MILWAUKEE (AP)—Veteran Andy Pafo was the surprise choice to play center field for Milwaukee today as the Braves opened the defense of their World Series title against the New York Yankees on a clear, cold afternoon.

Milwaukee Manager Fred Haney picked 37-year-old Pafo rather than light-hitting Felix Mantilla, as replacement for Bill Bruton.

With New York's Whitey Ford (14-7) facing Milwaukee's Warren Spahn (22-11) in a duel of left-handed pitchers, Bruton remained on the bench. He is a left-handed batter and has been troubled by a bad knee.

Adlai Slaps Asia Policy

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Adlai Stevenson says the fight over Quemoy and Matsu is a continuation of China's civil war and the United States has no business butting in.

Stevenson, who recently returned from extensive travels abroad, said the U.S. policy in China commands little respect or support in the world.

"It should be reconsidered and restated without delay," he told a 100-a-plate Democratic rally Tuesday night.

The Democratic party's twice defeated presidential candidate outlined a four-point program of his own for easing tension in the Formosa Strait.

Odessa T&P Suit Ordered Re-Tried

AUSTIN (AP)—The Supreme Court reversed trial and civil appeals court decisions today in a personal damage suit and ordered the case retried from the beginning.

The court ordered the Ector County district court to retry a damage suit filed against Texas & Pacific Railway by R. A. Van Zandt.

In the first trial Van Zandt won a $27,000 decision on the grounds that he was injured when the railroad coach in which he was riding hit a freight car. The railroad alleged that the collision was not severe enough to injure Van Zandt or other passengers.

School Plans Get U.S. Okay, Check Arrives

Federal approval for local school construction plans was received Tuesday and along with the okay came a check for 10 per cent of the U. S. funds which will finance part of the expansion.

The government grant, authorized several months ago pending final approval of architecture and engineering, totals $377,350. A check for $37,735 was received and architects are now completing the plans in hopes of letting contracts sometime during the first two weeks in December.

Three projects are proposed for construction with the federal funds, although there is little likelihood that one of the three will be undertaken.

No. 1 on the list is the 12-classroom Marcy elementary school, to be constructed near the Webb APB Capehart Housing Project on Old San Angelo Highway southwest of town. Second is a six-classroom addition to Park Hill elementary school.

The other project is a new school district administration building, but Supt. Floyd Parsons said Tuesday that its construction is only a remote possibility. Although the school district is required to advertise for bids on the administration center as an alternate project, the superintendent said that the shortage of classrooms will make it necessary for the district to put all the federal funds it can into classroom construction.

Bids will be asked on one other project—high school enlargement—at the same time the elementary construction proposals are requested.

The high school addition, equivalent to about 24 classrooms, will be financed out of proceeds from a school bond issue.

Supt. Parsons said architects are attempting to complete all plans by Oct. 20. However, it will be impossible to call for bids earlier than the first part of December because the plans must first get final approval of the Federal Housing & Home Finance Agency, he explained.

The FHFA approval may require two weeks or more, and contractors will need at least a month in which to figure their bids.

School officials hope to have both elementary and high school projects completed prior to the opening of the 1959-60 school term.

U.S. Chides Reds For Atom Testing

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, chiding the Soviet Union for resuming nuclear weapons tests, says it will go through with plans for a one-year U.S. test suspension if the Soviets will follow suit.

The State Department issued that announcement Tuesday night a short time after the Atomic Energy Commission reported the Soviet Union had terminated its much-heralded but short-lived test suspension with at least two new blasts.

The department described the Soviet tests as confirmation of U.S. suspicion that the Soviet test suspension announcement last March 31 was just propaganda.

Premier Announces Iraqi Land Shuffle

CAIRO (AP)—Premier Abdel Karim Kassem of Iraq is reported to have moved to consolidate peasant backing for his revolutionary regime with a land reshuffle while removing a potential rival.

Big landlords were a bulwark of the royal government, the late Premier Nuri said which Kassem overthrew July 14.

The No. 2 man in the revolt and the new republican regime, Brig. Abdul Salam Arif, has been reprimanded for his post as deputy premier.

First Nat'l. Acquires Site For New Bank

Acquisition of Main Street property as site of a projected new home for the institution was announced today by the First National Bank.

J. B. Hensley, president, said that transaction has been completed for the purchase of a quarter of a block—150 feet on the west side of Main Street at Fifth—from two property owners, Mrs. Olive Biles and Edmund Notesteine. Price involved in the property transfer was not revealed.

Mrs. Biles sold 75 feet at Main and Fifth, and Notesteine, former Big Spring owner living in Amarillo, sold 75 feet immediately adjacent to this, on the north.

Both lots have for many years been sites of the old Biles and Notesteine homesteads.

President Urges Court Compliance

Hula Hoopin' Hog? Two Coahoma club boys, Jimmy Allen, standing, and George Turner, decided to try to make a real "show" of the annual 4-H and FFA Swine Show, opening today. In this scene they introduce a 185-pound Chester White pig to the hula hoop. Later, they decided the hog didn't have the hips for the hoop, so he'll go into the judging ring with no twirling talents to show.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today called on all Americans to comply with the Supreme Court's school integration rulings lest there be "grave consequences" to the nation.

Eisenhower sounded the call to both public officials and private citizens alike—at a news conference.

He was asked whether, in the light of the court's decisions, Arkansas and Virginia should reopen their closed schools on an integrated basis without being forced into it by the federal government.

Eisenhower had anticipated such questions. He pulled out a prepared statement and read it: "The Supreme Court, in its opinion rendered Monday, once again has spoken with unanimity on the matter of equality of opportunity for education in the nation's public schools. It is incumbent upon all Americans, public officials and private citizens alike, to recognize their duty of complying with the rulings of the highest court in the land. Any other course, as I have said before, would be fraught with grave consequences to our nation," it said.

"Americans have always been proud that their institutions rest on the concept of equal justice under law. We must never forget that the rights of all of us depend upon respect for the lawfully determined rights of each of us. As one nation, we must assure to all our people, whatever their color or creed, the enjoyment of their constitutional rights and the full measure of the law's protection.

"We must be faithful to our constitutional ideas and go forward in good faith with the unflinching task of translating them into reality."

After reading this statement, Eisenhower said that since the matter was still in litigation he would not have anything further to say on it at this time.

It was the President's first news conference in five weeks—his first since Aug. 27. These other matters were touched on: ADAMS—Eisenhower said he did not ask anyone to obtain the resignation of Sherman Adams as his chief aide. There have been published reports that Eisenhower delegated to Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn the job of telling Adams he had to go.

The President said Adams resigned voluntarily—that he personally never asked Adams to quit.

WHITE HOUSE STAFF—Eisenhower announced he intends to make public soon a White House staff organization chart so that the general public will know just what the new setup is under Adams' successor, Wilton B. Parsons. The President said he probably has been guilty in not having made such an organizational memorandum public during the Adams tenure.

POLITICS—Eisenhower said he has heard talk of Republican apathy of sitting on hands and complacency in the congressional campaigns. To him, he said, such an attitude is inconceivable.

He spoke of the philosophy of his administration—he called it a middle of the road and stay out of the gutter doctrine—and said the record of his almost six years in office provides a good foundation for GOP campaigning this year.

Eisenhower said he doesn't see how any Republican candidate could be anything less than enthusiastic about the party's chances.

