Smaller Car Demand Met In Studebaker's New '59 Lark

Studebaker Lark In Small Car Class

Maximum economy of operation and durability, combined with smooth, lively performance, is the word for Studebaker's 1959 Lark. The four-door sedan is shown here, and is on display for the public at McDonald Motor Co., 206 Johnson. Studebaker engines for 1959 are designed to operate efficiently on regular gasoline. There's an improved combustion chamber with a shorter stroke, plus a higher compression ratio and new carburetion. Stronger body construction means quieter and safer riding.

A completely new series of smaller, more economical, more maneuverable "common sense" cars comes on to the market this year in the Studebaker Lark. This new concept of automotive transportation — a brand-new design from tires to rooftop — goes on display Friday at McDonald Motor Co., 206 Johnson.

The new Larks are smaller in over-all size, yet actually are roomier inside than previous models. This was accomplished primarily by reducing front and rear "overhang" to a minimum, while at the same time maintaining a "big car" passenger compartment to enable six adults to ride in comfort.

The wheelbase of sedan and hardtop models is 108 1/2 inches, while over-all length is only 175 inches — shorter than previous models by more than two feet. Yet, front leg room is equal to last year's Studebaker, and rear leg room is actually greater. (The new station wagons measure 113 inches in wheelbase, 184 1/2 inches in over-all length.)

Although slightly lower-over-all, the new Studebaker Larks provide headroom that is unexcelled in the low-price field. Shoulder and hip room are similar to last year's models.

Available in Deluxe and Regal versions, the 1959 Larks by Studebaker are richly and tastefully appointed both inside and out to appeal to the public's desire for luxurious transportation. Yet, despite this luxury concept, the new models are priced below other cars in the low-price field.

The new smaller Lark is available in two- and four-door sedans, two-door hardtop and station wagon models.

The dominant design theme of the new Lark by Studebaker is its distinctive grille, flanked by combination parking - directional lights and air scoops. Accentuating the graceful, flowing lines of the car, a single stainless steel molding sweeps back from above the headlights along the sides of the car and continues in an unbroken line around the rear. Along the sides, this molding serves as a rub-rail to protect the finish from doors of other cars opening against it in tight parking areas.

The new cowl not only enhances the car's lower look, but results also in greater windshield area for improved visibility.

Treasury Agent Next Witness In Beck Tax Trial

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — Treasury Agent Claude Watson was expected to take the stand today in the federal court trial of Dave Beck Sr. former Teamsters' Union president, who is charged with evading payment of $240,000 in income taxes for the years 1950-53.

Watson testified during the final ten minutes of Wednesday's session. He had time only to relate an encounter he had with Beck in 1943 when the 64-year-old labor leader had tax troubles which were subsequently settled out of court.

Watson, 65, a onetime railroad brakeman who still holds a Brotherhood of Trainmen union card, said Beck told him he always kept $1,500 cash on hand.

Most of the court action centered about Morse B. Lake, vice president of the Seattle-First National Bank, and Beck's relations with the bank.

Lake, who has been on the witness stand since Tuesday, told the jury that Beck knew of the investigation of his financial affairs since it was begun by the Internal Revenue Service five years ago.

Tokyo Authorities Fear Tower As Suicide Target

TOKYO (AP)—City authorities fear Tokyo's new television tower, rising like a great steel needle above the skyline, may become a lure for suicide-bent Japanese.

The Tokyo tower, higher than Paris' Eiffel Tower, claimed its first victim this month, 47 days before it was due to be officially opened. A 21-year-old thwarted lover leaped to his death.

In Japan, the most suicide-conscious country in the world, centuries of tradition have made Isatsu — suicide — the honorable way out—from a Samurai warrior classically carving himself to death with a sword to a housewife jumping in front of an electric train.

Two years ago, 21,778 tormented Japanese—59 a day—killed themselves. More than 20,000 have died willfully and violently every year since 1953, the world's highest rate.

"We have an aptitude for death," said a young Japanese. "I guess we just don't consider life too important. And here, unlike other countries, there is no disgrace in suicide."

Kamikaze pilots — some 5,000 deliberately killed themselves in human bomb attacks in World War II — started a new craze. Blowing oneself up with dynamite was fashionable for a time after the war. But less spectacular methods like poison, drowning, shooting or wrist slashing cause the majority deaths. Hari kiri—disemboweling by knife—is rare these days.

Worker's Crushed Body Is Removed

THOMASTON, Conn. (AP)—The crushed body of a construction worker was removed Wednesday night from under tons of rock and earth that buried him Tuesday.

Rescue workers freed the body of Matthew Pagarulo, 38, after working nearly 30 hours. Pagarulo apparently was killed instantly, a medical examiner said.

Pagarulo was operating a power shovel to help build a railroad cut at the 17-million-dollar federal Thomaston Dam project.

Texas Reservoir Storage Drops

AUSTIN (AP)—Usable water in Texas' 34 reservoirs dropped two per cent last month, the Board of Water Engineers said yesterday.

Its monthly report showed the lakes held 8,804,900 acre feet of water in conservation (usable) storage space. The reservoirs were 86 per cent full at the end of October.

In selected observation wells, water levels rose 0.3 of a foot to 5.0 feet in all areas except in 0.4 of a foot was recorded.

Texas Covered By Rain, Fog

By The Associated Press

All but extreme East Texas was cloudy Thursday with widespread rain and fog.

Amarillo and Lubbock, along with other Panhandle points, reported showers. Drizzle fell over the San Antonio-Austin area. Patchy fog blanketed Alice, Kingsville, Beeville, San Antonio, Junction and College Station.

Predawn temperatures ranged from 73 degrees at Brownsville to 52 at Junction.

Wednesday's cold front had about dissipated, but a low centered in Mexico south of El Paso was expected to drift eastward and trigger more shower activity over Texas.

Rainfall for the 24 hours ending at 6 p.m. Wednesday included Austin .12 of an inch, San Antonio .21, Waco .05, Victoria .45, Corpus Christi and Beeville .01 and a trace at Amarillo.

Afternoon highs varied from 59 at Amarillo to 85 at Brownsville.

Classic Lines Retained In Lincoln

The 1959 Lincoln reveals its classic design consistency by retaining its long, low sweeping lines. There are numerous styling refinements in the new model, including a front grille that extends into the hood area. A new wraparound bumper encloses the grille. Overall length has been reduced two inches. Lincolns have an improved all-welded body that provides added strength and eliminates squeaks and rattles. The new Lincoln is presented to the public Friday at Truman Jones Motor Co., 403 Runnels.

