GOP Gets Assurance Of Aid In Filling Jobs For Census

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Patronage-hungry Republicans had a pledge from GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn today that party officials will have a hand in filling 100,000 census-taker jobs. With the Republican National Committee indicating approval of an ambitious program to sell its candidates to the voters in 1960, Alcorn moved to chink up some of the cracks in party harmony. One of these has been the Eisenhower administration's reputed failure to consult with members of Congress and local officials in handing out federal jobs. Another has been Alcorn's failure to check with congressional leaders on 1960 campaign plans. John B. Martin Jr., Michigan national committeeman, brought the patronage matter out into the open with the observation that he had been informed the Commerce Department will hire 100,000 persons in its 1960 census operation. Martin said he wants to be sure deserving Republicans share liberally in this windfall, which he said would provide employment for several months at pay ranging up to $400 a month. Alcorn replied that this matter

"is well in hand." He said he had conferred with Secretary of Commerce Strauss and other high administration officials and had been assured that the patronage is going to be available through local Republican channels. Alcorn lacked any immediate solution, however, of an issue raised by Mrs. Katherine Kennedy Brown, Ohio committeewoman. She contended that Republicans in Congress had not been consulted in advance about the long-range program the chairman laid before the National Committee Thursday. Alcorn replied sharply that he had drawn up the program at the President's request. He said he had submitted it to Eisenhower as a confidential memo and had not cleared it with anyone. Among other things, Alcorn proposed that the Republicans set up a survey committee to recommend in three months a statement of party intentions on major issues. Some Republicans said they regard this as paralleling the Democratic Advisory Council, which has been at odds often with the Democratic leaders in Congress.

The fact that he and other GOP leaders in Congress had not been asked for their views before Alcorn laid down his program to the national committee was said to have contributed to the critical blast fired at President Eisenhower Thursday by Rep. Richard Simpson (R-Pa.). Simpson, head of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, won vigorous applause when he proposed that Eisenhower devote to the party some of the "unremitting effort" toward year-around campaigning the President called for from Republican workers. Mrs. Claire Williams of Florida, assistant national chairman, said that women are going to hold the key to election victory in 1960. "If we plan strongly and wisely, if we capitalize fully on the potential of womanpower, we cannot fail to turn the tide in 1960," she said in a speech. Mrs. Williams also suggested that the Republicans make a drive for active support among the 23-million persons she said will be over 60 years old next year.

Dulles Calls On Allies For Ideas On German Unification

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles has urged U.S. allies, particularly West Germany, to produce some basic new ideas on German reunification for possible proposal to the Soviet Union. Reporting this Friday, informants said that Dulles and his advisers are particularly interested in the possibility that a plan might be devised for a German confederation. They are looking for some plan which would offer a constructive, fresh approach to reunifying Germany and on which the Soviet government might be willing to negotiate. In the U.S. view any confederation plan would have to provide at least for a central government with control over such matters as foreign policy. Moscow proposed confederation in a Jan. 10 note but indicated it would be little more than a facade for continuing West Germany and Communist East Germany as completely independent states. The German problem is being attacked on three fronts in the biggest review since 1955 of where the West stands on this whole crucial matter: 1. The most immediate problem is to prepare a reply to the Soviet Jan. 10 note, which calls for a 28-nation peace conference in March to write a German peace treaty. A peace treaty draft, which the Western governments branded as unacceptable, was offered at the same time. There is a possibility that the West may suggest a different set of peace treaty principles. But the probability is that the Western Powers will call for a Big Four meeting of foreign ministers or deputy foreign ministers by early May to discuss the whole German problem. 2. Related to the problem of a reply is the more fundamental question of how the Western Powers can seize the initiative with constructive proposals if they get into formal talks with the Soviet government on German issues. The United States, Britain, France and the German Federal Republic are forming a working group of State Department and embassy officials which will begin active work on the possibilities early next month. 3. Behind the policy review is the danger of a new Berlin crisis developing in May. This will result if Premier Nikita Khrushchev goes through with his plan to turn over to East Germany Soviet occupation authority in East Berlin and over the communications lines between West Germany and West Berlin. If the lines are interrupted, the question will arise immediately how the Western Powers intend to supply their troops and, if necessary, feed the 2,200,000 people living in West Berlin. High officials said Friday that there has been no agreement yet among the allies on this critical problem. They are still considering an airlift, the device that broke the 1948-49 blockade. They are still considering the use of force if necessary to try to keep highways and rail lines open. Diplomats report that the British government strongly favors the airlift plan but frowns upon use of force, while the United States and France feel that if the situation develops badly, force may be their only alternative to preserve their Berlin rights. American officials are hopeful, however, that the combination of solid Allied firmness in Berlin and willingness to negotiate on the whole German question will persuade the Russians to handle the prospective crisis in such a way as to prevent any need for even a limited military showdown.

U.S. Hits Snag In Middle East Defense Pacts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has run into difficulties with Pakistan and Iran in negotiating special defense agreements aimed at bolstering them against outside attack. Both Iran and Pakistan are reported insisting on stronger defense assurances than the United States is ready to extend at this time. A third country, Turkey, is understood to be satisfied, however, with the draft of an agreement proposed in talks in Ankara. Diplomatic authorities who disclosed the backstage argument Friday said there seems little chance the agreements will be signed, as had been hoped, at a Baghdad Pact meeting beginning Monday in Karachi, Pakistan. The United States is negotiating the agreements with the Baghdad Pact framework in keeping with a pledge Secretary of State Dulles made in London July 28. That followed the internal revolt in Iraq, one of the original members of the pact.

Dulles said then that the United States would "promptly enter into agreements with nations in the alliance to give them added security in defense guarantees." He proposed doing this under authority already granted by Congress without the need for formal treaties. Such a course would avoid possibly dangerous delays while the U.S. Senate considered and approved new treaties. PLUS SOME WORDS The agreement proposed by the State Department would be a statement of existing mutual security agreements already signed with them plus some words noting the Middle East resolution approved by Congress March 9, 1957. This resolution gave President Eisenhower authority to use armed force, as well as economic aid, to assist Middle East countries whose independence was threatened by outside attack or subversion. The department apparently feels that any strong pledge might require a formal treaty. In the negotiations, however, Iranian and Pakistani government leaders have criticized the proposed wording of the agreements as far too weak.

Both have requested unequivocal American commitments to come to their aid in the event of attack from any quarter, Communist or non-Communist. Turkey has made no such objections, mainly because as a member of the 15-nation North Atlantic Pact it believes it has sufficient defense guarantees from the United States. DEAR ABBY

LATE WALK HOME

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: An acquaintance of mine recently had a nose job and I am wondering if it would be proper or me to say anything about the operation or should I let it go unnoticed?

LINDA DEAR LINDA: People resort to plastic surgery because they hope it will make a noticeable improvement in their appearance. Avoid using expressions such as "nose job" or "bob job"—but do comment on how "lovely" she (or he) looks.

DEAR ABBY: I am a senior in High School and I am not bragging when I say I have a very good reputation. I date on Friday and Saturday nights and have to be in by 12:30 sharp, and I always am. Last Friday I had a date with a boy who carried a pint of whiskey in his glove compartment. He started drinking and driving recklessly so I got out of the car and walked home. I had to walk four miles and didn't get home until 3 a.m. My parents were furious and took away my dating privileges for three months. I think I used good judgment and shouldn't have been punished for it. What is your opinion?

PUNISHED UNJUSTLY DEAR PUNISHED: Your drunken driver was excellent, but no girl should walk four miles alone at three a.m. You'd have been wiser to have called your father, a taxi, or even the police Department for a ride home.

DEAR ABBY: My parents are trying hard to save their marriage. They went to a Marriage Counselor. The Marriage Counselor said they both needed a psychiatrist. They both couldn't afford to go to a psychiatrist, so my mother is going. The trouble is, I am sure the wrong one is going. My father needs it much worse than my mother. What can be done about this problem?

THEIR SON DEAR SON: The psychiatrist will not waste his time or your mother's money. If she doesn't need treatment, he'll discharge her. In the meantime he'll give her some helpful advice on how to live with your father.

DEAR ABBY: My wife died four years ago and none of my four married children offered me a home with them. I own a nicely-furnished house but it was lonesome coming home to an empty house every night and eating in restaurants. A respectable widow lady who cleans my house and does my laundry agreed to move into an upstairs bedroom (mine is downstairs) and I was glad to have her. I am 64 and she is 62. My children raised such a fuss you'd think we were doing something immoral (which I give you my word we are not.) Should I ask this lady to move out or should I tell my children to leave me alone?

PAPPA DEAR PAPPY: There is nothing wrong with having a housekeeper live in your home. Tell your children to mind their morals and you'll mind yours.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "CHAIRMAN OF THE BORED": How about offering your services to a Volunteer Organization? If you aren't giving, you aren't living.

Legislature Bill Would Spell Out Executive Committee Issue

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Legislature has a chance to say how members of political party state executive committees should be selected.

Rep. B. H. Dewey of Bryan filed a bill today which would provide that members be selected at the polls by senatorial district. Under present law, they are selected in caucuses and must be approved by the political party's state convention.

The bill would allow the party's gubernatorial nominee to appoint four committeemen and four committeewomen from four different areas of the state, subject to confirmation by the state convention.

The party's nominees for governor and lieutenant governor would be ex officio members of the committee.

Dewey also introduced a proposed constitutional amendment to abolish the $1.75 poll tax. He would substitute a registration system.

Rep. Eligio de la Garza of Mission offered a bill which would require party affiliation designated on poll tax receipts.

Other bills, by author, would:

- Rep. Louis Anderson, Midland, authorize persons to sue state agencies for tort claims.
- Rep. Max Carricker, Roby, transfer Fisher County from the 104th Judicial District to the 32nd Judicial District.
- Rep. Roy Harrington, Port Ar-

Daniel Promises To Fight Oil, Gas Interests On Tax

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel promised yesterday to fight oil and gas producers who would oppose his three per cent tax proposal on dedicated natural gas reserves.

He wired President Charles W. Alcorn of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Assn. that his organization would not oppose the measure.

"You will see that it is not a tax on the producer but on the gas companies which have a major portion of the gas reserves of this state tied up under contract," Daniel said. "Fifty-three per cent of this gas is moving by long lines outside of the state."

Alcorn sharply criticized Daniel's tax proposal in the governor's message to the Legislature Wednesday.

