Beck Convicted Of Income Tax Evasion

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — Convicted of cheating on his income tax, millionaire labor leader Dave Beck Sr., 64, spent time behind bars for the first time in his life Thursday night.

The former president of the huge Teamsters Union was found guilty on all four counts of income tax evasion—covering $240,067 for the years 1950-53—and two counts of filing false returns. He could receive up to a five-year sentence and a $10,000 fine on each count.

U.S. Dist. Judge George Boldt, who set sentencing for Feb. 27, was to hold an appeal bond hearing in Seattle today.

Beck's lawyers said the verdict would be appealed "all the way."

The one-time laundry truck driver, who prided himself on not smoking or drinking, appeared more shaken at having to spend the night in jail than by the verdict.

The portly Beck, nattily clad in a blue suit and polka-dot tie, gripped the edge of a table but showed little emotion as the clerk drew "guilty" six times Thursday afternoon.

Later he was heard to remark to a friend he just couldn't understand why he had to remain in jail.

When found guilty, his $25,000 bail was revoked.

His quarters in the federal section of the city jail were a world apart from his lavish home in the so-called "Beck Compound" on the shores of Lake Washington in Seattle.

Just three years ago he was a respected millionaire businessman, international president of the Teamsters Union—considered the largest in the country—and a vice president of the AFL-CIO.

The self-made man who had left high school before graduation had even served as president of the University of Washington Board of Regents.

Today he is under the shadow of two convictions. Beck was sentenced to not more than 15 years in prison after a 1957 conviction for grand larceny in the embezzlement of $1,900 from the sale of a union-owned Cadillac. The State Supreme Court is scheduled to hear his appeal next March.

Beck's big trouble began when he appeared before the Senate Labor-Management Committee in 1957 and invoked the Fifth Amendment after calling only one witness—an accountant. His lawyers said Beck wanted to take the stand but was advised against it by his counsel who didn't think the government had a case.

The jury of eight men and four women returned their verdict a day after receiving the case.

Foreman Warren Hale said only 10 ballots were taken. The first vote came out eight for conviction, three for acquittal and one blank.

Beck, who finished a sandwich at his hotel before returning to court to hear the verdict, said en route to jail, "I feel good."

He said he was worried, though, about the illness of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Denied access to Beck's documents, the government worked to work for it and to see it made better."

Miss Brown, whose smile has brightened the lives of Coahomans for many years, was singled out for "service to this community, of the nation and her God." No one ever needed help or cheer without Miss Susie rising to the occasion, said Salling.

In the decade since the organization of the American Heart Assn., great strides have been made in basic and clinical research. In one way or another, most contributions find their way into research channels to bring new hope to heart patients, said Dr. Talbot.

For instance, the contribution of a heart-lung machine by the Howard County Chapter already has figured in the successful heart surgery of one Howard County patient. This alone would have justified the investment many times, he said, but the machine remains at the University of Texas Medical branch in Galveston to bring hope to scores upon scores of others.

"Ten years ago surgery upon a stiffled, by-passed heart was unthinkable, yet today it is being accomplished successfully every day," Dr. Talbot declared. "We're just getting off the ground in our research and in the development of new treatments and drugs. We're where aviation was in 1910 and the jet and space age of heart medicine, prevention and cure lie ahead."

from bank records, hotel ledgers, account books and a dozen other sources. It based its case on Beck's alleged pocketing of expense money and misuse of union funds. It presented 115 witnesses.

The defense held that any money Beck received from the union was in the form of loans and, therefore, not taxable.

Beck had consolation of a sort. The Teamsters Union said his $50,000 a year pension was from a trust fund, unaffected by any court decision.

County Trustees Ask Re-Election

J. D. Gilmore, Commissioner Precinct 2 trustee on the Howard County School board, and Fred Roman, Precinct 1 trustee, have filed as candidates for re-election to the posts they now hold.

Formal requests that their names be placed on the ballot for the April 4 election were placed in the hands of the county judge Thursday afternoon. Only two members of the county board are to be chosen at this year's election.

Candidates for these offices and for the positions open on the school boards of the several common schools have until March 1 to file their intentions.

Lopez Convicted, Gets Eight Years

Retribution began to catch up with Leonardo Ortega (Armando) Lopez, 37, Thursday afternoon.

A jury in 118th District Court found the young Latin American guilty of assault with intent to commit robbery and assessed his punishment at eight years in the state penitentiary.

It was the first of three trials the slender youth will probably face. All stem from a two-week crime spree in which he is alleged to have been an active participant. The violence was climaxed on the night of Jan. 7 by the ruthless murder of Gerald D. Linder, 19, filling station attendant.

Lopez was convicted on Thursday of having been one of the two masked bandits who made an unsuccessful effort to rob the 87 Truck Stop on Lamesa Drive.

The maximum penalty he could have received for the offense was 10 years. The jury deliberated 58 minutes before reaching a decision.

John Richard Coffee, defense attorney, said he would file a motion for a new trial and notice of appeal.

Lopez will next go into court for a suspended sentence for the youthful Lopez in the event that the penalty assessed against him should be five years or less.

Lopez was taken back to the county jail where he has been held since his apprehension on Jan. 16. He will remain there until his trial for armed robbery is called on March 23.

He will face a much more serious charge on that date than on Thursday. He is accused of armed robbery—growing out of the holdup which climaxed with the murder of the night station attendant.

On the plus side of the space ledger, Glennan said experts estimate the value of advances in meteorology and communications stemming from the satellite program will be in the billions of dollars.

Glennan's top deputy, Dr. Hugh Dryden, told the senators the race for outer space is an expensive game that only big nations can play.

If the United States doesn't go ahead, Dryden said, the Soviet Union will.

Sen. John Stennis (D-Miss), head of the subcommittee considering the authorizations for space spending, said:

to deport Costello to his native Italy.

The government had tried once before to denaturalize him. The case was thrown out by a federal court in 1956 on the ground that the government evidence was "permeated with the fruit of illegal wire taps."

The government then set out again to achieve its goal employing evidence it said was not obtained by wiretaps.

Costello long has been regarded as one of the topmost men in the underworld, and at one time was tabbed its "prime minister."

His voice became familiar to many millions of Americans a few years ago during the nationally televised New York hearings on crime conducted by the U. S. Senate committee headed by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.).

Only Costello's voice was heard during his witness chair appearance because of his demand that his face not be shown. Viewers now and then caught a glimpse of his hands as he duled verbally with Rudolph Halley, chief counsel of the committee.

Strikers Return

HOUSTON (AP)—Houston garbage collectors voted to return to work today, ending a one-day walkout and preventing what could have developed into a fragrant situation.

The temperature on Friday morning was around 27 degrees. The high on Thursday was 32.

U. S. Experiment Station gauged the official moisture content of last night's mist at 15 inch. The 8 a.m. Thursday report was .02. This makes the February total just 17 inch.

There is no immediate relief in store the forecast at noon indicated.

Cloudy and continued cold is on tap with the same sort of drizzle and freezing mist prevailing. It will increase tonight and be in evidence early Saturday. Possibility of more drizzle is slated for all of Saturday forenoon. It is believed there will be a little warming up later Saturday, however.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Higher food prices—reversing five months of decline—sent the government's measure of living costs up one-tenth of one per cent in January.

Oil Flow Slashed To 12-Day Pattern

IN THE BILLIONS

Costs Of Space Programs Will Fly Into Outer Orbit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Costs of the nation's future civilian space programs will orbit at sky-high levels of billions of dollars, experts say.

A few of the price tags: Booster program for rocket motors—more than two billion dollars. Manned space-flight program—200 million dollars.

Efforts to build a 1 1/2 million-pound thrust engine of a single chamber—200 million dollars.

The costs were listed Thursday by National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials appearing before a Senate space subcommittee.

NASA and its companion military agency in the Pentagon, the Advanced Research Projects Agency, are spending 450-500 million dollars this year and will need 800 millions or more next year, testimony showed.

And Dr. T. Keith Glennan, NASA head, added:

Don't be surprised if NASA alone costs a billion or more a year after two years.

Space program costs this year and next will be propelled by the planned launching of 30 satellites and some 140 probing rockets, Glennan said.

On the plus side of the space ledger, Glennan said experts estimate the value of advances in meteorology and communications stemming from the satellite program will be in the billions of dollars.

Glennan's top deputy, Dr. Hugh Dryden, told the senators the race for outer space is an expensive game that only big nations can play.

If the United States doesn't go ahead, Dryden said, the Soviet Union will.

Sen. John Stennis (D-Miss), head of the subcommittee considering the authorizations for space spending, said:

"We have no choice as to supporting a major space program since we are already in the space age."

NASA's director of space flight development, Abe Silverstein, told the subcommittee.

