

Death Walk

Firemen remove the body of one of seven U.S. Air Force student-airmen killed in a fire at a dormitory in Syracuse, N.Y. The dead were trapped in the prefab building when a wind-driven fire flashed through the one-story building. Thirteen other airmen were injured in the blaze.

Capitol Speculates On Future Of Daniel's Fiscal Program

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel's hopes of easing the state's fiscal crisis with a minimum of taxation headed up today in a report from his economy committee.

There was considerable speculation in the Capitol, as opening day of the 56th Legislature neared, on how some of the committee's proposals would fare in the light of past rough treatment.

The committee of key executive department chiefs headed by Sec. of State Zolie Steakley suggested six ways yesterday under which they said the state could add 74 million dollars to the general fund. Of this, around 54 million would be available in future years if the Legislature should approve the entire program.

The suggestions included a revision of the franchise tax formula to bring in 30 million dollars more each two years, and other changes and economies. Some of these would be possible without legislative action, but most would require approval of the Legislature.

The amount reported by the committee — 74 million dollars — is numerically in excess of the estimated 65 million dollar general revenue fund deficit. There was considerable question, however, as to whether or not practical application of the plan could wipe out the deficit.

Gov. Daniel's comment was: "It is interesting to note that this committee has pointed out the possibility of raising more than the anticipated deficit on Aug. 31, 1959, from governmental economies and increased revenues under present tax laws."

It was unofficially estimated that if the entire program is approved by the Legislature, it would take at least a 35-million-dollar bite out of the deficit.

"My purpose in appointing this committee was to be sure that every means of governmental economy was explored and every possibility of additional revenue under present laws was considered before we began to discuss new taxes," Daniel said.

One of the committee's proposals was to repeal the present law exempting beer and cigarettes from state taxes on military bases.

The proposed change in the franchise tax allocation formula would be aimed at firms in interstate business, and would bring in about 30 million dollars every two years.

The committee sought to spike the idea that there could be a quick, painless transfer of surpluses from many state trust funds or funds restricted in use of constitutional or statutory law. These include such funds as the Permanent School and University fund.

"The idea that the legislature could, and in a single stroke, transfer the money in the numerous special state funds, or any large portion thereof, to the General Revenue fund and thereby acquire vast sums for general appropriations, is shown to be erroneous," the committee report said. It explained in detail why.

Critic Gets Fan Mail For Stand

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—Marie Torre, who went to jail rather than reveal the source of an item in her radio-TV column, has received more than 500 letters praising her for her stand.

This was made known Wednesday by the 34-year-old newspaperwoman's husband, TV producer Hal Friedman, who visited her at the Hudson County Jail here.

Friedman said his wife had received only one letter critical of her position.

She misses her two infant children, Friedman said, but is otherwise cheerful. Miss Torre shares with other prisoners the candy and fruit sent her by well-wishers.

Friedman was accompanied to the prison by Ogden Reid, former president and editor of the New York Herald Tribune, and several personal friends of the columnist. Miss Torre writes for the New York Herald Tribune Syndicate.

She chose a 10-day jail term rather than reveal the source of an item she wrote about singer Judy Garland, saying she hoped the move "will lead to legislation protecting a newspaperman's sources."

Just such legislation was offered the House in Washington Wednesday.

Rep. Francis E. Dorn (R-Ky) introduced a bill exempting newspaper, radio and television reporters from being compelled by federal courts to reveal their sources, except in cases affecting national security.

Dorn said his bill would extend to the federal courts a recognition of newsmen's privilege already provided by law in 12 states.

He said the legislation would facilitate newsgathering and "give further legal recognition to the best journalistic ethics which provide for the protection of confidential news sources."

Support for legislation of this type came Wednesday night from the New York County Council of this type came Wednesday night from the New York County Council of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Some 350 VFW members passed a resolution at a special meeting calling for laws to protect newsmen who find themselves in Miss Torre's position.

Awards Presented At School Assembly

GARDEN CITY — Awards were presented at an assembly held Tuesday morning in the school auditorium.

The basketball boys presented their Second Place trophy that they won in the Forsan tournament to E. L. Murphy, high school principal, to put in the trophy case.

The FFA Chapter presented their sweetheart, Betty Robinson, with a sweetheart jacket and the FFA Greenhand Chapter presented their sweetheart, Sue Parker, with a gift.

Mrs. Jim Eiland, home demonstration agent and 4-H sponsor, showed a film on "Cleanliness and Neatness."

Malik Tells Of 3 Dangers U.S. Must Meet

DALLAS (AP)—Three dangers must be met if the United States is to win the heart and mind of the peoples of Africa and Asia, Dr. Charles Malik said here last night.

Malik, the Lebanese president of the General Assembly of the United Nations, said the three dangers were:

1. A possible weakening in America's faith in its own ultimate values.
2. A wave of complacency, ease and comfort that threatens not only America but many another land.
3. A conspiracy of forces, worldwide in nature, whose only concern is to blacken the name of America.

Malik, speaking before the Dallas Council of World Affairs, said the Afro-Asians want four things:

1. Self-rule.
2. A larger share of the world's goods.
3. Free opportunity to develop their own cultures.
4. To be left out of the cold war enveloping the United States and Russia.

Malik warned his audience against insisting on African and Asian countries adopting democracy as the West knows it. But, he conceded, "There is in Asia and Africa a certain job to be done in a hurry."

"For an eventual stability and peaceful development of the area, people must immediately feel their security and dignity, and there is no reason to believe that the North Atlantic forms of democracy are best suited to these needs."

Malik said economic aid to African and Asian countries has been helpful and substantial but too little.

"People are just beginning to wake up to the actual and potential magnitude of the Communist competition," he said. "The native needs are much more desperate than the people had known or imagined. And the pace of history, including the development of their own poverty and privation, is feverishly quickening."

"For these reasons," he added, "America's economic effort in Asia and Africa appears to require serious reconsideration."

