PRINCE FARMAIAN GREETED BY LOCAL CIVIC LEADERS

HONORED AT LUNCHEON Iran's Prince Farmaian Here To Look Over Oil Operations

Prince M. Farman Farmaian of Iran, on his second visit here in four years, was guest of honor at a luncheon staged by R. L. Tollett, Cosden Petroleum Corp. president, today.

The prince was here to look over American oil production, refining and marketing methods. He was accompanied by Hamid Bakhtiar, member of the Iranian Parliament as representative of the 700,000 residents of the Bakhtiar, Iran's principal oil producing region.

Bakhtiar departed shortly before noon for Los Angeles, but Prince Farmaian decided to spend another day in Big Spring as the result of impressions gained on this and his previous oil industry tour.

This morning, Cosden officials flew Farmaian and Bakhtiar over the oil fields of Howard and surrounding counties and also pointed out locations of Reef Fields and other petroleum processing plants.

The luncheon, attended by Cosden officials and other civic leaders, was held at the Cosden Country Club.

Prince Farmaian visited here originally on Dec. 3, 1954, when he was in the United States as a guest of the American Petroleum Institute.

Cosden officials flew him here to afford him the opportunity of witnessing how production, processing and distribution worked in this country. He inspected wells in production, saw the Reef Fields and the Cosden refining plants in operation, and noted marketing techniques.

The prince is a cousin of the Shah of Iran and of the late Dr. Mohammed Mossadegh, a former prime minister. His father also had served as a prime minister of Iran.

For several years Prince Farmaian was director general of the oil department of his country and a member of the oil board of parliament. He resigned these places over policy disagreement with Dr. Mossadegh.

On the occasion of his previous visit, the prince said additional markets for Iranian crude were being sought, principally in Europe. He also suggested that his country was entitled to a greater share of oil payments since they constituted the main source of revenue for Iran.

Panel Probes Coin Machine Industry

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate rackets probes called "two witnesses today to open hearings on alleged nationwide gangster infiltration into the coin machine industry.

But in a major change of plans, the special investigating committee postponed until January its quizzing of 100 other witnesses in an inquiry which will involve at least seven states.

For today's preliminary round, the committee summoned Frank Cammarata of Youngstown, Ohio, a former Detroit gangster, and Joseph Blumetti, Teamsters Union business agent at Youngstown.

The hearings had been planned through most of December, but Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) said it was difficult to assure a two-senator quorum of the committee for the weeks before the Christmas holidays. The committee has eight members.

McClellan said the inquiry will show that underworld figures have been in league both with crooked union officials and with businessmen in an effort to control segments of the multimillion-dollar coin operated machine industry.

A maker of vending equipment protested McClellan's statements as unduly critical of the industry Wednesday.

Walter J. Manning, a vice president of Rudd-Melikan, Inc., of Harbor, Pa., denied that the industry is "hoodlum dominated."

He urged in a telegram to McClellan that Senate investigators be careful not to cripple an industry he said has won widespread approval. The firm makes and services food vending machines.

The committee would open two days of hearings Wednesday on alleged labor union extortion in Chicago.

Chicago area small business executives charged that Arthur H. Cronin, an international vice president of the Sheet Metal Workers Union, and some of his aides had demanded and received payoffs from them as the price for labor peace.

Cronin and a number of his subordinates denounced the charges as a pattern of lies, based on spite and other reasons.

Viewing the conflicts in testimony, McClellan told the witnesses it was clear that some of them were committing willful perjury. He asked the Justice Department to follow through with prosecutions.

Auto Overturns, But No One Hurt

A Midland resident turned his car over on the North Side Wednesday night but he was unhurt and damage was slight.

The police reported that Garfield Hart Jr. of Midland lost control of his car and it turned over near the Lakeview School on the North Side.

At 5th and Johnson, also Wednesday, cars driven by Melba Jackson, 711 Virginia, and John Lemons, 1804 Nolan, were in an accident. Dorothy Redden, 2006 S. Monticello, and Earl Patterson, 1104 Blackmore, were in collision at 4th and State.

This morning, Vernon Smith, 602 Gregg, and John Cadzon, 410 Owens, were in an accident.

Found Dead

FORT WORTH (AP)—A woman identifying herself as Mrs. Mary Rodriguez, 18, was found dead in her two-room apartment, from a shot in the stomach yesterday. Officers said she left several notes.

Moon Probe Activity Rises As Army Sets Launching

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Visibly increased activity in the launching area of a modified Jupiter rocket indicated today that the Army was preparing to fire its first space probe soon.

Workmen could be observed moving about the area, upon which attention has centered since Tuesday when the Jupiter was allowed to stand free of its service tower for some time.

The rollback of the tower was one indication that prelaunch checks of the missile were under way.

Official sources here were silent as to launch plans.

In Washington 10 days ago, however, The Associated Press reported that the Army planned to try a Juno II space launch—a Jupiter intermediate range ballistic missile topped by 15 smaller rockets clustered in three stages—during a week's period starting Dec. 6.

Army and Defense Department officials have announced that in its forthcoming attempt the Army will aim for the moon in the almost certain knowledge that it will miss that small target.

The hope is to send a small instrumented probe out past the moon into an orbit around the sun.

City Taxes Rolling In

The city's tax collections continue to roll in, with net revenue almost reaching $350,000.

The net collections after discounts amounted to $347,839.40 which included $546.89 collected Wednesday. The net is from a total tax bill of $358,500.60.

The city is giving only one per cent discount for payment of taxes now, and after the end of the month, it will not give any discount.

Adenauer Tells Berliners To 'Keep Nerve'

BERLIN (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer told West Berliners today to keep their nerve, and pledged that the Western Allies will overcome the Soviet threat to the isolated city.

He rallied the West Berliners immediately after flying into this Communist encircled city in a U.S. Air Force transport.

Standing bareheaded on misty Tempelhof Airport, the 82-year-old Adenauer declared that "Soviet Russia threatens the freedom and security of Berlin."

"If we do not become frightened, then we and our Western Allies will master the situation," he said.

Adenauer arrived in West Berlin just three days before crucial municipal elections in this city.

The West and the Communists are pointing to Sunday's elections as a plebiscite on the Soviet bid to turn West Berlin into a demilitarized free city.

The Communists have launched a big propaganda offensive. They are urging West Berliners to vote the Communist ticket as a way of approving the Soviet proposal.

The West Berlin government already has said the voting for a new West Berlin Parliament would be a plebiscite on Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's proposal — and that it would be resoundingly rejected.

Bad Wiring Blamed For Fire, No Damage

No damage resulted from a fire on the west side of town Wednesday.

A fire developed from faulty wiring at 2000 W. 3rd, property owned by Frank Bell. The firemen from the main station extinguished the blaze before any damage could be done.

Gilbert Is Denied Change Of Venue

Ralph Gilbert, charged with the murder of Clayton Stewart, pioneer rancher, lost his plea that his case be tried in some other city than Big Spring this morning.

Judge Charlie Sullivan, 118th District Court, after hearing evidence presented by the defense and by the state, denied a motion filed on Wednesday for a change of venue in the trial of the young San Angelo ranchhand.

Gilbert will go on trial Monday. A special venire of 200 jurors has been called to report at 10 a.m.

The principal contention of R. H. Weaver, defense counsel, in his plea for a change of venue was that the Stewart slaying has been given extensive publicity of such a nature as to preclude the possibility of a fair trial.

Witnesses called by the state included radio and television men, a filling station operator and an oil broker. They were J. N. Young Jr., KIST; Bob Lindley, KEDV-TV; Jas. W. Richardson, KBYG; Thomas F. Conway, filling station operator, and Jack Cook, oil broker.

All told the court that they had opinions as to the guilt of the victim. The radio and television men testified as to the coverage given the case on their media.

Newspapers which had carried stories of the case were handed to the court. Excerpts from one or two articles were read.

Guilford Jones, district attorney, opposed the motion largely on the grounds that the impressions acquired by the public in regard to the case was not in a true sense a disqualification as a juror.

He also opposed the contention of the defense that Stewart was a "widely known man." To support this argument, he called Miller Harris, sheriff, who said that he did not regard the slain man as well known; Leo Hull, city detective, echoed the same opinion.

Jones, on the stand for his own case, told the court that he had had experience in trial of numerous murder cases in the county and that many of these had been widely publicized in the newspapers.

He said only in one case that he could recall was it found impossible to fill the jury box from the special venire present.

Harris and Hull said that in their opinion Gilbert could get a fair trial in this county.

Tom Conway, for the defense, replied in answer to the question, "Would you be a fair impartial juror if called in this case?" that the defense would "be crazy to let me get into the jury box."

Other defense witnesses said their opinion, based on what they had heard and read, was that Gilbert was guilty.

Gilbert, brought into court for the hearing on the motion sat quietly through the whole proceedings. He appeared interested but not unduly concerned in the proceedings.

Cox Becomes Chief Deputy

Fern Cox, who has served as civil deputy in the office of Miller Harris, sheriff, since that officer assumed his duties, became chief deputy today.

Harris said that E. W. York, who has been chief deputy, had asked to be relieved and assigned to regular field deputy duties.

Harris said that Cox had agreed to become chief deputy and that an appointment of a civil deputy will be made later.

Weather To Turn Colder Tonight

Colder weather is approaching Big Spring in the viewpoint of the U. S. Weather Bureau.

Thursday afternoon was due to mark the initial invasion of the chill temperatures. Tonight will be partly cloudy and the temperature will drop—probably to 32 degrees by Friday morning. Friday will be cloudy and much colder than Thursday afternoon. A high of only 48 for Friday was forecast.

High for Thursday afternoon was estimated at 75 degrees.

High on Wednesday was 7 and the low last night never fell below 40.

Supports Rocket Tests By Students

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Rocket experiments by boys of high school age should be supervised but not banned, an Oklahoma educator told the southwest regional meeting of the American Chemical Society today.

L. E. Lewis Jr. of the Oklahoma City school system, was replying to a recent policy statement by the National Safety Council. The council earlier this year said it "opposes amateur experimentation with rockets and rocket fuels."

Rocketry is hazardous, Lewis conceded, but so are airplane piloting, automobile driving and swimming.

Ed Cherry Heads Mounted Patrol

Ed Cherry is the new president of the Big Spring Mounted Patrol.

He was elected at a meeting Tuesday evening. Other officers are R. O. Dick, Fielder, parade marshal, and R. V. Middleton, secretary-treasurer. Plans were made for Palmetto polo practice after the first of the year, for attending the Sandhills Livestock show parade in Odessa, and for increased membership.

Triumphant Demos Gather For Talks

Scouts Prepare For Exposition Opening Friday

Cubs, Scouts and Explorers, together with their leaders, will buckle down this afternoon and this evening to setting up their booths for the annual Scout exposition.

The big show in the former home of the Big Spring Motor Co. at 4th and Bell Sts. will open at 6:30 p.m. Friday for two evening displays.

The building will be open this afternoon and this evening until 9:30 p.m., said W. T. McRee, Scout executive. It will be reopened at 1 p.m. Friday so that boys and leaders can put the finishing touches on their exhibits.

The time schedule for the exhibits is 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

Approximately 10,000 tickets have been placed in the hands of more than two score units. Proceeds will be divided so as to go directly to the units which sell the tickets and to the district for defraying expenses of setting up the Scouting show.

More than 30 booths have been spoken for and these will reflect Cubbing, Scouting and Explorer crafts, skills, special activities such as first aid, camping, merit badges, etc.

CHEER FUND UP A LITTLE

While you're busily engaged in holiday affairs, getting your Christmas gifts and making Yuletide plans, don't overlook the fact that there are hundreds of families in the city who will have nothing at all on Christmas — unless more fortunate people remember them.

This is exactly what city firemen are trying to do — provide toys and substantial food for needy children—and they do this only through gifts to the CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND.

Won't you join the list of CHEER FUND donors? Just hand your money to any fireman, or make your check to CHARLES EBERLEY — 10.00

The Fund got a boost today with these gifts:

Mrs. David Waldo Jones	5.00
Capt. Paul B. Nelson	5.00

Russians Visit San Angelo

SAN-ANGELO (AP)—The nine-member Russian education team which arrived here Wednesday has shown itself serious about learning what it can about San Angelo schools.

At the same time, however, the visitors have displayed a willingness to laugh and generally unlimber when the occasion calls for it. Unlimbering will be pretty much the order of the day at the final, formal event for the Soviet delegation—a dinner at the San Angelo Country Club at 7 p.m. today.

About 200 persons are expected to attend the dinner which will be followed by the presentation of the surplus to the visitors—San Angelo's traditional showing of hospitality. The party is scheduled to leave the city about 9:30 a.m. tomorrow heading for San Francisco.

The rest of the itinerary includes Salt Lake City, Milwaukee and Washington where they started their month tour of the nation's public schools and universities.

Heart Assn. Gives $2,000

The Howard County chapter of the American Heart Assn. will participate in providing urgently needed equipment at the University of Texas medical center in Galveston.

The chapter also will contribute to research funds in an effort to expedite study that may lead to preventative measures for heart ailments.

At the chapter meeting Wednesday at the Wagon Wheel, Mrs. Larson Lloyd, campaign chairman, explained plans for the annual heart campaign in February and particularly on Heart Sunday.

The chapter voted to send $1,500 for the needed heart equipment at Galveston and pledged $500 for research. Dr. P. D. O'Brien, chapter chairman, presided at the meeting.

Final Report Due On UF Campaign

A final report on the 1958 United Fund campaign will be heard by the UF executive committee at 5 p.m. today.

Clyde McMahon, president of the agency which has the responsibility of filling the financial needs of 10 youth, health and welfare organizations, called the meeting for the Chamber of Commerce offices.

He said the final report on the campaign will be submitted, and the executive committee will review the outlook for United Fund operations during the next year. Several routine business matters also are on the agenda.

Credit Unions Will Hear State Leader

The Big Spring chapter of Federal Credit Unions will have the top man in the state organization as its guest for the quarterly meeting on Dec. 11.

He is R. C. Morgan, El Paso, president of the state association of federal credit unions. The meeting, a dinner affair, is scheduled for 7 p.m. at the officers club of Webb AFB.

Battle Over Civil Rights Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Triumphant Democrats gathered today for the first of four days of post-election meetings. They will decide on legislative recommendations and where to hold their national convention in 1960.

The sessions were called by the Democratic National Committee and by its 24-member Advisory Council. Intraparty scraps on civil rights are in prospect.

Today and Friday will be given over to closed hearings by a subcommittee named to receive bids from seven cities for the 1960 national nominating convention. Leaders say they are laying out convention plans about 15 months ahead to be assured of adequate auditorium and hotel space.

San Francisco, Los Angeles, New York, Philadelphia, Atlantic City, Miami Beach and Chicago are bidding for the convention.

A credentials committee of the National Committee also will meet in open session Friday to consider the status of Camille F. Gravel, national committeeman from Louisiana whom the state organization has voted to remove. Both the civil rights issue and National Committee rules are involved in the dispute.

The full National Committee meets Saturday in public session to act on recommendations of the convention and to elect national groups and to transact other business.

A $700,000 party deficit and ways to meet it will come up. The future of Chairman Paul M. Butler also may be considered. Southerners may try to censure or oust Butler for his no-compromise stand for a strong civil rights plank in the 1960 platform. But Butler adherents do not expect such a move to succeed if it develops.

The committee's Advisory Council meets Sunday to try to draw up a policy statement for the party in the next two years. Advance indications are it will go beyond the recent 12-point legislative program advocated by Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), especially in the field of civil rights, which Johnson left off his list.

The Louisiana row coming up Friday stems from the action of the state committee last October. It voted 69-30 to oust Gravel as national committeeman on the ground he was out of step with the state on the civil rights issue.

The state committee elected Jett M. Talbot, a pro-segregation leader, to succeed Gravel.

Gravel refused to step down and predicted 90 of the 108 National Committee members would back him up. He contends, and Chairman Butler supports him, that only the National Committee can remove a member for cause between national conventions. Talbot is expected to challenge this.

Colombia Placed Under Martial Law

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—President Alberto Lleras Camargo and the army ruled Colombia under a modified form of martial law today after arresting former dictator Gustavo Rojas Pinilla on charges of plotting a coup.

In a broadcast, Lleras Camargo said the attempt to overthrow his government was scheduled for next Saturday. He proclaimed a state of siege and warned against public gatherings which might indicate subversion.

The nation remained calm. Troops were posted throughout Bogota.

Numerous pledges of support were made to the President, who was overwhelmingly elected last May 4 to succeed the military junta which overthrew Rojas Pinilla.

One pledge came from Crisanto Cardinal Luque, primate in Colombia of the Roman Catholic Church. The church had been an important factor in causing Rojas Pinilla's ouster May 10, 1957.

