Moving Technique

The playhouse of Cathy Seymour, 7, of Fort Worth, gets a lift via a 75-foot crane en route to a new location. When her family moved they found a fence blocking all land exits for the playhouse. Since they promised that the playhouse would be moved also, the crane was the only solution.

Last Phase Of IUF Campaign Opens Tuesday

Final task force of the 1958 United Fund campaign swings into action Tuesday with a kick-off luncheon scheduled for noon in the Setles ballroom.

Reports from other units will be received and all campaign workers are being urged to attend the session.

The Metropolitan Division, being counted on for $9,800 for the United Fund, will start an intensive canvass of small businesses, small employ groups and others, including communities outside of Big Spring, following the kick-off session Tuesday. Several preliminary meetings have been held and the Metropolitan should be one of the best organized groups participating in the campaign. Bernard L. Coughlin is the division chairman.

So far, the campaign has produced $57,000 toward a goal of $89,900. Advance Gifts, Special Gifts and Employ and Public Employee divisions have attained about 75 per cent of their combined goal.

Division chairmen are Douglas Orme, Advance; Horace Garrett, Special; Cliff Fisher, Employee; R. H. Weaver, Public Employee; and Coughlin, Metropolitan. Other campaign leaders are Lewis Price, general chairman; R. L. Beale, public relations; John Currie, treasurer; Larson Lloyd, auditor; and W. H. Wharton, secretary.

The steering committee includes Beale, Coughlin, Robert Currie, Fisher, Garrett, J. H. Greene, Col. James A. Johnson, Dan Krause, K. H. McGibbon, D. M. McKinney, Clyde McMahon, Orme, Price, Champ Rainwater, Weaver, Wharton and W. Whipkey.

Rains In County Range Up To 2 In.

Damaging rains, ranging from half an inch to as much as 2 inches, kept the countryside soaked over the weekend and delayed still further the already sharply lagging cotton harvest.

The soaking rains which were almost constant over the weekend increased the possibility of damage to the cotton crop. The entire month of October has been dotted with showers and rains which have kept the cotton pickers idle and farmers on tenterhooks for fear their rich cotton crop would develop spottiness and be downgraded as a result.

Heaviest rain of the weekend seems to have been in the Coahoma area where 1.95 inch was gauged. Most of this fell on Saturday and during Sunday night.

Here in Big Spring, the rainfall varied in different parts of town. For the 48-hour period, the gauge at the U. S. Experiment Station reported .95 inch. Elsewhere in town, gauges showed from an inch to as much as an inch and half.

The U. S. Experiment Station brought October's total at that station to 2.41 inches.

Texas Electric Service Co. reported the following rain measurements: Switching station 1.00; Do town plant 1.40; Eskola 70; Chas. 55; Hatan 31; Sweetwater 1.00; Colorado City .52; Snyder 1.00; Morgan Creek .78; Lamesa 2.00; Coahoma 1.95. These reports cover the period from Friday midnight through Monday morning.

The rains rode on the crest of a cold front which kept the temperature at a chilly 58 maximum on Sunday and down to 47 degrees Sunday night. At mid-morning Monday, the reading was still near that figure.

The skies continued cloudy, the humidity high and the threat of additional showers constant. From general reports the rains were widespread over most of West Texas.

Red Guns Sputter On An 'Even' Day

TAIPEI (AP)—Communist guns fired only sporadically on the Quemoy today in Red China's new every-other-day war.

This was the first odd-numbered or shelling day since the Reds announced they would fire at will on the uneven days but on the even-numbered days would exempt airstrips, beaches and docking areas so supplies could be brought in.

Nationalist defense headquarters reported sporadic shelling on tiny Tatan Island in the Quemoy complex and light, scattered shelling elsewhere in the group.

But the volume of fire fell far short of the old days when the Reds unloaded thousands of shells on the Nationalist-held islands every day.

Nationalist headquarters reported a step-up in Communist military preparations along the mainland coast facing Quemoy and opposite Matsu, 150 miles to the north.

The Nationalists said their observers counted some 1,500 Red soldiers constructing ground fortifications opposite the Quemoy in the last three days. Nationalist defenders on Matsu reported 560 Communist building groundworks on the Peichiao Peninsula nearby.

Red gunboats and landing craft were reported active in Amoy harbor, facing Quemoy, but there were no reports of any clashes.

The Nationalist ambassador to the United States, George Yeh, described as groundless reports that Taipei would reduce its 100,000-man garrison on the Quemoy at the present time.

"As long as the Chinese Communists are firing at these islands, this is no time to talk about thinning out our forces there," said Yeh as he boarded a plane for Washington.

However, he did not rule out a gradual reduction after the firepower on the islands is increased through new and better weapons. Despite the slackening of Red shelling, rough seas in the Formosa Strait prevented the sending of supply convoys Sunday or Monday to Quemoy.

County Treasurer Report Must Be Okayed Monthly

AUSTIN (AP)—Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has ruled that it is mandatory that each county commissioner's court inspect the county treasurer's books each quarter and publish the results in a newspaper.

The opinion pointed out that non-compliance is punishable by fines of $25 to $500.

Wilson gave his opinion at the request of Refugio County Attorney Gerald T. Bissett.

The attorney general said it was mandatory that the order of the commissioner's court approving the county treasurer's quarterly report be received and paid out of each fund since the preceding report and the balance of such fund, if any. Then affidavits of compliance by the county judge and each commissioner must be made, filed with the county clerk and the affidavits published in a newspaper in the county.

Nevada Plane Search Resumes

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—A search was resumed today for two airplanes missing in rugged southern Nevada.

Thirty Air Force, Civil Air Patrol and sheriff's planes scanned the area yesterday without finding a trace.

Four airmen were aboard a twin-engine B25 which disappeared Friday night on a stormy flight from Reese AFB at Lubbock to Nellis AFB here. Nothing was heard from the craft after the pilot radioed he was south of Las Vegas at 9,000 feet and having trouble with one engine.

The next day, Chuck Jacobs, an airman stationed at Nellis, disappeared on a local sightseeing flight in a single-engine plane.

Prank Turns Into Tragedy

MULDROW, Okla. (AP)—A prank turned into a tragedy Sunday when a youth was shot to death.

The victim was Thomas Darrell Wasson, 19, of nearby Roland.

Sheriff E. W. Floyd said two Muldrow youths, Paul Laney and Jerry Duvall, took Wasson to a house on the pretense of introducing him to a girl.

They approached another youth, who turned out to be the girl's brother, and started shooting.

Duvall said the prank repeated several times before the victim running away and being shot.

Donald Duvall, 12, said Wasson was shot in the back of the head by a .38-caliber revolver.

Wasson was taken to the hospital but died before he could be operated on.

The board's favorable recommendation included two main conditions:

1. Water rights of persons downstream from the dam site, about 12 miles north of Del Rio on the Rio Grande, would remain in force and will not be impaired or diminished.

2. Water for hydroelectric purposes will be subordinate to domestic and municipal, industrial and irrigation uses, as is outlined in present state law.

The provision pointing to water rights below Fort Quitman was expected to dampen part of the opposition from below Laredo and especially from the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

POPE ELECTION

Cardinals Fail On Latest Ballot

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The princes of the Roman Catholic Church failed today, apparently for their eighth ballot in two days, to elect a new pope.

Black smoke curled from a chimney of the Sistine Chapel for the second time today and the fourth in two days. It meant the 51 cardinals closed in secret meeting could reach no agreement on the man who, in their estimation, would be the best teacher and pastor for a half billion Catholics.

The Vatican radio did not commit itself definitely, but described the smoke as of such obvious blackness that one might assume there was a negative result.

Twenty minutes after the first puff, black smoke still issued from the chimney.

The cardinals went through their two morning ballots in an unusually short time.

This time there was practically no confusion about the smoke arising from the slender chimney over the Sistine Chapel as the two sets of ballots were burned. The tiny wisps of smoke soon took on a distinctly black hue and continued black, the sign that no pontiff had been chosen to succeed Pius XII.

White smoke from the chimney is supposed to indicate a new pope has been named. The addition of straw is supposed to turn the smoke black, indicating no result. Sunday something went wrong and white smoke came out twice, setting off premature and groundless rejoicing.

Today the cardinals resorted to more modern chemistry so there would be no misunderstanding. An aide said that Prince Sigismondo Chigi, marshal of the conclave, had experimented with a tar by-product, then passed it in to the cardinals through one of the closely guarded doors which are the only access to the conclave area. It was added to the fire to make the smoke unmistakably black.

The secret, walled-in conclave was about 40 hours old when the new failure was indicated by the smoke. The 51 princes of the church were to go back into session late this afternoon to try again with two more ballots if that proved necessary.

NO RIOT, NOT ROCK-N-ROLL

SCARSDALE, N. Y. (AP)—The teen-agers began showing up as early as 9 a.m. By afternoon, when the music started, seven extra policemen had been called to handle the crowd of some 1,800.

Only 1,350 were admitted to the high school auditorium. The others stood outside in the rain and listened.

The performer who packed 'em in wasn't Elvis Presley. Nor Pat Boone. It was Van Cliburn.

The teen-aged audience heard the 23-year-old Texas pianist rehearse a Schumann concerto with the Orchestral Society of Westchester.

The afternoon spectators, from 12 to 18, were admitted free.

Caril Goes On Trial For Life

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Caril Ann Fugate, 15-year-old companion of convicted killer Charles R. Starkweather on a three-day bloody rampage last January, goes on trial today for her life.

Caril is being tried on the same charges on which her bow-legged ex-sweetheart was convicted and sentenced to die Dec. 17 in the electric chair. Starkweather admitted involvement in 11 deaths, 10 while with Caril.

The state needs only to convince the jury that Caril aided and abetted Starkweather in the slaying of Robert Jensen, 17, Bennet, Neb., to qualify for her first-degree murder conviction and one of two penalties—life imprisonment or death.

Selection of a jury is expected to take three days at least.

The couple's three-day flight was marked by the finding of bodies of six slaying victims in Lincoln, including Caril's parents and half-sister, three at nearby Bennet, and one in Wyoming where they were captured. Starkweather also admitted killing a Lincoln filling station attendant in a robbery attempt.

Caril has denied any part in the killings.

Starkweather has told conflicting stories, including one that he tried to surrender and she wouldn't let him.

Forged Check Sets Off Search

A search for two men spread east of here this morning after a forged $435 check was passed at a grocery store between 8:30 and 9.

Peace officers east of here were checking buses from Big Spring after local officials learned the man boarded a bus east of here about 10:30 a.m. after the store accident.

One of the men had been apprehended at noon, but no charges had been filed.

Ray Bedford at Piggly Wiggly took the check, on Floyd's signature, and made payable to W. W. Moore, but she thought the man wasn't completely on the job.

The investigation revealed the man hadn't made out such check before, and the matter was turned over to the police.

Officers learned that a cab took two men from the store to well past the city limits where the pair boarded an east-bound bus.

Readies More Attacks On Demos

By The Associated Press

The final full week of the 1958 political campaign began today with President Eisenhower primed for more hammer-and-tongs assaults on the Democrats.

Democratic leaders were prepared to punch home more criticisms of the Eisenhower administration in their efforts to repel the Republican drive to regain control of Congress.

Eisenhower was headed for an airport talk at Charleston, W.Va., before flying to Pittsburgh for a speech that will be televised tonight in 18 states, many of those states in the East and Midwest, GOP candidates are having a rough time of it.

The President's vigorous campaign technique, used in California last week, has heartened GOP leaders. A number of them said during the weekend it had rejuvenated Republicans everywhere and brightened GOP prospects.

Eisenhower's aides predicted the President would keep slugging at the Democrats.

However, it was questionable whether these oratorical fireworks—or those by other top Republican and Democratic campaigners—were having much effect on the voters they were intended to sway.

A check by the Associated Press uncovered no signs of any sizable switches in sentiment as a result of this late-stage political cannonading.

"In state after state," an AP analysis said, "the momentum still appears to be largely toward the Democrats although it may have slowed down a bit in the last month."

One of the most optimistic of the Republican campaigners was Vice President Nixon, who was set to carry his stamping into Michigan today.

During a Sunday respite in Minneapolis, Nixon said that in the past 10 days "there has been a dramatic upsurge in Republican strength and a sharp recession in Democratic strength."

Nixon attributed what he called a striking shift of voter opinion to a recognition that "in terms of peace, prosperity, honest government and progress this administration has done an infinitely better job" than its Democratic predecessors.

Rep. Eugene McCarthy, Democratic candidate for the Senate from Minnesota, challenged Nixon's claim of a sharp rise in GOP strength. "If this has happened, no one but Nixon has been able to discern it," McCarthy said in Minneapolis.

Meanwhile, other Republican and Democratic spokesmen kept up refrains which have become familiar as the campaign moves toward its end.

Sen. Theodore Francis Green (D-RI) attacked administration foreign policy, saying it "seeks to appease everybody, pleases nobody, and ends by accomplishing nothing." The 91-year-old chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee spoke last night in Elizabeth, N.J.

Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn said in Washington any new Democrats elected to the House or Senate will come from the North and West—and thereby increase the influence of the left wing.

Appearing on a radio-TV interview, Alcorn said this would lead to "leftwing radicals" taking control of the party in Congress.

Looking at it a different way, the Committee for an Effective Congress predicted Democratic gains in both Senate and House and said that as a result of the Nov. 4 elections "the Senate will shift in a liberal direction."

In other political developments: 1. Secretary of Labor Mitchell criticized political activities of Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers. Mitchell said in a TV interview from Washington that "unfortunately, Walter is too tied up with the Democratic party to render the best service to his people."

2. Alcorn struck at Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler for saying Republicans are using ugly language instead of talking issues. Alcorn turned the charge back at Butler and said other Democratic speakers "were blasting to bits Mr. Butler's phony claims" about his party's restraint.

22 Men Trapped In Mine Disturbance

BISHOP, Va. (AP)—An unidentified disturbance today trapped 22 miners in a section of the Pocahontas Fuel Co.'s Bishop mine No. 34. The extent of the damage and the condition of the men could not be determined immediately.

The trouble disrupted communications to the section.

Mine officials said 166 other men in the mine when trouble occurred at 8:20 a.m. walked out. None suffered any ill effects.

Roland C. Luther, vice president of the company, at a news conference told newsmen it was "a local disturbance" and occurred in the "dayheading section."

"I prefer not to use the word explosion," said Luther, "because we don't know what it was."

He said, however, the disturbance appeared to have been powerful because it was hardly felt at the elevator shaft a little more than a mile from the scene.

A blast in February 1957 killed 37 miners at the Bishop works on the Virginia-West Virginia border.

Luther said the ventilation system in the mine areas reached by rescuers had not been damaged, indicating the disturbance was not of great a magnitude. He said this gave hopes the trapped men could be reached alive.

Of the 166 miners who escaped, those working closest to the disturbance sealed themselves off but later were removed.

Luther said the disturbance had occurred in the same section but a little further down from the Feb. 4, 1957, explosion scene.

Four rescue squads went down into the mine in relays of two, with about 15 men working at a time.

To get to the disturbance area, rescue teams took the elevator down 200 feet and then had to travel approximately a mile horizontally.

