Infant Howard County Had Hard Time Keeping Judges

By SAM BLACKBURN
When Howard County was very young - 76 years ago - county judges were definitely regarded as expendable by the County Commissioners Court.

They recite a blunt fact and that's the end. There's the mystery of why so many county judges in so brief an interval. There's the tragic recital of the sickness and death of an unknown identified in the records only as a "Mexican pauper."

Anderson. He presided at the first meeting of the county commissioners on July 1, 1882. He was not on hand on July 22-second meeting. Nor was he present at the next meeting of the commissioners on Aug. 12.

Soviets Threaten To End Atom Ban

LONDON (AP) - The Soviet Union renewed today its threats to end a self-imposed ban on nuclear weapons tests unless the United States and Britain stop their tests immediately.

The two Western powers have announced a halt to tests for one year, beginning Oct. 31, when they open talks with the Soviet Union on a worldwide nuclear explosion ban, provided the Soviet suspension continues.

As he struck, he said, the gun discharged and Fleck, who was standing beyond Anderson, crumpled to the floor. He claims Anderson seized him and he struck the airman a second time and then asked to the wounded man and went where he was hit. Fleck mumbled something like "shot in shoulder."

Dulles Calls For Cease-Fire In Far East, Flays Attacks

leave for peaceful resolution the different claims and counter-claims that are involved," Dulles said of the Warsaw talks.

shortly after being admitted. The body was then taken to the funeral home where the autopsy was ordered. Daniel Anton Fleck would have become 20 years of age next week.

Nationalist Jets Down 5 MIGs Over Quemoy

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) - Nationalist air force headquarters claimed its Sabre jets shot down five Communist MIG17s and possibly a sixth in air battles over Quemoy today.

The communiqué reported two aerial engagements in the late afternoon in which four Sabre jets took part against more than 30 MIGs. The Sabre jets were providing cover for Nationalist supply convoys when they became locked in the dog fighting.

Court Airs Women At A&M Issue

WACO, Tex. (AP) - Lawyers went before the 10th Court of Civil Appeals today to argue whether women students should be admitted to all-male Texas A&M College.

The hearing before Justices Frank McDonald and Jake Tiley was on the state's appeal against a district court ruling at Bryan that the school should let co-eds enroll.

Trailers Need Rear-End Lights, Patrolmen Warn

Start of the cotton harvest season has resulted in the increase of the number of trailers on the highways and highway patrol officers sounded a stern warning today that all such vehicles must be equipped with a tail light and with two reflector buttons.

College officials in recent years have allowed women to enroll during summer sessions but have refused to admit them for the regular fall and spring semesters.

U.S. Marshal R. Beal Kidd, in charge of the Little Rock, Ark., office, is the man who may be required to lead an army of deputies to enforce local school integration. Kidd, 42, formerly was a school teacher.

Chamber Enlists 22 New Members, 16 Increase Dues

Twenty-two new members have been enlisted in the Chamber of Commerce membership campaign which started a week ago today.

Production Cut To 11-Day Basis

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Railroad Commission today slashed the statewide oil allowance for October by 246,555 barrels a day, fixing the permissive production figure at 2,957,936 barrels a day.

allowable the past four months but apprehension over a soft market and possible weakening of both crude and products prices brought forecasts of a reduction.

Texans Sought In Oil Maps Copyright Case

HOUSTON (AP)—Two Texans were charged by federal authorities today with violating copyright laws in the reproduction of oil survey maps valued at seven million dollars.

Authorities refused to identify the men pending arrest but an investigator said the men were from Corpus Christi or Dallas.

Last Texas Isle On Sale

ROCKPORT, Tex. (AP)—The last large island on the Texas coast to be sold was put up for bids today.

The Tobin company employed the Southern Research Co. of Shreveport, La., to investigate an infringement of its copyright on the maps. The FBI entered the case recently.

College Enrollment Nearing 600 Mark

Howard County Junior College's enrollment neared the 600 mark Thursday.

Of the total registered so far, 93 are individuals stationed at Webb AFB but who are getting off college work.

The wet weather slowed down ginning, but cotton was coming to the gins again yesterday afternoon. At the Co-Op Gin & Supply in Big Spring the total had reached 127 bales.

Grade and staple have been unusually good, according to A. C. Kloven, bookkeeper. Most samples returned have shown grades of middling and strict middling, with only one light spot.

Ginners say farmers are in a position to cash in on higher grades than usual, providing they can get the cotton in before rainy weather and sandstorms.

Ted Fields of the Elbow community says he has 100 bales of cotton open now. He started baling yesterday with 16 workers, and says they may be able to stay up with it. He figures they should pull six bales a day in dry weather.

Fields got some rains just in time to save the cotton crop. On one field of about 100 acres he hopes to get 40 bales, but says cotton on his sandyland place is not so good.

The best cotton is nearer the center of Elbow. The rains tapered off to the west.

There may be fewer people out of work in this area than since the recession started last spring. Roscoe Gillean at the Texas Employment Commission says that many of the men out of work are transients. These fellows often make a career out of hunting work and don't want to interrupt it by taking a job.

Jack Hatch, farm representative at the TEC, sent six or seven transients to Jesse Puga, who is trying to form a crew of boll-pickers. Puga said only one showed up.

Very few native crews have come through town yet. Most of them go on through, but in the past farmers have managed to persuade a few to do their cotton picking here.

Texas Tech has become the second college in Texas to offer major courses in entomology. This, says most people know, is the study of insects, and has become an important part of modern agriculture.

Students majoring in entomology at Tech are required to take large doses of biology and other sciences. In the last few years entomology graduates have been much in demand by the large insecticide manufacturers, sugar beet companies and government agencies.

SHORT ITEMS:
Several gins in north Martin County and at Ackery will be allowed to send cotton samples to the classifying office at Lamesa.

Last year they were sent to Abilene.

A farm labor recruiter says the unemployment figures on farm labor are all wrong. "Here's why," he explained. "A Latin American starts out from Corpus Christi or Beeville, and he will stop in six different towns asking about work. And each time he will be counted as one worker out of a job. So if 5,000 are reported as wanting cotton-picking jobs, there may not be over 1,000 or 1,500 in reality."

Not long ago the editor of Farm & Ranch Magazine went to Washington and tried to pin Southern congressmen down on the coming legislation. Each one confided his inability to stop government spending. They also said the country would be completely socialistic in 15 to 20 years. Some of those interviewed were from Texas.

One sport among greyhound owners in this area is called "Coursing." They build a wire enclosure 75 to 100 yards wide, then at one end they place a canvas or sack-like opening for the rabbit to run toward.

The rabbit is turned loose at the far end, and with two greyhounds right behind him. As the race progresses, the judges check the hounds' speed, maneuverability and strategy in catching the rabbit.

I got the idea the sport is like cock-fighting, in that a lot of betting goes on and the affairs are not advertised. No officers or newspaper reporters are wanted because the hound racers don't like publicity.

... owner telling me about it said that dog fanciers from several towns come to the ... said there were two ... one near

Odessa and the other close to San Angelo.

"I used to attend them," he said, "but it's no place for a hot-tempered fellow like me. There's usually a lot of drinking and some rough people there, and a lot of them think their dogs should have won, no matter how slow they are. So now I just stay at home and use my dogs for hunting rabbits."

GI Sentenced On Sex Charge

AUSTIN (AP)—Stanley Press of Atlantic City, N.J., was sentenced yesterday to 13 years in prison after an all-male jury said he was guilty of sodomy.

Press was stationed at Ft. Hood last February when he allegedly forced an Austin woman, 21, into an unnatural sex act near here.

The jury deliberated for about two hours before returning its verdict. Press showed no emotion, but his father moaned and his mother sobbed aloud. Dist. Judge Mace Thurman ordered a hearing for 10 a.m. tomorrow on the defense attorneys' motion for a new trial.

Dist. Atty. Les Procter in final arguments asked Press be given the maximum 15-year sentence.

The defense argued that criminal law provides that testimony of an accomplice must be disregarded unless corroborated by other witnesses. Defense attorneys claimed the woman, a state employe, was an accomplice because the state did not prove she was forced into the alleged act through fear of bodily harm or death.

No defense witnesses were called.

There's Drama In The Adams Case

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—Whether Sherman Adams quits or stays, it's one of the strangest cases in a long time—packed with drama.

As was the case 10 days ago right after the Republican political disaster in the Maine elections, no one close to President Eisenhower at the summer White House would bet you that Adams will weather the storm and continue as Eisenhower's chief aide.

Those in the inner circle insist they just don't know. What is more, they insist that Eisenhower himself doesn't know—simply because, they say, Adams hasn't told the President.

There is the drama. These presidential lieutenants in Newport have said repeatedly that Eisenhower never will take the initiative and tell Adams he is through. They said Adams will have to make up his own mind.

They picture the wiry, white-haired Adams as going through the greatest agony of his 59 years in trying to reach a decision.

The background, of course, is that last June a congressional investigating committee nailed down that Adams had accepted costly gifts and favors from an old friend, Bernard Goldfine, at a time when the Boston industrialist was in trouble before federal regulatory agencies.

Adams acknowledged getting gifts and favors. But he testified he never exerted one whit of influence in behalf of Goldfine. He said he made only routine inquiries about Goldfine's difficulties.

At a Washington news conference June 18, Eisenhower said Adams had been imprudent but that nevertheless "I need him."

That might have ended it, despite the clamor on the part of a good many GOP candidates that Adams had to go.

Then on Sept. 8 in Maine, the Republicans were shellacked by the Democrats. The Goldfine case was an indirect issue there, and GOP candidates in other states set up a new howl for Adams' scalp.

Since that howl started, Eisenhower has been publicly silent. He called the Republican setback in Maine a beating there is no use trying to disguise.

But all indications at the summer White House are that no one close to him knows whether he has changed his mind about Adams having to stay on because "I need him."

For the first time since Adams returned to his Washington office Monday after a 10-day vacation, the President and Adams talked yesterday—by telephone.

They had not consulted since Sept. 6, when Eisenhower interrupted his vacation and returned to the capital for a few hours. That was two days before the Maine elections.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, told a Newport news conference the Eisenhower-

Texas U. Makes Big Lake Discovery Well A Memorial

AUSTIN (AP)—The discovery well of the Big Lake Oil Field which brought most of today's modern buildings to the University of Texas is being erected as a permanent campus memorial. "We hope to have the Santa Rita No. 1 rig installed by Thanksgiving," said Carl J. Eckhardt, physical plant director. The drilling rig is being installed on the south edge of the campus. Dedication of the 1923 discovery well is tentatively set for Nov. 27. Officials of Texas A&M College, which also benefits from university oil revenues, will take part in the ceremony. Eckhardt said the oil soaked timbers from the drilling rig are in good condition but the timbers of the 84-foot wooden derrick have been destroyed by long years of exposure to the weather. Only the drilling rig will be set up in the permanent memorial. Dr. Walter Prescott Webb, university historian, first suggested in 1939 that the university make a permanent memorial of the Santa Rita. At that time the 18-year-old derrick and rig were dismantled and moved from the Big Lake Oil Field to Austin where they have been in outdoor storage for the past 19 years. Plans for the memorial were renewed last spring after Leroy Jeffers of Houston, chairman of university regents, urged the project. Drilling the Santa Rita was the initial venture of oilmen who had leased mineral rights on university lands. For 20 months one lone man, Carl Cromwell, drilled at the Santa Rita site in Reagan County. University lands had long been considered the most worthless oil land in West Texas. However, the Santa Rita—named after the saint of the impossible—blew in on May 28, 1923, spraying a fine mist of oil for 250 yards and providing the first oil for the permanent university fund which now totals more than 300 million dollars.

Sam Rayburn Wins Bitter Fight To Extend Front Of Capitol

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—A webwork of steel pipes has climbed and spread over the face of the center section of the Capitol in recent days. It's the first step in the project of extending the east front of the building.

Greatly responsible for the execution of this controversial undertaking is a Texan, Speaker Sam Rayburn of Bonham.

Opponents included some officials of the American Institute of Architects, historical organizations and numerous members of the House and Senate. In the final days of the recently adjourned 85th Congress Mr. Sam won out. Workmen are rushing now to get the job done in time for the 1961 Presidential inauguration. The ceremonies take place on the plaza in front of the Capitol. The first step is the erection of towering steel scaffolding. Workmen will stand on it to take plaster casts of the cornice, nooks and crannies so that the new extended front will be an exact replica of the original.

