TAX EXPERTS EXPLAIN VALUATIONS Most taxpayers accept new property values

MOST SATISFIED

100 Show Up For Tax Explanations

A hundred taxpayers showed up Monday morning at opening sessions of the county-city-school equalization boards with the obvious intention of protesting the tax valuations on their property.

about 50 had been interviewed by the tax engineers. Two of the 40 could not be satisfied by these agents and took their cases to the combined city-school official board.

The hearings will continue through Friday on a daily basis. The equalization boards will meet at 10 a.m. daily and a fifth of all property owners whose property was revalued will report each day.

6 Persons Die In Hotel Fire

BELFAST, Maine, (AP) — Six persons died yesterday as fire spread through the Colonial Inn, a landmark in this coastal town for more than 100 years.

The dead included a young mother and her little daughter who were on vacation. Two other guests and two employees of the hotel also lost their lives in the pre-dawn blaze that started in the kitchen.

Several guests escaped the flames and choking clouds of smoke by leaping from windows. Three of them were injured.

The dead, all of whom were suffocated, were: Clifford Curtis, 44, an electrician of Belfast; George Trumble, 70, a retired Belfast shoe worker; George Turner, 44, Maywood, Ill., the inn's chef; Richard Moulton, 27, substitute night clerk; Mrs. Valerie Donovan, 28, and her 14-year-old daughter, Jill, of East Boston, Mass.

Agri-Business Planning Set

A planning session for the second annual Agri-Business Day to be held here next year has been set for Tuesday at 2 p.m. in the Chamber of Commerce conference rooms.

Due to be here for the conference are C. B. Senter, agriculture agent for the Texas & Pacific Railway Company, and Loyal Walker, head of the agriculture department for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The agri-business parley held here earlier this year was one of the most successful events of its kind ever staged here, chamber officials said. Outstanding speakers from business, the extension service, colleges, etc. addressed the one-day meeting held at Howard County Junior College.

Tells Nuptial Plans

NICE, France (AP) — Brigitte Bardot, the French screen's sexiest star, announced her engagement Sunday night to a young guitarist, Sacha Distel.

The 23-year-old actress met Distel on the Riviera this summer. Brigitte was divorced last December from Roger Vadim, who directed the films that made her famous.

LAST CHANCE to share in $50 CASH offered in the SILHOUETTE CONTEST. This is the final week. See Your Sunday Herald for full details.

Much Of Area Is Hit With Showers

Occasional showers, heaviest in the area north of Big Spring and around Lake J. B. Thomas northeast of here, drifted across this area Sunday and Monday.

The moisture, welcomed by some and greeted without enthusiasm by farmers who have cotton ready to harvest, was this section's gift from Tropical Storm Ella which beat itself to death on the Gulf Coast and in Southwest Texas during the weekend.

Rainfall in and around Big Spring ranged from only .02 of an inch east of town to .58 in the downtown area. Most of it fell this morning, although light showers Sunday were counted in the total.

At Lake Thomas, gauges caught an inch Sunday and another .47 this morning. The lake level rose .03 of a foot to elevation 2,254.50.

Snyder received half an inch of rain from several showers Sunday. Colorado City reported .31 of an inch from two showers Sunday, and none late this morning.

Sweetwater received 1.04 and Eskota 1.54, Texas Electric Service Co. reported. TESCO also gauged .20 at Chalk and .30 at Lamesa. Official weekend total at Lamesa was 1.06.

At the Texas Electric plant on NE 2nd, only .04 was gauged this morning and .02 was reported at the station east of town. Webb AFB reported .05. In Washington Place, .40 was recorded.

Light showers were reported in the Elbow area and southwest of there.

Gunman Shoots Up Car In Lover's Lane, Abducts Girl

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (AP) — A gunman invaded a secluded lover's lane here Sunday, shot up an automobile, robbed its four occupants and seized a pretty 18-year-old blonde. Then he fled into the early morning darkness.

The kidnaped girl was identified as Marjorie Schneider, a Fort Collins stenographer whose parents live at Wakeeney, Kan.

As he dragged Miss Schneider toward his car, the gunman turned and said: "Thanks for the money. Sorry I busted up your car. I want the blonde to come with me."

Sheriff Ray Scheerer and more than a score of deputies searched the northern Colorado area in patrol cars during the night, but turned up no lead to the missing girl and her captor.

Horsehoop Reservoir four miles southwest of Fort Collins. Miss Schneider's companions rushed two miles to telephone officers.

Sheriff Ray Scheerer said indications are that the crew-cut gunman is extremely accurate with the high-powered rifle which he carries.

Scheerer identified other occupants of the car as Miss Schneider's date, Ellsworth E. Farnik, 21, a student of Colorado State University here from Estes Park, Colo.; James Coleman, 19, a Fort Collins fireman; and his wife, Janet, 18.

Scheerer said the bullets from the gunman's rifle shattered the Farnik vehicle's windshield, shot out the headlights, two front tires and radiator.

Texas Cotton Crop Forecast Rises Slightly

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department today forecast Texas' cotton production this year at 4,200,000 bales, a slight increase over last month's prediction of 4,150,000 bales.

If the forecast is carried out, it will be the largest Texas crop since 1953, when there were no acreage restrictions.

And not since 1866 (c) has the yield per acre been as great. Today's forecast said the acreage production will be 375 pounds. Last season, the yield was 295 pounds.

The 10-year average is 222. The whopping prospective yield is credited to the best moisture in years, fertilizers and other improved practices.

Estimated harvested acreage of 5,380,000 will be the lowest since 1895.

Nationally, the department forecast a crop of 12,105,000 bales. This estimate, is 522,000 bales more than the department's August forecast of 11,583,000 bales.

Last year's very small crop was 10,964,000 bales and the ten-year (1947-56) average 14,136,000 bales.

The crop will be supplemented by reserve and surplus supplies of about 8,750,000 bales accumulated from past big crops.

Cotton is being grown on the smallest acreage since 1876 under a government crop control and soil bank land retirement program.

In an accompanying report, the Census Bureau said 1,099,257 running bales from this year's crop had been ginned prior to Sept. 1. This compared with 969,677 ginned to the same date last year and 1,510,410, two years ago.

The cotton acreage expected to be abandoned before harvest was put at 3.6 per cent. This would leave the acreage for harvest at 11,960,000 acres compared with 13,558,000 last year.

The yield per harvested acre was forecast at an average of 486 pounds compared with 388 last year and 317 for the ten-year average.

The production of American-Egyptian type cotton was forecast at 83,900 bales compared with 81,900 last year and 41,600 for the ten-year average.

BULLETIN

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Gov. Price Daniel today nominated Rep. Frank Icard of Wichita Falls as temporary chairman of the state Democratic convention to be held here tomorrow. (Earlier story on Page 1-B)

Local Delegation Off To Convention

Howard County's delegation to the state Democratic convention left early today for San Antonio. The convention will open at 10 a.m. Tuesday in Municipal Auditorium at San Antonio.

Howard County will have 22 votes which will go into the liberal-loyal column in any contest that may develop for control of the convention and party machinery.

Frank Hardesty, county Democratic chairman here, is chairman of the local delegation.

Dormitory Loan Contracts Signed

The loan agreement for the two dormitories at Howard County Junior College has been completed. Howard County Junior College officials said Monday that the agreement previously executed by the college had been executed and returned by the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency.

The amount is good up to $600,000 for a 52-unit women's dormitory and a 104-unit men's dormitory.

Olen Puckett of Puckett & French, architects-engineers, said Monday that work was progressing on the plans on a night and day basis. He hoped it would be possible to have them completed within six weeks.

Lamesa Negro Is Shot Under Heart

LAMESA — A Lamesa Negro, Willie Collins, 35, remained in serious condition in a Lamesa hospital after being shot just below the heart Sunday.

Hospital officials said that Collins was showing some improvement but his condition was still serious. No charges have been filed, but a Negro woman is being held for investigation.

Maine Leads U.S. Vote For Last Time

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Maine leads the rest of the country to the ballot box for the last time today in an election pivoting around a vital race for the U.S. Senate.

Republican Frederick G. Payne relied on his Washington experience and a sort of mutual assistance pact with President Eisenhower to fend off the challenge to his Senate seat.

The challenger is Edmund S. Muskie, a popular two-term governor and the best Democratic vote getter ever produced in the Pine Tree State.

A heavy, record vote was forecast with plenty of split ballots expected. Polls opened as early as 6 a.m., and voting ends at 7 p.m.

The outcome in Maine will help cut the campaign pattern for the congressional election in all the other states in November. The way Maine votes may supply the tipoff on the extent to which Democrats generally will raise questions about the rectitude and foreign policy of the Eisenhower administration.

But never again will national political attention focus on a September election in Maine. This is the last one. From now on, Maine will vote in November when the rest of the states do.

At stake today along with the Senate seat are three in the U.S. House—two now held by Republicans and one by a Democrat—and the governorship Muskie is relinquishing.

The big interest is in the Senate contest and an issue that has had some aspects of an iceberg, with most of it submerged beneath the surface.

Chow Time

That will be the popular period at the western style party slated for Saturday evening at the Officers Club. Sampling, in advance, is being done by Mrs. James H. Locke and Lt. Col. William W. Lee, as Lt. James M. Brown Jr. "dishes out the grub". Reservations for the buffet supper must be made today, Tuesday or Wednesday by members from the base and from town, according to the hosts, the Maintenance and Supply and the Installations Groups.

Three-Six Club Marks Second Anniversary

On the second anniversary of the Three-Six Club, members of the group entertained their husbands at a bunco party Saturday evening.

The affair was a buffet supper given at the Base Pavilion, which had been decorated with a false ceiling of pink and purple streamers caught with Japanese lanterns and parasols.

A lace cloth over lime green covered the table, centered with an arrangement of mixed summer flowers. In charge of decorations were Mrs. Lester Pasquale and Mrs. Thomas Glover.

In the games, first place went to M. Sgt. Doyle Irwin; second place to Mrs. Eudis Greeg. M. Sgt. Pasquale won third high, and Mrs. John Joseph, fourth. Consolation prize was awarded to M. Sgt. Joseph; M. Sgt. Harry Heise won low score, and Mrs. Pasquale stopped the floating prize.

Flowers and decorations were won by Mrs. Vincent Best. Dancing was a part of the evening's fun for the 16 attending.

Lamesa Man Marries In Saturday Ceremony

LAMESA — The Ford Chapel of the First Baptist Church in El Paso was the setting for the exchange of vows Saturday which united in marriage Sandra Ann Nelson and Euel Ray Hill of Lamesa.

Mrs. M. K. Nelson is the mother of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. E. X. Hill are the bridegroom's parents.

Dr. H. Ford read the double ring ceremony and musical selections were presented by Mrs. Bruce Dyer.

Baskets of white gladioli and white asters were used to decorate the chapel.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Dean R. Spires, the bride wore a sheath of silk organza with floating back panels held by pink rosebuds. A queen's crown of white tulle and tiny blossoms held her veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses showered with pink rosebuds.

Jo Leeta Jones was maid of honor. She wore a silk organza dress of ice blue with lace Empire bodice. Her headress was of matching blue silk petals. White roses surrounded by yellow rosebuds formed the bouquet.

Mrs. Bob Dunn of Lamesa, sister of the bridegroom, was the bridesmatron. She wore yellow chiffon with rhinestone trimmed bodice and carried flowers identical to those of the maid of honor.

Billy Ray Galbreath, Taboka, uncle of the bridegroom, was the best man. Serving as usher was Bob Dunn of Lamesa.

