Poor Students 'Mere Pawns' In Academic Tiff

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer

AUSTIN (AP)—State universities are paying so much attention to their academic programs they may be slighting the poor students, the president of such a university has told his colleagues.

"The students are coming off second best," he told the closing session of a conference of university presidents here yesterday. "They are becoming the mere pawns to the machinery of the program."

Under conference ground rules the speakers in the discussion groups may not be identified by name or school.

"Perhaps the engineering courses for instance should be more intellectual," the speaker said. "Should a prospective engineer get a liberal education for perhaps two years, then two or three years of courses devoted almost entirely to technical subjects?"

Another university official said a somewhat similar situation exists in the nation's law schools.

"By the time the law students take up law books, they have forgotten what they learned earlier in labor economics. By the time they take up the internal revenue code, they have forgotten the basic economics courses they took a few years before."

"We need to mix up the courses, and make sure that our graduates are not just specialists but well rounded, well educated citizens."

Dyess Jet Carried A Nuclear Weapon

ABILENE (AP)—One crewman was killed when a B47 jet bomber carrying a nuclear weapon crashed in flames shortly after takeoff near here yesterday. The Air Force said there was no atomic explosion and no danger of radioactive contamination.

The plane caught fire on the explosion of JATO (Jet Assisted Take Off) bottles as it was taking off from Dyess AFB near here.

The plane climbed to 1,500 feet before crashing in a field, just 150 yards from a house and within one-half mile of a rural school.

Three airmen parachuted to safety. The crew chief, Staff Sgt. Robert Schneider, 22, of Roseville, Mich., died in the flaming wreckage.

"A potential danger in the incident of this type would be possible contamination of a small area if the high explosive charge completely destroyed the weapon. In this instance no harmful contamination or explosion resulted from the crash," the Air Force said.

The Air Force's reference to "high explosive charge" appeared to mean the triggering mechanism used in detonating a nuclear bomb. Mrs. George Stowe, the teacher at the rural school near the crash, said she ordered 70 pupils to leave the building as the blazing bomber appeared to be "heading right toward us."

Crew members who parachuted to safety were Maj. Don Youngmark of Dixon, Ill., plane commander; Capt. John Gerding of Flint, Mich., pilot; and Capt. John Dowling of Brooklyn, N.Y., navigator.

Rayburn, Lyndon Hail Demo Gains As 'Great Victory'

DALLAS (AP)—Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn both hailed Democratic gains in Congress as result of yesterday's elections as "a great victory."

Johnson said the American people have made it clear "they do not want a veto of the 20th Century."

Rayburn, who was elected without opposition yesterday to his 24th term in the House, said at his home in Bonham, "It looks like a Democratic sweep. We have the Senate by the overwhelming majority and a greater majority in the House than we expected."

"The people of the United States believe in the Democratic party more than the Republican party and they expressed that belief at the polls," he said.

Johnson, in Houston, said "Responsible leadership and responsible campaigning have won a great national victory."

"The American people have endorsed the constructive and confident leadership of the Democratic Congress. They have made it clear that the people do not want a veto of the 20th Century," he said.

"The Democratic party is a national party supported by a majority of Americans. We shall honor our mandate by moving forward along the course which has won this trust from the people," he said.

Oil Panel Sets Path

HOUSTON (AP)—The 20-man steering committee of the new Oil Industry Conservation Forum voted yesterday to concentrate its activities at the state and local level.

The group will work through five regional sub-committees in seeking improved economic conditions in the domestic producing industry.

Jake Hamon of Dallas was authorized to appoint sub-committees in the Rocky Mountain area, Oklahoma and Kansas; Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Arkansas; New Mexico and Arizona, and Texas.

Hamon said the subcommittee will be composed of industry men studying conservation laws and rules of state regulatory bodies.

F. B. Miller Jr., Forum chairman, said "It is apparent that all segments of the industry are especially concerned with the importance of wider well spacing to permit greater per well allowable and the drilling of more wildcat wells."

Miller is vice president and general manager of Tidewater Oil Co.'s Houston Division.

Baptists Approve A Record Budget

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The Baptist General Convention of Texas yesterday unanimously adopted a record 11 and one-half million dollar cooperative program budget.

The budget—calling for 8 and one-half million dollars in undesignated giving and 3 million dollars in designated giving—was presented to the more than 4,000 attending the annual convention by Dr. W. A. Jones of El Paso, chairman of the finance committee.

Of the undesignated amount 37 per cent will be distributed to convention-wide causes outside Texas. Approximately 50 per cent will go for mission work out of the state. The budget includes $2,195,000 for state missions, including pastor salary supplements, rural and city missions and Latin-American missions. A record $1,950,000 is earmarked for Christian Education at Texas Baptist 11 colleges and universities. Another $710,000 will go for Christian healing at Texas Baptist's eight hospitals.

Dr. R. A. Springer, convention treasurer, said the BGCT surpassed all previous records in missions giving during the past year by giving $11,126,031 through the cooperative program.

Of the total amount this year, Dr. Springer said, $8,149,290 was in undesignated gifts. Designated gifts, which include annual offerings for foreign, home and state missions, totaled $2,976,741.

The 1958 budget of 10 and one-half million dollars was oversubscribed by $626,000. Budget surpluses are distributed among state institutions and missions and the Southern Baptist Convention.

Noted Quiz Show Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—The $64,000 Question has been answered for the last time. The Columbia Broadcasting System announced Tuesday that the quiz program by that name had its final television screening last Sunday.

The program—first of the big money quiz shows—is being replaced by "Keep Talking," a comedy panel show in the 10 to 10:30 p.m. (EST) Sunday night time slot on CBS.

The "Question" thus joined the mounting scrap pile of abandoned TV quiz shows. Their ratings plunged after an investigation this fall into complaints that some contestants were coached on answers.

By offering huge sums of money for answers to difficult questions, the "$64,000 Question" launched a trend in the industry 3½ years ago.

CBS Executive Vice President Hubbell Robinson Jr. said: "Although the integrity of the first and best of the big quiz shows was NOT an issue in the replacement, the '$64,000 Question' has nevertheless become a victim of declining quiz show audiences."

Magnolia Reduces Sooner Crude Price

DALLAS (AP)—Magnolia Petroleum Co. announced it will reduce its posted prices of Oklahoma crude effective today.

The company said it will pay a top price of $3.05 for 40-44.9 gravity crude in Oklahoma, a reduction of 10 cents a barrel.

Magnolia also announced it is extending its gravity scale downward for Mirando type crude purchased in South Texas. The scale for the Mirando type crude which broke off at $3.21 a barrel for below 24 gravity has been extended downward to $3.13 a barrel for crude below 20 gravity.

DEAR ABBY

NEW DRESSES

By ABIGAL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My wife gets mo-sore. When I ask her if she wants to go out she says she would love to, but she has nothing to wear.
I go to her clothes closet and I see no less than thirty dresses hanging there and still she tells me she has nothing to wear! I buy one suit a year, and I have plenty to wear. What's the answer?
HACK DRIVER

DEAR DRIVER: Your wife means she has nothing NEW to wear. But this excuse is no longer legitimate because now the older a lady's dress is, the newer it looks.

DEAR ABBY: For almost two years I have been happily married to a wonderful man. His parents treat me like their own daughter, but this one thing bothers me. My husband was married and divorced before I met him.
His mother has picture albums which she shows to everyone when she has company. There are many pictures of my husband and his wife in this album. Some are cheek-to-cheek on the beach in affectionate poses. This hurts me very much. My in-laws have no use for this woman now, so why do they keep her pictures in the book? About a year ago I asked my mother-in-law to remove the picture and she said it would ruin her book. I think if she really loved me she would get rid of the pictures. Should I mention it again? It bothers me terribly.

DEAR HURT: Take some new pictures of your husband yourself and be sure they are the same size as those you'd like replaced.
Tell your mother-in-law you will gladly replace the pictures without ruining her book.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a person who spends $120 on a reducing course for herself and refuses to help her own sister out with a loan for the grocery bill?
DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: She must be penny wise and pound foolish.

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl of 14, and I have the most terrible habit but I can't help it. I crack my knuckles. The teachers give me dirty looks, and sometimes my father will send me out of the room and my brother yells at me.

I've tried hard to break this habit, but when they've got to be cracked, they've got to be cracked, or I think I will go crazy.
Please help me, Abby?

"KNUCKLE CRACKER"
DEAR K. C.: When you get the urge to "crack" your knuckles, urge to yourself over and over. "I WILL NOT CRACK MY KNUCK-LES!" If you think strongly enough you can overcome the urge. Try with all your might.
Good luck!

DEAR ABBY: A letter in your column about the two 79's taking a trip together gave me food for thought. I am a widow and not quite 79, but I am over 60.
Last year it happened to be convenient for me to attend a family celebration with a gentleman widower remotely related through in-laws. We stayed in separate hotels, not to be discreet but because the hotels were crowded. I found it much nicer than being tied to an older woman night and day. Last week I heard about a cruise which sounded inviting. He called me long-distance on business, and I asked him if he would be interested in the cruise. He said it sounded fine. I have no children and to heck with the gossip, but he has children and grandchildren. Do you suppose they would take exception if he went on such a cruise? They might hesitate to criticize him to his face.