Fitting out against voter apathy, Eisenhower said that if the Republicans failed to help with their time, brains and money, then their cause will be lost.

HEALTH—The President announced he will enter the Army's Walter Reed Hospital this week-end for his annual physical check-up. He said with a smile he was making the announcement in advance so that no one would think he was ill again.

RIGHT-TO-WORK—Eisenhower repeated what he has said before—that he thinks the issue of state right-to-work laws is one for the individual states to decide for themselves. He said that workers must join a union in order to keep a job.

IKE HINTS AT ASIAN PEACE MOVE

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower declared today that if the United States could get a cease-fire in the Quemoy-Matsu area an opportunity would be opened up to negotiate in good faith for a Formosa settlement.

IKE HINTS AT ASIAN PEACE MOVE

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower declared today that if the United States could get a cease-fire in the Quemoy-Matsu area an opportunity would be opened up to negotiate in good faith for a Formosa settlement.

Eisenhower told a news conference that the Nationalist-held islands of Quemoy and Matsu, near the Communist mainland, are not vital to the defense of Formosa. But he said he did not know whether demilitarizing those islands would offer a solution on which everybody could agree.

A few hours before Eisenhower discussed the situation, President Chiang Kai-shek on Formosa took sharp issue with statements by Secretary of State Dulles at a news conference Tuesday. Chiang declared emphatically that he has no intention of weakening the defenses of Quemoy and Matsu.

Dulles said the large Nationalist forces on the offshore islands should be cut back if there was a cease-fire and he also said that he sees no prospect of Chiang returning to the China mainland, leading an anti-Communist liberation force—unless there is a revolution against the Reds first. Chiang expressed incredulity at some of Dulles' remarks.

Arabs Impatient For Troop Exit

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Arab diplomats balked today over conditional U.S.-British promises for pulling their troops out of Lebanon and Jordan.

A spokesman for the United Arab Republic made clear that, if the troops don't leave quickly, President Nasser's government will toss the matter before the General Assembly.

WASHINGTON (AP)—This is a National Day of Prayer for Americans, suggested by Congress and President Eisenhower.

Eisenhower designated the day for "each according to his own faith, to join in prayer for our nation and for all mankind."

His proclamation was issued in accordance with a 1952 resolution of Congress directing that one day each year be designated a day of prayer.

In Need Of More Pep, Zip? See Series Starting Sunday

Wouldn't it be a wonderful thing to be able to fight off old age—to be as full of pep, enthusiasm and vitality at 60 as you were at 25?

Starting Sunday in The Herald, a series based on a book by Lelord Kordel, famed nutritionist, will tell you just how you can do that.

Hensley said bank officials had studied the need of newer and larger facilities for some time, and chose the location at Fifth and Main as "the site which in the future will be centrally located to serve the major business interests of the city."

"We feel," said Hensley, "that the trend of our business center is in this direction, and the First National wants to be situated for the most convenient service."

Plans will include provision for ample off-street parking and drive-in banking facilities, Hensley said. Parking will be available for all building tenants, if office space is included in the structure.

Based on his book, "Eat and Grow Younger," the hard-hitting commentary will show that "it's the nutritional paper who early loses his vitality and glow of youth."

Watch for the first installment in Sunday's Herald!

Midland Firm Gets Settlement

EL PASO (AP)—An out-of-court settlement between ten major oil companies and a Midland, Tex., operator who said the firms had forced him out of business with a price war was announced here yesterday.

The amount of the cash settlement was not revealed.

R. B. Baker of Midland had sued in federal court for $124,000 damages he said his business sustained. A judgment for the plaintiff would have trebled the amount under federal law.

U. S. Dist. Judge R. E. Thomson granted the motion of attorneys for Baker for a summary judgment for the defendants following a conference yesterday. The judgment will be signed in about 10 days.

Present for the hearing were 24 attorneys representing Baker and the defendant oil companies. They were Gulf Oil Co., Humble, Standard of Texas, Sinclair, Shell, Phillips, Continental, The Texas Co., Coden and Magnolia.

Chiang Opposes Reduction Of Forces On Offshore Islands

EDITOR'S NOTE: — Spencer Moss, Associated Press correspondent with many years experience in Formosa and the Far East, here reports on his exclusive interview with Nationalist Chinese President Chiang Kai-shek. The interview was obtained in a simply furnished house overlooking the harbor of Kaohsiung in southern Formosa.

KAOSHIUNG, Formosa (AP) — President Chiang Kai-shek said today in effect that he is opposed to a reduction of his armed forces on the offshore islands or any change in their status.

The Nationalist Chinese leader expressed incredulity over the reports from Washington that Secretary of State Dulles had said it would not be "wise or prudent" to keep Chiang's large forces on the islands if a dependable cease-fire could be arranged.

"Mr. Dulles must know," Chiang declared in an interview "that it is only wishful thinking to ask the Chinese Communists for a cease-fire."

"Granted that Mr. Dulles made the statement attributed to him," he added, "it would be only a unilateral declaration and my government would be under no obligation to keep it."

"We have confidence that Mr. Dulles is sincere toward us and that he has faith in our cause," the President added.

"Asked what he thought about the future of the Chinese Communists, who today were celebrating the ninth anniversary of the inauguration of their Chinese People's Republic in Peiping, Chiang said: "My belief is that it will not be very long before the Chinese Communist regime will come to the end of the road. How soon that will be only the future can tell. But it may come about sooner than expected."

"I cannot tell right away," Chiang said, "whether Mr. Dulles has made the remarks attributed to him for diplomatic reasons or with other purposes in mind."

"What he is quoted as having said seems completely incompatible with our stand and does not sound like him."

"There seems to be implications at variance with his own earlier utterances on the subject."

"Mr. Dulles must know that wishes for a cease-fire will never materialize and he must have serious misgivings in his own mind about the subject."

Chiang added: "Mr. Dulles has always stood on the side of justice and righteousness and it is inconceivable that he might now have new thoughts on the matter."

Chiang said the determination of his government to hold on to Quemoy and the other offshore islands has been made so amply evident that it was not necessary to cover the same ground again.

He said he was less worried about the situation itself than about the lack of understanding in the West.

Wreckage Of Sub Hunter Plane Found

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Wreckage of a submarine-hunter plane which disappeared Monday with 10 crewmen has been found in the Gulf north of here. No rafts were sighted.

The submarine-hunter, a P2V from the Brunswick, Maine, Naval Air Station, disappeared while on a flight to check instruments.

many places on the issues involved.

"I hope," the President said, "that efforts will be made to enable the American people to understand what the Communist attacks on Kinmen (Quemoy) mean."

"While outwardly they are directed against the territory of the Republic of China, they are actually intended as assaults against America's first line of defense in Asia."

"The objectives of the Chinese Communists are Taiwan (Formosa), to expel American influence from the Formosa Strait area and the western Pacific and world prestige in Asia."

Walker Williams, general sales manager, said the new Mercury has a new chassis and body design, a wheelbase four inches longer, a compound windshield, 61 per cent larger, and an instrument panel moved forward six inches providing more knee room.

Williams said moving the engine forward with the increased wheelbase made it possible to reduce the hump in the floor for the engine and transmission.

Edsel Cars In Lower Price Field

DETROIT (AP)—The Edsel cars will be in a lower price field in 1959.

