Now When I Was In Moscow

The animated conversation between Adlai Stevenson and Anastas Mikoyan, deputy premier of the Soviet Union, may have been sparked by Stevenson's visit to Russia last summer. The two are pictured as they met at a private dinner in Chicago.

LEGISLATURE

Ground Rules Due For Speakers Fight

AUSTIN (AP) — Ground rules for tomorrow's floor battle between Reps. Waggoner Carr of Lubbock and Joe Burkett Jr. of Kerrville for House speaker will be worked out at a meeting today. Burkett wants to make certain the election will be by secret ballot — a procedure which has been followed in the past when the key House post was contested. Carr said today that representatives from his camp and from Burkett's will huddle later today, at a time not yet definitely set, to see if they can agree on procedures. As it stands now, Secretary of State Zollicoffer will call the House to order at 12 noon, the members will be sworn in, and the battle over the speakership will begin immediately. The matters to be worked out include number and duration of nominating speeches and other technicalities. This contest and the bothersome question of state finances were the top topics being discussed as lawmakers and lobbyists and just plain citizens gathered in the Capitol and downtown hotels for the opening of the 56th session tomorrow. The first hotly-contested race for speaker since 1949 had the House sharply and closely divided. The House will ballot—probably in secret—beginning shortly after noon tomorrow. Meanwhile both camps were putting all the pressure they could muster on wavering or undecided members for their votes. Lobbyists, who will be required to register for the first time under a law passed two years ago, have swarmed hotel and Capitol corridors for the past week contacting members and otherwise getting ready for what is being freely predicted as the roughest legislative session in many years. After the preliminaries of organization are out of the way, the big money middle will have to be attacked. The general fund deficit as of today was more than 35 million dollars. That poses an immediate question of paying the necessary expenses of getting a session started: Legislator, clerk, stenographer and janitor's salaries, postage stamp and telephone bills. A two-thirds vote in both houses would provide the cash on a deficit financing basis. The House, with 46 new members in the total of 150, will be gavelled to order at 12 noon by Secretary of State Zollicoffer. After the usual swearing-in formalities, the battle of the speakership will begin perhaps with an opening skirmish on the method of election. Both Carr and Burkett claim to have enough support to win on the first ballot. The claims of both add up to 158 members—eight more than the House has. The absence of even a few House members could swing this election either way if the rivals are even close in their own beliefs of who will support and stand by them. The Senate is expected to organize quickly and quietly under Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey's direction. Ramsey is starting his fifth consecutive term as lieutenant governor. Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas, a veteran lawmaker, is being talked of as the likely choice for president pro tempore of the Senate—the highest honor that House can bestow on a member. Three new senators and 28 re-elected or holdover members will be sworn in.

'First Faith In God,' Mother Declares

By BERNARD GAVZER NEW YORK (AP) — "I never gave up hope that Lisa would be found. My first faith was in God. My second in the FBI and the police." These were the words of a jubilant mother, Frances Chionchio, for whom nine days of anxiety and agony ended early today with the safe recovery of her kidnapped infant daughter. The 26-year-old teacher, who has been on maternity leave, said she first learned the baby was found alive and healthy from her husband, Frank, who telephoned from St. Peter's Hospital about 5:30 a.m. She said she didn't know when she would be reunited with her child, but as long as she knew the baby was being cared for, she could wait—at least for a while. Chionchio, 28, a Port Authority lawyer, had been called to the hospital for identification of the infant, missing since the night of Jan. 2 when she was kidnapped 2½ hours after birth. Chionchio said she recognized his daughter immediately. "She insisted the baby was found," McCabe said. He said footprints of the kidnapped girl, born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Chionchio, and those of the recovered baby are identical. He also said there was a small mark on the baby's left eyelid, as described by the father. McCabe said some of Mrs. Iavarone's children had been born in St. Peter's Hospital, from which the Chionchio baby was taken. During the night, police questioned numerous residents of the vicinity, including neighbors in the building. One of them was a woman who helped Mrs. Iavarone switch the color of her hair from platinum blonde to its present color with a home bleach treatment, several days ago, McCabe said. Hospital attendants had described the kidnaper as a silvery blonde. Mrs. Iavarone said she changed the hue because of a personal whim, the prosecutor said. The penalty for kidnaping, when the child is recovered alive, is 20 years to life in prison.

Kidnaped Child Discovered, Mother Of 7 Faces Charge

NEW YORK (AP)—A mother of eight children was booked today on a kidnap charge, a few hours after 10-day-old Lisa Chionchio was found unharmed and well in a Brooklyn apartment. The woman, Jeanne Iavarone, 43, protested all night that she was innocent. Police said she had been married twice and had eight children, seven of them living and in other homes, including four at orphanages or foster homes. The youngest is 3, police said. A son, 23, died last summer, according to police. "There is no doubt, on the basis of scientific evidence, that she took the child," said Chief Asst. Dist. Atty. J. Kenneth McCabe. He said the infant, snatched from St. Peter's Hospital nursery or 43 married Peter Morello in Hoboken, N.J. Morello died Dec. 18, 1956, and McCabe said the woman has been living alone. McCabe said she uses her maiden name. Her children were listed as: Francis Anthony Getch, 21, of Brooklyn; Peter Morello, 16, and Frances Morello, 15, Brooklyn; self Jan. 2 alone in her second-floor apartment. "She insists the baby is hers," McCabe said. He said footprints of the kidnapped girl, born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Chionchio, and those of the recovered baby are identical. He also said there was a small mark on the baby's left eyelid, as described by the father. McCabe said some of Mrs. Iavarone's children had been born in St. Peter's Hospital, from which the Chionchio baby was taken. Senate Begins Voting On Filibuster Chokes

Pay Increases Asked For County Workers

Pleas for additional help and for salary adjustments for employees already on the payroll were aired before the county commissioners this morning. All of the requests were taken under advisement and the officials making them were told the court would give careful consideration and announce their decisions soon. Miller Harris, sheriff, asked that he be provided with one extra deputy for night duty and that pay for all of his staff be increased. He explained that he had elevated Fern Cox from civil deputy to chief deputy and that he now needed to appoint one of his regular men as civil deputy. This will create a vacancy in the night deputy force which should be filled. He said he would like for the chief deputy's pay to be increased from $355 to $400, each of the three field deputies from $350 to $375 and one deputy from $345 to $375. He also asked that his secretary's salary be increased from $235 to $250 and the pay of the cook upped from $90 to $100. He said he intended to make Curley Brown, now a night deputy, civil deputy if the plans are approved by the court and this would create need for a night man. Grover Coates, constable at Coahoma, who gets $175 a month asked that his pay be increased to $200. Wes Patton, Big Spring constable, who three months ago was promised a raise by the court on the plan that he serve as a full time worker for the sheriff, asked what had become of the project. He was told that due to an oversight, the matter had been mislaid and that if the raise is authorized the entire project would have to start over again. Viola Robinson, county tax assessor, said that the steadily mounting volume of business in her office has made it necessary she have two more full time deputies. She recited that since 1953 when she took office, every activity in the office has multiplied tremendously. The county, she pointed out as an example, is now third in this district, which includes most of West Texas, in the number of car registrations. Last year, the overall registration, she said, hit 19,000. Pauline Petty, county clerk, told a similar story of mounting work load and asked that an extra deputy for her office be provided. A. E. Long, juvenile officer, told the court that he was "losing money" by the heavy use he has to make of his car and asked both an increase in salary and an increase in car allowance. He said he had made 25 trips to Gatesville and Gainesville reformatories in 1957 and that his own car was used in all but two of the trips. His salary is now $325 and he would like to have it increased to $375. His car allowance is now $50 a month; he wants this made $100. Joe Tom Draper, former deputy sheriff, asked that he be appointed as constable in Precinct 1, Place 2, which he feels is now available. He was told the matter would be investigated. Walter Parks, county engineer, asked that the salary of his assistant, Pete Thompson, now $450, be increased to $475. He also asked that his office clerk's be increased from $250 to $295. The court was working on the treasurer's report at 11:30 a.m. It was indicated an afternoon session would have to be conducted since a large number of routine matters, including the inevitable stack of current month's bills, were waiting for disposal. Lee Porter, county auditor, distributed the monthly financial reports for the court's consideration.