The section where the trouble occurred was described by mine officials as a mechanical section, where men operated coal loaders as contrasted with conveyor belt loading.

The mine entrance is four miles east of the town of Bishop, which is 27 miles southwest of Bluefield, W. Va.

Luther said 14 of the trapped men were on the day shift which entered the mine at 8 a.m. The other eight were from the previous shift who had not left the mine.

2 States Lead Census Growth

WASHINGTON (AP)—California and Alaska have led the states in population growth since the 1950 census, the government reported today.

The Census Bureau said California registered the largest numerical gain while Alaska—soon to be the 49th and largest state—had the biggest percentage increase.

Under revised population estimates for July 1, 1957, six states gained more than one million inhabitants since the national head count in April 1950.

California led the list with an estimated increase of 3,293,000. The other million-plus gainers were: Texas 1,464,000, Florida 1,438,000, Michigan 1,334,000, New York 1,318,000 and Ohio 1,260,000.

New York remained the nation's largest state with 16,148,000 inhabitants. California was next with 13,879,000.

Alaska's population, estimated at 211,000, showed a 64 per cent gain since 1950.

Four states have lost population since 1950. Arkansas' loss of nearly 7 per cent was the greatest. Vermont and West Virginia lost about 2 per cent and Mississippi lost less than 1 per cent.

The population of the West increased 26 per cent, twice the national average. The Northeast gained 3 per cent.

For years you've been assured that "life begins at 40." And so it does—if your middle years are protected from the serious ailments that often sneak in with the fourth birthday. But I doubt if you've given much thought to the fact that youth begins at breakfast.

I consider breakfast the most important meal of the day. For me it is always a high-protein meal, with little or no pure starch of any kind. Nor is this merely a whim of mine. There's a solid nutritional basis for eating high-protein breakfasts and eliminating the pure starches from your "wake-up" meal.

My breakfast menu sometimes causes comment among my fellow breakfasters whenever I am away from home. I remember one morning in the dining room of a Pittsburgh hotel when I ordered sliced oranges, two broiled lamb chops, and a cube of cheese for my breakfast. The waitress repeated the order as though I had ordered hummingbird tongues, then set off doubtfully toward the kitchen. At that particular time I was just beginning a series of difficult lectures, all the while trying to rush to completion the manuscript of one of my earlier books.

But the weary-looking couple at the table next to mine evidently didn't agree with my choice of breakfast. For, as the waitress placed the platter of nicely browned chops in front of me, I heard the woman murmur to her husband, "Disgusting! Cheese for cannibal's breakfast." And then she and her husband smugly downed their own all-starch breakfast of a patented dry cereal, sweet roll and coffee.

Yet I'll wager that around 11 o'clock that morning I had by far the most energetic body, and the best-controlled nerves of the three. And all because I had the foresight to supply my mind and body with the type of food—high-protein—that assures the most nourishment for muscles, nerves and brain cells.

BREAKFAST DECIDES
Although you may not have realized it, your disposition—your "mood" that is—for the day is largely determined by the kind of breakfast you eat. A high-starch breakfast starts you out for the day with your appetite temporarily appeased, yet with your digestive tract laboring under the burden of a lot of goopy food that probably will have you belching before you leave the table. As the gas from this undigested starchy mass accumulates in your digestive tract, crowding uncomfortably around your heart, you begin feeling as though you shouldn't have gotten out of bed at all that morning. Your night's rest apparently did you little good, for you are tired and weary even before the morning gets well under way.

A light breakfast of fruit juice, toast and coffee is not sufficient nourishment to carry the hungry body (remember, you've not eaten for nearly 12 hours when you sit down to the breakfast table)

After 20 Years, Orson Welles Hasn't Lived Down Big Hoax

Editor's Note—Twenty years ago some talented young actors worked up a radio skit for Halloween about Martian monsters invading the earth. They hoped the audience would not be bored. It wasn't.

By FRANKIE SHARP

NEW YORK (AP)—"I wanted to pack and take my child in my arms, gather up my friends and get in the car and just go north as far as we could.

"But what I did was just sit by one window, praying, listening and scared stiff and my husband by the other, sniffling and looking out to see if people were running."

"I grabbed my hat and coat and a few personal belongings. When I got to the street there were hundreds of people milling around in panic."

These terrified citizens weren't panicked by a hurricane, an explosion or a war. They, and thousands like them, believed monsters from the planet Mars had invaded the United States.

It was just 20 years ago, at 8 p.m. on Oct. 30, that the greatest hoax in radio history began.

The hour-long show was Orson Welles' production of "War of the Worlds," written 40 years earlier by Britain's H. G. Wells.

"We hesitated about this—it was our thought that perhaps people might be bored or annoyed at hearing a tale so improbable," said a bewildered Welles later.

To pep up the old story, Welles landed the Martians in New Jersey and used the names of real places. The first half of the play was presented as a series of news bulletins breaking into a program of dance music.

Restless dial-twiddlers hit the Welles program after its introduction and heard only the bulletins picturing a meteor-like object landing at Grover's Mill, N. J., and disgorging a crew of leathery monsters equipped with deadly heat rays and mighty war machines shaped like giant metal men.

"Ladies and gentlemen, this is the most terrifying thing I have sandwich and a piece of pie, fortify your mind and body for the balance of its day's work by choosing a dish containing another high-protein food—meat, fish, poultry, cheese, or a good meat substitute made from whole seed cereals. Add to this a vegetable or a green salad, top it off with a light fruit or custard dessert, and you have the perfect, pep-supplying lunch.

What's more, by the time evening comes you'll find that your appetite isn't so ravenous that it demands the accustomed heavy dinner. Another light protein-vegetable-and-fruit meal will be all your appetite demands; and most certainly you'll sleep far better, and wake up the next morning more refreshed than if your body had struggled all night through the digestion of a heavy-high-starch dinner.

The time to begin dealing knock-out punches to a premature old age is at breakfast!

Tomorrow: Conclusion of Lelord Kordel's Eat and Grow Younger series which has been condensed from his book by the same name, published by World Publishing Co.

ever witnessed," gasped a radio reporter at Grover's Mill. "I can see the thing's body. It's as large as a bear and it glistens like wet leather."

A Pittsburgh man came home to find his wife in the bathroom, clutching a bottle of poison. As the radio announced new horrors from the Martians, his wife screamed: "I'd rather die this way than like that."

In Providence, R. I., weeping women swamped the newspaper switchboard, asking for details of the massacre of New York, New Jersey and New York residents begged for help and reassurance.

"These messages started pouring in—I think the first was from Atlanta, Georgia," says Charles Grumich, who was in charge of the Associated Press' New York bureau desk when it happened.

"First thing, we got hold of CBS. They were laughing. They hadn't realized how serious it was yet—and we hadn't either."

But it didn't take long to find out. AP rushed out an explanatory note to editors and followed with a story while the program was still going on.

The Martians tramped through Newark and advanced on New York. A broadcaster on a rooftop described it.

"People are running toward the East River. Thousands of them, dropping in like rats. Now the smoke's reached Times Square. People are falling like flies. Now the smoke's crossing Sixth Avenue... Fifth Avenue... 100 yards away... it's 50 feet..."

A brief coughing and silence. Then a lonely voice: "2X2L calling cq. 2X2L calling New York. Isn't there anyone on the air? Isn't there anyone?"

Then came a station break and an announcement that this was all a play. But it was too late.

At the end of the program, Welles, still not knowing about the uproar because he had been at the microphone while the reports began trickling in, gave this cheery little speech:

"This was the Mercury Theater's own radio version of dressing up in a sheet and jumping out of a bush and saying 'boo'... If your doorbell rings and nobody's there, that was no Martian... it's Halloween."

Many listeners accepted the laugh on themselves. Many others were disgruntled.

The angry voice of a Midwestern city's mayor came roaring over the CBS phone for Orson Welles. Spluttering with rage, he reported mobs in his streets, terrified women and children crouched in churches.

If, he snarled, this is nothing but a joke, he personally was coming to New York to punch Welles in the nose.

Asked if he would like to try to recreate the historic Martian invasion, the pudgy Welles—now in his early 40s—shrugged his head. "Not for anything in the world," he said.

"Laws have been enacted since then which prohibit the simulation of actual news in a way likely to create panic."

"I think it is best that people retain their faith in newscasts. I remember that I was doing a show at the time of Pearl Harbor."

The bulletins were broadcast and nobody would believe it—they thought it was the Martian invasion trick all over again."

DEAR ABBY THE NEW LOOK?

By ABIGAL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I think you could have done better with your answer to that sales lady who objected to women shoppers saying, "That's not what I had in mind." For about a year I have been looking for a dress, and let me tell you, what I have been shown is certainly NOT what I had in mind. Who started these sacks, trapeze and chemise type dresses anyway? Men who hated women, that's who! Is it our fault that there is nothing around but these crazy styles? I am five feet six and weigh 130 pounds and I can't wear them. Thanks for letting me blow off some steam. Now I feel better.

WEARING LAST YEAR'S CLOTHES

DEAR WEARING: Shake hands with somebody else who is also wearing last year's clothes. I am five feet nothing, weigh 105 and I can't wear 'em, either. The first sharp designer who comes out with an old-fashioned type dress that fits all over is going to get my business.

DEAR ABBY: What is a gentleman supposed to do when he is seated at a table and a lady walks over to his table and she stands up and she pushes his shoulder and says, "Oh, please sit down." Should he sit down or should he remain standing as long as she stands there even though she keeps telling him to sit down? My friend says if the lady says to sit down I should sit down. I say no gentleman sits down while a lady is standing no matter what she says. Who's right?

DEAR GENTLEMAN: Remain standing. If she pushes you down don't stand for it.

DEAR ABBY: Two years ago I made a very foolish mistake with a young lady and she became pregnant. I did a very dishonorable thing and volunteered for the Army to get away from her. My hitch is almost over and I will be separated in a month. I keep hoping someone will take her off my hands before enlistment is through. Should I reenlist or marry her? Please don't publish my name or location as I have enough trouble already.

DEAR FOULED UP: Quit ducking your responsibility! If you are old enough to be a father you are old enough to be a man. You should support the child willingly. An unwilling bridegroom makes a pretty sad life-time companion. Get "re-acquainted" with the girl. It might help you to remember what you saw in her.

DEAR ABBY: When I was a little girl my father recited a poem to me. I have asked many people where it came from but nobody seems to know. Maybe you (or one of your readers) will know. It goes like this:

A wise old owl sat on an oak The more he heard the less he spoke The less he spoke the more he heard Why can't we be like that wise old bird?

MRS. L. M. W. DEAR MRS. L. M. W.: I don't know who wrote it. But gladly I'll quote it. These are wise little words. Are not for the birds. Abby Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I think you could have done better with your answer to that sales lady who objected to women shoppers saying, "That's not what I had in mind." For about a year I have been looking for a dress, and let me tell you, what I have been shown is certainly NOT what I had in mind. Who started these sacks, trapeze and chemise type dresses anyway? Men who hated women, that's who! Is it our fault that there is nothing around but these crazy styles? I am five feet six and weigh 130 pounds and I can't wear them. Thanks for letting me blow off some steam. Now I feel better.

WEARING LAST YEAR'S CLOTHES

DEAR WEARING: Shake hands with somebody else who is also wearing last year's clothes. I am five feet nothing, weigh 105 and I can't wear 'em, either. The first sharp designer who comes out with an old-fashioned type dress that fits all over is going to get my business.

DEAR ABBY: What is a gentleman supposed to do when he is seated at a table and a lady walks over to his table and she stands up and she pushes his shoulder and says, "Oh, please sit down." Should he sit down or should he remain standing as long as she stands there even though she keeps telling him to sit down? My friend says if the lady says to sit down I should sit down. I say no gentleman sits down while a lady is standing no matter what she says. Who's right?

DEAR GENTLEMAN: Remain standing. If she pushes you down don't stand for it.

DEAR ABBY: Two years ago I made a very foolish mistake with a young lady and she became pregnant. I did a very dishonorable thing and volunteered for the Army to get away from her. My hitch is almost over and I will be separated in a month. I keep hoping someone will take her off my hands before enlistment is through. Should I reenlist or marry her? Please don't publish my name or location as I have enough trouble already.

DEAR FOULED UP: Quit ducking your responsibility! If you are old enough to be a father you are old

F106 Described As 'Controlled Fury'

Editor's Note—The Air Force took a general off the waiting list to permit Associated Press Aviation Writer Vern Haugland to become the first aviator to fly in the new F106, a plane termed "a missile with a man aboard."

By VERN HAUGLAND

TYNDALL AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP)—The new Convair F106 interceptor—the nation's nearest approach to a pushbutton war plane—plunges into its takeoff run like a startled race horse in a headlong runaway.

It flings itself along the runway to a speed of well above 100 miles an hour within seconds, then leaps into the air.

A two-million-dollar 30,000-pound monster of metal, fuel, electronic brains and possibly atomic weapons, it raises its tapered nose and climbs skyward at an angle of almost 45 degrees.

The all-weather interceptor readily exceeds twice the speed of sound and operates effectively at altitudes over 50,000 feet.

The controlled fury of its Pratt and Whitney J75 jet engine puts it among the world's fastest and deadliest aircraft.

The system computes the exact path of flight, automatically prepares the missiles for launching and at the precise instant for a kill releases the missiles to track down and destroy the target.

Asthma Formula Prescribed Most By Doctors—Available Now Without Prescription

Stops Attacks in Minutes... Relief Lasts for Hours!

New York, N. Y. (Special)—The asthma formula prescribed more than any other by doctors for their private patients is now available to asthma sufferers without prescription.

Medical tests proved this formula stops asthma attacks in minutes and gives hours of freedom from recurrence of painful asthma spasms.

This formula is so effective that it is the physicians' leading asthma prescription—so safe that now it can be sold—without prescription—in tiny tablets called Primatene.

Primatene opens bronchial tubes, loosens mucous congestion, relieves tight nervous tension. All this without taking painful injections.

The secret is—Primatene combines 3 medicines (in full prescription strength) found most effective in combination for asthma distress. Each performs a special purpose.

So look forward to sleep at night and freedom from asthma spasms... get Primatene, at any drugstore. Only 95¢—money-back-guarantee.

Wheat-Grass Crop Tested By Russ Scientists

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter

Russian scientists now are planting a double-duty wonder crop.

In June they expect to cut it for grass to feed cattle. Then they'll let it grow up again to yield a harvest of wheat for humans next fall.

Known as "grain-fodder" because it would feed both human and animals, this plant still is experimental, says Peter Lapin, assistant director of the main botanical gardens in Moscow. It comes from a cross or marriage of wheat and wild grasses in experiments conducted by academician Nikolai Tsitsin, one of Russia's leading botanists. Prof. Tsitsin also is trying to develop a perennial type of wheat which would grow again every year.

The double-duty grain-fodder plant also belongs to the perennial type, Lapin says, but "it is not good enough at wintering yet to be of practical use."

Some of it is being tested on experimental plots at the botanical garden. "You plant the grain-fodder in October and it gives grass for its first harvest," Lapin says. "It grows after that cutting, and yields grain for the second harvest."