Debbie Hill and Ricky Hill, Grand Prairie, cousins of the bridegroom, served as flower girl and ring bearer.

For traveling, the new Mrs. Hill chose a fall cotton in shades of gold and brown with matching jacket and white accents.

Following the wedding trip to Las Vegas, Nev., the couple will make a home in Austin, where he will be a senior student majoring in government at the University of Texas.

Lamesa Gardeners Are Given Breakfast

LAMESA — The garden at the home of Mrs. Guy Simpson was the setting for a breakfast for members of the Green Thumb Garden Club Friday morning. Quartet tables were laid with colored cloths and held summer flowers as the center arrangements.

Assisting Mrs. Simpson with the hostess duties were Mrs. H. M. Walker and Mrs. Clarence Scott. Mrs. H. M. Walker spoke on "Peonies" and Mrs. Clyde Brannon discussed "The Care of Trees" and in conclusion gave "The Farmer's Poem."

Eighteen members and three guests attended the breakfast.

Teachers Honored

LAMESA — Mrs. Bob Lindsey Jr. was the hostess for a backyard supper Friday evening at her home. Members of the high school faculty and their husbands and wives attended the covered dish supper. Garden flowers were used on the quartet tables, laid with white linen cloths. Approximately 30 attended the supper.

New Earrings

Relaxed facial contours and prominent jawlines have made many women forego the glamour of drop earrings, but the newest, long, slim beauties remedy these facial problems. Because the new earrings drop well below the jawline itself, they not only minimize contour irregularities, but glamorize the neckline, making it appear slimmer and more graceful.

Western Dance Set For Saturday

Western dress will be in order at the party to be given at the Officers Club Saturday evening with the Maintenance and Supply Groups and the Installation Group as hosts.

Reservations must be made by Wednesday for the buffet supper to be served chuck wagon style from 8 to 9 p.m., and for the breakfast which will be available after the dance.

Music for dancing will be supplied by Jeff Gayer and his orchestra.

Guests are asked to dress in western clothes, and decorations of the club will follow a western motif, it has been announced.

All honorary members of the club are invited to make reservations.

Sandwich Mixture Features Tongue

Sunday night supper will be a breeze with this new sandwich filling whose base is smoked tongue. Black olives and celery do their part in flavoring the mixture.

RED AND BLACK SANDWICHES

Ingredients:
1 cup finely-chopped cooked smoked tongue
1 can (4 1/4 ounces) chopped black olives
1/2 cup finely diced celery
1/4 cup mayonnaise-type salad dressing
1 tsp. lemon juice
Salt
Pepper
Thinly-sliced bread
Butter

Method:
Mix together the tongue, olives, celery, salad dressing and lemon juice; add salt and pepper to taste. There will be about 2 cups spread.

Use as filling between buttered slices of bread—1/4 cup spread for each sandwich. Refrigerate any leftover spread in covered jar for use next day. Tongue should be knife-chopped rather than put through food chopper.

Bake Veal Chops With Italian Sauce

Italian-type tomato sauce dresses up veal chops for a company dish. You might round out the menu with rice, broccoli, a salad bowl and lemon pie for dessert.

For the veal chops, follow these directions:

BAKED VEAL CHOPS

Ingredients:
Six loin veal chops (about 1/2-inch thick); 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 can (10 1/4 ounces) marinara sauce, boiling water, minced parsley.

Method:
Cut off most of fat from around outside edge of veal chops. Melt butter in 12-inch skillet; when very hot add veal chops and brown rapidly on both sides. Remove to baking dish (8 by 12 by 2 inches) so chops are in one layer. Four sauce over and around chops.

Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven until tender—about 45 minutes. From time to time during baking process add 2 to 4 tablespoons of boiling water to sauce around chops and stir it in. Amount of water used depends on how rich and thick you want sauce. Sprinkle with minced parsley.

Makes 6 servings.

Rush Party Given By Mu Zeta Group

Members of the Mu Zeta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, entertained rushees and their husbands Saturday evening at Lake J. B. Thomas.

Host couples for the event, a Weiner roast, were the James Dillons, the Bill Priebees, the Stanley Greens and the Ray Pipeses.

Twenty attended the party, among them, rushees and their husbands, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Neefe, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bright and Mrs. Linda Edwardson.

Miss Chavez To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Rafael Chavez, 306 NE 10th are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Antonia, to A.C. Theodore Bodhirny. He is the son of Mrs. Dimitri Karzewski of Brooklyn, N. Y. The couple will be married Sept. 20 in Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

Coffee, Shower Given Miss Bedell

A coffee, given Saturday morning, was a kitchen shower for Wenoka Bedell, who is to be married to Joe Mack Roberts on Thursday.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clay Bedell of Forsan; the prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Roberts of Coahoma. The couple will repeat vows in the Forsan Baptist Church.

Mrs. Joe Connally was hostess for the affair with cohostesses, Mrs. Harold Martin and Mrs. Willie McDaniel. A bridal figurine base in sweet peas centered the table from which refreshments were served. Sixteen were included on the guest list.

Ruidoso Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Simmons, 110 N. Nolan, have returned from Ruidoso, where they visited the W. E. Simmonses, 1101 East 14th. The latter couple has been in the New Mexico town most of the summer.

Pre-Nuptial Showers Are Honors For Brides-Elect

LAMESA — Two Lamesa girls, whose wedding dates are set close together, were honorees at gift teas during the weekend in Lamesa.

The tea table was laid with a white linen cloth with a bubbling fountain holding yellow chrysanthemums and greenery forming the center arrangement. The appointments were of crystal.

Invitations were extended to 120. Miss Koen and Stuart will exchange wedding vows on September 20 in the First Baptist Church here.

A gift tea complimented Olinda York Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Thelma Cox. Miss York is the bride-elect of Bob Boardman with wedding vows to be exchanged on Oct. 4.

Sharing hostess duties with Mrs. Cox were Mrs. Ebbie Lee, Mrs. Edward Lauderdale, Mrs. J. W. Harp, Mrs. Nelson Williams, Mrs. A. B. Cox, Mrs. J. D. Nix Jr.,

Mrs. Carl Bowen Cox and Mrs. Doyle Shillingberg.

Laid with a peach linen cloth, the tea table held a center arrangement of melon-colored gladioli flanked by melon tapers in crystal holders. The appointments for the table were of crystal. Alternating at the table were Gayle Harris and Lynda Lauderdale.

The guests were received by Mrs. Cox and in the receiving line were the honoree; her mother, Mrs. Olin York; his aunt, Mrs. Ross Boardman from Seminole, and her grandmother, Mrs. Ettie York.

Mrs. Doy Ferguson registered the guests, and musical selections were presented by Sue Green, Marilyn Cox and Connie Nix.

Ike Says Allies To Stand Firm Against Reds

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—President Eisenhower, cautiously hopeful about a peaceful solution of the Far East crisis, says free world allies, meanwhile, will stand firm against the Communist challenge.

Eisenhower expressed that conviction at his vacation headquarters yesterday after a fresh survey of the Formosa Strait crisis with National Security Council members in Washington Saturday. The President interrupted his Newport stay for a few hours for a round of White House conferences. After a session on the Far East the government issued a statement welcoming Red China's offer to resume talks with the United States on safeguarding the peace.

Hopefully awaiting further developments, Eisenhower served notice about the West standing firm against communism in taking note that today is the fourth anniversary of the signing of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization pact.

In a statement, the President said of the work of the United States and the seven other member nations: "I am convinced that our cooperative efforts will continue to be successful. In the face of an undiminished challenge, the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization will vigorously maintain the protective shield necessary to the preservation of our common heritage of freedom."

The other SEATO members are Britain, Australia, France, New Zealand, Pakistan, the Philippines and Thailand. In Washington, Secretary of State Dulles put out a companion statement saying the Far East crisis clearly demonstrates the Chinese Communists have not renounced their expansionist goals. He voiced confidence SEATO will help preserve freedom.

Eisenhower slipped back into his vacation routine yesterday after taking part in communion services with his wife at a Navy chapel. They were accompanied by two of their four grandchildren, Anne, 9.

The two Eisenhower youngsters and a sister, 6-year-old Susan, came from Washington with the President Saturday night. Shortly after the services Eisenhower played 18 holes of golf at the Newport Country Club.

Yarbrough Joins Methodist Church Staff At Lamesa

LAMESA — Summer youth director at the First Methodist Church here for the past two summers, Don Yarbrough has assumed full time duties on the staff of the church as director of education and youth activities. A graduate of Weslaco High School, Yarbrough graduated this year from McMurry College, Abilene. In McMurry he was junior class representative to the student council; vice president of the council; student judge; grand sovereign of Ko Sari Social Club. He was one of 15 McMurry students selected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

He and his wife, the former Virginia Davis of Panhandle, and their one-month old son, Don Perry, reside at 809-B N. 5th Street.

British Rocket's Nose Cone Found

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — Supply Minister Athol Townley announced that the nose of Britain's Black Knight rocket was recovered today at almost exactly the spot for which its landing had been predicted.

The rocket, with which Britain hopes to put an earth satellite in orbit, was successfully fired Sunday night in south central Australia. Townley gave neither the specific altitude the rocket reached nor how far it traveled.

CITY LAUNDRY and DRY CLEANERS
Where Dry Cleaning And Laundry Is An Art

City Laundry and Dry Cleaners, 121 W. 1st, shown above, and its colleague, Ideal Laundry and Dry Cleaners, 401 Rannels, are pioneer establishments in Big Spring. Over the years both these popular establishments have provided residents with the best possible laundry and dry cleaning work. Both devote their constant effort to steadily improving their services in every possible way and as a result, hundreds of Big Spring residents automatically turn to them when in need for either first class laundry service or high grade dry cleaning.

SERVICE PROMPT

City, Ideal Laundry, Dry Cleaners Highly Esteemed

City Laundry and Dry Cleaners and Ideal Laundry and Dry Cleaners, two of Big Spring's largest establishments dealing with these two particular services, have long been held in high regard by their patrons.

Customers know from past experience that clothing sent to either of these places comes back to the owner beautifully clean and finished. They know, too, that the service is prompt, the cost reasonable. As a result, both the City and the Ideal have long enjoyed the patronage and confidence of a wide segment of Big Spring population.

Thomas B. South is manager of the City Laundry and Carl South, manager of the Ideal Laundry. Their long experience in the work and their understanding of the problems of management contribute much to the uniform success of both these establishments.

Constant efforts are made to keep ahead of the latest developments in modern laundry and dry cleaning techniques. New machinery and new methods are put into ### service as soon as their qualities are proved.

As a result, there is no better laundry and dry-cleaning service to be obtained anywhere than that which is available at these two places.

Pick-up and delivery service is efficient and prompt. A telephone call to either the City Laundry, 121 W. 1st, (phone AM 4-6801) or the Ideal Laundry, 401 Rannels, (phone AM 4-6231) will acquaint you with the fine service of these two popular establishments.

Swim-Clad Cops Patrol Beaches

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—A new kind of plainclothesman paid off for Santa Monica police. Officers staked out in swim trunks arrested 20 persons in a weekend campaign against parking meter cheaters at the beach.

Lloyd Hair Honored

COAHOMA — Lloyd Hair was honored by the Coahoma Volunteer Fire Department here last week when a community supper was staged on the occasion of his birthday. After the supper he opened his gifts and heard John Echols, 20-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Echols, sing "Happy Birthday." Guests attended from Lutherville and Big Spring as well as Coahoma.

Eight Points For Choosing Funeral Home

No one likes to think about the matter but most everyone realizes it would be wise to select a funeral home and a funeral director now, for such time when tragedy may strike down one in your family.