Alcorn said Daniel "has resorted to dangerous patchwork and procrastination. . . . The governor has chosen to make the oil and gas producers of Texas the scapegoat again in another piecemeal approach to our state's fiscal problems."

Daniel said a producer would pay the tax only when he did not have a sale contract in advance of production. The gas producer, the governor said, "certainly could pass the tax on to his purchaser since he is not bound in advance as to the price to be charged for his gas."

Many other states, Daniel said, and pin-pointed New York, collected two or three times as much as Texas does on gas produced in this state.

"It would be a great mistake for your organization to fight the battle of the long-line gas companies and try to keep the state from receiving a fair tax on those who are making the greatest profit from these long-term dedicated gas reserve contracts," Daniel said.

Victim To Testify At Eidson Trial

DENVER (AP)—Government attorneys began presentation of their case today in the trial of a Texan accused of kidnaping and raping an 11-year-old girl last summer.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Robert Wham said he expects to call the victim, Susan Dudek of Durango, Colo., as a prosecution witness.

Seven men and five women were selected yesterday as jurors for the trial of Oma Roy Eidson, 42, a Tyler, Tex., oil field worker.

Eidson is accused of abducting Susan from near her home last July 8.

FBI agents accuse him of raping the girl, then releasing her near Aztec, N.M. Eidson pleaded innocent.

Massive Cold Wave Leaves Heavy Toll Of Dead In Wake

Associated Press Sports Writer

A massive cold wave knifed across the Eastern half of the country today in the wake of winter's most severe and destructive weather, which left a heavy toll of dead and homeless.

Storms abated, and floods in some areas appeared easing. But the punishing blows from the violent midwinter snow, sleet, and rain storms and floods left many sections staggering.

Conditions were in the disaster stage in some of the flood-stricken regions.

At least 88 persons were dead from floods and other effects of the storms in 14 states from New Mexico to the Eastern seaboard. Damage to property was in the millions of dollars. No estimate could be made of the human misery and suffering in the flooded sections of Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, Kentucky and Indiana.

Although the influx of cold weather appeared lessening the flood danger in some of the states, thousands remained homeless. The cold also added to the suffering. Downstate communities still were threatened by further damage and evacuations.

Thousands of workers were idled in Pennsylvania, Ohio and New York as steel mills, coal mines, and other industries shut down because of floods. Roads were inundated, curtailing travel. Hundreds of schools remained closed.

A state of emergency was declared in many sections of western Pennsylvania and some Ohio cities.

A dozen coal miners were either trapped or drowned when overflows from the swollen Susquehanna River poured into an anthracite mine near Pittston, in north-east Pennsylvania. Thirty-three other miners got out. Twenty-six of them were rescued after wandering through the tunnels in waist-deep water for seven hours, while seven others escaped by climbing an air shaft.

The threat of serious flooding in Pittsburgh passed, but the swollen Ohio River menaced downstream areas as it surged into Wheeling, W. Va., Steubenville and

Official Urges Airline Service

DALLAS (AP)—An official of the Civil Aeronautics Board yesterday urged Trans-Texas Airlines should be permitted to continue service to the city because it is a fast-growing rocket center.

Testimony in behalf of Marshall continues today.

The airline has asked the CAB for permission to drop service to 12 cities in Texas and Arkansas and retain six it now serves.

The Harrison County judge, Ernest F. Smith, told the CAB that the airline wants to keep Marshall on its route but cannot "in good faith" ask to do so because of the East Texas city's low "air-passenger" record.

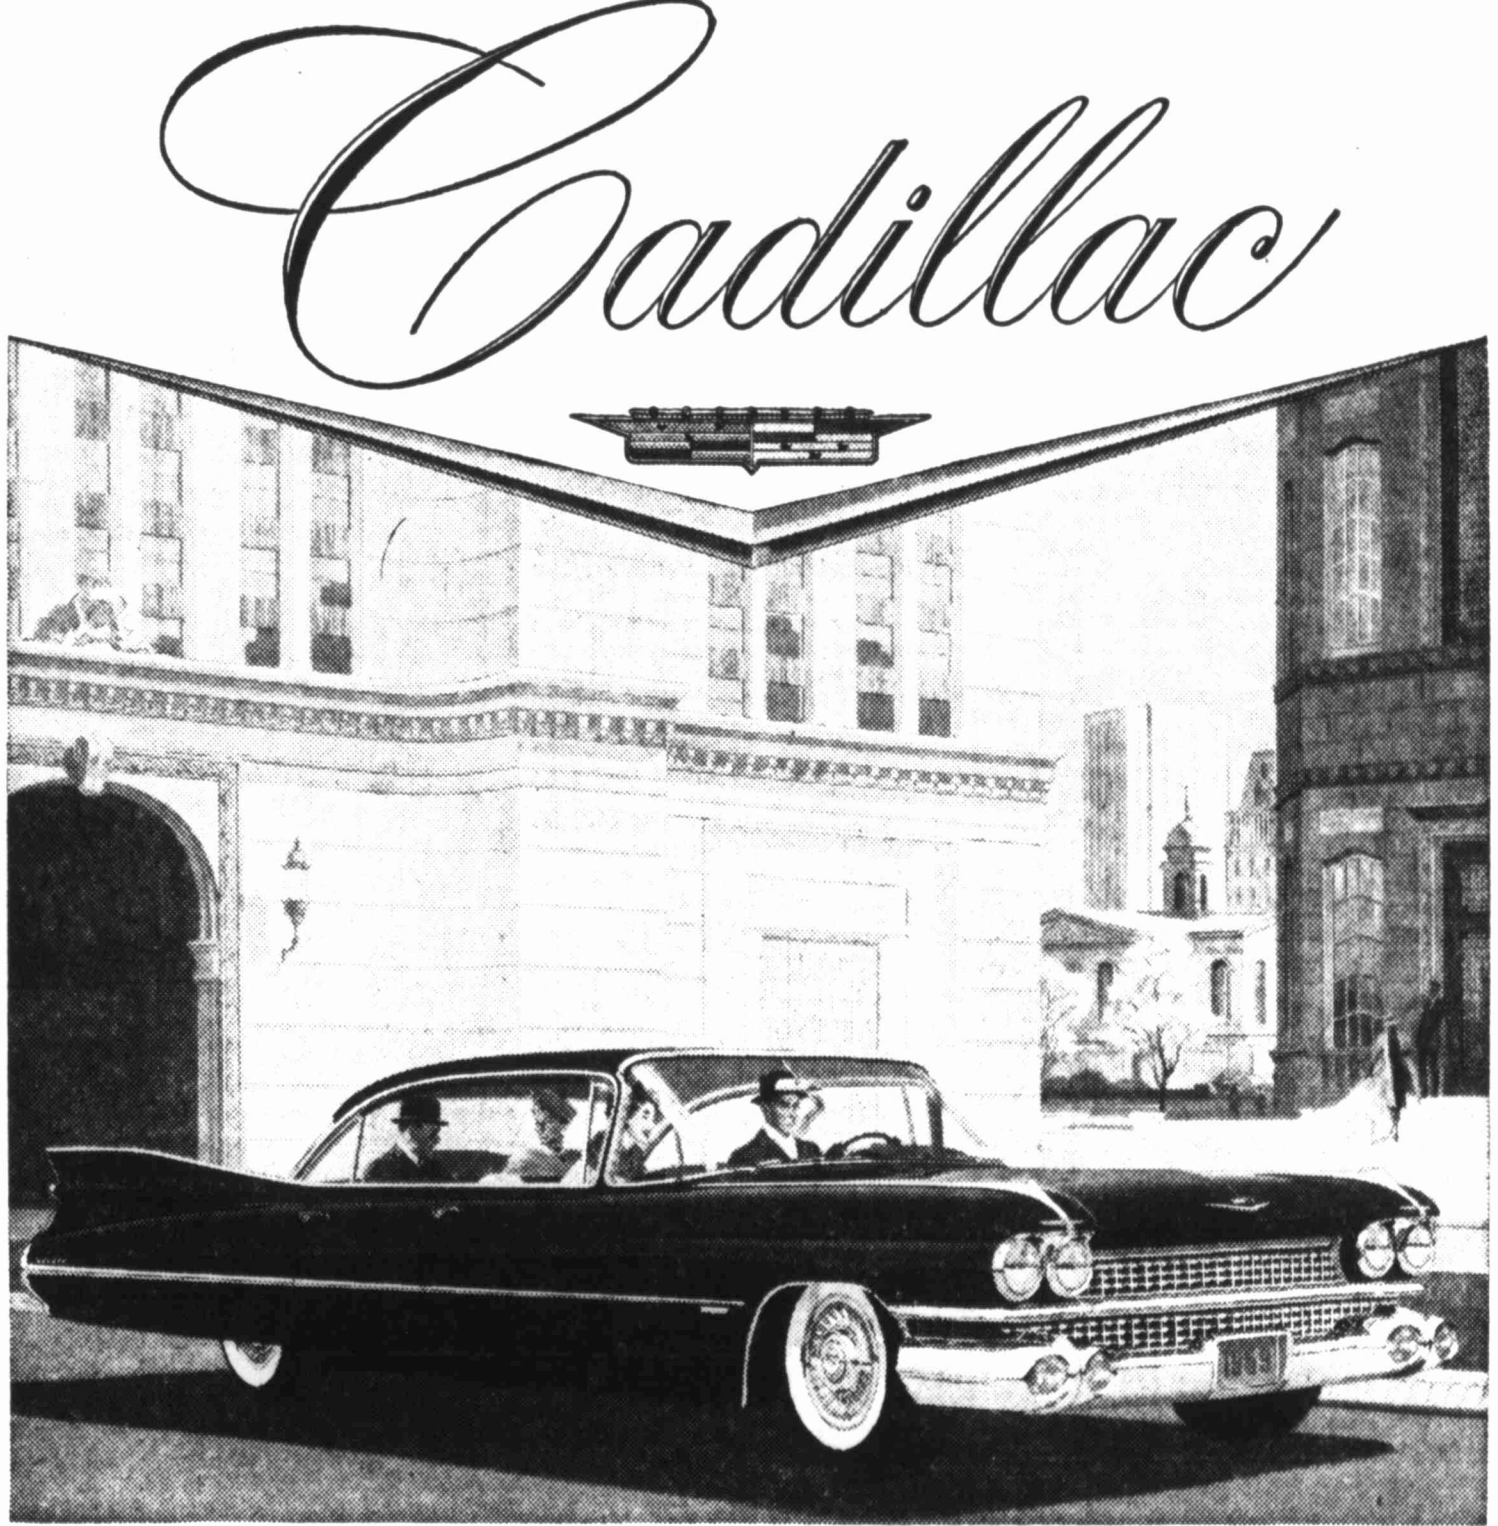

A booklet put in evidence said: "Thiokol Chemical Corp. employment is increasing rapidly at Marshall. Substantial expansion of the $50,000,000 plant is in progress. While a total of 1,350 workers are employed now, this number will increase to an estimated 3,000 within the near future."

