs. W. G. Mims, and Mrs. R. W. Jennings.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Waltrip of Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Oren Comer, Midland; Mrs. Ida Barnett and Mrs. Bob Brecht, Dallas.

For the wedding trip to El Paso, Juarez and points in Arizona, the bride chose a full dress of nubby cotton. The multi-colored striped frock was styled with full skirt and three-quarter sleeves. Her shoes and bag were black, and white hat and gloves completed the ensemble. The gardenia from her bouquet was her corsage.

When they return, the newlyweds will reside at 1102 Wood and will attend at Howard County Junior College. Both are graduates of the local high school.

The bride will be in her sophomore year at HCCJ, where she is a member of Phi Theta Kappa, honorary scholastic society. She is employed by Dr. H. M. Jarratt. Her husband, a freshman at the college, is employed by R&R Theatres.

Various crafts will be demonstrated, and ideas for the year's work will be discussed. All members are urged to be present, and any women who would like to join the club are invited to attend.

Sundae Quickie Sundae Quickie: Spread a layer of vanilla ice cream on bottom of a refrigerator tray. Add a layer of raspberry jam. Alternate layer of ice cream and jam. Make top layer of ice cream, and sprinkle chopped salted nuts on top. Allow to reharden.

Stanton People On Trip To Houston

STANTON—James McCoy and Mrs. L. C. Stovall are spending the weekend at Houston visiting Mr. and Mrs. Neil Stovall.

Walter Graves, noble grand, presiding at the Stanton Oddfellow Lodge 473 Thursday night at the IOOF Hall, named several committees for various projects. Eleven members attended.

Mrs. Charlie Christopher, who underwent major surgery recently at a Big Spring hospital, is now beginning a series of treatments.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Graves and Granville and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Avery and Rae spent almost a week on the Rio Grande near Eagle Pass fishing and camping. Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Mims and Scherry and Cindy Avery have returned from a family reunion held at Sweetwater.

Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Haggard have been visiting at a Big Spring hospital with Mr. Haggard's sister who is a patient.

Mrs. Thompson Is Honored At Coffee

Friends of Mrs. Arch W. Thompson of Coahoma surprised her Friday morning when they called at her home to honor her at a coffee.

The occasion was a birthday anniversary for Mrs. Thompson; gifts from the 15 guests were presented to the honoree by her only grandchild, Archie Kountz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kountz, 1303 Wood.

A pink and white theme was used for the table and refreshments by the hostesses, Mrs. B. R. Thomason, Mrs. D. S. Phillips and Mrs. F. W. Burkholder.

FORSAN — Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Wash and Danny have returned from Brady where they attended a reunion of the Wash family. About 55 were present for the observance, held in the Brady City Park.
Demonstration parties were given recently by Mrs. J. L. Overton, who entertained in the home of her mother, Mrs. L. B. McElrath, and Mrs. O. W. Fletcher, who was hostess in her home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kubecka have been entertaining their granddaughter, Cheryl Moore of Odessa. They recently visited in San Angelo with Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Dunn. Other visitors in San Angelo include L.T. Shouts and Jackie, A. Z. Dean, Ricky and Randy.
Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Overton have been her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Rankin of Loraine.
Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Dunn and Wilma of Odessa visited friends here Sunday.

Covered Dish Supper Is Given For CWF

When the members of the Christian Women's Fellowship of First Christian Church met Thursday evening, a program was presented on the idea of television's "Person to Person."
The affair was a covered dish supper given at the church with the Rosa Ann Parks Circle as hostess group.
Mrs. H. W. Smith was leader, and Mrs. Bob Clark served in the capacity of announcer. Others participating were Mrs. Clyde Nichols, Mrs. C. M. Adams, Mrs. James Wilcox, Mrs. H. O. Hudgins and Mrs. Harvey Clay. Mrs. Tom McAdams presented the devotion for 28.

Forsan Sewing Club Meets In Big Spring
FORSAN — Mrs. N. A. Chambers was hostess for the Pioneer Sewing Club recently in her home in the Lockhart Addition, Big Spring. Present were seven members and two guests, Mrs. Maggie Pittman of Midland and Mrs. S. C. Crumley.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shannon have had as their guests, his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Shannon of Wichita, Kan.
The C. L. Gooches are at home again after attending a reunion of the Clemmer family recently held at the state park in Abilene. About 150 were present.
Mrs. Belle Overton and Mrs. Nell Moore, who have been in Christoval for about two weeks, are expected home soon.

Pickle Pointer
That white coating that sometimes forms on top of an opened jar of pickles can easily be avoided. Just pour a little olive oil on top of the liquid and store jars in the refrigerator. Olive oil forms a protective film.
As A Relish
Although today pickles rank as a zestful adjunct to other foods, in the thirteenth century they were often served as a main dish.

Just Leave The Hems Where They Are
DALLAS — Paris designer Yves-Mathieu Saint Laurent said today he dropped women's hemlines this season as a step toward "bringing back elegance and a ladylike look to fashion."
The youthful successor to the late Christian Dior was here to receive a special award for distinguished service in the field of fashion.

He said women of the Italian Renaissance inspired his high-waisted, free-form creations.
Sharing awards with him recently at the fashion exposition of Neiman-Marcus, Dallas specialty store, were Helen Lee, New York designer for children, and Jens Quistgaard of Dansk Designs in Copenhagen.

Cause For Joy

Could be that little Charles is jumping for joy that his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ratliff, finally found a house to rent. They went through an agonizing search before they could locate a place to call home. The Ratliffs have moved here from San Angelo.

Newcomers Feel Gravity Of Housing Shortage

House hunting almost proved futile for the Joe Ratliffs, or so they were beginning to feel last month. A regular parade of newcomers either followed or preceded them to every prospective domicile, and for a time they were wondering why they left San Angelo.

But they finally found 1202 Gra, which enabled the family to be reunited. Ratliff had been transferred here two months ago by Retail Credit Company, Inc., an international company out of Atlanta, Ga. He serves their local office, in the Acme Building, as chief inspector.

Brownwood is home to both Mr.

and Mrs. Ratliff. They met as high school students but married after he had had a year at Texas A&M College.

Hunting and fishing were sports they shared actively until the arrival of Charles. The six-month-old baby has an unusually happy disposition.

Mrs. Ratliff has stayed close to home with him and is content to listen to her husband's accounts of his hunting exploits. For instance he was lucky enough to bag his limit the opening day of dove season, Monday.

The newcomers attend Northside Church of Christ.

Coahoma Club Elects Officers, Fetes One

Meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Jimmy Neil, the Jolly Members Sewing Club in Coahoma complimented Mrs. Charles Parrish with a pink and blue shower.

Mrs. Edward Kennedy was welcomed as a new member and accepted the post as reporter.

In electing new officers, Mrs. Parrish emerged as president and Mrs. Dean Conrad, vice president. Secretarial duties will be carried by Mrs. Charles Parrish, with Mrs. Neil serving as recording secretary.