$2,235 REWARD! Cash reward of $2,235 remains available for immediate payment to any persons furnishing information that will lead to arrest of Big Spring's service station bandits. District Attorney Gil Jones stresses that all information brought to him will be kept in strict confidence, that those who will help will have full protection of the law, and will not have to appear in court or to confront the criminals. He is available at any hour to receive information. The reward fund today has another contributor, M. Franklin.

NEW YORK (AP)—Three members of the crew of the British balloon, "Small World" arrived at Idlewild Airport today from Barbados, rested from the ordeal of a 24-day wind-and-water crossing of the Atlantic. Arnold Eiloart, 51, leader of the expedition, related how the small balloon was forced down by a storm 94 hours after its launching Dec. 12 in the Canary Islands on a project to study Atlantic trade winds. The crew of three men and a woman completed the crossing in 24 days in a 15½-foot plastic gondola-lifeboat after cutting loose the balloon. Eiloart and his companions, Colin and Rosemary Mudie, said they were disappointed they had not completed the journey by air. The fourth member of the crew, Eiloart's 22-year-old son, Timothy, 22, remained in the British West Indies. Eiloart and the Mudies will remain in New York for about two weeks.

S. C. Houston, Stanton's First Mayor, Dies

STANTON (SC)—S. C. (Tink) Houston, 76, pioneer rancher and first mayor of Stanton, died at 3:30 a.m. today in the Midland Memorial Hospital. He had been in failing health for some six months but had been hospitalized only a short time. Funeral for Mr. Houston has been set for Tuesday at the First Methodist Church with the pastor, the Rev. Wallace Kirby, officiating. The time has been fixed tentatively for 2 p.m. and burial will be in the Evergreen Cemetery under the direction of Arrington Funeral Home. Mr. Houston had ranched south of Stanton for most of his life. He has also been prominent in the community's affairs. He was born Dec. 30, 1882, at San Saba and came with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Houston to Stanton in 1885. His father homesteaded south of town and in 1903 Tink Houston filed on a ranch southeast of Stanton, which he continued to operate until the time of his death. For many years he was an officer in the First National Bank and was on its board until he resigned recently. As the first mayor of the City of Stanton (a position he held for several terms), he supervised the construction of the present city hall building. Mr. Houston also was a member of the First Methodist Church. His nephews—A. L. Houston, S. C. Harding, Billy Houston, Pegues Houston, Sam Houston, Bernard Houston, Tom Houston and Fred Houston—will be pallbearers. Mr. Houston was married in 1911 to Mittie Walker and he will be laid to rest beside her grave and that of a daughter. Survivors are a sister, Mrs. Grady Spruce, Dallas; two brothers, W. Claude Houston and H. A. (Chuck) Houston; and several nephews and nieces.

Lyndon Hopeful Of Fair Decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, said today he is confident the outcome of the Senate fight over the filibuster rule "will be a fair reflection of the will of the Senate and the will of the nation." Johnson spoke as the Senate met two hours earlier than usual to start voting on specific proposals to make it easier to choke off filibusters. A proposal to permit debate to be cut off by a majority of the Senate, or 50 of the 98 members, after 15 days, was the first up for action. Under present rules, it takes the votes of 66 senators, two-thirds of the members. Johnson said senators who want debate limitation by majority vote, as well as those who are opposed to any change in the existing rule, can work their will if they can get their colleagues to go along with them. He is sponsoring, along with Senate leaders of both parties, a compromise under which filibusters could be shut off and issues forced to a vote by two-thirds of the senators present and voting. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.), the Senate minority leader, also appealed for approval of the compromise resolution. He described it as the reasonable course to follow. Johnson told reporters before the start of the session he saw some hope for a final showdown vote on the whole issue before nightfall. "We do not have a filibuster on our hands and we're not going to have one, as far as I can see," he said. Southern senators who are opposed to any change in the present rule could have launched a filibuster against taking up the proposals to alter it. But instead they consented to an agreement limiting debate on amendments to Johnson's proposed compromise. Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.) told the Senate in a brief speech that there had been many assertions the liberals had been "outmaneuvered, outgeneraled, bad-ered and generally defeated" in the rules battle. But he said he did not believe this to be the case, contending that liberals had succeeded in establishing their main point—that decisions in the fight over the rules should come on majority vote. The proposal for debate limitation by majority vote was offered by Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) for a coalition of Northern and Western senators led by himself and Sens. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.), Javits and Clifford P. Case (R-N.J.). It was in the form of an amendment to a resolution by Johnson under which filibusters could be shut off by two-thirds of the senators present and voting. Even before the vote on the Douglas amendment, its sponsors conceded it had virtually no chance of adoption. But they had higher hopes for another amendment by Sen. Thurston Morton (R-Ky.), which would allow a debate cutoff by three-fifths of the senators present and voting. Case said he believes the three-fifths figure has a real chance of adoption, and Vice President Nixon was represented during the weekend as believing that it stands a better chance of Senate approval than any other. But Dirksen, the new Senate GOP leader, said in a television interview Sunday he expects Johnson's proposal to be adopted. He said he based that view on checks with members of both parties. Both Dirksen and Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.), the assistant Democratic leader, predicted also the present Congress will pass some civil rights legislation, but he did not say what they expected. Johnson's resolution has the backing of top Senate leaders of both parties, except for Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif.), the new GOP whip, or assistant leader. It was designed as a compromise between Southern senators opposed to any change in the present rule and the coalition of Northern and Western senators demanding debate limitation by majority vote. On a first test vote on Friday, antifilibuster forces went down to defeat by lopsided 60-36 count. Both Case and Javits issued weekend statements contending that Johnson's resolution would make so little difference in attempts to shut off filibusters that it was meaningless. They also said that one feature of it, providing that the rules of the Senate shall continue in effect from one Congress to another, would be a backward step that would make future changes in rules more difficult. Cuban Executions Mount; 50 Dead

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Execution of the followers of former Dictator Fulgencio Batista are mounting in Cuba as the forces of rebel leader Fidel Castro continue hurry-up military trials. Thus far about 50 Batista supporters have been executed. Nearly 3,000 are awaiting trial. Asked on a U.S. television program Sunday why the Batista followers were being executed without open trials, Castro said, "There were not so many... two or three dozen criminals... "They were judged," he said, adding that "if anyone killed 15 or 30 people, he has no right to live." The interview was recorded in Havana Saturday. Correspondent Jules DuBois of the Chicago Tribune reported that the mutilated bodies of 160 anti-Batista prisoners were found Sunday in a mass grave at the outskirts of San Cristobal, 60 miles west of Havana. Military authorities in Manzanillo announced Sunday that Cubans will not be allowed to witness the firing squad executions of Batista supporters. But they will be allowed to see the bodies afterward.

