Ralph Gilbert Insane, Psychologist Claims

Ralph Gilbert, 21, ranchhand, charged with murder, is insane, does not know right from wrong and is incapable of realizing the consequences of his acts, a psychologist from San Angelo told a 118th District Court jury on Thursday morning.

The witness was Dr. Everett L. Sutter, called by the defense in support of its contention that the defendant is not responsible for his crime by reason of insanity. Gilbert is on trial for murder in the gun death July 17 of Clayton Stewart, 27, rancher.

Dr. Sutter was the principal witness at the Thursday morning session of the trial which began on Monday. He was subjected to prolonged cross-examination by Gil Jones, district attorney, but clung to his contention that tests made on the defendant convinced him that the impulsive young ex-convict is mentally sick.

He told R. H. Weaver, defense attorney, that the condition was not new—that Gilbert had been mentally ill for sometime, possibly three or more years and was becoming progressively worse.

Sutter recited to the jury his qualifications and said he was a practicing clinical psychologist. He told of examining Gilbert for the defense on Oct. 16. He conducted several tests, described by him as standard in evaluating mental conditions, and of the method he employed to measure the results of these tests.

As a result, he testified, he had concluded that Gilbert is insane. He does not know "or recognize" right from wrong and it is "doubtful if he knows the consequences of his acts."

On cross examination, Jones attacked the qualification of a psychologist to determine mental illness—asking if that was not the field of a psychiatrist rather than a psychologist.

The court recessed at 11:10 a.m. when Weaver informed the court that another major witness—identified as Dr. William V. Horbaly of the State Hospital State here—would not be available until 1:30 p.m. Judge Charlie Sullivan reluctantly granted the recess, expressing regret that the time was being lost.

Jones said he also would have a psychiatrist to testify, but he did not announce his name.

Other witnesses Thursday morning for the defense were Ira Gilbert, 38, half-brother of the defendant, and his wife, who related that Gilbert had lived with them off and on for several years. It was the half-brother's opinion—but not permitted to the jury—that his kinsman is mentally ill. Sam Blackburn, Herald reporter who covered the killing at the time it occurred last July 17, was called to recall a conversation with Gilbert at the scene where the body was found. Blackburn testified that Gilbert told him, in substance, "I guess I done a bad thing." He also testified that in his opinion, the young defendant was coherent and clear in his memory of events in connection with the crime and that he displayed no physical evidence of any emotional disturbance in discussing the case.

Presentation of evidence in the trial began on Wednesday at 2 p.m. The jury is composed of Charles Clark, Al R. Bagwell, Bob Rogers, J. W. Garrison, H. W. Cook, Raymond E. Neill, J. A. Sutherland, James F. Hollis, Earl Wilson, O. O. Craig, Norral Jackson and Gordon V. Williamson.

Presentation of the state's case was short and only seven witnesses were placed on the stand.

The state climaxed its showing

Red Scientist Steals Show At Nobel Dinner

STOCKHOLM (AP)—A stocky, gray-haired Soviet physicist stole the show at Wednesday night's glittering banquet for 1958 Nobel Prize winners.

The King of Sweden and the rest of the royal family, the other six prize winners and 700 selected guests applauded warmly when Igor Tamm spoke in Swedish to express appreciation for the prize he and his two countrymen, P. A. Cherenkov and I. M. Frank, shared in physics.

After just two well-pronounced phrases, the audience in Stockholm's City Hall started clapping.

The smiling Tamm, who has become immensely popular in his few days here, waved his hands to quiet the applause and started his speech all over again. Then the scientist from the proletarian Soviet Union greeted the Swedish King and Queen in their own language with traditional, elaborate phrases.

He repeated his speech in English, praising fellow winners and expressing hope that "the spirit of friendly international cooperation of scientists all over the world will lead to peaceful cooperation in other fields between all nations."

Others honored at the banquet were British chemistry winner Frederick Soddy, and the three Americans who shared the prize in medicine and physiology: Joshua Lederberg of the University of Wisconsin, Edward L. Tatum of New York's Rockefeller Institute and George Beadle of the California Institute of Technology.

$900 Needed By Yule Fund

Some $900 still is needed to meet expenses of the city's Christmas program, Don Richardson, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Christmas Activities Committee, said today.

A third appeal for support of the program has been mailed to business operators who haven't sent in their contributions, Richardson said.

"If all our merchants will do their part we won't have any difficulty in meeting all expenses of the program," the chairman said.

Businessmen who have not responded are being urged to send their contributions to the Chamber of Commerce as quickly as possible.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Know of any old ghost towns for sale? John L. Day is looking for one.

Why? "To get away from city life for one reason," says Day, a 38-year-old aircraft company employee. "I've always had a yen for a ghost town and now is the time."

Day's ghost town requirements are simple: The town must be accessible by road and have drinking water nearby. He hopes to find one in Arizona or Nevada.

The Arizona State Land Department suggested he check county offices where deserted mining towns might be picked up for back taxes.

"I have no idea how much a ghost town will cost," Day said. Day said he and his wife, Darlene, and their daughter, Connie, 9, would visit the ghost town only on weekends and vacations.

Are his wife and daughter as enthusiastic as he is? "My wife said: 'Go ahead, if that's what you want,'" Day said. "Connie? 'Well, she said: 'Gosh, Daddy, it will be a wonderful place to play hide and go seek.'"

Odessan Quizzed In Pistol Slaying

ODESSA (AP)—Sheriff's officers questioned a 25-year-old Odessa man today about the pistol slaying of Wayne Riley, 29, formerly of Toledo, Ohio.

Riley's body was found last night in the driveway of an oil field tool firm on the west side of Odessa. He was dressed in work clothes.

Sheriff A. M. Gabrel said a single bullet from pistol killed Riley and the man in custody was carrying a weapon of that type. He declined to say what led officers to arrest the man.

Justice of Peace E. E. Nobels withheld a verdict.

FRED KISER INSPECTS SMASHED HOME Couple in house, but neither is injured

FOUR SLIGHTLY HURT

Auto In Bedroom, Truck In Living Room After Collision

Four members of a Big Spring family were slightly injured when their car and a truck plowed into a house at the corner of 15th and Owens Wednesday evening. None was hurt seriously enough to require hospitalization.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Davis, and Charles, were rushed to Malone & Hogan Hospital about 6 p.m. by a Nalley-Pickle ambulance, but they were released from the hospital after first aid and examination.

Davis was driving a car which collided with a truck driven by Charlie Thompson, 2301 Scurry, at the intersection, police said. Momentum carried the two vehicles into the residence on the northeast corner, which is occupied by Fred Kiser. Both Mr. and Mrs. Kiser were in the residence but were unhurt. The driver of the truck also was not injured.

Police officers said that Thompson was proceeding east on 15th and Davis and his family were traveling north on Owens when the accident occurred. The truck hit the side of the car and both then smashed into the house. The truck went into the living room and the car into the bedroom.

Also damaged was the Kiser's 1949 Plymouth which was parked in the garage on the east side of the house.

The truck driven by Thompson is owned by W. L. Barnes Construction Co. of Austin.

Three other accidents occurred here Wednesday.

Foreign Ministers Parley Considered

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Big Four foreign ministers conference next spring is being mentioned by many diplomats as a means of easing East-West tensions over Berlin.

Some officials are predicting, however, the three Western Allies will propose that such a meeting deal with the entire problem of Germany's future as well as Berlin.

American, British and French diplomats are reported giving increasing thought to the advantages of a new round of talks with the Russians. This prospect has been weighed carefully in considering a reply to Premier Nikita Khrushchev's demand that West Berlin be turned into a free city.

The feeling that such new talks would be desirable appears to be gaining ground among Western diplomats. But a decision is being delayed until after the 15-nation Atlantic Pact Council meeting which starts in Paris next Tuesday.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, now hospitalized by an intestinal ailment, is planning to attend the Paris conference, assuming he recovers in time. The State Department reported that Dulles is doing some work in his hospital suite in preparation for the meeting.

Allied authorities are in no hurry to rush an answer to Khrushchev's Berlin proposal. The Atlantic Pact foreign ministers will discuss the reply generally, informants said, but will not seek to draft a reply. This conference would approve guide lines which diplomats would follow in drafting a formal note a few weeks later.

At this stage it is not decided whether the American-British-French answer to Khrushchev should propose the foreign ministers meeting. Some diplomats favor delaying this bid until later.

Those favoring it believe it would be a positive reply of the kind that is needed. It would be a mistake, they believe, merely to reiterate Western determination to stand firm in Berlin regardless of Soviet pressure.

Judge Bars Union From Convention

WASHINGTON (AP)—A U.S. District Court judge today ordered the Teamsters Union to comply with reform orders of court-appointed monitors. The union was barred from holding a scheduled new convention next March.

Judge F. Dickinson Letts upheld complaints of a two-man majority of the three monitors that the union under President James R. Hoffa had failed to comply in good faith with reform recommendations.

Judge Letts, noting that the monitors are officers of the court and subject to the court's supervision, said they have all powers reasonably necessary to bring about a clean-up of the union.

"The Teamsters are obliged to comply with such orders of recommendation (by the monitors) and in good faith cooperate with the monitors," he said.

Letts, an 83-year-old former Republican congressman from Iowa, rejected a contention that the role of the monitors is merely advisory in these words:

"The court does not subscribe to the view that the duties and privileges of the monitors are merely advisory."

Letts said in his 12-page memorandum opinion that the Teamsters, without the knowledge and consent or approval of the court-appointed monitors had issued a call for a convention in the early part of March 1959.

CANCEL PLANS He ordered Hoffa and the Teamsters to cancel all plans for the scheduled special convention—a session Hoffa frankly arranged to seek to end the monitorship.

The judge further expanded powers of the monitors so that their approval must be secured before a new convention can be held. A convention date was also made subject to approval by the court.

Another federal district judge, James C. Connell of Cleveland, ruled only last week that the monitors' powers are purely advisory and that under a consent order signed last January by Letts, Hoffa could do as he pleased subject to the Teamsters Union constitution.

Connell's ruling is being appealed.

The issues in the case before Letts go back to the Teamsters' 1957 convention at which Hoffa was elected president to succeed Dave Beck Sr. Beck and Hoffa both had been named in testimony before the Senate Rackets Committee that large sums of union funds had been mishandled.

A group of New York area rank-and-file Teamsters members brought suit here seeking to block Hoffa from taking over the union presidency on grounds he and Beck had rigged the election of delegates to insure Hoffa's victory.

Suggs Succeeds Vollmer As President Of T&P Railway

DALLAS (AP)—The Texas & Pacific Railway Co.'s new president, effective Jan. 1, is J. T. Suggs, presently vice president and general counsel.

Suggs will succeed W. G. Vollmer, head of the railroad since 1945, who retires on Jan. 1.

Suggs' promotion to the top post was announced yesterday after a meeting of the T&P board of directors.

It was announced also that the Missouri Pacific Railroad on Nov. 26 completed purchase of sufficient T&P stock to boost its ownership to 80 per cent. MP already owned all the T&P's voting preferred stock.

The new ownership development, officials said, would enable the two railroads to file joint income tax returns at a tremendous tax saving.

Russell L. Dearnont, president of the MP and a T&P director, praised both Vollmer and the board's choice of Suggs to succeed him.

T&P directors voted a dividend of $1.25 per share on common stock and one-fourth of one per cent dividend on preferred stock. Both are payable Dec. 31 to stockholders of record on Dec. 23.

William G. Vollmer, 73, began his railroad career as a stenographer with the Pennsylvania Railroad in 1902. He spent a short time with the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad and with the Rock Island Lines before he entered the employ of the Missouri-Pacific at St. Louis in 1903.

In 1917 he became assistant to the president and in 1933 was elected executive assistant. From there he went to the position of senior vice president, which he held at the time he was chosen to be president of the Texas & Pacific in 1945.

Under his predecessor, John L. Lancaster, the Texas & Pacific had been brought up to a high standard in property and rolling stock. Vollmer began to match this with human equation. He streamlined operations and emphasized employe and public relations.

He put the T&P in the forefront with a complete Dieselization program and modern passenger cars for speed and comfort. Steadily terminal facilities were either replaced or rebuilt so that in the place of the old dingy depot, new and bright passenger waiting rooms, ticket desks, etc. appeared.

Vollmer also instituted many other programs such as a stepped up emphasis on safety. Symbolizing this was the big Vollmer Cup (won twice by the Western division) which is presented annually at a banquet which all the employes in the winning division are invited as company guests. He encouraged the organization of a T&P choir, speaking clubs, and other organizations.

He also threw his influence into community enterprises, and all up and down the line the role of T&P as a citizen in the community and the importance of participating citizenship by its employes was stressed. The T&P became a key factor in the community chest and later the United Fund here and elsewhere.

In Dallas, where Vollmer was an active civic worker, he was presented with the 28th Lintz Award for outstanding community service during 1956.

J. T. Suggs, who will be the seventh president of Texas & Pacific, joined the company in 1944 as general counsel after serving as judge of the 59th District Court in Sherman from 1938-44. Subsequently, he was elevated to the vice presidency of the road.