Judge Smith said that Thiokol officials and scientists need Trans-Texas flights to make connections for East and West Coast missile test ranges.

Helena, Ark., and Galveston officials will testify after Marshall completes its case.

Officials from Fort Stockton completed presenting their case yesterday.

Without Precedent... Even Among Cadillacs!

It has long been understood that the one true way to judge a Cadillac is to measure it against another Cadillac! And yet, even this historic yardstick is not completely applicable for 1959. For this newest "car of cars" is without precedent—even among Cadillacs!

Standing regally at the curbside, in motion on the highway, or making its grand entrance at some distinguished event—its majestic new styling is always the subject of unstinted admiration.

Cadillac's new fabrics and leathers are breath-taking to behold . . . appointments are crafted with a jeweler's care . . . and its interiors are so spacious that entering and leaving are accomplished with wonderful ease and grace.

And the car is easy to handle, so obedient and responsive to the touch and so smooth and silken in action that even the longest journey is a pleasure to anticipate—and a joy to recall.

Without precedent, did we say?

Well, we'll have to confess that there are some ways in which this new Cadillac is very much like its distinguished predecessors. There is the great quality of its craftsmanship, for instance . . . its remarkable dependability . . . and its extraordinary economy of ownership.

But with these happy exceptions, Cadillac for 1959 is clearly in a class all of its own!

So whether you are looking forward to your first Cadillac—or your fifth—or even your tenth—you have a great discovery ahead of you.

We suggest you visit your dealer soon for a personal demonstration of this brilliant new Cadillac.

A Devotional For Today

Rest in the Lord, and wait patiently for him. (Psalms 37:7.)

PRAYER: Thy way, O Lord, is too high for us fully to understand. But we know Thou lovest and carest for us. Thou art ready to supply our needs. Give us more strength and patience, more faith and trust, in Thee. In Jesus' name. Amen.

In A Field Of His Own

The motion picture arts lost one of its giants in the passing of Cecil B. DeMille. He may not have been a creative genius in the sense of someone coming up with a new message or tricky techniques, but he had the gift of providing entertainment on a wholesome and grand scale.

Thus while the critics often carped at him, Cecil B. DeMille kept right on making millions. He relied heavily on the good story as the foundation for a good film, hence his employment of the great Bible accounts. His "King of Kings" has been showing every day somewhere in the world since he produced it about 30 years ago. His revival of an early silent film success, "The Ten Commandments," has broken box office records.

DeMille helped break the bonds of restriction to small settings and staged productions on the lavish and grand scale. What his vehicle may have lacked in dramatic impact or histrionic finesse, he compensated richly with breath-taking scope and kaleidoscopic movement.

Only once was he awarded an Oscar for any of his films, and some hinted that his award for "Greatest Show on Earth" was something of a consolation prize. Actually, there ought to have been an award for the DeMille category. He operated in a field and with a technique all his own. An individualist and a showman, he did things with magnitude and courage. It may be a long time before anyone comes along with similar fortitude and imagination, plus the ability to make the backers like it.

Castro And The Old Technique

Fidel Castro's rally of the Cuban people in support of his campaign of extermination of Batista followers is reminiscent of the huge gatherings Hitler and Mussolini used to muster in support of whatever enterprise they had in hand.

Juan Peron in Argentina was given to similar displays of his ability to sway the multitude. Such public spectacles go all the way back to Roman times, when the circus was trotted out to divert or amuse the people.

It is obvious that Castro feels the need to offset the outbreak of public sentiment in North America and in Central and South America arising from his wholesale executions of his enemies.

This resentment was not based on the mere fact that the rebel government was handing out just and deserved punishment to the strong-armed bullies of Batista's plunder-bond, but to the methods used—methods that smacked of the kangaroo court and the drum-headed court-martial.

It is doubtful if the huge public rally and the public trials of accused "war criminals" will serve to dissipate the widespread detestation of Castro's methods, but it will serve to rally the Cuban people behind his regime—and after all that was probably Castro's main objective in calling the rally and inviting the foreign press to attend the proceedings.

For up to this point Castro has shown nothing but contempt for the opinions of North, Central and South Americans, or of public opinion throughout the world—save and except Soviet Russia, which has applauded his course.

American public opinion in particular has been slow to lay a charge of Communist infiltration of Castro's ranks, though it was known that some of his followers were avowed Communists.

But such charges are beginning to proliferate, and some of Castro's anti-U. S. comments have done nothing to dissipate the impression that there may be Communist influences around him, and his ruthless, extra-legal handling of his enemies has given additional color to the suspicion that Castro is not entirely his own man.

Certainly there is no pro-Batista sentiment extant in this country, and there seems to be general sentiment that the Batista bullies who brutalized the Cuban people should get what they have coming to them; but there is a right and a wrong way, a civilized and uncivilized way of determining guilt and assessing punishment. Castro chose the immemorial methods of tyranny to destroy tyranny. To quote Lord Acton:

"Power corrupts, and absolute power corrupts absolutely."

What have the Cubans gained in the way of freedom and human rights if their new rulers turn out to be as ruthless as the old?

David Lawrence We Need To Examine Cuban Situation

WASHINGTON — Two wrongs do not make a single right. This moral principle seems to have been abandoned not only in Cuba but by some people inside this country who condone that savagery which has prompted the execution of dozens of persons without trial.

For, on the radio and in some press comments, the statement has been made that the executed Cubans deserved their fate because they committed crimes under Dictator Batista. This is the language of "lynch law" which has too often been used by the mob in an attempt to justify excesses.

Shall the United States government and the governments of Latin America, however, stand by and utter no word of protest about what has been happening in Cuba? Fidel Castro, the Cuban revolutionary chief, may say it's an "internal affair." Only a day or so ago in Washington Soviet Deputy Premier Mikoyan reproached the American government and the United Nations for "meddling in the internal affairs of Hungary."

Cuba wouldn't be free and independent today if the United States had considered what was happening in Cuba an "internal affair," instead of sending troops to the island in 1898 to help liberate its people from Spanish savagery and tyranny. It would not have been of any avail to Cuba if the United States had not in those days manifested its horror over what was happening in Cuba and followed it up with military intervention when an American warship was blown up in Havana harbor.

Can any government which does not give a fair trial to a person accused of crime be regarded as civilized? Can any such government be expected to respect the lives and property of foreign residents? Usually it is the foreigner who suffers when there's a wave of disrespect for law and morals on the part of the government in control.

Fidel Castro is a graduate of a Cuban law school and should know that summary execution of persons on the basis of revenge and without a chance for the accused to have a fair trial is a blot on the record of any government. He should know, too, that the United States, which stands throughout the world for the principles of decency and respect for human life, cannot remain silent.

Yet about all Castro could think of the other day was that the United States might intervene militarily. So he promptly threatened to massacre Americans.

Under such circumstances, the policy of the United States government must be one of caution. Already diplomatic recognition has been extended, though it was perhaps done too hastily. No new American ambassador, however, has as yet been sent to Havana, and there is still an opportunity for a more deliberate approach to the problem of appraising the government that has arisen in Cuba.

The Department of State could send a special envoy to explore the situation while the Senate takes its time about confirming the new ambassador, Philip Bonsal, now on duty at the head of our embassy in Bolivia. Experienced though Mr. Bonsal is, there would be an advantage in delaying his arrival in Havana until a thorough examination has been made by a special envoy of just what the situation is now and is likely to be in the future.

Citizens of the United States have big investments in Cuba, and it is important, of course, to know how these are going to be treated. But far more important is what the attitude of the government is to be toward human life. The cry that there must be revenge and reprisals does not in the long run benefit any 20th century government, least of all when it is only 90 miles away from this country and has been known throughout the world as the foster child of the United States since the day independence was achieved for Cuba through the blood sacrifices of American soldiers and sailors.

Hot tempers may explain away what has happened in the last few weeks in Cuba, but they do not excuse what has happened. The purpose may have been to intimidate the people of Cuba so that they will not venture to vote freely in any future election—if, indeed, such an election is going to be held.

The United States can always extend "de facto" recognition where a military commander is in control and there are no unsettled disputes between our government and the country where a revolution has occurred. Control is a factual matter. But "de jure" recognition—which means recognition of a lawfully constituted government—should await the expression by the people there in a free election. It will not serve the cause of American idealism to ignore the issue in Cuba while we call for free elections in East Germany and the captive states bordering on the Soviet empire.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has an opportunity to present a united front along with the State Department in inquiring into how the situation in Cuba is developing before the new American ambassador is sent to Havana.

Not All The News Is Bad

James Marlow Liberals Not Entirely Weak

WASHINGTON (AP)—That hardly little congressional band called liberals tried to throw their weight around, found out in a hurry they were underweight, and got smacked down four times in a row.

Yet the liberals' failures can't be dismissed as something absolute. They didn't lose entirely. They are an active and vocal force, even if very often they miss achieving their goals. They make their presence felt and have an influence on events.

But those post-November election predictions, when Democrats swamped Republicans, didn't come off. Then it was thought new blood and more liberal men would be a big pain to the conservative leaders of Congress.

These were the four liberal bumps on the head:

No. 1, first target for the bloc of Democrats and Republicans bearing the liberal label was the Senate rule which made it almost impossible to break a filibuster — the talkiest Southern Democrats traditionally relied on to stop a civil rights bill.

Under this rule debate couldn't be stopped unless a constitutional two-thirds of the Senate — 66 of the 98 members — voted to do it.

With Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) leading the charge, the liberals set out to change this rule.

Douglas proposed that a simple majority of the Senate — 50 of the 98 members — be enough to stop a filibuster. Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, leader of the Senate Democrats, called Douglas's hand.

He let the Douglas proposal come to a vote at a time when there was no filibuster to overcome — and the result was a staggering 67-28 against letting a majority of the Senate stop a filibuster.