The announcement came after a crowd of 3,000 attended the execution Saturday in Manzanillo of six Batista supporters convicted by a military court. The announcement said public executions do not conform "with our culture." In the television interview Castro repeatedly insisted that the provisional government is being guided by public opinion and not by force. He said his country is now and will remain a democracy. "We are men of the law," Castro, a lawyer himself, declared. Castro said on the television program that his impressions of the United States improved last year when military assistance to Batista was halted. He added he was happy the United States was quick to recognize the rebel regime. Castro also said his 26th of July Movement is in a secure position. He said, however, that within the student-backed Revolutionary Directorate, another anti-Batista group, are "two or three small leaders trying to play with fire, but they won't go far because no one will be following them."

Graham Ignores Doctor's Advice To Halt His Preaching

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham went ahead with his plans for a world crusade today in the face of advice by physicians to curtail his activities because of an eye ailment.

Graham told reporters that he intends to go to Australia, Indonesia, Malaya, Cairo, Jerusalem and Berlin this year.

He was interviewed after making a zealous talk before the second Combined Texas Baptist World Missions and State Evangelistic Conference in the packed 11,500-seat Memorial Auditorium. Graham's illness earlier caused him to cancel a scheduled appearance at the Dallas First Baptist Church.

"The program may be cut somewhat by doctor's orders," Graham said of his projected tour, "but right now I plan to go."

He had announced previously he would go to Rochester Tuesday for a check-up at a Mayo clinic instead of leaving for the West Coast en route to Australia.

Graham insisted he felt all right but "there's something wrong with one of my eyes."

"But I don't know what it is," he continued. "The doctor told me what it is—a long technical name—but I think he's confused as the Republicans are these days."

"I spent two days in doctors' offices and about midnight last night I got orders not to preach," he said of his cancelled church appearance. "I don't have cancer, I've had no heart attack; I haven't had a stroke and I'm not blind."

A cable sent to Australia said the medical examination showed "angio spastic edema of the macula." The macula lutea is a small yellow spot on the human retina and is the most sensitive area of the retina. The description suggests a spastic congestion of blood vessels serving the macula.

Graham said he will speak today at a luncheon to about 1,100 business men and tonight before the church group.

An associate evangelist, Dr. Grady Wilson, reported that the vision in Graham's left eye was impaired.

Graham's father-in-law, Dr. L. Nelson Bell of Montreat, N.C., cabled Australia that the eye ailment is a "rare and serious condition brought on by excessive work, strain and stress."

"His future ministry depends on more rest and relaxation, otherwise the eye condition is only a forerunner of graver complications," Dr. Bell cabled from Graham's home town.

Dr. Bell said Graham's eye was examined at Louisville, Ky., Friday, where he addressed the Baptist Theological Seminary.

The evangelist told his Dallas audience that the "world must solve its problems quickly," noting that Oak Ridge scientists had told him the hydrogen bomb now is obsolete and that we have much deadlier weapons.

"We are living in a world stricken with conflict, frustration and confusion. We're living in a time of revolutions and they are getting closer and closer to us all the time," Graham continued.

Scientists have told him, Graham said, that it is an even bet today's horrible weapons will be used "in our lifetime" and that the human race will have a hard time surviving.

More than 10,000 Southern Baptists, including 100 missionaries from stations around the world, are expected by Baptist leaders for the 4-day meeting here.

Dr. Wade C. Freeman, superintendent for evangelism for the Baptist general convention of Texas and director of the conference, said the affair was the first ever staged by the denomination.

He described the meeting as a keynote event for a 1959 "Year of Evangelism" among six major North American Baptist groups.

"The conference," Dr. Freeman said, "inaugurates the most intensive evangelistic effort ever staged by Baptists. More than 75,000 Baptist churches with 19 million members will participate in simultaneous evangelistic crusades during the year."

Other major speakers for the conference will include Dr. Theodore Adams, president of the Baptist World Alliance; Dr. Baker James Cauthen, executive secretary of the SBC Foreign Mission Board; and Dr. Forrest C. Fezzor, executive secretary of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Graham, in his first speech yesterday, continually kept his audience chuckling with such quips as:

1. "They say we'll be on the moon in two years. I hope we solve our own problems before we confuse the moon."
2. "Nearly all programs deal with psychopaths these days. Psychiatrists are going to each other for help."

ANNOUNCING THE OPENING OF TIMES OFFICE SUPPLY

Located At 202 E. 3rd Phone AM 4-7232

Yes, we have been open six months, but thought we would announce it again because it seems a lot of you must have missed our other opening as we haven't seen too much of you around. Also we could say this is our "6 MONTH ANNIVERSARY" and thank our many friends and above all invite all our enemies to pay us a visit because our friends are letting us starve to death.

You know, they told us it was hard to start a new business in Big Spring, but we have proved them to be wrong as we have the best "non-profit" business in town. There are a few items we have been short on, such as our most called for item has been Cedar pencils, boy if we could only have had a large supply of these we would have expanded by now. But all we have in stock is the best quality pencils at the lowest prices you will find. Also we have had calls for portable typewriters that will only last a few months, but the only kind Remington makes is those built to last for years, our prices are the same but we are sorry we only handle the best in typewriters, adding machines, calculators and electric typewriters and these are made in the USA, not overseas.

Also they told us not to stock so much mimeograph paper both letter and legal size, guess they were right as we sure have a large stock of this along with plenty of adding machine paper and ribbons, file folders, ledger sheets, columnar sheets and pads, post binders, ring binders, storage binders, storage boxes, file boxes, ink, pens, pen sets, ball points and refills, waste baskets, desk, typewriter stands, machine covers, envelopes, memo books and refills, and one or two other items too numerous to list.

THEY SAID IT COULDN'T BE DONE!

but we have most of our stock we had six months ago, so if you want office supplies that haven't been picked over (some not touched by human hands) drop by and see how high our prices really go. But remember we deliver, but we will not deliver any order less than 5¢. So just give us a ring, AM 4-7232, and after the office girl puts up her "True Story" book and turns off the radio and slips her shoes back on she will gladly help you with your order, and when I come in the office she will tell me what to get down from the shelves to fill your order and then I will push the old car and after it is started turn on the windshield wipers to clear away the parking tickets, your order will be on its way. Now remember we are not after charity, but if you want to give your business to a guy who has to buy a loaf of bread on the installment plan, give me a try. Adv.

4 Teen-Agers Die When Car Rolls

GREESBECK, Tex. (AP)—Four teen-agers were killed late last night when the car in which they were returning from a party overturned just inside the city limits of Greesbeck.

Killed were Leslie Anthony Popenoy, 14; Clifton Bonner Oakes, 17; and Joe Earl Fitts, 17. Sammy E. Sherrod Jr., 16, died in a Greesbeck hospital several hours after the accident. All were residents of Greesbeck.

The fifth occupant of the car, Danny Joe Burleson, 13, also of Greesbeck, was only slightly injured.

