Miss Martha Scoggins Died, Following Operation

Miss Martha Scoggins, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Scoggins died in the Mayo hospital in Rochester, Minn. Wednesday morning at 9 a. m., the news of her death sent in a telegram to Mr. Ace Hickman by Rev. Scoggins.

The body will be brought back to Baird, accompanied by Rev. and Mrs. Scoggins, who were with their daughter. They will arrive today on the Sunshine Special. Funeral services will be held at the Methodist Church of which Rev. Scoggins is pastor sometime Saturday. The hour will be announced later. The body will probably be carried to Wellington, the former home of the family, for burial.

Miss Scoggins, who was a student in McMurry college, Abilene became ill some weeks ago, suffering with what was believed to be a tumor at the base of the brain. She was carried to Mayo clinic Tuesday, a week ago and on last Monday underwent an operation for the removal of the tumor. Surgeons had given the family little hope for the recovery of Miss Scoggins from the beginning of her illness.

Freddie Hawk Dies At Sudan

Freddie Hawk, 14 year old son of Joe Hawk, died at Sudan Tuesday. Freddie was a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. M. Pearce, of Adm. and a nephew of Mrs. Jack Flores and Dewey Pearce of Baird and Jodie Pearce, of Belle Plain.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Pearce and Mr. and Mrs. Jodie Pearce attended the funeral, which was held at Sudan at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Survivors are, his father, Joe Hawk, a former resident of Adm. one sister and four brothers J. L., Pauline, Nate, Weldon and Melvin Hawk. His mother, the former Lurline Pearce, died four years ago.

Wednesday Club

"Dwight L. Moody, the man as Paul Moody knew him" was the subject discussed by the Wednesday Club as their initial program of the Atlantic Monthly Panel Plan.

Mrs. Blackburn, as leader, opened the discussion; Mrs. White depicted the difference in the style of biographies of the nineteenth and the twentieth century; Moody, the Evangelist was discussed by Mrs. Atchison; Mrs. Shortsketched "Moody in the Home". A general discussion was entertained. This type of program proves to be both interesting and educational.

Mrs. C. B. Holmes, a former member, was a guest. Seventeen members of the club answered roll call.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. C. W. Coats.

Clyde Drilling Block

Bill Webb has been very active in his present efforts to assemble a drilling block east of Clyde. We are advised that he has succeeded in leasing all but a few small tracts and that the owners of these tracts are holding up the deal.

We are told that Walker & Webb have a new rig engaged to move in immediately. Unless the landowners cooperate with Webb in getting a satisfactory solid block, the deal will in all probability be abandoned in favor of another block where the problem of assembly is much less difficult.

We understand that the majority of the landowners are anxious to have a well. It would be too bad to pass up this opportunity for a real test with a fast new set tools capable of going 4,000, if necessary, to reach the big pay which many believe exists under the Clyde block.

Mrs. E. F. Mayfield, who is a patient in the Methodist hospital in Fort Worth, is reported improving nicely.

Red Cross To Begin Work On Tuberculin Program

The Callahan County Chapter of the Red Cross, met in the County Commissioners' court room Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock with the Superintendents of the County High Schools to discuss with them the program of giving the tuberculin test to high school children.

The Red Cross Committee have been advised by other counties who are now carrying on this program and also by the State Health department to start with a small unit and it was decided at this meeting to start, program with high school students and begin the work the first week in November. The test will be given students in all grades later.

The Red Cross will conduct a campaign for the purpose of education of the people concerning the importance of finding the early causes of tuberculosis.

All organizations and individual interested in health is urged to cooperate with the Red Cross in this undertaking.

Mrs. L. L. Blackburn of Baird, is Chairman of the nursing committee in charge of this campaign. Nat Williams Supt. of Baird High School Mrs. Wm. Fetterly and Mrs. Ace Hickman were appointed as a publicity committee.

Cotton Receipts Must Be Delivered To Co. Agent At Once

Buyers' receipts for cotton from 1937 crop sold prior to September 15th must be mailed or delivered in person to the county agent not later than September 30th. Buyers' receipts for cotton sold after date of sale. Pending receipt of government forms producers should secure original sales receipts from the buyers showing date of sale, name and address of producer, number and gross weight of the bale, and the signature and address of the buyer. It is most important that everything enumerated above be carried out to the letter if producers expect to share in the Cotton Price Adjustment Program which will pay the producer the difference between the ten-spot market quotations each day and 12 cents for the cotton that is sold.