Honest Thugs

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Two youths drove up to a service station in suburban Renton and pulled a pistol on attendant Roy Wendt. "I haven't any money," Wendt said. "Okay," answered one would-be robber. "Fill up the tank, then." Wendt did: $3.35 worth. The robbers drove off—but not until they received their change for a $5 bill one of them handed Wendt.

DEAR ABBY

SHE HAS A POINT!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: The new dress styles are bad enough, but at least they don't do any PHYSICAL harm. How about those pointed shoes? I went from shoe store to shoe store trying to buy a pair of shoes but I was told all they had were the new pointed shoes. So I went home and had my old shoes re-heeled and re-soled and I am going to keep right on having them re-heeled and re-soled until I can buy some shoes that fit me. My TOES do not grow in a point — and neither does my HEAD! ROUND TOES

DEAR ABBY: The man in the shoe store told me to TRY the new pointed shoes so I tried them. I brought them back and told him they hurt. He said they hurt only in my head. He did me a favor and exchanged the same style shoe for another pair a size larger. Now I ask you? I normally wear an "8 A" but in the new style shoes I take a "9 A." If they were oxfords I would get them mixed up with my husband's. What do I do now? ALL FEET DEAR ALL: Send me a postcard and join Abby's W. W. F. S. ANONYMOUS. This club (WON'T WEAR FREAKISH STYLES) already has thousands of members (men, too) who protest the new styles and refuse to wear or buy them. Try the suggestion offered by "Round Toes" above.

DEAR ABBY: I am a member of your W. W. F. S. ANONYMOUS (Won't Wear Freakish Styles) and I went shopping because I wanted a new dress for my sister's wedding. They told me the SACK dresses were OUT but they had something new which was very feminine, flattering and lovely. I was shown the EMPIRE style which is a night-gown tied under the armpits with a string. IS THIS their idea of something lovely? It's worse than the sack. STILL LOOKING

DEAR ABBY: What are you trying to do? Ruin the Ladies Dress business? Your W. W. F. S. Club encourages women to stop buying and that is very bad for the nation's business. I own a ladies dress shop and I have to sell what the manufacturers give me. They have to manufacture what the dress designers give them. Women are very susceptible to suggestion and when millions of women get together and quit buying, a major depression could result. Please reconsider and put a stop to this Club. RETAILER DEAR RETAILER: If you saw the thousands of letters I've received from women who say they haven't bought a dress in two years because they couldn't find anything "decent!" you'd realize that I am trying to help you—not hurt you. I DO know that the sooner you get those beautiful, flattering feminine styles back into your store, they'll sell like hot cakes. I don't know whose idea it was to sabotage us women, but I hope you'll take this to your leader.

DEAR ABBY: I've heard a lot of arguments about who's smarter, men or women. You don't see men falling for every crazy new style that comes along. They tried to give us embroidered shirts and ruffled cuffs, but nobody went for it. In the past 35 years men's styles haven't changed much. Suits are a trifle tighter (or looser) and buttons moved an inch or two and lapels are varied, but men haven't looked ridiculous since they threw away the powdered wigs and satin knee-britches. Women have ruined their looks with the flat-look, chemise and trapeze. Their shoes are submarines and their hair-dos look like unmade Army coats. Who's smarter? The answer is obvious.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "FASHION CONSCIOUS." If you want the SECOND LOOK — pass up the NEW LOOK!

Salk Vaccine Annihilates Virus

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Salk antipolio vaccine has eliminated completely one of the three types of polio virus among the vaccinated persons according to Dr. Jonas Salk, the University of Pittsburgh physician-scientist who developed the vaccine. The three types are known as I, II and III. In the before-vaccine days, Type I appeared on an average of eight times in 10 cases; types II and III only once each in 10. Type II has been eliminated among those vaccinated, he said. Dr. Salk and other authorities studying degrees of immunity given by his vaccine agree it has reduced chances of developing either type I or III polio and apparently even has resulted in a reduction in type II among the unvaccinated. Why the latter is true Dr. Salk is uncertain, but he suggests that with fewer persons to spread type II, fewer are likely to get it. Why his vaccine is not more potent against I and III Dr. Salk said he is uncertain.

Justice Is Done For Gout Victims

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Justice has been done at last to several hundred thousand of nature's noblest victims in America.

They are the victims of gout. These men share a recurrent agony that in the past has afflicted such giants of mankind as Alexander the Great, Isaac Newton, Martin Luther, John Calvin, Goethe, Francis Bacon, Guy de Maupassant and Benjamin Franklin.

The pangs of gout are excruciating. But almost as hard for its victim to bear are the ridicule and lack of sympathy he receives from his so-called friends. They are sure his ailment is a penalty sent from heaven to punish him for living too fast and too loose. This big lie is struck down formally in a pamphlet "About Gout."

"It has been common belief for centuries that gout was caused by high living — eating rich foods and drinking too much of alcoholic beverages," says the pamphlet. "We now know that 'high living' does not cause gout."

"Gout is a defect in the body's chemistry which frequently leads to an arthritic condition," says the pamphlet. "Gout is never contagious but probably hereditary."

"This metabolic abnormality causes an increase in the amounts of uric acid in the blood and tissues. The uric acid excess, accumulating in crystalline deposits in cartilage, usually around bone joints, sets up the painful irritation known as gout."

Gout is perhaps as old as mankind itself, and was known to Hippocrates, the father of medicine, four centuries before Christ. Gout remains one of the most masculine of ailments. No eunuchs and comparatively few women ever get it.

The fact so many famous men were gout sufferers led one 19th century observer to write that the disease is "peculiarly incidental to men of cultivated mind and intellectual distinction."

"There is, unfortunately, no modern medical evidence to support this statement." Gout remains largely a medical mystery. Obesity seems to make it worse. No one diet seems to control it, but its victims generally are advised to avoid foods such as sweetbreads, anchovies, sardines, liver, kidney, brains and meat extracts.

