U.S. Policy Is Unpopular In Africa And The Middle East

In the first three articles of this four-part series, the effect of propaganda, personal experience with Americans, and native customs on the world's image of America was described. There are two other mirrors distorting the world's picture of the United States, and they involve the basic human emotions of selfishness and pride.

By SAUL PETT
AP Newsfeatures Writer

There is the mirror of self-interest, national and personal. In Paris, Pierre Lengelle, highway inspector, complains: "Americans call us 'colonialists.' This reminds me of an Algerian proverb: 'Beat your wife every morning. If you don't know the reason why, she does.'"

"We know why the Communists are against us but the Americans, they should never have been against us in Algeria. Now maybe they will realize this after what happened in the Middle East."

In Algiers, a young waiter whose brother was killed fighting with a mountain group of Algerian rebels discussed America. He withheld his name.

"Americans as people are friendly, pleasant and generous. But their government is a different thing. One day they support our cause (the rebellion) and the next day they support our enemies."

"We are like a man who is drowning. From time to time, the United States throws us a rope and we grab it. And then the United States cuts the rope."

In Caracas, where left-wing students attacked the vice president of the United States with stones and spit, Venezuelans complain about U. S. restrictions on oil imports from their country. They complain, also, that the United States sends billions in aid to Europe and Asia but little to its neighbors in Latin America.

In Peru, where Nixon also was attacked, they complain about U. S. tariffs affecting Peruvian metals, about the U. S. surplus cotton taking the market away from Peruvian cotton in South America. In Japan, they complain about American tariffs on flatware, umbrella frames and other Japanese goods.

In Cairo, Mahmoud Mohamed Ahmed earns $30 a month as a cook. He, his wife and four children live in a tiny, two-room house sparsely furnished. He is a man with little hate. He thinks kindly of Americans as people. He thinks ill of American policy and, of course, the landing in Lebanon.

Dark Skins

Said Achmad Soeroto, Indonesian rickshaw driver: "At home, Americans beat Negroes . . . I am dark, too."

"Everyone here says American policy is imperialistic. I agree. If America wants to fight communism, she should not try to impose her will on small nations in that fight. We, too, are against communism because our Moslem religion is against it."

In India, from the intellectuals in the cities to the unsophisticated farmers in the villages, most Indians ask only two questions about U. S. foreign policy: Does America side with Pakistan or India in the Kashmir dispute, with Portugal or India on the question of Goa?

Ram Piyari is a cowherd whose water buffalo and cattle graze on the wild lawns of the marble Moghul Palace in New Delhi. He has very original views of U. S. foreign policy.

"America wants more and more land. Even to park all their cars, they want one big country. And to bury their dead—6 feet by 3 feet—they want new space in other countries."

From that premise Ram proceeds to this conclusion: America one day plans to conquer India through Pakistan.

In Pakistan, they like us. They find us frank and straightforward and not nearly as class conscious or imperialistic as the British.

In Jakarta, Indonesia, a man named Achmad Soeroto drives a bejajak, a three-wheeled bicycle rickshaw. He is 22, a leathery, muscular figure in ragged shorts, tattered straw hat, bare feet. He earns about 30 cents a day and pays a third of it for rent of the bike. If his fate is the same as that of most bejajak boys, infection, disease or fatigue will probably kill him by the time he is 35. He votes Communist.

Achmad can't read and admits he doesn't know much about America except what he has seen in the movies. In the movies, he sees "every American with a big car and a house with a bathtub and toilet and other nice things."

"At home, Americans beat Negroes . . . I am dark, too . . . The American government is no good. They want to rule the world and Indonesia, too."

There is the mirror of pride, national and personal. "Americans living here stay off to themselves; they don't even bother to learn our language," said a man in France.

In Lima, Peru, a bank clerk says: "Americans don't really know or bother to find out much about the world outside their borders. For example, many Peruvians know that the Mississippi is the largest river in the states. How many Americans know that the Amazon is the largest in the world and starts in Peru?"

In Mexico City, a doctor recalls that at a recent medical convention he met an American doctor who praised his surgical technique. The American went on to say he never realized Mexico had such medical talent.

"Why the condescension?" asks the Mexican doctor. "Could he not have just said that as a colleague he considered the operation well done?"

Thus is formed the image of America, drawn from many mirrors. Fact and fiction, pride and prejudice, ignorance and envy and all the incalculable measures by which one fallible human being evaluates another fallible human being.

Friends? We have many. In England, in France, in Italy, in Austria, Australia, the Philippines, Pakistan, Formosa. In any contest, most of them appear ready to take their image of America over their image of Russia.

But even among our friends, there seem to be more who need us than like us, more who see us for our misdeeds than good deeds, more who accept our aid and quietly resent needing and getting it.

Among the Frenchmen interviewed at random for this survey, all of them criticized America. None happened to recall that it was just 40 years ago that Pershing returned Lafayette's compliment and just 14 years ago that

The Next Drought Will Be Worse

HOUSTON (AP)—Texas water conservationists had it pretty well in mind today that another drought, more severe than those of the '30s and '50s is on the way.

The 300 delegates to the Texas Water Conservation Assn. convention, which ended here last night, heard the dire prediction from two informed sources.

Ken Jehn, University of Texas professor of meteorology, and J. E. Sturrock, the association's general manager, made the prophecies contingent on long-range forecasting accuracy.

"We are likely by 1972 or 1975 to have a drought more severe and more sustained than those of 1930s and 1950s," Sturrock said. Jehn said the man-made satellites can be of great value in long-range forecasting.

Tunisia May Break With U.A.R.

TUNIS (AP) — Tunisia is considering breaking diplomatic relations with the United Arab Republic, changing President Nasser with meddling in internal Tunisian politics.

The newly intensified feud between Nasser and pro-Western President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia indicated a struggle for the allegiance of other North African Arabs and a continuing roadblock to Nasser's ambition to dominate the Arab world.

The American 1st Army liberated Paris.

And in this image of America, an American might wonder, along with the rich man talking to a needy nephew:

"Why are you mad at me? I haven't done anything for you lately?"

T-33 Guides Bomber To Safe Landing

Lt. Thomas A. Nelson, son-in-law of Maj. and Mrs. C. F. Harris, 1304 Main, didn't let TDY (temporary duty) at Plattsburgh AFB, N. Y., interfere with participation in a dramatic air rescue mission.

When a B-47 Stratofort bomber from Little Rock AFB got in trouble near Plattsburgh after its air speed indicator went out of order, SAC's Plattsburgh AFB requested an assist from the 14th Fighter Group of the 37th Fighter Interceptor Squadron. Lt. Nelson and Lt. Murray Susses were sent aloft immediately in a T-33 jet trainer. While Lt. Nelson flew in formation with the Stratofort, Lt.

LT. MRS. NELSON

Susser radioed air speeds to the bomber pilot. As a result, the Stratofort was promptly guided to a safe landing. Later the story was in Air Force Times and Lt. Nelson was on a television program and his base paper quipped that "lately Tom has been getting more publicity than Steve Canyon."

Lt. and Mrs. Nelson live at 8 Patrick St., Burlington, Vt. He is stationed at Ethan Allen AFB but has been TDY at Plattsburgh. Mrs. Nelson is the former Sally Harris and is the daughter of Maj.

and Mrs. Harris. She visited here in June after she and her husband had returned from four years in France and Germany. Maj. Harris, a veteran of 18 1/2 years in the Air Force, is commanding officer of transportation at Webb and is a command pilot.

A Bible Thought For Today

But God forbid that I should glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom the world is crucified unto me, and I unto the world. (Galatians 6:14)

Could Be Long And Distinctive

The only practical certainty regarding choice of a successor to the late Pope Pius XII as supreme head of the Roman Catholic Church is that he will be an Italian.

The last non-Italian Pope was Hadrian VI, from the Netherlands, who died A. D. 1523. Selection of Italians as head of the church isn't solely because Rome is the center of the governing bodies. After Hadrian, the precedent of choosing Italians was set to avoid international political or nationalistic pressures in naming the choice.

Most Popes have lived to ripe old ages: Pius XII was 82, and he reigned 19 years. The new pontiff will be only the 14th since Clement XIII was elected in 1758.

Pius XI ruled for 17 years before the most recent Pius succeeded him. Leo XIII, dying in 1903 after a reign of 23 years, was 93 at his death. In 1891 his encyclical, called "Rerum Novarum," and referred to as "the social Magna Carta of Catholicism," stressed the duties of employer to employee, and earned for its author the name of the "Workingman's Pope."

Leo's predecessor had been Pius IX, who reigned more than 31 years and died at 85. It was he who proclaimed the dogma of the Immaculate Conception of the Virgin (1854), and in 1870 the dogma of the infallibility of the Pope, but only when speaking ex cathedra in decisions on faith and morals.

Thus, if the new Pope, whoever he may be, is an Italian by birth and enjoys a long and distinctive reign, it will fit into the pattern of the last half century or more.

The President Reaches A Milestone

Dwight David Eisenhower—like another President, Ulysses Simpson Grant, he underwent a change of given names—reached the ripe old age of 68 Tuesday.

As we recall, the given names were reversed because the boy's mother preferred that he be called Dwight rather than David, so Dwight was put in first place. Grant was christened Hiram Ulysses, but when his congressman made out the lad's appointment to West Point he could remember the Ulysses part of the name only, and concluded that the middle name probably should be Simpson, after his mother's family. So Ulysses Simpson Grant he became, after being indignant of the correct moniker, West Point officials concluded that they had no authority to change it, error or no error. (It might have taken an act of Congress.)

At 68 Eisenhower becomes the oldest of our Presidents with the exception of three. Andrew Jackson became 68 just under two years before leaving the White House, and James Buchanan, the only bachelor President (Cleveland married while in office), also reached that age about two years before finishing his term. William Henry Harrison was inaugurated 23 days after reaching 68, and died a month after taking the oath.

At 68, in spite of a heart attack and a very serious operation, Mr. Eisenhower is in excellent health, according to the doctors who checked him over about ten days ago.

Lately he has shown every determination to make a fight in behalf of Republican congressional candidates, but the campaign has only three weeks to go and his schedule of speeches and travels should not tax his strength unduly.

David Lawrence Justice Frankfurter And The NAACP

WASHINGTON—This is the story of a case that might be called "Frankfurter vs. Frankfurter." It concerns a struggle of conscience which justices of the Supreme Court undergo when they are faced with the question of whether or not they should disqualify themselves from judging any case in which they previously have had a personal interest or connection.

This very problem has arisen with respect to Justice Frankfurter before it came up a few days ago when "The Standard-Times" of New Bedford, Mass., published an exchange of letters with him about his 10-year affiliation with the legal committee of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Justice Frankfurter wrote that it was true he had for a long time, while a professor at Harvard Law School, given advice on "policy" matters to the legal committee of this organization. He wrote that the connection was terminated when he became a Supreme Court justice and added that he never had accepted any monetary compensation for such service.

ment, or may not unfairly lead others to believe they are operating. Judges excuse themselves. They do not sit in judgment. They do this for a variety of reasons. The guiding consideration is that the administration of justice should reasonably appear to be disinterested as well as so in fact.