Yet in the end the rule was changed just a little. Under Johnson's guidance the Senate changed the rule to require hereafter a simple two-thirds of those present at voting time.

No. 2. A group of Senate Republican liberals tried to get one of themselves chosen leader of Senate Republicans. They wanted to keep a conservative like Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois from getting the job.

All 34 of the Senate Republicans voted. The liberals were outnumbered. The majority picked Dirksen. But the liberals here, too, got a concession. One of their number, Sen. Thomas Kuchel of California, was named assistant leader.

No. 3. Once again the liberal Senate Republicans made a try. This was to keep the highly conservative Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona from being chosen chairman of the Senate Republican Campaign Committee.

Again they lost. A majority picked Goldwater who frankly says he is so conservative that "I'm even a stronger conservative than people think I am."

No. 4. On the House side a batch of liberal Democrats and Republicans made noises about something they wanted. They wanted changes made in or about the House Rules Committee whose Democratic and Republican membership is highly conservative.

This is one of the most powerful committees in Congress and can pretty well prevent legislation from coming out for a full House vote when the members don't like it.

But this minor liberal revolt was squelched under the persuasion of Sam Rayburn, speaker of the House and boss of the Democrats. He reportedly assured the liberals, however, that he'd personally see to it that no worthwhile legislation gets buried in the Rules Committee.

Hal Boyle Would You Trade?

NEW YORK (AP)—Curstone comments of a Pavement Plato: The one thing the rest of the world feels surest of about the average American is this: That material success is his god.

And the rest of the world couldn't be wrong.

Great material success is admired rather than worshipped by the average American—just as he admires achievement in any form, whether it be in the art of home run knocking or hula hooping. He even has a sneaking admiration for a successful bank robber—so long as the fellow doesn't spill blood.

But material success isn't the major goal of the average American. It is only one of his major daydreams. But he doesn't want it had enough to make his dream come true.

Take yourself, as an average American. Why aren't you a success?

You probably can't, with honesty, put the blame on fate, your boss or your wife. You can't even blame it on the fact you were born dumb and never outgrew it. The chances are you aren't a big success simply because it isn't worth while to you. There simply are other things more important to you.

In my work as a reporter I have interviewed perhaps 2,000 "successful" people over the last quarter century. Asked the reason for their success, about 99 out of 100 gave the same answer: "hard work." The hundredth person would credit it to "getting the breaks," or admit, off the cuff, he inherited success or married into it.

Many successful people I have met have lacked the charm, personality and even the talent I have found among other men so spectacularly unsuccessful they couldn't buy their way into the city dump. They aren't nearly as much fun to be with.

One difference between the successful man and the average man is obvious. The average man has credit plus something else—it is called money.

But there are other differences. The big one lies in how they use their energy. The successful man controls his energy and directs it to a single aim—the winning of success. Everything else is secondary. The average man isn't that single-minded.

Does the successful man himself regret the price he had to pay to get where he is? Often he does—in a very wistful human way. But there is a limit to his regret.

The average man sometimes likes to boast he wouldn't trade places with the most successful man he ever knew. The successful man returns the compliment. He isn't interested in changing places either.

No matter how stern the cost of success, the last thing any successful man I ever met was willing to give up was—success.

MR. BREGER

"We all agree you're not getting paid what you're worth, but there IS a minimum wage law, you know..."

Around The Rim Threat Doomed Already?

The greatest danger the world has yet faced may already be doomed—or it may not. This danger is Red China, not Soviet Russia.

A great political scientist once said that an unpopular social change may be accomplished only if it is instituted ruthlessly, backed up with overwhelming force and continued over a long period of time. A theory such as Marxism, which is so decidedly different from the most basic human institutions, may be enforced upon the masses only by application of this rule.

The Russian has for centuries been a family man; even the most ruthless Communist officials often have family lives that transcend that of the average American. When Marxism was first introduced into Russia, an attempt was made at disbarring the family and instituting free love, but those plans were wrecked on the rock of Russian stubbornness and familial loyalty.

Any ruthless man who has a loyal family will save at least 10 per cent of his humanity, and that 10 per cent is all it takes to ruin Communist evolution into the Millennium.

Since the death of Stalin, there are signs of more and more liberalization in Russia. The Russian Communists are not and never have been Communists (with a small "c"), and they are no longer even on the road to Marx's goal. The day may come yet when the cold war becomes less and less important, the Russian government more and more liberal. Geo-political experts long ago predicted that Russia and the U. S. after a period of rivalry, would cement a permanent alliance against China. These expects have chalked up a frightening list of correct predictions.

In China, the Communist leaders have few family ties, no religious background, and are more lacking in humane qualities than their Russian counterparts. If they succeed in their present plans, they will separate all family units permanently, sending men, women and children to separate communes, letting a free love system take care of reproduction of the race. The new generations, of Buddha or Confucius to confuse them, will be perfect robots and loyal Communists.

Yet, with Mao Tse Tung and his helpers backing off from their commune program, it may be too late for the Communist cause even in China. Once the rulers of a nation back up from that principle mentioned at the first of this article, there can be no reversing of the process. When even men like Stalin and Hitler are forced to back up on the matter of the family, you know there must be something to that principle.

However, don't think for a minute that a ruthless system cannot be imposed on human beings. Family living is not instinctive; it is deeply ingrained in most of us, but a study of certain primitive tribes dispels any illusion of a built-in family instinct. Nor is religion an instinct; the early religions recognized no deity, only a few sprites and spirits and the rather doltish inhabitants of Mt. Olympus. Not even mother love is instinctive in human beings; proof may be had in the large number of modern mothers who reject their own children.

We could all turn into an oversized ant hill yet.

—BOB SMITH

Inez Robb Fastest Cash Register In The West

Dick Powell, fastest cash register in the West—the old and the new West both, son—in town the other day conferring with the feather merchants on the war-bonnet situation.

A man who is president of a teevie company that produces five separate and distinct series of horse operas has to think of everything, including the market of eagle feathers. (That is, Mr. Powell says he can tell the differences between each of the five Western series, although out thisaway they tend to blur.)

But a feller riding herd on all those Indians, cowpokes and cayuses has to keep an eye on the future, too. Mr. Powell has a hunch, and a very cautious hunch at that, that next season there may be something else on the teevie screen other than cow hands and Old Paint.

"I wouldn't be surprised if the half-hour play or drama minus horses isn't about to make a comeback on teevie," ventured this Croesus of the cattle country. "I think we'll be getting back to good comedies, minus cross fire, too."

"Although," Mr. Powell hedged, "Westerns do seem to go on and on. And we've just sold one Western series to Japan. But as long as I've been in show business, and that's about 25 years, Westerns have comprised about 20 per cent of movie business and now of teevie time. The ratio seems to be pretty steady."

Mr. Powell, who was the Vic Damone-Pat Boone-Sal Mineo of his day, says unhappily that "teevie material is controlled by what the advertising man wants and will buy. And sometimes that isn't best for the medium. If educational teevie lifts advertising and audience sights above Westerns, ewe in the producing end of the business will move right up with 'em."

"Of course, what we're going to have in five to ten years—and I don't see how you can stop it—is pay teevie. When we'll find out via the box office what the public really wants," continued the o n e-time crooner, who now has enough gray in his hair and cash in the till to rate respect for his views on teevie, present and future.

Occasionally Mr. Powell sits tall in the saddle of one of the many Westerns he produces, but he doesn't sing there. Nowadays he just sings in the bathtub and behind the wheel of a car, and he can't bear to watch any of his old musicals on the Late Show.

"My voice!" he said in distaste. "It was way up there. Richard Crooks is my neighbor and he says I've got an octave on him!"

He denied that he and his two partners in Four Star Productions, David Niven and Charles Boyer, who have been in teevie production for seven years, are now richer than Fort Knox, as is rumored in the industry.

"We make out all right," he said, trying not to look like the late J. P. Morgan. "Originally, we started out to form a partnership with Roz Russell, Joel McCrea and Charles. But Roz and Joel backed out at the last minute."

"So Charles and David and I got together. Both David and I have started in some of our Westerns from time to time. But we never have been able to find a cowboy-and-Indians sequence where Charles's French accent would sound okay."

"But because of the French reputation with a v, we had the sense to make Charles vice-president in charge of finances. And although he honestly doesn't bite each penny, we've never had any cause for regret."

J. A. Livingston Our Domestic Cold War Foe: Inflation

WASHINGTON — One theme threads portentously through President Eisenhower's Budget Message and Economic Report: Inflation. It's the domestic cold war.

Here is the United States in the most prosperous year in its history. According to Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson, the gross national product will exceed $470,000,000,000, an 8 per cent gain over 1958. We ought to have a federal surplus; yet, we're lucky if we balance the budget.

Fiscal policy ought to brake inflation; yet, we're lucky if it's neutral, if it's not a positive propulsion toward higher prices. So, the President has asked Congress to add a clause to the Employment Act of 1946 specifying that we want "price stability" along with high employment and a rising standard of living.

The proposed amendment memorializes the failure of both Democratic and Republican administrations to balance budgets in times of prosperity.

For me, the proposed amendment merely underlines what is already in the law. Section 2 of the Employment Act says: "The Congress hereby declares that it is the continuing policy and responsibility of the Federal government to use all practicable means . . . to foster and promote free competitive enterprise and the general welfare . . . and to promote maximum employment, production, and purchasing power."

"Purchasing power" is specific—meaning the amount of goods that can be bought with a given amount of money. When prices rise, purchasing power automatically shrinks unless more money—income—is pumped out to consumers. If prices rise faster than income, as they have been in the postwar years, the dollar declines in purchasing power. You have inflation.

The first annual report in 1946 of the Council of Economic Advisers, a philosophical document, knitted together the dissenting views of Edwin G. Nourse, chairman, Leon H. Keyserling and John D. Clark into an admission of the significance of price adjustments in the economy:

"Jobs and markets depend on very specific wage-price-cost relationships. If labor is pricing itself out of jobs, or manufacturers and farmers are pricing themselves out of a market, or capital is pricing itself out of investment, the basic remedy is the correction of these specific situations, not the injection of some aggregate purchasing power in a dose measured in size to offset an estimated future total of unemployment." In other words, not inflation.

We don't need a law. We need understanding. If Congress, after perfunctory hearings and debate, passes the amendment, nothing will be achieved. But if the amendment incites a deep, passionate debate on inflation—if it focuses nationwide attention on the way men get carried away by their own fancied speculative acumen into a boom-and-bust economic sequence—it will be useful.