Rojas Pinilla and his son Lt. Carlos Rojas were taken by military planes to the Caribbean port of Cartagena, the President's office announced. It did not say what would be done with them.

Other sources said the government also arrested Jaime Gonzalez Puyo, a former army general and father-in-law of Lt. Rojas.

Rojas Pinilla returned Oct. 11 from exile in Spain, ostensibly to defend himself against congressional charges of corruption, abuse of authority and misappropriation of funds during his dictatorship. He challenged the competence of Congress to try him, but his trial by the Senate was scheduled to begin Dec. 12. For weeks, mean-

Haggard Posts Bond Of $3,000

Kenneth Haggard, 18, charged with negligent homicide in the death on Tuesday of Tammy Diane, his 9-month-old daughter, posted $3,000 bond and was released from custody Wednesday afternoon.

Haggard is accused in the complaint of squeezing the baby. As a result, it is alleged, abdominal injuries caused its death.

The complaint was filed in Howard County Court by Wayne Burns, county attorney. Burns said that he planned to bring the case to trial at the first jury docket scheduled in the county court. No date has been set.

Funeral rites for the child were held this morning in Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home chapel. Burial was in the Trinity Memorial Park.

Airline Machinists Vote Today On Strike Agreement

About 3,700 machinists-vote today in Kansas City on a tentative agreement reached with Trans World Airlines to end a 13-day strike against TWA.

All 6,500 members of the International Assn. of Machinists employed by TWA must ratify the new contract. They vote in other places later. The proposed pact won the unanimous support of the union negotiating committee Wednesday. The walkout has lasted 19,000 TWA employees.

Confident that settlement has been reached, TWA issued orders Wednesday night for a resumption of domestic and overseas flights early Monday.

Terms of the agreement were not made public. But Leverett Edwards, chairman of the National Mediation Board, said the wage raises corresponded to agreements negotiated recently with other airlines. These called for pay boosts of about 30 cents an hour. Top scale under the old TWA contract is $2.61 an hour.

In Miami, where efforts are being made to resolve a 10-day strike against Eastern Air Lines, some progress in talks was reported between the airlines and 5,000 machinists.

But the flight engineers' dispute with EAL appeared stalemated.

In addition to wages, company insistence on jet pilot training fee flight engineers is a major issue. American Airlines, threatened by a strike of the Air Line Pilots Assn., continues to operate under a temporary injunction.

Talks continue between Pan American World Airways and the Transport Workers Union.

Ft. Crockett Being Beaten To Ploughshares

GALVESTON, Dec. 4 (AP)—The mighty coastal guns of Ft. Crockett, which never fired a shot in anger and were defeated only by time, have faded away.

Boldly lettered real-estate signs dot the weed-fringed gun emplacements beside the pounding surf near Galveston Island's West Beach.

A new supermarket rises among the faded barracks. The thunder of the 12-inch guns fired in practice only has given way to sounds of construction.

A few weeks ago the General Services Administration approved the sale of one of the last pieces of land within the confines of the big L-shaped, 61-year-old fort.

If the GSA accepts remaining bids, the government will realize more than two million dollars for Ft. Crockett's land alone. The Army released all but 12 acres of the 162-acre establishment in 1956.

VICTIM OF PROGRESS
Ft. Crockett fell victim to the changing times. Its static Coast Artillery defenses would have been a poor match for advanced military and naval weapons of today.

Its monstrous guns, bristling from a network of concrete fortifications, could hurl shells weighing half a ton for more than 25 miles. Turned around, they could have fired on targets halfway between Galveston and Houston.

But the tactics of 1897—the year it was built—gave way through the decades to mechanized forces and atomic warfare. In recent years the chief use of the seawall fort was as a recreation area.

Nature handed Ft. Crockett a rough blow only three years after completion. The 1900 storm swept away protective structures but the guns remained standing.

Troops taking part in the Mexican border incident of 1916-17 used it as a mobilization center. World War I found it a training base.

TRAINING CENTER
During World War II, it again became a training center for Army engineer, signal corps and ordnance personnel.

The latter conflict proved Crockett-type fortifications were obsolete. The Army removed the fort's guns after the war and declared the installation surplus in 1947.

Reclaimed a year later, it was held until 1956.

Part of the property will provide a site for a home for the aged. The Moody Foundation bid $45,000 for 31 acres on which it says it plans to build the home.

Another 58 acres is expected to be developed as a residential property and the remaining acreage was zoned for commercial development.

The supermarket is rising on an 11-acre tract which developers say will contain a complete shopping center. There's also talk of a new motel.

The government retained 12 acres to house various federal agencies.

Teacher Pay Search Fails

HOUSTON (AP)—A search to find funds for a pay increase for Houston schoolteachers has failed. An investigation headed by Dr. W. W. Kemmerer, a school board member, revealed the school district will have a fiscal year deficit of nearly two million dollars instead of about $1,200,000 as estimated previously.

Kemmerer has contended that changes in accounting procedures would give the district a six million dollar surplus instead of a deficit.

Kemmerer said, however, the investigation turned up a 1941 state attorney general ruling that has been ignored. The ruling held that all tax funds collected in one year must be used in one school fiscal year. The school district has been distributing its tax funds collected in one year to two different fiscal years.

The ruling, Kemmerer said, means the district cannot use 1958 taxes for the 1958-1959 fiscal year.

Sharp Thief Has Efficient System

HOUSTON (AP)—Police said today a fast talking auto thief who has taken 23 vehicles from Houston used car lots the last five weeks apparently is doing business also in Orange, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Baytown and Galveston.

The neatly-dressed man in his late 50s tells the dealers he would like to purchase a car but must first drive it home to obtain his wife's approval. At times he leaves a stolen car as security. But he never returns.

Capt. W. W. Brown of the auto theft division said a man of similar description and using the same technique has been reported by police in the other upper Gulf Coast cities.

Brown said the man strips the cars of their accessories and abandons them or uses them as security on his next visit to a car lot.

Texas Report Claims Smokes Have Arsenic

NEW YORK (AP)—Cigarettes contain more arsenic than is allowed in food, a group of Texas scientists reported today. Arsenic, they added, is the only part of cigarette smoke that is known to cause cancer in humans. The arsenic attached to small irritating particles of tar and inhaled habitually may lead ultimately to lung cancer, they said. Most of the arsenic comes from insecticides used to spray tobacco plants, the scientific team said. Authorities differ on whether the arsenic in cigarettes is in sufficient quantities to cause lung cancer, however, the scientists wrote in the current issue of "Cancer," journal of the American Cancer Society.

A spokesman for the tobacco industry research committee said that the implications in the "Cancer" article seem to go beyond anything warranted by known facts. He said the use of arsenic compounds on tobacco plants is now generally considered negligible and has been declining for a number of years.

Some scientists feel that the rising amount of arsenic found in cigarettes over the past 25 years might have contributed to the rising incidence of lung cancer, the Texas team reported.

There is two to six times as much arsenic found in cigarettes today as was found in cigarettes 25 years ago, the group said.

In a study of five regular-sized, unfiltered, leading brands of cigarettes, arsenic concentrations ranged from 42.5 to 52 parts per million.

Cigarettes are not classed as food, the article said, but in food products as was found in cigarettes 25 years ago, the group said.

Of this third, about 4.95 micrograms of arsenic trioxide is inhaled from each cigarette.

Generally filters remove only about 1.5 micrograms of arsenic from the smoke—although some filters remove up to 1.9 micrograms.

Two brands of Turkish cigarettes studied showed half the arsenic concentrations of the more popular cigarettes, the team reported.

More laboratory and clinical research remains to be done to prove relationship that exists between the arsenic in cigarette smoke and the rising incidence of lung cancer, the scientists said.

The researchers are Drs. Robert H. Holland, Russell H. Wilson, Dale A. Clark and Henry C. Lanz; and Antonio R. Acevedo and Mary Sue McCall, all of the Southwestern Medical School of the University of Texas in Dallas.

Battle Flames On Bob Hope Ranch

Firemen attempt to stem the spread of flames on Bob Hope's White Oak ranch in the Santa Monica mountains near Malibu Beach, California. Hope's brother Jim and family were ordered evacuated as planes dropped fire-retarding liquid borate solution on the ranch house attempting to save it. The fire was one of many that broke out in the area.

Huge Brush Fire Burning Out After Leveling Stars' Homes

MALIBU BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A huge brush fire that swept the hills behind this famed beach colony appeared to be burning itself out today after three days. Firemen were in control of more than half of its 37-mile perimeter. They had hopes of completely sub-ducing the blaze some time today or Friday. Pockets of the flame in the deep canyons still offered fierce resistance, however. Officials said that rising winds could set the whole front ablaze again.

In its eight-mile rush across the hills to the seashore, the fire charred 18,000 acres, destroyed 29 homes and left scenes like these: Chains of children's swings dangling above blackened ground, the wooden seats gone in flames along with the house beyond. A housewife crying in a little cement-block laundry house next to a chimney and rubble that once was a refrigerator, a stove and bedsprings—all that's left of her home.

Silence, like that of deserted battlefields. Chimneys standing like tombstones, marking where big homes once stood. Children's toys, flame-twisted, their paint blistered.

Fear Gas Weapon?

NEW YORK (AP)—A future defensive weapon may be a gas that, in experiments now being conducted, can make a cat afraid of a mouse.

Maj. Gen. August Schomburg, deputy chief of ordnance, showed a movie of a cat which first was seen pouncing on a mouse. Later after having inhaled the gas, the cat appeared afraid of the mouse. "It would be nice to be able to fight at least part of a war without killing or wounding anyone, and without property damage," Schomburg told the American Ordnance Assn.

"This might be achieved by the use of an aerosol which would be breathed by enemy troops, and which would temporarily diminish their will to fight and resist, or possibly just make them sleepy, but leave no permanent adverse effects."

Russian Experts Due In Iraq To Follow Up Arms Shipment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet military technicians are expected to arrive soon in Iraq as a follow-up to Soviet arms shipments to Premier Abdel Kerim Kassem's government.

Diplomatic officials who reported this today said Kassem has agreed to accept an undetermined number of Red experts to train Soviet tanks, jet planes, artillery and motorized equipment.

A Soviet ship is reported to have unloaded sizable quantities of such Soviet weapons within the past few weeks in a move edging Iraq closer to the Soviet bloc.

This Iraq-Soviet deal came in the wake of Iraq's moves to restrict Western diplomatic contacts in the troubled, oil-rich Middle East nation.

The revolutionary regime has closed down the United States consulate in Kirkuk, the northern Iraqi city which is the center of Kurdish activity and also of the nation's oil-producing territory. The Kurds are non-Arab mountain people who make up a sixth of Iraq's population.

Also closed were the Kirkuk consulates of Britain, Turkey and Iran. The Soviets have no diplomatic outpost in this area but Sheikh Mustafa Barzani, a Soviet-trained Kurdish chieftain, returned to Iraq about two months ago with government permission. He had lived in the Soviet Union since he led an abortive revolt in 1946.

These moves have been accompanied by what Western diplomats regard as increased Communist penetration of Kassem's regime. Most diplomats believe, however, that the Iraq strong man has no intention of becoming a pro-Moscow stooge.

Nevertheless, the uncertain Iraq outlook has caused the State Department to nominate one of its top Middle East specialists, career diplomat John D. Jernegan, to be new United States ambassador.

Jernegan, now serving as embassy minister in Rome, would replace Waldemar J. Gallman, who has been reassigned to the State Department after a four-year tour in Baghdad.

Kassem has eased up surveillance and harassing tactics against American diplomats in Baghdad as a result of a State Department protest last month.

Ike Sets Parley With GOP Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower is arranging a mid-December meeting with Republican Congressional leaders in an attempt to cement party unity behind his legislative program.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon and the GOP managers of both houses are expected to get an opportunity at this session to make any suggestions they may have for program changes before Eisenhower wraps up his State of the Union, budget and economic messages in final form.

Their conference will differ in this respect from a scheduled Jan. 5 meeting at which Eisenhower will brief leaders of both parties on the final decisions made on the defense and foreign aid programs. With the Republican representation in the Senate and House sharply reduced by widespread election defeats, Eisenhower obviously hopes for more solid GOP backing for his proposals than he has had at times in past Congresses.

The White House conference apparently will give Nixon an opportunity to voice any ideas he may have about the program. His expected bid for the 1960 GOP presidential nomination will be affected significantly by the administration's record during the next two years.

Eisenhower and Nixon apparently are agreed on what they regard as the necessity for holding down over-all federal spending to combat inflation. At the same time both want to keep foreign aid assistance at a high level. During the political campaign period, however, Nixon tossed out some ideas indicating he would like to see the administration move into fields where Eisenhower is not expected to venture. Among other things, Nixon said the expected 13-billion-dollar de-

Hoover Urges Local Action In Hate Bombings

WASHINGTON (AP)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said today hate bombings by what he called criminal bigots can be fought most effectively by local law officials.

Hoover thus underscored repeated statements by the Justice Department that no legal grounds existed for federal authorities to take over the primary job of hunting down and punishing those responsible for recent bombings of Jewish centers and racially integrated schools.

However, an editorial by Hoover in the current issue of the FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin also stressed that FBI facilities always are available to help local police in fighting crime. "Just as experience proves that crime is a local problem," Hoover said, "so this present threat can be most effectively diagnosed and combated on the local level."

"Citizens in every city, county and state rightly look to their local law enforcement agency for protection against real or threatened violence. This is the primary duty of duly constituted local police authorities—the first line of defense against criminal acts."

$500,000 Suit In Theft Case

NEW YORK (AP)—Gulf Oil Corp. and two individuals are defendants in a $500,000 damage suit filed by the former head of a New York carpet firm. He alleges they conspired to cause his arrest and prosecution on a charge of conspiring to transport maps allegedly stolen from Gulf's office in Pittsburgh.

The complaint, Edward Lieberman, 32, whose 1956 address was in the Bronx, claimed that the individual defendants, John Levia and W. B. Edwards, acting as Gulf Oil agents, induced him to take the maps and caused them to be transported from Texas to New York.

His suit alleges the pair knew the maps were stolen but said he was unaware of it. Lieberman was indicted Dec. 27, 1956, in Pennsylvania through "false testimony" to the grand jury, his suit states, and he was acquitted last March in Pittsburgh.

Wealthy Gambler, Wife Found Slain

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Millionaire gambler Gus Greenbaum and his wife Bess were found dead in their Phoenix home Wednesday. Both had been killed with a nine-inch butcher knife.

Today, police scrutinized the past of Greenbaum for a clue. They have not established a motive, but officers said there was nothing to indicate the deaths were underworld assassinations.

Greenbaum, who had been ill recently, was 65. His wife was 64. He was president and part owner of the Riviera Hotel, the El Cortez Hotel and the Las Vegas Club in Las Vegas, Nev.

Although a three-carat diamond ring worn by Greenbaum was missing, Detective Capt. Orme Moorehead said other valuables were untouched. There was no sign of forcible entry to the house.

He said the couple apparently were slain Tuesday evening. Their maid discovered the bodies Wednesday afternoon.

Police reconstructed the crime this way:

Greenbaum was watching television in his bedroom. His wife had left to drive the maid home. The killer or killers entered, and killed Greenbaum with the knife, taken from the kitchen. When his wife returned, they slugged, bound and killed her. Her body was found face down on a couch about 50 feet away from her husband's bedroom. Her hands were tied behind her back with one of her husband's neckties.

Greenbaum, a native of Chicago, came to Phoenix 25 years ago with two brothers and founded a book-making dynasty that crumbled in a 1948 police crackdown. He then acquired interests in several Las Vegas establishments, including the Flamingo Hotel, built by mobster Bugsy Siegel. Siegel was slain by underworld bullets in 1947. Greenbaum sold his interest in the Flamingo in 1954 for a reported nine million dollars.

The Greenbaums had one child, Mrs. Harold Tenenbom, wife of a Phoenix insurance executive.

Humphrey Tells Russians U.S. 'Sick Of War'

MOSCOW (AP)—U.S. Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) told the Moscow television audience Wednesday night that the American people and their government are sick of war.

He urged the Soviet and American nations to join in seeking a just and lasting peace.

The 15-minute speech, which was translated into Russian on the broadcast over the Moscow station, was the first appearance of an American official on Soviet television since U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson spoke last July 3. Thompson on that unprecedented occasion called for abolition of censorship.

"The people of the world are tired of thinking of war, tired of misery," Humphrey told the viewers.

"Our people and our government too are tired of war. I know our President Eisenhower, who fought with your people in the last war, is anxious to cooperate with you in the only war we want—war against disease, poverty, ignorance, misery and fear."