There are eight points which would be wise to check, when such a chore does face an individual or a family of the deceased. They are:

1. Does the funeral director have a complete, modern establishment?
2. Is there a complete selection of quality merchandise?
3. Are prices plainly marked or given so that you can understand them?
4. Has the funeral director a reputation for honesty and business integrity?
5. Is the funeral director of good moral character?
6. Is the personnel of the establishment well-trained and capable?
7. Is there a reputation for prompt, reliable service?
8. Is the funeral director financially responsible?

The Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home in Big Spring, located at 906 Gregg Street, is prepared to pass the aforementioned test with flying colors.

It has not one but two licensed, experienced funeral directors in Coy Nalley and J. C. Pickle, both of whom enjoy reputations for honesty and business integrity. Their organization specializes in prompt, reliable service and has at hand the latest in modern equipment plus the personnel trained to act in all emergencies.

The large chapel at the Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home is equipped to handle any type and size service. Nalley-Pickle ambulances are on duty 24 hours a day every day to serve the community.

Writers Will Meet

The writers club will hold its regular meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the home of Dr. Bill Sandefur, 1512-A Sycamore.

Easy Way To Kill Roaches And Ants

Scientists recommend that you control roaches and ants the modern way — with Johnston's No-Roach. Brushed just where you want it (table legs, cabinets, sills, asphalt tile, etc.), the colorless coating kills these pests. It's effective for months, sanitary and easy to use. 8 oz. pt. Get No-Roach at Safeway, Piggly Wiggly, Hull & Phillips, Newsom's, Bud Green, Cunningham & Phillips, and your local drug or grocery store.

NEW LIQUID CLEANS AND POLISHES CARS

Polish your car as you clean it — with POLISHAMPOO. Just apply rich harmless suds, then simply flush off dirt and "road film" that resist ordinary washings. Car dries quickly with no rubbing or wiping, leaving a polished surface. Use POLISHAMPOO regularly to keep car clean and polished. Bottle containing 8 shampoos . . . 98c. Available at Piggly Wiggly, J. O. Newsom, Bud Green, Jack's Drive-In, Hull & Phillips, and your local grocery store.

Wash Car Regularly, Maker Says

Automobile manufacturers say that the best way to keep a car shiny, new and valuable is to wash it regularly.

Car washing used to be a long, unwanted job — but today it's a thousand times easier with a wonderful new liquid . . . Johnston's Polishampoo.

Johnston's Polishampoo is a scientific formula made only for car washing . . . made to help you maintain the beauty and value of your car. It not only removes every last particle of dust, dirt, grit, and grime, but actually renews the brilliant gleam of the original car polish. Yes, with Polishampoo, the surface comes out spic and span, not a spot, not a streak; even the chrome and glass are automatically polished. And you don't have to rub or wipe dry. It works by itself.

Polishampoo is so easy to use that a small child can do it! All you do is pour an ounce of Polishampoo conveniently marked on bottle into a bucket and fill with water. The rich Polishampoo suds do the washing for you. Apply by sections, simply rinse off. Car dries quickly without rubbing or wiping. That's all!

Scientists tested Polishampoo for months on all kinds of cars, cars that had been driven through slush and rain and exposed to harsh weather, and every time an ounce of Polishampoo brought shining results.

Thousands of car owners are now giving their cars the quickest, easiest, best washes they've ever had with new Polishampoo. It's really inexpensive . . . 8 ounces — 8 shampoos: 98 cents; 16 ounces — 16 shampoos: $1.79.

It is available at Piggly Wiggly, J. O. Newsom, J. E. Green, Jack's Drive-In, Toby's Drive-In, Hull & Phillips, and your local grocery store.

Axtens Backed By 24 Years In Trade

No matter how old your house may be, Carrier Air Conditioning can make it modern. And Axtens Commercial Refrigeration in Big Spring will install the Carrier equipment.

With 24 years in business here, the Axtens firm has the "know-how" to install air conditioning in your home—or business—and they will be glad to talk with you about your needs. That need will probably include a Carrier unit.

By introducing new air conditioners that can easily be installed in any type of house and at prices that most everyone can afford, Carrier has made it possible for you to enjoy year-round comfort in your present house.

This is the way to make your house truly modern because air conditioning goes hand in hand with other improvements. You can install big picture windows without worrying about side casements or louvers for ventilation. For most windows you can forget the annual chore of putting up screens and maintaining them. You can build a game room in the basement without fear of dampness. The personnel at Axtens Commercial Refrigeration will be glad to make estimates of your needs. There is no doubt of your needs either with their custom engineering.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

WITH TOMMY HART

Owner Vic Morabito of the San Francisco 49ers was moaning, low recently about the weaknesses his team had shown in their early practice games when a friend reminded him that things weren't all bad, that—for instance— rookie Jim Pace had scored the very first time he got his hands on the ball.

Seems the former Michigan State star caught a kickoff in the end zone, stepped onto the playing field and was thrown back into the end zone for a safety which, of course, added two points to the opponent's tally.

The television crowd which witnessed the recent Floyd Patterson-Roy Harris fight didn't come up to first estimates.

A total of 196,762 paying TV customers watched the fight, over one-fourth of whom were in Texas theatres and auditoriums. The income from closed-circuit TV for the scrap amounted to $763,437.

Vernon R. Harton, the 33-year-old East Texan who recently signed on as head basketball coach at Big Spring High School, guided his Frankston team to a district championship in 1957-58. Frankston is in the same conference with always a tough Cayuga. The school doesn't field a football team.

When Harton was playing for the East Baptist college team of Marshall, he competed in the NAIA tournament at Kansas City one year.

Vernon lettered four years in basketball in high school at Cross Roads, the last two of which he served as captain, and one time at East Texas Baptist. He played a guard position. Two of the high school teams on which he performed won district championships.

His Jacksonville team were always plagued by a lack of height. The biggest man he coached in his two seasons there stood no more than 6-feet-1.

Last year, he had more all-district performers than any other team in the seven-school district. Two of his charges made the first team, two others the second quarter.

Billie Maxwell, the ex-Big Spring-er, wound up with a 78 in the recent British Columbia Centennial Open and earned $167. His 72-hole total score was 287, 17 strokes off champion Jim Ferris's pace.

Luke Thompson joined an exclusive crowd when he won his second Big Spring Invitational Golf title here recently.

Only other two-time winners in the meet are Charley Qualls, Eddie Morgan, Bill (Red) Roden, Bobby Maxwell and Doug Jones. Qualls, who won the first two tournaments, is now deceased.

Roden, of course, has carried the crown here on four different occasions.

Three of the new high school coaches in the area are named Harlin, Marlin and Garlon.

Their last names, in the proper order, are Daughin (Stanton), Doods (Garden City) and Freeman (Ackerly).

When Frank Ivy quit as coach of the Edmonton Eskimos of the Canadian pro football league, he hired on as master of the Chicago Cardinals and took with him the offense he had used in the Dominion.

Even down to the 12th man, who Canadian rules allow on the field but NFL leagues forbid, Ivy drew a penalty for the oversight, which might not have been blamed on forgetfulness at that.

I recall several years ago Big Spring was being worn out by a strong visiting club. The Steer coach at the time tried several defensive formations. After giving up yardage by the acre, the Longhorn forward wall began to gladden. The change in the club's fortunes was cheered mightily in the stands, until one of the officials tripped and counted 12 Steers on the field.

RUIDOSO, N. M. (SC)—Ruidoso Downs will close its most successful meet this weekend with a three-day program.

Public acceptance of racing in this sector of the country has enabled the vacation land track to continue its upward climb with the major tracks of the country. Appreciative of its patronage, the management is already making plans for the next season for better accommodations for the fans.

An increased stakes program to attract better stables will be widely advertised this winter to acquaint prominent owners and trainers with the racing program at the resort track. Next year's calibre of racing is expected to surpass any in the Southwest.

The longest stakes race of the meeting is to be contested on the final day of the season at Ruidoso Downs—the third annual running of the "Thorobred Endurance Handicap" is expected to bring together the top staying routers at the course.

Miss Bold, owned by L. L. Smith of Hollywood, N. M. is an artist at the longer distances, as evidenced by her victory in the two mile race at the State Fair last season, and her easy victory in a mile and 3 furlong race here within the past few days.

In the latter race she established a new track record, that route in commendably easy fashion. Possibly her chief contention will be Condemnation, hand-biting gelding owned by Jess Wilbanks of Big Spring, Tex. This versatile son of Texas Sandman seems to be at home in any distance race and has run with the good ones on the West Coast over the marathon routes.

Atomic Jip was second to Miss Bold when she established the track record and is improving with each race. A horse that has been lightly raced, he could develop into one of the best horses now campaigning at the 'Downs'.

Kansas Cyclone is expected to try her stamina in this event and, if breeding is any indication, she should run all afternoon as she is a daughter of the illustrious Stepfather—the horse that sold for $200,000 at the L. B. Mayer dispersal sale.

Gemini, Biflash, Jean's Demon, Mad Poco, Rugged Girl, The Driller, Big Fiddle and Mr. Step are the other possible entrants.

Tangerine Bowl Date Advanced

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—The 13th annual Tangerine Bowl game will be played Dec. 27 instead of New Year's Day as in the past.

The sponsoring Elks Lodge said the idea was to attract television coverage in the future. A host of bowl games are played New Year's Day.

Ride Too Slow

That seems to be what Curtis Kelley, assistant football coach of the Big Spring Steers, seems to be telling two of his line hopefuls in the midst of football workouts. The two boys were engaging in blocking drills. Kelley rides the contraption to give it balance. The Steers open against San Antonio Edison here Friday night.

MURTAUGHTOP CHOICE FOR PILOT'S AWARD

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The 10 telling days are over for the Pittsburgh Pirates. But if the team, they did no less than stamp themselves baseball's surprise Murtaugh a top choice as the National League Manager of the year.

In a 10-day showdown, the Pirates faced their final seven games with the first place Milwaukee Braves. They trailed by 7½ games when it started, lost two of three games back, going into the final four at Pittsburgh Friday night.

They came out with a 3-1 edge in the series, holding the world champions to an 11-11 doubleheader split in the finale yesterday. They won 4-1 after Warren "The Wonder" Spahn had taken the opener 3-1 for the Braves, his 19th victory.

It was the last chance anybody had of catching the Braves, who lead by 7½ with 16 games to play. But the Pirates, who have finished last or next to last for the past eight years, went a long way toward nailing down second place, taking a two-game lead over third place San Francisco.

The Chicago Cubs swept a pair from the Giants 6-4 and 4-1. Los Angeles hammered St. Louis 7-5 and Cincinnati grabbed a 2½-game hold on fourth place by taking Philadelphia 6-4 and 9-2.

Spahn's 24th victory in the majors put him within one of his ninth 20-victory season—a record for southpaws in the big time.

Spahn battled in a tie with Ron Kline (12-14) until Wes Covington, who singled home a run in the first, rapped a two-run double in the eighth.

Vern Law (12-11) then blanked the Braves, who chopped their magic number to 10, on four hits before needing relief in the nightcap ninth. Lew Burdette (16-10) was the victor.

Walt Marny's 23rd and 24th homers were good for three runs and Lee Walls' 24th, a three-run shot in the eighth, then wrapped up the opener for the Cubs and rookie Bob Anderson (2-1). Dick Drott (7-11) followed with a three-hit batter backed up by Ernie Banks' 44th homer and clinching two-run eighth-inning double.

Banks' home run, off loser Ruben Gomez (8-12), ended a shut-out duel in the seventh and matched his major league record for shortstop, set in 1956. Mike McCormick (11-8) lost the opener.