MERRY OLD WIDOW
DEAR MERRY: Suggest to this gentleman that perhaps he should talk it over with his relatives. If he is interested in their opinion, if you occupy separate quarters and behave like well-bred adults, there should be no cause for criticism.

CONFIDENTIAL TO LORRIE:
The girl who is not too sure of herself let a fellow become too sure of HER. Wait till he calls you.

Yarborough
Tastes Final
Sweet Victory

AUSTIN (AP)—Ralph Yarborough today tasted the full, final sweets of victory and promised to serve all Texans during his first six-year term as U.S. senator.

At a quiet election listening party at his home last night, the senator who has known political defeat more often than victory, gave the credit to friends who stuck with him in his blackest hours.

"I will never cease to be grateful to those loyal friends who have stayed with me through five long, hard statewide campaigns in six years," Yarborough said.

This was a reference to the uphill battle he has fought in the face of opposition which might have whipped a less persistent or hard-working man.

He has now pulled himself into a commanding position in Democratic party affairs in Texas.

The 53-year-old Democrat who won the Democratic nomination in July by a majority that surprised many political professionals, rode an overwhelming victory tide over his Republican opponent, Roy Whittemburg, who campaigned strenuously for the office.

Yarborough first went to the Senate in 1957 in a special election to fill the unexpired term of Price Daniel. In this year's Democratic primary he defeated William Blakley of Dallas, who had been interim senator following Daniel's resignation to run for governor.

Yarborough ran for governor three times with heavy liberal and labor support, twice against conservative Allan Shivers who defeated him in 1952 and 1954. Then in the 1956 Democratic primary runoff, he was edged out by Daniel and the conservatives.

'Epitaph,' New Osborne Play, Is Funny, Romantic

By MARK BARRON
NEW YORK (AP)—Despite its sad-sounding title, "Epitaph for George Dillon," is a compelling, sometimes humorous and sometimes romantic play.

This new drama by John Osborne, author of "Look Back in Anger," and Anthony Creighton, opened at Broadway's John Golden Theater Tuesday night with mostly British players. It seems destined to stay there for a long time.

The whole story is centered on an egocentric young man of charm, George Dillon, who is short of money while he is trying to write a play, a book, or otherwise stay out of work. He also is an unemployed television actor.
When he cannot sell his acting talents to a film or television studio, he makes a quick switch and ingratiates himself with a middle-class English family. They take him into their home to replace a son who resembles him physically and who was lost while fighting for Britain on foreign seas.

The suave Dillon tries to impress upon them that he would like to take the place of their late son in their home. He manages to impress Mrs. Elliott her sister, Ruth, and Mrs. Elliott's daughters.

With his comic-intellectual conversations with the various members of the family, Dillon seems headed toward taking over the whole household.

Then he begins his mistakes. He scorns the romantic approaches of the Elliott aunt, Ruth, a role played brilliantly by Eileen Her-lie. He makes romantic advances to the dimwitted Elliott daughters with the result that one of them becomes pregnant.

His tall stories about being a successful playwright are eventually exposed by the facts, and he stands revealed as just a mediocre writer who hasn't the ambition to go out and get a job.

Robert Stephens is suave, adroit and most convincing in the role of George Dillon, a man who cannot separate his real life from his frustrated desire to be a successful actor.

A Bible Thought For Today

As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith. (Galatians 6:10)

"For These... We Offer... Our Prayers"

In accordance with a joint resolution of Congress approved December 26, 1941, President Eisenhower last Saturday proclaimed Thanksgiving Day, November 27, as Thanksgiving Day.

That Congressional enactment almost 17 years ago put a period to one of the hottest controversies of the Franklin D. Roosevelt days.

Retail merchants argued that there should be a greater time lapse between Thanksgiving and Christmas, and a lot of them still feel that way about it, not only to give the merchants more time to prepare for and take care of the Christmas rush, but their customers more time to get their shopping done.

So Mr. Roosevelt moved up the feast day one week—and it set off one of the most persistent and raucous rows of his entire administration.

Finally, Congress stepped in, and the fourth Thursday in November became the official Thanksgiving Day in so far as the national government is concerned.

So far as we know, the official Thanksgiving Day falls on the last Thursday in November, which by chance this year happens also to be the fourth Thursday.

But not always, for even a month of 30 days can contain as many as five of any day of the week. This year, November happens to contain five Sundays.

What complicates the setting of Thanksgiving Day in Texas is the traditional Texas-Texas A&M football game, always scheduled for that particular holiday. This has caused no little conflict and confusion in years past.

This, as Mr. Eisenhower says in his proclamation, has been a year of abundant harvests almost everywhere, and continues:

"We are grateful for the plentiful yield of our soil and for the blessings of food and clothing and shelter that have secured us... in the beauty of our land... in every brave and generous act of our fellowman... and in the counsel and comfort of our friends... For these and all the many spiritual and temporal benefactions bestowing God's goodness, we offer up our prayers of gratitude." Amen.

The Plague Of The Double Word

We note with growing alarm that increasing use of the double adjective—come adverb or vestibule-train or articulated affirmative in electronic advertising, commentary and dialogue.

Nothing is simply very this or very that any more; it is almost invariably very-very, or many-many, or fast-fast, or big-big, or what have you. Nobody is thanked very much, he is thanked very-very much. Nothing is simply wonderful, a state of perfection or intensity that once was considered adequate; it is wonderful-wonderful.

We sincerely hope a halt is called before the thing gets completely out of hand. If it ever invades the world of cold print, think what a problem our mechanical department will have in taking care of really long, or sesquipedalian, words, like magnificent-magnificent, or—God forbid!—antidiseestablishmentarianism-antidiseestablishmentarianism.

At that precise moment in history, old Massa's gonna be in de cold-cold ground. But many-many people seem to be sold-solid on the idea that very-very-much depends on doubling up for emphasis, and if this threadbare cliché gets completely out of hand, most of us will catch ourselves spouting two words where one word would do just as well-well in ordinary conversation.

If that time comes, we're going to put on our hat and tie ourself to the nearest abandoned mine in the mountains-mountains, but fast-fast-fast-fast.

Tax Threat On Churches, Private Schools

WASHINGTON—What is the "law of the land" about governmental aid to private schools in the form of a tax exemption?

Out in California the people voted Tuesday on an amendment to the state constitution which would remove the tax exemption from the property of all private schools below the collegiate level. Since the bulk of these institutions are Catholic, a bitter fight alleging religious persecution developed. Most Protestant and Jewish groups assailed the proposal. While the state would collect an additional four million dollars in taxes, it could cost the California taxpayers as a whole about 118 million dollars a year more to operate similar facilities.

Would the California provision be a violation of the Fourteenth Amendment of the federal Constitution which says that no state shall take any action that denies anyone the "equal protection of the laws"?

Coincidentally, last week while President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon were taking particular pains to deny publicly any approval of the California proposal in the face of misrepresentations of their attitude, reported during the political campaign, the tax-exemption issue was being raised at the federal level in Washington. This happened in connection with the operation of private schools by religious groups in Virginia and Arkansas. Last Wednesday a United Press International dispatch appeared in the press telling of information obtained at the U. S. Internal Revenue Service which indicated that because children formerly in public schools were receiving instruction in classes being conducted on church property, the churches in question might be deprived of their federal tax exemption. On Friday last the United Press International sent out the following dispatch dated Arlington, Virginia:

"A segregationist group has charged that federal tax officials subjected Southern church leaders to 'propaganda, intimidation and coercion' by pointing out that churches used for schools could lose tax-exempt status. The Arlington chapter of Defenders of State Sovereignty and Individual Liberties demanded that the Internal Revenue Service identify the head of any IRS department which has any such tax denial exemption 'under active consideration.'"

"IRS officials said Wednesday that churches might be risking their tax status under certain circumstances if they provide space or private classes in communities where public schools are closed to thwart integration. The officials commented in response to a reporter's questions. They said the issue had been raised informally, but they emphasized that no such case had been brought before them officially for a ruling."

But what would the ruling be if a case were actually brought by some interested group? In the past many forms of government aid, whether federal or state, when given to religious schools, have been fought in the courts on the ground that they are a violation of the First Amendment to the Constitution. This says that Congress shall not pass any law concerning the "establishment" of any religion. But the same Amendment also says Congress shall make no law "prohibiting the free exercise" of one's religion. For a federal agency, therefore, to deprive church schools of a tax exemption while permitting such exemption to other non-profit making organizations would surely be attacked in the courts as not only a discrimination as between private organizations, but as revealing a hostility toward the "free exercise" of religion.