Humphrey said there is "no question in this world which cannot be solved in peace." He appealed for the Soviet Union and the United States to cooperate to "give meaning and dignity to life by assuring spiritual and physical well-being of people everywhere."

"We want to know you and we want you to know us and visit us. We must learn to live together," he said.

Humphrey concludes a week's visit in the Soviet Union today and was to fly to Copenhagen. He came to seek Soviet cooperation in an international medical research program and had an eight-hour talk with Soviet Premier Khrushchev Tuesday.

Good Buys In Vegetables

Housewives had a wide choice of good buys this week in Texas fruit and vegetable markets.

Best buys were apples, citrus, pascal celery, film pack carrots, cauliflower, lettuce, rutabagas and Colorado round red potatoes, the Agricultural Marketing Service said. Lettuce is considerably lower than last week as a large volume from Arizona has begun to move into markets.

Supplies of Florida pole beans have fallen off but prices are down a shade. Also lower are Texas green peppers, tomatoes, mostly from California and Florida, and Florida cucumbers and corn.

Cauliflower from the Texas Winter Garden area is moving in fairly good volume at reasonable prices.

Chicago School Fire Victims Are Buried

Nuns' Funeral Attended By 1,200

CHICAGO (AP) — Some 1,200 grief-stricken mourners paid final respects today at a Requiem Mass for three nuns who died in the fire at Our Lady of the Angels school Monday.

Archbishop Albert Gregory Meyer celebrated the Mass for the three Sisters of Charity of the Blessed Virgin Mary who died valiantly to save their charges.

Eighty-seven pupils perished, and 72 survivors are in hospitals. Sixteen are in critical condition.

Six hundred nuns attended the Mass, including many of various other orders of the Roman Catholic Church. In the first six pews in the front of the church knelt the sorrowing relatives of the fire victims. About 150 knelt in front pews on the right side of the church near the charred school building.

An honor guard of firemen and policemen watched as the coffins bearing the bodies of Sisters Mary St. Canice Lyng, 44; Mary Seraphica Kelley, 43; and Clare Theresa Champagne, 26, were borne from the convent across the street to the church.

Nuns, relatives, clergymen, children who escaped the fire and women wearing babushkas, wept audibly, for the dedicated who were their friends and counselors in life.

Nun Comforts Burned Boy

His head encased in a swath of bandage, Lawrence Walter, 13, an 8th grade pupil at Our Lady of the Angels school, is comforted in Garfield Hospital, Chicago, by a nun. The boy was on the second floor of the school when fire swept through the building killing 90 persons.

fire inspectors from Chicago and other cities toured the ruins of the school. "We will make sure it will never happen again."

"When the investigations of the fire are ended, all necessary steps will be taken to protect our children. All the facilities of the city will be thrown into this."

In his report, Brown said he made an inch-by-inch study of the source of the flames in the U-shaped building.

Brown gave this account: A smoldering pile of rubbish at the foot of a wooden stairwell generated heat which accumulated until it broke a basement window four feet above the rubbish pile. The smoldering trash was fanned into flames which quickly shot up the unenclosed stairwell to the second (top) floor. Most of the fatalities occurred there.

Investigators said old examinations, books and newspapers had been stacked at the foot of the staircases.

A schoolboy sneaking a smoke and then tossing away the cigarette was one popular theory.

Coroner Walter McCarron announced plans to summon city, county, and state officials, safety engineers, architects and construction experts for an inquest next Wednesday before a blue-ribbon jury.

The tragic fire was the first in the 125-year history of the Sisters of Charity to claim a sister or a pupil as its victim. In 1870, a small building which then served as the community's motherhouse in Dubuque, Iowa, was destroyed by fire, but it caused no fatalities. The sisters since have offered daily prayer that they might be spared against fire.

The nun fire victims will rest in Mount Carmel Cemetery.

A mass funeral for some 26 of the 87 child victims will be held Friday in an army in the Northwest Side neighborhood still stunned by the tragedy.

Archbishop Meyer again will sing the Mass. Francis Cardinal Spellman has wired from New York that he will attend.

Other bereaved parents will bury their dead in simple, separate rites, many in the church for which the school was named.

Seventy-two other persons remain in hospitals with injuries. Fourteen were critical.

Even as the Mass was to be sung, investigators continued their probe into the cause of the fire.

A top fire expert, Sgt. Drew Brown, head of the police arson squad, issued a report concluding the fire sprang from a smoldering rubbish pile in a northeast stairwell and then raged up the wooden staircase.

But he could not say what started the fire.

"We have not ruled out arson," said Fire Commissioner Robert J. Quinn. He said he also believes the source of the flames was a rubbish pile. "But there is a possibility that a discarded cigarette or a match was a cause. It is something we may never know."

Three Firms Show Interest In Master Plan For City

Half of the firms contacted in reference to a master planning survey for the city have replied they are ready to discuss the matter. Acting City Manager Clifton Bellamy reported that three firms have replied they are interested and would like to talk to the planning committee. Five firms were asked to submit proposals on the planning program, and one other then requested permission to submit a proposal. The committee which is studying the matter has not met since reception of the replies from the firms, Bellamy said. On the committee are representatives of the City Commission, Big Spring Independent School District, County Commissioners C o u r t, HCJC board, and the Chamber of Commerce.

Since the city is asking the federal government for aid in the program, the city must first get proposals from government-approved firms and then proceed. Big Spring is able to qualify as being under 25,000 population, since 1950 census figures are used.

Dentist's Appeal Denied By Court In Drug Assault

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—For raping a drugged woman patient, Dr. John Rhine of Tulsa must serve two years in prison, the State Criminal Court of Appeals held.

Rhine was convicted a year ago of second degree rape.

"No more treacherous, contemptible, criminal cunning could be displayed than in this design, planned scheme as an instrument for violating the sacred virtue of womanhood," the high court held yesterday.

His alleged victim had testified Dr. Rhine assaulted her at her home after sending her husband on an errand to get a prescription July 27, 1956.

She told the Tulsa court she was given intravenous injections of a narcotic and anesthetic agent which left her in a partial coma and without power of resistance.

Further, she testified, she became momentarily unconscious and awoke as the doctor was getting in bed with her.

Divorcee Still Does Housework

LONDON (AP)—For six years Mrs. Margaret Lingham-French took husband John this morning cup of tea in bed. She was still doing this morning though they were divorced nine days ago.

"It's hard to break the habits of six years of marriage," explained Mrs. Lingham-French, dark-haired and 36. "Even though we are divorced, I still cook his meals and do the washing up. And when I've done the washing up, I'll be darning his socks."

Mrs. Lingham-French won her divorce on the ground of cruelty and moved into another bedroom. But she can't move out of the house because she hasn't yet found an apartment she can afford on the 5 pounds ($14) a week he agreed to give her for herself and their three children, Margaret 5, Hillary 4, and Katrina 2.

Soviet Union Close To A Shot At Moon

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—The Soviet Union is reported very close to shooting for the moon, a scientist writes in the magazine Space Journal.

A U.S. Army shot for the moon is expected this weekend.

The Soviet attempt could be a fancy one—to put a 110-to-220-pound probe into orbit around the moon, taking movies and TV pictures.

A Soviet scientist way back in February 1957 outlined just such a plan, calling it "cosmic booming," says Ronald C. Wakeford, director of research of the National Research and Development Corp., Atlanta, Ga.

"It is believed that this project has been actively pursued since its inception and that it is currently approaching the hardware stage," Wakeford says. Space Journal is the magazine of the Rocket City Astronomical Assn., organized by scientists at Redstone Arsenal with Dr. Wernher von Braun as one of the leaders.

Reports suggest the Soviet moon probe will be radio-tele-directed from earth, relaying moon pictures back, Wakeford says. He says the Russians are particularly interested in learning whether the moon has earthquakes, why some moon craters seem to appear and disappear, and the meaning of some white clouds which seem to be found in certain areas of the moon.

A Soviet astronomer recently said he had taken photographs of apparent volcanic action on the moon.

The Soviets are pushing ahead in guided missiles, and surely have rockets capable of reaching the moon, Wakeford notes.

"They have constructed, and have launched, and have in production, every type of missile that is known from underwater-to-surface through the missile spectrum to surface-to-surface."

Soviet launching sites for intercontinental (5,000-mile) and intermediate range (1,500-mile) vehicles "have been pinpointed and ballistic flights of their major weapons apparently have been tracked by radar from Turkey."

"Launching bases, missile plants, missile schools, missile test centers and all the attendant facilities needed for experimentation and production are to be found all over the U.S.S.R. Quantity production is apparent, and we have no reason to doubt the quality of the products," Wakeford adds.

The Russians are believed to have seven types of intermediate range missiles, with probably more than half being in operation, he says. They also have two intercontinental missiles—the T-3 and T-3A—which are in operation and which can carry hydrogen warheads.

"It is extremely likely that Soviet scientists will have man in space shortly," Wakeford declares.

Medics Ponder Insurance Plan

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The House of Delegates, policy-making body of the American Medical Assn., today was considering a plan for a voluntary, low-cost health insurance program for the low-income elderly with modest resources.

The proposal was drawn up by the AMA Council on Medical Service and carries the blessing of the board of trustees.

Under it, physicians would agree to accept lower fees from persons over 65 in low income levels, thus affording them a reduction in health insurance premiums.

Dr. Robert L. Novy, Detroit, council member, said the plan contemplates a scale of graduated fees, dropping at some predetermined income point. The resolution does not fix such a cutoff. Dr. Novy said some Blue Shield plans now offer such policies at local levels but that council members felt they should be adopted nationally. He called the resolution a recognition by physicians that the problem is their responsibility and that they are willing to do something about it.

"We believe this is a field where the government will act if the doctors don't," Dr. Novy said.

Actress Sues

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Natalie Wood has sued a magazine for $400,000 damages, charging libel and invasion of privacy. Her complaint, filed against TV and Movie Screen magazine, said its Sept. 1 issue contained false statements regarding her private life.

2 Convicted Of Mail Fraud

HOUSTON (AP)—Two defendants in the U.S. Trust & Guaranty Co. mail fraud case were found guilty yesterday.

Federal Judge Joe Ingraham announced the verdicts immediately after James Hay of Waco and Willis Lewis of Little Rock entered pleas of no contest.

Sentencing was postponed until Dec. 30. The maximum penalty would be five years in prison and $1,000 fine.

Hay and Lewis, along with four of the five other defendants, had pleaded innocent when arraigned Aug. 6, 1957, on an indictment listing 10 mail fraud counts and one charging violation of federal securities laws. Yesterday's pleas were entered only on one mail fraud count. Asst. U. S. Atty. Dan Kennerly said the remaining 10 counts will be dismissed.

Mat Friedman, a Houston lawyer, said another defendant, W. E. Hutchender of San Antonio, probably would appear in court today.

The remaining defendants are A. B. Shoemaker, former president of the defunct Waco insurance firm, and Marshall Fuglaar Sr. and Sylvester Loughlin, both of San Antonio. A seventh defendant, J. Hugh Hope, died Nov. 13 at Waco.

Allergist Reports Asthma Treatment

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN Associated Press Science Writer

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—An allergist reported today that the simple procedure of reducing blood acidity with alkaline injections brought rapid and dramatic relief to asthmatic patients on the threshold of death.

Dr. J. S. Blumenthal of the University of Minnesota Medical School said the victims revived no longer responded to standard treatment with epinephrine (adrenalin) and were literally being asphyxiated.

Epinephrine is a synthetic form of Adrenin, a hormone produced in the adrenal glands.

In an asthma attack, the walls of the ducts leading to tiny air sacs in the lungs collapse. This prevents air from entering or leaving. The patient has difficulty breathing and if the condition continues a thick tenacious secretion develops in the lungs. This further complicates breathing.

Epinephrine stimulates muscle contraction, causing the duct walls to return to normal. But the hormone sometimes loses its effectiveness. The condition is known as epinephrine-fastness, and its cause is not fully understood.

Dr. Blumenthal said in a report at the annual clinical conference of the American Medical Assn.: "There is nothing more disturbing than to find that adrenalin, the drug which is still by far the best in the treatment of acute allergic states, is losing its effectiveness."

He said a series of studies aimed at finding a solution to the problem showed that epinephrine works fast when the blood is more alkaline than acid.

Working on this line, Dr. Blumenthal and his associates injected a sodium lactate solution into the bloodstreams of 45 patients. No other medication was added. All quickly recovered from their attacks.

Dr. Blumenthal said the results apparently were due to the effectiveness of the patients' own adrenin.

Buddy Dial Lone SWC Man On All-American

By TED SMITS
 Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Randy Duncan of Iowa, the 1958 No. 1 draft choice of professional football, heads the backfield of The Associated Press All-American team announced today.

Teamed with him are Pete Dawkins of Army's undefeated team; Billy Cannon of Louisiana State, the national champion; and Bill Austin of Rutgers, who lifted into prominence again the historic school where football was born. First team ends are James Houston of Ohio State and Buddy Dial of Rice. At tackle are Brock Strom, the key man of the surprising Air Force Academy, and Ted Bates of Oregon State. Zeke Smith of Auburn and George Deiderich of Vanderbilt are the guards, Bob Harrison of Oklahoma is at center.

The Associated Press All-American is selected on the basis of the recommendations of 12 regional boards composed of newspapermen and newscasters, and takes into account the full season's play through games of Nov. 29.

Giants Acquire Stanford In Trade With Phillies

By JOE REICHLER
 Associated Press Special Service
WASHINGTON (AP)—The San Francisco Giants, realizing they must strengthen their pitching staff to become a National League pennant factor in 1959, have taken their first step in that direction.

In the other deal, the Phillies sent outfielder Chuck Essegian, former Stanford football star, to the St. Louis Cardinals for shortstop Ruben Amaro.

Sanford was hit by the sophomore jinx in 1958. Although at times he appeared as fast as ever, the 29-year-old Wellesley, Mass., hurler slumped to a 10-13 record. His strikeouts dwindled to 106 and his earned run average soared from 3.08 to 4.45.

They teamed with Philadelphia to complete a three-player deal involving a pair of pitchers.

Only a year ago, Sanford was perhaps the best right-hander in the league. At least he was voted Rookie of the Year following his 19-8 record which included a league-leading 188 strike outs.

Although not as famous as his batterymate, Thomas may prove to be more important in Philadelphia's scheme of things. Perhaps the Phil's biggest need is a first-string catcher and Thomas may wrest the No. 1 job from Stan Lopata.

Dial, always an excellent receiver, became a standout defensive player at Rice. Over his entire college career he caught 68 passes for 1,205 yards and scored 13 touchdowns.

Strom at tackle is the bulwark of a team that almost literally came from outer space to go through the season undefeated and land in the Cotton Bowl.

Bates of Oregon State, the other tackle, is a 218-pounder described by Coach Tommy Froehner as "extremely quick with great striking power."

Along with Cannon and Houston, Roger Duane (Zeke) Smith is a junior, a 210-pounder at guard who is one of the chief reasons Auburn went through the season with only the blemish of a tie against its record.

George Deiderich of Vanderbilt, the other first team guard, shone even in defeat. He holds the school's high hurdles record and can block as viciously as he tackles.

OCCASIONALLY, TINY CAGERS GET IN LICKS

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It doesn't happen often, but sometimes the little men come up with the big night in college basketball. It was that way Wednesday night when All-America Don Hennon of Pittsburgh and Lou Pucillo of North Carolina State paced their teams to important victories. Hennon, the 5-8 1/2 sharpshooter, scored 41 points, as the Panthers defeated Ohio State 73-70. Pucillo, 5-9, popped in a one-hand jump shot with two seconds remaining to give the Wolfpack a 55-53 victory over Maryland in an Atlantic Coast Conference tilt.

Joe Cronin May Succeed Harridge As Loop Prexy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Joe Cronin, 52, general manager of the Boston Red Sox and a member of Baseball's Hall of Fame, is the leading candidate to become the new president of the American League.

Will Harridge, president for 28 years and a league employe for 47, resigned Wednesday with eight years to go on a contract calling for a $50,000 annual salary.

The 72-year-old executive is stepping down, as he put it, "to give the league the benefit of new thinking by a younger man to handle the many problems facing baseball." Harridge will continue to serve until a successor is named. Attention immediately focused on Cronin who acknowledged interest in the job. In fact, there were strong rumors that Cronin had the job and Bucky Harris would take over as Red Sox general manager.

However, the league named a six-man screening committee to consider candidates and indicated the decision possibly would be a matter of several weeks' work. Cronin wasn't the only candidate.