When a man gets an attack, he may wish he'd die—but he won't.

Good Weather Returns In U.S.

By The Associated Press

Near normal weather returned to most of the nation today, marking an end of the season's worst and longest cold wave. Temperature generally were around seasonal levels, with higher than normal marks in some areas.

Wet weather dampened the Northwest coastal sections for the fourth straight day and rain, drizzle or snow spread across wide areas in the eastern third of the country.

Another surge of cool air moved through the West Coast Wednesday night, spreading rain into the San Francisco Bay region and across eastern sections of Washington and Oregon. Heaviest falls, mostly more than one inch, were confined to coastal sections.

Light snow fell from Minnesota to New York while warm air flowing northward from the Gulf produced a broad belt of low clouds, rain, fog and drizzle from the central Gulf Coast into the mid Mississippi and lower Ohio valleys.

Heaviest rains were in the lower Mississippi Valley, with falls of about one inch. The wet belt was expected to spread eastward during the day, extending from Georgia into Virginia. A mixture of light snow, freezing drizzle and drizzle was indicated along the Ohio River into interior sections of northern Virginia and southern Pennsylvania.

The biggest warming trend was reported east of the Mississippi River. Cold north winds which hit the Northeast diminished and skies were mostly clear in the Atlantic states. Cooler air that moved into the northern Plains and Rockies was felt as far south as the southwest Desert region and northwest Texas.

Talk Reveals Maladjustment

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP) — Like to talk in generalities? That's okay if you don't believe them—otherwise it may be an indication of social maladjustment.
 That's the conclusion of Dr. Walter F. Johnson, education professor at Michigan State and president of the American Personnel and Guidance Assn. His findings recently were announced by Michigan State and Arizona State.
 He said a language test devised to indicate social adjustment contained 100 statements with such phrases as:
 "Iron is strong. A circle is round. A leaf is green. Humans can talk. A boy who never lies is good. Women are mothers."
 If you believe all these statements are "always true," Dr. Johnson said, then you may be maladjusted. He explained:
 Both a normal and maladjusted person might say, "The salesman in that store are always terrible" when it might be more correct to say "The salesman in that store's hardware department acted rudely Saturday morning."
 However, he added, the adjusted person would realize he was stating a generality.
 The test, devised by Dr. Thomas M. Weiss, assistant professor of education at Arizona State, recently was given to 409 teenagers in detention homes and 494 high school students in Michigan. It was repeated in other detention homes, high schools and a state mental hospital in Michigan. The results:
 A significantly higher proportion in the "maladjusted group" answered "always true" to generalizations in the test.
 The tests are based on theories of Alfred Korzybski, a language expert who maintains "words are not reality." He claims language has about the same relationship to reality as a map to the terrain it represents.

MYSTERY FARM

Floyd Jones Familiar With Place Before Purchasing It

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Jones moved on the place, which was last week's Mystery Farm, for five years before they actually bought it. Even before that Jones had worked there for the owner, J. J. Healy.
 With a quarter of a century of experience, Jones ought to be qualified to judge the merits of a farm—and he knows he has a mighty good farm. In wet years it has produced about a bale to the acre. On one spot he had a 7-acre tract of cotton which got hailed out last summer on July 4, and it came back to average 438 lint, pounds of cotton per acre.
 In all the farm has 207.6 acres. It is the west half of the Healy place, which lies in west and south of the old bank building hull where the city of Soash died aborning some four decades ago.
 In general, the land has a tendency to be rolling, for on the 175 acres in cultivation Jones has constructed nine terraces. The land is mixed and productive. The areas reserved to pasture are fairly broken.
 Jones was reared in Corsicana and he was working in Globe, Ariz., when he met Mrs. Jones, who had been living in New Mexico. They went back to Lordsburg, N. M., to be married, worked for a time at Globe and then came to Big Spring where his father, A. J. Jones, lived.
 After he had worked for Mr. Healy, an elderly bachelor who once had made the Klondike gold rush in Alaska, he and Mrs. Jones moved on to the place and worked with Mr. Healy until 1943. That was the year Mr. Healy decided to retire and moved to town, so he sold the west half to the Joneses. They took over and it was a long time before Mr. Healy ever bothered to get the papers fixed up, so great was his confidence in the couple.
 For many years Mr. Healy went in for small grains on the place, but now Jones stays pretty close to cotton and grain sorghum. The place has a 66-acre cotton allotment, and he has part of the farm in the soil bank. On that area he has sorghum alnum and dwarf milo.
 The farm has a six-room house with bath (it has been enlarged by the Joneses) and there is a well of good water, ample for domestic purposes. The Joneses are members of the Baptist Church in Ackerly. Their two daughters, Wanda, 16, a senior, and Eunice, 15, a sophomore, attend the Ackerly High School.

GOP Hits Back At Demo Space Charge

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican congressional leaders struck back with cries of "politics" today against Democratic contentions that the Eisenhower administration is lagging behind in the space age.
 In the opening round of what appeared likely to become a blistering two-party fight in the new Congress, Sens. Styles Bridges (R-NH) and Thomas Kuchel (R-Calif.) assailed the call of Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas for his party to seize national leadership from the White House.
 Johnson told fellow Senate Democrats Wednesday there is a "deficit of vigor" in the Eisenhower administration. They therefore have a mandate to assume constructive leadership "beginning now, not two years hence," he added.
 Bridges—who heads the Senate Republican Policy Committee, described this as the opening shot in a political barrage he said he expects the Democrats to fire at President Eisenhower's fiscal and national security proposals.
 "I am happy the President is making a dedicated effort to balance the budget," Bridges said. "I know he is deeply concerned that every necessary effort be made to maintain the nation's security, and he can be trusted to do that."
 "But that won't keep the Democrats from making political attacks on his proposals."
 Eisenhower will outline his legislative program personally in a State of the Union message Friday, and will send to Congress Jan. 19 what he said will be a budget balanced at about 77 billion dollars.
 Johnson served advance notice the Democrats are preparing a rough reception for a budget of this size. They contend it would pinch defense spending and call for retrenchment in many domestic programs. Johnson said "We cannot afford to bankrupt the national conscience to serve the ends of political bookkeeping."