In the time that he has been in Dallas, Suggs has been active in civic and welfare work of the area. He became chairman of the Salvation Army advisory board in Dallas last January. He had been appointed as one of two national vice chairmen for Texas for the American Red Cross 1958 membership and funds campaign.

On numerous occasions he has been here and is well known and admired up and down the T&P.

Country Store Operator Just Couldn't Drop A Way Of Life

MAYSFIELD, Dec. 11 (AP)—A way of life was auctioned off recently—the country store at this place between Hearne and Cameron.

For 50 years, Clarence Freeman operated the store. But the highway is wide and straight and motorists don't stop often. And town is not so far away.

Besides, Freeman's eyesight is fading. The auctioneer was Stanley Moore from Valley Mills. Every item in the store had to go. And such items!

The list ran on and on and demonstrated what a country store was.

Salt blocks, tire patches, lamp wicks, needles and thimbles, hoe handles, plow handles, snuff.

And screw worm killer, fence stretchers, dyes, scrub boards, flannel, ducking.

And blackleg vaccine, denim shirts, long handled underwear, a cord of stove wood, pocket watches, water bag, sacks for cotton pickers, coffee mill, kerosene lamps, tobacco cutter.

Freeman said he thought he might become a full-time farmer. He owns a farm.

"I started this store back in the fall of 1906 with $500," he said.

"It used to be you could carry a farmer on credit until his crops came in—sometimes for a whole year—but the wholesalers quit doing that, and it hurt.

"I can remember when I had $150,000 on my credit books."

The town also had its prosperous years. At one time there was a bank, a drug store, barber shop, several other stores. "And seven saloons," recalled Mrs. Freeman with a grin.

"And this building sure has a lot of memories with it," she said. "It's awfully hard to let it go."

For her husband, it must have been impossible. Last item in the auction was the store itself and its acre of land.

Freeman stood in the back and listened to the bidding.

The first bid was $1,000. Then it jumped in stages to $2,250. The drone of the auctioneer

Bomb Trial Hits Snags

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A hopelessly deadlocked jury and physical exhaustion of defense attorneys have delayed proceedings in the case of George Bright, charged with bombing a Jewish temple.

Judge Durwood T. Pye Wednesday declared a mistrial after the jury said it still couldn't agree on a verdict after 26 hours of deliberation.

That ended the bidding. Freeman had bought his store back.

lection of a new jury to try Bright. But James R. Venable, defense attorney, sought and received a postponement on grounds that he and his associate, Esley B. Burdine were physically unable to proceed at this time.

After Pye granted the postponement, Solicitor General Paul Webb said Bright would be retried "as early as his case can be put on the January-February term calendar."

Bright was indicted along with four other Atlanta men—Wallace H. Allen, Kenneth Chester Griffin and Robert and Richard Bowling—in the Oct. 12 bombing of the Temple. The others are also awaiting trial.

Bridges Knocks Out Anti-Oriental Law

RENO, Nev. (AP)—"We got married," said Harry Bridges. And that seemed to cap the hectic two days in which he went to court and successfully challenged Nevada's 94-year-old statute banning weddings between Orientals and Caucasians.

The 58-year-old west Coast Longshore leader and 35-year-old Noriko Sawada, a Nisei, were honeymooning today after convincing a Nevada district judge that the statute is unconstitutional. It was patterned after a California law dating back to the gold rush days. The California law was declared unconstitutional in 1948.

Said Judge Taylor Wines, "Marriage isn't a privilege. It is a right of a free and equal individual." And he ordered the county clerk to issue a license.

"To my wife, who had a rough go getting here," said Bridges after the private marriage ceremony performed by Justice William Beemer. It was a champagne toast. The wine was provided free by Bridges' hotel host.

Their romantic trip came to an abrupt and embarrassing interlude Tuesday when they learned—to their surprise and obvious discomfort—of the old Nevada statute.

Three times Bridges and Miss Sawada were denied a marriage license. After the second turnaround the Australian born labor leader announced he would fight the law. Then he went to the hotel where he had registered himself and Miss Sawada as "Mr. and Mrs. H. Bridges" and reregistered his fiancée under her maiden name. They took separate rooms.

Newsman and photographers, who had kept close tabs on the couple for two days, were barred from Justice Beemer's chambers.

Bridges, harried on this elopement to his third marriage, told the cameramen: "No, this is private. It's my marriage and my last one. I might add, because I'd never live through another like that."

He emerged smiling, lipstick-smudged and congenial and poured champagne while photographers took pictures.

That contrasted with his wrist-wringing over Tuesday's legal merry-go-round.

Bridges, president of the International Longshoremen's and warehousemen's Union, said:

"My wife and I believe all citizens of Nevada should be proud of Judge Wines for his display of courage and legal integrity — so should all forward-looking Americans in every state."

Their honeymoon plans were a secret. But Bridges let it be known they'll go abroad, especially to the Orient.

Plans for that trip figured in Atty. Samuel Francovich's argument against the law. "Striking down the Nevada law will do more than all of our Sputniks and missiles to bring about world friendship and cooperation," he said.

Careful Driver Set Brake First

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Policeman Thomas Childs watched last night as a cable car gripman carefully set his brakes at the top of Nob Hill and then swung on his conductor.

Childs said that passengers told him gripman Leon Stimler, 27, was angry because conductor Percy Lackner, 29, had called him a birdbrain.

No charge was filed immediately. Lackner suffered a black eye.

Nuclear Sub Missile Tested

POINT MUGU, Calif. (AP)—The silhouette of a ship that could have been a submarine slipped silently through the morning mist.

Midway along the foredeck of the ship, a circular hatch some 15 feet across swung open and a shiny metal bird with folded wings crawled up into the light along a slanted track.

It came to rest in a cradle of steel girders, straightened its stubby wings and swiveled into launching position.

The great bird, as long as a five-story building is tall, began to scream louder and louder as submarines remote in the bowels of the mother ship opened the throttle of the missile's powerful turbo-jet engine.

Wham! A rocket-like blast broke the straining bird loose from its moorings and hurtled it toward an inland target with 100,000 pounds of thrust.

The shot was a shakedown of the missile firing system of the USS Halibut, the nation's first nuclear-powered missile submarine, which will be launched at Vallejo, Calif., next month.

For this test the forward hull of a tank-loading ship had been converted to duplicate the Halibut. The missile used in the test, a 57-foot-long Regulus II, sped 250 miles from its launcher to Tonopah, Nev. The 1½-million-dollar bird was recovered intact and will be returned here for another launching early in January.

Texas Campers Find Longer School Year A Revolting Thing

AUSTIN (AP)—The proposed longer school year would mean a shorter summer vacation for students. And this would be a revolting development to Texas campers.

The State Board of Education and the Hale-Akin School Study Committee have studied an extended school session. The American Camping Assn. in Texas said its again it.

The association told the Hale-Akin Committee recently that most camps already are bulging for the 12-week summer. They estimate at least 268,000 children in Texas each summer go to the 160 church, private and youth-serving camps in the state. These would be jammed into a shorter vacation period.

This short summer season works at cross purposes with the new constitutional amendment to advertise Texas as a vacation state, the association claims.

It also says state parks will be hard pressed to handle the summer mobs; it will slow down investment dollars in resort facilities and will be a blow to the resort industry generally and to the indirectly affected businesses such as cafes and service stations.

Other objections, cited by others as well as the camping association, include: higher costs, longer maintenance of facilities, necessity for air-conditioning, further confinement of family vacations, conflicts with college summer school sessions, reduction of a teacher's opportunity for graduate work and "pupil fatigue."

Proponents feel the extra time is needed to equip students with a "space-age" education. The controversial questions will be decided by the Legislature.

Caution Saves Lives

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. John Locke Jr. are a cautious couple.

They decided a few weeks ago there had been a lot of fires lately, so they worked out a plan to evacuate their suburban home in case of a blaze.

Monday night their home caught fire and the pre-arranged escape plan saved all six members of the family.

"We hadn't been asleep too long," said Locke, an attorney, "when I awoke and smelled smoke."

He woke his wife and the rescue plan was put into effect.

Locke climbed from their second story bedroom onto a roof over a side porch. Mrs. Locke handed out two of the boys, then Locke re-entered and rescued the other two boys. All four boys range in age from 1 to 6.

The nursemaid, Miss Autumn McMillan, escaped by a stairway. Locke climbed part way down a latticework. Mrs. Locke passed the children to her husband and he handed them to the nursemaid. Mrs. Locke said when she awoke, bright flames were leaping in the hall.

"It was hard to breathe and so hot we couldn't move down the stairway," she said.

"The kids were wonderful," said Locke. "They handed themselves all right."

COYOTES UNDERDOGS IN SCRIBE'S EYES

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

An upsetting and frustrating Texas schoolboy football campaign sashays into its semi-finals this week with the clash of Wichita Falls and Highland Park pinpointing an 8-game schedule.

Highland Park, defending champion of Class AAAA, finds itself the underdog to a Wichita Falls team that has hit the stretch with a knockout wallop in every move. The Coyotes tumbled mighty Abilene 34-6 last week and moved to the top.

Longhorn Guard

Pictured above is Bobby Evans, diminutive guard of the Big Spring Steers, a junior who has come along fast in recent games. Bobby is a brother to the former Steer star, Jimmy Evans. He's a junior.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sam Bell, the former Big Spring High School B team coach, made a successful debut as head cage mentor at Robert E. Lee High School in Tyler recently.

His team beat Hawkins, 53-37, although one boy (Robert Wagner) counted 22 points for Hawkins.

Considerable confusion has arisen over the fact that Charley Johnson of Big Spring and New Mexico A&M was named to one all-Border Conference football team (the coaches' idea of a club) and failed to rate another (that picked up by Associated Press writers who cover conference games).

The truth of the matter is that anyone can pick a club. The scribes obviously closed out their nominations before Johnson had his two best games.

The coaches wisely waited until all the results were in, then named Johnson ahead of Ralph Hussaker, who had been favored by the writers.

Here's how this week's high school playoff games look to me: WICHITA FALLS 22 Highland Park 16.

The No. 1 club in the state beating the defending Class AAAA champion in a fine battle. Apparently, this Coyote team never hit its stride until conference play started. It will never be better than it was last week against Abilene, however.

PASADENA 16 Corpus Christi Miller 6.

Here's a club which lost to Odessa early in the season, yet is capable of giving any team in the state a real battle. Baytown and Port Arthur have been the powers in Southeast Texas it's unusual to see a team like Pasadena assume charge. The Pasadena line will, no doubt, be the difference.

BRECKENRIDGE 28 McKinney 16.

The Backies, quite probably, will claim the overall state championship after they handle their semi-final and final opponents, since they have already defeated Wichita Falls. This McKinney team sprang a mild upset last week by edging Carthage on penetrations but is in over its head this week.

CLEBURNE 21 Kingsville 0.

Even its most enthusiastic rooters have been surprised by the success of the Kingsville team, which has never before been a power in schoolboy football. They separate the men from the boys in games this week, however, and Cleburne gives up touchdowns grudgingly against any team.

STAMFORD 16 Terrell 14.

Stamford swung a lot of votes in manhandling Spur last week. However, taking the measure of a great Terrell team will be something else again. The game looms as a toss-up but Stamford will have the advantage of playing the game in its own backyard (Abilene). Terrell had all kinds of trouble with Marlin last week but then Marlin hasn't been easy pickin' for any foe all year.

LIBERTY 20 Angleton 8.

Judging Liberty solely off their performance of its game with Brady last week.

WHITE DEER 33 Mason 20.

This White Deer team has a potent offensive punch but Mason figures to score a few times itself.

GEORGE WEST 15 Elgin 0.

GW will have the somewhat dubious advantage of playing at home.

Sam Boyd Decides To Quit As Baylor Grid Mentor

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
WACO, Tex. (AP)—Baylor University started out to rebuild its athletic department today with Sam Boyd's resignation as head football coach, completing a sweep of its two highest offices.

Of equal importance but not catching the interest of the Coyote-Scott fracas will be the battle of Pasadena and Corpus Christi Miller that decides the finalist from the South in Class AAAA.

Both Highland Park and Wichita Falls hold mid-season victories over Miller, which is favored to take out Pasadena.

The schedule for the semi-finals in the four classes:

Class AAAA—Wichita Falls vs. Highland Park at Dallas, Pasadena vs. Corpus Christi Miller at Houston, both Saturday, 2 p.m.

Class AAA—Breckenridge vs. McKinney at Fort Worth, Saturday, 2 p.m.; Cleburne at Kingsville, Saturday, 8 p.m.

Class AA—Stamford vs. Terrell at Abilene, Friday, 7:30 p.m.; Liberty vs. Angleton at Baytown, Friday, 8 p.m.

Class A—Elgin vs. George West at New Braunfels, Friday, 8 p.m.; White Deer vs. Mason at Snyder, Saturday, 2:30 p.m.

Breckenridge, Terrell and White Deer are the favored teams in the three lower classes but Terrell is expected to encounter trouble aplenty against Stamford.