Classic Styling Highlights New Lincoln Models For '59

Classic styling refinements marked with conservative lines highlight the appearance of the 1959 Lincoln, going on public display at Truman Jones Motor Co., 403 Runnels. Lincoln has continued with its unitized construction for 1959 in a plant at Wixom, Michigan, especially designed for this type of automotive manufacturing. The plant began operations 14 months ago. Lincoln and Continental are the only cars in the fine car field to use the integrated body construction method. This permits lighter fitting doors, roomier interiors and greater torsional rigidity or resistance to body twisting effects. The new Lincoln profile is almost two inches shorter than last year's but remains big in appearance. Clean, long, low lines are accentuated in the front by a sculptured steel design extending from the front wheel area into the front door. The sweep of line is continued by a chrome spear along the side. A tasteful applique brightens the rear quarter panel. A new front wraparound bumper protects a new one-piece grille. The rear view continues to be impressive in size but the lines merge quietly into a restrained bright metal trim on which the word Lincoln is printed. The rear bumper and lower deck moulding form an oval shape and enclose the textured grille that houses integrated running and stop lights at either end. Rectangular back-up lights are placed at the inner side of the taillights. The fuel filler opening is blended into the center of the grille. There are 17 exterior colors available on the Lincoln. A newly designed four-spoke, 17-inch steering wheel gives the driver a feeling of command at the wheel. Turning diameter (curb to curb) is 45 feet. The power train has been refined in 1959 to provide greater operational smoothness at any speed. This has been done by installing new engine mounts, redesigning the camshaft, a new spark curve on the distributor and a new carburetor. The 430 cubic inch engine has a horsepower rating of 350, and a compression ratio of 10.0 to 1. An example of precision design is found in the use of a magnet attached to the fuel filter which keeps out the tiniest metallic particles before they can cause damage to the engine. A hot-cold air intake to the fuel induction system has virtually eliminated carburetor icing by maintaining a constant temperature range between 80 and 100 degrees Fahrenheit. Overall length for Continental and Lincoln is 227 inches, nearly two inches shorter than last year's models. The height is 56.7 and the width is 80.1 inches. Tire sizes have been increased to 9.40 x 14. Major standard equipment includes a torsion bar power steering unit, which requires as little as one pound of driver steering effort, power brakes, and automatic transmission.

Harvest Bears Out Crop Forecasts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The harvest is bearing out government forecasts that crop production this year would set records. The Agriculture Department's final report late yesterday put the crop volume at 118 per cent of the 1947-49 base average. This compared with the October forecast of 117 per cent and with the previous record of 106 per cent set in 1948 and matched in 1956 and 1957.

There are 17 exterior colors available on the Lincoln. A newly designed four-spoke, 17-inch steering wheel gives the driver a feeling of command at the wheel. ## Chrysler Halts Production As Strike Result DETROIT (AP)—Chrysler Corp. moved today to halt all its new car production because of a strike by 8,000 salaried office workers and engineers. The halt order, affecting all assembly plants and many company supplier plants, meant a layoff of 40,800 of Chrysler's 70,000 production workers. Chrysler, disclosing its shutdown plans Wednesday, said it was impossible to resume normal operation because of strike interference with production and the routing and handling of materials. Today was the third day of the white collar workers' walkout over contract demands which were unsettled when Chrysler and the United Auto Workers reached agreement on a national contract five weeks ago. No new negotiations were scheduled.

A total of 16 plants employing 24,000 men were shut down Wednesday. These included all eight auto and truck assembly plants in Detroit and Evansville, Ind.; Newark, Del., and Los Angeles. The UAW international apparently was ineffective in a request to strikers to abstain from picketing at the time of shift changes so as to keep plants operating. Main strike issues bore on seniority rights, union demands for wage equity on various jobs, and a wage progression demand. Chrysler said the pay on the various jobs ranges from $319 a month for messengers and mail boys up to $903 a month for project design men. Forty per cent of the salaried force is paid more than $500 a month, the company said.

Bullying Bandits Carry Off $3,000

ORANGE, Tex. (AP)—Two bandits who mauled several women checkers held up an Orange super market at gunpoint yesterday and escaped with $3,033. Shoppers standing in line to be checked out watched helplessly as the bandits pulled one of the checkers forward. Another woman checker was scratched on the arm by a bandit.

Dallas Integration Movement Pushed

DALLAS (AP)—Negro leaders today gave signs of speeding up the Dallas school integration case which has drifted through the courts more than three years. W. J. Durham said the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People may ask a federal court to specifically instruct the Dallas School Board how and when it must integrate schools. The Negro is an attorney for the NAACP.

A federal court could, as was done in the Little Rock cases, order immediate integration without waiting for the normally slow courtroom processes. The sprawling, 115,000 Dallas system is under federal court orders to integrate. But no specific time was set. The Dallas district would lose up to two million dollars a year in state aid should it follow federal orders to integrate. It also would lose scholastic accreditation and the nine school board members would face jail and fines under state segregation laws. Board members, on the other hand, also could face jail if they balk at federal integration orders. The board first asked federal courts to declare whether the board must follow federal or state laws. The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals said it had no authority to issue such a declaration. A state court also declared this week that it did not have jurisdiction. The question now is traveling the lengthy road through the state appeals courts. A federal court in the same ruling could, under procedures set in the Little Rock cases, declare the state laws unconstitutional. The state government's official position is that no conflict between federal and state laws exists. Asst. Texas Atty. Gen. Leonard Passmore said the district can go ahead and integrate, thus complying with federal rulings. Implied, however, is that the district must thus be willing to lose state aid and its board members be willing to face the penalties to themselves. Also, Passmore points out, the district could hold a referendum, as provided in state laws, and possibly find that voters approve integration, thus preserving Dallas' state aid. Observers doubt that a favorable desegregation vote could be obtained.

Record Grain Crop Forecast

WASHINGTON (AP)—A record sorghum grain crop of 639 million bushels this season has been forecast by the Department of Agriculture. This would be 14 per cent above the 1957 crop and almost four times the ten year average. Although the department's November crop report raised the national estimate five per cent above that of October, it made no change in the estimate of a 275,614,000 bushels for Texas. Even so the Texas estimate makes the Lone Star State the nation's biggest sorghum grain producer, this year's crop is 16 per cent above that of 1957 and almost three times the ten year average. Texas last year produced 238,095,000 bushels. The department increased its estimate of the Texas peanut crop to 239,400,000 pounds, compared with last month's prediction of 250,325,000. This is about 15 million pounds above the 10-year average and nearly 100 million above last year's harvest. Rice production was forecast at 11,160,000 hundredweights, compared with an Oct. 1 prediction of 12,160,000. This is a half million hundredweights above 1957 production. The forecast placed the 1958 Texas citrus crop at 2,300,000 boxes of oranges and 34 million boxes of grapefruit.

Dies Of Wounds

DALLAS (AP)—Mrs. Ann Maberry, 25, wounded by her husband Tuesday night, died last night. James Maberry, 32, shot himself to death after fatally wounding his wife. Their two young children and a playmate were in a nearby room at the time.

DEAR ABBY

GRANDPA TROUBLE

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me if I am wrong to do what I did! My father-in-law is a very affectionate and sometimes overbearing man. He doesn't SMOKE cigars—he EATS them! He actually chews up a cigar and heaven knows what he does with the tobacco juice. Anyway he smells terrible and his teeth are stained and he is repulsive. He insists on kissing my child who is 13 months old, full on the mouth. I have asked my husband to tell him I don't like it and I have told him to stop it, too. Last night he came over and picked up the child and kissed her on the mouth. I lost my temper and told him he wasn't to touch the baby again. He left in a bad mood and my husband hasn't spoken to me since.

SANITARY MOTHER
DEAR SANITARY: You were too severe. Apologize to your father-in-law and explain that NO ONE should kiss a child on the mouth for the sake of the baby's health.

DEAR ABBY: We are writing about our sorority sister. She is very cute looking and has a nice personality but the fellows say she is a walking iceberg. She wants to be popular but she won't warm up to a boy even after the third or fourth date. They say it is like pulling teeth to get a kiss out of her. Any suggestions?

SORORITY SISTERS
DEAR SISTERS: Line her up with a date with a few dental students.

DEAR ABBY: I was an elevator operator up until yesterday when I lost my job because an old maid who lives in the building told the superintendent that I got the elevator stuck between floors on purpose. She was the only one in the elevator at the time and she started to scream and holler and went into hysterics. I didn't even touch her but she told the superintendent that I tried to kiss her. I wouldn't kiss her if she was made of honey. How can I get my job back?