For the Reds, Hal Jefferson (6-8) was the first game winner and Dick Farrell (7-9) the loser, both in relief. In the nightcap, Joe Nuxhall (12-10) won, Seth Morehead (1-5) lost.

Dodger Johnny Podres (13-12) won with relief help—hitting his major league high after losing nine in a row on the road. Larry Jackson (12-11) lost it, his first defeat ever by the Dodgers in St. Louis.

BEFORE '58 OPENER Longhorns Launch Final Workouts

The Big Spring Steers launch their final four days of drills today before their Friday night outing with San Antonio Edison here Friday night.

The going is due to be rough for a couple of days—Saturday's scrimmage against San Angelo Lakeview underscored the fact that the Longhorns still need a lot of work if they are to keep within halting distance of Edison.

Edison, coached by the veteran Red Forehand, was a Class AAA district champion last year and was promoted to Class AAAA after it had been consolidated with another school.

Coach Al Milch and a couple of his aides took a busman's holiday Saturday night. They visited Midland to watch a scrimmage between Snyder and Kermit and came away impressed with the strength Snyder showed. Snyder comes here Sept. 25 for a game.

The Tigers mauled Kermit by five touchdowns in the scrimmage and looked very good in doing it.

The Steers themselves took their lumps in their Saturday afternoon collision with Lakeview. Lakeview outscored them by a margin of three touchdowns to one and the lone tally the locals get came against the Chiefs' second stringers.

Despite the rugged time the Steers experienced, the local coaches had praise for their players, especially the younger boys, who showed a lot of fight.

The Steers came out of the scrimmage in fine physical fettle and, barring injury this week, should enter the game against Edison at full strength.

Tickets for the Edison game, priced at $1.50 each, went on sale at the School Tax Office this morning.

Fair weather could bring out a crowd of about 5,000 for the opener. The throng would probably be larger but for the fact that Edison did not ask for an allotment of tickets.

Only 7 Schools To Field Teams

Only seven elementary ward schools in the city will field football teams in this year's City football race, it has been announced.

A portion of Kate Morrison's students have been transferred to Bauer, formerly North Ward. For that reason, Morrison will no longer have a team.

Coaches of the various teams, which are now in practice, include: Airport — Barney Williams; Washington Place — Morris Molpus; Park Hill — Oake Hagood; College Heights — Carlos Humphreys; Bauer — R. J. Jaime; Cedar Crest — Earl Penner; Boydston — C. W. Tanner.

Ramos Gunning For 17 Wins

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The veep should have spoken up a bit sooner.

It wasn't until August 19 that Vice President Nixon, taking in a ball game at Washington, told Pete Ramos "I expect you to win 17 games."

"But I've only won 11 and I've never won more than 12," said the Senators' slim right-hander. "And there's not much of the season left."

"I know you can do it," answered the veep.

Ramos said he'd try.

Try? Well, the kid from Cuba has won three of five since and has pitched successive six-hit shutouts against the New York Yankees, en route to their 24th American League pennant.

Ramos extended his scoreless string against the champs to 22 1/3 innings yesterday, giving Washington its first 1-0 victory in five years, before the Yankees made one of their infrequent (of late) shows of strength by winning the nightcap 7-0 on Duke Maas' four-hitter.

The split gave the Yankees a final 12-10 standing against the last place A's.

Cleveland dumped second place Chicago 4-3, Boston beat Baltimore 6-5 in 10 innings and Kansas City rapped Detroit 3-2.

Denver's Hopes For Major League Baseball Are High

By FRANK PITMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DENVER (AP)—Denver's hopes for major league baseball are as high as the planes that pass over carrying big league teams to and from the Pacific Coast.

But there's more than air under Denver's dreams.

It's often billed as the hottest minor league town in the country. Officials of Denver's American Association team point proudly to an average of 375,532 fans each season since 1949 for minor league ball.

Plans have been drawn showing it is feasible to increase the club's present 19,000-seat stadium to a 72,000-seater. Nearby wide open spaces offer plenty of room for expansion for the playing field and for enlarging automobile parking.

By Eastern standards, the area surrounding Denver is sparsely settled. Colorado has about 1½ million residents, with about half in the Denver metropolitan area. Adjacent Wyoming has fewer than 300,000.

But Denver and Colorado Springs, 60 miles apart, are more sports minded than most towns their size. Dog racing is a competitive night attraction. College ice hockey drew 90,000 fans last winter. College football attractions include the Air Force Academy and Colorado University.

Two of Colorado's top political figures, Gov. Steve McNichols and Denver Mayor Will Nicholson, are red-hot sports fans. They

Griffith Elects Not To Ask League For Right To Move

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Calvin Griffith, with an ax over his head decided after all not to seek American League approval to move his team. Instead, the Senators will remain in the nation's capital at least through the 1959 season.

Griffith made this clear last night in a statement issued on the eve of a scheduled American League meeting purportedly to listen to and act upon his expected request for permission to move the Senators to Minneapolis.

Until late yesterday the son of the late Clark Griffith had fully intended to go through with his plan to seek the sanction of his fellow club owners to quit Washington. He had what he considered a generous offer from the Minnesota city, which recently approved a nine-million-dollar bond issue in its bid to attract a big league baseball team.

But less than an hour after his arrival here, Griffith became aware of the solid opposition lined up against him. At least four clubs

Sweetwater, Breck Vie In Headliner

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The big classes—AAAA and AAA—moved into competition this week in Texas schoolboy football. Classes AA, A, B and six and eight-man football started last weekend with defending co-champions White Oak and Mart of Class A standing out with smashing victories.

There will be some games in the upper echelons Friday and Saturday that might be repeated in the state playoffs.

Defending champion Dallas Highland Park of Class AAA meets highly-rated Thomas Jefferson of Dallas. Abilene, state champion three years in a row and undefeated last season although played to a tie by Highland Park and losing on penetrations, clashes with White Oak and Breckenridge are the two and they get together at Breckenridge Friday night.

Breckenridge won the state Class AAA title several times before being shunted to Class AA. But the Buckaroos are back in the AAA picture again and ready to take up where they left off.

Sweetwater went to the finals last fall, losing to Nederland. Nederland, which also has a powerhouse coming back, will get its opening test against Class AAAA competition—Orange. The latter is considered a terrific threat to Port Arthur in the district race and Port Arthur is expected to be one of the AAAA finalists again.

Terrell, an overwhelming favorite to repeat as champion of Class AA, starts Friday. The Tigers take on Class AAA Athens in the opener at Terrell. Athens was the only school to best the Tigers last season.

White Oak and Mart face teams that shouldn't be very hard to handle. White Oak opened the season with an 18-0 victory over New London of Class AA. New London was the only team to beat the Roughnecks last season. Friday White Oak plays Hemphill, a team that was trounced by San Augustine 33-14.

Mart whipped Class AA Teague 29-2. Friday Mart takes on Waco Midway, which was thumped 36-3 by Taylor last week.

Class AAAA has 63 games, AAA 73, AA 132 and A 143 Friday and Saturday as the schoolboy football campaign reaches its height.

American Petrofina Company of Texas will again co-sponsor professional football telecasts this fall, J. M. Shea Jr., vice president for marketing, has announced.

This will mark the fifth year that American Petrofina, or its predecessor company, has co-sponsored professional football telecasts. Fifteen games will be telecast over the Columbia Broadcasting System through 11 Texas outlets and Albuquerque, N. M. The first telecast will be September 28 in a game between the New York Giants and the Chicago Cardinals.

The games will be seen in this area over KEDY-TV. Big Spring.

Corpus Players Set Mace Record

DALLAS (AP)—Two Corpus Christi outfielders were the big men of the Texas League this season.

Mike Lutz led in home runs, runs batted in and runs, and was tied with the other Corpus Christi star, Eric Rodin, for the lead in hits.

Rodin captured the individual batting championship with .320 on 171 hits in 534 times at bat.

Folley Will Fight In Dallas Sept. 29

DALLAS (AP)—Zora Folley, the No. 1 challenger for Floyd Patterson's heavyweight boxing championship, may meet either Alex Miteff or Charlie Norkus in a Dallas boxing show Sept. 29.

Folley's manager, Bill Swift of Phoenix, conferred with promoter Ralph Smith here yesterday and they named Miteff and Norkus as possible opponents. They also discussed several others but were not sure of their availability.

Smith said he preferred Miteff.

Korean Reds Stage Assault

SEOUL, (AP) — South Korean Defense Ministry sources said six or seven Communist North Korean soldiers staged a pre-dawn attack today along the demilitarized zone, killing one South Korean soldier and wounding another.

The sources said the attack took place near Chorwon, 50 miles northeast of Seoul on the west Central Front—a section of the demilitarized zone patrolled by the South Korean army.

No American soldiers were reported involved.

Want To Get Hot? Just Eat Brazil Nuts

GENEVA (AP)—What you eat today can be hundreds of times more radioactive than your meals of yesterday, or tomorrow.

That's because some foods naturally contain more radioactive thorium and radium than others, three British scientists said today.

Some nuts, including Brazil nuts, and some cereals are generally much "hotter" than meats, fruits and eggs, and milk, Drs. W. V. Mayneord, J. M. Radley and R. C. Turner of the Royal Cancer Hospital, London, told the atoms-for-peace conference.

All this makes up part of the normal background radiation that everyone lives with. Plants take up tiny amounts of the naturally existing thorium and radium in the earth. Animals eating plants consume some of it, too.

But foods apparently can be a main source of daily intake of radioactivity, and this "completely overshadows the intake from milk and water, hitherto often supposed to be the main sources," the report said.

This is based upon careful tests of all the food eaten for one month by one 4-year-old boy, and so is an indication only at this stage.

Samples of everything the boy ate were measured for Alpha radiation from thorium and radium. Amounts of this radioactivity excreted from his body also were measured.

About 10 per cent of the radioactivity stayed in the body.

"Two persons on apparently normal diets may differ in total radioactive intake by factors of many hundreds," the British scientists said. "This makes the variations of Alpha activity observed in the human skeleton hardly surprising."

Alpha radiation is the cores of helium atoms, emitted by radioactive thorium and radium.

Brazil nuts contained about 1,400 times more Alpha radiation than cheese and eggs, and milk, while vegetables, meats and fruits contained still less than cheese, they said.

Cereals ranked second with 60 units compared with 1,400 for Brazil nuts on their scale measuring the infinitesimal amounts of radioactivity. Teas had 40 units, liver and kidney 15, flours 14, peanuts and peanut butter 12, chocolates 8.

Jet Airliner Crosses Atlantic

LONDON (AP) — America's first jet airliner, the Boeing 707, flew the Atlantic today to show the British how quiet it can be.

Flown by Pan American World Airways, the big jetliner flew from New York to London in 10 hours 22 minutes, including stops at Gander, Nfld., and Shannon, Ireland.

When it comes into service, the 707 is scheduled to make the New York - London crossing in 6 1/2 hours.

The Boeing 707 is to be tested for noise at London Airport. If the roar from its four engines is found to be sufficiently low, the plane will be allowed to operate out of there.

Venezuela Beats Back New Revolt

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Civilian mobs and loyal troops beat back another military attempt to seize power yesterday from the government junta which is trying to restore democracy in Venezuela.

Eight hours of street fighting in downtown Caracas reportedly killed about 20 persons and left 200 wounded. Most of the casualties were said to be unarmed youngsters who played a major part in laying siege on the rebel headquarters downtown.

The government of Rear Adm. Wolfgang Larrazabal announced one leader of the coup was under arrest and three others were hiding out in the Mexican Embassy.