Balloonist Quits Mars Study Idea

PARIS (AP)—French balloonist Audouin Dollfus today gave up hope for another two years of making a 20-mile-high study of Mars.

The 34-year-old scientist had been waiting a month for a windless day to make the ascent with the aid of 98 balloons. But the winds in the lower atmosphere did not abate and the planet now is too far away for a valuable study.

Spanish Flood Toll Reaches 153

ZAMORA, Spain (AP)—The toll of dead and missing in the Rivalago flood has reached 153 and still is not complete. Most of the victims were old men, women and children.

They lost their lives early Friday when a dam on Lake Sanabria burst and inundated Rivalago, a village of 500 just north of the Portuguese border.

Teacher Grants Slated At A&M

Almost a hundred grants will be awarded junior and senior high school teachers of science and mathematics for advanced study at Texas A&M College next summer. The grants are available to both men and women teachers.

Funds for the grants were awarded to the college by the National Science Foundation and industries operating in Texas.

The Institute at A&M College will offer courses and activities especially designed to meet the subject matter needs of junior and senior high school teachers of science and mathematics and will provide the opportunity for the teachers to learn of recent advances in science and mathematics.

Each teacher selected for the Institute will receive a stipend of $75 per week for the duration of the Institute plus $15 a week for each dependent to a maximum of four, and travel expenses of four cents a mile for one round trip with a maximum of $80. Tuition and fees will be paid for the participating teachers.

First term of the Institute is scheduled for June 8-17 and the courses will be as follows: (1) chemistry; (2) biology; and (3) oceanography, meteorology astronomy. Courses for the second term, which is scheduled for July 20-Aug. 23, include: (1) mathematics; (2) physics; and (3) geology, earth history and astronomy.

Each course will carry three semester hours of academic credit applicable on the degree, Master of Education, science option.

Inquiries concerning the Institute should be addressed to the Institute director, Dr. James G. Potter, head of the Physics Department, A&M College. Requests for applications should be addressed to H. L. Heaton, registrar and director of admissions.

Applications must be post-marked no later than Feb. 16, 1959. Teachers will be informed of the action taken on their applications on or before March 16, 1959. If selected, the teachers will have until April 1, 1959, to accept or reject.

Mild Weather Prevails In Texas

By The Associated Press

Mild weather prevailed over Texas Monday. Light drizzles dotted Central and South Texas where skies were cloudy.

Early morning drizzles were reported at Corpus Christi, Brownsville, San Antonio, Laredo and Dallas. Laredo also reported fog.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 29 degrees at Dalhart in the Panhandle where skies were clear to 63 at Corpus Christi. Maximum readings Sunday afternoon ranged from 50 degrees at Dalhart to 75 at Alice.

The five-day forecast called for continued mild weather with temperatures 4 to 8 degrees above normal. Little or no precipitation was forecast.

Consumers Well Fixed For Spending—But For How Long?

By J. A. LIVINGSTON
Householders — you and I — will have a major say on how 1959 turns out economically — bad, good, or super. And we're in fine financial fettle to assert ourselves (see chart).

We start the year off with earnings—personal income—at an all-time high annual rate above $360,000,000. One reason for this is good wages. Manufacturers are paying better than $86 per week on the average.

As householders, we also start the year off in good credit standing with banks, installment credit firms, automobile dealers, and retailers in general. We've got borrowing capacity. We didn't go berserk over 1958 cars. For the first time in 15 years, consumer debt didn't score a substantial rise.

At the end of November, total consumer debt, at $43,500,000,000, was the same as in November, 1957. From 1956 to 1957 the gain was $2.7 billion; the year before $3.4. Even in the recession year of 1954, there was a rise — $1.1 billion. Automobile installment credit, which a year ago was $15 1/2 billion, is now barely above $14 billion—a consequence of the drop in automobile sales.

So, when the Christmas spending mood came upon us, we yielded to it. We spent freely. Installment debt incurred in November amounted to $3,591,000,000, highest of the year. It compared with October's $3,450,000,000.

Finally, we start off the year with a record volume of savings. Funds tucked away in mutual savings banks, commercial banks, and savings and loan associations rose 12 per cent during the year. Here are the figures to feast your confidence on:

Institution	Dec. 1957	Dec. 1958	Per Cent
Mutual Savings	$1,492,900,000	$1,600,000,000	+7.2
Commercial Banks	$6,139,610,000	$6,800,000,000	+10.9
Savings & Loan	$1,212,482,000	$1,350,000,000	+11.3
Total	$129,713,814,200	$145,200,000,000	+12.0

So it's taken for granted that we householders will be an "autonomous force" for economic expansion in '59. We'll step out and buy automobiles, TV sets, household appliances, stereophonic phonographs, furniture, etc. Our

FINE FINANCIAL FETTER

As income rose in 1958, consumers got out of debt faster than they got into it, and savings increased purchases of goods and services will inspire business men to increase their spending on new machinery, new plant, and other equipment. They'll increase their inventories. In short, we, the consumers, are the New Year fillip.

Source: Department of Commerce; Federal Reserve Board. J. A. Livingston

If this is the Year of the Householder, it's also the Year of the new Russian rocket—the "Mechta," which means "dream." Congress and you and I will have to reassess America's scientific and military strength relative to that of the Soviet Union.

We have been a materialistic, a gadget-loving, nation. We've wanted new automobiles, washing machines, homes, TV sets, etc. We boast of our high scrappage in machinery and in autos. But you don't win wars with the latest kitchen devices. You don't conquer space with long, low, and bechromed automobiles. Could it be that "Mechta" will sober us up?

It's often said, "We're a rich country; we can have our cake and armaments, too." Nevertheless, if we try to pile increased military expenditures and increased outlays for science and education on top of increased consumer outlays for automobiles, appliances, homes, etc., it's inevitable that another round of inflation will take place. That's why President Eisenhower and Secretary of the Treasury Anderson are so intent on collecting taxes equal to outlays: Let us pay as we go for military strength, foreign economic aid, and social welfare.

New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller took a similar tack. He declared in his State-of-the-State address that higher taxes from financial disaster. Rockefeller is associated with the liberal wing of the Republican Party. He is supposed to be a spender—an ever-onward, ever-upward man: Economic expansion knows no limits.

But facts are facts. And an important fact is that most governments in the United States—federal, state and local—have been spending and borrowing freely. Sooner or later they'll have to raise taxes—even as France—to keep solvent, which means less for consumers to spend. Another fact is that we still have several millions unemployed. That is a drag on sentiment—on optimism.

A third fact is, we still don't know what to do. Sales in December were encouraging. But December sales usually are. A certain number of persons want the newest, the glossiest. The test of the auto market will come this month and next. A good automobile year would lift business to new highs, increase employment in Detroit, and validate the New Year optimism. Thus, much depends on how we, the householders, react to retail outlays: Let us pay as we go

36 Killed In Airliner Crash

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Thirty-six persons were killed when a West German airliner crashed and burned Sunday as it attempted a landing in heavy rain at Galeao International Airport.

Three crew members were the only survivors. Seven other crew members and 29 passengers were killed.

Among the dead were the American pilot, Capt. Wren McMains, 46, of Stamford, Conn., and 24-year-old Countess Maria Elena Kottulinsky of Vienna, the daughter of Princess Ileana of Romania who now lives in Newton, Mass.