JOBLESS
DEAR JOBLESS: It's up to you to convince the superintendent that the lady's charges are false. Perhaps others in the building will vouch for your character. You can't keep a good elevator man down. Good luck!

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of five children who served their mother breakfast at 7:30 Saturday morning because her birthday is on the following Tuesday and they will be in school? They had no money for presents because they have no father. When I came downstairs they had the dishes all done and had cooked their own breakfast, too. As I sit here writing to you, they brought me a cup of tea. This is the most wonderful birthday I have ever had. I just had to tell someone how happy I am. I am so proud I could bust.

MARY
DEAR MARY: Only children who have been treated with love and respect could honor their mother the way yours have. The love you have given them is coming back to you. God bless you!

CONFIDENTIAL TO LEO: Good judgment comes from experience . . . and experience comes from bad judgment.

Missionary Plans Work In Viet Nam

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A slim, blue-eyed New England girl plans to ride muleback into mountainous South Viet Nam and find some tribe that has no written language.

There, a few miles from the Communist North, she'll spend 10 to 15 years making a phonetic translation of the New Testament and helping the natives establish a church.

"We feel that since the Lord seems to be leading us into it, he'll take care of us," says Burnette Jean Donaldson, 26.

She and a still unselected girl companion will be sponsored by Wycliffe Bible Translators. This interdenominational group, with headquarters in nearby Glendale and 800 field workers around the world, has translated the New Testament into nearly 150 tribal languages.

In high school at Exeter, N.H., where she is still a member of the First Baptist church, Jean began thinking about missionary work.

In 1950-54 she was a staff sergeant in photography at Shaw Air Force Base, S.C. She prayed about her decision while earning a B.A. at Westmont College, Santa Barbara, Calif.

Miss Donaldson is studying biblical languages at the non-denominational Fuller Theological Seminary before sailing next Jan. 17.

"I felt I'd like to go to a place which had no one to tell them of the Lord," she said. "There are Christian Missionary Alliance workers in Viet Nam but over 21 tribes without the Gospel."

Last summer her sponsors put Jean and 40 others through a three-month training camp in a southern Mexico jungle. They lived in mud-walled buildings with thatched roofs, studied carpentry, repaired radios, swam, canoed, hiked and even butchered a cow.

Miss Donaldson and her partner will write native sounds in basic primers, in phonetic English.

"I imagine it will take 10 to 15 years before you get a strong church in one tribe," she said. "When I finish with one, I plan to go on to another."

She said her mother, Mrs. Faith S. Donaldson, Exeter, N.H., is "very happy about it."

Forgery Passport To Artistic Goal

SEATTLE (AP)—"Art is a living thing," the intense young man said. "For anyone to create anything artistic, he must have lived it."

The words came slowly from William G. Gates as he explained that his artistic goal is a novel with prison life as its background.

Gates was sitting in the Seattle City jail. He literally had asked to go to prison, choosing forgery as his passport.

Det. T. C. Jorgensen of the Seattle police check detail arrested Gates, 27, Wednesday afternoon. Gates quickly admitted in a signed statement he was the forger of about $100 in burn checks.

Talking with reporters, Gates said he calculated the amount he obtained through the worthless checks would get him about a year in the penitentiary that's the time he says he needs to complete his education and get the necessary background for his novel.

Gates said he felt that forgery was the least harmful way to get to prison.

"It doesn't cause anyone physical pain," he said, "and those to whom I dropped the checks could well afford it."

Gates graduated from Yakima (Wash.) Valley Junior College and spent a year studying psychology at the University of Washington. He said he had been planning his move for years.

"I first became interested in juvenile delinquency when I was about 16," he said. "I made a study of it until about two years ago when I began to try and understand the emotions of prisoners and the reactions of convicts who are paroled."

"They have about the hardest deal of anyone when they leave prison and again try to find a job. I want to write about them, and I want to know how they feel."

When Jorgensen got up to leave a broad smile came to Gate's face.

"It was sure nice seeing you," he said.

Dentists Wind Up Convention

DALLAS (AP)—The American Dental Assn. winds up its annual convention here today with the formal installation of its new president and the selection of the president-elect.

Dr. Percy Phillips of New York and the first native of New York City to head the 91,000 member organization heads the new slate of officers. New York has been selected for the centennial convention next Sept. 21-24.

The 416 members of the ADA house of delegates were to ballot today to name the new president-elect who will take office at the New York convention.

Dr. Earle Williams of Dallas was named first vice president yesterday.

The dentists were told that testing the patient's ability to pronounce slippery words—especially those containing the letter "s"—was a guide in fitting him with artificial dentures.

Dr. Melburn Morrison of Riverside, Calif. said that the "s" group in phonetics requires less of a mouth opening than any other group of sounds and that the patient's dentures must have enough clearance to master the "s" sounds if he is to speak satisfactorily.

Oil Demand Decrease Seen

AUSTIN (AP)—A decrease in demand of 15,290 barrels daily for Texas crude oil next month has been indicated from the nominations of the big crude purchasing firms.

Total nominations submitted yesterday of 2,756,723 barrels compare to November nominations of 2,772,013 barrels.

The Railroad Commission will fix the December allowable Tuesday.

Nominations dropped in all districts but Dist. 2, Southwest Texas, up 2,884 barrels; Dist. 6, East Texas Field, up 2,641 barrels; and Dist. 10, Panhandle, up 255 barrels.

Decreases by districts: Dist. 1, Southwest Texas, 997 barrels; Dist. 3, Gulf Coast, 3,438; Dist. 4, Southwest Texas, 958; Dist. 5, East Central Texas, 278; Dist. 6, East Texas (outside), 215; Dist. 7-B, West Central Texas, 1,680; Dist. 7-C, West Central Texas, 7,859; Dist. 8, West Texas, 1,235; and Dist. 9, North Texas, 4,410 barrels.

Crash Of Air Tanker Probed

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — A team of Air Force investigators sifted through charred bits of metal today as they sought to find out what caused the fiery crash of a KC97 refueling tanker. Eleven airmen perished Wednesday afternoon when the giant four-engine plane crashed and exploded in a residential area on the Isle of Hope, 10 miles southeast of Savannah.

The dead and their hometowns: Lt. William I. Bowles, 25, Warwick, Va., the pilot; Lt. Harold G. Lassen, 26, New York City; Lt. Freddie Levine, 25, Charleston, S.C.; Sgt. Warren E. Martin, 29, Yakima, Wash.; Sgt. Curtis W. King, 37, Waycross, Ga.; Airman Malcolm Rogers, 22, Prattville, Ala.; Sgt. Lonnie E. Owens, 25, Moultrie, Ga.; Airman Douglas A. Cole, 23, Washington, Iowa; Airman John A. Boyer, 20, South River, N.J.; Airman Joseph P. Turner, 21, Moultrie, Ga.; and Airman John M. Scerbak, 21, Wallington, N.J. Officials said most of the men were married and lived in Savannah with their families.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Thurs., Nov. 13, 1958 5-A

The plane crashed a few minutes after taking off from Hunter Air Force Base. Two houses were wrecked and a civilian was seriously burned.

Frightened witnesses thought the plane would hit a school or a nearby playground, but it crashed half a mile away.