"Or the first yield can be grain, if you have a wet spring; then you get the grass later. It promises to be very useful in our climate because sometimes we have very dry springs. After first giving grass, it would yield grain after the summer rains."

Prof. Tsitsin 25 years ago began breeding experiments to cross strains of wild and cultivated wheat with wild grasses—"which usually are the enemy of the farmer," Lapin says.

If his double-duty plant succeeds, it would be his greatest achievement.

Doctors Raked For 'Brush-Off'

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Too many doctors brush off patients seeking periodic health check-ups, a public health official says. He says it's because too much emphasis has been placed on medical education for treating disease as distinguished from maintaining health.

Dr. Lester Breslow, chronic diseases chief of the California State Health Department, said it's true there aren't anywhere near enough doctors to give everyone in the country an annual check-up—apparently the "ideal approach to preventive medicine."

Most people don't seek one anyway, he said, partly because of the cost involved.

He said in a talk Sunday to the Assn. of Teachers of Preventive Medicine on the eve of the 86th annual meeting of the American Public Health Assn.

"In addition to the present impossibility of periodic health examinations (for everyone) from the standpoint of physician time, there is also the fact that physicians in the United States are still not oriented toward or interested in health maintenance work."

"Those in public health practice are all too familiar with the lament of the public health nurses who encourage people to go to physicians for a periodic check-up, only to have the physicians give patients the 'brush-off.'"

He said another thing that probably has held down the development of the periodic health examination "is the poor quality of it when it has been offered."

"Experience with the cursory school health examination or usual life insurance examination would not seem to provide much encouragement for regular check-ups," he said.

Dr. Breslow said while the ideal of annual comprehensive check-ups for everyone remains a goal for the future, a partial approach to the ideal lies in a health examination called "multiple screening."

He defined this as the combination into a battery of several disease-detection, or screening, tests performed by technicians under medical direction and applied to large groups of apparently-well persons.

Indiana Lowers Crude Oil Prices

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Crude prices paid by the Indiana Oil Purchasing Co. dropped Sunday in two North Texas counties and in Arkansas and Louisiana.

Although the firm did not lower its top of $3.08 a barrel in Texas' Cooke and northern Montague Counties, it boosted the downward differential from 2 to 4 cents a degree for crude below 36-degree gravity.

Cuts announced by President R. F. Pielsticker in the other two states vary from 5 to 15 cents a barrel.

Indiana slashed Louisiana prices 5 cents a barrel in the Antioch, Colquitt and Mount Siani Fields and 15 cents in the Ora Field. In Arkansas it reduced prices 15 cents a barrel in the Hibank Winchester and West Woodley Fields, and 10 cents elsewhere.

Murder Pair Being Held In Secret Place

Roosevelt Wiley, 26, and Willie McDade, who officials say is 16 and not 14 years old, the two Negroes arrested here on Friday for the holiday murder of Shorty Canada, 56, San Angelo milk truck driver, are now being held in some unannounced jail in West Texas.

The two prisoners, first taken to San Angelo after their arrest here, were surrendered to the sheriff of Coke County where the crime was actually committed. The sheriff at Robert Lee has been quoted as saying that neither is now in the Coke County Jail but he declined to say where he had taken the pair for safekeeping.

Meantime, Dist. Atty. Justin Keever, 51st District Court, said that he plans to reconvene the Coke County grand jury early in November to present the murder case. He also announced that he had established evidence that McDade is not 14 years old, but is 16.

A person under 17 years of age cannot be indicted by a grand jury for a felony under Texas law. However, lawyers have pointed out that it would be possible, if the authorities chose to do so, to keep McDade in custody until he reached 17 years of age and then seek to indict him for the murder.

A search was reported under way today in the area where Canada was knifed to death for a blood-stained coat which Wiley told officers McDade threw away after the crime.

The two Negroes abandoned the Gandy milk truck they had stolen from Canada in Big Spring early Friday morning and were arrested in midmorning by local officers.

Class Officers At Goliad Announced

Class officers were announced at the Goliad Junior High School this morning by Bernard Rains, student council sponsor.

Class presidents are John Schwanbecker, ninth grade; Neil Robinson, eighth grade; and Donnie Anderson, seventh grade.

Other officers are: Ninth grade, Patricia Wiley, vice president, and Sharon Starr, secretary; eighth grade, Bill Smith, vice president, and Dixie Dement, secretary; seventh grade, Kay Oakes, vice president, and Karen Hodnett, secretary.

Man's Jaw Is Broken In Fight

A man was in Big Spring Hospital this morning with a fractured jaw as a result of a fight on the North Side Sunday night. Police officers were investigating the incident this morning.

Hospitalized was Ira Foster after he was picked up by a River ambulance about 1 a. m. today at 700 N. San Antonio. He was taken to Big Spring Hospital, but officials there today said the fractured jaw was his only injury.

Attend VIC Meet

Members of the Big Spring Vocational Industrial Club attended the district VIC meeting in Levelland during the weekend. Linda Copeland of Amarillo was elected district sweatheart, a post for which Nancy Davis of Big Spring was a candidate.

Suspect Quizzed In Dallas Assault

DALLAS (AP)—Police jailed a Negro today and questioned him about the rape of a pretty 21-year-old North Texas State College co-ed at the State Fair grounds.

Police said they would conduct an intensive interrogation of the man, 23, after placing together clues in the vicious attack of the Amarillo redhead.

The victim was discharged from Baylor Hospital last night, calmed after she went into near-hysterics following the attack in a wooded area.

City Commission To Screen Manager Post Applicants

The City Commission will probably meet the early part of this week to start screening applications for the city manager's job, the mayor reported.

Mayor G. W. Dabney said that he had received "seven or eight" applications for the position and he thought the commission would try to get together early this week to start its elimination process.

As outlined by the commission over a week ago, it plans to eliminate all prospects by checking applications and references until it narrows the list to about five or six.

Then it plans to personally interview these men. Dabney said that he expected to receive five or six more applications before the commission starts its final screening.

The present city manager, H. W. Whitney, has held the position for over 1 1/2 years but he has accepted a like position at Corpus Christi.

Ear Trouble

It all happened when 3-year-old Buddy Loren latched onto a pig's ear in Dallas. It set off a chain reaction of squealing on the otherwise desolate State Fair of Texas Midway. Porky took leave from his quarters in the Mother Goose exhibit and found a pile of shaved lice. Buddy found the pig; the pig bit him; Buddy screamed and sister Kathy joined the chorus. George Fowler is shown rescuing the pig. The incident took place during clean-up operations after the fair had closed.

Valley Vegetables Late To Markets

MALLEN (AP)—Although rains have tapered off, winter vegetables from the Lower Rio Grande Valley will be late starting to market.

Losses of green beans, carrots and beets are estimated at 60 per cent by L. H. Moore of Malten, president of the Texas Canners Assn.

Normal production of Valley vegetables is expected to be set back to around mid-February.

Nearly a week of sunshine has permitted growers to start replanting as fields slowly dry after weeks of rain.

Moore says some canning plants will start limited operations with green beans and peas this week. He reported, however, that beets won't be ready until Jan. 15 and carrots until Feb. 15—both about a month late.

His figures show only 215 of the 850 acres of bush green beans contracted by canners remain after the rains in Starr County. For the same crop, Hidalgo County's 3,135 acres have dwindled to 2,445 and Cameron County's are down from 625 acres to 530.

Starr County growers lost all but 40 acres of the 150 they planted in Blue Lake green beans, and Hidalgo lost 200 acres of the original 500. Nearly all of 150 acres in Cameron County escaped damage.

Equalization Board Is Adjourned

Howard County Commissioners Court had a brief and routine session this morning.

A resolution, proposed by Red Gilliam and seconded by P. O. Hughes, that the county commissioners adjourn themselves as a tax equalization board, was unanimously approved.

The commissioners told C. B. Arnold, a supervisor of the local Liquor Board office, they had not as yet heard from the Civil Defense relative to that agency participating with the county in installing radio transmitters and receivers in LCB cars.

The commissioners informed Arnold they would renew their request to the CD for cooperation in the event an answer was not received promptly, would take the matter up with the agency by telephone.

Arnold was told the commissioners have agreed the county will pay half the cost of the installation of the radios if the funds from the CD are available.

Walter Parks, county engineer, told the court that additional right of way on the old San Angelo road from the entrance to Big Spring City Park westward to Wasson Corner is needed if the road is to be put in proper repair and a dangerous curve reduced.

Juniors Enter Private Schools

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The expanding private school system prepared today to admit another group of Little Rock's displaced white high school students.

Orientation programs were scheduled for about 250 juniors enrolled with the Little Rock Private School Corp. and for about 350 students—sophomores, juniors and seniors—who will attend a new Baptist High School. Classes for them will begin Tuesday.

The corporation school was organized as the principal replacement for the three white public high schools closed by Gov. Orval Faubus to avoid court-ordered integration. It began classes for 250 seniors Tuesday and expects to get its program in full operation Nov. 3 with the start of classes for sophomores.

The Baptist High School and several interim church schools were set up to take care of the overflow.

No private school has been established for Negro students, whose public high school also was closed.

The governor's closing order last month left a total of 3,698 high school students without classrooms. However, many of them found other ways to continue their studies.

Some have left the state. Several hundred white students and about 200 Negroes have transferred to nearby county schools. Some 350 have undertaken correspondence courses.

National Income Regains Ground

WASHINGTON (AP)—Incomplete figures for the year's third quarter indicate that the national income has regained much of the ground it lost during the recession.

The Commerce Department reported this Sunday as it announced a $1,800,000,000 gain for the second quarter and said third-quarter figures will show a more substantial increase.

The July-September figures are incomplete because corporate profits for that period have not yet been tabulated. Profits are known to have improved significantly, however.

Teachers To Meet

The Howard County Teachers Assn. will meet at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday at H.C.J.C. Guest speaker will be Jimmy Hooser of Austin, field representative of the TSTA. All teachers in the county are asked to attend.

Grand Jury Starts Work On 26 Cases

A grand jury, all men and including eight who have never before served as grand jurors, was at work Monday morning investigating 26 criminal cases being laid before it by Dist. Atty. Gullford Jones.

The grand jurors were empaneled at 9 a. m. by Judge Charlie Sullivan, 11th District Court, and Denver Dunn, former peace officer, was named by the court as foreman.

Judge Sullivan told the grand jury that he had been informed by Jones that it would probably require three days to clear up the cases to be heard by it.

"As you know," the court said "if you read the local newspaper, crime has been steadily increasing in this county for the past several years. As the town and community grows, the number of felonies increase. It is your duty to investigate these cases as they are presented to you by the district attorney."

The third floor corridor was lined with witnesses at 11 a. m. waiting their turn to go before the grand jury.

The court told the grand jury that two of the cases they are to investigate involve murders and three persons are accused of robbery.

The grand jurors are Dunn, Roy Bruce, W. N. Skiles, Clay Reed, J. T. Johnson, Ellis Iden, T. A. Cauble, Freeland Austin, Ralph Gossett and James A. Raul.

Banfe Ends Long Flight

NEW YORK (AP)—Around-the-world-in-80 days, a one-man show starring pilot Charles F. Banfe Jr. in his stocking feet aboard a single-engine plane, has closed after an extended run.

Banfe, 39-year-old flier from Palo Alto, Calif., touched down at Idlewild Airport Sunday in his low-winged Mooney single-seater to complete in 50 days a 22,000-mile globe-circling flight he had planned to accomplish in eight days.

"Boy, am I glad to be back," said Banfe as he climbed wearily from the orange and black craft into a chilling rain. "I thought I'd never see this airport again."

Banfe began his around-the-world flight from Idlewild Sept. 6. He said he flew at altitudes from 150 to 12,500 feet and sat at the controls in his stocking feet because it gave him a "more sensitive feel."

Banfe's ambitious plan received a setback on the first leg — a planned nonstop hop from New York to Rome, 4,312 miles away. A balky fuel pump forced him to crash-land on the Mediterranean island of Corsica, 250 miles short of his goal.

Bad weather and mechanical difficulties plagued him the rest of the way, and he had to make forced landings 14 times. Various troubles added 12 unscheduled cities to his itinerary.

Banfe, married and the father of four, is on vacation from Pan American World Airways. He regularly flies the Pacific.

Mississippian Oil Flows On Test Of Wildcat In Garza Co.

A Garza County wildcat flowed oil and water from the Mississippian on a test over the weekend.

The venture, Shell No. 1 Sims about 10 miles south of Post, tried the zone and recovered 630 feet of very heavy oil and gas-cut mud and 30 feet of oil. It had previously shown possibilities of production in the Pennsylvania.

McCrary & Franklin No. 1-130 Mrs. McCrary is a new site in the Northwest Justiceburg field 14 miles southwest of Post. Drilling depth is 2,300 feet, and the site is 900 from north and 2,310 from east lines, 130-5, H&G Survey.

The Smith & Breyer No. 11-B Connell was completed in the Northwest Justiceburg (Glorieta) pool for a daily potential of 77 barrels of 39.8-degree oil and only a trace of water. The well is 300 from north and east lines, 2-2, Long Survey. Total depth is 2,634 feet, with production reached at 2,537. Perforations extend from 2,537-76 feet.

The Smith & Breyer No. 12-B Connell finished 84 barrels of 40-degree oil and 15 per cent water in the same field. It is 1,650 from north and east lines, 1-1, Long Survey. It hit oil at 2,546 feet and produced from perforations 2,546-615 feet. Total depth is 2,650.

Smith, Breyer & Humphrey No. 1 Roy is in the Justiceburg field and it made 75 barrels of oil and 10 per cent water on 24-hour potential. Gravity of oil is 40.2 degrees.

John Eisner staked the No. 1 Alice Williams in the Fluvanna (Strawn) pool about five miles northwest of Fluvanna. Drilling is 660 from south and east lines, 669-97, H&C Survey, and it will penetrate to 8,400 feet.

Boys Probed To Their Parents Two young boys who made an unsuccessful attempt to take a neighbor's car for an illicit joyride a few days ago were before Juvenile Judge R. H. Weaver this morning.

One of the boys, 14, was in the court at the personal request of his father, according to A. E. Long, juvenile officer, who said the parent believed the youngster might get a beneficial lesson from the experience.

The court heard the story of the joy ride plan and lectured the two youths on the error of their ways. He sternly warned them that they were in danger of more difficulty if they pursued their same course of action in the future. He finally probated both to their families.

4.5 Per Cent Increase Seen In Domestic Demand For Oil

DALLAS (AP)—Independent oil operators were told today a healthy 4.5 per cent increase in domestic petroleum demand is expected next year but over-all conditions within the industry have grown worse in recent months.

The supply and demand committee of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America (IPAA) made the optimistic forecast for 1959 but said conditions are too uncertain to predict how much of the new business will go to domestic producers.

A cost study group also told the 1,500 independents at the opening session of IPAA's annual meeting the industry does not have adequate revenue today to satisfy the ever-increasing demand for petroleum and natural gas.

The shortage of income needed to expand reserves was blamed on inadequate prices, loss of markets to foreign imports, and rising prices of materials and wages.