Unbeaten, untied Angleton will be favored over Liberty, thus becoming a finalist for the first time.

Class A's big battle is White Deer vs. Mason—the only game of the week matching unbeaten teams. The other one—Elgin vs. George West—sends teams against each other with losses on their records and no way to compare the two in strength.

The record was 11 right out of 16 predictions last week. Here's the situation this time:

Class AAAA—Highland Park over Wichita Falls, Corpus Christi Miller over Pasadena.

Class AAA—Breckenridge over McKinney, Cleburne over Kingsville.

Class AA—Terrell over Stamford, Angleton over Liberty.

Class A—Elgin over George West, White Deer over Mason.

L'I' LEAGUE PARLEY SET

Delegates of all leagues in the Big Spring Little League organization are asked to attend a meeting tonight in the police building.

The business meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m., and officers and managers from all leagues are urged to attend. The district representative, S. A. Bradford, will be present, and one of the topics of discussion will be the possibility of adding another league.

Z. Folley Arrives Tonight To End Drills For Fight

Bob Callahan, Odessa boxing promoter, visited in Big Spring Wednesday, bringing with him several hundred tickets for his Monday night fight in Odessa pitting highly-rated Zora Folley against Alvin Green.

The bout, one of the best ever lined up in Texas, will take place at the Ector County Coliseum. The tickets are scaled from $5.50 ringside to $1.65 general admission. Green, who now fights out of Tyler, is well known locally, having been stationed at Webb AFB as recently as last year.

Zolley is the biggest "name" fighter ever to appear in an Odessa ring. He arrives in Odessa tonight to wind up training for the bout. His training sessions at the Pro-Am Gym, 202 S. Lee Street, starting at 5:30 p.m. daily, will be open to the public.

Green arrives in town Friday morning. Callahan said here yesterday he would return to Big Spring sometime next week to look into the possibility of staging a professional fight card here. He said the plans, of course, were dependent on whether or not he can find a suitable gym.

Callahan also stated he and the Odessa card would include 40 rounds of boxing.

Dr. W. R. White, university president, said he advised Boyd to quit "under the flood of unrest in the ranks of ex-students and followers of Baylor."

Dr. White said the faculty athletic committee had been instructed to receive and consider applications for athletic director and head coach.

Two Pro Battles To Be Televised

This weekend sees the close of the regular professional football season with two telecasts. Saturday's game finds the red hot Pittsburgh Steelers going against the Chicago Cardinals.

Network arrangements are not yet complete for the Sunday telecast, which will feature either the Detroit Lions against the Chicago Bears or the Eastern champion Pittsburgh New York Giant-Cleveland Brown tilt.

Pittsburgh has risen fast thanks to the excellent pitching arm of Bobby Layne, and should easily take the hapless Cards, despite the passing ability of Lamar McHan, former Southwestern Conference star. The Steelers tied the Washington Redskins in last Sunday's outing, while the Cards took a sound lacing from their cross-town rivals, the Chicago Bears, for the Windy City Championship.

Both games, co-sponsored by American Petroleum, can be seen in this area over station KEDY-TV Big Spring.

Harmonious Meeting Of SWC Men Is Due

DALLAS (AP)—A harmonious meeting was in prospect today as the Southwest Conference's football coaches and athletic directors convened for their annual winter meeting.

There were reports that some coaches would ask that newer, young officials be assigned to next season's games. But if the coaches had this in mind they were keeping it to themselves on the eve of the meeting.

Conference rules forbid such discussions, however, and the meeting could erupt with some bitter talk.

Hawks Face Powerful SW Texas B In Meet

The Howard County Junior College Hayhawks carry a 4-1 won-lost record to San Antonio with them today, where Friday at 4 p.m. they open play in a tournament. The Hawks' first round foe is the powerful San Marcos State College B team.

In other first round games, Del Mark opposes Wharton at 9 a.m., Schreiner Institute takes on Lee of Baytown at 11 a.m., and San Antonio College challenges Lubbock Christian College at 2 p.m.

Should the Hawks win their opening game, they'll play the survivor in the San Antonio-Lubbock engagement at 9 p.m. If they lose, they'll take on the loser in that bout at 11 a.m. Saturday. The other championship semifinal bout is scheduled for 7 p.m. Friday.

Consolation finals are down for 4:30 p.m. Saturday. The third place game starts at 6:30 p.m. while the title contest starts at 8:30 p.m.

The Hawks have their work cut out for them in their first game. San Marcos annually fields one of the nation's best teams among the smaller colleges and are supposed to be deeper than ever this year.

Since all five starters are back from last year's stellar outfit, it is reasonable to assume that most of the newcomers will be assigned to the B team.

Among Southwest Texas players due to see action against the Hawks are Don Schmettkopf, 5-11; Frank Miller, 6-4; Reggie Barick, 6-11½; a two-time all-state player while attending Baton Rouge High School in Louisiana; Charles Trcka, 5-11, an all-state player with Clear Creek last year; Bob Henson, 6-feet ½ inch, of Edcrouch - Elsa, honorable mention all-state in 1957-58; Ken Fishback, 6-3, two-years an all-district player while at Moulton; Rolie Caswell, 6-1, San Marcos; Robert Brown, 5-11, former all-state player from Clear Creek, who made the starting freshman team at Rice Institute last year; and Leon Wright, an all-district player from Robert E. Lee High School of Baytown, who was at San Angelo College last season.

The Hawks will again be short-handed. Either Delbert Shirey nor Jimmy Evans will probably be available to the Big Spring club, due to injuries.

Probable starters for the Hawks will be Gilbert Bell and Bobby Davis at the post positions and Benny Carver, Ray Clay and either Tommy Zinn or Jesse McElreath out front.

Longhorns Draw Tribe As Foe

Vernon Harton's Big Spring Steers have drawn Seminole as a first round opponent in the Andrews Invitational Basketball Tournament this weekend. The two teams clash at 8:30 p.m. Thursday in the High School Gym there.

Seminole, recent winner over Midland, is the tournament favorite.

Nine teams are entered in the three-day show. Big Spring is the defending titlist, having defeated Odessa in the finals of the 1957 tournament, 76-65.

Part of the early round games will be played in the junior high school gym at Andrews. Odessa Ector drew the first round bye.

Consolation finals are scheduled for 7 p.m. Saturday and the championship game at 8:30 p.m. Both of those contests will be untelevised in the high school gym.

Pairings:

THURSDAY—Andrews vs. Colorado City, 7 p.m. and Seminole vs. Big Spring, 8:30 p.m. in high school gym.

Odessa vs. Pecos, 7 p.m. and El Paso vs. Brownfield, 8:30 p.m. in Junior High Gym.

FRIDAY—Ector vs. Winner of Jefferson-Brownfield, 4 p.m. in high school gym.

Winner of Big Spring-Seminole vs. winner of Andrews-Colorado City, 8:30 p.m. and loser of Odessa-Pecos vs. loser of Jefferson-Brownfield, 7 p.m. in high school gym.

Winner of Odessa-Pecos vs. winner of Ector-Brownfield, 8:30 p.m. and loser of Big Spring-Seminole vs. loser of Andrews-Colorado City, 7 p.m. in Junior High Gym.

SATURDAY—Consolation finals, 7 p.m. and winner's finals, 8:30 p.m. in high school gym.

BEARS HOST COWBOYS, PONIES MEET CATS

Baylor's Golden Bears entertain Oklahoma State in Waco and Southern Methodist invades Lexington for a game with Kentucky's potent basketballers to round out Southwest Conference activity Thursday.

A lone Friday night game will pit Texas Christian against Utah at Salt Lake, the Horned Frogs slight favorites after knocking off San Francisco 58-56 Wednesday night.

In the other Wednesday night game involving Southwest fives, Arlen Clark scored nearly as much as the opposition as his Oklahoma State quint whipped Texas 66-39.

Clark tallied 22 points before the intermission. Texas shut him out from the field in the second half, but he sank 8 free throws for a total of 30 points. Al Almanza was Texas' top scorer with 14 points.

In the game at San Francisco, Dale Nippert's field goal with 24 seconds left won for TCU. Nippert scored 19 points for the Frogies in a game that was tied 11 times and nearly ended in a riot.

With one second to go, the Dons' Dave Lillevand and TCU's H. C. Kerchner dived for the ball at the sidelines. Somebody swung and in a flash players from the benches and fans roared onto the floor.

Moore Climbs Off Floor To KO Durelle In 11th

By MURRAY ROSE
MONTREAL, Que. (AP)—Light heavyweight champion Archie Moore, more amazing than ever, today sets his sights on three lucrative possibilities—a return fight with Von Durelle and royal jousts with middleweight king Sugar Ray Robinson and heavyweight ruler Floyd Patterson.

MOORE

Of the three title tilts, a summer ball park clash here with Durelle seemed the most likely after their thriller-diller at the forum Wednesday night.

Old Man Moore's tremendous comeback to knock out the fired-up Durelle in 49 seconds of the 11th round capped one of the most exciting fights of the last 10 years.

Moore hit the deck four times, three times in a lively first round, and then rallied in the last six rounds. He dropped his wild-swinging young rival four times, including the picture-punching finale in the 11th.

"Durelle put up a great fight and can have another chance if he wants it," said the remarkable 41-year-old champion from San Diego. "I'd like another chance too at heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson."

"Yeah, Patterson, we'd like him," interjected Moore's manager Jack (Doc) Kearns. "If he doesn't fight that Swede Ingemar Johansson this summer, maybe he'd like to take on the old man. If he's not interested then there's that Sugar Ray Robinson. He and Archie would pack any stadium."

Moore was full of praise for Durelle, a 3½-1 underdog who put up a great battle.

"Durelle is one of the very top light heavyweights I have ever fought," he said. "I knew I had him after the fourth round but before that I was awfully rocky. Every knockdown was clean and fair."

Referee Jack Sharkey, the former world heavyweight champion, thought otherwise. He ruled that Moore's trip to the floor in the first round was from a push and not a punch. He'll get an argument on that one from many watchers.

A left and right to the jaw first sent the stunned master to the canvas for a nine count. He was dazed and reeling when the controversial second knockdown occurred.

The 29-year-old challenger from Baie Ste. Anne, N.B., tore after Moore in an effort to put him away for keeps. A left and right to the jaw sent Archie down again for seven.

Archie got out of that hole and several others in the next few rounds. In the fifth the crude, strong challenger again brought a blood-thirsty howl from the fans when he sent Moore crashing to the canvas with a thumping right to the jaw. This time the crafty veteran had command of his senses and, after getting up at five, held on desperately as Yvon tried to put over the crusher.

Then suddenly Archie lashed out with a right and left to the jaw that shook Durelle from head to toe. That was the beginning of the end for the Canadian and British Empire champion although you couldn't tell it then.

From sixth round on, Archie kept off his eager and now wild-swinging foe with a stream of left jabs to the face and short jolting left hook and right cross head combinations.

Moore's steady volleys drew blood from the husky Canuck's nose and mouth and took some of the steam out of his charges.

Durelle hit the floor for the first time in the seven.

A six-punch volley in the 10th sent the reeling challenger to his knees and apparently finished. But the bell sounded when the count reached eight.

Moore wasted no time in the 11th. He stormed across the ring and slammed Durelle to the canvas for nine with a left and right to the jaw. Then a perfect left and right combination to the jaw put the gallant Canadian down for keeps.

Durelle was Moore's 127th knockout victim. That put Moore at the head of the all-time kayo parade. He had been tied at 126 with the late Young Stribling, a heavyweight contender more than 25 years ago.

Buffaloes To Play Barnhart Friday

FORSAN (SC)—The Forsan Buffaloes, now boasting a 4-1 won-lost basketball record, visit Barnhart for a practice tilt Friday night. Starting time is 8 o'clock.

Plagens Is Named To All-Foe Team

FORSAN (SC)—Two members of the Gail team and as many from Merton were named to the all-opponent football team chosen recently by the Forsan High School Buffaloes.

The Gail gridders honored were Bill Buchanan, guard; and Raymond Walton, back. Those chosen off the Merton team included Neil Tankersly, end; and Bill Sawyer, back.

Whistle-Tooters Too Busy: Coach

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—A basketball coach says too much whistle tooting by the game officials is taking a lot of the spectators' interest out of the sport.

Bill Gardner, who coaches at Spring Hill College, Mobile, Ala., said, "The fans don't come out to see the players walk up to the foul line. They come out to see action."

Gardner, chairman of the officials' committee for the National Basketball Coaches Assn., said in an interview Wednesday that a lot of fellow coaches agree with him.

Dial Is Honored

FORT WORTH (AP)—Buddy Dial, All-America end from Rice, has been voted the Fort Worth Kiwanis Club Sportsmanship Award and will come here next Thursday to receive it. His selection by a five-man committee was unanimous.

Texas Children Fiercely Loyal To N.M. School

HOBBS, N. M., Dec. 11 (AP)—Fourteen children, all residents of Texas, daily attended public schools in Hobbs, N. M. — and all are fiercely loyal to their adopted school.

The children attend school there because of the nearness to their homes. They daily ride to classes in a large yellow New Mexico school bus.