The line has been revamped and will be priced just above the top of the low priced models of Chevrolet, Ford and Plymouth.

The price schedule for the 1959 Edsels was not disclosed, but Ben Mills, division general manager said it "will make auto industry history for 1959."

Plans are understood to call for discontinuance of the Mercury Medalist model. Its place in the medium price field probably will be taken by the new Edsels.

Styling and engineering details were withheld pending public showing.

HARTFORD, Mich. (AP)—Howard Witt found a wedding ring in his driveway. His mother-in-law Mrs. Frank Bailey said it was one she lost 55 years ago while doing the family wash.

Ford's Makes Are Restyled

DETROIT (AP)—Mercury, Edsel and Lincoln cars have been substantially restyled for 1959. Full details were withheld.

Ford was hard hit by the 1958 sales decline. Mercury delivered about 84,000 cars in this year's first seven months against 170,000 in the like 1957 period. Edsel accounted for a disappointing 25,000 in this year's January-July period. Lincoln's numbered about 18,000 compared with 24,000 in the same period last year.

Walker Williams, general sales manager, said the new Mercury has a new chassis and body design, a wheelbase four inches longer, a compound windshield, 61 per cent larger, and an instrument panel moved forward six inches providing more knee room.

Williams said moving the engine forward with the increased wheelbase made it possible to reduce the hump in the floor for the engine and transmission.

New Nation Takes Place On Map As France Frees Guinea

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN

PARIS (AP) — Another new country took its place on the map today as French sovereignty officially passed into the hands of the Cabinet in Guinea, a west African Negro nation.

Guinea became free at the stroke of midnight. But no new flag flies in Conakry, the capital on a coastal islet about halfway between west Africa's Dakar and Liberia.

The swift consequences of last Sunday's constitutional referendum caught Guinea Premier Sekou Toure's regime flatfooted. It doesn't have a flag or an anthem or any of the other outward symbols of nationhood.

In Paris, Premier De Gaulle and his Cabinet worked to launch on Sunday the Fifth French Republic under the constitution approved everywhere in the French Empire except Guinea. De Gaulle had said rejection of the constitution by a French territory would bring it immediate independence.

Toure said in Conakry that his new nation did not want to be cast completely adrift.

"In every sphere Guinea will turn first of all to France," he said. "We want to remain in the (French) franc zone. It is only if we are not accepted that we will turn elsewhere."

"We will determine our foreign policy in view of our own interests and we will try to make our viewpoint prevail within the framework of an association with France. But if we do not find a partner (in France), Guinea will be obliged to envisage another attitude," Toure said.

The Premier said his government will ask De Gaulle for a sort of dominion status under Article 88 of the new constitution. Apparently drafted with just such a case in mind, the article says a state

Blood Stains Like Those Of Driver

DALLAS (AP) — Blood stains found in the abandoned car of Euclid Fant of Sherman match his blood type, a hospital technician reported last night.

Fant, 41, disappeared Sept. 24 while on a business trip to Dallas. The car of the prominent Sherman business and civic leader was found at the Dallas Union Terminal parking lot Monday.

The technician said bloodstains on the front seat of the car were type A, the same as Fant.

Sheriff T. W. Blanton of Sherman told newsmen he plans to establish a base at Dallas for his investigation.

Expressing the belief that foul play is involved, the sheriff said, "we can only go on the assumption with what we know now."

Bus Driver Dies

which chooses independence can be associated with France to an extent spelled out in a treaty.

Speaking like a politician who knows he has the vote in his pocket, Toure said the Guinea Constituent Assembly, which he has called for Thursday, will adopt a democratic constitution. It will include a declaration of human rights and express support for the U.N. Charter.

Guinea has about 2,125,000 people in an area the size of Oregon, ranging from wet coastal jungles to inland mountains reaching 4,000 feet. Its chief export has been bananas. Now it must readjust its economy to the loss of French financial aid.

Toure is banking on attracting foreign capital to develop rich deposits of iron ore and bauxite in the mountains, possibly through some sort of French Point Four program.

De Gaulle's Cabinet decided to hold elections in late November for the new republic's first Assembly.

De Gaulle is to make a quick flying tour to Algeria Thursday. In a public speech in Constantine, he may reveal his policy for ending the four-year-old nationalist rebellion in Algeria.

Bill Parsons Is Scholarship Semi-Finalist

Bill Parsons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd W. Parsons, is a semi-finalist in the National Merit Scholarship qualifying tests. Tests given last spring have been graded and the highest scoring students in each state have been included in the 10,000 semi-finalists. They take other tests for a possible part in the 735 merit scholarships and other awards in the 1958-59 competition. The National Merit Scholarships constitute the largest privately financed system of scholarship awards in the history of the country. Total value of the awards is estimated at $5,000,000. Some 479,000 high school juniors took the tests last April 29. The second test is set for Dec. 6, 1958, and the high scorers will become finalists. Roller Coaster Rio Grande Down Again; New Rise Seen

PRESIDIO, Tex. (AP)—The Rio Grande, rising and falling here like a roller-coaster since Sunday, went down again today. The border river rose slowly last night and early today to within less than three inches of the record flood level set Sunday. Reports from Mexico indicated, however, flooding rivers there will pour even more water into the Rio Grande. Ralph England, a newsman at this Southwest Texas city of 1,000, said the river apparently crested at about 3 a.m. today and started falling slowly. He said it probably would be some time before officials could determine what effect new waters from Mexico will have. A muddy crest Sunday hit 20.5 feet here, flooding homes and rich farmland. About 25 homes on the Texas side were damaged and more than 100 families were displaced in the Ojinaga area across the river. Farmers estimated about five million dollars damage to crops and irrigated farmland from Sunday's flood. The new crest came surging down last night from the Rio Conchos in Mexico. It raised the falling river level three feet. Telegraph reports from Falmir, 80 miles inside Mexico, indicated the Florida River was at a record high level and would pour more water into the Rio Conchos. A cold front which came through here last night left the air chilly and skies overcast. Many campfires were sighted on the Mexican side of the river. Residents of the Rio Conchos Valley reportedly were hard-hit. Area residents watched the river tensely as it flowed again through homes abandoned Sunday and into the U.S. Customs Building here. Meanwhile, Sunday's crest fattened as it rolled downstream. No flood loss was expected downstream and many were more concerned about loss of irrigation water in this normally dry area. "It's a shame to waste 500,000 acre feet of water," said L. H. Hewitt of El Paso, international boundary commissioner. "We've already let 180,000 acre feet out of Falcon Dam (far down the river near the Gulf) and another 320,000 acre feet must be released in the next few days to make room for this new water. If we had Diablo Dam near Del Rio we could have saved that water for irrigation and other uses for next year." Food was running short in the Ojinaga area, but the Mexican government was expected to come to its aid. Before dawn today the front had covered all but the extreme southern tip of Texas at Brownsville. Brownsville had 75 degrees at 5 a.m. Other temperatures ranged from 62 at Houston to 56 at Fort Worth to 46 at Amarillo and 46 at Lubbock. Strong northerly winds were diminishing, but some hard winds continued along the coast, where small craft warnings were displayed from Brownsville to Mobile, Ala. Locally heavy rains fell along the coast early today, including downpours in the Corpus Christi area. Skies were mostly cloudy except for some clearing in the extreme north. A slow warming trend was expected to start in the northwest tomorrow and move south and east. Army Abandons Cut In Guard ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—The Army chief of staff says all 27 of existing National Guard divisions will be continued, each with five battle groups. The announcement Tuesday by Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor made clear that the Army was virtually abandoning its former efforts to cut back the size of the Guard. Taylor noted in a speech before the 80th annual conference of the National Guard Assn. that the Army had planned last March to reduce the Guard to 380,000 paid strength. This would have meant deactivation of six divisions and the elimination of numerous small supporting units. But the last session of Congress demanded, and the President and secretary of defense approved increasing Guard strength to 400,000, Taylor said.