Gordon Simpson, IPAA president from Dallas, asked the independents not to be discouraged despite the many thorny problems. "While catastrophe will not overtake us overnight, we must recognize and fight the deterioration of our industry which comprises a sobering threat to the national security," he said.

"We should not be discouraged. Problems and progress go hand in hand."

Simpson said, however, the total number of wells drilled the first 9 1/2 months of 1958 was 13 per cent below the same period last year. He said wildcat drilling had dropped 21 per cent, that total footage drilled had declined 23 million feet.

"In contrast, daily imports of petroleum products other than residual fuel oil have increased more than 400 per cent," he said.

The 4.5 per cent increase forecast in domestic demand compares with a gain of only four-tenths of one per cent in 1957 and two per cent in 1958.

The supply and demand committee estimated 1959 domestic demand at 9,400,000 barrels, compared to 8,992,000 this year.

Lack of a forecast on 1959 supply, the committee said, results from possible changes in the current voluntary program to curtail imports.

"As a result, the committee has no reliable basis for forecasting imports of either crude oil or refined products and therefore is not presenting at the present time a forecast of domestic oil production for the coming year," the committee said.

IPAA has asked the federal government, now studying possible revision of the program, to include refined products as well as foreign crude in the curtailment program.

Simpson protested last night at reports federal officials are considering abandoning a proposed plan based on refinery runs and substituting one based on historic positions and foreign investments of individual importers.

In a telegram to Secretary of Interior Sigvald Weeks and to members of President Eisenhower's Cabinet committee on fuels policy, Simpson reaffirmed IPAA's endorsement of the refinery run method. He said refined products also should be included in that such imports have increased so rapidly they now threaten the success of the entire program.

The historical pattern of imports is a factor in quotas established for individual importers under the current curtailment plan but investments are not involved.

Simpson said a combination of historic position and foreign investment would give a few importers a preferential position in a common market that should be shared by all American companies, large and small.

James P. Utley Succumbs Here

James P. Utley, 76, retired railway worker and cafe operator, died in a hospital here this morning.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Tuesday in St. Mary's Episcopal Church with the Rev. William D. Boyd, officiating. Requiem holy communion is set for 10 a.m. Tuesday. Interment will be in Trinity Memorial Park, Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Utley, born June 22, 1882, in Paducah, Ky., came to Big Spring in 1929 from Dallas. He retired from his T&P railway job in 1938 after 30 years service. He worked five years for the MKT before joining the T&P. After his retirement, he opened a cafe which he operated here until 1957.

Mr. Utley and Miss Lena Hall were married in Galveston in 1906. She survives, as do one son, Robert C. Utley of Big Spring; two sisters, Mrs. Ester Tordoff of Tacoma, Wash., and Mrs. Augusta Pravett of St. Petersburg, Fla.; and one grandchild.

Gets Back Loot By Phone Call

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP)—A thief broke into the First South Baptist Church Sunday and stole $136 from the pastor's desk. The locked bag was discarded behind a store building where it was found by Steven Ellis Bammes, 8. The boy took it to his mother, Mrs. Nellie Bammes.

When the Rev. Ralph F. Holland called police to report the loss, officers told him they had the money and had been looking for the owner.

County Rule Plan Reduced In Scope

Scope of the proposal for authorizing county home rule government in Texas has been reduced to apply only to counties of 250,000 or higher population, plus any other counties which ask that they be specifically named in a constitutional amendment setting up the county charter system.

The action was taken Saturday by the Texas County Home Rule Assn. at a meeting in Dallas. The organization was disbanded after it set up an executive committee made up of representatives from Harris, Dallas, Bexar and Tarrant counties, the only four in the state with population of more than 250,000.

The proposal that the next session of the Legislature submit the restricted county home rule amendment to the state's voters will be drawn up by the committee.

Representatives of the four counties agreed to raise $5,000 to finance the committee's operation. R. H. Weaver, county judge, and Bill Quimby, Chamber of Commerce manager, asked at the Dallas meeting that Howard County be named in the proposed amendment which would authorize government by county charter.

As now planned, the amendment also would permit charter adoption in any county through passage of an "enabling act" by the State Legislature.

Several West Texas communities were represented at the Dallas talks Saturday. Among them were Fort Worth, Big Spring, Abilene, Midland, Lubbock, Fredericksburg, Fort Stockton and Monahans.

During a discussion of opposition to the plan, State Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas, an observer at the meeting, declared that "like it or not, and I don't understand why it is, the most powerful lobby in Austin is the County Judges and Commissioners Assn. When you run head-on into that group, you've had it."

The association recently adopted a resolution opposing the county charter plan.

Judge Weaver of Big Spring told the Dallas group that the present form of county government is "evil" and "does not reflect the will of the majority of the people."

C. W. Ratliff of Lubbock told the group that the plan also faces opposition from "road machinery salesmen and suppliers of anything used by the county."

Pastor Mixed Up In Scandal Gains Defender

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—"Where there is love, forgiveness comes without asking."

With those words, the Rev. Ralph Johnson called on the congregation of the First Baptist Church Sunday not to condemn their pastor, who had offered to resign after a moment of indiscretion with an ex-prostitute.

Some of the women and a few of the men among the 800 persons in the church wept as the Rev. Mr. Johnson, president of the nearby Berkeley Baptist Divinity School, said: "Self-condemnation will be greater than anything you or I could add."

The pastor, the Rev. Ronald K. Adams, went into seclusion after reporting to police that he was the victim of a $6,000 extortion attempt.

He said two men had jumped out of a closet and photographed him in bed with Mrs. Virginia McFerrin, who once was convicted of prostitution. He said the two men had demanded the money, threatening to turn pictures and a tape recording of the tryst over to the minister's wife and church leaders.

Mrs. McFerrin and the two men, one of them her husband, were arrested for investigation of extortion. Ronald McFerrin, the husband, and Ronald Lawrence denied the minister's charges. McFerrin claimed they were seeking evidence so he could divorce his wife.

A statement by the church executive board was read explaining that the pastor's resignation, not accepted by the board, would be discussed at a board meeting Nov. 25.

The Rev. Mr. Johnson said the good done by the pastor during three years at the church "has not been undone."

Asian Nations Eye More Assistance

SEATTLE (AP)—The second phase of the Colombo Plan Economic Conference opens today with officials of 18 nations and three colonial governments searching for means to expand the rate of economic growth in Communist-threatened South and Southeast Asia.

Preliminary studies by technical experts indicate greater assistance will be needed from the United States, Britain, Canada and Japan.

Charles W. Adair Jr., head of the 11-man U.S. delegation and host to the officials was expected to be named conference chairman at an opening plenary session.

Gov. Albert D. Rosellini of Washington and Mayor Gordon S. Clinton of Seattle arranged to welcome the delegates at a midday flag-raising ceremony.

In the first round of talks last week, technical experts from all of the Colombo countries prepared working papers on lagging economies in an area subject to mounting Communist pressures.

Political differences are parked outside the conference room. There is too great a split between such neutral nations as India, Indonesia, Ceylon and Burma on one hand and the Philippines, Thailand, Pakistan and South Vietnam on the other for any discussion of a political nature.

Instead, the delegates concentrate on common economic problems and how they best can be met.

The Colombo Plan was organized in Ceylon in 1950 as a consultative group in which the advanced industrial nations cooperate in assistance to the less developed nations.

Outside help to the needy new countries of free Asia has taken a variety of forms.

Australia has trained more than 2,000 Colombo Plan students in engineering, nursing, science, education, teacher training and agriculture. Technical training will be stepped up by Japan, the United States, Britain and Canada.

Canada has given more than 200 million dollars in assistance and expects to expand this with larger supplies of wheat to India and Pakistan.

Canada provided India with an atomic reactor and a hydroelectric generating station, aided Pakistan with a power project and supplied equipment for a technical high school in Burma.

Japan provided medium term loans to exporters of capital equipment and sent 76 experts to other Asian countries. India has provided technical experts for Ceylon, Indonesia and Singapore and helped Nepal with road building, irrigation and water supply.

Britain is planning to step up its supply of credit and private investments after making available more than 300 million dollars in grants and loans.

The United States has provided more than 3 1/2 billion dollars in economic and technical assistance through grants and loans.

Four Not Guilty Pleas Are Heard

One Million Texans Expected To Vote On Nine Amendments

By ED OVERHOLSER
AUSTIN (AP)—A week from Tuesday, an estimated one million Texas voters will decide whether the state's bewhiskered constitution needs nine more alterations. The bitterest controversy is over the annual sessions amendment which also would set up annual salaries for the lawmakers. With a few noteworthy exceptions, the general election of office-holders is of secondary importance. Gov. Price Daniel has not bothered to campaign against his Republican opponent, Edwin Mayer of Sonora. Sen. Ralph Yarborough also has steered clear of election remarks in his recent speeches. Roy Whittenburg of Amarillo is the Republican candidate for senator. Strong bids have been made by the Republicans for congressional seats in Dallas and Houston. The GOP has four candidates for the state Senate and 27 for the House. Except where U. S. Rep. Bruce Alger (R-Tex) is running for reelection in Dallas, any Republican victory would have to be considered a surprise in this predominantly Democratic state.

Since 1876, when the Constitution was written, 133 amendments have been adopted of the 232 proposals submitted. The moldy document of 40,000 words—one of the nation's largest—has been under study for months by a citizens' advisory committee considering full redrafting. Their recommendations will be presented to the 1961 Legislature.

Some legislators have been sharply critical of the annual sessions and salaries amendment. The most outspoken has been Sen. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo who labels it "dangerous and far-reaching." Others such as Sen. A.M. Aikin of Paris have made dozens of talks promoting it.

Salaries of $7,500 a year would be provided for the 181 lawmakers, or $1,357,500 a year. This is five times the current expenditure of $271,500 on an annual basis resulting from the per diem outlay when the Legislature is in session.

The amendment also would allow lawmakers a per diem of 120 days during odd-numbered years and 60 days for even-numbered years. This plus a daily expense rate. When an annual salary of $3,600 was proposed in 1949 the voters rejected it, 3 to 1.

Supporters of the bill think annual salaries will attract better representatives while opponents say it will attract career men who will campaign constantly to perpetuate themselves in office. Proponents also point out it will allow budgets and appropriations to be set up a year ahead instead of requiring the Legislature and the comptroller to figure finances two years in advance. A two-thirds vote would be necessary for passage of bills in the short sessions which would be limited to appropriations and emergency matters.

Critics say this two-thirds rule will put a much greater requirement on a tax bill to finance the government operations than on spending.

The best-backed amendment probably is the one to allow the Legislature to spend state money to promote Texas to the outside world. Texas is one of three states that do not have a state advertising program. Each advertising dollar brings in $120 in tourist trade, supporters claim. A half billion dollars was spent by Texas' 10 million visitors last year and proponents feel more dollars would be spent here if a successful advertising plan was adopted.

Opponents say the amendment will require still another state agency and the outlay of more money at a critical financial time. One regional chamber of commerce is against its passage, another has taken no stand and a third has backed it. Gov. Price Daniel said Texas should pass the amendment to allow the state to meet competition for new industries.

The annual sessions amendment is the first on the ballot and the state advertising is No. 7. The others are:

2—Retirement fund for county officials. Allows elective officers of the county or precinct to participate in a retirement plan. No county could adopt it without an election.

3—County judge and justices of the peace vacancies. The commissioners court will fill a vacancy in these offices only until the next general election instead of for the rest of the term.

4—Candidacy of officeholders. This will prevent a 4-year district, county or precinct officeholder from running for another office if more than one year of his term remains.

5—Four year office for municipal officials. This allows cities to elect city officials for a 4-year term instead of two years. No city official may run for another office if more than one year remains on his term.

6—Texas Ranger retirement. Sets up a pension of $80 a month for Rangers with at least two years of service who retired before the state employes retirement system became effective in 1947. Payment also would be made to Ranger widows.

8—Old age assistance. This will provide hospital and emergency medical care for the 300,000 persons on the state assistance rolls. The federal government would put up about 62 per cent of the money.

9—Hospital districts. Authorizes the Legislature to create hospital districts in Amarillo and the counties of Wichita and Jefferson. These districts could levy a property tax up to 75 cents per $100 evaluation.

Family Of 4 Killed In Crash

LAMARQUE, Tex. (AP)—An auto and a light pickup truck collided yesterday and flames leaping from a punctured gasoline tank fatally burned a family of four.

Raymond Parr, 41, of Brenham was hurled clear of the truck but died of burns early today in a Galveston hospital. His wife, Mrs. Uldene Parr, 41, and their sons, Billy, 6, and Timothy, 10, perished in the burning truck.

Lamarque Police Chief T. O. Beck said the auto, driven by L. H. Langford, 48, of Channelview, Tex., apparently turned left in front of the pickup and was hit broadside. Langford escaped serious injury.

The pickup truck bounced back onto its wheels and was upright as the gas tank blast wreathed it in flames.

N. Korea Claims Chinese Go Home

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP)—Communist North Korea informed the Military Armistice Commission today the last of Red China's troops have gone home and demanded again that American troops likewise quit South Korea. "Your demand is rejected," U.S. Air Force Maj. Gen. Albert T. Wilson Jr., representative of the U.N. Command on the commission, told North Korean Maj. Gen. Kang Sang Ho.

A Chinese communique Sunday said the third and last stage of withdrawal of Red Chinese "volunteers" from Korea had been completed. This stage was said to have included 70,000 men.

Red China's forces in North Korea were estimated at 250,000 or more men at one time.

Drops Loot

WACO (AP)—A gunman held up the manager of a motel here early today. Manager Cecil Epps said he gave the bandit more than $1,500 from the office safe, but said the gunman dropped $246 while fleeing.

Graham Holds Integrated Rally Following Protest

FT. JACKSON, S.C. (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham drew 60,000 people Sunday to an unsegregated religious rally here. Plans to hold the meeting on the State House grounds at nearby Columbia were upset last week by protests of segregationist Gov. George Bell Timmerman.

The governor said that to hold it in front of the State House might be interpreted as meaning that the state government favors what Timmerman called Graham's views favoring desegregation. Timmerman also said it

British Leaving

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—The airlift of British troops from Jordan went on for the third day today, with the evacuation scheduled to be completed by Wednesday. No ceremony is planned to mark completion of withdrawal of the 2,000 paratroopers.

would violate the principle of separation of church and state. About 2,500 persons came forward after the sermon to dedicate their lives to Christ. Many of them were Negroes. The estimates of the crowd and those coming forward were made by rally committeemen and military police.

Former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes of Columbia was among public figures attending. Byrnes, a former governor, is a strong segregationist. The international evangelist, who concluded a five-week crusade in his native Charlotte, N.C., Saturday, spoke on the love of God and world turmoil.

He said people are asking why God allows such a paradox. The answer, Graham said, is that "man decided he could run the world without God."

"Our hope is in Christ. He alone can transform human nature."

Graham told a news conference that "some people have become so unbalanced by the whole issue of segregation or integration that these have become their only gospel.

"God pity us if we let our opinions on this one issue take precedence over getting the gospel to a lost world."