The federal government itself under a law passed in 1949 is today actually encouraging the operation of private schools irrespective of their religious teachings. From January 1 of this year through June 30, at least 80 free grants of federal surplus property, including land, buildings and equipment, have been made to private schools of a religious nature by the Department of Health, Education & Welfare.

Has the federal government any right because it grants property or bestows a tax exemption to dictate what shall be taught or who shall be admitted to a religious school or any other private school? If it does, then the federal government could tell a trade association or a labor union how they shall choose their members. The Supreme Court of the state of Wisconsin recently upheld the right of a labor union to bar Negroes from membership and so did a federal district judge in a similar case at Cleveland, Girard College—a private institution in Philadelphia which receives a federal tax exemption—still is segregated and its right to continue segregated was upheld this year by a ruling of the Supreme Court of the United States.

Time For GOP Self-Examination

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republicans had better begin examining themselves.

Their defeat by the Democrats Tuesday for control of Congress—the third time in a row—shows a clear lack of voter confidence in the party.

It shows most distinctly in the sharp choice the voters have made among President Eisenhower, his party and the Democrats. Eisenhower was elected overwhelmingly in 1952 and 1956. But in the three congressional races since Eisenhower took office, the voters have given the Democrats control of the legislative branch.

Tuesday's beating forces the Republicans to face this gloomy question: "Unless we can somehow regain voter confidence, how can we possibly hope to win the presidential and congressional elections in 1960?"

No Republican in sight, from Eisenhower down, seems to have the answer.

Despite all the campaign urging by Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon—some of it pretty shrill—the voters still put their faith in the Democrats to run Congress.

This sometimes gets difficult to understand since both parties are basically conservative except that the Republicans, or many of them, seem even more so.

One conclusion seems fair: That the voters definitely think the Democrats more truly represent their views and interests, are more responsive to their needs, and in these days of vast social changes are more progressive.

That can explain to some extent why the voters elected Eisenhower while defeating his party in Congress, for he has tried to follow a moderately progressive line in his administration. But neither he nor his party can claim that a majority of congressional Republicans could, or perhaps would want to, be called Eisenhower Republicans.

It seems difficult to think that either Eisenhower or Nixon can give their party more political sex appeal by 1960.

Both men have had six years in which to lead their party down

Hollywood And The Big Buck

NEW YORK (AP)—What Hollywood needs, says producer Jerry Wald, is a reforestation plan to grow new stars.

"The independent producers are chopping down the trees," he remarked, "but they aren't doing any planting."

"They are gypsies. They grab a big buck and move on."

Wald, now under a five-year, 18-picture deal with 20th Century-Fox, feels that a studio's star-forestation project is beginning to pay off.

"In another two years it should be self-sufficient. We'll have a good stock of young, well-groomed actors. We have about 50 players under contract—and it takes guts in the industry today to have a regular payroll."

It costs considerably more to grow movie stars than it does to raise Christmas trees.

"These seedlings need all kinds of help—from special training to wardrobe," said Wald. "It costs a minimum of $100,000 for each personality you sign, whether eventually you keep him or let him go."

Although not exactly an enemy of the star system, the producer feels the presence of stars is no sure guarantee of success for a picture. To him the most important thing is still the story.

"A star without a good story is like a drowning man without a life preserver," he observed. "The most important figures in Hollywood aren't the 12 biggest stars. I'd say the 12 best screenwriters are more important."

Film star planting is a hazardous form of lumbering.

"The mortality rate is high," acknowledged Wald. "Only about one in 25 pans out."

"But there is no real shortage of talent. There is a shortage of talent to recognize a talent."

"It's like mining rough ore. Every studio has made its mistakes. No one is infallible."

"Warner's dropped Clark Gable. Fox dropped Grace Kelly. MGM dropped Fred Astaire."

"Raoul Walsh once brought a guy named Rock Hudson around to see me. His name amused me, but I couldn't use him. The same with James Dean. He stood about 5 feet 4. I must confess I couldn't figure what to do with him."

"The whole thing is pretty much like playing a slot machine. Before you can win you have to put in the coin."

Around The Rim

Look For Lots Of 'Remember Whens'

Former students of Big Spring High School will be coming back home Friday, and you can bet there'll be a lot of talk about the good old days.

Those good old days will range all the way from about five or 10 years ago to the first class to graduate from the Big Spring Independent School District in 1904. Interestingly, there are still some of those around—Coozie Hayden to mention one.

Naturally things will be a lot different than when the district decided to go on its own back in 1901. The county had provided a big two-story frame structure which served as the first school, replacing some tents which had housed the first teachers shortly after the settlement came into being in 1881.

Forthwith, the new independent school district set about replacing this structure with a modern red brick school house, which perched on a knoll where the United States Post Office presently stands. This was done in the classic architecture of the day with columns on east and west entrances, four rooms clustered around a hollow square on both stories. And over it all was the cupola with its bell.

Along about 1916 voters finally became convinced that this school (although augmented by a North Ward and a South Ward school) couldn't meet the demands of a good high school. So the first part of the big structure at 10th and Runnels was raised. For a time it had so much room that the sixth and seventh grades (later to become known as junior-high) were housed on the third floor.

By 1928, the effects of the oil boom had cascaded upon the school district. A separate junior high had been raised immediately to the south of the original high school plant. A new wing was extended eastward from the high school plant, almost doubling its space. This one was crowded from the beginning, but the district didn't get around to providing a new high school until 1950. It didn't come 60 seconds too soon, and now, in little more than a half dozen years, it is to be substantially enlarged.

Of course, the provision of elementary classrooms has come along to keep pace so that today, while the district doesn't have its building problems solved, the situation is perhaps the best in its history.

Down through the years there have been some notable characters who served the district well—Prof. S. E. Thompson, the bearded Greek scholar who presided as superintendent in the early days; M. H. Brasher, whom the lads referred to (behind his back) as Paddle-foot, but who gained affiliation for the high school; B. P. Bittle, whose favorite talk, while tapping a wart on his nose, was aimed at shaming students with "just getting by"; and of course W. C. Blankenship, who directed affairs for more than a quarter of a century and who still is in the harness.

There were innumerable teachers such as Mattie Warmeldorf (Wobleduck, the kids whispered in awe); our own Mrs. Della K. Agnell; Clyde E. Thomas (a fiery principal), "Hungry" Huggins and his built-in public address system; George Gentry, and others who left a lasting impression on their students.

A lot of these and many more will be mentioned among the "remember whens" Friday and Saturday. There will be a lot of repeating "boy, we never had it so good." But everywhere this is said, you can just know that a prayer of thanks goes with it that things are like they are now and not like they were then.

Let's Save The Doughnut Holes!

We live in an age of constant alarms, but nothing distresses me more than a recent communication offering irrefutable proof that the hole in the gravest danger of disappearing from the doughnut.

No one knows better than I that I am being gulled by a press agent for the doughnut trust. Still and all, if the hole in the doughnut is gravely menaced, I cannot stand idly by and see this, the most succulent part of the delicacy, vanish as the dodo without raising my typewriter in protest and defiance.

The only doughnut worthy the name is the one with the hole in the middle and the little round, brown trim of crispy goodness on the outside and feather-light sweetness on the inside. Twisted "doughnuts" are spurious and a fraud, and do not deserve the name or to move in the same class with the round doughnut with the hole.

Any gourmet worthy the name who was weaned on home-grown doughnuts knows that the hole is the best part of the pastry. How I pity the child—and the adult, for that matter—who has never known the joy of eating smoking-hot doughnut holes, fresh from the stove and the deep fat!

In our family, Aunt Kittie Lee Hedden is the incomparable doughnut champ. When I was a child, she used to make doughnuts on Saturday morning, when I was home from school. When she rolled out the golden dough, I was allowed to take the round cutter with the hole in the center and cut out the doughnuts. These she lifted off the pastry board, carefully setting the holes to one side. First, she dropped the doughnuts in the kettle of deep, hot fat, and then, a minute or two later, the holes joined them. When doughnuts and holes alike had turned a rich, beautiful golden brown, she fished them out, smoking hot, and put them on an absorbent paper.

It was difficult for me to let the holes, about the size of marbles, cool off sufficiently for human consumption. After all, what was a blister on the thumb and forefinger or on the tongue compared with the ambrosia of Long Kit's genius with doughnuts and doughnut holes?

The holes were mine, all mine. Sometimes I took them straight and sometimes I rolled them in a little powdered sugar. And on bad days I had to share them with my cousins. These holes, so crisp on the outside, so fluffy and tender within, are one of the happiest memories of my childhood.

The very idea, even prompted by a press agent, that the hole in the doughnut is on the way to limbo staggers the mind. There are some things that are sacred, and the hole in the doughnut is one of them.

The doughnut is a year-round food, but it becomes no season of the year so much as Indian summer or autumn. How can any days be melancholy when fresh doughnuts and sweet cider combine in happy union? What more rosy start for any day than doughnuts lightly dunked in hot, black coffee? What more joyous than a side dish of crispy, crunchy holes?