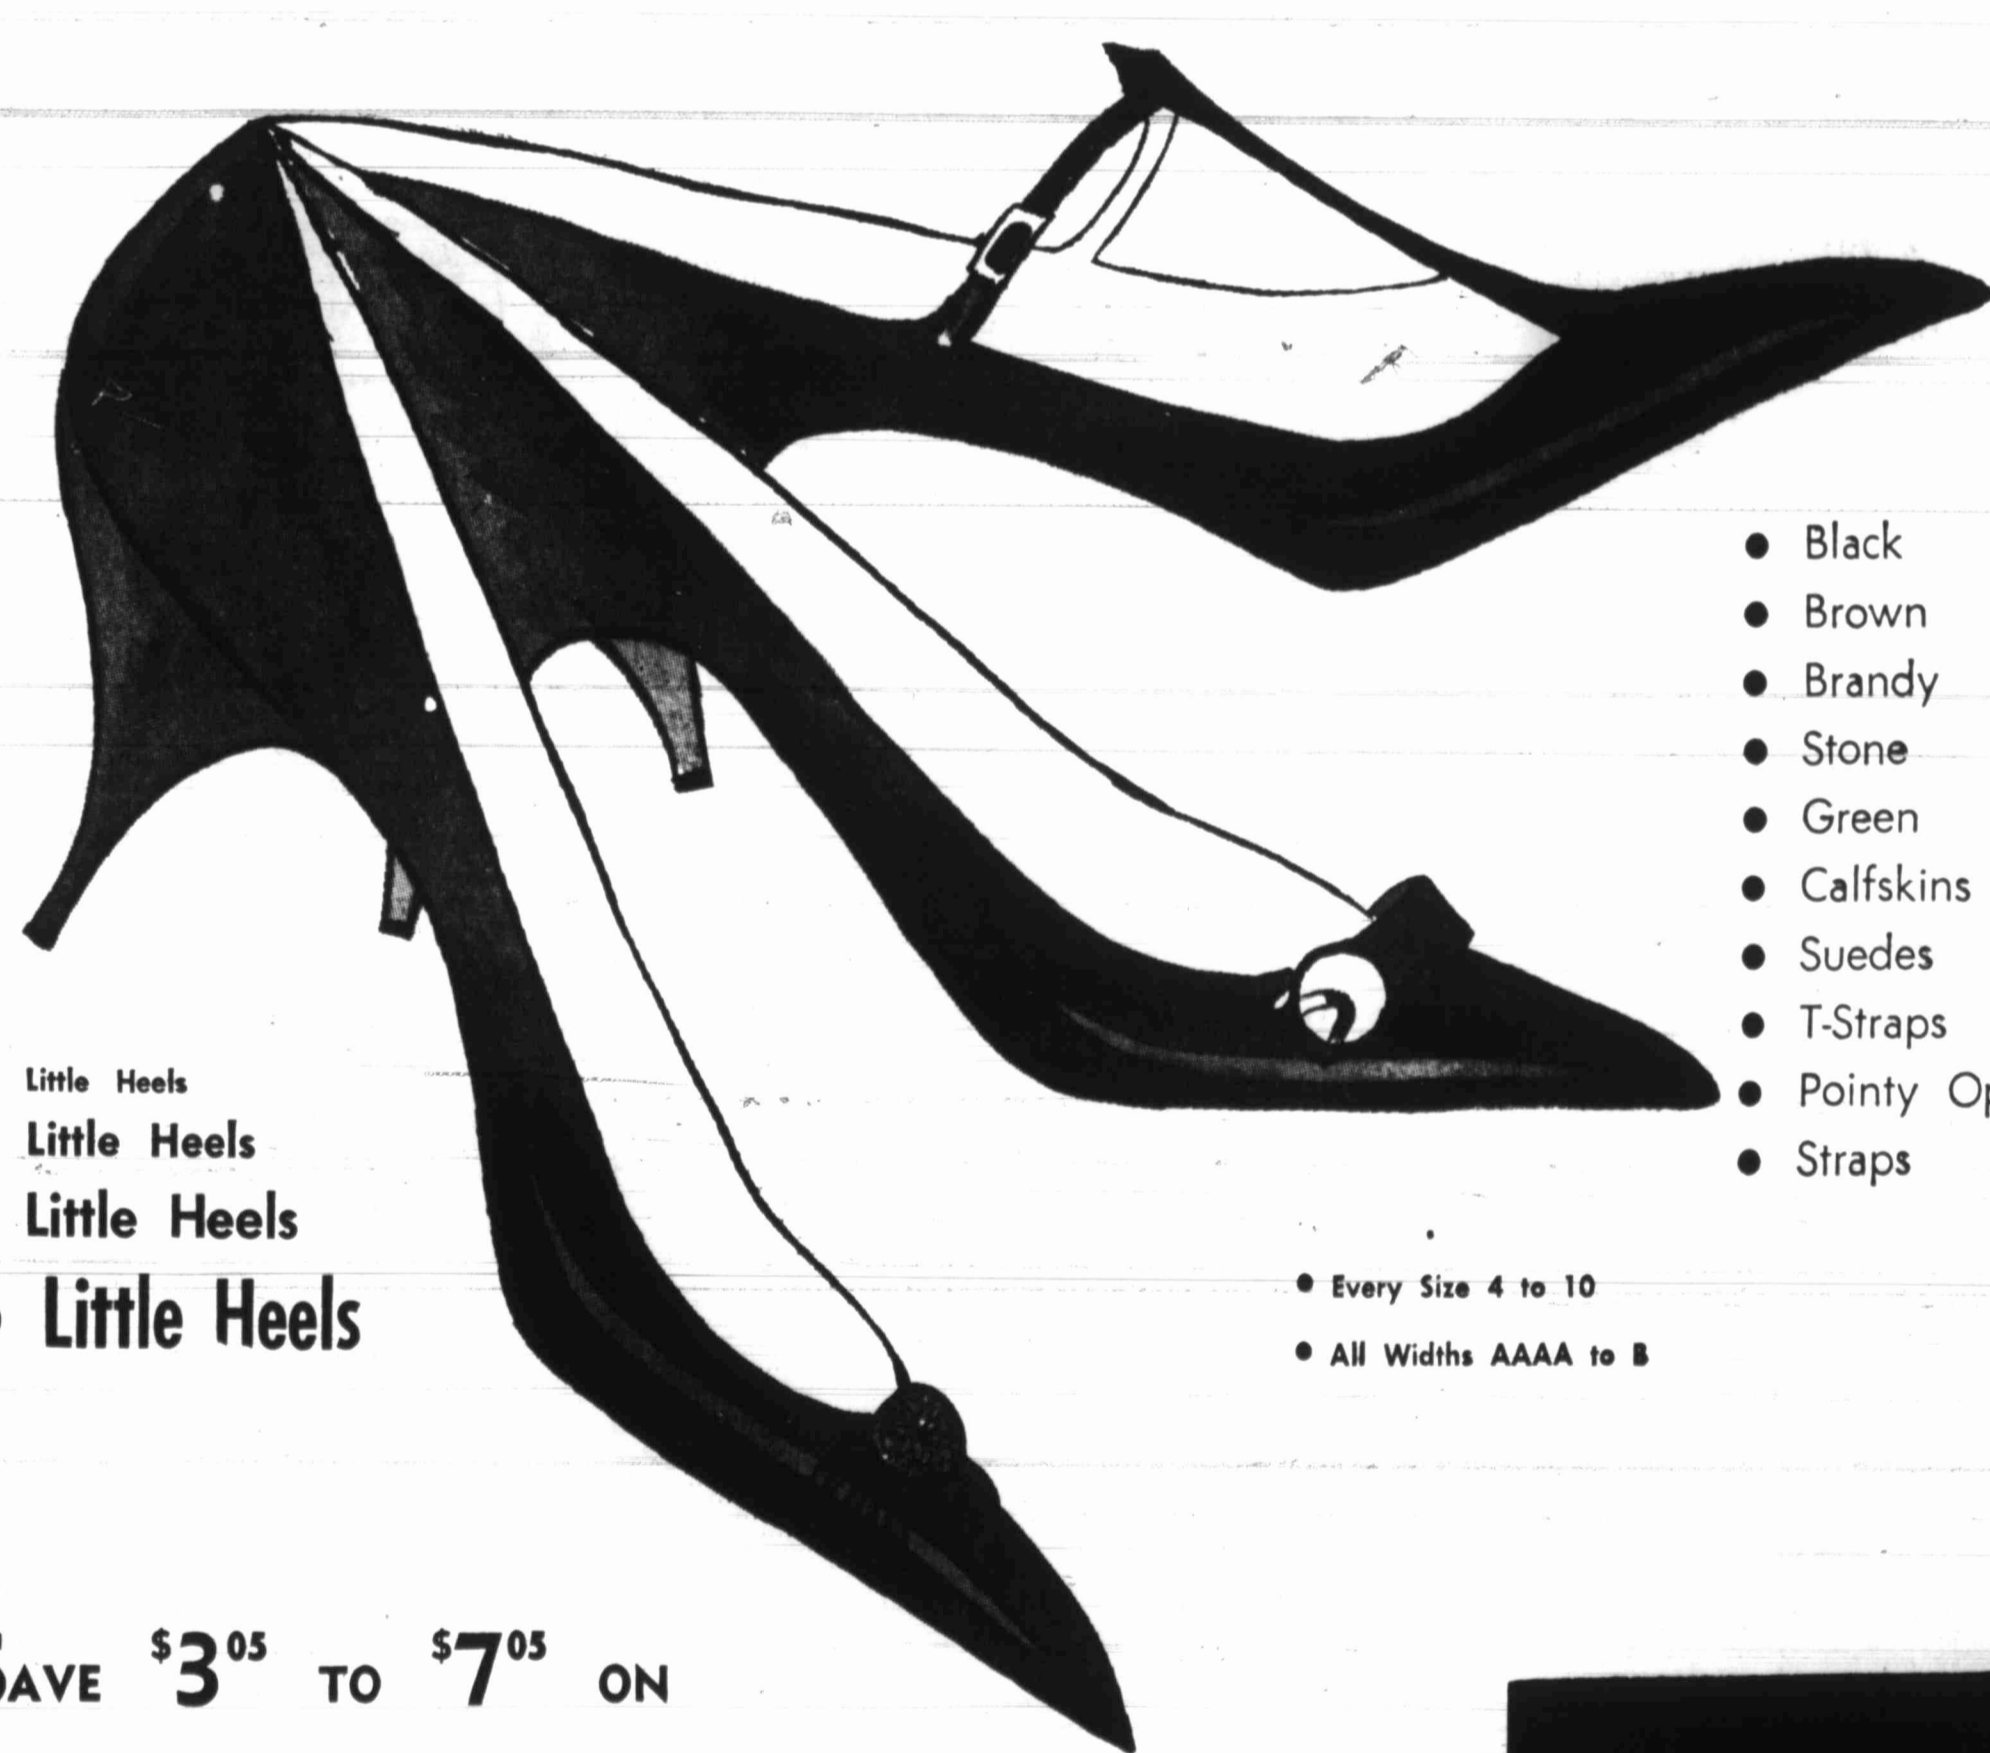

Maj. Robert H. Reed, Hunter public relations officer, said the plane apparently lost an engine.

Civil Rights Clash On Voting Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — A clash between the Civil Rights Commission and the state of Alabama may erupt next month at an open hearing on Negro voting.

The commission says it will subpoena all the witnesses and records it needs for a Dec. 8 hearing in Montgomery, Ala.

But Atty. Gen. John Patterson, Alabama's governor-elect, has told the state's vote registrars they do not have to turn over registration records to federal representatives. Patterson has added he will resist any move by the commission to get the records.

The hearing will be the first held by the new commission, which announced plans for it and other activities at a closed meeting here Wednesday.

A national conference, focusing on school integration problems in the border state and the South, was scheduled for Nashville, Tenn., in February.

The commission said it also

Winds From Sun Called Key To Droughts

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—An astronomer said yesterday great electrified winds from the sun may affect patterns of drought and rainfall on Earth, especially the U.S. Southwest.

Dr. Walter Roberts, director of the high altitude observatory in Boulder, Colo., said when these winds die down it could mean a long drought. When the sun is stormy, he said, rain comes farther south in the United States.

Roberts said giant explosions or flares on the sun produce the electrified winds which stream upon Earth.

When the sun is quiet, a period of minimum sunspot activity and flares, droughts can rear the Southwest, he said.

About 1970, an extremely low sunspot period is forecast with a minimum of solar explosions and winds.

Roberts, speaking at the closing session of a space symposium, said the theory was tentative speculation now and needs further research.

He and associates are analyzing troughs or low-pressure areas forming in the Aleutians, factory of much U.S. weather.

He finds preliminary evidence the troughs frequently grow deeper, sometimes twice as deep, after the gusts of solar winds. That means a trough can swing farther south, bringing rain to Texas. Shallower troughs bring rain over Canada and the northern United States.

An absence of solar winds in the 1970s therefore could mean a Southwest drought lasting four to five years with great severity, Dr. Roberts said.

The sun wind gusts are composed of electrified protons and electrons, carrying magnetic fields. They produce magnetic disturbances on Earth, radio blackouts and northern lights.