Mrs. Bobby Dodson will be social director, to be assisted by Mrs. Clay Bedell and Mrs. J. F. Bobo. The decorating committee is composed of Mrs. Odell Buchmana, Mrs. Tommy Proctor and Mrs. Tommy Barnes.

Mrs. Leeper Heads Group

Mrs. Robert Leeper was elected president of the Eager Beaver Sewing Club at a meeting held Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. D. D. Johnston.

Chosen to serve with her as vice president was Mrs. H. D. Bruton; Mrs. Dick Hooper will be secretary-treasurer; Mrs. J. E. Freeman was re-elected reporter.

Named to the social committee were Mrs. J. D. Kendrick and Mrs. Johnston. The group voted to keep the project of work at the VA Hospital for another year.

Sept. 16 was set as the date for the out-of-town trip, which is a regular event in the club schedule. Odessa was selected as the town to be visited.

Ten members revealed secret pals with gifts, and new names were drawn. The next hostess is to be Mrs. Kendrick, 612 Steakley.

Toy Boat

Fill a half walnut shell with paraffin and just before the paraffin hardens insert a toothpick in it. Attach a paper sail to the toothpick. The youngsters will enjoy floating this simple boat in water.

Club Reporters! Here's How You Can Get Better Publicity

By ANNE LEFEVER

September finds the women's organizations preparing for a session of work and study. Some of the groups have had their initial socials, while others are planning teas, luncheons or other gatherings to bring members together.

Publicity for these groups means a lot, not only for scrapbooks, but to let other organizations know of activities being carried on. In securing the ultimate in publicity, the responsibility is with the reporter of the club as much as with members of the newspaper editorial staff.

Here are some tips which will be of value to the publicity chairman or club reporter. May we suggest that they be clipped and kept for further reference.

1. The meeting should be reported to the Woman's Department of the Herald as soon as it has taken place or on the following morning before 10 o'clock. In this way, the story of the session can appear in the paper while it is still news. This also applies to various socials and any parties for birthdays and anniversaries.
2. News items should never be held over just for the sake of having them appear in Sunday's edition.
3. A party or meeting, held at the first of the week ceases to be news by the end of that week, and it will likely be given very little or no space. The newer an article is, the better chance it has of being printed in case a choice has to be made because of lack of space.

2. Another element of time which all reporters must observe is the deadline, or limit of time for accepting news. Stories should be called in to the Woman's Department before 10 on the morning that the news is to appear in the paper.
3. Deadline for the Sunday paper is at 11 a.m. Saturday, an hour later than on week-days. This is for very short items. Longer ones should be in much earlier to insure time for a good write-up. If a picture is to be used on Sunday, it should be in the office by Thursday afternoon.
4. Questionnaires for brides are furnished to engaged girls to help the bride-elect in giving us the necessary information concerning her approaching nuptials. We ask that the questionnaire be in our hands two days before the wedding.
5. Accuracy is another point to consider in reporting. Time of both the reporter and the newspaper staff will be saved if notes are made before the phone call. Check on every name, being careful to have the correct spelling. Please give husbands' first names or initials in reporting about married women. Members may call first names in the club or organization, but The Herald does not use the given name unless the woman is a divorcee.
6. Routine business may not rate much space in the story, but if a club is working on a special project, it may be developed into a feature story—that's what a news reporter searches for constantly.
7. For the calendar, which is published every Sunday, regular meetings are announced as they are scheduled in the office. Any change in the date, time or place, or any unusual announcement to be made about such sessions should be called to our attention by Thursday preceding the Sunday on which it is to appear in the paper.
8. Observance of these simple rules should enable the publicity chairman to do a bang-up job during her tenure of office and this will lead to better stories about the club, lodge, church group or what have you.
9. Better publicity, in turn, leads to more attractive and informative scrapbooks, many of them designed for judging in the district and state conventions, come spring.

CATHOLICS TO ENTERTAIN AT OPEN HOUSE

An open house given this evening in the Colonial Room of the Howard House will compliment Father William Moore, OMI, of St. Thomas Catholic Church. He will leave Thursday for Midland, where he will serve St. Ann Catholic Church.

All friends and parishioners of the church are expected to attend the affair, which has been set from 7 to 9 p.m.

Hostesses for the party are Mrs. Herman Bauer, Mrs. R. C. Frayser, Mrs. William Blanchard, Mrs. L. D. Jenkins, Mrs. Harry Jordan, Mrs. Bernard Huchton and Mrs. J. E. Flynn.

Grapes—Surprise Note To This Salad

Grapes are a surprise ingredient for this salad which boasts diced celery, romaine and oranges, with various seasonings.

Here is the recipe:
GREEN SALAD CALIFORNIA
 Ingredients:
 1 cup stemmed seedless grapes
 1 cup finely diced celery
 2 cups bite-size pieces torn romaine
 4 oranges
 8 tps. olive oil
 2 tps. tarragon vinegar
 ½ tsp. sweet prepared mustard
 Salt
 Pepper

Method:
 Put grapes, celery and romaine in a salad bowl. Chill, covered, until serving time. Pare oranges so no white membrane remains; cut sections away from dividing membranes; drain sections and at serving time add them to salad mixture.

Push salad to one side of bowl and in empty space add oil, vinegar, mustard and a dash of salt and pepper; stir. Toss with salad mixture, adding more oil, vinegar or seasonings to taste. Makes 6 servings.

Keep On Watering Tree Transplant Well Into Autumn

An aftermath of the Labor Day celebrations is the sudden neglect of tens of thousands of tender tree transplants that need regular care well into the dormant season.

Unfortunately, their natural demands are overlooked by too many home owners who consider the growing period officially over when it comes time to throw away the straw skimmer.

As a result, valuable trees go thirsty and hungry, when they still need constant attention because root growth continues to meet next spring's demands.

