$150 Cash Offered To 'Smart Shopper'

How smart a shopper are you? If you know real sale values, and can judge the price of an item, you could pick up $150 spot cash this week. Easy cash.

This is all available in an unusual "Smart Shopper" contest staged this week by Big Spring merchants. The contest runs Thursday and Friday, as a special feature of the community's semi-annual Better Buy Days.

The $150 event is this simple: During Thursday and Friday, 16 merchants will have on display in their show windows items identified by a "Smart Shopper" placard. You may go into any of the participating stores, pick up an official entry blank; then examine the items displayed, enter on your entry blank the price you think each item will be ON SALE FOR on Saturday, Sept. 27. Enter your estimated price of the 16 items, then TOTAL your prices.

The completed entry blank then can be deposited at any of the participating stores.

The total coming nearest to the actual sale prices posted by all merchants Saturday will receive a check for $150. The money will be divided in event of ties. Only one entry will be permitted for each person.

Remember, the "Smart Shopper" items will be displayed Thursday and Friday, and your entry blanks are available then. All completed blanks must be deposited in stores by 5:30 p.m. Friday. The winner will be announced in next Sunday's Herald. Employees of the participating stores and The Herald and members of their families are not eligible.

Here are the merchants joining in the "Smart Shopper" contest:

Alexander's, Anthony's, Big Spring Hardware, Elmo Wasson's Men's Store, Fisher's, Gibbs & Weeks Men's Store, Gilbert's, Hemphill-Wells, Kid's Shop, Lynn's, Pelletier's, Penney's, Wagner's, Swartz, Wards, Zale's.

Just check the "Smart Shopper" items in their windows, get an entry blank from them, test yourself on shopping values — and then turn in the completed form. Remember, there's a full $150 cash to the person who is the "Smartest Shopper."

GM, Chrysler Make Offers To Avert Strike

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors and Chrysler offered the United Auto Workers financially sweetened three-year contracts Saturday in an effort to head off strikes.

The General Motors offer closely paralleled that on which the UAW and Ford settled Wednesday. That pact came after a seven-hour strike involving 98,000 Ford workers.

It carried an estimated 24 to 30 cents more hourly spread over the three years.

GM faces a strike at 11 a.m. Sept. 30, unless it settles by then. Chrysler has a union strike warning without a specified date.

John D. Leary, Chrysler vice president and chief bargainer, declined to discuss details, but added he understood his bid for labor peace was similar to Ford's.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther, who picked Chrysler as possibly the quicker to wrap up, said he still was hopeful of a quick settlement for Chrysler's 70,000 unionists, but that some language in its offer differed "from that in other offers and we want to study it."

Negotiations at both Chrysler and General Motors were recessed late Saturday until 10 a.m. Monday.

"It's a possibility," Reuther said, "we could reach a settlement Monday, but we may need more time."

BASIS FOR DISCUSSION

Leonard Woodcock, UAW vice president and head of its GM department, described Saturday's action as GM's "first serious proposal for a new contract in almost six months of bargaining."

Woodcock said it "ignores many of the contract problems and conditions which GM workers insist must be corrected." But he added it offered "a basis for discussion."

Like Ford's, GM's offer was estimated at from 24 to 30 cents an hour for GM's 250,000 UAW-affiliated workers. GM has 75,000 workers who belong to the International Union of Electrical Workers or other unions.

GM said it would offer UAW members the same benefits given to UAW members. GM spokesmen said the firm's average hourly wage now is $2.62. The new proposal would add 1 1/2 cents to that immediately—7 cents in an annual improvement factor, a 3-cent cost-of-living allowance and a 1 1/2 cent for skilled workers.

"We are mindful of strong indications that the country is coming out of the recession," GM President John E. Gordon told the union. "A prompt settlement of the issues involved on the basis proposed by GM to the UAW cannot fail to make a vitally important contribution to economic recovery at this critical time. On the other hand, it is obvious that a major automobile strike now would have an opposite effect."

Reds' Threat Note Tossed Right Back

Ultimatum On Formosa Called Too Abusive

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — The United States threw the Soviet Union's latest threat back in Premier Nikita Khrushchev's face Saturday, calling it too false, abusive and threatening to acceptable under international standards.

The summer White House, announcing this on behalf of President Eisenhower, said it believed such a rejection of a note has no precedent in the history of U. S.-Soviet relations.

Eisenhower's action meant this country will ignore Khrushchev's demand that this country pull its forces out of Formosa and the surrounding area—and the accompanying threat that if they are not withdrawn the Chinese Communists, with Russian support, will drive them out.

TO DEFEND ISLAND

The U. S. government has made it plain, however, it will continue to defend Formosa, and offshore territory essential to its defense, by military action if necessary.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty, in announcing rejection of Khrushchev's 13-page note, said it will be returned to the Kremlin Sunday by the U. S. charge d'affaires in Moscow, Richard A. Davis.

The first of two statements issued by the White House said with reference to the Soviet note: "This communication is replete with false accusations; it is abusive and intemperate; it indulges in personalities; it contains inadmissible threats."

"All of this renders the communication unacceptable under established international practice."

"Accordingly, it has been rejected and the United States charge d'affaires in Moscow has been instructed to return the communication to the Soviet government."

"ATOMIC BLACKMAIL"

Khrushchev's letter accused the United States of attempting "atomic blackmail" in the Far East. It also warned that an attack on Red China or any of its offshore islands would mean world war.

In a separate, second statement, the White House called it "tragic that Soviet military despotism should support the use of force to achieve expansionist ends" of Red China. The statement termed the Soviet viewpoint as expressed by Khrushchev "grotesque and dangerous."

In response to questions, Hagerty said the note was personally approved by the President and that he personally had ordered the Khrushchev note fired back to Moscow.

GINNS ARE HUMMING

Cotton Crop Rated Good On Production, Quality, Price

Howard County's 1958 cotton crop, just now getting into harvest swing, is shaping up as one of the best in many years—like for production, quality and prospective price. An estimated 200 bales have been ginned.

The one big problem at this time is the pressing need for pickers. A survey of the gins in the county Saturday showed all were operating and that there was a steady uptrend in ginnings. Ginners were highly enthused over prospects and reported that the cotton ginned so far is running 31-32 of an inch, is remarkably clean and that only a few rare bales of spotty cotton have shown.

Farmers are reporting to the ginner that they are getting an average of from a quarter to a third of a bale per acre on the first go-round which bears out the forecast of close to 30,000 bales for this year's crop.

The Fairview Gin, received reports on 165 government classifications and only six out of the lot were reported as "soft." The figure set for the crop, based on these 165 classifications, was reported, ranged from 34.68 to 36.69 cents per pound—rated by the ginner as exceptionally good.

The Fairview Gin with 356 bales tops the list in the number of bales processed.

Ginners say that the next two weeks will see the harvest really go into high gear and a number of the plants were making preparations now to begin round-the-clock operation.

From each area checked, came the same story—a pressing need for pickers. Leon Kinney, with the Texas Employment commission, said there are about 5,000 braceros in the Howard-Martin-Glasscock county area. The ceiling for such help, established for the district by the Department of Labor, is only 5,800. More are needed, Kinney said, and pressure is being applied to persuade the department to authorize additional help.

TEC is attempting to recruit domestic workers of the migratory classification. However, most of these prefer to go north of Lamesa.

Kinney estimated that the three counties could use at least 2,000 pickers right now. The ginners bore out this estimate and said that the harvest of the rich crop is being hampered seriously because farmers are unable to obtain pickers.

At the present time, it is estimated there are 1,800 bracero pickers in the fields in Howard County; 3,000 in Martin and perhaps 700 in Glasscock County.

High Waters Sweep Many Texas Points

Flood warnings went out to cities along the Colorado River below Austin Saturday while high water that forced 200 families from their San Antonio homes receded slowly.

Deluges of more than a foot of rain in 24 hours left much of Beaumont paralyzed Saturday night.

A fire was reported in one of the inundated areas and fire equipment could not reach the blaze because of high water, the Beaumont Enterprise reported.

Auto traffic in the city on the Gulf Coast of Southeast Texas was virtually impossible, the Enterprise said.

Climaxing the terrific rains, more than 5 inches fell between 5:30 and 8:30 p.m.

The rains tapered off over most of waterlogged Texas. But the Weather Bureau promised more in eastern, central and north central areas through Sunday.

Cotton crops and roads already had taken a severe pounding from deluges up to more than 12 inches in Central Texas.

At least six deaths were attributed to the weather.

A major crest moved down the Colorado River following rains of up to 6 1/2 inches upstream. Ranchers and farmers were warned to protect livestock and pumping equipment. The crest was due at Smithville, in Bastrop County, Monday.

The rainy weather was expected to continue in the Austin area through Sunday.

At San Marcos, 35 families returned to their homes after being forced out by flooding Purgatory Creek and Sink Springs Saturday. Rises were reported on the upper Nueces, Frio and Sabinal rivers and many hill country streams.

COTTON FLOODED

Three breaks between Embury and Rice on the southwest side of Chambers Creek in Navarro County flooded several hundred acres of cotton. The northeast levee, where workers were sandbagging, was holding. A break there would flood several thousand acres of cotton and inundate U.S. 75.

The heaviest rainfall in Central Texas during the last 24 hours was 6.49 inches at Elgin.

Austin had up to 4.5 inches and McDade, in that area, 5.4.

Carthage, in deep East Texas, measured 6 inches.

Integration Issue In Waiting Stage

The Southern school crisis Saturday moved another step toward a showdown test between power of the federal government and local public opinion.

Federal authorities, taking the position that resisting areas must accept racially integrated public schools or no public schools at all, adopted a waiting policy.

They counted on pressures of aroused parents in Arkansas and Virginia areas where schools have been closed after being ordered to integrate.

In Little Rock, 61 attorneys including the son of Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark) signed a public statement saying that in their opinion the city's four closed high schools cannot legally be opened on a private segregated basis.

The statement was in the form of a paid advertisement to appear in Monday's editions of the Arkansas Gazette and Arkansas Democrat. The text was released to the press Saturday.

In Little Rock, a group of pro-segregation mothers launched an attempt to remove from office four members of the Little Rock School Board who have clashed with Gov. Orval E. Faubus over his massive resistance to force integration.

In Virginia, where Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr., has closed three white schools and may close six more next week, the situation appeared at an impasse. One attorney said, "It looks like an impossible situation."

NO IMMEDIATE MOVE

It has become apparent that the government plans no immediate move in either Arkansas or Virginia and will take no action prior to the Sept. 27 referendum in Little Rock.

In Washington, a government spokesman commented, "We are under no pressures in this connection. The pressures are on the other side, where local school closures have aroused parents who want to see their children in school. There is bound to be a growing realization that a choice must be made, and without too great a delay, on having legally operated schools, or no schools at all."

A reliable source reported Friday night that the Little Rock board would resist turning the four Little Rock high schools closed by Faubus—three white and one Negro—over to private corporations for operation as provided in the governor's segregation plan.

As circulation of the petitions began, the school system inaugurated an hour-long television class for the 3,700 students of the closed schools.

Hoodlum's Body Is Uncovered

FORT WORTH (AP)—George Kean, a hoodlum who once said the underworld wouldn't "bump me off because I'm just a small-timer," was believed found dead Saturday in a shallow mud flats grave near Lake Worth.

Kean has been missing since last December.

The grave is not far from where the body of gambler Edell Evans was found and close to the garbage pit on which gangster Sid Foley was cast by his killers.

City detective H. L. Stephenson got the first tip on the grave from a woman who called his home.

Stephenson said the call must have been long distance because he could hear coins drop into the toll slot.

"Do you want to know where they buried George Kean?" the caller asked. Then she gave instructions for reaching the site.

After officers converged on the area, Webber Farris of an Azle mortuary dug out the body.

Peace Justice Carl Elston ruled it was a case of murder.

All that remained was a skeleton in dank shreds of clothing—pieces of black trousers and what appeared to be a black corduroy jacket over a green zippered vest.

Officers said they were almost sure it was the skeleton of Kean. None advanced a guess as to who did the killing.

It was understood that Kean had aroused the wrath of underworld characters who had been trying to sell narcotics in Dallas.

Death Claims Bobby Tawater

Things happen fast for the young, and that was the way with Bobby Tawater. He died in a hospital here at 11:10 a.m. Saturday.

Robert Stinson Tawater Jr. was born here May 5, 1954, and until a couple of months ago he was as robust and handsome as any growing lad. But growth patterns suddenly went askew as Bobby developed a cancerous condition.

Special treatment here and at Dallas followed and finally a new last-resort type of therapy at Ochsner Foundation Hospital in New Orleans was applied. For a time the malignancy was fought to a standstill, but the same rays which held it in check were destroying bone marrow. The treatment had to be suspended. After five weeks, Bobby was returned to the family home at 1210 E. 15th Street on Sept. 7 to wait out his days.

The funeral has been set for 3 p.m. Monday at the Nalley-Pickel Chapel with the Rev. Royce Womack officiating. Burial will be in the Trinity Memorial Cemetery.

Surviving Bobby are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Tawater; a sister, Linda Sue Tawater; the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Tawater, Rockwall; the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Phillips, Commerce, and two great-grandmothers, Mrs. B. F. Presley, Commerce, and Mrs. T. H. Phillips, Colorado City.

Two Airmen Die In T33 Crashes

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Two airmen were killed in the crash of a T33 jet trainer plane Friday morning in fog and rain 15 miles east of San Antonio.

They were Lt. Col. James T. Lewis, professor of air science at Colorado State College, Greeley; and Maj. Albert A. Manchester at Lowry Air Force Base, Denver.

They were headed for Randolph AFB at San Antonio, headquarters of the Air Training Command of which Lowry is a unit.

Nationalist Ships Run Red Blockade

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—A Nationalist convoy ran the Communist blockade of Quemoy Saturday for the seventh straight day and unloaded supplies under heavy Red gunfire.

Nationalist military headquarters here refused to say how many landing ships had made it to the shell-raked beach of the offshore island. But headquarters said Red shore batteries had pumped 2,435 shells onto Quemoy up to mid-afternoon.

C-City Bank Buys New Building Site

COLORADO CITY — Officials of the City National Bank here Saturday announced purchase of a site for a new bank building. Plans for the new structure are not complete, however.

The bank announced that it had purchased a site at 3rd and Elm and would construct a building large enough to handle expected future growth. A survey of businesses was made to try to determine the center of growth, and the bank selected the 3rd and Elm site as best for its needs.

The bank now is at 2nd and Walnut.

Negro Boycott Leader Is Stabbed In Harlem Store

NEW YORK (AP) — The Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., Negro leader who urges his race to practice nonviolent resistance to segregation, was stabbed by a Negro woman in a Harlem store Saturday.

The woman, whom police described as apparently mentally deranged, struck King in the left chest with a letter-opener as he was autographing copies of his recent book.

He was taken to Harlem Hospital with the weapon still in his chest, and at first was described as in critical condition.

However, Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, who rushed to the hospital as soon as he got word of the attack quoted King as saying: "I'm going to be all right—don't worry."

Immediately after the attack, a patrolman arrested King's assailant, Mrs. Izola Ware Curry, as she was trying to get into a taxicab outside the store. A passerby quoted her as shouting, "I've been after him for six years. I'm glad I done it."

Detectives said she apparently was a mental case, and had a loaded pistol concealed in the front of her dress.

King, a leader of the successful 1956 Negro bus boycott in Montgomery, Ala., was autographing copies of his book, "Stride Toward Freedom," for a long line of customers in Blumstein's department store on W. 125th St. when he was attacked.

A woman store employee who was helping him said the stabbing "happened so fast it was incredible."

She said a woman came up to her and asked, "Is this Martin Luther King?" and she replied: "Yes, it is."

The employee said the woman immediately stabbed King.

The book King had been autographing tells the story of the year-long boycott by Montgomery Negroes, refusing to ride segregated buses, finally brought about integration on the buses through court action.

Although homes and churches were bombed and other violence occurred during the boycott, King came unscathed through that period.

Widow Named To Labor Commission

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel Saturday named Mrs. M.B. Morgan, formerly of Denison, Labor commissioner to succeed her husband who died while holding the office.

Fish Feud Halted By Sick Marine

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Britain and Iceland called a temporary halt to their fish feud Saturday because a British Marine was taken sick.

The Marine came down with acute appendicitis aboard Her Majesty's Frigate Diana which was guarding seven British trawlers fishing inside the new 12-mile territorial limit imposed by Iceland.

The State Department declined to comment on the report. Secretary Dulles has laid down a policy of silence with respect to the U.S. and Red Chinese ambassadors, Jacob Beam and Wang Ping-nan.

Dulles was described by close associates as believing there still is a fair chance of coming to some understanding with the Chinese Reds to ease the immediate tensions and perhaps eliminate some potential causes of future conflict in the Formosa area.

He was said to hold this view despite a barrage of tough talk and threats from both Peiping and Moscow.

Dulles spent much of the day conferring with advisers at his home. He was understood to be working on the next U.S. moves in the Warsaw talks.

The next Beam-Wang meeting had been scheduled for Sunday morning but was postponed until Monday afternoon. Word in diplomatic quarters here was that Wang had requested the postponement.

The reported Red Chinese offer to negotiate instead of fighting for Formosa seemed to have aroused little enthusiasm among U.S. officials, although it seemed likely to be fully explored in the meetings at Warsaw.

In the absence of official information, the full conditions of the offer were unclear. But one was that any Red renunciation of the use of force would last for a limited time only. That would mean any negotiations held on the future of Formosa would be held under a threat of war if they failed.

Policemen Shot In French Attack

LYON, France (AP) — Gunmen speeding through the center of Lyon in a car opened fire with a machinegun and pistol on the central police headquarters Saturday night. Five policemen and two civilians were wounded. The triggermen escaped.

Authorities blamed the shooting on Algerian Nationalist rebels, who have been waging hit and run attacks on police and soldiers in France.

China Commies May Be Ready To Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — Diplomats reported Saturday that Communist China has made a conditional offer to refrain from using force against Formosa pending negotiation over the island's future.

The offer was said to have been made to the United States in the course of talks at Warsaw last week on ending the present crisis in the Formosa area, seat of Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist government.

The State Department declined to comment on the report. Secretary Dulles has laid down a policy of silence with respect to the U.S. and Red Chinese ambassadors, Jacob Beam and Wang Ping-nan.

Steel Union Puts Up A Solid Front

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—The United Steel Workers Union presented a united front to the basic steel industry today after voting unanimous confidence in its leader and crushing opposition to his program.

David J. McDonald, 55-year-old USW president, emerged from the ninth constitutional convention, which ended today, with tight control over the 1.2-million-member union.

In beating down the opposition at every turn, the great majority of the convention's 3,523 delegates finally recommended expulsion for the protest committee leaders.

The opposition was headed by Donald C. Rarrick, a McKeesport, Pa., mill worker. He said he and others in the committee will fight the expulsion move.

In its final session, the giant union adopted several resolutions calling for improvements in the existing health and welfare program.

One resolution recommended a broad study of the health plan and suggested setting up union-operated hospitals and clinics in areas where the study would show a need for them. The resolution said:

"We are confident that a united and determined membership can win the goal of full medical security for all steelworkers through the process of collective bargaining."

The union indicated it expected the money for the medical improvements to come from company funds already established for medical and hospital care plans.

The resolution was one of some 5,200 acted on by the delegates many of them demanding a wage increase and more benefits in the contract talks with basic steel firms next spring.