Among those mentioned prominently were Bill DeWitt, administrator of the majors' $500,000 minor league fund; George Weiss, New York Yankee general manager; Frank Lane, Cleveland general manager; and Earl Hilligan, public relations man for the league and Harridge's long-time assistant.

Flag Ball Champions

PTG Wins Flag Football Title

Charlie Bussey's three touchdowns on runs of 21, 11 and three yards, coupled with his eight-yard pass to George Courington, was all the Pilot Training Group needed to trim Section III, 28-18, and capture the 1958 Flag Football Championship at Webb this week.

After Bussey tallied his first TD, Emil Boado hauled in an 11-yarder from Pat Doyle to even the count at 6-6. Neither team made good on a pass for point.

Bussey then added his second score and ran for PAT to give Group a 14-6 advantage.

Doyle came through with a long aerial to Boado, the play covering 52 yards, to move within two points of the leaders. The run for PAT failed.

As the first half drew to a close, Bussey made his third dart into pay dirt and added point to a 22-12 lead.

The second half was a scoreless duel until Bussey hit Courington with a touchdown fling that put Group ahead by 15 points. Then, on the first scrimmage play following the kick-off, Boado skirted end for 41 yards and the game's final tally — PT Group was the champ, 28-18.

In the first of two semi-final contests, Group downed the Air Police, 29-7, behind the running and passing of Bussey.

Early in the tilt, Bussey smashed through the line for 15 yards and a TD, adding point to make it 8 to 0. Minutes later, his 40-yard pass to Courington and a PAT run gave his team a 14 point lead.

As the second half got under way, the Bussey-Courington combination made it 22 to 0 on a two-yarder. The PAT was no good. The Air Police scored their lone tally on a nine-yard pass by Emery Windrow to Jack Pasco. They also made point. Group got its final six points and PAT on Bussey-Courington aerials. The second game saw Section III, paced by the ball-stealing of Boado, up-end Section II, 27-16.

Track Site Cleared Away For Motorcycle Races

A new track-site was cleared away yesterday, entrants can be expected from such cities as Fort Worth, San Angelo, Lubbock, Midland, Odessa, Dallas and Abilene, and the stage is all set for motorcycle scrambles events slated here Sunday, near the Grafa gravel pit.

The track is located to the south and left of Birdwell Lane near the new FM Road 700, which is under construction.

The motorcycle events are being sponsored by the White Hawk club, composed of local cyclists who are putting on their second show of this kind this year.

Twelve trophies will be awarded in five classes, including the prizes for the grand finale and consolation races. Six races will be run, said Charles Stigens, acting advisor for the club and operator of a local motorcycle shop.

Cyclists will be facing six laps of rugged going on a half-mile track, laden with hills and chug holes—hence, the name scrambles—when the gun sounds Sunday at 1 p.m. for the time trials. Eliminations will follow immediately. Classifications in the cycles events will be based on cubic centimeters of the engines: 250 cc., 350 cc., 500 cc., etc.

Mason Lee West is president of the White Hawk cycle club, which is sanctioned by the American Motorcycle Assn. He, along with Billy Lynch, Ralph Bowen and other local boys will be competing in the scrambles. There are approximately 15 active members in the club.

Admission is 50 cents per person. Entrants pay a one dollar fee which covers insurance.

Farm Pacts Cause A Major Squabble

WASHINGTON (AP)—Major league farm directors attempt today to untangle a scramble for working agreements. It has turned a two-league realignment into a four-league quarrel.

Baseball officials hoped to conclude the Texas League-American Assn. realignment, keep the Eastern and South Atlantic Leagues intact and settle the biggest row over the current major-minor baseball meetings.

The Triple-A association expect to come through the negotiations with 10 teams, including the three it bargained for from the double-A Texas.

The Texas, however, may be forced to enter the 1959 season with six teams instead of the eight it contemplated.

In return, it was reported, the Texas would receive another $20,000 or so in damages in addition to the $75,000 promised for the three franchises it surrendered to the American. These were Houston, Dallas and Fort Worth.

As a condition to the realignment, President Dick Butler of the Texas League had insisted on a guarantee of working agreements for his remaining teams and any replacements.

As a result of this, officials of the Class A Eastern and Sally Leagues reported their clubs were threatened with the loss of major league support in order to sustain the AA-Texas shuffle.

Grumbling of alleged high-pressure tactics grew so loud that Baseball Commissioner Ford Fick ball yesterday summoned presidents of all four leagues in an effort to mollify feelings. They all met with Bill DeWitt, coordinator in the majors' half-million dollar fund to aid the minors.

DeWitt, who has pushed the Texas-AA realignment, said later "there has been no pressure applied at any time—without exception."

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

I'm all for improving and maintaining the athletic facilities around our junior high and elementary schools. I would be tickled pink if each school in the city had a gym it could call its own, as well as a grass practice field or playground, whatever you choose to call it.

At the same time, I believe the high school deserves the available best because (1) all elementary and junior high school athletes are groomed for varsity play and (2) more people see the high school boys in action.

Goliad JH opened its doors for the first time here in September and officials saw to it that the school had a fine gym. It has gone a long way toward easing the demand for basketball playing areas within the city.

The most modern kind of scoreboard, complete with a winking type clock, was ordered. There was some talk the new board would go into the high school gym and Goliad would fall heir to the antiquated timing and scoring device in Steer Gym. Such was not the case.

At best, the scoreboard in Steer Gym wasn't too good. It is worse still now, what with a good portion of the lights gone dark. The clock, the kind with a face and hands, doesn't always work and when it does some people have difficulty in reading it.

The outdated contraption has become a thing about which visiting players and coaches jest. Fact is, if it had ears it might stay red all the time rather than in the final minute of each quarter.

Here's the way this week's playoff football games look to me: ABILENE 16 Wichita Falls 6. I've been voting Wichita Falls over Abilene in most of the schoolboy polls this fall. Now that it comes time for them to meet, I get cold feet. Big reason for my ballot, however, is that they're playing in Abilene. The Eagles are hard to contain at home. If any one turns the trick against Chuck Moser this fall, however, it's apt to be Joe Goiding.

HIGHLAND PARK 21 Amon Carter-Riverside 8. Tugboat Jones is up to his old tricks, that of bringing his boys along slowly and getting them ready for the playoffs. Tugboat couldn't believe it himself last year, all that success in such a short time. However, the sweep to the state championship will, no doubt, give his Scotties the required poise. Carter-Riverside upset Dallas Jefferson last week but it possibly would have been different had the game been played on a dry field.

PASADENA 21 Houston Reagan 0. Pasadena is a far better club than it was in September. Reagan limped into the playoffs when someone wasn't looking and now has a 5-1-1 record. They'll be playing .500 ball after Saturday.

SAN ANTONIO JEFFERSON 15 Corpus Christi Miller 0. Jefferson would be favored in any instance but will have the added advantage of playing at home. Miller looked good in its own back yard but against tilans from around the state folded like an accordion. Jeff's only loss was to Abilene and the Eagles were extremely lucky to walk off the field winners in that one.

BRECKENRIDGE 42 Andrews 8. Even with Ronnie Brice, the Mustangs would be sadly outclassed here. Andrews has already gone farther than any one dared think they would.

CARTHAGE 8 McKinney 6. Sticking with an inspired ball club that still hasn't been beaten.

CLEBURNE 16 Alvin 8. Sticking with a team that has consistently stayed in the "top ten" all season.

SAN ANTONIO SAM HOUSTON 7 Kingsville 6. Strictly a shot in the dark.

STAMFORD 35 Spur 13. The end of the road for a gallant team. TERRELL 29 Marlin 0. The champions continue unchecked. BRADY 20 Liberty 0. Not even a governor's proclamation (Price Daniel grew up in Liberty) could help here.

ANGELTON 13 Pearsall 8. Working on an unbeaten string. WHITE DEER 20 Plains 12. Judging the teams off their games against Farwell. MASON 16 Talco 0. Talco is living on borrowed time. MART 27 Elgin 0. A clear road ahead for Mart, now that White Oak has been disqualified. GEORGE WEST 22 East Bernard 6. A good team getting better.

DEAR ABBY

A FIRST TIME

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: The first time I ever disagreed with one of your answers was when you told that girl not to date boys out of her religion. Just because of twice doesn't mean she is going to marry him. I think it is perfectly okay to date out of your own religion as long as you don't get serious.

Should I invite her back? BURNED UP DAUGHTER-IN-LAW DEAR BURNED UP: I have a "flash" for you. Your home is also her son's home and you should make her feel welcome. Three days a year is not much of a sacrifice.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to say a few words to the sixteen-year-old girl whose father wouldn't allow her to date boys other than those of her own religion. Please listen to him. He is trying to save you lots of heartbreak. I dated a boy out of my religion. It all started with just a casual date. I enjoyed his company and we dated again and again. Before we realized it we fell in love. We were both strong in our own religions so there was no way out. We broke up. Although I'll never forget him, I know it is best. Please listen to your father. He is a wise man.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has a best friend who talks big but acts small. I recently had a baby and this best friend and his wife sent me the cheapest gift I ever saw. I am ashamed to show it to anybody. The wife of this best friend is going to have a baby in March. Should I wrap up this cheap gift and send it back to them just to show them how cheap they are?

ANGRY DEAR ANGRY: Forget that little scheme! It would only show them how cheap YOU are.

CONFIDENTIAL TO UNCLE MAX: It's not so important to add YEARS TO OUR LIFE as it is to add LIFE TO YOUR YEARS.

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law has been coming to visit us every year around Christmas for the past three years, ever since she lost her husband. Last year I don't remember when I have put in three more miserable days in my life. She gets "hot flashes" and would take off her blouse or dress wherever she happened to be. I have a ten-year-old son and I didn't want her undressing in front of him so I had to watch her like a hawk and when she looked like she was going to start undressing I would get my boy out fast. Furthermore, she'd mention fifty times a day how much my son looked like HER deceased husband, which he does not. He is the image of MY father. Christmas is coming.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of the Big Spring Herald. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

If you want a collection of Abby's best letters and answers in one book, ask your bookstore to get "DEAR ABBY" for you.

Educator Lauds Free Conscience

WACO, Tex. (AP)—"A free conscience means a free spirit and an unfettered soul," Dr. W. R. White, president of Baylor University, told the 123rd annual meeting of the Grand Lodge of Texas last night.

He is grand orator of the Masonic group.

"Free Masonry stands aghast at the new tyranny called totalitarianism which completely controls the body, mind and soul," he said.

"Whether this slavery is imposed by the church or state, it is equally distasteful to true Masonry."

White said neither a state-dominated church nor a church-dominated state is healthy.

About 3,000 masons had registered for the meeting. More were expected at today's closing session, at which election of new officers was scheduled. Top officers traditionally advance to the next higher posts.

Grand Master John Kemmerer will retire. Other high officers are Deputy Grand Master Randall Briscoe of Houston, Grand Senior Warden John Bean of El Paso and Grand Junior Warden William Proctor of McKinney.

Jewels, Baubles Of 'Peaches' Browning Bring About $50,000

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The jewels and baubles of Peaches Browning, a nostalgic name from the Roaring 20s, were auctioned off Wednesday for an estimated $50,000.

Advance appraisals on the trinkets Peaches had collected in a front-paged career of four marriages had ranged up to $250,000.

Gem dealers did most of the bidding and buying. The sales room was well filled with women contemporaries of the late Peaches.

The auction was a proceeding in settling the estate of Mrs. Frances (Peaches) Heenan Browning Hynes Civelli Willson. She died two years ago, at 46, in her New York apartment after a fall in her bathroom.

Secretary Of Moody Bible Panel Dies

CHICAGO (AP)—William Garland, 59, secretary of the Board of Trustees of the Moody Bible Institute and president of the Johnson Glass Co., died Wednesday of a heart ailment.

Accidental Death

FORT WORTH (AP)—Mrs. Hugh Wallace, 73, apparently died in her home from a fall in which she slipped on a rug and disconnected a gas hose, a justice of the peace said yesterday. He entered a verdict of accidental death.

She had rocketed to her Page 1 place in jazz age history 30 years earlier with the first of her marriages. She was 15 when she and Edward (Daddy) Browning, a free-spending and eccentric New York real estate millionaire, were wedded. Browning was 51 then.

Peaches, whose first name was Frances Heenan, was the daughter of a Columbus, Ohio, nurse. After her 1925 wedding in New York to Daddy Browning ended—she appeared for a time in vaudeville.

Her other husbands were Bernard J. Hynes, a Denver theater man she married in 1934 in New York; Joseph Civelli, a San Francisco department store executive she married in 1941 at Minden, Nev.; and Ralph N. Willson, the scion of a Columbus, Ohio, meat packing family whom she married in 1946. Her last marriage ended in divorce in 1949.

Peaches willed her estate to her mother Mrs. Carolyn Heenan, who made her home in San Carlos, a peninsula suburb of San Francisco.

The jewel collection filled three glasses in china cases. Most of the 105 pieces were rings, including one eight-carat diamond and another of six carats. There also were bracelets, necklaces, watches, brooches, pendants and earrings.

Gas Farber, owner of the Diamond Syndicate of California, bought the eight-carat diamond ring at $9,500, highest single bid of the sale. Farber was the major buyer throughout.

When a 25-carat sapphire, valued at $4,000, brought only $750, W. M. Spellins, the auctioneer, moaned, "You'd think I was selling costume jewelry."

A diamond bracelet, appraised at $21,000, was sold for a top bid of $7,500.

"Always remember," Spellins scolded his sale audience, "the jewels we gave away here."

10 Jurors Selected For Murder Trial

ANGLETON, Tex. (AP)—Ten jurors have been selected for the murder trial of Mrs. Ethel Mae Simpson which entered its fourth day today.

Mrs. Simpson, 33, is charged with shooting her husband, Jimmy Simpson, 35, a Fort Worth aircraft plant worker, July 2 at a fishing camp near Freeport.

2 Men Killed

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Two men died under caving earth as they worked in a drainage ditch 12 feet deep Wednesday. The cave-in injured four others.

Only six inches of dirt covered the workmen. Police said the force of its tumble apparently killed Santiago Ontivero, 63, San Antonio, and Marclano Luna, 55, Seguin, Tex.

Aged Killer May Be Home For Christmas

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP)—Guido Grassi, an aged, convicted murderer who gambled the last years of his life for a pardon, may be home for Christmas.

Home to the 78-year-old Grassi is Italy, a country he left 48 years ago as a penniless immigrant.

The last 35 of those years Grassi has spent in the Washington State Penitentiary for murdering three men in Aberdeen in 1923.

Grassi had been sentenced to hang after his conviction. But the execution was postponed after he was judged insane.

Last September, in a bid to return to his homeland, he went before a court and was declared sane. The old death sentence was automatically reset, this time for 12:01 a.m., Dec. 5.

The move was necessary in order that Grassi might petition the governor for a pardon.

Wednesday, Grassi, who speaks only a few words of English, was led from his death row cell to a meeting with Warden Bob Rhay. "Explain to him," Rhay told an interpreter, "that he will get a pardon from the governor after three stipulations are met."

Tears welled in Grassi's eyes and a smile spread over his lined face as he heard Rhay's words translated.

He was told Gov. Albert D. Rosellini had commuted his death sentence to life imprisonment and had left the door wide open for a pardon.

The governor said if psychiatrists find Grassi sane to be at large, then a request for a pardon may be granted on condition Grassi remain in custody until he leaves this country, returns to Italy at no expense to the state and never again enters the United States, its territories or possessions.

Grassi said nothing until he was told he must return to his homeland at no expense to the state.

"Where are they going to get the money?" he asked.

His fellow convicts say they have the answer.

They have pledged the necessary funds to return Grassi to Italy, where he has three sons. Grassi's wife died there eight years ago. Another son was killed during World War I.

"I know you will be disappointed you are not going home tomorrow," Rhay told the old man, "but let's hope for Christmas."

Grassi, who was known as the prison's "forgotten man" and who seldom spoke to anyone, answered with two of the several English words he knows: "America good!"

A&M Second

CHICAGO (AP)—Texas A&M College placed second in the 25th annual intercollegiate poultry judging contest last night. Kansas State College was first.

Coahoma Enrollment Hits 700, Expansion Planned

COAHOMA (SC) — Enrollment at the Coahoma schools has passed the 700 mark, and trustees have flashed the go ahead for planning of more building space.

On Monday morning the enrollment hit 705, the first time in the history of the school that it had exceeded 700, said H. L. Miller, superintendent. The second grade sections at Coahoma and Midway schools have a total of 100; the first grades 94. All others range from 60-70.

The board has instructed Wilson & Patterson of Fort Worth, who planned the last addition to the schools here, to proceed with plans based primarily on a new high school.