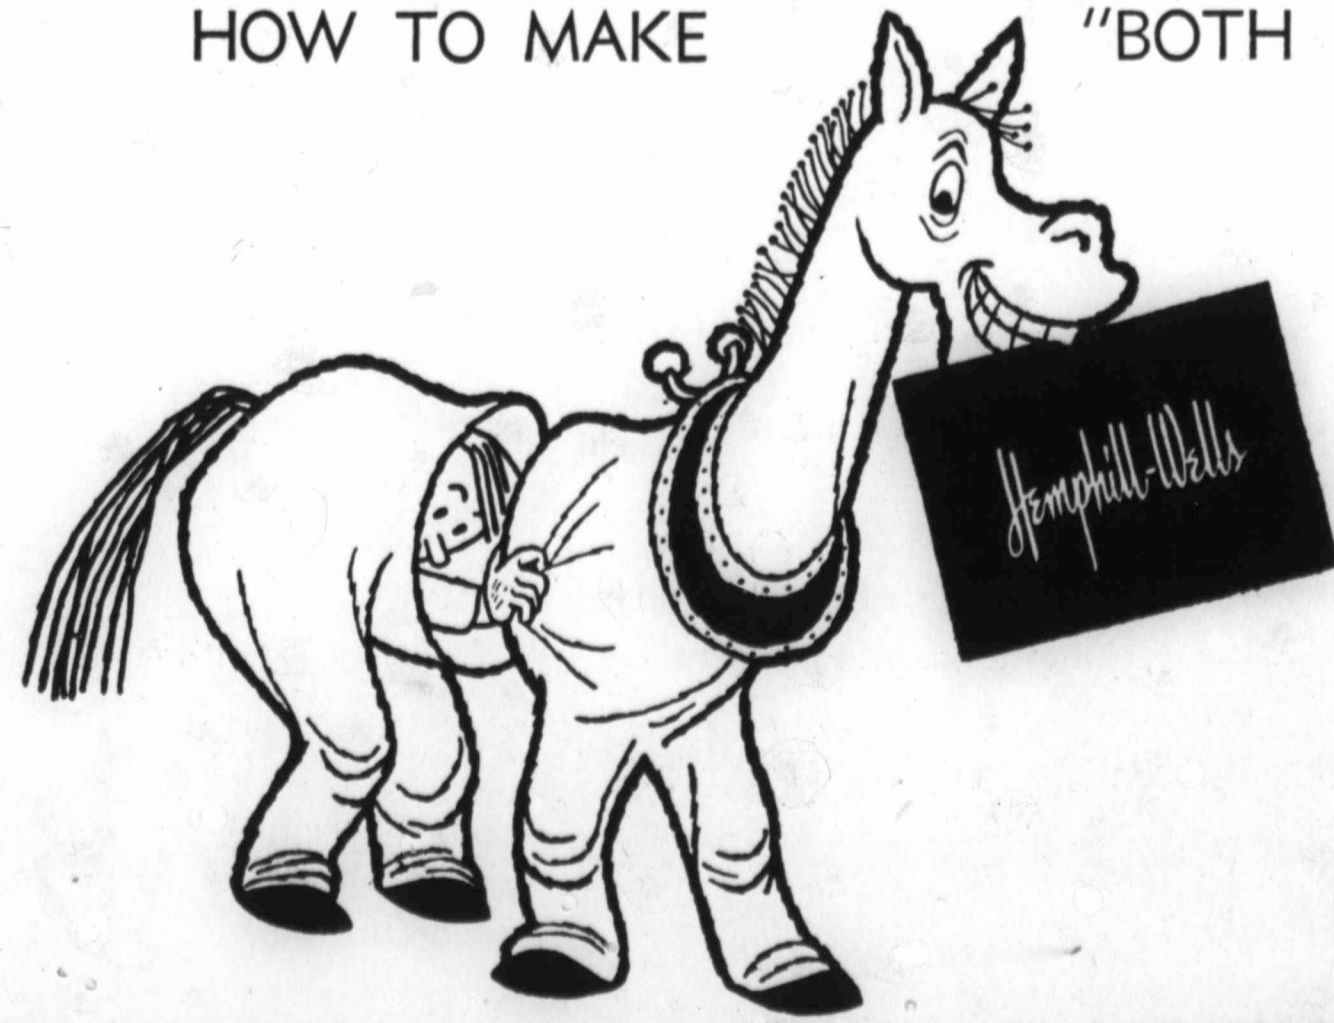

Trees planted even two and three years ago require deep and constant watering for the next several years. Reason is the curtailed root systems restrict moisture intake to a limited soil mass. Since soils will remain warm enough to encourage root growth, watering should continue well into October and even longer in southerly climates. This will be important in supplying nutrients to support next season's lush top growth.

Transplants at this time also use servings of tree food, which can be stored away until needed next spring. Now's also a good time to tighten guy wires and assure the tree staunch support during the winds and rigors of winter.

Marinade Meat

Less tender cuts of steak can become braulible meats when treated in this manner. Brush each side generously with soy sauce and olive oil and store in the refrigerator overnight. Soy sauce and olive oil help tenderize meats as well as add flavor.

Bias Trim Perks Up Simplicity Of Sheath

Herbert Sondheim likes his hemlines to make as much news as necklines and waistlines. Here, in a simple sheath that gently skims the figure (you can fit it more closely if you prefer), he uses a bias fold trim on the wide, boat neckline, down the front button closing and again as a knee-high band on the front panel only.

Wonderful in sheer wool, with satin or faille as the contrast, it can also be made in faille with braid or with self-trim on a challis print, or warp-printed silk.

From this chart select the one size best for you:

Size	Bust	Waist	Hips	Neck to Waist	Neck to Waist
8	33	23	34	16 1/2	16 1/2
10	34	24	35	16 3/4	16 3/4
12	35	25	36	17	17
14	36 1/2	26 1/2	37 1/2	17 1/2	17 1/2
16	38	28	39	18	18
18	40	30	41	18 1/2	18 1/2

Size 12 requires 3 1/2 yards of 54-inch material for short sleeve dress; 3/4 yard of 39 inch material for contrast.

Bob Johnsons Are Guests Of Shannons

FORSAN—Mr. and Mrs. Bob Johnson of Seguin are spending the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Shannon. Mrs. Johnson is the former Barbara Thiel.

E. O. Bassinger has been under treatment at Medical Arts Hospital; he is suffering from phlebitis which has infected a leg.

Mrs. Luther Stover of Iraan, mother of Mrs. Roy Walraven of Forsan, underwent surgery Friday morning at Malone & Hogan Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Howard have visited in Big Lake with their son and family, the C. R. Howards. They have since been transferred to Snyder.

Mr. and Mrs. Hood Jones and Cindy of Snyder visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Jones, and Mr. and Mrs. Harley Grant and sons.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Digby and Therissa of Odessa visited her parents, the M. M. Fairchilds.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thieme and family are on Lake Brownwood this weekend, fishing. Their guests are Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Everett of Big Spring, A. C. Rudy Dolan of Biggs Field, El Paso, has been a guest of his sister and family, the Thiemes.

Cottage Cheese

Cream style cottage cheese is preferred by most persons for salads and on appetizer trays because of its moist and more delicate flavor. Reason for its creaminess is that fresh cream is blended with the cheese just before cartons are filled.

Trainmen Ladies

Trainmen Ladies will meet at 6:45 p.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. Albert Smith, 809 West 18th, for a covered dish supper. This is a change in meeting place. The groups led by Mrs. Smith and Mrs. A. J. Cain will be hostesses.

P-TA Plans First Meet At Forsan

FORSAN—The first meeting of the Forsan P-TA is set for 7:30 p.m. Monday at the school, with the executive committee to assemble at 7 o'clock. Films are to be shown for children during the meeting, and a social will follow. All meetings for the year will be held in the evening, with socials as the climax.

Mrs. Frank Thieme, president, has completed her list of committee chairmen, and yearbooks are ready for distribution. Heading the committees are: J. C. Ferguson, auditor; Ronnie Gandy, audio visual; Mrs. M. M. Fairchild, budget and finance; Mrs. Ozro Allison, program and yearbook; Mrs. Sammie Porter, publications; Zemmalew Cooper, publicity; Mrs. D. M. Bardwell, health; W. M. Romans, hospitality.