McDonald referred to the possibility of a long and bitter strike several times during the convention. At one point, he said "The industry will try to ruin me if need be to weaken us at the negotiating table."

3 Burglaries Are Reported

Sheriff's deputies were called upon to check into three cases of burglary Friday and Saturday.

At 7 a.m. Saturday, a Texaco service station at 1304 E. 3rd, reported that prowlers had forced a window with a screwdriver and carried away a 2½-ton hydraulic jack, three cases of assorted oil and six oil filters. Jack Hackney made an investigation for the sheriff's office.

Lee Blalack, who lives five miles north on Lamesa highway, reported that his house was ransacked sometime Friday morning. The thieves took only cigarettes and gasoline, he said.

B. F. McChristian, Knott, reported that prowlers hammered the lock from a gasoline pump at his place and stole 15 gallons of gasoline sometime Friday. No arrests have been made in any of the cases.

Texas Payments From Soil Bank $12 An Acre

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 1958 Texas payments under the soil bank program will average $12 an acre, or $2 more than the state's average for the 1956-58 period.

The Agriculture Department is raising the ante to get more Texas farmland into the soil bank and out of production.

Similar increases have been authorized for most states. The objective is to retire more land from production and thereby prevent a further buildup of crop surpluses.

The increases in many states are raising the ante to get more Texas farmland into the soil bank and out of production.

On Wednesday, captains in the Employees' Division, with Clifford Fisher as chairman, are to meet for an indoctrination session.

Sheriff's Dept. To Get New Car

Howard County Commissioners Court will consider bids on a new four-door sedan for the sheriff's department at its Monday meeting. An invitation to dealers to submit bids was announced some weeks ago. The sheriff's department will trade in one 1957 car in the deal.

Only routine business is apparently scheduled for the court's consideration. R. H. Weaver, county judge, who attended a meeting of the CAA airspace subcommittee in Fort Worth last week will probably report on what he was informed.

He also planned, if opportunity offered, to go over with the CAA the problem of approach easements for the new county airport.

Law To Ban Livestock On City Commission's Agenda

Consideration of an ordinance prohibiting livestock in the city limits will be one of the matters before the City Commission when it meets at 5:15 p.m. Tuesday.

The Chamber of Commerce requested the ordinance at the last commission meeting and the council instructed the city attorney to prepare such a document for consideration Tuesday. At the present, only swine are prohibited in the city.

The new ordinance, if passed, would outlaw both livestock and fowl.

Another matter before the commission Tuesday night will be a request for cooperation by the city in payment of sewer and water lines in proposed new development.

Lebanon Premier Slips Out Of Beirut

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Outgoing Premier Sami Solh slipped out of Lebanon Saturday as tensions mounted anew in this troubled capital.

Assassins tried to kill the Moslem Premier twice within the last two months. Solh said 10 days ago he planned to leave Lebanon for a holiday until tempers had calmed down. His departure was kept secret except for a few close friends.

He flew into Adana, southern Turkey, later in the day and boarded another plane for Ankara saying he planned "to stay awhile in Turkey."

Solh, whose nearly two years in office as premier is the longest in the 15-year history of this republic, officially still is premier in the regime of President Camille Chamoun. But he left behind a written resignation to take effect Monday. Chamoun steps aside Tuesday when Gen. Fuad Chehab takes over as president.

Chehab was elected president in July after two months of rebellion against the Chamoun regime. After Chehab's election by Parliament the insurrection cooled down.

But with the time approaching for the change of government, tension is mounting again. A series of kidnappings and other lawlessness forced authorities to impose a curfew in Beirut and its suburbs starting at 8 p.m. Monday "until further notice."

The new tensions have come about through flare-ups between Falangist party groups supporting Chamoun and rebels opposed to him. Falangists planned to escort Chamoun from the Government Palace when he relinquishes the presidency, but the curfew may dash those plans.

Both Falangists and rebels were openly carrying arms in Beirut, posing a new threat of fighting among a population that is generally fed up with insurrection and bloodshed.

Revenge kidnappings between the feuding groups started with the Falangist charge that rebels had kidnapped Fuad Haddad, columnist of the Falangist newspaper Al Amal. The rebels denied it. Nevertheless, the vendetta snowballed Saturday with as many as 400 persons kidnapped.

SHICK AND HIS NEWEST TOTEM POLE
Timber was trunk of community yule tree
FOR DAUGHTER, SON-IN-LAW

Nat Shick Carves Totem As Joint Birthday Gift

Nat Shick, retired Big Spring postmaster and indefatigable carver of totem pole replicas, took a joint birthday gift to his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Granville Dawson, Midland, Thursday afternoon.

The gift was a 12-foot totem pole representing many hours of patient carving, which Shick has been making for a long time.

The daughter's birthday was Thursday. Her husband celebrated his birthday Friday. They live at 1604 W. Michigan in Midland.

Shick utilized part of the trunk of the big community Christmas tree which graced the east lawn of the Howard County Courthouse block in 1956 as material for this special totem pole.

He had gained possession of the tree trunk and had carefully preserved it from the time it terminated its services as a Yule ornament and was readily transformed into a most effective replica of a famous tribal symbol.

Shick has produced a large number of totem poles in the past few years and they are displayed in numerous West Texas communities.

Another Record Month On Turnpike

FORT WORTH (AP)—August was another record-breaking month for the Dallas Fort Worth turnpike.

The turnpike racked up a total of 532,761 vehicle trips, an average of 17,186 per day, a new monthly traffic record for the road which observed its first birthday Aug. 27.

This was more than enough traffic to pay all operating costs and prorated interest accruals on the turnpike's bonds, for the third straight month.

Stanton Hospital May Be Leased

AT COLLEGE

Semester Hour Total Up 47 Pct.

Howard County Junior College registration was up by 18 per cent in head count Saturday, but in the real criterion of semester hours the gain was 47.5 per cent.

The figures released by Dr. W. A. Hunt showed 601 registered and a total semester hour load of 7,590. At the comparable time a year ago, the total was 505 registered with 5,147 semester hours of work.

The totals announced Saturday included 254 full time students, which was only slightly better than the 246 registered last year. Dr. Hunt counted those with 12 or more hours of work as full time students.

A major end of the increase, however, appears to be in those who are carrying eight to 11 hours of work. Whereas a year ago the total enrollment represented an equivalency of 343 full time students, this year's equivalency is 506. This, naturally, matches the 47.5 per cent increase shown in semester hours of work.

Dr. Hunt said Saturday morning that there were at least a dozen others who had completed registration but who had not cleared the business office. All totals he announced were based on those which had been received at the business office.

Registration will continue all this week at the college both for day and evening classes. Several are anticipated during the forepart of the week as students who went off to other colleges and then decided to make their appearance on the HCJC campus.

C Of C Budget Gets $1,250 In New Support

Twenty-three businesses and individuals have been enlisted in the Chamber of Commerce and 20 others have adjusted their Chamber membership dues upward in a joint membership-dues adjustment campaign, Rad Ware, general chairman of the project, reported Saturday.

The enlargement has resulted in an increase of $1,250 per year in Chamber revenues, Ware added.

The campaign is continuing with some 50 workers making contacts. Here are the firms and persons who have either enlisted or adjusted membership dues:

Girls Held For Theft Of Parrot

Two girls, each 15 years old, are in custody in the juvenile ward in the county jail in connection with the alleged theft of a parrot (complete with cage) and two bicycles.

The girls contend they "found" the parrot. They merely took him along with them. The owner of the bird, which he says is talkative enough around friends but who refused to make a statement to the police, reclaimed his pet.

The girls also claim the bicycles were loaned them by their owners. The bicycles were abandoned near the Webb Air Force Base gate.

The owners have their bicycles back. The girls are in custody and will tell their story to R. H. Weaver, juvenile judge, as early next week as the hearing can be set, according to A. E. Long, juvenile officer.

Cosden Goes For Midwest Market Area

Cosden Petroleum Corporation is about to bid for a share of the growing Midwest markets. R. L. Tollett, president of Cosden, has announced that construction is getting under way on a pipeline which will link Cosden's present outlet at Wichita Falls with trunklines at Duncan, Okla. The 47-mile gap-closer will be 6 1/2-inch line with an initial capacity of 10,000 barrels per day and will cost approximately $350,000. It will be owned and operated by a new wholly-owned Cosden subsidiary, River Pipeline Company.

CONNECTING CARRIERS
At Duncan, where River Pipeline will have four 30,000 gallon storage tanks, the line will have connections with the Great Lakes, Badger and Texas Eastern pipeline systems. Last month Texas Eastern Transmission Corp. reconverted its "Little Big Inch" line to products service, opening markets in the Midwest and Ohio Valley to refiners in Oklahoma, Mississippi and the Gulf Coast. Oklahoma processors have received news of the Cosden venture with less than enthusiasm. "We've gone ahead on this without any encouragement from Oklahoma refiners," said Tollett. "They're already stuck with surplus products and they don't want us competing in these new markets. But we're going in anyway. We have to get some new markets somewhere. There's plenty of room for us in the Midwest market. It is expanding every year, and we're going to help supply the growing demand."

SUPPLIES INCREASE
Cosden is considering improvements, possibly the addition of a coker, which would increase the gasoline yield of the Big Spring refinery. At the same time, some of the far West Texas market is being absorbed by El Paso's new plant at Odessa. While most of the bulk ship-

Drilling Takes Substantial Drop In Basin During Week

The most drastic drop in several weeks was noted in drilling activities in the Permian Basin, with some 22 rigs being laid during the one-week period ending Friday. Reed Roller Bit Co. took a survey of the active rotary rigs in the Basin Friday and found only 335. This is 22 less than were found on Sept. 12. It is also the lowest total since the 330 on Aug. 1. Howard County suffered in the drop, with only four rigs being found active. This is two less than were turning at the end of last week. Borden dropped two from the eight total of Sept. 12. Lea County, N. M., lost five rigs but was still the leading individual area of the Basin, with 37. Andrews added one to 31, and Ector had 23—down four. Over the Basin, the individual totals (with Sept. 12 totals in parentheses) include Andrews 31

STORMING AHEAD Import Plan Draws Mixed Reactions

HOUSTON (AP)—The proposed revision of the voluntary program for limitation of oil imports may have to weather a storm before being adopted. Reaction has been somewhat divided among independent oil operators who have led the fight for imports curbs. At least one major importer has indicated it may withdraw from the voluntary program if the proposed revisions are adopted without substantial changes. Affected companies have 30 days in which to comment on the proposals announced last week by Capt. Matthew V. Carson Jr., oil

New Location In E. Howard

A new location has been staked in the Iatan East Howard (San Andres) field on the Mitchell side and drilling operations were under way on two other projects in the same pool. The new location is Magnolia No. 40-A C Mary Foster about 3 1/2 miles southeast of Iatan. Drillsite is 1,980 from north and 700 from east lines. 7-29-18, T&P Survey and operator will drill it to 2,400 feet. The C. W. Guthrie No. 3 Schumacher set 5 1/2-inch string at the end of the week at 2,534 feet. It is in the same field 2,331 from south and 1,631 from east lines. 15-29-18, T&P Survey, and four miles south of Iatan. The Guthrie No. 4 Schumacher waited on cement to set surface string at 302 feet Saturday before deepening. The site is 1,671 from south and 2,291 from east lines. 15-29-18, T&P Survey. About 14 miles northeast of Otischalk, the Ray Albaugh No. 1 Eric was at 2,505 feet at the end of the week. It is a wildcat 330 from north and west lines of the east half of the southwest quarter, 5-18, SPR Survey.

Andrews Venture

A Cosden project in Andrews County, the No. 3 Sumnerlin, drilled at 4,110 feet Saturday. It is in the Fullerton field in the northwestern part of the county.

Garza Strike Gets Offset For Dual Pay

An offset to the General American of Texas No. 1 Susie Koonsman, prospective Strawn-Ellenburger discovery in Garza County, has been announced by General American. The new site is the No. 4 Susie Koonsman and is 660 from north and west lines, 4-2, T&NO Survey, nine miles southwest of Justiceburg. Operator announced it would drill to 3,900 feet for both Strawn and Ellenburger tests.

The No. 1 Koonsman has shown for production from the Strawn while it was being drilled, and only last week, it drilled 2,000 feet of free oil on a drillstem test in the Ellenburger. In the East Huntley (San Andres) field about six miles northeast of Post, Continental No. 9-1204 Blake finished for 139 barrels of oil and six per cent water after being acidized with 1,250 gallons. Gravity of the oil is 37.2 degrees, and gas-oil ratio measured 255-1. The well is 990 from south and 2,310 from east lines, 1204, 1&GN Survey. Total depth is 3,400 feet, but it is drilled out to 3,370. Top of the pay zone is 2,114, and perforations extend from 3,115-284 feet.

HEAVY PROGRAM TIMBER Texas Midcontinent Meeting Date Set

DALLAS—Texas oil men will be exposed to a broad education on current affairs affecting the nation's general economy and the petroleum industry in particular when they meet here Oct. 7-8 for the 39th Annual Meeting of Texas Midcontinent Oil & Gas Association. Speakers scheduled thus far for the annual gathering of oil and gas industry leaders from all segments of the industry include Robert C. Tyson, chairman of the finance committee and director, U. S. Steel Corp., New York; Henderson Supply, Jr., president, the Atlantic Refining Co., Philadelphia; Martin A. Row, southwest division general attorney, Sun Oil Co., Dallas; and Robert M. Chan, former Magnolia vice president, director and consultant, Transwestern Pipeline Co., Dallas.

Features of the program, said Charles W. Alcorn, include the Association's annual golf tournament at Book Hollow Golf Club on Oct. 7, followed that night by the membership dinner at the Statler Hilton Hotel, convention headquarters. A highlight of the meet-

Yates Wildcat Logs Shows

A deep wildcat in Ward County has shown for production in the shallow Yates section this weekend, and another test was under way today. The Magnolia No. 1-59 George Sealy, projected to 17,000 feet, tested the Yates dolomite from 3,190-204 feet for five hours and 20 minutes. It flowed mud and oil in 32 minutes and then after cleaning to pits for 18 minutes, it produced 130 barrels of oil through a one-inch choke in three hours. It also returned a full string of oil in drill pipe. Flowing pressure gauged 40-1, 250 pounds, and 30-minute shut-in pressure was 1,320 pounds. Another test was undertaken from 3,203-14 feet. The project is 660 from north and west lines, 59-F, G&MMB&A Survey, and three miles northwest of Wickett.

Completions Are Noted

New wells have been completed in the Howard-Glasscock and Iatan East Howard fields of Howard County this week, and an old well is to be deepened for additional tests in the H-G pool. C. A. Jones has been granted permission to deepen the No. 4 G. C. Stewart in the Howard-Glasscock field to 2,490 feet. It is about a half-mile north of For-san, 688 from south and 3,150 from west lines of the north half, 130-29, W&NW Survey. Humbolt Oil completed its No. 3-C Douthitt in the same field for a daily potential of 84.54 barrels of 27.8-degree oil and 15 per cent water. The well is 330 from west and 1,650 from north lines, 117-29, W&NW Survey. Total depth is 1,361 feet, with production in the Yates reached at 1,276. It produced from open hole. Magnolia No. 4 Georgia Bell is a new well in the Iatan pool, making 130 barrels of 32-degree oil and only two per cent water on final test. It was tested after being acidized with 15,000 gallons. It is plugged back to 2,709 feet from 2,725, and 5 1/2-inch string is set on the bottom of the hole. Top of the pay zone is 2,421, and perforations extend from 2,421-694 feet.

Lewis To Sweetwater

DALLAS—The transfer of Clair E. Lewis, manager of the U. S. Steel Oil Well Supply Division, store at San Antonio, to Sweetwater, has been announced by William Miskimins, Central Midwest Area manager of the division. Lewis joined "Oilwell" in 1953 at Midland.

B.S. Exploration Re-Elects Officers

Officers and directors were re-elected as a result of the annual stockholders meeting of the Big Spring Exploration, Inc. here Thursday. Despite a cutback of about 50 per cent in production due to protraction reductions, the concern showed a $201,891 improvement in its financial structure for the year ended May 31, 1958. For the first quarter of the current fiscal year, the net improvement is in the amount of $331,167. John R. Hatch, president, in his report to stockholders, noted that a $250,000 loan from the Small Business Administration had enabled the company to fund obligations which heretofore presented stringent demands on current operations.

The gross income of $1,248,000 loaned heavily upon the earnings of Roden Drilling Company of Casper, Wyo., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Big Spring Exploration. On an average, four out of six rigs were kept busy during the year drilling gas wells, plus a few oil explorations, in Wyoming. These helped absorb the loss in sale of oil and gas. Expenses amounted to $1,047,679, leaving a net income before capital extinguishments of $200,321.

Re-elected to the board were Dr. P. W. Malone, John R. Hatch, Dr. Jack Woodall, Dr. G. Franklin Dillon, Roy Reeder, Kent Morgan, and Marvin Saunders of Big Spring, John Roden of Casper, Wyo., Gail Stoddard, Midland, Raymond Cope of Lamesa and Carl Pfleger, Eden.

Officers named by the board were John Hatch, president and vice chairman of the board; Dr. P. W. Malone, vice president and chairman of the board; John Roden, vice president; Kent Morgan, vice president; Neil G. Hillard, secretary and assistant treasurer; Dr. M. W. Talbot, treasurer and assistant secretary.

Sinclair Transfers Ward To Midland

MEET THE 'seniors' OF THE COSDEN FAMILY...

L. F. HUGHES

This is the 15th in a series of special Cosden presentations' recognizing the long and valuable services of those employees who have been associated with the Company 15 years or longer. Cosden is proud of its scores of workers who have contributed their efforts through so many years toward the success of the Company.

"I just hope I can see as much progress at Cosden in the next 15 years as I have in the past 15," Frank Hughes commented.

"Like they say — at Cosden, progress is part of the plan," he continued.

Frank Hughes was born in Elbert, Throckmorton County, Aug. 12, 1915. After finishing high school at Amherst, he joined a food manufacturing concern in Tulsa, Okla. Later he was employed by the U.S. Rubber Company in Los Angeles before moving to Snyder, where he operated a Cosden service station.

An electrician at the refinery, Mr. Hughes repairs meters at the Big Spring, Col-Tex, Wichita Falls, Hawley and Abilene plants. He is a steward in the Local 826, IUOE, and a member of the 14th and Main Church of Christ.

Through his sister, Mr. Hughes met Ona Mae Weir of Snyder. The couple was married July 11, 1941. They have two children, Dianna Kay, 15, and Bill, 13. The Hugheses own their home at 110 E. 19th.

Mr. Hughes' hobbies are many and varied. The family has a cabin at Lake Colorado City, where Mr. Hughes enjoys driving the boat for the water skiers. He also likes to hunt and fish.

Several years ago, Mr. Hughes collaborated with Red Hayes in writing the song, "Choose the One You Want."

First Of The 1959 Automobiles

R. R. McEwen Jr., local Buick dealer, poses with the Buick Wildcat two-door hardtop for 1959. Introduced Friday, the Buicks in three new series were the first of the 1959 models. A big crowd was on hand Friday and Saturday to inspect the radically different Buicks.