Let not profane hands start "improving" the doughnut. It is perfect as it is. Who would be brazen enough to try to improve the Winged Victory or gussy-up the Mona Lisa? The doughnut with the hole is in the same sublime class. Let perfection be!

Surcharges Slapped On Big Car Owners

Economics, at long last, is catching up with the big car owner. If you own a St. Bernard dog, you have to build a bigger kennel than for a dachshund. If you board out a St. Bernard while on a South Seas sojourn, the board-and-room bill reflects his avoirdupois.

Now garagemen are making the inexorable discovery that Cadillacs, Lincolns, and Chrysler Imperials have not been pulling their own weight in fees. Their big hulking sides take up more space than Ramblers and Volkswagens. Therefore, the Metropolitan Garage Board of Trade, representing 400 garage owners in New York City, has voted 15 per cent to 30 per cent surcharges for the longer and wider 1959 automobiles.

To soothe the ruffled fenders of the long, low, and latitudinal, the garagemen described the surcharge as "nominal." But even to a Cadillac, 30 per cent is 30 per cent.

New York cannot claim a "first." On October 2, the City Auto Parks of St. Louis decided to refuse Cadillacs altogether. The parking company, a private enterprise, objected not only to the size but particularly to the placement of lights in the back bumper. It claimed the lights were damage-prone.

Here, indeed, is social revolution. A few years back, garage operators welcomed the Cadillac set. Cadillacs gave a gaffage for reduction to scale. Besides, Cadillac possessors got their cars washed regularly, bought high-test gasoline, and were liberal with tips. They made for contented garage attendants. However, blandishment cannot withstand the hard law of diminishing returns forever.

Owners of big cars have benefited from one-price simplicity. A car is a car is a car, even though wide and long cars require more driving room and aisle space than narrow, short ones. Garages not only can park fewer cars but require more space for maneuvering. That means less income-producing area.

Two-lane roads, which once seemed ample, now are crowded when two modern passenger cars pass. It's true that trucks are much wider. But trucks pay large fees. In most states, license fees for large cars are not a deterrent. In Illinois, where licenses are based on horsepower, the Cadillac owner would pay $28 as against $6.50 for a Rambler owner; $15.50 isn't going to make the well-to-do person think twice about buying a big car.

In New York, where the license fee depends on weight, a Cadillac owner might pay $26.50 as against $16.50 for a Rambler owner. Up to 3,500 pounds, the New York charge is 50 cents per hundred pounds; after that, it's 75 cents per hundred. An effort is made to penalize bulk. Yet, $10 is not a deterring differential.

In eight states, the Cadillac and Lincoln owners are assessed no more than owners of small cars. These a-car-is-a-car-is-a-car states are Connecticut, Louisiana, Nebraska, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Utah, Vermont and Virginia.

In California, a flat $8 fee plus 2 per cent of the market value of the car scales the tax to the vehicle. Thus a $5,000 car requires a $58 fee, as against $22 for the $2,500 car. In some Southern states, license fees are supplemented by a personal property tax. This takes account of differences in car-size and value.

In due course, slow-moving state legislatures and city councils may follow the garage owners and make license fees fit the size of cars. Then owners of big cars will pay for what they get in wider roadbeds, more street parking, slower-moving rush-hour traffic, and more traffic policemen. If a big car takes up more space, it means fewer cars between intersections, fewer cars moving between red lights.

Big cars add to the operating and planning expenses of the nation's transportation system.

That's an economic cost that taxpayers — state and local governments—can't indefinitely ignore.

Sign Of Victory

U.S. Senator Ralph Yarborough shows the victory sign as he and his wife drop their ballots in the box at Austin, Yarborough, running on the Democratic ticket won re-election over Roy Whittenburg, GOP candidate from Amarillo.

Rockefeller Wins N.Y. Governorship

NEW YORK (AP) — Republican Nelson A. Rockefeller's election as governor by more than half a million votes skyrocketed him today as a possibility for the 1960 GOP presidential nomination. The multimillionaire's overwhelming triumph over wealthy Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman stood out particularly because of its contrast with Republican defeats in other states.

It also appeared to knock out whatever chance Harriman may have had for the Democratic presidential nomination two years hence. Harriman had sought the nod in 1952 and 1956. Returns from 11,464 of 11,525 election districts gave: Rockefeller 3,102,064; Harriman 2,542,435. Rockefeller has insisted — and repeated today — that he is not interested in 1960 possibilities and that he has "no other intention" than to serve his four-year term as governor.

But his supporters have been talking him up as a possibility since it first became apparent that he might win the state election. Rockefeller, 50, genial, liberal-minded member of the famed oil fortune family, scored heavily in traditionally Republican upstate New York and cut sharply into the normal Democratic majority in New York City.

What was Rockefeller's winning formula? He and his backers went on the theory from the outset that New York voters never would elect a so-called conservative. The campaign was aimed at winning votes from independents and Democrats as well as Republicans. Rockefeller was running against a New Dealer but managed to attract liberal votes.

Democrats Sweep Governors Races

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats, displaying amazing strength in traditional Republican strongholds, ousted 6 GOP governors today as they captured definite control of 31 of the nation's 48 statehouses. They smashed through to victory in the once mighty Republican strongholds of Wisconsin and South Dakota, recaptured governorships in Maryland and Nevada and ousted a GOP incumbent in Ohio.

For their part, Republicans rammed through mild upsets in Oregon and Arizona and coasted to an expected victory in Rhode Island where the GOP challenger, Christopher Del Sesto, whipped his old foe of two years ago, Democratic Gov. Dennis J. Roberts. Del Sesto was the apparent victor in 1956 but lost out in a bitter court contest over disputed absentee ballots.

The Ohio race also was a rematch of two old foes. But this time Democrat Michael V. DiSalle, former mayor of Toledo and Korean War federal price stabilizer, easily outdistanced GOP incumbent C. William O'Neill. In Michigan, Democrat G. Mennen Williams won handily over Republican Paul D. Bagwell for an unprecedented sixth term as governor.

Other Democratic incumbents encountered little or no difficulty in re-election bids in Colorado, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Minnesota and Texas. Democrats also threatened in Idaho, New Hampshire and Vermont but were defeated.

Labor Hails Defeat Of Right-To-Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor unions today acclaimed the election returns as insuring a Congress that can wreck all existing state right-to-work laws at one swoop and enact new social legislation. They gained confidence from defeat of right-to-work referenda in five of the six states in which the issue was on the ballot. Union strategists said the complexity of the new Congress is such that labor-wanted measures — like a higher minimum wage, extra jobless benefits and recession curatives — will get more favorable consideration than they have in recent years.

100 Boys Join Cub Program

More than 100 boys were added to Cubbing in a series of meetings at various schools in the city Tuesday evening. At Washington Place a new pack was organized with 33 boys registered at the outset. Capt. Earl R. Lothringer and Jack Alexander, were the organizers. Boynton had 17 boys to add to 16 recruited earlier. Capt. William R. Catlin, Cubmaster, and Garrett Patton were the organizers. Cedar Crest has six boys who met with Forrest Gambill. Airport had 17 boys who met with Jimmy Murphy. Bauer, meeting with George Biley, had two. Parkhill, with Verlin Knaus, had four while College Heights, with R. P. Nicholson, had 19. There were eight den mothers and seven den dads present, too. Lakeview reported 12 boys meeting with Sam Mellinger and Sgt. Clarence Joseph.

The Rev. Jack Ware, St. Paul Presbyterian minister, reported that the Bible Class fund was at unusually low ebb and urged participating churches to send in their budget commitments. The Thanksgiving union services will be held in the First Baptist Church Nov. 27 at 10 a.m. with the Rev. Ware as the speaker. Attention also was called to the sponsorship of Dr. R. G. Lee, Richmond, Va., who will deliver his famous sermon, "Pay Day Sounded," here on Dec. 8. This will be discussed more in detail at the next meeting Dec. 3. Dr. F. O'Brien, First Baptist minister and president of the association, presided at the meeting.

Martin Water Rights Valued At $3,200,000

Directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District have been convened for a 3:30 p.m. meeting today for a report on efforts to secure additional water rights in Martin County. A jury of view commission Tuesday made an award of slightly more than $2,000 per acre for water rights under 1,559 acres under the E. B. Dickinson ranch north of the district's present well field. The finding, based on appeal for an approximate $200 per acre for the 16,000 acres in the ranch, was returned after a hearing at Stanton. The total award thus would be $3,200,000.

Ministers Plan Special Projects

Plans for several special activities were discussed at the monthly meeting of the Big Spring Pastors Assn. at the First Baptist Church at a Wednesday morning breakfast. Bill Quimby, Chamber of Commerce manager, talked with the group about the Dec. 16 religious Christmas parade. The Rev. Royce Womack, Wesley Methodist pastor, parade commissioner, said that 12 to 14 local churches would have floats.

Garza Test Hits Oil Shows In Strawn, New Venture Staked

A new location has been staked in the southern part of Garza County, and a try in the same general area found shows of oil in the Strawn Tuesday. The new site is General American No. 1-743 Susie Koonsman and it is slated for an 8,300-foot bottom.