The center front section, to be extended eastward 32 1/2 feet, is the oldest part of the historic building. George Washington laid the corner stone in 1799. The Senate and House wings, dedicated by Lincoln, are not affected by the 11-million dollar remodeling job.

Backers of the project say it is needed to provide additional office space in the Capitol and to correct an esthetically offensive sight caused by the fact that the huge dome overhangs the present front facing. Few notice this, however, because the wide portico and steps sweep down far out beyond the edge of the dome.

The proponents declare also that much of the old stone cornice work is crumbling and is a menace to passersby.

Those who unsuccessfully fought the project argued that the defects could be repaired. They said

State National Has CPA Firm For Full Fiscal Study

A complete examination of all fiscal affairs of the State National Bank has been started by the nationally known firm of certified public accountants, Ernst & Ernst.

The audit, said Robert W. Currie, president, has been ordered for the board of directors, to give them a full and detailed report on all phases of the bank's operation. A crew of 11 accountants is at work under direction of John Walker, of the Ernst & Ernst Fort Worth office. Walker said an important phase of the examination will be a review of all the institution's procedures and methods, with a view of recommending modernization and simplification of accounting routines.

the office space would be about the costliest per cubic foot ever constructed, and contended the new building would not be the same historic edifice.

Many of these opponents were against the project to the end. Rayburn won a great many over to his point of view, however. Among them was Rep. Fred Schwengel (R-Iowa). In the final debate, he took the floor to say:

"Mr. Speaker, it is no secret that I have taken an active interest in the extension of the east front of the Capitol Building. Neither is it a secret that at one time I was opposed to any alteration of this building. "The more that I looked into the proposal to make the necessary changes, the more convinced I became that I had been wrong in my position, and instead of opposing the extension, I shall actually support it."

"Certain members of the AIA (American Institute of Architects) have taken to calling us here in this House and the Members of the other body (Senate), a company of 'arrogant politicians'—their phrase—and charging us with 'vandalism,' 'mutilation,' and 'destruction' for proposing as a matter of due legislative process to extend the east front of the Capitol of the United States.

"There is an element of injustice — even irrelevance — on the part of all responsible AIA officials, in singling out Speaker Sam Rayburn for the brunt of their attack."

DEAR ABBY

GET BUSY, GAL

By ABIGAL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am afraid I am a little slow about getting around to writing "thank you" notes. I have been married five months and I haven't sent the "thank you" notes for my bridal showers yet. I also have not written the "thank you's" for my wedding gifts. I am expecting a baby in four months. I know there will be some baby showers for me. Do you think it would be all right if I wanted and thanked my friends for everything in one note? They are all the same people.

NO WRITER
DEAR NO: Certainly not! Each gift deserves an individual "thank you". Get busy and write them!

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl of 17. My grandparents are invalids and very old. My parents expect me to stay here with them and not go anywhere. I know they only have a few short years to live but do you think I should give up the best years of my life, giving up parties and dates to take care of them? OLD PEOPLE SITTER
DEAR O.P.S.: Surely you are not expected to stay with your grandparents night and day? Someone else in the family can relieve you one or two evenings a week. In the meantime, be thankful that you are the one who is young and healthy and doing the "sitting" instead of "being sat" with.

DEAR ABBY: What would you do about a mother-in-law who walks in and out of your bedroom all hours of the night to look and see if the baby is all right? She doesn't think I am capable of watching. Don't tell us to move as we are living with her and we can't afford a place of our own yet. Do I have to stand for this or not? GOING CRAZY
DEAR GOING: You do not! Have a lock put on your bedroom door.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is 25 years old, yet he complains if he gets less than 16 hours sleep a day. We can't go anywhere because he is always sleepy. If he worked hard it would be difference but he rides around all day and doesn't do any hard work. On our wedding anniversary (our first) he did take me out but we came home at 9:30, although he did not have to go to work until 4:30 the next afternoon. What can I do to get my husband to stay up and pay some attention to me? I never see him. Please print this. It might wake him up. IGNORED
DEAR IGNORED: It will take more than a letter to "wake him up." Your husband should make haste in the direction of the nearest doctor. No man, aged 25, needs 16 hours of sleep a day.

DEAR ABBY: Recently, after doing my shopping, I came home in a taxi. A woman sitting in the seat beside me spied my portable radio. She asked me if I took it shopping with me and I said, "Yes and then she said, "What on earth for?" I replied, "To hear the news and baseball scores" and then she looked at me like I was crazy and said "GLORY BE, WOMAN!" I held my tongue, but how I wished I could have recited parents failed to give them the proper training. If you value your furnishings, you and Pa had better go to visit your grandchildren at their home.

DEAR ABBY: My son and his wife come to visit us every Sunday and they bring their two little children. These children act like they were raised in the wilds of Africa. They never speak, they shout. They turn the chairs over and play "rocking horse" and take the sofa cushions out and push them across the floors. They wipe their hands on the curtains and kick at the furniture with their shoes. If we say anything they say we think more of our furniture than we do of their children. How can we make them understand that we love the children but do not want our home in shambles? GRANDMA
DEAR GRANDMA: Don't blame your grandchildren because their little rhyme I learned in Bible School. It went like this:

"I am not what I ought to be
I am not what I want to be,
I am not what I hope to be,
But by the Grace of God
I am what I am."

Sincerely yours,
MRS. R. T.

Device 'Reads' To The Blind

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Veterans Administration announced today development of a machine it said can read printed material to blind persons.
The sounds the device gives out are not the words of ordinary speech, but patterns of musical tones similar to the chords of an organ. The blind person must learn to interpret these sounds into letters and words.

Based on tests during the last year, the VA said a trained user ultimately should reach a reading speed of 15 to 30 words a minute. But it cautioned that both the device itself and training methods for using it must be developed further before quantity production of the machine can be started.

Only five prototype models have been made thus far.
Its advantage over the Braille system is that the blind person can read ordinary printed material, including books, magazines and typewritten correspondence.

The entire machine is about the size and shape of a portable radio. A scanning unit, which is held in the hand and moved along a line of printed matter, throws a pattern which vary with the black cells. These in turn set up sound patterns which vary with the black and white of the printed words and letters.

The machine was designed and is being evaluated by the Battelle Memorial Institute, Columbus, Ohio, under VA contract. A portable unit, it is designed for eventual home use by blinded veterans.

Lose Weight Slowly

Singer Roberta Linn cautions against extreme diets that undermine your health. She believes in losing weight slowly with balanced meals.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Don't Be A Slave To The Fashion Trends

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — It's been five years since Roberta Linn left the Lawrence Walk show, but she's still remembered as his Champagne Girl.
"I've done a lot of growing up since then," Roberta told me recently, "and I feel much more sophisticated. I think clothes are much more an expression of one's personality than most people realize."
"I can tell almost immediately when I step before an audience if my dress is a hit or a miss. That's why I think it's a mistake to follow the latest fashion trends rather than becomingness."
"I avoid clothes that are too busy with a print or a design. Sometimes the gown that is the biggest attraction of a fashion show will be so dramatic it overpowers the model."
Since Roberta started her professional career when she was 13, she's become accustomed to appearing before the public. And although she isn't nervous when she's performing, she admits being terribly shy offstage.
"It probably sounds silly but I'm self-conscious and it's something I've had to work at to overcome. I've discovered the best cure is to force myself to think of the other person. When you listen to what he is saying and watch him, you forget all about being nervous."
"Being a good listener helps in other ways, too. Not only do you learn something from everyone, but by being attentive you make many friends. Many people don't listen when they're spoken to, and then they wonder why no one pays attention when they're talking."

I told Roberta she was much thinner than when I saw her last, and she said:
"I lost 22 pounds in 10 days before my recent Las Vegas opening, but that was too fast, and I didn't feel well afterwards," she revealed.
"What diet did you follow?" I wanted to know.
"I ate nothing but eggs, tomatoes and grapefruit three times a day. This was too strenuous and I wouldn't advise anyone to do this. I got pneumonia and nearly died because I had so little resistance. Now that I have my health back, I realize how foolish it is to lose weight so quickly. If you have to reduce, do it the slow, easy way," Roberta advised.
LONG PULL DIET
Giselle MacKenzie, like Roberta Linn, had a weight problem, but she solved it permanently and is anxious to share her discovery with Hollywood Beauty readers in Leaflet M-73, "Long Pull Diet." Hers is a slow-but-sure method, scientifically designed for the purpose of taking weight off and keeping it off. For your copy of this vital leaflet send only 10 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, in care of The Big Spring Herald.

Need A Full Petticoat? Here's How To Make One

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

"You can talk all you want about those slinky styles," says Alice Lon, the Texas thrush, "but I'm the petticoat type."

Pert, pretty and strictly feminine, Alice began her singing career in Kilgore, Tex., at the age of 6, and has been at it ever since.
"My mother used to make all my clothes, especially petticoats," says Alice. "She said a girl ought to have plenty of frills and ruffles, and that's what I think, too. That's why I'd never dream of appearing on stage or television without one of my favorite petticoats—they do something for me. I have dozens, in all colors."

48 YARDS

Alice's 48-yard petticoat has won nationwide fame since she has been appearing as featured singer with Lawrence Welk's orchestra.

Alice's directions proved a little baffling, so the problem was turned over to local sewing center experts, who went into a huddle and came up with the following instructions:

Materials needed: Nine yards nylon net, 72 inches wide; 48 yards satin ribbon, one inch wide; two yards satin ribbon two inches wide, one hook and eye.

THREE SECTIONS

This petticoat is made in three sections: A circular section at the waist, with two rows of ruffles edged in satin ribbon. For the first section, cut off one yard of net. Fold in half crosswise so you have a piece 36 by 36 inches. Find center of net square in order to draw two concentric circles—one for the waist and one for the lower edge of the first section.

To draw circle for waist, attach pencil to string and hold end of string to center of net square with thumbtack. If your waistline is 25 inches, a 4-inch length of string will be about right. Each additional half-inch of string will enlarge the circle by approximately three inches. Draw circle for waistline.

Now determine correct length for petticoat by measuring from your waistline to your hemline. To determine depth of first section, subtract 18 inches, to allow for depth of two nine-inch ruffles. Adjust string to length of difference between these measurements, working from the outside edge of the circle you have drawn for your waistline. For example, if the finished length of the petticoat is to be 28 inches, and you subtract 18 inches for the ruffles, your top section will be 10 inches deep. With string still secured to center of net square, lengthen string by 10 inches and draw second circle. Cut out hole for waistline, and cut around second circle. You will now have a doughnut-shaped piece of net.

Cut waistline slit 6 inches long for placket. Bind waist and placket with 2 inch satin ribbon. Put hook and eye at waistline closing.

Cut remaining 8 yards of net lengthwise into eight strips nine inches long. Each strip will be 8 yards long.

RUFFLES

For the first ruffle, sew ends of two strips together to form a piece of net 15 yards long and 9 inches wide. Gather and stitch to lower edge of top section.

For the second ruffle, sew remaining six strips together, to form a piece 48 yards long and 9 inches wide. Gather and stitch to lower edge of first ruffle.

Using the multi-slotted binder attachment for your sewing machine, edge lower edge of petticoat with satin ribbon. Finished petticoat is 48 yards at the hem.

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

After the cool reception Big Spring residents got Wednesday morning there has been a hustle in the warm clothing and blanket departments. A few degrees drop in the temperature this time a year just seems colder... especially to those that have been concentrating more on children's clothing than on their own. Summer clothing just doesn't feel as good in 54 degree weather as it did at 94.

South Could Rise Again If Money Talks

By LONNIE HUDKINS
Of Dallas Times Herald
Written For The Associated Press

If the price of Confederate money keeps going up, the South could rise again.

Latest prices quoted on Confederate $1 bills—in good condition—range from $2 to $6. But mind you, they have to be free of mutilation and in good condition.

A $2 Confederate bill is quoted at the same price as a Confederate dollar. However, the Confederate five-spot brings only 50 cents to $3. The same price goes for a $10 bill.

The going price on Confederate $20 and $50 bills is $1 to $5, while that old $100 note that may be in the attic brings $1.50 to $6. A $500 Rebel bill is worth from $5 to $17.50, according to the latest listings.

Then comes the big jump to $1,000 Confederate bills. They are as scarce as a Confederate private's uniform and if unrecycled bring $1,000 in U. S. currency from collectors.

But don't go getting excited. If you are like many readers who have written or telephoned, you may think you have some Confederate money when you really don't.