U.S. Tells Allies Mikoyan Fishing For Parley On Germany

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has told its main European allies that Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas L. Mikoyan appears to be fishing for a four-power conference on Germany sometime this spring.

But the State Department has cautioned that Mikoyan has put forward nothing new which promises successful negotiation.

The fast-talking Kremlin No. 2 man, now touring the Midwest, is understood to have reshaped the standard Moscow line on Germany — but with a coating of sweet talk to tempt the West.

Mikoyan may lay something new on President Eisenhower's White House desk when he returns Jan. 19 for a meeting with the President, a Soviet source in Berlin has said. But few administration officials see any hopeful signs in this.

The main points of a summary of Mikoyan's confidential talks with Secretary of State Dulles and Vice President Nixon have been given to ambassadors of Britain, France, Italy, and West Germany. These were:

1. The Soviet plan to turn East Berlin over to the East German Red puppet regime by June should not be viewed as a six-month ultimatum. Mikoyan hinted this could be extended.
2. The Soviet Union could be interested in four-power talks this spring on a German peace treaty as well as the future of Berlin. But this was coupled with a reiteration of the Kremlin view that reunification should be left to the East and West Germans to work out for themselves.
3. Veto power for the Soviets is a firm condition to Kremlin acceptance of an East-West organization that would seek to enforce a ban on atomic-hydrogen weapons tests.

4. The Soviet's much ballyhooed campaign for more American trade has played a minor role in Mikoyan's Washington talks. He may make more of this, however, when he returns from sounding out American industrialists on his flying visit to major American cities.

Authorities familiar with Mikoyan's comments said he sought to picture the Kremlin as in a negotiating mood. But every time Dulles or Nixon sought to pin him down, he answered in vague generalities.

State Department officials said a Big Four foreign ministers meeting on Germany might be held this spring — even though Mikoyan has put forward nothing new at this time. The Kremlin conceivably could be saving some concession for the meeting itself, they said, but they are not optimistic about this.

Soviet Scientists Estimate Rocket Now In Orbit Of Sun

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Scientists figure the space rocket Mecha is now in orbit around the sun. They predict it will reach its top speed of 72,000 miles per hour next Wednesday.

They expect the peak velocity to be reached when the missile gets to the point nearest the sun, a distance figured at about 91½ million miles, in its elliptical orbit.

"At that moment it will reach its maximum speed of more than 32 kilometers (about 20 miles) a second," the official Soviet news agency Tass said.

This will be nearly triple the speed at which the rocket was launched last Friday.

The missile was hurled clear of the earth's gravitational field to become the solar system's first artificial planet.

According to Soviet calculations, the rocket Wednesday had gone more than 621,000 miles on a direct line from the earth. Tass said this distance between earth and Mecha would increase at "a terrific pace since the earth and the artificial planet are diverging in the cosmos."

The Soviet reports on the rocket's position and what it is doing now are all based on calculations. Radio contact was lost Monday when the rocket's radio batteries gave out, and it is too far away from the earth to track with optical instruments.

But Soviet scientists say the rocket may come close enough to the earth in the remote future for observation.

Prof. V. Dobronravov, a nuclear physicist, said in a radio broadcast Wednesday the rocket was big enough to have been manned if the Soviets had so desired.

"The rocket is of such considerable dimensions and weight that accommodations for a living being — that is, a man — could have been arranged in it," he said.

If a man had been aboard, he never would have returned to earth, Anatoly A. Blagonravov, a member of the Soviet Academy of Sciences, told newsmen Tuesday that the time of the first manned rocket flight depends on how soon the problem of survival during re-entry into the earth's atmosphere is solved.

Blagonravov was quoted in a Capetown, South Africa, newspaper today as saying the Soviets expect to land men on Venus and Mars in September.

The Afrikaans Weekly Landstem said Blagonravov told its London correspondent in a telephone interview that the next step by Soviet scientists will be to "launch a scientist in a planet to at least 400 miles above the earth."

"He will travel on an exactly similar path to the manmade planet that has now passed the moon," Blagonravov added.

"The man will have control over the planet and will be supplied with water and food in tablet form. He will send coded radio messages back to earth of anything goes wrong and he is unable to return."

Blagonravov said the Soviets expect to land a rocket — presumably unmanned — on Venus and Mars in June, and to follow this up by sending men to the two planets.

"We are not expecting any difficulty, as the latest planet has completed all our experiments," Blagonravov reportedly said.

He also was quoted as saying the Soviet Union hopes to send scientists to the moon and back by the end of the year.

Blagonravov also reportedly identified the man chosen to make the first flight into space as Ivan Igorsky, 30, a 6-foot-2 bachelor who weighs 180 pounds.

Ousted After 20 Years

Rep. Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts keeps his eyes on the floor as he walks out of a meeting of House Republicans with Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana a step ahead of him. By secret vote of 74 to 79 Republican congressmen chose Halleck to replace Martin in the floor leadership post Martin held for 20 years.

Boss Yells, You Lie Down

NEW YORK (AP) — When the boss yells, everybody jumps, stands at attention or, as in this case, lies down.

Augustus C. Froeb, senior trustee of the Marlboro branch of the Lincoln Savings Bank of Brooklyn — 75, but still sprightly — sailed into the bank Wednesday and yelled: "Everybody lie down on the floor!"

So everybody — all eight employees and four customers — lay down on the floor.

Charles Roppolo, 40, chief clerk, sounded a burglar alarm. He didn't recognize Froeb, who was wearing dark glasses.

Two weeks ago four gunmen had robbed the bank of $72,000 and employees were still jittery.