By some mechanism not yet spelled out, they could also modify or affect the weather troughs being formed in the Aleutians and other northern regions.

If the research later shows a drought is actually coming, the Southwest could take steps to minimize the effects, Dr. Roberts said.

Prolific Tigress Gives Birth Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Dacca the tigress, the Bronx Zoo's most prolific inhabitant, has given birth to her 30th and 31st offspring.

The zoo announced 14-year-old Dacca had borne the cubs—a male and female—last Sunday. Mother and cubs were reported doing well.

is investigating complaints that some Puerto Ricans have been denied the right to vote in New York City. They reportedly can read and write Spanish, but not English. Literacy in the English language is required of voters under New York's laws.

For some time, the commission has been checking charges that registrars in Alabama's Macon County have kept Negroes from voting. Last Oct. 20, the commission demanded records from the county's Voter Registration Board. The board, following Patterson's advice, refused.

It is this refusal that prompted the commission to set up the Montgomery hearing. More than Macon County, however, may be considered. Complaints have been received from other counties, and the commission may take them up together.

There is no certainty that the hearing will feature a battle over the records. Robert G. Storey, vice chairman of the commission who also is dean of the law school at Southern Methodist University, put the situation this way:

The commission, which has received more than 20 complaints, will subpoena at least 20 witnesses including vote registrars. They will be asked to bring pertinent records. The commission will decide whether to try forcing reluctant witnesses to turn over records when and if that problem arises.

At the Nashville conference, the commission plans to collect all available information about the problems of schools that have changed from segregated to integrated institutions. John A. Hannah, chairman of the commission, said no other government agency has done this job.

The recent bombings of some schools would not be on the agenda, Hannah said that problem was not within the jurisdiction of the commission.

GENE TIERNEY STORY

Tragedy Of Child Led To Collapse

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

WESTPORT, Conn. (AP) — "Where there is no hope, there is no despair," says beautiful Gene Tierney. "But it took me a long time after my child's birth to come to know this."

Daria, first child of actress Tierney and her dress-designer husband, Oleg Cassini, was born in 1943. It was soon evident that the curly-haired child, who resembled her mother, was mentally retarded.