"Unless we move ahead now and vigorously, with a sense of urgency, our space program for the years ahead will be inadequate to meet what others are doing."

Describing NASA's program at considerable length, Silverstein said it plans to place satellites in orbit 22,000 miles above the earth—where they will remain "stationary" because they will have the same 24-hour cycle as the earth.

He said three of these motionless moons properly spaced would make possible worldwide communications by signal relay from one to the other.

Silverstein disclosed that two new rockets, Vega and Centaur, will be used in future space probes. They were classed as "advanced boosters" and will be three-stage rockets capable of orbiting 7,500-pound satellites 300 miles above the earth.

The Centaur is to be powered with a combination of liquid oxygen and hydrogen which Silverstein said will provide "greatly increased capability for Mars or Venus probes."

Glennan said the NASA schedules call for 15 experimental satellite launchings this year and the same number in 1960. Forty probing rockets will be fired into space this year and about 100 next year, he added.

Costello's U.S. Citizenship Revoked By Federal Judge

NEW YORK (AP)—The citizenship of Frank Costello was revoked today by U.S. Dist. Judge Archie O. Dawson.

Costello, 68, currently is serving a five-year sentence for federal income tax evasion.

The government has waged a long legal battle to strip from Costello the U.S. citizenship it claimed he obtained through fraud and misrepresentation in 1925.

Judge Dawson's action paved the way for what is expected to be the government's next move—to deport Costello to his native Italy.

The government had tried once before to denaturalize him. The case was thrown out by a federal court in 1956 on the ground that the government evidence was "permeated with the fruit of illegal wire taps."

The government then set out again to achieve its goal employing evidence it said was not obtained by wiretaps.

Independents Stay Away At Hearing

AUSTIN (AP)—The Railroad Commission set a statewide oil allowable today of 3,138,565 barrels a day for March based on a 12-day producing plan.

The permissive flow is a reduction of 30,566 barrels a day from February. Only one independent spoke at the 8-minute statewide oil prorating hearing and all major oil buying companies recommended a decrease from the February flow which is based on 11 days.

Companies recommending 12 days were Magnolia, Indiana, Texas, Humble and Atlantic; 11 days—Shell, Sun, Cities Service, Sinclair, Phillips, Standard of Texas, and Continental; 4 days—Gulf, J. G. Coates submitted for Gulf a nomination of 144,000 barrels a day. He said because of the Port Arthur strike, this 4-day request "is not firm."

H. P. Nichols, president of the East Texas Oil and Gas Assn., of Tyler, said he thought most nominations by the oil buying companies had been for 12 days and that was also his recommendation.

The meeting probably was the shortest on record. The same groups which attend other hearings were present.

At the next prorating hearing March 19, executives of the nation's major oil companies will be asked to attend and submit industry figures on desirable storage levels of crude and products. This information is used as a gauge by the commission during the year to see whether petroleum stocks are in excess or below the desired level so as to best determine the production pattern.

Freezing Mist Continues Here

A freezing mist, lowering skies and a temperature that hovered consistently under freezing was the weather menu for Big Spring today. It was a continuation, on an even more unpleasant footing, of the same sort of conditions which had prevailed on Thursday.

The tricky front which sneaked into the state and caught weather prognosticators flatfooted early Thursday was still in the saddle. Windshields on cars quickly coated over as the drizzle froze. There was a faint whiteness on grass and roofs.

The temperature on Friday morning was around 27 degrees. The high on Thursday was 32.

U. S. Experiment Station gauged the official moisture content of last night's mist at 15 inch. The 8 a.m. Thursday report was .02. This makes the February total just 17 inch.

State Income Tax Takes Bite From Massachusetts Paychecks

BOSTON (AP)—Beginning this week virtually everybody in Massachusetts with a job will collect a smaller pay check.

That's because a newly enacted state law withholding personal income taxes went into effect Feb. 15.

But it will affect more than those who work for wages and salaries.

Each quarter, it will reach into the pockets of the self-employed and those living on unearned incomes. Such persons are faced with the knotty problem of estimating how much they will earn, or whether the stock they own will pay any dividends in the year ahead—and how much. If they guess too high, it will be many

Woman Indicted In Death Plot

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A grand jury Thursday indicted secretary Pauline Weiss on a charge of solicitation to commit murder in an alleged plot against her employer's wife.

The grand jury threw out a charge of attempted murder against Miss Weiss, 48.

Police said Miss Weiss confessed trying to hire a professional killer to slay Muriel Griffin, 53, of suburban Devon. She told police she was in love with and hoped to marry Mrs. Griffin's husband, Willard, 58, publishing firm executive.

Miss Weiss already had made payments of $225 toward the $600 fee for a hired killer when she was arrested Feb. 5 by a detective posing as the third gunman.

The indictment count is a misdemeanor, punishable by not more than two years imprisonment and a $500 fine.

AT COAHOMA Mayor, Citizen Cited By Lions

COAHOMA — Mayor W. C. (Bill) Hutchins and Miss Susie Brown were cited here last night as outstanding citizens of Coahoma.

The awards, presented annually by the Coahoma Lions Club, were made at a ladies night banquet in the high school cafeteria. Records of service to their community and fellow man were cited by Ralph White and Fred Salling, who handed the honorees handsome plaques.

Dr. Milton W. Talbot, Jr., explained how Heart Fund contributions were helping in the all-out effort to shackle the nation's No. 1 killer—heart and cardio-vascular diseases.

Earlier Tallwater Bert Shive had drafted Mrs. Burrell Cramer as an assistant when the club voted for all fines to go to the heart fund. Besides the all infractions they could dream up, they finally levied fines for over-parking.

Musical entertainment was provided by Ira Schantz, accompanied by Jack Hendrix. Both are in the Howard County Junior College music department. R. A. Foster, president, presided at the dinner meeting.

Besides many civic activities, Mayor Hutchins has led in the establishment of a better water system and the installation of Coahoma's first sanitary sewer system, said White. The mayor reminded that he had an unselfish city council and an entire community behind him. Besides, he said, "I like this place, and I like

U.S. Makes Move To Return Cage

DALLAS (AP)—The State Department moved today to try to get ICT Insurance promoter Ben-Jack Cage back to the United States.

The convicted Texan has been in Brazil since being sentenced in Texas on embezzlement charges.

A State Department spokesman said the U.S. Embassy in Rio de Janeiro will be told to notify Cage that his passport has been cancelled. The spokesman said any use Cage makes of his passport following this may subject him to criminal prosecution.

Cage is entitled to 30 days in which to file an appeal against cancellation of his passport. The appeal may be filed at the embassy in Rio.

Cage is under a 10-year sentence from Dallas. He faces other trials in Dallas and Austin.

Sabre-Teeth Aren't Around But We Still React To Them

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The door opens, and into the board room stalks a sabre-toothed tiger. Does the vice president know how to cope with this situation? Probably not. But his body would. It would start priming him for violent physical activity.

His psychological response would be the same as that of his cavernous ancestors: blood rushes to the face, hair on the back of the neck stands up, adrenalin—making possible extraordinary physical effort—flows into the blood stream.

The sabre-tooth won't walk into the board room. But put in his place the vice president's arch-rival, the man who perhaps is out for his job.

The reaction? The same: rush of blood, hair on end, adrenalin. "His primitive response," says an expert, "is to hit his rival over the head with a chair. But he can't. He has to just sit and take it."

Man hasn't changed much, physiologically, since cavernous days. Finding ways to help him cope with modern stresses is the goal of the Human Performance Laboratory at UCLA. There Dr. Laurence E. Morehouse and aides study reactions to crisis situations and try to work out solutions.

"Sometimes," says Dr. Morehouse, "civilization forces us to act opposite to what experience has taught our bodies."

Take a jet pilot. When something goes wrong and he's faced with danger he, like the vice president, is primed for violence. Yet violence would ruin him. For his machine requires the most delicate guidance.

You can't change the pilot, so what do you do? "His problem," says Dr. Morehouse, "must go to a design engineer for solution. We are trying to learn how many tasks the pilot can do—and what must be done for him, automatically."

Another common crisis reaction is that of an athlete before action. Says Dr. Morehouse: "His heart is pounding and he feels sick to his stomach. He should realize his body is preparing him for action. As soon as he starts performing, all his energies will be utilized."

For everyday pressures, he advises: "Play for time. Give these stress feelings time to peter out. Ask questions to stall for time until you can think clearly and act calmly."

"Then, later, use up these stresses with some sort of physical workout—handball, bowling, perhaps a steam bath. Otherwise, things tend to pile up."

One Way To Go Bankrupt

KANKAKEE, Ill. (AP) — Some 40,000 persons in the Kankakee area, most of whom have been complaining about their bus service, have quit beefing. There isn't any service now.