As the alarm sounded, bank guard Frank Friel whipped out his revolver; three detectives in the bank vicinity dashed in, and cops came swarming into the place.

By that time Paul McGuirk, the bank manager, recognized the boss and bellowed, "It's all right. It's Mr. Froeb, the trustee. He's okay."

The gun in Friel's hand wobbled. "My God, it's the boss," he muttered.

The police were stern with Froeb. Det. Sam Botwinick told him: "You're lucky you didn't get hurt."

Froeb was apologetic. "I'm sorry," he said. "I did it to see if everyone was alert."

Trade Group Report Scores Value Of Ads

NEW YORK (AP) — The Yuletide strike shutdown of nine New York City newspapers has given advertisers a "new awareness that newspapers are vital to them," a trade group reports on the basis of a survey.

Some of the results of the canvass, announced Wednesday were: Executives of a wide variety of stores said that emergency advertising on radio and television and in subways cost them more and generally was less satisfactory than newspaper advertising.

These executives — of department stores, specialty shops, discount houses and others — said they have no intention of increasing their use of radio, TV and subway media next Christmas season.

The canvassing committee estimated a $9-million-dollar loss to the community and industry and labor from the strike.

Crippled Childrens Unit Founder Dies

TUCSON, Ari. (AP) — E. Jay Howenstine, 60, a founder of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, died Wednesday.

Howenstine, a retired broker, was the organization's first executive director, serving from 1933 to 1945.

His Native Talent For Cooking Led Him Into Interesting Roles

Some folk seem to have an innate talent for cooking. Such an one is Morris J. Molpus, boys' coach and Washington Place sixth grade teacher whose classroom is at Goliad Junior High. He has developed quite a reputation as a chef, and his wife claims to defer to him when it comes to the kitchen.

The bulk of home cooking he does over the weekends, but he bakes almost all the pies and cakes that the family of three consumes. Pastries, Mexican food, barbecue, hors d'oeuvres, salad dressings and mayonnaise are his specialties. He is not unfamiliar with French cuisine.

Molpus's flair for cookery was acknowledged when, as a member of the U. S. Air Force, he was put in charge of the Officers Club mess at Perrin AFB. He had first recognized a kitchen as a fascinating place under the tutelage of his mother when he was 11. Reared near Gainesville, in Cook County, he often took charge of meal preparation when his mother was away visiting his four sisters.

It was while at Perrin and during the seven years he operated a restaurant in Sherman that he learned to cook in terms of quantity as well as quality. He recalls that, as a restaurateur, he was commissioned to prepare pies weekly for volunteers to serve at the veterans hospital in McKinney; this necessitated work on Sunday, but he perfected his pastry technique.

FOR GOOD PASTRY

The expert pie baker passes along to the Herald readers a few tips on the art. Handle the crust lightly, he warns, and never turn the dough over in rolling it out. Double crust fruit pies profit from a simple maneuver his experience has taught him. To make the crust delightfully brown, brush the top with a mixture made by beating one egg and two tablespoons of milk together.

Substitution of powdered for granulated sugar insures a creamier and fluffier meringue, he remarks, and a bit of granulated sugar sprinkled on top a meringue prior to baking makes it more tender.

In his dishes, Molpus makes liberal use of lemon juice, garlic, butter, bay leaf and cooking wines, the latter for creamed dishes such as chicken a la king, sauces, and lobster Newburg. He finds that vegetables are eaten all the faster if dressed up with a mock Hollandaise sauce, and his easy recipe is divulged here.

Soups and gravies are vastly im-

Comparing Recipes

Morris J. Molpus browses through one of the recently published cook books, Elena's Secrets of Mexican Cooking by Elena Zelayeta, America's authority on Mexican food. An accomplished chef, Molpus enjoys preparing everyday fare, with an occasional fling in the Mexican cuisine. Pastries are perhaps his real specialty, but he has a knowing way with barbecue.

proved by the addition of water in which vegetables have been cooked. And canned soups are greatly enhanced by adding grated cheese or chopped hard-boiled eggs, he reveals. Another pointer is to treat eggs tenderly. In frying them, cook at a low temperature. This will prevent a tough crust from forming.

BARBECUE

Friends call Molpus a master barbecuer. He tells how to do it in an accompanying recipe. In broiling steaks, he pleads, never turn the meat more than once and, in so doing, use tongs instead of a fork. The same theory applies to hot cakes, if you would have them tender and light.

Mrs. Molpus works for the Howard County Farm Bureau; she and Morris Joel Jr., a 13-year-old eighth grader at Goliad, are proud of Molpus's culinary prowess. And it's so nice to have a cooking partner to help prepare supper when the family drives the 12 miles to home, near Knott.

The pleasure in cooking also makes entertaining lots of fun. Molpus remembers that some of his most successful meals were made for his football boys when he coached while at Knott High School for five years, the last three as principal.

Although he already holds the BA degree from Austin College and has completed all his work toward the master's degree from that school, he isn't one to quit studying. Usually he has a correspondence course going; the current one is accounting. Reading and joining the family for fishing are foremost extracurricular activities, aside from cooking, that is.

BARBECUED CHICKEN

Two hours before you are ready to start cooking the chicken, cut the fryers in half and marinate them in basting sauce made of 1 cup salad oil, 2 cups cider vinegar, 2 tablespoons salt, 1 teaspoon black pepper, 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce and 1 tablespoon smoke sauce. Set the chicken aside until ready for the fire.

Start the charcoal early and let it burn down well. Place the broilers, cut side down, on the grill. Baste frequently with the basting sauce until done. Remove from grill; place in pan and cover with barbecue sauce. Place in 350 degree oven for about 30 minutes.