Most of the students live in or near the small community which is developing along U. S. Highway 180 at the New Mexico-Texas state line, four miles east of Hobbs. By attending classes here, they are saved the tiresome 50-mile round-trip to schools in their own district at Seminole, Tex., approximately 29 miles east of Hobbs.

The Seminole School District bears the cost of school for the students, and the sum charged by the Hobbs School District is based upon actual cost of educating each child and varies from year to year.

A $327.80 cost per pupil has been set for this school year, and the amount doesn't include the student's share of the school's bonded indebtedness and cost of equipment, which Hobbs school authorities do not feel should be charged the Texas students.

In addition a fee is charged for the school bus contractor. The transportation cost is figured on the basis of 24 cents a mile for each mile traveled in Texas. The bus travels 20 miles daily in Texas as this year picking up the children.

"They're wonderful youngsters," said Mrs. Ozella Hardy, the bus driver, "both those who live in Texas and the others I pick up this side of the state line in New Mexico."

"And you would never know that these Texas boys and girls live in another state — they think Hobbs schools are just about the best in the world."

Warm Trend Developing

By The Associated Press

A hard freeze extended deep into Central Texas Thursday morning, but a slightly warmer trend appeared to be developing for the state.

The weather bureau said temperatures over Texas for the next five days would be near or only slightly below normal. Skies were clearing over most portions of the state shortly before sunrise and the sun — greeted by heavy frost in many places — promised mild afternoons Thursday and Friday.

Continued rather cold nights were in prospect, the weather bureau said, but no precipitation was expected.

By 6 a. m. skies were clear all over the state. Temperatures ranged at 5 a. m. from 22 at Dalhart to 42 at Galveston. Other temperatures included Lufkin 26, Houston 35, Corpus Christi 39, Brownsville 41, Laredo 35, San Angelo 23, Junction 25, Austin 31, College Station 30, Austin 27, Dallas 26, Fort Worth 24, Mineral Wells 23, Abilene 25, Marfa 23, El Paso 40, Lubbock 29, Amarillo 30, Tyler 27, Texarkana 24.

Damage Minor In Frisco Quake

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An earthquake jolted San Francisco and a radius of up to 50 miles early today, but damage appeared to be minor. Broken dishes and a cracked wall or two—but no injuries were reported. The jolt hit at 1:52:33 a. m.

Man, 73, Wakes Up To Million Dollars

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—Charles C. Binkley, 73, woke up today with a cold, a headache and a million dollars.

"How does it feel?" "Not much different, son," replied the twinkling-eyed grey-haired little man. "I haven't seen the money yet."

A Superior Court jury deliberated 3½ hours Wednesday and then awarded Binkley half of a fortune left by a half-sister he never met—or had ever heard of before about three years ago.

Mrs. Cora Nidever died in 1955 at the age of 85. She left an estate of $3,126,488 but no will was ever found. Binkley, a retired glass blower from Montpelier, Ind., first heard of Mrs. Nidever when he was shown a clipping in an Indiana newspaper.

He began what he calls a "little investigation" that included a check of Civil War pension files. Then he announced his father, a Union Army veteran named Joseph Binkley, had been the father of Mrs. Nidever. He said his father married Anna Miller Lewis in Indiana in 1880 after leaving Mrs. Nidever's mother Hester Binkley in Ohio in 1878.

Eight nieces and nephews of Mrs. Nidever contested Binkley's claim but the jury was unanimous in determining his right to half the fortune.

Noncommittal before the judgment was announced, Binkley was still silent about his fiscal plans today. "I've lived in the same house in Montpelier for years," he said, "and there's no reason to move now."

"I don't need any clothes. I really don't have any plans. I don't expect to change my mode of living."

He has a daughter, Mrs. Glenoma Saunders, and five grandchildren in Weiser, Idaho. His biggest interest is his horse, a 7-year-old pacer named Grand Ripple Mike. He races the horse at Indiana county fairs.

There have been plenty of suggestions on how he might spend the money. "I've had 50 or 60 offers already. Everything from business opportunities to proposals of marriage."

He chuckled. "None of that foolishness for me," he said.

Blast Wrecks Religious Cult Building

Firemen spray water on the smoldering ruins of the main building of a religious cult at Chatsworth, Calif., which was wrecked by an explosion apparently caused by a bomb. The blast killed nine persons, possibly ten. Krishna Venta, barefoot founder of the cult, was among the dead.

Ex-Cultists Blamed As Death List Rises

CHATSWORTH, Calif. (AP) — Tape recordings discovered near the dynamited wreckage of the Fountain of the World monastery point to two former cult members as the bombers, police say. Nine persons, possibly 10, were killed in Wednesday's earth-shaking explosion. The two dynamiters are believed to have shared the fate of their victims. Detectives said the blast apparently was touched off by Ralph Muller, 33, and Peter Kamenoff, 42, both of Joshua Tree, Calif. Tape recordings made by the pair the night before the dynamiting indicate they were angry at the leader of the cult, Krishna Venta, and wanted to "bring him to justice," officers said. The tapes, an hourlong recital of grievances against Krishna and the cult, also were described as farewell messages and detectives believe the men deliberately blew themselves up. Muller once confided to a friend that it was his ambition to depose Venta and set up a cult of his own to replace the Fountain of the World. The suicidal nature of the bombing was underscored by the fact the triggering device had to be manually operated, presumably by one of the men who carried the dynamite into the building in a zippered bag. Venta, a barefooted, self-styled mystic, five of his flock and two children were killed in the explosion. One and perhaps two other bodies have also been recovered.

The violent explosion and the fire that followed made identification nearly impossible. Muller and Kamenoff were seen in an argument with Venta about an hour before the blast. Details of the quarrel were not known. The tape recordings were found in Muller's pickup truck, parked near the cult's 29-acre colony in Box Canyon, about 30 miles northwest of Los Angeles. After listening to their officers pieces together this story: Muller and Kamenoff left their desert home in Joshua Tree — about 115 miles east of Los Angeles — picked up 20 sticks of dynamite and electric primers and drove to the cult area. They registered at a motel in nearby Tazdara, set up their recorder and taped their last words. "They said they wanted to bring Krishna Venta to what they termed justice," said Undersheriff B. B. Cummings of Ventura County. "Whether they meant religious or otherwise, I wouldn't attempt to say. "They said they were going to take care of their problems in their own way. What the problems were, we don't know. "They don't say out and out they were going to commit suicide, but they bid their goodbyes. One of them said: 'If we don't come back, people will understand.'" Officers said Kamenoff blamed Venta for separating him from his wife and child by persuading her to stay in the cult's Homer, Alaska, colony. Kamenoff also left a written farewell note, said detectives. Kamenoff and Muller apparently planned the bombing several weeks ago. A Joshua Tree neighbor said the cult came to him last month seeking information on the use of dynamite. They said they wanted to use it in mining. Both men were construction workers. Kamenoff was a member of the cult from 1949 until 1957. Muller was a member off and on for several years.

Tarzan Church Enters Contest

TARZAN (SC)—The First Baptist Church of Tarzan has entered the 1959 Texas Baptist Church Achievement Program, the Rev. Marshall Southerland, pastor, said this week.

Sponsored by the Baptist General Convention of Texas, the program is designed to stimulate interest in small-church work. More than 354 Texas Baptist town and country churches entered the program last year. Participating churches in a recent year recorded twice as many baptisms per member as the Southern Baptist average. Each church in the program sets up goals for advancement in the three areas. An inventory questionnaire furnishes suggestions for projects, such as health education, community recreation programs, citizenship training, race relation studies and world missions. Records and scrapbooks of program progress are made under the direction of three special committees. The scrapbooks are the basis for judging on the association, district and statewide levels.

Married 80 Years, Couple Start Each Day With Prayer

FAIRVIEW, Utah (AP) — All the days of their married life have started with a prayer, and today—their 80th wedding anniversary—was no exception for Peter and Celestia Peterson. He is 88 and she is 97. This central Utah town honored the couple with a testimonial dinner Wednesday night. A tape recording was made and will be played to them today because they couldn't make it to the dinner. Both are hard of hearing. Mayor Otis Nielsen and Apostle LeGrand Richards of the Latter-Day Saints (Mormon) Church called their lives and marriage a shining example of love and devotion. They were married Dec. 11, 1878, in St. George, Utah, 250 miles southwest of here. "My wedding dress had ribbons on it, but Peter took them off," recalls the silver-haired Mrs. Peterson. "He said, 'You're pretty enough without those.'"

Peterson, then a strapping 18-year-old farmer, had driven a wagon load of grain eight days to get to St. George from here. The grain was sold to pay for their wedding journey, another eight-day trip by horse-drawn wagon through rugged mountainous country only recently cleared of hostile Indians. Peterson credits their longevity to plain living and the fact that neither he nor his wife ever smoked or drank. "We have always lived congenially," he said. They have 253 blood descendants. Adding those related by marriage, the family tree numbers 326. "I gave birth to 10 sons and daughters and only had a doctor for one of them," says Mrs. Peterson. Seven of the 10 survive and are among those honoring their parents today.

Farm Bureau Takes Conservative Side

BOSTON (AP)—The American Farm Bureau Federation prepared to wind up its annual meeting today with adoption of a platform placing it on what is regarded to be the conservative side of most major issues facing the nation.

The big farm group's four-day convention, which drew upwards of 5,000 visitors, featured speakers who put themselves in such a political and economic category. It roundly applauded U.S. Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, conservative Arizona Republican, when he characterized the farm bureau as the most active defender of the free enterprise system in the country.

The platform, as drafted by a resolutions committee made up of members from each of the 48 states, called for strong legislation to curb powers of organized labor, for sharp reductions in federal spending, and for laws to re-establish powers of the states which, it said, have been usurped by the federal government. The resolutions voiced opposition to federal aid to education and to expansion of the federal highway system. It insisted upon a balanced federal budget.

In the area of farming, the platform tentatively approved by the voting delegates late Wednesday called for a virtual withdrawal of the government from control of agriculture as soon as present surpluses can be disposed of. The government itself was blamed for the oversupplies. The only members of Congress invited to address the convention were Goldwater and Sen. Spessard L. Holland of Florida, a conservative Democrat.

Both Goldwater and Holland tossed barbs at the so-called liberals of both parties in Congress and made bitter attacks on labor leaders. Speeches of both received warm applause. A Goldwater suggestion that conservatives of both major parties should line up in one party to preserve what he called rights of the states and of individuals was well received. So were charges by Holland that the U.S. Supreme Court had overstepped itself to enter the policy-making and legislative fields of government.

School Won't Put Land On Market

Trustees have decided to take no action toward sale of a half block of land owned by the Big Spring Independent School District.

The property is located east of Goliad St. between 7th and 8th Sts. and just west of what would be an extension of Austin. It is described as the east half of Block 59, original Big Spring plat.

Approximate dimensions of the half block are 140 by 300 feet. An investigation into nature of the property was started recently after a request to purchase the land was submitted to school officials.

Space Research May Bring Better, Longer Human Life

NEW YORK (AP) — Space research may lead to a better and even longer life for man.

Roy W. Johnson, director of the Pentagon's Advanced Research Projects Agency, said this today in a speech prepared for a convention of the Life Insurance Assn. of America.

Johnson said space projects involve almost a billion dollars this fiscal year, with 700 million dollars of it devoted to research.

Aside from the contribution to national defense, he said, the programs produce knowledge and techniques permitting still further increases "in our national productivity, our standard of living, and our way of life." "Our manned satellite programs can lead to better health and life for all Americans," Johnson said. "We shall have to develop foods and vitamins of great energy content, packaged and capsuled to efficiently and safely preserve the life of man in space. We may need drugs to perform new and wonderful missions for the space travelers."

Body Identified

HOUSTON (AP)—The body of a man tentatively identified as Clifford E. Downey was found in a thicket yesterday near White Oak Bayou here. Downey apparently had been dead since September.

"There is no reason to assume that such foods, vitamins and drugs will not also benefit those of us who remain behind on our globe."

"In the vacuum of outer space, we may find environmental cures for the diseases of earthman; we may even discover means to directly increase the human life span."

Formula For Youth

London's Gladys Cooper, one of our most distinguished actresses, recommends healthful foods, fresh air and exercise as a recipe for youth.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Actress Advises Use Of More Health Food

By LYDIA LANE
 HOLLYWOOD — Before Gladys Cooper left for New York and her hit play, "Sailing to Byzantium," she invited me to come to tea. When I arrived at her home overlooking the ocean, she was in the garden picking a variety of squash. She had a basketful and handed them to me.
 "These are for you," she said with a smile. "We eat them raw in salad or steam or bake them. We rarely cook our vegetables in water," she explained in her beautifully clipped English accent. "In fact all of us in this house are health minded."
 "Is this the source of your great vitality?" I asked.
 "I suppose so," Miss Cooper answered. "That and fresh air and exercise. Way back in the twenties I started doing my daily dozen. Someone gave me an album of Walter Camp records and I played them every morning."
 Miss Cooper introduced me to her daughter who brought in tea, which was brewed English fashion, and fresh, dainty cucumber sandwiches.
 "We make our bread," Miss Cooper explained, "of stone-ground flour from a health-food store where we do much of our shopping. We also use much yogurt, raw sugar and many types of sugar vegetables.