Civilian vigilantes charged the building with machetes and lead pipes, but they were beaten back by machine-gun fire from inside. Then about 150 navy men charged the building. Rebel fire also forced them to retreat.

Scattered shots continued until mid-afternoon.

Finally a handful of grade school children climbed into the first and second floors of the rebel headquarters and found it deserted. Hundreds of other youngsters charged in and ransacked the building despite tear gas hurled by the loyal troops.

One rumor said the rebels had fled through a secret tunnel.

There was no report of any damage to the vast American oil installations in the country.

Larrazabal hurried back from a tour of eastern Venezuela and promised the plotters would be punished. Interior Minister Numa Quevedo backed him up and clamped down a curfew from 11 p. m. to 6 a. m.

After the first attempt to seize the government failed July 23, political leaders charged Larrazabal and Quevedo were not tough enough in following up to prevent further coups.

Both attempts involved discontented officers who lost much of their prestige and privileges in the January revolution which overthrew the military dictatorship of Gen. Marcos Perez Jimenez.

The government said yesterday's plot was led by military police personnel. The captured insurgent leader was identified as Lt. Col. Jose Hely Mendoza and those in the Mexican Embassy as Lt. Col. Juan de Dios Moncada, Maj. Rafael Pacheco and Maj. Luis Alberto Vivas Ramirez.

The rebels seized Caracas radio stations before dawn and began broadcasting charges that the junta was a failure and high-ranking officials were friends of Perez Jimenez.

Loyal officers regained control within minutes and broadcast calls for the people to support the government. Political leaders, union leaders and others joined in the appeals.

Crowds poured into the streets and the rebels opened fire from their stronghold in the MP barracks.

The angry mobs seized buses, trucks and automobiles to build street barricades. Then they threw sticks, rocks and homemade gasoline bombs at the rebel headquarters and shouted support for Larrazabal and his government.

Eden's Kin Weds Italian

NAPLES, Italy (AP)—Sir Anthony Eden's niece is now Mrs. Giovanni Borrelli, wife of an Italian ferryboat mechanic.

Amelia Eden, 25, and radiant in a white wedding gown and flowing veil, was married yesterday in a Roman Catholic church on Borrelli's home island of Ischia.

The bride's mother came from Britain for the ceremony and her brother John, a member of Parliament, gave her away. Her father, Sir Timothy Eden, had expressed some misgivings about the match and stayed home.

Borrelli's family, with whom the couple will live, also were on hand in the packed church.

Most of the island population turned out to cheer the 30-year-old boatman and his bride, who met two years ago while the Mayfair society girl was vacationing on Ischia.

Holland, Pepper In Florida Race

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Sen. Spessard Holland and Claude Pepper, poles apart in their political philosophies, beat busy paths through the vote-rich Miami area today on the eve of Florida's Democratic primary.

Dade County, with almost a fourth of the state's 1,359,610 registered Democratic voters, is the big plum in the U.S. Senate battle. Both candidates are counting heavily on Dade in their hopes for victory.

Results of the election will be watched closely over the nation for clues to trends in Southern thinking.

Holland, dignified, white-haired conservative, and Pepper, fiery champion of New Deal causes during Franklin D. Roosevelt's time, are political contrasts. Pepper is attempting a comeback after being sidelined by Sen. George Smathers in 1950.

The campaign has been a sizzler. Hottest words have been spoken over the issues of race, Russia and labor.

Holland has accused Pepper of deserting the thinking of the South on racial matters, being soft toward the Soviet Union and drawing the backing of big labor.

Pepper has replied with charges that Holland has been trying to stir up hate on the race issue, wagging a McCarthy-type campaign on the communism issue and

Memories Of Girard Case Are Revived In Death Of Japanese

TOKYO (AP) — Memories of the bitter William Girard case were stirred today by the fatal shooting of a young Japanese music student aboard a train by an American airman.

As Japanese papers gave top display to the incident under big headlines, 19-year-old A.S.C. Peter E. Longpre of Lakewood, Calif., said in a statement: "It was a horrible accident... I am deeply sorry... I did not intend to shoot at anyone or anything."

Longpre was in tears and his statement was read by an attorney — described as a defense counsel — to a news conference called in an effort to avert the furor which turned the Girard case into an international incident.

The shooting occurred yesterday at Johnson air base, 20 mi. northwest of Tokyo.

Longpre said he was standing near the base entrance when he accidentally discharged his carbine without knowing it was loaded.

The bullet traveled about 30 yards, penetrated the window of a passing train and struck Sachiyo Miyamura, 22, in the back.

Miyamura, who was on his way to play in the band at the non-commissioned officers' club, died on an operating table at the base.

Longpre was held on an open charge of unlawful killing. The Air Force said the shooting is "still considered an accident and is still being investigated." A police spokesman said the Japanese investigation also was not complete and "nothing can be said for publication yet."

Col. Ray Vandiver, commander of Johnson air base, appeared with Longpre at the news conference to express his "deepest personal and official regret to the family of the deceased and to the people of Japan."

He said in a statement: "I want to assure you this incident will not become another Girard case... With understanding and good will on the parts of Japanese and Americans I am confident that this case can be resolved with equity and justice."

GI William S. Girard of Ottawa, Ill., shot and killed a Japanese woman scrap scavenger on a firing range in 1957. Army attempts to minimize the incident aroused a storm of criticism in Japan, and attempts in the United States to prevent Girard's trial by a Japanese court seriously threatened Japanese-American relations. He was finally convicted by the Japanese court of manslaughter, given a three-year suspended sentence and was discharged from the Army after his return to the United States.

HUNTSVILLE (AP) — Four persons were killed southwest of here yesterday when two cars collided at high speed.

Killed were Mr. and Mrs. William Blair of Dallas, Charles Sanders, 19, of Huntsville and his daughter, Pamela Kay, 1.

Sanders' wife, Betty, 18, was taken to a Houston hospital in serious condition.

Officials said the Blair car, which was going north, started to pass another car, skidded into the wrong lane of traffic and was struck broadside by the Sanders car.

Ella Spreads Rain Over State

By The Associated Press
Tropical Storm Ella's dying gasps spread rain and fog over wide areas of Texas Monday. The Texas City-Galveston area was drenched by up to 8.44 inches of rain Sunday.

The downpours, coupled with high tides kicked up by Ella, flooded streets, stalled autos and seeped into a few homes as storm sewers failed to handle the deluge.

Streets at LaMarque were flooded and a few business houses in Texas City suffered. No homes were evacuated, however, and officials said damage would be light.

Freeport also reported minor flooding of streets Sunday.

General rains over the state tapered off Sunday night.

Rain fell Monday, however, at Corpus Christi, Alice, Cotulla, San Angelo, and in the Marfa area of Southwest Texas.

Fog cut visibility at Lufkin, Cotulla, Austin, College Station, Lubbock, Tyler and Longview. Skies were cloudy over all but the upper Red River Valley.

Rains were reported Sunday night at Lufkin, Laredo, College Station and Childress.

Scattered showers were forecast.

Daniel Says Texas Demos Can Get Along

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Gov. Daniel says it would be possible for Texas Democrats to operate as a unit during the next two years even if tomorrow's state convention does some brawling.

Texas Democrats are tired of name calling and unity might be possible if the DOT liberals do "less sounding off," the governor told newsmen.

"But if there are some who must fight over old differences we are not going to dodge it," Daniel said in discussing prospects for the convention. The governor said he had a winning margin of delegates and the degree of convention harmony depends on how big his majority will be on the first test vote.

Liberals are offering Dist. Judge Jim Sewell of Corsicana as their candidate for temporary chairman of the convention, a difficult, key post.

U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, testing his muscles for the first time at a state convention, has endorsed Sewell.

Daniel, who spent last night in hotel room conferences with his strategists, said he would not name his choice until he had consulted with members of the State Democratic Executive Committee.

The executive committee's session today — its first one will handle details of getting the convention machinery on the road. It will offer the convention a slate of temporary officers including temporary chairman.

FOR GOVERNOR

Under Texas custom, this will be the "governor's convention" to give him a platform on which to oppose the Republican candidate in the general election, and program of proposed legislation.

But Yarborough, who was nominated for the six-year senate term with a big majority, is contesting with Daniel, also an overwhelming winner — for convention and party machinery control.

Many names have been mentioned in addition to Sewell's for temporary chairman.

One getting big play in talk yesterday was Jack Blalock of Houston, a conservative. Another was U. S. Rep. Jim Wright, who has both liberal and conservative friends.

The Daniel strategy apparently is to seek a quick test vote on the question of the temporary chairmanship. Daniel's managers said they were glad Sewell was their opponent because they felt this would make the issue sharp and unmistakable.

Yarborough has warned that the FIA group, which he says is far more to the right than merely "conservative," would like to take over control of the executive committee for the next two years. FIA members are openly active in Democratic politics this year for the first time.

Liberals held a downtown hotel rally last night, heard Yarborough and Sewell give pep talks, and planned another session tomorrow night.

The executive committee of the Young Democrats of Texas met yesterday and wound up their meeting by rejecting a resolution to "wholeheartedly" support both Daniel and Yarborough in the general election. This action — without a record vote — puzzled many committee members, they said.

They were no more puzzled than the average delegate to the convention tomorrow by the conflicting cross-currents of interests, factional fights and personal ambitions that even had some of the pros scratching their heads.

The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptation, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished. (2 Peter 2:9)

Our Terrific Stake In Formosa

Few Americans realize what a terrific stake we have in Formosa. They are aware, to be sure, that we have poured a lot of money into Chiang Kai-shek's effort to hold the island and keep at least the semblance of an anti-Communist government alive, and unfortunately a great many Americans believe it is a waste of money and manpower. We do not defend Formosa because we are interested in keeping the aging Chiang alive and kicking. We are doing it to save our own necks.

Red conquest of Formosa would open the way for Red Chinese conquest of the whole of Southeast Asia, including Indonesia, and eventually the Philippine Islands. Australia's days would be numbered.

Its loss would outflank our strongest position in the Far East, Okinawa. Red China would become so powerful that the plight of Japan as a trading nation would leave Japan but one recourse: To accommodate herself to whatever conditions Red China laid down. Our dependence upon Japan, shaky at best, would vanish.

With the free world's access to the markets—and materials of the Far East closed off, Britain and Western Europe would fall easy prey to Red Russia's economic and military pressures.

Then where would the United States be? How long could we face up to and contend with a world gone Communist?

Make no mistake about it: Formosa is vital to our future, as the all-but-last link in our line of defense in the Far East. If the Red Chinese make an attempt to seize it, we must fight.

Its loss would be the beginning of the end. Our light in the East would go out. Strategically, it is indispensable to our hope of standing off the Red threat to our existence.

The Final Nails

David Lawrence Constitutional Crisis For America

WASHINGTON—A constitutional crisis of major proportions is shaping up for America. It involves far more than the issue of attendance in mixed schools. It involves the broader question of whether the Supreme Court of the United States may suddenly declare that "equal protection of the laws" under the Fourteenth Amendment requires uniformity throughout the nation on all laws affecting citizens generally.

Today the slogan of the Court, in effect, is that the end justifies the means. This has been taken up far and wide across the nation by many people in an emotional crusade in support of the Court's decisions. The public is being told repeatedly that everything the Supreme Court says is the "law of the land." Critics say the opposite—that a Supreme Court decision is the "law of the case" and can be reversed at any time, and that it merely covers the parties to the particular case and is not necessarily binding on anybody else. This fact has not sunk in as yet generally, though most lawyers know it has always been true.