"This case for me presents such a situation. My feelings are so strongly engaged as a victim of the practice in controversy that I had better not participate in judicial judgment upon it. I am explicit as to the reason for my non-participation in this case because I have for some time been of the view that it is desirable to state why one takes himself out of a case."

Many lawyers now are pointing out that Justice Frankfurter apparently felt so deeply about a case in which the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People was a party that he was not content to stand on the written opinion which he and the eight other justices issued on September 29 last. He felt impelled to give out a few days later a separate opinion of his own in addition.

This lengthy document was replete with emotional phrases and oratorical exclamations, thus causing many lawyers to comment that Justice Frankfurter may have been revealing the same type of "subconscious feelings" which prompted him to disqualify himself in the bus case.

This is not the first time Justice Frankfurter has been criticized for sitting in a case in which he had a part prior to coming on the Supreme Court bench. In 1917 he was chief counsel for a three-man commission appointed by the President to investigate labor troubles in the principal mines of the Phelps-Dodge Co. in Arizona. The report aroused bitter comment from former President Theodore Roosevelt. Then, in April 1941, Justice Frankfurter wrote the opinion in a Supreme Court case on labor questions which was decided against the Phelps-Dodge Co., and many lawyers said at the time that he should have disqualified himself.

Justices often disqualify themselves from sitting in cases in which they have had some previous connection with either party to the litigation. The non-receipt of a fee isn't always the controlling factor. Thus, a Supreme Court justice who has served as attorney general or solicitor general usually disqualifies himself from sitting in any case in which he has had some part personally, and, of course, there are no fees paid the attorney general or solicitor general for particular cases in the work of the Department of Justice.

There are no written rules of the Supreme Court requiring a justice to disqualify himself when he has had a previous connection with either party to a suit that comes before the Court. The problem is left to the conscience of each justice.

David Lawrence Justice Frankfurter And The NAACP

Perhaps the best single statement of a judge's problem in meeting a "conflict of interest" where there has been no commercial or financial connection previously, but where emotions and personal feelings may be involved, was made by Justice Frankfurter himself. He gave a public explanation on May 26, 1952, of why he had declined to participate in the decision of a case before the Supreme Court about the broadcasting of music that annoyed the passengers on a Capital Transit Company bus in Washington. It had caused some of them to bring suit to declare such broadcasting a violation of both the First and Fifth Amendments of the Constitution. Here is what Justice Frankfurter in "reclusing" himself—which is the legal expression for self-disqualification—wrote at that time:

"The judicial process demands that a judge move within the framework of relevant legal rules and the covenanted modes of thought for ascertaining them. He must think dispassionately and submerge private feeling on every aspect of a case. There is a high ideal of what we talk that the judicial robe does not change the man within it. It does. The fact is that on the whole judges do lay aside private views in discharging their judicial functions. This is achieved through training, professional habits, self-discipline and that fortunate alchemy by which men are loyal to the obligation with which they are entrusted. But it is also true that reason cannot control the subconscious influence of feelings of which it is unaware. When there is ground for believing that such unconscious feelings may operate in the ultimate judgment, or may not unfairly lead others to believe they are operating. Judges excuse themselves. They do not sit in judgment. They do this for a variety of reasons. The guiding consideration is that the administration of justice should reasonably appear to be disinterested as well as so in fact.

"This case for me presents such a situation. My feelings are so strongly engaged as a victim of the practice in controversy that I had better not participate in judicial judgment upon it. I am explicit as to the reason for my non-participation in this case because I have for some time been of the view that it is desirable to state why one takes himself out of a case."

Many lawyers now are pointing out that Justice Frankfurter apparently felt so deeply about a case in which the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People was a party that he was not content to stand on the written opinion which he and the eight other justices issued on September 29 last. Further Back On The Back Seat

James Marlow Ike Raises Old Political Ghost

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has joined the ranks of Republican leaders who say or imply that socialism may result if the Democrats retain control of Congress.

The raising of this old political specter apparently is a deliberate GOP strategy born of acute shortage of campaign contributions.

Hardening of the financial arteries is not restricted to the Republican party alone. The Democrats also are finding their supporters slow with a buck this year.

But there is a basic difference between the two parties in the way they parcel out their campaign money in congressional elections. The Republicans have more central control, in Washington, while the Democrats depend on local contributions raked up by the individual candidates.

Republicans figure each of their campaign committees—national, House and Senate—needs a million dollars this year for a total of three million dollars. So far, they have collected about 40 per cent of that.

The Democrats' House committee had a $250,000 campaign budget last time. This year it has been cut to $75,000.

Eisenhower is reported to have appealed to affluent Republicans for more open-handed contributions during White House stag dinners. Tuesday, combining his 68th birthday celebration with party politics at a partisan breakfast, he said:

"We started off in 1952 to break away from the kind of government the kind of political philosophy, that wants to put all power, all direction of our economy and of our whole population, in the hands of a central bureaucracy."

Nine days ago GOP leaders went beyond that. After meeting with Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon at the White House Oct. 6, they issued a statement saying:

"Either we Americans dedicate ourselves to strengthening and preserving private enterprise, using the only dependable political instrument available—the Republican party—or we are certain to go down the left lane which leads inescapably to socialism."

Three days later, on Oct. 9, Nixon was in Columbus, Ohio, making a campaign speech. In it, the vice president argued that the Eisenhower administration had done more than its Democratic predecessors to increase Social Security benefits, raise wages and stabilize the cost of living.

Such seeming inconsistencies—warning against socialism one day and boasting of Social Security gains three days later—are what Americans generally expect in a campaign year. Former President Truman's aim-bang tactics demonstrate that no party has a patent on political doubletalk.

In this case, it appears to have a precise purpose—to yell "boo" at the people who are most afraid of ghosts. Moneyed, ultraconservative Republicans—no matter how disenchanted with Eisenhower-type "Modern Republicanism"—might be made to part with bigger checks if convinced the alternative was the socialism they so despise.

But neither party has yet solved another factor. Republicans say some of their people will not contribute because they are sure the GOP will lose and why waste money on a sure loser.

Democrats say an argument they run into is just the opposite—we're a shoo-in, and you don't need my money.

Hal Boyle Airplanes Are Okay, But -

NEW YORK (AP)—I like airplanes. I don't like the noise, the vibration, the sense of constantly rushing and, of course, the sense of not being in control of the machine. As far as I can tell, man has gained nothing from the age of flight except the ability to go some place he can't afford.

You can now get from here to there in half the time it takes to claim your luggage.

Airplanes can be uncomfortable. For example: I can never seem to find the little ash tray on the end of the arm rest. I always seem to grind out my cigarette on my knee.

I think the trays and the silverware and packets of salt and pepper and salad dressing they serve on airplanes are awfully cute, and my kids have enjoyed them for a long time. But I think the meals served on most airplanes are over-ambitious, overly cooked, and overrated. Why, when meals have to be cooked many hours in advance, why do so many airlines insist on serving steak? The steak is so leathery it ought to have a baggage check on it.

I find the stewardesses charming and efficient and solicitous, like hospital nurses wheedling you up to surgery. Instead of these Florence Nightingales, I would prefer the old type of railroad conductor who collected your ticket with a snarl, consulted a huge old watch drawn from his blue serge vest, and then, without a word, retreated to the back of the car to read somebody else's newspapers.

I don't find the announcements made over the PA system by the pilot informative, interesting, or reassuring because I can rarely hear them over the static. Besides, he's always announcing Chattanooga on our left when I'm on the right.

And why is it that the pilot always sounds like that old Armageddon voice of the "March of Time" man when he starts: "Now don't get alarmed. We are about to switch engines into a higher speed level. It will seem for a second or two like the engines are stopping, but..."

Until then I wasn't alarmed. Why doesn't the big mouth tend to his knitting and keep quiet?

Least of all am I reassured when I buy air insurance at one of those little counters they have at airports. After pressing me for details on amount of coverage, next of kin and beneficiary, the lady then wishes me, in tones of a mortuary: "A pleasant, safe flight."

Somehow I always suspect her interest is more commercial than personal.

Around The Rim Seth Parker Time Again?

Funny how a song will take you back to a time, a place, a circumstance, or even a personality.

So it is with P. P. Bliss's famous hymn: "Brightly beams our father's mercy from His lighthouse evermore, But to us He gives the keeping of the lights along the shore."

My mind drifts from the hymn page and through memory's eye I can see the family gathered around the radio on a Sunday evening years and years ago.

"Let the lower lights be burning; Send the gleam across the wave, some poor, fainting struggling seaman, you may rescue, you may save."

The old folks would smile; Seth Parker was back for another visit.

Seth Parker was Phillips H. Lord, a native Vermonter who had absorbed from birth the color and idioms of New England as well as a rich religious background. After a hitch at teaching, including being a high school principal, he turned to radio.

He had some ideas about a folksy type of program, but none of the producers or networks could see it. Failure and rebuff became common fare, but they did not crush Lord's determination. If you don't crush Lord's determination, he reputedly shook his fist at New York and vowed he would succeed.

Once his caricature of a New Englander, Seth Parker, caught the nation's ear, the popularity of the program spread like wildfire. Many people could name all of the characters like the captain, Cephus, Mrs. Parker and all the others. They knew them well because they were for the most part the sort of characters as were sitting around the radio sets, or with whom they had visited at the Sunday evening meeting a few minutes earlier, or saw down at the store everyday.

Seth Parker's friends had the same faults and foibles as those in the average town, but they were good people. Most of all they were people of staunch and simple faith and who loved to sing the great old hymns and some of the songs of the everlasting sea.

Phillips Lord indeed did succeed, for he edited a hymnal which found wide demand: he wrote Seth Parker's Album, Sunday at Seth Parker's, Seth Parker's Scrapbook, and wrote and starred in the motion picture, "Way Back Home."

He produced many other programs such as "Uncle Abe and David," "Country Doctor," "The Stebbins Boys." Then he moved on to such programs as "The G-Men," "Gang Busters," "We, the People," "Mr. District Attorney," "Counterspy," "Sky Blazers," "Treasury Agent" and many others. And every now and then you'll hear the announcer say at the end of a television program that "This has been a Phillips H. Lord production."

He has, in his time, experienced great though not gaudy success and has made a singular contribution to the entertainment field. None is so great, however, as his Seth Parker, who came at a time when the nation lay prostrate at the hands of a consuming depression, defeated and shattered in spirit. Seth Parker somehow managed to stir the chords again and gradually people realized that "These are the things which abide."

"Trim your feeble lamp my brother. Some poor sailor tempest tossed, Trying now to make the harbor. In the darkness may be lost." Sometimes I think it is time for Seth Parker again.

Inez Robb Advanced Education, British Style

LONDON — Well, sir, the academic groves may be cloistered in the U.S.A. and the ivory tower cut off from contemporary life, but here it is hep, hep, hep!

While we in America still stand with timid feet where educational brook and river meet, the English are strongly swimming toward the sea in—I surmise—a Bikini.

All this I have ascertained from the London Times, still the mighty thunder. It has just printed one of the questions in the general scholarship examinations given prospective students of Cambridge University, mother house of Rhodes scholars. And I submit that any similar question included in a university entrance examination at home will get the prexy fired, the regents unfrocked, and the football team thrown out of its conference.