The disappearance of Victor E. Curtis, owner of the Kankakee Motor Coach Company, his wife, their two children, and three of the company's buses was discovered Thursday.

There was no notice the bus company planned to discontinue operations. However, Curtis, who has operated the utility since Jan. 1, 1958, had been in financial difficulties and in controversy with the Illinois Commerce Commission. Riders in this northern Illinois city long have complained of poor service and faulty equipment.

Hundreds of persons voiced their complaints Thursday as they waited impatiently in near zero weather for buses to take them to work.

Police said they had no trace of the whereabouts of the Curtis family or the buses.

A Kankakee bank promptly foreclosed on a $17,000 chattel mortgage it held on the bus company's equipment. A deputy sheriff went to the company's offices to serve the judgment notice but found no one with whom to leave it.

7 Pupils Hurt In Class Blast

KILLEEN, Tex. (AP)—A dynamite cap blew up yesterday and injured seven fourth-grade pupils crowded around a science table.

Three were sent to hospitals. "It looked like they'd been shot with buckshot," said Principal Harold Thomas.

Thomas said a science kit was being used by the pupils. He said a simple electrical circuit was used to demonstrate how batteries can ring a bell or light a bulb.

He said "one of the children apparently brought the cap to school and it was put in the kit." The principal said a pupil rigged the cap to the electrical circuit and it blew up.

About 22 were in the room. Johnny Hampton, Bobby Watts and Charles Burrows were taken to the hospital.

RED CHINA TODAY—5

Commune Gives Guarantees, The Human Ant Hill Grows

Editor's Note: What more can one man do? The director of a commune asked after visiting 16 cradle-to-grave benefits accorded its members to westerners the question is yours. This is the last of five articles on life in Red China by a noted Indian social scientist who spent six weeks in the country.

By DR. SRIPATI CHANDRASEKHAR Copyright, 1959 By The Associated Press

Hard work is the order of the day in the Chih Yin people's commune which I visited during my travels in Red China. The evening brings a dash of recreation—and large doses of Communist training.

After the day's toil in the fields and factories of this pioneer commune in Honan province, all attend regular classes. There they listen to the radio, which pours out the latest editorial from the People's Daily, the latest production figures from agriculture and industry, the latest government measures to liquidate American imperialism and the "Chiang Kai-shek clique," the Peiping opera and figures on how China has surpassed Britain in the production of various industrial goods.

Then there is a movie or a play or an acrobatic show. And last is the party meeting, which every worker attends. Here the matchless art of self-criticism is practiced.

People rise up and confess their drawbacks and failings, criticize their colleagues and swear to increase production if only to "regain" Peking, the island bastion of the Nationalist Chinese.

Nursing mothers and those of ailing children can visit the public nurseries or kindergartens, though this is not necessary as children are under the care of trained nurses and teachers. Parents can give up their bourgeois emotional attachments and stop worrying about their youngsters.

This commune which I have described is popularly called "The Commune of 16 Guarantees." Everybody, according to the age group and sex of the individual, is given 16 guarantees. They are:

1. Clothing (clothing is still a problem because of the cold climate. Heating is poor);
2. Food;
3. Housing;
4. Transportation (from residence to place of work);
5. Maternity benefits. Expectant mothers are given 45 days' leave and a quantity of red sugar, which is a must for expectant mothers in China;
6. Sickness leave and free medical aid;
7. Free old-age care;
8. Free funeral and burial. The director of the commune told me that they would like to give up burial for cremation but the people were prejudiced in favor of traditional interment. So they are adopting what is now called "deep burial." The body is buried at least 10 feet deep so that they can use the land, which otherwise might be a graveyard, for orchards;
9. Free education;
10. A small

marriage grant and a free reception for the couple; 11. Twelve free haircuts a year; 12. Twenty free bath tickets a year (hot water baths); 13. Free bringing up of children; 14. Free recreation; 15. Free tailoring; 16. Free electricity.

After reciting these benefits—a kind of cradle-to-grave insurance—in return for unquestioning, life-long hard labor, the director asked me, "What more can one want?"

"Nothing," I confessed, "but can you obtain a pack of cigarettes, for instance?"

"We have not overlooked that," the director replied happily. Though we have abolished the need for money, we have made it possible for a person to earn five yuan a month. That is, if any worker shows tremendous integrity and ability or perfects a new technique, he gets a reward of one to five yuan a month. In purchasing power, one yuan is about equal to one Indian rupee. The rupee is worth about 27 cents.

"This is a kind of bonus," the director added. "Though no one has yet earned the full amount."

This is the commune where human beings are reduced to the level of inmates in a zoo. But there is a difference. The animals in a zoo do not have to work hard, and what is more, they don't have to listen to the quasi-compulsory radio.

The lack of peace and quiet in the countryside where no one can retire and reflect, and the lack of privacy and solitude is to me more terrifying than all the hell put together.

Communist party Chairman Mao Tse-tung had hoped that the whole nation would become one big commune in a few years, but there seemed to be some doubt and resistance among the leaders themselves. Time alone can tell what lies ahead for China and the millions confined in her communes.

However, agricultural production is rising, though no one can swallow without a grain of salt the astronomical figures reeled out by officials. The methods adopted to achieve this "great leap forward" in agricultural production are:

All cultivable land (except in uneasy Tibet) has been brought under the plough; constant irrigation; deep ploughing three to six feet deep on an experimental farm I visited they are ploughing by detonating small bombs under the ground; close planting; and dumping enormous amounts of manure—night soil, green leaves, compost and bacteria-layer after layer interspersed with good earth.

Communist China has solved the problem of food supply for its teeming millions, but it is difficult to check the figures on agricultural production. It is possible that they are generalizing from successes on small experimental farms. It is possible that their bookkeeping may be faulty.

Or, may be, China's soil has joined the Communist party's "big leap forward campaign." It is anybody's guess.

There was no notice the bus company planned to discontinue operations. However, Curtis, who has operated the utility since Jan. 1, 1958, had been in financial difficulties and in controversy with the Illinois Commerce Commission. Riders in this northern Illinois city long have complained of poor service and faulty equipment.

Hundreds of persons voiced their complaints Thursday as they waited impatiently in near zero weather for buses to take them to work.

Police said they had no trace of the whereabouts of the Curtis family or the buses.

A Kankakee bank promptly foreclosed on a $17,000 chattel mortgage it held on the bus company's equipment. A deputy sheriff went to the company's offices to serve the judgment notice but found no one with whom to leave it.

No Windfalls For Farmers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farmers no longer will share in windfalls from government price support operations.

Notice to this effect is being given by the Agriculture Department in setting up price support programs for 1959 crops.

At times in the past, crops stored by growers under price support loan programs have been priced in markets above the amount of the loan and carrying charges at the time the department took over the commodities and canceled the loans.

At such times, the excess—that is, the amount that market prices exceeded the loan and charges—was paid to farmers in relation to the quantity of the affected commodities they had under loan. These were called equity payments.

But Congress directed last year that, beginning with 1959, crops, no such payments were to be made. Any profits that might be reaped will go to the government rather than to the grower.

Policeman's Lot An Unhappy One

FORT WORTH (AP) — Police Chief W. M. Sustaire of suburban Euless had the kind of day yesterday that makes a policeman's lot a mighty unhappy one.

Pete Vardos, 27, a paroled bank robber, was arrested Wednesday, police said, in a stolen auto. He was held overnight in the Euless jail.

Sustaire, driving a borrowed, unmarked car because his official car was in the shop, started to drive Vardos to the Tarrant County jail here.

FAA Begins Probe Into Air Incidents

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—The Federal Aviation Agency has launched an investigation into three near-collisions between military and civilian craft this week.

Two of the incidents were reported Thursday. A total of 74 passengers were involved in all three.

Meanwhile, the Air Force called for "more reliable facilities" for all aircraft traffic control.

A Capital Airlines pilot reported Thursday his plane dove to avoid a B47 jet bomber 30 miles north-east of here.

On the same day an American Airlines plane reported narrowly missing a Navy trainer near Indianapolis.

Last Tuesday, Eastern Airlines reported one of its planes had to evade a B47 near Chattanooga, Tenn. Three of its 17 passengers were hospitalized.

The Air Force said the B47 was under visual flight rules and that civilian air controllers had been notified of the bombers in the Charlotte area.

Capital Airlines said its planes had been notified of the training maneuver.

Under air traffic regulations, planes flying under visual flight rule are responsible to be alert for planes under ground control.

Spink said some of the 34 passengers were shaken up when he plunged the airliner 600 feet to avoid the six-jet bomber.

Erks said his B47 was climbing as it passed within 300 feet of the airliner. Its communications were with a ground radar unit.

Twenty-three passengers were aboard the American Airlines plane, which executed a tight bank to avoid a Navy plane at 7,000 feet near Indianapolis, the airline pilot said.