This would enable the present plant to be used as a junior high, and also would free junior high rooms for elementary purposes. The idea is to conform to the general pattern of grades one through six for the elementary school, seven through nine for junior high and ten through twelve for high school.

Ransom Galloway has been engaged to handle the bond transactions which will be required after plans have been agreed upon, said Miller.

The board has employed one new teacher, Mrs. Ty Renfro, who came here from Abilene when her husband was transferred to the home plant by Cosden.

Pleads Guilty, Term Suspended

Bryan Ragg, 39, Odessa, under indictment for passing a forged instrument, pleaded guilty in 118th District Court Wednesday afternoon.

He asked for a suspended sentence, asserting that he had no criminal record. Guilford Jones, district attorney, told the court that Ragg had never been arrested for serious offenses but had been picked up on several occasions for misdemeanors. The district attorney recommended the suspended sentence asked by the defendant.

Judge Sullivan sentenced Ragg to three years in state prison and then suspended the sentence.

Slaying Suspects Go Before Coke Co. Grand Jury Monday

ROBERT LEE (SC) — Willie McDade, just turned 17, and his 24-year-old partner, Roosevelt Wylie, will go before the Coke County Grand Jury here Monday, charged with the slaying of a San Angelo milk truck driver near Water Valley last Oct. 24.

McDade was 16—legally a juvenile—at the time of the crime. The grand jury has been in recess, waiting for the young suspect to reach the age of 17 at which he can be treated as an adult.

Wylie's birthday was Nov. 26. Wylie and McDade were arrested in Big Spring, a few hours after Lewis (Shorty) Canada of San Angelo was stabbed to death and robbed of about $900. Canada's milk truck was found abandoned on a Big Spring street, setting off the search that resulted in the apprehension of the Odessa Negroes.

The pair admitted to Big Spring officers that they killed Canada, 58, after he stopped on the highway to assist them with a stalled vehicle. They said they then drove the milk truck to Big Spring, purchased new clothes and made plans to catch a bus. They were arrested in a tavern.

Several Big Spring officers have been subpoenaed for the grand jury investigation which will convene Monday morning.

The two Negroes have been in jail since their arrest, but Sheriff Paul Good has refused to say where they have been held since being transferred from the Coke County jail a few days after the slaying.

Grand jurors are G. C. Allen, Melvin Childress, J. F. McCabe Jr., Will Percifull, J. W. Service, Otto Wojtek, B. B. Mackey, John E. Scott, T. E. Tidwell, S. C. Saylor, Bob Odum and R. H. Godwin.

Schools Closed As Fire Hazards

NEW YORK (AP)—A five-story public school, a four-story private school and a private school dormitory were closed Wednesday in a fire department drive on school fire hazards.

The buildings were ordered shut down until violations have been corrected.

The drive is an attempt to reduce the possibility of disastrous fires such as the blaze which cost 90 lives in a Chicago parochial school Monday.

Among alleged violations were storing of flammable materials under staircases, inoperative sprinkler system and inoperative fire doors.

H. H. Hurt Jr. Writes Article On Aviation

Hugh Harrison Hurt Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hurt, is author of an article in the current issue of Combat Crew, the magazine of the Strategic Air Command.

The issue is devoted to safety and maintenance.

Hurt, who is head of the engineering section of the Aviation Safety Division at the University of Southern California, wrote under the title of "Something's Gotta Give."

In this four-page article, which is well illustrated, he explained the technical reasons for close attention to load and stress factors in aircraft, and why this was particularly important as the age of the craft increases.

Besides his duties as head of the engineering section in the safety division at USC, Hurt also is an instructor in the Flying Safety Officers Course and the School of Engineering.

A graduate of Big Spring High School and of Texas A&M, Hurt later took his graduate degree at USC. From 1945 to 1947 he was a pilot in the U. S. Navy and later was employed as an engineer by North American Aviation, Inc., from 1950-53.

He and Mrs. Hurt and their children plan to spend the Christmas holidays here with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hurt and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Bean.

The story is taken from documentary films over the past 50 years and compiles into a fast-moving half-hour film. The reflects not only the life of the general but also a panorama of half a century in American history and Army activity.

The story follows the steps of the general's career from West Point, although his times as the youngest general in World War I through his achievements as chief of staff, and to his retirement to private life.

Scientists Assume Satellite Rocket Met Fiery Death

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Scientists carefully assumed today that the Soviet rocket which launched Sputnik III into orbit last May 15 plunged to a fiery death Wednesday.

The Pullman-car-sized rocket weighing between two and five tons was last seen in orbit Wednesday morning. There have been no sightings of it since.

From Oslo came a report that some people claimed they saw the last ride of the Soviet carrier rocket moving in the direction of Sweden.

Reports from near the Swedish border said a burning rocket was seen in mid-afternoon.

Despite the size of the rocket, scientists said, very little, if any part of it at all, would remain intact as it reached the earth.

They explained that friction from the earth's dense atmosphere would cause the satellite to burn and disintegrate.

The last known sighting in this country of the empty metal tube was by a Moonwatch team at Wichita, Kan., Wednesday morning. At that time it was seen as a steady, white light moving across the sky. It had then not begun to heat up.

The plunge of the Sputnik III rocket leaves four man-made satellites still circling the globe—Sputnik III itself and three American satellites.

MR. AND MRS. J. J. DAILY
... plan open house Sunday

Open House To Mark Couple's Anniversary

Today marks the 60th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Daily, 1101 Sycamore, who will celebrate the occasion with an open house Sunday afternoon.

No invitations are being issued, but friends are expected to call at the home of the couple between the hours of 1 to 6 p.m. Sunday.

Joining their parents for the hospitality will be Mr. and Mrs. Earl Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Orbin Daily and Mr. and Mrs. Perry Daily, all of Big Spring. Two other daughters, Mrs. Arch Nurse and Mrs. Joe Chambers, both of Stockton, Calif., will be unable to attend the gathering.

Included in the house party will be Mrs. Jack Montgomery, Mrs. F. D. Rogers, Mrs. Joe Sellers, Mrs. W. A. Burchell and Mrs. Luther Faulkner of Slaton. Also assisting will be several of the 10 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren of the couple.

Mrs. Daily, who is the former Essie Perry, was married to Daily on Dec. 4, 1898, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Perry, in Goldthwaite, by the Rev.

Miles, a Baptist minister.

They moved to a farm near Abilene and later lived in the Luther Community. In 1938, the couple came to Big Spring, and Daily, affectionately known as Uncle Jim, has been in the employ of the local school system for 26 years.

Both have been active church members in the First Baptist Church and, more recently, in the Baptist Temple.

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

The various means of staging plays will never cease to fascinate me. The Diary of Anne Frank, which played here last night, was so forcefully presented with one set and off stage reading. I was surprised at the humor injected into the sad story. Actors are wonderful people, aren't they? If you neglected to get a ticket for the concert series this year, don't let it happen again. These presentations are really worth the time and certainly worth the money.

MR. AND MRS. HAROLD FARQUHAR are in Lubbock where they will meet their daughters, MRS. RUSSELL NELSON and NITA BETH FARQUHAR, and the three little Nelson grandchildren, Barry, Debbie and Russell Allen, who will arrive by train tonight from Victorville, Calif. Nita Beth has been with her sister since September while Capt. Nelson has been in Spain. He hopes to be here for Christmas with the family.

MRS. ROY MINEAR of Midland who visited here Wednesday with her mother, Mrs. E. D. Merrill, tells me she has a big Christmas gift which is a trip to Honolulu, Hawaii. She and Mr. Minear will leave the states on the 16th and will leave Hawaii on Dec. 27. They plan to visit relatives and friends in California before returning to Midland.

MRS. TOM SULLIVAN has become a great-grandmother again with the arrival of a son to CAPT. AND MRS. THOMAS D. ALEXANDER of Randolph Field in San Antonio.

The arrival makes the seventh grandchild for MR. AND MRS. HORACE BEENE, Mrs. Alexander is the former Joyce Beene. The couple has two daughters, Judy and Lori, and up to now hadn't picked out a name fine enough for their first son, who was born Tuesday.

Football is still in the air as far as CAPT. AND MRS. JAMES FRY are concerned. They plan to leave with their family, David, Deana and Kerry, Friday for Bryan where they will see the quarter final game between Brady and Liberty. Danny Fry, Capt. Fry's youngest brother, is playing in the backfield for the Liberty team.

MR. AND MRS. GROVER DEAN have recently returned from Ponca City, Okla., where they have been with her sister who is seriously ill.

MR. AND MRS. NAT SHICK and MRS. GRANVILLE DAWSON of Midland are to return this weekend from Fort Worth where they have spent the week.

The sun got right out and made an almost spring-like day to greet MR. AND MRS. J. Y. ROBB and the BOB WHIPKEYS when they returned from a three week trip to New York, Detroit, Philadelphia, Boston and Washington. The John Hodges who accompanied them on the forepart of the trip had returned here after about two weeks of tripping.

Here's a typical Texas trick for you! MRS. GERRY HOOVER, who has been in Manhattan, Kan., where her husband, SP 4 HOOVER is stationed, returned to Houston for the birth of their baby, RHONDA GAYLE, who was born Tuesday. They couldn't stand the thought of her not being a native Texan, they said.

Little Rhonda Gayle is the first grandchild for the Bennett Hoovers of Coahoma and also the first for the mother's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kinderger of Katy, near Houston.

Garden Clubbers Hear Flower Myths, Legends

Myths and legends about flowers were recounted as answers to roll call by members of the Big Spring Garden Club Wednesday morning when they met for a Christmas party. The affair was given in the home of Mrs. Norman Read.

Various ones of the group brought arrangements made especially for the yule season; these were discussed, and the makers explained the methods used in fashioning the displays.

Reports were heard from the City Federation and the Council of Big Spring Garden Clubs meetings held recently. Announcement was made of Flower Show School No. 1, to be given in Odessa, Jan. 13-15. The club voted to assist the Chamber of Commerce with the outdoor lighting contest—to be staged this month. Members will also decorate tables for the dinner, slated for Dec. 12, at Cosden Country Club when Boy Scouts of the district are entertained.

Appointed on the committee are Mrs. John Knox, chairman, Mrs. D. S. Riley, Mrs. J. R. Hensley, Mrs. J. I. Balch, Mrs. J. E. Hogan and Mrs. Della K. Agnell. An honorary membership in the club was awarded to Mrs. J. D. Benson, who was the second president of the group. She now joins the one other honorary member, Mrs. J. M. Morgan.

On the refreshment table, laid in white linen, was a silver and pink arrangement of eucalyptus leaves with pink Christmas balls making an accent. Behind it a candleabrum held pink candles.

A gift exchange was part of the diversion; presents were taken from the base of a small stylized tree of pink maline which had been placed on a coffee table in the living room.

A Devotional For Today

He (John) seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold, the lamb of God, that taketh away the sin of the world! (John 1.29 ASV.)

PRAYER: Heavenly Father, help us to be willing to be voices for Christ in our world today. Grant us courage to speak clearly, unmistakably, effectively, calling the attention of men to Christ — who He is, what He has done, is doing, and will do, if men will only permit Him to do it. In His name we ask these things. Amen.

Don't Let Down The Guard

The Chicago parochial school fire that claimed the lives of 37 pupils and three nuns was rated the third worst in U. S. history.

Three hundred grade school pupils were in the building at the time, only a few minutes before dismissal for the day. The building was a substantial two-story brick, anything but one of the ramshackle type so familiar in the old days.

As of the moment the cause of the fire had not been established, but it swept throughout the structure with great rapidity. Most of the children fled from the building in safety. Several jumped from the second floor and were injured. Some of the dead were found kneeling beneath the windows, as if trying to get them open, suffocated where they knelt.

This heart-breaking tragedy brings home to school authorities throughout the country the stark necessity of guarding against just such tragedies by frequent and effective fire drills; by building every safety factor that can be devised into school buildings; by limiting the number of pupils in any given structure and any one classroom; and by providing wide corridors and more numerous entrances and exits; and by building one-level structures.

There is no such thing as a fire-proof building. As long as it is occupied and in use, the furniture, fixtures and equipment are subject to fire, and this fire can spread unbelievably fast—as was the case in Chicago.

So if there is a lesson out of adversity, it is simply this: School fire tragedies can still happen. Don't let down the guard for a second; the lives of children are too precious.

Great Party For The Kiddies

You may have read the letter in which one mother took time to voice her appreciation for the big pre-Christmas party for children on Tuesday.

To have moved more than 4,000 and to have accommodated nearly 5,600 youngsters in their desire to say hello to Santa was no small task. The Chamber of Commerce and the supporting merchants are to be commended for their energy, initiative and generosity in arranging this.

Moreover, the police and the many men from Webb AFB, who helped stage this event, are certainly due a big bouquet, as this mother indicated.

To move that many children safely and without a bobble was a most remarkable achievement. It could not have been done had not the men taken a personal interest in looking after the safety and happiness of these youngsters. It could not have been done without the cheerful support of principals and teachers who maintained exemplary order without dulling enthusiasm one iota. It could not have been done without bus drivers who exercised great care and kept their sense of humor.

It was indeed a great party for the kiddies, and a great demonstration of working together.

We're Being Cheated Out Of Savings

WASHINGTON—What would be thought of a man who kept on borrowing money and never paid back a dollar of it?

What shall be thought of a government that keeps on borrowing billions over a period of years and has a bigger debt today than it has ever had at any time in its history?

The annual interest now amounts to one-tenth of the United States budget. It adds up to between $7.5 and $8 billion a year. This interest payment will continue to grow unless somehow there is a beginning made toward reducing the principal.

It will be said that governments never pay off their debt. That's true. What they do instead is to cheat the citizen by devaluing whatever the purchasing power of the monetary unit happens to be.

If the millions of citizens who are thus being cheated understood it, they would not regard "inflation" as just a big word whose meaning they don't know. They would realize they are being robbed of their savings.

Today the dollar is worth 28 cents in comparison with what it was at the turn of the century 52 years ago.

In terms of 1930 values—when the public debt had been reduced to about $16 billion—the dollar today is worth 58 cents.

In terms of the dollar of 1939—just two years before America's entrance into World War II—the present dollar is worth only 48 cents.

This is a shrinkage of more than half the purchasing power of the American dollar in a period of less than 20 years.

It's true that two world wars and the Korean War have materially increased the public debt. But that's not the reason it is bigger today than when the Korean War spending was at its height in 1951. Actually, non-defense spending has also gone up very rapidly. The politicians in both parties have been insisting that the nation can afford "guns and butter, too."

The Tax Foundation, Inc., of which Roswell Magill, former under-secretary of the Treasury, is chairman, says in its November review that the "widely held" impression that defense spending is responsible for the growth of the public debt in recent years is inaccurate. It is pointed out that current expenses for defense are $30,000,000,000 less than they were in 1954, whereas non-defense spending is up $12 billion higher than six years ago.

The President doesn't control the purse strings, Congress has the final word. One of the illusions spread generally is that the chief executive is responsible for the budget. He may suggest and recommend, but Congress writes the appropriations bills.

As long as Congress thinks the public wants more and more spending on what is generally called "welfare" or social benefits, the tendency will be to spend more and more and send the public debt higher and higher.

But who is going to be cheated? There are in America more than 15,000,000 citizens who are 65 years old or over. Of these, 11,640,000 are receiving benefits of some kind from government. An additional 1,500,000 get "old-age" income from private pensions, annuities or interest or dividends on savings invested for retirement. Even allowing for some duplication, this is a sizable number.

Then there are the persons below the age of 65—the widows and orphans—who are dependent on fixed incomes from insurance policies or death-benefit funds. As the dollar fluctuates, these persons lose purchasing power each year.

The number of human beings affected directly or indirectly by the cheating process, whereby dollars originally saved are curtailed in purchasing power, may amount to at least 30,000,000 persons.

The Congress has never felt the pressure it should from these voters because they are unorganized. But someday the citizens will know where to put the blame for the drop in the purchasing power of the dollar, and they will express their opposition to the policy of "guns and butter, too."

Defense is all-important for national safety. Luxuries and extravagances are not so essential. Yet the lobbies in Congress for bigger and better welfare appropriations are very powerful. The Democratic party today has to accept the responsibility for the budget because, no matter what the President suggests, it is the Congress that must decide on how much shall be spent.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

The American Rocket society was told the other day in New York that secrecy prevented Soviet scientists from discovering the band of cosmic radiation that surrounds the earth and is a major threat to man's invasion of space.

According to scientist Geoffrey Robillard of Jet Propulsion Laboratory, the Russians did not make public the code in which their sputniks sent back information.