Stock Market Makes History With Advance

The cotton yield around Coahoma will not be as heavy as expected, according to A. D. Shive, gin manager. He said the fields didn't get enough rain after June and the bolls are too small to average more than a quarter to a third of a bale per acre. Shive had ginned 122 bales yesterday morning, but said some of the boll pullers intended to work in the afternoon. Wet weather slowed down boll pulling last week. Workers were busy part of each day, but most of them laid off during the two-day Mexican holiday. Several journeyed to Ackery for a celebration that drew Latin-Americans from a wide area. Most of the Coahoma cotton is being harvested by braceros. Shive said he knew of about three crews of native workers in the community.

members can buy? Ed Seay, agricultural instructor at Goliad and Rannels Junior High schools, would like to find some good lambs weighing from 60 to 80 pounds. He will take either crossbreds or fine wool or both. Seay says they are in short supply. The country is filled with lambs, but they are too heavy for the coming FFA and 4H club shows to be held this winter. Most sheep owners schedule lambing time in the late winter and early spring months, which makes the lambs too old for club projects.

NEW YORK (AP)—The amazing 1958 stock market made history this week by climbing to a record peak.

It soared to an all-time crest on Tuesday, backed down irregularly for two days, then renewed its strength late Friday and surged to a still higher historic record.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose $3.50 to $192.50, putting it well ahead of its long-standing record high of $191.50 reached on April 6, 1956.

The Dow-Jones industrial average hit a new record closing peak of 526.57, topping its previous high of 521.05, also reached on April 6, 1956.

The Coahoma sewer project is under way at last and should be completed by January 15, said Mrs. Mattie Miller, city secretary. The first lines are being laid in the south part of town.

The last was a West Texas farmer. When they thought he had burned long enough, the door was opened, and they were surprised to see him come strolling out. "Whew!" he said, mopping his brow with a red bandanna. "If this weather keeps up, we sure won't make much of a cotton crop."

The market made more than made up for its sharp drop which culminated last October when Wall Street was jittery over the coming recession, the first Russian Sputnik and tightening credit. Its rise since December has been steady and growing in assurance despite occasional corrections.

Mrs. Miller says cool weather has helped ease the town's water shortage. She estimates the water usage has dropped from 25 to 30 per cent since the weather turned cooler. Also the reduction in water needs at Big Spring has possibly helped increase water pressure on the Coahoma and Sand Springs lines.

Random Items— Two or three people have said that farmers may be forced to pay more than $1.55 per hundred for boll pulling. A few growers are paying $1.75 to native crews, so if this is reflected in the wage survey conducted last week, farmers paying $1.55 may be required to make up the difference. This, as most people remember, happened a couple of years ago.

The market defied recession news and alarming foreign situations. Its action anticipated a business upturn which is now under way. It also reflected increasing fear of inflation, a desire to protect the purchasing power of the dollar. The decline in fixed income securities such as bonds and preferred stocks paralleled the rise in common stocks.

Most of the early maize has been harvested, said Finis Taylor, local grain buyer. He said Kimbell Feed Mill had been getting around a quarter of a million pounds a day despite the wet weather.

Despite acreage controls, the country is building up a big crop surplus. It has enough corn to last two years, and enough wheat to feed us for four years. Cotton stocks are down, but the big increase of other countries does not brighten the outlook.

Some of the grain has increased in moisture content from about 11 to 16 per cent, but it is not due altogether from wet weather. The stalks are putting out suckers, or secondary heads and combines are grinding these in with the mature grain.

Big Lake has received 12 inches of rain this year. Dell City, which is north of Van Horn, recently celebrated its 10th anniversary. The community has perhaps the best irrigation water in Texas. Wells range from 800 to 6,000 gallons per minute.

A country grocer says people are more dishonest than before World War II. "Kids are the worst, then women and then men," he said. "I watch the tourists most of all. Some people leave their scruples at home when they start on a vacation."

The Lomax Gin had turned out 268 bales yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Grades and staples are unusually good, said manager Cecil Long. Most of it was averaging strict middling, with only one light spot. Staple length varies from 15-16ths to 31-32nds, and with a few grading one-inch.

Long said the dryland cotton was harvested first, but now the irrigated farmers are starting. Yields are better than expected. If dry weather prevails this coming week, some farmers will need more boll pullers than they now have.

Poultry owners are quite pleased with the egg market lately. Prices have increased as much as 14 cents per dozen in some areas, though locally produced eggs have not gone up quite so much.

The outlook is so promising that many local poultrymen are scouring the country for replacements, which are difficult to find. Johnny Cline, poultry service man for a local feed store, says some of the hens are going out of production and the owners are trying to replace them with younger birds. He said the local demand for eggs has been greater than the supply, and his firm once or twice had to buy eggs from the Seagraves area to supply Big Spring customers.

This will likely be remedied in the near future, however, for John Davis has 4,000 layers just coming into production. This output will be in addition to hens already in production.

SAC Strikes Test Continent's Defense

WASHINGTON (AP)—The vast air defense system of the United States and Canada was put to an unannounced test today as jet bombers of the Strategic Air Command made sudden strikes at prime targets in the two countries.

The North American Air Defense Command confirmed reports, first made by Canadian sources at St. Hubert, Quebec, that the test was under way.

The command said that "all units of the air defense system, including elements of augmentation forces, are participating" in the test labeled "Top Hat."

In addition to the regular Air Force jet interceptor planes, the U. S. Air National Guard was taking a hand at attempting to locate and theoretically shoot down attacking bombers coming in on key targets from various directions.

Other units of air defense include the three radar warnings lines to the north—Dewline, Mid-Canada and Pine Tree—together with several SAGE systems already in operation in the United States. The SAGE (semi-automatic ground environment) system is used for detecting and directing planes and missiles in area defense.

The Army, operating its extensive system of Nike anti-aircraft missiles, also is part of the air defense of the United States.

Bracero Lucky To Get U. S. Job

By DON HENRY

One fortunate bracero working in the Big Spring area is Candelario Hernandez Ponce. Ponce, a 30-year-old Mexican national from the central part of Mexico, made his first try this year to get into the U. S.-Mexican labor program and made it with little trouble.

Candelario doesn't mind telling why he wanted to come to this country: he wanted the money. He said he was poor, and he saw this work as an opportunity to make money. So he boarded a train, along with eight others from his village of Melchor Ocampo, in the state of Zacatecas, and rode for a day and night to reach the border, with hopes of getting a job in Texas.

The bracero was fortunate in having to come only 400 miles to the border; some come from even greater distances to get work in the U. S. Also he was able to travel most of the way from his village of 500 on the train, while many have to walk great distances to get commercial transportation. He was fortunate in still another way; he had to wait at Piedras Negras—across from Eagle Pass—only a day before being brought to Big Spring last Monday. He was hired by Larry Shaw to work on his place near Knott.

Candelario arrived on a bus with 60 others, but a total of 195 came into the Howard County Farm Assn. headquarters here during the day. Braceros are brought to the state only as needed, so many have to wait several days at the border before getting a job.

The braceros get their transportation paid from the border, and the hiring farmers also furnish them their bedding, place to stay, cooking utensils, and other needs. Candelario and his companions have only to buy their food and furnish their clothing while here. Candelario doesn't know exactly how much he can make during his 45-day stay—it depends on how hard he works, the weather, and the quality of crop—but most workers are able to earn enough to support them for a year if they save their wages.

With the exception of clothing for his wife and four children, plus some small items such as a razor, Candelario doesn't plan to take anything home. His money will already be on the way to Mexico via the mail when he leaves here. He is afraid it will be stolen or lost on the way, so he will mail it to his wife.

"When a man works in the sun all day, he doesn't want to lose what he makes," Candelario has no definite plans for using his earnings except to make life better for himself and his family. Many of the braceros, however, make enough over several al years to buy farms or remodel their homes. Pay is quite different here from his part of Mexico. Whereas he earned 25 pesos—about $2—per day there, he will get a minimum of $1.55 per 100 pounds of pulled cotton or $2.05 for picking in the U. S. Or if he is doing general farm work, he will make 50 cents per hour. This picking price can go up with the prevailing wage.

Coahoma Man Is Wounded In Hunting Mishap

Jack Sheedy, 21, Coahoma, is in Big Spring Hospital with a gunshot wound in his right foot. He was shot late Friday afternoon as he and a companion were hunting dove on the Byron Wolf farm north of Coahoma.

It was understood that the gun which discharged was the one that Sheedy was carrying. Wolf was away from home but his young grandson, Pepper Moore, 9, was playing atop a haystack and heard the two youths calling for help from the field a half a mile from the house.

Pepper told Mrs. Wolf who took her car and drove to the scene. Sheedy and his companion had come to the farm in a pickup and a tire had gone flat on the vehicle. They borrowed Mrs. Wolf's car and brought Sheedy to the Big Spring Hospital.

Wolf said that the youths were hunting without permission but that he had not posted his place. He said that his wife told him the wound he had been expected. The hospital reported Saturday that the victim was making satisfactory progress.

THE WEEK

at Odessa J. T. Byers, T&P brake-man, fell between two cars of a moving train and was killed Friday evening.

Howard County Junior College counted 601 registrations Saturday. While this was up a healthy 19 per cent in head count, it was up 47 per cent in semester hours—the real basis for judging enrollment. Dr. W. A. Hunt, president, said that in all probability many class sections will have to be closed by this Wednesday, so late registrants had better hurry.

Big Spring schools were continuing to show that hefty margin of increase, too, for the total enrollment was pegged at 6,329, up 594 from the comparable date of 1957. Elementary enrollment is up 400, high school 137—so the big mystery is what happened to the expected junior high increase.

Two locally domiciled oil companies held annual meetings here last week. Cosden on Monday and Big Spring Exploration on Thursday. Cosden reported a reasonably good year and Saturday the story of expansion and drive was underway again with announcement that work had started on a 47-mile pipeline which will close a gap and take Cosden products to the Midwest and Ohio valleys.

The YMCA last week approved preliminary plans for the new building and appealed to supporters to keep pledges current in order to assist in training training early next year on this big project.

Big Spring's Chamber of Commerce aviation committee stayed solidly with the Air Force in efforts to agree on a division of air space so specified areas could be set aside for training. Training from 8,000 to 28,000 in these zones had been proposed, but the Air Force compromised at regional level on a 12,000 bottom. If accepted, this may become the pattern for the entire nation.

This week the Big Spring Concert Association opens its annual membership enrollment for the series including San Antonio Symphony, the Diary of Anne Frank, Chicago Opera Ballet and Dylan Todd. The series goes for a modest $7.50 ($3.50 student) fee. If you haven't been contacted, give this column a ring and your membership will be delivered.

Acquittal Denied In Land Trial

CUERO, Tex. (AP)—Dist. Judge Howard Green rejected a defense motion for acquittal Saturday in the trial of C. O. Hange, on charges of conspiracy to defraud veterans' land deals.

The state rested its case against the McAllen produce dealer. The defense argued that evidence by the state "is totally insufficient to support a conviction."

Defense lawyers said they expect to finish their case by Wednesday.

The state claims Hagan conspired with Cletus Ernster, Cuero manufacturer, and Henry Robinson, Victoria Negro, to defraud the state of $146,816 in the veterans' land program.

Russians Deny Knowledge Of 11 U.S. Airmen

MOSCOW (AP)—The Russians assert they do not know what happened to 11 American airmen missing after a plane crash in the Soviet Union. But the Reds say they will return six bodies found in the wreckage.

A Kremlin note Friday did not indicate where or when the remains of the six would be turned over to U. S. authorities. It said no information was available on the other 11 men who were in the plane, which crashed Sept. 2. The plane was on a flight in Turkey when it disappeared.

The names of the 17 fliers have been released by U. S. officials, but the Russians have supplied no names of the dead so it is impossible to say which are missing.

Friday's Soviet note rejected as false and provocative an American charge that the U. S. plane, an unarmed C130 transport, was intercepted by Russian fighter planes in the area of the Turkish border. This charge, said the note, was an attempt to justify a border violation. The U. S. Air Force said the plane was on a flight inside Turkey to study radio waves.

Four Injured In Headon Crash

A headon collision of a car and pickup Saturday evening sent four persons to the hospital for treatment, but only two of them received serious injuries.

Carried to Malone-Hogan Hospital for treatment were W. C. Ford, Vincent Rtt., and John B. Clare Sr., John B. Clare Jr., and Phil E. Bradford, all three of Brownfield. The accident occurred about seven miles north of Vincent in Berdon County on FM 1205, at about 6:15 p.m.

Ford was in a 1957 Ford and traveling north at the time of the crash. Clare Sr. was driving the 1958 Willys pickup going south. With him were his son and Bradford.

Investigating officers said the cars collided headon. J. B. Clare Jr. and Bradford did not appear badly hurt. Mrs. Jack Graham who lives near Willys assisted the injured men before ambulances from River and Nalley-Pickle funeral homes could arrive.

Boy Hit By Car Not Hurt

A nine-year-old Latin American boy was unhurt after being hit by a car Saturday morning. Larry Moreno, 610 N. Gregg, was hit by a car driven by Curtis Beard, 2104 Main, at 310 N. Gregg, the police said. He was taken to Big Spring Hospital for treatment but wasn't admitted.

Saturday afternoon, a car and pickup collided at 3rd and Johnson, overturning the pickup, but no one was injured. Arvil Henry, 1423 E. 6th, was driving a 1957 Studebaker pickup owned by Texas Electric Service Co. and going north of Johnson when he was in collision with a car driven by Mona Drake, 1215 Ridgeway. The car was going west.

Impact of the collision threw the truck over on its left side. A River ambulance was called, but no one was injured.

Thieves Get Keys Then Steal Auto

Nothing was missing in a burglary at a used car office except a set of keys, but the keys enabled the burglars to take a car off the lot.

Burglars broke into the lot at 610 W. 4th, and Saturday morning, nothing was found missing. Later in the day, however, owners of the lot found that a 1954 DeSoto was missing, and the keys to it were also missing from the office building.

Three other break-ins were reported Saturday. Service stations at 1300 E. 3rd, 1307 E. 3rd, and Gollad and 3rd were entered.

Jury Notices To Be Mailed Monday

Jury notices to 60 veniremen will probably go in the mail Monday instructing them to report to 118th District Court on Sept. 29 for the trial of civil cases.

Wade Choate, district clerk, said no jury cases are on the list for this week. He added that 16 cases have been tentatively docketed for the week of Sept. 29.

Judge Charlie Sullivan, who has been out of town for a few days, was back in his chambers on Friday and spent the day in disposing of non-jury cases. He has a number of such matters scheduled for this week.

Train Mishap Kills James Troy Byers

James Troy Byers, 57, Texas & Pacific railway conductor, came home Friday as planned—but as a corpse.

Since Tuesday he had been in Odessa with a work train crew cleaning the wreckage of a 22-car derailment which occurred Monday evening. Members of the family had expected him home on the train Friday evening.

At 7:30 p.m. he slipped as he attempted to step from a flat car to the pile-driver unit of the moving train. Half an hour later he died in the Ector County Memorial Hospital without having gained consciousness. Limbs on his left side were all but severed and he sustained other injuries.

Services will be held at 5:30 p.m. Sunday at the Nalley-Pickle Chapel with the Rev. Cecil Rhodes, West Side Baptist minister, officiating. There will be Masonic rites at the graveside, and members of Lodge No. 1340 will meet at 4:30 p.m. and attend the rites as a group.

Mr. Byers had been an employee of the Texas & Pacific Railway Co. for more than three decades. Born Dec. 9, 1900, in Van Zandt County, he came to Big Spring in 1925 from Edgewood. The following year he joined the T&P and had been a conductor for many years.

Mr. Byers was a member of Masonic Lodge 1340. He was married here on July 28, 1926, to Miss Cleo Crews, who survives him. Other survivors are three sons, James Byers, Lubbock, Melvin Byers and Dewey Byers, Big Spring, two daughters, Mrs. Jannetta Whetsel, Big Spring, and Mrs. Bonnie Melton, Rockaway Beach, Mo. He also leaves his father, E. F. Byers, and a brother, O. E. Byers, both of Madera, Calif.; and five grand-children.

Local Secretaries Make Applications For Certification

Two Big Spring secretaries, Mrs. J. B. (Dorothea) Kain and Mrs. Camille Patterson, have applied to take the next examinations administered by the Institute for Certifying Secretaries. This is a department of the National Secretaries Assn. (International).

Those applying before Dec. 1 and qualified by the institute will submit to the 12-hour test over a two-day period on May 1-2, 1959. The tests will be administered at specified schools and colleges. Latest figures revealed 239 secretaries having passed the eighth annual CPS (Certified Professional Secretaries) examinations, bringing to 1,466 the number qualified since certification was begun in 1951.

Tests include those on personal adjustment and human relations, business law, business administration, secretarial accounting, secretarial skills, secretarial procedures. In order to earn the rating, applicants must pass in all tests.

Mrs. Kain is president of the local chapter of NSA and Mrs. Patterson is the vice president.

74 Influenza Cases Reported

Influenza contributed the most volume to the weekly communicable disease report, with 74 flu cases being diagnosed here.

The report from the city-county health unit showed 29 cases of tonsillitis as the next highest total with 15 suffering from upper respiratory trouble. Ten each had impetigo and diarrhea. Four cases of Vincent's disease, a like number of mumps, and one each of pneumonia, gonorrhea, and chicken pox completed the report.

Lamesa Death Ruled Suicide

LAMESA — Funeral services for Everett Lee Burditt, 61, who died of gunshot wounds at 1 p.m. Friday, were conducted Saturday afternoon at Higginbotham Funeral Home chapel. The Rev. J. Lloyd Mayhew officiated and burial was in Lamesa Memorial cemetery.

Mr. Burditt, a resident of Lamesa for the past 18 months, shot himself with a pistol as he sat on the curb in front of a service station at N. 4th and Avenue G at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon. Justice of the Peace Jim Edwards held an inquest and ruled the death a suicide.

Witnesses related that Burditt had been in the service station a few minutes earlier. He left the building, sat down on the ledge, drew the pistol from his pocket and fired one shot. The bullet struck his head.

He had been making his home with a sister, Mrs. Viola Steele, Lamesa, since coming here a year and a half ago.

Survivors in addition to the sister, include one niece, Mrs. Edith Standifer, Lamesa, and two nephews, George Steele and Ray Steele of Brownfield.

Area Resident 50 Years Dies Here Saturday

Jesse Garrett Arnett, 82, retired farmer who spent more than half a century in this area, died Saturday at 9:55 a.m. at his home east of Big Spring.

Mr. Arnett had been in declining health in recent years but was not seriously ill. About three weeks ago he had a slight heart involvement and Saturday morning he suffered a fatal attack.

Services will be held at 4 p.m. Sunday at the Nalley-Pickle Chapel with the Rev. Ernest D. Stewart Jr., East Fourth Baptist minister, officiating. He will be assisted by Dr. P. D. O'Brien, First Baptist pastor, and the Rev. Cecil Rhodes, West Side Baptist pastor. Burial will be in the City Cemetery with Masonic rites at the graveside. Grandsons will serve as pallbearers and Masons as honorary pallbearers.

Mr. Arnett was born in Lineville, Ala., on July 27, 1876. He was married in 1904 to Miss Effie Smith at Anson, and two years later they moved to a farm just east of Big Spring. In 1924 the family moved to Midland where he operated a farm until his retirement in 1947. Then he returned to Big Spring and built a new home on his place on the spot where he had wanted to build it 35 years before.

Lubbock Burglary Suspect Arrested

Local police arrested early Saturday a man wanted for burglary in Lubbock.

Arrested was Jimmie Ray Myers, 27, on a warrant issued in Lubbock in connection with a burglary last Sunday night. Officers from Lubbock picked him up from the police shortly after he was arrested.