In the Eastern airliner incident, the Miami-bound plane was flying at 23,000 feet on an instrument flight plan. The pilot said he hadn't been informed of military craft in his vicinity.

Soviets Cold To West's Proposals

LONDON (AP)—The Soviets today gave a chilly reception to Western proposals for a Big Four foreign ministers conference on Germany but still left the door open to direct negotiations.

An English-language commentator on Moscow radio said the Western notes handed the Kremlin Monday, "do not contain a single more or less constructive suggestion capable of facilitating settlement of questions either of Berlin or of Germany. It all boils down to the same invariable 'no' the West has been giving us all the time," the broadcaster said.

The belief grew in the West that Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev would press for Big Four summit talks—rather than a foreign ministers meeting—when he receives British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan this weekend.

With U.S. Secretary of State Dulles ailing, the suave, British premier appeared emerging as the coordinator of Allied policy in dealing with the Soviets. He told the House of Commons Thursday night that after his talks with the Soviet leaders, he would visit Bonn and Paris and perhaps Washington with a view to formation of the Western allied policy.

Macmillan leaves for Moscow Saturday to spend 10 days sounding out Soviet leaders on possible grounds for a compromise in the cold war. He is especially anxious to find out what Western concessions the Kremlin is really angling for—without making any commitments on behalf of the Allies.

"We must be firm but flexible," he told Commons.

Macmillan emphasized that any proposal by Khrushchev for disbandment of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization was out of the question.

"Nothing must be done which would result in the withdrawal of American and Canadian forces from the continent of Europe," he said. "Within that, nothing ought to be excluded."

The prime minister emphasized that a firm Allied policy has not yet been formulated. When it is, he said, "great decisions will have to be taken."

"We shall have to face in the next period the supreme test of direct negotiations with the Soviet government. It is for that—and it is a grim prospect as well as an inspiring one—that we have to fit ourselves."

The United States, Britain and France had suggested the Big Four foreign ministers discuss the whole German problem with representatives of the pro-Western Bonn government and the Communist East German regime sitting in for consultation.

The Allied notes made clear they have no intention of giving up their place in West Berlin and rejected outright the Soviet proposal for a 28-nation conference to write a German peace treaty that would isolate and neutralize the divided country.

Perhaps significantly, the first Soviet reaction came in a Moscow radio commentary on a beam to North America usually reserved for propaganda broadcasts. This tactic gave Khrushchev an opportunity to fish for Western reaction without firmly committing the Soviet government.

The Moscow commentator said the West's reply to the Soviet proposals "does not provide a reasonable basis for settlement of the German question." He said the Western notes "categorically reject the Soviet proposal to demilitarize Western Berlin and make it a free city."

"It looks as if they (the U.S.) still prefer to wage their power politics and cold war against the Socialist (Communist) world," he said.

The influential Soviet weekly New Times meanwhile said the Soviet Union is willing to hold broad negotiations with the West on Germany but did not lay down any concrete pattern.

GOP Committee Charges Lyndon Has Ambitions

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican National Committee says an ambition to be president is the reason behind Sen. Lyndon Johnson's recent sponsorship of civil rights legislation.

The committee said yesterday in its publication, "Battle Line," the action shows how flexible the Texas Senate majority leader is becoming "in the grip of presidential aspirations."

It said Johnson's sponsorship of civil rights is in complete contradiction of his entire past history in the field.

The GOP committee said "The fact that Johnson feels it is politically necessary to change his historic position on civil rights is, in one respect, a testimonial to the great human rights progress made under this administration—the first tangible gains in this century."

The committee said Johnson had an 18-year record of voting against civil rights issues.

A Devotional For Today

The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me. (Hebrews 13:6.)

PRAYER: O God, help us to understand what our Lord Jesus Christ meant when He said, "Without me ye can do nothing." Give us faith in Him to conquer our fears. In our Saviour's name we ask it. Amen.

The Proper Source Of Equity

New proposals for regulating the hours and pay of firemen and policemen have been tossed into the state legislative hopper. Similarly, a bill which would repeal previously regulatory measures of this sort has been introduced.

Firemen and Policemen are entitled to equitable treatment in matters of pay and hours. Fairness and logic as well as morality in economics demand that they should seek this equity on the same basis and at the same place as other municipal employees. This is with the governing boards of the municipalities.

There are at least two things grievously wrong with the state regulating hours and pay of municipal employees, especially for home rule charter cities. The State by far home rule charter cities. The State of Texas has no moral right to stipulate a rate of pay without providing the revenues for that pay. Let the State of Texas be first of all concerned about the pay and working conditions of the State Highway Patrol, the Rangers and others of its security force.

In the second place, it is neither logical nor fair for the State of Texas to grant to municipalities the right to govern themselves and then invade those rights by dictating as to the conduct of certain internal affairs. This gets back to the first point, for state stipulation of wages and hours amounts to action without responsibility.

Every municipal employee is entitled to fair and equitable treatment, no more no less. But the place to get that equity is at home and not in Austin.

We're Not Battling Statistics

Captain Ray Butler, who is in charge of the Midland Highway Patrol District, has appealed for the cooperation of every motorist in combating traffic fatalities.

This is the only way in which the toll of 1958 can be reduced. Capt. Butler pointed to 178 rural motor vehicle mishaps in January of this year, in which 10 persons died. Another 105 were injured and property damage amounted to $157,305. A year ago there were 141 accidents with 7 fatalities, 55 injuries and damage of $109,060.

Capt. Butler might well have been talking directly to drivers in the Big Spring area. We have started off the year with the worst record in many seasons. There have been some contributing factors, but in the main speed or speed exceeding prudent levels dictated by weather and road conditions seem to be at the root of the carnage.

We could stop almost all this needless waste of lives and property tomorrow if drivers would only exercise a proper degree of care and consideration.

We're not trying to beat last year's statistics; we're trying to beat the Grim Reaper.

Won't you do your part to help us try to cut this traffic slaughter and maintaining to a minimum?

New Proof Of Soviet Duplicity

WASHINGTON — What's the use of having a foreign ministers' conference about Berlin or anything else with the Soviet government when it has deliberately told the world a lie about the murderous assault on 17 American airmen aboard an unarmed transport plane last September?

Again the Soviet government has refused to listen to a tape recording which reveals in detail the conversation of the Soviet airmen as they killed the 17 Americans. Though the Moscow government calls the tape recording a "fake," it doesn't explain why it will not permit any of its representatives in this country to listen to the tape or why it has consistently refused to let any American representative visit the scene of the crash to examine the wreckage.

The State Department has challenged the Soviet government to listen to the tape recording, and there can be only one inference from the Kremlin's refusal — that the Soviets do not wish to acknowledge the existence of such a tape because they know they cannot deny everything in it.

or promises or pledges made by the Moscow regime or its ambassadors or agents abroad. There is evidently a blindness in the Kremlin to the true state of opinion throughout the world about the veracity of the official statements issued by the Soviet government.

The only possible conclusion that can be drawn is that the Communists think propaganda is a substitute for truth, and that, if a distorted statement is widely enough publicized and then repeated often enough, it will serve the purposes of an evil-minded diplomacy.

But, if any more proof were needed that the Communist propaganda is not getting by in America, it can be noted in the comments made throughout this country after the Mikoyan visit, especially since the American government revealed the truth about the cold-blooded murder of the 17 airmen, whose unarmed plane lost its course and strayed across the Turkish-Soviet border into Russia.

The American government is convinced, moreover, that false radio beacons lured the United States aircraft into Russian territory. More evidence on the fake sign being used by the Soviets is bound to be forthcoming, together with the transcripts of other conversations of Soviet airmen engaged in this tricky business.

Unfortunately, the current talk about "negotiating" a settlement of the status of West Berlin is proceeding on the assumption that the West will be dealing with a Communist government that conceivably would honor an agreement. But the massacre of the 17 American airmen is proof that the leopard hasn't changed its spots and that "negotiation" with the Kremlin isn't going to lead anywhere.

About the only thing that is certain is the continuance of the "cold war" until such time as the people behind the Iron Curtain get tired of being enslaved and exert their united will to get rid of their despotic rulers, just as happened in 1917 when the Czarist regime was overthrown. To continue to expose the duplicity and criminal nature of the Soviet government is to assure the people in the Soviet empire, including the people of the satellite countries, that the Western Powers are not being taken in and are not going to be deceived in the future by the barbarians in temporary command in Moscow.

Floating School

NEW YORK (AP) — A 22-room elementary school in New Orleans appears to float in midair without visible means of support. It provides facilities for 800 students on less than one-sixth the ground usually required for schools.

Steelways, official publication of the American Iron and Steel Institute, says architect Charles R. Colbert mixed fantasy with economy in developing the Phillis Wheatley School. The building has elevated classrooms on either side of a series of bare steel trusses, 12 feet above the ground.