Mexican, Canadian Postal Rates 'Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Post Office Department reminded its customers today postage rates to Mexico and Canada went up Aug. 1 along with those in this country. Large numbers of letters to foreign destinations, especially to Canada and Mexico, are being mailed with insufficient postage, Postmaster General Summerfield said. Mail for Canada and Mexico traditionally has taken the U. S. rates, and when domestic letter postage was increased by one cent Aug. 1, the rates to Canada and Mexico went up to four cents for surface letters and seven cents for airmail letters.

Voluntary Import Program Scored

HOUSTON (AP)—The current voluntary program to curtail oil imports was called a failure yesterday by the Texas Independent Oil Producers & Royalty Owners Assn. It added that a new program proposed in Washington cannot succeed. The executive committee of the 5,000-member group discussed the new proposal to abolish the current system of establishing quotas for individual importers. The proposed plan would distribute imports to refiners throughout the country. A committee statement said total imports of crude oil and petroleum products have increased under the existing plan while domestic production, exploration, drilling and development programs have declined. The statement said: "Oil reserves have declined for the first time in 15 years. One can hardly expect that this condition could be corrected by any plan such as that now proposed which does not effectively reduce the level of crude oil and products imports below that under which the conditions developed." TIPRO's objectives on imports are the same as those declared by Congress and the executive branch of the federal government, the group said. "The objectives are simply to maintain a healthy domestic oil industry, which will restore exploration, drilling and development to levels sufficient to increase the oil reserves so vital to our national security. "Judged by this yardstick, the existing oil imports program has failed. Judged by the same yardstick, the newly proposed plan cannot succeed."

Oil Firms Plan Irish Wildcatting

WICHITA (AP)—Two Kansas and Texas oil companies are going to go wildcatting in Ireland, the Wichita Beacon said yesterday. The paper said Messman-Rinehart Oil of Wichita and Ambassador Oil of Fort Worth are ready to take delivery on a wildcat oil and gas concession covering most of the Republic of Ireland. Roger Messman and C. B. Rinehart, owners of the Wichita firm, are flying to Ireland for final negotiations. John Miller, company geologist, said he has completed studies, but that no exploratory wells have been drilled in the country. George Collins, company attorney, took a trip to Ireland, the Beacon said, and was struck by the possibility of oil. "The more we studied," Messman said, "the more we began to realize that this was potential oil country." The most promising area, Messman said, is part of a sedimentary basin shared with England and Scotland.

Discretion Beckons For Silence

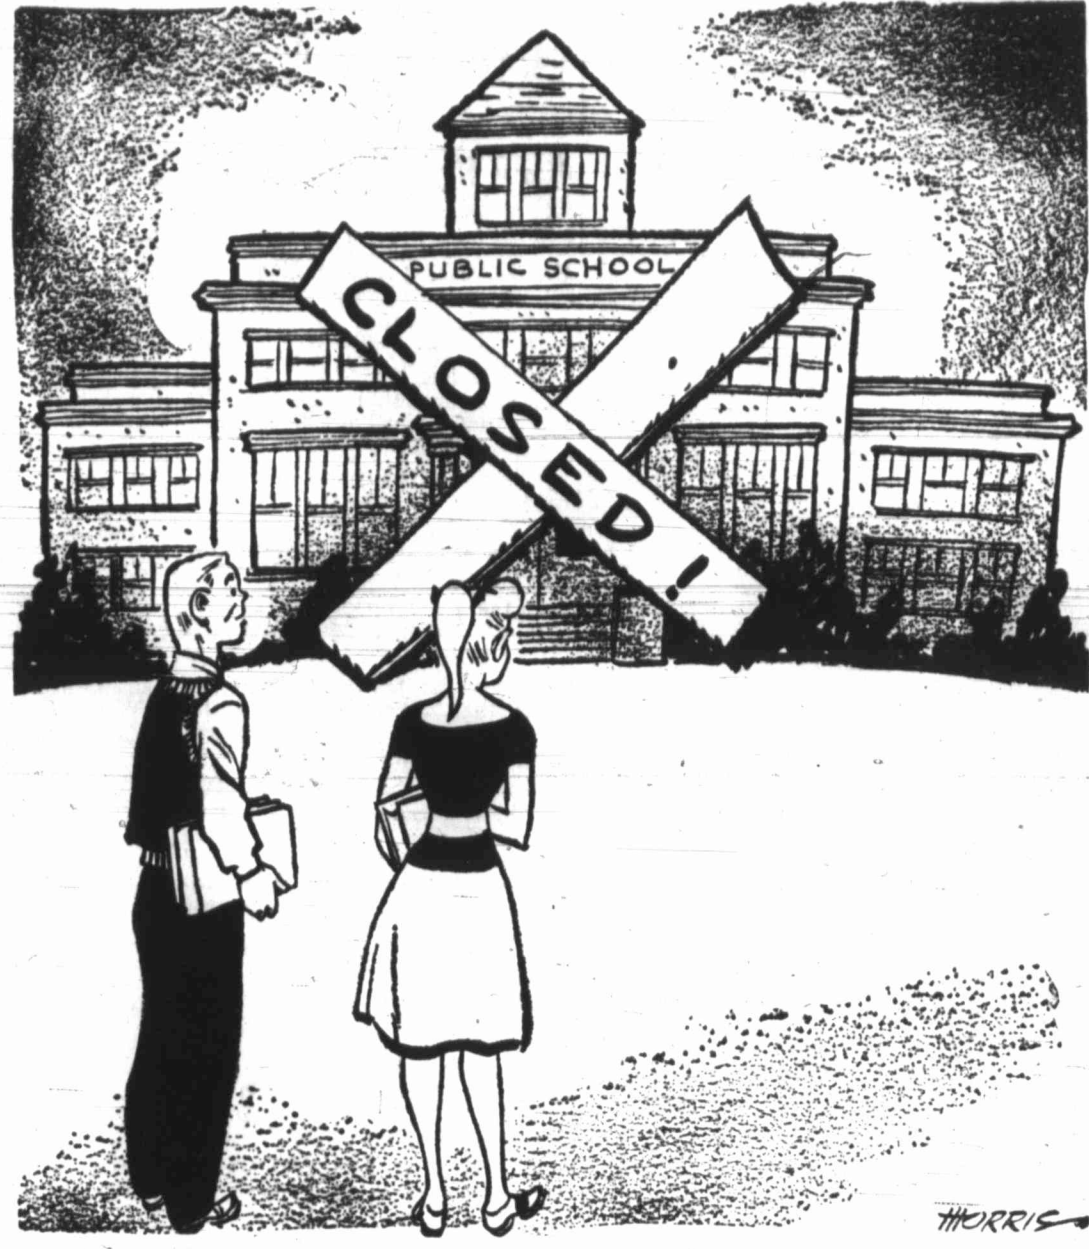

Chairman Meade Alcorn of the Republican National Committee hit the normal dull Monday morning front pages with an attack on the House subcommittee which investigated the Sherman Adams-Bernard Goldfine affair—along with a great many other questionable practices falling within the purview of its responsibility—by accusing the group of initiating a calculated plan that drove Adams from public office.

not possibly blame all of them purely on political expediency grounds, either. In the third place, trying to shove responsibility off on the Democrats for Adams' downfall is at best a defensive device, and in politics the party that goes on the defensive is licked before it starts.