Since receipts for all cotton ginned during September must be in the office by September 30th it is necessary that each farmer bring or send his receipts in as soon as he reads this article. We hope that every farmer will do this so that he may not be disappointed if he brings in his receipts at a later date. We have files in the office where the farmers receipts will probably be safer than they would be at his home.

KLAN ISSUE DOGS BLACK

Newspapers Claim Proof He's Life Member... Fleet Stalks Submarine Pirates... Japs' Big Push Starts

Edward W. Pickard SUMMARIZES THE WORLD'S WEEK

Fiery Cross Haunts Justice

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT suffered what was probably the most embarrassing period of his entire political career as the whole country stormed over the publishing of what was claimed as documentary proof that Hugo L. Black, recently appointed a justice of the Supreme court, was and is a member of the Ku Klux Klan.

HANDS ACROSS EUROPE Jointly refusing to attend the anti-'piracy' conference, Hitler (left) and Mussolini once more show the complete accord of the two Fascist governments.

Implications of the revelations, if they are true, are manifold. President Roosevelt asserted that he had no knowledge that Black was a member of the Klan when the appointment was made. He refused to comment further until Black returned from Europe, where he was vacationing.

It was admitted that since Black had already taken his oath of office there might be no means of correcting the appointment other than by influencing him to resign.

Showdown on 'Sub' Piracy

GREAT BRITAIN and France were massing the greatest destroyer fleet ever operated in the Mediterranean sea, to police it and safeguard neutral shipping from attacks by "pirate" submarines.

M. Litvinoff

Italy and Germany had refused to attend the conference when Russia publicly accused Italy of operating the "pirate" submarines which sank two Russian ships, and threatened reprisals if Italy did not pay indemnity.

The principal provisions of the agreement, which Germany and Italy were invited to join, were: 1. Mediterranean shipping will be restricted to the regular ship lanes.

2. Patrolling navies will attack and attempt to destroy any submarine which attacks merchant ships other than Spanish, without first giving passengers and crew opportunity to leave in lifeboats.

3. Signatories expressly declare that they do not concede belligerent rights to either party in Spain.

4. Patrol ships arriving on the scene of an attack too late to prevent it will be authorized to attack any submarine in the vicinity, provided they are satisfied it is the guilty one.

5. These measures will be executed by the British and French fleets anywhere in the Mediterranean with the exception of the Adriatic.

The Big Book Craze. SANTA MONICA, CALIF.—We're promised a historical novel longer than any yet—say half a million words or so.

I can't take it. While still convalescent from "Anthony Adverse," I was stricken down by "Gone With the Wind" and had such a relapse that even now I barely can hold on to my stomach such comparatively light and trifling stuff as volume VET to ZYM of the encyclopedia.

When reading this modern bulk literature, it upsets me to find my legs going to sleep before I do. And the constant pressure makes callouses on my second mezzanine landing.

I admit these mass production books serve nicely as door stoppers and for pressing wild flowers. I also heard of a chap who detected a prowler under his window and dropped a frothy little work of fiction weighing slightly less than ten pounds on the back of the fellow's neck.

In my present mood, what I crave is the romantic stuff of olden days, in which our sainted Aunt Sophie was wont to inscribe "Alas, how so!" or "Only too true!" in pale violet ink on the margins.

Children's Education I LIKE the way the wealthy classes in England rear their children. Little Rosemary doesn't recite for the company after dinner.

WORTH WATCHING Incidentally, McNinch is an interesting figure in politics—well worth watching. He was an up and coming cog in the Furnifold Simmons machine in North Carolina, years ago.

SEEN and HEARD around the NATIONAL CAPITAL By Carter Field

Washington.—Frank R. McNinch, the new chairman of the power commission, is apparently trying to frighten the electric industry into reducing rates.

This revelation of unparalleled growth and prosperity is the answer to those devotees of that ancient superstition of hydromancy who gazed at the water of a few hydro plants the government was building and predicted the destruction of the private power industry.

It is both interesting and significant," Mr. McNinch said later, "to note that, as electric rates have gone down, production and consumption have gone up. It has been and is a short-sighted policy to keep electric rates 'as high as the tariff will bear.'

Incidentally, McNinch is an interesting figure in politics—well worth watching. He was an up and coming cog in the Furnifold Simmons machine in North Carolina, years ago.

But then came 1928, and the nomination of Al Smith by the Democrats. Simmons snickered. Hat in hand, McNinch called on his old chief.