The tragedy was one of the emotional blows which later contributed to Miss Tierney's collapse and a long period of treatment in sanitariums.

"I kept hoping and hoping that something could be done, that some miracle would make her whole," says Gene. "And as long as I held that hope, there was agony. It was only later — much later — that I faced the fact there was nothing to be done. When I lost the hope, the despair began to leave me, too."

Early in her pregnancy, Gene entertained troops at the Hollywood Canteen, and two weeks later came down with German measles. As often happens under such circumstances, when Daria was born the little girl was so retarded mentally her lifetime must be spent in an institution.

and pyrotechnics were frequent in the Cassini household.

After one separation and reconciliation their second child, Christina, was born, a healthy, bright and dark-haired girl now 10. But despite Gene's stubborn determination to make a go of her marriage, the problems continued. Finally, in 1952, she divorced Cassini.

Later came her celebrated romance with Aly Khan. But his crackup had little to do with her collapse.

"I was already very ill mentally when I met him," the actress says. "It may have speeded things up a little, but it certainly didn't bring it on. I was due for a collapse."

They talked of marriage, Gene says, "but I didn't marry Aly Khan because I knew — even though I was quite sick — that I wanted a more prosaic life. He is a complete cosmopolitan — charming and delightful. But I am basically a Connecticut girl who wants and needs the usual kind of Connecticut life."

Maria Callas Will Sing At Royal Event

LONDON (AP) — Maria Callas has accepted an invitation to sing at the royal opera house, Covent Garden, early in 1959, it was announced today.

The Covent Garden general administrator, David Webster, invited the singer to appear for her sixth season at the opera house immediately after her break with the New York Metropolitan Opera.

Hunters Admit Killing Warden

CARMEI, N.Y. (AP)—Two New York City hunters have confessed killing an unarmed game warden who refused a $10 bribe to let them go after he caught them poaching for the second time on a 3,000-estate near here, police say.

Martin Anzalone, 28, an unemployed bricklayer, and Mario Sesta, 17, a barber's assistant, are in the Putnam County jail here to await a hearing Friday on first degree murder charges.

Anzalone and Sesta were arrested early Tuesday in their Bronx homes and under questioning admitted the shotgun slaying Monday of Clarence Smith, 28, father of three children, authorities said.

They were taken later to the estate of L. Arthur Cushman, board chairman of American Bakeries Co., at Patterson, N.Y., to re-enact the crime.

Police said Smith was shot in the back from a distance of several feet and again through the head at very close range.

Each man admitted firing one shot, police said.

Anzalone and young Sesta were arrested by Smith for poaching Oct. 20. They were fined $10 each by a justice of the peace.

'Bugs' Postpone Atlas Launching

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Launching of a powerful Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile was called off early today when the firing crew ran into technical trouble during the countdown.

The 85-foot Atlas, biggest missile in the U.S. arsenal, sparkled in the rays of floodlights for several hours before the scrub was called.

The Air Force declined to elaborate on the technical difficulties encountered, but announced the shoot probably would be rescheduled soon.

The 100-ton Atlas blew up on its last launching Sept. 19. That was the first attempt to shoot the two-million-dollar rocket the complete 6,325-mile intercontinental range.

Lamesa C Of C Holds Annual Membership Banquet Tonight

LAMESA—About 250 are expected to attend the annual Lamesa Chamber of Commerce banquet tonight.

Rep. Jim Wright of Fort Worth will be the speaker. Richard Crowley, immediate past president of the chamber, will officially turn over the reins to Jake Lippard, who actually assumed the duties of president on Oct. 1, 1958.

Crawley is executive vice president of the First National Bank and Lippard is manager of the C. R. Anthony Co. store here. Pat Ryan is chamber manager.

A native of Fort Worth, Congressman Wright attended school in Fort Worth through junior high and then Adamson High School in Dallas. When the family moved to Weatherford, he enrolled in Weatherford College and then attended the University of Texas where he majored in government and economics. There he was president of his graduating class and editor of the Daily Texan.

A veteran of World War II, he enlisted three weeks after Pearl Harbor as a private.

After becoming a pilot, he flew combat missions in B-24's in the South Pacific.

Having what his friends term a dedicated feeling about public service, he decided to enter politics. He served two terms in the Texas Legislature and then was elected mayor of Weatherford to fill an unexpired term. He was twice re-elected. During this time he served as president of the League of Texas Municipalities. In 1953 he was honored by the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce as one of the five Outstanding Young Texans.

He was elected to Congress in 1954 by a 15,000 vote margin.

U.S. Alarmed By Communist Iraqi Influence

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration officials are reported somewhat alarmed over what they regard as a marked increase in Communist influence among backers of the revolutionary regime in Iraq.

Known Communists are understood to have flocked to Premier Abdel Kerim Kassem's side in his continuing battle with pro-Egyptian elements in his country.

Some Reds also are reported to have infiltrated the Iraqi police force as well as the Interior and Education ministries.

Responsible officials said Kassem apparently has not actively sought Red support. But, they said neither has he spurned it, apparently believing he can control the Reds for his own purposes.

Kassem's arrest of his onetime aide, Abdel Salam Aref, — on charges of anti-government activities, demonstrates the premier's confidence in his present role, officials said.

Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser is reported to have expressed serious alarm to Western diplomats over what he called Kassem's tendency to rely more and more on Communists to stay in power.

Nasser's cries of alarm are being taken with some skepticism, however, because he is believed at least aware of the anti-Kassem maneuverings in Iraq.

Tension in Baghdad exploded into at least one sizable riot about two weeks ago. Iraqi nationalists, reinforced by Communists, battled pro-Nasser demonstrators before army troops broke up the fight.

A new clash erupted a few days ago, diplomats said, with Communists and Iraqi nationalists slugging it out briefly before troops again intervened.

These Baghdad clashes are reportedly not connected with major rioting in the oil cities of Kirkuk and Mosul in the north. Kurds in these areas apparently battled Iraqis of Turkish Origin. This fight was connected with the return of Kurdish leader Mullah Mustafa Barzani to Iraq after long years of exile, some in Russia.

City's Debt Cut By $21,000 In October

The city cut its bonded indebtedness by $21,000 last month while current tax revenue was hitting over $130,000.

Another $3,000 was paid on the revenue bonds out of the water and sewer revenue fund.

These payments left the city's

Tax Payments Trail '57 Rate

The city's tax department shows about $100,000 less in collections so far this year than last, but the tremendous drop is due to the recent tax revaluation survey.

For the seven months of the city's fiscal year, the city has collected $158,580.13, which is $106,988.30 less than came during the same time of 1957. Current taxes for the seven months of this year totaled $135,995.88, a drop of $114,218.07 from the same time of last year.

The drop is because of the lateness of getting out statements, and the tax department was delayed in getting its records because of the tax survey. Collections didn't begin until about Oct. 20, when the collections usually start Oct. 1.

The delinquent tax revenue is up, however. Total to Nov. 1 in this column is $13,395.47, and it was only $8,210.12 at this time last year. The interest, penalties, and costs attached to these delinquent accounts amounted to $3,382.95, or $1,789.42 for the same time of last year.

Dog taxes for the year amounted to $168.75, down from the $183 of 1957. Of the total, $10.25 came last month.

Mrs. Cecial Alfred, retiring secretary, said the three Knott girls and several individuals contributed funds to finance the activities. Teachers assisted by keeping new agriculture, home economics and science facilities open for inspection, and several individuals contributed food and flowers.