As a result the only information the Russians obtained was from signals the sputniks transmitted when over Communist territory. But the sputniks were then in the low sectors of their orbits, where cosmic radiation is not heavy. At high altitudes, where the heavy band of cosmic rays is found, the sputniks were out of range of Communist receivers. Those that did receive the beeping could not translate them.

So it remained for the United States Army Explorer III to make the cosmic ray discovery.

Perhaps there is a worth-while lesson in this for both the United States and Russia. Secrecy, particularly in science, is often costly. It prevents the "cross fertilization" of ideas and necessitates research in areas that may have been explored by others.

The Russian fumble also compensates for one the United States made earlier. Our scientists missed advanced data, on the sputniks because the United States ignored scientific publications in which the information appeared. Now, although we were anxious to translate the sputnik signals, Russian secrecy prevented us—and also deprived Russia of an important discovery in space.

Not Much Change In Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP)—This looks like a solid guess for next year: no general increase in the tax rate and no general tax cut.

But the government needs money so what may happen is this: Some changes in the tax laws to plug loopholes; perhaps a boost in the gasoline tax or postal rates.

And there is talk of boosting the tax on insurance companies, of removing some exemptions and preferences affecting individuals and corporations.

President Eisenhower expressed the brave hope of reducing government spending in his last two years in office. But his spending is likely to go up, not down.

This year government spending will run around 80 billion dollars and government income—because of the economic slump—around 67 billion. This means a gap of 13 to 14 billion between government outgo and income.

And this week the No. 1 tax man in Congress—Rep. Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark.), chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, where all tax changes start—said he doesn't see government spending next year running less than 80 billion.

Instead, he thinks next year the bill may be around 83 billion with revenue at no more than 78 billion. That would mean another deficit, this time of about five billion.

So the government's dilemma comes down to this: If it hopes to live somewhere within its income: 1. Reduce expense. This is so tough to do—particularly because of the need for defense spending—that it can be almost ruled out.

2. Raise taxes generally on individuals and corporations. It's unlikely. The politicians don't want to have to face the voters in 1960 with a bigger tax bill in their hand.

3. Find some way to get more federal income from taxes without a general tax increase.

That could be done in a number of ways, such as those suggested at the beginning of this story. Administration officials indicated last month Eisenhower is almost certain to ask Congress for a boost in the gasoline tax so the cost of superhighway construction won't strain the federal budget.

These officials also disclosed that Budget Director Maurice Stans and Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield recently conferred on the possibility of urging another increase in postal rates.

Mills offered various ideas on such as removing some exemptions and tax preferences for individuals and corporations.

But from the way Mills talked to the Tax Foundation in New York this week it would seem his committee is going to move very cautiously, at least in 1959, in trying to get some changes through Congress, and perhaps try a little more in 1960.

'Fortune' Stirs Resentment In Attacks On TV

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—In its current issue Fortune magazine scathingly attacks the present state of American television.

I don't recall having read a stronger denunciation of an industry in this magazine largely devoted to the examination of American commercial enterprise. Nor do I recall an angrier reaction to criticism by the people employed in television.

It's rather curious, for Fortune does not make any new criticisms. It merely synthesizes a lot of old criticisms that people in the medium have been hearing for a long time.

"By and large," says Fortune, "the 1958-59 season is compounded of bathos from boot hill, counterfeit celebration via quiz shows, barbarism from the police blotter, inanity from outer space, monstrosity from Hollywood's celluloid cemeteries."

Plunging deeply into the complexities of finance and programming, the long article states that the medium has lost its excitement and aspiration and is wallowing in mediocrity. It traces this state chiefly to the exodus of creative talent from the industry and the growing ascendancy of West Coast film packagers who dictate a low-grade entertainment that is bringing them big financial profits.

Fortune foresees a "disastrous cycle of economic pressure making for shoddy programs, shoddy programs reducing the television audience, smaller audiences increasing the economic pressure."

It suggests that the time is approaching when commercial TV needs the competition of pay TV. You'd be amazed how many people are hurt and angry.

The other day, for example, I had an appointment with a well-known TV entertainer (who is not remotely mentioned in the article). "I want to get one thing off my chest, right now," he said. "I'm against that piece in Fortune." He confessed he hadn't read it, but he had "heard what it's about," and he wanted to go on the record against it.

The deepest sting suffered by people in the industry seems to come from Fortune's inference that network management is surrendering its programming responsibilities to film packagers and that pay TV might provide the healthful competition commercial TV needs.

Personally, I agree with Fortune's opinion that economic pressure is resulting in many shoddy programs. But this has not started a "disastrous cycle" economically. Distressing though the fact may be to idealists, the rating agencies report that the viewing audience has reached an all-time high this season — and many of the worst programs are the most popular.

Thus the television industry maintains that the viewing public is getting what it wants. In other words, it feels that change is impossible rather than inevitable.

Around The Rim

Doesn't Honesty Still Pay?

If you look at television commercials, look for the medical pitchmen to disappear from the patent medicine advertising.

The Federal Communications Commission and the American Medical Assn. are cracking down on the networks and stations which carry the questionable sales pitches. As a result, after Jan. 1, even the actors in white coats are to be barred from commercial appearances.

What doctors recommend, they will recommend solely to their patients, not to some vague TV audience.

The AMA looks upon the practice of doctors' selling their prestige to patent medicine promoters as a sort of prostitution of their profession. In fact, the powerful organization also is frowning at doctors who endorse non-medical products, such as automobiles. It warns AMA members that they may be subject to action for ethical violations when they attempt to become salesmen.

Dr. Homer L. Pearson Jr. of Miami, chairman of the AMA Judicial Council, said the practice might easily be held to be a selfish capitalization of an honored profession by one of its members, and could be defined as an indirect and unethical solicitation of patients—something the AMA prohibits strictly.

In the New York area, doctors have been approached to do commercials for an automobile. They would be introduced by their real names and then go into the sales spiel. The fee would be about the same as they get for a major piece of surgery—$750 per commercial.

The AMA probably won't have much trouble in controlling its members. When it says "no," doctors will fall in line immediately.

But the FCC may have its hands full in attempting to curb other types of questionable advertising. Manufacturers, for example, who play around with copyrighted words to the detriment of competitive products may not be in direct violation of regulations although they're twinning some of the basic ingredients of business integrity.

Perhaps the public isn't as ignorant as some of the pitchmen apparently think. Eventually, I believe, public opinion will rise up to make them honest.

Aiding Argentina Without Dollars

BUENOS AIRES—For the traveller with American dollars, life can be beautiful in the Argentine. There is an endless reservoir of superb sirlon steaks at 50 American cents in the best restaurants; high tea at the Plaza Hotel is still a five-course gourmet's feast for 45 American cents; and alligator handbags, the tourist's delight, that would cost five to eight times as much at home are still available for $25 to $30.

But for the Argentinian with Argentine pesos, life is a ghastly nightmare of uncontrolled inflation. Since the first of the year, the cost of living has risen by approximately 32 per cent and the end is not yet in sight.

Except for the most-pressing essentials, Argentina has almost ceased to trade with the outside world, in an effort to conserve what funds she has. An American automobile of 1958, much less 1959, vintage would almost stop traffic in this great city. Under additional tax levies just invoked, a new Chevrolet would cost $30,000 in Argentina today.

There are one-third fewer passenger automobiles per 1,000 Argentinians now than in 1925-29, and 45 per cent of the nation's trucks are 15 years old at best.

The crux of this matter is oil. Despite the fact that Argentina has enormous oil reserves, she produces only 40 per cent of her needs. The rest must be imported, adding to the nation's already desperate foreign-exchange deficit. The government does not want more oil-consuming cars in the hands of the public.

But oil in the Argentine is not so much an economic as a political and emotional question. The continuing government crisis can be directly traced to radical opposition to Pres. Arturo Frondizi's approval of contracts with three United States firms to get more Argentine oil above ground.

It doesn't make sense, but neither do the periodic shortages that plague Buenos Aires, shortages in everything from modern medicines to laundry soap to toilet paper. Within the past fortnight, the American Embassy, at the frantic request of an Argentine parent, sent out an urgent SOS for a common "miracle" drug to combat spinal meningitis.

The child died before planes could arrive with the specific. But a second Argentine parent was already in touch with the Embassy, begging for such a drug for his stricken child.

At the moment there is a polio epidemic in the Argentine, and at the moment there is an Argentine financial mission in Washington, D. C. Headed by Argentina's economic minister, the mission is seeking economy.

The two-polio and the mission—may not seem to have much connection. If mine were the power, I do not know what I would do about the $400,000,000 request for aid. But if I were President, I would not hesitate a split-second in the medical crisis.

I would send Argentina, and immediately, enough polio vaccine to protect every child against the crippling effects of the disease. And I would add a stock of other modern medicines that are a boon to mankind, young and old.

This is the kind of Yanqui aid that should be instantly available to our neighbors south of the border in any kind of epidemic. Indeed, we should not wait for the epidemics to prove that we are, in heart, good neighbors. A half-million dollars' worth of drugs, especially to protect children, would be worth more in good will than millions in economic or military aid.

The Argentine, and perhaps democracy here, teeter on the edge of financial and political disaster today. But there is more to aid than dollars.

Mexico Gains From Its Revolutions

MEXICO CITY—In the short space of 20 years this country has gone through two distinct and totally different revolutions. The first revolution was to the left and the second to the right, strangely enough, they are both a living force in the nation's life.

Lazaro Cardenas in 1938 expelled all the British and American oil companies. An outraged cry went up but Cardenas stood his ground and foreign capital took flight. The revolutionary president expropriated all the great haciendas, the landed estates that had come down many of them from colonial times. In his six years in office Cardenas distributed more land to the peasant collectives than all previous administrations put together.

But the effect on the economy was disastrous. Cardenas' successor, Avila Camacho, put the gears in reverse. His inauguration in 1940 marked the beginning of Mexico's industrial revolution. The oil companies were compensated for their property and foreign capital began to pour into the country as part of a development that in speed and in scope has had few parallels in this hemisphere.

The extreme measures enforced by Cardenas were largely wiped out and particularly as those measures had put the church in subjection to the state. With the need for technicians and executives a middle class began to take root with a broad stake in the swiftly expanding boom. Natural resources were developed, highways built, airfields laid out. With the highways came a flood of tourists from north of the border.

Yet Cardenas, one of Mexico's six living ex-Presidents, whose revolution was reversed when it had too patently failed, is still a beloved figure. For the masses he represents a dream, an aspiration. And if the dream of a simple peasant economy on a communal basis failed to become reality the memory of what might have been is still cherished by millions of simple people.

The Mexican artists who have won world renown, Diego Rivera, Orozco and Tamayo, invoke the symbols of this revolution in their work. They are collectivist, Marxist, striking, and the drama in most of Rivera's symbols is the exploitation of the peasant and the worker by the capitalist exploiter. This exploiter is almost always represented as a foreigner, an imperialist, more often than not a Yankee, a gringo, or someone in the pay of the foreign capitalist.

While this has made for great and dramatic art it is today almost entirely a myth of a past that is now legend. Hundreds of millions of dollars in foreign capital, a great part of it from north of the border, have been pouring into Mexico at the urging of Mexican businessmen large and small and the Mexican government. The Export-Import Bank, which has been a pioneering agency in Latin-America, has loaned a total of $487,961,000 in Mexico since 1934, most of it since 1940.

The native species of capitalist has flourished along with the rising middle class and some of the most prominent capitalists have been found among the leading politicians. Miguel Aleman, President from 1946 to '52, was reputed to have left the office as the fourth richest man in the world. While this may be a gross exaggeration he is said to be the largest single stockholder in Mexican industry.

One of the strong motivating forces in the Cardenas revolution was nationalism. It is still a powerful force. Mexico, which is one of the United States' best customers for autos and other products of advanced technology, does not intend to take lying down increased tariffs and quotas imposed on the raw materials which this country must export to obtain foreign exchange.

U. S. businessmen have been told frankly: either you buy what we have to sell or we will stop buying your goods. And this is no idle threat. Recently Mexican sugar growers insisted on obtaining, and the Congress in Washington finally granted, a greatly increased quota on imports of Mexican sugar.

It is a far cry from the Mexico of Viva Villa and the wild disorders that followed the passing of Porfirio Diaz. In 1914 Uncle Sam, the colossus of the north, thought he could with impunity send armed forces into Vera Cruz to put down the trouble. While that incident has not been forgotten it has been overlaid by the close working relationship which began after 1932. Mexico is a friend and neighbor. Pride is the independence of that friendship is part of the cement that holds the two countries in close relationship.

Army Will Retain Redstone Arsenal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has given up control of its principal space research laboratory in a sharing of facilities with the new civilian space agency.

A compromise plan ordered into effect by President Eisenhower Wednesday gives the Army continuing control of the Ballistic Missile Agency at Huntsville, Ala., where a team of space age scientists led by Werner von Braun developed the Redstone, Jupiter and other Army missiles.

The Jet Propulsion Laboratory at Pasadena, Calif., operated for the Army by California Institute of Technology, was put under control of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Each will continue to use the other's facilities at least for a time, but the order indicated that NASA will make increasing use of the Huntsville facilities on what Eisenhower called "a fully cooperative basis."

The Army, on the other hand, was authorized to continue certain specific military projects under way at the laboratory through 1959, with arrangements after that time to be made by mutual agreement.

The space administration had sought to take over major functions at both facilities. Army space officials objected strenuously, especially to the possible loss of its Huntsville facilities and the team of scientists there. A compromise resulted in the presidential order.

In announcing it, Eisenhower said the agreement "prevents unnecessary duplication and effects economies in space research and development."

"This development will enhance close cooperation between the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the Department of Defense to the end that the peaceful use of space will redound to the benefit of all mankind."

The agreement was explained to newsmen by Deputy Secretary of Defense Donald A. Quarles and Space Administrator T. Keith Glennan.

Both officials agreed that the Army must get accustomed to depending on the space administration for scientific research.

They said also that as time goes on, the Army's space and missile center will be getting more and more civilian scientific jobs. Nothing was said about new projects which the Army might want to undertake for strictly military purposes.

Eisenhower's order directs the space agency to conduct research projects for the Defense Department "to the extent permitted by its own programs and facilities."

The Army retains authority for scheduling the work done at Huntsville, but under the agreement is to meet priority requirements of NASA consistent with overall national priorities.

The agreement permits NASA to assign its own people to the Huntsville facility to supervise the work being done for it there. Newsmen asked Quarles whether that might eventually end the Army's arsenal system.

Quarles replied this would not necessarily be so. He said that as far as he could see, the Army would continue concentrating on strictly military projects at Huntsville.

These will include completion of the Jupiter intermediate range ballistic missile and continued work on the Sergeant bombardment missile, the Pershing ballistic missile and a number of smaller projects.

In Pasadena, Dr. William H. Pickering, director of the propulsion laboratory, said the transfer would increase that agency's work in space vehicle research.

"It is naturally expected," he said, "that we will go beyond lunar probes to interplanetary probes of various sorts."

Glennan said NASA projects at Huntsville will include preparing for eight earth satellites, two space probes, development of a 100-foot sphere to be launched next year, and the building of additional launching rockets for civilian scientific research.

'Sweet' Little Old Lady Uses Acid In Bank Robbery

NEW YORK (AP)—The FBI has a printed note, and a slight, gray-haired little woman has about $3,000 in bills belonging to a branch of the First National City Bank.

The banks is at 34th St. and 7th Ave., across the street from Macy's department store.

The woman, about 5 feet 2, entered the crowded bank Wednesday and patiently stood in line at a teller's cage. When it came her turn she silently handed Louis Basile, 25, a paper bag and a printed note.

The note read: "I have acid in a glass and if you don't give me what I want I'll splash it on you. Put all your 5s, 10s and 20s in the bag. There are two men guarding me with guns. Somebody will get shot. Hurry!"

In a thin, unwavering hand the woman held a six-ounce glass containing colorless liquid.

The teller stuffed the bag with bills. The woman accepted the bag and walked slowly to the exit on 7th Avenue. She still carried the glass of liquid.

Basile stepped on the alarm, and three guards drew guns as bedlam broke out.

Basile could only point to the door. The guards rushed outside but the small figure was lost in the hurrying crowd of Christmas shoppers.

Police discounted the reference in the note to two men. They believe the woman, about 60, entered and left alone.

SANTA HOPES TO ANSWER GIRL'S WISH

Believe it or not, Santa isn't infallible.

He has misplaced the identity of a little blonde girl, five or six years of age, and he wants desperately to find out how she is.

The little girl was one of the thousands of youngsters who visited Santa Claus during his all-day visit here Tuesday. She made her appearance late in the afternoon, and Santa was very tired. Somehow, her name just slipped his mind.

He does recall asking her what she would like for Christmas.

"Only a Bible," was her reply.