Thousands Like Him

Typical of the thousands of Mexican Nationals now working in the cotton harvest in this immediate area is Candelario Hernandez Ponce, above, who is employed at Knott. Leon Kinney, Texas Employment Commission manager here, said Saturday there are some 5,500 of the braceros employed in Howard, Martin and Glasscock counties. The total is expected to hit 5,800 — the present ceiling on imported workers — but farmers are crying for more as the best cotton crop in years bursts open. Kinney said 2,900 more workers probably are needed and efforts are being made to secure Department of Labor authorization for additional braceros. TEC representatives also are attempting to stop domestic workers now flowing through here on route to fields on the South and Upper Plains. Hernandez Ponce and other braceros expect to earn as much this fall as they could earn in a year in Mexico. (Keith McMillin Photo).

DEAR ABBY

ROOM FOR DOUBT!

By ABIGAL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a man who was married once before. He has two children by his first wife and he is crazy about them. Now I love my husband, Abby, and I think he loves me as much, but he goes to his first wife's house twice a week. He says he goes there to see his children, but he doesn't come home until way past midnight and when he gets home he has lipstick on his face and clothes. He swears there is nothing between him and his first wife. Should I believe him? SECOND WIFE

DEAR SECOND: If the kids are old enough to wear lipstick—believe him!

DEAR ABBY: I am a fellow, 19, who just bought a used car with my own money. Every time my mother rides in it she checks the ashtrays to see if I have been smoking. I do not smoke, but many of my friends do and I can't empty the ashtrays constantly to remove the evidence. When I tell my mother that the cigarettes were smoked by my friends and not me, she doesn't believe me. Smoking is greatly condemned in my home. How can I get my mother to believe me? ACCUSED

DEAR ACCUSED: If you are truthful in all other matters your word should be good enough.

DEAR ABBY: We have a club and we are doing fine (especially our treasurer). Everyone pays their dues and fines and gets along okay but my problem is we can't decide how to divide the money when our club breaks up. All the members of the club want all the money that they have paid, including the fines for lateness and talking and other things they are fined for. I think that isn't fair and all the money should be divided equally among the members. What do you think about this? CAROLYN W. (President)

DEAR CAROLYN: In the event that your club breaks up, I think all the money in the treasury should be divided equally among the members.

DEAR ABBY: I feel so bad I could cry. My husband and I have two children and, like all parents, we love them both the same. The oldest is a boy and if I have to say so myself he is a very good-looking boy. The little one is rather puny because she has been sickly and to be honest, she is not a

Methodist Leaders Set Church Goals

Dr. H. Clyde Smith of Big Spring, district superintendent for the Methodist Church, participated in the Dallas-Fort Worth Episcopal Area Council meeting at Dallas Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

The council recommended that goals for the year include four mission projects for each local church and suggested that churches use their discretion in dropping names from membership rolls after two years without any contact. The superintendents also stressed the need for "a Gospel preacher and leader" for every rural church, declaring that student pastors who often stay for short periods of time "cannot serve on the run."

T&P Engineer Dies Saturday

Herman H. Morris, 106 E. 17th Street, left Saturday for Longview to attend the funeral of his half-brother, Charlie B. Jones, a Texas & Pacific Railroad engineer for the past 35 years.

Mr. Jones died in a Marshall hospital at 4 a.m. Saturday. He had been ill only a short time and was still working at this job up to the time he became ill.

Morris was notified of the death and left immediately for Longview, where Mr. Jones lived. Mrs. Morris was ill and could not accompany her husband.

Funeral services will be at 4 p.m. Sunday in the First Baptist Church at Longview and burial will be in the Longview cemetery. Mr. Jones is survived by his wife of Longview; two daughters, both of whom live in Dallas, and three grandchildren. He has visited from time to time in Big Spring and is well known to T&P employees.

Chinese Minister Boasts Power To Take Islands

LONDON (AP)—Communist China's Foreign Minister Chen Yi declared Saturday "no force on earth can stop" his country from reconquering the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

In a statement broadcast by Peiping radio, he accused U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles of making "perverted statements" in his address to the U.N. General Assembly Thursday.

"The facts show that so long as Quemoy and Matsu are not recovered, the immediate threat to our mainland and coastal areas will not be lifted," he said. "The punitive military operations taken by the Chinese people against Chiang Kai-shek's troops entrenched on Quemoy and Matsu are therefore completely proper and necessary."

Mrs. Della Thomas Succumbs Friday

Mrs. Della Gertrude Thomas, 65, of Lueders, died in a hospital here Friday afternoon after an illness of four weeks.

The remains were taken by River Funeral Home of Big Spring to Stamford Saturday. Funeral arrangements are pending at the Kinney Funeral Home in Stamford.

Mrs. Thomas was born Aug. 18, 1893. She had been living here recently with a son, E. J. Thomas. She also is survived by two other sons, J. B. Thomas of Odessa and Lewie Thomas of Snyder, two sisters, a brother, 18 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Distinguished Visitor

Webb had a distinguished overnight guest Friday night, when Col. Dean Hess, center, stopped in unexpectedly. The colonel, whose rescue work among Korean War orphans was shown in the movie "Battle Hymn," starring Rock Hudson, is now head of Air Force public relations activities on the West Coast, with headquarters in Hollywood, Calif. He attended the monthly Pilot Training Group dinner at the Webb Officers' Club. With him here are (left) Lt. Col. Leonard R. Einstein, executive officer of Maintenance and Supply Group, himself a recent returnee from Korea, and George Larsen, of Couden Petroleum Corp.

Three Air Shows Set For Kids' Day

Boys and girls of Big Spring and the Big Spring area who attend the Kids Day events at Webb Air Force Base on Sept. 27 will see not one but three flying shows, it was announced Saturday.

A precision flying exhibition by a T-33 jet trainer will be one event; the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron will stage several "scrambles" featuring their F-86s, subjets operating at maximum capacities. Helicopters assigned to the base also will participate in aerial demonstrations.

The Kids Day event is a project nationwide in scope and jointly sponsored in the communities where the Air Force operated by the USAF and the Kiwanis Clubs International.

Chief of staff of the Air Force, has officially accepted the invitations of the president of Kiwanis International to cooperate in the program and the Air Force has requested its commands to join actively and enthusiastically in the joint activity.

Webb Air Force Base and the Big Spring Kiwanis Club is working with the city school system in drafting plans for the big day.

From the schools will come a Kids Day base commander and WAFB staff officers—the youngsters being chosen for these honors to be accorded special distinction at the base.

A number of exhibits have been planned along with several flight and fire fighting demonstrations. Displays of Air Force clothing, from regular duty uniforms to flight clothes and survival gear, will form a part of the lay-out.

Static aircraft displays, communication equipment, and even model airplane exhibits have been planned.

The ejection seat trainer should also be used several times, showing the method of escape from airborne aircraft. Students, who would be required to undergo the training soon anyway, would be combining training with a demonstration for the benefit of the visiting children.

The hours of Kids Day at WAFB have been set from noon until 4 p.m., with the action centered around the flight line and Hangar T-25. Several Air Force films will be shown, so that there will be continuous entertainment.

Approximately 30 student pilots, some of them garbed in flying clothes, will act as guides for the visitors, and will encourage questions from the children.

Air police will have the Kids Day area properly guarded to insure the safety of all the young guests.

The MARS Mobile Unit will be utilized for playing recorded music through an amplifying system, and by the master of ceremonies for communication with the crowd.

A downtown program to select a Kids Day King and Queen will provide the other half of Big Spring's Kids Day.

Demos Blamed For Failure Of Labor Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn says Congress didn't pass a labor control bill because Democrats in Congress didn't want one.

Alcorn, in a telegram to Michigan's Republican National Committeeman, John Martin of Grand Rapids, maintained that the record was clear on this point.

The telegram was sent today in reply to a request from Martin that Alcorn set out the facts in the controversy over the bill in an address he is to make at a GOP strategy conference in Lansing, Mich., tonight.

Martin said that Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), in a speech at Grand Rapids on Wednesday, made "a feeble attempt to pin the blame on the Republican party" for the failure of Congress to pass a bill to curb labor abuses.

The measure, sponsored by Kennedy and Sen. Irving Ives (R-N.Y.), passed the Senate with only one dissenting vote. But it went down to defeat in the House in the closing days of the session.

Alcorn said Kennedy should explain why Senate Democratic leaders "refused to bring out a labor reform bill at all until Sen. Knowland (the Republican leader) forced them into it."

He also said Kennedy should explain why, when the bill reached the House, Speaker Rayburn "held it for 40 days and 40 nights instead of referring it to committee immediately as is customary."

Alcorn said the bill then was brought before the House in the closing days of the session under procedure limiting debate to and barring any amendments.

"Most Republicans and many Democrats refused to stomach this indefensible method of law-making," he said.

Highway Discussion Planned At Stanton

STANTON — The routing of Interstate Highway 20 (U. S. 80) across Martin County will be discussed at a public hearing scheduled for the Texas Highway Department maintenance office here Wednesday.

Economic effects of a deviation from the present U. S. 80 route will be explored, and other aspects of the project will be discussed.

Moscow Kicks Out AP Correspondent

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Foreign Ministry today ordered Associated Press correspondent Roy Essoyan, 39, expelled from the Soviet Union on charges of violating press censorship. Essoyan, an American citizen, has been stationed in Moscow since Dec. 11, 1955.

The ministry's press department summoned AP Bureau Chief Harold K. Milks and informed him that Essoyan was discredited, effective immediately, and must leave the Soviet Union within a week.

The specific complaint of "a rude violation of Soviet censorship" concerned a dispatch Essoyan transmitted in early August.

Essoyan, who worked for The Associated Press in China, Honolulu, and New York before being assigned to Moscow, will leave the Soviet Union with his wife and two children via Frankfurt, West Germany, next Friday.

Essoyan is the fourth U.S. correspondent ousted by the Soviet government since April 1956.

The Moscow dispatch did not specify which story by Essoyan was in question. It may have been a 650-word interpretive story filed Aug. 6, which began:

"Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's proposal to throw the Middle East crisis into the lap of the U. N. General Assembly was regarded by Western diplomats here today as a major retreat and, in the long run, possibly a blow to the personal fortune of the dynamic Soviet leader."

Transmission of that dispatch was interrupted twice by Soviet censors and it was finally received in full after eight hours delay. The dispatch was telephoned from the Central Telegraph Agency in Moscow in accordance with a usual custom of Moscow correspondents.

BAYLOR BEARS CLAW ARKANSAS PORKERS

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The Baylor Bears, a 50-50 Southwest Conference contender by pre-season ratings, clouted Arkansas 12-0 Saturday night with a big fast line and two hefty fullbacks.

The Texans' Larry Hickman and Gaylen Crain, both operating as fullbacks, jammed out the Razorbacks, keeping the Arkansas backs off balance most of the contest.

When Arkansas rose to plug its sagging center of the line, Baylor quarterbacks Loyie Humphrey and Bill McMillen moved the Bears with passes. Baylor cracked over two second-period touchdowns, the first a 58-yard and the second a 52-yard drive.

Dick Clark scored the first from the 2 and Crain the second from the 1. Ball control by Baylor was a key factor as the Porkers had few chances to muster an offense.

In the first half Baylor ran 52 plays to 14 for Arkansas. Usually potent Jim Mooty and Don Stone, Arkansas backs, had tough sledding with the Baylor line, crashing into the secondary before plays could generate. Arkansas tried futilely to run end sweeps by Baylor right end Albert Witcher, a defensive star of the game. Both Arkansas coach Frank Broyles, making his debut as head coach, and Baylor's Sam Boyd used second and third units freely because of the muggy 70-degree weather.

Tech Rallies To Decision A&M, 15-14

By HAROLD RATLIFF
DALLAS (AP)—Gerald Seemann intercepted one pass and caught another for a touchdown in the fading minutes Saturday night to give lowly Texas Tech an upset 15-14 triumph over Texas A&M.

Tech then stopped the Aggies on the 2-yard line with only two minutes left to complete the humiliation of a team that was expected to beat it by two touchdowns.

It was a game filled with penalties, fumbles, intercepted passes and blocked kicks, and for a half it was as dull and listless as a family picnic.

But things picked up in the last half with the Aggies drawing to a 14-0 lead.

Tech came fighting back to score two touchdowns and used the new rule on conversions to get two points after one of them. That was the margin of victory.

Seemann pulled the Techs out when all seemed hopeless. He gathered in a Charley Mstead pass and ran 34 yards to the Aggie 41 to set up the winning touchdown.

Quarterback Jerry Bell used the Tech ground game to punch down to the 4. Here, when the Red Raiders appeared stopped, Floyd Dellinger picked up a bad pass-back from center and flipped over the goal line to Seemann for the touchdown. Dellinger kicked the extra point to furnish the actual margin of victory.

It was well that Dellinger did—he had been in the doghouse much of the game because of his fumbling.

A crowd of 28,000 saw Tech beat A&M for the first time since 1954.

Rice Owls Jolted By LSU Bengals

HOUSTON (AP)—Warren Rabb and Billy Cannon led a group of Louisiana State speedsters as the Tigers launched their new winged-T attack with a 26-6 inter-sectional football victory over the Rice Owls Saturday night.

A crowd of 45,000 saw an LSU line move with surprising effectiveness on a muddy field and permit Rice the defending South-west Conference champion, to cross midfield only three times—all in the last 18 minutes of the game.

Rabb, a 190-pound Baton Rouge quarterback starting his first varsity game, scored from the 9 on a neat option play and then directed two more as the Tigers jumped into a 19-0 third quarter lead.

Cannon, the Southeastern Conference 100-yard dash champion, set up second and third period scores by taking a 20-yard pass from halfback Johnny Robinson and racing to the Rice 2 and by returning a punt 30 yards to the Owl 5.

Fullback J. W. Brodnax scored from the 2 and Robinson from the 5.

Raymond Chilton scored Rice's lone touchdown by carrying over from the four on the first play of the fourth period. It was the fifth play after guard Charley Knight intercepted an LSU pass on the Tiger 37.

Tommy Davis, a second string fullback, scored the final LSU touchdown with a minute left by hitting right guard from the 3 after LSU covered a fumble on the Rice 30.

Davis converted after the first and fourth Tiger scores but missed after the second. A run by quarterback Darryl Jenkins failed after the third.

Halfback Gordon Spear missed Rice's conversion attempt.

Braves Sew Up A Tie

CINCINNATI (AP)—Lew Burdette continued his hold over Cincinnati's Redlegs Saturday with a six-hitter that clinched a tie for the National League pennant with a 5-1 rain-soaked Milwaukee Brave victory over Cincinnati's Redlegs.

His teammates, playing in a steady downpour, sprayed nine hits around Crosley Field in a game cut off in the seventh inning.

Pittsburgh's Pirates, only rival for the pennant, kept alive flickering hopes with a 4-3 victory over Philadelphia.

Burdette, whose mastery over the Reds is topped only by teammate Warren Spahn, gave up six hits. And the rest of the Braves backed him up faultlessly. He fanned four Redlegs, walked one and left six stranded.

Hank Aaron, No. 4 league hitter, walked once and went without a hit in two official tries, dropping his average to .332.

Bob Purkey, best Reds' hurler this season, was shelled from the mound in the sixth.

Bearcats Rout Dragons, 46-0

GARDEN CITY (SC)—Flower Grove never made a serious threat as Garden City rolled to a 46-0 eight-man football victory here Friday night before 300 fans.

Quarterback Don Plagens scored three first half touchdowns for the Bearcats, getting the first one in the opening period after center Dennis Schraeder had intercepted a pass and ran 50 yards to the Dragons' four.

Plagens went over from three yards out in the second and scored again on a run of 65 paces after intercepting a Flower Grove pass.

In the second half, halfback Mark Schaefer scored for Garden City from two yards away, then ran over the extra point for two points.

Billy Fisher, who quarterbacked the Cats most of the second half, went 15 yards to get a touchdown.

Frank Murphy took two touchdowns passes, one from Plagens good for 30 yards and the other from Fisher for 45. Schaefer moved into the end zone on the PAT try for another two points.

Plagens gained 85 yards in running plays, Fisher 59, Murphy 85 and Schaefer 62.

In all, the Bearcats gained 181 first downs to seven for the Dragons and 286 yards rushing to only 81 for the visitors.

Defensive standouts included lineman Schraeder and Schaefer, Coach Marlin Dadds used 14 players, in all.

The Bearcats play Knott at home next Friday night. They have now won two of three starts.

Mustangs Kayo Abilene, 19-0

SWEETWATER (SC)—The Sweetwater Mustangs, living up to pre-season "crystal-gazers" guesses, probably gained thrice the Sept. 12 in losing to Breckenridge, 35-20, they blasted the Abilene Eagles from a 52-game win streak, 19-0.

Taking Abilene unaware in the first quarter, Sweetwater scored on Ardis Gathier's 8-yard sweep around right end. All-state fullback James Parker converted with a kick placement for a 7-0 lead.

Stimulated, the Mustangs scored two more spirited touchdowns in the second quarter and the game offensives rested their cases while defenses battled it out. Quarterback John Bryant notched the first on a dive from one yard away. His running PAT attempt failed.

Later in that quarter, Gathier passed to halfback Eddie Scott who scored on the 45-yard aerial maneuver. Abilene once drove to Sweetwater's 11, but that was the closest they came.

ROY HAMEY RE-HIRED

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Roy Hamery is being retained as general manager of the Philadelphia Phillies, Club President Bob Carpenter announced Saturday.

Carpenter ended speculation over whether Hamery would remain with the last-place National League team with the announcement.

"Hamery will be general manager as long as his health permits."

A club spokesman punctuated this with the remark that Hamery was a vigorous 56 years old.

Gideon said that he expected as many "and probably more" than last year's turnout to the tournament. The show is offering shop merchandise as prizes to medalist, flight winners, and champion in the matches.

Paul Mosley earned the lowest score in the first week of qualifying in the city Golf Tournament, which is held annually under the supervision of course manager Shorty Gideon.

Two others with scores in the 70's were Joe Conally, 76, and John Stone.

It was probable, Gideon said, that qualifying would continue until Oct. 1, giving golfers plenty of time to record opening scores.

A new champion will likely be crowned, since Bobby Bluhm, the 1957 titlist, is in school at Lamar Tech in Beaumont. He shaded Luke Thompson in the 1957 finals, 3 and 2.

It's doubtful that Thompson, the reigning Big Spring Invitational champion, can make it here, either. He's now in the Army.

A merchandise price valued at about $38 will go the champion this year. The runner-up earns an award valued at about $25.

Gideon announced a medalist prize will be awarded for the first time this year, too. It will include a dozen golf balls.

Entry fee for the tournament is $5.

Wilhelm Hurls No-Hit Game

BALTIMORE (AP)—The American League champion New York Yankees went without a hit or run Saturday against the knuckle balls tossed by 35-year-old Hoyt Wilhelm of the Baltimore Orioles, who won 1-0 on a homer by catcher Gus Triandos.

Only two Yankees reached base, both on walks, as they swung futilely at Wilhelm's dancing pitches in a drizzle of rain. Eight times, Yankees went down on strikes.

The homer in the seventh inning by Triandos was his 30th of the season. He is tied with Yogi Berra of the Yankees for hitting the most in one year by a catcher.

Wilhelm's no-hit, no-run performance was the second in the major leagues this year. Jim Bunning of Detroit did it on July 29 beating Boston, 3-0.