Now here is the question, as published in the London Times, that a Cambridge aspirant is expected to solve before he can even get his neuroses in the academic door:

"In a certain isolated community some years ago there were four men and four women, happily married and with one child apiece: Mr. and Mrs. A., Mr. and Mrs. B., Mr. and Mrs. C., and Mr. and Mrs. D. But a regrettable scandal occurred when two of the men eloped with the two other men's wives and, as a result, all four marriages were resolved.

"The guilty parties promptly married each other and the innocent ones found consolation by also remarrying among themselves—though neither of the innocent men would bring himself to take on the discarded wife of his own ex-wife's new husband.

"In fact, a general post occurred, and there were four married couples again."

In course of time, each of these produced one more child.

"The scandal was not over and done with, for quite recently a second general post occurred. The circumstances were identical except for the names of those involved. There are now four couples once again, each husband with a fresh wife, different from his first.

"Now, when a marriage is dissolved the custody of any children of that marriage is awarded to the innocent party, but any children by a previous marriage may stay with their true parent, whether innocent or guilty. Under no circumstances is their custody awarded to their stepparents. In the case with which we are concerned each of the eight people involved has had one son and one daughter. Two boys and one girl are living in the house of Mr. D. The present Mrs. C. is known to have been an innocent party through all these changes.

"In whose house does Miss D. live?"

All right, boys, do you still want to go to Cambridge? Or, for that matter, get married?

But this problem isn't as difficult as it seems, despite the fact that in America this problem would be done with apples, and sex wouldn't have a chance.

All we have to do is transpose the dramatic personae to the United States. Then it is relatively simple to know, depending upon Miss D.'s age, in whose house she lives. This poor kid is certainly in one of four places:

(1) A home for disturbed children.

(2) Juvenile court.

(3) The Sheltering Arms Refuge for Girls.

(4) Or, the country club.

And when these British speak of advanced education, they ain't foolin'.

The Gallup Poll South Sees Integration - Plus Trouble

PRINCETON, N. J.—Faced with one setback after another in the courts, a growing number of white Southerners admit, however reluctantly, that they believe general integration will eventually come to the South.

At the same time, as schools in Arkansas and Virginia remain closed rather than integrate, there has been a sharp rise in the number of Southerners who look for racial tensions to increase rather than lessen in the South in the immediate future.

Just over a year ago, before the advent of trouble at Little Rock, and Gallup Poll recorded a stiffening resistance to the idea that integration in the schools, in restaurants and other places would ever come to the South—substantially fewer white Southerners felt this would happen than did so in early 1956.

But as the following figures show, a large proportion of those Southerners who were uncertain about this prospect a year ago have now come to the point of view that general integration will at some future date come to the states of the South:

"Do you think the day will ever come in the South when whites and Negroes will be going to the same schools, eating in the same restaurants and generally sharing the same public accommodations?"

SOUTHERN WHITES ONLY

Yes, will come	52	43
No, will not	37	38

Regarding any immediate easing of tension between the races in the South, persons of both races in the South and throughout the nation show an increase in pessimism.

In early 1957, sentiment across the country held that the situation between the races in the South would get better in the coming year.

But here has been the trend of public thinking on this question, nationwide and in the South, since that measurement: "Do you think the situation in the South between the races will get better or worse during the coming year?"

Today's findings are very much in line with other recent Gallup Poll studies on the integration crisis.

A survey in September, for example, on the question of a "timetable" for integration, found that for every American advocating immediate integration in Deep South schools, there was another who felt these schools should never be required to integrate.

To many Americans, the solution to the integration problem lies somewhere in between the two extremes of "never" and "immediately." Desegregation, they believe, should be accomplished over a period of a few years, or, at most, ten to twenty years.

An earlier study, before the opening of schools, found a substantial majority of Southerners fearing that violence might ensue if the schools in their community were ordered to integrate immediately.

Powerful Kick

HONOLULU (AP)—The shopping district of the town of Alea became a football casualty for a few minutes.

A ball from a sandlot game was kicked into the electric power system, disrupting service for the whole area.

Wheat Woes

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Wheat farmers in Oklahoma were highly pleased with the abundant crop this summer, but it had its drawbacks.

The wheat grew so tall that hot exhaust pipes from combines, trucks and tractors set off scores of fires that destroyed thousands of acres of the grain.

Junior Gardeners Plan Projects For Club Year

New projects were discussed by members of the Junior Garden Club when they met Monday in the home of Mrs. Obie Bristow.

Each of the group will be encouraged to make a bird sanctuary in the garden of his home; possibility will be investigated of establishing a garden plot in the city park.

The resignation of Lois Tarbox as vice president was accepted, and Jim Bruce Frazier was elected to fill the vacancy. It was decided to have the vice president also serve as parliamentarian.

The year's program has been arranged, it was announced, and the yearbooks will go to the printer in the next few days. The club colors were changed to blue and white, and the flower selected is the morning glory.

A treasurer's report told of $45 made from the Littlebug Campaign; the group has set $85 as the goal for the treasury by the end of October.

The club voted to spend $10 for gardening books to be placed in the library. Any garden books which are donated will be welcomed by the group, it was announced. Anyone having books to be given to the club may call Mrs. Bristow, sponsor of the organization.

Members are working toward the Fall Flower Show to be sponsored by the Council of Big Spring Garden Clubs on Nov. 1. It is the aim of the club for each person to have an entry in the show.

The next meeting will be held on Nov. 4 in the Bristow home with Janet Jones as hostess. Mrs. Billy Harrell will demonstrate dried arrangements.

Ann Garrett Named Brownie President

Brownies of Troop No. 43 at Park Hill School elected Ann Garrett president, Tuesday afternoon. They also placed in office Debnay Estes, vice president; Annelie Fitzhugh, secretary; Candy Cook, treasurer; Candy Marcum, reporter; Jeannie Gilliam and Jane Lusk, sergeants at arms.

Betty Johnson and Melissa Simpson form the telephone committee. Program planning will be the job of Lisa Parks and Jane Anderson, while Carolyn Cates and Betty Lou Jones comprise the caper committee.

Thirteen attended.

Real Estate Meet

The dinner meeting of the Texas Real Estate Association, slated for Thursday evening, has been postponed to Oct. 30. The group will meet at the Wagon Wheel at 7:30. The postponement is due to the illness of the guest speaker.

'ROUND TOWN

By With Lucille Pickle

There's bound to be much visiting going on at the home of MR. AND MRS. J. A. MAGEE this week. Mrs. Magee's two sisters, Mrs. Brady Clark of Downey, Calif., and Mrs. Lois Blackley of Long Beach are here to visit until the first of next week.

MR. AND MRS. BROWN ROGERS have returned from Fort Worth where they have been guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Pierson. They saw the TCU Tech game the past weekend. Their son, Brownie, is a senior at TCU.

Guests of MR. AND MRS. RALPH NEWMAN over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Dick Harp and their family from Odessa and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hull Jr. from Lamesa.

MRS. OMAR JONES is in Dallas where she will spend the remainder of the week.

JACQUELINE SMITH, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Y. Smith plans to be here over the weekend from Baylor. Lt. Louis McKnight will be a guest of the Smiths from his station at McAllen. The group plans to attend the Tech-Baylor game in Lubbock Saturday.

In Waco briefly Monday we saw ex-Big Springer ROY HATCH, brother of Mrs. Robert Finer and Hilo Hatch; also Mr. P. saw DR. GEORGE McMAHON, who was at one time in charge of the Big Spring State Hospital. He is now head of the Veteran's Administration Hospital in Waco.

In San Angelo we stopped and visited with Shine Phillips, who is doing well and who still has his ready smile along with his rich sense of humor.

Here for the service station operators banquet Monday evening was a former Big Springer, W. E. (Bill) Bailey, brother of Walker Bailey. During the 40's he was parts manager at Lone Star Chevrolet.

Brownie Troop 322

Thirteen Brownies of Troop No. 322 met Tuesday afternoon at the Girl Scout House. Mrs. W. L. Bryant, troop leader, and Mrs. Harriet Jordan, assistant, directed games and refreshments were served.

Wesley WSCS Continues Study On Middle East

Continuing the study of the Middle East, 16 members of the Wesley Methodist WSCS met Tuesday morning at the church for another lesson in the series taught by Mrs. J. T. Gilmore.

In her devotional period, Mrs. Raymond Hamby spoke of the Voice of God. She pointed out that we hear with the outer ears, often disallowing God's voice to penetrate. "Our hearts," she continued, "should be attuned to God for He often speaks to us through nature."

Mrs. Fred Franklin explained the status and importance of each country in the Middle East, reminding the group that Nasser hopes to build an empire of these countries with the help of Russia.

The summary, Mrs. Gilmore admitted that the outcome in the Middle East is the responsibility of every Christian throughout the world. Mrs. Hamby closed the meeting with prayer.

At the 9:30 a.m. session next Tuesday at the church, Mrs. Royce Wornack will review the book "Through Gates of Splendor."

Another activity planned for the state hospital patients is a bingo party to be given every fourth Friday. Prizes for the parties are to be brought to regular meetings by the members of the lodge.

Visitors included Mrs. Ruth Hickman, past noble grand of Clover Leaf Lodge, Houston, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Merritt, past noble grand of the Andrews Rebekah Lodge No. 148.

Hospitality was enjoyed after the meeting by 30 members and guests. Hostesses were Mrs. C. A. McDonald, Mrs. W. C. Cole, Mrs. Case Hill and Mrs. Besse Saloe.

Members voted to assist with a vin Witter on the club project, which is to provide supplies for first graders at Bauer School. A Halloween party for the youngsters is in the offing, with the forum as hostesses.

Refreshments were served from a table decked in brown linen cloth and milkglass appointments. The centerpiece was a dried arrangement.

Mrs. Don Wiley, 3203 Cornell, will be hostess for the Oct. 28 meeting at 1:30 p.m.; she will be assisted by Mrs. David Newbolt.

Work In Philippines Described For WMS

Opportunities in the Philippines was the topic of the study for the Northside Baptist WMS when the group met at the church Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Charles Simmons was in charge of the program, for which she had arranged an interest center of an airplane, a bus, a car and a train. Mrs. Arnold Tonn offered a prayer for the missionaries on the birthday calendar, and Mrs. Horace Bowden dismissed the group with a prayer.

Seven members and a guest attended the meeting.

Local Artists Will Exhibit At Oil Show

Five local artists who exhibited recently in the Romance of Oil Show at Midland will have the opportunity of displaying their paintings at the oil show in Odessa, which opens today. The artists are Mrs. Bismarck Schafer, Mrs. William Row, Mrs. E. A. Jones, Dr. N. B. Furlong and Mrs. Jess Blair.

A velvet-lined booth has been prepared for the art showing.

Mrs. Porter Improved

Mrs. John Porter is convalescing in Big Spring Hospital from a broken hip sustained last week. She is reported making good improvement.

Hogans Visit Former Resident During Trip

Dr. and Mrs. Hogan have returned to Big Spring, after an absence of about 12 days. Dr. Hogan attended the College of Surgeons in Chicago, and Mrs. Hogan visited her mother, Mrs. Earl Dudgey in Magnolia, Ark.