 "If you eat healthful foods, you don't have to be concerned with calories. I learned that in London many years ago. I was dressed by Molyneux, who admired a slender line long before this became the fashion. He was terribly strict with me. I used to eat lots of bread and butter and potatoes, but he wouldn't fit me if I was overweight. 'Come back when you've lost five pounds,' he'd scold.
 "At that time it was the fashion to serve enormous portions and many courses, but I forced myself to be a small eater and now I really am. I'm very happy, for because of this, I have no weight problem."
 We talked about staying young, and Miss Cooper explained:
 "Age doesn't mean a thing. It's your condition that counts. Some people are not agile at 30, but my neighbor, Lady Aubrey Smith, does all her own gardening—and it is such a lovely one—at 86. If you met her you'd think she was at least 20 years younger. So you see, it isn't age that plays a part in being youthful." Miss Cooper said as we parted.

Garden Club Workshop In Decorating

A workshop on Christmas decorations was conducted in the Four O'clock Garden Club Wednesday, when the group met for a luncheon.

Mrs. Bill Tubb was hostess for the luncheon, and she also conducted the workshop, which ranged from door decorations to arrangements for the table.

Emphasis was placed on the use of styrofoam, paint and glitter in making the groupings.

Members planned a pilgrimage for their children to view the various outdoor decorations later in the month. The tentative date was set for Dec. 18, with definite plans to be announced.

The next regular meeting will be held on Jan. 14, 1959, it was announced.

Twelve members were seated at a table centered with pink and silver Christmas balls. A pink and silver Christmas tree completed the yule theme.

The festiveness of the season coupled with the trend to bright clear colors seems to be going to the ladies' feet. At a tea Tuesday there was the most beautiful assortment of gaily colored slippers.

MRS. RICHARD JOHNSTALL's gootger were a brilliant turquoise green with a little jewel trim, and MRS. E. H. BOLLON wore the season's bright blue shoes with rhinestone on the heel and toe.

MRS. HORACE GARRETT also wore blue. MRS. KIMBALL LUTHER'S slippers were deep wine and MRS. E. V. SPENCE chose purple. Perhaps footwear designers are trying to make up for the ridiculous fashions the clothing designers have been turning out.

Natives of Big Spring always hope, when anyone moves away, that they will eventually find their way back home. MRS. A. POLACEK isn't a native, but after making her home here nearly 30 years, she can't get back and she has come back home.

Seven years ago she went to Fort Worth to make her home with a daughter, Mrs. Lucy Bauer. This past week they both came back and until they can build a house of their own they will be with another daughter, Mrs. Frances Weir at 510 State St.

Mrs. Polacek was born 93 years ago in Monrovia, Czechoslovakia, and came with her parents to New York when she was six years of age. The family settled in the Polish community of Shiner, Texas, where she lived until she moved here with her husband and children. The late Mr. Polacek was for many years the only cobbler in Big Spring.

MRS. A. J. WRIGHT and MRS. AUBREY PRESTON left Wednesday afternoon for their home in Cleveland after spending several days here with MR. and MRS. CHARLES FRASER. Mrs. Preston is Mrs. Fraser's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Fraser and Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Gamble were in Brownfield Wednesday night to attend a Magnolia Co. party in honor of the Gambles who will leave soon to make their home in Monahan.

CAROLYN SEWELL is to spend the weekend with her brother, Bill, who is with the soil conservation office in Del City. The two plan to go to El Paso to spend some of the time with their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. George Anders.

MRS. RICHARD DEATS and little son, Mark, are expected to arrive here Saturday from Boston, Mass., to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Baggett and Mike, and Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Deats. Her husband and J. T. Baird Jr. will not be present for the holidays until Dec. 19, when they will come home together.

Program Draws From Heritage Of Yule Music

The world of Christmas music was richly drawn upon Wednesday afternoon for a Yuletide program for 40 members and guests of the Music Study Club. Following the presentation at St. Paul Presbyterian Church, the group went to the home of Mrs. J. R. Hensley for the tea hour.

Mrs. R. V. Middleton traced the origin of the term "carol" from the carol dances used centuries ago on festival occasions. Americans have a rich heritage of Christmas music, she said, gleaned from the noels from France and the carols of countries around the world. From the moment the angelic choir proclaimed the birth of Christ, man has lifted his voice in songs of praise and joy. With Roberta Gay at the piano and Mrs. Robert Mason at the organ, Mrs. Jack Ware led the audience in singing the hymn of the month, Angels From the Realm of Glory. Its history was given by Mrs. Fred Beckham.

Accompanied by Mrs. Mason, Mrs. J. R. Hensley sang MacGimsey's Sweet Little Jesus Boy. A trio-composed of Mrs. Harold Talbot, Mrs. Harrol Jones and Mrs. C. A. Boyd, with Miss Gay at the piano, sang O'er the World in Silence Sleeping, Harris.

Following Tilcomb's Puer Natus Est, interpreted by Elsie Willis at the organ, Mrs. G. T. Hall, Mrs. C. E. McStravick, Edith Gay and Mrs. Mason formed a quartet to offer Sing, O Sing, This Blessed Morn, Marsh. Mrs. Nell Frazier was accompanist.

The program of Christmas music continued with Joyce Howard's rendition of Heaven and Earth Rejoice and Sing, Banks; Mrs. Beckham was pianist. Several well known carols were blended by Kohlmann for Christmas Fantasy, played by Mrs. H. M. Jarratt at the organ and Roberta Gay, pianist.

Mrs. Beckham accompanied Mrs. Royce Womack, Mrs. Ware, Mrs. James R. Line, Mrs. Rene Brown and Miss Howard as they sang Gaul's List' the Cherubic Host, preceding a clarinet number by Mrs. Douglas Wiehe. Her version of Adams' O, Holy Night was accompanied by Mrs. Boyd.

Concluding the musicale was Mrs. Norman Furlong who chose In the Sky a Wondrous Star, Black; Mrs. Mason was at the piano.

Christmas Stockings Fun To Make

By DOROTHY ROE
A.P. Women's Editor

The Christmas stocking, hung on the mantelpiece, is usually the first thing to be opened on Christmas morning, before the serious unwrapping begins. Though Christmas is traditionally for children, it's only fair for Mom and Dad to have their own stockings, too, gaily decorated and filled with silly surprises.

Here's a gift to give ahead of time, or to make up for Christmas bazaars. Felt Christmas stockings couldn't be easier to make, and a pattern isn't necessary.

Just cut red felt to stocking shapes, using a pair of pinkish shears and making Dad's the largest, with others graduated accordingly to size.

The real fun comes in decorating the stockings. Put a Christmas tree on Dad's, or decorate it with felt cutouts of pipes, guns or whatever he likes best. Also, you can sew on strips of rickrack and squares of contrasting felt to simulate an overgrown argyle sock.

Mom's sock could have lots of glitter, easily achieved with sequins and felt cutouts. You might even edge it with metallic lace.

The baby sock should be rimmed with bright red ball fringe and decorated with a red-and-white striped felt candy cane.

Nixon Cuts In On Ike Annual Message

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon has cut himself in on the process of assembling President Eisenhower's State of the Union message with the obvious intention of accentuating Modern Republicanism.

Nixon has taken steps to make certain the Cabinet members who send their recommendations to the President know the vice president's views.

Cabinet members and others recommend to the President various ideas for possible inclusion in his annual message to Congress.

Cage May Sell Apes For Debts

HOUSTON (AP)—In a strongly worded letter to a friend, Ben-Jack Cage, a convicted embezzler, says his investors will get their money even if he has to sell monkeys.

Ben-Jack, a charming, handsome 6-foot-plus Texan, turned up in Rio de Janeiro in October while free on appeal bond. He was convicted in Dallas in October, 1957 of defrauding $100,000 from the ICT Corp., a segment of a mammoth insurance and business empire he headed.

Cage received a 10-year prison sentence but he has been in jail but briefly.

Cage has steadfastly maintained his innocence and says he's anything but a crook. Now, from extradition-proof Brazil, he says everything will turn out all right "if I have to make it by selling monkeys to organ-grinders."

Cage's letter to John E. O'Leary, a Houston insurance claims manager, in part said: "Someday all the politics will be overcome by the truth, and when that happens everything will come out okeh."

"In the meantime, I'm working like hell to get a program here under way that will recover the million bucks of mine I lost-together with getting profits for those shareholders besides myself who lost their shirts."

"Someday when these ICT stockholders know the truth, they'll know that I was the only one that was really sincere with them, and my results will show that I don't give up."

"I made them a deal to make money, and damn it if I have to make it by selling monkeys to organ-grinders, then I'll unload these Brazilian forests of all the monkeys."

South American monkeys, a Houston newsman noted, are selling for about $25 per head.

underwent a year of mental treatments in a Texas hospital after the killing.

Pruitt, a native of Hayeville, Ala., is serving Virginia sentences of 30 and 20 years. He was convicted last May of robbing two service stations.

Virginia prison authorities said he also was serving a life sentence, but the nature of this charge was not disclosed. However, records showed he was to have stood trial for the Feb. 6 slaying of a Lorton, Va., grocer. His wife in Alabama said he was convicted.

He is married and is the father of two children who live with their mother Mrs. Velve Pruitt, 24, in Hayeville.

Mrs. Pruitt, questioned about her husband's statement, said he was serving terms totaling 170 years and "he just wants the chair." She said she believed he would prefer execution to spending his life in prison.

She said her husband entered the Army at 16 and had about 11 years service before his arrest. He was stationed at Ft. Benning in 1954, she said, and until he was transferred to Ft. Belvoir, Va., last year.

Police Chief B. T. Scroggins of Jasper, Ala., said Pruitt had been charged with a robbery and a burglary in Jasper in 1957. He said warrants were issued after Pruitt was arrested in Virginia.

Folsom said Pruitt's confession to the Patterson slaying was brought to the attention of Alabama officials in a letter from Supt. W. F. Smyth Jr. of the Virginia prison system.

Convict Confesses Patterson Slaying

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A Virginia convict has confessed to the 1954 slaying of vice crusader Albert Patterson, Gov. James E. Folsom's office said Wednesday.

"There appears to be a degree of truthfulness" in the signed statement of Calvin W. Pruitt, 28, who said he shot the attorney general-elect in a robbery attempt while a debt-ridden soldier stationed at Fort Benning, the governor said.

Pruitt said he asked Atty. Gen. John Patterson to join in an investigation of the confession concerning the murder outside his father's Phenix City law office the night of June 18, 1954.

The Patterson slaying sparked the Phenix City vice cleanup which he had promised to win in the Democratic nomination for attorney general shortly before.

John Patterson was sent into the attorney general's office in his father's place and was elected governor this year. He takes office in January.

He was unavailable for comment.

Former Chief Deputy Sheriff Albert Fuller of Phenix City was convicted in the Patterson murder and is serving a life term.

Of the two others charged, former Solicitor Arch Ferrell was acquitted and ex-Atty. Gen. Si Garrett never stood trial. Garrett

Mrs. Simpson Due To Return To Stand Today

ANGLETON, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. Ethel Mae Simpson was due to return to the stand today for cross examination in her trial for murder in the shooting death of her husband, Jimmy Simpson, 36.

The sight of a hunting knife yesterday sent Mrs. Simpson into hysterics. She said it was the knife with which Simpson threatened to cut her throat just before she shot him to death with a .38 pistol on July 2.

Conducting the cross-examination today was Dist. Atty. Sam Lee who has qualified the jury on the death penalty.

Mrs. Simpson said her husband, a Fort Worth aircraft plant worker, threatened her with the knife shortly after he threatened to drown her while they fished on the San Bernard River near Freeport.

She told the jury yesterday she didn't know how many times she fired when she became so afraid her husband would kill her.

"It was like it wasn't even me," she testified. "It was like it was somebody else doing it and I was watching it. It finally dawned on me that I had done it and that I had to get help. I began crying that I couldn't have done it, somebody else did it. It was then that I thought of saying that somebody else did it."

She then told of how she fabricated her first story of the slaying. She told officers at the time that a Negro killed her husband and then raped her.

She testified yesterday she threw the revolver in the river and walked to a bait camp where she told the false story.

Mrs. Simpson was charged with murder July 12 after taking a lie detector test at Texas Rangers Headquarters in Houston.

Fort Worth DA No Aid To Wilson

FORT WORTH (AP) Dist. Atty. Harold Fender balked yesterday at joining Atty. Gen. Will Wilson's crackdown on alleged loan sharks.

Fender's balk delayed filing in Tarrant County of 17 injunction suits against Fort Worth money lenders.

"I want to know what is behind this," said Fender, "whether it's a matter of these people (the loan firms) oppressing poor folks, or a springboard for some one running for office."

Fender retires from office Dec. 31 and enters private law practice.

As a probable candidate for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination, Nixon was said to feel that the forthcoming message may have a direct bearing on his prospects for winning top place on the ticket two years from now.