Many persons have facsimile Confederate money that was issued several years ago by a cereal company. It looks pretty but isn't the real Rebel McCoy. In fact, it even has "Facsimile" printed on the lower left side.

But the longer it stays around

Author's Wife Admits She's Unwed, Vanishes With 5 Kids

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP)—Eleanor McPartland, wife of a best-selling author and Monterey's Mother of the Year in 1956, said last night she was unwed—and disappeared quietly with her five children.

Ida McPartland, who lives 125 miles away in Mill Valley with her 10-year-old son Donald, first broke the news of John McPartland's disappearance. She said that in fairness to Donald she wanted it known that she, and not Eleanor, is the widow of the man who wrote "No Down Payment" and a dozen paperback novels.

McPartland died of a heart attack Sunday night and Eleanor was listed as his widow. But Ida said she was married to the writer in Tyler, Tex., in September 1943 and bore him Donald.

Eleanor had been received here as McPartland's wife for a decade. She bore him five children, aged 4, 6, 7, 9 and 10.

"I confirm Ida's story," she said after Ida told newspapermen she is the real widow. "Other than that, I have no comment." Later, she said she was leaving with the children to avoid further publicity. She did.

Ida said the easy-going author had lived with both her and Eleanor over the years and each woman knew of his relations with the other. She explained she never legally separated from him because he kept promising to give up Eleanor and return to her and Donald.

"Why, he made that promise as late as last week," she added. She reported he had spent two weeks with her this month, return-

Red Tape Halting Adoption Of Girl Being Cleared

WASHINGTON (AP)—Red tape which for 18 months has prevented an Air Force sergeant and his wife from adopting a German baby girl is about to be cleared away.

The Bryan, Tex., Chamber of Commerce, Rep. Olin Teague (D-Tex.), German officials, and KLM Royal Dutch Airlines combined to turn the truck.

Robert Haight, an Air Force sergeant stationed at Bryan AFB, Tex., and his German wife have been trying since early in 1957 to adopt the German infant, named Roberta Botish.

Roberta is the daughter of a German girl deserted by her husband.

Mrs. Haight flew to Munich last October, thinking the way had been cleared for adoption. She found that because the child's father could not be located to give permission the baby girl could not be released.

The disconsolate Mrs. Haight, back in this country, told her troubles to friends who passed the problem on to the Bryan Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber asked Teague to see what he could do.

As a result of Teague's correspondence with German officials, regulations are to be waived.

Bertha Fools Men About Her Age, Pays With Life

NEW YORK (AP)—Bertha the whale, flown here from Alaska early this month by the Coney Island Aquarium, is dead. She died because, as females sometimes do, she fooled men about her age.

In her few days of life here, Bertha was the pride of the aquarium and the only live whale to be exhibited in New York since 1897.

Aquarium experts estimated her age at 14 months, chiefly because of her size and eating habits. She was 6 feet 7 inches long and weighed 400 pounds.

So she was offered a fish diet appropriate for a whale youngster of 14 months. Bertha gobbled the fish as if she were really that old.

Unfortunately, she wasn't. She really was only an infant whale, less than a year old. The fish were too much for her delicate digestive system because she was not out of the milk diet stage.

Bertha died of gastritis.

Her true age was determined from an examination of her teeth after her death.

Navy, Irish Crippled

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer
This is D-Day minus two for Saturday's football warriors who will establish a bridgehead on the 1958 college football season.
But time is hanging a bit heavy for coaches Eddie Erdlatz of Navy and Notre Dame's Terry Brennan, even though their D-Day isn't until Sept. 27.
Both have potential All-Americans on the injury list that may sideline them for the opening games or even longer.
Erdlatz is concerned about Bob Reifsnnyder, a 1957 All-America tackle, and one of four starters left from Navy's Cotton Bowl champions. The 234-pound senior pulled a calf muscle that will hospitalize him two weeks, with his status in the William & Mary opener dubious.
The injury occurred 10 days ago in a scrimmage but he did not go to the hospital until this week. Nick Pietrosante, Notre Dame's bustling fullback, put a furrow in Brennan's brow today. Pietrosante sprained a toe that makes him a doubtful starter when the Irish open against Indiana.
Brennan has slated Ron Toth to do the offensive fullbacking and defensive linebacking in Nick's place, while quarterback Bob Williams, also a semi-injured this fall, will handle the punting. Pietrosante led all Notre Dame ball carriers with a 5-yard per carry average in 1957, and had a 39.6 punting average until an injury in the Iowa game sidelined him.

Bengals Claim 12th Victory Over Yankees

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Detroit is third in American League standings, but they're still the tail-end Tigers, waiting until the pennant is gone before making a season-end sprint for a share of the World Series loot.
It's an old habit with the Tigers. And it has cost two managers—Bucky Harris and Jack Tighe—their jobs.
In 1956, the Tigers roared through the last weeks and finished fifth.
The Tigers finished fourth in 1957, but they had to win on the final day to do it.
When their 1958 start indicated something worse, Tighe was ousted and Bill Norman took over an eighth-place club June 10.
The Tigers moved into third last weekend and built a two-game hold on the spot with a 5-2 victory over the Yankees yesterday. It was their sixth straight win. Again the Tigers are the only team to beat the champs for the season, with a 12-0 bulge, just as in 1956.
Boston stayed tied for fourth with idle Cleveland by splitting a double-header at Kansas City. The A's won the opener 6-3, then lost 4-2. Rain postponed Baltimore's game at Chicago.
The Tigers got the clincher the hard way. They beat 21-game winner Bob Turley with the help of light-swinging Reno Bertola, whose fifth and sixth homers counted their first three runs.
Jim Bunning (13-10), last year's 20-game winner, gave up a third-inning, two-run homer by Mickey Mantle, his 41st.
Williams lost ground to Boston teammate Pete Runnels in the bat race. Both homered in the opener, but Runnels pushed his leading average to .322 with 4-for-8 in the pair. Williams, sitting out the second game, was 2-for-4 for a second best .318. Kansas City's Bob Cerv was 2-for-8, tying Cleveland's Vic Power and Detroit's injured Harvey Kuenn for third at .315.
Harry Chitt's grand slam won the opener for the A's and Ray Herbert (8-7) against Ike Delock (12-8), who has lost five straight. Rookie Bill Monbouquette (3-4) won the nightcap as the Red Sox ended an eight-game slump on homers by Bill Renna, Don Buddin and Frank Malzone off Ned Garver (12-11).
In the South, West Virginia named a starting eleven after a light workout on offensive and defensive patterns, while opponent Richmond worked defensive plays against a simulated Mountaineer offense.
Clemson spent two hours on defensive situations while Virginia, its Saturday opponent, spent its time polishing the offense. North Carolina worked against an expected North Carolina State multiple offense while the Wildcats held a review of all departments for their intra-state rivalry Saturday.
Georgia went through a night workout on all its alignments while Saturday night for Texas concentrated on field goals and punting.
Oklahoma State polished its air defenses for its tilt against Air Force while Kansas drilled on goal line defense against Texas Christian player missing, had its entire squad on offense and defense, in readiness for the Vanderbilt game.

YSLETA, STEER FOE, LED BY JIM PRICE

The Ysleta team which faces Big Spring here Friday night isn't a multiple offense club as was San Antonio Edison, which played and lost to the Steers last week, but rather runs an offense much like that of the local contingent.
Boasting a 195-pound right end and tackles who weigh 185 and 190 pounds, the Indians will hold a weight advantage over the Longhorns. They combine that size with good speed and the ability to hit hard.
So says Chop Van Pelt, who scouted the Indians in their scoreless tie against Roswell, N. M., last week. Ysleta scored once in the game but the play was called back due to an infraction. Roswell is one of the favorites to win a New Mexico title.
Captain of the Ysleta team is right end Jim Price, a 6-foot-2, 195-pound two-year letter winner, rated the top defensive lineman in District I-AAAA. Price is also among the leading receivers in his conference.
He is one of 11 returning lettermen back with the Warriors this fall. Ysleta won five, lost four

Hemus Is Due To Get Card Pilot's Post

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals fired Manager Fred Hutchinson yesterday but won't name his successor until the end of the season.
The replacement undoubtedly will be former Cardinal Solly Hemus, known to be the favorite of owner August A. Busch.
HUTCHINSON In announcing that Hutchinson was out, General Manager Bing Devine said the Cardinals would announce a new manager after the end of the season and before the World Series.
With Hutchinson went his three coaches, Stan Hack, Terry Moore and Al Hollingsworth. Hack agreed to manage the Redbirds until the end of the season. Then he's on his way out of the Cardinal organization, as is Moore. Hollingsworth might be offered another job in the system.
The only stumbling block in the way of Hemus' selection appeared to be terms the Philadelphia Phillies might want for him. At second base for the Phillies, he has been one of the few new wires on that team.
Eddie Stanky, now a coach with the Cleveland Indians, will be with the Cardinals next year. He'll act as a "baseball brain," with a final say on trades, bonus players and rookies.
Favored for a pitching coach is Eddie Lopat. Next in line is Sal Maglie. The Cardinals would have to obtain a release of Lopat from the New York Yankees, whose Richmond farm he manages. If he should turn down the job, Maglie can switch from Cardinal pitcher to Cardinal coach.
Hutchinson won't be out of a job very long if he doesn't want to be. Last night he attended the Cardinals game against the Milwaukee Braves, which the Cards won 5-3, with Dewey Soriano, general manager of the Seattle club.
Soriano, a long-time friend of Hutchinson's, said, "I've made Hutch such a good offer he'll have a hard time turning it down."
"A lot of bunk," Stengel growled. "Just a lot of newspaper bunk."
Hook denied it, too, and Duren was in Wisconsin attending his grandfather's funeral. Other Yankee players said it was just horseplay and some writers covering the club said there was no exchange of punches.
The Post said the fight took place on a train carrying the club from Kansas City, where the Yankees clinched another pennant Sunday, to Detroit. "By agreement the sports writers traveling with the team kept it secret," said the Post. "Today it leaked out."

Yanks Normal, Says Casey

DETROIT (AP) — Casey Stengel says his New York Yankees are just normal, healthy, red-blooded, playful American boys.
They do not fight among themselves, he says, and there have been no fights between players and coaches. The whole squad, says Stengel, is saving its strength for the Milwaukee Braves and the World Series.
The New York Post said Wednesday that Coach Ralph Houk and relief ace Ryno Duren "engaged in a bloody battle" during the Yankees' victory party Sunday night.
"A lot of bunk," Stengel growled. "Just a lot of newspaper bunk."
Houk denied it, too, and Duren was in Wisconsin attending his grandfather's funeral. Other Yankee players said it was just horseplay and some writers covering the club said there was no exchange of punches.

Jim Myers Tells His Aggie Team It's Worst He's Seen

By The Associated Press
Southwest Conference football squads are all expected to be in good condition for their opening games Saturday but some coaches are doubtful of making it a winning start.
The biggest doubter is Jim Myers of Texas A&M who told his boys they were "lousy, terrible, the worst I've seen" in practice Wednesday. The Aggies play Texas Tech in the Cotton Bowl Saturday. Tech is crippled by illness so maybe things will be all square.
Only Aggie Sophomore back Randy Sims will definitely miss the game.
Rice will have its two fullbacks, who have been favoring bruised hips, back in shape for its game with LSU at Houston Saturday. Ray Chilton and Lonnie Caddell

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—The combination of Ray Murray's hitting and Tommy Bowers' relief pitching again has Corpus Christi on top in Texas League warfare.

The clubs clash here again tonight with Dick Sovde (11-11) trying to make it 2-up for Corpus Christi. Winston Brown, Austin's 17-game winner, toes the hill for the Senators.

Curriculum Studies Set

Plans for a state-wide study of the curriculum problems facing the Texas Public Schools will be formulated at 27 regional workshops which will be held in Texas during the last two weeks of September. One of them will be in Lamesa.

Robert Ashworth, Amarillo superintendent and president of the Texas Assn. of School Administrators, said each workshop will consider procedures for the establishment of curriculum study groups in every Texas school district.
Study groups will view a series of 26 "Curriculum" telecasts which will be presented as a public service by 20 television stations beginning in October. After viewing the programs and studying the curriculum guides which will be provided for each participant, the local groups will make specific suggestions and recommendations to the state commissions.

C. A. Farquhar Dies At Cisco

Harold C. Farquhar was called to Cisco Wednesday evening on learning of the death of his father, Charles A. Farquhar, 83, retired Cisco tree surgeon.
Mr. Farquhar collapsed at the office of his daughter, Mrs. Beatrice Guthrie, at Cisco and died suddenly. He had been in ill health for several years.