On the return trip, they visited their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Boone Powell Jr., in Waco.

They also were guests of Mrs. Robert Whittington in Shreveport, La., a former resident of Big Spring. Friends will be interested to know that the family is doing well, and that the small daughter, who was ill, has improved greatly. Mrs. Whittington plans a visit to Big Spring in the near future.

WMS Imaginary Flight Shows Baptist Missions

In imaginary flight, members of the First Baptist WMS, winged their way to the Philippine Islands, Monday morning to discover what Baptists are accomplishing in that mission field. Mrs. Charles Sweeney, leader for the program presented by the Christine Coffee Circle, directed the tour.

She pointed out that there are 7,088 islands extending 4,132 miles north and south. Largest of them is Luzon. Masses of Chinese live in the Philippines, having come there to enter business. The group was told that a group of Baptist servicemen at Clark AFB Base had promoted the mission work and their wives had organized a WMS. On Luzon at Manila, the first

Junior Forum Ponders Parent-Teacher Role

Insight into the parents-teachers relationship was provided the Junior Woman's Forum by a guest speaker, Mrs. Kelley Lawrence. The group of nine met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. C. Smith with Mrs. C. W. Shouse as hostess.

Mrs. Lawrence emphasized that teachers desire to be treated as human beings, not as stern automatons. Their first interest is to develop good students and good citizens from happy and contented youngsters, and in the doing they seek understanding as well as cooperation from the parents. She suggested that parents might be wise to study the state laws with regard to education.

A report was read by Mrs. Mel-

Baking-powder biscuits may be prepared and cut out several hours ahead of the time they are to be baked if they are stored in the refrigerator during this waiting period.

Baptists Meet As Circles

Continuing the discussion of Red Letter Days, the Evan Holmes Circle of Baptist Temple met Tuesday morning in the home of Mrs. A. T. Boren.

The topic for the program, led by Mrs. Robert Leeper, was Red Letter Days in the Baptist Jubilee Advancement. Taking part were Mrs. Pete Shepherd, Mrs. Boren, Mrs. D. D. Johnston and Mrs. A. R. Posey.

The missionary calendar was read by Mrs. Posey, to be followed by a prayer for those listed. The prayer was offered by Mrs. Grady Rainey, a guest.

During the business meeting, it was announced that the community mission work for October will be visitation in the homes of the un-saved and the unaffiliated.

As a conclusion, Mrs. Monroe Gafford brought a devotion on Stewardship, and Mrs. Robert Hill, another guest, offered the dismissal prayer.

Refreshments were served to seven members and the two visitors.

HORACE BUDDIN CIRCLE

Meeting in the home of Mrs. Sam Bennett, members of the Horace Buddin Circle meted and pressed used clothing to be given to the local Latin American mission. This is the circle's community missions project for October.

Mrs. L. H. Sims read the missionary list, and Mrs. Bennett offered the prayers for the ones named. Mrs. Bennett, who is community missions chairman, brought the devotion on that work.

FANNY HODGES CIRCLE

Ten members of the Fanny Hodges Circle gathered Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. Merle Stewart. Mrs. Hayes Stripling Jr. had charge of the program on Christian Concern for Our North American Neighbors.

Alaska and Cuba were the points taken by Mrs. Jordan Grooms in her discussion. Mrs. L. W. Harris brought the devotion.

Mrs. Rex Baggett, 1507 Ayford, will be hostess to the group at 9:45 a.m. Nov. 11.

FANNIE STRIPLING CIRCLE

Mrs. H. G. Keaton invited members of the Fannie Stripling Circle to meet at her home Tuesday morning. The program, concerned with the fall study, was led by Mrs. Royce Satterwhite and presented by Mrs. Knox Chadd and Mrs. Clyde Johnston.

Mrs. Keaton announced to the five the general meeting set for 9:45 a.m. Oct. 23 at the church, and told of plans for World Day of Prayer, to be 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Oct. 23 at the church, also. Members were asked to take warm used clothing to Mrs. Satterwhite; it will be packed in duffel bags and shipped overseas.

SYLVIA LAMUN CIRCLE

Using the study theme "And crown thy good with Brotherhood," Mrs. C. E. Hill brought the devotion for the Sylvia Lamun Circle Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. Lloyd F. Curley.

Scriptural reading was by Mrs. C. R. Moad. The program on Christian Concern for Our North American Neighbors was in the form of an interview, with Mrs. Curley and Mrs. Leslie McNeese posing questions to Mrs. Bob Langley.

Mrs. John Dibrell, circle leader, conducted the business session and introduced to the 11 a new member, Mrs. Charles Richison.

Mrs. Langley, 614 Tulane, will host the next meeting at 9:45 a.m. Nov. 11.

MAUDIE MORRIS

A "press conference" on Our Neighbors was the study of the Maudie Morris Circle Tuesday morning in the home of Mrs. G. T. Hall. Taking part were Mrs. R. W. Thompson, Mrs. Wayne Gound, Mrs. J. W. Forrester and Mrs. A. C. Bass.

Members were asked to write to missionaries in other lands. Clothing is to be collected by the circle, also, as in the other groups.

Mrs. H. H. Romans was introduced as a new member, and Mrs. R. H. Moore Jr. was a guest. Mrs. Thompson was announced as the hostess for the Nov. 11 meeting, with Mrs. Romans to assist.

Beautyicians Attend Show In Lubbock

Eleven members of Uni 24, Beauty Operators, attended the meeting in Lubbock during the weekend, when District One held the Great Plains Trade Show.

Classes and contests in hair styling were highlights of the activities. Latest fashions in hats and new hair styles for both men and women were presented for the group.

District Two, in which Big Spring is a member, will sponsor a show April 18-20, 1959, to be the Southwestern Beauty Show of Texas. Lee Self of El Paso will be the manager, and Glen Haley of Abilene, the director. It is expected to draw about 700.

Appearing at the Lubbock show were Buddy Francis of Hollywood and Louella Bailey of Minnesota.

WSCS Circles Meet In Homes Of Members

WSCS of First Methodist Church was divided into circles for their study Tuesday morning, each group meeting in the home of a member.

FANNY HODGES CIRCLE

Ten members of the Fanny Hodges Circle gathered Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. Merle Stewart. Mrs. Hayes Stripling Jr. had charge of the program on Christian Concern for Our North American Neighbors.

Pass Again Big Club

By JACK CLARY

Associated Press Sports Writer
The forward pass making a comeback? To look around some of the nation's college football practice fields you would think so.

With all the talk of wide-open, spread offensive formations, lone-some halfbacks, ends and hotdog salesmen and slot, split, tight and upside down T formations, the forward pass has taken a back seat.

All of this has lessened the scoring a bit too much for some coaches, and they are returning to a better balance of attack after last weekend's games.

Army, the nation's No. 1 team and leader in the new offensive fashions with its bazooka and "lonesome end" realizes that it does not have an infallible weapon. Notre Dame did not allow it to run rampant, though losing 14-2.

Coach Earl Blaik won his game with a cute passing attack that gave balance when the Irish least expected it. He now faces Virginia and is letting his receivers have a week of intensive instruction to improve on the 100 yards on 7 of 16 passes against Notre Dame.

The Irish, on the other hand, had a miserable 11 yards passing yardage on 4 of 9 completions. Coach Terry Brennan, facing his fourth different offense against Duke, is spending most of the time coordinating and perfecting the passing game. His running attack is proven with fullback Nick Pietrosante leading the charge for 203 yards against Army's stout defense.

Tulane plays Navy in the Oyster Bowl this weekend and must face the Middies' Joe Tranchini. His pinpoint tosses beat Boston University and Michigan on successive weekends.

Green Wave Coach Andy Pilney is prepping his boys for the same kind of attack after getting 120 yards on 13 of 18 tosses against Mississippi last weekend. Tulane lost 19-8 with its ground attack netting a meagre 28 yards. Navy promises the same kind of ground defense.

Woody Hayes of Ohio State still isn't satisfied with his ground offense being able to carry the load. He has quarterback Frank Kremblas and Co. working to perfect an aerial game that got 44 yards beating Illinois 19-13.

His ground game netted 246 yards but defense-minded Indiana poses a problem this weekend.

Wisconsin, the Big 10's dark horse, didn't gain a yard against Purdue by its passing, and must face tough Iowa this weekend. Coach Mill Bruhn, unhappy with the passing situation not being able to balance a 211-yard rushing yardage count, has the boys working on the pass patterns.

Jim Tatum meets his old Maryland assistant Tommy Mont and the Terps, but has an offense that scored only two touchdowns in winning the past two games. Big Jim is looking for his passers to bone up the scores and make the difference against Maryland. They hit 6 of 16 for 83 yards in beating South Carolina last week.

Kansas takes on defrocked Oklahoma and is also looking to the air to hand the Sooners their second loss in as many weeks. The Jayhawks ground out 228 yards beating Iowa State 7-0 last week, but only 19 in the air. Oklahoma fell before Texas' passing game 15-14.

MR., MRS. SUNNY EDWARDS BUY GOLF COURSE AT RUIDOSO, N.M.

Mr. and Mrs. Sunny Edwards, long-time Big Spring and Howard County residents, have purchased the Cree Meadows golf course at Ruidoso, N.M., and will move there Oct. 25 to assume full management of the facility.

The nine-hole course, considered one of the most beautiful in the Southwest, was owned by Johnny Williams of Phoenix, Arizona. The purchase price was not announced.

Edwards, who has been playing golf only five years, perhaps is better known in this area as a rodeo performer. He was considered to be among the best calf ropers in the world at one time and performed several times in Madison Square Garden, New York, the Boston Gardens as well as at Cheyenne, Wyo., and other famous arenas.

In the club tournament held at the Big Spring Country Club the past summer, Sunny qualified for the championship flight for the first time and proceeded to go all the way to the finals before losing to R. H. Weaver.

He is married to the former Mary Jane Reed, herself an ardent golfer.

They have two children, Stormy, a one-time Big Spring High School griddler who now is in college; and Mrs. Mary Lane Reynolds.

Cree Meadows operates as a year-around course and is situated not far from downtown Ruidoso, home of the world famous Ruidoso Downs, a horse track.

Tens of thousands of visitors are attracted to Ruidoso Downs annually and the scenic golf course has also become a tourist mecca.

An invitational golf tournament was staged there Aug. 4-8 this year.

E. Banks And Rocky Colavito Top Sluggers

By BEN OLAN

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Ernie Banks, the major league leader in home runs and runs batted in, also won the National League slugging championship with a .616 average in 1958. He is the first Chicago Cubs' player to win the title since Hack Wilson did it in 1930 on the strength of 56 home runs.

Rocky Colavito of Cleveland captured the American League slugging crown with a .620 mark, figures compiled by The Associated Press also showed today.

Banks pounded out 24 doubles, 11 triples and 47 home runs among his 193 hits. He compiled 380 total bases — also a big league high. The 27-year-old shortstop drove in 129 runs.

Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants, last year's pacesetter, finished second the past season with a .583 percentage. Mays collected 350 total and 29 homers.

Hank Aaron of Milwaukee had 328 total bases in 601 trips and finished third with 546. He had 196 hits including 34 doubles, four triples and 30 home runs.