Nearby, the General American No. 1-4 Koonsman, offset to the dual Strawn-Ellenburger discovery, General American No. 1-1 Koonsman, was taking a drillstem test in the Strawn after the zone showed possibilities of oil. A drillstem test was also under way today at the Humble No. 1 O. E. Hamlin wildcat in Howard County. The operator is testing at 5,500 feet, possibly in the Spraberry.

Thor Blows Up On Test Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A powerful Thor intermediate range missile—the heart of moon rocket Pioneer—blew apart with a brilliant flash shortly after launching early today. It was the fifth straight that a ballistic weapon had exploded in spectacular style in the past few months. The shattered sections of the missile appeared to plunge into the Atlantic just off the Cape. The Air Force announced a malfunction occurred about 30 seconds after liftoff and that the missile was destroyed by the range safety officer. The 65-foot war rocket blasted aloft at 3:53 a. m. from a huge pool of orange flame. It began to veer left and right almost immediately. After about 25 seconds, still pouring out a thin trail of flame, the Thor suddenly jerked to the left. At that point, the range safety officer pressed a destruct button and the missile burst apart. Flaming debris rained into the water. A huge black cloud hung against the moonlit Florida sky. Missile men hoped the launching would give them a preview of the next Air Force Pioneer moon rocket shoot which the National Aeronautic and Space Administration says will take place late this week.

Seasonal Gardening Tips Shared With Club

In issuing seasonal reminders to the Green Thumb Garden Club, Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. Hayes Stripling Jr., Mrs. Elmo Wasson said now is the time to give the flower beds a general cleaning and to edge borders.

It is also well to do any grading and changing of levels now. Cuttings may be taken from shrubs, the leaves stripped off, and the shoots stuck in sand beds outdoors. Sufficient watering will enable them to root, she stated.

Mrs. Ed Swift set forth a program to produce color and design for every garden. Most important is to plan toward the effect you would like to achieve, she said, and to work toward year-round color in the yard. The yard should be divided into the working area and the living space.

Bare spots may be planted with such flowers as petunias, snapdragons, zinnias, larkspur or marigolds, even late-blooming chrysanthemums. Good border plants are daylilies, which should be transplanted every five years and which are easy to care for. Bone meal mixed with commercial fertilizer is excellent for all plants, she advised.

Iraq Arrest Could Spark New Crisis

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — The arrest in Iraq of a former revolutionary leader with pro-Nasser leanings may spark a new crisis in the Middle East.

Baghdad radio announced Tuesday night that Col. Abdel Salam Aref had been seized and "will be tried on a charge of plotting against the country's interests."

Aref was a close associate of Premier Abdel Kerim Kassam in the first weeks of their rule following the overthrow of the regime of King Faisal in July.

Subsequently, Aref was removed from both top military and cabinet posts and was given an appointment as Iraqi ambassador to West Germany. He was arrested, the Baghdad radio announcement said, when he returned to Iraq's capital city without permission.

U.S. officials said there was no doubt that there had been a power struggle between the two men revolving around a critical issue of policy. Aref favored very close coalition or union with the United Arab Republic of President Gamal Abdel Nasser, while Kassam wanted and has followed a more independent policy based on neutralism in foreign relations.

Some authorities here thought that the seizure of Aref by Kassam's government might force some vigorous reaction from Nasser against that government or Kassam personally. But they commented also that if Nasser felt his prestige was not directly involved or the force of his Arab unity movement not impaired, he could choose to ignore the whole affair.

Experts said the action against Aref also could precipitate a political showdown inside Iraq. They reasoned that Kassam probably would not have acted unless he had been confident of his own power. But the possibility remained that his hand might have been forced by discovery of a plan for action against him on the part of Aref. Kassam suppressed early in October a military conspiracy allegedly involving Aref supporters.

The Middle East area has been relatively quiet for some weeks now, and U.S. and British troops have been withdrawn from Lebanon and Jordan, where they were sent after the Iraqi revolt.

But the political structures in several countries, including Jordan, are still very shaky and any sensational development in Iraq would almost certainly have repercussions throughout the area.

Female Samurai Corners Crooks

TOKYO (AP)—Mrs. Toshiko Kobayashi unsheathed an antique samurai sword Tuesday night, chased three burglars away from her home and scared two others so badly they waited for her to come back and capture them.

The five masked men broke into the woman's home and tied up her two sons. But the burglars relaxed their guard. She dashed into her room, took the long, curved blade—a family treasure—and told the intruders: "Now, gentlemen, I am warranted to slay you in self-defense." Two of the men dropped to their knees and the others fled, with Mrs. Kobayashi in hot but fruitless pursuit. The frightened pair were still on their knees when she returned with the police.

Youth, Reform, Repeal Spell Oklahoma Win

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Youth, reform and repeal spelled a magic formula for Oklahoma Democrats yesterday as they rode with J. Howard Edmondson to smashing election victories.

The 33-year-old Tulsa County prosecutor swept into the governor's office on the greatest majority in 51 years of statehood.

He burned Republican Phil Ferguson and independent D. A. Jelly Bryce with his "prairie fire" campaign, ralling up 374,807 votes for Ferguson and 30,870 for ex-FBI agent Bryce. These unofficial figures were from 3,110 of 3,234 precincts.

The only Republican who wasn't overwhelmed was veteran first district congressman Page Belcher of Enid. He was in a tight battle with Herbert William Wright Jr. of Tulsa, but led in unofficial returns from 549 of 605 precincts, 63,702 to 60,621.

The youth movement that Edmondson advocated for state government carried George Nigh, 31-year-old school teacher and state representative, in as lieutenant governor.

Another young candidate, William A. Burkhardt, was elected state treasurer.

Edmondson was a darkhorse candidate. Even his close friends tried to talk him out of running in the Democratic primary because he "didn't have a chance." But he campaigned in suburban shopping centers and supermarkets against "old guard" state office holders, plumped for changes in various modes of state government, and promised to give Oklahomans a chance to vote on whether they wanted to repeal the state's dry liquor laws.

Gov. Raymond Gary, an ardent dry, could not succeed himself under Oklahoma's one-term limit.

Coast Guard Rescues 2

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—Two Coast Guardsmen who attempted to swim 200 yards two times before succeeding have been credited with saving two fishermen from their grounded shrimp trawler.

Warrant Officer Joseph Chighizola, commander of the Aransas Pass life boat station, says he is recommending that Engineer George Webster, 23, and Seaman Bill Kooke, 28, be awarded the Coast Guard Life Saving Medal, one of the service's high peacetime awards.

Chighizola gave this account: The 75-foot trawler Aquarius from Aransas Pass rammed a bar 200 yards off Padre Island Monday night.

The captain, Farel Lemaire, 30, of Aransas Pass, jumped over the side and managed to swim ashore. He asked a passerby to notify the Coast Guard that two men were still aboard the trawler.

A Coast Guard plane dropped a life raft, but in the darkness, drizzle and heavy breakers, deckhands Bill Lemaire, 50, a relative of the captain, and Fred Bachman failed to retrieve it.

A beach party went to the scene. Twice Webster and Kooke tried to swim through the breakers, but failed.

The raft dropped by the plane washed ashore. Coast Guardsmen re-inflated it and Webster and Kooke began their third and successful swim, pushing the raft with them.

They reached the deckhands and brought them safely ashore.

Seating A Major Factor In Design Of Modern Automobile

By DAVID J. WILKI
AP Automobile Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Automobile seating has become a major factor in the engineering of the modern day automobile. The shape of the seats and their positioning, say some experts, also is becoming a big factor in car sales.

Certainly that's the view of Chrysler designers who have introduced the swivel front seat in 1959 cars. The seats swing outward to facilitate entry into the car.

It is a tradition in the car industry that every major engineering development by one car maker soon appears in competitors' cars. Thus there is much speculation in automotive quarters as to how many auto makers will have swivel seats in 1960.

The seats are extra-cost options on several models and standard on others.

Promotion of the new type seats prompted extensive research into car seating history. De Soto Division of Chrysler Corp., one of the makers offering swivel seats, reports that there have been only six major developments in such seating since the first successful gasoline-driven vehicle was built in the early 1890s.

The passengers in those early, high-bodied vehicles did not step or back into the vehicle. They climbed into it. And they found themselves sitting almost directly above the engine.

The first major seating development, De Soto reports, came at the turn of the century with introduction of the rear seat. Then followed the adjustable seat in 1913; rumble seat, 1917; six-way adjustable seat in 1936; introduction of numerous new fabrics in 1950 and the swivel seat in 1959.

Many makes of cars now strictly museum pieces pioneered in the development of means to fa-facilitate entrance and exit for motorists. There was, for example, the introduction of running boards in 1909 by the Silent Northern.

Following World War I most two-door model cars had a front seat that folded forward to permit access to the rear.