Count Jaroslav Kottulinsky died with his wife.

The four-engine Super Constellation of the Lufthansa Airline was en route to Rio from Europe and Africa. A wingtip struck the mud of the marsh at the edge of Guanabara Bay about two miles from the airport as the pilot tried to line up with a runway.

"We could see passengers at the windows banging for help and screaming as they tried to get out," a fisherman at the scene reported.

It was Lufthansa's first fatal crash since it began postwar operations in April 1955.

McMains, a native of Lebanon, Ind., was loaned to Lufthansa by Trans World Airlines in 1955. He had been flying for TWA since 1941 and was the father of four children.

Another passenger killed was Gary Levy, 38, chief representative in Latin America of the British Reuters news agency.

U.S. Position In Space Race Up For Congressional Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—The question of where the United States stands in the space race with the Soviet Union will come under renewed congressional inquiry this session.

Rep. Overton Brooks (D-La.), prospective chairman of the new House Space Committee, said today he could not yet speak for the House group since it had not been officially organized nor his chairmanship confirmed.

However, Brooks said, "I personally would favor holding hearings."

The Louisiana Democrat spoke in an interview against a background of conflict over whether this country is lagging in the space contest and whether it should step up its effort.

The temporary House Space Committee of the last Congress, headed by Democratic Leader John W. McCormack (Mass.), issued a final report over the weekend picturing the Soviets as perhaps 1 1/2 years or more ahead of the United States in space progress.

Brooks was a member of the temporary committee as well as senior Democratic member of the House Armed Services Committee.

The space committee saw America's extinction as the likely cost of Soviet victory in the space race. Calling for the utmost national effort, it quoted estimates that even with a thoroughgoing program it will take the United States "at least five years to close the gap."

Vice President Nixon holds a different view, according to information given newsmen Sunday.

Nixon, who sits in top strategy councils, says the United States is ahead of the Soviet Union in developing military missiles and is catching up fast in other phases of the space race.

Nixon does not think more money can be spent wisely on satellites. He blames on the previous Democratic administration what he says is a lag of several years in a U.S. start on developing big rocket engines. Under a massive effort now, he says, this country is fast overtaking the Soviets in rocket power and satellites.

President Eisenhower was portrayed, in Nixon's view, as keenly aware of all details and also as a realist on the space program. Eisenhower told Congress in his State of the Union message Friday that seven billion dollars will be spent on missile programs this year. He spoke of space achievements so far "in no more than four years of intensive effort."

One new space contract of major importance is expected to be awarded this week. It will call for the building of a capsule in which a passenger eventually will ride in the nation's first manned satellite.

While the House committee said the United States may be ahead in some space work, it noted Sputnik III's payload is reportedly 10 times larger than the 150-pound payload of America's biggest satellite, the Atlas. "Many prominent Americans... have minimized the Soviet advantage," it said.

Col. William McIntyre of New York City, president of the group, presented Miss Torre with a letter hailing her for going to jail rather than reveal the source of an item in her radio-TV column.

McIntyre was accompanied by Maj. Frederick Benham of the advertising post of the Legion and Capt. George Mames of Flint, Mich., of the Legion Press Assn. They said the syndicated New York Herald Tribune writer looked well "and had a fine view of the Statue of Liberty."

Miss Torre received a 10-day jail sentence last week when she refused to divulge the source of an item about Judy Garland.

Legion Delegation Visits With Critic

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—Three delegates from the Society of American Legion Founders paid a call on columnist Marie Torre in Hudson County Jail Sunday.

Col. William McIntyre of New York City, president of the group, presented Miss Torre with a letter hailing her for going to jail rather than reveal the source of an item in her radio-TV column.

McIntyre was accompanied by Maj. Frederick Benham of the advertising post of the Legion and Capt. George Mames of Flint, Mich., of the Legion Press Assn.

They said the syndicated New York Herald Tribune writer looked well "and had a fine view of the Statue of Liberty."

Miss Torre received a 10-day jail sentence last week when she refused to divulge the source of an item about Judy Garland.

Liberal Demo Claims Daniel Admits Wrong, Denies Felony

AUSTIN (AP)—A liberal Democratic leader charged here yesterday that Gov. Price Daniel "has pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor but denied committing a felony."

Mrs. R. D. Randolph of Houston, chairman of the liberal Democrats of Texas (DOT) made the charge in reference to Daniel's statement Saturday that he accepted responsibility for unsound two state Democratic Executive Committee members nominated by their district and substituting two Daniel supporters.

The action raised a storm of protest from liberal factions at the September state convention in San Antonio.

Two other Texas Democratic leaders—Sen. Lyndon Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn—later chided Daniel for his action, saying that it violated the principle that the district nominees to the State Democratic Executive Committee should be honored.

Daniel made his admission at a Saturday meeting here of the Executive Committee at which the liberal faction was unable to weaken Daniel's control of the state party.

Mrs. Randolph's statement said: "Saturday's discussion by the county-chairmen of the governor's proposals to abolish precinct meetings and his other election code changes was good mainly in that it showed that these first-line officials of the Democratic party do not want anyone deciding important party matters for them."

"It is too bad such a meeting was not held before our last state convention. If it had, surely the governor would not have placed himself in his present untenable position of trying to justify his seating of two SDEC members who have no legal right to those seats."

"It is said to witness a governor justifying his position on the grounds that he has been less illegal than other governors before him."

"The real sense of the governor's remarks Saturday morning was that he pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor but denied committing a felony. The big unsettled issue of our party is still the same: Can the rank and file Democrats decide party matters, or must we let a single man decide them for us?"

Daniel told the Democrats Saturday that he "accepted the responsibility for Bernard Lifshutz of San Antonio and Miss Chloee Armstrong of Waco being dumped in favor of state committee nominees who had supported Daniel in previous political battles."

"Nothing has torn apart the Democrats of this state more than bitterness and sometimes strong-arm tactics used in local and state conventions," Daniel said. He strongly urged that the group recommend election of state committee members by voters.

DEAR ABBY

SILENCE IS GOLDEN

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband's sister (very bossy) told me she was giving our 14-year-old daughter an electric razor for Christmas. I told her I'd rather she didn't because we didn't allow our daughter to shave her legs yet. She said, "It's high time you did. She looks like a baboon." I ignored the remark and sure enough Christmas our daughter received the electric razor. Now she is begging us to let her use it. Do you think it was right of this sister-in-law to give our child a gift she knew we disapproved of?

VERY ANGRY
DEAR VERY: Your sister-in-law used very poor judgment. Put the shaver away and don't bring it out (or mention it) unless you want to see the fur fly.

DEAR ABBY: Our son, 28, is the heartbreak of our lives. We brought him up in our Church, which he never fully accepted. For 10 years he cast around investigating this religion and that. He studied Greek and Hebrew in order to translate the original scriptures. He finally decided to dedicate his life to teaching the religion he calls the only "true" religion. He has drifted away from his family, and we feel that we have lost our son. Is there any consolation for parents such as we?

INCONSOLABLE
DEAR INCONSOLABLE: A great philosopher said: "If a man does not keep pace with his companions, perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer. Let him step to the music he hears, however measured, or far away."

DEAR ABBY: Have you lost your mind? Say listen, Sister, when an eight-year-old kid uses dirty words you do not IGNORE him—you do what my mother did to me. You wash his mouth out with soap. Now will you retract your advice and print mine instead?