Don Larsen, pitcher of a perfect World Series game in 1956, started for the Yankees and for six innings he was almost as invincible as Wilhelm.

A bunt single in the first inning by Bob Boyd was the only Oriole hit off Larsen. Two other Orioles reached base on a walk and an error by Bill Skowron.

Bobby Shantz went to the mound for the Yankees and Triandos, a former Yankee, sent his fourth pitch sailing over the 410-foot sign on the center field fence.

That was all Wilhelm needed. Bobby Richardson worked him for the first walk in the third inning only to be thrown out trying to steal second. Jerry Lumpe got to first the same way in the next inning and became the only Yankee batter to see second when TCU held a 22-0 half time lead. Kansas got as far as the TCU 26 in the first half, but that was the Jayhawkers' only threat.

It was Jack Mitchell's debut as KU coach.

The TCU second unit caused Kansas most of its grief. This team accounted for three of the touchdowns, while the first, third and fourth teams got one each.

Second unit fullback Merlin Priddy bolted 52 yards off tackle in the first quarter for the first Frog touchdown. In the second quarter, No. 1 quarterback Hunter Enis passed 25 yards to end Jimmy Gilmore for a score. Then No. 2 quarterback Larry Dawson threw 25 yards to end Milton Ham for 6 more points.

End Paul Peebles of the second TCU unit took a 7-yard pass from Dawson for the fourth TCU score then third-team halfback Harry Moreland swept end for 4 yards and the fifth touchdown. Fourth-team halfback Jack Reding got TCU's sixth touchdown on a one-foot plunge with only 2:36 left.

Yearlings Rap Midland, 28-0

MIDLAND (SC)—Dan Bustamente's Runnels 7th grade team, Big Spring's only undefeated football team, smashed Midland Austin, 28-0, in a game played here Saturday afternoon.

Midland did have the satisfaction of making a first down on the Yearlings. The Runnels team beat Lamesa, 26-0, last week without giving up a first down.

Manny Martinez, one of the best Latin-American grid prospects ever to come up here, scored three touchdowns for the Yearlings on runs of 30, 25 and 15 yards.

Deeroby Gartman got the other on a pass from Tony Carrillo. The play covered 50 yards.

Runnels led at half time, 20-0. Midland never advanced beyond the Big Spring 30.

Carrillo added four points to the Yearling aggregate on extra point runs.

On defense, tackle Dickie Irons and linebackers Manny Pineda and Humberto Hernandez glistered for Big Spring.

Odessa Bowie Racks Mavs

Odessa Bowie blitzed a listless Big Spring Goliad 9th grade football, 38-14, here Saturday afternoon.

The game proved disastrous for the Mavericks in more ways than one.

Bob Moore, 150-pound right end, had a leg bone knocked out of place and was lost to the team for the year. He was hospitalized.

Big Spring netted 66 yards rushing to 190 for Bowie, completed two passes for 55 yards to 15 yards in aerial gains for the Odessans and made five first downs to 15 for the winners.

Jimmy Madry caught a pass from Jimmy Tucker for one Big Spring TD. Dean Lee got the other on an 85-yard kickoff return in the last half.

Dexter Pace accounted for two Big Spring points when he took a pass on the extra point try from Tucker.

J. Jernigan scored four touchdowns and two points on extra points for Odessa James Thacker got the other TD while Thacker and Ike Nail each counted extra points.

Richard Bain and Ray Bluhm looked good defensively for Goliad while Ben Pitzer turned in several sizeable runs early in the game.

The Mavericks play South Abilene there at 2 p.m. Thursday.

Ally's Horse Wins

KEMPTON PARK, England (AP)—Prince Aly Khan's Saint respin III shot to the front 100 yards from the finish Saturday to win the 6-furlong Imperial Produce Stakes — Britain's richest horse race for 2-year-olds. Saint Crespin III landed the first prize of 7,944 pounds ($22,243) in 1:16.

Wellman Defeats Ackerly Eagles By 32-8 Score

ACKERLY (SC)—Ackerly's Eagles found the going plenty rugged Friday night when they invited Wellman to an eight-man football game, and found out too late, at that, in a 32-8 loss.

The Eagles managed to push across a touchdown in the fourth quarter to evade a shutout, Keith Rudeseal doing the honors. Rudeseal swung out and grabbed a Royale Lewis pass a quickie toss, to score their only TD. Buster Grigg hauled in the extra points.

Ackerly appeared to be doing well with their passing attack, hitting three receivers for 60 yards, but Wellman was connecting with five boys for 110 paces.

Ackerly usually outgained the visitors in first downs, 7-6, but the Wildcats ground out 194 yards to the Eagles' 182. The Flock was playing without the services of ace Bryan Adams, who suffered a dislocated shoulder in a previous game with Forsan. To add to that dismal luck, senior back Benny Kunkel hurt his knee and was out for the night.

A scorer for Wellman was Jimmy Garza, who notched touchdowns in his belt on runs of 20 and 65 yards, the latter being the longest single advance of the night.

Don Pinson tallied three times on jaunts of 45, 12 and 6 yards.

The Eagle line was bolstered by Buster Grigg, a 153-pound senior end who is an outstanding pass receiver and defensive standout.

Next Friday will bring forth a challenge from Sterling City at Ackerly.

Freddy Park of Forsan (with ball) heads downfield for a sizeable gain as Stanley Willis (32) seeks to block out Ray Peacock of Knott in the above picture, snapped during the Buff-Hill Billie eight-man game played at Forsan Friday night. Forsan won the game to remain undefeated.

Forsan Bisons Prevail Over Doughty Billies

until half gave Forsan a last chance, but Bardwell was dropped before he had taken three steps.

In the idle third period, Williams, pulled in a knee-high deflected Forsan pass and ran his interception to the opposition's 35. The Buffs held, and totes by Howard, Parks and White advanced the home club inside Knott 10. With only a slight breeze facing them, Forsan prepared for a field goal attempt.

The ball was snapped back. Bardwell poised, then booted. His aim was perhaps an inch off, and the ball rebounded off the goal post for no score.

Late that quarter Knott etched a tally, mainly on the efforts of Williams who broke free for a 55-yard dash through the line inside the end zone. Ray failed in his extra point plunge, but Knott was in the game, 16-6.

Inflamed, the Buffs countered. White legged the ball around right end for 25 yards after a Parks' kickoff return, and scored. A momentous block by Sammy Barnett freed him on his way. The score stood 24-6 after Howard added the PAT.

Forsan counted again in the last minutes, with Dewey Howard giving across and skidding into the end zone from three yards out to make it, 30-6.

Defensively, it was Raymond Martin and Sken for Forsan, who had 16 tackles between them. Nichols, McPhaul and Williams gave Knott ground-holding stamina.

Entrance Exams Cager's Grades In Top Group

If Tom Garrison, 6-foot-8 inch freshman at Howard County Junior College, can play as well as he can think, the Jayhawk basketball team will get a lot of mileage out of him before he's finished here.

Garrison, who hails from Tullia, finished in the 99 percentile in his college entrance exams here last week. In other words, only one of every 100 students who took similar exams throughout the nation finished with a higher grade than he did.

Garrison, who weighs only 160 pounds, also finished in the 94 percentile in Co-Operative English exams on the college freshman normal. Tom plans to study Chemical Engineering in college.

At the AA high school, Garrison was an all-district performer his senior year. His only sport was basketball and he won two letters in that endeavor at Tullia.

Scholastically, Garrison had a four-year grade average in high school of 94. Only two pupils in his class, both of whom were boys, did better. They were Grant Caruth, the valedictorian, and Harold Duke, salutatorian.

Gus Hernandez skirted end for 30 yards and a touchdown late in the fourth quarter to give Bauer a 14-6 victory over Cedar Crest here Saturday.

Cedar Crest scored in the first quarter to match a 20-yard touchdown sprint up the middle by Jose Juarez. The battle see-sawed until Hernandez got loose. He also ran across the extra points. Saracho looked to advantage for the winners on both offense and defense.

Eugene Bailey ran for Cedar Crest's only score in the first period, maneuvering 20 yards to pay dirt.

In other games, Boydston took up where it left off last year, drubbing Airport, 12-8; Park Hill handed Washington Goliad a surprise package, winning, 8-0; and Washington Place played an 8-8 deadlock with College Heights.

Howard Bain scored both touchdowns for Boydston, going 30 and 15 yards for the tallies, Kent

HOYT WILHELM No-Hits Yanks

Wilhelm Hurls No-Hit Game

BALTIMORE (AP)—The American League champion New York Yankees went without a hit or run Saturday against the knuckle balls tossed by 35-year-old Hoyt Wilhelm of the Baltimore Orioles, who won 1-0 on a homer by catcher Gus Triandos.

Only two Yankees reached base, both on walks, as they swung futilely at Wilhelm's dancing pitches in a drizzle of rain. Eight times, Yankees went down on strikes.

The homer in the seventh inning by Triandos was his 30th of the season. He is tied with Yogi Berra of the Yankees for hitting the most in one year by a catcher.

Wilhelm's no-hit, no-run performance was the second in the major leagues this year. Jim Bunning of Detroit did it on July 29 beating Boston, 3-0.

Don Larsen, pitcher of a perfect World Series game in 1956, started for the Yankees and for six innings he was almost as invincible as Wilhelm.

A bunt single in the first inning by Bob Boyd was the only Oriole hit off Larsen. Two other Orioles reached base on a walk and an error by Bill Skowron.

Bobby Shantz went to the mound for the Yankees and Triandos, a former Yankee, sent his fourth pitch sailing over the 410-foot sign on the center field fence.

That was all Wilhelm needed. Bobby Richardson worked him for the first walk in the third inning only to be thrown out trying to steal second. Jerry Lumpe got to first the same way in the next inning and became the only Yankee batter to see second when TCU three times tried kicks on conversions, succeeding twice. The Frogs tried three passes, going for two pointers and completed two.

Kansas met the TCU attack with vim in the first few minutes before the Texans broke away for the first touchdown.

From then on the powerful TCU line steadily wore down the Jayhawkers. At times the Horned Frog forwards simply swept the Kansas line aside, making gaps big enough for the proverbial truck. Priddy resembled the truck, too, as he rumbled through the holes.

Texas Christian took to the air rarely in the first half, and then its shots were right on the target. KU defenders generally were close but the strikes were too good. Kansas didn't have much chance to show Mitchell's offensive patterns. The only runs of 10 yards or more were on quarterback option runs by Bob Marshall and Bill Crank.

Highlights Of Year Will Be Outlined At Meeting Monday

By BOBBY HORTON
Greetings to a new fluttering of Jayhawks and to all the old faithful readers. The new college session has brought forth a new byline for this column. Thanks to Kathy McRee for doing such a fine job; now if we can present you, the serious reader and the browser, with half the portrayal of college colors as she did, the effort will be considered a success.

Dr. W. A. Hunt, college president, reported that by Friday 607 accredited students had registered for the fall semester. Dr. Hunt added that the total of all students, part-time and full time, accredited and non-accredited, would soon reach over 900. Last year at deadline (Sept. 30) 574 had registered for a new high.

he predicted that "this will be the last year we will be able to take all students who apply at the college".

Thursday night a weiner roast and get acquainted party hosted the new and cautious and the old and bold of the HCJC ranks. After the hot dogs and chili and beans and mustard stains had been wiped away, the large turnout invaded the "old" sub for a dance.

Another dance was slated for Friday night following the Steer football game. Various other events are on tap for collegians who may have just a slight twinge of homesickness or away-from-girlfriend sickness. They'll be announced here soon as they shape up.

Next week, Dean of Men George

McAlister and Dean of Women Arah Phillips will meet with the boys and girls, respectively, in the auditorium to give the highlights on the college front. That's scheduled for Monday morning, and on Wednesday during the activity period beginning at 9:45, the opening assembly will be held for the student body.

The biggest drawing card for the week, however, will likely be the assembly for the nomination of student council representatives and class officers. Most school clubs and organizations should have begun to function by that time. If that's the case, we'll soon be bringing you news from the Lass-O, Jayhawk Aggie, Circle K and Rodeo clubs as such turns up.

Doors to the gymnasium were thrown open Thursday for prospective and returning members of the Jayhawk basketball crew. Coach Harold Davis' 25-plus turnout had the court for only about an hour of practice on their own, but several familiar faces were out for the strictly-uncoached session. Bobbing here and there and weaving in and out the big men's legs were guards Benny Carver, Jesse McElreath, Ray Clay, Doug Burrage and yours truly, while other returnees above six-feet ambling around were Tommy Zinn, Gilbert Bell, Dale Woodruff, Frank Hardesty, to mention only a few.

RUNNELS REPORT

Band To Play On Kids' Day Program

By DIANE BAKER
Hi folks! School has started with a bang and everything is running smoothly. We have much more room because we do not have so many students as last year. At the present time we have about 625 enrolled as compared with last year's 1,300. Still, there are many new faces on the campus and in the halls.

Friday morning, Jeanette Lott, a ninth grader, was elected Kids' Day Queen. She will get to choose her escort.

The Runnels Junior High Band, directed by Tommy Fry, will play for the Kids' day Program on Saturday. The school chorus, directed by Mrs. Forrest Gambill, will also sing three selections. Girls in the choir will wear formal and the boys will wear white coats and red trousers.

Petitions have been handed in for the seventh, eighth and ninth grade class officers, and for student council representatives from the seventh grade. These nominations are being checked by the Student Council for scholastic records, leadership, citizenship and other qualities. The election is scheduled for Monday.

So far the football teams have a good record. The Ninth graders defeated Midland last Saturday, 7-2, then lost to Andrews Thursday 18-0. The eighth grade lost its first game to Lamesa 16-6 but won over Midland Thursday, 50-0. For the pep rally Thursday, the gym was decorated with red and white crepe paper with a red and white "R" and a "Y" for Yearlings. After cheerleaders directed several yells, Jack Irons, Gene Hartin, Joe Don Musgrove and

High School Opens With 'Howdy Week'

By PAT ROGERS

B.S.H.S.'ers are back into the swing of classes and homework. Most of them feel as if they only had a week's vacation instead of three months.

The new seniors seem to be walking the halls in a daze. They are definitely outnumbered, besides it was only yesterday when they were sophomores and juniors dreaming about their senior year.

School got into full swing with Howdy Week. The student council issued name tags to help students get acquainted.

The D. E. (Distributive Education) Club elected its officers and they are Jo Ann Lane, president; Jeanette Culwell, vice president; Betsy Pool, secretary; Bessie Smith, treasurer; Judy Reynolds, sergeant at arms; Carolyn Duckett, reporter. The D. E. Club will meet Tuesday, Sept. 30, in the Ag Building with Mr. Frank Farar, their teacher and sponsor.

B.S.H.S. has three Bible Clubs which are composed of the three Bible classes. Judy Shields, Sue Hodnett, and Jerry Brooks are the presidents; James Stephens, Rexine Barber, Mary Oliphant, vice presidents; Sharon Creighton, Sandy Hale, Judy Pearce, secretaries; Judy Carson, Shirley Patterson, Barbara Dunnam, treasurers; Fan Barber, Gretchen Briden, social chairmen; and Shirley Burns, Penny Newsome, Thomas Williams, reporters.

The shorthand girls are learning all sorts of "chicken scratchings." Judi Shields, president; Rosemary Donica, vice president; and Dee Maberry, secretary-treasurer, were elected as officers for the club.

The journalism department is planning a big "to-do" for next Saturday. The El Rodeo and Corral staffs will journey to Lubbock for a convention, topped with a football game between Texas Tech and West Texas State. They will leave Saturday morning and return that night.

The Band and Pep Squad practiced all week for the big game between the Ysleta Indians and Steers here last Friday night. They did a fine job, some think but school spirit should be higher.

The National Honor Society met Thursday night with Eddie Kinney, president, presiding. Succeeding meetings will be held on the first and third Thursday of each are just organizing and they have not elected officers yet.

We have had several football games already, and before each one was highlighted by an enthusiastic pep talk by Coach Dan Lewis, which everyone will agree really "set the ball rolling" for the best rally so far.

month from 7:30 to 8:30. Discussed were the possibilities of new members, money making projects, and services to the school. To be a member of the Honor Society, a student's grades must be an average of 90 or above. The present club consists of 20 seniors. Politics will invade B.S.H.S. with class officer elections Monday.

Students will decide between the following candidates: Seniors—Benny McCrary, Franklin Williamson for president; Sharon Creighton, Darlene Williams for vice president; Punky Boyd, Katie Thomas for secretary. Juniors — Gordon Dickenson, Bill Engle, Jeanne Hammon for president; Jane Cowper, Donny Everett, Linda Lewis, Dee Ann Sweeney for vice president; Sherry Lurting, Kay McGibbon, Teresa Smith for secretary. Sophomores — Jerry Dunlap, Tommy Whately for president; Jacquelyn Clark, Jane Guin for vice president; Wanda Boatler, Mary Locke Crosland, and Cleo Thomas for secretary.

KBST RADIO

Throughout its 22-year history, KBST has followed a program philosophy of providing the best possible programs for ALL segments of the radio audience. We call this Full-Service Broadcasting because it is not limited to "popular" music and five-minute newscasts.

We provide our listeners with news — in depth — reported by reputable, experienced news reporters from all over the globe. We provide no less than seven local newscasts each weekday. We provide our listeners with music — but not just one kind of music. KBST offers country music, "popular" music, classical music, and many variations of the three.

This Full-Service Programming gives out listeners discussion programs, drama, comedy, variety programs. It means church services, educational programs — programs that definitely keep us out of the "rut."

Through the years, audience research surveys have shown us that this is the type programming most listeners in the Big Spring area prefer.

Our programs are not directed to just one group, one age, one segment of the community, but to ALL of them. The response that comes in, from phone calls and notes of appreciation, demonstrate that more people — the people advertisers are interested in — want variety in their radio programming.

For fine expressions of confidence and for the support of you our sponsors, we are deeply grateful and sincerely humble. We pledge a continuation of Full-Service programming so that the widest possible audience will be attracted, and served.

The BIG SPRING HERALD

BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, SEPT. 21, 1958, SEC. C

PLACING OF POSTERS where they will be seen is a problem of the board of the Big Spring Concert Association. Discussing the matter (left to right) are Dr. P. W. Malone, vice president and program chairman, Jack Hendrix, and Maj. Vincent Brophy, president of the group. The San Antonio Symphony, scheduled for a return appearance, will be presented on Oct. 23; the Diary of Anne Frank will be the second attraction and is slated for Dec. 3. Also here for the second time will be the Chicago Opera Ballet with Marjorie Tallchief and her husband, George Skibine; they will be seen on Jan. 22. On Feb. 18, Dylan Todd, ballad singer, will entertain members of the association.

NOT BRIDGE HANDS, but tickets for the concert attractions are displayed above by Mrs. Milton Talbot, (left) and Mrs. Ike Robb. Price of the season tickets is $7.50 for adults and $3.50 for students. During the membership drive, which begins Thursday, the two will have charge of ticket booths in the State National and First National Banks. When the sale of season tickets ends on Oct. 9, no more tickets will be available, since admissions to individual presentations will not be sold. (Photos by Keith McMillin).

Concert Season Opens Soon

Offering what its board members believe is the strongest series yet, the Big Spring Concert Association launches its membership campaign Tuesday.

Booked are the famous San Antonio Symphony, under the baton of Victor Alessandri; the Pulitzer Prize winning play, "The Diary of Anne Frank," which stars Francis Lederer; Ruth Page's celebrated Chicago Civic Opera ballet with Marjorie Tallchief and George Skibine; and the sparkling young ballad singer, Dylan Todd.