There were earlier attempts to introduce swivel seats. They failed because they did not function as the inventors expected. In 1941 Hudson offered a seat swinging inward to facilitate stepping into the rear compartment.

The sock hop has been set for 7 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. Saturday, the Goliad Tri-Hi-Y announced following its Monday afternoon meeting. The program, "What Boys Expect on a Date" was cancelled due to conflicting engagements of those on the program.

Cumberland Death Toll Reaches 74

SPRINGHILL, N.S. (AP) — The death toll in the Cumberland No. 2 mine disaster was placed at 74 Tuesday night, the highest in Canadian mining since the 1920s.

Hope finally was abandoned for nine men still missing in the deep coal shaft where an underground upheaval Oct. 23 trapped 174 miners. A hundred men were rescued, some of them after being trapped for days.

Four more bodies were recovered Tuesday night. Searchers continued their slow hunt through the rock and rubble for the other nine bodies. Less than 100 feet of the mine remained to be explored.

Army Is Choice To Shade Rice

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — It's Baltimore in Spanish. It's futbol in Russian. But football in the U.S. is sheer madness. Especially in making selections. Last week there were 17 mistakes scattered among the 56 picks. Here are the winners this weekend:

Louisiana State over Duke: The LSU Tigers so numerous now they play in complete platoons. Duke, a virtual patsy in its own league, knocks off others with regularity and could make it tough for Louisiana State.

Iowa over Minnesota: In Iowa's dreary days, this was the Hawkeyes' game of games. The Gophers are woefully weak and Iowa steps another stride toward a Big Ten title.

Wisconsin over Northwestern: Midnight has struck for the Big Ten's Cinderella football team.

Auburn over Mississippi State: The Maroons are disappointing and Auburn has no sympathy.

Oklahoma over Iowa State: Iowa State has scored only two touchdowns on four Big Eight games. A half-touchdown in a game average is not enough to beat the Sooners.

Ohio State over Purdue: Purdue will suffer because Northwestern beat the Buckeyes last week.

Mississippi over Houston: The Texans have slipped since their furious start.

Texas Christian over Marquette: Jack Spikes and Hunter Enis have themselves an evening out.

Syracuse over Boston University: The Orangemen are playing for the benefit of bowl scouts.

Southern California over Washington: Remember when this one sent the entire West Coast into a tizzy?

North Carolina over Virginia: Now that the Carolinians have given Don Klock the green light they are even tougher than before.

Notre Dame over Pittsburgh: One of Pitt's best postwar teams goes a third week without a victory because of George Izo's passing.

Skippping over the others in a hurry:

FRIDAY
Florida State over Miami, Alabama over Tulane.

SATURDAY
EAST: Boston College over Detroit, Holy Cross over Colgate, Dartmouth over Columbia, Navy over Maryland, Princeton over Harvard, Rutgers over Lafayette, Pennsylvania over Yale.

SOUTH: The Citadel over Presbyterian, Florida over Georgia, Georgia Tech over Clemson, Kentucky over Vanderbilt, North Carolina over Wake Forest.

Lakeview Sees Cage Action

Lakeview's Rockets challenge Colorado City in two basketball games (boys and girls) here tonight.

The girls' game gets under way at 7 p.m., the boys' contest about 8 p.m.

The two teams were originally to have played last week but the Colorado City bus broke down on the way here and had to be returned to Colorado City.

The two Lakeview teams won their opening games recently, defeating the Sweetwater Bulldogs.

Probable starters for Lakeview include H. T. Baker, B. F. Newton, Johnny B. Wright, Luther Louis Brown and Harvey Foster.

Coach Roosevelt Brown said he was well pleased with the manner in which his team has come along.

Reserves who will get into the fray for the Rockets tonight include Eddie Wright, Holston Banks, Aubrey McIntire, Roger Evans and Rufus Davis.

Probable starters for the girls include Phyllis Gilbert, Wilene Johnson and Betty Scaggs, forwards; and Shirley Warren, Myrtle Wright and Nancy Wright, guards.

Reserves include Aquilla Ennis, Mavis Newton, Anita Dixon, Mary Green and Mary Davis.

The girls' coach is Mrs. N. L. Graham.

BROWN MEETS JOHN BUSSO

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Lightweight champion Joe Brown, unbeaten in his past 20 fights, was a 13-5 favorite to add the name of Johnny Bussio of New York to his list of victims in a nationally-televized nontitle fight tonight.

A ringside audience of about 6,000 was expected for the opening event in this resort city's plush new Exhibition Hall which seats 17,000.

Brown has won 17, including 32 by knockout, while losing 15. Bussio, with a 34-7-1 record, has won 15 by knockout.

Fight time is 9 p.m. Big Spring time. The bout will be carried by ABC-TV.

Colts Will Go With A Lawyer At QB's Post

BALTIMORE (AP) — Lawyer Gary Kerkorian of Inglewood, Calif., is trading his briefcase for a football to get the Baltimore Colts out of a hole.

It is the second time that the former National Football League quarterback has come out of retirement to give the Colts a hand.

This time it was prompted by the loss of Baltimore's brilliant quarterback Johnny Unitas for three weeks and possibly four.

The Colts management confirmed reluctantly that Unitas—who has led the Colts to six straight victories and the top of the Western Conference—suffered three fractured ribs in last Sunday's game with the Green Bay Packers.

They had contended previously that Unitas' injury was only a bruise and that he would be ready for the New York Giants game next weekend.

Kerkorian, No. 1 Colts quarterback in 1954—his first year out of Stanford—flies into Baltimore today. Said General Manager Don Kellert: "If we can get together on terms, Gary should be with the club for Thursday's practice and I can see no reason why we can't come to a speedy agreement."

Kerkorian's previous rescue of Baltimore was during the 1956 season when quarterback George Shaw, from Oregon, banged up his knee. Unitas was an untired player from Louisville then.

The Colts asked Kerkorian, who was a law student at Georgetown University in Washington, D. C., to come back to work. He did. But he threw only two passes before Unitas caught fire. So at season's end, Kerkorian stepped down again, as he had done at the end of the 1955 season.

Baltimore Coach Weeb Ewbank said Kerkorian is in good shape. "I never have had any fears about Kerkorian's condition," he said. "He has been coaching a bunch of kids and throwing a lot. I'm just glad we got him for insurance for Shaw."

Garden City's eight-man football team is experiencing a successful season this fall, thanks largely to the efforts of the five boys pictured above. Left to right, front row, are Mark Schaefer and Dennis Schraeder. Middle row, Don Plagens and back row Billy Fisher and Frank Murphy.

MIDLAND TO POSE BIG PROBLEM, SAYS STAFF

The spirits of the Big Spring Steers are beginning to pick up after a period of depression experienced at the first of the week.

The Longhorns suffered a mental letdown after playing the rugged Odessa Bronchos off their feet last weekend, only to lose an eight-point decision.

The coaches are trying to get them in the right frame of mind for their Friday night outing with Midland.

Big Spring will be favored to topple the Bulldogs but the coaches have warned the boys they will have to be at their best to finish on the long end of the score.

Going against the boys are several things, among them:

(1) A team wearing local colors has yet to win a District 3-AAAA game; (2) Midland has a good, solid ball club despite the fact that it hasn't won a decision since the opener with Lamesa; (3) The Bulldogs are grimly determined to 'save their coach' in the midst of rising criticism, and (4) the Steers have been prone to make too many mistakes when they hurt the most.

The Longhorns fumbled twice in the first period against Odessa and the Bronchos marched to two touchdowns, providing the final margin of victory.

The local coaches are hopeful of having their team as its best for the Homecoming crowd. That, in itself, could inspire the Longhorns.

Midland will be at full strength for the Longhorns. The Bulldogs will probably install two sets of defensive backs in the lineup Friday.

On one unit, Jerry Hanson and Bill Worley will be at safeties, while Curtis Harvey and David Rankin will be the corner line-backers.

The second foursome would have Rodney Satterwhite and Yippy Rankin at the halfback spots and Roger Hardee and Larry Stanlee at the outside line-backer spots.

The Bulldogs were strengthened recently with the addition of end Knox Nunnally, up from the B team. He'll start, along with Bill Hudson. They'll be backed by Bill Brown, who has been out with a neck injury until recently; and Curtis Harvey.

Midland will go with Jerry Hanson, a nifty quarterback, who has missed part of the season due to injury; Yippy and David Rankin at halfbacks; and Don Boyce at fullback.

Yippy Rankin was the boy who played the biggest role in Midland's 7-0 win over the Steers last year.

The Steers are all ready to go, with the possible exception of Roger Flowers, the wingback, who is still favoring that pulled muscle in his leg.

Women Linksters In Angelo Meet

Ten Big Spring women golfers plan to go to San Angelo Thursday for a full day of tournament play.

The San Angelo Country Club is the host course for the 18 holes of play. Women from all over the area will take part. Competition gets under way at 9 a.m. This will probably be the last tournament of the year for the fems.