Normally, in a rebellion, the leaders get short shrift. But in a revolution they come into power. In the South the fellows who won, back in 1928, and who carried Virginia, North Carolina, Florida, Texas, Kentucky, Tennessee and Oklahoma for Hoover, had their reward in political banishment and popular dislike.

Herbert C. Hoover seemed to feel no gratitude to any one in the South who had risked his political future for him.

Most convincing of this was Vice-President John Nance Garner. The importance of all this now is that every member of both house and senate knows the whole story.

Patrick J. Boland, Democratic whip of the house, is not as well known to the general public as he deserves. The title carries the idea to most folks of a sort of sergeant-at-arms, or call boy, who rounds up the congressmen for a vote.

each other pretty well, and usually form rather accurate judgments of each other's ability, entirely aside from any previous records, and it becomes obvious that Mr. Boland has something.

Now President Roosevelt very definitely wants power included in the seven TVA's legislation. So does Senator George W. Norris, daddy of the original TVA.

Now, of course, all the senators and representatives, whether at home or taking a holiday, are engaged in their normal between-sessions function of holding their ears to the ground.

In 1930 there was a vacancy in the Scranton, Pennsylvania, congressional district. Largely a hard coal mining district, it should, on cold logic, be wet.

It developed that no one of the candidates for the Republican nomination was really wet politically.

But a little later Boland decided to enter the Republican primary as well as the Democratic.

But he was finally convinced that not all the strength the administration could bring to bear would result in passing the kind of sugar bill he wanted even if he vetoed the present bill and called an extra session.

Floyd Gibbons' ADVENTURERS' CLUB HEADLINES FROM THE LIVES OF PEOPLE LIKE YOURSELF!

"A Swim in the Ocean" By FLOYD GIBBONS Famous Headline Hunter

HELLO EVERYBODY: Here's the story of an adventure that almost ruined a girl's career. That's the way Grace Stoner of New York City looks at it, anyway.

But if you left it up to me, I'd put it a little more strongly than Grace put it. I'd say that adventure came doggone near ruining Grace.

Maybe in mentioning her career, Grace was talking about the thing that mattered most. Grace is a dancer, and I've heard it said that dancers take their careers mighty seriously.

It happened in Corinto Harbor. Grace was off on a cruise when it happened. The ship was anchored in Corinto harbor about a mile from shore.

A bunch of the young folks aboard the steamer were splashing around in the tiny improvised pool, rigged up out of wooden frame-work and waterproof canvas on the afterdeck.

In a nice cool bathing suit, and with half a dozen handsome young fellows around her, Grace ought to have been happy.

Grace mentioned her idea to the young Central American students. And that's what started all the trouble. The boys laughed at her.

It made Grace see red. They couldn't talk like that to her just because she was a girl.

Behind her, the boys crowded to the rail, shouting and gesticulating. Grace wondered what they were making all the fuss about.

She was halfway across when she noticed a commotion ashore. A bunch of the people had formed in an excited knot there.

Grace decided to have some fun with them. When the canoe was about two-hundred yards away she put on a sudden spurt, swerved, and swam away from it.

And then—she saw it. Ahead of her a dark, triangular fin was cutting the water, coming straight for her.

For a second or two, Grace was paralyzed with fright. She was closer—much closer—to that shark than to the canoe.

Then, suddenly, Grace collected her wits again. She lit off for that canoe with a speed that would have shamed an Olympic champion.

When she reached that canoe, the shark was just ONE YARD behind her. One man hauled her hastily into the boat while the other beat the shark off with a paddle.

"Signposts of the Sea" Must Be Kept in Order The ocean highways need as much repair and patching as the roads on land.

Naturally enough, most damage is incurred during the winter, when conditions are at their worst, and when it is not uncommon for the crews of lightships and lighthouses to be cut off from the land for a month or so.

A large number of buoys are always kept ready at an instant's notice at the depots, and if a wreck occurs, wreck buoys are at once taken out to mark the site.

As a rule the small buoys are brought in for overhaul annually, the large ones every three years.

1938 A. A. A. PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

Tentative plans for the 1938 A. A. A. Program have been announced this week by Secretary Wallace. The average acreage from 1928 to 1937 of all soil depleting crops amounted to about 275 million and 290 million acres. Every state, every county, and each individual is expected to carry out his pro rata share of this goal that introduces a new term for our future programs—goals.

County goals for corn, cotton, and peanuts will be designated for Callahan. County goals will be based on the average acreage grown in this county and adjusted when necessary to the trends in acreage and the recommendations of the county agricultural committee.