Services have been set for 4 p.m. Friday at the Hammer Funeral Chapel in Cisco with the Rev. Ed Crow, First Methodist pastor there, in charge. Burial is to be in Cisco's Oakwood Cemetery.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Readers Have Divergent Opinions On Segregation

Dear Editor:
I think this problem of segregation could be stopped if the people of Arkansas and other states would believe what the Bible has to say about all people being created equal. The Bible also says love thy neighbor as thyself.
In all states where there is trouble, much of it comes from believing that those first have special, kindly rights. In that case, the Indians have these rights. You can't solve the problem by saying one race should go back to where it came from because no one can say where the races came from originally.
Gov. Faubus criticized the Little Rock school board for a "cruel and unnecessary blow to the children" in cancelling this year's football schedule and other extra-curricular activities. He can put the shoe on the other foot by looking at a blow he caused by seeking students who wanted to enroll and get an education.
Parents are at fault when they go to the extreme of setting up a television class (rather than to a school). I wonder how the parents and children would feel if they had to go to a school where they could only come home on the weekends.

As a 20-year-old youth I think all races have their rights to get an education just the same as they have the right to fight for their country, some never to return. Negroes as well as whites would have to go to prison for not fighting for their country.
Yours truly,
Tony Baeza

Dear Editor:
We should thank God for such leaders as Gov. Alford and Sen. Byrd of Virginia, Sen. Eastland of Mississippi, Gov. Faubus of Arkansas and Sens. Russell of Georgia. These esteemed men have been fighting Texas' battles while we elect moderates who have done nothing consistent with the referendum of a few years ago regarding the social integration with the Supreme Court is endeavoring to foist upon us.
I thank you,
William N. Blansitt

Lions Slate Lamp Sales

The annual light bulb sales campaign by the Downtown Lions Club is set for Sept. 29-30 and Oct. 1.
Louis Carothers, co-chairman of the effort, said that team assignments have been made and that efforts will be made to sell the 1,500 sacks of bulbs (an assortment for $2) within the three-day period. All the club's profits go to the sight conservation and blind fund.
At the Wednesday meeting of the club, members saw a motion picture produced by the National Funeral Directors Association and the Better Business Bureau. The film gave information on sound procedures to take in a time of sorrow.

Burglars Get Beer, Money

Burglars got away with eight cases of beer and some cash after breaking into the Acapulco Club, 306 N. Gregg, Tuesday night.
Police officers reported the burglars knocked a hole in the back of the establishment to get in. The amount of money taken wasn't determined.
Car tools and hub caps were reported missing from vehicles this morning.
Ted Walker, 1012 E. 20th, told the police that about $150 worth of tools were taken from his truck sometime Wednesday night. Henry Bensley, 209 W. 16th, lost two hub caps from his car last night.

Jewish Services Set For Friday

Sabbath of Repentance services for all local members of the Jewish faith will be conducted at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the chapel at Webb AFB, it was announced today by A. J. Prager, who will conduct the service.
All Big Spring and Webb AFB members of the Jewish faith are invited, Prager said.

'Private' School Men Set Meeting

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Officers of a private corporation established to take over Little Rock's closed high schools planned an organizational meeting today amid predictions from Negro leaders that the plan cannot stop integration.
Little Rock's four high schools, including a Negro school — are closed under a proclamation issued by Gov. Orval E. Faubus in a move to prevent integration.
Segregationists have looked to private operation of city schools as one maneuver to avoid Supreme Court rulings that public school segregation is unconstitutional.

Former Knott Lad Wins Painting Prize

KNOTT—Tommy Lowe, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Lowe, Ralls, Texas, and former resident of Howard County, was first honors with a picture "Perry the Squirrel" at the Floyd County Fair. His father was formerly superintendent of the Knott schools. He served in that capacity for four years.
Tommy won in the 9-13 age division and the picture he entered was painted while he was a student of Mrs. W. Charles McGee of Sherwood. He is now studying under Mrs. Chesnut of Floydada.

Bike Rider Escapes Injury In Truck Crash

A schoolboy was only slightly hurt when the bicycle he was riding was involved in an accident at 4th and Gregg this morning.
Hurt worse was a street light pole; it was clipped off at the ground in the accident which also involved a pickup and a truck laden with lumber.
Nine-year-old Johnny Cuchia, 506 Lancaster, the son of Mrs. C. E. Foster, was riding the bike. The collision involved a 1957 Ford pickup driven by Averill Holley, 801 W. 17th, and a 1956 GMC trailer truck driven by Gilbert Gonzalez of Mercedes.
Cuchia was taken to the hospital but his injuries weren't serious enough for hospitalization.

Wednesday, Joe Ashley, 604 Bell, was driver of one car involved in a mishap at 6th and Bell. The driver of the other car, a 1948 Pontiac, jumped out and ran.
The police impounded the car but hadn't located the driver this morning.
Samuel Wilson of Bartlett and Robert Parent of Webb AFB were an accident at 4th and Owens.

Date Of Scout Rally Changed

Date for the mobilization rally for Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers in the Lone Star District has been changed to Sept. 29.
The shift to this new date was made to avoid conflict with a junior high football game, said Jack Alexander, chairman of the special event designed to help place interested boys with units in operation.
The new time is 7:30 p.m. at the high school stadium, he said.
Alexander called a meeting today at 5:30 p.m. for unit leaders at the Corden coffee bar. The plan for the program and for enlistment of boys will be detailed at the meeting, he said.
Every lad from nine years up will be invited to come with his parents to the big rally, especially if he is interested in joining the Cub Scouts or Explorers. After the units have all marched on to the field, there will be a brief program followed by an opportunity to join a unit of a boy's desire right on the spot.

Wants It Burned

Report of a man burning a car brought out the fire department this morning, but everything was extinguished before the car was damaged. The man, who was not identified, was seen running away from the car, which was burning in the alleyway between the 4th and 5th streets. The car was a 1957 Ford pickup truck.

Missile Under Wraps

What local observers judged to be the Air Force's intercontinental ballistic missile, Atlas, sped through Big Spring this morning. The huge rocket, more than 30 feet in length, was hauled through on a truck. Missile "experts" here theorized that the rocket, shrouded in a more or less form-fitting canvas cover, probably was en route from some plant on the West Coast to the launching pads at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

Nippy Air Chills State

By The Associated Press

It was nippy over North and West Texas Thursday and cloudy and rainy over the south and east.

Precipitation was reported at Beaumont, Lufkin, Galveston, Tyler, Longview and Brownsville. Palacios and Houston had fog. Predawn temperatures ranged from 77 degrees at Galveston to 52 at Amarillo and Lubbock.

The cool weather came from a front which passed across northern Texas and into the Gulf and Louisiana. Heavy rains kicked off by the same front tapered off Wednesday.

Heavy rains continued Wednesday in northern Mexico and scattered rains fell in the Valley and along the coast.

Most of the South Texas flood threats eased, but the Rio Grande remained swollen and continued to rise at Eagle Pass, posing a possible threat to farmlands.

Brownsville had an unofficial 3.90 inches of rain Wednesday and an official .45. Eagle Pass had some more rain Wednesday, boosting the total since Monday to 7.7 inches.

Rainfall reports for the 24 hours ending at 6 p.m. Wednesday included Houston 2.59 inches, Laredo 1.37, Cotulla .66, Beaumont .44, Lufkin .35, San Antonio .34, Del Rio .28, Galveston and Palacios .24, Austin .16, Junction .11 and lesser amounts at Dallas, Kingsville, College Station and Sherman.

Highs Wednesday varied from 70 at Dalhart to 91 at Beeville.

Shoeshine Man Slated For Chair

AUSTIN (AP)—Marshall Lamkin, Negro shoeshine operator convicted of killing a white man in Luling, is scheduled to go to the electric chair shortly after midnight tonight.

A stay of execution was denied Lamkin yesterday by the Pardons Board. The board said the U.S. Supreme Court had to take new action before it would change its mind.

Lamkin, 54, was convicted of killing Ernest Webb Jr. two years ago with a shotgun. The U.S. Supreme Court has refused to review.

Gulf Opposes New Quota System For Importing Oil

Gulf Oil Corporation is unqualifiedly opposed to the new system of allocating imports as proposed by M. N. Carson Jr., administrator of the voluntary oil import program.

In a statement released by the oil company, Gulf said it would "be forced to reevaluate its decision to comply with the voluntary program unless substantial modification is made."

Objection was raised to the plan which provides quotas to all refiners. This was not fair to companies, such as Gulf, which have long years of import history and heavy investments overseas, continued the statement.

"The opinion of Gulf management is that the plan is wholly inequitable in that it completely ignores the historical importing patterns and does not give any weight to the investments and position of refiners who have been importing for many years," said the statement. "Another shortcoming of the plan is that it makes no distinction between areas where imports satisfy an economic need and other areas where foreign crude oil has never been competitive of domestic crude."

To arbitrarily provide quotas to all refiners amounts to a subsidy to refiners who have neither the intention nor the facilities suitable to refine imported crude, said Gulf. Moreover, the statement continued, it amounts to a confiscation of property rights of those who have made the necessary investments over a period of years, both here and abroad.

Gulf pointed to its record of importing since 1920 and to its huge investment in tankers, hazardous foreign production, and construction of special refining facilities to handle foreign crude.

Domestic refiners have not had to risk large investments, said Gulf.

"Anyone who takes an impartial look at the long range estimates of this country's petroleum reserves and demands can only conclude that the United States is fast approaching the status of a have-not nation insofar as having domestic petroleum available at a reasonable cost," said the statement. "Any such plan as that proposed by Capt. Carson which discourages American companies from continuing their search for oil abroad is contrary to the public interest and future security of this nation."

Cosden Files Application For Oil Import Allocation

Cosden Petroleum Corporation has filed for an import quota under the plan proposed by M. V. Carson Jr., administrator of the voluntary import program.

R. L. Tollett, president, answering questions at the annual stockholders meeting here Monday, said that Cosden had applied for a quota after holding off for nearly a year.

The board had felt that Cosden had an obligation to domestic producers insofar as it was economically feasible to draw supplies from area sources. However, the granting of quotas to all refiners would put Cosden at serious competitive disadvantage if it did not exercise the right to a quota, he explained.

If and when the quota was imported, the foreign crude would be turned to companies with costal refining facilities who also had production in this area to exchange Cosden for the imported crude.

Anti-Pregnancy Pill Successful

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A Harvard gynecologist said yesterday a 50-cent pill to prevent pregnancy has proved 100 per cent effective with no lasting side effects in a 2½ year test.

Dr. John Rock, clinical professor emeritus of gynecology at the Harvard Medical School, made the statement at a press conference called by the Planned Parenthood Assn. of San Francisco, Inc.

Results were decisive in experiments with 285 women in Puerto Rico and also in Los Angeles, Dr. Rock said.

Dr. Rock said about 14 per cent of the Puerto Rican women experienced some side effects—nausea or breast symptoms, "but after the third month these vanished. There were no lasting side effects on the breast, on fertility or anything else."

The drug is a synthetic compound, chemically related to sex hormones, that halts production of eggs in the female ovary, the professor explained. Egg production resumes when the pill taking stops, he added.

"The drug was 100 per cent effective in preventing conception in the Puerto Rico experiments," he said. "When women stopped using it, there was no difficulty experienced in becoming pregnant."

Dr. Rock's views differed markedly from those of two physicians who tested the pills and reported results at the San Francisco meeting of the American Medical Assn. in June.

Drs. Edward Tyler and Henry Olson of the UCLA Medical School told the association that in tests covering 3,082 women a month-

Indigent Mother Requests Boys Ranch To Take Sons

Two young Big Spring boys, one, 7 and his brother, 9 years old, were taken to the Boy's Ranch at San Angelo Wednesday afternoon.

A. E. Long, juvenile officer, said that the two lads were admitted to the ranch at his request after the mother had told him she could not take care of her sons. She and her husband are separated and her income is not sufficient, she said, to provide for the boys and send them to school.

Long applied to the San Angelo organization. They were accepted and the boys, highly delighted, left for the establishment Wednesday.

Long explained that six boys from Howard County are now at the ranch near San Angelo.

"I wish that more folk in Big Spring would help this Boy's Ranch," Long said. "They are always willing to lend a hand when a kid needs help and the fact there are six local boys there now shows the role it plays in our community life."