Santa says she'll certainly get the Bible—and something else, too—if he can learn who she is.

Charges Traded In Border Rift

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP)—The Israeli Foreign Ministry summoned the chief U.N. observer today and expressed grave concern about a furious artillery exchange Wednesday with Syria.

The Israelis charged Syria shelled nine frontier villages heavily.

Dr. Abraham Biran, director of armistice affairs in the Foreign Ministry, conferred with Maj. Gen. Carl von Horn, chief of staff for the U.N. truce supervision organization.

A spokesman said Biran suggested measures that could be taken "to prevent a recurrence of acts of Syrian aggression." Syria has charged Israel started the trouble.

Neither side acknowledged any casualties in the shelling in the central Jordan Valley, although Israeli residents were terrorized and some property damaged. Both sides agreed that an Israeli shepherd was killed in an incident which preceded the duel, but disagreed whether the shepherd was on his side of the border.

The gunfire ended at nightfall, 15 minutes after the U.N. truce supervision organization called for a cease-fire.

A spokesman for the United Arab Republic's 1st Army in Damascus said armed Israelis with a herd of cows penetrated almost half a mile into Syria. When Syrians in the village of Raiyah tried to drive out the cows, the Israelis opened fire and withdrew.

The Israeli army said Syrians started the incident by firing on two shepherds tending flocks inside Israeli territory. Border police trying to extricate the shepherds were fired upon and repelled.

Midlander Dies

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP)—Funeral services were held today for E.D. Richardson, 59, vice president of the First National Bank of Midland, who died Tuesday after a long illness.

Cold Air To Rout Balmy Weather

By The Associated Press

Cold air pushing southward to ward Texas promised Thursday to rout the almost balmy weather of a day before.

The approaching chill had not yet reached the state shortly before dawn, but the Weather Bureau promised much colder temperatures in all sections by Friday.

Official observers predicted the frigid air mass would start shoudering into West and North Central Texas by afternoon. They said the only rain in prospect was from 35 at Dalhart to 58 at Galveston.

A few showers near the Gulf Coast Thursday night.

'Bride' Actress Wants Hard Roles

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—Patricia Smith, an actress who looks like the good, healthy, all-American girl, says, "The trouble with me is that I look like the good, healthy all-American girl."
Frowning disgustedly the other day, she added, "I can't help it. I live that way. I am good and I am healthy and I was born in New Haven, a Connecticut city within the continental limits of the United States. But—"
Her expression changed and she did not look as good or as healthy. "But I'd like to do neurotic things, coo-oo things."

She was speaking, of course, of her roles as an actress.
Miss Smith is forever being cast as a bride. She'll be a bride again on television next Monday when she appears in a Western on Desilu Playhouse (CBS-TV) entitled "Silent Thunder." This time she'll be the bride of a guy who doesn't like Indians.
She has been a bride, though never a bridesmaid, on more TV dramatic shows than you could remember. She was NOT a bride in the Broadway presentation of "Point of No Return"—and she loves to talk about what a grand role it was. But she was a bride in the movie "The Bachelor Party."
Now what have you got to be for casting directors always to maintain you're a bride?
"Warm," she replied promptly. "You always have to look as if you love the groom. You may really hate his guts, but you always have to seem to love him."
Since she has so often been a bride in her acting roles, isn't it a bit curious that she's never been one in her personal life?
"Not at all. I'm such a professional I never marry a wife, why should I try to become an amateur?"
This was the point where she could have said that a career and marriage do not mix.
"Of course marriage and a career can mix just fine," she said. "It's ridiculous when anyone says they don't. The reason I've never married is simply because I've never found the right guy."

Pinkie's Leads In Fem Circuit

Big Spring Tamale-Tortilla knocked Neel's Transfer, 4-0; Pinkie's slugged Carlos, 4-0; 7-Up brushed aside Cosden, 4-0; and Anthony's rapped Alexander, 4-0; this week in the Ladies' Classic bowling league.
Seven-Up rang up a 784 team game and 2246 series; 7 Pinkie recorded a 758-2206.
Jesse Pearl Watson had high game with 210, and Jeannette Long was second with 201. Dot Hood's 505 was good for top individual series; Frances Glenn posted a 495.
Splits were converted by Lue Best, 3-5-7; Doris Homberg, 4-5; Nadel Steakley, 3-10; Mary Ann Taylor, 3-10; Grace Todd, 4-5; Ronnie Bachstadt, 4-5; Jesse Pearl Watson, 5-4-7 and 5-10; Evelyn Wilson, 5-7; Dot Hood, 5-7 twice; and Olive Cauble, 3-7.

McAdams & Wise Win Grid Letters

ABILENE (SC)—One four-year letterman and a pair of three-year numeral winners head a list of 23 varsity lettermen for the McMurtry Indians, which was released this week by Tommy Ellis, head football coach.
Ellis said the only four-year letterman was Ernie Davis, fullback, who was one of the top scorers in the country this season. His brother, Charlie Davis, a guard, was one of the two players that earned their third numeral. The other was Jim Boyd, co-captain and half-back.
The lettermen include Tommy McAdams, Terry O'Brien, Jimmy Baldwin, Elmo Cure, centers; Joe Boyd, Fred Enright, Eugene Dreyer, Charlie Davis, guards; Bill Groman, Robert James, tackles and Jim Jackson, Don Filpoin, Dalton Hicks and Wyle Wide, ends. McAdams and Wise hail from Big Spring.

Meyer To Replace Baugh On Staff

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—The roster of players and coaches now is complete for the annual Blue-Gray all-star football game Dec. 27.
Officials signed Jim Myers of Texas A&M to the Rebel coaching staff yesterday. He replaces Coach Sammy Baugh of Hardin-Simmons, whose team will play in the Sun Bowl.
Signed to replace a bowl-bound Rebel player was Ken Beck, a Texas Aggie tackle.

Judd Morrow To Speak On Range Management Panel

Judd Morrow of the U. S. Experiment Station in Big Spring will be on the range management program in San Antonio Friday and Saturday.
The list of subjects as announced by Gerald W. Thomas, agricultural dean at Texas Tech and vice-chairman of the Texas section of American Society of Range Management, include:
"Ranching in the Rolling Plains of Texas—Then and Now" by Jim Humphreys, assistant manager of the Pitchfork Ranch; "Brush Control and Game" by Val Lehmann, wildlife manager of the King Ranch; "Grass Evaluation and Re-seeding" by Morrow; "Drought and Range Recovery in Central Texas" by Lon Yarblet, Soil Conservation Service range specialist; "Microclimatology and Range Management" by Don Huss, Texas A&M College range and forestry department; and "Proper Use of Range Land in the Great Plains Program" by H. M. Bell, SCS range specialist at Lubbock.

Dies Of Injuries

DALLAS (AP)—George Griffith, 52, died last night of injuries inflicted by a station wagon which struck him during the noon hour rush in downtown Dallas. Police said he was crossing the street against a traffic signal.

Suffers Cuts

DALLAS (AP)—Dallas salesman R. H. Ross, 41, suffered face cuts last night when his private plane crashed-landed in a field on the northeast edge of the city. He was returning from a West Texas business trip when his single-engine Navion developed engine trouble.

Students Rally

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—A demonstration by several hundred students followed the firing of Lloyd Parker as head football coach of Brownsville High School yesterday, but it brought no change in the situation.

Prospects Bright

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prospects of the Sooner State League operating next season were considered bright today by League Vice President Vernon Chapman, here for the major-minor league meeting.

I Plead Guilty To Being Too Cute, Say!

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Police obliged after 19-year-old Mrs. Patricia Parent of Detroit, arrested for speeding, told them: "Don't give me a break. I'm so cute police keep letting me go. I'm afraid I might have a serious accident."
Two patrolmen took her before a municipal judge who fined her $25.

Big Spring Gets Taste Of Real Theatre In 'Diary'

THE DIARY OF ANNE FRANK, presented by Kermit Bloomgarden. Directed by Rip Good, based on the original direction of Gordon Kahn.

A near-overflowing crowd at city auditorium Wednesday evening got a taste of real theatre in the Kermit Bloomgarden presentation of "The Diary of Anne Frank."

It was the second in the season's series of programs sponsored by the Concert Assn., and was the most enjoyable and best staged of any professional performance given here.

Since this was the story of a young Jewish girl who was captured and sent to her death in a Nazi concentration camp, many people expected "The Diary of Anne Frank" to be morbid. It was not. The play dealt only with those events that led up to the capture.

Heroes are easily acted; projecting the characters of ordinary people across the footlights so they seem real is the most difficult kind of acting. Making the small things of daily life as portrayed on a stage seem as important as those same things seem to us in real life, requires an acting talent of more than mere professional calibre.

Francis Lederer, as Otto Frank, leader of the small band and the only one to survive the ordeal to come, set the atmosphere in a stark setting of a barren attic; Pauline Hahn, as the teen-aged Anne Frank, brought the breath of youth into the story; and every member of the cast contributed to its reality until, at the intermission, most people in the audience felt they were watching an actual event, and not the reconstruction of an actual event.

Sound effects and Miss Hahn's reading of excerpts from the diary between scenes effectively brightened the aura of reality. There was always in the consciousness of the audience a foreknowledge of what was to come, an awareness that made the all too human portrayals stand out more than a mere vignette of life would have.

The story, dramatized from the published diary by Frances Goodrich and Albert Hackett, follows the Franks and their two daughters, Anne and Margot; the Van Daans and their son Peter; and Mr. Dussel, through their two years of hiding.

Anne grows up tremendously during these years, and a love between Peter and Anne also grows. The families, after their bickering, settle down to celebrate a religious holiday in one of the play's most moving scenes. The Allies land in North Africa, Italy, finally in France; the hopes (and tempers) of the imprisoned wax and wane; and at last, just as the Allied armies are knocking at the door of Germany itself, the police discover the hideout.

The diary ends there, and so does the play's story, except for an aftermath scene in which Otto Frank returns after the war. The Green Police, in the climactic scene, do not appear on the stage—their coming is felt, rather than portrayed, as they are heard smashing down the door, and as the hideouts freeze in what they know is their final moment.

"The Diary of Anne Frank" won the Pulitzer Prize, among other awards, and it is not difficult to understand why. —BOB SMITH

THE CAUSES OF WORLD WAR THREE. By C. Wright Mills. Simon & Schuster, $3.50 cloth, $1.50 paper.

LOOKS AT BOOKS

There is no one, not even the most irresponsible person, who who does not every now and then, seized unawares by the blackest dread, feel the sweat start out on him at the thought of that ultimate cataclysm, World War III.

Underlying all of this short, fiery book written by a professor at St. Louis, is the conviction that we can do something about another war. We don't have to sit and take it.

Once upon a time, Mills allows, an inscrutable fate ruled us; it was perhaps the sum of uncounted and unheard voices and unreckoned decisions, a kind of mystical majority, a kind of tide that swept a court, a battlefield, a court, and became a historical directive or orientation.

We can no longer twiddle our thumbs and trust to such a fate, Mills warns. He adds emphatically: "We don't need to. We can now name the people who identify the groups, in this country and Russia, that are responsible for taking us into war or keeping us out. He blames "elites" which have gathered into their possession all the power and authority distilled out of the vast American democratic ferment—out of a public that is resigned to "fate," politicians committed to preparation for war, money-makers determined to make more money, and distilled too out of all the disregard, indifference and wilful blindness among us.

He makes two central pronouncements. First, he says that with our radar on guard all around the vast Red perimeter, it is inevitable that some day someone will make a mistake, think a meteor is a missile, think we are attacked, and push the button which, whether we are attacked or not, will send our atomic warheads on their missions and commit the world to destruction in a single awful unrecoverable wink of time.

In the second place, he notes that people call it "realistic" to recognize the danger of war and prepare for it—as with radar. He notes, furthermore, that people call it utopian to try to avert this disaster. Then, he says, there is nothing left but utopia: "What the powerful call utopia is now in fact the condition for human survival."

He suggests specific steps for pulling back from the brink of annihilation. Once in a great while he slips down to the level of secondary problems. But mainly he meets the central crisis head-on. Some of his attacks will offend a lot of people—Protestants, Catholics, Republicans, Democrats, Communist foes as well as Communist sympathizers, the rich, the poor who want to be rich, and even you, and maybe me. But that is beside the point. Like it or not, you could certainly find this the most consequential and important book you've read in months and months.

Finnish Minister Quits As Result Of Russ Relations

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — Prime Minister August Fagerholm resigned today, and Finland was without a government as a result of worsening relations with the Soviet Union.

Fagerholm quit after the five Agrarian party members of the Cabinet resigned, taking away the coalition government's majority in Parliament.

Soviet economic pressure has been brought against Finland since Fagerholm left the Communists out of his government, although they had become the largest parliamentary bloc in the elections last July.

To pay World War II reparations, many Finnish industries were adapted to Soviet needs and now lack Western markets. Early last month the Soviet Union cut off some imports from Finland and has since refused to receive a Finnish trade delegation.

Unemployment has been increasing recently by about 6,000 a week and now stands at 65,000 in a nation of 4,315,000 persons. The Communists have 50 seats in the 209-member Parliament. Fagerholm's wing of the Social Democratic party controls 37 seats and have 52 allied members of small parties. This gives the balance of power to the 48 Agrarians.

State Ending Case In Bombing Trial

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Prosecutors expected to complete their case today against a thin, balding architect charged with bombing the Jewish temple here.

George Allen Bright, 33, is the first of five men slated to be tried. Others charged are Wallace H. Allen, Robert Bolling, Richard Bolling and Kenneth Chester Griffin.

The state sought Wednesday to connect Bright with a chain of events it claims led to the bombing Oct. 12. The blast tore gaping holes in the structure on fashionable Peachtree road and caused an estimated $96,000 damage.

Son Charged In Kidnaping

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Detectives working with the accused man's father charged the son of a Rock Island, Ill., policeman Wednesday with kidnaping a Houston schoolteacher.

Officers lodged the complaint against Thomas Raisbeck, 24, after the teacher, Mrs. Betty Jo Martin, 28, examined a photograph supplied by the elder Raisbeck. The son is not in custody.

Mrs. Martin said her abductor freed her unharmed six hours after crowding into her car outside a grade school Monday, taking $8 from her purse and forcing her to cash a $300 check at the drive-in window of a suburban bank.

She said the man asked directions to Mexico before releasing her two blocks from home and driving away in the car.

In Albuquerque, police said that Raisbeck had been reported at Roswell, in southeastern New Mexico, and a statewide alert was out.

Electronic Sorcery

Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper is demonstrating the magic of her Electronic Cooking Center which cooks bacon to a delightfully crisp turn in barely three minutes. The unit, which operates by radio waves, roasted the Thanksgiving turkey, a 12-pounder, in but 70 minutes.

Electronic Oven Revolutionizes Cookery In Cowper Household

Since July, the kitchen at the home of Dr. and Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper, 902 Mountain Park, has been something of an experiment center. A Hotpoint Electronic Cooking Center, one of the very few in the county, has revolutionized cookery, and Mrs. Cowper has been learning the culinary art all over again.

The electronic oven tops a regular electric oven, all faced in easy-care stainless steel. Good Housekeeping Shop, which installed the unit, explains that a series of magnetron tubes converts the 230 electric current into electronic radio waves. These waves penetrate the food and activate molecules in it, thereby cooking it from the inside out, and in about one-fifth the time required by a normal electric range. A bell on the timer signals the end of the cooking period.

Mrs. Cowper discovered, for instance, that she could bake her Thanksgiving turkey, a 12-pound one, in just 70 minutes. A single medium-sized potato bakes in 4 minutes. A long loaf cake takes 11 minutes. Roasts require 4 to 6 minutes per pound, and bacon is done to a crisp turn in 3 minutes or less.

Since electronic cookery is so fast there is no slow or medium speed, certain tricks must be learned. Cakes bake well in the miraculous oven but do not brown; so Mrs. Cowper transfers her cakes into the regular electric unit just long enough to provide a lightly browned finish. By the same token, to give roasts that attractive crusty exterior, she sears them in a skillet before placing them in the new oven.

During the adjustment period, it was necessary to keep reminding herself of certain rules which have now become almost second nature. The electronic oven must be pre-warmed; it must not be left heated without something to cook, and it will tolerate only pyrex or glass-ware, no metal. It boils water in a phenomenally short time and, for that reason, is not the best instrument for cooking such vegetables as green beans. But for reheating sweet breads it is ideal, warming these items in a matter of seconds and fostering a moist texture instead of drying out the food.

The device is a genuine boon to a busy homemaker—such as Mrs.

Savory Seasoning

New minced dried onion flakes are ready for use. They may be added "as is" to meat for hamburgers or loaves; they're delicious sprinkled over a salad or crisp greens or cooked vegetables.