In establishing individual goals the county committee will consider tillable acreage on the farm type of soil, topography, production facilities, crop rotation system, acreage customarily grown on the farm and acreages of food crops needed for home consumption. County committees will establish soil building goals for individual farms taking into consideration the needs for terracing, contour listing, soil conserving crops improvement of pastures to prevent loss from wind or water erosion. These goals can be met by maintaining soil conserving crops and by the use of soil building practices adapted to the needs of each county. Under previous programs separate rates were established for diverting from soil building practice. In 1938, however, the maximum payment for each producer will be calculated at the beginning of the crop year and the attainment of the soil depleting crop goal and soil building goal will be set as conditions of full payment. Every producer will know what he must do for complete cooperation. This should encourage more farmers to enter the program and should result in a greater degree of compliance and ease of administration.

METHODS OF PAYMENT

Payments will be made for staying within the farmers soil depleting crop goal and for achieving the soil building goal. These payments will be calculated as follows:

- (1) $1.50 per acre, adjusted for the productive of the farm, for each acre in the general soil-depleting crop goal.
- (2) 10 cents per bushel of the farm's normal yield per acre of corn for each acre in the corn goal.
- (3) 2 cents per pound of the farm's normal yield per acre of cotton for each acre in the cotton goal.
- (4) Two-tenths of a cent per pound of the farm's normal yield per acre of peanuts for each acre in the peanut goal.
- (5) 70 cents per acre on either the soil-conserving acreage, or one fourth of the total soil-depleting crop goal established for the farm, whichever is greater.
- (6) $2.00 per acre of the average annual acreage of commercial vegetables grown on the farm in 1936 and 1937 and of commercial orchards on the farm January 1, 1938.

The sum of any of those payments which apply to a farm shall be the farm's total payment for 1938, if both the soil-depleting crop goal and the soil-building goals are fully met. Only partial payments will be made if soil depleting crop goals are exceeded or if the soilbuilding goal is only partially achieved. The specific crops and practices to be counted toward the attainment of a farm's soil building goal correspond in general to those approved for use in the 1937 program. State committees will later select the list of soil-conserving crops and practices that will apply to their particular States.

Fire Prevention Week

Fire Prevention Week will soon be here again October 3rd. to 9th. has been proclaimed by the President of the United States, and also by the Governor of the State as Fire Prevention Week. So lets all do our part to make it a success. Prevent Fires, 75 or 80 per cent of all fires could be prevented if proper precautions were taken. 60 per cent of all fires are caused by carelessness, do you want to be one of them? If not, be careful. Without the cooperation of the Citizens of the city, it is impossible to make a success of the great cause, prevention of unnecessary fires.

So lets all work together and keep our fire losses down. I have always said that it is much easier to fight a fire before it starts, than after. In other words, remove the cause, or hazzard. Remember, a clean house seldom burns. So if you will remove the cause, or hazzard around your house, you will probably never need the service of the Fire Department.

Their success will probably cost more per hour than any other, tho you pay them nothing. So keep your house clean, and free from fire hazzards and you will not need the services of the Fire Department. Help your neighbors to keep his place clean also. You can do this by not throwing out your trash where it will be scattered into his house or yard. Do not let the trash accumulate until you have so much that you cannot put it in your trash can to burn, but try to dispose of it every day. That way it does not take long to burn up, dont set your trash on fire and then forget it, it might cause you to remember it in a big way.

I am giving you some data prepared by some of the fire prevention board. You will do well to read and also heed, for there is some valuable information in them. So lets all "Read, then Heed" and work together to make the other 51 weeks of the year Fire Prevention Weeks too. We can. So Why Not?

Your for fewer fires,
C. D. JONES,
City Fire Marshal.

Attention to the following simple precautions will help to prevent fire which might destroy your home and cause injury or death to the members of your family:

Keep your attic, collar, and closets free from easily flammable rubbish and waste material. Make sure that the halls, stairs, doors, and fire-escapes are free from obstructions.

Be sure that your chimneys are in safe condition that all smoke-pipes are properly connected and supported, and that your heating and cooking appliances are safely installed and used.

Provide proper screens for stoves and fireplaces. Use metal containers for hot ashes. Wooden barrels and boxes are dangerous.

Never use kerosene or gasoline for starting or quickening fires. Also, never use gasoline for cleaning purposes.

Keep matches in fireproof containers beyond the reach of children, and be careful in the use of smoking materials.