Also, Mrs. Roy Walraven, membership; Mrs. Carlton King, projects; Mrs. W. M. Romans, home and family life; Mrs. L. L. Garner, spiritual education; C. C. Brunton, legislation; Mrs. R. L. Shelton, civil defense; and Mrs. Tom Spell, music director.

Other officers are Mrs. Allison, vice president; Mrs. Leo Parker, secretary; Mrs. C. V. Wash, treasurer; Mrs. C. C. Brunton, parliamentarian and Mrs. Sammie Porter, historian.

New Decorator Felt Is Easily Applied; Keeps Down Noise

A new decorative felt that for the first time combines the rich elegance long valued in felt with highly effective noise reducing properties and a easy application, has been developed.

The new felt has already been employed successfully in a large Fifth Avenue restaurant and in model apartments.

In addition to providing rich surface texture, the felt is particularly effective in lowering noise levels where large numbers of people are gathered, as in restaurants, clubs, public buildings. It is also useful in smothering outside noises generated by traffic and machinery which distract employees in offices.

Available in a wide range of smart decorator colors, it has a special finish which repels water, oil and dust. It is both flameproof and mothproof and also features a built-in vapor barrier.

Secret of the felt's ease of application to any wall or ceiling is its heavy leather-like backing. Any regular wall adhesive may be used—no special frames or moldings are required. When installed, the dimensional stability insures that no shrinkage or stretching will ever mar its soft, glowing beauty. Well-known to decorators is the ability of felt to soften and diffuse light, a property which makes it highly desirable in many locations where only a harsh, bright light is available.

$1, plus 5 cents postage. For Sondheim label, send 25 cents. Address SPADEA, Box 535, G.P.O., Dept. B-5, New York 1, N. Y. If paid by check, bank requires 4 cents handling charge. (Next week look for an American Designer Pattern by Cecil Chapman).

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Martin, San Angelo Highway, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Belvia Gill, to J. F. Nall of Midland. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Nall of Altus, Okla. The couple plans to be married in the Forsan Baptist Church on Sept. 27.

Bridal Shower Fetes Swinneys

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Swinney were honored guests at a bridal reception given Friday evening in the home of Mrs. Aubrey Armistead. The couple was married Aug. 29.

The bride is the former Shirley Jean Killough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Killough, 804 San Antonio; the parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Swinney, 219 Mobile.

One of the hostesses, Mrs. Ila Mae Dunning, registered guests in a book of white taffeta, which she had fashioned. Wedding bells, lace and a miniature white Bible were adornments of the book.

Two other hostesses, Mrs. Clint Miller and Mrs. Son Dunagan, presided at the refreshment table, covered with white organdy over pink. At each corner, pink rosebuds were pinned, while the center decoration was a make-believe wedding cake sparkling with sequins and based in lace. The bridal figurine on the cake was taken from the cake served at the couple's wedding.

Two bells and two hearts decorated the cake served at the shower.

Miscellaneous gifts were presented to the couple by the 75 guests included in the invitation list. A corsage made of tiny kitchen gadgets was given to Mrs. Swinney.

Joining with the other hostesses were Mrs. George Shipley, Mrs. Jim Millie n, Mrs. Miller Russell, Mrs. Wayne Thomas and Mrs. J. T. Chapman.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

SECTION D BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1958 SECTION D

1959 County Budget Higher By $73,898

Howard County's budget for 1959 has been set at $986,660.66 subject to any revisions or changes the Howard County Commissioners Court may see fit to make at the budget approval meeting on Monday morning. This is an increase of $73,898.17 over the total for the present year.

Of the total budget set up for the county, Lee Porter, auditor, has estimated that $490,464 will come from ad valorem taxes. These taxes are to be levied against all property in the county on the basis of an estimated actual valuation of $52,400,000. This estimate, based on figures now available and from reports set by Pritchard & Abbott, tax engineers, on a county survey, represents an increase of $4,110,930 over the total actual valuation for the preceding year.

Tax rate for the county remains unchanged from what it has been — $1.04 per $100 valuation. Taxes are figured on an estimated 20 per cent of the actual value of the property. The budget forecasts a total amount of taxes from the valuation given at $544,960—but the budget itself is based on the prediction that 90 per cent of this amount will be actually collected. Tax collections for the ensuing year are expected to exceed collections for the present year by $47,025.80. Other receipts to the county are estimated at $343,294.41—an increase of $1,532. Total expenditures and balances for the 1959 year will be $986,660.63. In 1958 the total was $912,762.66. In 1957, the total was $1,509,291.43.

Relatively minor changes are reflected in the breakdown of the budgets for the several funds for 1959 as compared with 1958. Slight changes were made in the allocation of the tax dollar but the total remained unchanged at $1.04. The permanent improvement fund tax rate is changed from 6 to 5 cents; airport bond requirement rate from 6 to 7 cents. The total operating fund rate is now 75 cents as compared with 76 cents and the total interest and sinking fund rate will be 29 cents instead of 28.

By funds and departments, the proposed budget reveals: (Jury Fund.)—District court—$26,760, increase over 1958 of $860. The increase is brought about largely by salary for a probation officer of $1,200 a year which was not on this year's budget and by a $300 increase for social security. Grand juror fund is down $500, however, and other minor reductions combine to leave an increase of $860 in all.

County court—$2,460. Decrease $40. Justice Court—$100. Unchanged. Jury Fund total budget for year $32,200.

Road and Bridge fund: $331,000; decrease of $14,000. General Fund: $128,000; decrease of $600.

Officer Salary Fund: $164,725, decrease $6,275. Tax assessor-collector: $35,000 decrease $1,000; County clerk: $26,125; decrease $2,875. District Clerk: $12,085; de-

No School

Melba Kay King, 7, wanted to begin her second year in school last week, but she may never go again. Stricken with cancer of the brain, she has been given treatments with radioactive cobalt in a Dallas hospital. But recently doctors told her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leland King, 1603 Roblin, to bring her home. The operation, which led to discovery of the malady and the subsequent inroads of the malignancy, have left her with a progressively paralytic condition in her left arm. King is a civilian employe at Webb AFB.

Robbs Push Plans On Apartment Buildings

Site development plans have been completed on the first stage of the huge suburban development being mapped in the South Mountain area by J. Y. and Ike Robb and associates.

This is for an apartment center, to front on Highway 87 south of the Jet Drive-in theatre. Initial development in this center calls for two, two-story apartment buildings of 24 2-bedroom units each, plus an efficiency apartment unit designed for from 16 to 24 smaller living accommodations. Final details on these projects are expected in a few weeks.

The site plan for this particular segment of the over-all development, envisions later addition of two other large apartment houses, plus integrated motor hotel buildings of up to 86 units in scope. Planning on the motor hotel segment calls for swimming pool, play area and restaurant facilities.

The apartment area, off the highway, will be reached by a circular drive that leads into a broad parkway, with swimming pool for apartment tenants. The site plan calls for commodious parking space, plus play areas and a larger picnic area. The apartment buildings are in U-shape design, each fronting on the central parkway.