Aero Club Has Birthday Party

The birthday cake, baked to celebrate the Webb Aero Club's first anniversary, was all that any of the club's members could desire but unfortunately someone forgot to provide the one candle to mark the year.

The Aero Club, undaunted, met the emergency with efficiency—a match was substituted for the missing candle, duly ignited, and duly extinguished, and the party at the Base Pavilion Saturday night went along without a hitch.

Webb Aero Club, with 42 members, had 26 of its members and their wives present for its first birthday. Col. Kyle Riddle, base commander, was a special guest.

The club, now headed by its new president 2nd. Lt. Willard Wells, launched plans for an even bigger second year. It is proud of its record of its members having flown 1,000 accident free hours in the past year.

The Aero Club is sanctioned by the USAF and is designed to encourage more interest in aviation. Its membership is not limited to flying personnel and many are not military flyers.

The club owns three airplanes which its members use.

Has Trouble Affected Little Rock Business? No One Knows

By RELMAN MORIN
LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—How has the battle of Little Rock, with all its pain and frustration, affected business conditions in Arkansas and the state's drive to attract new industry?

Statistically, the answer seems to be, "not at all."

Many economic barometers — employment and unemployment, payrolls, department store sales, bank debits — indicate a very healthy condition.

The record for the state as a whole, in the year since the riots at Central High School, is good. As for Little Rock itself, an economist says:

"Little Rock never had it so good."

The economic boxscore, however, may not be the whole story.

1. Some of the latest available figures were compiled before Gov. Orval E. Faubus closed the four Little Rock high schools. Since then, anxiety about the future has increased, markedly. Will the trouble spread to other parts of the state? Will Little Rock teachers have to go elsewhere to work? Will students have to transfer to schools outside Arkansas?

2. The Little Rock plan for integrating the schools moves into its second phase—the junior high schools—in 1960. Three years later, it is scheduled to embrace the elementary schools. Does this mean a recurrence, on a bigger scale, of the disturbances that swirled around Central High School? Will parents with small children be likely to move to Arkansas if there are to be years of racial strife?

The answers to these questions probably depend on what comes next in the struggle—so highly charged with passion now—over admitting Negro children to all-white schools.

So the Arkansas businessman, and the group working to bring new industry to the state, confront the question:

"If this deadlock is not resolved, what will it do to business and development in another year?"

They have some figures for the period since September 1957, when the Little Rock riots occurred. These are generally encouraging. For example:

New jobs—the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission, reporting for the year ended last July, announced 63 new industries and 28 expanded plants in Arkansas. Total jobs created, it said, were 8,527.

Manufacturing employment — The state total began dropping in September 1957, hit a low point in February of 1958, and has now climbed back almost to the last-year figure, the Little Rock Chamber of Commerce reported.

Little Rock—Manufacturing employment in Little Rock itself reached an all-time high, the chamber reported last June 30. "It is one of 12 cities in the nation to show an increase over 1957 in a report released by the U. S. Dept. of Labor," the chamber said.

The 12 cities, in order of percentage increases, were listed as Sacramento, Calif. (20.13), Albuquerque, N. M. (11.71), San Jose, Calif. (7.34), Little Rock (7.32), Tampa, Fla. (6.62), Boise, Idaho, (5.55), Westchester County, N. Y. (5.09), Fargo, N. D. (5), Miami, Fla. (4.61), Salt Lake City (2.69), Seattle (1.90), Topeka, Kan. (1.67).

Bank debits—Little Rock was the only one of the "six largest centers" in the Eighth Federal Reserve District to show an increase in July, this year, compared with July 1957. It was up three per cent. Three of the six showed increases for July over the previous month. The Little Rock figure was seven per cent.

Dept. store sales — The Federal Reserve figures for Little Rock showed the same level for Sept. 27 as for Jan. 1, 1958. During the same period, the Federal Reserve said, St. Louis dropped two percentage points, Louisville three, and Memphis, three.

The figures on new jobs and new or expanded industries announced by the AIDC, showed an 18 per cent drop from the previous year's total.

Was that because of the trouble over the school?

"There's no way in the world to estimate it," said William P. Rock, executive director of the AIDC. "If anybody can tell us what the effect of the recent recession was on the industrial program, then we could estimate the effect of the racial troubles."

There is another aspect.

A number of firms were in various stages of negotiation with the development commission, possibly leading to the establishment of new plants in Arkansas.

"Some decided to go to some other state," said an AIDC executive. "There are any number of reasons—other than the racial situation here—that may have impelled them to decide against an Arkansas site. All you know is that they didn't come here. You seldom can find out why."

Sinatra, Friend Back Together

LONDON (AP)—Frank Sinatra and Lady Beatty were reunited Sunday night. Apparently a weekend apart had calmed their anger.

The singer and the American-born London society woman have been keeping company for several weeks but had a spat late Thursday night. Lady Beatty flew to Zurich Friday to see her psycho-therapist.

She returned by plane Sunday night and was met by Ewan Lloyd Sinatra's personal publicity man. A few hours later Frankie rang her doorbell and was greeted by the lady herself.

Lady Beatty smiled happily for reporters. Sinatra scowled. Neither would discuss their fuss or their plans.

$150,000 Gems Found Missing

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—A briefcase containing precious stones valued at between $100,000 and $150,000 is missing from the vault of the Hilton Hotel.

The jewels — unmounted diamonds, rubies, emeralds and sapphires — were checked into the hotel vault by Sal G. LaSalle of New Hyde Park, N.Y., an employee of the William V. Schmidt Co., of New York City.

When he presented his claim check Saturday morning, the briefcase was missing.

Marc Neal, assistant manager, said he had no idea how the briefcase could have disappeared from the vault.

"It's our vault, the briefcase is missing and our face is pretty red," he commented.

The theft was reported to police immediately, but was not made public until late Sunday in "hopes the thief might attempt to get rid of some of the valuables in a hurry," said Deputy Police Chief Frank J. Doyle.

City police swarmed over the hotel today, questioning employes and lobby loungers. The FBI was called in and a spokesman said the agency is checking to see if any federal laws have been violated.

Wagner Kin Solves The Noise Problem

BAYREUTH, Germany (AP)—A jazz club is operating in the basement of Haus Wahnfried, opera composer Richard Wagner's famed villa. The investors are the guests of Winifred Wagner, the composer's daughter-in-law.

The teen-age jazz club had been meeting once a week on a large balcony across from the Wagner villa. With autumn's cool breezes, the lovers of hot music advertised for warmer quarters.

Mrs. Wagner welcomed the club to her sound-proofed cellar. That's better than jazz on a balcony near her bedroom window, she explained.

Crash Kills 3

RIALTO, Calif. (AP)—An oil tank truck and an auto collided last night, killing three persons, including a Dallas woman. Killed were Mrs. Kate Ferguson, 62, Dallas; J. R. Ingly, 45, Costa Mesa, Calif.; and Mrs. Nancy Ingly, 68, also of Costa Mesa.

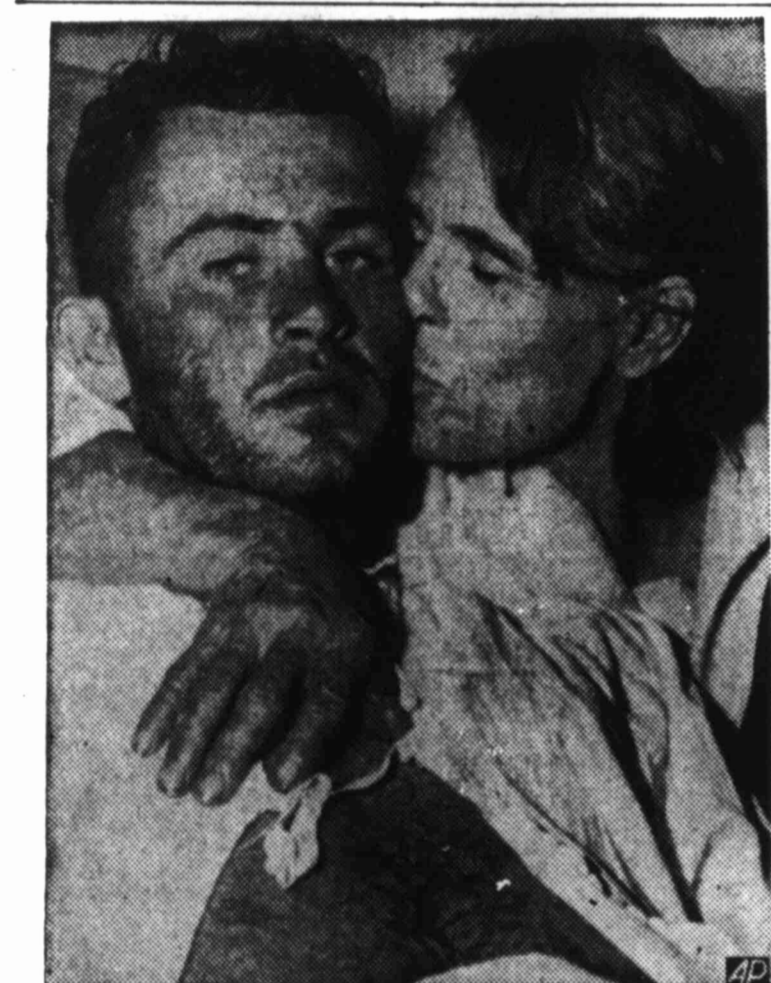

The record for the state as a whole, in the year since the riots at Central High School, is good. As for Little Rock itself, an economist says:

"Little Rock never had it so good."

The economic boxscore, however, may not be the whole story.

1. Some of the latest available figures were compiled before Gov. Orval E. Faubus closed the four Little Rock high schools. Since then, anxiety about the future has increased, markedly. Will the trouble spread to other parts of the state? Will Little Rock teachers have to go elsewhere to work? Will students have to transfer to schools outside Arkansas?

Raw Fish Kept Him Alive

Alvin Turner, Steinhatchee, Fla., fisherman who drifted on a life raft in the Gulf of Mexico for six days, is kissed by his mother, Mrs. W. W. Turner, after he was brought ashore at St. Petersburg. Turner's fishing partner and captain of the craft died shortly before the rescue. The boat broke up in a heavy sea and the pair took to a balsam raft. Turner said he survived by catching fish with his hands and eating them raw.

Houston Lady Lost 30 Pounds with Barcentrate

The Barcentrate way is the one way to take off unwanted fat, without calorie counting, diet, or back-breaking exercises. Just ask any Texas druggist for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Use as directed. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the way to lose weight quickly, return the empty bottle for your money back. Costs just $1.69.

Mrs. Mary C. Filwell, 4502 Mt. Vernon, Houston 6, Texas, wrote us that she had "lost 30 pounds taking Barcentrate and finds that as a tonic to control weight, it is most beneficial."

Voice Adds Charm

Sally Fraser feels there lies great charm and confidence in improving your diction and your speaking voice. Sally's is a familiar face on CBS-TV.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

You Can Improve Your Voice With Practice

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — Though Sally Fraser studied music and had some success as a vocalist, Hollywood has given her more dramatic rather than singing roles. But when I chatted with her at CBS-TV on the "Trackdown" set she seemed reconciled to her fate.

Sally explained that being a soprano made her speaking voice too high and thin and that she had to work very hard at lowering it.

"Until I heard myself on a test I had no idea how high-pitched my speaking voice was, and I was not pleased with the sloppy way I talked, Americans, as a rule, have careless speech and I don't know why it is considered passable to say 'didja' instead of 'did you.' In an effort to be friendly, I've heard some radio announcers saying things such as 'wancha' and 'gunna' instead of 'want you' and 'going to.'"

"I don't know how the idea started that a person with sloppy speech is more friendly than one with good diction," she added.

Sally has a very pleasant speaking voice and her diction is clear and unaffected so I asked her about her speech exercises.

"I began by giving my tongue and lips a workout by reading aloud. You can lower your voice if you think about being relaxed and phrasing so the words come out on your breath.

"A good one to practice on is Edgar Allen Poe's 'The Bells.' You know about the 'tin-tin-ubulation of the bells.' I worked on another called 'The Congo' by Vachel Lindsay. One part of it is, 'Then I saw the Congo creeping through the black, cutting through the forest with a golden track.' When I get to this part, I like to boom it out.

"Resonance is what makes a voice colorful and pleasant to listen to. You find this in words that end in 'ng like sing and cling. It is good to write down and practice these words when you are alone. You can usually find some time during the day. I do this when I'm waiting for a call or an interview. If I try criticizing my voice I'm able to make many corrections and improve it," she concluded.

EXERCISE TO IMPROVE THE SPEAKING VOICE
Having a beautiful speaking voice is within everyone's reach. In Leaflet M-6, "Exercises to Improve the Speaking Voice," are several simple routines to help you develop resonance and lower your voice, how to develop flexible lips, how to develop a flexible tongue and many others. For your copy of this valuable leaflet, send only 10 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, in care of the Big Spring Herald.

Mu Zeta Takes Honor In Abilene

Mu Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, represented in Abilene at the BSP area council meeting Saturday and Sunday, took first place with their scrapbook. Mrs. June Crawley is scrapbook chairman for the local unit.

Attending the meeting from Mu Zeta were Mr. and Mrs. James Dillon, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Bynum, Mr. and Mrs. Darel Higley and Mrs. Crawley. They were among about 400 who attended the sessions at the Sands Hotel. Social highlights included a luncheon and style show, chuck wagon dinner, square dance and the awards luncheon.

Delegates also attended from Beta Omicron and Xi Delta Epsilon Chapters of Big Spring.

Trim-Fit Course

Trim and Fit Course at the YMCA begins Tuesday, announced Bobo Hardy, secretary. Mrs. Jean Eads will again direct the series of 16 lessons, scheduled for 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. Tuesday through Friday. The course is slated to end Nov. 21. Fee is $5 for non-members, gratis to Y members.

Family Heirlooms Are Used In Party For Hostess's Mother

Using appointments of especial significance to the honoree, Mrs. Jack Haptonstall complimented her mother, Mrs. Dale Jennings, with a surprise birthday tea Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Jennings, formerly of Grand Saline, recently came here to make her home.

Forty-seven relatives and intimate friends came from numerous Texas points for the celebration. Guests were from Lubbock, O'Donnell, Cooper, Wolforth, Snyder, Seminole, Loraine and Colorado City.

On the register table, violets were arranged in a miniature blue glass compote which had been given the honoree on her 18th birthday by her father. Lavonne Terry of Lubbock registered the guests as did Ernestine White and Sharon Rodwine of Loraine, niece and great-niece of Mrs. Jennings.

Happy birthday chimes played as Mrs. Cecil Terry of Lubbock and Mrs. J. D. Richardson, Snyder, served from a table enveloped in a floor-length white organdy cloth. The white cake embossed with tiny pink roses had its three tiers separated by columns. It was surrounded with silver laceon interwoven with pink roses.

In the nursery, the children were served from a black wrought iron tea cart decorated in Halloween fashion. Mrs. J. H. White of Loraine and Mrs. G. Emfinger of Seminole, with Mrs. Paul Oliver of Colorado City, served there.