Have all electrical installations repairs, and alterations made by competent electricians. Be sure and disconnect electric pressing irons and other electrical appliances when through using them. Never use coins or tin foil in the place of proper electric fuses.

Guard against leaking gas making sure that all cocks and pipe connections are kept tight. Never pass a lighted match along a gas pipe for the purpose of discovering a leak. Rather apply soapsuds at the suspected point, and if there is a leak it will be disclosed by the formation of bubbles. When searching for a leak in a dark place, use an electric flash lamp to give light. Avoid the use of unprotected gas lighting fixtures, and keep all flammable materials at a safe distance from gas flames. Permanent metal pipe connections for gas appliances are best, but flexible tubing must be used be sure that it is of high grade and is kept in good condition.

Do not permit children to build bonfires for fun. It is dangerous for children to play with fire.

Thaw frozen pipes with hot water, not with flame. Your home and contents should be adequately insured, but do not

FROM TINKER TO EVERS TO CHANCE

Close cooperation between the members of a famous infield made that phrase possible—the sort of cooperation that exists between the different departments of the Humble Company. But it's not a double play Humble departments are seeking—it's a way to improve Humble products, to better Humble service. They all work to that end—production men, pipeliners, refiners, technicians, station men and dealers. Because they do, more and more Texas motorists each year acquire the Humble habit—more and more make it a regular practice to stop for service where they see the Humble sign!

We will have all of our services next Sunday and we want all hands on the job please. Everyone who has a place of responsibility will be there and those who are to follow will be there, we will all be there in our places.

I will preach at Dudley in the afternoon and will be so glad to have every body out that way in the service.

The world is in an awful jam, and it looks as if the mess would get worse and much worse at that. Now the Lords way out is the only way out. He said Chran. 7:15 If my people who are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray turn from this wicked worry and seek His face, He will here from heaven, forgive his sins and heal this land. Now is the time for the whole world to put that to test. God hasn't been given a chance. He has made us responsible beings with a world over which we are the monarch and we have chosen to go away from to forsake Him all to much.

Oh let us hasten and come back to Him that we may have his blessings.

"THE Prisoner of Zenda" threatens to become everybody's favorite picture. Girls love it because it is tenderly romantic, boys are crazy about it because it is a thrilling adventure story, and the old folks like the pomp and circumstance of the court scenes.

Hollywood had a lot of surprises recently that sent all the girls scurrying out to buy presents. Miriam Hopkins up and eloped with Anatol Litvak, the director, and Alice Faye and Tony Martin rushed off to Yuma, Ariz., and got married.

Miriam Hopkins

more complicated both had anti-marriage clauses in their contracts with Twentieth Century-Fox. The studio has forgiven them, but parents are said to be still pouting.

Mr. Litvak, Miss Hopkins' new groom, has just finished directing Claudette Colbert in "Tonight's Our Night," at Warner Brothers'. No one over there will ever forget him.

In a scene that took place in a market he insisted on having real geese, turkeys, and chickens. The hot sun got in its deadly work and players had great difficulty going through their scenes without holding their noses. Finally the studio had to replace the poultry every few hours, but all attempts to use papier mache ones failed.

Claudette Colbert's good humor made a host of friends for her on the Warner lot and everyone is sorry that she was loaned to them for only one picture. One afternoon almost everyone's nerves were shattered by the many repetitions of a scene. While she was talking to Charles Boyer, a dog was supposed to come in carrying a shoe in its mouth. Over and over the scene was played, but the dog never came in at just the right moment.

Ever since James Cagney walked out of the Warner studio and went to work for Grand National where he is as happy as can be, there have been battles between the studio and their players. Now Joan Blondell is on strike. She thinks she has been working too hard and refuses to start on the new picture scheduled for her.

Bing Crosby's absence from his radio program still leaves a big gap in Thursday night's entertainment, but at last there is a new picture of his to be seen and heard while we wait for his return to the air waves. "Double or Nothing" is pleasant and casual and amiable, just like all Crosby pictures. Three of the songs are real hits—"It's the Natural Thing to Do," "It's On—It's Off," and "The Moon Got Into My Eyes."

ODDS AND ENDS—Ever since Neilson Eddy joined Ida Lupino and Charlie McCarthy in that goofy spy travesty on the Sunday evening coffee hour, radio and picture fans have been begging him to play in a motion-picture comedy. Phillips Lord is sending out Christmas presents now, because he knows he will be too busy in December with his Gang Busters and "We, the People." He sent Mark Warnow of the Hit Parade a watch with most complicated innards. Four times a day the watch whizz around, gaining hours. It comes with a guarantee that it would never tell the correct time.