OLD-TIMER
DEAR OLD: No soap. You're outta lux!

DEAR ABBY: First of all I want to say that I am 38 years old and this single. I have been going with this future husband of mine for 10 years. Everything that could possibly come up between two people to postpone a marriage has happened to us. Fights, sickness, bills, problems with his family, and even a paternity suit which he won, but it cost him a lot just to prove his innocence. Well, he is 42, and his latest reason for not marrying me is that he thinks we are TOO OLD to get married. He says I'm too old to have my own children and the adoption agencies won't favor us at this age, so without children, what's the sense of getting married? Should I drop him after 10 years or keep going with him, hoping he'll break down?

TIRED OF WAITING
DEAR TIRED: You will "break down" before he does. This man is allergic to orange blossoms. If it's marriage you're after, lose him while you're still under 40 and look further.

CONFIDENTIAL TO DIXIE:
You were not PATRIOTIC — you were IDIOTIC. Did you at least get his name, rank and serial number?

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of The Big Spring Herald. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

The Right Foods Aid In Good Complexion

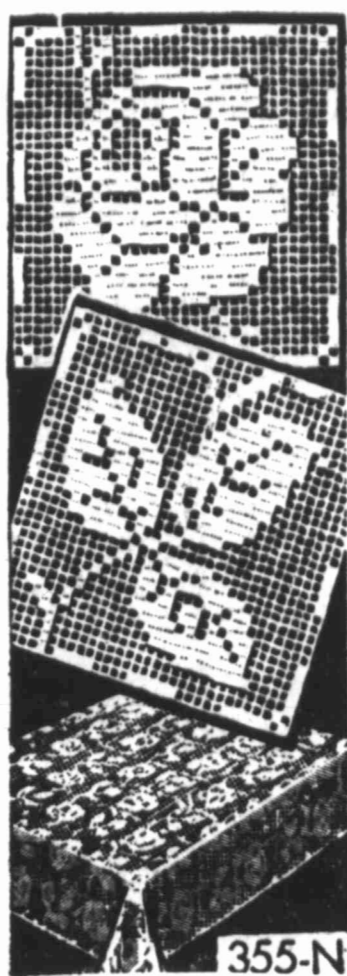

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — Kathy Nolan, who plays Katie in "The Real McCoys" on ABC-TV, feels that age is a state of mind. When she played Wendy in Mary Martin's "Peter Pan," she was accepted as a little girl in the role even though she was in her teens.
 "It is something the theater has taught me," she told me on the set. "It's a type of projection that can be used in normal living."
 "You mean that people are willing to accept you at your evaluation?" I asked.
 "Yes," Kathy agreed, "if it is deep-rooted enough."
 Kathy's theatrical experience goes back to childhood roles in a show boat repertory company, tents shows and a struggle for recognition on Broadway.
 "I played in 39 different states," Kathy revealed. "My schooling was irregular, but I was an honor student in my last year in high school."
 Kathy reminisced about her decision to try fame and fortune in New York. She told me about her sewing machine and how she copied clothes from fashion magazines that she felt she would need in the big city.

 "The surprising part is, I felt well-dressed. My clothes were right, but my hairstyle and my speech were terribly backward and had to be improved.
 "I learned to do my hair from going to a good hairstylist and watching her set it. She taught me how to comb and set it, since I would be traveling so much.
 "I learned how to apply my make-up so that it looks natural. I had to practice and practice before I felt comfortable using a lipstick brush. When I finally mastered using it, I discovered that it gives a much neater line.
 "I learned the value of nutritional eating in New York, too. I ate the wrong foods for so long that my skin broke out, and I had to see a doctor. He told me to give up fried foods, pastries and candy and to eat more salads and fresh fruit.
 "When I wanted a snack, I ate boiled eggs. I carried them to work with me. My skin cleared up and I felt so much better. I've never gone back to my old sweet-tooth habits."

Learned In New York

From Showboat Plays to TV is Kathy Nolan's acting record. She tells what she learned about beauty in New York. Kathy is seen regularly on ABC-TV's "The Real McCoys" series.

Julie Rainwater Is Sorority Pledge; Recital Scheduled

Julie Rainwater, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Champ Rainwater, 716 Hillside, was among pledges presented Saturday evening by the Alpha Chi Omega sorority of Texas Tech.

The presentation was made against a background of a winter wonderland of snow-covered trees and snowflake ceiling in the ballroom at the Tech Union Building.

Mr. and Mrs. Rainwater were present for the ceremony and for the dance which followed with music by The Keynotes.

Mrs. Rainwater is to appear in organ recital Thursday at 4 p.m. in the Bowman Memorial Chapel of First Methodist Church, Lubbock. She has selected Nazard from Suite Francais, by Langlais as her offering.

Kitchen Tip

After grinding dry bread through the fine blade of a food chopper, you'll have to sift it if you want to separate the very fine crumbs from those that are coarser.

Bananas

Never put green-tipped bananas in the refrigerator; they need to ripen at room temperature. After the bananas are fully ripe, however, they may be refrigerated for a day or two.

With Patties

Friday fare: Skillet-fried patties made with canned salmon and served with cream sauce and a garnish of hard-cooked egg slices and minced parsley or chives.

WMU Begins Focus Week

Mrs. J. L. Stevens, president, introduced Mrs. James Findley, secretary; Mrs. Curtis Vaughn, chairman of the Josephine Scaggs Circle; Mrs. Dewey Brown, chairman of the Jo Hamrick Circle.
 Program chairman, Mrs. A. E. Woods, was introduced as were Mrs. Eugene Clark, community missions; Mrs. W. A. James, prayer; Mrs. E. J. Hodo, stewardship; Mrs. Sam Wells, enrollment; Mrs. R. I. Findley, treasurer, and Mrs. Bob Kimzey, publicity.
 Special music was the year's WMU song, Come, Women, Wide Proclaim, which was sung by Mrs. Lloyd Stout. All WMU members were seated in pews marked with the groups colors, lavender and white, and they wore corsages in the chosen shades.
 This afternoon, the Jo Hamrick Circle was to meet at the church for Bible study; the Josephine Scaggs Circle will meet Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. at the church for study.
 Wednesday will mark the regular mid-week service of the auxiliaries and the Sunbeams, and Thursday, at 2 p.m., the women will meet for visitation.
 The group will climax the week with a buffet and program Friday evening at 7:30 at the educational building of the church.

Garnishes

Thinly sliced radishes and gherkins, or shrimp cut in flat lengthwise halves make attractive garnishes for open cheese sandwiches; add one or two tiny sprigs of parsley to each garnish.

Music Of Germany Is Discussed For Hyperions

A study of Germany as made through her music was brought to the 1950 Hyperion Club Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Omar Pitman.
 Guests, who presented the program, were Mrs. Carol Belton, soloist, and Airman Ernst Henseling, who has been in the United States since 1953.
 Henseling, who was born in Germany, was educated in that country, traveled in France and other countries of Europe. He entered this country through Canada and is now at Webb AFB as a radar technician. He hopes to receive his citizenship papers in February.
 The speaker told of the early beginnings of music in Germany, when it came from folk songs and religious selections, and he showed how the compositions of Bach, Handel, Beethoven and their contemporaries were based on the music of the people.