2-Timing Brings Mann Act Charge

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Adela Gonzales, 16, a Mexican, allowed herself to be smuggled across the border under the hood of an automobile, thinking her lover was going to marry her in the United States. Then she found he was married.

The result: Roberto Inda, 28, a San Jose cannery worker, was indicted Wednesday by a federal grand jury on charges of smuggling Adela into the U.S. for immoral purposes.

Asst. U.S. Atty. James B. Schnake said Inda picked up the girl in a Tepic, Nayarit, Mexico, hotel. Somehow, he managed to introduce his wife to the girl as his cousin, Schnake said.

Schnake said it was three months before Adela discovered Inda's "cousin" was his wife. Adela promptly went to the police.

Laborer Trapped By Cavein Saved

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Laborer Ernest Ortega, 29, trapped 3 1/2 hours by three caveins in the 15-foot-deep trench where he was working, was rescued Wednesday.

Twice completely buried by dirt slides, he was kept alive by rescuers who scooped dirt away from his head with their hands.

Dress Up Your Hair

At left, velvet glamour in a band of black lends evening elegance when it's trimmed with little gold pins and perhaps unusual, sparkly buttons. If you prefer the regal look, chose a tiara such as the one shown at the right. Whatever you add to your hair, be sure it is gay and scintillating.

Adorn Hair In Sparkles For Evening Festivities

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor
Beauty goes to the head for evening excitement. There are so many accessories for the head that one could easily use a special closet for the wardrobe of adornments—wigs to tiaras—come the holiday season.
The wig has been no flash in the pan. A good seller at $20, it is even bigger business at $75 for synthetic models. Beauty salons haven't lost business because even a wig needs to be shampooed and set.
Whether you dress up your very own hair this season or choose a wig, you'll shine above the neck. Holiday predictions are that wigs in silver and gold tones as well as multicolor hues of 20 or more shades will dress up American dance floors. Or decorate your own hair with a spray in one or another scintillating shades. Or be a natural coiffure.

A lovely head of hair should be a prized feature, and the girl who comes by beautiful tresses naturally, should play up the fact, men

The club met at the school with Mrs. L. L. Phemister as hostess; she brought the devotion from the book of John.
Members each said something nice about the person to their right as the roll call. Mrs. Ray Shorter brought the thought for the day: The better part of one's life consists of his friendships.

The club will donate to the Christmas party to be given Dec. 22 at the state hospital for the patients, it was decided. Chairmen of the 4H Club, Mrs. Pete Sherman and Mrs. W. F. Harrell, along with the chairman of recreation, Mrs. Ross Hill, will meet in the HD office on Nov. 17.

ture arrangements with explanations presented as to various points in the groupings.

TIPS ON BUYING HAMS
Hams Are Sold Several Ways. You Can Buy: Whole Ham, Shank Half, Butt Half, Center Slices, Center Roast, Butt Portion, Shank Portion
All are good-eating cuts, but they should be priced differently, according to the value of each. Choicest part, of course, is the center. The two parts which are left when the center is removed from a ham are the "Shank Portion" and the "Butt Portion" (sometimes called Shank End and Butt End). These should not be confused with "Half Hams." When you buy a half ham, you are entitled to the full half, with no center slices removed. At Safeway, you always get the full half.
It pays to select the cut which fits your individual needs. The important thing is to be sure you are getting everything you pay for—not, for example, paying half ham prices for the Shank Portion or Butt Portion.

Day Of Liquids Helps

Carmen Phillips, an MGM starlet, makes her film debut in "Some Came Running." When it comes to dieting, she prefers a day of liquids because it's quick and not too unpleasant.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Want Long Eyelashes? Starlet Gives Secret

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — "It's a dream come true," Carmen Phillips said, referring to her term contract at MGM. "Four years ago, when I was 17 and in a Chicago night club chorus, Winchell wrote that I was destined for a Hollywood contract."

It is quite understandable that this girl, with a curvaceous figure and blue eyes heavily fringed with black lashes, would stand out in any chorus line.

"I'm always being accused of wearing false eyelashes!" Carmen exclaimed.

"Have you done anything special to make them grow so long?" I asked.

"Every night I hold a hot wash cloth over my eyes for a few minutes to stimulate the circulation. Then I brush my eyelashes and eyebrows with oil. The oil helps to prevent dryness, especially since I wear mascara a great deal of the time."

Carmen prefers the cake type mascara and after applying it, she lets her lashes dry and then brushes them so they don't stick together.

Since Carmen has supported her mother for several years, she knows the value of shopping wisely.

"I've discovered that buying good clothes is an economy," she confessed.

The day was warm and she was wearing a distinctive print. When I complimented her she said:

"It's four years old, but it is an expensive dress, and I always feel good in it. I modeled it in a fashion show and they let me have it for a small amount. I've bought cheap clothes but I had no luck with them. I've found it's better to have one dress that's right than a lot of changes that are, unbecoming and uncomfortable."

When we talked about figures, she said:

"I like to eat like everyone else, but I never let myself get more than two pounds over my limit. I cut down immediately with one day of liquids. I can lose from two to three pounds that way. I like to get my dieting over with. If I keep busy, I don't think about food and I have an easier time of it," she concluded.

LOSE EXTRA POUNDS FAST
If you are like Carmen Phillips and want to take off those few extra pounds quickly, here is an unusual four-day diet. And if you like fruit, this will be a fun diet. Leaflet M-68, "Fresh Fruit Elimination"

Bauer P-TA Has Program Of Songs

Third graders entertained the Bauer P-TA with Thanksgiving songs Tuesday afternoon, and also led in the pledge of allegiance in recognition of Independence Day. Their teachers are Mrs. R. A. Brewster, Mrs. A. B. Adams and Mrs. Dorothy Winans, the first of whom won the room count. Forty-two heard a report of the harvest festival held last month. Mrs. Jesse Hernandez presided for the session.

Minnesotans Visit

Lt. and Mrs. H. J. Coates Jr. have as guests her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Mahler of Minneapolis, Minn. The Mahlers, who plan to be here three weeks, came especially to see their new granddaughter, Lisa Kaye, who was born Nov. 2.

Knott P-TA To Meet

The second and third grades of Knott School will give the program for the P-TA this evening when the members meet at the school gymnasium. Time for the session is 7:40. Mrs. George White will be in charge of the program.

Music Club Furnishes Officer For District

At the 22nd annual convention of the Ninth District of Texas Federation of Music Clubs, last weekend in Midland, the Big Spring Music Study Club took an A rating with their yearbook, second place in the scrapbook division, and received a total club rating of 100 points.

Mrs. Harrol Jones, president of the club, was elected recording secretary for the district. Taking part in the musical program was Mrs. C. A. Boyd, pianist. These accomplishments were reported to the club Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Douglas Wiehe, by Mrs. J. E. Hardesty, delegate to the convention. She also stated that the Big Spring group will be hostess club to the convention next year.

The 19 present welcomed Mrs. R. P. Brown as a new member, and accepted the resignation of Mrs. Bill Griese. For the program on "The World of Opera," Mrs. Nell Frazier was the leader. Vocal selections included "Must Winter Come So Soon" from "Vanessa," sung by Mrs. C. B. Marcum with Mrs. Frazier as accompanist; "Tutti Fior" from "Madame Butterfly," sung by Joyce Howard and Mrs. Jack Ware, with Mrs. Jim Line at the piano; and "Vissi d'Arte" from "Tosca," sung by Mrs. Carol Bellon, accompanied by Mrs. Jim Line.