For two hours Wednesday night the vice president met in his hideaway office at the Capitol with Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers, Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell and Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming.

Surprised by a reporter, Nixon discounted the session as one in which only routine legislative proposals were discussed. Later the group adjourned to a Washington restaurant where there were further talks about the program to be submitted by Eisenhower.

At the Capitol session, it was reported the three Cabinet members and the vice president discussed among other things, a possibility of establishing a voluntary fair employment practices commission (FEPC) under some other name. Such a group would seek to lessen racial discrimination in employment.

Secretary Mitchell was reported to be going along with Nixon for a move in this direction.

Nixon's conference with the Cabinet members was significant for this reason: The men with whom Nixon met are the Eisenhower advisers most active in the fields of civil rights, labor, health and welfare. Those are fields in which some tokens of Republican progressivism could be imprinted upon the President's message.

A. N. Stephens Succumbs Here, Rites Saturday

Albert Newton Stephens, 83, retired T&P employee, died in a hospital here at noon Wednesday after an illness of a year's duration.

The funeral has been set for 2 p.m. Saturday at the River Funeral Home with Thomas E. Cudd, minister of the 14th and Main Church of Christ officiating. Burial will be in the City Cemetery.

Mr. Stephens, who lived at 606 Lancaster, came to Big Spring in 1915 from Mineola, where he had been in the service of the Texas & Pacific Railway Co. since 1903. He worked as a carman here and retired in 1937.

He was married on May 6, 1911, to Effie Lawrence in Longview. He was a charter member of the 14th and Main Church of Christ here.

Surviving Mr. Stephens are his wife; two daughters, Mrs. R. L. Holley, Big Spring, and Mrs. Hazel M. Alexander, Torrance, Calif.; five grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren. Among out-of-town relatives who will be here for the rites is Mrs. Cate Carlson, Selma, Calif., a sister-in-law.

Editor Criticizes School Buildings

LUBBOCK—"We're spending so few dollars on our school buildings that they will be our most expensive public structures in the long run," Dr. Walter D. Cocking declared at Texas Tech Wednesday.

The editor of School Executive magazine celebrated his 67th birthday by telling Tech's school facilities conference that most schools built since 1946 are mediocre. They're no better than most of the schools built since the 1920's and 1930's, he advised more than 100 schoolmen and architects.

Schools should be built for people, not programs, he declared. School buildings are becoming obsolete because they were constructed for programs that no longer exist.

"We also must remember that environment teaches," Cocking continued. "I'm asking the people of a community to examine their consciences and decide how much 15 or 20 cents more a year from each of them can mean to their children's future."

School buildings should be inspiring centers that reflect the importance of learning to a community, not just the cheapest thing that can be constructed, he pointed out.

Dies Of Burns

CORSICANA (AP)—Mrs. John Smith, 83, of nearby Kerens, Tex., died here yesterday of burns suffered earlier in the day when her clothing was ignited from a gas heater in her home.

Yarborough Cites 'Money Market'

DALLAS (AP)—Small business, said Senator Ralph Yarborough (D-Tex) yesterday, needs and now has an available money market. Yarborough praised the Small Business Administration as "one of the best agencies in the government." He said the agency, created by legislation introduced by him and Senator John Sparkman of Alabama, already has loaned more than two hundred million dollars. Yarborough spoke before the Oak Cliff Lions Club.

Lamesa Bank Picks Crawley For President

LAMESA - The Board of Directors of the First National Bank of Lamesa Wednesday announced the election of G. R. Crawley to the bank presidency. A graduate of the University of Cincinnati, Crawley joined the bank in January 1946, following Army service. He has advanced rapidly, beginning in 1947 when he was elected assistant cashier. In 1949 he was named cashier, 1951, vice president and cashier; 1957, executive vice president, succeeding his father, the late W. K. Crawley, chief executive officer of the bank for over 30 years.

Immediate past president of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce, Crawley has been president of the Lamesa Lions Club and of the Dawson County Community Chest. A member of the First Baptist Church, he and his wife have three children.

Crawley becomes the fifth president of the First National Bank. C. D. Crowley served as first president for a brief period in 1905, followed by W. J. Price who was president for two years. In 1907, J. F. Barron was elected president, and served until 1926. The late E. R. Yates was elected president at that time and served until his death early this year. J. J. Bryant is chairman of the board of the bank.

Apples Best Fruit Buy

Juicy, crisp apples are the best fruit buy in Texas markets for the second week.

Film-packed carrots, celery pole beans, Texas citrus, sweet corn, lettuce, turnips and rutabagas and turkeys and broiler-fryers rate close behind, says the Agriculture Marketing Service.

Lettuce prices dropped considerably the past week. Celery from Florida now is supplementing California shipments to provide plenty. Prices on Florida pole beans are some higher than a week ago, but supplies are plentiful and they are a good buy.

Big sizes of Western navel oranges are still high but small sizes dropped off considerably. Bag grapefruit and oranges out of Texas are most economical.

Sweet potatoes from Texas fields carry unchanged price tags. Likewise with lemons, pears and peppers. Tomatoes, cucumbers and tangerines are lower; onions, especially whites, and best amber grapes are higher.

Powerful Revolt Reported In Tibet

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—A revolt larger and more powerful than the Hungarian uprising is under way in Red China's southwestern territory of Tibet, a member of the Chinese Nationalist Cabinet said today. Li Yung-Hain, chairman of the Mongolian and Tibetan Affairs Commission, told Parliament that more than 300,000 Tibetans are in revolt. He said the Nationalists were in touch with the revolutionists and were supporting them but he did not specify how, or when the revolt began. The Communists have confirmed numerous reports of trouble in Tibet by accusing "American and British imperialists" of stirring it up.

Coin Treasure History Center Hidden In Texas

AUSTIN, Dec. 11 (AP)—There's a hidden treasure of old coins buried in the depths of the Barker Texas History Center at the University of Texas here.

In 200 mahogany drawers are the more than 5,000 coins and medals of the Swenson Coin Collection, which ranks among the best and most complete in the nation, if not in the world.

Yet the collection has never been put on display as a whole. A few of the coins were displayed last April at a convention of the Classical Assn. of the Middle Western South.

Some university officials have commented informally that the probable reason the collection has not been displayed more often is because of "inadequate facilities to guard the coins."

The collection was given to the university in 1891 by S. M. Swenson, Texas cattleman and New York banker. Swenson bought a majority of the coins from a Swedish coin collector, Baron A. W. Stedstedt. It was Swenson's wish that a state museum be built to house and display the coins and medals.

For 27 years the coins were forgotten. In 1926 the university regents agreed to purchase a steel safe for the coins, and Dr. Eugene C. Barker of the history department was made custodian of the safe's combination. Fearing that he might misplace or forget the combination Dr. Barker wrote it inside a drawer of his desk. Later when there were inquiries about the coins Dr. Barker found that he had forgotten the combination and he had a new desk. The entire campus searched for the old desk with the combination safely written in a desk drawer but it was never found.

Finally in 1927 an expert was imported from Dallas to "crack" the safe and the valuable collection was in the open after a second 27-year period in hiding. The collection has been in the Barker Texas History Center since then. The collection contains coins and medals from seven countries and covers 17 centuries. It includes small rounded coins from the land of Lydia, used seven centuries before Christ, and a midget coin from the island of Samos dated 500 B.C. Coins from early America include a Carolina piece dated 1694 and a pewter U. S. dollar dated 1778.

Power Deliveries Up In November, Cap Rock Reports

Power sales in November showed an increase over a year ago, the monthly operating statistics of the Cap Rock Electric Cooperative show.

During the month power sold stood at 1,397,022, which was well above the 1,222,033 for November of 1957. Power sales for the 11-month period stood at $1,213,678, which is considerably under the $7,601,926 for the same period last year when irrigation requirements were much heavier.

The KWH purchased in November amounted to 1,663,800 as against 1,497,870 for November of 1957. The purchases for 11 months amounted to 37,751,650 as against 42,311,830 for the same period a year ago.

Thus, while consumption has been down, so have purchases, which accounts for Cap Rock's record of a net about even with a year ago.

Miles energized at the end of November stood at 2,014 and members connected at 4,003. The former was a gain of five miles, the latter an increase of 21 members.

Ranchwoman Shares Recipes For Venison Chili, Holiday Desserts

Annual deer hunting expeditions in which she takes part along with her husband have led Mrs. Sonny Shroyer to develop a recipe for venison chili. You will find this recipe, with a number of timely holiday dishes, in this story.

Cooking is one of Mrs. Shroyer's foremost enthusiasms. Although she approaches almost any culinary task with equal gusto, she does admit a partiality to desserts. Perhaps it is because they lend themselves to such decorative ways and to variation.

She has begun her Christmas cooking; in fact she has already made two batches of the icebox fruitcake roll and will be making others. A deep freeze helps year-round, but it is particularly nice to have in a holiday period.

Residing on the Shroyer Ranch as the couple does, it is well for Mrs. Shroyer to keep a ready grocery list at hand, even though the ranch is but 15 miles north of town on the Ackery Route. Beef is no problem; they raise white-faced Herefords and there is an ample supply always in the freezer. Three big meals a day are standard procedure for her, and she makes hot bread almost every day. Her spacious kitchen is conducive to making cooking a pleasant activity.

By her own description a ranchwoman through and through, Mrs. Shroyer delights in doing some of field work, driving the tractor and helping work the cattle. She also derives pleasure from sewing. Not only does she make many of her own clothes; she has decorated the home in a Western ranch style. One day she came upon some discarded burlap sacks in the barn. She appropriated them, made them into attractive draw draperies; the corniceboards are also covered in the fabric and are studded with leather saddle rings.

The Shroyers spend many hours at his parents' cabin on Lake J. B. Thomas. They have fun boating and water-skiing.

President of the Knott HD Club, of which she has been a member since 1956, Mrs. Shroyer is slated to become chairman of the Howard County HD Council in January. She is a promoter of the HD work.

Perhaps you will like to try a Christmas arrangement which she makes each year. Cutting bear grass at the roots, she sometimes sprays the material in silver, wraps it at the bottom with red crepe paper and places it in a crystal bowl. Each blade she tops with a colored Christmas ball.

Try Mrs. Shroyer's recipes:

ICEBOX FRUITCAKE ROLL
 1-3 cup evaporated milk
 1-3 cups marshmallows, (16) cut in one-sixths
 1/4 cup orange juice
 4 1/2 cups graham cracker crumbs
 1/2 tsp. cinnamon
 1/2 tsp. nutmeg
 1/4 tsp. cloves
 3/4 cup dates, finely cut
 1-3 cups seedless raisins
 1 cup chopped nuts
 1/2 cup candied pineapple, cut up.

FUDGE CANDY
 2-3 cup evaporated milk
 1-3 cups sugar
 1/4 tsp. salt
 1/4 cup butter
 16 marshmallows, cut up, or 1 jar marshmallow cream
 1 1/2 cups semi-sweet chocolate bits
 1 tsp. vanilla
 1 cup walnuts, coarsely broken
 Mix first five ingredients together and bring to boil, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Add chocolate and stir until melted. Stir in vanilla and walnuts. Spread in buttered 8" square pan; cool till firm. Makes about 2 pounds of candy.

PECAN PIE
 3 eggs, slightly beaten
 1 cup white corn syrup
 1/2 tsp. salt
 2-3 cup pecans, coarsely chopped
 1 tsp. vanilla
 1 cup sugar
 Mix together all ingredients, adding nuts last. Pour into 9" pie pan lined with pie crust, and bake in hot oven (450) degrees for ten minutes. Then reduce heat to moderate (350) degrees, and continue baking until a silver knife blade inserted in center of filling comes out clear.

PUMPKIN CHIFFON CAKE
 2 cups all purpose flour (sifted before measuring)
 1/2 cup sugar
 3 tsp. baking powder
 1 tsp. salt
 1 tsp. cinnamon
 1/2 tsp. cloves
 1/2 tsp. nutmeg
 7 large eggs
 1/4 cup pumpkin
 1/4 cup salad oil
 1/2 cup water
 1/2 tsp. cream of tartar

Sift dry ingredients together (three or four times) in mixing bowl. Separate eggs, combine yolks with pumpkin, salad oil and water. Mix well into dry ingredients. Beat egg whites until stiff (in peaks) but not dry. Gradually fold in pumpkin mixture; do not stir.
 Bake in tube pan in moderate oven (325) degrees 50 to 55 minutes.

VENISON CHILI
 4 medium-sized onions, chopped
 2 lb. venison (ground)
 2 lbs. beef (ground)
 4 tsp. chili blend
 1 clove garlic, minced
 1/2 tsp. black pepper
 Dash red pepper
 1 tsp. salt
 Brown onions, venison and beef in 2 tsp. hot fat. Add chili blend, minced garlic, pepper, and salt to the meat mixture and simmer on low heat for 1 1/2 hours. This will make approximately eight servings.