The proposal is fraught with danger. "Price stability" may be confused with "price control." The question is bound to come up in debate: If price stability is so important, why rely on the free market? Why not impose price ceilings and be done with it?

In our system, some prices are bound to go up, some down. Some wages ought to go up, and some, perhaps, down. When technological advances speed production, prices can be lowered and wages increased with benefit to workers and consumers. But there's a limit to wages and costs and prices going up and up and up. This is a great and powerful economy, but strains do develop; 1929 is an example; 1937 is another.

The President deems this persistent problem so grave that he is establishing a Cabinet Committee on Price Stability for Economic Growth to marshal all government forces against inflation. At first the Cabinet was going to call it the Committee for Price Stability and Economic Growth. But this name was altered. People might think that "stability" and "growth" were mutually exclusive and competitive. The President wanted to emphasize that price stability was a condition of economic growth, not an alternative to it.

The sad part about the proposed amendment is that the President feels duty-bound to propose it.

Select Clothes For Year-Round

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—If you are fond of name-dropping, designer Adele Simpson suggests that you drop such names as "holiday," "resort," "spring" and "fall" from your fashion vocabulary and choose your clothes for year-round wear.

To prove it can be done, the small but mighty Adele, now generally considered America's best-known designer, shows a collection of round-the-clock the round-the-calendar fashions which will be sold stores this spring, but which will be worn in many climates.

Outstanding in the group are costumes consisting of loose, fully-lined coats, often reversible and lined to match a slim silk dress. This costume is shown in both day and evening versions. But the outfit that is worn for daytime converts to the cocktail hour simply by removing or reversing the coat.

Like most of the New York collections, previewing their spring collections this week for the benefit of the national fashion press, Mrs. Simpson restores the natural waistline in most of her designs, and in the others provides a "do-it-yourself" belt which may be adjusted high, low or in the middle, according to the whim of the wearer. Wherever the belt may be placed, however, the clothes all are shaped to conform with the natural lines of the figure.

Simpson suits for spring usually have brief jackets and slender skirts rounded at the hipline and tapered at the hemline.

An innovation in the spring line-up is the redingote dress, consisting of an unlined coat, usually of printed silk or pique, worn over a slender, sleeveless dress which can be worn alone for gala festive occasions.

Brownies, Scouts Meet Together

In a joint meeting Thursday afternoon at Airport School, Brownie Troop 210 and Girl Scout Troop 207 worked on lapel pins, following separate business meetings.

The Brownies, preparing for the fly-up ceremony in which they will become scouts, studied the tenderfoot requirements, which include the signs, handshake and salute of Girl Scouts.

Their next activity will be to write a theme on the history of the organization.

Troop 207 decided to start work on an art badge at their next meeting, and the girls will engage in some type of painting. During the joint meeting, the Scouts and Brownies used walnut shells and felt to fashion the lapel pins.

Following a period of games, refreshments were served by Barbara Showers, and dismissal was with the friendship circle.

Proposed Master Plan Explained To Altrusans

An explanation of the master plan, being discussed for Big Spring, was given for members of the Altrusa Club at the regular luncheon Thursday at Wesley Methodist Church.

Mrs. Norman Read introduced the speaker, Mayor G. W. Dabney, who told of the basis of long range planning for population growth and the development of utilities to care for that increase.

Improved service for the city, the schools and the county will be incorporated into the plan, with provisions made for playgrounds and locations for churches and schools, the mayor told the group.

The growth of Big Spring has been slower than that of some of the neighboring towns for several reasons, the speaker said — one of which was the lack of space available for new buildings.

A round table discussion was held, with members asking questions and making suggestions for the improvement of the city.

It was announced that the club's scholarship to Howard County Junior College will be awarded to Natalie Moore, daughter of Mrs. Gladys Moore, 405 State.

Guests present included Mrs. Dabney, Edith Gay and Mrs. Albert Fisher of St. Louis, Mo.

Jesus Reveals His Authority

CHRIST'S ACTS, JUDGMENTS AND WORDS MAKE HIS ENEMIES DEMAND THE SOURCE OF HIS POWER AND INFLUENCE

Scripture—Matthew 21.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

THIS LESSON might be introduced to the younger children, suggests Dr. Wilbur M. Smith, by talking to the children of the authorities they know—the parents in their homes and their teachers. The teacher has authority in accepting or rejecting excuses for absence, in the child's department during class hours, in study habits during school hours, etc. After the child leaves the school grounds, the teacher has no authority over the pupil.

The older classes, Dr. Wilbur M. Smith suggests, might have the lesson introduced in a similar manner except that their question "should involve those areas in which the government may or may not exercise authority." When an ordinary motorist is driving along a road, another has no right to stop the first and ask to see his driver's license. A police officer, however, does have that authority. This introduction could lead to interesting discussions of authority in the students' lives.

Jesus and His disciples were on their way to Jerusalem on the threshold of Holy Week, although Christ knew that He would be put to death there.

On their way they came to a village of Bethpage (a place that is not mentioned in any other place in the Bible, Dr. Wilbur M. Smith tells us). Jesus sent two of His apostles to the village, telling them that they would find "an ass tied, and a colt with her loose them and bring them unto Me. And if any man say ought unto you, ye shall say, The Lord hath need of them, and straightway he will send them."—Matthew 21:1-3.

"All this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying, 'Tell ye the daughter of Zion, Behold, thy King cometh unto thee, meek, and sitting upon an ass, and a colt the foal of an ass.'"—Matthew 21:4-5.

It was done as Jesus commanded; the two brought the ass and colt "and put on them their clothes, and they set Him thereon. And a very great multitude spread their garments in the way; and others cut down branches from the trees, and strawed them in the way. And the multitudes that went before, and that followed, cried, saying, 'Blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord; Hosanna in the highest.' And when He was come into Jerusalem, all the city was moved, saying, 'Who is this? And the multitude said, 'This is Jesus the prophet of Nazareth of Galilee.'"—Matthew 21:7-11.

This was doubtless the same multitude that cried "crucify Him" the following week.

So Christ rode in triumph into Jerusalem, where He went to the temple and cast out the merchants and overthrew the tables of the money changers. He said to them, "It is written, My house shall be called the house of prayer; and ye have made it a den of thieves."—Matthew 21:13.

"The vast throng of foreign pilgrims, and the necessity laid on them of changing their foreign coinage with its heathen symbols for the half-shekel of the sanctuary, would make the trade of these men at this time a very thriving one; their percentage was one-twelfth of each shekel," H. C. H. Lenak writes, as quoted by Dr. Wilbur M. Smith.

When Christ was in the temple, the chief priests and elders of the people came to Him, asking, "By what authority dost Thou these things?" and He gave Thee this authority?" Jesus countered with a question for them: "The baptism of John, whence was it? From heaven, or of men?" They reasoned among themselves, saying, "If we shall say, From heaven; He will say unto us, Why did ye not then believe him? But if we shall say, Of men; we fear the people; for all hold John as a prophet."

And they answered Jesus, and said, "We cannot tell. And He said unto them, neither tell I you by what authority I do these things."—Matthew 21:23-27.

Who's authority but that of God, His Father, would give Christ the power to perform His miracles of healing and give us His message, which is as potent today as it was 1,900 years ago?

A DOWNTOWN CHURCH PREACHING CHRIST

THE SECRET PLACE

By CLYDE NICHOLS

When Men Look Up

"To as many as received Him to them gave He power to become sons of God." That is what it means to be a Christian. With the help of the living Christ you are enabled to do what you could never do in your own strength.

When E. Stanley Jones went to India as a missionary, the people asked,

"What does Christianity have to offer which we do not already have?"

Practically all of Jesus' teachings were to be found, in one form or another, in Indian writings.

At first Dr. Jones had no answer, but as he lived among them he discovered the thing which makes the difference. The answer became his central message to the people of India: "Christianity offers you Christ."

Other religions tell men HOW to live as they should; Christianity gives men the POWER to live as they should. As we look up to Him in faith we find that power.

In his memoirs a retired seaman tells how on his first voyage as a boy, he was ordered by the first mate to climb up to the crow's nest, high above the mast of the ship. The command struck terror to his heart but he had to obey.

He began to climb and all went well until almost to the top he paused to rest and looked back down below. The deck looked like a tiny spot with the billows rolling high around it. Desperately he clung to the ladder. His head began to spin crazily and blackness crowded in.

Then, from far below, he heard a voice, the voice of his captain calling, "Look up, my son! Look up!"

With heroic effort he raised his eyes from the whirling waters below and steadied them on vast blue sky above. Soon all was well again. The crow's nest was reached, and then he went back down to the deck below.

How often I, upon the sea of life, look down on waves dashed high against my feeble craft. My world goes black and dizzily spins around; I lose my grip and all my hope is gone.

And just when all seems lost, I hear a voice—the voice of My Captain calling to me above the storm: "Look up, my son! Look up!"

Ancient Prophecy Fulfilled In Alaska

ANAKTUVUK, Alaska (AP)—A small log church, deep in a treeless Arctic waste, stands as a symbol of a new-found faith in God, and of the curious fulfillment of an ancient prophecy.

From earliest times, the tale was passed down through generations of the Nunamut, or inland Eskimos, that a Deliverer would come to them and he would be Ataanik, or Lord.

So when the Rev. William C. Wartes, a Presbyterian missionary, landed his single-engine float plane on the lake at Anaktuvuk Pass and introduced himself, the villagers nodded knowingly.

"What took you so long?" they asked.

The Nunamuts also had been told Ataanik would come when the tundra was covered with Katuk, the Eskimo word for containers. This part of the prophecy came true also.

The U.S. Navy had explored for oil in the Brooks Range. Vast expanses of tundra were dotted with 50-gallon oil drums left behind when the Navy abandoned its search for oil.

The Rev. Mr. Wartes first visited Anaktuvuk, about 300 miles southeast of Point Barrow, in 1952. On frequent flying trips he taught the villagers the lessons of the Bible. In the summer he held services outdoors; in the winter, in sod huts.

It was his dream to build a log church in the isolated little village 2,300 feet up in a saddle of the Brooks Range along the migration route of the caribou.

But the difficulties seemed almost insurmountable. The timberline was 25 miles down the John River on the south slope of the Brooks Range. Suitable stands of spruce were another 10 or 15 miles beyond.