The magazine says this type of construction required 10 per cent more steel, but cut over-all building costs by 15 per cent.

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — A minister put the "Multiplied Talents" idea to work, and it paid dividends.

Brief Version Of Berlin Problem

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's just a simple question in philosophy right now—What is force? But in a few months it may be the heart of a crisis over West Berlin.

This is a brief version of the problem.

Not only is East German Communist-run, under the thumb of the Soviet Union, but so is the Eastern Zone of Berlin which is the capital of the East German government. The Soviets have troops there. Berlin is 100 miles inside East Germany.

But the 2,200,000 civilians in West Berlin consider themselves citizens of West Germany whose capital is Bonn. West Berlin is a Western showpiece. Its high prosperity is a glaring contrast to the drabness of East Berlin.

Since World War II days, through agreements with the Soviet Union, the Western Allies have had troops in West Berlin. They are supplied from West Germany—by plane, rail and road—through or over 110 miles of East Germany.

But since last November the Soviet Union has made a number of demands and proposals which compel the West to face or avert a crisis. The Soviets in effect set a deadline around May 27.

They call for making West Berlin a free city; they want Western military forces withdrawn; they want a settlement of unifying the two Germanys; they talk of making a separate peace settlement with East Germany.

And they talk of turning over to the East German government full control of what can enter East Germany. To put it another way, the East German Communists would be free to refuse to let the Allies send military supplies to West Berlin.

What would happen if they did that? A lot of things could happen. For one, the Allies can hardly abandon the West Berliners whose "free zone" would become a small island completely surrounded in the sea of Communist East Germany.

The Allies at this point apparently don't know what to expect. They decided to try talking before the May 27 deadline. They proposed that the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France have a foreign ministers conference.

This proposal had hardly reached the Kremlin when Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev threw another log on the fire Tuesday.

Referring to the idea that the Soviet Union might let the East Germans refuse to permit passage of military supplies to West Berlin, he said:

"Any violation of the German Democratic Republic's sovereignty will be fittingly repelled, regardless of how the violation is made: by water, ground or air."

Then Khrushchev suggested that if the Allies tried to shoot their way through East Germany to West Berlin it would mean war.

President Eisenhower, asked about the Khrushchev comments at his Wednesday news conference, replied: "We are not saying that we are going to shoot our way into Berlin."

He said if the Western Powers were prevented from carrying out their obligations to the people of West Berlin "it will be somebody else using force."

He said Khrushchev "must be talking about shooting to prevent us from doing our duty. After all, that is what is going to happen, if it happens."

That brings back the question which may have to be settled on the East German frontier: What is force?

It is force if the United States—arguing it has a right and duty to ship supplies to West Berlin and has agreements with the Soviets to let the supplies through—insists on going through? Is that force?

The West would argue No. But the Soviets, who now claim the old agreements are outdated, would insist any attempt by the Allies to send military supplies through East Germany against the East German government's will is force.

Perhaps this will happen, if the situation gets that far. The first time the East Germans refuse to let Allied supplies through, the West—instead of seeking a showdown there and then—may stop short of trying to ram through and take the case to the United Nations, at least for discussion.

Comments On Things In General

One Russian tactic is becoming increasingly obvious. They act tough over a certain situation, so that it seems more perilous than it has a right to be. In turn, causes talk to be started up here, at home that the situation isn't worth going to war over. Then, with the U. S. ready to back down on compromise (especially compromise) the Reds are able to walk in and take over.

It won't hurt us a bit to start thinking for ourselves, without regard to what the Russians think, and stop dancing to the Kremlin's tune.

A grocer out in Hollywood sells baskets of tidbits for bridge and canasta snacks, parties, etc. If you're still hungry, you can eat the basket, since it's woven of edible seaweed and then deep fried.

Now, why can't Air Force survival packages be made of some similar edible material, so if a lost flier runs out of food, he can eat the sack. Maybe even the parachute, too?

Here's a problem for you mathematicians: If X squared minus Y squared equals Z squared, and if Z squared plus X squared equals Y squared, what is the numerical value of Z?

School up in Kansas almost fired its biology teacher because of a noisy cat. The feline was put to sleep with ether and dissected so the high school biology class could observe living anatomy. Unfortunately for the teacher, involuntary muscle contractions sent wind through the cat's vocal cords, and the resulting screams sent one tender young lady away, sick.

It did little good for the teacher to explain that these weren't really screams, that the cat was unconscious and not in pain, nor that the cat was to be put away for good before the ether wore off.

The case stirred up the old anti-vivisection boogymen, and at last report, there was at least one more promising science student who'll never end up behind a test tube.

Maybe Russia won't have to fire a shot, after all.

A California jury recently took it upon itself to act the psychiatrist and award a woman $22,200 for a neurosis she claims she developed from being stuck in an elevator. Judgment was against the owners of the apartment building in which the accident took place.

Anyone slightly versed in principles of psychological science knows that one such experience could not set off a $22,200 neurosis unless the victim were neurotic to begin with. But the legal system still assumes a jury to be infallible on matters that do not concern them.

I can see it now: A rash of damage suits by maladjusted children against their parents, by impatient drivers against slow drivers, by bright students against progressive schools, by dull students against teachers, by parents of maladjusted children against TV networks — you name it.

Separate Shopping For Family Peace

It is with a considerably jaundiced eye that I keep scanning all those reports (an average of seven on a clear day) of the little woman not only as the chief purchasing agent of the family, but also of her husband's clothing.

There is general agreement in the reports that the American wife owns everything that isn't nailed down, and she does 80 to 87 per cent of all the buying for her family, and that the spineless nincompoop to whom she is married is lucky if he gets to select a shirt once per annum.

Of course, the inference is that the housewife does all these chores because she is greedy, grasping, domineering and, frankly, unbearable. It is obvious, also, that the gents who write these reports have never sat down long enough to figure out that they are painting the members of their own sex as a lot of jellyfish who darned well deserve the hand-painted neckties they receive under this system.

Naturally, I can only speak for Inez Robb, but if I tried to buy a suit for the head of the clan, my arm would be in a cast. In the almost 30 years in which our hearts have beat as one, the nearest I have ever come to selecting any raiment for him is a length of English or Irish tweed or doekin for sports jacket or slacks.

Once I went wild and bought him a French vest that he still treasures, and twice, Canadian sweaters (imported from England, natch) He is sufficiently indulgent to wear the neckties I buy him as lagniappe from time to time. But that ends the recital.

Sartorially he is his own man, and welcome. Within a month after our marriage, I made a stunning discovery that has, at least as far as we are concerned, contributed vastly to a happy marriage. That discovery is simple and to wit: NEVER, NEVER, well hardly ever, go shopping together! Whether for clothes, furniture or groceries!

At least, in the purchasing department of Chez Robb one head — and it doesn't matter whose — is a lot better than two. And a lot better than verbal fistfights in public over a green vs. a blue carpet, or lamb chops vs. beef stew or a brown dress with ruffles (ugh!) over the navy blue with the leather belt.

We discovered early enough to profit by it that we are both persons of strong personal likes and dislikes and opinions. Better he should buy his clothes and me mine than make a shambles of a store and Federal case out of a new hat. He would die rather than wear a Harry Truman shirt; I would kill myself before I'd appear in slacks.

As for major household purchases, such as a new hiiboy or a sofa, we talk it over in the privacy of the home, where the walls are padded. Then one or the other of us scouts the market and narrows the choice before the party of the second part goes along to help in the final selection. Neither one of us bullies the other — Much. About fifty-fifty, I'd say.

Our plan has made for a peace that passeth understanding. I think he dresses handsomely; he thinks I dress becomingly, and we both love our home. So I guess the program has worked.

Frankly, if there are women who have to do the whole job by themselves, even choosing their respective husbands' raiment, I feel sorry for 'em. Who wants to be wedded to a worm?

Value Of That Trusty Old Silver Dollar

As (a) chairman of the Bank of Hartsville, S. C. (resources $6,000,000), (b) former president of the American Bankers Association, (c) former Under-Secretary of the Treasury under President Truman and Secretary John W. Snyder, (d) chairman of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, and (e) a director of American Telephone & Telegraph Co. and other corporations, A. Lee M. Wiggins has been conducting a personal and self-financed campaign against inflation.

So far, considering (a) the troubles the Treasury is having floating long-term bonds, (b) the movement of gold out of the United States, (c) periodic pronouncements of Prof. Sumner Slichter, of Harvard, that a 1 per cent to 2 per cent year erosion in the purchasing power of the dollar is a small price to pay for prosperity, (d) the intermittent levitation in Wall Street, and (e) the stubborn resistance of the cost of living to decline, Wiggins's campaign has not yet achieved spunkish success. But he has just begun to write.