This could mean that the divorce laws of all the states must be the same, income-tax laws must be the same, laws regulating labor unions and corporations, respectively, must be the same, and laws must be uniform throughout the country with regard to all kinds of licenses and privileges which citizens of different states may desire to obtain or enjoy.

Few people realize the potential scope of the Fourteenth Amendment and its far-reaching impact if the present Supreme Court continues its current program of knocking down state laws that it considers socially or psychologically harmful or as involving discrimination between citizens in any field of endeavor.

The latest challenge to the idea that the school desegregation decisions are the "law of the land" in the sense that they actually can compel integration in every state has come from Governor Almond of Virginia. Himself a former state attorney-general and an able lawyer, Mr. Almond made a sensational statement when he said:

"No decision of the Supreme Court of the United States or any subordinate federal court requires or can require this state or any of its political subdivisions to operate any public school, whether integrated or not."

Many millions of Americans undoubtedly feel that they are being discriminated against because they pay higher taxes to their own state than do citizens elsewhere. Many citizens object to the fact that, although they do business across state lines, they must pay local taxes in varying amounts to different states and cities where they sell their wares. If the Fourteenth Amendment means that no state shall deny "equal protection of the laws" to any citizen, the principle could apply as between citizens who live in different states instead of merely as between citizens of a single state.

"No federal court is vested with authority under the decision of the Supreme Court to direct, compel or coerce any defendant district (school) superintendent or school board to assign or enroll any pupil in any school, or to do any affirmative administrative act pertaining thereto."

This is really the key to the program through which the Southern states feel confident they can legally avoid forcible integration in the public schools. What Governor Almond is saying is that a federal court may order a school to cease segregation—which is a negative ruling, derived supposedly from the Fourteenth Amendment—but this is a far cry from saying a school board must admit anybody who asks to be enrolled just because a federal court has ordered it.

The theory could be carried to the point where economic inequality can be condemned by the Supreme Court as readily as racial or social inequalities, under the doctrine that it is an obligation of government to guarantee equality as between citizens.

There would be a condition of near chaos in America if the Supreme Court invalidated, for instance, state laws on divorce. Husbands could stop paying alimony. Persons who had remarried in one state believing that they were legally divorced in another state could be made subject to various kinds of legal suits.

Yet, while such action may not be imminent, the stark fact is that the Supreme Court has set itself up as having the right to disregard at any moment all legal precedents of the past and to rule on what it believes is socially or psychologically desirable.

The Gallup Poll GOP Prospects Show Slight Gain

PRINCETON, N. J.—As the 1958 campaign proper gets underway, GOP congressional fortunes have turned upward for the first time since the 1956 presidential election.

These developments:

1. The winter and spring of 1957—a period highlighted by the "Battle of the Budget." During this period, GOP Congressional strength slipped from the 49 per cent polled in the November, 1956 elections to 47 per cent. Eisenhower's popularity was generally trending downward on the Gallup Poll's barometer. Voter confidence in the Republicans to handle the nation's major problems waned.

With Congressmen returning home to mend political fences, and campaign fireworks already in evidence, experienced Gallup Poll reporters across the country asked this question of voters:

2. The fall of 1957—a period in which "Sputnik" and segregation were the major issues with which the Administration had to deal. Both of these issues hurt the Republicans, the former all across the country, the latter in the South.

"If the elections for Congress were being held today, which party would you like to see win in this state—the Republican party or the Democratic party?"

VOTE FOR CONGRESS
NATIONWIDE

	Per Cent
Democratic	49
Republican	44

3. The winter and spring of 1958—a period during which the odd combination of growing unemployment and rising cost of living left many economic experts perplexed. As worries over price rises increased with voters, the Democrats had a 240-1 lead over the GOP in the matter of dealing with prices.

Today's vote represents a small upswing for the GOP since last May. It should be immediately pointed out, however, that the Republicans are still a long way from the position they were in at the time of the 1956 election—an election in which, it will be recalled, Eisenhower swept to a landslide victory.

4. The late summer of 1958—a period in which voters showed cautious optimism about the recession coming to an end and employment picking up. With the dispatch of U. S. Marines to Lebanon, Eisenhower's popularity took its sharpest rise since his second term of office began.

The Republican party, however, failed to gain control of Congress in that election.

Federal troops in Little Rock sounded the death knell to GOP chances of cracking the solidly Democratic South.

Yet the important political fact is that GOP chances since the outbreak of trouble in the Middle East, and a slackening off of the business slump, look better today than at any time since early 1958. Most of the gain since May has come in the critical battleground of the 35 states of the North and West, where the Republican percentage of the two-party vote has gone from 44 per cent to 47 per cent.

Because of the overwhelming Democratic majorities normally polled in the Solid South, GOP hopes of winning Congress hinge on how well they do outside of the 13 Southern States.

In its continuing check on the U. S. political scene at the grass roots level, the Gallup Poll has noted four key periods in time since the 1956 election. Leading up to today's political situation have been

James Marlow Important Week In U.S. History

WASHINGTON (AP)—This is one of the important weeks in American history. The Supreme Court, meeting Thursday, must do two things:

1. Give a decision which will affect the whole course of public school integration.
2. Decide a critical principle in law enforcement: Whether mob violence and community antagonism can block a court order.

Several federal district judges—faced with opposition to integration in their districts this year—indicate they'll be guided by the court's decision.

Integration in Central High began last September under order of a federal judge. Then came mob violence and growing hostility in Little Rock.

Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus blocked the court order with National Guardsmen who kept Negroes out of the school. He said he did it to prevent violence.

Then, to back up the court order by seeing to it the Negroes got into school, President Eisenhower

Around The Rim Unforgettable Character In Geneva

One of the most refreshing and interesting information media to reach my desk in some time is the Geneva Diplomat, a news letter edited and published in the Swiss city by a long-time friend of mine, John Pizurki.

blocks in their makeup until they reach the age of reason, which is attained in the 12th year period of life. This explains why the 3-year-old will speak French without a trace of accent while the parent can spend 30 years learning French, but still will have the accent of the mother tongue."

Pizurki, a true internationalist if there ever was one, would easily qualify as The Most Unforgettable Character I've Ever Met.

"Any of the Balearic Islands, with the exception of tourist-infested Mallorca, are good bargains. The all-night boat ride from Barcelona to Mallorca is ridiculously cheap, 3 SF (about 50 cents in American money) third class. There are plenty of palms and coconuts on these islands, but no monkeys... Andorra is unbeatable for price and uniqueness. Smuggling is the main occupation. No police, no customs, no traffic lights. Buses stop before they get to the frontier to dislodge smugglers, who then take to the unpatrolled mountain passes leading across the borders into France and Spain... Our favorite spot near Geneva is Arzier in the Juras, a no-tax commune only 30 kilometers from the U.N. At 900 meters, it has an awe inspiring view of Mt. Blanc and Lake Lemman. Can't help but lose your egotism there."

I first encountered him when the two of us were taking basic training—at an Air Force field in Louisiana some 13 months before the United States entered World War II and renewed acquaintances with him at Jefferson Barracks, St. Louis; and in Puerto Rico.

"Oriental proverb—'Comfortable folk do not like clamor, even from the prophets, and are content to leave justice to God, with the hope that He will not disturb their business.'"

Discharged a major from the Signal Corps, the multi-lingual Pizurki went to Switzerland to study under the GI Bill of Rights and has made his home there since that time.

"Whether the West likes it or not, Nasser, to the Arab people, appears to be the young Arab leader who would some day rise to lead the Arab world, as promised by Saladin on his death bed almost a thousand years ago. France and England endeavored to unseat Nasser, but failed. If the U. S. should attempt it, then it will lose the entire Middle East, as pointed out by Alfred Lillenthal in his prophetic book, There Goes the Middle East. It is now for Nasser to prove to the world that he recognizes the reality of Israel as a state, as the first phase in a settlement of the Arab-Israeli deadlock."

John helped gain experience as a newspaperman by serving as a correspondent for a Pakistan publication at several United Nation meetings in Geneva.

If you'd like an insight on world affairs and the problems of its inhabitants as seen by a man who has a passion for knowledge and a compassion for all earthlings, I recommend The Geneva Diplomat to you. It can be ordered (at $2 for a six months' subscription) by writing The Geneva Diplomat, Box 23, Montbrillant, Geneva, Switzerland.

The Geneva Diplomat is printed in English and Pizurki wisely encloses something to please almost every reader, whether he be a student of international affairs, a gourmet or an arm-chair globe trotter.

"Psychologists maintain that the reason why children assimilate languages so fast is that there is no emotional

Here are a few choice items plucked from Pizurki's second edition:

"Mokusatsu, in Japanese, has two meanings. One is 'to refrain from comment,' the other is 'to ignore.' After Germany surrendered, the Japanese answered the Potsdam ultimatum by the word Mokusatsu. By this answer they meant that they desired 'to refrain from comment.' The allied translators interpreted the Japanese answer as 'The Defense Command intends to ignore the demand.' Hiroshima was the result."

I last week Comrade Petrovich, in the Buzz Sawyer comic strip, tried to force a pistol on Comrade Chekov, so that he would shoot himself. This time the pistol was the correct Russian cylinder-type. Last month the pistol Petrovich had in the comic strip was an American .45 type of automatic. In the meantime, Comrade Petrovich must have read the Diplomat's "Penetrating Eye" column, which pointed out the discrepancy."

"Psychologists maintain that the reason why children assimilate languages so fast is that there is no emotional

Some months ago the board asked, and got from, another federal district judge a 2½ year delay. This was overruled by the U.S. 8th Circuit Court of Appeals. Thus the case came to the Supreme Court for a final ruling.

The Circuit Court pointed out the broad implications of giving Little Rock a delay simply because of opposition to a court order by white people living there: "An impossible situation could develop. Every school district in which integration is publicly opposed by overt acts would have 'justifiable excuse' to petition the courts for delay and suspension of integration programs."

The court said a delay for Little Rock "would amount to an open invitation to elements in other districts to overtly act out public opposition through violent and unlawful means."

It's possible—perhaps unlikely—that the court will now spell out just what it means by the phrase "all deliberate speed" as a guide to federal judges who have to make decisions on when to integrate in their districts.

One thing is certain: Although the Supreme Court outlawed public school segregation in 1954, integration has been far from speedy.

The New York Times reports that of 2,892 biracial districts in this country, only 792 have been integrated.

Inez Robb All The Candidates Come From Mansions

Hey, whatever became of the old log cabin in the political clearing, the inevitable birthplace of every successful aspirant to political office in the United States? And whither the candidate who developed out of the barefoot boy of poor but honest lineage?

Gone where the woodbine twineth, from Sen. Jack Kennedy in Massachusetts to Sen. William Knowland in California, not forgetting Gov. Soapy Williams in the midlands, the political scene in this election years is as rich as a double-fudge, chocolate nut sundae.

Mr. Lamont qualifies for the above company through the fact that his daddy was in the chips, too, even as the Harriman and Rockefeller progenitors. As a son of a father who was a senior partner of J. P. Morgan, Mr. Lamone is also a strictly mansion man.

It happens Little Rock's Central High provides a classic text of how long community opposition can delay a court order and hence law enforcement.

No matter which party a voter adheres to in this state, when he peers into headquarters he's certain to see wall-to-wall money. The motto of all New York factions is "Keep the political woods green; bring folding money."

The reason: Integration didn't begin there haphazardly but carefully and according to prescribed conditions laid down by the Supreme Court.

It is just possible that the last log-cabin candidate left in the country is Sen. Robert Kerr, Democrat of Oklahoma. Even so, Sen. Kerr, an oil man with political overtones, is at least as rich as the Messrs. Rockefeller, Harriman and Lamont.