"This is a bold undertaking to bring Big Spring and area audiences the very best in entertainment," said Maj. Vincent Brophy, president of the association. "We are undertaking this without an increase in the memberships ($7.50 adult, $3.50 student) with a firm faith that we virtually sell out the auditorium space."

REPEAT ATTRACTIONS
Two of the offerings—the San Antonio Symphony and the Chicago Civic Opera Ballet—are being brought back under popular demand. Many accounted the symphony the equal of the Dallas symphony, which has made two appearances here, and in some respect the program seemed to possess more animation.

As for the ballet, Miss Tallchief, a sister of the celebrated Maria Tallchief and a prima ballerina in her own right, was received with great enthusiasm. Her husband, George Skibine, prevented from appearing due to an injury two years ago, will be cast opposite her in leading roles.

Critics universally have thrown restraint to the winds in evaluating "The Diary of Anne Frank," the moving story of a teen-age Jewish girl trapped in a "secret annex" in Amsterdam to avoid the inevitable Gestapo. Frances Goodrich and Albert Hackett spent two years shaping up this play from the book containing Anne's simple diary, and Kermit Bloomgarden spent another year in producing it.

Francis Lederer, famed Austrian actor who has won plaudits in Europe, as well as in the American theatre, films and television, has the lead role of Mr. Otto Frank, Anne's father. Others in the Broadway cast include Lilia Skala, highly regarded Viennese actress, as Mrs. Frank; Gilbert

Green as Mr. Van Daan; Nan McFarland as Mrs. Van Daan; Paule Hahn as Anne; and several others, such as Otto Hulett, Loney Lewis, Steve Press, Margot Welch and Carol Guilford.

TEXAS DIRECTOR

There may be larger symphony orchestras than San Antonio's with its some four-score players, but there are few more outstanding, according to music experts. Alessandri, who is Texas-born and educated, has studied under leading authorities in this country and abroad and was selected in 1956 as the person who has done the most for American music. When he was 22 years of age, Oklahoma City tapped him out as its conductor, and for 13 years, until he succeeded the late Max Reiter at San Antonio, he brought the Oklahoma orchestra to wide acceptance.

Todd is a genuine Kentucky mountain personality, but he is no hill billy. Perhaps the music of his native hills incalculable latent yearning for the rich ballads of his people, but he trained as an architectural engineer after serving a hitch in the Marine Corps. Returning to the Cincinnati Conservatory, he gained technical training and then forged it for several years by working his way across the country with his guitar and rich voice. Finally, he got his break and has steadily gained stature as a rising concert figure. Surprisingly to some, he has proved one of the most popular attractions of the season's series in many places.

MEMBERSHIP BASIS

Board members are taking the lead in membership sales, pointing out once again that there are no admissions sold for single performances only. The association functions solely on a membership basis.

Able to assist in obtaining memberships are Vincent Brophy, Mrs. W. A. Hunt, Mrs. Arch Carson, Mrs. K. H. McGibbon, Mrs. Floyd Parsons, Mrs. Clyde Angel, Mrs. Floyd Mays, Mrs. Ike Robb, Mrs. Milton Talbot, Jack Hendrix, Dr. P. W. Malone, George Oldham, Mrs. Vic Alexander, Mrs. Harold Talbot, Mrs. Truman Jones, Mrs. Nell Frazier, Mrs. Lee Rogers, Mrs. Robert Stripling, and Joe Pickle.

SECOND IN THE SERIES of concert presentations will be The Diary of Anne Frank, which Mrs. K. H. McGibbon, at left in picture above, and Mrs. Lee O. Rogers are planning to help advertise. They are members of the concert association board, the members of which have planned a season of great variety in the attractions scheduled. Four numbers are included in the season tickets, with no admissions sold for individual performances.

THE ARRIVAL OF PUBLICITY MATERIAL is always an interesting time for members of the board of the Big Spring Concert Association because they get to see the pictures and read the information about the various numbers to be presented. In the picture at left, Mrs. Floyd Parsons and Mrs. Harold Talbot prepare to browse through some of the folders just unpacked by Mrs. Vic Alexander, secretary-treasurer of the organization. Scheduled to begin Thursday, the membership drive will end October 9.

MUSIC, MUSIC, MUSIC may be the preference of the group of Big Spring Concert Association board members in the picture above, who are looking over some of the artists to be presented this season by the association. Leading the presentations will be the San Antonio Symphony on Oct. 23, shown in the group picture in front of Mrs. Clyde Angel, center. Mrs. Arch Carson, at left, invites attention to the photograph of the ballad-singer, Dylan Todd, who will be the final artist; he is slated to appear Feb. 18. Mrs. Robert Stripling, seated at right, listens as Mrs. Carson discusses his program.

It is well to plan your garden in advance, they said, first making a list of those plants you prefer and plotting their location. An attractive blend of colors is the goal.

Mrs. E. B. Patterson, Mrs. Wesley Deats and Mrs. C. J. Stocks were introduced as new members. Sixteen others answered roll call with their favorite annual.

The Key To Kansas City

One of the most prized possessions of S/Sgt. William E. Hickinbotham is the key to the famous city, presented him for his work with an editorial crusader show on a Kansas City television station. Mrs. Hickinbotham, Mike and Kelley beam their approval. Above their heads hangs a framed brass record which he received from the Armed Forces Radio and Television Service, Los Angeles.

Coincidence Plays Great Part In Lives Of Newcomer Family

Danne Fortune has her own modish operanti, and its secrets she refuses to bare. But she seems to have been working well with S.Sgt. and Mrs. William E. Hickinbotham, 1300 Blackmon, who moved here last month. Now in the USAF after 11 years in the Army, he is assigned to the Office of Information Services at Webb AFB.

When Bill Hickinbotham first met Betty Mische a graduate of the University of Missouri, the meeting happened not on their native soil but in Erding, Germany. She was working with the USAF as a recreational director of service clubs.

It was July, 1953, and he was with the American Forces network as an announcer, writer, director, producer. A call came to his station in Munich asking for a master of ceremonies for a servicemen's show. Ironically, the voice at the other end of the line belonged to a girl he dated back in Ohio. Later she introduced him to her good friend, Betty.

1954 MARRIAGE
In 1954, the couple was back in the states visiting her parents in Missouri. They were married in Las Vegas and he was assigned to the world headquarters for

Vacations, Guests Make Forsan News
FORSAN—Mr. and Mrs. John B. Anderson are on a vacation with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hayhurst and Van, in Fort Worth. They will also visit in Searcy, Hot Springs and Evening Shade, Ark.

Cecil Klahr of Texon has been here visiting his father, F. J. Klahr, and Jeannie.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Park have been in San Angelo with her mother, Mrs. J. J. Watkins. They have had as guests Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Park and family from Hobbs, N. M., and their son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Park and Bruce, Fort Worth.

Visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Calley and son were her sister, Mrs. Weldon Ford and daughter, of Abilene.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gressett are in Fort Hood this weekend visiting their son, Kenneth, who is stationed there.

Pete Green has been dismissed from Cowper Hospital.

Mrs. Dennis Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Wilson, has been released fro. Big Spring Hospital and is at her home in Tex Harvey.

Armed Forces Radio and Television Service in Los Angeles. From that center, programs were beamed 13 hours a day to the Far East, Alaska, New Guinea, the Caribbean area. Hickinbotham acquired additional radio experience by working nights for a commercial station, much as he is doing here at station KBYG as "Bill Kelly."

He returned to Munich with the American Forces network 18 months later. Still in the Army, which he had first entered in 1946 as a 15-year-old lad and which he had served in Japan and Korea, he had been actively interested in flying since 1951. He saw the need of making a film which would give the layman an inside look at flying and air training. In developing this show, the newcomer worked closely with the USAF and, for his effort with the production, received a plaque bearing the inscription "Honorary Instructor of the Month, for outstanding achievement in promoting flying interest. Furstenfeldbruck Air Base."

When the Hickinbothams returned to the states in May, 1956, there was Kelley, who is soon to be two years old, in addition to California-born Mike, who was born two Octobers ago.

Out of the service, Hickinbotham took the regional news editor's desk with a television station in Great Bend, Kansas.

But 11 years of Uncle Sam's service had forged more of a tie than he had realized and his admiration for the USAF, plus his wife's own great pride in her branch of service, worked their magic. He made up his mind to re-enlist, this time in the Air Force.

He went to Kansas City to sign up, pausing only to stop at Station KMBC for a visit. Irony stepped in again. His application, filed for some time, had been pulled and the executives were on the verge of dialing him a job offer when he walked in. He became their reporter and news editor and, in addition, had a weekly television show. Of the editorial crusader variety, it featured searching interviews by Hickinbotham. He covered the police beat also, and for his work, the chief of police cited him for distinguished service and extended him the offer of a lifetime job in that department. The crowning award was a coveted key to Kansas City.

LIKE BIG SPRING
Uncle Sam's voice would not be squeaked, and last July 18 Hickinbotham did join the USAF. Here only a month, he already declares that Big Spring, for her friendliness, now rivals Munich as his choice of a place to settle.

A writer, he has been working on a novel for five years. He and Mrs. Hickinbotham have had interesting experiences in their travels to furnish a fertile backlog of ideas. There was, for instance, a camping trip into France, Italy and Austria. And a tour line into East Germany brought visits to Potsdam and East Berlin.

Momentarily he is expecting to view again the television story he did on the SAGE and its role in the national defense.

Winterrows' Guests

MRS. ROBERT VIRGIL COBB

Nancy Newsom Becomes Bride Of Robert Cobb In Home Rite

Double ring wedding vows were exchanged Friday evening between Nancy Newsom and Robert Virgil Cobb as the wedding party stood in the midst of ferns interspersed with white chrysanthemums and carnations.

The ceremony was read by the Rev. Cecil Rhodes, pastor of the Westside Baptist Church, in the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. R. L. Newsom, 1600 Donley. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Dalphine Swartz of Phoenix, Ariz. Always and Only You were played by Mrs. Byron Smith preceding the nuptials, and she also played the wedding marches.

Stuart-Koen Wedding Takes Place Saturday

LAMESA—A double ring ceremony, read Saturday evening at eight o'clock in the First Baptist Church, united in marriage Billie Zan Koen and Edward E. Stuart.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Veina Koen of Lamesa and Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Stuart of San Angelo.

The Rev. Milo B. Aruckle, pastor of the church, read the ceremony as the couple stood before a bridal archway entwined with greenery and flanked by baskets of bronze and yellow mums and branched candelabra.

As the guests assembled, Mrs. W. J. Beckham presented a prelude of wedding selections. She also accompanied the soloist, Early Pellier.

Lighting the tapers were Nathana Koen, Midland, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Jacqueline Subt of Lamesa.

The bride was given in marriage by Luther Standefer. She wore a traditional wedding gown of white bridal satin fashioned with a wide neckline appliqued with Chantilly lace and seed pearls. From the fitted bodice which featured long tapering sleeves, extended a full skirt with inverted pleats at the a veil of silk illusion. She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses.

Janice Koen of Midland was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Naomi Koen, sister of the bride, and Mrs. W. M. Cromer of Midland.

They wore identical gowns of pale yellow polished cotton, featuring Sabrina necklines. From the fitted bodices extended waltz length skirts which swept into fullness in the back with inverted pleats. They carried bouquets of yellow and bronze mums.

Bobby Joe Stuart, Big Spring, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man. Serving as ushers were Willis Pippin of San Angelo; W. M. Cromer, Lloyd Mac Donald and L. B. Sinclair Jr. of Midland.

Following the exchange of vows a reception was held in the parlor of the church. The couple was assisted in receiving the guests by their parents and the feminine attendants.

Included in the houseparty were Mrs. L. B. Sinclair of Midland; Mrs. Bobby Joe Stuart of Big Spring; Mrs. M. C. Lindsey, Mrs. L. B. Vaughn, Mrs. Luther Standefer, Mrs. Owen C. Taylor, Mrs. Doyle Wilson, Mrs. Charrel Jobe, Mrs. J. B. Henley and Sarah Lou Henley.

For traveling the bride chose a moss green sheath dress with a matching jacket. Her accessories were brown.

Mrs. Stuart is a graduate of Lamesa High School and attended Hardin-Simmons University and the Art Institute of Pittsburgh. She is employed as an artist with the Midland Reporter-Telegram.

Her husband was graduated from Miles High School and Texas Tech. He is a note taker at the First National Bank in Midland.

Following a wedding trip they will be at home at 325 W. Montgomery in Midland.

Blue and white roses made a hand for the bride veil which extended below the shoulders. In a cascade bouquet were an orchid and Frenched carnations carried on a white Bible.

Following tradition, the bride had borrowed a blue garter from her sister-in-law, Mrs. Jim Newsom; she carried the white Bible as something old, and her wedding ensemble was new.

Pennie Newsom, sister of the bride, attended as maid of honor. Her full-skirted dress was of pink polished cotton, with a high neck going into a V in the back; her headpiece was a small bandeau of lace in pink and white. Her corsage was of pink carnations, and she chose white accessories.

Bob Newsom, brother of the bride, was best man. Following the wedding rites, refreshments were served from a table laid in white lace over white linen, and decorated with a centerpiece of pink carnations.

Guests were registered by Mrs. Jim Newsom.

When the couple left for a trip to El Paso, the bride wore a straight tailored frock of brown and tangerine tweed. With it she used brown accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Newsom will make a home at 2077 Johnson when they return from the trip.

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School and is employed by the local Chamber of Commerce.

Also a BSHS graduate, the bridegroom attended Howard County Junior College and A&I College, Kingsville. He is now employed by Sherwin-Williams Co. as credit manager.

Attending from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Patterson of Midland and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Cretel of Brownfield.

REHEARSAL DINNER
Mr. and Mrs. Bill Adams were hosts for a rehearsal dinner using a pink and white color scheme as selected by the bride. About 30 attended the affair.

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

I see by the papers the cost of living has gone down a certain part of one per cent. At our house, we have already planned to live off the land... as long as that land is producing greens, radishes, okra and perhaps some fall beans. This sounds so wonderful until we see the enormous jackrabbits leisurely nibbling at our tender crop. If we don't get to enjoy the fruits of our labors, we will have the best fed rabbits—which offers little comfort.

This is a most exasperating time of the year for sufferers of hay fever and other distal allergies caused from the various pollens. While it doesn't lessen the discomfort for those fairly new to this part of the United States, I would like to say that you are not alone in your misery. Hundreds of natives go about with swollen eyes and red noses this season every year.

MRS. WAYNE E. KANOUSE who is from Berwick, Penn., is looking forward to October when Lt. Kanouse will have a months leave and they plan to go back to Pennsylvania. She has been plagued with allergies since the arrival of little Terrell Wayne who will be three months old when his grandparents see him for the first time.

MRS. BEULAH ADAMS plans to leave for her home in Poolville Monday after visiting a week with her daughter, Mrs. Virgil C. Russell, and Mr. Russell.

MR. AND MRS. H. M. HAYGOOD will return today from Andrews where they took Mrs. Haygood's mother, Mrs. O. L. Berry, who has been with them for the past two weeks. Saturday the family visited the Haygood's daughter.

Whipped Butter Is Convenient Product

Whipped butter is one of the newer additions to the long line of convenience foods developed for the homemaker. It is pure, fresh churned butter into which a carefully controlled amount of air is whipped. This gives it more spreadable consistency. It is soft and pliable and ready for use even when first removed from the refrigerator. Because of its easy spreading characteristics, whipped butter is ideal for use in sandwich making, on toast, pancakes or waffles and for buttering hot vegetables.

Save The Brush

Rubber base paint doesn't harden nearly as quickly as the base of a wet paint brush as it does on a dry one. So before starting a paint job with rubber base paint, dip your brush in water and squeeze. You will find washing the brush much easier after the painting is over.

Tips On How To Topple Tuberculosis

Louise Brown, Austin, left, field consultant for the Texas Tuberculosis Assn., summarizes the story of how to get the ammunition — dollars — for the war against tuberculosis. At right, little Robbie Ann Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Zack Gray, 1317 Tucson, chalks up the formula, Buy and Use Christmas Seals. While most places were buying more seals, Howard counties dropped from $4,462 in 1955 to $2,914 last year. Meeting with Miss Brown were Mrs. Fred Lutting, Mrs. Mary Vasquez, Mrs. George Peacock and Mrs. Odie Wilson, who will lead the seal campaign starting Nov. 14.

Schools Start Year Ahead By $250,000

The Big Spring Independent School District underestimated its income and overestimated expenditures for the past fiscal year, closing out the 1957-58 budget with a quarter of a million dollars it hadn't expected to have.

The year's receipts were $22,187 more than estimated. Expenditures were $176,473.56 under the amounts budgeted.

Most of the saving was accounted for in capital outlays which were $212,768.75 less than had been expected. And most of the capital funds savings resulted from a Goliad Junior High construction contract which was well under the amount that had been designated.

Total revenues for the year was $2,067,253.89. Budget estimate at the beginning of the year Sept. 1, 1957, had been $1,985,066.

Disbursements totaled $2,506,832.80. Budgeted were expenditures totaling $2,683,306.36.

The excess of expenditures over revenues was $439,578.91, but some of the construction funds used during the past year were the proceeds of bond issue marketed the previous fiscal year. Therefore, bank balances declined by $439,578.91 during the year to account for the difference.

The four principal sources of revenue, and amounts, were:

- State funds — $819,656.70 ($74,477.30 less than anticipated).
- Local funds — $707,099.44 ($85,431.44 more than expected).
- Federal funds — $90,588.92 ($21,855.92 more than anticipated).
- Bond funds — $408,500 ($9,500 more than expected).

Expenditures, by major category, included:

- Administration and business — $99,472.32 ($14,990.32 over budget estimate).
- Instruction (teacher salaries, supplies, etc.) — $1,156,323.71 ($13,672.29 under estimate).
- Other school services (special education, transportation, cafeterias, athletics) — $106,047.93 ($29,532.93 in excess of budgeted sums).
- Operation of plant — $119,877.82 ($877.82 over estimate).
- Maintenance of plant — $43,594.74 ($1,905.26 under estimate).
- Capital outlay — $816,030.61 ($1,028,799.36 under sums budgeted).
- Debt service — $152,334.82 ($6,320.82 over budget).

All the schools bank balances declined during the year. The general fund balance fell from $114,364.95 to $50,304.31, a drop of $64,060.64. Interest and sinking fund sunk from $45,848 to $39,518.27, a decrease of $6,330.49. The building fund went from $583,921.36 to $214,733.58, a decline of $369,187.78.

Total cash in the three funds at the beginning of the current year was $304,556.16, as compared to $744,135.07 a year earlier.

Havens Art On Display

Paintings of Mrs. Marjorie Havens, Big Spring, are on display at Howard County Junior College as the opening show in the library. Art displays have been booked through virtually all of the school year, said Paul Vagt, librarian. He urged the public to inspect these works at any time.

Mrs. Havens, an employee of the telephone company, paints largely for pleasure and has won several awards. All of the creations on display have been placed in one or more art shows. Some of her own favorites she did not hang because they had not been ranked in shows.

The collection of some 15 paintings includes about a dozen in oils, the remainder in pastels. They will be on display until mid-October. Included are three still-life specimens, "Fish Dinner," "Fruit Basket," and "Mexican Dinner." She also has a collection of animal pictures including horses, a Dachshund, and French poodles.