Interest center for the group was a table in the den which held childhood pictures of each guest. Also displayed were early school books of Mrs. Jennings and a water set which was a wedding gift 43 years ago to her and her late husband.

Margy Keaton, Fiance Are Feted In Houston

Margy Beth Keaton and her fiance, Abbe Ledbetter Jr., were entertained with two parties in Houston over the weekend.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Keaton, 416 Dallas, and Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Ledbetter of Houston. Wedding vows will be exchanged December 27, here at the First Methodist Church.

Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fennekohl and their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. David R. Fennekohl, were hosts for a buffet supper at the former's home, 3827 Inwood Dr. Twenty couples attended the party, which preceded the football game.

Forsanites Weekend In Water Valley

FORSAN—Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Walraven, Sherry and Kay Ann were visitors in Water Valley over the weekend. They were guests of Walraven's sister and brother-in-law, the Fred Wrights.

Gene Carr of Lubbock was a business caller in Forsan, Saturday.

Mrs. Richard L. Patterson and Mrs. J. F. Skalicky spent Friday with the Forsan Art Group, touring the canyons. A picnic lunch was served on the field trip, and seven artists painted the Signal Mount.

Pinned to Miss Keaton's frock was a brown orchid corsage, a compliment from the host couple, who also presented a gift to the pair.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Peacock are on vacation in Central Texas and will spend about two weeks in Cleburne. Mrs. Peacock will visit several art shows where she will exhibit some of her oil paintings.

Five couples joined in honoring the engaged pair with a brunch Sunday morning at the Houston Club. One hundred and fifty guests mingled in the Gulf Coast Room, where masses of white spider mums provided the decor. The featured flower also was used in

Leadership Course Is Postponed At Knott

The Parent-Teacher Leadership Procedure Course, originally scheduled for Knott Tuesday, has been postponed to Nov. 3. George Archer will be instructor for the course at the Knott school, beginning at 6 p.m.

All interested persons are invited to attend. The principles and practices taught will be helpful in any club or organization work.

Kay Sawyers Feted At Birthday Party

GARDEN CITY—Kay Sawyers, celebrating her eighth birthday, was entertained with a party recently at the Presbyterian Church parlor. Hostesses were her mother, Mrs. J. L. Sawyers, and her grandmother, Mrs. J. B. Calverley.

The Halloween motif prevailed, and a cake decorated by Mrs. Ronnell McDaniel was served to ten.

Clarified Butter

Epicurean recipes sometimes call for clarified butter. To prepare the butter, skim off as much foam as possible after the fat bubbles up; do not let the butter brown. Then pour the melted butter through several thicknesses of cheesecloth to get rid of the curdlike residue; or chill it in a small container until it solidifies, then turn out and scrape the residue from the bottom.

Ira Drivers Mark 50th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Driver marked their fiftieth wedding anniversary with open house Sunday afternoon at their home, 1206 Johnson. About 250 called between 3 and 6 p.m. to extend their good wishes to the couple who repeated nuptial vows Oct. 28, 1908 in Garden City, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Teele.

Assisting the couple in greeting friends were their children, Dorothy Driver, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Driver and Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Driver. The grandchildren, Skipper, Charles and Hamley Driver, were at the register.

White net over white satin, trimmed with gold ribbon, covered the refreshment table where yellow roses combined with yellow carnations in a gold bowl for the centerpiece. Intermingled with the blossoms were white candles. A silver service and silver appointments completed the setting.

Throughout the home floral arrangements accentuated the Golden Anniversary with tones of gold or glittered "50" markers.

Here for the observance were Mr. Driver's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ben C. Driver of Carlsbad, N. M., and Mrs. Driver's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Teele of Garden City, and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Amy Teele of Odessa. A number of friends came from out of town.

A Bible Thought For Today

"Every man, according as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give; not grudgingly, or of necessity: for God loveth a cheerful giver." (2 Corinthians 9:7)

Lesson Of Extremes In Politics

It is an old rule of politics to cover up your own faults by accusing the opposition of doing or being something that your own party is guilty of.

Messrs. Eisenhower and Truman indulged in this bit of blarney last week when Mr. E., with a vigor more reminiscent of Nixon than Eisenhower, said in effect that the Democratic Party was hopelessly split and that the "radical" wing was in the saddle.

Mr. Truman came right back and declared that the only party in this country that is really split is the Republican.

Any voter who can read or listen knows fissure is not the peculiar property of either party. They both suffer from the same inward turmoil.

Mr. Eisenhower's "Progressive Republicanism," when he proclaimed it, went down no better with conservative Republicans than Mr. Truman's "Fair Deal" and Mr. Roosevelt's "New Deal" went down with conservative Democrats.

It was small consolation to GOP Old Guards to be told that the "progressive" label was necessary because the overwhelming sentiment of the country was indubitably liberal, and to survive, the Republican Party must loosen up its hide-bound tradition to attract more of the so-called "moderates," or middle-of-the-roads.

Mr. Truman's Fair Deal out-New Deal'd the New Deal in some respects, probably on the same premise that Mr. E. concocted his "progressivism" gimmick; namely, that liberalism was on the upswing, and it had to be nourished and fed and pandered to and toadied to if success at the polls were to be achieved.

In their reaching out for more liberalism—Mr. Truman because he had tasted success with it and found the formula good, and Mr. Eisenhower because stand-pat had proven to be the kiss of death for the Republicans in five successive presidential campaigns before his own personal popularity plus Democratic degeneracy from too much interbreeding tipped the balance the other way—it is quite possible both have sent leaky crocks to the well.

For if American political history proves anything it proves that the pendulum swings from extreme to extreme, and what is today the liberal's dream of heaven may tomorrow turn out to be the conservative's green pastures.

No Good Word For The Rats

We Americans have the highest standard of living known to society. We have the biggest, chromium, longest, handsomest, fastest and most glittering, and probably the all-around best, automobiles in the world.

Home-ownership has grown by leaps and bounds. Wages and salaries are 'way up—and so is the cost of living and a thing called inflation.

After years of poor crops or worse still, no crops at all, our farmers are blessed with the finest harvest in decades—if they can find enough fair weather and hands to gather it.

Great advances have been made in the sciences—medicine, surgery, ballistics, electronics, space travel and whatnot.

No use talking, we've got the thing made. We're smart. We're making progress on many fronts.

And we're more than a little bit cocky. In spite of all our ingenuity, in spite of all the blessings of nature and all our own intelligence and diligence, there are flies in the ointment of our content.

Rats, for instance, and mice.

Not figurative rats and mice, but living, breathing rats and mice. And we don't seem to be doing much about getting rid of them, though the means of their destruction are at hand, the procedures are pretty well settled, and all we have to do is apply them.

Rodents are bad in the countryside and the purlieus of cities and towns. In many places organized campaigns are being carried on against them and still they come.

Why this rodent invasion? Nobody seems to know for sure, but the best explanation probably is the same that accounts for booming crops and rangelands—plenty of good timely rains and a magnificent giving forth of the earth's increase.

It is the same with all living things with rats and mice. The bird population is booming. Gamebirds especially. Doves and quail, the two standbys of Texas, received the same abundance of cover and feed that set the rats and mice off on a record-breaking increase. We hail the doves and quail, the deer and the antelope, the elk and the wild turkeys with glad cries of anticipated pleasure.

But who can honestly raise a good word for rats and mice? They are vermin—repulsive, destructive, loathsome, possible carriers of disease. Their proliferation serve to remind us that the world we inhabit is an imperfect place, and that the good Lord didn't hand it to us on a silver platter.

Congress And The Supreme Court Issue

WASHINGTON—The biggest issue confronting the American people today is rarely being mentioned in the current campaign for seats in Congress.

The issue is whether the people shall be governed by a written Constitution which is subject to change only by their will or whether that Constitution shall be rewritten by the Supreme Court justices to suit their personal or ideological whims.

This is the same issue which caused a stir in 1937 when the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democrat, declared that Congress should enact a law which would have the effect of increasing the number of justices by six so he could appoint new judges who would conform to his views.

The Congress rejected the proposal, but Mr. Roosevelt was able a few months later to "pack" the court anyhow through the vacancies that occurred. Many of the professors and deans of the law schools, and certainly many of the "self-styled liberals" of those days, felt then, and may still feel, that the Supreme Court should change the Constitution at will.

A notable exception is Alfred J. Schweppe of Seattle, a former dean of the Law School of the University of Washington, a former president of the Bar Association of the State of Washington, and at present one of the editors of the American Bar Association Journal. He writes in the current issue of "U. S. News & World Report":

"I absolutely reject the idea that the Supreme Court has the power to rewrite the Constitution according to its concepts of sociological or economic change. That is what the amendatory process is for. I do not accept Justice Douglas's blunt view that the amendatory process is 'too slow' as anything but a violation of the oath to support the Constitution in all of its parts."

"We are also told that when the Supreme Court has spoken, its words become the law of the land and that no one has a right to further oppose a ruling or to try to void it or to have it changed. This argument, it strikes us, is not only illogical but dangerous.

"It is illogical, for even the rules of the Court provide for a rehearing by the same court on a question it has just decided. It is also illogical because it ignores the constitutional right of Congress to enact legislation to void court decisions and the right actually to limit, in some respects, the Supreme Court's jurisdiction.

"Yet, in support of this view we are also told that public officials who oppose Supreme Court decisions are 'guilty' of violating their oaths of office to uphold the Constitution. We hope our readers will understand that we are opposed to force and violence in all its bitter forms, but we are also opposed to enforcing silence and inaction on those who think a court decision wrong."

How many members of Congress, seeking election today in the North and West, will proclaim themselves as supporting the above principle? Voters have not been asking the candidates for the Senate and House how they stand on this issue. Yet, unless Congress asserts its power to checkmate the usurpation of legislative functions by the present Supreme Court, all rights granted specifically in the Constitution itself will hereafter be in constant jeopardy.

Mink's Mattress

HAYWARD, Wis. (U.S.)—Bedding for mink is the by-product of a local factory's manufacture of medical swab sticks. The Hayward Wood Products Co. uses white birch to make swab sticks and found it had a lot of shavings left over. Then a mink rancher tried the shavings as bedding for his mink. Now the wood company has more orders for mink bedding than the swab machines can produce. So it is planning to install another machine—just to turn out shavings.

Porcupine Vs. Pulp

NEW YORK (U.S.)—The porcupine is making smorgasbord out of newspaper.

The Newspaper Information Committee says these quilled animals take a heavy toll of Canadian pulp trees. For instance, one porcupine on the loose can destroy 2,000 trees in the course of a year, and if half are pulp trees, the raw material for more than 50 tons of newspaper is lost, the committee says.

Exactly 50

WILLIAMSON, W. Va. (U.S.)—When John E. Phillips says he worked half a century for the Norfolk & Western Railway, he's exactly right. Phillips retired 50 years to the day after he first went to work for the company.

An ABC On Right-To-Work Laws

WASHINGTON (AP)—This is an ABC on the argument over right-to-work laws which ban union shop. Eighteen states have such laws now. In six other states, voters will decide Nov. 4 whether they, too, want such laws.

The Taft-Hartley Labor Act of 1947, like the Wagner Act before it, recognizes the right of employees to organize a union to bargain with their employer. But it outlawed the closed shop, under which every employee and every new hire must be a union member.

T-H permits the union shop where a union and employer agree. This provides that every employee must join the union and every new employee must join within 30 to 60 days of being hired. In a union shop anyone who quits the union loses his job.

But there's a gimmick in T-H on this: it says states can pass laws forbidding the union shop. In the 18 states which have already done so this anti-union shop legislation has become known as the right-to-work law.

Here are the 18 with such laws: Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Indiana, Iowa, Mississippi, Nebraska, Nevada, North and South Carolina, North and South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, and Virginia.

Here are the six in which the right-to-work proposals are a real issue in this year's campaign: Ohio, Kansas, Colorado, Idaho, Washington, California.

Generally, business backs the right-to-work laws while organized labor is the main opponent. There are arguments for and against a union shop.

Against it are these arguments: 1. That in a free society a worker should not have to join a union against his will. Some men have strong principles against union membership—at least for themselves. Some believe that by their own initiative they can get more benefits than are obtainable through a union.

2. That union members may some day get disgusted with their union and want to quit. They know they can't quit where there's a union shop without losing their jobs.

3. That where there's a union but membership is not compulsory the union leaders will be more responsive to the members than where members, as in a union shop, can't quit in protest.

4. That with everyone compelled to join a union—and lose his job if he quits—the door is open for corrupt deals between crooked union leaders and employers. For example: by agreeing on a standard contract that film-firms the rank-and-file union members.

For the union shop are these arguments: 1. That right-to-work laws weaken, if they do not wreck, unions. For example: A. In a shop less than 100 per cent organized, a union's strength is less than it might be in bargaining with an employer.

B. In such a place the value or effectiveness of a strike or strike threat—to force an employer to meet the union's demands—is greatly diminished when he knows not all his employees will walk out and shut down his shop.

C. Anti-union shop laws enable an employer to try to wreck a union when, in hiring new employees, he takes on only those opposing unions that they outnumber the union members.

2. That all employees in a group, both union and nonunion, share the benefits won by collective bargaining and thus should have to share the union's expenses by paying dues.

3. That those who believe they can do better by themselves without a union are misguided because a man dealing singly with an employer can't get what a union can bargaining collectively and with the force of numbers.

4. That there's no reason why union leaders should be indifferent to the members' desires, or make deals with the employer at the expense of the rank-and-file members, if the members are alert, go to meetings to see what's going on, and through the democratic process of elections throw out the leaders who betray them.

(A glaring argument against No. 4 is the corruption in the Teamsters' Union, although evidence of such corruption in unions in general has been very small.)

Jackie Coogan's Still Youthful

By BOB THOMAS
AP Motion Picture Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—When a fellow marks 40 years in the movies, you'd expect to find him a gray-haired oldster. Not Jackie Coogan.

What hair is left is still brown. He's still youthful and light-footed, having dropped 30 pounds to a trim 176. He passed his 44th birthday yesterday, and he's as enthused as a starlet over his new acting career.

"This past year has been the best for me since the war," he said. "All it took was one good role to convince producers all over again that I could act."

Jackie started acting early. His four decades in films would stretch even longer if you included the Essanay comedy he did in Chicago at 1 1/2.

"I don't remember that one, so I don't count it," said Jackie. "I do remember after that when I'd come onstage and do a little comedy dance with my father in vaudeville."

"Then when I was 4, I was signed by Charlie Chaplin for 'The Kid.' That's really when my career began."

At 5, he was a world-famous star, the most successful child actor of the silent era.

Jackie bridged the gap to adolescence with films like "Tom Sawyer" and played collegiates in "College Swing" and other movies. But after his Air Force service, he found rough going.

"Around 1950, I quit and went into the appliance business," he said. "But even then I was still in show business. I appeared on Pantomine Quiz and played occasional night club dates. After two and a half years, I decided to go back to acting full time."

"I knew everybody in Hollywood, and they knew me. I could get in to see the producers, but they'd say, 'What can we do with you?' It took one strong part to convince them."