Making the trip from here will be Jodie Sabato, Elsie Turner, Marguerite Schwarzenbach, Ann McCorn, Madeline Atkins, Libby Saunders, Billie McLaughlin, Christine Coughlin, Edith Ramsey and Mary McConkey.

The players will be guests at a luncheon at the club.

A scotch foursome will be held at the Big Spring Country Club Sunday. The starting time is down for 1 p.m.

Balance Of Power Remains In South

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Those new faces on the map of football's 1958 powers have not upset the pre-season dope on the purported balance of power. The names are different, that's all.

The South was picked as having the strongest football teams in the pre-season poll of sportswriters and broadcasters by The Associated Press. Six teams were picked to finish among the top 20 at the season's close. The latest tabulations still show six.

But the Midwest, with five teams picked in September, have six now. The Southwest has three, instead of four as originally picked. The East, with three, and the Rocky Mountain-Far West region, with one, are as picked.

Louisiana State, the nation's top ranked team, was unnoticed in September. So was Florida No. 19. But Mississippi State and Miami, 15th and 16th originally, are now unranked among Southern teams.

Northwestern (No. 4) and Purdue (No. 8) have done the unexpected, while Michigan State, picked fourth, is out of sight in the Midwest.

Texas and Texas A&M, 11th and 20th by the September swamis, are gone, and Rice (No. 13) popped in surprisingly.

Oklahoma (No. 6) still upholds the Midlands, while 12th ranked Syracuse and 18th rated Rutgers took over for Navy and Pitt, 7th and 19th originally, in the East. Army (No. 3) is the only survivor.

The Air Force Academy, 10th ranked, replaced Oregon State, a No. 12 choice in the Far West, but OSC may have the last laugh as it heads the pack for the host spot in the Rose Bowl.

Auburn (No. 4) is the only team to be where the experts picked it to finish three weeks hence.

Purdue, Syracuse and Oklahoma all underwent defensive drills Tuesday, preparing for the weekend's games.

Syracuse's Coach Ben Schwartzwalder picked soph linebacker John Nichols as his No. 1 defensive man as he readied for Friday night's game with Boston University. Nichols usually gives way to senior Dave Appiehof for soph Al Bemiller on offense.

Purdue concentrated on stopping Ohio State's Bob White and Don Clark Saturday, while resting fullback Bob Jarus and halfback Clyde Washington, sidelined with injuries.

Bud Wilkinson put his Sooners through some offensive workouts too, planning no lineup changes for the Iowa State game Saturday.

Joe Alberry, Arkansas fullback, returned kickoff 77 yards, setting up winning TD in 21-8 upset over Texas A&M.

Northwestern polished off defensive drills against Wisconsin plays.

IZO, MAYO LOSE OUT Thornton Repeats As Back Of Week

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Quarterback Dick Thornton, a precocious kid who lied about his age when he reported at North-western two years ago so no one would know he was only 17, is the Associated Press back of the week for the second time this season.

A 6-foot, 180-pound sophomore who marked his 19th birthday by whipping a pair of touchdown passes as the Wildcats surprised Ohio State Saturday, 21-0, Thornton repeated as the nation's top backfield star in a close vote with Notre Dame's George Izo and the Air Force Academy's Rich Mayo.

Thornton, who went to Northwestern because he wanted to be a dentist and because the Evanston, Ill., campus is so close to his Chicago home, also was named back of the week when Northwestern shocked Michigan two weeks ago, 55-12.

Izo, the 205-pound, 6-2 Notre Dame junior, was starting quarterback against Navy, and he threw for three TDs in a 40-20 victory.

Mayo, who connected on 28 of 45 passes for 215 yards pitched seven in a 72-yard comeback in the final minute for a 33-29 victory over Oklahoma State that kept the Air Force unbeaten.

Other backs who caught the eyes of the voters were: Don Allard, Boston College quarterback, completed nine of 17 passes for 168 yards and pulled off a telling interception in a 25-12 victory over College of Pacific.

Dick Bass, COP halfback gained 52 yards in 19 rushes, returned five kicks for 143 yards and scored all 12 points.

Joe Alberry, Arkansas fullback, returned kickoff 77 yards, setting up winning TD in 21-8 upset over Texas A&M.

Northwestern polished off defensive drills against Wisconsin plays.

Dow Finsterwald Is Man To Beat

ATLANTA (AP)—On the basis of warm-up play, Dow Finsterwald was rated the man to beat today as competition began in the $25,000 Atlanta Open golf tournament.

The talented PGA king from Tequesta, Fla., conquered the new, tricky Cherokee Town and Country Club par 72 course in 69 strokes Tuesday afternoon.

Six others were named. Don McMahon of Milwaukee drew seven votes, Dick Farrell of Philadelphia, six and John Roseboro of Los Angeles, Cal Neeman of Chicago, Juan Pizarro of Milwaukee and Ed Bouchee of Philadelphia, one each.

Anderson batted only .308 in 1957, his first year in the National League. And that was an adequate performance considering that he hit only 235 in 88 games for Schenectady of the Eastern League in 1956. The 27-year-old left-handed batsman spent 1955 in military service.

Lee MacPhail Quits Yanks To Take Baltimore Post

BALTIMORE (AP)—Lee MacPhail will take over the general manager's job of the Baltimore Orioles from Paul Richards, who will devote his full attention to managing the team on the field, it was announced today.

The announcement by James Keely Jr., Oriole president, confirmed recent reports that the 41-year-old MacPhail will give up the position of director of player personnel for the New York Yankees to come to Baltimore.

The son of Larry MacPhail, formerly an owner of the Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers, will take over the end of this month in time for the winter meeting of baseball in Washington Dec. 1.

Richards had been both general and field manager since he was hired by the Orioles from the Chicago White Sox in 1955. As such, he personally has made practically every decision on signing of new players and trading of old.

Keely's definition of MacPhail's position set forth a separation of powers.

MacPhail "will have the authority to approve and conclude all major deals and will confer with Manager Richards on any contemplated transfers of player personnel," Keely stated.

"We feel the new arrangement—one in which MacPhail will function as general manager and Richards will devote his full attention to managing—cannot help but be in the best interests of the Orioles and the fans of Baltimore."

He added that MacPhail will have direct responsibility for all minor league operations, including the signing of young players and of all business details.

Keely said that Richards was in full accord with the change.

MacPhail started his baseball career as business manager at Reading, Pa., in the Interstate League in 1941. He was general manager of Toronto in the International League in 1942 and from 1940-44 worked part time in the front office of the Brooklyn Dodgers with his father.

He joined the Yankee organization, again with his father, in 1946.

One-Time Golfing Greats In Field

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP)—Headed by two golfing greats of another day, a field of about 180 was on hand for today's opening round of the inaugural North and South Invitation "Senior" Tournament for Women.

Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare of Philadelphia and Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page of Chapel Hill, N.C., are top name performers here for the 36-hole, 2-day test.

C Of C Mapping Plans For Director, Officer Elections

Plans are being made for the election of new Chamber of Commerce directors and officers.

Up to 25 new directors will be elected, joining 15 holdover board members. The new directors will choose officers.

It is planned tentatively to submit the names of director nominees to Chamber members about mid-December. The 15 holdover directors will serve as a nominating committee, and ballots listing the names of their 45 nominees will be sent to members prior to the election date.

Members will elect 15 new directors from among the 45 nominees, and the 15 new board members will join the 15 holdovers to appoint from five to 10 additional directors. The entire new board then will name officers, probably early in January.

Clyde McMahon, one of the holdover directors, will serve as chairman of the nominating group. Other holdovers are R. H. Weaver, Dan Krause, Obie Bristow, Ed Fisher, Larson Lloyd, Ruth Apple, John Davis, Vic Alexander, Gro-

EMPLOYES OF COSDEN GIVE $8,110 TO UF

Cosden Petroleum Corp. employees have given over $8,110 more to the United Fund this year than in 1957, an almost complete report from the group showed today.

Cosden employe gifts total $8,110, with the possibility of a few more contributions coming in, said Jack Y. Smith, general chairman of the solicitation among the group.

Of the company's 783 employes, 718 have contributed to the U.F. Average gift per contributor is $11.23, and the average for all employes is $10.63.

Catholic Chaplain Eugene Clemens Resumes Duties

Chaplain (Capt.) Eugene M. Clemens, who arrived here last month from Ellington AFB to replace Chaplain (Capt.) Kenneth E. Henriques, resumed his duties last Saturday as Catholic chaplain following graduation from a marriage counseling course at the Catholic University, Washington, D. C.

Chaplain Clemens, a 1945 graduate of the St. Paul Seminary, St. Paul, Minn., entered the Air Force on Oct. 24, 1946, and has nine years of active military service. Five of those years were spent overseas, in England from July of 1950 to July of 1952 and in France from March of 1955 to March of 1958.

A native of Minneapolis, Minn., home town of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Clemens, Father Clemens was a priest at the Assumption Church, St. Paul, before entering the Air Force.