W. S. Dawson of Dallas, interested with the Robbs (along with Matty Bell and H. B. Robb Jr. of Dallas) in the master development, was in Big Spring this week, along with W. J. Chambers, building contractor, to confer with city officials on the site layout and general details preliminary to close-out of plans.

Meanwhile, the site development work is continuing, the owners said, for the residential area which will be developed on the slopes and atop South Mountain. Additional details on this phase of the program should be ready soon, Ike Robb said.

Over-all plans are for development of a 320-acre tract, fully integrated in design, with space appropriated for parks schools, and with spacious lots and building restrictions. Also in the formative stage is a suburban shopping center, to be located at the intersection of Highway 87 and the new FM 700 cutoff.

Detroit Press Strike Ended

DETROIT (AP)—Striking newspaper pressmen voted at a meeting presided over by international union officers Friday night to end a walkout that led to a three-day shutdown of Detroit's three major dailies.

The return-to-work vote came after a 4½-hour meeting of members of Local 13 of the Newspaper Printing Pressmen's Union.

None of the three papers, the morning Detroit Free Press and the afternoon Detroit News and Detroit Times, published Saturday. All arranged to publish regular Sunday editions.

Pressmen walked off at the Free Press Wednesday, causing the paper to miss all its Thursday editions. The News and Times suspended publication Thursday. Spokesmen for the papers said they have an understanding that a strike against one is a strike against all.

Texas Railroads Trim Expenses

AUSTIN (AP)—Railroads operating in Texas last year slashed their expenses, paid more taxes and showed about a three million dollar increase in profit, the Railroad Commission said Saturday.

In its annual report, the commission said: 1. That 54 incorporated and 2 unincorporated organizations engaged in the railroad transportation in Texas paid $40,485,868 railway and $226,295 non-railway taxes. It was a total of $3,074,485 increase over 1958 taxes paid to local, state and federal governments.

2. Operating revenue totaled $455,449,879 while railway operating expenses dropped to $349,842,282, a decrease of $4,892,629 in expenses. From a net revenue of $105,607,597, railways paid taxes, rentals and other expenses to end up with a new profit of $14,339,076 for the year, up $2,989,445 over the previous year.

Although the railroads showed a profit, they carried less passengers and less freight. The commission said 156,218,427 tons of revenue freight were carried and yielded 1.36 cents per ton-mile. It was a decrease of 7,229,532 tons from the previous year. There were 3,349,679 passengers carried, yielding 2.23 cents per passenger-mile. But 420,866 less passengers went by rails in 1958.

The railroads employed less persons in 1957 than the previous year 46,270, down 5,016. Average income for railroad employes was $5,310, up $406. Texas has 21,354 miles of track, of which 15,147 is first-main track.

Candidate Brims With Confidence

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Democrat George Hart has never held state office in Republican-dominated Kansas, and he's lost several campaigns. But his confidence hasn't suffered. Hart, a candidate for state treasurer, announced this campaign slogan: "I will not seek a third term."

Pensioners Get $5 Boost In October

October 1 will be a good day for 458 pensioners in Howard County. Checks which they will receive on or near that date for old age assistance, aid to the blind or aid to the disabled will be increased by $5.

This increase was announced last week by the State Department of Public Welfare and was described as a "blanket" boost to all recipients in the three groups listed.

The increased pensions will represent an increase in monthly cash to the 458 individuals of $2,290. Checks sent monthly to these clients range from a few dollars, to as much as $60 at this time. The average check per person for the county has been $46.14 per month. The average will now increase to near $51, according to T. J. Compton, area supervisor for the department. His office is in the basement of the Howard County Court House and serves nine West Texas counties identified as Area No. 55.

He said the state figures as of Aug. 1, the latest on hand, show there were 224,898 old age pensioners on the rolls in Texas. The average check to these is $47.10. In the nine county area which Compton supervises, there are 2,109 such pensioners and their average payments are $46.70. The blanket boost covers all such clients, he said, regardless of the amount now being received.

His area includes 47 persons who are blind and receiving pension checks averaging $50.49 at this time. There are 6,372 blind persons on the state rolls with an average monthly check as of Sept. 1 of $51.07.

The state has 3,376 persons classified as permanently and totally disabled who are receiving average monthly checks of $46.86. Thirty one such persons live in Area No. 55 and receive average monthly checks of $46.52.

Total money sent into the county for old age clients on Aug. 1, was $21,499.04. In October this total will climb to $23,789.04. Compton said that the number of old age pensioners does not vary materially from month to month. Deaths remove some from the rolls but they are replaced by others who have become qualified for such aid.

A breakdown of counties and the average monthly checks being received prior to Oct. 1 in Area 55: Borden, six, $40.17; Dawson, 368, $47.24; Fisher, 307, $47.19; Glasscock, 12, $44.08; Howard, 466, $46.14; Martin, 85, $49.74; Mitchell, 467, $45.88; Scurry, 373, $46.62; Sterling, 25, $51.20.

Blind persons receiving aid checks in the area and the average checks prior to the new increase:

Dawson, 8, $49; Fisher, 8, $54.13; Glasscock, none; Howard, 6, $47.83; Martin, 2, $46.50; Mitchell, 14, $57.07; Scurry, 9, $44.11; Sterling, none.

SGTS. FRAMPON AND SPIVEY TAKE RETIREMENT Two Webb AFB Sergeants Take Their Retirement

Two Webb AFB sergeants, M. Sgt. Bailey S. Spivey and T. Sgt. John C. Frampton, retired from active duty in the United States Air Force during ceremonies at Webb last week.

Their average benefit checks: Borden, none; Dawson, 8, $51.88; Fisher, 3, $49.67; Glasscock, none; Howard, 6, $43; Martin, 2, $44; Mitchell, 5, $45; Scurry, 7, $43.86 and Sterling, none.

The certificates of retirement were presented to the two sergeants by Col. Kyle L. Riddle, base commander, who along with Lt. Col. Carey B. McCoy, wing personnel officer, congratulated them for their honorable service in the United States Air Force.

Sgt. Spivey, a native of Eddy, Texas, had 20 years, six months and five days of service in the Armed Forces, during which time he made two trips overseas, to Panama from June of 1944 to June of 1949 and to Germany from May 1952 to November of 1953. He is married and has two children.

Sgt. Frampton, from Duluth, Minn., completed 22 years, one month and 13 days of military service. He journeyed to foreign soil on three occasions, going to Germany from April of 1946 to August of 1949, to Korea from November of 1951 to November of 1952, and to Japan from June of 1956 to December of 1957. He is married and has three children.

The combined total service of these two men amounts to 42 years, seven months and 18 days.

Club Sponsors Breakfast At Hangar Today

Members of the Webb Aero Club are looking forward to a big turnout at their Hangar Breakfast to be held this morning, at Hamilton Field.

The public has been invited, and no affiliation with the club is required. The breakfast will be cooked and served by members of the Club and will cost only $1.00 for adults. Children may eat for half price.