CREAMED CRABMEAT
 1 cup butter
 2 tbsps. flour
 1 cup milk
 1-3 cup chicken broth
 1 tsp. instant onion
 1/4 tsp. turmeric dissolved in 1 tbsps. chicken broth
 2 tbsps. heavy cream
 1 can (6 1/2 ounces) king crabmeat (drained and cartilage removed and flaked)

Melt butter in 1-quart saucepan over low heat; stir in flour. Add milk and broth; cook and whisk constantly until boiling and thickened; cook a few minutes longer. Stir in onion, dissolved turmeric and cream; fold in crabmeat.
 Reheat gently. Makes 4 small servings. Salt may need to be added, depending on the seasoning in the chicken broth.

FRUIT FESTIVAL SALAD
 Lime layer: 1 pkg. lime-flavored gelatin, 1 cup hot water, 1-3 cup pineapple juice, 1 cup drained canned pineapple tidbits.
 Cheese layer: 1 1/2 tsp. unflavored gelatin, 2 tbsps. cold water, 1 pkg. cream cheese (8 oz.), 1/4 cup milk.
 Cranberry-Strawberry layer: 2 pkgs. strawberry flavored gelatin; 2 cups hot water, 1 can whole cranberry sauce (1 lb.)
 Tear off 18" length of heavy duty foil. Cut in two lengthwise strips, 9" and 5" wide. Cross strips to line 9 x 5 x 3" loaf pan.

Prepare lime layer according to package directions but use 1-3 cup pineapple juice instead of cold water called for. Chill until syrupy; fold in pineapple. Pour into foil-lined pan. Chill until firm.
 Combine unflavored gelatin and water; heat until clear. Blend cheese, milk, gelatin. Pour over lime layer. Chill until firm.
 Prepare strawberry layer according to package directions but add only 2 cups of hot water. Stir cranberries in. Chill. When syrupy, stir and pour over cheese layer. Chill until firm.

To serve: lift out of pan, peel off foil. Garnish with lettuce. Serves 12.
QUICK DESSERT
 For a quick and elegant dessert: combine cooked, spiced apple crescents with a sauce made of 1/2 cup currant jelly, 1/4 cup orange juice, grated rind of half an orange, 1/4 cup shredded coconut. Mix well into dry ingredients. Put apple crescents in your prettiest sherbet glasses, pour heated sauce over them, garnish with a sprig of mint for a delightful dessert.

The Frozen Foods Are Booming In The U.S.A.

American homemakers have gone to frozen foods in a big way in recent years. The change has put new life into the country's refrigerated warehousing industry, reports the Agricultural Marketing Service.

Picture, if you can, a refrigerator with 901 million cubic feet of space. That's the capacity of cold storage warehouse facilities now in use. They make sure you have a steady supply of perishable foods, all year long.

If this space were converted into a tunnel 10 feet wide and 8 feet high, you could drive for more than 2,000 miles in air-conditioned comfort—or discomfort. About half the tunnel would be refrigerated to near 32 degrees; the other 1,000 miles to below-zero temperatures.

And this is only the beginning, predicts AMS, that has the job of taking monthly inventories of cold storage stocks. About 23 million cubic feet have been added each year since 1947. There is no sign of a let-up.

It's not so long ago that apples, red meats and shell eggs were the main refrigerated items — and these only seasonally. A lot of apples, meats and eggs still are being stored in quantity but they are far exceeded in tonnage of other foods.

Today, the "nation's refrigerator" can handle some nine billion pounds of frozen meats, fruits and vegetables, juices, soups, seafoods, fancy desserts, foreign dishes and prepared meals, plus a variety of other perishable foods.

The Most Important Thing About BAKING

It's the balance of ingredients in baking powder that governs its leavening action. Only when these are scientifically balanced can you be sure of uniform action in the mixing bowl plus that final rise-to-light and fluffy texture in the oven... That's the story of Clabber Girl's balanced double action.

Party Whirl Calls For Many Hors D'Oeuvres

Holiday season means a gay round of parties and open houses. Hospitality is extended in numerous ways, but always the refreshments add their full measure to the event's success.

Hors d'oeuvres trays are waiting for new ideas, and buffet suppers beg for innovations. If they can be made well in advance, so much the better for the hostess. Lazy Susans cry out for appealing dips.

Party hors d'oeuvres can acquire that catered look by using packaged biscuits and cheese spreads. The variety of their decorations is limited only by your imagination. Parsley, chopped egg, pimiento, nuts, cheese bits—all have their advantages.

Add to your own repertoire. Perhaps these recipes will be just what you are looking for:

PARTY BISCUIT LOAVES

1 can biscuits
2 5 oz. containers of cream cheese
1/4 cup light cream or milk
Bake biscuits according to directions on can. When cooled, slice each biscuit crosswise into four thin slices. For each loaf, spread 3 of the biscuit slices with about 1 tbsp. of filling. Stack together; cover with top biscuit slice.

Let cream cheese soften at room temperature. Beat cheese until smooth and fluffy. Add cream or milk; beat until blended. If desired, tint cheese pale pink, green or yellow.

Frost sides and top of each loaf with cream cheese mixture. Roll sides in parsley, chopped nuts or sieved hard-cooked egg yolk. Garnish with parsley, watercress, sliced olives or pimiento. Makes ten loaves.

NOTE: The filling may be varied in many ways.

CRUNCHY BACON CHIP DIP

1/2 cup cooked, chopped bacon
1/2 cup cream cheese
2 tsp. catsup
1 tsp. prepared mustard
1/8 tsp. ground ginger
1/4 cup dairy soured cream
Potato chips or crackers
Soften cream cheese. Add catsup, mustard, ginger, soured cream and bacon. Blend well. Serve with potato chips or crackers. Makes one cup.

OLIVE PIMENTO BON BONS

1 5 oz. glass olive pimento cheese spread
20 pecan or walnut halves
Make cheese balls of the cheese spread and press a pecan or walnut half on each side. Chill.

SNAPPY HAM-CHEESE PINWHEELS

2 3 oz. pkgs. cream cheese

PARTIFIED HORS D'OEUVRES

1 5-oz. glass blue cheese spread
1/2 tsp. onion juice
5 slices boiled ham
Let cheeses stand at room temperature until softened. Beat cream cheese until smooth and fluffy. Gradually beat in blue cheese spread. Stir in onion juice. Divide into five portions. Spread each portion on a slice of ham; roll each tightly, jelly-roll fashion. Wrap in waxed paper or aluminum foil. Chill until firm enough to slice smoothly, about four to six hours. Rolls may be prepared the night before and stored in refrigerator until ready to use. Just before serving, slice rolls into 3/4 inch pinwheels. Makes 30.

BRANDIED CHEESE BALLS

Let two 3 oz. pkgs. cream cheese soften at room temperature. Cream until fluffy. Blend in 1/2 tsp. salt and 2 tsp. brandy. Chill for one hour. Shape into tiny balls; roll in finely crushed potato chips.

Meat Loaf Is At Its Best When Juicy

Dry meat loaf has little appeal for anyone, and often ends up smothered with tomato catsup. But a moist concoction, full-bodied in flavor, is hard to beat.

Not only is meat loaf economical as an entree; it can be sliced when cold and used as a delightful sandwich filling.

Here is a recipe for one: SQUARE MEAT LOAF

Ingredients:
2 eggs
1 cup milk
1/4 cup minced parsley
2 tbsps. minced green pepper
2 tbsps. plus 2 tps finely grated onion (pulp and juice)
2 tps. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
2 tps. Worcestershire sauce
1 tsp. prepared mustard
2 cups soft bread crumbs (lightly packed)
2 pounds ground lean chuck beef
2 tbsps. chili sauce.

Method:

In a large mixing bowl beat eggs enough to combine yolks and whites; add milk and beat enough to combine. Stir in parsley, green pepper, onion, salt, pepper, Worcestershire sauce and mustard. Stir in bread crumbs; allow to stand about 5 minutes. Add beef; mix thoroughly.

Pack into heat-resistant glass baking pan (about 8 by 8 by 2 inches); spread top with chili sauce. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 1 hour.

Pour off fat at sides of pan; cut in squares and serve from baking dish. Makes 8 servings.

Note: Remove crusts from bread before crumbing.

Top Pear Salad

Add lemon juice and curry powder to mayonnaise and serve with a fresh pear salad.

Apple Varieties

Apple varieties best for baking are those with sturdy skins, firm meat, which cooks evenly, can be cut with a fork, is soft and juicy when baked. Washington State growers, who supply one out of every three apples in the United States, recommend the round, red Rome Beauties and the more oval, fine-textured Golden Delicious for this purpose, although Winesap and Newtown varieties are also excellent cooking apples.

Pear Dessert

Poach fresh pears; put a small scoop of vanilla ice cream in the cavity of each pear half; surround with chocolate sauce. Serve to guests!

A Devotional For Today

God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. (John 3:16.)

PRAYER: Our Father, as we bow at Thy throne of mercy, help us to find that sweet relief that a burdened soul can have, only as it puts its trust in Thee. We ask this in the name of our Saviour. Amen.

The Perspective Of Time

Considering his impact upon his times, not a great deal has been written about Franklin Delano Roosevelt since he died more than 13 years ago. The intervention of vast world-shaking events may account in part for this apparent disinterest in a man who wrote his name in 10-foot letters for 13 years of American history, beginning with his election in 1932 and ending with his death in 1945.

That will come later, no doubt, when lesser events and occasions than the great depression of the 1930s and the great war of the 1940s have run their course.

It takes a generation for a historic figure to settle down in proper perspective, after most of his contemporaries have either passed on themselves or meliowed in their views and attitudes. Being too close to men and events to pass considered judgment on their long-term significance is a handicap to historians, and Roosevelt was a man who aroused the greatest passion, pro and con, of any man since Lincoln.

In the current Esquire magazine Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr. throws a provocative insight into the being of a man who was perhaps the most "unknown" President of the United States.

He quotes FDR, after viewing the Grand Canyon for the first time, as saying: "It looks dead. I like my green trees at Hyde Park better."

"In 1933," writes Schlesinger, "it was an image of fatherly purpose which reassured and unified a panicky nation. Thereafter it became an image increasingly divisive in its effects. Some Americans grew to hate the public persona" of Roosevelt with a ferocious and unappeasable hatred. Others—a far larger number—began to balance that hate with a passionate and equally uncritical adoration."

But the essence of Roosevelt, he goes on, "the quality which fulfilled the best in him and explained the potency of his appeal, was his intrepid and passionate affirmation." Wherever he was—in the White House, on the sea which he loved, at conferences, "Roosevelt always cast his vote for life, for action, for forward motion, and for the future. He responded to what was vital, not to what was lifeless; to what was coming, not to what was passing away."

Any man who exercises great influence on his time is apt to rouse the basic instincts of admiration and detestation among his contemporaries. The definitive analysis of F. D. Roosevelt's character, methods, objectives and effects on his era may not be written for another quarter century.

Open Your Heart

Already several appeals have been made, and doubtless others will follow, for funds in some way connected with Christian charity and continuing aid to the sick and unfortunate.

At times one may wonder if there is no end to such appeals, and yet if there were there might be an end to the impulses which make this the time of year when mankind is generally at its best.

Not everyone can give to everything, nor should he. But almost everyone ought to give something to some cause, even though it may be no more than the fervent prayer of a humble heart.

Giving and sharing should be an endless opportunity for us, but we need something like the Christmas season to bring this noble exercise back into focus for us.

After all, the heart and soul of Christmas is God's great gift to man. We can catch that divine spark not by shielding our pocketbooks but by opening our hearts and lending a helping hand to the "least of these."

The Program Ahead For Eisenhower

WASHINGTON—The next two years for Ike—what will they be like? What ought he to do, and what will he do?

This is the subject uppermost in the minds of many people here. It is important to the Republican party, to the country as a whole, and to the world.

President Eisenhower is the last person anyone would call a politician, and it has often been said that he has no taste for politics. Both statements can be right, and yet it is conceivable that in his way Mr. Eisenhower could achieve real success on the political front.

For, while the word "politics" connotes a game or a contest between parties and persons in governmental life, it has a broader meaning—the capacity to understand the mood of the people.

The key to leadership in the next two years, therefore, is in how to deal with the mood of the people.

Obviously, the first step is to make sure just what the national mood really happens to be.

Today the national mood is a composite of a lot of local and individual moods. But there is a common denominator running through all of them. There are gripes galore. There are the irritations and annoyances of the economic world and many worries over the fact that the Communists do not seem to want to let things alone. There are grievances about high taxes and inequitable taxes. There are fears about the steady decline in the purchasing power of the dollar—otherwise called inflation. There is unrest as between management and labor and a belief that organized labor will abuse its collective-bargaining power, and exert higher and higher wages. This means higher and higher prices and a squeeze particularly on the people with fixed incomes.

How then to cure the discontent? For discontent produced the negative reaction that instigated the Democratic party's landslide in the recent elections.

The first and foremost problem in national and international affairs is to fix responsibility. In the recent elections the electorate didn't stop to ask who was in command in both houses of Congress during the last two years—the blame for everything was placed on the Republicans. This was due to the tactics of the Democrats who assumed no responsibility themselves but constantly fostered the illusion that the President controls the budget.