When Truman was in the White House, Wiggins took it upon himself to give him an unrecruited "Peace Dollar," minted in 1922 or 1923 under the Pittman Silver Act. When General Eisenhower moved into the Presidency, Wiggins entrusted him with a such a dollar. These shining silver cartwheels were to be reminders that they, as Presidents, were guardians, trustees, and protecting angel of the dollar.

Lately, he has widened his reminding by mailing to select members of Congress and a few writers silver dollars neatly boxed and battened down in cotton, and surrounded by a blue-on-white 2 1/4 by 2 1/4 inch leaflet bearing this appeal, "An Old Friend Needs Help." The appeal goes on:

"This is a virgin silver dollar. For over 35 years it has been lying in the vaults of the U. S. Treasury . . . In appearance (it) is strong and vigorous. Actually, it has lost about one-half its ability to buy goods and services. . . (It) is ill from a disease called 'inflation.' . . Wiggins wants the recipients to aid him in his fight to preserve the "strength and vitality" of "his old friend."

The Wiggins silver dollar started off like any other silver dollar — with a full complement of 100 cents in capacity to buy food, clothing, and shelter. For six years, it held on to all but one of those pennies. In 1929, the year of the Great Crash, it commanded 99 cents worth of merchandise.

Then, during the Great Depression, when President Franklin D. Roosevelt entered the White House, the dollar was so strong Roosevelt shut all banks. It was worth 132 pennies. An easy inference Wiggins must dispel is that a strong, heavy dollar means a weak, unprosperous country.

Before we entered World War II, Roosevelt cheapened the Wiggins silver dollar to 116 cents. And today, after World War II, Korea, etc., it buys 59 cents worth of goods at 1923 prices. (In terms of 1939 prices, today's dollar is worth 48 cents.)

Wiggins is alarmed because "more and more people come to me saying, 'I don't want to put my money in E-bonds or things like that; I want protection.' " Secretary of the Treasury Anderson has kindred apprehensions. "If ever we reach the point where people believe that to speculate is safe but to save is to gamble then we are indeed in trouble," frets Anderson.

For anybody who wants to join Wiggins's campaign, I offer this information: General Howard, assistant director of the Mint, says that 94,375,000 silver dollars were minted in 1922 and 56,631,000 in 1923. Plenty are available — far more than numismatists can handle. Silver dollars are oddities in the East. They circulate primarily out West and are particularly wanted in gambling houses in Reno and Las Vegas where they're used instead of chips. Silver dollars aren't easily counterfeited.

Afterthought: The gambling that Secretary Anderson talks about is not the same as that which goes on in Nevada.

Objets D'Art

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Richmond's hospitals are being equipped with small boxes for personal effects which are so artistic that nobody suspects their origin as cigar boxes. The Westhampton Junior Woman's Club is turning them out in pastel shades decorated with painted flowers or with designs made from old costume jewelry. If you are a youngster you may be ornamented with a toy. Or if you are not, the cover may have half a pipe glued to it.

THE SECRET PLACE

"He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty."—Psalms 91:1.

By CLYDE NICHOLS

'Our God Is Able, If . . .'

"Our God is able, if . . ." At first glance it seems like a blasphemous limiting of the power of God, but it is true to God's Word. How many of his promises are conditional?

"If my people, who are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin and heal their land."

"If you confess with your lips that Jesus is Lord and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you will be saved." And, from the Gospel of John, "If you abide in me, and my words abide in you, ask whatever you will, and it shall be done for you."

Finally, what is perhaps the greatest of all, "And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me."

"Our God is able, if . . ." William Carey, preaching for the first time in his home church, used as his text, "Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel." After the service the congregation was profuse in their praise. Finally, Carey could stand it no longer.

"You tell me what a fine sermon it was; that is not what I want. I want you to do something!"

And so they went back into the little church, and before they left they had formed the missionary society that was to send William Carey to India. Our God is able, if . . .

During World War I there fought side by side two boys who had grown up together. One day, in the thick of battle, one of them was called upon to go into No Man's Land on a mission.

Cautiously he ventured out. Half way there an enemy fire cut him down. His buddy begged for permission to go to his rescue but his plea was denied. Rescue was impossible; he would only lose his own life in the attempt.

Defying orders he broke away and dashed out amidst shot and shell to his companion's side, picked him up on his shoulders, and made his way back toward the trench. Almost to safety, bullets riddled his body.

His commander cried, "I told you not to go! It was foolish and useless! 'No, not useless,' came the reply. 'Jim was still alive when I reached him, and as I picked him up, he whispered, 'Bill, I knew you would come; I just knew you would come!'"

Even so, God believes in you. He has no hands but our hands. He is counting on you and me. "Our God is able, if . . ."

Jesus Teaches the End of the Age

CHRIST EXHORTS HIS PEOPLE AND ILLUSTRATES HIS TEACHING WITH PARABLES

Scripture—Matthew 25:1-16; Mark 13:1-37.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

I HAVE thought that this lesson might be difficult for the younger classes and might make them feel apprehensive of the future. Dr. Wilbur M. Smith suggests that teachers introduce it to both younger and older classes by mentioning that all ages "understand the fact that, as probably never before in modern history, the question in the minds of everyone, and being asked by many, and written upon by some of our outstanding statesmen, economists and scientists, is: 'What does the future hold?'"

Jesus' prophetic discourse "was delivered on the Mount of Olives opposite and east of the city of Jerusalem on Tuesday, April 4, 30 A.D.," we are told.

"And as He went out of the temple, one of His disciples saith unto Him, Master, see what manner of stones and what buildings are here! And Jesus answering said unto him, Seest thou these great buildings? there shall not be left one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down."—Mark 13:1-2.

Christ sat upon the mount,

MEMORY VERSE

"Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these My brethren, ye have done it unto Me."—Matthew 25:40.

"over against the temple," and he sat upon the throne of His glory."—Matthew 25:31. He will then separate the good from the evil, telling the good that they will be rewarded, for "I was an hungred, and ye gave Me meat; I was thirsty and ye gave Me drink; I was a stranger, and ye took Me in; naked and ye clothed Me; I was sick, and ye visited Me; I was in prison, and ye came unto Me."—Matthew 25:35-36.

Jesus did not answer the question as asked at first, but warned His followers not to allow false prophets to deceive them. "For many shall come in My name, saying, I am Christ; and shall deceive many."

Then He said: "When ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars, be ye not troubled; for such things must needs be; but the end shall not be yet. For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom; and there shall be earthquakes in divers places, and there shall be famines and troubles: these are the beginnings of sorrows."—Mark 13:7-8.

Jesus then warned His disciples that they would be persecuted and beaten because of their faith in Him. But when they were brought based on copyrighted outlines produced by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., and used by permission. JUVENILE DELINQUENCY?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Luke	15	11-32
Monday	Exodus	20	1-6
Tuesday	Ephesians	6	4
Wednesday	Luke	11	5-17
Thursday	Mark	11	20-26
Friday	Proverbs	6	20-24
Saturday	II Samuel	18	1-33

Who said there is no such thing as juvenile delinquency?

Look at the record! Millions of boys and girls under twenty-one in trouble with the police—dope traffic among teen-agers—organized crime by minors.

But this is not always juvenile delinquency. This is often the tragedy of ADULT DELINQUENCY. It is frequently the result of neglect, indifference, and lack of Christian training in our homes. It is the failure of parents that has led to the wreckage of many of these young lives.

Bring your child to Sunday School and Church. Give him the spiritual care that he wants and needs. Remember, Mother and Dad, we cannot always say, "juvenile delinquency." Be sure it is not your failure which may cause your child to ruin his life.

In Big Test Saturday Night

JAYHAWKS HOST CLARENDON BULLDOGS AT 8:00 SATURDAY

Clarendon Junior College, which has already clinched championship honors in the West Zone basketball race, moves in here Saturday night for what promises to be a titanic struggle with the Howard County Junior College Jayhawks.

a major surprise not long ago by defeating Frank Phillips in Borger.

Lloyd Stephens, Bud Eldredge and Alva Carter are the three big guns in the Clarendon attack. The trio proved too much to handle when Bulldogs bombed the Hawks, 54-42, last time out.

The Bulldogs, coached by Buddy Travis, shared the title last year with Frank Phillips but they pulled one surprise after another to win it all this time.

Clarendon has been able to win both at home and on the road when the chips are down. The Bulldogs haven't won by overwhelming scores in any of their starts but they've proved to be toughest when they had to be.

The Bulldogs appeared to be beaten by Odessa in Odessa a while back but one of their number sank two free pitches after time had run out to enable them to win by one point. They pulled is noted as a defense-minded club, too.

The Hawks threw up a stout line against Amarillo here Tuesday night. Amarillo wound up scoring 65 points but didn't find the range until long after the Hawks had put the decision on ice. Coach Davis said it was the Big Springers' best defensive show of the year.