Several visitors are expected to fly in from other communities, and prizes are being offered for (1) Most unique aircraft, (2) pilot coming the longest distance, (3) oldest aircraft, and (4) the oldest pilot, either male or female.

From 10 a.m. to 10:30 an air show will be staged, and transportation to and from church will be provided those who fly in.

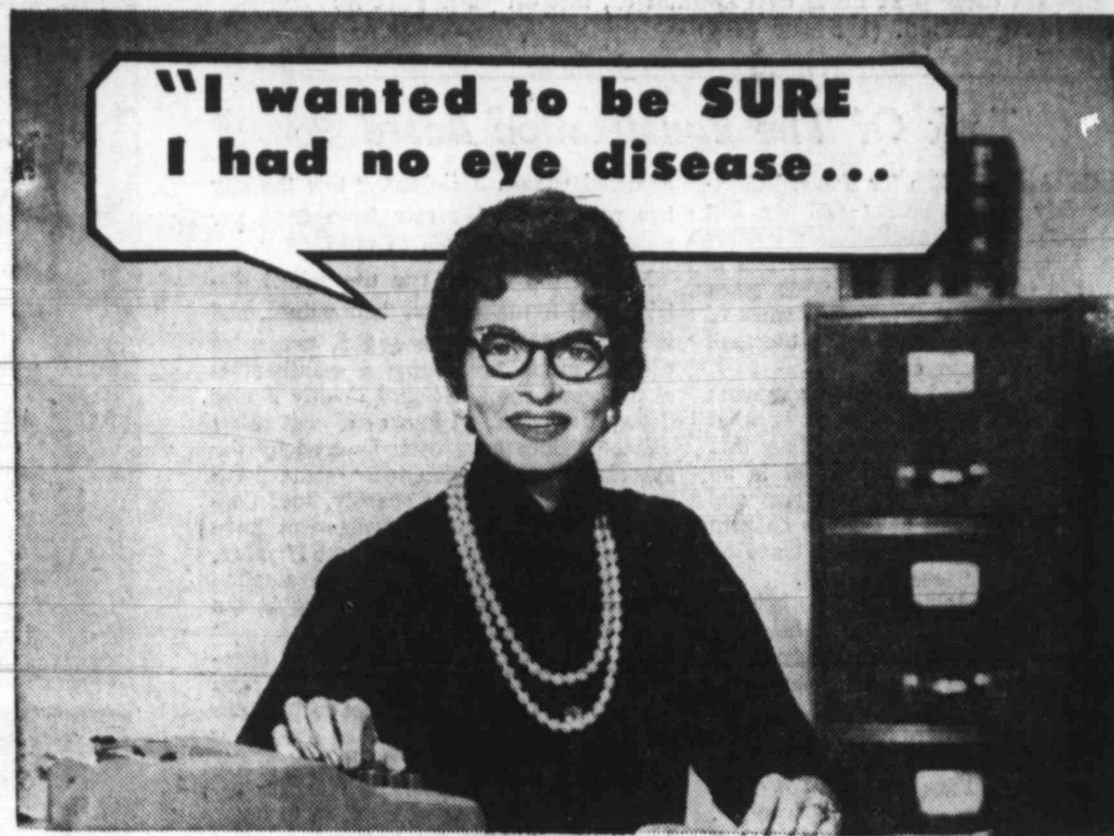

Purpose of the club is to provide members with convenient and economical flying facilities, to encourage and develop skills in aviation, and to provide the Air Force and the nation with an air-minded citizenry.

At the present the club has some 50 members. Officers emphasized, however, you need not be a member, or even a pilot to enjoy the hangar breakfast. All you need is an appetite or a desire to go, and to meet and talk with pilots.

Diet May Affect Resistance And Disposition Of Your Dog

By AKIN M. SIMPSON, D.V.M.

Feeding pets an adequate diet is one of the most important factors in keeping them healthy, happy, and contented.

Like many of our other domesticated animals, the dog is, to a large extent, dependent upon his master for the good he gets. A large majority of dog health problems are caused by hit-and-miss feedings.

Without a proper, balanced diet pets cannot build up the resistance to diseases that is necessary for them to remain healthy.

If a dog is listless, nervous, sheds excessively and has a generally unsatisfactory hair coat, or is subject to digestive system upsets, one of the first places to look for a cause is in the diet.

GOOD FOOD—GOOD FEELING

There are still a surprisingly large number of people who believe a pup can be fed anything. However, more and more people are learning that puppies and even adult dogs need special attention when it comes to a well balanced diet.

Normally the mother's milk adequately takes care of the pups at least for the first few weeks of life. Where there are exceptionally large litters it is sometimes necessary to provide extra feeding for the puppies.

A veterinarian can work out a satisfactory formula of milk, corn syrup, egg yolk, cod liver oil and water, and in most cases will go a good job of providing extra nourishment to puppies in very large litters.

Many veterinarians advise giving puppies a little easily-digested food as soon as possible. There are two reasons for this. The puppy will be more easily weaned if it has learned to eat other food while it is still nursing the mother, and if the mother's milk is inadequate as to supply or nutrient content, this extra feeding will help the puppy grow.

TIME TO WEAN

Usually puppies are weaned about the fifth or sixth week. At this time they can be introduced to raw meat or a good dog food or baby food mixed in milk.

The puppy should be fed four or five times a day from weaning to six months. By the age of six months the feedings can be reduced to three a day and at the end of a year it can be put on a full grown dog's standard of one or two meals per day.

Raw meat is one of the basic items of the diet, but other foods are needed, too. If dogs receive only raw meat, they will suffer from malnutrition. However, if the raw meat portion of the diet is balanced with the other necessary nutrients, malnutrition will never occur and the dog will not become irritable.

Vegetables and green materials are necessary in balancing out the diet of a dog. They are a rich source of certain vitamins and minerals. Tomatoes and carrots are probably the most beneficial. Certain products made from cereal grains are also added to many dogs' rations.

TABOO FOODS

Dogs should not be fed whole corn or corn on the cob. Beans and peas may be fed only if they are thoroughly mashed. These foods come in the "roughage" class. They should be fed sparingly because the dog is a natural food gulper. Roughage food may sometimes cause a little difficulty in the digestive tract.

A dog cannot successfully be fed on starchy food alone, but a dog can easily assimilate starch.

Human beings and dogs are comparable when it comes to eating candy and sweets. A piece of candy serves as an excellent "pick-up", therefore, the best advice is to use discretion and intelligence as to the amount of candy given the dog. The old bugaboo about candy being a source of worms is definitely not true.

The selection of a brand of dog food for the pet is similar to choosing other items by brand name. The best recommendation for any product is the reputation of the manufacturer.

Many of the larger manufacturers maintain exceptionally fine laboratories headed by outstanding research men.

Much of the canned dog food is produced in plants operating under the supervision of the meat inspection division of the Bureau of Animal Industry, United States Department of Agriculture.