Here you see the "works" of a ventriloquist's dummy: Manipulating the cords causes the mouth and eyes to open and shut.

Frank Marshall often enjoys a friendly little "chat" with his children. He says they don't talk back, if they know what's good for them. Two of his marionettes can be seen here, also.

Not Even Ventriloquist Can "Throw" His Voice THE old idea that a ventriloquist can "throw" his voice, making it come from a shoe box, from behind a chair across the room or from the basement stairway, is a hoax in the strictest sense of the word.

Improved Uniform SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Lesson for September 26

GOD IN THE MAKING OF A NATION

LESSON TEXT—Deuteronomy 8:11-20. GOLDEN TEXT—Beware that thou forget not the Lord thy God, in not keeping his commandments, and his judgments, and his statutes, which I command thee this day.—Deuteronomy 8:11. PRIMARY TOPIC—To Help Us Remember.

God in the making of the nation of Israel—this has been our general subject for a number of months. In this concluding lesson we meet up with a solemn warning that even though God's mighty works have been revealed on behalf of a people, it is possible for them to become proud and self-confident, forgetting him whose they are and whom they should serve, and perishing in their rebellion and sin.

I. "Beware That Thou Forget Not the Lord" (v. 11).

How could this people who had come up out of slavery and been led "through that great and terrible wilderness" (v. 15), who had been fed by God's hand, who had received "water out of the rock of flint," who had become a great nation by his grace and blessing, now forget God? It would seem unbelievable, did we not know ourselves. We need this warning as badly as Israel. Shout a stirring "Beware" from coast to coast as this lesson is taught, for America is forgetting God. Space does not permit a review of the appalling facts here, but they are enough to make one's heart sick with sorrow and fear for the future of our nation.

II. "Lest . . . Thou Say . . . My Power" (v. 12-17).

How trenchant and altogether fitting are the words of Scripture. Nothing could describe our times more succinctly and accurately than v. 17. Men are glorying in their ability to do things. Science has made mighty strides forward. Industry has brought forth so many striking developments that a single company is able to present as a reflection of its own work a veritable "House of Magic."

We honor those who by skillful hand and brilliant brain produce excellent and thrilling results. But our question is, How many are there who say, "God has done this thing. He gave the strength and the skill. His is the honor?" Some there are who thus recognize him, but they are few indeed. Their name is legion who say in their heart, "My power and the might of mine hand hath gotten me this wealth" (v. 17). God, forgive us, cleanse us, and give us grace to walk humbly before Thee!

III. "Remember the Lord . . . He . . . Giveth Thee Power." (v. 18).

Joseph Parker points out that a deep conviction of the fact stated in v. 18 "would turn human history into a sacrament." He says, "What a blow this text strikes at one of the most popular and mischievous fallacies in common life—namely, that man is the maker of his own money!" He makes a stirring plea (see People's Bible, Vol. IV, p. 188) for bringing God, who has been "crushed like a rose leaf in the Bible," out into the market place, into the office and the warehouse, for if man will make "his warehouse into a church" he will never turn the church into a warehouse.

Would that we could once and for all do away with all "Sunday religion," and bring the gospel of grace and the laws of God into the office, the factory, the school, and the home, for every day and every incident and transaction of life.

IV. "If Thou . . . Forget . . . Ye Shall . . . Perish" (vv. 19, 20).

Reading this passage in the light of our knowledge of what did happen to Israel, we agree that the warning was needed, even though it was not heeded. Shall we then dismiss the matter with perhaps an expression of regret that they so disobeyed God and missed his blessing? If we do we miss the most important point in our lesson, for the fact is that our nation is just as dependent on God, and in just as much danger of forgetting him and perishing.

God punished even his chosen people in the day that they forgot him. Let not America think that she will escape if she goes on her way, forgetting God. We plead again, as we did last Sunday, for a deep going revival among God's people, and a renewed zeal for the salvation of lost men and women. Thus we pray, "God save America."

On Giving Alms

In giving of thy alms, inquire not so much into the person, as his necessity. God looks not so much upon the merits of him that requires, as into the manner of him that relieves; if the man deserve not, thou hast given it to humanity.

Submissive Will

The will can only be made submissive by frequent self-denials, which must keep in subjection its sallies and inclinations.

Household Questions

Cleaning Brass.—Never use vinegar to clean brass. Though it cleans at first, it soon causes tarnish.