Unusual Dessert

Add a little rum flavoring to the syrup you are using over pears to be baked. Serve with soft custard for a delightful dessert.

Pickle Warning

Your pickles shriveled? The vinegar you used for them may have been too hot or too strong; or you may have used too much sugar.

Asparagus Fillip

Drain heated canned asparagus and serve with melted butter and grated Parmesan or Romano cheese. Good with poached eggs on buttered toast.

Cowper whose family interests and memberships in such groups as the Permian Basin Medical Auxiliary, 1930 Hyperion, Great Books, bridge and dance clubs keep her days filled.

She has discovered that the electronic center has created a new enthusiasm for cooking. Sharing it with her are Sally, who is a junior at the University of Texas and who, with Jane, a BSHS junior, has had home economics. Brenda, an eighth grader, has lots of fun with it too. No doubt an interested bystander is the Cowpers' youngest child, 5-year-old Bennett.

Mrs. Cowper has already begun preparations for the holidays. She passes along three favorite recipes for "sweets," and a fourth formula is for pickled green beans, a very attractive dish for any feast.

LUSCIOUS SQUARES
Cream together ¼ pound butter, 1 cup flour, 2 tablespoons sugar, and spread in a 8 by 10 inch pan. Bake at 375 degrees for about 10 minutes.

Beat 2 eggs, add 1½ cups brown

Nut Bars Are Reminiscent Of Fruit Cake

Here are some fruit-nut bars which are reminiscent of fruit cake. They will be handy to keep on hand for family meals or to serve to guests, perhaps with egg nog.

FRUIT-NUT BARS
Ingredients:
¼ cup sifted cake flour
¼ tsp. baking powder
¼ tsp. salt
2 eggs
1 cup sifted confectioners sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
1 tsp. butter (melted)
½ cup seedless raisins (rinsed in hot water and drained and then finely chopped)
¼ cup pitted dates (cut in thin strips)
¼ cup finely chopped pecans

Method:
Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Beat eggs until thick and pale yellow; add sugar, vanilla and melted butter; beat well. Fold in raisins, dates and pecans.

Turn into buttered cake pan (9 by 9 by 1½ inches). Bake in slow (325 degrees) oven 25 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean.

Place pan on wire rack to cool; cut into bars; dust with extra confectioners sugar. Store in tightly covered container.

Easy Does It

In driving a wood screw, the most common error is applying too much pressure on the driver when starting the screw. Not until the screw thoroughly engages the wood should any appreciable pressure be applied.

Steak Planks

Planks for cooking steak are usually made of a hard wood—oak, hickory or maple. They must be seasoned, by ciling and placing in a slow oven for about an hour, before using; this direction is for a homemade plank that is new.

No Beating

Don't beat the eggs too much when you are preparing a baked custard or your dessert will have a frothy top.

SPICE VOCABULARY

CAYENNE, a spice, is available in ground form. Its color is burnt orange and its flavor is hot. Cayenne is compatible with deviled eggs, cottage and cream cheese, Welsh rarebit, cheese souffles; clam and oyster stews, poached salmon, seafood sauces, tuna fish salad, barbecue sauce for meat and fish; cooked green vegetables; pork chops, veal stew and ham croquettes.

Cheese Comes In An Endless Variety

A food with more than 800 different names—that's cheese, one of the world's most ancient and highly prized foods. The names, mostly European in origin, encompass the alphabet, from "Abertam" to "Zwirn". Many cheeses bear the name of the town or community in which they originated. Hence many cheeses with different local names are very much alike. On the other hand, several different kinds are known by the same name. It is difficult to classify all these cheeses, but you can consider yourself an expert if you can recognize the 18 distinct types or kinds of natural cheese. None of these is made by the same method.

Typical of these 18 varieties are Brick, Camembert, Cheddar, Cottage, Cream, Edam, Gouda, Hand, Limburger, Neufchatel, Parmesan, Provolone, Roman, Roquefort, Sapsago, Swiss, Trappist and whey cheeses such as Mysost and Ricotta. Cheddar, an American Cheddar as it is sometimes called, is the most popular cheese in this country with Swiss ranking second. Try at least one new variety a week. Serve cheese as a dessert. Apples and pears are especially good with almost any cheese.

Orange Pudding Can Be Made In Advance

Here's a jiffy dessert you can prepare in the morning and serve that evening.

DOUBLE ORANGE PUDDING

Ingredients:
1 package orange coconut tapioca pudding mix
1 can (about 11 ounces) Mandarin oranges
Flaked coconut

Method:
Make up pudding mix according to package directions, using amount of milk called for. Drain oranges; reserve 10 of the sections. Fold remaining drained sections into chilled pudding; spoon into serving dishes; garnish with reserved orange sections and flaked coconut.
Cover and refrigerate until serving time. Makes 5 servings.

Clearing Agent

A slightly beaten egg white and a crushed egg shell may be used to clear a quart of stock for soup or sauces. The albumen in the egg coagulates as it is heated with the stock and any meat residue combines with the coagulated albumen. The cleared stock should be allowed to settle and then strained through a couple of thickness of cheesecloth placed over a fine sieve.

Sweet Sandwiches

If your family likes sweet sandwiches for a snack along with tea or coffee, try combining cream cheese with drained crushed pineapple, chopped soft dried apricots, slivers of pitted dates or chopped plumped raisins and grated lemon rind.

Leftover Trick

Next time you have several small amounts of leftover cooked vegetables in the refrigerator, put them together with a cream sauce in a baking dish. Top with buttered bread crumbs and bake in a hot oven until the sauce is bubbly and the topping browned.

Baked Bananas

Choose slightly underripe bananas when you plan to bake them.

Holiday Dishes Call For Supply Of Dates

Dates add an aura of luxury to innumerable holiday dishes. Yet, this "candy that grows on trees" is so plentiful this year that anyone can enjoy delectable date flavor.

Fresh dates keep well under refrigeration so they are available all year long. But top abundance is from September to May, with a peak in November.

And right now, ample supplies of the new California crop—plus a large carryover from last year—assure generous stocks and reasonable prices for holiday use, reports the Agricultural Marketing Service.

You'll find them at the store—pitted and unpitted, nut filled or sugar coated and ready to eat. They'll be plump, smooth-skinned,

Macaroni Cookery Is Adventure In Versatility

When a homemaker decides to make a casserole for dinner, chances are she is counting on macaroni or spaghetti for the base.

The popular food products are not only versatile but economical and time-saving. And they are pet fare with the young folk. In fact, the manufacturers estimate that American teen-agers consumed 75 million pounds of macaroni products last year.

Here is an easy guide to macaroni cookery:

VARIETIES

The generic terms "macaroni" and "macaroni products" include not only the popular trio of macaroni, spaghetti and egg noodles, but many novel and picturesque shapes that suggest a variety of uses.

Today, the United States has the largest macaroni industry in the world and produces approximately 150 shapes. The most frequently used shapes are:

Macaroni—the tubular shapes, in short elbows and long lengths. Spaghetti—the solid-rod form, available in varying degrees of thickness.

Egg Noodles—the ribbonlike pieces which come in fine, medium and wide widths.

Other Shapes—corrugated elbows, coiled or bunched rods, alphabets, shells, bows, stars, seeds, etc.

HOW MUCH TO BUY

Macaroni and spaghetti approximately double in volume when cooked. Egg noodles do not increase in volume when cooked. Two cups of uncooked macaroni or spaghetti will yield four cups after cooking, but two cups of egg noodles will remain two cups after cooking.

In most casseroles and top-of-the-range dishes, 8 ounces of macaroni, spaghetti and egg noodles will make 4-6 servings. When spaghetti is served with sauce as a main dish, cook 1 pound for 6-8 servings.

HOW TO COOK

To cook 8 ounces of macaroni—spaghetti or egg noodles, add 1 tablespoon salt to 3 quarts rapidly boiling water. Gradually add the macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until macaroni is tender. Drain immediately in colander.

Do not rinse macaroni unless it is to be chilled and used as a salad. Then rinse with cold water.

Cooking time will vary from 5 to 20 minutes depending on the brand, the type of product and its thickness. In general, however, package directions should be followed.

To cook spaghetti "al dente" which means "to the tooth" or fairly firm, cook spaghetti until barely tender. Test degree of tenderness by the tooth test or by pressing a strand between fingers or against side of kettle with side of tablespoon.

HOW IT'S MADE?

Practically all macaroni products are made from coarse-grind semolina flour, milled from durum wheat. Macaroni and spaghetti are made by mixing the flour with water to make a stiff dough, which is forced through special machines to produce different shapes. Noodles are made of durum flour, eggs and water, and the dough is rolled into thin sheets and cut into strips.

Holiday Sweetmeats

These truffles, rich with filberts and chocolate, are delicious fare for the holiday season. Serve them to drop-in guests or package them for thoughtful Christmas remembrances.

Homemade 'Sweets' Are Welcome Gifts

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

We've searched and searched and now, just in time for Christmas, we've found the recipe for which many cooks have been looking.

Have you ever eaten this luscious amalgamation of filberts, chocolate and sugar called "truffles" found in some fine candy shops? Here they are, so simple to prepare, and a wonderful offering for your own holiday house guests or to pack for giving.

TRUFFLES
Ingredients:
1 1/2 cups shelled filberts (1 lb. in-shell)
3 tbsps. butter or margarine
3 squares (3 ounces) unsweetened chocolate (finely grated)
1 1/4 cups confectioners sugar
Extra confectioners sugar or chopped filberts

Method:
Place filberts in a shallow pan in a slow (275 degrees) oven to toast for 15 to 20 minutes; stir a few times. Remove skins by rubbing nuts vigorously between palms of hands. Reserve 1/2 cup (36) whole nuts. Put remainder of filberts through a fine-cone rotary grater or grind fine.
Cream softened butter and finely grated chocolate; stir in ground filberts. Work in confectioners sugar or nuts; refrigerate; bring to room temperature before serving. Makes 36 truffles.

PACKAGING
Step into a kitchen-ware department and you'll find a hundred inexpensive and attractive containers, with practical after-uses, in which to pack your gift candies. Here are some suggestions. Many different sizes of glass oven-ware baking dishes, from custard cups to casseroles, are suitable. Wide-mouthed glass canisters also come in a variety of shapes and sizes. A pretty bowl or a large glass goblet may strike the right note for a particular friend.

From the metal-ware section, your choice might be interesting gelatin molds in large or individual sizes. A cake-baking friend may be delighted to receive her candies in miniature angel cake pans; a family with children would probably find an extra cupcake pan useful.

In plastic, you might choose a tall thin container that can be used later for liquids, or a short fat one that will be handy for leftovers.

And don't ignore the charming array of fiber baskets that will serve up hot rolls or carry little cakes to the table. When packing candies in baskets be sure to use a liner of foil, tissue paper or paper dollies. If any of the containers do not have lids cover them with transparent plastic film so they're airtight. Then all that is needed to finish your gift-wrapping is a bright holiday ribbon.

Salmon Patties
Prepare enough extra mashed potatoes so you have two cups; mix them with a can (about 7 ounces) of drained salmon, a slightly beaten egg, finely grated onion, salt and pepper. Shape into patties and fry until heated through and golden brown in a little butter or margarine.

Bake, Stuff Potatoes

The ever-popular baked potato is a perfect teammate with broiled steak, fish, pork roast, or what have you. If you have not tried scooping out the pulp and adding your own seasonings, then running them back in the oven, you will be surprised how pleased your guests will be with them.

Here's how to do it:
STUFFED BAKED POTATOES
Ingredients:
4 medium-sized mealy baking potatoes (1 1/4 pounds)
3 tbsps. butter or margarine
1 1/2 cup hot milk
1 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. white pepper
1/4 cups grated Swiss cheese (packed down)
1 egg (beaten until thick and pale colored)
Paprika

Method:
Bake potatoes in moderate or hot oven until soft through; cut in half lengthwise. Scoop out potato pulp and put through a ricer; mix in butter, hot milk, salt, pepper and cheese. Beat in egg.
Spoon back into 4 to 6 of the half shells. Run tines of a fork lengthwise over potatoes to groove; dust with paprika. Reheat in hot (450 degrees) oven until tops are lightly browned—15 to 20 minutes.
Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Try Shrimp Chowder On Cold Evenings

Winter evenings call for hot soups. Double Shrimp Chowder will rate encores throughout the cold season.

DOUBLE SHRIMP CHOWDER
Ingredients:
1 can (10 ounces) frozen condensed cream of shrimp soup
1 can (13 1/4 ounces) condensed clear chicken broth
1 can (4 1/2 ounces) wetpack shrimp
Method:
Empty soup into a 1- or 1 1/2-quart saucepan; add undiluted chicken broth. Heat slowly, stirring occasionally, just until boiling. Drain shrimp and add; re-heat gently.
Makes 4 servings.

Good Sandwiches Make Quick, Fortifying Meal

Chances are every spare minute you have from now until Christmas will be spent shopping, wrapping, or addressing cards. So there may be a few meals that depend upon sandwiches as the backbone.

Here are two cheese spreads which will help out at times such as these:
SMOKY CHEESE AND DEVILED HAM SPREAD
Ingredients:
1/2 cup pasteurized processed smoky cheese spread
1 can (4 1/2 ounces) deviled ham spread
10 black olives
Method:
Mix together the cheese spread

Spotlight Shines On Cranberries During The Holiday Season

Cranberries and the holiday season are virtually synonymous. The pairing goes back decades ago, when the red berry was strung with popcorn and hard candies for Christmas tree decorations.

The crimson berry showed up on the groaning dinner tables as relish or jelly, and its bitter-sweet flavor often appeared in juice form as the appetizer. These traditions linger on, but a few novel twists have been devised. For instance, have you tried chopping cranberries into cooked sweet potatoes? Or using them as the base of a soup, or in muffins?

Here are some interesting recipes which call for cranberries:

CRANBERRY SAUCE
Combine 1 cup sugar and 1 cup water in saucepan. Bring to boil, stirring until sugar dissolves. Add 2 cups cranberries and simmer until berries burst open, about 10 minutes.

CRANBERRY FRUIT SOUP
5 tbsps. quick-cooking tapioca
1/2 cup sugar
Dash of salt
1 pint cranberry juice
1/2 cup water
Sour cream

Combine quick-cooking tapioca, sugar, salt, cranberry juice and water in a saucepan and mix well. Cook and stir over medium heat until the mixture comes to a boil. Remove from heat.

Cool, stirring once after 20 minutes. Cover and chill thoroughly. Top each serving with a spoonful of sour cream. Makes four servings.

CRANBERRY MUFFINS
1 cup cranberries
1/2 cup sugar

Tempting Course
Marinate cooked small white dried beans in a tangy French dressing; spoon over sliced tomatoes, sprinkle with lots of minced parsley and serve as a first course.

2 cups flour
4 tps. baking powder
1/4 tsp. salt
1 egg, beaten
1 cup milk
3 tbsps. melted butter

Put cranberries through food chopper; mix with half the sugar. Sift remaining sugar with dry ingredients. Combine beaten egg, milk and melted butter and add to dry ingredients. Stir only until blended. Fold in sweetened cranberries.

Bake in buttered muffin pans in hot oven (425 degrees F.) about 25 minutes. Makes 12 medium-sized muffins.

CRANBERRY YAM PUFFS
4 medium-size yams or sweet potatoes

1 cup fresh cranberries, chopped
1/4 cup drained crushed pineapple
4 tbsps. butter

Boil yams until tender; peel and mash with fork. Add chopped cranberries, drained pineapple, nuts and butter; mix thoroughly and season to taste. If mixture seems too dry, beat in 1 egg or 1/4 cup evaporated milk.

Divide mixture into four or six well-greased custard cups and dot with butter. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) 45 minutes or until set. Loosen with spatula and turn out. Makes four to six servings.

Beef, Pork Combine For Meat Balls

Tired-of turkey? A welcome change from the bland flavor of fowl will be these Special Meat Balls, combining beef with pork.

Here's the recipe:

SPECIAL MEAT BALLS

Ingredients:
2 eggs
1/4 lb. ground lean beef
1/4 lb. ground lean pork
1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
1/4 cup grated sharp Romano cheese

1/4 cup milk
1 tsp. salt
1/4 cup olive or peanut oil
Method:
In a medium-sized mixing bowl, beat eggs enough to combine yolks and whites. Add beef, pork, bread crumbs, cheese, milk and salt; mix well. Shape into small balls—about 1 1/4 inches in diameter. Heat oil in heavy 10-inch skillet; add meat balls and brown rapidly. Add to the tomato sauce that is to be served with the spaghetti and simmer meat balls in it for 15 minutes.