BARBECUE SAUCE

2 cups tomato puree or catsup
2 medium-sized onions
4 cloves of garlic
2 tbsps. lemon juice
4 tbsps. Worcestershire sauce
1 tsp. brown sugar
2 tbsps. smoke sauce
1 tsp. prepared mustard
1 tsp. chili pepper
1 small bay leaf
1/2 tsp. fresh black pepper
1/4 lb. butter or salad oil
1 tsp. hot sauce

Saute onions and garlic in butter until brown (not crisp); add other ingredients and simmer for one hour or more.

Note: This sauce is also excellent for barbecuing beef or ribs.

MOCK HOLLANDAISE SAUCE

1 cup milk
1 egg yolk
1/2 cup grated American cheese
1 tsp. cornstarch
1 hardcooked egg, finely chopped
Pepper and salt to taste

Gradually heat in double boiler 3/4 of the milk; mix the egg yolk and cornstarch in the remaining milk. Add this to the heated milk and cook until smooth. Stir in the grated cheese until it is melted. Add the chopped egg. Keep the mixture warm until ready to serve. Makes about 1 1/2 cups.

The sauce is good to serve over such vegetables as asparagus, cauliflower, broccoli, Brussels sprouts.

PIE CRUST

1 cup shortening
2 cups flour
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 cup ice water, approximately

For a flaky crust, mix the dry ingredients thoroughly with shortening until lumps about the size of a pea are formed. If you wish a mealy crust, mix these ingredients until smaller than pea size. Last, sprinkle the water over the dough and press (do not stir) the dough together.

BASIC CREAM PIE

1 pt. milk
3 eggs
1 cup sugar
1 tsp. cornstarch
1/4 stick butter
1 tsp. vanilla
1/4 tsp. salt

Add sugar and salt to 2-3 of milk. Place in double boiler or thick sauce pan and set on heat. Mix egg yolks with cornstarch and the remaining milk. When the milk and sugar mixture reaches a temperature just before boiling point, stir in the egg and cornstarch combination. Stir thoroughly until done.

Remove from heat; add vanilla and butter. Beat thoroughly until the mixture is smooth and glossy. Variations may be made from this basic recipe. For coconut cream pie, add a small can of coconut.

Omit the vanilla when making these variations: For lemon cream pie, add the juice of two lemons; the addition of one cup of pineapple makes a pineapple cream pie. For cherry cream, add 1 cup crushed cherries; for banana cream, stir in 3 slices bananas; and for strawberry cream, add 1 cup frozen strawberries.

SHRIMP COCKTAIL

1 12-oz. box frozen shrimp
1 bay leaf
1 tsp. salt

Place shrimp, bay leaf in boiling water. Boil until done but do not overcook. Remove from the heat; cover with cold water. Remove the shells and black veins, and place shrimp in the refrigerator; chill thoroughly.

COCKTAIL SAUCE

2 cups tomato catsup
1 tsp. fresh grated horseradish
1 tsp. lemon juice
2 tbsps. Worcestershire sauce - 1/2 tsp. hot sauce

Mix thoroughly and place in refrigerator until ready to use. When ready to serve, place shrimp on bed of lettuce in chilled cocktail dish and cover with sauce.

Nibbles Rely On Cereal, Almonds

Whether you serve them to your bridge foursome, to television viewers, or as taste-teasers to your own family, Almond Corn Nibbles will be the hit of the day.

Here is the recipe:

ALMOND CORN NIBBLES

1 package (6 ounces) shelled almonds
1 1/4 teaspoons olive oil
1 teaspoon salt
6 cups bite-size shredded corn cereal squares
1/4 pound (1/2 cup) butter or margarine
1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
1/4 teaspoon onion powder
1/2 cup grated Romano cheese
Paprika

Do not Blanch almonds; place in one layer in shallow baking pan. Drizzle nuts with oil, sprinkle with 1/2 teaspoon of the salt; mix well. Bake in slow (325 degrees) oven, stirring once, for 15 to 20 minutes or until a nut broken in two looks pale tan inside; cool in pan.

Melt 1/4 cup of the butter in a 10-inch skillet over low heat; stir in 1/4 teaspoon of the remaining salt, 1/4 teaspoon garlic powder and 1/4 teaspoon onion powder; add 3 cups of the cereal. Toast, stirring often, until lightly browned - 5 to 10 minutes. Remove from heat. Sprinkle hot cereal at once with 1/4 cup of the cheese and a little paprika; mix well. Turn out on paper toweling to cool and crisp.

To clean skillet, add remaining 1/4 cup butter, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon onion powder and 1/4 teaspoon garlic powder; toast the same way and sprinkle with remaining 1/4 cup cheese and paprika. Mix all of the cereal with the almonds.

If not served at once, store in tightly covered container at room temperature. Makes 24 servings.

Baby Food Is Base Of Prime Dessert

Ever try using baby food for the adults of the family. Here is a delicious dessert that relies on strained orange pineapple baby food dessert for much of the flavor.

CREAMY RICE DESSERT

1 1/2 cups softcooked rice
1 jar (5 ounces) strained orange pineapple baby food dessert
1/2 cup heavy cream
1/2 cup shredded coconut (toasted)

Method: Fold together the rice and orange pineapple dessert. Whip cream until as thick as mayonnaise; fold in; chill. Just before serving, fold in two-thirds of the toasted coconut; spoon into sherbet glasses or other dessert dishes; garnish with remaining toasted coconut. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Note: To toast coconut, spread it out in a thin layer in a jelly-roll-type pan; bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven, stirring or shaking pan occasionally, until toasted a light brown - about 10 minutes.

Toss Rules Aside And Eat Pasta As You Like

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Amateur psychologists look at spaghetti eaters and give out with free character analyses.

Do you attack the pasta boldly and directly, or play around ambivalently with its strands on the end of your fork?

If you use both a fork and spoon, do you wind the spaghetti neatly around your fork and then with the help of your spoon, lift it efficiently and affirmatively into your mouth? Or do you roll it higgledy-piggledy over your fork and use your spoon to juggle the loose ends into your buccal cavity?