France Backs "Strong President"

To no one's surprise, the people of France and all its overseas "possessions" went to the polls over a period of three days, climaxing Sunday in Metropolitan France itself, and by popular referendum approved a new Constitution and thus laid down the modus vivendi of the Fifth French Republic.

Around The Rim Keeping Up With The Times

Times have changed. Not so many years back when No. 1 boy wrote his first novel, it detailed the adventures of Jack, an intrepid cowboy bent on depopulating the Indians. Now No. 2's first novel has an entirely more modern flavor, as witness these excerpts:

FLY HIGH, O GLITCHBIRD! Hrazati 163555 read the heading on the paper of QZ-71, a special student in the War Corps of Terra. He was short for his century but had earned the distinction of having pushed back the Salutran-lean in the year of Moloing 3169. Now, after eating a filling meal of twin capsules of yeastified mist, he was, although tired, ready to work on his theory of Biscouli.

It had been five hours since the swarthy nitrogen-breather had told him where the glitchbird had hidden, but QZ-71 sat quietly outside the cave awaiting his chance. His keen vision had detected a small child out in the brush. He had to fight to overcome an urge to dehydrate it. Suddenly a large white foaming blob of slobber shot out of the cave, engulfed the child and returned to the abyss.

David Lawrence Good Reasons For Defending Formosa

WASHINGTON—American public opinion has been unwittingly misled into believing that the United States is risking war just to defend two little islands off the coast of Red China. The erroneous impression has been widely spread that, if America could only persuade our ally, the Nationalist government on Formosa, to surrender the islands of Quemoy and Matsu by negotiation with Red China, peace would come to the Far East. This is a fallacious viewpoint. The undisputed facts obtained from State Department sources here are as follows:

control of the mainland. It's morale rather than a military factor. The collapse of a nation's spirit and morale can, of course, disintegrate any army overnight.

'Tired Look' Is Outstanding Feature Of Russian Fashions

Editor's Note: Beverly DePee, 22, a full-time student at the University of Nebraska, has just returned from a visit to Russia as an exchange student. Here, written expressly for the Associated Press, is her report on women's fashions behind the Iron Curtain.

By BEVERLY DEPEE
AP Newsfeatures Writer
In Western eyes, the fashion world of the Soviet woman is just about fashionless.

It's one of shapeless dresses best described as having the "Tired Look."

One Soviet woman standing in a small group outside a puppet theatre was dressed in a blue-gray suit. The jacket had heavily padded shoulders and harsh straight lines. Essentially, it belonged in a man's wardrobe.

She wore green and white striped anklets with thick-heeled beige shoes. She wore no lipstick and no noticeable make-up, like most other Soviet women.

Next to her in the group was an elderly woman wearing a black and white voile dress reaching to the ankles and a black straw bonnet with floral trimmings.

A woman in a yellow and orange dress walked by. Despite its belted waistline, the dress appeared limp, only partly because of the rubber-tire waistline of the woman.

An evening performance of the "Swan Lake" ballet at one of Moscow's most prominent theatres brought out only two persons dressed in the style of American theatergoers. They turned out to be American tourists.

Hats, gloves and hose are seldom seen for day time wear, but black or white mesh gloves are occasionally worn for evening events.

Moscow's large department store, G.U.M., sells hose in lavender, chartreuse, gold, black and light beige for $3.50 to $4.20 a pair but few Soviet women budget for them.

At church services in Moscow only two hats were seen. Older women wore white cotton bandannas, resembling dish towels, or headscarves of bright floral prints.

Large brown or black purses often are carried by Russian women. They also serve as shopping bags.

Some women are seen frequently wearing suits resembling those of their husbands—immensely padded shoulders, long, double-breasted jackets and styleless skirts.

Older women often wear patterned dresses of lifeless navies, browns and dreary blacks. Hemlines reach the ankles.

In Alma-Ata in Central Asia, the traditional dress of Kazakh women resembles the original trapeze—with flared skirts dropping from yokes at the shoulders.

Western of the Soviet cities, women's dress more closely resembles that of the Western fashion parade.

Footwear of Soviet women is confined to three varieties—the wedge type with wide, thick heels; the higher shoes with heels much thicker than the American spikes; and the bedroom slippers.

The modesty and simplicity of dress on the streets and boulevards

Shopping Attire

Russian women shoppers stride grimly down a street in Leningrad. Fashionwise, Leningrad is the most Western of the Soviet cities, but the shapeless design of Russian fashions is still apparent.

is shed at Soviet beaches, where red, yellow and green bare-midriff bikini bathing suits explode in the visitor's eyes.

From Moscow to southern Tashkent, female sunbathers parade with bronzed shoulders, back and legs. Men often roll the short legs of their bathing suits even higher.

The shapeless attire of the Soviet woman is complemented by her escort's doleful dress—outrageous pantlegs playing hide-and-seek with his shoes; heavily padded shoulders to add to his stockiness. Some men have taken to the sewing machine to narrow their pantlegs to Western style.

But even so, nothing resembling Ivy League suits and the Paris version of the sack dress prevails in the Soviet fashion world.

Be Financially Reliant To Keep Roof Over Head

AP Newsfeatures
Women generally outlive their husbands, says Nancey B. Staub, trust officer of a New Jersey bank, and they should learn how to be financially reliant.

"You must realize," the woman banker adds, "that the roof over your head isn't permanent unless some provision has been made to take care of the mortgage in the event of his death."

There are a number of ways to do this, Mrs. Staub says. "Term insurance is one. A plan that reduces with the mortgage is the most popular. Under this plan the largest part of the payments are made during the years when the husband's income can meet the payments. If he doesn't live out the insurance term, the mortgage is paid off when he dies."

One out of every two women who become widows can expect to live 20 or more years, Mrs. Staub says, and she strongly urges all women to have basic business education.

"If they don't use it in actual business later," she points out, "they can use it in everyday life—just doing budgets at home or learning how to make good use of surplus cash."

It's a great mistake for a husband to keep his wife in ignorance of his finances, Mrs. Staub says, and she offers the following suggestions to wives:

1. If you've had no previous business experience, learn how your husband handles family budget matters. Keep the family checking account. Ask your husband to point out how he takes care of these matters.

2. Learn a job you can fall back on. There is great security in knowing you can make your own way. A job can keep your mind active, too, during trying days after a loss.

3. Get to know the people who

THE W. G. LILLARD FARM HOME
Place situated in Brown community

AREA'S 'PEA KING'

W. G. Lillard Believes In Returning Something To Soil

W. G. Lillard's perpetual battle with the sand has given rise to some interesting philosophies about farming in this country. One is that once you get a planting rain you better not look back until you get the job done. "I've watched it over the years," he says. "When you get that planting rain in the spring, you can just bet that in 36 or 48 hours you're going to get a sandstorm. Once I start out, I go clear across that field."