Small groups began gathering in homes to perform the compositions, the speaker told the club, and the use of the harpsichord and woodwind instruments increased. At first performed by the higher classes, the music spread into the common range and became more popular.
 It was Frederick the Great, he stated, who ordered compulsory education for all children, and with it came the learning of music, both the reading and writing of notes. The better music became a part of the lives of the Germans, Henseling said, and today, there is an appreciation of good music among all the people, with festivals of classical music given all through the year.
 Following a question and answer period, Mrs. Belton introduced her songs and gave the background of each. Accompanied by Mrs. Pitman, she sang The Erl-

King and a German folk song which she had learned at her New Brannfels home.
 Mrs. Pitman presented recorded chorales by Bach.
 During the business session, assignments were made for the hostess duties at the tea to be given on Feb. 6 honoring Mrs. B. F. Seay of Andrews, president of District Eight.
 Hostesses were Mrs. Herbert Keaton and Mrs. Hubert Stipp, with the program arranged by Mrs. Bill Griese, who introduced the speaker and singer, Mrs. Pitman and Mrs. Chester Barnes.

Order Filed

U.S. District Court Clerk Grady Miller puts his official stamp at Little Rock, Ark., on Judge John Miller's order directing the Little Rock school board to proceed with integration. The schools have been closed by order of Gov. Orval Faubus and the order does not spell out how integration should be accomplished.

Georgia Race Rule Hit By Court Orders

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Georgia segregation practices reeled today in the wake of two sharp blows by federal district judges.

Judge Boyd Sloan ruled Saturday that Negroes cannot be denied admission to the Georgia State College of Business Administration in Atlanta on the basis of race and color alone.

His ruling came one day after Dist. Judge Frank Hooper outlawed segregated seating on Atlanta buses and trolleys.

Gov.-elect Ernest Vandiver suggested that the university system temporarily stop accepting new applications for admission to the 19 state colleges and universities, and Regents Chairman Robert Arnold said this would be done.

Vandiver, who becomes governor Tuesday, reportedly is planning to ask the legislature to pass laws closing state Negro colleges if any white units shut as the result of being ordered to integrate.

Vandiver also said he will ask the lawmakers, who convene today, to approve bills designed to close individual schools rather than entire school systems if integration is ordered. Present laws call for closing entire school districts if one school in the district is integrated.

Appearing on an Atlanta television program, Vandiver added that the proposal would give the governor power to shut any school from which Negroes transfer.

While applying only to the Atlanta College, Sloan's order struck down as discriminatory a key university system rule for maintaining segregation — that applicants be endorsed by alumni of the school they wish to enter.

The state probably will appeal Sloan's broad order, although the judge did not actually order the plaintiffs — three Negro women — admitted to the college. He said they were qualified to apply and have their applications considered.

Thus it will be some time yet before a Negro may actually be admitted to a previously all-white state college. Under state law that would close the institution by cutting off its funds.

There also has been no sign of a break in the custom of Negroes using rear seats on Atlanta buses and trolleys. After segregated seating was outlawed Negro leaders indicated it will be at least two weeks before any organized move is launched toward desegregated seating.

And She Won't Go Back No Mo'

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y. (AP)—Afloat on a floe was a doe. She was trapped, with no place to go. A Coast Guard lasso brought her in tow.

And that was the end of her woe.

That is the saga of a deer floating down the Hudson River on a cold Sunday afternoon.

The Coast Guard cutter Mariposa, out on ice patrol, spotted the deer and set out on a rescue mission.

Alarmed by the 180-foot ship, the doe kept skipping from floe to floe, like Eliza fleeing the hours. It was more than an hour before the lasso found its mark.

A seaman scrambled onto the floe and tied the deer's legs so she wouldn't hurt herself when she was hauled aboard.

And then back to the woods she did go.

Frost Worries Citrus Growers

By The Associated Press
More frosty weather kept Florida citrus growers on the alert Monday after another all-night vigil to protect their crops.

Strong winds fanned cold air from the southern Appalachians into the Southeast. Temperatures dropped to below freezing in northern parts of Florida.

Generally warmer weather prevailed in most of the nation. Skies were mostly clear to partly cloudy except for rain areas in the Pacific Northwest and snow flurries across Northern sections.

At Lakeland, Fla., Homer E. Hooks, Florida Citrus Commission manager, said he didn't believe the damage to crops thus far was too extensive. However, he said, another two or three nights of freezing weather could be dangerous.

A warming trend was reported in New England and from the Great Lakes region through the lower Mississippi Valley and eastward across the Appalachians into the middle Atlantic states. Texas also warmed considerably Sunday, with temperatures in the 70s in southern areas.

Walker Came Close To Ending Career

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Clint Walker might be operating a health food business in Belleville, Ill., today if he hadn't dropped by his studio recently.

Happily for his movie and TV fans, Clint is now back in the Warner Bros. fold and will be making more "Cheyennes" and theater films.

But he came close to folding up his acting career. Relaxing in his big bare feet at his modest North Hollywood home, he told how he ended his nine-month strike against the studio:

"I had decided to pull up stakes and go back to Belleville, where my twin sister runs a health food business that we own. She thought we could really expand if I joined the operation. So I sold my house and got ready to move.

"But I wanted to hear from the head man that there was no hope for a settlement. I didn't want to move East and then have to return here if Warners made a deal. So I went to the studio on my own initiative and told them the situation."

Now Clint will be back slinging six-shooters instead of yogurt and wheat germ. He starts 1959 with a brand-new contract which assures him of doing features as well as the TV show.

"The money is the same—I'll be getting $1,500 a week," he said. "My argument was never over money; $1,500 is a good salary. I wanted to be able to do feature movies, which give me more satisfaction to an actor than TV films."

Nine months is a long time for a fellow to be without income, and Clint admitted that his bankroll was getting thin toward the end. He felt that an agreement would have been reached much sooner except for the Riviera auto accident that incapacitated studio boss J. L. Warner—"the studio couldn't make the decision without him, and he was too sick to even be told about it."

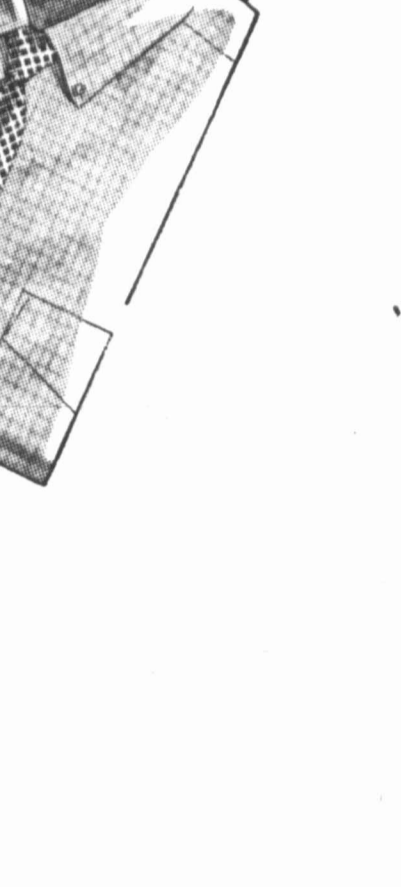

Chinese Mothers To Lose Children

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—A Nationalist Chinese government news agency reported today that the Chinese Communists plan to take complete control of small children in communes by making the day nurseries round-the-clock affairs.