RIGHT AMOUNT

The dog should receive enough food to keep it in good condition. The actual amount depends on the individual dog. It's usually good advice to keep the pup a little hungry. Usually, allow the dog three-quarters to a full ounce of canned dog food per day per pound of the dog's weight.

One of the most common and simplest mistakes in caring for a dog is overfeeding. The digestive process will slow down if the dog is overfed. The pet will get fat and lazy and will show little enthusiasm for playing. Overeating may cause a dog to shed excessively, and to give off a "doggy" odor. Overeating is most often found in dogs that are kept indoors a great deal, and do not get enough exercise.

A dog that chews on shoes, nails, or wood and shows other evidence of a depraved appetite may lack certain vitamins or minerals in its system. This condition can usually be corrected by making certain the diet is accurately and correctly balanced. The puppy may chew on a shoe in play, however, without there being anything wrong with its diet.

CLEAN HIS TEETH

Most veterinarians find that the dog's teeth get too little attention from the owner. Tartar should not be permitted to form on the teeth and it's best to see that it is removed every few months. A dog's teeth can be brushed every week or so to keep them in good condition.

Some dog owners use a toothbrush, while others use a clean cloth dipped in baking soda, boracic acid, or any milk antiseptic. An exceptionally good tooth cleaner is a hard dog biscuit or bone.

There is a great deal of difference between feeding a sick dog and one that is healthy. The fact that a sick dog's system and body needs to be built up must be considered so the food that is provided should not only be nourishing but also be easily digested.

If a dog refuses all food, tempt it with some salmon, a piece of liver sausage or some other particularly appetizing bit of food. For an invalid dog, beef broth or a mixture of orange juice and corn syrup make easily digested rations.

Saved By The Cross

A work crew was "saved" by this old rugged cross, but for this world, not the next. Allen Robertson, president of the Big Spring Civic Theatre, inspects the wooden cross used to hold up the roof of the Prairie Playhouse after the interior walls had been knocked out to make room for an auditorium. A few weeks ago, when the supporting wall came out, the ceiling started to sag, dangerously and work projects director Bob Walker, with an apologetic nod in an upward direction, ordered his crew to hoist the cross into place. The cross, used in the 1937 Easter Pageant, was the only beam available at the time. A regular beam will be inserted at a later date, stored in the background is a much better-constructed cross used in the 1958 Easter Pageant, and which the Civic Theatre plans to use again next year.

Ernest Truex Says Acting Is Just Hard Work

By JAMES BACON
HOLLYWOOD (AP) Ernest Truex says he doesn't like acting, never has. Yet when the new Ann Sothern Show goes on—CBS-TV shortly, Truex will be starting his 64th season as an actor. "I'm grateful for everything acting has brought me," Truex said, "but there's no harm in me. Acting has always been work, sometimes drudgery." He's also an actor who never yearns to play Hamlet. "That's how I started in this business at the age of 5," he said. Truex's father was a country doctor who once treated a penniless Shakespearean actor. The actor used his convalescence to teach 5-year-old Ernest how to recite Shakespeare. Truex got so good with the bard that he went on the road, billed as "The Child Hamlet." Being tiny, he played child roles until he was married and the father of a son. In one play he portrayed a 13-year-old boy so convincingly that a 9-year-old actress in the same play got a violent crush on him. "She was so demonstrative about it," Truex recalled, "that it became most embarrassing. I couldn't convince her that I was married and the father of a son." The actress later became more famous as a writer and congresswoman. Her name: Clare Boothe Luce.

Jet Scenes, Good Direction Make 'Hunters' A Good Film

THE HUNTERS, starring Robert Mitchum and May Britt. Produced and directed by Dick Powell. Thursday through Saturday at the Ritz. About the only things that aren't downright wonderful about this film are the story and Robert Wagner. Otherwise, the audience is left breathless with some of the best jet air shots ever filmed, and impressed by some good acting. A word, also, about the direction. Dick Powell, this writer has always said, is one of the best in Hollywood, and I offer "The Hunters" as proof. Powell indicates his capability by inserting as many air scenes as he can logically get away with, and leaving the audience in many cases to do its own thinking. A lot of people come away with the feeling that it must be madness to build such beautiful jets to fly in such a stunning manner through God's sky—on missions of destruction. But Powell doesn't preach the point.

Union Backs Play

NEW YORK (AP)—A trade union local is helping finance one of next fall's off-Broadway productions, "The Man Who Never Died." The drama concerns the 1915 case of labor leader Joe Hill.

Piper Laurie To Be On Broadway

NEW YORK (AP)—Piper Laurie, who began her career as a Hollywood starlet better known for her figure than acting skills, is making her Broadway debut after years of work in TV dramas. She has signed to appear in "Handful of Fire" opposite Roddy McDowall, who began his career as a film star. The N. Richard Nash play is to be directed by Robert Lewis, with opening set for October.

New Magazine Of Theatre Planned

NEW YORK (AP)—A new magazine concerned with stage activities throughout the country is to be published this fall entitled "The Theatre." Charles Lipsitt, head of the project, says its goal is "to turn the interested reader into the active playgoer."

Rev. O'Brien Enthused Over Christmas Music Project

The Pastor's Association hasn't had a chance to act yet on Betty Ware's proposal for a choral Christmas program, but it looks like an inside shot. Rev. P. D. O'Brien, association chairman, was out of town and did not receive Mrs. Ware's letter in time for the pastors' meeting but afterwards, he became quite enthused over the idea. He is now working up details on time and place and will present his plans at the next meeting of Big Spring ministers. Mrs. Ware's idea was to combine the community's church choirs into a massed chorus to present Handel's "The Messiah" and perhaps a second evening of traditional Christmas music, sometime during the Christmas season.

As interest in the project grows, there are these other developments: Some citizens are considering James Gambino, noted Odesa conductor, as leader of both orchestra and massed chorus for the program. Ira Schantz, HGJC choral director, suggests the second night's performance, at which traditional Christmas music will be presented, be an audience-participation event, with the chorus leading off the audience into a rousing round of carols. If interest is equivalent to action, it begins to look as if Big Spring's Christmas program will be the event of the year.