Removing Tobacco Stains.—Tobacco stains may be removed from washable materials by moistening with lemon juice and bleaching in the sun.

When Preserving.—Don't pack jars too tightly when preserving fruits and vegetables. Leave a space of at least half an inch at the top for liquid.

Preparing Parsley.—Parsley washed with hot water keeps its flavor better and is easier to chop.

Treating Dry Glue.—Vinegar added to dry glue will make the glue fit for use again.

DOANS PILLS

Too Much Water in Tissues

By DR. JAMES W. BARTON

SOMETIMES you see an overweight man or woman, who, instead of having a red or rosy complexion, looks unusually pale, in fact, "pasty" describes their appearance accurately.

Now this condition is believed to be due to some disturbance in the pituitary gland lying on the floor of the skull.

The patients are usually young (twelve to twenty years of age). The output of urine from the kidneys is much below normal.

After an absence of 13 years a teacher returned to Tunis, which brings the oriental life, the Moslem veil, shady souks, and peaceful mosques within hazy distance of European capitals.

But Tunis, no mere curiosity shop, lives in the present. At the corner of the Avenue Jules-Ferry and the Avenue de Carthage—tree-shaded Times square of the Tunisian metropolis—part of the city's 46,000 Italians watched red, white, and green flaglets mass closer on a map of Ethiopia.

Where the Bey's womenfolk lived "like birds in a gilded cage," visitors marvel at the unique treasures of this collection of Punic, Roman, Christian, and Arab art.

This priceless hoard of historic loot would disconcert a modern archeologist, for scant records were made of the exact places and conditions where the relics of long-gone centuries were brought to light.

Thirty years ago a sponge diver off Mahdia came gasping to the surface, his eyes dilated with fear.

One bronze figure at Le Bardo is a replica of Praxiteles' Eros, and this love is truly blind, for the eye pits lack pupils. The original, known and described by Callistratus, is lost.

The United States was the first Christian nation to win immunity from the depredations of Barbary corsairs. The Philadelphia ran aground on the Tripolitan coast, and William Eaton made his spectacular march of 600 miles across the Libyan desert, trying to re-establish a friendly Bey in Tripoli.

Another point of pilgrimage is the burial place of John Howard Payne. "Home, Sweet Home" doesn't stand translation, for the French don't write songs about their homes. They stay there.

Payne's body at last came home. On the simple monument in the cemetery of the little English church at Tunis are these words: "In the tomb beneath this stone, the poet's remains lay buried for 30 years. On January 5, 1883, they were disinterred and taken away to his native land where they received honored and final burial in the city of Washington, June 9, 1883."

Visitors from Other Lands Find Tunis Very Attractive

Prepared by National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.—WNU Service.

TUNISIA, its fertile vineyards and olive groves clustered between the Sahara and the sea, is an African suburb of Europe.

Overnight steamers run from Trapani, Sicily, to Tunisia's capital, which has more Italian residents than all Libya.

No mere group of palm-draped oases is this warm, sunny land. Its wine and oil challenge the growers of France, Italy and Spain.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK... By Lemuel F. Parton

NEW YORK.—George Wingfield, who has been rolling "snake eyes" for the last seven or eight years, is now making six or eight straight passes. I don't know whether the news has reached the East, but the word from Los Angeles is that he has regained ownership of the Golden and Riverside hotels in Reno and is again looking out from behind a tall stack of blue chips.

The one-time buckaroo and farm dealer who gained a fortune of $50,000,000 and owned and operated the sovereign state of Nevada for quite a few years, quietly faded out in 1933, told the court he was broke and relinquished the state with a sportsmanlike gesture.

"He walked into my office," said the senator, "and tossed something on my desk. It was a diamond ring. I haven't any idea how much it was worth. He said he had located a good-looking outbreak south of Goldfield and wanted me to grubstake him on the ring."

Wingfield had already staked his claim, and started a prospect hole. A little more digging was the Consolidated mine, and riches for both Wingfield and Nixon. Also the start of Goldfield, a ghost town now, half-buried in sand, but a roaring desert metropolis for a few years.

He joined the Montezuma club, got himself some nice store clothes, polished up his grammar and moved into circles of finance where the house percentage is doubtless stiffer than that of faro. But it seems that he is beating even that.

A FRIEND of this writer, who lived several years in Japan, suggests that, if, by accident, Foreign Minister Koki Hirota should find himself dressed in spats and pin-stripe trousers, but with an Oriental robe instead of a morning coat, he would find a middle way and solve the dilemma of Japan's half feudal, half modern industrial state.