Clarendon has averaged around 60 points a game, not spectacular for a junior college team, but has yielded only 57 in an average game to the opposition. The Bulldogs have lost only seven games this season.

Tommy Zinn, who can play both the post position and outside, returned to practice for the Hawks yesterday. Chances have brightened that he'll get to play Saturday night. It was first believed he'd be out for the year, when he twisted his knee against Amarillo Tuesday.

Probable starters for HCJC are Bobby Davis and Gilbert Bell at the post positions, and Jimmy Evans, Benny Carver and Ray Clay outside. Harold Henson, Jesse McElreath and Zinn will be among those poised for early action.

The game will be the next to last for Howard County in regular season play this season. The Hawks host Odessa JC here next Tuesday night.

The Hawks are hoping for an invitation to the Region V tournament, which takes place in Amarillo within a few days.

Ninth graders have started track and field workouts at Goliad Junior High School. The coach is John Perry Yates.

Yates plans to take his charges to meet at Andrews, Snyder, Colorado City and San Angelo this spring. An invitational will probably be held here, too.

In all, 37 boys are now engaging in drills, when ever weather permits they include:

Ray Blumh, Dick Ebling, Don Ellis, Red Schwarzenbach, Dexter Pate, Ronnie Hamby, Danny Thomas, Jimmy Madry, Bobby Moore, Dean Lee, Jimmy Stewart, Ronald Aaron, Tommy Welch and Benny Pitzer.

Tigers May Trade Three For Two

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers said today there is a possibility of a three-way player deal that would involve the Kansas City Athletics and the Cleveland Indians.

Acting Gen. Mgr. Rick Ferrell said in a telephone interview with The Associated Press from the Florida training base in Lakeland, Fla. that "a three-way deal is one of the things that interests us."

However, Ferrell said there is no truth to a published report that the Detroit club has offered outfielder Harvey Kuenn, pitcher Bill Hoelt and third baseman Eddie Yost to Kansas City for outfielder Roger Maris and infielder Hector Lopez.

But he readily stated that Maris is the player the Tigers would like most to get. He also would like to land Larry Doby from Cleveland.

Fullmer Is Choice In Fight Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—Confident, young Willie Greaves believes he has improved enough in two years to reverse his loss to former middleweight champion Gene Fullmer.

The 23-year-old Canadian champ now-fighting out of Detroit, will get the chance to square accounts with the 27-year-old Mormon from West Jordan, Utah, in the televised (NBC, 9 p.m. CST) 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Fullmer is the 12-5 favorite.

Garden City Evens Series With Buffs

GARDEN CITY (SC)—Garden City's Beakats staged a fourth-period comeback here last night to take a 35-34 triumph over Forsan and even the standings in the best-of-three playoff for the District 19-B title.

Garden City and the Buffs are tied 1-1 and the sugar game will be played tonight in Garden City, starting at 8 p.m. Admission into the 800-seat gym has been set at 25 and 30 cents.

Forsan won the first game of the series, 53-47, Tuesday in Forsan. Playing before a near-capacity crowd, Coach Marlin Dodds cagers rebounded from an early 7-2 deficit, tied the game at 11-11 at the end of the first quarter and had to repeat the story in the last minutes.

Forsan hit a trio of quick buckets opening the third quarter to go ahead from its 21-20 halftime chase. The Buffs largest lead was three points in the third. Garden City took its final lead with three minutes to play, and held on.

Only Jimmy Childers scored in double figures for the Kats, hitting 10. Milton Bardwell connected for 12 and Charles Skeen had 10 for Forsan, which lost its chance to grab the crown last night.

Martinez Triumphs Over David Goff

FORT WORTH (AP)—Bantam-weight Gilbert Martinez of Galveston won a TKO over David Goff of Killeen last night to start back toward a second straight Texas Golden Gloves championship.

Martinez was the only defending champion to appear last night. He won over Goff when the latter suffered a shoulder injury and could not come out for the second round.

Thirty bouts are scheduled to-night with the quarterfinals Saturday. Semifinals and finals will be held Monday.

Boxers from 18 regional tournaments are entered and they slugged their way through 26 bouts last night.

Roy Auld, the Houston champion from Cut and Shoot, outpointed LaRue Williamson of Fort Worth in a top middleweight bout.

Manny Perez, Amarillo lightweight, won a close, stirring fight from Johnny Pointer of Odessa.

Louis Murillo of Austin knocked down Claude Stanley of Galveston in one of the most impressive flyweight victories.

Bears, Due Here March 28, Build Around Six Veterans

WACO (SC)—Coach Jack Patterson's Baylor varsity track team will participate in 11 meets and possibly add a 12th meet, he announced today. The additional meet would be set for some time in mid-week, on the home track. The Bears return six lettermen, have lost 10 from the squad that has given Baylor three straight third-place finishes in the Southwest Conference meet. Nine boys gathered 34 1/2 points in the conference meet last spring. Only three of these return in 1959 to account for 15 1/2 of those title meet points. Captain Henry Cannaday of Winooski, senior letterman who holds the Baylor 800 record, and Tommy Vance of Killeen, senior letterman middle distance man, combine with junior letterman sprinter Billy Hollis of San Antonio to return three-fourths of Baylor's third-place mile relay team of last spring. Hollis and Vance also ran on the third-place quarter-mile relay.

Hollis is the only returning junior letterman. He placed second in 100 and 200 at the 1958 conference meet, had best 1958 times of 9.5 and 20.8 seconds. Other returning senior lettermen include sprinter Jim Miller of Abilene, quarter miler Vic Davis of Baytown and a 1957 letterman sprinter, J. B. Mitchell of Fort Stockton. By HAROLD V. RATLIFF SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—

Young Wesley Ellis Jr. showed off for his home town Thursday — he shot a 5-under-par 66 for the first round lead in the $20,000 Texas Open. But he said it may have been the worst thing he could have done.

Golfers along the tour say the toughest tournament to win is in your home town. Ken Venturi of San Francisco and Stan Leonard of Vancouver, Canada, have been noted exponents of the theory. So Ellis, who grew up in San Antonio, played golf at the University of Texas, and now follows the weary tour out of Aldercrest, N.J., quaked as he set out at the head of the pack in the second round of the ancient Texas Open today.

Ellis was magnificent as he strode through a drizzle of rain and biting cold to a 2-stroke lead over the 150-man field in the opening round. He was getting the job done largely with a putter he borrowed from a fellow professional Gil Cavanaugh, last summer. It was this putter that carried Ellis to victory in the Canadian Open last year—his first on the tour.

Stars like Gene Littler, Marty Furgol and Jimmy Demaret found Brackenridge Park's 6,490-yard layout difficult to handle and so did most of the other trying for the $2,800 first money. Only five players managed to better par compared to 15 on opening day last year.

Bill Johnston of Provo, Utah, who won the tournament last year, had a 68 for second place. Joe Jimenez of Manhattan, Kan., another former San Antonio resident, shot a 69, including an eagle in doing the front nine in 3-under-par 32—the best nine of the day. Tied at 70 were Don Whitt of Barro Springs, Calif., and Al Balding of Markham, Canada.

Littler, the top favorite here—he had just won two tournaments in a row, Phoenix and Tucson—looked a 76. Furgol not only had a 76 but withdrew because of a back injury. Demaret also did a 76.

Two senior squadmen miled. Joe Garcia of San Antonio and Jack Reeves of Sweetwater, appear capable of 4.25 or better, to give the Bears their best distance strength of recent seasons.

The Baylor schedule: March 7, Border Olympics at Laredo; March 14, Fort Worth Recreation Meet; March 21, West Texas Relays at Odessa; March 26, ACC-Houston-SMU-Baylor-Ohio State-Duke meet at Abilene; March 29, ABC Relays at Big Spring; April 4, Texas Relays at Austin; April 11, Texas-TCU-Rice-Baylor at Austin; April 18, Kansas Relays at Lawrence, Kan.; April 25, Drake Relays at Des Moines, Iowa; May 2 Texas A&M-Rice - Baylor at Houston; May 8-9, Southwest Conference Meet at College Station.

Pioneers Vanquish Utes By 67-62 Tab

By TED MEIER The Associated Press

The University of Denver usually is associated with the best in college hockey and skiing. Now the Pioneers may come up with a championship basketball team and get into the NCAA tourney for the first time to help celebrate the state of Colorado centennial. The Pioneers delighted a howling crowd of 2,900 Thursday night at the Denver Coliseum as they snapped Utah's 16-game winning streak 67-62 and moved within half a game of the first place Utes in the Skyline Conference. Denver now has a conference record of 8-2 compared to Utah's 8-1. The Pioneers have four conference games left and Utah five.

The game highlighted a slim national program.