There is an assortment of subjects such as Judge Roy Bean's court, a farm scene, Cosden's refinery, a rooster fight, etc.

Equalization Boards Meet Again Tuesday

Concluding round of the pro-longed equalization board hearings is still scheduled for Tuesday.

On that date, it is explained, final decisions will be made on property on which no agreement was reached prior to Sept. 12—adjournment of the regular city-county-school board sessions.

Some of this property is being rechecked by the tax engineers. On others, certain disagreements are still being considered. Only these cases are scheduled to come before the board for settlement.

Meantime, the staff workers of Pritchard & Abbott, tax engineers who made the county-wide survey of valuations for tax purposes for the three governmental agencies, are replacing files and records and preparing new cards on property where adjustments in the original valuations were made.

The revised files will subsequently be turned over to the tax agencies of the county, school and city.

Scout Unit Names Leaders At Lamesa

LAMESA — Ray Simpson has been named senior patrol leader of Boy Scout Troop 25 of Lamesa. Simpson replaces Don Ray Dudley who had served the troop for the past two years.

Other officers named were Kenny Paxton, troop scribe, and patrol leaders are Wayne Robertson, Wayne Luckemeyer, Thomas Zachary and Jerry Baylor. The troop will celebrate its 10th birthday in October with a court of honor and family night. This troop is sponsored by the local DAV.

Ex Post Facto

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — Policeman Arch Albertson said a woman overran a stop signal at a school crossing, then hastily backed up when she saw him approach. "There," she told Albertson. "You can't give me a ticket now. I've stopped." But Albertson could give her a ticket—and did.

'Closing Costs' Refers To Variety Of Expenses

A bundle of expenses nearly every home buyer comes up against often leaves him wondering what his money went for and just what he's getting for it.

The extra expenditures, sometimes amounting to several hundred dollars, are lumped together in what the buyer is told are "closing costs."

He may or may not understand that, collectively, his closing cost ante pays such things as lawyer fees, property appraisal charges, insurance premiums, recording fees, taxes, possibly the cost of a written report on his credit standing, and the charge the loan company is assessing for lending him the money with which to purchase that home.

Usually, the home buyer thinks of his loan closing costs as the amount it is costing him to borrow the purchase money.

Actually, the buyer probably could count on spending everything except the loan fee even if he paid cash for the house.

The most optional cost probably would be the appraisal fee, but the buyer not trained in the evaluation of real estate might make money by paying someone a small sum to make an appraisal.

For an enumeration of the various items collectively referred to as loan closing costs, The Herald called on Robert Stripling, secretary-treasurer of the First Federal Savings & Loan Assn. here.

Here's the list of services for which charges are assessed, based on the fees which First Federal makes in processing home loans: Legal fee of $25, paid to an attorney for examining title, writing notes, etc.

Appraisal fee of $16, including $1 for photograph of property and $7.50 each for two appraisers who determine value of real estate being purchased (fees slightly higher outside city limits).

Insurance premium, one year in advance, $60 to $75 on average home.

Tax reserve fund, enough in advance to assure payment of all taxes in October, when a three per cent discount is offered. The seller usually provides enough to cover taxes for the portion of the year he has held possession of the property.

Recording fees, usually only a few dollars to cover the cost of having deed, deed of trust, and other legal documents recorded by the county clerk.

Loan fee. First Federal charges one per cent of the loan. For example, the loan fee on a $10,000 loan would be $100.

Possibly a written credit report on the borrower, not always required. Cost: $3.50.

Some companies charge more than one per cent as a loan fee, the amount going up to five per cent in some instances, particularly on 100 per cent GI loans where no down payments are required, lenders say.

In most cases, the lending agency takes care of paying the annual insurance premiums and taxes until the loan is paid off—at the borrower's expense, of course. Monthly house payments include, along with interest and principal payments, advances for tax and insurance reserve funds which the lending agency looks after.

A Bible Thought For Today

But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin. (1 John 1:7)

Please Say 'Yes'

The machinery for our annual United Fund campaign is being oiled and set in motion. Now the clerical staff is being assembled, the key personnel picked, and the whole table or organization by which the opportunity to help trickles down to each of us.

The United Fund is the one major campaign in which the entire community is drawn together for cooperative effort. So much is wrapped up in the United Fund that there can be no thought of anything except attaining goals.

Personal and corporate generosity certainly play an important role in raising money for welfare and character-building purposes. Without a people with a conscience and a willingness to share, these volunteer services so characteristic of our American way of living could not survive.

But there is a factor equally—if not more—important, and that is manpower. No matter how big-hearted a people may be, they seldom come in great enough volume to underwrite any sort of a program. Somehow, they have to be contacted and reminded of their opportunity to give, to have a share.

The only way to contact people successfully is with people.

Thus, we appeal with every bit of earnestness we know how to express that when you are asked to help in some capacity with the United Fund you will willingly and smilingly accept. This attitude can do more than any single thing toward making our campaign a prompt success.

Let's Go Mighty Slow On This

Hardly had the program of consolidation of curriculum offerings been proposed by the staff of the Texas Commission on Higher Education than cries of protest arose from all quarters of the state. None were louder than West Texas where it is proposed that Texas Tech be frozen at its present level of graduate work.

Basically the staff proposes to the commission, for consideration Oct. 13, that expansion of graduate work, particularly at the doctoral level, be confined to the University of Texas and to Texas A&M College. In most other colleges, the offering of graduate training through master of arts degrees would be frozen with the exception of specific cases where the commission recommends abandonment of graduate programs.

not a sound one, for obviously there has to be more coordination of effort at the higher graduate level to prevent costly duplication. Education at the very top is very expensive because of the tremendous investments in library, research equipment, etc.

However, we do think there needs to be a lot of mighty serious thought given to approval of a plan which would not take into consideration the vast area served by Texas Tech. West Texas had a titanic struggle to get Texas Tech established as a great regional college. Growth of the institution reflects the wisdom of the step. If Tech was important three decades ago to an area just unfolding, we would not be prepared to accept the thesis off hand that Tech should arbitrarily be cut off from expanding its services to this most rapidly developing of all Texas areas.

Court Quibbles On Former Decision

WASHINGTON—One of the reasons why there is widespread resentment nowadays over several decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States is that there are so many instances in them of plain equivocation. This was underlined when Justice Frankfurter, in the hearing last week, had a colloquy with R. C. Butler, the attorney for the Little Rock school board, on what the Court really meant four years ago in brushing aside the famous 1896 case on "separate but equal" facilities as being concerned not with education but with transportation. Here are the exact words of the Supreme Court's 1954 decision on this point:

"The doctrine of 'separate but equal' did not make its appearance in this Court until 1896 in the case of Plessy v. Ferguson, involving not education but transportation."

The average person would assume from this wording that nothing important had been said in the 1896 decision about education. Yet a reading of the opinion in that case—which was decided by a 7-1 vote, as one justice didn't participate—shows that the separate educational systems in vogue in the schools of many states at the time constituted the very basis for the ruling. The Supreme Court majority opinion in the Plessy v. Ferguson case reads in part as follows:

"The object of the (Fourteenth) Amendment was undoubtedly to enforce the absolute equality of the two races before the law, but in the nature of things it could not have been intended to abolish distinctions based upon color, or to enforce social, as distinguished from political, equality, or a commingling of the two races upon terms unsatisfactory to either."

"Laws permitting, and even requiring their separation in places where they are liable to be brought into contact do not necessarily imply the inferiority of either race to the other, and have been generally, if not universally, recognized as within the competency of the state legislatures in the exercise of their police power."

"The most common instance of this is connected with the establishment of separate schools for white and colored children, which have been held to be a valid exercise of the legislative power even by courts of states where the political rights of the colored race have been longest and most earnestly enforced."

The foregoing opinion was written about 30 years after the proclamation of the Fourteenth Amendment. The Supreme Court plainly recognized the validity of state court decisions on education and gave several citations in support of its legal position. Yet the 1954 decision of the Supreme Court and the remarks last week by Justice Frankfurter gave the impression to the American people that education was not related vitally to the 1896 opinion. Indeed, the Supreme Court in that case did not rely altogether on its own judgment. It quoted with approval from a decision of the highest court not of a Southern state but of New York State which, in upholding separate schools of equal quality of education, said with respect to social equality of the races:

"This end can neither be accomplished nor promoted by laws which conflict with the general sentiment of the community upon whom they are designed to operate. When the government, therefore, has secured to each of its citizens equal rights before the law and equal opportunities for improvement and progress, it has accomplished the end for which it is organized and performed all of the functions respecting social advantages with which it is endowed."

The present Supreme Court nevertheless in 1954 declared, in effect, that the Supreme Court in 1896 didn't understand human nature, and ruled that "whatever may have been the extent of psychological knowledge at the time of Plessy v. Ferguson," it now must be rejected as not supported by "modern authority."

Was the Supreme Court in 1954 lacking in candor when it said that the 1896 case did not involve education but transportation, and when it made no comment on the part education really played in the reasoning on which the Plessy v. Ferguson decision was based?

WHAT OTHERS SAY

The federal aid to education bill rushed through in the final hours of the session will undoubtedly rank as one of the major actions of the 85th Congress. For the measure greatly extends the area of federal participation, pressures, inducements and assistance in both public and private education.

The bill recognizes the need to stimulate and modernize educational programs in science and mathematics, guidance and modern languages. The congressional recognition of the needs is good; the manner of meeting it still questionable.

The bill provides about $300 million, for instance, for science equipment in public or private schools, on a matching basis. In other words, the states, communities and private schools are told that they cannot be trusted to provide proper science equipment with money from their own constituencies, voluntarily or by tax. Therefore, Congress has said, the federal government must take the constituents' money and redistribute it according to Washington's notions. Not only that, but the states, communities and private schools must somehow raise more money themselves in order to get their own money from Washington for science education.

There are other grants for training counselors and foreign language teachers, for college fellowships, for improved educational statistics, etc. All must be spent according to federal rules but will not require matching amounts from state or local sources. Properly administered, these funds may bring considerable improvement where there has been weakness revealed at the state and local school level.

It is probably fortunate that the federal scholarship provisions which the President and Senate wanted were stricken, because of House obstinacy. There is not enough known as yet about the real necessity for, or desirability of, federal scholarship grants. Closer examination may indicate that the real need can be almost wholly met from state and private sources, with far greater flexibility and fairness to individual applicants.

The $300 million student loan fund which Congress did approve has both good and bad features. Some educators oppose "forcing" students to borrow money to attend college, on the ground that such debts may prove overly burdensome to many young graduates just getting started. Others maintain that young people should learn the importance of paying for what they get.

Inflation A Permanent Way Of American Life

On the same day that industrial stocks soared to a new all-time high in Wall Street, the Department of Commerce in Washington unbundled itself of the dry statistical fact that corporate dividend payments in August, at $302,000,000, were 4 per cent below what stockholders received in August, 1957.

Investors and speculators are in the fix of the housewife who buys a can of peaches or a carton of crackers. The price has been raised and the contents of the can or carton reduced. That's inflation—slow, subtle, hard-to-observe pocket-picking inflation.

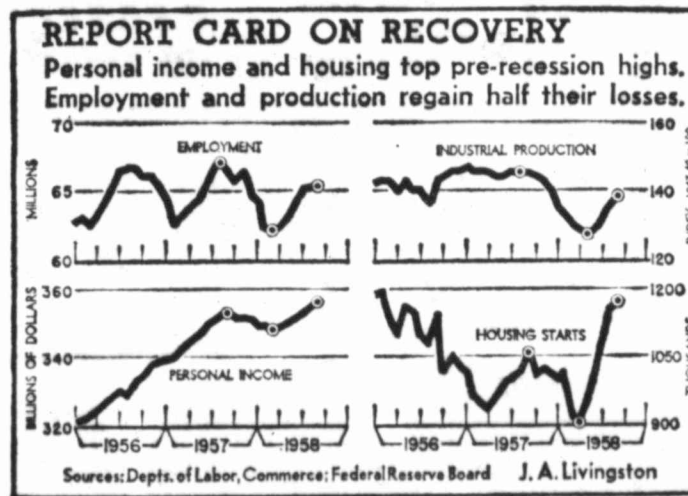

It's blatantly acknowledged by the New York Financial Writers Association, which this year is charging $35 for tickets to its annual "Financial Follies." Last year's tab for the satire and filet mignon at the Astor was $25. There's that easy feeling: "Well, what's $10 more to expense-accounters?"

This same inflation is blatantly denied by Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, and John S. Bugas, vice president of Ford Motor Co., in announcing the new wage contract. To Reuther, the contract is "non-inflationary"; to Bugas "non-excessive."

For three years more, the automobile industry assumes an obligation to pay annual wage increases of 2½ per cent or 6 cents an hour, whichever is higher for increased productivity of workers. Years ago, steel companies added to all steel prices the cost of rail freight from Pittsburgh, even though the steel might be delivered to a customer near door. This was called "phantom freight." Now, the auto industry and the union foist on automobile buyers—on you and me—an annual charge for "phantom productivity."

Also, the contract automatically keeps wages in step with the cost of living. This builds into the nation's cost structure price advances. All of the 7-cent-an-hour productivity increase and 2 of the 3-cent cost-of-living escalation are made retroactive to July 1. The old contract expired June 1. Union members lose one month of the new benefits.

The UAW didn't get much more moneywise—the two-year offer made by General Motors

Corp. In August 1957 and renewed in April this year. To that extent, perhaps, both Reuther and Bugas can call the contract "noninflationary."

Nevertheless, so long as workers get (1) annual increases for productivity, regardless of whether output per man improves, and (2) automatic cost-of-living pay inbuilt, the contract is sheer built-in inflation. It can be argued that wage increases compel managements to devise methods to increase output—make workers earn their higher pay. But the ultimate test of more-work-for-more-pay is prices. And auto prices have risen ever since Charles E. Wilson, of General Motors Corp., developed the current type of contract.

The rise in stock prices to new highs can be rationalized: Inflation has become a permanent way of American life. The cost of living will advance 1½ per cent to 2 per cent a year. Well-trenched corporations will adjust to rising prices and costs. Therefore, their stocks constitute an inflation hedge.

Now must you judge value by present dividend returns—only 3.6 per cent on industrial stocks, 4.6 per cent on utilities, 5.4 per cent on rails. Dividends will rise as recovery speeds along. Personal income is at an all-time high. Housing starts are booming. And industrial production and employment have regained more than half their recession drop (see chart). Earnings of corporations are bound to rise. People these days hunger for stocks. That's why One William Street, why Wellington Equity Fund, and other new ventures in mutual funds go over so big. But institutional investors—insurance companies, pension funds, etc.—also give evidence that they will buy bonds at a price.

Sears, Roebuck merchandised its 4½s the way it merchandises refrigerators and bicycles—by making the price right. Standard Oil of Indiana had no trouble selling 4½ per cent bonds at 99. Is this an augury—this contrast—rising yields on bonds and falling yields on stocks?

There's just a whisp of '29 in the air. During 1929, investment bankers and commercial banks left over one another to float new investment trust securities. Lehman Corp. was a '29 venture. So were Goldman Sachs Trading, Chatham Financial Allied Corp., Tri-Continental Corp., Chemical National Associates. Not all names survive. Is the rush to buy mutual funds symptomatic of irrational hunger for common stocks?

A wise man recently said this market is going to tumble when the Dow hits 525, or 700. All I know is it just can't keep going like this." He could be right.

New Era Ceramic

WASHINGTON (AP)—Aircraft industry efforts to find materials that will withstand the tremendous heat-friction encountered by future aircraft, spacecraft and missiles already have produced some remarkable results.

Planes, official publication of the Aircraft Industries Assn., says a ceramic has been developed that will maintain its properties in 5,000 degree heat. Called Galceram, its strength persists through both rapid and gradual temperature changes.

Lost But Not Missed

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Kids will leave mittens, scarves, galoshes and even shoes behind after attending Saturday movie matinees. But a water pistol or coinless cap? Never.

A survey of lost and found departments of several downtown theatres showed mounds of clothing that mother made their offspring wear when they went to the movies. But there was hardly a slingshot, space helmet and other such REALLY important articles in the whole pile.

Special Camp

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—Most of the 68 adults can't walk, but they go fishing, ride horses, hunt and play the usual games at a Little Grass Lake camp designed just for them. They are handicapped and some are confined to wheelchairs. The camp is sponsored by the Southern Illinois University and the Cerebral Palsy Assns. of Illinois and Chicago.

Bonus

CORDELL, Okla. (AP)—Tom Scoggin got more than lumber when he tore down an old house. Inside one wall he found an old large size $20 bill.

Around The Rim

Looking To Evenings Of Culture

DEAR RUFE:

You remember I wrote you several times last year, telling you about these evenings of culture they've been having in Big Spring. Well, they're going to have some more. I really wish that this year, you would buy your own tickets so as I could not have to be writing you what the programs was all about. You could see for yourself.

Evenings of culture, you know, Rufe, are what you might think used to be Chautauqua, only these are higher on the hog. Instead of Swiss bell ringers, we got whole symphonies. Instead of a team of marimba players, we got drama.

Wanted you to know about some of the things that are coming, so you could dig around in your purse and see if you could come up with the price of a ticket. You would probably enjoy the shows a lot better, in person, and it would save me the bother of having to tell you what took place after every dad-blasted program.

Sure enough, we are starting out with a symphony orchestra. This means a bunch of fiddle players and horn tooters, so many that they have to raise the back curtains off the stage to make room for 'em all. This is the kind of orchestra where a feller wearing a forked-tail coat will come out, after all the players have set down, tap his music stand with a little stick, throw up his arms, and wave the stick like mad while the others start playing. What come out of all this is music like you never heard from no country music band. There will be a lot of fiddles, some funny looking curled up horns, and best of all there will be a feller, maybe a couple of 'em, back on the back row pounding the devil out of them kettle drums, and a runnin' back and forth between bells and cymbals, and triangles and drums until their tongues are hanging out—the feller's tongues, not the instruments.

And then, by golly, you won't hardly believe this, but we are gonna have another ballay program. You're bound to remember ballay. This is where the pretty girls mostly wear gauze skirts and the men wear union suits, and everybody goes around on tippy-toe. There is more to it than that, I think, like the way them tippy-toe people spell out some kind of yarn while a-dancin'. This ain't easy to follow, but you will get a printed program.

Another thing in the culture evenings will be a drama. This is about a little girl whose family got caught by the Nazis back in the big war, and she wrote notes every day about their troubles. This one is sad, Rufe, and I ain't going to tell you too much about it ahead of time, except that you would like this if you would attend.

Still another one, Rufe. Whaddaya know, we are going to have a ballad singer. Now get it straight, this ain't no Elvis Presley kind of stuff, and it's not Bing Crosby, either. Not even like Caruso, but I guess somethin' sorta in between all these.

Ballad, you know, are supposed to have sweet and pretty music, the kind makes you sort of wistful like while you're sittin' and listenin'. Of course, ballads are awfully funny words, like Blue-Tail Fly in A Bottle or Cymanthy's Gonna Die in The Mornin', or Sailor Man Jump when the Froggies Croak—stuff like that. And ballads always end their verses with something like Yumma-Tiddle, Yumma-Tiddle, Doo-Ray, doo-dah. This makes them culturish.

Well, Yumma-Tiddle yourself, Rufe. Get your ticket and I'll see you at these affairs. This won't hurt you none, and it might help you.