"He hates his morning coat and striped pants," said my friend. "When he gets home at night, he never loses a minute in getting into Oriental clothes."

In the dress of an occidental diplomat, he works like one, as wily as the best of them, given to strategy and trick reasoning. At home, in a beautifully embroidered Japanese gown, he reads Confucius, as a pupil of the aged scholar, Mitsuru Toyama. I cite this duality of mind and dress merely as symbolic of the internal contending forces of Japan, vestigial feudalism and Twentieth-century industrial imperialism.

"Hirota is not of the Samurai caste," he said, "but he stems from romantic old Japan and goes only part of the way with the Mitsuis and Mitsubishi's of the great industrial dynasties who think they can stifle their way through to a vast Asiatic empire. In his youth, he was a zealous leader of the 'Zen' sect, tansured Buddhism, whose gospel was humility, pacifism and turning the other cheek. Suddenly, he switched to the 'Black Sea' society, a fire-eating outfit of militarists and jingoes."

"HE WAS a stone mason's son, apprenticed as a stone cutter, and educated by the Geneyosha, a fervid patriotic society, with 'simplicity' for its motto. In his first effort, he failed to pass his examinations for entrance to the Imperial university, but tried again and was successful. He began as a government clerk, was advanced, entered the diet and finally the cabinet. He is an intelligent man, keenly aware of the anomalies and anachronisms of Japan's politics and social structure."

Vying for Your Favor

ONE, two, three smart frocks on the line ready to go—shopping, kitchenwards, to the office downtown. And as every woman knows, a well stocked wardrobe needs all three.

From Now On. Says the jaunty model to the left, "I can tell I'm gonna feel well dressed in this little peplum frock: ready for sports, a matinee or dinner in town, and the confident high spirits my new lines give make me sure that I will be wanted at all three."

One Who Knows. Miss Keep-the-Home-Beautiful, in the center, expresses herself: "Even when I do housework I like to look and feel fit."

The Last Word. Miss Third Party goes in for that new kind of glamour in the simple model at the right. Says she: "I feel that Fall is really the season to step out and hob-nob with Fashion and the Joneses. This frock, which is my weakness in plum-colored wool, was as easy to make as it is to wear."

Later on I'm going to have a velvet version with short sleeves—these slim lines and elegant shoulders were just made for this queen of all fabrics—and evidently I go for things royal."

Switch To
NEW LOW RATE!

Rate Reduced to

2 1/2¢

Per Kilowatt Hour.

Electric Cookery Averages No More than One Cent a Meal per Person.

NEW RATE EFFECTIVE NOW!

Requiring usage of the modernized, speedier, and cleaner type of cookery provided by the Electric Range, a new, comprehensive rate, conducive to greater use of Electric Service, becomes effective with this month's payment of bills. Under its provisions ALL OVER 50 kilowatt-hours of electric current used each month costs only 2 1/2 cents per kilowatt-hour. The basis for the reduction is the proven theory that "the more you use, the less it costs."

This reduction, amounting to 16 2/3 per cent, is designed to make Electric Cookery as practical, from the standpoint of fuel, as any other type. The fact that there is no combustion makes Electric Cookery cleaner. A greatly improved flattened calrod heats almost instantaneously and hugs the bottom of utensils to prevent escape of heat. There is no flame to burn up oxygen, thus making air fresher and cooler in the kitchen. It is automatic, thus making it easier. Cleaner! Cooler! Easier! And this new, low rate makes Electric Cookery just as cheap or, in many instances, cheaper. Add faster. It's another reason for switching to Electric Cookery.

Lowers Cost of Lighting, Refrigeration
 And All Other Residential Usage
 Over 50 K.W.H. per Month

Many, many homes already use over 50 kilowatt-hours of electric current each month. By adding the electric range to kitchen equipment (it has proven itself the most valuable of all Electric Servants) you secure a rate of 2 1/2 cents per kilowatt-hour on ALL current used over 50 K.W.H. used monthly.

This means that when you reach the higher usage brackets for light, refrigeration, and all other domestic purposes, your electric bill is calculated at a rate which actually amounts to a saving. It permits increased usage at no additional cost. Best of all, it permits Electric Cookery to enter homes which heretofore considered it "too high."

We invite you to come in so that we may show you the latest models in Electric Ranges. We believe you will approve of Electric Cookery—and the new rate that permits you to use the switch.