"I have never been refused by the management of the ranch when I had a boy who was in need of help. They've always bent backward to cooperate."

The two lads who were taken to the Ranch Wednesday had not enrolled in school here but will enroll at their new home immediately. They can stay, Long said, until they are through school if the need exists.

Gets Rating As Hard Luck Bandit

DETROIT (AP) — Police rate Carl Erb a hard luck bandit.

Erb locked a service station attendant behind what he thought was a closet door. The door proved to be a rear exit. The attendant called police.

The fleeing Erb threw away a coat. Police found a medicine bottle bearing his name and address in one pocket.

Held on a robbery charge, Erb told police he spent the night with a companion. Police checked. The companion said he was helping Erb with a robbery.

Sleek Low Styling For Buick

A lower silhouette marks Buick's new styling for 1959. These cars go on display Friday at McEwen Motor Company, 403 Scurry. Pictured here is the luxurious two-door Electra hardtop which measures less than 55 inches in height yet retains approximately the same headroom as last year's Buick. Rear fenders flare in the "delta wing" style, and twin headlights are set at an angle. Windshield, with more glass area than ever, curves back into the roof. The Electra is powered by a 401-cubic inch V-8 engine with 10.5-to-1 compression ratio.

Eddie Fisher Makes A Hit

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Eddie Fisher, relaxed and in shirt sleeves, made a hit last night in his first public appearance since his separation from Debbie Reynolds.

He sang for 10 minutes and was applauded loudly by more than 200 attending a Greater Los Angeles Press Club banquet.

Fisher and his estranged wife both had been invited before the couple parted. Debbie, who didn't appear, said last week she will divorce Fisher. This was after he and actress Elizabeth Taylor made headlines on a New York night club visit.

Fisher, who is recuperating from infectious mononucleosis, a blood disease, was pale and tense before he went on.

But once in the spotlight he relaxed, seemingly enjoying himself. The audience loved it.

He made no direct reference to his marital troubles, but after his first number the perspiring singer shed his coat and smiled.

"It's hotter there than it has been—anywhere," he said.

His first song, "I Hear Music," was not his usual opening number, he told the audience. "The original song didn't seem appropriate right now."

His usual night club opener is a medley of songs billed: "Forget It."

At one point he seemed dissatisfied with his voice and told the crowd: "That wasn't the effects of my mononucleosis. It's just that I'm tired."

A spokesman said Fisher is taking antibiotics for the disease and is feeling better.

Federal Judge John E. Miller, district judge for the western area of Arkansas, poses in his chambers at Little Rock, Ark., for photographers. Interior Dept. Seeks Process In De-Salting

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interior Department is trying to decide what process to use in the first of five experimental salt and brackish water conversion plants it is to build and operate.

Fred Aandahl, assistant secretary of interior, wrote Rep. Joe Kilgore (D-Tex) that this is the first decision under the congressional act authorizing the plants.

The choice also is likely to determine the part of the country in which the first will be built.

"As you know," Aandahl wrote, "(the) enabling act provides for the establishment of three sea water conversion plants, one each on the Pacific, Atlantic and Gulf coasts. In addition, there are to be two brackish water plants, one in the northern Great Plains and the other in the Southwest.

"The secretary of the interior is to select the first process six months after enactment (which Sept. 2) and the other four plants at three month intervals thereafter.

"Therefore, you will appreciate that process selection is to be given primary emphasis and that site selection and process selection may be interdependent."

The principal processes under consideration are distillation, freezing, electrodialysis or membrane, chemical solvents and solar.

COULD BE FIRST

The electrodialysis method, a process which early research indicates may be most feasible for brackish water conversion, could be the first process chosen. Such a plant likely would cost less to construct.

The interior official said it is too early now to set forth complete criteria for selection of plant sites. He suggested, however, that availability of low-cost fuel, local offers of sites, and other cooperative gestures might well be the determining factors.

Data he submitted to Kilgore stated that except in the solar process (evaporation by sun rays) the cost of fuel is vital.

Other factors to be taken into consideration, Aandahl continued, will be accessibility to saline water, fresh water storage and distribution facilities, local market for water produced, and beneficial effect of a demonstration plant in an area.

"Every attempt will be made to erect plants in locations where the long range benefits can best be served by saline water conversion (to) fresh water supplies," he added.

"The recommendations of the state water authorities will be given every possible consideration, and cooperative agreements are being negotiated with several states at present, including Texas. One is already in effect with California.

Butler referred to Joseph Kamp of Westport, Conn., author of a pamphlet entitled "Meet the Man Who Plans to Rule America." The pamphlet is about Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers Union.

He also criticized Mrs. William F. Knowland, wife of Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) for endorsing it in "an effort to promote her husband's position."

Kamp is a veteran pamphleteer.

British Urged To Boycott Beef

LONDON (AP) — Britain's housewives today were urged to boycott beef, this country's national dish, until prices fall.

With the cost of the best steak at 12 shillings ($1.68) a pound, Britain's newspapers advised thrifty housewives to switch to lamb, pork or poultry.

Argentina is getting most of the blame for the price hike.

"In the last two months there has been a sharp drop in imports of beef from the Argentine, our principal overseas supplier," the Conservative Daily Telegraph noted.

The Telegraph said there has been an "alarming fall" in Argentine production of beef in recent years.

Janitor Convicted In Shooting Spree

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Edward Breeze, a janitor accused of shooting six children and three adults last May, was found guilty on seven counts of felonious assault yesterday after four days of trial. The jury Friday will hear Breeze's second plea of innocent by reason of insanity.

The janitor wounded housing project neighbors with a shotgun after accusing them of taunting one of his children. All have recovered.

Republicans Aim At Sen. Proxmire

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican strategists apparently have decided their best chance of defeating a Democratic senator lies in an all-out effort against Sen. William Proxmire in Wisconsin.

Field reports to the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee have pictured Proxmire as the most vulnerable of 13 Democratic senators whose seats are at stake in November. Proxmire was elected last year after GOP Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy died.

Although the Republicans are reluctant to talk about it, their surveys are said to show no other contest giving their party what they regard as an even chance of picking up a seat from the Democrats.

Since they already have lost one seat in Maine, the GOP campaigners would have to hold the remaining 20 they have at stake and gain two others to be in a position to control the new Senate. In such circumstances they could do this with Vice President Nixon's tie-breaking vote.

Democrats outnumbered Republicans 49-47 before GOP Sen. Frederick G. Payne was beaten in Maine.

Republican hopes of defeating Proxmire rest in uniting party

Reuther Pamphlet Writer Attacked

OGDEN, Utah (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler said Tuesday night that the author of a pamphlet attacking Walter Reuther had once called President Eisenhower a Communist.

Butler referred to Joseph Kamp of Westport, Conn., author of a pamphlet entitled "Meet the Man Who Plans to Rule America." The pamphlet is about Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers Union.

He also criticized Mrs. William F. Knowland, wife of Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) for endorsing it in "an effort to promote her husband's position."

Kamp is a veteran pamphleteer.

West Virginia, where two GOP places are being contested.

There has been no such cheering news, however, from Michigan, where GOP Sen. Charles E. Potter apparently is fighting a tough, uphill battle.

Republican hopes of holding on to the seat Sen. Irving M. Ives is vacating in New York have been raised by nomination of Nelson Rockefeller as the party's candidate for governor, as well as the choice of Rep. Kenneth B. Keating as nominee for the Senate.

... But Not For The Cookie Jar

One of the most pleasurable features of Mrs. Donald G. Bagwell's job as home service advisor for Texas Electric Service Co. is the baking of cookies; to demonstrate electric ranges in action. To inject a note of variety, she tried a new "wrinkle" when this picture was snapped. These sweet tidbits have with their base the plain flat chocolate wafers available at grocery stores. Mrs. Bagwell centers each with a pecan half topped with half a marshmallow. Put them in the oven just long enough for the marshmallow to melt and spread.

This Cooking Enthusiast Is Also A 'Troubleshooter' For TESCO

Mrs. Housewife, if you are having difficulties in getting the maximum efficiency from your electric appliances, talk to Mrs. Donald G. Bagwell. The home service advisor is Texas Electric Service Company's feminine troubleshooter whose foremost job is to assist homemakers in solving problems concerning their home appliances. When a family buys a new electric range, washer or refrigerator for the kitchen, it is she who is ready to assist during the adjustment period.

You will find her at the TESCO office, probably baking a batch of cookies to pass out to the customers, or demonstrating one of the appliances left by dealers for display. When she talks about the clean, fast and economical qualities of cooking electrically, she is speaking as one with experience. Cooking has been a definite interest for some time.

Prior to moving here after her marriage last May 10, she worked 4½ years in TESCO's Fort Worth office as a cashier, but spent every spare minute in the home service department where recipes are tested by the home economists. These are the recipes which are tucked into your monthly electricity bills. Others are printed in "Reddy for Cooking" folders.

Mrs. Bagwell's job has unique features. If she pleases, she can bring the family wash to work, do it up while demonstrating to customers the major features of the washing machine and iron; she can cook her evening meal while explaining the workings of an electric range to a prospective buyer. But the thing the native of Sweetwater likes best about her job is meeting people.

Her husband, a machinist for Cosden, builds houses as a sideline. Mrs. Bagwell assists him with the bookkeeping. She indulges her liking for sewing by making most of her own clothes, and she teaches the fourth graders in Sunday school at Birdwell Lane Church of Christ. The couple lives at the foot of Scenic Mountain, to the side of the Western Hills Addn.

You will want to try these recipes. The master mix and the cake mix were perfected by TESCO's home service department. The meat casserole is her own original, and she recommends the beanburgers as favorites with teen-agers.

MASTER MIX
 9 cups sifted flour
 1-3 cup baking powder
 1 tsp. salt
 2 tps. cream of tartar
 ¼ cup sugar
 2 cups shortening
 Sift dry ingredients together three times. Cut in shortening until mix is consistency of cornmeal. Store in covered container. To measure the master mix, pile lightly into cup and level off with spatula.

This mix can be used for biscuits, pancakes or waffles.

CAKE MIX
 8 cups sifted flour
 4 cups sugar
 ¼ cup baking powder
 1 tsp. salt
 2 cups shortening
 Sift dry ingredients together. Cut in shortening with pastry blender until fine, dry and powdery. Store in covered container in refrigerator. Use this in making such treats as:

JEFFY CAKE
 ¾ cups cake mix
 ¼ cup milk
 1 tsp. vanilla
 2 eggs
 Line two 8" cake pans with wax paper. Stir cake mix lightly to prevent packing during measuring. Place cake mix in bowl. Add ¼

Homey Macaroni Salad Retains Popularity

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
 Associated Press Food Editor

Go to a church supper—the sort where the ladies of the parish bring their best dishes—or to an elegant Swedish-American restaurant. You're likely to encounter the same dish. Among the lavish array of foods at either place, macaroni salad takes a bow.

Epicures have been known to look down their noses at this thrifty and homey combination, but it stays firmly on the scene.

The Danes like it, too. A spiral-bound cook book called "From Danish Kitchens" (first published about 20 years ago and now in its seventh edition) gives directions for making it. This cook book was compiled by a Seattle, Wash., church group with the avowed purpose of preserving favorite Danish recipes.

A rich recipe, this Danish one! It calls for cooked cold macaroni with a dressing of whipped cream, sugar, vinegar and grated horseradish. This same dressing for the salad we find in the Danish section of "Scandinavian Cookery for Americans" (Little, Brown) by Florence Brobeck, an American, and Monika Kjellberg, a native and resident of Stockholm.

Still sleuthing for recipes, we come on only one other macaroni salad from a strictly Scandinavian source; this is in "Smorgasbord" by Gerda Simonson. Here the boiled cooked macaroni is chilled and teamed with narrow strips of cooked smoked tongue (or ham or smoked beef) and tossed with a mixture of French dressing and chili sauce.

Now comes a new American recipe for the cold macaroni, adding a cooked dressing plus dill, a favorite Scandinavian herb. When you have dill's fresh green feathery fronds on hand, you might like to try this latest combination.

We served this version with baked ham at a company supper—and even the most sophisticated of the guests liked it. The next day we offered it with cold left-over ham to our college-age nephew and he, too, approved. A way of ours that was particularly liked: we used sea shell macaroni, instead of regular short elbow lengths, and this eaters found intriguing.