Do you start right in eating at the top, or do you skeptically look over your plateful while you decide from which side to approach?

After this breakdown, the culinary witch doctors advise: Forget inhibitions and eat pasta any way you like. Spaghetti protocol allows many a slip between the plate and the lip.

That this country has taken to spaghetti and other Italian food is sure. Witness the cook books on the subject and their wide sale. Think of the neighborhoods that boast Italian restaurants. Pizza places now flourish on Cape Cod, once pre-eminently the home of baked beans and brownead.

You'll be doing yourself and your family a big favor if you go all the way: cook pasta "al dente" as is done in Italy, we beg of you. That means you'll end with firm texture and fine flavor instead of mush. Stand by that boiling potful of pasta and test, test, test. At intervals bite strands between your teeth until the spaghetti has just reached the perfect firm-but-tender stage, then drain pronto and serve.

So many ways to mate pasta! For something interesting try this recipe given to us by a man with a charming Italian accent. He pours a little olive oil into a small skillet, throws in some flat anchovies and mashes them over low heat. The combination is forced through a fine strainer to get rid of any bones - even those infinitely small.

"The success of this sauce," our friend insists, "depends on the complete absence of bones."

Finally he tosses the anchovy mixture with hot cooked linguine and rushes it to the table.

When we tried this our tasters were intrigued. Not a jot of anchovy to be seen, but the sauce coats the pasta in a fascinating, haunting way.

If you aren't yet acquainted with the many forms pasta takes, you'll be astonished by the shape of things that can come into your life. Linguine (small macaroni ribbons), mostaccioli and mostaccioli (small and large quills), shells of different sizes, ditangle (small thimbles) are only a few of the varieties. One brand of spaghetti and macaroni products contains

Here's A New Version Of Old Favorite

Remember Granny's wonderfully moist oatmeal cookies? Makes you long for more, doesn't it? Well, here's one version of the old favorite which remains forever new.

OATMEAL WAFERS

1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 cup firmly-packed light brown sugar
2 1/2 cups regular-style uncooked rolled oats
2 tps. baking powder
1 large egg
1 tsp. vanilla

Melt butter over low heat; mix well with brown sugar, rolled oats and baking powder. With rotary beater, hand or electric, beat egg until thick and pale colored; beat in vanilla. Mix well with rolled oats mixture.

Drop teaspoonfuls of the mixture, several inches apart, onto a greased baking sheet. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven until edges are medium brown - 8 to 10 minutes. Let cookies stand about 1 minute before removing with wide spatula or pancake turner to wire rack.

Cool; store in tightly covered containers and these lacy wafers will stay crisp. Makes 6 dozen.

Note: You may add a dash of salt to this recipe if you like, although usually the butter or margarine used adds enough of this seasoning.

Pasta Quiz... how many do you know?

20 per cent protein and is richly fortified with vitamins.

To accompany these products there are some superb canned sauces. Our favorite is a version of the famous Italian Marinara - a meatless tomato concoction.

IGY Saw Greatest Physical Checkup In History For Earth

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—IGY brought the greatest physical checkup in all history.

The patient—our planet earth. For 18 months, scientists probed and poked at the earth with diagnostic instruments ranging from thermometers to orbiting satellites.

They found high altitude titanic winds of 200 to 300 miles an hour, and places where the earth's skin or crust is only 2 1/2 miles thick. They charted great rivers of electricity flowing through earth crust and upper air.

These are but some early results. It may take 25 years or more to make the most significant diagnoses from the hundreds of millions of facts gathered.

IGY—the International Geophysical Year—is formally ended. This world scientific effort cost about 750 million dollars, and twice that if you include ships, planes and other support.

But its work continues in the most major aspects under the title IGY-59, the 59th International Geophysical Cooperation in 1959, to extend man's knowledge of his planet.

A great ocean of air is earth's lung for human life.

Rockets indicated winds of several hundred miles per hour up where the air is terribly thin and highly electrified.

By night, earth wears a halo of dim light, the airglow, which is mostly pale green. It seems to occur in patches or cells, moving with average speed of 200 miles an hour at a 60-mile height; reports Dr. Franklin E. Roach of the National Bureau of Standards at Boulder, Colo.

Green airglow comes from oxygen atoms, with some yellow glow from sodium atoms. IGY scientists also detected unexpected atoms of lithium—presumably shot up by nuclear tests.

Radiation streaming from the sun, or from particles trapped magnetically above the earth, cause the Northern and Southern Lights, or auroras.

But a man-made aurora was detected with one Pacific nuclear test. Scientists theorize a blast could alter the earth's magnetic field enough to allow some trapped particles to stream down upon the earth.

Catching a great solar flare in action last Feb. 10-11, many scientists measured its varied, powerful effects upon earth.

Great currents of electricity flow through the earth's crust as the earth's horizontal magnetic field strengthened. This was apparently induced by electrical currents in the atmosphere. Balloons detected X-rays within some 20 miles of the earth's surface.

Through chains of magnetic stations, some IGY scientists concentrated on tracing local and surface magnetic variations induced from electro-magnetic events in the upper air, seeking clearer understanding of air-earth interactions.

IGY men confirmed the existence of the equatorial electrojet, a powerful electric current flowing in daylight hours only above the earth's magnetic equator. Similar currents presumably circle both Poles. They offer new insight upon solar effects on magnetic fields.

Probing the sky with radio fingers, scientists found the ionization or electrification of the upper air persists over the South Pole even during the long polar night when the sun is down. Apparently, great clouds of electrons drift in slowly from lower latitudes. Simple absence of sunshine does not remove the ionosphere.

Radio studies of the ionosphere, and the discovery that radio signals can be received from earth satellites at unexpectedly long distances, offer clues to new methods of radio communication.

Aground, seismologists used manmade explosions and the shock signals from natural earthquakes to fill in their understanding of the earth's interior and its crust. Shocks from underground A-bomb tests offered a new tool for doing this.