It's His Own Problem

Ike Still Vague On Integration

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has consistently sidestepped saying whether he thinks racial integration in public schools is good or bad. He did say it should go slower.

He's been less consistent in deciding how to enforce the Supreme Court's 1955 order for ending enforced segregation. And he seems as vague today about handling Southern resistance as he was when the court first spoke.

This showed up again Wednesday at his news conference.

He said in the past he had taken an oath to enforce the laws. But as recently as Sept. 11, 1956, he seemed to think he himself couldn't do anything that the job was up to U.S. marshals.

That day he said: "The federal government is not allowed to go into any state unless called upon by the governor who must show that he is unable with the means at his disposal to preserve order."

And on July 17, 1957, he was saying "I can't imagine any set of circumstances" that would ever induce him to send troops into a state to back up the court. He added that day: "I believe the common sense of America will never require it."

He reversed his field a couple of months later when Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas used National Guardsmen to block the court-ordered integration of Little Rock's Central High School.

Then Eisenhower sent in troops, not at Faubus' request but over his protests.

Eisenhower's main theme on achieving integration is that it is a slow process. He has talked of patience, of educating people on the issues. He has said laws can't change the hearts or prejudices of people.

But Wednesday he showed impatience with people who don't obey the law. He was asked how he feels about the refusal of Alabama officials to produce voting records demanded by the government's Commission on Civil Rights.

The commission, created by act of Congress, is investigating complaints of Alabama Negroes that state authorities have frustrated their attempts to register and vote.

Eisenhower said: "Well, I don't feel very well about it... I think this is a rather sad sort of thing, because all the way around we are running into this refusal of complying with the basic laws of the land, laws that have been upheld by our courts as legal and proper."

He called the performance of the Alabama officials "reprehensible."

But does he have any plans himself for handling Southern resistance, such as asking Congress for new laws? He was asked the question: "Do you favor new legislation to bring about the enforcement of integration?"

Eisenhower seemed to have no plans at all, beyond saying he thought the commission should be allowed more time to do the job of inquiring into civil rights violations. The commission's two-year term ends next year.

He said: "Now, with respect to new laws which you are talking about in the whole field of civil rights, I simply will say this: This is something that is studied all the time."

Just where will all the studying lead? Eisenhower said, "I don't know."

But Wednesday's anger at those who don't comply with the laws was not the same as the attitude he expressed last Aug. 8 when he said: "Mere laws will never solve this problem."

Sorry, Lady

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A woman visitor from St. Louis, just in from the airport, told the hotel clerk that she had left her purse in a cab. But at least I know the name of the driver," she said. "It was William Thien." The clerk explained unhappily that Thien is the police inspector who signs the cabbies' ID cards.

But Watch The Holes

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Someday radiation exposure cards will become as much a fixture of wallets and purses as social security cards and drivers' licenses, a meeting of general practitioners was told. Dr. William G. Myers, professor of medical biophysics, said the cards could be similar to meal tickets with squares to punch out for each exposure, such as an X-ray treatment.

Honest Abe

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—United Fund officials were skeptical when Abe Lincoln called to say he would make a contribution if someone picked it up.

However, a worker went out to Abe's house and he was waiting there with his pie.

Around The Rim

A Lesson I've Remembered

These merchants being victimized by the hot check writers—they have my sympathy. Also those taken in by the bad credit risks.

I've been victimized, too. I learned my lesson, though.

My experience paid off after about two instances—one each worthless check and promise-to-pay later. I wasn't a very big operator, and just couldn't stand the losses. After my two ventures into character evaluation, I wouldn't have extended a dime's worth of credit to the Rockefeller.

It all occurred while I was working in a service station, at $5 a Sunday, while going to school.

The first time I took a bum check, the boss, not noted for charity, announced:

"This comes out of your pay. You should have known better than to take a check from that guy."

There went the wages for the next two Sundays.

Before I'd recovered from that, in came another deceitful character. "Fill'er up," he ordered. Then, when I'd finished, he instructed me to "put it on my bill."

I must have looked nearly stampeded, for he hastened to explain that he had a regular account there, and that he would drop in to pay up soon when the boss was there.

Sounded logical, so I stuck a ticket in the cash register. The boss nearly exploded when he saw it.

"Who's this?" he wanted to know. I pointed out his name on the ticket. "Well, I hope he pays pretty quick... or this is coming out of your pay," the boss stormed.

The way it turned out, he didn't pay, and he couldn't be located. It also happened that he was driving one of those big automobiles that took $7 worth of gasoline, so there went the salary for another one and a half Sundays.

After that, I was downright rude to anyone wanting to cash a check or make a credit purchase. And ever since, I've been looking for those two sneaks who cheated me out of my hard-earned earnings. If I ever find one of 'em, I'll marching him up to my former employer and demanding that somebody give.

The Overdone Trappings Of Christmas

Deponent believes in Santa Claus and is mad about Christmas. I also believe in prosperity and an even bigger and better annual gross national product. I wish Macy's and Gimbel's the best of everything, and every mouse in every house a full quota of cheese.

But, by golly, I am opposed to useless giving and the pagan aspects of Christmas. This is probably a subversive confession, but I am far more repelled than entranced by Christmas advertisements and gift gimmicks.

It's doubtless the Scrooge in me, but I don't pant for any of the sequined booby traps, lined with marabou, now cluttering up the gift tables. The Fifth Avenue emporium proudly advertising its elaborate gift wrappings (gift additional, of course) priced from $5 to $100 dollars each is not tuned to my wave length. Maybe I'm the unimaginative type, or just plain mercenary, but I'll settle for a piece of brown wrapping paper and the cash.

A billfold with built-in switch-blade knife may give some individuals a sense of security, but I have never had enough money to suffer from insecurity. I am hard put to think up any personal uses for a Bermuda carriage bell minus carriage, a Scotch duck call (and what's the matter with American ducks?), a colonial gun cradle, a bull horn (maybe for those who live on Slaughter House Hill), or water-proof yacht timer, unless it is also accompanied by a yacht.

Only in the advent of a yacht, could I possibly feel the need of a set of long-wearing, nylon marine signal flags, indicating what's going on aboard. They come in choice of beer and cocktail signals, as well as one indicating "lone wolf" aboard. Wouldn't "water rat" be more in keeping with the marine motif? I pass this long, free of charge, to manufacturers even now plotting the gift gimmicks of 1959.

Nor do I want any candy this Christmas; not since the noisy Retail Candy Store Institute, a trade association, issued a card of Christmas etiquette for those who receive a box of bonbons. "It is not polite to hesitate in selecting a piece of candy," the institute pontificates, "nor should it be squeezed and then returned to the box." Does the institute retain perpetual rights and Peeping Tom privileges in each box of sweets it sells? Is the candy only on loan or do I get permanent possession?

If I can't hesitate, surveying the whole field before I take a piece of candy, and if I can't give a quick little pinch here and there in my search for the chocolate-covered caramels and mint-flavored marshmallows, the institute can keep its candy on the shelf in protective custody!

This is one of the most serious symptoms of what is undermining traditional American ways: Everyone telling everybody else what to do and how to do it, even to guidance on dipping the bill into a box of candy! (Of course, columnists are the exception. We know what we're talking about!)

Dear me, I seem to have gotten off the trolley back there. I started out to put the arm on the useless giving and strictly holiday gadgetry that most of us, at any sane period of the year, wouldn't buy, give or accept at gunpoint. Christmas should be sacred and not profaned by the profit motif.

The gifts and the giving become more frenzied every year. It is one woman's opinion that it is wicked to spend as much on the box and wrappings to contain a present as would support a hungry European or Asian child for half a year. The trappings of Christmas are destroying our sense of reverence and the spirit of wonder that are the glory of this holy feast. More anon.

The Filibuster As Minority Protection

By WILLIAM S. WHITE

(For Marquis Childs, who is on vacation.) WASHINGTON—Of the Senate's forthcoming debate on the filibuster rule it could be said that rarely have so many been so profoundly affected by so grave an issue understood by so few.

The decision will come at a time when the power of persuading the country by bland and happy oversimplifications, by stirring the fear of being "out of line," by the comforting appeal of simply being in the majority, is incomparably the greatest in our history.

Everywhere more and more gaunt television towers beam out endless messages making it all too clear who are the good guys and who the bad guys in everything—including the good guys who denounce and the bad guys who support a dusty thing called the filibuster. This is the term for endless talking in the Senate to prevent a vote.

And the decision will come also in a supercharged political atmosphere that will affect and possibly even decide the 1960 presidential contest.

But at stake are things infinitely more important than all these.

For the background: It is not now possible to shut off a major filibuster—short of simply wearing it out by letting the filibusters exhaust themselves—without the votes of two-thirds of the entire Senate. The advanced liberals in both parties wish to provide that a bare majority—50 of the 98 Senators—could halt all debate after a specified time.

The old guard Southerners will resist any kind of change. The moderate Southerners, some of the Western Liberal Democrats and a good many Republicans are for a moderate alteration. This would permit two-thirds of those voting (instead of two-thirds of the whole membership) to clamp down on debate.

The advanced liberals would fundamentally alter the Senate as an institution. This they bitterly deny; but it is historically and demonstrably the truth. For the Senate was deliberately designed, and for nearly two centuries has so operated, as a frank check on unqualified majority rule. The notion has been that even majorities may sometimes be angrily wrong—as they were wrong in trying to draft strikers into the Army and to pack the Supreme Court and thus to destroy its integrity as an institution.

The advanced liberals are earnest men, but in some cases they are impressionable men. Some are like the violent abolitionists of long ago who much troubled a reasonably liberal President named Lincoln. These are inflamed by their long frustrations in seeking full civil rights for Negroes. And, of course, they are influenced, too, by the thoroughly legitimate power of racial minorities at the polls.

Too, they do not face up to the fact that any filibuster can be broken, rule or no rule, by a substantial and truly determined majority. The operative words are "truly determined." What the civil rights forces have needed far more than a new rule is more genuinely devoted—as distinguished from lip-service—backers. Perhaps they have those backers now. Perhaps there could be a real effort to break a civil rights filibuster flat-out and head-on; this correspondent has never yet seen one in 12 years of watching the Senate.

The advanced liberals can fairly argue that the Senate ought to be a place of straight majority rule. But they cannot fairly argue that the Constitution has made it such. They intend to change the meaning of the constitutional structure; surely, they ought to say so.

And they cannot deny that there have been times when a simple majority anti-filibuster rule could have imperilled all civil rights. In the 'twenties, for illustration, disinterested scholars estimated 28 states to be politically in the grip of the Ku Klux Klan. This could have meant not 50 but 52 votes to halt Senate debate—a majority, no less.

The ultimate victims of halting Senate debate by simple majority would be any or every minority and any or every minority interest or issue, given a favorable atmosphere for the majority.

Good Looking Trash

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Outside a downtown bank building office girls stopped to gape at an Armored Transport guard emptying a money bag into a city trash can. An explanation was quickly forthcoming—the guard uses a money bag in his truck for a litter bag.

Let's Have A Horse-Party

NEW YORK (AP)—Mary Simpson, known as the Elsa Maxwell of the pet world, has an odd professional ambition. She wants to throw a beach party for horses.

"A beach is an ideal place for such a party," she explained. "horses love the surf, but most of them rarely get to visit a beach."

Throwing parties for animals is now a career for this pretty, blue-eyed blonde.

Miss Simpson, an employee of the Hess Bros. department store in Allentown, Pa., is the world's only pet party consultant — at least as far as she knows.

But Mary, a college graduate who majored in Far Eastern history, doesn't think of her job as odd. She has loved animals all her life, enjoys catering to them.

"People have been throwing parties for their pets for some time," she said, "but it has been on a rather haphazard basis."

Miss Simpson likes to go over the animal guest list in advance—

just as a professional Washington social hostess might.

"Animals don't differ much from human beings at a party," she observed. "They catch the air of excitement. They have their showoffs and their wallflowers. You have to be sure the guests will get along."

"So far I haven't supervised a party where we mixed canaries, parakeets and cats and dogs. But we've had a number of cat and dog mixed parties that come off very well."

"The fact a dog chases a cat outside the home has no bearing on how they will get along at a party. After they get to know each other, they behave very well. Cats and monkeys also get along well at parties," she said.

Jealousy arises only when the guest pet of honor gets all the presents—or when two dogs want to show off at the same time. "As at a children's party," cautioned Miss Simpson, "it is important that all the guests receive a favor. And it is better if the favors are identical. This keeps down envy."

Pets like to play games at parties just like people. Their favorite games, Mary said, are "bone scramble" and "hide the meat-ball."

What should you give a pet as a birthday party present?

"The best present for a bird is another bird," said Miss Simpson. "The best way to surprise a cat or dog is to get it another toy like the very first one it ever had. It will remember—and be pleased."

"You can also get it a copy of some object it likes around the house but has been forbidden to play with—such as a slipper, lady's hat, rubber, or braided rug. But it is essential that you first use the object yourself, so that the pet will associate it with you. Otherwise he won't care for it."