MACARONI DILL SALAD

Ingredients:
 3 quarts water
 4 tps. salt
 2 cups (8 ounces) elbow macaroni
 1 tsp. flour
 1 tsp. sugar
 1 egg
 ¼ cup water
 1 tsp. butter or margarine
 ¼ cup cider or white wine vinegar
 2 tps. prepared horseradish
 ¼ cup finely chopped dill
 Extra salt
 Salad greens
 Paprika

Method:
 Bring water and 3 teaspoons of the salt to a boil in a large kettle. Add macaroni gradually so water continues to boil. Cook, uncovered—stirring occasionally—until tender or according to package directions. Drain in colander; rinse with cold water; drain again and chill in a covered container.

Stir together thoroughly the flour, sugar and remaining 1 teaspoon salt in the top of a small double boiler. Beat egg enough to combine yolk and white; add water; beat enough to blend. Add to flour mixture; stir until smooth. Cook over hot (not boiling) water, stirring constantly, until thickened.

Stir in butter until melted; slowly stir in the vinegar. Stir in horseradish and dill. Toss with macaroni; add extra salt if desired; chill until serving time. At serving, garnish with salad greens and sprinkle with paprika.

Sour Cream Dip

A package of dried onion soup may be stirred into a pint of commercially prepared sour cream and used as a spread for crackers. If you try this, use as is; don't spoil it with additions of mayonnaise or catchup as some cooks unfortunately have been known to do!

The Flavor Of Scandinavia

Two macaroni salads find prominence in this layout of Scandinavian treats, one prepared with dill and the other with bits of meat. The assortment features Swedish meat balls, stuffed eggs, marinated cucumbers, tomato and onion slices and assorted breads.

Ladyfingers Are Teatime Choice

Homemakers clamor for this recipe for Coconut Lady Fingers, which are a departure from the pedestrian confection. It is a wonderful suggestion for tea guests.

COCONUT LADY FINGERS

Ingredients:
 3 tpsps. butter or margarine
 ½ cup sifted confectioners' sugar
 1 tsp. heavy cream
 ¼ tsp. vanilla
 ¼ cup lightly-packed flaked coconut
 12 to 16 ladyfingers
 1-3 cup (about) grape preserves or raspberry jam
 ¼ cup (about) confectioners' sugar

Method:
 Cream butter and the ½ cup sugar; mix in cream and vanilla, then coconut. Split lady fingers; spread one half of each with frosting and the other half with preserves; press together.

 Roll filled ladyfingers in the ¼ cup sugar.

Cottage Pudding Has Modern Counterpart

A dessert favorite—old-fashioned cottage pudding—is even easier to prepare in this modern version, than it formerly was.

Bake a plain two egg cake in an 8-inch square pan. While cake is baking prepare this elegant topping. All you do is chop 8 mint bars and combine with 4 tablespoons coffee cream in top of a double boiler. Heat over hot water until candy mel', stirring frequently.

The Variety In Cake Flavors Is Endless

It is anybody's guess, of course, but we have an idea that a list of favorite cakes in this country would put chocolate at the top, with angel food right behind.

Found cake would be another leading contender, either plain or dressed up with icing.

With this in mind, we have assembled some recipes for your perusal. Here they are:

CHOCOLATE CAKE

Ingredients:
Two cups sifted cake flour, 1-1/3 cups sugar, 1/4 teaspoon baking soda, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup shortening, 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons milk, 2 eggs, 3 squares (3 ounces) unsweetened chocolate (melted), 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Method:
Grease 2 round layer cake pans (8 by 1 1/4 inches). Line bottoms with waxed paper; grease paper. Put flour, sugar, baking soda and salt in sifter. Stir shortening in mixing bowl enough to soften; sift in flour mixture. Add 3/4 cup milk; stir until flour is dampened. Beat 2 minutes at low speed of electric mixer or 300 vigorous strokes by hand.

Add eggs, melted chocolate, vanilla and remaining 1/4 cup plus 2 tablespoons milk. Beat 1 minute longer. Turn into prepared pans.

Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 30 to 35 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Turn out on cake racks; strip off paper; turn right side up to cool. Fill and frost as desired.

ANGELFOOD CAKE WITH SPECIAL FROSTING

Ingredients:
One package (17 ounces) lemon-custard flavor angelfood mix, 1/4 pound (1/2 cup) butter, 1 1/2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar (10 X), 1 egg yolk, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind, 4 teaspoons (about) orange juice, toasted slivered or chopped almonds.

Bake cake according to package directions in 10 by 4 inch tube pan; cool and turn out as directed.

Beat butter until creamy; gradually beat in sifted confectioners' sugar, then unbeaten egg yolk, grated orange rind and orange juice. Add little more orange juice if necessary to make good spreading consistency.

Frost top and sides of angelfood; refrigerate until serving time. Sprinkle frosting with almonds.

GOOD POUND CAKE

Ingredients:
Four cups sifted flour, 2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 pound butter or margarine, 2 cups sugar, 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla, 8 eggs.

Method:
Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter; add sugar and vanilla and beat in eggs thoroughly, one at a time. Gently stir in flour mixture, sifting about 1/4 cup over the surface at a time.

Turn into ungreased tube pan (10 by 4 inches). Bake in slow oven (325 degrees) over 1 1/2 hours or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Turn out on wire rack to cool. Store in tightly-covered container.

PINEAPPLE CAKE
Ingredients:
Two and one-half cups sifted cake flour, 2 1/2 teaspoons double acting baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup butter or margarine, 1 1/2 cups sugar, 3 eggs, 1 can (9 ounces) crushed pineapple, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1/4 cup water.

Method:
Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter and sugar; beat in eggs thoroughly, one at a time. Add pineapple (including syrup in can) and vanilla.

Mix in sifted dry ingredients, alternately with water, in 4 additions; begin and end with dry ingredients. Turn into buttered and floured layer-cake pans (each 9 by 1 1/4 inches).

Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean—about 35 minutes. Turn out of pans and cool. Fill and frost with sweetened whipped cream.

HOT MILK SPONGE CAKE

Ingredients:
One cup sifted cake flour, 1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 large eggs, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup milk, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine.

Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Have eggs at room temperature. In a medium-sized mixing bowl, beat eggs and vanilla with rotary beater (hand or electric) until foamy; gradually beat in sugar; continue beating until eggs are ivory colored.

Meanwhile heat milk and butter until very hot but not boiling. Add sifted dry ingredients to egg mixture; beat gently just until smooth. Add hot milk mixture; beat gently just until combined.

Pour into baking pan (8 by 8 by 2 inches) whose bottom has been spread lightly with butter. (Butter will be thin.) Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean—25 to 30 minutes. Invert pan on edges of two racks so cake hangs free; when cold ease from pan with spatula. Frost cake as desired.

Stuffing Enhances Flavor Of Capon

This dry-type poultry stuffing will do much to enhance the flavor of a capon.

STUFFED CAPON PHYLIS

Ingredients:
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1-3 cup finely chopped onion
1/4 cup finely diced celery
2 tbsps. minced celery leaves
2 cups dry coarse bread crumbs
1/2 tsp. salt
1 1/2 tps. poultry seasoning
3 tbsps. hot water
1 capon (about 4 1/2 or 5 pounds ready-to-cook weight).

Method:
Cook butter, onion, celery and celery leaves together slowly in a 10-inch skillet or a saucepan for 5 or 10 minutes. Stir in bread crumbs; sprinkle with salt, poultry seasoning and water; toss together.

Pack lightly into body and neck cavity of capon and roast according to standard directions or favorite method.

Pretty Grapefruit

Give grapefruit halves a pretty touch. Center each with red jelly, a maraschino cherry and a sprig of fresh mint, or a round of peeled orange.

Cleaning Hint

The rubber gasket around a refrigerator door needs cleaning along with the rest of the refrigerator.

Frosting Idea

Lemon-flavored pudding and pie filling of the instant variety may be used to fill and frost an eight or nine-inch white or yellow layer cake. Good to remember when you are in a hurry!

Cabbage Tops Best Food Buys

By The Associated Press
Cabbage, carrots, onions, potatoes, grapes and apples top the best buys in vegetables and fruits at Texas markets this week.

Good apples, coming from ten states, are cheaper than a week ago, the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture says. Tokay grapes are a little lower, but Thompson seedless are a shade higher. Italian prunes are plentiful and attractively priced.

Banana and lemon prices are up a little but price tags for limes and California valencia oranges are unchanged. Best quality peaches and pears are also up a little. Peach supplies are dwindling, however. First shipment of Michigan Elbertas arrived in many Texas markets this week.

The bulk of cabbage is coming from Colorado, with prices steady to slightly lower than a week ago. Pascal celery is also priced a little lower, along with bunched greens and okra. Supplies of squash are declining and price tags have been marked up. Red potatoes from Texas and Colorado are unchanged in price; however, Colorado and Washington russets are a little cheaper. California tomatoes are still in good supply and prices unchanged. Other vegetable items in good supply and priced reasonably are sweet potatoes, lettuce, green peppers, corn, cucumbers, locally grown eggplant, bulk turnips and pole beans.

Broiler prices are up a few cents. However, they are still a good protein buy. Red meat prices are mostly unchanged, although supplies are seasonally increasing and prices of some cuts are down a few cents.

Scallions Perk Up Canned Green Peas

If you are one of those who think canned green peas have an all too mild flavor, you might season them with scallions. The "lift" is worth the bit of effort.

GREEN PEAS WITH SCALLIONS

Ingredients:
2 bunches scallions (green onions)
3 tbsps. butter or margarine
1 can (1 pound and 1 ounce) very young small green peas
Salt, pepper

Method:
Clean and wash onions, leaving on most of green tops. Cut into 1 1/2-inch slantwise lengths. Melt butter in medium-sized saucepan or skillet; cook onions gently in butter for several minutes; they should remain slightly crisp. Drain peas and add. Reheat, with salt and pepper to taste. Makes 8 servings.

Highlight Main Course With 'Accessories'

Delicious accompaniments to main courses are important in their own right. They need not be elaborate or tedious to prepare, but can be effectively simple.

Here are two suggestions:

SAVORY CUCUMBERS

Ingredients:
1 cucumber (about 8 inches long)
1 1/2 tbsps. olive oil
2 tbsps. garlic wine vinegar
2 tps. sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
1 1/2 tps. minced chives
Parsley or salad greens for garnish

Method:
Pare cucumber; draw the sharp

GREEN POTATO SOUP

Ingredients:
2 cans (each 10 1/4 ounces) frozen condensed cream of potato soup
2 cans (each 13 1/2 ounces) clear chicken broth
1 package (10 ounces) frozen chopped spinach
1/2 cup heavy cream
Freshly-ground pepper

Method:
Put the potato soup, just as it comes frozen from the can, the chicken broth (undiluted) and the frozen spinach in a saucepan. Cover and heat slowly until the spinach is thawed; turn over the block of spinach a few times so it will cook evenly.

Simmer a few minutes; stir in cream and reheat. Add freshly-ground pepper to taste. Makes 6 servings.

STUFFED PEAR SALAD

Ingredients:
1/2 cup (lightly packed) finely grated Swiss cheese
1/4 cup cream-style cottage cheese
2 ripe firm Bartlett pears
Paprika
4 pecan halves
4 fresh purple plums
Romaine and chichory or a combination of other salad greens, Salad dressing

Method:
Mix together the Swiss and cottage cheese; add salt to taste. Pare pears; cut in half lengthwise; remove stem structure. Spoon cheese mixture over pear cavities; sprinkle with paprika; garnish with pecan halves. Pit plums and halves. Arrange stuffed pears and plums on salad greens. Serve with salad dressing—old-fashioned boiled dressing is particularly good with this. Makes 2 servings.

Small Fry Like Malted As Snack

Could be that you are searching for ideas for the small fry's snacktime. Highly recommended is chocolate banana malted, which promotes calorie consumption.

Since most small fry do not like very cold drinks, serve it as is, after it emerges from the beaters. For oldsters, pour each serving over an ice cube.

CHOCOLATE BANANA MALTED

Ingredients:
3 small or medium sized fully ripe bananas
3 tbsps. instant chocolate-flavored sweetened malted milk powder
3 cups homogenized milk
1/4 tsp. vanilla

Method:
Bananas should be speckled with brown and not green at the tip. Peel bananas and mash fine with a fork. Add malted milk powder, milk and vanilla; beat well with rotary beater (hand or electric). Makes 4 medium-sized servings.

Frying Salt Pork

When old-fashioned recipes direct you to "fry out" salt pork, cut it into small pieces and heat it very slowly in a heavy skillet until the fat extracts itself from the meat.