When all three children were home, the two older ones and Lillard planted 280 acres in two days and a night of continuous operation. He had his land deep broken with a heavy rig once, and now every couple or three years he goes in and rebreaks to about 14-18 inches deep. This keeps the soil in good condition and yet doesn't turn up so much clay that the ground won't soak up the rain. A firm believer in putting something back in the soil, he probably is the only operator in this area about whom this statement could be made. "A feller I figure is an expert made some tests and told me I didn't need any nitrogen supplement for my soil."

Small wonder, because since 1943 he has been planting blackeyed peas on a large scale. Right now he has in about 110 acres of cotton and 150 acres of peas. Usually he sells them as dry peas—once getting as high as 15 cents a pound.

Sometimes green pea buyers buy part of the crop. In 1947 he planted 250 acres, had 60 acres of peas on another place and then harvested 150 acres more on the halves. He was practically the pea king. He doesn't think it makes much difference if you turn the peas vines under green or dry. "It's those (nitrogen) nodules on the roots that count," he says. What effect this has on his cotton is interesting, for usually he had good yields. His present crop is going to beat half a bale to the acre by a good margin, and from planting time until August he had no rain. He works the place with one 4-row tractor. From the time he bought the place, he has farmed with a tractor and he doesn't think you could farm it now with mules as was the case when he moved on the place in 1934. You just couldn't get over it fast enough. Lillard was married to Miss Beulah Mitchell in Whit in 1923. They came to this country in December of 1925 and since 1926 have been farming in Martin County. Their half section farm—last week's Mystery Farm in the Herald—was in the Brown community.

Driver Study

AUSTIN (AP)—A commission of educators met today to begin a study of safety and driver education in Texas public schools.

Preliminary Air Terminal Plans Are Completed

Pucket & French, Big Spring architects, have completed preliminary plans for the Howard County Airport administration building and have handed the plans to R. H. Weaver, county judge. Weaver will probably go over the design with the county commissioners at their meeting next Monday. The proposed building will be one story, built with brick facing, and 94 by 40 feet in size. There will be facilities in it for all operations of the airport—including an office for the commercial airlines and a snack bar. It was specified in the instructions to the architects that the building must be one that could be constructed and stay inside $50,000. This is all the money the county will have to spend on the building and there is no hope that any additional funds from the Civil Aeronautics Authority can be expected. The airport is being built with county and CAA money. The CAA contract with the county does not provide any funds for buildings on the site. The federal money has to be used exclusively in building runways, installing lighting, drainage and other construction needs.

Bouncing Checks Bring $1,000

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Robert L. Cowan is $1,000 richer because two of his checks bounced. Cowan sued his bank, contending $118 he deposited was improperly credited to another account. Later, he said, the bank refused to honor two of his checks in the erroneous belief he had no funds. A Circuit Court jury Tuesday awarded Cowan $1,000.

Guinea Doesn't Want 'Divorce'

PARIS (AP)—"We want a free and dignified marriage and not divorce," said the troubled Premier of newly independent Guinea. "We don't want independence against France, but rather with her," the handsome, black-sulited Negro leader explained to a reporter in his distant capital at Conakry. Results of the Sept. 28 French constitutional referendum from the rain-swept tropical countryside showed a margin of 40-1 against Gen. Charles de Gaulle's constitution. Sekou Toure, a former French trading company junior clerk whose ancestors helped found the 13th century African Mali Empire, had told his followers to vote "No." "Tom-toms beat out the word. The white ballots (yes) meant white Frenchmen. Dark purple ballots (no) meant the black man. Purple won. So today 36-year-old Toure has his own little empire, an aluminum and iron ore-rich nation on Africa's west coast. True to his promise to any territory which voted down his constitution, De Gaulle gave Guinea its sovereignty at midnight Tuesday. But already, Sekou Toure (pronounced Say-coo Touray) is having second thoughts about the freedom of his own shaping. Frenchmen, running Guinea's customs, postal, telegraph, phone and radio services, and French teachers, will decide in two months whether they want to go home or work for Toure. French army units will pull out within three months, leaving internal and external security to Guinea. French aid, which has totaled more than 15 billion francs (33 million dollars) in the past 10 years, will be cut off. This leaves Sekou Toure pretty much alone with his 2 1/2 million

Medics Study Cancer Mimics

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Philadelphia radiologists said today a number of noncancerous conditions in the upper part of the stomach can mimic cancer. Doctors should be wary of jumping too quickly to diagnostic conclusions, Dr. George T. Wohl and Dr. Lea Shore said in a report prepared for the 89th annual meeting of the American Roentgen Ray Society. Diagnosis of cancer in the upper end of the stomach has long been a challenge to radiologists, they said. Numerous X-ray pictures from various angles often must be taken and the results compared with the physical symptoms presented by the patient. Even then, the doctors said, surgical exploration of the stomach may be needed to rule definitely whether cancer is or is not present. Among noncancerous conditions which may be present, they said, are benign tumors, ulcers and postoperative deformities. Pressure from such normal structures as the liver, spleen or kidney can also cause diagnostic signs and symptoms mimicking cancer, they said.

Ford After 1st Win On Road

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Two of baseball's greatest left-handers—Milwaukee's Warren Spahn and New York's Whitey Ford—were expected to make the opener of the 1958 World Series a sizzling pitchers' duel today.

Despite the fact that the Series was opening in Milwaukee and Ford had not won a single of his five Series triumphs away from Yankee Stadium, the Yankees ruled 5 1/2-5 to win the first game and 7-5 to capture the Series.

President was a gainst the Braves. No National League champion has been able to win two October classics in succession since the New York Giants whipped Miller Huggins' Yankees in 1921 and 1922.

Since then the Yankees have won 17 world championships in 21 tries. They bowed to the Braves, however, in the last one, in seven games.

Yankee Manager Casey Stengel, still smarting from that loss, blamed it on some bad advice he had received from National League friends. He vowed this time to follow his own judgment.

Stengel didn't disclose his ideas. Earlier he had hinted strongly that Elston Howard would be in right field in place of Hank Bauer, who had a sore left wrist. Stengel then watched Bauer slam several line drives in batting practice and remarked, "It's up to him."

Another factor in Stengel's change of mind could have been Hank's World Series record. He has hit safely in his last 14 Series games.

Inserting Howard in left field and benching rookie Norm Siebern was a surprise. Siebern has been one of the most consistent of Yankee hitters, finishing with a .300 average.

Howard, of course, bats right-handed and Siebern left-handed. The fact that a southpaw was to pitch for Milwaukee undoubtedly dictated Casey's thinking.

Manager Fred Haney of the Braves stuck to his guns. He said he wasn't going to name his starting lineup until just before the game and he didn't.

The Spahn-Ford duel was a rematch of last year's opener, won by the 29-year-old Yankee 3-1. The two didn't meet again, although Spahn won his next start and Ford lost his, a 1-0 heartbreaker to Burdette.

Stengel was doubly anxious to win this Series because another triumph would give him seven, tying him with Joe McCarthy, another Yankee pilot, with seven victories, a record. Haney, however, was out to become the first National League manager to beat Stengel twice.

Haney, ordinarily a man who says little, has even less to say about the Series.