Oddities Mark Texas Ballot

WAXAHACHIE, Tex. (AP)—A dead man led the ballot in one race here yesterday while the widow of a deceased candidate conducted a successful write-in campaign for another post.

Ray Cowart, the Democratic nominee for one of the county commissioner's post, died Friday night but received 793 votes. Hubert Clark, who was defeated by Cowart in the primary, staged a write-in campaign and received 632 votes. A second write-in candidate, Harold Ford, got 57.

2,820 votes against 1,508 for Don Esselman. After Talley's death the County Executive Committee named Esselman as its nominee and his name appeared on the ballot.

The funeral will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday but place of the service has not been set. Kiker and Sons Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Thurman was born in Eastland county on June 14, 1902, and he had farmed for 31 years in Mitchell County. On Dec. 24, 1929, he was married to Muriel Craighead in Colorado City. He was a member of the Baptist Church.

Surviving him are his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Jake Autry, Cuthbert, and Mrs. Clyde Rhodes Jr., Edmondson; one son, Wayman Thurman, Cuthbert; five brothers, Ed Thurman, Del Rio, Floyd Thurman, Kaufman, Robert Lee Thurman, Fayetteville, Ark., Wayne Thurman, Cisco; and three grand-children.

Pyle Services Are Scheduled

Funeral was to be held at 2:30 p.m. Thursday at River Chapel for Douglas Clyde Pyle, 62, veteran Texas & Pacific locomotive engineer, who died here Monday afternoon.

Mr. Pyle had recovered from a severe heart attack several years ago only to fall victim to a malignancy.

Dr. Jordan Grooms, pastor of the First Methodist Church, will officiate, and Masonic rites will be observed at the graveside in the City Cemetery.

Mr. Pyle was a member of the Masonic lodge, chapter, commandery and Shrine. He also was a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

He first joined the T&P in 1922 and worked until August of 1924, serving as a boilermaker and blacksmith helper. Returning to the T&P in November 1924, he served as a blacksmith before he became a fireman in 1926. Mr. Pyle was promoted to engineer in 1941.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Willie Pyle, to whom he was married in 1936; one son, Douglas Pyle Jr., La Mesa, Calif., and a stepson, James McNeill, who is in service in Korea; and six grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be Finis Tubbs, R. D. Ulrey, R. C. Williams, Cleo Richardson, R. B. Hall Sr., and R. L. Holley. All railroad men will be considered honorary pallbearers.

FEW TURNED AWAY

Voters Foiled By Ballot Shortage

The county Tuesday evening found itself in a unique predicament. There weren't enough ballots for all the voters.

The 3,000 ballots printed were considered ample by the county, but as it turned out, several voters had to be turned away from the polls in Big Spring and Coahoma Tuesday because of a lack of ballots at some boxes.

Others got to vote but had to wait until ballots could be obtained from different boxes.

About 150 ballots were left over from the 3,000 but these didn't come to the county clerk's office until too late to be used.

Voters were left waiting at Box Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, and 16 in Big Spring and also at Coahoma, while the county clerk located surplus ballots at other boxes and had them transferred. Even then, the wait was long, and some voters went home without voting.

This lack of ballots naturally slowed the counting by boxes and also tabulation of the county results by the county clerk.

At Box No. 4, the city hall fire station, election judge S. P. Jones said that some persons who were there at the time the polls closed went home for supper and then came back and voted when some extra ballots were located. Others said they would return but didn't.

At Box No. 16, Park Hill School one voter was turned away when it looked as if no more ballots could be found.

Two and three blocks of ballots were transported to some of the boxes in Big Spring.

Pauline Petty, county clerk, said that had the rush started earlier in the day, the county would have been able to have printed more. But the big mass of voters didn't arrive until after regular work hours which was too late to obtain any more ballots.

Early figures had not indicated a heavy vote; there were less than 500 votes cast in Big Spring Tuesday at noon.

CRITIQUE Of The Local Entertainment Scene

By BOB SMITH

Random notes:
"Flight," a new series taken from the files of the Air Force, will be seen on TV beginning Nov. 10. Time is 8:30 p.m.

Titles are somewhat geared to the subject matter. Some examples are "Show of Force," dramatizing the first use of the Strategic Air Command as a diplomatic weapon; "Typhoon Chaser," depicting survival methods; "Sky Hook," in which a captured German general is literally plucked off the ground by an Air Force plane.

"Flight" should turn out to be one of the better shows among the episode operas especially in view of the fact that the beat of horses' hooves is driving some people to distraction.

I suppose it goes with the nature of the job, but most of the attractive ice skaters in Odessa's Ice Capades seem more worried about their waistlines than in broken limbs. Or maybe it's because they're female.

Anyway, professional ice skating, involving as it does some pretty tricky stunts, is a dangerous game. One slip at rehearsal or during a performance, and a skater ends up in a cast—and I don't mean the theatre kind.

There may be another reason the girls worry more about their figures: their costumes cannot be "let out" and a few added pounds of flesh puts the skater out of a costume (and out of a job).

And then there's the final reason: the expert never lived who wasn't fully confident of his own abilities.

There's still time to see the Ice Capades. You should put it on your list.

Cash Box magazine's latest listing of the Hit Parade: 1. It's All in the Game, by Tommy Edwards; 2. Topsy, by Cozy Cole; 3. It's Only Make-Believe, by Conway Twitt; 4. Tom Dooley, by the Kingston Trio; 5. Tea for Two Cha Cha, by Warren Covington; 6. Chantilly Lace, by Big Bopper; 7. To Know Him Is to Love Him, by the Teddy Bears; 8. Bird Dog, by the Everly Brothers; 9. Susie Darlin', by Robin Luke; and 10. The End, by Earl Grant.

Don't be misled by No. 10. Tin Pan Alley has only just begun to fight.

The advent of LP has brought about an enormous appetite for material on the part of the platter producers. Thus, you can season, an event which may become an annual affair. And, if it comes off well, the patients may share their celebration in years to come with the townspeople.

John Findlater, in charge of the recreation department, dreamed up the idea and got the approval and support of the chaplain, Marvin Berkland. Findlater then called on one of the hospital's many hard-working citizen volunteers, Mrs. Robert James, to help round up a staff to produce the pageant.

The staff this week came up with an outline in which the Christmas story is told simply and briefly, with the major emphasis on familiar carols rather than on staged pantomime. There will be several lighted scenes with narration, and interspersed with the carols which, in themselves, tell the story of Christ's birth.

The narrator will be Chaplain Berkland; John Austin will be producer-director; Mrs. James will be assistant producer-director; Findlater will be in charge of set and costume design; and this columnist will be scriptwriter.

Organist and song leader roles have not yet been filled.

The patients themselves will fill the pantomimed roles, and the audience will join in during the carol singing, so that all who attend may participate.

Further information regarding the state hospital Christmas pageant will be published in this column as the program develops.

U. S. Eggheads Hold Their Own

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—The American egghead appears to be coming into his own. Colleges and universities are giving him the big rush once reserved for fast half-backs.

State university officials meeting here welcomed that trend.

Those fellows from the Ivy League are beating the bushes everywhere for the best brains. If there is a really good student at a high school in these parts, you are sure to find someone from the Ivy League down here to recruit him," one Texas dean said.

Rules of the conference are that the university officials may not be identified.

Lee Lemon Named To College's Who's Who

ABILENE —Lee Lemon, a junior at McMurry College, has been named to Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges for the 1958-59 school year.

Lemon was one of 18 students recommended to the who's who committee by officials of McMurry College, and was chosen in a school-wide election.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lemon, and is a 1955 graduate of Ackerly High School and attended Texas Tech during the 1955-56 school year. Lemon is a biology major at McMurry and plans to attend medical school following graduation this year.

Joint Thanksgiving Services Planned

FORSAN — Methodist and Baptist churches here have completed plans for community Thanksgiving services.

The joint services are set for the night of Nov. 26 in the Methodist Church. Refreshments will be served following the meeting. All residents are invited.

State To Open One New Road

One new road will be opened in northern Howard County under the biennial federal aid secondary highway program announced over the weekend.

Jake Roberts, Abilene, district engineer for the Texas Highway Department, said that $91,000 had been set up for extending FM 667 eastward from the U. S. 87 junction of the Knott road. This 5.7 mile project will connect with the Luther road, affording a trans-county lateral.

The $190,000 set up for FM-700, now under construction as a south-east loop from U. S. 80 east to U. S. 87 south, is for base and paving. The present project is for grade and structures.

Forsan Baptists Schedule Revival

FORSAN—A five-night youth revival will begin Wednesday at the Forsan Baptist Church. Evangelist will be the Rev. Dale Pruitt, a student in Wayland Baptist College.

Services will begin at 7 p.m. daily except Friday when the meeting will be at 5 p.m. George White will lead the singing and Lorita Overton is to be pianist.

Dumbbell Boys
Swift and Demko have been raising howls of laughter with their bell hop antics as one of the featured comedy acts with the all new 18th edition of Ice Capades now playing at the Ector County Coliseum in Odessa.