Seismic soundings detected the thinnest crust of the earth yet discovered under the seas—2 1/2 miles—and also the thickest undersea crust—9 miles deep.

The pull of gravity was measured over 75 per cent of the sea surface, and over vast distances on land—adding up ultimately to a far more accurate picture of the earth's gravity, and from that a better conception of the real shape of the earth.

The moon and the sun, through gravity, cause tides not only on the oceans, but also on the land—actually creating wavy bulges in the earth's crust ranging up to eight to 15 inches. One IGY goal was to learn how much the earth and sea tides may be in phase.

Glaciologists from 28 nations checked all the earth's ice areas. They sampled down through layers of ancient ice for clues to past and present climatic changes, to learn whether glaciers are advancing or retreating, and where, and hoped to help pinpoint causes of ice ages and glacier growth.

The thirst for knowledge launched by IGY is not satisfied. Organizations of scientists have formed special new committees to push on, especially in cooperative studies on the oceans, Antarctica, and space science. The watching of the sun will continue, and so will most of the other searches, though at less intensified an effort.

IGY is helping to satisfy man's curiosity about his world, and stimulates his curiosity the more. It promises to confer great benefits, not only material, but far beyond.

For as Harvard astronomer Dr. Fred Whipple remarked, "Securing a better concept of what life means in the universe might lead humans to settle their differences."

De Gaulle Steps Into Presidency

PARIS (AP)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle today became president of the Fifth French Republic and France's most powerful chief of state since Emperor Napoleon III was deposed in 1870.

"The first among Frenchmen is henceforth first-ranking man in France," intoned outgoing President Rene Coty.

A 21-gun salute boomed across the Seine as diminutive Gen. Georges Catroux reached up to hang the gold necklace of office around the neck of his towering World War II comrade and commander.

The brief ceremony in the presidential Elysee Palace marked the end of the largely figurehead role which French presidents had filled under the Fourth Republic. The new constitution De Gaulle rammed through last summer converted the office into one of real power, along the lines of the U.S. presidency.

Coty, the beloved, 76-year-old outgoing chief of state, told his solemn-faced successor: "The people of France, so divided on the surface, have found around you their profound unity."

De Gaulle's elevation ended seven months and a week as premier during which he became the undisputed leader of his country, as he had been at the end of World War II.

During those crowded months he quelled the rebellion of colonists in Algeria that had brought him back to office, revised the governmental structure of France, laid the foundation for new relations between France and her overseas territories, launched a tough program of economic austerity, saw elected a new National Assembly with a large majority pledged to support him and won the presidency of the new Fifth Republic by an overwhelming vote.

One of his first acts as president is expected to be the naming of Michel Debre, 46-year-old justice minister in his cabinet, to be premier of the new government.

Sex Maniac Mutilates, Slays Young Social Worker

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Police say there is no doubt a sex maniac mutilated and killed a young mother, whose body was found Wednesday in her car here.

Mrs. Ruth Ann Montague, 32, a social worker and the mother of two, was found 13 hours after she left a sorority party. She apparently was strangled with two lengths of rope found near the car. An autopsy is to be performed today.

Her car was parked across the street from the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Brookman, where the Phi Mu sorority party was held.

Mrs. Montague's brother, Donald Jones, found the body. He began looking for her after her husband, Charles D. Montague, notified police and members of the family that she was missing.

Police said objects found at the scene and marks on the body left no doubt that Mrs. Montague was killed by a sadist.

Her body had a superficial cut on each thigh, a deep scratch on her throat and nine punctures of the skin. The mutilations were made after death, police said. Officers said she was not raped.

Mrs. Montague's stockings were rolled down about her ankles. She was clothed in a black cloth coat and blue dress.

Police said there was dirt on her heels, as if she had been dragged across soft ground. Officers searched a nearby park and other secluded areas for clues as to where the slaying occurred.

A long-bladed paring knife was found in the glove compartment of the car. It bore no visible blood stains but it was taken to the police laboratory for analysis. Her unopened purse also was in the car and the ignition keys were in her coat pocket.

Montague said she began hunting her wife at 1 a.m. Wednesday morning. The police investigation began about 7 a.m. and she was found about noon.

Mrs. Montague worked at the Missouri State Division of Welfare where she interviewed applicants for welfare benefits.

Power Failure Hits San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A power failure just before yesterday's evening rush hours left a huge traffic snarl downtown and general confusion in the business district.

The failure occurred in a big downtown section bounded by Alamo Plaza, Flores, Travis and Nueva Streets about 4:37 p.m. Power finally was restored at 9:56 p.m.

Power company officials said moisture apparently seeped into insulation of an underground cable.

A huge traffic jam developed in the area as traffic signals failed. Police used flares to untangle the lines of automobiles.

Elevators stalled in hotels and business buildings marooning passengers between floors from where many had to be rescued. Candles were used to serve meals with in restaurants and to light hotel stairs, corridors and rooms. Movie houses closed.

Despite the chaos, only one injury was reported. Frank Startz, 79, fell down a darkened hotel stairway and broke his leg.

Girls Taken From Mother

AUSTIN (AP)—Two little girls were taken away from their mother yesterday. They were found near starvation last week, after their brother, 4, died of malnutrition.

District Judge Harris Gardner said the children were "dependent and neglected" and he ended the parental rights of the mother.

He placed the oldest of the girls, Arville Battise, 6, in the custody of her paternal grandfather, Andrew Battise Sr., an Alabama Indian of Livingston. The other girl, Karen Battise, 2, was left temporarily in the care of the probation department.

The mother, Laverne Battise, 34, and her common law husband, James Ledeay, 50, await trial on charges of contributing to the delinquency of the two girls. Each is held in county jail under $4,000 bond.

A justice of the peace ruled that Wilborn Battise, 4, starved to death on a diet of bread, beans and water. The little girls were discovered last week when the brother's death was being investigated.