NYU beat Villanova 78-60 and St. Johns (N.Y.) defeated Niagara 87-78 in a doubleheader before 10,125 at New York's Madison Square Garden Monday, which beat Notre Dame 68-61 in three overtimes, had its seven-game winning streak snapped by Indiana State 88-87 in two overtimes.

Belmont Abbey's 18-game winning streak went by the boards at the hands of Presbyterian 56-53. Wheaton chalked up its 55th straight in the College Conference of Illinois by drubbing Elmhurst 81-54. In other games Massachusetts scored its second upset of the week, a 68-65 victory over Boston College, and Montana walked New Mexico 84-59 in a Skyline Conference fray.

Jim Peay, a 6-2 junior from Rye, N.Y., sparked Denver to its must win over Utah. He scored 30 points on 12 field goals and six free throws and snared 15 rebounds.

NYU's hopes for a bid to the NIT soared after the Violets drubbed Villanova, already picked for the tourney. Tom Sanders was high with 28 points and Cal Ramsey collected 13 to become the highest scorer in NYU history with 11.05 points. St. Johns, led by Al Seiden, with 31 points, and Tony Jackson, with 27, piled up a 70-56 lead before Niagara made a futile rally. Indiana State beat Butler on a free throw by Warren Ross that broke an 87-87 tie. The regulation game ended 74-74 and the first overtime 80-80. It was a good foul shooting, too, that gave Massachusetts its victory over Boston College. Curt Teeter flipped in three charity tosses in the final minute. Jack Sullivan's free throw with three seconds left to play gave the Quantic Marines a 51-50 overtime victory over Providence. Wheaton's victory over Elmhurst gave the Crusaders their fourth straight FCI title and followed by a few hours their selection for the third straight year to the NCAA Small College Tourney.

Truthful Note

CANADAIQUA, N.Y. (AP)—As policemen gathered for a meeting of their benefit association at police headquarters in this western New York community, a small jar crashed through the window. Inside was a note saying: "Dear sir, your window is broken." They quickly caught the thrower, William Souier, 16, who explained: "There isn't much for a kid to do in this town, so I thought I would have a little excitement."

He was charged with malicious mischief.

New Dam Among Ike Parley Topics

ACAPULCO, Mexico (AP)—Proposals for the United States and Mexico to join in building another giant dam on the Rio Grande are among the matters being discussed during President Eisenhower's visit here.

White House Press Secretary James Hagerty said the 100-million-dollar project—Diablo Dam, which would be near Del Rio, Tex.—topped the subjects before Eisenhower and Mexico's President Adolfo Lopez Mateos as their conference opened yesterday.

There were no definite conclusions or agreements on this or any other topic, Hagerty said, in talks

Judge Gets Rough On Reckless Driver

LOS ANGELES (AP)—For 18 months Vencl Gene Hawkins had been getting traffic tickets—and ignoring them.

In court Wednesday police produced 35 citations. They included running stop signs, illegal lane changes, speeding and nine for driving with a revoked driver's license.

Municipal Judge Joseph Marchetti convicted Hawkins, 26, on each count and sentenced him to 1,455 days in city jail.

"Why— they don't get that much for manslaughter?" Hawkins protested outside court. "And murder is only seven years." He plans to appeal.

Suicide Ruled

DALLAS (AP)—Peace Justice Glenn Byrd ruled suicide in the death yesterday of Mrs. John Nixon, 64 who was found with her throat slashed.

DEAR ABBY

NO WONDER!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My wife thinks she's on the verge of a nervous breakdown and is seeing a doctor. He claims I am the cause of her trouble because I have a room in the house which I keep locked up. It contains my business records, personal correspondence, magazines, tools, etc. If she ever wants anything from this room, she has only to ask for it when I'm around. I spend most of my evenings in this room because I'm tired after a hard day's work and don't want to be disturbed. If I don't keep this room locked, she'd be snooping around and would mislay things trying to clean up. I don't think this is anything for her to get upset about. Am I or am I not entitled to my privacy?

WRONGED

DEAR WRONGED: This is more than "privacy"—it's secrecy. A man does not need a room in which to lock up his "business records, personal correspondence, magazines, tools, etc." unless he has something to hide. Have you?

DEAR ABBY: Please give me your honest opinion of my mother's actions. On New Year's Eve I had a date with a fellow I had dated a few times before. When he came for me, my mother said he looked feverish so, Abby, she went and got the thermometer and took his temperature! He is a 17-year-old boy, Abby, (I am 16) and I wanted to crawl into a hole and die. He didn't have any temperature, fortunately, so she let us go. But I would like to know your opinion of a mother like that.

EMBARRASSED

DEAR EMBARRASSED: I think she's wonderful.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has been "losing" handkerchiefs at the rate of four a week. I have been finding lipstick on his collar lately so I put two and two together. He has been throwing away his handkerchiefs I am quite sure. He comes home right after work so he must be fooling around on his lunch hour. Is there any way I can catch him, or should I tell him I am wise? I have no children to keep our home together for.

NOBODY'S FOOL

DEAR NOBODY'S: Lay all your cards on the table, and ask him to do likewise. At least he'll know

Complaint Due Against U. S. Film Company

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A spokesman said last night the Union of Movie Production Workers may file a complaint next week against an Amarillo motion picture company for violation of work regulations.

About 1,700 feet of film was seized from Gold Air Shows Inc., of Amarillo at Juarez last week. The film is expected in this capital early next week.

Fred Ready, the movie company president, said in Amarillo the film for the movie "Switchblade" was seized by federal police after the Juarez press claimed it presented Mexico and its people in a bad light.

Ready said, however, the film shows Mexican police and U.S. authorities working closely together to break up a narcotics smuggling gang.

Union headquarters said only that it received word from the union representative in Juarez, Julio Ahuet, that the company was violating work regulations by not using some Mexican help.

Ahuet reported, the union said, that the company asked permission only to make a movie short, and later it was discovered it was filming scenes in Juarez for a full length picture.

Big Feet Liability To Whooping Crane

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The big feet of the whooping crane may be one reason they are nearly extinct.

Josephine and Crip, the famed whooper couple at Audubon Park zoo here, have trampled both eggs in their recent clutch.

Zoo attendants found the last of the eggs broken Thursday when papa Crip got up after his sitting session. The other egg was trampled Saturday soon after the clutch was completed by Josephine.

Weather's Miserable

By The Associated Press

Miserable weather hung on over Texas Friday with more freezing drizzle reported in the Abilene-Midland-San Angelo area.

Mushy snow and freezing drizzle fell over much of northern Texas Thursday.

Drizzle with occasional light rain fell early Thursday south of a line from Lufkin to Junction to Laredo. Light drizzle also fell at Wink.

Freezing temperatures were reported in the predawn hours north of a line from Texarkana to Lufkin to Junction to Wink. Temperatures ranged from 17 degrees at Amarillo to 59 at Brownsville.

Skies were cloudy except for a clear spot over the El Paso area.

Most of Thursday's snow melted as it hit the ground. But the flakes stuck and lasted on fields and lawns in many places. The ground was white with sleet and snow in the areas around Nacogdoches, Tyler, Pittsburg, Jacksonville, Gladewater and Dallas.

About two inches was reported on the ground at Fort Worth with one inch at Mineral Wells, Abilene and Dallas.

Highs Thursday ranged from 66 degrees at El Paso to 30 at Sherman.

Moisture totals for the 24 hours ending at 6:30 p.m. Thursday included: Abilene 36 of an inch, Dallas 27, Fort Worth 20, Galveston 21, Houston 34, San Angelo 12, San Antonio 18, Waco 19, College Station 23, Mineral Wells 15 and lesser amounts elsewhere.

BY IMPERIAL DECREE

...power

From America's most unusual automotive plant... Imperial, most thoroughly tested motorcar of its time.

NOT RAW, UNBRIDLED POWER. Not irresponsible speed. Not hungry, violent horsepower.

Imperial power is mature, obedient power . . . under constant and gentle rein.

It is a new kind of power, decreed by the only totally new engine in the fine car circle. Its pistons move more slowly. Its crankshaft turns fewer times in a given distance. All its moving parts move less busily.

Yet, with all its calmness, all its saving of fuel and friction, the new Imperial engine develops greater forward thrust, greater wheel-turning power, more liveliness per pound than any other automotive engine of 1959.

You expect Imperial to be luxurious, exquisitely tailored, elegant to a fault. You expect generous space, comfort, good taste . . . for these are Imperial trademarks.

But to find such agility in a car this size . . . such spirited responsiveness, such lightfingered controllability . . . this is the constant surprise . . . the recurring satisfaction. This is the "feel" an Imperial owner loves.

Won't you ask your Imperial dealer to show you how much more elegant elegance can be when it's generously spiced with eagerness?