Stan Musial of St. Louis was fourth with 528 followed by Frank Thomas of Philadelphia, 527; Harry Anderson of Philadelphia, 524; Orlando Cepeda of San Francisco, 512 and Frank Robinson of Cincinnati, 504.

Musial holds the National League record for the highest slugging average among players who have been in the majors 12 or more seasons. His lifetime mark is .578. The American League standard is .602 set by Babe Ruth.

Colavito had fewer total bases than both Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees and Bob Cerv of Kansas City at the close of the 1958 campaign. But the Indians' outfielder had only 499 official times at bat compared to 519 for Mantle and 515 for Cerv.

Slugging averages are based on total bases accumulated on all hits and times at bat.

Colavito had 41 homers, second only to Mantle's 42 in the junior circuit. Rocky, who wound up with 303 total bases, also had 26 doubles and three triples. Mantle had 307 total bases and finished second in the slugging competition with a .592 average. Cerv was third at .590 with 304 total bases which included 19 doubles, seven triples and 38 homers.

Ted Williams of Boston, who led the AL in slugging with a .731 mark in 1957, was fourth with .584. Then came Roy Sievers of Washington, .544 and Jackie Jensen of Boston, .535.

Among the men, Luke LeBlau of Team Seven had a 543 total, followed by Al Uderwood of Caule's, which had 539. A. J. Ball of Fireball Muffler posted a 235 single game, Bill Bell of Dibrell's a 208.

Olive Cauble of Cauble's Garage paced the women, with a 493 total. Joan O'Daniel of the same team was close, with 174-471. Frances Glenn of Dibrell's came in with a 170 game.

HENRY COOPER MAY BE CHAMPION'S NEXT FOE

By STERLING SLAPPEY

LONDON (AP)—It appeared today the strange, circuitous search to find a man to fight Floyd Patterson has ended.

The man is Henry Cooper, 24-year-old blond Cockney who in addition to fighting, plasters walls for a living.

Cooper, a little know heavyweight, got a debatable decision Tuesday night after 10 rounds against Zora Folley, an American who ranks No. 2 in line for Patterson's world title.

Cooper boxes only fair and he cuts easily. He lost four of his last six fights, has fought professionally only 30 times and has spent much time recently as a chopping block-sparring mate for main-bouters.

His main claim to fame hitherto was a one-round KO over newly crowned British heavyweight champ Brian London when both were just out of the novice class.

But Referee Tommy Little saw Cooper as the winner against the shocked Folley. Cooper's past now is forgiven.

If England and promoter Harry Levene have anything to do with it, Cooper's going in against Patterson for the world title in an open air bout next summer—probably June.

Levene talked by transatlantic phone to his old friend and collaborator Cus D'Amato, who manages Patterson, shortly after the fight.

"I say now Cooper and Floyd Patterson will meet in London next summer for the world heavyweight championship," said Levene after talking to D'Amato.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

For a boy whose first love probably is baseball, Big Spring's Chubby Moser acquires himself very well as a football player.

Mosed is a tower of strength in the Big Spring line. Fact is, he's become so rugged, the scouts are returning to their coaches with words of advice like:

"Try running plays elsewhere than at him."

Chubby has drawn some comment in the stands from time to time for his aggressiveness—he's been known to anticipate a signal and leap into the middle of an opponent before the ball is snapped.

No one challenges his enthusiasm, however. His courage and self-reliance pop out all over.

At this stage, he's as good a bet as any player on the local team to rate all-district honors.

Chubby is considered a top professional prospect in baseball. A crafty left-handed hurler, he glories in facing the Abilene Eagles, perennial toughies in District 2-AAAA diamond circles.

He considers it a personal affront when an opposing player gets a hit off him and such a turn of events will cause him to bear down especially hard against the follow-up batter.

As a pitcher, he possesses what is regarded as good control for a left-hander. He shines at bringing that arm in from the vicinity of first base and getting just a piece of the plate while facing a left-handed hitter.

The southpaw swingers had just about as soon face a rattlesnake. Most of them get to running in the batter's box, swinging wildly while trying to escape the pitch.

Chubby is another one of those salty football characters who 'comes to play.' He'll minimize an injury in order to stay in the lineup.

Fortunately, for the Steers and their coaches, he's not injury-prone.

Texas Y. A. Tittle, who now quarterbacks the San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League, is given a feature role in an article appearing in this week's edition of Look magazine.

Look, incidentally, will fly its 22-man All America football squad into New York for a three-day celebration at the close of the current season.

The gridders will appear on Perry Como's NBC-TV show Saturday, Dec. 6.

Sign over a desk on a racehorse farm near Lexington, Ky.: "Looking for someone with a little authority? I have as little as anyone."

Arkansas had the ball for only 34 plays in its game with Rice last weekend, Texas Tech for only 35 in its outing with TCU.

Pat Murphy, assistant superintendent of schools here, was one of those present when Bob Turley of the New York Yankees shut out the Milwaukee Braves in the fifth game of the World Series, 7-0.

Murphy was attending a school officials' convention in New York City at the time.

Miami University had an 'in' for the Orange Bowl football bid until Wisconsin knocked it off, 20-0.

The Gator Bowl group was still interested in the Hurricanes until LSU routed them, 41-0.

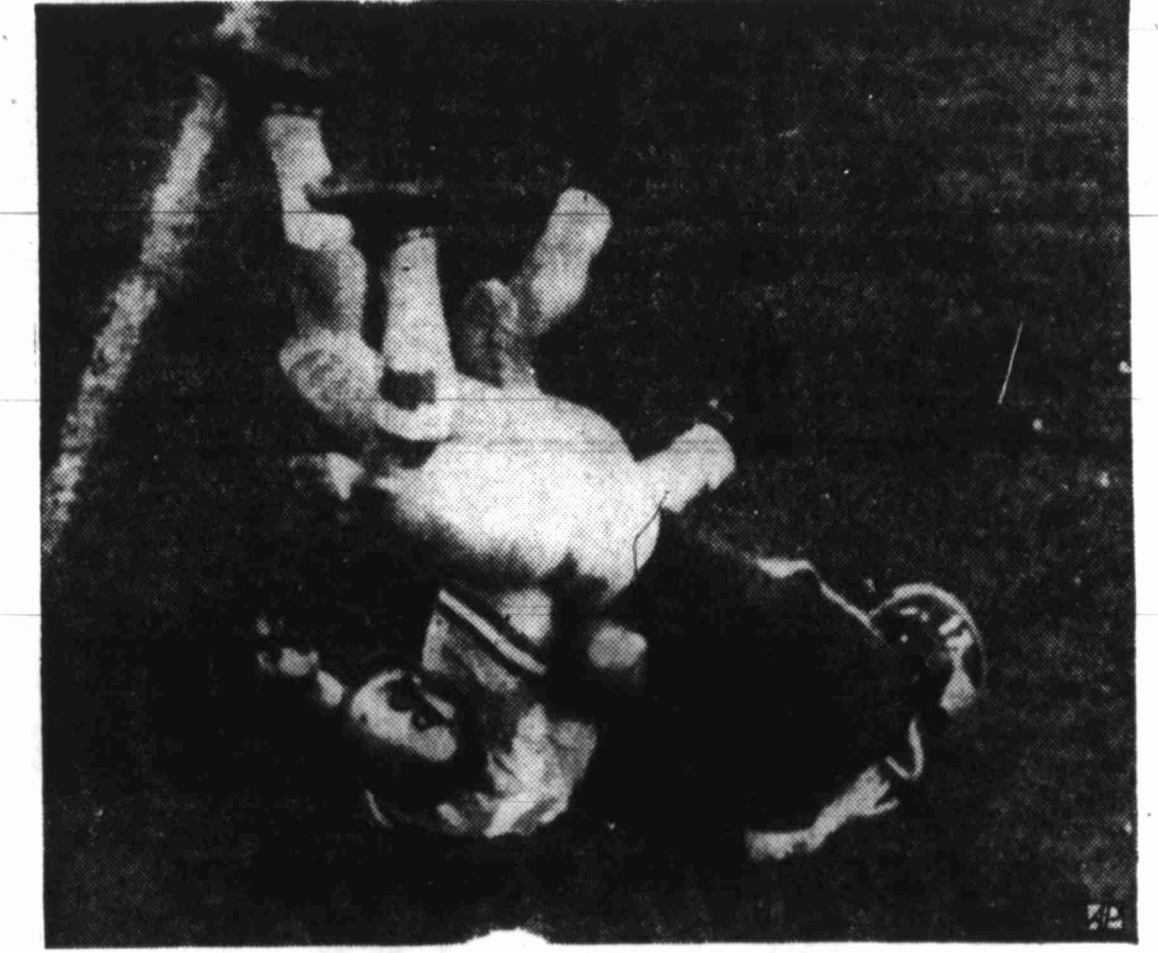

Don't be surprised now if LSU lines up against Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl outing, although the Tigers must still face such powers as Ole Miss and Mississippi State.

Bryant snared the forward pass for a touchdown that enabled Texas to tie Oklahoma at 14-14 and set the stage for Bob Lackey's winning extra point from placement. It was Texas' first victory over the Sooners since 1951.

Texas, behind 14-8, had the ball on the Oklahoma seven, third down, in the closing minutes of play. "You guys have just got to get open," quarterback Lackey told his ends in the huddle.

"Golly, I did, and that Lackey threw me the ball," the jubilant Bryant said afterwards.

Thus did the left end for the Longhorns gain the Lineman of the Week in the Weekly Associated Press poll of sportswriters and broadcasters. Altogether Bryant caught four passes for 29 yards.

Fumble Leads To Touchdown

Back Brad Myers (17) of Michigan fumbles the ball on a punt return in the first period of the Ann Arbor game as he is hit by Navy end George Bezek. Navy took the ball on Michigan's 38-yard line and went on to score. (AP Wirephoto).

Jimmy Brown Again Top Ball Carrier In NFL

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Husky Jimmy Brown of Paul Brown's Cleveland Browns is leading the National Football League in ground gaining with more than half as much yardage in three games than he pounded out in last year's entire 12 games schedule.

Now in his second year of pro football, Brown gained 942 yards in 1957. In the first three games of 1958, he has accounted for 482 yards for the unbeaten Browns. Cleveland's "bread and butter" guy has carried the ball 75 times, averaging 6.4 yards per effort and 160 yards a game. He's taken dead aim on Steven Van Buren's seasonal yards gained rushing title of 1,146, set by the former Philadelphia Eagles' star in 1949.

Tom Wilson of Los Angeles ranks second in the art of carrying the ball with 290 yards, followed by newcomer Bobby Mitchell, also of Cleveland, with 262, and Jon Arnett, Los Angeles, 253.

Little Eddie Lebaron, the lightest man in the league, has the heaviest passing average. The mighty mite, as he is known in the pro football world, sports a per pass average of 9.6 a throw. In all, Lebaron has tossed 44, completed 25 for 426 yards and two touchdowns. His percentage of completion is 56.8.

Mack Reynolds, the Chicago Cardinals' rookie quarterback, is second with a 9.5 average, 37 for 63, 601 yards gained, 5 TDs and a 58.7 completion percentage. Third is Billy Wade of Los Angeles with these figures: average 8.55, 42 for 74, 633 yards, 4 TDs, 56.8 completion percentage.