'The Box' Gets Technical Aid

A. J. C. John E. Morning, who recently came from Stead AFB, Nev., to join the Air Police Squadron at Webb, has volunteered to serve as technical director and advisor to the producer of "The Box," scheduled for a two-day stand at the base theatre next week. Stead AFB is one of the U. S. bases at which the Air Force conducts programs designed to acquaint our troops with some of the obstacles which will confront them if they are ever captured by the enemy. Although Bob Walker, author of "The Box," and T. Sgt. Dewey Magee, its director, had begun rehearsals several days before, Airman Morning made several suggestions that have been adopted. One of the suggestions was a "get-tough" attitude by the guards, when they bring the prisoner before Colonel Romanofsky, the interrogator. Morning says they really "get tough" at Stead. "The Box," a two-act drama with appropriate introduction by the author, will be presented at the base theatre Monday and Tuesday; there will be two shows daily—10:30 a. m. and 2 p. m. "The Box" is to be presented in connection with the monthly character guidance meetings, and attendance is mandatory for all military personnel. A ruling has been requested on the voluntary attendance of the civilian employees at Webb. Characters in the drama are: Colonel Romanofsky, the Commissar, and interrogator at the prisoner-of-war camp; Captain Peter Lynch, USAF—a captured pilot; Dr. Hon Lee, prison physician; two prison guards and the narrator. Magee will play the part of the Russian Colonel; A. J. C. Norman Sant will take the role of Captain Lynch, Staff Sgt. William G. Hickenbotham will double as Dr. Hon Lee and as assistant director. The two guards will be played by A. J. C. Thomas Hardee and A. J. C. Jerry Fouts.

ganization is inviting any interested orchestra players in Big Spring to join the group. With the exception of flutes or clarinets, there are openings in every section of the orchestra. Players are paid a nominal sum ($10) per concert, and travel consideration is given to players who make the trip from Big Spring. The orchestra, conducted by Walter Mantani, will give five children's and five adults' concerts this season, all on Saturdays. The concerts are so scheduled that both the children's and adults' performances are on the same day. At the first concert Oct. 18 will be Amparo and Jose Iurbi who will perform as a duo-piano team with the orchestra. Johanna Martzy, violinist, Grant Johannesen, pianist, and Andres Segovia, guitarist, are to perform subsequently in the season. Also scheduled in the list of concerts is "A Night in Vienna," a performance devoted to works usually associated with that city. Big Spring players are urged by Symphony officials to come to Monday's first rehearsal, bringing their instruments with them. The procedure for joining the orchestra is simple. After a short interview with Conductor Mantani, the player takes his place in the orchestra; there are no auditions. Additional information may be obtained by calling Walter Mantani, collect, at Mutual 2-8813.

Safest Place At Top Of Totem Pole

The high man of the totem pole has the safest spot.

The Pilot Training Group at Webb AFB has erected a Flying Safety "Totem Pole" in front of its headquarters building. This "Totem Pole" ranks the 16 flights according to their flying safety record with the flight having flown the most hours for the year of 1958 without an accident being at the top and so on down to the flight behind the "8-ball," the one that has had the poorest flying safety record.

The five top flights on the "Totem Pole" are accident free and are shown below in their rank order along with the hours flown since January 1, 1958:

"P" Flight (Section IV), 2,880:00 hours; "E" Flight (Section II), 1,922:05 hours; "L" Flight (Section III), 1,547:45 hours; "G" Flight (Section II), 1,536:05 hours; "Q" Flight (Section IV), 1,534:20 hours.

All but one of these flights, "L" Flight, are in the 3561st Pilot Training Squadron which is commanded by Lt. Col. Philip G. Cardin. Flight "L" is of the 3560th Pilot Training Squadron, commanded by Lt. Col. Thomas S. Simpson.

An aircraft accident can be classified as either major, minor, or incident, according to the number of man hours required to repair damage to the aircraft or equipment. The major accident is the most costly and will have the most effect on a flight's standing on the "Totem Pole".

This standing commenced Jan. 1 and will continue through 31 December. The flights are designated on the "Pole" by a silhouette of the T-33 with the flight designation on the tail of the silhouette. Flight standings will be determined and posed at the end of each month, and a Flying Safety Award, in the form of a plaque, will be given the No. 1 flight. Col. Charles H. Pierce, commander of the group, awarded the plaque to the Flight Commander of "P" Flight, 1st Lt. Stephen W. Rainbolt, who has since been transferred to Randolph AFB, at the recent Pilot Training group monthly dinner. Capt. James W. Shattuck is the new commander of "P" Flight who will carry on the outstanding Flying Safety record established by "P" Flight.

The "J" and "L" flights of Section III, of the 3560th Pilot Training Squadron, and "P" and "G" flights of Sections II, of the 3561st Pilot Training Squadron, went through the entire year of 1957 without accident of any kind. Two of these flights, "L" Flight and "G" Flight, are still accident free.

'P' Flight High Flier

Col. Charles H. Pierce, commander of the 3560th Pilot Training Group, second from right, presents the flying safety plaque to Capt. James W. Shattuck, flight commander of "P" Flight, second from left, while Lt. Col. Leland A. Younkin, group executive officer, left, Maj. Sherrod H. Osborne Jr., group operations officer, center, and Lt. Col. Philip G. Cardin, commander of the 3561st Pilot Training Squadron, look on.

Farmers May Overplant Cotton At Lower Parity

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farmers will be permitted to overplant 1959 federal cotton allotments 40 per cent if they accept lower price supports.

The Agriculture Department set this overplanting limit late Friday under a new program recently enacted by Congress. The agency had authority to set it anywhere between zero and 40 per cent.

Those who overplant will be eligible for price support at 15 per cent of parity below the support extended growers who stay within allotments. The rate for the latter, to be announced later, will be not less than 80 per cent of parity. The new program, by allowing prices to drop below present levels, is designed to enable the crop to compete more easily with foreign cotton and with man-made fibers.

Big Fair Opened

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—President Tito today opened the 55th Zagreb International Fair which has attracted about 4,500 exhibitors from 27 foreign countries along with nearly 1,000 Yugoslav enterprises. The United States is the biggest foreign exhibitor.

DEAR ABBY

JUST TELL HER

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am in a spot and don't know what to do. My friend (we grew up next door to each other) is getting married in November and she asked me to be a bridesmaid. She's been engaged to this fellow for three years and all the time she went out with him she has been sneaking out to go with others. I don't respect her and really don't want to be a bridesmaid at her wedding because I know too much about her. She says she is marrying him for security and will learn to love him after they are married. How can I get out of being her bridesmaid after I said yes?

ON THE SPOT
DEAR ON: Merely "growing up" with someone doesn't constitute a friendship. Tell her you have changed your mind — and tell her why.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has a very irritating habit of reading in bed before going to sleep. If you've ever tried to sleep with the light shining in your face you will realize my problem. In my job I am on 24-hour call and I could use the extra sleep. Should I burn the magazines or sleep in the doghouse? SLEEPY IRENE

DEAR SLEEPY: Neither! Get a bed-light that shoots a beam of light, or buy eye-shades for yourself. Goodnight, Irene!

DEAR ABBY: We have a very stingy aunt who accepts dinner invitations from all the relatives, but never invites anyone to her home. Last Christmas she won a turkey in a raffle and it only weighed 12 pounds and she had the nerve to invite 36 people to her house for turkey. All she served with it was cranberry sauce and garlic bread. She has been the talk of the whole family ever since. My husband says we should invite her anyway and overlook her stinginess. Do you think he is right or not? I say she should stay home if she can't entertain others like they entertain her. She is in better financial shape than any of the rest of us, so that's no excuse.

A NIECE
DEAR NIECE: Life is too short to bear a grudge over anything so insignificant as what was served at a party. Next time offer to "help" her and talk enough "turkey" to her to feed everybody.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "EXHAUSTED": Prosperity is just around the coronary. Slow up.