The part was on a Playhouse 90 show last year. Frank Sinatra saw it and paged Jackie to play his sidekick in "The Joker Is Wild." Since then, Jackie has done three pictures in a row at MGM—"High School Confidential," "Night of the Quarter Moon" and the current "Beat Generation." He's also acting as dialogue director on the latter, and yens to become a director.

"Now I'm in this business for the rest of my life," he vowed.

"Huh, this is nothing—you should've seen the one that I got away from...!"

Around The Rim

Our TV Won't Ender Us To The Reds

I see where the Muscovites and the Americans, in efforts to improve relations between the people of the two countries, are favorably discussing the free exchange of radio and television programs.

That may work, and again it may deteriorate the regard one people has for the other beyond recall.

I'm afraid that the commercials in most of our programs would prove more intriguing to many of the Russians than all of the roll-and-rock music, quiz programs and 'Saddle Old Paint' shows we can shoot their way.

The Soviets might go for Elvis Presley and Jerry Lee Lewis in a big way and the humor of Jerry Lewis might fracture them, but I doubt it.

I suspect the Russians, who appreciate the lush life as much as anyone, would much prefer seeking a travelogue of Yosemite National Park or Crater Lake or again an automobile assembly line in Detroit. Or perhaps the manner in which an American hostess would go about preparing a meal for a group of ten visitors.

For laughs, we might send along one of our films of an American political debate. Despite all you might have heard that the Reds are kept ignorant of such things, they relish discussing politics and allied subjects. And certainly they'd get more than a few guffaws over some of the promises our politicians make during the course of a campaign.

I can't feature the Russian woman stopping in the middle of a household chore to listen to one of our soap operas but, who knows, the Russian radio and television people might put out something similar themselves.

Imagine getting used to something like "Ivan's Other Wife" or "Petroff's Back Street Romance."

Will Georgi discover that Nina has been two-timing him and is about to run off to Yalta with the deputy minister of defense? Will Janivar be pardoned and return from the Siberian salt mines in time to keep Pelevska from having to work in the wheat harvest? Can Baldimar make his quota and earn the right to have his glasses changed?

Maybe we had best leave things as they are. Little things like that could bring on an atomic war.

Mayflower Makes It Again - In 8 Hours

PARIS—Even before the jet age, Ludwig Bemelmans said that modern man now travels days ahead of his soul, and Barry Bingham, the sage of Louisville, Ky., added, "and his wits, too."

Now I would like to add an amendment. The giant jet, the Boeing 707, in which I flew to Paris, courtesy of Pan American World Airways, has far outdistanced my psyche and my purple prose. As one flashes across the Atlantic at 600 miles an hour, there is no time to suffer a sea change. There is scarcely time even to change one's make-up.

One is here today and there today, and watches and personalities collapse under the strain! After ingesting two breakfasts within 90 minutes, one in the air and one in Paris, my alimentary canal sent up a message, "Who's loony now?" It's one thing to arrive before your soul, but your stomach ought to have the decency to stick around.

As a charter member of the real jet set, who made the initial flight into London on BOAC's Comet 4 and now the first flight into Paris on the American entry in the jet sweepstakes, I feel toward the Boeing 707 like those two ragamuffins in the cartoon book at home.

It's a Peter Arno cartoon, if I remember rightly, and it shows two city urchins surveying their first elephant. One kid is saying to the second, in re the elephant, "Big thing, ain't he?"

Pan American's Boeing 707 is at once the biggest and the purest passenger plane I have ever seen. When you sit aft, you need a telescope to see what is going on among the passengers up fore.

And vice versa.

At the moment, the Boeing 707 is the biggest commercial passenger plane in the air. When she made her flight into Paris with 121 persons, including crew and cabin attendants, she was carrying the largest number of persons ever to fly the Atlantic in a commercial plane.

But that isn't a patch on what she will carry eventually. Her seats can and will be arranged to carry 165 passengers, or enough to drive stewardesses out of their minds.

The New York-to-Paris flight had some high moments. It was beautiful to fly over the flaming cones of Capelinhos, the volcano on Fayal, one of the islands in the Azores.

It was charming that the Boeing 707 that made the initial flight into Paris had been christened "Mayflower," for another pioneer. And it was both chastening and sardonic that awaiting the American jet on the field at Le Bourget, just where the Mayflower disembarked her passengers, was the Russian jet, TU-104. (It is a handsome plane, about half the size of the 707.)

But the most fascinating aspect of this extraordinary jet journey was not the ultimate speed (615 miles per hour) or the highest altitude (33,000 feet).

The romantic moment came at the airport in Santa Maria, in the Azores, where the huge Boeing set down for more fuel. There sat the jet, the most modern means of transportation in the world, on a runway that ended in a small cove where Christopher Columbus and his tiny fleet put in to take on water before beginning the last, long, lonely leg of a journey in search of a route to the East, that brought them many weeks later face to face with the New World and the West.

We crossed approximately the same amount of water in eight hours and 39 minutes, a little slow, really, because heavy head winds dogged us most of the way.

Economic High Command Is Ratified

Not many persons in the United States—and that is likely to include you—have heard of the Advisory Board on Economic Growth and Stability. It's so widely unknown that it isn't even dignified in newspaper accounts with an alphabetical acronym—ABEGS.

Yet ABEGS is supposed to see that all government departments and agencies which influence jobs, prices and prosperity work at parallel purposes. It is to economics what the National Security Council is to defense and diplomacy.

Therefore, ABEGS got a scholarly going over at the recent American Assembly on U. S. Monetary Policy at Arden House, high up in the Ramapo Hills at Harriman, N. Y. The business men, bankers, economists and writers chosen for their competence in monetary economics voted 27 to 13 for a National Economic Council to replace ABEGS and preside over the country's economic destiny. And the President was nominated to head the new organization. Why?

Whereas the membership of ABEGS consists of Under Secretaries, NEC's members would be full-fledged Cabinet officers and the chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, not an "ordinary" governor. This Council would have the status, prestige and power to coordinate federal economic policy and practice.

If, for example, the chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers feared a recession, he could urge at an NEC meeting, accelerated expenditures by Federal agencies and an easy-money policy by the Federal Reserve Board. The Federal Reserve Board would be cued into government policy in the President's presence.

Opponents of the National Economic Council say that coordination already takes place. The chairman of the Federal Reserve Board confers informally from time to time with the Secretary of the Treasury and the President's economic advisers in the President's presence. There are direct meetings of Reserve officials and Treasury officials.

At Cabinet meetings, the President can have the chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers analyze the economic situation and, if necessary, he could invite the chairman of the Federal Reserve Board to listen. Therefore, they say, NEC would be one more federal superfluity.

Opponents look upon NEC as a device to destroy the Federal Reserve's power of independent decision. If the President expressed an opinion or made a declaration at an NEC meeting, all present would be expected to conform in their subsequent actions. That would apply to the Reserve Board, the Department of Commerce, or the Treasury. Therefore, say anti-NEC-ers, this would subject the Reserve Board to Presidential prestige and group pressure; it would become an agency of the Treasury.

At present, if the Treasury wants the Federal Reserve Board to ease credit, the Secretary makes his desires known to the Reserve. The Board is in a position to say "No" or "Yes."

Such freedom of Federal Reserve decision is a check on error. In the spring of 1956, the Treasury and the Council of Economic Advisers (under Burns) felt that the Reserve Board was making credit too tight. The Reserve contended that inflationary pressures were more serious than deflationary pressures. Later that year, in a talk before the Economic Club of Detroit, George M. Humphrey, then Secretary of the Treasury, courageously admitted his mistake and lauded the Reserve.

Thus, the Board acts as a check upon the Treasury. In a National Economic Council, the Board would be subordinate to the Treasury. For the President would naturally rely on his Secretary of the Treasury in money and credit matters.

The final draft of the American Assembly recommendation stated that the National Economic Council should in no way "abridge the independence of the Federal Reserve System." Yet, is it possible, when the President presides at a meeting, not to automatically abridge the independence of all participants?

Historic Cabin

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (U.S.)—Colorado has acquired a log cabin which served as the first capitol of Colorado territory.

A hotel has turned over the title to the 100-year-old structure to Gov. Steve McNichols.

The structure will be moved to the grounds of the State Capitol in Denver.

Unforgettable Trip

ENID, Okla. (U.S.)—James Floyd Brown probably will never forget his trip home to Detroit from Enid.

He was bitten in the finger by a skunk here and enroute home had to stop each day to take an anti-rabies vaccination.

Sleepy Driver

NORFOLK, Va. (U.S.)—Judge Vernon D. Hitchens Jr. doesn't doubt the wisdom of pulling off the road and taking a nap if a driver is sleepy. But he fined a motorist $10 here when officers testified the car was parked in the middle of a busy intersection.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

WITH TOMMY HART

Time was, when San Angelo and Big Spring met on the football greensward, the earth crows could be felt for weeks all over West Texas.

The two elevens invariably (1) went through their chores before large crowds, (2) fought to hopeless stalemates and (3) so aroused the competing athletes that at one time there was talk of sending them into the battle pits complete with boxing gloves.

Blondy Cross, who is still a scribever for the San Angelo paper, was a man who cherished a good fight and a lingering controversy. He was hardly neutral when it came to a discussion of the Big Spring Steers.

One of his columns proved so inflammatory that Obie Bristol, then the Steer coach, saw fit to dictate a letter to the Angelo writer, taking him to task for his radical and uncompromising views.

When San Angelo and Big Spring met that year, an Abilene party named Pat Murphy helped officiate the game. The Steers finished on the long end of the score but Cross wasn't disposed to heap too much praise upon the victors.

A few years later, Murphy made a successful application for the coaching job in Big Spring. Cross saw little good in Murphy's appointment, but elaborated on it by recalling the Big Spring victory of several years previously and stated the news was not surprising, "in view of the fact that Pat, as a game official, had helped Bristol beat San Angelo."

In 1940, Murphy's club team pummeled San Angelo, 20-7, but Cross had followed a bit by that time. Or perhaps he had gotten a bit more accustomed to defeat.

Big Spring is one of the 2,225 high schools in the country which fields a golf team each year. The nation now has 16,169 high schools.

The word now is that Abilene will have a second high school and it will open its doors Sept. 1, 1960. It will be located in the southwest section of the city.

Though Terry Brennan is enjoying another successful year as football coach at Notre Dame, he is not without his critics. Those who look for his shortcomings say he isn't using his four best backs as a unit, that he prefers to split this talent between his first and second teams.

Uncle Sam cut into the last World Series for something like $400,000 in tax money.

John Pipes, the local golf activist, says he clipped this item from the October, 1950, edition of Golfers Magazine:

"While on the subject of long drives, that thrilling past-time of dubs (so say the pros), down in San Angelo, Texas, not long ago, Obie Bristol pulled a long range driver out of his bag and hit three balls an aggregate of 1,066 1/2 yards.

One was for 334 yards, another 336 and the third 396 1/2." Bristol said the feats occurred in Abilene, not in San Angelo, however, and took place during a driving contest. It goes without saying that he won first place in the contest.

Pipes, by the way, says he has played only 36 holes of golf since last July. He remains a dedicated golf lover, however, and continues to add to his prolific collection of links data.

Praised By Coaches, Herd Starts Work For Bronchos

Big Spring coaches praised their players for their dynamic work against Abilene last weekend and said the Steers would be in good physical trim for their upcoming game with Odessa.

The two teams clash in Odessa Friday night. Abilene defeated the Steers, 38-8, but for a couple of bad breaks the score would have been much closer.

Curtis Kelley, line coach of the Longhorns, said he was of the opinion the local athletes turned in one of their best jobs of the season defensively against the mighty Eagles.

Abilene stepped out to get two first period touchdowns against the Steers but the Longhorns more than held their own in the second quarter.

Kelley said he was especially pleased with the performance of his sophomore linemen.

Odessa set the stage for the game with Big Spring my mauling.

Fleeman, Charles Tangle Tonight

DALLAS (AP)—Donnie Fleeman, the Texas light heavyweight champion, will have a splash in the heavyweight division, as he faces his most important victory tonight—he meets Ezzard Charles.

Charles, the big man from Cincinnati who once was world's heavyweight champion and about the busiest of them all, is on the comeback trail at 37. He thinks a victory over Fleeman, who has compiled a 29-2 record, would help him.

Charles is a mild favorite to win tonight as he meets Fleeman in a 10-rounder.

FIGHT RESULTS

Havana—Ezequiel Uribe, 136 1/2, Mexico, outpointed Armando Baragan, 137 1/2, Cuba. Hollywood—Dwight Hawkins, 151, Los Angeles, stopped Baby Brown, 151, Philadelphia, 8.

Brother Combinations

Three sets of brothers are playing football for the Coahoma Bulldogs this fall. They are, front and back, left to right, Robert and Jim Cearly, Don and Randall Reid, Boyce and Harold Abernethy. Jim Cearly is the only senior in the group. Harold Abernethy and Randall Reid are juniors. Donald Reid is a freshman. The other two boys are sophomores.

LSU, OLE MISS VIE IN HEADLINE TILT

By ED CORRIGAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

Only four major college football teams remained in the undefeated-untied charmed circle today and at least one of them must be expelled this week.

Louisiana State and Mississippi, both boasting proud 6-0 records, meet Saturday night in Baton Rouge, La., the team that wins this one should go on to the southeastern conference championship and the host spot in the Sugar Bowl, for neither of these Dixie powers figures to get beaten the rest of the season.

Of the other two unbeaten-untieds—Rutgers and Colorado—the Scarlet from the banks of the New Jersey's Raritan River, appears to have a relatively easy assignment against Delaware.

Colorado has a mighty rough assignment. The Buffs play Oklahoma, the perennial kingly of the Big 8. But the Sooners are human this year (they lost to Texas, 15-14), and the Buffs have as good a club as they've produced in a long time.

Should LSU and Ole Miss happen to play a tie and Oklahoma beats Colorado, that would leave Rutgers in a class by itself as the only unbeaten-untied major team in the nation.

Both LSU and Mississippi had close squeaks Saturday. The Bayou Bombers licked tough Florida, 10-7, while Ole Miss barely turned back winless Arkansas, 14-12.

But their troubles were nothing compared to Army's and Ohio State's, the Nos. 1 and 2 teams in last week's Associated Press poll.

The Cadets could do nothing better than a 14-14 tie with Pitt in a game that was advertised as deciding the Eastern championship, while Ohio State wound up in a 7-7 deadlock against Wisconsin.

Then there were the sad cases of Texas and Northwestern, on the basis of their victory over Oklahoma, were installed as solid choices to win the Southwest Conference title.

Instead, Rice sidetracked them emphatically, 34-7. Northwestern, which couldn't win a game last year, had polished off four straight rivals and the rest of the Big 10 was beginning to sit up and take notice.

But once-iced Iowa burst the bubble, 26-20, and now is undisputed possession of first place in the league.

Army plays Colgate this week and Ohio State is at Northwestern. Texas could be in for another rough afternoon against passer-crazed Memphis in the second round of the bowl.

There are only two other major schools that are unbeaten but have been tied. They are Auburn, last year's national champion, which halted Maryland, 20-7, Saturday and still has an outside chance of winning the Southern Conference title, and the Air Force Academy. The Fly Boys shaded Utah, 16-14, Saturday.