"I think we'll win, naturally, but it's going to be a tough struggle all the way. I think we're as evenly matched as two teams can be. Why, we even finished with the same won and lost record. I look for breaks to decide it. Naturally, I hope the breaks fall our way."

Howard, in left field, was a surprise. Siebern has been one of the most consistent of Yankee hitters, finishing with a .300 average.

MEXICAN WINS OVER CHARLES

JUAREZ, Mexico (P)—Edward Charles, showing only rare flashes of the form which took him to the world heavyweight boxing throne, absorbed a 10-round pounding last night and dropped a unanimous decision to a virtual unknown, Alfredo Zuanzy of Juarez.

The National Boxing Assn. has been trying to suspend Charles because of alleged falling eyesight, and last night the former champion appeared to be groping along, feeling for the head of his foe.

Apparently fighting an instinct and heart, he managed to land several good blows in the ninth and cut Zuanzy's nose.

Zuanzy appeared to have Charles near a knockout several times in the final two rounds, but the former champion finished smiling.

Zuanzy weighed 198 and Charles 199.

Grid Injuries May Pull Down Odds On Games

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

One of the three great equalizers in college football the injury — is making the experts take a long look at Saturday's games.

Incentive and mud — the oldest two — are always a hazard in picking the winners, but the return or loss of key players in mid-week makes things more interesting.

That could be the case at Dartmouth Saturday where Penn. a 35-0 loser last week to Penn State must face the Indians without Fred Dolling, their right halfback who twisted an ankle. Dolling led the Quakers' ground offense last year with 51 yards. Penn's center John Marchiano is also out.

At Auburn, a 12-point early favorite, lost tackle Bill Pettway, perhaps for the season, with a knee injury in the Lafayette game.

Illinois, a three-point favorite, goes out of the Big Ten to Durham, N.C. for a battle against the Atlantic Coast Conference's Duke and will have to get along with only limited service, at least, from captain and fullback Jack Delveaux. He pulled a leg muscle against UCLA while quarterback Bob Hickey got a sprained ankle that caused Coach Ray Eliot to move sophomore John Esterbrook to No. 1 quarterback.

Purdue, worried enough with Rice's powerful offense, will probably be without first string quarterback Bob Spoo, out with bruised ribs caused by a Nebraska game. The Bollermakers are 7 points favorite against the Owls.

Pitt has been listed an early 6 1/2 point favorite over Minnesota's Gophers. But the Panthers still don't know the status of quarterback Bill Kaldien, who has a bruised instep, Ivan Tonicic, a pulled rib muscle, and halfback Bill Haley, a sprained ankle.

Ohio State will be the favorite over the Washington Huskies Saturday, but the absence of Buckeye quarterback Frank Kremblas could take its toll. Kremblas' passing gave Woody Hayes boys a sudden shift from his ground offense in their 23-20 Southern Methodist victory.

Any hopes Indiana, a six-point underdog, had of catching West Virginia, still down after its 47-14 blasting by Oklahoma, were dimmed with the return of Mountaineer quarterback Dick Longfellow.

Though he played his team's first game, Michigan fullback John Herrstein, an injury victim most of 1957, is still the key for the Wolverines against Michigan State. The Spartans are 13 point favorites, but Herrstein is looked on as the possible equalizer.

He duped his entire 1957 output with 144 yards gained against Southern California last week, scoring two touchdowns.

Oklahoma, Auburn, Buckeyes Favored

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP)—If you hit for .300 in the World Series you are a champ. If you hit for less than .300 in football selections you are a chump. Last week's record was 42 correct and 13 wrong for .764.

Here are this weekend's winners:

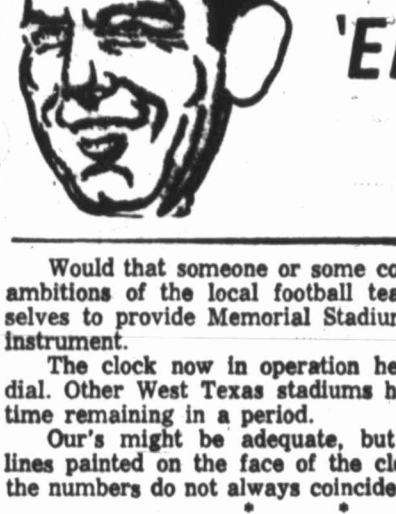

Oklahoma over Oregon: That new ball-bearing offense of the Sooners finds Oregon no more difficult than West Virginia last week.

Auburn over Chattanooga: Auburn held Tennessee to minus yardage last weekend.

Washington over California: This game follows the World Series on your TV.

Ohio State over Washington: The Buckeye infantry should prevail even if Frank Kremblas doesn't heal in time.

Michigan State over Michigan: This is a family war but Michigan State's sophomores are the pick even though Michigan boasts one of the country's best plungers in John Herrstein.

Would that someone or some concern sympathetic to the aims and ambitions of the local football team take it upon himself or herself to provide Memorial Stadium here with a new football timing instrument.

The clock now in operation here is about as effective as a sundial. Other West Texas stadiums have timing devices which give the time remaining in a period.

Our's might be adequate, but for one drawback. The diagonal lines painted on the face of the clock are not prominent enough and the numbers do not always coincide with the lines they represent.

The spectators at local games would get a better break, too. If (1) the numbering system on the game programs were always consistent; and (2) the loudspeakers were aimed so that the sound bounced off the field before it reaches the ears of the listeners.

As it is, the speakers on one side of the field pick up the words of the announcer a fraction of a second after the units on the other side of the field have carried them, with the result that it sounds like an echo.

Jackie Hawthorne, who starred as a quarterback for Port Neches at Big Spring in that 1953 state playoff game at Port Neches, suffered a dislocated shoulder for Texas A&M against Texas Tech a couple of weeks ago and is out for the season.

Hawthorne was being used as a blocking back by Coach Jim Myers and was playing immediately behind Dick Gay.

The American Automobile Association has come out with a strong recommendation that automobile racing be banned throughout the country.

John J. Cavanaugh, president of the Chicago Motor Club, blames auto racing for a good many of the nation's 38,000 traffic fatalities last year.

He explained his statement by adding: "Auto racing causes impressionable spectators to get a glorified idea of speed and recklessness. Spectators at auto races are largely teen-agers and juvenile delinquents."

Glenn Morrison, probably the only athletic coach in Texas ever to have his salary cut and his classroom load increased after he had won a state championship, may eventually return as basketball mentor at Decatur College.

Morrison is now selling insurance but there is a movement under way at the Baptist school to restore him to the job.

Morrison is one of the most popular figures in Decatur. He ran a kids' athletic program there during the summer months.

Johnny Stone, who now resides here, was in professional baseball from 1938 through 1952, with time out during World War II, during which time he served in the Navy Seabees.

Stone got his start under Jodie Tate, later a Big Spring manager, at Wink in '38. Stone enjoyed his biggest season in 1947, at which time he hit .395 and drove in 168 runs although he wasn't batting 'cleanup.' He was with Henderson of the old East Texas League at the time.

Johnny had joined Henderson the previous year, having been traded by Texarkana on June 27. Up until he changed uniforms that year, he was hitting only .240 but improved enough after switching teams to wind up with a .340 average, which means he hit well over 400 once he joined Henderson.

Stone also played with Clovis, N. M., Wilmington, Del., Opelousas, La., and Tyler before he hung up his spikes.