'Off-Beat' Fare Injects Interest In Daily Menu

So you want to serve something distinct and different. You would like to inject a little unusual touch in your next meal, without going completely to extremes or fracturing the budget irreparably.

Well, we suggest Rigatoni or shrimp sandwiches. Either will be beyond the realm of everyday fare, so take your choice. The recipes follow:

JON'S RIGATONI

Ingredients:
1 pkg. (8 ounces) rigatoni (cut in large grooved macaroni)
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) meatless Italian tomato sauce
1 carton (8 ounces) creamstyle cottage cheese
1/4 cup finely chopped parsley (lightly packed)
Salt
Grated Parmesan or Romano cheese

Method:
Cook rigatoni according to package directions. Heat sauce. Mix cottage cheese with parsley and salt to taste.

To serve: pour hot sauce over hot drained rigatoni; pass two separate bowls of the cottage-cheese mixture and the grated cheese. Makes four to six servings.

MARY'S SHRIMP SANDWICHES

Ingredients:
1 can (4 1/2 ounces) peeled de-veined shrimp
1/4 cup finely diced celery
1 tsp. mayonnaise
1 tsp. chili sauce
1/4 tsp. onion powder
Pepper
8 slices (thin) wholewheat bread
Butter

Method:
Drain shrimp; rinse under cold water; drain again thoroughly. Break up shrimp finely with a fork; mix with celery, mayonnaise, chili sauce, onion powder and pepper to taste.

Spread bread with butter; put together with filling for four sandwiches.

A Bible Thought For Today

For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free; and have been all made to drink into one Spirit. (1 Corinthians 12:13)

Still A Vigorous Organization

Cosden's annual stockholders meeting has come and gone and with it a sober consideration at the general outlook. Remarks of R. L. Tollett, president, to the stockholders might be summed up as being cautiously optimistic.

Cosden, like most well managed companies, has been stacking record year upon record year for nearly two decades. The row was hard the first few years, but once the ball began rolling, those charged with destinies of the company saw to it that Cosden kept up momentum with improvements, new developments and expansions to provide new impetus.

Then came the business recession, timed unhappily for the oil industry with post-Suez difficulties. The heretofore insatiable demand was dulled and markets for oil products and petrochemicals softened. Consumers, both industrial and individual, had less funds to apply to products or raw materials. Accordingly, the industry went through a lean year, and although there are encouraging signs of stability, the climb back is likely to be less spectacular than the immediate post-war era.

Cosden adjusted to the dip in the economic curve far more rapidly and effectively than most oil companies, a tribute to the astuteness and effectiveness of management. While the comparison with previous years is not as glowing as in past years, a comparison with similar companies reflects greatly to the credit of Cosden. The austerity of the past year has tempered the organization and proved, as we have always maintained, that it is a vigorous, forward-looking and militant concern. At Cosden, progress is not only part of the plan, it is hallmark of performance.

Lack Of Fire Prevention Costs

Within less than a month we will come to the annual emphasis upon prevention of fires. Based on our record this year, our community can use some new emphasis on this economically vital effort.

Through August of this year, fire losses in Big Spring have exceeded $57,000. A year ago the same period of time reflected losses of little more than $32,000.

But you may say: "These losses were insured, so what's the fuss?"

That's just the point. The figure quoted is indeed that for insured losses. The other fires not included in the totals were complete losses to the individuals who owned the destroyed property. They don't need anyone to tell them that the loss affected them tremendously.

In the case of insured losses, however, everyone who has fire insurance in a sense helps foot the bill. That basically is what fire insurance amounts to—a spreading of the loss.

Thus, there is but one answer to mounting insured fire losses—an increase in premium charges. Insurance companies cannot operate except they receive enough to meet losses, pay out administrative costs and realize a reasonable margin of profit for their services. By establishing rates, the State Insurance Commission sees to it that the rate structure is adjusted up or down to satisfy those exact requirements.

Removing the factors which would tend to make us susceptible to these costly fires becomes a community business. If we don't become more concerned about it, we will pay for our apathy in higher insurance rates. It makes more sense to be careful.

Sherman Adams And Political Expediency

WASHINGTON — Should Sherman Adams be sacrificed on the altar of political expediency as so many of the Republican candidates for office this autumn are demanding? If he resigns his post as assistant to the President, will this dispose of the matter? Will the Democrats promptly stop discussing it, or will they regard the resignation as a confession of guilt and hammer away at the issue even harder?

A mere asking of these questions points up the dilemma faced by both President Eisenhower and Mr. Adams this week, now that the latter has returned from his vacation. The problem doesn't involve any new facts. For the underlying situation is just the same as it was when the political furor over the acceptance of gifts by Mr. Adams from his close personal friend, Bernard Goldfine, first hit the headlines in June. It now is being said, of course, that the Maine election a week ago accentuated the importance of the issue. This sounds like an alibi from the side that, for other reasons, lost the election and from those weak-kneed candidates among the Republicans who now fear they may lose out, too—also for other reasons.

Actually, it will do no good, politically speaking, for Sherman Adams to resign voluntarily. There might have been last June a slight benefit politically if President Eisenhower himself had asked for the resignation. But if done at this late date, the Democrats would immediately ask why Mr. Eisenhower waited so long—and they would continue to try to smear his administration anyhow as somehow "tainted."

If the Republican nominees who are clamoring for the scalp of Sherman Adams would exhibit some of the courage that is occasionally manifested even by candidates for public office, they would turn the Sherman Adams issue around and take a leaf from the book of the militant "liberals" whose battle cry in recent years has been that a man should be presumed innocent until he is proved guilty and should not be made to suffer because of "guilt by association."

It's better sometimes to lose an election in order to reaffirm and eventually vindicate a principle. Not a single piece of evidence exists to show that Sherman Adams violated any law or exercised any improper influence or achieved any improper objective. His acceptance of gifts from a personal friend turned out to be "imprudent" because of the innuendoes publicized by a hostile investigating committee in Congress, but it is true that Mr. Adams performed exactly the same service for many other citizens from whom he never received any gifts.

For the executive offices staff to make inquiries from other departments or agencies of the government in behalf of the citizens—all of whom have a right to "petition the government for a redress of grievances"—is to apply the First Amendment in the Bill of Rights of the Constitution.

But the politicians, who know that suspicion does not constitute proof of guilt, are nevertheless groping for a scapegoat. Somehow, they believe that they can curry favor with the voters by coming out for the dismissal of Mr. Adams. This assumes that the public has been misled or cannot weigh the truth when it is fully presented on the stump.

So far as meeting the issue raised by the Democrats, there is the Biblical argument that only he who is without sin may cast the first stone. The record of convictions and imprisonment of several persons who held office under the last Democratic administration could make interesting rebuttal material for the Republicans to use if the Democratic candidates want to risk a revival of those controversies and a reminder of some actual and undisputed cases of corruption.

There might be, to be sure, some constructive purpose served by a voluntary resignation by Sherman Adams if, by so doing, he could bring about the immediate abolition of all gift-giving to public officials—including, of course, the large sums of money contributed during and between campaigns through the efforts of labor unions and corporation executives.

If what Sherman Adams did was wrong, then every member of the House or Senate who has received large campaign funds from special interests should for the remainder of his term disqualify himself from voting in favor of any legislation affecting those special interests—business or labor unions or any company in which he personally owns any stock.

But would this prove anything? Can't a man accept a gift from a friend or a campaign contribution and still be honest and decide questions in the public interest? It's a principle worth fighting for, and the battle will be lost if Sherman Adams is compelled to live the rest of his life under the stigma or implication of dishonesty which so many of today's politicians would thoughtlessly place upon him. President Eisenhower has not seemed to be the kind of public official who would yield to expediency and sacrifice an honest man.

What Isn't Known About Marshals

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. marshals don't know whether Matt Dillon, Wyatt Earp and Wild Bill Hickok were ever U.S. marshals—despite all the legends and television programs about them. They may have been town marshals.

In fact, what U.S. marshals don't know about U.S. marshals would fill a bunch of big books. These officers are in the news now because about 150 marshals and deputies have been sent into Little Rock where, if things get rough, they may go after violators of a federal judge's order to integrate Central High.

But meanwhile, E. J. Matchett, boss of the 804 marshals and deputies in the United States and its territories, has asked them to let him know anything they can find about the history of U.S. marshals.

The reason: there's a terrible gap in their history between 1879 and 1870, and even afterwards. What's happened to the records, if there were records? Matchett says he doesn't know.

He has his office in the Justice Department—where the attorney general has supervision over marshals—and he says: "We've turned this place upside down" in search of records "and we can't find them."

The name "marshal" goes away back in colonial and even British history. But Congress in 1789 created the job of U.S. marshal to work with the 13 federal district courts which were created, one for each state.

Matchett says he has the names of those first 13 marshals appointed by President Washington but no others until 1870 when the government printed a register of marshals. It's been printing this register at intervals ever since.

But even the register has gaps, Matchett says. That's why he's asked marshals around the country to search their local records. The information he'd like to get, he says, would fill big books.

As for people like Earp and Hickok, Matchett says he thinks they may have served as town marshals. But he says he has nothing to show they were ever U.S. marshals.

Modern U.S. marshals—unlike sheriffs, or city police or the FBI—can't go snatching law violators off the streets. They make arrests only on orders from a federal judge for some specific offense against a court decree.

For this reason the marshals in Little Rock couldn't be used to preserve order for its own sake but only on instructions from a federal judge if one of his orders was disobeyed.

But marshals do other things: they take convicted federal prisoners to federal jails, preserve order in federal courtrooms and serve court orders. Under court decree they guard property or seize it, and pay witnesses and jurors in federal court cases.

There are 94 U.S. marshals, one for each judicial district. Salary: from $2,320 a year to $12,700, depending on the size of their job. They're appointed by the President for four years, can be fired any time before then.

They're really political appointees, and change with administrations in Washington. They appoint their own deputies, when there's an opening, and usually from their own political party.

But deputies keep their jobs, don't change with administrations. Pay for the 710 deputies starts at $4,490, goes up to a top of $5,880. Their jobs are not covered by civil service.

But they can get a pension and, despite the low salary, Matchett says turnover is small. They must meet certain requirements to get the job, get a physical test and take a marksmanship test once a year.

What now? "I will go on fighting," she said. "Many are suffering under Nasser but they are afraid to speak. I am not. I am not afraid to go to prison. In fact that would be better—it would be in the open then—to this invisible campaign."

Nasser Victim Fights Back

There are no signs in Egypt of any organized opposition to President Gamal Abdel Nasser. Indeed, few Egyptians speak out against him in private conversation.

But one—a strikingly beautiful woman—has been at war with him, openly, for more than five years.

She is Mme. Dora Shafik, poetess, erstwhile magazine publisher, and a tireless crusader for women's rights in the Moslem world. It is not alone on feminism grounds, however, that she battles Nasser.

She has publicly accused him of depriving Egyptians of their liberties and shackling them with a new kind of colonialism.

Mme. Shafik is tall, dark, with flashing black eyes. She is married to a Cairo lawyer. They have two teen-age daughters.

When Nasser promulgated the Egyptian constitution in 1956, she says, Cairo reporters telephoned and asked her to comment on it. "I said no one who believes in liberty could accept it," she says. "This is not freedom. This is a new kind of colonialism for the Egyptian people."

"Legally, we are not permitted to discuss the revolution, nor to criticize the constitution. The reporters asked if they could quote me. I told them they could."

The result, she says, has been a slow, shadowy, indirect form of reprisal.

At that time, she was publishing four magazines for women. Only one dealt with political questions. All four are gone now.

Women stopped coming to the employment agency and cafeteria. "They spread rumors that I had a nervous breakdown and was completely deranged. My husband had five doctors examine me to disprove it," she said.

"Then they tried to cause trouble in my family. They said that when I was in America there were other men, and that my husband was going around with other women—all absolute lies."

She said her house is constantly watched. Recently, she was refused a passport to attend an international woman's conference in India. Officials gave her no reason for the refusal.

What now? "I will go on fighting," she said. "Many are suffering under Nasser but they are afraid to speak. I am not. I am not afraid to go to prison. In fact that would be better—it would be in the open then—to this invisible campaign."

What Are You Missing?

Ever been embarrassed by meeting some of your Air Force friends and failing to recognize them?

It has happened to me. Not only with Air Force people, but with policemen, firemen, etc.