Men were few and the logs could only be transported by dog sled when the river was frozen. Tools and equipment had to be flown in, piece by piece, from Barrow.

The villagers, however, were thrilled by the thought of having a church building of their own. Last spring, 14 villagers men pledged their strength and dog teams to haul the 275 logs needed for the chapel. The Rev. Mr. Wartes brought in carpentry tools and a chain saw.

Then began the laborious chore of felling trees, cutting the logs to size and packing them by dog-

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	I Corinthians	13	11-13
Monday	II Timothy	3	15
Tuesday	Psalms	144	9-15
Wednesday	Psalms	92	1-15
Thursday	Ecclesiastes	7	8
Friday	I Thessalonians	5	14-15
Saturday	Hebrews	12	1-2

Would you like to be a child forever? Would you like to go sledding each time it snowed without a thought of shoveling the front walk or checking the firewood supply?

If at first you say yes, think again. Childhood is wonderful, but there are few of us who would want to be confined to it forever. Our natural urge toward growth is a strong one. We instinctively want to progress mentally, physically, and spiritually.

Nature will take care of a large part of the mental and physical part of our growth. But for our spiritual development, we must look toward the Church.

It is never too late to start learning—and you will find the Church the most patient of teachers. Start attending services this Sunday.

Germ War Tests Bring Dire Results

By ROGER GREENE
WASHINGTON (AP)—An enemy submarine, masked by fog or darkness a few miles offshore, could blanket almost any American coastal city with deadly germs spreading over thousands of square miles.

Fantastic? It already has been done—by U.S. Navy ships using harmless materials.

Dr. LeRoy D. Fothergill, scientific adviser at the Army's Germ Warfare Research Center at Ft. Detrick, Md., recently gave the American Medical Assn. an inkling of what might happen.

Fothergill said a U.S. Navy craft, traveling two miles offshore in moderate fog, sent up a spray of biological aerosol containing a nonpoisonous organism. The mock attack lasted 29 minutes, using 130 gallons of spray. The germs were detected as far as 23 miles away and covered 100 square miles.

Later, a ship cruising 10 miles offshore disseminated 450 rounds of an inert substance along a 156-mile course. The wind-blown substance was detected 450 miles inland. It blanketed a region covering 34,000 square miles.

What is being done to cope with the possibility of such an enemy attack, using live germs or deadly chemical gas? The Defense Department is wary about answering such questions.

The Army announced several years ago it had developed an aerosoloscope to give instant warning of a germ warfare attack. The device can count germs, dust and moisture particles as small as a micron—one forty-millionth of an inch—1,000 times faster than a microscope.

The Army Chemical Corps has developed an infrared device—known as "Lopair" (long-path infrared)—which flashes a warning light and sounds a horn upon detecting even a tiny amount of colorless, invisible contamination in the air. It has a range of a quarter mile.

This question was submitted to the Pentagon: "How many automatic nerve-gas detecting devices are now in use? Where?"

After 25 days of deliberation, the Pentagon came up with this answer: "Many of these automatic devices are in use throughout the Department of Defense. The exact number and locations of the devices is classified (secret)."

Less hidebound by secrecy, the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization says that by 1967 it expects to have 1 1/2 million monitors trained to defend against chemical, biological and radiological warfare.

Leo A. Hoegh, OCDM chief, says the agency this year has installed radiation detection kits—modified geiger counters—in 15,000 high schools and 900 weather stations and airports from coast to coast.

In addition, 3,471 Public Health Service employees and 3,045 others have been trained to guard against animal and crop contamination.

So far, so good, but—
The OCDM admits that if an enemy should strike today with germ or chemical warfare, the American public would be unable to buy or obtain either gas masks or antigas protective clothing.

The agency has stockpiled 5 1/2 million doses of atropine, with the kits costing $1.55 for a four-dose package including hypodermic needle.

Maj. Gen. William M. Cready (ret.), former Army Chemical Corps chief told a House subcommittee:

"If you get there fast enough, you can save the man's life (with atropine) if he doesn't have too much of a massive overdose. It is a matter of getting there awfully fast, though."

How fast?
"Thirty seconds," said Cready.

All animals in the sale will have individual health and vaccination certificates. Auctioneer for the sale is Kenneth Bozeman.

Wrong Date Given For Opening Of New Fina Station

Formal opening of the Eggleston Fina Service will be observed Jan. 30-31, not today and tomorrow as reported in yesterday's Herald.

The erroneous dates were listed as a result of a misunderstanding in The Herald editorial department.

The new service station is located at 1401 Gregg and is the first American Petrofina outlet here. Already in operation, it is owned by Bill Eggleston and managed by Sovoy Kay.

AF Veterans May Set Flight Record

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—If they're still flying at 4:06 p.m. today, two Air Force veterans will break a world endurance record.

They took off from McCarran Field here Dec. 4. Twice a day they fly to Blythe, Calif., to refuel from a speeding truck.

This program, part of the total YMCA contribution, is for fads and the 6-7-8-year old boys.

Other elements of the young boy program of the YMCA are the Gra-Y program, which is for fads in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades, and the Indian Day Camp.

The Gra-Y seeks to promote boys to grow strong in body, mind and spirit and to live Christian lives. Clubs meet weekly with volunteer leaders, and athletic games and contests figure prominently in activities.

At the present time 267 boys are enrolled in this program.

Each summer the YMCA conducts two sessions of the Indian Day Camp for boys of elementary school age. Youngsters leave the Y building at 8 a.m. and return at 6 p.m., following a full day of camping, swimming, hiking, archery, crafts, tales of Indian lore and meditation. Usually each camp has its maximum of 40 boys.

TEXAS BEGINS TO WARM UP

By The Associated Press
A slow warming trend continued over Texas Friday and an extended forecast said the warm-up would continue at least five days with little or no precipitation.

The extended forecast said temperatures near or slightly above normal were in prospect in East Texas and Central Texas with above-normal readings expected in West Texas.

Meanwhile, fair cool weather prevailed over most of the state Friday with partly cloudy to mostly skies in the area around Brownsville and over the El Paso-Wichita-Midland section.

Temperatures generally were higher than 24 hours earlier with some 20 degree above readings of Thursday morning. The range was from 17 at Amarillo to 45 at Brownsville.

Below freezing levels were reported at 5 a.m. at Beaumont, Junction, San Angelo, Mineral Wells, Wichita Falls, Midland, and Wink and north of those points.

Other 5 a.m. temperatures included Houston 31, Port Arthur 39, Corpus Christi 41, Alice 37, Laredo 39, Abilene 38, El Paso 37, and Cotulla 33.

Thursday's maximums ranged from Sherman's 32 to Presidio's 64. The only reported moisture Thursday was .01 of an inch at Beaumont and Texarkana. None was expected Friday or Saturday.

Again, the Lower Rio Grande Valley escaped damage from another cold snap that engulfed the state.

Four Accidents Are Reported Thursday

Two of the four accidents occurring Thursday were on Gregg St.

At 2nd and Gregg, Bismarck Schaefer, Rt. 2, and Pete Coker of Knott were in collision. Later, at NW 3rd and Gregg, cars driven by Finis Bugg, 700 W. 16th, and Aticus Pruitt, 501 W. 8th, were in an accident.

Ned Smith, Colorado City, was operator of a vehicle which jumped a curb at Malone & Hogan Hospital and hit a fire plug Thursday.

In the 300 block of Hardin, cars driven by Mathias Pederson, 502 Benton and Rachel Eckler, 621 State, were in an accident.

Fire Razes Dorm At Mississippi U.

STATE COLLEGE, Miss. (AP)—Fire-believed caused by defective wiring razed through the main men's dormitory at Mississippi University early today, leaving nothing but a mass of rubble of the 78-year-old brick and wood structure.

About 1,000 students lived in the four-section building. Officials said they believed all escaped. The flames broke out about 2:45 a.m. and many of the students were still up studying for final examinations. One student suffered burns on the hands.

Sadie Hawkins Dance Slated At BSHS Tonight

The annual Sadie Hawkins Dance for Big Spring high school students will be held tonight in the school cafeteria, starting right after the basketball game.

The event is one of a series sponsored by the student council and for which plans were completed earlier in the week.

Other activities will include the Faculty Supper March 31, the Follies of '59 Feb. 19-20, Ranch Days March 18-20, and the spring semi-formal April 18.

Decision Due Thursday On Planning Firm

A decision will probably be reached next Thursday on selecting a firm to make a master planning survey of Big Spring, it has been announced.

Dr. Lee O. Rogers, chairman of a special committee to find a master planner to conduct the survey, announced that the next meeting of the group will be held next Thursday at 5 p.m. The committee, which includes representatives of the city, county, school and HCJC boards and the Chamber of Commerce, has already interviewed seven firms.

The proposals submitted by the seven are being kept unopened until the committee meets to make its decision, Dr. Rogers said.

Wildcat Location In Southern Martin County Is Announced

A new wildcat in the southern part of Martin County and a site in the North Vincent (Canyon) field of Howard County were announced today.

The new prospect in Martin is L. R. French No. 1 E. B. Dickenson and is about 10 miles northwest of Stanton. It will seek Devonian production to 12,500 feet.

In a Howard, Woodson Oil Co. staked the No. 6 Pauline in the field about 22 miles northeast of Big Spring. Drilling depth is 7,700 feet.

The Ashmun & Hilliard No. 1 Miller has taken logs and is ready to perforate and test the Strawn section; the Ellenburger has been found barren. The wildcat is C NE NE 1/4, 313-97, H&TC Survey.

Roden No. 1 McDowell, a wildcat 15 miles southeast of Gail, penetrated to 5,540 feet in lime. It is 1,100 from south and 467 from east lines, 83-25, H&TC Survey.

Operator waited on orders concerning where to perforate in the Strawn at the Hill & Meeker No. 1-366 Miller, 12 miles east of Gail. It is bottomed at 8,417 feet in barren Ellenburger, but the Strawn had good oil shows. The site is C SW SW SW, 366-97, H&TC Survey.

The Woodson No. 6 Pauline is located 660 from north and 330 from east lines, 27-20, Lavaca Navigation Survey, and 22 miles northeast of Big Spring on the North Vincent field. Drilling depth is 7,700 feet.