In other departments these are the early season leaders: Pass receiving — Ray Berry, Baltimore, 19 caught for 266 yards and 3 TDs. R. C. Owens is second with 16 for 187.

Scoring — Brown of the Browns 48 points on 8 TDs. John Crow of the Cards is second, 5 TDs, 30 points.

Punting — Don Chandler, New York Giants, averaging 46.2 yards to 45.7 for Sam Baker of Washington.

Throw the ball a lot. Before the season began, they were rated just behind Ysleta in the 1-AAA race.

The Panthers will arrive here Thursday in time for a workout at Steer Stadium. They'll take the field immediately after the Steers finish their drills.

Buddy Barnes, Big Spring back, hasn't been out for drills all week, due to a siege of the flu. It's extremely doubtful that he'll play Friday night. In event he doesn't suit out, J. B. Davis will step into his shoes as the No. 1 fullback.

The Steers went through a rugged defensive drill Tuesday, despite the rain. The linemen remained on the field about half an hour, the backs were kept a while longer.

and played an outstanding defensive game throughout.
It was a cruel twist of fate for Oklahoma guard Jim Davis. Only a few minutes earlier, he had grabbed a Texas handoff and raced 24 yards for a touchdown that put the Sooners ahead.

Bryant snared the forward pass for a touchdown that enabled Texas to tie Oklahoma at 14-14 and set the stage for Bob Lackey's winning extra point from placement. It was Texas' first victory over the Sooners since 1951.

Texas, behind 14-8, had the ball on the Oklahoma seven, third down, in the closing minutes of play. "You guys have just got to get open," quarterback Lackey told his ends in the huddle.

"Golly, I did, and that Lackey threw me the ball," the jubilant Bryant said afterwards.

Thus did the left end for the Longhorns gain the Lineman of the Week in the Weekly Associated Press poll of sportswriters and broadcasters. Altogether Bryant caught four passes for 29 yards.

Plymouth Adds New Luxury Line

Plymouth's new line of luxury cars, the Sport Fury models, will be shown to the public Thursday, along with the Fury, Belvedere and Savoy series. This 3-door hardtop has styling innovations from front to rear, and stresses the compound windshield. This model has the unique swivel front seats as standard equipment. All Plymouth models have improvements to reduce operating costs and improve performance. They will be displayed locally at Jones Motor Co., 1st and Gregg, and at Lone Star Motor, 600 E. 3rd.

NEW LINE DISPLAYED THURSDAY

Economy Features Linked To New Styling In '59 Plymouth

New bumper - to - bumper and head-to-roof styling, new power plants to give traffic agility and which operate 10 per cent more economically are innovations in the 1959 Plymouth line. They go on display Thursday, and are to be seen locally at Jones Motor Co., First and Gregg, and Lone Star Motor, 600 E. 3rd.

A new luxury model is added this year, the new Sport Fury series, which has the distinctive swivel front seats as standard equipment. These seats are optional on other models.

Plymouth also offers the Fury, the Belvedere and the Savoy series.

Value features are stressed by Plymouth in the new cars, and economy of operation is promised. There is a new 3-stage carburetor, standard on all V-8s, which with new manifold reduces gas consumption. A new gear axle ratio is available with the Torque-Flite transmission.

Although the improvements have reduced operating costs, they have at the same time increased performance.

The new Golden Commando 395 V-8 engine, with 305 horsepower, has been increased in displacement from 350 to 361 cubic inches, and in tests has shown exceptional "getaway" ability in traffic. It is an optional engine for all Plymouth models. Additional torque in normal driving ranges is a feature of all engines.

Plymouth's proven Torsion-Aire ride, which professional test drivers have termed "the most roadable suspension system on any American passenger car," retains its non-sway, non-dip characteristics and is standard equipment on all models. In addition, as optional equipment, air springs are used in conjunction with the regular rear leaf springs. They provide "self-leveling action", which assures that the rear of the car will remain at the same height regardless of weight of load.

The swivel front seats represent the first major change in car seating since Plymouth introduced the rear-facing third seat on station wagons. The new feature, standard equipment on the Sport Fury 2-door hardtop and convertible, allows the front seat passenger and the driver to pivot the seats toward the door when entering or leaving the car. The new arrangement also provides an arm rest between driver and front seat passenger which may be folded back when three persons wish to ride in the car. Swivel seats are available as optional equipment on the 2-door and 4-door hardtops in the Fury line, the Sport Suburban and the Belvedere convertible.

The new Mirror-Matic rear-view mirror, automatically "dims" when lights of a following car come into view, removing the annoyance of the reflected glare in the driver's eyes. A photo-electric cell on the mirror activates a device which automatically shifts the mirror when bright lights strike it.

Another improvement for night time driving is the automatic headlight dimmer. An electronic eye automatically dims or brightens the headlights, flicking on the low beam as it picks up the headlights of an on-coming car or the tail lights of a car that is being overtaken. The new unit includes a knob with which the driver may dial sensitivity according to surrounding light conditions.

Designers have given the 1959 Plymouth a new appearance from front, side and rear. Front end styling makes the car look wider and lower. The new grille is a split lattice-work of extruded aluminum bars extending the full width of the car. It is topped by a new hood, and new "double-barreled" front fenders to house the dual headlights. The front parking lights, at the ends of the grille, are curved to provide visibility for the parked car from either front or side. Beneath the grille is a new, massive bumper and a functional, full-width air scoop.

The compound windshield, which wraps around the sides and curves into the roof panel, is now standard on both the two-door and four-door hardtops as well as on the convertibles.

WAFB Has New Red Cross Officer

A new Red Cross field director stationed at Webb Air Force Base was introduced at the Tuesday meeting of the Howard-Glasscock Red Cross board meeting. He is C. W. Hummcutt, recently returned from a lengthy tour in Japan, who now has offices at Webb, to extend ARC services to men at the base. He will relieve the local chapter of much of the extra services it has been performing for the military for the past year.

Cop Kidnaper Gets 35 Years

DALLAS (AP)—A man who kidnaped a police sergeant, robbed him and forced him to drive more than 100 miles at top speed was sentenced to 35 years yesterday.

Lee Roe, 24, got 25 years for kidnaping and 35 for the robbery. Dist. Judge Joe Brown ordered the sentences to run concurrently.

Roe forced Irving Police Sgt. Harvey Derrick into a squad car at gunpoint when Derrick investigated a disturbance. He forced the officer to drive into East Texas at top speed while being chased by other officers. Roe fired at pursuing units, but no one was hit.

Earlier, Roe had robbed Derrick to buy gasoline.

The car was halted at a roadblock near Gladewater and Roe surrendered meekly.

He told Derrick he wanted him to drive him to Iowa so he could kill a man who had been keeping him from seeing his girl friend.

Ike Aims At Demo Votes

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower apparently is going out after support for Republican congressional candidates from independents and voters he calls discerning Democrats.

He hasn't defined exactly what a discerning Democrat is. But party leaders judge from what he has said recently that the President, in his forthcoming personal campaigning, plans some strong appeals to Democrats with conservative leanings.

With Eisenhower's approval the Republican National Committee has been pounding away on the theme that most of the Democrats running for Senate and House seats in the North and West are "left-wing radicals."

Eisenhower himself has suggested that the alternative to electing

Republicans may be "radical government."

This strategy obviously has been based on the knowledge that registered Democrats outnumber Republicans in many critical states. Unless some of the independents and conservative Democrats can be lured over to the GOP column, a number of Republican candidates will be in a bad fix.

Search For City Manager Begins

Without waiting anytime, the City Commission jumped into the matter of selecting a successor to City Manager H. W. Whitney Tuesday and called for another meeting this week to consider applications. Whitney resigned Saturday.

The commission, meeting Tuesday for its regular session, called for another meeting Thursday at 5 p.m. to discuss the matter further. Already one application has been received, but the meeting Thursday will be not to consider that application but to lay plans to screen applicants and consider the methods involved.

Whitney plans to report at Corpus Christi about Nov. 17, and the commission wants to get as close to hiring a successor as possible before he departs.

Tuesday night, the commission instructed Whitney to prepare a list of men he thought would be capable of handling the job, both present city managers and assistants in larger cities who might be interested in taking a top spot. This list will then be discussed at the Thursday meeting. In addition, the city has wired for a standard application blank for city managers from the International City Managers Assn. These blanks will be dispatched to those persons asked to apply as well as those who apply unsolicited.

Commissioner Ward Hall mentioned there might be local personnel who would be capable of handling the job, but no additional discussion was given to the matter.

The commission also Tuesday night authorized Whitney to attend the International City Managers' Assn. convention in Dallas Oct. 20-23.

West Texas Flow Hiked

AUSTIN (AP)—Major companies and the Bureau of Mines are in general agreement on the amount of crude oil Texas should produce next month.

Purchasing oil companies yesterday nominated a total daily production of 2,772,013 barrels compared to the Bureau's forecast of a 2,775,000 barrels a day demand.

The bureau was 65,000 barrels higher with its forecast compared to last month. The company's nominations were down 6,363 barrels.

Dist. 9, North Texas, showed a nominations increase of 17,967 barrels. It was the largest change and almost offset the decreases in other districts. Others with increases were Dist. 8, West Texas, 7,060 barrels and Dist. 10, Panhandle, 1,401.

Decreases included: Dist. 1, Southwest Texas, 1,458 barrels; Dist. 2, Southwest Texas, 4,233; Dist. 5, East Central Texas, 2,455; Dist. 6, East Texas outside, 5,302; Dist. 6, East Texas Field, 6,298; Dist. 7-B, West Central Texas, 2,734; and Dist. 7-C, West Central Texas, 1,935.

The Railroad Commission holds its monthly proration hearing tomorrow. It will determine the permissive flow for November. The flow usually runs about 12 per cent above actual production.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

SEC. B BIG SPRING, TEXAS, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1958 SEC. B

City Will Annex Area East Of Birdwell Lane

The City of Big Spring is about to grow a little larger.

The City Commission Tuesday night authorized the engineering and legal departments to prepare an annexation ordinance for an area south of the new FM 700. It will be over two months before the annexation will officially take effect, however, since the ordinance must be read at four meetings.

Probably the first reading will be at the next meeting, Oct. 23.

Lloyd Curley brought about the matter when he asked that a small segment south of Grafa St. be annexed. The commission then decided that the area was too small to be handled by itself so a larger area was selected.

The area to be annexed will begin at the present city limits in the northeast corner of Section 4, Block 32, Township 1-north of T&P Survey, and extend southward to the north bank of Big Spring Creek and westward to Birdwell Lane.

At present the city limits is on the north line of the highway now under construction. This new area will include Curley's small section and additional acreage on both sides of his area.

In another highway-related matter, the commission agreed to write a letter to Jake Roberts, district highway engineer, asking him to consider a request from Cecil Hamilton about rerouting the northern by pass of Interstate 20 so as not to damage Hamilton Field.

Hamilton had a route prepared which would not touch his airport and which he felt would still be feasible. Mayor G. W. Dabney told Hamilton the city would be glad to write the letter, but he thought it would not have any effect on the route of the highway.