At present, mothers leave their children in the nurseries while they are at work. But the T'aipei News Agency said the Reds would extend the youngsters' nursery time to exercise stricter control over education and to get even more work out of the mothers.

Tony Curtis Makes More Than U-I Studio

By JAMES BACON
AP Motion Picture Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Tony Curtis' business advisers have just told him that he made four times more money last year than Universal-International Studio.

That's the studio which first hired Curtis for $75 a week 10 years ago. Last year was a rocky one for the studio, but even so the comparison is amazing.

"I can remember not long after I started at U-I," Curtis recalls, "when one of the top producers advised me to get out of this business—that I had no future in it."

"I also remember telling him: 'I want to be a movie star. That's the only thing I want.' I guess that singleness of purpose is what did it."

He also gives credit to Lew Wasserman who runs the biggest talent agency in the business—Music Corp. of America.

"I'm a good client," says Curtis. "I figure I'm paying MCA a lot of money so I listen to them."

In one year Curtis shot from a U-I contract player to one of the golden dozen stars who rule Hollywood.

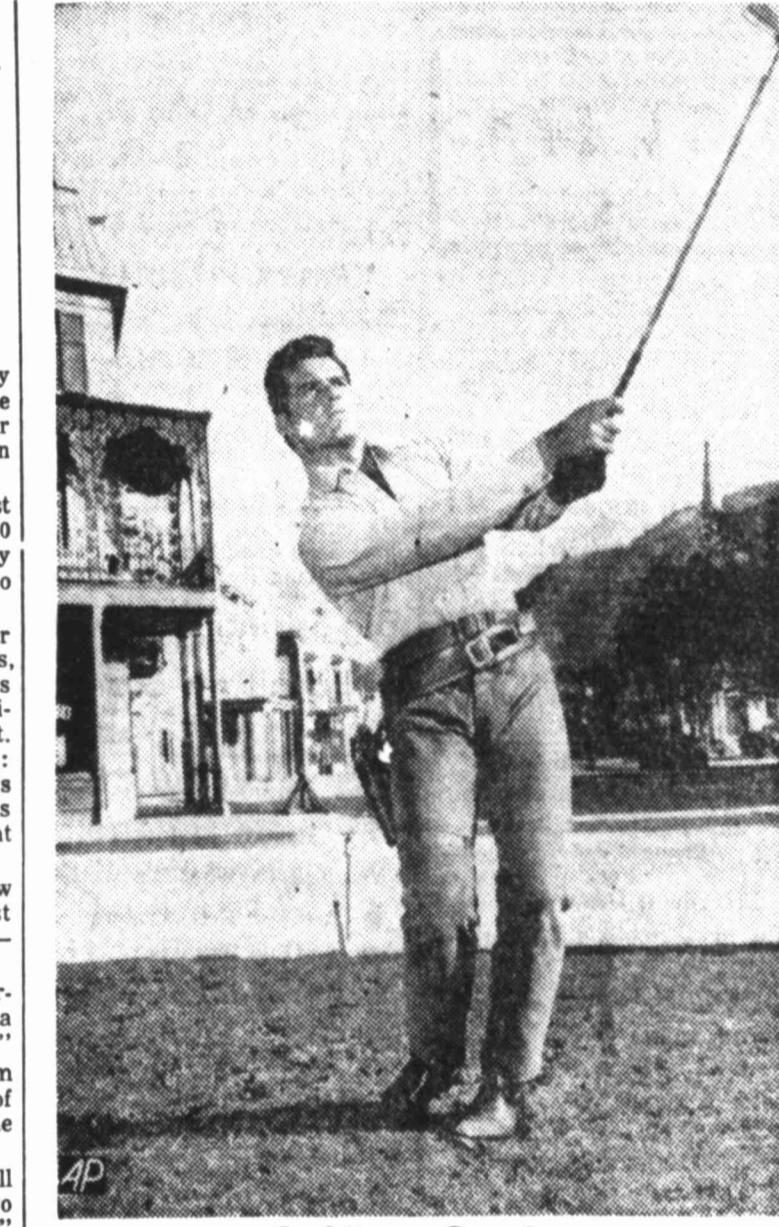

Tony estimates that he will gross 1 1/2 million dollars from two pictures alone—"The Vikings" and "Kings Go Forth." He's also in for a healthy cut of "The Defiant Ones," which is headed for a 6 million worldwide gross.

Even Curtis' rare television appearances have that Midas touch. He made one last year about a matador who conquers fear. Coming up this month is one where he plays David, the young poet-shepherd who conquers fear and slays the giant Goliath. Next year he will do a similar theme in an entirely different setting.

"The only way to become and stay—and I put this in quotation marks—a movie star is to orbit around the sun. The public has got to see you," he says.

His television appearances fit into that philosophy.

"Good pictures and often, that's my philosophy," he says.

Golfing Cowboy

James Garner, one of the stars of the Maverick TV series, doesn't let his western garb hamper his practice on the Hollywood Warner Bros. lot. He plans to play in the upcoming Bing Crosby tournament at Pebble Beach.

Violent Deaths Claim 19 Texans

Guidance System Of Sun Rocket Told

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union's new cosmic rocket has steered itself past the moon and into orbit around the sun, Pravda reported today.

The Communist party newspaper in a two-page article on interplanetary flight, said the missile launched Jan. 2 utilized an automatic guidance system which kept it on a predetermined trajectory and regulated its final speed.

The Soviet rocket was launched vertically from a point in the Soviet Union, said Pravda, then entered its assigned trajectory under its own self-contained guidance system.

With the lengthy scientific article—which disclosed no additional details of the rocket itself or the site of its blast-off—Pravda published a series of photographs and charts on its latest space entry.

These showed the rocket's instruments and battery containers prior to installation in the missile, and charts of the rocket's flight and its final orbit around the sun.

As viewed from earth, the Soviet rocket flashed above and to the right of the moon in its flight into space, Pravda said.

As it passed the moon, that planet's gravitational pull changed its course somewhat. But the automatic controls corrected its flight path.

Pravda's long study included data on the 34-hour flight to pass the moon, a description of the final stage of the rocket with its instrument chamber, a detailed description of the instruments aboard and details of research problems connected with the flight.

It described the new Soviet planet as it entered orbit around the sun as "the rocket's final stage with its instruments linked with the preceding stage."

New Peanut By Radiation

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—A scientist has produced a disease and wilt-resisting type of peanut by atomic radiation. Other scientists call it a milestone in fundamental genetics, one of the first times an improved strain of any living thing has been developed through atomic radiation in the United States.

Dr. Walton C. Gregory of North Carolina State College bombarded peanut seeds with 18,500 roentgens 17 times the radiation that can kill a man.

This jumbled their genetic system and produced generations of plants that were dwarfed, huge, erect, prostrate, curled, maimed, sterile, high yielders and low yielders.

From these, Dr. Gregory and other workers at a research farm in Rocky Mount, N.C., developed the desirable variety.

It would take nature thousands of years to provide such mutations. Radiation did it in minutes.

The peanuts were perfectly edible. Dr. Gregory said the rays passed through the seeds and scrambled the genes, but neither the seeds nor the growing plants were radioactive.

North Carolina State College announced Sunday the new seed will be available to growers for limited planting by next year.