Yrs. truly,

Suddenly, There Are No More Problems

The man in my hotel room was filled with anxiety. There could be no doubt about that. He had driven a good many miles to keep his appointment with me in this mid-West city and now that he was with me he was too agitated to tell me what he had come to see me about.

He paced up and down. He chain-smoked, his shaking fingers lighting one cigarette on the stub of the other. He couldn't keep his hands still. Finally he asked, "Can't we have some coffee sent up? I must have some coffee." So I called room service for coffee. After it arrived, he was able to begin. His cigarettes and coffee were, obviously, not things he enjoyed but crutches on which he leaned.

"I have to have some answers," he said, "and I have to have them quick, for I have a lot of problems."

Well, I don't know enough answers to all the problems there are and I'm not wise enough to figure them out. But I do know that when you pray you always get an answer. So I prayed and got the answer I needed for this particular situation.

I sat back in my chair in a relaxed manner and, although it wasn't very dignified, I put my feet up on the coffee table. "What's the use," I asked, "of being in such a dither; you're just wearing yourself out pacing up and down like that. Sit down."

He sat down on the edge of a chair, perched like a bird about to take flight. "That's no way to sit on a chair," I told him. "Sit back." And he sat back. "Now, make your self real comfortable. Put your feet up on this coffee table like mine are."

Then I said to him: "You've asked me for answers. I can't give you any. You're going to have to find them within yourself, because that's where they are. You're too filled with anxiety to let them come up. All I can do to help you is to speak peace to your mind in the hope that I can calm those anxieties and let the answers come up."

It so happened that I had something in my briefcase which I thought would help. It had been read to a Rotary Club meeting in Bridgeport, Connecticut, by an old friend, Dr. William H. Alderson, and sent to me. I took it out and began to read: "Slow me down, Lord. Ease the pounding of my heart by the quieting of my mind. Steady my hurried pace with a vision of the eternal reach of time. Give me, amidst the confusion of my day, the calmness of the everlasting hills. Break the tension of my nerves and muscles with the soothing music of the singing streams that live in my memories. Help me to know the magical, restorative power of Thy touch. Teach me the art of taking minute vacations, slowing down to look at a flower, to chat with a friend, to pat a dog. Remind me each day of the fable of the hare and the tortoise, so that I may know that the race is not always to the swift. There is more to life than increasing its speed. Let me look upward into the branches of the towering oak, and know that it grew great because it grew slowly and well. Slow me down, Lord. Inspire me to send my roots deep into the soil of life's enduring values."

Then we talked a while, about some other similar statements and about God. And, as we talked, he became more and more composed. Finally, we both were quiet. He sat thinking. "Now," I said, "what about your problems?"

"Oh," he answered, "I don't think I need to take any more of your time. My anxiety is gone and I think I can find my own answers."

And that's how this man found his answers. He had turned his mind from his own problems to God, his anxiety had been relieved, and he was able to work out the solutions he needed.

Secretary Dulles An Able Persuader

WASHINGTON—Because some of President Eisenhower's associates only a short time before had heard him express doubts about the wisdom of drawing the defense line around Quemoy and Matsu, they were startled by his tough, anti-Munich speech on the China crisis.

What they failed to appreciate was the lawyer-like job of persuasion that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles did when he went to confer with the President at his Newport, R. I., vacation retreat on September 4. Perhaps the highest paid lawyer in the world before he became Secretary of State in 1953, Dulles went to Newport to persuade his principal client, the President, that Quemoy and Matsu must be defended with American armed force, if necessary.

In his hour with the President, the Secretary of State brushed aside all doubts as to military feasibility and the technical difficulties of supplying islands within range of Communist shore batteries. Surveys indicate, however, that many Americans are either confused or indifferent about the crisis. They are beginning to ask why for three and a half years after Congress authorized the President to defend Quemoy and Matsu, if he felt this was necessary for the defense of Formosa, nothing was done to try to prevent an explosion such as has now occurred.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff were all opposed to Chiang Kai-shek putting so large a proportion of his forces on the exposed islands. But their view was in part nullified by the then chairman of the JCS, Admiral Arthur Radford, who in personal visits with Chiang is reported to have assured him that his action would have U. S. backing.

In April of '55 Adlai Stevenson proposed that the United States initiate a worldwide declaration calling for a renunciation of force in the Formosa Strait and urged that the government join with other nations in a move before the United Nations General Assembly to condemn the use of force in any attempt to alter the status of Formosa.

Some such move in a time of relative quiet might have made possible a united front. Now with the flames of a crisis leaping high the United States stands virtually alone.

GENESIS 3:9—"...the Lord God called to the man, and said to him, 'Where are you?'" (RSV)

After Adam and Eve had disobeyed God by eating the fruit, they hid from Him. But God came looking for them in the garden. The principle message of this passage for us is that God searches for men even though they may run away from him and hide. This is the marvelous thing about God's love. He does not give us up or let us go even though we do disobey or sin against him. He stays after us until finally, when we are exhausted and spent, we meet Him in the person of Jesus Christ. The cross symbolizes the end of our flight. There is no place where we can hide from the love of Calvary. No place we can go where this great love does not follow us. Men today are still hiding from God, but if you will listen carefully you can still hear God's voice calling, "Where are you?"

High on a Hilltop

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

It was autumn, and as we looked out at the beauty of the valley Bruce asked me to marry him. Though I loved him, I was afraid to say yes.

I've always been a church-going person. Bruce wasn't. I knew that before I could marry him I would have to show him how much the Church meant to me. I asked him if he would start attending Sunday service with me.

He did; and in the beginning I knew that he was coming only to please me. Then, as time went on, I could see that the Church was beginning to have a new meaning for him. And finally the day came when he turned to me and said, "I had no idea what I had been missing."

That was the turning point. Bruce and I have been married five years, now—and you'll still find both of us in church each Sunday.

Sexy French Star, Burning Family Drama Head Film List

LA PARISIENNE, starring Brigitte Bardot, Charles Boyer and Henri Vidal. Produced by Francis Cosne. Directed by Michel Boisrond. Music by Hubert Rostaing and Andre Hodeir. Sunday through Tuesday at the Ritz.

NEWMAN & TAYLOR A lost and lonely family

The "sex kitten" makes her Big Spring debut this week. Undoubtedly, there will be some citizens who will stay away in droves because of the bad publicity her first picture, "And God Created Woman," stirred up.

Well, let's get things straight—if you can't stand a movie which oozes sex all over the wide, Technicolor screen, then "La Parisienne" is not for you. By Hollywood standards, the film gets away with murder, although by the standards of U. S. customs, which are very strict, it's a honey little farce.

Miss Bardot (pronounced bar-DOE) is cast as the untamed daughter of a French minister who gets her father's secretary (Vidal) into one compromising situation too many, and leads him gently up to the altar. Vidal, however, is a notorious wolf, even in France, and B.B. is consumed with jealousy. To teach him a lesson, she goes on the make for a visiting prince, Charles Boyer. French cabinets have fallen for less reason than the scandal that ensues.

"La Parisienne" is a boudoir romp in which the acting is good, the story saucy with a Gallic flavor, and the jazz music background is out of this world. This latter might be translated roughly as "Le Jazz Moderne." The slapstick is very funny.

About the only bad thing about the movie is the dubbing in English voices over the original French.

B.B. has taken the U. S. by storm, and has left the philosophers puzzling over the basis of her appeal. It's really very simple, as her film will show: Brigitte is impish, childlike and innocent—but, at the same time, is impudent, unpredictable and full of that feminine mystery that is more inborn than bought at the five and dime. All in all, a living representation of the dream girl not usually available to American men, except in their dreams.

The "sex kitten" seems determined to teach Americans how to live, love and laugh—and in this, she has the support of 50 million Frenchmen (who, it is said, can't be wrong). All of France gives B.B. three rousing cheers in her attempts to reform us straight-laced Americans.

Whether she'll succeed is not evident in "La Parisienne."

This film has some good Paris backgrounds, if you're of a mind to keep your eyes on them. It is rather disconcerting, however, to try to improve one's geography with Brigitte traipsing around in a sack, a towel, a sheet and (even) a bathtub.

CAT ON A HOT TIN ROOF, starring Elizabeth Taylor, Paul Newman, Burl Ives, Jack Carson, Judith Anderson and Madeline Sherwood. Produced by Lawrence Weingarten. Directed by Richard Brooks. Screenplay by Richard Brooks and James Poe, from the Tennessee Williams play. Wednesday through Saturday at the Ritz.

This is a powerful, dramatic and absorbing story that leaves its audiences limp, and is an odds-on entry for the annual Academy Awards. Hollywood is growing up.

Great skill was used in translating the Tennessee Williams play to the screen, which is rather remarkable for Hollywood. The smutty jokes have been dropped along with actor Paul Newman's cool neuroticism that, in the stage version, smacked unnecessarily of homosexuality. The screen play, believe it or not, comes out better than the stage play, and thereby becomes less sensational and more honest.

The characters are burningly real, thanks to some powerful performances under expert direction. The actors are given a chance to dig deeply into the hearts of their characters and bring them into sharp focus.

"Cat" is an absorbing and cruel story of a family that had never known love. The viewer, remembering that there are millions of families like this, can look and be thankful.

The story finds the clan gathered to celebrate a birthday for Big Daddy, whom they all know is dying of cancer. They also know he will leave behind a fortune. Awaiting this fortune are Madeleine Sherwood as Sister Woman, a ghastly and acid character; Jack Carson as her slop of a husband who is cruel and conniving, but really means well; Judith Anderson as Big Mama, the wife whose loneliness cuts through the audience like a long piece of chalk being dragged across a blackboard; Paul Newman as Brick, the alcoholic son, whose weakness makes him an outcast even to himself; and Elizabeth Taylor as Brick's wife, called "Maggie the Cat," spurned unto the point of torture by a husband she adores.

Burl Ives, as Big Daddy, reaches into the lost and lonely heart of a greedy man.

Some who have seen the film or the play think there is nothing in it—that there is no story. Such persons undoubtedly have dull sensibilities, for this is a film that is definitely for a mature, intelligent and adult audience. If you don't qualify for this category, you'd best stay home with your cowboys and quizzes.

The background music is kept in the background, which is where it should be. But some genius of a composer was cruelly ignored in the publicity handouts, which is where critics get such information, as well as in the film's credits (unless I just didn't have my eyes open.)

Summing up: A moving and dramatic play successfully translated onto the movie screen.

Other recommended viewing: "Imitation General." Glenn Ford as a sergeant who takes over a general's job in whipping the Germans, with an able and highly amusing assist from Red Buttons.

"Hot Spell." The searing story of a middle-aged marriage that finally goes onto the rocks, helped by the irritations of a Louisiana heat wave. Shirley Booth and Anthony Quinn give portrayals of the couple in trouble that will remain in the audience's memory for a long time to come. Expert assistance is given by Shirley MacLaine and Earl Holliman.

"The True Story of Lynn Stuart." Taken from newspaper stories of a few years back which you may recall, this is the story of a housewife who, fed up with the narcotics traffic and the danger it presented to her children, volunteered for a risky assignment as an undercover agent. Even today, she must remain in hiding, for the Mafia has sworn vengeance.

CRITIQUE Of The Local Entertainment Scene By BOB SMITH

Citizens See Play, Auditorium

A small crowd of citizens and members of the Civic Theatre had the opportunity Thursday night to get a first-hand view of American brainwashing.

"The Box," a two-act drama written by Bob Walker as a part of Webb's orientation program, was designed to show base personnel some do's and don'ts in dealing with Communist captors. Walker's chief character, acted by Airman Norman Sant, was a prisoner of war whose stubborn and unnecessary defiance of a North Korean prison camp commander, played by Sgt. Dewey Magee, led to his death.

Other roles were taken by Sgt. Bill Higginbotham, and Airman Jerry Fouts and Tom Hardee in the play which was well received both at the base and at the Civic Theatre's meeting.

"The Box" was the first play staged in the theatre group's new Prairie Playhouse, although theatre president Allen Robertson was quick to point out that it was not a formal opening.

"We have been using other auditoriums in the city," he stated, "but now that we have our own building, we decided that, come what may, all our productions from this moment on would have to be presented (in the Playhouse)."

Robertson pointed out that, as slowly as development work is progressing on the Playhouse, it would be practically suicidal to make future use of existing auditoriums. The already slow pace of Playhouse work would grind to a halt. Only if the Civic Theatre is forced to use its own building for staging purposes, he added, will the project continue to roll.

Visitors, following the play, were treated to coffee and cake and then were conducted on a short tour of the Playhouse, including the rear area where interior walls have been knocked out of the old building to make way for an auditorium.

It is becoming increasingly apparent that depending entirely upon the resources of theatre members is not going to get an auditorium built. This is no reflection upon the theatre people, since few of them have much experience in manual labor (they are mostly of the white collar class) and none has the technical knowledge that is needed on the project.

The best course is to put up the money and contract with a professional to do what has to be done. Already, an expert roofer with theatre construction experience has offered to fix the leaky roof at cost, and another source has practically pledged to furnish the materials, though not necessarily the labor, for free.

The theatre has a few dollars in the treasury, enough to get a good start on the project, and there should be enough individuals, business firms and civic organizations with an interest in theatre, to beef up the building fund to honorable proportions.

I would like to suggest that a building fund drive be started in earnest, beginning with contributions from theatre members themselves, and carried by them to the community at large. An attitude of pulling one's self up by his own bootstraps without having to "beg" is noble and all that, but there's nothing shameful in going to the community for support for an organization designed to serve the community.

Besides the roof, the Playhouse needs a supporting beam across the projected auditorium, a floor laid in the attic for dressing room and props space, a trap door from the attic to the stage, re-wiring, stage lighting, overhauling of the rest rooms, heating and air-conditioning, a new ceiling for the front room, and a general refurbishing of the entire interior.

These are just the basic needs if the Playhouse is to become a reality, and such things cost money.

Other cities have contributed to their own community theatres, and there is no reason Big Spring shouldn't. But it's up to the Civic Theatre to make the first move.

West Texas Art Featured In N.Y.

Mrs. Terry Patterson, regional trustee of the Texas Fine Arts Association, has been asked by the noted Burr Galleries of New York to round up a representative list of paintings from this area of the state for showing next year.

The list is to include examples of different styles and varied interests, with a view to reflecting West Texas subject matter and advanced levels of West Texas painting.

"This surprised and flattered me," Mrs. Patterson remarked, "because... you know what is said (in New York) about culture in other parts of the country."

It turns out, however, that the professionals in art know very well that there is a strong movement in all fields of culture throughout the nation, particularly Texas.

Mrs. Patterson is scouring the countryside for "good, unusual, creative, skilled, original paintings."

If you've got anything answering to that description, give her a call.

Come November, Big Spring will be host to artists from all over the state. This city was selected as the site for this year's convention of the TFAA.

The convention will be held Nov. 8 at the Cosden Country Club, and a well-known speaker will be selected for the event.

The TFAA meeting promises to be one of the more interesting phases in Big Spring's cultural life.

The annual River Art Show in San Antonio is under way and will continue through Oct. 13.

Interested artists (painters, sculptors, etc.) may contact Margaret Putnam at 215 Pleasant Drive, San Antonio, for further information.

The Panhandle South Plains Fair in Lubbock always is a good spot for exhibiting artists, and presents a challenge to the artist who wishes to introduce the general public to the fine arts.

The fair runs from Sept. 29 through Oct. 4, and features all the types of exhibits one might expect, from beef cattle to embroidery, and some fine entertainment besides that found on the midway.

There is but one jarring note: Fair directors seem still to be under the old-fashioned impression that art is for women. The arts, crafts and sculptures exhibits will be under the women's department and in the Women's Building on the fairground, along with canned peaches and quilt making.

Catalogues containing detailed instructions for exhibitors may be obtained from The Panhandle South Plains Fair Association, Lubbock, Texas.

Swedes Praise O'Neill Premiere

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Stockholm newspapers have hailed the play "Hughie" by the late American dramatist Eugene O'Neill as one of his best.

The world premiere of the one-act play was given at the Royal Dramatic Theater Thursday night. King Gustav VI Adolf of Sweden, Queen Louisa, and Prince Wilhelm, brother of the King, attended.

PART OF NEW IRON, METAL PLANT
Firm also has four-acre yard, new office building

Big Spring Iron & Metal Co. Is Operating In New Location

Big Spring Iron & Metal Co. is now operating in a vast, modern new home in West Big Spring.

The concern is completing a move to 302 Anna St., which is just off West U. S. 80 at the back of the Coca Cola Bottling Co. plant. Most equipment already has been moved from the firm's old location at 1507 W. 3rd St. and offices have been opened in a new building which is a part of the Anna St. plant.

Julius Zodin, manager, said all friends and past customers of the company are invited to visit the new home of Big Spring Iron & Metal Co.

A four-acre site accommodates the firm's metal working equipment, a new, steel warehouse and office building, and provides display and storage space for steel products and scrap metals.

The all-steel warehouse covers an area 50 by 80 feet. It houses welding and cutting equipment, provides storage for non-ferrous metals and also houses concrete reinforcing mesh and rod.

The office building, of the unique "tilt-up" type of concrete construction, includes a private office for the manager, customer foyer, office for the assistant manager, and other facilities. The structure is flanked by a giant public scale, capable of weighing virtually any loaded truck. The Fairbanks-Morse scale is 60 feet in length and has a capacity of 110,000 pounds. Zodin said the weighing service is available to the public.

The four-acre yard is adjacent to a T&P Railway Co. spur, and Zodin said a private track may eventually be extended into the Big Spring Iron & Metal Co. property.

The metal concern, which operated at the old location for 10 years, has been in the process of moving for several weeks, and much material remains to be shipped to market from the W. 3rd St. yard. Some new steel is yet to be moved to the new location, also.

Zodin and Johnny Broughton, assistant manager, conduct a versatile operation. In addition to purchasing scrap iron, tin and other metals, the concern markets a variety of products. River Funeral Home Now In Order Of Golden Rule

The River Funeral Home has been accepted into the fellowship of an international organization of funeral directors, known in the profession as the Order of the Golden Rule.

Funeral directors belonging to the Order are selected for their ability to uphold the ideals of the international organization. The order has a membership which extends around the world, and has been in existence for more than a quarter of a century.

The order lays particular stress on the necessity of rendering a service to humanity in time of need that is modern and comprehensive, and at the same time within the reach of all, even those in the most humble circumstances.

The member of the order in each community identifies himself by means of a symbol, which consists of an armored knight with raised visor, who supports with his right hand a shield, bearing the motto of the Order: "Service Measured not by Gold but by the Golden Rule." In his left hand the knight grasps a drawn sword, as if to signify his readiness to defend the high principles inscribed upon the shield.

ABC Club Urged To Remember Debt To Future

Dr. P. D. O'Brien asked members of the American Business Club to reflect "on the serious side of life and consider their debts to future generations" in a talk at that organization's regular luncheon Friday at the Settles Hotel.

Dr. O'Brien said all parents have a grave responsibility to their children, adding it has always been true that the world is only one generation away from paganism.

Tom South gave a report on the ABC's special committee to help organize a fellow club in Snyder, revealing that he and other members had met with favorable response on an exploratory trip there last week.

He asked for and received volunteers to work the city the coming week. Nine persons will work in teams of three in efforts to canvass Snyder within the next several days.

An advertising campaign will be kicked off in Snyder in connection with the drive to organize a club there.

Among guests present at the Friday conclave were Hugh Elledge, Joe Snyder and Bill Neal. Don Anderson was introduced as a new member.