In the Howard-Glasscock field, Conoco No. 25 Overton pumped 214 barrels of 30-degree oil and 12 per cent water on 24-hour final test after being acidized with 1,000 gallons. It is 1,860 from south and 330 from east lines, 5-32-28, T&P Survey. Total depth is 5,232 feet, with production reached at 2,187 feet. Perforations extend from 2,187-215 feet.

The French No. 1 Dickenson is a 12,500-foot Devonian wildcat 1,980 feet from north and 660 from east lines, 12-37-1n, T&P Survey, and about 10 miles northwest of Stanton.

Operator was taking a drillstem test today at the Cities Service No. 1 Glass, the test being in the Pennsylvania from 10,550-920 feet. The wildcat is C SE SE, 29-38-1n, T&P Survey, and 10 miles east of Midland.

Plymouth No. 1 Flynt, 13 miles west of Lenorah, is bottomed at 12,327 feet in the Devonian and still trying to regain lost circulation. The formation at that depth is too soft to obtain samples. The wildcat is 660 from north and west lines, Labor 9, League 320, Garza CSL Survey.

ICBM Cone Flight Fails

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Air Force fired another huge rocket carrying an ICBM cone of the future early today, but the powerful missile flamed out shortly after launching.

The attempt to propel the 90-foot Thor-Able rocket 4,400 miles failed when the second stage fizzled out shortly after launching.

The missile was equipped with a miniature version of the Titan intercontinental range Ballistic Missile guidance system to attain greater accuracy over the long range ocean flight.

The "brains" of the rocket never got a chance to do the job, however, when the second stage failed to ignite. The cause of the trouble was not known immediately.

This was the fourth attempt to shoot an advanced, highly instrumented cone close to intercontinental range and retrieve it from the ocean depths for study. None has been recovered.

The first three ventures included mouse passengers but, as far as it was known, there were no live riders this time.

Indian Guide Program Set For Tonight At YMCA

The Little Braves make their contribution to observance of National Indian Week this evening.

At 7 p.m. they will join with their dads, the Bald Eagles (Fred Kasch). Besides policies, it shapes inter-tribal contests and events and encourages expansion.

To be inducted this evening are the Chippawa, Crow, Sioux, Cherokee and Blackhawk tribes. There will be Indian dancing, ceremonies, games and exhibits.

Each summer the YMCA conducts two sessions of the Indian Day Camp for boys of elementary school age. Youngsters leave the Y building at 8 a.m. and return at 6 p.m., following a full day of camping, swimming, hiking, archery, crafts, tales of Indian lore and meditation. STEERS AND ABILENE CLASH HERE TONIGHT

Big Spring hosts Abilene at 8 o'clock this evening in a fight to see who owns the District 2-AAAA basketball cellar for the moment.

Each team has lost two games in conference play. Big Spring was felled by Midland and San Angelo while Abilene yielded to Odessa and Midland.

The Steers gave Midland all they could handle before blowing a three-point verdict in overtime, 61-58. Last Tuesday night, the Longhorns experienced a cold third quarter and lost a nine-point decision to San Angelo.

The Steers carry a 16-8 won-loss record onto the court this evening. Abilene has won 12 of 18 starts.

Bill Thompson, who has been the Steers' hottest point-getter this fall, will start for Big Spring, along with Preston Hollis, Zay LeFevre, Benny McCrary and Joe Bob Clendinning.

The Longhorns are apt to stick to the visitors like fly-paper tonight. They used the full court press to good advantage against Plainview the other night.

Coach Vernon Harton is worried about the scoring potential of tall Jim Bray, Abilene's leading threat. Bray scored 30 points against Midland the other night, even though the Eagles got beat by eight points.

Larry McElroy is another Abilene standout.

Nat Gleaton, the Abilene coach, has indicated he will start Bray at center, along with McElroy and either Rick Harvey or Cleve Powell at forwards and Clayton Brooks and Rick Thompson in the back courts.

Charlie Harrison, one of the Abilene guards, will not accompany the team here. He suffered a strained ankle in practice Wednesday.

Bray has now scored a total of 321 points this season while McElroy has 199 and Rick Thompson 155.

Charles Scarborough, R. B. Williamson, Leslie Townsend, Walter King, Jackie Barnett and Larry Poyner are other Eagles who might see action here tonight.

B teams from the two schools will meet in a 6:15 p.m. engagement.

Harney, Ferree Lead Tourney

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Longhitting Paul Harney and Jim Ferree, a pair of former college golf stars, led the way into the second round of the $15,000 Thunderbird Invitational Tournament today.

Harney, 29, who on occasion can outdrive the prodigious George Bayer, and Ferree, 27, who once won the intercollegiate driving title while attending the University of North Carolina, went into the second 18 holes tied at 66, five strokes under par.

The setting is the exclusive Thunderbird Country Club with par 36-45-71 for its 6,800 yards.

Of the 41 invited professionals competing, 28 shot the first round under par.

Today's round promised further close competition. Nine players were within one stroke of the leaders, four just two strokes off the pace, and eight were deadlocked in the 69 bracket.

Johansson To Arrive In New York Today

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Sweden's Ingemar Johansson was due here from Sweden Friday to wrap up negotiations for a title fight with World Heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson.

The handsome, undefeated European titleholder was confident on two counts—he will get the contract and then the crown in the June fight.

"I'm sure I will win otherwise I would never sign my name on the paper," he said. "If you don't believe in yourself, you cannot be a boxer."

He commented on boarding a U.S.-bound plane at Goeborg.

Promoter Bill Rosenzohn shared Johansson's optimism that the fight will be made — for New York, Los Angeles, or Colorado Springs—despite some puzzling statements by Patterson's manager, Gus D'Amato.

"With Johansson coming on the scene, now we can get busy and expedite the whole thing. I'm hopeful we can get contracts signed early next week," said Rosenzohn.

The New Yorker was the promoter of the Patterson-Roy Harris title fight in Los Angeles last Aug. 12.

It was learned from a good source that the fight is all set. The fight was disclosed after D'Amato had said he still was negotiating with other contenders.

D'Amato blasted the International Boxing Club again and accused it of trying to prevent a Patterson-Johansson fight.

Asked point-blank whether there would be a Patterson-Johansson fight, D'Amato replied: "The situation is still in the air."

manager was concerned that Johansson's demands would be more than he would want to meet.

Johansson will be the guest of honor at a luncheon in a midtown restaurant. After that there will be some huddles which should clear up some of the mystery.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Ben Martin, the Air Force Academy football coach, struck a blow for those members who don't believe in having their teams scrimmage during the season.

The Falcons, who tied TCU in the Cotton Bowl game at Dallas, engaged in their last scrimmage two weeks before the regular season began. They went through the season undefeated.

University of Texas athletic teams are often referred to as Teasippers. One could refer to the University of Oklahoma people as Tea Leaf Readers, however. They asked the Orange Bowl promoters not to make their contract binding, after that last Miami classic with Syracuse.

The Sooners were miffed at being asked to stay within the confines of their sideline dugouts. Seems the patrons in the $7.50 seats came to watch and couldn't see what was going on down in the battle pits because of the players that lined the sideline like a hedge.

The OU people, however, might have been trying to read the future. They know full well that Oklahoma will come in for a lot of consideration as a Rose Bowl team, if and when the pact with the Big Ten ever ends, as it may soon do. And coaches, players and fans of the Norman school would like a little variety in their travels.

The very social Peruvian tennis club which snubbed Alex Olmedo, because he was the son of a playing professional, voted him a lifetime membership following the last Davis Cup matches.

Professional wrestling has always been suspect in the eyes of the people, but there are over 1,100 boxers barraged from fighting in Texas rings, compared to only 47 grapplers on the black list.

According to Sports Illustrated magazine, Texan Billy Maxwell's golf earnings in 1958 amounted to $24,370. Only 11 linksters on the tournament trail earned more during the 12 months' period.

The ex-Big Springer apparently is going to earn more this year than he ever did before. He started off by claiming a $2,300 purse in the Crosby Open and last week copped an additional $1,025 in the Crosby Open.

Too, Billy gets appearance money in each sanctioned tournament in which he appears (something in excess of $100 a tournament) for being one of the Top Ten Tournament players.

Odessa has an arrangement with Maxwell whereby a group of Country Club members pays Billy's expenses in event he fails to break even on his tournament tours but, as far as I know, they've never been out a dime on him.

The Chicago Cardinals of the National Football League reportedly sold only $254,800 worth of tickets for five home games in 1958, which means they finished in the red to the tune of several thousand dollars.

Jim Bob Thomas, the Fort Worth sprinter who got reams of publicity when he pulled at TCU last fall, quietly dropped out of school recently due to lackluster grades.

big man and can handle that glove.

Only three new pitchers will be in camp. They are right-handers Don Zanni and Frank Funk and left-hander John Fitzgerald.

Funk is given the best chance to win a place on the staff, most likely as a relief specialist. He won 17 and lost seven at Corpus Christi but it was his workhorse tendencies that impressed the Giant brass. He appeared in 48 games, pitched 149 innings and posted a 2.60 earned run average. Zanni was 14-11 at Phoenix.

Marshall Renfro, an outfielder; Ben Valenzuela and Jose Pagan, infielders; and catchers Roger MacCardell and Al Steiglitz, complete the freshman squad.

Next: Baltimore Orioles.

Accent Will Be On Rookies In San Francisco's Camp

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The accent won't be on rookies in the San Francisco Giants training camp this year. There will be only a handful present.

The reason is obvious. Practically all the good ones were brought up last year. And what a collection. Orlando Cepeda, who walked off with rookie of the year honors; Willie Kirkland, Bob Schmidt, Leon Wagner, Felipe Alou and Andre Rodgers.

All signs point to still another outstanding prospect this season. It is Willie McCovey, a tall, wiry first baseman who is said to be a better hitter than all of last year's rookies with the possible exception of Cepeda.

Willie is the boy the Giants have been waiting to spring on the unsuspecting baseball public for several years. A two-year stay in the service interrupted their plans.

Last year, playing triple A ball for the first time, McCovey rapped Pacific Coast League pitching to the tune of 319. His extra base output included 37 doubles, 10 triples and 14 home runs. In addition, he drove in 89 runs. He is said to be exceedingly fast for a

Jayhawks Visit Levelland For Game With S. Plains

The Howard County Junior College Jayhawks return to West Zone court action tonight, visiting Levelland for an 8 o'clock engagement with the South Plains JC Texans.

This will be the first meeting in history between the two teams. South Plains is fielding a team for the first time.