The federal judge in Little Rock didn't act arbitrarily. The school board worked on an integration plan which it felt could be carried out peacefully, starting in 1957 and ending in 1963.

The Oklahoma Senator only fails to qualify for the New York club in one respect: he rolled his own. And maybe this is where he self-made his mistake. Senator Kerr, when he pitched for the Democratic Presidential nomination in 1952 (or was it '56?), caused a reasonable facsimile of the log cabin in which he was born to be constructed, life-size in the ball-room of the Chicago hotel that served as his party's headquarters.

The federal district judge then, after consultation with the board, approved the plan and ordered it to begin last September.

Still, the cabin didn't get the Oklahoma Senator the nomination any more than his cousin won it for Estes. It—the nomination—went to another mansion man, Adlai Stevenson.

It's possible—but perhaps unlikely—that the court will now spell out just what it means by the phrase "all deliberate speed" as a guide to federal judges who have to make decisions on when to integrate in their districts.

The barefoot boy is still with us, but in drastically changed form. The present model is "The Barefoot Boy of Wall Street," now an honorable estate not envisioned by Harold Ickes when he coined the bitter phrase to blast Wendell Willkie in '44.

One thing is certain: Although the Supreme Court outlawed public school segregation in 1954, integration has been far from speedy.

As politics are now constituted, we may well be entering upon an era when the rich, even if they don't get richer, get the nominations and the poor get to vote for 'em. Along these lines, I have revamped for us voters, an old American ballad to fit the situation:

The New York Times reports that of 2,892 biracial districts in this country, only 792 have been integrated.

"I'm only a voter in a gilded booth, I'm only a rich man's toy. On election day, when I'm making hay, I'm only a millionaire's ploy. I'm only a voter in a gilded booth, I'm surrounded by glitter and gold. And my one regret, as I fuss and fret, is that I've only one vote to be sold." (Copyright 1958, United Feature Syndicate Inc.)

The bill, which would have permitted the T.V.A. to pay for its own power construction with revenue bonds, passed the Senate a year ago. It was ready for consideration when the House convened. The Democratic party was committed to it. President Eisenhower had asked for it. Only the most inept and bumbling leadership could have failed to achieve its approval, had the attempt been made.

The fact that the attempt was not made, and that Rayburn didn't make it, creates suspicion that Rayburn and the other House leaders used the bill as a political tool to gain votes for other measures. This may be smart politics, but the more one examines the record of the House in this session, the more one must wonder if the Democrats and their leaders did not outsmart themselves.

Just Before She Won

Six winners in the preliminary contest to select Miss America of 1959 pose for photographers at Atlantic City. Left to right they are Sandra Jennings, Miss California, swim suit; Mary Mobley, Miss Mississippi (and Miss America), talent; Anita Hursh, Miss Indiana, swim suit; Billie Turner, Miss Connecticut, talent; Betty Evans, Miss North Carolina, swim suit; and Lee Thornberry, Miss Alabama, talent.

Ex-Choir Singer, 'Big Tomboy,' Now Holds Miss America Title

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—A winsome brunette who sings in a church choir and used to be "the biggest tomboy you've ever seen" today wears the crown of Miss America 1959.

Mary Ann Mobley of Brandon, Miss., was resting up in a New York City hotel after a hectic week of competition in the oldest national beauty pageant in America.

The week ended in triumph for the 21-year-old college senior Saturday night when she was named the new Miss America before a capacity Convention Hall crowd of 17,000 and a nationwide television audience.

The 5-foot-5 Southern belle, who has brown eyes and an olive complexion, burst into tears after she was crowned by the outgoing queen, Marilyn Van Derbur of Denver, Colo.

"It might sound trite, but I had no idea of winning—no idea at all," she later told newsmen. "I feel very inadequate. It's something I can't even comprehend."

Winning the title had a special significance for Mary Ann. She lost out last year as Mississippi's entrant in the pageant.

The new Miss America, who weighs 114 pounds and measures 34½-22-35, began her reign by attending the coronation ball early yesterday morning. Her escorts were West Point cadets Victor Letnoff and Charles P. Oistott.

llams, were tied up answering long-distance telephone calls from well-wishers.

Mary Ann is studying speech and English at the University of Mississippi and hopes to become an actress. She plans to use the $10,000 she received as winner of the pageant toward that end.

In addition, the new Miss America receives about $140,000 in personal appearance fees and other prizes.

Mary Ann, who sings in the choir at Brandon Methodist Church, readily admits that she wasn't always a beauty.

"I had pigtails until I was 8, and then I had scarlet fever and my hair fell out. I wore braces on my teeth for four years."

As for romance, she said: "I've been lucky enough to date several nice young men, but I've never trapped any. I'm working on one though."

She declined to give his name. The girl who won second place in the pageant, Miss Iowa, Joanne Lucille MacDonald, 20, of Ames, belongs to Chi Omega, the same sorority as Mary Ann. Joanne received a $3,000 scholarship.

Third place went to Miss Oklahoma, Anita Bryant, 18, Tulsa, who received a $2,500 scholarship.

Negro Dies In Gun Fight

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Police surprised three Negroes holding up a drugstore, killed one and captured two others in a gun battle and hand-to-hand struggle.

Russell Lee Thomas, 28, died after the fight last night. Patrolman H. C. Kell fired six shots into him as he grappled on the floor of the pharmacy with a disarmed policeman.

Lee Mizell, 27, and Edward Bernard Day, 23, surrendered. A fourth Negro, Henry Karl Evans, 25, apparently the driver of the getaway car, was caught four blocks away after he raced past a stoplight.

Police surprised Thomas and Mizell tying up the store manager in suburban Coconut Grove. Thomas whirled, emptied a pistol without effect at the officers, then lunged at Patrolman John Tomberlin, disarming him. Kell fired at Tomberlin and the bandit struggled on the floor for Tomberlin's gun lying nearby. Thomas cried as he was hit repeatedly, "Kill me, white man. Let me die. Lord save my soul."

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)*—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H.* At your druggist. Money back guaranteed.

Satellites Big Help In Cosmic Ray Study

Editor's Note—This is the last in a series of four articles written for The Associated Press by prominent U.S. scientists who attended the International Geophysical Year meetings in Moscow last month. It is Dr. Scott E. Forbush discusses IGY programs in the specialized fields of geophysical and solar research. He is with the Department of Terrestrial Magnetism at the Carnegie Institution of Washington.

The International Geophysical Year is concentrating the greatest effort that ever has been made in the study of the earth and how it is influenced by the sun.

Around the world scientists are making observations and taking notes on the many different phenomena connected with solar activity: weather; aurora and air-flow; ionospheres which make radio transmission possible; most variations in the earth's magnetic field; all the known time-variations in the intensity of cosmic radiation.

In this simultaneous observation lies one of the great advantages of the IGY.

Concentrated activity in one field of geophysics during the IGY has already led to unexpected results of great value in understanding phenomena in another branch.

One example of this was the discovery of X rays during auroral displays. IGY cosmic ray investigators at the universities of Iowa and Minnesota made the discovery while they were recording cosmic ray intensity at high altitudes with balloons.

These X rays result from electrons trapped in the "frozen in" magnetic field in plasma clouds, ejected from the sun.

The electrons in these same plasma clouds are responsible for the extraordinarily high counting rates registered at great altitudes by Geiger counters set up in the U. S. satellite Explorer by the cosmic ray group at the University of Iowa.

Soviet cosmic ray investigators using detectors on the latest Sputnik observed similar, but smaller, increases in counting rates at lower altitudes.

These electron-containing plasma clouds probably produce auroral and magnetic storms—if the clouds are large enough and if the magnetic field frozen in them when they leave the sun is great enough. Through scattering effects, these clouds probably cause the decreases in cosmic ray intensity which are observed during some magnetic storms.

Cosmic rays were discovered by Victor Hess in 1914. But it wasn't until about 1932 that experiments showed the primary cosmic rays, which impinge on the earth's outer atmosphere, consisted of charged particles of very high energy coming from all directions in space.

This experiment, in which the earth's permanent magnetic field played an important role, consisted of a worldwide survey of cosmic ray intensity using standardized instruments.

Research has shown that more cosmic rays fall at the poles than at the Magnetic Equator, where the earth's magnetic field deflects the weaker rays. And they are found to decrease in number when the sun is active with flares and sunspots.

Results obtained with cosmic ray nucleonic component monitors by Dr. J. A. Simpson at the University of Chicago in the U. S. IGY program show a decrease of nearly 25 per cent in intensity from sunspot minimum in 1954 to sunspot maximum in 1957.

This writer, at the Carnegie Institution of Washington, established the variation of cosmic ray intensity with sunspot cycle from continuous observations with ionization chambers over two decades. These results show that even the cosmic ray particles with energies high enough to reach the Magnetic Equator are subject to a solar cycle variation.

Superimposed on the solar cycle variation of cosmic ray intensity are large variations which occur in some, but not all, magnetic storms. Such efforts were especially numerous in 1957. They diminish toward sunspot minimum. Thus, pre-investigation of time variations of cosmic ray intensity, especially in connection with results from other IGY projects, will undoubtedly provide valuable results for better understanding electromagnetic phenomena in the solar system.

Off Limits

LONDON (AP)—U.S. servicemen in Britain have been ordered to keep away from London's Notting Hill district and other areas where there have been riots.

Republicans Lay Basis For Meeting

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—Texas Republicans have laid the groundwork for tomorrow's state convention with a series of resolutions urging a two-party political scene in Texas and blasting the Democrats.

The plans and resolutions committee met last night with John Tower of Wichita Falls presiding. The Republicans emphasized in resolutions what they called the need for two strong parties in Texas.

Other resolutions criticized the Democrats on their handling of lobby controls, insurance regulation, loan law regulation, juvenile delinquency, water problems and freedom of information.

Demos Want Unity, But Like A Fight

By MAX B. SKELTON
SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Texas Democrats of all shades apparently want harmony but like a good fight.

Harmony and fighting were popular words as party bigwigs, conservatives and liberals, perfected strategy for tomorrow's State Democratic Convention.

Gov. Daniel, U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, and "Tex Democrat," a Texas caricature of the party's emblematic mule, may disagree on principles but all want harmony.

The 5,000 delegates tomorrow will have official programs that have Tex Democrat proclaiming on the front cover: "We're gonna have harmony—even if we have to fight for it."

"It's going to be just like that," said Daniel.

Yarborough, who is challenging Daniel for control of the party machinery, drew applause at a rally of liberal delegates.

"I want harmony and peace so hard that I will fight for it," said the senator.

were a candidate for office."

The official program, prepared by the Bexar County delegation, presents balance between the conservative and liberal factions. There are photographs of Daniel, Yarborough, U.S. Sen. Lyndon Johnson, and House Speaker Sam Rayburn.