Hamilton said that the airport would practically be destroyed since the route of the highway would cut off almost a third of the runway on the south end.

A request was approved for two walkie-talkie radios for the Civil Defense coordinator. The city's part of the costs would be $386.50, since the county would pay a like amount and the federal government match what both these two agencies paid.

CD coordinator W. D. Berry confronted the commission with the request. He said that the radios would be available for police and sheriff use when not tied up with CD affairs.

The commission, in another matter, elected to leave the $2,824 received from the state for sale of 7.06 acres of land on NE 12th and the Snyder highway in the cemetery fund. Whitney said it could be used for permanent improvements of the cemetery. Also the fund annually operates in the red, and the additional income would help alleviate the burden.

Authority was given to advertising for bids on a 1959 model car for the police department. Bids will be accepted at the next meeting.

The commission okayed a request from R. D. Tindol to approve an encroachment in street right-of-way at 701 E. 15th. Tindol the commission he had built an addition to his house which he later found extended into the street. The commission felt it was not a hazard and for the time nothing will be done about it.

300 Businessmen Invited To Take Part In B-E Day

More than 300 business operators are being invited to participate in Big Spring's annual Business-Education Day program by having teachers as their guests on Nov. 7.

Letters outlining plans for the observance and inviting the businessmen to participate have been mailed by the Chamber of Commerce. B-E Day, the letters explain, is designed to acquaint teachers, first-hand, with the basic principles of the free enterprise system. Each businessman who has teachers as guests will have an opportunity to acquaint them with day-to-day operations and problems.

Highlight of the observance will be a joint luncheon at which Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas will be the speaker.

"We hope to have the broadest participation possible, and hope that you will be able to host one or more teachers during the day," said Floyd Parsons, chairman of the C-C Education Committee, in the letter to business owners and managers.

Businessmen who plan to participate are asked to notify the C-C promptly so that teacher assignments can be completed.

This will be the fourth annual observance of B-E Day here.

HCJC Library Growing, But Book Circulation Declining

The shelves of books in Howard County Junior College library are being filled at a rate of almost 1,000 volumes per year, a report of librarian Paul Vagt shows.

Beginning in 1955, the library had an accumulation of 6,021 books, but one year later there were 6,984 volumes shelved at the college. In 1957, an inventory tallied 7,756 books on hand and through August of this year there were 8,729 books available to the students.

The high totals in literature and biography, as pointed out by Vagt in his annual report, reflect the beginning of a long-term project to build up the library's holdings in those categories.

Not all that goes into the collection stays, necessarily. Thirty-five volumes were withdrawn from last year's collection, either lost and paid for or missing three inventories previous. To now, 300 volumes have been taken from HCJC's collection.

The latest literature, in the form of periodicals, is an invaluable part of the library. The library currently receives 166 separate periodicals — magazines, pamphlets, newsletters — yearly, 141 by subscription and 25 by gift. The collection of motion picture films has increased from 147 to 172 since 1955, while disc records have gone down from the 1956 high of 331 to 117.

Little more than $4,600 was spent on books and periodicals during the past year, which, said Vagt, is an adequate figure. Total expenses for the college library — including staff salaries, student assistants, books, periodicals, binding, supplies and equipment, and audio-visual aids — amounted to $16,024.20. In 1955, the figure was $10,033.91.

As outlined in Vagt's report, recorded circulation declined last year for the second consecutive year, in spite of the increase in the collection and enrollment. The differences in teaching emphasis, Vagt contended, may account for a part of the decline. Circulation for the four terms from 1954-1958 are: 10,794; 11,725; 10,364; and 7,778. The decline occurred in all subject areas.

Nixon Cheers Up California GOP

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Vice President Nixon brought a message intended to cheer on California Republicans in his second campaign visit in two weeks.

He told a $100-a-plate dinner Tuesday night there has been a sharp upturn in Republican prospects throughout the country since his last tour of his home state.

"These next three weeks will determine the result in California," he said.

...and they will put your Safety Check Sticker on your car.

LOOK WHAT HAPPENED IN WICHITA

The story of what happened in Wichita is of vital interest to every motorist. Chances are that you will be as shocked at the results as were the people who conducted the test.

Wichita's motorists are typical drivers... not unlike the drivers right here. They had become so used to superior tire performance that they were lulled into a false sense of security... or in an attempt to squeeze the last mile of life from their tires, many drivers were subjecting themselves and all other motorists to extreme danger.

WICHITA, KANSAS. During September a tire-safety check was conducted. It was the most exhaustive check of this nature ever made. Wichita was chosen for the test because it offered a traffic-saturated metropolitan area combined with high-speed turnpike traffic.

The results of the check astounded the safety experts. It showed that four out of ten autos have bad tires! For the first time in the history of highway safety research, they were able to positively document the fact that unsafe tires are a critical factor in highway safety.

The safety check also produced evidence that failure to keep car wheels aligned is a contributing factor to unsafe tire wear.

The Wichita tire-safety check was hailed as the "most worthwhile study of its kind" ever conducted.

CRITIQUE Of The Local Entertainment Scene By BOB SMITH

Local Actor At Famed Playhouse

Doyle Phillips, the promising young actor who calls Big Spring his home, has completed his first week of study at the world-famous Pasadena Playhouse in California.

The Playhouse, a combination school-theatre, has trained a wealth of talent that later went on to the Big Time. Beginners are taken through a grueling series of courses designed to reshape their speech, mannerisms and mental outlook, with fencing, dancing and other athletic exercises to develop their muscular coordination.

An example of the tedious nature of the Playhouse's training was given in a video program a few months ago, in which the young actors were being divested of their regional accents. Lined up against a wall, they were drilled by their instructor in the proper pronunciation of each syllable of the English language. This, the narrator assured his viewers, was kept up for days.

Here are some excerpts from one of Doyle's recent letters:

"The classes are nothing short of interesting . . . we are learning to how to speak again . . . Fencing class is especially good . . . a few basic steps are being taught (in dance class) but mostly we have just been getting into condition—a job which the instructors are doing quite well . . .

"I've learned quite a bit in (my rehearsal group) . . . at present doing a scene from Midsummer Night's Dream (with) all sorts of improvisation and pantomime exercises . . .

The letter rambles on, describing in detail the various classes and laboratories, the interesting people, and the history of the Playhouse. Doyle signs off with an admission that he's "about to die to get on stage."

Doyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Phillips, has appeared in many stage productions in high school and H.C.J.C. It was his success in these plays that decided him upon an acting career. His main trouble, as was pointed out in this column, was stage shyness, just the kind of obstacle the Pasadena Playhouse is renowned for overcoming. Given another 10 years of hard work and experience, Doyle should be well on his way to fame.

Grid Girl Play Slated Nov. 20-21

"Time Out for Ginger," an amusing comedy about the complications that follow a teen-age girl's decision to go out for the high school football team, will be staged by the Court Jesters at the High School Auditorium Nov. 20-21.

A Broadway hit that ran 44 weeks when first presented in New York, "Time Out for Ginger" revolves around a bank executive in a medium-sized town, whose home life would under any circumstances be somewhat feverish, since he has a beautiful wife and three effervescent teen-age daughters.

He begs for trouble, however, by making an incautious speech before the high school assembly about the manners of the younger generation, including a statement that none of that generation should be forced to do anything he doesn't want to do, such as girls having to take gym.

Before the ink is dry on the report of his speech in the evening newspaper, his daughters are circulating a petition based on his rash remarks, and the logic of his speech forces him to acquiesce in the wild desire of his youngest daughter, Ginger, to play on the school's football team.

As a result, a photo of Ginger attired in shoulder-pads, helmet and other football equipment appears on the cover of Life Magazine and also a photo of her sidwiping her father with a missed tackle while he was cheering her on at the practice field. This raises the blood-pressure of the high school principal, as well as that of the president, depositors and board of trustees of the father's bank, and in the end it makes Ginger understand that being girlish in a party dress will get her more happiness than trying to turn herself into the son she knows her father wished she had been.

When "Time Out for Ginger" was first produced in New York, the critic for the New York Times called it "a fresh, warm-hearted and funny comedy that is highly enjoyable all the way," and the critic for the N. Y. World Telegram and Sun called it "an hilarious, laugh-packed winner." Time Magazine termed it "thoroughly amiable."

In the local production, Gary Pickle will be seen as the worried father. Beverly Franklin will portray his football-playing daughter, with the other two daughters played by Jeanette Heflin and Charlene Wilkinson. Sue Brown will play the banker's understanding wife. Other important roles will be filled by Lida Fiveash, Warren Shulte, Tommy Burleson, Tommy Wilkinson and Bob Pierce.

The production is directed by

Shot To Death

DALLAS (AP)—Miss Lois Farr, 27, was found shot to death last night in her apartment here. Police found a pistol near the body.

Daniel Proclaims Texas Nurse Week

Big Spring graduate nurses have called attention to be proclaimed by Gov. Price Daniel setting Oct. 13-19 aside as Texas Nurse Week.

The governor's proclamation urged a better understanding of the nursing profession by the public which it serves. The need for more nurses is also cited. The governor also took occasion to express thanks for the major contributions made by the profession to the health care and strength of the nation.

There are approximately 12,000 professional registered nurses working in Texas now. Of these, about one half are employed in the state's 600 hospitals and similar institutions. Around 2,000 are in private practices. Another 1,500 nurses work in doctor's offices, helping with examinations of the doctor's orders. Some 750 registered nurses work in the public health systems, and similarly 500 others are in the public health field. Still another, yet little known category, is the industrial nurse, who now number 700 in the state.

Of course there must be nurses as instructors in nursing schools, too, and some 400 are in these places on the staffs of 34 professional nursing schools.

Young women interested in a nursing career may call Miss Bessie Love at the VA Hospital, Mrs. Fred Hyer or Bo Bowen at the city-county health unit for more information on the profession.

Garden Club Honor

DALLAS (AP) — Mrs. David Buchanan of Temple was named the outstanding garden club woman for 1958 yesterday. The title goes with an annual award by the State Fair.

Calendar, Weather Records Show Time For Frost Near

Jack Frost, according to the record books, could be hovering nearby.

Back in 1914, on this date, the temperature dropped to a chilly 32 degrees. Technically, this is freezing weather. However, a drop to 32 degrees doesn't mean anything unless the cold has teeth and bites in for several days.

First recorded cold of what might be termed "killing frost" character in the records was on Oct. 19, 1917. The mercury on that date played funny tricks indeed. It reached a high during the day of 96 and that night dropped to 26 degrees.

Most recent below freezing temperature for this season fell on Oct. 21, 1955, when the temperature dived to 29. On the same date in 1917, it also touched 29 degrees, according to the books.

The Texas Almanac relates that the average killing frost date for Howard County, as determined by study of records for 51 years, is Nov. 10.

Dies Of Injuries

WACO (AP)—Paul Slaton, 34, died yesterday of injuries sustained Friday night in a motorcycle crash. The driver of the motorcycle, Billy Baskin, 36, remained in a critical condition.

Tomorrow . . . all America sees the one that's truly new!

Like all '59 Chevs, the Impala Sport Sedan has Safety Plate Glass all around.

what America wants, America gets in a Chevy!