The Hawks will carry a 12-5 record onto the floor. South Plains has yet to win in nine starts against its first four conference games.

The Hawks must win in order to retain their chances to finish in first place in Zone standings. They are currently 1-1, having lost to Clarendon by 12 points but won from Lubbock Christian College by a six-point margin.

The Jayhawks have averaged 77.6 points a game, compared to 69.9 for the opposition.

The Texans, on the other hand, have averaged 55.8 points per outing, compared to 78.0 for the common opponent.

Top South Plains threat is Johnny Valentine, formerly of Ropesville. Valentine has been averaging 18 points a game in starts to date. No one on the HCJC has come close to that figure. Valentine has made 52 of his 162 points from the free throw line.

Amarillo beat South Plains an even 20 points (87-67), after Odessa had really mauled the Texans (67-33). The Levelland club also lost to Frank Phillips of Borger (95-63).

Coach Harold Davis of HCJC fears the club, however. He reasons they're capable of playing better ball and might catch fire against his own Hawks.

He's been cheered by the return to full duty of Harold Henson and Benny Carver, however. Henson and McElreath, sophomore guard, re-injured a leg in practice recently, however, and may not be able to play.

Probable starters for the local collegians include Bobby Davis and Gilbert Bell at the post positions and Tommy Zinn, Carver and either Jimmy Evans or Ray Clay at the outside positions.

The Hawks play Frank Phillips of Borger there Wednesday night. They don't see action here again until a week from tonight, at which time they host Lubbock Christian College.

FORSAN (SC)—One of the headline high school basketball duels in West Texas takes place here tonight when the resident Buffaloes host Martin Dodds' dangerous Garden City Bearcats at 8:15 p.m.

The teams are deadlocked for the lead in District 19-B standings, each with a 2-0 won-loss record.

In two games this season, the quintets have split even. Forsan defeated the Cats in the finals of the Forsan Tournament, 59-44, while Garden City repaid in kind by winning in the finals of its own meet, 51-50, last weekend.

Girls' teams of the two schools clash at about 6:30 p.m. There'll be a boys' B contest starting at 5:30 p.m.

All proceeds from the games tonight will go toward the March of Dimes campaign. Admission prices have been set at 35 cents for adults and 15 cents for students.

Probable starters for the Forsan A boys include Kenneth Duffer, George White, Charles Skeen and the Bardwell brothers, Jerry and Milton.

Probable starters for Garden City include Don Plogens, Dennis

Snyder Teams Sweep Three Games From Goliad Quints

SNYDER (SC)—Snyder Junior High School basketball contingents took the measure of Big Spring Goliad teams in three games unrelieved here Thursday.

Despite the fact that they were limited to two free tosses in the final period, the Snyder Ninth Graders won a 39-38 verdict over Dan Lewis' Goliad Ninth. The defeat left the Big Springers with a 7-4 record.

Larry McNair did much of the offensive work for Snyder, scoring 15 points, while Jerry Tucker had 14 for Big Spring.

Snyder's Eighth Graders bowled over the locals, 20-17, leaving the Mavericks with a 2-7 won-loss record.

Jeff Brown led the Mavs in scoring with eight points, all of which he hit in the first four minutes of play.

The Goliad Seventh Graders played a good second half against the Snyder team but had too far to go and lost, 32-22. The Maver-

Pearson Back From Parley

American Legion Junior Baseball was discussed at the Thursday night meeting of the Howard County Post in the Legion Home. Jack Pearson, committee chairman and a member of the District group reported on his attendance of a statewide planning meeting in Austin.

Pearson and Don Karns were invited to sit in with members of the Department committee in outlining the program for 1959. Policy changes included a larger appropriation to finance state playoffs and a clarification of rulings on registration of players, Pearson said.

More than a hundred teams are expected to compete in the 1959 Legion program and the committee designated Austin as site for the final playoffs.

For the Big Spring team the committee outlined plans for playing more games this season to give the team equal experience with others in the District. A sharply increased budget will be necessary to allow this, Pearson stated.

In other business the Legion continued its Flag Courtesy training session and received a report from the building committee. The addition to the Legion Hall which will allow an office and kitchen is nearing completion. Members were requested to attend another work party Saturday afternoon.

The membership report placed current 1959 membership at 323. Additional contacts are expected to increase the total before the conclusion of the campaign.

Family Night will be observed at the Legion Hall Saturday night, with shuffleboard and domino tournaments scheduled. Kenneth Marsh, Odessa, former member of the Post was a visitor. Thirty-three members attended the meeting.

First Showcase Defendant Convicted, Gets Death Penalty

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — The defendant in Havana's first showcase war crimes trial was convicted just before dawn today and sentenced to death.

A three-man tribunal of Fidel Castro's revolutionary officers found Maj. Jesus Sosa Blanco, 51, a career army officer, guilty on five counts of murder, homicide, robbery, looting and damage.

The verdict was returned after a trial of almost eight hours and more than four hours of deliberation by the three judges.

A crowd of 17,000 shouting, jeering Cubans who had jammed Havana's Sports Palace for the start of the trial had gone home hours before. Only about 300 newsmen and armed, bearded guards from Castro's forces heard the verdict as it was read out in the sports arena.

Sosa Blanco's counsel, Capt. Aristides Dacosta, had said he would appeal a conviction to a five-man Superior Court provided under the new legal code put in effect after dictator Fulgencio Batista's overthrow Jan. 1. The higher court has not yet been named.

Dacosta had challenged the legality of trials under that code, contending that all crimes charged to Sosa Blanco were allegedly committed before Jan. 14 and that the death penalty did not exist then.

The Cuban Constitution of 1940 barred capital punishment. It was modified by decree Jan. 15 to permit executions for war crimes. Dacosta's argument also applies to the estimated 1,500 Batista partisans arrested since the dictator's overthrow, and to the 250 or more persons already executed by Castro's firing squads.

Sosa Blanco's trial was the first of three Castro had announced for the Havana Sports Palace to justify to the world his speedy military judgment of Batistas, some 250.

Another trial was scheduled to get under way this afternoon, but it was not known how the slow progress of the first hearing would affect the schedule.

Nearly 400 foreign newsmen were in Havana at Castro's invitation for the demonstration of his justice.

The revolutionary chief told a news conference Thursday that the trials and executions will end "as soon as possible and the sooner the better. Only the most notorious criminals are being selected for trials before revolutionary tribunals."

The bearded leader, who now is chief of Cuban armed forces, repeated his estimate that "not more than 400" persons will be executed for the 20,000 murders he claims Batista's dictatorship perpetrated in its six-year reign.

Lamesa Council Planning For New City Hall

LAMESA — New City Hall facilities were studied by Lamesa City Council in special session Thursday afternoon. The councilmen authorized Mayor J. D. Dyer to sign a contract for the purchase of the Nix property at the corner of S. Dallas and S. 1st St., subject to a bond election to be held in April.

The property, across the street south of the present City Hall, includes seven lots and about 16,700 square feet of building; it is owned by Olin Nix. Purchase price was set at $90,000.

The entire plot is 175 feet wide and 140 feet deep. Approval of the council came after about six weeks of study.

Contract to purchase is subject to city voters approval of a bond election to be held in conjunction with the regular city election April 7. Preliminary plans call for all administrative offices to be moved to the new buildings, and remodeling to provide adequate facilities is estimated at $35,000. Present plans call for he police and fire departments to remain in the present city hall.

UT Drama Building Damaged By Fire

AUSTIN (AP)—The Department of Drama building, oldest building on the University of Texas campus, was heavily damaged today by an early-morning fire.

The blaze, discovered shortly after 7 a. m. by two custodians, burned out much of the inside of the building and heavily damaged the university's wardrobe collection, one of the most extensive in the nation.

No damage estimate was available.

The four-story brick building was built in 1902 and for many years was a women's dormitory. In recent years it was used by the Department of Modern Languages before being turned over to the Drama Department in 1952.

Improvement Noted In Egan Condition

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Gradual improvement was reported early today in the condition of Gov. William Egan of Alaska.

Egan, 44, remained on the critical list, however, and doctors said it still would be a few days before his full recovery is assured.

The Democratic governor underwent emergency surgery Tuesday for a paralysis of the abdomen and a bowel blockage, an aftermath of a gall bladder operation in Juneau, Alaska, Jan. 6.

Checks Paid Off, Defendant Fined

Miro Slovak, returned from Brownfield to Big Spring on Thursday at request of his bondsmen, paid off nearly $300 in worthless checks which were hanging over his head, paid a fine of $50 and costs in the county court and was released to return to Brownfield.

Sheriff Miller Harris said that Slovak plans to farm in the Brownfield community.

Nat Shick Tells Of Early History Of Kiwanis Club

Big Spring Kiwanians heard the story of how the local club was organized and of some of its early day experiences Thursday in an address by Nat Shick, who was a charter member of the organization.

The occasion was the celebration of the 44th birthday of the Kiwanis International. Shick is the only charter member of the Big Spring club still active in the club.

The Big Spring club was chartered on May 23, 1929, and will observe its 30th birthday next spring. Actual organization was initiated on April 16, 1929. Sixteen Big Spring business and professional men were listed on the charter.

Shick who has 17 years of perfect attendance to his credit in addition to his 30 years of continuous membership told of many of the earlier enterprises in which Kiwanis took the lead for community

DeMille Funeral Scheduled Today

By JAMES BACON
AP Motion Picture Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Cecil B. DeMille, a master of pomp in life, will be buried today with simplicity.

The brief rites at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church will contain no eulogy, little organ music.

But television coverage and an expected big crowd outside the church will undoubtedly add what movie people call "The DeMille spectacle touch."

One of his doctors told a reporter that the 77-year-old movie pioneer, who died Wednesday, would be alive today had he been an obedient patient.

Seal Sales Raise $3,125 In Dawson

LAMESA — A report of the Christmas seal sale committee of the Dawson County Tuberculosis Assn. indicates that the fund-raising campaign this year has netted $3,125.69 to date.

In other business, the executive committee named Mrs. L. E. Petty as representative director and delegate to the State Tuberculosis Assn. Convention in March. Another delegate is yet to be announced by the group.

The program is being planned as a benefit for the Howard County Society for Crippled Children and Adults. The presentation is scheduled for 8 p. m. March 22 in the Municipal Auditorium. Bill Dawes, high school choral director, is to direct the volunteer choir.