Johnny grew up at Linden, Texas, near the Louisiana border, where he first showed the speed that distinguished him as one of the fastest players in the minor leagues. He won both the 100 and 220-yard dashes in the district meet while in high school, also performed at halfback on the football team.

His son, Johnny Jr., is active in the Little League program here.

Pinkie's presently leads the way in the Ladies Classic bowling league, and holds a 2 1/2 game spread over second place Cosden.

This week Pinkie's doused Cosden's Independents, 3-1, while Anthony's was mauling Neel's Transfer, 3-1. Carlos was losing to 7-Up, 3-1, and as Big Spring Tamale and Tortilla was edging Alexander's 3-1.

Cosden managed the high team game 834, and second high series, 2222. Pinkie's had the second high game, 814, and high series, 2383.

Dot Hood, Knoop's Cosden, scored a 506 high individual series, and Sugar Brown of Schafer's Cosden bowled a 205 high game. Second best series pinsman was Sugar Brown with 505. June White, BSTT, had a 193 for the next best high game.

Splits were converted by Moe Cauble, Alexander's, 3-8; Mary Ann Taylor, Alexander's, 4-5; Nadelle Steakley, BSTT, 6-10-7; June White, BSTT, 2-7; Lola Slavin, BSTT, 3-10; Maxine Ryan, Neel's

DEAR ABBY
FOR THE BIRDS!
 By ABIGAL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who has a parakeet that really talks, but this is the only parakeet I have ever been able to understand. I asked her how she trained the bird to talk and she said in the first place make sure you have a male bird because female birds do not make a sound. Then she said to put the bird in a teapot and whisper down the spout whatever it is you want the bird to learn. She told me this with a straight face. What I want to know is—was she kidding me?

BOBBI: I have never heard of teaching a parakeet to talk in this manner and unless somebody has been kidding ME, the female of any species can outtalk the male.

DEAR ABBY: I have been corresponding with a young lady across the ocean for two years. I am 30 and she is 27. We have never met in person but I think I have fallen in love with her. We have exchanged so many letters and pictures that I feel that I know her very well. She wants me to send her the money for a ticket to come here. My friends say I am foolish because a gift of this kind is almost a promise of marriage. Is it possible to fall in love with words and pictures and what should I do about her insistence that I send her the money?

HJALMER: It is possible to fall in love with words and pictures, but not very practical. For the same amount of money and no obligations you can go over there and meet this girl. I recommend it.

DEAR ABBY: I am fifteen years old and asked to go to the movies (at night) with a boy. My mother gives me money and tells me to pay my own way because then I won't owe him anything and I won't have to kiss him good-night. I always bring the money home because the boy doesn't let me pay. I have kissed a few boys good night, but it wasn't to pay them back for the movie, it was because I liked them. I am a good girl and never hold a kiss more than a few seconds and I want to know if you think I should put up a bigger fight when the boy wants to pay my way? GOOD GIRL: When a boy asks to take you to a movie, he expects to pay your way and would probably feel insulted if you "put up a fight." You seem to have good sense. Just keep on doing what you're doing and let your conscience be your guide.

DEAR ABBY: How do you break a child of playing with and biting extension cords? I would appreciate anything anyone knows about it. My 14-month-old child is continually playing with extension cords and today he bit into one and got a mild shock. I have spanked him and fussed at him until I want to tear my hair out but to no avail. Can anyone help me?

MYRT: a child of 14 months shouldn't be allowed to crawl around where he can get his hands on extension cords. He is teething... give him a teething ring and keep him off the floor unless he is in a playpen. You are lucky he didn't electrocute himself.

CONFIDENTIAL TO TOMMY: There is no such thing as "FREE LOVE". Somebody always has to pay for it. It's usually the woman.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of The Big Spring Herald. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

If you want a collection of Abby's best letters and answers in one book, ask your bookseller to get "DEAR ABBY" for you.

Detroit Polio Toll Reaches 499

DETROIT (AP)—Seventeen new polio cases were reported in Detroit Tuesday bringing the city's 1958 case load to 499. There have been 16 deaths attributed to polio this year.

More than 21,000 persons received low-cost Salk vaccine shots at nine city-operated clinics in two days as health authorities continued to fight the epidemic.

City-County Health Commissioner Joseph Molner said none of this year's fatalities had received the Salk vaccine.

Mother Faints, Infant Drowns

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A baby drowned in a bathtub at his home yesterday after his mother became dizzy and fainted.

Clayton Droemer, 11 months, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Droemer.

Det. Frank Castellion said Mrs. Droemer was bathing Clayton and his brother, Edward, 2½, in about 3 inches of water. She left them playing and went into the kitchen where she became dizzy and fainted. She found the boy dead in the bathtub.

Screaming German Kids Meet Elvis

BREMERHAVEN, Germany (AP)—Five hundred screaming youngsters turned out today to greet Elvis Presley—but the Army kept them well separated.

Presley, an Army private, was one of 1,300 soldiers arriving on the troopship General Randall.

U. S. military police and German police kept order among the kids—mostly girls about 12 or 13.

Presley, 23-year-old rock 'n' roll singer, was about the 100th man off the ship and he was whisked quickly into a waiting troop train.

Senator (For Once) Gets No-Job Plea

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—Most politicians are deluged with job requests, but Sen. Anderson (D-NM) has a different problem.

Mrs. Ruth Nelson wrote Anderson from Mount Edgecumbe, Alaska, asking him to help her quit the postmaster's job she has held since 1947.

Her husband now is living in Las Cruces and employed at White Sands missile range. She wants to join him, so last July she sent in her resignation.

She was told she would continue to be held responsible for the office, even though she left it on leave without pay and with a clerk in charge.

Mrs. Nelson wants the Post Office Department to name a successor.

San Antonio Symphony Will Open Concert Season Oct. 23

The Big Spring Concert Assn. has chosen one of the finest musical organizations of the nation—the San Antonio Symphony—to open the current season.

There could hardly be a more solid choice, based upon the reputation given the San Antonio orchestra only a few seasons ago when it was interspersed between two appearances of the Dallas symphony.

In Victor Allesandro, the Texas-born and reared conductor, they found a warm, down-to-earth personality who exercised rare control over the tenderest shadings of his musicians. The players themselves had more animation and rapport than most artists of their calibre.

No less a personage than the late, great Arturo Toscanini pronounced the orchestra as outstanding, and since then many of the leading conductors of the nation (and world) have echoed his sentiments. Innumerable opera luminaries who have been lured to the San Antonio Opera Festival have had high praise for Allesandro and his musicians.

The symphony orchestra will be here on Oct. 23.

Much of the credit for the fine record of the orchestra is due Allesandro. From the time he was a youngster in knee pants, he has been conducting bands and orchestras. Once as a chubby leader of "Child Band" he tugged at the coat-tails of Sousa until the master came and listened. He predicted some day young Victor would be a great conductor—and how right he was.

In 1956 the Alice M. Ditson Award for "distinguished service to American music" went to Allesandro.

Born in Waco 42 years ago, he

Stickney Jury Half Completed

HOUSTON (AP)—The jury was half completed today for the murder trial of Howard Stickney.

Stickney, a former Highway Department employee, is charged with murdering Mrs. Clifford Barnes, whose nude body was found in her Houston apartment May 27. Stickney also is accused of killing her husband, but is not being tried in that case.