All is chaos in the Pacific Coast Conference with California, by Oregon State this week, they could wind up in the Rose Bowl.

Like the Ivy League, things have not been going as they should. Princeton was supposed to win it, but the Tigers took it on the chin from Cornell, 34-8, last week, and now the Big Red rules the roost.

DUPAS VS. GONZALES ODESSA (AP)—Dave Dupas, New Orleans, meets Manuel Gonzales of Odessa here Wednesday night in a scheduled 10-round boxing match.

Coaches Deserve Blame For Violations: Dodd

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Bobby Dodd, outspoken coach of Georgia Tech, says coaches like Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma and Ralph Jordan of Auburn knew what the alumni were doing to get their teams in trouble with the NCAA.

He also says the coaches of institutions that have been placed on probation should be ineligible for any and all honors.

He declares that the Football Coaches Assn. is failing to do a good job of cleaning up the profession because its ethics committee "can't or won't publicly spank its members who have been caught breaking the rules."

These were among the caustic thoughts Dodd left behind him when he took his Georgia Tech football team back to Atlanta following its 20-0 defeat by Southern Methodist at Dallas. He gave them to Flem Hall, sports director of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, who carried them in his column today.

Hall quoted Dodd as wanting both the football coaches and the football writers of the country to take a firmer stand against violations of rules of both play and the NCAA.

"The head coach is the man responsible for violations and no one else," Dodd declared. "There has been an effort to shift blame to the presidents but that's not right. The president is too busy with bigger things to keep up with than what I'm doing on my recruiting program. The head coach knows what's going on among the alumni, too, and can control it if he really wants to."

Dodd thinks that the Football Writers Assn. should adopt a res-

Milstead Nears Lead In SWC

By The Associated Press

Baylor's Larry Hickman increased his lead in ball-carrying but teammate Buddy Humphrey found himself tottering before the rush of Texas A&M's Charley Milstead in passing as Southwest Conference football pushed past the half-way mark.

Hickman put on a great exhibition although playing on the losing team as he roamed for 114 yards against Texas A&M in bringing his total for the season to 426 on 98 carries. It was 152 yards better than runner-up Billy Pavlika of Baylor.

Milstead threw for 168 yards against Baylor and it put him out front in distance although Humphrey still leads the conference on the basis of completions. Milstead has connected on 41 passes in 69 for 550 yards. Humphrey has completed 51 of 96 for 503 yards.

Milstead not only outdistanced Humphrey in passing but he paced his lead materially in total offense. The Aggie tailback now has 773 yards on 148 plays, which is 192 yards better than second place Humphrey.

Other big performances also came in ball-carrying and passing. Jim Mooty of Arkansas rolled up 120 yards against Mississippi to push into the top 10 in ball-carrying for the first time this season. Mooty brought his season total to 217 yards for six place.

John Tracey of Texas A&M put on the pass-catching exhibition. He snared seven throws against Baylor and shot him into the lead with 20 for 254 yards. He replaced Al Witcher of Baylor, who caught only two. Witcher is second with 16 receptions for 167 yards.

Pat Bailey of Rice continued in front in punting with a 40.4-yard average on 20 kicks and Hickman swept into first place in kickoff returns as he brought his total to 162 yards for an average of 23.1.

Jon Few of Texas A&M took over the lead in punt returns with a 10.3 average.

TCU was idle but stayed out front in both team offense, in which it has averaged 332.6 yards per game, and defense, in which it has given up 202.2.

Wilson And Bell Post Best Scores

All matches in the Merchant's League resulted in 2 to 1 decisions, with the top three teams winning two games each.

Alexander's best Tom Conway's Humble team, Wilson Brothers edged San Francisco's Gulf Station, the Independent's defeated Prager's Mens' Store and Donald's Drive-In picked up two from Toby's Drive-In Grocery.

Wilson Brothers made a clean sweep of the weekly honors. They posted an 871 for high team game and 2422 for high series.

Earl Wilson rolled the high individual game of 212 and Bill Bell, Wilson's lead-off man, had high series with 532.

Team standings are as follows:

Wilson Brothers 14 W 1 L
Independent 13 W 1 L
Prager's 12 W 1 L
Alexander's Humble 11 W 1 L
Toby's Drive-In Groc. 9 W 1 L
Snyder's Gulf Station 9 W 1 L
Donald's 8 W 1 L

Halas In Center Of A Grid Rhubarb At San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Papa Bear George Halas aroused animosity among West Coast pro football adherents on a week-to-week basis.

In the latest episode, an infuriated San Francisco 49er fan tossed a punch at him during a 14-11 time Sunday and landed in jail.

That made three straight Sundays that the 66-year-old owner and coach of the Chicago club has become an object of acrimony—first when the 49ers lost in Chicago, then when Los Angeles lost here and finally as the Bears won here.

Three weeks ago San Francisco Coach Frank Albert charged Halas influenced the officiating as the Bears lost 26-6. Then an assistant Rams coach declared someone was tapping his telephone conversation to the Los Angeles bench.

And there were general complaints that Halas strayed out of the coaching confines between the 40-yard lines.

With that background the crowd of 69,441 in Kenilworth Stadium fixed its vocal muscles with mighty boos as Halas and his Bears took the field.

The noise became crescendo in the second quarter with the Bears leading 10-7. Referee Ron Gibbs signaled that 49er Leo Nomellini recovered a fumble by Chicago's Willie Galimore at the San Francisco 24.

Backfield Judge George Smith overruled, saying he had blown his whistle ending the play before the fumble. After a huddle, watched closely by a gesturing Halas at the sideline, the officials awarded the ball to Chicago.

For six minutes the howls of anguish drowned out even the public address system. At the intermission, Albert, Halas and some players conferred with officials at midfield.

As the session broke up, some fans swarmed onto the field and one swung at Halas. Albert pulled

Jim Brown Making Foes' Lines Cower

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer
Johnny Brown is mortal. But not by much.

The sensational Cleveland fullback, threatening to send opposing linemen to their nearest psychoanalyst, is well on his way to establishing a host of new National Football League offensive records.

Equally proficient at racing outside or banging away inside, Brown scored four touchdowns Sunday as the Browns outscored Chicago's Cardinals 38-24. The Browns lead the Eastern division with a 5-0 record.

The 22-year-old former All-America from Syracuse University made distinct headway in these departments:

1. Most yards gained one season — Brown has amassed 815 yards, 189 in 24 tries Sunday. It seems almost certain he will break Steve Van Buren's mark of 1,146 set in 1949 with Philadelphia.

2. Most touchdowns one season — Brown now has 14, only four shy of Van Buren's 1945 standard.

3. Most points one season — this is furthest from Brown's grasp. The Cleveland sophomore has 64 points. The record is 138, set by Don Hutson of Green Bay in 1942.

Brown will have to average close to two TDs a game to beat Hutson, the great end who also handled Green Bay's conversions.

While Brown was making defensive lines cower, Baltimore's Johnny Unitas was doing the same with the secondary. He tossed two touchdown passes as the Colts, only other undefeated team, remained in front in the Western Conference with a 5-0 mark, whipping Washington 35-10. It was the 20th consecutive game in which Unitas has thrown for a score.

In other games, Chicago's Bears remained in contention in the west with a 4-1 mark, as they defeated San Francisco 27-14. New York moved into second place in the east with a 17-6 triumph over Pittsburgh, defending champion Detroit won its first game of the season, 41-24 over Los Angeles, and Green Bay outlasted Philadelphia 38-35.

Brown scored on dashes of 62, 41, 7 and 2 yards. His second and third TDs, coming in the third quarter, enabled Cleveland to overcome a 24-17 deficit, effected by Lamar McHan's passing and signal-calling. The Browns' only other touchdown was produced by rookie Leroy Bolden, who scampered 102 yards with a kickoff.

Unitas hit Ray Berry with his scoring passes for 17 and 48 yards before a record crowd of 54,603. Lenny Lyles, the speedy Colt rookie, made his second end zone-to-end zone dash as he lugged a kickoff 101 yards.

The Bears won a rough game from the 49ers in which Bear Coach George Halas had a punch thrown at him by a fan. Willie Galimore, the Bears' flashy back scored twice, first on a 29-yard run and then on a 47-yard pass play. San Francisco went out in these departments:

front 7-0 but Galimore's first touchdown and a pair of field goals by George Blanda put it out of reach.

New York brought its record to 3-2 by recovering three fumbles by Pitt fullback Tom Tracy and converting two into scores. The Giants scored only once on their own initiative and it was the clincher. Leading 10-6 in the final quarter, quarterback Don Heinrich led a 70-yard march and scored himself from the one. The Steeler points came on field goals by Tom Miner.

Detroit's Tobin Rose connected for three scoring passes to lead the Lions to their first victory. The defending champs unleashed a sensational 104-yard scoring play early in the contest that laid the groundwork for the victory. Gene Gedman took a Ram kickoff four yards in the end zone, stepped out to the 14 and handed off to Terry Barr who went the remaining distance. The attendance at Los Angeles was 81,703, largest of the day.

Babe Parilli took over the Green Bay quarterbacking from Bart Starr and pitched touchdown passes of 34, 14, 10 and 25 yards as the Packers also notched their initial victory. Paul Hornung's field goal in the opening period was the margin of victory. Philadelphia's Norm Van Brocklin passed for three scores, two to Tommy McDonald.

'Omnibus' Show Hits Death Penalty

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—"Omnibus" presented a subtle, powerful argument against capital punishment Sunday as it began its seventh consecutive season on television.

Traditionally, the arguments against capital punishment seem to be defensive. As conducted by the noted trial lawyer, Joseph N. Welch, the case for the death penalty was thrown on the defensive.

Welch delivered a magnificent prosecution of capital punishment, aided by a fine script by James Lee and an excellent production over NBC-TV.

Around the dramatic threat of a John Doe murder case the Robert Saudek production wove the history of capital punishment and the pros and cons of the death penalty.

It must have been edifying to the viewing jury to learn that of 7,000 murders in the United States each year half are committed by persons with no previous criminal record. Even more significant in Welch's arguments were these facts:

Of seven states which have abolished capital punishment, five have the lowest criminal record. Maine, which outlawed the death penalty more than 60 years ago, has the lowest criminal record. Georgia, where 14 crimes are punished by death, has one of the highest.

"Omnibus" demonstrated in Sunday's production how a complex idea can be compelling dramatized.

"The Twentieth Century" presented its new season on CBS-TV Sunday night with the first of an absorbing two-part study of Communist propaganda, "The Red Sell."

Some remarkable Soviet propaganda films obtained for the program strikingly demonstrated how the Communists create fear and hatred of the West among politically naive peoples.

Viewers who think $100 million dollars is a large annual budget for the U.S. Information Agency must have been impressed by the fact that Russia and Red China spend about 3 1/2 billion dollars annually merely for the training of their propagandists.

"The Twentieth Century," produced by Burton Benjamin and narrated by Walter Cronkite, obviously will continue to be the fine series that it was last season. It was too bad that CBS couldn't tell "Lassie" to go home for one Sunday evening so that the program could have continued for a full hour as a season debut.

Next Sunday's second segment reveals how "The Red Sell" is being bought by people in Southeast Asia, India, Finland, South America and the Middle East.

Bystander Killed By Wild Bullet

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A bystander was killed by a shot fired at a fleeing man early Sunday.

The victim was John Douglas Netherland, 41, one of about a dozen persons in an East Side cafe.

The intended victim, Prett Rollins, 21, told police he had fought a short time before with a man who left and returned with a shotgun. The man fired as Rollins dashed into the restaurant.

Police arrested Robert Martin, 29, and held him for investigation.

No New Polio Cases In Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—No new polio cases were reported in Detroit over the weekend but two were recorded in Wayne County outside of Detroit.

The cases boosted the outcounty total for the year to 192 with one death.

The Detroit toll stands at 614 cases with 20 deaths, compared to 175 cases and two deaths during the same period in 1957.

Pan American Begins Jet Flights

PARIS (AP)—Pan American's Clipper America today inaugurated jet passenger service between New York and Paris, but fog and unfavorable weather delayed the arrival of the first flight 95 minutes.

The big airliner, with 111 passengers and a crew of 12 aboard, made the flight from New York in 8 hours 20 minutes.

The airline plans on a regular crossing time of 7 hours 5 minutes. Piston-driven planes take about 11 hours.

Fair Condition

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Dist. Atty.-Elect Charles Lieck was reported in fair condition at a local hospital following a head-on two-car collision Saturday night. Attendants said he will be hospitalized for some time with a fractured right thigh, a fractured left kneecap, numerous cuts and bruises and possible throat injuries.

He apparently left for his home at Lincoln, N.H. in reply to a question, Hagerty said he had no information concerning Adams' future plans.

Adams decided to quit under mounting political pressure after a House subcommittee dug publicly into his relations with Bernard Goldfine, a Boston millionaire. Goldfine's business firms were having trouble with government regulatory agencies.

Both Adams and Goldfine denied that anything wrong was either done or intended in Adams' contacts with the federal agencies. Both said gifts exchanged between them were the result of a long friendship.

Wilton B. Persons, a longtime friend and aide to Eisenhower, was named to succeed Adams as chief assistant. Bryce N. Harlow, another veteran of the White House staff, was sworn in Saturday to take Persons' former post as assistant for congressional affairs.

Sherman Adams Steps Out Quietly Before Weekend

WASHINGTON (AP)—Without fanfare or announcement, Sherman Adams has stepped out of the White House, where for nearly six years he was President Eisenhower's top assistant.

He announced his resignation in a nationwide television and radio talk on Sept. 22, but said then he would stay on until there had been an orderly transfer to others of the work he had been doing.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty confirmed during the weekend that Adams had left Friday after a farewell chat with the President.

Dies At 99

FORT WORTH (AP)—Rosary will be recited tonight for Mrs. John Lehane who died at her home yesterday at the age of 99. Mrs. Lehane had recalled that when she came to live in Fort Worth "it was really just a cow town" with no streets or sidewalks.

106,000 Attend Prison Rodeo

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—A record 106,000 persons attended the four October shows of the Texas Prison Rodeo which wound up its annual series yesterday.

This topped by 5,000 the previous mark set in 1951.

Rough-riding convicts put on a whirlwind finish before yesterday's crowd of 25,000.

Robert Culp of the television series "Trackdown," singer Tommy Sands and Col. Dean Hess, author of "Battle Hymn" appeared.

Judges picked O'Neal Browning, serving 99 years from Houston, as champion of the 1958 series. Browning nosed out Cruz Davilla, serving 99 years from Cotulla, who ranked second.

Tehran Visit

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—U.S. Defense Secretary Neil McElroy arrived in Tehran today for a short visit. He is on the homeward leg of a world tour of U.S. defense installations.

Remaining Goat Burns Down Barn

HOLLY, Mich. (AP)—Farmer Peter Bower sold six of his seven goats last week when he found them nibbling on electrical wiring in the barn.

A fire Sunday destroyed the barn. Damages were estimated at $8,000.

Bower said the seventh goat probably started the blaze by chewing on the wires. It died in the fire.