I would have known them instantly had they been in uniform, but they showed up in civilian garments. Out of context, they look familiar in the civvies, but the factor with which they normally are associated is missing and the bell doesn't ring like it should.

It is embarrassing, and the explanation sounds rather lame if you try to express it. Like the uniform is your uniform friend's outstanding characteristic, and without it he has little personality.

Isn't that way at all, though. Such incidents merely illustrate the fact that few people with all the normal senses seldom take full advantage of them. In other words, we don't see, hear, smell, taste or feel half of what's taking place around us.

Ask six witnesses of any event what they saw and heard, for example. Chances are, you'll get six different and apparently unrelated answers.

Take away a person's sight or hearing, though, and he'll quickly learn to take full advantage of what he has left. Blind persons, for instance, develop acute senses of hearing. Even the noises one makes in walking go out like radar beams and the echoes provide him with a sound picture of his surroundings. The intensity of the reflected sound even provides shades of detail.

I have a deaf friend who often can be seen tapping his foot or finger in time with whatever music is going on. He's conscious of the sound because his sense of touch has been cultivated to detect the almost imperceptible vibrations caused in physical objects by various noises.

And don't try to kid one of those fellows you think is kidding. Usually you'll find that his mentality also has been developed to a superior level, and you'll become the butt of your own joke.

If you think you aren't missing anything, just stop, look and listen. Make a list of all the things you see, hear, smell and feel—"background" goings-on you weren't conscious of.

Good Candidate Needs A Good Wife

August public figures have been writing and giving august public advice to young men about to go into politics ever since Isaeus told Demosthenes to put those pebbles in his mouth.

Be honest, be upright, they—the august figures—have counseled. Have a real year for public service; love your neighbor and your country as yourself; be right rather than be President; to thine own self be true and then as follows night and day thou canst not then be false to any political machine.

And, in the past 20 years, the more pragmatic advisers have whispered that it doesn't hurt to have a radio and teevee personality; in short, be half-actor, half Machiavelli.

Well, sir, that is all handy-dandy advice. But it is one woman's opinion that the sages and the cynics alike have overlooked the one really essential thing that a successful candidate should be: MARRIED.

How a bachelor can hope to be elected, except by a fluke or a tamper with the ballots, in this phase of the 20th Century is hard to imagine. Any halfway keen observer of the public scene today knows that it is not the candidate but the candidate's wife and—if he is so lucky—his pretty daughters who go out and beat the hoochies for Big Daddy.

(Remember, Gov. Robert Meyner of New Jersey, Democratic Presidential possibility, made it on his own the first time around. Then, probably seeing the trend, got married—on the second—to a very pretty young lady who is a member of a distinguished political family.)

Out in California, a voter can hardly tell the candidates without a score card.

A visitor from Mars, reading the papers or surveying the California scene in person, would be pardoned for presuming that the Republican candidate out yonder is a determined woman named Mrs. Helen Knowland.

She conducted such a vigorous campaign last spring before the state primaries and is pursuing such an active campaign today that the Mars man would surely be confused to hear that she is conducting it for a candidate whose name has been lost in the uproar. Let's see: it's Sen. William F. Knowland, if memory serves.

Right now Mrs. Knowland has raised a bit of a query in California. Has her distribution of a pamphlet written by a jailbird and attacking Walter P. Reuther put her husband in the Senate or her feet in her mouth? Time, say Nov. 4, will tell.

However, Sen. Knowland, who has long nursed a Presidential bee, is no more lucky in his womanfolk (his daughters are active campaigners for daddy, too) than is a possible Democratic presidential rival, Sen. Jack Kennedy of Massachusetts.

Sen. Kennedy is not only blessed with a beautiful young wife, but a handsome mother and a Copa chorus of pretty sisters who leave no voter unturned in Massachusetts in behalf of husband, son and brother.

The Kaffeeeklatsches presided over by the Kennedy ladies in every hamlet and at every clover-leaf intersection in the state were regarded as one of the prima factors in his 1952 victory over the then Republican incumbent, Henry Cabot Lodge.

And there are other examples by the dozen. Thus, the moral is easy: 'Tis far, far better to marry than to burn—at the polls.

Democracy Or Dictatorship In France?

WASHINGTON — Under the spur of the patriotic appeal of General Charles De Gaulle the citizens of France will vote in two weeks on a new constitution for the Fifth Republic.

There is little doubt that they will overwhelmingly approve it, voting in a ratio perhaps as high as two to one in favor of the constitution. But on what it signifies for France and for the process of representative government grave doubts do exist.

The death of the Fourth Republic, with military dictatorship narrowly averted by the intervention of De Gaulle, came at a time when democracy everywhere was being put to a severe test. Under the threat of Communist totalitarianism and the pressures of war and revolutionary change the system of self-government of an earlier and simpler era is severely strained.

That is one reason the present transition in France is being followed with such intense interest. The question to be resolved in the months ahead is whether the French are moving toward a stronger and more workable democratic form or whether the end is to be a thinly disguised dictatorship.

The attempt by Algerian terrorists in Paris to assassinate Minister of Information Jacques Soustelle, who many consider likely to be the next premier, is an ugly sign of the continuing violence in the war with the Moslems. Whether any constitution can be superimposed in such a situation is a question no one can answer.

In the future, as in the recent past, the problem will be to strike a balance between the legislature and the executive. The Fourth Republic suffered from an excess of power—if only a negative power—in the legislature. The National Assembly through the brake it could apply to the premier was itself a kind of executive, with the president of the republic largely a ceremonial figure. The lack of an executive capable of functioning in the crises afflicting France and the world since 1945 was one of the reasons for the almost universal scorn felt for the elected representatives in the Assembly.

Those long familiar with France who have studied the new constitution believe that it goes to the opposite extreme. Power is concentrated in the president, with the Assembly almost completely subordinated to the executive.

The president names the premier. He presides over the cabinet. "He names persons for the civil and military posts of the state." In time of crisis when the republic is threatened by internal or external events he has full power to take measures he deems necessary "after consultation" with the premier and the Constitutional Council. The latter is an appointive body of nine that supervises the election of the president and members of the Assembly.

The new constitution gives the President broad powers over the Assembly. He can dissolve it "after consultation" with the premier. He can demand that the Assembly give a "new reading" to laws if it has passed within a 15-day period after their passage and the request cannot be refused.

The executive who will exercise these broad powers is elected for a seven-year term by an electoral college. This electoral college is a complicated body made up of the mayors and councils of towns and cities, the members of Parliament and the Assemblies of the overseas territories. This strongly weights the choice of a president on the conservative side, since the balance of power is with the conservative small towns.

The overseas territories theoretically will have a right to secede from a French federation if they choose to. But this does not appear to apply to Algeria, and it is here that the deepest misgivings are centered.

Former Premier Pierre Mendes-France, who opposes the constitution, charges that the vote on September 28 will be rigged in Algeria by the insurgent generals and colonels still in control there. Mendes-France and other critics have said that so long as De Gaulle cannot end the Moslem war in North Africa—and no progress has been made in this direction—the military rebels pose a threat of dictatorship over all of France.

What this really means is that no charter of government is any better than the man who administers it. De Gaulle's devotion to democratic France is unquestioned. But if he cannot master the forces and events that brought down the Fourth Republic, then no constitution can save representative government in the nation that has as its official maxim, "liberty, equality, fraternity."

Not Funny To Her

HAZARD, Ky. — As a joke, a fellow employe put a pair of handcuffs on Miss Janet Stout, a secretary at the Hazard Credit Bureau.

Then it was discovered keys to the handcuffs were with the office manager in another county.

Hazard police tried to unlock the cuffs—no luck. The State Police were called. They couldn't free Miss Stout's hands.

Then Detective Orlester Mahoney took a file to keys of his own handcuffs. Within minutes, Miss Stout was free.

Colorful Jail

RICHMOND, Va. — The temporary jail here may not have all the comforts of home but it is at least colorful. There is a yellow tint called bamboo for the main structure, a silver smoke-gray for the trim and a delicate beige for the terracotta bull head ornaments.

The city jail was demolished to make way for an expressway and an old meat market is serving as the temporary Bastille.

Give Grant To Church

Mr. and Mrs. Fred McManis Jr., of Houston are shown in Dallas as they presented all the outstanding capital stock of the Glenbrook Valley Corp. of Houston to Dr. Hubert Hopper, right, executive director of the Texas Presbyterian Foundation. Estimated value of the property within five years is between two and three million dollars. The money will be used for Presbyterian churches, institutions and agencies in Houston and Texas.

Year-Long School Has Disadvantages

LUBBOCK, Sept. 18 (AP)—Year-long school operation, now being advocated by some educators and administrators, has many advantages but some disadvantages, a recent study shows. The plan calls for a 4-quarter, 210-day school year, and all-year employment for teachers. Advocates of the 210-day year argue that a 12-month school year is too long and the 9-month school term is too short and outmoded. Pros and cons on extending the public school year have been rounded up by Herbert Schulze, researcher with the West Texas School Study Council at Texas Tech. The 210-day plan has been tried out with general approval at Glenview, Ill., and Rochester, Minn. The 4-quarter plan applies to both elementary and secondary schools. Students, teachers and administrators attend school three consecutive quarters and are on vacation one quarter. Under this plan, buildings receive more use. Fewer classrooms are needed. Short courses and more electives can be developed. Teachers can attend regular college sessions during their off quarter, and ambitious and talented students can finish high school sooner by attending all four quarters. Disadvantages of the 4-quarter plan include an increase in plant maintenance costs. It also creates problems in transferring pupils and securing teachers. Pupil participation in interschool athletics is difficult. Advocates of the plan declare that the additional six weeks of school and added salaries will make teaching careers more attractive. Schulze in his report pointed out that only in the past 25 years have the majority of schools in this country adopted a program based on nine month attendance. The three months were set aside to allow children to serve as field hands because 70 to 80 per cent of the population lived in rural areas. Today, according to the report, only 15 per cent live in rural areas, and machinery has replaced much of the labor formerly done by youngsters.

Highlights Of Auto Contract

DETROIT (AP)—Here are the highlights of the new Ford Motor Co.-United Auto Workers contract agreed on yesterday: Wages—No flat pay increase for production workers. However, continuation of annual improvement factor and cost-of-living adjustment provides immediate increase of between 9 and 10 cents an hour. A fraction less than 7 cents comes from the 2 1/4 per cent improvement factor, 3 cents from the cost-of-living adjustment. New approximate average hourly pay is now $2.52. Skilled worker wages — An increase of 8 cents an hour in base pay for tool and die workers and other classifications. These pay rates vary. Layoff pay — Extension of the maximum payment period from 26 weeks to 39 weeks and an increase to a flat 75 per cent of take-home pay for the full period; formerly it was 65 per cent for the first four weeks and 60 per cent for the remainder. Layoff pay (supplemental unemployment benefits) is in addition to state unemployment compensation. Pensions—Increased from $2.25 a month for each year of service to $2.40 for all past service and to $2.50 for all future service. Employees now on pension are increased to $2.35. Early retirement permitted at age of 60 on double benefits; single benefits take effect when retire becomes 65 and is eligible for Social Security. Severance (or separation) pay—A lump sum payment based on length of service to workers losing their jobs because of plant relocations. It pays up to a maximum of $3,000 for 30 years service. This is an entirely new contract provision. Maybe She Should Have Shown Him MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. (AP)—Harold Dukes, 25, dislocated a vertebrae while showing his 6-year-old daughter Gail how to swing a hula hoop. He's in the hospital.

DWI Penalty Set J. O. Ramos, charged with DWI, pleaded guilty Wednesday in Howard County Court and was fined $50 and sentenced to three days in the county jail. His case had first come before the court on Tuesday and was continued to Wednesday. Check Charges Two felony cases were filed in the court of Walter Grice, justice of the peace, Wednesday. Both alleged worthless check violations. Ray B. Hood was named as defendant in one and Meroslaw Slovak in the second.

Predict Capsule Men Will Succeed SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Two researchers will successfully complete their 10-day high-altitude spaceman test at the Randolph Air Force Base School of Aviation Medicine, Dr. Robert C. Clark predicts. But Clark warned that the worst is yet to come for Dr. Bruno Balke and Sgt. Samuel G. Karst. On Sunday when the simulated altitude will be sent to 20,000 feet, and heat, carbon dioxide and water vapor will be allowed to build up in the tiny chamber. With these extra stresses the two men will undergo reaction tests. They are due to come out of the chamber at 9 a.m. Monday.