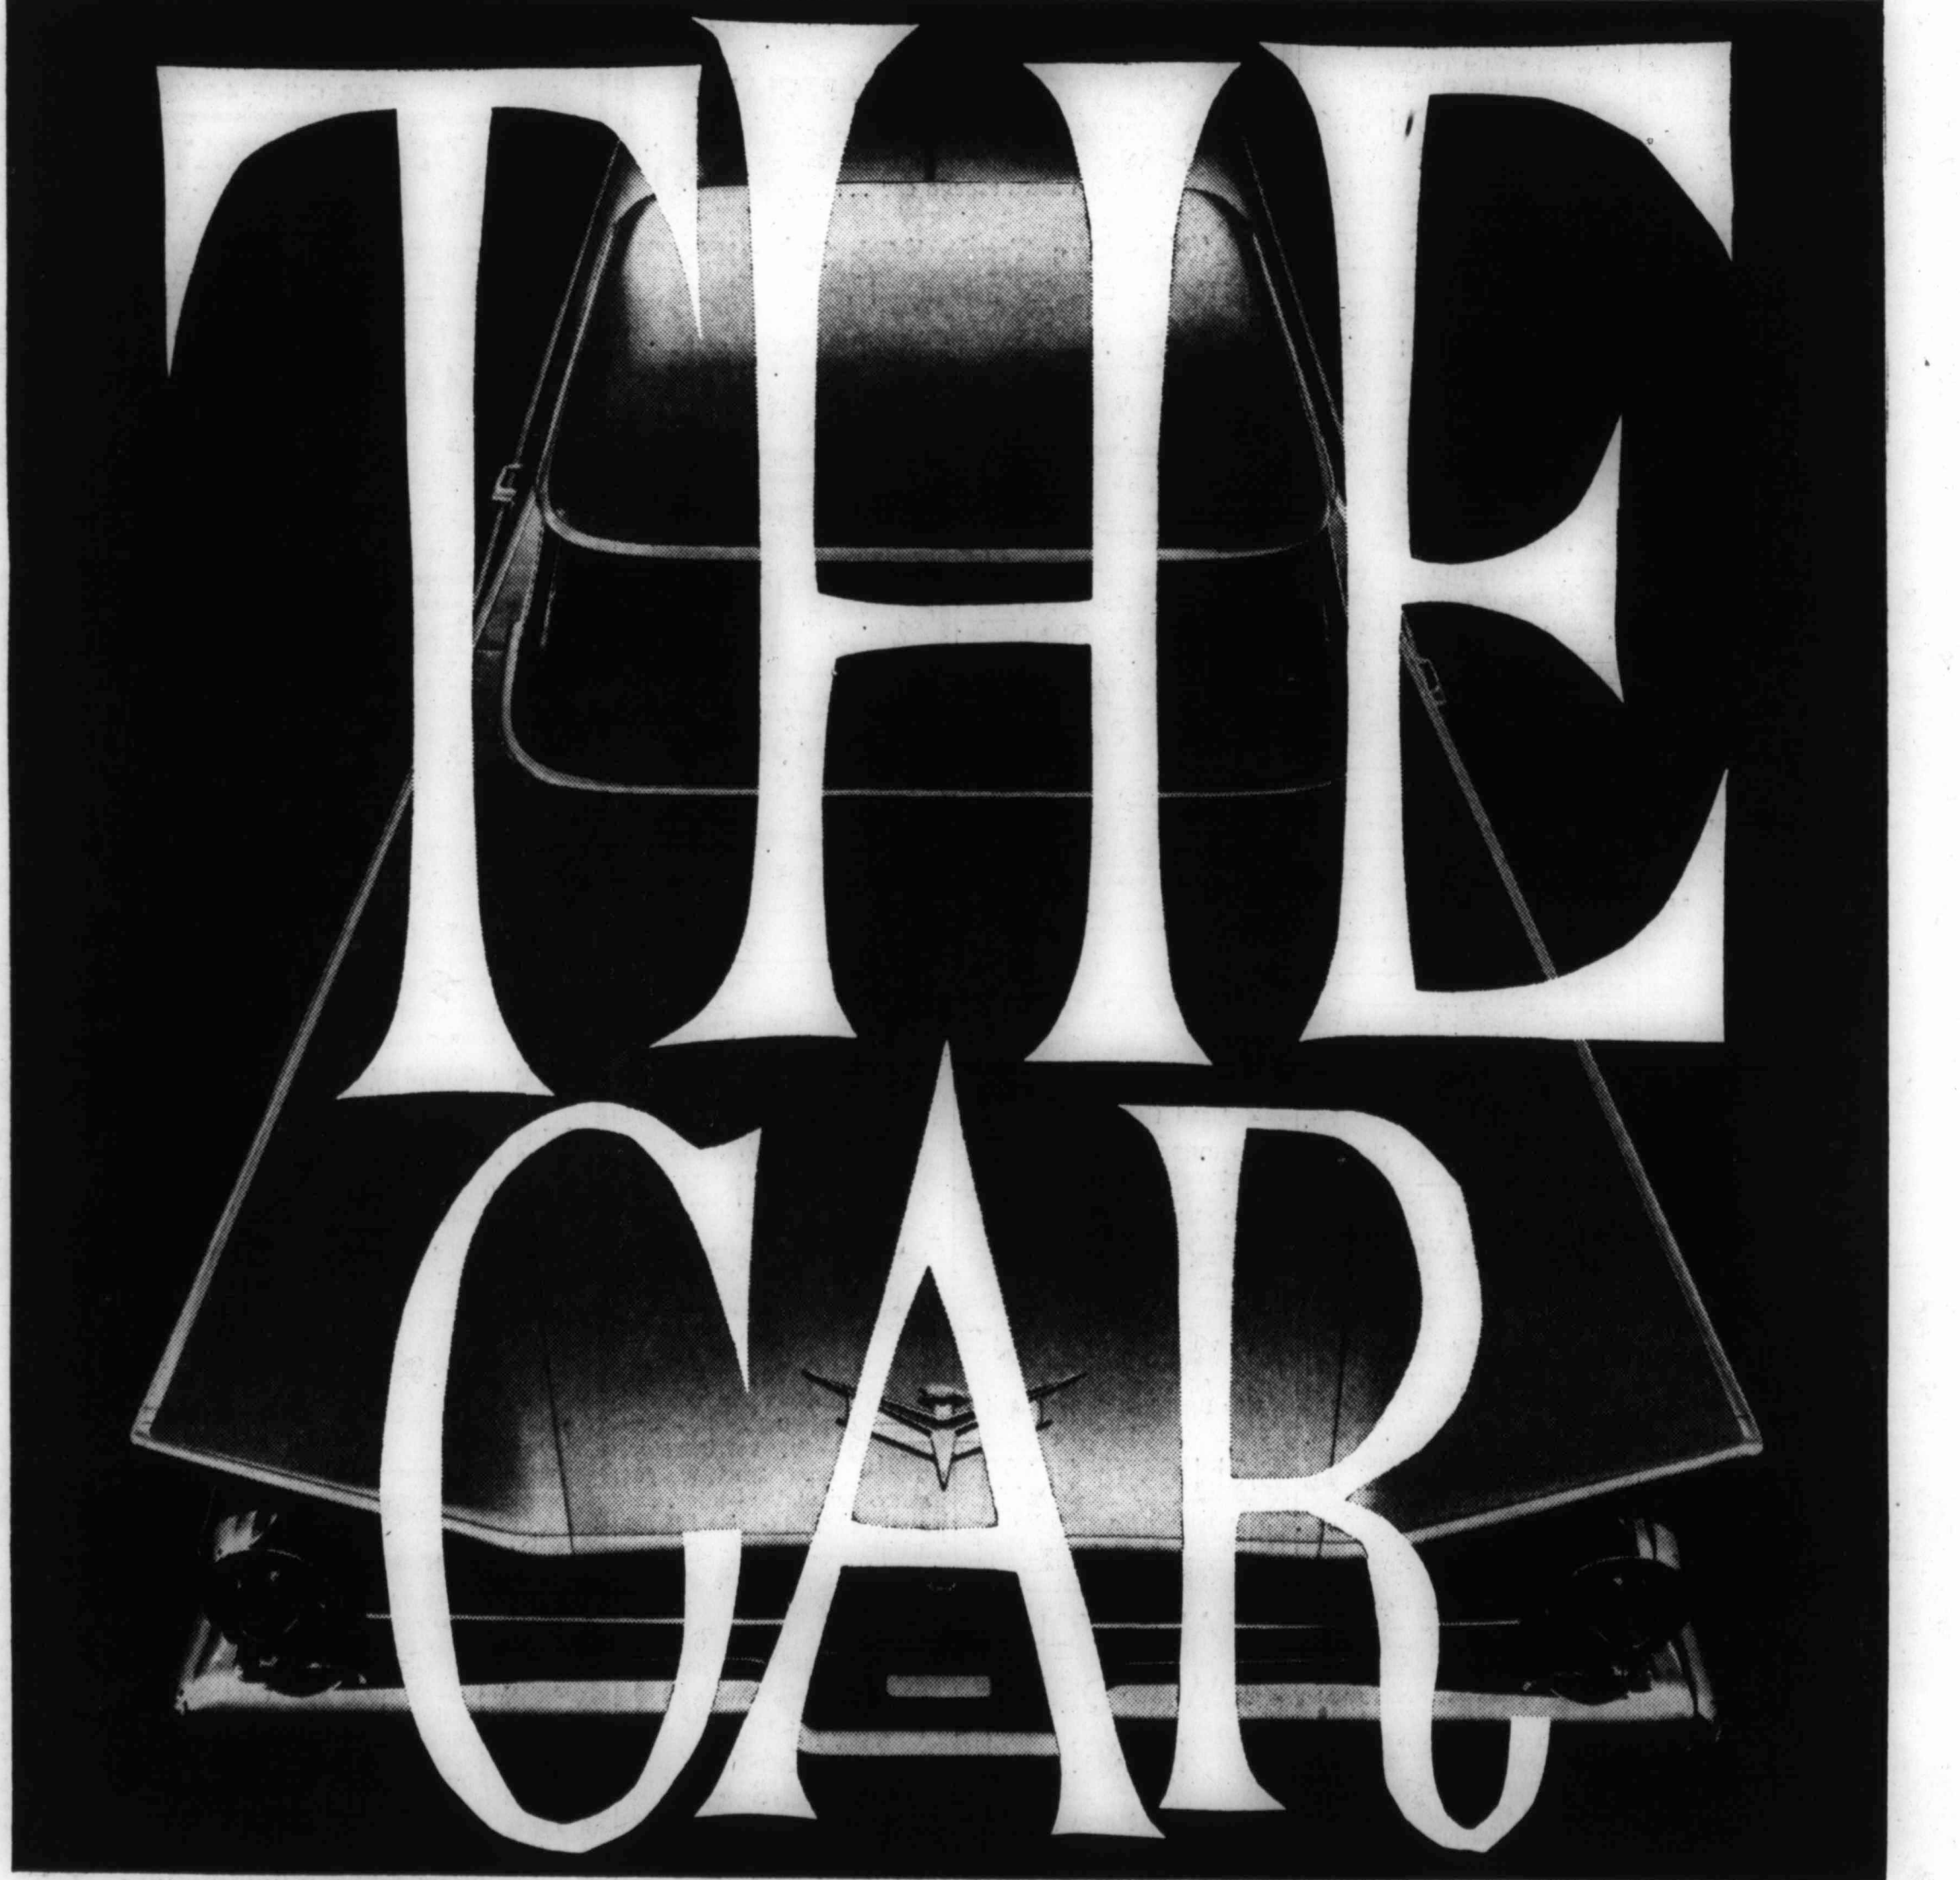

Carefully balancing each other at the bottom of page four are photographs of Byron Skelton of Temple, Texas National Democratic committeeman, and Mrs. R. D. Randolph of Houston, National committeewoman.

Skelton is backing Daniel's conservative fight, while Mrs. Randolph is heading the opposition battle of the liberal DOT.

Daniel's program message said he believes substantial accomplishments have been made toward fulfillment of a three-point program adopted at the 1956 convention—support of all nominees of the Democratic Party, support of the Texas Democratic Party platform, and strengthening of the Democratic Party through its duly elected officers.

At the liberal rally, Yarborough introduced Dist. Judge Jim Sewell of Corsicana, the DOT nominee for temporary chairman of the convention.