'59 CHEVROLET

It's shaped to the new American taste with a lean, clean silhouette, crisp new contours, beautifully restrained accents. It brings you more spaciousness and comfort with a new Body by Fisher. It has a bright new sheen—a new kind of finish that keeps its luster without waxing for up to three years. New bigger brakes. Vast new areas of visibility. New Hi-Thrift 6. New handling ease and road steadiness. It's new right down to the tires.

Never before has an automobile manufacturer made such sweeping changes two years in a row. And never before has any car been new like this one.

The 1959 Chevrolet is more than a restyled car—more, even, than a completely new car. It's your kind of car. Shaped to reward your new taste in style with a fresh Slimline design that brings entirely new poise and proportion to automobile styling. Inside the new and roomier Body by Fisher you'll find truly tasteful elegance. And you'll have clear seeing from every seat. The new Vista-Panoramic windshield curves overhead—and there are new bigger windows, too.

When you take the wheel, you find Chevy's newness goes down deep. A new steering ratio makes handling easier. New suspension engineering gives you a more stable ride. There's a sweet new edition of Turboglide*. A new Hi-Thrift 6 that goes and goes on a gallon. Vim-packed V8's. New and bigger brakes. Even tougher, safer Tyrex cord tires.

There's still more! A new finish that keeps its shine without waxing or polishing for up to three years. New Impala models. New wagons—including one with a rear-facing rear seat. And, with all that's new, you'll find those fine Chevrolet virtues of economy and practicality. Stop in now and see the '59 Chevrolet.

MYSTERY FARM

Fertility Of Ackerly Land Making Crop Despite Hail

When a hail storm arched from north of Ackerly around to east of that community, the Jess Billingsley farm was right in the middle of it.

Billingsley, whose place was last week's Mystery Farm, looked the situation over. What had been a promising cotton crop was a mass of bare stems. It was after July 4 before he had a chance to get into the wet field so he decided to take a chance on the crop somehow coming out. After cultivation, the crop began to sucker out. It's going to make considerably more lint, barring an early frost, than cotton in another field which was untouched.

This is a pretty good indication as to the fertility of the Billingsley farm, which lies a mile east of Ackerly and is only a quarter of a mile off the pavement. A caliche road goes right up to the farm house.

The farm was carved out of the old Slaughter ranch and is one of the oldest farms in the area. For more than 40 years now crops have been raised there and the yields are still high in reasonably seasonable years.

Billingsley acquired the first quarter of section from Minnie Veal, a daughter of Col. C. C. Slaughter, whose vast cattle domain once covered practically all the area north of here. He made the purchase in 1941 through W. P. Soash, who once started a community by that name in northern Howard County, and in 1946 he added another quarter from Paul Brooks to round out his 320-acre farm. Practically all of it is in cultivation.

He raised 143 acres of cotton and most of the rest is in combine milo with a few acres held out for bundle stuff.

Billingsley has a few head of cattle on the place — around 25 now, and he has fed out as many as 150. He likes to keep cattle around so he can market his feed for cash anytime he wants to. Of course, the family has all the meat needed in the freezer lockers.

There is a good well of water at the house which furnishes all the domestic and livestock needs.

To work this and leased acreage, he has three 4-row tractor outfits. J. L. Billingsley was reared in Dawson County as was his wife, the former Edith Russell, whose father, Jim Russell, had been a sheriff of Dawson County. They, and their children, are active members of the Church of Christ, and they have had a part in the affairs of their community.

The Billingsleys have four sons, James Billingsley, who farms at Wilcox, Ariz., Larry Billingsley, who is working now at Paymaster Gin in Big Spring, Edward, who soon is to complete his Army service, and Robert, who is a senior in Ackerly High School. They have one daughter, Madeline Billingsley, who is a secretary to a doctor at Veterans Administration Hospital in Big Spring.

City Tax Rate Set, Discounts Okayed

The city tax rate will be $1.20. It is now official. Commission officials set the rate at their Tuesday meeting, dividing it 24½ cents for interest and sinking fund and 95½ cents for the general fund.

The commission had tentatively set the rate about two months ago so the tax department could figure the rolls, but the formal action was needed.

The tax department report showed that this $1.20 rate would apply to $38,011,105 in valuations. Figuring 90 per cent collection, the city would realize $410,520 from the taxes this year.

In addition, the commission authorized extension of the discount rate for early payment of taxes. In the past, the city has given three per cent discount for payment in October, two per cent in November, and one per cent in December.

However, since the city hasn't gotten its notices out, the commission authorized the three per cent discount for 30 days from Oct. 20. The other two discounts will remain as they are now.

City Engineer Clifton Bellamy presented a model policy concerning city participation of costs of water and sewer lines to developers, but no action was taken. Bellamy was instructed, though, to "smooth it out" and prepare copies for the commissioners to consider before the next meeting.

Generally, the policy would leave the costs on the shoulders of developers, but it would give them some rebate in case other developers took advantage of their lines.

The involved policy would call the city to pay for costs of lines above a size needed for the individual developer. Bellamy said he had studied policies of several cities in West Texas in coming up with the proposed plan.

Costs of the lines would be figured on a front-footage basis, but it would still be paid by the developer.

Nationalists Giving In On Troops Issue

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The Chinese Nationalists appear more and more likely to pull a sizable number of their troops out of Quemoy.

The American idea is to cut the threat of Nationalist invasion of the mainland as a bargaining point in talks with the Communists, but to leave the island garrisons strong enough to repel a Red landing.

Tax Commissioner For Railroad Named

DALLAS — The appointment of Ralph W. Guffey to the position of tax commissioner for the Texas & Pacific Railway Co. and its subsidiaries and of the Missouri Pacific Lines in Texas has been announced by R. H. Waterman, the road's general tax commissioner.

A native of Fort Worth, Guffey has 37 years of continuous service with the T&P. He started September 1, 1921, as a messenger. Guffey served in various capacities in other departments of the railroad until his promotion to the position of assistant tax commissioner Nov. 1, 1942. He was promoted to the post of senior assistant tax commissioner on June 1, 1956, which position he has held until his recent appointment as Tax Commissioner.

Oil Well Logging Conference Opens

Eye Appeal
"I'm pretty partial to the two-tone models CHEVROLET has put out for 1959. You never saw such eye-appealing combinations. Above all, I look at the many riding and driving advantages and the years of service I know CHEVROLET gives me," says Perry Mathis, Mechanic. Look for yourself October 16th at Tidwell Chevrolet, 1501 East 4th.

CONFIDENTIALLY:
You can save one third on long distance calls... station-to-station* is the secret
The smart word is out. People everywhere are learning station-to-station Long Distance calls cost about 1/3 less than person-to-person service. It's like getting one call free for every two you pay for.
Here's proof: night rate for a person-to-person call from Big Spring to Akron is $2.25. It's $1.50 when you call station-to-station. You save 75%.

Oct. 15, 1958

Dear Friends:

IT'S NEW ALL OVER AGAIN—

We are indeed pleased to announce our showing of the 1959 CHEVROLET, Thursday, October 16th.

So many things have been added that you, the customer, want in an automobile, that enough space is not available here to tell you. I will mention one of the things that will make for your enjoyment — CHEVROLET has balanced wheels and tires from the factory, eliminating guesswork for smooth driving.

We extend a personal invitation to each and every one to visit our showroom Thursday, October 16th, have coffee and donuts with us. Free favors for the entire family—

Yours For Better Motoring,
Leroy F. Tidwell

An Invitation

"This New and Beautiful mechanical wizard, the 1959 CHEVROLET, has my staff in a dither. May I personally invite you to come share their exuberance? I am probably more proud than ever before to be able to bring such an outstanding line of automotive ingenuity to you, the people of Big Spring and surrounding territory. As owner of Tidwell Chevrolet, 1501 E. 4th, let me again extend a welcoming hand to you to come see and examine the new 1959 Chevrolet on October 16th." Leroy Tidwell. (Pd. Adv.)

Station Operators Hailed As 'First Line Of Public Relations'

The community, through the Big Spring Marketers Club and the Chamber of Commerce, said thanks to service station operators Tuesday evening.

This was the fourth annual appreciation dinner, and program personalities repeatedly referred to the operators as the city's first line of public relations.

Approximately 100 men and their wives were on hand for the affair at Cosden Country Club and heard Delbert Downing, Midland Chamber of Commerce manager, call for greater personal initiative.

Regardless of how he feels towards his community, every man basically is working for himself or his family, he said. The man who makes the best showing for his community is the man who does things for himself.

The nation, and indeed any city, cannot afford to lose the same spirit of enterprise which sent early settlers "across the prairie with nothing but a covered wagon, a hound dog trotting in the shade underneath. But they had ideas, and energy and didn't wait for anyone to do something for them."

The way to improvement of service is through personal efforts and not by government decree, he declared. God still helps those who undertake to do something.

Mrs. Carol Belton, accompanied by Mrs. Charles Willbanks, was roundly applauded for two vocal selections. Greetings were brought by Jerry Worthy, member of the Oil Information Committee, and speaking for the Chamber of Commerce petroleum committee; from Jim Robinson, Dallas, representing the marketers division of the American Petroleum Institute; and from Ray Robinet, regional vice president of Texas Service Station Assn., and W. E. Bailey, a director of TSSA, both of Odessa.

Arrangements were in charge of Freeland Austin and Worthy, and the invocation was offered by Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. Decorations for the occasion were arranged by a Desk and Derrick Club committee headed by Zadora Peterson. Numerous greetings from high officials in the oil marketing organizations and from Gov. Price Daniel were read. Local oil jobbers and wholesalers were personal hosts to the operators.

Rotary Group To Attend Intercity Meet At Lubbock

Several members of the Big Spring Rotary Club plan to attend the 34th annual intercity meeting of West Texas Rotarians in Lubbock Thursday.

The gathering is set for 6 p.m. in Fair Park Coliseum. Principal speaker of the evening will be Roe Bartle, mayor of Kansas City, Mo. A Rotary Information Institute will be conducted by Trent Root, Dallas. Gerre Hancock, 1955 Rotary Foundation fellow, will provide music. A fellowship hour is to be held from 6 to 7 p.m., to be followed by a barbecued chicken dinner.

Official delegates of the Big Spring club will be Champ Rainwater, president; D. M. McKinney, vice president; W. T. McRee, secretary; and Hanson Lawton, bulletin chairman. Several other members of the club plan to attend.

Rocket Gathers Solar Flare Data

HONOLULU (AP) — The Navy says its solar eclipse expedition in the south Pacific fired a Nike-Asp rocket 150 miles into the air Monday and gained important information.

The firing was aimed at a large solar flare which followed Sunday's eclipse. Conditions were ideal, said the Navy, in contrast with those Sunday when thunderstorms shrouded a total eclipse visible along a path across the south Pacific.

The rocket was launched off a Navy craft off Puka Puka Island and was the last the scientists had. They fired five during Sunday's eclipse.

Search For Body

CAMERON, La. (AP) — The Coast Guard resumed searching today for J. P. Gould of Morton, Miss., who fell from an oil rig into the Gulf yesterday. Morton worked for the Dixilyn Drilling Co. on a rig off Pecan Island, about 40 miles offshore. He was believed wearing a life jacket.