Mrs. J. R. Hensley, Mrs. Robert Mason and Mrs. J. L. Christensen blended their voices in "Sun, and the Warm, Brown Earth," with Mrs. Line as pianist. With a piano number, "Intermezzo from 'Cavalleria Rusticana,'" Mrs. Christensen concluded the program.

Mrs. Mason and Edith Gay, co-hostesses, served refreshments. A guest program will be held Dec. 10 at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, followed by a tea hour at the Hensley Home.

Planters Club Studies Mass Arrangements

Instructions in the creation of mass arrangements were given the Planters Garden Club, Wednesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. J. W. Trantham.

Mrs. Kyle Cauble and Mrs. Dale Smith discussed contour, color and balance of the container. They agreed that the flowers in a mass arrangement should be placed close together; when large blossoms are used, smaller ones should be added as fillers.

Following a report on the projected plans for a Christmas party for state hospital patients, the club voted to contribute money for gifts. Mrs. R. L. Reaves previewed the plans.

The council report brought by Mrs. C. W. Neele dealt also with the fall flower show which was staged recently. Announcement was made that flower calendars have been received and may be purchased for $1.25. Handbooks are to be ordered through the council, with Mrs. Neele as intermediary for the Planters.

Mrs. L. R. Crowell was introduced as a new member. Guests were Mrs. H. W. Hancock of Lamesa, Mrs. C. L. Kirkland and Mrs. N. M. Hipp. Twelve members attended, with Mrs. J. W. Dickens taking home the special prize.

The Dec. 10 meeting will be at

Guest From Hawaii

A guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leiland King, 1602 Robin, is her mother, Mrs. Mary Baptista of Honolulu, Oahu. The visitor will be here until after the holidays.

the home of Mrs. R. O. Carothers, 1405 Stadium. The Christmas party, in the form of a covered dish luncheon, is slated for Dec. 17 at the Dick Collier residence, 624 Tulane.

'Ginger' Play's Title Came By The Long Route

While a rose by any other name would smell as sweet, a good title is still an advantage to a play. This has certainly been true of the comedy called "Time Out for Ginger" which the Court Jesters are presenting at the High School Auditorium next Nov. 20-21. When this play, that later became a notable Broadway hit, was first written, its author called it "Under Wraps," in reference to the fact that its central figure, a teenage girl who insists on trying out for her high school's team, is kept "under wraps" by the coach until an appropriate time for her to enter a game as a surprise and score a touchdown in the last two minutes of play.

It was decided, however, by several of the author's friends that he needed a better title, and he came up with a pun on the name (i.e. Ginger) of the athletically inclined teenager—"Season With Ginger."

But when the play was bought for production in New York, the Broadway producer decided this sounded too much like a direction in a cook-book, and might not be understood as referring to a football season, so something else was demanded of the author.

He came up finally with "Time Out for Ginger," which is also a double-meaning phrase—referring to play on the football field, and to the fact that Ginger's foray onto the gridiron turns out to be but an interlude in her regular, more girlish life. Since the play has been a hit all over the U. S., the title seems to have been well-chosen.

Good Rehearsal, But Not Massed

It was a good rehearsal Monday night, but it wasn't exactly massed.

About 30 people showed up to practice "The Messiah," which will be staged as a Christmas program on Sunday, Dec. 14, at 4 p.m. in the First Baptist Church.

The Pastors Assn. is sponsoring the program, and singers from most Big Spring churches are taking part. Choir leaders are pushing for a 100-voice community choir, but there are already those who miss a few of the rehearsals.

Ira Schantz put his singers through the mill Monday evening. He's a talented and enthusiastic conductor with plenty of pep, and those who work under him know they can't lay around. But the results seem worth the effort. Singers still are needed. The greatest shortage is in alto voices, and a few basses also could be put to good use.

Next Wednesday evening is deadline for those who wish to join the massed chorus. The early deadline is necessary because "The Messiah" is no ordinary work, and a chorus must have time for practice. "The Messiah" is difficult, though not impossible, and it simply would not do to allow an unpracticed vocalist to sing with the chorus on this particular piece.

Interested singers are invited to show up Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the First Methodist Church, or at 9:15 p.m. at St. Paul's Presbyterian, for rehearsal; or to call Schantz or Mrs. Jack Ware before that time.

Schantz and Mrs. Ware, choir leaders in their churches, hold separate rehearsals on "The Messiah" at these times, then meet at other convenient times for massed rehearsals.

The next massed rehearsal will be Nov. 23 at 4 p.m. in the First Baptist Church sanctuary. This rehearsal will be conducted by James Gambino, professional musician from Odessa. Gambino will conduct the orchestra that will accompany the community chorus.

HCJC Play Has Review Troubles

Fred Short has done himself out of some prime publicity.

His College Players open a three-night production of "The Glass Menagerie" Saturday night; the play will continue Monday and Tuesday.

Saturday night is the worst night in the week, for the reviewers know they can't lay around. But the results seem worth the effort. Singers still are needed. The greatest shortage is in alto voices, and a few basses also could be put to good use.

Author Drew 'Menagerie' Characters From Own Life

Tennessee Williams, author of "The Glass Menagerie," which opens Saturday night at the HCJC Auditorium, is frank to admit that his play's leading character, Amanda Wingfield, the fading mother who frantically clings to another time and place, derives from his own mother.

By the same token Laura Wingfield is, with modifications, Williams' sister. And, as a brief review of the author's own background readily suggests, Tom Wingfield, the restless young man who longs for beauty and adventure in his life but had to spend it working in a shoe warehouse is Tennessee Williams himself.

Only a few years before "The Glass Menagerie," Williams was a 17 week usher at a New York movie house within two blocks of where, during the 1948-49 theatre season, audiences were watching two of his later plays, "Summer and Smoke" and "A Streetcar Named Desire." Tennessee has also been a bellhop, a teletype operator, a waiter, a reciter of poetry in a Greenwich Village night club, and he's worked in a shoe-warehouse.

The barest outline of his life can be traced in his plays. The author's father is not a character in "The Glass Menagerie," which Williams calls a "memory play," but he may well be Amanda's husband who "fell in love with long distance." Williams' father was a shoe salesman—and he has written a one-act play about a shoe salesman.

He has lived in New Orleans—and "A Streetcar Named Desire" is about New Orleans.

After an early childhood spent in Mississippi, Williams was still a small boy when his father was transferred to a desk job in St. Louis, the city in which "The Glass Menagerie" is set. The room occupied by Williams' sister looked out on a narrow dreary area-way which the author named "Death Valley," for night after night stray cats, pursued by stray dogs, were cornered there and torn to pieces.

To relieve the melancholy of her surroundings, together they painted the furniture white, hung white curtains across the window and placed on shelves around the walls a collection of glass animals. It is this collection of glass objects which gives a literal meaning to the title of Williams' play. These little glass animals, Williams recalls, "came to represent in my memory all the softest emotions that belong to recollections of things past. They stood for all the small and tender things that relieve the austere pattern of life and make it endurable to the sensitive. The areaway where the cats were torn to pieces was one thing—my sister's white curtains and tiny menagerie of glass were another. Somewhere between them was the world we lived in."

San Angelo Art Show Praised

M. Sgt. John Brittenham, who accompanied a group of Big Springers to view the two-man faculty art show at San Angelo College Tuesday, was enthusiastic in his comment on the works.

The two professionals featured, Mrs. Tinec Heddins and Robert Lancaster, instructors of art at SAC, showed abstract paintings and sculpture of exceptional quality. Brittenham said, the best he'd seen since he left New York.

The show will be open until Nov. 22 and is well worth the drive to San Angelo.
